

Made in the image

Sunday will be a day to celebrate dad. For dads it is a day to reflect on their children. The little people they created, their personalities and character that will be formed as children look up to good old dad. Slipping on there dads giant size shoes, walking in his footsteps. Mans desire to form a child in our image, could be a concept that is derived from God. God formed a perfect environment to sustain life. With thought and purpose he separated the land form the sea and placed the stars in the sky, created plants and creatures great and small, with a command he spoke them into existence. Then a loving God bent down, took the dust of the ground shaping and forming every detail of man. Sculpting the feet of his creation he imagined the joy he would experience when they walked together. Giving him life, God filled the nostrils with his spirt, the breath of life, and the man he created from the dust became flesh.

Genesis 2:7

7 And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

Man, set apart from every living creature, flesh and spirt made in the image of his father. Gods creates man to walk in his foot steep knowing mans foot will never fit the impression he has made. He finds joy in the child trying to follow him. A child is to follow his Heavenly Father so he reflects the Fathers image because little feet will someday follow him.
