~~September~~

My dearest Michelle is getting operated today, a very good surgeon in California she's having problems with her breathing & sinus. I don't know exactly what the doctor will do - but he claims she's not draining well. I will write more as I talk to Ken or Ma in the middle of the week. I feel so sad she is only 3 years old and I love her so. Ken called me three times so I would be aware of what is happening. Ken says she was very good but was somewhat in pain. They took her home, she didn't have to stay overnite. I hope she had a good nite sleep, she had typhal with codeine. My poor sweet heart. She'll go back to see the doctor in one week and then again.
