

Testimonials

"I have had the pleasure of working with Shoshana on various writing projects. She is one of the most talented writers I know, always able to capture my ideas into the written word when I'm stuck. She's intuitive, eloquent, and creative. When it comes to writing good copy and to helping you capture your ideas in writing, hands down you want Shoshana Bonn." --Yael Trusch, Host of Jewish Money Matters Podcast, Speaker, Columnist

"What a fantastic newsletter!!!! I thought you provided all of us with critical information and suggestions and 'push.' Your 'voice, style, and sense of humor' provided just the right touch. Thanks for all your hard work." – Chris Yeager, Thinking Maps Inc.

"Thanks for clearly and easily answering our questions 'step by step!'" –Christina Sorensen, Wake County Parks, Recreation, and Open Space

"You've done it again! Another outstanding intellectual response to a really tricky question. Your letter was wonderful and made perfect sense to the Blue Jay staff. Chris said he'd check your math, and I have definitely filed your response away with the letter for when this situation arises again (as you know it will!) Thanks for taking the time to do this!" –D'Nise B. Hefner, Blue Jay Point County Park

"Shoshannah possesses outstanding research, communication, and interpersonal skills. She is able to work well with all age groups – preschool through adult. Her initiative and determination cannot be overlooked, as she frequently takes on tasks without prompting and always follows through to the end of a project prior to its deadline." --Wendy S. Koons, Potomac Overlook Regional Park

"Her work was concise, sequenced, and literate." –Betsy Babbington, The Lab School of Washington

"We were especially pleased with Shoshannah's handling of the "Legislative Update" in our November/December 1994 issue. For a report of the United Nations Convention for the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW), Shoshannah tracked down information through the bureaucratic mazes of both the U.S. Congress and the United Nations, as well as other organizations. She distilled a great deal of information into an informative, readable piece, and I was impressed with her ability to take editing guidance when space constraints necessitated significant cutting.

We also found that Shoshannah's proofreading skills were an added bonus. She not only has an excellent command of grammar and sentence structure, her ability to discern inconsistencies of style, typos, and other typographic minutia [sic] is outstanding." –Rachel Snyder, The Women's Times
