

Good Morning!

I'm so sorry for the very late delivery of this letter. It has nothing to do with not being able to come up with amazing things to say but the complete opposite.

There is not anything material I can give or create to express my true gratitude. You changed my life and I couldn't have done this without you. Your generosity and what you did for me is BEYOND what was expected. Everything that I would really want to thank you for are the more untraditional things you did for me. A million times thank you.

Attached is a letter of recommendation for your reference of what I think the public would want to hear.

Before you announce anything check in with Nate. I think he is sensitive when it happens.
