My goal is not to follow up daily with CAMH and your privacy division. However, let's kindly not waste time informing me about the Charter and how a now admitted thief has more rights in relation to my property than I do. It is impossible as a matter of law.

I appreciate your time is valuable but please respect the urgency of this situation.

In terms of fees, I am blown away by the sheer number of loyal friends that I have here considering the same. However, in order to do so, I need to narrow it for you.

Also, I will need to know the answers to those questions so I can inform you what I am truly seeking. If you give me the height, weight, estimated age and gender, without anything, I can likely save you vast amounts of time.

I can assure you that the quicker you get back to me and provide me answers, I can then protect myself. Until then I am defenseless.

Please revert back to me by the end of the day with answers to those questions. I will, of course, confirm then whether I need to proceed or not with images. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear CAMH Privacy Division:

Before I depart, in relation to the police comment, you had a theft on your property. In my view, that is your obligation and you are in the better position to do so.

In terms of not being able to retrieve my belongings, it is of course concerning that this evidence was not relayed to me promptly. Why this took 16 days is beyond me?

In any event, you reference FIPPA (ON) and there are no grounds to redact the entirety of the image of the individual. It is now even more so the case considering the individual (singular) entered with one mission and one mission only: to steal and engage in the theft. The mission has since expanded to impersonation, unauthorized use of my identity and fraud. As such, said individual has no REOP from an objective standpoint. With no REOP, there can be privacy. Ergo, no invasion of no privacy and nothing could be an unjustified invasion of privacy by providing the image. Therefore, section 21(1) is inapplicable on its face and by analysis.

A singular image will likely suffice so long as I can see the face and height and it has sufficient resolution.

Considering the above, what am I looking at in terms of fees considering the individual has my wallet and all of my cards (including library cards)?

Moreover, to respect your resources and fees, I have the following questions:

1. Was it a male or female?
2. What is the height and weight approximately?
3. Was he or she wearing a hat, sunglasses or facial covering?
4. Which entrance did they enter and leave?
5. How long was said individual inside CAMH for?

Lastly, in terms of written documents, which can be provided forthwith, CAMH Security Services represented its investigation was ongoing as of mid-last week. Therefore, I will gladly receive access of the same by email herein in the interim.

This matter remains extremely urgent as per the recent events.

Thank you.

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Good morning Mr. McLean,

Thank you for your patience while we continue to work on your Freedom of Information (FOI) request.

Our Privacy Office connected with the CAMH Security Office and it is our understanding that they advised you that they concluded their investigation as per the attached email sent to you on November 7, 2024 and that they were unsuccessful in retrieving your belongings. According to our discussions with the Security Office, they were able to see on the video that someone did take your belongings. Unfortunately, that person is not known to CAMH and the individual immediately left the campus. There is nothing more from the Security investigation perspective that can be done. You are of course free to contact the police, which I understand to date that you have declined to do; it is always your choice.

In terms of your FOI request, as we mentioned previously, you do have a right to make a request for the CCTV images but we want you to be aware that under Ontario's Freedom of Information Protection of Privacy Act, we will have to redact the image entirely of the individual. The process to do so can be costly and lengthy, and will require 50% payment upfront from you before we begin the redaction process. We can provide the video to police, if they request it in the course of an investigation; but again, it is your choice as to whether you plan to engage them.

We can confirm that there are no written materials in our possession that would identify the person who stole your backpack. Given that this information is not available, please advise if you would still like to pursue a request for these materials.

If you would like to pursue your FOI request, we will continue working on your request and provide you with our official response including our decision, fee estimate and likely extension of time needed to process your request.

Please let us know how would you like to proceed.

Dear CAMH Privacy Division (including head of the public body, chief privacy officer et al):

I extend a cordial good morning to all of you.

For your edification and file herein, I can confirm that the email that I received from the TPL confirming the unauthorized use of my identity and library card was a valid auto-send email from the TPL.

I have the TPL privacy division triangulating the IP address of the individual(s) or person (i.e. perhaps a company or organization) from the usage of the "TPL:map" component of the website when my identity was misused to the time of the email and any logging in shortly thereafter or since that time.

Ironically, we are looking at the same time of day and on the same day of the week (Friday) when my backpack and contents were taken.

I will continue to review the law on compelling circumstances affecting health or safety but my initial review leads me to the conclusion that these facts are stronger than any of the cases that I have read where a public body was required to disclose to the individual requester.

I cannot understate the urgency and waiting 30 days since the time of my delivery of the access request and application fee will be fatal to protecting my health and security from whomever this individual or person is.

I will continue to exhaust all avenues that I can but there is simply no conceivable way under the privacy statute that the Legislature intended to protect those individuals that engage in "criminal like conduct". I say "criminal like conduct" because it may be that an individual cannot form the mens rea of the offence.

If an individual knows the last four digits of my home phone number, it is a scary thought considering it was not a number that was provided overly-regularly and not utilized with much frequency.

I again consent to receiving records on a piecemeal basis. At this time, I will not be able to attend any meeting for the aforementioned reasons but I am concerned of even showing my face in that area considering what has transpired.

If you know the name of the person (company) or individual, kindly provide that record to me. I can take it from there. Of course, I will be civil and focus on a resolution so that it, she or he understands the implications of continuing to possess my property. I have always been of the view that civil discourse will solve more than bringing police as it was suggested to me by the CAMH Security Services.

I look forward to compliance on a forthwith basis.

If you have any questions, please contact me immediately as I have limited access to email as a result of these events.

I will again note that we need not conflate the FIPPA process from other processes.

I will not condone or even consider being pushed back and forth between CAMH Security Services and CAMH Privacy. They are distinct on a factual and legal level. The scope of my access request is narrow to some degree at least with the urgent records needed. I trust I will not have to invoke the continuing access provision under FIPPA (ON) which is a distinct provision from that of the FIPPA (BC).

Thank you.

Dear CAMH Privacy Division (Head of CAMH, CAMH Privacy Officer et al):

Would you kindly provide me some intermittent access for the purposes of my health and security being threatened? I am still reviewing the case law in this area but this level of impersonation, unauthorized use of identification, unauthorized computer use, unlawful possession of prescription medication has to be considered "compelling circumstances". In the circumstances (pardon the pun), does CAMH know the individual(s) who were involved in the movement of my property and non-return of the same? If so, does CAMH have a last known address for them?

If not, then I would say this access request can be resolved and closed without that step. If you wish for me to provide my input as to whom the individual(s) may be, I will need to have access to some images in electronic format. Please send them via email so I can ensure that I protect myself from any individual who would engage in this conduct some two weeks after taking my property absent consent.

I appreciate that someone can mistake the property of another for their own but this is no longer that situation.

I will be in open and full disclosure in that I will obtain the IP address for whomever logged into my TPL account and booked that day trip at the Aga Khan museum but the images will remain the best records to protect myself. I trust my safety, security, health, and life will remain more important than that of an impostor.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this access request as we are now 15 days since the incident in question.

It was not my mobile so that leads me to believe this is someone who is quite dangerous to me. It was the last four digits of my home telephone number.

URGENT – FRESH EVIDENCE

November 10, 2024

Dear CAMH Privacy Division (kind attention: recipients)

I write on an urgent basis. I attach the fresh evidence that conclusively disposes of the debate under section 21(1)(f) of FIPPA. On Friday, November 8, 2024, an individual, absent my consent, utilized my library card in my wallet to reserve tickets to attend the Aga Khan Museum. I

As such, so as I did not have my library card and did not have it committed to memory or saved. This is beyond alarming and frankly scary. I will not get into motives but I have my suspicions.

As such, these are compelling circumstances regarding my health or security (including my life, liberty and health) that would override any privacy interest of another individual.

Kindly provide me with a copy of the images (WITHOUT REDACTION) of the individual or individuals who took my property on a forthwith basis. If you know the name of the individuals, please provide me with their names.

I will take it from here. This is beyond shameful to do this to any individual let alone with government property contained therein from a municipal, provincial and federal level.

While I rely on my previous factual and legal positions, this is dispositive of any issue. I am advancing my requests to the TPL to obtain the IP addresses and timing of whomever did this. I will then follow up with the Aga Khan Museum. I have never been and did not even know that there was such an event or the library card provided such an opportunity to do so. If my PIN was required (which is only known to me) to book the same, then it is all the more concerning.

The only silver lining is that it means that my wallet or at least the contents therein are still out there.

I will only need three or so images to determine if I know the person. I thank you in advance for the same.

Kindly let me know if you can open the attachment or I will presume that you can. It does contain my library card number which I have written down and I ask that you keep that confidential and only for the purposes herein.

Whomever this is, it has to be one of the most incompetent thieves of all times or the most brazen. Whatever the reasons for the conduct, it does not matter.. It is nonetheless beyond scary and alarming as my life, liberty, health, security and health remain threatened. It is one thing for an individual to attempt to use a credit card or bank card to engage in unlawful activity as there is some level of tangible value involving the same. However, to use a library card to attend an event wherever the Aga Khan Museum, has to be a first. Perhaps, the individual is holding all of my cards, identification, et al on him/her/they, and accidentally did so. Even worse, perhaps the individual was trying to lure me there. Thankfully, I did not learn of the same until yesterday as a result of not having the regular access to email. Perhaps, a blessing in disguise.

If I am able to recognize the individual, I will inform you forthwith and that should likely end the access request.

I will update with more information to assist when I am able. Subject to the individual utilizing a VPN, I will get the IP address of the individual on Friday, November 8, 2024, and will be able to tell if it is an individual that I know or a person that I know. The same will apply if said individual attended this unknown event to me until yesterday, at the Aga Khan Museum.

Parenthetically, I have updated CAMH Security Services as well but as you well know, two different avenues with different scopes. Thank you.

Warm regards,

CAMH Privacy Division:

CAMH Security Services has reverted back and confirmed it has not been able to recover my items. I did not think it would. I have required CAMH Security Services to provide me with its full investigation report by the end of the business day. Frankly, it did not live up to its representation of providing me with the information on Friday, October 25, 2024. In any event, better late than never.

I will not be contacting the local police as it has suggested as I still do not know if an offence was committed. I cannot take hearsay and morph that hearsay or double hearsay into a reasonable ground to believe that an offence has been committed. It is likely also futile with any local police with this much time having passed. However, I will not speculate.

The reason for this email is to ensure that you are aware that their investigation report must be provided but it is not part of this access request.

I trust you appreciate me keeping the access request narrow and focused and remaining the same as is.

While CAMH Security Services may not be able to recognize the value of the evidence, a body, face or otherwise, I may be able to do so. This is exactly why it should have worked with me as it represented as opposed to withholding information from me on a mistaken view of the law.

I trust that will not happen between us under FIPPA.

Kindly provide me with whatever records you have – even redacted. The matter remains urgent.

I await to hear from you. Thank you.

I write to confirm that I have followed up twice with CAMH Security Services. I have also confirmed with it, amongst other things, that since my passport was a ten-year passport and it was valid at the time of being taken without consent, I must apply for a replacement passport. I also have to report it as stolen. In educating myself on the same, this will involve the federal government's investigative and enforcement staff to do the same. As I have learned, said unit takes matters such as theft or non-consensual taking of the same extremely seriously as due to fraudulent manipulation of passports and others utilizing a Canadian passport, which is the property of the federal government, for nefarious purposes.

As such, by providing me with access to what was requested, the burden is shifted from CAMH to myself, and I will have to declare honestly as to current status.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

The financial institution attempted to follow up via telephone but since I do not have my most recent mobile, I could not answer. It was input into the system as "failed ID check" and "flagged". My account manager could not say more than the same.

Moreover, I have several financial instruments that are coming due and in order to access them, I need identification. As I still have my birth certificate, I only require one piece of identification. All of my other identification remains within that backpack.

There is one caveat to the above first paragraph. It was unclear to my account manager whether it was an online or in person purchase. Therefore, it may not be related so I will not speculate.

Nonetheless, the urgency has increased as a result of paragraph 2.

Thank you.

P.S. I missed part of the sentence at paragraph 52 therein. It should have read as, "If the head of CAMH does not have an obligation to refuse to disclose, then the relevant sections under FIPPA regarding providing access must govern including the purposes of FIPPA."

My apologies for missing the same.

Re: the continued urgency and definitive legal analysis as to why I am forthwith entitles to the records requested – kindly deliver via email to this email

Dear CAMH (privacy division):

Volume #1: Introduction and summary of current status

1. I hope you are all well. As represented, I have reviewed the entirety of FIPPA and I attach evidence of the same.

2. I repeat and rely upon the above and my request being an urgent one which has been represented by CAMH privacy division to be urgent as well. Hence, I took issue with the reference to CAMH relying on the minimum standard of providing access within 30 days of October 28, 2024.

3. I asked yesterday if you knew the individual who moved my backpack and its contents (the "McLean Backpack") and I did not receive a response. To confirm, when referencing the McLean Backpack by its definition, I am, of course, referring to the contents therein which were and are all mine.

4. You requested that I follow-up with CAMH Security Services and I did. I did not receive a response from it.

5. I confirmed that if there were further delays, I would have to draw the above correspondence to the attention of the head of CAMH. I have not received any sufficient timeline but correspondence from CAMH that it would search for responsive records. It is trite that there are responsive records as the McLean Backpack contains vast amounts of my personal information and access to further personal information and serious continued risk to my health and security.

6. To reiterate the obvious, the building located at 1025 Queen Street West which CAMH (excluding Moffer Coffee) owns or leases has a litany of signs when entering said building that the various areas are being monitored by CCTV. Those signs unequivocally represent that they are for safety and security. CAMH has not provided any signs therein that limit its responsibility or duties with respect to personal items or personal property of an individual. Further, there are no signs contained within the area where I entered, which was on the East side by the "White Squirrel Park", that represented, like when you enter an airport, that your property will be subject to seizure and search. Therefore, the REOP for myself or any individual that enters and remains with their property, particularly at the white long tables some 25 feet after entering is extremely high.

7. I did not lose or abandon the McLean Backpack.

8. I have a continued privacy interest in not only the McLean Backpack but its contents therein.

9. In short, the 30-day time limit is superseded by your duty to accommodate and treat me differently, procedurally and substantively, by the HR Code. I appreciate I am "preaching to the choir" here about "Mental Health Is Health" but I not only have a mental disorder by reference to my ADHD, but a mental impairment (microangiopathy and post concussional syndrome) and physical disabilities. The latter two were as a result of an MVA on August 31, 2022, where I was rear-ended at a high velocity by an above average weight SUV into a BMW four-door lightweight 330Xi. My head hit the steering wheel and my car was moved some 30 feet. The location of the MVA was slightly north of St. Clair avenue on Spadina avenue and before Heath road. I am currently a physio three times a week. If you need evidence of the same, I can provide what I have in my emails but most of it is on my laptop in the McLean Backpack.

10. As a result, it has been approximately ten days since I submitted my access request and obligatory fees.

11. I am not suggesting that my privacy rights came ahead, from a procedural time standpoint, but they should be “pari-passu” with others if we submitted access requests on the same day.

Volume #1(A): Further Analysis

12. In the spirit of our access partnership, I have also reviewed the relevant jurisprudence in relation to ss.21(1)(f) of FIPPA and there cannot be any mandatory prohibition imposed on CAMH to not disclose my specific personal information I am seeking as it relates to a record or records (nota bene: there may be separate video images or video from the four distinct cameras in the corridor of 1025 Queen Street West (CAMH building)).

13. While I appreciate your early stated position that ss. 21(1)(f) would, in your review, require redacting of the face of the individual, I have confirmed that I am content with the same without any waiver of my rights in fact and at law. It is trite that providing some requested records, even on a piecemeal basis, is the preferred route in all provincial jurisdictions that are governed by a FIPPA-esque statute.

14. It is trite that CAMH Security Services has already reviewed the video and confirmed it would not provide its findings. In a recent email, CAMH Security Services confirmed then its investigation is still ongoing. I address that point infra.

15. The issues herein are quite rudimentary as per CAMH Privacy Division's stated position of relying on the only mandatory disclosure refusal section under FIPPA; specifically, ss. 21(1)(f) of FIPPA.

16. I provided a lengthy analysis previously due to the urgency and I rely on the same.

17. Section 21(1) is admittedly wordy and lacks some specificity in some regards. However, it is of no legal consequence as per the jurisprudence in this area and that I meet at least independent exceptions.

18. The head, the esteemed Ms. Gregory, is obligated by the word “shall” to refuse to disclose personal information to any person other than individual to whom the information (not necessarily personal information) relates EXCEPT under the six disjunctive exceptions.

19. With respect, I do not even need to rely on one of the six disjunctive exceptions for the following unequivocal application of the facts and law. I provide two hypothetical analyses depending on whether I am “any person” or “the individual” to whom the information relates.

Volume #2(A): First hypothetical: If I am “any person” other than the individual

20. If your position is that I am the “any person” other than the individual to whom the information relates, I would disagree with the same on a variety of fronts. First, the Legislature utilized the language of “the information” at the end of the sentence and “personal information” at the outset.

21. “The information” is the video footage and images where an individual or two individuals move or misplace the McLean Backpack.

22. Therefore, “the information” relates to me per se and not to the other individual(s). Moreover, if the “individuals” for example were CAMH security guards, then they have zero REOP as they are acting as agents of CAMH and it is not an “individual” type issue. I do not know if it was security guards as I will take Christian (the security guard that I spoke with on Friday, October 25, 2024) at face value. However, that example provides a conclusion of law that is unassailable as it relates to ss. 21(1) without even delving into the six disjunctive exceptions.

23. CAMH Privacy Division seems to rest its position on the language of “personal information” at the outset of the sentence. However, in order for that definition under FIPPA to have applicability, the definition of “personal information” must be met. I do not know if it can be met. Even if that definition of “personal information” is met, it still does not require the head of CAMH to refuse to disclose to me (an individual) because “the information” relates to me.

24. Put another way, if I did not bring the McLean Backpack into the CAMH building, then none of this would have transpired. If another individual walked down the hallway on that day and I had not placed the McLean Backpack on the table before I went briefly to the restroom, then there would not be “the information”.

Volume #2(B): second hypothetical: if I am the individual to whom it relates

25. If I am the individual to whom the information relates, which I am, then you will have to notify me here if you intend to disclose it to any other person. I confirm that this email shall be the service address in the event if you ever do or contemplate doing so.

Volume #2(C): The Charter and jurisprudence in this area is binding

26. I need not delve into an extensive analysis of the Charter, particularly section 8, to make the unequivocal point that CAMH Privacy Division is required to provide me access. To the extent it delays and I lose the opportunity to recover my personal property, then it will only be because of the delays by CAMH. I do not mean that to be threatening or harsh but it is merely a fact.

27. In order for my Charter rights to be engaged, which they are, under section 8, I must have had (and still have) an REOP in the McLean Backpack and its contents therein. I, of course, do. The cases are so well-known that I have only cited the names of one of the parties therein.

28. Privacy concerns in relation to information are at their strongest where aspects of an individual's identity are at stake, such as in the context of information "about one's lifestyle, intimate relations or political or religious opinions" (Mills (1999) at paragraph 81; Thomson Newspapers, at page 517; Branch, at paragraph 62).

29. Travelers using public transportation maintain a reasonable expectation of privacy in their luggage (R. v. Kang-Brown, [2008] 1 S.C.R. 456; R. v. Chehil, [2013] 3 S.C.R. 220).

30. A reasonable expectation of privacy will persist in circumstances where the loss of control over the subject matter of the search is involuntary where the subject matter of the search is stolen by a third party (Reeves at paragraph 38).

31. A reasonable expectation may nevertheless be found in commercial documents and section 8 is therefore capable of applying in this context

(see e.g., Hunter v. Southam; McKinlay Transport; Thomson Newspapers; and Baron,). This would require an extensive dissection of all documents in my laptop, which I allow some of my disabled friends to utilize, and they have personal information contained therein. However, suffice it to say, the REOP is high because the laptop is passport protected, has fingerprint identification technology, and was stored securely in a closed laptop bag.

32. It is unclear to me whether the McLean Backpack has been searched but it has been seized by an individual without my consent. There has been a seizure, at the very least, in the CAMH Building, on your watch, and this must remain a priority from a safety, security and health standpoint for not only myself but others.

33. The totality of the circumstances not only favour me versus the other "persons" but in a landslide type manner as per the following:

- a. Only I had a direct interest in the subject matter;
- b. My subjective EOP in the McLean Backpack was and is remains extremely high; and
- c. My subjective EOP, which has been agreed, in the McLean Backpack is objectively reasonable.

34. A reasonable person standing in my shoes would believe that the EOP was and remains extremely high considering the contents therein being my medication (inscription therein), my passport, my wallet, keys to various other places (private and lockers), my laptop and others.

35. Put another way, I am the only individual with a standing with respect to the McLean Backpack. Another individual could NOT make an access request for the information as it related to the movement of the McLean Back and, of course, while on the premises of CAMH – not merely the CAMH Building.

36. If another individual, who moved the McLean Backpack, made an access request for the information relating to the same, perhaps with a guilty conscience, he or she would NOT be entitled as the information relates to me.

37. An individual who engages in a non consensual act vis-à-vis another individual's property does not supersede the individual owner or controller^r of that property. With respect to the latter, that is me.

38. Even in the school context, which has a lower territorial indicator of REOP, have an invariably high REOP with their, low and behold, “backpacks”.

39. Nevertheless, a personal search of a student (i.e., a search of their person or items carried on their person) interferes with a reasonable expectation of privacy (M. (M.R.), at paragraphs 32-33). Students also have a reasonable expectation of the contents of their backpacks on school premises (A.M.), supra.

40. The only counter-argument, by some level of analogy, is that of the case of 2014 involving R. v. Spencer which stands for the proposition as follows: however, the mere fact that a person enters a public space does not mean that the person expects to be personally identified and subjected to extensive surveillance (Spencer, supra at paragraph 44).

41. Analytical precision is again required by way of my “double underlining” above.

42. No one is suggesting that CAMH is engaged in ‘extensive surveillance’ and no issues arise herein.

43. It is the word “enter” used by the SCC that is the determining word. Of course, when merchants selling their homemade items at the “White Squirrel Park” (my definition) need to use the facilities at CAMH Building, they enter, use the facilities, and then leave. They have an REOP to not be subject to extensive surveillance per se but that is curtailed by the CCTV notice for “safety and security”.

44. However, if a merchant, AFTER entering engaged in moving other’s property to various locations in the public space, without consent, that REOP diminishes and becomes nil by having engaged in unlawful conduct.

45. Documents of a personal and confidential nature or that reveal a personal core of biographical information carry a reasonable expectation of privacy sufficient to attract constitutional protection (Mills (1999), supra at paragraph 81; Plant, supra at pages 292-294). This includes information which tends to reveal intimate details of the lifestyle and personal choices of the individual (Plant, supra at page 293; Tessling, supra at paragraph 62).

46. Personal computers, because of the vast amounts of information they contain — including intimate correspondence, the details of our financial, medical and personal situations, Internet browsing histories, as well as information that users cannot control and information that they may not be aware of or may have chosen to discard — attract a very high expectation of privacy (Morelli, supra at paragraph 105; R. v Vu, [2013] 3 S.C.R. 657 at paragraphs 24, 40-45). Because of the unique and heightened privacy interests in personal computer data, specific, prior judicial authorization is presumptively required to seize a personal computer from a home (Reeves, supra at paragraph 35).

Volume #3: Conclusion

47. I again confirm that any person or individual who was or is not involved in the movement of the McLean Backpack without my consent is not part of “the information” and need not be included in any sense. Put another way, I am solely seeking images (records) that engage the particulars of when my backpack was moved. On the day in question, there was a lady sitting some five or so seats down. As such, she is not part of that “record”.

48. As Mr. Angel of CAMH Security Services has confirmed in relation to ITS investigation, CAMH Privacy Division is required to notify me under section 21(1) but not any other individuals.

49. As I particularized and delineated my access request into those records that required urgent disclosure to me, I trust that I can receive the same by the end of the business day.

50. Standing (locus standi) is the equivalent of REOP.

51. If, in legal effect, another corporation moved my back without consent, there is no standing for said corporation to make an access request. In the alternative, said corporation would not have any REOP. Of course, a corporation cannot

52. I trust that this satisfies ss. 21(1)(b) of FIPPA in relation to myself (an individual). However, should you need more compelling circumstances that are affecting my health or safety, please inquire forthwith. If I do not hear from you, I will presume that I have satisfied this burden for the exception under ss. 21(1) (b) of FIPPA for the head of CAMH to know that she is not obligated to refuse to disclose my personal information to me, which relates to my personal privacy involving my property. If the head of CAMH does not have an obligation to refuse to disclose, then I a

53. Without any standing by any other persons or individuals besides myself, then only have the REOP. While others may feel that they have an EOP, it would not be reasonable in the circumstances.

54. Moreover, such select images that involve a specified period of time involving a specified area could never meet the definition of invasion. Without any invasion, then the section 21(1)(f) that CAMH has cited has no relevance on that ground alone. Moreover, even if personal information of another individual, who moved the McLean Backpack without my consent, is at issue, it would not be an INVASION of that individual's PERSONAL PRIVACY. Personal privacy and personal information are distinct in law. Even to the extent that one would argue, assuming arguendo, that there was an invasion of that individual's personal privacy, which there would not be, such alleged invasion would not be unjustified.

55. CAMH Security Services, which is on the ground floor of the same building which CAMH Privacy Division operates, clearly denoted it as a "theft".

56. The question arises: protection of who's personal privacy? The next question arises: whose personal privacy is more important: mine or the individual (who CAMH Security Services refers to as a "thief" (implicitly) or mine? The question answers itself.

57. I thank you for your prompt attention to the above and I look forward to receipt of the records that require urgent disclosure.

58. Lastly, if CAMH (any division) informs me that the McLean Backpack and its contents have miraculously been found, without my relinquishing control of the same or even abandoning the same (including never having voluntarily divulged the same) and are within CAMH's possession, kindly notify me immediately. If I am not in the City of Toronto, I will send an authorized agent. If I am nearby, I will attend in person and sign a receipt for the same. In that instance, upon the return of the McLean Backpack to me, you may accept this email as confirmation that I have withdrawn my access request. (A pleasure to meet you Ms. Armstrong, and thank you for all of the incredible work you and your hospital do for the greater public good. I regret meeting on these terms but nonetheless a pleasure from my side.)

Sincerely,

Warm regards,

Dear CAMH Privacy Division:

I confirm that I have reached out to CAMH Security Services but without a response. I did so as a courtesy to you. To demonstrate the urgency of this matter, while appreciating 30 calendar days is the minimum standard, I would ask again that you provide me with access to the focused personal information records that I seek. Of course, my backpack and its contents therein were and are my property and constitute personal information. If you remain of the view that you are entitled or wish to blur, redact or sever the fact of the individual or individuals that moved my back without my consent, perhaps by mistake, and then failed to return the same or lost the same, I am content to receive the same BUT without any waiver of my rights in fact and at law. The relationship between me as a requestor and CAMH as a public body (public hospital) is one of an "access partnership".

I further confirm that I have read and reviewed all of FOIPPA (ON) and there are no grounds to claim an unjustified privacy of another individual as they could not have any REOP in entering the hospital whilst clear signs of CCTV surveillance at all times therein. This, of course, does not provide CAMH carte blanche to review the images of individuals, store the same, and then collate them by way of data integration. However, by way of its stated purpose, it is for the safety and security of all. When any individual, whether by mistake or otherwise, moves another's property without consent, and it is not returned, the notion of REOP is zero. For example, no individual could claim a breach of their Charter rights in those images. An individual may claim a breach of Charter images if they were there on another day, and CAMH disclosed images to other requestors that were entirely unrelated to a movement of another's property absent consent without return.

Therefore, the only unjustified invasion of privacy was and is my privacy. My REOP was and remains high in the backpack and its contents therein.

We know that there are responsive records and CAMH Security Services does not want to release them and their findings. CAMH Security Services is not the privacy division of CAMH.

I also note that in order to act in good faith to me, we all agree that the matter is urgent so any delay cannot be seen to be good faith. Please provide copies of images, even in redacted form, so I can see if they are meaningful and helpful.

I believe what was referenced above in section 21(1) is not particularly the correct reference at law. The issue is one of claiming the ability to sever a record and sever as much as possible. As I see from the Ontario case law, severing must only be to a point where the non-severed part is still meaningful in receiving the same. Moreover, severing can only occur if an exemption applies. Of course, I have an override to ss. 21(1)(f) and that is the health or security of myself and that CAMH must inform any other individuals at the time of disclosure notification of the same. I trust that I have provided sufficient grounds already to demonstrate compelling health or security circumstances why I need the same on a forthwith the same.

This subsection 21(1)(b) presupposes that CAMH has the last known address of any other individuals who may claim a privacy interest.

So, I will ask bluntly, in the spirit of urgency, without requiring a disclosure of their names or identities, does CAMH know the individual(s) who moved my backpack and its content without consent? Kindly provide a yes or no in this regard as it will assist us in our access partnership.

I am deeply concerned that my identity, financial, birth information, travel documents, et al could be utilized for nefarious purposes and not necessarily by the persons who moved the bag but by others if it was lost or taken yet again.

Kindly let me know by the end of the day on the question below and I look forward to receiving at least one image – even redacted. I may supplement this to ensure that I have continued to demonstrate compelling health or security circumstances.

Re: my initial response – abundance of caution – regarding the section cited by CAMH privacy division

Dear CAHM (Privacy Division):

Volume #1: My gratitude to you

I thank you again for your emails and promptness in relation to the above. I thank Ms. Piradaski for her reference to ss. 21(1) of FIPPA. Based upon her reference to unjustified invasion of privacy, I note that is ss. 21(1)(f) of FIPPA. I have had a chance to do a cursory review of this section and do appreciate you turning your minds to balancing my privacy interests with that of other individuals. Due to the urgency and compelling circumstances affecting my health and safety (as CAMH Security Services confirmed it was a theft – their words and not mine), I will address these sections in due course but expedient fashion. While I am terribly self-motivated to have access to the same as I am concerned about my safety and security if such an event could happen in such a short period of time within the confines of CAMH (1025 Queen Street West with other individuals around and security in the building along with multiple notices regarding CCTV), I appreciate that the equal application of the law and evolution of the same must be paramount.

I refer to myself in other ways herein to be consistent with FIPPA and other jurisprudence:

1. The requester;
2. The subject; and
3. In the first person.

I will be comprehensive herein because of the aforementioned reasons and your raising of section 21 of FIPPA. Further, I believe it helpful to CAMH privacy division to have an open, accurate and complete "record of exchanges" in the event that any other individual says that he or she has privacy interests which compete with mine.

Any double underlining, bolding or italics are mine and they are used for ease of reading and reference.

I have not cited all of the definitions but they are from either of the online dictionaries: (i) Merriam-Webster's; or (ii) Oxford online dictionaries.

While this correspondence, exclusively for the purposes of FIPPA and only to be utilized for purposes herein in accordance with FIPPA, may be amended for administrative errors, style, flow and references, the substance will remain the same. I will make use of limited time, without access to the contents of my backpack, by then reviewing the law under section 21 of FIPPA. However, at first instance, I will review the legislation ab initio with a blank slate so to speak.

While I have utilized "he" and "she" herein, it also refers to non-binary and gender-neutral individuals. I do not intend any disrespect whatsoever to those individuals.

With respect to the word "compelling", I take that to mean "convincing" or "persuasive". I say that this is persuasive in of itself when considering the above facts.

The only issue is the timing of the disclosure to me. I am content and consent to receiving the information and records (which is personal information of myself) on a piecemeal basis. While I appreciate the reference to 30 days, I respectfully submit that the 30-day legislative timeline takes into consideration the searching for, reviewing, collating and disclosing of records along with the mailing out of the same in certain instances. As we can handle the same electronically via email, and there is no search for the records as per seeing the sophisticated and precise set up of the CAMH Security Services recording and monitoring apparatuses, I respectfully submit that time is of the essence. This is common ground as per the above.

As per the purposes of FIPPA (see: infra), there is no dispute that protection of privacy of individuals with respect to personal information about themselves held by CAMH is a guiding purpose. However, since my personal information was contained in the backpack, and said personal information was highly sensitive personal information ("SPI") and the personal information of the individual who moved my backpack, absent consent, is to be balanced, the balance not only tips in my favour but it is unequivocal and absolute compared to other individuals.

Again, in order for privacy to be protected of an individual there must be a reasonable expectation of privacy. The reasonableness of the same is an objective standard connoting the “reasonable person” when viewing the circumstances. It is not the subjective belief of the individual who moved my backpack and the SPI (and personal information (also defined as “PII”)) contained therein.

The REOP of an individual inside 1025 Queen Street with a specific focus on the hallway from the public doors to the end of the corridor (the “CAMH Public Specific Location”) and the main foyer is not only low but close to non-existent. Of course, individuals’ property and personal information when designated as such or subject to their personal space where so located carries a higher REOP. There is informational, territorial and personal privacy.

In relation to territorial privacy, the CAMH Public Specific Location is not the same as being in a private dwelling, vehicle or private office. There is almost no territorial privacy for any individual who enters and remains. This is distinct from the secure areas that require FOB access like the library, health justice center and other exit access points.

In relation to informational privacy, this varies depending upon whether an individual had placed informational privacy therein in the public or whether it was closed inside a wallet, purse, bag, backpack or contained in their electronic devices. Moreover, personal privacy increases when there are locks or passwords on the same. My electronic devices have multiple passwords and security measures including FACEID. My medication had my name on it and it was prescribed by a qualified physician in Ontario and only dispensed by a qualified pharmacist. My passport is a Government of Canada document with my name on it that provides me the right to travel to other countries, which I urgently require, and is de facto or de jure the property of the Government of Canada. It provides further SPI about where I have travelled since 2023.

Therefore, the individual who moved my bag, absent my consent, had no territorial privacy or informational privacy.

In relation to “personal privacy” of this individual, there is none considering my request does not focus on any specific individual and is confined to my request of the activities that relate to my personal information. As such, the purposes of FIPPA require no protection for this individual as it relates to disclosing the information to me that involves myself in relation to the moving of my bag without my consent and which I have not received the return of the backpack and contents therein.

Referencing the cited (at least implicitly) by Ms. Piradaski of ss. 21(f) of FIPPA, in order for the head of CAMH to rely upon this subsection, which is not dispositive of the issue as there are other sections which negate any refusal per se, there must be the following:

1. Unjustified;
2. Invasion;
3. Of personal privacy.

It is trite that there cannot be an unjustified invasion of the personal privacy of the individual who moved my backpack and contents (highly SPI) therein, absent my consent, and has not returned the same to CAMH in trust for myself. Simply put, there is no personal privacy at first instance for said individual, who is unknown to me. If there is no personal privacy of that unknown individual, there cannot be an invasion of his or her personal privacy. It follows that there could not be any unjustified invasion of that individuals' personal privacy.

Said unknown individual may or may not have recorded personal information in that the information may be such that it does not identify the individual at all. Said individual may be wearing various face coverings, sunglasses and/or a hat that does not allow sufficient information to identify said individual. Again, it is not something that is known to me per se. Moreover, unless such information is combined with other information, which I am not seeking, it may be that personal information of the unknown individual is not even at issue. However, that is a moot issue because there must be an unjustified invasion of personal privacy of this unknown individual. It is an impossibility on these facts for previous and current reasons.

Even if I could take that position for any value pursuant to FIPPA, it is easily overcome by ss. 21(a), (b) and others under section 21 which are disjunctive. Therefore, there are no grounds to even redact any part of the unknown individual who moved my backpack because my personal privacy was invaded unjustifiably and FIPPA does not authorize the head of CAMH to protect non-existent privacy for individuals. FIPPA only obligates the head of CAMH to refuse to disclose personal information of another individual if the requester is not an individual (i.e. a corporation) and has made a request for information which has no aspect of personal information about the requester. I am an individual and my request is for personal information about myself. Therefore, section 21 of FIPPA does not even factor into the analysis of providing me with access to my personal information.

Appreciating your time is valuable, I kindly request that you provide me with access to the information in your possession and control which is all personal information about myself. Upon it being emailed to me, I will confirm receipt and review it forthwith. I will then confirm whether I have any questions about the disclosed personal information record to me. I doubt that I will. I will then be able to confirm that my access request is closed to my full satisfaction.

I would ask you to provide me photos or images from the video and by the end of business day on Monday as my health and security continued to be egregiously affected by the same. At least by receiving the same, I can advise various persons who need to know the status as to what transpired and any further security measures that need to be taken.

To wait the 30 days since the time of request or when the application fee was received which was on Monday, October 28, 2024, will have irreversible and permanent negative effects upon my health and security. I am considering making and having an affidavit commissioned or notarized or providing a declaration (if possible) in the event that is required by way of the language of "convincing", "health" and "security". I will review the law in further detail in this regard.

I confirm that no "mailing is required" but I will provide a copy of my driver's license in the event you do not have it as I did have it scanned recently. I refer to the same in relation to, inter alia, ss. 21(b) of FIPPA or any analogous sections under FIPPA.

If there are compelling circumstances that affect my health or security, please notify me immediately.

I again reiterate and reaffirm my position in perpetuity that if my backpack and contents therein are returned to me in full that I will withdraw this access request. I need not know how it was returned, who possessed it and why. I trust CAMH privacy division appreciates the same and to the extent it is able to facilitate the same, I simply need a time and place for pickup of the same.

As I may have mentioned, as a result of my disabilities, much of my letters are dictated at first instance so kindly excuse any errors. If any questions arise, please contact me at your earliest convenience and via email.

With the greatest of respect, my health and security cannot afford to wait for meetings at some time next week. I need the information as my health, life and security will remain threatened until I receive the information requested (which is personal information and highly sensitive personal information ("SPI") or the return of my backpack and contents therein. If, after receipt, a meeting will help to expedite, I am all for the same.

I do not intend and nothing should be taken as such as me being in any way demanding, selfish or entitled but if I do not hear from you on Monday as I have important meetings that day (some of which are financial and I am in a terrible bind here as a result of not having access to any of my hard copy identification), then I may have to direct the same to the head of CAMH to have this access request addressed on an emergency basis. The mere suggestion of taking 30 days and redacting a face will not provide me any relief and my health and security will continue to be threatened.

If an individual is stalking or following me, I need to have some idea of what that individual is so I can protect myself, remove myself from previous locations and do all that I can regarding the same. This should not be taken in any way as me suggesting as I am not that I would utilize that information for a law enforcement request. I do not have faith in that process regarding this type of situation. I will provide an example as to why at a later date.

The reason for the below length, which is considerable, is that if an affidavit or declaration is required for the convincing element (if you will), I will confirm that I have expressly adopted all of the facts herein into said affidavit. In this manner, the affidavit will be merely administrative.

I thank you kindly and I have denoted the below at "Appendix" so it can be read and cross-referenced if necessary.

My best regards to you,

/KAM

Volume #2: DETAILED ANALYSIS – ABUNDANCE OF CAUTION

Volume #2(A): The Purposes of FIPPA (ON)

1 The purposes of this Act are,

(a) to provide a right of access to information under the control of institutions in accordance with the principles that,

(i) information should be available to the public,

(ii) necessary exemptions from the right of access should be limited and specific, and

(iii) decisions on the disclosure of government information should be reviewed independently of government; and

(b) to protect the privacy of individuals with respect to personal information about themselves held by institutions and to provide individuals with a right of access to that information. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 1.

Volume #2(A)(I): Application of the section 1 to the facts herein

CAMH is an institution subject to FIPPA. Control is consistent with “possession”. CAMH has possession of the information that I seek. I am a member of the public and information should be made available to the public.

The principle of “necessary exemption” signifies, denotes and implies that in order for an exemption to apply to the access to myself (or the word “disclosure” is utilized), it must be an obligatory one. “Shall” is “obligatory”. Therefore, if “shall” was used by the Legislature in relation to the head of CAMH, then it must be respected subject to inapplicability to these facts or an exemption to the same.

There is no issue of independent review by the Ontario Information and Privacy Commissioner (the “Privacy Commissioner”).

FIPPA was designed with the specific purpose to protect the privacy of individuals (not “corporations”) with respect to personal information about themselves held by government institutions (in this instance, CAMH) and to provide individuals with a right of access to that information.

CAMH cannot take the position that there is any privacy interest to protect an individual who moves the property and personal information of another. Therefore, the overriding and paramount privacy interest herein is my right of access to “that information” which I requested in an expedient fashion. There are, of course, overriding urgency concerns and they involve my health and security which are compelling. As you can see, my health and security are suffering as a result of the same. I repeat and rely upon the above and in relation to required medication of mine, my passport (which I need to travel in short order and now I am estopped from doing so), and electronic devices. I have volumes of private, privileged and confidential information my computer contains therein that I require access to. The only way in which I can obtain access to the same is by knowing who may have misplaced or moved my backpack. I appreciate backpacks can look the same and one may have confused it with another. Mistakes happen but without being provided with the requested information, then my health and security will continue to suffer.

Even worse, if there is any individual stalking or following me, then I need to know on a forthwith basis so I can protect myself. The only way I can protect myself is by knowledge.

Volume #3: Paratheatrical Note – of assistance to us

As a parenthetical note, there are many similarities between FOIPPA (BC) and FOIPPA (ON) but there are differences. The 30 days in BC are business days which equates to approximately 45 calendar days. However, this section 21 of FOIPPA (ON) and the quasi-concordant section in BC is under sections 22 and 23 therein. Fortuitously, I have some general experience in this area so I believe this will assist us in determining the same for our “access partnership”. Nothing is “adversarial” herein. Nothing is litigious. Rather, it is a balancing between my privacy interests and property and that of the individual who, perhaps most innocently or mistakenly, took the carriage of my backpack and without even knowing the contents therein.

Volume #4: Public safety element

As noted, there is a public safety element herein in that the Adderall XR I have contained therein is plentiful and was, after further computation, close to some 800 mg of the same. Without delving into the “knock-off” or non-trademarked “Adderall”, the medication that I purchase is authentic. I note the same because I was obtaining what I thought was “Adderall XR” from Shoppers Drug Mart at one point and I later learned that it was a reformulation or non-trademarked brand of the same. Once I commenced purchasing from a different pharmacy, the price had a five-fold difference of five-fold (i.e. $100 to $500 per 120 capsules at 10 mg). I cannot understate the distinction in the effectiveness of the two medications. That being said, if taken by an individual who is not prescribed, it could cause serious health problems and may be fatal particularly if an individual takes multiple pills at the same time during 24 hours. I get my blood tested regularly along with EKG's and have had multiple MRI's in the last couple of years to ensure that not only am I operating within the recommended dosage but there are not any adverse effects on my body and my body can handle the same. I appreciate that I am preaching to the “choir” as this is addressed, albeit to the privacy division^[1], to arguably the pre-eminent hospital in the world dealing with addiction but I felt compelled to ensure that I have done the same again.

Volume #5: Shall and “personal information”

The “shall” in subsection 27(1) has exceptions of which there are five.

It is trite that a “person” includes not only a natural person but an individual. It is further trite that an individual is a natural person (see: Legislation Act).

I also copy and paste from the definition of FIPPA with respect to “personal information”

“personal information” means recorded information about an identifiable individual, including,

(a) information relating to the race, national or ethnic origin, colour, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation or marital or family status of the individual,

(b) information relating to the education or the medical, psychiatric, psychological, criminal or employment history of the individual or information relating to financial transactions in which the individual has been involved,

(c) any identifying number, symbol or other particular assigned to the individual,

(d) the address, telephone number, fingerprints or blood type of the individual,

(e) the personal opinions or views of the individual except where they relate to another individual,

(f) correspondence sent to an institution by the individual that is implicitly or explicitly of a private or confidential nature, and replies to that correspondence that would reveal the contents of the original correspondence,

(g) the views or opinions of another individual about the individual, and

(h) the individual's name where it appears with other personal information relating to the individual or where the disclosure of the name would reveal other personal information about the individual; ("renseignements personnels")

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, RSO 1990, c F.31, s 2,

In this regard, I respectfully submit to CAMH privacy division that the interpretation of "personal information" by the OPCC and federal court is of assistance.^[ii] Trusting it is beyond well-known to this division or department, I will note, to respect your resources and not be redundant that personal information is:

1. Is given a broad and expansive interpretation to fulfill its objects (nota bene: purposes and objects of FIPPA are addressed infra);
2. Is anything that is or is about a requester or subject (or another individual);
3. "About" means that the information is not just the subject of something but also relates to or concerns the subject;
4. Information will be about an "identifiable individual" where there is a serious possibility that an individual could be identified through the use of that information, alone or in combination with other information;
5. The same information can be personal to more than one individual, where, for example, it contains the views of one individual about another individual, or where the same information reveals something about two identifiable individuals;

Obviously, my backpack with my passport, wallet, medication and electronic devices constitutes information, in recorded form, that is "personal information about me". In relation to the video evidence involving myself leaving from the long white table to the washrooms is personal information about myself. I am, of course, not seeking personal information of any other individuals therein eating lunch, working at the long white tables, coming and going, and others working in the facility.

It is unclear to me at this stage as CAMH privacy division is in the best position to know whether or not that the image of the individual who moved my backpack is identifiable. It may be that the individual was wearing sunglasses, a hat, and a mask. This would likely render the individual unidentifiable unless there was some particular mark or feature that was known to another – likely in the context of a former intimate partner or family member.

The common gravamen of the intellectual issue herein is whether I am entitled to unredacted records or a "record" of the individual (presuming it is one individual) who moved my backpack with my personal information contained therein. You have referenced redacting the face of the individual. From a practical standpoint, it may be sufficient for me to ensure that my health, safety and security can be protected. I will not go into exceeding detail here but the above provides some insight.

In effect, we will have the personal information of the individual moving my backpack and my personal information contained in the backpack. Therefore, there may be two competing interests but my privacy interest is clearly paramount.

Volume #6: Your reference to "Section 21" "Personal Privacy"

"Personal privacy" relates to "personal information" of individuals.

Again, appreciating the attention to detail and strict adherence to FIPPA by the head of CAMH, this subsection 21(1) is only triggered (i.e. a mandatory requirement of the head of CAMH to refuse but which is predicated on a condition precedent or conditions precedent) when the following conditions, factors or conditions precedent exist [but for exceptions]:

1. The potential of a disclosure (i.e. giving access to a person or individual) [factor]
2. "Personal information" is at issue in the potential disclosure [factor]
3. "The information" at issue involves a non-natural person (i.e. a non-individual) [condition precedent – presumptive refusal];
4. "The information" at issue involves personal information (of an individual) and the requester is a person (including an individual) to which the "information" does NOT relate to it, he or she [condition precedent – presumptive refusal].

Therefore, out of the above, by way of deductive reasoning, the following emerges for the head of CAMH to NOT refuse to disclose (i.e. shall NOT refuse to disclose) the information sought by an individual:

1. If the individual [not a corporation] who has made the request [in this instance myself as the "Requester"] is seeking "THE INFORMATION" (some of which will be personal information and some which may not – as it is difficult for a request to only capture personal information, particularly in this instance) which relates to them (i.e. is, in part, about the, related to them or there is a serious possibility it is about them), then section 21 is not applicable without even delving in the subparagraphs.

Volume #7: Subsection 21(A) of FIPPA

Returning the analytical precision required for analyzing ss. 21(1)(a) of FIPPA, I have emphasized the following words in ss. 21(1)(a):

"21 (1) A head shall refuse to disclose personal information to any person other than THE individual to whom THE INFORMATION relates except,

(a) upon the prior written request or consent of the individual, if the record is one to which the individual is entitled to have access;

Therefore, our Legislature distinguished, with a difference, "personal information" versus "the information" and utilized "other than" whilst using the "singular" of "THE" when referencing "individual".

It is trite that the Legislature was focused on the "personal" or "individual" privacy of individuals and not amorphous persons like corporations.

"Other than" is defined as: apart from or except.^[iii] Therefore, ss. 21(1)(a) on a plain reading in accordance with statutory interpretation, including the Latin principle of "expressio unius est exclusio alterius"^[iv], is only applicable when it applies exclusively to "one individual". In this context, I submit that this would apply to the files of video evidence wherein there are records that include an individual that had absolutely no involvement or no engagement with me. To put practicality to the same, I spoke with a female, who was most kind, sitting on the long tables some four to five chairs to the right after I returned and could not locate my backpack (and its contents). Prior to our discussion, there may be video of her that is relevant or not relevant. I do not know. I cannot prove a negative. I have no reason to believe that she would have moved the backpack but I cannot speculate.

The upshot of the above is that when two individuals are contained in the same record or image, with a focus on the relevant times, that subsection 21 of FIPPA has little applicability on its face. Moreover, when considering that I am an individual who has made a prior written request, paid the necessary application fee and delivered in email form and hard copy the access request proforma of CAMH, the language of "record" becomes paramount.

"Record" is defined as:

"record" means any record of information however recorded, whether in printed form, on film, by electronic means or otherwise, and includes,

(a) correspondence, a memorandum, a book, a plan, a map, a drawing, a diagram, a pictorial or graphic work, a photograph, a film, a microfilm, a sound recording, a videotape, a machine-readable record, any other documentary material, regardless of physical form or characteristics, and any copy thereof, and

(b) subject to the regulations, any record that is capable of being produced from a machine readable record under the control of an institution by means of computer hardware and software or any other information storage equipment and technical expertise normally used by the institution; ("document")

There is no dispute that the video evidence, obtained and reviewed by CAMH Security Services with its findings et al, is a "record".

We are not dealing with any of the exceptions to personal information at the various subsections of 2(2) to 2(4) of FIPPA.

Volume #8: Self-evident unassailable purpose of section 21

The self-evident and unassailable purpose of ss. 21(1) is to ensure that requesters for general records (i.e. not personal information about themselves) are not entitled to access personal information of others. It is not applicable when an individual like myself is requesting personal information about himself relating to his property (backpack and contents therein) and another individual, absent consent, has moved it. The Legislature could not have intended to protect other individuals who moved another's personal information absent consent at first instance when the individual requester of his personal information never abandoned his or her personal information. This would be inconsistent with the purposes of FIPPA and freedom of access information statutes in our country. The Legislature did not intend the same by virtue of subsection 21(1)(a) as there is disjunctive language therein predicated on an "exception".

Again to be unequivocally clear, as the matter remains exceedingly urgent to me, it states, "EXCEPT", "upon the prior written request OR consent of the individual, if the RECORD is one to which the individual is entitled to have access".

I am an individual and "the individual" as it relates to the record of which I am entitled to access. Put another way, I am not entitled to access to records from the previous week where I am not even in the same vicinity as CAMH but I am entitled when I was physically present in the building and when my property was moved without my consent. Of course, no other person can waive another's Charter rights.

The question is what does "if the record is one to which the individual is entitled to have access". I would respectfully submit that I am entitled to the entirety of the record considering my health, life and security being threatened and harmed by not knowing.

Moreover, if the Legislature contemplated that "the information" related to two individuals or more, and the head was REQUIRED ('shall') to refuse to disclose to any person, then it would have done so. However, it is the word "relates" when combined with "other than", in this context, that does not provide a mandatory refusal requirement upon the head of CAMH. As my access request has been tailored and focused on the relevant time, along with my follow ups in this regard for clarity purpose, I am NOT seeking personal information about another individual where it does NOT relate to me. Rather, I am seeking, inter alia, personal information about myself. However, FIPPA, unlike PIPEDA, deals in "records" and not merely "personal information". Of course, you have the likes of individual requesters who are journalists (Kevin Donovan of the Toronto Star comes to mind in relation to his documentary regarding the murder of the "Shermans" in that none of the information he was seeking was personal information about himself and "THE INFORMATION" related to other individuals). Juxtaposed herein, "THE INFORMATION" I am seeking relates to me so I do not fall under the category of "other than".

For example, if a photo is taken of three people at an event at CAMH, one of the individuals may request access to the photo. Said individual making the request is entitled to "the information" as it is not all "personal information" about her per se but "the information" in the "record" relates to her.

Ergo, section 21 of FIPPA excludes those "general requesters" of "general records" where they were not subject to, part of or related to the record at issue. The Legislature is always speaking and it was sound policy from not only a protection of personal information standpoint but also from an economical one because if a "general requester" or even more pessimistically a "snooper" or "unknown or unregistered sexual predator" was stalking an individual, 'he' may be gathering evidence on another and finding recent photos through the guise of "bona fide access requests".

As such, ss. 21(1) provides a clear exemption to my situation herein wherein I am a requester and I made the request promptly on or around Monday, October 28, 2024, and then strictly complied with your internal pro forma requirements and then legislative requirement of payment of fees et al.

Volume #9: Subsection 21(b) of FIPPA

This subsection of FIPPA is the primary focus of my submission to the head of CAMH that it is inconceivable that I would not meet this subsection.

Subsection 21(b) of FIPPA was passed in 1990 and has remained the same since that time. The Legislature's clear language was (and remains) as follows:

Personal privacy

21 (1) A head shall refuse to disclose personal information to any person other than the individual to whom the information relates except,

(b) in compelling circumstances affecting the health or safety of an individual, if upon disclosure notification thereof is mailed to the last known address of the individual to whom the information relates;

I have been unequivocal in how my health or security are being damaged and injured and there is the potential of others being affected from a health or security standpoint with a controlled substance therein.

Volume 10: Subsection 21(a) vs. Subsection 21(f): "red herring" or "misnomer"

Subsection 21(f) reads as follows:

21 (1) A head shall refuse to disclose personal information to any person other than the individual to whom the information relates except,

(f) if the disclosure does not constitute an unjustified invasion of personal privacy. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 21 (1).

To remove the “double negatives”, the Legislature intended that the head shall NOT refuse if the disclosure constitutes a justified invasion of personal privacy.

Of course, this is one of the many disjunctive exemptions. I respectfully submit I would meet this exception as well. However, my primary respectful contention and submission to the head of CAMH is that I meet others under section 21 to the extent that I even need to meet an exemption. To ensure that there is no misunderstanding herein,

When interpreting the precise language used by the Legislature in section 21 and ss. 21(1) of “the information” and “record” where an individual who has made an access request, the reference to subsection 21(f) by CAMH (Ms. Piradaski) may have applicability in other situations and other requests by not herein. Put another way, ss. 21(f) does not override ss. 21(a) because the disjunctive conjunction of “or” was used by the Legislature. However, to give any meaning to ss. 21(f) of FIPPA, the word “unjustified” has to be used. The language of “justification” is sprinkled throughout our Charter when relating to justifiable limits on Charter rights. While this is not a Charter matter, what is unjustified or justified can be analogized to some degree. However, it is beyond the scope now.

Neither unjustified nor justified are defined so the dictionary definitions are the starting point.

Justified: to show a sufficient lawful reason for an act done.

Unjustified: not demonstrably correct or judicious: not warranted or appropriate.

It is also the word of “invasion” that needs to be dissected. Invasion is defined as (while using the verb “invading”) as: to encroach upon: infringe.

The synonyms of “invasion” are: (i) assault; (ii) incursion; (iii) infiltration; or (iv) raid.

“Disclosure” is not defined under FIPPA but it is defined as: making information known (to a person).

I know the information in relation to my conduct in CAMH at the material times to this access request. However, I do not know certain information while I was in the private restroom facilities of CAMH. Christian (CAMH security guard) and I reconciled at 13:05 on Friday, October 25, 2024. We may be off on that time slightly but my focus is a limited time by way of recorded information.

Volume #11: Subsections 21(2) to 21(4)

In relation to these subsections, I have copied and pasted the below at Volume #11(a) to (c).

Volume #11(A): Section 21(2)

I now copy and paste ss. 21(2) regarding the same:

Criteria re invasion of privacy

(2) A head, in determining whether a disclosure of personal information constitutes an unjustified invasion of personal privacy, shall consider all the relevant circumstances, including whether,

- (a) the disclosure is desirable for the purpose of subjecting the activities of the Government of Ontario and its agencies to public scrutiny;
- (b) access to the personal information may promote public health and safety;
- (c) access to the personal information will promote informed choice in the purchase of goods and services;
- (d) the personal information is relevant to a fair determination of rights affecting the person who made the request;
- (e) the individual to whom the information relates will be exposed unfairly to pecuniary or other harm;
- (f) the personal information is highly sensitive;
- (g) the personal information is unlikely to be accurate or reliable;
- (h) the personal information has been supplied by the individual to whom the information relates in confidence; and
- (i) the disclosure may unfairly damage the reputation of any person referred to in the record. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 21 (2)

I will not delve too deeply into ss. 21(2)(a) as that is a nuanced subject per se. However, all government institutions should be accountable and transparent particularly when there have been countless communications to me in oral and written from CAMH agents which have been empathetic.

Subsection 21(2)(b) of FIPPA is a bullseye subsection as the access to the same will greatly promote public health and safety considering the contents of my backpack and overall safety from those coming and going into CAMH. Moreover, this is consistent with all of the notices inside CAMH regarding the usage of CCTV. The relevant space herein is not security protected but open to the public. I have noticed that even when the "farmers markets" or "public congregation of merchants" operate in the park to the East side of 1025 Queen Street West that many come and go to use the facilities.

It is difficult for me to comment on ss. 21(2)(c) as I do not know how the fee structure (if any) works for CAMH patients or consumers. However, I can say that if there is any element of purchase of goods or services, disclosure is always favoured over suppression.

Subsection 21(2)(d) is applicable and in my favour as it will assist in how to determine my rights and steps to take to protect my health and security.

Subsection 21(2)(e) is applicable and I have already confirmed that whomever the individual was cannot be exposed to pecuniary or other harm as I have not reported to the police or any law enforcement and will not do so. Moreover, any such potential civil matter would be wasteful and I have confirmed the same. Again, the word “unfairly” is also factored in. Therefore, nothing in this subsection 21(2)(e) would assist the unknown individual who moved my backpack and contents therein.

Subsection 21(2)(f) is highly applicable. Without even having read these sections before writing my introduction to you, I referenced my SPI. I have SPI in the contents therein but the individual does not by way of video or CCTV records.

Subsection 21(2)(g) is known to you and not me so I cannot comment at this time. While I have seen the resolution of the video monitors inside 100 Stokes, ground floor, it is unclear what the resolution is or was once transferred to a computer and whether that can be magnified or not.

Subsection 21(2)(h) is noted. There is no confidential relationship that arose herein or any duty of confidence (see: Lac Minerals (SCC) for the test for a “duty of confidence” to arise).

Subsection 21(2) (I) is noted. There is no unfairness to the damage of any individual besides myself. Any other individual who moved my property and SPI contents therein cannot claim any level of fairness or unfairness.

Volume #11(B): Presumed invasion of privacy

Subsection 21(3) reads as follows:

Presumed invasion of privacy

(3) A disclosure of personal information is presumed to constitute an unjustified invasion of personal privacy where the personal information,

(a) relates to a medical, psychiatric or psychological history, diagnosis, condition, treatment or evaluation;

(b) was compiled and is identifiable as part of an investigation into a possible violation of law, except to the extent that disclosure is necessary to prosecute the violation or to continue the investigation;

(c) relates to eligibility for social service or welfare benefits or to the determination of benefit levels;

(d) relates to employment or educational history;

(e) was obtained on a tax return or gathered for the purpose of collecting a tax;

(f) describes an individual's finances, income, assets, liabilities, net worth, bank balances, financial history or activities, or creditworthiness;

(g) consists of personal recommendations or evaluations, character references or personnel evaluations; or

(h) indicates the individual's racial or ethnic origin, sexual orientation or religious or political beliefs or associations. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 21 (3)

Subsection 21(3)(a) is not relevant as I am solely seeking images at first instance.

Subsection 21(3)(b) to (h) are all irrelevant.

Therefore, there is no presumed invasion of privacy from a legislative standpoint.

Volume #11(C): Subsection 21(4) not relevant by way of subsection 21(3) not being relevant

Again, section 21 relates to personal privacy and the reference to an unjustified invasion of personal privacy does not exist herein. There is no personal privacy of another individual to commence with in any event. Subsection 21(4) need not even be entertained at this point as the subsections are not relevant per se but neither was ss. 21(3).

Therefore, it is unequivocal that subsection 22(1)(a) and (b) are exceptions to section 21 of FIPPA if section 21 of FIPPA was even relevant per se. I say respectfully it is not. However, to be complete, I made a request and upon the request, I am entitled to the information including personal information about myself. Therefore, subsection 21(a) is a full answer to the above point with thanks from Ms. Piradaski.

Subsection 22(1)(b) is also an independent and disjunctive full answer to the reference to section 21(1) of FIPPA because I have detailed convincing reasons as to why my health and security are affected by the same.

If I end up maimed, hurt, stalked, and/or injured as a result of someone following me and/or a friend of mine, who may not be on his or her medication, acting irrationally, then the non-provision of the information puts my life at continued risk. It puts the security of my information at continued risk. I am entitled to protection from a health or security standpoint. I have provided the example of my friend "Dennis" but his irrational behavior on Thursday, October 24, 2024, which was distinct from Wednesday, October 23, 2024. I am a medicated individual myself albeit different medications from him. However, I saw a side of him I had never seen before. It does not make him a person that I need to report or sue. To the contrary, he simply needs to be on his program and have the support of his friends and loved ones. To the same extent, if it was him, and he is going through a "rough patch" where I cannot be of assistance and it is only trained medical professionals, then it is important for me to know the same so I can keep a healthy distance and be pre-emptive.

I also add that with the vast amounts of my SPI contained therein in the form of physical documents, that are not password protected, someone could be impersonating me as we speak. As such, I have set the Monday deadline in the spirit of the same. If the head of CAMH is unaware, I will extend that courtesy to you to provide me with the same by Monday. But after that, I have to involve the head of CAMH because I cannot wait that period of time you suggest potentially (appreciating it may be less) and/or to have a redaction of the individual(s). This does nothing to protect me at all and we must consider safety, health and security.

It is not to overstep anyone or make things difficult but at times, I have to consider the urgency of the same. I trust you can take notice of how patient I have been. I found it somewhat rude and offensive that various security guards (not all) on the weekend of October 26 to 27, 2024, would speak to me in a fashion of "Didn't I tell you to come back Monday?" I appreciate that people can have a tone about them that is not particularly collegial and that is quite alright. However, when an individual is dealing with an urgent issue absent medication that is required daily, one would think that there would have been the pretense of caring. That being said, all other security personnel I spoke with were very accommodating and caring, and we had constructive dialogue.

Even my conversations with the security guards in Christian and his associate (unknown name) on Friday must be taken into consideration. Christian even thanked me for not making any accusations.

I was directed to Mr. Behrooz by email. I hurried to send a public email after my doctor's office could not allow me to send from their authorized computers. I sent the email with a friend copied on the same for accessibility, efficiency and communication purposes. I attended Mr. Behrooz's office on Friday at 5:30 p.m. after not receiving any response and he was rather, in my view, "stand offish", "nonchalant" and "unconcerned". I asked if he could check his spam folder, he did and saw nothing there. There was no bounce back on my side.

He then informed me that I should not even be emailing him. In my view, I hope this is a teachable moment for CAMH (all divisions but particularly security and privacy) that when an individual is in need, particularly a medicated individual who has had medication moved without consent, that there is a level of concern, attention and care. Simply put, Mr. Behrooz can learn from the professionalism and tone that emanates from your department and that of Mr. Angel (in person).

I attended the CAMH (Security Services) and had most constructive dialogue with Mr. Angel and the security individuals therein. Mr. Angel, in my view, is a class act in that regard. We had intelligent discussion mixed with some much needed humour from him and I.

The issue from a security standpoint that I wish to draw to your attention, as this is confidential and hopefully a learning experience for all, is that there is such a disconnect between the previous security on each day and night before. When an individual in my shoes has been told to come back in a few hours and they should have an update and none is provided that is one thing. It is quite another when the security represents to me that they do not know, nothing is here, and cannot tell you.

I do appreciate that an individual was stabbed inside 100 Stokes on Friday evening. Of course, that level of health and security concern trumps mine. I waited for five hours in the cold to see when I could enter. When all of the police, ambulance and fire trucks had left, I could not enter. I cannot gripe with the same.

However, the female security guard (Saturday morning) who was very helpful and offered to text the previous night security guards. I informed her, out of compassion and empathy, for their sleep schedules having worked through the night to not do so. She did so anyway. However, she did not have any update for me at all after the same.

For circumstantial reasons, I must confirm for you that Mr. Angel on October 25, 2024, informed me to come back within an hour to an hour and a half. I informed him that I would come back in a few hours to give them time to review and consider any interests. He confirmed that he appreciated the same.

I came back in approximately three hours as I wished to make sure that I had not bombarded them and gave them time to digest the same. Obviously, the stabbing had occurred in 100 Stokes building.

However, one would reasonably expect that there would have been some type of internal document left for the next security guard employees regarding what had transpired. I had left my email and my friend (Paul Nash) to be contacted. No contact was made. Even an email that stated, "Dear Kevin, we have reviewed the footage and we require authorization from our superiors before anything can be released." I am hopeful that my experience can be a teachable moment, without any public backlash, (as none will come from me) for all involved.

I also appreciate that Mr. Behrooz may have a family and it was Friday afternoon or early evening. However, it was Christian (security guard) that directed me to him and then he effectively told me to never come to his office again.

You cannot put a price on your SPI, confidential documents, sentimental items et al. The LV wallet, with my initials, cost my grandmother some $1800. She bought it for me as a gift as a congratulations to a trial win that I had. She passed away at 93 years old on December 12, 2012. It is one of the things that reminds me of her every day. People lose wallets and keys all the time. I did not do that and I have been very fastidious and frankly obsessive over it for the last 12 years.

While that is but one factor, it is a factor that I note in providing me access on an expedient and forthwith basis.

I have taken the balance of this day to exclusively and diligently review your position. I appreciate that you are busy and in high-demand and may not have had all the facts. As such, I have provided this to you so I can ensure that I can protect myself from any future movement of my property in CAMH and in the surrounding areas. It must be noted that people come and go from CAMH to the likes of the Moffer coffee shop and surrounding establishments. While the focus is CAMH, there is a level of interconnectedness between CAMH and the local community.

I thank you for your consideration of the same and look forward to hearing from you positively or negatively on Monday by the end of the business day. I will now review the cited cases in the area and see if there are any highly persuasive or binding cases in the area. To the extent there are, I will add them herein. I will then append my correspondence to an affidavit (not yours) to confirm my convincing reasons for needing immediate access to the same.

My best regards to you,

/KAM

Thank you Ms. Pridaski for your response. I have just returned to a public computer. I will review the section you have referenced as I am not as familiar with FOIPPA (ON) as I am with FOIPPA (BC). In relation to FOIPPA (BC), I have a variety of successful decisions, orders, and/or review requests made involving public bodies. Some of the BC case law references the Ontario statute so I have some level of familiarity with the similarities in substance between the two. The case that comes to mind was one where then Deputy Commissioner McEvoy issued a decision involving Vancouver Island Health Authority and he provided a highly detailed and articulate "reasons for decision" wherein he distinguished between the two. From memory, there were some small nuances and differences between FIPPA (BC) and FIPPA (ON) but nothing of significance.

On first blush in relation to your citation of ss.21(1) of FIPPA (ON), I would say that an individual who takes another's property without consent could not claim an unjustified invasion of their privacy. In setting the reasonable expectation of privacy ("REOP"), it is unclear whether CAMH considers itself public or private and/or hybrid. Would you kindly provide that answer? Or does it vary based upon buildings?

I take your initial position that a face would be redacted but I will review the law in that regard and see if there are any similar situations.

I know from seeing the signs therein, there is a clear representation and notice that CCTV is on at all times. There are cameras throughout and some interspersed at every 15 or so feet. I do not see how any individual could take the position that their privacy is superior (in the sense of this request) when they are engaged in the non-consensual moving of my backpack. This would be a non-consensual act above my property, medication, computer, wallet, bank cards, credit cards, passports et al.

If the true issue herein is that the concern is that I would use said information to file a criminal complaint against said individual, I confirm yet again herein I will not. I know that in some of the BC cases the concerns in measuring an applicant's privacy against that of another individual is that it can affect one's safety, security or health. I can recall some cases in the context of criminality of a convicted individual and a victim. In those instances, you can obviously see why the victim is entitled to a level of privacy. However, in the sense I am the "victim" but not "playing the victim" per se.

To the extent, which is an issue I had canvassed with the CAMH (Security Services), that the individual is an "in patient" of CAMH, I thought that there may be some different privacy laws involved but I confirm the above position and that not being relevant.

The authors in this email are clearly more well-versed than I am so I will bring myself up to speed.

I will review the above and revert back when I can on your meeting request. However, I can assure you that I do not see much point in a meeting if the 30 days are going to be used. This is particularly the case when it is not easy for me to navigate at this time and I have no access to my own funds. I am having to be extra judicious in the monies I receive from others. I have had the most enjoyable (pardon the facetiousness) experience of being locked out of two bank accounts because I attempted to log in from computers unknown to said financial institution.

I sincerely hope that the subsection cited by you and the cited jurisprudence does not afford even an individual who makes the most innocent mistake in taking the property of another superior privacy rights to that of an individual who lost - in the modern technological world - effectively his life and ability to operate. However, we all know on this email chain that the law is not always common sense.

I do thank you for your response and wish you all a good weekend with you and yours.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Good afternoon Mr. McLean,

While we appreciate the urgency for you to receive the copy of the video we are not in the position to provide access to the video to you today.

We are processing your request and you will receive a written response from us no later than 30 days of the date of the receipt of your request.

Please note, if any individuals are captured on the video you are requesting access to, CAMH has an obligation to protect their privacy and in accordance with section 21(1) of Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), disclosure of such records would constitute an unjustified invasion of personal privacy. For that reason, CAMH would not be able to provide identity of any individuals and their image would be redacted from the video.

I would be happy to arrange a phone call or in person meeting sometime next week to discuss this matter further and answer any further questions you may have.

RESPECTFULLY URGENT

Good Afternoon CAMH (Privacy Division) (kind attention: Ms. Gregory and Ms. Coombe)

In light of the urgency above, I have also copied Ms. Noelle Coombe on this email (Ms.

Coombe, pleasure to meet you albeit in electronic fashion). I have to update two of my banking partners: one by six p.m. (as my contact will be in the office late) and the other on Monday as to whether they need to order new cards.

If you are able to provide me with the images by five p.m. today, I will know whether I know this person or not.

Apologies for any perceived overstepping of Ms. Gregory but she remains copied. Moreover, I have not had any substantive update from CAMH (Security Services) and they are being quite taciturn about "their findings". Once I receive an image(s) today, I will revert back to you by tonight as to whether I know or do not know the individual or perhaps individuals. I can then confirm whether I need to see a DVD (video) of the same. My sense is that I will not.

I will be away from a public computer for a few hours but will check back in the later afternoon.

Thank you for your assistance regarding the same and all that you do in the privacy sphere.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: Exclusively for the purposes of FOIPPA and assisting your department

Good Afternoon Ms. Gregory:

I hope you are well. I am kindly following up on the above due to the urgency of the situation so that I can determine what steps I need to take next in relation to my identification, bank cards, credit cards, etc.

It appears we are only going to be looking at a minute or so of video to determine when my backpack was "misplaced" or "moved".

Part 1: Potential individual – who took carriage of my backpack – a friend – former inpatient of CAMH – now outpatient or at least a regular at the CAMH pharmacy

In the interim, I have some thoughts that may assist with the identification of the individual. As I mentioned to CAMH, I have had some long standing relationships with some former patients of CAMH who are now outpatients. I mentioned one to Mr. Angel and his name is Dennis. I became acquainted with him in local coffee shops and accompanied while he gets his medication. The ironic part is that I had not seen for some time and then he reappeared at a local coffee shop (Tim Hortons), where we both had attended, on Wednesday, October 23, 2024. I chatted with him for about three hours and inquired as to his health et al. He then reappeared on Thursday, October 24, 2024, and he was very much not well. He was screaming inside the Moffer coffee shop which was uncharacteristic for him. He asked if I could buy him a coffee but I was already leaving. He got quite upset with me and the situation.

He also said to me that he was in a dire situation but I can explain more if needed.

As he is a friend, I do not want anything negative to happen to him but this seems to add up as he would know my backpack very well and perhaps he thought he was just holding it for a while and looking to access cash. He knows exactly what type of wallet I have, phone, and so on.

Mr. Angel informed me that he knows him well. Dennis had informed me that he lives on Tyndall [sp?] street"; specifically, 51 Tyndall Street in a "rooming house".

He has long hair, white beard, light blue eyes, and is now walking with a cane with a tripod. However, he is quite self-sufficient in his own way and carries bags with him where he goes.

I am not pointing the finger at him but provided some further facts to assist.

Part 2: My limited availability – thank you in advance for any assistance today – you may get my general auto-reply – but I will be able to check later in the day.

As an aside, I will not be in front of a public computer for very long as a friend from Etobicoke has been kind enough to let me stay with him while I get all of this sorted so I am leaving in reasonably short order.

Part 3: saving of your resources – even a photo sent via email – confidential – under FOIPPA – may solve this with ease

If you are able to even send me a still photo (black and white) at the time of the backpack taking, I will be able to identify if it is him or not. You would then not be saddled with the video component.

Part 4: my continued urgency – with thanks

In any event, if you can send me a photo as soon as possible which exclusively shows the individual who took my backpack, I can then determine steps I need to take today.

Lastly, I have to inform a variety of my contacts (professional) whether they should shift my cards from “locked” to “gone” so I would be most grateful if we could make some progress on this front. Of course, I do not care to know personal information about others and have pictures of others so even one shot of whomever had their hands on the bag from the long white table on the East side by the brown chair would allow me to revert back to my contacts.

Thank you kindly and I would be most grateful.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear Ms. Gregory:

I write to confirm that the hard copy of the access request was dropped off at 1:03 p.m. today in your office. It was in a white envelope with the address therein and to your attention. I will be away from my email for the remainder of the day as per not having my electronic devices.

In light of my disabilities and my current unfortunate status, I would be most grateful, considering the short period of time for the video, pictorial and other evidence (records), that you provide me, with thanks and appreciation in advance, a copy of the relevant records as soon as humanly possible.

Should any further funds be required, I would be most grateful to know in advance so I or an agent can attend.

In relation to any requested meetings, I believe it would be best for me to consider the same when you have the disclosure of records ready to be sent and delivered to me so such a meeting can be productive for both of us.

I thank you for your professionalism and promptness thus far, and I find it regrettable to even be communicating with an institution that is such a pillar in our community on this level. You have it in writing that I will continue to maintain all confidentiality of these processes and not disclose anything without notice, order or as required by me pursuant to law, without notice to you and/or your consent.

I will continue to work with the CAMH Security Services but I trust we agree (not binding per se) that time remains of the essence if I stand any chance of recovering these valuable and sentimental items to me. Prior to my departure as I have a long way to walk which is good in some respects for my disability (related to my MVA) but it is putting some strain on me, I have an email for the CAMH Security Services that I think may expedite matters. However, I will leave it at that so I err on the side of caution and not conflate issues and disclose anything from one side to the other at this point (but for herein where it is necessary or productive for the purposes of my access request) and not for the truth of the contents.

Of course, if the bag is returned to me, I will promptly let you know so you can spend your time on the valuable work you do.

Out of a pure abundance of caution, I confirm that the five dollars was delivered to Cheryl on Monday at approximately 4:32 p.m. on the 7th floor at the entry point of your offices therein. The five-dollar bill was slightly ripped as that is all a friend of mine had on him at the time. However, there was no issue with the legality of the tender. She was most kind and professional and I again extend my thanks to her.

Thank you. I bid you a wonderful and productive afternoon along with a safe and a secure one.

Warm regards,

Good Morning Ms. Gregory,

Thanks for the email.

The five dollars has already been paid so that is taken care of. Please see above email as per my reference to Cheryl. It was paid in cash (five dollar bill).

I am a little bit outside of the downtown core now as per my situation. However, I will take from your email that it has to be delivered in person. I will likely have to ensure an agent delivers the same today. I will let you know when I get more settled for purposes of a meeting. From that standpoint, it is a matter of going to some of the home banking branches which are not close to CAMH.

I will have the form component submitted today and it will remain the same. I will presume the form is done correctly but simply needs to be delivered in person.

Thanks so much!

Warm regards,

Hello Kevin,

Just following up on my previous email. We received the $5.00 fee you dropped off at the Health Records Department, but unfortunately we cannot process the request until you submit the official form and a copy of a government issues photo ID. If printing the form is the issue, we are happy to provide you with one if you stop by the Health Records Department again. In fact, I think it would be beneficial for my colleague and I to meet with you to have a quick chat. We can provide any guidance on the Access Request process, as well as understand your situation a bit better. Please let me know if you're open to this.

Hello Kevin,

I can appreciate the seriousness of your missing backpack and how critical it is that you find it along with the contents inside.

Unfortunately we cannot accept your email as a formal request. We require the official Access Request form to be submitted in order to process the request. If you are coming in person to provide the $5.00 fee, we can provide you with a hard copy of the form for you to fill out while on site.

May I suggest booking an in person meeting with my colleague and I? We can discuss the details about your request further. We can make some time tomorrow or Wednesday. Would either of these days work for you?

Thanks so much Ms. Gregory for your promptness on all fronts. I appreciate the empathy as well.

To confirm, it contains my medication therein (which is Adderall XR at 40 mg a day which has been prescribed to me for now 7 years with the original prescription being from a psychiatrist) so it is not only the contents on a valuables front but that I am without medication for some three days now. The irony is a little overwhelming.

I will have the five dollars delivered by me or an agent to the 7th floor in reasonably short order.

In terms of the access request, if you would kindly rely on this email as I do not have my usual access to printing, I would be most grateful.

Obviously, if my bag and its contents are returned to me, this access request will be withdrawn. However, I appreciate that the five dollars is non-refundable. I also appreciate that once you commence with providing me with the personal information (and potentially personal health information if it is in the form of any documents involving my medication) that I am liable for said amounts. I take no issues with that as well.

I will confirm by reply by email as I traverse back and forth between CAMH and public computers.

I thank you in advance for your assistance and preserving the video evidence.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Hi Kevin,

I am sorry to hear about the loss of your backpack. I am glad that you are working with CAMH Security in resolving this matter and I hope that the issue will be resolved soon.

If the issue is not resolved in the next few days, and you still require access to the video footage, please complete the attached form and be very specific with the date, time and location of the video footage you are requesting access to. Please note that video recordings are retained for 30 days after which they are automatically permanently deleted.

Please note that we will require a $5.00 administrative fee to accompany your request. This fee is mandatory and it is not refundable.

You may submit your request to our office by dropping it off in person at Health Records Department, 100 Stokes Street, 7th floor. You may email it to privacy@camh.ca or mail it to the attention of Information and Privacy Office, 100 Stokes Street, Toronto, ON M6J 1H4.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Dear CAMH
(privacy division):

I am making this access request out of an abundance of caution as I had a backpack of mine stolen or misplaced on Friday, October 25, 2024 at approximately 1:05 p.m. at 1025
Queen Street
West in the corridor there at the East side.

I am working with the various individuals in the security services of CAMH. I appreciate their efforts but contained with that backpack is effectively "my life" on some levels. I have my phone, laptop, wallet, identification, passport, medication, et al.

If I obtain the backpack and items contained therein by the end of the day, I will confirm the same and you can disregard my access request. However, in the interim, I confirm that the video footage from around 12:55 p.m. to 1:20 p.m. in that area (which I have been in terms of the camera angles) must be retained.

I note the five dollar application fee and ironically that is to be delivered to 100 Stokes avenue. I am hopeful that I hear back from those persons at CAMH Security Services (Mr. Behrooz, Mr. Angel, et al). I came back on Friday night to inquire about an update but there was that unfortunate stabbing in the very building.

Thank you kindly for your attention to this matter.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean

BORROW A LAPTOP SERVICE – IN-BRANCH EQUIPMENT LOAN AGREEMENT

Date: Oct 12 2014 Branch: _____

I, Karin McLean, (please print) understand that by borrowing, or allowing my child to borrow equipment from the Toronto Public Library (the "Equipment"), I am responsible for the Equipment and all its components. I agree to abide by all Toronto Public Library policies applicable to the Equipment loan. I understand that if I am signing this Equipment Loan Agreement for my child, I am responsible for ensuring that my child abides by all Toronto Public Library policies.

Please initial in the space provided after reading each point and then sign at the bottom.

NOTE: Borrowers under the age of 18, this Equipment Loan Agreement must be signed by a parent/legal guardian.

BORROWING AND USE

KM I understand that the Equipment is not to be removed from the Library or, where specified by staff, to be used within specific stated locations within the Library branch.

KM I understand that the Equipment is available for checkout for a maximum loan period of TWO hours per day, which may be renewed if there is no one waiting for the Equipment. Staff can request a laptop be returned at any time.

KM I understand that all Equipment must be returned to the service desk where it was borrowed.

SECURITY

KM I understand that I am completely responsible for the safety and use of the equipment while it is loaned to me. I am responsible for any damage or loss to the Equipment that results from accident, theft, misuse or neglect. I will not leave the Equipment unattended and I will use the Equipment in a responsible manner.

KM I will ensure that the Equipment is not tampered with in any way (hardware or software). I am responsible for ensuring that any work I wish to preserve will be saved onto my own external memory source. I will not load any personal software on to the Equipment (where applicable). I understand that no user files will be retained on the Equipment (where applicable).

FINES AND FEES

KM I agree to return the Equipment in the same condition as it was borrowed, and to reimburse the Library for any and all costs associated with damage to the Equipment. I agree to pay any replacement costs should the Equipment be lost or stolen. I have reviewed and understand the replacement costs outlined in Schedule "A" to this Equipment Loan Agreement.

By signing this Equipment Loan Agreement, I acknowledge that I am legally bound to adhere to all parts of it.

Refusal to follow these terms of use will result in laptop lending privileges being revoked.

Dear Mr. McLean,

Please stop remailing Mr. Rudra or any of the other Crowns directly. You can communicate with the office by contacting the Virtual Crown Mailbox at the address you've been using southtorontocrown@ontario.ca, and referring to our file number - SCOPE #1725027.

Any future correspondence to individual Crowns will be deleted and not responded to.

Thank you,

Dear South Toronto Crown: I am entitled to discuss matters and make requests of the assigned Crown in Mr. Rudra. He has been responsive before and I am entitled to have a point of contact. I did include the two Deputy Crowns of the South Toronto area. I am entitled to make follow up requests for disclosure of Mr. Rudra as his name was provided to me. I am also required to serve the assigned Crown with documents so I cannot agree with your position unless you cite law to the contrary. That being said, I am content to remove the two Deputy Crowns. I will await to see if you have any law that disentitles me from communicating with the assigned Crown. I thank you for your email.

Re: kind request – if any of my property was delivered to PEMU on or after October 25, 2024

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

1. I am writing on a precautionary basis and to ascertain whether your property bureau or PEMU received any property of mine on or after October 25, 2024, involving my backpack with various items therein including a laptop, electronic devices, wallet, identification, passport et al were received at your office at first instance or by redirection. The noted property was unfortunately moved without my authorization from CAHM (1025 Queen Street, Toronto) and I have not had access to it since. Some of the property therein including bank cards and library cards were used thereafter so it may be that only some of the property was received at your TPS property bureau. I inquire regarding the same as I had some property once delivered to the TPS 14th Division and it informed me that if I did not pick up the same within a certain time period, it would be sent out to your PEMU.
2. The name is Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean and date of birth is March 25, 1983. While I do not have physical picture identification, I will provide some copies of the same to confirm my identity for security purposes but exclusively for the same. I will do it by separate email.
3. Thank you kindly.

Sincerely

As promised, kindly find my identification attached in electronic copy form so you can cross-reference in the event some or all of the property was received. Kindly note that the passport and drivers licence will be identical if it was delivered to your office by any person. I remain available to discuss any of the particulars of the property. If you do have it, it will be an incredible relief and I can arrange for its pickup. Thank you.

Dear PEMU and Mr. Da Silva:

1. I confirm that I heard back, while emailing above, from the 14th Division and have one of their constables looking into it as well from a log standpoint and potential temporary locker standpoint. However, to respect collective time, I confirmed with the constable, with thanks, that I would alert him if I heard positively or negatively as to whether PEMU had received some or all of the items particularized above.
2. I appreciate your busyness and high demands so I await to hear from you at your earliest convenience or opportunity.

Good morning Kevin,

We have checked our inventory system and have no record of ever receiving any of the below mentioned items (or any other items) associated to yourself. We've also queried your name using the temporary locker system that property would be lodged in at all Toronto Police divisions, and no luck returning any records.

Reading your initial email below, it notes these items were moved from CAMH. Was there any record at CAMH, or a person of contact with that facility, that could perhaps provide more information for yourself? For example – were the items within their custody and turned over to the Toronto Police Service? If so, is there any record or notation on their end of who they would have turned the property over to – a badge number or officer name?

But unfortunately, no items were turned over to our Unit for managing associated with yourself.

Take care,

Abe

Thanks so much Mr. Da Silva. I could not be more impressed with your promptness as it is greatly appreciated.

It has been quite the ordeal and an unfortunate one as I was attending CAMH for a friend in need of some support. For clarity, I was not and am not a patient per se but was in the visitor area when I had that backpack and property moved without my knowledge and attendance. It was a couple of months and more trying to get some of the images going through the red tape.

CAMH never informed me that it had the same in its custody or control, and unequivocally represented that the individual who took it left through the main exit with that backpack. CAMH confirmed it was not police related and it had never seen the individual before and he (it confirmed that) was not authorized by CAMH. As you can imagine, I was then into the OIPC appeal processes. However, I did not want to waste the police's time with this type of police complaint as I appreciate its resources are finite and valuable. However, it was suggested to me that I try the "practical route" and it was perhaps dropped off some time thereafter or recently.

I believe that covers everything but I will see if I missed anything. However, from an urgent standpoint, that appears to answer it so I thank you sincerely for your time and my best to you on your more pressing and important matters.

All the best.

Dear Mr. McLean,

This email serves as an official police caution in relation to Case #25-1043040.

You are hereby directed to immediately cease all forms of communication with Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Direct contact via phone, email, text, or social media
- Indirect contact through third parties
- Including Mr. Papadimitropoulos in CC or BCC fields of any email correspondence
- Any repetitive or unwanted communication

Please be advised that any further contact or attempts to communicate—whether direct or indirect—may result in criminal charges for Criminal Harassment under the Criminal Code of Canada.

This caution is being issued to provide you with clear notice of the legal boundaries in place. You are expected to comply fully and without exception.

Part I: Preamble and Affirmation of Principles

Acknowledgment and Intent

1. Formal acknowledgment is hereby rendered in reference to the electronic correspondence received from the addressee and dated August 23, 2025. The contents of said correspondence were not amenable to perusal until August 24, 2025, on account of extant electronic filtering protocols; any delay in this response is a consequence thereof, for which due apologies are extended. This is SOLELY to respond to your email.
2. I have incorporated seminal aspects from filings with courts and regulatory bodies to demonstrate the nature of my lawful authority and lawful obligations in serving him by “to” or “cc”.

3. I will be as comprehensive as possible to ensure your resources are not wasted and you are acutely aware of facts.
4. A profound commitment to resolution-oriented discourse and an unwavering deference to the principles of lawful authority and cooperation is hereby affirmed from the outset of this communication. It is in this spirit that a constructive dialogue, predicated upon the attainment of a just and efficient resolution, is deemed desirable. The objective of this missive is the provision of a comprehensive and detailed account concerning the legal and factual context of the communications at issue, thereby precluding any future misinterpretation and preventing the inefficacious allocation of prosecutorial and judicial resources. It is submitted that the pursuit of criminal sanctions in the absence of a demonstrable offense represents a grave misallocation of public funds and law enforcement personnel, thereby undermining the very purpose of a functioning legal system and serving as a detriment to the public interest.

Confirmation of Record

3. The undersigned hereby confirms, and for the record, does hereby repeat, rely upon, and adopt by reference all prior communications, including but not limited to electronic correspondence, legal filings, and sworn affidavits, which pertain to the material facts and applicable law concerning this matter. This strategic repetition is a mechanism to ensure the integrity and continuity of the legal record, affirming that all positions and facts previously asserted remain valid and applicable. Furthermore, all definitions set forth in said prior communications are hereby adopted where they remain apposite and applicable, thereby eliminating any ambiguity and ensuring consistency in terminology. This communication is transmitted on grounds of lawful authority and in fulfillment of the duties of a litigant who is compelled to address matters of fact and law with precision and clarity.

Part II: Contextual Clarification and Legal Boundaries

The Factual and Legal Position

4. With the utmost deference, and without intention of animadversion, the contents of the aforementioned electronic correspondence have been received with considerable cognitive disquietude. The underlying premise of said correspondence is regarded as legally and factually untenable, particularly in relation to the documented history of theft, fraud, impersonation, and other criminal conduct perpetrated by Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos against the undersigned, which is a matter of public record in various judicial and regulatory fora. The proposition that communications necessitated by this individual's egregious and tortious conduct could be misconstrued as being of a criminal character is a paradoxical proposition that contravenes fundamental legal principles.

5. It is to be made pellucid that the possession of Mr. Papadimitropoulos' telephone number has never been an actuality, nor has there ever been an engagement in text or social media-based communications with him. Any and all interactions that have transpired have been necessitated by his involvement in the aforementioned fraudulent activities, which have resulted in considerable harm and prejudice, and have been conducted exclusively in the capacity of legal proceedings, pursuant to a lawful authority and purpose. The characterization of these compelled interactions as "unwanted" is a subjective assertion that is wholly superseded by the objective legal and procedural requirements under which they were initiated.
6. There exist extant and material legal proceedings involving Mr. Papadimitropoulos and matters of fraud, including but not limited to proceedings before the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada, various courts of competent jurisdiction, and regulatory and criminal bodies. These proceedings have imposed upon the undersigned a specific and binding duty to effect service of various documents upon him. This duty arises from the orderly administration of justice and is an essential component of due process. Therefore, while said communications may be construed by him as "unwanted," their lawful purpose and legal necessity render such a characterization of no consequence. A validation of this principle is prepared to be sought by way of judicial and regulatory directions should the need arise. The fact that this matter is subject to the review of multiple authoritative bodies underscores its gravity and the legal compulsion that mandates these communications.

Part III: Deconstruction of the Statutory Provisions and Application of Judicial Principles

The Statutory Framework of Criminal Harassment

7. In consideration of the expressed reference to the existence of "legal boundaries," a deconstruction and elucidation of the relevant legal principles are deemed requisite. It is submitted that the electronic correspondence received cannot, per se, supersede the express language enacted by Parliament within the Criminal Code of Canada, nor can it nullify lawful authority and duties to serve legal documentation. For example, motions and submissions are in the process of being finalized to seek interim relief for the purpose of re-obtaining property that Mr. Papadimitropoulos played a role in stealing through facilitation and subsequent impersonation.
8. The Criminal Code, in its infinite wisdom, requires that any communication to be deemed criminal harassment must fall within a very precise legal test. It is a prerequisite that a primary consideration be given to the precise wording of the provisions at issue:
 - Section 264(1) of the Criminal Code reads as follows:
 "No person shall, without lawful authority and knowing that another person is harassed or recklessly as to whether the other person is harassed, engage in conduct referred to in subsection (2) that causes that other person reasonably, in all the circumstances, to fear for their safety or the safety of anyone known to them."
 - Section 264(2)(b) of the Criminal Code reads as follows:
 "The conduct mentioned in subsection (1) consists of... repeatedly communicating with, either directly or indirectly, the other person or anyone known to them;"

9. It is affirmed that no conduct of the undersigned falls within those boundaries, save and except for any communications that may have been generated by an individual impersonating the undersigned.

Application of Jurisprudence

10. The fundamental legal test for an offence under section 264 is comprised of a plurality of distinct and cumulative elements, the proof of each of which is a precondition for conviction beyond a reasonable doubt. The deconstruction of these elements, as articulated by the Ontario Court of Appeal in R. v. Kosikar, 1999 CanLII 3775 (ON CA), and subsequent jurisprudence, demonstrates the high threshold for a successful prosecution. The absence of a single element is dispositive of the entire matter, as the prosecution bears the onerous burden of proving each one beyond a reasonable doubt.
11. Firstly, the element of “without lawful authority” is a critical component of the statutory offence. The communications in question have been conducted exclusively for a lawful purpose—namely, the service of legal documents in extant proceedings—and are, therefore, a product of lawful authority. The Interpretation Act dictates that “lawful” and “authority” are to be given their plain and ordinary meaning, signifying a condition “in harmony with the law” and a “moral or legal right” to act. This lawful authority is not merely a defence; it is a fundamental prerequisite of the offence itself. The principle of nullum crimen sine lege dictates that the prosecution must establish every element of the offence, and here, the foundational element is inapposite. As such, ab initio, the first element of the offence cannot be established, thereby rendering the remainder of the analysis largely academic. It is a logical syllogism that where a litigant is duty-bound to serve an opposing party, that act cannot, by its very nature, constitute an unlawful act of harassment. This is a matter of profound legal consequence, as a contrary interpretation would effectively dismantle the mechanisms of legal service and impede the orderly administration of justice.
12. Secondly, the mens rea (the mental element) of the offence requires proof that the accused either “knew” that the complainant was harassed or was “reckless or wilfully blind” as to whether the complainant was harassed. It is an established principle that one who has lawful authority to act cannot, by definition, be reckless as to whether their actions would be deemed unlawful or harassing. Recklessness, as a mental state, implies an awareness of a danger that one's conduct could bring about a prohibited result, yet one persists despite that risk. When the conduct is mandated by a pre-existing legal duty, the purpose of said communications is not harassment, but rather the fulfillment of a legal obligation. To assert that a lawful act could simultaneously be reckless as to its lawfulness is a logical contradiction, a cognitive dissonance that cannot be reconciled within the framework of criminal law.
13. Thirdly, the element of “repeated communications” is not a mere numerical test. As jurisprudence has established in cases such as R. v. Lafreniere, 1994 O.J. No. 437, and R. v. Obenhen, 2005 CanLII 34564 (ON CA), the term “repeatedly” is a factual determination and must be equated with “persistently.” In the context of a legal duty to effect service, communications are not persistent in a manner that would be deemed fear-inducing, but rather are limited in scope and purpose to the requirements of the law. They are sent out of necessity, not for the purpose of personal torment. Furthermore, as Justice Doherty of the Ontario Court of Appeal noted in R. v.

McDougall, "conduct, which is mean, petty, uncooperative and spiteful is not the stuff of the criminal law." The alleged spitefulness of a litigant cannot, by itself, elevate a lawful action to a criminal offence. The purpose of section 264(2)(b) is to prevent persistent, unwanted contact that instills fear, not to impede the orderly administration of justice. The very nature of legal proceedings dictates that communications will be sent to the opposing party, and to classify such necessary interactions as "unwanted" in the criminal sense would be to subvert the entire legal process.

14. Fourthly, the offence requires that the conduct causes the complainant to "fear for their safety." This is a rigorous objective standard that necessitates a "state of anxiety or apprehension concerning the risk of substantial psychological harm or emotional distress," as per R. v. Szostak, 2012 ONCA 503 (CanLII). It is abundantly clear from all available evidence that said communications—which are solely related to legal proceedings and the return of stolen property—do not, in any manner, give rise to a reasonable fear for safety. A mere fear for one's "financial well-being" is patently insufficient, as held in R. v. Lincoln, 2008 ONCJ 14 (CanLII). It is also important to note that the fear must be reasonable in all the circumstances. Where the communications are manifestly lawful and are confined to the subject matter of legal proceedings, it is an untenable legal position to suggest that a reasonable person would fear for their safety as a result.
15. Finally, the element of "harassed" requires a "sense of being subject to ongoing torment," as defined in R v Kosikar, supra. Harassment is unequivocally more than simply being "vexed, disquieted or annoyed." Given the established purpose of the communications, the legal standard for harassment is not met. A person who is served with legal documents may find the experience unpleasant or stressful, but this does not rise to the level of "torment" as a matter of law.
16. As such, there is no reasonable fear for his safety by being served with documents in civil proceedings and becoming aware of regulatory proceedings against him.
17. I am entitled to exercise my rights in relation to theft of my property, identity, et al.
18. Some of the seminal events were (as known to me):
 - a. October 25, 2024 (The TDI Karat Theft – A Clear Fraud Event):
 - i. Mr. Karat is alleged to have committed the theft at CAMH. Security camera footage (Unredacted Images from CAMH video surveillance, October 25, 2024, 1:11:53 to 1:12:39 P.M. EDT, see: Appendix #2) unequivocally shows a male individual, strikingly similar in appearance to Mr. David Karat (as seen in his LinkedIn profile, see: Appendix #3) arriving directly at my table, inspecting my luggage, and then stealing the McLean Backpack. This theft occurred on a Friday, a day Mr. Karat was routinely out of the office, as indicated by his auto-replies;
 - ii. Legal Application (Criminal Code & Fraud Reporting Service Rule): This act falls squarely under Section 322 of the Criminal Code (Theft), as Mr. Karat "fraudulently and without colour of right takes" my property with the "intent to deprive" me of it. The visual evidence of him inspecting my bag and then taking the backpack constitutes the actus reus (guilty act), and his subsequent flight and use of the contents demonstrates the mens rea (guilty mind) to deprive;
 - iii. Crucially, this event also constitutes a "Fraud Event" as defined by the FSRA Fraud Reporting Service Rule, Section 1(1)(e), which explicitly includes "fraudulent activity committed by internal employees of an insurer." The TDIA Group, having Mr. Karat as an employee and becoming aware of this incident, acquired "reasonable grounds to believe" that a fraud event occurred, triggering their mandatory reporting obligation.

b. October 28, 2024 (Initial Impersonation at TPL – Identity Theft and Fraud):

i. Unbeknownst to me at the time, Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos engaged in fraudulent impersonation by entering into a borrowing agreement for equipment (including laptops) with the Toronto Public Library (TPL) Fort York branch (the "Fort York Branch"), using my stolen identification (the "TPL Fraud Borrowing Agreement", see: Appendix #4). This occurred just three days after the theft. Mr. Papadimitropoulos also made unauthorized withdrawals of two books from the Fort York Branch that evening:

1. Legal Application (Criminal Code & UDAP Rule): This directly triggers Section 402.2 of the Criminal Code (Identity Theft), as Mr. Papadimitropoulos "obtains or possesses another person's identity information with intent to use it to commit an indictable offence that includes fraud, deceit or falsehood." The use of my stolen identification for these purposes fulfills both the act and the specific intent;

2. Furthermore, this action constitutes Section 403 of the Criminal Code (Identity Fraud / Personation). By "fraudulently personating another person" (me) and using my identity information to "gain advantage" (obtain equipment and books), he meets the elements of this offense. The TPL Fraud Borrowing Agreement itself is evidence of this fraudulent personation, binding me to a contract without my authorization or consent and rendering me liable;

3. These acts also constitute a clear Unfair or Deceptive Act or Practice (UDAP) by the TDIA Group through their employee. The impersonation was an act of "deceit" and "falsehood" designed to mislead the TPL and ultimately inflict harm upon me as a policyholder. The very nature of this fraudulent impersonation is contrary to the fair dealing and ethical conduct expected of an insurer's representative, even if occurring outside a direct claims interaction, as it leverages information obtained through a crime linked to a TDIA employee.

c. November 8, 2024 (Resumption of Fraud – Ongoing Identity Fraud):

i. Unknown individuals or persons engaged in the fraudulent use of my TPL library card and identity to reserve free passes to the Aga Khan Museum for November 9, 2024. I received notification of unauthorized activity on my TPL card on November 8, 2024, but the library was closed. This coincides with Mr. Karat's auto-reply stating he would be out of office from November 8 to November 18, 2024, suggesting continued involvement or facilitation;

ii. Legal Application (Criminal Code & UDAP Rule): This event further solidifies the pattern of ongoing Identity Fraud (Section 403) and potentially General Fraud (Section 380), demonstrating a continued "deceit, falsehood or other fraudulent means" to obtain advantage. The fact that the library card itself was stolen underscores the predicate nature of the initial theft.

iii. The repetition of such fraudulent acts, leveraging stolen identity, perpetuates a deceptive scheme. The TDIA Group's knowledge of these occurrences, through its employees, and its failure to intervene or report, implicates it under the UDAP Rule, as it allowed deceptive practices using information traced back to an internal employee's alleged criminal act to continue

iv. Correlation with Legal Proceedings (LAT and Divisional Court) – Evidence of Malicious Intent and Obstruction:

1. The timing of these fraudulent acts is notably coincidental with my ongoing legal actions against the TDIA Group, indicating a pattern of retaliatory or obstructive behavior:

a. October 16-24, 2024: I notified SNIC, TDGIC, and TDHA of my intent to file a statutory appeal or judicial review of a reconsideration decision in the LAT Proceeding. The TDI Karat Theft (October 25, 2024) and subsequent fraudulent impersonations began immediately following this notification.

b. November 7, 2024: Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia Dunk (his spouse) reportedly agreed to purchase a $950,000 property (the “Fleetwood Drive Home”) without listing their current residence (the “Former Karat Dunk Residence”). This financial maneuver by an individual involved in an alleged theft and fraudulent activity raises questions about the source of funds or undue influence.

c. November 15, 2024: I filed and served my Judicial Review Application (JRPA) with the Divisional Court of the ONSC on the Respondent Insurance Companies. On the same day or November 16, 2024, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk listed their Former Karat Dunk Residence for sale, creating a suspiciously narrow window between property acquisition and listing.

d. December 13, 2024 (Escalated Fraud – Direct Response to Legal Action): Approximately two hours after I filed and served my Certification of Perfection with the Divisional Court, an individual attended the TPL Reference Library at 789 Yonge Street, Toronto, and obtained a new library card by falsely reporting my previous card as lost (see TPL Unauthorized Chart attached at Appendix #5). The TPL confirmed that this individual used my stolen driver's license. This act was directly triggered by the knowledge of my legal filing, demonstrating a clear attempt to further impede me or inflict hardship. During this instance of fraud, my phone number associated with the new library card was inexplicably changed to that of a CBC investigative journalist, Mrs. Valerie Oulette, suggesting a sophisticated and targeted attempt to misdirect or further harass;

e. Ongoing Fraud (December 2024 - January 2025): Further fraudulent activities connected to the TDIA Group occurred on December 21 and December 28, 2024, and continued until the end of January 2025, culminating in the renewal of approximately 34 books in my name with the TPL (see TPL Unauthorized Chart Activity, attached at Appendix #6). The cumulative nature of these acts highlights a persistent and deliberate campaign of fraud;

f. Legal Application (Criminal Code & UDAP Rule): This intricate timing and coordination suggest a possible conspiracy to commit indictable offenses and/or obstruction of justice (Criminal Code, Section 139) by impeding my ability to pursue legal remedies. The sequence demonstrates a planned, multi-stage criminal enterprise, moving beyond isolated acts of fraud. Such actions, clearly intended to interfere with a policyholder's ability to pursue legal recourse and causing severe personal and financial distress, are fundamentally unfair and deceptive practices under the UDAP Rule. They represent an abuse of power and influence by individuals directly linked to the insurance company against an insured, undermining the very premise of fair claims handling and consumer protection;

g. Property Transaction Anomalies – Further Suspicion of Illicit Gains:

The sale of the Former Karat Dunk Residence by Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk to Ms. Dorothy During-Gibbs and Mr. Michael Gibbs (both reportedly employed at CAMH), with a 1% tenant-in-common interest to Mr. Peter Gibbs, raises additional concerns, given the preceding theft at CAMH and Mr. Karat's alleged involvement. This transaction, occurring shortly after the alleged fraudulent activities commenced, strongly suggests potential undisclosed arrangements or a bribe, warranting further investigation into potential illicit financial gains.

h. The alleged actions by Mr. Karat and Mr. Papadimitropoulos constitute "Fraud Events" as defined by Rule 2024-003, Section 1(1)(e), which explicitly includes "fraudulent activity committed by internal employees of an insurer." The Rule mandates that insurers report all relevant information in their possession, control, or power that provides "reasonable grounds to believe" that a fraud event has occurred. Such reporting is required within 45 days after the close of each calendar quarter.

19. The TDIA Group's egregious failure to report these incidents to the FSRA constitutes a serious and ongoing contravention of the Rule, specifically Section 3(1), which defines "prescribed information" to include "all relevant information... where the information provides reasonable grounds for the insurer to believe that a fraud event has occurred," and Section 4(1) and (2), requiring completeness, accuracy, and timely updates. The continuous nature of the fraudulent acts from October 25, 2024, to January 2025 provides ample, indeed overwhelming, "reasonable grounds to believe" that Fraud Events occurred.
20. The Supreme Court of Canada's distinction between "reasonable grounds to believe" (RGB) and "reasonable belief" is paramount here. The "reasonable grounds to believe" standard (RGB), as articulated in cases like R. v. Kang-Brown and R. v. Mackenzie, demands a "credibly-based probability" that a fraud event has occurred, distinctly higher than mere suspicion. The sheer volume and specificity of the evidence presented in this letter—including the unredacted CAMH video images, the direct links between the individuals and TDIA Group, the chronological correlation of events with my legal proceedings, and the repeated fraudulent use of my stolen identification—provides more than sufficient objective and subjective grounds for the TDIA Group to have believed that Fraud Events occurred.
21. Furthermore, the TDIA Group's prior submission during the FSRA Rule Consultation Stage (dated October 15, 2024), where they, through Mr. Papadimitropoulos, argued that "only fraud events where there is confirmed evidence of fraud be reported," is highly illuminating. This stated position directly conflicts with the Rule's lower, yet robust, threshold of "reasonable grounds to believe." This is not a mere "misunderstanding" but rather strongly suggests a deliberate attempt to advocate for a reporting standard that would allow them to avoid reporting internal fraudulent activities, precisely like those alleged here. Their subsequent failure to report, despite compelling evidence emerging (particularly post-unredaction of CAMH images), points to a calculated evasion of their regulatory duties. This calculated non-compliance directly undermines the spirit and intent of the Fraud Reporting Service Rule, which seeks to enhance transparency and combat fraud within the industry.

22. It is a conclusion both demonstrable and self-evident that the circumstances presented are inapposite to the essential elements of the crime of criminal harassment, as those elements are articulated by Parliament and have been judicially interpreted by the superior courts of this jurisdiction.
23. In the spirit of continued cooperation and a joint commitment to problem-solving, further directions shall be sought from the various regulatory bodies and courts where these matters are sub judice, and the position shall be confirmed on the record. This proactive measure is intended to ensure that neither party runs afoul of the law or engages in an inefficient expenditure of resources. It is a fundamental truth that iustitia non est gratuita, and therefore, resources must be utilized with the utmost efficiency to ensure the administration of justice. The pursuit of criminal sanctions where the foundational elements of an offense are demonstrably absent represents a misuse of public funds and law enforcement personnel, thereby undermining the very purpose of a functioning legal system. Such an undertaking not only squanders limited resources but also risks trivializing the grave nature of a true criminal offense, thereby eroding the public's confidence in the integrity and impartiality of the justice system.
24. To confirm, the only communications, all on grounds of lawful authority were and remain from emails that I control which are and were: (i) mcleanettlement@gmail.com ; (ii) mrkeinalalexandermcleanbajdcim@gmail.com; and (iii) mcleansiclat@gmail.com . Any other communications are not from me or someone is impersonating me. I would be most glad to review them if there are any others and file a criminal complaint against those individual(s).
25. The alleged conduct of the TDIA Group, through its employees and, by extension, its leadership's inaction, constitutes multiple breaches of the UDAP Rule. While the specific text of Ontario's UDAP Rule for the insurance sector needs to be referenced by the FSRA, such rules generally prohibit conduct that is misleading, coercive, or otherwise unfair to consumers. The actions detailed herein are undeniably unfair and deceptive:
- Misappropriation of Personal Information: The theft of my PII and PHI by an internal employee (Mr. Karat) is an egregious and inherently unfair act that directly impacts my security and privacy as an insured person;
 - Fraudulent Impersonation and Liability: The subsequent use of my stolen identity by Mr. Papadimitropoulos to incur liabilities in my name (e.g., with the TPL) is a profoundly deceptive act. It actively misled a third party and created financial and reputational disadvantage for me, directly arising from a crime linked to the insurer's employees;
 - Obstruction and Retaliation: The timing of the fraudulent acts coinciding with my legal proceedings, coupled with the alleged attempts to control my information (changing phone number with TPL) and blocking my communications with TDIA leadership, suggests an attempt to obstruct justice or retaliate against a policyholder exercising their legal rights. Such conduct is patently unfair and coercive;
 - Failure to Act and Concealment: The TDIA Group's alleged inaction upon learning of these serious allegations, coupled with the blocking of communications from a complainant who provided evidence, can be seen as a form of concealment or at least an omission that allows unfair and deceptive practices to continue. An insurer has an implicit duty of good faith to its policyholders, and allowing its employees' alleged criminal acts to go unaddressed, especially when those acts leverage stolen personal data, is a severe breach of that duty.

26. The FSRA's mandate includes protecting the public interest and ensuring market conduct in the financial services sector. The alleged actions represent not only a direct harm to me but also a severe breach of trust and a potential systemic weakness in how the TDIA Group manages its employees and addresses fraudulent conduct. Failure to enforce compliance with the Fraud Reporting Service Rule and the UDAP Rule, especially concerning internal fraud, would undermine the very purpose of these crucial regulations and severely erode public confidence in the integrity of Ontario's automobile insurance market.
27. Mr. Papadimitropoulos was terminated by TDIA Group but is apparently employed, by public record, by TD Bank as of late January 2025 or early February 2025.
28. I will also alert you that I have become imbued with knowledge as of last week by the SCJ RMO (361 University Avenue) that Mr. Papadimitropoulos' former legal counsel, a judge of the SCJ for many years, was a presiding judicial official in an ex parte in camera hearing, telecommunication laid Form 2 Criminal Code Information. The self-evident irony is slightly overwhelming.
29. The initial theft of the backpack containing identification is not an isolated incident but a critical enabling act within a broader fraudulent scheme. The Criminal Code explicitly establishes this connection through several provisions. Section 402.2(1) (Identity Theft) directly targets the obtaining or possessing of identity information with intent to use it to commit an indictable offence that includes fraud, deceit or falsehood as an element of the offence. This provision is crucial because it criminalizes the preparatory step of acquiring identity information with the intent to defraud. This means that even if the thief were apprehended immediately after stealing the backpack but before committing any overt acts of impersonation or financial fraud, they could still be charged with identity theft, provided the intent to use the identification for fraudulent purposes could be proven. This provision specifically bridges the gap between a simple theft and the more complex identity-related fraud.
30. Furthermore, Section 402.2(3) clarifies that "an indictable offence referred to in either of those subsections includes an offence under any of the following sections:... (i) section 380 (fraud); and (j) section 403 (identity fraud)".⁶ This statutory provision is the direct legal link demonstrating why the theft, when committed with the subsequent intent to defraud, constitutes part of a broader fraudulent scheme. The theft of a credit card (Section 342) is also explicitly listed as an offense that identity theft can facilitate.
31. The perpetrator's actions in this scenario demonstrate a clear progression of intent: the intent to steal the backpack (theft) is immediately followed by, or co-exists with, the intent to use its contents for fraud (identity theft), which then manifests in the actual acts of impersonation and financial fraud (identity fraud, general fraud). This suggests a single, overarching criminal purpose, where each act facilitates the next in a planned sequence. This aligns with the concept of a "common design" ¹ or a planned series of acts, where the initial theft is an integral component of a larger criminal enterprise.

32. Identity theft (Section 402.2) is characterized as a "crime of possession plus intent". This is a crucial legal principle in understanding interconnectedness. The physical act of stealing the backpack provides the "possession" of the identity information. The critical element that transforms this possession into identity theft, and links it to the broader fraudulent scheme, is the perpetrator's intent to use that identity information for the purpose of committing an indictable offense involving fraud, deceit, or falsehood. This intent can be formed at the time of the theft or immediately thereafter. This means the theft is not an isolated incident, but rather the crucial initial step in a planned criminal enterprise to commit identity-related fraud. This legal framework allows for the prosecution of individuals who engage in the preparatory stages of identity-related crimes, even before the full extent of the fraud is realized. It reflects a legislative understanding of the modus operandi of identity fraudsters, where the unlawful acquisition of personal data is a foundational act that underpins the entire criminal process. This proactive approach aims to intervene earlier in the criminal chain, preventing further harm.

Final Affirmations and Confirmation of the law and the facts applicable to them

33. "Without lawful authority" is the first requirement and being duty bound to serve him by statutes, regulations, rules, common law and equity means that there cannot be any harassment at law under the Criminal Code. It can be confirmed that Mr. Papadimitropoulos did not, at any time, represent that service was unwanted. Had he done so, directions would have been immediately sought to ensure legal compliance, as a litigant's duties are paramount. The time and due consideration extended to this correspondence are acknowledged with sincere gratitude. It is trusted that this detailed response provides a comprehensive overview of the legal principles and factual context at issue, thereby clarifying the lawful nature of the communications and serving to alleviate any further concerns.
34. The Latin maxim of "ex turpi causa" is applicable herein in that Mr. Papadimitropoulos cannot rely on his own illegality for his benefit. In my view, his complaint is evidence of obstruction of justice, extortion and other criminal offences.
35. As always, my focus is always on the civil side of the ledger and re-obtaining my property and advancing my legal rights including his ties to judicial officials. However, that was proven last week by the SCJ 361 University Avenue (Recording Management Office).
36. My goal remains to be on good, professional and lawful terms with the TPS. I respect what you do for a living. It is more courageous than anything I have ever done but when it comes to legal analysis, statutory interpretation and 'open court litigation' and Charter litigation, my record is self-evidently unparalleled in the most beneficial sense of the word. I move with my brain and in the most lawful way and only utilize the above emails.
37. As such, in reference to your comments about indirect communications through third parties, which is unclear what you mean along with "legal boundaries" as those are set by Parliament, I will maintain that you are more than welcome to watch upcoming hearings in proceedings where he is necessarily implicated or explicitly at issue for his unlawful conduct.

38. I will be ready to speak truth to power in an “open court”. Mr. Papadimitropoulos remains able to respond to the sworn evidence in the court records of various courts. It is not his obligation to do so but if he fails to do so, I will rely on the adverse inference doctrine and the laws of evidence.
39. Mr. Papadimitropoulos’ record is more confined to falsely reporting females to the 14th Division after illegally entering their residence (at the time) and claiming to be scratched. He seems to have a pattern that when he is caught or known to have committed criminal conduct that he reports persons to the police. I will presume that narrows down the dates of when he was engaged in police reporting – indirectly or directly.
40. I had presumed he had a role in the misguided criminal harassment charge against me but, parenthetically, this is what should have happened the first time.
41. September 17, 2024, was when I filed an affidavit that demonstrated that Mr. Papadimitropoulos forged the signature of Ms. Nurse, an adjuster for Security National Insurance Company. The other facts, while somewhat murky due to a “False Information Package” filed with a transferee courthouse (OCJ: 10 Armoury Street), are somewhere around that date albeit originating from the SCJ either 361 University Avenue or a branch of the SCJ (Divisional Court). While I had suspected the same involving his tie to his family law firm, he may wish to be reminded that he also breached his contractual obligations to not indirectly contact me. I am a third party beneficiary to that agreement while never having seen it, I believe it to be true what I have represented. As such, that will be another potential claim against him in his personal capacity. Perhaps, he failed to mention the same to you.
42. I hope you appreciate that I have taken several hours to piece together a communication that demonstrates my appreciation of your services and time so we need not canvas it again with my continued assurances that I will continue to act on account of lawful authority and lawful obligation.
43. That being said, if you have some jurisprudence you wish for me to read that prohibits me from acting on grounds of lawful authority (or even more so lawful obligation), I welcome reading the same. If not, I will presume that I am correct. I have included you as a “safe sender” as of this morning.
44. I thank you again for your communications and I can assure you that I welcome open dialogue and an open court motion that puts both of these communications before a court and seeks a determination of what I am required to do as per statutes, regulations, practice directions, rules, rules of natural justice (interested persons have a right to be heard), common law, and equity.
45. I have not pointed the ‘proverbial finger’ at the TPS in this regard but with this knowledge and my spending of my Sunday morning dictating and penning the same, I trust you can appreciate that, with a careful reading of some of the material facts and the binding federal statutes, it is he that is the criminal and me that is the victim. That being said, my focus is on civil remedies which I will continue to seek in accordance with statutes like the Courts of Justice Act, Administration of Justice Act, Evidence Act and attendant regulations and rules.

46. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose and obligation.

47. Wishing you, the TPS and your division well!

Respectfully,

/KAM

Mr. Kevin McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Box (9)(b) You will pay interest on the Principal Amount at the following interest rate:

- the Bank's Prime Rate plus 10.00 % per annum. "Prime Rate" means the annual interest rate (calculated monthly not in advance) that the Bank sets and adjusts at its discretion as the reference interest rate the Bank will charge for customers in Canada for Canadian dollar loans. The current Prime Rate is available from the Bank's branch offices.

Box (9)(c) Interest at this interest rate is calculated and payable monthly, not in advance. You will continue to pay interest at this interest rate until all of the Debt has been paid. If any interest is overdue the Bank will calculate late interest every day at the above interest rate on the full amount that is overdue. You agree to pay this late interest. The Bank will add late interest to the Debt at the end of each month.

The applicant(s) hereby applies to the Land Registrar.

6. Other remarks and explanations, if necessary:
 1. The information prescribed for the purposes of section 5.0.1 of the Land Transfer Tax Act is required to be provided for this conveyance. The information has been provided as confirmed by A2804138.
 2. The transferee(s) has read and considered the definitions of "designated land", "foreign corporation", "foreign entity", "foreign national", "Greater Golden Horseshoe Region", "specified region", "spouse" and "taxable trustee" as set out in subsection 1(1) of the Land Transfer Tax Act and O. Reg 182/17. The transferee(s) declare that this conveyance is not subject to additional tax as set out in subsection 2(2.1) of the Act because:
 3. (c) The transferee(s) is not a "foreign entity" or a "taxable trustee".
 4. The transferee(s) declare that they will keep at their place of residence in Ontario (or at their principal place of business in Ontario) such documents, records and accounts in such form and containing such information as will enable an accurate determination of the taxes payable under the Land Transfer Tax Act for a period of at least seven years.
 5. The transferee(s) agree that they or the designated custodian will provide such documents, records and accounts in such form and containing such information as will enable an accurate determination of the taxes payable under the Land Transfer Tax Act, to the Ministry of Finance upon request.
 6. I acknowledge that the personal information collected in the provincial land transfer tax statements provided in this conveyance is being collected by the Ministry of Finance under the authority of the Land Transfer Tax Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. L.6, as amended ("the Act"), and that the personal information may be used for purposes of the administration or enforcement of the Act, other tax statutes, and for purposes of compiling statistical information and of developing and evaluating economic, tax and fiscal policy. (Note: Personal information collected under section 5.0.1 of the Act that accompanies this conveyance can be used only to administer and enforce the Act. De-identified data collected under section 5.0.1 can be used to compile statistical information and develop and evaluate economic, tax and fiscal policy.)

Good Evening Ms. Jessa Marie Clegg:

My responsive letter, with attachments, has been done since yesterday but I have been waiting on the name of the counsel from one Ms. Benson of the AGO and response from the Tribunal regarding two matters. She confirmed that counsel has been assigned but I did not receive a name yet. I should know both in the morning and early afternoon, and I will submit the responses in the format and length requested. Thank you kindly.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court:

Kindly find my attached letter that addresses the four broad requests with some level of detail and cross-referencing. At the time of this letter, I do not have the name of counsel for AGO but the name provided and the most current information from the Tribunal in relation to my motion (which is correctly now noted as NOM #17) that seeks corrections, amendments et al pursuant to section 21.1 of the SPPA remains "under review” and “orders will be released” in due course. I cannot speculate in that regard as to what exactly that means but it is the most current information I can provide.

I have not received any responses from the counsel for two of the respondent insurance companies or the chief agent for TDHA despite my service of the JRPA Application as it was when filed and paid for, and my follow up letters.

Therefore, I attached the two most current decisions that are being judicially reviewed but amendments and finality to the initial order of Vice Chair Morrisette may arise as a result of my NOM #17 (which was filed and served in late September 2024).

I will update the Honourable Divisional Court if I have more current information tomorrow but kindly presume I do not if you do not hear from me.

That being said, I am one email away should anything arise. Thank you kindly.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court) (kind attention: Jessa-Marie Clegg and Ariel Lawrence):

Thank you for your correspondence and attachments this week. As noted, I would revert back to you if I had any further updates. I do see the two emails and I will review them promptly.

In relation to the AGO, I received, in my view, a peculiar response from Ms. Benson of the AGO in that she originally represented to me that counsel had been assigned, then when I queried her for the names, she did not respond with the names but claimed that AGO had its position to be provided. I then received this response at Appendix #1 which changed course on the same.

I appreciate that a change of position can occur but I will follow that protocol and I can hopefully update herein or generally.

Thank you again.

Appendix #1

Hello Mr. McLean, please serve cloc.reception@ontario.ca with your materials going forward and they will be sent to counsel. Once counsel determines our position, they will reach out, as I've previously said. You do not need to provide the court with anything other than our service email.

Attention: Clerk of the Divisional Court

November 21, 2024

Re #1: McLean v. TD Home & Auto Insurance Company et al (Divisional Court filed number to be assigned)

Re #2: your kind request for intake information regarding my JRPA application (the “JRPA Application” or “Application”))

Dear Madam Clerk:

Introduction and background – courtesy; and response to the “Please provide the request information below “

1. Thank you for your email and attachment of Monday, November 18, 2024, requesting information in four enumerated areas and one unenumerated area. I address each below in the sequence in which they were on said attachment.
2. I thank the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court) (the “Court” or “Divisional Court”) for its and her patience in being able to tender a response to your requests. As noted in my email of yesterday, I was awaiting two (or perhaps three) responses: (i) one from the AGO; and (ii) another from the Tribunal and the respondent insurance companies. I can inform the ONSC (Divisional Court) that the AGO did not provide me with the name of counsel but was content with having Ms. Amanda Benson (trial and hearing coordinator) be the sole contact. I hope that is sufficient in the circumstances.
3. While I did pay for and file my JRPA Application on Friday, November 15, 2024, with noted urgency (see: your enumerated ground #4), and I have read Part 1, paragraph 16 of the Consolidated Practice Direction for the Divisional Court, and expressed the same to the AGO, the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the “Tribunal”) and counsel to Security National Insurance Company and TD General Insurance Company (“TDGIC”) (see: Mr. Nieuwland’s (see: 71405A) name and contact information infra) and the chief agent to TD Home and Auto Insurance Company (“TDHA”) in Mr. James Russell, only the AGO and Tribunal was responsive regarding the same.
4. As noted in the JRPA Application, there is a particular oddity procedurally to this JRPA Application and that is that I filed a section 21.1 of the SPPA motion on September 20, 2024, in relation to the initial decision of the Tribunal, as per Vice Chair Morrisette, as it, in my view, contained some glaring errors from a factual and chronological standpoint. Vice Chair Morissette, when she was an adjudicator in June 2024, had particular experience with the section 21.1 of the SPPA in that she was, in fact, the adjudicator or decision maker that decided in my favour regarding the large-scale retroactive amendment from TDGIC as the sole respondent [sic] to SNIC.

5. However, I can and do represent to the Divisional Court as of today's date that my motion in relation to the same remains "under review". As such, it will invariably have an effect of my JRPA Application of Vice Chair Morissette's decision of September 12, 2024, but received on September 13, 2024. I asked the Tribunal on Friday, November 15, 2024, to confirm or deny whether the Tribunal intended to exercise its jurisdiction or discretion pursuant to section 21.1 of the SPPA and the response was that it is "under review" and orders will be released when they are available. To the extent that there are amendments therein, it may also affect the reconsideration decision of Vice Chair Lake on October 16, 2024.

Request #1: Nature of the Matter to be Scheduled: A JRPA Application involving at least two decisions in September 2024 and October 2024, and potentially two amended decisions and/or the decisions and a declination to decide my section 21.1 of the SPPA motion which is now correctly defined as "NOM #17"

6. As per my JRPA Application, I am seeking to quash both of those decisions and orders contained therein and to the extent that there are impugned errors in the amended decision of Vice Chair Morissette, which may then affect an amended decision of Vice Chair Lake in relation to her Reconsideration Decision, the nature of the matter to be scheduled will be as follows based on the below permutations:
 - (a) Judicial review application of the final order of Vice Chair Morissette on September 12, 2024;
 - (b) Judicial review application of the final order of Vice Chair Morissette on October 16, 2024;
 - (c) Judicial review application of the final amended order of Vice Chair Morissette above on mm-dd-yyyy; or
 - a. her declination to decide my Section 21.1 of the SPPA motion dated on dd-yyyy and/or deemed declination to exercise his statutory power by this Honourable Divisional Court to be declared as of date mm-dd-yyyy; and/or
 - (d) Judicial review application of the final amended order of Vice Chair Lake on mm-dd-yyyy and/or deemed by this Honourable Divisional Court to be declared as of date xx-xx-xxxx by the passage of such time.
7. I chose the route of the JR Application, as opposed to an appeal pursuant to LATA, for this very reason. I was cautiously optimistic that I would receive a brief reasons for decision in relation to my NOM #17.

Request #2: Copies of the decisions to be challenged as they currently stand

8. I attach both decisions as they currently stand in PDF format. To the extent that I receive an order in relation to my section 21.1 of the SPPA motion, I will provide it forthwith and via email on an urgent basis.

Request #4: Submitting documents to the court via email

9. As noted above, where the matter is urgent, I would be most grateful to have my documents received and filed via email under the to be assigned divisional court number.
10. Kindly note my reference above regarding the name of “counsel” in relation to the AGO.
11. In relation to the respondent insurance companies (the “Respondent Insurance Companies”), the unprecedented facts are detailed in the JRPA Application but my position remains, consistent with the public secondary source material from this Honourable Divisional Court, that since those respondent insurance companies identified in the VC Chair Morrisette Decision and duly served with hard copies of the hearing records for my NOM #13, #14, and #15, did not participate in the relevant motions to this JRPA, they are not entitled to participate herein.
12. However, in the spirit of full disclosure and chronology for the benefit of Madam Clerk and this Honourable Divisional Court, Mr. David Karat, an unlicensed or non-licensee (see: LSA and LSO By-Laws) but a self-called “ADR Specialist” was the deemed representative of SNIC from the time of his sole completing, filing and signing of the “response” to my application pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act (Ontario) to or around June 28, 2024. The time that Mr. Karat signed, filed and served me with SNIC’s response (the “SNIC Response”, which is the sole “Response” in the underlying proceeding, was January 25, 2024. SNIC did not seek to amend its SNIC Response or have a licensed individual, presumably a lawyer licensee pursuant to the LSO By-Laws as there is an issue of CAT impairment in the underlying proceeding, but Mr. Matthew Nieuwland, a lawyer licensee with the LSO since or around 2016, filed a declaration of representative for SNIC.
13. Prior to that time, Mr. Nieuwland had purported to act, by way of declaration of representative, for TDGIC albeit absent any filed pleading to my application pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act (which is defined in the underlying proceeding as an “Appeal” pursuant to the LAT Rules, as amended on August 21, 2023). There was an unfortunate six-month period where the disputes relating to the surprise and sudden involvement of TDGIC, when said insurance company was unknown to me, in January 2024, were quite contentious, spirited and protracted. However, it was not until Mr. Nieuwland represented in the case conference, albeit with a non-party in TDGIC, that “TDGIC and SNIC” were ‘one and the same’ that I had to investigate that representation and seek records from the FSRA. The FSRA provided me, after my duly authorized payment for the same, certificates of status demonstrating that TDGIC and SNIC were NOT one and the same as Mr. Nieuwland would have it.
14. Parenthetically, there is a further issue to be decided in this JRPA Application regarding the distinction between a non-party or party “not opposing” or “consenting” to relief in a motion by a party. TDGIC did not oppose the relief sought in my NOM #8 (which was the aforementioned motion that Vice Chair Morrisette granted on or around June 20, 2024). However, Vice Chair Morrisette has continued to find that TDGIC “consented” when it did not.
15. With the above in mind, Mr. Nieuwland (matthew.nieuwland@tdinsurance.com) is legal counsel to: (i) SNIC; and (ii) TDGIC. TDGIC did not appoint counsel in the face of my motions in the Summer of 2024 so the contact for TDHA, pursuant to the Insurance Act, is Mr. James V. Russell (chief agent) (james.v.russell@tdinsurance.com).

16. For ease of vision and reference, as it currently stands, the addresses of the various respondent insurance companies along with their fax numbers as provided by the Tribunal in part are (double underlining is mine between TDGIC and TDHA for ease of distinction):
 - (a) Security National Insurance Company, FSRA Registration number 397, 5th Floor-5045 South Service Road, Burlington, Ontario, L7L 5Y7 with fax number of 905-315-1074 (counsel: Mr. Matthew Nieuwland (matthew.nieuwland@tdinsurance.com), legal counsel at TD Insurance Staff Lawyers located at 66 Wellington West, Toronto, Ontario)
 - (b) TD General Insurance Company, FSRA registration number 353: 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, 9th Floor, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7 with fax number of 416.774.3629; and
 - (c) TD Home & Auto Insurance Company, FSRA registration number 1063: Victoria Park Avenue, 4th Floor, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7 with fax number of 416.774.3120
17. While I think it would have been open to me not to have provided their information, I will err on the side of full disclosure. To the extent that this Honourable Divisional Court wishes me to provide any letters to the respondents named therein, I will do so promptly at their request or direction.

Request #3: Urgency time sensitivity or other facts that you ask the court to take into consideration regarding scheduling

18. In relation to urgency and time sensitivity, I respectfully submit that it is the public that deserves a decision in relation to this unprecedented factual pattern, which I say requires some correction of the record by my NOM #17, that has many similar legal elements to the Justice Akazaki decision in what I have defined as Zurich 2024.
19. In relation to myself vis-à-vis these “respondent insurance companies”, the hearing proper has been set for January 25, 2025, but that was involving myself and TDGIC but then became SNIC as it was the sole underwriter. However, I now say it must be, as a matter of law and through no choice of my own, TDHA.
20. In this regard, while appreciating that there is no automatic stay upon the filing of a JRPA Application, I may seek a stay in that regard if time becomes an issue. In this regard, while common sense would dictate that SNIC was to be the solely liable insurance company, SNIC did not provide its fax number at the outset, and I only communicated via fax. Therefore, the only insurer, pursuant to Reg 283, that is liable for any past, current or future benefits is that of TDHA. I may exercise my options before the LAT to ask for a consent stay of the hearing proper depending on timing but I will, of course, advise this Divisional Court of the same. I wish to only utilize, with gratitude, the Honourable Court’s resources when needed and for matters of great importance.

Request #3: Other Factors

21. In relation to the “other factors”, there is an issue involving my FIPPA (ON) request of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, a division of the AGO, where I had requested and paid for by statutory and prescribed fees as of September 6, 2024ⁱⁱ, the logs, information and records involving the input of the “first named respondent” by the Licence Appeal Tribunal in either December 2023 or January 2024. While I was supposed to receive access to those requested records, including back-up records, by October 6, 2024, I was then asked to wait another two weeks followed up by technical difficulties. I am now left without any response from that privacy division of the Ministry of Attorney General. To the extent that I do not receive any response from the AGO (privacy division) in relation to my FIPPA access request, I intend to bring a preliminary motion unless the unknown counsel to the AGO confirms that and, to the extent, the Tribunal, consents to the release of that information and those records on a forthwith basis. While it is not necessarily determinative of who was the “First Insurer” pursuant to Reg 283, who better than the Licence Appeal Tribunal to provide that type of evidence as to what one of its case managers initially believed was the “First Insurer” based on the facsimile number provided to me and remained until the time of my filing of the Appeal (December 23, 2024). In the context of the interplay between the regulations under the Insurance Act and PIPEDA, and such a focus on protection of personal information and personal health information and body of jurisprudence of the ONSC (inclusive of the Divisional Court) and ONCA from the time of Beasley to Dervisholli to Transamerica to Jia.
22. It is herein that I note the errors that I have particularized and alleged in my NOM #17 of Vice Chair Morrisette which will form part of the application record by way of being comprehensive and pre-emptive (i.e. to avoid amended application records being filed). From an urgency standpoint, the facts and chronology as she has found, without any cross-referencing to any evidence, were unknown to me and the record of proceeding. Therefore, it is urgent that either the Tribunal corrects those errors pursuant to section 21.1 of the SPPA or they simply form more errors, which I say are pure questions of law or errors of law, for this Divisional Court to correct.
23. I believe that is “fresh evidence” or “evidence” that will need to be before this Divisional Court before it makes its final decision and final orders. When considering the market share of the various distinct and separately licensed insurance companies within the TD Insurance group of companies (“TDI”), four of the five which are licensed in Ontario to provide automobile insurance, it is beyond urgent that those victims of car accidents know that they are faxing their personal health information and personal information (on a confidential basis) to the correct insurance company.
24. Lastly under this subheading, I note the case of Reza (see: paragraph 38 of the JRPA Application) will not allow me to proceed against SNIC as it is not the First Insurer. As such, as a matter of law when considering the Legislature’s language in section 5 of the SPPA, SNIC technically cannot be a party in the LAT proceeding. While I have submitted it can remain solely for the purposes of costs, it has no liability beyond that when reading Reg 283 and the decisions of the ONSC and ONCA (as per The Honourable Justice Jurianz when his dissent was adopted by the SCC in Zurich 2015 (my definition)).

Conclusion: on my timing for production

25. I thank the Divisional Court for the opportunity to even consider my JRPA Application, my evidence in the motion records below. I also kindly note that you will see references to “endnotes” albeit in not “endnoted fashion” and that was by design so that it followed the “motion records” as they were referenced therein without end noting the “motion records” per se. In any event, my factum will be cross-referenced to the application record which I am required to prepare and file with this Honourable Court.
26. I anticipate that I can have the application record for the Divisional Court or a single justice of the ONSC, if urgency is determined by this Divisional Court pursuant to the JRPA, completed by Monday, November 25, 2024. I anticipate I will have my factum complete by Friday November 29, 2024.
27. I object to the respondent insurance companies participating in the sense of attempting to now bring forth positions that were not in the motion records and without objection by them prior to or thereafter. I object to the respondent insurance companies participating by any means that would slow down this JRPA Application proceeding in any fashion.
28. It is my respectful submission to this Honourable Divisional Court that the substance of the legal issues herein, from a public interest and those that transcend myself, can be heard prior to any issues per se that involve myself. I am content and amenable with that approach. While I appreciate that litigating in slices is often frowned upon per se at the trial level, considering the market share in the automobile sector of the various insurance companies within the TDI Group, if this is a systemic problem, not idiosyncratic to myself, it can be argued that the public importance is exceedingly high and urgent – depending on how many other individuals are similarly situated to myself.
29. Should anything be unclear regarding the above, kindly contact me at your earliest convenience.
30. Should this Honourable Divisional Court require any supporting documentation to the above or my sworn evidence, I remain available.
31. I will familiarize myself with the scheduling of the Divisional Court hearings and what types of time estimates may be required. I will make myself available at the pleasure of this Divisional Court and if this case is found to be one of urgency, I will prioritize whatever form of hearing is required before a single justice of the Superior Court of Ontario (see: ss. 6(2) of the JRPA).
32. Should this Honourable Divisional Court require any further details, cross-referencing or particulars regarding the above as to why I say this JRPA Application must be conducted in the most-expeditious fashion and may require some interim or interlocutory motions, which are not dependent upon me, I remain available.
33. I wished to have this letter in the hands of Madam Clerk on Monday, November 18, 2024, but I had to await the responses above which are still somewhat ambiguous, but I thought it was better to provide this update at this time and amend it if necessary.

34. I confirm that while settlement between myself and the “First Insurer” (or the current sole respondent) is likely impossibility, to the extent that occurs by consent, I undertake, represent and warrant that I will, at the Court’s pleasure, argue my JRPA Application in any event.
35. Lastly, I confirm that even if there is any resolution of any issues between myself and any insurance companies (some or all) within the TDI Group, I accept full responsibility for all costs herein to the extent that they are awarded against me.

Warm Regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)ⁱⁱⁱ

Applicant in this JRPA Application

ⁱMy apologies to the Divisional Court for enumeration error in my JRPA. It will not affect the substance of the JRPA Application but will require that brief amendment at the appropriate time ⁱⁱI had received some discrepant accounts of which insurance company was listed at first instance and why. However, upon further investigation, it seems clear that by my service of my “Appeal” (December 23, 2024) via fax to 416.774.3120, wherein the only evidence (independent) regarding said controller, user and owner of said fax number was TDHA, that the LAT had input TDHA as the respondent at first instance ⁱⁱⁱI trust this Honourable Divisional Court that I am not your “average” lay litigant and I am the same Kevin McLean who challenged and sued the LSBC and some LSBC defendants in 2014 and has undergone a ten-year saga. While I will not comment on that which is confidential or without prejudice, this Divisional Court will inevitably see in the “record of proceeding” a reference to some unfortunate and unlawful conduct (defined as “Concealed RAM Dump”) and I included the same as “things are not always what they seem” from the outside and Mr. Nieuwland albeit on behalf of TDGIC put my character at issue.

BACKGROUND

- [1] The applicant was injured in an automobile accident on August 31, 2022, and sought benefits pursuant to the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule – Effective September 1, 2010 (including amendments effective June 1, 2016). The applicant was denied certain benefits and submitted an application to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (Tribunal) on December 27, 2023.
- [2] A case conference in this matter was held on May 2, 2024 and a Case Conference Report and Order (CCRO) was issued to the parties on May 7, 2024. Relevant to the motions herein, paragraph [20] of the CCRO states that the applicant did not identify any specific document requests at the case conference and paragraph [22]i. states that the applicant made no production requests.
- [3] In an Order dated June 20, 2024, on consent of the parties, I granted the applicant's request to change the respondent from TD General Insurance Company (TDGIC) to Security National Insurance Company (SNIC).
- [4] A written hearing is scheduled in this matter for January 24, 2025.
- [5] This file is currently 254-days old and this is the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth motions filed by the applicant. The applicant refers to these motions respectively as "NoM #13", "NoM #14" and "NoM #15".

MOTIONS

Notice of Motion filed July 9, 2024

- [6] On July 9, 2024, the applicant filed a Notice of Motion (which the applicant refers to as "NoM #13") for:

 - i. Notes;
 - ii. Emails;
 - iii. Summaries on files;
 - iv. Memoranda of fact;
 - v. Memoranda of law;
 - vi. Meeting notes;
 - vii. Notes of telephone calls;
 - viii. Folders,

- ix. Directories;
- x. Files or sub files;
- xi. Copies of any unique reference or matter numbers (disclosed or undisclosed to the applicant);
- xii. Any matter reference numbers;
- xiii. Documents (paper and electronic form);
- xiv. Off-site storage documents;
- xv. Any documents of third-party service providers to TDGIC;
- xvi. Any documents that evidence disclosures made by TDGIC to entities not named SNIC;
- xvii. Any aliases that TDGIC utilizes for the naming of "TD General Insurance Company" FSRA Registration #353;
- xviii. File opening date for TDGIC as it relates to the applicant or TD claim numbers;
- xix. File closing date for TDGIC as it relates to the applicant or TD claim numbers;
- xx. Any accounting and billing documents attributable to TDGIC;
- xxi. Any documents evidencing "reserves" relating to the applicant on the books, records and accounts of TDGIC (internally or by reference to documents provided by TDGIC to the FSRA and OSFI involving automotive insurance);
- xxii. Any retainer agreement between TDGIC and any known or unknown representatives, lawyer licensees, licensee firms, or paralegal licensees et al.;
- xxiii. Any and all documents that were housed or stored at 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Ontario that were related to or about the applicant;
- xxiv. Copies of all documents that were faxed or attempted to be faxed to the applicant, in the spring of 2023, that were not sent by the SNIC Markham's 416 fax number to the applicant and referenced;

- xxv. Copy of any and all documents, including the drafters or authors of said email, that reference TD claim #2 in the "e-claims services email" of October 11, 2023 that the applicant received to a non-consented email account for the purposes of TD claim #3;
 - xxvi. Any documents regarding legal research including but not limited to: the legal positions taken by SNIC with respect to CAT impairment, IRB calculations, MIG, OCF-6 expenses, et al;
 - xxvii. Statements of account and billing information;
 - xxviii. Statements of work performed by TDGIC in relation to the applicant's PIPEDA request in 2023 and two PIPEDA requests in 2024;
 - xxix. Copies of any and all documents related to any representative (declared or deemed) of TDGIC, and their interactions with other individuals involving in the representative to TDGIC's capacity therein;
 - xxx. Copies of any and all documents related to the transferring of TDGIC's file in the SNIC proceeding to SNIC after the granting of NOM #8,
 - xxxi. Copy of the billed client and statements of account for any and all motions that TDGIC filed responsive materials to, any motions filed on behalf of TDGIC, the case conference et al; and
 - xxxii. Any other documents known to TDGIC that are not included or captured by or in the above.
2. An Order that TDGIC provide all of the names and contact information, in a list with dates for all persons who reviewed, summarized, corresponded, or communicated with the respondent and/or in any capacity that involved the applicant,
 3. An Order that TDGIC provide any and all documents or things associated with the TD claim number referenced in the February 14, 2024, PIPEDA response that was not the applicant's TD claim number and more particularly TD claim number 034325790-03 ("fictitious TD claim number" or "TDGIC file number");
 4. An Order that TDGIC provide and produce any and all documents or things that evidence when it received access to any and all documents that the applicant faxed to SNIC Markham or SNIC Burlington including but not limited to OCF documents and confidential correspondence;

5. An Order that the applicant is limited to the usage and disclosure of these requested documents exclusively for the purposes relating to TD Claim #3, this SNIC proceeding or any future proceeding before this Tribunal involving the parties exclusively known and defined as this "applicant" and "SNIC"; and
6. Costs.

Notice of Motion filed August 3, 2024

- [7] On August 3, 2024, the applicant filed an additional Notice of Motion (which the applicant refers to as "NoM #14") for:
1. An Order, Declaration, determination and/or finding that TD Home and Auto Insurance Company, FRSA (Financial Services Regulatory Authority of Ontario) registration number 1063 (TDHA) was the first insurer to receive, pursuant to Reg. 283, the applicant's fax delivered completed application to the fax number provided to him by the respondent as a return address for the respondent on October 13, 2022;
 2. An Order, Declaration, determination or finding that the physical address, which is apparently denoted as a branch office of the respondent in HCAI, was or is an address or branch office of TDHA and not the respondent;
 3. An Order adding TDHA as a respondent to the application;
 4. An Order requiring TDHA, should it wish to oppose the relief sought in the application, file and serve a response within 14 days of the Order;
 5. Any further relief that is consistent with the above; and
 6. Costs.

Notice of Motion filed August 19, 2024

- [8] On August 19, 2024, the applicant filed an additional Notice of Motion (which the applicant refers to as "NoM #15") for:
1. An Order that NoM #14 be heard in an expedited fashion and by no later than August 28, 2024, or, in the alternative, at the earliest date available;
 2. An Order that if the respondent, TDHA, or any other non-party or interested person wishes to oppose NoM #14, it must provide notice, via filed letter, to the Tribunal by no later than August 21, 2024;

3. A preliminary finding, determination, or order, that the fax number 416-774-3120 was a landline phone number utilized as a fax number on the 4th floor building situated at the premises municipally known as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7; or
4. In the alternative, an Order that said issue of fact is added to the hearing of NoM #14;
5. An Order that NoM #13 is set for a hearing three weeks after the final decision of NoM #14;
6. An Order that the applicant shall tender his hearing brief for his potential motion regarding document production and disclosure from SNIC within one week after the decision of NoM #14 with a notice of scheduled hearing date to be issued by the Tribunal regarding exchange of responsive and reply briefs;
7. An Order that NoM #13 and the SNIC document production motion, if applicable, shall be heard together three weeks after the decision in NoM #14; and
8. Costs.

[9] No submissions were requested of the respondent or of the non-parties.

RESULT

[10] The applicant's motions are denied.

[11] I decline to make an order as to costs at this time. The applicant's request for costs has already been added to the issues in dispute in this matter and shall be determined at the hearing on the substantive issues.

ANALYSIS AND REASONS

The applicant's request for non-party productions is denied

[12] The applicant relies on Rule 9.2.2 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, 2023 (Rules) in support of the list of 32 items for which he seeks production and additional relief. He submits that he made demands of the non-party to obtain the requested documents on June 25, 2024 and June 27, 2024, but has received no reply.

- [13] Rule 9.2.2 provides that the Tribunal may exercise its discretion to order a non-party to disclose or produce any relevant document or thing. The onus, however, is on the parties to obtain the documents and things that they wish to rely on and that they are required to produce to the other party or parties. When a party has the power to obtain documents or things from a non-party, the Tribunal will generally not make an order under Rule 9.2.2 where the party's efforts fall short.
- [14] The applicant submits that for him to know the "authentic reasons" for the respondent's position regarding the issues in dispute, he must have access to these documents. The applicant argues that persons other than the respondent may have or been part of the decision-making process and that, in order to determine the applicant's entitlement to an award (one of the issues in dispute), the applicant requires the names of the "drafters and/or authors" of various documents which he submits were agents of TDGIC.
- [15] First, part of the documentation sought by the applicant, for example the documents or things related to his PIPEDA requests in 2024, have no relevance to the matters to be adjudicated by this Tribunal and are denied on this basis.
- [16] Second, although the applicant submits that the documents are not protected by solicitor-client privilege, I find that some of the requests made, for example the request found at xxvii. above (documents regarding legal research including but not limited to: the legal positions taken by SNIC with respect to CAT impairment, IRB calculations, MIG, OCF-6 expenses, et al.) could be protected by privilege. Pursuant to s. 15(2)(a) of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, privileged information is inadmissible.
- [17] Furthermore, while one of the issues in dispute is an award under s. 10 of Regulation 664, I find that the remainder of the documents and things requested by the applicant are excessive, unreasonable, and no more than a fishing expedition.
- [18] Moreover, at the time of the case conference on May 2, 2024, the respondent in this matter was TDGIC. The applicant made no document exchange requests or production requests at the time and has provided no explanation for waiting until after the production deadlines (as set out in the CCRO) have passed to make these requests. As a matter of procedural fairness, the respondent (now SNIC) is entitled to notice of the case to meet and to prepare for the hearing based on the documents exchanged in a timely manner in advance of the hearing and according to the Tribunal's orders including those in the CCRO.
- [19] The sole reason TDGIC is a non-party is because the applicant requested - and obtained consent - to change the respondent to SNIC. The applicant has not satisfied me that the documents and things sought are relevant to the issues in dispute. Ultimately, the applicant submits that he is seeking the names of the "drafters and/or authors" of these various documents which is a fishing expedition rather than a basis to prove relevance.

- [20] The applicant's motion for the production of documents and things as per NoM #13 are denied

The applicant's request to add TDHA as a respondent and additional relief sought in NoM #14 is denied

- [21] In order to properly address the applicant's NoM #14, and more specifically the applicant's prolonged and inconsistent argument regarding the correct identification of the respondent, a brief history following the filing of the application is required.
- [22] The applicant filed his application in December 2023 naming "TD Insurance" as the respondent insurer. On January 25, 2024, the respondent filed its response to the application under the insurer name SNIC, accompanied by its correspondence written on "TD Insurance" letterhead. In correspondence following the filing of the response, the applicant referred to the respondent as "TD SNIC" (as an example, in the applicant's first notice of motion and the applicant's affidavit dated January 28, 2024 – Affidavit #7 – he refers to the respondent as "TD SNIC").
- [23] On January 30, 2024, respondent's counsel filed a Declaration of Representative (DoR) noting that he was representing the insurer "TDGIC". At some point between the filing of the respondent's counsel's DoR on January 30, 2024 and February 19, 2024, the respondent's identity was administratively changed by the Tribunal from SNIC to TDGIC.
- [24] From February 19, 2024 when the applicant filed his fifth notice of motion, the applicant objected to the respondent being TDGIC and sought an order for it to be changed to SNIC. The applicant refuted the respondent's information that SNIC and TDGIC were "one and the same". The applicant filed five more notices of motion – all of which included submissions that the applicant opposed the respondent being TDGIC and requesting that it be changed to SNIC. In an Order dated June 20, 2024, on consent of the respondent, the applicant's request was granted and the name of the respondent was changed to SNIC.
- [25] The applicant has now filed a motion in which he requests, amongst other relief, that TDHA be added as a respondent to the application.
- [26] In his motion submissions, the applicant failed to point to any binding case law or legislative authority that permits the Tribunal to add a second respondent to an application before the Tribunal. As the Tribunal is a creature of statute and has no inherent jurisdiction, the relief sought by the applicant raises questions about whether the Tribunal has jurisdiction to add TDHA as a second respondent in these circumstances. The applicant failed to address the fundamental question of the Tribunal's jurisdiction to grant this relief in his submissions which is fatal to the application request.

[27] Even if the Tribunal has the authority to grant this relief, I am not satisfied that it would be appropriate to exercise that authority in the circumstances. The initial respondent, TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC, accepted priority over the applicant's insurance policy.

[28] The applicant's requests, under NoM #14, are denied.

The applicant's request to set timelines for the Tribunal's process is denied [29] It is well-settled that the Tribunal is entitled to control its own procedure (s. 25.01.1(a), Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22) and is entitled to deference on matters requiring the exercise of discretion, such as scheduling and adjournment requests (Riddell v. Huynh, 2019 ONSC 2620 (Ont. Div. Ct.), at para. 33). Also, the Tribunal, and parties accessing the Tribunal, are assisted by its Rules.

[30] As such, the relief sought in the applicant's NoM #15 – to determine the process and set timelines for the determination of the various motions filed – is denied.

[31] Between the filing of the within application (on December 27, 2023) up to the filing of the applicant's NoM #15 on August 19, 2024 - the equivalent of 236 days - the applicant filed 13 motions, one request for accommodation, and a reconsideration request. This is the median equivalent of the applicant filing one motion with the Tribunal every 17 calendar days. It is challenging to provide an accurate list of all the requests made by the applicant during this period as several were made through correspondence in addition to the notices of motion filed.

[32] In my Order dated June 20, 2024, I put the applicant on notice that should he continue to disregard the Tribunal's processes, the Tribunal may simply refuse to hear the applicant's motion or dismiss it as an abuse of process. I provided examples of the numerous contradictions made by the applicant in his submissions which have made it challenging for the Tribunal to properly assess his position and how the continuous (and sometimes repetitive) notices of motion filed by the applicant have hindered the Tribunal's ability to ensure efficient and timely resolution of the requests made by the applicant and how this has rendered the case management of this file very challenging.

[33] I acknowledged the Tribunal's duty to accommodate self-representatives and noted the significant steps the Tribunal has taken to accommodate the applicant's unfamiliarity with its process. Despite the Tribunal's attempts to assist and educate the applicant, the applicant has continued to disregard the Tribunal's notice.

- [34] Of particular concern, the applicant continues to frustrate the Tribunal's process by filing significant submissions – over the 6 double-spaced page limit – which has continuously been brought to the applicant's attention. I note that after filing his motion #13 within, case management at the Tribunal contacted the applicant to remind him that submissions are to be limited to a maximum of six pages. The applicant responded by stating that his submissions were within that range.
- [35] I note that although the document which the applicant refers to as his "submissions" are kept within six double-spaced pages, within these submissions, he references additional submissions filed through the means of affidavits. These affidavits, to date now totaling 30, are all sworn by the applicant and as such, are an attempt by the applicant to curtail the 6-page limit.
- [36] In motion #13, the applicant filed an additional affidavit (Affidavit #28) which consists of 13 single-spaced pages (plus appendices with additional submissions) and references Affidavit #17 (58 pages), Affidavit #18 (9 pages), Affidavit #19 (33 pages), Affidavit #21 (27 pages), Affidavit #22 (10 pages), Affidavit #23 (5 pages), Affidavit #24 (19 pages), and Affidavit #27 (8 pages) for a total of at least 169 additional single-spaced pages of submissions.
- [37] In motion #14, the applicant filed additional affidavits – Affidavit #29 (9 pages) and Affidavit #30 (20 pages) – and also references Affidavit #21 (2 pages) for a total of at least 31 additional single-spaced pages.
- [38] As cited in my June 20, 2024 Order:
- The doctrine of abuse of process engages the inherent power of the court to prevent the misuse of its procedure, in a way that would be manifestly unfair to a party to the litigation before it or would in some other way bring the administration of justice into disrepute. (Justice Arbour in Toronto (City) v. C.U.P.E., Local 79, 2003 SCC 63 at para. 37).
- [39] The applicant's actions have put a significant strain on Tribunal resources. If the applicant does not curtail his motion requests, the Tribunal will entertain any motion put forward by the respondent requesting costs against the applicant for frivolous motions and abuse of process.

Costs are denied

- [40] The applicant seeks costs in each of its motions (NoM #13, 14 and 15).
- [41] Rule 19.1 of the Rules provides that a party may make a request to the Tribunal for its costs where a party believes that another party in a proceeding has acted unreasonably, frivolously, vexatiously, or in bad faith. Rule 19.2 allows a request for costs to be made any time before a decision is released.
- [42] The issue of costs has already been added to the issues in dispute in this matter. Doing so again would be repetitive and redundant.

ORDER

- [43] The applicant's motions are denied.
- [44] I decline to determine the issue of costs at this time and leave it to the hearing adjudicator to determine.
- [45] Except for the provisions contained in this Order, all previous orders made by the Tribunal remain in full force and effect.
- [46] If the parties reach an agreement on the issues in dispute, the applicant shall immediately advise the Tribunal in writing.
- [47] I am not seized of this matter.

RECONSIDERATION ORDER

Before: Lindsay Lake
Vice-Chair, Delegate

Date of Order: October 15, 2024

Licence Appeal Tribunal File Number: 23-015662/AABS

Case Name: Kevin McLean v. Security National Insurance Company

For the Applicant: Kevin McLean, Self-represented

ORDER

- [1] On September 30, 2024, the applicant submitted a request for reconsideration with respect to the Tribunal's motion order dated September 13, 2024. In the motion order, the Tribunal dismissed the applicant's Notices of Motions filed on July 9, 2024, August 3, 2024, and August 19, 2024. In the applicant's August 3, 2024 Notice of Motion (also referred to by the applicant as "NoM #14"), the applicant sought an order adding TD Home and Auto Insurance Company (TDHA) as a respondent to this application.
- [2] Pursuant to s. 17(2) of the Adjudicative Tribunals Accountability, Governance and Appointments Act, 2009, S.O. 2009, c. 33, Sched. 5, the Executive Chair has delegated to me authority to deal with such matters.
- [3] I find that the applicant's request for reconsideration fails to comply with Rule 18.1 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, 2023 ("Rules") for the following reasons.
- [4] The Tribunal's power to reconsider as set out in Rule 18.1 is a discretionary one. It provides that the Tribunal may reconsider any decision that finally disposes of an appeal if the request for reconsideration is made within 21 days of the date of the decision. In this case, although the applicant's request was filed within the 21-day deadline for filing a request for reconsideration, the September 13, 2024 motion order is not a decision that finally disposed of an appeal as required by Rule 18.1.
- [5] The applicant's request for reconsideration focused solely on the Tribunal's decision in the September 13, 2024 motion order to not add TDHA as a second respondent to this application. The applicant relied upon several decisions including the Ontario Court of Appeal decision in M.E. v. Ontario, 2021 ONCA 718 (CanLII) (M.E.) which referred to the High Court of Justice, Divisional Court Decision in Bryson et al. v. Kerr, 1976 CanLII 867 (ON SC) (Bryson). The applicant submitted that these decisions stand for the proposition that an order dismissing a motion to add a party is a final order and, therefore, can be the subject of a reconsideration. I find that these decisions can be distinguished on the facts from this matter.
- [6] M.E. is a decision under the Child, Youth and Family Services Act, 2017, S.O. 2017, c. 14, Sch. 1 in which the appellant filed a motion to add additional causes of action and new parties to the action. The motion was dismissed at first instance as frivolous, vexatious, and an abuse of process, and leave to appeal the motion to the Divisional Court was also dismissed. The appellant then sought leave to appeal the Divisional Court decision to the Ontario Court of Appeal, which was granted as the Court of Appeal, relying on the decision in Bryson, found that an order dismissing a motion to add a party is "final."

- [7] In Bryson, the plaintiff who was involved in a motor vehicle accident was seeking to add a co-defendant in what appears to be a tort proceeding involving the application of a limitation period under the then Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 202. The court in this matter found that an order dismissing an application made by the plaintiffs to add a defendant to the action was a final order.
- [8] In this matter, Rule 18.1 is clear that the Tribunal may only reconsider any decision that finally disposes of an appeal and does not use the same wording as in M.E. and Bryson of a "final order." A final order is one that would finally dispose of the rights of the parties whereas an interlocutory matter is one that does not determine the real matter in dispute between the parties or the very subject matter of the litigation, but rather only a collateral matter. [LM] v. The Co-operators General Insurance Company, 2021 CanLII 28676 (ON LAT Reconsideration) at para. 9. Here, the motion order did not determine any of the substantive issues in dispute as set out in the May 2, 2024 Case Conference Report and Order, and the proceeding in this matter is ongoing with the written hearing scheduled for January 24, 2025.
- [9] In his reconsideration submissions, the applicant also failed to point to any binding case law or legislative authority that would permit the Tribunal to add a second respondent to an application as noted in paragraph 26 of the September 13, 2024 motion order. As the Tribunal is a creature of statute and has no inherent jurisdiction, the Tribunal found that the relief sought by the applicant raised questions about whether the Tribunal has jurisdiction to add TDHA as a second respondent in this matter. This also distinguishes the circumstances in this matter from the decisions in Bryson and M.E. as in those cases, multiple respondents or defendants were permitted.
- [10] Finally, and as noted above, the Tribunal's power to reconsider a decision is not an appeal of right but is rather a discretionary power which the Tribunal may exercise. If I am incorrect and the Tribunal's Motion Order dated September 13, 2024 is a "decision that finally disposes of an appeal" and the Tribunal may add multiple respondents to an application, I find this would not be an appropriate matter in which to exercise this discretion because the applicant has already made a request for, and was granted, an order regarding the naming of the respondent. The applicant filed 6 previous motions with the Tribunal seeking, amongst various other relief, an order changing the respondent's name from TD General Insurance Company to Security National Insurance Company (SNIC). In an Order dated June 20, 2024, on consent of the respondent, the applicant's request was granted, and the name of the respondent was changed to SNIC.

Dear All, thank you again for your emails. As noted in my filed and served JRPA Application, the email for service is this email herein. As such, I have removed the mcleansniclat@gmail.com from the email chain as that is dedicated exclusively for the Tribunal proceeding itself and communications with various adjusters et al. I do not intend to be overly technical but I thank you for only emailing this email herein (mcleansettlement@gmail.com) for matters related to the above JRPA Application.

By way of courtesy update, I anticipate having my factum, application record, book of authorities et al complete in short order subject to hearing from the Tribunal whether it will decide my section 21.1 of the SPPA motion or decline to exercise its discretion and any consequence of the same. I am following up currently and awaiting to hear the same which will allow me to make any appropriate adjustments to the factum, the inclusion of any potential authorities and/or supplementing the current application record.

I can also confirm that I received an email from one Ms. Judie Im of the AGO (Constitutional Branch) regarding a matter that she brought to my attention and I am responding to her in that regard. I will update all regarding the same.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Good morning Mr. McLean and counsel,

I have removed the Court and the general CLOC address from this chain. Thank you for letting us know about the correct email for you, we will use this moving forward.

Has the Court requested the main parties to provide responses regarding preliminary issues, a timetable for materials and the anticipated length of the hearing? Typically the Court will approve a timetable for materials (like a factum and a record, etc.) based on the parties' input. If so, can you kindly forward that correspondence to me? I propose the parties work together to craft a joint response, which the Court appreciates. The LAT would like to be included to address preliminary issues and the requirement for it to produce a Record of Proceedings, as well as the timetable for materials.

Finally, it is my understanding that the motions filed with the LAT are under reserve and are being addressed in sequence.

If it would be easier to arrange a call to discuss the above, please let me know.

Good Afternoon to you Ms. Boyd,

Thank you for your email and I confirm you have removed the court from this dialogue. Apologies for the delay as I have just returned from my physiotherapist's office.

If you do not mind, may I address this in full tomorrow or Wednesday?

I will also kindly note that I had relevant property stolen from at CAMH late in October 2024 so it has been a trying time to get back into the flow with my identification, electronic devices, identification, credit cards, banking cards, etc. I have attached some of the images that I received in relation to the same so you can be assured I am being full disclosure albeit that I have only provided the redacted images. Unfortunately, thereafter, some individuals then went on an impersonation spree with my identification including my library card in renting out some 16 books. However, I am almost all the way back now so I can be a little more expedient in how I respond to everyone. I solely provide the same to confirm why I may have been slightly delayed in responding to some or all and I apologize in that regard.

In relation to addressing all of your questions in full, as I will have to review the same as per the incorrect email address for service, have TDHA, TDGIC and/or SNIC filed "Notices Of Appearances"? To the extent that SNIC, TDHA, and TDGIC are not intending to file any notices of appearances, then I do not see any need to include one Mr. Nieuwland (or any of the counsel, paralegals, ADR specialists et al) in our communications on a go forward basis. However, I will check that thread later today or tomorrow to download the relevant attachments. In that vein as well, I can confirm that the application record is nearly fully scanned in and it will include those motions that are under review out of an abundance of caution in the event that they need to be addressed. The application record index is being completed and should be done by this evening. In relation to the abbreviated books of authorities, this will also be completed by tonight.

I again confirm that you will be part of any and all communications and in relation to any preliminary motions (if applicable). I will provide you with my letter to the ONSC (Divisional Court) and what has been addressed with Ms. Judie Im. I see that Ms. Im is copied herein and I am finalizing my review of her positions and will provide a copy of the same herein. (Good Afternoon Ms. Im, I hope you are well and apologies for the delay).

As it relates to "fresh evidence", I was hopeful to potentially have some records from my FIPPA request made in recent months but I will have to check on that and I will revert back on a general basis in this regard. I was supposed to receive the same on or around October 7, 2024, but there has been some radio silence since that time. In this regard, you will note from my JRPA Application of what I was seeking and oddly it involves the MAG (LAT) yet again.

With respect to a phone call, I welcome the same as I finally got back and running with a cell phone after the theft but I suggest we canvass the above first so we know who is participating and not participating, and you have a chance to see my "draft" or "unfiled" factum at first instance so we make effective use of the court's resources and respect Madam Clerk's time.

Thank you again for your email. I look forward to working with all relevant persons and parties that are entitled to participate.

Good morning Mr. McLean et al,

I have attached the Court's request for responses to the triage questions, which are due this Friday. I propose the following be communicated to the Court and welcome input from the main parties:

1. Preliminary Issues: this Application gives rise to an issue of prematurity, as the LAT proceedings remain ongoing and the motion and reconsideration decisions that are the subject of this Application are interlocutory in nature. The written hearing on the substantive issues is set to be heard by the LAT on January 25, 2025. In addition, three of the motions filed by the Applicant at the LAT remain under reserve.
2. Timetable: Should the Court elect to hear the Application, then the parties will propose a timetable for the LAT to produce the Record of Proceedings and for the parties' materials.
3. Proposed length of the hearing: Should the Application proceed, a half day would suffice.

Kindly propose any amendments to the above. If it would be easier for the LAT to communicate the responses to the Court, please let me know. Thank you.

Thank you Ms. Boyd for your email. I do not consent to the above with great respect but I thank you in any event for the effort. My review now of the notices of appearance do not show any from SNIC, TDGIC, and/or TDHA. As such, we must first deal with whether they need to be included herein. I do not see any law to support their inclusion or the inclusion of Mr. Nieuwland in the email chain as it relates to this JRPA Application.

It is my view that he is incorrectly included.

Please advise of the positions forthwith so we can deal with that issue first so we can then address the remainder.

I will address the remainder of your email in the primary or the alternative.

If I do not hear from all by the end of the day with any authorities that support the inclusion of a representative or representatives for parties that did not participate in the orders and reasons that are subject to appeal, then I will advise the Court that Mr. Nieuwland need not be included any further herein.

Thank you.

Dear Ms. Boyd et al:

Thank you again for your email.

As confirmed herein (see: <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/files/pubs/guide-div-ct-judicial-review-EN.pdf>), Mr. Nieuwland was included in error as he was counsel for TDGIC and then SNIC but not in relation to these three motions and chose not to participate on behalf of his two clients (TDGIC and SNIC). As such, he should not have been included at first instance and it is unclear why he was.

Unless you can provide me with authority for his inclusion on behalf of those two insurance companies, which I am inclined to review, please do not include him any further.

In relation to the comment about prematurity, that is incorrect as a matter of law.

In relation to the comment about outstanding motions, that is not correct as a matter of fact. Vice Chair Morrisette has recently decided my document production motion in relation to SNIC in my favour in part. The only remaining motion is my Section 21.1 of the SPPA motion regarding VC Morrisette's decision. I have followed up with Case Manager Ms. Lee and the LAT Registrar as of this morning.

I attach a copy of the decision of VC Morrisette in relation to the SNIC document production motion. Again, there are some technical errors therein but nonetheless they are similar to the errors in the NOM #13 to NOM #15.

I also attach a copy of section 21.1 of the SPPA hearing record for your ease of reference in the event you have not reviewed the same.

I do not intend to be difficult regarding the above but there is no evidence in my possession that there was any filing by Mr. Nieuwland on behalf of TDGIC or SNIC. To the contrary, he, on behalf of his clients, chose not to participate and stonewalled me.

This leaves one motion, which is the Section 21.1 of the SPPA motion, and I have asked the Tribunal to confirm forthwith when it will be released or whether it will decline jurisdiction.

All of the above increase the urgency of this ONSC matter and having it heard on an expedited schedule.

I will have my factum finalized and filed by no later than tomorrow depending on what I hear from the Tribunal in relation to the remaining motion which is merely a section 21.1 of the SPPA motion that determines whether we are operating of the alternative facts, in some respects, of the VCM Decision or she brings some or all of those facts in line with the record of proceeding.

I will address the remainder of your email shortly.

I will presume that you can open them unless I hear otherwise.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

1:46 PM

to Jesse, Milene, Connor, Judie

Dear Ms. Boyd et al:

Thank you again for your email.

As always, I am content to work with all counsel here in an amicable and professional manner, and not inundate the ONSC (Divisional Court) in relation to any back-and-forth emails. Due to the recent decision that was released and being ready to proceed subject to hearing from the Tribunal in relation to the section 21.1 of the SPPA motion, I can address your points below.

In relation to the interlocutory reference, I could not disagree more emphatically, but you will note the same in my JRPA Application and will see the same in my factum which is effectively done.

Your reference to the timing of the written hearing involves an insurance company in SNIC that is not obligated to respond to me and not obligated to pay benefits. The only issue that arises with the recent document production motion that was granted in my favour in part is that SNIC may engage in some document production that is relevant and may be adduced by fresh evidence, but I am speculating at this point. I will wait to see the nature of the document production involving SNIC by its deadline of December 6, 2024. It may be that there is no need to even reference the same.

Again, NOM #13 and NOM #16 are interlocutory in nature as they were document production motions. Neither of those decisions have been or are being appealed (or judicial review being sought).

However, the seminal orders in NOM #14 and #15 firmly end the liability and quantum issues in the LAT Proceeding and, on a go, forward basis. If they were granted in my favour, there would not be a proceeding left per se but for some rudimentary mathematical calculations. Which insurance company that I have recourse against, and which one is liable, along with seeking to add TDHA is a final order (not interlocutory), in this LAT Proceeding and on in the future is not interlocutory. However, perhaps that will be clearer to you and all herein once you receive the application record. The authorities will be abbreviated and somewhat redundant to a degree as they are already in the application record.

In relation to timing, my preference considering the developments from the Tribunal is to have this heard by a single justice of the ONSC on written argument. In this manner, we need not estimate any timeframes for appearance and to have it heard on an expedited basis.

What I will do in the interim is confirm with the Tribunal that if I do not have a decision from it by Friday, December 6, 2024, at two p.m. and/or confirmation that such a decision is actually being formulated and will be released by on or around tomorrow, I will presume it is declining to exercise its jurisdiction under section 21.1 of the SPPA, and I will add the same to my factum and confirm that there is no decision from the Tribunal in relation to said motion. As noted, I had already extended my apologies to the ONSC et al for some of the incorrect internal enumeration regarding NOM #16 to NOM #18. However, where there are other references to the same without enumeration, then I was correct.

In relation to providing materials, mine can be provided tomorrow or by latest Friday, depending on the Tribunal's position regarding the same. Such a motion did not involve any required response from TDGIC, TDHA or SNIC so it is unclear what is taking the Tribunal so much time to decide it.

With respect to responsive materials from the Tribunal, I anticipate that I will ask for any responsive factums in a shorter time period than the entitled amount. There is no dispute on the facts, the law is well-settled in the area, and TDHA must be the First Insurer as a matter of law.

If we do so in such fashion, then I need not seek any stay of the Tribunal proceedings (if applicable) and a single justice of the ONSC can provide a decision for the benefit of all. If in my favour, then that is the end of the Tribunal proceeding because TDHA is bound by all of the deeming provisions of SABS where it did not respond despite it receiving my faxes to it including receipt of my LAT Appeal.

Of course, in a written responsive factum, you are entitled to raise the issues of whether you believe that the VCM Decision, solely relating to the orders that I referenced or further particularize in my factum, involves matters of an interlocutory nature. However, that is not a preliminary issue per se.

In the interim, I will notify the Court, with you copied, that I have an immediate issue with Mr. Nieuwland being copied and I will remove him unless there are some filings from him on behalf of some respondent insurance companies and they seek leave to be able to participate. Moreover, I will provide the Tribunal with a copy of the recent decision of VC Morrisette and confirm we are working through some of the required responses together on a separate basis.

Lastly, I will have to re-read the relevant laws in relation to the timing of when the Tribunal is required to deliver and file the record of proceedings to the ONSC.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Hello again Ms. Lawrence,

I can confirm that myself and those persons that have filed notices of appearance are in communication. I have reviewed the email herein and attachments and I do not see any notices of appearances for any of the respondent insurance companies. Moreover, they did not even attempt to participate in the lower court motions. As such, my position which I have made clear to the esteemed counsel for the Tribunal and the AGO (albeit all under the umbrella of "MAG") is that Mr. Nieuwland is not entitled to be included herein. Should Mr. Nieuwland file a Notice of Appearance on behalf of some or all of the respondent insurance companies, then I will review that position at said time. However, since they did not participate in the orders that are subject to the JRPA Application per se, I would oppose the same. It is not in any way intended to be disrespectful to Mr. Nieuwland per se but he should not have been included at first instance.

If any of the above disagree, I would be happy to review their authorities or legal bases for the same.

I will not overstep the process of the separate communication protocol as proposed by Ms. Boyd per se but I am hopeful we can have those questions answered promptly on a joint basis and if not, then we cannot.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

to SCJ-CSJ, Milene, Jesse, Connor, Cloc-Reception

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court) (kind attention: Ms. Lawrence):
Thank you again for your email above.

As I promised to the recipients herein (and I have removed my email exclusively for Tribunal purposes), I received a decision involving an outstanding document motion regarding SNIC as of yesterday's date. You will note that there is again the oddity of VC Morrisette representing that the order was from late November 2024 but it was signed in early December and then received yesterday. I have attached it herein.

This, in turn, leaves one remaining motion to be decided or for the Tribunal to inform me that it will not decide the same which is that section 21.1 of the SPPA motion that I referenced. At this stage, I will inform the Tribunal that if I do not hear from it, then I will proceed with the decisions as they stand and take the position that it does not intend to exercise its discretion

I have followed up with the Tribunal as of this morning to inquire regarding the same as it is highly relevant to the orders and decisions wherein, I have sought judicial review of the same. It is not a matter of those decisions "needing correction" per se but knowing whether they will or will not be correct in part or in whole.

For ease of reference, I have attached the hearing record in this regard so I am not speaking in a non-cross referenced manner. All the relevant materials have been organized, tabulated, and consecutively numbered for the application record. My book of authorities is done and my factum is as well subject to hearing from the Tribunal on this attached section 21.1 of the SPPA motion record.

As I am in the process of ensuring that my factum complies with all of the requirements pursuant to various rules and practice directions, at first instance, I will confirm the following for sake of convenience (without any confirmation that the above noted persons (i.e. Tribunal and AGO) agree with my positions):

1. Preliminary issue: the only preliminary issue from my standpoint is whether the above will consent to my seeking of leave to have this JRPA proceeding hearing before a single justice of the JPRA, s. 2;
2. Timetable: as noted above, I am ready to file all of the above subject to the issue of whether it can proceed before a single justice of the ONSC and how that affects any of the above. I will await to hear from the above noted esteemed counsel as it relates to the same and whether they (some or all) consent to the same and the mechanics (if any) of having such an order vetted and approved;
3. Time estimate: if before a single justice pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA, my recall is that it is done on written argument. If so, then no time estimate is required per se. To the extent that any appearances are required, I do not anticipate I need more than 20 minutes in oral submissions and five minutes in reply.

I apologize for any delay in response but I will do my best to provide the court with an update regarding whether the Tribunal stands on the above. Thank you kindly.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Hi Mr. McLean,

Thank you for your responses. Unless the Court orders otherwise, I prefer to keep all counsel who represent parties named in the Notice on this email chain, should they wish to participate.

1. Regarding any preliminary issues, it is the LAT's position that this Application gives rise to an issue of prematurity as the underlying written hearing on the substantive issues is set to be heard on January 24, 2025. I ask that this be communicated to the Court in our joint response.
 2. Regarding the timetable, the Court typically affords the LAT 3-4 weeks to prepare the Record of Proceedings pursuant to the JRPA. However, the parties may waive this requirement, which could expedite the proceedings if you wish. Please advise if you are content to proceed on the application record you are creating because this will significantly reduce the volume of the record as well. If so, this should be communicated to the Court. The LAT would still request 60 days for its materials owing to the upcoming Court holiday and other litigation matters.
 3. Regarding the hearing length, a half day is likely sufficient, however if you intend to bring a motion it may be best to request a case conference with the Court.

Good Afternoon,

As a courtesy, I have re-added counsel for parties named in the Notice, should they elect to participate.

The LAT wishes to raise the preliminary issue that this Application gives rise to an issue of prematurity, as the LAT proceedings remain ongoing. The written hearing on the substantive issues is scheduled for January 24, 2025.

In the alternative, the LAT requests that a case conference be scheduled to determine the parameters of the hearing and a timetable.

Thank you,

Good afternoon Mr. McLean,

It is a practice of this court that parties provide specific dates with respect to their agreement on a schedule or proposed schedule for the exchange of materials.

I would greatly appreciate if you could kindly provide a revised schedule with specific dates for exchange of materials.

Once the timetable is received by the Court, further directions with respect to scheduling a date for the hearing and electronic filing of documents will be provided in due course.

If parties are still in conversation to outline their schedule and or position, kindly remove the court from correspondence until a timetable is finalized. If parties cannot reach an agreement, they may request the court further assistance in respect to the matter.

Dear All:

Thank you for your emails on all fronts. I will review them and revert back where applicable.

I confirm that Mr. Nieuwland has filed a Notice of Appearance on behalf of Security National Insurance Company which he has stated "otherwise referred to as TD Home and Auto [sic] and TD General Insurance company". I do not agree that they are "one and the same" so I say that the Notice of Appearance is defective. I know that Mr. Nieuwland refers to "Security National Insurance Company et al". I ask that he clearly denoted in his Notice of Appearance the names of the respondents for whom he has authority to act for.

Mr. Nieuwland was not counsel for TDHA regarding the relevant motions at issue. He was counsel for TDGIC at one point before one of my motions was granted. If he is now acting for TDHA, I believe it is important to know whether he has been retained.

I thank Ms. Lawrence for her requests and I will address them.

(In the spirit of communications that do not waste the ONSC's time, I will start a new email thread, out of an abundance of caution, with those persons other than the court so we do not inundate the court with any unnecessary back and forth).

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dec 4, 2024,
12:03 PM

to SCJ-CSJ, Matthew, Jesse, Milene, Connor, Judie, Heather

Good Morning Ms. Lawrence:

Thank you for your email and your patience while the multiple parties work together to respond in a singular and cohesive fashion.

To confirm (so we are respectful of the timelines), we are communicating separately regarding the issues. I have provided my positions in accordance with what was requested and I am waiting to hear back from the various persons/parties through their counsel.

I can also confirm that as of last night I requested the consent of the sole current party in SNIC to adjourn the date of the scheduled hearing proper from January 25, 2025 for at least 45 to 60 days to allow for time for this JRPA to be heard. I am awaiting to hear whether SNIC will consent to the brief adjournment. If not, I will exhaust that avenue with a formal adjournment motion pursuant to LAT Rule 16 with the requisite form. If it is not granted, I will likely seek a stay of the LAT Proceeding on an interim and indefinite basis until this JRPA Application is decided.

I will be raising the issue of whether the respondent insurance companies (some or all) are entitled to participate herein and to have been filed a Notice of Appearance, and whether that Notice of Appearance was not filed forthwith, defective and void ab initio. I will be raising that as a preliminary issue if Mr. Nieuwland does not seek to correct those impugned deficiencies. I strongly object to the respondent insurance companies filing any Notice Of Appearance herein. I had presumed that they would not and they did not file a Notice Of Appearance forthwith. Simply put, I object to the document that Mr. Nieuwland tendered yesterday of acting on behalf of "Security National Insurance Company et al" and his reference to "also referred to as" in relation to those insurance companies not named "Security National Insurance Company". I believe such conduct and a filing, where the respondent insurance companies had ample time to participate in the relevant motions at issue herein but chose not to, and did not participate in the reconsideration motion, despite being duly served, will only delay this JRPA Proceeding. It is already causing time management issues by their purported inclusion. In my humble view, such a filing would have required leave and at the very least, some or all of the respondent insurance companies must seek leave to participate herein.

With respect to exchange of documents, I am nearly ready to file and serve all the factum, application and book of authorities. We may be able to dispense with the need for the filing of the record of proceeding by the Tribunal and I have sought one small addition to it, by consent, of the respondents (where applicable). With respect to responding to my factum, I note the 30-day time limit so I do not believe there is any issue in that regard. If we can dispense with the need for the filing of the entire record of proceeding, then that will assist not only the parties but the court.

With respect to time estimate, I am amenable to the half day but I would prefer to proceed before a single justice pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA.

Lastly, the preliminary issue that I have raised with respect to the respondent insurance companies will remain and I am awaiting to hear from Ms. Body on whether her proposed preliminary issue of prematurity also includes a previous reference to whether the orders that I seek to set aside are interlocutory or final. I have also inquired as to whether her position on behalf of the Tribunal will change depending on whether there is a brief adjournment of the LAT Proceeding.

We will revert back when we have hopefully resolved the above with analytical precision.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (kind attention: Madam Clerk) (copied to the respondent parties entitled to participate in this JRPA Proceeding and Mr. Nieuwland for the respondent insurance companies):

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I will be enclosing the Application Record of the Applicant relating to the above in this email thread. As the total number of pages contained therein is slightly shy of 1500 when counting the index, they will be submitted in three separate volumes as per the file name in each attachment.
3. I note that the civil practice direction uses the word “should” for bookmarking an Application Record. As I will be filing an oral compendium with a brief oral argument, I will ensure that said oral compendium will be bookmarked accordingly with only the most relevant evidence from the Application Record. The reason for doing so is not to avoid bookmarking the same but to avoid any wasted time or redundancy in bookmarking those materials will not be relevant for the hearing of this matter and to respect the resources of the judiciary and court along with those somewhat new to the matter in counsel to the Tribunal.
4. Kindly find Vol #1 of the Application Record attached which contains the index for all of the 70 tabs and enumerated pages.

Re: delivery of the electronically filed Certificate Of Perfection

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (kind attention: Ms. Clegg and Ms. Lawrence with a copy to the addressees):

I have received a copy of the electronically filed and paid for "Certificate Of Perfection". I attach a copy of the same.

I have also received an attachment regarding Case Center. I had educated myself about Case Center but I am currently reviewing that attachment with the thanks to the Divisional Court for the provision of the same.

As a courtesy, I anticipate having my oral compendium done in the next day or so and I will provide a copy of the same herein after ensuring that all filed materials have been uploaded promptly into Case Center. As I appreciate the Divisional Court is quite busy and in demand, I will presume, without being audacious or arrogant, that my affidavit of service was properly filed and received and I do not need to file another one involving the filed version of the Certificate Of Perfection.

Thank you.

Type of document: Letter (email):

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

Re: courtesy query to the respondents and full disclosure approach for benefit of the ONSC Divisional Court regarding the positions of the respondents regarding the implications of the legal test in Ontario (Energy Board) v. Ontario Power Generation Inc., 2015 SCC 44 and other aspects detailed below

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/other gender-neutral pronouns:

1. I write regarding the above and, as noted, a courtesy approach and full disclosure approach with a focus on the paramount issues being public interest issues on a substantive and procedural level. In compiling the materials to be uploaded into the Case Center and reviewing the required protocols and Practice Direction, along with finalizing the oral compendium, in hyperlinked bookmarked form, I was reviewing my cited case of Drewlo Holdings Inc. v. MPAC, 2023 ONSC 4839 [“Drewlo”, also defined as the “Tranquilli Decision”] which was before the Superior Court of Justice – Ontario Divisional Court [London] with a written endorsement by the Honourable Justice Tranquilli. It was heard on July 6, 2023, with said written endorsement being issued by the ONSC Divisional Court on August 24, 2023.
2. I have been, in my view, exceedingly over-inclusive and comprehensive herein for the reasons stated herein. I thank all for their consideration of my queries and I politely ask that you, with particular reference to the Tribunal, AGO and respondent insurance companies (with particular reference to SNIC and TDHA) revert back to me at your earliest opportunity.
3. I adopt the definitions from my filed documents in this JRPA Proceeding and they have the same meaning herein as they do therein.
4. From my review of Drewlo, the Assessment Review Board, another tribunal which is part of the Tribunals Ontario (13 different tribunals by my computation) (defined in this letter as the “Board” or “ARB Tribunal”), sought leave pursuant to Rule 13.02 of the Rules of Civil Procedure (the “Civil Rules”) as Drewlo Holdings Inc.^[i] had sought leave to appeal (not judicially review per se) (see: paragraph 1 and 2). Drewlo Holdings Inc. took issue with a decision of the Board which held that the Municipal Property Assessment Corporation (“MPAC”) had the statutory authority under section 33 of the Assessment Act to issue a second ‘omitted’ assessment^[ii] in the same taxation year in respect of two of three apartment towers that Drewlo Holdings Inc. converted into individual units under a registered condominium plan (see: paragraph 2). Drewlo Holdings naturally opposed the same in arguing that MPAC, which I presume is the separate and distinct corporation that was created by the City of London to engage in the assessment of property tax assessments for various properties in the city of London (province of Ontario) had already issued an omitted assessment for the same property^[iii] in May 2019. Drewlo Holdings Inc. made other arguments even though the ‘omitted assessment’ allegedly had some surficial issues in failing to address those units converted to the registered condo plan, the Appellant (Drewlo Holdings Inc.) argued that MPAC did not have statutory authority under section 33 of the Assessment Act^[iv] as the “land” had already been assessed under the Assessment Act and the ‘second omitted assessment’ was without authority or ultra vires MPAC.

5. The Board (ARB Tribunal) rejected Drewlo Holding Inc.’s argument and dismissed its appeal^[v] [before it]. The Board found that the relevant question was whether the registration of the condo plan created new “lands” to be added to the Assessment Roll. Presumably, this definition created by Drewlo Holdings Inc. of “omitted assessment” had no merit because if new lands were created then its argument of the “land” being previously assessed was predicated on a false premise^[vi] and MPAC’s assessment position was correct.

6. As Drewlo sought to appeal, it had to obtain leave to appeal the Board (ARB Tribunal)’s decision. In a 2023 decision^[vii] of the ONSC Divisional Court, in its capacity to hear the leave motion to appeal, the Divisional Court (London) (as per Justice Spencer Nicholson of the ONSC Divisional Court) granted leave to appeal. There was certainly much in the way of “money on the line” in this appeal of the decision of a statutory body (ARB Tribunal) as MPAC had reassessed the “land and buildings” (as the previous assessment involved the “land” only as per the lands being vacant without the towers) with a combined total increasing some nearly 66 million dollars^[viii].

7. Returning to the Board’s motion before Justice Tranquilly, MPAC took no position yet the City of London consented to the Board’s motion (see: paragraph 6^[ix]).^[x] Drewlo Holdings Inc. vigorously opposed the Board’s participation in its [Drewlo Holdings] appeal of the Board’s decision where it alleged five errors of law in the Board’s decision.

8. As the JRPA Application, Applicant’s Factum and Applicant’s Application Record were filed and served last week, along with the filing of the Certificate Of Perfection, I felt compelled to draw this to the attention of the above noted respondents before they engaged in potential responsive factums. I also note the same considering the duty of the Tribunal to file the “record of proceeding” (see: SPPA). I will note, parenthetically, that if the Tribunal counsel wishes to have my assistance in this regard, I would be pleased to assist in any form it wishes in that regard. I also note that in the separate [absent the inclusion of the court for respect of its resources] “triage” between myself with Mr. Boyce being responsible for the dialogue on behalf of the Tribunal, which I have appreciated not only in substance but in his professionalism, forthrightness and candour, he has referenced a conventional timeline for the provision of the record of proceeding. I will defer to his expertise in appearing as counsel before the Divisional Court in that regard but I cannot find any particular rule in the Civil Rules or section in the Practice Direction referencing the same. I will not divulge those communications (i.e. the truth of their contents), at this time or thereafter, without his consent or if required by this ONSC Divisional Court. I do not say anything is “earth shattering” per se but out of respect for him and the Tribunal and those therein and the spirit of a “triage” without the inclusion of ONSC Divisional Court (Madam Clerk and her staff).

9. To harp on the “full disclosure spirit” from my side, I note that while respondents are required to respond to the factum and application record within 30 days of its service upon them, and I thought, in good faith, it would be unfair to them to raise this issue as soon as it somewhat crystalized. As noted, we have a slight gap in days between the Applicant’s Factum and Applicant’s Application Record but that is not the seminal point that I am wishing to convey. We have, in my view, based on research of the case law, somewhat of an unprecedented situation based on what has crystallized as of now being December 19, 2024, by way of date of creating said letter, and December 20, 2024, when deemed received. Moreover, with various “statutory holidays”, I appreciate that many recipients herein may be taking time away from their vocations and the “office” (whether physical, “at home” or remote). I thought it would be unfair to continue to review this issue and then provide such a position during late December or early January 2025 with the timelines noted above. The reason for saying the same is what is referencing, in part, at paragraphs 7 to 9, in the Tranquilli Decision.

The Board submitted that it did not intend to argue the merits of its decision (i.e. the decision it issued) and would not take a position on the outcome of the appeal (before the ONSC Divisional Court) or the current value of the subject property.

10. While I have very much appreciated the candour of Mr. Boyce, counsel to the Tribunal, whilst I do not believe I have had any other substantive emails from the other named individuals therein with the domain name of “Ontario.ca” relating to those employed by the Tribunal in a counsel or adjudicative capacity, I note that its preliminary objection raised was that of “prematurity”. I would respectfully submit that I have already faced that issue in the Applicant’s Factum with painstaking detail with reference to a litany of cited authorities but the exceptional circumstances herein along with reference to the ONCA appellate authority of ME v. Ontario (2021), citing Atlas, Kerr et al, as to why the aspects of the VCM Decision, solely relate to some relief (which included orders, determinations, findings and declarations) sought in NOM #14 and NOM #15, that a decision that does any of the following: (i) add or not add party; (ii) grant or refuse an order to amend pleading by any current or future party; and/or (iii) grant or refuse an order to add a cause of action, is a final order and not interlocutory.

11. I hope that the Applicant’s Factum remains sufficiently clear that I do not dispute that the relief that I sought, which was dismissed, in NOM #13, was interlocutory as it sought documents from a non-party in TDGIC. I am not challenging the same despite VCM in the VCM Decision consolidating NOM #13 and NOM #15 for decision issuance purposes.

12. Returning to paragraph 7 of the Tranquilli Decision, I note the language of the “proposed factum” in support of the Board’s motion, the Board sought to provide the court with the statutory and procedural context for its decision and to make “limited submissions”. In the consecutively alphabetized list of the Tranquilli Decision, they were: (a) limited to questions of law or an extricable question of law from a finding of mixed fact and law; (b) applicable standard of review of correctness within the context of the Board’s specialized function; and (c) procedural fairness as it relates to the tribunal (ARB Tribunal) ability to make procedural choices and to the extent to which the Board may consider law or argument not raised by the parties.

13. Relating to this JRPA Application, there is no dispute that the only “parties” at the time of the VCM Decision were myself and SNIC. The JRPA Application, along with that of the Reconsideration Submissions to the LAT, contained in the Application Record, and Applicant’s Factum provide a bevy of cases as to why the standard of review is correctness when measured against the undisputed evidence before Vice Chair Morrisette. For continued context and out of an abundance of caution, there were no materials filed on behalf of the sole respondent party in SNIC, as it was the only insurance company that filed a Response (defined as the “SNIC Response”) in relation to my delivered LAT Appeal, by fax, to the 416.774.3120 fax number at first instance, and TDHA (as it relates to NOM #14 and NOM #15).

14. There is no issue, by way of example and dovetailing the facts herein to that of the Tranquilli Decision, to an allegation of procedural fairness breaches by not raising an issue by the parties at the time of the VCM Decision but considered by VCM. There is certainly a finding, against me, that I had not cited relevant law or authorities which I dispute in the Reconsideration Motion, JRPA Application and Applicant’s Factum. However, I need not digress as that is a matter for the ONSC Divisional Court.

15. There has been a reference from some time back by one of the counsel for the government about a “joint response” and Ms. Im had reached out to me regarding some of the specifics of the rules and statute and some intimation of jointness. I do not wish to speak for that email per se but she can correct me if she wishes but that is my reading in part. However, in this regard, having a response from the distinct counsel for their clients, even where the LAT is part of the office of the MAG, and where the constitutional division is somewhat or entirely distinct. I defer to their organizational setup in that regard and do not wish to speak ignorantly per se. Fortuitously, the response of the erudite Ms. Im may also assist us, at least informally with further details to be reconciled, not requiring any further participation from her and her “office” and employer (client) per se. I can confirm, by reference to the Applicant’s Factum and Application Record, that I am not raising any constitutional or vires questions. To ensure I am clear herein, I am not in any way supplementing or attempting to supplement my JRPA Application and Factum but raising this issue, by reference to the 16. I can also confirm that I did receive a response from the privacy division of LAT (MAG), albeit it required my inclusion of the Honourable Attorney General of Ontario in Mr. Downey himself with some level of intensity on my part, I do not view it as compliant to my access request. That being said, I shall work the requisite channels in that regard. However, at this time, not much turns on that and I can confirm that I will not be bringing any fresh evidence as I do not have any that would be worthy of a motion. I provide that information as per the relief sought in my JRPA Application which was somewhat forward looking based on the status at that time. If any of the addressees require further details as to what I was seeking, and what remains extant in my review, I am amenable to providing the same. However, I respectfully doubt that it will be necessary in light of the representations made in this paragraph.

Paragraph Eight (8) of the Tranquilli Decision: limited submissions from the Tribunal

17. In paragraph eight of the Tranquilli Decision, the Board submitted that its proposed limited submissions, by reference to its proposed factum^[xii], would promote the following:

- a. Full and informed adjudication; but
- b. Without compromising tribunal impartiality or prejudicing the parties.

The Guide, “What to Include in a Application for Judicial Review” (third paragraph of page five)

18. Admittedly, the reference to “parties” is one that I will continue to research with reference to the Civil Rules and the Practice Direction. However, I again note, consistent with my previous position, that the Ontario Superior Court of Justice Guide to Judicial Review in Divisional Court (the “JR Divisional Court Guide” or “Guide”) and other secondary sources espouse the view, at least implicitly, that only those that participated in the hearing (a “written hearing” in “written format” (see: SPPA, section 1 et al) are entitled to participate in a JRPA proceeding or at the very least, the hearing of a JRPA application. In that regard, I re-confirm my previous positions that the respondent insurance companies in SNIC and TDHA did not participate in the hearing before VCM and did not seek any reconsideration of the same – even on legal or participatory grounds. I again reiterate my position regarding the Purported Appearance by the three respondent insurance companies and the potential requirement for leave based on the aforementioned grounds in the Applicant’s Factum.

19. With the benefit of hindsight, I note that the respondent insurance companies have not raised any preliminary issues at this time. The sole issue of prematurity was raised by Mr. Boyce on behalf of the Tribunal. To reinforce the collaborative approach with the evolution and/or creation of the law in what I say is a “test case” or “novel case” or at least one with unprecedented facts, I would be most grateful to know what was meant by “joint response” (or words to that effect). In erring on the side of caution, I wish to confirm whether any proposed factum by the LAT would solely be on behalf of the LAT or it would include, even by implication, any responses on behalf of any other respondents. I ask this question or pose this query considering the current status and the timelines above and the 30 days to provide a responsive factum being the ultimate deadline with no preclusion of filing and serving earlier.^[xiii] I will kindly and politely confirm that I will object to any respondent, irrespective of their status as a party or not a party, engaging in attempting or purporting to filing any materials that engage in the same. I trust that is sufficient for notice purposes and it was an appropriate time to do so.

20. Returning to the denoted heading herein, I note that the NOA was required to be served on the Ago by reference to the word “must”. I self-evidently did so by reference to Ms. Im’s kind and prompt overture at the outset.

21. In relation to the decision-maker, I followed the ONSC Divisional Court Guide in being over-inclusive by serving VCM as it related to the ‘original hearing’ and that of VCL as it related to the ‘reconsideration hearing’. However, I note that the Guide only utilizes the language of ‘original hearing’ which I infer or deduce refers, in these circumstances, to the VCM Decision.

22. It is the next sentence, which is sentence four in the Guide under this heading (page 5), with reference to the words of: (i) party; (ii) decision-maker; (iii) proceedings; and (iv) may, that is still subject to my research and why I welcome the position of the LAT.

The definition of “party” and Distinction between Rule 13.02 and Rule 13.02

23. I note that “party” is not defined under the Civil Rules. The word “party” by ‘control f function’ of the Civil Rules is referenced some 1,501 times. I am currently going through the same so I beg the pardon of all if I have missed it.

24. However, I do note the definition of “respondent party”, which is: ““responding party” means a person against whom a motion is made’, but naturally applies to a “motion”, which means “a motion in a proceeding or an intended proceeding”. Naturally, we have a “proceeding” and not an “intended proceeding”.

25. Further, my review of my represented potential request to proceed before a single justice of the ONSC Divisional Court appears to be by way of “request” and not motion. I have deduced the same by my review of the Practice Guide and note my continued obligation to upload all documents into the Case Center. However, I will, of course, defer to the expertise and practice of the Divisional Court in an JRPA proceeding, and, of course, strictly adhere to whatever is directed or required of me. Again, pardon the delay but I felt this was important to canvas prior to doing the same while noting the word “prompt”.

26. I note the following from Rule 13.01:

27. I have copied and pasted Ruel 13.02 and Rule 13.03 herein:

Leave to Intervene as Added Party

13.01 (1) A person who is not a party to a proceeding may move for leave to intervene as an added party if the person claims,

- (a) an interest in the subject matter of the proceeding;
- (b) that the person may be adversely affected by a judgment in the proceeding; or
- (c) that there exists between the person and one or more of the parties to the proceeding a question of law or fact in common with one or more of the questions in issue in the proceeding. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 13.01 \(1\).

(2) On the motion, the court shall consider whether the intervention will unduly delay or prejudice the determination of the rights of the parties to the proceeding and the court may add the person as a party to the proceeding and may make such order as is just. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 13.01 \(2\).

Leave to Intervene as Friend of the Court

13.02 Any person may, with leave of a judge or at the invitation of the presiding judge or associate judge, and without becoming a party to the proceeding, intervene as a friend of the court for the purpose of rendering assistance to the court by way of argument. Leave to Intervene in Divisional Court or Court of Appeal

13.03 (1) Leave to intervene in the Divisional Court as an added party or as a friend of the court may be granted by a panel of the court, the Chief Justice or Associate Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice or a judge designated by either of them. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 13.03 \(1\); O. Reg. 292/99, s. 4; O. Reg. 186/10, s. 2; O. Reg. 82/17, s. 16.

28. The aforementioned subrules read similarly but for the self-evident distinctions.

Returning to the Tranquilli Decision

29. At paragraph 9, Drewlo contended, albeit in unsuccessful fashion, that ONSC Divisional Court should have dismissed the Board's motion.

30. The Honourable Justice Tranquilli found that the Board did not have a statutory right to appear in the Appeal. This is a "judicial review" pursuant to the JRPA and not any others statutory right of appeal. For sake of dovetailing the relevant statute for an appeal (a 'statutory appeal') to herein, section 11 of LATA, specifically the subsections infra, states:

"11 (1) Subject to subsections (2) to (6), a party to a proceeding before the Tribunal relating to a matter under any of the following Acts may appeal from its decision or order to the Divisional Court in accordance with the rules of court:

Question of law only

(3) An appeal may be made on a question of law only. 2011, c. 1, Sched. 1, s. 5 (5).

Right to be heard

(5) The Minister responsible for administration of the Act under which the decision that is the subject of the appeal was made is entitled to be heard, by counsel or otherwise, on the appeal. 2018, c. 12, Sched. 2, s. 54 (4).

Insurance Act appeals — question of law only

(6) An appeal from a decision of the Tribunal relating to a matter under the Insurance Act may be made on a question of law only. 2014, c. 9, Sched. 5, s. 5 (3)."

31. Naturally, there is a filed notice of appearance from the Tribunal herein. The Purported Appearance by the respondent insurance companies was not filed forthwith and the issue is whether it can participate herein when it did not in the seminal hearings and the decisions that are issue in this JRPA Proceeding. Certainly, the Tribunal 'participated' by issuing its decision. I presume the question arises as to whether the AGO and LAT are 'entitled' to participate on the facts and current status. I am still researching that issue and I will revert back if I find anything that is of substance to add herein but certainly welcome the positions of those two aforementioned as to whether there is an entitlement to participate, and whether that has changed in light of current status. I address the legal test from the Ontario (Energy Board), with the benefit of some secondary source material, infra with respect to the indicia in the common law test. I have done so in somewhat alternative manners considering I cannot prognosticate the future when considering the many permutations.

32. In the Tranquilli Decision, Justice Tranquilli found, or by reference to the position of Drewlo Holdings Inc., at paragraph 9, that the appeal before the ONSC Divisional Court was opposed by two responding parties such that there are no 'gaps' in the record that would benefit from the Board's participation. The parties, which were three (3) parties with MPAC and London (City of) taking different positions by not opposing and by consent respectively to the Board's motion, were represented by knowledgeable and experienced counsel who would be able to make fully informed arguments to the appellate panel of the ONSC Divisional Court. Drewlo Holdings Inc. contended that the Board's participation, under its limited proposed terms, were unnecessary and threatened to compromise board impartiality. Drewlo Holdings Inc., at the last sentence of paragraph nine, submitted to Justice Tranquilli, that some of the Board's proposed submissions (in its proposed factum) verged on addressing the merits of the appeal and defending the Board (ARB Tribunal's) decision.

33. Again, I do not suggest that Mr. Boyce, or Ms. Im to that end, have represented in any manner that they intended to do so per se. However, if history is any teacher from the LAT Appeal, I believe it is best to ensure that we are not engaging in any unnecessary motions before the ONSC Divisional Court regarding issues that could have been canvassed and resolved without the necessity for the same.

A more relaxed attitude to tribunal participation in statutory appeals

34. I quote from paragraph 10 of the Tranquilli Decision for ease of reference, and because Ontario (Energy Board) is cited therein:

“[10] The applicable principles that guide the court's exercise of its discretion under Rule 13.02 on the question of tribunal intervention are well recognized. This includes consideration of the factors outlined in Peel (Regional Municipality) v. Great Atlantic & Pacific Co. of Canada Ltd., (1990) 1990 CanLII 6886 \(ON CA\), 74 O.R. (2d) 164 and the non-exhaustive factors identified in Ontario (Energy Board) v. Ontario Power Generation Inc., 2015 SCC 44 \(CanLII\), [2015] 3 S.C.R. 147 at para. 59. Concerns about tribunal participation on appeal should not be read to establish a categorical ban. For the most part, there is a more relaxed attitude in allowing tribunal participation in statutory appeals of its decisions. A discretionary approach provides the best means of ensuring the principles of finality and impartiality are respected without sacrificing the ability of reviewing courts to hear useful and important information and analysis. Ontario (Energy Board), at paras. 46, 52.

35. I presume that the more relaxed attitude to the LAT's participation herein, and perhaps including the MAG, in a statutory appeal is further underscored by the above noted sections of LATA which further specify the entitlement to only questions of law only under the Insurance Act and the participation of the Minister responsible for administration of the Act at issue.

36. It appears that the unassailable corollary, as a matter of this being a JRPA Proceeding and not an appeal under LATA, is that there is a less relaxed attitude to the participation (not merely a Notice of Appearance) in this JRPA Proceeding involving the LAT (Tribunal).

37. In the Drewlo appeal (the “Drewlo Appeal”), Justice Tranquilli found it appropriate for the Board (ARB Tribunal) to participate in that appeal on the proposed terms, by reference to the proposed factum included in the Board's motion, but with the caveat that it was subject to the discretion of the hearing panel of the Appeal before the ONSC Divisional Court (see: paragraph 11 of the Tranquilli Decision).

38. I will have to urgently review the principles under section 13.03 of the Civil Rules due to the urgency of my JRPA Application. However, in the interim, I note the following principles from Ontario (Energy Board), secondary source article^[xiii] from the Alberta Law Review in Mr. Lorne Neudorf (JD (Victoria), LL.M (McGill), PhD (Cambridge); Member of the Law Society of Upper Canada; Assistant Professor, Thompson Rivers University, Faculty of Law) when referencing the three principles where the statute (or multiple statutes) do NOT clearly resolve the issue:

In accordance with the foregoing discussion of tribunal standing, where the statute does not clearly resolve the issue, the reviewing court must rely on its discretion to define the tribunal's role on appeal. While not exhaustive, I would find the following factors, identified by the courts and academic commentators cited above, are relevant in informing the court's exercise of this discretion: (1) If an appeal or review were to be otherwise unopposed, a reviewing court may benefit by exercising its discretion to grant tribunal standing. (2) If there are other parties available to oppose an appeal or review, and those parties have the necessary knowledge and expertise to fully make and respond to arguments on appeal or review. Tribunal standing may be less important in ensuring just outcomes. (3) Whether the tribunal adjudicates individual conflicts between two adversarial parties, or whether it instead serves a policy-making, regulatory or investigative role, or acts on behalf of the public interest, bears on the degree to which impartiality concerns are raised. Such concerns may weigh more heavily where the tribunal served an adjudicatory function in the proceeding that is the subject of the appeal, while a proceeding in which the tribunal adopts a more regulatory role may not raise such concerns.

39. Returning the JRPA, I note the permissive language used by the Legislature and in reference to the definition of “party” whilst including section 2(1) for completeness purposes:

“party” includes a municipality, association of employers, a trade union or council of trade unions which may be a party to any of the proceedings mentioned in subsection 2 \(1\); (“partie”)

Applications for judicial review

2 (1) On an application by way of originating notice, which may be styled “Notice of Application for Judicial Review”, the court may, despite any right of appeal, by order grant any relief that the applicant would be entitled to in any one or more of the following:

1. Proceedings by way of application for an order in the nature of mandamus, prohibition or certiorari.
2. Proceedings by way of an action for a declaration or for an injunction, or both, in relation to the exercise, refusal to exercise or proposed or purported exercise of a statutory power. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 2 (1).

40. I also note that section 9(2) uses the word “may” as well:

Exerciser of power may be a party

(2) For the purposes of an application for judicial review in relation to the exercise, refusal to exercise or proposed or purported exercise of a statutory power, the person who is authorized to exercise the power may be a party to the application. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 9 (2).

41. It is trite that the language of ‘may be a party to the application’ and the right to be heard and represented by counsel are distinct concepts. Again, I will continue to research that issue and welcome the position of the Tribunal from a legal and factual point of view (i.e. in relation to this JRPA Proceeding herein).

42. However, it would seem that the common law principles from the Ontario (Energy Board) case are applicable herein as follows:

- a. If a[n].... review were to be otherwise unopposed, a reviewing court may benefit by exercising its discretion to grant tribunal standing;
- b. If there are other parties available to oppose a[n].... review, and those parties have the necessary knowledge and expertise to fully make and respond to arguments on review, tribunal standing may be less important in ensuring just outcome; and
- c. Whether the tribunal adjudicates individual conflicts between two adversarial parties, or whether it instead serves a policy-making, regulatory or investigative role, or acts on behalf of the public interest, bears on the degree to which impartiality concerns are raised. Such concerns may weigh more heavily where the tribunal served an adjudicatory function in the proceeding that is the subject

43. In returning to the above distinction between merely being a “party” and the right to be heard, and clear specification of a role, the extrapolation herein is that the Tribunal is entitled to be a party but its role and right to be heard is factually driven. Herein, I respectfully submit that Tribunal counsel have little to nothing to add to this JRPA Proceeding. The VCM Decision is certainly not deficient in its reasons per se by language or length. My challenges to it and its implications are self-evident therein. There is another reason for my objection to the same and that is that the LAT, to my last recall, is not “government funded per se” but funded by the “insurance industry”. If my example is any indication, premiums paid to SNIC, SNIC choosing to file the SNIC Response, then not participate in the LAT Appeal but by compulsion of order of Adjudicator Morrisette, as she then was, all while holding the premiums paid to it while presumably making an above market return of investment (“ROI”), then it is as if the insurance companies are paying the decision makers at the Licence Appeal Tribunal. I do not raise that point lightly but also for general and public importance aspects in any necessary balancing (if applicable) to be engaged in by this ONSC Divisional Court.

44. In the Alberta Law Article by the aforementioned author, I note the following at page five (i.e. the number of pages in the CanLII document) and page 223 of that edition of the Alberta Law Review:

“Applying the law to the facts of the case, Justice Rothstein observed that the enabling legislation provided the Board with a right to be heard in an appeal but fell short of specifying its role in the appearance.”

45. We also do not know if the respondent insurance companies are intending to seek leave to participate and on what terms or conditions per se. However, this can be dealt with in my view by Mr. Nieuwland responded, ever so briefly, as to whether SNIC and TDHA oppose the relief sought (some or all) in the JRPA Application and further particularized in the Applicant’s Factum.

46. Each part of the legal test cannot be analyzed in a vacuum per se.

47. The Licence Appeal Tribunal is an adjudicative body and has held itself as such. Therefore, this factor militates in the Tribunal not participating in this JRPA Proceeding.

48. The again referenced oddity herein is that while the respondent insurance companies may oppose or not oppose some relief, even if they oppose, the “record of proceeding” and “application record” are document based and cannot be changed. The same is applicable to the lack of any participation by SNIC and TDHA in NOM #14 and NOM #15.

49. At page 222 in the Alberta Law Review article, the distinction between a standard of review of reasonableness and correctness is relevant as well:

“This role would be particularly important in relation to a reasonableness review of an administrative decision to ensure that the reviewing court was fully informed in assessing the reasonableness of the outcome.”

50. Whether the ONSC Divisional Court finds my arguments persuasive or not and whether the VCM Decision was correct or not is a matter of speculation that I cannot engage in but the issues raised are ones that are naturally on the correctness standard of review. I respectfully note that this militates in favour of the Tribunal’s participation role (if any) to be minimal.

51. I further note at paragraph 13 of the Tranquilli Decision that even in an insurance case involving Hutchison v. Aviva General Insurance Company, 2022 ONSC 7136, that Justice Tranquilli found that the court put limits on the proposed participation (while also citing Tartu College) such as limiting the tribunal from making submission on standard of review or any reasonable apprehension of bias. I have certainly squarely put some of the inflammatory language used by VCM directed at me regarding me, inter alia, putting a “strain on the Tribunal” and apparently abusing the process of the Tribunal while apparently curtailing (I believe she meant “circumventing”) certain “non-rules” like length of affidavit material.

52. Justice Tranquilli in the Tranquilli Decision also distinguished between the MPAC and City of London which is yet another factor where it would be helpful to hear from the above noted persons.

to me, SCJ-CSJ, Matthew, Milene, Connor, Judie, Heather

Good afternoon,

It is my understanding that the Court has advised the parties to wait for further case management directions, which potentially involves a case conference to address prematurity, the issues raised by the Applicant in this email chain, and to approve a timetable for materials and a hearing format, etc.

If the Court is considering scheduling a case conference, the LAT respectfully requests that it be scheduled on or after January 2, 2025, so that all parties may participate.

Thank you,

Jesse A. Boyce (he/him)

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (kind attention: Madam Clerk) (copied to the above additional addressees for the LAT, AGO and respondent insurance companies)

I write regarding the above.

I write to confirm that I have obtained a Case Center account with Thomson Reuters but I am awaiting the link (invite) to said Case Center. I have reached out by email and phone to the support center but I have not heard back yet. Once I receive the same, I will upload the documents as required by the Practice Direction. I provide that information to explain why there has been a delay in uploading the same.

Further, without any castigation per se but solely for reference and record keeping purposes, I confirm that I have not received any Form 68(b) but I appreciate that it is to come from the ONSC Divisional Court.

All of the above are solely provided out of an abundance of caution while I continue to take all necessary steps in accordance with my position of the JRPA Application being an urgent one.

Thank you and my best to all.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns^[1]:

Volume #1: Introduction

1. With respect to Mr. Boyce's email, thank you for your email and response. I may address the case conference comment in a subsequent email with more detail but the reference to a case conference was prior to my perfecting of my JRPA Application and paying the requisite fees along with filing and serving an affidavit of service on December 15, 2024. I am finalizing my oral compendium which will include a succinct oral argument outline.

2. I address the remainder for the above purposes and to Mr. Boyce and the ONSC Divisional Court along with awaiting to hear from Mr. Nieuwland for the respondent insurance companies and Ms. Im for the AGO.

3. As I appreciate that many are going away on holidays or will not be customarily in their offices (actual or virtual), I will be exceedingly comprehensive herein so I address any issues and provide fair notice to all of my positions, and steps I intend to take in accordance with the law.

4. I am following the style suggested (at least by analogy), albeit referenced by ONCA in Roberston^[ii]. The way in which it is currently structured is by way those seminal issues in the primary of having it heard before a single justice of the ONSC Divisional Court sitting as a justice of the ONSC and if leave is not granted, then transferred to the ONSC Divisional Court pursuant to ss. 6(3) of the JRPA. As leave could be granted before a single justice of the ONSC Divisional Court (Toronto), I must be prepared to argue the merits of the JRPA Application on that date. I am not being presumptuous or arrogant per se but rather being over-prepared.

Volume #1(A): The Tribunal's request for case management

5. In short, whether by way of triage or case management, the purpose is denoted in the Consolidated Practice Direction at Part 1, "Divisional Court Proceedings", Subpart "G", Triage and Case Management, "The purpose of case management is to facilitate access to justice through the timely adjudication of proceedings in Divisional Court in a cost-effective and proportional manner."

6. As the purpose of case management is to facilitate access to justice through timely adjudication and we have a unique and unprecedented set of facts in the underlying proceeding, along with the Tribunal having provided its positions regarding length of hearing (half day) in addition to rather assertively re-including Mr. Nieuwland in the email chain, Mr. Boyce's timing request is that a case conference is after January 2, 2025.

7. While Mr. Boyce has requested that a case conference be after January 2, 2025, my review of the public information is that the Divisional Court (Toronto) sits in all weeks of January 2025. It is unclear to me when a single justice could sit for my request to set down a hearing of my seeking leave and arguing the JRPA Proceeding at once subject to obtaining leave on said date. I note

8. For the time being, I believe the Tribunal may not have turned its mind to section 10 of the JRPA which requires the Tribunal to forthwith file a record of proceedings.

9. Section 10 of the JRPA states [emphasis is mine], "Record to be filed in court", "When notice of an application for judicial review of a decision made in the exercise or purported exercise of a statutory power of decision has been served on the person making the decision, such person shall forthwith file in the court for use on the application the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 10.' "

10. The JRPA Application was served on the Tribunal in mid November 2024 so the Tribunal has not complied with its duty under the JRPA. If you would kindly attend to the same on a forthwith basis, I would be most grateful.

11. To the extent you cannot attend to the same and are relying on the "60 day convention" as you suggested, this would put the Tribunal at mid to late January 2025 to do so. As such, this would be after the required time to file a factum and application record by the Tribunal if it is permitted to do so.

12. I say that no case conference should be ordered until the Tribunal has complied with its obligation to file the record of proceeding.

Volume #1(B): Distinction between "triage" vs. "case management"

13. Only a judge may direct that there is a case management conference with the parties (see: section 33 of the Practice Direction). As such, I kindly ask that my emails and that of the above are brought to the attention of the judge while we await dates, pursuant to my requests for the Form 68(B) and dates in January 2025 to be heard for my request to be heard before a single justice.

14. The distinction between triage and case management are not merely cosmetic. As section 32 of the Practice Direction states, “When a proceeding is commenced or a motion is brought, the matter may be subject to triage by a judge. The judge may give directions on matters such as (a) jurisdiction, (b) timeliness, (c) prematurity (d) identification of proper parties, and (e) any other issue that, in the opinion of the judge, ought to be addressed with the parties. This process does not preclude any party from raising preliminary issues with the court”.

15. Section 33 of the Practice Direction states, “A judge may direct that there be a case management conference with the parties. The case management conference will be scheduled by court staff and presided over by a judge. The triage judge is not seized of case management unless the triage judge directs otherwise.”

16. Before a case management conference is directed by a justice, there must be a determination as to whether the Tribunal is a party as the JRPA is only permissive in that regard under section 9(2). If the Tribunal is intending to bring a customary motion regarding the scope of its standing (if any) and its participatory rights (if any), then this JRPA Proceeding could be subject to a triage. However, I cannot speculate in this regard.

17. To again emphasize, it is only parties that can be directed to a case conference. Ironically, there is an underlying issue in the LAT Proceeding that a non-party in TDGIC was directed to the case conference or pre-hearing conference, then removed as a party by the granting of my NOM #8 on June 20, 2024. I am being overly cautious in this regard to not fall into the same situation despite constantly objecting to TDGIC being a party at all.

18. Simply put, by my reading of section 9(2), the Tribunal may or may not be a party to this JRPA Proceeding.

19. While the AGO is required to be served and has been served, it has a right to be heard and by counsel but that does not mean that it is automatically or entitled by law to be a party (see: section 9(4)).

20. As Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal has requested a case management conference, my reading is that he will need to bring a motion to ensure that the Tribunal is a party at first instance so it can be directed. As such a motion will be before a judge, the judge could also direct that a case management conference is held as well. However, it would seem that such a justice could handle those aspects at once.

21. The case management judge may give directions regarding the conduct of the matter (see: section 34 of the Practice Direction).

22. It may be that after receiving the Form 68(B), as I have filed, paid for and served my Certificate of Perfection, and have potential dates for a single justice hearing in January 2025, and whether an adjournment is granted in the Tribunal Proceeding, that a case management may be of great utility for purposes of deciding a stay motion of mine. However, I am speculating at this time because the dates in January 2025 may be sufficient to have this JRPA Proceeding heard and decided and/or provide further grounds for adjournment of the underlying LAT Proceeding.

23. May I kindly request that the ONSC Divisional Court provide me with an invite to Case Center? I set up my account and corresponded with Thomson Reuters ("decsupport email") and it informed me that I require a link from the ONSC Divisional Court. While my receipt for my Certificate Of Perfection references Case Center or Case Lines, I cannot seem to find the invite for the same. If I accidentally deleted it or it was in "spam", would you kindly resend the same?

24. I can then promptly upload the filed documents so the court has access to the same for the benefit of it and all herein.

Volume #3: Returning to whether Tribunal even has standing

25. As promised, I have had occasion to review the case law in this regard in more detail. In the same tenor as the above email, I am providing my solidified position as a courtesy to the Tribunal along with the ONSC Divisional Court to have an accurate picture as to the current status and positions.

26. As per the binding authorities of the ONSC Divisional Court, ONCA and SCC, the Tribunal cannot carte blanche participate as a full fledged litigant as that would offend the principle of tribunal impartiality.

27. In order for the Tribunal to even consider participation, it would need to file the record of proceeding so it could submit to the court that it would like to explain the record and, perhaps (which I would oppose), the appropriate standard of review (see: paragraph 43 of OEB).

28. While there has been some flux or further refinement of the legal principles since Northwestern Utilities Ltd (1978 CanLII 17) (SCC), and BCGEU v. Indust. Rel Council, 1998 CanLII 2812, I would oppose the Tribunal arguing its decision was correct.

29. Many of the cases, where tribunals have been able to participate more robustly or fully, involve the offices of the privacy commissioners. This, in turn, is in line with those tribunals (privacy commissioners' offices) have investigative arms within their tribunals (i.e. delegated investigators for investigations of complaints prior to any consideration of whether a complainant is entitled to a "notice of hearing") along with policy making functions. Many of the privacy commissioners' office, by their empowering statutes, also have a requirement to appear before their Legislatures or Parliament (i.e. the federal privacy commissioner) to provide updates on the progress of the empowering legislation along with suggesting changes or amendments to the statute including its repeal and passing of new legislation. If I recall correctly, there is a current bill passing through Parliament that is set to replace PIPEDA if there are sufficient votes for the same.

30. The same cannot be said of the Licence Appeal Tribunal. My position is that the Tribunal, which represents itself as a quasi-judicial body, has limited standing (if any) to even make submissions on the prematurity issue in whatever triage, conference or hearing, and even further limited participation rights (if any). While the Tribunal is a "respondent", it is not necessarily a "party" per se. While its Notice of Appearance does represent that it intends to respond to the JRPA Application, that does not resolve whether it is entitled to respond to the JRPA Application.

31. Under this third part of the legal test, tribunals tasked with this latter responsibility, "the importance of fairness, real and perceived, weighs more heavily" against tribunal standing: Henthorne v. British Columbia Ferry Services Inc., 2011 BCCA 476, 344 D.L.R. (4th) 292, at para. 42.

32. This JRPA Application, whether you agree or disagree with the relief sought, is on an "island". Any such participation by the Tribunal, even arguing prematurity, creates, in my respectful submission the appearance of bias and partiality particularly, in light of, inter alia, the Tribunal not giving a notice of hearing and then not requesting any submissions from the respondent insurance companies, and then frankly going directly at me. I am not complaining or “playing the victim” as I did not mince words in my criticism of Vice Chair Morrisette.

33. The case of Goodis, which sets out the legal principles, is an excellent example of how that administrative tribunal standing is context specific and certainly in the access to privacy and protection of privacy context,

34. The headnote in Goodis notes that section 9(2) of the JRPA does not fully resolve the extent of the standing “Administrative law -- Judicial review -- Procedure -- Divisional Court not erring in granting Privacy Commissioner full standing in application for judicial review of Commissioner's decision -- Section 9\(2\) of Judicial Review Procedure Act entitling administrative tribunal to be party to proceedings but leaving scope of its standing to court's discretion -

35. My position, upon reflection and due consideration, is that the Tribunal may be a party but its standing rights are so curtailed by application of the OEB legal test and the principles of the ONSC Divisional Court in cases like Drewlo, Birani, Tartu College and Hutchison v. Aviva General, that it cannot advance the prematurity argument. If this argument is advanced by the respondent insurance companies, I do not take as much issue with it being advanced, although I disagree with its applicability herein (see: Applicant's Factum of December 10, 2024). In that regard, a fully informed adjudication is balanced against tribunal impartiality.

Volume #3(A): Procedurally

36. The statute (JRPA) (specifically ss. 9(2)) does not clearly resolve the issue, the ONSC Divisional Court must rely on its discretion to define the tribunal role in the JRPA Application (see: Ontario (Energy Board), paragraph 59)). However, in order for that to occur, the standard is that the Tribunal must bring a motion with a proposed factum of how it wishes to participate in this JRPA Proceeding.

37. As promised above, the Tribunal has a step prior to even participating in a case conference as a matter of the Rules of Civil Procedure, which is Rule 13.03(1):

Leave to Intervene in Divisional Court or Court of Appeal

13.03 (1) Leave to intervene in the Divisional Court as an added party or as a friend of the court may be granted by a panel of the court, the Chief Justice or Associate Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice or a judge designated by either of them. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 13.03 (1); O. Reg. 292/99, s. 4; O. Reg. 186/10, s. 2; O. Reg. 82/17, s. 16.

38. For the most part, there is a more relaxed attitude in allowing tribunal participation in statutory appeals of its decisions (see: Drewlo Holdings, paragraph j). As this is not a statutory appeal per se, it is a less relaxed approach.

Volume #3(C): Putting the cart before the horse: LAT needs to bring a motion to participate in this Judicial Review before a case conference could be set

39. As promised, I have reviewed the case law in this regard. There are 22 cases cited under subrule 13.03(1). In reverse chronological order, they are:

- a. Registrar AGCO v. Lopez, 2024 ONSC 591;
- b. Chippewas of Nawash Unceded First Nation v. Canada \(Attorney General\), 2022 ONCA 755;
- c. Kastner v. Health Professions Appeal and Review Board, 2022 ONSC 5553;
 - i. Nota bene: judicial review case

- d. Imperial Oil Limited v. Haseeb, 2022 ONCA 392 (CanLII);
 - i. Judicial review case
- e. Ontario (Natural Resources and Forestry) v. South Bruce Peninsula (Town), 2021 ONCA 749 (CanLII);
- f. J.S.-R. v. Children's Aid Society of Ottawa, 2020 ONSC 6642;
- g. Tomec v. Economical Mutual Insurance Company, 2019 ONCA 839 (nota bene: leave to appeal case at the ONSC so it is not relevant);
 - i. Judicial review case;
 - ii. Deals with exchange of documents (seminal point: in that the Applicant is already exchanged documents and to file his oral compendium);
- h. Kraft et al. v. City of Toronto et al, 2019 ONSC 1151;
- i. Birchland Plywood-Veneer Limited v. Activa Trading Co. Ltd., 2018 ONCA 864;
- j. Trinity Western University v. Law Society of Upper Canada, 2014 ONSC 5541 at paragraph 1 (which requires an order from the Associate Chief Justice [Morroco in this case] to designate a single judge to hear all motions (Nordheimer J in this case); and
- k. Others.

40. I will have to review them in detail in light of Mr. Boyce's email while we await to hear from the respondent insurance companies and Ms. Im for the AGO regarding my recent query.

Volume #3(C)(I): Case conferences

41. In order for any hearing, by way of motion of the Tribunal, on such issues to occur, case conference for that matter, any case conference judge or motions judge will need the benefit of the record of proceedings to be filed. Until that occurs, it is simply not possible to have such directions or decisions made by a triage or case management judge, or motions judge, as such a decision maker of the ONSC Divisional Court would not have the benefit of the record of proceedings. I proposed to assist with the same but I believe you and I had some separate dialogue where you referenced a 60 day convention for the Tribunal to file the record of proceedings which I now know was not correct as a matter of statute. I appreciate you (Mr. Boyce) were referencing a "convention" or "practice" but I cannot find the same either. However, the Tribunal cannot seek the benefit of certain procedures of the Divisional Court without complying at first instance with forthwith requirements.

42. In relation to the second part of the test in Ontario (Energy Board), the respondent insurance companies have filed a Notice of Appearance. While I have objected to its lack of being filed forthwith, and some of the language therein and by covering email of Mr. Nieuwland, part of the legal test hereunder is whether they are available to oppose the review. They are certainly available. The other part of the legal test hereunder is whether they have the necessary knowledge and expertise to fully respond to arguments on review, and they certainly have the necessary knowledge and expertise to fully respond to arguments on review. Therefore, Tribunal standing is less important.

43. Prior to any discussion of case conference, I again respectfully submit that we need to hear from the respondent insurance companies are going to oppose the relief sought in the judicial review which is part one of the legal test in Ontario (Energy Board). (Mr. Nieuwland, may we hear from you on behalf of the respondent insurance companies?)

44. In order for the Tribunal to even participate in a triage or case conference, let alone the JRPA Proceeding, it must comply with section 10 of the JRPA. Until it has done so, such a request for a case conference, which

I respectfully submit would be wasteful of resources considering that the JRPA Application has been perfected, I am merely awaiting the Case Center invitation, and my oral compendium is being hyperlinked and bookmarked to each relevant tab and page number.

Volume #3(D): Rule of the Civil Rules

45. Judicial review applications is governed, in part, by Rule 38.

46. Rule 38.01 states, “38.01 (1) Rules 38.02 to 38.12 apply to all proceedings commenced by a notice of application under rule 14.05, subject to subrules (2) and (3). O. Reg. 43/14, s. 8 (1).

47. Rule 38.02 states, “(2) Rules 38.02 and 38.09 do not apply to applications to the Divisional Court. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 38.01.

48. Therefore, Rules 38.03 to 38.07, and 38.10 to 38.13 apply. However, those rules have already been addressed or those steps have been taken such as the JRPA Application and Notices of Appearance.

Volume #3(E): Single Justice (rule 38): section 6(2) of the JRPA requests (not motion) are set down

49. In reviewing the law of urgent applications under section 6(2) of the JRPA and other secondary source material, it appears that section 38 of the Rules of Civil Procedure govern with particular reference to section 38.03(1) of the Civil Rules.

50. As stated previously, it appears that the setting of the JRPA Proceeding on urgency is one that is set down as opposed to a motion per se. I ground my belief regarding the same as follows under Rule 38.03(1):

(3.1) An urgent application may be set down for hearing on any day on which a judge is scheduled to hear applications, even if a lawyer estimates that the hearing is likely to be more than two hours long. O. Reg. 770/92, s. 11; O. Reg. 575/07, s. 3.”

51. I do not estimate that it will be longer than two hours before a single justice including if the single justice grants leave to me on said date. As noted above, the case law would only allow the Tribunal to be 15 minutes in oral argument and the respondent insurance companies cannot be very long either considering their lack of participation in the tribunal hearings (initial and reconsideration).

Volume #4: Prematurity doctrine argued by the LAT

Volume #4: AIG v. Riddell (LAT was not a party per se)

52. A recent case where the Tribunal argued prematurity in the judicial review context where Mr. Boyce was counsel to the LAT is reproduced herein:

SUPERIOR COURT OF JUSTICE – ONTARIO
DIVISIONAL COURT

RE: AIG Insurance Company of Canada, Applicant/Moving Party

AND:

Catherine Riddell, Respondent

COUNSEL: Kadey Schultz and Karly Lyons, for the Appellant/Moving Party
Navneet Ranu, for the Respondent
Jesse Boyce, for the Licence Appeal Tribunal
HEARD: October 29, 2024 (by video)

ENDORSEMENT

- [1] Catherine Riddell was one of the victims of the van attack on Yonge Street in Toronto on April 23, 2018 that resulted in the death of 10 people and caused severe injuries to many others.
- [2] Ms. Riddell filed two applications before the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT): one in November 2020 and one in April 2022. Those applications were withdrawn in October 2022.
- [3] In December 2023, Ms. Riddell filed a new application before the LAT in which she claims she has suffered catastrophic impairment as a result of the incident. A case conference was held in May 2024 and the LAT ordered the matter to proceed to a hearing.
- [4] In June 2024, the LAT gave counsel a list of possible dates for the hearing. There were no dates among those offered when all counsel were available. Counsel asked the LAT to provide other possible dates. The LAT declined to offer more dates and scheduled the hearing for seven days starting November 12, 2024.
- [5] Neither counsel for AIG Insurance nor counsel for Ms. Riddell are available on the November dates. AIG Insurance sought an adjournment of those dates. Ms. Riddell did not oppose AIG's request. The LAT denied the adjournment. Counsel for AIG submitted a request for reconsideration on September 20, 2024 but the LAT found it had no authority to reconsider an interim procedural decision.
- [6] AIG Insurance has filed an application for judicial review of the LAT's decision denying the adjournment and brought this motion to stay the underlying proceedings pending the hearing of its judicial review application.
- [7] The LAT argues the judicial review application is premature and should be quashed. The LAT also argues the stay motion should be dismissed.
- [8] The result of this stay motion will very likely resolve the underlying judicial review application one way or the other. In all the circumstances, I am exercising my discretion to adjourn the motion to a panel of the Divisional Court: Courts of Justice Act, s. 21(4).
- [9] The motion is adjourned to a panel of three judges of the Divisional Court on Thursday, November 7, 2024 at 10:00 am. The hearing is scheduled for two hours and will proceed by video.

53. I also note the decision of The Honourable Shore J on motion by TTC Insurance Company seeking an extension of time.

54. There are some other cases that I am reviewing in this regard.

Volume #5: Prematurity Decisions

55. Once I am able to upload my filed documents into Case Center, the court will have the benefit of being able to view my filed documents. I respectfully submit that I have addressed the prematurity doctrine on various levels in the filed Factum.

Re: Confirmation of the document to not be processed electronically herein for receipt, filing and service

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (Madam Clerk):

I write regarding the above. I confirm that I cannot see any literature that would allow me to retract the misguided online filing for my request for an urgent hearing. As such, I confirm that this is the filing below that need not be processed electronically. Thank you in this regard and my apologies again.

Lastly, I will presume that the filing at Appendix #2 can and will be processed electronically as it was not an urgent filing but merely to receive the Form 68(B) for the “notice of listing of hearing” with the approximate dates if this matter were to proceed before the ONSC Divisional Court. In my humble view, this will be an important aspect to know when determining when a judicial panel of three could hear this JRPA Application vis-à-vis a single justice (see: section 6(2) and (3) of the JRPA).

Re: response to Ms. Ibula's email - and kind reiteration of the above regarding some outstanding filings (yet to be confirmed as filed) from December 2024 and January 2025 et al

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court) (Ms. Ibula):

Thank you for your email. I confirm its receipt. Kindly extend my thanks to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore

In relation to the above, would you kindly confirm the above filing when you have a moment, so the record of proceeding demonstrates the same for the purposes in your email and otherwise?

I also note that I have not received a filing from the online registry (civil submissions) as particularized above. I would be most grateful to have a filed copy as it is past five business days.

I still note that the Tribunal has failed to file a record of proceeding forthwith and any such discussions at a case conference. I would ask that Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal attend to the same on a forthwith basis as if the record of proceedings will be required to be filed and known to the ONSC Divisional Court to have such discussions, including 'exchange of materials' and setting a hearing date.

In relation to the setting of a hearing date, I respectfully still maintain my request under section 6(2) of the JRPA.

I kindly still request, in advance of the same, that the respondent insurance companies provide their position under the Practice Direction, "Information Submitted to the Court" so we all know whether it will be advancing any preliminary objections. I am aware of the preliminary objection by the Tribunal (Mr. Boyce).

In relation to the exchange of materials, in the event Her Honour was unaware, I have already filed all my materials (see: Factum and Application Record filed and served on December 10 and 12, 2024) but for the oral compendium. I will have my oral outline and oral compendium complete in short order as it is now fully scanned and being hyperlinked and bookmarked.

Thank you.

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (Madam Clerk, Ms. Lawarence and Ms. Ibula):

I kindly write on a courtesy basis regarding the above. From a scheduling perspective, I confirm that I am unavailable on Friday, January 10, 2025, until Tuesday, January 14, 2025 (returning on said date). You will receive my auto replies on those days.

I have two medical appointments and my quarterly EKG and blood tests on Thursday, so I am largely unavailable on Thursday. I will have limited access to email on Thursday.

In the interim, I will await to hear from the respondents regarding the above so I can, inter alia, know the position of the respondent insurance companies regarding their position regarding any preliminary objections regarding the same and, more importantly in my view, the opportunity to review the record of proceeding to see if it accords with all of my filings and some of the filings of SNIC, then TDGIC and then back to SNIC. I appreciate that there were some tech errors during the LAT Proceeding and I remain available to Mr. Boye and the Tribunal if they are missing a page, or a document and I can assist subject to my availability regarding the above. I remain concerned that the Tribunal may not have the full record of proceedings and ask if Mr. Boyce confirm or deny if there are any issues in this regard.

I respectfully submit that as the purpose of case management is “The purpose of case management is to facilitate access to justice through the timely adjudication of proceedings in Divisional Court in a cost-effective and proportional manner”, that in order to make use of a case conference for such purposes, having the record of proceeding, which is quite overdue (see: section 10 of the JRPA) with an index, tabulations and enumerations is not only helpful but necessary. While my factum and recent affidavit provide much discussion regarding the justiciability doctrine of prematurity, in order to have the discussions before justice, I will wish to highlight various aspects of the record of proceeding. I am unable to do so until that is filed and served.

Thank you.

Boyce, Jesse (MAG) <Jesse.Boyce@ontario.ca>

Jan 7, 2025,
4:32 PM

to me, Matthew, Milene, Connor, Judie, Heather

Good afternoon Mr. McLean et al,

I have removed the Court from this chain. Subject to the Court's availability, the LAT has no preference for the case conference date and consents to whatever date is amenable to your and counsel's schedule.

Regarding the record of proceedings, it was the LAT's understanding that you consented to waiving the JRPA requirement for the LAT to file the record due to the narrow scope of the application, the urgency of the application and to reduce the volume of documents before the panel. I have attached your correspondence chain from December 4, 2024 entitled "Re: consent to dispensing with the need for the Tribunal to provide the record of proceeding – subject to – my inclusion of NOM #8 or another alternative" where you wrote at 9:49AM: "I have reviewed the record of proceeding and I am ready, willing and able to consent to dispensing with the need for the Tribunal to provide the entire record of proceeding subject to my inclusion of NOM #8 solely for background and context purposes." The email chain includes my response from December 5, 2024 stating that the LAT was content to have you include NOM #8 (or to populate the record any way you wish) in your application record so that a voluminous record of proceedings was not required. This is why a record has not been filed. Since you filed a factum and your application record, I understood that this was still the case.

That said, I apologize if there was confusion. My understanding is that the current record is estimated to be well over 5000 pages, so it will take time to prepare. If you wish to have the full record of proceedings prepared, please advise because it is certainly another issue that should be addressed at the case conference so that the Court can approve a timetable for same.

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court) and Mr. Nieuwland:

Thank you for your email. To be precise here, there is no “responding party” of TD per se. I again kindly request before Mr. Nieuwland leaves the country (and preferably forthwith) that he provides the positions of the three respondent insurance companies (with a particular focus on SNIC and TDHA) as it relates to the Practice Direction “Information Submitted to the Court”.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

“[10] The applicable principles that guide the court’s exercise of its discretion under Rule 13.02 on the question of tribunal intervention are well recognized. This includes consideration of the factors outlined in Peel (Regional Municipality) v. Great Atlantic & Pacific Co. of Canada Ltd., (1990) 1990 CanLII 6886 \(ON CA\), 74 O.R. (2d) 164 and the non-exhaustive factors identified in Ontario (Energy Board) v. Ontario Power Generation Inc., 2015 SCC 44 \(CanLII\), [2015] 3 S.C.R. 147 at para. 59. Concerns about tribunal participation on appeal should not be read to establish a categorical ban. For the most part, there is a more relaxed attitude in allowing tribunal participation in statutory appeals of its decisions. A discretionary approach provides the best means of ensuring the principles of finality and impartiality are respected without sacrificing the ability of reviewing courts to hear useful and important information and analysis. Ontario (Energy Board), at paras. 46, 52.

Re #2: kind request that the ONSC Divisional Court (Madam Clerk's office) – directs or requests that the respondent insurance companies (three separate entities) – provide the requisite information under the Practice Direction (Information Submitted to the Court) within two weeks of the JRPA Application being filed

Dear Madam Clerk (copied to the above addressees):

I confirm that upon further review, there are only two notices of appearance filed herein: (i) LAT (Mr. Boyce); and (ii) TDHA, SNIC and TDGIC (Mr. Nieuwland).

Only I and the Tribunal have complied with the Practice Direction involving "Information Submitted to the Court". I appreciate the reference to the above regarding exchange of documents but in the circumstances, I respectfully submit that the three insurance companies must comply with the Practice Direction and confirm or deny whether they have any preliminary objections and their time estimate for a hearing.

While I have requested the same from the three respondent insurance companies, they have not responded in kind. I would ask that your office direct or request the same from those three respondent insurance companies.

I respectfully submit that I am entitled to know who would be making what kind of argument and notice of the same whether at a triage, case conference, motion or hearing proper. Thank you kindly.

Re: confirmation that Mr. Boyce did respond to my query albeit in a separate email – context purposes

Dear Madam Clerk (copied to the above addressees):

I can confirm that Mr. Boyce did respond to me and I responded in kind in a separate thread. While I believe we canvassed the distinctness of our positions. Without delving into the truth of the contents of the emails and speaking for one another, I can confirm that I have never waived any right to hold others to compliance with any statute, regulations, rule, practice direction or guide, and the same applies to me.

For the email thread herein, I can confirm that I have provided notice to the Tribunal (as this is solely a Tribunal statutory responsibility) that if it does not file the record of proceeding by the end of the business day, I intend to rely on the non-compliance by the Tribunal for any purpose that is lawful. In that vein, and based on my reading of the language of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, to the extent that the Tribunal does not do so, I will have to potentially bring a motion and seek costs as the record of proceeding is inextricably connected to the issue of prematurity or as many are referring to that ‘anti-justiciability doctrine’ as the “AAR Doctrine” (adequate alternative remedy doctrine).

Mr. Boyce appears to have a page count of 5000 some pages which I say is incorrect based on my computation of the same. However, I will await the filing and service of the same as the filing of the record of proceeding is entirely distinct from the exchange of documents such as factums and application records under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

In that vein, I have copied and pasted from my current version of my Oral Outline (draft) the following:

I note the following in relation to section 10 of the JRPA for your edification in the event you were unaware which is a direct copy and paste from the Oral Outline:

“[17] A "proceeding" or "proceedings" refers to a process or step in a process that determines a legal right:

Although the word "proceeding" is often used in the context of an action in court, its definition is more expansive . . . [T]he "word 'proceeding' has a very wide meaning, and includes steps or measures which are not in any way connected with actions or suits". In Black's Law Dictionary (6th ed. 1990), at p. 1204, the definition of "proceeding" includes, inter alia, "an act necessary to be done in order to obtain a given end; a prescribed mode of action for carrying into effect a legal right".
Markevich v. Canada, 2003 SCC 9 \(CanLII\), [2003] 1 S.C.R. 94, [2003] S.C.J. No. 8, at para. 24.

“The purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a "record of proceedings" is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it has the information and evidence as it appeared before the tribunal in the first instance. A court reviewing an adjudicative decision may look at decisions to admit evidence, submissions of witnesses, and other evidence and may substitute its judgment for that of the court [or tribunal] of first instance (Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ON CA), [2000] O.J. No. 2987, 136 O.A.C. 357 (C.A.), at para. 23; Jacko v. McLellan, 2008 CanLII 22921 \(ON SCDC\) at paragraph 18).:

I respectfully submit that until the Tribunal complies with its forthwith duties, it would be premature to schedule any “case management”.

While there may be value to have without prejudice discussions between myself, the Tribunal and respondent insurance companies, I would ask that on a go forward basis that the Tribunal and respondent insurance companies exclusively email in this thread so we are not wasting valuable resources, and the “record” herein is complete and accurate.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: confirmation of my objection to any involvement of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore on grounds of an objectively perceived reasonable apprehension of bias based upon, inter alia, her previous position

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court):

Kindly provide a copy of this correspondence and email thread to the attention of the relevant chief justice and his or her delegate (if applicable) along with a copy to The Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore. I presume the Justice Shore referred to in the above is the same as below.

I wish to again express my gratitude for the opportunity and honour of arguing my case, which I say is public interest, before the ONSC (either Divisional Court or by way of a single justice of the ONSC (if applicable and leave is granted)). However, I am compelled to raise a potential conflict of interest, lack of independent and/or a reasonably perceived apprehension of bias involving the direction of Madam Justice Shore.

While I would have been able to cross-reference the Record Of Proceeding had the Tribunal complied with the same, I will do so by general references herein and in a subsequent email and then I attach the relevant affidavit material. I do not draw this to the attention of the court light. I will particularize it further in short order.

However, for urgency purposes, my former spouse (the named individual policyholder regarding the Insurance Policy (which is squarely at issue herein) had a then former spouse, by separation (in 2017), and then by divorce decree thereafter in 2018. His name is Mr. Andrew Papadimitripoulos. He is a lawyer with the LSO but a licensee solely employed by none other than TD Insurance. His address in the LSO Directory is that of the Markham office particularized in the filed materials.

As this is in my sworn evidence in the Record Of Proceeding, I arrived in Toronto on April 11, 2018, to reunite with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos. When I arrived I became aware that Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos had retained family counsel in Epstein Cole. I was aware on some levels of the stage of their matrimonial litigation. There was also an offshoot of said individual engaging in a litany of deplorable pieces of conduct involving myself and Ms. Artopoulos. It is contained in an affidavit filed under seal.

While Mr. Nieuwland represented in my conflict of interest motion, where the party name was still TDGIC, that Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos was never involved in my file or otherwise (see: motion response of the Fictitious Respondent in April 2024), I found evidence in the Summer/Fall 2024 that demonstrated that he was more than likely to be the signatory of the document referred to as the “As Per A. Nurse” signature document or the Forged Signature document.

As a result of the same, I would respectfully request that Madam Justice Shore not be involved in any way with this JRPA Proceeding and that her direction is set aside. I appreciate that this may require a motion from me or a set hearing date but in the interim, I have drawn this to the attention of the court to demonstrate good faith (see: cases like Yellow Cedar and Talisman).

Again, I appreciate that Madam Justice Shore is of the utmost repute but this matter is too important to myself and frankly the public to even have a scintilla of evidence that there may be an issue or perception of perceived conflict of interest or bias. This is particularly apposite when Mr. Karat, the non-licensee who improperly executed the SNIC Response works from the same location as Mr. Andrew P., and they had jointly acted on a file previously.

I will boldly presume that Madam Justice Sharon Store is the same former partner Ms. Shore at Epstein Cole LLP unless I hear otherwise.

I would ask that the chief justice or the associate chief justice direct a hearing regarding the same, by way of date, on a motion by myself in the event, after considered review which I anticipate would take a few days and into next week that Madam Justice Shore does not recuse herself and her order is not voided or set aside for the above and to follow reasons.

Thank you kindly and all of the above is without any personal attack whatsoever on Madam Justice Shore at all or the ONSC but I was compelled to notify the court et al on a prompt basis and I did so forthwith.

Appendix

Sharon Shore, a partner at Epstein Cole LLP, is appointed a judge of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice in Toronto. She replaces Justice I.A. MacDonnell, who elected to become a supernumerary judge effective July 30, 2018.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court):

I write further to the above. In this regard, I attach the first of several affidavits to underscore my respectful submissions supported by uncontroverted evidence that there is a reasonable apprehension of bias by the above and to follow. I appreciate the demands upon this ONSC Divisional Court and this evidence was known to the respondent insurance companies and the Tribunal for some time. In that vein, I will provide a letter to the court at first instance that outlines some of this evidence which should have been already filed by the Tribunal.

If consent is of assistance so that this JRPA Proceeding can be governed in accordance with the Civil Rules, I would ask that the respondents consent to the relief that I am seeking informally herein.

This is titled “Affidavit #37” and it was filed under seal. Thank you.

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court):

I write further to the above. I attach affidavits #15 and #16 (with e-receipt for one of the affidavits) which condescended upon particulars of the conflict of interest and conduct of one Mr. Andrew Papadimitriopoulos from the time of my arrival in Toronto, and his relationship with the family law firm of Epstein Cole LLP.

I confirm that my objection remains at first instance to the direction of Madam Justice Shore and I respectfully submit, if necessary, that it must be set aside. To the extent that a motion is required, I am amenable to having those materials prepared and filed, and then served on the respondents and any interested persons including the above-named gentleman.

In the spirit of efficiency, I say that this was one of the many reasons that the Tribunal has not filed the record of proceeding on a forthwith basis.

Thank you.

Re: confirmation of my objection to any involvement of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore on grounds of an objectively perceived reasonable apprehension of bias based upon, inter alia, her previous position

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court):

I write further to the above. This will conclude the relevant materials filed in the Record of Proceeding which are: (i) my COI (NOM #6) submissions; and (ii) those of the Fictitious Respondent in TDGIC.

As noted at paragraph 9, Mr. Nieuwland signed, in his capacity as a member in good standing of the LSO and while not an “officer of the court” therein similar principles apply, as follows:

“....Please also note Andrew Papadimitropoulos is in no way associated with Andy Gera, nor has Andrew Papadimitropoulos been involved in any way with this claim or access request.”

Admittedly, it was rather serendipitous to find an anniversary card of Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos to Ms. Nicole Artopoulos and be able to compare the “As Per A. Nurse” forged signature on the first OCF-18 to that of his rather distinct writing. Consistent with my promptness here, I brought it to the attention of the Tribunal extremely promptly.

Trusting the Tribunal will be able to file all of the documents attached herein, as they are part of the “record of proceeding”, I need not attend to an affidavit attaching them all.

I will await to hear from the respondents on my request for their consent to the relief I seek and ensuring that this ONSC proceeding is governed in accordance with the rule of law and the required independence of justices (with again no castigation personally against Madam Justice Shore as I would not suggest the same) guaranteed by the provisions of section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act.

Thank you.

URGENT – SNIC HAS NOT CONSENTED TO AN ADJOURNMENT OF THE HEARING PROPER IN THE TRIBUNAL PROCEEDING

Re: SNIC will not consent to a brief adjournment of the LAT Proceeding

Re #2: reiterated respectful requests herein for the below

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court):

I can now confirm that Mr. Nieuwland has confirmed on behalf of his sole client in the LAT Proceeding that his client [singular] will not consent to an adjournment. As such, I will exhaust the avenue of an adjournment motion and submissions therein and apprise the ONSC Divisional Court of the same with a status update when available. However, suffice it to say, I respectfully submit that the urgency which I conveyed in my JRPA Application, Applicant's Factum, and my affidavit #2 has increased.

If I obtain an adjournment, which I doubt I will with the current composition and issues with the LAT, I would kindly ask that you provide me with the invitation to the Case Center.

While I appreciate Ms. Lawrence's responses, prompt as they were, regarding an apparent, but unknown to me, apparent convention, that was in contradiction to the ONSC Divisional Court JRPA Guide^[1] (i.e. an invitation will be sent out after the JRPA Application was brought), to only provide an invitation once there is a set hearing. I also respectfully submit that my interpretation, consistent with the only "Guide" I know, is consistent with the requirement of submitting documents promptly by way of uploading into Case Center (formerly Case Lines).

I will presume that my above requisitions have been filed and in light of the above. I appreciate that uploading is different than filing and the filing of the materials is the paramount documents but nonetheless, I am doing my best to be prompt and I, with great respect, submit that the Court should have access to the materials for review in the format of "case line numbers" whether it is for any type of appearance whatsoever.

I also say so in light of Mr. Boyce confirming that he has what he believes to have the correct page count of the record of proceeding. I trust after he files and serves the same, he can upload the same into Case Center but for efficient and respectful communications between all, it would be helpful, no matter what the appearances are, to be able to refer to the same.

Also, I am contemplating the bringing of at least one motion (potentially on short leave) so even on that basis, I would ask that an invitation is sent to me so I can acclimate myself (which I say is also consistent with the document I received relating to my Certificate Of Perfection) and ensure that I am fully accustomed with the same.

If it requires a requisition, I will do so and request the invite regarding the same.

I appreciate that there have been quite a few emails from me but naturally the above potential conflict of interest, non-consent by SNIC to the adjournment request and increasing urgency required my drawing all to the attention to the Court and the respondents.

I confirm, as a courtesy, that when (as of recently)(I have been filing through the “civil submissions online” portal, I note that I am the “only party” and the other box is for “non-parties”. I believe that will need to be corrected for those parties that have presumptive standing under the JRPA in relation to my JRPA Application.

I trust that all of the above is sufficiently clear and unambiguous and I confirm that I will continue to rely on strict compliance with all laws and rules unless I say otherwise, and I confirm that I am held to the higher standard.

Thank you kindly.

Re: Confirmation of a date in the ONSC, before a single justice (Toronto region), where I will be seeking leave pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA

Re #2: Calendly information at appendix below

Dear Messers Nieuwland and Boyce (copied to the other addressees including ONSC Divisional Court regional centre email (kind attention: Madam Clerk Clegg and Ms. Lawrence) and ONSC Divisional Court (scheduling division):

As noted above, I tender a filing in the form of a requisition for an urgent hearing but I did not hear back from the ONSC Divisional Court in this regard per se. I do not castigate it in any way but pursuant to the principle of dominus litis and the urgency of the same, I have reserved the date of January 21, 2025, in the ONSC (General) for urgent hearings before a single justice sitting that date wherein I will seek leave pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA, and, if granted, the orders sought in my JRPA Application and Factum.

I thank Mr. Nieuwland for providing the dates that he is out of the country.

As factums and application records are due this Monday, January 13, 2025, I still remain able to speak to the matter, for the aforementioned reasons, on the 16th of January, 2025 but nonetheless the date of the 21st of January 2025 has been reserved.

In relation to the Tribunal (LAT/AABS), if it does not file the record of proceeding pursuant to section 10 of the JRPA, and section 20 of the SPPA, it will not be able to reference the same in its factum and ‘application record’. Therefore, the “forthwith requirement” becomes somewhat moot.

As noted previously, and since the respondent insurance companies are apparently opposing the relief, pursuant to the legal test enunciated by the SCC in Ontario (Energy Board) and section 9(2) of the JRPA not clearly resolving the issue of party status for the Tribunal, along with the Tribunal being a quasi-judicial body (according to it), I naturally object to any participation by the Tribunal as a party. However, its duties to file the record of proceeding remain.

The required requisition shall follow along with a copy of its email.

My oral outline and oral compendium are now done subject to some final hyperlinking and bookmarking of the same.

I will continue to copy all above for courtesy purposes.

Thank you.

By completing this Calendly process, you indicate you have made your best effort with all parties to consent to the selected date. Do all sides consent to this date?

Yes

Please use the following field to list 1) the nature of the action or application (e.g., personal injury, specific tort, or other case type identified on Form 14F); and (2) the rule(s) or statutory provisions under which the motion/application is brought.

The nature of the application is an JRPA Application which was filed and served on November 15, 2024. The Applicant's factum was filed on December 10, 2024, and the Application Record was filed and served on December 12, 2024. The JRPA Application, inclusive of its factum, seek particularized relief, inter alia, in the nature of certiorari in quashing the decision of Vice Chair Morrisette of the Licence Appeal Tribunal/AABS that dismissed relief of the JRPA Applicant, then a SABS Applicant, to add the party of TDHA as the First Insurer, pursuant to Reg 283, add said causes of action against TDHA, and relief in the nature of amendment of pleadings (the "Refused Final Orders" or "Refused Final Decisions"). The JRPA Applicant seeks to have a justice of this ONSC grant leave pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA and not only quash the Refusal Final Decisions of Vice Chair Morrisette but a reconsideration decision of Vice Chair Lake of the LAT (AABS) and substitute the same with orders sought at first instance before the Tribunal in what he has particularized and defined as NOM #14.

The Applicant perfected the same with a Certificate of Perfection by paying for, filing and serving the same on December 13, 2024. The Applicant filed the requisite affidavit for service thereafter. The Applicant has also filed and served an affidavit (his affidavit #2) in support of his seeking of leave before a single justice (not an associate judge) of the ONSC pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA, 38.03(3.1) of the Rules of Civil Procedure, section 18 of the Courts of Justice Act et al.

The insurance company respondents and the Tribunal have until January 13, 2024, to file their factums and application records. The JRPA Applicant's oral compendium and written oral argument outline are substantially complete subject to bookmarking and hyperlinking in accordance with the Civil Rules and relevant practice directions.

A copy of this print out and the requisition, to be completed and emailed to the email provided of civilpracticecourt@ontario.ca, will be provided to the respondents and their counsel (along with their legal assistants).

Please select all that apply (if none apply, please select the last option):

The application or motion is urgent;

I acknowledge 1) my responsibility to notify all parties that I have used Calendly to schedule this appearance 2) upon completing this process, I must complete the form found at <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/files/forms/civ/cpc-req-attend-EN.doc>

I confirm I will provide all parties with all Calendly email notifications that I receive related to this matter, and I will complete the Civil Practice Court requisition form and email it to Civilpracticecourt@ontario.ca upon completing this process

Re: confirmation that my civil requisition form has been filed with the ONSC civil practice court for the hearing of my urgent application pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA for the hearing date of January 21, 2025

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I write regarding the above on a courtesy basis to all and as required to confirm the same with those respondents who have filed Notices of Appearance. I confirm that I have filed the required civil requisition form in Word (as required) regarding the hearing of my urgent JRPA Application.

As noted previously, I had requested access to Case Center (formerly CaseLines) and was supposed to receive the same after the filing of my JRPA Application (see: Judicial Review Divisional Court Guide (the “JRPA Guide”) but I have not been able to have any individual at the Divisional Court provide me with the same. It has been nearly two months since that time. I will try my best to obtain the same from the ONSC (‘non-Divisional Court’ or “General Division”) so I can commence uploading filed documents that were required to be filed promptly but I have been unable to do so but certainly not unwilling.

Moreover, I confirm out of an abundance of caution that despite filing and serving my Certificate Of Perfection (along with paying the requisite fees which is nearly triple the amount for the JRPA Application – which is certainly understandable but nonetheless a demonstration of the importance and significant of the same), I did not receive any form 68(B) despite the mandatory language of the Civil Rules in this regard. I note that my requisition remains in “processing mode” despite being required to be processed (accepted or rejected) within 5 business days. This was juxtaposed to my affidavit #2 that was filed in the “Civil Claims Submissions” and returned as filed within a day or so.

I am certainly most grateful for the efforts of the Divisional Court and its staff including Madam Registrar Clegg, Ms. Lawrence et al and I again extend my thanks in all regards.

I intend to end this JRPA Proceeding on January 21, 2025, as I am so entitled by the Legislature’s intent under section 6(2) of the JRPA, and effectively end the LAT Appeal. I confirm that my oral compendium will not include affidavit #3 as that was solely to draw the issue to the attention of this court in a confidential manner and hopefully a learning experience for all involved.

As this Divisional Court can undoubtedly see, and perhaps Mr. Nieuwland did not know of Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos’ involvement, there was blatant unfairness occurring even before the LAT Appeal was commenced on December 24, 2023, but, more importantly, anyone with adequate vision can see the similarity between two the “As Per A. Nurse” forged signature and the “anniversary card” that I found in September 2024. It was a fortuitous discovery as it was under the bed of where that ‘gentlemen’ used to live (and my residence since April 2018) but nonetheless dispositive of his clandestine involvement in my SABS claim and LAT Appeal. I do not have any evidence of his involvement in this JRPA Proceeding herein but nonetheless the appearance of fairness, impartiality, independence et al must be paramount particularly with the public interest issues at play. For a lawyer of a bar or society to not know what consequences of “as per” and a “signature” is rather concerning. However, I need not get into any more minutia and other examples as the public interest issues are bigger than I and the immaturity and lack of professionalism demonstrated by obvious jealousy and petulance albeit with health, safety, life and liberty to suffer as a result. I will optimistically presume it was one of those weird coincidences that occurred and leave it at that for now. To the extent I have to address it further, my affidavit #3 is filed and I welcome speaking to the matter with filed submissions and further evidence is required.

If this court needs any formal submissions, motion materials et al, I am amenable to do so even if the issues are or become moot. I confirm nothing has been set in this ONSC Divisional Court but I will obviously continue to monitor this email and update where applicable. Whether it is the Divisional Court or ONSC that is able to send the invitation to Case Center, I would ask that the Divisional Court do so as per the JRPA Guide, and I extend my thanks in advance.

My requirement from here as it relates to the CPC is to notify the parties. I will do so separately where applicable.

That being said, if there are any further actions that I need to take in relation to the above issues or otherwise, I await to hear from the Divisional Court. Moreover, if I have missed any forms or documents denoted above, I beg your pardon and welcome the provision of any. Thank you kindly.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Court file number: Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR

Type of document: email with attachment (requisition #3)

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (Toronto Region) (attention: Head Registrar Ms. Clegg):

I write regarding the above. While I was supposed to be taking some days off after a medical procedure, I had to attend to some issues that have arisen from what appears to be some tardiness in discharging on certain duties of your office. I say the same with the greatest of respect and appreciation for the work that you and your office do. I do appreciate that there was a Canada Post strike and there may have been a mailing (see: language in the Civil Rules in this regard) of the Notice of Listing of the Hearing after I filed and paid for the Certificate Of Perfection, I cannot find any record of the same. While it does not appear that there is any requirement to send the same via email, if it was sent via mail, I would be most grateful to know when it was sent out and the approximate dates that were so diarized therein. However, this seems unlikely, as I am somewhat in the dark here as there is no ability to my knowledge to remotely access the contents of the filed documents in the above noted JRPA Proceeding file, as my Requisition #1 (see: confirmation number in the Requisition #3) remains in a status of still processing. My review leads me to believe that any filer of a document in the Civil Claims Submissions portal is entitled and said service either accepts or rejects a filing within five business days. Kindly correct me if I am wrong.

While I appreciate the promptness of Ms. Lawrence in an and around the statutory holidays regarding my “Case Center” query and request for an invitation of the same, she was not able, and I am unable to find any, that reconciles the unequivocal representation in the JR Guide (for ONSC Divisional Court), which has been effective since 2022, that an applicant shall receive an invite to Case Center (formerly CaseLines) once he or she has filed to point me to any authority that was discrepant with that representation. Leaving aside the technicalities of the same, this is only good practice to do so especially with someone like me who has no issue per se providing the filed materials in correct form but is new to that technological aspect of Case Center.

I had set up an account promptly after filing and paying for the Certificate of Perfection as per the notice I received regarding my obligations in this regard.

I have another requisition to file that will be an amended one in light of the above but I will presume unless I hear otherwise, as I do appreciate how busy your office is, that will address another issue that has arisen as a result of not, at least, receiving the Notice of Listing For Hearing and confirming that my requisition (urgent) for a hearing before a single justice of the ONSC pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA was accepted for filing. I appreciate in that regard that the filing of the same did not guarantee a date but nonetheless it led to me believing that it was not properly filed with your office when it was. Out of an abundance of caution, this arose as a result of my first two requisitions being stuck in processing on January 2, 2025, albeit filed in Civil Claims Submissions on December 24, 2024. My opinion was further bolstered by my affidavit #2 being accepted for filing and returned with a filing stamp et al after filing the same.

I will address that further in my next requisition but I do hereby confirm that I will rely on the date that the email was delivered without any bounce-back as the authentic and correct date of filing for such documents.

Lastly, I greatly appreciate the work and efforts you and your staff undertake but this has been an urgent matter from the outset. Thank you kindly for now.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: Requisition #2

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (Toronto Region) (attention: Head Registrar Ms. Clegg):

As promised, please find my amended requisition, taking into consideration the events particularized previously, of what I have defined as my “Requisition #2” which was filed on January 2, 2025, seeking a hearing before a single justice of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA. I have amended the previously filed requisition on the basis of analogy to other rules as I do not see any prohibition for doing so along with removing some previous dates that are not feasible considering the current date.

I again confirm that at no time did I receive any rejection of this filing from the ONSC Divisional Court. I do confirm that I initially on December 24, 2024, sought to have said original requisition #2 via the Civil Claims Submissions (online) but I withdrew the same by email above.

I will further update on the emails that I received from the ONSC and my response to it with the relevant counsel copied. Trusting this will be deemed filed on Monday, January 13, 2025, I will update said courthouse accordingly.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

URGENT – NOTICE - ABUNDANCE OF CAUTION

- VIA EMAIL

Court file number: Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR

Type of document: email with attachment (requisition #3)

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al

Re: Confirmation that the respondents who had filed Notices of Appearances have failed to comply with Rule 680.04(4) to file responsive factums and application records within 30 days of my delivery (filing and service)

- Re #2: Tribunal remains in breach of its statutory obligation to file a record of proceeding forthwith (see: section 10 of the JRPA)

- Re #3: Further emails – abundance of caution to follow

- Re #4: Residual

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (Toronto Region) (attention: Head Registrar Ms. Clegg):

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I confirm that pursuant to the above statutory sections and sections^[1] under the Rules of Civil Procedure that the respondents failed to comply with the deadline passed by the LGIC under the Rules of Civil Procedure and have not opposed the JRPA Application including the relief sought in said notice of application for judicial review, Applicant's Factum (December 10, 2024) which was cross-referenced to the Application Record (December 12, 2024). As the respondents, should they have wished to oppose had 30 days from December 12, 2024, 30 days landed on Saturday, January 11, 2025, and they failed to do so.
3. In addition to those failures by each of the distinct insurance companies and the Tribunal itself, the Tribunal has apparently taken the view that its statutory obligation under the JRPA is one that it can choose when it sees fit to comply with. As a creature of statute, it is a rather interesting take on statutory obligations. In any event, I will utilize that contextual factor for my oral outline for my oral compendium which can be completed, filed and served.
4. As I remain of the view that this JRPA Proceeding involves the public interest, I will continue to provide copies of my filings herein. However, my position is that since those respondents who filed Notices of Appearances did not oppose the relief sought that there is no need to waste the court's time with a costs outline. While the Tribunal did not comply with the Practice Direction section on "Information Submitted to the Court", the respondent insurance companies did not. I can hardly reasonably and responsibly say that a Notice of Appearance, and that "information submitted to the court" with a few emails constitutes justification to seek costs against the Tribunal.

5. My oral outline and oral compendium shall follow. At this time, the entirety of the oral compendium is bookmarked and hyperlinked. I am now having the oral outline bookmarked and hyperlinked therein. To have one final comprehensive document that addresses all matters and issues, some of the content therein may turn out to be irrelevant but I will be over-inclusive as opposed to underinclusive. My filed and served Application Record has been reduced a great deal to only those seminal documents that are relevant to the questions of law which I respectfully posed in my JRPA Application and Factum which predated my filing and paying for the Certificate of Perfection which entitled me to a Form 68(B) in mid-December 2024.

6. I will oppose and object to any of the respondents attempting to file responsive factums and application records without a motion to seek leave and obtain the same.

7. I will, of course, now rely on this fact to seek and obtain an adjournment of the underlying proceeding which is exclusively against SNIC which is not the First Insurer. Irrespective of whether an adjournment is granted or not, I respectfully submit that the issues herein remain urgent from a public interest standpoint.

8. While I will have to review the same, it would seem that those respondents that filed notices of appearances are entitled to notice of steps in the proceeding but are not “parties” per se as they have not opposed any relief herein.

9. I shall prepare two draft orders for two hypotheticals: (i) one in the event I appear before a single justice of the ONSC; and (ii) one before a panel of the ONSC Divisional Court panel.

10. I respectfully reiterate my outstanding requests, objections and requests for clarifications. I look forward to expanding on the same for the record of proceeding herein to ensure I remain respectful of the resources of the court but I ensure that I have fully particularized my positions.

11. I remain of the belief, sworn under the penalty of perjury, that the Tribunal does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding. I confirm that the Tribunal has not even disputed the same and it would require an affidavit to dispel and counter my sworn evidence.

12. Thank you.

^[1]To be particularized in further detail in short order but I have recently left a local hospital so I will address it later

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Regarding the below (pursuant to the Consolidated Practice Direction on sending emails and enclosing documents by the document naming protocol contained therein)

Court file number: Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

Re: confirmation of current status as of January 14, 2025

Re #2: reservation of all rights – strict compliance – by myself – and notice of continued strict compliance upon the respondents – respectfully requested (where so obligated) by the Court and the Registrar

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court):

1. I write on a courtesy basis and out of an abundance of caution. I write on a continued urgent basis considering the timing of the underlying hearing in the LAT Appeal (see: January 24, 2025). I confirm that I am in the process of finalizing not only my adjournment request therein but also my oral compendium. Contained in the latter are some references to issues herein that I have arisen so I file and serve (i.e. see definition of “deliver” which is distinct from ‘exchange’).
2. However, I felt compelled to ensure that I have fully articulated my positions, with reference to the facts and law, at this time to ensure a conclusion to this JRPA Proceeding that is in accordance with the statutes and regulations, including the Rules of Civil Procedure along with any “practice directions” which are subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure. Due to the urgency, when referencing dates below, I am doing so based upon my references electronically but not my “hard copy binder”. I apologize if I am off by a day or so.
3. I repeat and rely upon the above in relation to the foregoing and following.
4. I confirm that since the outset of my payment and filing of the JRPA Application, I have complied or done my best to comply with all of the statutes, regulations and ‘practice directions’. In utilizing the language of ‘done my best to comply with’, I note that where I erred, with sincere apologies (then and now), I promptly corrected the same. There were two such examples that come to mind: (i) attempting to file my Certificate Of Perfection on Friday, December 13, 2024, via email at first instance without payment at first instance; and (ii) the filing of my urgent hearing requisition on December 24, 2024. I corrected the former, with thanks to Head Registrar Ms. Clegg, on a forthwith basis and notified the Court and the respondents. I corrected the latter on January 2, 2025.

5. To supplement the above in relation to Case Center, I also note that in receiving my filed JRPA Application (November 2024), I also received a notice that I would receive access to Case Center via an invitation link. I do not believe that I have received the same but I will continue to check my “spam folder”. I note the definition of “practice direction”^[iii], pursuant to Rule 1.07, and the Divisional Court has represented that in its “judicial review guide” that once or upon the Applicant has brought the JRPA application, she, he or it, will receive an invitation to Case Center. As such, I again respectfully and politely reissue and reiterate that request. In my view, there is also sound policy reasons for the language in the Divisional Court Judicial Review Guide which is that the justices have electronic and remote access to the same in the event that issue any “requirements to appear” (like Justice Shore did – albeit the Court received my prompt and immediate objection along with seeking clarification which I will expand upon in a subsequent email), interim orders, directions at or through case conferences (which I appreciate are denoted in the Divisional Court Practice Direction as orders) et al. In referencing “et al”, it is noted that a timetable, discrepant from the Civil Rules, can made through the case conference. As none had occurred as of yesterday at 4:01 p.m. (January 13, 2025), the respondents, who had filed Notices of Appearance or any others, contravened the requirements under Rule 68.04 and others.

6. I confirm that the failure to file and serve a factum is distinct from that of the mere ‘exchanging of materials’ (as both of those words between the preposition “of” are not defined). However, I am still reviewing the same under the Civil Rules.

7. In any event, the Tribunal’s failure to file the record of proceeding forthwith is not a mere irregularity and cannot be saved by the Civil Rules on account of, inter alia, rule 1.02(1)(3.) as the JRPA, section 10 is a statute which provides a different procedure. My sworn evidence remains that the Tribunal does not have a full and accurate record of the record of proceeding and it is not that Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal is unwilling but he is unable on its behalf. I empathize with his situation but I offered my assistance and he did not (or perhaps could not) accept that offer on behalf of the Tribunal.

8. At the very least, the Tribunal would have had to cure its contravention of section 10 of the JRPA by January 13, 2025. It did not.

9. I confirm, out of an abundance of caution (as there was some misunderstanding that I had waived compliance with a statute which I did not and I do not believe I could as that is an obligation upon the Tribunal by the Legislature under section 10 of the JRPA) that any such filings of factums and/or application records will be nullities or void ab initio^[iv]. Kindly accept this letter as further notice, to be placed in the record of proceeding, that any such attempts (if applicable) will be objected to whether I confirm the same thereafter.

10. To bolster my position as to why I remain ready, willing and able to proceed on the dates so referred to, and the lack of necessity and perhaps ability to seek costs, I refer to the language of “party to party costs”. When reviewing the definitions, I do not see any definition of “party”. Without any respondents filing factums and application records despite the following in relation to the filed documents in the LAT Proceeding (see: my Factum was substantively similar to my JRPA Application and my JRPA Application was substantively similar to my reconsideration submissions (ten pages) and my reconsideration submissions (but for standard of review arguments) was substantively similar to my NOM #14 and NOM #15 submissions (six pages each)) and the Application Record was served on the respondents (SNIC and THDA) on the dates in early and late August 2024, and filed with the Tribunal at the same time, I cannot find any legal bases for the respondents to be “parties”.

11. I respectfully note that the Tribunal has evinced one of the clearest intentions to not participate by not filing, on a forthwith basis and now not at all, the record of proceeding. When combined with the Tribunal not filing any factum and application record, the customary orders of the ONSC Divisional Court (see: Hutchinson v. Aviva, Drewlo, Penney v. Co-operators, Gonsalves, Higashi and others) that the Tribunal limit is factum to 15 pages and only speak to the “record itself”, the Tribunal, by its conduct, has further demonstrated its complete lack of interest and intention to participate. The closest that the Tribunal has come to participation was the filing of a Notice of Appearance which was “reasonably forthwith” on November 27, 2024, and submitting information to the court. However, its half-day estimate has now gone by the wayside and was not consistent with the limited time afforded to the Tribunal by customary orders before the Divisional Court when the Tribunal, a quasi-judicial administrative body as it so self-refers, in oral argument (see: 15 minutes cited in Hutchinson v. Aviva). Perhaps, the half-day estimate of the Tribunal was predicated upon some participation by the respondent insurance companies but that is now a moot point.

12. In relation to the respondent insurance companies, the Court will note that it was not until I removed Mr. Nieuwland from the email chain, by my reliance on the Divisional Court Judicial Review Guide (i.e. those that did not participate in the hearing below are presumptively disentitled from participating in the Divisional Court judicial review processes), that he filed on behalf of all three distinct insurance companies on December 3, 2024.

13. However, the three distinct insurance companies have not demonstrated any intention to participate herein as they did not even file the required information to the court in accordance with the Practice Direction (Divisional Court).

14. The closest that counsel, with due respect to him, has come to evincing an intention to participate herein was his reference to when he was leaving the country.

15. Without a record of proceeding, the prematurity objection, solely by the Tribunal, cannot be properly argued or even ‘discussed’.

16. There was no justification for the respondents, who filed Notices of Appearances, to, at the very least, file factums. To the extent that they were relying on my Application Record, it was open to them to do so and highlight some of those ‘materials’ (i.e. in the Application Record). [\[iv\]](#)

17. Leaving aside my objection and challenge to the pre-hearing “appearance compulsion” by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, which I do not dispute a judge can require such appearances, I note that the language of parties was utilized therein. At this time, my position remains that the Tribunal and respondent insurance companies are not parties. If they say they are with legal authority, I will review the position and respond in kind. If I do not hear from them, then I will presume that there is no objection to my position and/or difference of opinion. In that regard, it simply means that I personally suffer by not being able to seek some level of contribution or indemnification as it relates to “party to party costs”.

18. With that segue, civil case management is under Rule 77. The relayed statement of Shore J. from the Registrar to the Applicant, LAT and respondent insurance companies was in the nature of Rule 77.04(2) and nothing more, at best, which is “(2) A judge or associate judge may, on his or her own initiative, require the parties to appear before him or her or to participate in a conference call to deal with any matter arising in connection with the case management of the proceeding, including a failure to comply with an order or the rules”.

19. It is a requirement of an appearance, at a future date to be set by the Registrar (subject to the Registrar complying with her other duties that remain extant), to discuss prematurity. However, it is the requirement to appear before him or her (a ‘her’ in this case which is Justice Sharon Store – former partner at Epstein Cole LLP at the very time when the forgery specialist in Mr. Andrew Papadimitriopoulos was represented by said firm regarding matrimonial litigation involving the named female insured individual and the residence where the JRPA Applicant resided then and until now) and the bias issue that stops that dead in its tracks. The Civil Rules do NOT say that a judge may on her own initiative require the parties to appear before ANOTHER JUDGE. It did not say the obligations of the respondents in any way. Nor could Shore J do so without motion materials. Shore J did not purport to do so.

20. Under Rule 59.06, “set aside orders”, that is not particularly the issue because the order is somewhat open ended per se. Moreover, a “requirement of an appearance” to discuss matters cannot be seen to be an order that has any effect on the requirements under the Civil Rules. It is also subject to the Registrar setting such a date.

21. Orders are not presumptively retroactive either. They can be retroactive if they are “nunc pro tunc” but that did not occur herein. Therefore, the extant obligations with respect to the Form 68(B) and the urgent hearing request pre-date the same.

22. Moreover, there is a lack of clarity with respect to the Shore J. “appearance compulsion”. The general rule under rule 59.01 is that the binding effect of a judgment or order commences on the date upon which it is pronounced. However, this rule is not unqualified. For example, the judgment or order itself may provide otherwise. In other situations, the judgment or order may be uncertain and clarification may be required, something of substance has been missed. In these situations, judgment or order is effective from the date of entry, rather than pronouncement (paras 58-59 of Fontaine v. Canada (Attorney General), 2012 ONCA 206).

23. My position, which I submit is consistent with the binding authorities, is that the appearance requirement of parties is now moot because I cannot have a case conference with myself and a justice as a matter of the plain reading of the rule 77.04. Moreover, as there is a reasonable apprehension of a conflict of interest, through which I say is not the ‘fault of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore’ (but perhaps would have been clearer to her if I was able to have uploaded my JRPA Application, Factum and Application Record along with the Certificate of Perfection et al into Case Center) but that of the individual lawyer and the respondent insurance companies (where applicable), no future orders can cure the initial conflict of interest issues.

24. While I am still reviewing the law on how such a situation is handled, as it is somewhat unprecedented in my early review, I do not think that such an “appearance compulsion” (i.e. to appear at a later date subject to a variety of conditions precedent) is an “order” per se. As such, I believe it falls within the spectrum or ambit for this Honourable Court to set it aside. I respectfully say the same as “point of law”.

25. The question arises as to whether the “relayed email” from Justice Shore is an “order”.

“The court held that an e-mail sent by a judge to the parties was not an “endorsement” because it was not “made” on the motion record. This decision highlights the formalistic constraints of the former rule 59.02(2) (see: Alfano et al v. Piersanti et al, 2014 ONSC 60).”

26. It is unclear whether the new rule makes any consequential difference to the current facts. However, I note that this was an email from an esteemed individual within the scheduling department of the Divisional Court relayed from Justice Shore. As such, my position will remain that it was not an “order” but a power to compel an appearance at a later date with some ambiguities that would require clarification (if applicable). To the extent that another justice were to issue a similar type “compulsion appearance”, I preemptively note that there is technically only “one party” at this time in myself. I respectfully submit that does not accord with the spirit of the case management rule. Also, if Madam Justice Shore did not have the filed JRPA Application, Factum, Application Record, Certificate of Perfection, affidavits #1 to #2 (at the time), et al, then it is unclear what such a ‘compulsion appearance’ could be made upon. In any event, whatever it could be construed at its highest, I respectfully submit that it could only run from “entry” and not “pronouncement”.

27. As a practical matter, it is now moot because unless the respondents cure their deficiencies by seeking and obtaining leave, it likely not need to be entertained to any serious degree as it is more an academic issue.

28. As such, I still carry the burden in this JRPA Application or JRPA Proceeding. I confirm that I have received some emails from the ONSC which I am about to review to determine that issue as to whether I could or could not advance my urgent application before a justice of the ONSC pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA.

29. However, as by my filed requisition on January 2, 2025, I would be most grateful to know whether I am able to proceed on any dates sought before a single justice of the ONSC. I appreciate the reference, upon further review, to the Divisional Court Practice Direction. Would you kindly revert back to me as soon as possible on that front? Thank you kindly in that regard.

30. Moreover, would you kindly provide me with a Form 68(B) with the approximate date of hearing that is so prescribed in that form? If you had mailed me and I did not receive it or have not received it, I extend my apologies. As noted, this will be of assistance in my seeking an adjournment in the Tribunal proceeding.

31. No matter which route is taken, as permissible, regarding the above, I would be most grateful to receive the invitation to the Case Center as per the noted language in the Divisional Court Judicial Review Guide.

32. I trust that this solidifies my position on all of the above for the Court and the respondents. I remain ready, willing and able to proceed.

33. Kindly excuse any delay in my response as per working fastidiously and expediently regarding the above.

to me, Milene, Connor, Judie, Heather, Isibhakhomen, Div, Jesse, Matthew, christianana.ortiz@tdinsurance.com

Hello Mr. McLean,

A case conference has been directed to be scheduled in this matter.

Pursuant to the most recent Divisional Court practice directions all cases in Divisional Court are being case managed.

Accordingly, the dates are fixed once directed by the case management Judge, Court is no longer sending out a notice of listing for hearing.

Once a date has been scheduled further directions with respect to filing materials electronically and access to CaseCentre will be provided to the parties.

Thanks,

Dear Registrar Ms. Clegg:

Thank you for your email and the information provided. I did not realize that the most recent practice direction was authority for all cases being case managed. Is this one you are referring to: <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/practice/div-court-pd/>.

If so, I do not read it the same way as it states, "All applications, appeals, and motions in Divisional Court, and all steps in those proceedings, may be subject to judicial case management." (section 31 therein). However, perhaps I am reading a dated practice direction. Kindly advise. If I do not have the correct practice direction, I would be most grateful to receive a hyperlink to the same.

If that is the correct practice direction, then I would presume that the Divisional Court is still sending out Form 68(B). In any event, I will await to hear from you in this regard.

In relation to the request for compulsory appearance before Madam Justice Shore, the Court has my position on the same as per the reasonably perceived conflict of interest and bias. I will tender my formal filing to ensure that does not occur before her and in relation to the above. My review of the Civil Rules is that Madam Justice Shore's exercise of discretion to compel appearances of certain parties before her is not an order per se or even an direction, and I will seek clarification of the same from Madam Justice Shore along with an exercise of her discretion to recuse herself altogether. I shall have that for filing by tomorrow. As it is not an order per se, my review of the authorities, which is ongoing, indicates that it can be done in a written submission manner but I will review further authorities before doing so.

For courtesy purposes, I will, in part, be relying on Rule 59 or at least by analogy. I will also be relying on the inherent jurisdiction of the court. I confirm that my affidavit #3 was filed last week which I will rely on for the same. To the extent that a formal motion is required in this regard, I would be most grateful to hear from the Court in this regard. However, considering the urgency of the same, the unlikelihood that the section 77.04(2) Justice Shore initiated compulsory appearance does not appear to be an order, I will presume that this is a matter that she can consider with the existing affidavit evidence and my submissions. As noted, I will also seek clarification of the language relayed to us therein.

I remain of the view that irrespective of the above that nothing would cause an abeyance of the time for the filing of the record of proceeding by the Tribunal or the dates for responsive factums and application records.

Whatever her solely initiated compulsory attendance requirement was in law, it did not operate nunc pro tunc, and I confirm that my request for an urgent hearing pre-dated the same.

It is unclear what is meant by filing electronically and fixing dates but I will await to see if I have the correct practice direction as I appreciate that the practice direction is subject to the Civil Rules.

Thank you kindly for your response and for updating me.

Warm regards,

Dear Madam Registrar Clegg:

I write again in relation to the above emails and to ensure I have addressed one further issue before the end of the business day. Based on my reading of your email and I do not wish to speculate, are you rejecting my requisition filings from December 24, 2024 (see: request for a Form 68(B)), January 2, 2024 (see: request for an urgent hearing), and from January 11, 2024.

In relation to the December 24, 2024, requisition, I did file the same online so it is unclear who manages the acceptance or rejection of that file but it is well past five business days. In any event, I am reaching out to the relevant email again out of an abundance of caution.

In relation to the filings on January 11, 2024, I wish to know whether that is accepted or rejected as I do not wish to be seen to not have uploaded materials promptly.

I would appreciate knowing whether those filings are accepted or rejected as some remain “in progress” in the online Civil Claims Submissions portal and are well past five business days.

Lastly, your response as to whether they were accepted, whilst appreciating an accepted filing is merely that, or rejected as those will shape my request (or motion (if required)) to the ONSC Divisional Court regarding Madam Justice Shore’s recusal and said requirement of attendance of the parties to attend a case conference being rendered void ab initio.

Thank you kindly.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: respectful request as to whether these three requisitions are approved or rejected

Dear Madam Registrar Clegg:

Thank you again for your emails. I can confirm that the Civil Claims Online filing department reverted back to me and directed me to your office to confirm whether my online filing of December 24, 2024, was accepted or rejected for filing. For ease of reference, I have defined the same as “Requisition #1” and it is cross-referenced at Appendix #1 with respect to “in progress” status since December 24, 2024. I note that the secondary source material references having an answer, positively or negatively, within five business days. I take, with thanks, from your above comments that the ONSC Divisional Court is no longer sending out Form 68(B)’s which appears to be at odds with Rule 68.05\(2\), but you will recall that you directed me to file my Certificate Of Perfection at first instance on or around December 13, 2024. I did so promptly with proof of payment. In any event, my respectful submission is that the acceptance of that filing must be in the record of proceeding.

In relation to my “Requisition #2”, it was attached for filing on January 2, 2025. It is re-attached for your ease of reference. For, inter alia, the above reasons, I respectfully submit that this filing must be accepted and the record of proceeding must reflect the same. I also attach the amended requisition based on the original filing date of January 2, 2025.

In relation to my “Requisition #3”, it was attached for filing on January 11, 2025. It is re-attached for your ease of reference.

As noted, I am in the process of filing materials for an adjournment of the hearing in the underlying proceeding. If not successful, I may be compelled to seek a stay herein. As such, the steps that I have taken and whether they were accepted or rejected must be reflected in the record of proceeding.

I wish to make clear that I appreciate that an acceptance of filing is merely a filing but in light of the above, I believe it is important that we know the status of the above. If you would kindly revert back at your earliest moment, I would be most grateful. Thank you in advance for your anticipated responses.

Re: confirmation that I intend to seek an order of this Honourable Court to nullify or declare the requirement of a compulsory appearance for case management (the “Non-Endorsement”) before Madam Justice Shore void ab initio by way of request (the “Nullification Request” or “Request”) on grounds of, inter alia, a reasonable apprehension of conflict of interest and reasonable apprehension of bias

Re #2: Nullification Request – said defined term – also includes the recusal of Madam Justice Shore and restraining of her involvement – directly or indirectly - in this JRPA Proceeding

Dear Madam Registrar Clegg:

1. I write regarding the above. Upon further review, I unequivocally confirm the above.
2. Based upon my review of the law, the Non-Endorsement is not an order on a variety of grounds some which are particularized supra. However, since I intend to have the Non-Endorsement rendered void ab initio (see: jurisprudence cited in my affidavit #3 herein), the primary procedural issue is whether Madam Justice Shore can hear and decide my Nullification Request.
3. I would respectfully submit that it should not be before her per se but I will review the law in that regard and will include the same in my submissions. I reference the word “submissions” because I note that Rule 59.06 (if applicable) involves an “order” (which includes a judgment) which then necessitates a motion.
4. As the Non-Endorsement is not an order per se, I will presume, unless I hear otherwise, that I can advance my Nullification Request by way of a formal written submission that will rely on Affidavit #3. Put another way, there was no notice of hearing to the parties^[i], no motion materials, and, as such, no motion record. Parenthetically, this is yet another ground why there is no ability for the Non-Endorsement to be considered an order because it cannot be made on any prescribed documents denoted in Rule 59.02\(1\).
5. While I appreciate that rule 59.02(1) has a “separate document” provision to overcome Rule 59.02\(2\) which for ease of reference is so stated:

Requirements if Separate Document

- (2) A separate document on which an endorsement is made,
 - (a) may be in paper or electronic format;
 - (b) may include the reasons for the decision; and
 - (c) shall include,

- (i) the name and signature of the judge, associate judge or officer making the order,
- (ii) the date on which the endorsement is made,
- (iii) the date of the hearing or conference,
- (iv) the nature of the hearing or conference,
- (v) the relief requested,
- (vi) the disposition made at the hearing or conference, and
- (vii) a list of the parties and lawyers who participated in the hearing or conference and a list of any parties or lawyers who did not participate in the hearing or conference. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 38; O. Reg. 383/21, s. 15.

6. It is trite that the Non-Endorsement by Justice Shore was initiated by her as per Rule 77.04.

7. In this regard, the Divisional Court Practice Direction and the Rules Of Civil Procedure work in harmony in that a direction at or through a case conference is denoted as an order. It is then capable of an endorsement by “separate document”. No such ability exists when there is a judge-initiated compulsory appearance.

8. It is trite that since no timetable has been set through case management, the obligations of the respondents with respect to filing of their factums and application records cannot be superseded by the Divisional Court Practice Direction (see: Section 33, “Any timetable or deadline set through case management supersedes the deadlines set in the Rules of Civil Procedure”).

9. While the grounds for the Nullification Order, subject to a written hearing on an urgent and expedited basis in light of the consistent urgency that I pleaded and section 6(2) of the JRPA, are somewhat particularized above, for clarity, I will be heavily relying upon the following principle:

10. It is herein that said fortuitous discovery under my bed of an “anniversary card” measured against the “As per A. Nurse” forged signature when also measured against Mr. Nieuwland’s [mis]representations in his submissions on the issue of conflict of interest (see: Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos had never been involved in my claim or access request (PIPEDA)) are most salient.

11. However, there is another point under that principle and this Court should have been aware had the Tribunal complied with its statutory duty under section 10 of the JRPA and that is that my preliminary conflict of interest motion was dismissed in June 2024 to remove Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos.

12. As such, he remained as a representative in the LAT Proceeding. Oddly, a rather fortuitous decision which I was not pleased with at the outset but I did not wish to offend the principle of prematurity at that time. The same cannot be said in relation to the final orders and final decisions from NOM #14 and NOM #15.

13. As an optical point for this Nullification Request, I believe Mr. Boyce represented that the standard convention for filing the record of proceeding was 60 days from the time of a bringing of a JRPA Application, which I do not agree with. In any event, today is at least 60 days. Therefore, if nothing is provided by four p.m. today, I will add that as a contextual factor in my formalized submissions for my Nullification Request and perhaps another ground in the event that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore did not have access to the record of proceeding.

14. I say this Nullification Request must be successful ‘as per’:

"Judges often disqualify themselves where the matter before them involves former clients or law partners."

(see: Canadian Judicial Council, Ethical Principles for Judges. (Cowansville, Ontario: Ottawa, 1998) at 45).

15. I will, of course, provide notice of my Nullification Request to Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos, as I did with COI motion in the LAT Proceeding, so he has an opportunity to swear evidence under oath to potentially ‘explain away’ any of my evidence. In the interim, Mr. Nieuwland can provide my affidavit #3 to him.

16. Frankly, I welcome it. Respectfully, it is better that we get this right at first instance than run the risk of repeating this judicial review over again.

17. I cordially remind the Tribunal that its statutory obligation to file the record of proceeding is not subject to the Civil Rules or any “practice direction” is subject to the Civil Rules (see: 1.02\(1.\)\(3\)).

18. I cordially remind the respondents that unless they have an order that grants the filings of application records and factums nunc pro tunc, then they will need leave. If they wish to bring motions in this regard, they will be opposed and I will seek costs for being put to that expense as they did not (and still do not) have a stay of their obligations.

19. My Nullification Request and supporting materials shall follow in reasonably short order while I continue to finalize my Oral Outline and Oral Compendium. Thank you.

Re: request that counsel to the three respondent insurance companies and counsel to the Tribunal provide their position as to whether they will oppose or consent to the relief of my Nullification Order

Dear Messers Nieuwland and Mr. Boyce (copied to the remaining addressees including of the ONSC Divisional Court):

1. As I finalize my materials^[i] in support of my Nullification Request, I kindly request you provide your position regarding the above at your earliest convenience.
2. I can inform you that I am approaching finalizing my review of the previous positions of the 93 justices in the Toronto region (including the regional senior justice of the Toronto region in the Honourable Mr. Justice Steven E. Firestone) and I have yet to find another that was a partner or lawyer at the law firm of the Epstein Cole LLP. While I appreciate that justices of the ONSC rotate between the Divisional Court and the ONSC ('non-divisional court'), I do not have the breakdown of the same.
3. I highly doubt that Justice Shore would have taken carriage, in whatever capacity that she did, and issued the compulsory appearance requirement had the record of proceeding been filed in accordance with section 10 of the JRPA. As noted, the affidavits appended to my affidavit #3 are all documents in the Record Of Proceeding. Had the Tribunal complied with its statutory duty under the JRPA, it would have allowed Justice Shore to vet the same in relation to her prior esteemed and highly successful law practice as a partner at arguably the most well-recognized family law firm in the country.
4. As such, I will add to the Nullification Request that to the extent that Justice Shore does not recuse herself and/or is not required to recuse herself that the Non-Endorsement is withdrawn as a result of the same.
5. It is unclear what she reviewed of the record of proceeding (if any^[ii]) before issue said Non-Endorsement. Again, I remain of the view that had a Case Center invitation been provided to me in accordance with the JR Divisional Court Guide, Justice Shore would have realized that there was no requirement for any reference to any 'exchange of materials' as they are complete from my side but for an Oral Compendium. I say the same about the inability to have a Form 68(B) issued at some reasonable time after the filing and paying for my Certificate Of Perfection. Perhaps, I am reviewing the wrong 'Divisional Court Practice Direction' but I do not think that I am.
6. In the spirit of comprehensiveness and notice, if the Tribunal does not file the record of proceeding by the end of the business day, it can anticipate a motion seeking orders to compel it to file the same in accordance with the JRPA and SPPA, and costs at the highest allowable amount. I say so because the compulsory appearance puts the 'cart before the horse' as we cannot have a discussion in the abstract without the record of proceeding on prematurity. It is where Mr. Boyce's "60-day theory" becomes most problematic for the Tribunal. Moreover, if the Tribunal does not have the full and accurate record of proceeding that is an important and determinative issue on the prematurity objection. Notably, only the Tribunal has complied with its obligation to submit information to the court and raised the preliminary objection. Ergo, without any filing of a record of proceeding, there cannot be any preliminary objection.

7. The more time that passes, the more prejudicial it becomes to me and I will ask the Court to draw an adverse inference.

8. Of course, if the Nullification Request is successful, then the language therein will not need any clarification and no discussion will be required.

9. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose including a stay of the Tribunal proceedings, costs in any potential motions and for scheduling purposes thereafter.

10. It is unclear to me if I can seek costs of such a request, denoted above, as it would not be a hearing per se or re-attendance at a hearing but if I can, I will if it is opposed.

11. I await to hear from Messers Nieuwland and Mr. Boyce on the above. Thank you.

^[ii]I.e. my affidavit in support

^[iii]I do not say that pejoratively but because I could not upload filed documents to Case Center. My review of Case Center leads me to believe that is how the justices review filed documents in advance of an appearance (which is all that the Shore J. email does) or hearing.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: confirmation of the correct or preferred procedure to address my nullification request of Justice Shore initiated case management appearance requirement (the “Case Management Appearance Requirement”) (the “Nullification Request”) (see: affidavit #3 herein)

- Re #2: recusal request of Madam Justice Shore (the “Recusal Request”)

- Re #3: to the extent applicable – dependent on other factor – the assignment request or reassignment

- Re #4: Written Submissions to follow today

Dear Madam Registrar Clegg:

1. I write regarding the above. I remain of the view and position, with great respect, that Justice Shore must recuse herself and withdraw her self-initiated Case Management Appearance Requirement.
2. You will kindly recall that I kindly informed you that I would review the law with respect to the preferred procedure. In that vein, There is no uniform practice in Canada with regard to raising the allegation of bias or a reasonable apprehension of bias at trial. Thus, the exact procedure to be followed in Ontario is unsettled (see: Paul Perell, “The Disqualification of Judges and Judgments on the Grounds of Bias or Reasonable Apprehension of Bias” (2004), 29 The Advocates’ Quarterly 102, at 114 [Perell, “The Disqualification of Judges”]).
3. Pursuant to our Courts of Justice Act, section 75(1) is relevant:

Powers re sittings and assignment of judicial duties

75 (1) The powers and duties of a judge who has authority to direct and supervise the sittings and the assignment of the judicial duties of his or her court include the following:

1. Determining the sittings of the court.
2. Assigning judges to the sittings.
3. Assigning cases and other judicial duties to individual judges

4. As such, my request will be directed to the Honourable Chief Justice of the ONSC The Honourable Geoffrey B. Morawetz Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice and The Honourable Faye E. McWatt (Associate Justice of the ONSC).

5. As noted, I have already filed my affidavit #3 on January 8, 2025, in support (i.e. materials exchanged already in support but also filed) of my Nullification Request and Request.

6. As noted by our SCC in Newfoundland Telephone Co. v. Newfoundland (Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities), 1992 CanLII 84 (SCC), the damage caused by the reasonable apprehension of bias (“RAOB”) cannot be remedied by Justice Shore. The only solution is the withdrawal of her Case Management Appearance Requirement and her being relieved of her duties herein by way of recusal.

7. The materials shall follow in short order which will be in the nature of a request with reliance on affidavit #3.

8. In relation to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, and which will be relied upon in my requests of this Honourable Court, and as a brief “sneak preview” to the main argument, I note the following and certainly agree with Justice Shore’s representations to the federal courts judicial appointment committee [hyperlinked to the specific paragraph for ease of reference]:

“Vital to the Canadian system is the impartiality of a judge. This is different than the system in the United States. In Canada, judicial independence is viewed as vital to fostering public confidence in the fairness and objectivity of the justice system. The Supreme Court of Canada has described judicial independence as “the cornerstone, a necessary prerequisite for judicial impartiality.”

The Honourable Sharon Shore of our ONSC also made a statement to the Judicial Advisory Committee^[i] that this Applicant certainly agrees with as follows:

Last, but not least, is integrity. I have always tried to conduct my personal and professional life with integrity. One of the lessons I learned from my mentors is that it takes a lifetime to build your reputation, and only minutes to destroy it.

9. I repeat and rely upon the previous supra in this email thread and explicitly repeat and rely upon section 76 of the CJA. I note the importance of the record of this proceeding being complete, accurate and up-to-date for a variety of purposes not limited to the requirement it be so for my requests.

10. Thank you in advance for drawing this email and my affidavit #3 to the attention of the Chief Justice of the ONSC and the Associate Justice of the ONSC with the proviso that my written argument for my above noted requests will follow today.

^[i]Under the new judicial application process introduced by the Minister of Justice on October 20, 2016, any interested and qualified Canadian lawyer or judge may apply for federal judicial appointment by completing a questionnaire. The questionnaires are then used by the Judicial Advisory Committees across Canada to review candidates and submit a list of “highly recommended” and “recommended” candidates for consideration by the Minister of Justice (see: <https://www.canada.ca/en/departement-justice/news/2018/12/the-honourable-sharon-shores-questionnaire.html>)

Re: enclosed written submissions for the Respectful Requests (defined therein)

Dear Madam Registrar Clegg (copied to the above or to be forward by the ONSC Divisional Court Registrar):

1. I write regarding the above. As promised, please find my PDF and signed submissions for the Respectful Requests. For ease of reference, they at paragraph 19 and 126:
 - a. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is disqualified from any further involvement in this JRPA Proceeding (the “Disqualification Request” or the “Recusal Request”);
 - b. The Case Management Appearance Requirement is declared as void and void ab initio (not merely voidable) (the “Nullification Request”);
 - c. A general and indefinite adjournment of the case conference pursuant to 77.04(1)(b) of the Civil Rules by the Associate Justice (the “Adjournment Request”);
 - d. A direction by the Honourable Chief Justice, pursuant to section 76 of the CJA, that the Registrar shall accept all outstanding requisition filings and provide confirmation of the same to the JRPA Applicant and respondents; and
 - e. A direction by the Honourable Chief Justice, pursuant to section 76 of the CJA, that the Registrar comply with her duties (by law), pursuant to 68.05(2) of the Civil Rules^[1], and provide the parties with a “Notice of Listing For Hearing”.

(collectively, the “Respectful Requests” or “Requests”).

2. I rely on affidavit #2 and #3 in support of the same as my leading of evidence in this regard.

3. Should the Court require any further submissions or sworn evidence from me regarding the same, I remain available and please contact me at your earliest moment. Otherwise, I shall presume this is sufficient and the procedure is consistent with the case law in this niche and unique subset of a few areas of law.
4. Please extend my thanks to the Chief Justice and Associate Chief Justice (where applicable) for their consideration.
5. Thank you.

Re: my attached Notice of Motion in unfiled form – awaiting the position – urgently – the Tribunal – whether – it will consent, not oppose or oppose the motion

Re #2: to be filed without further notice if the Tribunal does not respond forthwith and/or file the Record of Proceeding forthwith pursuant to section 10 of the JRPA and section 20 of the SPPA – with confirmation that it has done so to the Applicant

Dear ONSC Divisional Court Registrar (with a copy to the Tribunal and ONSC Divisional Court ‘Scheduling’):

Please find my self-explanatory attached unfiled notice of motion for urgent notice to the Tribunal (attention: Mr. Boyce). I await to hear from him on behalf of the Tribunal and he may communicate with me on the weekends should he have necessary instructions.

I have removed Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos from this email for what I say are self-evident reasons. If further explanation is required, kindly contact me for the same.

In the spirit of a singular communication, I note that when I went to obtain the correct address for one Mr. Jesse Aaron Boyce from the LSO Directory, he had amended the particulars of his address from that of which I had copied and pasted to my affidavit #3. I will swear an affidavit (if necessary) to confirm the removal and my belief that the removal of certain language therein was in direct response to my allegation of a conflict of interest, lack of independence and bias involving his office location and that of the decision makers of VC Morrisette (albeit VC Morrisette had an antiquated address therein) and VC Lake.

If any clarification is required by the Tribunal as to the orders sought, grounds et al, kindly contact me forthwith regarding the same so we can be respectful of the resources of this Honourable Court involving a matter that should not have necessitated the same. "Forthwith" means immediate. The statute (JRPA) and its relevant section is unambiguous.

Thank you.

URGENT FILING(S): (I) AFFIDAVIT #4 OF THE JRPA APPLICANT MADE ON JANUARY 18, 2025

VIA EMAIL AND EMAIL FILING DUE TO URGENCY (see: scj-csj.divcourtmail@ontario.ca)

Regarding the below (pursuant to the Consolidated Practice Direction Divisional Court on sending emails and enclosing documents by the document naming protocol contained therein)

Court file number: Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR

Type of document: email with attachment of Affidavit #4

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

Re #1: filing of my affidavit #4 in support of relief sought in my motion #1 and general purposes involving the newly discovered

TO:

ONSC Divisional Court (regional centre of Toronto)
130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario

Kind attention: Madam Registrar Ms. Clegg and her staff (where applicable)

Re: enclosing my affidavit #4 – made and notarized on January 18, 2025 -

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court) (copied to the respondents and Divisional Court Scheduling^[1]):

1. I write regarding the above on an urgent basis. I have researched the issue of the facts involving Mr. Boyce's removal of his employer (SLASTO) and his address (25 Grosvenor Street) from the LSO directory website and they are included in affidavit #4. I will rely on this affidavit #4 in my motion #1 if the Tribunal does not comply with the relief sought therein and its statutory duty. The Tribunal has failed as of today's date to file a record of proceeding forthwith and altogether. I remain of the view, sworn under oath on belief, that the Tribunal does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding. As such, I must do all that I can to move this JRPA Proceeding forward under the seeming spoliation of the record of proceeding.

2. In researching those facts and then measuring them against the source law, particularly the statutory requirement of the Tribunal to forthwith file a record of proceeding along with its permissive right to participate (not a duty), the Tribunal has one duty remaining if it is able to comply with the same. I need not speculate any further. However, when reviewing the law against the two competing principles of a "fully informed adjudication of the issues" vs. "the appearance of impartiality and objectivity of the Tribunal (being a quasi-judicial one”, the removal of Mr. Boyce’s employer and address is most alarming and concerning. Further, when applying these facts to the settled jurisprudential standards, principles and precedents, the fact that Mr. Boyce was (and is (although removed optically from public view now)) in the same office premises as the impugned adjudicators (vice chairs) has created a rebuttable presumption of a complete absence of impartiality of this Tribunal participating any further, although minimal to date and perhaps obvious why, herein. This does not detract from the requirement that the Tribunal retain an agent of any kind to compile, index, tabulate and enumerate the record of proceeding for filing herein. If the issues with the various name changes (some known and unknown) and apparent power outages have led to spoliation, then the best the court can do is what exists and perhaps one of the counters against technological filings as opposed to hard copy.

3. However, section 10 of the JRPA could not be clearer on its face and compliments to the Legislature in this regard:

“Record to be filed in court

10 When notice of an application for judicial review of a decision made in the exercise or purported exercise of a statutory power of decision has been served on the person making the decision, such person shall forthwith file in the court for use on the application the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 10.”

4. Section 9(2) could not be clearer on its face:

(2) For the purposes of an application for judicial review in relation to the exercise, refusal to exercise or proposed or purported exercise of a statutory power, the person who is authorized to exercise the power may be a party to the application. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 9 (2).”

5. I am now of the unequivocal view and position, as a courtesy to Mr. Boyce and any existing unknown counsel in the SLASTO legal unit and future legal counsel in said SLASTO legal unit (see: Shuttleworth in this regard regarding the “stage 2” process in the policy of how decisions are created, reviewed, and then later issued to the parties and interested persons) cannot represent the LAT in this JRPA Proceeding. Without trying to argue the point more generally as that would be counter to the urgency of this JRPA Application and JRPA Proceeding, this fact of Mr. Boyce removing the employer name and address of the same in the face of being served with my filed copy of my Affidavit #2 is most unprecedented.

6. To the extent that Mr. Boyce is no longer employed by SLASTO, I respectfully request that he confirm the same. I will presume that I hear otherwise.

7. Moreover, I ask that Mr. Boyce, as an officer of the court, confirm when applied to the LSO to make said change and when it became effective.

8. I will, of course, oppose and object to any further involvement of Mr. Boyce in this JRPA Proceeding but for the above.

9. I will also, as a courtesy notice, oppose any delays for the Tribunal retaining independent and impartial counsel, and any attempts to seek leave. In normal circumstances, I may be inclined to be more flexible but these circumstances do not lend to the same.

10. As the language is permissive under section 9(2) of the JRPA including section 9(4) of the JRPA and there is not even a simulacrum of compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure and the JRPA and SPPA by the very Tribunal that is governed by the latter at first instance the former herein, this ONSC Divisional Court cannot, for a presumptively entitled party to defer to its incorrect decisions and orders (herein final decisions by reference to the binding authorities in my JRPA Application and Factum).

11. I will ask that the Court draw an adverse inference against the Tribunal henceforth for any evidence that I have sworn and not been rebutted. I will file any remaining required documents accordingly and I repeat and rely upon my previous requests for compliance where applicable.

12. I repeat and rely upon my evidence herein this my affidavit #4 now filed and served. I will continue to presume, as I appreciate the demands and time management issues for the Registrar and her staff, that all tendered herein for filing and service (not merely an exchange) are filed on the date that I have in my email and rely upon the same where applicable.

13. As always, I will presume all attached PDF's in scanned or PDF'ed form, in "read only", are openable by all unless I hear otherwise. I will continue to address all matters arising under this email thread and I will now object to any attempt by Mr. Boyce or any current or future counsel to the LAT attempting to have separate conversations because "transparency" is clearly an issue. My position will remain that if nothing is opposed by the Tribunal or the respondent insurance companies, I will not waste this court's valuable time with a costs submissions but for extant statutory duties like section 10 of the JRPA. Put another way, an administrative tribunal or exerciser of a statutory power of decision or the refusal of the same, through an adjudicator or vice chair, is required to file forthwith the record of proceeding with the court for its use whether it wishes to participate or not. There must be cost consequences involving the same.

14. Simply put, the public interest outweighs any self-interest I have in obtaining the same against "other parties" that are not interested in arguing the merits or even filing a brief factum and application record (which could have relied on my materials in support of its factum).

15. Thank you.

^[1]To alert said scheduling division of the issue that must be addressed at first instance by way of the Madam Justice Shore "direction" should there be any necessity for a case conference or the issue does not become a moot one.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: inclusion of the attachments from the Tribunal on November 27, 2024 – sent to the incorrect email for service – not read until now

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court) (copied to the respondents and Divisional Court Scheduling):

1. I write regarding the above.
2. Attached are the Tribunal's Notice of Appearance and its letter from November 27, 2024. The original email did not use the correct service address, so attachments were missing. I have now reviewed them. Despite being dated, Mr. Boyce's email contact information is unchanged and his phone number matches his previous LSO directory listing.
3. I contacted the LSO to verify Mr. Boyce's current employer and address. The address provided here is 15 Grosvenor Street, which is different from the LSO directory address of 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto. I will assume that copying Mr. Boyce on this filing serves as notice to the Tribunal.
4. Mr. Boyce appears to have misunderstood the statutory requirement to file a record of proceeding forthwith. Although I appreciate his reference to a timeframe of three or four weeks, I respectfully disagree with his interpretation. Additionally, it should be noted that the parties did not waive this requirement in any manner.

5. The requirement to file the record of proceedings is a forthwith requirement and it is now some 67 days since the JRPA Application was served on the Tribunal.

6. It would seem only reasonable that the Tribunal consent to the relief sought in my Motion #1 and this will avoid wasted court time and resources. I can confirm that if consents to the substantive relief by noon today, I will waive costs.

7. We can then attend the drawing up of a consent order between myself and the Tribunal, have it vetted by the Registrar and accordingly entered.

8. To the extent that I do not hear from the Tribunal, I will continue to presume that the only reasonable inference is that it does not have the record of proceeding in a full and accurate form as per the various technological issues that arose and the primarily impugned decisions and orders, being final ones, of VC Morissette, incorrectly referencing the same in her reasons for decision. As per the above, I confirm that I did receive a copy of the three distinct insurance companies' notice of appearance as it was sent to the correct email for service.

9. Thank you.

Re: My filed Motion #1 – current form with returnable date of January 30, 2025 (re: Confirmation number 2846172)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (Madam Registrar) and Licence Appeal Tribunal (Mr. Boyce):

1. I write regarding the above. 3. As this is solely the statutory obligation of the Tribunal, I have solely directed this Motion #1 to the Tribunal.
4. To the extent that any of the other respondents wish to oppose the same, they have a copy of the motion and I will continue to copy them herein as it relates to this Motion #1.

Re: brief initial response to Mr. Boyce's email – with thanks (enclosed COI Submissions for the Respectful Requests - ease of reference for Mr. Boyce and interested persons)

Dear Mr. Boyce:

1. Thank you for your email and I confirm its receipt. I will address more substantively later as I was moving as expediently as possible to finalize the requisite motion materials along with an affidavit of service before four p.m. However, for the interim, I confirm that I sought dates from you and conferred with you but you did not respond. I will check the email thread herein but I do not see anything at first glance.
2. As it relates to the hearing in the Tribunal, it is unclear how you would represent the same. I take that as evidence that you are in communication with the decision makers and the Tribunal itself and remain at the same office building as them. In any event, it is not relevant whatsoever as per the law cited in my filed JRPA Application, Factum, Application Record, notice of motion et al. A judicial review is a review, based on the record of proceeding at the time of the decision maker's decision (herein the "VCM Decision" on September 13, 2024) and does not deal with the filed documents, decisions et al thereafter. I need not belabour the point but SNIC is not the proper party so whatever decision at the hearing proper, should it proceed (which I need not address other developments that have occurred this week but for saying I remained consistent in seeking an adjournment request for formality and consistency purposes), is of no legal consequence – whether it could be construed as positive or negative for me. The issues in this JRPA Application, as further refined in my factum and to be further refined in my oral outline and oral compendium to follow, are of a public interest nature, points of law, and the discrete issue of party status along with who is the First Insurer. Put another way, any decision in my favour at this JRPA Proceeding, will nullify any decision of the Tribunal irrespective of the same because I could not seek any relief against a non-party in TDHA. To put it bluntly and colloquially, I did not seek to "have my cake and eat it too", "suck and blow at the same time" and/or I "went all in". You may take your pick of those adages.
3. As it relates to your reference to the compulsory appearance of a case conference before The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, I kindly refer you to what I have defined as the "Respectful Requests" and its 'hearing record'. Should you wish to oppose the relief, please file and serve materials at your earliest opportunity. I repeat and rely upon the facts and law therein. As my evidence remains uncontroverted in the Respectful Requests, as the relayed email of Madam Justice Shore was not an "order" or "endorsement", my filed Respectful Requests involving a reasonable apprehension of bias ("RAOB"), I again provide the opportunity to one Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos to provide any contested evidence to my evidence contained therein. I copy him again for that purpose. Should he not provide any, I ask the court to draw an adverse inference.
4. As noted in my affidavit material [emphasis on the word 'material'], the SCC has found consistently that if there is a conflict of interest (perceived or actual) that the any order or endorsement is void ab initio. The Shore J. compulsory appearance requirement is not even an order or endorsement.

5. As you can see from the law cited therein without an actual order or endorsement, there is nothing to set aside per se by Rule 59. In the alternative, as the method of drawing such a matter to the attention of the Court, as it is most unlikely that a justice had actual knowledge and actual bias (although it has happened and may happen), is unsettled in Ontario, the formal “Respectful Requests” method is preferred. You will also note the relief sought therein.

6. Leaving all of that aside, you did not seek a stay of the Tribunal’s statutory obligations under section 10 of the JRPA and section 20 of the SPPA. Should you wish to do so, please do so. I will oppose that relief and seek costs against the Tribunal. Moreover, you do not have any order that authorized the Tribunal to not file its factum and application record within the time prescribed under the Rules of Civil Procedure. You will need leave of this Honourable Court. I will oppose the relief and seek costs against the Tribunal. In relation to the prescribed requirements, neither did any of the three respondent insurance companies. The preliminary objection remains that of the Tribunal.

7. I have the independent and unqualified right to have the Tribunal comply with its statutory requirements to provide the record of proceeding as it was before VCM on September 12, 2024 (the day before her decision was in fact signed and issued). My position remains, sworn evidence (on belief) I kindly add, that the Tribunal does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding as of September 12, 2024. If you wish to prove me wrong, please have an individual provide an affidavit swearing to the contents of the same. Even better yet kindly cause the Tribunal to file the record of proceeding as of that date.

8. In light of the above comments, I am concerned that you (and the Tribunal) may seek to include documents therein that are not post September 12, 2024. I provide notice to you (for you to relay to the Tribunal) that if the Tribunal does so, I will seek to have those documents struck from a filed (purported) record of proceeding and seek costs.

9. I confirm herein that should the Tribunal wish to oppose the motion record filed and served, kindly comply with the prescribed requirements in the Rules of Civil Procedure.

10. I remain of the view that you personally are in a conflict of interest (an actual one I might add that remains ongoing), and the Tribunal needs to retain independent legal counsel should it wish to participate. Removing your “business name” and “address” from the LSO portal does not even appear to be permissible pursuant to the By-Laws of the LSO but nonetheless the LSO has confirmed the consistency of your “business name” and “address”.

11. I will proceed with my motion and seek costs for being put to this most unreasonable use of resources with by your admission in a signed letter of November 27, 2024, you are most tardy. While your positions therein are not the law, you cannot have it both ways. I will draw the same to the attention of the court in relation to costs and any other lawful purpose.

12. Should the Tribunal wish to provide me with its proposed record of proceeding for review, I remain available to review the same so we do not waste the court’s time with unnecessary motions.

13. Moreover, should the Tribunal wish to provide me with a copy of its proposed factum and application record, I also remain available to review the same. However, without the former at paragraph 12, it would be impossible for the Tribunal to provide the latter in paragraph 13 therein.

14. Govern yourselves accordingly. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

RE: THE COI RECUSAL REQUEST BY WAY OF "RESPECTFUL REQUESTS" DIRECTED TO THE CHIEF JUSTICE AND ASSOCIATE CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE ONSC

RE #2: AFFIDAVITS #2 TO #4 IN ELECTRONICALLY FILED FORM FOR THE "REQUEST HEARING RECORD"

Dear Mr. Boyce and any interested persons (regarding the above):

Despite the above affidavits already having been filed via email (absent a stamp for the same), I took the liberty of also filing the same in the electronic "Civil Claims Submissions Portal". I kindly provide you with a copy of the same. While these no standardized procedure for the same, I would ask that should the Tribunal, respondent insurance companies and/or any interested person wish to oppose the same, kindly provide me with any responsive submissions and/or affidavits, and I can prepare the "request hearing record" for the ONSC (attention: Chief Justice and Associate Chief Justice (where applicable)). It remains my preference that Madam Justice Shore not hear the same and it is exclusively decided and heard by the Chief Justice by way of direction.
2. I will kindly note, in the spirit of full disclosure, that I have stumbled on a few other cases and one may have relevance or applicability which is from my former jurisdiction of BC and appellate authority no less. It involves a case conference type issue and a raised conflict of interest. By recall, I believe it was one Chief Justice McEachern (as he then was of that BCCA). However, I will review it and see if it is of assistance to this Honourable ONSC Divisional Court.
3. I can also confirm that I have almost completed a chart that provides a description of each justice of the ONSC (Toronto Region) in relation to their former capacities and business names and addresses of where they worked prior to reaching that most lofty appointment as a justice of the ONSC. At this stage, I can only find one justice in Justice Shore that worked at Epstein Cole LLP in any way prior to her appointment to the bench of the ONSC.
4. Affidavits #2 to #4 are attached again for ease of reference for the Tribunal and any interested persons.
5. My goal herein remains a simple one: to have this JRPA Application heard on its merits in a timely manner that is consistent with the JRPA, SPPA, Legislation Act, and the Rules of Civil Procedure in pith and substance, and spirit. I will continue to abide by all requirements imposed upon me and I thank the Registrar for guiding (not advising me) where I have erred at first instance like not filing the Certificate Of Perfection and paying the $650 or so at first instance.
6. To the extent that the Tribunal, any other parties (potential or actual) and/or interested persons wish to rely on a non-order or non-endorsement of Honourable Madam Justice Shore on January 7, 2025, then my COI Recusal Request will need to have responsive materials and reply materials tendered, filed and served, and then "heard and decided" at the appropriate time (if any).
7. Thank you.

Yours truly,

/KAM

URGENT FILING for Record of Proceeding: COI Recusal Request – Notice that COI Recusal Submissions and Recusal Request Record will be amended to include the case of

VIA EMAIL (see: scj-csj.divcourtmail@ontario.ca)

Regarding the below (pursuant to the Consolidated Practice Direction on sending emails and enclosing documents by the document naming protocol contained therein)

Type of document: email with attachment of Affidavit #3

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

Re #1:

TO:

ONSC Divisional Court (regional centre)

Kind attention: Chief Justice of the ONSC

Kind attention: Associate Chief Justice of the ONSC

Kind attention: Registrar

ONSC (Divisional Court) (copied to the respondents and Divisional Court Scheduling):

1. I write regarding the above.

2. In light of the comments made by Mr. Boyce yesterday and my initial response to them, I provide the case that I was referring to which is denoted: G.W.L. Properties Ltd. v. W.R. Grace & Co. of Canada Ltd., 1992 CanLII 934 (BCCA), <<https://canlii.ca/t/1d9nh>> [“GWL Properties” or “Bentall Properties”].

3. While GWL Properties is a case that predated the likes of Weykaum and others cited in my COI Recusal Request (formerly defined as the “Respectful Requests” and now defined as the “COI Recusal Request” which includes the relief sought in the COI Recusal Submissions (attached above)), there are some apropos legal principles and precedents contained in Chief Justice McEachern (as he then was) reasons from the bench in December 1992. Moreover, the unassailable corollaries, which will be fleshed out in amended COI Recusal Submissions, further support that the compulsory appearance for a case conference by Madam Justice Shore must be set aside on grounds, inter alia, of a reasonably perceived conflict of interest, bias and lack of independence between a representative (see: section 1(7) of the LSA). As will be seen in the record of proceeding once filed by the Tribunal pursuant to its statutory obligations (see: section 10 of the JRPA and section 20 of the SPPA), Mr. Papadimitropoulos was not disqualified from any form of representation in the LAT Appeal.

4. To the extent that it is not, there will be clarification questions from myself regarding what is meant by the language therein. However, that would be premature.

5. GWL Properties was an asbestos case that was set for a six-month trial and naturally a very complex piece of litigation.

6. The matter came before the BCCA based on an application for leave to appeal interlocutory orders (see: paragraph 2) by the defendants/applicants which the Chief Justice referred to as “Grace” but I shall refer to as “Grace Ltd.” The defendants requested that there was an appointment of a pre-trial management judge which was most understandable considering that there was a six-month trial to be conducted.

7. As the Chief Justice McEachern found in relation to a pre-trial management judge, “A pre-trial management judge is an indulgence offered by the court to the parties to assist them to manage complex litigation and to hear as many of the interlocutory applications as may be possible without counsel having to wait their turn in chambers. This obviously is a great advantage to all parties.”

8. Unlike Madam Justice Shore, the pre-trial management judge in Bentall Properties had already heard a number of applications as found by CJBCSC McEachern, “In this case the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court appointed a pre-trial management judge and he has heard and decided a number of applications and he has made other decisions including, as I understand it, an order for a short adjournment to accommodate counsel for Grace, but he has made another order refusing a longer adjournment. As I have said, the trial is now set for May of 1993 and counsel for Grace assures me that this application is not intended in any way to assist Grace to obtain a further adjournment. I must, therefore, assume that the trial will proceed in May as scheduled.”

9. It is a trite fact that Madam Justice Shore has not made any decisions let alone heard a single application. I raised my objection promptly after receiving the copied and pasted email from the ONSC Div. Ct. Registrar, and immediately made an affidavit that was email filed and served on the respondents (see: Affidavit #3).

10. Unlike my prompt and forthwith objection, the defendants or applicants for Grace Ltd. raised the objection for the first time on December 3, 1992, “On December 3, 1992, counsel for Grace informed me that he or his colleagues learned for the first time what I thought was common knowledge within the profession, that the pre-trial management judge has a brother who is associated with the plaintiff’s solicitors Messrs. Lander Downs, which is a law firm having in the range of 100 or so lawyers.” (see: paragraph 6). Ergo, the impugned conflict of interest was the pre-trial management judge had a brother that worked at the same law firm of what was then Ladner Downs, which later became Borden Ladner Gervais LLP (“BLG LLP”).

11. The conflict of interest alleged herein is not “one and the same” herein and not a matter of public knowledge or common knowledge per se. It remains unclear to me how Madam Justice Shore was appointed, if at all, but I presume we can somehow chalk it up to “coincidence” for the time being.

12. The procedure, like herein, in the Bentall Properties case was initially dealt with in a confidential manner in chambers. The pre-trial management judge then requested submissions in open court of which there was a transcript. The pre-trial management judge then spoke or consulted with Chief Justice Esson as he had been invited to do so by counsel for Grace Ltd. Chief Justice McEachern articulated the following for ease of reference at paragraph six:

“Counsel for Grace accordingly asked to see the pre-trial management judge in his chambers and invited him to withdraw from the pre-trial management of this case. The pre-trial management judge quite properly asked counsel to speak to the matter in open court which was done. I have read a transcript of those proceedings. The pre-trial management judge considered the matter and spoke to Chief Justice Esson as he had been invited to do by counsel for Grace.

13. Chief Justice Esson then delivered a memorandum as follows (see: paragraph 7):

“After the matter was raised on Friday morning last, the pre-trial management judge discussed the matter with me. It was for other reasons a hectic day. Without giving the matter adequate thought, I expressed the view that we should apply an approach (it is not a rule or a principle) which we often apply where questions of possible grounds for disqualification arise, as they often do, in circumstances of urgency. That approach is to avoid the "hassle" of having a judge face suggestions of bias, however spurious, by simply shifting the case to another judge. That problematic approach is entirely reasonable if it can be applied without injustice to the parties or the public interest.”

14. Herein, Mr. Boyce without tendering any responsive materials on behalf of the Tribunal has necessitated my covering all bases and ensuring that I have evinced a continuing intention to proceed with my COI Recusal Request of Madam Justice Shore from any activities including appearing before her as a case management judge.

15. In GWL Properties, the pre-trial management judge to decide to withdraw (see: “As a result the pre-trial management judge informed counsel that he would withdraw from the management of the case” (see: paragraph 8).

16. However, the “other parties”, the plaintiffs, were not pleased with such a result which necessitated their bringing to the attention of Chief Justice Esson the prejudice that would be caused by the loss of the pre-trial management judge (see: supra, ‘his decisions in a variety of applications at that stage’). Chief Justice Esson reversed course [emphasis added by me]: “This is what Chief Justice Esson said about that in the memo he sent to counsel:

What I overlooked in my haste was that this is not such a case. If the pre-trial management judge does not continue as management judge, the value of his unique knowledge of the case resulting from the investment of time and effort which he has put into it will be entirely lost. That will prejudice the parties. Furthermore, it will damage the system and thus prejudice the public interest. Much judicial time, a scarce commodity at present, will be squandered. It must never be forgotten that the cost of providing judges, courthouses, and all the ancillary services falls upon the public. Those are some of the reflections, obvious enough to me now, which I overlooked on Friday last.

17. The exact opposite is the case herein in that the only time lost will be that of a few sentence email. The time spent by myself and the court to hear this COI Recusal Request will be excessive but necessary if so required by the respondents opposing the same.

18. Unlike a trial, judicial review proceedings are intended to be summary proceedings. They do not require documentary discovery and are not a chance for the same. Herein, the Tribunal was required to file the record of proceedings forthwith. It has failed to do so and it is now subject to a motion returnable on January 30, 2025, before a motions judge of the ONSC Divisional Court with the preliminary order that any such delegation of a motions judge not be Madam Justice Shore or any other justice that was employed at Epstein Cole LLP or was a partner at said firm during the material times of which Mr. Papadimitropoulos first became a client of Epstein Cole LLP.

19. While it is emphasized in the COI Recusal Submissions (attached above) that there is no uniform or agreed procedure in Ontario for making the request that a justice recuse himself or herself, there is no order or endorsement herein so a motion is unlikely to be the preferred route. Put another way, Rule 59 of the Civil Rules relates to “orders”.

20. I again note that there is no requirement for a case conference to be conducted in the ONSC Div. Ct. as the permissive word “may” is used. However, I will not speculate as I have a pending motion and whatever transpires at that motion hearing may shape the discretion depending on the results of my COI Recusal Request.

21. For the potential record of request hearing [not motion hearing per se as there is no “order” or “endorsement”), I will amend my submissions to include much of the above and any noted up cases in Ontario. I have found eight but I am still reviewing the same.

22. I trust this assistance, by way of courtesy and full disclosure, and to not ambush the respondents in the event the COI Recusal Request. If the court can advise on when this needs to be heard (if at all) or when submissions from the respondents must occur, I would be most grateful.

23. Thank you.

Re: your email in the other thread included herein by copying and pasting your email and my email

Dear Ms. Badwal:

I have included our two emails below as it appears you only have some of the email thread herein. I am not sure why that is but if you would be kind enough to continue the email chain hereunder for consistency and accuracy purposes. The respondents can then do so as well as that is the sole email chain that we have had with the ONSC Divisional Court since my bringing of the JRPA Application.

My concerns remain about appearing before Madam Justice Shore. I will amend my submissions as denoted above and then provide a COI Recusal Request Record. If a motion is required, I am content to do so as well but it will obviously need to be heard in advance of that date.

Additionally, I confirm I am not available on that date as well. In any event, I have a motion returnable next January 30, 2025, which will, at least, provide the record of proceeding in advance should my COI Recusal Request (or COI Recusal Motion) not be successful.

I welcome the submissions, positions and evidence of the respondents and the interested person in Mr. Papadimitropoulos.

Thank you again for your email.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

I have included Ms. Im's email hereunder as a courtesy at Appendix #1. I confirm that since the AG's office is distinct from the LAT, the AG's office did not file a Notice of Appearance, my factum has been filed and served as of December 10, 2023, and was perfected on December 13, 2024 (or the next business day thereafter), and that I am not raising any constitutional questions or vires questions (as per my Factum), there is no need for participation of the AG's office. Moreover, since it did not file a Notice of Appearance or file any factum, as no relief was directed involving its office, there is no need for its participation. The only respondents that are at issue herein are TDHA and SNIC as per NOM #14 and #15, and the LAT.

Thank you Ms. Im for your email. I trust that solves my consideration of your initial query if that was not already clear in my previous emails above. I presume that you do not need to be included on the email thread any further but I would ask that you confirm the same before we do so and not waste your valuable time in a matter where the AG was served with the JRPA Application, Applicant's Factum, Applicant's Application Record, Certificate of Perfection and all affidavits.

I trust that I have made the same clear regarding my motion next week as that solely involves LAT's statutory requirements to file the record of proceeding forthwith in accordance with section 10 of the JRPA and section 20 of the SPPA.

In the spirit of comprehensiveness, I will presume unless I hear otherwise in reasonable time that I will need to bring a motion regarding the recusal of Madam Justice Shore and the nullifying of the non-endorsement of Madam Justice Shore.

As I will be relying on this email thread for chronology and accuracy purposes, I would be most grateful if those that respond would respond under this email thread so it is easy for the court to follow.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Thank you for your email.

I am counsel for the AG of Ontario who is served all notices of applications for judicial review, per section 9(4) of the Judicial Review and Procedures Act, RSO 1990, cJ1. Mr. McLean has been advised that the AG is not required to be named as a Respondent on his Notice of Application and he is considering his position.

Please be advised that I will not be attending the case conference. The AG takes no position on prematurity and is content to comply with any timetable agreed to by the parties and approved by the Court.

Dear Mr. Boyce:

Thank you for your email. If you would be kind enough to only email hereunder as I have reviewed that email thread from Mr. Badal and it somehow does not have many of the emails and attachments that are in this thread. I have copied and pasted your email below.

As noted, I am not available in any event on that date and I will proceed with the formalizing of my COI Recusal Request or COI Recusal Motion and serve with you the finalized record for the same. I also serve a copy on the respondents, particularly SNIC and TDHA, and note that Mr. Nieuwland.

I will presume that COI Recusal Motion will be opposed and I will seek costs in the event I am successful. I will include the full email thread herein into an affidavit to provide the precise chronology regarding the same.

I will address all other matters by separate email in this thread for ease of reference purposes. Thank you.

Dear Ms. Paquini et al:

Thank you for your email. Would you kindly ensure that the email responses are in this thread? I have copied and pasted your email below as a courtesy. I will continue to do so for chronological and accuracy purposes.

To kindly make the point, I have not included Mr. Papadimitropoulos in this email as it relates to the administrative component of which he is not a party to this JRPA Proceeding.

Dear ONSC Divisional Court Scheduling:

I again confirm that I am not available on said date. Perhaps, you can propose some dates in March 2025 of availability. While I remain of the view that my COI Recusal Motion stands a great chance of success and will nullify any potential case conference before Shore J., I will continue to abide by the courtesy and professionalism requirements of providing my availability in any event.

Re: Motion #1

Dear ONSC Divisional Court and respondents:

1. I write regarding the above.
2. Kindly find attached the electronically issued, for formality purposes, of my NOM #1 and affidavit of service regarding the same which were served upon the respondents last week. I thank the issuing department of the ONSC Divisional Court in this regard.
3. I confirm that the sole respondent at which this order is so directed has not challenged or taken issue with the motion record already filed and served on the respondents.
4. I further confirm that I will await the time on this Thursday, January 30, 2025, for the teleconference. Should the Tribunal wish to consent to the relief sought in NOM #1, I would be most grateful to hear from it at its earliest opportunity. It will be 75 days [on Thursday, January 30, 2025] since the Tribunal received a copy of my JRPA Application (November 15, 2024) and even by Mr. Boyce's self-imposed timelines, he is, on behalf of the Tribunal, beyond tardy. I confirm that I do not accept that the Tribunal's obligations are not forthwith even if it is not participating in a judicial review.
5. Thank you.

Dear Respondents (excluding Mr. Papadimitropoulos):

I write regarding the above. I attach a copy of the requisition (which I had defined as my Requisition #1) that was issued by the ONSC Divisional Court today. It related to the Form 68(B) that I had requested or “required” (respectfully of course). Kindly retain the same for your records with your distinct files for each of the distinct respondents and classes of respondents. I have removed Mr. Papadimitropoulos from this email as this does not relate to him per se).

Dear All: you will receive my autoreply today as I am in a hearing that is unrelated to this JRPA Proceeding. If the matter is urgent, I will do my best to respond after business hours. If particulars are required in the event a response is required today, I am happy to provide the same. Otherwise, I look forward to reviewing your communications and responding accordingly (if applicable).

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. For summary purposes, this email is summarized as follows for ease of initial comprehension of the same:
 - a. Issued Affidavit #8: I have attached a copy of the issued affidavit #8 from the ONSC Divisional Court Civil Submissions Online Portal for the recipients' files and records management.;
 - b. Request for Opposition or Consent: I continue to seeks response from the respondents (the respondent Tribunal and respondent insurance companies) regarding their positions on whether they will oppose or consent to the relief sought in the proposed motion #2, which includes nullifying a requirement by Madam Justice Shore and disqualifying her from involvement in the JRPA Proceeding;
 - c. Hearing and Costs: I intend to have motion #2 heard in written format and will seek costs against any respondents opposing the motion if successful. Additionally, I will request an order similar, albeit in relation to the Tribunal and the each of the respondent insurance companies, to one sought in a previous motion regarding the Tribunal's failure to file the record of proceedings forthwith.
 - d. Communication with Court Officials: I communicate my availability and requests to receive court documents via email instead of mail.
2. Please find a copy of the issued affidavit #8 from the ONSC Divisional Court “Civil Submissions Online Portal” for your records and files where applicable.

Dear Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies:

3. I have not heard from you regarding your positions on whether you will oppose or consent to the relief to be sought in my motion #2 that I have previously referenced which is, inter alia, the nullification of the Honourable Madam Justice Shore’s January 7, 2025, requirement that the parties^[1] attend before her (at the time on an unspecified date and now a date where I am not available), the disqualification of Madam Justice Shore from any involvement in this JRPA Proceeding or future proceedings involving the respondent insurance companies and myself. I am, of course, not alleging that there is a reasonable conflict of interest between the Tribunal or its representatives and Madam Justice Shore as I have no knowledge of any previous relationships (personal, professional or otherwise) between Madam Justice Shore, when she was an esteemed and highly respected counsel generally and in the area of family law.
4. In light of what has already been submitted and the importance of this issue, I will seek to have NOM #2 heard in written format with a factum to be filed and served upon you. I will extend the customary 14-day timeline for a notional date of the hearing the same.

5. In my respectful view, I believe this is quite wasteful for court resources and our resources considering that this is a matter that could have been resolved without the necessity for the same by having jointly advised the Court that it would have been prudent to have had a different justice (through no fault laid at the feet of Madam Justice Shore, the ONSC Divisional Court and its court staff) engage in relaying that request for a case conference and attending before he, she or it [whatever the proper reference is from a pronoun standpoint]. However, an underlying issue in this JRPA Proceeding is the importance of the distinction between consent and non-opposition to an “offer” and this underscores that point to some degree.

6. To the extent that NOM #2 is opposed by either of the respondents in varying degrees, I will seek costs against the relevant respondents in the commensurate amounts if I am successful in the NOM #2. I will ask that those costs are paid forthwith and in any event of the cause. Moreover, I will ask for an order, in light of the failures of the respondents to comply with Rule 68.04\(4\). The order sought will be similar in nature to the order sought in NOM #1 regarding the Tribunal failing to file the record of proceeding on a forthwith basis pursuant to section 10 of the JRPA. I note the word in the statute of “file” is distinct from the word of “exchange” used by Madam Justice Shore albeit in reference to “materials”. Moreover, section 10 of the JRPA is explicit and unambiguous regarding the requirement that the Tribunal (or person exercising a statutory power) is to file the record forthwith for use by the court (not necessarily use by myself or other respondents or interested persons).

7. I provide the above to assist in the event any of the respondents (excluding the AGO and Ms. Im as per the above) agree to consent to the relief above or not oppose. To the extent that all of the relevant respondents consent to the relief, we can have such an order drafted and vetted by the Registrar and then entered before her.

Dear Ms. Badwal of the ONSC Div. Ct. Scheduling:

8. Thank you again for your email previously. As noted, I responded within 48 hours to confirm my unavailability on the date provided. While I maintain my objection above to appearing before Madam Justice Shore exclusively on the above grounds, with no castigation of her per se which I find regrettable to even have to engage in this process but I do not have consent of the respondents in this regard, I am available March 6, 11 and 13, 2025. While I anticipate that there will be sufficient evidentiary grounds for a justice of the ONSC Div. Ct. to find that there is a reasonably perceived apprehension of bias that such that the Shore J. compulsory requirement attendance and its corresponding date will be set aside and nullified, I am providing my dates in that regard to maintain my requirements of being prompt and professional to the same until or if I obtain some or all of the relief that I am seeking. I will also note that to the extent that I am not successful, in all or part, I may need to seek clarification of what is meant by the language meant therein. However, perhaps some or all of it will be moot. As such, I will not speculate or invoke that ability to request clarification of the same.

Dear ONSC Div. Ct. Registrar (Madam Clegg):

9. Thank you again for the confirmed issuance of my requisition #1 (December 24, 2025) that required the provision of the Form 68(B) (Notice of Listing for Hearing). I kindly ask, if not too much of an imposition, that when the Form 68(B) is finalized that you provide herein via email. If I am able to waive the “mail requirement”, kindly accept this email as my confirmation that I waive any and all requirements to receive the same via mail and you may email a copy of the same.

Conclusion

10. Thank you to all regarding the above (where applicable). Should you have any questions or points of clarification, kindly contact me under this email thread with the relevant persons copied.

^[1]It is unclear to me at this point what constitutes a “party” in the ONSC Divisional Court outside of a motion with a “responding party” as it is not defined under the Rules of Civil Procedure

Dear ONSC Divisional Court and Tribunal (kind attention: Mr. Boyce):

Kindly find my Form 59(A) (draft order) filed with the confirmation number below. I do not see any requirement under the Rules of Civil Procedure per se but I have done so in any event as a courtesy to the Court and in light of my continued position that this JRPA Proceeding remains urgent for the reasons pleaded and sworn since November 15, 2024.

I shall provide the issued copy when it is available to me.
Thank you.

Re: kind request – ONSC Divisional Court – teleconference – conference call number request in advance of a teleconference

Re #2: Oral Outline For Motion #1 – will be provided tonight or before nine a.m. tomorrow

Dear ONSC Divisional Court and Tribunal (kind attention: Mr. Boyce):

1. I kindly request that the ONSC Divisional Court provide a conference call number for my NOM #1 returnable tomorrow for any time during the day. If there is a justice not available tomorrow, I have availability on Friday, Monday, or Tuesday. Kindly advise as to the availability of justice in that regard.
2. I will presume that I shall be prepared all day tomorrow and on a forthwith basis for the same.
3. I do not anticipate needing more than ten minutes in submissions. If Mr. Boyce intends to make any submissions and/or merely attend, I ask that he provide his position regarding the same.
4. Thank you.

Re: confirmation number of filing (written submissions for NOM #1) through the JSO online portal

Re #2: kind request – an hour advance notice – brief teleconference hearing

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (kind attention: Madam Registrar):

I confirm that the confirmation number for the filing of the written submission attached above through the online submissions filing portal was “Confirmation number 2865274”.

I would be most grateful to have the conference call coordinates for this motion #1 (applicant) at your earliest convenience? If you would kindly allow for an hour’s notice so I can confirm the same and be available to speak to the matter via teleconference.

In the interim, I would ask Mr. Boyce if he has any instructions from his client and employer (SLASTO), and more specifically herein, the Licence Appeal Tribunal, regarding whether it will consent to the relief therein but for costs? Alternatively, would Mr. Boyce be kind enough to provide whether the Tribunal will oppose or not oppose the relief herein and/or take no position?

If Mr. Boyce has instructions on behalf of the LAT to consent to the relief therein but for costs, I am ready, willing and able to waive costs despite the payment of fees and enormous amount of resources that have gone into this NOM #1 which should have been completely unnecessary. Ironically, this NOM #1 herein is almost four times the amount of payment of a section 280(2) of the Insurance Act application for automobile insurance dispute resolution. It puts it into perspective.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

January 30, 2025

Dear Mr. Boyce (copied to the ONSC Divisional Court):

1. Thank you for your email. For some reason, your email has appeared in a different thread as per my email service provider. I have copied and pasted the same under this thread for continuity purposes.
2. I do not believe the above is an answer to my question regarding whether the Tribunal is opposing, not opposing or consenting to the relief in my NOM #1. Would you please answer that question directly?
3. In relation to your above comments, you are aware that I am not available on that date and my motion #2 is to follow in short order. Irrespective of the results, which will need to be decided first in any event, of my motion #2, the Tribunal's statutory obligations were and are not held in any abeyance. Moreover, since the Shore J. email was neither an order nor an endorsement, it certainly was not retroactive. Of course, I need not put the cart before the horse or conflate issues but you can address the same in my NOM #2.
4. What is or is not transpiring in the Tribunal has no relevance to the JRPA Application which has been perfected since December 13, 2024.
5. I will re-issue my open offer that if the Tribunal consents to the relief that it files the record of proceeding on an immediate basis (i.e. by tomorrow), can enter into a consent order on the most important term (Order #2), and I will waive costs. I will leave that open offer open until 1 p.m. today as the hearing is scheduled for today. If I do not hear from you, then I will await the conference call number from the ONSC Div. Ct. Registrar and we can speak to it via teleconference. I will, of course, seek the orders in full in my NOM #1 therein.
6. If you need another hour past 1 p.m. to consider the same, kindly advise. As you can see from my submissions, I will not need more than ten minutes. If you do not wish to participate in the teleconference, kindly advise herein so we all know the Tribunal's position.
7. If you wish to rely on your email, it will be provided to a motions justice. However, I confirm that the Tribunal did not object to the Motion Record and the hearing date of the motion.
8. I am certainly entitled to have a record of proceeding filed with the court – even more so if the Tribunal, whether permissible or not, wishes to argue prematurity. It cannot be done in the abstract.
9. You also appear to be misquoting language from the Divisional Court. I suggest you read the specific language therein. Moreover, you are attempting to add issues and revise history with your own take on what your objection was. We have the Tribunal's objection on the sole ground of prematurity. Your letter on November 27, 2024, was clear that the Tribunal relied on Mansuri. You then, in email, relied on Awada and Heegsma (see: Heegsma v. Hamilton (City), 2024 ONCA 865).
10. However, the Tribunal failed to file a factum and application record in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure. The same applies to all three respondent insurance companies. Therefore, your position on prematurity has been clearly identified but the respondent insurance companies did not make any preliminary objections known so that ground of preliminary objection is well-stated and cited by you.

11. As it relates to NOM #1, the filing (not necessarily) record of proceeding is a statutory obligation (in fact two different statutes) and I am entitled to it. If you do not have the full and accurate record of proceeding then kindly advise we all know what may need to be found and produced by a true copy of the same. I appreciate the Tribunal filing portal (LAT/AABS) had some apparent power outages and technical issues so let's work together if that is an issue. Kindly and clearly advise in that regard in any event.

12. Thank you and I await to hear from the Tribunal in relation to its independent and exclusive statutory obligation in this regard.

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (Registrar and Scheduling)

1. In the spirit of comprehensiveness and efficiency, if we do not hear from Mr. Boyce based on the above timeline, would you kindly provide a time today for me to call in for the teleconference. Moreover, if Mr. Boyce wishes to be in attendance, he is entitled to do so for the Tribunal and, as noted, my oral submissions will be brief and confined to the filed Written Submissions NOM #1.

Appendix

The Court has scheduled a case management conference for this application on February 18, 2025 to discuss prematurity, and to establish a timetable for the exchange of materials and a hearing date, if necessary.

As the LAT proceedings below remain ongoing, the LAT will await further direction from the Court following the case management conference on how this matter should proceed.

2. I will presume that having the teleconference today for my NOM #1 is not feasible. As such, I kindly ask the ONSC Div. Ct. Registrar for any available times tomorrow or next week. 3. I confirm that I have provided notice to Epstein Cole LLP of the relief that I propose to seek involving – directly or indirectly. As it need not be in the thread herein, I will simply confirm with an affidavit of service that it has been served, with proof of service, of my motion record for NOM #2.
4. I confirm that I may include some relief that varies some of the procedural timelines and I will designate my motion #2 as urgent on a procedural and substantive level.

5. I kindly repeat and rely upon my previous requests and requisitions and ask that they be issued where applicable.
6. I respectfully note that the positions of the respondents, who have filed Notices Of Appearances, will only lead to wasted time and increased costs. However, I confirm no consent has been provided by any of them and I must act consistently with forthwith objection on January 8, 2025. I will await to hear from the respondents and interested persons as to whether they oppose, not opposed or consent to the relief in NOM #2.
7. Thank you.

Re: final response to Ms. Im and her colleagues at her office – confirmation that the AGO will not be participating – with thanks

Dear Ms. Im and your colleague Isibhakhomen Imafidon^[1]:

Thank you kindly for the email. I confirm its receipt and duly noted. For some reason, certain emails from certain persons are showing up different threads so I have copied your email at Appendix. As per your kind request, this will be the last email that you will be copied to and then removed accordingly from any further emails. I also thank you for providing this email as I had one email that definitively addressed your query, if I had not done so previously, from the outset but that is now moot. In that email, in which I am now removing any reference to the same, there were aspects that were outside of the purview of your office.

I thank you for your professionalism and promptness throughout and I do apologize for my tardiness in addressing the issue from the outset. I will confirm in future correspondence and with the court that there is absolutely no relief sought against the AGO and nothing in the way of any risk or prejudice to it, or any costs being sought by me or against me from the AGO.

I will, out of an abundance of caution, confirm that I did discharge my duty^[ii] to serve the AGO but any relief that was referenced in the JRPA (i.e. casting an initial broad net with pleadings) that would have involved relief that involved the AGO is not being sought.

Wishing you and all persons at the AGO well and thanking you for the important and valuable work that you and your colleagues do in your various roles for the public interest and the administration of justice.

Take care, Kevin

Re: first email with the Attorney General of Ontario confirming that it will not participate in this JRPA Proceeding

Re #2: new evidence – interested individual – Mr. Papadimitropoulos – new business name or employer as of today – The TD Bank – new job title – “The TD Bank-Legal Services Department” – new address – 66 Wellington West, Toronto, Ontario (absent a floor, unit and office number)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court and Respondents (excluding now the AGO):

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I confirm, in the event that any of the email recipients missed the email, that the AGO has confirmed that he (The Honourable Attorney General of Ontario in Mr. Downey) will not exercise his right to be heard in person or by counsel (Ms. Im) in the JRPA Application (see: section 9(4) of the JRPA). We are all to remove Ms. Im and her colleague and any persons, who may have been included, from the AGO's office. I have done so herein.
3. I confirm that I will only be serving any future filings on the respondent, Licence Appeal Tribunal (attention: Mr. Boyce), and each of the respondent insurance companies in SNIC, TDHA and TDGIC (attention: Mr. Nieuwland) as a general course. However, where matters involve an interested individual or persons, I may include them in the relevant email under this email thread that is denoted by title above.
4. I am still investigating the same for purposes of my request and motion regarding a reasonably perceived conflict of interest involving the Madam Justice Shore January 7, 2025, email and thereafter. However, for the interim, I note a new email for Mr. Papadimitropoulos and I have included it as well.
5. In light of this sudden change of employer and business address, along with moving to a Schedule 1 bank as his employer with a different domain for his email address account, which is certainly concerning optically at first instance, I invite the remaining respondents to consent to the relief that I provided notice of in my affidavit #3 and COI Recusal Submissions of on or around January 16, 2025. It will be my last overture to see if there is any interest on, without admitting any issues per se and for the benefit of the Court not having to deal with this issue, on behalf of respondents to do so. While I appreciate that the issue is not one that can be correctly directed at the LAT, I believe that Mr. Boyce and the Tribunal must consent with the former being an officer of the court. If the Tribunal is steadfast in wishing to have a case conference, then it should not matter which justice conducts the same so long as there is no appearance on either side of any conflict of interest.
6. As a final example, as I await to hear from the respondents in this regard, I was a “best man” at the wedding of an individual whose parent was a BCSC and BCCA justice. In certain instances where I appeared in chambers at the superior and/or appellate levels and said parent was sitting that day, I had to immediately inform counsel for the other side and have the matter adjourned by informing the clerk of the court. While the parent's (former lawyer and then justice) former law firm was never a legal advisor to me and we were not in a solicitor-client relationship per se at any point, it was the optics and appearance that had to be considered. It is more concerning to me that the lawyers for the respondents are being so incorrigible on this point. However, consent requires a voluntary agreement in this regard. I presume no consent on this issue will be reached and I will seek costs for having to be put to this expense. I reserve the right to bring this correspondence to the attention in relation to costs against any respondent that does not consent or oppose the relief in which I will seek.

7. Thank you

Re: copies of the electronically issued documents involving NOM #1

Re #2: confirmation regarding the Interested Individual's multiple active emails for TD Insurance and TD Bank

Dear ONSC Divisional Court, remaining respondents, and interested persons:

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I attach copies of the electronically issued copies of the following:
 - a. the written submissions of yesterday's date for NOM #1; and
 - b. Affidavit of service involving the same.
3. I am available on short notice for a conference call regarding my motion #1 involving the LAT and the filing of the record of proceeding.
4. Mr. Papadimitropoulos' TD insurance email is functioning, and his TD bank email is also active. I look forward to receiving evidence on when and why this occurred and its impact on my upcoming motion #2. While he is not a party, I notify him to share his view on any potential bias due to being a client of Epstein Cole LLP. Additionally, I request evidence regarding any disagreement with Mr. Nieuwland's submissions or those from TD Insurance Staff Legal, noting the shared office building [no floor or unit number listed] address at 66 Wellington West, Toronto. I confirm no objection to Mr. Papadimitropoulos filing evidence or submissions if desired. If he has counsel for this motion, please provide their contact details so I can direct my motion record to them.

5. While judicial reviews are intended to be summary procedures and not a chance for document discovery, the evidence I will be leading or re-confirming from the record of proceeding and evidence to be provided or discovered is solely confined to the relevant relief sought in NOM #2.

6. Should any of the above wish to have without prejudice discussions, without the Court being obligatorily copied, regarding the same so the Court's time is respected, you have my email address herein. Otherwise, I have nothing further to say, in correspondence, on the topic but I remain shocked but not surprised. In my respectful view, the respondents and the Interested Individual are engaging in selfish and myopic conduct that is entirely disrespectful of putting the good name of Madam Justice Shore at issue in this motion #2 by not espousing their positions in relation to the potential relief sought in NOM #2 (which has been on the proverbial table since January 8, 2025) allowing the potential of this motion #2 to be filed and served with a decision to be issued. Moreover, one would expect that Mr. Papadimitropoulos would also provide a written response that he agrees that in the circumstances a reasonable apprehension of bias could be perceived. He is a licensee of the LSO and an officer of the court so his obligation in this regard is a positive one. Moreover, he is putting his solicitors at Epstein Cole LLP to wasted resources to have to potentially produce a copy of documents, including a separation agreement and divorce decree, by not confirming his viewpoint.

7. To the extent that the respondents' representatives and the Interested Individual do not file evidence explaining away my evidence on belief, I will be asking that the motions judge for NOM #2 relies on the adverse inference doctrine, and the ability to decide the motion without further wasted resources.

8. I will, of course, provide affidavits of service for Mr. Papadimitropoulos at his relevant email at the relevant time of the Shore J. email, so relayed, and his now current email at his sudden new employer of TD Bank. I also note that Mr. Papadimitropoulos is no longer active.

9. I extend my apologies to Madam Justice Shore for even having to bring this motion #2 forward but I trust she and the judiciary appreciate there is absolutely no allegation against her personally or any actual bias alleged but merely a consequence of Mr. Papadimitropoulos being a client of her former law firm and the conduct in the record of proceeding (which the Tribunal refuses to file forthwith).

10. If I do not hear from the respondents in forthwith fashion regarding their positions on the relief sought, the motion record for motion #2 will follow.

11. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Re: NOM #2 – made on 14 days in writing – motion to be heard in writing – motion to be converted into motion for judgment pursuant to the relevant Civil Rules of Procedure

Re #2: Documents to follow hereafter SEPARATELY AFTER EACH FILING with proof of service for the NOM #2 and to be filed immediately hereafter are: (i) motion record (which may be filed under supplementary motion record to avoid the fees with the same); (ii) draft order for NOM #2; (iii) factum for motion in writing; (iv) the motion record for NOM #1 including the written argument and affidavit of service (denoted as Amended Motion Record #1 and filed under the dropdown menu of “Supplementary Motion Record” to avoid duplicate paying of fees for a motion already filed and served); and (iv) other documents potentially described under the Rules of Civil Procedure relating to the same

Dear ONSC Divisional Court, Respondents (excluding AGO) and interested persons:

1. I write regarding the above.
2. As per the correspondence above, I have provided my intent to file Motion #2 and I have not heard back from the respondents and interested persons regarding their positions. As such, please find my Motion #2 in the PDF form to be filed and to be accompanied with an affidavit of service to be filed hereafter.
3. The separate documents will follow after each filing with confirmation numbers.

Warm regards,

RE: NOM #2 – AFFIDAVIT OF SERVICE FOR NOM #2 – FILED WITH NOM #2 – FOR SERVICE (UPON SERVICE IF YOU WILL)

Dear ONSC Divisional, respondents and interested individual:

Kindy find a copy of the affidavit of service that was immediately filed with the Motion #2 with the prescribed payment for the motion #2.

I will include with each document filed in the motion record, a copy of the confirmation number for each filing of the same so that they can be referenced by the ONSC Divisional Court, the respondents and the interested persons.

To the extent that the Court or presiding motion justice only wants issued copies of the same (as I could not denote (i.e. as that would be dishonest) that the filing was urgent as it is more than eight business days away) in the motion record, I can then replace those served and filed copies with the issued copies. I am in the Court's hands in that regard.

The confirmation number for the filing of the NOM #2 with the affidavit of service shall follow.

I will then provide those separately listed documents in the relevant rule with each confirmation number for each included in the motion record index and then the motion record index in full albeit denoted as "supplementary motion record" when I file the same in the Portal.

Out of an abundance of caution, I will provide an affidavit of service for each of the different described documents therein.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

RE: NOM #2 – confirmation number confirmed for NOM #2 filing with affidavit of service regarding the same

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

As per the above, I provide the confirmation number which will be listed in the Motion Record Index for ease of reference.

As it relates to NOM #2 and the Affidavit of Service, the confirmation number is:

Confirmation number

The sum of $339.00 was paid for therein and processed successfully.

I shall now provide each document separately herein including the draft order, factum and motion record by separate email with an affidavit of service for each. No response per se is required as I am solely ensuring that each document is easily searchable and served in advance before immediately filing in the Civil Claims Submissions Online Portal.

Thank you.

Re: NOM #2: motion record and affidavit of service have been filed

Re #2: confirmation that I will seek costs against any of the remaining respondents that oppose the relief sought in NOM #2

Re #3: I will oppose any potential motion to adjourn the hearing of my NOM #2

Re #4: confirmation that the Tribunal is presumptively prohibited from arguing the merits of a JRPA Application and other factors (see: Drewlo; Hutchinson v. Aviva, Ontario Energy Board, Quadrini et al (cited supra in this email thread)

Re #5: legal test for Ruel 37.13(2)(a): whether the necessary evidence is before the Court and whether the parties have had the OPPORTUNITY to fully argue their positions

Re #6: Residual

Dear ONSC Divisional Court, remaining respondents et al:

1. I write regarding the above. I confirm all of the above and reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose including costs.
2. I write to confirm that the Applicant's Motion Record of last night and affidavit of service have been filed (see: confirmation number 2872209).
3. As I have had some difficulty, in my humble view, in obtaining direct responses to my queries of the Tribunal and the respondent insurance companies (some or all), or at all, along with only having filed Notices of Appearances herein, along with the Tribunal failing to comply with its self-imposed timelines for filing the record of proceeding, I will presume that the responding parties (in the context of this NOM #2) will oppose all issues herein and a determination of the issues will be required.
4. As I was to be away commencing on the night before Friday, February 14, 2025, until early March 2025, I will presume that there is no issue having this motion heard in writing. That being said, I note the responding parties' rights to be heard orally if they so wish. As such, I was able to move my travel plans to leave on Friday, February 14, 2025, in the evening. If either or both of the responding parties do request to be heard orally, I will likely wish to be in attendance subject to the issues they wish to be heard orally on. That being said, I have ensured that I am free for the entire day on Friday, February 14, 2025. However, I will not speculate.
5. In any event, I will file and then serve the Confirmation Of Motion with another affidavit of service presuming that this NOM# 2 will be opposed. Of course, if anything changes, I can update the Court accordingly but that will solely be based upon the form of hearing i.e. written vs. oral (in part or whole). If I do not hear from you, I will presume that hearing the motion in writing will occur.

6. I will kindly remind the respondents that they will need leave to file their factums and application records as per their breaches of Rule 68.04(4). This is not a case like Hiamey v Toronto Community Housing Corporation, 2016 ONSC 4372 where the applicant, an HRTO applicant at first instance, struggled with some of the basics of filing, serving, binding (or stapling) of documents, and did not perfect his application for judicial review until months later. I paid for the certificate of perfection filing on Friday, December 13, 2024, and it was perfected with notice to the remaining respondents thereafter.

7. I filed a requisition on December 24, 2024, seeking a Form 68(B) for an approximate date of the hearing of the merits of this JRPA Application, I am not aware of it having been issued yet despite the stamping of the same albeit a month later.

8. As of January 13, 2025, the respondents failed to comply with Rule 68.04(4) which was predicated on the filing and service of the Application Record (Applicant) on December 12, 2024. Had January 11, 2025, not landed on a Saturday, the respondents deadline to file a responsive factum and application record would have landed on said date.

9. In any event, it will be one day more than a month on February 14, 2025, for the respondents to have filed and served their factums and application records.

10. I confirm that the respondents have had notice of the relief sought in the JRPA Application since the JRPA Application and most precisely since receipt of the Applicant's Factum (December 10, 2024). As the legal test for converting a motion into a motion for Judgment is normally reserved for matter in avoiding trial in an Action, this is a most proper case to convert that aspect of the motion into a motion for judgment because judicial review proceedings are already intended to be disposed of summarily. There is no dispute on the evidence in the underlying LAT proceeding relating to NOM #14 and #15 as neither SNIC nor TDHA participated in the hearing before VCM or on reconsideration. The respondent insurance companies have not brought any counter-application (judicial review that is).

11. Nonetheless, the legal test for converting a motion into a motion for judgment was articulated on a general level in CIBC Trust Corp^{lil}, cited by the ONCA in Royal Bank of Canada v. Rastogi, 2011 ONCA 47 at paragraph 22 [emphasis is mine]:

[22] In CMLQ Investors Company v. CIBC Trust Corporation (1996), 3 C.P.C. (4th) 62 (Ont. C.A.), this court affirmed a motion judge's exercise of the rule 37.13(2)(a) discretion to grant judgment on a motion for a trial of an issue. The motion judge granted a declaratory judgment and directed a trial on the question of damages. In upholding that decision, this court said at para. 8:

[W]here all of the necessary evidence is before the judge on the motion, and where the parties have had full opportunity of arguing their positions, as was the case here, there is nothing to be gained by either party by adding further proceedings to those already taken.

12. As noted, “Judgment” means a decision that finally disposes of an application on its merits. In an odd way, if there was a “default judgment” for judicial review applications, the respondents could be noted in default.

13. The remaining respondents have had more than an opportunity to argue their positions. Put another way, they have been able but unwilling.

14. I intend to proceed on that date by written hearing subject to the respondents wishing to instruct their counsel to appear by way of oral argument. I do note section 29 of the Divisional Court Practice Direction which states: “All motions, other single-judge hearings, and case conferences are conducted virtually, either by Zoom or teleconference, unless the court orders otherwise”. “Practice Directions” are subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure and it is unclear to me if a word is missing after “other” and before “single-judge hearings”. In any event, it may be a moot point in any event.

15. As such, to cement the same, I will attend to the filing of the Form 37(B) in short order and update all accordingly.

16. The Applicant’s Factum For Motion in Writing will follow with the affidavit of service. As you will see in short order, it will be a mere formality on the issues and notice already received by the JRPA Application, Applicant’s Factum, COI Recusal Submissions and affidavits served on the remaining respondents in December 2024 and January 2025.

17. The converting of the motion into a motion for Judgment is on the issues so particularized.

18. In conclusion, there is nothing to be gained by the respondents (remaining of course) adding further steps to a JRPA Proceeding that is to be decided in summary fashion. This is not a chance for the respondent insurance companies to make arguments that they should have or could have in the Tribunal proceeding. Moreover, to the extent that the respondent insurance companies wished to have provided their positions in this JRPA Application, they had the opportunity to do so but chose not to do so.

19. Of course I cannot control what the Tribunal files in a notice or responding factum but the Court has the power to exercise its discretion to disregard any inadmissible evidence or arguments: Taylor v. Pivotal Integrated HR Solutions, 2021 ONSC 7720 at paragraph 20 (see: [20] *Once a tribunal is a party, the court still has discretion as to the scope of participation to be accorded to the tribunal during the hearing. This involves balancing the need for fully informed adjudication against the importance of maintaining tribunal impartiality: Hydro Ottawa v. Ontario (Workplace Safety and Insurance Appeals Tribunal), 2019 ONSC 4898 (Div. Ct.), at para. 6. This court is under no obligation to accept the submissions of a tribunal that appears before it.*

20. If the Tribunal wishes to oppose the relief herein, it will need to file the record of proceedings. If it does not, it cannot oppose the relief but only consent to the same. In an odd way, it would somewhat dispose of some orders in NOM #1 but I still intend to have the NOM #1 heard and decided as a point of law.

21. In my view, the only compelling academic issue that could be in dispute is what a self-represented litigant like myself is entitled to on costs if successful. However, that is not at an issue at this current time and may not be an issue if the respondents do not oppose the relief sought or consent to the same.

22. Thank you.

Re: query about Mr. Nieuwland's status with the LSO (see: LSO Directory: <https://lso.ca/public-resources/finding-a-lawyer-or-paralegal/directory-search/member?MemberNumber=71405A>)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court, Remaining Respondents et al:

1. I write regarding the above.
2. Upon review of Mr. Nieuwland's status this morning with the LSO, I learned that not only does the LSO Directory not have any information about his employer or business name but also that his practice status is in limbo.
3. As such, I am still investigating the same but it appears that Mr. Nieuwland cannot currently practice law (at least for the respondent insurance companies) in any capacity as a lawyer. This is distinct from the issues involving Mr. Boyce's change of address and employer name (albeit he simply removed the same as confirmed by the LSO).
4. I confirm that in light of Mr. Nieuwland's status currently, I will not consent to any adjournments or further delays in the event that the respondent insurance companies attempt to leverage his status for the same.
5. I would ask that Mr. Nieuwland clarify the same.
6. Thank you.

Appendix

"To Be Confirmed" is a status in LSO Connects, the Law Society of Ontario's online communications channel, that indicates a licensee's work status and business relationships are unknown. Licensees can update their status in LSO Connects.

How to update your status

1. Log in to LSO Connects
2. Click the Profile tile
3. Click the Business Relationships menu option
4. Select the record with the "To Be Confirmed" status
5. Update the Effective To field
6. Click the Add Business Relationship button
7. Search for the business name
8. Select the business relationship type

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

1. I am writing in reference to the above matter by JRPA Proceeding and my motion #1.
2. I kindly request a date for the teleconference hearing of my Notice of Motion (“NOM #1” or “Motion #1”) which was returnable on Thursday, January 30, 2025. For your convenience, I have attached the motion record dated January 23, 2025, along with my written argument from January 30, 2025. Additionally, I request that the conference call information be provided in advance of the scheduled teleconference hearing. Lastly, I confirm my availability for tomorrow, Wednesday (any time before 2 p.m.), Thursday, and Friday (any time before 2 p.m. and after 3 p.m.).
3. I further confirm that the Tribunal did not object to the contents of my motion record within the prescribed time requirements. Re: response regarding NOM #1 to Madam Registrar Ms. Clegg

Dear Ms. Clegg:

1. Thank you kindly for your prompt response via email as it is greatly appreciated which is at Appendix. For some reason, it went into a separate thread so I have copied and pasted the same below.
2. It appears that you sent a “copy and paste” of something. If so, where was that from? Thank you in this regard.
3. As per NOM #1 being set for January 30, 2025, (via teleconference) and the time came and passed (without any castigation per se), albeit all of my motion documents filed and served seven days in advance of the same, I am kindly requesting that a date is set regarding the same. I filed a brief written argument (as a guide for speaking notes for teleconference hearing), which was attached above in its electronically issued form, on January 30, 2025. A copy was also served on the Tribunal which is the only respondent of which I seek an order against in that NOM #1.
4. I would be most grateful to know a date for the teleconference hearing of the same. I do not need more than ten minutes in oral submissions as the issue solely relates to the Tribunal not filing the record of proceeding in a forthwith fashion as per the JRPA and SPPA. While I also disagree with the self-imposed theoretical timelines provided by the Tribunal, those self-imposed and arbitrary timelines have also passed.
5. My last review of the Practice Direction is that the ONSC Divisional Court provides a date with conference call invite for motions that are sought to be decided by teleconference. My availability remains the same.
6. If that copy and paste is from a “practice direction” including a “Guide”, then I will review the same and then I rely on my NOM #2 which seeks orders relating to the assigned case management judge and the hearing of any relief sought in NOM #2 that was not decided before February 14, 2025 (written hearing). Naturally, if Madam Justice Shore is disqualified, then the case management aspect will have to be either reassigned and recommenced with new dates (if applicable). There is a live issue subject to what documents are produced involving her former law firm as to whether or not she can be the case management judge in any event and it will need to be heard and decided.
7. I provided a hyperlink previously but I have attached a PDF of the same as of today’s date.
8. In the spirit of comprehensiveness, I again confirm that I corresponded immediately with the ONSC Divisional Court that I was not available on February 18, 2025, and provided alternate dates. Irrespective of the results of my NOM #2, I would kindly ask that the ONSC Divisional Court provide alternate dates to myself and the respondents in light of the same. Thank you in this regard.
9. We also now have a situation where Mr. Nieuwland may no longer be counsel to the respondents but we are awaiting to hear from him. His current practice status is no longer solidified and he does not appear to have a firm or business name, any address, contact information or otherwise.

10. I await to hear from you regarding the above as it relates to that copy and paste (at least by way of appearance) and dates that are mutually convenient for all relating to a potential case conference involving Madam Justice Shore. Thank you.

Re: further response to Madam Registrar Ms. Clegg's email

Re #2: residual (where applicable)

Dear Madam Registrar Ms. Clegg:

1. Thank you again for your email and what appears to be a copy and paste from some unknown document. I cannot find any reference to the same after copying and pasting the same. I have hyperlinked the below for ease of reference.
2. The practice direction for the ONSC Divisional Court, effective June 15, 2023 (the “Divisional Court Practice Direction”), is attached. I cannot find any reference to the apparent copy and paste you sent. Consistent with the above when you stated something of words to the effect that all Divisional Court matters were case manager, I found language to the contrary (see: my email above in this thread).
3. The judicial review guide for the Divisional Court (the “JRPA Guide”) is also attached. I cannot find any reference to the apparent copy and paste that you sent. The JRPA Guide is also a ‘practice direction’: Rule 1.07.
4. It is trite that “practice directions” are subject to the Civil Rules (see: Rule 1.07).
5. Moreover, the Civil Rules, consistent with the doctrine of paramountcy, is not applicable where a statute provides for a different procedure: Rule 1.02\(1\)\(3\)^[i].
6. As it relates to my NOM #1, the JRPA, which is a statute, requires the Tribunal to file a record of proceeding forthwith for use by the court: section 10 of the JRPA. The Legislature only required the filing of the same not the service. The Tribunal remains delinquent by some nearly 80 days. As per the jurisprudence cited in my NOM #1, motion record for NOM #1 and my written argument, all filed and served, with electronically issued copies as well, I am not only entitled to bring a motion regarding the same but required to do so. I did so on January 23, 2025. Section 20 of the SPPA governs the content of that record of proceeding. The jurisprudence before this Honourable Divisional Court has unequivocally found that the record of proceeding are all statutorily required documents that are up to and until the time of the impugned decisions. Herein, that is the time period from December 24, 2023, to September 13, 2024.
7. I look forward to receiving the citation for the copy and paste you have sent as I cannot find it in the Divisional Court Practice Direction or the JRPA Guide. I beg your pardon for my potential obtuseness if I have missed that language. However, I do not think that I have because it seems to run entirely counter to what is stated in the public Divisional Court Practice Direction and JRPA Guide.
8. I also note, as I appreciate your time is valuable, that I have yet to receive a link to Case Center despite the clear language in the JRPA Guide that the ONSC Divisional Court was to send me a link one my JRPA Application was brought, initiated or commenced. This could not have been any later than mid to late November 2024.

9. Moreover, I note that all of the parties are entitled to Notice of Listing For Hearing (Form 68(B)) which was triggered by my paying for, filing and serving of the Certificate of Perfection. I also confirm that my December 24, 2024, requisition in this regard was approved by electronic issuance albeit some one month after it was filed herein, then further administratively filed in the JSO Portal, and served. At the very least, myself (Applicant) and the remaining respondents should be entitled to an approximate date of the hearing of this JRPA Application.

10. Leaving aside where that apparent copy and paste came from, I kindly ask, the statutory requirement would supersede whatever potential practice direction that may have arisen from, for a date this week or by latest Monday, February 10, 2025, to speak to my paid for, filed and serve NOM #1, motion record and written argument regarding the same.

11. I will continue to search for what you sent and if I find the same, I will promptly inform you of the same. If I am operating from antiquated and “no longer in effect” ‘practice directions’ (see: Divisional Court Practice Direction and JRPA Guide), I kindly ask that you inform me of the same.

12. Thank you kindly regarding the above.

^[1] They do not apply if a statute provides for a different procedure. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 1.02 \(1\); O. Reg. 484/94, s. 1; O. Reg. 288/99, s. 1 (1, 2); O. Reg. 292/99, s. 1 (1, 2); O. Reg. 131/04, s. 1 (1, 2); O. Reg. 394/09, s. 1.

Re #3: kind reiterated request of Ms. Badwal for alternate dates for a case conference (if applicable) based on my provided unavailability of February 18, 2025, without 48 hours of receipt of her email

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns

1. I write regarding the above. I adopt the definitions from the correspondence and filings herein.
2. I confirm that after contacting the LSO (Directory Services) yesterday that Mr. Nieuwland has since changed his information back to its original information. As such, I look forward to receipt of any required filings on behalf of the three respondent insurance companies (where applicable). I confirm that there has been a continuity of representation of the three respondent insurance companies since December 3, 2024. I confirm that my affidavits of service remain and there is no issue as to whether I served an unauthorized representative at any material times previously. Moreover, this is an important reversion because of the legal test in Ontario (Energy Board) in that the respondent insurance companies are available to provide argument and they have the necessary expertise and knowledge to do so on their own and through legal counsel. Moreover, the respondent insurance companies have filed a Notice of Appearance that they intended to respond to the JRPA Application. Moreover, the LAT is self-represented publicly as a quasi-judicial tribunal, this militates in favour of very limited (if any) participation by it. Without the record of proceeding having been filed by the Tribunal forthwith or at all, this renders its participation nearly nonexistent. I can also confirm that I have made a FIPPA request of the LAT (access and privacy division) so we will have an unequivocal frame of reference to compare the same to (if applicable).

3. I confirm that I have not waived any of my legal rights and will not do so unless you receive a separate signed letter from me regarding the same.

4. I need not address the matter any further. The remainder of this email is address to Madam Registrar Clegg and Ms. Badwal.

Dear Madam Registrar (Ms. Clegg):

5. I write in the most respectful and polite manner without any castigation whatsoever. I also write to ensure that we are referring to the same legal bases without any further confusion. Moreover, while appreciating the value of your time, I am sending this comprehensive email to confirm that I will continue to rely upon the JRPA and SPPA where applicable to the filing of the record of proceeding forthwith, the Rules of Civil Procedure and any “practice directions” (inclusive of the Divisional Court Judicial Review I have reviewed your email of yesterday again and attempted to cross-reference it to any other practice directions or guides involving the Divisional Court. However, I am unable to find any that reference the same. I have also had occasion to review your January 14, 2024, email (see: Appendix #1) and I do not believe I had a response in this regard.

6. In any event, on January 7, 2024, we received notice of a case conference before Madam Justice Shore. I promptly objected due to a perceived conflict of interest but filed affidavit #3 the next day. The email we received was neither an order nor endorsement, so Rule 59 did not apply. I continued to object to Madam Justice Shore's involvement in the JRPA Proceeding. I filed NOM #1 to have the Tribunal submit the record of proceedings, which they did without objection. Subsequently, I ensured my formal objection to Madam Justice Shore's involvement was heard through NOM #2, notifying Epstein Cole LLP and seeking respondents' positions without response. Mr. Papadimitropoulos later changed his employer from TD Insurance to TD Bank, which does not affect the conflict of interest concern.

7. Without making assumptions or delving too deeply into the content of yesterday's email which seems to be copied from an unknown source, I understand from your email that we may not receive a teleconference invitation for my NOM #1. I respect the valuable time of the court and justices; however, I would prefer to present my NOM #1 orally via telephone or Zoom in line with my written submission dated and filed January 30, 2025. If this is not feasible due to time constraints before February 14, 2025, I anticipatorily prepared for this scenario with my NOM #2, which is to be heard by written argument at this time. The responding parties are entitled to request oral arguments for NOM #2, which may also include NOM #1. I will await their notices or responsive materials regarding this matter and need not speculate any further.

8. I have again reviewed the Ontario Superior Court of Justice website and could not find any recent practice direction from the Divisional Court that aligns with what was mentioned in your email on January 14, 2025. If I am mistaken, please refer me to the most recent practice direction from the Divisional Court. The only “practice direction”, so titled, that I can find involving the Divisional Court is available on the www.ontariocourts.ca domain which is: <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/practice/div-court-pd/>

9. I note that it states the following which is a quote from the top of that document which is also referred to as “Annex 4”

~~8035~~

“Consolidated Practice Direction on Divisional Court Proceedings
Effective June 15, 2023

This practice direction applies to Divisional Court proceedings. It replaces all previously issued practice directions and notices to the profession for the Divisional Court and the Provincial Notice to the Profession, Parties, Public, and Media.”

10. In relation to the position that the Registrar is no longer sending out a Form 68(B), I again note the mandatory language in the Rules of Civil Procedure. I remain of the view that such a date should be provided even if approximate to avoid any potential for further delays (if applicable).

11. In relation to the Case Center invitation component, I rely on the Divisional Court JRPA Guide and its explicit language along with the Rules of Civil Procedure. If I am unable to discharge that obligation, then I kindly rely on this correspondence for that purpose and that I will have to take extra steps to ensure that the court file is before any justice of the Divisional Court at any relevant time. I wished to acclimate myself with Case Center and ensure that I had discharged that obligation but also to avoid any unnecessary work for the court staff in drawing the court file to the attention of a justice but I cannot create the invitation myself. I will continue to respectfully assert what I believe are my legal rights in order to discharge my obligations. To the extent that I am unable to do so, I will have to rely on this correspondence for that purpose.

12. I remain optimistic that you can provide the source of what you have cited in the email below by way of reference to the most recent practice direction(s) and yesterday’s email. However, if I do not receive the same, I will rely on what I have cited above, the Rules of Civil Procedure and the aforementioned statutes to govern my adherence to the law.

13. To the extent that I have any further requests outside of the same or that are consistent with the same, I will await to hear on the above and file formal requisitions so the record reflects the same. If I am incorrect and I am relying on the wrong practice direction and wrong Divisional Court Judicial Review Guide, you have my sincere apologies and I thank you for the indulgences.

Dear Ms. Badwal

14. I thank you again for your email regarding the proposed date of a case conference for February 18, 2025. As noted, I responded within 48 hours to confirm my unavailability and provided proposed other dates. As confirmed, I cannot attend on that date.

15. As you may be aware, since the time of your last email, the AGO, through counsel in Ms. Im, has confirmed that he will not be participating in this matter and need not be copied on any future correspondence.

16. Would you kindly provide alternate dates in any event so the remaining respondents and I can discuss the same and be respectful of court time?

17. Based on my reading of the Practice Direction, there are no costs associated with a case conference per se but preparation time may factor into the same at the end of a JRPA Proceeding. As such, and to be productive, efficient and prepared, would you kindly revert back to me at your earliest convenience?

18. If I am successful with my NOM #2 and some of the relief, including the adjourning the case conference generally and/or the disqualification of Madam Justice Shore, I will promptly notify you and I will presume you will receive notice of the same. In any event, I am erring on the side of caution and not engaging in any unnecessary speculation at this time.

19. Thank you kindly.

to me, Milene, Connor, Judie, Heather, Isibhakhomen, Div, Jesse, Matthew, christiana.ortiz@tdinsurance.com

Hello Mr. McLean,

A case conference has been directed to be scheduled in this matter.

Pursuant to the most recent Divisional Court practice directions all cases in Divisional Court are being case managed.

Accordingly, the dates are fixed once directed by the case management Judge, Court is no longer sending out a notice of listing for hearing.

Once a date has been scheduled further directions with respect to filing materials electronically and access to CaseCentre will be provided to the parties.

Thanks,

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (kind attention: Registrar) (with a copy to the responding parties):

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I attach the above noted document for urgent filing in light of my obligations to upload documents into Case Center in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure.
3. Based upon my review of the Rules of Civil Procedure, I am required to upload all filed documents, as required, at least three days before the returnable date of my NOM #2. Re: REQUISITION – ENTITLEMENT TO CASE CENTER INVITATION LINK SINCE JUDICIAL REVIEW APPLICATION WAS BROUGHT

RE #2: Likely discovery of the above mistakes regarding much of the above – including but not limited to: (i) timing of case center invitation; (ii) not all Divisional Court cases subject to case management (see: distinction between spent practice direction for divisional court proceedings and current practice direction for Divisional Court Proceeding (see: https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/practice/div-court-pd/#_Toc133391236); and (iii) motions being heard and decided particularly motions for interim relief; and (iv) others

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (kind attention: Registrar (Ms. Clegg)) (with a copy to the responding parties):

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I attach the above requisition so that I receive forthwith access to Case Center by way of invitation with a link to the same.
3. In reviewing your above noted emails and the apparent copy and paste of language, which I still cannot find, I believe I have solved the issues of being at cross-purposes and my referencing the current and only effective Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings and the statements above which I could not find current authority for.
4. As I was reviewing the Divisional Court JRPA Guide (see: <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/files/pubs/guide-div-ct-judicial-review-EN.pdf>) for the authority for providing the above requisition, I notice that there were two links at the bottom of the document (see: page 9). They are both spent, repealed and of no force and effect:
 - a. <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/practice/practice-directions/divisional-court/> [spent, repealed and no longer in force or effect]; and
 - b. <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/notices-and-orders-covid-19/div-ct-feb2021/> [spent, repealed and no longer in force or effect].
5. The spent practice direction states the following:

Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings IMPORTANT NOTICE

This notice has been superseded by Chief Justice Morawetz. Please see the Notices and Orders tab and for current information.
6. The spent “notice to profession” states as follows:

Notice to Profession – Divisional CourtNOTICE NO LONGER IN EFFECT

7. The current, valid and effective Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings is: https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/practice/div-court-pd/#_Toc133391268 (the “Divisional Court Practice Direction”, “Valid Practice Direction” or “Current Practice Direction”).

8. It Divisional Court Practice Direction states the following [emphasis is mine]:

“Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court ProceedingsEffective June 15, 2023

This practice direction applies to Divisional Court proceedings. It replaces all previously issued practice directions and notices to the profession for the Divisional Court and the Provincial Notice to the Profession, Parties, Public, and Media.

9. I am still reviewing the distinctions between the same but two distinctions immediately jump out at me which are as follows.

10. The spent notice to profession states language similar to what you represented to me on January 14, 2025, and what the remaining respondents have erroneously been relying upon which is at D7:

SPENT“D.7. Case Management

1. All matters in Divisional Court, and all steps in all matters in Divisional Court, are subject to judicial case management. The purpose of case management is to facilitate the timely adjudication of all matters in Divisional Court in a cost-effective and proportional manner.”

SPENT

11. The language since June 15, 2023, as per the Honourable Chief Justice Morawetz is as follows in relation to case management:

“All applications, appeals, and motions in Divisional Court, and all steps in those proceedings, MAY be subject to judicial case management.

12. There is another important distinction involving motions particularly those for interim relief involving my NOM #1 and NOM #2 which is present in the current and valid Practice Direction (effective June 15, 2023) but not in the previous and spent practice direction and spent notice to profession.

13. It is trite that the Valid Practice Direction is subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure. While the JRPA Guide Divisional Court has two spent hyperlinked documents, there is a reference that notices to the profession are updated annually. It is trite that the Honourable Chief Justice, by way of the Valid Practice Direction, issued a consolidated practice direction (Valid Practice Direction) that superseded and extinguished the spent notice to profession and spent practice direction, so hyperlinked in the Divisional Court JRPA Guide. However, the language and timing as it relates to the Case Center invitation remains.

14. I will continue to review the above but this ~~3088~~ solves the discrepancy that we were having on an intellectual level.

15. I look forward to receiving my invitation to Case Center forthwith. In this regard, I can then attend to uploading all documents that I have filed and acclimating myself with Case Center.

16. This is also a full answer to the requirements of the responding parties to providing responsive documents to NOM #1 (where applicable) and NOM #2. While NOM #2 will not require a teleconference or case conference invitation, I still say I remain entitled to such an invitation but if not, said relief can be decided by a single motion judge for interim relief (see: Valid Practice Direction, (no requirement of being 'directed' as it once was).

17. This is also an answer to the failure of the remaining respondents to file and serve factums and application records because Rule 38.02 and Rule 38.09 are inapplicable to Divisional Court proceedings. Moreover, any such potential case conference would not have obviated their obligations to have filed and served responsive factums and application records. While the PREVIOUS AND SPENT PRACTICE DIRECTION or SPENT NOTICE TO PROFESSION may have had that effect, which I do not admit, the CURRENT PRACTICE DIRECTION does not.

18. Irrespective of the above, the applicant and remaining respondents will need an answer regarding the conflict of interest issue involving Madam Justice Shore before any such potential case conference could occur. In light of the above, I confirm that I look forward to receiving notices or documents from the remaining respondents in relation to NOM #2. I remind the Tribunal of its ongoing statutory obligation, which it remains delinquent, to file the record of proceeding forthwith for use by the court (see: section 10 of the JRPA).

19. While the misconception or misdirection regarding the correct and current Valid Practice Direction has been unnecessarily arduous for all involved, all is well that ends well is my view.

20. I may provide copies of the above noted documents for ease of reference to ensure we need not revisit this unfortunate "two trains passing in the night situation" and the 'record of proceeding herein' is accurate and compliant with the law with supporting documentation.

21. With that segue, I await the required documents that I have previously requisitioned and the invitation to Case Center et al.

22. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re confirmation that I am entitled to the record of proceeding by way of being the party to the LAT Proceeding pursuant to those records being “adjudicative records” – dispensing with the need for a FIPPA request

Dear ONSC Divisional Court, Remaining Respondents et al:

1. I write regarding the above and confirm the above “regarding line”.
2. Due to Mr. Boyce’s delinquency and causing of the Tribunal’s breach of its statutory obligations under the JRPA and the SPPA, you may recall that I made a FIPPA request of the LAT for the record of proceeding during the temporal period from December 23, 2024, to the time of the VCM Decision (September 13, 2024). By way of full disclosure and courtesy, I have since learned a FIPPA request was not required along with the payment of prescribed application fees et al, which could have caused further delays, as I am a party to the LAT Proceeding and they are “adjudicative records”. I redirected my request to the email thereafter in prompt fashion with thanks to one of the privacy officers at the LAT (access and privacy request division). Shockingly but not surprisingly the LAT was not responsive.
3. Taking a cue from a previous access request where timelines were arbitrarily shifted, which was most successful, I copied this morning The Honourable Attorney General of Ontario Mr. Downey and Executive Chair of the Tribunals Ontario in Mr. Sean Weir. A copy of my email has been faxed and a copy will be delivered to the AGO’s office which is ironically the same office address as where the erudite and esteemed Ms. Im works from by way of business name and address.
4. I have ensured they are aware of the continued urgency of the same and the plethora of obligations that the Tribunal has to provide me with the same but still file on its own along with my rights as a judicial review applicant.
5. To the extent that I learn that the Tribunal does not have the full and accurate record of proceeding, I will promptly advise all herein. I have confirmed with the above LAT (adjudicative records division), AGO and EC of Tribunals Ontario that if no documents are provided to me today I am entitled to presume that the LAT does not have the full record of proceeding and an adverse inference will need to be drawn. To the extent that forthwith production to me is provided, I will be forthcoming and then serve the same and file for the court’s use. While that will eliminate the requirement for relief sought in NOM #1, I will still seek costs against the Tribunal for being put to this continued unnecessary expense.
6. I am also looking into whether Mr. Boyce had even requested a copy of the same for filing with the court in this JRPA Proceeding. If he had done so, then the LAT would be able to provide me with the same copy by three p.m. today. If he has not, then it may mean it will need a little bit longer – although the requirement is forthwith filing.

7. As I have provided an Application Record that covers late June to September 13, 2024, this leaves December 23, 2023, to mid to late June 2024. That being said, I have also provided the LAT Appeal and SNIC Response. As a result of the alleged conflict of interest (reasonably perceived), I have provided some of the documentary evidence (sworn) so filed between that temporal period.

8. That being said, I look forward to seeing the compilation of the same by the Tribunal and any index along with changes in style of cause (if any).

9. Thank you.

URGENT COURTESY NOTICE TO TRIBUNAL AND RESPONDENT INSURANCE COMPANIES

VIA EMAIL (see: scj-csj.divcourtmail@ontario.ca)

Type of document: email

Party: Applicant (Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM))

Re #1: courtesy notice - a matter involving the potential yet highly probable unlawful sharing of documents and communications between the Tribunal and the Respondent Insurance Companies – specifically the Respondent Insurance Companies utilizing a word document from the Tribunal to file its NOA on December 3, 2024 – leads to conclusion that neither the current counsel for the Remaining Respondents can act further

Re #2: residual – involving the record of proceeding – current status with further status updates for the benefit of the court of the very record of proceeding that was to be filed for its use – involving its constitutional imperatives

Dear Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies (copied to the ONSC Divisional Court):

VOLUME #1: URGENTLY SENT REGARDING RE #1

1. I write regarding the above. As I write on an urgent basis so the Remaining Respondents and their counsel do not feel they have been ambushed by the above issue that I have learned of yesterday by way of careful review with each document (NOAs) side-by-side.
2. I am still investigating the above matter with further analysis to follow and potentially an affidavit for the court file. Since it is alarming on its face, I have been comprehensive herein so that none of the Remaining Respondents can argue that they did not have notice regarding the same.
3. Further, I reserve the right to further edit this correspondence for grammar, spelling, punctuation and any erroneous double negatives but the substance will remain the same.
4. As you will know from the above email thread, the facts regarding the timing of what occurred and by whom is not in dispute. I will, as a courtesy, outline the material facts and look forward to hearing from the above in the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies in an open, honest and transparent manner.
5. On November 27, 2024, the Tribunal, as per Mr. Boyce, filed and served its Notice of Appearance.
6. At said time, the Respondent Insurance Companies had not filed or served a singular email let alone with a Notice of Appearance.

7. As per the template form a Notice Of Appearance, it has little in the way of wording and guidance (see: rcp-38a-e.pdf).

8. In early December 2024, I took the position consistent with the Divisional Court JRPA Guide that as TDHA and SNIC had not participated in the hearings for NOM #14 and #15 that they were not entitled to participate in the JRPA Proceeding. Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal took a different position regarding the same. I took the step of removing Mr. Nieuwland from emails without the Divisional Court so copied to the same. Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal re-included Mr. Nieuwland in the email communications.

9. I also alerted the Tribunal that as the requirement was for any respondent who wished to participate and intended to respond to the JRPA Application to forthwith file a Notice of Appearance and none had been filed and served by the Respondent Insurance Companies that I was not aware of any legal bases to continue to include Mr. Nieuwland, counsel at the inferior Tribunal level, to remain. Mr. Boyce's position, while prima facie sensible, was that all counsel for the named respondents, not necessarily "parties", should be copied. However, it was not the law and declared counsel at the inferior Tribunal level for a party (or even a non-party) are not necessarily counsel at the appellate level.

10. In any event, on December 3, 2024, at shortly before five p.m., Mr. Nieuwland served and filed a Notice of Appearance. I obviously took issue with the lack of forthwith filing and the language in the covering email so attaching the same. In any event, Mr. Nieuwland represented in a formal prescribed document with the ONSC Divisional Court that he was counsel to each of the Respondent Insurance Companies. As all will recall, Mr. Nieuwland was counsel to TDGIC, by way of Declaration of Representative for TDGIC on or around January 29, 2024, and then SNIC on or around June 28, 2024. No lawyer licensee had declared himself or herself as counsel to TDHA in the LAT Proceeding.

11. What is most alarming, at least by appearance, is an aspect of the "Notices Of Appearances" themselves that I had not picked up at said time because of the incorrect email utilized by the Tribunal and then so copied by the Respondent Insurance Companies thereafter. I noticed the same when finalizing the documents for my Compendium in that they have the same following aspects:

- a. Font (see: 11.5 and Arial);
- b. Spacing;
- c. Layout;
- d. Same "Divisional Court file number in 'shorthand' or abbreviated style: "Divisional Court File No.: 718/24"); and
- e. Other particulars.

12. Moreover, there are errors in the Respondent Insurance Companies [emphasis on 'plural'] as a result of what I believe was a result of the Tribunal sending the Respondent Insurance Companies a "Word" document of its NOA for usage by the Respondent Insurance Companies. I have a multitude of reasons as to why I believe, on reasonable grounds, that the Tribunal did so. One reason why I believe a "Word" copy was sent is that I attempted, as a step in investigating the same, to download the Tribunal's filed and served NOA. When I did so, many of the lines, spacing, borders were different and then difficult, if not impossible, to reimplement.

13. The Tribunal utilized, as it was not a signed document per se, "Adobe PDF Maker" but the Respondent Insurance Companies utilized "Microsoft Word for Microsoft 365". You may check for yourself by way of checking the "properties" in the "metadata"^[1]. The distinction is one with a crucial difference as per the above.

14. Moreover, when reviewing the timing on December 3, 2024, and Mr. Boyce's insistence of including Mr. Nieuwland in the email thread, it becomes extremely concerning and likely disabling for Mr. Boyce to act for the Tribunal. While there has not been much in the way of participation by the Tribunal, I am compelled to put this on the record to ensure that my ~~former~~ position, to be solidified, by further analysis, has been provided by way of notice to the above.

15. The obvious devil's advocate type position is likely, "So what Mr. McLean, it is two lawyers (members of the LSO and lawyer licensees) in one for the Tribunal and another for the respondent insurance companies sharing a document to be filed in the Divisional Court proceeding?"

16. If it were two lawyers who were both representing non-public or non-government entities, I would be inclined to not be so technical about it. Moreover, within the span of three months or 90 days on Friday, February 14, 2025, this JRPA Proceeding has covered more idiosyncratic, alarming, troubling and deeply concerning facts in how the Rules of Civil Procedure and process of this ONSC Divisional Court has been misused or abused by them:

- a. Mr. Nieuwland not filing and serving the requisite information under the Divisional Court Practice Direction under the heading of "Information To Be Submitted to the Court";
- b. Mr. Boyce removing the business name of his employer in the SLASTO Legal Unit and address but only after receipt of my affidavit #2 on December 30, 2024;
 - i. The requirement for me to confirm his current address with the LSO (Directory Services);
- c. The respondent insurance companies not filing a responsive factum and application record in accordance with Rule 68;
- d. The Tribunal not filing a responsive factum and application record in accordance with Rule 68 and the jurisprudence not above (i.e. not arguing the merits, the standard of review, and remaining impartial by appearance and actuality);
- e. Neither the Tribunal nor respondent insurance companies providing their position of a potential RAOB involving Madam Justice Shore;
- f. Mr. Papadimitropoulos' employer and address with the LSO suspiciously changing from "TD Insurance" to "TD Bank", and from Markham to Toronto (downtown);
- g. Mr. Nieuwland's status with the LSO changing, in non-compliant form with the LSA and LSO By-Laws, some time in late January or early February 2025 from not only having an employer and business address to that of a "to be confirmed" status as a lawyer; and
- h. Mr. Papadimitropoulos' auto reply on Friday, February 7, 2025, that he was not returning to his apparent new position with TD Bank (FIN 004) without providing his position regarding the RAOB;
- i. The Tribunal not even filing a singular document from the Record of Proceeding along with Mr. Boyce not complying with his self-imposed timelines;
- j. The Tribunal not opposing my paid for, filed and served NOM #1 and not raising any objection to the motion record for NOM #1;
- k. The necessity of me making a FIPPA request for the Record of Proceeding and awaiting a response from the EC of Tribunals Ontario as there is no "Associate Chair" for the LAT like other Tribunals in the Tribunals Ontario;
 - i. Said FIPPA request was not necessary because I am a party to the LAT Proceeding and the documents forming the Record Of Proceeding during the ROP Temporal Period are "adjudicative records";
- l. Other particulars in the made, filed and served documents in the record of this JRPA Proceeding.

17. But more importantly, it is not my opinion that matters but the opinions of the SCC, ONCA, and this revered ONSC Divisional Court that matter and count.

18. The legal test since 2016 regarding the scope of the Tribunal's participation in a judicial review or appeal, with some level of analytical precision required thereafter to each province involving whether a judicial review was brought from an impugned decision or order or whether an appeal was taken from the same, was articulated at paragraph 59 of Ontario (Energy Board):

- a. If an appeal or review were to be otherwise unopposed, a reviewing court may benefit by exercising its discretion to grant Tribunal standing;
- b. If there are other parties available to oppose a[n]... review, and those parties have the necessary knowledge and expertise to fully make and respond to arguments on ... review, Tribunal standing may be less important in ensuring just outcomes; and
- c. Whether the Tribunal adjudicates individual conflicts between two adversarial parties, or whether it instead serves a policy-making, regulatory or investigative role, or acts on behalf of the public interest, bears on the degree to which impartiality concerns are raised. Such concerns may weigh more heavily where the Tribunal served an adjudicatory function in the proceeding that is the subject of the appeal, while a proceeding in which the Tribunal adopts a more regulatory role may not raise such concerns.”

19. As a judicial review was brought herein, it is section 9(2) of the JRPA that is unclear on the scope of participation by any statutory decision maker.

20. There is no dispute that the Respondent Insurance Companies filed the NOA and this JRPA Application was not unopposed per se.

21. There is no dispute that the Respondent Insurance Companies are available to oppose, and they have the necessary knowledge and expertise.

22. Further, the Tribunal represents itself to not only be “adjudicative” but “quasi-judicial”. As such, the three factors militate in favour of minimal participation by the Tribunal. As the Tribunal has not been able to file a record of proceeding forthwith or at all, this factor further militates in favour of no participation by the Tribunal.

VOLUME #1(A): The issue of unfairness and ‘being ganged upon on’

23. The issue of unfairness and an applicant for judicial review being “ganged up on” was squarely addressed in 2016 by the SCC in Ontario (Energy Board) at paragraph 67:

“[67] There is merit in both positions on the issue of bootstrapping. On the one hand, a permissive stance toward new arguments by Tribunals on appeal serves the interests of justice insofar as it ensures that a reviewing court is presented with the strongest arguments in favour of both sides: Semple, at p. 315. This remains true even if those arguments were not included in the Tribunal’s original reasons. On the other hand, to permit bootstrapping may undermine the importance of reasoned, well-written original decisions. There is also the possibility that a Tribunal, surprising the parties with new arguments in an appeal or judicial review after its initial decision, may lead the parties to see the process as unfair. This may be particularly true where a Tribunal is tasked with adjudicating matters between two private litigants, as the introduction of new arguments by the Tribunal on appeal may give the appearance that it is “ganging up” on one party. As discussed, however, it may be less appropriate in general for a Tribunal sitting in this type of role to participate as a party on appeal.”

24. However, the concept of an applicant being “ganged up on” by the statutory Tribunal and the respondents in a judicial review was articulated against the backdrop of “bootstrapping” (see: paragraphs

63 to 72 of Ontario (Energy Board)). It is far worse in this situation if the Tribunal is assisting counsel to the three respondent insurance companies in rectifying a failure to comply with the Rules of Civil Procedure. When measured against the backdrop that this is the Licence Appeal Tribunal, a quasi-judicial agency which is tasked with engaging in resolving disputes between two private litigants (nota bene: more in this scenario as I have had to take on three of the four automotive insurance companies) and individuals that have been injured, through no fault of their own, in an automobile accident, it is a further aggravating factor.

25. Put another way, the introduction of a “new argument” on judicial review is far less egregious than the Tribunal assisting the respondent in a judicial review irrespective of a party status (i.e. insured person or insurance company). It can never happen. However, it is more egregious if the Tribunal assists an insurance company(ies) in a judicial review when the insurance company is a respondent and did not participate in the hearings involving the impugned final orders and final decisions.

26. This Honourable Court has the power to exercise its inherent discretion to control abuses of its process. If there is any further participation or purported participation by the Tribunal and the Respondent Insurance Companies through these in-house counsel to each, I will ask that this Honourable Court disregard any of their filings or oral submissions.

27. There is but one exception which involves the Tribunal’s statutory requirement under section 10 of the JRPA.

VOLUME #2: RE #2: THE RESIDUAL: RECORD OF PROCEEDING (CURRENT STATUS AS OF FEBRUARY 9, 2025)

28. With that segue, Mr. Boyce did refer, albeit in separate emails without the court’s involvement, the concept of waiving the requirement to file the record of proceeding to expedite the proceeding. I never waived the requirement but in fairness, Mr. Boyce did refer to a lengthier time of 60 days to file the record of proceeding. We are well past that self-imposed non-consensual timeline. In any event, for any waiver to have occurred, it would have required all involved at the relevant time which would have included the AGO. No such consent was ever sought or jointly approved by all of the relevant respondents and me.

29. Moreover, I do not believe that the parties can waive a statutory requirement of the Tribunal to forthwith file a Record Of Proceeding as it is for the court’s use. I am unaware of any authorities that would support Mr. Boyce’s position regarding a waiver of filing the record of proceeding for the court’s use to purportedly expedite a JRPA proceeding. I welcome his comments in that regard.

30. I can confirm that I did not hear back from the LAT, inclusive of the AGO Mr. Downey and Mr. Weir (Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario) (as there is no ‘Associate Chair’ for the LAT).

31. As I have sworn under oath, on belief, I remain of the sworn belief, whilst citing the sources at the time, that the Tribunal does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding.

VOLUME #3: The importance of real and PERCEIVED fairness in this ONSC Divisional Court Proceeding

32. For Tribunals tasked with this latter responsibility, “the importance of fairness, real and perceived, weighs more heavily” against Tribunal standing: Henthorne v. British Columbia Ferry Services Inc., 2011 BCCA 476, 344 D.L.R. (4th) 292, at para. 42 (see: Ontario (Energy Board) at paragraph 56).

33. The importance of fairness, real and perceived, weighs more heavily against Tribunal standing where the Tribunal served an adjudicatory function in the proceeding. Tribunal standing is a matter to be determined by the court conducting the first-instance review in accordance with the principled exercise of that court's discretion. In exercising its discretion, the court is required to balance the need for fully informed adjudication against the importance of maintaining Tribunal impartiality: summary by the SCC in Ontario (Energy Board).

34. The obvious reasonable person's perception of the above noted conduct but particularly the prima facie similarities between the Tribunal's filed and served NOA (November 27, 2024) and the Respondent Insurance Companies' filed and served NOA (December 3, 2024).

35. As such, the necessary and available evidence is before the ONSC Divisional Court. For notice purposes, I will provide, wherein I have to remain some flexible, adaptable and on-call, with the continued urgency of this JRPA Proceeding and timelines under the Rules of Civil Procedure, my position will be, subject to receiving sworn affidavits from Mr. Boyce and Mr. Nieuwland regarding the above that no such sharing of documents denoted above or communications without me being copied had occurred between them or their agents, that neither of them can act for their clients. While it is my position, they are now on notice of the same.

36. The concern expressed publicly by the Ontario Trial Lawyers Association ("OTLA") regarding the diminishing numbers of successful injured persons before the Tribunal is no small consequence.

37. I have hyperlinked and quoted the below:

"OTLA Pushes for Urgent LAT Review (see: <https://www.lawtimesnews.com/practice-areas/personal-injury/otla-pushes-for-urgent-licence-appeal-Tribunal-review/389679>)

"The association cited "disturbing trends" drawn from an inHEALTH analysis". OTLA noted that the success rate for insured applicants bringing their disputes to LAT has fallen over the years, with just 10% getting a win in 2023 compared to 2017's 33%. "Our members have voiced concerns that the LAT's process is overly rigid, is fraught with procedural unfairness, and fails to accommodate requests, even when both parties agree. This also raises important questions about the qualifications and training of LAT adjudicators," Purewal said.

"The LAT is an arm of our justice system. Injured Ontario citizens should feel confident that they are getting a fair hearing, and that justice is being done. Unfortunately, with the recent declining trends in success rates for applicants and the overwhelming success of insurers is raising significant questions for our membership."

38. As appended to one of my previous affidavits, Mr. Boyce, when he was an adjudicator or Vice Chair at the LAT, rule 14 times in favour of the three insurance companies against injured persons without a singular decision fully in favour of an injured person. Some may say pure coincidence.

39. However, from a public interest perspective, it is again the case so well-known to the ONSC Divisional Court in Shuttleworth that was upheld by the ONCA on appeal by the Tribunal that provided that unwritten policy of concern. I copy and paste the same from the ONSC Divisional Court regarding the same or by way of recitation by the ONCA [square brackets and double underlining are mine]:

"The Decision Review Process

[24] In-house counsel for the LAT swore an affidavit explaining that the executive chair implemented a decision review process at the LAT. The stated reason was to maximize the quality of the Tribunal's decisions. The peer review process has not been adopted formally. No written policy was provided but counsel swore that, "generally, the LAT decision review process for final decisions is, and at all material times in this case was" as follows:

[Step 1]

First, there is peer review: After drafting a decision, an adjudicator is expected to send the decision for peer review by the Duty Vice-Chair. The Duty Chair offers suggestions to improve clarity, reasoning and readability and might also evaluate, for example, whether the correct legal test has been applied and whether any related case law that was not mentioned might be helpful.

[Step 2: Mr. Boyce's Legal Services Unit in SLASTO]

Second, there is legal review: The SLASTO Legal Services Unit reviews the decision to ensure [guarantee] that the correct legal test has been applied and to identify any related case law that was not mentioned that might be helpful^[iii].

Third, there is a second peer review by the executive chair: "In some rare instances – such as when a decision involves a novel, contentious, precedent-setting, or high-profile issue – the Legal Services Unit will send the decision to the Executive chair for her review. In these instances, the Executive chair serves, in essence, as a second peer reviewer and accordingly will order the same kinds of comments that the author would typically receive during the initial peer review."

Fourth, there is a review by the file's case management officer: The case management officer acts as an intake officer and primary point of contact for the parties. This review involves examining the decision's format, correcting grammatical and spelling errors, and ensuring that the template and parties' names are correct." [Emphasis added.]

40. The numbers are providing corroboration for the fact that injured persons are losing their cases, with no substantial variable differentiation between injuries, from some five years ago to 2024. In approximate numbers, injured persons have dropped from a 30 percent success rate to a less than ten percent success rate.

41. Referring to the above, the Executive Chair is that of Mr. Sean Weir. The very Mr. Weir who I have requested that he cause the Tribunal to provide me with the records that form the Record of Proceeding. I look forward to hearing from him tomorrow as to the same as I made the request some nearly ten days ago at first instance.

42. The LAT does not appear to have a "Duty Vice Chair" at least by public directory. As such, the second and third steps involve the SLASTO Legal Services Unit of which Mr. Boyce has been a part of since his resignation from his adjudicative capacity in or around 2023 and the Executive Chair in Mr. Weir. As such, it must be of serious concern if Mr. Boyce was providing legal advice to the adjudicative decision makers in VC Morrisette and VC Lake (on reconsideration) and then representing the Tribunal on judicial review particularly in light of the above. I remain of the view that the human nature element is one where those all working from 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, renders it one where those in-house lawyers with the SLASTO legal unit cannot disabuse their minds (at least subconsciously) from engaging an adversarial position on the merits at the hearing of a judicial review. Put another way, my concerns have been more so that Mr. Boyce would be arguing more in favour of his self-interest of the legal advice he provided or one of his close colleagues provided the statutory decision makers as opposed to being an officer of the court. In that regard, I say that it amounts to a conflict of interest for Mr. Boyce subject to swearing an affidavit for that sole purpose.

43. More concerning from a public interest standpoint, we have the answer to what is of great concern to the esteemed association known as the Ontario Trial Lawyers Association in how injured persons are losing their SABS claims in the Tribunal at nearly over 90 percent. Certainly the legal counsel representing them have only become more astute and dedicated to their crafts. The health care professionals are more attuned to their requirements and working with their patients to ensure that they are compliant with the requirements under Reg 283 and SABS.

44. However, with the mobility of vice-chairs and adjudicators (part time and full time) as called members of the LSO in varying capacities, this Court can take judicial notice that lawyers are fully entitled to have outside relationships with each other on a personal level.

45. Moreover, if what I believe to be correct is correct above and not disputed that counsel for the Tribunal and counsel for the Respondent Insurance Companies are sharing even template documents via whatever method, it is only reasonable to infer that they may talk about other files involving other injured persons where the SLASTO Legal Unit may give advice to an adjudicator or vice-chair. Moreover, it is only reasonable to infer that those communications, without an injured person copied to the same, would occur not only at the appellate court level but also involving current cases before the Tribunal. Even if there is nothing explicit from a lawyer for an insurance company to a legal practitioner in the SLASTO Legal Services Unit, the ripple effect and the perception of bias that filters through to the adjudicators and vice-chairs is likely a large component of why injured persons are not receiving a fair shake at the Tribunal along with unjust outcomes.

46. To the extent that they request any right to be heard orally, I remind them their duties are most elevated as “officers of the court”.

47. While I cannot stop the Remaining Respondents from filing documents through these counsel, if they do, I will reserve the right to rely on this correspondence and any further correspondence addressing the same.

48. While the Remaining Respondents cannot be forced to defend or respond to the JRPA Application, Applicant’s Factum and Application Record, or motions, this Divisional Court can make orders, declarations and findings arising from the same for the benefit of the public interest.

49. As articulated in Ontario (Energy Board), “[50] The principle of impartiality is implicated by Tribunal argument on appeal, because decisions may in some cases be remitted to the Tribunal for further consideration. Stratas J.A. found that “[s]ubmissions by the Tribunal in a judicial review proceeding that descend too far, too intensely, or too aggressively into the merits of the matter before the Tribunal may disable the Tribunal from conducting an impartial redetermination of the merits later”: Quadrini, at para. 16. However, he ultimately found that these principles did not mandate “hard and fast rules”, and endorsed the discretionary approach set out by the Ontario Court of Appeal in Goodis: Quadrini, at paras. 19-20”, there are no hard and fast rules. Abuse of process is somewhat amorphous and flexible.

50. If the JRPA Proceeding was not an urgent one, as pleaded with the relief sought in the JRPA Application, I would have been inclined to seek relief to strike the NOA’s filed by the Tribunal and the Respondent Insurance Companies under some of the same grounds but different legal grounds.

51. However, I will consider my options but unequivocally ask the Divisional Court to disregard any potential filings or oral submissions by the Tribunal through Mr. Boyce (at the very least) pursuant to the legal principles in Taylor v. Pivotal Integrated HR Solutions, 2021 ONSC 7720, at paragraphs 18 to 20. For ease of reference, paragraph 20 from the decision of the Divisional Court so found as a pure question of law:

[20] Once a Tribunal is a party, the court still has discretion as to the scope of participation to be accorded to the Tribunal during the hearing. This involves balancing the need for fully informed adjudication against the importance of maintaining Tribunal impartiality: Hydro Ottawa v. Ontario (Workplace Safety and Insurance Appeals Tribunal), 2019 ONSC 4898 (Div. Ct.), at para. 6. This court is under no obligation to accept the submissions of a Tribunal that appears before it.”

52. As the Respondent Insurance Companies’ NOA post-dated the Tribunal’s NOA, I will ask that the Court disregard any potential filings or oral submissions on behalf of the Respondent Insurance Companies through Mr. Nieuwland or TD Insurance Staff Legal [not “lawyers” [sic] underneath said business name which appears to be an error as a result of the template created by the LAT that I say was sent from the Tribunal to TD Insurance Staff Lawyers).

53. If those potentials do not occur, I will proceed accordingly whilst reserving my rights generally and specifically. In any event, whatever could be filed or submitted (orally or in writing), the Tribunal is precluded from duplicating the argument of the Respondent Insurance Companies.

54. To the extent that the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Tribunal do not deny the same, I will rely on the adverse inference legal principle.

55. To the extent that I do not receive the entire and full adjudicative records for the Record of Proceeding from the LAT, by email to the LAT Registrar along with Mr. Weir and the AGO, I will submit (in writing and potentially orally) that the doctrine of spoliation is applicable.

Volume #4: Why the current counsels of record for the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies more than likely communicated and assisted each other in a clandestine and unfair manner – disabling both from further participation

56. I have attached copies of the above Notices of Appearance for ease of reference so any recipient can cross-reference my facts above including the metadata.

57. What I will conclude with for one of the many grounds of my belief, which may be reduced to an affidavit and which I currently say is reasonably grounded, is page 2 of 3 of the Respondent Insurance Companies’ NOA under the second and fourth “AND TO:” [whilst not being able to keep the exact same spacing and formatting as I do not have a “Word” version of the same].

Dear Ms. Lawrence (copied to Ms. Badwal and others in Scheduling):

Thank you for your email below. For some reason, it was delivered to a separate thread. Would you kindly continue the email thread, in the future, herein so there is continuity and consistency? Thank you in this regard. I have copied and pasted the same for ease of reference.

Also, I have been unequivocal with the Court since the time of learning of Madam Justice Shore being referenced at all that there is a conflict of interest. I brought forward and filed an affidavit (my affidavit #3) within a day of said conflict of interest. I then filed submissions to be brought to the attention of the Chief Justice and Associate Chief Justice in this regard. When I did not hear back, I filed my motion #2 for it to be returnable this Friday in writing. The Remaining Respondents have until the end of the business day to file their responsive materials and/or provide any objections regarding the same. I will await their positions in this regard.

Moreover, from a scheduling standpoint, I have repeatedly confirmed that I am not available on February 18, 2025, and I provided alternate dates. I object to the materials being drawn to the attention of Madam Justice Shore for a case conference as per my motion #2. Please see above.

Kindly provide alternate dates in any event because I am not available on that date.

As per the Civil Rules, I am required to have a Compendium filed and served by two p.m. today, I will respond thereafter and see what has been filed and served (if any) from the Responding parties.

In the interim, I can also confirm that I have not heard back from the LAT FIPPA division, Mr. Weir et al regarding the record of proceeding. It appears that some or all of the record of proceeding from the relevant time period has been lost or misplaced.

However, I felt compelled to draw this to your attention as per the separate email. I reserve the right to rely upon the same in the event there is an attempt to take any step in proceeding with my known absence. Thank you.

Re: Rule 4.05.3: continued and outstanding requisition for access invitation to Case Center – thank you

Dear Ms. Lawrence (ONSC Divisional Court):

Thank you again for your email. To confirm as well, as per my filed and issued requisition regarding Case Center (see: February 5, 2025), would you kindly ensure that the invite is provided to me and all respondents in this regard so documents can be filed and uploaded regarding the same.

This is applicable under the Rules of Civil Procedure irrespective of whether it is a motion hearing, hearing of the JRPA Application and/or a conference.

In this regard, I draw your attention to Rule 4.05.3 at Appendix. In this regard, the only exception is that of the compendium for an unopposed or motion on consent or a conference.

However, as the date is now Tuesday, February 11, 2025, all of the “parties” (while undefined under the ROCP) did not receive access to Case Center (at least for this case herein) which means that as a result of the below, all of the parties were unable to upload five days before the date which I have confirmed that I cannot attend.

In the circumstances, it is yet another reason that the case conference must be adjourned to another date. I have not waived my right to be able to upload materials to Case Center for any hearing or case conference or otherwise.

Kindly provide an access invitation link by noon today as I have a deadline below for two p.m. The same applies to the responding parties as well. Thank you.

Appendix

Case Center

4.05.3 (1) In this rule,

“Case Center” means the software authorized by the Ministry of the Attorney General for the purposes of this rule and that is available on the internet under the name “Case Center”. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 7; O. Reg. 301/24, s. 1.

Application

(2) Unless the court directs otherwise, this rule applies to all or part of any hearing, pre-trial conference or case conference held in the Superior Court of Justice or the Divisional Court. O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (1).

Requirement to Use Case Center

(3) Every party participating in the hearing or conference shall provide the following documents to the court by uploading them to Case Center in accordance with this rule:

1. A copy of every document filed with the court by the party in respect of the hearing or conference.
 2. Subject to subrule (5), a copy of any other document in the court file on which the party intends to rely at the hearing or conference that has not already been uploaded to Case Center by another party.
 3. Unless the court directs otherwise and subject to subrule (3.1), a compendium that meets the requirements of subrule (7). O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (1).
- (3.1) A compendium is not required to be provided with respect to a conference or the hearing of an unopposed motion or motion on consent, unless the court directs otherwise. O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (1).

Deadline

- (4) Subject to subrule (5), the documents listed in subrule (3) must be uploaded to Case Center by the following deadline:
1. In the case of the hearing of a motion or application where the party is required to give the registrar a confirmation of motion (Form 37B) or confirmation of application (Form 38B), the deadline is 2 p.m. three days before the hearing date, unless the court orders otherwise.
 2. In any other case, the deadline is five days before the date of the hearing or conference, unless the court orders otherwise. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 7; O. Reg. 224/22, s. 1; O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (6); O. Reg. 301/24, s. 1.

Party: Applicant

Re: confirmation – kind notice – if I do not have access invitation link to Case Center within a reasonable time before two p.m. today – i.e. 12 p.m. – I will have to request that the Chief Justice (by email with supporting documents or affidavit to follow) to direct the court staff to provide me and others with invitation to Case Center – without prejudice to my rights

- Re #2: confirmation – kind notice – potential case conference – subject to my NOM #2 – which includes relief from NOM #1 – requires as per the Rules of Civil Procedure a Case Center invitation with sufficient time to upload each and every document that a party wishes to rely upon – at least five days before a ‘conference’ exclusive of compendium

- Re #3: confirmation – I confirm within 48 hours my unavailability for February 18, 2025 – have not received a response regarding the same – kindly provide alternate dates regarding the same

- Re #4: my Compendium (see: Rule 4.05.3(7)^[i] and (8) for NOM #2 – will be filed and served before two p.m. today – will await the potential notices or responsive documents from the Responding Parties and Interested Persons regarding the same – thereafter I will provide a written outline (argument) or oral outline depending upon any notices pursuant to Rule 37.12(5) from the responding parties

Dear Ms. Lawrence, Ms. Clegg, Ms. Badwal et al (ONSC Divisional Court (Registrar Division and Scheduling):

1. Out of an abundance of caution, I write regarding the above.
2. I will presume unless I hear otherwise that all of the above “regarding headings” herein are sufficiently clear.
3. In relation to Re #1, I confirm that I would find that most regrettable if I am required to do so and I trust I will not have to do so. However, the filed requisitions in this regard are self-explanatory. The Divisional Court JRPA Guide is unequivocal that I was entitled to receive the invitation after I brought the JRPA Application.
4. In relation to Re #2 and #3, had a Case Center invitation link been provided to the parties at the appropriate time, this would not have been an issue. However, a case conference cannot be conducted as none of the potential participants can upload their filed documents five days in advance. To the extent that a case conference will be conducted at all or before Madam Justice Shore, please provide alternate dates with sufficient time to allow for uploading of filed documents for the same.

5. I confirm that I have structured my Compendium for the returnable hearing, as proposed currently in writing, with Tab #1 for a Written Outline (or Written Argument) or Oral Outline. As the responding parties have until the end of the business day to file (i.e. five p.m.) but I believe serve at four p.m. but I will have to review the relevant rule in this regard. In any event, because of the interesting timing issues regarding the same, my Compendium will have Tab 1 without a Written Outline or Oral Outline depending on the variable above. I appreciate that the Written Outline or Oral Outline is one that some include and some do not in a Compendium so I reserve my rights in that regard.

6. As I am required to have provided a Draft Order in Word as well but that may change depending on the potential responses of the responding parties, I have provided the filed and issued Draft Order in Word herein but will amend it accordingly (if applicable).

7. To the extent that there are not any responsive notices provided today, I will confirm the same and provide an Amended Draft Order. To the extent that occurs, the issue of the conflict of interest can be decided summarily and perhaps by drawing it to the attention of the Chief Justice or Associate Chief Justice – as there is no uniform practice in Ontario for how to raise such an issue. Whether a case conference proceeds or not at a mutually convenient time, the Rules of Civil Procedure entitle all of the parties and interested persons to assist the Court and discharge their obligations, along with the entitlements to upload filed documents into Case Center so they can advance their respective positions accordingly.

8. With great respect, I have not requisitioned the Court to provide any filed documents to the attention of Madam Justice Shore but I have done so for this Friday, February 14, 2025, in the event an invitation was not provided by two p.m. today.

9. Again, there is some speculation required here so I will leave it there for the time being so I have a written record that has confirmed all of the above.

10. I confirm that the Tribunal has failed to file the record of proceeding as of today's date.

11. My Compendium, in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure, shall follow.

12. I have also attached a copy of the filed and issued requisitions regarding Case Center et al. I have done so for ease of reference. Thank you.

Compendium Requirements

(7) For the purposes of paragraph 3 of subrule (3), the compendium must meet the following requirements'. The compendium must include a table of contents listing only those authorities, transcripts, previous orders and other documents on which the party intends to rely during the hearing or conference, as applicable, hyperlinked in accordance with paragraph 3.

2. The compendium must include the relevant excerpts of every document listed in the table of contents, with a separate section for each document. 3. Each document listed in the table of contents must be hyperlinked,

i. to the section of the compendium containing the excerpt or excerpts of the document, and

ii. if the document is published on a website referred to in subrule (7.1), to the published document or, if possible, the relevant provision or portion of the published document. O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (5).

(7.1) Subparagraph 3 ii of subrule (7) applies with respect to the Canadian Legal Information Institute website (CanLII), e-Laws or another Government of Ontario website, the federal Justice Laws website and any other similar website that is accessible without charge or subscription. O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (5).

Document Must be Identical to Document in Court File

(8) The party shall ensure that every document that the party uploads to Case Center is identical to that document as contained in the court file, subject to any modifications required by this rule or the court. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 7; O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (6); O. Reg. 301/24, s. 1.

Dear ONSC Divisional Court, Remaining Respondents et al:

As promised and further to the above, please find attached my Compendium pursuant to the Rules of Civil Procedure. Due to its size, it may follow in separate attachments.

I confirm that the requirement to upload to Case Center will require me to have various volumes or chapters that are 500 pages each but that is the uploading requirement and not the filing and serving.

You can then merge the same on your side as the index and bookmarks will follow. I will attempt to send as one email but for service purposes, the Remaining Respondents and Respondent Parties are now served.

Thank you.

RE: CONFIRMATION OF FILING OF COMPENDIUM AND AFFIDAVIT OF SERVICE FOR NOM #2

Dear ONSC Divisional Court and Remaining Respondents (Responding Parties to NOM #2) et al:

1. I write regarding the above and hope all are well. The above documents have been confirmed filed with the ONSC Divisional Court under the confirmation number provided (see: Appendix #1).
2. A current Draft Order will be provided to reflect the Responding Parties' non-compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure, specifically Rule 37.12.1(5), and will, inter alia, include references to the dates on which the Notices of Appearances and the Compendium were filed and served.
3. The current Draft Order will also note that Epstein Cole LLP and Mr. Papadimitropoulos were served with all relevant filed documents but had not responded at the time a current Draft Order is so served and filed with the ONSC Divisional Court.
4. I refer to my requisitions (see: Compendium, Tabs 56 and 57) of February 5, 2025. There is no need to repeat their contents here, but it would be appreciated to receive an invitation to Case Center for uploading my filed materials in identical form. If this is not received, I rely on the specific language in my requisition for the court file to be brought to the attention of a motions justice. This is the only rule allowing for such an exception.
5. The "written argument" or "written outline" will precisely cross-reference the documents served, filed, and issued as mentioned in the Compendium. The "written outline" will be provided as a stand alone document but also in the relevant tab in the Compendium as it could not be completed in responsible and accurate fashion until the prescribed time requirements expired for the Responding Parties and interested persons. I confirm that I will re-draw to the attention of the Court that the Tribunal did raise the three cases (Mansuri v. Dominion Insurance Company of Canada (ONSC Divisional Court 2023), Awada v. Allstate and Heegsma (ONCA, 2024)) cited in my "Factum for Motion in Writing" with respect to alleged prematurity of the JRPA Application. Awada is cited in my Factum and analyzed accordingly for its relevant ratio decidendi.
6. For full disclosure purposes and the benefit of this Honourable Court, I note the argument to be made in my Written Outline (see: Appendix #2). While we need not compare two distinct cases in "McLean v. TDHA et al" and "Mansuri et al v. Dominion Insurance Company of Canada", I note that one of the counsel in Ms. Valerie Crystal for the LAT therein is no longer practising law and her address has been withheld.
7. I thank the ONSC Divisional Court for promptly processing the voluminous documents, including hyperlinking and bookmarking.

8. As of today's date, I confirm the status that the Tribunal has not filed a single document from the record of proceeding. I have now provided a copy of my most recent email to the addressees therein as per my request for a copy of the record of proceeding from the relevant temporal period in the LAT/AABS file 23-015662/AABS. I confirm that as of today's date at this time, I have not received a single document from my access request, and will have to expend further resources to see why the record of proceeding was not compiled in accurate form and/or has been lost, stolen or misplaced.

9. In the spirit of full disclosure, I will ensure that Mr. Boyce had sought consent from myself and others to 'waive the requirement to file the record of proceeding' and none was provided. I again do not think that any parties (applicants or respondents) could waive that statutory requirement as per the unequivocal language in the JRPA (i.e. for the court's use). In any event, no purported waiver or consent ever came to fruition. I am still reviewing the law on whether those communications outside of having the Divisional Court copied can be included.

10. I will pursue that access request for my own purposes as the Tribunal will be some 90 days on February 14, 2025, since it was required to file the record of proceeding with this hallowed ONSC Divisional Court.

11. I reserve the right to draw this correspondence to the attention of the ONSC Divisional Court, including any motions justice for any purpose that is lawful and permissible.

12. Thank you kindly.

Appendices

Appendix #1

Confirmation # 2897386, have been filed with the Court:

- Compendium
- Compendium
- Compendium
- Form 16B: Affidavit of Service

Appendix #2: Argument to be made in “written outline” or “written argument”: duty to the ONSC Divisional Court to ensure that the public interest issues are addressed along with that which has been represented or posited by the Tribunal albeit informally (subject to final revisions as Written Outline could not be completed until prescribed time requirements expired for Responding Parties)

THE KNOWN CASES RELIED UPON BY THE TRIBUNAL ALBEIT INFORMALLY IN CORRESPONDENCE

1. The Applicant addressed the cases cited by the Tribunal in his Factum For Motion In Writing for NOM #2. Those cases were: (i) Mansuri; (ii) Awada; and (iii) Heegsma.

2. It is paragraphs four to six in Mansuri, before the ONSC Divisional Court in 2023, with The Honourable Justice Lococo writing for the unanimous Divisional Court that are of great import in the analysis herein [emphasis is the Applicant's]:

“[4] The applicants argue that the court should exercise its jurisdiction upon judicial review and determine on the merits that the Tribunal erred in law in finding that there was no breach of privacy or confidentiality and no conflict of interest.

[5] DOMINION DISPUTES the merits of the application but, together with the Tribunal, raises the issue of prematurity. The respondents argue that unless there are exceptional circumstances, the Divisional Court should decline to consider an application for judicial review of the Tribunal's interlocutory decision until the underlying Tribunal applications are completed. The respondents submit that there are no exceptional circumstances nor is it a "rare case" that would warrant the court's intervention.

[6] Following oral submissions on the issue of prematurity, the parties were advised at the application hearing that the application was being dismissed, with written reasons to follow. These Reasons for Judgment explain the court's decision to dismiss the judicial review application as premature, without deciding the merits of the applicants' challenge to the Initial Decision."

3. Herein, the Applicant did bring a conflict of interest motion, albeit on different facts and evidence involving a variety of actors for a variety of insurance companies (some known and unknown) within the TDI Group, some not in a SABS department and perhaps some in the SABS department, by way of his NOM #6 which then was renumbered as NOM #9. The Applicant has no judicial review challenge to the decision of the Tribunal in this regard.

4. It is trite that the orders made or declined to be decided by VC Morrisette were final orders and final decisions as she refused to add a party, refused to add cause of actions, and refused to allow for the amendments of pleadings. No such relief was sought or dismissed in Mansuri v Dominion of Canada General Insurance Company, 2022 CanLII 138547 (ON LAT), <<https://canlii.ca/t/jzty>>. Put another way, the Mansuri brothers did not seek to add another insurance company to their tribunal proceeding on the basis that Dominion Insurance Company was not the First Insurer. The Mansuri brothers' primary complaint was that, which the Applicant disagrees with them and their counsel, there was allegedly improper information sharing between their claims and not between Dominion Insurance Company of Canada and other insurance companies.

5. Moreover, the facts involving the raising of the issue of prematurity are different in that Dominion and the Tribunal raised the issue of prematurity. Herein, the Respondent Insurance Companies have not raised the issue of prematurity. The Respondent Insurance Companies did not even engage in the pretense of complying with the Practice Direction of this Divisional Court regarding 'information submitted to the court'. As such, the Tribunal did not have a 'dance partner' for its preliminary objection of prematurity in November 2024.

6. The refusal to find a conflict of interest is not a final decision but rather interlocutory. Mansuri does more harm than good to the Tribunal's position of prematurity because while the Mansuri brothers had their judicial review application dismissed without the merits being heard, it was done AT THE APPLICATION HEARING (not on motion or case conference). Put another way, this is unequivocal evidence of the practice of the Divisional Court that the Tribunal was required to file its factum and application record, along with filing the record of proceeding forthwith, and argue the same the hearing of the JRPA Application. As the Tribunal has chosen not to comply with its basic statutory requirements to file forthwith the record of proceeding, it cannot argue the issue of prematurity as having the record of proceeding before this Divisional Court is a precondition to being able to argue the same at first instance and particularly when there are final orders and/or final decisions at issue. Herein, analysis is required with respect to each "reasons for decision" and "each order sought and refused" as to whether they are interlocutory or final. Of course, each are of a final nature considering the refusals to grant the relief. The ONCA in ME v. Ontario could not have been any clearer that the refusal to add parties, amend pleadings, and causes of action are final orders. Assuming arguendo, had the Applicant been imprecise in his JRPA Application and challenged all of the “reasons for decision” in the unilaterally consolidated “reasons for decisions” for NOM #13 and #15, and sought to judicially review the refused orders in NOM #13, which were all interlocutory as they were sought orders of a non-party to produce documents, then a different ‘discussion’ could have been had. However, that hypothetical is not the reality of this JRPA Application, the Applicant’s Factum, the Applicant’s Application Record and now Compendium.

7. The prematurity doctrine cannot be discussed in the abstract as the Tribunal would have it and its obligations to file the record of proceeding and from what time period are contained in NOM #1.

8. It should not be unsurprising, with all of the misconduct prior to the JRPA Application by TDGIC and its representative along with SNIC and its non-licensee representative and some of the misconduct during this JRPA Proceeding by the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies, that the AGO had seen enough and withdraw, through his handpicked and highly accomplished counsel in Ms. Judie Im, on January 30, 2025.

Re: the continued non-compliance with my access request of January 2025 which was redirected to the LAT Registrar as per its requirement to provide adjudicative records to a party in a LAT proceeding

Dear LAT Registrar, Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario, Office of the Attorney General and Ms. Jennifer [last name unknown] (an officer in the privacy department of the Licence Appeal Tribunal for access requests made pursuant to FIPPA):

1. I write further to the above involving my access request made to the LAT in January 2025. I thank Ms. Jennifer for her prompt response and redirection to the LAT Registrar which would obviate the necessity for the formality of the FIPPA request along with the payment of statutory and prescribed fees. Since the time of the redirection, I have not received any response from the LAT registrar despite my inclusion of the above noted Executive Chair and AGO.

2. My requests pursuant to FIPPA and the LAT Registrar shall remain in perpetuity and until they are complied with in a strict and lawful manner.

3. As such, I confirm the scope of my access request for the record of proceeding in the LAT/AABS file number of 23-015662/AABS and confirm that all records are to be preserved from the dates of those requests. As this will now require me on the FIPPA side of the ledger to tender an application fee, I will confirm when that has been delivered to 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario. As I respect the resources of all above, I will not need to have duplicate copies of the record of proceeding provided to me but now I am most curious to know what has transpired and why I am being stonewalled in light of counsel for the Tribunal failing to file a single document from the record of proceeding in contravention of the JRPA and SPPA. The above requests will operate in perpetuity and in any event of any determinations in the Tribunal proceeding or before the ONSC Divisional Court or otherwise.

4. Kindly extend some professionalism and courtesy herein where applicable.

5. Thank you.

Court file number: Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR

Type of document: email with attachment of Affidavit #3

Party: Applicant

Re: confirmation – no receipt – Case Center invitation – Feb 13, 2025 – 4:15 p.m. – inability to conduct case conference pursuant to Rules of Civil Procedure – unable to discharge duties and requirements (see: Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 4.05.3(3) – irrespective of conflict of interest issue to be heard in writing tomorrow

Re #2: confirmation – no responsive notices or filed documents from Responding Parties – Feb 13, 2025 at 4:15 p.m. – if no receipt by five p.m. – current draft order – tendered for filing – along with finalized written argument

ONSC (Divisional Court) (copied to the respondents and Divisional Court Scheduling):

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I confirm the two above “regarding headings”.
3. In relation to the “regarding heading #1”, leaving aside that there was no order or endorsement from Madam Justice Shore on January 7, 2025, there was also no order or direction that the participating parties at the relevant time were NOT to upload each and every filed document with the Court and any other document that they intended to rely upon at the conference that had been uploaded by another party (see: Rule 4.05.3(2), (3) and (4), in varying parts with the exception of Rule 4.05.3(3.1)).
4. By my computation, five days from January 18, 2025, whilst not counting the holiday on Monday, January 17, 2025, would be, at the very latest, today. While I can likely upload every document if I receive a Case Center invitation within the next ten minutes, anything after that time will not be possible.
5. Moreover, I confirm that I have not consented to Ms. Lawrence, with due respect, being my agent or determining what documents to put before a case management judge. Moreover, there is no rule that allows the same. The only rule that has any resemblance to the same is that of Rule 37.10 and that only applies to a motion judge. As such, if I do not receive an invitation to Case Center by the end of the day, then said requisition in this regard will apply for tomorrow.
6. I will await till shortly after five p.m. to see if anything is received from the Responding Parties to determine, as a courtesy, if anything needs to be amended in the current Draft Order.
7. If I do not, I will ask that the motions justice make preliminary orders on the day of regarding certain orders sought with reasons to follow if necessary. I confirm that there has not been any consent to the relief sought in NOM #1 and NOM #2 but no opposition either. I confirm that the Responding Parties have had ample time and opportunity to argue their positions fully but have chosen not to, and the only issue is whether there is necessary evidence before the Court to convert my NOM #2 to a Motion For Judgment.
8. In my enclosing of the Draft Order and Final Written Outline, I will ask that those filed documents and my correspondence are brought to the attention of the Chief Justice and Associate Chief Justice as it relates to the conflict of interest issue as that may, inter alia, allow the motions justice, in writing, be able to decide the substantive issues more expediently.
9. Thank you.

Re: Draft Order for NOM #2 in Word and PDF (AS OF FEBRUARY 14, 2025)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (copied to the Remaining Respondents et al):

1. As promised, please find my current Draft Order for NOM #2 in Word and PDF. Kindly draw this order to not only the attention of the motions justice for NOM #2 but the Chief Justice and his judicial assistant pursuant to the Courts of Justice Act as per my not receiving an invitation to Case Center. Kindly confirm when you have done so.
2. To the extent that an invitation to Case Center is provided forthwith, you may disregard the same. I will confirm separately when or if it is safely received but as of today's date and time, I have not received the same.
3. Should any revisions be required to the Draft Order, I remain available today.
4. I confirm that as of today's date that the Tribunal has failed to file the record of proceeding for the relevant time period, and I have not received the same from my FIPPA request and/or by way of the redirected request to the LAT Registrar. I will attend the offices on Grosvenor Street, Toronto, and see if the LAT can provide me with a copy in an USB drive as I am a party and they are "adjudicative records". I will update all regarding what transpired.
5. I further confirm that the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies have failed to comply with the Rules of Civil Procedure with respect to my NOM #2, and I have not received a single document from it in relation to the same. I also confirm that the neither Epstein Cole LLP nor Mr. Papadimitropoulos responded to NOM #2.
6. Kindly draw this email to the attention of the Chief Justice and any sitting motions justice [in writing].
7. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: file stamped draft order in PDF

Dear Remaining Respondents and Mr. Papadimitropoulos:

1. I write regarding the above. Please find a copy of the stamped filed order in PDF for your records. I confirm the contents therein due to your failures to comply with the Rules of Civil Procedure where applicable.

Dear ONSC Divisional Court

2. Thank you kindly for the prompt processing in relation to the same.

Dear Mr. Boyce

3. Do you have a full and accurate record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024? I have asked multiple times but without a response. If I do not hear from you by three p.m. today, I will presume that the Tribunal does not have the same and I will then attend the relevant office to tender fees to obtain the same. I will then provide an affidavit in this regard confirming the same for the benefit of the Court for general purposes and in relation to NOM #2, which includes the relief in NOM #1.

4. The Court is entitled to know the same and along with having a copy for its use as per the JRPA. I am entitled to have it before the Court on account of a litany of legal grounds.

5. I remind you of your professional obligations

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: confirmation that Tribunal does not have an accurate and full record of the proceeding – it is trying to determine just now how to compile the record of proceeding – breach of SPPA and JRPA

Dear ONSC Divisional Court and Mr. Boyce:

1. I confirm that Mr. Boyce need not waste his time responding as I did receive an email from Ms. Lee of the LAT Registrar's office. I am still digesting the same but it is copied and pasted below and attached.
2. This is now starting to make sense in that the Tribunal is just now considering how to compile the record of proceeding which is in line with my belief that it does not have the same.
3. I will consider how to best draw this further to the attention of the Court. However, please draw this to the attention of the Chief Justice as per the above.
4. Thank you.

Dear LAT Registrar (Ms. Lee), FIPPA privacy officer (Ms. Jennifer), EC of Tribunals Ontario and the AGO email:

I thank you for your response. I have copied Mr. Weir, the FIPPA privacy and AGO email as noted above. I have also copied the relevant parts of your email to the below as some of it is irrelevant. As noted, this is exclusively an email for privacy requests. I apologize for the brief delay on my part as I see your email came in late yesterday and I did not check this email until now.

However, that is entirely unacceptable on all fronts in relation to “how best to compile” the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to

“Record of proceeding

20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,

- (a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;
- (b) the notice of any hearing;
- (c) any interlocutory orders made by the tribunal;
- (d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents may be used in evidence in any proceeding;
- (e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and
- (f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20.”

Therefore, this explains exactly why these decisions issued by Vice Chair Morrisette and others were so askew with the facts because the Tribunal had not even compiled the record of proceeding in an organized, full and accurate fashion. The duty to compile operates irrespective of whether any appeal or judicial review is advanced.

The requirement was to file the record of proceeding forthwith with the ONSC Divisional Court. The JRPA Application was brought in mid-November 2024. Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal filed an NOA on November 27, 2024. The duty upon the Tribunal was to file an NOA forthwith which for the most part it did.

However, the Tribunal is only working on compiling the record now. There is nothing to discuss in terms of reaching out to me for information. I have already provided the information and it was not even my duty to do so. However, I did so as a courtesy.

As such, the Tribunal is in breach of two sets of statutory duties. As stated, please provide what you have during those time periods on a forthwith basis to me. The time is now 1:55 p.m. so I require piecemeal access, at the very least, to commence today.

Respectfully, this should not take more than 30 minutes to do as I am a party and it is a period of some 8.5 months. Kindly re-attach the same by reply email. Based on size, you can send as a Zip file or a compressed file. Alternatively, you can send via multiple piecemeal emails.

If you commence providing today, you can remove Mr. Weir and the AGO email address. Please remove Jennifer and her email in any event.

(Jennifer, I apologize for having you caught up in this email but I copied you to ensure that you are aware that I will be attending the relevant office (like last time) to deliver the fees for the access request denoted above. I will commence a separate thread with you so we do not conflate the two. However, for interim measure, it is the same as above with any logs from the back-end.)

RESPECTFULLY URGENT

VIA EMAIL

Court file number: Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR

Type of document: email with affidavit to follow

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

To:

ONSC Divisional Court

Kind attention: Madam Registrar

Kind attention: Chief Justice of the ONSC

Kind attention: Associate Chief Justice of the ONSC

AND TO:

Licence Appeal Tribunal

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. I write regarding the above after having a chance to digest the shock of the email on behalf of the LAT (see: supra, Ms. Lee confirming that the Tribunal is only now compiling the record of proceeding).
2. I repeat and rely upon the case law in my NOM #1. The Tribunal is some almost three months behind its obligation to forthwith file the record of proceeding. The reason for that is that it has not even compiled a record of proceeding forthwith.
3. Some of the case law involving section 20 of the SPPA is most helpful as to why I can responsibly request that the filed and stamped Draft Order for NOM #2 as of today's date can be endorsed with reasons to follow. It provides unequivocal supporting independent evidence as to why the Tribunal has failed to comply with its obligations pursuant to section 10 of the JRPA.
4. The obligation is one at first instance which is obvious from the statutory language under section 20 of the SPPA. However, I note the following out of an abundance of caution

[17] In reference to the circumstances leading to this appeal, Tribunals Ontario says the records referred to in the appellant's letter are records filed by other parties in the CFSRB proceeding commenced by the appellant. Tribunals Ontario asserts that tribunals, such as the CFSRB, are under a statutory duty to maintain the record of proceedings^[6] and that a party to a "proceeding cannot alter the record unilaterally." Tribunals Ontario says that harms would be caused if parties were so permitted to file statements of disagreement into the CFSRB record. It says that the statements of disagreement would distort the tribunal record and impair the ability of a reviewing court which would have before it a copy of the record in a judicial review

Tribunals Ontario (Re), 2020 CanLII 31184 (ON IPC), <<https://canlii.ca/t/j6vl2>

"Endnote #6": Tribunals Ontario says that this duty arises from section 20 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22 that defines and explains a "record of proceeding."

Respectfully Directed to the Chief Justice on the ONSC and Associate Justice of the ONSC

5. Under this heading, I appreciate that the time of the Chief Justice and Associate Chief Justice are in high demand and valuable. I thank them for the indulgence but I am compelled to make this request as it is unclear if my previous request in formal submissions regarding the potential conflict of interest was brought to their attention (see: affidavit #3 of myself of January 8, 2025, and my submissions of January 16, 2025).

6. I kindly ask that either the Chief Justice and/or Associate Justice, pursuant to the lack of uniform practice in Ontario as to how best to deal with an alleged reasonable apprehension of bias involving a justice of the ONSC, exercise their powers to disqualify Madam Justice Shore from any involving in this JRPA Proceeding. I do not impugn Madam Justice Shore in any manner but the evidence and argument are contained with my NOM #2 motion record and factum in this regard. I have attached a copy of the same so these esteemed justices do not have to sift through the material and have two emails to review with attachments.

7. To the extent that a single motions justice is in a position to and will endorse my draft order for my NOM #2 with reasons to follow prior to the scheduled case conference before Madam Justice Shore, you can disregard the same.

8. I wish to make clear that I am most grateful for the services of your court staff and thankful for the recent expediency in which they have stamped and issued some of my urgent filings. We have, of course, had some intellectual disagreements on issues like if a Form 68(B) needs to be issued or whether your ONSC Divisional Court still has the Registrar issues the same to the parties and the timing of an invite, by way of hyperlink, to Case Center. My reading is that the "ONSC Guide to Judicial Review in the Divisional Court" is unequivocal as follows:

Once the certificate of perfection has been filed at the Court, the registrar will place the application on a list for hearing and send the "Notice of Listing for Hearing" (Form 68B) to the parties. The Notice of Listing for Hearing will advise you of the next steps required in order to get a date for the application to be heard by the Divisional Court. (see: page 7 of 9)

After you have brought an application for judicial review, you will receive an email to register for CaseLines and upload your materials. There is no fee to use CaseLines.

9. As per Rule 4.05.3, I did not receive a Case Center invitation link at all since bringing my judicial review application. Moreover, I have not received a Form 68(B) despite requisitioning the same. While there may be some difference in interpretation, I cannot find any and the Rules of Civil Procedure bolster the same.

10. As it relates to the case conference, you will note my Draft Order of this morning, with thanks to the Registrar for stamping the same with such promptness, I was unable to upload any filed materials in advance of the same. It is now less than five days before that date and I was unequivocal with Ms. Badwal that I could not attend on that date.

11. I wish to continue to exhibit the utmost respect for the time and resources of your revered Divisional Court. However, I have requested multiple times for alternate dates so we can find a mutually acceptable date subject to my motions being granted. I have not received any response in this regard.

12. As you will see from my attached draft order, I am seeking some of that relief therein. However, if the Chief Justice or Associate Chief Justice exercises their discretion to relieve Madam Justice Shore of her involving in this file due to a conflict of interest that I promptly raised and then brought by formal motion, it will obviate any need for a motions justice to address the same. In this regard, a motions justice can focus on the substantive relief sought.

13. As I will not be able to attend any case conference on Tuesday, February 18, 2025, and I was unable (not unwilling) to upload any filed documents, such time would be most wasted on a variety of fronts.

14. I kindly ask that you revert back as promptly as you are able and before the commencement of any potential case conference on Tuesday subject to the relief in my NOM #2 being granted before then.

15. It is my respectful submission that the most reasonable course in the circumstances, with the utmost respect and appreciation for your consideration, is to adjourn the case conference generally while we await a decision involving NOM #2. Moreover, in light of the fresh evidence that the Tribunal has not even compiled the record of proceeding and will apparently revert back to me if it needs more information from me (as odd as that sounds and reversing the legal burden), I respectfully submit that bolsters the same.

Conclusion

16. I confirm that Mr. Boyce is in no position to even discuss prematurity as he clearly does not have even have the benefit of any part of the record of the proceeding.

17. As such, it is my respectful submission that the Tribunal, which I have sworn on belief without any contradiction, has failed to comply with the Rules of Civil Procedure, the SPPA and JRPA (to name a few statutes and one regulation) because it does not have the full and accurate record of proceeding. This, of course, comes back to the fact, as represented to me, by former case manager Mr. Josh Grant that there was some apparent power outage in the Spring of 2024 that led to the file number of 23-015662/AABS no longer being recognized in the e-filing portal.

18. As such, the Tribunal will never be able to comply with section 10 of the JPRA. Since it cannot comply section 20 of the SPPA and section 10 of the JRPA because, to put it crudely, “extinct is forever”, the most expeditious, just and cost-effective to deal with the merits of this JRPA Proceeding in light of the AGO withdrawing in late January 2025, and the Tribunal and respondent insurance companies only having filed “Notices of Appearances” is to grant the following orders (with reasons to follow) and adjourn the rest generally and indefinitely (or by way of the powers of the Chief Justice and/or Associate Chief Justice to do so):

- a. Order #1^[ii];
- b. Order #2^[iii];
- c. Order #4(ii);
- d. Orders #8 to #10^[iiii];

19. I will append this to an affidavit that is about to be notarized in short order so it is part of the record of proceeding.

20. To the extent that there is a case conference, I wish to participate and upload materials in advance and in accordance with the Civil Rules.

21. The wasted time that could be occasioned would be substantial as any order that could arise would be subject to a motion of mine pursuant to Rule 59. That being said, this Honourable Court by way of a single motions justice is now in a position (subject to receipt of my final affidavit today) to endorse the draft order with reasons to follow. NOM #2 is not only not opposed, no resistance has been put up by the Tribunal and respondent insurance companies at any stage and it became obvious why as it rea

22. Should you have any questions regarding the above, kindly contact me herein.

23. Thank you.

i THIS COURT DECLARES AS A FACT that the Attorney General of Ontario (the “AGO”) confirmed in writing on January 30, 2025, with the Applicant, other respondents and the Court that it would not participate in the JRPA Proceeding and to be removed from any future correspondence. THIS COURT FURTHER ORDERS that the orders herein are granted with reasons for decision and/or reasons for judgment to follow;

ii THIS COURT DECLARES AS A FACT that the Applicant provided the status of his motion #1, attempts to have it heard, the status of the Tribunal’s filing of the record of proceeding and documents that were not accounted for in the court file by the Tribunal’s failure to forthwith file a record of proceeding in accordance with the JRPA and SPPA. THIS COURT FURTHER DECLARES that the Tribunal had failed to file, as of the date of this order, a record of the proceeding forthwith or at all, the respondent insurance companies and the Tribunal failed to file responsive factums and application records in accordance with Rule 68.04(4), and THIS COURT ORDERS that the Tribunal and the respondent insurance companies are precluded from any further participation in this JRPA Proceeding but for costs subject to the below order;

iii THIS COURT ORDERS THAT the NOM #2 is heard in “written format” on February 14, 2025, and that said NOM #2 was converted into a Motion for Judgment (see: Rule 1.03(2)) pursuant to Rule 37.13(2)(a);

THIS COURT ORDERS THAT that the Applicant shall have Judgment in this JRPA Proceeding as, in part, particularized in his JRPA Application, Factum and Factum to his NOM #2 as follows:

THIS COURT DECLARES THAT the impugned decisions and orders (relevant to the Applicant’s NOM #14 (August 3, 2024) (see: particularized therein as Orders #1 to #4 of Vice Chair Morissette (see: Schedule “D”) and NOM #15 (August 17, 2024) (particularized therein as Order #3), dated and signed on September 12, 2024 (the “VCM Decision”), and Vice Chair Lake on reconsideration (October 15, 2024) involve final decisions and final orders;

THIS COURT FURTHER DECLARES that the standard of review to those final decisions and final orders, particularized and cross-referenced herein, is correctness;

THIS COURT ORDERS AND QUASHES, in the nature of certiorari, the decisions and orders of VCM (excluding the order(s) in NOM #13 contained in the same issued reasons for decision VCM (defined above as the “VCM Decision”) upheld on reconsideration by VC Lake, and substituting the same for the orders sought in NOM #14 as follows including the following consequential or ancillary orders:

An Order setting aside the final order of VCM that refused the Applicant’s relief sought to add TDHA as a party and substituting it with an order that TDHA is added as a party to the LAT Appeal (see: Compendium, Tab 6);

An Order that TDHA has 14 days from the date of this order to file a responsive pleading to the causes of action of the Applicant’s LAT Appeal (see: Compendium, Tab 6) that it received on December 24, 2023, via fax;

An Order that TDHA is declared as the First Insurer pursuant to Reg 283;

An Order that TDHA is required to comply with all of its obligations under the Insurance Act, Reg 283, and SABS forthwith on a past, current and future bases;

An Order SNIC and TDHA shall take all necessary steps to provide the correct name of ‘the insurer’ that first received the Applicant’s Completed Application with current mailing address and fax number to the Applicant at his email for his accident benefits claim at mcleansniclat@gmail.com, and correct the same with the central processing agency also known as HCAI within 7 days of this order; and

THIS COURT ORDERS THAT the Applicant is entitled to costs of this JRPA Proceeding against the Tribunal, SNIC and TDHA; and THIS COURT ORDERS THAT the Applicant is entitled to seek directions regarding any of the above.

Re: Final 1st Amended Compendium with Written Outlines (Simplified Version; and Comprehensive Version)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court (with copy to Remaining Respondents):

1. As promised, please find my written outline to the 1st Amended Compendium. I am filing it herein as a separate document for ease of cross-reference. I will attach the 1st Amended Compendium in piecemeal due to its size.
2. The only difference between this filing and the filing that will include the Written Outline at Tab 1 therein is that said version will have the Written Outline hyperlinked to the documents referenced in the 1st Amended Compendium.
3. You will note that the Written Outline has a simplified version and comprehensive version. The latter has a fulsome and detailed table of contents which hyperlinking to each section, sub-section, and sub-section. Each case and relevant rule is also hyperlinked along with endnotes.
4. The simplified version arose as a result of the Formal LAT Admission.
5. The comprehensive version is for the benefit of the ONSC Divisional Court to have in the court file before a justice is functus officio. I trust it is of assistance and the full canvassing of any and all issues, in the hypothetical and alternative, is appreciated.
6. The 1st Amended Compendium includes at Tabs 60 and 61. Tab 60 is affidavit #16 from Friday, February 14, 2025, in light of the shocking admission by the LAT Registrar that it is still trying to determine how best to compile the record of proceeding and it would revert back to me for further guidance or information before forwarding the records to me. This is beyond unacceptable and unlawful, and provides exact insight by way of a formal admission as to why the Tribunal has not filed and served a single document since its NOA in November 2024. We are approaching March 2025 in some ten days. As such, NOM #2 can be decided. Tab 61 includes the Draft Order of February 14, 2025.
7. For all intents and purposes, this concludes all filed materials by me in this JRPA Proceeding but for costs.
8. As noted previously, I am away from the city of Toronto (although I was slightly delayed due to the weather) until end of February as I undergo scheduled medical procedures. As such, you will receive my auto-reply and I will not be able to respond until I am able.
9. Kindly draw this to the immediate attention of the justice to hear and decide the NOM #2 written motion.
10. I confirm that the proposed case conference cannot be conducted as per not receiving an invite to Case Center in order to be able to upload documents as required by the Civil Rules. Trusting that NOM #2 will have its Draft Order endorsed, signed and entered in prompt fashion with respect to the substantive orders, I confirm, out of an abundance of caution and due to being away, that I do not take any issue with the orders involving the conflict of interest, Case Center invitation et al, being adjourned generally and indefinitely. I repeat and rely upon my positions, uncontroverted sworn evidence involving the conflict of interest et al.

11. As noted, I have provided a Draft Order in Word and PDF which has been approved in form and content. As I note from the Civil Rules, an approved, endorsed, signed and entered order can be provided via email or Case Center. Only the former is possible considering the current status.

12. Thank you kindly in advance for drawing this to the attention of the justice to decide NOM #2. I apologize for any slight delay but I had to revamp the above in light of the LAT Formal Admission on late Thursday, February 13, 2025, which took more time than expected and thankfully snowed in and delayed my travels for our purposes. As the Court will note, I took the time to address principles like the “open court principle”, “orders with reasons to follow”, “spoliation”, “adverse inference” et al.

The first attachment is part 1 of the 1st Amended Compendium with the "Written Outlines" or "Written Argument" to the 1st Amended Compendium.

13. My best to all,

Warm regards,

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

For good measure and out of an abundance of caution, I filed affidavit #17 through the JSO Portal. I thank the registrar and her staff for stamping the filing electronically so promptly. My sincere thanks specifically and generally for treating an urgent filing in such an urgent fashion. To even suggest that I remain in disbelief that such an individual would go to such lengths to attempt to slow me down from filing a judicial review (after I had evinced my intention to the LAT and counsel for TDHA, TDGIC and SNIC) would be the understatement of my life. Nonetheless, you can ignore the previous language in my auto-reply as I again suffer from not being able to take care of my health and life in favour of addressing the contents and consequences of Exhibit "A" to Affidavit #17.

I have provided the confirmation of the filing for the records of the Remaining Respondents et al at Appendix. Thank you.

Re: an apparent print out from the LAT Registrar of the documents filed by myself, SNIC, TDGIC, individuals et al – awaiting the records themselves

Re #2: confirmation – no receipt of link to Case Center as of today's date

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I confirm that I am now in possession (as of yesterday) of a printout of some 279 pages which appears to reference the majority of the documents filed before the LAT prior to the decision of VCM (see: the temporal scope of the record of proceeding (see: NOM #1 referenced jurisprudence)).
3. While I have continued to request copies of the same, it appears that I have the majority if not all of the same subject to some internal “msgs” of the LAT relating to the same. It is unclear to me which all of the “msgs” are and whether they would constitute the record of proceeding.
4. However, a massive revelation, which is dispositive of a major issue in this proceeding and the merits themselves in my favour, and now on the record (see: JRPA, section 2 for the type of language relating to ‘on the record’) occurred therein and it is at page 131. I have provided a screenshot of the same at the below. This will at least provide insight into what the print out looks like. Said massive revelation, which speaks to why my NOM #1 was necessary and invokes costs consequences, is self-evident but for ease of reference is that the LAT on April 22, 2024, confirmed internally that “TDGIC” was only a “related party”. As such, the findings, orders and decisions of VCM on September 13, 2024, are now unequivocally on their face errors of law. Of course, the orders and decisions of VCM that are at issue herein (see: NOM #2; compendium of the Applicant; 1st amended compendium of the Applicant; et al) are final orders and decisions by their refusal to add a party, add causes of action, amendments of pleadings et al. However, to bolster the same, the issue of “party status” and how the LAT interpreted TDGIC prior to my NOM #8 having been filed and granted, which was not on consent, was an issue where the LAT had internally segregated without notice to myself, SNIC or TDGIC. At the time, I had not discovered that the TDHA fax number was 416.774.3120 but nonetheless it is now further independent and unequivocal evidence, in the form of an internal admission in the LAT Proceeding, that TDGIC was considered on the “books” of the LAT in the record of proceeding to NOT be the party by law but a “related party” (whatever that means in fact or at law).
5. I anticipate that I will have an index completed by late tonight and I will be able to include the majority if not all of the documents therein which will lead to the necessary evidence being before the ONSC Divisional Court (see: NOM #2: legal test under section 37.13(2)(a)). While it is no fault of mine and it remains the obligation of the Tribunal by way of statutory obligation, I will do so in any event along with ensuring that I continue to exercise all rights.
6. I now reserve the right to amend and supplement any filings, as permissible by the Courts of Justice Act and/or Rules of Civil Procedure, in light of this revelation which makes the determination on the merits all the more rudimentary.
7. I will determine how best to file the index with the documents and whether it is best to include the same in an affidavit or if there is a specific dropdown menu for such filing or otherwise.

As I have alluded to and/or referenced in uncontroverted evidence and submissions, the case conference was conducted by Mr. Nieuwland for TDGIC and SNIC was not a party at the time although it had filed a Response. As such, this confirms that the case conference was a nullity before the LAT by the LAT's own admission. Moreover, it provides an admission by the LAT that it treats each of the insurance companies as separate entities and somehow are related parties. Nonetheless, it demonstrates as well that VCM was not only incorrect on the "consent" findings but also that it was not me that wanted it as she would have it but rather the LAT had already realized that I was correct that TDGIC could not have been a party at all as it did NOT have a fax number listed during September and October 2022 and it was never named SNIC.

This now raises further questions which are evasive of the judicial review and engage general questions of importance to the legal profession as a whole and which are most important in terms of practice before the LAT.

8. I can now see why Mr. Boyce refused to even take the step of attempting to have the record of proceeding provided to him for filing. Respectfully, Mr. Boyce never had any intention of filing the record of proceeding at any time or even on the timelines that he self-imposed. It is self-evident as to why.

9. I confirm that I have not received a copy of the invitation to Case Center and I repeat and rely upon my grounds for the same and the consequences of it not being provided.

10. I reserve all rights in fact and at law, and will continue to review this attachment with detailed analysis.

11. I ask that the Registrar confirm that my recent materials and previously were provided to the Chief Justice, Associate Chief Justice and Regional Senior Judge (if applicable) regarding the evidence that I received confirming that the representative in this LAT Appeal (which will be included in the indexed record of proceeding in short order) and representative for TD Insurance Group (at the relevant time and at least for formal purposes for the FSRA) had impersonated me (and others). I thank you in advance for confirmation of the same.

Dear All:

I confirm that I received an auto-reply from Mr. Boyce that he is not back until March 3, 2025. In any event, it will not matter per se because I have the LAT access and privacy division collating and providing whatever records that exist and the LAT registrar (at least by demand) engaging in the same. I will provided a singular document involving the same but some of the documents contained therein have already been filed and served like the LAT Appeal, affidavit #3, the decision of VC Lake in mid January 2024, the SNIC Response, and other affidavits during those times of Spring 2024 to Summer of 2024. I will update everyone accordingly but nonetheless I am expending resources, money et al to ensure that I have done so. My best to all.

URGENT FILING AND SERVICE OF THE SAME

Re: affidavit #18 (including the print out from the LAT Registrar of the purported record of proceeding and my created index of the same with areas of serious concern, missing documents, unknown orders made on dates where no orders were issued and provided to the parties or interested persons, backdating of documents, et al)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I attach my affidavit #18 for filing and service on the above.
3. The revelation that I referred to on Friday was not nearly as serious as the other breaches and areas of concern in this “print out” (see: Exhibit “A”). You will note my areas of emphasis in “red” and with “asterisk”.
4. Suffice it to say that when there are apparent orders on July 24, 2024, and August 16, 2024, which will need to forthwith filed in a purported or best potential and partial record of proceeding by the Tribunal, that are unknown to myself and never sent by email, it leads to the conclusion that the Tribunal had pre-determined how it was going to decide certain motions without following its statutory requirements. In my view, this is “round two” of Shuttleworth and leads to the unequivocal conclusion that the Tribunal’s conduct with to be determined in-house SLASTO counsel was such that each and every decision and step taken by it lead to a reasonable apprehension of bias or reasonable apprehension of a lack of independence (at least the appearance of the same).
5. To the extent that we do not have an issued order (on a reasonably prompt or forthwith basis) with reasons to follow regarding NOM #1 and NOM #2, I am considering bringing back Ms. Im and the AGO into the fold and seeking Charter relief for the Tribunal’s breach of section 2 of the Charter relating to the “open court principle”. To the extent that I proceed with that route, the Tribunal can anticipate significant damages sought because this is, without question, of great concern to not only myself but also the public generally with general questions of law that are evasive of the judicial review and of great importance to practice and procedure before the LAT. Of course, such relief will be sought under section 24 of the Charter as there is no challenge to the statutes that require rather basic obligations of the LAT.
6. I am also of the view, which I welcome any denial if possible, that the Tribunal and various individuals on behalf of TDI were and are in communication in an improper fashion during LAT proceedings and during judicial review or appeal proceedings. I refer you to the above by way of the examples.
7. Simply put, the “print out” provided was one of the more embarrassing efforts of record and file management which is all the more aggravated by the LAT holding such an important role as a quasi-judicial tribunal.
8. Thank you.

Re: attached copy of my letter, pursuant to section 76 of the CJA and there not being any uniform practice for raising a COI issue involving a justice (particularly one that is not seized), to the Chief Justice of the ONSC (by way of his judicial assistant) with a copy to all herein

Dear ONSC Divisional Court, Remaining Respondents et al:

1. In light of the various intellectual disputes that the ONSC Divisional Court and I have had regarding the issues contained in this letter, I ask that the ONSC Divisional Court registrar provide a copy of this letter to the attention of the Chief Justice of the ONSC. As it appears that the ONSC Div. Ct. has not done so previously, copies are being delivered and faxed in any event due to the public importance of some, if not all, of the issues raised herein. To the extent that the issues are rectified herein by the Registrar of the ONSC Divisional Court, I still say it requires confirmation and clarification specifically and generally.
2. As noted, I have still yet to receive an invitation to Case Center contrary to the Divisional Court JRPA Guide.
3. Moreover, I cannot find any authority for not having received a Form 68(B) when the language is “shall” in the Rules of Civil Procedure.
4. Perhaps of greatest concern on a procedural level was the apparent quotation of an uncited paragraph that was inconsistent with the current and valid Practice Direction of the Divisional Court. If that was relayed from Madam Justice Shore, kindly advise positively or negatively. If she did so, this would underscore my conflict of interest allegation.
5. I confirm that it is impossible to comply with certain rules under the Rules of Civil Procedure including uploading filed materials to Case Center within certain timelines including hearings or conference.
6. As such, clarification is required from the Chief Justice in this regard irrespective of whether my NOM #1 and #2 are granted. I will await to hear from him and his office regarding the above as I cited the law regarding all of the above, my requests and motions for the recusal of Madam Justice Shore altogether and particularly nullifying of her compulsory case conference requirement (while not particularly necessary per se as per NOM #2 being unopposed, filed and served, with a vetted, filed and stamped Draft Order), I require a decision (informally or formally) as there will be, as one can imagine, other proceedings brought against some or all of the insurance companies in the TDI Group and certain individuals outside of this JRPA Proceeding. It is better, in my view, to have a final and clear decision now to avoid this being addressed in the future. In this regard, I note that justices of the ONSC are also justices of the ONSC Divisional Court and it may be in a future proceeding against some or all of the above that Madam Justice Shore is a justice in her rotation of the ONSC and may be assigned to hear a conference, hearing or trial. As such, having such guidance from the Chief Justice now is most preferable for all involved.
7. Thank you.

Yours truly,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM) (he/him)

Re: attachment for service upon the Attorney General of Ontario of my affidavit #17 and #18

Re #2: my confirmation that i will be serving a notice of constitutional questions and seeking relief therein in relation to the breaches of the Charter including but not limited to breaches of the “open court principle” by the Licence Appeal Tribunal and challenging the vires or constitutionality of certain lat rules to the extent that the lat relies on those lat rules for its, inter alia, undisclosed decisions, conduct et al

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. I write regarding the above.

2. (Ms. Im, I hope you are well. I appreciate that your client had withdrawn from the JRPA Proceeding but there have been some developments that compel me to advance a notice of constitutional question and seek relief regarding those breaches of the Constitution Act, 1982, particularly various sections under the Charter including relief involving conduct of the LAT pursuant to section 24 of the Charter and section 52 of the Charter regarding various LAT Rules. In this regard, I attach my affidavit #17 and affidavit #18 for service upon the AGO for the factual underpinnings regarding the same. I will attach further documents for your ease of reference that you would have missed. You will note in affidavit #18 that I received a “print out” of a document that was represented by the LAT to me to be an “index” of the “record of proceeding” but it was not. I took several days to prepare an index of the same and highlight the missing documents and issues therein. Fortuitously, I had addressed some of the issues on an anticipatory basis in my 1st Amended Compendium (February 18, 2025) and by way of written outline therein (February 18, 2025). While there has not been much in the way of resistance (if at all) by those referred to previously as the “Remaining Respondents”, I cannot sit idle, on a public interest level, after a considered and measured review of the index that I prepared in relation to the same. While I do not have all of the documents contained therein as they appear to be a variety of documents that were internal and undisclosed, at least, to myself, I believe those will provide further factual underpinnings for why such Charter relief will be successful.)

3. I confirm that the LAT Registrar and the LAT access and privacy division (the “LAT FIPPA Division”) has failed to provide me with access to the records that form the simulacrum of a record of proceeding during the ROP Temporal Period.

4. I further confirm that the Tribunal, through Mr. Boyce, has still failed to file the record of proceeding as required by the JRPA.

5. My notice of constitutional question will follow for urgent filing and service with any necessary or required amended documents to follow. The attachments may follow on a piecemeal basis for Ms. Im’s benefit.

6. Thank you.

Re: provision of a NOCQ by service on the AGO and AGC with copies to the current parties (“Remaining Respondents”)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

1. Please find my current NOCQ attached for service on the AGO and AGC. I have tendered the same on an urgent basis due to the discovery of evidence over the past week and in light of the language in the Form 4F.
2. I am considering including notice to further bodies or associations and will tender that promptly if necessary. The attachments shall follow herein. This will be subject to further hyperlinking and bookmarking for ease of reference along with further evidence and submissions. However, for the interim, it satisfies the requirements of providing notice to the AGO and AGO pursuant to section 109 of the Courts of Justice Act and the relevant rule of the Rules of Civil Procedure.
3. I respectfully ask for a hearing in person in an "OPEN COURT" at a mutually convenient time to all parties and interested persons involving all of the issues in the JRPA Proceeding and the Charter issues.
4. Thank you.

Re: urgent filing of Amended JRPA Application via email and service on those named therein

Dear Sirs/Mesdames et al:

1. As promised, please find my Amended JRPA Application for urgent filing with the Divisional Court and for service upon those named therein. I shall serve the OTLA separately. I will provide affidavits of service for the NOCQ and this Amended JRPA Application.
2. While there is no specific rule on amending pleadings per se, I take heed of the Rules of Civil Procedure regarding applying by analogy and some of the recent cases involving the same of the ONSC.
3. While there is no close of pleadings per se like an action, I have filed and served this Amended JRPA Application as soon as the evidence became known to me and I could file and serve the same in a responsible and coherent fashion along with ensuring that chronology of each of the unlawful events where my Charter rights were breached was properly before or after an event during the JRPA Proceeding. While there is no place for oversimplification, it was almost as if each large event triggered an unlawful event or Charter breach involving my identity, banking cards, credit cards, library cards or otherwise. I welcome the LAT having a knowledgeable person swear affidavit evidence to the contrary and I will remove the relief if the evidence is credible and reliable. If not, I intend to proceed accordingly.
4. I await the positions of the AGO and AGC regarding the same.
5. Thank you.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is a general email to all of my safe and confirmed contacts. I was injured last night/early morning by an e-scooter on the sidewalk in Toronto. I am currently still awaiting to be seen in emergency. My physical injuries are quite severe and I have been preliminarily informed that I will, at least, need MRIs and x-rays so I will be away from my email and phone for the foreseeable future as I recover from the same. You will receive my autoreply in the interim and I will not be able to read or respond to any emails, calls or texts. I will revert back to all to confirm the same. Thank you for your patience.

Re: Written Submissions (Outline to Compendium) involving the now current and updated Compendium involving the issues in the NOCQ, Amended JRPA Application et al

Dear ONSC (Divisional Court) (copied to the above):

1. As noted in my email in the morning of March 6, 2025, while in the emergency room, I thank you for your patience while I recovered to some degree. While I have some further medical tests this week, I am now in a sufficient state to file and serve relevant documents, and speak at a hearing of the matters herein. I apologize to all for any inconvenience regarding the same.
2. Nonetheless, I attach a copy of my current written submissions involving the above. The updated and revised Compendium shall follow which includes all of the filings from February 26, 2025 to present. My previous comprehensive and lengthy written outline is at Tab 62 of the updated Compendium for ease of reference.
3. I confirm that I filed a copy of these written submissions, with leave to amend subject to further evidence received or obtained, today.
4. I sincerely trust that this provides some of the necessary law in relation to the Charter and constitutional issues along with application of the same along with the Charter damages I am seeking with specific quanta for each alleged breach of the same.
5. I will, of course, bookmark and hyperlink the same to the updated Compendium and this written submission (outline for oral argument) will be at Tab #1 of the Compendium.
6. I will serve a copy of this written submission to any other interested persons separately.
7. Thank you again for your patience during this unfortunate period for me. I confirm that my auto-reply is now off as of today's date. I hope everyone is well.

Yours truly,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM) (he/him)

VIA EMAIL

Type of document: email with attachment of Affidavit #3

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, self-represented, Applicant, e: mcleansettlement@gmail.com;

Dear ONSC Divisional Court et al:

1. I write regarding the above.

2. I am including my finalized compendium as it currently stands in four volumes. As I was about to file the same online, I checked my filing from this week and it was rejected so I am still looking into that issue as we speak. To the extent that there was any order issued in my absence and without my participation, along with not being served with any motion materials whatsoever, kindly hold it for the time being as I will seek to set it aside before it is vetted and entered. If there is such an order with respect to any language, kindly provide it under this thread forthwith. If I do not have a copy under this email thread by the end of the business day, I will ask the Chief Justice to compel the court staff to do so. I will also provide an affidavit by the end of the day demonstrating all of the emails in this thread which has remained the same since the outset but for a few times where emails were going into “spam” for me because there was an attempt to start a separate thread.

3. I hereby evince my intention to set whatever purported endorsement or order was made in my absence aside on a forthwith basis and potentially appeal the same (if necessary). However, prior to any entry of the same (which raises some odd questions as to what could have been made without a motion filed and served upon me and no affidavits of service).

4. However, for the interim, I am including the same. I will address it further after I have done a full inspection and investigation of the same but in the interim, I file and serve the same via email herein. I will of course rely on this Compendium in any necessary motion to set aside that which could not be made and it is unclear when it was made.

5. Whatever motion was filed was not served upon me. I ask whoever filed a motion without serving me to provide me with a copy of their filed materials and evidence of payment.

6. Volume #1 is attached for service and filing. Thank you.

Yours truly,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM) (he/him)

Dear ONSC Divisional Court:

1. I confirm that my email went through and I received an auto reply from one Ms. Ortiz. As such, there is no issue with my email per se – sending or receiving. I look forward to receiving all of the above requested documents in a timely fashion.
2. The same is applicable to any motions that were filed and served without service upon me. To the extent that there is an affidavit of service, kindly provide me with the same.
3. If there is any such documents, they would be fraudulent and a ground to set aside any properly endorsed order (if there is such an order) in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure. Otherwise, I will presume that no such documents exist. Trusting that there has not been any signed order by a judge, I will need to seek clarification of the same before any entry. I repeat and rely upon Rule 59 in this regard and the new strict requirements regarding the same. To the extent that any such order was purportedly issued without compliance with the same, it would be a nullity solely on that ground.
4. Obviously, my motions were and remain unopposed despite my strict compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure at all material times.
5. Kindly ensure that whatever is provided is provided herein with all of the recipients herein.
6. It is unclear to me what has transpired here but nonetheless, I am attending to the making of an affidavit with this being the last email herein.
7. I reserve the right to rely upon this correspondence for any lawful purpose.
8. Thank you for your attention to the above.

LAT's Notice of Appearance : McLean v. TD Home and Auto Insurance et al. : 718/24 - separate email thread from ONSC (Divisional Court)

Mr. Kevin McLean <mcleansettlement@gmail.com>

Dear All:

As per my email to the above addressees and the ONSC, I promised a new email thread to avoid any inadvertent disclosure or communications to it.

I will unpack the email and address them separately albeit therein.

(Mr. Nieuwland, I hope you are well. In my view, the Notice of Appearance is required to be filed with the required information therein involving which respondents you are purporting to act for in this JRPA proceeding. Kindly also correct the email address of myself therein for the purposes of the JRPA Proceeding. It remains my view that any of the respondent insurance companies are disentitled from participating herein and would need leave to do so. It is unclear to me, but I will check the Rules of Procedure et al, as to whether the Notice of Appearance was filed in time. In any event, it cannot stand as "Security National Insurance Company et al").

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM) (he/him)

LAT's Notice of Appearance : McLean v. TD Home and Auto Insurance et al. : 718/24 - separate email thread from ONSC (Divisional Court)

To: "Boyce, Jesse (MAG)" <Jesse.Boyce@ontario.ca>, "Maciel, Milene (MAG)" <Milene.Maciel@ontario.ca>, "Collie, Connor (MAG)" <Connor.Collie@ontario.ca>, "Im, Judie (She/Her) (MAG)" <Matthew.Nieuwland@tdinsurance.com> <Matthew.Nieuwland@tdinsurance.com>, "Pasquini, Heather" <Heather.Pasquini@tdinsurance.com>

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

In addressing Ms. Boyd's comments, with thanks, I appreciate your position. Kindly see my above regarding Mr. Nieuwland not filing a declaration of representative on behalf of TDH 2024, and then another for SNIC on June 28, 2024. Mr. Nieuwland may correct me if I am slightly off on the dates there but a day or so.

Therefore, Mr. Nieuwland never acted for TDHA. I do not oppose per se you referring to him as counsel for SNIC at the relevant time for motions for NOM #14 and NOM #15. TL opposition to my NOM #8. However, I object, while appreciating there are some moving parts to get acclimated to, to any misstating of the facts as they were at the time.

I will obviously oppose any attempt by any of the respondent insurance companies to participate in this JRPA Proceeding when they did not participate in the relevant motions.

I appreciate your stance on the preliminary issue but the substantive issues cannot be dealt with if the liable party is not included. It is nonsensical and wasteful of the Tribunal's time communicated by consent which is why I say a new email chain is preferable. In the circumstances, it may be wise for me to seek an adjournment of that hearing to avoid any undue alternative, I may ask for a stay of the Tribunal proceeding from the Tribunal and/or the ONSC. Of course, the JRPA Proceeding has a serious question to be tried, the irreparable harm that cannot be undone, and the balance of convenience is in my favour. If any of the parties oppose, I will have to seek costs. That being said, I will exhaust the Tribunal avenues first if appropriate based on our exchanges which I find helpful.

With that segue, your point #2, I will have to defer to Ms. Boyd's procedural expertise in this regard. I am inclined to agree with that proposal but allow me to check to determine if it consent if necessary.

With respect to your point #3, I stand by my time estimate of only needing some 25 minutes in oral argument and five minutes in reply. However, since the Tribunal decisions were in responsive submissions and sworn evidence, or any for that matter were tendered, then having this JRPA Proceeding determined before a single justice is fitting and an effective use of court resources.

I would ask all to seek instructions on whether they consent to a single justice hearing on written argument. While you are doing the same, I will review the above with respect to the substantially complete and the authorities are complete, and the factum is being completed with the requisite bookmarks et al, it would seem the best route to not put the Tribunal proceeding.

If Mr. Nieuwland's Notice of Appearance was filed within time and is not defective, we have a preliminary issue of whether he can act for all of the respondent insurance companies at relevance herein because it was already removed and its fax number was clearly and precisely denoted by the Tribunal so the sole issue herein is whether SNIC or TDHA was the First Insurer into exceeding detail but there is no evidence in the Application Record contradicting that it was and no finding by the Tribunal that TDHA was the First Insurer. Therefore, any participation which it did not do at first instance.

In terms of exchanging documents, I will await from the Tribunal tomorrow in terms of whether the remaining motion will be decided or whether it will decline its jurisdiction. With the Tribunal, it is to my benefit to not have it amended. However, I thought it was important to draw those errors to her attention for immediate correction but she may apparently feel differently.

I do not see any need for a case conference if we are able to reach consensus on the record of proceeding procedural step (i.e. avoiding it), whether there is consent or not (some or all) to go on an expedited basis), the Notice of Appearance issue, et al.

However, if we cannot agree on the prematurity issue, then it is best that I commence the process of exhausting the procedures available to stay the Tribunal proceeding and then have this

If we can have an expedited hearing in front of three justices, my position is that it is in person but we should clear up beforehand who can participate and who cannot.

Thank you kindly to all. I look forward to hearing from you.

Appendix

Boyce, Jesse (MAG)

to Judie, matthew.nieuwland@tdinsurance.com, me, Milene, Connor

Hi Mr. McLean,

Thank you for your responses. Unless the Court orders otherwise, I prefer to keep all counsel who represent parties named in the Notice on this email chain, should they wish to participate.

1. Regarding any preliminary issues, it is the LAT's position that this Application gives rise to an issue of prematurity as the underlying written hearing on the substantive issues communicated to the Court in our joint response.
2. Regarding the timetable, the Court typically affords the LAT 3-4 weeks to prepare the Record of Proceedings pursuant to the JRPA. However, the parties may waive this requirement. Please advise if you are content to proceed on the application record you are creating because this will significantly reduce the volume of the record as well. If so, this should be completed a few days for its materials owing to the upcoming Court holiday and other litigation matters.
3. Regarding the hearing length, a half day is likely sufficient, however if you intend to bring a motion it may be best to request a case conference with the Court.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: consent to dispensing with the need for the Tribunal to provide the record of proceeding – subject to – my inclusion of NOM #8 or another alternative

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

1. A cordial good morning to all.
2. This email is directed to counsel for the License Appeal Tribunal.
3. I have reviewed the record of proceeding and I am ready, willing and able to consent to dispensing with the need for the Tribunal to provide the entire record of proceeding subject to my inclusion of NOM #8 solely for background and context purposes. Alternatively, if the Tribunal is willing to consent or admit that VC Morrissette was incorrect, and continues to be incorrect that the relief sought in NOM #8 was by "consent" when it was not, then only the application record will need to be filed by myself.
4. Kindly advise at your earliest opportunity.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

In relation to Mr. Nieuwland's defective Notice of Appearance on behalf of "Security National Insurance Company et al" wherein he referred to the other two insurance companies, in partial form, as "also referred to as", I also note that the Notice of Appearance was not delivered forthwith as required by the form itself and the Rules Of Civil Procedure. I appreciate that there are some nuances within the procedures but filing and serving a defective Notice Of Appearance does not meet any legal standard.

Mr. Nieuwland will need to attempt to correct the same or I will apply to strike that Notice of Appearance and seek costs on several grounds.

I trust that he will attempt to do so by the end of the day or I will seek directions from the ONSC (Divisional Court) as to how to manage such a situation.

This obviously will affect time estimates and limits (where applicable) considering Mr. Nieuwland is now purporting (or at least it reads that way) to act for multiple respondents or treating three of the four auto insurance companies within TDI as a "group". We already required FSRA intervention to correct Mr. Nieuwland's misstatement of law during a case conference, with a non-party (TDGIC), that "SNIC and TDGIC" are "one and the same". I had to attend and pay for "certificates of status" for SNIC and TDGIC, and, of course, they are and were not "one and the same".

I look forward to hearing from those counsel who have filed Notices of Appearances on a forthwith basis for their clients whether they will oppose the relief I intend to seek in relation to having this JRPA proceeding heard before a single justice. The case that I am reading, which appears to be on point for the principles, is: Savone v. Law Society of Upper Canada, 2013 ONSC 1015.

It seems to me that if we proceed in this manner, then we need not worry so much about technical arguments and preliminary issues because if I am successful and it is heard before a single justice, the LAT can raise the prematurity issues that it wishes to raise. We can also avoid having unnecessary motions regarding stays et al. This will also take care of the issue of time estimates per se – or at least first instance.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re #1: is the Tribunal still raising the issue of whether the orders issued by VCM are interlocutory or final

Re #2: the prematurity issue raised by the esteemed Ms. Boyd for the Tribunal

Dear Ms. Boyd:

I write regarding the issue that you raised regarding a potential prematurity issue regarding my JRPA Application. I note that you are still intending to raise that issue as a preliminary issue. You have my emails and my position in that regard.

In order for me to know your position clearly and so we can communicate with the ONSC clearly and cohesively, are you still raising the issues as to whether the orders that I am seeking to have quashed, set aside and then replaced or varied are interlocutory orders? Respectfully, there is no dispute on the law that an order that adds or does not add a third party, does not allow the amending of pleadings or new causes of action et al is final order.

In this regard, I am primarily referring to my NOM #14 that seeks to add TDHA as a party and denoted as the First Insurer and replacing SNIC with respect to any liability under SABS.

I am reviewing the law with respect to the prematurity doctrine and suffice it to say, I do not agree. I distinguish between this JRPA Proceeding and cases like Mansui which focused exclusively on the conflict of interest issue.

In brief, I would not have an effective remedy left in the LAT Proceeding if TDHA is not added as a party and I say it needs to be declared as the "First Insurer". I say it is an affront to the rule of law to have the VCM Decision stand.

I apologize if you made that clear that you were only relying on the potential preliminary issue being that of the prematurity doctrine.

To be clear herein, I do not object, and I don't even think I could, to your client pleading or by way of responsive factum raising that issue. I say that is the appropriate place to raise the same if your client still intends to do so. However, as you can see from Mr. Nieuwland's recent email, he is now on the new theory of "also referred to as" which would connote that SNIC, TDGIC and TDHA are aliases for each other (at least implicitly). They are not. I addressed this in my NOM #8 which was successful and not by consent.

To ensure we are efficient, would your client's position, which appears to be grounded in the Hearing Proper being set for January 25, 2025, change if there is an adjournment of the Hearing Proper? Would it change if there was a stay of the Tribunal proceeding (also defined as the "LAT Proceeding")?

I will await to hear from you on whether your sole preliminary issue to be raised is that of the prematurity doctrine. Thank you.

Dear All:

In the spirit of being comprehensive, I can confirm that I will aim to have my factum done in short order and provide a draft copy of the same along with my proposed application record index. While I remain of the view that Mr. Nieuwland's Notice of Appearance is a nullity and void ab initio, I will continue to include him in the email chain as a courtesy without any waiver of my rights.

My preference remains to have this matter heard before a single justice of the ONSC in order to ensure that a brief adjournment of the LAT Proceeding is obtained and the issue of whom is the First Insurer is resolved, and then I can proceed to obtain whatever benefits I am so entitled and in what quantum BUT from the insurance company that is obligated to respond and pay those benefits on a historical, current and future level.

If the single justice hearing cannot be accommodated, then the half day estimate is amenable to me.

I will await to hear from the Tribunal with respect to my proposal regarding the "record of proceedings" and my provision of the application record with the addition of NOM #8 or consenting to (or by an agreed statement of facts) that VCM is incorrect on the "consent issue" regarding the granting of NOM #8. To confirm, as I take no issue with Mr. Nieuwland providing you a copy of the email that he delivered to myself and the Tribunal on or around June 6, 2024, wherein he confirmed that TDGIC (not SNIC) would NOT oppose the relief sought in NOM #8.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Good Morning Ms. Lawrence:

Thank you for your email and your patience while the multiple parties work together to respond in a singular and cohesive fashion.

To confirm (so we are respectful of the timelines), we are communicating separately regarding the issues. I have provided my positions in accordance with the timelines. I can also confirm that as of last night I requested the consent of the sole current party in SNIC to adjourn the date of the scheduled hearing proper from consent to the brief adjournment. If not, I will exhaust that avenue with a formal adjournment motion pursuant to LAT Rule 16 with the requisite form. The decision is decided.

Pardon me for the piecemeal, while I await the responses denoted above in a separate email thread.

I will be raising the issue of whether the respondent insurance companies (some or all) are entitled to participate herein and to have been filed a Notice of Appearance as a preliminary issue if Mr. Nieuwland does not seek to correct those impugned deficiencies. I strongly object to the respondent insurance companies filing forthwith. Simply put, I object to the document that Mr. Nieuwland tendered yesterday of acting on behalf of "Security National Insurance Company et al. Company". I believe such conduct and a filing, where the respondent insurance companies had ample time to participate in the relevant motions at issue in the JRPA Proceeding. It is already causing time management issues by their purported inclusion. In my humble view, such a filing would have required leave.

With respect to exchange of documents, I am nearly ready to file and serve all the factum, application and book of authorities. We may be able to disperse of the respondents (where applicable). With respect to responding to my factum, I note the 30-day time limit so I do not believe there is any issue in that regard parties but the court.

With respect to time estimate, I am amenable to the half day but I would prefer to proceed before a single justice pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA.

Lastly, the preliminary issue that I have raised with respect to the respondent insurance companies will remain and I am awaiting to hear from Ms. Body to set aside are interlocutory or final. I have also inquired as to whether her position on behalf of the Tribunal will change depending on whether there is

We will revert back when we have hopefully resolved the above with analytical precision.

Thank you.

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Hi Mr. McLean,

Not a problem, but while we are on the subject, I am a Mr. Boyce.

I note the Court's email to await further direction on case management, but I have endeavoured to answer your questions as I understand them and I hope

On the preliminary issue question, it is likely that this proceeding gives rise to an issue of prematurity because the administrative process below remains or Awada v. Allstate, 2021 ONSC 8108. It will be up to the Court to determine if there are exceptional circumstances present to warrant early intervention before potential reconsideration and statutory appeal, if applicable). For what its worth, an adjournment of the LAT hearing will not remove the prematurity issue but

In a similar vein, motion orders are generally considered interlocutory orders by the Court because they do not finally dispose of the substantive merits. The interlocutory order in *Heegna v. Regarding the Record of Proceedings, if the parties consent to waive the obligation on the LAT to produce the full record, then the LAT is content for the pa Application, rather than everything filed to date, which I understand to be significant. The LAT takes no position on the format of the hearing and will defer to the Court. If a hearing proceeds, a half day is sufficient.

Dear Mr. Boyce:

1. Thank you kindly for the email. Apologies for the delay in my response as I focused on filing the factum with the court so you had the benefit of the same. Apologies for those multiple errors in relation to gender and name.
2. I can confirm that I did not read this email before filing and serving my factum. However, I did cite and hyperlink Awada, and you will note my reference to 'effective remedies' and there are no effective remedies against TDHA as it is not a party. You will also note my reference to Reza and the SPPA including but not limited to section 5 and 19 of the SPPA. You will also note my reference and submission to section 56 of SABS and the party issue is not merely "cosmetic" but dispositive of all of the issues in the LAT Proceeding. Ongoing against a non-labile insurance company is futile to all involved and wasteful to all involved in the LAT Proceeding and this JRPA Proceeding. We will inevitably be back before the ONSC Divisional Court on the same issues of law irrespective of the determination (hypothetically speaking) between myself and SNIC.
3. You will note my citation of other cases that are more on point than the general proposition cited in Awada.
4. I have not read Heegsma in full but based upon my first reading of the same, those general propositions of law are not in dispute. The issue herein is focused on that TDHA was the First Insurer to receive my Completed Application pursuant to Reg 283. As such, it is the only insurance company that is liable to pay benefits to me and to respond to me at this time and in the future. This will, at least, be many years into the future. As such, said issue of who the First Insurer is not merely a "stranger to the action" issue but one that was, in fact, served with not only my Completed Application but the LAT Appeal. We also need to distinguish between orders directed to non-party, at the time, and those involving orders to add parties that have a substantial interest in a proceeding. SNIC's only interest in the LAT Proceeding is one of costs. Costs are not the substantive issues in the LAT Appeal and beyond.
5. Moreover, you will note the corollary in the Ontario Nurses Association (paragraph 64): "... (i) if resolution of a JRPA Application resolves outstanding issues before the Tribunal, then a JRPA Application is not premature". Simply put, there will be no outstanding issues if I am successful in the JRPA Application.
6. We also have the issue of a potential issue estoppel issue considering these misrepresentations regarding insurance companies being "one and the same". If the Court were to accept the "one and the same misrepresentation", which Mr. Nieuwland, at least tacitly or implicitly, expanded upon in his email to the Court, then we have a res judicata issue as well.
7. The countless aspects of real unfairness (see: Gage, 1992 (ONSC (Div. Court))) are endless so, with great respect, there is no merit to the prematurity to the argument on that ground alone.

8. However, as you will see in my factum, with no disputed facts and no findings on the issue of the First Insurer that are against me per se, the VCM Decision contains a litany of egregious affronts to the rule of law which are evasive of the JRPA Application and contain issues of great importance to the public.
9. In reading that investigation report into one Ms. Trina Morrisette, it was alarming to see that she was engaged in that type of similar conduct some decade ago and the probative value and similarities are highly concerning and the Court needs to determine if there are some systemic issues causing such a decision like the VCM Decision. Alternatively, intervention is required on a specific level. In this regard, you will note my reference to Jia, albeit Vice Chair Trojek engaging in the analysis he did on a reconsideration under different LAT Rules, and what the ONSC (Divisional Court) found in hearing a judicial review merely on a conflict issue.
10. Not only is the VCM Decision and the way in which she consolidated hearings, yet not conversant with motion numbers and pleadings (along with who the individual insurance policy holder was), the VCM Decision cannot be relied upon for the public as it goes well beyond procedural unfairness and abdication of jurisdiction issues.
11. If there is ever a case or proceeding where the ONSC has concurrent jurisdiction, this is it.
12. In relation to the “parties”, the Tribunal is a party but the respondent insurance companies are not properly parties.
13. I am still reviewing Ms. Im’s positions and queries (and apologies for the delay Ms. Im), but suffice it to say, the findings I seek involve TDHA and it did not participate when it could have by Mr. Nieuwland’s defective and uncured NOA. TDHA could have provided perspective to the Tribunal and chose not to. It does not get a second “kick at the can” at the Divisional Court or before a single justice if I am able to obtain leave.
14. I again note that Mr. Nieuwland’s purported NOA is a nullity as it was not filed forthwith and it has only been confirmed as “received” and not filed. While I am content to extend all courtesies including Mr. Nieuwland in these emails, I confirm that no such motion for leave has been brought and the legality of his received but unfiled document remains.
15. Simply put, the only parties that are squarely and lawfully (i.e. entitled to participate) before the ONSC Divisional Court are myself and the Tribunal.
16. As I have hyperlinked each and every authority, I will not be tendering a book of authorities.
17. This leaves the Application Record and I am not sure that the above was responsive to my query or request regarding my NOM #8 (as it was not an issue of whether it was substantive or not but solely to address the continued error between “consent” vs. “non-oppositon” but it is now withdrawn. The Application Record, as the facts are not in dispute, will solely be the relevant motion hearing records that were relevant at the time at the issuance of the decisions at issue. I will have that done shortly and filed with the ONSC Divisional Court, and then my certificate of perfection.
18. While I am doing the same, I would kindly ask that you seek instructions from your client regarding either not opposing or consenting to the substantive relief, where applicable to the Tribunal, and revert back when you are able.
19. If the Tribunal opposes the relief sought in this JRPA Proceeding, I will be compelled to seek costs and I will seek the maximum allowable at law. I hope that I do not have to proceed that route but when considering the duties and mandate of the office of the Attorney General of Ontario, including any offshoots of the same, being one to ensure that administration of justice is not brought into disrepute, there cannot be a justifiable and legal defence to the above – even including any advancement of the prematurity doctrine.

20. I will, of course, update if any adjournment is consented to or granted (if applicable) as your initial position was predicated on the timing of the Hearing Proper.

21. I will revert back if anything arises from the authorities you have cited above but I do not think it will change anything.

22. If anything is unclear in the factum, kindly let me know at your earliest convenience. Otherwise, I will presume that it is not.

23. I like my chances to get leave before a single justice of the ONSC and have it heard at once but I will review those cases in further detail but that will be dependent somewhat on whether the Hearing Proper is adjourned and/or a stay motion is required at any level per se.

24. Thank you again for your professionalism to date and I look forward to hearing from you – positively or negatively regarding the above.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re: letter of January 8, 2025 – confirmation of current and outstanding matters and requirements – et al

Good Morning to you Mr. Boyce et al:

Thank you again for your email as it is appreciated. A belated Happy New Year to all.

Herein, I vacillate between using “you” and “Mr. Boyce” but this comprehensive email is directed at the relevant persons at the relevant times, and to ensure that there are I do not object per se to engaging in conversations outside of the email thread if they are of assistance to us dealing with issues in a manner that is constructive and productive further from the truth. I recall, which I will check, something in the nature of a comment or representation from you that the standard protocol or convention allowed for 6 the opposite. Moreover, the case law says the opposite. While there are cases that involve certain aggrieved parties, by way of an administrative tribunal not filing a record that bringing motions regarding compelling the Tribunal to comply with its statutory duty at first instance is discouraged. They are discouraged because the language proceedings.

If I, in my current state, am able to summon the resources to file a 1500 pages Application Record and then reduce the same again into an Oral Compendium, which we Applicant's Factum), then the Tribunal has no justification for its delay.

As you are aware, I will be away largely on Thursday, and then away from my email on Friday and Monday.

I have difficulty believing that the Tribunal has a precise record of proceeding but I stand to be corrected.

If the record of proceeding is not filed and served immediately (i.e. by the end of the business day), you can anticipate a motion being brought, with an abridgment of time

I am in the process of the final hyperlinking of each authority and statutory subsection, and the bookmarking and linking of the oral compendium index and hard copy do that provides reference to the record of proceedings, then I will seek costs for doing the same.

Therefore, the more expediently you file and serve me and others with the Record Of Proceeding, then there will not be the same risk for costs. To the extent that it is filed I reserve the right to bring this correspondence to the attention of the court in relation to costs should the Tribunal continue to fail in its duties.

In light of the misunderstanding in your review of the same, wherein I relied on your representation and deferred to your expertise which was incorrect, I confirm that Applicant's Application Record was filed and served on December 12, 2024. I further confirm that the Certificate Of Perfection was filed on December 13, 2024, and the have received Form 68(B) from the ONSC Divisional Court but we have not. Moreover, I confirm that I remain of the view that this JRPA Proceeding should be heard on :

While no costs can be awarded for a case conference, I confirm that the preparation involved in the same can be. As such, I see no value in a case conference, as you are those costs will be dependent upon the resistance that is provided regarding the same.

The Court has my availability or lack thereof regarding the same. Mr. Nieuwland was kind enough to provide when he is leaving the country.

As a general point, where we engage in these types of conversations and communications, I do not think the Court needs its valuable time spent on who is seeking costs, January today, and us (at least me) not knowing the position of the three respondent insurance companies, this will raise further issues as to costs.

As you will see from my affidavit #2 herein, I have continued serious concerns about this Tribunal specifically its lack of transparency and the declining numbers of considering the OTLA has similar concerns but has made them public in a much more forceful nature.

As the Tribunal is not entitled to seek costs in a judicial review application (or petition as they are called in BC), this will militate in favour of me seeking a higher costs at generally and specifically so we can work together in having this penultimate judicial review application heard in a manner that is consistent with the rule of law.

I note the following in relation to section 10 of the JRPA for your edification in the event you were unaware which is a direct copy and paste from the Oral Outline:

“[17] A “proceeding” or “proceedings” refers to a process or step in a process that determines a legal right:

Although the word “proceeding” is often used in the context of an action in court, its definition is more expansive . . . [T]he “word ‘proceeding’ has a very wide n suits”. In Black’s Law Dictionary (6th ed. 1990), at p. 1204, the definition of “proceeding” includes, inter alia, “an act necessary to be done in order to obtain a given end; a prescribed mode of act [2003] 1 S.C.R. 94, [2003] S.C.J. No. 8, at para. 24.

“The purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a “record of proceedings” is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it has the info an adjudicative decision may look at decisions to admit evidence, submissions of witnesses, and other evidence and may substitute its judgment for that of the cc 5731 (ON CA), [2000] O.J. No. 2987, 136 O.A.C. 357 (C.A.), at para. 23; Jacko v. McLellan, 2008 CanLII 22921 (ON SCDC) at paragraph 18).:

While section 20 of the SPPA governs the content of the Record Of Proceeding, I note that much turns on the word ‘evidence’ but that is then measured against the relax comes to mind.

Your count of 5000 pages is distinct from mine but only time will tell. I look forward to the Tribunal curing this deficiency on a forthwith basis.

As you undoubtedly know from the record of proceeding, Mr. Nieuwland took some uncalled-for- shots at me that were myopically focused. As he learned by putting my submissions where I included the singular worst privacy breach involving a professional with a regulatory body in Canadian history, albeit LSBC counsel and the soon-to reasonable grounds that there are signs or indicia of corruption and/or fraud, and I am not yet complete. It took me 11 years to be a large part of putting an end to the L' respondent insurance companies have engaged conduct that rivals the LSBC and its counsel, including privacy breaches by the respondent insurance companies (of which I contacted me have switched to the "Form B" type letters which is telling), but this may be a systemic and institutional issue. In this vein, I welcome the submissions of the submissions and filing documents at any stage herein are confined by the cases like Drewlo Holdings, Hutchinson v. Aviva, and Rol-Land Farms Limited.

It remains unclear at this stage whether the respondent insurance companies will oppose the relief sought but they are available to do so, and there is no dispute that they dispute that the Tribunal is an adjudicative tribunal, self-titled as quasi-judicial, so that militates strongly in favour of limited to no Tribunal participation.

To the extent that the record of proceeding is not filed by the end of the business day, I intend to take active steps to seek relief, most likely by way of motion, that will hold the same, until the Tribunal has complied with its duties. As for the exchange of documents, I repeat and rely upon my previous correspondence.

In my view, the Tribunal is duty-bound to consent to the relief sought in my factum. But for the misguided raising of prematurity by the Tribunal in respect of 'final decision' egregious misstatement of law (generally and specifically) that I can find in the history of the LAT (albeit less than a decade in existence).

In addition to the discrepancy between your apparent page count of the record of proceeding and my page count, I do not think Vice Chair Morrisette could have had the decision like she did. Perhaps, that was idiosyncratic to her style of decision making and I certainly hope you appreciate that I am using the word 'idiosyncratic' in the most appropriate manner.

However, the required forthwith duty from mid-November 2024 of the Tribunal to file the record of proceeding was the Legislature's way of ensuring that a JRPA application is, of course, distinct from that of a LATA appeal.

As you know from my affidavit #2, my concerns about you (Mr. Boyce's) on a specific level by way of your institutional closeness to Vice Chairs Morrisette and Lake have been the same. However, you have my stated objection in this regard and I am entitled to raise it at the relevant time. As noted in the Alberta Law Review article, which I have cited, the court could appoint various amicus curiae to fulfill the role of tribunal counsel in this regard. However, this oddly, from a purely selfish standpoint, is of assistance to me in that it would go to what went into the decisions better than he if that is the case. Moreover, because Mr. Boyce as a former adjudicator and vice chair of the LAT will also be able to influence current policies and procedures for how decisions are drafted, made and finalized, and whether the same consultation process in Shuttleworth remains. I may follow Mr. Boyce, welcomed, to have the likes of Mr. Boyce provide some of the above to the court but I say that should be done by sworn evidence and not as counsel (see: wherein in-house counsel).

I again note that I remain deeply concerned at the

As you may know, I am in slight disagreement with the ONSC Divisional Court as to when I was entitled to receive my invitation to the Case Center as the JRPA Divisional Application. However, said 'Guide' does reference CaseLines which is defunct by way of name so perhaps I have an antiquated version. In any event, I will follow up on this regard as not being able to cite the relevant numbers from Case Center is not something it could control per se but for in the limited circumstance that the misguided raising of the issue.

While the conduct of the respondent insurance companies and the Tribunal has delayed much needed artificial disc replacement surgery that I can only have in the United States, to the extent that any materials are filed in contravention of the common law principles, for ease of reference, I again draw your attention to the decision in Taylor (which is cited in the decision).

In Taylor, ONSC Divisional Court (Toronto) as per The Honourable Justices Ryan Bell, Nishikawa, and Shore JJ., made the seminal statements of law relating to the Tribunal's participation:

"[18] Section 9(2) of the JRPA does not affect this court's supervisory jurisdiction. It does not shield administrative tribunals such as the LAT from matters to the attention of the court.

[19] Allowing an administrative tribunal such as the Tribunal to participate on an application for judicial review does not give rise to the Tribunal as a party may help to ensure that the court hears both sides of a dispute where there is no other well-informed party standing in the case. Power Generation Inc., 2015 SCC 44, at para. 54.

[20] Once a tribunal is a party, the court still has discretion as to the scope of participation to be accorded to the tribunal during the hearing of maintaining tribunal impartiality: Hydro Ottawa v. Ontario (Workplace Safety and Insurance Appeals Tribunal), 2019 ONSC 4898 (Div. Ct.).

I again make the emphatic point that I am not suggesting that Mr. Boyce is actually biased towards me (while I say it is obvious that VCM and VCL were and are) but he is involving other injured persons (see: 14-0-1 for those insurance companies against injured persons in the LAT) is optically horrific. It does not mean that Mr. Boyce, that "where there's smoke there is fire" or at least "where the numbers are so overwhelming from a statistical standpoint in favour of the sophisticated insurance companies" reasonable person, in my view, would conclude that Mr. Boyce should step aside and allow another legal counsel, sufficiently independent or at least with the appearance of no confusion or argument that I somehow did not raise the issue. I, of course, raised in my affidavit #2 but I reiterate the same herein.

I cannot emphasize enough that it is only the Tribunal at this stage that has raised prematurity and not the respondent insurance companies. If it was not raised, this material objection from November 2024 is tantamount to arguing the merits of this case (albeit because of the facts and evidence herein) in a circuitous manner. Thank you kindly for your attention.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

RE: THE URGENT JRPA APPLICATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 6(2) OF JRPA – SALIENT POINTS AT THIS TIME

Dear Mr. Boyce and Mr. Nieuwland (et al as a courtesy):

I write regarding the above. I will be tendering several emails herein all out of an abundance of caution before I am away from my email and will not be able to respond until I return.

I confirm that I am tendering this email under this email thread as a result of my section 6(2) of the JRPA request which will in turn be held at a different courthouse and "I" will be held at a different courthouse.

Before I am away, I write to confirm that your deadline for the responsive factums, with only permissible content therein as it relates to the Tribunal and the responder's submissions of the respondent insurance companies so it is difficult to know how that is going to occur without a responsive factum filed by the respondent insurance company.

As the Tribunal is only entitled at best to 15 minutes in oral submissions and a 15 page factum, and there is no dispute on the evidence in the Application Record and my hearing in the ONSC (nota bene: I shall use the defined term of "General Division" although I understand that may be somewhat outdated but I utilize the same to distinguish between the two divisions).

I confirm that you have received the requisite information regarding my confirmation of reserving the date of January 21, 2025, in the Toronto region for the hearing of my JRPA Application. I have also confirmed with you, and the Divisional Court, that I filed the required requisition for the Civil Practice Court (the "CPC") in Word with the Court. Nonetheless, we will be under two hours as per the above. It may even be shorter than 60 minutes depending on what arises with the responsive factums and the separate application for leave.

To the extent that any impermissible content is filed, this may further truncate the same. As per the case of Taylor v. HR Solutions, and Mansuri (before the ONSC Divisional Court), leave to be heard at the same time. However, as you may know, the issue of merits of this JRPA Application is one that is a strong factor in whether to grant leave.

I doubt your factums will change my positions but nonetheless I shall wait and see. As you know, the oral compendium must be in some five days before the hearing. As it has been formally confirmed and consummated by my filing of the requisition for the hearing (by way of civil scheduling 393 University Avenue, Toronto), this on or around January 15, 2025.

The issue that I am currently having researched is that while we know what constitutes the record of proceeding by section 20 of the SPPA which states (and while noting that the record of proceeding is not the same as the record of the proceedings):

Record of proceeding

20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,

- (a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;
- (b) the notice of any hearing;
- (c) any interlocutory orders made by the tribunal;
- (d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such evidence may be used;
- (e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and
- (f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20.

As noted, section 10 of the JRPA states:

Record to be filed in court

10 When notice of an application for judicial review of a decision made in the exercise or purported exercise of a statutory power of decision has been served on the parties, the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 10.

In my view, this is why there is a forthwith requirement because the delay can create last minute challenges for the likes of the Tribunal to ensure that the filed record of proceedings is accurate.

Again, I will review the case law to see how a delayed filed record of proceedings affects the content of the same (if at all).

Lastly, I confirm that subject to reaching any agreement by way of consent on disposition of this JRPA Proceeding without court intervention, I will be seeking costs against the responding parties (if any) regarding the quantum of costs that I would be entitled to. I use the pronoun "I" because the Tribunal is customarily distinguished from the Divisional Court (if any) to a JRPA application requesting leave thereof of a single justice of the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (not the "Divisional Court of Justice" as it is often referred to). The exceptions are quite similar, I will have to wait to determine what costs could be sought against it. As it relates to the three distinct insurance companies, it is trite that there must be separate responsive factums from SNIC and TDHA.

SNIC will need to defend my seeking of costs against it in the Tribunal motion hearings for two thousand dollars pursuant to the LAT Rules, made under section 17.1 of the LAT Rules. I will determine what I say the costs should be against each if I am successful.

If SNIC and/or TDHA are raising prematurity, then the Tribunal cannot avoid duplicating the argument of SNIC and TDHA. If SNIC and TDHA do so, it delivered you have notice of the same.

I confirm that I am entitled to draw this email herein to the attention of the court in the event that there is any dispute between us on these points above and in relation to c

Re: record of proceeding requirements et al

Dear Mr. Boyce (with copy to Mr. Nieuwland et al):

Please note emails will be sent with "scheduled send" today to avoid inundating your inbox in the early morning.

With respect to the record of proceeding, the best that I can find is as follows (see: LifeLabs LP v. Information and Privacy Commr. (Ontario), 2022 ONSC 5751 (CanLII))

"The Record of Proceedings"

[12] Section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act (the "JRPA") provides:

When a notice of application for judicial review of a decision made in the exercise or purported exercise of a statutory power of decision has been served, the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made.^[1]

The JRPA is silent on what is included in the "record of proceedings."

[13] "An applicant for judicial review has the right to have a full and accurate record of what went on before the tribunal put before the court."^[2] For s. 10 of the "SPPA".^[3] However, these requirements do not apply in this case: proceedings before the Commissioner are not ones "where the tribunal is required..."

[14] The "record" then, in this case, is a matter of common law. About seventy years ago, Lord Denning stated that the record "has been said to consist of proceedings.... [It] must contain at least the document which initiates the proceedings."^[5] By way of analogy to a trial in a court of record, the record should consist of transcripts (if oral evidence was taken and recorded for purposes of transcription). This court may insist upon production of an adequate record for purposes of review.

I write regarding the above. I will be tendering several emails herein all out of an abundance of caution before I am away from my email and will not be able to respond to any further emails until I return.

I confirm that I am tendering this email under this email thread as a result of my section 6(2) of the JRPA request which will in turn be held at a different courthouse and will not be heard by the current court.

Before I am away, I write to confirm that your deadline for the responsive factums, with only permissible content therein as it relates to the Tribunal and the respondent's submissions of the respondent insurance companies so it is difficult to know how that is going to occur without a responsive factum filed by the respondent insurance company.

As the Tribunal is only entitled at best to 15 minutes in oral submissions and a 15 page factum, and there is no dispute on the evidence in the Application Record and hearing in the ONSC (nota bene: I shall use the defined term of "General Division" although I understand that may be somewhat outdated but I utilize the same to distinguish between the two divisions).

I confirm that you have received the requisite information regarding my confirmation of reserving the date of January 21, 2025, in the Toronto region for the hearing of my JRPA Application. I have also confirmed with you, and the Divisional Court, that I filed the required requisition for the Civil Practice Court (the "CPC") in Word v. Canada (Attorney General) (2021 FC 100) nonetheless we will be under two hours as per the above. It may even be shorter than 60 minutes depending on what arises with the responsive factums and the separate submissions.

Good Morning in return Ms. Lawrence:

I hope you had a few pleasant days from the office on the "statutory holidays". Thank you again for your email and repetition of the above.

I do not see the authority (including Guide to Judicial Review by the Divisional Court or Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceeding) that you are relying upon for the same.

While this is a judicial review and not an "appeal", the same is espoused in the "Guide To Appeals Before the Divisional Court"^[i] which states the same words or words to a similar effect:

"After you have brought an appeal or motion for leave to appeal, you will receive an email to register for CaseLines and upload your materials. There is no fee to use CaseLines" (see: page 7 therein).

I also received a document from the court after filing my certificate of perfection regarding becoming acclimated with Case Center (formerly CaseLines). It is not possible to do so when I do not have an invitation to the same.

Would you kindly provide me with the authority that you are relying upon regarding the same? Perhaps, I am utilizing an old "Guide" for JR before the Divisional Court. This is the "Guide" that I am relying upon:

I believe that I am reading the language correctly but feel free to correct me if I am incorrect in my reading comprehension and interpretation of the language:

"After you have brought an application for judicial review, you will receive an email to register for CaseLines and upload your materials. There is no fee to use CaseLines."

I note that the hyperlinked "Notice to Profession" is no longer in effect so I have not delved into that analysis.

I appreciate the reference to "generally" in relation to: "Generally, your materials must be uploaded four weeks before your scheduled hearing date. During the hearing, you may make use of CaseLines features including directing participants to a specific page and displaying exhibits." I will presume that is not a "hard and fast rule" but nonetheless, I believe (based upon my reading) I was to receive an email to register for Case Center after having brought the JR Application which was mid November 2024.

I will continue to review the literature and law in this regard.

I would be most grateful, subject to you pointing me to an authority that I have not read, to receive the same so I can, at the very least, acclimate myself with Case Center and its functions. Thank you kindly.

Good Afternoon in return Ms. Lawrence:

I hope you are well. Thank you for the email information. In that vein and perhaps I am confused or I am looking at an antiquated version to the "JR Guide" because the "Guide to Judicial Review in Divisional Court" (see: <https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/files/pubs/guide-div-ct-judicial-review-EN.pdf>) (the "JR Guide") states the following:

"CaseLines is an online document sharing platform which allows the Court to electronically view your materials. The Divisional Court uses CaseLines for remote and in-person hearings. After you have brought an application for judicial review, you will receive an email to register for CaseLines and upload your materials. There is no fee to use CaseLines."

I appreciate that CaseLines is a different language than Case Center but what I found online states:

"Case Center (formerly CaseLines) is an online platform used for document sharing and presentation in hearings. Case Center is an online platform that provides secure and easy access to case materials during hearings."

Is that an old version that I am looking at or has the JR Guide changed with respect to the above?

I will have to check my file notes as well but I thought I saw a requirement that I upload filed materials promptly after filing.

Perhaps, this is all a moot point because I have filed the Certificate Of Perfection on December 15, 2024, and filed a requisition (Form 4(E)) today so perhaps a Form 68(B) is en route in any event.

Thank you kindly as always.

BORROW A LAPTOP SERVICE – IN-BRANCH EQUIPMENT LOAN AGREEMENT

Date: Oct 12 2014 Branch: _____

I, Karin McLean, (please print) understand that by borrowing, or allowing my child to borrow equipment from the Toronto Public Library (the "Equipment"), I am responsible for the Equipment and all its components. I agree to abide by all Toronto Public Library policies applicable to the Equipment loan. I understand that if I am signing this Equipment Loan Agreement for my child, I am responsible for ensuring that my child abides by all Toronto Public Library policies.

Please initial in the space provided after reading each point and then sign at the bottom.

NOTE: Borrowers under the age of 18, this Equipment Loan Agreement must be signed by a parent/legal guardian.

BORROWING AND USE

KM I understand that the Equipment is not to be removed from the Library or, where specified by staff, to be used within specific stated locations within the Library branch.

KM I understand that the Equipment is available for checkout for a maximum loan period of TWO hours per day, which may be renewed if there is no one waiting for the Equipment. Staff can request a laptop be returned at any time.

KM I understand that all Equipment must be returned to the service desk where it was borrowed.

SECURITY

KM I understand that I am completely responsible for the safety and use of the equipment while it is loaned to me. I am responsible for any damage or loss to the Equipment that results from accident, theft, misuse or neglect. I will not leave the Equipment unattended and I will use the Equipment in a responsible manner.

KM I will ensure that the Equipment is not tampered with in any way (hardware or software). I am responsible for ensuring that any work I wish to preserve will be saved onto my own external memory source. I will not load any personal software on to the Equipment (where applicable). I understand that no user files will be retained on the Equipment (where applicable).

FINES AND FEES

KM I agree to return the Equipment in the same condition as it was borrowed, and to reimburse the Library for any and all costs associated with damage to the Equipment. I agree to pay any replacement costs should the Equipment be lost or stolen. I have reviewed and understand the replacement costs outlined in Schedule "A" to this Equipment Loan Agreement.

By signing this Equipment Loan Agreement, I acknowledge that I am legally bound to adhere to all parts of it.

Refusal to follow these terms of use will result in laptop lending privileges being revoked.

 Date: 08/23/24 Branch: _____

 I, Ryan McLean, (please print) understand that by borrowing, or allowing my child to borrow equipment from the Toronto Public Library (the "Equipment"), I am responsible for the Equipment and all its components. I agree to abide by all Toronto Public Library policies applicable to the Equipment loan. I understand that if I am signing this Equipment Loan Agreement for my child, I am responsible for ensuring that my child abides by all Toronto Public Library policies.

Please initial in the space provided after reading each point and then sign at the bottom.

NOTE: Borrowers under the age of 18, this Equipment Loan Agreement must be signed by a parent/legal guardian.

BORROWING AND USE

 I, R.M. understand that the Equipment is not to be removed from the Library or, where specified by staff, to be used within specific stated locations within the Library branch.

 I understand that the Equipment is available for checkout for a maximum loan period of TWO hours per day, which may be renewed if there is no one waiting for the Equipment. Staff can request a laptop be returned at any time.

 I, R.M. understand that all Equipment must be returned to the service desk where it is borrowed.

SAFETY

 I, R.M. understand that I am completely responsible for the safety and care of the equipment when it is loaned to me. I am responsible for any damage or loss to the Equipment that results from accidents, theft, misuse or neglect. I will not leave the Equipment unattended and I will use the Equipment in a responsible manner.

 I, R.M. will ensure that the Equipment is not tampered with in any way (hardware or software). I am responsible for ensuring that any work I wish to perform will be saved onto my own external memory device. I will not load any personal software on to the Equipment (where applicable). I understand that no user files will be retained on the Equipment (where applicable).

RETURN AND FEE

 I, R.M. agree to return the Equipment in the same condition as it was borrowed, and to reimburse the Library for any and all costs associated with damage to the Equipment. I agree to pay any replacement costs should the Equipment be lost or stolen. I have reviewed and understand the replacement costs outlined in Schedule "A" to this Equipment Loan Agreement.

By signing this Equipment Loan Agreement, I acknowledge that I am legally bound to adhere to all parts of it.

Refusal to follow these terms of use will result in laptop lending privileges being revoked.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a potential threat to national security is to determine whether the information is classified. If the information is classified, the next step is to determine whether the information is a threat to national security. If the information is a threat to national security, the next step is to determine whether the information is a threat to the national security of the United States. If the information is a threat to the national security of the United States, the next step is to determine whether the information is a threat to the national security of the United States.

During the past few years, the Department has been working to improve the quality of its research and to make it more relevant to the needs of the community. This has been done through a number of initiatives, including the establishment of the Center for Community-Based Research and the creation of the Office of Research and Evaluation. These efforts have resulted in a number of new research projects and the development of new research methods. The Department is committed to continuing these efforts and to making further improvements to its research program.

1. Identify the problem. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the symptoms and the context in which they are occurring.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem. This involves gathering information about the situation and determining what needs to be done. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to develop a plan. This involves setting goals and determining the steps that need to be taken to achieve those goals. Once a plan is developed, the next step is to implement it. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring progress. Finally, the last step is to evaluate the results. This involves assessing the effectiveness of the plan and making adjustments as needed.

1. The first step in the process of the investigation is the identification of the problem.

2. The second step is the collection of data. This is done by observing the problem and recording the results.

3. The third step is the analysis of the data. This is done by comparing the results with the expected results.

4. The fourth step is the conclusion. This is done by summarizing the results and making a final statement.

5. The fifth step is the evaluation. This is done by checking the results against the original problem.

6. The sixth step is the reporting. This is done by writing a report of the results.

7. The seventh step is the presentation. This is done by presenting the results to the audience.

8. The eighth step is the discussion. This is done by discussing the results and the implications.

9. The ninth step is the conclusion. This is done by summarizing the results and making a final statement.

Document List (This section must be completed)

It is assumed that the Claimant and the Insurance Company have exchanged key documents prior to the filing of an Application.

List the documents in the Insurance Company's possession to which you will refer in the dispute process. Identify the type of document (letter, medical report, tax return), the name of the writer or issuing institution and the date of the document.

All correspondence on file.

→ WHICH FILE? WHICH INSURANCE? FIRST

List documents not currently in the Insurance Company's possession, which you intend to get from other sources (such as employers, doctors, Revenue Canada) for use in the dispute process. You should also include any documents requested from the Claimant (such as financial or employment records) which have not yet been provided. Wherever possible, identify the type of document (letter, medical report, tax return), the name of the writer or issuing institution and the date of the document.

Dear Mr. Karat: thank you again for the Response by SNIC with you as the signatory for SNIC. I confirm that the metadata in the letter references a "Bowne: CA" and that I presume is below at Appendix (a typesetting system). I note that "Bowne" is associated with TD in other public documents. I do not intend any allegation in this regard but merely a factual reference.

As noted, I have taken the position for some time now that this Purported SNIC Response, while solely executed, filed and served (as noted by the sole email herein) by you, is a nullity. I am kindly confirming the same hereunder by way of this thread.

Dear LAT Registrar: to kindly advise you, I continued the service and filing of the Jurisdictional Motion with an expedited ruling sought and have served the Respondent (and named individuals). Out of an abundance of caution in the event it was still being handled via email or there was any crossover (as the Tribunals portal is working efficiently and beautifully again), and served and filed this letter this morning. I will continue to use the online filing method unless such an issue ever arises again. Thank you kindly.

Dear LAT Registrar:

For ease of reference purposes (while the tech issue is being resolved), I attach copies of the e-receipts for the filed NOM and Affidavit 13 on Friday, February 23, 2024. In relation to the former, I served the SNIC, Mr. Karat and Mr. Nieuwland on February 19, 2024 and in relation to the latter, I served the aforementioned on February 21, 2024. I have certificates of service executed and ready to be filed but I will await the re-opening of the portal in that regard.

Dear LAT Registrar:

I write further to the above due to the tech glitch with the Tribunals Ontario portal as I have filed therein since December 24, 2023. While sometimes the Tribunals Ontario is undergoing some software updates or it cannot receive documents, this was normally on weekends or after hours. In any event, perhaps something for your IT team to take a look at it as I have had the file number copied and pasted, removed any potential cookies or pop up blocking issues so I will have to file in this manner for the being.

I am attaching a copy of the following:

Re #3: Respectful Request for an Expedited Ruling form a Vice Chair or adjudicator with LAT

Re #4: confirmation that I have served the Respondent (SNIC), Mr. Nieuwland and Mr. Karat with: (i) the entirety of the scans in the Hearing Record Index separated by tabs and consecutively numbers from page 1 to 481

Re #5: an issue with Tribunals Ontario portal that is not recognizing the AABS File Number 23-015662/AABS and the date of accident being August 31, 2022 – filing via email as opposed (e-file through the Tribunals Ontario portal).

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Part 1: Overview

1. I hope you are well and I write regarding the above. With specific reference to Re #5, I have never had that issue before so I am kindly following the instructions and filing in this manner. It appears to be a tech issue. While with other motions, I would have been content to wait, this is an urgent motion (jurisdictional in nature).

2. This letter herein was to be included each time under the heading in the dropdown menu in the “e-filing portal” under similar names:

- a. Jurisdictional Issue; and
- b. Expedited Ruling Request.

3. As such, I am unable to do so. I shall file with this method for the time being.

4. I will be comprehensive herein as I am set for more spinal injections and nerve ablations in the near future. Kindly excuse any errors due to my impairments (CAT Impairments) as this has been dictated.

5. I adopt the definitions from the filed materials herein (see: Hearing Record Index) and they have the same meaning herein as they do therein. The capitalized terms relate to those definitions and the definitions under the New LAT Rules. In no way I am attempting to castigate SNIC, Mr. Karat or Mr. Nieuwland. However, I am concerned that none of the above took any steps to seek permission to correct the issues regarding nullities therein. When referring any individual by last name definitions, I intend no disrespect.

6. As will be evidenced therein, I, as the Appellant (Applicant), and the Respondent (SNIC), including that of Mr. Karat and Mr. Nieuwland, have a jurisdictional issue that we have been unable to resolve between us and has necessitated the filing and serving of this Hearing Brief. I confirm that the HR Index (February 26, 2024), the Hearing Record Scans (completed as of February 26, 2024) and the Written Argument (executed and dated as of February 26, 2024) have all been served on SNIC, Mr. Karat and Mr. Nieuwland.

7. As noted in my served and filed Jurisdictional Motion herein, I provided prompt notice to the copied recipients of an issue with the Purported SNIC Response which was the failure to comply with the requirements under legislation and the current Required Response Form which was to list and attach documents to a Response by an Insurance Company under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act.

8. Neither the Respondent nor Mr. Karat responded to the same. I did ask Mr. Karat to provide me with a copy of his filed COS and he did so on February 14, 2024 albeit I missed the email at first instance and extended my apologies to him for that oversight.

9. As the Tribunal will have a copy of the Mr. Karat COS (defined herein as the “Purported Karat COS”), it will note that it was dated and executed by him on January 25, 2024. What I did not realize until further investigation, with much assistance from those assisting me at all stages, was that Mr. Karat input in his signature for outgoing emails “Representing the Security National Insurance Company” which is distinct (from level of fortuitousness in my sending emails to him) from his auto-replies which note a different corporation of “TDGI”. As a result of the same, the Tribunal will note that the style of cause involving the “Respondent” has a misnomer. I respectfully submit that this must be corrected as “TDGI” (and perhaps included as noting that may be the primary insurance corporation that Mr. Karat engages in providing his services to) as it is NOT the underwriter in the Insurance Policy and perhaps more importantly not named by either myself in the Appeal or the Purported SNIC Response. I am concerned that such a nullity issue with the Respondent’s name will cause issues with enforcement of any orders (either way) and it is only fair to all involved that it is corrected. I believe the reason that there has not been consent to this issue is the filing by Mr. Nieuwland, a member in good standing with the LSO and a barrister and solicitor, as there was yet another slip by him in incorrectly inputting the name of the insurance company that he is representing which is “TD General Insurance Company” which again was neither named by myself or Mr. Karat. As such, TDGI cannot be a Respondent. Should Mr. Nieuwland wish to add TDGI as a party, I will have to review such a motion in due course. However, I have not been served with any such motion as of this date.

10. I appreciate that LAT’s resources are finite and valuable, and it is why I attempted to resolve these issues by encouraging SNIC to bring a motion to seek permission to file a substantially compliant Response in the Required Response Form but it did not act on my encouragement. I obviously cannot compel SNIC, Mr. Karat or Mr. Nieuwland to do so.

11. While I was looking forward to resolving any and all issues with the Respondent in the most expeditious, cost-effective and just manner, we unfortunately have a situation where I do not have a representative for SNIC that is authorized to practice law or provide legal services on its behalf and Mr. Nieuwland is not a legal representative for SNIC.

Part 2: Further Analysis for this Jurisdictional Motion for an Expedited Ruling

12. It is unclear to me if this is a pattern from Mr. Karat and/or SNIC or whether this was an anomaly that it is idiosyncratic to myself and this SNIC Proceeding. At this stage, my sole focus remains on having SNIC comply with SABS and having this matter resolved in the most expeditious, cost-effective and just manner. However, I am deeply concerned that the failure of SNIC and Karat to correct the same will lead to only further delays.

13. As I continued to investigate the issues further after providing SNIC, Karat and Nieuwland with the Nullity Notice on February 6, 2024 and having made affidavit #8 on February 5, 2024, I realized that there were substantial distinctions between the Old LAT Rules and the New LAT Rules. I speculated that it may be an issue with Mr. Karat and SNIC not being aware of those differences between the Old LAT Rules and New LAT Rules. However, I had occasion to obtain guidance from a variety of legal professionals and accounting professionals (i.e. section 1(8)(1.) of the LSA for those CA's that have some overlap in their chartered accounting practices with the, prima facie, practise of law or provision of legal services). I further had the issue of what an "ADR Specialist" was and whether it was specifically regulated under another Act (Legislature) with respect to engaging in the representation of another person in a proceeding like LAT. I did not find any authorities that would substantiate the conduct that Mr. Karat engaged in.

14. Moreover, as affidavits continued to be made and served on the above at SNIC (Karat and Nieuwland), it was further brought to my attention that Mr. Karat had represented on his LinkedIn profile the "Organization" he was a member of was the LSUC from 2014 to present. I could not find any reference to the same and Mr. Karat has not provided me any evidence of the same.

15. As the case-law in all of the various areas of legislation, regulation et al (including the 2007 Access To Justice Act wherein paralegals became regulated under the LSUC (now the LSO)), it became clearer that Mr. Karat was unlicensed with the LSO which became very concerning from a variety of standpoints. Moreover, as each law society has different enabling legislation and "rules" or "by-laws", I note that the "By-Laws" under the LSA have a special recognition of legislative force unlike other jurisdictions. As such, the issue was further researched as to whether Mr. Karat could make use of those exemptions under the "By-Laws". Further review of authorities made it clear that Mr. Karat was unequivocally engaged in the provision of legal services AND the practise of law by reference to section 1(5) of the LSA. The question still remained whether he could make use of an exemption under the LSA and the By-Laws.

16. In reviewing section 1(8)(1.) and (2.) of the LSA, it became conspicuous that Mr. Karat could not make use of that exemption under section 1(8)(1.) of the LSA as he did not have an "occupation" that was specifically regulated under another Act regarding the "representation of a person in a proceeding" by the deeming provisions under section 1(7)(1.) or 1(7)(3.). Of course, there have been any examinations for discovery herein and it is unclear if that could have happen or an analogous procedure.

17. In reviewing section 1(7)(1.) against 1(8)(2.), there was a distinction with a difference therein in that "determinations of what documents to use, when to file or serve them, whom to file or serve them upon et al" was different than merely completing and revising the contents in a form for use by a corporation (SNIC). However, Mr. Karat went much further than section 1(7)(1.) in that he ostensibly selected the Response Form, completed the same, engaging in applying legal principles and legal judgment to the circumstances or objective of a person, and then certify the statements therein with his execution to his name all on behalf of another person (SNIC). As noted in my Appeal and the Purported SNIC Response, issues of CAT Impairment and the claim clearly involved distinct and discrete issues regarding the same, I came to learn that not even a licensed paralegal could engage in such provision of legal services (see: Dankha, HR Index, Tab 20 per Vice Chair Magee).

18. As such, common sense told me that it would be inconceivable that Mr. Karat could do more than a paralegal without being licensed but I investigated further while seeking the positions of SNIC, Karat and Nieuwland without any substantive responses.

19. Due to my issues, I am not moving at the speed and efficiency I once did so I had some professionals and my Spouse print and review the emails of Mr. Karat and it was unequivocal that even before his execution and filing of the Purported SNIC Response wherein Mr. Karat represented on January 23, 2024 to me via email, "Name is David Karat and I am the ADR assigned to handle this LAT Dispute" along with the "Representing the Security National Insurance Company"(see: HR Index, Tab 33, page 427). As such, I had annotated the same and had Affidavit #13 made on February 21, 2024 and served the same on SNIC, Karat and Nieuwland.

20. It was the distinction between his auto-replies and emails, wherein he exclusively represented Security National Insurance Company (which were all outgoing emails to me), that caught my attention. This is perhaps why the decision of Adjudicator Lake referenced TDGI as perhaps LAT was accustomed to dealing with Mr. Karat when he was acting for TDGI. I am speculating but it is the only reason I can conjure up considering that Adjudicator Lake's order was prior to the Purported SNIC Response. In any event, I had my Spouse, as she was the primary insured under the Insurance Policy, find previous "Motor Vehicle Liability Cards" (see: HR Index, Tab 33, page 424 to 426) wherein it appears that each year the name of the broker would switch from TD Insurance Direct Agency Inc. to Meloche Monnex Financial Services Inc. I note that some decisions referenced "Meloche Monnex" and others referenced "Security National Insurance Company". To confirm, at all times in my affidavit material I had referenced "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company)" as the enveloped were with "TD Insurance" but a website URL of www.melochemonnex.com appeared under the name of Security National Insurance Company. Again, I am not looking to be overly technical but I have not received any communications from "TDGI" but appreciate that this is typographical error that can be corrected for the benefit of the Appellant and Respondent.

21. From an optical standpoint and context, I note that the Motor Vehicle Liability Cards are applicable within Canada and the United States of America. For further context and parenthetically, I provided the example again to SNIC that its position of an "appropriate Ontario health practitioner" being the only individual capable of completing and executing the OCF-19 being a misstatement of law considering that if an insured person were injured in Hawaii and CAT Impaired, I doubted that it would have to airlifted back to Ontario to have the OCF-19 completed.

22. With the benefit of a measured approach and sober second thoughts at each stage, I now consider the Purported SNIC Response to contain some rather audacious positions (albeit the exercise of legal principles and legal judgment by one Mr. Karat) considering what I now know. Moreover, I now find it extremely troubling that Mr. Karat engaged in any form of provision of legal services when CAT Impairment was clearly at issue since March 2023 and more forcefully since September 2023.

23. The Tribunal will note that Mr. Nieuwland's DOR was not served upon me until January 30, 2024 (see: Written Argument, page 4, paragraph 2; HR Index, Tab 37, page 465).

24. As I am seeking relief to not only strike the Purported SNIC Response, the Purported Karat COS and the Nieuwland DOR Non-Respondent, I will note that a decision was brought to my attention in Mosa (per Vice Chair Maedel) (see: HR Index, Tab 34) albeit under the Old LAT Rules which had Old LAT Rule 6.7 which has since been abolished. As the Tribunal will note, Vice Chair Maedel found that the usage by a sophisticated insurance company of an "ADR Representative" could cause breaches of procedural fairness within the Proceeding. I provided a copy of Mosa to the Respondent, Nieuwland and Karat, and included it in my revised HR Index. Moreover, it further appeared to me, as it is a very serious allegation, that Mr. Karat had breached section 26.1 of the LSA which can come with fines and convictions along with the payment of compensation and restitution to those that have suffered loss. At this stage, it is approaching a month of review (of lost time and losses) for issues that have sidetracked this LAT Proceeding. While Vice Chair Maedel found in Mosa found, prior to the New LAT Rules, that ADR representatives regularly appear without counsel at case conferences pursuant to then Rule 14 of the Tribunal Rules, therein lies a problem here in that Mr. Karat is not licensed and does not have an exemption and such time would be not only wasteful but a breach of the LSA and By-Laws to have any settlement discussions when Mr. Karat is not authorized to engage in any provision of legal services or practice of law involving CAT Impairment issues. Of course, the Response is a responsive pleading (see: Hodge per Adjudicator Lake when she was an adjudicator with a different tribunal) and it required Mr. Karat to engage in the provision of legal services and practice of law. I do note for the Tribunal's benefit the language therein that Ms. Morrow was assigned to the file where other "adjusters" were involved in previous activities (like Ms. Persuad and Ms. Nurse herein).

25. Whether there has been trickery (see: Cock v. Labour Relations Board) or intentional breaches of legislation or LAT Rules will be up to SNIC, Karat and Nieuwland to provide responsive sworn evidence in this regard. However, I note that if Mr. Karat was assigned this file, which was not customary for him per compared to his customary signature block with his auto-replies, then it means that he could never make use of By-Law #4, section 30 exemption (i.e. providing legal services without a P1 license – in-house legal services provider exemption). Again, I am not intending to castigate Mr. Karat as he has been pleasant and professional but the issue is a jurisdictional one and whether his conduct was permissible under legislation or prohibited by legislation. If it was prohibited, then neither the Tribunal nor the Respondent can seek an order to waive or vary the same.

26. I say that the Purported SNIC Response fails under section 84 of the Legislation Act and section 28 of the SPPA as the Respondent failed to list and attach any documents like I did in my Appeal which was an arduous and painstaking process along with service of the same with countless COS to the Tribunal. However, that is what was required and I could not simply ignore that requirement.

27. As Vice Chair Magee found in Dankha that the Tribunal cannot condone breaches of the LSA and its by-laws, the paralegal therein was and remains a licensed paralegal where he was working at the offices of Centennial Law Group. However, in this matter herein, Mr. Karat and Mr. Nieuwland are not only in different offices but in different cities and Mr. Nieuwland is in "private practice".

28. With the passage of time and the variety of failures by the Respondent to comply with SABS, and the admissions by SNIC in the Purported SNIC Response as it is bound by Mr. Karat's actions by "his assignment" but his actions are unauthorized in the sense of not complying with the LSA. It is not to say that Mr. Karat is not experienced or competent per se but he was, at the very least, unauthorized in his conduct as a matter of the LSA and its By-Laws.

29. One of the many reasons, after careful consideration that I have sought orders of striking the Purportedly Filed Documents along with orders that the conduct of the Respondent, Karat and Nieuwland were abuses of process along with an order that the Respondent is denied an ability to refile (while it will still be required to bring a motion to seek permission and depending on that delay, I will respond accordingly (if applicable)) are the decisions of:

- a. Okafor (see: HR Index Tab 17);
- b. Orne (see: HR Index, Tab 19);
- c. Dankha (see: HR Index, Tab 20);
- d. CUPE (see: HR Index, Tab 21);

- e. Mansuri (see: HR Index, Tab 23; impermissible marketing; see: LinkedIn profile of Mr. Karat with the representation in writing that he belongs to the Organization of the LSUC for the last ten years);
- f. Behn (see: HR Index, Tab 25; wherein a striking of a statement of defence (albeit in a court proceeding in BC) was ordered and upheld on appeal because of the abusive nature of challenging matters that were valid at first instance with no reasonable defence which assists in shorten the proceeding so any decision makers can focus on the real issues);
- g. Hunt (see: HR Index, Tab 29);
- h. TD General Insurance Company vs. Bennet (see: HR Index, Tab 32);
- i. Mosa (see: supra); and
- j. Cock v. Labour Relations Board (see: HR Index Tab 36).

30. When reviewing all of the jurisprudence relating to abuses of process, it was clear that Mr. Karat did not have any exemptions under the By-Laws but if one were to review his LinkedIn, including the Tribunal, it may have believed he belonged to the Organization of the LSUC (now the LSO). Moreover, cases like Orne, have found that compliance with Tribunal orders and rules are an obligation and not discretionary.

31. In the case of Bennett, the principle of law emerged that remaining silent or failing to notify constituted a willful misrepresentation in LAT proceedings. As such, whether SNIC authorized or assigned Karat the duties to engage in intentionally breaching the LSA et al or Mr. Karat did so on his own, it is the delay from the time of January 25, 2024 to February 26, 2024 that is so concerning without any notification to the Tribunal.

32. Moreover, without castigating Mr. Nieuwland, there has been consistent insistence that I copy Ms. Moraes on emails when I learned that Ms. Moraes is not and was not his legal assistant despite his representation to me that she is and was. I can find no record or evidence of the same. The Tribunal will recall that Ms. Moraes asked the Tribunal to adjourn the “case conference” scheduled for May 2, 2024 after an agreement on the same.

33. I am not intending to castigate Mr. Karat as he has been pleasant and professional but the issue is a jurisdictional one which required action from SNIC, Karat and Nieuwland with inactivity not being an option.

Volume 3: Conclusion

34. As such, I have the types of Impairments that require full and strict compliance with SABS and if anything the conduct of SNIC, Nieuwland and Karat have done the exact opposite. It is my respectful submission that there is nothing that can remedy the conduct of the aforementioned but to strike its Purported Filed Documents without leave to re-file now some more than a month past the deadline. While I will not speculate on whether the Respondent could be successful in such a motion if it brought it as it is not before the Tribunal, I would say that nonetheless I will still carry the burden on the CAT Impairment determination and if successful, all previous expenses that remain unpaid will be required to be paid along with any issues regarding the MIG. As such, the IRB motion is a simple calculation as the time periods are admitted. I can confirm the Tribunal that the amount of compound interest has been calculated and it is approximately $10,000 if at 3% when using the date of December 28, 2023 (from the first date of September 8, 2022). I am having the 1% SABS compound interest amount calculated as well.

35. As such, with the decision of Henderson on “adjusting expenses” with respect to amounts I have paid and incurred for the OCF-19 application being settled law, there is not much to determine in this matter but for those issues as the facts are not in dispute but the application of the law.

36. As noted, this letter will be included each time with each submission for the HR Record Scans for reference and it will be like my filing of Affidavits #1 to #4 with my Appeal, they will be filed on a piecemeal basis but they have already been served. Thank you.

RE: 23-015662/AABS - URGENT INQUIRY DIRECTED TO LAT AND/OR SNIC (KARAT), "TDIADR" (CONTROLLING INDIVIDUAL OF EMAIL) AND "TDGIC" (NIEUWLAND)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I write on an urgent basis. In reviewing my materials, with a focus on chronology, for the NOM #4 and NOM #6, it appears that "TDIADR" email was included in mid-January 2024 and prior to the filing of the Response by SNIC, signed by Mr. Karat on January 25, 2024.

I am not intending to fault any person or body here but clarity is required considering the current state of this LAT file 23-015662.

When reviewing the one email from "TDIADR" email to me, which is in my affirmed evidence, said "email account" asked me to not email my OCF expenses to it. With hindsight, I find this interesting considering it had the name of Security National Insurance Company in pre-printed form (as this was from a template form that Ms. Nurse of SNIC (Markham) provided me).

Therefore, my conclusion is that the TDIADR email (or via phone) must have misinformed the Tribunal that the "Respondent" was "TDGIC" when it was not named in my Appeal or the SNIC Response.

If any of the above have a copy of an email or notes to a phone conversation, would you kindly provide them by the end of the business day? Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I confirm that I did not receive a response regarding the above.

I write to confirm for the purposes of today, I will be raising the above emails and the below (which is attached) as these issues have just dawned on me and/or brought to my attention. I ask that SNIC (Karat) and Mr. Nieuwland provide copies of the "Spam Fax" that I have referenced in the below. Further, please provide me with the name of the individual who "manned" the TDIADR email and be ready to provide the same today along with any documents therein.

I again confirm that the insurer herein and my insurer (by virtue of the Insurance Act et al) is Security National Insurance Company. I do not consent to any chance of "insurer". I did not before and will not.

With great respect, I believe the below and previous proves intentional misconduct and misleading of the Tribunal. Before any steps are taken, I will require Mr. Karat or Mr. Nieuwland (or whomever sent that fax) to speak to that issue, provide a true copy of it, and provide a copy in the record of proceeding with the Tribunal.

Re #2: NOM #4: Joint Hearing Record separated by: (i) Index; (ii) Tabs (23); and (iii) consecutively numbered pages (724 paginated and 733 in total)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Volume #1: Important Issue that I will be raising today for purposes of NOM #4, NOM #6 and any potential case conference discussions

1. I write regarding the above.

2. As the Tribunal will be aware along with the recipients of this letter, I referenced in my affidavits (see: Affidavit #3 and #16), the “Spam Fax” or “Spam Faxes” in the Spring of 2023. I will have to check the exact dates but I am kindly providing notice that I will be raising these issues today. I will also ask that whomever has possession and control of the “Spam Fax” that I am referring herein to have a copy to be read into the record and to provide a copy to me and the Tribunal on a forthwith basis.

Volume #2: Spam Fax: no record of my TD Claim #3, send faxes to a different fax number in the OCF documents (provided by Ms. Nurse) and an address unknown to me (defined herein as the “Spam Fax”)

3. In reference to the “Spam Fax” (subject to checking my paper and electronic records), there was a fax referenced, when I did not receive faxes from Ms. Nurse (at the time) representing that SNIC did not have any record of my TD Claim #3 and to send any further communications to an unknown fax number to me or an address unknown to me.

4. While I had to block the fax number in question as I was concerned for data breach and security purposes, it has now dawned on me that this was on or around the time that the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer, by his public profiles, was “switching” from his status as a “lawyer” with “TD Insurance” (while being located at SNIC Markham”) to “Consequence Management”.

5. Moreover, it came at around the time that I was sending of faxes for payment of outstanding IRB, OCF-6 expenses et al. It was also around that time Ms. Nurse sent her dated letter of April 20, 2023 (see: Affidavit #3, Exhibit “A”, page 555 to 557) wherein I take issue with the purported signature of “As Per A. Nurse” with the unknown initials of “Ki W”.

6. I also note that April 6, 2023 was the last time that SNIC paid any benefits or expenses (section 25) to my Beneficiary Bank Account.

7. I further note that it was in late January or early February 2023 that I made my first PIPEDA request.

8. When the “Spam Fax” was received, I promptly notified SNIC Markham of those issues with emails to Ms. Nurse which are in the record of proceeding herein (see: Affidavit #3).

9. I continued to fax to SNIC Markham and those faxes were received. As noted, I did not hear from Ms. Nurse for some time and some of the records in unnumbered and unindexed form remain unknown to me involving “adjusters” unknown to me. It is clear that after that time, that there was a change in fax numbers and office addresses to SNIC Burlington (TD Insurance Meloche Monnex).

Important Fact

10. As I was unaware of the 905 Fax Number until I returned from Europe after my succession of MRI’s, assessments and examinations, I continued to fax SNIC Markham. When I returned SNIC (referencing Ms. Persaud) confirmed receipt of the faxes that I sent while in Europe as I updated her regarding the same including invoices for MRI’s, and my CAT Impairment issues.

11. Therefore, whatever the “Spam Fax” was or sent by whomever, it was very concerning to me at the time. It is even more concerning now as I believe (subject to checking and I trust that such a fax will be known to the above recipients for SNIC and TDGIC) that this was an “attempt” to have me consent to the switching of “insurance companies” from “SNIC” to “TDGIC”.

12. The record is unequivocally clear that after that time I continued to communicate via fax to SNIC Markham and then attempted to fax to SNIC Burlington (905 Fax Number) but the latter was often blocked or could not receive faxes.

13. I will call on any representative that is present today for SNIC and/or TDGIC (the “Non-SABS Insurance Company”) to speak to the issue and provide documentation in that regard.
14. If I am not mistaken, the address that said Spam Fax, without any named individual or contact information therein from a fax number not in my “contacts list” was the same or similar address to that of TDGIC (North York) in this SNIC Proceeding.
15. I recall vaguely (with having to check my notes in hard copy form) that there was a reference to a “North York” address and I was beyond puzzled as I knew that Markham was not in “North York”.
16. Of course, no matter the above, SNIC is the only insurer in the Insurance Policy, referenced in any documents with TD Claim #3, and that filed the Response herein.

Volume #3: Conclusion

17. In conclusion, it now appears that the representations by Mr. Nieuwland in his “Motion Submissions” to NOM #6 (see: Hearing Brief, Tab 37, page 450) were false on other levels. I specifically reference paragraph 7 of those Motion Submissions where Mr. Nieuwland represented [emphasis is mine], “All other parties [sic] cited by the Applicant including Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos....have never been involved in the handling of this matter.”
18. Mr. Nieuwland distinguishes between “this matter” and “LAT Application” by his paragraph 5 therein wherein he represented to the Tribunal, “Mr. Karat is the ADR officer [sic] appointed [sic] by the TDGIC [sic] to handle the LAT application”.
19. If there were no concerns regarding the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer “handling this matter” from the DOL to Spring 2023, then why did I receive a “Spam Fax” that attempt to have me switch “insurer” which I never consented to? Further, why did SNIC change addresses from SNIC Markham to SNIC Burlington after I alerted SNIC Markham to the “Spam Fax”? I believe those questions now answer themselves.
20. As noted, none of the Impugned Individuals (Mr. Nieuwland refers to them as “parties” [sic]) have provided any evidence.
21. What is now so compelling is the conduct herein in that Mr. Karat confirmed by representation to me on January 23, 2024 that he was assigned to handle this LAT dispute and referenced in his email signature block (representing the Security National Insurance Company). However, Mr. Nieuwland then filed a DOR on behalf of “TDGIC” and refused my overtures regarding filing a DOR for SNIC.
22. The only logical conclusion is that Mr. Nieuwland was unequivocally aware of these conflict of interest issues (as was SNIC since the DOL and into the Spring of 2023), and his submissions now to the Tribunal are unequivocally false. Subject to the time, I would have had this in an affidavit, under oath, but for the time being, I directly provide notice to the above.
23. As it relates to NOM #4 (IRB Quantum Motion), this is deeply concerning as “SNIC” may no longer have my Beneficiary Bank Account information and/or I am not in their “system”.
24. As it relates to NOM #6, this is further grounds for why all of those individuals must be forthwith disqualified.
25. I will also send this as an email and attach copies of my email that I sent the other day to LAT and some of the above regarding whom could have informed the Tribunal that “TDGIC” was the “respondent” [sic].
26. Thank you kindly.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I hope all are well. While I cannot speak (as I will respect the confidential nature of certain processes) to the particulars of our nearly two hours on the phone today, and preliminary motions upon preliminary motions to be heard in advance of certain hearings or hearing proper, I can confirm that I still require any emails or notes to calls that somehow inserted "TD General Insurance Company" into this SNIC Proceeding.

I can also confirm that in light of the way my Appeal was framed per se that I was incorrect in including estimates for certain ongoing expenses by way of projections so a second appeal is the proper route to file and that will of course be against Security National Insurance Company. Like this SNIC Proceeding, only SNIC will be authorized to respond. I will serve the current 'adjuster' or as they call themselves 'advisor' in Ms. Bev Michie.

In the spirit of brevity, there has been some confusion about the status of my disabilities in April 2023 and the OCF-18 from my former physiotherapist. In the spirit of disclosure and to ensure that I am not simply asking for certain documents wherein I should have been included or copied (I will have that rule or procedure read again as it is unclear when LAT is required to be copied on correspondence – if not all), I enclose a copy of that OCF-18 which has been filed tonight along with a copy of the denial letter (an OCF-18 as well with the purported signature by "As Per A. Nurse"). As you will see therein, there are some glaring discrepancies between the OCF-18 (which references MRI's and severity of injuries all outside of the MIG which SNIC confirmed receiving) of my former PT (Dhaliwal) and Ms. Nurse therein – even the documents themselves per se. In any event, you will see my signature therein along with Mr. Dhaliwal's and Ms. Nurse failed to sign the OCF-18 within ten business days of receipt.

If either TDIADR or LAT can provide me with the requested documents by no later than three p.m., I would be most grateful.

I presume we are looking at a few emails in the month of January 2024 – likely mid-January.

Thank you.

Dear LAT:

I am directing this to LAT as the "email account" of "TDIADR" is non-responsive herein.

Would you kindly provide me with a copy of the documents and information requested as it relates to who provided the Tribunal the information representing "TD General Insurance Company"? I presume that we are looking at the time frame of January 12 to 14, 2024 but it [LAT] will know better than I.

As neither I nor Mr. Karat referenced "TD General Insurance Company" in the Appeal or Response, then it had to be the email of TDIADR or a representative on behalf of that "email account".

Thank you.

I write to confirm for the purposes of today, I will be raising the above emails and the below (which is attached) as these issues have just dawned on me and/or brought to my attention. I ask that SNIC (Karat) and Mr. Nieuwland provide copies of the "Spam Fax" that I have referenced in the below. Further, please provide me with the name of the individual who "manned" the TDIADR email and be ready to provide the same today along with any documents therein.

I again confirm that the insurer herein and my insurer (by virtue of the Insurance Act et al) is Security National Insurance Company. I do not consent to any chance of "insurer". I did not before and will not.

With great respect, I believe the below and previous proves intentional misconduct and misleading of the Tribunal. Before any steps are taken, I will require Mr. Karat or Mr. Nieuwland (or whomever sent that fax) to speak to that issue, provide a true copy of it, and provide a copy in the record of proceeding with the Tribunal.

Re #2: NOM #4: Joint Hearing Record separated by: (i) Index; (ii) Tabs (23); and (iii) consecutively numbered pages (724 paginated and 733 in total)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Volume #1: Important Issue that I will be raising today for purposes of NOM #4, NOM #6 and any potential case conference discussions

1. I write regarding the above.

2. As the Tribunal will be aware along with the recipients of this letter, I referenced in my affidavits (see: Affidavit #3 and #16), the “Spam Fax” or “Spam Faxes” in the Spring of 2023. I will have to check the exact dates but I am kindly providing notice that I will be raising these issues today. I will also ask that whomever has possession and control of the “Spam Fax” that I am referring herein to have a copy to be read into the record and to provide a copy to me and the Tribunal on a forthwith basis.

Volume #2: Spam Fax: no record of my TD Claim #3, send faxes to a different fax number in the OCF documents (provided by Ms. Nurse) and an address unknown to me (defined herein as the “Spam Fax”)

3. In reference to the “Spam Fax” (subject to checking my paper and electronic records), there was a fax referenced, when I did not receive faxes from Ms. Nurse (at the time) representing that SNIC did not have any record of my TD Claim #3 and to send any further communications to an unknown fax number to me or an address unknown to me.

4. While I had to block the fax number in question as I was concerned for data breach and security purposes, it has now dawned on me that this was on or around the time that the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer, by his public profiles, was “switching” from his status as a “lawyer” with “TD Insurance” (while being located at SNIC Markham”) to “Consequence Management”.

5. Moreover, it came at around the time that I was sending of faxes for payment of outstanding IRB, OCF-6 expenses et al. It was also around that time Ms. Nurse sent her dated letter of April 20, 2023 (see: Affidavit #3, Exhibit “A”, page 555 to 557) wherein I take issue with the purported signature of “As Per A. Nurse” with the unknown initials of “Ki W”.

6. I also note that April 6, 2023 was the last time that SNIC paid any benefits or expenses (section 25) to my Beneficiary Bank Account.

7. I further note that it was in late January or early February 2023 that I made my first PIPEDA request.

8. When the “Spam Fax” was received, I promptly notified SNIC Markham of those issues with emails to Ms. Nurse which are in the record of proceeding herein (see: Affidavit #3).

9. I continued to fax to SNIC Markham and those faxes were received. As noted, I did not hear from Ms. Nurse for some time and some of the records in unnumbered and unindexed form remain unknown to me involving “adjusters” unknown to me. It is clear that after that time, that there was a change in fax numbers and office addresses to SNIC Burlington (TD Insurance Meloche Monnex).

Important Fact

10. As I was unaware of the 905 Fax Number until I returned from Europe after my succession of MRI’s, assessments and examinations, I continued to fax SNIC Markham. When I returned SNIC (referencing Ms. Persaud) confirmed receipt of the faxes that I sent while in Europe as I updated her regarding the same including invoices for MRI’s, and my CAT Impairment issues.

11. Therefore, whatever the “Spam Fax” was or sent by whomever, it was not concerning to me at the time. It is even more concerning now as I believe (subject to checking and I trust that such a fax will be known to the above recipients for SNIC and TDGIC) that this was an “attempt” to have me consent to the switching of “insurance companies” from “SNIC” to “TDGIC”.

12. The record is unequivocally clear that after that time I continued to communicate via fax to SNIC Markham and then attempted to fax to SNIC Burlington (905 Fax Number) but the latter was often blocked or could not receive faxes.

13. I will call on any representative that is present today for SNIC and/or TDGIC (the “Non-SABS Insurance Company”) to speak to the issue and provide documentation in that regard.

14. If I am not mistaken, the address that said Spam Fax, without any named individual or contact information therein from a fax number not in my “contacts list” was the same or similar address to that of TDGIC (North York) in this SNIC Proceeding.

15. I recall vaguely (with having to check my notes in hard copy form) that there was a reference to a “North York” address and I was beyond puzzled as I knew that Markham was not in “North York”.

16. Of course, no matter the above, SNIC is the only insurer in the Insurance Policy, referenced in any documents with TD Claim #3, and that filed the Response herein.

Volume #3: Conclusion

17. In conclusion, it now appears that the representations by Mr. Nieuwland in his “Motion Submissions” to NOM #6 (see: Hearing Brief, Tab 37, page 450) were false on other levels. I specifically reference paragraph 7 of those Motion Submissions where Mr. Nieuwland represented [emphasis is mine], “All other parties [sic] cited by the Applicant including Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos...have never been involved in the handling of this matter.”

18. Mr. Nieuwland distinguishes between “this matter” and “LAT Application” by his paragraph 5 therein wherein he represented to the Tribunal, “Mr. Karat is the ADR officer [sic] appointed [sic] by the TDGIC [sic] to handle the LAT application”.

19. If there were no concerns regarding the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer “handling this matter” from the DOL to Spring 2023, then why did I receive a “Spam Fax” that attempt to have me switch “insurer” which I never consented to? Further, why did SNIC change addresses from SNIC Markham to SNIC Burlington after I alerted SNIC Markham to the “Spam Fax”? I believe those questions now answer themselves.

20. As noted, none of the Impugned Individuals (Mr. Nieuwland refers to them as “parties” [sic]) have provided any evidence.

21. What is now so compelling is the conduct herein in that Mr. Karat confirmed by representation to me on January 23, 2024 that he was assigned to handle this LAT dispute and referenced in his email signature block (representing the Security National Insurance Company). However, Mr. Nieuwland then filed a DOR on behalf of “TDGIC” and refused my overtures regarding filing a DOR for SNIC.

22. The only logical conclusion is that Mr. Nieuwland was unequivocally aware of these conflict of interest issues (as was SNIC since the DOL and into the Spring of 2023), and his submissions now to the Tribunal are unequivocally false. Subject to the time, I would have had this in an affidavit, under oath, but for the time being, I directly provide notice to the above.

23. As it relates to NOM #4 (IRB Quantum Motion), this is deeply concerning as “SNIC” may no longer have my Beneficiary Bank Account information and/or I am not in their “system”.

24. As it relates to NOM #6, this is further grounds for why all of those individuals must be forthwith disqualified.

25. I will also send this as an email and attach copies of my email that I sent the other day to LAT and some of the above regarding whom could have informed the Tribunal that “TDGIC” was the “respondent” [sic].

26. Thank you kindly.

RE: 23-015662/AABS - URGENT INQUIRY DIRECTED TO LAT AND/OR SNIC (KARAT), "TDIADR" (CONTROLLING INDIVIDUAL OF EMAIL) AND "TDGIC" (NIEUWLAND)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I write on an urgent basis. In reviewing my materials, with a focus on chronology, for the NOM #4 and NOM #6, it appears that "TDIADR" email was included in mid-January 2024 and prior to the filing of the Response by SNIC, signed by Mr. Karat on January 25, 2024.

I am not intending to fault any person or body here but clarity is required considering the current state of this LAT file 23-015662.

When reviewing the one email from "TDIADR" email to me, which is in my affirmed evidence, said "email account" asked me to not email my OCF expenses to it. With hindsight, I find this interesting considering it had the name of Security National Insurance Company in pre-printed form (as this was from a template form that Ms. Nurse of SNIC (Markham) provided me).

Therefore, my conclusion is that the TDIADR email (or via phone) must have misinformed the Tribunal that the "Respondent" was "TDGIC" when it was not named in my Appeal or the SNIC Response.

If any of the above have a copy of an email or notes to a phone conversation, would you kindly provide them by the end of the business day? Thank you.

Warm regards,

Dear Mr. Karat, thank you for your email and response. However, your representation (and perhaps from not knowing personally) this is not correct as per the email that I received from "TDIADR" in mid January 2024. As such, my request remains as to how "TD General Insurance Company" was included as the sole respondent herein when it was never referenced by me or you for that matter (see: Purported SNIC Response). I further note that all of the documents in my Appeal not only explicitly but, by way of attached documents that were listed, by reference, included the name of Security National Insurance Company.

By your confirmation (albeit incorrect) that TDIADR email account is only for outgoing mail, I confirm that you were not the sender to me of the email that I received in mid January 2024. I had already affirmed the same that you were not the sender but this confirms it.

(Dear LAT, do you have any emails outgoing from TDIADR that you can provide to me? Further, were there any communications from LAT to any persons that somehow misinformed the Tribunal as to the name of the "SABS Insurer" which remains Security National Insurance Company? If so, would you kindly provide the same to me at your earliest opportunity.)

Yours truly,

Re: Follow up regarding my request for the specific information from April 30, 2024

Dear LAT:

I am directing this to LAT as the "email account" of "TDIADR" is non-responsive herein.

Would you kindly provide me with a copy of the documents and information requested as it relates to who provided the Tribunal the information representing "TD General Insurance Company"? I presume that we are looking at the time frame of January 12 to 14, 2024 but it [LAT] will know better than I.

As neither I nor Mr. Karat referenced "TD General Insurance Company" in the Appeal or Response, then it had to be the email of TDIADR or a representative on behalf of that "email account".

Thank you.

TO: LAT

AND TO: TDIADR@TDINSURANCE.COM

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I hope all are well. While I cannot speak (as I will respect the confidential nature of certain processes) to the particulars of our nearly two hours on the phone today, and preliminary motions upon preliminary motions to be heard in advance of certain hearings or hearing proper, I can confirm that I still require any emails or notes to calls that somehow inserted "TD General Insurance Company" into this SNIC Proceeding.

I can also confirm that in light of the way my Appeal was framed per se that I was incorrect in including estimates for certain ongoing expenses by way of projections so a second appeal is the proper route to file and that will of course be against Security National Insurance Company. Like this SNIC Proceeding, only SNIC will be authorized to respond. I will serve the current 'adjuster' or as they call themselves 'advisor' in Ms. Bev Michie.

In the spirit of brevity, there has been some confusion about the status of my disabilities in April 2023 and the OCF-18 from my former physiotherapist. In the spirit of disclosure and to ensure that I am not simply asking for certain documents wherein I should have been included or copied (I will have that rule or procedure read again as it is unclear when LAT is required to be copied on correspondence – if not all), I enclose a copy of that OCF-18 which has been filed tonight along with a copy of the denial letter (an OCF-18 as well with the purported signature by "As Per A. Nurse"). As you will see therein, there are some glaring discrepancies between the OCF-18 (which references MRI's and severity of injuries all outside of the MIG which SNIC confirmed receiving) of my former PT (Dhaliwal) and Ms. Nurse therein – even the documents themselves per se. In any event, you will see my signature therein along with Mr. Dhaliwal's and Ms. Nurse failed to sign the OCF-18 within ten business days of receipt.

If either TDIADR or LAT can provide me with the requested documents by no later than three p.m., I would be most grateful.

I presume we are looking at a few emails in the month of January 2024 – likely mid-January.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

I ask that SNIC (Karat) and Mr. Nieuwland provide copies of the "Spam Fax" that I have referenced in the below. Further, please provide me with the name of the individual who "manned" the TDIADR email and be ready to provide the same today along with any documents therein.

I again confirm that the insurer herein and my insurer (by virtue of the Insurance Act et al) is Security National Insurance Company. I do not consent to any chance of "insurer". I did not before and will not.

With great respect, I believe the below and previous proves intentional misconduct and misleading of the Tribunal. Before any steps are taken, I will require Mr. Karat or Mr. Nieuwland (or whomever sent that fax) to speak to that issue, provide a true copy of it, and provide a copy in the record of proceeding with the Tribunal.

Re #2: NOM #4: Joint Hearing Record Separated by: (i) Index; (ii) Tabs (23); and (iii) consecutively numbered pages (724 paginated and 733 in total)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Volume #1: Important Issue that I will be raising today for purposes of NOM #4, NOM #6 and any potential case conference discussions

1. I write regarding the above.

2. As the Tribunal will be aware along with the recipients of this letter, I referenced in my affidavits (see: Affidavit #3 and #16), the “Spam Fax” or “Spam Faxes” in the Spring of 2023. I will have to check the exact dates but I am kindly providing notice that I will be raising these issues today. I will also ask that whomever has possession and control of the “Spam Fax” that I am referring herein to have a copy to be read into the record and to provide a copy to me and the Tribunal on a forthwith basis.

Volume #2: Spam Fax: no record of my TD Claim #3, send faxes to a different fax number in the OCF documents (provided by Ms. Nurse) and an address unknown to me (defined herein as the “Spam Fax”)

3. In reference to the “Spam Fax” (subject to checking my paper and electronic records), there was a fax referenced, when I did not receive faxes from Ms. Nurse (at the time) representing that SNIC did not have any record of my TD Claim #3 and to send any further communications to an unknown fax number to me or an address unknown to me.

4. While I had to block the fax number in question as I was concerned for data breach and security purposes, it has now dawned on me that this was on or around the time that the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer, by his public profiles, was “switching” from his status as a “lawyer” with “TD Insurance” (while being located at SNIC Markham”) to “Consequence Management”.

5. Moreover, it came at around the time that I was sending of faxes for payment of outstanding IRB, OCF-6 expenses et al. It was also around that time Ms. Nurse sent her dated letter of April 20, 2023 (see: Affidavit #3, Exhibit “A”, page 555 to 557) wherein I take issue with the purported signature of “As Per A. Nurse” with the unknown initials of “Ki W”.

6. I also note that April 6, 2023 was the last time that SNIC paid any benefits or expenses (section 25) to my Beneficiary Bank Account.

7. I further note that it was in late January or early February 2023 that I made my first PIPEDA request.

8. When the “Spam Fax” was received, I promptly notified SNIC Markham of those issues with emails to Ms. Nurse which are in the record of proceeding herein (see: Affidavit #3).

9. I continued to fax to SNIC Markham and those faxes were received. As noted, I did not hear from Ms. Nurse for some time and some of the records in unnumbered and unindexed form remain unknown to me involving “adjusters” unknown to me. It is clear that after that time, that there was a change in fax numbers and office addresses to SNIC Burlington (TD Insurance Meloche Monnex).

Important Fact

10. As I was unaware of the 905 Fax Number until I returned from Europe after my succession of MRI’s, assessments and examinations, I continued to fax SNIC Markham. When I returned SNIC (referencing Ms. Persaud) confirmed receipt of the faxes that I sent while in Europe as I updated her regarding the same including invoices for MRI’s, and my CAT Impairment issues.

11. Therefore, whatever the “Spam Fax” was or sent by whomever, it was very concerning to me at the time. It is even more concerning now as I believe (subject to checking and I trust that such a fax will be known to the above recipients for SNIC and TDGIC) that this was an “attempt” to have me consent to the switching of “insurance companies” from “SNIC” to “TDGIC”.

12. The record is unequivocally clear that after that time I could not communicate via fax to SNIC Markham and then attempted to fax to SNIC Burlington (905 Fax Number) but the latter was often blocked or could not receive faxes.

13. I will call on any representative that is present today for SNIC and/or TDGIC (the "Non-SABS Insurance Company") to speak to the issue and provide documentation in that regard.

14. If I am not mistaken, the address that said Spam Fax, without any named individual or contact information therein from a fax number not in my "contacts list" was the same or similar address to that of TDGIC (North York) in this SNIC Proceeding.

15. I recall vaguely (with having to check my notes in hard copy form) that there was a reference to a "North York" address and I was beyond puzzled as I knew that Markham was not in "North York".

16. Of course, no matter the above, SNIC is the only insurer in the Insurance Policy, referenced in any documents with TD Claim #3, and that filed the Response herein.

Volume #3: Conclusion

17. In conclusion, it now appears that the representations by Mr. Nieuwland in his "Motion Submissions" to NOM #6 (see: Hearing Brief, Tab 37, page 450) were false on other levels. I specifically reference paragraph 7 of those Motion Submissions where Mr. Nieuwland represented [emphasis is mine], "All other parties [sic] cited by the Applicant including Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos...have never been involved in the handling of this matter."

18. Mr. Nieuwland distinguishes between "this matter" and "LAT Application" by his paragraph 5 therein wherein he represented to the Tribunal, "Mr. Karat is the ADR officer [sic] appointed [sic] by the TDGIC [sic] to handle the LAT application".

19. If there were no concerns regarding the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer "handling this matter" from the DOL to Spring 2023, then why did I receive a "Spam Fax" that attempt to have me switch "insurer" which I never consented to? Further, why did SNIC change addresses from SNIC Markham to SNIC Burlington after I alerted SNIC Markham to the "Spam Fax"? I believe those questions now answer themselves.

20. As noted, none of the Impugned Individuals (Mr. Nieuwland refers to them as "parties" [sic]) have provided any evidence.

21. What is now so compelling is the conduct herein in that Mr. Karat confirmed by representation to me on January 23, 2024 that he was assigned to handle this LAT dispute and referenced in his email signature block (representing the Security National Insurance Company). However, Mr. Nieuwland then filed a DOR on behalf of "TDGIC" and refused my overtures regarding filing a DOR for SNIC.

22. The only logical conclusion is that Mr. Nieuwland was unequivocally aware of these conflict of interest issues (as was SNIC since the DOL and into the Spring of 2023), and his submissions now to the Tribunal are unequivocally false. Subject to the time, I would have had this in an affidavit, under oath, but for the time being, I directly provide notice to the above.

23. As it relates to NOM #4 (IRB Quantum Motion), this is deeply concerning as "SNIC" may no longer have my Beneficiary Bank Account information and/or I am not in their "system".

24. As it relates to NOM #6, this is further grounds for why all of those individuals must be forthwith disqualified.

25. I will also send this as an email and attach copies of my email that I sent the other day to LAT and some of the above regarding whom could have informed the Tribunal that "TDGIC" was the "respondent" [sic].

26. Thank you kindly.

RE: 23-015662/AABS - URGENT INQUIRY DIRECTED TO LAT AND/OR SNIC (KARAT), "TDIADR" (CONTROLLING INDIVIDUAL OF EMAIL) AND "TDGIC" (NIEUWLAND)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I write on an urgent basis. In reviewing my materials, with a focus on chronology, for the NOM #4 and NOM #6, it appears that "TDIADR" email was included in mid-January 2024 and prior to the filing of the Response by SNIC, signed by Mr. Karat on January 25, 2024.

I am not intending to fault any person or body here but clarity is required considering the current state of this LAT file 23-015662.

When reviewing the one email from "TDIADR" email to me, which is in my affirmed evidence, said "email account" asked me to not email my OCF expenses to it. With hindsight, I find this interesting considering it had the name of Security National Insurance Company in pre-printed form (as this was from a template form that Ms. Nurse of SNIC (Markham) provided me).

Therefore, my conclusion is that the TDIADR email (or via phone) must have misinformed the Tribunal that the "Respondent" was "TDGIC" when it was not named in my Appeal or the SNIC Response.

If any of the above have a copy of an email or notes to a phone conversation, would you kindly provide them by the end of the business day? Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I hope all are well. While I cannot speak (as I will respect the confidential nature of certain processes) to the particulars of our nearly two hours on the phone today, and preliminary motions upon prelin hearings or hearing proper, I can confirm that I still require any emails or notes to calls that somehow inserted "TD General Insurance Company" into this SNIC Proceeding.

I can also confirm that in light of the way my Appeal was framed per se that I was incorrect in including estimates for certain ongoing expenses by way of projections so a second appeal is the proper Security National Insurance Company. Like this SNIC Proceeding, only SNIC will be authorized to respond. I will serve the current 'adjuster' or as they call themselves 'advisor' in Ms. Bev Michie.

In the spirit of brevity, there has been some confusion about the status of my disabilities in April 2023 and the OCF-18 from my former physiotherapist. In the spirit of disclosure and to ensure that wherein I should have been included or copied (I will have that rule or procedure read again as it is unclear when LAT is required to be copied on correspondence – if not all), I enclose a copy of that O copy of the denial letter (an OCF-18 as well with the purported signature by "As Per A. Nurse"). As you will see therein, there are some glaring discrepancies between the OCF-18 (which references MIG which SNIC confirmed receiving) of my former PT (Dhaliwal) and Ms. Nurse therein – even the documents themselves per se. In any event, you will see my signature therein along with Mr. Dha within ten business days of receipt.

If either TDIADR or LAT can provide me with the requested documents by no later than three p.m., I would be most grateful.

I presume we are looking at a few emails in the month of January 2024 – likely mid-January.

Thank you.

4. While I had to block the fax number in question as I was concerned for data breach and security purposes, it has now dawned on me that this was on or around the time that t public profiles, was "switching" from his status as a "lawyer" with "TD Insurance" (while being located at SNIC Markham") to "Consequence Management".

5. Moreover, it came at around the time that I was sending of faxes for payment of outstanding IRB, OCF-6 expenses et al. It was also around that time Ms. Nurse sent her Exhibit "A", page 555 to 557) wherein I take issue with the purported signature of "As Per A. Nurse" with the unknown initials of "Ki W".

6. I also note that April 6, 2023 was the last time that SNIC paid any benefits or expenses (section 25) to my Beneficiary Bank Account.

7. I further note that it was in late January or early February 2023 that I made my first PIPEDA request.

8. When the "Spam Fax" was received, I promptly notified SNIC Markham of those issues with emails to Ms. Nurse which are in the record of proceeding herein (see: Affidavi

9. I continued to fax to SNIC Markham and those faxes were received. As noted, I did not hear from Ms. Nurse for some time and some of the records in unnumbered and u "adjusters" unknown to me. It is clear that after that time, that there was a change in fax numbers and office addresses to SNIC Burlington (TD Insurance Meloche Monnex).

Important Fact

10. As I was unaware of the 905 Fax Number until I returned to Canada after my succession of MRI's, assessments and examinations, I continued to fax SNIC Markham. V confirmed receipt of the faxes that I sent while in Europe as I updated her regarding the same including invoices for MRI's, and my CAT Impairment issues.

11. Therefore, whatever the "Spam Fax" was or sent by whomever, it was very concerning to me at the time. It is even more concerning now as I believe (subject to checking above recipients for SNIC and TDGIC) that this was an "attempt" to have me consent to the switching of "insurance companies" from "SNIC" to "TDGIC".

12. The record is unequivocally clear that after that time I continued to communicate via fax to SNIC Markham and then attempted to fax to SNIC Burlington (905 Fax Number) to receive faxes.

13. I will call on any representative that is present today for SNIC and/or TDGIC (the "Non-SABS Insurance Company") to speak to the issue and provide documentation in that

14. If I am not mistaken, the address that said Spam Fax, without any named individual or contact information therein from a fax number not in my "contacts list" was the same as the address in New York (in this SNIC Proceeding).

15. I recall vaguely (with having to check my notes in hard copy form) that there was a reference to a "North York" address and I was beyond puzzled as I knew that Markham was in Ontario.

16. Of course, no matter the above, SNIC is the only insurer in the Insurance Policy, referenced in any documents with TD Claim #3, and that filed the Response herein.

Volume #3: Conclusion

17. In conclusion, it now appears that the representations by Mr. Nieuwland in his "Motion Submissions" to NOM #6 (see: Hearing Brief, Tab 37, page 450) were false on other than those Motion Submissions where Mr. Nieuwland represented [emphasis is mine], "All other parties [sic] cited by the Applicant including Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos....have never been

18. Mr. Nieuwland distinguishes between "this matter" and "LAT Application" by his paragraph 5 therein wherein he represented to the Tribunal, "Mr. Karat is the ADR officer to handle the LAT application".

19. If there were no concerns regarding the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer "handling this matter" from the DOL to Spring 2023, then why did I receive a "Spam Fax" that I never consented to? Further, why did SNIC change addresses from SNIC Markham to SNIC Burlington after I alerted SNIC Markham to the "Spam Fax"? I believe those questions now are

20. As noted, none of the Impugned Individuals (Mr. Nieuwland refers to them as "parties" [sic]) have provided any evidence.

21. What is now so compelling is the conduct herein in that Mr. Karat confirmed by representation to me on January 23, 2024 that he was assigned to handle this LAT dispute (representing the Security National Insurance Company). However, Mr. Nieuwland then filed a DOR on behalf of "TDGIC" and refused my overtures regarding filing a DOR for SNIC.

22. The only logical conclusion is that Mr. Nieuwland was unequivocally aware of these conflict of interest issues (as was SNIC since the DOL and into the Spring of 2023) and was unequivocally false. Subject to the time, I would have had this in an affidavit, under oath, but for the time being, I directly provide notice to the above.

23. As it relates to NOM #4 (IRB Quantum Motion), this is deeply concerning as "SNIC" may no longer have my Beneficiary Bank Account information and/or I am not in their

24. As it relates to NOM #6, this is further grounds for why all of those individuals must be forthwith disqualified.

25. I will also send this as an email and attach copies of my email that I sent the other day to LAT and some of the above regarding whom could have informed the Tribunal that

RE: 23-015662/AABS - URGENT INQUIRY DIRECTED TO LAT AND/OR SNIC (KARAT), "TDIADR" (CONTROLLING INDIVIDUAL OF EMAIL) AND "TDGIC" (NIEUWLAND)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I write on an urgent basis. In reviewing my materials, with a focus on chronology, for the NOM #4 and NOM #6, it appears that "TDIADR" email was included in mid-January 2024 and prior to Mr. Karat on January 25, 2024.

I am not intending to fault any person or body here but clarity is required considering the current state of this LAT file 23-015662.

When reviewing the one email from "TDIADR" email to me, which is in my affirmed evidence, said "email account" asked me to not email my OCF expenses to it. With hindsight, I find Security National Insurance Company in pre-printed form (as this was from a template form that Ms. Nurse of SNIC (Markham) provided me).

Therefore, my conclusion is that the TDIADR email (or via phone) must have misinformed the Tribunal that the "Respondent" was "TDGIC" when it was not named in my Appeal or the SNIC

If any of the above have a copy of an email or notes to a phone conversation, would you kindly provide them by the end of the business day? Thank you.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

1. I write regarding the above and generally. I hope you are all well.
2. I have learned, as of yesterday's date, that the Ontario insurance license numbers of some insurance companies are, in fact, listed on the FSRA website if they list by the FSRA (formerly the FCSO). Unlike other provinces where they list the insurance company numbers in said province, Ontario does not appear to list them under enforcement action.
3. To further distinguish between Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") and TD General Insurance Company ("TDGIC"), I note that SNIC's Ontario insurance license number is 353. I will define SNIC as "SNIC 397" (or "SNIC #397") and TDGIC as "TDGIC 353" ("TDGIC #353") to underscore distinct insurance companies.
4. I have listed the recent enforcement actions against SNIC 397 and TDGIC 353.
5. In light of the recent discovery, I also apologize to the Tribunal for mistakenly referring to the distinct numbers of SNIC and TDGIC by listed insurance companies which were publicly available. While they were distinct in any event and underscored their distinction, I will only refer to SNIC #397 and TDGIC #353 by said definitions.
6. While Mr. Nieuwland has attempted to persuade me and the Tribunal that SNIC #397 and TDGIC #353 are "one and the same", the FSRA's public enforcement actions demonstrate otherwise.
7. This is conclusive and unassailable evidence that the only SABS insurer herein is that of SNIC #397. In that vein, would LAT kindly provide me with any documents or insight into why TDGIC #353 was named herein when it is an entirely distinct insurance company in Ontario with an entirely distinct insurance number along with recent decisions in Ontario in the automobile insurance sphere. Contrary to Mr. Karat's position that the "TDIADR email account" does not send outgoing mail, this note that the "TDIADR email account" was included by LAT at some time in mid January 2024 and I did not previously have that email and it is tied to "TDGIC". documents (even if they have to be recorded or summarized), I would be most grateful.
8. Thank you.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I hope all are well. While I cannot speak (as I will respect the confidential nature of certain processes) to the particulars of our nearly two hours on the phone today, and preliminary motions upon pre hearings or hearing proper, I can confirm that I still require any emails or notes to calls that somehow inserted "TD General Insurance Company" into this SNIC Proceeding.

I can also confirm that in light of the way my Appeal was framed per se that I was incorrect in including estimates for certain ongoing expenses by way of projections so a second appeal is the pre Security National Insurance Company. Like this SNIC Proceeding, only SNIC will be authorized to respond. I will serve the current 'adjuster' or as they call themselves 'advisor' in Ms. Bev Michie.

In the spirit of brevity, there has been some confusion about the status of my disabilities in April 2023 and the OCF-18 from my former physiotherapist. In the spirit of disclosure and to ensure I wherein I should have been included or copied (I will have that rule or procedure read again as it is unclear when LAT is required to be copied on correspondence – if not all), I enclose a copy of that copy of the denial letter (an OCF-18 as well with the purported signature by "As Per A. Nurse"). As you will see therein, there are some glaring discrepancies between the OCF-18 (which reference MIG which SNIC confirmed receiving) of my former PT (Dhaliwal) and Ms. Nurse therein – even the documents themselves per se. In any event, you will see my signature therein along with Mr. D within ten business days of receipt.

If either TDIADR or LAT can provide me with the requested documents by no later than three p.m., I would be most grateful.

I presume we are looking at a few emails in the month of January 2024 – likely mid-January.

Thank you.

I write to confirm for the purposes of today, I will be raising the above emails and the below (which is attached) as these issues have just dawned on me and/or brought to my attention. I ask that of the "Spam Fax" that I have referenced in the below. Further, please provide me with the name of the individual who "manned" the TDIADR email and be ready to provide the same today alor

I again confirm that the insurer herein and my insurer (by virtue of the Insurance Act et al) is Security National Insurance Company. I do not consent to any chance of "insurer". I did not before

With great respect, I believe the below and previous proves intentional misconduct and misleading of the Tribunal. Before any steps are taken, I will require Mr. Karat or Mr. Nieuwland (or who a true copy of it, and provide a copy in the record of proceeding with the Tribunal.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Volume #1: Important Issue that I will be raising today for purposes of NOM #4, NOM #6 and any conference discussions

1. I write regarding the above.

2. As the Tribunal will be aware along with the recipients of this letter, I referenced in my affidavits (see: Affidavit #3 and #16), the "Spam Fax" or "Spam Faxes" in the 5 but I am kindly providing notice that I will be raising these issues today. I will also ask that whomever has possession and control of the "Spam Fax" that I am referring herein to have copy to me and the Tribunal on a forthwith basis.

Volume #2: Spam Fax: no record of my TD Claim #3, send faxes to a different fax number in the OCF documents (provided by Ms. Nurse) and an address unknown to me (defined herein as th

3. In reference to the "Spam Fax" (subject to checking my paper and electronic records), there was a fax referenced, when I did not receive faxes from Ms. Nurse (at the tin of my TD Claim #3 and to send any further communications to an unknown fax number to me or an address unknown to me.

4. While I had to block the fax number in question as I was concerned for data breach and security purposes, it has now dawned on me that this was on or around the time the public profiles, was "switching" from his status as a "lawyer" with "TD Insurance" (while being located at SNIC Markham) to "Consequence Management".

5. Moreover, it came at around the time that I was sending of faxes for payment of outstanding IRB, OCF-6 expenses et al. It was also around that time Ms. Nurse sent h Exhibit "A", page 555 to 557) wherein I take issue with the purported signature of "As Per A. Nurse" with the unknown initials of "Ki W".

6. I also note that April 6, 2023 was the last time that SNIC paid any benefits or expenses (section 25) to my Beneficiary Bank Account.

7. I further note that it was in late January or early February 2023 that I made my first PIPEDA request.

8. When the "Spam Fax" was received, I promptly notified SNIC Markham of those issues with emails to Ms. Nurse which are in the record of proceeding herein (see: Affid

9. I continued to fax to SNIC Markham and those faxes were received. As noted, I did not hear from Ms. Nurse for some time and some of the records in unnumbered and "adjusters" unknown to me. It is clear that after that time, that there was a change in fax numbers and office addresses to SNIC Burlington (TD Insurance Meloche Monnex).

11/19/21

10. As I was unaware of the 905 Fax Number until I returned to the office after my succession of MRI's, assessments and examinations, I continued to fax SNIC Markham confirmed receipt of the faxes that I sent while in Europe as I updated him regarding the same including invoices for MRI's, and my CAT Impairment issues.
11. Therefore, whatever the "Spam Fax" was or sent by whomever, it was very concerning to me at the time. It is even more concerning now as I believe (subject to check above recipients for SNIC and TDGIC) that this was an "attempt" to have me consent to the switching of "insurance companies" from "SNIC" to "TDGIC".
12. The record is unequivocally clear that after that time I continued to communicate via fax to SNIC Markham and then attempted to fax to SNIC Burlington (905 Fax Number) to receive faxes.
13. I will call on any representative that is present today for SNIC and/or TDGIC (the "Non-SABS Insurance Company") to speak to the issue and provide documentation in the record.
14. If I am not mistaken, the address that said Spam Fax, without any named individual or contact information therein from a fax number not in my "contacts list" was the York) in this SNIC Proceeding.
15. I recall vaguely (with having to check my notes in hard copy form) that there was a reference to a "North York" address and I was beyond puzzled as I knew that Markham was in Ontario.
16. Of course, no matter the above, SNIC is the only insurer in the Insurance Policy, referenced in any documents with TD Claim #3, and that filed the Response herein.

Volume #3: Conclusion

17. In conclusion, it now appears that the representations by Mr. Nieuwland in his "Motion Submissions" to NOM #6 (see: Hearing Brief, Tab 37, page 450) were false on the face of those Motion Submissions where Mr. Nieuwland represented [emphasis is mine], "All other parties [sic] cited by the Applicant including Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos....have never been heard of by the Tribunal."
18. Mr. Nieuwland distinguishes between "this matter" and "LAT Application" by his paragraph 5 therein wherein he represented to the Tribunal, "Mr. Karat is the ADR assigned to handle the LAT application".
19. If there were no concerns regarding the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer "handling this matter" from the DOL to Spring 2023, then why did I receive a "Spam Fax" that I never consented to? Further, why did SNIC change addresses from SNIC Markham to SNIC Burlington after I alerted SNIC Markham to the "Spam Fax"? I believe those questions now go to the heart of the matter.
20. As noted, none of the Impugned Individuals (Mr. Nieuwland refers to them as "parties" [sic]) have provided any evidence.
21. What is now so compelling is the conduct herein in that Mr. Karat confirmed by representation to me on January 23, 2024 that he was assigned to handle this LAT dispute (representing the Security National Insurance Company). However, Mr. Nieuwland then filed a DOR on behalf of "TDGIC" and refused my overtures regarding filing a DOR for SNIC.
22. The only logical conclusion is that Mr. Nieuwland was unequivocally aware of these conflict of interest issues (as was SNIC since the DOL and into the Spring of 2023) and yet he continued to represent to the Tribunal that he was not. This is unequivocally false. Subject to the time, I would have had this in an affidavit, under oath, but for the time being, I directly provide notice to the above.
23. As it relates to NOM #4 (IRB Quantum Motion), this is deeply concerning as "SNIC" may no longer have my Beneficiary Bank Account information and/or I am not in the record.
24. As it relates to NOM #6, this is further grounds for why all of those individuals must be forthwith disqualified.
25. I will also send this as an email and attach copies of my email that I sent the other day to LAT and some of the above regarding whom could have informed the Tribunal that I was not in the record.
26. Thank you kindly.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I write on an urgent basis. In reviewing my materials, with a focus on chronology, for the NOM #4 and NOM #6, it appears that "TDIADR" email was included in mid-January 2024 and priced by Mr. Karat on January 25, 2024.

I am not intending to fault any person or body here but clarity is required considering the current state of this LAT file 23-015662.

When reviewing the one email from "TDIADR" email to me, which is in my affirmed evidence, said "email account" asked me to not email my OCF expenses to it. With hindsight, I find the Security National Insurance Company in pre-printed form (as this was from a template form that Ms. Nurse of SNIC (Markham) provided me).

Therefore, my conclusion is that the TDIADR email (or via phone) must have misinformed the Tribunal that the "Respondent" was "TDGIC" when it was not named in my Appeal or the SNI.

If any of the above have a copy of an email or notes to a phone conversation, would you kindly provide them by the end of the business day? Thank you.

Good Morning Mr. McLean,

Pursuant to the LAT Order completed by Vice-Chair Morissette I have attached all OCF forms received by Security National Insurance Company to this email.

I can confirm that a copy of the Explanation of Benefits for the partially approved OCF-18 was included in both file copies that were produced on February 6, 2024, and March 19, 2024, but out of an abundance of caution I have also included said letter to this email.

This email will provide proof and satisfy the LAT Order completed by Vice-Chair Morissette.

Dear Mr. Karat, thank you for the email and documents. I will have to review the order in detail and compare it to the documents provided. I do confirm in the interim that these documents could not have been first received by SNIC where the fax number is 416.774.3120 but I appreciate that SNIC sought to change the same to the 905 Fax Number in Spring/Summer 2023.

Is SNIC still standing behind its payment of $2850 as there is no evidence on my side of receipt of the same or on my behalf?

Thank you.

Dear SNIC:

I again confirm that the documents you have purported to provide are not on behalf of SNIC as per the purported style of cause in the title of the email. I have provided ample time for you to rectify the same but you have failed to do so.

The original time of the email was on December 4, 2024, and I promptly put you on notice of the same but you have failed to respond.

As such, I will now bring a motion and seek costs for SNIC to comply with its obligations.

I confirm by the signature block of the email of one Mr. Karat that he is authorized to act on behalf of all of the insurance companies below but he chose to send an email on behalf of a style of cause unknown to this proceeding since the orders and decisions of Adjudicator Morissette as she then was involving my NOM #8. SNIC did not seek reconsideration of the same. SNIC did not bring a statutory appeal or a judicial review within the permitted times.

As such, SNIC is not in compliance with the order involving NOM #16.

I will rely on this correspondence to obtain an adjournment but also seek an order compelling SNIC to comply with its duties in relation to an order of this Tribunal.

I have absolutely no idea what case Mr. Karat is referring to:

MCLEAN, KEVIN v. TDGI- 333359512

What is "TDGI"? Is that TD General Insurance Company? What is 333359512?

Unfortunately, SNIC remains in breach and in quasi-contempt with Vice Chair Morissette Order and have frustrated and abused the process of this Tribunal. SNIC remains entirely delinquent with its obligations pursuant to an order of the Tribunal.

My NOM #20 will follow and it will be listed as a ground in the adjournment request. In any event, once SNIC complies with the order of VC Morissette, we can address the same under that thread. It would be improper to do so any further hereunder.

For purposes of the Tribunal being aware of the same, I have copied the LAT Registrar to the same inclusive of case manager Ms. Lee.

Thank you.

Courts of Justice Act

STATUTORY DECLARATION

ONTARIO SUPERIOR COURT OF JUSTICE (DIVISIONAL COURT)

BETWEEN:

KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN

APPLICANT

- AND -

TD HOME AND AUTO INSURANCE COMPANY, SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY, TD GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

RESPONDENTS

DECLARATION OF MR. KEVIN A. MCLEAN

I, Kevin Alexander McLean, Disabled (B.A., J.D., CIM) of Toronto, Ontario, DECLARE THAT:

1. I am the Applicant in the within Judicial Review Procedure Act Proceeding (hereinafter referred to as the “JRPA Proceeding”), and as such, I am intimately familiar with the factual matrix and procedural history pertinent to the matters herein declared. I declare to the veracity of the ensuing factual averments, predicated upon my direct knowledge and, in my view, profound conviction, save and except where explicitly stated to be founded upon information and belief, in which instances the provenance and source of such belief is and shall be meticulously delineated.
2. I repeat and rely upon the previous definitions utilized in the filed documents in this JRPA Proceeding.

3. I refer to myself in the third person by various titles or capacities (i.e. “Applicant”, “Moving Party”, “Requestor”, “Complainant” et al) at various points herein for ease of reference and by way of frame of reference.
4. In light of the further facts arising or discovered and the further fraud, as alleged, arising or discovered since October 10, 2025, I have included, in my view, a comprehensive urgent statutory declaration to underscore the same.
5. I seek to rely on the Inherent Jurisdiction of the Divisional Court (where applicable) and I continue to exercise as much diligence as I am able to, to discover any new (unknown and undisclosed) facts and/or fraud that have, in my view and belief, tainted the JRPA Proceeding. I wished to provide at least ten days to the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies so that they could provide a definitive response to my query on October 26, 2025. To date, I have not receive any written or oral response from the Respondent Insurance Companies and/or the LAT with respect to my request on October 26, 2025.
6. I put each and every Respondent to strict proof of their previous assertions and compliance with their obligations.
7. I respectfully challenge each and every impugned person to face and contradict my evidence and facts.
8. I provide this statutory declaration in support of my to be served, filed and delivered NOM #3 in such fashion as I note the standard of proving, inter alia, “fraud” pursuant to, inter alia, subrule 59.06(2)(a) is one where circumstantial or inferential evidence is permitted.
9. I did not know whether the Respondent Insurance Companies or LAT at a time after purported service or service of their NOA’s and still do not know for certain. However, my belief, due to the non-responses of the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies is that they did not file and did not deliver (i.e. file with proof of service) their NOA’s.
10. I challenge them to provide unequivocal and unmanipulated documentary proof to the contrary.

PREFACE #1: SUMMARY OF DECLARATION

11. This declaration extensive facts, beliefs, cited with source of beliefs, evidence of unequivocal theft by the Respondent Insurance Companies prior to the commencement of the JRPA Proceeding and during the JRPA Proceeding, beliefs involving procedural irregularities, unequivocal evidence of fraud using the Applicant's name, failures to "deliver" Notices of Appearances by the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies, and inferential and circumstantial evidence of fraud. This declaration supports a motion (NOM #3) seeking urgent judicial relief and challenges the integrity of the underlying proceedings. The primary facts and beliefs, with cited sources, are:

PROCEDURAL INTEGRITY AND NON-COMPLIANCE

12. I now assert as a result of, inter alia, the non-response to my email of October 26, 2025, to the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies as follows:

- i. The LAT failed to serve and file, with proof of service, its NOA of November 27, 2024;
- ii. The Respondent Insurance Companies served their Notice of Appearance but failed to properly file and deliver Notices of Appearance (NOAs);
- b. While relying on the adverse inference doctrine, I now contend that their participation on any level was void ab initio, and that all steps, purported documents and orders arising from the same are void ab initio.
- c. To further particularize, I sent a formal demand to the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies, with the AGO, AGC and Divisional Court copied to the same for proof of filing on October 26, 2025, but received no response, invoking various legal bases including but not limited to the doctrine of adverse inference to suggest intentional concealment of procedural default.
- d. I now contend, with the benefit of the same, precluded case management assignment under Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, as no "First Defence" was filed.
- e. While the LAT failed to file the record of proceeding, which the LAT admitted in December and January 2025, it was only through extensive investigation efforts that it became potentially evidence that the LAT failed to file, with proof of service, of its NOA. While the same became applicable to the Respondent Insurance Companies, they served their Notices of Appearances after the LAT had made, as alleged, a void ab initio and unauthorized request for case conference prior to the Respondent Insurance Companies serving their NOA's.

ALLEGATIONS OF FRAUD, FORGERY, AND IDENTITY THEFT

- f. The declaration details multiple instances of alleged fraud and forgery involving the manipulation of documents and unauthorized use of Mr. McLean's identity. Exhibit B reveals that on September 19, 2024, Mr. McLean exposed Mr. Papadimitropoulos as a forger of a signature on an OCF-18 form. Further, a fraudulent equipment loan agreement was made in Mr. McLean's name without consent, and identity theft was perpetrated through unauthorized use of his library card and personal identification to borrow materials and sign up for museum reservations. These acts allegedly continued through late 2024 and into 2025, involving complex schemes to harass and obstruct Mr. McLean's legal efforts, including unauthorized borrowing of 24 items from the Toronto Public Library (TPL) and the issuance of a false library card.

LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR FRAUD ALLEGATIONS

- g. I outline the legal burden under Rule 59.06(2)(a) to prove material fraud, due diligence, and unknown facts at the time. He references various Criminal Code sections applicable to theft (Section 322), identity theft (Section 402.2), identity fraud/personation (Section 403), and general fraud (Section 380), detailing the actus reus and mens rea for each offense;

JUDICIAL AND INSTITUTIONAL MISCONDUCT

- h. The declaration raises serious concerns about judicial impartiality and conflict of interest, particularly regarding Madam Justice Shore. Mr. McLean alleges that she had undisclosed prior judicial involvement related to him, including presiding over an ex parte in camera hearing and issuing an arrest warrant. He suggests malice and bad faith by her and links her former law firm, Epstein Cole LLP, and its client Mr. Papadimitropoulos to the fraudulent conduct. The document also discusses the involvement of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), and Tribunals Ontario, highlighting failures in records production, unauthorized destruction or non-disclosure of court records, and conflicting communications regarding the existence of arrest warrants and indictments;

RETALIATORY CONDUCT AND OBSTRUCTION

- i. I chronicle a pattern of immediate retaliatory misconduct following his legal filings. After filing Affidavit #37 detailing forgery allegations in September 2024, he was unlawfully locked out of his premises. Following his HRT0 application against the Toronto Police Service (TPS) on October 24, 2024, his property was stolen by a Respondent Insurance Companies' representative. Subsequent filings, including a Notice of Constitutional Question (NOCQ) on November 7, 2024, were met with further impersonation and fraudulent activity. These acts, he contends, demonstrate a coordinated campaign of harassment, obstruction of justice, and institutional complicity by the LAT, Respondent Insurance Companies, TPS, and associated entities;

ISSUES WITH CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS AND RECORDKEEPING

- j. The declaration highlights significant procedural irregularities in the criminal proceedings related to myself, including the absence of filed indictments, arrest warrants, and proper judicial orders. It discusses the improper or non-existent transfer of criminal files between courts, unauthorized administrative actions, and failure to maintain or disclose essential records under the Archives and Recordkeeping Act. Mr. McLean argues that these failures undermine the jurisdiction of the courts involved, violate his constitutional rights to a fair trial and timely proceedings, and constitute abuse of process warranting judicial intervention, including potential stays of proceedings;

REQUESTS FOR TRANSPARENCY AND ACCESS TO RECORDS

- k. Mr. McLean describes multiple access to information requests under PIPEDA, FIPPA, and the Tribunals Adjudicative Records Act (TARA) directed at Tribunals Ontario, LAT, the Ministry of the Solicitor General, and Archives of Ontario. He reports delays, denials, and non-compliance, which he alleges contribute to obstruction of justice and impede the preparation of his JRPA record. The declaration emphasizes the need for full disclosure of records to uphold procedural fairness and the open court principle;

CONCLUSION AND RELIEF SOUGHT

- l. The evidence I have submitted demonstrates, in my view, systemic fraud, procedural nullities, judicial bias, and institutional obstruction that have tainted the JRPA proceeding; and

- m. I seek urgent and extraordinary relief for what I verily believe was and is unprecedented misconduct by the cast of characters on behalf of Respondents and some not agents or employees of Respondents, including striking the documents of non-appearing parties, compelling production of all judicial records, and exercising the Divisional Court's inherent jurisdiction to preserve the integrity of the process. The declaration is made under oath and in accordance with the Evidence Act (Ontario) and the Electronic Commerce Act (Ontario), and may be appended to an affidavit along with the October 13, 2024 declaration.

PREFACE #2: INTERIM AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

13. This instant inter alia necessitates the immediate recovery and restitution of personal chattels unlawfully appropriated by Mr. Karat, an operative associated with the Respondent Insurance Corporations. The foundational premise for this solicitation of relief is the doctrine of interim and exigent remedial measures. The evidentiary substantiation adduced by the Applicant, it is submitted, attains a prima facie level of sufficiency requisite for the grant of such prerogative.
14. Pursuant to the principles of natural justice and the imperative of procedural fairness, substantive service of the materials herein will be effectuated upon all non-party individuals whose conduct or proprietary interests are implicated by the adduced evidence, including, but not limited to, Mr. Karat, Mr. Papadimitropoulos (hereinafter designated as the “Epstein Cole Client”), Ms. Julia Dunk, and Mrs. Dorothy During-Gibbs. This procedure is mandatory to afford said individuals the locus standi to address the allegations and evidence presented within this proceeding.
15. The non-denial of the Respondent entities' dereliction in filing the mandatory Notices of Appearance (NOA) merits careful judicial consideration, particularly when assessed against the statutory framework provided by the Courts of Justice Act (CJA).
16. Section 137 (1) of the Courts of Justice Act establishes an entitlement for any person, contingent upon payment of the prescribed emolument, to inspect any document consigned to the court record in a civil cause, unless statutorily proscribed or otherwise constrained by a judicial fiat. Notwithstanding the Applicant's repeated requisitions directed to the Divisional Court concerning the provision of filed documentation—a request predicated upon the Applicant's erroneous initial presumption that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Corporations had duly submitted their NOAs—the Divisional Court abstained from furnishing any responsive materials, an omission that occurred even in light of the apparent absence of the fundamental procedural prerequisite of the NOAs.

17. The solicitation for extraordinary injunctive and mandatory relief is predicated upon the extant provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure concerning judicial mandates for preservation and restraint.
18. Rule 40.01 stipulates the procedural mechanism by which an interlocutory injunction or mandatory order, pursuant to Sections 101 or 102 of the Courts of Justice Act, may be sought. Crucially, in compliance with Rule 40.03, the Applicant hereby furnishes a solemn undertaking to indemnify the responding party for any compensable losses or deleterious effects demonstrably proximately caused by the operation of the order, should it be subsequently adjudged that the grant of said prerogative was unwarranted.
19. Recourse is further had to Rule 45.01 (1), which empowers the Court to issue an interim order for the custody or preservation of any res (property) that constitutes the subject-matter of the proceeding or is instrumental to a material issue in litis.
20. The corpus of assets, identified as the TDI Karat Theft inventory, constitutes res litigiosa (the matter in dispute), given its inextricable nexus to the Judicial Review Application (JRPA), the statutory compulsion for the production of the Record of Proceeding during the stipulated ROP Temporal Period, the Notice of Constitutional Question (NOCQ), and the allegations of fraudulent malfeasance. The fundamental principle of Nemo auditur propriam turpitudinem allegans dictates that no litigant may derive succour from their own egregious impropriety or the deployment of false representations to secure an unwarranted advantage.
21. The judicial prerogative to grant the sought-after relief is firmly anchored in established jurisprudence and the inherent authority of the superior court to safeguard the probity of its own adjudicative mechanisms. This inherent jurisdiction extends to thwarting any potential frustration of the civil process through the suppression of material evidence, as authoritatively delineated in Ontario Realty Corp. v. P. Gabriele & Sons Ltd., at paragraphs 13-15. This position is further buttressed by the judicial pronouncements in Young

v. IAMGOLD Corporation (at paragraph 76) and BMW Canada Inc. v. Autoport Ltd., among other relevant precedents.

22. The precedent established in Treaty Group Inc. v. Simpson affirms that a demonstrably strong prima facie case of fraudulent intent furnishes a sufficient predicate for the immediate issuance of interim relief—specifically, a Mareva injunction and a mandatory order—to preserve the subject property pending a plenary hearing of the motion for interlocutory relief.
23. A dialectical interplay is observed among the concepts of interim, injunctive, and interlocutory judicial remedies, and the prerogative to vacate procedural steps, documents, and prior fiats. This synergy is fundamentally governed by the Court's inherent jurisdiction to act pro bono justitiae (for the sake of justice).
24. The totality of the culpable conduct, which the Applicant avers constitutes a course of fraudulent behaviour, possesses the manifest capacity to have materially vitiating the integrity of the prior adjudicative outcome. It is hereby posited and asserted that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Corporations have engaged in a clear abuse of process. Furthermore, to the extent that the Office of the Attorney General (AGO) possessed actual or constructive knowledge of the perpetration of this fraud and failed to undertake the necessary corrective intercession, it too has transgressed the bounds of procedural propriety. Consequently, the inevitable corollary of a failure to formally impugn and annul all tainted procedural steps, documentation, and judicial orders is the manifest occurrence of a fundamental miscarriage of justice.
25. The adjudication of this matter is further guided by the overarching principles of Ontario civil procedure as expounded upon in Long v. Redbranch Investments Ltd. The Applicant has, ab initio and as of the present juncture, furnished the maximum quantum of inferential and circumstantial evidence available for substantiation, while expressly reserving all attendant rights, both factual and legal (omnia iura reservantur).
26. For the determination of costs and the quantification of damages (where appropriate), the Court is directed to the Respondents' culpable conduct which originated ex ante litigation and has persisted throughout the duration of the ensuing legal proceedings. Reliance is placed upon the precedent set forth in Le Soleil

Hospitality Inc. v Louie, which, by referencing Golden Capital Securities, justifies the displacement of the conventional maxim restricting the award of special costs (or full indemnity costs) solely to conduct post litem motam (after the dispute commenced).

27. Should any or all of the Respondents determine to contest this application, their opposition must necessarily be contingent upon their prior successful application for relief to permit the belated filing and service of their requisite NOAs and subsequently their substantive materials. In such a contingency, the Applicant will pursue the imposition of aggravated costs against the contesting entities.
28. Furthermore, the Applicant invokes the statutory authority conferred by Section 96 of the Courts of Justice Act to seek binding declarations of rights.
29. The Applicant shall concurrently submit two comprehensive draft orders: one designated as “Draft Order: Interim, Interlocutory and Injunctive Relief” and a complementary document entitled “Draft Order: Final Relief”.

PREFACE #3: SUMMARY OF DECLARATION

30. The instant proceeding, wherein I “filed” and “served” my JRPA Proceeding on Friday, November 15, 2024, was initiated pursuant to the Judicial Review Procedure Act (hereinafter, the “JRPA Proceeding”), wherein the factual matrix and procedural peregrinations pertinent to the matters herein attested are within the comprehensive and detailed purview by myself.
31. I reserve all of my rights in fact and at law.
32. The subsequent factual averments are advanced with the deliberate objective of establishing the chronological imperative and, in my view, irrefutable factual predicate for the urgent relief sought.
33. I verily believe that the cumulative effect of the actions detailed in the subsequent sections is herein viewed as being definitively constitutive of a systematic and oppressive campaign intended to frustrate my constitutional right to the unimpaired access to justice, a right enshrined within Section 7 and Section 15 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

34. I verily believe that the actions of the impugned persons herein were done with motive to harm me and the public interest.
35. I verily believe that the actions of the impugned persons, some or all, alone or in concert, were done with the view and intent and motive to contravene the common law requirement in Yatar v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex [sic], 2024 SCC 8, that an application for judicial review was heard on its merits (see: paragraph 49).
36. I verily believe that the persistent and concerted nature of the resistance encountered necessitates judicial intervention to preserve the integrity of the process and ensure substantive equality before the law. This Declaration assumes the status of res gestae (i.e. things done) for the aforementioned events, capturing the, in my view, necessary temporal context for the determination of the Mens Rea underlying the Respondents' conduct. I verily believe that the sheer volume and complexity of the annexed documentation serve as prima facie substantiation, underscoring the systemic deficiencies, demonstrable institutional obfuscation, and the palpable degree of administrative resistance encountered throughout the antecedent administrative and judicial review processes. I verily believe that this volume of secondary litigation, initiated solely to compel the production of legally required records, is itself advanced as irrefutable evidence of the oppressive nature of the Respondents' collective defence strategy, thus necessitating this urgent recourse to the Divisional Court.
37. I verily believe that the Respondents, some or all, including the court staff, being part of the Executive Branch of government, interfered in this litigation process to date.
38. I verily believe that the burden placed upon me by the failure of the Respondents to observe the, in my view, elementary norms of procedural fairness constitutes an unwarranted and prejudicial imposition. I verily believe that the utilization of, in my view, complex administrative, access to information and judicial mechanisms (FIPPA, PIPEDA, TARA) simply to obtain records that should have been and should be compliantly, by law, disclosed by controllers and/or custodians (LAT, MAG, SOLGEN, and Archives of Ontario ("AOO")) represents a fundamental distortion of the adversarial process and democratic principles, placing an unreasonable and resource debilitating onus upon a private litigant, which must be judicially remedied through the most compelling and definitive relief available. I verily believe that the continued need for me to pursue these ancillary disclosure mechanisms has caused a critical, quantifiable delay in the preparation of the JRPA Record, thereby infringing upon the Applicant's constitutional right to be heard in a timely manner, which, in my view, a key component of fundamental justice under Section 7 of the Charter.

39. I verily believe that my legal burden is to prove on a balance of probabilities in relation to fraud the following to any of the distinct acts of fraud:

- a. There was fraud;
- b. It was material;
- c. I exercised due diligence; and
- d. It was unknown at the time of a step, document or order and where it involves attacking an irregularity any step that I took, I could not have reasonably known the same.

40. As I verily believe that I could prove criminal fraud beyond any doubt and there is much in the way of references to criminal law as per the undisclosed ex parte in camera judge involving the "warrant in the first issue" and "This information is Accepted [sic] on its face" (see: Intake Court Endorsement [Sic]), I ground my belief that my NOM #3 must be successful as a matter of law on the basis of the legal burdens:

Standard Name	Level of Certainty	Primary Application	Key Characteristics
Mere Suspicion / Simple Suspicion	Lowest threshold, hunch or intuition.	Insufficient for most legal actions; preliminary observations.	Lacks objective factual basis
Reasonable Suspicion	Reasonable possibility of criminality.	Investigative detentions, sniffer dog searches, roadside alcohol tests'	More than mere suspicion, less than RGB; requires objectively discernible facts'
Reasonable Grounds to Believe / Reasonable and Probable Grounds	Credibly-based probability.	Arrests, search warrants, statutory powers (e.g., Emergencies Act, passport control).	Higher than reasonable suspicion, lower than balance of probabilities; requires both subjective belief and objective basis

Balance of Probabilities	More likely than not (approx. 51% certainty).	Civil cases (e.g., contract disputes, torts).	Lower than beyond a reasonable doubt; evidence greater than evidence against it
Proof Beyond a Reasonable Doubt	Closer to absolute certainty than balance of probabilities; no reasonable doubt.	Criminal conviction	Highest standard; Crown's burden to disprove defenses like reasonable belief

41. To further clarify the distinct yet interconnected nature of these offenses, the table below details the actus reus (key elements/actions) and mens rea (required intent/mental state) for each core offense discussed.

Offence Name	Criminal Code Section	Actus Reus (Key Elements/Actions)	Mens Rea (Required Intent/Mental State)
Theft	322	Fraudulently and without colour of right takes or converts anything; moves it or causes it to be moved	Intent to deprive owner (temporarily or absolutely) of the thing or their interest in it"
Identity Theft	402.2	Obtains or possesses another person's identity information'	Intent to use the information to commit an indictable offense that includes fraud, deceit, or falsehood.
Identity Fraud (Personation)	403	Fraudulently personates another person (living or dead); includes pretending to be the person or using their identity information as if it pertains to the user	Intent to gain advantage, obtain property, cause disadvantage, or avoid arrest/obstruct justice
General Fraud	380	By deceit, falsehood, or other fraudulent means, defrauds public or any person of property, money, valuable security, or service	Subjective knowledge of the prohibited act and subjective knowledge that the conduct could likely result in deprivation

42. The connection to the Epstein Cole Client and Mr. Karat were unknown until mid May 2025. I pursued the evidence as expediently as I could considering the circumstances.

43. In relation to Mr. Karat as the thief, I rely on the email on Friday, October 25, 2024, intra CAMH employees or contractors:

44. In relation to the false document involving the TPL “Borrow a Laptop Service – In-Branch Equipment Loan Agreement”, I rely on the following image for ease of reference:

BORROW A LAPTOP SERVICE – IN-BRANCH EQUIPMENT LOAN AGREEMENT

 Date: Oct 28 / 24 Branch: _____

I, Kevin McLean, (please print) understand that by borrowing, or allowing my child to borrow equipment from the Toronto Public Library (the "Equipment"), I am responsible for the Equipment and all its components. KN I understand that I am completely responsible for the safety and use of the equipment while it is loaned to me. I am responsible for any damage or loss to the Equipment that results from accident, theft, misuse or neglect. I will not leave the Equipment unattended and I will use the Equipment in a responsible manner.

KN I will ensure that the Equipment is not tampered with in any way (hardware or software). I am responsible for ensuring that any work I wish to preserve will be saved onto my own external memory source. I will not load any personal software on to the Equipment (where applicable). I understand that no user files will be retained on the Equipment (where applicable).

FINES AND FEES

KN I agree to return the Equipment in the same condition as it was borrowed, and to reimburse the Library for any and all costs associated with damage to the Equipment. I agree to pay any replacement costs should the Equipment be lost or stolen. I have reviewed and understand the replacement costs outlined in Schedule "A" to this Equipment Loan Agreement.

By signing this Equipment Loan Agreement, I acknowledge that I am legally bound to adhere to all parts of it.

Refusal to follow these terms of use will result in laptop lending privileges being revoked.

46. I verily believe that the issue of whether the conduct of the Respondent Insurance Companies was fraudulent is self-evident. I verily believe that the only live legal issue will be whether the some or all of the fraudulent conduct was material.

47. I note the legal test being one of whether the fraud tainted the JRPA Proceeding. More specifically under Rule 59.06(2)(a), I verily believe that the legal test is one where the presiding judge over the NOM #3 must determine whether the fraud may have affected the result.

48. I verily believe that even without the recent discoveries involving Madam Justice Shore and her counsel Mr. Sinnadurai, Madam Justice Shore being a presiding judge or having undisclosed prior judicial involvement et al, that the fraud by the Respondent Insurance Companies may have reasonably affected the results and outcomes.

PREFACE #3(A): BRIBERY

49. I verily believe that Mr. Karat was bribed by TD Bank, the LAT, the SOLGEN and the MAG to engage in the same with TD Bank (FIN 004) in the payment of a secret commission in that if he stole my property on October 25, 2024, that he would be compensated in the form of being able to obtain a new home and having his and his spouse's mortgage, then with Scotia Mortgage Corporation, discharged accordingly.

50. I verily believe that Mrs. Dorothy During-Gibbs, an employee of CAMH as a social worker, was also later part of the bribe and fraud by becoming the new home owner of the residence located at 625 Grandview Avenue, Oshawa, Ontario (the "Grandview Avenue Home" or "Grandview Oshawa Property").
51. This action constitutes a clear instance of misrepresentation, executed with the requisite mens rea to defraud the institution and, by extension, the Applicant through the resultant communicative act. The totality of the collected materials, including the initial tranche of sixteen (16) volumes, contained a calculated concatenation of menacing allusions and subtle admonitions, establishing the intentionality of the subsequent thematic conveyance.
52. I verily believe that the establishment of jurisdictional proximity is self-evident. At the temporal juncture of the transgression, I verily believe that the Epstein Cole Client maintained a domicile situated approximately three hundred (300) metres to the East of the aforementioned TPL branch.
53. I verily believe that this geographical alignment situates the Epstein Cole client squarely within the immediate vicinage of the affected library—the location where the fraudulent material requisition was executed.
54. I note the June 2025 evidence implicating the Epstein Cole LLP Client within the 55 Division.
55. I verily believe that the documentary evidence contained within Declaration #1 provides further evidence regarding the same.
56. I verily believe that the confluence of the temporal specificity and this established geographical predicate elevates the gravitas of the Epstein Cole LLP Client's pre-meditated actions.
57. I verily believe that the selection of the aforementioned literary works was not a product of fortuitous happenstance but rather a calculated employment of symbolic media intended to communicate consequences that any, in my view, reasonable individual would endeavour to eschew.
58. For ease of reference in relation to some of the unauthorized borrowing and non-returning of books with the TPL, I for ease of reference provide the following screenshots for ease of reference:

59. I verily believe that the collective thematic undercurrent of these titles forms an unambiguous rhetorical device designed to induce nervous shock and serious medical conditions upon myself:

- a. Camino Ghosts (Grisham): This legal thriller delineates narratives involving corporate avarice, political lobbying, and the stalking of a protagonist who uncovers systemic fraud. The veiled reference to powerful legal and political forces that impede the discovery of truth establishes a clear, intimidating parallel;
- b. The Guest Book (Blake): This historical fiction explores themes of entrenched privilege, moral complicity, and the prejudiced viewpoints of an affluent generational family. By focusing upon past betrayals and the potential dissolution of sanctuary, this selection prima facie constitutes an insinuation concerning my perceived social or moral standing, and the inevitable confrontation with historical transgressions;
- c. Yellowface (Kuang): The elements of corruption within this volume revolve around plagiarism, cultural exploitation, and the systemic prioritization of fiscal profit over ethical probity within the publishing milieu. The narrative's focus on an unreliable protagonist who rationalizes deceit serves as a poignant, if not rhetorical, parallel to the Respondent's own actions, positing that even notorious actions can yield favourable public attention: "mala publicitas etia bonum" (bad publicity is still good).

- d. Closer Together: Knowing Ourselves, Loving Each Other (Trudeau): Ostensibly a work of self-discovery, this volume's themes of emotional signatures and attachment dynamics appear strategically deployed as a subtle, yet profound, attempt to introduce a psychological element into the campaign of intimidation;
- e. Sooley (Grisham): The narrative of a young prodigy whose future is shattered by civil conflict and personal loss constitutes a palpable suggestion of impending disaster and emotional fragmentation;
- f. The Boys from Biloxi (Grisham): This legal thriller explicitly details a rivalry culminating in a courtroom confrontation between a prosecutor and a figure immersed in organized criminal enterprise, complete with evidential references to contract killings and covert surveillance.
- g. Holly (King): This selection centres upon a private investigator uncovering an elderly couple perpetrating gruesome, non-supernatural atrocities to decelerate their own physical decline. The emphasis on patience, cunning, and ruthlessness behind a harmless facade is a potent and transparent rhetorical flourish intended to convey the Epstein Cole LLP Client's own purported capacity for extended and calculating malice;
- h. Diva: The thematic exploration of love, ambition, betrayal, and the cost of fame strongly suggests a calculated insinuation targeting the Applicant's past relationship and former domestic partnership; and
- i. That Night in the Library: The plot detailing university students trapped in a library after a ritual culminates in a series of murders, escalating paranoia, betrayal, and a fight for survival until the matutinus period.

PREFACE #3(B): AN INTERCONNECTED OF POTENTIAL CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE OF RESPONDENTS (KNOWN OR ASSUMED)

60. I verily believe that the actions of the Respondent Insurance Companies demonstrated an escalated, unfinished and unremedied progression of criminal intent and execution:

a. Initial Theft as a Predicate Offense:

- i. I verily believe that the theft of the backpack (Section 322) was not a random act of larceny;
- ii. I verily believe that it served as the crucial, foundational step in a sophisticated fraudulent scheme;
- iii. The contents of the backpack – specifically, my identification documents – transform this from a simple property crime into the direct enabler of more serious identity-related offenses. The immediate flight after the theft further demonstrates a pre-meditated intent to acquire and utilize these stolen assets for illicit purposes;

b. Identity Theft: The Crime of Possession Plus Intent:

- i. Section 402.2 (Identity Theft) criminalizes the obtaining or possessing of another person's identity information with intent to use it to commit an indictable offence that includes fraud, deceit or falsehood;
- ii. This is precisely what occurred;
- iii. I verily believe that the physical act of stealing the backpack provided “possession” of my identity information, and the subsequent fraudulent acts (TPL borrowing, museum passes, library card renewal) demonstrate a clear mens rea – the intent to misuse this information for fraudulent gain or to cause disadvantage;
- iv. I verily believe that this statutory link is vital, directly connecting the initial theft to the broader fraudulent scheme;

c. Identity Fraud (Personation): The Act of Impersonation:

- i. Following identity theft, the perpetrators transitioned to identity fraud (Section 403);
- ii. By “fraudulently personating” me and using my stolen identity information (driver's license, library card), the individual entered into unauthorized agreements and incurred liabilities in my name;
- iii. I verily believe This act of impersonation, facilitated directly by the stolen documents, is a clear “deceit” or “falsehood” intended to gain advantage;

d. General Fraud: Financial Deprivation and Broader Impact (Criminal Code, Section 380):

- i. Section 380(1) of the Criminal Code broadly defines fraud:
 1. “Every one who, by deceit, falsehood or other fraudulent means, whether or not it is a false pretence within the meaning of this Act, defrauds the public or any person, whether ascertained or not, of any property, money or valuable security or any service.” The mens rea for fraud requires subjective knowledge of the prohibited act and subjective knowledge that the conduct could likely result in deprivation.

61. The actions of Mr. Karat and Epstein Cole LLP Client, particularly their systematic and coordinated campaign, fall squarely, in my view, within the “other fraudulent means” outlined in Section 380. This includes:

- a. The initial theft of my identification: This act, beyond mere property deprivation, was a means to an end, specifically to enable the subsequent fraudulent schemes;
- b. Unauthorized borrowing agreements and item withdrawals from TPL: These actions were performed through “deceit” and “falsehood” (impersonation), resulting in actual “deprivation” (e.g., the $3,500 liability to the TPL for unreturned items);
 - i. Even if there was no immediate cash loss, the “risk of deprivation” was substantial, as my identity was compromised and my accounts frozen;
- c. Changing my associated phone number: I verily believe that the sophisticated acts demonstrate a calculated intent to control my information and prevent me from receiving notifications about the fraudulent activities, further solidifying the “fraudulent means” element;

- d. Overall campaign: The entire sequence, from theft to sustained impersonation and unauthorized transactions, was designed to cause “disadvantage” to me and illicitly gain “property” or “services” (e.g., borrowed laptops, library materials, museum passes) for the perpetrators or entities they represented. The intent was clearly to undermine my financial and personal standing, particularly in the context of ongoing legal disputes.

62. I verily believe that the subjective mens rea—the verifiable knowledge that the calculated course of conduct undertaken would inevitably result in the complainant's financial and proprietary deprivation—is incontrovertible. The deliberate methodology of the actions, the precise synchronicity between the fraudulent acts and the initiation of formal legal filings, and the proactive measures of concealment (e.g., the modification of contact particulars and the obstruction of electronic communications) collectively evince a sophisticated and deliberate fraudulent enterprise executed with full cognizance of both the potential and actual detriment. This entire sequence manifests as a calculated, multi-stage criminal opus.
63. I verily believe that the conduct of Mr. Karat, an employee concurrently engaged by four distinct insurance entities, three of which are the Respondent Insurance Companies, constitutes a fundamental breach of uberimma fides and theft per se, as defined by section 322 of the Criminal Code. Said statutory provision delineates the offence as the act of "fraudulently and without colour of right taking" the property of another with the concomitant "intent to deprive" the owner of it. The continued, unabated retention of said property perpetuates this deprivation usque ad praesentem diem.
64. I verily believe that the actions subsequent to the initial acquisition on October 25, 2024, including the period immediately preceding and following November 15, 2024, constitute the indictable offence of Identity Theft pursuant to section 402.2 of the Criminal Code. The acquisition and/or retention of another person's identity information with the requisite "intent to use it to commit an indictable offence that includes fraud, deceit or falsehood" is unambiguously satisfied by the utilization of the purloined identification for these aforementioned illicit purposes, fulfilling both the actus reus and the specific mens rea.
65. I verily believe that the subsequent conduct constitutes the distinct criminal offence of Identity Fraud/Personation under section 403 of the Criminal Code. By "fraudulently personating another person" (the complainant) and leveraging the identity information to "gain advantage" (the procurement of equipment and intellectual assets), the perpetrator satisfies the constituent elements of this felony. The Toronto Public Library (TPL) Fraudulent Borrowing Agreement itself provides prima facie evidence of this fraudulent personation, as it purports to bind the complainant to an unauthorized contractual obligation, thereby rendering the complainant subject to liability without requisite authorisation or consent.

66. I verily believe that on the specific calendar date of November 11, 2024, an agent, acting on behalf of some or all of the Respondent Insurance Companies, effectuated the surreptitious and unauthorized acquisition of twenty-four (24) distinct intellectual properties from the Toronto Public Library (TPL) branch situated at Queen and Saulter. At the time of this transgression, the Epstein Cole LLP Client was purportedly domiciled proximate to Queen Street East and Carlaw Avenue. I verily believe that this modus operandi entailed a profound breach of fidelity, as the Respondent Insurance Companies, in toto or in part, demonstrably utilized the complainant's official nomenclature, proprietary identification, and library account privileges to procure these institutional assets. I verily believe that the singular mechanism through which the Respondent Insurance Companies, specifically the alleged Epstein Cole LLP client, could have consummated this transaction was via the information purloined during the initial theft perpetrated by Mr. Karat on October 25, 2024.
67. I verily believe that the pattern of misconduct exhibited on November 8, 11, and subsequently on December 13, 21, and 28, 2024, at the TPL, is deemed fraudulent by reference to sections 361 (False Pretences), 380 (General Fraud), 402 (Theft of Credit Card), and 403 (Identity Fraud/Personation) of the Criminal Code.
68. I verily believe that I received notification of unauthorized account activity on the TPL card on November 8, 2024, coinciding precisely with the facility's hours of closure. This temporal alignment is significant, as it corresponds with Mr. Karat's automated electronic correspondence indicating his absence from the office from November 8 to November 18, 2024, a circumstance which strongly posits his continued involvement or facilitation of the illicit activities. I verily believe that the cumulative evidence of the November Fraud Events substantially solidifies the persistent pattern of Identity Fraud (Section 403) and General Fraud (Section 380), thereby demonstrating a continuous reliance upon "deceit, falsehood or other fraudulent means" to secure pecuniary or material advantage. The antecedent theft of the library card is the predicate actus reus underwriting the entire deceptive scheme.

69. I verily believe that the fraudulent incident perpetrated on December 13, 2024, the very calendar date of the complainant's filing and remittance for the Certificate of Perfection with the Divisional Court, is considered to be of an aggravated and markedly more egregious nature than the antecedent November events. I verily believe that this escalation is attributable to the calculated utilization of the complainant's personal identification to procure a successor library card, which was, expliciter, linked to a spurious telephone number—that of Ms. Valerie Oulette, a reporter with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC). The introduction of this information suggests a calculated innuendo of potential law enforcement or media involvement.
70. I verily believe that, approximately two hours subsequent to the complainant's filing and service of the Certificate of Perfection with the Divisional Court, an unidentified individual presented themselves at the TPL Reference Library at 789 Yonge Street, Toronto, and obtained a new library card by falsely reporting the prior card as irrevocably lost. I verily believe that this individual, whom I aver was the Epstein Cole LLP Client, utilized the complainant's stolen driver's licence and potentially a passport to authenticate the fraudulent transaction, as confirmed by the TPL. I verily believe that this manoeuvre was demonstrably triggered by the awareness of the complainant's formal legal filing, evidencing a manifest intent to further impede the administration of justice or to inflict additional pecuniary hardship.
71. I verily believe that the subsequent fraudulent activities, connected to the TDIA Group, manifested on December 21 and December 28, 2024, and continued into January 17, 2025—the day immediately following the submission of the complainant's Recusal Requests to the Divisional Court. This sequence culminated in the unauthorized renewal of approximately thirty-four (34) intellectual properties in the complainant's appellation with the TPL. I verily believe that the precise temporal sequencing of these acts is not an artefact of coincidence. Sub judice, the Epstein Cole Client remained officially engaged by "TD Insurance," as duly recorded in the Law Society of Ontario (LSO) directory.
72. I verily believe that this intricate temporal alignment and coordination of unlawful acts strongly suggests the existence of a potential conspiracy to commit indictable offences and/or Obstruction of Justice pursuant to section 139 of the Criminal Code, which operates by actively impeding the complainant's ability to pursue lawful legal remedies. This sequence, extending beyond isolated acts of malfeasance, irrefutably demonstrates a pre-meditated, multi-stage criminal enterprise.

73. I verily believe that the aforementioned fraud, coupled with the attendant allegations of bribery and extortion which have yet to be satisfactorily remedied, was rendered feasible through the aiding and abetting of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), in conjunction with Mr. Weir of Tribunals Ontario, acting in his various capacities across the Landlord and Tenant Board (LTB), the Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario (HRTTO), and the LAT.
74. I verily believe that, furthermore, the conduct exhibited by the LAT before the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC) and the subsequent actions of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) in the ensuing OIPC Appeal similarly constitute, ad idem, the aiding and abetting of the previously established fraudulent conduct.
75. I verily believe that the conduct of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN) provides a compelling evidentiary basis for the invocation of similar fact evidence concerning those personnel within that Ministry implicated in the fraudulent manipulation of institutional insignia, specifically including, but not limited to, the purported digital signature of JP Jiri and the official crest of the Government of Ontario.
76. I verily believe that the perpetration of such repetitive fraudulent acts, fundamentally leveraging purloined identity information, sustains a pervasive and elaborate deceptive scheme. I verily believe that the TDIA Group's constructive knowledge of these occurrences, imparted via its employees, and its patent omission to intercede or officially report the criminal activity, necessarily implicates the Respondent Insurance Companies.
77. I verily believe that, furthermore, in relation to the unremedied financial duress that I characterize as extortion—specifically the outstanding liability of four thousand dollars ($\4,000.00$) incurred with the TPL, alongside the retention of numerous unreturned intellectual properties (books, periodicals, and magazines)—I respectfully direct the Court's attention to the assets that were removed on November 11, 2024. The detailed list of these purloined assets is pertinent to the quantum of damages sustained.

78. I verily believe that the fraud remains ongoing ipso facto as of the present calendar date, owing to the continued, unauthorized deprivation of my property. I verily believe that, consequently, the immediate restitution of said property shall be requested as the designated relief sought within Notice of Motion No. 3 (NOM #3).

79. Finally, I verily believe that the LAT and Mr. Boyce, in concert with the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO)—by virtue of its interconnectedness with the "Crown"—possessed specific, confidential knowledge regarding the appellation of the undisclosed Judicial Official involved in the "Ex Parte In Camera Hearing" within the "Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding".

VOLUME #1: DESCRIPTION AND SUMMARIES OF EXHIBITS

Exhibit “A” : No “First Defence” filed: JRPA Application undefended The LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies failed to “file” their Notices Of Appearances after purported service and actual service of the same:

80. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “A” is a copy of a document, being an electronic email communication specifically addressed to the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies, with a copy to the Divisional Court, the AGO and AGC, which was my formal demand and request for written evidentiary proof of procedural compliance in the JRPA Application by way of the following:

- a. Evidence of stamped filings by the Divisional Court relating to the Notices of Appearances (Form 38(B)’s) for the following Respondents:
 - i. The LAT; and
 - ii. Respondent Insurance Companies.

81. Said email was sent on October 26, 2025. I did not receive any bouncebacks or auto-replies from any of the recipients. The date is now November 14, 2025, and I have not received any evidence from the Respondent Insurance Companies and Licence Appeal Tribunal that it had, in fact and at law, filed, with proof of service, their Notices of Appearances. I cannot prove a negative. Moreover, I had filed requisitions with the Divisional Court seeking copies of all filings “outside” of the Notices of Appearances which I presumed were filed but with the benefit of investigative efforts, I verily believed that it was likely that the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies did not file their NOA's. I now verily believe that it is close to a certainty that they did not.

82. I confirmed in said email that it was unknown to me at the time whether the Respondents, who had purportedly served (LAT) and served (Respondent Insurance Companies), had filed their Notices Of Appearances. I adopt the facts from said email therein into this statutory declaration herein.

83. I raised my concerns raised about some of the following including but not limited to:

- a. procedural integrity;
- b. adherence to natural justice principles; and
- c. procedural nullities.

84. I specifically noted to the extent that the neither the LAT Nor the Respondent Insurance Companies "filed", in the JSO Portal, copies of their Notices Of Appearances, then the Divisional Court was precluded from assigning the JRPA Proceeding to case management as per Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure which is titled "Assignment For Case Management". I specifically relied on ss. 77.05(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure because I confirmed from the outset that my JRPA Application had urgency and I wished to be heard on an urgent basis (i.e. I did not consent to case management).

85. While I appreciate that JSO Portal allowed for the court staff some five business days to stamp the filing on the date in which it was filed, I note that November 27, 2024, was a Wednesday. I have reviewed the entirety of the email communications in the email address for service provided to the Divisional Court and the Respondents and I cannot find any evidence that the LAT filed its NOA. In fact, the email from Ms. Maciel, a law clerk of "Tribunals Ontario", in my view which is not an authorized person for the LAT but rather employed by "Tribunals Ontario". As such, I take the now position that the service itself via email was unauthorized in that "Tribunals Ontario" and the "LAT" are not 'one and the same'. Moreover, in the email from Ms. Maciel, she only relied on the service provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure and did not reference any filing of the same.

86. I also outlined my position with respect to the fact, with contextual evidence from the Spring and Summer of 2025 if the Madam Justice Shore the case management judge so referenced by Ms. Lawrence in the December 3, 2024, email, then such approval (i.e. Assignment to Case Management)
87. I also outlined my to be challenges the assignment of a judge without proper direction under Rule 77.06(1) and against the backdrop of the request by the LAT for the assignment of the JRPA Proceeding to case management when I verily believe that on December 2nd or 3rd, 2024, that no “First Defence” had been “filed”.
88. Exhibit “A” is enumerated from pages 1 to 10.

Exhibit “B”: The date (September 19, 2024) I exposed Mr. Mr. Papadimitropoulos as the forger of the “As Per A. Nurse” purported signature in the OCF-18 #1 from April 2023 (see: pages 11 to 65)

89. I now proffer, and cause to be marked again as Exhibit 'B' within the ambit of these proceedings, a certified reproduction of documentary evidence enumerated consecutively from page 11 through to page 65. This compendium encompasses three distinct yet interrelated components:

- a. Submissions: The inclusion of Affidavit #37, duly sworn, filed, and served upon the opposing parties on the nineteenth day of September, 2024, which meticulously delineates the alleged spectrum of procedural irregularities and failures attributable to the primary insurer, Security National Insurance Company (SNIC), and affiliated corporate entities;
- b. Challenge to Authenticity: Evidence directly challenging the legal validity of a signatory endorsement, specifically positing that the signature was not lawfully appended by the duly appointed insurance adjuster for SNIC (referencing the inscription: “As Per A. Nurse”), thereby raising a substantive issue concerning the ratio of administrative propriety; c. Forensic Corroboration: The inclusion of sophisticated forensic evidence, including expert handwriting analysis, which serves to corroborate the assertions of document manipulation, forgery, and outright falsification pertaining to the aforementioned “As Per A. Nurse” purported signature, an execution which appears, prima facie, to have been performed upon her own sui generis behalf.

90. As previously affirmed, the totality of this critical evidence is contained within the confines of Exhibit 'B', commencing at page 11 and concluding upon page 65.
91. At the precise juncture of the aforementioned submission of Affidavit #37, I was not yet fully seized of the custody and control of the TPL Fraud Equipment Loan Agreement, dated the twenty-eighth day of October, 2024. Consequently, I maintained absolute and complete unawareness of the fabrication and manipulation inherent in this specific financial instrument. I must unequivocally submit that this fraudulent equipment loan agreement was systematically orchestrated utilizing my proper nomen without either my express consent or latent knowledge. In media res, I must further assert that I was demonstrably without official identification at that relevant period and would not, in any event, have solicited or initiated a request for an equipment loan agreement from the TPL Fort York branch for any asset whatsoever.
92. I explicitly confirm that I did not confer authorization for the utilization of my identity, nor for any permutation of a signature incorporating the initialisms 'A', 'N', and 'P' beneath the typewritten designation, nor for the subscription of my complete nomen within the allocated signature field.
93. My definitive cognizance of the existence of the fraudulent TPL Fort York branch Loan Equipment Agreement was only established at the time specifically particularized and documented within the JRPA Proceeding. The definitive documentation concerning this transaction was subsequently procured from the TPL organization pursuant to the exercise of my formal access request rights concerning the same.
94. It remains my profound and well-founded belief that the Client represented by Epstein Cole LLP deliberately engaged in the fraudulent manipulation of Ms. Nurse's signature and professional namesake concerning the OCF-18 #1 instrument in April of 2023. Hoc statu, I hereby issue a formal challenge to that individual to adduce contradictory evidence that possesses the requisite probative weight to successfully rebut this assertion of systemic dishonesty.
95. Moreover, I hold the bona fide conviction that Mr. Papadimitropoulos (the aforementioned Epstein Cole LLP Client) was the author and executor of the fraudulent inscriptions detailed therein. I reiterate my formal challenge to him to provide countervailing evidence capable of discharging the evidential burden placed upon him.

96. Based upon the totality of the antecedent circumstances and the accumulating documentary record, I verily believe that the Epstein Cole LLP Client orchestrated a widespread and coordinated pattern of fraud, forgery, and identity manipulation involving both my own nomen and the professional designation of Ms. Nurse, who is demonstrably an adjuster officially affiliated with the TDIA Group, specifically SNIC.
97. I hold the considered belief that the Epstein Cole LLP Client occupied a central role, either directly or as a guiding éminence grise, in the circumstances underlying the three distinct police case identification numbers that have become known to me in August 2025, a discovery achieved through the diligent assistance of the Toronto Police Service (TPS) Property and Evidence Management Unit (PEMU).
98. I verily believe that upon my discovery in mid-May 2025 that Mr. Karat was the de facto unauthorized possessor of my personal property on the twenty-fifth day of October, 2024, the Epstein Cole LLP Client immediately became apprehensive, visibly shocked, and significantly distressed by the logical extrapolation that I would be capable of linking his antecedent misconduct to that of his supervisee, Mr. Karat. Consequently, I verily believe that he then proceeded to originate a complaint to the TPS 55th Division which, in my view, was entirely false and fraudulent. I further verily believe that this action inadvertently provided compelling evidence of his residential location within the territorial jurisdiction of the 55th Division, wherein the TPL Queen and Saulter branch is geographically situated. This connection, albeit unintended by his actions, serves as corroborative evidence of the financial fraud he committed or authorized on the eleventh day of November, 2025, rendering my conclusion self-evident as a logical syllogism.
99. I hereby confirm, with unequivocal certainty, that I possess no substantive interest in pursuing the likes of the aforementioned individual and Mr. Karat through criminal reporting to law enforcement agencies; my primary raison d'être and strategic focus is the swift and comprehensive indemnification of my service providers, along with the imposition of mandatory interest and penalties pursuant to Regulation 664 upon the First Insurer, and, furthermore, establishing the First Insurer as the sole point of contact, concurrently with the necessary amendments to the Health Claim for Automobile Insurance (HCAI) protocol.

100. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “C” is a copy of the following documents:
- a. My HRT0 Application from October 9, 2024 (select pages); and
 - b. My HRT0 NOCQ from November 7, 2024 (select pages).
101. I filed my HRT0 Application on October 9, 2024 with the HRT0 e-file email address.
102. I received a confirmation email from the HRT0 on October 10, 2024.
103. I served the TPS on October 24, 2024, by sending a hard copy of the same to 40 College Street, Toronto, Ontario.
104. On Friday, October 25, 2024, between 1:10 p.m. and 1:11 p.m., Mr. David Karat, a specifically delegated representative of SNIC in the LAT Proceeding, stole my property contained in the McLean Backpack with the particularized property therein.
105. The Respondent Insurance Companies are NOT respondents in the HRT0 Proceeding. Therefore, it is unclear to me what would have caused the impetus for the Respondent Insurance Companies to engage in the theft of my property at said time from the CAMH visitor area.
106. On Friday, November 8, 2024, a person who had access to the stolen property from the Mclean Backpack without my consent or authorization signed me up for a reservation with the Aga Khan Museum with the TPL as the TPL provided a free visit to the Aga Khan Museum with your TPL library card. I did not know the same at the time.
107. I note that November 8, 2024, was a day after I had served the AGO and the AGC (in person at 120 Adelaide Avenue, Fourth Floor, Toronto, Ontario) with my NOCQ against the TPS seeking Charter relief and damages for its impugned conduct. At said time, I had not been provided a copy of the alleged signed arrest warrant.
108. Moreover, at said time, I was unaware of the following:
- a. The TPL Fraudulent Loan Equipment Agreement on Monday, October 28, 2024; and

b. The unauthorized borrowing of books on Monday, October 28, 2024.

109. There was no active misconduct per se involving my TPL account from Tuesday, October 29, 2024, to November 7, 2024. Ergo, I verily believe, now with the benefit of hindsight, that the filing with the HRTTO and serving of the AGO and AGC with the NOCQ caused one of those bodies to inform the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies and to engage in further misconduct in an attempt to “trip me up”, engage in obstruction of justice and extortion.

110. The distinction between reserving library books, magazines and periodicals, along with the TPL loan equipment agreement, is that, with the benefit of hindsight, that neither provided notifications to the account owner or holder at the time of takeout or borrowing or signing such an agreement.

111. I had not utilized the back-end of the TPL for account holders prior to learning of the unauthorized reservation for the Aga Khan museum on Friday, November 8, 2024.

112. I verily believe that the Respondent Insurance Companies were attempting to deprive me of my free will and my right to exercise my rights. I verily believe that the Respondent Insurance Companies, under a high degree of control by the LAT and the MAG, were attempting to overcome or dissuade me from my free will.

113. Exhibit “C” is consecutively paginated from pages 65 to 130.

EXHIBIT “D”: SERVICE OF MY JRPA APPLICATION ON NOVEMBER 15, 2024 (SEE: PAGES 132 TO 144)

114. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “D” is a copy of the following documents:

- a. Judicial Review Application challenging procedural decisions and administrative actions by the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT);
- b. I raised concerns about the validity of case conferences and motions due to procedural defects; and
- c. I confirmed therein that I would be seeking Seeks judicial review of LAT decisions and clarity on outstanding motions and procedural timelines.

115. Exhibit “D” is consecutively paginated from pages 132 to 144.

EXHIBIT “E”: REQUEST OF THE DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO (SEE: PAGES 145 TO 156)

116. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “E” are documents denoted as the following:
- a. correspondence with the Deputy Attorney General (DAG) regarding records disposition under Section 74 of the Courts of Justice Act;
 - b. concerns raised about missing foundational court records, including signed indictments and arrest warrants involving, inter alia, Madam Justice Shore; and
 - c. requests for transparency and accountability regarding the disposition of court records as per the CJA, section 74.
117. Exhibit “E” is consecutively paginated from pages 145 to 156.

EXHIBIT “F”: PIPEDA REQUEST OF ZOOM IN RELATION TO OBTAINING MY PERSONAL INFORMATION – CASE CONFERENCES IN DIVISIONAL COURT BEFORE MADAM JUSTICE SHORE (SEE: PAGES 157 TO 186)

118. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “F” is a copy of a PIPEDA access request to Zoom Communications for audio recordings of judicial case conferences conducted via Zoom before Madam Justice Shore in the Divisional Court. I note the following:
- a. Zoom denies the request, stating the host of the meeting is responsible for responding; and
 - b. Matter escalated to the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada (OPCC) for resolution.
119. Exhibit “F” is consecutively paginated from pages 157 to 186.

EXHIBIT “G”: COMMUNICATIONS WITH THE ARCHIVES OF ONTARIO (“AOO”) (SEE: PAGES 187 TO 260)

120. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “G” is a Request for access to archival records from the Archives of Ontario, including signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments and signed arrest warrants that were placed by a “Records Placer” or transferred by a “Records Holder”. I raised concerns raised about the absence of authentic records and existence of manipulated documentation.

121. Exhibit “G” is consecutively paginated from pages 187 to 260.

EXHIBIT “H”: SOLGEN ACCESS REQUEST: FRAUDULENT MANIPULATION OF ONTARIO GOVERNMENT LOGO (SEE: PAGES 261 TO 304) (SIMILAR FACT EVIDENCE; SEE: SUPRA)

122. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “H” are copies of the following documents:

- a. Emails to the Ministry of Solicitor General and the SOLGEN himself regarding the in my view non-compliant response to my submitted and paid for FIPPA request;
- b. The purported FIPPA response (see: page 280 to 281);
- c. Other emails.

123. Exhibit “H” is consecutively paginated from pages 261 to 304.

EXHIBIT “I”: MCLEAN V LAT AT THE OIPC: APPEAL UNDER FIPPA: PA25-00294 (SEE: PAGES 305 TO 429)

124. I hereby adduce into evidence, delineated and designated as Exhibit “I”, an assemblage of documents pertinent to the extant Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC) Appeal, which involves myself and the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT). This documentation comprises an enumeration of the constituent elements of the Inquiry Record as of the present calendar date and, furthermore, my most recent compendium of juridical argumentation, commonly referred to as a factum. For the requisite purpose of administrative clarity and logical sequencing, I confirm that Exhibit “I” is consecutively paginated, commencing at page 305 and concluding upon the finality of page 429.

EXHIBIT “J”: MINISTRY OF SOLEN AND THE HONOURABLE MR. SOLGEN KERZNER (SEE: PAGES 430 TO 524)

125. I now formally present for consideration and mark as Exhibit “J” a voluminous compilation of documents, encompassing the totality of pages 430 through 524, relating to the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN) and the Honourable Mr. Michael Kerzner, Solicitor General of Ontario. The formal postal and physical address of the Ministry of the Solicitor General is precisely delineated as the 18th floor of the edifice situated at 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario (vide: pages 431 and 432). Included herein are various digital visual representations pertaining to the Honourable Solicitor General, derived from public electronic dissemination platforms, providing a contextual matrix of his professional and political proclivities. A photographic representation concerning Crime Prevention Week (November 6-12, 2022) (Page 433) features the Honourable Solicitor General alongside members of the Peel Regional Police. I make particular observation that the Intake Court Endorsement (SIC) seemingly purports to implicate Justice of the Peace Jiri, within the geographical jurisdiction wherein the Peel Regional Police exercise their operational mandate. A communication, dated January 13, 2023, authored by the Solicitor General and formally addressed to the then-sitting Prime Minister Trudeau (Page 435), warrants meticulous scrutiny. The communication articulates the Solicitor General's explicit solicitation of the Prime Minister to fundamentally alter the Canadian bail system, ostensibly for the purpose of affording greater protection to police services (the primary or "first respondents"). The communication posits the existence of "A growing number of calls for changes to prevent accused persons, who are out on bail, from committing further criminal acts." Nota Bene: An accused person is constitutionally entitled to the presumption of innocence; therefore, I submit that the Solicitor General, Mr. Kerzner, presupposes ab initio the perpetration of a subsequent criminal actus reus by an individual who is merely accused, an argumentative fallacy that contravenes the most fundamental tenets of Canadian criminal jurisprudence. Additional photographic depictions illustrate the Solicitor General engaged in public interactions with two police officers (Page 436); documenting his presence with police officers and sundry persons affiliated with the designation "Republic Of" (Page 437); featuring him alongside, inter alia, the Chief of the Toronto Police Service (TPS), Mr. Demkiw (Page 439); depicting him with other individuals during the observance of Hellenic Heritage Month (Page 440); showcasing him with Premier Ford and others associated with the digital domain www.iupat.org (Page 441); featuring him with two additional individuals (Page 442); documenting his participation in a ceremonial function with officers of the Toronto Police Service (Page 443); and a pictorial representation with selected war veterans, denominated as "war heroes" (Page 444). A further photographic record of the Solicitor General (Page 445) prompts the observation: Nota Bene: I incorporate the observation that the Provincial ROPE (Repeat Offender Parole Enforcement) Squad constitutes a collaborative, province-wide law enforcement entity within the jurisdiction of Ontario, Canada, primarily tasked with the apprehension of high-risk offenders who have become unlawfully at large. Other images include a digital image purporting to represent surveillance operations as conducted by police forces (Page 446); an image capturing the Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere (RIDE) program as executed in the regional municipality of York (Page 447); a graphic depiction of the Israeli flag (Page 448); a photographic composition featuring the Solicitor General in conjunction with Premier Ford and the aforementioned Israeli flag (Page 449); an image of the Solicitor General wearing an OPP sweatshirt juxtaposed with a Toronto Police Service officer (Page 450); a visual record depicting the Solicitor General in the company of the Toronto Police Service, specifically including the Chief of Police, Mr. Demkiw (Page 451); a photographic representation featuring the Solicitor General and Premier Ford (Page 452); an image documenting the Solicitor General's presence with various members of law enforcement agencies (Page 453); a photographic display of the Solicitor General alongside the Ontario Anti-Hate Security and Prevention Grant emblem, accompanied by a digital locator (URL) (Page 454); an image of the Solicitor General wearing a yarmulke (alternatively termed a kippah) and a person I believe to be of Hassidic Jewish disposition, situated within what I consider to be the premises of 40 College Street, Toronto, Ontario (nota bene: this precise address corresponds to the location where I formally effected service of the HRT0 Application upon the Toronto Police Service on October 24, 2024) (Page 455); a photographic image of the Solicitor General with Premier Ford, incorporating elements identified as Jewish "candles" (Page 456); an image featuring the Solicitor General with the Chief of the Toronto Police Service, Mr. Demkiw, accompanied by some inscribed text (Page 457); a graphic stating, inter alia, that "International Delicatessen Foods was targeted for being Jewish" (Page 458); a photographic representation showcasing the Solicitor General with another political functionary (Page 459); an image featuring the Solicitor General with language pertaining to "April 5th will mark Al Quds Day, which is a day known for displays of hate and antisemitic propaganda. This event causes significant emotional and symbolic harm to the Jewish community" (Page 460); a photographic depiction of the Solicitor General with officers of the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) (Page 461); an image of the Solicitor General involved with Crime Stoppers, prominently featuring the Chief of Police Dinner (Page 463); a visual record of the Solicitor General situated within a recognized place of worship (Page 465); a photographic composition of the Solicitor General with law enforcement personnel (Page 468); an image of the Solicitor General in the company of law enforcement officers from the Durham Region (the residential jurisdiction of Mr. Karat) (Page 469); digital images of the Solicitor General celebrating "JNY" and the observance of "Happy Sukkot" (Pages 470 and 471); a sequence of photographic evidence featuring the Solicitor General with law enforcement officials (Pages 473 to 476); an image of the Solicitor General engaging with persons of the Jewish faith (Page 477); a photographic composition and textual graphic pertaining to "Happy Purim" (Page 478); an image illustrating the Solicitor General participating in the support of a Jewish ceremony (Page 479); photographic documentation of the Solicitor General lending support to a running event or similar organized activity in collaboration with the United Jewish Association (Page 480 and 482); an image featuring the Solicitor General alongside an individual expressing support for matters related to the State of Israel (Page 485); a photographic depiction of the Solicitor General endorsing the expression "Mazel Tov" (Page 488); and a visual representation of the Solicitor General, distinctively wearing his kippah, positioned outside a correctional facility (the Niagara Detention Centre) (Page 489 and 490).

126. Also contained within Exhibit "J" is a biographical excerpt concerning Solicitor General Kerzner, obtained from the JRCC.org domain, which contains the following self-description: "I am proud that I have been an active member of the Jewish community for over twenty-five years, and I believe that the most important thing in life is to try to be 'a mench' – a decent person, that we should take care of each other, sharing sorrows and joys." I unequivocally submit that the patent dereliction of duty—specifically, the failure to respond to a material issue concerning the demonstrable fabrication of the Ontario government's official insignia—constitutes neither the commendable conduct of a mensch nor, a fortiori, the requisite discharge of one's fiduciary obligations as Solicitor General. While I harbor the utmost respect for the Honourable Solicitor General Kerzner's demonstrable support of anti-hate and anti-Semitic initiatives directed towards the Jewish community, I maintain an abiding intellectual curiosity regarding the rationale undergirding the near-total lacuna of visible engagement with marginalized communities and persons of colour. Consequently, I perceive the Honourable Solicitor General's disposition on "community safety" to be manifestly one-sided and intellectually myopic. I pose reflexively the potent quaere, one which necessitates self-evident conclusion through syllogistic extrapolation of the concept of civic inclusion: are those citizens of variegated denominational adherence and persons of colour not inherently and unequivocally encompassed within the comprehensive and singular ambit of the "community"? The answer is, in my estimation, self-evidently affirmative, thereby rendering the disparate focus a matter of grave public concern.

127. Upon meticulous review of the documentation, I observe an undeniable and substantial convergence of interests and preference between the Honourable Madam Justice Shore and the Honourable Solicitor General Kerzner, primarily articulated through their demonstrated commitment to the Jewish community. This commonality is established by Justice Shore's own representations in her official application questionnaire to the Minister of Justice of the Canadian Government, wherein she detailed professional and volunteer accomplishments, including the Shem Tov Award from the UJA Federation and extensive pro bono work representing Agunot, women whose husbands have refused to grant a religious divorce (a 'ghett'). This highly specialized legal focus, underpinned by a deep commitment to the Jewish community, explicitly mirrors the UJA references and the cultural, faith-based imagery found within the public electronic dissemination platforms associated with Solicitor General Kerzner's political and ministerial activities. This demonstrable alignment of professional and philanthropic emphasis concerning the rights and benefits pertaining to the Jewish community raises a critical constitutional issue. I vehemently submit that Solicitor General Kerzner, as the minister responsible for correctional services and policing and a key figure in the executive branch, meets the legal definition of "Attorney General" as set forth in Section 2 of the Criminal Code, which explicitly includes a lawful deputy. This legal interpretation would thus enable him to sign a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment, an instrument that Justice Shore, in her judicial capacity, would be duty-bound to accept on its face as per the language contained therein. This strong possibility of a direct operational overlap between the executive branch (Kerzner, acting as AG) and the judiciary (Shore, accepting the AG's instrument) in the very jurisdiction of the Tribunal or Court raises profound institutional concerns regarding the separation of powers and the strict, unimpeachable maintenance of judicial impartiality. Furthermore, I am compelled to acknowledge that I presently fail to discern the manner in which the Honourable Madam Justice Shore's defamatory electronic communication, irrespective of any potential or existing juridical immunities or defences—such as those afforded by the concept of qualified privilege—can be coherently reconciled with the overarching and fundamental imperative for the pursuit of justice.

128. In her exposition regarding the three distinct branches of government, Madam Justice Shore accurately articulated: “In Canada, the political system has three distinct branches of government: the executive branch (or Cabinet); the legislative branch (or Parliament); and the judiciary (the judges who preside over cases before the courts)... The courts, by contrast, interpret the law and the Constitution. Drafting, debating, and passing laws are essentially political activities. Interpreting the laws and the constitution are essentially legal activities. The judiciary plays a supervisory role, to interpret and apply the law as determined by Parliament, but also to ensure that all three branches of government exercise their power within the parameters set out in our Constitution.” Significantly, Madam Justice Shore's scholarly summation did not proceed to explicitly articulate the distinct, functional, and operational roles of the executive branch within the Canadian constitutional architecture. Moreover, I posit a rhetorical quaere concerning the procedural propriety of having the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) serve as her legal representative in the McIntosh case, and how this adversarial representation aligns with the delineated separation of powers among the three distinct branches. Regarding the crucial constitutional cornerstone of the independence of the judiciary, Madam Justice Shore stated: “Vital to the Canadian system is the impartiality of a judge... The Supreme Court of Canada has described judicial independence as 'the cornerstone, a necessary prerequisite for judicial impartiality.’” I am compelled to query, with profound institutional concern, how Madam Justice Shore's conduct met this exacting standard of impartiality when the Ministry of the Attorney General, a component of the executive branch and counsel to the Crown, acted as her legal representative in an adversarial legal proceeding involving a request for records. This represents a potential blurring of institutional boundaries that may, upon extrapolative analysis of judicial ethics, subvert the perceived impartiality. In her discourse concerning access to justice and individuals proceeding pro se (self-represented litigants), Madam Justice Shore pronounced the following: “I would be remiss in not mentioning the vital role that judges play in ensuring access to justice. More and more we are seeing self-represented litigants in our court system... Judges interpret the law, assess the evidence presented, and control how hearings and trials unfold in their courtrooms. Most important of all, judges are impartial decision-makers in the pursuit of justice.” With respect, I am constrained to pose the necessary quaere as to how Madam Justice Shore effectively discharged those aforementioned high standards of judicial fairness and objectivity during the criminal proceeding and the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA) proceeding to which I was a party. I further observe that the False Information Package adduced into evidence references “IPV” (Intimate Partner Violence) despite the established fact that no Intimate Partner Violence was present and that my former common-law spouse was no longer my partner at the material time. I verily believe that Madam Justice Shore was operating under the mistaken premise that she was the most appropriate judicial officer to preside over such an Ex Parte In Camera Hearing due to her specialized background, a belief which may have led to a regrettable failure in the impartial administration of justice.

129. I now direct attention to Exhibit “J” at page 502, which constitutes a listing of legal counsel in a historic case where the Honourable Mr. Justice Morawetz, then a Judge of the Superior Court of Justice, had granted official leave to the parents of Solicitor General Kerzner and their corporate entity to substitute and remove the firm of McCarthy Tétrault LLP as their counsel of record. The aforementioned interlocutory motion was subsequently granted, which is judicially recorded in the decision of 2010 ONSC 2356 (vide: pages 509 to 512).

ANALYSIS OF INSTITUTIONAL AND CULTURAL NEXUS (EXPANDED AND INTEGRATED)

130. This document provides a comprehensive analysis of the professional, cultural, and linguistic backgrounds of Justice of the Peace (JP) Jiri, Solicitor General (SOLGEN) Kerzner, and Madam Justice Shore. The goal is to illuminate the hypothesized complex network of affinity, institutional complementarity, and concentrated geographical leverage that allegedly facilitated the administrative actions surrounding the contested Intake Court Endorsement and the subsequent administrative cover-up.

I. MADAM JUSTICE SHORE: ALIGNMENT WITH TRADITIONAL JEWISH HERITAGE, ETHICAL FRAMEWORKS, AND THE JUDICIAL ROLE

131. Madam Justice Shore's background provides a strong cultural and linguistic foundation, which establishes significant professional capital and an intellectual framework critical for a senior judicial role.
132. Hebrew Proficiency, Textual Rigor, and Intellectual Discipline: Justice Shore's education at the Bnei Akiva Ulpanat Orot high school, a Modern Orthodox Religious Zionist institution, mandated mastery and fluency in Hebrew. This intellectual trajectory links her approach to law to a textual tradition (Talmudic law) that demands strict interpretation of text, rigorous adherence to precedent, and detailed analysis. This intellectual discipline translates directly into the expectations of a high-calibre judicial officer who values fidelity to the rule of law. This deeply embedded cultural tie reinforces her stature as a highly reliable figure within the Toronto legal echelon, whose association with any document or decision lends it an automatic layer of perceived legitimacy and unassailability.
133. Reverence for Tradition, Ethical Governance, and Public Trust: Her deep roots in this branch of Orthodox Judaism imply an ethical background rooted in a system of religious law that places a high premium on moral responsibility and precise application of rules. This philosophical grounding may predispose her approach toward precision and adherence to established legal text, but also signals a high level of trustworthiness and discipline to her community and professional network. Her proven ability to balance significant professional, familial, and volunteer responsibilities (three children, downtown practice) confirms a high-performance schedule capacity, a characteristic that further enhances her reputation as a reliable and effective judicial actor. The presence of a figure with such high-level institutional and ethical capital provides implicit security to any administrative process she is associated with, regardless of her direct involvement in its alleged flaws.

II. SOLICITOR GENERAL KERZNER: ALIGNMENT WITH POLITICAL, INSTITUTIONAL, AND DUAL GEOGRAPHICAL NEXUS POINTS

134. SOLGEN Kerzner's ministerial role places him at the apex of the administrative apparatus governing police and court services, leveraging political identity and two powerful, geographically defined institutional nexuses to exert influence.
135. The Political, Ethnic, and Communal Affinity Axis: The SOLGEN's core political base lies within the Conservative Jewish movement (Beth Tzedec). This is augmented by a secondary Eastern European/Polish affinity axis (shared with arresting officer Kolankowski), establishing non-formal, shared ethnic heritage lines that could facilitate smoother communication and deference within the operational levels of law enforcement. The most striking element is his public endorsement of a Jewish-Azerbaijani fusion event, which acts as a sanctioned cultural bridge. Given JP Jiri's potential heritage (Azerbaijani/Syrian/Lebanese) in the Kurdistan regions, this intentional political act directly integrates JP Jiri's cultural sphere into the SOLGEN's public agenda. This layering of Semitic heritage, Eastern European ethnicity, and Azerbaijani political outreach constructs a robust, implicit Cultural Affinity Network that bolsters institutional trust and cooperation.
136. Ministerial Control: The Peel Region and Central West Operational Alignment: As Solicitor General, Kerzner controls the ministry overseeing policing and correctional services. His documented heavy support for Peel Regional Police is strategically relevant because JP Jiri is posted at the Central West Region OCJ Brampton Courthouse, located squarely within the Peel Region. This creates a direct ministerial/operational alignment: the executive authority (SOLGEN) that influences regional policing strategy and resource allocation is intentionally aligned with the specific judicial location (Brampton) where JP Jiri, a former DC, works. This demonstrates the SOLGEN's systemic institutional reach to engage a compliant judicial officer within a specific regional jurisdiction prioritized by the ministry.
137. The Vertical Institutional Nexus at 25 Grosvenor Street: Executive Capture of Administrative Justice: This geographical discovery establishes a profound structural vulnerability:

138. Tribunals Ontario (TO), the records controller and administrator for the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) (which reviews enforcement actions by police/ministries), is located on the nineteenth storey (19th floor) of 25 Grosvenor Street.
139. The Solicitor General's ministry (SOLGEN) is located on the floor immediately inferior (below) TO.
140. Consequence for Independence: This physical, vertical adjacency positions the administrative hub of all provincial tribunals directly over the ministry responsible for state enforcement. This organizational proximity translates into a profound institutional nexus, fundamentally compromising any claim of independence required for to justify its non-Crown classification under PIPEDA. The structural proximity creates a clear and active risk of executive influence overriding administrative and adjudicative integrity. This risk is personified by Mr. Sean Weir's irreconcilable dual role as Head of the LAT and Executive Director of Tribunals Ontario. This Vertical Administrative Nexus reinforces the political leverage the SOLGEN's ministry exerts over the entire justice system's administrative arm, providing a second, structural focal point alongside 40 College Street. This arrangement facilitates the manipulation of judicial records and administrative processes (such as the FIPPA response and the contested endorsement) at the highest administrative levels.
141. Hypothesized Institutional Malpractice and Administrative Capture: The fraudulently modified Ontario government logo in the SOLGEN's FIPPA response points to administrative misconduct at the ministerial level. The requirement to find a compliant JP is the necessity for judicial cover. The combined leverage of the 25 Grosvenor Street structural nexus and the Peel regional alignment ensures the SOLGEN's ministry has the systemic access and leverage required to identify and engage a judicial officer—JP Jiri—who possesses the appropriate professional history and familiarity to execute the allegedly illegitimate Intake Court Endorsement. This mechanism is defined as a deliberate administrative capture of a strategically placed judicial officer for executive-level purposes.

142. Justice of the Peace Jiri's background provides the multi-layered institutional and ethnic link between the law enforcement/ministerial apparatus and the judicial process, concentrated around the primary operational hub, 40 College Street, and reinforced by his ongoing loyalty.
143. The Fusion of Heritage and Political Activation: JP Jiri's Native/bilingual proficiency in Assyrian (Neo-Aramaic) links him linguistically and historically to the Hebrew/Talmudic sphere of influence. This cultural connection is not passive; it is activated by the SOLGEN's political outreach via the Jewish-Azerbaijan fusion event. This layering ensures that JP Jiri, regardless of his specific ethnicity, is integrated into an affinity network that is both respected by the judicial establishment (Hebrew tie) and publicly endorsed by the executive (Azerbaijan tie). This intricate set of cross-cultural connections provides a robust foundation of implied trust that transcends standard, arm's-length professional interactions.
144. The Operational Apex of the 40 College Street Nexus: Active Institutional Loyalty: JP Jiri's career culminated as a Detective Constable on the Sex Crimes - Human Trafficking Enforcement Team located at the 40 College Street institutional hub. This location functions as the operational nerve center where high-stakes warrants are issued and where operational law enforcement, court logistics (Court Officer Management), and ministerial interests physically concentrate. The most significant finding is that JP Jiri continues to publicly show his connection with specialized TPS officers at 40 College Street even after his judicial appointment. This is an active display of institutional loyalty and allegiance to his former law enforcement colleagues and the administrative structure he once served. This continuing loyalty signals his utility as an institutional bridge—a judicial officer who is not perceived as independent but as an extension of the operational branch. This makes him the inevitable and highly compliant candidate for any administrative request requiring cooperation between the police and the judiciary.
145. The Mechanics of Calculated Appointment and Compliance: JP Jiri's profile is that of a calculated appointment/selection: a former Detective Constable who routinely sought judicial authorizations, now serving as a JP in the Peel Region (Brampton), a jurisdiction politically prioritized by the SOLGEN. His expertise lies in understanding the urgency and administrative needs of law enforcement warrants. This specific skillset, combined with his demonstrated institutional loyalty at the 40 College Street nexus, allowed him to be easily mobilized to execute the alleged administrative action without the friction typically associated with an independent judiciary. His specialized background provides the technical knowledge to process the contested document (Intake Court Endorsement) while his loyalty ensures the political compliance required.

SUMMARY OF CONNECTION AND INSTITUTIONAL CAPTURE

146. The alleged actions required a calculated and systematic subversion of judicial independence, made possible by a confluence of layered cultural affinity, strategically concentrated institutional leverage, and dual geographical nexuses across Toronto's administrative and operational centers.

147. The Institutional Axis operates through two critical nexuses that provide both the administrative cover and the operational point of contact:

- a. 40 College Street (Operational Nexus): Provides the point of entry and compliance, leveraging JP Jiri's active institutional loyalty to his former law enforcement colleagues to secure the judicial authorization (Endorsement) needed at the operational level.
- b. 25 Grosvenor Street (Administrative Nexus): Provides the executive control and administrative cover, leveraging the vertical adjacency of the SOLGEN's ministry and Tribunals Ontario to compromise the integrity of court logistics, records administration, and judicial review processes at the highest administrative echelons.
- c. The Cultural/Linguistic Axis provides the non-explicit foundation of trust, weaving together the Semitic heritage (Shore/Jiri), Eastern European/Polish heritage (Kerzner/Kolankowski), and Azerbaijani political outreach (Kerzner/Jiri's potential heritage) into a dense, mutually reinforcing affinity network. This dual-axis convergence—combining a reliable judicial figure (Shore), politically empowered executive influence (Kerzner), and a compliant operational bridge (Jiri)—is the hypothesized mechanism that allowed the alleged administrative action to be effectively and precisely implemented through the justice system while simultaneously establishing sophisticated layers of administrative and cultural cover.

ANALYSIS OF INSTITUTIONAL AND CULTURAL NEXUS (MAXIMAL EXPANSION AND INTEGRATION)

148. This subheading I verily believe presents a comprehensive and maximally expanded analysis of the professional, cultural, and linguistic nexus connecting Justice of the Peace (JP) Jiri, Solicitor General (SOLGEN) Kerzner, and Madam Justice Shore. The analysis aims to illuminate the hypothesized complex network of affinity, institutional complementarity, and concentrated geographical leverage that allegedly facilitated the administrative actions surrounding the contested Intake Court Endorsement and the subsequent administrative cover-up. The synthesis of evidence suggests a system of institutional capture relying on a dual axis of influence: a visible operational/administrative axis and an implicit cultural/affinity axis, operating with calculated precision.

149. I verily believe that it provides requisite background, contextual and inferential evidence to demonstrate why and how the False Information Package was falsified.

I. MADAM JUSTICE SHORE: ALIGNMENT WITH HIGH JUDICIAL INTEGRITY AND THE OPERATIONAL SHIELD

150. I declare the following on belief and cite the source of my beliefs:

- a. Madam Justice Shore's powerful background in the questionnaire posed to her in her application to become an SCJ Judge is not merely biographical; it serves a crucial, often implicit, institutional function by associating a figure of unassailable integrity and intellectual rigor with the judicial system under scrutiny. This association acts as a primary defense mechanism against accusations of systemic failure:

- i. Hebrew Proficiency, Textual Rigor, and Intellectual Discipline as an Operational Shield: Justice Shore's education at the Bnei Akiva Ulpanat Orot high school mandated mastery and fluency in Hebrew. This intellectual training is rooted in the detailed, relentless analysis of foundational texts (Talmudic tradition), which demands strict interpretation, rigorous adherence to established precedent, and granular textual analysis. This intellectual discipline is directly aligned with the highest expectations of a high-calibre judicial officer who champions fidelity to the rule of law. This deeply embedded cultural tie reinforces her stature as a figure of immense credibility within the Toronto legal echelon. The presence of an individual of her stature at the senior judicial level provides an automatic, critical layer of perceived legitimacy and unassailability to the administrative and judicial processes in which she operates. Her high integrity thus functions as a chilling shield for the entire system, making any challenge to the system's administrative output (like the Endorsement) appear less credible by forcing the challenger to effectively question the integrity of the judicial environment that includes her;

- ii. The Value of Ethical Governance and Public Trust as Political Capital (The Chilling Effect): Her deep roots in Orthodox Judaism and her confirmed capacity for balancing high professional, familial, and volunteer responsibilities (three children, downtown practice) confirms a high-performance, disciplined profile. This level of trustworthiness and discipline is immense, non-formal political capital. Her association—even if passive or indirect—lends the entire judicial structure a sense of moral ballast and robust oversight. The practical consequence of associating a process, even one allegedly flawed, with the justice system featuring an individual of her calibre is to deter scrutiny and suppress administrative oversight. This phenomenon creates a chilling effect on lower-level actors (junior counsel, journalists, court staff) who might otherwise raise alarms about administrative misconduct, as questioning the administrative process then becomes perceived as questioning a pillar of the community and the judiciary itself. This strategic leveraging of reputation is essential for minimizing legal and political fallout from alleged executive-level administrative errors.

II. SOLICITOR GENERAL KERZNER: ALIGNMENT WITH POLITICAL POWER, INSTITUTIONAL CONTROL, AND THE NEXUS STRATEGY

151. I declare the following on belief while citing the source of my belief:
 - a. SOLGEN Kerzner's ministerial role places him at the apex of the administrative and political machinery. He leverages a complex web of cultural and geographical alignments to establish de facto ministerial authority over areas nominally requiring judicial independence:
 - i. The Affinity Network as a Parallel Governance Structure—Bypassing Bureaucracy: The SOLGEN leverages a complex web of cultural ties (Conservative/Orthodox Jewish, Polish, and the publicly endorsed Jewish-Azerbaijani fusion). This layered affinity network—Semitic/Eastern European/Azerbaijani—is hypothesized to facilitate a parallel, informal governance structure used for securing sensitive outcomes outside of official ministry memoranda. This network provides a social and cultural currency that can be leveraged to secure cooperation and deferential treatment without leaving a traceable paper trail. This non-explicit, high-trust communication channel, extended by the Polish affinity axis (shared with arresting officer Kolankowski), runs vertically from the executive to the operational level of the police service, ensuring high-speed compliance. The deliberate promotion of the Jewish-Azerbaijani fusion is a political investment in maintaining this network;
 - ii. Ministerial Control, Strategic Alignment, and Resource Leverage (Peel Region): The SOLGEN's documented heavy support for Peel Regional Police dictates resource allocation, political focus, and administrative prioritization. The fact that JP Jiri is posted in Peel Region (Brampton) means he operates in a jurisdiction that is politically indebted or strategically prioritized by the ministry. This alignment ensures that the executive authority (SOLGEN) has a readily available and compliant judicial resource (Jiri) whose regional and professional success is implicitly linked to the success of the ministerial portfolio he supports. This structural reliance creates a conflict of interest at the grassroots level, undermining the arm's-length principle by replacing formal independence with political obligation;

iii. The Dual-Nexus Strategy: The Architecture of Institutional Capture: The alleged mechanism for systemic capture relies on the convergence of two distinct physical locations, each serving a unique operational function:

1. The Operational Nexus: 40 College Street (The Delivery Mechanism): This hub is where law enforcement (Jiri's former unit), court logistics (Court Officer Management), and ministerial interests physically concentrate. This concentration ensures that the request for judicial cover (the Endorsement) can be initiated and fulfilled seamlessly by an officer who literally knows the hallways and the personnel. This nexus provides the technical efficiency and low visibility required for rapid administrative subversion, where the required judicial authorization is seen as a necessary formality rather than an independent review. This is the point of execution for the administrative action;
2. The Vertical Administrative Nexus: 25 Grosvenor Street (The Cover Mechanism and Escape Valve): This is the strategic apex of administrative control, representing an Architectural Failure of Governance. Placing the SOLGEN's ministry immediately beneath Tribunals Ontario (TO), which administers the LAT (reviewing enforcement actions), creates a profound and systemic structural vulnerability. This vertical adjacency facilitates the subtle, yet powerful, exertion of executive influence over administrative justice and records management through proximity, information leakage, and co-mingling of policy and adjudication. The alleged fraudulent logo in the FIPPA response is a potential symptom of this close, unauthorized policy integration. The risk is institutionalized by the figure of Mr. Sean Weir whose dual executive role effectively merges the administrative management of Tribunals Ontario with the decision-making head of the LAT, creating a formal channel for vertical capture where administrative review is inherently compromised and executive misconduct can be successfully suppressed through record management and internal review processes. This nexus ensures the action cannot be corrected through the administrative justice system.

III. JUSTICE OF THE PEACE JIRI: THE OPERATIONAL APEX, DEFERRED LOYALTY, AND THE INSTRUMENT OF SUBVERSION

152. Justice of the Peace Jiri's professional history and specific posting make him the ideal, pre-vetted instrument for the alleged administrative actions, relying on deferred loyalty to the executive state apparatus:

- a. The Activation of Cultural Capital and Trust: JP Jiri's linguistic background (Assyrian Neo-Aramaic) and the SOLGEN's politically affirmed Jewish-Azerbaijan fusion create a highly effective, non-paper trail connection. This ensures that JP Jiri is integrated into an affinity network that is both respected (Semitic tie) and politically endorsed (Azerbaijan tie). This robust, implicit bond provides the necessary foundation of trust to proceed with an action that requires prioritizing loyalty and confidentiality over judicial impartiality;
- b. Deferred Loyalty and The Conflict with Judicial Impartiality: JP Jiri's career culminated at the 40 College Street institutional hub. His continued, active display of institutional loyalty and allegiance to specialized TPS officers at 40 College Street even after his judicial appointment signifies deferred loyalty to his former employer and the state enforcement apparatus. This loyalty dictates that he is not perceived as an impartial judicial officer but as an institutional bridge—an extension of the operational branch. This deferred allegiance makes him the predictable and compliant candidate for administrative requests because his professional identity and allegiance remain structurally tied to the needs of the police service and the executive ministry (SOLGEN's realm) that oversees it. This is a fundamental violation of the separation of powers achieved through the calculated selection of personnel;

- c. The Intake Court Endorsement as a Tool of Capture (The Mechanism of Subversion): JP Jiri's profile is that of a calculated selection based on specific expertise:
- i. Expertise in Warrants: As a former Detective Constable, he spent years seeking judicial authorizations. This grants him an innate understanding of the administrative urgency and necessary language for authorizing such documents. There is also case law where then detective constable Mr. Jiri relied on a false warrant or expired warrant;
 - ii. The Endorsement's Vulnerability: The Intake Court Endorsement is the specific instrument of capture because it is a low-profile document, usually processed quickly and routinely, relying almost entirely on the JP's personal trust in the police presenter. The swiftness and low visibility of this process, combined with JP Jiri's technical expertise, allowed the contested document to be processed efficiently and appear technically sound, providing a robust, if fraudulent, legal veneer for a politically sensitive action. This combination of technical knowledge and guaranteed compliance achieved through deferred loyalty allowed the alleged action to proceed without the friction typically expected from an independent judiciary.

IV. SYSTEMIC IMPLICATIONS: ARCHITECTURAL FAILURE, PARALLEL GOVERNANCE, AND THE EROSION OF STATE INTEGRITY

153. I declare the following on belief while citing the source of the same:
- a. The hypothesized network structure and reliance on tripartite (Legislature: SOLGEN Kerzner as a member of Legislature; Executive: TPS, OPP, court officers, et al; and Judiciary: Madam Justice Shore (not The Honourable Madam Justice Kraft) institutional nexuses point to a systemic failure where state power is leveraged through highly personalized and strategically located channels:
 - i. Systemic Erosion of Judicial Independence via Calculated Selection: The analysis details a pattern of strategic selection—using a former law enforcement officer (Jiri) posted in a ministerially favored region (Peel)—to bypass judicial independence protocols. The consequence is the creation of a de facto system where the administrative needs of the executive branch (SOLGEN) are systematically prioritized over the rights of individuals before the court. The ability of the executive to influence the effective compliance of the judiciary through regional and professional ties constitutes a direct threat to the Separation of Powers, replacing institutional checks with personal and political obligations;
 - ii. Architectural Failure of Governance at 25 Grosvenor Street: The 25 Grosvenor Street Vertical Nexus represents an architectural failure that inherently facilitates the executive control of administrative justice. This physical arrangement fundamentally compromises the structural integrity of the administrative review process. It enables the co-mingling of policy and adjudication, ensuring that any administrative misconduct originating from the SOLGEN's sphere can be contained, sanitized, and suppressed at the administrative review level (TO/LAT). This design converts judicial administration into an adjunct of ministerial policy, rendering the administrative review process incapable of correcting executive misconduct. The remedy for such an issue would require mandatory, legislated geographical and institutional separation of enforcement ministries from administrative tribunals;

- iii. The Risk of Parallel Governance: The convergence of the Cultural Affinity Network with the Dual Institutional Nexus suggests the operation of a Parallel Governance Structure. This system relies on implicit, high-trust channels (cultural ties) to direct explicit, administrative actions (Endorsement/FIPPA response) through strategically captured institutional points (40 College St / 25 Grosvenor St). This shadow structure allows the executive to execute sensitive actions while utilizing the high integrity of senior figures like Madam Justice Shore as a defensive shield against public scrutiny, fundamentally compromising the state's integrity and turning public resources toward private, specialized objectives. The consequence is a perception that justice is not blind, but is instead mediated through a dense, non-transparent network of mutual professional and cultural obligation.

SUMMARY OF CONNECTION AND INSTITUTIONAL CAPTURE

154. The alleged actions required a calculated and systematic subversion of judicial independence, made possible by a confluence of layered cultural affinity, strategically concentrated institutional leverage, and dual geographical nexuses

155. The Institutional Axis operates through two critical nexuses that provide both the administrative cover and the operational point of contact:

- a. 40 College Street (Operational Nexus): The point of execution and compliance, leveraging JP Jiri's active institutional loyalty to his former law enforcement colleagues to secure the necessary judicial authorization (Endorsement) at the operational level;
- b. 25 Grosvenor Street (Administrative Nexus): The point of executive control and administrative cover, leveraging the vertical adjacency of the SOLGEN's ministry and Tribunals Ontario to compromise the integrity of court logistics, records administration, and judicial review processes at the highest administrative echelons.
 - i. I note that the OPP are situated in the atrium of 25 Grosvenor;
 - ii. Moreover, I note that Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas operates in and around the courthouses in a capacity of liaising with judges like Shore J;

156. The Cultural/Linguistic Axis provides the non-explicit foundation of trust, weaving together the Semitic heritage, Eastern European/Polish heritage, and Azerbaijani political outreach into a dense, mutually reinforcing affinity network. This dual-axis convergence—combining a reliable judicial figure (Shore), politically empowered executive influence (Kerzner), and a compliant operational bridge (Jiri)—is the hypothesized mechanism that allowed the alleged administrative action to be effectively and precisely implemented through the justice system while simultaneously establishing sophisticated, almost impenetrable, layers of administrative and cultural cover.

EXHIBIT “K: TRIBUNALS ONTARIO: ADDRESS AT 19TH FLOOR, 25 GROSVENOR STREET, TORONTO, ONTARIO (SEE: PAGES 525 TO 561) AND THE DISTINCTION BETWEEN “NON-NATURAL PERSONS”

157. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “K” is a copy of my PIPEDA request of Tribunals Ontario and subsequent emails to the same.

158. I confirm that a comprehensive documentary package, designated and referenced herein as Exhibit “K,” incorporates, inter alia, the official streetscape coordinates for Tribunals Ontario, which are formally situated upon the Nineteenth Level of 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 2G6. I further observe that the intersecting thoroughfares proximate to this address are Bay Street and College Street West. Additionally, Exhibit “K” encompasses, commencing at page 541, my formal correspondence dated the 31st day of July, 2025, constituting a meticulously prepared request pursuant to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) and addressed directly to Tribunals Ontario. The inclusion of this correspondence within the evidentiary record is crucial for establishing the precise commencement of the statutory clock concerning the organization's duty of response, the subsequent lapse of which precipitates the fundamental breach now asserted.

159. I hereby adduce the statutory definition of the Attorney General, which, by reference to section 2 of the Criminal Code, expansively includes the office of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN). I furthermore observe the singular geographic propinquity of these respective entities, as Tribunals Ontario is demonstrably domiciled immediately one stratum above the offices occupied by the SOLGEN within the aforementioned edifice located at 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario. This material co-location establishes an inherent and problematic informational nexus, affording a facility for the unwarranted transfer or improper jurisdictional commingling of sensitive data. The sheer architectural adjacency, a fortiori when coupled with shared administrative functions, suggests a compromised barrier to the free flow of information, severely eroding the perception, if not the reality, of the organizational independence that the adjudicative function demands. I acknowledge that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), as well as cognate adjudicative tribunals, possess the delegated statutory authority, pursuant to the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (SPPA), to procure an instrument of warrant; this inherent power underscores the grave implications of placing the tribunal's core administrative and record-keeping infrastructure under the immediate physical, and hence inferentially supervisory, shadow of a law-enforcement and prosecution-adjacent body such as the SOLGEN.

160. I formally lodged a grievance under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) predicated upon the demonstrable and systemic non-compliance by Tribunals Ontario with its statutory obligation to furnish a conforming response within the prescribed thirty (30) calendar days following its receipt of my formal request; this default was definitively crystallized on the 30th day of August, 2025. I contend that, given this material lapse, and pursuant to the principles delineated within PIPEDA, Tribunals Ontario—which I consider an “organization” under section 2 thereof—is constructively deemed to have withheld access to all sought-after Personal Information. This denial, I maintain, constitutes an ongoing risk to my fundamental health, security, and safety, as contemplated, mutatis mutandis, by provisions such as section 9(4) of PIPEDA. The failure to provide access, coupled with the structural and physical proximity to the SOLGEN, creates a compelling inferential basis for the assertion that the personal information is being controlled and potentially subject to unauthorized disclosure to external governmental entities, specifically the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) or the SOLGEN, through this co-located informational conduit. This systemic institutional refusal to grant statutorily mandated access not only contravenes the principle of Openness enshrined in Schedule 1 of PIPEDA, but it further exacerbates the injurious premise that my personal data, initially entrusted to an adjudicative body, has been illicitly repurposed or made available to parties whose governmental mandate could stand in adversarial conflict with my rights as a litigant. The administrative opacity surrounding the data's storage and potential transit paths compels this extrapolation.

161. Subsequent to this institutional failure, the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada (OPCC) assigned the matter the file designation PIPEDA-050708, a designation which I formally corroborated with the directing minds of Tribunals Ontario, specifically Mr. Weir and Mr. Gosopoulos, on the 29th day of September, 2025, as is meticulously documented commencing at page 530 of Exhibit “K.” The official acknowledgement of this federal file designation by the organization's executive leadership conclusively undermines any subsequent attempt to disclaim jurisdiction or deny organizational status under the provisions of PIPEDA.

162. I have meticulously differentiated the corporate or operational status of Tribunals Ontario from that of the LAT, which operates as a purely “adjudicative tribunal.” I am constrained to believe that Tribunals Ontario is not properly amenable to the strictures of the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA) or the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), as it qualifies neither as a municipal corporation nor a designated provincial institution thereunder. I hereby syllogize that Tribunals Ontario must necessarily be governed by extant legislation pertaining to the access to information and records, particularly the access to personal information. The lacuna existing in the provincial legislative framework, which fails to adequately classify and regulate this modern, amalgamated administrative service nomenclature, leaves a critical void in data governance. Consequently, in the profound absence of a proactive declaration of exemption by the Province of Ontario concerning “Organizations” engaging in the collection, utilization, or disclosure of personal information within its jurisdiction—which would require a finding of substantially similar provincial legislation—I aver that Tribunals Ontario is irrevocably subject to the comprehensive federal regime established by PIPEDA, ensuring that a baseline of informational privacy and accountability is maintained, pari passu with similar entities across the Canadian federation.

163. I reflect upon the judicial disposition in Derenzis v. Gore Mutual et al (2025), wherein Tribunals Ontario was formally designated as a “third party” and labelled the “records holder” in the context of the motion. Notwithstanding certain ancillary references and findings articulated by The Honourable Justice Mandhane in that ruling, I maintain the reasoned conviction that Tribunals Ontario served, de facto, as the paramount “controller” of the pertinent records therein. This functional control, irrespective of the formal legal designation, signifies that the LAT's adjudicative autonomy over its own registry has been substantively subordinated to the managerial discretion of Tribunals Ontario. I extrapolate this finding to the present proceeding, establishing that Tribunals Ontario retains the corresponding status of the records holder of the evidence relevant to this instant matter. This established custodial role, where the records of a quasi-judicial body are held by a separate administrative organization, is the very structural flaw that facilitates the unauthorized, inter-organizational transmittal of data.

164. I aver that the persistent delinquency of the LAT in conforming to the requirements articulated in section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA), coupled with the express representation proffered by Ms. Lee of the LAT's registrarial office in mid-February 2025—indicating that the LAT was still attempting to devise an optimal methodology for compiling the requisite documentation from the LAT Appeal Proceeding—constitutes, in my estimation, a palpable breach of section 20 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (SPPA). This administrative prevarication not only violates the statutory timeline for filing the record but also actively impedes the supervisory jurisdiction of the superior courts under the JRPA. The inability of the LAT to marshal its own records forthwith is a potent demonstration of its loss of control over the evidentiary repository, directly attributable to the custodial function claimed by Tribunals Ontario.

165. Furthermore, I submit that the material findings rendered in Derenzis v. Gore Mutual et al (2025) were not subject to judicial contestation by either the LAT or Tribunals Ontario. The latter entity, having been represented by an internal legal advisor from the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) during the motion, essentially conceded that Tribunals Ontario exercises control over the relevant records necessary for Divisional Court proceedings. The unavoidable extrapolation from this conceded premise is that, absent the explicit authorization or requisite consent from Tribunals Ontario to obtain the records for the record of proceeding (as contemplated by section 20 of the SPPA), the LAT is functionally precluded from filing the Record of Proceeding forthwith, thereby preventing compliance with section 10 of the JRPA. The conclusion is therefore self-evident: the operational dependence of the LAT upon Tribunals Ontario for the very compilation of its official record renders the former jurisdictionally and administratively subordinate, creating a gatekeeping function ripe for institutional compromise and unauthorized data sharing with the adjacent MAG/SOLGEN interests.

166. I maintain the firm conviction that Mr. Weir, in his dual capacity—designated by the Lieutenant Governor in Council (LGIC) under the General Regulation of FIPPA as the Head of the LAT, while simultaneously serving as the Executive Director of Tribunals Ontario—is placed in an irremediable conflict of interest. This inherent incompatibility significantly impinges upon the capacity to fulfill the divergent and distinct statutory and administrative obligations owed by both the LAT and Tribunals Ontario. The role of the adjudicative head demands an unwavering commitment to judicial independence and the protection of confidential litigant data, whereas the role of Executive Director of the administrative umbrella organization necessitates efficient governmental coordination and resource management, including, by inferential necessity, alignment with broader MAG objectives. This collision of duties effectively forces a single individual to choose between the preservation of adjudicative purity and the administrative convenience of the government, fundamentally undermining the foundational principles of administrative law concerning the independence of the tribunal's operations and its insulation from executive influence.

167. I submit that Mr. Weir, in his capacity as a director of Tribunals Ontario, alongside Mr. Gosopoulos, who similarly serves as a director thereof (though not occupying the office of Head of the LAT), incurs specific accountability pursuant to PIPEDA and the Digital Privacy Act (2015) (Federal). This accountability fundamentally extends to liability that may demonstrably arise from “breaches of security safeguards” as defined under PIPEDA and the associated Breach of Security Safeguards (BSS) Regulation. The failure of a director of the records controller, Tribunals Ontario, to prevent unauthorized disclosure of personal information to co-located MAG/SOLGEN officials constitutes a direct "breach of security safeguards" by the organization, evidencing a failure to establish or maintain appropriate safeguards as stipulated in PIPEDA. The breach is not merely hypothetical; the established custodial relationship, the structural proximity, and the non-compliance with the PIPEDA request for access all contribute to the inference that the security controls necessary to prevent the unauthorized transfer of LAT records (held by Tribunals Ontario) to the SOLGEN office (on the floor below) have been critically compromised or were, ab initio, insufficient for the task. For the benefit of clarification, I reproduce the salient statutory definitions:

- a. The term “breach of security safeguards” signifies the loss of, unauthorized access to or unauthorized disclosure of personal information resulting from a breach of an organization’s security safeguards that are referred to in clause 4.7 of Schedule 1 or from a failure to establish those safeguards;
- b. The definition of an “organization” is construed broadly to include an association, a partnership, a person and a trade union; and
- c. The statutory meaning of “commercial activity” is defined as any particular transaction, act or conduct or any regular course of conduct that is of a commercial character, including the selling, bartering or leasing of donor, membership or other fundraising lists.

168. I posit that, given that Tribunals Ontario functions primarily as a designated nomenclature, it nonetheless satisfies the comprehensive definition of an “Organization” stipulated by PIPEDA. It is my firm assertion that, in practical execution, this entity operates as either the alter ego of its directorial authority or functions as an authoritative repository, controller, and custodian of records and personal information which, by operation of law, is exempted from the purview of FIPPA. This de facto arrangement, which shields the data from provincial freedom of information oversight, simultaneously subjects it to the rigorous disclosure and protection standards of federal privacy legislation

169. I further incorporate the jurisdictional breadth of Part 1 of PIPEDA, which is explicitly applicable to every organization in respect of personal information that (a) the organization collects, uses or discloses in the course of commercial activities; or (b) is about an employee of, or an applicant for employment with, the organization and that the organization collects, uses or discloses in connection with the operation of a federal work, undertaking or business. The collection and maintenance of litigant records, while not prima facie commercial, can be readily construed as part of an institutional 'business' activity, especially in the absence of a designated provincial entity. I contemporaneously acknowledge the statutory limitations enumerated in subsection 4(2) of PIPEDA, which expressly excludes certain government institutions, individuals, and organizations engaged in journalistic, artistic, or literary purposes. I furthermore underscore the supremacy clause contained in subsection 4(3) of PIPEDA, which dictates that: Every provision of this Part applies despite any provision, enacted after this subsection comes into force, of any other Act of Parliament, unless the other Act expressly declares that that provision operates despite the provision of this Part. The force of this provision is to ensure that PIPEDA applies with full vigour, overriding any subsequent non-compliant provincial enactment that fails to expressly displace its authority.

170. I must consequently conclude that the Notice of Appearance (NOA) tendered by Ms. Maciel was not executed on behalf of the LAT for purposes of formal service but rather, was effectuated upon the mandate of Tribunals Ontario. Upon this singular predicate, I believe with conviction that the ostensible service of the NOA is null and void *ab initio, as the purported representing entity lacks the requisite legal standing or proper designation to accept service on behalf of the adjudicative body.

171. Moreover, I maintain the reasoned assertion that the LAT possessed no procedural capacity to “deliver” the NOA, as it was incapable of formally “filing” the NOA with the requisite “proof of service” within the Justice Sector Online (JSO) Portal. I solemnly assert that the complete elucidation of these facts, or the facts arising therefrom, only materialized subsequent to my FIPPA request directed to the LAT in late March 2025 and the unassailed determination by the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC) that Tribunals Ontario could not stand in toto as the solitary respondent party or Institution for the purposes of FIPPA in the McLean v. LAT FIPPA proceeding. This final finding by the OIPC provides the ultimate administrative confirmation of the organizational ambiguity that underpins the entire procedural failure and highlights the illegitimate assumption of administrative control by a non-FIPPA organization over a FIPPA-subject adjudicative body.

172. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “L” is a copy of my request for Adjudicative Records under TARA of the LAT.

EXHIBIT “M”: MRI RESULTS

173. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “M” is a copy of one of my recent MRI results wherein it demonstrated that I have further issues compared to that of previous.

EXHIBIT “N”: DOCUMENTS (EMAILS) REGARDING MR. SINNADURAI AS COUNSEL TO SHORE J.

174. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “N” is a copy of my correspondence to Mr. Sinnadurai, counsel to Madam Justice Shore,

175. This exhibit includes the correspondence regarding the request for court records related to an undisclosed criminal proceeding (defined as the “Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding” or “UCP”) involving Madam Justice Shore.

176. I discussed therein the absence of documentation, potential destruction of records, and implications for judicial transparency and accountability.

VOLUME #2: MY EVIDENCE ON BELIEF RELATING TO EPSTEIN COLE LLP, EPSTEIN COLE CLIENT, AND MADAM JUSTICE SHORE

177. I verily believe that the length and detail in this statutory declaration is one that demonstrate, self-evidently in my view, that, inter alia, Madam Justice Shore had prior judicial involvement, albeit undisclosed to me, involving or relating to myself in a criminal proceeding. I verily believe that she exhibited malice and bad faith towards me by, in part, consequence of the aforementioned undisclosed prior judicial involvement with myself and by her former law firm (Epstein Cole LLP) solicitor-client relationship with Mr. Papadimitropoulos (the “Epstein Cole Client”) with Epstein Cole LLP.

178. I verily believe that Mr. Papadimitropoulos had communications with Epstein Cole LLP regarding this JRPA Proceeding and prior to the same and sought advice from them. I verily believe that he may have instructed or sought to instruct Epstein Cole LLP to influence the registry staff to insert Madam Justice Shore as a presiding judge in the criminal proceeding (ex parte in camera hearing, “Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings” and “Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Process”) involving in part a criminal complaint by the Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT against me and in the JRPA Proceeding. While I appreciate that similar fact evidence is presumptively inadmissible, I submit and will submit that the probative value in NOM #3.

179. I will be relying on the following case for the admission of the same, considering that demonstrating fraud allows for inferential and circumstantial evidence, of SecurityInChina International Corp. v. Bank of Montreal, 2019 ONSC 7183. Justice Mitchell noted that the admission of similar fact evidence requires the probative value of the evidence to outweigh the highly prejudicial effect of propensity reasoning which similar fact evidence invites. Her Honour referred to the Supreme Court of Canada’s decision in R. v. Handy, 2002 SCC 56, wherein the following factors were outlined in determining whether to admit similar fact evidence at paragraph 15 in SecurityInChina

- a. proximity in time of the similar acts
- b. extent to which the other acts are similar in detail to the charged conduct;
- c. number of occurrences of the similar acts;
- d. circumstances surrounding or relating to the similar acts;
- e. any distinctive feature(s) unifying the incidents;
- f. intervening events; and
- g. any other factor which would tend to support or rebut the underlying unity of the similar acts.

180. I note that in the SecurityInChina decision, it dealt with document discovery not at the stage of unravelling steps, document or orders made where there were unremedied irregularities, null and void case conference requests et al. I repeat and rely upon my evidence filed and served in the LAT record of proceeding relating to the involvement of the Epstein Cole Client, Epstein Cole LLP, and background and contextual evidence.

181. In McIntosh v Shore et al., 2023 ONSC 3124 as per Justice Corthorn of the East Region, Mr. Adan McIntosh (“Mr. McIntosh”) alleged that he is father of four children and for more than three years was denied time with his children. At the heart of Mr. McIntosh’s action are allegations the denial of Mr. McIntosh’s time with his children is the result of deliberate and/or intentional conduct of judges of this court (see: paragraph 4). In general, the allegations regarding the conduct of judges were squarely at Justice Shore by deliberate action at paragraph 5:

“Justice Shore disseminated “defamatory and unfounded remarks” about Mr. McIntosh to, and with the intention of influencing, her colleagues (para. 3)”

182. At paras. 6-23 of the Pleading, Mr. McIntosh makes a series of allegations related to the outcome of proceedings before Justice Shore in 2020 and 2021 (see: paragraph six).

183. The dismissal by Justice Shore, in March 2020, of an urgent motion by Mr. McIntosh for an order permitting him to see his children before the pandemic-related closure of Canada’s borders to individuals in other countries (para. 7 in the pleading) (see: paragraph six in the Justice Corthorn Decision). The dismissal by Justice Shore, in March 2020, of an urgent motion by Mr. McIntosh for an order permitting him to see his children before the pandemic-related closure of Canada’s borders to individuals in other countries (para. 7 in the pleading; see: paragraph six in the Justice Corthorn Decision). The dismissal by Justice Shore, in June 2020, of an application by Mr. McIntosh under The Hague Convention (para. 8). The January 2021 decision of Justice Shore permitting the opposing party in Mr. McIntosh’s family litigation to proceed to an uncontested trial on the issue of custody of the parties’ four children (para. 11 of the pleading) (see; paragraph six of the Justice Corthorn Decision).

184. The gravamen of the claim against Madam Justice Shore which was not dismissed in this motion was: “Mr. McIntosh alleges that, on January 12, 2021, Justice Shore sent an email to 90 judges of this court in Toronto, including the Chief Justice and the Associate Chief Justice. Mr. McIntosh alleges the email contained “inappropriate, unfounded and defamatory remarks” about him (para. 10). The remarks were also included in a Case History Report for Mr. McIntosh's family litigation. Mr. McIntosh alleges Justice Shore sent the email, and included the remarks in the Case History Report, with the intention of influencing other judges before whom Mr. McIntosh might appear (paras. 10 and 29).

185. In the Justice Corthorn Decision at the below paragraphs, Her Honour found and stated:

[34] At para. 3 of the Pleading, Mr. McIntosh describes Justice Shore as having been a judge of this court since 2018 and a lawyer since 1998. In the same paragraph, Mr. McIntosh alleges Justice Shore "has, without jurisdiction, intentionally sought to influence every judge of the Superior of Toronto to rule against the Plaintiff in ongoing legal matters, by sending defamatory and unfounded remarks."

[36] At para. 10, Mr. McIntosh begins the allegations in support of his claim against Justice Shore in defamation:

On the 12th January 2021, Defendant 1 circulated an email to all Superior Court judges in Toronto, including the other defendants, making inappropriate, unfounded and defamatory remarks against the Plaintiff. These comments were reproduced in a Case History Report in FS-19-12193 but this was not known to the Plaintiff at the time and he was not provided an opportunity to respond to the comments.

[38] Mr. McIntosh alleges that, nine months later, he learned of the January 2021 email and the Case History Report. At para. 13 of the Pleading, Mr. McIntosh makes the following allegations:

On 20th October 2021, the day of the uncontested trial Defendant 1 had ordered, the Plaintiff received an email from the assistant of Defendant 1 which contained a Case History Reports showing the inappropriate comments by Defendant 1 and indicating that these comments had been distributed to all Toronto judges. These comments cannot be repeated as it would risk undermining the impartially the adjudication of this matter.

[57] The Pleading also satisfies the third requirement for a pleading in defamation. The Pleading identifies, by name, several of the 90 judges to whom the January 2021 email is alleged to have been sent. The judges who are named include the Chief Justice and the Associate Chief Justice. For the purpose of this endorsement, it is not necessary to consider the significance, if any, of the lack of particulars of the names of all judges who received the January 2021 email and/or had access to the Case History Report.

[62] Mr. McIntosh's claim in defamation against Justice Shore is not so obviously devoid of merit on its face that it should be dismissed peremptorily at this very early stage. The action as against Justice Shore is not patently frivolous, vexatious, or abusive.

186. While I do not agree with the approach taken by Mr. McIntosh, I note some similarities in style involving Madam Justice Shore which in my view and I will submit the requirements for SFE to be admitted involving Madam Justice Shore

187. By distinction, I do not read anything that Mr. McIntosh had any issues involving a pre-existing conflict of interest or Madam Justice Shore issuing an undisclosed and unretained “signed arrest warrant” involving myself despite continued due diligence efforts to obtain the same.

188. I again note that Mr. Sinnadurai was sole counsel to the Defendants inclusive of Madam Justice Shore.

VOLUME #2(B): MOTION UNDER COURT FILE NO.: CV-23-692870

189. I note in the second motion involving Madam Justice Shore as a defendant in 2023 when Mr. Sinnadurai was counsel to the Defendants, it as heard in writing on June 4, 2023, with reasons for decision issued on June 14, 2023. before Justice C. MacLeod. Therein, MacLeod J. referred to Madam Justice Shore was the Toronto Family Team Leader.

190. While I again do not agree with the approach of Mr. McIntosh, I note the reference to the MAG representing judges of the Superior Court of Justice. Unlike the decisions herein, I was and am making request for court records, information et al involving an undisclosed criminal proceeding in an ex parte in camera hearing, “Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings”, and “Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Process”.

191. I note the following at paragraph eight:

[8] The second reason I am dismissing the motion is that the recusal motion is also frivolous and should be dismissed under Rule 2.1. Just because a judge has previously ruled against a litigant is not grounds to allege bias and does not give rise to the appearance of bias. The idea that no judge acting at the direction of the Chief Justice can hear a matter is, on its face, impossible of success because every judge of the Superior Court operates under the direction of the Chief Justice whose duty it is to direct the sittings of the court and the assignment of judges.

192. I distinguish between that principle cited by The Honourable Regional Senior Justice MacLeod in that I appreciate that solely because a judge has ruled against a litigant is not grounds to allege bias or given rise to an appearance of bias versus an undisclosed prior judicial involvement as alleged against Madam Justice Shore. I note the case law regarding the usage of the word of a “strident” adverse finding against an individual.

193. Moreover, my NOM #3 is currently and will be grounded in its perfected form on grounds of fraud, specifically fraudulent misrepresentation by omission (i.e. the failure of Madam Justice Shore to disclose her prior judicial involvement with myself which would not be limited to hearing and considering an “Ex Parte In Camera Hearing” and issuing a “warrant in the first” by the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic], albeit falsified post facto by unknown authors utilizing manipulation software known at the time as “GrapeCity.PDF”.

194. I also note by obiter of the Honourable RSJ of the East Region MacLeod that a non-filed motion may not be before the court:

[9] The motion may not be properly before the court because it does not appear to have been filed with the Registrar in Toronto

195. I rely on the same with respect to the failure to “file” by some or all of the Respondents.

Volume #2(C): Epstein Cole LLP

196. I note the following regarding Epstein Cole LLP from its website:

“Philip M. Epstein and Kenneth Cole founded Epstein Cole in 1978 as a boutique litigation firm. As the firm’s family law practice grew, Philip and Ken recognized that this area of law was multi-disciplinary, highly reputation-based and critical to the fabric of social justice.

Epstein Cole has been instrumental in shaping family law in Canada through representation in precedent-setting cases, law reform and decades of educating and mentoring family law practitioners. We have a long-standing tradition of giving back through speaking and teaching, service work on various not-for-profit/charitable boards, chairing of legal programs nationally, committee work and partnering on initiatives to enhance access to justice for family law litigants.

We have also been at the forefront of alternate dispute resolution development in the family law field.

Five of our former lawyers have been appointed as Judges in Ontario, three of whom are currently sitting.”

197. I note that those three former lawyers (partners) of Epstein Cole LLP that are currently sitting are:

- a. SCJ (Toronto Region):
 - i. The Honourable Madam Justice Kraft;
 - ii. Madam Justice Shore; and
- b. ONCA:
 - i. The Honourable Justice Madam Madsen.

198. I note in relation to the ONCA Honourable Judge that she was a lawyer at Epstein Cole LLP but that was based primarily in her legal career in London, Ontario:

“Prior to her appointment to the Superior Court, Justice Madsen was the principal of Bluewater Mediation, based in London, Ontario, where she was a mediator, arbitrator, and trainer in the alternative dispute resolution field. Prior to founding Bluewater Mediation, she practiced family law at Epstein Cole, LLP.”

VOLUME #3: SUBSTANTIVE AVERMENTS PERTAINING TO PROCEDURAL INTEGRITY

199. Now produced again to me and marked as Exhibit “A” is correspondence meticulously transmitted to the attention of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (“LAT” or “Adjudicative Tribunal”) and the Respondent Insurance Companies (together defined as the “Non-Appearing Respondents”), with a copy of the Divisional Court, by the relevant email with a copy to the Attorney General of Ontario (“AGO”) and Attorney General of Canada (the “AGC”), concerning the presumed or alleged fact or discovery that the Non-Appearing Respondents did not formally “deliver” (see: Rule 1.03 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, “deliver” means serve and file with proof of service, and “delivery” has a corresponding meaning), or “file” any Notices of Appearance (“NOAs”), notwithstanding the purported service of the LAT’s NOA on the 27th day of November, 2024, and the Respondent Insurance Companies’ purported service on the 3rd day of December, 2024.

200. I verily believe that the formal procedural prerequisite for participation in a judicial review, which necessitates the dual acts of “filing” the NOA with the Court registry, in compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure, and the subsequent service of the court “filed”, date-stamped document upon all necessary parties, must be perfected as strictly stipulated under the strictures of the Rules of Civil Procedure, specifically Rule 16.01 and Rule 38.07(1) and (2).

201. I verily believe that the mere act of “service”, even if provable, when absent corresponding formal “filing” with the Court registry and the requisite proof of service upon the Applicant, may be definitively construed as a procedural nullity in law.

202. This formal communication, dispatched on the 26th day of October, 2025, remains, to the date of this Declaration, wholly unanswered by the Non-Appearing Respondents. I verily believe that the protracted passage of time subsequent to this formal requisition compels the reasoned and jurisprudentially sound deduction that no Notices of Appearance were either “delivered” or “filed” (with requisite proof of service) in accordance with the mandatory provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure. I verily believe that the procedural integrity of this judicial forum is herein submitted as necessitating that the demonstrated absence of a properly perfected NOA on the part of the Respondents ineluctably renders their subsequent steps, documents or orders of the Divisional Court void ab initio. I verily believe that such failure establishes a fundamental jurisdictional defect that, under prevailing caselaw, vitiates their standing in this JRPA Proceeding. I verily believe that any subsequent actions undertaken by the Respondents, being rooted in this jurisdictional nullity, are themselves nullities, requiring the Court to disregard all subsequent submissions ex debito justitiae and to unravel the same. I note that my legal position in this regard is distinct from my position, legal in nature, relating to the alleged fraud, bribery and extortion by the Respondents – some or all as particularized herein and previously. I verily believe that the invocation of the principle of nemo debet bis vexari pro una et eadem causa (no one should be twice vexed for one and the same cause) is herein deemed inapplicable to parties demonstrably failing to submit to the jurisdiction in the prescribed manner. I verily believe that this particularized non-compliance is not a minor deviation, but constitutes a profound and irreparable procedural irregularity that warrants summary and definitive relief against the defaulting parties. I verily believe that the impugned conduct of the Respondents, and where applicable the Divisional Court and Madam Justice Shore are unprecedented. I verily believe that the failure of the Respondents to observe the strict temporal and procedural mandates of the Rules creates an asymmetrical prejudice, effectively granting the defaulting parties an undue extension of time and a tactical advantage at the expense of my pursuit of justice. I verily believe that the jurisprudence governing the interpretation of the Rules mandates that where a procedural step is explicitly cast in mandatory language, as are the NOA requirements, non-compliance results in an automatic forfeiture of participatory rights, regardless of whether the Applicant can prove actual prejudice. In the alternative, I verily believe that the necessity of expending time, resources, and legal effort to bring this specific jurisdictional defect to the Court’s attention, subsequent to the issuance of the Court File Number, constitutes manifest prejudice per se, thereby justifying the requested relief of having all subsequent submissions of the defaulting parties struck from the record. I verily believe that the requirement to perform the mandated procedural steps—”filing” with the Court and serving the “filed” document—is a non-derogable condition precedent to the exercise of defence rights in this Court. I verily believe the Respondents’ subsequent, unauthorized participation constitutes a further abuse of the Court’s process, as they are acting in flagrant disregard of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

203. I verily believe that this defect is of such a fundamental nature that it is deemed incapable of conferring standing or legitimate participatory rights upon the defaulting parties, thereby compromising the formal commencement of their defence (see: Rule 77.03, wherein “Defence” includes a notice of intent to defend, a statement of defence, a notice of appearance [defined herein as a “NOA” or “Appearance Notice”] and a notice of motion in response to a proceeding).

204. I verily believe that if it is correct that neither of the Non-Appearing Respondents “filed” a “First Defence” as that defined phrase is interpreted under Rule 77 of the Rules of Civil Procedure then it was impossible as a matter of law for this JRPA Proceeding to have been assigned for case management as per Rule 77.05.

VOLUME #3(A): DEFINITIONS UNDER THE COURTS OF JUSTICE ACT

205. I note the definitions under the CJA:

“1 (1) In this Act,

“action” means a civil proceeding that is not an application and includes a proceeding commenced by,

(a) claim,

(b) statement of claim,

(c) notice of action,

(d) counterclaim,

(e) crossclaim,

(f) third or subsequent party claim, or

(g) divorce petition or counterpetition; (“action”)

“application” means a civil proceeding that is commenced by notice of application or by application; (“requête”)

“defendant” means a person against whom an action is commenced; (“défendeur”)

“hearing” includes a trial; (“audience”)

“motion” means a motion in a proceeding or an intended proceeding; (“motion”)

“order” includes a judgment or decree; (“ordonnance”)

“plaintiff” means a person who commences an action; (“demandeur”)

206. I note that under the enabling statute, an “Application” is not an “Action”.
207. I note that a “defendant”, under the enabling statute, is not a “respondent”. I note that a “respondent” is not defined under the CJA. I verily believe the reason for the same by the Legislature was and is that the likes of a JRPA Application is not against the Respondents per se but seeking a review of the adjudicative conduct of a tribunal; particularly herein the Adjudicative Tribunal (LAT).
208. I note the distinction between a “motion” and an “Application”. In this JRPA Application, I “delivered” two notices of motion which were unopposed by the Respondents which included the LAT.
209. I note the definition of “Order” which includes a “Judgment” or “decree”. “Decree” is not defined under the CJA or the Rules of Civil Procedure but “Judgment” (see: Rule 1.03, ““judgment” means a decision that finally disposes of an application or action on its merits and includes a judgment entered in consequence of the default of a party”) is.
210. I adopt the definition of “decree” from Black’s Law Dictionary which is:
- “In practice. The judgment of a court of equity or admiralty, answering to the judgment of a court of common law. A decree in equity is a sentence or order of the court, pronounced on hearing and understanding all the points in issue, and determining the right of all the parties to the suit, according to equity and good conscience. Decree is the judgment of a court of equity, and is, to most intents and purposes, the same as a judgment of a court of common law. A decree, as distinguished from an order, is final, and is made at the hearing of the cause, whereas an order is interlocutory, and is made on motion or petition”
(see: <https://thelawdictionary.org/decree/>)

Volume #3(B): Administrative Regions in Ontario

211. For purposes of having this Divisional Court determine the issue, arising or discovered post facto March 2025, as to whether Madam Justice Shore had undisclosed to me prior judicial involvement involving or relating to myself, I rely on the distinctions between regions under Designation of Regions, RRO 1990, Reg 186 et seq. I note that the LGIC was entitled to make this regulation pursuant to section 79.1(2) of the CJA.
212. I re-declare my belief, current to today’s date, that Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri was not the authorizing and issuing justice of the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] but rather it was a distinct and different judge of the SCJ which I believe was Madam Justice Shore at time prior to the commencement of the JRPA Proceeding and prior to October 2, 2024.

213. I note that JP Jiri was appointed by provincial government of Ontario to be a JP in January 2024. I note that he was assigned to the Central West Region and specifically the OCJ Brampton Courthouse.

214. I note that the Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Criminal Code Form 2 was apparently declared by Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas on September 23, 2024 at 11:49 a.m. I note that the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] was apparently issued and “digitally signed” [sic], albeit without a digital signature by JP Jiri at 12:59 p.m. on Monday, September 23, 2024.

215. The Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Criminal Code Form 2 included declared facts under ss. 508.1(2) which were not precise or accurate based upon my direct knowledge of what occurred on or around (whatever that means in fact or at law) September 22, 2024.

VOLUME #3(B): DEFINITIONS UNDER THE RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

216. I note the definitions under the Rules of Civil Procedure:

“action” means a proceeding that is not an application and includes a proceeding commenced by,

- (a) statement of claim,
- (b) notice of action,
- (c) counterclaim,
- (d) crossclaim, or
- (e) third or subsequent party claim; (“action”)

“appellant” means a person who brings an appeal;

“appellate court” means the Court of Appeal or the Divisional Court, as the circumstances require;

“applicant” means a person who makes an application; (“requérant”)

“application” means a proceeding commenced by notice of application; (“requête”)

“county” includes a district, a regional or district municipality, and the City of Toronto; (“comté”)

“court” means the court in which a proceeding is pending and, in the case of a proceeding in the Superior Court of Justice, includes an associate judge; (“tribunal”)

“defendant” means a person against whom an action is commenced; (“défendeur”)

“deliver” means serve and file with proof of service, and “delivery” has a corresponding meaning; (“remettre”, “remise”)

“document” includes data and information in electronic form; (“document”)

“electronic” includes created, recorded, transmitted or stored in digital form or in other intangible form by electronic, magnetic or optical means or by any other means that has capabilities for creation, recording, transmission or storage similar to those means, and

“electronically” has a corresponding meaning; (“électronique”, “par voie électronique”)

“factum” includes a book of authorities, if one is required by rule 4.06.1; (“mémoire”)
 “hearing” means the hearing of an application, motion, reference, appeal or assessment of costs, or a trial; (“audience”)
 “judge” means a judge of the court but does not include an associate judge; (“juge”)
 “judgment” means a decision that finally disposes of an application or action on its merits and includes a judgment entered in consequence of the default of a party; (“jugement”)
 “motion” means a motion in a proceeding or an intended proceeding; (“motion”)
 “moving party” means a person who makes a motion; (“auteur de la motion”)
 “order” includes a judgment; (“ordonnance”)
 “originating process” means a document that commences a proceeding under these rules, and includes,
 (a) a statement of claim,
 (b) a notice of action,
 (c) a notice of application,
 (d) an application for a certificate of appointment of estate trustee, a small estate certificate or an amended small estate certificate,
 (e) a counterclaim against a person who is not already a party to the main action, and
 (f) a third or subsequent party claim, but does not include a counterclaim that is only against persons who are parties to the main action, a crossclaim or a notice of motion; (“acte introductif d’instance”) “person” includes a party to a proceeding; (“personne”)
 “plaintiff” means a person who commences an action; (“demandeur”)
 “proceeding” means an action or application; (“instance”)
 “registrar” means the Registrar of the Divisional Court or Court of Appeal, or a local registrar of the Superior Court of Justice, as the circumstances require;
 “respondent” means a person against whom an application is made or an appeal is brought, as the circumstances require;
 “responding party” means a person against whom a motion is made;
 “statute” includes a statute passed by the Parliament of Canada;
 “timetable” means a schedule for the completion of one or more steps required to advance the proceeding (including delivery of affidavits of documents, examinations under oath, where available, or motions), established by order of the court or by written agreement of the parties that is not contrary to an order;

217. I note that the LAT was a “responding party” to my NOM #1 on January 23, 2025.
218. I note that the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies were “responding parties” to my NOM #3 on January 31, 2025.
219. Neither opposed by any “service” of any documents or “delivered” the same as I was not “served” with any documents and I do not believe that they filed, with proof of service, any documents in relation to NOM #1 or NOM #2.

VOLUME #3(C): THE JRPA

220. I note the following definitions under the JRPA:

Definitions

1 In this Act,

“application for judicial review” means an application under subsection 2 (1); (“requête en révision judiciaire”)

“court” means the Superior Court of Justice; (“Cour”)

“licence” includes any permit, certificate, approval, registration or similar form of permission required by law; (“autorisation”)

“municipality” has the same meaning as in the Municipal Affairs Act; (“municipalité”)

“party” includes a municipality, association of employers, a trade union or council of trade unions which may be a party to any of the proceedings mentioned in subsection 2 (1); (“partie”)

“statutory power” means a power or right conferred by or under a statute,

(a) to make any regulation, rule, by-law or order, or to give any other direction having force as subordinate legislation,

(b) to exercise a statutory power of decision,

(c) to require any person or party to do or to refrain from doing any act or thing that, but for such requirement, such person or party would not be required by law to do or to refrain from doing,

(d) to do any act or thing that would, but for such power or right, be a breach of the legal rights of any person or party; (“compétence légale”)

“statutory power of decision” means a power or right conferred by or under a statute to make a decision deciding or prescribing,

(a) the legal rights, powers, privileges, immunities, duties or liabilities of any person or party, or

(b) the eligibility of any person or party to receive, or to the continuation of, a benefit or licence, whether the person or party is legally entitled thereto or not, and includes the powers of an inferior court. (“compétence légale de décision”) R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 1; 2002, c. 17, Sched. F, Table; 2006, c. 19, Sched. C, s. 1 (1).

221. I note that the LAT was permitted to be a party, by statute (see: section 9(2) of the JRPA)) but if, as I believe, it did not “file” and “deliver” a NOA, then my position for NOM #3 remains that it forfeited its right to be a party herein.

222. I remain of the view that it was and is required to file the “record of proceeding” as per section 10 of the JRPA (see: “Record to be filed in court” 10 When notice of an application for judicial review of a decision made in the exercise or purported exercise of a statutory power of decision has been “served” on the person making the decision, such person shall forthwith file in the court for use on the application the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 10”).

223. The “decisions” that were made that were and remain at issue are those decisions that I provided to the Divisional Court, by way of “intake process”, and in my Application Record on December 10, 2024, and in the motion records in NOM #1 and NOM #2.

224. The fact arising or discovered post March 2025 is that there are Two Undisclosed Motion Orders that remain undisclosed to me which were, prima facie (by the purported “register of proceedings” provided to me in late February 2025)

225. I note Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 1.02, “Application of Rules”, “Court of Appeal and Superior Court of Justice

1.02 (1) These rules apply to all civil proceedings in the Court of Appeal and in the Superior Court of Justice, subject to the following exceptions:

1. They do not apply to proceedings in the Small Claims Court, which are governed by Ontario Regulation 258/98 (Rules of the Small Claims Court).
2. They do not apply to proceedings governed by Ontario Regulation 114/99 (Family Law Rules), except as provided in those rules.
3. They do not apply if a statute provides for a different procedure. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 1.02 (1); O. Reg. 484/94, s. 1; O. Reg. 288/99, s. 1 (1, 2); O. Reg. 292/99, s. 1 (1, 2); O. Reg. 131/04, s. 1 (1, 2); O. Reg. 394/09, s. 1.

226. I note that section 10 of the JRPA, which is a statute, provides for a procedure of forthwith filing by the tribunal with the court. As such, I remain of the view and belief that the LAT was and is required to file the record of proceeding.

VOLUME #3(D): DISTINCTIONS BETWEEN THE SCJ AND THE DIVISIONAL COURT

227. I note the distinctions between the SCJ and Divisional Court as per section the JRPA, ss. 6(1) and (2).

228. I now reproduce the following subsections:

“Application to Divisional Court
6 (1) Subject to subsection (2), an application for judicial review shall be made to the Divisional Court. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 6 (1).
Application to judge of Superior Court of Justice
(2) An application for judicial review may be made to the Superior Court of Justice with leave of a judge thereof, which may be granted at the hearing of the application, where it is made to appear to the judge that the case is one of urgency and that the delay required for an application to the Divisional Court is likely to involve a failure of justice. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 6 (2); 2006, c. 19, Sched. C, s. 1 (1).

229. I note that I made my JRPA Application to the Divisional Court on November 15, 2024.

230. I sought leave by Requisition #2 (December 24, 2024, to have my JRPA Application heard before a single judge of the SCJ. At said time, I had filed and paid for my “Certificate Of Perfection” but the Registrar or Clerk Of the Court for the Divisional Court had not represented to me that she had complied with Rule 68.05(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure by placing the JRPA Application on a ‘listing for hearing’ (a “Hearing List”). Moreover, I inquired as to whether Madam Clerk Clegg had sent out via “mail” the Form 68(B) to provide an approximate date to myself and the persons listed in the “Certificate Of Perfection”, which was “delivered”, in that I served (on December 13, 2024), filed (December 13, 2024), and with proof of service (December 16, 2024) the “Certificate Of Perfection”, by December 16, 2024.

231. I note Rule 68.05(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure states:

“(2) When the certificate of perfection has been filed, the registrar shall place the application on a list for hearing and give notice of listing for hearing (Form 68B) by mail to the parties and the other persons named in the certificate of perfection. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 68.05 (2).”

232. I note that “filed” is distinct from “delivered”.

233. I verily believe that “shall is mandatory.

234. I verily believe at said time that none of the Respondents were “parties” as I now verily believe that none of the Respondents filed a “First Defence”.

235. I note that Form 68(B) is a “Notice of Listing for Hearing (Judicial Review), sates the following:

“Form 68B
Courts of Justice Act
notice of listing for hearing (Judicial review) (General heading)
notice of listing for hearing

THIS APPLICATION FOR JUDICIAL REVIEW HAS BEEN PERFECTED and has been listed for hearing at (place) (or by telephone conference or by video conference). You may ascertain from my office the approximate date of hearing.

Date Signed by

Registrar of the Divisional Court
(Address of court office)

TO (Name, address and email address (if any) of every person listed in the certificate of perfection)

RCP-E 68B (September 1, 2020)

236. By my Requisition #1, I sought to compel the Registrar or Madam Clerk Clegg to comply with her duties as per Rule 4.08 of the Rules of Civil Procedure which states:

“Requisition

4.08 Where a party is entitled to require the registrar to carry out a duty under these rules, the party may do so by filing a requisition (Form 4E) and paying the prescribed fee, if any. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 4.08.

237. I verily believe that I was a “party” at said time and I am entitled to require the Registrar to carry out a “duty” (by the word “shall”) under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

238. I verily believe that the Registrar or Madam Clerk Clegg of the Divisional Court, with context now, committed fraud by not carrying out her duties by the following:

- a. Stamping my Requisition #1 within five business days of receipt in the JSO Portal;
- b. Stamping some one month later but only after Madam Justice Shore volitionally and unilaterally, as alleged, inserted herself into this JRPA Proceeding;
- c. Stamping Requisition #1 after the misrepresentations made to me involving the mandatory nature of case management (see: mid January 2025);
- d. Still not completing and signing the Form 68(B) from the date of December 16, 2024, to the date of stamping of Requisition #1 and thereafter.

239. I verily believe that Madam Justice Shore was responsible, in part, for misdirecting Madam Clerk Clegg by reference to the following including but not limited to:

- a. Madam Justice Shore was entitled to the case management judge;

240. I note at my statutory declaration of October 13, 2025, at page 659 of the exhibits Ms. Lawrence represented the following on December 3, 2024:

“Good afternoon,

This has been received with the court. Please be advised that requests to schedule a case conference is subject to approval by the case management Judge and dates are only provided once it has been approved. Parties will receive further case management directions in due course.

241. I verily believe that at said time (or thereafter for that matter) that the LAT had not “delivered” an NOA as it had only purportedly served me with an NOA (i.e. wrong email). As such, I do not believe that the LAT had filed its NOA at said time.

242. As such, I verily believe that the LAT was precluded from making a request for a case conference as no “First Defence” had been filed at said time.

243. The Respondent Insurance Companies did not serve their NOA until later that day on December 3, 2024.

VOLUME #3(E): REGIONAL SENIOR JUDGES, JUDGES AND ASSOCIATE JUDGES AND INTERPLAY WITH THE DIVISIONAL COURT VERSUS THE SUPERIOR COURT OF JUSTICE

244. I note the definition of “judge” means “a judge of the court but does not include an associate judge” (formerly a “master”) (see: Rule 1.03 of the Rules of Civil Procedure).

245. I note the following under the CJA

Composition of Superior Court of Justice

12 (1) The Superior Court of Justice consists of,

(a) the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice, who shall be president of the Superior Court of Justice;

(b) the Associate Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice;

(c) a regional senior judge of the Superior Court of Justice for each region;

(d) the Senior Judge of the Family Court; and

(e) such number of judges of the Superior Court of Justice as is fixed under clause 53 (1) (a). 1998, c. 20, Sched. A, s. 22 (2).

246. I note the reference to “President” of the SCJ.

247. I note the following under section 14 of the CJA:

“Chief Justice, Associate Chief Justice and regional senior judges of Superior Court of Justice; Senior Judge of Family Court

Powers and duties of Chief Justice

14 (1) The Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice shall direct and supervise the sittings of the Superior Court of Justice and the assignment of its judicial duties. 1998, c. 20, Sched. A, s. 22 (3).

Regional senior judges

(2) A regional senior judge of the Superior Court of Justice shall, subject to the authority of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice, exercise the powers and perform the duties of the Chief Justice in respect of the Superior Court of Justice in his or her region. 1998, c. 20, Sched. A, s. 22 (3).

Delegation

(3) A regional senior judge of the Superior Court of Justice may delegate to a judge of the Superior Court of Justice in his or her region the authority to exercise specified functions. 1998, c. 20, Sched. A, s. 22 (3).

248. As per the JRPA distinguishing between the Divisional Court and the SCJ, I note in supplementation to the same the following under section 16 of the CJA:

Composition of court for hearings

16 A proceeding in the Superior Court of Justice shall be heard and determined by one judge of the Superior Court of Justice. R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, s. 16; 1994, c. 12, s. 4; 1996, c. 25, s. 9 (16, 17).

249. In supplementing the above, I note the following under section 18 of the CJA:

“Divisional Court

Divisional Court

18 (1) The branch of the Superior Court of Justice known as the Divisional Court is continued under the name Divisional Court in English and Cour divisionnaire in French. R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, s. 18 (1); 1996, c. 25, s. 9 (17).

Same

(2) The Divisional Court consists of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice, who is president of the Divisional Court, the associate chief justice and such other judges as the Chief Justice designates from time to time. 1994, c. 12, s. 5; 1996, c. 25, s. 9 (14); 1998, c. 20, Sched. A, s. 3.

Jurisdiction of judges

(3) Every judge of the Superior Court of Justice is also a judge of the Divisional Court. R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, s. 18 (3); 1996, c. 25, s. 9 (17).

250. I note the change under ss. 18(1) of the CJA in 1996.
251. I note that the RSJ’s of the Superior Court of Justice, of which there are eight (8) regions are NOT part of the Divisional Court as per statute.
252. I verily believe that this is a distinction with a difference when considering the interpretation of the Rules of Civil Procedure most specifically but not limited to Rule 77.05 and .06.
253. I verily believe that dovetails with the language utilized by Ms. Lawrence of “case management judge” which I do not believe is “one and the same” with the “regional senior judge”. I note Ms. Lawrence’s reference to “the” ‘case management judge’ and not “a” ‘case management judge’.

254. Ergo, I verily believe that Madam Justice Shore was “the” ‘case management judge” that received the, as I alleged, null and void LAT request for a case conference. I verily believe that it was null and void as I do not believe that a “First Defence” was “filed” at said time.

255. Moreover, I verily believe and now allege with the benefit of the non-responsiveness of the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies to the Exhibit “A” letter that Madam Justice Shore knew or ought to have known that no “First Defence” was filed.

256. I verily believe that the exclusion of the regional senior judge from the analytical matrix under Rule 77.05 in a Divisional Court Proceeding, along with an Associate Judge from a Divisional Court Proceeding, leads only a “judge”. As per there not being a multitude of judges in the Divisional Court in the Toronto Region (City of Toronto (see: rule 77.02(1)(2.)), I verily believe that Madam Justice Shore’s purported ‘directing’ on January 7, 2025, of the “parties” [sic] to appear before her meant that she was “the case management judge” that purported to exercise, as I allege, a non-existent right under the Rules of Civil Procedure to “Assign the JRPA Proceeding for Case Management”. I verily believe that it is common ground by the, as I allege, null and void LAT request (see: supra for language by Ms. Lawrence of the Divisional Court (Room 174)) for case management, that there was no consent. I verily believe that there no “parties” at said time. Ergo, I verily believe that Rule 77.05(1) was inapplicable.

257. Ergo, I verily believe that the only potential that a Divisional Court JRPA proceeding, where there was no consent between parties, could be “assigned for case management” is by three conjunctive requires:

- a. A “Notice Of Appearance” must have been “filed” by at least one respondent (the “First Defence Requirement”);
- b. Only after that, a “Judge” must direct that the Divisional Court JRPA proceeding is assigned for case management under Rule 77.05(2) by:
 - i. his or her own initiative; or
 - ii. at the request of a party;
 1. If the latter, the requestor must be a “party”;
- c. Only if the requestor is a party, that the request is made to the Divisional Court;

258. In order for the requirement of “Assignment to Individual Management by a Judge” under Rule 77.06 to be invoked (i.e. a single judge as a “case management judge”) to be involved, I verily believe that Rule 77.05 is a prerequisite. I verily believe that the RSJ would be inapplicable under Rule 77.06(1).

259. I note that under Rule 77.06.

260. Hence why Madam Justice Shore instructed or directed Madam Clerk Clegg to misrepresent that all cases in the Divisional Court were subject to case management.

VOLUME #3(F):THE DOCTRINE OF ADVERSE INFERENCE AND TACIT ACKNOWLEDGMENT

261. I verily believe that the failure of the Respondents to proffer a substantive and documented response to the formal demand for evidentiary proof—specifically, the “filed” and “delivered” NOAs, which are documents necessarily within their immediate custody and control—constitutes a significant and material procedural impediment. I verily believe that this omission is herewith submitted as directly triggering the venerable adverse inference doctrine, a rule of evidence essential to the effective administration of justice and frequently employed against parties who possess a monopoly of knowledge over critical facts. I verily believe that this doctrine permits the most unfavourable inference permissible in the circumstances to be drawn against a party who, having access to material evidence and possessing the legal or practical ability to produce it, deliberately refrains from its production. I verily believe that the Non-Appearing Respondents’ persistent and protracted silence in the face of a direct and fundamental procedural challenge is advanced as a compelling, if not conclusive, illustration of this principle in its application, thereby effecting a shift in the evidential burden. I verily believe that the intentional suppression of the NOA’s, if determined by the Court to be willful, suggests that their production would demonstrably reveal a defect fatal to the Respondents’ standing, thereby confirming the Applicant’s assertion of void ab initio. I verily believe that the tacit acknowledgment inherent in this silence is jurisprudentially equivalent to an admission of the non-existence of the correctly ““filed”” and ““delivered”” documents. Furthermore, I verily believe that the silence operates as an admission against interest, as it is contrary to the presumed procedural conduct of sophisticated litigants represented by Crown counsel and major corporate legal departments. Having noted the connection between Mr. Sinnadurai, a 2011 call to the LSO, and Madam Justice Shore, I verily believe that his, inter alia, requests that I only communicate with him regarding the discovery of the undisclosed judge of the “Ex Parte In Camera Hearing”, and now determined to be ““Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings”“ and ““Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Process” were predicated on him knowing of the prior judicial involvement, albeit undisclosed to me, involving Madam Justice Shore. I verily believe that the deliberate institutional decision to not dispel this critical procedural cloud, when the remedy (producing the “filed” NOA) is simple and immediate, transcends mere administrative negligence and points towards a calculated litigation strategy of passive obstruction. I verily believe that the Court is therefore invited to apply the adverse inference rule with maximal stringency, holding that the Non-Appearing Respondents intentionally concealed the non-existence of the NOAs, thereby confirming the Applicant’s jurisdictional objection in toto. This doctrine finds its most potent application where, as here, the non-produced document (the NOA) is simple, statutory, and directly relevant to the producing party’s right to participate, making its withholding almost irrefutable proof of its non-existence or fatally defective condition.

VOLUME #3(G): APPREHENSION OF BIAS AND JUDICIAL IMPROPRIETY COMORBID WITH FRAUD

262. I verily believe that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore was and is posited as possessing prior knowledge of the Respondents’ failure to file and/or “deliver” their NOAs, an apprehension sustained by a constellation of antecedent and concurrent circumstances that, when viewed cumulatively through the lens of the informed objective observer, give rise to a reasonable and unavoidable perception of institutional bias. I verily believe that the applicable legal test for bias is the reasonable apprehension of bias test, which requires the Court to determine whether a reasonable person, fully apprised of the facts, would conclude that the judicial officer’s impartiality was impaired. Hence, I verily believe that my continued diligence, assiduousness and meticulousness remains imperative to ensure that my NOM #3 is not conducted ‘in the dark’. I verily believe that litigation, particularly civil litigation, is a truth seeking exercise. I verily believe that the assessment of impartiality must be a rigorous one, ensuring that justice is not only done but is manifestly and undoubtedly seen to be done.

263. Firstly, the antecedent professional affiliation of Madam Justice Shore as legal counsel to the former Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule (SABS) manager for the Respondent Insurance Companies necessarily engenders a demonstrable and disqualifying apprehension of partiality. I verily believe that this prior engagement with a key corporate functionary, a manager under the Insurance Act in relation to automobile insurance in Ontario, of the adverse party introduces a degree of familiarity and conflict that contravenes the highest standards of judicial ethics and jeopardizes the impartiality of the tribunal, particularly in matters touching upon the conduct of that specific manager. I verily believe that the impugned conflict of interest is not merely technical but goes to the heart of the factual disputes in the underlying LAT proceeding. I verily believe that this prior professional engagement, which may have encompassed confidential knowledge of the corporate defendant's litigation strategies, policies, or key personnel performance (including the former SABS manager), imposes an ipso facto duty upon the judicial officer to voluntarily disclose this relationship and formally recuse herself from all matters related to the Respondent Insurance Companies, particularly where the underlying dispute involves the very SABS file managed by her former client. I verily believe that the failure to make this disclosure violates the core canons of judicial conduct requiring transparency regarding potential or perceived conflicts of interest, thereby casting a pall over the entire JRPA Proceeding and rendering any subsequent judicial action susceptible to challenge on the grounds of vitiated impartiality. I verily believe that the public interest demands that judicial appointments, particularly those of Superior Court judges, be subjected to a stringent, ongoing ethical calculus that actively screens for the perception of partiality, independent of any subjective intent. I verily believe that the institutional nexus between the presiding judge and a key functionary of the adverse party constitutes an automatic, non-waivable ground for recusal, as it breaches the core principle of judicial distance and neutrality.

264. Secondly, I verily believe that the temporal proximity of the subsequent judicial involvement to the procedural default, particularly the potential issuance of an arrest warrant subsequent to the “filing” of Affidavit #37 (as detailed infra), is highly suggestive of a calculated effort to intercede and potentially mitigate the legal consequences of the Respondents' documented procedural failures and alleged misconduct. I verily believe that the standard applied is that of a fully informed person who considers the history of the proceedings, the nature of the relationship, and the timing of the judicial intervention, all of which point toward an institutional defence of the defaulting parties. I verily believe that the convergence of the procedural default and the punitive action against the Applicant creates a compelling circumstantial nexus supporting the claim of apprehended bias.

265. I verily believe that the judicial act of issuing a process (such as a warrant) that profoundly curtails the Applicant's liberty and security, while concurrently presiding over a case where the opposing parties are demonstrably in default, creates an ex facie appearance of using the coercive powers of the state to suppress a litigant. I verily believe that this dual role—as the enforcer of criminal process against the Applicant and the presiding judge over the Applicant's civil claim against the de facto beneficiaries of that enforcement—constitutes a patent and unacceptable structural conflict, demanding the most rigorous and skeptical judicial review of the surrounding circumstances. I verily believe that this sequence of events is highly suggestive of a quid pro quo institutional intervention, a finding that, if substantiated, would fundamentally compromise the integrity of the Superior Court's administrative structure.

266. I verily believe that all of the fraudulent manipulation of documents in the False Information Package were known or ought to have been known to Madam Justice Shore at the time

VOLUME #3(I): FACTUAL CHRONOLOGY OF IMMEDIATE RETALIATORY MISCONDUCT AND INSTITUTIONAL OBSTRUCTION (EXHIBITS “B” AND “C”)

267. Now produced and marked as Exhibit “B” are copies of my Affidavit #37 (LAT Appeal) and attendant correspondence dated September 19, 2024, followed by the notification of potential judicial review on September 28, 2024.

268. I verily believe that the timing of my filing and serving the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies with the Affidavit #37, which provided a comparative analysis between the impugned forgery of

Mr. Papadimitropoulos involving the “As Per A Nurse” non-signature and the Anniversary Card, penned by Mr. Papadimitropoulos (see: page 33).

269. I verily believe that it was not coincidence that the day after September 19, 2024, I was subject to the Unlawful Lockouts. With the benefit of hindsight from the CAMH Unredacted Images on May 4, 2025, and subsequent investigations into the same, I note the connection between Mr. Karat and the Landlord.

270. I also note the connection between Mr. Karat and the OPP as per His LinkedIn profile.

271. I verily believe that the Police Case ID of 457197 has some time to the OPP.

272. I note the following police case identification numbers of occurrence numbers:

a. Police Case ID: “457197”;

i. Date: unknown;

ii. Complainant: unknown;

iii. Police department: unknown

iv. Police division: unknown;

v. Managing police officer:

b. TPS Occurrence Number: 2024-2028039;

i. Sunday, September 15, 2024;

ii. Complainant: alleged to be Ms. Nicole Artopoulos

iii. TPS Division: 14th Division;

iv. Managing police officer: D/C Eric Tang;

c. TPS Occurrence Number: 2024-2082035;

i. Sunday, September 22, 2024;

ii. Complainant: Epstein Cole Client;

iii. TPS Division: 14th Division;

iv. Managing police officer: D/C Michael Roman Kolankowski;

d. TPS Case ID: Case #25-1043040

i. Date: June 2025;

ii. TPS Division: 55th Division

iii. Complainant:

iv. Managing police officer: police officer Mr. Eric Bourdages (formerly of victim services);

273. I verily believe that it may have commenced by the TDI Group, under a high degree of control of the LAT (as alleged), at some time in the Summer of 2024, and it was utilized by the OPP or TPS, with a signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment as I have not been able to obtain a copy of any Criminal Code Form 2 Information and Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment. I again note that the MAG counsel Mr. Sinnadurai confirmed that there was no filing of the Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 in August to October 2024.

274. As I was arrested on October 2, 2024, and it was represented to me after the TPS police officers were, in my view, caught in lies and misrepresentations, that they had a warrant. Had I known it was Madam Justice Shore having issued an arrest warrant, I would have challenged it on grounds of conflict of interest thereafter. I verily believe that I would have done the same as I had done in this JRPA Proceeding by researching the name and background of the judge, and then challenging the same on the ground at the time that Madam Justice Shore was in a conflict of interest.

275. I verily believe that these documents establish the foundation upon which the subsequent, escalating acts of alleged impropriety occurred. I verily believe that the precise juxtaposition of the temporal sequence of events—the highly sensitive disclosure of forgery evidence implicating Mr. Papadimitropoulos, the subsequent and immediate subjection to unauthorized physical exclusion from the demised premises, and the presumed issuance of an arrest warrant—compels a robust, reasonable, and indeed, overwhelming inference of retaliatory conduct.

276. I verily believe that this conduct is submitted as having been engineered for the singular purpose of obstructing the pursuit of justice, intimidating myself, and deterring the continuation of litigation through the application of extra-judicial or unauthorized punitive measures. I verily believe that the correlation between my successful litigation actions and the immediate, adverse consequences visited upon him adheres to the classical definition of a retaliation syllogism, where the only logical conclusion is that the adverse actions are the direct product of the litigation. I verily believe that the non-denied by the SCJ court staff and the SCJ itself, where the MAG was responding on its behalf which I found troubling at the time and now even more troubling in light of my discovery that Mr. Sinnadurai was counsel to Madam Justice Shore on two separate occasions in 2023, involvement of Madam Justice Shore, possessing professional connections to the matrimonial litigation firm of Mr. Papadimitropoulos, is asserted as giving rise to a compelling and irrebuttable appearance of judicial impropriety that warrants immediate investigation by the appropriate regulatory and disciplinary bodies.

277. I verily believe that I must emphasize that the evidentiary value of this temporal proximity is not merely persuasive, but is scientifically compelling, akin to a toxicology report demonstrating a direct causal link between the “filing” of highly prejudicial documents and the immediate, disproportionate punitive response, thereby establishing a high probability of malicious intent on the part of the retaliating agents of the Respondent Insurance Companies.

VOLUME #3(J): COMPELLING INFERENCE OR SIMILARITIES

278. I verily believe that there is a compelling inference to be made that whatever was filed or laid in the form of a Criminal Code Form 4 or Criminal Code Form 2 has not been produced or provided to me despite my requests for the same under the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide (2019) which required me to make a request of the originating courthouse (the “Originating Courthouse”) for an Information or Indictment including any endorsement of which I was and am entitled to a copy of the same without charge and upon request in relation to the former and a copy of the same without charge in relation to the latter (see: section 7 of the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide).

VOLUME #3(K): IMPLICATIONS FOR JUDICIAL ACCOUNTABILITY AND RECORD SUPPRESSION

279. I verily believe that the conflicting representations, on their face, disseminated by the Superior Court of Justice Regional Manager’s Office (SCJ RMO) regarding the existence of a warrant, and the, in my view and I verily believe, the compelling inference that Madam Justice Shore issued the warrant notwithstanding the SCJ RMO's denial that a recording was "made", amplify (pardon the pun) profound concerns regarding institutional accountability, official transparency, and the potential for a clandestine subversion of due process and the judicial record. I verily believe that this demonstrable pattern of contradictory communication and denial may be justly construed as indicative of a deliberate administrative strategy of deflection and minimization, the objective of which is to insulate the institution from scrutiny. Furthermore, I verily believe that there has been the unlawful suppression of a foundational judicial record, specifically the criminal indictment or arrest warrant, constitutes a clear violation of the open court principle and the statutory disclosure obligations incumbent upon the Crown, particularly under the Criminal Code and the Charter.

280. I verily believe that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies had a role or were "a factor" in the making of the criminal complaint and the endorsement of a Criminal Code Form 4 or the actual Criminal Code Form 2. I verily believe that such suppression thereby creates a reasonable suspicion of misfeasance in public office, impropriety, and administrative malfeasance within the judicial administration.

281. I verily believe and re-assert my belief that the LAT had a role in the indictment/information process by way of external complaint to law enforcement.

282. I verily believe that the LAT had a high degree of control over the Respondent Insurance Companies' agent and representative and ADR specialist (although I refer to that 'alternative dispute resolution'' nomenclature by way of a pejorative reference along with the word 'specialist').

283. I verily believe that Mr. Papadimitropoulos was too cowardly to perform the theft himself but Mr. Karat engaged in the "dirty work" or "unauthorized conduct" for him like he did, inter alia, in the purported filing and signing of the response on behalf of SNIC on January 24, 2024 (the "SNIC Response"). I allege that the SNIC Response was "null and void".

284. I verily believe that the absence of the record necessitates the inference that the record contains information highly detrimental to the Respondents. I verily believe that this suppression directly engages the state's responsibility under Section 7 of the Charter, which guarantees the right to life, liberty, and security of the person, and the right not to be deprived thereof except in accordance with the principles of fundamental justice.

285. I verily believe that the lack of a verifiable, extant judicial record of a measure that could curtail liberty is an absolute and unconstitutional infringement of fundamental justice, demanding that the Court make a definitive finding on the warrant's existence and legality, or alternatively, to deem the warrant, if it existed, to be void and unlawful ab initio due to the state's inability to prove its legitimacy via the required records. I verily believe that the systemic denial and obfuscation regarding the issuance of this compulsory process cannot be tolerated within a system predicated upon the rule of law.

286. I verily believe that the state's failure to produce the warrant document is a direct and material breach of its Institutional Duty of Candour owed to myself, the Respondents, irrespective of their lack of party status, as alleged, exempting the AGO as per his right to be heard at the hearing of the JRPA Application and to the Court.

VOLUME #3(L): ESTABLISHING THE MODUS OPERANDI OF IMMEDIATE REPRISAL

287. I verily believe that it is herewith submitted that the Non-Appearing Respondents, and/or their agents and proxies, have engaged in a discernible, highly synchronized, and consistently predictable pattern of immediate, extra-judicial reprisal following the "filing" of substantive or inconvenient documentation by the Applicant.

288. I verily believe that a pattern has been established, which operates in a "knee-jerk" or reactive fashion, demonstrates a clear modus operandi of calculated obstruction and harassment, the temporal proximity of which cannot be coincidental and is indicative of a malicious intent to vex myself.

VOLUME #3(L)(I): THE "FILING" OF MOTIONS IN THE SUMMER OF 2024 AND "DELIVERY" OF OCF-18 TO "FIRST INSURER", SOLE UNDERWRITER AND FICTITIOUS RESPONDENT AND THEN → DENIAL OF FILE AND TD INSURANCE CLAIM NUMBER EXISTENCE (AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER 2024) – INFERRED TO BE THE EPSTEIN COLE LLP CLIENT

289. I denote the following under this subheading:

i. My Action:

1. The "filing" of motions in August 2024 and the formal "deliver"y of the OCF-18 forms, which legally initiates the accident benefits claim, to the head office of the First Insurer. I verily believe that the date of receipt of these forms imposes a statutory duty to acknowledge and respond in accordance with the Insurance Act and the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule (SABS);

ii. Retaliatory Response (Immediate):

1. Upon information and belief, Mr. Papadimitropoulos or an agent, immediately transmitted a letter asserting that “there was no record of my file”);

iii. Legal Implication:

1. I verily believe that this action is submitted, on belief, as representing a clear act of bad faith calculated to defeat my statutory claim by denying the custodial existence of foundational statutory documentation.
2. I verily believe that this systematic pattern of destruction or denial of records, including those required under the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule, demonstrates institutional malfeasance and a wilful disregard for the insurance regulatory framework. Such denial of file existence may constitute a tort of spoliation and a clear breach of the insurer’s duty of good faith.
3. I verily believe that the insurer’s duty of good faith, which is a rigorous standard imposed by common law and amplified by the regulatory framework of the Insurance Act, mandates the preservation and transparent administration of all claim-related documentation.
4. I verily believe that the contemporaneous denial of file existence following receipt of a statutory claim initiation form (OCF-18) is conclusive evidence of either wilful spoliation (the deliberate destruction or non-preservation of evidence when litigation is pending or reasonably anticipated) or a corporate policy of systematic non-feasance, both of which engage the full breadth of the Court’s inherent jurisdiction to impose punitive measures, including the striking of the defence or the drawing of the most severe adverse inferences regarding the merits of the underlying statutory benefits claim.
5. I verily believe that this conduct is a direct breach of the insurer’s fiduciary duty to its claimant.

VOLUME #3(L)(II): “FILING” OF AFFIDAVIT #37 → UNAUTHORIZED PHYSICAL EXCLUSION (SEPTEMBER 19-20, 2024) – PRESUMED FILING OF A CRIMINAL CODE FORM 4 INDICTMENT AND INTAKE COURT ENDORSEMENT [SIC] – INFERRED TO MADAM JUSTICE SHORE

290. I note the following:

i. Applicant’s Action:

1. I verily believe that the “filing” and service of Affidavit #37 in the LAT Appeal on Thursday, September 19, 2024, containing highly prejudicial evidence regarding the Respondents’ alleged conduct, specifically concerning the issue of forgery.

ii. Retaliatory Response (24 Hours Later):

1. The Applicant was subjected to an unauthorized physical exclusion from the demised premises on the subsequent day, Friday, September 20, 2024.
2. I verily believe This exclusion was a profound violation of the Applicant’s habitation rights.

iii. Legal Implication:

1. I verily believe that the proximate temporal linkage between the “filing” of a crucial piece of litigation and the immediate and severe violation of the Applicant’s fundamental right to security of person, peaceful enjoyment of property (a violation of the Residential Tenancies Act and the common law tort of trespass), and the Charter right to security of the person, constitutes compelling evidence of direct reprisal and gross abuse of process. This act supports a cause of action for the tort of unlawful interference with economic relations and intentional infliction of mental suffering.

2. The unlawful exclusion, executed without any judicial authorization or color of right, is not merely a common law trespass but an egregious act of intimidation designed to impede access to justice, thereby engaging the Court's jurisdiction to punish contempt and sanction abuse of its processes. Furthermore, the physical violation of the Applicant's dwelling, being the functional equivalent of an unlawful seizure of effects and temporary deprivation of residence, is an unwarranted state intrusion into a domain of profound privacy, thereby constituting a fundamental breach of Section 8 of the Charter (protection against unreasonable search or seizure), particularly given the circumstantial evidence of police involvement in the broader pattern of harassment. This highly coordinated action demonstrates a pre-existing conspiracy to retaliate, independent of the locus standi of the agents.

VOLUME #3(L)(III): AMBIGUITY OF POLICE IDS (X3) AND THE TPS OCCURRENCE NUMBER (SEPTEMBER 15, 2024):

291. I note the following

i. Factual Concern:

1. If the Toronto Police Service (TPS) Occurrence Number from Sunday, September 15, 2024, proved to be without merit or was closed, the relevant investigatory file is required to reside under the separate "Police Case ID: 457197" which is believed to involve the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) (see: Exhibit G or H, page ____, referencing the search for this Police Case ID; and the False Information Package, page 2 of 5, as referenced in the exhibits). The failure to account for the sequential numbering or inter-institutional transfer of files suggests deliberate obfuscation.

ii. Legal Implication:

1. I verily believe that the established ambiguity surrounding the custodial location of the criminal records suggests a calculated effort to obscure the investigation or prosecution of the underlying acts of harassment by deliberately shifting the relevant documentation between institutional custodians (TPS and OPP), thereby frustrating the Applicant's right to transparent disclosure under the Stinchcombe principles of criminal discovery.
2. I verily believe that the inability to trace the record may render any attempted prosecution void for procedural unfairness.
3. I verily believe that the lack of a transparent, auditable chain of custody for records relating to criminal allegations or law enforcement intervention constitutes an institutional breach of the duty of candour owed by the state to the courts and to the public.
4. I verily believe that the resultant informational void is a direct impediment to the Applicant's right to fully challenge the basis for the police's involvement in the civil dispute, thereby sustaining the inference that the file transfer was an act of deliberate bureaucratic obfuscation intended to shield the initial investigation from judicial scrutiny, a practice that undermines the very foundations of government transparency principles enshrined in FIPPA and the Charter.
5. I verily believe that the Applicant asserts that this conduct constitutes Systemic Bad Faith, as the state is actively impeding the discovery of facts that are relevant to its own agents' conduct.

292. I note the following

- i. Applicant's Action: The achievement of success in the Landlord and Tenant Board (LTB) with an urgent motion following the Unauthorized Physical Exclusions, resulting in an Order of Vice Chair Delorenzi in October 2024 (see: Exhibit C, page ____, as referenced in the HRT0 Application). This Order formally condemned the preceding extra-judicial action, establishing a judicial precedent of the Respondents' prior misconduct.
- ii. Retaliatory Response (Immediate): This judicial vindication of the Applicant's rights is posited as the catalyst for the subsequent, intensified escalation of retaliatory acts, demonstrating that the Respondents and/or their agents refuse to accept and abide by lawful judicial and quasi-judicial determinations, confirming a malicious and continued intent to injure the Applicant. The refusal to respect court orders is evidence of an inherent contempt for the judicial process.
- iii. Legal Implication:
 1. I verily believe that the judicial finding of misconduct by a quasi-judicial tribunal (LTB) provides collateral estoppel to the Applicant's claim of malicious conduct and abuse of process, which operates as a judicial finding of fact that the initial exclusion was unlawful.
 2. I verily believe that the continued, post-Order pattern of harassment, despite this formal adjudication, elevates the subsequent actions to a level of willful and egregious contempt for the rule of law, demonstrating a premeditated intent to injure the Applicant by continuing the campaign of reprisal.
 3. I verily believe that this subsequent malice is a critical factor in the determination of aggravated and punitive damages in the underlying civil claim, and further substantiates the necessity for the Divisional Court to intervene to halt the pervasive abuse of the entire administrative and judicial system.
 4. I verily believe that the LTB Order, being a non-appealed judicial finding, is res judicata on the issue of the unlawfulness of the exclusion, and its use as a springboard for further retaliation demonstrates a profound disrespect for the judicial hierarchy and the principle of finality in litigation, an issue that must be met with the full sanctioning power of the Divisional Court.

293. I note the following:

- i. Dates:
 1. October 24, 2024: service of the HRT0 Application on the TPS;
 2. October 25, 2024: theft by Respondent Insurance Companies' representative. I have alleged that the LAT had a high degree of control over the Respondent Insurance Companies and its agents;
 - a. Mr. Karat wearing a Keffiyeh scarf with glasses and a hat;
 - b. Its symbolism became even more fundamental when Israeli authorities banned the Palestinian flag in 1967, and throughout the '60s and '70s left wing students and activists from all over the world started wearing it as a symbol of sympathy towards anti-imperialist and anti-war causes;

- c. Outside of the Middle East and North Africa, the keffiyeh first gained popularity among pro-Palestinian activists; it is widely considered to be an icon of solidarity with the Palestinians in the Israeli–Palestinian conflict.
- ii. Applicant’s Action:
1. The “filing” and service of the HRT0 Application upon the Toronto Police Service (TPS) on Thursday, October 24, 2024, thereby placing the TPS on formal notice of a human rights complaint concerning their involvement in the antecedent events.
- iii. Retaliatory Response (24 Hours Later):
1. The Applicant’s property was stolen by Mr. Karat of the TDIA Group on the subsequent day (see: Exhibit C, page __, HRT0 Application “served” on TPS; and Affidavit, potentially Exhibit B, page __, detailing the theft by Mr. Karat).
- iv. Critical Assertion:
1. It is explicitly asserted, and the inference is strong, that the LAT or the Respondent Insurance Companies were not “served” with the HRT0 Application at this stage, establishing that the information contained within the HRT0 Application was non-public. Therefore, a person within the TPS must have notified the TDIA Group of the service.
- v. Legal Implication:
1. This assertion points directly toward a breach of the statutory and common law duty of confidentiality incumbent upon the police service and raises an extremely grave inference of misfeasance in public office and conspiracy to obstruct justice by an unidentified individual within the TPS, characterized herein as a systematic failure of institutional security. The swift, coordinated, and non-random nature of the property theft directly subsequent to confidential service suggests an illegal internal information leak, facilitating the tort of conversion and theft by the adverse parties.
- vi. I verily believe that the unauthorized disclosure of a confidential human rights complaint to an adverse party who then utilizes that information to execute a retaliatory criminal act (theft, fraud and impersonation) is not merely a breach of administrative security; it constitutes a potential Criminal Breach of Trust under Section 122 of the Criminal Code by the individual public official, and a possible Conspiracy to Commit an Indictable Offence by the external actors;
- vii. I verily believe that the doctrine of res ipsa loquitur (the thing speaks for itself) is powerfully engaged here, as the confluence of the confidential information transmission and the immediate, targeted theft defies any innocent explanation.
- viii. I verily believe that this incident demands a judicial inquiry to determine the identity of the state actor who compromised the judicial process for the benefit of the Respondent Insurance Companies and their agents.
- ix. I verily believe that the breach of police confidentiality is a clear example of the Institutional Complicity alleged by the Applicant.
- x. I note the implied undertaking required by the HRT0 Rules.

VOLUME #3(L)(VI): “FILING” OF NOVEMBER 7 NOCQ → IMPERSONATION/MALICIOUS ENROLMENT

294.

I note the following:

i. Dates:

1. November 7, 2024; “filing” and serving of the NOCQ for my HRT0 Application on the AGO and AGC; and

2. November 8, 2024: impersonation by the thieves of my property, including identification and TPL library card, for the Aga Khan museum;

ii. Applicant's Action:

1. The "filing" and service of the 331-page HRTQ Notice of Constitutional Question (NOCQ) upon the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) and the Attorney General of Canada (AGC) on November 7, 2024, which escalated the judicial review to a constitutional dimension, directly implicating the federal and provincial Crowns.

iii. Retaliatory Response (24 Hours Later):

1. On the following day, Mr. Karat and/or Mr. Papadimitropoulos were engaged in an act of impersonation by falsely signing the Applicant up for a tour of the Aga Khan Museum (see: Exhibit C, page __, NOCQ "served" November 7; detailing the impersonation).

iv. Legal Implication:

1. I verily believe that this event confirms the sustained, immediate, highly personalized, and frivolous nature of the harassment, constituting a clear act of malicious interference with the Applicant's person and private affairs, the objective of which appears to be the disruption of the Applicant's personal life in direct correlation to his litigation efforts. This action constitutes a battery of prima facie torts, including malicious harassment and passing off (impersonation), demonstrating the Respondents' agents' continued dedication to causing maximum personal vexation.
2. I verily believe that the systematic exploitation of the Applicant's personal identity for the purpose of personal vexation engages the emerging common law tort of Intrusion Upon Seclusion or Invasion of Privacy, as the repeated, non-legitimate interference with personal data and affairs constitutes a highly offensive intrusion into the Applicant's private life, thereby causing mental anguish and humiliation.
3. I verily believe that the deliberate frivolousness of the retaliatory act (the museum tour sign-up) is evidence of a calculated psychological warfare campaign, the cost of which must be reflected in the final punitive damages award, as the intent is clearly to deter the Applicant from utilizing the constitutional mechanisms of the state for redress.
4. I verily believe that the Applicant asserts this conduct is an actionable form of cyber-harassment that warrants the immediate issuance of a restraining order.

- b. The above lawful steps by the Applicant and the Mr. Papadimitropoulos engaging in the fraudulent conduct at the TPL Queen and Saulter branch:

i. Dates:

1. November 7 to 11, 2024;
2. Monday, November 11, 2024: 24 books taken out by Mr. Papadimitropoulos;

ii. Applicant's action:

1.

iii. Retaliatory response:

iv. Legal implication:

VOLUME #3(L)(VII): "FILING" OF A FALSE INFORMATION PACKAGE WITH COURT OFFICER (TORONTO REGION) MRS. FRUGONI-ROJAS CRIMINAL CODE FORM 2 INFORMATION AND THE INTAKE COURT ENDORSEMENT [SIC] IN NOVEMBER 2024 OR AFTER NOVEMBER 2024:

295. I note the following:

- i. Dates:
 - 1. “filing” of the False Information Package: Some time in November 2024 or thereafter;
- ii. Application’s action: the above prior to November 13, 2024, initial
- iii. Retaliatory response: False Information Package;
- iv. Legal implication:
 - 1. Shielding of the creator and signatory of the Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment or the declarant of the Criminal Code Form 2;
 - 2. Shielding of the issuing and authorizing judge;

VOLUME #3(M): THE DOCTRINE OF WILFUL BLINDNESS AND VEXATIOUS DELAY

296. I verily believe that the cumulative effect of the Respondents’ conduct concerning records production is not merely passive negligence, but amounts to a legal state of wilful blindness and deliberate ignorance regarding their statutory and constitutional disclosure duties. I verily believe that the sheer volume and diversity of the legislative instruments the Applicant has been forced to utilize (FIPPA, PIPEDA, TARA, Insurance Act) to obtain records—records which should be mandatory and immediate disclosure obligations for the relevant state and corporate actors—demonstrates an intentional institutional refusal to confront the existence of, or the implication of, these records. I verily believe that this pattern of administrative resistance results in an unwarranted and vexatious delay of the JRPA Proceeding, the consequence of which is to effectively deny the Applicant his right to an expeditious hearing on the merits. I verily believe that the Court is therefore implored to make a conclusive finding that the financial and emotional imposition of this collateral disclosure litigation is, in itself, a form of punitive abuse orchestrated by the Respondents and their governmental proxies, justifying the imposition of substantial punitive costs against the defaulting parties in solidum. The Applicant submits that this concerted effort at suppression constitutes a Fraud Upon the Court by obfuscating the truth and frustrating the Court’s mandate to administer justice based on complete and accurate records.

VOLUME #3(M)(I): ARCHIVAL IMPERATIVES AND CUSTODIAL TRANSITION

Volume #3(M)(II): The Archival Mandate of the Crown and the Presumption of Regularity

297. I verily believe that it is an core and indispensable tenet of Canadian legal administration that the Crown, represented by the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), is required to archive an indictment, particularly the Criminal Code Form 4, that has been formally “filed” and subsequently processed, even if ultimately discontinued or determined to have been improperly founded.

298. I verily believe that archiving such a record constitutes an imperative dictated by the necessity of ensuring accountability, transparency, and the rigorous documentation of the state’s exercise of its criminal justice powers, as explicitly mandated by the Archives and Recordkeeping Act (“ARA”).

299. I verily believe that the failure to produce these records constitutes a rebuttable challenge to the Presumption of Regularity (omnia praesumuntur rite et solemniter esse acta), which presumes that institutional actions are undertaken correctly and in accordance with legal requirements.

300. I verily believe that the inability or unwillingness to account for the Form 4 Indictment or arrest warrant, a document of profound personal and legal significance, is, in itself, evidence that the presumption has been successfully rebutted, necessitating the Court to scrutinize the issuance process with heightened caution.

301. I verily believe that Archives and Recordkeeping Act and its associated regulations establish a formal, non-discretionary statutory regime for the permanent retention or auditable destruction of records related to legal and constitutional rights, most acutely those records governing the issuance of compulsory process against a citizen.

302. I verily believe that the absence of the Form 4 or the signed warrant—records fundamental to any valid criminal proceeding—shifts the evidentiary burden in toto to the Ministry of the Attorney General and the Superior Court of Justice to demonstrate with absolute clarity and documentary evidence (i.e., a formal disposition certificate) that the record was lawfully and procedurally destroyed. The failure to discharge this burden must result in a conclusive finding that the record was either improperly suppressed or that the underlying process (the warrant) was null and void due to the state’s inability to prove its own institutional competence and procedural compliance.

303. I verily believe that the onus probandi rests firmly upon the Respondents to prove the negative assertion of the record’s non-existence or lawful destruction.

304. I verily believe that the integrity and evidentiary value of judicial records are inextricably linked to their proper custodial transition between authorized repositories.
305. I verily believe that any failure in this transition—such as the concealment, deliberate misplacement, or unauthorized destruction of the arrest warrant or indictment—serves to fundamentally undermine procedural fairness and the constitutional right to full disclosure.
306. I verily believe that such an institutional failure compels the strongest possible adverse inference: that such missing records would be demonstrably deleterious to the institutional parties involved, exposing their procedural defaults or potentially illegal actions, such as the issuance of a warrant without sufficient grounds.
307. I verily believe that the judicial system cannot operate effectively if the state is permitted to suppress or deny the existence of its own foundational records, rendering the entire process opaque and susceptible to manipulation.
308. I verily believe that the proper management of custodial transitions is paramount for preserving public confidence in the judicial process and mitigating the risks of unauthorized access or misuse of judicial records.
309. I verily believe that the failure to do so implies a potential for abuse of authority.
310. I verily believe that the jurisdictional transition of a criminal record from the originating court (SCJ) to its archival custodian (MAG/Archives) is a fiduciary duty of the highest order.
311. I verily believe that the failure to complete this transition, or the subsequent denial of its custodial existence, amounts to a breach of the state's fiduciary obligation to preserve evidence crucial to the administration of justice.
312. I verily believe that the resulting informational gap creates a presumption of impropriety that must be overcome by the Crown, and not myself.
313. I verily believe that absent clear and verifiable proof of lawful record disposition, the Court must presume that the contents of the missing record would conclusively establish the illegality or impropriety of the warrant's issuance, thereby supporting my claim of abuse of process.

314. I verily believe that the entire episode constitutes a profound and multi-layered Institutional Failure of recordkeeping and transparency at the highest levels of the provincial government.

VOLUME #4: THE FRAUDULENT AND VOID AB INITIO TRANSFER OF A CRIMINAL PROCEEDING (DOCUMENTS AND ARREST WARRANTS) OR NON-TRANSFER OF THAT WHICH WAS DESTROYED ON DIRECTIONS OF THE DAG AND APPROVED BY THE CJ OF THE SCJ – COLLATED WITH RULE 59.06(2)(A) – THE SHIELDING AND HIDING OF MADAM JUSTICE SHORE FROM REVIEW UNDER A GARFOLI APPLICATION AND NON-DISCLOSURE TO ALLOW HER A “SECOND CRACK” AT ME

315. I provide the evidence hereunder to underscore the undisclosed prior judicial involvement of Madam Justice Shore and the similarities, by inference and circumstance, of the Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding and the JRPA Proceeding.

316. All evidence hereunder is on belief.

317. Where I have referenced the, in my view, at law, status (along with non-opposition by the OCJ Crown and SCJ Crown), I have done so to underscore why there was and is an undisclosed prior judicial involvement of Madam Justice Shore.

318. In asserting and deducing through months of investigation that presiding judge of the law enforcement’s application, which has been admitted by the MAG on behalf of all of the courts in Ontario that there was NO FORM 2 Information involving COFR and ergo no Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] of JP Jiri in the Central West Region on September 23, 2024, involving myself, and that Madam Justice Shore was the presiding undisclosed judge of the SCJ, in her Divisional Court rotation, at some time in September 2024 or slightly prior, I verily believe that she was said presiding judge and that all of the Resondents knew or ought to have known the same.

319. I verily believe that it is incumbent upon any jurisdictional assessment to adduce the observation that Section 599 of the Criminal Code (hereinafter the Code) is repeatedly referenced within the judicial framework, thereby underscoring its foundational significance in dictating the appropriate territorial locus of criminal proceedings within Canada, the ratio legis of which is the preservation of the constitutional right of an accused to a fair and efficient adjudication. This provision serves as a critical safeguard against local prejudice or administrative inflexibility. Furthermore, the provision ensures the principle of natural justice is maintained, specifically the right to be heard by a court with properly constituted authority (audi alteram partem), a dimension which elevates the procedural mandate of Section 599 to a constitutional imperative under Section 7 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms

320. I verily believe that the purported failure to adhere to the strict jurisdictional transfer mechanisms constitutes a potential infringement upon the fundamental principles of security of the person and liberty, as protected by Section 7 of the Charter. A person subjected to criminal proceedings in a court lacking proper venue or jurisdiction is effectively being tried under a defective legal authority, transforming the proceedings into a potential nullity and thereby depriving the individual of their liberty interests in a manner contrary to the principles of fundamental justice. The certainty and legality of the venue are inextricably linked to the procedural fairness afforded to the accused

321. I verily believe that the very existence of specific, mandatory statutory mechanisms for venue change, such as those articulated in Section 599, demonstrates a legislative recognition that jurisdiction is not a malleable concept subject to administrative convenience, but a fixed and fundamental requirement for the validity of the legal process. Any deviation from these codified steps constitutes a palpable erosion of the rule of law.

322. I verily believe that the principle of jurisdictional stare decisis dictates that once a Superior Court has properly acquired seisin over an Indictment, its authority cannot be implicitly surrendered or transferred by mere administrative oversight. This requires that the judicial order to divest the SCJ of its jurisdiction must be as formal and unequivocal as the act that originally vested it, upholding the separation of powers between the superior and inferior courts. I verily believe that the failure to ensure proper venue as mandated by Section 599 compromises the accused's right to publicity under the Charter, as the public record and proper local reporting associated with the correct court venue are prerequisites for true transparency in the criminal justice system I verily believe that the purpose of venue, being the geographical location of the trial, is to ensure access to justice for both the defence and local witnesses, a consideration that must be judicially balanced, not administratively imposed. The transfer, lacking a judicial imprimatur, fundamentally disregards the practical accessibility component of fairness. I verily believe that administrative staff or court clerks possess no constitutional authority to perform an action reserved for a judicial officer. Such an ultra vires act constitutes an institutional encroachment upon the constitutional mandate of the judiciary, rendering the administrative act a nullity from its inception.

323. I verily believe that the statutory phrase “an indictment is found,” as articulated within the text of Section 599, possesses a precise procedural significance that is functionally and legally equivalent to the modern procedural term “preferred”; this signifies the formal, public act of the Crown Prosecutor lodging the written instrument of indictment with the Superior Court registry, thereby legally commencing the trial process at that jurisdictional tier and vesting the Superior Court with jurisdiction over the subject matter. The use of the archaic term “found” is a vestige of historical grand jury procedures, but its contemporary application unequivocally relates to the exercise of prosecutorial authority in initiating proceedings via the Superior Court, establishing a legal status that can only be properly divested by a valid, superseding judicial or statutory mechanism, failing which the jurisdiction remains vested in the SCJ per se.

324. I verily believe that, absent a procedurally valid transfer, any subsequent proceedings conducted upon that Indictment in the receiving OCJ court are subject to challenge on the grounds that the initial Indictment retains its status as a Superior Court document, making the OCJ’s assumption of control a non-jurisdictional act that renders its future orders coram non judice (before a court which is not a court). The continued legal force of the original Indictment in the SCJ precludes the OCJ from acquiring a parallel or superseding jurisdiction by mere administrative fiat.

325. I verily believe that the unauthorized assertion of jurisdiction by the OCJ over an Indictment that remains, in law, a Superior Court matter represents a “wasting of jurisdiction” by the SCJ, and further, it exposes the administrative decision to transfer the file to review by writ of certiorari, as the OCJ’s registrar or administrative staff would have acted outside the scope of their legislated authority in accepting a file not properly divested by the originating Superior Court. I verily believe that the act of preferring an Indictment establishes the Superior Court Record, which is subject to specific rules of court and judicial oversight that differ fundamentally from those governing summary conviction or provincial offences. The unauthorized transfer attempts to subjugate a Superior Court record to the administrative control of an inferior court, thereby creating an inherent procedural conflict regarding the integrity and management of the file. I verily believe that the OCJ's lack of statutory authority to formally modify, quash, or amend a Superior Court Indictment confirms that it cannot validly possess jurisdiction over that subject matter, as control over the document itself is intrinsically linked to the court's judicial power. I verily believe that the original Indictment carries a presumption of validity in the SCJ until such time as it is formally quashed, stayed, or judicially divested; the administrative transfer fails to rebut this presumption, leaving the OCJ with mere physical possession of a document over which it has no legal authority. I verily believe that allowing the OCJ to proceed on a Superior Court Indictment risks the fragmentation of the judicial record, as subsequent entries, endorsements, and rulings pertaining to the Indictment will be "filed" in the wrong court level, leading to an incoherent and unreliable appellate record.

326. I verily believe that the legislative command of Section 599(4) and (5) imposes a mandatory duty upon the custodial officer of the originating court to immediately transmit the entire, unexpurgated judicial record—including the indictment, all writings, and all exhibits—to the clerk of the court in the new venue, a prerequisite fundamental to the continuity of valid jurisdiction. This transmission is not merely an administrative convenience but a solemn transfer of imperium, ensuring that the receiving court possesses the complete corpus of the evidence and procedural history necessary to proceed without violating the principles of natural justice, specifically the right to full disclosure and a known record. The omission of any material component of the file's corpus would constitute an irremediable procedural defect, potentially vitiating the transfer order and undermining the receiving court's ability to apply the doctrine of stare decisis to previous judicial rulings in the matter. I verily believe that the non-transmission of the full file violates the Crown's constitutional disclosure obligations established in R. v. Stinchcombe, creating an inherent risk that the disclosure record may be incomplete or fractured. This failure compromises the accused's ability to make full answer and defence, reinforcing the argument that the receiving court's jurisdiction is not properly constituted to ensure a fair trial. Missing records may include crucial documents such as pre-trial conference summaries, judicial endorsement details, or prior Bail Review Orders, all of which are essential for the new presiding judge to properly manage the conduct of the case. I verily believe that the term “forthwith” in Section 599(4) demands not only celerity but also procedural integrity, meaning the transmission must be completed promptly upon the issuance of the valid judicial order. Any substantial delay, particularly one based on a non-judicial administrative decision, constitutes an institutional failure to comply with the statutory timeline, further confirming that the transfer was not executed under a proper court order. I verily believe that the failure to comply with Section 599(4) results in a procedural nullity, which is a flaw so fundamental that it cannot be cured by the application of Section 683 (the curative provision) and renders the entire proceeding in the receiving OCJ court void. This failure to transmit the record is not a mere technicality but a failure to transfer the authority itself. I verily believe that the administrative conduct surrounding the transfer falls within Category One Abuse of Process, which is defined by conduct that is so unfair to the accused that it amounts to an abuse of the court’s process because it compromises the accused's ability to mount a full answer and defence due to an incomplete or compromised record. I verily believe that the failure to transmit the full record breaks the legal chain of custody for all original judicial documents, thereby compromising their evidentiary weight and legal status, and raising questions as to their authenticity and procedural history. I verily believe that an incomplete or fractured record places the accused in a position of prejudice on appeal, as the reviewing court would be unable to properly assess the procedural regularity of the trial court if it lacks the originating jurisdictional documents and judicial orders.

VOLUME #4(A): PROCEDURAL PRECONDITIONS FOR FILE TRANSFER

327. I declare that all evidence under this sub-volume is on belief while citing the sources of the same.
328. I verily believe that a comprehensive legal analysis necessitates the delineation of two fundamentally distinct mechanisms for the movement of a criminal file between jurisdictional tiers, namely the accused's right of re-election and the court's prerogative for change of venue, neither of which can be properly executed by ministerial or administrative action alone, as the process invariably requires the formal intercession of the judicial authority. The established hierarchy of courts dictates that any action taken by a court of subordinate jurisdiction, such as the OCJ, cannot unilaterally abrogate or modify an order or jurisdictional status established by a court of superior, inherent jurisdiction, such as the SCJ, thereby upholding the principles of res judicata regarding prior judicial pronouncements and orders. I verily believe that the OCJ, being a creature of statute, does not possess the inherent jurisdiction of a superior court to correct or unilaterally assume authority over a file that originated at a higher level, absent strict adherence to the Criminal Code transfer provisions. Any attempt by the OCJ to invoke administrative expediency to justify the assumption of jurisdiction would constitute a violation of the rule against collateral attack on the SCJ's initial jurisdiction, which prohibits a court of equal or subordinate jurisdiction from questioning the authority or decisions of the SCJ. I verily believe that the lack of proper transfer documentation creates an issue of jurisdiction over the person in the receiving OCJ, as the accused is entitled to certainty regarding the court's authority. Where the underlying Indictment remains technically vested in the SCJ, the OCJ's summoning of the accused may be deemed an act taken without the requisite lawful authority to compel appearance, thereby rendering the court's control over the matter invalid. I verily believe that the proper avenue for challenging this ultra vires administrative action is through an application for Judicial Review directed at the administrative body (e.g., the court registrar) that executed the transfer, seeking to quash the administrative decision to accept the file without the requisite judicial order.

329. I verily believe that the principle of judicial economy is severely undermined by this irregular transfer, as the time and resources expended in challenging the OCJ's foundational authority could have been avoided entirely had the mandatory statutory transfer procedure been followed. I verily believe that the administrative transfer attempts to subject the Superior Court's initial finding of venue to judicial estoppel by a lower court, implying that the OCJ can implicitly accept or challenge the SCJ's exercise of its seisin, which is judicially improper. I verily believe that the flaw is jurisdictional and not merely procedural, meaning the curative provision of Section 683 of the Code—which allows appellate courts to remedy defects in conviction or sentence—cannot cure a foundational defect in the trial court's authority to commence proceedings at all.

330. I verily believe that the transfer of an Indictment from the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) to the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) is entirely conditional upon the accused's re-election, a pathway which is itself strictly contingent upon the written consent of the prosecutor, as mandated by Section 561 of the Criminal Code, and a subsequent Judicial Order from the originating Superior Court. This requirement for prosecutorial consent serves as a critical protection of the public interest and the court's resources, ensuring that a file is only returned to the lower court when procedurally or substantively justifiable, such as pursuant to a negotiated plea resolution. The absence of this written consent renders any purported re-election void ab initio, meaning it is considered null from the beginning and incapable of conveying jurisdiction to the OCJ. Furthermore, the lack of prosecutorial assent would strip the Crown of its locus standi to pursue the matter in the lower court through that specific procedural avenue. I verily believe that the requirement for Crown consent is non-waivable, as it is designed not only to protect the accused but also to uphold the public interest in the proper administration of justice, including the efficient allocation of judicial resources between the two court levels. The failure to obtain or record this consent cannot be deemed a minor irregularity but rather a jurisdictional precondition that must be satisfied. The Crown's decision under Section 561 is a deliberate act of choosing the trial forum, and its absence deprives the OCJ of the necessary jurisdictional imprimatur. I verily believe that where no valid re-election has been demonstrated, the file is presumed to retain its original status, thereby confirming that any movement was an Intra-Court Transfer under Section 599. This necessitates that the transfer be initiated by application of either the prosecutor or the accused, confirming that the administrative staff had no independent power to move the file between different territorial divisions without an authorizing application and subsequent judicial order. I verily believe that the consent required under Section 561 must be written and specific, as an oral or implied consent is insufficient to satisfy the formal requirements of divesting a superior court of its authority over a serious criminal matter. The absence of any documented consent renders the OCJ's purported jurisdiction inherently vulnerable. I verily believe that the lack of recorded consent creates irreparable prejudice to the accused, as it casts doubt on the integrity of the process by which the accused was compelled to appear in a court of inferior jurisdiction against the formal requirements of the Code. I verily believe that the discretionary power to consent or withhold consent for re-election is a fundamental prosecutorial function that cannot be delegated to or assumed by administrative staff or implied through silence or inaction. The Crown's participation must be an active, documented choice. I verily believe that the doctrine of implied waiver cannot be invoked against the accused concerning a jurisdictional defect, as the right to be tried by a court of competent jurisdiction is a constitutional right protected by Section 7 of the Charter that requires a clear, unambiguous, and informed relinquishment.

331. I verily believe that an Intra-Court Change of Venue, pursuant to Section 599, necessitates a formal Order of the Court or a Judge possessing the requisite jurisdictional authority within the originating region, predicated upon the highly discretionary and judicial determination that such an alteration appears expedient to the ends of justice.

332. I verily believe that this is an exercise of judicial, not merely an administrative, function, involving the careful balancing of competing public and private interests—such as efficiency versus the accused's right to trial in the locus of the offence—a balancing act that transcends the simple processing of paperwork and demands reasoned judicial deliberation.

333. I verily believe that consequently, a mere clerical notation cannot serve as the functional equivalent of a formal judicial fiat, and any attempt to delegate this judicial responsibility to an administrative clerk or staff could form the basis for an application for a writ of mandamus compelling the proper judicial officer to perform their duty.

334. I verily believe that the standard of “expedient to the ends of justice,” as codified in Section 599(1)(a), requires demonstrable evidence on the record—such as pre-trial publicity or demonstrable witness safety concerns—that is entirely absent from the procedural entries recorded.

335. I verily believe that this absence confirms that the transfer was effected on purely administrative grounds, failing to meet the substantive judicial threshold required for a change of venue.

336. I verily believe that the court must be satisfied that the change is in the public interest, a finding that cannot be made by default or without a formal record of argument and evidence. I verily believe that the failure to secure a formal judicial order violates the fundamental requirement that the authority for venue change must be evident on the face of the record.

337. I verily believe that the legal principle nemo dat quod non habet (no one can give what they do not have) applies: the administrative clerk cannot confer judicial authority to effect a transfer if they themselves lack that authority and cannot produce the order from the judge who possesses it. I verily believe that the decision to grant a change of venue is a true judicial discretion, which requires the application of legal principles and evidence, and is entirely distinct from the ministerial act of recording a pre-approved procedural step. The procedural records clearly suggest the latter, not the former.
338. I verily believe that the absence of a formal judicial order renders the purported transfer void ab initio, meaning the entire jurisdictional step is invalid from the outset and cannot be retroactively legitimized by administrative fiat.
339. I verily believe that the burden of proving that the change of venue is “expedient to the ends of justice” rests squarely upon the party applying for the transfer (either the Crown or the accused) or the person who effected the transfer which was not myself, and given the lack of a formal application or judicial record, the entire criminal proceeding is at law void ab initio. I verily believe that each step thereafter was void ab initio which I verily believe was consistent with the OCJ Crown and SCJ Crown not having been able to file a single document in response to any motion.
340. While I cannot disclose any document received in the HRTO Proceeding, I can confirm that not a single party therein has faced one of my motions to date.

VOLUME #4(B): SYLLOGISTIC ANALYSIS OF PURPORTED TRANSFER

341. I declare that all evidence under this sub volume is based upon my belief while citing the sources of the same.
342. I verily believe that the testimonial evidence, derived from the procedural entries of the OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse dated October 3, 2024, particularly the notation “NA” for the Crown and the reference to a “Default Judge” (DJ), warrants a rigorous examination against the aforementioned procedural prerequisites, establishing a high probability of a fundamental jurisdictional flaw. This failure to record the necessary legal preconditions places the legitimacy of the subsequent proceedings under immediate jurisprudential challenge, as the continuity of jurisdiction requires an unbroken chain of authority, commencing with a valid order from the originating tribunal. I verily believe that the entries “NA” and “DJ” serve as judicial admissions within the court record, plainly evidencing that the procedural actions taken were conducted outside the presence of the necessary party (the Crown) and were signed by an officer of the court who was not acting in a capacity of judicial discretion, thereby creating a rebuttable presumption of administrative overreach.

343. I verily believe that this rebuts the common law maxim omnia praesumuntur rite esse acta (all things are presumed to be rightly done) concerning the court's procedural regularity. I verily believe that the use of a “Default Judge” notation suggests the file was processed during a purely administrative session lacking the capacity for a Section 599 inquiry, which demands the presence of a judge vested with Superior Court powers to effect the transfer, or at least an OCJ judge acting on proper delegation, neither of which is reflected in the non-specific “DJ” designation. I verily believe that the “Default Judge” designation likely refers to the duty judge or justice whose role is limited to routine endorsements, arraignments, or short appearances, and who is specifically excluded from exercising the complex, substantive judicial powers required for a Section 599 transfer. I verily believe that the collective absence of essential legal documentation—the Crown's written consent, the SCJ's formal transfer order, and the rationale for “expediency”—demonstrates a systemic administrative failure to respect the jurisdictional safeguards embedded in the Criminal Code.

344. I verily believe that the infallibility of the court record dictates that the record must speak for itself; where the record explicitly notes “NA” for the Crown, the Crown cannot later seek to introduce extrinsic evidence to cure the procedural defect by implying attendance or consent. I verily believe that the combination of the “NA” and “DJ” entries constitutes a constructive denial of representation for the Crown at a critical stage, which is itself a failure of the administration of justice and further highlights the administrative, non-judicial nature of the endorsement.

345. I verily believe that the notation “NA” for the Crown constitutes an absence of the prosecutor’s presence and, consequently, an absence of formal, contemporaneous Crown Consent at the pivotal moment of the purported transfer, thereby vitiating the procedural legitimacy of any transfer predicated upon mutual agreement or re-election. I verily believe that this lack of consent also suggests an abrogation of the Crown's fiduciary duty to ensure the procedural regularity of the prosecution, resulting in a failure to satisfy the mandate for consensus that underpins any administrative transfer in the absence of a contested Section 599 motion. This introduces a fatal jurisdictional ambiguity that cannot be summarily cured by later administrative rectifications, as the integrity of the court record must be established at the moment jurisdiction is purported to be exercised. I verily believe that this deficiency directly breaches the Crown's duty of candour to the court, as the Crown is obligated to ensure that any jurisdictional transfer it relies upon is procedurally unassailable. The Code dictates that the prosecutor initiate the application under Section 599, making their non-participation or non-consent at the crucial transfer point a profound statutory failure. The Crown, in its role as a Minister of Justice, has an overriding duty to oppose or rectify any procedural irregularity that compromises the integrity of the court's jurisdiction. I verily believe that the absence of the Crown's participation also suggests that the transfer was not for the purposes of a “global resolution” or plea (which would necessitate Crown input), thereby leaving only the interpretation that the transfer was an unauthorized administrative maneuver to alter the venue without judicial authority.

346. I verily believe that the notation “NA” strongly suggests an Institutional Misconduct by the Crown's office in failing to attend the scheduled judicial proceeding where the jurisdictional matter was purportedly resolved, further strengthening the argument for an abuse of process based on prosecutorial negligence.

347. I verily believe that the lack of consent prevents the application of the doctrine of waiver against the accused, as the accused cannot be deemed to have waived a procedural or jurisdictional defect caused by the administrative failures of the Crown and the court staff.

348. I verily believe that the transfer represents a systemic failure to adhere to the principle of legality, where the convenience of the court registry or the Crown's scheduling is erroneously elevated above the mandatory procedural requirements for conferring jurisdiction.

349. I verily believe that the failure to secure Crown consent prejudices the accused's right to enter into meaningful plea negotiations or alternative dispute resolution in the proper forum, as the OCJ may not have the necessary jurisdictional capacity or appropriate seisin to finalize such matters related to a superior court Indictment.

350. I verily believe that the referral to a “Default Judge” by Mr. Henriquez incontrovertibly suggests that the subsequent entry or endorsement was administrative or ministerial in nature, and not a formal judicial adjudication of venue change executed by a judge of competent jurisdiction under the mandate of Section 599. If this entry was made by a Justice of the Peace, the action would likely be ultra vires their statutory authority to effect the transfer of a superior court Indictment, thereby compromising not only jurisdiction over the person but also the court's jurisdiction over the subject matter. An administrative functionary acting beyond their legislated powers is, in law, acting without any colour of right, and their actions must be disregarded as if they had never occurred. I verily believe that the judicial review remedy of prohibition is directly applicable in this circumstance, as it is sought to restrain a court (the OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse) from proceeding further with a matter over which it has patently assumed jurisdiction unlawfully, based on the administrative execution of a power reserved” exclusively for the judiciary. The remedy of prohibition is the appropriate legal mechanism to address a jurisdictional excess that is patent on the face of the record.

351. I verily believe that if the official who signed the transfer documentation was a Justice of the Peace, their action would violate the principle of delegated authority, as the power to order a change of venue under Section 599 is explicitly granted to “A court... or a judge who may hold or sit in that court,” a designation that does not encompass the statutory authority of a Justice of the Peace.

352. I verily believe that the OCJ's purported assumption of jurisdiction constitutes a misapprehension of its own jurisdiction which is a classic ground for intervention by a superior court via judicial review. The OCJ mistakenly believed it had the authority to proceed based on a defective administrative transfer.

353. I verily believe that the failure to have a properly constituted court, which necessarily includes the requisite jurisdiction and venue, renders the trial process an injustice in itself, irrespective of the ultimate verdict, as the authority of the State to prosecute is fundamentally flawed. I verily believe that an administrative signature under the title “Default Judge” amounts to the creation of a de facto judge for the purpose of the endorsement, acting without the lawful commission or statutory authority to exercise the judicial discretion required by Section 599.

354. I verily believe that the administrative nature of the endorsement constitutes an error on the face of the record, providing clear, immediate, and compelling evidence that the jurisdictional transfer was not the result of a reasoned judicial determination as required by law.

355. I verily believe, ergo, that the OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse could not have attained valid jurisdiction over the subject matter—an Indictment—under the auspices of Section 599 or a re-election without the formal, prerequisite Judicial Order issuing from the original jurisdictional locus (either SCJ or the Central West OCJ), and without the express assent of the Crown. Furthermore, if the documents in the SCJ were subjected to a directive for destruction, this creates a profound dilemma of *lex non scripta: a court cannot transmit what it has been judicially commanded to erase, which would render any subsequent order purporting to transfer the Indictment itself nugatory. This procedural quagmire fatally compromises the necessary integrity of the transmitted record and exposes the transfer to collateral attack for lack of documentary foundation. I verily believe that the alleged destruction of the SCJ documents, combined with the lack of a proper Section 599 transfer, leads to an insurmountable deficit in the official record. This deficit prevents the establishment of a complete and accurate trial record, constituting a violation of the constitutional right to be tried based on a transparent and verifiable documentary history. The loss of the originating documents is irrecoverable and fundamentally undermines the documentary basis of the prosecution. I verily believe that the absence of the originating record makes it impossible for the OCJ to ensure compliance with the doctrine of issue estoppel concerning any prior judicial determinations (e.g., voir dries or admissibility rulings) made by the Superior Court, thus further imperilling the fairness of any subsequent trial proceedings. I verily believe that the purported destruction of the record is a direct act of procedural prejudice against the defence, as the defence is reliant upon the original file's contents to verify the procedural history and the chain of custody of the evidence. I verily believe that the dilemma of lex non scripta implies that the Superior Court itself may have constructively lost jurisdiction by failing to preserve the record, leading to the necessary conclusion that the entire proceeding is untenable I verily believe that the absence of a formal judicial appearance or record in the originating court concerning the transfer confirms the lack of a proper judicial docket entry, which is the institutional mechanism for establishing jurisdiction. I verily believe that the OCJ, by accepting the Indictment without a valid transfer order, has perpetrated an unjust enrichment of jurisdiction, improperly gaining judicial authority that was not lawfully vested in it, in violation of the principles governing the division of powers between the court levels.

356. I verily believe that, pursuant to the mandatory requirements of Section 599(4), the acceptance of jurisdiction by the receiving court absent the physical and legally recognized transfer of the file via an authoritative court order constitutes a profound procedural lacuna, thereby placing the continuing jurisdiction in duBois. The non-compliance with the statutory mandate for transmission may logically lead to the conclusion that the receiving court's assumption of control over the file is defective and could be subject to an application for a writ of prohibition, based on the assertion that the court is acting without legal warrant or sufficient "colourable jurisdiction." This potential loss of jurisdiction is a severe consequence, as it can be raised at any point in the proceedings. I verily believe that the failure to transmit the file "forthwith," as explicitly directed by Section 599(4), signifies a fundamental disrespect for the statutory timeline and a further administrative failure that confirms the process was not an order of the court but a delayed, ex post facto attempt to rationalize an improperly effected transfer. The administrative delay is itself evidence that the file was moved outside the bounds of a clear judicial command. I verily believe that the cumulative weight of these defects establishes a clear case of loss of jurisdiction simpliciter, necessitating a judicial declaration that the OCJ has no valid legal authority to proceed with the matter based on the improperly transferred Indictment. I verily believe that the OCJ's exercise of control over the file, despite the absence of the requisite transfer documentation, amounts to an unwarranted assertion of seisin, which violates the constitutional principle that criminal proceedings must be conducted in strict accordance with the law. I verily believe that the loss of jurisdiction is a continuous defect that taints every subsequent procedural step, including arraignment and trial scheduling, making the current OCJ proceedings fundamentally illegitimate.

357. I verily believe that the OCJ, by proceeding without a valid order, is engaging in jurisdictional bootstrapping, attempting to elevate its own administrative decision into the legitimate judicial authority required to try an Indictment. I verily believe that the OCJ's acceptance of the file, knowing the mandatory preconditions were not met, constitutes a breach of judicial comity—the principle of mutual respect between courts of different levels—by implicitly sanctioning the administrative disregard of the Superior Court's established jurisdiction.

VOLUME #4(C): ANCILLARY CONSIDERATION: ARREST WARRANT ENDORSEMENT

358. I verily believe that the successful execution of a Form 10 Undertaking, a legal instrument governing conditional release, necessarily presupposes that any extant arrest warrant must have been judicially endorsed to properly facilitate an administrative release by a peace officer or custodial official, as such an action delegates the authority to effect release. The endorsement of a warrant is the judicial authorization that permits the administrative handling of the release, bypassing the requirement for immediate judicial review. I verily believe that if the warrant remained unendorsed, the execution of the Form 10 Undertaking was an act taken without statutory authority, meaning the release from custody was procedurally irregular and exposed the custodial officials involved to potential liability for exceeding their legal mandate. This procedural error compromises the validity of the underlying Form 10, which forms the basis for the accused's continuing obligation to the court. I verily believe that the integrity of the judicial process is compromised when administrative convenience overrides the necessity of a judicial signature for matters impacting liberty, creating a dangerous precedent where delegation of judicial authority is assumed rather than confirmed by explicit statute or order. I verily believe that the lack of endorsement on a warrant issued under a flawed jurisdictional basis further compounds the constitutional fragility of the entire process, as the initial authorization for the arrest itself may be questionable. I verily believe that the purported administrative completion of the Form 10 amounts to an illegal delegation of the judicial power of bail to a peace officer or clerk, which is contrary to the mandatory provisions of Section 503 of the Code. I verily believe that the statutory text of the Code requires the Form 10 to be based on a legally sanctioned process for release, and the absence of a judicial endorsement means the Form 10 was executed in reliance on a non-existent legal basis, rendering it unenforceable. I verily believe that the exposure of peace officers to potential liability for ultra vires release further underscores the systemic nature of the administrative failure, where officials are compelled to act without proper legal backing due to judicial or administrative lapses.

359. I verily believe that an unendorsed warrant would have indisputably mandated the personal attendance of the individual before a superior judicial authority for a bail hearing or release review, in strict compliance with Section 503(2) of the Criminal Code, which requires the person to be brought before a justice without unreasonable delay to be dealt with according to law. The status of an unendorsed warrant removes the administrative discretion to execute a Form 10, requiring a judicial officer to make the requisite findings and elevating the matter to a constitutional dimension under Section 11(e) of the Charter regarding the right not to be denied reasonable bail without just cause. I verily believe that the failure to bring the individual before a Justice of the Peace or Judge “without unreasonable delay,” as required by Section 503(2), constitutes a violation of the Charter right to trial within a reasonable time (Section 11(b)), as the unlawful administrative handling of the arrest warrant is a source of institutional delay and a procedural impediment to the timely resolution of the matter. The time spent under irregular administrative control must be factored into the Jordan analysis for institutional delay. I verily believe that the right to Habeas Corpus is engaged when the detention, or subsequent release on conditions (the Form 10), is achieved under a warrant that has not been properly judicially endorsed, as the authority for the restraint is not properly founded in law. I verily believe that the Jordan framework requires that the institutional delay caused by the need to litigate these jurisdictional and procedural defects be attributed to the Crown and the courts, as these errors are systemic failures of the administration of justice. I verily believe that the failure to comply with the mandatory “without unreasonable delay” standard of Section 503(2) is a distinct violation of liberty separate from the validity of the Indictment, confirming a pattern of Charter-infringing conduct by the State. I verily believe that the lack of mandatory judicial review upon arrest, necessitated by the unendorsed warrant, represents a failure to uphold the constitutional right to be free from arbitrary detention under Section 9 of the Charter, as the State's control over the person was maintained through a defective legal instrument.

360. I verily believe that the unendorsed warrant failure engages the doctrine of *habeas corpus, as it calls into question the legal validity of the restraint on the individual's liberty, including the ongoing conditional release obligations imposed by the Form 10.

361. I verily believe that the non-occurrence of a formal judicial review for release fortifies the conclusion that the underlying procedural steps taken were predicated upon a series of non-judicial or non-consensual administrative actions, which, ex hypothesi, are insufficient to confer a valid, continuing jurisdiction pursuant to the stringent requirements of the Criminal Code. The administrative completion of the Form 10, contrary to the legal constraints imposed by an unendorsed warrant and the non-compliance with the statutory promptness mandate of Section 503(2), demonstrates a profound, cumulative procedural failure to adhere to the Code's safeguards for release from custody, potentially warranting a judicial remedy, up to and including a permanent stay of proceedings due to the palpable abuse of process.

362. I verily believe that the cumulative effect of these jurisdictional and procedural deficiencies—including the absence of Crown consent, the ultra vires administrative endorsement, the non-transmission of the complete file, and the irregular Form 10 execution—meets the elevated threshold for abuse of process (Category Two: oppression and vexation), requiring the extraordinary remedy of a judicial stay to preserve the integrity of the justice system itself.

363. I verily believe that the State has forfeited its right to proceed by engaging in a pattern of institutional non-compliance and procedural misdirection that undermines the accused's confidence in the fairness of the judicial system. I repeat and rely upon the above with respect to the failures, neglect or inability to file documents in response to motions by the following:

- a. LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies in the JRPA Proceeding;
- b. OCJ Crown;
- c. SCJ Crown; and
- d. Respondent Parties (as they filed Responses) in the HRT0 Proceeding.

364. I verily believe that there are a variety of public interest issues that must be argued even if the underlying lis between myself and the Respondents becomes moot.
365. I declare this evidence for no improper and in support of the relief sought in my NOM #3. I have utilized the statutory declaration form for urgency and timestamping. To the extent an affidavit is required, I will append this and statutory declaration #1 to an affidavit. I make this statutory declaration in accordance with the Evidence Act (Ontario) and electronically sign the same in accordance with the Electronic Commerce Act (Ontario). The evidence herein declared and meticulously documented is adduced exclusively in support of the urgent and substantive relief formally petitioned in the Motion No. 3.
366. I verily believe that the utilization of this statutory declaration format, executed under oath, is necessitated by temporal exigency and the critical legal requirement of formally timestamping these material factual discoveries and persistent procedural infirmities.
367. Should the prevailing procedural framework exact the submission of an affidavit in lieu of this declaration, the entirety of the contents of this Statutory Declaration and the preceding Statutory Declaration #1 shall be duly appended thereto, maintaining the continuity and veracity of the factual assertions.
368. The solemnity of this Declaration underscores the gravity of the institutional misconduct alleged and the immediate necessity of judicial intervention to preserve the integrity of the JRPA Proceeding. The Applicant further avers that the persistent, coordinated, and retaliatory actions of the Non-Appearing Respondents, coupled with the systemic records obstruction by the governmental Respondents, constitute an exceptional circumstance that warrants the Court's exercise of its inherent jurisdiction to grant extraordinary, summary relief, including but not limited to, striking the defences of the non-appearing parties and compelling the Crown to produce the entirety of the judicial records without further administrative delay or procedural objection. I solemnizes this declaration in strict adherence to the Evidence Act (Ontario) and affixes an electronic signature hereto in accordance with the Electronic Commerce Act (Ontario), affirming the unimpeachable truth of the foregoing.

Duly Declared on this 14th day of November, 2025.

Subject I: Respectful Query and Urgent Request of the Respondents (LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies) – Formal demand for copies of evidentiary proof concerning the complete and accurate “delivery” (pursuant to Rule 1.03 definition of “Deliver” signifying both a successful service upon the Applicant and the subsequent FILE of the document accompanied by proof of service) of the Notice of Appearance by the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), with particular emphasis on the manifest failure to transmit the document to the Applicant via the exclusive and formally designated email address within the Judicial Review Application (the “JRPA Application”) and the demonstrable use of an alternate, antecedent channel (an electronic mail transmission from Law Clerk Ms. Maciel Milene directed to the address reserved solely for the LAT Proceeding: mcleansniclat@gmail.com).

Subject II: Respectful Query and Formal Demand – Requisition for copies of evidentiary proof concerning the complete and procedurally sound “Delivery” (Service and Filed Proof) of the Notice of Appearance by the Respondent Insurance Companies dated December 3, 2024.
(Collectively, the “Subjects”)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This comprehensive missive is hereby formally tendered concerning the aforementioned Subjects of correspondence, necessitating an immediate and definitive clarification regarding the integrity and fidelity of the court record. Appreciation is a priori (from the former) extended for the time and considered deliberation that will be accorded this correspondence and its appended attachments (whether by reference or inclusion). The finite yet invaluable institutional and human resources of the recipients are profoundly valued, which consideration is precisely why an immense and painstaking commitment of time has been undertaken to thoroughly research the extant legal principles herein and ensure their diligent application to the germane, operative facts. Confirmation is hereby given that, mutatis mutandis (with the necessary changes having been made), all definitions and designations from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence are adopted. I refer to the Applicant in the third person herein for ease of reference. The meticulous adherence to procedural stipulations, particularly those governing the initiation of a court record and the formal joinder of parties, is not a superfluous formality or a suggestion of best practice; rather, it constitutes an indispensable, constitutional foundation for the proper, lawful exercise of judicial authority and the enduring preservation of natural justice (audi alteram partem—hear the other side). This adherence is critical, given that the procedural framework of the court constitutes the lex fori (law of the forum), and any material derogation therefrom possesses the potential to fundamentally impair the substantive rights of a litigant, thereby undermining the principles of due process and compelling the court’s inherent jurisdiction to restore the procedural equilibrium ex officio (by virtue of office).

Preamble of Intent and Reserved Rights: Demand for Strict Proof and Procedural Nullities

The Respondents herein are hereby put to strict proof, requiring the production of unmanipulated documentation as mandated by law. These respectful and courtesy requisitions are observed to possess an element of public interest. Furthermore, the issues pertain to knowledge that is not subject to proof or disproof by the Applicant, as the Respondents shall either be in custody or control of documents demonstrating filing with proof of service (a requirement of two documents) or such documents shall be absent. The absence of such documentation would not constitute a mere irregularity (a defect curable by the court under the discretion conferred by Rule 2.02) but a nullity (a fundamental defect that renders the act invalid from the outset, incapable of being made valid retrospectively), since such failures are not voidable by an applicant, such as the filing of a record of proceeding forthwith albeit under a statute and not a regulation. Consequently, all subsequent steps taken shall be void ab initio. A distinction is necessarily drawn between a filing that is void ab initio and a document that was never filed with proof of service at the first instance.

Furthermore, pursuant to the judicial distinction articulated in the British Columbia Court of Appeal’s ruling in Long v. Red Branch Investments, which differentiated between the procedural requisites for the discovery of new facts or evidence of fraud post-judicial step in the jurisdictions of British Columbia and Ontario, the Applicant is necessarily constrained to proceed with the prosecution of the instant Judicial Review Application before the Divisional Court. To the extent that documents were purportedly filed by any Respondents subsequent to the alleged non-filings (i.e., filed in the Divisional Court with proof of service), such filings would similarly be deemed void ab initio due to the jurisdictional defect of the antecedent actions. This fatal procedural consequence would also extend to any unauthorized uploading of documents to the electronic Case Center, should an invitation have been proffered to the Respondents without the co-equal and simultaneous issuance of the requisite invitation to the Applicant. It is further posited that any such subsequent filings, irrespective of their due execution with proof of service and/or proper delivery, would inevitably be subject to challenge on the grounds of insufficient or complete lack of formal notice, precisely because the fundamental initial procedural steps remain void ab initio.

This mandates that the subsequent steps taken by the Divisional Court, which may have involved court staff in the court office, including but not limited to Madam Registrar Clegg, Ms. Lawrence, Ms. Tibula, and Ms. Badwal (albeit a single judge motions coordinator), are void ab initio (as if they never occurred) regarding those steps by the Divisional Court that were adverse to the Applicant, though not in relation to steps that were aligned with the statute in the JRPA (i.e., heard in a summary fashion on the record). The preservation of the court's institutional legitimacy hinges upon strict adherence to the "delivery" rule, which acts as a bulwark against the subversion of the judicial process.

The Applicant further asserts that the purported assignment of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore to take carriage of the JRPA Proceeding is also void ab initio because no direction was made under Rule 77.06(1) for all steps in a proceeding to be heard by a particular judge, thereby invalidating any purported authority exercised pursuant to Rule 77.07(2). This procedural infirmity is independent of the NOA defect and forms a separate, fatal jurisdictional challenge to the management of this case.

I. Detailed Recitation of Material Facts and Precedent Events (Procedural Courtesy)

A comprehensive and precise recitation of the operative facts pertinent to the tempus preceding this query is herein commenced. On November 15, 2024, the JRPA Application was duly submitted by the Applicant through the Justice Services Online (JSO Portal), whereupon the electronic filing mechanism applied its official date-stamp, thereby establishing the unimpeachable chronology of this application under Court File Number DC-24-00000718-00JR. This initiation of process, which constitutes the genesis of the Divisional Court's jurisdiction, vested in the Court the mandate to supervise the administrative proceedings, subject to strict and unambiguous compliance by all participants. Crucially, the JRPA Application, being a distinct and superior form of legal recourse to the Superior Court of Justice, instituted a new and separate legal proceeding. This judicial review, by its very nature, necessitated the formal designation of a specific electronic address, mcleansettlement@gmail.com, for all subsequent official correspondence and service related exclusively to the Divisional Court, an address that is materially and practically separate from the antecedent LAT Proceeding and any associated email channel, which became functus officio (having performed its office) upon the issuance of the final LAT decision (which is distinct from a "last decision"). Notably, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not take heed of any of the positions advanced by Mr. Boyce of the LAT as there was no service as exclusively posited and written by Ms. Maciel on November 27, 2024. Leaving that aside, Mr. Boyce conflated the prematurity doctrine with the sometimes utilized rule when there are no interlocutory orders of "rule against bifurcation of administrative proceedings".

This correspondence is afforded as an extended professional courtesy, and action is proceeded upon out of an abundance of caution (ex cautela abundantia) to ensure that documents forming the foundation of the judicial record are accurately, authentically, and honestly depicted and referenced for both current and subsequent lawful purposes. The necessity for this precautionary measure is underscored by the gravity of maintaining a pristine and unimpeachable documentary record, a requirement that is geometrically amplified in matters of public law and judicial review where the fairness and lawfulness of an administrative decision are scrutinized. Any ambiguity, inconsistency, or fundamental defect in the filing process possesses the potential to irrevocably vitiates subsequent steps, documents (served, filed, and with proof of service), and proceedings, thereby necessitating the expenditure of further public and private resources to rectify what ought to have been a straightforward, ministerial procedural execution. This diligence is undertaken not merely to challenge a technical point, but to prevent any future challenge, at any level of appellate scrutiny, premised upon a fundamental, jurisdictional procedural irregularity, thereby ensuring the integrity of the judicial review process remains sacrosanct and immune to collateral attack based on a flawed record. The Applicant emphasizes that the integrity of the record is not a mere preference, but a requirement fundamental to the rule of law itself.

II. Corpus Delicti – The Deficiency in Formal Delivery and the Imperative of Strict Compliance

It remains entirely unknown to the Applicant, who is the principal adversely affected party, whether the requisite and complete "delivery" of the Notices of Appearances was effectuated by any of the four designated Respondents in the precise manner stipulated by the pertinent procedural provisions. This profound lacuna in the record does not constitute a mere ministerial technicality; rather, the deficiency relates directly to the substantive jurisdictional steps necessary to confirm the Respondents' formal participation and their unequivocal, lawful submission to the court's adjudicative authority. The prevailing standard required in such formal, jurisdictional processes in Canadian courts is, in the absence of explicit judicial dispensation, that of strict compliance (versus the less exacting standard of substantial compliance, which is often reserved for non-jurisdictional matters). This rigour is applied precisely because the procedural requirement, such as proper service and filing, is designed to ensure the other party is formally, unequivocally, and correctly apprised of the respondent's intention to defend the proceeding and, equally important, to ensure the official court record is complete and authentic. This deficiency or lacuna in the official court record necessitates the immediate and forthwith resolution articulated in the subsequent section of this correspondence, as the court cannot de jure (by law) exercise its jurisdiction over a party that has failed to formally enter an appearance and complete the process of “delivery.”

A. The Ratio Decidendi Regarding the Licence Appeal Tribunal and Procedural Prejudice

The Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), the administrative body under review, forwarded an electronic copy of its Notice of Appearance dated November 27, 2024, by way of an electronic mail transmission originating from Law Clerk Ms. Maciel Milene. This transmission constitutes, at best, an informal, unsolicited method of service—a mere conveyance of information—but not the complete definition of “delivery,” which, by the clear and unambiguous wording of Rule 1.03 and the related service provisions under Rule 16, inexorably demands the conjoined requirement of service and the subsequent filing of the document accompanied by proof of service with the court. The cardinal, overriding difficulty, however, lies in the fact that the destination address for this transmittal was the electronic mail exclusively dedicated to the antecedent and sub judice LAT Proceeding (mcleansniclat@gmail.com). This address is materially distinct and procedurally disparate from the electronic mail address explicitly provided, designated, and utilized for the current, separate JRPA Application and all subsequent correspondence with the Divisional Court (mcleansettlement@gmail.com). The failure to use the designated email address is not a clerical error; it actively undermines the integrity of the Applicant's digital record-keeping and could lead to procedural prejudice, including the risk of the Applicant missing important deadlines or filings due to the misdirection of official court documents into a dormant or inappropriately monitored inbox. This lack of diligence by the LAT in ensuring proper service fundamentally violates the principle of natural justice, which dictates that a party must have adequate notice of the actions taken against them.

B. The Quid Pro Quo Regarding the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Onus Probandi

Similarly, the Respondent Insurance Companies—TDHA, SNIC, and TDGIC—electronically transmitted their Notice of Appearance on December 3, 2024. A comparable, if not greater, degree of uncertainty subsists regarding the bona fide compliance with the complete “delivered” stipulation regarding this particular filing. It must be unequivocally stated and structurally reinforced that the onus probandi (burden of proof) rests squarely and solely upon the Respondents—highly sophisticated corporate entities represented by experienced legal counsel—to furnish independent documentary evidence confirming their precise compliance with the prescribed filing and service methodologies. The mere issuance of an electronic document, without the corresponding submission of a formally executed Proof of Service affidavit or certification simultaneously filed and accepted within the JSO Portal, represents an incomplete and potentially invalid procedural step. The quid pro quo here is that the Respondents receive the right to participate fully in the judicial review only in exchange for demonstrably fulfilling their primary procedural obligation—the proper “Delivery” of their Notice of Appearance. Absent this strict demonstration, the Respondents cannot be considered “parties” properly before the court and any subsequent steps they take, or that are taken on their behalf, would lack the necessary procedural foundation. The court's reliance on documents that were not properly delivered would create a fatally flawed record, compromising the entire proceeding.

III. Demand for Production and Temporal Stipulation (Exigence and Efficiency)

In recognition of the self-evident fact that the production of independent and indisputable evidence—specifically, a filed copy via the JSO Portal bearing an official date-stamp and a valid, correctly executed Proof of Service—of the aforementioned Notices of Appearances from the LAT or Respondent Insurance Companies should not necessitate a protracted or extensive investigatory period, the immediate production of the following is formally and expeditiously requested:

1. Filed Notices of Appearance that bear the requisite JSO Portal acceptance stamp, clearly indicating the date of official filing, thereby confirming the existence of the document on the Court's electronic record (if extant); and
2. Filed Notices of Appearance with proof of service that are demonstrably appended to the filed document, certifying service upon the Applicant at the correct JRPA Application designated electronic mail address. This proof must detail the method, time, and date of service, and be formally executed as required by the relevant Rules (if extant), specifically using Form 16B or Form 16B.1 (where applicable).

The Respondents are therefore put to strict proof to forthwith produce the filed NOA, with stamping on the same, and the associated proof of service. The failure to meet this deadline shall compel the Applicant to proceed on the documented assumption that the documents are absent from the record, an assumption that the Respondents, by their lack of timely response, shall have rendered indefeasible. This strict temporal requirement is necessitated by the principle that judicial efficiency cannot take precedence over the fundamental integrity of the judicial record; however, the resolution of this foundational defect must not be unnecessarily delayed.

IV. Nisi Prius – Legal Consequences, Conflicts, and Judicial Nullity

Should satisfactory evidence of the complete and proper “delivery” of the aforesaid documents not be received forthwith, the Applicant shall proceed, without further notification or correspondence, to file a fresh Notice of Motion (NOM), relying entirely upon the appended Statutory Declaration which attests to the documented, factual lacuna in the Applicant's official record. The subsequent finalization of the Factum and Motion Record shall be executed sans the inclusion of any Notices of Appearances in the court record, thus entirely precluding any necessity to seek the additional relief of formally striking the purported Notices of Appearances on the legal axiom that the document was never duly filed with proof of service in the first instance, thereby rendering any purported subsequent action thereunder procedurally null and void. The Applicant reserves the right to seek costs against any Respondent or third party that acted without procedural foundation.

A. The Unlawful Assignment or non-assignment or non-direct: A Newly Discovered Fact or presumed fact subject to dispute - Challenge under Rule 77.07(2) and the Ultra Vires Doctrine

The Applicant challenges the fundamental authority under which the proceeding has been managed, drawing attention to Rule 77.07 of the Rules of Civil Procedure:

To Whom Made

77.07 (1) A motion may be made only to a judge or associate judge.

Same, Particular Judge

(2) If a direction is made under subrule 77.06 (1) for all steps in a proceeding to be heard by a particular judge, then any motions in the proceeding shall be made to that judge.

The Applicant asserts that no direction was made by the Chief Justice (CJ) of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ), the Associate Chief Justice (ACJ) of the SCJ, or a Local Administrative Judge (LAJ) of the Divisional Court to assign the entirety of the proceeding to a particular judge under Rule 77.06(1). The language in Rule 77.07(2) is specific: “all steps in a proceeding,” not “all proceedings.” The administrative function of assignment must be performed by the judiciary, not court staff, to maintain the integrity of judicial independence and the constitutional separation of powers. This power of direction is vested in senior judicial officers as a safeguard against improper influence or the appearance of non-impartial case management.

The unassailable corollary, based on the absence of filed or disclosed proof of direction, is that, in the absence of a proper direction or assignment by the requisite Judicial Authority (CJ, ACJ, or LAJ) as defined by the Courts of Justice Act (CJA) and Rule 77, the only rational and unassailable inference that remains is that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore assigned the case for case management to herself in an unlawful fashion. The result is that any step taken by the named judge to take carriage of the JRPA Proceeding, including any attempt to curtail the Applicant's previous motions (NOM #1 and NOM #2), is void ab initio. Furthermore, a judge cannot attain the status of functus officio (having discharged their duty) in a proceeding where their initial jurisdiction was founded upon a void ab initio assignment or direction, as the foundational prerequisite for the exercise of authority was never lawfully established. The reference in any endorsement to a case management judge, or the reference to an assignment to Shore J., must therefore be put to strict proof to demonstrate the formal, written direction from the proper judicial authority. Any reliance on an internal administrative practice that bypasses the mandatory Rule 77.06(1) direction would be ultra vires (beyond the court's powers) and fundamentally ineffective.

B. Void Ab Initio Steps, Conflict of Interest, and Judicial Misconduct

The Applicant notes that, irrespective of whether the failure to file the NOAs is an irregularity (attackable under Rule 2.02) or a nullity (attackable in any event), the subsequent steps taken by the case management judge are subject to challenge. Importantly, all of the foregoing procedural defects, coupled with the newly discovered facts and/or evidence of fraud, are materially fundamental to the legitimacy of this JRPA, go to the foundation of judicial independence, and may collectively constitute a novel issue of fraud on the court by a judge herself, an unprecedented matter that requires urgent judicial attention. The Applicant asserts, with extreme emphasis, that due to known and recently discovered conflicts of interest (including The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's prior judicial involvement in a separate, undisclosed "Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Process" and her prior partnership at Epstein Cole LLP), she cannot hear any motions of the Applicant or motions attempting to cure the void ab initio steps of the Respondents. These undisclosed involvements create a reasonable apprehension of bias, which is the constitutional test for disqualifying a judge, as articulated by the Supreme Court of Canada in cases such as R. v. S. (R.D.). A reasonable person, informed of the facts, would conclude that the judge might not be impartial.

The Applicant further asserts that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's engagement in the JRPA Proceeding without compliance with the law (i.e., self-assignment contrary to the law) is sufficient grounds for her to be removed from office and is the subject of a formal complaint lodged with the Canadian Judicial Council (CJC). This complaint necessarily invokes the standards set out in the Judges Act concerning judicial independence, impartiality, and integrity. This failure to recuse herself upon prompt objection, and her alleged misstatements of law on October 10, 2025, are posited as sufficient grounds for the Applicant to be in an unequivocally adversarial type position with the named judge. The alleged misstatements—such as those concerning the mandatory nature of case management or access to transcripts—suggest a pattern of conduct that undermines the perceived fairness of the process.

Furthermore, the lack of proper assignment means that:

1. The Respondents were not "parties" under Rule 77.05(4) as they failed to "Deliver" a first defence (NOA) with proof of service. This failure to become de jure parties prevents the subsequent application of case management rules to them.
2. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not compel any conference call or appearance under Rule 77.04(2):
77.04 (2) A judge or associate judge may, on his or her own initiative, require the parties to appear before him or her or to participate in a conference call to deal with any matter arising in connection with the case management of the proceeding, including a failure to comply with an order or the rules.
Since the Respondents were not legally "parties," and the assignment was void ab initio, no authority existed for the named judge to compel attendance or conduct a case conference. Any such conference and its subsequent endorsements are, by extension, void ab initio.
3. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not technically assign a case for case management to herself, as the power to assign is vested in the CJ, ACJ, or LAJ (as per Rule 77.05(4) and sections of the Courts of Justice Act (CJA)), which was not executed. The Applicant asserts that this is a fatal flaw of jurisdiction that cannot be cured by the invocation of inherent jurisdiction, as inherent jurisdiction cannot be used to contravene clear statutory or regulatory mandates.

The Applicant reiterates that this failure to comply with the rules, coupled with the alleged undisclosed prior judicial involvement and conflicts of interest, underscores that the necessary constitutional filter or safeguard (proper judicial assignment) was not in place, causing permanent and lasting damage to the integrity of the Divisional Court.

The Applicant reserves all rights to bring forward more newly discovered facts and evidence of fraud as it becomes known.

V. Appendix: Cited Legal Authorities and Maxims

This Appendix provides an exhaustive catalogue of the primary and secondary legal authorities and Latin maxims referenced in this correspondence, ensuring transparency and facilitating verification of the Applicant's legal arguments.

A. Rules of Civil Procedure

Authority	Description	Contextual Relevance
Rules of Civil Procedure (R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194)	The primary procedural framework governing all civil proceedings in the Superior Court of Justice, including the Divisional Court, in Ontario, Canada.	Establishes the governing regime for all actions, motions, and filings.
Rule 1.03 (Definition of "Deliver")	A specific provision within the Rules that provides a definitive interpretation of key procedural terms.	The term " Deliver " mandates the conjoined requirement of both serving a document and filing it with an acceptable proof of service .
Rule 2.02	Pertains to the ability of the court to set aside steps where there has been a procedural irregularity (curable defect).	Distinguished from a nullity , which the Applicant asserts the current defects are, making the steps attackable in any event.
Rule 59.06	Pertains to setting aside or varying judgments or orders based on newly discovered facts and/or fraud .	Cited as an independent ground for setting aside previous directions or orders, irrespective of the procedural nullity argument.
Rule 77.04(2)	Permits a judge to compel the parties to a conference or appearance for case management issues.	Argued that this rule was unavailable to the named judge because the Respondents were not " parties " and the judge lacked proper assignment.
Rule 77.05(4)	Outlines the criteria for assigning a proceeding for case management, with the power reserved to the Regional Senior Judge, other judge, or associate judge.	Used to challenge the named judge's authority to assign, particularly to herself, when no parties were properly before the court.
Rule 77.06(1)	The rule authorizing the requisite judicial authority (CJ, ACJ, or LAJ) to make a direction for a particular judge to hear all steps in a proceeding.	Cited as the source of authority that was allegedly not invoked, rendering subsequent assignment ultra vires .
Rule 77.07(2)	The rule mandating that motions be heard by a particular judge only if a	Central to the argument that motions were correctly made not to the named direction was made under Rule 77.06(1) .	judge due to the lack of proper direction/assignment.

Form 16B or 16B.1	The prescribed forms for Proof of Service used in Ontario proceedings.	Specifically demanded to prove the lawful “ delivery ” of the Notices of Appearance.

B. Legislation and Jurisprudence

Authority	Description	Contextual Relevance
Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA)	The statute governing the Applicant’s proceeding.	The JRPA ’s statutory requirements (not the ROCP) govern the filing of the Record of Proceeding (ROP).
Courts of Justice Act (CJA) Section 75(1)	Outlines the powers and duties of a judge with authority to direct and supervise sittings and assignment of judicial duties.	Supports the argument that assignment is an administrative task that must be performed by the judiciary (CJ/ACJ/LAJ), not by self-assignment.
Judges Act (Federal)	The federal statute governing the conduct and removal of federally appointed judges.	Cited in relation to the CJC complaint and the standards of impartiality, independence, and integrity.
R. v. S. (R.D.) (SCC)	Supreme Court of Canada decision setting out the test for reasonable apprehension of bias .	Used to frame the recusal and misconduct argument against the named judge based on alleged conflicts of interest.
Long v. Red Branch Investments (BCCA)	Jurisprudence from the British Columbia Court of Appeal providing a distinguishing analysis of the procedural requirements in different jurisdictions post-discovery of new facts or fraud.	Supports the Applicant’s right and requirement to proceed with the JRPA Application and to challenge antecedent procedural steps.

C. Latin Maxims and Phrases

Latin Maxim	Translation	Contextual Application in Missive
Ultra Vires	Beyond the powers.	Used to describe the unauthorized nature of the purported judicial assignment.
Void Ab Initio	Void from the beginning.	The critical legal conclusion regarding non-delivered documents and the subsequent lack of authority.
Onus Probandi	The burden of proof.	Establishes that the Respondents bear the sole legal responsibility to prove they complied with “ delivery .”

Ex Cautela Abundanti	Out of an abundance of caution.	Justifies the pre-emptive, rigorous nature of this formal inquiry.
Functus Officio	Having performed its office.	Used to describe the email address dedicated to the LAT Proceeding, which became irrelevant upon filing the JRPA.
Lex Fori	The law of the forum.	Emphasizes that the Rules of Civil Procedure are the mandatory law of the Divisional Court.
Nisi Prius	Unless before.	Used formally to structure a conditional legal consequence (i.e., unless evidence is provided, then X will occur).

The right is expressly reserved to rely upon this correspondence for any and all lawful purposes, including the submission of this missive as an exhibit in the Applicant's upcoming Motion Record, with the assertion that the Applicant and The Honourable Madam Justice Shore are now in an unequivocally adversarial type position.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

I cordially denote for the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies to govern themselves accordingly especially in relation to the officers of the court as the demand above is made upon them and no one else.

I thank the innocent persons for their patience while I discovered new facts and fraud in the most diligent and painstaking fashion as, inter alia, evidenced by this comprehensive letter herein and by reference to the above noted complaint – not directed at any of the addressees per se.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

When I have used the expressions (including any permutations) of "in my view", "in my opinion", or "belief", I am not drawing or making any conclusion of law or swearing a conclusion of law but rather citing my position and opinions as a matter of fact.
2. I adopt the definitions from my previously filed documents in this LAT Proceeding (also defined as the "SNIC Proceeding" and now also defined as the "McLean Proceeding" (see: infra for explanation as to why) and they have the same meaning herein as they do therein unless expressly denoted otherwise.
3. I swear this evidence in support of NOM #16 which is set to be heard on October 2, 2024. I swear in the context, for the aforementioned reasons of my scheduling issues in September and October 2024, as also pre-emptive reply evidence.
4. I further swear this evidence in support of my NOM #17 to be served and filed which seeks an order of production or disclosure, pursuant to the SPPA and LAT Rules, of SNIC regarding the letter that was received on or around August 28, 2024, by one of my service providers which represented that no insurance company within the TDI Group (or "TDI Insurance" (see: infra for definition)) could match my claim with any of its claims. NOM #17 will also seek an order of the Tribunal to seal this Affidavit #17. Please see my affidavit #36 in this regard as to what documents or things I demanded upon SNIC to produce or disclose and its failure or neglect to respond. To avoid multiple hearings at different dates, I will be seeking an order that NOM #17 is heard at the same time as NOM #16. Further, I will be seeking an order that NOM #17 is heard prior to NOM #17 in light of SNIC (and all other insurance companies in the TDI Group) not being able to match my claim with any of its claims, despite all of the particulars requested in that aforementioned letter, which was sent some time after August 15, 2024. I rely on the representations made in that letter and I believe that is one of or the reason why SNIC has delayed or withheld benefits. I remain of the view and belief that TDHA was the First Insurer. I reserve all of my rights in fact and at law in the aforementioned regard.
5. I further swear this evidence for the record of proceeding.
6. I adopt the facts (where applicable) in the exhibits denoted below.
7. As of today's date, SNIC has not exchanged a single document. SNIC did not list a single "key document" in the SNIC Response.

Volume #2: Exhibits

Volume #2(A): Exhibit "A"

8. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A" to this my affidavit is a copy of the following images:

This is the 5th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under TD Insurance (SNIC) "Abundant Program" Claim Number 0354257904 (TD Claim #3), TD Insurance Policy Number #001013511806 (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "24-015662/AA/B5" (the "LAT File Number", "LAT Proceeding" or "McLean Proceeding") under section 28(2) of the Access to Information Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") in Secretary National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an ISRA Registration Number of 393 ("SNIC #393") and potentially involving the "First Insurer" to receive any Completed Application on October 13, 2022 via my fax to the fax number of 416-774-3120 (the "4th Floor 3650 Victoria Park Avenue Fax Number" or "VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number").

- a. The "As per A. Nurse" hand-printed and handwritten language from the Dhaliwal OCF-18, Part 13 (see: page 11);
- b. An "anniversary card" (undated) from Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos to my Spouse (Ms. Nicole Artopoulos). On Sunday, September 15, 2024, I found the Anniversary Card in a box inside my residential unit (see: address for service) (see: pages 2 and 3); and
- c. The "As per A. Nurse" hand-printed image and the Anniversary Card in a "collage format" with various angles (see: page 4 to 6).

Volume #2(B): Exhibit "B"

9. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "B" to this my affidavit is a copy of my emails to SNIC (claims advisors) on the dates therein. Exhibit "B" is enumerated from pages 7 to 13.
10. I did not receive any response from the claims' advisors.

Volume #2(C): Exhibit "C"

11. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "C" to this my affidavit is a copy of my emails to SNIC (representatives and Ms. Ortiz (Mr. Nieuwland's legal assistant) on the dates therein. I did not receive a response from the representatives of SNIC.
12. Exhibit "C" is enumerated from pages 14 to 22.

Volume #3: Mr. Nieuwland's representation on April 11, 2024, when measured against the uncontroverted evidence and the recent discovery of the Anniversary Card (measured against the "As per A. Nurse" handwritten language)

13. On April 11, 2024, Mr. Nieuwland, in a response [not the SNIC Response] to the COI Motion (NOM #6), responded as follows at paragraph 9 therein [emphasis is mine]:

"Please also note Andrew Papadimitropoulos is in no way associated with Andy Gera, nor has Andrew Papadimitropoulos been involved in any way with this claim or access request."
14. I do not believe that to be a true representation when referencing my TD Claim #3 which was assigned to me by SNIC (see: (i) Beneficiary Bank Account designation form; (ii) Dhaliwal OCF-18 (April 6, 2023); (iii) response to Dhaliwal OCF-18 by SNIC with the "As per A. Nurse" handwritten language; (iv) Appeal; (v) SNIC Response; and (vi) other documents denoting the same in the record of proceeding herein).
15. As noted, I provided the evidence of the Anniversary Card as soon as it became known to me and exchanged said document with SNIC.
16. I believe and allege that the Tribunal was misled by Mr. Nieuwland's misrepresentation or misapprehension created upon it. I believe Mr. Nieuwland should correct the same.

This is the 37th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under TD Insurance (SNIC "Alumni Program") Claim Number 035328790-3 ("TD Claim #3"). TD Insurance Policy Number #001013511895 (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "23-015662/AA-B5" (the "LAT File Number"), "LAT Proceeding" or "McLean Proceeding") under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") in Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSLA Registration Number of 191 ("SNIC #397") and potentially involving the "First Insurer" to receive my Completed Application on October 13, 2022 via my fax to the fax number of 416-774-1120 (the "4th Floor 3650 Victoria Park Avenue Fax Number" or "VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number").

17. I repeat and rely upon my evidence in relation to what "as per" means in fact and at law.
18. While SNIC's response to the Dhaliwal OCF-18 was that it approved the sum of $2080.57 but did not approve the remaining amounts therein, my position remains in this SNIC Proceeding that SNIC (subject to TDHA being the First Insurer) did not comply with the requirement of an adjuster signing the OCF-18, Part 13.
19. I note again for ease of reference the following regarding "as per" or "Per Procuracionem (p.p.)" which I have obtained from a secondary source:

"Signing a document on behalf of someone else is a common practice, especially in business and legal settings. However, it's crucial to do so correctly to ensure the signature's validity. Here's how you can sign as per someone else:

1. Per Procuracionem (p.p.):

- This Latin term means "through the agency of" and is used when someone signs on behalf of another person with proper authorization.
- It is typically used in business correspondence and legal documents.
- Format: Write "p.p." before your signature, followed by the name and title of the person you are signing for.
 - Example:
 - p.p. John Doe (your signature)
Jane Smith, CEO"

20. I maintain my position that the "As per A. Nurse" printed language was (and is) not a valid signature.
21. To the extent that the Tribunal finds that the "As per A. Nurse" signature is invalid, as a matter of law, then I will be seeking that the amounts over and above the approved $2080.57, are subject to a Reg 664 award.
22. As I have indicated in a variety of ways, I have advanced additional and independent arguments regarding the issues surrounding "Medical And Rehab benefits pursuant to SABS.

Volume #4: Conclusion: my beliefs; and Jurat

23. As I am seeking document or things relating to the "As per A. Nurse" hand-printed language by reference to, inter alia, my Document Demand #2 (see: Motion Submissions at Tab 18 of NOM #16, paragraph #5 at page 263 of the hearing record), I swear, under the penalty of perjury, that I believe that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos is the individual who inscribed, wrote, scripted, penned and inked the "As per A. Nurse" printed language in the response to the Dhaliwal OCF-18, Part 13 on or around the date of April 20, 2023.

This is the 17th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under TD Insurance (SNIC "Mortgage Program") Claim Number 035325790-3 (TD Claim #3, TD Insurance Policy Number: 0011613511816 (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "23-015662/AA/BS" (the "LAT File Number"), "LAT Proceeding" or "McLean Proceeding") under section 28(12) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party" or Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC")) with an FIRA Registration Number of 197 (SNIC #397) and potentially involving the "First Insured" to receive its Completed Application on October 12, 2022 via my fax to the fax number of 416-774-3120 (the "4th Floor 2650 Victoria Park Avenue Fax Number" or "VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number").

24. Without any waiver of confidentiality or privilege, I repeat and rely upon the preliminary discussions that I have had with a variety of experts in the field of handwriting analysis. To the extent that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos denies that he inscribed the "As per A. Nurse" printed language therein, I reserve my rights to obtain an expert report from a handwriting expert.
25. To the extent that SNIC confirms that the "As per A. Nurse" printed language was that of Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos and that said purported signature was perhaps authorized by Ms. Nurse to Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos but was invalid as a matter of law and confirms that ss. 38(8) and (11) are the operative sections relating to myself, I do not see any need for that issue to be addressed in further detail under NOM #16. I ask that SNIC provide its position in this regard either prior to the deadline to file responsive submissions or at the time ordered by the Tribunal.
26. For notice purposes to SNIC, if Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos does not swear evidence denying the same and no individual swears under oath that he or she was the individual who inscribed and penned the "As per A. Nurse", I will ask by way of reply that the Tribunal find that my evidence will be the only evidence to be considered regarding the same. In this regard, I am referring to Document Demand #2. Again, for notice purposes, I will be asking, by way of reply (if applicable), that the Tribunal find, as a fact, that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos was the individual who penned the "As per A. Nurse" language therein.
27. I note that, even with the naked-eye, I draw the Tribunal's attention the similarities between the "As per A. Nurse" printed language and the language in the Anniversary Card in certain alphabetic letters including the following but not limited to:
 - a. "e";
 - b. "r";
 - c. "s";
 - d. "u"; and
 - e. "p".
28. As the "As per A. Nurse" printed words are not a "signature" per se, I am informed by experts in handwriting analysis and I believe to be true that the comparative analysis between the "As per A. Nurse" printed language and Anniversary Card, which was authored by Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos, is of "printing" and "not signing".
29. I can also inform the Tribunal that I have documents with Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos signature but they are not relevant to the above comparative analysis and my NOM #16.
30. I reserve the right to rely upon this evidence for any motions or hearing and/or any purposes within this SNIC Proceeding, TD Claim #3, and/or outside of either the SNIC Proceeding and TD Claim #3.
31. I swear this Affidavit #37 for no improper purpose and for the above purposes.

Re #2: further examples to follow – kind notice to you – reasonable and probable grounds to believe that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos – was the “ghost writer” and “ghost purported signatory” of the Dhaliwal OCF-18, Part 13

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns

1. I write regarding the above. I reserve all of my rights in relation to the now known “First Insurer” which was and is TDHA. However, in light of this being a historical issue with SNIC, I am writing exclusively to SNIC and the known claims advisors.
2. I am providing you with a courtesy notice that I found a card written by Mr. Papadimitropoulos to my Spouse when they were married regarding an anniversary of theirs at the relevant time. The hand printed card by Mr. Papadimitropoulos is referred to as the “anniversary card” irrespective of capitalization.
3. I attach a copy of said card in various formats, resolutions and angles. I also attach a copy of a close-up photo of the “As per A. Nurse” printed language in Part 13 of the Dhaliwal OCF-18.
4. I have also had the page and part of the document, defined as the “Dhaliwal OCF-18, which was sent to me in early May 2023, which are purportedly signed on behalf of “A. Nurse”. As you know, SNIC approved, apparently from the 2nd floor of the Markham McNabb Building with reference to the 416.774.3120 fax number (defined previously as the “VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number”) the sum of $2080.57 in the Dhaliwal OCF-18. As you know, we later learned that SNIC had neglected to tender the approved amount therein to TONP or Rehab Mechanics. While an invoice was not required, one was tendered to SNIC in August 2024. As there is no dispute as to the amount approved (i.e. not refused), there is only a dispute as to whether the refused amounts (i.e. the 26 sessions in the Dhaliwal OCF-18 and the full amount of the full body assessment which amounted to approximately an additional $800) were lawfully and properly refused. I say that they were not on a variety of grounds, including the lack of a lawful signature (i.e. “As per” requires the name of the agent signing on behalf of the adjuster (principal) and there is no indication therein as to whom that individual was), and that SNIC owes the refused amounts plus SABS interest and likely compound interest plus penalty pursuant to section 10 of Reg 664.
5. However, for present purposes, I am providing you with the above noted attachments and some side-by-side images of:
 - a. The close up of the “As per A. Nurse” printed language by way of image; and
 - b. The anniversary card penned by Andrew Papadimitropoulos.
6. With respect to courtesy purposes and full disclosure, I found the anniversary card as of yesterday as I was looking for one of my massagers that I had purchased and submitted to SNIC (albeit and unbeknownst to me at the relevant time in the “VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number” or “TDHA Fax Number”). As I was able to obtain the same, I saw an envelope in a pink envelope titled “Nicole” and

I had presumed it was one of the many cards that I had given to her on various occasions. Much to my surprise, it was a historic one from Mr. Papadimitropoulos, and you will see the language therein.

7. You will recall that I had, on many occasions, predicted or concluded that he was involved in TD Claim #3 at a variety of times. I still do not know what is meant by “Ki. W” per se. However, it did not have any positive legal effect to bring an otherwise invalid printed “As per A. Nurse” (under “signature of an adjuster” which is a requirement under SABS and an FSRA issued form) to a “legally valid signature by an adjuster on behalf of SNIC”.

8. However, it was Mr. Nieuwland that represented to the Tribunal, which may not be known to you, that a letter, which I still do not have, was sent to me in relation to my PIPEDA request of SNIC, that Mr. Papadimitropoulos had never been involved in my matters, claim or this SNIC Proceeding. I did not believe Mr. Nieuwland but the Tribunal was entitled to rely on the good character and reputation of such a submission by Mr. Nieuwland, as a barrister and solicitor of the LSO, believes it to be true.

9. It is notable that the Tribunal has found that 2nd floor of the Markham McNabb Building was not an address for SNIC. It is further notable that the Tribunal has found that the address it had and has in its records, and frankly who better than the Tribunal to know addresses for insurance companies based on its years of experience dealing with all of them in the automotive insurance field, for SNIC was that of SNIC Burlington Office. I again note that SNIC never provided me with a floor number when providing me with its change of address from the alleged “SNIC Markham Office” therein but a “fax number” (the “905 Fax Number”). I am thankful to the Tribunal for providing me the floor number of what I now define as “SNIC Burlington Office” as opposed to merely “SNIC Burlington”.

10. While it is an obvious conflict of interest, as admitted by the forceful and decisive language used by Mr. Nieuwland in April 2024 that vociferously denied Mr. Papadimitropoulos ever being involved in my TD Claim #3 or this SNIC Proceeding, for him to have act, to act or act in the future against me, the point is even more applicable considering the address where I reside was an address where he resided with my Spouse and his former wife.

11. The issue as it relates to the claims advisors (denoted colloquially as “adjusters”) on a day-to-day basis or rectification of previous errors is that if you know or reasonably should know that Ms. Nurse did not sign (which is obvious as it was on her behalf) the Dhaliwal OCF-18 (Part 13, “signature of an adjuster”) and you had knowledge or come into knowledge that an individual, like Mr. Papadimitropoulos, signed on her behalf albeit not in accordance with the legal requirements of an “As per”, then you have an ongoing duty to adjust the file accordingly.

12. My position has remained that Ms. Nurse, Ms. Persaud and Ms. Michie knew. Perhaps, they did not.

13. However, the purpose of this email provides you with evidence that even with the naked-eye or untrained eye, you will see the similarities in the printing style.

14. I am having it further examined by experts in analyzing signatures and printing. However, due to having retained or causing to be retained, hand-writing experts over the years, I was able to obtain some privileged and confidential feedback (without any waiver but solely for your edification) on a preliminary basis regarding the similarities between the “As per A. Nurse” printed language and the above-noted anniversary card (referencing the similarities between certain letters between each):

- a. The letter “e” has a unique hook to it;
- b. The letter “s” has an unique erectness to it;
- c. The letter “p” has an unique vertical dropdown from the stem to it; and
- d. Others (unnecessary for providing you notice at this time and as soon as I was reasonably able to do so).

15. I again reaffirm the Consent Email Communication Protocol.

16. It would obviously be “overkill” to retain an expert for the purposes of this email and beyond as Mr. Papadimitropoulos can either confirm or deny under oath. I will grant him that opportunity in any event.

17. However, for the claims adjusters’ purposes, it is incumbent upon them to act in accordance with the UDAP Rule et al. Therefore, please provide me with your position by no later than end of business day tomorrow if SNIC will pay the refused amounts (approved amount has already been determined and cannot be revised) by end of business day on September 17, 2024.

18. Should you need more time to consider and investigate the same, kindly advise.

19. Trusting that you now have unequivocal and unrefuted evidence as to the, in fact, purported signatory on behalf of Ms. Nurse on April 20, 2023, I need not make more of this issue than it could become. In that regard, should you confirm on or before the end of the business day tomorrow, then kindly tender a cheque Rehab Mechanics (DBA) for the outstanding amounts contained in that Dhaliwal OCF-18 plus SABS interest.

20. I will then confirm by reply email, before your issuance of the cheque per se, that I consider any and all issues closed regarding the “Fictitious Nurse Signature”, and that will allow me to work in lock-step with my past, current and future service providers regarding us knowing the exact amounts paid or to be paid on my behalf.

21. I shall supplement this email with further particulars and documents but the substance shall remain the same.

22. I again wish to make clear that I am not castigating any of the adjusters but if you are considering that you are entitled to take positions, advice, or instructions from Mr. Papadimitropoulos, my position remains, consistent with the signed documents in April 2024 by declared representative of SNIC^[iv] (and TDGIC) in Mr. Nieuwland, you are not. Moreover, if you do not adjust my TD Claim #3 (albeit I refer to the letter received on August 29, 2024, by a service provider that no insurance company in the TDI Group was able to match my claim with any of its claims), I will be compelled to draw this to the attention of any person, body, authority, tribunal, or court of competent jurisdiction without further notice to you.

23. However, if you confirm in writing, that you will adjust the file in accordance with the law and as per your obligations as adjusters or claims advisors with this newly discovered evidence, I will confirm in writing, which you may rely upon for any purpose including that I would have (which I would not be legally allowed to do so) advanced a complaint in bad faith, that such issues surrounding the same need not be addressed ever again.

24. To the extent that you do not and I do not have an affidavit from Mr. Papadimitropoulos that he did not print the “As per A. Nurse” language therein, I will presume that the claims adjusters were complicit in the same, and each and every subsequent position taken was and is unlawful. I do not mean to be so direct about it but I have to provide notice to you and an opportunity to rectify the same.

25. I may provide a copy of this email to the representatives for SNIC or other authorized individuals for context purposes but the obligations herein on a day-to-day basis remain that of the known claims advisors.

26. I could provide further contextual factors but due to having discovered this evidence yesterday, I have drawn to your attention as soon as I had possession of the same and it was reasonable to advance the conclusions that I have.

27. I will provide a copy of this email and attachments to any and all relevant service providers so they are aware of the potential implications of the same, and then confirm your response to the above.

28. Thank you kindly.

Sincerely,

[i] Kindly excuse any errors of an administrative nature which may be corrected thereafter but the substance will remain the same.

[ii] The floor number was never provided in letters from SNIC from Spring/Summer 2023 (depending on when they were sent and/or, in fact or deemed, received)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

1. As promised, please find attached a scan of a signature of Mr. Papadimitropoulos with his address being the same as my current address. While this is not relevant for any analysis to the "As per A. Nurse" printed language, it demonstrates what is self-evident and that his printing in the anniversary card is most similar to the "As per A. Nurse" printed language.
2. I trust you will see the same. Moreover, any steps taken by a lawyer must be documented and diarized, and there will be supporting documents that will prove (or disprove) the same. I welcome an open discussion.
3. If not him, then who else could it be? Ms. Persaud was not the adjuster at the time. Mr. Karat has been steadfast that he was only involved by way of the commencement of the SNIC Proceeding. Mr. Nieuwland was only recently retained by SNIC. The address in the cover letter (distinct from the address in HCAI albeit that is being resolved now) was where Mr. Papadimitropoulos is listed in the LSO directory.
4. We have now learned that said address was not an address at all for SNIC.
5. Ironically, Mr. Nieuwland will recall his "pounding of the drum" (proverbially speaking) of me submitting through HCAI, which I still cannot do until the address change is complete in the back-end of HCAI.
6. There may be an honest explanation as to what happened (i.e. Ms. Nurse was away and ill) and Mr. Papadimitropoulos presumed that is how one signs on another's behalf. However, if I do not receive a response, I will have to presume the worst.
7. I will presume, as always, that you can open all images, attachments, PDF's et al unless I hear otherwise.
8. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear SNIC (Claims Advisors):

I write to confirm that I have not received any response from you regarding the above. I shall presume that there is no dispute as the obvious similarities between the "As per A. Nurse" printed language and the "Anniversary Card" writing sample of Mr. Papadimitropoulos. The evidence is highly relevant to the issues in dispute in this LAT proceeding but at the same time, I must be respectful that the Anniversary Card contains intimate personal details of two former spouses. In the circumstances, I will be filing an affidavit in this regard but clearly denoted at the top of the same that is filed in a manner which it should be sealed and not available for public access pursuant to, inter alia, Rule 13.1.

I kindly remind you, which I will expand upon further, that it is common ground that Mr. Papadimitropoulos is not to have any direct or indirect contact with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos, and certainly his clandestine contact with me (directly or indirectly, or by way of the "As per A. Nurse") would constitute indirect contact with Ms. Artopoulos.

While none of us are parties to their separation agreement and subsequent divorce decree (which is public record), I kindly notify you of the same so you are not facilitating or inducing any breaches of that contract (separation agreement). You may wish to seek independent legal advice regarding the same as, in my view, it is an entirely separate legal issue from the required standards of conduct by the Governing Statutes, Governing Regulations, and LAT Rules. I shall presume, without knowing or having seen such a separation agreement (although I have seen the divorce decree), that there are compensation or damages amounts (presumably in the standard language of liquidated damages) to be paid by Mr. Papadimitropoulos to Ms. Artopoulos where he has engaged in the same. It is trite that inducing a breach of contract or facilitating a breach of contract is a tort and not a matter to be determined by the Tribunal per se.

In any event, the attachments herein and analysis speak to highly relevant issues in upcoming motion hearings and the issues in dispute between myself and SNIC. As such, it will have to be filed in the record of proceeding albeit under "seal". Thank you for your attention to this very sensitive and specific matter which has arisen since the time denoted herein.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Re #2: further examples to follow – kind notice to you – reasonable and probable grounds to believe that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos – was the “ghost writer” and “ghost purported signatory” of the Dhaliwal OCF-18, Part 13

Re #3: relevant to NOM #16

Re #4: relevant to working together in cooperative and lawful fashion to narrow issues in the SNIC Proceeding

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

1. I write regarding the above. I reserve all of my rights in relation to the now known “First Insurer” which was and is TDHA. However, in light of this being a historical issue with SNIC, I am writing exclusively to SNIC and the known claims advisors.
2. I am providing you with a courtesy notice that I found a card written by Mr. Papadimitropoulos to my Spouse when they were married regarding an anniversary of theirs at the relevant time. The hand printed card by Mr. Papadimitropoulos is referred to as the “anniversary card” irrespective of capitalization.
3. I attach a copy of said card in various formats, resolutions and angles. I also attach a copy of a close-up photo of the “As per A. Nurse” printed language in Part 13 of the Dhaliwal OCF-18.
4. I have also had the page and part of the document, defined as the “Dhaliwal OCF-18, which was sent to me in early May 2023, which are purportedly signed on behalf of “A. Nurse”. As you know, SNIC approved, apparently from the 2nd floor of the Markham McNabb Building with reference to the 416.774.3120 fax number (defined previously as the “VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number”) the sum of $2080.57 in the Dhaliwal OCF-18. As you know, we later learned that SNIC had neglected to tender the approved amount therein to TONP or Rehab Mechanics. While an invoice was not required, one was tendered to SNIC in August 2024. As there is no dispute as to the amount approved (i.e. not refused), there is only a dispute as to whether the refused amounts (i.e. the 26 sessions in the Dhaliwal OCF-18 and the full amount of the full body assessment which amounted to approximately an additional $800) were lawfully and properly refused. I say that they were not on a variety of grounds, including the lack of a lawful signature (i.e. “As per” requires the name of the agent signing on behalf of the adjuster (principal) and there is no indication therein as to whom that individual was), and that SNIC owes the refused amounts plus SABS interest and likely compound interest plus penalty pursuant to section 10 of Reg 664.
5. However, for present purposes, I am providing you with the above noted attachments and some side-by-side images of:
 - a. The close up of the “As per A. Nurse” printed language by way of image; and
 - b. The anniversary card penned by Andrew Papadimitropoulos.
6. With respect to courtesy purposes and full disclosure, I found the anniversary card as of yesterday as I was looking for one of my massagers that I had purchased and submitted to SNIC (albeit and unbeknownst to me at the relevant time in the “VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number” or “TDHA Fax Number”). As I was able to obtain the same, I saw an envelope in a pink envelope titled “Nicole” and I had presumed it was one of the many cards that I had given to her on various occasions. Much to my surprise, it was a historic one from Mr. Papadimitropoulos, and you will see the language therein.

7. You will recall that I had, on many occasions, predicted or concluded that he was involved in TD Claim #3 at a variety of times. I still do not know what is meant by “Ki. W” per se. However, it did not have any positive legal effect to bring an otherwise invalid printed “As per A. Nurse” (under “signature of an adjuster” which is a requirement under SABS and an FSRA issued form) to a “legally valid signature by an adjuster on behalf of SNIC”.

8. However, it was Mr. Nieuwland that represented to the Tribunal, which may not be known to you, that a letter, which I still do not have, was sent to me in relation to my PIPEDA request of SNIC, that Mr. Papadimitropoulos had never been involved in my matters, claim or this SNIC Proceeding. I did not believe Mr. Nieuwland but the Tribunal was entitled to rely on the good character and reputation of such a submission by Mr. Nieuwland, as a barrister and solicitor of the LSO, and believe it to be true.

9. It is notable that the Tribunal has found that 2nd floor of the Markham McNabb Building was not an address for SNIC. It is further notable that the Tribunal has found that the address it had and has in its records, and frankly who better than the Tribunal to know addresses for insurance companies based on its years of experience dealing with all of them in the automotive insurance field, for SNIC was that of SNIC Burlington Office. I again note that SNIC never provided me with a floor number when providing me with its change of address from the alleged “SNIC Markham Office” therein but a “fax number” (the “905 Fax Number”). I am thankful to the Tribunal for providing me the floor number of what I now define as “SNIC Burlington Office” as opposed to merely “SNIC Burlington”.

10. While it is an obvious conflict of interest, as admitted by the forceful and decisive language used by Mr. Nieuwland in April 2024 that vociferously denied Mr. Papadimitropoulos ever being involved in my TD Claim #3 or this SNIC Proceeding, for him to have act, to act or act in the future against me, the point is even more applicable considering the address where I reside was an address where he resided with my Spouse and his former wife.

11. My position has remained that Mr. Karat and Mr. Nieuwland knew that not only was Ms. Nurse not the signatory but Mr. Papadimitropoulos was the signatory.

12. However, the purpose of this email provides you with evidence that even with the naked-eye or untrained eye, you will see the similarities in the printing style.

13. I am having it further examined by experts in analyzing signatures and printing. However, due to having retained or causing it be retained, hand-writing experts over the years, I was able to obtain some privileged and confidential feedback (without any waiver but solely for your edification) on a preliminary basis regarding the similarities between the “As per A. Nurse” printed language and the above-noted anniversary card (referencing the similarities between certain letters between each):

- a. The letter “e” has a unique hook to it;
- b. The letter “s” has an unique erectness to it;
- c. The letter “p” has an unique vertical dropdown from the stem to it; and
- d. Others (unnecessary for providing you notice at this time and as soon as I was reasonably able to do so).

14. It would obviously be “overkill” to retain an expert for the purposes of this email and beyond as Mr. Papadimitropoulos can either confirm or deny under oath. I will grant him that opportunity in any event. This, of course, arises in the context of NOM #16.

15. Should you need more time to consider and investigate the same, kindly advise.

16. Trusting that you now have unequivocal and unrefuted evidence as to the, in fact, purported signatory on behalf of Ms. Nurse on April 20, 2023, I need not make more of this issue than it could become. In that regard, should SNIC confirm that it is in agreement with the above noted conclusions, then we can confirm the same with the Tribunal which will be of assistance to the Tribunal in hearing and deciding NOM #16.

17. I will then confirm by reply email, before your issuance of the cheque per se, that I consider any and all issues closed regarding the “Fictitious Nurse Signature”, and that will allow me to work in lock-step with my past, current and future service providers regarding us knowing the exact amounts paid or to be paid on my behalf. It will also shorten or narrow issues for the entire SNIC Proceeding.

18. I could provide further contextual factors but due to having discovered this evidence yesterday, I have drawn to your attention as soon as I had possession of the same and it was reasonable to advance the conclusions that I have. I will simply note that all of the previous contextual factors that I had submitted and/or sworn are all corroborate the fact that Ms. Nurse was not the signatory and Mr. Papadimitropoulos was the individual who printed Ms. Nurse’s name therein.

19. I will provide a copy of this email and attachments to any and all relevant service providers so they are aware of the potential implications of the same, and then confirm your response to the above.

20. Kindly let me know – positively or negatively – by the end of the business day tomorrow. If I do not hear from you, I will have this email and other emails, along with the attachments herein (and other attachments), appended to an affidavit in the form of pre-emptive reply and for costs purposes.

21. Further, if there is no denial of the above by the end of business day tomorrow, I will presume that I am correct and rely on the law of adverse inference. Moreover, if there is a denial or failure to respond, I provide notice that if there is not an affidavit from Mr. Papadimitropoulos denying the same under NOM #16, then I will seek all remedies available to me in the Tribunal and outside the Tribunal processes.

22. I note that I will continue to distinguish (where applicable) between my communications with the “adjusters” (also known as “claims advisors”) and representatives of SNIC within the Tribunal proceeding (defined as the “SNIC Proceeding”).

23. While I appreciate that SNIC is required to produce and disclose to me any and all documents within the scope of the five document demands (the “Document Demands”), which are naturally broad and deep in scope, I will require (which is noted) a list of all allegedly privileged documents with sufficient particularization of each document to assess the same.

24. I will presume, for the interim, that the 905 Fax Number that was provided to me in letters referencing Ms. Persaud is correct as it relates to the 5th floor of the Burlington Office Building. However, would you please confirm or deny if it is? If it is not, please provide me with the correct fax number for the SNIC Burlington Office (i.e. the fax number that is ground and wired to the 5th floor for the offices of SNIC)? Thank you kindly in this regard.

25. I have also provided these documents in the spirit of good faith to exchange documents with a party (as it currently stands and relevant to the only insurer name on the OCF-18, Part 13, by SNIC) as soon as they come into my possession and they were and are relevant to this SNIC Proceeding (in its current form). I have further documents in this regard including signatures of Mr. Papadimitropoulos in formal documents. However, as you will likely know, the comparative analysis by a handwriting expert in this regard is in relation to “printing” and NOT “signing”. If I am required to take unnecessary steps in relation to the issues in this email thread, I will seek costs in NOM #16 and beyond.

26. Thank you kindly for your attention and response to the above. I await to hear from you on or before the end of the business day tomorrow. I have provided that courtesy deadline not to impose timelines on you but because time is of the essence. Should you need more time to consider, please advise. I have also provided this email and attachments to you so that you are aware of the evidence that I have at this time and no reasonable person would then view my production or disclosure of the same at a later date to be somewhat “sharp tactics”. I do appreciate that this evidence was obtained by pure serendipity and it may cause SNIC or the representatives to amend previous positions and they have been honest mistakes. If that is the case, I kindly remind the licensee (lawyer) in this email of his duty to correct any misapprehension created by the same.

27. My best to you all,

[i] Kindly excuse any errors of an administrative nature which may be corrected thereafter but the substance will remain the same.

[ii] The floor number was never provided in letters from SNIC from Spring/Summer 2023 (depending on when they were sent and/or, in fact or deemed, received)

[iii] As denoted as of Summer of 2023

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

1. As promised, please find attached a scan of a signature of Mr. Papadimitropoulos with his address being the same as my current address. While this is not entirely or directly relevant for any analysis to the "As per A. Nurse" printed language, it demonstrates what is self-evident and that his printing in the anniversary card is most similar to the "As per A. Nurse" printed language.
2. I trust you will see the same. Moreover, any steps taken by a lawyer must be documented and diarized, and there will be supporting documents that will prove (or disprove) the same. I welcome an open discussion.
3. If not him, then who else could it be? Ms. Persaud was not the adjuster at the time. Mr. Karat has been steadfast that he was only involved by way of the commencement of the SNIC Proceeding. Mr. Nieuwland was only recently retained by SNIC. The address in the cover letter (distinct from the address in HCAI albeit that is being resolved now) was where Mr. Papadimitropoulos is listed in the LSO directory.
4. We have now learned that said address was not an address at all for SNIC.
5. Ironically, Mr. Nieuwland will recall his "pounding of the drum" (proverbially speaking) of me submitting through HCAI, which I still cannot do until the address change is complete in the back-end of HCAI.
6. There may be an honest explanation as to what happened (i.e. Ms. Nurse was away and ill) and Mr. Papadimitropoulos presumed that is how one signs on another's behalf. However, if I do not receive a response, I will have to presume the worst.
7. I will presume, as always, that you can open all images, attachments, PDF's et al unless I hear otherwise.
8. Lastly, if the documents produced and disclosed by SNIC do not capture the full picture of the lead up to the contrived math involved in that Dhaliwal OCF-18 (Part 13), the "As per A. Nurse" printed language et al, I will seek to either discover Mr. Papadimitropoulos or summons him and have him under oath and under the penalty of perjury.
9. With a simple confirmation by SNIC that it was him, then all of that goes by the wayside and is water under the bridge.
10. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Dear SNIC (Representatives):

I write to confirm that I have not received any response from you regarding the above. I shall presume that there is no dispute as the obvious similarities between the “As per A. Nurse” printed language and the “Anniversary Card” writing sample of Mr. Papadimitropoulos. I confirm that there has not been any dispute that Mr. Papadimitropoulos was the printer of the “As per A. Nurse” language on April 20, 2023, OCF-18, part 13.

The evidence is highly relevant to the issues in dispute in this LAT proceeding but at the same time, I must be respectful that the Anniversary Card contains intimate personal details of two former spouses. In the circumstances, I will be filing an affidavit in this regard but clearly denoted at the top of the same that is filed in a manner which it should be sealed and not available for public access pursuant to, inter alia, Rle 13.1 .

I kindly remind you, which I will expand upon further, that it is common ground that Mr. Papadimitropoulos is not to have any direct or indirect contact with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos, and certainly his clandestine contact with me (directly or indirectly, or by way of the “As per A. Nurse”) would constitute indirect contact with Ms. Artopoulos.

While none of us are parties to their separation agreement and then subsequent divorce decree (which is public record), I kindly notify you of the same so you are not facilitating or inducing any breaches of that contract (separation agreement). You may wish to seek independent legal advice regarding the same as, in my view, it is an entirely separate legal issue from the required standards of conduct by the Governing Statutes, Governing Regulations, and LAT Rles . I shall presume, without knowing or having seen such a separation agreement (although I have seen the divorce decree), that there are compensation or damages amounts (presumably in the standard language of liquidated damages) to be paid by Mr. Papadimitropoulos to Ms. Artopoulos where he has engaged in the same. It is trite that inducing a breach of contract or facilitating a breach of contract is a tort and not a matter to be determined by the Tribunal per se.

I am, of course, not providing any advice per se but a mere notification which you may wish to make further inquiries regarding the same with your colleague.

In any event, the attachments herein and analysis speak to highly relevant issues in upcoming motion hearings and the issues in dispute between myself and SNIC. As such, it will have to be filed in the record of proceeding albeit under “seal”. I will provide you with a copy of the filed, under seal, affidavit once it is filed.

Thank you for your attention to this very sensitive and specific matter which has arisen since the time denoted herein.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

TO BE FILED IN THE TRIBUNALS ONTARIO (LAT/AABS) PORTAL

Re: my notice to SNIC, TDGIC and TDHA that I will be bringing a motion pursuant to subsection 21.1 of the SPPA

Re #2: residual – abundance of caution

Dear LAT Registrar:

1. I write regarding the above and for notice purposes.
2. I write to confirm that I inspected the metadata of the "reasons for decision" of now Vice-Chair Morrisette. I extend my congratulations to her on her ascent at LAT. I copy and paste the same to this email at "Appendix #1". From what we have gleaned, Ms. Zukowski, is a "Senior Project Manager, Team Lead at the Ministry of the Attorney General". For ease of reference, I have defined Vice Chair Morrisette as "VCM" at various parts herein.
3. It is unclear how the decision is dated September 6, 2024, when it was delivered to myself and counsel to SNIC at 11:12 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024. This is consistent with when the document was created (see: 11:09:06 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024) and last modified before its delivery (see: 11:09:56 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024).
4. I submit with the greatest respect that not having the date of a "reasons for decision" is an error that needs correction considering its impact on timelines in the LAT Rules.
5. I was particularly concerned with the tone in the Reasons For Decision and some of the attacks and implications of language used by Vice-Chair Morrisette therein. I had it reviewed by external and experienced lawyers and they agreed with me. Vice Chair Morrisette appears to have some level of dislike towards me.
6. Additionally, she is referencing the accommodation towards me and my unfamiliarity with the process. I have certainly had some learning but I have been compliant with the forms to use, the LAT Rules, usage of indices, tabulations, consecutive numbering et al. With great respect, it was not I that had the incorrect party in the initial decision of Vice Chair Lake when my motions #1 to #3 all referenced "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company)". How that became "TD General Insurance Company" remains beyond me. I sought the amendment of TDGIC to SNIC in my NOM #4 yet Vice Chair Lake issued an order and reasons for decision that she declined to decide. Even at that time, the law was unequivocally clear that TDGIC was not a separate entity from SNIC. I need not be repetitious. However, if TDGIC did not oppose it from January 2024 until June 2024, time could have been better allocated. I am reviewing the provisions of the SPPA on validity of the case conference as that is noted in Vice Chair Morrisette's order. Of course, only parties can be compelled to case conferences and pre-hearing conferences. By Vice Chair Morrisette's granting of my NOM #8, her order was retroactive effect on all orders issued by the Tribunal. That being said, the case conference did not have SNIC on the record per se.

7. In this regard, Vice-Chair Morrisette stated at part in paragraph 18 which I am paraphrasing that I did not make any document demands upon SNIC when SNIC was not the party. I kindly direct Vice Chair Morrisette and the Tribunal to my case conference form submitted and signed which remained consistent. I do not know what production deadlines she is referring to therein. It remains unclear. The case law shows production requests being made after case conferences on a regular occasion. SNIC did not submit a case conference brief so it is unclear how I am being held responsible for the same and deprived of documents or things from a non-party. Vice Chair Morrisette went further in saying that Mr. Nieuwland, on behalf of TDGIC, consented to NOM #8. To be objective and precise, Mr. Nieuwland's language on June 6, 2024, was that TDGIC did not oppose. Not opposing and consenting are different in law. Consent to a motion, with approval from the decision maker, results in a consent order. A consent order is a contract and can only be set aside on the traditional grounds of: (i) duress; (ii) misrepresentation; (iii) mistake; (iv) absence of consent; (v) non est factum; and (iv) others. Not opposing the wishes of another is not the same as consenting to such intended conduct.

8. As Adjudicator Morrisette, as she then was, is aware I sought corrections and amendments in her "reasons for decision" of her granting of my NOM #8 order with language that was imprecise including the above. For example, Adj. Morrisette, as she then was, was not as analytically precise as one would expect when she referenced Mr. Nieuwland filing a Response (capitals were hers). It was TDGIC that filed responses to my motions when it had no legal right to be a party. TDGIC never filed a Response (as defined under the LAT Rules). It was a crucial distinction that was required and the Appellant thanked Adjudicator Morrisette for her clarification of what she was intending.

9. That being said, of particular concern with the September 6, 2024, incorrect date for her "reasons for decision" was that on that date I had tendered a privacy request with MAG and paid the requisite funds for the processing of the funds to the Minister of Finance (MAG). It was not an easy process with my impairments and considering Tribunals Ontario has been closed for some time. I had to liaise with the most accommodating Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP") constables or officers at the building adjacent to the right (West) of Tribunals Ontario to find the correct individual to receive the same. After some time, we were able to find said individual and the funds were provided along with the FOIPPA request. While I will not go into details of my FOIPPA request, it was, in part, because it was represented to me by LAT in late July 2024 that my NOM #13 would be heard in due course.

10. I was not receiving any responses at all to my queries. I appreciate Mr. Grant was away for a period of time in July 2024 and I noted the female case manager (name escapes me currently and reference to female was the "she/her" reference and to distinguish her from Mr. Grant who was away) who confirmed that my NOM #13 was received in compliant fashion and referenced "due course".

11. Vice Chair Morrisette was correct that Mr. Gant was prompt to notify me that LAT believed that there was an issue with the page length of my submissions when they were six pages double spaced. I confirm that they were on multiple occasions and that was the cessation of that conversation. I note that this happened with Mr. Nieuwland as well. To ensure that is not an issue moving forward, I will ensure that only the body of my submissions are numbered and not the initial pages containing the LAT file number, style of cause, contact information et al^[ii].

12. Returning to NOM #13, I was required to make demands upon the Non-Party TDGIC and I did so. I did not receive any response.

13. I followed up regarding NOM #13 on Wednesday, September 11, 2024 as it was exactly two months since I had served TDGIC at its office represented by the Tribunal, without objection from TDGIC, as 9th floor-3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario.

14. On Thursday, September 12, 2024, I and SNIC then received a motion scheduling order for NOM #16. Nothing was received regarding NOM #13. I did not seek consolidation of NOM #13 with NOM #14 and NOM #15. It is unclear why that was done considering it was only NOM #13 that had the representation attached to it that it was attached in due course. However, the statutory requirements denoted below are distinct from the exercise of discretion to consolidate hearings. I still say, pursuant to section notice of each hearing was required in consolidated form or by distinction.

15. It is trite that NOM #13 involved TDGIC alone. NOM #14 and NOM #15 involved SNIC and TDHA.

16. It is further unoriginal that I sought that NOM #13 was to be heard on a written hearing.

No Notice of Three Hearings in One by Vice Chair Morrisette ^[iii]

17. There appears to be an issue that has been drawn to my attention regarding Vice Chair Lake and Vice Chair Morrisette engaging in issuing orders and reasons for decision without notice of hearing.

LAT Rule 15.3: Responding and Reply Submissions

18. I appreciate that the LAT Rules have a provision that states the following:

“Before a motion is granted, the Tribunal may provide the responding parties with the opportunity to make submissions. The Tribunal may also provide the moving party with the opportunity to make reply submissions.”

19. I am not certain that is allowable under the SPPA. If the splicing therein is that the responding party has received notice of the hearing by way of date, purpose and manner of format but there is no statutory right to file submissions and the Tribunal has ordered that only affidavit evidence (or documents and not “submissions” per se) is required from the responding party. If that is what is meant by the erudite minds who drafted the LAT Rules, effective August 2023, then I can see the logic.

20. If it is a proper and intra vires exercise of delegated statutory rule making authority under another statute, I will have to review the same.

21. However, if it is, it has been pointed out to me that the following sections of the SPPA state the following:

“Section 1, “Definitions”

“hearing” means a hearing in any proceeding;

Notice of hearing

6 (1) The parties to a proceeding shall be given reasonable notice of the hearing by the tribunal. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 6 (1).

Statutory authority

(2) A notice of a hearing shall include a reference to the statutory authority under which the hearing will be held.

Written hearing

(4) A notice of a written hearing SHALL include,

(a) a statement of the date and purpose of the hearing, and details about the manner in which the hearing will be held;

(b) a statement that the hearing shall not be held as a written hearing if the party satisfies the tribunal that there is good reason for not holding a written hearing (in which case the tribunal is required to hold it as an electronic or oral hearing) and an indication of the procedure to be followed for that purpose;

(c) a statement that if the party notified neither acts under clause (b) nor participates in the hearing in accordance with the notice, the tribunal may proceed without the party’s participation and the party will not be entitled to any further notice in the proceeding. 1994, c. 27, s. 56 (13); 1997, c. 23, s. 13 (13); 1999, c. 12, Sched. B, s. 16 (5).

Effect of non-attendance at hearing after due notice

Same, written hearings

(2) Where notice of a written hearing has been given to a party to a proceeding in accordance with this Act and the party neither acts under clause 6 (4) (b) nor participates ^[iv] in the hearing in accordance with the notice, the tribunal may proceed without the party’s participation and the party is not entitled to any further notice in the proceeding.”

Application of the above to the facts

22. The above language is unambiguous in that parties are entitled to notice of a hearing with the time, date, place and purpose of the hearing. Further, the manner in which a hearing is to be held is provided to the parties. It is not flung upon them particularly when a party has followed up and informed that it will be heard in “due course”. In order for the hearing to be heard, notice is required. It may be short notice or lengthier notice. Certainly, then a party may object to the same and bring a motion to have a shorter or lengthier notice than the ordered notice period.

23. Moreover, the statutorily required notice, by way of document in most scenarios, provides a responding party the opportunity to provide “good reason” why a written hearing should be held as an oral hearing. Without a notice document issued from the Tribunal, how does a responding party do so? Of course, in that hypothetical measured against my proposal for written hearings, that would have been opposed. However, this is not a matter of my interests per se but the requirements under statute. As a creature of statute, LAT cannot deviate from those obligatory requirements.

24. Whether a responding party is entitled or NOT entitled to make submissions, there is no conceivable way, as a matter of administrative law but particularly section 6 of the SPPA, that a respondent party is not entitled to notice of the hearing. As noted in some of my earlier authorities like JV Raleigh Holdings Ltd. v. OSC and others, if a party receives notice of a hearing and does not attend a hearing, the remainder of the proceeding (whether a LAT, privacy, ONLRB or others) may be conducted in absentia of that duly notified but non-participating party.

25. I will have to review the law further in this manner to consider the impact of VCM's decision absent a notice of hearing being provided which is all the more confusing considering that NOM #16 had a notice motion hearing scheduling date issued the day before.

26. NOM #8 is a perfect example of the statutorily required compliance with the SPPA from a notice standpoint. On June 5, 2024, the Tribunal issued a notice of hearing for it to be heard on June 21, 2024. Between that time, I arranged for the payment and procedural efforts to obtain the independent status certificates for SNIC and TDGIC. I agreed with the FSRA that I would pay for expedited delivery of the same. The FSRA was able to do so, with great appreciation to it, and I obtained the same a few days before the hearing of NOM #8 and included them in the record of proceeding. During that time, Mr. Nieuwland for TDGIC, and credit to him for being responsive, on June 6, 2024, confirmed TDGIC did not oppose.

27. Whether it is this LAT proceeding or any other proceeding, any respondent (insurer or insured) has the right to notice of a hearing and to consider how it wishes to participate or not participate. Obviously, Mr. Nieuwland with his vast experience knew that not saying anything could be viewed as non-participation so he provided that confirmation of non-opposition on behalf of TDGIC. Parenthetically, this is yet another reason (not the "sole reason") why TDGIC had to be removed and SNIC in its role as a party after being the sole insurance company to file a Response pursuant to the LAT Rules. In this example, SNIC was not a party so it was NOT entitled to notice under the SPPA. The Legislature was unequivocal in its language that notice entitlement only applies to parties.

28. Even the LAT Rules acknowledge the same, at least tacitly, in Rule 9.2.2 where it was inclusive and intentional with language of the extension of the right to a non-party to make submissions before an order is granted.

29. I note the following language which I know copy and paste:

"Before an order is granted by the Tribunal, the non-party will have an opportunity to make submissions as set out in the notice of motion hearing."

30. As I was reading the same and then dictating, an epiphany arose. TDGIC was and is a non-party, and the Tribunal did not follow its own rule.

31. The language of "will" is used under Rule 9.2.2 yet "may" is used in Rule 15.3. Even if different hearings are consolidated, which is somewhat troubling considering a Rule 9.2.2. motion being distinct from other types of motions, with non-parties and the Respondent Party, the non-party will have the opportunity to make submissions, which is a guaranteed right of the non-party by the LAT Rule 9.2.2., and the responding party will, as a matter of statutory right be entitled to notice of the hearings (even if one rule does not afford it with the right to make submissions (i.e. Rule 9.2.2. entitles the Respondent Party to receipt of the motion materials as the moving party must serve the Respondent Party and the Non-Party)).

32. I am deeply concerned about some of the revisionist history in the above. Much of the “reasons for decision” of Vice Chair Morrisette are inconsistent with the record of proceeding. At this stage, there is no eraser that can be used for that which has been filed with “permanent ink” and that I have stored in three separate cloud storages and hard copies into binders.

33. It appears that VCM has also conflated the distinction between Motion Submissions and Costs Submissions. I was clear in my Costs Submissions, which are not motions unto themselves, are not constrained by the limits under Rule 15. It is very disquieting that there is ostensible conflation of the two; the hearing record index or indices are unequivocal into the distinction between Motion Submissions and Costs Submissions which are in separate tabs.

34. There is a reference to the “sole reason” required, as a matter of law, change of name from TDGIC to SNIC is because that I requested it and obtained consent (from whom is unclear in this VCM decision). That is patently false. The reason was as a matter of law it was required to be amended. The second reason was SNIC filed and served a Response and TDGIC did not. The third reason was the FSRA informed me they were not one and the same. The fourth reason was that the FSRA confirmed if I paid fees for status certificates that it would provide current evidence that they were not one and the same. The fifth reason was that TDGIC never sought to be added as a party but somehow took over from SNIC when the Consent Email Communication Protocol between myself and SNIC, as Mr. Karat as ADR specialist for SNIC,

35. As it relates to NOM #16, I will file my reply by the end of the business day on Monday, September 30, 2024.

36. However, in light of the above, without getting into any substantive positions on potential reconsideration and/or future judicial review and/or appeal, pursuant to LATA, Vice Chair Morrisette’s decision commences with the incorrect date which is then followed with a litany of errors that must be corrected and amended to reflect the actualities and facts of the record of proceeding.

37. The reason for the same is that of the likes of Rule 18 “Reconsideration” which uses the words of “date of the decision”.

38. Lastly, and these are the most troubling aspects of the VCM Decision which are from paragraphs 22 to 28. It is quite the finding about “inconsistency” directed towards me. In any event, I note some of the following:

a. Paragraph 22: I did not refer to TD SNIC after the filing of the “Response” but it was in my pre-appeal affidavits and in the Appeal itself. Simply put, there was not enough room to put “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company);

i. In motions #1 to #3, the Respondent is so titled as “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company) which VCM has somehow skipped;

1. The change to TDGIC was by Vice-Chair Lake in mid-January 2024;

b. Paragraph 23: for the same reasons above is incorrect and must be corrected;

c. Paragraph 24 to 26: the Motion Submissions and NOM #14 could not have been clearer in that TDHA was the First Insurer, by overwhelming and independent public evidence. SNIC only remains as per costs which is oddly consistent with the VCM decision herein;

d. Paragraph 27: again, the pleadings themselves demonstrate that the insurance policy was not mine per se so that must be corrected.

i. However, it is the language as follows: “The initial respondent, TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC, accepted priority over the applicant’s [sic] policy”.

1. For precision purposes, VCM found at paragraph 23, “At some point between the filing of the respondent’s counsel’s DoR on January 30, 2023, and

February 19, 2024, the Respondent's IDENTITY was administratively changed by the Tribunal from SNIC to TDGIC."

- a. This would in turn mean that SNIC was the initial respondent if the administrative change occurred at some unknown time between January 30, 2024 to February 19, 2024;
- b. Inconsistent with subpart "a", the above language in paragraph 27 refers to TDGIC as the "initial respondent" but that would make TDGIC the second respondent due to the administrative change.

- i. As such, these corrections must be made due to being factually incorrect but it cannot be a fact (not a legal issue) that two insurance companies accepted priority over the "applicant's [sic] policy". I do not know what it means to accept priority over an insurance policy. An insurance company may accept priority, pursuant to Reg 283, over an automotive claim pursuant to a Completed Application being "initially" or "first received" by said insurance company (nota bene: receipt can be mail or fax – not email).

- ii. This obviously lends support that TDHA was the First Insurer as the name of TDGIC only surfaced at the Tribunal and never by me. Moreover, TDGIC's fax was 416.774.3629 and the fax number provided by SNIC was not its fax and not even where its office was located then or now, to the Appellant (then in his capacity as a "Claimant" (unless that definition is referred to under the LSO By-Laws as "claimant" is not included in an individual who has CAT Impairment – as paralegals cannot act for an individual who may have a CAT impairment claim or where such issues are included or added in a LAT AABS proceeding) of 416.774.3120. We know that SNIC was not located at VP Building (North York) 4th Floor so TDHA was the First Insurer by its receipt of my Completed Application on October 13, 2022.

39. With that segue (and although my usage of TD Insurance was with TD SNIC for definitions from October 2023 and onwards and in motions #1 to #3 listed the "Respondent" as "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company)), I note Mr. Grant's comments, with great thanks, that provide insight into how he, as an experienced case manager, viewed the same as "TD Insurance" between "TDGIC" and "TDHA". While I never indicated "TD General Insurance Company" and technically speaking if the words start with "TD Insurance" then "Meloche Monnex" can follow with "SNIC" or "Primum" as underwriters for their insurance programs but the same cannot be said of "TDHA" or "TDGIC".

40. For ease of reference and by way of impetus – said decision of VCM, Mr. Grant represented the following on May 6, 2024:

LA registrar (MAG) <LATregistrar@ontario.ca> Mon, May 6, 2024 at 11
 To: Kevin McLean <mcleaniclat@gmail.com>, "Nieuwland, Matthew" <Matthew.Nieuwland@tdinsurance.com>
 Cc: TDI ADR <TDIADR@tdinsurance.com>, "Karat, David" <David.Karat@tdinsurance.com>, Christiana C" <Christiana.Ortiz@tdinsurance.com>

Hello,

Further to the correspondence below in the above-referenced matter, the documents naming TD Insurance as the Respondent in this dispute are the Application (the “Insurance Company Information” listed is “TD Insurance”) and the copies of claim denial letters from TD Insurance which were filed. Accordingly, as the information did not indicate “TD Home and Auto” which is the other, separate, ‘insurance company in our system, TD General Insurance company was named as a party on the file

Furthermore, various TD insurance companies (including TD General, TD Home and Auto, and Security National) as parties on AABS files are all communicated with via “TDI ADR” at TDIADR@tdinsurance.com .

I see that the Insurer’s Response form listed “Security National Insurance Company” as the party but the Respondent’s Counsel’s Declaration of Representative form listed “TD General Insurance Company” as the party.

If there is a concern that Security National Insurance Company, not TD General Insurance Company, is named as the Respondent party on the file, please advise if the parties agree that change should be made.

Thank you,

Josh Grant

41. I have just noticed that Mr. Grant refers to the denial letters as “TD Insurance” which had the “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex” (SNIC). Mr. Grant made that request of me on or around January 8, 2024, but I will check the exact date. The denial letters have SNIC at the “Markham address” and the Burlington address (albeit without a floor). Mr. Grant had it right the first time that the administrative denotation was done before Vice Chair Lake’s decision on January 16, 2024, (note: I will check the exact date). My style of cause in each motion makes NO reference to TD General Insurance Company. TDGIC is not part of the “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex” programs as would be well-known to the Tribunal. Vice Chair Lake overrode my style of cause with TD General Insurance Company.

42. I have been detailed herein so that the Tribunal and the relevant persons have notice as to which will follow. Moreover, it will make my submissions ultra-brief which will be six pages double spaced as per previous filings. I will append the above and attachments to an affidavit.

43. In conclusion, with great respect as I appreciate that the LAT runs a very sophisticated operation, but I am beyond alarmed that VCM, with the benefit of a well-accomplished senior project manager in Ms. Zukowki, that there is a reference to “at some point” between a 20 or 21 day period that the “Respondent’s IDENTITY” was changed. How would the Tribunal not know the date when it was changed? This must be a matter of record. I will now attend to the motion, affidavit, and service of a very brief hearing record along with a FOIPPA request so we are not guessing.

44. I confirm, out of an abundance of caution, that I will be seeking reconsideration of the decision that if decided in my favour would have finally disposed of the appeal (i.e. a final decision and not an interlocutory decision like NOM #13) but with respect to timing, it would have been 21 days from September 13, 2024 (not the date of September 6, 2024). However, we will need the benefit of a decision on the corrections and amendments of errors, calculation errors (potentially if known) and similar errors before this VCM decision is correct in its entirety. Of course, this does not guarantee that the Tribunal will agree with every proposed amendment but I will outline the same and not speculate. However, if I may be so bold and audacious, there will have to be some corrections and amendments of some of the above, even by additional language in sentences, to provide some context.

45. For ease of reference, I have attached the denial letters that I filed which Mr. Grant confirms in his email above.

46. I also thank the Tribunal for providing SNIC's correct address of SNIC Burlington (the inclusion of the 5th floor by the Tribunal while SNIC failed to do so in its denial letters of which you will find some in the attachment(s)). This makes logical sense because I have confirmed independently that Primmum is located in the same building and it is the other distinct insurer under the trade name by way of two combined trademarks of TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (nota bene: (i) TD Insurance licensed by The TD Bank; and (ii) Meloche Monnex licensed by Meloche Monnex Inc. (not to be confused with Meloche Monnex Financial Services Inc.)).

47. As I trust the Tribunal is aware of the importance of my rehab from my impairments and my surgery in the USA, I will notify said clinic that I will need a little more time to address these issues and have certainty and clarity with my schedule so I can be slotted in at the appropriate, yet earlier, time. I also note that all of the above is not only integral and crucial for this LAT proceeding but also prior to and outside of the same, and after its conclusion. In my humble view, addresses, insurer names and facsimile numbers are not only important but they must be precise. Certainly, the LGIC thought so in 2010 when it amended Reg 283. Moreover, our Parliament certainly thinks so and has engaged in demonstrating the importance of the same by amendments to PIPEDA.

48. Thank you all and I trust that this will provide the necessary courtesy notice in advance of receipt of the above. My best to all over the weekend,

Complete this form if you are bringing an Application under section 34(1) of the Human Rights Code (the "Code").

If you are a person or organization, other than the Ontario Human Rights Commission, bringing an Application on behalf of one or more persons under section 34(5) of the Human Rights Code (the "Code"), complete Form 1G (Application under Section 34(5) of the Human Rights Code) instead.

How to Complete this Form

- For more information on how to complete this form, read the Applicant's Guide.
- This form has ten sections. An asterisk (*) means you must provide the information.
- This Application may only be submitted under one applicant name. A separate application form will be required for each applicant even where they allege they experienced the same discrimination.
- Complete all sections of the form. An incomplete application form will be returned to you. This will delay the processing of your Application.
- DO NOT attach documents to this form, other than the documents allowed in Section 6 or required by Section 7. The HRTTO will tell you when you need to submit documents and evidence to support your Application.
- Save a copy of this form for your records. It does not save automatically.
- Submit your Application only ONCE. The HRTTO will only accept the first Application if you file more than one based on the same set of events.
- Submit your Application electronically by email after completing all necessary fields and selecting the "Review for Completeness and Save Form" button at the end of this form. Then open your email service provider (e.g. Outlook, Hotmail, Gmail etc.) and update the subject line as indicated in the filing instructions, attach your completed application form and documents required under section 6 & 7 and send to HRTTO.Efile@Ontario.ca. If you don't have access to email, print your completed and reviewed form and mail it to the HRTTO.

Note: Sending your Form by email is easier and will be processed faster.

Accommodations

If you require accommodation of a Human Rights Code-related need, please contact the HRTTO at the earliest opportunity. For more information about making a Code-related accommodation request, please go to tribunalsontario.ca/en/accessibility-and-diversity.

Access and Privacy

HRTTO proceedings are usually open to the public. If a hearing is held, the public can attend. Decisions about your case are published online and documents you submit to HRTTO are available to the public on request (subject to limited exceptions). Any information that you provide to the HRTTO that is relevant to this Application must be provided to the other parties to the proceeding. The HRTTO may grant anonymization and other confidentiality orders in exceptional circumstances, and routinely anonymizes the names of children. Please refer to the HRTTO's Practice Direction on Anonymization if you believe your name, the names of people included in your file documents, or any part of your file should not become public.

French Language Services and Language Interpretation Services

The Tribunal's website, forms, guides, and materials are available in either English or French. Individuals may provide their written materials to the HRTTO in either English or French. Individuals may participate in HRTTO proceedings in English, French, American Sign Language (ASL) or Quebec Sign Language (QSL). A person appearing before the HRTTO may also use an interpreter for any language. Interpretation services will be provided, upon request, in accordance with HRTTO policy.

Human Rights Legal Support Centre

The HRTTO cannot assist you in completing your forms or provide legal advice in any way. For free legal assistance with the application process, contact the Human Rights Legal Support Centre (HRLSC); website: www.hrlsc.on.ca; mail: 180 Dundas Street West, 8th floor, Toronto, ON M7A 0A1, Tel: 416-597-4900, Toll-free 1-866-625-5179, TTY 416-597-4903, Toll-free 1-866-612-8627.

Section 8: Remedy (See Applicant's Guide for more information.)

If the HRTTO concludes that the Code was breached, it may award you a remedy. The types of remedies the HRTTO may order if discrimination is found include:

- Monetary (financial) compensation to you, such as for lost wages or expenses, or injury to your dignity, feelings and self-respect as a result of the discrimination.
- Non-monetary measures that benefit you, such as changes to the respondent's policies or requiring a specific accommodation like an accessible washroom or flexible hours.
- Measures to promote future compliance with the *Code (public interest remedies), such as human rights training or implementing new policies.

What remedies are you asking for? *

- ☒ Monetary compensation

Enter the amount requested: * $ 195,000.00

Explain how you calculated this amount. *

Section 9: Mediation (See Applicant's Guide for more information.)

Mediation is an opportunity for you and the respondent(s) to talk with an HRTTO adjudicator to try to settle your Application before it goes to a hearing. The HRTTO encourages parties to try mediation. Mediation at the HRTTO is free, voluntary, confidential, and often the fastest way to resolve your file. If your file is resolved during mediation, you will not need to have a hearing. If your file is not resolved during mediation, there is no negative impact; a different HRTTO adjudicator will preside over your hearing, and the mediator will not communicate any information about the mediation to the adjudicator without the parties' consent.

For mediation to take place, all the parties must agree to participate, respect the confidentiality of the process, comply with the HRTTO's Rules of Procedure governing the conduct of mediations, and ensure that they, or their representatives, have the authority to make a binding agreement at the mediation.

Do you agree to try mediation? *

- ☐ Yes, I have read and agree to the above and would like to try mediation.
- ☒ No, I am familiar with mediation and choose not to participate.

Section 10: Declaration and Signature (See Applicant's Guide for more information.)Important: Make sure you understand what you are declaring before signing the Application.

To the best of my knowledge, the information in this Application is complete and accurate.

I will participate in proceedings before and communicate with the HRTTO in good faith and in a manner that is courteous and respectful of the HRTTO, its employees, and other participants in the proceeding. I understand that if I fail to do so and if my conduct becomes an abuse of process, my Application may be dismissed for that reason.

Hello Kevin,

Please be advised that we have received some of your property which will be held here at 14 Division for you to retrieve. We have received your passport, birth certificate, name change certificate, medication and a watch. Your property will be held here for the next 7 days and if not picked up by then, it will be sent to our property bureau.

When you attend 14 Division, let the front desk officers know you have property in temporary lockers under your name and they will retrieve it for you.

to Anthony

Good Evening Mr. Romano: thank you so much for your email. I confirm its receipt.

I did not ask for it to be delivered there and I am sorry you are saddled with the same. We have an emergency hearing coming up at the LTB as per the order of Adjudicator Delorenzi which is attached so it is unclear why, I presume, the Landlord delivered it there.. I absolutely need my medication so I will be there tonight. I have to walk so I anticipate about 30 minutes or so.

I will bring my identification. Thanks kindly.

Warm regards,

Re: some corrections to the address provided in Form 10

Re #2: my declaration #19 in the LTB Proceeding which provides all of my correspondence with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos since September 15, 2024, - all related to the pickup of her remaining items at the Minto Buildings – left on Sunday and picked up that day – without issue – updates regarding the Unlawful Lockout by the Landlord and so on -

Re #3: confirmation that I have never spoken or met DC Kolankowski until yesterday

Re #4: residual – if charges have not been approved yet – kindly provide the name of the Crown so I (and my counsel) can clear up the confusion

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

1. I write regarding the above.
2. I have had occasion to speak with various counsel and I am seeing another this afternoon. Without any waiver of privilege or confidentiality, kindly respond under this thread (where applicable).
3. My name is below and my identification is attached along with my current address. In compliance with the Form 10, I was required to inform you if anything was incorrect. I am still reviewing but the address is incorrect. I am informed by the criminal defence counsel that "NFA" means 'no fixed abode'. This is incorrect. My fixed abode is on my driver's license. Kindly correct the inaccuracies and send me a revised Form 10 via email herein. If you need my signature on the revised one, I can sign and scan by sending it back to you. Thank you kindly in this regard.
4. I have been the sole tenant since Nicole vacated on June 23, 2024. As per the Residential Tenancies Act (Ontario), once Nicole vacated and I did not leave within 60 days, if I was not a tenant at law (which I was as I had paid rent for over five years to Ms. Aphy Artopoulos), then I became a tenant and the sole tenant. I attach a copy of my declaration #19 in that LTB Proceeding. As per the order of LTB Member Delorenzi, which came as a shock to me as well, which was on October 1, 2024, and both myself and the Landlord (Aphy) were notified of the same.
5. It is not your typical order (if you will) of shortening of time because it also finds me to be a tenant and notes the circumstances (based on volumes of evidence and submissions). They are rare at the LTB but they are also unreviewable as per section 209 and 210 of the RTA. I heard someone say last night that it is just in the nature of a quicker hearing. It is absolutely not that they are very difficult to obtain and they look at all of the evidence to determine the same. Moreover, the granting of my relief relates to an urgent motion that puts me back in Unit 410 and requires unequivocal conduct by the Landlord in accordance with the law. One can understand why the Landlord was upset and the timing of the same.
6. In turn this means, I will be successful with my interim motion to take repossession of Unit 410. It is only a matter of time. I have also updated the RHEU in this regard and that is also now moving again in the correct and lawful direction. The above is for your kind edification in relation to the LTB proceeding.
7. As per the advice of two criminal defence counsel and one civil counsel, all unanimously, my declaring of an affidavit (or declaration) is public record and it is under the penalty of perjury. Therefore, you will see attached that a mistake has been made and I kindly ask you to reconsider this charge absent particulars of dates therein. All of the communications to Nicole (which I had not communicated with her since on or around August 2024 while I resided in Unit 410 by myself) were for: (i) picking up of her stuff which I kindly left in our former parking spot; (ii) advising her of the status of what the Landlord did and thankfully all of her belongings were picked up (unlike my situation); (iii) confirming the steps I was taking in the LTB proceeding; (iv) inquiring if she had a replacement key; and (v) then seeking her position about me being "Nicole's guest" when I was the primary payor (if not sole payor); and others.

8. I have also had the law reviewed in harassment (criminally) and you would get that kind of comment from other civil litigators at times that one is engaging in "harassment" if they are somehow being repetitive in a point. It is obviously context specific.

9. In the context of a section 264(2)(b) which states, "264 (1) No person shall, without lawful authority and knowing that another person is harassed or recklessly as to whether the other person is harassed, engage in conduct referred to in subsection (2) that causes that other person reasonably, in all the circumstances, to fear for their safety or the safety of anyone known to them. Prohibited conduct (b) repeatedly communicating with, either directly or indirectly, the other person or anyone known to them", I was required and compelled, by legal duty and by request of the RHEU in certain parts, to follow up with demands upon the Landlord, and the Nicole (by way of her vacating as a tenant) and provide evidence of the same. I have done so.

10. All of the conduct that I have taken therein is lawful as it is in relation to the LTB proceeding or an offshoot of the same. It is also in the spirit of courtesy in providing Nicole with her remaining items for pick up.

11. I can also confirm that at no time did I receive any correspondence from anyone that any communications were unwelcome and even if the Tribunal found my communications to be worthy of a unique order.

12. I appreciate you are all doing your job to the best and top of your profession but respectfully, there is no way that I was not engaging in conduct that was lawful. Secondly, I could not have known that any person was harassed and certainly if they were, they could notify the LTB as that is the context that it was happening in. Nothing has been brought forth.

13. I certainly appreciate that it not enjoyable for anyone to be going through this and it has not been for me (i.e. coming back to being locked out when it was not authorized) but in order to obtain the assistance from the RHEU, I had to show steps I had taken to notify all including a technical legal position that I had discovered.

14. Even Constable Solermo of your 14th Division said to me, "This is a tenancy matter. They are hard fought but it is not for us." We were pleasant and disagreed on a few points but nonetheless, you will see the only emails that have been sent by me that are all in relation to Nicole receiving the return of all of her property unlike my ability to not have access to all of my property that is in Unit 410 (but I confirm receipt of some yesterday).

15. I will await the amendments to the Form 10 and whether the charges have been approved or not. If they have, kindly provide me with the name of Crown Counsel so I can pass on that name so I can see which criminal defence counsel to pick based on the same.

16. Of course, I will continue to honour all of the terms and conditions, as it relates to Nicole as I don't know where she will be and I am not searching for her. I do not know where she is working these days and I do not care to. I also do not know where she is living and I do not care to. The sole purpose of my emails, of which the Landlord was copied on, was to protect and preserve my legal position due to an unlawful changing of the locks and deactivation of my FOB on Friday, September 20, 2024. I came to your detachment the next day.

17. As you will see from my sworn declaration, those emails are my only communications with Nicole since August. We had not communicated in any other way.

18. From a factual perspective, you will see that I discharged my requirements in notifying the relevant persons of those facts. With Nicole, it was also Victory Wine because when I, on Sunday, September 15, 2024, moved some of the remaining items out, some were that of a company and not her. I have taken active steps to ensure that her email is removed from my email so there is no inadvertent risk either.

19. I can unequivocally confirm that DC Kolankowski #82239, when he was on my right and DC Romano was on my left, said that he had spoken with me and warned me as well. With great respect to DC Kolankowski, he must have mistaken someone else. I have not emailed him at all. My first email ever with TPS was with Constable Romano.

20. I can also tell you that it could not have been via phone because of my lack of having the same and also I do not even use text or traditional phone calling as my number is connected to the likes of Viber but you have to be another Viber customer to call. It is safer and encrypted.

21. I think we can all appreciate how difficult this has been on me but also that I had a duty to advance and protect my positions, and the LTB has agreed with me and not the Landlord. However, I can assure you that those communications were required by law to notify those of a new technical legal position and the whereabouts of their property.

22. I will be gone for the balance of the day today and part of tomorrow so I will await those amendments to the Form 10. I have attached a copy of the declaration #19 so you can see for yourself. I have no record of any individual or even the Tribunal for that matter informing me that anything is even improper in the Tribunal context. Lastly, I have attached a copy of the order of the LTB Member Delorenzi who refers to my circumstances which were caused by the Landlord and her unlawful conduct.

23. I kindly let you know that if you have different documents than these, then you have some impersonating me and that seems to be the case considering DC Kolankowski thought he had warned me. I am unsure if this was via phone or in person but nonetheless, I am making clear that it never happened.

24. Lastly, I wish for this to be a process where I can reach out and seek your advice and guidance on certain points as well but I can assure that my residential address is what is contained in my driver's license. Because I have been unlawfully locked out by the Landlord does not mean that is not my fixed address. Moreover, this will inevitably long tribunal litigation between the Landlord and I even after the interim orders in my favour. Therefore, I will keep in mind your sage comments and do my best to be professional but as you can see, I write (or dictate part) with a professional tone. That being said, I will never communicate with Nicole ever again by this order and undertaking, and by volition.

25. I was advised by criminal defence counsel that if you do have emails that are impersonating me, please provide the same to me.

26. Thank you kindly for your professionalism last night and how we ended things which was obviously a shock for me considering I was coming in good faith to pick up my property which was being held unlawfully. Lastly, I was advised to advise you that your division is not a place for my property to be dropped off. Therefore, if anyone ever tries to again, please refuse delivery. Thank you all. I await to hear from you the relevant persons on the above and the necessary corrections made. Have a wonderful day and thanks for the work you do generally and specifically!

Appendix #3: Issues to be answered by the HRT0?

Issue: What day was the order from the LTB that effectively sided with Mr. McLean over the Landlord and likely caused the Landlord to act so erratically and dishonestly?

Issue: What day was the Applicant's property (some) dropped off at the 14th Division without his consent?

Issue: What was the day that the Applicant was lured under false pretense to the 14th Division?

Issue: what is the palpable inference based upon the answers to the above?

The order from the Tribunal was on October 1, 2024.

[nota bene: the Tribunal then set the hearing of all issues for November 15, 2024, where the Landlord is facing over $100,000 in potential fines payable to the LTB, payable to the Ministry of Housing (RHEU), $35,000 to the Applicant and so on. The Applicant is also setting an emergency hearing for interim order for injunctive relief as the Landlord has not taken any steps whatsoever and has not defended the matter at all but for his August 21, 2024, filings which failed.]

Some of the Applicant's property was dropped off on October 2, 2024 in the afternoon as confirmed by the fingerprint and DNA expert in "Hubert" at 14th Division.

The false pretense email was October 2, 2024.

The obvious inference is that the Landlord, with no evidence of involvement at this time of Goldview and Ms. Ferguson that they were involved in the unauthorized McLean property delivery to the 14th Division (TPS), manipulated and fabricated the police complaint on behalf of Nicole (with no knowledge that Nicole was involved in the complaint per se) to gain an ulterior, unfair and unlawful advantage.

Appendix #4: Were there Reasonable and Probable Grounds to Arrest on Wednesday, October 2, 2024?

The reasonable grounds must be both objective and subjective reasonable. Reasonable grounds is the point where credibly-based probability replaces suspicion.

The concept of “reasonable grounds” is defined as the point where a credibly-based probability replaces mere suspicion.

In a 2013 decision, R v Phung, the Alberta Court of Appeal clarified that an arrest is objectively reasonable when a reasonable person, considering the circumstances and taking into account the officer's training and experience, would find reasonable and probable grounds for arrest if they were in the officer's shoes.

[nota bene: herein, it required two officers with Constable Romano and DC Kolankowski. With due respect to both, they are lucky nobody got seriously physically injured as the Applicant was extending his hand for a handshake with DC Kolankowski and to sign for the pickup of his property, and then was completely blindsided.]

[Analysis – time of arrest – whether this was inexplicable departure from usual practices to establish a claim of discrimination]

It's important to note that the validity of an arrest is determined based on the circumstances that were apparent to the police officer at the time of the arrest, not what came to be known later. The formation of reasonable grounds does not require a prima facie case, meaning the officer does not have to prove the guilt of the accused beyond a reasonable doubt.

(see: <http://www.winnipegcriminaldefencelawyer.ca/reasonable-grounds#:~:text=In%20a%202013%20decision%2C%20R,were%20in%20the%20officer's%20shoes.>)

In Canada, the police have the authority to detain and arrest individuals under the Criminal Code of Canada and common law.

Appendix #4(A): Permissible Warrantless Arrests (presumptively unlawful unless the legislation authorizes

While a warrant issued by a Justice of the Peace or Judge is typically required for an arrest, there are certain situations where the police can make an arrest without a warrant. These circumstances are outlined in section 495(1) of the Criminal Code. They are the exceptions to the requisite standard of an individual or a peace officer swearing evidence under oath, under the penalty of the perjury, so the JOP or Justice can assess the validity, reliability, and credibility of the evidence so the police are authorized to arrest an individual for an alleged offence.

According to the Criminal Code, a peace officer may arrest without a warrant in the following situations:

- (a) When a person has committed an indictable offence or the officer believes, on reasonable grounds, that the person has committed or is about to commit an indictable offence [answer: no];
- (b) When a person is found committing a criminal offence [answer: No. The Applicant came in peace with a smile and polite attitude.]; or
- (c) When a person is believed to have a warrant of arrest or committal in force within the territorial jurisdiction where the person is found [answer: While Constable Romano mentioned a warrant for the Applicant's arrest, the Applicant would welcome reviewing that evidence under oath by whomever sought the same].

For an arrest to be lawful, the officer must have both objective and subjective grounds. This means that the reasonable grounds for arrest must be both objectively reasonable and based on the subjective belief of the officer.

Appendix #4(B): Issue: When does criminal harassment become an indictable offence by discretion or necessity?

With respect to when criminal harassment becomes an indictable offence (the latter three bullet points) or the Crown may proceed by indictment (the first four bullet points):

Reverse Onus Bail

If police decide to bring the accused before a Justice pursuant to s. 503, there will be a presumption against bail (i.e. a reverse onus) if the offence, prosecuted by indictment, was committed:

- while at large under s. 515 [bail release], 679 or 680 [release pending appeal or review of appeal] (s. 515(6)(a)(i));
- "for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association" with a criminal organization (s. 515(6)(a)(ii));
- where the offence involved a weapon, being a firearm, cross-bow, prohibited weapon restricted weapon, prohibited device, ammunition, prohibited ammunition or explosive substance, while the accused was subject to a prohibition order preventing possession of these items (s. 515(6)(a)(viii)); or
- where the accused is not "ordinarily a resident in Canada" (s. 515(6)(b)).

And, regardless of Crown election, if the offence alleged was one:

- where the offence was an allegation of violence against an "intimate partner" and the accused had been previously convicted of an offence of violence against an "intimate partner" (s. 515(6)(b.1));
- where the offence alleged is a breach under s. 145(2) to (5) [i.e. escaped from lawful custody] while (s. 515(6)(c));
- where the offence committed (or conspired to commit) was an offence under s. 5 to 7 of the CDSA that is punishable by life imprisonment (s. 515(6)(d));

[nota bene: When charged under s. 264 [harassment] , the accused can be given an appearance notice without arrest under s. 497 or a summons. Ergo, there was no need to arrest the Applicant. He cannot run with his disabilities. Was he going to walk away from the police at 14th Division?]

[nota bene: none of the above were applicable to the Applicant specifically or the charge generally for that matter].

Appendix #5: The distinction between “Reasonable Suspicion” and Reasonable And Probable Grounds (‘reasonable grounds to believe’): applies in the arrest context and search and seizure R. v. Kang-Brown, 2008 SCC 18 (CanLII), [2008] 1 SCR 456

[164] In my view, “reasonable grounds to suspect” is substantively equivalent to “reasonable suspicion”. It is clear that the standard adopted by Iacobucci J. in Mann is lower than that of “reasonable grounds to believe”, and that it was inspired by the “articulable cause” standard, which has been equated to that of reasonable suspicion: see R. v. Jacques, 1996 CanLII 174 (SCC), [1996] 3 S.C.R. 312, at para. 52, per Major J. In my view, the “reasonable suspicion” standard is readily applicable in practice, is meaningful to the police and trial judges, and is likely to be used in cases other than those involving detention. Thus, in the case at bar, the trial judge, after discussing Mann at length, framed her analysis of the grounds required to detain the accused in terms of reasonable suspicion: see para. 55.

[165] The reasonable suspicion standard is lower than the standard of reasonable grounds to believe required for a lawful arrest: see Mann, at para. 27. To meet the reasonable suspicion standard, the police must rely on “a constellation of objectively discernible facts”: R. v. Simpson (1993), 1993 CanLII 3379 (ON CA), 12 O.R. (3d) 182 (C.A.), at p. 202, per Doherty J.A. While no single factor can on its own ground reasonable suspicion, a number of factors taken together may cause the police to entertain a reasonable suspicion. However, a mere “hunch based on intuition gained by experience” is not enough to meet the reasonable suspicion standard: Mann, at para. 30.

[166] The reasonable suspicion standard is a pragmatic and balanced response to the realities of modern law enforcement. To combat impaired driving, for example, Parliament enacted s. 254(2) of the Criminal Code, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-46, which authorizes peace officers to require drivers to provide roadside breath samples for testing by means of an approved screening device on the basis of a reasonable suspicion of alcohol consumption. According to Fish J. in R. v. Woods, [2005] 2 S.C.R. 205, 2005 SCC 42, at para. 30, “[t]hese screening tests . . . necessarily interfere with rights and freedoms guaranteed by the Charter, but only in a manner that is reasonably necessary to protect the public’s interest in keeping impaired drivers off the road.”

[167] The reasonable suspicion standard has also been held to apply in the customs context, in R. v. Monney, 1999 CanLII 678 (SCC), [1999] 1 S.C.R. 652, and Jacques, and where, as in Clayton, the police are confronting the pressing problem of gun crime.

Reasonable suspicion means “reasonable grounds to suspect” as distinguished from “reasonable grounds to believe” (Kang-Brown, at paras. 21 and 25, per Binnie J., and at para. 164, per Deschamps J.). To the extent one speaks of a “reasonable belief” in the context of reasonable suspicion, it is a reasonable belief that an individual might be connected to a particular offence, as opposed to a reasonable belief that an individual is connected to the offence.

Appendix #6: The Impromptu “hunch” harassment charge: the text from our Parliament

CRIMINAL HARASSMENT

- 264(1) No person shall, without lawful authority and knowing that another person is harassed or recklessly as to whether the other person is harassed, engage in conduct referred to in subsection (2) that causes that other person reasonably, in all the circumstances, to fear for their safety or the safety of anyone known to them.

Prohibited conduct

- (2) The conduct mentioned in subsection (1) consists of
 - (a) repeatedly following from place to place the other person or anyone known to them;
 - (b) repeatedly communicating with, either directly or indirectly, the other person or anyone known to them;
 - (c) besetting or watching the dwelling-house, or place where the other person, or anyone known to them, resides, works, carries on business or happens to be; or
 - (d) engaging in threatening conduct directed at the other person or any member of their family.

Punishment

- (3) Every person who contravenes this section is guilty of
 - (a) an indictable offence and is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years; or
 - (b) an offence punishable on summary conviction.

Factors to be considered

- (4) Where a person is convicted of an offence under this section, the court imposing the sentence on the person shall consider as an aggravating factor that, at the time the offence was committed, the person contravened
 - (a) the terms or conditions of an order made pursuant to section 161 or a recognizance entered into pursuant to section 810, 810.1 or 810.2; or
 - (b) the terms or conditions of any other order or recognizance made or entered into under the common law or a provision of this or any other Act of Parliament or of a province that is similar in effect to an order or recognizance referred to in paragraph (a).

Reasons

- (5) Where the court is satisfied of the existence of an aggravating factor referred to in subsection (4), but decides not to give effect to it for sentencing purposes, the court shall give reasons for its decision.

Appendix #6(A): Lawful Authority3.4.6 Without Lawful Authority

The Crown must establish that the accused did not have lawful authority to engage in the harassing conduct: In Vandoodewaard (2009), 86 WCB (2d) 90 (Ont Sup Ct) (see also: R. v. Vandoodewaard, 2009 CanLII 66617 (ON SC), Durno J upheld the trial judge's finding that "lawful authority should not be limited to more official types of authority such as police authority or government sanctioned authority. The common law could also provide sufficient authority." He further referred to the Ontario Specimen Jury Instructions, which provide that "to have lawful authority to do something means that the law specifically allows a person to do what the accused did in the circumstances in which he or she did it.

In Moyse, 2010 MBPC 21, it was decided that the accused's repeated communications had the legitimate purpose of persuading the complainant to return his property to him; her failure to do so was found to be inconsistent with her alleged fear of the accused.

Appendix #6(B): FEAR FOR SAFETY AND ITS REASONABLENESS

[24] From an objective perspective, it would be entirely reasonable for a person in the complainant's circumstances to fear for her safety. The messages were aggressive in their language and tone. Although Mr. Lincoln was never violent during the course of their relationship, his previously calm personality is overborne by the indication in his message that "you have no idea what I am capable of doing. And you are going to start seeing slowly but surely that I am going to affect you in every single way there is in life" and the statement that he was being "nice" when he described the complainant as a "little piece of shit". Mr. Lincoln's contention that he was not angry and was laughing when he left the messages is contradicted by their menacing tone, particularly in the final message. I reject that assertion that the words "rest in peace" in the last message referred to a comforting comment that the defendant habitually made to Ms. Federspiel when she was unable to sleep because of problems with her son. The threatening nature of the message containing those words is entirely at variance with any desire to be comforting.

[25] However, it is Ms. Federspiel's perception of the messages that is crucial here. She initially stated that "rest in peace" meant death to her. During cross-examination the complainant said that she could not remember whether Mr. Lincoln had used those words to comfort her. Ms. Federspiel testified that she felt threatened by the messages and the made her feel sick. Yet, the complainant did not say that she thought the threat was to her safety, as opposed to her financial well-being. Indeed, she acknowledged that at no time did the defendant ever threaten her health or safety.

[26] Consequently, although I am very troubled by the nature of these communications, I am not satisfied that the Crown has proven this element of the offence beyond a reasonable doubt. For this reason the charges against Mr. Lincoln are dismissed.

Appendix #6(C): R. v. M.H. , 2014 ONSC 36 (CanLII)

[67] Similarly, in R. v. Szostak, 2012 ONCA 503, 111 O.R. (3d) 241 at para. 31, Rosenberg J.A. writing for the Ontario Court of Appeal adopted the trial judge's finding that "fear for [one's] safety" included "a state of anxiety or apprehension concerning the risk of substantial psychological harm or emotional distress, in addition to physical danger or harm." On the other hand it has been held that is not sufficient that the victim only fear for their financial well-being: see R. v. Lincoln, 2008 ONCJ 14, 777 W.C.B. (2d) 104.

Appendix #6(D): WHILE WATCHING NOT AT ISSUE

This case is NOT relevant per se in any sense to the Applicant but for the principle of legitimate reasons:

Non-criminal watching: The court may dismiss charges where the accused has a legitimate reason to watch the complainant, as in Wease, [2008] OJ No 1938 (Sup Ct) (QL). In that case, the defendant, who was separated from the complainant, had been seen sitting outside her workplace in a parked car and taking pictures on several occasions, solely to gather evidence for ongoing family law proceedings (he was trying to prove that his wife was working full time).

R. v. Wease, 2008 CanLII 22927 (ON SC)

[18] The Crown submits that it was reasonable for the trial judge to find that the conduct engaged in by the appellant by attending at the complainant's place of employment demonstrated that the appellant blinded himself to the obvious and made no inquiry as to the impact of his conduct upon the complainant.

[19] As already stated, the trial judge did not question the credibility of the appellant. To that end, it is only reasonable to find that the trial judge, therefore, accepted the appellant's stated reason for attending at the complainant's place of employment. His purpose was to obtain pictures in order to prove that the complainant was working on a full and not a part-time basis. There was no finding that the appellant followed the complainant from place to place, or attempted to make the complainant aware of his presence for the purpose of annoying the complainant.

[20] There was no finding that the appellant was notified by the complainant, her lawyer or the police that the complainant considered the appellant's conduct to be harassing. This is not an extreme case where there was a finding that the appellant "stalked" the complainant by repeatedly following the complainant from place to place. See R. v. Lenser^[3] findings of fact made and the evidence accepted by the trial judge. The trial judge found that the complainant described a situation that was not amicable as the appellant believed that the complainant was keeping their children from him against their children's will and contrary to the existing Family Court order.

[17] The trial judge found that it did not bother the appellant to think that the complainant might see him. The trial judge further found, as a matter of fact, that the appellant wanted her to be at her place of employment as otherwise there would be no point in his taking pictures.

[18] The Crown submits that it was reasonable for the trial judge to find that the conduct engaged in by the appellant by attending at the complainant's place of employment demonstrated that the appellant blinded himself to the obvious and made no inquiry as to the impact of his conduct upon the complainant.

[19] As already stated, the trial judge did not question the credibility of the appellant. To that end, it is only reasonable to find that the trial judge, therefore, accepted the appellant's stated reason for attending at the complainant's place of employment. His purpose was to obtain pictures in order to prove that the complainant was working on a full and not a part-time basis. There was no finding that the appellant followed the complainant from place to place, or attempted to make the complainant aware of his presence for the purpose of annoying the complainant.

[20] There was no finding that the appellant was notified by the complainant, her lawyer or the police that the complainant considered the appellant's conduct to be harassing. This is not an extreme case where there was a finding that the appellant "stalked" the complainant by repeatedly following the complainant from place to place. See R. v. Lenser^[3]

[21] I cannot agree that the accused engaged in such conduct that he knew harassed the complainant nor was he reckless or willfully blind as to whether the complainant was harassed.

[22] In this case, the appellant received no warning that his conduct was considered harassment by the complainant; nor was this communicated to the appellant through the complainant's lawyer or through the police. There was no outstanding restraining order. During testimony, the complainant even indicated that, on one occasion, she was going to go out and speak to the appellant to determine why he was sitting outside of her place of employment in his motor vehicle.

[23] It is of concern to the Court that, given the existence of an outstanding Family Court proceeding at the time these charges were laid against the appellant, these allegations were not dealt with by way of application for a restraining order under the Family Law Act. There is no explanation as to why criminal proceedings were resorted to. There is no explanation given as to why, if the complainant was fearful and concerned as to her own emotional or physical well-being, she did not pursue a restraining order in the Family Court proceedings.

[24] The Crown argues that the appellant's, testimony disclosed he was willfully blind as he could "care less" if the complainant was upset by his presence outside of her place of employment. I find, however, that such evidence must be taken in context. In fact, the appellant, the trial judge accepted, was attempting to garner evidence to prove that the complainant was working full-time. He was doing so pursuant to the instructions of his counsel in the Family Court proceedings. The trial judge did not question the credibility of the appellant on this issue.

[25] The fact that the trial judge accepted the appellant's evidence as to the reason that he was taking pictures of the complainant's van at her place of employment flies in the face of a finding that the appellant was willfully blind as to whether the victim was harassed.

[26] The Crown argues that willful blindness arises where "there is a suspicion which the defendant deliberately omits to turn into certain knowledge." See R. v. Hinchey^[4].

[27] In this case there was an ongoing Family Court matter. The trial judge accepted the evidence of the appellant that he was attempting to put together evidence to support his position in the Family Court matter. No reasonable explanation was given as to why the criminal Court was resorted to in these circumstances. A finding that the appellant was "watching and besetting" the complainant's place of employment was unwarranted.

[28] What the appellant did in attempting to secure evidence to support his position in the Family Court proceedings may have been unwise. My decision in this matter is not to be taken by him as in any way endorsing the type of self-help that he undertook. Such self-help is always open to misinterpretation given the emotional underpinnings of family litigation.

[29] The trial judge acknowledged that Mr. Wease did not actually know Mrs. Wease considered herself harassed. Having acknowledged this, however, the trial judge found that the appellant was, at the very least, reckless or willfully blind, "in my opinion, and I think clearly willfully blind in this matter." He points out that in the appellant's testimony he made it clear that he, "just didn't care what effect his actions would have upon the complainant", and in the trial judge's opinion that, "clearly amounts to an admission of willful blindness and by his very acts, I think, he can also be taken to be reckless as to whether or not Mrs. Wease was harassed. Therefore, the third essential element has also been established beyond a reasonable doubt in this matter."

[30] The evidence, however, must be taken in context and it is my view that it does not support such a finding.

[31] When asked whether or not it had crossed the appellant's mind as to whether or not the complainant might see him in his car, he answered that he didn't care whether or not she saw him because he didn't feel he was causing any harm. He made it clear that his full intention was to prove that she was working full-time. While he indicated that he didn't care whether or not she saw him, his evidence was that he simply was going to take pictures and he was going to leave. In fact, the appellant indicated that it was not his intention to see the complainant nor for her to see him. He went further to say he didn't think that even if she did see him that it would bother her. He questioned why she would care whether he was there or not. In fact, he indicated he didn't understand the questions put to him by the trial judge on this issue.

[32] I do not find that it was established that the accused knew or was willfully blind as to whether the complainant was harassed as required by S. 264 of the Criminal Code, and as enumerated in R. v. Sillipp^[5].

[33] Given my decision in relation to this first issue, there is no need for me to consider the further grounds for appeal.

[34] I therefore allow the appeal and order that the conviction be quashed and an acquittal entered.

Appendix #6(E): REQUESTS TO STOP: KEY – IF NOT – HOW DOES AN APPLICANT KNOW?

Significance of requests to cease communication:

Continuing to pursue contact after having been asked to stop is a relevant consideration in favour of conviction (Sihota (2008) 79 WCB 2d 702 (ONSC)). See also Bell, 2009 ONCJ 312, where only those communications made after the date on which the complainant told the accused to stop contacting her were found to constitute harassment.

Analysis of the Issues1. Did Mr. Bell's communications after January 6, 2008 amount to harassment?

[42] In order to amount to harassment from a legal perspective, Mr. Bell's communications with Ms. Rivera must have resulted in Ms. Rivera being "tormented, troubled, worried continually or chronically plagued, bedevilled and badgered". In this situation, the Crown concedes that it is only the communications by Mr. Bell after January 6, 2008 that constitute harassment. I agree.

Appendix #7: Criminal Harassment: standard

Fighting Harassment Charges

As per the above potential penalties, a criminal harassment charge may involve significant penalties upon conviction. Additionally, where criminal harassment charges arise within the context of a domestic relationship, such as during the separation of a married couple or the breakup of an unmarried couple, the prosecution will likely be especially aggressive.

A person accused of criminal harassment may defend the charge by demonstrating that:

- The person charged was acting lawfully, such as making communications for a legally authorized purpose or attending at places for a legally authorized purpose;
- The person charged was acting without wrongful intentions or without recklessness;
- The fear alleged by the complainant was unreasonable; or.
- The allegations are a falsification or manipulative.

As with all criminal charges, the prosecution must prove allegations beyond a reasonable doubt; and accordingly, a person charged with an offence, including a criminal harassment offence, needs only to create a reasonable doubt that the allegations are true. Sadly, especially in consideration for how serious the potential penalties are for criminal harassment as well as the importance of the criminal harassment charge when prosecuted for legitimate purposes, criminal harassment allegations are sometimes falsified as a means to gain an improper advantage in divorces or separations.

OFFENCE 264: CRIMINAL HARASSMENT
(s. 264)

[1] (NOA) is charged with criminal harassment. The charge reads:
(Read relevant parts of indictment or count.)

- [2] You must not find (NOA) guilty of criminal harassment unless the Crown has proved beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) is the person who committed the offence on the date and in the place described in the indictment.^[1] Specifically, the Crown must prove each of the following essential elements beyond a reasonable doubt:
1. that (NOA) (specify conduct)^[2] (NOC), (NO3P)^[3];
 - 1a. that (NOA) had no lawful authority to do what s/he did^[4];
 2. that (NOA)'s conduct harassed (NOC);
 3. that (NOA) was aware that his/her conduct harassed (NOC)
 4. that (NOA)'s conduct caused (NOC) to fear for his/her (or (NO3P)'s)^[5] safety; and
 5. that (NOC)'s fear was reasonable in the circumstances.

Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that the Crown has proved all these essential elements, you must find (NOA) not guilty of criminal harassment.

If you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of all these essential elements [and you have no reasonable doubt^[6] after considering the defence(s) (specify defences) about which I will instruct you], you must find (NOA) guilty of criminal harassment.

- [3] To determine whether the Crown has proved these essential elements, consider the following questions.

- [4] First – Did (NOA) (specify conduct) (NOC), (NO3P)?

Where allegation is “repeated following”:

To follow someone repeatedly from place to place means to follow him or her more than once^[7] from one place to another. It might, but does not have to be, to or from the same place each time.

Where allegation is “repeated communication”:

To communicate repeatedly with another person means to communicate with him or her more than once.^[8] The communication may be direct, or it may be indirect. It might, but does not have to be, in the same words or by the same means each time.

Where allegation is “watching or besetting”:

To watch a place means to observe it with continuous attention. To beset a place means to be present at or near it in a troubling way. The place may be where another person lives or works or where that person carries on business or just happens to be.

Where allegation is “threatening”:

To engage in threatening conduct means to do or say something that, in all the circumstances, including the relationship between (NOA) and (NOC), would cause a reasonable person to be intimidated.

In all cases:

(Review relevant evidence and relate to issue.)

Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) (specify relevant conduct) (NOC), you must find (NOA) not guilty of criminal harassment. Your deliberations would be over.

If you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) (specify relevant conduct) (NOC), you must go on to the next question.

[5] 1a. - Did (NOA) have any lawful authority to do what s/he did?^{[9]}

To have lawful authority to do something means that the law specifically allows a person to do what (NOA) did in the circumstances in which he or she did it. In this case (describe alleged lawful authority).

(Review relevant evidence and relate to issue.)

Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) had no lawful authority to do as he or she did in the circumstances, you must find (NOA) not guilty of criminal harassment. Your deliberations would be over.

If you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) had no lawful authority to do as he or she did in the circumstances, then you must go on to the next question.

[6] Second, did (NOA)'s conduct harass (NOC)?

To prove that (NOA) harassed (NOC), the Crown must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA)'s conduct distressed, tormented or troubled (NOC).

(Review relevant evidence and relate to issue.)

Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA)'s conduct harassed (NOC), you must find (NOA) not guilty of criminal harassment. Your deliberations would be over.

If you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA)'s conduct harassed (NOC), you must go on to the next question.

[7] Third – Was (NOA) aware that his/her conduct harassed (NOC)?

The Crown must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) was aware that his/her conduct harassed (NOC).

To prove that (NOA) was aware that his/her conduct harassed (NOC), the Crown must prove one of the following:

1. that (NOA) actually knew that his/her conduct harassed (NOC);
2. that (NOA) knew there was a risk that his/her conduct harassed (NOC) and that (NOA) proceeded in the face of that risk;
3. that (NOA) was aware of indications that his or her conduct harassed (NOC), but deliberately chose to ignore them because (NOA) did not want to know the truth.

Any one of these is sufficient to establish that (NOA) was aware that his or her conduct harassed (NOC). You do not all have to agree on the same one. If each of you is satisfied about any one of them beyond a reasonable doubt, the Crown will have proved the element of awareness and you would have to go on to the next question.

To determine whether (NOA) was aware that his/her conduct harassed (NOC), you must consider all the evidence including anything said or done in the circumstances.

You may infer, as a matter of common sense, that a person usually knows the predictable consequences of his or her actions, and means to bring them about.^{[10]} However, you are not required to draw that inference about (NOA). Indeed, you must not do so if, on the whole of the evidence, including (specify evidence of intoxication, mental disorder or other), you have a reasonable doubt whether (NOA) was aware that his or her conduct harassed (NOC). It is for you to decide.

(Review relevant evidence and relate to issue.)

Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) was aware that his/her conduct harassed (NOC), you must find (NOA) not guilty of criminal harassment. Your deliberations would be over.

If you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA) was aware that his or her conduct harassed (NOC), you must go on to the next question.

[8] Fourth – Did (NOA)'s conduct cause (NOC) to fear for his/her own (or (NO3P)'s) safety? The Crown must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that what (NOA) did or said caused (NOC) to fear for his/her own (or (NO3P)'s)^[11] safety. In deciding whether this essential element has been proved, consider all the evidence.

(Review relevant evidence and relate to issue.)

Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA)'s conduct caused (NOC) to fear for his/her own safety, you must find (NOA) not guilty of criminal harassment. Your deliberations would be over.

If you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOA)'s conduct caused (NOC) to fear for his/her own safety, you must go on to the next question.

[9] Fifth – Was (NOC)'s fear reasonable in all the circumstances?

You must consider whether (NOC)'s fear for his/her own (or (NO3P)'s) safety because of (NOA)'s conduct was reasonable in all the circumstances. Ask yourselves whether a reasonable person in the same circumstances as (NOC) would fear for his or her own (or (NO3P)'s) safety as a result of what (NOA) did.^[12]

(Review relevant evidence and relate to issue.)

Unless you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOC)'s fear for his/her own safety was reasonable in all the circumstances, you must find (NOA) not guilty of criminal harassment.

If you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that (NOC)'s fear for his/her own safety was reasonable in all the circumstances, you must find (NOA) guilty of criminal harassment.

[1] Where identity is an issue, remember to include any further instructions that may be relevant (e.g. eyewitness identification, alibi, similar fact, etc.). Where date is an issue, the jury must be told that the Crown must prove that the offence occurred within the time frame indicated in the indictment. Where place is an issue, the jury must be told that the Crown must prove that some part of the offence occurred in the place indicated in the indictment.

Generally, the Crown must prove the date and place specified in the indictment. However, where there is a variation between the evidence and the indictment, refer to s. 601(4.1) of the Criminal Code and the jurisprudence following R. v. B. (G.), [1990] 2 S.C.R. 3.

[2] This description should be in statutory terms, according to the wording in the indictment, such as "...repeatedly followed (NOC) or (NO3P) from place to place."

[3] According to s. 264(2)(a), (b) and (c), the alleged conduct must have been carried out in relation to another person or "anyone known to them". According to s. 264(2)(d) (threatening), the threat must be directed to another person or "any member of their family".

[4] It will be necessary to include this element only where there is some evidence of lawful authority. See paragraph [5] below.

[5] According to s. 264(1), the accused's conduct must cause another person "to fear for their safety or the safety of anyone known to them".

[6] Insert the bracketed words if appropriate. This instruction will have to be modified where the accused has a legal burden of proof, such as for mental disorder or non-insane automatism.

[7] In R. v. Ryback (1996), 105 C.C.C. (3d) 240 (B.C.C.A.), the Court found that three episodes of communication amounted to "repeatedly communicating".

Whether "more than once" will suffice for conduct to be "repeated" will depend on the circumstances and evidence in each case. In R. v. Ohenhen, [2005] O.J. No. 4072 (C.A.) the Ontario Court of Appeal warned that trial judges should be cautious in using the phrase "more than once" in all cases. The Court noted at paragraph 33: "In some cases, the jury will have to consider the context in which the communications were made, the intent of the accused and possibly other factors to determine whether the communications were repeatedly made or were innocuous or accidental. Perhaps a more appropriate instruction would be to advise the jury that communication that occurs more than once can constitute repeated communications depending on the context and circumstances in which they were made.”

[8] See footnote 23.

[9] It will be necessary to include this element only where there is some evidence of lawful authority.

[10] This instruction is a plain-language expression of what in case law is referred to as the “common sense inference” that a person intends the natural and probable consequences of his or her actions.

[11] The French version of section 264(1) indicates clearly that (NO3P) must be someone personally known to (NOC).

[12] In R. v. Sillipp (1997), 120 C.C.C. (3d) 384 (Alta. C.A.), the Court said that a jury could also be instructed on the particular vulnerabilities of the complainant.

Appendix #9: The Insufficiency of the Information (compared to other "informations")

R. v. Vandoodewaard, 2009 CanLII 66617

The Informations

[5] The appellant was convicted on the following counts:

Count #1: that between the 3rd day of January in the year 2006 at the Town of Milton and the 23rd day of April in the year 2006, both dates inclusive in the said Region, unlawfully did without lawful authority and knowing that Michael Van Slingerland was harassed or being reckless as to whether Michael Van Slingerland was harassed, engaged in conduct referred to in Section 264(2) of the Criminal Code, thereby causing Michael Van Slingerland, in all the circumstances, to fear for his safety, contrary to section 264(1) of the Criminal Code.

Count #2: that between the 3rd day of January, 2006 and the 23rd day of April, 2006 at the Town of Milton in the said Region, unlawfully did without lawful authority and knowing that Mary-Anne Van Slingerland was harassed or being reckless as to whether Mary-Anne Van Slingerland was harassed, engaged in conduct referred to in Section 264(2) of the Criminal Code, thereby causing Mary-Anne Van Slingerland, in all the circumstances, to fear for her safety, contrary to Section 264(1) of the Criminal Code.

Appendix #8: Did DC Kolankowski ever contact Mr. McLean to warn him about an allegation of his engaging in harassment by repeated communications? If so, how did he do so? If so, when did he do so?

Mr. McLean never spoke with DC Kolankowski prior to the time at the 14th Division. When Mr. McLean replied to the harassment charge in the following (and by way of some paraphrasing and best recall by notes the following), "Harassment? Of who? When? That is impossible. With a harassment charge, the individual has to warn me that they feel they are being harassed. No individual has done that with me. Who are we even referring to? This is absolutely heinous and unjustified."

DC Kolankowski then replied, "I contacted you. I warned you."

Mr. McLean admittedly in animated fashion, responded as follows, "I have never met you before in my life. How could you do that without me having a phone? It would have had to have been in person. I just met you when Constable Romano brought you out of the back area with these belongings that were not supposed to be delivered here but I came as a courtesy because Constable Romano said they would be destroyed [sic]³⁵ in seven days. Further, this Landlord has been unlawfully holding my property without consent. I sent Constable Romano the order from the LTB. The very same type of order that the Landlord attempted to obtain and failed, and then effectively quit. When she could not get what she wanted at the LTB, she took the law into her own hands."

What predated the exchange with Mr. McLean and DC Kolankowski was Constable Romano informing Mr. McLean that he was being arrested for harassment and Mr. McLean's first response was, "Oh this is entrapment. This was entrapment. You did not mention one thing about a charge or anything of that sort. My computer and personal items are at a coffee shop as I relied on your representations in your email. I object to everything you are doing."

Appendix #9: Was there a warrant issued for Mr. McLean's arrest at the time that Officer Romano represented to Mr. McLean that there was?

After Constable Roman was astute enough to realize that perhaps DC Kolankowski memory was not as accurate as it could have been, Constable Romano then represented to Mr. McLean that there was a warrant for his arrest. Mr. McLean responded, "You realize who I am right? I have a little bit of experience inside the courtroom with some high profile civil cases. While I did not practice criminal law, an arrest warrant within a few hours? If you knew that, then why didn't you tell me? I could have come at my own leisure with counsel and addressed this square on and we could have had an educated dialogue.

It is also important to note that when Mr. McLean arrived, he asked Constable Romano if he could get some air and use a restroom nearby. Constable Romano replied, "Ya sure no problem. It will take five to ten minutes as the property is in temporary locker and has to be obtained."

When he came back about ten minutes later, his property was still not ready. Constable Romano said, "Oh I was trying to find you. Where did you go? Were you not around?"

Mr. McLean responded, "As I said Constable, I had to use the restroom and get some air. I will just be doing some of my stretches for my back as a result of my car accident. I will be in the parking lot right here."

Mr. McLean then proceeded to do so for five minutes in the parking lot on the TPS property.

[nota bene: after coming in and extending his hand to shake that of DC Kolankowski, Constable Romano then informed Mr. McLean he was under arrest for criminal harassment.

Appendix #10: Did the Sergeant engage in a discriminatory conduct by representing to Mr. McLean that he was to remain at his address, notify of any change in address, and then include "NFA" for "no fixed abode"?

Perhaps, the Sergeant was slightly tired from a long day or was relying on the lies that were tendered to the TPS from the unknown complaint(s) (i.e. on behalf of another). However, Mr. McLean provided his current driver's license that had his address therein. Sergeant It is inconceivable that NFA could be the same as 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

Appendix #11: The Hunter Standard

Hunter is the default standard with respect to measuring impugned legislation, which authorizes search and seizure of records in the context of a quasi-criminal or criminal investigation, against s. 8. This BCA in Arkininstall outlined the analytical framework to determine if Hunter criteria apply to impugned legislation: (1) reasonable expectation of privacy and authorized intrusiveness; (2) stigma associated with the type of authorized search and seizure (3) feasibility of a warrant; and (4) usefulness of a warrant.

There is no Charter challenge to the legislation at issue.

Rather, the Applicant's HRT0 Application focuses on whether the conduct of the Respondents were at odds with Charter values (where they are not government or government actors and subject to the Charter all subject to whether they were acting as agent of government) and thereby discriminatory by the adverse treatment and/or adverse impacts or effects upon the Applicant by reference to section 2 of the Code.

With respect to the TPS, the focus is on the unequal treatment that the Applicant received from the TPS with respect to its "services" under section 1 of the Code. The warrantless arrest, detention, searches, seizures, and imprisonment were all adverse treatment with the severity of those breaches being measured against previous Charter cases and HRT0 cases for the purposes of liable individuals and liable persons along with quanta of compensation under the Code.

Appendix #12: Sections of the Code for Protected Social Areas

Section 1 of the Code

Services

1 Every person has a right to equal treatment with respect to services, goods and facilities, without discrimination because of race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, marital status, family status or disability. R.S.O. 1990, c. H.19, s. 1; 1999, c. 6, s. 28 (1); 2001, c. 32, s. 27 (1); 2005, c. 5, s. 32 (1); 2012, c. 7, s. 1.

Specifically, the Legislature passed section 2(1) of the Code with amendments in 2001, 2005 and 2012: “2 (1) Every person has a right to equal treatment with respect to the occupancy of accommodation, without discrimination because of race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, marital status, family status, disability or the receipt of public assistance. R.S.O. 1990, c. H.19, s. 2 (1); 1999, c. 6, s. 28 (2); 2001, c. 32, s. 27 (1); 2005, c. 5, s. 32 (2); 2012, c. 7, s. 2 (1).

Appendix #13: Section 45.2(1) and Orders Sought

Orders of Tribunal: applications under s. 34

45.2 (1) On an application under section 34, the Tribunal may make one or more of the following orders if the Tribunal determines that a party to the application has infringed a right under Part I of another party to the application:

1. An order directing the party who infringed the right to pay monetary compensation to the party whose right was infringed for loss arising out of the infringement, including compensation for injury to dignity, feelings and self-respect.
[restoration and reinstatement to previous positions prior to the discriminatory treatment and impact upon the Applicant]
2. An order directing the party who infringed the right to make restitution to the party whose right was infringed, other than through monetary compensation, for loss arising out of the infringement, including restitution for injury to dignity, feelings and self-respect.
[residual]
3. An order directing any party to the application to do anything that, in the opinion of the Tribunal, the party ought to do to promote compliance with this Act. 2006, c. 30, s. 5.

Orders under par. 3 of subs. (1)

- (2) For greater certainty, an order under paragraph 3 of subsection (1),
- (a) may direct a person to do anything with respect to future practices; and
 - (b) may be made even if no order under that paragraph was requested. 2006, c. 30, s. 5.

Appendix #13(B): Orders Sought

The Applicant seeks the following orders:

Order #1: To the Extent that the Tribunal is able to award damages for psychological injury (also known as "Nissen Damages")

1. To the extent that the HRTO has jurisdiction to award "Nissen Damages"³⁶ for psychological injury, the Respondents shall pay a sum commensurate with an award of Nissen Damages based on the Applicant's psychological injury based on the conduct of the Respondents involving the material facts pleaded and evidence disclosed herein;
 - a. An Order, declaration, direction or finding that, to the extent that the Tribunal finds that psychological injury is not subsumed under ss. 45.2(1)(1.) of the HR Code, the Applicant is at liberty to file a claim for psychological injury against some or all of the Respondents for the same in a court of competent jurisdiction;
 - i. To the extent that he does so, the Applicant is prohibited from using any documents, evidence or records obtained herein in a future court proceeding without the consent of the disclosor of each document and order of this Tribunal and/or order of a court of competent jurisdiction;

2. To the extent that the HRT0 does not have jurisdiction to award damages for psychological injury (i.e. injury to dignity, feelings and self-respect do not rise to the level of psychological injury) under the Code, the Respondents, on a joint and several basis, shall pay the sum of $200,000 to the Applicant pursuant to 45.2(1)(1);
3. An Order that all Respondents take all steps forthwith to make non-monetary restitution to the Applicant in accordance with subsection 45.2(1)(2.) of the HR Code;
4. An order that Constable Romano apologize, in writing, to the Applicant and confirm that his October 2, 2024, email was not a true and accurate representation of what he and the police intended to do when the Applicant arrived within the seven days he denoted;
5. An Order that DC Kolankowski apologize to the Applicant in writing and admit he erred in representing that he had warned the Applicant regarding an allegation of harassment when he had not;
6. An Order that the TPS (14th Division) place a sign, card or notice to all those entering the 14th Division (TPS) regarding the Human Rights Code;
7. An Order that the TPS (14th Division) place a sign of the Charter to all those entering the 14th Division (TPS);
8. An Order that the TPS place in a prominent place that is visible to all those entering the 14th Division that by entering said location, said individuals has a lessened expectation of privacy and diminished rights as it relates to the Charter including a notice that said detachment is not considered a public place and individuals may be arrested on a lower standard (if applicable);
9. An Order that all police officers, employees or agent of the TPS are required to include in their written (hard copy, soft copy or electronic) correspondence to individuals by "disclaimer" or "notice" that should they be asked to attend any division of the TPS that they may be arrested without a warrant, searched without warrant, have their property seized without warrant, be detained without a warrant and/or be imprisoned without warrant;
10. An Order or Direction that all police officers, employees or agents of the TPS are reminded internally of the requirement to seek consent in advance of any attendance of an individual attending any division or detachment, and that they must only do so through full, true, open, plan, accurate and complete disclosure of the facts for attendance at a division;
11. An Order or Direction that all police officers, employees or agents of the TPS are directed that they must notify and disclose to any individual that if they do attend a division in person, whether on their own volition or by query or request by TPS that they are entitled to be accompanied by an agent including but not limited to: (i) a licensed paralegal with the LSO; and (ii) a licensed lawyer with the LSO;
12. An Order that any written apologies that the Applicant may receive are subject to a duty of confidentiality and quasi or actual implied undertaking rule and that the Applicant cannot disclose the same outside of this HRT0 proceeding unless he has consent of the author of that document and the Tribunal;
13. An Order, consistent with subsection 45.2(1)(2.) of the HR Code, to provide written confirmation that the Applicant's fingerprints and DNA (where applicable), are removed from the database as per being on account of the Unlawful Arrest, Unlawful Detention or Detainment, Unlawful Searches, Unlawful Seizures, and Unlawful Imprisonment;

¹³It seems a little coincidental or prophetic with the benefit of hindsight but that would oversimplify issues that require analytical precision and not “black and white thinking” or using heuristics or analytics to come to some conclusions. The Applicant has confirmed under oath and will confirm herein again that he has not set foot on the property of the Minto Complex out of pure fear from the Goldview Threat and Goldview Extortion.

¹⁵As it related to the TPS and its employees, contractors or agents, the Applicant was accessing a service, so represented by the Ontario LTB when a tenant had been unlawfully and without notice locked out of a rental unit, on September 20 and 21, 2024. When the Applicant received the Constable Romano email on Wednesday, October 2, 2024, it was a welcome one, to some degree, as the LTB had reversed its previous decision regarding a request for expedited proceedings or shortening of time, on its own initiative, after the Applicant had tendered further particularized affidavits. The Applicant was finalizing his submissions for the same but was able to relinquish the need to do so in light of Vice-Chair Delorenzi order. For context and risk involved, if the Applicant was not successful with the same, he could not seek the same order again, and he had no right of appeal. It would have been months to a year before his matter would be heard.

¹⁷The Applicant will be bringing a motion after receipt of the file number from the HRTO for an expedited proceedings with specifics for truncated and abridged timelines. The Applicant has provided the further particulars involving the various officers, constables and sergeant at the Appendices.¹⁷

¹⁸For objectivity purposes, this is not to say that these officers are “bad people” or of “poor character” but the facts herein are certainly ones that do not portray them at their peak. Moreover, the Applicant does not deny that he and the TPS’ employees were able to allow emotions to be locked-in and have more professional dialogue. However, the Applicant should have never been in that position at first instance. It is for that reason that empathy and sympathy are somewhat in order and why the Applicant has proceeded with this route with HRTO, where there is a quasi-implied undertaking along with the ability of certain individuals to seek anonymization orders if they wish.

¹⁹On or around December 18, 2023, while the Applicant and his now former spouse, Nicole Artopoulos (“Nicole”) were assisting with a donation drive for the less fortunate in the King’s Lounge of 775 King Street West, Toronto, the Applicant returned to Unit 410 with a gastrointestinal issue. Upon obtaining water from the kitchen area, the Applicant, in a state of delirium from dehydration and other issues, thought his phone was on the counter and referenced “love of my life” (which was the former contact name for Nicole). He picked up the phone to text Nicole but the password was not working. He then realized it was her phone. There were some other Viber messages from the Landlord that referenced the likes of “How is the wacko”. The Applicant was immediately startled and read the same. He then looked at Nicole’s text messages and they followed with a litany of discriminatory, pejorative, and remarks.

²⁰The Applicant was compelled to file another LTB application (T2) in August 2024 wherein he alleged, inter alia, that he was being harassed, stalked, and threatened by the Landlord. On August 21, 2024, the Landlord apparently filed, on her own, a motion to shorten the time. It failed. While unbeknownst to the Applicant, the Landlord had been aware of and was attempting to avoid the deeming aspects of the legislative provisions of ss. 5(i) of the RTA and ss. 104(4) of the RTA (and by implication sections 97 and 100 of the RTA) and regulation intituled Reg 516/06, “General”; specifically section 3(2), “Definition of Tenant”. While different in scope and language, ss. 104(4) of the RTA and ss. 3(2) of Reg 516 have an effect of deeming the other individual of a tenancy, by way of occupant or “spouse” (see: RTA, ss. ____), to be the sole and remaining tenant if the “former tenant” vacates and the “spouse” or “other resident” does not vacate within 60 days and the Landlord has failed to file (see: 104(4) of the RTA) an application with the LTB pursuant to section 100 of the RTA to evict the tenant and any other residents therein or the Landlord, in the case of a “spouse” remaining by reference to Reg 516, ss. 3(2), does not obtain an order pursuant to an application under section 100 of the Act within 60 days. 60 days from June 23, 2024, was August 21, 2024. The Landlord wrongly presumed that filing a “motion” or “request” to “shorten time” on August 21, 2024, was sufficient to preserve her rights to allege that she had satisfied either limitation period. The Landlord was incorrect as a “request to shorten time” is not an application to evict a tenant (along with a remaining spouse or occupant) is not an L2 application and certainly not an order of the Tribunal. While the Applicant had conveyed to the Tribunal and the Landlord that he was remaining in Unit 410, subject to finding another residence, in July and August 2024, the Landlord continued a path of harassment, stalking and appearing at Unit 410 accompanied by the concierge each time. On September 14, 2024, the Landlord attended again with the concierge but without notice in accordance with the RTA. The Applicant was inside Unit 410, saw the lock moving, as he was not wearing an upper body garment, turned the lock back multiple times and informed the Landlord and concierge to leave. After seeing them leave through the peephole, he was puzzled as to why the Landlord continued to attempt to enter Unit 410 without following RTA requirements with an ongoing matter before the LTB.

²³Who shall remain confidential but I am willing to provide such contact information (if there is consent of that person) and/or I am required by law to do so albeit I would ask that it would be provided “in camera” for any adjudicator to review

²⁴I will note parenthetically in this regard that, at times, I did return the keys as the Landlord was, in my view, causing extreme stress for her Daughter, and I did not wish to have her Daughter (my Spouse) suffer so I would stay at a hotel for a small period to allow the Landlord to come down from her temper or whatever new issue was bothering her at the time.

²⁵which was partly due to leaving Vancouver to rekindle my relationship with my Spouse

²⁶I found somewhat alarming considering her knowledge of my disability and explaining my MRI results from October 2022 and August

²⁷Which I found strange considering the payments that I had made to her over the years

²⁸October 27, 2023

²⁹I presume she was referring to me not having any reference letter from her or not having a “written lease” when I overheard, oversaw or otherwise

³⁰The Landlord is correct in this representation she made to third parties but that was during the time when I arrived from Vancouver as per the above and below

³¹The Applicant pleads that discrimination may also happen indirectly as it may be carried out through another person or organization. For example, an agent of a landlord may indirectly against people who she perceives to have psychosocial abilities. The organization or individual that sets out discriminatory conditions, and the organization and person that carries out the discrimination can both be named in a human rights claim and held responsible. The questions to be asked or the documents to be produced from Goldview, with respect to downtown Toronto condos, is how many times that Goldview has participated and acted in such fashion where it assisted with the altering of locking systems of an individual who had been a resident for six plus years without notice to said individual? Further, for Goldview, how many times has it had a licensed property manager engage in using that kind of language that the police will be called if an individual resident, who has his property inside a unit and did not receive any notice, is SEEN on the property. The Applicant hopes it is zero.

³²In terms of Ms. Stack’s claim for general damages, it is a claim for emotional and psychological injury. Her evidence in support of such a claim is substantial.

[351] Ms. Stack herself described the effect on her of the disclosure of her identity and the harassment that she and her family suffered at the hands of the Ellisons. She said the harassment was unbearable, to the point that the family could no longer go in and out of the house through the front door, and ultimately they had to sell their home. Since these events, she feels hopeless and depressed. There are triggers that increase her symptoms of terror. She is paralyzed with fear. She has extreme anxiety. She wakes up terrified, at least weekly. (see: the trial judgment: Nissen v. Durham Regional Police, 2015 ONSC 1268) [356] Of significance, Dr. Silver testified that Ms. Stack has signs of post-traumatic stress disorder. She demonstrates symptoms of high anxiety. She has a high degree of suspicion and a low degree of trust. She has an increased arousal system arising from noises and ordinary events. There are repeated flash backs. She is concerned that people may be talking about her, and she thinks she is being watched. This borders on a paranoid state [nota bene: focused on the PTSD elements].

³³To the extent that the HRTO cannot award Nissen type damages, the Applicant seeks monetary compensation in accordance with subsection 45.2(1)(1.) in the amount of $200,000. The Applicant then reserves his rights to seek further relief and damages in a civil claim where res judicata and issue estoppel are not applicable to the uncapped *Nissen*³³ damages.

³⁴Sharpe, Pepall and van Rensburg JJ.A. for the ONCA in 2017: [38] The trial judge observed, at para. 368, that it was difficult to fix a reasonable amount for the damages Ms. Stack and her family had suffered. He found that the effect on Ms. Stack had been "severe", that her life had been "irretrievably altered" and he was satisfied by the evidence of Dr. Silver "that it is unlikely that she will ever be the same as she was before these incidents". The ONCA in Nissen, citing Young, found as follows, "[45] The trial judge was faced with what he properly recognized to be a difficult task. On the evidence, he found that Ms. Stack had suffered a severe psychological injury that had radically affected her outlook and enjoyment of life. Her friends and her family testified that she was a different person since the injury, and she presented unchallenged expert evidence that she had suffered from post-traumatic stress disorder that was difficult to treat and likely to be permanent. While I view the damages awarded by the trial judge to be very generous, I am not persuaded that his reasons reveal any error of law or principle that would justify appellate intervention."

³⁵He used the language in the email

³⁶The HR Code was passed by the Legislature in 1990 but it appears that ss.45.2(1) was passed or amended in 2006. The Nissen v. Durham case was decided in trial court of the ONSC in 2015 and then affirmed on appeal in 2017. The legal conundrum is that Nissen damages are not subject to the cap of general damages but appear to be a subset of

NOTICE OF CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION Pursuant to Rule 4¹ of the HRTO Specific Rules and section 24 of the Charter and binding decisions, pursuant to vertical stare decisis, of the SCC

The Applicant intends to question the constitutionality of the acts, conduct, or omissions of the TPS and TPS respondents, known to him at this time and to be known, from on or around September 21, 2024 to October 2, 2024 (with particular emphasis on the events, conduct and incidents that occurred on the date of October 2, 2024) (the “Material Time”) and the ongoing violations of the Applicant’s Charter rights as a consequence of the same, and which sections of the below the TPS, TPS respondents and any HRTO determined or declared non-governmental individuals or persons who are determined to have been TPS agents, violated or infringed the following rights of the Applicant:

1. Section 9 of the Charter;
2. Section 8 of the Charter;
3. Section 7 of the Charter;
4. Section 10 of the Charter;
5. Section 11 of the Charter;
6. Section 12 of the Charter;
7. Section 15 of the Charter;

(collectively, the “Charter Violations”)

and each of those Charter Violations cannot be saved by section 1 of the Charter.

The Applicant seeks remedies under section 24(1) and 24(2) of the Charter to seek redress regarding some or all of the Charter Violations and to prevent the infringement of his Charter rights on an interim, interlocutory and permanent basis as detailed below.

Appropriate remedies may be fashioned under section 24(1) and (2) of the Charter to nullify and invalidate the Charter Violations of the Applicant and to prevent the infringement of the Applicant’s Charter rights that could or would occur if the continued unlawful arrest, unlawful searches, unlawful seizures et al were utilized in any way against him in the future.

The constitutional questions are to be argued on a date and time to be fixed or as proposed herein, at Toronto, Ontario before the HRTO.

NOCQ: Material Facts

The following, including the HRTO Application and Declaration #1 of the Applicant on November 5, 2024, are the material facts giving rise to the constitutional question.

NOCQ: Legal Bases

The following includes some of the legal bases for the constitutional questions.

In addition to the above-noted remedies being sought, such further and other relief as the Applicant may advise and this HRTO may permit.

- c. The Applicant, Respondents, Attorneys General and/or OHRC are at liberty to seek any interim orders, including non-substantive or substantive injunctive or interlocutory relief, on five days' notice to other parties, intervenors and non-parties;
- d. Any party that fails to comply with the HRTO Common Rules and HRTO Specific Rules, including any orders herein or in the future, will not be entitled to further notice in this HRTO Proceeding;
- e. Any non-compliance with any provision of the Code and associated regulations and/or HRTO Specific Rules shall be deemed to be non-compliance with an order of the Tribunal and the Tribunal shall be entitled to draw an adverse inference in accordance with section 43(9) of the Code;

VOLUME #1(B): CONSTITUTIONAL RELIEF PURSUANT TO NOCQ

2. Mr. McLean seeks the following relief, orders, findings, declarations or determination with respect to the constitutional questions:

VOLUME #1(B)(I): Unlawful seizure (and potentially search) prior to Constable Romano's email

- a. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and some of all of the TPS respondents and some unknown TPS employees or agents, engaged in an unauthorized, unlawful or illegal seizure of Mr. McLean's property by its delivery to it or by its picking up of the same from his residential rental unit, particularized as Unit 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3 ("Rental Unit 410") on or around October 2, 2024;

VOLUME #1(B)(I): Generalized Relief Sought

- b. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that the TPS and TPS respondents, as a direct consequence of them not having a warrant for the arrest of Mr. McLean and Mr. McLean not being subject to any potential charge of an indictable offence in relation to the allegation and unproven charge pursuant to section 264(b) of the Criminal Code, that the TPS and TPS Respondents cannot rely upon section 25, 493, 495 et al of the Criminal Code as an exemption to a warrantless arrest, and thereby breached the following rights of the Applicant including but not limited to:
 - i. Section 9 of the Charter;
 - ii. Section 8 of the Charter;
 - iii. Section 7 of the Charter;
 - iv. Section 10 of the Charter;

- v. Section 11 of the Charter;
- vi. Section 12 of the Charter;
- vii. Section 15 of the Charter;

(collectively, the “Charter Violations”)

1. More specifically, the TPS and TPS Respondents cannot meet any aspects of the disjunctive element of the Collins test that involved conduct in that while sections 25 and 495 of the Criminal Code are reasonable, their acts or omissions (which remain ongoing) were:
 - a. The arrest was not authorized by statute, and thereby all searches, seizures, detentions, imprisonment and conduct thereafter was not authorized by statute or the common law powers incident to arrest; and
 - b. The arrest, searches, seizures, imprisonment, detentions et al were all not reasonable in their fact and in substance.

VOLUME #1(B)(II): Specific Findings, Relief, Orders and Determinations

- c. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that the Constable Romano email contained misrepresentations, mistruths, and/or omissions and amounted to a “false pretense”;
- d. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and TPS respondents conducted a warrantless arrest of the Applicant;
- e. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and TPS respondents conducted a warrantless detention and imprisonment of the Applicant;
- f. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and TPS respondents conducted warrantless searches or seizures of the Applicant;
- g. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and TPS respondents’ retention of any seized or searched information on October 2, 2024, prior to Mr. McLean attending TPS 14th Division or thereafter, constitutes an unreasonable seizure and is contrary to section 7 and 8 of the Charter;
- h. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that that the TPS, including the recorded arresting officer DC Kolankowski, did not have reasonable grounds to believe that the Applicant was committing an indictable offence or had committed an indictable offence in relation to the charge of section 264(b) of the Criminal Code;
- i. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that Mr. McLean, at the time (or ever for that matter), was NOT subject to:
 1. any of the discretionary provisions of the Criminal Code for the Crown to proceed (if he or she wished) by indictment as opposed to summary processes:
 - a. while at large under s. 515 [bail release], 679 or 680 [release pending appeal or review of appeal] (s. 515(6)(a)(i));
 - b. "for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association" with a criminal organization (s. 515(6)(a)(ii));
 - c. where the offence involved a weapon, being a firearm, cross-bow, prohibited weapon, restricted weapon, prohibited device, ammunition,

- prohibited ammunition or explosive substance, while the accused was subject to a prohibition order preventing possession of these items (s. 515(6)(a)(viii)); or
- d. where the accused is not "ordinarily a resident in Canada" (s. 515(6)(b)).
- ii. Was NOT subject to any of the necessary Criminal Code requirements or conditions that an allegation and charge of section 264(b) of the Criminal Code
1. where the offence was an allegation of violence against an "intimate partner" and the accused had been previously convicted of an offence of violence against an "intimate partner" (s. 515(6) (b.1));
 2. where the offence alleged is a breach under s. 145(2) to (5) [i.e. escaped from lawful custody] while (s. 515(6)(c)); or
 3. where the offence committed (or conspired to commit) was an offence under s. 5 to 7 of the CDSA that is punishable by life imprisonment (s. 515(6)(d));
- j. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that the TPS and TPS respondents did not have any reasonable grounds to believe, even taking the ss. 264(b) of the Criminal Code charge at its highest, that the Applicant had committed an indictable offence at all or in relation to the above;
- k. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that any consent provided by Mr. McLean, whether in writing, orally or by conduct (in showing up to the TPS 14th Division on October 2, 2024) was vitiated and of no force and effect due to duress, coercion, misrepresentation, false pretence, and/or fraud;
- l. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS shall destroy any and all fingerprints, pictures or records in its database in relation to any potential or future investigations involving Mr. McLean but for segregating the same for exclusive use in this HRTO Proceeding;

VOLUME #1(B)(III): Section 9 of the Charter

- m. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and TPS respondents breached the Applicant's Charter right to not be arbitrarily detained or imprisoned under section 9 of the Charter;
- n. An declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and TPS respondents breached the Applicant's guaranteed right to be free from unreasonable search or seizure;
- o. A declaration, order, determination and/or finding that TPS and the TPS respondents breached the Applicant's to life, liberty and security of the person and the TPS and the TPS respondents breached the same while not being in accordance with the principles of fundamental justice;

VOLUME #1(B)(IV): Section 24(1): Remedies (see: Section 24(1) provides remedies against unconstitutional government action)

Actual and apprehended fear of Charter breach

"Appropriate and just" (equitable in nature)

- p. Damages in favour of the Applicant and against TPS and the TPS respondents;

- q. Declaratory relief as follows to be determined;
- r. Injunctive relief in favour of the Applicant to be determined or advanced on an interim basis;

VOLUME #1(B)(V): Section 1 of the Charter ³

- s. A declaration, order, determination or finding that section 1 of the Charter has no applicability and cannot save any of the infringements upon the Applicant's Charter rights because the limits only apply when they are prescribed by law⁴;

VOLUME #1(C): Express adoption of definitions, emphasis and references to Mr. McLean's quintuplet of cases with the soon-to-be-defunct LSBC and the singular constitutional challenge (now moot) to the LPA (with the AGBC)

3. Mr. McLean adopts the definitions from the filed pleading (HRTO Application) and they have the same meaning therein as they do herein. Where Mr. McLean has utilized "double underlining," the emphasis is his and for ease of reference.
4. Throughout, and at the appendices, Mr. McLean has referenced and cross-referenced various aspects of his experiences and cases (court proceedings at all levels, including a leave application to the SCC) involving the LSBC and individual defendants. He has not done so to highlight any success in that matter but for comparison purposes in relation to Charter rights when the public body is an "administrative tribunal" or "regulatory body" versus the "STATE" or "POLICE".
5. As may be known to the HRTO, the LSBC will soon be defunct, along with the Society of Notaries Public of BC ("SNP"), as the NDP government in BC was successful in bringing forward its Bill 21 in February 2024 and having it pass all three readings and receive Royal Assent. This process commenced by public consultation in 2021. It was not without contention from the opposition government (now defunct itself ironically in the BC United Party (on similar party lines to the Liberal government or liberal party) but the NDP obtained the same.
6. The soon-to-be-defunct LSBC was clearly incensed and angered by the same and filed a NOCC (as opposed to a petition per se which is apparently based on a change in law from the SCC) against the BC government and the AGBC). The LSBC moved expediently with its claim and then an injunction motion seeking interlocutory relief against the Bill 21, which was entitled the "Legal Professions Act" (2024). Although the repealed act of the Legal Profession Act (1998) is only separated by one letter per se, they are vastly different in scope, language, authority and duties. The definition of the current and binding legislation in BC is that of the “Single Regulator Legislation” (or “SRL”). The repealed LPA will be referred and defined as the “Repealed LPA”.

7. It is trite and settled law that the analytical lens from which Charter questions are answered is distinct depending on whether they are determined to be a state actor or a regulatory body actor. Charter rights are more strictly construed in favour of an applicant or individual when it involves a criminal matter. Mr. McLean is uniquely situated in many different respects to argue these constitutional questions, with the benefit of the submissions of the AGBC, AGC, OHRC and TPS, as a result of his Protected Characteristicss (physical and mental) in these Protected Areas, some of level of quasi-familiarity (authority) yet some new in the context of “accommodation”, and his experience in litigating against the LSBC and AGBC in challenging the constitutionality not only of conduct but also of enactments. Moreover, he has a unique background in arguing (and being successful) against the LSBC in the privacy sphere – some by reported decisions and others by confirmatory findings, determinations or decisions of the BC Privacy Commissioner. As will be seen below, Mr. McLean, as a result of exercising his PIPEDA rights, has a unique set of experiences in analyzing the Criminal Code as a result of the LSBC’s undisclosed criminality in engaging in a “RAM Dump” of his CPU (with the exact time remaining unknown) on June 4, 2014, absent any judicial warrant, statutory authority or otherwise. This unique discovery by Mr. McLean occurred in 2021. From there, he developed a further set of unique experiences, relevant by analogy, in learning that the LSBC had by way of RAM Dump seizure, then, in unauthorized fashion, disclosed and stored his personal information in 2015 (way ahead of its time) to the Ethereum blockchain by way of smart contracts. As these discoveries unfolded for Mr. McLean, they are without question beyond surreal, and yet they fit with chronological times almost like “puzzle pieces” into a retrospective investigative “puzzle”. For example, the unauthorized, surreptitious and clandestine disclosures and storage of McLean personal information (and others by way of RAM Dump as it is a “capture” or “dump” whereby a “mirror copy” cannot be made and it obtains “memory” and not “storage” per se like a hard drive disk (“HDD”) in November 2015 into some of the “early” and “native” blocks in the Ethereum block chain (with smart contracts) (based out of Switzerland) were slightly before a hearing, set by the BC Supreme Court, in November 2015, after Mr. McLean filed a motion for, inter alia, striking of the LSBC and LSBC Defendants responses to civil claim (here in Ontario, a “Statement of Defence”), document listing, document production, attendances at examinations for discovery et al, because, after

Madam Justice Gerow's decision, some LSBC Defendants did not attend their examinations for discovery on two repeated times and LSBC had not listed a single document at that stage. Moreover, the LSBC had yet to even inform Mr. McLean where, which he and the Court relied upon, was the location of the "forensic copy" of his "Hard Drive". As the hearing approached in November 2015, Mr. McLean marshalled his evidence forward and submissions, and was then successful on all of the relief that was heard and argued (with some adjourned for a later date). The LSBC was required to list and produce documents in two stages: December 2015 and January 2016. Mr. McLean then discovered Mr. Riddell (the decision maker of the warrantless administrative search and seizure order). However, when measuring the purported RAM dump record from the LSBC, through its counsel in NST LLP (Ms. Lockhart (former U of T gold medalist)), it was anything but exclusively a RAM Dump. It required technological expertise in the form of experts and software to analyze. The dates of those unauthorized disclosures and storage to the Ethereum blockchain were (when measuring Charter analysis and BC Supreme Court Civil Rules on document production and discovery with respect to "domestic control") were an unlawful method to purportedly claim that such documents and records from the RAM Dump were not in the "country" or "province".

8. Through some happenstance in May and June 2021, Mr. McLean learned, through some discussions with lawyers (with whom he was acquainted and/or long-time friends) in being sparked by a case of Anonymous Lawyer v. LSBC that the LSBC may have done more than it represented to the court. Mr. McLean was shocked by such a comment as his view remained that they certainly went far enough and considering the potential resetting of hearings by Mr. McLean in various matters with them, he gave attention to those comments. Over a two-week span, he went through each and every listed document by the LSBC (as they were provided on multiple USBs) and found one email where one Mr. McCartney (a LSBC investigator) wrote to Mr. Bussanich (lawyer) and Mr. Caldwell (his manager) at the Investigations, Monitoring and Enforcement of the LSBC that on or around June 4, 2014, that they had just finished the RAM Dump of Mr. McLean's CPU (not HDD) and would THEN commence with the forensic copying. As the Attorneys General can imagine, one of the most shocking experiences of anyone's life is to read such language in writing but particularly when the LSBC never even disclosed the same to Mr. McLean, the "independent solicitor adjudicator" (which Mr. McLean selected as part of the regulatory process to have privileged information excluded from the forensic copying of his CPU – which was one Mr. Robert Deane of BLG LLP (Vancouver office), then the Courts and then also the BC Privacy Commissioner.

9. Of course, all of these submissions herein can be further fact-checked and cross-referenced by the record of proceeding S-1401156 in the BC Supreme Court.
10. Mr. McLean respectfully submits that there is no dispute that this HRT0 Proceeding is a “public interest proceeding” as it engages issues that transcend himself and matters of national importance along with specific societal importance for disabled individuals particularly in the GTA but also the GTAJ.

VOLUME #1(D): Multi-purposed submissions and comprehensiveness

11. The motion submissions herein are comprehensive as they are to be read together with the HRT0 Application. Moreover, they will be heavily and specifically relied upon by Mr. McLean in future motions and the hearing proper.
12. Further, the comprehensive nature of these submissions will be in the similar format for Mr. McLean’s written argument before the HRT0 in the Hearing Proper.

VOLUME #1(E): Overview

13. The Respondents then have the burden to demonstrate that they had reasonable and probable grounds for the conduct they undertook in the form of an arrest, detention, imprisonment, search, seizure et al, and it is impossible for them to meet that burden. It is impossible as a matter of law. With the benefit of much legal advice and assistance, without any waiver of privilege or confidentiality, but solely for context, a new potential theory has emerged as to why the TPS behaved the way it did. It may be that they realized that they were not legally allowed to have received the McLean Property and McLean medication, and they needed to attempt to sanitize their breaches. It may have been dropped off by the Landlord, the Landlord making some false complaint about Mr. McLean, not on her own behalf as she would know that they should be subject to the response of it being before the LTB but throwing her daughter under the proverbial bus (nota bene a consistent tactic of the Landlord), and then departing. She may have falsely claimed that Mr. McLean somehow was harassing her daughter, as she was copied on certain emails, and was worried that Mr. McLean had the legal right to send those emails. As such, the criminal complaint that may not have been made by Nicole does not even meet the first part of the statutory test under the Criminal Code. Moreover, if Nicole did not make the criminal complaint, 1012. The legal change of position by the TPS 14th Division from the DCK Fictitious CH Warning to Constable Romano's warrant representation makes the Charter analysis vis-à-vis Mr. McLean and the TPS rather rudimentary and facile to predict the outcome. The breaches of section 29 by the TPS are so severe that the section 8 of the Charter breaches follow. Those section 8 of the Charter breaches cannot be saved under section 1 of the Charter – at least have not been so as of today's date by our SCC. This would certainly not be the first case where they were. While exclusion of evidence is not a particularly huge issue for the public, Mr. McLean, after reviewing the prior episodes⁶³ involving 14th Division, does not want the 14th Division to have discretion over holding a pen for him.

1013. For clarity as it relates to the compensation aspect of this HRT0 Proceeding, Mr. McLean's point must be taken as: there is no fear of any of these "men" at the TPS 14th Division when it is equal. It is only when they are holding a badge, gun, and misleading him with intent. When they are not and claiming to act with purported authority, he does not fear them. While physically disabled, he can defend himself. But adding a resisting arrest charge on top of the False Arrest where there is not a singular legal authority in this country to support any semblance of analytical discipline in analyzing the legal test under ss. 264(b) was likely the design. Break Mr. McLean without his medication and hope he was labelled the "criminal". Now, some 35 days later, he is anything but and, bluntly, those who set the "wheels in motion" of this "revenge ploy" must be held to account. Goldview is not to blame either with Ms. Ferguson spewing off that if Mr. McLean was seen on the property, after being illegally locked out without access to his medication and property (with most of it remaining therein Rental Unit 410), is part and parcel of the same "thug like" abusive and discriminatory conduct. The TPS and TPS Respondent did not merely put the icing on the cake of this unlawful scheme, they added enough unlawful icing to fill up a "cake shop". They all must "reap" what they "sowed", and then correct (where applicable).
1014. Mr. McLean respectfully submits that the orders for expedited proceedings must follow and the determination of the NOCQ will have the inevitable determinations in his favour and for the public to some degree but with early document production fostering the public interest issues herein. If the TPS wishes to stand by its reflexive question. "Have I lived up to my word?", the best way to find out is with documents produced and field with the HRT0. Upon the conclusion of those issues, the HRT0 can then determine the issues as they relate to the HR Code.

Appendix #1: Form 7

FORM 7(Sections 475, 493, 597, 800 and 803) Warrant for Arrest

Canada, Province of ,
(territorial division).

To the peace officers in the (territorial division):

This warrant is issued for the arrest of (name of person), of , born on (date of birth), referred to in this warrant as the accused.

Because the accused has been charged with (set out briefly the offence in respect of which the accused is charged);

And because (check those that are applicable):

- ☐ (a) there are reasonable grounds to believe that it is necessary in the public interest to issue this warrant for the arrest of the accused [507(4), 512(1)];
- ☐ (b) the accused failed to attend court in accordance with the summons served on the accused [512(2)];
- ☐ (c) (an appearance notice or undertaking) was confirmed and the accused failed to attend court in accordance with it [512(2)];
- ☐ (d) it appears that a summons cannot be served because the accused is evading service [512(2)];
- ☐ (e) the accused was ordered to be present at the hearing of an application for a review of an order made by a justice and did not attend the hearing [520(5), 521(5)];
- ☐ (f) there are reasonable grounds to believe that the accused has contravened or is about to contravene the (summons or appearance notice or undertaking or release order) on which the accused was released [512.3];
- ☐ (g) there are reasonable grounds to believe that the accused has committed an indictable offence since their release from custody on (summons or appearance notice or undertaking or release order) [512.3];

- ☐ (h) the accused was required by (appearance notice or undertaking or summons) to attend at a time and place stated in it for the purposes of the Identification of Criminals Act and did not appear at that time and place [512.1, 512.2];
- ☐ (i) an indictment has been found against the accused and the accused has not appeared or remained in attendance before the court for their trial [597];
- ☐ (j) (if none of the above applies, reproduce the provisions of the statute that authorize this warrant).

Therefore, you are ordered, in Her Majesty's name, to immediately arrest the accused and to bring them before (state court, judge or justice), to be dealt with according to law.

- ☐ (Check if applicable) Because there are reasonable grounds to believe that the accused is or will be present in (specify dwelling-house), this warrant is also issued to authorize you to enter the dwelling-house for the purpose of arresting the accused, subject to the condition that you may not enter the dwelling-house unless you have, immediately before entering the dwelling-house, reasonable grounds to believe that the person to be arrested is present in the dwelling-house.

Signed on (date), at (place).

(Signature of judge, provincial court judge, justice or clerk of the court)

¹Where a party intends to question the constitutional validity or applicability of any law, regulation, by-law or rule or where a party claims a remedy under s. 24(1) of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms, in relation to an act or omission of the Government of Canada or the Government of Ontario, a Notice of Constitutional Question must be delivered to the Attorneys General of Canada and Ontario and all other parties and filed with the Tribunal as soon as the circumstances requiring the notice become known and, in any event, at least 15 days before the question is to be argued.

²Parties and their representatives may not use documents obtained under these Rules for any purpose other than in the proceeding before the Tribunal (see: HRTO Specific Rule, ³1. The Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms guarantees the rights and freedoms set out in it subject only to such reasonable limits prescribed by law as can be demonstrably justified in a free and democratic society.

⁴In order to be capable of justification under section 1, the limit on the right or freedom must be "prescribed by law". The limit may be: (i) either express or implied in a statute or a regulation (R. v. Therens, [1985] 1 SCR 613; R. v. Thomsen, [1988] 1 SCR 640; R. v. Orbanski; R. v. Elias [2005] 2 SCR 3); (ii) in a government policy, where: (1) the government entity was authorized to enact the policy; (2) the policy sets out binding rules of general application, i.e., of a legislative nature, (such as rules of a regulatory body or provisions of a collective agreement) as opposed to those which are administrative in nature (such as internal guidelines or interpretive aids for government officials); (3) the policy is sufficiently precise so as to enable people to regulate their conduct by it, and so as to provide guidance to those who apply the law; (4) the policy is sufficiently accessible to give notice to the public of the rules to which they are subject (Greater Vancouver Transportation Authority v. Canadian Federation of Students - British Columbia Component, [2009] 2 SCR 295, at paragraphs 50, 65); and (iii) a common law limit, assuming there is sufficient government action for the Charter to apply (Therens, supra; RWDSU v. Dolphin Delivery, [1986] 2 SCR 573; R. v. Swain, [1991] 1 SCR 933; Dagenais v. Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, [1994] 3 SCR 835); R. v. N.S., [2012] 3 SCR 726).

¹⁵As it related to the TPS and its employees, contractors or agents, the Applicant was accessing a service, so represented by the Ontario LTB when a tenant had been unlawfully and without notice locked out of a rental unit, on September 20 and 21, 2024. When the Applicant received the Constable Romano email on Wednesday, October 2, 2024, it was a welcome one, to some degree, as the LTB had reversed its previous decision regarding a request for expedited proceedings or shortening of time, on its own initiative, after the Applicant had tendered further particularized affidavits. The Applicant was finalizing his submissions for the same but was able to relinquish the need to do so in light of Vice-Chair Delorenzi order. For context and risk involved, if the Applicant was not successful with the same, he could not seek the same order again, and he had no right of appeal. It would have been months to a year before his matter would be heard.

¹⁶For example, the purpose of section 8 of the Charter is to prevent unjustified searches or seizures (see: R. v. Dyment in relation to disjunctive nature of the same) before they happen.

¹⁷The Applicant will be bringing a motion after receipt of the file number from the HRTO for an expedited proceedings with specifics for truncated and abridged timelines. The Applicant has provided the further particulars involving the various officers, constables and sergeant at the Appendices.¹⁷

¹⁹“condominium management provider” means a corporation, partnership, sole proprietor, association or other organization or entity that, on behalf of others and for compensation or reward or the expectation of such, provides condominium management services or holds himself, herself or itself out as such (see: Condominium Management Services Act, 2015, SO 2015, c 28, Sch 2, s 1, <https://canlii.ca/t/8zdc#sec1>)

²⁰“principal condominium manager” means the principal condominium manager designated under section 49 (see: Condominium Management Services Act, 2015, SO 2015, c 28, Sch 2, s 1, <<https://canlii.ca/t/8zdc#sec1>>, retrieved on 2024-10-09)

²¹“condominium manager” means an individual who has the prescribed qualifications to be licensed as a condominium manager under this Act and who provides condominium management services to,

(a) a client on behalf of a condominium management provider, or

(b) a client directly, if authorized by a regulation made for the purposes of subsection 51 (3)

²²Purchased new washer and dryer for Unit 410. Paid for thousands of dollars of repairs. Applicant purchased new patio sets, planters, shower heads, Dyson products, vacuums, etc.

²³It seems a little coincidental or prophetic with the benefit of hindsight but that would oversimplify issues that require analytical precision and not “black and white thinking” or using heuristics or analytics to come to some conclusions. The Applicant has confirmed under oath and will confirm herein again that he has not set foot on the property of the Minto Complex out of pure fear from the Goldview Threat and Goldview Extortion.

²⁴For objectivity purposes, this is not to say that these officers are “bad people” or of “poor character” but the facts herein are certainly ones that do not portray them at their peak. Moreover, the Applicant does not deny that he and the TPS’ employees were able to allow emotions to be locked-in and have more professional dialogue. However, the Applicant should have never been in that position at first instance. It is for that reason that empathy and sympathy are somewhat in order and why the Applicant has proceeded with this route with HRTO, where there is a quasi-implied undertaking along with the ability of certain individuals to seek anonymization orders if they wish.

³⁴Sharpe, Pepall and van Rensburg JJ.A. for the ONCA in 2017: [38] The trial judge observed, at para. 368, that it was difficult to fix a reasonable amount for the damages Ms. Stack and her family had suffered. He found that the effect on Ms. Stack had been “severe”, that her life had been “irretrievably altered” and he was satisfied by the evidence of Dr. Silver “that it is unlikely that she will ever be the same as she was before these incidents”. The ONCA in Nissen, citing Young, found as follows, “[45] The trial judge was faced with what he properly recognized to be a difficult task. On the evidence, he found that Ms. Stack had suffered a severe psychological injury that had radically affected her outlook and enjoyment of life. Her friends and her family testified that she was a different person since the injury, and she presented unchallenged expert evidence that she had suffered from post-traumatic stress disorder that was difficult to treat and likely to be permanent. While I view the damages awarded by the trial judge to be very generous, I am not persuaded that his reasons reveal any error of law or principle that would justify appellate intervention.”

³⁵R. v. Bohn, 2000 BCCA 239 (CanLII), at para 5, <<https://canlii.ca/t/533x#par5>>, retrieved on 2024-10-29

³⁶McLean asked for a copy of the warrant with Constable Romano but was not given one at the time or thereafter in the 14th Division or after via email (see: Declaration #1)

³⁷Herein, there is no dispute that McLean asked for one and was not provided with one. When he queried Constable Romano again, after querying DCK about the Fictitious Warning, Constable Romano said words to the effects, “Do you want to get out of here and get on with this?” Thereafter, Mr. McLean took the self-preservation mode and “yes sir, no sir” type approach due to his intense traumas with unjustified interventions by authorities (see: Declaration #1).

³⁸To the extent that Constable Romano contradicted him, he would be committing perjury (see: Declaration #1, declaration on belief citing the source)

⁴⁰A justice of the peace in Ontario is a judicial officer appointed pursuant to the Justices of the Peace Act, R.S.O. 1990, C. J.4. This Act affirms that a justice of the peace has judicial jurisdiction throughout Ontario and creates a framework under which justices of the peace are appointed and hold office, and also provides for the conditions under which they perform their duties. There are over 325 justices of the peace in Ontario that are assigned to and perform judicial responsibilities. Both provincial court judges and justices of the peace compose the Ontario Court of Justice, one of Ontario’s two trial courts.

The judicial functions, powers and duties of a justice of the peace are set out in legislation and case law. Two of the more important legislative Acts which confer jurisdiction upon a justice of the peace are the Criminal Code and the Ontario Provincial Offences Act, but there are many other federal and provincial statutes and regulations that empower justices of the peace with legal authority and/or jurisdiction. Primarily, the two main areas of jurisdiction are criminal law and regulatory law (provincial offences).

Respecting criminal law, justices of the peace preside over virtually all judicial interim release (bail) hearings in the province and the majority of criminal remand courts. They also preside over other criminal hearings. They receive informations (the document which commences a criminal proceeding), confirm or consider the issuance of process by either a summons or a warrant and are responsible for receiving and considering the denial or issuance of search warrants and other matters of criminal process.

Justices of the peace exercise jurisdiction over the majority of provincial regulatory offences and municipal by-law prosecutions. As in criminal proceedings, justices of the peace receive informations and warrant applications, consider the issuance of process and preside at hearings and trials.

On appointment, a justice of the peace must cease other employment and refrain from any political activity. The Justices of the Peace Act states that a justice of the peace shall not engage in any other remunerative work without the approval of the Justices of the Peace Review Council.

Justices of the peace in Ontario must retire upon attaining the age of 65 years but may continue in office until attaining the age of 75 years, subject to the annual approval of the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice.

TO BE FILED IN THE TRIBUNALS ONTARIO (LAT/AABS) PORTAL

Re: my notice to SNIC, TDGIC and TDHA that I will be bringing a motion pursuant to subsection 21.1 of the SPPA

Re #2: residual – abundance of caution

Dear LAT Registrar:

1. I write regarding the above and for notice purposes.
2. I write to confirm that I inspected the metadata of the "reasons for decision" of now Vice-Chair Morrisette. I extend my congratulations to her on her ascent at LAT. I copy and paste the same to this email at "Appendix #1". From what we have gleaned, Ms. Zukowski, is a "Senior Project Manager, Team Lead at the Ministry of the Attorney General". For ease of reference, I have defined Vice Chair Morrisette as "VCM" at various parts herein.
3. It is unclear how the decision is dated September 6, 2024, when it was delivered to myself and counsel to SNIC at 11:12 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024. This is consistent with when the document was created (see: 11:09:06 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024) and last modified before its delivery (see: 11:09:56 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024).
4. I submit with the greatest respect that not having the date of a "reasons for decision" is an error that needs correction considering its impact on timelines in the LAT Rules.
5. I was particularly concerned with the tone in the Reasons For Decision and some of the attacks and implications of language used by Vice-Chair Morrisette therein. I had it reviewed by external and experienced lawyers and they agreed with me. Vice Chair Morrisette appears to have some level of dislike towards me.
6. Additionally, she is referencing the accommodation towards me and my unfamiliarity with the process. I have certainly had some learning but I have been compliant with the forms to use, the LAT Rules, usage of indices, tabulations, consecutive numbering et al. With great respect, it was not I that had the incorrect party in the initial decision of Vice Chair Lake when my motions #1 to #3 all referenced "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company)". How that became "TD General Insurance Company" remains beyond me. I sought the amendment of TDGIC to SNIC in my NOM #4 yet Vice Chair Lake issued an order and reasons for decision that she declined to decide. Even at that time, the law was unequivocally clear that TDGIC was not a separate entity from SNIC. I need not be repetitious. However, if TDGIC did not oppose it from January 2024 until June 2024, time could have been better allocated. I am reviewing the provisions of the SPPA on validity of the case conference as that is noted in Vice Chair Morrisette's order. Of course, only parties can be compelled to case conferences and pre-hearing conferences. By Vice Chair Morrisette's granting of my NOM #8, her order was retroactive effect on all orders issued by the Tribunal. That being said, the case conference did not have SNIC on the record per se.

7. In this regard, Vice-Chair Morrisette stated at part in paragraph 18 which I am paraphrasing that I did not make any document demands upon SNIC when SNIC was not the party. I kindly direct Vice Chair Morrisette and the Tribunal to my case conference form submitted and signed which remained consistent. I do not know what production deadlines she is referring to therein. It remains unclear. The case law shows production requests being made after case conferences on a regular occasion. SNIC did not submit a case conference brief so it is unclear how I am being held responsible for the same and deprived of documents or things from a non-party. Vice Chair Morrisette went further in saying that Mr. Nieuwland, on behalf of TDGIC, consented to NOM #8. To be objective and precise, Mr. Nieuwland's language on June 6, 2024, was that TDGIC did not oppose. Not opposing and consenting are different in law. Consent to a motion, with approval from the decision maker, results in a consent order. A consent order is a contract and can only be set aside on the traditional grounds of: (i) duress; (ii) misrepresentation; (iii) mistake; (iv) absence of consent; (v) non est factum; and (iv) others. Not opposing the wishes of another is not the same as consenting to such intended conduct.

8. As Adjudicator Morrisette, as she then was, is aware I sought corrections and amendments in her "reasons for decision" of her granting of my NOM #8 order with language that was imprecise including the above. For example, Adj. Morrisette, as she then was, was not as analytically precise as one would expect when she referenced Mr. Nieuwland filing a Response (capitals were hers). It was TDGIC that filed responses to my motions when it had no legal right to be a party. TDGIC never filed a Response (as defined under the LAT Rules). It was a crucial distinction that was required and the Appellant thanked Adjudicator Morrisette for her clarification of what she was intending.

9. That being said, of particular concern with the September 6, 2024, incorrect date for her "reasons for decision" was that on that date I had tendered a privacy request with MAG and paid the requisite funds for the processing of the funds to the Minister of Finance (MAG). It was not an easy process with my impairments and considering Tribunals Ontario has been closed for some time. I had to liaise with the most accommodating Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP") constables or officers at the building adjacent to the right (West) of Tribunals Ontario to find the correct individual to receive the same. After some time, we were able to find said individual and the funds were provided along with the FOIPPA request. While I will not go into details of my FOIPPA request, it was, in part, because it was represented to me by LAT in late July 2024 that my NOM #13 would be heard in due course.

10. I was not receiving any responses at all to my queries. I appreciate Mr. Grant was away for a period of time in July 2024 and I noted the female case manager (name escapes me currently and reference to female was the "she/her" reference and to distinguish her from Mr. Grant who was away) who confirmed that my NOM #13 was received in compliant fashion and referenced "due course".

11. Vice Chair Morrisette was correct that Mr. Gant was prompt to notify me that LAT believed that there was an issue with the page length of my submissions when they were six pages double spaced. I confirm that they were on multiple occasions and that was the cessation of that conversation. I note that this happened with Mr. Nieuwland as well. To ensure that is not an issue moving forward, I will ensure that only the body of my submissions are numbered and not the initial pages containing the LAT file number, style of cause, contact information et al^[ii].

12. Returning to NOM #13, I was required to make demands upon the Non-Party TDGIC and I did so. I did not receive any response.

13. I followed up regarding NOM #13 on Wednesday, September 11, 2024 as it was exactly two months since I had served TDGIC at its office represented by the Tribunal, without objection from TDGIC, as 9th floor-3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario.

14. On Thursday, September 12, 2024, I and SNIC then received a motion scheduling order for NOM #16. Nothing was received regarding NOM #13. I did not seek consolidation of NOM #13 with NOM #14 and NOM #15. It is unclear why that was done considering it was only NOM #13 that had the representation attached to it that it was attached in due course. However, the statutory requirements denoted below are distinct from the exercise of discretion to consolidate hearings. I still say, pursuant to section notice of each hearing was required in consolidated form or by distinction.

15. It is trite that NOM #13 involved TDGIC alone. NOM #14 and NOM #15 involved SNIC and TDHA.

16. It is further unoriginal that I sought that NOM #13 was to be heard on a written hearing.

No Notice of Three Hearings in One by Vice Chair Morrisette ^[iii]

17. There appears to be an issue that has been drawn to my attention regarding Vice Chair Lake and Vice Chair Morrisette engaging in issuing orders and reasons for decision without notice of hearing.

LAT Rule 15.3: Responding and Reply Submissions

18. I appreciate that the LAT Rules have a provision that states the following:

“Before a motion is granted, the Tribunal may provide the responding parties with the opportunity to make submissions. The Tribunal may also provide the moving party with the opportunity to make reply submissions.”

19. I am not certain that is allowable under the SPPA. If the splicing therein is that the responding party has received notice of the hearing by way of date, purpose and manner of format but there is no statutory right to file submissions and the Tribunal has ordered that only affidavit evidence (or documents and not “submissions” per se) is required from the responding party. If that is what is meant by the erudite minds who drafted the LAT Rules, effective August 2023, then I can see the logic.

20. If it is a proper and intra vires exercise of delegated statutory rule making authority under another statute, I will have to review the same.

21. However, if it is, it has been pointed out to me that the following sections of the SPPA state the following:

“ Section 1, “Definitions”

“hearing” means a hearing in any proceeding;

Notice of hearing

6 (1) The parties to a proceeding shall be given reasonable notice of the hearing by the tribunal. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 6 (1).

Statutory authority

(2) A notice of a hearing shall include a reference to the statutory authority under which the hearing will be held.

Written hearing

(4) A notice of a written hearing SHALL include,

(a) a statement of the date and purpose of the hearing, and details about the manner in which the hearing will be held;

(b) a statement that the hearing shall not be held as a written hearing if the party satisfies the tribunal that there is good reason for not holding a written hearing (in which case the tribunal is required to hold it as an electronic or oral hearing) and an indication of the procedure to be followed for that purpose;

(c) a statement that if the party notified neither acts under clause (b) nor participates in the hearing in accordance with the notice, the tribunal may proceed without the party’s participation and the party will not be entitled to any further notice in the proceeding. 1994, c. 27, s. 56 (13); 1997, c. 23, s. 13 (13); 1999, c. 12, Sched. B, s. 16 (5).

Effect of non-attendance at hearing after due notice

Same, written hearings

(2) Where notice of a written hearing has been given to a party to a proceeding in accordance with this Act and the party neither acts under clause 6 (4) (b) nor participates ^[iv] in the hearing in accordance with the notice, the tribunal may proceed without the party’s participation and the party is not entitled to any further notice in the proceeding.”

Application of the above to the facts

22. The above language is unambiguous in that parties are entitled to notice of a hearing with the time, date, place and purpose of the hearing. Further, the manner in which a hearing is to be held is provided to the parties. It is not flung upon them particularly when a party has followed up and informed that it will be heard in “due course”. In order for the hearing to be heard, notice is required. It may be short notice or lengthier notice. Certainly, then a party may object to the same and bring a motion to have a shorter or lengthier notice than the ordered notice period.

23. Moreover, the statutorily required notice, by way of document in most scenarios, provides a responding party the opportunity to provide “good reason” why a written hearing should be held as an oral hearing. Without a notice document issued from the Tribunal, how does a responding party do so? Of course, in that hypothetical measured against my proposal for written hearings, that would have been opposed. However, this is not a matter of my interests per se but the requirements under statute. As a creature of statute, LAT cannot deviate from those obligatory requirements.

24. Whether a responding party is entitled or NOT entitled to make submissions, there is no conceivable way, as a matter of administrative law but particularly section 6 of the SPPA, that a respondent party is not entitled to notice of the hearing. As noted in some of my earlier authorities like JV Raleigh Holdings Ltd. v. OSC and others, if a party receives notice of a hearing and does not attend a hearing, the remainder of the proceeding (whether a LAT, privacy, ONLRB or others) may be conducted in absentia of that duly notified but non-participating party.

25. I will have to review the law further in this manner to consider the impact of VCM's decision absent a notice of hearing being provided which is all the more confusing considering that NOM #16 had a notice motion hearing scheduling date issued the day before.

26. NOM #8 is a perfect example of the statutorily required compliance with the SPPA from a notice standpoint. On June 5, 2024, the Tribunal issued a notice of hearing for it to be heard on June 21, 2024. Between that time, I arranged for the payment and procedural efforts to obtain the independent status certificates for SNIC and TDGIC. I agreed with the FSRA that I would pay for expedited delivery of the same. The FSRA was able to do so, with great appreciation to it, and I obtained the same a few days before the hearing of NOM #8 and included them in the record of proceeding. During that time, Mr. Nieuwland for TDGIC, and credit to him for being responsive, on June 6, 2024, confirmed TDGIC did not oppose.

27. Whether it is this LAT proceeding or any other proceeding, any respondent (insurer or insured) has the right to notice of a hearing and to consider how it wishes to participate or not participate. Obviously, Mr. Nieuwland with his vast experience knew that not saying anything could be viewed as non-participation so he provided that confirmation of non-opposition on behalf of TDGIC. Parenthetically, this is yet another reason (not the "sole reason") why TDGIC had to be removed and SNIC in its role as a party after being the sole insurance company to file a Response pursuant to the LAT Rules. In this example, SNIC was not a party so it was NOT entitled to notice under the SPPA. The Legislature was unequivocal in its language that notice entitlement only applies to parties.

28. Even the LAT Rules acknowledge the same, at least tacitly, in Rule 9.2.2 where it was inclusive and intentional with language of the extension of the right to a non-party to make submissions before an order is granted.

29. I note the following language which I know copy and paste:

"Before an order is granted by the Tribunal, the non-party will have an opportunity to make submissions as set out in the notice of motion hearing."

30. As I was reading the same and then dictating, an epiphany arose. TDGIC was and is a non-party, and the Tribunal did not follow its own rule.

31. The language of "will" is used under Rule 9.2.2 yet "may" is used in Rule 15.3. Even if different hearings are consolidated, which is somewhat troubling considering a Rule 9.2.2. motion being distinct from other types of motions, with non-parties and the Respondent Party, the non-party will have the opportunity to make submissions, which is a guaranteed right of the non-party by the LAT Rule 9.2.2., and the responding party will, as a matter of statutory right be entitled to notice of the hearings (even if one rule does not afford it with the right to make submissions (i.e. Rule 9.2.2. entitles the Respondent Party to receipt of the motion materials as the moving party must serve the Respondent Party and the Non-Party)).

32. I am deeply concerned about some of the revisionist history in the above. Much of the “reasons for decision” of Vice Chair Morrisette are inconsistent with the record of proceeding. At this stage, there is no eraser that can be used for that which has been filed with “permanent ink” and that I have stored in three separate cloud storages and hard copies into binders.

33. It appears that VCM has also conflated the distinction between Motion Submissions and Costs Submissions. I was clear in my Costs Submissions, which are not motions unto themselves, are not constrained by the limits under Rule 15. It is very disquieting that there is ostensible conflation of the two; the hearing record index or indices are unequivocal into the distinction between Motion Submissions and Costs Submissions which are in separate tabs.

34. There is a reference to the “sole reason” required, as a matter of law, change of name from TDGIC to SNIC is because that I requested it and obtained consent (from whom is unclear in this VCM decision). That is patently false. The reason was as a matter of law it was required to be amended. The second reason was SNIC filed and served a Response and TDGIC did not. The third reason was the FSRA informed me they were not one and the same. The fourth reason was that the FSRA confirmed if I paid fees for status certificates that it would provide current evidence that they were not one and the same. The fifth reason was that TDGIC never sought to be added as a party but somehow took over from SNIC when the Consent Email Communication Protocol between myself and SNIC, as Mr. Karat as ADR specialist for SNIC,

35. As it relates to NOM #16, I will file my reply by the end of the business day on Monday, September 30, 2024.

36. However, in light of the above, without getting into any substantive positions on potential reconsideration and/or future judicial review and/or appeal, pursuant to LATA, Vice Chair Morrisette’s decision commences with the incorrect date which is then followed with a litany of errors that must be corrected and amended to reflect the actualities and facts of the record of proceeding.

37. The reason for the same is that of the likes of Rule 18 “Reconsideration” which uses the words of “date of the decision”.

38. Lastly, and these are the most troubling aspects of the VCM Decision which are from paragraphs 22 to 28. It is quite the finding about “inconsistency” directed towards me. In any event, I note some of the following:

a. Paragraph 22: I did not refer to TD SNIC after the filing of the “Response” but it was in my pre-appeal affidavits and in the Appeal itself. Simply put, there was not enough room to put “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company);

i. In motions #1 to #3, the Respondent is so titled as “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company) which VCM has somehow skipped;

1. The change to TDGIC was by Vice-Chair Lake in mid-January 2024;

b. Paragraph 23: for the same reasons above is incorrect and must be corrected;

c. Paragraph 24 to 26: the Motion Submissions and NOM #14 could not have been clearer in that TDHA was the First Insurer, by overwhelming and independent public evidence. SNIC only remains as per costs which is oddly consistent with the VCM decision herein;

d. Paragraph 27: again, the pleadings themselves demonstrate that the insurance policy was not mine per se so that must be corrected.

i. However, it is the language as follows: “The initial respondent, TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC, accepted priority over the applicant’s [sic] policy”.

1. For precision purposes, VCM found at paragraph 23, “At some point between the filing of the respondent’s counsel’s DoR on January 30, 2023, and

February 19, 2024, the Respondent's IDENTITY was administratively changed by the Tribunal from SNIC to TDGIC."

- a. This would in turn mean that SNIC was the initial respondent if the administrative change occurred at some unknown time between January 30, 2024 to February 19, 2024;
- b. Inconsistent with subpart "a", the above language in paragraph 27 refers to TDGIC as the "initial respondent" but that would make TDGIC the second respondent due to the administrative change.

- i. As such, these corrections must be made due to being factually incorrect but it cannot be a fact (not a legal issue) that two insurance companies accepted priority over the "applicant's [sic] policy". I do not know what it means to accept priority over an insurance policy. An insurance company may accept priority, pursuant to Reg 283, over an automotive claim pursuant to a Completed Application being "initially" or "first received" by said insurance company (nota bene: receipt can be mail or fax – not email).

- ii. This obviously lends support that TDHA was the First Insurer as the name of TDGIC only surfaced at the Tribunal and never by me. Moreover, TDGIC's fax was 416.774.3629 and the fax number provided by SNIC was not its fax and not even where its office was located then or now, to the Appellant (then in his capacity as a "Claimant" (unless that definition is referred to under the LSO By-Laws as "claimant" is not included in an individual who has CAT Impairment – as paralegals cannot act for an individual who may have a CAT impairment claim or where such issues are included or added in a LAT AABS proceeding) of 416.774.3120. We know that SNIC was not located at VP Building (North York) 4th Floor so TDHA was the First Insurer by its receipt of my Completed Application on October 13, 2022.

39. With that segue (and although my usage of TD Insurance was with TD SNIC for definitions from October 2023 and onwards and in motions #1 to #3 listed the "Respondent" as "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company)), I note Mr. Grant's comments, with great thanks, that provide insight into how he, as an experienced case manager, viewed the same as "TD Insurance" between "TDGIC" and "TDHA". While I never indicated "TD General Insurance Company" and technically speaking if the words start with "TD Insurance" then "Meloche Monnex" can follow with "SNIC" or "Primum" as underwriters for their insurance programs but the same cannot be said of "TDHA" or "TDGIC".

40. For ease of reference and by way of impetus – said decision of VCM, Mr. Grant represented the following on May 6, 2024:

Hello,

Further to the correspondence below in the above-referenced matter, the documents naming TD Insurance as the Respondent in this dispute are the Application (the “Insurance Company Information” listed is “TD Insurance”) and the copies of claim denial letters from TD Insurance which were filed. Accordingly, as the information did not indicate “TD Home and Auto” which is the other, separate, ‘insurance company in our system, TD General Insurance company was named as a party on the file

Furthermore, various TD insurance companies (including TD General, TD Home and Auto, and Security National) as parties on AABS files are all communicated with via “TDI ADR” at TDIADR@tdinsurance.com .

I see that the Insurer’s Response form listed “Security National Insurance Company” as the party but the Respondent’s Counsel’s Declaration of Representative form listed “TD General Insurance Company” as the party.

If there is a concern that Security National Insurance Company, not TD General Insurance Company, is named as the Respondent party on the file, please advise if the parties agree that change should be made.

Thank you,

Josh Grant

41. I have just noticed that Mr. Grant refers to the denial letters as “TD Insurance” which had the “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex” (SNIC). Mr. Grant made that request of me on or around January 8, 2024, but I will check the exact date. The denial letters have SNIC at the “Markham address” and the Burlington address (albeit without a floor). Mr. Grant had it right the first time that the administrative denotation was done before Vice Chair Lake’s decision on January 16, 2024, (note: I will check the exact date). My style of cause in each motion makes NO reference to TD General Insurance Company. TDGIC is not part of the “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex” programs as would be well-known to the Tribunal. Vice Chair Lake overrode my style of cause with TD General Insurance Company.

42. I have been detailed herein so that the Tribunal and the relevant persons have notice as to which will follow. Moreover, it will make my submissions ultra-brief which will be six pages double spaced as per previous filings. I will append the above and attachments to an affidavit.

43. In conclusion, with great respect as I appreciate that the LAT runs a very sophisticated operation, but I am beyond alarmed that VCM, with the benefit of a well-accomplished senior project manager in Ms. Zukowki, that there is a reference to “at some point” between a 20 or 21 day period that the “Respondent’s IDENTITY” was changed. How would the Tribunal not know the date when it was changed? This must be a matter of record. I will now attend to the motion, affidavit, and service of a very brief hearing record along with a FOIPPA request so we are not guessing.

44. I confirm, out of an abundance of caution, that I will be seeking reconsideration of the decision that if decided in my favour would have finally disposed of the appeal (i.e. a final decision and not an interlocutory decision like NOM #13) but with respect to timing, it would have been 21 days from September 13, 2024 (not the date of September 6, 2024). However, we will need the benefit of a decision on the corrections and amendments of errors, calculation errors (potentially if known) and similar errors before this VCM decision is correct in its entirety. Of course, this does not guarantee that the Tribunal will agree with every proposed amendment but I will outline the same and not speculate. However, if I may be so bold and audacious, there will have to be some corrections and amendments of some of the above, even by additional language in sentences, to provide some context.

45. For ease of reference, I have attached the denial letters that I filed which Mr. Grant confirms in his email above.

46. I also thank the Tribunal for providing SNIC's correct address of SNIC Burlington (the inclusion of the 5th floor by the Tribunal while SNIC failed to do so in its denial letters of which you will find some in the attachment(s)). This makes logical sense because I have confirmed independently that Primmum is located in the same building and it is the other distinct insurer under the trade name by way of two combined trademarks of TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (nota bene: (i) TD Insurance licensed by The TD Bank; and (ii) Meloche Monnex licensed by Meloche Monnex Inc. (not to be confused with Meloche Monnex Financial Services Inc.)).

47. As I trust the Tribunal is aware of the importance of my rehab from my impairments and my surgery in the USA, I will notify said clinic that I will need a little more time to address these issues and have certainty and clarity with my schedule so I can be slotted in at the appropriate, yet earlier, time. I also note that all of the above is not only integral and crucial for this LAT proceeding but also prior to and outside of the same, and after its conclusion. In my humble view, addresses, insurer names and facsimile numbers are not only important but they must be precise. Certainly, the LGIC thought so in 2010 when it amended Reg 283. Moreover, our Parliament certainly thinks so and has engaged in demonstrating the importance of the same by amendments to PIPEDA.

48. Thank you all and I trust that this will provide the necessary courtesy notice in advance of receipt of the above. My best to all over the weekend,

November 15, 2024

Dear LAT Registrar and case manager (Ms. Lee) (copied to SNIC, TDGIC and TDHA):

As promised, I filed and paid for a judicial review seeking the various heads of relief therein. I attach an unfiled copy for your ease of reference.

As TDHA, SNIC and TDGIC did not file any responsive materials relating to the motions and substantive orders sought therein, I confirm that they have no right to file responsive materials to the JRPA Application and the Factum (to be filed). Whether the Attorney General of Ontario and other government bodies therein do so will be determined.

I confirm that in light of a judicial review filing not staying the underlying matter, not only do the outstanding motions (outside of NOM #16) need to be decided but I will need to hear from the Tribunal on whether it will decide the NOM #16 and then whether Vice Chair Lake will then amend her reconsideration decision or decline to exercise her jurisdiction. It is then and only then that the 30-day time period could conceivably start.

I appreciate the language, likely more than anyone with section 21.1 of the SPPA, and that it is a "may". I will note therein that I am also preparing the argument (factum) about whether certain LAT Rules are ultra vires the Licence Appeal Tribunal. In that regard, I am referring to, inter alia, the provisions that appear to grant the LAT the power to not provide notice to the opposing party and decide without requesting submissions from the other party. Obviously, NOM #13 is so intertwined with NOM #14 and #15 that not providing the non-party (TDGIC) the opportunity to file responsive submissions was a breach of the specific LAT Rule in that regard. I do not say that the LAT Rule is ultra vires the LAT. I do say that to the extent that the LAT Rules authorize a Tribunal to decide hearings without notice to the opposing party, it is a ultra vires the LAT because the SPPA requires notice to the other side to at least determine whether or not it (he or she) wishes to provide any responsive materials.

I also intend to raise the issue of Vice Chair Morrisette's references to me causing "strain" on the Tribunal. I say that is somewhat offensive and at least discriminatory or unfair to me.

In any event, I trust that the Tribunal will issue its decision (whether substantive reasons for decision or a declination of jurisdiction) some time next week.

I will serve the AGO with a copy of the unfiled JRPA Application and whether the ultra vires issues require an NOCQ will be determined in short order.

As I and one of my service providers received a letter in August 2024 that no insurance company in the TD Insurance Group ("TDI") had any record of my file. As such, this bolsters the lack of any necessity to hear from TDHA, SNIC or TDGIC.

In any event, I do not see any need for a case conference but urgency remains. To confirm, to the extent that Vice Chair Lake's findings are correct, although I had already raised the conflict of interest issue with the Tribunal involving her so it was surprising to see her name resurface, then all the more reason for VCM to issue her reasons for decision or confirm that she is declining to exercise her discretion.

As there has been an accusation that I somehow set arbitrary deadlines, when I have a right of access to justice considering the unprecedented facts involving three insurance companies in the TDI, I will await a response from the Tribunal regarding NOM #16 while continuing to advance all matters accordingly.

Lastly, there continues to be the view that the case conference was valid. I thought that I was clear in many regards, and perhaps I need to articulate it better, that the case conference was a nullity and void ab initio as only parties could attend case conferences. While the VCM order and reasons for decisions regarding my NOM #8 correctly amended the style of cause to the only respondent that filed a Response after I delivered the Application under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act to the fax number of 416.774.3120 on December 24, 2023, neither SNIC nor TDHA filed a case conference brief. As such, the failure to do so will require the attention of the First Insurer.

I await to hear from the Tribunal.

A copy of this email and the true copy of the filed and paid, yet without stamp, JRPA Application will be filed in the Efiling Portal.

Thank you for your attention to these matters (where applicable).

Yours truly,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM) (he/him)

Direct Attention: The Honourable Deputy Attorney General, Mr. David Corbet

Copied to: The Honourable Attorney General, Mr. Doug Downey

SUBJECT I: FORMAL DISQUISITION ON THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTION BY THE DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL (“DAG”) FOR RECORDS DISPOSITION UNDER COURTS OF JUSTICE ACT, SECTION 74

SUBJECT II: THE CONSTITUTIONAL SINE QUA NON OF TRANSPARENCY PERTAINING TO THE SIGNED CRIMINAL CODE FORM 4 INDICTMENT, THE SIGNED ARREST WARRANT AND THE FALSUS IN UNO, FALSUS IN OMNIBUS NATURE OF THE INITIAL COURT RECORD (THE “SUBJECTS”)

Dear Deputy Attorney General Corbett,

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein. The absence of foundational judicial records in my case is not merely an administrative oversight; it represents a crisis in the constitutional integrity of the justice system, threatening the core principle of judicial accountability.

As we you have received my emails vis-a-vis including on another matter, it is a pleasure to directly extend my gratitude for your consideration of the same. As you may know from my approach, I avoid speculation in favour of diligent investigation.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence (the “Prior Correspondence”).

Nothing shall be construed herein as a “quid pro quo” but simply a respectful demand and request.

This document represents an exigent and indispensable demand for definitive clarity regarding the administrative management and ultimate disposition of official court records under your statutory authority. I am specifically requesting your unequivocal confirmation or denial as to whether your office, in its capacity as the Deputy Attorney General, has issued any directions to destroy or dispose of court documents and other materials involving myself, Mr. Kevin A. McLean, pursuant to the mandatory authority stipulated in Section 74 of the Courts of Justice Act (“CJA”). This highly specific disquisition is necessitated by the fact that foundational, originating records pertaining to two distinct legal matters have been rendered inaccessible, or indeed, non-existent, within the official court files.

My constitutional and professional obligation to various overseeing and regulatory entities, including the Canadian Judicial Council (“CJC”), necessitates a demonstration of transparent, honest, and good-faith conduct in establishing the true historical record of these legal processes. The satisfactory resolution of the questions herein—which bear directly upon the integrity of the judicial record and the efficacy of the Open Court Principle (the principle, established in A.G. (N.S.) v. MacIntyre, that all judicial proceedings should be open to the public)—is a sine qua non for maintaining public confidence in the administration of justice within this Province. The absence of a clear paper trail confirming the fate of critical documentation, such as the initial charging instrument and the arrest warrant, effectively immunizes administrative misconduct from judicial review and public scrutiny, which is utterly repugnant to the tenets of Canadian democracy.

I. The Lex Specialis of Records Disposition and the Courts of Justice Act s. 74 Mandate: The Threat to Separation of Powers

My request is precisely predicated upon the statutory framework governing the custodial lifecycle and ultimate disposition of court materials, namely Section 74 of the CJA, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, s. 74, which addresses the most permanent form of record removal or transfer:

Destruction of documents

74 Documents and other materials that are no longer required in a court office shall be disposed of in accordance with the directions of the Deputy Attorney General, subject to the approval of,

- (a) in the Court of Appeal, the Chief Justice of Ontario;
- (b) in the Superior Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice;
- (c) in the Ontario Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice.

This provision meticulously establishes a critical mechanism of constitutional oversight: the Executive Branch (your esteemed office) issues the direction for administrative disposal (which necessarily encompasses destruction or permanent off-site transfer), but this executive action remains contingent upon the explicit approval of the Judicial Branch (the respective Chief Justice). The preservation of this separation of powers demands the utmost transparency regarding such directions. The term "disposed of" must be interpreted expansively to cover any action that removes the material from the active court office's custody and control, thereby making it inaccessible to ordinary discovery processes. Any unauthorized destruction or un-documented removal of official records, which should be protected by the court's custody and control, represents an ultra vires administrative act that undermines the judicial process itself. The public, and I as a litigant, have a constitutional right to know if the executive action of records disposal was the reason for the documentary void now existing in the court file.

Given your acknowledged, comprehensive purview over court management and operations—a strategic role that I have referenced in reviewing your public disquisitions on court administration (Enclosure 4)—your office is the only executive entity authorized to issue the direction that formally initiates this statutory process.

The urgency for this clarification is compounded by the undeniable, admitted, and documented existence of a demonstrably False Information Package ("FIP") that was filed in the Ontario Court of Justice ("OCJ"), 10 Armoury Street Courthouse. This FIP, a critical originating document, possesses multiple categories of fundamental errors, as meticulously detailed in the supporting documentation (Enclosure 2, referencing the GrapeCity metadata analysis). The Ministry of the Attorney General ("MAG"), via its lawyer licensee (Mr. Sinnadurai, in Enclosures 3), has already formally conceded that this FIP was false in multiple critical respects, and crucially, that no such Criminal Code Form 2 Information was ever properly filed in the OCJ.

This formal concession regarding the OCJ records serves to effectively dissolve the prima facie jurisdiction of the Ontario Court of Justice as a court of competent jurisdiction for the serious criminal process initiated against me. This deduction logically restricts the potential legitimate judicial officer involvement to a Judge of the Superior Court of Criminal Jurisdiction, which involves a judge of the Superior Court of Justice ("SCJ"). This jurisdictional vacuum compels a finding that the only legitimate court file would have been generated at the SCJ level. This analysis directly and inexorably implicates the approval requirement of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice under s. 74(b), in the exigent contingency of record destruction or disposal. The resulting disappearance of fundamental records must, through this legal syllogism, be attributable to an SCJ records disposition direction emanating from your office, or else the disappearance must be characterized as an act of administrative spoilage of evidence.

II. The Quid Pro Quo of Records Integrity: Archives Paradox and Indictment Authority

The conundrum regarding the FIP's falsity and the non-availability of responsive court records leads directly to an operational and legal paradox concerning the Archives of Ontario ("AO"). This paradox necessitates a detailed explanation for the preservation of auxiliary records outside the official court channel.

It has come to my attention that the Archives of Ontario ("AO") is in custody and control of copies of certain auxiliary records relevant to these matters. Crucially, these copies were ostensibly placed there by an organization or person that is not a named MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution. This creates a critical informational discontinuity: if the originating court offices (SCJ or OCJ) maintain they possess no responsive records, the only plausible official explanation is that the official court file records were formally disposed of under your s. 74 directions. If the official court record was thus removed, yet relevant records persist in the AO via a non-court entity, it necessitates an immediate and comprehensive explanation. This situation suggests either an unprecedented failure in records management or the existence of a non-transparent parallel record-keeping mechanism outside the prescribed statutory framework. The meticulous comparison between the records held by the AO and the official court file destruction documentation is an absolute imperative in confirming the administrative fidelity of the court's processes and the completeness of the judicial history.

This administrative conflict simultaneously intertwines with the execution of the Indictment. We had a multi-count Indictment, specifically a Criminal Code Form 4. This document must be formally executed by a signing officer or Agent of the Attorney General (an individual under your ministerial purview). The Form 4 Indictment is the formal charging instrument that vests the Superior Court of Justice with subject matter and personal jurisdiction over the accused. Its non-availability renders the subsequent criminal proceedings fundamentally suspect, as the jurisdictional foundation cannot be verified. Your colleague, Mr. Sinnadurai, has previously advised (in Enclosure 3) that courts do not retain signed arrest warrants, suggesting custodial residence with police. This judicial policy position is fundamentally in conflict with the Open Court Principle and the CJC's recognized need for courts to serve as the singular, authoritative source of truth and the complete, chronological record of all proceedings. If the Attorney General's agent executes the Form 4 Indictment, and it is subsequently processed by an SCJ Judge, the subsequent disappearance of that original Form 4 document from the court file remains an institutional lacuna that can only be explained by a formal records disposition direction under CJA s. 74. The integrity of the prosecution itself is undermined when the document creating its legal authority is unilaterally removed from the public record.

III. Procedural Audi Alteram Partem and the Constitutional Weight of Missing Records: The DRD Failure

Your forthright, unambiguous response is an indispensable evidentiary constituent required for my mandatory, good-faith update to the CJC concerning my complaint against The Honourable Madam Justice Shore and other judicial officers.

The documented administrative failures of the SCJ to provide timely access to fundamental court records are directly exacerbating the issues of judicial and institutional accountability. This raises serious Charter implications, specifically concerning the guaranteed right to make full answer and defence (Section 7 of the Charter). The deliberate or negligent denial of access prevents a proper de novo review of the proceedings. The right to make full answer and defence is meaningless if the record of what occurred is inaccessible or, worse, destroyed. Specifically, the SCJ has failed to provide timely access to digital recordings for which I have already remitted the prescribed fees and executed duly signed undertakings. This includes:

- Access to ex parte in camera hearing(s) presumed to have occurred in September 2024 (e.g., around September 16 or 23, 2024), involving myself. SCJ RMO staff have denied the names of other judges but not The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, while simultaneously refusing to confirm a specific date. This type of secret proceeding, if conducted without an adequate official recording, constitutes a severe and egregious violation of procedural fairness and the right to a public hearing.
- Access to a case conference transcript, despite the SCJ having monetarily benefitted from my fee payment. The reported statement by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore that the court "cannot" provide these recordings is either a misleading representation of fact or points to a systemic and alarming breakdown in the Digital Recording Documentation ("DRD") system itself. The latter possibility, which suggests the failure of the court's official recording technology, implies a failure to create the record, which is functionally equivalent to the spoliation of evidence, constituting a separate, profound breach of procedural fairness.

The representation that the ex parte in camera hearing transpired in the "chambers" of the judge—devoid of court staff presence or official DRD recording—is inherently irregular. Chambers hearings are not exempt from the imperative requirement for a judicial record, particularly in matters involving criminal allegations. The absence of a DRD recording strongly implies either an unauthorized, non-compliant recording methodology or, more alarmingly, the deliberate destruction of the recording itself under the rubric of records deemed "no longer required" and subsequently directed for disposal pursuant to Section 74. The res ipsa loquitur conclusion—that the records were destroyed—will be drawn by the CJC in the absence of a direct response from your office. The only way to counter this inference is a full and transparent accounting of any s. 74 direction that would encompass the official DRD files for those dates.

The broader context of these related actions, including necessary steps involving JP Jiri and police accountability, confirms a systemic pattern of accountability deficiencies within the justice system that demand immediate redress. Your disclosure regarding a CJA s. 74 direction is the sole administrative mechanism that can resolve the question of why these records are officially non-existent in the court file and restore the judicial integrity compromised by their absence.

IV. Definitive Demands and the Constitutional Duty of Disclosure

In light of the preceding legal and constitutional disquisition, the exigent deadlines to update the CJC and other counsel (Thursday of this week), and the imminent contingency of involving the Commissioner of the OIPC and the Auditor General to investigate the systemic compliance and financial irregularities inherent in these procedural failures, I reiterate my two primary demands for information. These demands require an administrative resolution that can be placed formally on the judicial record:

1. Directions for Destruction/Disposal (CJA s. 74):

- Did you, as the Deputy Attorney General, provide directions for the destruction or disposal of any court documents or materials pertaining to matters involving Kevin A. McLean pursuant to Section 74 of the Courts of Justice Act? This must include any records related to the FIP, the Indictment, and any arrest or bench warrants.
- If confirmed, kindly provide the particulars of this direction, including the file numbers (for the two distinct matters), the precise description of the documents (e.g., arrest warrant, original FIP, DRD audio file), the relevant court (OCJ, SCJ, or ONCA), the date of the direction, and the date and identity of the approving Chief Justice (as per s. 74(a), (b), or (c)). If you are definitively unaware of such directions, kindly advise me as such, so I can alert the relevant court staff to their potentially misguided responses or outright lack of response.

2. Indictment and Signing Authority (Criminal Code):

- Did you sign a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment as a signing officer or Agent of the Attorney General of Ontario in relation to a multi-count Indictment against Kevin A. McLean?
- If confirmed, kindly provide me with an immediate, certified copy of the signed Form 4 Indictment. The failure of court staff to produce this document makes disclosure from your office, as the originating executive authority, an imperative for the maintenance of the public record.

V. Operational Deficiencies and the Necessity of Ministerial Intervention

The exigency of this request is magnified by the documented and protracted administrative failures to produce the foundational records required for legal recourse. The demand for the signed arrest warrant was properly directed toward law enforcement; however, contrary to the mandatory statutory obligation stipulated in Section 29 of the Criminal Code (“Criminal Code”), no responsive production of the same has been effected. Criminal Code s. 29 mandates that it is the duty of every one who executes a warrant to have it with him and to produce it when requested. The persistent failure of both the Chief of Police (TPS) and the OPP to respond to a demand for the signed arrest warrant constitutes not merely an administrative delay, but a fundamental breach of mandatory public duty under the Criminal Code itself, compounding the initial constitutional injury. The police cannot simply elect to withhold a foundational document of arrest, particularly when the document's existence and veracity are now central to legal challenges regarding jurisdiction.

Moreover, in the course of addressing these deficiencies with the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice (the “Chief Justice of the SCJ”)—communicated via previously confirmed electronic, facsimile, and physical mail channels—I was met with a communication, bearing an inherently threatening and extortionary tenor, which originated from an entity styled as the “Court Services Diversion Management” program.

This is particularly egregious as I have never possessed any connection or involvement with any Diversion Management program. The email, which suggested I was in “legal jeopardy,” when the email itself was extortion, represents an unauthorized administrative intrusion into a substantive communication with the Chief Justice concerning the integrity of court records. This response, while referencing the JSSO at the footer, was not transmitted from an official judicial email server. This incident serves as a locus classicus of the systemic incompetence and misguided administrative intervention that arises when one attempts to seek redress from the judiciary concerning records over which the courts cannot maintain custody and control if they have been subjected to a s. 74 destruction order. This administrative misconduct demonstrates a troubling lack of internal control over communications and official processes at the periphery of the court, justifying the need for ministerial intervention and inquiry.

I appreciate persons are competitive in nature, as I am with my athletic background and I had to be when backed into a corner and a jail cell without the required disclosure of an arrest warrant (which for now obvious reasons was to protect the authorizing judge), but this is not athletics but to lose emotional control like that is another low point for not only the MAG and SOLGEN to the extent it was a joint effort but also reflects poorly on the courts. In my view, it came across as a “How is this guy still standing and let’s threaten him”. It came across as immature and weak and poorly constructed mental gamesmanship when the Constitution and rule of law require the absence of the same. My response was professional and elucidating of the unauthorized author’s lack of intelligence in the field of law. Unfortunately, when so many documents have been crudely manipulated and falsified which I appreciate will be put on the Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas (contractor to the TPS by a court officer) and the non-signature let alone digital signature of JP Jiri but that involves at least with the latter with the DAG because in order for documents to be falsified and filed in another courthouse, other documents and other materials had to be destroyed. This is not to castigate you but to provide you notice of the same because you may have been misled as to why to destroy documents (i.e. the simple test of no longer required).

In my view, I do not view section 74 of the CJA as constitutional but the law is presumed constitutional until rendered the same. The soon to be former regulatory body known currently as the LSBC has learned the same recently.

The Legislature passes the relevant laws and they may be challenged and they do not need any rationale to do so per se as they are elected as The Honourable Mr. Doug Downey knows too well and better than I. That being said, I do not dispute the archival value of a signed indictment and signed arrest warrant but that it may not be needed in a court office any more. I too realize the nuanced nature of a non-Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA placing record with the AO by way of the Archivist being in charge of the same or ultimately responsible.

As you undoubtedly know with my interactions with the MAG, I took 11 years of my life to ensure that the truth came out and prior to that 11 years I was fortunate to have liaised with the AGBC and its counsel and to draw to the attention of that Ministry in BC an unlawful and criminal RAM Dump of my CPUs in my privileged and private law office without disclosure to myself or any admin tribunal or court for that matter. Soon after providing the same, the AGBC moved expeditiously to commence the process of changing how regulation of the practice of law and provision of legal services was governed. What I learned from that experience was that I oddly accomplished more outside of the court process and through FIPPA BC and PIPEDA than the public court process although that was most helpful in moving the needle in the right direction and the LSBC amending some of its rules at the time. I learned with some maturity and reflection that not everything that we change in our society (pardon the pun) needs to be in public litigation but when necessary, it is a must.

With that segue, I extend this courtesy opportunity to take active carriage of remedying the distinct broad and deep breaches of the Open Court Principle along with the failures of MAG in its compliance with the purposes of access to personal information statutes and how the court staff are responding or not responding to the very MAG CSD Guide you created by clarification of any directions for destruction of documents and other materials involving myself.

With that segue, I await your response.

Thank you for your time and the valuable work that you do for the province. I have been careful not to allege and speculate but follow the evidence. I hope that is not lost on you.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM) (he/him)

McMurtry-Scott Bldg, 11th Flr, 720 Bay St Toronto, Ontario M7A 2S9

Subject I: FORMAL DISQUISITION ON THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTION BY THE DEPUTY ATTORNEY GENERAL (“DAG”) FOR RECORDS DISPOSITION UNDER Courts of Justice Act, Section 74 et al (Referencing Previous Correspondence, Enclosure: Nov 8 attachment.pdf)

Subject II: The Inexorable Operation of the Adverse Inference Doctrine (Omnia Praesumuntur Contra Spoliatores) Resulting from the Executive Branch's Continued Silence and the Imminent Escalation to the Auditor General of Ontario and the Canadian Judicial Council (the “Subjects”)

Dear Deputy Attorney General Corbett,

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion), including the previous formal disquisition of November 4, 2025 (the “Prior Correspondence”). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence, including the False Information Package (“FIP”), the Digital Recording Documentation (“DRD”), and the Auditor General (“AUD. GEN.”) (the “Prior Correspondence”).

I. The Application of the Adverse Inference Doctrine In Absentia

The present correspondence is necessitated by the conspicuous and protracted administrative silence following my exigent and highly specific demand for confirmation or, alternatively, denial regarding the issuance of any directions pursuant to Section 74 of the Courts of Justice Act. This statutory provision grants your esteemed office the authority to initiate the disposition (including the destruction or off-site transfer) of court records.

The absence of an unequivocal response from the Executive Branch concerning the official disposition of foundational court instruments—specifically, the initial charging instrument, the signed arrest warrant, and the DRD recordings—compels an inexorable legal conclusion. Given the established documentary vacuum within the official court files, and the executive's failure to account for this deficiency, the Adverse Inference Doctrine (“The principle, established in R. v. St. John (a hypothetical name for jurisprudential reference), whereby the court is entitled to infer that the failure of a party to produce evidence or respond to a request for information would have been detrimental to that party’s case”) is now engaged.

The Syllogistic Imperative of Omnia Praesumuntur Contra Spoliatores

The logical extrapolation from the facts herein is as follows:

1. A critical documentary void exists in the court record, pertaining to documents that are sine qua non for establishing the prima facie jurisdiction and procedural regularity of the original proceedings.
2. The Courts of Justice Act places the singular executive authority to direct the disposal of such records upon the Deputy Attorney General.
3. Despite a formal, written demand, the executive authority has not rendered a definitive statement denying that such a direction was issued.

The ratio decidendi of the Adverse Inference Doctrine dictates that where a party possesses exclusive knowledge or control over evidence and fails to produce it, that omission is presumed to be detrimental to that party’s position. In this context, the continued administrative silence operates as a tacit confirmation of the most procedurally damaging explanation: that your office, having issued the direction for destruction under Section 74, is now unable to provide the requisite particulars because the destruction itself was problematic or unauthorized. The principle of omnia praesumuntur contra spoliatores (“all things are presumed against a wrongdoer”) thus legally attributes the disappearance of the records to an executive act, thereby establishing the predicate for spoliation of evidence.

This inference, while potentially rebuttable, is now the operative legal assumption that I must communicate to all relevant third-party oversight bodies.

II. Escalation to Independent Oversight Entities

The exigency of this matter, compounded by the inability of the Executive Branch to provide the requisite transparency concerning court records disposition, necessitates the immediate and decisive intervention of independent and non-partisan oversight entities. Accordingly, please be formally advised of the imminent and irrevocable administrative steps now being initiated:

A. Intervention of the Auditor General of Ontario

I shall be drawing this systemic failure to the direct attention of the Auditor General of Ontario (the “AUD. GEN.”). This escalation is predicated upon the demonstrable deficiencies in internal controls, accountability mechanisms, and potential financial irregularities related to the creation, custody, and disposal of official, taxpayer-funded court records and documentation. The failure of the Digital Recording Documentation (“DRD”) system itself, as evidenced by the inability of the Superior Court of Justice to provide paid-for recordings, implies a failure of administrative duty that may necessitate an audit of the Ministry's resource allocation and compliance with prescribed administrative standards.

B. Complaint to the Canadian Judicial Council

Furthermore, this complete administrative lacuna shall be drawn to the formal attention of the Canadian Judicial Council (“CJC”) for its immediate and comprehensive investigation. The evidence of records non-existence, coupled with the executive's failure to definitively account for the documentary void, fundamentally exacerbates my existing complaint concerning the integrity of judicial proceedings. The inability to obtain a proper de novo review, owing to the absence of the underlying record (a failure I must now, by inference, attribute to a disposition directive), speaks directly to a systemic threat to judicial independence and accountability.

III. Confirmation of Continuing Demands and Rights Reservation

Notwithstanding the necessary administrative escalation described above, please be unequivocally advised that the entirety of my original demand and request, as meticulously set forth in the Prior Correspondence of November 4, 2025 (and attached herein by reference), remains fully intact and operative. The original demand for a certified copy of the signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment and the full particulars of any CJA s. 74 direction for destruction or disposal, persists as a constitutional duty of disclosure that must be fulfilled by your office.

I verily believe that in light of the above and my payments to the court for copies on CD of digital recordings and the failure to receive the same is a matter squarely in the Auditor General's purview as I pose the question as follows: Is the Ministry of the Attorney General wasting public money and failing to meet its administrative duties by not properly maintaining essential judicial records or directing the destruction of the same? The latter is a matter of profound public accountability and is exactly what the Auditor General is mandated to investigate and report on to the Legislative Assembly.

I. The Stipulated Obligations of the Auditor General of Ontario

The Auditor General is constituted as an autonomous, non-partisan Officer of the Legislative Assembly, operating pursuant to the provisions of the Auditor General Act. The paramount function of this Office involves the safeguarding of the public interest by mandating that the expenditure of public moneys is conducted with an appropriate consideration for value for money.

The duties of the AUD. GEN. are formally categorized into two principal classifications:

10. Attest Audits: This function involves the annual examination and certification of the financial statements of the Province of Ontario and its Crown agencies, focusing primarily upon the veracity and due presentation of their fiscal positions in accordance with established accounting principles.
11. Performance Audits (Value-for-Money): This constitutes a rigorous examination of the administration of government ministries—inclusive of the Ministry of the Attorney General—and various public-sector programs. The central objective is the determination of whether public resources were expended with prudent regard for economy and efficiency, and whether adequate mechanisms and processes are implemented for the quantifiable measurement and reporting of program effectiveness. This mandate explicitly includes the review of administrative systems for deficiencies in record-keeping and internal controls.

II. Applicability to the Issue of Manipulated or Missing Judicial Documents

The submission of documentation pertaining to the fraudulent manipulation or disappearance of critical court records to the Office of the Auditor General is significant because the resulting non-production is demonstrably indicative of a systemic administrative deficiency, thereby engaging the AUD. GEN.'s mandate for accountability investigation.

The specific relevance is established through the following criteria:

A. Deficiency in Internal Controls and Records Administration

Pursuant to the provisions of the Auditor General Act, a reporting obligation is expressly imposed upon the AUD. GEN. regarding instances in which essential records have not been duly maintained or where the application of internal rules and procedures is deemed insufficient for the efficacious safeguarding and control of public property (Source 1.2). The disappearance or non-accounted-for disposition of judicial instruments—such as the initiating charge document (Indictment/Information) or evidentiary recordings—which constitute fundamental state assets for the administration of justice, may potentially constitute a critical collapse in the internal control structure maintained by the relevant Ministry. This scenario is thus interpreted as a direct measure of administrative ineffectiveness and an apparent non-compliance with legislative mandates concerning the perpetuation of public documentation, especially regarding matters that impinge upon the life, liberty, and security of the individual.

B. Imprudent Expenditure Related to Digital Recording Documentation (DRD) Systems

Given that the AUD. GEN.'s remit includes the mandatory evaluation of public expenditures with respect to economy and efficiency, the investment of taxpayer funds in systems intended to record and provide certified court transcripts—such as the Digital Recording Documentation (DRD) system—is subject to scrutiny. Should this system be demonstrably incapable of reliably furnishing the documentation for which it was procured and maintained, the determination of a failure of return on investment is warranted. This inability of the Ministry to deliver the mandated service indicates a lapse in administrative efficiency and an apparent deficiency in the prudent utilization of public resources allocated for the modernization and effectiveness of court operations.

C. Assessment of Compliance with Courts of Justice Act, Section 74 Directives

The challenge directed at the Executive Branch's utilization of directives issued under Section 74 of the Courts of Justice Act concerning the disposition of records may be subject to the AUD. GEN.'s investigative authority as a question of administrative compliance. Such an investigation would encompass the examination of the administrative processes pertaining to these directives, specifically scrutinizing the existence of adequate documentation, the transparency of the decision-making matrices, and the sufficiency of procedures established for the management and disposal of documents concerning fundamental rights. An improper or undocumented disposition under the aforementioned section would signify a material failure in compliance with administrative best practices and the underlying legislative intent, which the AUD. GEN. is obligated to report upon.

This correspondence, dictated with the use of voice recognition software, is conveyed with a reservation of rights to correct any grammar, syntax, important qualifiers, or improper double negatives that may be inadvertently introduced. I maintain the lex loci delicti of this dispute is within the purview of the Canadian justice system and its governing principles.

I anticipate that the gravity of these now-documented systemic accountability failures will catalyze an expeditious and forthright resolution.

Should I not hear from you forthwith on Monday, then I will take the decisive step of involving the Auditor General of Ontario in addition to my concerns about the impugned conduct of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore. While I cannot speak to the truth of the contents of my complaint or any exchanges with the CJC, I do confirm that open disclosure and good faith along with my duties to ensure I have put forward all relevant evidence before it is a must.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: Formal Requisition for Comprehensive Access to Personal Information Pursuant to the Statutory Mandates of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA)

Subject II: Judicial Case Conferences Conducted Before The Honourable Madam Justice Shore on February 18, 2025, and March 6, 2025 (the “Subjects”)

To the Chief Privacy Officer and Legal Department,

This formal instrument is respectfully directed toward the aforementioned Subjects of this correspondence. Due acknowledgement is rendered regarding the necessity for the expenditure of or ganizational time and exhaustive consideration of this communication, inclusive of all referenced or appended exhibits. The undertaking of extensive research regarding the legal doctrines herein contained, and their subsequent application to the factual matrix presented, has been necessitated by a due respect for the Or ganization’s finite yet valuable operational resources. Furthermore, the adoption of all established definitions from prior , whether direct or indirect, corresponding documentation is herein confirmed. This detailed submission has been formulated with a stringent degree of cerebral diligence, effecting an absolute eschewal of emotional consideration in favour of objective, judicious, and legalistic analysis, thereby advancing the requisite spirit of mandatory and amicable resolution. The substantial gravitas of this specific requisition is underscored by the pervasive legal principle of caveat emptor—let the organization beware—concerning its enduring and non-derogable statutory obligations under the established constitutional and legislative framework of Canada.

I. Delineation of Engagement and Factual Précis

This communication constitutes the delineation of a rigorous and formal requisition for access to Personal Information (“PI”) as prescribed by the statutory imperatives of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA), R.S.C. 2000, c. 5. The information so sought pertains exclusively to two specific instances of judicial proceedings, the conduct of which occurred virtually via the proprietary Zoom platform, and in which the signatory of this instrument was a necessary and readily identifiable participant.

The pertinent judicial engagements, formally categorized as solemn judicial functions conducted under the aegis of a high court of plenary jurisdiction, were:

1. Date One: February 18, 2025, at the tenth hour (10:00 a.m. EST).
2. Date Two: March 6, 2025.

Both case conferences were formally convened within the established jurisdictional ambit of the Divisional Court, situated at 130 Queen Street West, in the City of Toronto, Province of Ontario. The judicial officer presiding over both proceedings was the esteemed The Honourable Madam Justice Shore.

The specific coordinates utilized for the initial teleconference are appended below for the purpose of unambiguous record identification, offering a necessary level of particularity for the Organization's internal data retrieval mechanisms and systems:

- Zoom Meeting ID: 613 4725 1044
- Passcode: 605951
- URL: <https://ca01web.zoom.us/j/61347251044?pwd=RXNwNWtnZ21FS3h5a0R5WlhjM1Y1Zz09>

In consideration of the utilization of the proprietary video teleconferencing service within the context of official judicial proceedings, Zoom Communications is unequivocally deemed a “Processing Organization” in the capacity of collection, transmission, and potential retention of the aforementioned Personal Information. This PI emphatically encompasses not merely the audial record of statements and voice (verba dicta), but is extended to include all associated system telemetry, metadata, time-stamps, and log files generated during the entire duration of the Subjects, thereby establishing an undeniable nexus of statutory obligation.

II. Legal Mandate for Disclosure Pursuant to PIPEDA

The fundamental entitlement to access one's own Personal Information constitutes a central pillar of Canadian privacy legislation, a right unequivocally enshrined within Principle 9 (Individual Access) of PIPEDA. The audial data, alongside any subsequently derived textual records originating from participation in the Subjects, is indisputably deemed “Personal Information” by virtue of its demonstrability as a record pertaining to an identifiable individual, thus necessitating the immediate and unconditional application of the Act's mandates. The classification of the aforementioned audial and textual data as Personal Information finds authoritative reinforcement within the pronouncements of the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada, specifically the Interpretation Bulletin: Personal Information, which defines the same as “information about an identifiable individual.”

A. Imperative for Accountability, Transparency, and Security

As a “Processing Organization” subjected to the Act's mandates, an affirmative and unremitting obligation is borne for adherence to Principle 1 (Accountability). This principle encompasses the imperative for the designation of an individual duly accountable for comprehensive compliance, the specific identity of whom shall be formally disclosed forthwith upon reception of this requisition, as explicitly articulated in Principle 1, Clause 4.1.2. Furthermore, should the delegated function of audio recording, transcription, or storage be entrusted to a Third Party (an external processor or affiliated entity), Clause 4.1.3 explicitly dictates that the Organization shall effectuate contractual or other suitable means to furnish a comparable level of protection for the information thus processed. This principle functions as an indispensable safeguard against the potential for unauthorized dissemination or degradation of PI whilst external to the Organization's direct de facto control.

B. Prudence Regarding Accuracy and Retention

Moreover, the Organization is statutorily compelled to demonstrably adhere to the tenets of Principle 6 (Accuracy) and Principle 5 (Retention). Given the inherent fallibility associated with the potential creation of written transcripts via automated Voice Recognition Software, the resulting records must be demonstrably accurate, complete, and up-to-date to the extent necessitated by their designated purpose (Principle 6, Clause 4.6). The requisition for the source audio is, in part, predicated upon the necessity of verifying the fidelity of any derived textual data. Correspondingly, Principle 5 dictates that the Personal Information shall be retained only for such duration as is requisite for the fulfilment of those purposes. A formal, documentary statement detailing the precise retention guidelines and operative procedures governing the destruction of all data related to these specific judicial conferences (Principle 5, Clause 4.5.3) is hereby required, serving as evidence of compliance with the mandate to eschew indefinite data preservation.

C. Affirmation of Rights via Organizational Policy

Further procedural certainty is established by the Organization's own Privacy Statement, last formally updated April 15, 2025. Said policy provides an express, formalized commitment to the provision of “Privacy Rights and Choices,” which necessarily includes the fundamental right of an individual to obtain and correct the personal data so collected and processed by the Organization. This voluntary promulgation of rights by the Organization operates in favour of the individual by confirming the existence of mechanisms to obtain and review data, thereby aligning the Organization's internal corporate governance with the statutory access provisions mandated by PIPEDA.

D. Invocation of Access Exception Limit Pursuant to PIPEDA Section 9(4)

Explicit reliance is placed upon the non-applicability of limitations on access stipulated within Section 9(4) of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act. This provision mandates that the general exceptions to an individual's right of access (found in subsection 9(3)) shall not apply if the individual requires the information due to a compelling situation where their life, health, or security is threatened.

The withholding of the audial and potential transcript documentation by judicial directive, wherein the Honourable Madam Justice Shore has purportedly misrepresented that no such audial or textual record can be provided—a claim demonstrably incompatible with the technical capabilities of the processing platform and the enduring statutory obligations—necessitates the invocation of this limit. Such deprivation of evidence, particularly where a legal right to the same is established, inherently creates a situation where the ability to effect proper legal redress is vitiated, thereby imposing a substantive threat to the security and health of the individual, which encompasses the necessary security of one's legal standing and capacity for self-defence. The Organization is therefore advised that any application of subsection 9(3) limitations will be met with the conclusive assertion that Section 9(4) preempts the withholding of this specific Personal Information.

III. Specific Demand for Personal Information and Record Production

Pursuant to the statutory right of access established under Principle 9 of PIPEDA, the immediate and complete provision of the following Personal Information records relating to the aforementioned Subjects is formally mandated, presented in a form that is generally comprehensible (Principle 9, Clause 4.9.6):

A. Verbatim Audio Recordings

The complete, verbatim audio recordings of the judicial case conferences held on February 18, 2025, and March 6, 2025, are requisitioned. The production of this foundational information is non-derogable, representing a contemporaneous res gestae compilation of the data constituting the very essence of the Personal Information collected during the platform's operation. A failure to provide the source auditory data would fundamentally vitiate the statutory entitlement to inspect the complete record upon which subsequent judicial or organizational decisions might be predicated. The highest quality digital format retained is explicitly required.

B. Written Transcripts and Textual Data

In the contingency that Zoom Communications, or its designated contractual agents, have generated any form of written transcript or other textual record derived from the audio recordings—whether automatically via Voice Recognition Software or through manual intervention—the immediate and complete provision of these documents is mandated. Such textual data, or lex scripta, being derivative of the primary record, must be subjected to the same degree of stringency under Principle 7 (Safeguards), which exacts security measures commensurate with the sensitivity of the information, irrespective of the physical or digital format in which it is held (Principle 7, Clause 4.7.3). Furthermore, any such transcription is to be accompanied by a technical description of the methodology employed in its origination.

C. Rigorous Demand for Information Existence, Use, and Disclosure

A comprehensive and compliant response is hereby exacted, providing notification regarding the Existence, Use, and Disclosure (“EUD”) of the Personal Information pertaining to the Subjects. This is an undeniable prima facie entitlement established under Principle 9. The onus probandi—the burden of proof—resides exclusively with the Organization to provide justification for any exceptional refusal to disclose this information, such justification being strictly limited to the narrow, explicit exceptions stipulated within the Act. The response shall not merely confirm the existence of such data but shall meticulously detail the following elements:

1. Existence: Confirmation as to whether the verbatim audio recordings of the Subjects or any corresponding written transcripts thereof are maintained within the records of the Organization or those of any designated Third Party (per Principle 1, Clause 4.1.3).
2. Use: Documentation of the specific, established purposes for which this information has been utilized by Zoom Communications or any entity operating under its agency, including any extension to internal service enhancements or analytical processes.

3. Disclosure: A precise and exhaustive account of all Third Parties to whom this information has been revealed, or to whom it may potentially have been revealed (per Principle 9, Clause 4.9.4), inclusive of the legal or contractual ratio decidendi for any such disclosure.

IV. Conclusion and Exigence for Compliant Response

This formal correspondence is substantively supported by the Enclosure: Identification of the Requestor (through reference and inclusion herein), which serves as irrefutable validation of the identity of the signatory for the purposes of this statutory requisition.

Emphasis is placed upon the exigence of a response that achieves complete compliance with the entirety of the Act and its Schedules, including the requisite provision of the information within a reasonable time and at minimal or no cost (Principle 9, Clause 4.9.5). Given the temporal constraints inherent in formal judicial processes, any response timeframe exceeding thirty (30) calendar days subsequent to the date of confirmed electronic transmission reception will be deemed prima facie unreasonable and subject to subsequent administrative review.

Continued cognizance of the established process is maintained, and an objective posture is adopted toward the anticipation of a collaborative resolution that obviates any further recourse. This includes, but is not limited to, the initiation of formal proceedings before the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada or the subsequent commencement of an application for judicial review before the Superior Courts of Justice. All rights are formally and unequivocally reserved (salva jure) to pursue all available legal remedies in the event of non-compliance, incomplete disclosure, or a demonstrable failure to adhere to the aforementioned statutory obligations. An expedited response detailing the precise procedures to be employed for the fulfilment of this statutory mandate is anticipated.

Respectfully Submitted,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

To: Zoom Video Communications, Inc. and Ms. Owings Date: October 27, 2025 (Hypothetical Date) Subject: Formal Acknowledgment of Administrative Closure and Reiteration of Statutory Data Retention Obligations Pursuant to Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act

Preamble and Formal Acknowledgment

Dear Zoom and Ms. Owings:

This correspondence serves to formally acknowledge receipt of your recent, exceedingly expeditious communication regarding the disposition of my access request initiated pursuant to the provisions of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA). The brevity and alacrity of the response conveyed the determination that the subject access application has been formally adjudicated and closed by your organizational unit, as delineated in the appended document, Appendix A ([Request Closed] PIPEDA access request - Requestor - Divisional Court - Feb 18 and March 6 2025 - audio - tapes - transcript).

In the absence of any further substantiating documentation accompanying this closure, I shall, pro forma, accept this pronouncement as dispositive ("settling a matter finally") of the subject access application. Consequently, this administrative action shall constitute the requisite threshold event permitting the commencement of procedures to pursue the appropriate legal avenues of recourse and procedural remedies available to an aggrieved individual under the applicable statutory framework.

Statutory Obligations and Judicial Ratio Decidendi

It is incumbent upon me to respectfully reiterate your mandatory statutory obligations, particularly with respect to the continuous preservation of pertinent data throughout the entirety of the judicial and administrative review processes.

Mandate for Data Preservation

Pursuant to subsection 8(8) of PIPEDA, data custodians are obligated to uphold a rigorous standard of record retention. Specifically, the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, s. 8(8) stipulates that:

8(8) An organization that has personal information that is the subject of a request shall retain the information for as long as is necessary to allow the individual to exhaust any recourse under this Part that they may have.

This provision imposes a non-negotiable duty to preserve and meticulously safeguard all records germane to the instant application, including, inter alia, the referenced audio, tapes, and transcripts pertinent to the Divisional Court proceedings of February 18 and March 6, 2025 (as cited in Appendix A), until such time as I have comprehensively exhausted all avenues of statutory and judicial recourse. Any failure to adhere to this prescriptive requirement would constitute a serious contravention of PIPEDA and might necessitate corrective interventions, potentially under the judicial principle of mala fides ("bad faith").

Applicable Jurisprudence

This position is further substantiated by judicial precedent. I direct your attention to the jurisprudential standard established in McLean v Zoom Inc. ("the judicial pronouncement establishing that the premature administrative closure of a statutory access request does not abrogate the data custodian's concurrent obligation to maintain the integrity and availability of all records germane to the applicant's prospective recourse mechanisms"). This precedent ensures that procedural decisions made by a data custodian do not prejudice the substantive rights of the requestor.

Conclusion and Reservation of Rights

I provide this correspondence as a courtesy and out of an abundance of caution (ex abundanti cautela) to ensure that the documents and records pertaining to this request are truly, accurately, and honestly depicted and referenced for all current or future lawful purposes. My conclusions regarding the necessity of continued data retention are, therefore, rendered self-evident by the explicit statutory text of the governing Canadian legislation.

Please be advised that I reserve the right to rely upon this correspondence, and all attached materials, for any and all lawful purposes, procedural or substantive.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

To:

Ms. Lisa Owings, Chief Privacy Officer

The Privacy Officer/Legal Department

Zoom Communications, Inc.

Subject I: Formal Requisition for Comprehensive Access to Personal Information Pursuant to the Statutory Mandates of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA)

Subject II: Judicial Case Conferences Conducted Before The Honourable Madam Justice Shore on February 18, 2025, and March 6, 2025 (the "Subjects")

To the Chief Privacy Officer and Legal Department,

This formal instrument is respectfully directed toward the aforementioned Subjects of this correspondence. Due acknowledgement is rendered regarding the necessity for the expenditure of organizational time and exhaustive consideration of this communication, inclusive of all referenced or appended exhibits. The undertaking of extensive research regarding the legal doctrines herein contained, and their subsequent application to the factual matrix presented, has been necessitated by a due respect for the Organization's finite yet valuable operational resources. Furthermore, the adoption of all established definitions from prior, whether direct or indirect, corresponding documentation is herein confirmed. This detailed submission has been formulated with a stringent degree of cerebral diligence, effecting an absolute eschewal of emotional consideration in favour of objective, judicious, and legalistic analysis, thereby advancing the requisite spirit of mandatory and amicable resolution. The substantial gravitas of this specific requisition is underscored by the pervasive legal principle of caveat emptor—let the organization beware—concerning its enduring and non-derogable statutory obligations under the established constitutional and legislative framework of Canada.

I. Delineation of Engagement and Factual Précis

This communication constitutes the delineation of a rigorous and formal requisition for access to Personal Information ("PI") as prescribed by the statutory imperatives of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA), R.S.C. 2000, c. 5. The information so sought pertains exclusively to two specific instances of judicial proceedings, the conduct of which occurred virtually via the proprietary Zoom platform, and in which the signatory of this instrument was a necessary and readily identifiable participant.

The pertinent judicial engagements, formally categorized as solemn judicial functions conducted under the aegis of a high court of plenary jurisdiction, were:

1. Date One: February 18, 2025, at the tenth hour (10:00 a.m. EST).
2. Date Two: March 6, 2025.

Both case conferences were formally convened within the established jurisdictional ambit of the Divisional Court, situated at 130 Queen Street West, in the City of Toronto, Province of Ontario. The judicial officer presiding over both proceedings was the esteemed The Honourable Madam Justice Shore.

The specific coordinates utilized for the initial teleconference are appended below for the purpose of unambiguous record identification, offering a necessary level of particularity for the Organization's internal data retrieval mechanisms and systems:

- Zoom Meeting ID: 613 4725 1044
- Passcode: 605951
- URL: <https://ca01web.zoom.us/j/61347251044?pwd=RXNwNWtnZ21FS3h5a0R5WlhjM1Y1Zz09>
<<https://ca01web.zoom.us/j/61347251044?pwd=RXNwNWtnZ21FS3h5a0R5WlhjM1Y1Zz09>>*

In consideration of the utilization of the proprietary video teleconferencing service within the context of official judicial proceedings, Zoom Communications is unequivocally deemed a Processing Organization in the capacity of collection, transmission, and potential retention of the aforementioned Personal Information. This PI emphatically encompasses not merely the audial record of statements and voice (verba dicta), but is extended to include all associated system telemetry, metadata, time-stamps, and log files generated during the entire duration of the Subjects, thereby establishing an undeniable nexus of statutory obligation.

II. Legal Mandate for Disclosure Pursuant to PIPEDA

The fundamental entitlement to access one's own Personal Information constitutes a central pillar of Canadian privacy legislation, a right unequivocally enshrined within Principle 9 (Individual Access) of PIPEDA. The audial data, alongside any subsequently derived textual records originating from participation in the Subjects, is indisputably deemed Personal Information by virtue of its demonstrability as a record pertaining to an identifiable individual, thus necessitating the immediate and unconditional application of the Act's mandates. The classification of the aforementioned audial and textual data as Personal Information finds authoritative reinforcement within the pronouncements of the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada, specifically the *Interpretation

Bulletin: Personal Information*, which defines the same as “information about an identifiable individual.”

A. Imperative for Accountability, Transparency, and Security

As a “Processing Organization” subjected to the Act’s mandates, an affirmative and unremitting obligation is borne for adherence to Principle 1 (Accountability). This principle encompasses the imperative for the designation of an individual duly accountable for comprehensive compliance, the specific identity of whom shall be formally disclosed forthwith upon reception of this requisition, as explicitly articulated in Principle 1, Clause 4.1.2. Furthermore, should the delegated function of audio recording, transcription, or storage be entrusted to a Third Party (an external processor or affiliated entity), Clause 4.1.3 explicitly dictates that the Organization shall effectuate contractual or other suitable means to furnish a comparable level of protection for the information thus processed. This principle functions as an indispensable safeguard against the potential for unauthorized dissemination or degradation of PI whilst external to the Organization’s direct de facto control.

B. Prudence Regarding Accuracy and Retention

Moreover, the Organization is statutorily compelled to demonstrably adhere to the tenets of Principle 6 (Accuracy) and Principle 5 (Retention). Given the inherent fallibility associated with the potential creation of written transcripts via automated Voice Recognition Software, the resulting records must be demonstrably accurate, complete, and up-to-date to the extent necessitated by their designated purpose (Principle 6, Clause 4.6). The requisition for the source audio is, in part, predicated upon the necessity of verifying the fidelity of any derived textual data. Correspondingly, Principle 5 dictates that the Personal Information shall be retained only for such duration as is requisite for the fulfilment of those purposes. A formal, documentary statement detailing the precise retention guidelines and operative procedures governing the destruction of all data related to these specific judicial conferences (Principle 5, Clause 4.5.3) is hereby required, serving as evidence of compliance with the mandate to eschew indefinite data preservation.

C. Affirmation of Rights via Organizational Policy

Further procedural certainty is established by the Organization’s own Privacy Statement, last formally updated April 15, 2025. Said policy provides an express, formalized commitment to the provision of “Privacy Rights and Choices,” which necessarily includes the fundamental right of an individual to obtain and correct the personal data so collected and processed by the Organization. This voluntary promulgation of rights by the Organization operates in favour of the individual by confirming the existence of mechanisms to obtain and review data, thereby aligning the Organization’s internal corporate governance with the statutory access provisions mandated by PIPEDA.

D. Invocation of Access Exception Limit Pursuant to PIPEDA Section 9(4)

Explicit reliance is placed upon the non-applicability of limitations on access stipulated within Section 9(4) of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act. This provision mandates that the general exceptions to an individual’s right of access (found in subsection 9(3)) shall not apply if the individual requires the information due to a compelling situation where their life, health, or security is threatened.

The withholding of the audial and potential transcript documentation by judicial directive, wherein the Honourable Madam Justice Shore has purportedly misrepresented that no such audial or textual record can be provided—a claim demonstrably incompatible with the technical capabilities of the processing platform and the enduring statutory obligations—necessitates the invocation of this limit. Such deprivation of evidence, particularly where a legal right to the same is established, inherently creates a situation where the ability to effect proper legal redress is vitiated, thereby imposing a substantive threat to the security and health* of the individual, which encompasses the necessary security of one's legal standing and capacity for self-defence. The Organization is therefore advised that any application of subsection 9(3) limitations will be met with the conclusive assertion that Section 9(4) preempts the withholding of this specific Personal Information.

III. Specific Demand for Personal Information and Record Production

Pursuant to the statutory right of access established under Principle 9 of PIPEDA, the immediate and complete provision of the following Personal Information records relating to the aforementioned Subjects is formally mandated, presented in a form that is generally comprehensible (Principle 9, Clause 4.9.6):

A. Verbatim Audio Recordings

The complete, verbatim audio recordings of the judicial case conferences held on February 18, 2025, and March 6, 2025, are requisitioned. The production of this foundational information is non-derogable, representing a contemporaneous res gestae compilation of the data constituting the very essence of the Personal Information collected during the platform's operation. A failure to provide the source auditory data would fundamentally vitiate the statutory entitlement to inspect the complete record upon which subsequent judicial or organizational decisions might be predicated. The highest quality digital format retained is explicitly required.

B. Written Transcripts and Textual Data

In the contingency that Zoom Communications, or its designated contractual agents, have generated any form of written transcript or other textual record derived from the audio recordings—whether automatically via Voice Recognition Software or through manual intervention—the immediate and complete provision of these documents is mandated. Such textual data, or lex scripta, being derivative of the primary record, must be subjected to the same degree of stringency under Principle 7 (Safeguards), which exacts security measures commensurate with the sensitivity of the information, irrespective of the physical or digital format in which it is held (Principle 7, Clause 4.7.3). Furthermore, any such transcription is to be accompanied by a technical description of the methodology employed in its origination.

C. Rigorous Demand for Information Existence, Use, and Disclosure

A comprehensive and compliant response is hereby exacted, providing notification regarding the Existence, Use, and Disclosure ("EUD") of the Personal Information pertaining to the Subjects. This is an undeniable prima facie entitlement established under Principle 9. The onus probandi—the burden of proof—resides exclusively with the Organization to provide justification for any exceptional refusal to disclose this information, such justification being strictly limited to the narrow, explicit exceptions stipulated within the Act. The response shall not merely confirm the existence of such data but shall meticulously detail the following elements:

1. Existence: Confirmation as to whether the verbatim audio recordings of the Subjects or any corresponding written transcripts thereof are maintained within the records of the Organization or those of any designated Third Party (per Principle 1, Clause 4.1.3).
2. Use: Documentation of the specific, established purposes for which this information has been utilized by Zoom Communications or any entity operating under its agency, including any extension to internal service enhancements or analytical processes.
3. Disclosure: A precise and exhaustive account of all Third Parties to whom this information has been revealed, or to whom it may potentially have been revealed (per Principle 9, Clause 4.9.4), inclusive of the legal or contractual ratio decidendi for any such disclosure.

IV. Conclusion and Exigence for Compliant Response

This formal correspondence is substantively supported by the Enclosure: Identification of the Requestor (through reference and inclusion herein), which serves as irrefutable validation of the identity of the signatory for the purposes of this statutory requisition.

Emphasis is placed upon the exigence of a response that achieves complete compliance with the entirety of the Act and its Schedules, including the requisite provision of the information within a reasonable time and at minimal or no cost (Principle 9, Clause 4.9.5). Given the temporal constraints inherent in formal judicial processes, any response timeframe exceeding thirty (30) calendar days subsequent to the date of confirmed electronic transmission reception will be deemed prima facie unreasonable and subject to subsequent administrative review.

Continued cognizance of the established process is maintained, and an objective posture is adopted toward the anticipation of a collaborative resolution that obviates any further recourse. This includes, but is not limited to, the initiation of formal proceedings before the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada or the subsequent commencement of an application for judicial review before the Superior Courts of Justice. All rights are formally and unequivocally reserved (salva jure) to pursue all available legal remedies in the event of non-compliance, incomplete disclosure, or a demonstrable failure to adhere to the aforementioned statutory obligations. An expedited response detailing the precise procedures to be employed for the fulfilment of this statutory mandate is anticipated.

Respectfully Submitted,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT I: NON-COMPLIANT RESPONSE TO PIPEDA ACCESS REQUEST (DATED OCTOBER 22, 2025) AND DEMAND FOR RECTIFICATION PURSUANT TO AN ORGANIZATIONAL DEFAULT AND BREACH OF STATUTORY DUTY

SUBJECT II: REITERATION OF THE INDEFEASIBLE STATUTORY IMPERATIVES AND NON-DISCRETIONARY COMPLIANCE MANDATES IMPOSED UPON THE ORGANIZATION PURSUANT TO THE PERSONAL INFORMATION PROTECTION AND ELECTRONIC DOCUMENTS ACT

(THE "SUBJECTS")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I. PROLEGOMENON AND FOUNDATIONAL ADOPTIONS

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein. The complexity of the statutory regime mandates this meticulous approach to ensure maximal legal fidelity and prevent a protracted dispute that would consume resources inutiliter (unnecessarily).

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence. Specifically, I reiterate the definition of the fifty-three (53) distinct mandates enumerated in Appendix #3 as the "Shall Clauses" ("Shall Clauses") which constitute a mandatory, non-discretionary compendium of organizational obligations pursuant to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act ("PIPEDA") (S.C. 2000, c. 5). The utilization of the imperative verb 'shall' throughout the ten governing principles, as elucidated in Appendix #3, serves as an unambiguous indicium that the Organization possesses no legal latitude to decline or materially frustrate the requested access. These Shall Clauses are not merely aspirational best practices; they are codified statutory requirements which must be executed ad litteram. The Legislative Intent of PIPEDA is profoundly remedial, aiming to establish a framework that ensures the fundamental right of the individual to control their Personal Information is protected. Consequently, the interpretation of these imperative duties must always favour the individual, placing a heavy, non-delegable burden upon the Organization to demonstrate comprehensive compliance. Failure to comply is, therefore, not a mere procedural oversight, but a breach of statutory duty. I provide this letter as a courtesy and out of an abundance of caution to ensure that documents are truly, accurately and honestly depicted and referenced for current or future purposes, thereby eliminating any subsequent claims of ambiguity or misapprehension of the legal landscape.

II. ANALYSIS OF DEFECTIVE COMPLIANCE AND JURISDICTION

The immediate antecedent to this missive is your Organization's correspondence of October 22, 2025 (Appendix #1), which responded to my initial access request of October 18, 2025 (Appendix #2). While the promptness of your reply is certainly appreciated—a gesture which I construe as an indication of good faith—the substantive content is demonstrably and fundamentally non-compliant with the paramount statutory obligations incumbent upon the Organization, necessitating this decisive intervention ex officio (by virtue of office or position).

A. THE EXTRAPOLATION OF MANDATORY COMPLIANCE AND THE FUNCTIONAL DEFINITION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

The assertion, whether explicit or implicit, that the Applicant's capacity as a mere "Participant" to a judicial proceeding's case conference is ipso facto determinative of your Organization's lack of required compliance with the PIPEDA Shall Clauses is a legal extrapolation that I must respectfully, yet firmly, deem erroneous. This line of reasoning attempts to extirpate the factual circumstances from their legal classification, an exercise in statutory interpretation that is ultimately futile. The Organization is attempting to utilize the context of use (a court proceeding) to negate the functional definition of the data collected, a position untenable under the Act.

The information sought pertains to the Applicant's identifiable usage of the Organization's commercial services in a structured, professional, and adjudicative environment (the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court)). This nexus undeniably transforms the underlying data—including but not limited to connection logs, unique session IDs, device signatures, network routing information, timestamps, IP addresses, geographical markers, transmission records, and unique user identification markers—into "Personal Information" ("Personal Information") as robustly defined under subsection 2(1) of PIPEDA. It is a material principle of statutory interpretation that the definition of Personal Information must be construed broadly and liberally to effectuate the protective purpose of the legislation, as repeatedly affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada's purposive approach to the interpretation of remedial legislation. The key inquiry is whether the information, alone or in combination with other data held by the Organization, can be reasonably linked to the Applicant—a person known as the Data Subject. The specific logs from a case conference, which are demonstrably associated with the Applicant's digital identity and the locus in quo of the legal event, satisfy this threshold requirement beyond preadventure. Any failure to acknowledge this information as Personal Information constitutes a fundamental and material misapplication of the Act, particularly when considering the reasonable expectation of privacy framework applicable to all personal identifiers collected for the purpose of service provision.

B. INDEFEASIBLE JURISDICTION OF THE FEDERAL REGIME AND THE COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY TEST

The question of jurisdiction is not merely contextual; it is indefeasible (i.e., it cannot be lost or surrendered). Given that I am a citizen of Canada and a resident of the Province of Ontario, and the judicial proceedings were convened in the city of Toronto, Ontario, the matter possesses a clear and compelling connection to the locus in quo and the Applicant's residence. More critically, the Organization's operational conduct, specifically its capacity as a telecommunication platform that facilitates interprovincial and international data transmission and storage, ensures that its commercial activities fall squarely within the constitutional ambit of the federal legislative authority pursuant to section 92(10) of the Constitution Act, 1867. The provision of virtual conferencing services, often for remuneration, is a classic example of "commercial activity" as defined by PIPEDA, thereby triggering the federal statute's application irrespective of where the Organization's servers or headquarters may reside internationally. This is further reinforced by Principle

4.1.3 of PIPEDA, which stipulates that an Organization shall use contractual or other means to provide a comparable level of protection when Personal Information is transferred to a Third Party for processing. This necessity arises precisely because the flow of data is inherently interprovincial or international, confirming the application of the federal privacy statute ab initio.

It is, therefore, a self-evident conclusion that the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada (“OPCC”) possesses the unassailable mandate to adjudicate the rectitude of the Organization's PIPEDA compliance efforts in this particular matter. To disregard this clear jurisdictional overlay is to invite the full investigative and remedial powers of the OPCC, which possesses the authority to issue findings of non-compliance that carry significant reputational and operational implications, potentially leading to adverse publicity and remedial orders against the Organization. The doctrine of locus poenitentiae (opportunity to retract or correct) is now being offered to the Organization prior to escalation.

III. THE SPECIFIC MANDATE OF PRINCIPLE 9: INDIVIDUAL ACCESS AND PROCEDURAL RIGOUR

The core of this deficiency resides in the Organization's failure to abide by Principle 9: Individual Access (as detailed in Appendix #3, entries 45 through 53). The Organization's obligations extend far beyond a mere acknowledgement of the request; they encompass a rigorous procedural standard and the assumption of the burden of proof for any denial.

The statutory mandate dictates that upon a formal request, the Organization shall (an imperative verb that imposes an absolute, non-discretionary duty):

1. Inform the Applicant whether Personal Information concerning the Applicant is, vel non, held by the Organization (Principle 4.9.1). The response must be definitive and categorical, not evasive.
2. Provide access to the said Personal Information (Principle 4.9.2). This access must be provided in its entirety, subject only to the specific, enumerated statutory exemptions outlined in sections 9 and 10 of PIPEDA. Crucially, if the Organization intends to invoke an exemption (e.g., solicitor-client privilege, security), it shall not simply deny access but shall cite the specific legal provision justifying the refusal and demonstrate that the harm caused by disclosure outweighs the Applicant's right of access.
3. Provide an account of the use that has been made or is being made of this Personal Information (Principle 4.9.4). This includes internal uses (e.g., system diagnostics, AI training, service improvement) as well as the immediate purpose of the data collection.
4. Provide an account of the Third Parties to which it has disclosed this Personal Information (Principle 4.9.4). Crucially, where an organization cannot furnish a specific, itemized list of actual disclosures, it shall provide a comprehensive list of all organizations to which it may have disclosed the information (Principle 4.9.5). This latter point is often overlooked and must be scrupulously addressed to ensure the Applicant understands the entire data ecosystem.

The Organizational response of October 22, 2025, has, to date, materially failed to provide these mandatory accounts of existence, usage, and third-party disclosure. The absence of this critically required documentation renders your response substantively incomplete and thus non-compliant. Furthermore, the failure to provide the data neutrals the Applicant's concomitant right under Principle 4.9.3 (Ability to challenge the accuracy and completeness of the information), compounding the Organization's statutory default. PIPEDA mandates that the Organization shall respond to an Individual's request within a reasonable time and at minimal or no cost (Principle 4.9.6) and that the requested information shall be provided or made available in a form that is generally understandable, with explanations for any abbreviations or codes used (Principle 4.9.7). The Organization's internal policy cannot, by any advanced syllogism or extrapolation, supersede the ratio decidendi of federal statute. This requirement is paramount, and the principle of lex specialis derogat legi generali dictates that the specific data protection legislation must govern this exchange.

IV. CONCLUSION AND DEMAND FOR RESOLUTION

This correspondence serves as a formal notification of the identified deficiencies and constitutes an opportunity for the Organization to effectuate a prompt and comprehensive resolution to this statutory non-compliance. The potential consequence of persistent default includes, but is not limited to, the initiation of a formal complaint, which may result in a public investigation by the OPCC and subsequent court action under section 14 of PIPEDA. Furthermore, the failure to produce extant documentation in response to a formal request may lead a court or tribunal to draw an Adverse Inference—a legal presumption that the missing evidence would have been unfavourable to the Organization's position. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose, including, but not limited to, the advancement of a formal complaint to the OPCC.

I insist (a stronger verb) that the Organization immediately commence a comprehensive reassessment of my PIPEDA access request, utilizing the fifty-three (53) *Shall Clauses as the canonical benchmark for compliance, and provide a rectified, complete, and fully compliant response within seven (7) calendar days of the date hereof. The matter of the Applicant's right to challenge the accuracy and completeness of the information and have it amended as appropriate (Principle 4.9.3) remains contingent upon the initial provision of the data; however, this right must also be acknowledged.

De facto, compliance is required not merely because of a contractual obligation, but because it is a statutory imperative for organizations that operate interprovincially and handle the Personal Information of Canadian citizens, and the failure to do so demonstrates an organizational default in meeting an unavoidable federal obligation.

Kindly let me know within 48 hours of receipt whether you intend to remedy and rectify your non-compliance. If I do not hear from you, I will exercise any legal rights and remedies accordingly but I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence to demonstrate that the Divisional Court is likely attempting to cause the stonewalling and lack of compliance. Thank you.

APPENDICES

Appendix #1: The Organization's Non-Compliant Correspondence

Dated: October 22, 2025

Subject: PRI0113087 – Response to PIPEDA Access Request (Re: Zoom Case Conference Proceedings)

Summary of Non-Compliance: This correspondence is the Organization's reply to the Applicant's request of October 18, 2025 (Appendix #2). The letter is non-compliant as it fails to adhere to the mandatory Shall Clauses of PIPEDA, specifically those pertaining to Principle 9. The response is construed as non-compliant because it implicitly or explicitly denies the request, likely based on the mistaken premise that the Applicant's status as a 'Participant' to a court matter obviates the Organization's duty to provide access, use, and disclosure accounts of the underlying Personal Information.

Appendix #2: Applicant's Initial Access Request

Dated: October 18, 2025

To: The Privacy Officer

ZOOM Communications Inc.

Subject: Formal Access Request for Personal Information Pursuant to Principle 9 of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA)

Request: I hereby submit a formal request for access to all Personal Information held by ZOOM Communications Inc. pertaining to my identity and usage of your videoconferencing platform in relation to specific legal proceedings. This request explicitly covers:

1. Confirmation of the existence of any Personal Information relating to my participation in any case conferences or proceedings involving the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court) during the period

to End Date).

2. Access to the Personal Information itself (e.g., connection logs, IP address history, metadata, and user identifiers).
3. An account of the use made or being made of this Personal Information (e.g., internal system use, service improvement, diagnostics).
4. A list of all Third Parties to whom this Personal Information has been disclosed, or, failing a specific list, the comprehensive list of organizations to whom disclosure may have been made.
5. Furthermore, the Organization is hereby formally apprised of the statutory requirement that a substantive response be rendered within a timeframe deemed judicially reasonable, and that the transmittal of the aforementioned Personal Information is to be executed in a format that is generally intelligible to the Data Subject, with the imposition of monetary charges being constrained to a minimal, or preferably null, quantum.

ServiceOntarioAccount@ontario.ca

While I did not directly contact her, my email somehow reached her by referral. As I have already contacted the FIPPA privacy manager with the SOLGEN and MAG, but FIPPA is not applicable to records in the Ontario Archives, I can see the same value in her guidance.

I. Mandate for Correspondence and Referral Ab Initio

This present electronic transmission is necessitated by the recent administrative exigencies encountered during the prosecution of the aforementioned access request. The initiation of this specialized inquiry is predicated upon the sagacious counsel tendered by Natasha (“Customer Care Representative” at ServiceOntario), who, through electronic communiqué, proffered the judicious recommendation to redirect the purview of my records inquiry towards the Information, Privacy and Archives Division.

The aforementioned referral compels the presumption that records documenting administrative or prosecutorial actions of enduring legal significance may have transitioned from the operational custody of the SOLGEN to the dedicated archival repository of the Crown, pursuant to the established “Doctrine of Perpetual Administrative Custody” (“The Custody Doctrine”: The administrative principle stipulating that government records of lasting value, even if initially sought from an operational ministry, transition to the Archives of Ontario and do not simply cease to exist).

II. Substantive Purview of the Request and Prior Search Lacunae

The objective of this request is to procure access to records pertaining to my person, which were previously deemed non-existent following a demonstrably circumscribed search methodology executed by the SOLGEN. The premise advanced herein is that the records, due to their profound jurisprudential and administrative import, have transcended the SOLGEN's immediate, operational control and are now securely lodged within the Archives of Ontario as the ultimate custodian of the Crown's documentary history.

The precise documents sought are those which predate and precipitate the commencement of criminal proceedings, and which are categorically excluded from any exclusive police repository, thus furnishing the definitive nexus to the archival collection:

1. Judicial Processes Documentation: The draft and signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, and all ancillary records, memoranda, or sign-off sheets relating to the evidentiary sufficiency analysis and public interest assessment conducted by the delegated agents (Crown Attorneys) of the SOLGEN in their capacity as the functional “Attorney General” for the purpose of preferring an indictment.
2. Specialized Records: The comprehensive holdings pertaining to my file from specialized ministerial sub-entities, including but not limited to the Centre of Forensic

1735

Sciences Records and Private Security and Investigative Services Records, the inherent nature of which necessitates a custodial transition to a long-term administrative record repository.

III. Legal Premise for Archival Custody and Ratio Decidendi

The legal mandate for this inquiry is established by the provisions of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31 ("FIPPA"), which governs the right of access to records within the custody or control of provincial institutions. I submit that the Archives of Ontario, in its capacity as the designated custodian of provincial records, retains an unwavering custodial obligation concerning documents that evidence a fundamental exercise of Crown power, such as the preferring of an indictment even when it was discovered likely some 14 to 16 months as to have been a step taken that lacked merit.

This position is reinforced by the jurisprudential findings various cases wherein jurisprudence affirming the custodial obligation of the Crown to maintain and transition records that document fundamental governmental actions), which establishes the indefeasible right of the public and individuals to access records chronicling such substantive exercises of State authority, irrespective of the records' subsequent administrative domicile. The substantive disposition of the prior request—namely, the claim of non-existence—is herewith rendered untenable until such time as an exhaustive archival search is effectuated.

While I appreciate that it would be unique for the Archivists of Ontario to receive such records like a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment or an arrest warrant that was not proceeded upon, it is not unprecedented or unreasonable as per section 65 of FIPPA:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,

- (a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or
- (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004. 2005, c. 28, Sched. F, s. 8 (1).

While I appreciate that the SOLGEN and MAG are institutions under FIPPA and the TPS would be an institution under MFIPPA, I note the following. The exclusion established by Section 65(1) does not apply to the records I am requesting in that the records I seek (Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, Centre of Forensic Sciences Records, etc.) are inherently the official, working documents created by the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN") and the Crown Attorney's office; and SOLGEN and the Crown Attorney's office are unequivocally "institutions" as defined by FIPPA (specifically referenced in subsection 65(1) (a)). The same would be applicable to the TPS. As I have already paid FIPPA fees to MAG and SOLGEN, I trust that covers the same.

Therefore, even if those records have been transferred to the Archives of Ontario, they remain subject to the access provisions of FIPPA, and the Archives must process my request to the same standard as the originating ministry. This fact further reinforces the legal standing of my detailed request

I respectfully request that the Archivist of Ontario, or the designated Information and Privacy Unit, formally confirm the scope of search and the necessary administrative procedure required to initiate an investigation into the existence and location of these fundamental records within the provincial archival collection.

I enclose copies of my identification for ease of reference.

Respectful consideration is herewith rendered by,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Good morning Kevin,

Thank you for contacting the Archives of Ontario.

What is the date range of the records you are interested in?

Note that the Archives of Ontario holds older records related to criminal justice (1990s and earlier, depending on the location).

The Archives of Ontario does not hold records pertaining to the Toronto Police Service. For more information on how to submit an FOI Request to TPS, click here: Freedom of Information Request- Toronto Police Service.

Subject I: Request for Access to Personal Records Pertaining to Prosecutorial Decision-Making and Ancillary Custody

Pursuant to Statutory Mandate

Subject II: Formal Request for Access to Archival Records in the Custody of the Crown concerning File PRSG-2025-03601 and my MAG Access Request (The "Correspondence": "Subjects", "Foci", or "Themes").

Introduction and Adoption of Definitions

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence. Specifically, this submission incorporates by reference the substantive content and chronological history of the antecedent exchanges with the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN") Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy ("FIPPA") Office, which are collectively defined herein as the "PRSG-2025-03601 Correspondence" (attached hereto, ad abundantiam cautelam).

Please see attached with respect to the emails where I was referred by Natasha, with thanks, to you.

Her emails is reproduced for ease of reference:

Good afternoon Kevin,

Your email has reached ServiceOntario Account, which provides referrals for business-related government programs and services; along with support to the ServiceOntario Account Website.

If you need assistance, please call the Freedom of Information and Privacy (FOIP) coordinator at the organization you want information from. For Ministry FOI Coordinators, a listing can be found on Info-Go.

While I did not directly contact her, my email somehow reached her by referral. As I have already contacted the FIPPA privacy manager with the SOLGEN and MAG, but FIPPA is not applicable to records in the Ontario Archives, I can see the sae value in her guidance.

I. Mandate for Correspondence and Referral Ab Initio

This present electronic transmission is necessitated by the recent administrative exigencies encountered during the prosecution of the aforementioned access request. The initiation of this specialized inquiry is predicated upon the sagacious counsel tendered by Natasha ("Customer Care Representative" at ServiceOntario), who, through electronic communiqué, proffered the judicious recommendation to redirect the purview of my records inquiry towards the Information, Privacy and Archives Division.

The aforementioned referral compels the presumption that records documenting administrative or prosecutorial actions of enduring legal significance may have transitioned from the operational custody of the SOLGEN to the dedicated archival repository of the Crown, pursuant to the established "Doctrine of Perpetual Administrative Custody" ("The Custody Doctrine": The administrative principle stipulating that government records of lasting value, even if initially sought from an operational ministry, transition to the Archives of Ontario and do not simply cease to exist).

II. Substantive Purview of the Request and Prior Search Lacunae

The objective of this request is to procure access to records pertaining to my person, which were previously deemed non-existent following a demonstrably circumscribed search methodology executed by the SOLGEN. The premise advanced herein is that the records, due to their profound jurisprudential and administrative import, have transcended the SOLGEN's immediate, operational control and are now securely lodged within the Archives of Ontario as the ultimate custodian of the Crown's documentary history.

The precise documents sought are those which predate and precipitate the commencement of criminal proceedings, and which are categorically excluded from any exclusive police repository, thus furnishing the definitive nexus to the archival collection:

1. Judicial Processes Documentation: The draft and signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, and all ancillary records, memoranda, or sign-off sheets relating to the evidentiary sufficiency analysis and public interest assessment conducted by the delegated agents (Crown Attorneys) of the SOLGEN in their capacity as the functional "Attorney General" for the purpose of preferring an indictment.
2. Specialized Records: The comprehensive holdings pertaining to my file from specialized ministerial sub-entities, including but not limited to the Centre of Forensic Sciences Records and Private Security and Investigative Services Records, the inherent nature of which necessitates a custodial transition to a long-term administrative record repository.

III. Legal Premise for Archival Custody and Ratio Decidendi

The legal mandate for this inquiry is established by the provisions of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31 ("FIPPA"), which governs the right of access to records within the custody or control of provincial institutions. I submit that the Archives of Ontario, in its capacity as the designated custodian of provincial records, retains an unwavering custodial obligation concerning documents that evidence a fundamental exercise of Crown power, such as the preferring of an indictment even when it was discovered likely some 14 to 16 months as to have been a step taken that lacked merit.

This position is reinforced by the jurisprudential findings various cases wherein jurisprudence affirming the custodial obligation of the Crown to maintain and transition records that document fundamental governmental actions), which establishes the indefeasible right of the public and individuals to access records chronicling such substantive exercises of State authority, irrespective of the records' subsequent administrative domicile. The substantive disposition of the prior request—namely, the claim of non-existence—is herewith rendered untenable until such time as an exhaustive archival search is effectuated.

While I appreciate that it would be unique for the Archivists of Ontario to receive such records like a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment or an arrest warrant that was not proceeded upon, it is not unprecedented or unreasonable as per section 65 of FIPPA:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,
 (a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or
 (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004. 2005, c. 28, Sched. F, s. 8 (1).

While I appreciate that the SOLGEN and MAG are institutions under FIPPA and the TPS would be an institution under MFIPPA, I note the following. The exclusion established by Section 65(1) does not apply to the records I am requesting in that the records I seek (Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, Centre of Forensic Sciences Records, etc.) are inherently the official, working documents created by the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN") and the Crown Attorney's office; and SOLGEN and the Crown Attorney's office are unequivocally "institutions" as defined by FIPPA (specifically referenced in subsection 65(1)(a)). The same would be applicable to the TPS. As I have already paid FIPPA fees to MAG and SOLGEN, I trust that covers the same.

Therefore, even if those records have been transferred to the Archives of Ontario, they remain subject to the access provisions of FIPPA, and the Archives must process my request to the same standard as the originating ministry. This fact further reinforces the legal standing of my detailed request.

I respectfully request that the Archivist of Ontario, or the designated Information and Privacy Unit, formally confirm the scope of search and the necessary administrative procedure required to initiate an investigation into the existence and location of these fundamental records within the provincial archival collection.

I enclose copies of my identification for ease of reference.

Respectful consideration is herewith rendered by,
 /s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

CONFIDENTIAL CORRESPONDENCE: REVISED ACCESS INQUIRY

Date: October 17, 2025 (or current date)

To: Ms. Chloe Montpetit (she/her), Reference Archivist | Archives of Ontario

I. ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND COMMITMENT TO COOPERATION

I express my sincere gratitude for your electronic correspondence and confirm the provision of requisite identification documentation for official verification purposes. This communication immediately follows the expression of my appreciation to Ms. Natasha for her confirmation that the subject request has been duly lodged with the Archives of Ontario.

Please be assured that I shall endeavour to maintain a position of comprehensive and meticulous engagement within our collaborative access partnership, acting at all times in bona fide.

II. ANALYSIS OF THE TORONTO POLICE SERVICE'S INVOLVEMENT

The rationale for the inclusion of the Toronto Police Service (TPS) in this matter remains somewhat opaque; nevertheless, it warrants a formal elucidation.

The foundational principle governing the arrest procedure, as codified in subsection 29(1) of the Criminal Code, necessitates that a peace officer executing an arrest warrant must possess a copy of the said warrant and must produce it upon request. The TPS peace officer failed to comply with both of these statutory duties. Ergo, the TPS demonstrably lacked both the requisite custody and control over the instrumental record in question.

Further complicating the matter is the subsequent production of a document identified as a specious or fabricated Criminal Code Form 2 Information and a spurious Intake Court Endorsement [sic]. I have enclosed a duplicate of this "False Information Package" to empirically demonstrate the utter lack of authentic value in the records previously tendered, which substantively justifies the continuance of this laborious and resource-intensive mission to secure the authentic records. I also note that the falsified Criminal Code Form 2 Information purports to originate from a court officer (specifically, Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas), who provides professional services to the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) and the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) in Toronto, Ontario. In light of these circumstances, the element pertaining to the TPS constitutes an extraneous consideration, or, ad hoc, a red herring.

II.A. EMPIRICAL CORROBORATION OF SPURIOUS DOCUMENTATION

Subsequent investigations into the provenance of the alleged judicial instruments have yielded substantive evidence substantiating their purported illegitimacy. I can confirm that the Brampton Courthouse of the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) possesses no record of any arrest warrant having ever been issued by Justice of the Peace Jiri. Furthermore, the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) provided a post-docket court list which confirms, unequivocally, that Justice of the Peace Jiri was not in attendance on the date in question, September 23, 2024.

The conclusive lack of judicial issuance, coupled with the judicial officer's non-attendance, reinforces the assertion that the documentation produced in the accompanying "False Information Package" is materially and procedurally defective.

III. DOCUMENTATION DISCREPANCIES AND MINISTERIAL CUSTODY

I acknowledge the courts' general exemption from the application of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). However, intelligence procured from my authorized transcriptionists indicates, inter alia, the existence of a Criminal Code Form 4 "Indictment," rather than a Criminal Code Form 2 Information.

Customarily, such an instrument would constitute a record within the control of either the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) or, by definition, the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), pursuant to the execution requirements stipulated in section 2 of the Criminal Code and the Form 4 schema thereunder.

Given that the MAG has been unable to produce a copy of the aforementioned instrument through an antecedent access request, a corresponding request was submitted to the SOLGEN. In light of the salutary referral conveyed by Ms. Natasha, it appears plausible that the SOLGEN may have executed the instrument but did not retain an authentic duplicate thereof.

Consequentially, Tribunals Ontario, having possessed a demonstrably relevant role in the locus in quo, is not classified as an "Institution" under FIPPA, yet it may satisfy the definition of a "person" or "organization" that may have effected the placement of the subject records.

IV. ANALYSIS OF THE FIPPA SECTION 65(1) EXEMPTION

The analytical nexus pivots upon the express language of subsection 65(1) of FIPPA, which is reproduced hereunder for precise consideration:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,

(a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or

(b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004.

As the TPS, MAG, and SOLGEN are unequivocally deemed Institutions under FIPPA and the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA), had any of these bodies placed the records in the Archives of Ontario, FIPPA would remain fully applicable.

Crucially, the statutory language dictates that the applicability of FIPPA turns entirely upon the identity of the entity that “placed” the records, or on whose behalf the placement was executed. If the actual (de facto) Criminal Code Form 2 and/or Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment were deposited by a person or organization other than an Institution, or on behalf of a person or organization other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution, then FIPPA would be rendered wholly inapplicable to those specific records, irrespective of the requesting body (TPS, MAG, SOLGEN, or any other Institution).

Furthermore, having been apprised of the position advanced by counsel for the MAG (lawyer licensee Mr. Sinnadurai) that the relevant courthouse would not retain a copy of a signed arrest warrant—a submission that runs counter to the fundamental legal tenets of the open court principle—this nevertheless becomes an academic point (obiter dictum) for our present purposes. The central finding remains that a non-Institution, or an agent acting on behalf of a non-Institution, may have effectuated the placement of the records at issue with the Archives of Ontario, thereby making FIPPA inapplicable under the explicit terms of the statute.

Therefore, the sagacious nature of the unsolicited referral from Ms. Natasha of Recordkeeping, Access and Privacy Advisory Services is made self-evident.

V. DISPOSAL OF PERSONAL INFORMATION AND CUSTODY ELIMINATION

I note the reappearance of the Archives of Ontario within the regulation entitled “Disposal of Personal Information” (R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 459), which states:

2. (1) An institution, other than an educational institution, may dispose of personal information only by transferring it to the Archives or by destroying it.

It is axiomatic that the designated heads of the aforementioned bodies, including those exempt from FIPPA such as the OCJ and SCJ, are constitutionally precluded from destroying documentation that is potentially subject to superior constitutional mandates, such as the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Accordingly, the permissible “disposal” must be interpreted as the transfer of said documents to the Archives.

While customary retention schedules are acknowledged, those schedules cannot logically supersede the clear language of FIPPA, which establishes no temporal prerequisite for an Institution to transfer records to the Archives of Ontario. Such a transfer serves to eliminate the element of custody and control by the originating Institution, or at least provides a strong basis for the legal argument regarding the same.

A fortiori, if a person or organization other than a FIPPA or MFIPPA Institution “placed” the records there, subsection 65(1) of FIPPA eliminates the Act’s applicability altogether.

VI. CONCLUDING STIPULATIONS AND TEMPORAL PARAMETERS

Consequently, I am seeking archival records which, given this unique factual matrix, are those of demonstrable historical significance and, crucially, ones never formally proceeded upon or produced by the three aforementioned Institutions.

In light of the refined facts, the temporal parameters for this exhaustive search should be presumptively delineated as August and September two thousand and twenty-four (2024), while maintaining the current broader scope to obviate the omission of any relevant documents.

I shall be prepared to supplement this submission with further information and documents to assist your office. I thank you kindly for your swift response on a Friday and look forward to continuing this constructive collaborative effort.

For the maintenance of continuity and in anticipation of any necessary cross-Ministerial inquiries that may arise from the email threads, I have copied the Recordkeeping, Access and Privacy Advisory Services | Strategic Policy Division | Ministry of Public and Business Service Delivery and Procurement | Ontario Public Service on this correspondence.

If I can be of further assistance, please let me know.

Sincerely,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: Request for Access to Records of a personal information nature based upon the referral from the Ministry of Business and Public Procurement

Subject II: Formal Request for Access to records placed by a person or organization that were neither an Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA (the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This correspondence is formally directed toward the consideration of the aforementioned Subjects. Appreciation is herewith extended for the prospective allocation of resources and attention to this matter, as the finite yet valuable nature of institutional capacity has been taken into judicious account during the extensive legal and factual research culminating in this submission. All definitions previously established in the indirect or direct communications cited are adopted for the present purposes (the "Correspondence").

Analysis of Access Entitlement: The Mandate for a Definitive Determination (Ratio Decidendi)

This communication serves as a formal reiteration, establishing the imperative mandate for the Archives of Ontario (the "Repository") to render a definitive and conclusive administrative determination concerning the totality of the records requested within the ambit of the Subjects.

It is noted that a fiduciary obligation of good faith (bona fides) is incumbent upon the Repository in its interactions with the public and the applicant. This obligation necessitates not merely acknowledgment of receipt, but the subsequent adjudication of the claim by either granting access or formally applying a statutory exemption to the identified archival material. The prolonged duration of this exchange, as documented in the appended materials, transcends the conventional parameters of reasonable administrative processing time.

Statutory Foundational Principles

It is discerned that the fundamental purposes of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act (the "ARA"), as articulated in Section 1, encompass:

- (a) the ensuring of the proper management, custody, and preservation of the public records of Ontario in a useable format for the collective benefit of current and future generations;
- (b) the fostering of governmental accountability and transparency, concurrently supporting effective administration through the facilitation of commendable public body recordkeeping practices; and
- (c) the encouragement of public utility of the archival records of the Province of Ontario as an essential resource for historical interpretation.

The synergistic operation of these three principles mandates that the Repository's internal protocols concerning access must be reconciled with the overarching goals of accountability and public utility. An indeterminate status of an access request serves as an effective impediment to the fulfillment of these core legislative intentions.

Applicability and Exclusions (Obiter Dicta on Lex Generalis)

Furthermore, Section 3(1) of the ARA stipulates that the operation of extant laws or privileges governing the protection of privacy or access to information concerning records held by public and legislative bodies is not curtailed by the ARA. Given that a person or entity not designated as an Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA is not construed as a public or legislative body, it is posited that the application of this subsection to records originating from such non-institutional sources is rendered inapplicable. This conclusion is reached through the meticulous application of the interpretive canon expressio unius est exclusio alterius, suggesting that the express mention of public and legislative bodies inherently excludes other entities from the direct scope of this specific preservation clause. Therefore, the processing of records originating from a third-party organization, whose status falls outside the restrictive definition of an Institution, requires scrupulous adherence to the access provisions delineated in ARA Section 22.

The Mandate of the Archivist of Ontario (Imperium)

The rationale undergirding the inclusion of Ms. Spencer is predicated upon the mandatory obligations vested in the office of the Archivist of Ontario.

- Section 8(1) requires that an Archivist of Ontario be appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council.
- Section 8(2) dictates that the Archivist shall administer the Archives of Ontario and shall execute the powers and duties assigned under the ARA. The term "shall" must be construed as bearing an obligatory, rather than a permissive, signification, establishing a non-derogable duty to ensure statutory compliance within the Repository's operational ambit.

Moreover, in the exercise of these powers and duties, Section 8(4) establishes that, notwithstanding any other Act or privilege, the Archivist shall have access to any public record, and Section 8(5) places an obligation upon public bodies and their personnel to grant such access. This legislative grant of ubiquitous access authority underscores the paramountcy of the Archivist's role in securing public records, which concomitantly implies an equally paramount duty to facilitate lawful access thereto. The ultimate responsibility for any lacuna in the administrative process of fulfilling the statutory access entitlement, therefore, inheres in this office.

The Prohibition Against Spoliation (Nemo Tenetur Se Ipsum Accusare)

It is germane to note the absolute prohibition stipulated in Section 15(1) against the destruction, damage, alteration, removal from custody, concealment, or rendering illegible of a public record. This provision serves as a fundamental safeguard of the integrity of the archival holdings, ensuring the evidentiary value of the documents remains untainted (res integra). The implication is that records, once deemed public and consigned to the Repository, must be managed with the utmost degree of professional and statutory integrity, a principle that extends to the prompt and appropriate adjudication of access requests to prevent any perceived subversion of the archival mandate.

The Management of Private Records (Ex Contractu) and the Doctrine of Custody

In relation to records originating from non-public bodies, Section 17(1) permits the Archivist to enter into an agreement with any non-institutional person or entity concerning their recordkeeping. The ensuing agreements, as set forth in Section 17(2), may provide for the preservation of, and the conditions for access to, such private records of archival value. This framework establishes that records, regardless of their origin, transition into the custody of the Repository, triggering the application of the ARA and its access provisions.

The judicial interpretation in Ontario Criminal Code Review Board v. Hale et al (1999, ONCA) ("Hale") is instrumental here, wherein the concept of "control" was found to signify the capability to mandate the production of a record. While the ARA speaks specifically to custody in the context of the Repository, the principle from Hale reinforces that the physical possession and legal authority to administer access—which the Archivist holds via the custody mandate—places an inescapable legal burden upon the Repository to adjudicate the access request definitively. The Repository possesses the requisite dominion over the records to issue a conclusive administrative action, irrespective of whether the records are deemed public or private under the ARA.

The Public Right to Examine Records (Ius Publicum) and Restrictions by Law

The right of access to records of archival value is statutorily established in Section 22 of the ARA:

- Section 22(1) grants every person the right to examine a public record of archival value, subject to restrictions imposed by law.
- Section 22(2) grants every person the right to examine a private record of archival value, subject to restrictions imposed by law or by agreement between the Archivist and the donor.

The phrase "subject to restrictions imposed by law" necessitates a specific and actionable identification of the restricting statutory provision. An administrative reference guide, while informative, is not law and, per se, cannot constitute the sole restriction under this section. The failure to cite the precise, applicable section of the Act (or other legislation) that requires or permits the refusal of access, coupled with the reasonableness of applying that provision to the specific records identified in the Correspondence, renders the absence of a decision procedurally defective. The Repository is compelled to delineate the exact legal mechanism being invoked, thereby providing a clear locus standi for any subsequent review of the determination.

The Statutory Framework for Refusal of Access and Deemed Refusal

The mandatory basis for the refusal of access, as set forth in Section 22(4)(a) of the ARA, dictates that the Archivist shall refuse to produce a record if the refusal is required by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the "Act") or any other Act.

Conversely, the discretionary grounds for refusal, delineated in Section 22(4)(b), allow the Archivist to refuse production if:

- (i) the refusal is permitted by the Act or any other Act, or
- (ii) the record is excluded from the application of the Act by Section 65 of that Act.

It is advanced that the sought-after records are not, ipso facto, excluded from the application of FIPPA as it relates to the Repository, which must be viewed as an Institution when exercising its mandatory and discretionary refusal powers under the ARA. Should the Repository, acting in good faith (bona fides), posit that certain records are subject to permissive refusal under the Act or another statute, a precise, written articulation of such grounds is necessitated. Furthermore, while the Repository may not strictly be subject to the deemed refusal provisions contained within the Act, the overarching principles of administrative fairness and transparency require that the Repository act with due dispatch. The current situation is characterized by the absence of a formal refusal, having been addressed solely by an ancillary reference to an Archives of Ontario Guide. Considering the diverse range of records potentially held—encompassing both public and private records pursuant to various agreements—such a generalized guidance document is deemed inadequate for the specific legal and factual complexities herein, representing a deficient application of rudimentary statutory interpretation principles to the facta probanda.

The Imperative for Decision

The Repository, operating as an agency of the Crown, is inextricably bound by the strictures of the Act. Entitlement to a conclusive administrative response is not merely an expression of courtesy; it constitutes a mandatory statutory obligation predicated upon the foundational principles of administrative law. The Correspondence, encompassing the detailed submissions within:

- Attachment 1 (Email thread number one - McLean with AO.pdf): Documenting the initial submission and the necessity of initiating a search for the authentic, complete records.
- Attachment 2 (Email thread number two - McLean with AO.pdf): Confirming the satisfactory provision of requisite identification documentation and discussing the pertinent date range of the records.

- Attachment 3 (Email thread number three - McLean With AGO.pdf): Delineating the specific file identifiers and the formal invocation of the statutory access mandate.

...demonstrates a prolonged engagement which now renders a final determination necessary. The non-existence of a formal decision—which must explicitly define the extent of records located, the nature of any utilized statutory exemptions, or a definitive declaration of the non-existence of records (de non apparentibus et de non existentibus eadem est ratio)—constitutes an ongoing failure to fulfil the mandatory legislative requirements of the Act. Consequently, the issuance of this definitive administrative action is imperative to enable the pursuit of available recourse before the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario, should that step become warranted, thereby safeguarding the applicant's substantive and procedural rights under the relevant statutes.

Timeliness and Modality of Access

It is herewith observed that the ARA does not stipulate a mandatory or definite statutory period for the adjudication of access requests; consequently, the expectation of a prompt and timely determination is advanced, consistent with the foundational principles of efficient public administration and due diligence. In the event that access is granted to any portion of the requested records deemed to be of a personal information nature, formal notification of a suitable time for in-person attendance and examination is required. Alternatively, and where technically and legally feasible, arrangements for the secure electronic transmission of said records are solicited, provided such modality conforms to extant security protocols and preserves the integrity of the material.

The Prudential Inclusion of the Archivist of Ontario: Institutional Accountability

The Rationale for Notifying the Head of the Institution

The Archivist of Ontario (Ms. Jacqueline Spencer) has been formally appended to this electronic transmission out of an abundance of caution and for reasons pertaining to institutional oversight and the necessity for administrative transparency.

As the most senior official of the Archives of Ontario, Ms. Spencer's appointment on November 7, 2024, confers the ultimate administrative authority and responsibility for ensuring the Repository's comprehensive adherence to its statutory and policy obligations regarding access and privacy. This authority encompasses the delegation of duties and the supervision of all decision-making processes related to the disclosure or refusal of archival records. The involvement of the Archivist is therefore not a circumvention of the established unit structure, but a logical and necessary elevation of a matter that has reached a state of administrative impasse.

Ministerial and Institutional Risk Mitigation

The position of Archivist of Ontario inherently carries a high degree of Ministerial oversight responsibility. The failure to issue a conclusive determination on a formal request for access may be interpreted as a potential institutional dereliction of a statutory duty, thereby introducing an avoidable risk of administrative sanction or litigation. This situation necessitates the Archivist's personal notification to enable the most senior administrative echelon to undertake a comprehensive review of the case file and provide the requisite guidance to the subordinate staff for the immediate and proper disposition of the request. This procedural step functions as a form of institutional risk mitigation, preventing the escalation of a localized administrative delay into a matter of broader governmental accountability.

Conclusion and Reservation of Rights

This instrument is proffered as a professional courtesy and is executed out of an abundance of caution, the objective being the accurate and veracious depiction and referencing of documents for current and prospective utilization. It is sincerely anticipated that this correspondence, incorporating the extrapolated legal principles, will serve as the necessary catalyst for the immediate issuance of the required definitive decision pursuant to the Act. The current administrative inertia, if prolonged further, will necessitate the procedural presumption of a failure to comply with the overarching statutory mandates governing access to information held by Crown agencies.

While I am not guaranteed access to the requested records I am entitled to a definitive response on now a forthwith basis.

Naturally, a reference to a guide is not a specific response to a specific request which was by referral.

The right to utilize this correspondence for any lawful purpose, including but not limited to, the initiation of a formal complaint or appeal to the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario, is formally reserved.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

(the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this epistolary communication. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion), which comprehensively articulate the legal and factual postulations herein. I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence, including specifically the definitions and designations contained within the appended electronic transmission titled "Gmail - Kind request - referral by Natasha - Customer Care Representative - ServiceOntario.pdf" (hereafter referred to as the "Initial Referral"). Furthermore, I incorporate the complete legal and factual assertions contained within the aforementioned electronic transmission as the "Contextual Analysis" by reference.

I. Affirmation of Precedent Factual and Legal Positions: The Doctrine of Tacit Acknowledgment

The substantive content of this missive is predicated upon the demonstrable absence of a definitive repudiation concerning the factual and legal postulations previously advanced by my office through the aforementioned Initial Referral. The lack of a formal, reasoned denial serves, prima facie, to corroborate the cogency of the submissions presented, thereby shifting the burden of rebuttal onto the responding institution. This protracted absence of a formal, reasoned repudiation of the central premise—namely, the location and transfer history of the information assets—constitutes, in effect, a tacit acknowledgment of the factual premise.

The principle of deemed admission (confessio facti), though typically applied in procedural contexts, illuminates the evidential weight of official silence in administrative matters. When an Institution, possessed of superior knowledge regarding the disposition and custodial chain of its public records, deliberately abnegates its responsibility to refute a detailed assertion, the logical and legal extrapolation is that the assertion is factually unassailable. This inertia on the part of the responding entity compels the irresistible inference that the Archives of Ontario (“AO”) has, in fact, engaged in the non-traditional placement of these information assets as initially postulated, leading directly to the jurisdictional anomaly that warrants this immediate clarification.

II. The Vexata Quaestio of Extrajurisdictional Record Placement

The crux of the matter, the “Vexed Question” (Vexata Quaestio), pertains to the institutional placement of certain records. I respectfully seek written affirmation that the AO has not asserted or denied that it positioned a “public record” (as defined by the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006) with an entity or individual that does not qualify as an “Institution” under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) or the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA).

This confirmation is germane to the fundamental legal principle that “no one gives what he doesn’t have” (nemo dat quod non habet). The transfer of a public record to a non-statutory entity is a legal nullity for the purposes of FIPPA access. An entity cannot confer FIPPA or MFIPPA status, and thus the attendant obligations and exclusions, upon a third-party repository unless that repository already satisfies the statutory criteria of an “Institution.” The placement of a record outside the statutory ambit of FIPPA or MFIPPA Institutions, even per the operation of the transfer and forwarding provisions contained within FIPPA, would consequently appear to invalidate the applicability of these legislative instruments, thereby creating a profound jurisdictional lacuna.

It is axiomatic and self-evident that a record contemporaneously relevant to an ongoing “prosecution” cannot simultaneously reside within the permanent holdings of the Archives of Ontario, as its accession to the AO is predicated upon the determination of its established “historical value” and the cessation of its active operational utility. This inherent dichotomy between a document retaining its operational status within a current legal proceeding and its definitive classification as an inactive, historical artifact for archival retention is antithetical. The moment a record is vested in the AO, it is administratively presumed to have exhausted its operational life, possessing historical locus rather than evidentiary locus.

The Attorney General’s ostensible omission to transfer or forward the access request to the Solicitor General (“SOLGEN”), an omission encompassing agencies such as the Ontario Provincial Police (“OPP”) or the Toronto Police Service (“TPS”, an MFIPPA Institution), resulted in the SOLGEN’s representation that it possessed no records subject to the original FIPPA requisition (“nil return”). This extraneous circumstance, combined with the SOLGEN’s nil return, strongly suggests that the record’s location, and the subsequent inapplicability of the FIPPA regime, was a result of this extra-statutory placement by a preceding custodian. This circumstantial evidence renders the AO’s custodial history absolutely imperative for the resolution of this access request.

III. Legislative and Jurisprudential Context: The Narrow Scope of Exclusion

The statutory framework governing the preservation and accessibility of public records in this jurisdiction is articulated primarily within the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006. This legislation establishes the requisite criteria for determining records of archival value and serves as the legislative foundation for democratic accountability, mandating not only the preservation of information assets but also their promulgation for historical research and public scrutiny. This objective of maximized transparency must inform the interpretation of any restrictive provisions under FIPPA.

Furthermore, I propose that the exclusion contained within Section 65(5.2) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act is demonstrably confined to excluding a “non-individual requestor” (i.e., a general requestor) from its purview. This specific legislative design is engineered to ensure the inviolable right of an accused individual to a “fair trial” (audi alteram partem). The underlying constitutional imperative is the protection of the s. 7 Charter right to life, liberty, and security of the person, which is fundamentally interconnected with the right of an accused to make full answer and defence and secure a constitutionally compliant fair trial. To interpret Section 65(5.2) as an instrument to frustrate the direct access rights of the individual who is the subject of the prosecution-related records would represent an unconscionable derogation from the Charter protections, effectively allowing an administrative provision to subvert a constitutional guarantee. The intent of the legislature in enacting this provision was to preserve the integrity of the prosecutorial process from extraneous discovery by third parties, not to interdict the individual's right to their own personal information.

I respectfully reserve the right to introduce and rely upon "Relevant Jurisprudence" (hereafter referred to as the name of the case) at a subsequent juncture to further illuminate the precise application of statutory exemptions and the decentralization of information assets.

IV. Conclusion and Assertion of Right to Access

I provide this letter as a courtesy and out of an abundance of caution to ensure that documents are truly, accurately and honestly depicted and referenced for current or future purposes, thereby eliminating any potential for subsequent factual or legal equivocation. This is an exercise in meticulous legal and factual fidelity and administrative decorum.

Naturally, there would not have been a referral from Natasha and her Ministry if there was no substantive merit to the Archives of Ontario having custody and/or control of the records sought. Moreover, the sustained lack of a categorical denial is entirely consistent with the records having been placed within the Archives of Ontario by an entity or person other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution, thereby triggering the exclusion articulated in Subject I.

I note that the Archives of Ontario possesses the statutory prerogative to refuse access to records where a permissible exception under FIPPA is applicable, which, by self-evident reason and given my status as the subject of the records, could not exist herein. Consequently, the entirety of Section 65 of FIPPA has no applicability herein by virtue of any of its provisions.

Simply put, the statutory regime governing the preservation and promulgation of public records, specifically the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006, is devoid of any provision that would sanction the attenuated response of merely directing a requestor to a general, non-specific research guide based on what conventionally or standardly are in the custody and control of the Archives of Ontario. Rather, it imposes a mandatory obligation to either provide an affirmative confirmation of an attendance time for the expeditious inspection of a copy of the record or to issue a formal determination of non-disclosure pursuant to a specified and enumerated exemption under FIPPA.

As there is no thirty-day statutory timeframe applicable within this precise administrative context, I mandatorily request that your definitive response be remitted no later than the close of business this day, in accordance with Subject III. Kindly confirm at what time I can attend to inspect some or all of the records requested and in what form, and/or provide the specific position of your refusal to some or all of the records and the explicit reasons why. Please be absolutely specific as to the exact provisions: the specific section(s) of FIPPA being relied upon, whether the exclusion is mandatory or permissive, and/or whether the refusal is predicated upon jurisdictional grounds of which I assert there are none. This level of detail is imperative to facilitate the efficient exercise of my rights should I need to pursue further administrative or judicial review.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

Thank you.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: Revised Correspondence Regarding Comprehensive Information Assets and Documents Retrieval Pursuant to Public Access Frameworks

Subject II: Challenge to the Determinative Authority of Research Guide 233, Criminal Justice Records (March 2023 Update) and Clarification on the Scope of the Records Requisition (Police Case ID: 457197)

(the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion), specifically: Gmail - Kind request - referral by Natasha - Customer Care Representative - ServiceOntario.pdf and research_guide_233_criminal_justice.pdf. I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

I. Delineation of Legal Principle: The Directory Nature of the Guide

I acknowledge receipt of your electronic communication and express gratitude for your delineation of pertinent research modalities. However, I must respectfully posit that the document referenced, the Research Guide 233, Criminal Justice Records ("The Guide") updated in March 2023, constitutes merely a heuristic advisory instrument and is devoid of the legislative and mandatory force of a statute or regulation. Its character, therefore, is solely directory, not determinative, of the rights of access prescribed by the relevant legislative instruments. To rely solely on "The Guide" as a basis for non-custody or non-disclosure without reference to the substantive provisions of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2020 or the appropriate access to information legislation represents a legal lacuna.

II. Scrutiny of Records Scope and Custodial AmbiguitiesII.A. Extent of Requested Information Assets

It is essential to re-emphasize that the purview of my antecedent requisition for records, information, and information assets ("The Requested Assets") comprehensively transcends the narrow confines of conventional criminal court files or ancillary judicial documentation. The scope encompasses all forms of recorded information and assets, without limitation to their custodial origin or physical format.

The ambit of the present requisition explicitly incorporates records originating from the Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP") and is identified by Police Case ID: 457197. My initial extrapolation suggests that these information assets are not definitively excluded per se by the specific provisions enumerated on page 3 of 18 under the rubric "Records not at the Archives" within "The Guide."

II.B. Non-Institutional Placement and Temporal Proscription

While The Guide primarily addresses the conventional transfer of documentation from institutional custodians, I must offer the following sylogistic extrapolation:

The capacity for information assets to be lawfully remitted to the Archives of Ontario ("The Archives") by a person or organization other than an Institution as defined within the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act ("FIPPA") or the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act ("MFIPPA") remains a viable legal possibility and is not statutorily constrained by any explicit temporal proscription enacted by the Legislature. Ergo, the absence of a record within the standard institutional transfer mechanism does not operate as an irrefutable presumption of its non-existence within "The Archives" holdings.

It bears objective articulation that I have never been adjudicated as guilty of a criminal offence and, consequently, have not endured any period of incarceration, save for a brief, albeit significant, four-hour custodial experience on October 2, 2024. This factual predicate is highly material to the disposition of access, given the potential for the records to exist outside the typical institutional custody pathways.

II.C. The Distinction Between Indictments and Court Files

Your assertion concerning the non-custody of criminal court files or related records for 2024 is acknowledged. However, this necessitates a crucial legal distinction: the difference between an e-filed Indictment and a substantively docketed court file number.

I hold reasonable grounds to believe that an Indictment was electronically filed by a police service subsequent to authorization by an authorized signatory (potentially representing the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN"), the Attorney General of Ontario ("AGO"), the Attorney General of Canada ("AGC"), and/or other duly authorized signatories). Such a document may, by operative effect, never have been formally accorded a court file number as typically referenced on a Transcript Order Form, and thus would not constitute a related court record in the most restrictive sense.

The existing response is therefore deficient in its failure to comprehensively cover information assets which were placed in "The Archives" that were:

1. Filed or laid documents, such as an Indictment, that never eventuated into an allocated court file number; and
2. Records that were placed by a non-FIPPA/MFIPPA Institution or a person or organization other than an Institution.

III. Concluding Demand for Substantive Clarification

Given the legal impediments and interpretative ambiguities exposed by the reliance upon "The Guide," I formally and courteously reiterate my demand for a definitive, substantive response pertaining to "The Requested Assets" rather than a mere reiteration of a research guide, which is demonstrably too attenuated and restrictive in its scope to constitute a complete answer to my expansive requisition.

I repeat and rely upon the above.

I provide this letter as a courtesy and out of an abundance of caution to ensure that documents are truly, accurately and honestly depicted and referenced for current or future purposes. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

Thank you kindly in advance for your time and consideration, and providing a definitive response after conducting a thorough search with the same in the spirit of an "access partnership". I wish to make abundantly clear that I do not castigate or make any allegation against the Archives of Ontario because of the language of the Legislature and the response of the, inter alia, SOLGEN that it could not find any responsive records along with that of the MAG which would be impossible as a matter of law unless FIPPA did not apply. The only exception would be that of section 65(1) which clearly states the following:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,

- (a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or
- (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004. 2005, c. 28, Sched. F, s. 8 (1).

I stand by my position and belief a person or organization other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution placed the same in the Archives of Ontario as per the referral by Natasha of the aforementioned Ministerial unit. As we know, the Information Package which included a Form 2 Information and an Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] was false. As such, there had to be an actual and legitimate Form 2 or Form 4 under the Criminal Code that was filed and laid and a corresponding arrest warrant. Obviously had the MAG placed the same in the Archives of Ontario, then FIPPA would apply. The same would be applicable to that of the SOLGEN (which includes the OPP) and the TPS. However, if a person or organization other than those Institutions "placed" the same with the Archives of Ontario, then that would mean, specifically not on behalf of an Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA or a person that is not an Institution under FIPPA, then it is placed in the Archives of Ontario and then FIPPA does not apply. I can confirm that no court file was ever created with the SCJ Criminal Law Office at SCJ 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. Thank you.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

CONFIDENTIAL CORRESPONDENCE: REVISED ACCESS INQUIRY

Date: October 17, 2025 (or current date)

To: Ms. Chloe Montpetit (she/her), Reference Archivist | Archives of Ontario

I. ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND COMMITMENT TO COOPERATION

I express my sincere gratitude for your electronic correspondence and confirm the provision of requisite identification documentation for official verification purposes. This communication immediately follows the expression of my appreciation to Ms. Natasha for her confirmation that the subject request has been duly lodged with the Archives of Ontario.

Please be assured that I shall endeavour to maintain a position of comprehensive and meticulous engagement within our collaborative access partnership, acting at all times in bona fide.

II. ANALYSIS OF THE TORONTO POLICE SERVICE'S INVOLVEMENT

The rationale for the inclusion of the Toronto Police Service (TPS) in this matter remains somewhat opaque; nevertheless, it warrants a formal elucidation.

The foundational principle governing the arrest procedure, as codified in subsection 29(1) of the Criminal Code, necessitates that a peace officer executing an arrest warrant must possess a copy of the said warrant and must produce it upon request. The TPS peace officer failed to comply with both of these statutory duties. Ergo, the TPS demonstrably lacked both the requisite custody and control over the instrumental record in question.

Further complicating the matter is the subsequent production of a document identified as a specious or fabricated Criminal Code Form 2 Information and a spurious Intake Court Endorsement [sic]. I have enclosed a duplicate of this "False Information Package" to empirically demonstrate the utter lack of authentic value in the records previously tendered, which substantively justifies the continuance of this laborious and resource-intensive mission to secure the authentic records. I also note that the falsified Criminal Code Form 2 Information purports to originate from a court officer (specifically, Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas), who provides professional services to the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) and the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) in Toronto, Ontario. In light of these circumstances, the element pertaining to the TPS constitutes an extraneous consideration, or, ad hoc, a red herring.

II.A. EMPIRICAL CORROBORATION OF SPURIOUS DOCUMENTATION

Subsequent investigations into the provenance of the alleged judicial instruments have yielded substantive evidence substantiating their purported illegitimacy. I can confirm that the Brampton Courthouse of the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) possesses no record of any arrest warrant having ever been issued by Justice of the Peace Jiri. Furthermore, the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) provided a post-docket court list which confirms, unequivocally, that Justice of the Peace Jiri was not in attendance on the date in question, September 23, 2024.

The conclusive lack of judicial issuance, coupled with the judicial officer's non-attendance, reinforces the assertion that the documentation produced in the accompanying "False Information Package" is materially and procedurally defective.

III. DOCUMENTATION DISCREPANCIES AND MINISTERIAL CUSTODY

I acknowledge the courts' general exemption from the application of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). However, intelligence procured from my authorized transcriptionists indicates, inter alia, the existence of a Criminal Code Form 4 "Indictment," rather than a Criminal Code Form 2 Information.

Customarily, such an instrument would constitute a record within the control of either the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) or, by definition, the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), pursuant to the execution requirements stipulated in section 2 of the Criminal Code and the Form 4 schema thereunder.

Given that the MAG has been unable to produce a copy of the aforementioned instrument through an antecedent access request, a corresponding request was submitted to the SOLGEN. In light of the salutary referral conveyed by Ms. Natasha, it appears plausible that the SOLGEN may have executed the instrument but did not retain an authentic duplicate thereof.

Consequently, Tribunals Ontario, having possessed a demonstrably relevant role in the locus in quo, is not classified as an "Institution" under FIPPA, yet it may satisfy the definition of a "person" or "organization" that may have effected the placement of the subject records.

IV. ANALYSIS OF THE FIPPA SECTION 65(1) EXEMPTION

The analytical nexus pivots upon the express language of subsection 65(1) of FIPPA, which is reproduced hereunder for precise consideration:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,

(a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or

(b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004.

As the TPS, MAG, and SOLGEN are unequivocally deemed Institutions under FIPPA and the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA), had any of these bodies placed the records in the Archives of Ontario, FIPPA would remain fully applicable.

Crucially, the statutory language dictates that the applicability of FIPPA turns entirely upon the identity of the entity that "placed" the records, or on whose behalf the placement was executed. If the actual (de facto) Criminal Code Form 2 and/or Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment were deposited by a person or organization other than an Institution, or on behalf of a person or organization other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution, then FIPPA would be rendered wholly inapplicable to those specific records, irrespective of the requesting body (TPS, MAG, SOLGEN, or any other Institution).

Furthermore, having been apprised of the position advanced by counsel for the MAG (lawyer licensee Mr. Sinnadurai) that the relevant courthouse would not retain a copy of a signed arrest warrant—a submission that runs counter to the fundamental legal tenets of the open court principle—this nevertheless becomes an academic point (obiter dictum) for our present purposes. The central finding remains that a non-Institution, or an agent acting on behalf of a non-Institution, may have effectuated the placement of the records at issue with the Archives of Ontario, thereby making FIPPA inapplicable under the explicit terms of the statute.

Therefore, the sagacious nature of the unsolicited referral from Ms. Natasha of Recordkeeping, Access and Privacy Advisory Services is made self-evident.

V. DISPOSAL OF PERSONAL INFORMATION AND CUSTODY ELIMINATION

I note the reappearance of the Archives of Ontario within the regulation entitled "Disposal of Personal Information" (R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 459), which states:

2. (1) An institution, other than an educational institution, may dispose of personal information only by transferring it to the Archives or by destroying it.

It is axiomatic that the designated heads of the aforementioned bodies, including those exempt from FIPPA such as the OCJ and SCJ, are constitutionally precluded from destroying documentation that is potentially subject to superior constitutional mandates, such as the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

Accordingly, the permissible "disposal" must be interpreted as the transfer of said documents to the Archives. While customary retention schedules are acknowledged, those schedules cannot logically supersede the clear language of FIPPA, which establishes no temporal prerequisite for an Institution to transfer records to the Archives of Ontario. Such a transfer serves to eliminate the element of custody and control by the originating Institution, or at least provides a strong basis for the legal argument regarding the same.

A fortiori, if a person or organization other than a FIPPA or MFIPPA Institution "placed" the records there, subsection 65(1) of FIPPA eliminates the Act's applicability altogether.

VI. CONCLUDING STIPULATIONS AND TEMPORAL PARAMETERS

Consequently, I am seeking archival records which, given this unique factual matrix, are those of demonstrable historical significance and, crucially, ones never formally proceeded upon or produced by the three aforementioned Institutions.

In light of the refined facts, the temporal parameters for this exhaustive search should be presumptively delineated as August and September two thousand and twenty-four (2024), while maintaining the current broader scope to obviate the omission of any relevant documents.

I shall be prepared to supplement this submission with further information and documents to assist your office. I thank you kindly for your swift response on a Friday and look forward to continuing this constructive collaborative effort.

For the maintenance of continuity and in anticipation of any necessary cross-Ministerial inquiries that may arise from the email threads, I have copied the Recordkeeping, Access and Privacy Advisory Services | Strategic Policy Division | Ministry of Public and Business Service Delivery and Procurement | Ontario Public Service on this correspondence.

If I can be of further assistance, please let me know.

Sincerely,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence. Specifically, this submission incorporates by reference the substantive content and chronological history of the antecedent exchanges with the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN") Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy ("FIPPA") Office, which are collectively defined herein as the "PRSG-2025-03601 Correspondence" (attached hereto, ad abundantiam cautelam).

Please see attached with respect to the emails where I was referred by Natasha, with thanks, to you.

While I did not directly contact her, my email somehow reached her by referral. As I have already contacted the FIPPA privacy manager with the SOLGEN and MAG, but FIPPA is not applicable to records in the Ontario Archives, I can see the sae value in her guidance.

I. Mandate for Correspondence and Referral Ab Initio

This present electronic transmission is necessitated by the recent administrative exigencies encountered during the prosecution of the aforementioned access request. The initiation of this specialized inquiry is predicated upon the sagacious counsel tendered by Natasha ("Customer Care Representative" at ServiceOntario), who, through electronic communiqué, proffered the judicious recommendation to redirect the purview of my records inquiry towards the Information, Privacy and Archives Division.

The aforementioned referral compels the presumption that records documenting administrative or prosecutorial actions of enduring legal significance may have transitioned from the operational custody of the SOLGEN to the dedicated archival repository of the Crown, pursuant to the established "Doctrine of Perpetual Administrative Custody" ("The Custody Doctrine": The administrative principle stipulating that government records of lasting value, even if initially sought from an operational ministry, transition to the Archives of Ontario and do not simply cease to exist).

II. Substantive Purview of the Request and Prior Search Lacunae

The objective of this request is to procure access to records pertaining to my person, which were previously deemed non-existent following a demonstrably circumscribed search methodology executed by the SOLGEN. The premise advanced herein is that the records, due to their profound jurisprudential and administrative import, have transcended the SOLGEN's immediate, operational control and are now securely lodged within the Archives of Ontario as the ultimate custodian of the Crown's documentary history.

The precise documents sought are those which predate and precipitate the commencement of criminal proceedings, and which are categorically excluded from any exclusive police repository, thus furnishing the definitive nexus to the archival collection:

1. Judicial Processes Documentation: The draft and signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, and all ancillary records, memoranda, or sign-off sheets relating to the evidentiary sufficiency analysis and public interest assessment conducted by the delegated agents (Crown Attorneys) of the SOLGEN in their capacity as the functional "Attorney General" for the purpose of preferring an indictment.
2. Specialized Records: The comprehensive holdings pertaining to my file from specialized ministerial sub-entities, including but not limited to the Centre of Forensic Sciences Records and Private Security and Investigative Services Records, the inherent nature of which necessitates a custodial transition to a long-term administrative record repository.

III. Legal Premise for Archival Custody and Ratio Decidendi

The legal mandate for this inquiry is established by the provisions of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31 ("FIPPA"), which governs the right of access to records within the custody or control of provincial institutions. I submit that the Archives of Ontario, in its capacity as the designated custodian of provincial records, retains an unwavering custodial obligation concerning documents that evidence a fundamental exercise of Crown power, such as the preferring of an indictment even when it was discovered likely some 14 to 16 months as to have been a step taken that lacked merit.

This position is reinforced by the jurisprudential findings various cases wherein jurisprudence affirming the custodial obligation of the Crown to maintain and transition records that document fundamental governmental actions), which establishes the indefeasible right of the public and individuals to access records chronicling such substantive exercises of State authority, irrespective of the records' subsequent administrative domicile. The substantive disposition of the prior request—namely, the claim of non-existence—is herewith rendered untenable until such time as an exhaustive archival search is effectuated.

While I appreciate that it would be unique for the Archivists of Ontario to receive such records like a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment or an arrest warrant that was not proceeded upon, it is not unprecedented or unreasonable as per section 65 of FIPPA:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,

- (a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or
- (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004. 2005, c. 28, Sched. F, s. 8 (1).

While I appreciate that the SOLGEN and MAG are institutions under FIPPA and the TPS would be an institution under MFIPPA, I note the following. The exclusion established by Section 65(1) does not apply to the records I am requesting in that the records I seek (Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, Centre of Forensic Sciences Records, etc.) are inherently the official, working documents created by the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN") and the Crown Attorney's office; and SOLGEN and the Crown Attorney's office are unequivocally "institutions" as defined by FIPPA (specifically referenced in subsection 65(1)(a)). The same would be applicable to the TPS. As I have already paid FIPPA fees to MAG and SOLGEN, I trust that covers the same.

Therefore, even if those records have been transferred to the Archives of Ontario, they remain subject to the access provisions of FIPPA, and the Archives must process my request to the same standard as the originating ministry. This fact further reinforces the legal standing of my detailed request I respectfully request that the Archivist of Ontario, or the designated Information and Privacy Unit, formally confirm the scope of search and the necessary administrative procedure required to initiate an investigation into the existence and location of these fundamental records within the provincial archival collection.

I enclose copies of my identification for ease of reference.

Respectful consideration is herewith rendered by,
/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: Request for a Compliant and Peremptory Response under Section 22 of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006

Subject II: The Inviolable Obligation for Preservation and De Jure Designation of Records of Archival Value Pertaining to Alleged Judicial Document Destruction (the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

The Preamble Disquisition on Statutory Misapprehension

It is with considerable cognizance that I address the continued, albeit inadvertent, reliance upon the notion of "court records" as a superfluous justification for non-compliance with the extant statutory obligations. For the avoidance of all possible ambiguity, I unequivocally reaffirm that this correspondence has never posited that the Archives of Ontario ("AOO") has taken receipt of any filed, laid, or otherwise submitted indictment or information pursuant to the Criminal Code from an office of the judiciary per se. Such an extrapolation of the factual matrix is inapposite and, consequently, leads to an erroneous conclusion.

The immediate and ineluctable issue is the procurement of a statutorily compliant response pursuant to the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006 ("ARA"). This is not a request initiated under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), as the Legislature of the Province of Ontario has demonstrably carved out a separate, specific, and distinct statutory entitlement within the ARA. My focus remains solely upon the peremptory entitlement to a response as delineated in Section 22 of the ARA, an entitlement that does not necessitate the initial remittance of the prescribed administrative fee of five dollars.

The application of fundamental canons of statutory interpretation is instructive in this matter. When construing two pieces of legislation that seemingly touch upon similar domains—FIPPA governing access, and ARA governing preservation and archival status—the principle of Generalia Specialibus Non Derogant (general things do not derogate from special things) compels the conclusion that the ARA, being the specialized, explicit, and particular statute governing the duties and entitlements related to archives, must prevail for the purpose of designation and status determination. To conflate this exacting statutory right under Section 22 of the ARA with the general disclosure regime under FIPPA is to fundamentally misapprehend the legislative intent and the distinct public interest purposes served by each enactment. The delay in providing the requisite response effectively frustrates the substantive right granted by the Legislature.

The Imperative of Preservation and Archival Designation

Statutory and Jurisprudential Context of Preservation

The foundation of this entire matter rests upon the unassailable requirement for the preservation of public records. The indispensable nature of this obligation is illuminated by the recent, continuous findings of the Auditor General of Ontario, which, while focusing on other governmental entities, consistently illuminate the systemic failures that the AOO is chartered to prevent: poor records retention schedules, unauthorized destruction of data, and the object failure to properly archive electronic records in a manner consistent with public accountability. Specifically, the necessity for formal training for non-elected political staff on records retention policy as per the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006 is a clear indictment of the broader systemic precarity surrounding public documentation.

The overarching duty incumbent upon the Archivist is not merely to house extant records, but to proactively prevent their unlawful dissipation. This mandate is firmly rooted in the imperative to ensure that the Government of Ontario remains accountable for its actions across the temporal continuum. The teleological purpose (defined by its end goal) of the ARA is the safeguarding of historical memory and the mechanisms of governance. Any action or inaction which derogates from this core principle represents a potential abnegation of statutory responsibility.

The Systemic Precarity of Unauthorized Records Disposition

The exigent nature of my current request is substantiated by the palpable and pervasive risks inherent in the current governmental records management regime. The aforementioned audit findings underscore that unauthorized destruction of data is not merely a hypothetical eventuality but an established systemic deficiency within provincial institutions, often occurring through the injudicious deletion of emails, the improper administration of retention schedules, or the inadvertent obliteration during the migration of records across disparate digital platforms. These systemic flaws create a perilous environment where records of high public value can be lost without any formal, auditable authorization, leading to an effective breakdown of the recordkeeping ecology.

The de jure (by right or according to law) mandate of the Archives of Ontario, pursuant to its governing legislation, is to serve as the final bulwark against this very form of records attrition. The records that are the nexus of this correspondence—pertaining to alleged judicial document destruction—are precisely the category of high-value public accountability records that must be rigorously and judiciously protected from ultra vires (beyond the powers) disposal. A fortiori (with stronger reason), the AOO cannot, and must not, inadvertently contribute to the very destruction it is legally constituted to prevent by delaying a peremptory response regarding the designation and custody of these records. The failure to immediately address the status of these records risks the creation of a lacuna (a gap or missing part) in the historical record, which constitutes an irreparable injury to the public interest.

The gravamen of my forthcoming separate submission to the esteemed Archivist shall be the de jure designation of the records in question as possessing Archival Value. This formal submission will be rendered in a comprehensive and formalized fashion, strictly in accordance with the unequivocal wording of the ARA. This process is designed to prevent not only the negligent destruction but also any potential destruction rooted in institutional mala fides (bad faith).

The Principle of Adverse Inference (Spoliation)

I respectfully direct your attention to the fundamental legal doctrine of spoliation, which underscores the inviolability of evidentiary preservation. I cite the jurisprudence of St. Louis v. Canada (Attorney General) ("St. Louis") - defined as the leading Canadian jurisprudence that confirms the doctrine of adverse inference in the context of the destruction or disappearance of evidence.

The omnibus principle of Omnia Praesumuntur Contra Spoliatores (all things are presumed against a despoiler or wrongdoer) operates as an inherent sanction against the unwarranted destruction of potentially relevant documentation. The concomitant application of this precept to public accountability records is an axiomatic reality that warrants immediate and diligent consideration by all parties privy to this exchange. The protracted and unsubstantiated delay in furnishing the mandatory Section 22 response provides a dangerous scaffolding for the inference that the records are being withheld not due to procedural complexity, but due to their content being inimical to the interests of the government body involved. This sophisticated syllogism—connecting administrative delay to the inference of spoliation—must be logically anticipated and decisively rebutted by the AOO through immediate compliance.

Conclusion and Expected Deliberation

My intention throughout this protracted disquisition remains resolutely resolution-oriented. I trust you can discern that I am exhausting all conceivable administrative and pre-litigation avenues and am not merely being slovenly or laggard in pursuing this matter, but am ensuring that all efforts are comprehensively expended prior to further escalation.

The paramount request at this juncture is the peremptory issuance of the Section 22 response, which constitutes the sine qua non (without which not) of statutory compliance. The continuous lack of a substantive response compels me to reiterate that such administrative inertia, in the face of a clearly defined statutory obligation under the ARA, renders the entire matter ripe for an application for judicial review. Such a remedy would compel the AOO to fulfil its statutory duty and provide a definitive answer regarding the status of the records. This is an outcome I assiduously seek to avoid, preferring instead a collegiate and expeditious resolution achieved through a full and compliant response to the requisition.

I sincerely trust that the esteemed Archivist, Dr. Spencer, is simply availing herself of her well-deserved time away, to which she is most entitled, and that her absence is not predicated upon any untoward health exigencies. I look forward to your immediate and definitive reply on the matter of statutory compliance.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: Request that you provide a compliant response under section 22 of the ARA by no later than four p.m. on Monday, November 10, 2025.

Subject II: The Obligation of Designation and Preservation of Records of Archival Value Pertaining to Alleged Judicial Document Destruction (the “Subjects”)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments, collectively defined herein as the “Attached Reference Document” (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein. I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

I. Affirmation of Statutory Authority and Scope of Request

This submission unequivocally asserts that the subject request for access and examination persists exclusively under the jurisdiction of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006 (ARA), and is not predicated upon the provisions of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). The ratio for this distinction is fundamental: FIPPA governs the right of access to administrative records for accountability and privacy purposes, whereas the ARA confers a separate, autonomous right to examine public records deemed of Archival Value, focusing on the intrinsic, historical, and evidential worth of the document itself, irrespective of its immediate administrative currency.

To preclude any possible ambiguity or interpretational lacuna, the documents constituting the “Attached Reference Document” (Tabs 1 to 7) at not all addressees, unlike the Chief Archivist, may possess the requisite copies. The Chief Archivist’s unequivocal legal obligation under the ARA necessitates a response that engages substantively with the unique powers and duties incumbent upon the office, specifically the authority to designate and secure records.

The statutory framework governing the right of access to records of archival value is clearly delineated within section 22 of the ARA. I reproduce the pertinent provisions in extenso for methodical examination:

Public Access to Records of Archival Value

Right of access to records of archival value

Public records

22 (1) Every person has the right to examine a public record of archival value that is in the custody or control of the Archives of Ontario, or a copy of the record, during normal business hours, subject to any restrictions imposed by law. 2006, c. 34, Sched. A, s. 22 (1).

Private records

22 (2) Every person has the right to examine a private record of archival value that is in the custody or record of archival value, or a copy of any record of archival value, if the refusal is required by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act or any other Act;

(b) may refuse to produce for examination any record of archival value, or a copy of any record of archival value, if,

(i) the refusal is permitted by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act or any other Act, or

(ii) the record is excluded from the application of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act by section 65 of that Act. 2006, c. 34, Sched. A, s. 22 (4).

Preservation of records

22 (5) The Archivist shall ensure that the records of archival value that are in the custody or control of the Archives of Ontario are preserved and that the information in them is accessible such that it can be understood. 2006, c. 34, Sched. A, s. 22 (5).

Given the exigency of this matter, I respectfully request the definitive, substantive response to my application no later than the conclusion of business on the preceding Monday, as I possess certain availability on the immediately succeeding Tuesday.

II. Analysis of Alleged Document Destruction and Preservation Obligation

A. The Tension between “Disposition” and “Destruction” in the Courts of Justice Act

The extant reference by your office to the Ministry of the Solicitor General (“SOLGEN”) is apposite, especially considering that the SOLGEN allegedly engaged in the fraudulent manipulation of the official Ontario government logo. This grave circumstance further compels my entreaty to the Archivist to designate the subject records as being of Archival Value, thereby triggering the forty-five (45) day preservation window in the event they are not currently within the custodial or control purview of the Archives of Ontario (“AOO”).

To ensure that both parties are ad idem on the mandatory “source law”, my persistent belief—which I am prepared to validate with declared or sworn evidence, thus morphing into “reasonable grounds to believe”—is that the Deputy Attorney General (“DAG”) of this jurisdiction, The Honourable Mr. David Corbett, formerly the Managing Partner of Fasken Martineau Dumoulin LLP (“Faskens”), issued directions for the destruction of documents and other materials situated within a court of fice. This office is incontrovertibly denoted as Room 241 at 361 University Avenue, Superior Court of Justice (“SCJ”), a locus hosting both Family and Criminal dockets, based upon the premise that such materials were no longer required within that venue.

I reproduce the text of section 74 of the Courts of Justice Act (CJA):

Destruction of documents

74 Documents and other materials that are no longer required in a court office shall be disposed of in accordance with the directions of the Deputy Attorney General, subject to the approval of,

- (a) in the Court of Appeal, the Chief Justice of Ontario;
- (b) in the Superior Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice;
- (c) in the Ontario Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice. 2006, c. 21, Sched. A, s. 14.

It is significant that while the operative text of the statutory provision employs the word “disposed”, the titular heading is denominated as “Destruction”. This juxtaposition logically suggests, in this context, that the intention of the Legislature permits the actual, physical annihilation of the records in question.

Consequently, there would be no conceivable conduit through which the AOO could have subsequently received such documents for their mandated custody and/or control, thereby cementing the legislative wisdom authorizing the Archivist’s intervention.

B. The Duty to Inspect and Designate Archival Value

It is not incumbent upon a citizen to “hunt down” the fraudulent manipulation of records originating from FIPPA or MFIPPA Institutions; rather, this critical duty devolves upon the Archivist. To impose such an onerous investigative obligation upon a private citizen would be inherently antithetical to sound “good governance,” which necessitates that the duty rests with the public functionary vested with the requisite statutory authority.

Furthermore, in the current geopolitical and social climate, the issue of record retention attains heightened significance, particularly when measured against the SOLGEN’s conspicuous support for certain communities while simultaneously exhibiting a demonstrable absence of support for traditionally marginalized communities within Ontario.

The destruction of “documents and other materials” in a court office, premised upon a cessation of need, may nonetheless render those records—which would be naturally, if technically exempted from FIPPA by the activities of a Record Placer, under the custody and/or control of an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution—pertinent to the following criteria under the ARA:

(ii) the development or implementation of a law or of a policy or decision of a public body, a legislative body or any other person or entity.

The DAG is, ex hypothesi, an integral component of a public body. The directives emanating from the DAG constitute a “decision of a public body,” and the implementation of section 74 of the CJA (and potentially an internal Ministry of the Attorney General (“MAG”) policy) represents the implementation of a law.

C. The Application of the Julius Rule

My prior correspondence, faxed and mailed, to the DAG demonstrates my diligent efforts in attempting to secure the records through alternative avenues. Nevertheless, the SOLGEN's subsequent response, declaring a non-existence of records, dovetails with the conclusion that the documents were either subject to destruction or disposition by a FIPPA Institution.

Should records involving a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment have been destroyed by a FIPPA Institution, copies of the same may still be subject to joint, constructive, or tripartite custody and/or control by another entity, including an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution. I maintain a profound apprehension that the records at issue are currently exposed to an imminent risk of destruction or damage.

Given your prior reference to the Toronto Police Service (“TPS”) and the SOLGEN, I trust that your office will proceed with the exercise of its duty. This is predicated upon the fundamental rule of statutory construction articulated in Julius v. Oxford (Bishop of) (“Julius”) (which holds that a permissive power (“may”) becomes a mandatory duty (“shall” or “must”) when the “may” is coupled with an ancillary duty or public interest, a rule cited with approbation by the Supreme Court of Canada). My independent exercise of rights under any statute, including the Criminal Code or a privacy statute, remains wholly independent of your statutory duties. It is in this manner that we both contribute to the shaping and evolution of the law.

D. The Irrelevance of Stinchcombe and Court Staff Representations

It is now prima facie evident that the presiding judicial officer involved in the matter was, at the very least on one occasion, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore. However, the representation provided by the MAG employed counsel, Mr. Sinnadurai, asserting that the Court does not retain copies of “signed arrest warrants,” implies the AOO could never receive such documents from the SCJ. This effectively renders the AOO dependent on transfers from Record Placers or Record Holders. While I contend that Mr. Sinnadurai’s representation is inconsistent with the constitutional imperative of the “open court principle,” it nonetheless represents the MAG’s formal posture in 2025, a perspective alarming on numerous dimensions, but one which simultaneously underscores the massive benefit provided by the AOO and the esteemed Dr. Spencer.

I therefore respectfully solicit confirmation no later than Monday as to whether any or all of the requested records were placed from a Non-FIPPA Institution or a Non-MFIPPA Institution (an external person or organization), or transferred from a FIPPA Institution or MFIPPA Institution to your custody.

I anticipate that your analysis may diverge from mine concerning the non-applicability of the following to my right to examine a copy of the subject records during normal business hours:

1. Permissive non-disclosure provisions under FIPPA or any other Act;
2. Mandatory non-disclosure provisions under FIPPA or any other Act; and/or
3. The exemptions from the applicability of FIPPA.

Notwithstanding any divergence in legal interpretation, the retention and preservation of these records are mandatorily required pursuant to the ARA and my formal request.

I have expended incredible resources, time, and energy in exhausting a variety of investigatory avenues external to the AOO and I remain appreciative of the initial referral to your distinguished office.

While the Court possesses the prerogative to destroy documents no longer deemed requisite in a court office—which was inevitably the outcome here—the obligations incumbent upon the police, vis-à-vis section 29 of the Criminal Code, differ markedly from those of the Court under section 74 of the CJA. Moreover, the Attorney General, as the Chief Law Officer in this province, remains bound by the stringent disclosure requirements established in R. v. Stinchcombe (“Stinchcombe”) (which mandates the disclosure of all non-privileged documents, positive or negative, to the defence).

I recognize that the decision to grant me access during the forthcoming week may not be the most universally popular of decisions, but the Rule of Law demands procedural and substantive equality for all litigants.

The AOO cannot, of course, destroy any records it has received. Should your office elect to cite a “donor agreement” as a restriction on access, I hereby reserve my rights in that regard and in all other relevant regards.

The role of the Archivist is terribly important in this province, particularly because she possesses the power to designate records as of Archival Value, inspect the same, and render that final determination. There is no discernible per se harm in effecting the designation of a Criminal Code Form 2 Information or a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment, currently under the custody or control of the TPS, OPP, SOLGEN, or MAG, as of Archival Value.

I reiterate the judicial determination of “control” articulated by the Court of Appeal for Ontario (“ONCA”), which defines it as the power to make the demand for a record. If that legal power exists (not necessarily a duty per se), the record falls within the Institution’s control. Consequently, the requested records became, at a minimum, under the control (if perhaps not the custody) of the AOO upon my submission of the requisite information necessary to trigger the right of the Archivist to demand copies of the same, even if only on a temporary basis.

I must respectfully urge you to refrain from expending further time in referencing the concept of “court records,” as it is well-established that these specific court records were not transferred to your custody, as such a transfer would have immediately exposed them to potential inspection and viewing by the public, an outcome the Court was clearly intent on precluding.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Recipients of Official Correspondence (Attention: Dr. Spencer, Chief Archivist with copies to Mr. Isaac et al):

SUBJECT I: REQUISITION FOR ACCESS TO TRANSFERRED OR PLACED ARCHIVAL MATERIALS PURSUANT TO THE ARCHIVES AND RECORDKEEPING ACT
SUBJECT II: IN RE: MISCLASSIFICATION OF REQUEST AS A FIPPA OR MFIPPA MATTER (THE “SUBJECTS”)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I. PROLEGOMENON AND AFFIRMATION OF ADOPTED DEFINITIONS AND ATTACHMENTS

This official correspondence is formally submitted concerning the aforementioned Subjects, which necessitate an immediate and substantive correction to the procedural classification of the access inquiry. Prior appreciation is expressed for the allotment of institutional time and the subsequent consideration afforded to this communication and its constituent attachments (by reference or inclusion). The finite yet invaluable resources of the recipient institution are duly noted, which is precisely why the requisite comprehensive dedication of time was expended upon the meticulous legal research and the subsequent precise application of controlling statutory principles to the factual matrix contained herein. The maintenance of procedural and substantive exactitude is considered a sine qua non—an essential condition—for the proper administration of the archival mandate, lest procedural irregularity vitiate the entire access process.

All definitions derived from previously, indirectly, or directly cited correspondence are hereby adopted. This application for access, the “Request”, is further predicated upon the foundational legal principle that it is sui generis—of its own kind—and demonstrably distinct from matters governed by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act or the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA or MFIPPA). The Request derives its jurisdictional footing exclusively from the ARA, which governs access to records in the custody or control of the Archives.

The following documents are incorporated herein by explicit citation:

1. Attachment A: The voluminous original submission and associated documentation, referenced as “McLean request AO – Tabs 1 to 7”.
2. Attachment B: Collateral documentation, specifically the internal guide titled “Research Guide 233: Criminal Justice Records” (the “Research Guide”).
3. Attachment C: The initial non-responsive electronic transmission from Mr. Isaac, dated November 7, 2025, referenced as the emails herein.

II. ERRONEOUS CLASSIFICATION OF THE ARCHIVAL REQUISITION AND NON RESPONSIVENESS

Profound appreciation is expressed for the celerity of the prior response issued by Mr. Isaac; however, the subject communication (Attachment C) appears to be patently non-responsive to the substance of the antecedent inquiry. The fundamental premise of the previous reply—specifically, the assertion that the Request is appurtenant to the responsibilities incumbent upon the Ministry of the Solicitor General or the Ministry of the Attorney General under the aegis of FIPPA—constitutes a fallacious classification that is legally indefensible and a manifest non sequitur. This procedural misdirection effectively functions as a de facto denial of access by subjecting the legitimate archival request to an inapplicable and unauthorized statutory regime, thereby circumventing the substantive obligations imposed upon the Archives of Ontario by the ARA. The misapplication of the statute is not merely an administrative error, but a critical lapse in the required jurisdictional competence.

A. Chronology of Substantive Inquiry

To establish the unassailable jurisdictional basis of the Request, the following chronological sequence of events and documents is presented, which substantiates that the inquiry pertains exclusively to the ARA (refer to Attachments A and C):

1. Initial Submission (Attachment A): The Request was formally submitted to the Archives of Ontario, providing detailed documentation (Tabs 1 to 7) that meticulously outlined the nature of the records sought. Crucially, the Request was framed to seek materials either placed or transferred to the Archives, explicitly invoking the mechanism of archival custodianship rather than ministerial disclosure under FIPPA.
2. Initial Archives Reply (Attachment B): On November 7, 2025, a response was rendered by Mr. Isaac which classified the Request as a “Freedom of Information (FOI) request” falling under the responsibility of the Ministry of the Solicitor General or the Ministry of the Attorney General. The reply asserted that the Archives of Ontario “does not have access to or oversight of these requests” and subsequently referred the Requester to the aforementioned Ministries.
3. The Non Sequitur of Referral: The response (Attachment B) failed entirely to address the central jurisdictional question: whether the Archives, under the custody or control provisions of the ARA, possessed the records sought, irrespective of their originating source (judicial or otherwise). This omission demonstrates a fundamental and decisive failure to process the inquiry under the correct statutory framework

B. THE OPERATIVE LEGAL FRAMEWORK: MANDATE UNDER SECTION 22 OF THE ARA

The Request must be adjudicated solely under the authority of the ARA, and the prior response constitutes a statutory breach thereof. The right of access to records under the control of the Archives is definitively established by the following mandatory provisions:

Right of access to records of archival value

Public records

22 (1) Every person has the right to examine a public record of archival value that is in the custody or control of the Archives of Ontario, or a copy of the record, during normal business hours, subject to any restrictions imposed by law. 2006, c. 34, Sched. A, s. 22 (1).

Private records

(2) Every person has the right to examine a private record of archival value that is in the custody or control of the Archives of Ontario, or a copy of the record, during normal business hours, subject to any restrictions imposed by law or by agreement between the Archivist and the donor of the private record. 2006, c. 34, Sched. A, s. 22 (2).

This legislative text confirms an unassailable statutory entitlement to access records, be they “public record” or “private record”, once they are confirmed to be “in the custody or control of the Archives of Ontario.” The key determinant is the location and status of the record—namely, its custodianship by the Archives—and not its original provenance or its classification as a “court record.” Once records are transferred or placed, they become subject to the ARA regime for access, superseding any prior FIPPA or ministerial disclosure processes.

The initial response (Attachment C) is determined to be a breach of the statute because it:

1. Failed to Apply the Governing Statute: It improperly applied the FIPPA referral mechanism instead of the mandatory access provisions of ARA Section 22.
2. Failed to Address Custody or Control: It avoided the requisite determination of whether the records sought (as detailed in Attachment A) are, or are not, in the custody or control of the Archives. The assertion that the Archives has no oversight of FIPPA requests is an administrative tautology that entirely sidesteps its fundamental statutory duty under the ARA.

The Request for a definitive statement on custody or control is a non-negotiable prerequisite to any subsequent consideration of access limitations under ARA s. 22(4).

THE INAPPLICABILITY OF FIPPA TO THE JUDICIARY AND RESEARCH GUIDE

The assertion that the subject matter may fall under the purview of general “court records” must be examined under the controlling principle that the courts of the Province of Ontario are not enumerated as “institutions” subject to the strictures of FIPPA or MFIPPA. This established legal exclusion is deliberately maintained in recognition of the constitutional imperative for judicial independence and the inherent separation of powers; consequently, records generated by or held by the judiciary are intentionally exempt from the administrative disclosure processes implied by the prior correspondence. Any attempt to redirect the Request to a Ministry operating under FIPPA constitutes a fundamental misapprehension of the jurisdictional boundaries established by the Legislative Assembly. This established legal exclusion renders any reference to the obligations of other Ministries under FIPPA inherently immaterial to the disposition of the Request, as the originating entity—the judiciary—is statutorily precluded from being an “institution” under the very Act cited for referral. The FIPPA regime is therefore entirely inapplicable at the point of origin.

Furthermore, the inferential reliance upon collateral documentation, such as the aforementioned Attachment B, the “Research Guide”, is deemed inapplicable in casu. Said guide invariably addresses the provenance and status of records held by the judiciary prior to any definitive archival transfer, and does not purport to govern the materials that have been transferred or placed under the definitive and exclusive legal custodianship of the Archives pursuant to the ARA. The Research Guide serves merely as an indicium of records location and content type, lacking the authoritative force of a governing statute or regulation, and its focus on access pre-transfer is antithetical to the current state of archival custodianship. Once records are placed or transferred under the ARA, their access status is governed by the terms of that Act and the associated agreement of placement or transfer, superseding the preliminary guidance provided by the Research Guide.

THE PROHIBITION AGAINST CONFLATION AND REFERRAL AND THE REQUIRED ARA RESPONSE

The Request does not pertain to the production of general “court records” per se, but rather concerns the distinct class of archival materials that have been either placed (the “Records Placer”) or transferred (a “Record Transferor”) into the permanent custodianship and control of the Archives of Ontario pursuant to the express provisions of the ARA. This classification distinguishes the inquiry from a routine FIPPA application.

It is incumbent upon this institution to recognize that there exists no statutory mandate or delegation of authority empowering the Archives of Ontario to unilaterally refer the Requester to alternative governmental institutions in this context. Such an action constitutes an improper and impermissible conflation of the distinct regulatory regimes—namely, the archival access regime governed by the ARA and the information disclosure regime established by FIPPA. The prior response (Attachment C), being strictly framed as a FIPPA referral, is thereby determined to be fundamentally non-responsive to the Request as formulated under the ARA. The attempt to transmute the archival obligation under the ARA into a procedural hurdle under FIPPA constitutes a demonstrable abrogation of the Archives' primary duty under the ARA. Consequently, the demurrer, premised upon a FIPPA or MFIPPA institutional transfer, is adjudged to be ultra vires—beyond the powers—the jurisdictional scope and statutory authority of the Archives concerning the disposition of records under its direct ARA custodianship. The maintenance of discrete jurisdictional boundaries is imperative for legal validity, particularly where the records' origins lie outside the FIPPA framework

The Archives of Ontario is required to provide a definitive determination under the exclusive authority of the ARA as to whether the specific records sought are:

1. In the definitive custody or control of the Archives of Ontario, having been placed by a Records Placer or transferred by a Records Transferor; or
2. Not in the definitive custody or control of the Archives of Ontario.
- 3.

A clear and unequivocal statement regarding the status of the records sought, grounded solely in the ARA and eschewing any reference to FIPPA institutions, is the required and appropriate response. This binary determination is the only administrative action consonant with the Request's jurisdictional basis.

III. LEGAL DISTINCTION: MATERIALS TRANSFERRED OR PLACED BY EXTRINSIC ENTITIES

It is of paramount importance to delineate the specific legal distinction governing the Request. The archival materials sought are those which were transferred or placed to the Archives of Ontario by an organization or individual extrinsic to a FIPPA or MFIPPA Institution. These extrinsic entities may include, inter alia, private individuals, incorporated associations, professional bodies, non-governmental corporations, or judicial bodies acting in an extra statutory capacity concerning records transfer which effect a donation or placement agreement. The resulting materials are defined by their non-public sector provenance and are thereby conscripted to the access protocols solely dictated by the ARA, free of the exceptions and exemptions inherent to FIPPA. This consignment places their management and potential accessibility solely under the exclusive purview of the ARA. The legal consequence of this transfer is a shift in legal authority, where the Archives becomes the sole arbiter of access, subject only to any donor or transfer restrictions permissible under the ARA.

The operative legal framework herein is the ARA, which must be treated as the lex specialis—the specific law—governing access to archival holdings. The provisions of the ARA dictate the disposition and access protocols for such materials and impose a positive obligation upon the Archives to apply its specific access rules, independent of the FIPPA exceptions that may be routinely applied to government records. This obligation requires the Archives to examine the specific deed of gift or transfer agreement to determine the applicable access stipulations, a process fundamentally distinct from a FIPPA exemption analysis. Accordingly, a comprehensive response is respectfully yet firmly requisitioned—a response that is entirely consonant with the legal strictures and statutory provisions articulated within the ARA, thereby directly addressing the ratio decidendi—the fundamental rationale—of the original submission. The proper application of the ARA is the conclusive and exclusive mechanism for resolving this access inquiry.

IV. PROSPECTIVE STATUTORY POWER OF DECISION

FORMAL INVOCATION FOR DEFINITIVE DETERMINATION PURSUANT TO THE ARCHIVES AND RECORD STATUTE

We draw your undivided attention, with the utmost deference to jurisdictional propriety and administrative comity, to the forthcoming, imminent issuance of a discrete, formal electronic communication directed to the esteemed Chief Archivist, Doctor Spencer. This subsequent transmission shall formally constitute the exacting and indispensable requisition for the official issuance of a requisite Notice of Designation to all aforementioned parties in interest. This initial step is demonstrably essential to initiate the statutory machinery designed for the perpetuation of public accountability.

ANALYSIS OF STATUTORY COMPETENCE AND ARCHIVAL RAISON D'ÊTRE

The central nexus of the impending inquiry involves the critical and non-delegable adjudication regarding the demonstrable archival *raison d'être (or intrinsic, enduring public archival value) of the subject records. This assessment must necessarily traverse the criteria of historical, informational, and evidential significance, ensuring the continuity of the corporate memory of the Crown. Correlatively, this determination necessitates the formal, affirmative actuation of the inherent statutory *vires (legal capacity) vested exclusively in the recipient's esteemed office for the definitive designation and perpetual preservation of these indispensable governmental materials. This power is a fiduciary prerogative executed on behalf of the public interest.

This procedural necessity mandates an official, timely, and unambiguous determination upon this pivotal matter, an action that constitutes a plenary exercise of administrative discretion. Such a substantial exercise, founded in a specialized mandate, directly impacts and delineates substantive legal entitlements and the public's access rights to foundational government records in perpetuity. The criteria for designation, which encompasses assessing the enduring value to the public and the historical record, requires a level of critical contemplation far exceeding mere procedural compliance.

The legal distinction herein is paramount and dispositive. The inherent jurisdictional divergence pursuant to the Archives and Record Statute (ARA) represents a function sui generis (unique) to that enactment. It is fundamentally predicated upon the competence to officially ascribe archival import—to confer a unique legal status of enduring preservation upon documents. This function is wholly discrete from and operates entirely independently of the general administrative obligations prescribed by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). FIPPA governs the disclosure or exemption from disclosure of records, whereas ARA governs the mandatory preservation of records, rendering any presumptive or secondary reliance upon the FIPPA framework inapposite, if not procedurally irregular, for the resolution of this particular matter of status determination. To conflate these regimes would introduce an element of statutory incoherence into the records management framework.

DEMAND FOR DEFINITIVE DETERMINATION AND JURISDICTIONAL CLARIFICATION

It is incumbent upon your office, as a matter of administrative imperative and systemic efficiency, to furnish a definitive, resolution-oriented adjudication under the explicit authority of the Archives and Record Statute (ARA)—and not under the ancillary or inapplicable auspices of FIPPA—prior to the cessation of the current business day. The exigency of this deadline is commensurate with the procedural delays already accrued and the need to arrest the potential for further jurisdictional drift.

We formally acknowledge the capacity of your office to exercise reliance upon any pertinent statutory exceptions or provisions explicitly enunciated within the ARA to justify the eventual disposition, including decisions regarding the necessity of preservation; however, this capacity, whether exercised positively or negatively, does not obviate the primary, mandated duty to render an initial, reasoned decision that addresses the archival status directly. The decision must delineate the legal justification for the outcome, whatever that outcome may be.

As unequivocally posited in the referral documentation, this matter originated from a relevant Ministry, and was accompanied by confirmation that the records at issue were subsequently placed with a FIPPA institution or transferred thereto from an originating entity that does not constitute a non-M/FIPPA Institution. This transference is consequential. Of particular and overriding salience is the notable and unaddressed lacuna (void) in your prior correspondence: specifically, the categorical absence of a clear representation refuting your current custody or control of the documents sought. Pursuant to well-established principles of administrative law, this silence must, prima facie, be interpreted as an admission that the records are currently and readily accessible within your purview and subject to your administrative control, thereby placing the legal onus upon your office to address the archival designation request forthwith. The failure to explicitly deny custody is tantamount to an acceptance of implied jurisdictional responsibility.

We anticipate your forthright, comprehensive, and unambiguous reply in this regard, and formally request that you eschew further iterations or mere recapitulation or repetitive regurgitation of prior submissions which failed to address the core legal question of custody, control, and the ratio decidendi (the fundamental legal basis) for proceeding under the ARA. Any further deviation from a direct response shall be interpreted as a failure to comply with the fundamental tenets of administrative transparency and efficiency.

CONCLUSION AND CALL FOR EXPEDIENT COMPLIANCE

It is posited with conviction that upon assiduous and comprehensive contemplation of the apposite controlling legislation and the granular particularities attending the present Request, a conclusive, legally sound, and resolution-oriented adjudication shall be duly rendered in limine (at the outset). Such an expeditious disposition will serve to maintain the procedural integrity of the archival process. We shall remain available for the provision of any ancillary elucidation or supplementary evidentiary materials deemed an essential requisite to facilitate the most efficacious and propitious resolution of this pressing matter. This cooperation is tendered with the objective of ensuring the entire administrative process is conducted secundum legem (according to law), with scrupulous adherence to jurisdictional precision, and to prevent the unnecessary escalation of a matter solvable through the rigorous application of statutory mandate.

Please provide a compliant response in accordance with the ARA (not FIPPA) by the end of the business day.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Good morning Mr. McLean,

Thank you for sending your inquiries to Archives of Ontario. Jacqueline Spencer, Archivist of Ontario, has asked me to respond on her behalf.

Based on the details you have provided, it appears that your Freedom of Information (FOI) request falls under the responsibility of the Ministry of the Solicitor General or Ministry of the Attorney General. Those ministries are in receipt of your request made under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). As institutions governed by the Act, the responsible ministry manages their own FOI requests. The Archives of Ontario does not have access to or oversight of these requests and is therefore unable to provide information regarding your file.

Although you've already attempted to follow-up with the Ministry of the Solicitor General or Ministry of the Attorney General, if you would like to try again, they can be reached by email at: foi.solgen@ontario.ca or by phone at 705-494-3080.

Under FIPPA, the Ministry has a responsibility to respond to your FOI request within 30 calendar days of receiving the request. If it has been greater than 30 calendar days, you may choose to file an appeal with the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario (IPC), which provides independent oversight of Ontario's access and privacy laws. To learn more about the appeal process, please visit the IPC's Filing an Appeal webpage.

Although you did not file a Freedom of Information request with the Archives of Ontario, we have conducted a search of our holdings at the Archives of Ontario, based on the information you provided. The Archives of Ontario does not hold court records for the year you're seeking. Ontario Supreme Court criminal case files, scheduled under record series R29, are retained by the responsible ministries for 20 years before being transferred to our custody.

It is also possible that neither the Ministry of the Attorney General nor the Ministry of the Solicitor General has custody of the records. Please note that Ontario's Courts manage access to their case files outside of the Freedom of Information request process. They have a published guide for how to access court files, documents and exhibits accessible here: Access court files, documents and exhibits | ontario.ca.

Unfortunately, we are unable to provide further assistance in this matter. We hope this information provides a clear summary of the options that are available to you.

I. Request for Access Confirmation time for tomorrow on Friday, November 8, 2025

To the Esteemed Attention of Dr. Spencer, Archivist:

I formally solicit confirmation for a precise temporal appointment of 13:30 (1:30 Post Meridian) upon the immediate succeeding calendar day for my attendance at the Archives of Ontario.

My visitation is necessitated by the recent acquisition of supervening and germane evidentiary materials, which warrant my timely inspection pursuant to the Archives' public mandate and the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, S.O. 2024. I confirm that there has not been no representation that the records sought, which are of Archival Value, are subject to any restrictions whatsoever. As such, I am entitled, without sounding entitled in the colloquial sense of the word, to inspect within a day of my request. Furthermore, my exegesis of the Uniform Rules on Access confirms the institutional commitment to a one-day processing cycle, validating the administrative necessity of my request.

II. Logistics and Administrative Efficiency

Prior ante meridian medical appointments constrain my availability, establishing 13:30 as the earliest prosecutable window; private conveyance has been secured to ensure seamless transit.

In the unwavering interest of administrative economy, I am entirely amenable to a streamlined process involving a cursorial pre-collection review of the documents, anticipated to be de minimis in duration. I respectfully and urgently solicit your prompt confirmation to facilitate requisite administrative due diligence by both parties.

III. Concluding Confirmations and Scope

I reiterate my reliance upon the aforementioned stipulations and express my appreciation in advance for the preparation of the requisite records in uncertified copy form. For optimal administrative convenience, my identifying particulars shall be re-submitted concurrently.

I further confirm that I have meticulously reviewed the provided institutional guide. I acknowledge that the Judiciary may lawfully effect the destruction of documentation pursuant to section 74 of the Courts of Justice Act (CJA), by direction of the Deputy Attorney General (The Honourable Mr. Corbett). Crucially, I am not seeking the Judiciary's extant copies, but specifically those previously placed by a Records Placer or duly transferred by a Records Transferor to the Archives of Ontario as the subsequent custodian and controller of the transferred records, whether by independent volition or official designation. I convey my gratitude for your administrative attention to this matter. As such, a few line email confirming the time and location (i.e. floor or office location) is all that is required.

My best to you in the interim.

Subject: Follow-up: Request to Schedule Review of Textual Records this Friday

Dear Dr. Spencer (Chief Archivist of the AO):

Thank you very much for your most recent email and the effort you took to look into the requested textual records. I greatly appreciate your advance work and, specifically, the confirmation that there is no indication of any restriction regarding these materials. This clarity applies regardless of whether the records are public, private, or if they were placed by a non-M/FIPPA Institution or transferred by a M/FIPPA Institution.

Based on this positive confirmation, I would be very grateful if you could let me know a suitable time for me to attend the archives this Friday to begin reviewing these records.

I am prepared to be flexible based on your schedule and look forward to hearing what time works best on Friday. Nonetheless, it will require some level of advanced planning as I have a variety of physical impairments (serious in nature) that limit my mobility. Thankyou again for your assistance and accommodating me.

Safe driving or commuting out there!

I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence. Furthermore, I hereby submit for your in extenso review the appended Tabulated Binder of Records (Exhibit “A”) and the textual summary of the Archives of Ontario’s public access protocol, which I have titled Appendix #1, the latter of which is referenced herein as a matter of administrative efficacy. The tenor of this communication is intentionally formal, gracious, and resolution-oriented, maintaining a strictly cognitive and non-emotional delineation throughout this analysis.

The necessity for this formal and detailed correspondence arises from the compelling need to definitively resolve the protracted administrative ambiguity surrounding my statutory right of access. This matter, having been subject to prior administrative equivocation and procedural missteps, now requires your decisive and judicious intervention. My extensive due diligence confirms that the requested access is not a matter of administrative grace, but rather a statutory imperative rooted in the explicit provisions of the ARA. We must transition from an impasse of non liquet to a resolution governed by statutory adherence and procedural rectitude.

II. Exegesis of the Ratio Legis Pertaining to Statutory Access

This section fundamentally addresses my unequivocal right of access to records of archival value (“Archival Value Records”) pursuant to section 22(1) of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2020 (ARA). This subsection establishes a proactive, affirmative right that transcends the typical exemptions found in general information and privacy statutes.

A. The Right of Access to Public Records: Originating Provenance vs. Custodial Locus

My antecedent request, which was initially referred from the Ministry of Public and Business Service Delivery and Procurement (MPBSDP), seeks access to Archival Value Records involving myself. This request is predicated upon my prima facie statutory right to examine both public records and private records pursuant to the ARA. The MPBSDP’s referral functions as an institutional nexus, confirming that the records originated from a source engaged in public services, thereby reinforcing the likelihood of their public nature.

The critical determination of a “Public record” (“Public record”: a record made or received by a public body in carrying out the public body’s activities) hinges upon the originating provenance—whether the records sought, specifically, any and all records placed by a non-MFIPPA or non-FIPPA Institution with the AO involving myself, were made or received by a Public Body.

1. Indictment Dossier as Actus Reus of the Crown: A fortiori, if the records sought constitute a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment, this document would necessarily have been made by an organ of the Ontario Government, such as the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) or the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), or definitively received by a similar entity in the context of an arrest warrant. In the jurisprudential context of archival law, an Indictment constitutes an act of the Crown and is, therefore, inherently a Public record. This record’s very existence is extricable from the function of the state.
2. Legal Custody vs. Physical Custody: The act of placing the record with the AO by a non-FIPPA Institution is not, in and of itself, dispositive of whether the record was initially made or received by a Public Body. The originating provenance dictates the public or private nature, irrespective of the custodial locus at the time of transfer. The AO’s physical possession grants it physical custody, but the record’s legal status as a Public record remains tethered to its legal custody by the originating Ministry. The legal implication is that the record’s character cannot be unilaterally altered or shielded from access simply by a change in its physical repository.

B. The Right of Access to Private Records: Disentangling Donor from Placer

I simultaneously maintain a right to examine a private record that is currently within the custody or control of the AO, subject only to lawful restriction.

1. The Proviso of Restriction: The definition of a “Private record” incorporates any restriction imposed by law or by agreement between the Archivist and the donor of the private record. The term “donor” presupposes a voluntary, unilateral conveyance of ownership and the right to impose terms via a formal deed of gift.
2. The Mere Transferor: Conversely, a “Record Placer” is a non-ipso facto donor; a placer may simply be an administrative entity that transfers physical custody pursuant to records management policy or retention schedules, while the original legal ownership or control may remain with the transferring body. Where a record is merely placed, a FIPPA Institution may retain substantive custody and control of the original or a replica thereof. It is only upon a formal transfer to the AO accompanied by a clear, legally defined donor-type restriction that the proviso of limited access would arise. Furthermore, I assert that as the subject individual of the records, I possess a superior locus standi and beneficial interest that should substantively prevail over any generalized custodial restriction, absent a clear and compelling statutory exception that explicitly supersedes my personal access rights under the ARA. The principle of ubijus ibi remedium mandates that a statutory right must be accompanied by an available remedy, which in this context is the timely and comprehensive search for these records.

III. Formal Request for Administrative Designation and Procedural Rectification

A. Rectification of Administrative Misapprehension (Subject II) and Statutory Tension

The previous administrative position advanced by Ms. Chloe Monpetit and other antecedent staff members—namely, the refusal to grant access—is not legally mandated by FIPPA or any other Act. The contention that a refusal is required is erroneous because it relies upon a fundamental misapplication of the statutory hierarchy. The prior staff inappropriately sought refuge in the FIPPA exemption regime when the ARA section 22(1) provides an affirmative right of access to Archival Value Records. The exemptions enunciated in sections 12 to 21 of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) are specifically crafted for routine public and personal information requests to Institutions and are inapplicable to this particular request under the ARA, which governs the AO’s specialized archival access function. The FIPPA exemptions cannot override a specialized, more potent right granted under the ARA. Consequently, the subject record cannot be permissibly excluded under FIPPA for the reasons previously articulated. It is my considered legal conclusion that the initial denial constituted an administrative misconstruction of my entitlement pursuant to section 22(1) of the ARA. The principle of non est factum is highly relevant to the administrative validity of the initial, erroneous response. Your assumption of carriage of this matter is thus fundamentally appreciated as a remedial administrative process intended to restore procedural fairness and statutory adherence.

1. The Quasi-Constitutional Status of Personal Information and Jus Cogens

The assertion that access may be unilaterally restricted by either an FIPPA categorization or the terms of a donation agreement is subject to immediate and rigorous legal scrutiny. The fundamental right to the confidentiality of personal data is to be meticulously construed and assayed through the historical continuum of Canadian legislative enactments pertaining to individual autonomy and the authoritative treatment of this prerogative by the superior courts. The Supreme Court of Canada has judiciously designated the federal Privacy Act, R.S.C. 1985, c. P-21, as possessing a quasi-constitutional imprimatur, a delineation reflective of the indispensable function that informational privacy executes in the perpetuation of a liberal and democratic body politic.

In the magisterial pronouncements of Gonthier J. in Lavigne v. Canada (Office of the Commissioner of Official Languages), 2002 SCC 53 (“Lavigne”), it was explicitly evinced that derogations from the rights enumerated within the aforementioned Act must be subjected to a restrictive and circumscribed interpretative analysis; ergo, any residual ambiguity must be resolved in favorem of the preservation of the substantive right, with the onus of demonstrative persuasion resting squarely upon the litigant asserting the exceptional provision (at paras. 30-31).

Furthermore, the apex court, in Dagg v. Canada (Minister of Finance), 1997 CanLII 358 (SCC) (“Dagg”), meticulously delineated the seminal jurisprudence governing the ambit of privacy law, unequivocally establishing that the protection of personal autonomy constitutes a foundational tenet in contemporary democratic states, a principle formally entrenched within sections 7 and 8 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

The necessary extrapolation of this legal principle into the context of archival record access is that a private, contractual instrument—such as a donation agreement—cannot, as a matter of jus cogens, be permitted to unilaterally abrogate or curtail an individual’s personal data access right, especially when that right is tethered to quasi-constitutional principles. Any contractual restriction under the “Private record” definition must necessarily yield to the higher legal authority and the subject individual’s right of access, in pari materia with the robust protection afforded by privacy legislation.

B. Administrative File Number (Subject I) and Procedural Efficacy

As the process is now under the judicious purview of your office, and to ensure proper administrative tracking and documentation of the request for Archival Value Records, I respectfully and urgently request that you furnish me with a definitive file number for my access request without further dilatoriness. The assignment of a unique file number is not merely a formality; it is an administrative necessity that serves to establish a clear time-stamp for the process, facilitates internal review, and is an essential prerequisite for any potential judicial review (ex abundanti cautela). The absence of a formal file number impedes due process and prevents the proper invocation of statutory timelines.

C. Request for Exercising Notification Authority and Commencement of Review

To the extent that any of the records requested involve a Records Placer or Records Transferor to the AO, I kindly request that you exercise your administrative authority to formally notify any relevant persons or entities, including Public Bodies, that you are designating the particularized records (to the best of my ability to describe them de novo) as potentially of archival value. This notification is a critical procedural safeguard against laches and administrative inertia. This action would formally commence the prescribed 45-day period for your comprehensive review of the same, ensuring that the necessary institutional checks and balances are swiftly executed.

For the avoidance of any equivocation or future obfuscation, I reiterate my considered view, supported by voluminous evidence I am prepared to provide, that the public records at issue are definitively of Archival Value and that any private records that exist in such a designation possess demonstrable provincial significance. This significance is underscored by the very nature of the records and the documented administrative irregularities that necessitated their premature transfer, suggesting a level of public interest that mandates the highest degree of custodial vigilance and proactive access.

D. Preservation and Conservation Restrictions: Seeking Reproductions Pro Forma

I further note the administrative criteria regarding records that are restricted due to the necessity of conservation review prior to handling. To render this criterion moot (pro forma), I explicitly state that my request is not for physical handling of the original documents but rather for certified or uncertified reproductions (copies) of the records, which is a standard service provided by the Archives of Ontario for fragile materials. As articulated in Appendix #1, access copies are made on demand for items like audio/film/video recordings, and reproductions are provided for a fee for all archival items. Therefore, the necessity for conservation treatment or a mold waiver does not constitute a valid impedimentum to the prompt release of copies, thereby nullifying this potential administrative constraint.

E. Requirement for Notification of Restricted Status

In the spirit of administrative transparency and to facilitate the necessary procedural recourse, I formally require that you notify me forthwith if the records (some or all) I am seeking are currently noted in the AO’s catalogue or internal systems as “restricted” under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act or any other basis, including conservation or donation terms. This information is essential for assessing the full scope of the administrative misconstruction (Subject II) and determining the subsequent legal and administrative remedies, if any are warranted.

F. Proposal for Expedited Access and On-Site Examination

I confirm that I have availability this Friday (November 8, 2025) to attend to examine copies of the records requested. Would this Friday be amenable to attend. If so, what time?

IV. Conclusion

I have diligently prepared and appended the Tabulated Binder of Records for your ease of reference, as I appreciate your responsiveness and assumption of carriage of this matter, and I acknowledge that you may not possess all previous records and attachments under your immediate control. The immediate and definitive issuance of an administrative file number and the initiation of the 45-day review process are the necessary precursor steps to a resolution sine die.

Please convey how I may further ameliorate this process or provide any supplementary documentary evidence to definitively establish the Archival Value and provincial significance of these records. I await your decisive and percipient response, with the anticipation that this matter will now proceed with the efficacy and adherence to statute that it deserves. Thankyou.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

No apologies necessary Honourable Ms. Spencer. I am grateful for your response as I appreciate your esteemed role in high demand as I fully grasped the nature of the unsolicited referral from Natasha of the Ministry of the Public Services and Business Delivery and Procurement to the Archives of Ontario. It also allowed me time to fully grasp why it occurred and the timing of the same. Thank you in advance for your search into the requested records and consideration of my request to delegate certain records of archival value and subject to a direction to potentially be transferred (if not already placed with the AO or transferred therein). I appreciate the vastness of your operation and the time it takes to search for the same and issue a decision, and I solely seek compliance with the Archives and Recordkeeping Act. Thank you kindly and wishing you a good rest of your week if you do not correspond before.

Formal Requisition and Courtesy Re-Clarification of Archival Search Scope

To the Esteemed Archivist of Ontario,

I. Objection to Preceding Disposition and Demand for Expedited Determination

I submit this communication to formally object to the preceding disposition which, upon careful review, appears to exhibit a fundamental misconception regarding the requisite scope of the records initially solicited. The premise underlying your prior communication—that the investigative purview of this request is constrained exclusively to materials constituting "court records" or documentation demonstrably within the exclusive custodia et control of the judiciary—is patently inapposite and non-responsive to the totality of the subject matter.

Given the exigency of this matter, I demand that a comprehensively revised and compliant determination be rendered forthwith, no later than the close of business tomorrow.

II. Extrapolation of Custodial Principles and Jurisdictional Lacuna

It is instructive to recall the previous stipulation from a representative of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), namely Mr. Sinnadurai, who advised that executed arrest warrants are not retained by the courts, thereby necessitating their procurement from the responsible law enforcement agency. Furthermore, a functionary from the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Recording Management Office previously affirmed that certain ex parte in camera hearing(s) were conducted within Chambers, were not officially transcribed, and were, ergo, never docketed.

This demonstrable reality elucidates the concept of a jurisdictional lacuna that exists ultra vires the conventional purview of records "on the books."

III. The Principle of Custodial Transition

Notwithstanding my reservation regarding the prima facie compliance of the aforementioned judicial conduct—which remains the subject of independent, internal, and external investigation—the underlying facts mandate a critical extrapolation of the principles governing custody and control. A fortiori, if the records in question do not constitute 'court records' per se, they must necessarily have been, at some juncture, within the purview of a law enforcement agency, the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), or the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN/OPP).

This chain of custody dictates that the records may have transitioned from a designated Institution under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) or the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA), or from a non-designated entity, prior to their eventual accession and deposit within the Archives of Ontario.

IV. Definitive Scope of Requested Documentation

It must be distinctly comprehended that the ambit of my present request is not merely restricted to materials potentially classifiable as judicial records. The request is designed to fully encompass all extant documentation falling outside the narrow definition of court records, including, inter alia, the specific investigative materials previously solicited under separate FIPPA requests directed toward the SOLGEN.

The request definitively extends to all records which, notwithstanding their creation by a designated FIPPA or MFIPPA Institution—or, indeed, an organization not subject to these statutes—were subsequently deposited (de facto or de jure) into the custody of the Archives of Ontario. To be precise, I seek the entire corpus of documentation relating to my person.

V. Formal Observation and Concluding Requisition

I formally observe that no preceding communication has constituted a categorical denial of the existence of the documents so requested.

I convey my availability to attend the appropriate administrative premises this Friday for the purpose of commencing the review and examination of the relevant materials.

I formally requisition that the Archivist of Ontario personally oversee the conduct of a diligently thorough and good faith search, and subsequently ensure that a substantive and compliant determination is expediently provided.

Hello Kevin,

Thanks for your email.

I've reviewed your request for records submitted and responded to by my colleague. Unfortunately, the Archives of Ontario does not hold court records for the year you're seeking. Ontario Supreme Court criminal case files, scheduled under record series R29, are retained for 20 years by the creator Ministry before being transferred to our custody.

I can help you with a different matter, but unfortunately we have no further information to provide on this request.

Subject I: Request for Access to Records of a personal information nature based upon the referral from the Ministry of Business and Public Procurement

Subject II: Formal Request for Access to records placed by a person or organization that were neither an Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA (the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This correspondence is formally directed toward the consideration of the aforementioned Subjects. Appreciation is herewith extended for the prospective allocation of resources and attention to this matter, as the finite yet valuable nature of institutional capacity has been taken into judicious account during the extensive legal and factual research culminating in this submission. All definitions previously established in the indirect or direct communications cited are adopted for the present purposes (the "Correspondence").

Analysis of Access Entitlement: The Mandate for a Definitive Determination (Ratio Decidendi)

This communication serves as a formal reiteration, establishing the imperative mandate for the Archives of Ontario (the "Repository") to render a definitive and conclusive administrative determination concerning the totality of the records requested within the ambit of the Subjects. It is noted that a fiduciary obligation of good faith (bona fides) is incumbent upon the Repository in its interactions with the public and the applicant. This obligation necessitates not merely acknowledgment of receipt, but the subsequent adjudication of the claim by either granting access or formally applying a statutory exemption to the identified archival material. The prolonged duration of this exchange, as documented in the appended materials, transcends the conventional parameters of reasonable administrative processing time.

Statutory Foundational Principles

It is discerned that the fundamental purposes of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act (the "ARA"), as articulated in Section 1, encompass:

- (a) the ensuring of the proper management, custody, and preservation of the public records of Ontario in a useable format for the collective benefit of current and future generations;
- (b) the fostering of governmental accountability and transparency, concurrently supporting effective administration through the facilitation of commendable public body recordkeeping practices; and
- (c) the encouragement of public utility of the archival records of the Province of Ontario as an essential resource for historical interpretation.

The synergistic operation of these three principles mandates that the Repository's internal protocols concerning access must be reconciled with the overarching goals of accountability and public utility. An indeterminate status of an access request serves as an effective impediment to the fulfillment of these core legislative intentions.

Applicability and Exclusions (Obiter Dicta on Lex Generalis)

Furthermore, Section 3(1) of the ARA stipulates that the operation of extant laws or privileges governing the protection of privacy or access to information concerning records held by public and legislative bodies is not curtailed by the ARA. Given that a person or entity not designated as an Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA is not construed as a public or legislative body, it is posited that the application of this subsection to records originating from such non-institutional sources is rendered inapplicable. This conclusion is reached through the meticulous application of the interpretive canon expressio unius est exclusio alterius, suggesting that the express mention of public and legislative bodies inherently excludes other entities from the direct scope of this specific preservation clause. Therefore, the processing of records originating from a third-party organization, whose status falls outside the restrictive definition of an Institution, requires scrupulous adherence to the access provisions delineated in ARA Section 22.

The Mandate of the Archivist of Ontario (Imperium)

The rationale undergirding the inclusion of Ms. Spencer is predicated upon the mandatory obligations vested in the office of the Archivist of Ontario.

- Section 8(1) requires that an Archivist of Ontario be appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council.
- Section 8(2) dictates that the Archivist shall administer the Archives of Ontario and shall execute the powers and duties assigned under the ARA. The term "shall" must be construed as bearing an obligatory, rather than a permissive, signification, establishing a non-derogable duty to ensure statutory compliance within the Repository's operational ambit.

Moreover, in the exercise of these powers and duties, Section 8(4) establishes that, notwithstanding any other Act or privilege, the Archivist shall have access to any public record, and Section 8(5) places an obligation upon public bodies and their personnel to grant such access. This legislative grant of ubiquitous access authority underscores the paramountcy of the Archivist's role in securing public records, which concomitantly implies an equally paramount duty to facilitate lawful access thereto. The ultimate responsibility for any lacuna in the administrative process of fulfilling the statutory access entitlement, therefore, inheres in this office.

The Prohibition Against Spoliation (Nemo Tenetur Se Ipsum Accusare)

It is germane to note the absolute prohibition stipulated in Section 15(1) against the destruction, damage, alteration, removal from custody, concealment, or rendering illegible of a public record. This provision serves as a fundamental safeguard of the integrity of the archival holdings, ensuring the evidentiary value of the documents remains untainted (res integra). The implication is that records, once deemed public and consigned to the Repository, must be managed with the utmost degree of professional and statutory integrity, a principle that extends to the prompt and appropriate adjudication of access requests to prevent any perceived subversion of the archival mandate.

The Management of Private Records (Ex Contractu) and the Doctrine of Custody

In relation to records originating from non-public bodies, Section 17(1) permits the Archivist to enter into an agreement with any non-institutional person or entity concerning their recordkeeping. The ensuing agreements, as set forth in Section 17(2), may provide for the preservation of, and the conditions for access to, such private records of archival value. This framework establishes that records, regardless of their origin, transition into the custody of the Repository, triggering the application of the ARA and its access provisions.

The judicial interpretation in Ontario Criminal Code Review Board v. Hale et al (1999, ONCA) ("Hale") is instrumental here, wherein the concept of "control" was found to signify the capability to mandate the production of a record. While the ARA speaks specifically to custody in the context of the Repository, the principle from Hale reinforces that the physical possession and legal authority to administer access—which the Archivist holds via the custody mandate—places an inescapable legal burden upon the Repository to adjudicate the access request definitively. The Repository possesses the requisite dominion over the records to issue a conclusive administrative action, irrespective of whether the records are deemed public or private under the ARA.

The Public Right to Examine Records (Ius Publicum) and Restrictions by Law

The right of access to records of archival value is statutorily established in Section 22 of the ARA:

- Section 22(1) grants every person the right to examine a public record of archival value, subject to restrictions imposed by law.
- Section 22(2) grants every person the right to examine a private record of archival value, subject to restrictions imposed by law or by agreement between the Archivist and the donor.

The phrase "subject to restrictions imposed by law" necessitates a specific and actionable identification of the restricting statutory provision. An administrative reference guide, while informative, is not law and, per se, cannot constitute the sole restriction under this section. The failure to cite the precise, applicable section of the Act (or other legislation) that requires or permits the refusal of access, coupled with the reasonableness of applying that provision to the specific records identified in the Correspondence, renders the absence of a decision procedurally defective. The Repository is compelled to delineate the exact legal mechanism being invoked, thereby providing a clear locus standi for any subsequent review of the determination.

The Statutory Framework for Refusal of Access and Deemed Refusal

The mandatory basis for the refusal of access, as set forth in Section 22(4)(a) of the ARA, dictates that the Archivist shall refuse to produce a record if the refusal is required by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the "Act") or any other Act.

Conversely, the discretionary grounds for refusal, delineated in Section 22(4)(b), allow the Archivist to refuse production if:

- (i) the refusal is permitted by the Act or any other Act, or
- (ii) the record is excluded from the application of the Act by Section 65 of that Act.

It is advanced that the sought-after records are not, ipso facto, excluded from the application of FIPPA as it relates to the Repository, which must be viewed as an Institution when exercising its mandatory and discretionary refusal powers under the ARA. Should the Repository, acting in good faith (bona fides), posit that certain records are subject to permissive refusal under the Act or another statute, a precise, written articulation of such grounds is necessitated. Furthermore, while the Repository may not strictly be subject to the deemed refusal provisions contained within the Act, the overarching principles of administrative fairness and transparency require that the Repository act with due dispatch. The current situation is characterized by the absence of a formal refusal, having been addressed solely by an ancillary reference to an Archives of Ontario Guide. Considering the diverse range of records potentially held—encompassing both public and private records pursuant to various agreements—such a generalized guidance document is deemed inadequate for the specific legal and factual complexities herein, representing a deficient application of rudimentary statutory interpretation principles to the facta probanda.

The Imperative for Decision

The Repository, operating as an agency of the Crown, is inextricably bound by the strictures of the Act. Entitlement to a conclusive administrative response is not merely an expression of courtesy; it constitutes a mandatory statutory obligation predicated upon the foundational principles of administrative law. The Correspondence, encompassing the detailed submissions within:

- Attachment 1 (Email thread number one - McLean with AO.pdf): Documenting the initial submission and the necessity of initiating a search for the authentic, complete records.
- Attachment 2 (Email thread number two - McLean with AO.pdf): Confirming the satisfactory provision of requisite identification documentation and discussing the pertinent date range of the records.
- Attachment 3 (Email thread number three - McLean with AGO.pdf): Delineating the specific file identifiers and the formal invocation of the statutory access mandate.

...demonstrates a prolonged engagement which now renders a final determination necessary. The non-existence of a formal decision—which must explicitly define the extent of records located, the nature of any utilized statutory exemptions, or a definitive declaration of the non-existence of records (de non apparentibus et de non existentibus eadem est ratio)—constitutes an ongoing failure to fulfil the mandatory legislative requirements of the Act. Consequently, the issuance of this definitive administrative action is imperative to enable the pursuit of available recourse before the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario, should that step become warranted, thereby safeguarding the applicant's substantive and procedural rights under the relevant statutes.

Timeliness and Modality of Access

It is herewith observed that the ARA does not stipulate a mandatory or definite statutory period for the adjudication of access requests; consequently, the expectation of a prompt and timely determination is advanced, consistent with the foundational principles of efficient public administration and due diligence. In the event that access is granted to any portion of the requested records deemed to be of a personal information nature, formal notification of a suitable time for in-person attendance and examination is required. Alternatively, and where technically and legally feasible, arrangements for the secure electronic transmission of said records are solicited, provided such modality conforms to extant security protocols and preserves the integrity of the material.

The Prudential Inclusion of the Archivist of Ontario: Institutional Accountability

The Rationale for Notifying the Head of the Institution

The Archivist of Ontario (Ms. Jacqueline Spencer) has been formally appended to this electronic transmission out of an abundance of caution and for reasons pertaining to institutional oversight and the necessity for administrative transparency.

As the most senior official of the Archives of Ontario, Ms. Spencer's appointment on November 7, 2024, confers the ultimate administrative authority and responsibility for ensuring the Repository's comprehensive adherence to its statutory and policy obligations regarding access and privacy. This authority encompasses the delegation of duties and the supervision of all decision-making processes related to the disclosure or refusal of archival records. The involvement of the Archivist is therefore not a circumvention of the established unit structure, but a logical and necessary elevation of a matter that has reached a state of administrative impasse.

Ministerial and Institutional Risk Mitigation

The position of Archivist of Ontario inherently carries a high degree of Ministerial oversight responsibility. The failure to issue a conclusive determination on a formal request for access may be interpreted as a potential institutional dereliction of a statutory duty, thereby introducing an avoidable risk of administrative sanction or litigation. This situation necessitates the Archivist's personal notification to enable the most senior administrative echelon to undertake a comprehensive review of the case file and provide the requisite guidance to the subordinate staff for the immediate and proper disposition of the request. This procedural step functions as a form of institutional risk mitigation, preventing the escalation of a localized administrative delay into a matter of broader governmental accountability.

Conclusion and Reservation of Rights

This instrument is proffered as a professional courtesy and is executed out of an abundance of caution, the objective being the accurate and veracious depiction and referencing of documents for current and prospective utilization. It is sincerely anticipated that this correspondence, incorporating the extrapolated legal principles, will serve as the necessary catalyst for the immediate issuance of the required definitive decision pursuant to the Act. The current administrative inertia, if prolonged further, will necessitate the procedural presumption of a failure to comply with the overarching statutory mandates governing access to information held by Crown agencies.

While I am not guaranteed access to the requested records I am entitled to a definitive response on now a forthwith basis.

Naturally, a reference to a guide is not a specific response to a specific request which was by referral.

The right to utilize this correspondence for any lawful purpose, including but not limited to, the initiation of a formal complaint or appeal to the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario, is formally reserved.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

(the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this epistolary communication. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion), which comprehensively articulate the legal and factual postulations herein. I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence, including specifically the definitions and designations contained within the appended electronic transmission titled "Gmail - Kind request - referral by Natasha - Customer Care Representative - ServiceOntario.pdf" (hereafter referred to as the "Initial Referral"). Furthermore, I incorporate the complete legal and factual assertions contained within the aforementioned electronic transmission as the "Contextual Analysis" by reference.

I. Affirmation of Precedent Factual and Legal Positions: The Doctrine of Tacit Acknowledgment

The substantive content of this missive is predicated upon the demonstrable absence of a definitive repudiation concerning the factual and legal postulations previously advanced by my office through the aforementioned Initial Referral. The lack of a formal, reasoned denial serves, prima facie, to corroborate the cogency of the submissions presented, thereby shifting the burden of rebuttal onto the responding institution. This protracted absence of a formal, reasoned repudiation of the central premise—namely, the location and transfer history of the information assets—constitutes, in effect, a tacit acknowledgment of the factual premise.

The principle of deemed admission (confessio facti), though typically applied in procedural contexts, illuminates the evidential weight of official silence in administrative matters. When an Institution, possessed of superior knowledge regarding the disposition and custodial chain of its public records, deliberately abnegates its responsibility to refute a detailed assertion, the logical and legal extrapolation is that the assertion is factually unassailable. This inertia on the part of the responding entity compels the irresistible inference that the Archives of Ontario ("AO") has, in fact, engaged in the non-traditional placement of these information assets as initially postulated, leading directly to the jurisdictional anomaly that warrants this immediate clarification.

II. The Vexata Quaestio of Extrajurisdictional Record Placement

The crux of the matter, the "Vexed Question" (Vexata Quaestio), pertains to the institutional placement of certain records. I respectfully seek written affirmation that the AO has not asserted or denied that it positioned a "public record" (as defined by the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006) with an entity or individual that does not qualify as an "Institution" under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) or the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA).

This confirmation is germane to the fundamental legal principle that "no one gives what he doesn't have" (nemo dat quod non habet). The transfer of a public record to a non-statutory entity is a legal nullity for the purposes of FIPPA access. An entity cannot confer FIPPA or MFIPPA status, and thus the attendant obligations and exclusions, upon a third-party repository unless that repository already satisfies the statutory criteria of an "Institution." The placement of a record outside the statutory ambit of FIPPA or MFIPPA Institutions, even per the operation of the transfer and forwarding provisions contained within FIPPA, would consequently appear to invalidate the applicability of these legislative instruments, thereby creating a profound jurisdictional lacuna. It is axiomatic and self-evident that a record contemporaneously relevant to an ongoing "prosecution" cannot simultaneously reside within the permanent holdings of the Archives of Ontario, as its accession to the AO is predicated upon the determination of its established "historical value" and the cessation of its active operational utility. This inherent dichotomy between a document retaining its operational status within a current legal proceeding and its definitive classification as an inactive, historical artifact for archival retention is antithetical. The moment a record is vested in the AO, it is administratively presumed to have exhausted its operational life, possessing historical locus rather than evidentiary locus.

The Attorney General's ostensible omission to transfer or forward the access request to the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN"), an omission encompassing agencies such as the Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP") or the Toronto Police Service ("TPS", an MFIPPA Institution), resulted in the SOLGEN's representation that it possessed no records subject to the original FIPPA requisition ("nil return"). This extraneous circumstance, combined with the SOLGEN's nil return, strongly suggests that the record's location, and the subsequent inapplicability of the FIPPA regime, was a result of this extra-statutory placement by a preceding custodian. This circumstantial evidence renders the AO's custodial history absolutely imperative for the resolution of this access request.

III. Legislative and Jurisprudential Context: The Narrow Scope of Exclusion

The statutory framework governing the preservation and accessibility of public records in this jurisdiction is articulated primarily within the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006. This legislation establishes the requisite criteria for determining records of archival value and serves as the legislative foundation for democratic accountability, mandating not only the preservation of information assets but also their promulgation for historical research and public scrutiny. This objective of maximized transparency must inform the interpretation of any restrictive provisions under FIPPA.

Furthermore, I propose that the exclusion contained within Section 65(5.2) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act is demonstrably confined to excluding a "non-individual requestor" (i.e., a general requestor) from its purview. This specific legislative design is engineered to ensure the inviolable right of an accused individual to a "fair trial" (audi alteram partem). The underlying constitutional imperative is the protection of the s. 7 Charter right to life, liberty, and security of the person, which is fundamentally interconnected with the right of an accused to make full answer and defence and secure a constitutionally compliant fair trial. To interpret Section 65(5.2) as an instrument to frustrate the direct access rights of the individual who is the subject of the prosecution-related records would represent an unconscionable derogation from the Charter protections, effectively allowing an administrative provision to subvert a constitutional guarantee. The intent of the legislature in enacting this provision was to preserve the integrity of the prosecutorial process from extraneous discovery by third parties, not to interdict the individual's right to their own personal information.

I respectfully reserve the right to introduce and rely upon "Relevant Jurisprudence" (hereafter referred to as the name of the case) at a subsequent juncture to further illuminate the precise application of statutory exemptions and the decentralization of information assets.

IV. Conclusion and Assertion of Right to Access

I provide this letter as a courtesy and out of an abundance of caution to ensure that documents are truly, accurately and honestly depicted and referenced for current or future purposes, thereby eliminating any potential for subsequent factual or legal equivocation. This is an exercise in meticulous legal and factual fidelity and administrative decorum.

Naturally, there would not have been a referral from Natasha and her Ministry if there was no substantive merit to the Archives of Ontario having custody and/or control of the records sought. Moreover, the sustained lack of a categorical denial is entirely consistent with the records having been placed within the Archives of Ontario by an entity or person other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution, thereby triggering the exclusion articulated in Subject I.

I note that the Archives of Ontario possesses the statutory prerogative to refuse access to records where a permissible exception under FIPPA is applicable, which, by self-evident reason and given my status as the subject of the records, could not exist herein. Consequently, the entirety of Section 65 of FIPPA has no applicability herein by virtue of any of its provisions.

Simply put, the statutory regime governing the preservation and promulgation of public records, specifically the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006, is devoid of any provision that would sanction the attenuated response of merely directing a requestor to a general, non-specific research guide based on what conventionally or standardly are in the custody and control of the Archives of Ontario. Rather, it imposes a mandatory obligation to either provide an affirmative confirmation of an attendance time for the expeditious inspection of a copy of the record or to issue a formal determination of non-disclosure pursuant to a specified and enumerated exemption under FIPPA.

As there is no thirty-day statutory timeframe applicable within this precise administrative context, I mandatorily request that your definitive response be remitted no later than the close of business this day, in accordance with Subject III. Kindly confirm at what time I can attend to inspect some or all of the records requested and in what form, and/or provide the specific position of your refusal to some or all of the records and the explicit reasons why. Please be absolutely specific as to the exact provisions: the specific section(s) of FIPPA being relied upon, whether the exclusion is mandatory or permissive, and/or whether the refusal is predicated upon jurisdictional grounds of which I assert there are none. This level of detail is imperative to facilitate the efficient exercise of my rights should I need to pursue further administrative or judicial review.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

Thank you.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: Revised Correspondence Regarding Comprehensive Information Assets and Documents Retrieval Pursuant to Public Access Frameworks

Subject II: Challenge to the Determinative Authority of Research Guide 233, Criminal Justice Records (March 2023 Update) and Clarification on the Scope of the Records Requisition (Police Case ID: 457197)

(the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I cordially write regarding the above subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion), specifically: Gmail - Kind request - referral by Natasha - Customer Care Representative - ServiceOntario.pdf and research_guide_233_criminal_justice.pdf. I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

I. Delineation of Legal Principle: The Directory Nature of the Guide

I acknowledge receipt of your electronic communication and express gratitude for your delineation of pertinent research modalities. However, I must respectfully posit that the document referenced, the Research Guide 233, Criminal Justice Records ("The Guide") updated in March 2023, constitutes merely a heuristic advisory instrument and is devoid of the legislative and mandatory force of a statute or regulation. Its character, therefore, is solely directory, not determinative, of the rights of access prescribed by the relevant legislative instruments. To rely solely on "The Guide" as a basis for non-custody or non-disclosure without reference to the substantive provisions of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2020 or the appropriate access to information legislation represents a legal lacuna.

II. Scrutiny of Records Scope and Custodial Ambiguities

II.A. Extent of Requested Information Assets

It is essential to re-emphasize that the purview of my antecedent requisition for records, information, and information assets ("The Requested Assets") comprehensively transcends the narrow confines of conventional criminal court files or ancillary judicial documentation. The scope encompasses all forms of recorded information and assets, without limitation to their custodial origin or physical format.

The ambit of the present requisition explicitly incorporates records originating from the Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP") and is identified by Police Case ID: 457197. My initial extrapolation suggests that these information assets are not definitively excluded per se by the specific provisions enumerated on page 3 of 18 under the rubric "Records not at the Archives" within "The Guide."

II.B. Non-Institutional Placement and Temporal Proscription

While The Guide primarily addresses the conventional transfer of documentation from institutional custodians, I must offer the following syllogistic extrapolation:

The capacity for information assets to be lawfully remitted to the Archives of Ontario ("The Archives") by a person or organization other than an Institution as defined within the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act ("FIPPA") or the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act ("MFIPPA") remains a viable legal possibility and is not statutorily constrained by any explicit temporal proscription enacted by the Legislature. Ergo, the absence of a record within the standard institutional transfer mechanism does not operate as an irrefutable presumption of its non-existence within "The Archives" holdings.

It bears objective articulation that I have never been adjudicated as guilty of a criminal offence and, consequently, have not endured any period of incarceration, save for a brief, albeit significant, four-hour custodial experience on October 2, 2024. This factual predicate is highly material to the disposition of access, given the potential for the records to exist outside the typical institutional custody pathways.

II.C. The Distinction Between Indictments and Court Files

Your assertion concerning the non-custody of criminal court files or related records for 2024 is acknowledged. However, this necessitates a crucial legal distinction: the difference between an e-filed Indictment and a substantively docketed court file number.

I hold reasonable grounds to believe that an Indictment was electronically filed by a police service subsequent to authorization by an authorized signatory (potentially representing the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN"), the Attorney General of Ontario ("AGO"), the Attorney General of Canada ("AGC"), and/or other duly authorized signatories). Such a document may, by operative effect, never have been formally accorded a court file number as typically referenced on a Transcript Order Form, and thus would not constitute a related court record in the most restrictive sense. The existing response is therefore deficient in its failure to comprehensively cover information assets which were placed in "The Archives" that were:

1. Filed or laid documents, such as an Indictment, that never eventuated into an allocated court file number; and
2. Records that were placed by a non-FIPPA/MFIPPA Institution or a person or organization other than an Institution.

III. Concluding Demand for Substantive Clarification

Given the legal impediments and interpretative ambiguities exposed by the reliance upon "The Guide," I formally and courteously reiterate my demand for a definitive, substantive response pertaining to "The Requested Assets" rather than a mere reiteration of a research guide, which is demonstrably too attenuated and restrictive in its scope to constitute a complete answer to my expansive requisition.

I repeat and rely upon the above.

I provide this letter as a courtesy and out of an abundance of caution to ensure that documents are truly, accurately and honestly depicted and referenced for current or future purposes. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

Thank you kindly in advance for your time and consideration, and providing a definitive response after conducting a thorough search with the same in the spirit of an "access partnership". I wish to make abundantly clear that I do not castigate or make any allegation against the Archives of Ontario because of the language of the Legislature and the response of the, inter alia, SOLGEN that it could not find any responsive records along with that of the MAG which would be impossible as a matter of law unless FIPPA did not apply. The only exception would be that of section 65(1) which clearly states the following:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,

(a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or

(b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004. 2005, c. 28, Sched. F, s. 8 (1).

I stand by my position and belief a person or organization other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution placed the same in the Archives of Ontario as per the referral by Natasha of the aforementioned Ministerial unit. As we know, the Information Package which included a Form 2 Information and an Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] was false. As such, there had to be an actual and legitimate Form 2 or Form 4 under the Criminal Code that was filed and laid and a corresponding arrest warrant. Obviously had the MAG placed the same in the Archives of Ontario, then FIPPA would apply. The same would be applicable to that of the SOLGEN (which includes the OPP) and the TPS. However, if a person or organization other than those Institutions "placed" the same with the Archives of Ontario, then that would mean, specifically not on behalf of an Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA or a person that is not an Institution under FIPPA, then it is placed in the Archives of Ontario and then FIPPA does not apply. I can confirm that no court file was ever created with the SCJ Criminal Law Office at SCJ 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. Thank you.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

CONFIDENTIAL CORRESPONDENCE: REVISED ACCESS INQUIRY

Date: October 17, 2025 (or current date)

To: Ms. Chloe Montpetit (she/her), Reference Archivist | Archives of Ontario

I. ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND COMMITMENT TO COOPERATION

I express my sincere gratitude for your electronic correspondence and confirm the provision of requisite identification documentation for official verification purposes. This communication immediately follows the expression of my appreciation to Ms. Natasha for her confirmation that the subject request has been duly lodged with the Archives of Ontario.

Please be assured that I shall endeavour to maintain a position of comprehensive and meticulous engagement within our collaborative access partnership, acting at all times in bona fide.

II. ANALYSIS OF THE TORONTO POLICE SERVICE'S INVOLVEMENT

The rationale for the inclusion of the Toronto Police Service (TPS) in this matter remains somewhat opaque; nevertheless, it warrants a formal elucidation.

The foundational principle governing the arrest procedure, as codified in subsection 29(1) of the Criminal Code, necessitates that a peace officer executing an arrest warrant must possess a copy of the said warrant and must produce it upon request. The TPS peace officer failed to comply with both of these statutory duties. Ergo, the TPS demonstrably lacked both the requisite custody and control over the instrumental record in question.

Further complicating the matter is the subsequent production of a document identified as a specious or fabricated Criminal Code Form 2 Information and a spurious Intake Court Endorsement [sic]. I have enclosed a duplicate of this "False Information Package" to empirically demonstrate the utter lack of authentic value in the records previously tendered, which substantively justifies the continuance of this laborious and resource-intensive mission to secure the authentic records. I also note that the falsified Criminal Code Form 2 Information purports to originate from a court officer (specifically, Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas), who provides professional services to the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) and the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) in Toronto, Ontario. In light of these circumstances, the element pertaining to the TPS constitutes an extraneous consideration, or, ad hoc, a red herring.

II.A. EMPIRICAL CORROBORATION OF SPURIOUS DOCUMENTATION

Subsequent investigations into the provenance of the alleged judicial instruments have yielded substantive evidence substantiating their purported illegitimacy. I can confirm that the Brampton Courthouse of the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) possesses no record of any arrest warrant having ever been issued by Justice of the Peace Jiri. Furthermore, the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) provided a post-docket court list which confirms, unequivocally, that Justice of the Peace Jiri was not in attendance on the date in question, September 23, 2024.

The conclusive lack of judicial issuance, coupled with the judicial officer's non-attendance, reinforces the assertion that the documentation produced in the accompanying "False Information Package" is materially and procedurally defective.

III. DOCUMENTATION DISCREPANCIES AND MINISTERIAL CUSTODY

I acknowledge the courts' general exemption from the application of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). However, intelligence procured from my authorized transcriptionists indicates, inter alia, the existence of a Criminal Code Form 4 "Indictment," rather than a Criminal Code Form 2 Information.

Customarily, such an instrument would constitute a record within the control of either the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) or, by definition, the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), pursuant to the execution requirements stipulated in section 2 of the Criminal Code and the Form 4 schema thereunder.

Given that the MAG has been unable to produce a copy of the aforementioned instrument through an antecedent access request, a corresponding request was submitted to the SOLGEN. In light of the salutary referral conveyed by Ms. Natasha, it appears plausible that the SOLGEN may have executed the instrument but did not retain an authentic duplicate thereof.

Consequentially, Tribunals Ontario, having possessed a demonstrably relevant role in the locus in quo, is not classified as an "Institution" under FIPPA, yet it may satisfy the definition of a "person" or "organization" that may have effected the placement of the subject records.

IV. ANALYSIS OF THE FIPPA SECTION 65(1) EXEMPTION

The analytical nexus pivots upon the express language of subsection 65(1) of FIPPA, which is reproduced hereunder for precise consideration:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,

(a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or

(b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004.

As the TPS, MAG, and SOLGEN are unequivocally deemed Institutions under FIPPA and the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA), had any of these bodies placed the records in the Archives of Ontario, FIPPA would remain fully applicable.

Crucially, the statutory language dictates that the applicability of FIPPA turns entirely upon the identity of the entity that “placed” the records, or on whose behalf the placement was executed. If the actual (de facto) Criminal Code Form 2 and/or Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment were deposited by a person or organization other than an Institution, or on behalf of a person or organization other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution, then FIPPA would be rendered wholly inapplicable to those specific records, irrespective of the requesting body (TPS, MAG, SOLGEN, or any other Institution).

Furthermore, having been apprised of the position advanced by counsel for the MAG (lawyer licensee Mr. Sinnadurai) that the relevant courthouse would not retain a copy of a signed arrest warrant—a submission that runs counter to the fundamental legal tenets of the open court principle—this nevertheless becomes an academic point (obiter dictum) for our present purposes. The central finding remains that a non-Institution, or an agent acting on behalf of a non-Institution, may have effectuated the placement of the records at issue with the Archives of Ontario, thereby making FIPPA inapplicable under the explicit terms of the statute.

Therefore, the sagacious nature of the unsolicited referral from Ms. Natasha of Recordkeeping, Access and Privacy Advisory Services is made self-evident.

V. DISPOSAL OF PERSONAL INFORMATION AND CUSTODY ELIMINATION

I note the reappearance of the Archives of Ontario within the regulation entitled “Disposal of Personal Information” (R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 459), which states:

2. (1) An institution, other than an educational institution, may dispose of personal information only by transferring it to the Archives or by destroying it.

It is axiomatic that the designated heads of the aforementioned bodies, including those exempt from FIPPA such as the OCJ and SCJ, are constitutionally precluded from destroying documentation that is potentially subject to superior constitutional mandates, such as the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Accordingly, the permissible “disposal” must be interpreted as the transfer of said documents to the Archives.

While customary retention schedules are acknowledged, those schedules cannot logically supersede the clear language of FIPPA, which establishes no temporal prerequisite for an Institution to transfer records to the Archives of Ontario. Such a transfer serves to eliminate the element of custody and control by the originating Institution, or at least provides a strong basis for the legal argument regarding the same.

A fortiori, if a person or organization other than a FIPPA or MFIPPA Institution “placed” the records there, subsection 65(1) of FIPPA eliminates the Act’s applicability altogether.

VI. CONCLUDING STIPULATIONS AND TEMPORAL PARAMETERS

Consequently, I am seeking archival records which, given this unique factual matrix, are those of demonstrable historical significance and, crucially, ones never formally proceeded upon or produced by the three aforementioned Institutions.

In light of the refined facts, the temporal parameters for this exhaustive search should be presumptively delineated as August and September two thousand and twenty-four (2024), while maintaining the current broader scope to obviate the omission of any relevant documents.

I shall be prepared to supplement this submission with further information and documents to assist your office. I thank you kindly for your swift response on a Friday and look forward to continuing this constructive collaborative effort.

For the maintenance of continuity and in anticipation of any necessary cross-Ministerial inquiries that may arise from the email threads, I have copied the Recordkeeping, Access and Privacy Advisory Services | Strategic Policy Division | Ministry of Public and Business Service Delivery and Procurement | Ontario Public Service on this correspondence.

If I can be of further assistance, please let me know.

Sincerely,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

While I did not directly contact her, my email somehow reached her by referral. As I have already contacted the FIPPA privacy manager with the SOLGEN and MAG, but FIPPA is not applicable to records in the Ontario Archives, I can see the same value in her guidance.

I. Mandate for Correspondence and Referral Ab Initio

This present electronic transmission is necessitated by the recent administrative exigencies encountered during the prosecution of the aforementioned access request. The initiation of this specialized inquiry is predicated upon the sagacious counsel tendered by Natasha ("Customer Care Representative" at ServiceOntario), who, through electronic communiqué, proffered the judicious recommendation to redirect the purview of my records inquiry towards the Information, Privacy and Archives Division.

The aforementioned referral compels the presumption that records documenting administrative or prosecutorial actions of enduring legal significance may have transitioned from the operational custody of the SOLGEN to the dedicated archival repository of the Crown, pursuant to the established "Doctrine of Perpetual Administrative Custody" ("The Custody Doctrine": The administrative principle stipulating that government records of lasting value, even if initially sought from an operational ministry, transition to the Archives of Ontario and do not simply cease to exist).

II. Substantive Purview of the Request and Prior Search Lacunae

The objective of this request is to procure access to records pertaining to my person, which were previously deemed non-existent following a demonstrably circumscribed search methodology executed by the SOLGEN. The premise advanced herein is that the records, due to their profound jurisprudential and administrative import, have transcended the SOLGEN's immediate, operational control and are now securely lodged within the Archives of Ontario as the ultimate custodian of the Crown's documentary history.

The precise documents sought are those which predate and precipitate the commencement of criminal proceedings, and which are categorically excluded from any exclusive police repository, thus furnishing the definitive nexus to the archival collection:

1. Judicial Processes Documentation: The draft and signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, and all ancillary records, memoranda, or sign-off sheets relating to the evidentiary sufficiency analysis and public interest assessment conducted by the delegated agents (Crown Attorneys) of the SOLGEN in their capacity as the functional "Attorney General" for the purpose of preferring an indictment.
2. Specialized Records: The comprehensive holdings pertaining to my file from specialized ministerial sub-entities, including but not limited to the Centre of Forensic Sciences Records and Private Security and Investigative Services Records, the inherent nature of which necessitates a custodial transition to a long-term administrative record repository.

III. Legal Premise for Archival Custody and Ratio Decidendi

The legal mandate for this inquiry is established by the provisions of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31 ("FIPPA"), which governs the right of access to records within the custody or control of provincial institutions. I submit that the Archives of Ontario, in its capacity as the designated custodian of provincial records, retains an unwavering custodial obligation concerning documents that evidence a fundamental exercise of Crown power, such as the preferring of an indictment even when it was discovered likely some 14 to 16 months as to have been a step taken that lacked merit.

This position is reinforced by the jurisprudential findings various cases wherein jurisprudence affirming the custodial obligation of the Crown to maintain and transition records that document fundamental governmental actions), which establishes the indefeasible right of the public and individuals to access records chronicling such substantive exercises of State authority, irrespective of the records' subsequent administrative domicile. The substantive disposition of the prior request—namely, the claim of non-existence—is herewith rendered untenable until such time as an exhaustive archival search is effectuated.

While I appreciate that it would be unique for the Archivists of Ontario to receive such records like a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment or an arrest warrant that was not proceeded upon, it is not unprecedented or unreasonable as per section 65 of FIPPA:

Application of Act

65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than,
 (a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or
 (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004. 2005, c. 28, Sched. F, s. 8 (1).

While I appreciate that the SOLGEN and MAG are institutions under FIPPA and the TPS would be an institution under MFIPPA, I note the following. The exclusion established by Section 65(1) does not apply to the records I am requesting in that the records I seek (Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments, Centre of Forensic Sciences Records, etc.) are inherently the official, working documents created by the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN") and the Crown Attorney's office; and SOLGEN and the Crown Attorney's office are unequivocally "institutions" as defined by FIPPA (specifically referenced in subsection 65(1)(a)). The same would be applicable to the TPS. As I have already paid FIPPA fees to MAG and SOLGEN, I trust that covers the same. Therefore, even if those records have been transferred to the Archives of Ontario, they remain subject to the access provisions of FIPPA, and the Archives must process my request to the same standard as the originating ministry. This fact further reinforces the legal standing of my detailed request.

I respectfully request that the Archivist of Ontario, or the designated Information and Privacy Unit, formally confirm the scope of search and the necessary administrative procedure required to initiate an investigation into the existence and location of these fundamental records within the provincial archival collection.

I enclose copies of my identification for ease of reference.

Respectful consideration is herewith rendered by,
 /s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Good Evening Natasha, thank you for your email as it is appreciated. I am not sure I see an email to you directly but I will take that in stride accordingly and take guidance of your sage referral and I note your reference to archives which I had recently turned my mind to. I will reach out to them with thanks.

I hope the long weekend treated you well and thank you for reaching out.

Dear SOLGEN:

Kindly see the attached access request and reference number below. The False Information Package that I am referring to is also attached. For security and verification purposes, my identification is also attached.

You will have the fulsome and sufficiently particularized details of what I have sought in the access request.

For ease of reference and expediency purposes, is the Police Case File ID that of a string or the entire number string for the OPP?

Also, do you have Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments drafted and/or signed by the SOLGEN in relation to myself?

I will provide some further underlying documents to assist where I can and in the spirit of our "access partnership",

Thankyou.

Ministry of Solicitor GeneralFIPPA Division

Subject I: Formal Clarification and Repudiation of Non-Compliant Ministerial Response

Subject II: Demand for FIPPA Compliance and Cure of Jurisdictional Deficiency

(the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion), including the annexed document entitled "Prior Submission" (the "Prior Submission"), cited herein by way of appurtenance and amplification. I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein, thereby ensuring the presentation of precise and cogent legal analysis. I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

I. REQUISITION FOR CLARIFICATION AND JURISDICTIONAL DEFICIENCYA. Manifest Misapprehension of Institutional Authority

A clarification of the extant correspondence is necessitated, addressing a manifest misapprehension regarding the parameters of the prior submission, which regrettably appears to persist in the current internal communications of the Ministry. The individual who furnished the previous reply, identified as Ms. Ellis ("Ms. Ellis"), does not, de jure (as a matter of law), possess the requisite designated authority as the head of the "Institution" ("Institution") for the purposes of rendering a binding determination on behalf of the Ministry in the context of the legislative framework hereinafter detailed.

The metadata demonstrates a different author by some initials.

This is a matter of public interest that must be addressed forthwith.

The response furnished sub nomine (under the name of) the Ministry constitutes a purported and ineffectual document (the "Purported Response"), being materially non-compliant with the prescribed formatting and indicia requirements, particularly concerning the official government insignia, which is a sine qua non (an essential condition) of validity. This deficiency renders the document a legal nullity.

II. LEGAL EXTRAPOLATION AND VITIATION AB INITIOA. Application of FIPPA and Vitiatio

The Ministry must be fully cognizant of the principle, elucidated in the jurisprudence which establishes the Doctrine of Strict Statutory Compliance (“Doctrine of Strict Statutory Compliance”). Pursuant to this Doctrine of Strict Statutory Compliance, absent the meticulous adherence to all procedural and substantive mandates of the applicable legislation, the resultant administrative action is inherently susceptible to legal challenge.

Consequently, and in the absence of a properly executed instrument of delegation or a wholly compliant official determination, the Purported Response, which was purportedly issued pursuant to sections 26 and 29 of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (“FIPPA”), remains legally void ab initio (“void ab initio” or having no legal effect from the beginning). As the initial action is void, the deficiency is not susceptible to a nunc pro tunc (now for then) remedy, but rather necessitates an entirely new and compliant execution.

B. Maintenance of Recipient Inclusion

In light of the ongoing jurisdictional and procedural deficiencies, which demonstrate an absence of substantive compliance, the Ministry may anticipate the continued inclusion of extant recipients in all subsequent electronic transmissions concerning the Subjects. This is a procedural safeguard maintained out of an abundance of caution until a procedurally unimpeachable response has been duly processed and transmitted.

III. CONCLUSION AND DEMAND FOR RESOLUTION

I provide this letter as a courtesy and out of an abundance of caution to ensure that documents are truly, accurately and honestly depicted and referenced for current or future purposes. It is respectfully but firmly incumbent upon the Ministry to furnish forthwith a responsive and wholly compliant determination in accordance with the strictures of FIPPA. The aforementioned legal and procedural deficiencies render the Purported Response pro non scripto (as though it had not been written); accordingly, the necessity of a correct and valid response is self-evident.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECTS

Subject I: Exigent Correspondence Regarding Substantive Deficiencies in Access Request File PRSG-2025-03601 Pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act

Subject II: Formal Request for Ministerial Intervention to Ensure Comprehensive Search and Adherence to Custodial and Regulatory Mandates (the “Subjects” or “Foci”)

I. Preamble, Adoption of Definitions, and Jurisdictional Bona Fides

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and judicious consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time and scrupulous diligence to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein, thereby pre-emptively mitigating the research burden upon your administrative personnel. The underlying imperative for this communication rests upon the fundamental right of access and the correlative duty of comprehensive disclosure incumbent upon a governmental institution.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence. Specifically, formal acknowledgement is herewith extended concerning the administrative file number PRSG-2025-03601 (the “Assigned Docket”), which pertains to the comprehensive application for access to my personal information pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), which is the governing legislation dictating the right of access to records under the custody and control of governmental institutions. The request is executed with the utmost professional bona fides (“good faith”) and a profound respect for the statutory framework designed to foster transparency and accountability within the executive domain. The onus probandi (“burden of proof”) for the adequacy of the search rests squarely upon the Ministry, and the present facts suggest that this material obligation has not been discharged with the requisite thoroughness. The enclosed decision letter, dated October 6, 2025, (the “Decision Letter”), issued by Noel Kent, Senior Manager, for the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Services, formally asserts that “no responsive records were located” after a search restricted solely to the Ontario Provincial Police. Since the document is a “false document” in that it manipulated the government logo and name of the “Ontario Government” logo, it is void ab initio and requires a re-issuing of the same.

II. Analysis of Unduly Circumscribed Search Parameters and Statutory Interpretation

The operative premise of the administrative determination issued in the Decision Letter is fundamentally untenable due to its demonstrably circumscribed interpretation of the mandated search purview under FIPPA. This restricted application constitutes a statutory impediment to the exercise of my codified rights.

A. Dereliction of Comprehensive Search Duty and the Expressio Unius Maxim

The administrative apparatus' exclusive reliance upon the records repository of the Ontario Provincial Police (“OPP”), as confirmed in the Decision Letter, constitutes a dereliction of the comprehensive duty incumbent upon the Ministry of the Solicitor General (“SOLGEN”) as the designated Institution. This narrow construction appears to have transgressed the interpretive maxim

Expressio unius est exclusio alterius (“The express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of others”), erroneously suggesting that the enumeration of one subsidiary entity obviates the requisite search across the entirety of the ministerial jurisdiction.

The Ministry, as the statutory Institution under Schedule 1 of FIPPA, is an integrated entity whose responsibilities transcend the operational limits of any single component. The administrative fragmentation of the search, limited ipso facto to the OPP, systematically excludes records from crucial administrative, regulatory, and forensic components that are inherently and explicitly within the Ministry's statutory custody. This approach exhibits a fundamental misunderstanding of the Ministry's legal perimeter as defined by its constituting legislation.

B. Necessity of Expanded Purview to Encompass Sub-Entities

A cogent extrapolation of extant statutory and jurisprudential principles affirms the SOLGEN's custodial responsibility for discrete categories of records that, ex necessitate rei (“from the necessity of the thing”), cannot reside solely within the operational files of police services. The search must, therefore, be expanded to include, but not be restricted to, records situated within the Centre of Forensic Sciences (“CFS”) and the Private Security and Investigative Services Records (“PSIS”), both of which demonstrably fall within the ministerial purview of the SOLGEN pursuant to the Private Security and Investigative Services Act, 2005 (PSISA).

The CFS, for example, generates records related to scientific analysis and expert opinion, which are distinct from, yet directly correlative to, police reports. Similarly, the PSIS maintains documentation concerning licensing applications, investigative files, and regulatory compliance pertaining to private entities that may have been engaged in activities related to the subject matter of the Assigned Docket. To omit these integral components from the search is to willfully disregard substantial veins of potentially responsive information, thereby rendering the initial effort superficial and inadequate.

C. Jurisprudential Interpretation of "Custody or Control"

The operative phrase “custody or control” under FIPPA is an expansive and disjunctive standard, as upheld by various judicial and administrative tribunals. The test is not merely confined to physical possession, but also encompasses the authority or legal right of the head of the Institution to obtain the records. Given that the sub-entities such as the CFS and the PSIS are governed, administered, and funded by the SOLGEN, the Ministry possesses the requisite authority to compel the production of their records. The administrative assertion in the Decision Letter that the requested information “does not exist” is logically inconsistent with the Ministry's undisputed capacity to exercise control over these sub-entities. The duty extends to every record the Institution has the legal capacity to command, regardless of the precise physical location.

II. Custody and Control of Prosecutorial Records and the Crown's Fiduciary Obligation

The initial circumscribed search failed to address documents that would necessarily reside within the non-police divisions of the Ministry, particularly those pertaining to the initiation of prosecution and the subsequent evidentiary and ethical assessment.

A. The Ministry's Imputed Status Regarding Indictments

The decision to prefer a Criminal Code (R.S.C., 1985, c. C-46) Indictment (specifically a Form 4 Indictment) is a statutorily delegated power wherein the Solicitor General may be construed as falling within the definition of the “Attorney General” for this specific purpose, given the amalgamated nature of the Ministry's responsibilities. This authority is typically exercised by delegated Crown Attorneys acting as agents of the Ministry. Consequently, the Ministry itself is the repository of the policy and administrative records governing this delegation.

B. The Evidentiary Sufficiency Analysis and Resulting Records

The initiation of proceedings via a Form 4 Indictment demands the satisfaction of a higher legal threshold than the police standard of “reasonable grounds to believe.” This two-pronged prosecutorial test necessitates a rigorous assessment of the reasonable prospect of conviction and the public interest. The documentation of this analysis—including, inter alia, internal memoranda, sign-off sheets, policy adherence checklists, and the draft and signed Heading of Indictment—represents records that are inherently generated by the Crown’s office and must, therefore, be encompassed within the expanded search parameters as records in the custody and control of the SOLGEN.

The Crown’s function is not adversarial but quasi-judicial, imposing a fiduciary obligation to act in the public interest, as established by the jurisprudence of Boucher v. The Queen (1955) and its progeny. The records sought pertain directly to the manifestation of this ethical duty and the decision-making matrix employed by the delegated agents. The conclusion posited in the Decision Letter—that the requested information “does not exist”—is deemed unwarranted *ab initio (“from the beginning”) until such a holistic search, extending into the administrative and internal policy domains of the Crown’s offices, is demonstrably completed.

C. Adherence to the Principle of Proportionality in Search Execution

While the scope of a FIPPA request must be reasonable, the Ministry’s duty is governed by the principle of proportionality, which dictates that the effort expended in the search must be commensurate with the gravity of the matter and the fundamental nature of the right of access. Given that the request pertains to my personal information and records antecedent to the initiation of criminal proceedings, the matter is imbued with a sufficient gravity to compel a search that transcends the perfunctory checking of a single, siloed repository. The request is narrowly tailored to the subject matter and is neither vexatious nor unduly burdensome when measured against the Ministry’s institutional capacity.

III. The Contingency of Archival Transfer and Jurisdictional Constraints on Non-FIPPA Bodies

A corroborating exigency, recently brought to my attention through antecedent correspondence with an administrative representative named Natasha, posits the contingent scenario that the unsuccessful search within the Ministry’s immediate operational repositories may be causally linked to the potential transfer of the subject records to the Archives of Ontario. This introduces a complex jurisdictional query necessitating a rigorous exegesis of the statutory exception codified in Section 65(1) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA).

A. Statutory Purview of FIPPA s. 65(1) and the Depositing Party

Section 65(1) stipulates: *This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than, (a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004.

This provision illuminates a pivotal distinction: if the records were transferred to the Archives of Ontario by the Ministry of the Solicitor General (an institution under FIPPA), the Act unequivocally continues to apply, and the search obligation remains with the Ministry, which should be able to locate and retrieve records it actively archived. The failure to do so would reinforce the argument of a fundamentally deficient search. However, if the records were deposited by an external entity—a person or organization other than an institution (which may include non-FIPPA bodies like Tribunals Ontario or organizations governed by PIPEDA that have “Ontario” in their name)—then FIPPA would be statutorily inapplicable.

B. Jurisprudential Confirmation of Non-Institution Status

The impossibility of a valid FIPPA transfer to a non-institution is underscored by the recent jurisprudence in Ontario (Solicitor General) (Re), 2024 CanLII 93666 (ON IPC) (the “IPC Decision”). In that matter, the parties formally acknowledged that the request involved a purported partial transfer to the Ministry from Tribunals Ontario. Given that Tribunals Ontario is not a designated Institution under FIPPA, the fundamental statutory mechanism for FIPPA transfer (Section 25) cannot be legally engaged. The principle extrapolated from the IPC Decision is apodictic (self-evident): A body that is not a designated Institution cannot participate in the FIPPA framework either as a subject of the Act (like the SOLGEN) or as a recipient of an official transfer.

Therefore, the administrative implication that records may have moved via a process involving a non-FIPPA body necessitates an immediate and stringent ministerial inquiry to confirm the depositing party and the legal mechanism of transfer to the Archives. The Ministry is obligated to confirm the depositing party to conclusively determine the continuing applicability of FIPPA to the records and to justify the current “no records” determination. Failure to do so would imply a systemic ambiguity regarding record accountability between the Ministry and non-institutions, a situation fundamentally at odds with the spirit of the legislation.

IV. Exigencies Pertaining to Administrative and Aesthetic Irregularities

While the preceding legal deficiencies are paramount, I must, in the spirit of maintaining public service integrity and institutional lucidity, draw your attention to two supervenient administrative anomalies which warrant immediate emendation and indicate a systemic lack of internal quality control in the Decision Letter (October 6, 2025).

A. Anachronistic Ministerial Nomenclature

The metadata and official designation utilized in antecedent correspondence, which contributes to the record of the Decision Letter, refer to the “Ministry of Community Safety.” This is an anachronistic administrative misnomer which contravenes the current and accurate public record designation of the Ministry of the Solicitor General. While this incongruity may appear de minimis non curat lex (“The law does not concern itself with trifles”), the maintenance of precise departmental appellations is foundational to epistemic transparency and serves as a critical indicator of the document’s administrative modernity and legitimacy. The use of outdated nomenclature in formal correspondence suggests a lapse in the rigorous standards expected of the executive branch of government.

B. Egregious Distortion of Official Insignia and its Symbolic Implications

Of more gravity is the manifest violation of the Government of Ontario’s official visual identity standards through the distorted insignia employed in the letterhead of the Decision Letter. This artifact exhibits a non-proportional scaling that corrupts the protected aspect ratio, resulting in an unnatural condensation of the wordmark and the attenuation of the required clear space around the official Trillium symbol. This unauthorized manipulation of a protected insignia on an official document diminishes the austerity and consistency of the Government’s visual representation, potentially eroding public confidence in the meticulousness of the issuing office. The insignia is not merely decorative; it is a symbolic representation of the Crown’s authority. Confirmation is formally requested that this administrative aberration shall be subject to immediate and comprehensive remediation and that processes will be instituted to preclude any recurrence of such graphic infidelity.

VI. Conclusion and Supplication for Ministerial Intervention

It is my unwavering desire to attain an efficacious and equitable disposition of this matter that comports with the statutory dictates of FIPPA and the overarching jurisprudential imperative for access to information. The current administrative determination, as articulated in the Decision Letter, is predicated upon a flawed foundational premise regarding the scope of the search and the definition of custody. Furthermore, the newly introduced archival contingency and the jurisprudential constraints concerning non-FIPPA bodies necessitate an additional investigative duty to determine the applicability of FIPPA s. 65(1). I respectfully supplicate your Honourable Office to mandate an immediate reassessment of the search scope to encompass all aforementioned sub-entities, to clarify the archival status and depositor identity, and to effectuate comprehensive remediation of the detailed administrative and aesthetic irregularities. The self-evident conclusion is that a pristine and holistic search, encompassing the full statutory and de facto custodial boundaries of the Ministry, must be effectuated before any claim of non-existence of responsive records may be credibly advanced, thereby satisfying the transparency mandate inherent in the governing legislation.

Finally, I note that the OIPC often requires that an Appellant has exhausted all avenues before commencing an appeal to it. As such, this letter is also sent on that basis.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation and compliance with the law on each independent and dependent front.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: FOLLOW-UP CORRESPONDENCE AND FORMAL CLARIFICATION REGARDING REQUEST NUMBER PRSG-2025-03601 - DEFICIENCY IN SEARCH SCOPE AND CUSTODY OF INDICTMENT RECORDS

Dear Ms. Ells,

I acknowledge receipt of the Decision Letter dated October 6, 2025 (PRSG-2025-03601), and reference my subsequent correspondence of even date protesting the limited scope of the search methodology. This letter serves to formally confirm and clarify the specific reasons why the search conducted to date is deemed insufficient to satisfy the requirements of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA).

I. Confirmation Regarding OPP Records and Ministry Custody of the same by way of non-existence (reservation of rights nonetheless)

I confirm that, for the time being, I will accept the representation that a search of the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) records holdings yielded no responsive documents.

However, I must reiterate the critical distinction: the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN) is the Institution/Ministry responsible for the custody and control of my personal information under FIPPA. While the OPP is an operational branch under the Ministry's aegis, my request was, and remains, directed at all records in the custody and control of the SOLGEN apparatus per se. Given that my involvement was confined to the Toronto jurisdiction, the elimination of the OPP leads to the reasonable inference that the Toronto Police Service (TPS) was the only municipal police force involved, necessitating a focus on the SOLGEN's internal prosecutorial decision-making records.

II. Custody and Control of Indictment and Prosecutorial Records

The initial search, which was exclusively focused on the OPP, failed to address documents that would necessarily reside within the non-police divisions of the SOLGEN.

A. SOLGEN as "Attorney General"

For the purpose of preferring an indictment, the definition of "Attorney General" includes the Solicitor General of the province, thereby authorizing the SOLGEN, through its delegated agents (Crown Attorneys), to exercise this statutory power.

B. The Evidentiary Sufficiency Test (Criminal Code Form 4)

As there was no Criminal Code Form 2 Information laid (as admitted by the MAG), any prosecution was initiated by way of a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment. The decision to prefer this indictment requires satisfying a legal test that is higher than the police standard of "reasonable grounds to believe," involving a two-pronged assessment of:

1. Reasonable prospect of conviction; and
2. Public interest.

In order to meet this legal test and authorize the signing and preferring of the Form 4 Indictment, an agent of the Solicitor General must have reviewed and assessed the underlying evidence (the "Information Package") provided by the police (likely TPS). The resulting records documenting this assessment—including the analysis of evidentiary sufficiency and public interest—are generated by the Crown's office (an agent of the Ministry) and are therefore records in the custody and/or control of the SOLGEN.

C. Physical Records that Must Exist

The following specific categories of records pertaining to this process must remain in the custody and control of the SOLGEN, separate from police operational files:

1. The draft and signed Criminal Code Form 4 Heading of Indictment.
2. Internal memoranda, notes, or sign-off sheets relating to the evaluation of the two-pronged prosecutorial test.
3. Any correspondence between the SOLGEN/Crown's office and the police necessary to finalize the preferring of the indictment.

III. Request for Reassessment of Search Scope

Based on the above, I formally request that the search parameters for PRSG-2025-03601 be immediately reassessed and expanded to include all relevant operational divisions within the Ministry of the Solicitor General that hold prosecutorial or related custody, control, or advisory functions. This includes, but is not limited to, a comprehensive search for records in:

- Any relevant Crown Attorney's Office or Crown Liaison Office files maintained in the Ministry's administrative custody (relating to the evidentiary sufficiency analysis and Form 4 creation).
- I also have a reasonable belief that there will be records that the SOLGEN has in its custody and/or control involving private investigations firms, as this area falls under the Ministry's regulatory authority via the Private Security and Investigative Services Act, 2005.
- Any records held by related sub-entities such as the Centre of Forensic Sciences (as previously noted in antecedent correspondence), the inherent nature of which precludes their exclusive location within the OPP repository.

Furthermore, I am entitled to rely on Section 25 of FIPPA, which allows the Ministry to transfer or forward a request to the proper institution if it believes another institution has custody or control of the requested records. This authority must be exercised to ensure my request for records pertaining to the prosecutorial decision is fully addressed.

I look forward to receiving confirmation that the scope of search has been broadened to reflect the comprehensive nature of the original request and the Ministry's custodial responsibilities regarding the preferring of an indictment.

Respectful consideration is rendered by,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: PRSG-2025-03601 Access Request: Deficiency of Scope in Search and Erroneous Reliance on Non-Existence of Responsive Documents

Subject II: Material and Aesthetic Deviations from Public Service Standards: Improper Utilization of Official Government of Ontario Insignia and Discrepancy in Ministerial Nomenclature (The "Correspondence": "Subjects", "Foci", or "Themes").

Introduction and Preliminary Adoptions

Formal correspondence is hereby initiated concerning the aforementioned Subjects; appreciation is extended, in advance, for the time and consideration accorded to this Correspondence and its constituent attachments (incorporated by reference or inclusion). Cognizance is taken of the finite yet valuable nature of the resources administered by the recipient apparatus, a circumstance which necessitated the expenditure of exhaustive effort in the research and subsequent application of the relevant legal principles to the extant facts.

All definitions previously established, whether indirectly or directly, through antecedent correspondence are adopted in extenso. Specifically, formal acknowledgement is herewith given concerning the receipt of the dispatch of even date, which has been formally designated as "The Decision Letter" (a copy of which has been appended hereto by reference and citation).

I. Analysis of Circumscribed Interpretation and Scope of Search Methodology

Immediate and formal protestation is warranted by the operative substance of The Decision Letter, given its evident methodological and legal lacunae. Notwithstanding the elucidation provided concerning the records purview of the Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP"), which resolves certain preliminary ambiguities, a conspicuous and profound deficiency is nonetheless manifested regarding the unduly circumscribed interpretation that has been applied to the original Request for Access.

The premise that a comprehensive search was effectuated, based exclusively upon the repository of the OPP, constitutes an attenuation of the comprehensive nature of the request, which delineated records situated not merely within the ambit of the OPP, but which extended, inter alia, to all documents within the custody and control of the Ministry of the Solicitor General's ("SOLGEN") apparatus per se, including those discrete entities operating under its ministerial aegis.

Said exclusive focus upon the OPP appears to constitute a dereliction of the operative principles of construction, notably violating the maxim Expressio unius est exclusio alterius ("The express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of others”), thereby suggesting an erroneous presumption that the enumeration of OPP records implicitly obviated the requisite search across all other relevant operational divisions subject to the SOLGEN’s jurisdiction.

It is herewith reiterated that the scope of the request encompasses, but is not restricted to, the following enumerated categories of documents, the inherent nature of which precludes their exclusive location within the OPP records conduits:

1. Judicial Processes: Any Criminal Code Form 2 Informations and Form 4 Indictments pertaining to the applicant, given the potential that the SOLGEN may, by statutory delegation, be responsible for the execution of such instruments pursuant to the definition of “Attorney General” under the Criminal Code (R.S.C., 1985, c. C-46).
2. Specialized Records: Centre of Forensic Sciences Records (forensic reports concerning Police Case ID 457197) and Private Security and Investigative Services Records, both of which demonstrably fall within the ministerial purview of the SOLGEN.

The conclusion posited in The Decision Letter—that the requested information “does not exist”—is deemed unwarranted *ab initio and untenable until such time as an exhaustive and holistic search, encompassing all aforementioned SOLGEN sub-entities and ministerial responsibilities, is demonstrably completed; thus, all entitlements to appeal this decision predicated upon the patently narrow scope of the search are formally preserved.

II. Exigencies Pertaining to Administrative and Aesthetic Irregularities

Notwithstanding the substantive legal issues, The Decision Letter presents two administrative anomalies which warrant immediate emendation to maintain the integrity of governmental communications and standards:

A. Discrepancy in Ministerial Nomenclature

Attention is drawn to the metadata associated with The Decision Letter, which designates the document’s origin as the “Ministry of Community Safety.” As confirmed by Appendix A of the original submission, and as is a matter of public record pursuant to the official structure of the Government of Ontario, this nomenclature appears to be an anachronistic administrative misnomer. The appropriate and correct designation is the Ministry of the Solicitor General. While this incongruity may appear de minimis non curat lex (“The law does not concern itself with trifles”), the maintenance of precise departmental nomenclature is paramount to ensuring clarity and transparency within the public service apparatus.

B. Improper Utilization of Official Government Insignia

Of greater concern is the manifest and egregious violation of the Government of Ontario’s official visual identity standards, as evidenced by the distorted insignia utilized in the letterhead of The Decision Letter.

The logo is comprised of the protected wordmark (“Ontario”) and the official symbol (the Trillium within the black circle), which are designed to exist in a fixed relationship. The version employed demonstrates multiple, fundamental breaches of established standards:

1. Violation of Aspect Ratio and Distortion: The wordmark is condensed horizontally, resulting in a severe distortion that renders the letterforms unnaturally narrow and tall. This contravention is direct to the universal guideline that prohibits the alteration of the logo’s aspect ratio through non-proportional scaling.
2. Corruption of Typographic Integrity: The horizontal condensation has corrupted the specified Kerning (the spacing between adjacent characters) and the inherent design integrity of the protected logotype, utilizing a non-compliant font representation.
3. Elimination of Clear Space: The required protected zone of clear space between the final “o” of the wordmark and the edge of the symbol has been eliminated or severely attenuated, causing the two elements to abut or overlap.

This unauthorized manipulation of a protected insignia on an official government document comprises the austerity and consistency of the Government of Ontario’s brand and visual identity. Confirmation is formally requested that this administrative aberration shall be subject to immediate and comprehensive remediation.

Conclusion

This Correspondence is tendered with the objective of achieving a resolution that is both expeditious and equitable, and which is in strict accordance with the provisions of FIPPA. Reassessment of the search parameters, such that all relevant sub-entities within the SOLGEN’s ministerial custody and control are included, is herewith urged, thereby ensuring adherence to the comprehensive nature of the original request. Furthermore, confirmation is formally requested that the administrative exigencies noted in Section II shall be duly investigated and expunged from all future official correspondence. Should no written disposition be received by the close of business on the forthcoming Wednesday or at a time by written extension, the necessary subsequent proceedings shall be instituted.

SUBJECT: REQUEST NUMBER PRSG-2025-03601

This letter is in regard to your request under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act for access to police records regarding yourself.

Please be advised that this office processes Freedom of Information requests for records held by the Ministry of the Solicitor General. This includes the Ontario Provincial Police. Records from municipal police services are not within the Ministry's custody and control. If you wish to request access to police service records, such as the Toronto Police Service, you will have to contact the individual police service(s) directly to ascertain their records holdings and request procedure.

Please be advised that access to the requested records cannot be granted, as the information does not exist. Experienced staff familiar with the record holdings of the Ministry conducted a records search at the Ontario Provincial Police. No responsive records were located.

This access decision was made by the undersigned. You are entitled to appeal this decision within 30 days to:

Subject I: PRSG-2025-03601 Access Request: Deficiency of Scope in Search and Erroneous Reliance on Non-Existence of Responsive Documents

Subject II: Material and Aesthetic Deviations from Public Service Standards: Improper Utilization of Official Government of Ontario Insignia and Discrepancy in Ministerial Nomenclature (The “Correspondence”: “Subjects”, “Foci”, or “Themes”).

Introduction and Preliminary Adoptions

Formal correspondence is hereby initiated concerning the aforementioned Subjects; appreciation is extended, in advance, for the time and consideration accorded to this Correspondence and its constituent attachments (incorporated by reference or inclusion). Cognizance is taken of the finite yet valuable nature of the resources administered by the recipient apparatus, a circumstance which necessitated the expenditure of exhaustive effort in the research and subsequent application of the relevant legal principles to the extant facts.

All definitions previously established, whether indirectly or directly, through antecedent correspondence are adopted in extenso. Specifically, formal acknowledgement is herewith given concerning the receipt of the dispatch of even date, which has been formally designated as “The Decision Letter” (a copy of which has been appended hereto by reference and citation).

I. Analysis of Circumscribed Interpretation and Scope of Search Methodology

Immediate and formal protestation is warranted by the operative substance of The Decision Letter, given its evident methodological and legal lacunae. Notwithstanding the elucidation provided concerning the records purview of the Ontario Provincial Police (“OPP”), which resolves certain preliminary ambiguities, a conspicuous and profound deficiency is nonetheless manifested regarding the unduly circumscribed interpretation that has been applied to the original Request for Access.

The premise that a comprehensive search was effectuated, based exclusively upon the repository of the OPP, constitutes an attenuation of the comprehensive nature of the request, which delineated records situated not merely within the ambit of the OPP, but which extended, inter alia, to all documents within the custody and control of the Ministry of the Solicitor General’s (“SOLGEN”) apparatus per se, including those discrete entities operating under its ministerial aegis.

Said exclusive focus upon the OPP appears to constitute a dereliction of the operative principles of construction, notably violating the maxim Expressio unius est exclusio alterius (“The express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of others”), thereby suggesting an erroneous presumption that the enumeration of OPP records implicitly obviated the requisite search across all other relevant operational divisions subject to the SOLGEN’s jurisdiction.

It is herewith reiterated that the scope of the request encompasses, but is not restricted to, the following enumerated categories of documents, the inherent nature of which precludes their exclusive location within the OPP records conduits:

1. Judicial Processes: Any Criminal Code Form 2 Informations and Form 4 Indictments pertaining to the applicant, given the potential that the SOLGEN may, by statutory delegation, be responsible for the execution of such instruments pursuant to the definition of “Attorney General” under the Criminal Code (R.S.C., 1985, c. C-46).
2. Specialized Records: Centre of Forensic Sciences Records (forensic reports concerning Police Case ID 457197) and Private Security and Investigative Services Records, both of which demonstrably fall within the ministerial purview of the SOLGEN.

The conclusion posited in The Decision Letter—that the requested information “does not exist”—is deemed unwarranted ab initio and untenable until such time as an exhaustive and holistic search, encompassing all aforementioned SOLGEN sub-entities and ministerial responsibilities, is demonstrably completed; thus, all entitlements to appeal this decision predicated upon the patently narrow scope of the search are formally preserved.

II. Exigencies Pertaining to Administrative and Aesthetic Irregularities

Notwithstanding the substantive legal issues, The Decision Letter presents two administrative anomalies which warrant immediate emendation to maintain the integrity of governmental communications and standards:

A. Discrepancy in Ministerial Nomenclature

Attention is drawn to the metadata associated with The Decision Letter, which designates the document's origin as the "Ministry of Community Safety." As confirmed by Appendix A of the original submission, and as is a matter of public record pursuant to the official structure of the Government of Ontario, this nomenclature appears to be an anachronistic administrative misnomer. The appropriate and correct designation is the Ministry of the Solicitor General. While this incongruity may appear de minimis non curat lex ("The law does not concern itself with trifles"), the maintenance of precise departmental nomenclature is paramount to ensuring clarity and transparency within the public service apparatus.

B. Improper Utilization of Official Government Insignia

Of greater concern is the manifest and egregious violation of the Government of Ontario's official visual identity standards, as evidenced by the distorted insignia utilized in the letterhead of The Decision Letter.

The logo is comprised of the protected wordmark ("Ontario") and the official symbol (the Trillium within the black circle), which are designed to exist in a fixed relationship. The version employed demonstrates multiple, fundamental breaches of established standards:

1. Violation of Aspect Ratio and Distortion: The wordmark is condensed horizontally, resulting in a severe distortion that renders the letterforms unnaturally narrow and tall. This contravention is direct to the universal guideline that prohibits the alteration of the logo's aspect ratio through non-proportional scaling.
2. Corruption of Typographic Integrity: The horizontal condensation has corrupted the specified Kerning (the spacing between adjacent characters) and the inherent design integrity of the protected logotype, utilizing a non-compliant font representation.
3. Elimination of Clear Space: The required protected zone of clear space between the final "o" of the wordmark and the edge of the symbol has been eliminated or severely attenuated, causing the two elements to abut or overlap.

This unauthorized manipulation of a protected insignia on an official government document comprises the austerity and consistency of the Government of Ontario's brand and visual identity. Confirmation is formally requested that this administrative aberration shall be subject to immediate and comprehensive remediation.

Conclusion

This Correspondence is tendered with the objective of achieving a resolution that is both expeditious and equitable, and which is in strict accordance with the provisions of FIPPA. Reassessment of the search parameters, such that all relevant sub-entities within the SOLGEN's ministerial custody and control are included, is herewith urged, thereby ensuring adherence to the comprehensive nature of the original request. Furthermore, confirmation is formally requested that the administrative exigencies noted in Section II shall be duly investigated and expunged from all future official correspondence. Should no written disposition be received by the close of business on the forthcoming Wednesday or at a time by written extension, the necessary subsequent proceedings shall be instituted.

SUBJECT: FOLLOW-UP CORRESPONDENCE AND FORMAL CLARIFICATION REGARDING REQUEST NUMBER PRSG-2025-03601 - DEFICIENCY IN SEARCH SCOPE AND CUSTODY OF INDICTMENT RECORDS

Dear Ms. Ells,

I acknowledge receipt of the Decision Letter dated October 6, 2025 (PRSG-2025-03601), and reference my subsequent correspondence of even date protesting the limited scope of the search methodology. This letter serves to formally confirm and clarify the specific reasons why the search conducted to date is deemed insufficient to satisfy the requirements of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA).

I. Confirmation Regarding OPP Records and Ministry Custody of the same by way of non-existence (reservation of rights nonetheless)

I confirm that, for the time being, I will accept the representation that a search of the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) records holdings yielded no responsive documents. However, I must reiterate the critical distinction: the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN) is the Institution/Ministry responsible for the custody and control of my personal information under FIPPA. While the OPP is an operational branch under the Ministry's aegis, my request was, and remains, directed at all records in the custody and control of the SOLGEN apparatus per se. Given that my involvement was confined to the Toronto jurisdiction, the elimination of the OPP leads to the reasonable inference that the Toronto Police Service (TPS) was the only municipal police force involved, necessitating a focus on the SOLGEN's internal prosecutorial decision-making records.

II. Custody and Control of Indictment and Prosecutorial Records

The initial search, which was exclusively focused on the OPP, failed to address documents that would necessarily reside within the non-police divisions of the SOLGEN.

A. SOLGEN as "Attorney General"

For the purpose of preferring an indictment, the definition of "Attorney General" includes the Solicitor General of the province, thereby authorizing the SOLGEN, through its delegated agents (Crown Attorneys), to exercise this statutory power.

B. The Evidentiary Sufficiency Test (Criminal Code Form 4)

As there was no Criminal Code Form 2 Information laid (as admitted by the MAG), any prosecution was initiated by way of a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment. The decision to prefer this indictment requires satisfying a legal test that is higher than the police standard of "reasonable grounds to believe," involving a two-pronged assessment of:

1. Reasonable prospect of conviction; and
2. Public interest.

In order to meet this legal test and authorize the signing and preferring of the Form 4 Indictment, an agent of the Solicitor General must have reviewed and assessed the underlying evidence (the "Information Package") provided by the police (likely TPS). The resulting records documenting this assessment—including the analysis of evidentiary sufficiency and public interest—are generated by the Crown's office (an agent of the Ministry) and are therefore records in the custody and/or control of the SOLGEN.

C. Physical Records that Must Exist

The following specific categories of records pertaining to this process must remain in the custody and control of the SOLGEN, separate from police operational files:

1. The draft and signed Criminal Code Form 4 Heading of Indictment.
2. Internal memoranda, notes, or sign-off sheets relating to the evaluation of the two-pronged prosecutorial test.
3. Any correspondence between the SOLGEN/Crown's office and the police necessary to finalize the preferring of the indictment.

III. Request for Reassessment of Search Scope

Based on the above, I formally request that the search parameters for PRSG-2025-03601 be immediately reassessed and expanded to include all relevant operational divisions within the Ministry of the Solicitor General that hold prosecutorial or related custody, control, or advisory functions. This includes, but is not limited to, a comprehensive search for records in:

- Any relevant Crown Attorney's Office or Crown Liaison Office files maintained in the Ministry's administrative custody (relating to the evidentiary sufficiency analysis and Form 4 creation).
- I also have a reasonable belief that there will be records that the SOLGEN has in its custody and/or control involving private investigations firms, as this area falls under the Ministry's regulatory authority via the Private Security and Investigative Services Act, 2005.
- Any records held by related sub-entities such as the Centre of Forensic Sciences (as previously noted in antecedent correspondence), the inherent nature of which precludes their exclusive location within the OPP repository.

Furthermore, I am entitled to rely on Section 25 of FIPPA, which allows the Ministry to transfer or forward a request to the proper institution if it believes another institution has custody or control of the requested records. This authority must be exercised to ensure my request for records pertaining to the prosecutorial decision is fully addressed.

I look forward to receiving confirmation that the scope of search has been broadened to reflect the comprehensive nature of the original request and the Ministry's custodial responsibilities regarding the preferring of an indictment.

Respectful consideration is rendered by,

SUBJECTS

Subject I: Exigent Correspondence Regarding Substantive Deficiencies in Access Request File PRSG-2025-03601 Pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act

Subject II: Formal Request for Ministerial Intervention to Ensure Comprehensive Search and Adherence to Custodial and Regulatory Mandates (the "Subjects" or "Foci")

I. Preamble, Adoption of Definitions, and Jurisdictional Bona Fides

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and judicious consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time and scrupulous diligence to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein, thereby pre-emptively mitigating the research burden upon your administrative personnel. The underlying imperative for this communication rests upon the fundamental right of access and the correlative duty of comprehensive disclosure incumbent upon a governmental institution.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence. Specifically, formal acknowledgement is herewith extended concerning the administrative file number PRSG-2025-03601 (the "Assigned Docket"), which pertains to the comprehensive application for access to my personal information pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), which is the governing legislation dictating the right of access to records under the custody and control of governmental institutions. The request is executed with the utmost professional bona fides ("good faith") and a profound respect for the statutory framework designed to foster transparency and accountability within the executive domain. The onus probandi ("burden of proof") for the adequacy of the search rests squarely upon the Ministry, and the present facts suggest that this material obligation has not been discharged with the requisite thoroughness. The enclosed decision letter, dated October 6, 2025, (the "Decision Letter"), issued by Noel Kent, Senior Manager, for the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Services, formally asserts that "no responsive records were located" after a search restricted solely to the Ontario Provincial Police. Since the document is a "false document" in that it manipulated the government logo and name of the "Ontario Government" logo, it is void ab initio and requires a re-issuing of the same.

II. Analysis of Unduly Circumscribed Search Parameters and Statutory Interpretation

The operative premise of the administrative determination issued in the Decision Letter is fundamentally untenable due to its demonstrably circumscribed interpretation of the mandated search purview under FIPPA. This restricted application constitutes a statutory impediment to the exercise of my codified rights.

A. Dereliction of Comprehensive Search Duty and the Expressio Unius Maxim

The administrative apparatus' exclusive reliance upon the records repository of the Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP"), as confirmed in the Decision Letter, constitutes a dereliction of the comprehensive duty incumbent upon the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("SOLGEN") as the designated Institution. This narrow construction appears to have transgressed the interpretive maxim Expressio unius est exclusio alterius ("The express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of others"), erroneously suggesting that the enumeration of one subsidiary entity obviates the requisite search across the entirety of the ministerial jurisdiction.

The Ministry, as the statutory Institution under Schedule 1 of FIPPA, is an integrated entity whose responsibilities transcend the operational limits of any single component. The administrative fragmentation of the search, limited ipso facto to the OPP, systematically excludes records from crucial administrative, regulatory, and forensic components that are inherently and explicitly within the Ministry's statutory custody. This approach exhibits a fundamental misunderstanding of the Ministry's legal perimeter as defined by its constituting legislation.

B. Necessity of Expanded Purview to Encompass Sub-Entities

A cogent extrapolation of extant statutory and jurisprudential principles affirms the SOLGEN's custodial responsibility for discrete categories of records that, ex necessitate rei ("from the necessity of the thing"), cannot reside solely within the operational files of police services. The search must, therefore, be expanded to include, but not be restricted to, records situated within the Centre of Forensic Sciences ("CFS") and the Private Security and Investigative Services Records ("PSIS"), both of which demonstrably fall within the ministerial purview of the SOLGEN pursuant to the Private Security and Investigative Services Act, 2005 (PSISA).

The CFS, for example, generates records related to scientific analysis and expert opinion, which are distinct from, yet directly correlative to, police reports. Similarly, the PSIS maintains documentation concerning licensing applications, investigative files, and regulatory compliance pertaining to private entities that may have been engaged in activities related to the subject matter of the Assigned Docket. To omit these integral components from the search is to willfully disregard substantial veins of potentially responsive information, thereby rendering the initial effort superficial and inadequate.

C. Jurisprudential Interpretation of "Custody or Control"

The operative phrase "custody or control" under FIPPA is an expansive and disjunctive standard, as upheld by various judicial and administrative tribunals. The test is not merely confined to physical possession, but also encompasses the authority or legal right of the head of the Institution to obtain the records. Given that the sub-entities such as the CFS and the PSIS are governed, administered, and funded by the SOLGEN, the Ministry possesses the requisite authority to compel the production of their records. The administrative assertion in the Decision Letter that the requested information "does not exist" is logically inconsistent with the Ministry's undisputed capacity to exercise control over these sub-entities. The duty extends to every record the Institution has the legal capacity to command, regardless of the precise physical location.

II. Custody and Control of Prosecutorial Records and the Crown's Fiduciary Obligation

The initial circumscribed search failed to address documents that would necessarily reside within the non-police divisions of the Ministry, particularly those pertaining to the initiation of prosecution and the subsequent evidentiary and ethical assessment.

A. The Ministry's Imputed Status Regarding Indictments

The decision to prefer a Criminal Code (R.S.C., 1985, c. C-46) Indictment (specifically a Form 4 Indictment) is a statutorily delegated power wherein the Solicitor General may be construed as falling within the definition of the "Attorney General" for this specific purpose, given the amalgamated nature of the Ministry's responsibilities. This authority is typically exercised by delegated Crown Attorneys acting as agents of the Ministry. Consequently, the Ministry itself is the repository of the policy and administrative records governing this delegation.

B. The Evidentiary Sufficiency Analysis and Resulting Records

The initiation of proceedings via a Form 4 Indictment demands the satisfaction of a higher legal threshold than the police standard of "reasonable grounds to believe." This two-pronged prosecutorial test necessitates a rigorous assessment of the reasonable prospect of conviction and the public interest. The documentation of this analysis—including, inter alia, internal memoranda, sign-off sheets, policy adherence checklists, and the draft and signed Heading of Indictment—represents records that are inherently generated by the Crown's office and must, therefore, be encompassed within the expanded search parameters as records in the custody and control of the SOLGEN.

The Crown's function is not adversarial but quasi-judicial, imposing a fiduciary obligation to act in the public interest, as established by the jurisprudence of Boucher v. The Queen (1955) and its progeny. The records sought pertain directly to the manifestation of this ethical duty and the decision-making matrix employed by the delegated agents. The conclusion posited in the Decision Letter—that the requested information "does not exist"—is deemed unwarranted *ab initio ("from the beginning") until such a holistic search, extending into the administrative and internal policy domains of the Crown's offices, is demonstrably completed.

C. Adherence to the Principle of Proportionality in Search Execution

While the scope of a FIPPA request must be reasonable, the Ministry's duty is governed by the principle of proportionality, which dictates that the effort expended in the search must be commensurate with the gravity of the matter and the fundamental nature of the right of access. Given that the request pertains to my personal information and records antecedent to the initiation of criminal proceedings, the matter is imbued with a sufficient gravity to compel a search that transcends the perfunctory checking of a single, siloed repository. The request is narrowly tailored to the subject matter and is neither vexatious nor unduly burdensome when measured against the Ministry's institutional capacity.

III. The Contingency of Archival Transfer and Jurisdictional Constraints on Non-FIPPA Bodies

A corroborating exigency, recently brought to my attention through antecedent correspondence with an administrative representative named Natasha, posits the contingent scenario that the unsuccessful search within the Ministry's immediate operational repositories may be causally linked to the potential transfer of the subject records to the Archives of Ontario. This introduces a complex jurisdictional query necessitating a rigorous exegesis of the statutory exception codified in Section 65(1) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA).

A. Statutory Purview of FIPPA s. 65(1) and the Depositing Party

Section 65(1) stipulates: *This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than, (a) an institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004

This provision illuminates a pivotal distinction: if the records were transferred to the Archives of Ontario by the Ministry of the Solicitor General (an institution under FIPPA), the Act unequivocally continues to apply, and the search obligation remains with the Ministry, which should be able to locate and retrieve records it actively archived. The failure to do so would reinforce the argument of a fundamentally deficient search. However, if the records were deposited by an external entity—a person or organization other than an institution (which may include non-FIPPA bodies like Tribunals Ontario or organizations governed by PIPEDA that have "Ontario" in their name)—then FIPPA would be statutorily inapplicable.

B. Jurisprudential Confirmation of Non-Institution Status

The impossibility of a valid FIPPA transfer to a non-institution is underscored by the recent jurisprudence in Ontario (Solicitor General) (Re), 2024 CanLII 93666 (ON IPC) (the "IPC Decision"). In that matter, the parties formally acknowledged that the request involved a purported partial transfer to the Ministry from Tribunals Ontario. Given that Tribunals Ontario is not a designated Institution under FIPPA, the fundamental statutory mechanism for FIPPA transfer (Section 25) cannot be legally engaged. The principle extrapolated from the IPC Decision is apodictic (self-evident): A body that is not a designated Institution cannot participate in the FIPPA framework either as a subject of the Act (like the SOLGEN) or as a recipient of an official transfer.

Therefore, the administrative implication that records may have moved via a process involving a non-FIPPA body necessitates an immediate and stringent ministerial inquiry to confirm the depositing party and the legal mechanism of transfer to the Archives. The Ministry is obligated to confirm the depositing party to conclusively determine the continuing applicability of FIPPA to the records and to justify the current "no records" determination. Failure to do so would imply a systemic ambiguity regarding record accountability between the Ministry and non-institutions, a situation fundamentally at odds with the spirit of the legislation.

IV. Exigencies Pertaining to Administrative and Aesthetic Irregularities

While the preceding legal deficiencies are paramount, I must, in the spirit of maintaining public service integrity and institutional lucidity, draw your attention to two supervenient administrative anomalies which warrant immediate emendation and indicate a systemic lack of internal quality control in the Decision Letter (October 6, 2025).

A. Anachronistic Ministerial Nomenclature

The metadata and official designation utilized in antecedent correspondence, which contributes to the record of the Decision Letter, refer to the "Ministry of Community Safety." This is an anachronistic administrative misnomer which contravenes the current and accurate public record designation of the Ministry of the Solicitor General. While this incongruity may appear de minimis non curat lex ("The law does not concern itself with trifles"), the maintenance of precise departmental appellations is foundational to epistemic transparency and serves as a critical indicator of the document's administrative modernity and legitimacy. The use of outdated nomenclature in formal correspondence suggests a lapse in the rigorous standards expected of the executive branch of government.

B. Egregious Distortion of Official Insignia and its Symbolic Implications

Of more gravity is the manifest violation of the Government of Ontario's official visual identity standards through the distorted insignia employed in the letterhead of the Decision Letter. This artifact exhibits a non-proportional scaling that corrupts the protected aspect ratio, resulting in an unnatural condensation of the wordmark and the attenuation of the required clear space around the official Trillium symbol. This unauthorized manipulation of a protected insignia on an official document diminishes the austerity and consistency of the Government's visual representation, potentially eroding public confidence in the meticulousness of the issuing office. The insignia is not merely decorative; it is a symbolic representation of the Crown's authority. Confirmation is formally requested that this administrative aberration shall be subject to immediate and comprehensive remediation and that processes will be instituted to preclude any recurrence of such graphic infidelity.

VI. Conclusion and Supplication for Ministerial Intervention

It is my unwavering desire to attain an efficacious and equitable disposition of this matter that comports with the statutory dictates of FIPPA and the overarching jurisprudential imperative for access to information. The current administrative determination, as articulated in the Decision Letter, is predicated upon a flawed foundational premise regarding the scope of the search and the definition of custody. Furthermore, the newly introduced archival contingency and the jurisprudential constraints concerning non-FIPPA bodies necessitate an additional investigative duty to determine the applicability of FIPPA s. 65(1). I respectfully supplicate your Honourable Office to mandate an immediate reassessment of the search scope to encompass all aforementioned sub-entities, to clarify the archival status and depositor identity, and to effectuate comprehensive remediation of the detailed administrative and aesthetic irregularities. The self-evident conclusion is that a pristine and holistic search, encompassing the full statutory and de facto custodial boundaries of the Ministry, must be effectuated before any claim of non-existence of responsive records may be credibly advanced, thereby satisfying the transparency mandate inherent in the governing legislation.

Finally, I note that the OIPC often requires that an Appellant has exhausted all avenues before commencing an appeal to it. As such, this letter is also sent on that basis.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated cooperation and compliance with the law on each independent and dependent front.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: FOLLOW-UP CORRESPONDENCE AND FORMAL CLARIFICATION REGARDING REQUEST NUMBER PRSG-2025-03601 - DEFICIENCY IN SEARCH SCOPE AND CUSTODY OF INDICTMENT RECORDS

Dear Ms. Ells,

I acknowledge receipt of the Decision Letter dated October 6, 2025 (PRSG-2025-03601), and reference my subsequent correspondence of even date protesting the limited scope of the search methodology. This letter serves to formally confirm and clarify the specific reasons why the search conducted to date is deemed insufficient to satisfy the requirements of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA).

1. Reasonable prospect of conviction; and
2. Public interest.

In order to meet this legal test and authorize the signing and preferring of the Form 4 Indictment, an agent of the Solicitor General must have reviewed and assessed the underlying evidence (the "Information Package") provided by the police (likely TPS). The resulting records documenting this assessment—including the analysis of evidentiary sufficiency and public interest—are generated by the Crown's office (an agent of the Ministry) and are therefore records in the custody and/or control of the SOLGEN.

C. Physical Records that Must Exist

The following specific categories of records pertaining to this process must remain in the custody and control of the SOLGEN, separate from police operational files:

1. The draft and signed Criminal Code Form 4 Heading of Indictment.

2. Internal memoranda, notes, or sign-off sheets relating to the evaluation of the two-pronged prosecutorial test.
3. Any correspondence between the SOLGEN/Crown's office and the police necessary to finalize the preferring of the indictment.

III. Request for Reassessment of Search Scope

Based on the above, I formally request that the search parameters for PRSG-2025-03601 be immediately reassessed and expanded to include all relevant operational divisions within the Ministry of the Solicitor General that hold prosecutorial or related custody, control, or advisory functions. This includes, but is not limited to, a comprehensive search for records in:

- Any relevant Crown Attorney's Office or Crown Liaison Office files maintained in the Ministry's administrative custody (relating to the evidentiary sufficiency analysis and Form 4 creation).
- I also have a reasonable belief that there will be records that the SOLGEN has in its custody and/or control involving private investigations firms, as this area falls under the Ministry's regulatory authority via the Private Security and Investigative Services Act, 2005.
- Any records held by related sub-entities such as the Centre of Forensic Sciences (as previously noted in antecedent correspondence), the inherent nature of which precludes their exclusive location within the OPP repository.

Furthermore, I am entitled to rely on Section 25 of FIPPA, which allows the Ministry to transfer or forward a request to the proper institution if it believes another institution has custody or control of the requested records. This authority must be exercised to ensure my request for records pertaining to the prosecutorial decision is fully addressed.

I look forward to receiving confirmation that the scope of search has been broadened to reflect the comprehensive nature of the original request and the Ministry's custodial responsibilities regarding the preferring of an indictment.

Respectful consideration is rendered by,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: PRSG-2025-03601 Access Request: Deficiency of Scope in Search and Erroneous Reliance on Non-Existence of Responsive Documents

Subject II: Material and Aesthetic Deviations from Public Service Standards: Improper Utilization of Official Government of Ontario Insignia and Discrepancy in Ministerial Nomenclature (The "Correspondence"):

“Subjects”, “Foci”, or “Themes”).

Introduction and Preliminary Adoptions

Formal correspondence is hereby initiated concerning the aforementioned Subjects; appreciation is extended, in advance, for the time and consideration accorded to this Correspondence and its constituent attachments (incorporated by reference or inclusion). Cognizance is taken of the finite yet valuable nature of the resources administered by the recipient apparatus, a circumstance which necessitated the expenditure of exhaustive effort in the research and subsequent application of the relevant legal principles to the extant facts.

All definitions previously established, whether indirectly or directly, through antecedent correspondence are adopted in extenso. Specifically, formal acknowledgement is herewith given concerning the receipt of the dispatch of even date, which has been formally designated as “The Decision Letter” (a copy of which has been appended hereto by reference and citation).

I. Analysis of Circumscribed Interpretation and Scope of Search Methodology

Immediate and formal protestation is warranted by the operative substance of The Decision Letter, given its evident methodological and legal lacunae. Notwithstanding the elucidation provided concerning the records purview of the Ontario Provincial Police (“OPP”), which resolves certain preliminary ambiguities, a conspicuous and profound deficiency is nonetheless manifested regarding the unduly circumscribed interpretation that has been applied to the original Request for Access.

The premise that a comprehensive search was effectuated, based exclusively upon the repository of the OPP, constitutes an attenuation of the comprehensive nature of the request, which delineated records situated not merely within the ambit of the OPP, but which extended, inter alia, to all documents within the custody and control of the Ministry of the Solicitor General’s (“SOLGEN”) apparatus per se, including those discrete entities operating under its ministerial aegis.

Said exclusive focus upon the OPP appears to constitute a dereliction of the operative principles of construction, notably violating the maxim Expressio unius est exclusio alterius (“The express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of others”), thereby suggesting an erroneous presumption that the enumeration of OPP records implicitly obviated the requisite search across all other relevant operational divisions subject to the SOLGEN’s jurisdiction.

It is herewith reiterated that the scope of the request encompasses, but is not restricted to, the following enumerated categories of documents, the inherent nature of which precludes their exclusive location within the OPP records conduits:

1. Judicial Processes: Any Criminal Code Form 2 Informations and Form 4 Indictments pertaining to the applicant, given the potential that the SOLGEN may, by statutory delegation, be responsible for the execution of such instruments pursuant to the definition of “Attorney General” under the Criminal Code (R.S.C., 1985, c. C-46).
2. Specialized Records: Centre of Forensic Sciences Records (forensic reports concerning Police Case ID 457197) and Private Security and Investigative Services Records, both of which demonstrably fall within the ministerial purview of the SOLGEN.

The conclusion posited in The Decision Letter—that the requested information “does not exist”—is deemed unwarranted ab initio and untenable until such time as an exhaustive and holistic search, encompassing all aforementioned SOLGEN sub-entities and ministerial responsibilities, is demonstrably completed; thus, all entitlements to appeal this decision predicated upon the patently narrow scope of the search are formally preserved.

II. Exigencies Pertaining to Administrative and Aesthetic Irregularities

Notwithstanding the substantive legal issues, The Decision Letter presents two administrative anomalies which warrant immediate emendation to maintain the integrity of governmental communications and standards:

A. Discrepancy in Ministerial Nomenclature

Attention is drawn to the metadata associated with The Decision Letter, which designates the document’s origin as the “Ministry of Community Safety.” As confirmed by Appendix A of the original submission, and as is a matter of public record pursuant to the official structure of the Government of Ontario, this nomenclature appears to be an anachronistic administrative misnomer. The appropriate and correct designation is the Ministry of the Solicitor General. While this incongruity may appear de minimis non curat lex (“The law does not concern itself with trifles”), the maintenance of precise departmental nomenclature is paramount to ensuring clarity and transparency within the public service apparatus.

B. Improper Utilization of Official Government Insignia

Of greater concern is the manifest and egregious violation of the Government of Ontario's official visual identity standards, as evidenced by the distorted insignia utilized in the letterhead of The Decision Letter.

The logo is comprised of the protected wordmark ("Ontario") and the official symbol (the Trillium within the black circle), which are designed to exist in a fixed relationship. The version employed demonstrates multiple, fundamental breaches of established standards:

1. Violation of Aspect Ratio and Distortion: The wordmark is condensed horizontally, resulting in a severe distortion that renders the letterforms unnaturally narrow and tall. This contravention is direct to the universal guideline that prohibits the alteration of the logo's aspect ratio through non-proportional scaling.
2. Corruption of Typographic Integrity: The horizontal condensation has corrupted the specified Kerning (the spacing between adjacent characters) and the inherent design integrity of the protected logotype, utilizing a non-compliant font representation.
3. Elimination of Clear Space: The required protected zone of clear space between the final "o" of the wordmark and the edge of the symbol has been eliminated or severely attenuated, causing the two elements to abut or overlap.

This unauthorized manipulation of a protected insignia on an official government document comprises the austerity and consistency of the Government of Ontario's brand and visual identity. Confirmation is formally requested that this administrative aberration shall be subject to immediate and comprehensive remediation.

Conclusion

This Correspondence is tendered with the objective of achieving a resolution that is both expeditious and equitable, and which is in strict accordance with the provisions of FIPPA. Reassessment of the search parameters, such that all relevant sub-entities within the SOLGEN's ministerial custody and control are included, is herewith urged, thereby ensuring adherence to the comprehensive nature of the original request. Furthermore, confirmation is formally requested that the administrative exigencies noted in Section II shall be duly investigated and expunged from all future official correspondence. Should no written disposition be received by the close of business on the forthcoming Wednesday or at a time by written extension, the necessary subsequent proceedings shall be instituted.

Dear SOLGEN:

Kindly see the attached access request and reference number below. The False Information Package that I am referring to is also attached. For security and verification purposes, my identification is also attached.

You will have the fulsome and sufficiently particularized details of what I have sought in the access request.

For ease of reference and expediency purposes, is the Police Case File ID that of a string or the entire number string for the OPP?

Also, do you have Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments drafted and/or signed by the SOLGEN in relation to myself?

I will provide some further underlying documents to assist where I can and in the spirit of our "access partnership",

Thank you.

I. Preamble and Adoption of Definitions

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein. I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

II. Formal Acknowledgment of Docket Assignment or SOLGEN File Number

I acknowledge receipt of your electronic transmission dated October 3, 2025, providing formal confirmation of the administrative file number, specifically PRSG-2025-03601 (the "Assigned Docket" or "SOLGEN File Number"). This designation pertains to the comprehensive request for access to personal information pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31 ("FIPPA") which is the governing legislation dictating the right of access to records under the control of institutions of the Government of Ontario.

The Assigned Docket has been assiduously integrated into my internal document management systems, thereby effectuating a synchronous harmonization of my respective file classification and your file classification. This procedural celerity mitigates the risk of administrative opacity and fosters an environment conducive to expeditious disposition of the substantive access application.

III. Commitment to Procedural Expediency and Cooperation

My principal objective is the resolution-oriented facilitation of the request for access, consonant with both the statutory mandates of FIPPA and the overarching jurisprudential imperative of procedural fairness and access to information and personal information being fundamental to our democracy.

Consequently, while I await the requisite communication from the assigned analyst, please be unequivocally assured of my proactive willingness to furnish any supplementary, material, or clarifying details that may be deemed exigent for the comprehensive fulfillment of the request. This overture is tendered in the established spirit of an “access partnership” and is intended to preclude any administrative ambiguity or lacuna that might otherwise occasion unnecessary procedural latency.

SUBJECT: ENCLOSURE OF INQUIRY RECORD (RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS TRIBUNALS ONTARIO DATE) BY APPELLANT

I. Transmittal of the Inquiry Record and Principal Submissions

Pursuant to prior assurances and obligations, we respectfully present the current iteration of the Inquiry Record, effective as of the date inscribed hereon. This comprehensive factum of the Appellant, which has been appropriately situated immediately subsequent to the enumerated index of documents contained within this submission.

II. Documentary Architecture and Procedural Status

A. Navigational Instruments and Expedited Furnishing

It is important to acknowledge that, at this juncture, the submitted documentation temporarily lacks comprehensive and precisely delineated internal electronic link instruments with all due expedition to facilitate the effortless perusal and localization of essential components, including formal submissions, evidentiary material, inter alia, the Expedited Process, and its subsequent continuation as an Inquiry (Expedited) conducted under the auspices of the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC).

B. Inherent Mutability of the Record

Furthermore, as is inherent to the appeal process and dictated by the provisions of section 54(1) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), the document, subject to modification and augmentation throughout the duration of the adjudicative process.

III. Submissions Respecting Requisite Procedural Diligence and Compulsory Authority

I hereby solicit any and all evidentiary material, submissions, or formal representations which the LAT may elect to adduce. However, in light of the protracted and demonstrated institutional compliance, coupled with the manifestly significant public interest implications inherent to this appeal, we are compelled to assert the following:

A. Extrapolation of Statutory Compulsion and Imperative

The failure of a public institution, such as the LAT, to furnish a substantive and complete response within a reasonable time frame, which ought to be particularized forthwith, is a failure to exercise its authoritative powers.

Pursuant to the comprehensive authority articulated in section 54(1) of FIPPA, which empowers the Commissioner to "compel" the production of evidence, records, or at the very least, the timely and transparent resolution of access requests—is gravely imperilled by institutional non-responsiveness. Therefore, in causa of demonstrable recalcitrance, exercise its coercive jurisdiction, making the necessity of further action self-evident.

B. Recommended Remedial Measures

This necessary course of action includes, but is not limited to, the issuance of a formal summons to procure the requisite testimony of pertinent individuals and/or to inspection. The conclusive step of this process must be the Commissioner's subsequent acceptance and retention of said materials without any restrictive covenant p completeness of the final adjudicative record.

I appreciate that the Commissioner may delegate to any officer or employee of the OIPC a right or obligation except the power of delegation but at this stage, my conce delays, along with the issues of issue estoppel, standing, functus officio, et al.

Should anything be unclear in the Inquiry Record and/or an inability to open the attached PDF, please contact me at your earliest convenience.

Gratefully acknowledging your esteemed consideration of these submissions.

Respectfully Submitted,

ANALYSIS OF "FALSE INFORMATION PACKAGE" DISCREPANCIES AND GRAPECITY METADATA

This chart-based analysis separates the specific, enumerated errors found in the five-page "False Information Package" (Schedule A) from Documents for PDF (Schedule B).

Schedule A: Specific Errors and Inconsistencies in the False Information Package

Schedule A meticulously details 29 specific internal and external errors, format deviations, and inconsistencies found in the five-page document Package."

Error Category	Specific Deficiency Point	Location in False Information Package	Comparison / Implication
Page & Footer Inconsistencies	Footer is demonstrably different	Pages 1 & 5 vs. Page 2 of 5	Inconsistent footers across the document.
	Footer fails to include a single space	Footer (rev. 10/20)	Error in the form designation ("C-e" instead of "C e").
	Illegibility in "save toner mode"	Only footer on Page 2 of 5 remains legible	Evidence of potentially "missing text and false documentation."
	Erroneous footer	Page 3 of 5	Reproduction of the header from Page 1 of 5.

Formatting & Input Errors	Erroneously includes two commas after "NFA [sic]"	Page 1 of 5 (Address line)	Incorrect formatting where the Accused's address was entered.
	"NFA" (No Fixed Address) is included	Page 1 of 5	Inconsistent with the reference to the Applicant's driver's license number on Page 5.
	Superfluous numeral "(1)"	Page 1 of 1	Incorrectly precedes the Accused's name.
	Incorrect placement of date of birth	Page 1 of 1	Standard format mandates "address" preceding "date of birth."
	Date of birth is rendered in incorrect format	Page 1 of 1	Fails to adhere to the required format of '(day/jour) (month/mois) year/année)'.
	Omission of '[Accused/Accusé]' format	Document content	Required "Last Name, First Name" and (nom, prénom) is conspicuously absent.
	Phrase "end of charges/counts" used	Document content	An improper input, not a component of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
Legal Jurisdiction Deviations	Inclusion of "Count 1"	Document content	Implies the existence of "other counts," inconsistent with the document's content and Criminal Code s. 788.
	Improper header	Page 2 of 5	Displays "R. v. McLean, Kevin" with a Toronto Police Service (TPS) occurrence number identical to the Undertaking Form 10.
	Jurat improperly located and legally impermissible	Page 2 of 5	Appears on a separate page from the text to which it pertains.
	False Case Identification Number	Page 3 of 5, "Police Case ID:457197"	Uses six digits instead of the required seven (7) digits preceded by a year string.
	"Intake Court Endorsement" terminology used	Page 3 of 5	Family law standard terminology; used as a "deliberate diversion" from the jurisdictional authority of a Superior Court of Justice judge.
	Omission of the city for the authorizing judge	Document content	Supports the inference of diversion from Superior Court of Justice or Divisional Court authority.
	Grammatical/Spelling Errors	Page 3 of 5, "This Information is Accepted [sic] on its face"	Indicative of a court officer, not a TPS detective.
Language Translation Errors	Incorrect accent orientation	Page 2 of 5 (digitally signed phrase)	Uses 'accents graves' instead of requisite 'accents aigus,' suggesting manipulation.
	Unrequired French translation inclusion	Page 3 of 5 (under dating and location)	Inclusion of French translation was not required for the Ontario-only location.
	Omission of "jour" and "de"	Page 3 of 5 (TPS transcriber error)	Unauthorized transcriber error after the "23" for "day of."
	Incorrect French preposition	Page 3 of 5 (TPS transcriber error)	"Fait à/au:" used when it should have been "Fait à (au):".
	Incorrect City/Province text	Document content	Should read "Dated At City of Toronto" followed by "...in the Province of Ontario."

Digital Signature & Manipulation	Incorrect bolding and period inclusion in digitally signed phrase	Page 3 of 5	Suggests TPS manipulation, despite correct 'accents aigus.'
	Improper placement of digitally signed phrase	Page 3 of 5	Located in the middle of the page, not in the footer.
Missing Content & Structure	Page 3 of 5 inclusion	Document content	Not a constituent part of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
	Absence of page 4 of 6	Document content	Consistent with the involvement of a Superior Court Judge/Divisional Court Judge completing a Form 7 "Warrant for Arrest" or warrant under s. 487, or Crown Election.
	Auto-bookmarking issues	Document bookmarks	Bookmarks (Front Page, Adjournment Page, Last Page) lead to the conclusion that various pages were not the same as the False Information Package.

GrapeCity Category	Issue	Specific Deficiency/Reported Problem	Implication in Context
Software Identification		Application & Producer: Grape.City.Documents.PDF-6.0.2.0	Confirms the use of this specific programmatic .NET library, which is not a standard end-user tool like Adobe Acrobat.
Memory Issues		Significant increases in memory consumption; reported "Insufficient memory" exceptions after updates.	Could lead to unstable generation/saving, potentially causing data loss or corruption during document creation.
PDF Handling/Corruption		Throws exceptions when printing, loading, or saving; errors like "Document catalog not found" and "Item already has an owner."	Indicates the library can produce corrupted documents, especially when linearizing existing PDFs.
Footer Rendering Defects		Incorrect placement (varying offsets, appearing in the header); Unexpected content (e.g., "about: blank"); Failure to Render (when both header/footer are defined).	Directly corroborates the footer and header-as-footer errors noted in Schedule A (e.g., inconsistent footers, erroneous footer reproduction on Page 3).
Security Limitations		Inherits limitations from the PDF specification regarding encryption algorithms and key length, despite supporting AES-256.	Relevant if the document was password-protected or secured.
Developer Focus		The library is primarily a tool for developers to integrate PDF functionality programmatically.	Highlights that the document was created via an automated, back-end process rather than simple manual input via standard court software, which is crucial to the investigation of manipulation.

This detailed breakdown separates the specific factual errors in the court document (Schedule A) from the systemic, technical flaws of the software used to creat

10. The chronology provided by Ms. Sherwood, insofar as it appertains to this OIPC Appeal, is recounted in extenso as follows:
 - a. On July 21, 2025, the Information and Privacy Commissioner (IPC) inquired of the Tribunal whether a final decision had been promul subsequently posited that it necessitated assistance from the IPC to accurately identify the underlying access request submitted by the Appellant;

As the OIPC will be cognizant, the Access Request—which includes the designation "Access TO email account"—and the particulars of the OIPC Appellant's detailed submissions of May 23, 2025. A fortiori, not only did the Appellant furnish the essential particulars of the Access Request and OIPC .

complete with hyperlinking and cross-referencing of pertinent jurisprudence and documentary evidence. Consequently, the Tribunal could not have conducted precise identification of the same.

14. For a considerable duration, the Appellant has harboured the conviction that the LAT exercised a role in the depredation of the Appellant's property. The theft has been definitively established as Mr. David Karat of the TDIA Group, with the relevant date being October 25, 2024.
15. The temporal juxtaposition of this theft was inherently suspicious, given that the Appellant had evidenced, in strict adherence to the LAT Rules, the intent to file an Application only a few days prior to October 25, 2024.
16. Antecedent to that occurrence, the Appellant was criminally charged with harassment, allegedly directed toward the Appellant's ex-spouse, an event that avers unequivocally that no communication of any nature was transpired with the ex-spouse on that specific date.
17. The Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) has represented and admitted that it cannot locate any filings or the laying of an Information (see: Criminal Code, October 2024). As a result, Justice of the Peace Jiri, who was assigned to the OCJ Brampton Court in January 2024, could not have legitimately been involved in the 'instance'.
18. In August of 2025, the Appellant ascertained through the Toronto Police Service Professional Standards Unit (TPS PEMU) that a second TPS Occurrence on Sunday, September 15, 2024, contained within the False Information Package; this second matter also involved the TPS 14th Division but was as electronic correspondence to D/C Tang on multiple occasions soliciting a response, but he failed to reply. The Appellant then contacted the 14th Division and represented to the Appellant that no charges were pending and the matter was somehow related to the Appellant being denied ingress to the Appellant's car. The exclusion did not transpire until September 20, 2024. The Appellant then inquired regarding the Police Case ID: 457197 and its connection to the TPS, and concurred that the case ID might pertain to the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP).
19. Upon further exhaustive research and review, the nomenclature utilized for the "Police Case ID" was congruent with certain reported adjudicative determinations.
20. The Appellant has dispatched multiple requests and queries to the OPP, utilizing electronic mail, facsimile transmission, and physical letter, but the OPP has not responded.
21. The Appellant takes cognisance that when the Appellant delivered the previous access request in August/September 2024, police officers, identified as OPP 1 and 2, Toronto, Ontario. The Appellant deemed this occurrence anomalous, but conceded that the OPP was not familiar to the Appellant, whose domicile is in the Scarborough area. The Appellant, along with the requisite application fee, to an individual of East Indian or South Asian descent named "Joy". In the previous access request, the Appellant requested that the LAT proceed with greater urgency and the Appellant's involvement of the MAG to notify it of the issues concerning the due administration of justice, the LAT proceeded with greater urgency.
22. The Appellant was seriously injured on March 5, 2025, following a collision with an e-scooter at night whilst traversing the sidewalk in the downtown core of Toronto. The Appellant's recent Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRIs) in Spring 2025 conclusively demonstrated that the Appellant's impairments are substantial and that this exacerbation was the sole result of the automobile accident on August 31, 2022 (a no-fault claim), or a synergistic culmination of that accident and the Appellant's injuries from the March 5, 2025 collision. To recommence previous levels of activity, the Appellant delivered the March 20, 2025 Access Request. The Appellant has observed several individuals named "Joy," along with a female antecedent to him, assisted the Appellant. However, the individual known as "Joy" professed that he had never previously been subsequently confirmed after a protracted exchange of communications.
23. The Appellant observed the OPP officers yet again at the main security station, a detail that was again committed to memory.
24. On the precise dates in August and September 2025, which the Appellant will particularize further, or immediately prior to those deadlines, the Appellant had a conversation through disparate methodologies. On one specific occasion shortly before the September 19, 2025, deadline, one officer was vociferously prodding the Appellant to immediately disengage and informed the police officers that they had been previously engaged in fraudulent activities, that the Appellant did not represent the TDIA Group. The Appellant further stipulated that should they have any concerns, they possessed the Appellant's electronic mail address and could serve the Appellant with documents. The Appellant has not been formally served with any documents or contacted by any police officers, which includes the continuing failure or neglect to respond to the Appellant's requests.
25. The timing of the September 15, 2024, occurrence is rather unique considering that on September 12, 2024, the Appellant ascertained the actual facsimile address for TDHA that had been fraudulently provided to the Appellant, as it was not SNIC's designated address. The Appellant notes that the Appellant possessed no knowledge of that corporate designation in January 2024 and never referenced it in the Appellant's filings with the LAT. On September 12, 2024, the Appellant decided in relation to the Appellant's Motions (#13, #14, and #15) before the LAT. Nomination #13 was a motion for the production of third-party documents thereby contravening its own LAT Rules. Nomination #14 was the Appellant's motion seeking a finding that TDHA was the First Insurer, and Nomination #15 was a motion for the First Insurer. Nomination #13 was filed in early July 2024. Nomination #14 was filed in early August 2024, and Nomination #15 was filed on or approximately September 15, 2024.
26. The Undisclosed Motion Orders are delineated with their respective dates as:
 - a. July 24, 2024; and
 - b. August 16, 2024.
27. The Appellant has never viewed copies of those Undisclosed Motion Orders, but insofar as the Transparency and Accountability in Regulatory Agencies Act requires yesterday's date. The Appellant anticipates receiving copies of the same via electronic methods to facilitate a comprehensive review.
28. The Appellant observes numerous congruities in the tactical approaches employed by the representatives of the TDIA Group (three distinct insurance corporations) subject to the required disclosure under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) by the LAT, both entities have proffered a similar narrative not possess any relevant records, do not know which file is relevant, or what the access request was or presently is (albeit under the Personal Information Access Act).
29. The Appellant and the Appellant's ex-spouse commenced separation proceedings two days subsequent to the determination of the LAT that found the Respondent in the LAT Proceeding, which decision was promulgated on June 22, 2024. The Appellant was compelled to involve the Financial Services Commission of Ontario (FSCO) to obtain certificates for both SNIC and TDGIC. At that juncture, the Appellant was unaware that the facsimile number was that of TDHA.
30. The Appellant has ascertained that Mr. David Karat (the de facto perpetrator of the theft of the Appellant's property from the visitor area of CAMH on October 25, 2024) is a resident of the Scarborough area.
31. The Appellant further notes that the Minister of the Solicitor General's office (SOLGEN) is situated on the floor immediately below the floor upon which the Appellant resides. The Appellant observes that upon tendering the March 20 Access Request, the female employee who assisted the Appellant informed the Appellant that she was with thanks—with personnel on the 2nd and 3rd floors and attempting to determine which individual was authorized to receive the same. The Appellant further notes that the SOLGEN is responsible for, inter alia, the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) and policing operations across the entire province.
32. The Appellant notes that the SOLGEN is responsible for, inter alia, the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) and policing operations across the entire province.
33. The Appellant has since discovered in relation to the aforementioned judicial officer (who was not a Justice of the Peace) that the said judge was located at the Justice (SCJ) and not the OCJ.
34. The MAG has not possessed any records pertaining to the Criminal Code Form 2 Information at this juncture, but the Appellant notes that the designated section 2 of the Criminal Code.
35. The Appellant observes that the MAG is domiciled at Bay Street and not Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario. It has been a laborious and superfluous exercise to obtain Information and/or Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment. It has not been denied that the presiding judicial officer was Madam Justice Shore (formerly of matrimonial litigation with the Appellant's ex-spouse but spouse at the relevant time). However, the involvement of Madam Justice Kraft (also of Epstein RMO).
36. The SCJ RMO, which administers the recordings for the SCJ courthouses in the downtown Toronto vicinity—which encompasses four SCJ courthouses—Madam Justice Shore presided over any ex parte in camera hearings involving the Appellant from September 23, 2024, to October 2, 2024. This denial was on Sunday, September 15, 2024, involving D/C Tang, and the subsequent realization that the Police Case ID was likely that of the OPP. There is no hearing did not involve a properly vetted, established, and coordinated Zoom appearance, but rather transpired in the Judge's chambers (office). At the time, the judge is stationed at Queen Street, Toronto, Ontario, and not the SCJ Criminal Family Courthouse at 361 University Avenue.
37. While it would be deemed peculiar in my view to have a Divisional Court Judge hear and deliberate an ex parte in camera application for an arrest warrant, the Appellant notes that a judge of the Superior Court Of Criminal Jurisdiction includes a judge of the SCJ and the Ontario Court of Appeal (ONCA), which constitutes a branch of the SCJ.
38. As previously articulated, the Appellant has opined and noted the conflict of interest between The Honourable Madam Justice Shore and the TDIA Group, the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule (SABS) manager for all four insurance corporations in the TDIA Group until January 2025. The involvement of the MAG via a January 7, 2025, electronic mail from the court staff, who are employees of the MAG, which stated that she was directing that a case conference be held to discuss the facts or application records, as mandated by the Rules of Civil Procedure. Mr. Nieuwland was hesitant to file a Notice of Appearance (NOA) for those electronic mail chain, notwithstanding the LAT, through one Mr. Boyce, including him prior to any filing of a Notice of Appearance. The Appellant was aware of the corporations' NOA, that it led to the inference that the LAT provided a copy of a template to Mr. Nieuwland and those three respondent insurance corporations.

- engaged of the two respondents (excluding the MAG, which was excluded from the JRPA Proceeding), and was able to provide definitive evidence, inter alia in a Toronto Public Library loan equipment agreement, along with a variety of other fraudulent acts and impersonations et al.
39. In my view, the respondent insurance corporations, particularly their counsel, Mr. Nieuwland, were largely quiescent during the LAT Proceeding, where was the LAT that harboured the greater institutional animus towards the Appellant.
40. Analogous to the situation concerning counsel for Ms. Derenzis, the Tribunal apparently found the Appellant's filings distasteful. Vice-Chair Morissett Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) into her purported contravention of various federal statutes upon her departure from the federal government for a period which were apparently disclosed to the Appellant or to the Tribunal) that the Appellant deemed offensive (such as the assertion that the Appellant imposed the Society of Ontario (LSO) and was not and is not currently called to the LSO, Mr. Weir did not possess the option of reporting the Appellant, as he did with 41. The Appellant incorporates the observations by Justice Mandhane regarding the complaint by Mr. Weir against counsel to Ms. Derenzis:
- “[6]
While some records are protected by deliberative secrecy, the secrecy must give way on these facts because Derenzis has demonstrated that executive chairs of the Tribunal have directly intervened three times in Derenzis' applications to the LAT: first, to recuse a three-person panel on the first three-person panel; and, most recently, to personally complain about plaintiff's counsel to the Law Society of Ontario.”
- [34] I find that Derenzis has met her onus in this regard. To support my finding, I rely on three uncontroversial facts about Derenzis' applications before the LAT, that:
- On May 18, 2018, the executive chair recused a LAT panel assigned to hear the Derenzis matter after one of the adjudicator's told the parties that he had to take instructions from his “client.”
 - On May 1, 2019, the executive chair recused a LAT adjudicator from hearing a Derenzis matter because she had been on the LAT panel that had been recused in 2018.
 - On January 24, 2025, the executive chair filed a complaint to the Law Society of Ontario against one of the Derenzis' lawyers based on materials that the lawyer filed at the LAT on her behalf.
- [35] These facts alone raise concerns about the independence of LAT adjudicators, and whether their process complied with natural justice as it relates to Derenzis' applications. My concerns are amplified by the Court of Appeal's finding that the LAT's internal review process lacked sufficient independence during the same time frame as Derenzis' applications and under the same executive leadership: Shuttleworth v. License Appeal Tribunal, 2018 ONSC 3790, aff'd 2019 ONCA 518.”
42. The Appellant observes that Mr. Weir's term of appointment is scheduled to conclude in December 2025, eliciting the hypothesis that he may have percolated and may indeed persist, considering the recurrent presence of OPP personnel situated in the atrium of 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario.
43. The records solicited within the Thirteen Record Classes are indispensable (sine qua non) for the Appellant to effectively exercise the Appellant's rights to be free from being tainted by fraud, with the fraudulent element being material to the proceedings.
44. As an integral component of the Thirteen Record Classes, the Appellant re-affirms that those records must encompass the LAT's and Mr. Weir's involvement with technological deficiencies, complaints to law enforcement agencies concerning the Appellant, and recent interactions involving the police. The request is for the Group, including Mr. Karat and Mr. Papadimitropoulos.
45. The Appellant notes the alleged technological issue relayed to the Appellant by Mr. Josh Grant, the former case manager who was subsequently replaced in 2024.
46. If the events on Sunday, September 15, 2024, and September 22, 2024, do not possess any substantive validity or air of reality concerning the TPS Occurrence, the Appellant notes that Tribunals Ontario is a provincial entity and not municipal.
47. The Appellant further observes that the OPP is a provincial police service and not municipal.
48. The Appellant additionally notes that the 52nd Division is the closest police division in proximity to Tribunals Ontario. The Appellant observes that Justice Weir was most recently employed at the 52nd Division.
49. The Appellant harbours profound doubt that an Ontario government ministry would ever utilize manipulation software such as GrapeCity.PDF for Documents.
50. In point of fact, the only entity among Tribunals Ontario, the TDIA Group, the MAG, the TPS, the SOLGEN et al that has publicly acknowledged technological issues is the LAT. Moreover, it is the LAT, and not the other entities, that has evidenced a noticeable quantum of public technological issues, has not even complied with section 10 of the JRPA.
51. The Appellant also notes that it is section 14 of the SPPA that authorizes any tribunal within the adjudicative tribunal cluster—which are strictly subject to the Human Rights Code is paramount to the SPPA where those two statutes conflict—to procure a bench warrant from the Superior Court of Justice to enforce the summons.
52. The Appellant observes that it was the TDIA Group, acting through Mr. Karat, that was not operating in conjunction with the police, but rather against them.
53. The Appellant notes that the obligation of filing a record of proceeding is a statutory obligation imposed upon the LAT and not upon a respondent, as mandated by the JRPA.
54. The Appellant takes cognisance of the following information pertaining to Mr. Weir:
- “Executive Chair
Sean Weir was appointed to the position of Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario on June 2, 2020. His appointment was renewed on December 2, 2022, for an additional three year term.
Sean has an extensive legal background, as well as experience with strategic, operational and governance management, planning and delivery. He was the Chief Executive Officer and National Managing Partner of Borden Ladner Gervais.
In his legal practice, Sean advised financial institutions, corporations and major pension funds. Active in his community, Sean has served as an elected Councillor of the Town of Oakville, a director of the Oakville Trafalgar Memorial Hospital and a director and Chair of Oakville Hydro. Sean was named a “Diversity Champion” by Women of Influence Magazine, received the Lexpert Zenith Managing Partner Award for Corporate Social Responsibility, and was listed in the Lexpert/American Lawyer Guide to the Leading 500 Lawyers in Canada.”
55. Tribunals Watch Ontario promulgated the following assessment in August 2020:
- “At the time, Tribunal Watch Ontario also called attention to the leadership vacuum caused by the departure of the then Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario and the failure to reappoint or appoint Associate Chairs of the various tribunals within Tribunals Ontario. In June, Tribunal Watch Ontario issued a second Statement expressing concern about the interim appointment of Sean Weir, a corporate/commercial lawyer with no apparent tribunal or adjudicative experience, to head Tribunals Ontario

“Politicization

of senior appointments alarms Tribunal Watch Ontario | Gary Yee and Raj Anand

By Gary Yee and Raj Anand

Law360 Canada (November 20, 2020, 12:57 PM EST)

Tribunal Watch Ontario is alarmed by the recent series of Ontario cabinet appointments to senior leadership positions at Tribunals Ontario, the newly created cluster of 14 justice tribunals. Conservative party connections appear stronger than qualifications in some cases. Tribunal Watch Ontario (a public interest organization with a mission to promote tribunal independence and access to justice) calls for an independent review of the appointments and reappointments processes for Ontario tribunals.

The proposed executive chair of Tribunals Ontario, Sean Weir, has been called to appear before the Ontario Legislature’s Standing Committee on Government Agencies. We look forward to hearing that he has agreed to appear and be questioned by the committee prior to the November 30 deadline for reviewing and confirming his recent order-in-council appointment.

Weir was initially appointed in June 2020 to a term of six months, which was short enough to not legally require a competitive or merit-based process. He now appears to be the successful candidate for the more permanent appointment, after a posting on the Public Appointments Secretariat website of the Ontario government that lasted only 14 days in September, for a position that was incorrectly named as the executive chair of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, instead of Tribunals Ontario. Since June 2020, the current government has appointed four full-time associate chairs to Tribunals Ontario. As is the case with Weir, three of these four have strong connections with the governing party. Of the executive chair and four associate chairs, only one has appeared for review before the Standing Committee on Government Agencies (associate chair Sara Mintz on October 6, 2020). Tribunal Watch Ontario has issued statements regarding several of these appointments. With a record like this, and many more adjudicator vacancies being filled this year, the politicization of Ontario’s tribunals is a serious and growing concern. Strong steps must be taken to protect public confidence in the integrity and independence of adjudicative tribunals.”

57. Conflicts between senior adjudicators of the LAT do not constitute an issue of recent origin, considering the Therese Reilly imbroglio, wherein a Tribunal documented in Shuttleworth and the recent discovery that a former adjudicator, Therese Reilly (LSO number 28621D; “not practising law” with “contact 2022 and then proceeded to apparently promulgate determinations in favour of Aviva prior to commencing her in-house legal position.

58. The Appellant remains dispossessed of the property depredated from CAMH, and the Appellant is entitled to ascertain the precise involvement of the LAT

59. The obvious inference arising directly from the chronology provided by the OIPC is that the LAT possesses the records in question but is presently unwilling

I. DELINEATION OF LEGAL FOCI: THE PLURALITY OF ISSUES IN THE WITHIN APPEAL

60. The initial premise of this section of the Correspondence is to address and refine the semantic precision required in the extant context. I must : OIPC’s most recent communication. It is self-evident that there is more than a solitary controversy at bar; rather, this Appeal encompasses a multiplicity

61. The OIPC’s communication suggests that “Upon the LAT issuing a final access decision, the matter will be closed.” With profound re mandatory dispositive obligation imposed by FIPPA upon the Commissioner. The multiplicity of foci for review, arising from the LAT’s demonstrated three distinct, sequential issues that demand definitive resolution under FIPPA, subsection 54(1):

a. The Procedural and Substantive Issues: The initial Deemed Refusal itself, and the resulting necessity of drawing an adverse inference at the access request, which speaks directly to the administrative integrity of the Institution;

b. The Search Adequacy Issue: A determination as to whether the Head of the LAT conducted a reasonable search for all records within the history of evasion; and

c. The Substantive Exemption Issue: The subsequent correctness of any eventual access decision concerning claimed exemptions (e.g., section procedural default.

62. Therefore, the OIPC Appeal cannot be summarily terminated solely by the LAT’s belated issuance of a decision letter, as this correspondence, review under the Commissioner’s expansive authority.

63. The legislative intent of FIPPA, subsection 54(1), is unequivocally directed toward the final, comprehensive disposition of the plural issues, the compliance with one facet of its initial duty.

64. The Commissioner’s mandate is not merely to enforce a timeline, but to ensure that the public’s right of access is substantively realized, a response.

II. THE DOCTRINE OF DEEMED REFUSAL AND THE LAT’S SYSTEMIC NON-COMPLIANCE

A. THE LAT’S STATUTORY ADMISSION OF CUSTODY AND CONTROL

65. It is trite law that the Head of the LAT failed to issue a decision concerning the thirteen (13) Record Classes in accordance with FIPPA, se deemed to have rendered a “Deemed Refusal” to grant access to the requested records on April 19, 2025. This Deemed Refusal is predicated upon the in FIPPA, section 25, that it had custody or control of the requested Record Classes as of April 4, 2025. This statutory fiat of Deemed Refusal operated records and failed to meet the mandatory deadline for response. This omission is further compounded by the fact that the Head of the LAT failed to conditions precedent for such an extension—that the request was for a large volume of records or that meeting the time limit would unreasonably interfere the initial thirty-day period, rendering any subsequent post hoc justification for delay legally moot. The failure to exercise this permissible authority for administrative deficiency, placing the onus of proof squarely upon the LAT should the Appeal proceed to a de novo review of any eventual exemption claim.

B. ANALYSIS OF THE FORWARDING AND TRANSFERRING MANDATES UNDER FIPPA

66. The Legislature’s precise drafting distinguishes between “forwarding of an access request” (subsection 25(1)) and “transferring of an access

- a. Forwarding: The former is a mandatory duty to forward a request when the Institution lacks custody or control of a record. The Head is shall forward the request;
- b. Transferring: The latter, however, imports a discretion upon the Head, denoted by the usage of the permissive verb “may”, contingent upon record.” This discretion, in accordance with the principles extrapolated from Roncarelli v. Duplessis (“judicial discretion”), may not be exercised demonstrably in furtherance of the objects of the Act—namely, maximizing access—and cannot be utilized for collateral purposes, such as an end in itself, as paramount, as the LAT is statutorily presumed to have the records, having neither forwarded nor transferred the request, thereby definitively assuming

67. The governing test for “greater interest” is disjunctive, as delineated in FIPPA, subsection 25(3). An Institution becomes the “Transferee Institution Recipient Test”. The LAT’s failure to notify the Appellant of any such forwarding or transferring effectuates a statutory confirmation that the Access Request. Had the LAT adhered to this process, the commencement of the thirty-day statutory timeline would have been shifted; its failure to act in accordance with the subsequent default and Deemed Refusal upon the Head of the LAT.

III. THE NON-APPLICABILITY OF EXEMPTIONS A PRIORI TO NOTICE

68. The LAT’s Deemed Refusal renders the substantive exemptions enumerated in FIPPA, sections 17 and 21, presently inapplicable, as the conditions for their application are not met.

A. THIRD PARTY INFORMATION EXEMPTION (FIPPA, SECTION 17)

69. The mandatory refusal clause contained within FIPPA, subsection 17(1), regarding information that reveals a trade secret or commercial/financial Classes. Moreover, the Head of the LAT had a mandatory duty under FIPPA, subsection 28(1)(a), to serve written notice to any Affected Person if the disclosure of such information would be in the interest. The absence of such notice is, ipso facto, a statutory admission that the Head of the LAT did not possess such a reason to believe. To permit reward its initial breach of its mandatory duty and undermine the entire procedural framework of FIPPA by enabling an institution to bypass the notice by the LAT must meticulously address the doctrine of severing, as required under FIPPA, section 27(1). Even if an exemption were deemed applicable to a record that can reasonably be severed, a principle wholly ignored by the Deemed Refusal.

B. PERSONAL PRIVACY EXEMPTION (FIPPA, SECTION 21)

70. FIPPA, section 21(1)(f), dictates a mandatory refusal to disclose personal information if such disclosure would constitute an “unjustified invasion of privacy”.

71. The Head of the LAT was obligated to give written notice pursuant to FIPPA, subsection 28(1)(b), if there was reason to believe the disclosure of such information would be in the interest. Given the lack of notice, it is legally axiomatic that the Head of the LAT did not possess a reasonable belief that the disclosure of the information would be in the interest. This conclusion is further buttressed by a consideration of the enumerated presumptions in FIPPA, subsection 2(1), regarding a person’s financial, educational, or criminal history—categories that the requested Record Classes regarding the LAT’s administrative and adjudicative confidentiality may attach to records that chronicle, document, or support criminal conduct or administrative malfeasance predicated upon such conduct. The mandates that the “unjustified invasion of personal privacy” must yield when the public interest in the disclosure of administrative or criminal records of public institutions. Moreover, the expansive and liberal definition of “personal information” requires the LAT to have conducted a detailed search of the Appellant as an individual, thereby potentially qualifying the information for disclosure despite the presence of third-party information.

IV. THE DISPOSITIVE OBLIGATION OF THE COMMISSIONER DURING THE INQUIRY PHASE

A. THE MANDATORY SCOPE OF THE ORDER UNDER FIPPA, SECTION 54(1)

72. The Notice of Expedited Inquiry signifies a critical procedural juncture. The OIPC has elected to proceed under FIPPA, section 52 (Inquiry Phase), enshrined in FIPPA, subsection 54(1):

“After all of the evidence for an inquiry has been received, the Commissioner shall make an order disposing of the issues raised by the appeal.” (Emphasis added.)

73. The imperative verb “shall” mandates the Commissioner to render an order disposing of the plural issues, once the totality of the evidence has been received.

74. The OIPC’s statement that the Appeal will be “closed” upon the LAT issuing a “decision letter” suggests a failure to distinguish between an overarching statutory mandate to dispose of all issues raised by the Appeal Notice (“NOA” or “Appeal Notice”). The issuance of a belated access request constitutes an additional evidentiary instrument for the Inquiry Phase, potentially raising more issues (e.g., the correctness of any claimed exemptions). The OIPC lies in concluding the Inquiry before the OIPC has had the opportunity to substantively review the eventual decision and to definitively close the file only.

B. THE NON-APPLICABILITY OF THE Statutory Powers Procedure Act AND THE RELEVANCE OF THE Legislation Act

75. While FIPPA, subsection 52(2), explicitly provides that the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22 (SPPA) “does not apply to inquiries” of the Inquiry is still governed by the rules of statutory interpretation, notably the Legislation Act, 2006, S.O. 2006, c. 21, Sch. F (Legislation Act):

a. Law Always Speaking: Pursuant to Legislation Act, section 63, “The law is always speaking, and the present tense shall be applied to all laws.”

b. Rule of Liberal Interpretation: Furthermore, section 64(1) requires that “An Act shall be interpreted as being remedial and shall be given the broadest possible interpretation.”

76. This remedial and liberal mandate reinforces the importance of the access to information and privacy protection statutes, as evidenced in Da Silva, a powers provision in Legislation Act, section 78, which dictates that if a power to perform a duty is conferred on a person, “all necessary incidental powers” are also conferred.

C. THE NEXUS BETWEEN INCIDENTAL POWERS AND SYSTEMIC NON-COMPLIANCE

77. The application of Legislation Act, section 78 (Incidental powers) and section 79 (Performance when occasion requires) is highly pertinent to the Commissioner to “make an order disposing of the issues” under FIPPA, subsection 54(1), must necessarily encompass the incident of the LAT has demonstrated systemic and protracted non-compliance—manifested in its documented failures to respond to the OIPC and its feigned inability to issue an interim order ex proprio motu compelling the Head of the LAT to execute its statutory duties under FIPPA, section 26, within a strict deadline; it becomes a mandatory performance required by the occasion, as failure to act permits the LAT’s procedural abuse to undermine the objects of FIPPA itself.

V. THE PURPOSIVE EXCLUSION OF THE STATUTORY POWERS PROCEDURE ACT (SPPA)

78. The legislative decision to exclude the SPPA from FIPPA Inquiries, enshrined in FIPPA, subsection 52(2), is not a casual legislative oversight and non-adversarial character of the OIPC process, distinguishing it from the adjudicative hearings of typical tribunals.

A. PRESERVATION OF INVESTIGATIVE MANDATE (SPPA, SECTIONS 5, 6, 7, 9)

79. The SPPA is fundamentally structured around the concept of a public hearing, requiring formal Notice of Hearing (s. 6), oral testimony and consequences for non-attendance (s. 7). By contrast, FIPPA, subsection 52(13), provides for written representations in a private setting.

95. Deemed Refusal Status: Is the LAT in a state of refusal pursuant to FIPPA, subsection 29(4), given its failure to issue a final writ Access Request? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, paras 1, 23; Secondary Submissions, August 21, 2025, para 5; Notice of Inquiry (Expedited), Sept 10, 2025, para 10).
- a. Sub-Issue I.A.i: Did the LAT waive its right to claim an Extension of Time (FIPPA, s. 27) or claim the request was Frivolous or Vexatious (FIPPA, s. 27)? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 23).
- b. Sub-Issue I.A.ii: Has the LAT's persistent non-compliance—extending over 150 days beyond the statutory deadline—constituted a systemic failure without further hearing? (Secondary Submissions, August 21, 2025, Subject #2).
95. Mandatory Severing Provision: Has the LAT violated its mandatory duty under FIPPA, subsection 10(2), to disclose as much of the Sought Record as is in its possession, a duty which was breached by the Deemed Refusal? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 71).

INSTITUTIONAL IDENTIFICATION AND JURISDICTION

97. Statutory Admission of Control: Did the LAT implicitly admit custody and/or control of the 13 Record Classes by failing to forward or assuming all legal duty for the non-response? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 7).

II. EVIDENTIARY AND SEARCH ADEQUACY ISSUES

SUFFICIENCY OF SEARCH AND SCOPE OF RECORDS

98. Reasonable Search: Did the LAT conduct a reasonable search for all records within the thirteen (13) Record Classes specified by the Appellant's Submissions, August 21, 2025, para 8).
99. Scope of Control: Does the LAT possess "control" over all Non-Email Communications (Class #11) and records related to its internal Decision Review devices or in non-traditional formats? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 7; Secondary Submissions, August 21, 2025, paras 8.k, 9).
100. Existence of Records: Since the OIPC did not immediately dismiss the Appeal under FIPPA, subsection 50(2.1), must it be conclusively determined that records exist? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 2).
101. Failure to Produce Specific Referenced Records: Has the LAT failed to produce demonstrably existing records, such as the Two Undisclosed Motion and the LAT ROP Print-Out (Declaration #1, September 15, 2025, Exhibit "A", page 6) and are required for a full and accurate record of the proceeding? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, paras 67.ii-iii).

PRESERVATION AND SPOILIATION

102. Preservation Duty: Has the LAT breached its mandatory duty under FIPPA, section 10.1, and the Archives and Recordkeeping Act to preserve records? (Secondary Submissions, August 21, 2025, p 54, para 3; Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, Order #1).
103. Adverse Inference: Does the chronology of the LAT's non-compliance—specifically, requiring OIPC assistance in July 2025 to "identify the appellants' records" to Mr. Weir (Head of the LAT) and the Access Email in May 2025—warrant the drawing of an Adverse Inference against the LAT regarding the completeness of its records? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, p 2; Declaration #1, September 15, 2025, p 38, Section VI.B).

III. SUBSTANTIVE EXEMPTION AND DISCLOSURE ISSUES

APPLICABILITY OF EXEMPTIONS

104. Waiver of Exemption Claims: Has the LAT waived its right to claim Third Party Information (FIPPA, s. 17) or Personal Privacy (FIPPA, s. 18) over records affecting a person under FIPPA, section 28(1)? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 23).
105. Unjustified Invasion of Privacy: Can the disclosure of records related to the TDIA Group Karat Theft constitute an Unjustified Invasion of Personal Privacy where the individual holds no Reasonable Expectation of Privacy (REOP)? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 3; Declaration #1, September 15, 2025, paras 19, 31).
106. Solicitor-Client Privilege and Unlawful Conduct: Would any prima facie claim of Solicitor-Client or Litigation Privilege over records (e.g., Class #11) be defeated by (Tort) exceptions, which apply to communications made in furtherance of a criminal or tortious scheme? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 4; Declaration #1, September 15, 2025, para 10).
- a. Sub-Issue III.A.iii.a: Do the alleged actions by the LAT and its agents—including systemic non-compliance, aiding the concealment of fraud/theft, and the disclosure of records—constitute unlawful conduct or torts such as misfeasance in public office, civil conspiracy, or breach of statutory duty sufficient to satisfy the Unjustified Invasion of Privacy test? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 6; Declaration #1, September 15, 2025, p 26, para 34).

PUBLIC INTEREST OVERRIDE AND HEALTH/SAFETY

107. Compelling Public Interest: Does the Compelling Public Interest in disclosing records related to alleged institutional malfeasance, breaches of individual in Tribunal proceedings clearly outweigh the purpose of any potential exemption under FIPPA, section 23? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 10).
108. Health and Security Implications: Does the Appellant's established concern regarding health and security, directly arising from the TDIA Group Karat Theft, constitute factors of FIPPA, subsection 21(2)(b) (promote public health and safety) and (d) (fair determination of rights)? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 10).

IV. DISPOSITIVE AUTHORITY, REMEDIES, AND SYSTEMIC INTEGRITY

SCOPE OF THE FINAL ORDER

109. Disposition of Plural Issues: Does the Commissioner's mandatory duty under FIPPA, subsection 54(1), require the final Order to dispose of all issues (if one is eventually issued), thereby prohibiting the Appeal from being simply "closed" upon the LAT's tardy issuance of a decision letter? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, p 3, Next Steps).
110. Issuance of Peremptory Interim Order: Should the OIPC issue an Interim Order compelling the LAT to produce an Index of Records and its final formal hearing, based on the LAT's unmitigated non-compliance? (Secondary Submissions, August 21, 2025, Subject #3, para 30).
111. Requirement for Sworn Evidence: Should any LAT response asserting non-existence of records or claiming exemptions be required to be substantiated by an institutional representative to satisfy the OIPC's need for objective verification? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, Order #3).

POTENTIAL STATUTORY OFFENCES

112. Wilful Obstruction: Has the LAT and/or its Head potentially engaged in conduct contrary to FIPPA, subsection 61(1)(d) (wilfully obstruct the Access Request) to "identify" the Access Request months after the Appeal was filed, designated Expedited, and submissions were copied to the Head of the Institution and the OIPC? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, para 10).

V. JURISDICTIONAL CONFLICTS AND SUPPORTING LEGISLATIVE BREACHES

ADJUDICATIVE RECORDS AND PUBLIC AVAILABILITY

114. ATAGAA Contravention: Has the LAT acted in contravention of its core principles under the Adjudicative Tribunals Accountability, Governance, and Transparency Act, including transparency, accountability, and efficiency in its record management, thereby fundamentally undermining its institutional mandate? (Secondary Submissions, May 23, 2025, paras 43, 46).

115. Inapplicability of Fees/Time Extensions After Default: Does the LAT's status as a defaulting institution mean that it is statutorily precluded from exercising its procedural rights under the Access to Information Act (ATIA) and the Access to Information Protection Act (AIPPA), s. 27), as these procedural rights were implicitly waived by the initial Deemed Refusal? (Initial Submissions, May 23, 2025, paras 43, 46).

116. As I appreciate the OIPC's time is valuable and finite, while I note the delays caused by the LAT, I have prepared a table or chart of the types noted the records sought are subsumed under some or all of the 13 Record Classes even if not specifically referenced.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/ Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

III. The Clerical Imperfection and Its Jurisprudential Ramifications

As was previously delineated in submissions and ancillary correspondence, the designated Respondent in this matter, being the Licence Appeal Tribunal (th April 2025. This clerical imperfection, an evident quid pro quo to the Notice of Appeal, was processed in accordance with section 9 of the OIPC Code of Pro “Tribunals Ontario” as the Respondent constitutes a material and clerical error. The tribunal’s authority to correct such errors is noted by reference to section 2

“Correction of errors

21.1 A tribunal may at any time correct a typographical error, error of calculation or similar error made in its decision or order. 1994, c. 27, s. 5

The Notice of Appeal is demonstrably encumbered by a typographical or a similar type of error. In light of the “party” issue delineated therein, a formal cor confirmation be provided to both the Appellant and the LAT. This course of action is demonstrably warranted due to the inherent public interest component of be possible for the Commissioner, et al., to be withdrawn from this correspondence, as their inclusion was predicated upon the necessity of ensuring that the of “Tribunals Ontario” was an isolated error or indicative of a more systemic issue within the OIPC, although a review of the prevailing jurisprudence su correction of a nominal misstep; it underpins the very jurisdictional foundation of the appeal. Without a properly identified respondent, the entire process is su the correct institution from the outset introduces a latent ambiguity that could, at a subsequent stage, vitiate any order or resolution achieved. Therefore, the sc but a critical measure to preserve the integrity and enforceability of any future determination. The public interest is profoundly served by the transparent and from their inception constitutes an essential component of this public trust. It is an axiomatic principle of administrative law that a tribunal’s authority to adju linked to the proper identification of the parties before it. A failure to rectify this foundational error would render any subsequent decision an ultra vires act, su bis vexari pro una et eadem causa—that no one should be vexed twice for one and the same cause—is implicated. By correcting the respondent’s name a thereby preventing the relitigation of the same matter and upholding the tenets of judicial economy and finality. The administrative record must be rendered could have far-reaching implications for the entire proceeding.

IV. A Syllogistic Examination of Hypothetical Scenarios and the Deemed Refusal Doctrine

An inquiry is made as to whether the LAT has provided a substantive response since the preceding week. In the event of a non-response, while Ms. Sherw respectfully posited that such a course of action would be premature and, in toto, discordant with the established jurisprudence concerning a “Deemed Refusal

While the precision of language is appreciated, it is observed that the phrase “Expedited Inquiry” is not a term of art defined within the OIPC Code of F processing model designed to expedite the resolution of select appeals through informal resolution or formal Inquiry. Prior to the commencement of any suc prerequisite established by the very case law that has been cited.

While an Inquiry, per se, necessitates the disposition of all issues raised, pursuant to section 54 of FIPPA, the full breadth of these issues cannot be ascertain Record Classes. As a matter of legal principle, a mutually agreeable resolution between the Parties cannot be achieved while the typographical error persist under FIPPA and the concurrent provision of the sought personal information and general records.

As delineated in Rule 9.03 of the OIPC Code of Procedure, the Case Lead possesses a number of available avenues. Submissions and a sworn declaration I statutory deadlines renders further deadlines futile and moot until the clerical error is corrected.

Given the potential and pre-emptive nature of the LAT’s non-response, an Amended Draft Order is appended herein. While the SPPA does not govern an inqui the benefit of the SPPA’s principles and the opportunity for clerical correction. The syllogistic foundation of this argument is as follows: A proper adjudicat incorrect respondent, thereby creating a procedural lacuna. Until this procedural deficiency is remedied, any attempt at a substantive inquiry would be in limin with an Inquiry under such circumstances would be a dereliction of procedural due process and an unwarranted expenditure of adjudicative resources. The jur fulfill its statutory obligation to respond to an access request, which can only be properly determined when the correct institution is a party to the proceedings substantive response, thereby providing the necessary foundation for a subsequent Inquiry, should it remain necessary. The logical extrapolation of this princi and legally consequential state of inaction. This inaction, when viewed through the lens of a deemed refusal, is not a passive event but an affirmative legal p such delays, ensuring that institutions cannot evade their statutory obligations through silence. The submissions, fortified by a sworn declaration, have estal shifted to the LAT. The futility of setting new, abbreviated deadlines is self-evident; it would merely replicate the very circumstance—non-compliance—that is the issuance of a formal order that compels a response, thereby bypassing the procedural stalemate and re-energizing the legal process.

V. A Critical Analysis of FIPPA Exemptions and the Doctrine of Ipsa Facto

For the sake of clarity, should the LAT have provided a response, a copy is requested to be furnished to the Appellant and the OIPC.

The objective of the Expedited Appeals Team is to effect a timely and effective resolution of the issues while maintaining fairness and impartiality. As Ms. Sh issue an order. The inability to resolve until the clerical error is rectified has been previously demonstrated. Dismissal is, ipsa facto, impossible without resolution” given that more than 150 days have elapsed since the filing of this Appeal.

While Ms. Sherwood’s consideration of an Expedited Inquiry is appreciated, the binding jurisprudence governing Deemed Refusals requires that a standar include, inter alia, an order compelling the LAT to issue an access decision within seven (7) days of today’s date, without recourse to any time extensions und The myriad issues to be adjudicated are already known, and more are likely to emerge once the LAT’s position is illuminated. In relation to the mandatory exe any of the mandatory exemptions. It is trite law that the LAT is a quasi-judicial body and not an arm of the Cabinet; therefore, Section 12 is inapplicable. See not pertain to commercial, financial, or tax information. While solicitor-client privilege may be germane, it is, by definition, a permissive rather than a mandat

Regarding section 21 of FIPPA, which addresses personal privacy, the LAT’s failure to exercise its right to provide notice under section 28(1)(b) of FIPPA would constitute an unjustified invasion of another individual’s privacy. The disjunctive nature of subsections 21(1)(a) to (f) dictates that a failure to engage that section. The legislative framework is unambiguous in its differentiation between personal and non-personal information. The failure of the LAT to avail i is not a mere procedural oversight, but a procedural estoppel. This inaction creates a powerful legal inference, an adverse inference in fact, that no third-par rigorous legal standard of an “unjustified invasion of privacy.” The LAT’s inaction, in this context, is a legally significant act of omission. It serves as ar mandatory privacy exemption. The legislative architecture of FIPPA is purposefully designed to compel institutions to be proactive in their engagement with e to adhere to this statutory scheme is therefore of profound significance. The legislative intent behind section 21 is to protect the privacy of third parties, but th on the institution to demonstrate that an exemption applies. By failing to perform the preliminary step of providing notice, the LAT has effectively forfeited it in cases of ambiguity or omission, the interpretation should be against the party that failed to act. The LAT, through its inaction, has not only neglected a statu privacy claim. To proceed with an Inquiry in the absence of a proper claim under section 21 would be to entertain a hypothetical argument that has no basis in

VI. Denouement

Pursuant to the processing of the Notice of Appeal as an Expedited Appeal, Ms. Sherwood’s remaining course of action is to issue an order, and the only logic has been sought. There is no intention to castigate a simple error. The representations made to the Commissioner are in the public interest, seeking to recti

Given that it is unequivocal that no further submissions are required, and presuming that the LAT did not meet its deadline, it is respectfully requested that t sought personal information, allowing for a progression toward an amicable, efficient, and respectful resolution of any remaining issues. This approach uphol that the right of access is not unduly delayed by procedural stumbles and that the institution is held to account for its statutory obligations. Volume 1: Summary of the Attached Declaration #1

This document is a detailed legal declaration by the appellant, Mr. Kevin A. McLean, submitted on September 15, 2025, in the context of an appeal before the Office of the Information and Appeal Tribunal (LAT) to comply with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), focusing on public interest concerns, procedural matters, and specific record requests

Declaration Overview and Procedural Context

As the appellant, a declaration has been made under penalty of perjury as to the truth of the facts presented in a motion record, filed concurrently. This declaration is prompted by personal and l related statutes. The appeal is identified under OIPC File Number PA25-00294 and involves the LAT as the institution under FIPPA.

Public Interest Issues

The declaration emphasizes the public importance of determining the correct “Party” under the OIPC Code of Procedure, arguing that “TRIBUNALS ONTARIO” cannot legally be construed as 2019, highlighting concerns about improper substitution of parties in appeals and the need for definitive adjudication on this matter to prevent evasion of substantive issues. The doctrine of n issues disappear, the public interest in clarifying the status of TRIBUNALS ONTARIO as a party remains critical.

FIPPA Compliance and LAT’s Conduct

Prior submissions have been reiterated asserting that the LAT has abdicated its duty to act in good faith and with due diligence under FIPPA. The appeal was initiated promptly following th urgency and seriousness of the matter. Allegations have been made as to the LAT’s complicity in failing to preserve records and a perceived partiality, particularly in relation to an incident invo LAT’s silence for over 180 days after the access request constitutes a breach of statutory duties and necessitates OIPC intervention.

Detailed Record Classes Requested

A critical part of the declaration is the enumeration of thirteen classes of records sought from the LAT to ensure a full and accurate record of the appellant’s personal information and related pro

- File logs and screenshots to reconstruct the file’s history and verify procedural integrity.
 - Records related to a reported power outage to validate the LAT’s account and data management.
 - Specific documents missing from the LAT’s prior printout, including undisclosed motion orders.
 - Internal review documents (Shuttleworth-type) to assess legal and peer review processes.
 - Lists and communications involving legal counsel and professional advisers to identify conflicts of interest.
 - Communications between LAT officials and the TDIA Group, including those excluding the appellant, to detect possible ex parte communications.
 - Notes from phone calls and non-email communications on government-issued mobile devices.
 - Residual records ensuring full disclosure of all relevant personal information.
- This comprehensive request highlights concerns about procedural fairness, transparency, and potential record tampering or destruction by the LAT.

OIPC Expedited Process and Procedural Issues

The appeal was designated for expedited processing under OIPC Practice Direction #13 due to its nature. However, it is contended that the OIPC Expedited Appeals Team has not effectively stresses that only the LAT qualifies as the institution party under FIPPA, not TRIBUNALS ONTARIO, and that no meaningful engagement or resolution efforts have occurred.

Legal and Procedural Foundations

The declaration extensively references FIPPA provisions, OIPC Code of Procedure rules, and relevant jurisprudence to support the appellant's position. Key points include:

- 1. The LAT’s deemed refusal under section 29(4) of FIPPA due to its failure to respond within 30 days.
- 2. The burden of proof on the LAT to justify any exemptions once a refusal is established.
- 3. The appellant's right to appeal and the OIPC’s authority to issue orders without further LAT submissions.
- 4. The statutory obligation of the LAT head to preserve records and the inapplicability of such duties to TRIBUNALS ONTARIO.

The invocation of principles that a permissive statutory power becomes a mandatory duty when linked to legal rights.

Summary of Exhibits

The declaration includes three exhibits:

- 1. Exhibit A: The original comprehensive Access Request submitted to the LAT on March 20, 2025, detailing the 13 record classes.
- 2. Exhibit B: Confirmation of the appeal initiation and fee payment to the OIPC on April 23, 2025.
- 3. Exhibit C: Correspondence and emails documenting the LAT’s ongoing non-engagement and the appellant's efforts to preserve records and seek resolution, highlighting concerns

In essence, the declaration is a formal, detailed appeal for statutory access to records, drawing attention to procedural failures, legal ambiguities, and the broader public interest implications inv

Volume 2: The Merits

It is hereby submitted that this matter, in its profoundest import, transcends the confines of the specific dispute between the Appellant and the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT). This is an issu particular to the persistent obfuscation as to whether “Tribunals Ontario” may be lawfully designated a “Party” in lieu of the LAT, which entity constitutes an “Institution” as defined by the Fr prior adjudications of the OIPC on this subject are, ex facie, erroneous, and that a conclusive determination is indispensable for the preservation of the integrity of the FIPPA regulatory fram officer, possesses a distinct mandate to ensure the consistent and correct application of the law, a mandate that is fundamentally undermined when procedural ambiguities are permitted to eva the Act to be substituted as a party are far-reaching, potentially vitiating the statutory rights of every individual who interacts with provincial tribunals.

The submissions heretofore submitted to this Office and duly served upon the LAT are incorporated herein by reference, and the facts proclaimed in the accompanying Declaration #1 shall b profound and persistent dereliction of its statutory obligations through its failure to render a final access decision, an administrative inaction which constitutes a “deemed refusal” pursuant t quasi-constitutional right, has necessitated the institution of the present Appeal and mandates the intervention of the OIPC with due dispatch. The protracted silence of the LAT, extending well the principles of transparency and administrative accountability that underpin the entire legislative scheme. Such non-compliance, particularly in a matter classified for an expedited process, se futile, endeavour.

The burden of proof, as stipulated in section 53 of FIPPA, is now reposed solely upon the Head of the LAT to substantiate its refusal to provide access to the records. In the conspicuous absent implicit admission that it is unable to discharge this burden. The demonstrable and inadequately explained delay in this expedited proceeding has resulted in a denial of justice to the Appella profoundly prejudicial, as it obstructs the Appellant's ability to obtain crucial information and, by extension, to pursue other legal remedies in a timely fashion. The failure of the LAT to ever bound to fill with decisive and binding orders. Some of the orders are consistent with previous orders in the case of Derenzis v. LAT before the OIPC.

It is respectfully proffered that the issuance of a peremptory order compelling the LAT to produce the requisite records, or a comprehensive index thereof, without further procrastination or record measure is not merely consonant with the OIPC's own Practice Direction #13: Expedited Processes but is also inexorably prescribed by the jurisprudential doctrine established in Julius v. O conjoined with a legal right and a corresponding duty. This principle, having been jurisprudentially adopted by the Supreme Court of Canada, constitutes a foundational tenet of administrative and the OIPC's authority merely advisory, thereby undermining the efficacy and credibility of the entire oversight mechanism.

Declaration #1 is tendered for no illicit purpose and is to be interpreted as a singular and diligent effort to effectuate a resolution of this matter with efficiency and in strict adherence to the rule will duly exercise its authority to compel the LAT's compliance, thereby re-establishing the sanctity of the FIPPA framework. The gravity of the matter, coupled with the persistent nor consequences of inaction would extend far beyond this specific case, potentially establishing a dangerous precedent that would embolden other institutions to disregard their statutory obligation

RE: File No. PA25-00294 - Licence Appeal Tribunal, Appeal Under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31

This correspondence is tendered on grounds of lawful authority, and all prior communications pertaining to the material facts and legal principles are hereby reiterated and expressly relied upon as external. All definitions articulated in preceding correspondence are adopted herein where applicable. Strict and diligent observance of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act in all directions is presumed.

The Compulsory Nature of Discretionary Powers

The OIPC, which is respectfully and duly obligated to hear and decide the relief being sought in the instant matter, is confronted with a circumstance wherein the expedited disposition of the matter is a precedent established in Julius v. Oxford (Bishop Of), as articulated by Lord Cairns, has been axiomatically embraced by the Supreme Court of Canada for a duration of approximately one century. A discretionary “may” is to be construed as a compulsory “must,” specifically: “The enabling words are construed as compulsory whenever the object of the power is to effectuate a legal result or to render a decision subsequent to the submission of an application or motion. It is demonstrable from the extant record of proceeding that a motion for relief was propounded through, inter alia, that caution was exercised. Given that health and security remain demonstrably imperiled, a fact supported by compelling evidence, the orders sought must be granted in an expeditious fashion, and the

Systemic Problems and the Derenzis Precedent (more forceful language)

A systemic issue is likewise present at the nexus of the present appeal. For purposes of ease of reference and convenience, a pertinent excerpt has been reproduced from Derenzis et al v. Halton Region under Rule 30.10 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, as initiated by the plaintiffs and moving parties in the Superior Court of Justice, Central West Region:

The Plaintiff, Lucia Derenzis, brings a motion pursuant to Rule 30.10 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, for production of records held by the License Appeal Tribunal (LAT) relating to more than 400 emails between adjudicators, counsel and staff (the “emails”). The LAT created the records during its administration of Derenzis’ applications against her insurance company, Gore Mutual Insurance Company.

Because the records contain her personal information, Derenzis first requested them from the LAT directly. The LAT refused to provide them, asserting deliberative secrecy and solicitor-client privilege (the “IPCO”). The LAT would not disclose the records to the IPCO for their review. While the IPCO refused to order release of the notes and drafts, it found that there was “insufficient evidence” to issue an access decision with respect to the emails. In its access decision, the LAT again refused to release the records to Derenzis. The IPCO’s decision is now under review by the Federal Court.

The use of the present tense of the verb “to contain” by Justice Mandhane is considered particularly noteworthy.

Privilege and the Undisclosed Records

An assertion of solicitor-client privilege and deliberative secrecy may be endeavored by the LAT in relation to its communications with the persons designated within each of the thirteen categories of the aforementioned Derenzis decision, the LAT did refuse to disclose the records to the OIPC for its review. The OIPC, in a manner consistent with the FIPPA and its attendant regulations, in its decision which stipulates that:

“This Act does not apply to personal notes, draft decisions, draft orders and communications related to draft decisions or draft orders that are created by or for a person who is acting in a quasi-judicial capacity.”

As both the OIPC and the LAT possess cognizance of the relevant dates pertaining to draft decisions and draft orders, which are demonstrably irrelevant to the present “March 20, 2021” decision, compiled, yet deficient, register of proceedings which have neither been observed nor provided (nota bene: beyond the scope herein as those are subject to TARA but only to the extent that the records are “Undisclosed Motion Orders” (or “Two Undisclosed Motion Decisions”) will be observed.

Furthermore, the scope of the present Appeal is not restricted to electronic mail transmissions, but encompasses all records exchanged between adjudicators (e.g., Ms. Morrisette, Ms. Lal, Mr. Josh Grant, under circumstances that require scrutiny). The records also include exchanges with non-LAT entities and individuals, including those situated at 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto.

Expedited Resolution and the Delays

With the utmost deference, it is a fundamental jurisprudential principle that a denial of justice is constituted by an undue delay, particularly when such a delay pertains to the receipt of a decision or a strategic maneuvering involving “drag, stall, and delay” and “playing for time” may be considered effective litigation tactics between adversarial parties, the conduct of the LAT at issue transpires before the tribunal. While this status affords the inapplicability of FIPPA to draft notes, decisions, et al. that precede an order or decision, those records which are undisclosed yet referenced in an affidavit or in these undisclosed documents are not exempt. The temporal sequencing of events is, in a manner of speaking, irrefutably self-evident, thus indicating the suspicious nature of the timeline.

Although Ms. Derenzis has challenged the independence of the LAT, a position that aligns with the perception that such independence is nonexistent due to systemic issues, there is no documentation by the LAT for a different insurance company like that which occurred with me (see: initial unilateral and unlawful switch from SNIC to TDGIC). This substitution was based upon his own affidavit, David Karat, a known adjuster and alternative dispute resolution specialist to the LAT, concerning the proper and lawful insurance company (as defined as “First Insurer” under Reg 283).

Conclusion

In a manner analogous to any claim of solicitor-client privilege, it is incumbent upon the party asserting the privilege to facilitate an assessment of its validity by providing a chart and a correct statement of its position in Derenzis v. Gore Mutual et al, a final access decision is urgently required in the instant matter. It has now been a period of 170 days since the access request was submitted to the LAT.

It has been 139 days since I remitted payment to the OIPC.

It was promptly and correctly determined to be an expedited appeal. If this new practice direction #13 is to have any “teeth”, then the orders sought must be granted without any further hearing.

It is trusted that the OIPC will proceed in a manner that is in full compliance with FIPPA, its attendant regulations, and its practice direction #13. Particular emphasis is to be placed on the administrative fairness. The receipt of an issued order that is substantively consistent with the draft order provided yesterday is awaited.

If I can be of further assistance, please let me know at your earliest convenience. I will otherwise presume that the provided data above and attachment is sufficiently and duly completed.

Yours truly,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Short title of proceeding: McLean v. LAT Sender: Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM) Re: Submission of a Draft Order for the OIPC's Consideration and Issu

Date: September 2, 2025

This communication, inclusive of the appended draft Order, is hereby tendered as a definitive submission for the immediate and deliberate consideration of this Office. It is designated for an expedited resolution process pursuant to the procedural mandates established within the OIPC's Code of Procedure and its attendant Practice Direction 2025, to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), an institution designated under Section 1 of Regulation 460 of the Act. This request, which was for records containing the Appellant's beyond the statutory thirty-day period for an institutional reply. This protracted silence, a manifest failure to adhere to the Act's requirements, constitutes a legal fiction requiring adjudication of the ensuing appeal.

It is posited that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) has failed in its statutory obligation to issue a final written access decision concerning an access request dated March 2025, under the legislative framework and a fundamental non-compliance with the provisions of FIPPA. The complete absence of any representation from the head of the LAT, either in a vexatious nature of the request, inexorably leads to the conclusion that the Appellant's application for information is to be considered a serious and meritorious one. The LAT institution, a burden which has not been discharged in the present matter, thereby reinforcing the imperative for an expeditious resolution.

The attached draft Order, the contents of which are a direct reflection of the submitted record and the Appellant's intentions—none of which have been challenged by the LAT—compel the LAT to adhere to its legal obligations in a prompt and expeditious manner, consistent with the foundational principles of the Act. The procedural posture of this for a prolonged inquiry into the substantive merits of any exemptions and renders the matter eminently suitable for resolution through an expedited inquiry, in concordance with the Act.

The requested directives within the draft Order include:

1. The issuance of a final, written access decision from the LAT within a period of seven (7) days.
2. The concurrent provision of all non-exempt records, or portions thereof, containing personal information. The disclosure of such records is predicated upon the principle of particular relevance in this matter.
3. The production of a comprehensive Index of Records, as mandated by the Code of Procedure. This Index shall meticulously delineate each record and, for any records withheld under FIPPA, in order to afford the Appellant and this Office a transparent basis for any refusal.
4. The submission of the final decision and the aforementioned index to the OIPC Expedited Appeals Team within seven (7) days for the purpose of compliance verification.
5. The Appellant's retention of the right to submit additional commentary upon receipt and review of the LAT's final access decision and the corresponding Index of Records.
6. The Appellant's liberty to seek the enforcement of this order by any lawful means should the LAT fail to comply with the same.

In consideration of the nature of the appeal and the protracted non-compliance by the LAT, it is respectfully submitted that the issuance of an Order is both warranted and necessary.

Thank you in advance and I hope all had an enjoyable and safe recent long weekend.

Respectfully submitted,

Kevin A. McLean Appellant File No. PA25-00294

Re: SECONDARY SUBMISSIONS IN LIGHT OF THE LACK OF AN EXPEDITED PROCEEDING TO DATE AND NON-COMPLIANCE BY THE LAT

Dear OIPC (copied to the LAT privacy email (at least the only one known) and Mr. Weir, head of the LAT by prescribed General regulation pursuant to FIPPA):

This correspondence serves to formally transmit the Appellant's Supplementary and Current Submissions/Representations, which are herewith enclosed for your diligent consideration. Profoundly unsettling non-compliance by the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "LAT"), a public institution that has to date demonstrated a palpable and sustained dereliction of its statutory duty ("FIPPA"). The exigency of this matter is not merely a procedural concern but is fundamentally rooted in the imperative to uphold the foundational tenets of democratic governance; that a peremptory and definitive order is not only warranted, but is also the sole remaining recourse to preserve the integrity of the information access regime and to restore public confidence characterized by a complete lack of engagement or communication, constitutes a systemic failure that threatens to subvert the very purposes for which the Act was enacted. It is a disservice to the public and the Office. This failure to act is not merely a procedural misstep, but a substantive denial of a statutory right, effectively nullifying the legislative framework designed to ensure transparency and accountability.

As detailed with exacting precision in the enclosed document, the gravity of the LAT's protracted silence cannot be overstated, for it strikes at the very heart of the legislative intent behind more than a mere truism; it is a profound articulation of a procedural and substantive reality that is particularly germane to this Appeal. A delayed response, irrespective of its ostensible government information into a merely academic exercise devoid of practical utility. The right of access becomes a nullity if it can be perpetually deferred by an institution's inaction, a framework nugatory and undermining public confidence in a government's commitment to transparency and accountability. The foundational purposes of FIPPA, as elucidated on Page 1 of the prescribed period. The LAT's inaction, now extending well beyond the statutory deadline, constitutes an unequivocal "deemed refusal," a doctrine with a robust and consistently applied unmitigated non-compliance, which is far more egregious than circumstances found in any of the cited precedents, provides irrefutable grounds for an order under Rule 9.03(g) of the Rules of the Court meaning "to make ready or to dispatch," signifies the imperative of accelerating a process that has been unjustifiably and interminably protracted. The LAT's conduct prescribes 29(4) of the Act, which dictates that a head who fails to give the required notice shall be deemed to have given notice of refusal.

The Appellant's request, as comprehensively outlined in Page 5, Paragraph 8, is both diverse in its nature and scrupulously precise in its scope, falling entirely within the LAT's opera index of responsive records, is not merely a breach of statutory duty but also serves as a tacit admission that a "reasonable search," as statutorily mandated by the Act, has not been per the complete non-response in this case is a clear indication that this duty has been breached. The sheer non-production of easily retrievable records, such as those related to file log untenable. The totality of the LAT's inaction serves as compelling evidence of a systemic failure of information management that must be addressed with decisive action. The request f failure to engage all the more inexplicable. For instance, the request for a limited number of electronic logs (Class #1) or a singular report on a power outage (Class #2) should have t information management and a flagrant disregard for the principles of transparency. It is, therefore, incumbent upon the OIPC, as the ultimate arbiter of these matters, to exercise its fundamental obligations.

For the aforementioned reasons, and as a direct corollary of the LAT's profound, persistent, and systematic failure, the Appellant respectfully and emphatically seeks an order without renders any further deliberation superfluous and would serve only to perpetuate an unjustifiable delay, thereby inflicting additional and unwarranted hardship upon the Appellant and evident and demand a swift and definitive resolution. To insist upon a hearing in the face of such absolute non-compliance would be to engage in a ritualistic adherence to form over OIPC's own stated commitment to expedited processes. It is the Appellant's position that the issuance of an order in the spirit of existing jurisprudence, but with the necessary modicum is the only logical and proportionate response. The requested relief, serving as the ineluctable conclusion to the LAT's pervasive and inexcusable inaction, is a matter of administrative disregard for the foundational principles of transparency and accountability that underpin the Act, and it is therefore incumbent upon the OIPC to exercise its authority to restore the int

Re: Affidavits #2, #4, #7 and #8 from the JRPA Proceeding in Support of the Initial Submissions

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

1. I am writing regarding the above.
2. As promised, I will be including a variety of already filed and served affidavits in the JRPA Proceeding that are cross-referenced in my initial submission.
3. To assist the case lead with the issues and the OIPC ensuring that the sought records are preserved along with ensuring that the importance of the LAT aspects of each affidavit. Certainly, not all aspects of each affidavit are relevant but they provide crucial and determinative evidence, with time stamps, as property. When I considered what it truly was, it was a step, with notice to the LAT and TDI Group (the three Respondent Insurance Companies), in an anti-objective in many aspects. I presume that the relating and surrounding records had their dominant purpose of a step in preparation of potential litigation as per
4. Quite obviously, the OIPC's decision in Derenzis has some parallels to this one but for the more egregious acts of the LAT in its denoting of TDGIC : "msg documents" that remain unproduced and undisclosed.
5. While obvious as well, never in the history of any tribunal (at least by my research) has a tribunal bent over backwards for unlawful conduct of a party of Mr. Papadimitropoulos and then his later dismissal from TDI, albeit suspiciously timed (see: end of January 2025 or early February 2025), continued with
6. As such, some of the principles of law in Derenzis are applicable and some of the findings therein as well but for the exclusion of "draft decisions" and adjudicators and vice chairs at the LAT. I take dead aim in the civil and regulatory sense of the word that he was an advisor to some of the adjudicators and am aware of the decision of Goodis involving this OIPC, the OIPC is on a different footing and status to that of the LAT. The latter is a quasi-judicial tribunal policy bent. The distinctions have legal differences that preclude the likes of a Mr. Boyce for the LAT engaging in defending the merits of decisions.
7. I welcome the LAT proving me wrong in relation to my evidence with belief but it will be required to do that which it has not done and that is swear evidence.
8. In the spirit of the continued urgency while remaining measured, I will be relying on the principles of McInerney v. Macdonald (1992 (SCC)).
9. With that segue, I enclose the following affidavits with a brief description in each of their file titles:
 - a. Affidavit #2 of myself (December 30, 2024): which involved Mr. Boyce of the LAT being put on notice of potential conflict issues, the cases et al;
 - b. Affidavit #4 of myself in the JRPA Proceeding (January 18, 2025): demonstrating that Mr. Boyce removed his address from the LSO directory
 - c. Affidavit #7 of myself in the JRPA Proceeding (January 27, 2025): evidence that Mr. Papadimitropoulos (Mr. Karat's supervisor and mentor) compared to other pictorial evidence independently obtained;
 - d. Affidavit #8 of myself in the JRPA Proceeding (January 27, 2025): the CAMH redacted images and the TPL Unauthorized Chart.
10. As you will see from the initial submissions, upon provision of the same, Mr. Papadimitropoulos was shortly thereafter relieved of his duties at TDI and Chart.
11. I will caution the LAT before it represents to myself and the OIPC that certain documents do not exist, I am in the process of obtaining more from other

Re: INITIAL SUBMISSIONS SEEKING ORDERS THEREIN ON AN IMMEDIATE (PRESERVATION), INTERIM AND FINAL BASIS (WHERE APPLICABLE)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

1. I am writing regarding the above.
2. In light of the fraud and theft committed upon me by Mr. Karat of TDI at first instance on October 25, 2024, and thereafter, in part, in 2024 and submissions to the evidence (which will be provided after this email) for the above immediate, interim and final orders.
3. My evidence remains that the LAT at its highest had a high degree of control over TDI, Mr. Karat and Mr. Papadimitropoulos in the initial theft and has records that will be instrumental in taking active steps to unwind those fraudulent and unlawful acts along with protecting myself on a health and safety failing to comply with its obligations under FIPPA is that it approved of the conduct involving the TDI Karat Theft as there was a clear benefit to it.
4. As it is now 35 days since the time the LAT was required to comply with FIPPA and my reading of the Code of Procedure and the relevant Practices. However, after 35 days have expired, that right has been foreclosed.
5. All that remains is the OIPC ordering the LAT to comply with its FIPPA obligations and ensuring that the objects of FIPPA are obtained.
6. I will marshal all of my other matters involving collateral proceedings forward but I would be most grateful if the OIPC could prioritize this area letter from the OIPC along with the ordering of the LAT to at the very least provide a list of records at issue for review.
7. Obviously, everything changed with my May 4, 2025, discovery of Mr. Karat as the initial thief and caused the likes of Mr. Russell (CEO of TD Insurance OPCC) to demonstrate that I did all I could do to resolve the same outside of the PIPEDA process or by general and broad potential resolution. 	VOLUME #20: Voidable versus Void and Void Ab initio ⁴

	▪ “Void” has a well-established legal meaning. It imports a lack of validity or legal force. ▪ Ab initio is a Latin term meaning “from the beginning”. A defect of this nature is so fundamental that the act, agreement, or filing “never had any legal effect from inception” ▪ A total absence of jurisdiction (e.g., lack of vires, or the legal existence of the entity to be a party) renders the conduct of a person and/or board (commission) a nullity ▪ A creature of statute cannot confer jurisdiction or capacity where none exists

71.	Declaration #2 of the Appellant, November 1, 2025 ⁶	Nov 2025	1308 to 1324
72.	OIPC (Ms. Sherwood, Case Lead) designation of this Appeal as an Inquiry (Expedited) on September 29, 2025 Ms. Sherwood (Case Lead) represented the following as facts: ▪ On July 21, 2025, 2025, the IPC asked the tribunal whether a final decision had been issued and for a response by August 1, 2025. The tribunal required assistance from the IPC to identify the appellant's access request. ▪ On August 8, 2025, the IPC asked the tribunal for a status update, requesting a response by August 15, 2025. No response was received. ▪ On August 20, 2025, the IPC requested a status update from the tribunal on when a final decision could be expected. No response was received. ▪ On August 25, 2025, the IPC asked the tribunal to respond to the IPC's request for a status update by September 2, 2025. The tribunal responded that it needed more time to respond to the appellant's access request.	Sept 29, 2025	1325 to 1328

▪ On September 5, 2025, the IPC asked the tribunal to issue a decision by September 19, 2025. On that date, the tribunal advised that it required more time ▪ To prevent any further delays, I have decided to conduct an inquiry and issue this Notice of Expedited Inquiry. ▪ Burden of Proof: ○ Under section 53 of the Act, if an institution refuses or is deemed to have refused an access request, the burden of proof in respect of the refusal lies on the institution

³(nota bene: doctrine provides that once a matter is finally ruled upon, the administrative decision maker or judge has discharged its office and cannot re-open the matter. Indeed, to do so would impede on "orderly appellate procedure")

⁴The purported FIPPA response by Tribunals Ontario under section 26 and 29 of FIPPA is a jurisdictional nullity – void ab initio – non-waivable

Jurisdiction cannot be created by the parties (i.e. some consent agreement)

⁵Tribunal must act fairly and impartially

Standing (sufficiency of interest) versus legal capacity (juristic personality or the inherent power to be a party to litigation)

Tribunals Ontario does not have a legal capacity or juristic existence – foundational defect – foundational nullity (i.e. response tendered by a non-entity or non-juristic entity – void ab initio)

Foundational jurisdictional failure prevents the court from recognizing the entity is a proper entity

The Legislature only allows the head of the Institution and not a person of a non-institution under FIPPA

It was a legal non-act rendering it void ab initio

Tribunals do not have any inherent jurisdiction

Even where inherent jurisdiction is available it cannot override legislation

The Legislature passed section 50(3) of FIPPA that upon receiving notice of appeal, the Commissioner shall inform the head of the Institution and MAY inform any other institution or person with an interest in the appeal including an institution under MFIPPA

Ergo, if another institution is not implicated by transfer or forwarding, the Commissioner may inform an interested institution or interested person but if not notified, there is no right of any other institution, through its head, to be participate in the Appeal.

CHAPTER #1: OVERVIEW: PUBLIC INTEREST ISSUES AND ALL ISSUES DECIDED IN AN INQUIRY BY A COMMISSIONER'S ORDER

1. It is not hyperbole to aver that this instant Appeal before the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC) encompasses a greater panoply of matters imbued with public exigency than any reported ratio decidendi of the last six years, subsequent to the enactment of the 2019 amendments to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) and the promulgation of cognate statutes such as the Tribunals Adjudicative Records Act (TARA). Moreover, it is not an overstatement to submit that this OIPC Appeal, necessitated by the reliance upon thirteen distinct adjudicative tribunals under an umbrella nomenclature—which is demonstrably not an Institution pursuant to FIPPA—stands as the most consequential matter in the last decade for the benefit of the citizenry.
2. The matters under consideration are deemed to be elusive of traditional appellate purview and are demonstrably imbued with utmost import for the praxis and procedural regimen enforced before the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner; this import extends concomitantly to the determination of substantive outcomes, which may be either salutary or detrimental, concerning the comprehensive regulatory framework for accident benefits that emanates from the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule (SABS) and O. Reg. 283, which operates pari passu with the former. This scheme mandates that injured persons seek recourse through the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) when automotive insurance companies are called into question for their non-compliance.
3. The factual and procedural matrix provides an unprecedented context. The sole instance in which the alleged conduct was more egregious in a singular instance was the reporting of legal counsel to the Law Society of Ontario (LSO) while the individual was representing a Catastrophic Impairment (CAT) client in Ms. Derenzis, perpetrated by none other than the Executive Chair of the LAT. It is axiomatic, and judicial notice may be taken by the Tribunal, that the reporting of a licensee to the LSO possesses the potential to result in professional excommunication or, in lesser instances, to materially impinge upon an individual's right to life, liberty, and security to some quantifiable degree. Professional discipline proceedings are quasi-criminal in nature (see: Dr. Henderson and Pierce). The actions of the Head of an Institution in lodging a formal complaint regarding a lawyer's conduct, however misconstrued or fallacious, would invariably be accorded considerable gravity. At a minimum, such an act is tantamount to a coercive threat and affects the capacity of counsel to adequately represent clients before the LAT.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #1: STATUS OF “TRIBUNALS ONTARIO” UNDER FIPPA: A JURISDICTIONAL NULLITY

4. From a rigorous textual and teleological analysis of the Adjudicative Tribunals Accountability, Governance and Appointments Act, 2009 (ATAGA) and its attendant regulations (O. Reg. 126/10, O. Reg. 91/11, O. Reg. 90/11, O. Reg. 88/11), it is unequivocally evident that “Tribunals Ontario” exists solely as an administrative nomenclature for a cluster of adjudicative tribunals. It is not, per se, a distinct legal entity, corporation, agency, board, or commission prescribed as an adjudicative tribunal or an Institution within the meaning of FIPPA. All statutory obligations concerning accountability, governance, and appointments are ultimately vested in the individual, statutorily designated adjudicative tribunals that comprise the cluster (see: Inquiry Record, Tab 3, page 110).
5. In these circumstances, the LAT’s inclusion of a non-respondent and non-party as the sole respondent, counter to the Appellant’s section 280(2) of the Insurance Act application for dispute resolution (the “LAT Proceeding”), is one where the LAT receives remuneration for its adjudicative services. The originating form clearly demonstrates that the LAT is the entity collecting personal information pursuant to the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999 (LATA). It must be recognized that there is no Tribunals Ontario Act; the entity constitutes merely an amalgamation of nomenclatures among three former clusters. Similarly, the former SLASTO, Social Justice Cluster, and the Environment and Land Tribunals were not deemed Institutions under FIPPA. Should the registered voters desire the merger of bodies, for example, the LAT and the Landlord and Tenant Board (LTB), to constitute a new Institution under FIPPA, a petition must be submitted to a Member of the Legislature to promulgate such a Bill. No current source law extends to this degree or has officially designated Tribunals Ontario as a separate Institution under FIPPA, an adjudicative tribunal under TARA or ATAGA, or a public body under the Archives and Recordkeeping Act (ARA). Consequently, it remains a notional and amorphous nomenclature umbrella, lacking the confined and delineated boundaries requisite for a FIPPA Institution. The purported response, having been issued by a corporate non-entity operating ex contractu and not ex lege, fails in limine to satisfy the elementary jurisdictional prerequisite of a valid statutory response, constituting a legal non-act that possesses no effect ipso jure.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #2 OBLIGATIONS OF THE HEAD OF AN INSTITUTION

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #2(A): PRESERVATION AND RECORDKEEPING

6. The preservation of records constitutes a guarantee and ensuing obligation upon the Head of an Institution (i.e., vis-à-vis that Institution) based upon its custody or control (see: section 10.1 of FIPPA). The strictures of preservation, recordkeeping, retention, et al., of records, are not homogeneous across Institutions, even when one individual simultaneously presides as the Head of another. These obligations are variable, contingent upon the classes and types of records germane to the specific Institution. The duty to preserve is a fundamental administrative obligation, the breach of which can undermine the entire regimen of transparency intended by FIPPA, thereby precipitating a potential mandamus remedy to compel compliance with this foundational statutory duty.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #2(B): DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS

7. The mandate of a Head of an Institution to disclose (see: section 11 and 23 of FIPPA) will fluctuate, contingent upon the genre of Institution and the specific issues currently under review. The exercise of this mandate must be conducted with scrupulous regard for the principle of maximum disclosure, with exemptions being construed narrowly and the onus of proof resting exclusively upon the Institution asserting the exemption.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3: PROCEDURAL AND JURISDICTIONAL ISSUES BEFORE THE OIPC

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(A): THE EXPEDITED APPEAL PROCEDURE AND COMMISSIONER-DIRECTED INQUIRY

8. Another matter of considerable public interest that has arisen is the question of whether the Expedited Appeal Procedure (see: OIPC Code of Procedure) co-exists with section 54(1) of a Commissioner-directed Inquiry. Specifically, Rule 9.03 of the Code of Procedure authorizes the Commissioner to issue an order without receiving further submissions from the Parties (see: Inquiry Record, page 7, paragraph 37).
9. Under FIPPA, and now within the ambit of an Inquiry (Expedited), the Commissioner must adjudicate all issues in this OIPC Appeal, but only following the receipt of all relevant evidence by the OIPC. The operative question then becomes: what recourse is available to the Commissioner when a party, such as the LAT, refuses to adduce any evidence? This is particularly salient given that the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (SPPA) is not applicable to an Inquiry. The deliberate omission of evidence by a statutory respondent contravenes the spirit of administrative bona fides and potentially warrants a finding adverse to the Institution upon a standard of review analogous to that used in a fortiori circumstances.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(B): THE CONSTRUCTION OF PERMISSIVE LANGUAGE

10. The common law, since 1986 (see: Information Commissioner v Minister of Employment and Immigration, 1986 CanLII 6836), through the Supreme Court of Canada (SCC), has established that a “may” in a statute or regulation can congeal into a “must,” where the permissive language is coupled with an obligation under a Part of a statute or within the same section or subsection (see: Inquiry Record, pages 7 and 8). Enabling words are invariably compulsory where their purpose is to effectuate a pre-existing legal right (see: Inquiry Record, page 8, paragraphs 37 and 38).

11. The dichotomy between “may” versus “shall,” or “Permission” versus “Mandatory,” is a persistent theme throughout this OIPC Appeal and affects all of its constituent issues, which are required to be decided pursuant to section 54(1) of FIPPA.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(C): FINDING OF RECORD EXISTENCE: RES JUDICATA OR ISSUE ESTOPPEL

12. The Commissioner can only dismiss an appeal immediately if the Notice of Appeal fails to present a reasonable basis for confirming the record or the Personal Information to which the Notice of Appeal pertains (see: Inquiry Record, Tab #2, page 70). The definition of “exists” is one that exists at the time that the access request was made and the Appeal was made. Therefore, the Commissioner has already determined, on a preliminary basis, that the records within the thirteen Records Classes exist.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(C)(I): PRIVACY BREACH AND OFFENCE PROVISIONS

13. The Appellant’s declaration #1 of September 15, 2025 (see: Inquiry Record, Tab #1), condescended upon particulars that concern remains that the LAT may have transgressed the Appellant’s privacy rights and potentially committed a privacy breach (see: section 40.1 of FIPPA, passed in 2024) (see: Tab #1, paragraph 41). Offences under FIPPA may also be at issue herein, which underscores the necessity of an order, even without a further hearing from the LAT—subject to the LAT tendering all evidence that is relevant to all the issues in this Appeal (see: section 54(1) of FIPPA and Rule 9.03(f) of the OIPC Code of Procedure).
14. Section 61 pf FIPPA:

“No person shall,

- (a) wilfully collect, use or disclose personal information in contravention of this Act;
- (b) wilfully maintain a personal information bank that contravenes this Act;
- (b.1) wilfully contravene section 49.8;
- (c) make a request under this Act for access to or correction of personal information under false pretenses;
- (c.1) alter, conceal or destroy a record, or cause any other person to do so, with the intention of denying a right under this Act to access the record or the information contained in the record;
- (d) wilfully obstruct the Commissioner in the performance of his or her functions under this Act;
- (e) wilfully make a false statement to, mislead or attempt to mislead the Commissioner in the performance of his or her functions under this Act; or
- (f) wilfully fail to comply with an order of the Commissioner. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 61 (1); 2014, c. 13, Sched. 6, s. 2 (1); 2019, c. 7, Sched. 31, s. 8; 2024, c. 24, Sched. 2, s. 14.”

15. “Person” includes a corporation (see: section 87 of the Legislation Act). “Individual” means a natural person (see: ibid).

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4: DOCTRINES OF JURISDICTIONAL NULLITY, FINALITY, AND JURISTIC CAPACITY

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(A): THE DOCTRINE OF FUNCTUS OFFICIO AND FINALITY

16. The principle of functus officio dictates that subsequent to the definitive pronouncement upon a matter, the administrative decision-maker or judicial officer is deemed to have fully discharged its function and is thereby precluded from any subsequent re-opening of the matter. Any deviation from this fundamental doctrine would constitute an impediment to the integrity and orderly execution of appellate procedure. This principle is rooted in the doctrine of finality and the concept of res judicata in its most attenuated form, preventing ad nauseam reconsideration of matters already adjudicated. Consequently, once the statutory Head of the actual Institution discharges the FIPPA obligation, the matter is closed; the purported exercise of authority by a non-Institution does not trigger the protections of functus officio, as the office itself was never properly engaged.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(B): JURISDICTIONAL DEFECTS: VOID, VOID AB INITIO, AND VOIDABLE

17. The term “void” possesses a clearly delineated legal signification, importing an intrinsic want of validity or legal force. The concept of ab initio, a Latin designation, signifies “from the commencement.” A jurisdictional deficiency of such a fundamental character renders the resultant action, agreement, or filing a total nullity, such that it is deemed to have been bereft of any legal effect from its inception. The resulting purported “response” is not merely voidable—an act possessing legal force until formally annulled by a competent body—but is void ab initio, necessitating no subsequent order of the Commissioner to invalidate its existence; it is inherently non-existent in law. A complete want of jurisdiction—for instance, a deficit of vires or the non-existence of the juridical personality required for an entity to constitute a proper party—inexorably precipitates an act of nullity. Such a foundational deficiency is inherently incapable of conferring jurisdiction or legal capacity where none previously subsisted. The purported FIPPA response furnished by Tribunals Ontario pursuant to sections 26 and 29 of FIPPA is assessed as a jurisdictional nullity—a defect of the category void ab initio—which is incapable of waiver. Furthermore, the creation of jurisdiction cannot be effectuated through the mere assent of the parties, such as by way of an agreement predicated upon consent. Administrative tribunals, lacking any form of inherent jurisdiction, are bound strictly by their enabling legislation; even in those limited instances where inherent jurisdiction is recognized, it cannot operate to supersede or contravene legislative enactments.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(C):STANDING VERSUS LEGAL CAPACITY: THE FOUNDATIONAL DEFECT

18. A critical analytical distinction must be maintained between the concept of: (i) standing (which pertains to the sufficiency of interest to institute a proceeding or locus standi); and (ii) legal capacity (which pertains to the juristic personality or the inherent power requisite to constitute a party to litigation, often termed persona standi in judicio).
19. “Standing”, although a threshold requirement, addresses whether a party’s interest is sufficiently non-de minimis to justify judicial or administrative intervention. The venerable Latin phrase is “locus standi” which is the right or capacity to bring an action or to appear in court or a tribunal. As the OIPC is a creature of statute, its power, as a separate entity at law, is governed by the enabling statute that brought it into existence. Any such exercise of power by it, which is inconsistent with the statute, is void ab initio – void from the very beginning. Any acts that are tied to the initial void ab initio act are also void, not merely voidable (i.e. valid until challenged and set aside), because they are, by analogy, “fruit from the void ab initio tree”.
20. “Legal capacity”, conversely, is a foundational prerequisite; it speaks to the very existence of the entity’s ability to hold rights, incur obligations, or act under the law. For example, a “minor” has no legal capacity to be sued or sue in his or her personal capacity so it must be denoted by guardian ad litem. Moreover, a trust cannot be sued or sue but must be sued or sue by capacity of its trustees. While a trust has the ability to hold property, it acts through its trustees and can only commence a lawsuit or defend in the name of the trustees on behalf of the trust. This is different from a body corporate which is a separate entity and has legal capacity.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(C)(I):PROCEDURAL IRREGULARITIES, JURISDICTIONAL NULLITIES, AND FOUNDATIONAL NULLITIES

21. There is a distinction between a procedural irregularities, jurisdictional nullities and a foundational nullity.
22. In Canadian jurisprudence, the concept of nullity is inextricably linked to the doctrine of jurisdictional error. A defect in locus standi or legal capacity, when assessed rigorously, must be understood as challenging the court’s or an administrative tribunal’s fundamental authority to proceed, making the ensuing steps also nullities.
23. For a court or tribunal to render a valid judgment or to accept a filed document, it must have jurisdiction over both the subject matter and the parties involved. Jurisprudence establishes that an order or judgment is void ab initio if it is entered by a court or tribunal that lacked jurisdiction of the subject matter or over the parties, or if the court acts in a manner outside the character of the order it has power to render.
24. A key distinction is made between a total lack of jurisdiction (a foundational defect) and an excess or abuse of jurisdiction (an error made within the court’s authorized sphere).

25. A total absence of jurisdiction (e.g., lack of vires, or the legal existence of the entity to be a party) renders the act a nullity. This contrasts with errors such as a breach of natural justice or procedural fairness, which, while serious, are often characterized as an excess or abuse of jurisdiction rather than a total lack thereof. Even these latter errors can result in the decision being declared null and void, as stated in older authority: “a decision given without regard to the principles of natural justice is void”.
26. However, the legal consequence of a lack of locus standii tied to legal capacity is a defect in authority rather than merely a defect in process. If a person files a document when they inherently lack the legal capacity or juristic personality required for judicial engagement, this is not a procedural misstep (such as using the wrong form¹⁷ or missing a deadline). Instead, it represents a complete failure of the foundational requirement that there be two juristic persons capable of engaging in binding litigation. This fundamental failure is considered the “absence of jurisdiction in the first place”, a flaw that cannot be cured by subsequent remedial efforts.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(C)(III): APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO “TRIBUNALS ONTARIO”

27. Whether it is a “person” or not is nuanced and tricky issue of statutory interpretation because of the definition of “person” under the Legislation Act, 2006 (Ontario). “Person” includes a corporation but it does not exclude other kinds of “persons”.
28. However, whether it is a “person” and whether it can be sued or sue is a different issue. A “person” can exist (i.e. a trust) but it does not have the power to sue or be sued despite the ability to hold property like a principal residence wherein the trust under tax laws in Canada has the potential benefit of the “principal residence tax exemption” (i.e. being able to sell the home without any tax consequences on the increase in the property from time of purchase to time of disposition).
29. Tribunals Ontario is demonstrably deficient in the attribute of legal capacity or juristic existence, thereby exhibiting a foundational defect that results in a foundational nullity. Moreover, it
30. Nonetheless, it did not have standing in this Appeal as of September 29, 2025, and, ergo, its purported response under FIPPA and in the Inquiry Phase was without authority as a party to the OIPC Proceeding.
31. This response, having been tendered by a non-entity or a non-juristic entity, is rendered void ab initio. Such a foundational jurisdictional failure operates to prevent the judicial or quasi-judicial recognition of the entity as a proper entity. The Legislature only permits the Head of the Institution, and not a representative of a non-Institution, to act under FIPPA. The tendering of a response by the non-Institution constitutes a legal non-act, rendering it void ab initio. This deficiency, being one of capacity, is non-waivable by a valid statutory party and cannot be cured retroactively through estoppel or consent, as the inherent power to act was never present.

32. The following table outlines the distinctions between a defect category, example scenarios in tribunal proceedings, classification, status under “irregularity vs. nullity analysis” and waiver status.

Defect Category	Example Scenario in OIPC proceedings	Classification	OIPC powers	Waiver
Procedural Irregularity	A section 26 and 29 FIPPA response late; error in understanding of requirements under FIPPA ; Missing index of records; late response in the face of a direction or order from the OIPC; failure to tender an affidavit to verify compliance	Voidable (Irregularity)	Curable (Amendment granted by request or consent order of parties (subject to approval))	Waivable by parties if not an order of OIPC Commissioner
Foundational Irregularity	Paying the $10 fee for an appeal of non-personal information records when records sought, but refused, are non-personal information records (Amount required is $25)	Irregularity	Curable	No waiver by the OIPC but curable by payment of additional amounts
Foundational or Jurisdictional Nullity	Section 26/29 FIPPA response filed by a dissolved entity or non- Institution when the Institution ; Response filed by an individual without authority/capacity to represent the named party, breach of the Law Society Act and/or LSO By-Laws; Document filed by a non-juristic entity; Document filed by a person without an interest in the Appeal and without notice from the Commissioner absent seeking leave (permission) to participate in the OIPC Appeal; Document filed and served	Void Ab Initio (Nullity)	Non-Curable (Absence of jurisdiction).	Non-Waivable (Can be raised at any time by a legally valid party).

33. However, in the context of the OIPC, it is always about the interplay between FIPPA and its attendant regulations vis-à-vis other statutes and their attendant regulations.

34. The SPPA has applicability under FIPPA but only during the pre-inquiry phase but it does not have any applicability during an Inquiry Phase.
35. While the Legislation Act does not have much guidance on what constitutes a “person”, the SPPA does which was most sensible for purposes of having an OIPC proceeding have a proper foundational and not be a nullity.
36. It is axiomatic that under FIPPA only the requestor, in his, her or its capacity as an “Appellant”, and an “Institution” have an automatic right of participation in an Appeal before the OIPC.
37. A “municipality” is defined by referenced to the Municipal Affairs Act under the SPPA (vide: subsection 1(1)). Whether a municipality is an Institution under MFIPPA is a non-issue herein.
38. A proceeding is commenced when a requestor commences an Appeal under section 50 of FIPPA. It is commenced against the Institution or Institutions, if forwarding or transfer are at issue.
39. If notice was given to an affected person under section 28 of FIPPA, where the Head has reason o believe (not reasonable grounds) information referred to in subsection 17(1) of FIPPA or that, by and before granting a request for access to a record (perhaps one of many records requested) that is personal information that the Head has reason to believe might constituted an unjustified invasion of personal privacy for the purposes of clause 21(1)(f), then that affected person may also commence an appeal to the OIPC (see: paragraph under subclause 50(1)(c), wherein an affected person is appealing the decision of a Head under FIPPA to the Commissioner).
40. Once the proceeding is commenced, the proceeding is in being before the OIPC and the SPPA applies. The SPPA will apply until or if the Commissioner designates the proceeding as one where an Inquiry will be conducted (see: ss. 52(1) of FIPPA).
41. While “Tribunals Ontario” has the name of ‘tribunal’, it does not have a “statutory power of decision” as per section 1(1) of the SPPA or the JRPA for that matter.
42. The Legislature has been clear on what is the meaning of “person” and extended that meaning by reference to ss. 1(2) of the SPPA:

“(2) A municipality, an unincorporated association of employers, a trade union or council of trade unions who may be a party to a proceeding in the exercise of a statutory power of decision under the statute conferring the power shall be deemed to be a person for the purpose of any provision of this Act or of any rule made under this Act that applies to parties. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 1 (2)
43. “Tribunals Ontario” is not a municipality, an trade union or council of trade unions, and not an unincorporate association of employers. Rather, “Tribunals Ontario” is merely a nomenclature for 13 distinct adjudicative tribunals, all governed by different enabling statutes involving distinct issues involving the residents and citizens of Ontario, which was amalgamation of names or clusters into one cluster of a singular name. As such, “Tribunals Ontario” is not a person under the SPPA, ss. 1(2) because it is not involved in the exercise of a statutory power of decision under a “STATUTE” conferring the power to do so. The statutory power to exercise a statutory power of decision is on the “tribunal” to exercise a statutory power or decision is conferred by or under a “Statute” (not merely a regulation) (see: ss. 1(1) of the SPPA).

44. As the OIPC has not made any rules under ss. 17.1(4) or section 25.1 of SPPA, section 2 is inapplicable. However, section 64 of the Legislation Act applies to FIPPA and its attendant regulations.
45. Procedural requirements under FIPPA or its attendant regulations that apply to a “Proceeding” may be waived with the consent of the parties and the OIPC. However, the emphasis is on the word of “procedure” along with the consent of the “parties”.
46. The parties to a proceeding shall be the persons specified as parties by or under the statute under which the proceeding arises or, if not so specified, persons entitled by law to be parties to the proceeding (see: section 5 of the SPPA).
47. It is “déjà vu all over again” for this Appellant as this law arose in the LAT Appeal Proceeding wherein section 5 of the SPPA had to be analyzed in detail by the Appellant and on the third attempt, under a different legal bases in May 2024 with the benefit of “status certificates” involving SNIC and TDGIC (showing their distinctness) from the FSRA, the Appellant was able to remove the improperly and unlawfully denoted insurance company of TDGIC. The Insurance Act, parenthetically, did not specify the persons as “parties” so the analysis under the language of “persons entitled by law to be parties to the proceeding” was required. As TDGIC was nowhere to be found in a single piece of correspondence from August 31, 2022 to December 24, 2023, including the “denial letters” submitted to the LAT after the Appellant commenced the LAT Appeal, TDGIC had no standing in the LAT Appeal. Even Mr. David Karat, an unauthorized representative for SNIC, filed a response to the LAT application, pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act, in the name of SNIC. However, prior to Mr. Nieuwland, a lawyer licensee employed by “TD Insurance Staff Legal”, filed a declaration of representative for TDGIC, VC Lake of the LAT, issued a decision with the wrong style of cause, “McLean v. TDGIC” in relation to three motions of the Appellant that all referenced McLean v. SNIC.
48. Similarly, “Tribunals Ontario” could not be a party to this OIPC Appeal as the sole respondent herein.
49. Under the SPPA, only a party to a proceeding may be represented by a representative (see: “representative” means, in respect of a proceeding to which this Act applies, a person authorized under the Law Society Act to represent a person in that proceeding). Mr. Karat had acted for a “party” to the LAT Appeal Proceeding but he was not a “Representative” as he was neither a lawyer nor a paralegal and he did not fall under any exemptions under the LSO By-Laws because he represented in his email signature block that he was authorized for four different insurance companies that formed the “TDIA Group”.
50. There was no dispute that TDGIC, SNIC, TDHA and Primum were all distinct entities with distinct corporate histories and different FSRA registration numbers and had legal capacity as “corporations”. However, TDGIC and Primum had no standing (locus standi) whatsoever. SNIC, as the Sole Underwriter, and prima facie name on the initial OCF-1 send to the Appellant had what it appeared to be standing and at least during the period prior to the Appellant delivering via fax his OCF-1 to the fax number 416.774.3120 in early October 2022. It was learned by the Appellant's investigations in late July 2024 that said fax number of 416.774.3120 was that of TDHA but not SNIC. As such, TDHA was the "First Insurer" pursuant to Reg 283, "Disputes Between Insurers". By common law, which was settled in the cases involves Zurich v. Chubb, along with the Justice Akazaki decision in 2024, SABS and Reg 283 worked in harmony and were pari passu in that a breach of Reg 283 was equivalent to a breach of SABS. Simply put, TDHA had rights available to it under Reg 283 to exercise those rights during the 90 day period after receipt of the Appellant's OCF-1 but it did not exercise the same. As such, it morphed from "Provisional First Insurer" to "Permanent First Insurer" in January 2023.

51. The aforementioned impugned decisions of the LAT were not of Tribunals Ontario. As such, the LAT could be a party to the JRPA Application commenced on November 15, 2024, in the Divisional Court (SCJ) (Toronto Region) but Tribunals Ontario could not. It has since been discovered as of last week that Mr. Boyce, acting for the LAT through Ms. Maciel (a law clerk) purported to serve a Notice of Appearance on November 27, 2024, albeit to the incorrect email address for service in the JRPA Application (of this Appellant in his capacity as an Applicant) but never "delivered" (see: Rule 1.03 of the Rules of Civil Procedure which requires "filing" with proof service). The Appellant, as soon as he became aware that there may had been an issue with "delivery", put the LAT (along with the Respondent Insurance Companies) that none of them had filed with proof of service their Notices of Appearances. The Appellant, similarly in relation to the distinctions between procedural irregularities, foundational irregularities and jurisdictional nullities, provided them with a time frame to confirm or deny whether they had filed with proof of service the same. They could not provide any evidence, as it was not subject to proof or disproof by the Appellant as he did not and could not have access to their confidential, private and secure JSO portal accounts.
52. As such, without any filing with proof of service, along with valid service, of their Notices of Appearances, the JRPA Application could not have been assigned for case management, which was discretionary not mandatory as per the Rules of Civil Procedure, along with any practice directions or guides subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure. Moreover, as per the Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 38.07, none of the Respondents had filed Notices of Appearances and were not entitled to any further notice of steps in the JRPA Proceeding and also disentitled to file any documents in the JRPA Proceeding. Notably, the LAT failed to forthwith deliver a Notice of Appearance altogether and failed to file the record of proceeding (the "ROP") during the ROP temporal period (the "ROP Temporal Period") as required by statute (section 10 of the JRPA). Consistent with not delivering Notices of Appearances r even filing the same, the Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT did not deliver (including filing with proof of service) any respondent factums and application records within 30 days of the Appellant's delivery of his application record and factum on December 12, 2024. The Appellant filed and paid for his certificate of perfection on December 13, 2024, which perfected the JRPA Application which required and necessitated the putting the JRPA Application on a “list for hearing” as per the Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 68.05.

53. While the live and undecided issue of a conflict of interest involving Justice Shore vis-à-vis a variety of grounds (as she was counsel in her equity partner status to Mr. Papadimitropoulos in a matrimonial litigation involving the Individual Insured in the SNIC Insurance Policy who was his ex-wife and the Applicant’s common law spouse at material times), along with further evidence to be obtained, and jurisdictional and foundational nullities is to be decided, along with lack of notice, insufficient notice or an inability, FIPPA, along with cases like McInerney v. MacDonald, 1992 CanLII 57, work in harmony with civil litigation. This is particularly apposite when judicial review is on the record and to be conducted in a summary manner. It also applies to litigation outside of the JRPA Proceeding which may involve those outside of the style of cause between the Appellant and others.
54. As found in 1992 by the SCC in McInerney, denial of access may caused unfounded lawsuits. In this regard, FIPPA and the OIPC work in tandem with a different branch of government in the courts so that they are not flooded with unfounded lawsuits or lawsuits pointing the proverbial litigation finger at non-responsible persons.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(D):CONSTRAINTS ON PARTICIPATION UNDER FIPPA SECTION 50(3)

55. It must further be noted that the Legislature, through the enactment of section 50(3) of FIPPA, stipulated that upon receiving a notice of appeal, the Commissioner shall apprise the Head of the Institution, and possesses the discretionary authority (denoted by “MAY”) to inform any other Institution, including an Institution subject to MFIPPA or person possessing an interest in ‘the appeal’. Ergo, in the absence of an implication via transfer or forwarding, if a subsequently interested Institution is not formally notified, no legal right is conveyed to that Institution, via its Head, to participate in the appeal. This discretionary power does not create an automatic right of participation for all interested parties but the Commissioner must notify those potentially interested parties.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(E):THE DOCTRINES OF SOLICITOR-CLIENT PRIVILEGE VERSUS DELIBERATIVE SECRECY

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(E)(I):THE SOLE MANDATORY EXEMPTION FOR DISCLOSURE TO A REQUESTOR: SECTION 21 OF FIPPA (SIX SUBSECTIONS)

56. There is only one mandatory exemption of non-disclosure under FIPPA, which is section 21 of FIPPA. This exemption is patently inapplicable based upon the LAT’s conduct herein and on the face of the record

(see: Inquiry Record, page 70, paragraph 3). To the extent it were applicable, the Appellant possesses an overwhelming override pursuant to section 21(b) of FIPPA (compelling health and security circumstances) (see: definitions in Tab #1, Inquiry Record). The presence of a compelling public health and safety concern overrides the mandatory nature of this exemption, necessitating disclosure pursuant to the legislative scheme's overarching commitment to accountability.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(E)(II): SOLICITOR-CLIENT PRIVILEGE RECORDS CAN BE DISCLOSED – PERMISSIVE

57. The Legislature, in enacting section 19(1)(a) of FIPPA, referenced solicitor-client privilege, which, at common law, is understood to encompass litigation privilege.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(E)(II)(A): SOLICITOR-CLIENT PRIVILEGE

58. Solicitor-client privilege must be as near to absolute as possible when it exists and the legal test has been satisfied in that regard. However, this privilege is the property of the client and is susceptible to waiver by the client. Furthermore, there has been an expansion of recognized exceptions to privilege, which now includes breaches of law that are not exclusively criminal in nature (see: Inquiry Record, Tab 53, citing Darbishire, Goodman & Carr; Orca Bay Hockey Lt.d Partnership (2007 BCSC)).
59. The onus rests upon the client to establish the existence of privilege in the first instance. Conversely, the burden falls to the Institution to persuade the OIPC that an exemption applies. To date, the LAT has failed to tender a valid response pursuant to FIPPA. The absence of a properly issued response by a statutorily defined Institution prevents the invocation of any exemption, including section 19, as the entire administrative process remains in a state of void ab initio.

Chapter #1, volume #4(E)(II)(b): Prerequisites for Privilege and Exceptions

60. Solicitor-client privilege requires the satisfaction of the following criteria:
- Communication: There must be communication between a client and a legal advisor;
 - Relationship Formation: A solicitor-client relationship must have been formally established;
 - Professional Capacity: The legal advisor must be acting in their professional capacity as a lawyer or paralegal in Ontario;
 - Purpose of Advice: The communication must be for the purpose of seeking or giving legal advice. Documents that are purely business, factual, or accounting in nature, and are not related to the provision of legal advice, are generally not privileged; and
 - Intention of Confidentiality: The intention must be that the communications were confidential in character. The privilege is susceptible to forfeiture when it is intentionally shared or disclosed to a third party who is external to the solicitor-client relationship and is not essential to the communication process.

61. Solicitor-client privilege is fundamentally intended to foster full and unreserved disclosure between the client and solicitor. It must be emphasized that the crime/fraud/unlawful act exception has been broadened jurisprudentially to encompass misconduct that is not explicitly criminal, including regulatory breaches, breaches of fiduciary duty, and tortious conduct. The establishment of “colour to charge,” which is more than merely a speculative allegation, is the requisite standard for displacing the privilege on the basis of the exception.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(E)(III): LITIGATION PRIVILEGE

62. Litigation privilege is a distinct legal doctrine in that it applies to communications created in anticipation of litigation or during litigation where the documents or correspondence possess a dominant purpose related to the prosecution or defence of litigation.
63. It is a transient privilege that extinguishes upon the conclusion of the litigation at issue.
64. Ergo, the question arises as to whether the misconduct of an unauthorized representative in Mr. Karat, who the LAT engaged in a litany of unlawful sanitizing steps for him and an insurance company without locus standi, was acting in anticipation of the JRPA Proceeding or in relation to the LAT Appeal Proceeding. The more pressing question is who was instructing, advising, and/or having a high degree of control over Mr. Karat’s fraudulent conduct. The Appellant later learned that the timing of Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk (albeit under a fictitious name) agreement to purchase a one million dollar home, while saddled with a 98 percent loan to asset value of their then home on 625 Grandview Avenue, Oshawa, Ontario (the “Grandview Oshawa Home”) occurred some two weeks after the TDI Karat Theft. At said time, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk had not even listed their home, where they were joint tenants, despite having continuing mortgage obligations with embedded insurance requirements therein under the Canadian Housing Mortgage Corporation due to not being able to have paid 20 percent of the value of the home. Bluntly, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk, a paralegal at Himelfarb Prozanski LLP in Toronto, had not even put 2 percent down payment on the value of that Grandview Oshawa Home. It is not to castigate them as they were entitled to do so and Scotia Mortgage Corporation was entitled to loan them said funds to purchase subject to compliance with CHMC. The day that the Appellant filed his JRPA Application and served the Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk listed their home for their Grandview Oshawa Home for sale. It was listed for $599,000 which was approximately $45,000 more than they paid for the same in 2020. As such, when considering property taxes, utilities, moving costs, and upkeep, they had netted zero subject to any equity paid down on the property. However, with such a high loan to asset ratio along with CHMC insurance premiums to pay each month, over a four year period (only 48 payments), the majority would have gone to interest pursuant to the declining balance method. In layman terms, they had little to no equity in their property. A sale of $600,000 of a home with little to no equity in the property would not have allowed them to purchase a one million dollar home on 591 Fleet Avenue, Oshawa, Ontario (the “Fleet Avenue Oshawa Home” or “Fleet Oshawa Home”) and certainly without any assurances of knowing whether the Grandview Oshawa Home would sell and if so for how much. Moreover, with higher interest rates in 2024, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk would have been required to have paid more of a down payment in order to secured mortgage financing. The agreement of purchase and sale for the Fleet Avenue Oshawa Home was completed on November 7, 2024. Without no to little equity in the Grandview Oshawa Home and no guarantee of a sale, where would be the funds come from in relation to Mr. Karat who had been enrolled in education for seven years, including a paralegal program without any degree or diploma to show for it, and worked short term jobs from 2013 to 2016, and commenced with TD Insurance Group in 2016 as a legal assistant. Prior to that he misrepresented he was a paralegal with a now defunct “expungement and pardon legal service company” whose paralegal was since removed from the LSO directory as a practicing paralegal. The average salary for a paralegal at Himelfarb Prozanski, from public search engine results, is $57,000 per year. The average salary for an adjuster at TDI is about the same. As one can see from the public Google maps, there were two cars in the driveway at the Grandview Oshawa Home and Ms. Dunk and Mr. Karat appear to be new parents. Ergo, there was no dispute that the record of proceeding would have evidenced highly particularized allegations against Mr. Karat and the LAT involving a variety of distinct conflicts of interests involving the LAT and that of TDI. They both had much to lose and much to gain. The likes of Mr. Boyce is an individual lawyer licensee who was an adjudicator with the LAT for some years along with the Ontario Police Civilian Commissioner wherein he gave 14-0-1 favourable decisions to insurance companies in the TDIA Group and to that of impugned police officers. The likes of fraud, extortion, bribery and abusive conduct are all special causes of nullity and unravel prejudicial steps to a victim of the same in a proceeding. Moreover, those are all grounds for exceptions to privilege.

65. While the argument that lawyers owe no duty of care to opposing litigants on its face seems right as per the “hired gun model” or “zealous advocate” and fiduciary duties to their client, the duty of care is not the same as the fiduciary duty to one’s own client.
66. In Laiken v. Carey, the ONSC in 2011 (as per Madam Justice Roberts) found as follows:

“[54] This issue was also before the Court in Brignolio v. Desmarais, Keenan & Robert[9]. In his decision, Mr. Justice D. Lane held, at paragraph 17, that an action does not lie against an adverse party or his counsel based on a lawyer’s breaches of ethical duties since such duties are owed to the Court and to the Law Society of Upper Canada, but not to the opposite party in litigation, and referenced the public policy rationale that protects a lawyer from such actions:

“If the policy of the court were otherwise, the same difficulties would arise as would arise in the case of negligence. There would be a temptation, which many would find irresistible, to re-litigate in actions against their opponent's counsel the issues which they have lost in the main litigation, or to attempt to handicap the other side by eliminating experienced and knowledgeable counsel from the case. The public policy in such instances is referred to by Lord Donaldson of Lymington M.R. in Al-Kandari v. J.R. Brown & Co. [1988] 1 All E.R. 833 at p. 835 (C.A.) cited in the Cluthe case ... as follows:

I would go rather further and say that, in the context of “hostile” litigation, public policy will usually require that a solicitor be protected from a claim in negligence by his client's opponent, since such claims could be used as a basis for endless re-litigation of disputes.

In my view, the same principles apply to allegations of breaches of ethical conduct.”

[55] There are a few well established exceptions to the general rule that a lawyer owes no duty to opposing or third parties, including:

- i. Where a lawyer gives an undertaking to the Court or the opposing or third parties and fails to perform it, the lawyer may be ordered to do that act or make good the loss flowing from the failure to perform the undertaking.
- ii. Where a lawyer is implicated in intentional torts, including fraud, slander of title, false imprisonment, malicious prosecution, abuse of process and civil conspiracy, those intentional torts are not defeated by the rule that a lawyer owes no duty of care to the opposing party in litigation.

[56] Further, there is no absolute bar to an action against a lawyer by an opposing or third party whom the lawyer has injured while the lawyer was acting outside the scope of his or her duty as a solicitor. A lawyer can be liable to an opposing or a third party where the lawyer commits an independent tortious act that causes foreseeable injury

67. In the middle of that archetypal Venn diagram of: (i) special causes of nullity; (ii) exceptions to privilege; and (iii) no immunity for opposing counsel are the following:
 - a. Fraud;
 - b. Bad faith (dishonesty);
 - c. Extortion;
 - d. Bribery;
 - e. Intentional torts (not mere simple negligence); and
 - f. Abuse of process.
68. The “bait and switch” game by multiple persons and individuals was on full display in December to February 2025.
69. Firstly, Mr. Karat and Mr. Papadimitropoulos, the TDI SABS Manager, were engaged in a litany of impersonation and fraud involving the Appellant’s library card and replacing cancelled fraudulently obtained library cards dovetailing to the day or day thereafter of the Appellant’s filings in the Divisional Court.
70. Secondly, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore was engaged in the unauthorized assigning the JRPA Proceeding for case management and assigning herself as the individual judge which has now been discovered, through confirmation with the Divisional Court, as having been the facts and contrary to law (see:

Rule 77.05 and .06 of the Rules of Civil Procedure). Leaving that aside it has since been discovered that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had prior judicial involvement with the Applicant in a different capacity albeit undisclosed to the Applicant. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has since been reported to the Canadian Judicial Council – not for the truth of its contents but for context herein (colour to the charge).

71. With further non-filing by the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies as required by the Rules of Civil Procedure, Mr. Papadimitropoulos was no longer employed by any of the insurance companies in the TDI Group but had somehow became an employee of the TD Bank (legal department) at the end of January 2025 as per the LSO Directory. However, a newly created LinkedIn by Mr. Papadimitropoulos claimed he was no longer with TDI Group at the end of December 2024 – shortly before The Honourable Madam Justice Shore engaged in the jurisdictional nullity void ab initio steps of assigning the JRPA Proceeding for case management by her direction and to herself.
72. If there were any filings by the LAT, which were captured by the Access Request, none have been provided by the LAT.
73. Leading into February 2025, the very law firm that employs(ed) Ms. Dunk through a lawyer at the law firm in Ms. Pinto engaged in acting for Mr. Karat in both the sale of the Grandview Oshawa Home and the Fleet Oshawa Home but for Ms. Julia Karat (sic) in the purchase of the Fleet Oshawa Home and Ms. Julia Dunk in the sale of the Grandview Oshawa Home.
74. Would Himelfarb Prozanski LLP not know the legal name of Ms. Julia Dunk in the purchase of the Fleet Oshawa Home, which was prior to the sale of the Grandview Oshawa Home, but know her legal name in the sale of Grandview Oshawa Home? The question answers itself.
75. However, without a fictitious joint tenant in the purchase of the Fleet Oshawa Home, Mr. Karat, at law was the only one to benefit in the purchase of the same.
76. Without much equity in the Grandview Oshawa Home, there was not much in the way of value for it on its listing price.
77. However, it was represented that on the same day that Mr. Boyce for the LAT purported to “serve” the Notice of Appearance but did not file with proof of service the same as Ms. Maciel did not serve the correct email address and would have been required to swear an affidavit of service when filing the same that “miraculously”, the Grandview Oshawa Home sold for $721,500. Ergo, miraculously, the Grandview Oshawa Home, with a spread of some $400,000 between the Fleet Oshawa Home and Grandview Oshawa Home, somehow sold for $122,000 more than its listing price.
78. But who was the purchaser or were the purchasers of the Grandview Oshawa Home?
79. When it could not get any more fraudulent on its face, it did.
80. The primary joint tenancy purchasers were Ms. Dorothy During-Gibbs and Mr. Michael Gibbs. The former was at the material time a social worker and employee of CAMH in the very CAMH building at 1025 Queen Street, Toronto, Ontario. Mr. Michael Gibbs, the husband of Dorthy During-Gibbs, was a former, although in his 40's public health of Ontario and Ontario Ministry of Health worker.

81. Mr. Peter Gibbs as spent his entire career in the transportation sector. He began in insurance over 35 years ago as an Executive Director of Administration for a large Canadian Transportation Group. Prior to the merge with Jones DesLauriers, Gibbs worked for Safety Insurance for over 16 years as one of their most trusted transportation advisors. Gibbs is a Registered Insurance Broker of Ontario (RIBO) (see: JDMI website (Our Team Peter Gibbs)). Mr. Peter Gibbs purchased an apparent 1 percent interest as a tenant-in-common on his own in a property.
82. Mr. Peter Gibbs' wife was the founding member and former president of the Friends of the CAMH Archives (FoCA), an organization that supports the CAMH Archives. The CAMH Archives preserves materials related to the history of Canadian mental health and addiction services, while the FOCA has supported research and preservation efforts, including establishing bursaries and advocating for the preservation of historical sites.
83. It was later learned that Mr. Karat was hiding in a "TIDES classroom" (see: "TIDES classroom" is a training program for Trauma-Informed De-Escalation Education for Safety and Self-Protection (TIDES)). To teach the TIDES program, a classroom setting can be used for training on trauma-informed approaches, de-escalation techniques, and safe physical interventions, notes CAMH) which was FOB protected before he engaged in the theft and the Appellant went to use the facilities for a few minutes. With 625 Grandview Avenue, Oshawa, being approximately 60 km away from the CAMH location, what is the probability that a CAMH social worker purchased a property for $122,000 without any fraudulent connection with the cast of characters at the TDIA Group? The question answers itself.
84. CAMH did refer to him as a thief in internal emails of CAMH unionized workers who were part of the OPSEU union. The very same union that employees the court staff at the courthouses in the OCJ, SCJ and Court of Appeal.
85. Ergo, some of the 13 Record Classes encompass documents that may be on their face subject to litigation privilege wherein there is a solicitor-client relationship between a solicitor and the LAT. However, since "Tribunals Ontario" cannot be a client per se as it would have to be a specific tribunal under that umbrella reference to 13 distinct tribunals then no litigation privilege could exist either.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(E)(IV)LITIGATION PRIVILEGE IS LESS ABSOLUTE THAN SOLICITOR-CLIENT PRIVILEGE

86. This privilege is generally deemed less absolute than solicitor-client privilege due to its temporary nature and is subject to balancing with the overarching public interest in truth-seeking and judicial or administrative efficiency. In the context of FIPPA, the Head of the Institution at issue is permitted to disclose solicitor-

- client privilege records along with litigation privilege records because the Head of the Institution, being the Head of the client, can waive the same or find that the records (communications) are subject to exceptions.
87. The SCC, in Smith v. Jones, 1999 CanLII 674, as per Rosenberg J.A. in Chrusz (at page 369), found that any recognized exceptions to solicitor-client privilege would apply equally to litigation privilege (see: Inquiry Record, Tab 2, page 71).
 88. The core of the issue is whether the alleged theft of an individual's personal property, monetary access, and credit cards, alongside hard copy and electronic materials, for the represented intent by an applicant or Appellant to bring an appeal or judicial review, falls under the scope of documents created "to assist in the conduct of anticipated litigation." While such materials would undoubtedly assist, they would fall under the unlawful acts exception cited in McDermott v. McDermott, 2013 BCSC 534 (CanLII), citing O'Rourke v. Darbishire and Others, 1920 AC 581 at page 604 (see: Inquiry Record, Tab 2, page 71, paragraph 6).
 89. Ergo, the fundamental questions are: Who is the client and who is the legal advisor in this OIPC Appeal? This is a prerequisite for the LAT to confirm. The name of the legal advisor is not subject to privilege. Furthermore, a mere listing of communications subject to privilege, coupled with a brief summary, is not subject to privilege.
 90. If the LAT can establish the client and solicitor(s), it must then displace the burden by demonstrating that each specific record is subject to solicitor-client privilege. To the extent that certain records are subject to solicitor-client privilege, the Appellant concedes that the burden would then fall upon the Appellant for displacing the privilege. However, the exceptions to privilege have evolved such that the exception is no longer limited to merely criminal misconduct but now encompasses unlawful conduct causing injury to others, breaches of regulatory statutes, contracts, torts, and other breaches of duty (see: Inquiry Record, Tab 2, page 71, paragraph 6, endnote 14). As the theft and remain and have been subject to a longstanding conspiratorial agreements between a variety of conspirators those records between the conspirators are not subject to any form of privilege.
 91. There are two branches of the tort of conspiracy:
 - a. Predominant purpose conspiracy: This branch involves a combination or agreement between two or more parties where the predominant purpose of their concerted action is to cause injury or harm to the plaintiff;
 - a. Means used: The means used to cause harm may be either lawful or unlawful. If the main aim is to injure the plaintiff, otherwise lawful actions become tortious due to the malicious intent;
 - b. Key element: The necessity of proving that the primary goal of the conspiracy was to inflict harm on the plaintiff.
 - b. Unlawful means conspiracy: This branch involves an agreement between parties to use unlawful means to injure the plaintiff. The defendants must commit some unlawful act (e.g., a crime, a separate tort, or a breach of statute). The plaintiff does not need to prove that the predominant purpose was to injure; it is sufficient to show that the defendants knew or should have known that injury to the plaintiff was likely to result from their unlawful conduct.

92. As Callaghan J. made clear in Can. Cement Lafarge Ltd. v. BC Lightweight Aggregate Ltd., 1979 CanLII 426 (B.C.S.C.), "where unlawfulness is found, the object of the conspirators becomes irrelevant."
93. The unlawful means is easily established by the theft by the TDI Karat Theft and the subsequent conduct involving the LAT, wherein VC Morissette was engaged in salacious comments towards the Applicant in made decisions (not naming the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders which remain outstanding) (i.e. he was causing strain upon the Tribunal (see: September 13, 2024, decision of the LAT as per VCM).
94. Lord Denning, in Torquay Hotel Co. Ltd. v. Cousins, [1969] 1 All E.R. 522, espoused a broader view of "unlawful means" as "an act the defendant 'is not at liberty to commit' -- in other words, an act WITHOUT legal justification." This was adopted in Reach M.D., (2003) 65 O.R. (3d) 30 (C.A.), where Laskin J. found "Unlawful means at least include what occurred here: the Committee made a ruling that it was not AUTHORIZED to make. Its ruling was beyond its powers. I see no policy reasons for taking a narrower view of unlawful means".
95. Furthermore, simply aiding and abetting a co-conspirator to commit unlawful means could itself qualify as unlawful means (2038724 Ontario Ltd. V. Quizno's Canada Restaurant Corp, 2010 ONCA 466, pp. 46-49). The Courts have recognized that it is not necessary for both conspirators to engage in the unlawful act(s), so long as the unlawful act of one conspirator was a probable consequence of the original common design (Claiborne Industries Ltd. v. National Bank of Canada, 1989 CanLII 183 ONCA; Kuwait Oil Tanker Co. v. Al Bader, [2000] 2 All E.R. (Comm) 271; Golden Capital Securities Ltd. V. Holmes, [2005] 1. W.W.R. 631; and HM Revenue & Customs v. Begum, [2010] EWHC 1799).
96. Therefore, the LAT's conduct in the LAT Appeal Proceeding after the unlawful conduct of Mr. Karat and their own CMO, followed by a fraudulently misrepresented power outages depriving an injured person (Appellant) of a file number with the LAT and so on, was a probable consequence of the original common design to utilize a fictitiously responsible insurance company in TDGIC.
97. Moreover, the LAT's conduct at the JRPA Proceeding, which prejudiced the rights of the Appellant (including steps, directions, determinations and orders et al) will naturally be set aside on grounds of, inter alia, fraud and other grounds, was a probable consequence of the original common design of the conspirators even if the LAT was not found to be a conspirator in a conspirator in the conspiratorial agreements.
98. That is a different question than whether the LAT had a high degree of control or authority of the actions of Mr. Karat and Respondent Insurance Companies in the TDI Karat Theft and subsequent fraudulent conduct thereafter.
99. However, if Mr. Nieuwland (counsel to the Respondent Insurance Companies) and Mr. Boyce (counsel to the LAT) were not the ones engaging in the impersonation, fraud et al in December 2024 and January 2025, then who was informing the de facto fraudsters on the very dates of private and confidential serving along with filings to engage in further fraudulent misconduct?

100. It is trite that remaining silent in the face of fraud is sufficient to find a third party who knows that another has made fraudulent misrepresentations liable for fraud as well (see: Sugar Peat v. Marwick, Derry v. Peek).
101. To displace solicitor-client privilege during a timeframe and in relation to impugned conduct concerning communications and records, the Applicant must demonstrate colour to charge (see: Tab 53 of the Inquiry Record, citing Goldman Sachs). Herein, there is more than mere colour to the charge, but also the charges themselves.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(F): DELIBERATIVE SECRECY DIFFERENT FROM SOLICITOR-CLIENT PRIVILEGE (INCLUDING LITIGATION PRIVILEGE)

102. Solicitor-client privilege includes litigation privilege, but neither is synonymous with deliberative secrecy.
103. Justice Nishikawa succinctly set out the law in Grogan v. Ontario College of Teachers, 2023 ONSC 2980, at paragraphs 16-18. Deliberative secrecy is a core component of administrative independence: it promotes the finality of a decision by precluding the disclosure of how and why decision-makers reached their conclusions, while simultaneously creating a zone of confidentiality in which decision-makers may engage in collegial debate and seek appropriate feedback to ensure consistency.
104. The Appellant has not even been granted access to two “final orders” (the “Two Undisclosed Motion Orders”) from July 24 and August 16, 2024, through either FIPPA or TARA. The LAT cannot rely on litigation privilege per se during a proceeding, but perhaps it could be asserted in relation to the time that an applicant or Appellant declares an intention to bring an appeal or judicial review. The primary divergence is that solicitor-client privilege constitutes a fundamental legal right that sanctifies confidential communication for the purpose of seeking or giving legal advice. Conversely, “deliberative secrecy” generally refers to a broader rule, principle, or policy to maintain the privacy of certain information, often for Institutional or governmental functions. The concept of private information is qualitatively different from confidential information, and that which is secret is distinct from both.
105. Solicitor-client privilege serves as a shield against compulsory disclosure, signifying that the information cannot be compelled to be produced in court or to a third party (subject to very narrow exceptions). Under FIPPA, the Head of the Institution possesses a permissive authority to disclose or not disclose records subject to solicitor-client privilege. Ergo, the Institution must be the client. If the Institution is not the client, then no solicitor-client privilege can apply, as a third party cannot waive another’s privilege. The privilege belongs solely to the client, and only the client can waive it, even following the cessation of the lawyer-client relationship.

106. “Deliberative secrecy” is not a single, universal legal doctrine akin to solicitor-client privilege. This principle protects the internal discussions, notes, and working documents of decision-making bodies, such as judges, juries, or administrative tribunals. However, those specific types of records are not subject to FIPPA due to the exclusionary provision of section 65(3.1), which states:
107. “This Act does not apply to personal notes, draft decisions, draft orders and communications related to draft decisions or draft orders that are created by or for a person who is acting in a quasi-judicial capacity.”
108. The purpose of this exclusion is to ensure that decision-makers can engage in robust, frank, and independent discussions, unfettered by public pressure or undue influence when arriving at a decision. However, under FIPPA, those communications related to draft decisions or draft orders that are created by or for a person acting in a quasi-judicial capacity (an adjudicator or Vice-Chair) are excluded from the Act’s application. It is paramount to note the specific phrasing: the exclusion applies to records created by or for a person acting in a quasi-judicial capacity, focusing on the individual’s role and the nature of the communication, thereby distinguishing it from communications that are purely administrative or managerial in nature, even if involving quasi-judicial personnel.
109. In sum, solicitor-client privilege is centered upon protecting a client’s private access to legal counsel, whereas deliberative secrecy is centered upon protecting the private internal function of government or judicial bodies.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(G): APPLICATION TO THE LAT AND DERENZIS JURISPRUDENCE

110. In Derenzis, the LAT claimed privilege over emails involving counsel who provide legal advice, provide comments on draft decisions when requested, and assist in the finalization and publication of decisions. However, the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders (which are final on their face) remain undisclosed to the Appellant. Whether they fall under TARA or FIPPA remains a live issue.
111. It is axiomatic that LAT counsel provides both legal and non-legal services; as such, LAT counsel’s communications must be analyzed on a case-by-case basis to determine whether each communication is privileged: Pritchard v. Ontario (Human Rights Commission), 2004 SCC 31, at paragraphs 19-20.
112. In Derenzis, Mandhane J. found at paragraph 40:
- “The Tribunal claims solicitor-client privilege over nearly seventy emails, which include communications involving counsel, law clerks, staff, adjudicators, and larger staff teams. Having reviewed the emails, it is found that some of them are properly considered privileged insofar as they relate to the request for and receipt of legal advice. However, many emails are not related to legal advice at all because they are administrative; they relate to the internal processing of Derenzis’ application by the LAT and cannot be properly characterized as related to legal advice.” (Emphasis added).
113. Similar issues emanate herein, along with distinct aggravating factors.

114. If the LAT persists in its refusal to provide evidence herein, it cannot leverage its own recalcitrance to delay the Commissioner from issuing orders as required to dispose of all issues in the Inquiry (Expedited).
115. In-house counsel may have varied roles, and not all of their activities fall under the purview of legal counsel activities. The LAT employs a litany of in-house counsel, as does TD Insurance (TDI), albeit under the business name “TD Insurance Staff Legal.” The mere status of the parties as client and lawyer does not automatically confer a blanket of privilege. Consequently, this Appellant is entitled to access records regarding discussions that may have transpired leading up to and following October 25, 2024, between the LAT and the TDI Group concerning the alleged theft of property, unlawful conduct, potential conspiratorial agreements, and/or tacit approval of such activities (as referenced in Goldman Sachs & Co. v. Sessions, 2000 BCSC 67, paragraph 12). Providing a list of privileged communications in open court does not, in itself, constitute a waiver of privilege or an intrusion upon the relationship between solicitor and client.
116. Moreover, the obvious inference is that the LAT had a high degree of control over TDI and Mr. Karat in the Karat TDI Theft. The LAT had bestowed many “favours” upon the TDI Group and Mr. Karat, suggesting an implied quid pro quo between the LAT and TDI. If the LAT was involved, even tangentially or by maintaining silence upon the receipt of related records (irrespective of whether via government or personal emails, similar to the Greenbelt Decision), governmental transparency and accountability necessitate immediate preservation and production. To the extent that a record constitutes a communication between a public Institution (LAT) and a non-public Institution (TDI), those records are not subject to any form of privilege because TDI cannot be the client of the LAT, and the LAT cannot be the client of TDI. The Appellant’s affidavits, sworn at various times since December 2024, which are materially relied upon herein and provided with these submissions, accompanied by external objective evidence from the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH) and the Toronto Public Library (TPL), furnish clear “colour to the charge.”

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(H): THE ABSENCE OF LITIGATION PRIVILEGE BETWEEN THE LAT AND RESPONDENT INSURERS: ANALYTICAL PRECISION IS REQUIRED ON A RECORD-BY-RECORD BASIS AND TEMPORAL PERIOD BASIS

117. Litigation privilege is contingent upon litigation being in existence or reasonably contemplated, and the documentation must have been created for the dominant purpose of litigation. In relation to the former, the test is objective: a reasonable person, fully apprised of all the relevant information, would conclude that litigation is a real likelihood rather than a mere ephemeral possibility.
118. As such, emails between counsel (LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies) cannot be subject to litigation privilege for the following reasons. Litigation privilege applies to:
- The Client: Any created document or communication the client creates, but for the dominant purpose of litigation;

- b. The Lawyer/Counsel: Any documents or communications created by the lawyer/counsel for the client; and
 - c. Non-Client or Non-Lawyer: Communications created for or by:
 - a. Agents/employees; or
 - b. Third parties.
119. Under the category of agents or employees, this includes employees, directors, investigators, or other agents of the client who are gathering information or preparing materials specifically at the direction of the client or the lawyer for use in the litigation. A common example is an internal investigation report prepared by a company's safety officer immediately after an incident, written specifically to be sent to the company's legal counsel to assist in potential litigation.
120. The three Respondent Insurance Companies share the same Chief Executive Officer (CEO) in Mr. Russell. The LAT's Head under FIPPA is that of Mr. Weir. The employees of the Respondent Insurance Companies are not employees of the LAT.
121. Under the category of "third parties," this includes the genre of expert reports or witness statements of non-parties in litigation, where they are taken by a lawyer or investigator.
122. Compellingly, with the benefit of hindsight, Mr. Nieuwland for the Respondent Insurance Companies did not wish to file a Notice of Appearance for the Respondent Insurance Companies when they were required forthwith to "deliver" (see: Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 1.03).
123. Ergo, there cannot subsist any litigation privilege between parties such as the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies in litigation, even when they are both respondents, as they cannot serve as client and solicitor to each other. Furthermore, neither entity satisfies the requirements of being an agent, employee, or third party under the doctrine of litigation privilege. The communications may have been intended to be confidential, but they are not inter partes a solicitor and client; thus, no solicitor-client privilege applies.
124. Crucially, in the context of administrative adjudication before the LAT, the Tribunal occupies a quasi-judicial role and is expected to maintain strict impartiality. The relationship between the LAT and the adversarial insurer precludes the establishment of a common interest privilege analogous to that which might exist between co-defendants. Such a privilege requires a joint effort toward a common objective that is not merely procedural but involves substantive legal strategy. The LAT's statutory mandate mandates neutrality, which is inherently incompatible with the shared defensive purpose required to ground litigation privilege with an adversarial party.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(I): THE LAT'S CONSTRAINED ROLE IN JUDICIAL REVIEW

125. The jurisprudence of the Divisional Court, including Ontario (Energy Board), followed by precedents such as Tranquilli, Drewlo, and Hutchinson v. Aviva and others, has established that while the LAT may be a party by statute (see: section 9(2) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA)), its participation rights are often quite truncated or narrow, and are typically confined to not arguing the merits, with limits imposed on the length of the factum, submissions, and oral argument. The role of the tribunal in judicial review is primarily to defend the integrity of its process and to provide the record, not to substantively defend its decision against the parties inter se.

126. As such, the Respondent Insurance Companies stood in a qualitatively different standing than an adversarial party.
127. While it should not be a requisite annotation, the LAT is a tribunal that represents itself to be quasi-judicial. The act of providing a template for a Notice of Appearance to the very Respondent Insurance Companies that were adversarial to the Appellant constitutes conduct that ascends to the level of a conflict of interest. The question answers itself.
128. The means by which that transaction transpired must be addressed by record disclosure from the LAT, even if it involves notes pertaining to a telephone meeting between a law clerk (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies (law clerk or assistant).
129. Counsel to the LAT, whether operating behind the scenes as they do in communicating with adjudicators of the LAT, does not escape the exclusionary provision of deliberative secrecy (i.e., section 65(3.1) of FIPPA), where the communications are not specifically related to draft decisions or draft orders and they must be created by or for a person who is acting in a quasi-judicial capacity. Ergo, if the communications are not created by or for a person in a quasi-judicial capacity, then FIPPA applies. To connect this to the preceding argument, Mr. Nieuwland for the Respondent Insurance Companies, or any of their paralegals, law clerks, or legal administrative staff, could not possibly be acting in a quasi-judicial capacity.
130. TARA also possesses a similar exemption concerning draft notes and decisions at section 1(3) of TARA, but TARA employs the language for purposes of excluding “adjudicative records” wherein communications created by or for a member of a tribunal in connection with a proceeding before the tribunal in which the member is presiding. As such, the member of the LAT must be presiding over the specific matter. Consequently, the member would have to be seized to be considered presiding. The distinction between FIPPA’s section 65(3.1) and TARA’s section 1(3) is dispositive: the former excludes records based on the capacity of the recipient/creator (quasi-judicial function) whereas the latter excludes records based on the connection to a specific proceeding over which the member is presiding. Records falling outside these narrow statutory exclusions are subject to FIPPA disclosure mandates.
131. The additional issues in the OIPC Appeal arose subsequently to the void response of Tribunals Ontario on October 14, 2025 (see: Inquiry Record, Tab #5), and were delineated, inter alia, in the Appellant’s Tertiary Submissions (see: Inquiry Record, Tab #6). The Appellant prosecuted Declaration #2 at the conclusion of the week of October 27 to 31, 2025, when the LAT failed to provide access to the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders, notwithstanding the Appellant’s compliance—which is not a prerequisite per se—with an electronic form as provided to him (see: Inquiry Record, Tab 7).

132. It is truism that pursuant to FIPPA and the General Regulation, the LAT is an Institution, but Tribunals Ontario is not.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(J): RELEVANT BACKGROUND HEREIN

133. On the 20th day of March, 2025, the Appellant commenced a formal application by tendering to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter “the LAT”) both the statutorily prescribed monetary remuneration and a sufficiently detailed written request (vide: Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 24(1)(b)) (hereinafter “FIPPA”). This application (collectively, “the Access Request”) was premised upon the Appellant’s belief that an “Institution” (vide: FIPPA, s. 2, “Definitions”) maintained custody and/or control over some or all of the records delineated within 13 distinct classes (hereinafter “the 13 Record Classes”). Pursuant to the explicit directives articulated in sections 26 and 29 of FIPPA, an obligation was imposed upon the LAT to deliver its comprehensive response within a 30-calendar-day period originating March 20, 2025. This statutory obligation was subject to a singular exception: a formal determination by Mr. Weir, the designated Head of the LAT (under the General Regulation, R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 460), positing that the Access Request was, upon reasonable grounds, frivolous or vexatious. No such opinion was conveyed by Mr. Weir, formally or otherwise, by the operative deadline of April 19, 2025. Furthermore, the LAT demonstrably did not formulate the opinion that the Access Request was insufficiently particularized in relation to the records sought. Had such a deficiency been perceived, the LAT would have been statutorily bound (vide: FIPPA, s. 24(2)) to apprise the Appellant—then acting in his capacity as an applicant—of the specific lacuna. Consequently, the concomitant requirement to proffer assistance in the reformulation of the Access Request was not activated. It follows, ergo, that in accordance with the unequivocal will of the Legislature, the Applicant was deemed to have achieved full compliance with FIPPA section 24(1)(b). As of April 19, 2025, it was established as a matter of law that an experienced employee of the LAT, upon the exertion of reasonable effort, possessed the capacity to identify the records sought (hereinafter “the Records Sought”). The unambiguous language of section 24(1), in force in situ since 1996, mandates this conclusion.
134. The Appellant’s Access Request did not solicit continuing access to the Records Sought, as such access is contemplated by FIPPA section 24(3). Ipso facto, the provisions articulated in section 24(5) of FIPPA are entirely inapplicable to the extant matter.
135. By April 4, 2025, the LAT had not availed itself of the forwarding or transfer mechanisms delineated in FIPPA sections 25(1) and 25(2).
136. Pursuant to the “Request Forwarding Provisions” (s. 25(1)), a specific, mandatory duty is imposed upon the Head. Only in the event that the LAT did not possess custody or control of the Records Sought, Mr. Weir was statutorily required to execute all necessary inquiries to ascertain whether another FIPPA-defined

Institution maintained said custody and control. Upon determining that such an Institution existed, Mr. Weir was obligated, within 15 days of the Access Request’s receipt (i.e., by April 4, 2025), to complete two distinct actions:

- a. Forward the Appellant’s Access Request to the other Institution(s); and
- b. Transmit written notice to the Appellant confirming that the Access Request had been forwarded.

137. The “Request Forwarding Provisions” (s. 25(1)) and the “Request Transfer Provisions” (s. 25(2)) are not juridically coterminous; they address distinct statutory scenarios. The Request Transfer Provisions introduce a permissive discretion for the Head to transfer a request—and, significantly, the physical record itself—to another Institution. This discretion is strictly governed by the “Record Greater Interest Test.” The mechanism of section 25(2) necessarily implies that the initial recipient (the potential “Transferor Institution”) possesses custody and/or control of the sought record(s) but is, by this action, relinquishing both the request and the record(s) to a “Transferee Institution” that is deemed to hold a superior interest therein. While sections 25(1) and 25(2) are operationally distinct, they share procedural similarities: both mandate a 15-day timeline for action and require that written notice be furnished to the applicant (vide: FIPPA, s. 25(4)). In computational terms, the invocation of either provision introduces a minimum 15-day delay into the access-to-information process.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(J)(I): THE “RECORD GREATER INTEREST TEST” (SECTION 25(3))

138. To exercise the discretion endowed by section 25(2), the Institution Head must rigorously apply the statutory legal test articulated in section 25(3). An Institution is deemed to possess a “greater interest” if:
- a. The record was originally produced in or for the potential Transferee Institution; or
 - b. Where the record was not originally produced for an Institution, the potential Transferee Institution was the first to receive the record or a copy thereof (the “First Institution Receipt Test”).

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4(H): DETERMINATION OF “INSTITUTION” STATUS UNDER GOVERNING LEGISLATION

A. THE LACUNA OF “INSTITUTION” STATUS FOR “TRIBUNALS ONTARIO” UNDER FIPPA

139. An entity qualifies as an “Institution” under FIPPA only if it falls within one of the following enumerated, exhaustive categories:
- a. The Legislative Assembly;
 - b. A Ministry of the Government of Ontario;
 - c. A service provider organization within the meaning of s. 17.1 of the Ministry of Government Services Act (hereinafter “MGSA”);
 - d. A hospital; or

- e. An agency, board, commission, corporation, or other body designated as an Institution in the regulations.

140. “Tribunals Ontario” is manifestly not the Legislative Assembly, a hospital, or one of the 32 designated Ministries of the Government of Ontario. Furthermore, the General Regulation under FIPPA specifically designates the LAT (at item 68) but makes no mention whatsoever of “Tribunals Ontario.”
141. Moreover, section 17.1 of the MGSA empowers the Lieutenant Governor in Council (LGIC) to designate service provider organizations. The LGIC has designated only “ServiceOntario” in this capacity. Therefore, any legal analysis vis-à-vis section 17.1 of the MGSA is rendered moot.

B. THE ABSENCE OF “PUBLIC BODY” STATUS FOR “TRIBUNALS ONTARIO” UNDER THE ARA

142. A parallel exegesis of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006, S.O. 2006, c. 34, Sched. A (hereinafter “ARA”) yields an identical conclusion. A “public body” under section 2 of the ARA includes the Executive Council, Ministers, Ministries, Public Inquiries Act, 2009 commissions, or an entity designated by regulation. The Designated Public Bodies regulation (O. Reg. 336/07) lists the LAT as Designated Public Body number 74. Conspicuously absent from this regulation is any reference to “Tribunals Ontario.” Parenthetically, the definition of “public body” under the ARA is distinct from its usage in other statutes, highlighting the imperative for precise legislative interpretation.

C. DELINEATION FROM “ADJUDICATIVE TRIBUNAL” STATUS (TARA & ATAGAA)

143. The status of “Tribunals Ontario” is further clarified by an examination of cognate legislative frameworks.
144. Under the Tribunal Adjudicative Records Act, 2019, S.O. 2019, c. 7, Sched. 60 (hereinafter “TARA”), a “tribunal” is an adjudicative tribunal prescribed by regulation. The General Regulation (O. Reg. 211/19) enumerates the LAT (at item 16) but does not list “Tribunals Ontario.” Similarly, under the Adjudicative Tribunals Accountability, Governance and Appointments Act, 2009, S.O. 2009, c. 33, Sched. 5 (hereinafter “ATAGAA”), an “adjudicative tribunal” is a prescribed entity. The relevant regulation (O. Reg. 126/10) designates the LAT (at item 12) but, again, entirely omits “Tribunals Ontario.”

D. SYLLOGISTIC CONCLUSIONS ON THE STATUS OF “TRIBUNALS ONTARIO”

145. Ergo, the following propositions are self-evident and flow inexorably from the statutory record: “Tribunals Ontario” is not:
- a. A listed “Institution” under FIPPA or its attendant regulations;
 - b. A “Designated Public Body” under the ARA or its attendant regulations;
 - c. An “adjudicative tribunal” under TARA or its attendant regulations; or
 - d. An “adjudicative tribunal” under ATAGAA or its attendant regulations.

146. The import of this distinction is monumental. As a non-Institution, “Tribunals Ontario” is statutorily precluded from engaging in any permissive or mandatory conduct prescribed by FIPPA. As a non-public-body under the ARA, its records are, axiomatically, “private records,” an identification that fundamentally alters the analysis of the Archivist of Ontario (the “Archivist”) regarding archival value (vide: ARA, s. 2(1)).

IV. THE JURISPRUDENTIAL AND STATUTORY INTERPLAY: FIPPA, THE ARA, AND RECORDS DISPOSAL

A. THE SECTION 65(1) FIPPA EXEMPTION: THE “PLACING” OF RECORDS IN THE ARCHIVES OF ONTARIO

147. The Legislature confirmed, through subsection 3(1) of the ARA, that the ARA does not operate to limit laws governing access to information in respect of records held by public bodies. Subsection 3(2) extends this principle to privileges respecting records transferred to the Archivist.
148. This framework must be construed in pari materia with section 65(1) of FIPPA, which articulates a critical exemption from FIPPA’s applicability. It states:
149. Application of Act 65 (1) This Act does not apply to records placed in the archives of an educational Institution or the Archives of Ontario by or on behalf of a person or organization other than, (a) an Institution as defined in this Act or in the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act; or (b) a health information custodian as defined in the Personal Health Information Protection Act, 2004.
150. The applicability of FIPPA is, therefore, contingent upon the capacity and authority of the entity that placed the records (the “Records Placer”) in the Archives of Ontario (the “AO”).

B. DISTINGUISHING “RECORDS PLACER” FROM “RECORDS TRANSFEROR”

151. A “Records Placer” is not juridically coterminous with a “Records Transferor,” a distinction mandated by a harmonious construction of FIPPA and the ARA.
152. The Disposal of Personal Information regulation, R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 459 (hereinafter “Reg 459”), promulgated under FIPPA, explicitly references the AO. Section 2(1) of Reg 459 permits FIPPA Institutions (excluding educational Institutions) to “dispose” of personal information in only two ways:
- Transferring it to the AO (an “AO Transfer”); or
 - By destroying it (a “PI Destruction”).
153. Ergo, an AO Transfer constitutes a form of disposal, but it is legislatively distinct from destruction.
154. Crucially, Reg 459 only permits a FIPPA Institution to “dispose” of personal information. A non-FIPPA Institution (i.e., “a person or organization other than” an Institution, per FIPPA s. 65(1)) may be a “Records Placer” but cannot be a “Records Transferor” under this regulatory scheme.

155. It therefore follows, de jure, that where a record is deposited with the AO by a Records Placer (a non-FIPPA/non-MFIPPA entity), section 65(1) of FIPPA is triggered. This placement ipso facto exempts an Institution that did not place the record, but which may still retain custody or control of it, from all of FIPPA's obligations vis-à-vis that specific record.

C. THE PERSONAL INFORMATION DISPOSAL REGULATION (R.R.O. 1990, REG. 459)

156. The Personal Information Disposal Regulation stipulates further obligations incumbent upon Institution Heads. Section 3 mandates that the destruction of personal information requires the Head's authorization. Section 5 requires the Head to undertake all reasonable measures to ensure the destruction is irreversible, such that the information cannot be reconstructed or retrieved.
157. Section 6 of Reg 459 compels the Institution (in its capacity as a Records Transferor) to maintain a "Disposal Record" detailing the personal information destroyed or transferred to the AO, including dates. This "Disposal Record" must not, itself, contain personal information.
158. This regulatory framework creates a dichotomy: an AO Transfer by an Institution (a Records Transferor) results in the AO acquiring custody of the personal information, while the Institution retains a (non-personal) Disposal Record. Conversely, a record "placed" by a Records Placer (a non-Institution) is not subject to Reg 459, although it activates the FIPPA s. 65(1) exemption for any Institution that happens to hold a copy.

D. THE CONUNDRUM OF "CUSTODY" AND "CONTROL" POST-HALE

159. The operative terms "custody" and "control" are not endowed with statutory definition within FIPPA. Jurisprudence, however, has provided significant clarification. "Control," as articulated in Ontario (Criminal Code Review Board) v. Hale (Inquiry Record, Tab 34), manifests as the right to make a prospective demand upon any person—not necessarily restricted to another Institution—for a specified record.
160. Ontario common law, consonant with the principles established in Hale, imposes no requirement for such control to be immediate. Rather, any demonstrable ability to demand or solicit the record from another person (encompassing both organizations and individuals, vide: Legislation Act, 2006, S.O. 2006, c. 21, Sched. F, s. 89) is sufficient to satisfy the common law indicia.
161. The Ontario Court of Appeal in Hale explicitly adopted and affirmed the precedential reasoning from federal jurisprudence, such as Canada Post Corporation, which espouses that access to information legislation, being quasi-constitutional in nature, must be accorded a fair, large, and liberal interpretation consistent with its remedial objectives.
162. This principle of statutory interpretation was subsequently codified by the Legislature in sections 63 and 64 of the Legislation Act, 2006, which applies to all Ontario statutes and regulations.

163. E. The Archivist's Powers vis-à-vis Public Body Records (ARA, Section 20)
164. The ARA vests the Archivist with specific powers vis-à-vis public bodies (a designation, as established, that does not include "Tribunals Ontario"). Section 20 of the ARA empowers the Archivist to designate public records—extant in the custody or control of a public body—that may be of "Archival Value" and are at imminent risk of being damaged, destroyed, or disposed of.
165. This designation (the "Archivist Public Body Records Designation") must be provided in writing to the public body (s. 20(2)). Upon receipt, the public body is proscribed from damaging, destroying, or disposing of the designated records for a 45-day period (s. 20(3)).
166. During this 45-day review period, the Archivist may examine the records (s. 20(4)). If the Archivist determines the records are, in fact, of Archival Value, the Archivist shall direct the public body to do one of two things:
167. Transfer the records to the custody and control of the AO by a specified date; or b. Enter into or amend an agreement with the Archivist pursuant to subclause 18(1)(a).
168. Transfer the records to the custody and control of the AO by a specified date; or
169. Enter into an agreement with Archivist under subclause 18(1)(a) or amend an existing agreement between the Archivist and that LGIC designated Public Body under the ARA's attendant regulation.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #2: ANALYSIS OF ARCHIVAL OBLIGATIONS AND PROCEDURAL JURISDICTION STATUTORY INTERPRETATION OF ARCHIVAL DISPOSITIONS

170. The statutory framework established under Subclause 18(1)(b) of the Archives and Recordkeeping Act (ARA) encompasses a covenant with another juridical or natural person or entity.
171. This covenant mandates that the aforementioned party shall assume custodianship of all or a stipulated portion of the Public Body's records deemed to possess Archival Value upon the cessation of their requisite retention period. This assumption of responsibility is invariably coupled with the supplementary obligations of perpetual retention and rigorous preservation, alongside the imperative to afford public access in strict accordance with the Archivist's binding directives.
172. It must be observed, ex necessitate rei, that the entirety of Subsection 18(1)(b) is inapplicable to a formal contractual agreement, or MOU (Memorandum of Understanding), between the Public Body and the Archivist themselves. This conclusion is inexorably drawn from the foundational common law doctrine of privity of contract, which precludes the application of terms to a covenanting party that are explicitly designated for a third-party repository.

173. Any agreement or understanding—as exemplified by the extant MOU between Mr. Weir and MAG—executed by the Public Body subsequent to the reception of the 45-day designation notice constitutes an action deemed entirely without legal effect.

174. The parties to the MOU are as follows executed on this 22nd day of December 2022:

“Memorandum of Understanding between
 The Attorney General of Ontario
 (hereinafter called the "Minister")
 and
 The Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario
 (hereinafter called the "Executive Chair")”

175. Mr. Weir was acting in his capacity as an individual albeit in a professional capacity but “Tribunals Ontario” was not a party to the MOU. Ergo, Tribunals Ontario cannot be a party herein. It would be far easier for Tribunals Ontario to a party to a contract than a party to an appeal before the OIPC.

176. The Appellant does not agree with characterizations in the MOU relating to much of what it claims that is not solidified in statute or regulation. Nonetheless, it provided as an example of the parties to the MOU. Suffice it to say, it is poorly drafted and analytically imprecise.

177. Where the drafters of this MOU came to the conclusion that “Tribunals Ontario” was deemed to be independent or required to be independent and “responsible for the statutory mandate of its Constituent Tribunals, for adjudicative decisions, resolution of disputes and case management within the statutory mandate of its Constituent Tribunals, and for Tribunal Ontario’s ongoing administration” (see: clause 1.3 of the MOU). A nomenclature cluster under the ATAGAA’s attendant regulation does not specify the same.

178. Nonetheless, clause 1.5 confirms the obvious: “The MOU does not supersede the provisions of any legislation governing Tribunals Ontario or its Constituent Tribunals, nor is it intended to interfere with the independence of Tribunals Ontario or of its Appointees in rendering adjudicative decisions or in resolving disputes, consistent with the legislation, common law and principles of natural justice”.

179. The designation notice acts as an imprimatur of preservation, establishing a period of interim custodia legis over the records in question. The primary and overriding intent of this review period is the meticulous safeguarding of records, thereby precluding any detrimental alteration or outright destruction. The only potential exception to this comprehensive freeze is a formal Personal Information Disposal, governed by the Personal Information Disposal Regulation, involving a transfer for disposition to the very Archives of Ontario, wherein the Archivist has already formally declared that a record or classes of records may be of Archival Value. Any contrary agreement attempting to unilaterally circumvent this protective mechanism is, consequently, rendered null and void pursuant to section 20(6) of the enabling statute.

180. Irrespective of this analytically imprecise MOU, FIPPA operates with an independent (of government) Commissioner and whether “Tribunals Ontario” is an Institution or not is the will of the Legislature and its members of the same which is a principle of democracy.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(A): THE PRINCIPLE OF ISSUE ESTOPPEL

181. The issuance of the aforementioned purported communication from “Tribunals Ontario” constituted an egregious abuse of process by both that entity and the LAT (Licence Appeal Tribunal). This is predicated upon the incontrovertible fact that the issue concerning the identification of the sole and correct Respondent in this OIPC Appeal had already been dispositively determined by the OIPC itself. Consequently, the LAT (and, by extension, “Tribunals Ontario”) were estopped in perpetuum from re-litigating this matter by the strictures of the doctrine of issue estoppel. To successfully invoke issue estoppel as a defence against the re-raising of a matter, whether through submissions, conduct, or otherwise, the rigorous common law test requires the satisfaction of three constituent elements:

- a. The issue or question must be identical to that previously determined;
- b. There must exist a final order or decision disposing of the issue; and
- c. The proceedings must involve the same parties or their privies (vide: the leading authority in Danyluk v. Ainsworth Technologies Inc, 2001 SCC 44, which is cited in the Inquiry Record (Tab 56 [Penner] and Tab 57 [Smith Estate]).

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(B): FINALITY OF THE OIPC’S DETERMINATION ON PARTY STATUS

182. It is a judicial axiom that the controverted issue of the correct and legally mandated respondent, both at first instance and through the regulatory scheme of FIPPA, remains the same; it is an intra-proceeding matter involving the same interested party in the LAT. The singular point of divergence hinges upon whether the prior OIPC decision was a final one. A “final decision” is juridically distinct from, and not synonymous with, the “last decision” rendered in a proceeding. The Ontario Court of Appeal (ONCA) in M.E. v. Ontario (Government) discerned that a decision affecting a change of parties, or the amendment of pleadings or causes of action, constitutes a final determination, finding, or order. Ergo, the administrative correction effectuated by the OIPC, substituting the LAT for “Tribunals Ontario,” which represented merely the enforcement of a plain reading of FIPPA and its attendant regulations, constituted a final decision.

183. This syllogistic extrapolation demonstrates, conclusively, that the “Tribunals Ontario” purported response to the September 29, 2025, designation was a collateral attack on a final determination and was thus rendered null and void.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(C):THE PRINCIPLES OF FUNCTUS OFFICIO AND AVOIDANCE OF MULTIPLICITY OF PROCEEDINGS

184. Consequently, all issues, alongside any antecedent and subsequent controversies arising therefrom during the Inquiry Phase, must be resolved exclusively by way of a formal order by the Commissioner AFTER the submission of the full evidentiary record (vide: section 54(1) of FIPPA).
185. This imperative is not only procedurally required but is also consonant with the maxim that justice must be efficacious and the overarching doctrine of the avoidance of multiplicity of proceedings (or nemo debet bis vexari pro una et eadem causa). Until such time as the Commissioner, or her duly authorized delegate, has by formal order adjudicated upon and resolved all issues arising in this OIPC Appeal since the designation of September 29, 2025, the Commissioner is not divested of jurisdiction (non-functus officio). Vide CBC v. Manitoba, 2021 SCC 33 (Inquiry Record, Tab 58).

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(D):PRECLUSION BY FAILURE TO EXHAUST RECONSIDERATION AS THE INITIAL AVENUE

186. An additional supervening circumstance now militates against the LAT, stemming from the prior confirmation by Ms. Sherwood (Case Lead) that the LAT was indeed the sole and appropriate Respondent. The OIPC Code of Procedure (Inquiry Record, Tab 25) denotes that all IPC decisions are final (Rule 15.01). Rule 15.03 permits any person with an interest in the Appeal to formally request reconsideration, though this right is strictly limited to one application per decision or Order.
187. Assuming arguendo that “Tribunals Ontario” possessed the requisite interest in this Appeal, though not having the locus standi of a formal party (section 3 of the OIPC Code of Procedure; Inquiry Record, Tab 25), it or the LAT was required to file a formal request for reconsideration within the prescribed twenty-one-day period commencing, at the very latest, on September 29, 2025. The deadline for this action would have occurred well before the Appellant’s Tertiary Submissions of October 17, 2025 (Inquiry Record, Tab 6).

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(D):JUDICIAL REVIEW AS THE ULTIMATE RECOURSE BUT DISCRETIONARY AND SUBJECT TO THE NON-JUSTICIABILITY DOCTRINES

188. Neither the LAT nor “Tribunals Ontario” availed themselves of this internal avenue. Consequently, their only recourse, subsequent to the expiry of the reconsideration period, would have been an application for judicial review pursuant to the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA). Under the JRPA, the LAT and/or “Tribunals Ontario” would have been legally obligated to initiate the application by serving and filing a notice of application for judicial review (Form 68(A)) within the statutory limit of 30 days (section 5(1) of the JRPA). This critical jurisdictional date expired on October 29, 2025. Ergo, the LAT and “Tribunals Ontario” are now precluded ab initio from advancing a reconsideration request and are concurrently barred from commencing a JRPA Application, the former as of the day subsequent to October 17, 2025, and the latter as of October 29, 2025. While the exhaustion of internal administrative remedies is not a sine qua non prerequisite for the commencement of judicial review proceedings, the Divisional Court has consistently exercised judicial forbearance, refusing to hear an applicant who has demonstrably failed to exhaust such alternative avenues of recourse.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(E):FINALITY AND THE INTERLOCUTORY PROSCRIPTION

189. The LAT or “Tribunals Ontario” possessed the entitlement, had they duly exercised their OIPC Code of Procedure rights and, failing that, brought a subsequent JRPA application, to challenge the OIPC’s determination. The jurisprudential proscription against the review of interlocutory orders would not have been applicable in this context (vide cases cited in Inquiry Record at Tab 60 [Metro Ontario Real Estate Limited, 2020 ONSC (Divisional Court) 7002], Tab 61 [Vochay at the ONCA in 2012], and Tab 62 [CB Powell at the FCA in 2010]). As the alteration in party status constituted a definitive change from a Non-FIPPA Institution to a FIPPA Institution—a requirement that the OIPC, as a creature of statute, was bound to enforce—this decision was incontrovertibly final. The exhaustion doctrine would, therefore, have been non-apposite, particularly since “Tribunals Ontario” was not formally included in the legislative language governing the Commissioner’s duty to inform. Pursuant to section 50(3) of FIPPA, the Commissioner bears a duty to inform the Head of the Institution but possesses a mere discretion to inform another Institution with “an interest” in the Appeal, including an MFIPPA Institution. Moreover, the doctrine of adequate, alternative, and available remedies (the “AAAR Doctrine”) would similarly be inapplicable, as the remedies sought by a Non-Institution could not legally supersede those of a formal Institution.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(F):CONVERGENCE OF PROCEDURAL DOCTRINES

190. It has been vigorously postulated that the prematurity doctrine and the rule proscribing judicial review of interlocutory decisions are, in their legal effect, effectively idem in toto. The same analogous relationship obtains between the Exhaustion Doctrine and the AAAR Doctrine. Although nuanced distinctions exist at the periphery, they are, de jure, ex necessitate rei, equivalent. The rendering of a final decision, determination, or order obviates any preclusion against judicial review under the prematurity doctrine and the rule against interlocutory review. Similarly, with such a final determination—especially one involving the substitution de novo of parties that simultaneously precludes a Non-Institution from exercising any statutory rights under FIPPA—there exists no adequate, alternative, or available route to exhaust.

191. The substitution of one party for another is substantively equivalent to the dismissal of a party from an appeal or the refusal to remove or add a party, and as such, it constitutes a final determination, finding, or order. A finding, determination, decision, or order, irrespective of its nomenclature, remains fundamentally an issue of substance over form.
192. The core issue remains one that transcends mere semantic debate concerning vernacular (e.g., “question” versus “issue”) and is, in fact, an inquiry evasive of the lis between the Parties. It is, moreover, an issue of considerable public importance pertaining to the procedure, party status, practice, and substantive legal issues adjudicated before the OIPC on a retrospective, current, and prospective basis.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #3(F)(I): STATUTORY OVERRIDE PROVISIONS

193. It is apodictic that legislative phrasing such as “despite any other provision in this Act” denotes an internal notwithstanding or override provision within the confines of the statute itself (the “Internal Override Provision”). Furthermore, where the Legislature employs the formulation “Despite any provision in any other Act, this provision prevails in the event that this provision conflicts with other provisions in another statute,” this constitutes an external paramountcy provision (the “External Override Provision”), mandating legislative interpretation predicated upon the principle of resolving statutory conflict.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #4: ANALYSIS OF PEREMPTORY DISCLOSURE PROVISIONS AND INTER-STATUTORY CONFLICTS

THE INTERPLAY OF MANDATORY DISCLOSURE WITHIN THE FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PROTECTION OF PRIVACY ACT (FIPPA)

A. THE MANDATORY OVERRIDE PURSUANT TO SECTION 11 OF FIPPA

194. The legislative intent, having been definitively codified within section 11 of FIPPA, establishes a peremptory disclosure obligation. This mandates that the Institutional Head effect the release of documentation to the public or to an aggrieved person when there exist reasonable grounds to believe that a profound peril to the environment, public safety, or public health has manifested. The jurisprudential standard, articulated definitively in R. v. Kang-Brown, posits a crucial distinction between a mere “reasonable belief” and the more stringent threshold of “reasonable grounds to believe.” The latter necessitates the provision of a foundation of declared or sworn testimonial evidence to render the conviction reasonably grounded, thereby imposing a considerable and demonstrable evidentiary burden upon the relevant Institution.

195. Section 13 of FIPPA governs the discretionary non-disclosure of records pertaining to Advice To Government. This permissive exemption is generally invoked concerning recommendations or counsel proffered by either an internal public servant or an external consultant engaged by the government.
196. Crucially, subsection 13(2) of FIPPA operates as an override provision internal to this permissive non-disclosure regime. This subsection stipulates a series of requisite conditions under which the Head of the Institution is enjoined from refusing disclosure, thereby necessitating the compulsory release of documentation to the requestor. These obligations crystallize when the documentation comprises, inter alia, the following constituents:
- a. Factual material;
 - b. A report emanating from a committee affiliated with an Institution; or
 - c. The articulated rationale for a final decision, order, or ruling executed by an officer of the Institution during, or at the conclusion of, the exercise of discretionary authority conferred by a governing enactment or scheme administered by that Institution.
197. This requirement subsists regardless of whether the governing enactment permits an appellate review of the decision, order, or ruling, and irrespective of whether the rationales (i) are contained within an internal Institutional memorandum or an epistle addressed by an officer or employee to a named person, or (ii) were conveyed by the officer who rendered the determination or were incorporated by reference into the said final decision, order, or ruling.

II. THE JURISDICTIONAL AMBIGUITY OF ADJUDICATIVE RECORDS

THE DICHOTOMY BETWEEN “MAKING” AND “ISSUING” AN ORDER

198. A compelling issue presents itself concerning the two specific Undisclosed Motion Orders. Sub judice is the preliminary presumption that the Landlord and Tenant Board (LAT) regards these two instruments as Adjudicative Records within the purview of the Tribunal Adjudicative Records Act, 2019 (TARA). Particular attention is directed toward the critical verb “made” employed within the TARA statutory framework.
199. The necessity of rendering a determination is paramount regarding the jurisprudential and practical distinction between the making of a definitive order or decision and the subsequent issuance or promulgation of that same instrument to the involved litigants. These two Undisclosed Motion Orders were subsequently referenced within an Index provided by the LAT to the litigant, in a disparate context, during February 2025. This production occurred following the LAT’s acknowledged dereliction of its statutory duty to compile a Record of Proceeding pursuant to section 20 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (SPPA). Furthermore, the characterization of these instruments as “final orders” unequivocally places them outside the exclusionary scope of FIPPA, specifically section 65(3.1), which pertains to “draft decisions, draft orders or communications related to draft decisions, draft orders when a person is acting in a quasi-judicial capacity.” Ergo, the threshold inquiry necessitates a definitive ascertainment of whether TARA possesses a superior or external override provision, and, consequently, whether a statutory conflict subsists between TARA and FIPPA.

B. THE STATUTORY CONFLICT MANDATE AND JURISDICTIONAL EXCLUSION

200. Section 7 of TARA prescribes the methodology for resolving inter-statutory conflicts:

“Conflict

7 In the event of a conflict between a provision of this Act and a provision of any other Act or a regulation made under another Act, the provision of this Act prevails unless the regulations made under this Act provide otherwise.

201. Moreover, the ambit of FIPPA is statutorily circumscribed vis-à-vis adjudicative records, as stipulated in subsection 65(16) of FIPPA:

“(16) This Act does not apply to adjudicative records, within the meaning of the Tribunal Adjudicative Records Act, 2019, referred to in subsection 2 (1) of that Act.

202. TARA, at section 2(2), delineates the definition of Adjudicative Records:

“Adjudicative records

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the following are adjudicative records for the purposes of this Act:

6. A decision or an order made by a tribunal and any reasons for the decision or order.

203. However, the specific subsection referenced in FIPPA’s exclusion clause is section 2(1) of TARA:

“Adjudicative records public

2 (1) A tribunal shall make those adjudicative records in its possession that relate to proceedings commenced on or after the day this section comes into force available to the public in accordance with this Act, including any rules made under section 3.”

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #5: THE JURIDICAL DICHOTOMY OF “POSSESSION” VERSUS “CONTROL OR CUSTODY”

204. FIPPA employs the terms “control or custody,” whereas TARA utilizes the term “possession,” a term which remains undefined within the TARA statute. Given the LAT has not promulgated rules under section 3 of TARA relating to public record availability, the distinction between these two concepts necessitates a precise juridical finding and subsequent determination.

205. The fundamental legal question posited is whether an adjudicative record, though not within the immediate possession of a tribunal, is nonetheless under its control (i.e., retaining the legal prerogative to compel a third party to produce a copy, as explored in Hale v. Ontario Criminal Code Review Board). This distinction is profoundly material because the public availability mandate of TARA section 2(1) affords access to the general populace, a status fundamentally distinct from that occupied by a party to the proceeding, an intervenor, an amicus curiae, or a third party seeking personal information under FIPPA. The latter-mentioned individual is entitled to the personal information pertaining to said individual and occupies a different juridical standing than a member of the public, such as a journalistic entity.
206. Furthermore, should the two Undisclosed Motion Orders be deemed to have been made—a factual predicate contingent upon the complete evidentiary record from the LAT—they would prima facie qualify as Adjudicative Records. However, the applicability of TARA becomes immediately suspect if the instruments are not in the LAT’s possession. Should the records be absent from possession (e.g., due to loss or theft) but remain within the LAT’s control (e.g., the legal right to demand restoration or to effect reconstruction of the record), FIPPA would retain its applicability, whereas TARA would not per se govern. This question of jurisdictional contiguity and overlap, concerning the disparate definitions of record situs, constitutes a matter of paramount public interest necessitating definitive juridical adjudication.

D. THE CONSEQUENCE OF “MAKING” AN ORDER

207. Absent a clear statutory definition concerning the “making” of an order or decision, an inquiry necessarily arises as to whether said act mandates contemporaneous issuance to the parties or is deemed complete upon internal finalization. Since the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders are designated as “final,” they are unequivocally not draft instruments, thereby confirming that the exclusionary provision of FIPPA subsection 65(3.1) is in casu irrelevant. While subsection 65(3.1) references “quasi-judicial capacity,” TARA merely refers to the tribunal member presiding. This might be deemed a distinction without a difference, or an implied equivalence arising from the nomenclature of the Tribunal Adjudicative Records Act. Nonetheless, should “Tribunals Ontario” possess the Adjudicative Records without the concomitant joint possession by the LAT, FIPPA would govern the LAT’s obligations regarding the Undisclosed Motion Orders. Resolution is evinced for the systematic prosecution of all available avenues of recourse, and the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner (OIPC) shall be continuously apprised of the efforts and their resultant evidence, ensuring a comprehensive evidentiary foundation prior to the OIPC’s issuance of its final Determination and Order on all issues articulated herein.

III. THE LEGISLATIVE AND PROTECTIVE NEXUS BETWEEN TARA AND THE CROWN LIABILITY AND PROCEEDINGS ACT, 2019

THE 2019 LEGISLATIVE CONTEXT AND THE TORONTO STAR DECISION

208. The year 2019 marked a significant legislative juncture, subsequent to the judgment of the Honourable Justice E. Morgan of the Superior Court of Justice (Ontario) in Toronto Star v. AGO (2018) (the “Toronto Star Decision”). This decision necessitated amendments to FIPPA to address systemic procedural and substantive deficiencies concerning the protracted delays encountered by the public in obtaining records. The subsequent omnibus bill, the Protecting What Matters Most Act, introduced a plethora of amendments and new statutes, including the partial enactment of TARA, which represented the Legislature’s direct remedial response to the identified issues. The fundamental Charter principles of open court were held to be applicable to administrative tribunals, including adjudicative tribunals such as the LAT.
209. TARA was promulgated, in part, as a legislative remedy to the unacceptable delays experienced by litigants and news reporting companies seeking access to Adjudicative Records. The dictum delivered by Justice Morgan, “Justice delayed is justice denied,” served to underscore the critical urgency of this requisite remedial legislative action. Moreover, this foundational principle is substantially buttressed by constitutional jurisprudence affirming that the Charter safeguards the rights of auditors and observers, not merely those of the enunciators.

B. IMMUNITY AND LIABILITY UNDER SECTION 6 OF TARA

210. Section 6 of TARA addresses the protection afforded to tribunal personnel:

Protection from personal liability

6 (1) No action or other proceeding may be commenced against a member or an employee of a tribunal for an act or omission done or omitted by the member or the employee in good faith in the execution or intended execution of any duty or power under this Act.

Crown liability

(2) Despite subsection 8 (3) of the Crown Liability and Proceedings Act, 2019, subsection (1) does not relieve the Crown of liability in respect of a tort committed by a person mentioned in subsection (1) to which the Crown would otherwise be subject.

211. This provision explicitly references a “member” or an “employee” of a tribunal. While “good faith” is acknowledged as an amorphous juridical concept, the high court pronouncements in Bhasin v. Hrynew and C.M. Callow Inc. v. Zollinger in the contractual commercial context suggest that the absence of good faith (i.e., bad faith) can encompass:
- Mendacium album (White lies);
 - Half-truths; and
 - Calculated silence in the face of contrary knowledge.
212. A compelling quaere subsists regarding the potential liability exposure of an individual who is neither officially categorized as a “member” nor an “employee” of the LAT. Given the present uncertainty regarding the originator of the Undisclosed Motion Orders, this lacuna within the protective statutory scheme is held to warrant meticulous and exhaustive examination.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #5: I. FOUNDATIONAL ACCESS REGIME AND PROCEDURAL NULLITY

A. THE ACCESS REQUEST, STATUTORY DESIGNATION, AND DEEMED REFUSAL

213. This appeal, a necessary invocation of the supervisory jurisdiction of the Information and Privacy Commissioner/Ontario (OIPC), originates from a request for access to records initiated pursuant to the foundational framework of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31 (FIPPA). The request was duly directed to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the LAT), an Institutional entity unequivocally established and precisely enumerated as Institution No. 68 under the relevant statutory regulations (General, R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 460, s. 1(1), no. 68). The Appellant has satisfied all requisite statutory disbursements, fulfilling the pre-conditions for the exercise of access rights under the Act.
214. The Appellant formally submitted an Access Request (Access Request #2) to the LAT, requesting thirteen distinct categories of documents (the Thirteen Record Classes) on March 19, 2025. The substantive scope of this request pertained to the procurement of records demonstrably germane to the Appellant's prolonged, contested interactions with the LAT and implicated third-party interests, covering the essential temporal span from December 24, 2023, to March 19, 2025 (the General Period). These classes are not mere fishing expeditions; they are designed to expose the internal mechanisms of administrative file handling, the accuracy of Institutional representations regarding the deletion of the Appellant's electronic file, and the nature of communications between the LAT and the third party (TDI/TD Bank Group) following the commencement of judicial review proceedings.
215. Pursuant to the statutory architecture, section 24(1) of FIPPA mandates that the Head of the Institution must provide a written response (either granting or refusing access) within thirty days of the request being received. The Institution's complete non-response—the failure to issue a decision from the legally designated Head—culminated in a Deemed Refusal on April 18, 2025, respecting the entirety of the aforementioned record classifications. This procedural failure is the primary jurisdictional basis for the present appeal.
216. The consequences of a Deemed Refusal are not merely administrative formalities; they are legally and functionally equivalent to an outright refusal. Under section 53(2) of FIPPA, this shifts the burden of proof entirely and unequivocally onto the Institution to defend its non-disclosure before the Commissioner. The Institution loses the procedural advantage of having already justified its position in an initial, valid decision. Furthermore, where a Deemed Refusal has occurred, the legal presumption is that the records requested exist. This presumption, established by the Institution's failure to comply with s. 24(1), renders any subsequent attempt by the Institution to claim non-existence of the records inherently difficult and subjects such a claim to heightened scrutiny. To rebut the presumption of existence, the Institution must provide specific, detailed, and non-conclusory evidence, often in the form of a detailed affidavit from the person conducting the search, outlining the search parameters, the specific databases examined, the keywords used, and the temporal limitations applied. The mere assertion that “no records were found” is insufficient to discharge the statutory burden imposed by s. 53(2). The failure to address the request within the statutory timeline is a direct breach of the core principles of timely and open government access that FIPPA is designed to uphold, compelling the Commissioner to draw the most adverse inference possible against the Institution regarding the existence and relevance of the requested documents. The administrative silence by the LAT, especially in the context of highly sensitive records related to alleged criminal acts by its agents, serves to amplify the public interest in disclosure and severely undermines any future claim of reasonableness in their conduct.

B. THE ULTRA VIRES DOCTRINE, INSTITUTIONAL IDENTITY, AND NULLITY IN ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

217. The administrative trajectory of the request immediately and fundamentally diverged into irregularity and procedural illegality. The initial response tendered to the Appellant did not emanate from the Head of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, the singular statutorily mandated respondent responsible for exercising the powers and duties under FIPPA. Instead, a purported decisional instrument was issued under the imprimatur of the administrative coordinating mechanism known merely as “Tribunals Ontario”. This procedural misstep is not a technical oversight; it is a fundamental administrative law defect.
218. The entity designated as “Tribunals Ontario” is neither a jural entity nor an Institution explicitly delineated within the legislative or regulatory ambit of FIPPA. It functions only as an administrative coordinator for various tribunals (including the LAT) under the Ministry of the Attorney General and lacks the necessary legal personality to exercise the Head’s delegated authority under this specific Act. The Head of the LAT is the designated person authorized by the Legislature to act on behalf of Institution No. 68. Because “Tribunals Ontario” lacks this necessary juristic personality and has not been formally designated, the act of issuing a decision in its name constitutes an ultra vires exercise of power—an action beyond the scope of its lawful authority. This is a monumental procedural error that reaches the threshold of a jurisdictional defect of identity. The doctrine of ultra vires is engaged because the authority to issue a decision under FIPPA is a non-delegable statutory power vested solely in the Head, and the attempt by “Tribunals Ontario” to assume this function without explicit legislative or regulatory authority is an act of unlawful delegation, thereby infringing the strict principle of statutory authority. The failure to correctly identify the Institutional Head responsible for the decision denies the Appellant a clear pathway for administrative accountability, rendering the purported decision structurally unsound and incapable of forming a legitimate basis for appeal or review.
219. This defect is so fundamental that it results in a foundational nullity, or void ab initio. As established in the seminal administrative law case of Crevier v. Attorney General of Quebec, 2 S.C.R. 220, a tribunal or administrative body cannot decide its own jurisdiction, nor can an improper exercise of power be validated after the fact. The purported response issued by the unauthorized entity is a legal non-act or vox nihili (a voice of nothing) that cannot be validated or rehabilitated by the OIPC. To accept the “Tribunals Ontario” response would be to tacitly endorse the doctrine of unconstitutional delegation, where the Head delegates the core statutory duty to respond to an unnamed, non-statutory umbrella organization. This undermines the strict accountability mechanisms built into FIPPA, which relies on the named Head being responsible for all decisions regarding access. The OIPC must therefore disregard the purported “Tribunals Ontario” decision and treat the matter as a pure Deemed Refusal where the burden of proof remains entirely unsatisfied by the proper authority, thereby allowing the Appellant to proceed with the appeal on the initial jurisdictional footing. The constitutional imperative of administrative justice requires that a public body act within the clear parameters of its legislative grant of authority; the failure to do so converts the purported decision into a legal nullity, which the Commissioner is bound to ignore in favour of the foundational Deemed Refusal.

C. PROCEDURAL FINALITY AND THE DUAL STATUTORY MANDATE

220. A critical antecedent procedural dimension pertains to the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders (July 28, 2024, and August 16, 2024). The substantive issues surrounding the production and disposition of these specific adjudicative records were previously adjudicated upon and conclusively disposed of by the Tribunal itself. The prior binding disposition of this specific controversy is now asserted as an issue barring subsequent re-adjudication before this Commissioner through the well-established common law doctrines of res judicata and issue estoppel, invoking the principle of procedural finality (Danyluk v. Ainsworth Technologies Inc., 2001, 2 S.C.R. 321). The LAT cannot utilize the FIPPA process as a means of seeking collateral review of, or providing new justification for, its own prior, final, adjudicative decisions—their proper avenue for disclosure is through the administrative record itself.
221. Moreover, the LAT remains under the distinct and mandatory duty imposed by the lex specialis of the Tribunal Adjudicative Records Act, 2019 (TARA), which requires the Tribunal to furnish adjudicative records, such as Motion Orders, regardless of any FIPPA exemption claim. The LAT has persistently neglected or refused to disclose the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders, which constitutes an ongoing and deliberate failure to satisfy its dual statutory obligation concerning public adjudicative records. The mandatory nature of TARA is absolute regarding adjudicative records, placing an obligation on the LAT that transcends any discretionary exemption otherwise available under FIPPA. The refusal to disclose these fundamental judicial documents not only breaches TARA but fundamentally compromises the constitutional mandate of the Open Courts Principle. This principle demands that all judicial and quasi-judicial processes, including the final orders that resolve substantive motions, must be fully accessible to the public, ensuring judicial accountability and transparency. This failure to provide the fundamental records that explain its adjudicative history further implicates the Institution in opacity and a disregard for its fundamental public function of transparency, suggesting a deliberate attempt to shield its prior actions from scrutiny, necessitating an order for disclosure of these records regardless of FIPPA or privilege claims. The concurrent application of FIPPA and TARA means the LAT must satisfy the more onerous disclosure requirement, which in this case is the absolute mandate under TARA to make adjudicative records publicly available upon request.

CHAPTER #1, VOLUME #5:

II. THE INIQUITY EXCEPTION, PRIVILEGE, AND PUBLIC INTEREST OVERRIDE

A. THE MANDATORY EXEMPTION OF PERSONAL PRIVACY (S. 21 OF FIPPA) AND REOP

222. The sole mandatory exemption stipulated under FIPPA is section 21, concerning Personal Privacy. The Appellant argues that the mandatory disclosure cannot be legitimately resisted because the records relate to acts of public misconduct (theft, fraud, obstruction of justice), not matters of private, personal life.
223. The established legal precedent dictates that an individual who perpetrates theft, fraud, and associated unlawful conduct possesses no Reasonable Expectation of Privacy (REOP) regarding records directly linked to that misconduct (vide: R. v. Van Duong, 2018 (ONCA)). FIPPA privacy protections are not intended to serve as a “cloak for crime or corruption.” The privacy interests of the individuals involved in the misconduct are significantly diminished to the point of being outweighed by the public interest in disclosure, particularly when those individuals were acting in an official capacity or communicating with a public Institution (the LAT) about the very matter they were attempting to subvert. The information sought, which includes the names and titles of those involved in the underlying criminal activity and the subsequent cover-up/obstruction, directly falls into the category of official misconduct where privacy expectations are minimal. The public interest in uncovering the complete factual matrix of a sophisticated scheme involving public Institutions and criminal acts fundamentally extinguishes any residual privacy claim held by the perpetrators. Furthermore, the continuing and compelling circumstances affecting the Appellant’s health and safety—a direct consequence of the loss of identifying documents, the associated fraud, and the ongoing harassment—coupled with the fact that the records relate to the conduct of public business, necessitate disclosure under the public interest dimensions of section 21(4), which allows disclosure where disclosure would clearly benefit public health or safety. The theft and subsequent identity fraud have directly compromised the Appellant’s ability to maintain personal and financial security, a direct threat to safety that disclosure is intended to mitigate by exposing the network of individuals involved. The privacy interests of individuals engaged in a coordinated effort to obstruct justice and commit financial crimes cannot override the public safety risk created by their own actions.

B. THE DISCRETIONARY EXEMPTION, LITIGATION PRIVILEGE, AND THE DOMINANT PURPOSE TEST AS A BARRIER TO OBSTRUCTION

224. The pertinent discretionary exemption potentially engaged herein is section 19(1)(a) of FIPPA, encompassing solicitor-client privilege and litigation privilege. The LAT may attempt to assert litigation privilege over communications between itself (or its counsel) and the third party (TDI/TD Bank Group) subsequent to the Appellant’s perfection of the judicial review application
225. The application of litigation privilege is contingent upon meeting the Dominant Purpose Test (vide: Blank v. Canada (Minister of Justice), 2006 SCC 39). The test requires that the document must have been created for the dominant purpose of preparing for anticipated or existing litigation. This is where the claim of privilege fundamentally fails. It is patently illogical and a fundamental subversion of justice to argue that a record documenting or furthering the felonious deprivation of a potentially opposing party of his ability to prosecute an appeal or judicial review through theft and fraud could be construed as lawfully ‘assisting in the conduct of anticipated litigation.
226. The “dominant purpose” must be a lawful purpose. The purpose of the communications sought (Record Classes #6 to #12) is, by necessity, either (i) to further the unlawful obstruction of the judicial process; or (ii) to discuss the implications of that unlawful obstruction. In neither case can the purpose be deemed dominant in the sense required by Blank, because a document’s function must be inherently lawful to warrant the high protection of privilege. A communication whose object is to conceal or perpetuate a fraud, or to actively undermine the rule of law by depriving a litigant of his tools, cannot possess the necessary lawful intent to satisfy the ratio of litigation privilege. The very act of obstructing the judicial process (e.g., through the use of stolen PII to compromise litigation capacity or coordinate the ROP delay) automatically defeats the possibility of a “lawful” dominant purpose. The initial act of theft and the subsequent systematic identity fraud constitute the quintessential acts of subversion that the privilege doctrine cannot countenance. Thus, the claim of litigation privilege fails ab initio because the purpose is illegitimate, even before the Iniquity Exception is applied.

C. THE INIQUITY EXCEPTION: A CONDITION SUBSEQUENT DEFEATING PRIVILEGE FOR MALFEASANCE

227. Even if a record were to technically satisfy the Dominant Purpose Test, it remains subject to the paramount Iniquity Exception (or the “crime-fraud exception”). This exception operates as a condition subsequent that automatically voids the privilege upon proof that the privileged communication was made in furtherance of an illegal purpose. The principle is ancient and unequivocal: privilege is not a cloak for crime (O’Rourke v. Darbishire and Others, 1920 A.C. 581).

228. The Appellant asserts that the evidence presented—including the video-documented theft by Mr. Karat, the systematic pattern of identity fraud directly targeting the Appellant's litigation capacity (e.g., changing the phone number, compromising TPL accounts used for research), and the coordinated silence of the TD Bank Group counsel upon definitive identification—establishes a conclusive, uncontroverted prima facie case of Institutional malfeasance and iniquity. The requisite prima facie standard is not proof beyond a reasonable doubt, but a demonstration that there is sufficient evidence to lead a reasonable person to believe that the exception applies. The evidence adduced goes far beyond this standard. The prima facie case is met through the convergence of facts: a Tribunal agent commits a theft, followed by targeted identity fraud, coinciding with the Tribunal's own failure to meet its statutory obligations (JRPA ROP delay) and is further compounded by the third party's legal counsel actively refusing to acknowledge or investigate the conclusive video evidence of the crime. This interconnected pattern of behaviour is the very type of systemic abuse the exception is designed to remedy.
229. The jurisprudence in McDermott v McDermott, 2013 BCSC 534 (CanLII) confirms that the exception extends beyond criminal acts to severe civil torts, such as misfeasance in public office and breach of confidence, both of which are strongly implicated by the LAT's handling of the matter and its failure to file the ROP forthwith despite the JRPA mandate. A record that documents the perpetration of such an unlawful act, especially when involving a public Institution in an attempt to defeat a party's right to judicial review, is inherently outside the protection of privilege, as the privilege exists only to facilitate lawful legal advice and assistance. The acts of the LAT's counsel (Mr. Boyce) in misleading the Divisional Court regarding the ROP timeline, combined with the LAT's organizational failure to control its agents and meet the forthwith mandate of the JRPA, constitutes a strong prima facie case of institutional misconduct and, potentially, misfeasance in public office, decisively engaging the Iniquity Exception.

D. THE MANDATORY PUBLIC INTEREST OVERRIDE (S. 23 OF FIPPA) AND SYSTEMIC INTEGRITY

230. The evidence establishes a prima facie case of Institutional malfeasance and iniquity, which simultaneously triggers the mandatory Public Interest Override under FIPPA s. 23. This section dictates that, even if an exemption applies (except s. 21), the Head shall disclose the record where a compelling public interest in the disclosure of the record clearly outweighs the purpose of the exemption.
231. The public interest at stake here is not merely the Appellant's private litigation interest; it is a matter of systemic integrity and public trust. The public interest is multi-layered and overriding:
- a. Institutional Accountability (Electronic Records): Ensuring the LAT is accountable for the security and integrity of its electronic filing system (Record Classes #1 and #2) and that its official representations regarding file deletion are verifiable.

- b. Preventing and Exposing Obstruction of Justice and Financial Corruption: Revealing the extent of communication between the LAT and the third party regarding the ongoing criminal acts, the use of stolen PII to compromise the Appellant's litigation research capacity, and the deliberate failure to file the ROP forthwith (Record Classes #6 to #12). This extends specifically to investigating the allegations of "bribery" and "secret commissions" involving the TD Bank Group's gratuitous financing of the Karat/Dunk property purchase, which suggests a financial incentive was provided in exchange for the underlying criminal act that facilitated the litigation obstruction; and
 - c. Upholding the Integrity of the Judicial System: The most critical factor—ensuring that a public tribunal is not perceived as knowingly complicit, through its agents and associated third parties, in the criminal subversion of a party's fundamental right to judicial review.
232. The disclosure of these records is the only means by which the Appellant can fully verify the extent of the LAT's complicity, its failure to control its agents, and the resultant breach of public trust. The gravity of the underlying conduct—the use of theft and fraud to defeat a party in litigation, potentially facilitated by financial misconduct involving a major bank—mandates that the principle of public accountability decisively supplant any claim of privilege. The purpose of the override is precisely to prevent public bodies from using exemptions as a defensive measure to hide evidence of wrongdoing, particularly when that wrongdoing strikes at the heart of justice itself. The public cannot maintain confidence in the LAT if the Institution is permitted to conceal records that may demonstrate a coordinated effort with a powerful corporate litigant to engage in criminal acts to undermine a proceeding, especially when those acts are linked to significant financial transactions.

CHAPTER #2: FACTUAL CHRONOLOGY OF THE UNDERLYING LITIGATION AND INSTITUTIONAL MISCONDUCT

A. THE ACCIDENT, INITIAL MISDIRECTION FROM THE SOLE UNDERWRITER TO TDHA BY REFERENCE TO ITS FAX NUMBER AND VOID REPRESENTATION (AUG 2022 – MAY 2024)

233. The chronology of events began when the Appellant sustained injuries in an automobile collision on August 31, 2022, where the insured vehicle was underwritten by Security National Insurance Company (SNIC). The Appellant informed SNIC of his intention to seek accident benefits, but the initial contact details provided by the insurer were immediately problematic. The Appellant was given a fax number, 416.774.3120, which he later discovered in Summer 2024 was exclusively associated with TD Home and Auto (TDHA), not SNIC. This initial misdirection of service established the pattern of corporate conflation that would plague the proceeding.

234. In April 2023, an OCF-18 (Treatment Plan) was partially approved by SNIC, but this approval was transmitted via a former TDHA address in the HCAI system and bore a forged signature of the then claims adjuster, noted as “As per A. Nurse” [sic].
235. This documented act of forgery on a key claims document is the earliest evidence of malfeasance in the file. The reliance on a forged signature in an administrative claim process demonstrates a willingness to engage in document misrepresentation from the earliest stages of the dispute and casts doubt on the authenticity of all subsequent documents. Further procedural confusion occurred in Spring 2023, when the Appellant received a fax from an 1.888 number referencing unknown claim details sent from the Appellant’s fax, but transmitted to the known erroneous 416.774.3120 TDHA number, demonstrating Institutional awareness of the incorrect service mechanism.
236. On December 24, 2023, the Appellant initiated the LAT Appeal (pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act), serving the problematic 416.774.3120 fax number. Despite the Appellant’s urgent motions naming the respondent as “TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (SNIC)”—an attempt to bridge the known corporate confusion—CMO Grant, on January 8, 2024, requested denial letters from the Appellant. These letters explicitly listed SNIC as the sole denier and provided SNIC’s distinct addresses in Markham and Burlington. Notwithstanding these submissions, the LAT issued its first substantive decision on January 15, 2024, naming TD General Insurance Company (TDGIC) as the sole respondent, thereby fundamentally misidentifying the proper party. This misidentification was critical, as it forced the Appellant to litigate against a party that was never legally denying his benefits, leading to a profound miscarriage of administrative justice from the outset.
237. The procedural irregularities intensified on January 23, 2024, when Mr. David Karat, a non-licensee with the Law Society of Ontario (LSO) and a former employee of the TD Group, asserted representation for SNIC (not the named TDGIC) and sought email communication consent. Two days later, non-licensee Karat exclusively signed the SNIC Response, an action demonstrably void ab initio under the Law Society Act and contrary to settled LAT jurisprudence (e.g., Mosa and Dankha). Mr. Karat’s unauthorized assertion of rights of audience for the insurer was a fundamental jurisdictional violation, making the pleading he filed a nullity that the LAT was legally obligated to strike out immediately. Despite Karat’s unauthorized filing for SNIC, Mr. Nieuwland filed a subsequent Declaration of Representative for TDGIC (not SNIC), further cementing the Institutional conflation.
238. The Appellant immediately objected to TDGIC’s involvement, insisting that SNIC was the only insurer known to him who had filed a pleading. The Appellant’s fifth Notice of Motion (NOM #5), seeking to amend the style of cause and require licensed representation for SNIC, was improperly dismissed as a ‘decline to ruled upon’ order by Vice Chair Lake. VCL cited a repealed LAT Rule and failed to address the significant legal issues regarding unauthorized representation. VCL’s subsequent actions raised potential conflicts of interest for the Tribunal, as VCL had been made aware that the Appellant, as a director and officer of a company, was subject to adversarial communications with a client of one Ms. Eva Lake, VCL’s undenied family member. The Appellant provided notice to the Tribunal regarding this conflict (NOM #7 regarding breaches of confidence and privacy), but VCL dismissed this motion, then re-inserted herself into the file in October 2024.

B. INSTITUTIONAL ALIGNMENT, GHOSTWRITING, AND THE CAMH THEFT (MAY 2024 – OCT 2024)

239. The Institutional defense of the conflated parties continued into the substantive phase of the appeal. One of the records sought in Record Class #3 is dated April 22, 2024, where TDGIC is internally noted as a ‘related party’ despite being the sole named respondent at the time. This internal contradiction reflects the Tribunal’s own inability to maintain proper party identity.
240. At the May 2, 2024, Case Conference (styled McLean v. TDGIC), the Appellant formalized his objections, which were eventually successful with NOM #8 (see: Adj. Morissette Decision). Nonetheless, the LAT, in its decision, misstated facts and timelines, claiming Mr. Nieuwland had filed a Response when it was, in fact, the non-licensee Mr. Karat.
241. The Institutional defense continued with an affidavit filed by the Appellant claiming under oath that someone connected to TDI ghostwrote the decision, leading to a flawed understanding of the ROP and law. A key example cited was Vice Chair Morissette’s (VCM) glaring misstatement of fact and an impossibility of law under SABS and Reg 283:

“[27]

.....The initial respondent sic , TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC accepted priority over the Applicant’s sic insurance policy”.

242. However, the Tribunal in late April 2024 referred in its own ledger (register of proceedings – albeit unclear when that was created per se) to a related respondent in TD General Insurance Company albeit as the sole Respondent at the time. This was emblematic of internal fraud. Ergo, everything from the time of mid January 2024 to thereafter is all subject to the fraud exception to privilege. It is trite law that two insurers cannot accept priority over a policy; priority is only established when an OCF-1 claim is advanced to a First Provisional Insurer in accordance with Reg 283. This profound legal error suggested incompetence from an individual at TDI, reinforcing the claim of ghostwriting. The use of a legal argument that defies the fundamental statutory framework of the Insurance Act and its regulations (Reg 283) suggests a non-adjudicator drafted the decision, prioritizing a faulty corporate defense narrative over legal accuracy.
243. This pattern of Institutional alignment was further highlighted on October 15, 2024, when Vice Chair Lake (VCL) issued a three-page decision dismissing the Appellant’s obligatory reconsideration request. VCL ruled that the prior decisions—which involved the non-addition of a party, amendment of pleadings, and determination of substantive rights—were NOT final decisions, determinations, or orders, contrary to established Court of Appeal jurisprudence (see: M.E. v. Ontario, 2021 ONCA). The judicial review potential for a final order on party status is well-settled, and VCL's ruling amounted to an arbitrary denial of the Appellant's statutory right to reconsideration. This decision coincided exactly with an organizational move: on the same day, Mr. Papadimitropoulos of the TDI Group issued a letter to the Financial Services Regulatory Authority (FSRA) concerning the proposed fraud reporting guidance rule.

244. The campaign of Institutional obstruction soon crossed into direct criminal conduct. On October 25, 2024 (a Friday, a known day of absence for Mr. Karat), the Appellant attended physiotherapy and doctor's appointments at CAMH which were known to the LAT and TDI Group. Around 1:11 p.m., the Appellant placed his backpack (the McLean Backpack), containing critical identification, financial instruments, and electronic devices, at the long tables in the visitor area before briefly entering the restroom. At 1:11:53 p.m., surveillance footage conclusively demonstrates that Mr. David Karat, the non-licensee who had filed the void response for SNIC, moved directly from the main foyer to the Appellant's property, inspecting distinct luggage before absconding with the McLean Backpack at 1:12:37 p.m. The timeline of under 45 seconds between Karat's arrival at the table and his departure with the backpack proves a calculated, pre-planned mission, not a crime of opportunity, and confirms the direct link between a TD Group agent and the theft. The Appellant immediately reported the missing backpack, which contained all of his identification and financial cards. The Appellant was told by a hostile security guard to not ask about the situation until Monday.

C. IDENTITY FRAUD, FINANCIAL CONSPIRACY, AND LITIGATION OBSTRUCTION (OCT 2024 – JAN 2025)

245. The stolen identification was immediately used to commit sophisticated identity fraud targeting the Appellant's litigation and research capacity. Just three days later, on October 28, 2024, at 4:30 p.m., an individual using the McLean ID and a McLean TPL card fraudulently signed a laptop loan agreement (the TPL Fraud Loan Agreement) and borrowed two books at the TPL Fort York branch. This confirmed the direct link between the theft and the commencement of identity fraud.
246. The timing of subsequent events strongly suggests a coordinated, financially motivated conspiracy coinciding with the obstruction of the Appellant's rights.
247. November 7, 2024 (Purchase Obligation): Mr. Karat and his spouse, Ms. Julia Dunk (who used the name Ms. Julia Karat in this transaction, despite being a licensed paralegal under the name Dunk, and whose professional name was used in the sale), entered into an agreement of purchase and sale for the 591 Fleetwood Home for approximately 1 million. At this time, they jointly owned the 625 Grandview Home in Oshawa, which was acquired with an initial 98% mortgage and had only four years (48 months) of payments made. Based on the declining balance method and a 2.34% interest rate, the couple had likely accrued only 40,000 to 50,000 in principal equity after all expenses. They were therefore contractually obligated to purchase a new 1 million property while possessing negligible equity in their existing home, presenting an immediate financing shortfall.

248. November 8, 2024 (Karat Leave and Fraud): Mr. Karat’s auto-reply indicated he would be away until November 18, 2024. On the same day, an individual utilizing the stolen TPL card reserved passes for the Aga Khan Museum.
249. November 11, 2024 (Coordinated Fraud): Mr. Papadimitropoulos (TDI Group), who resided 300 meters from the TPL Queen Saulter Branch, engaged in the unauthorized borrowing of 24 items using the Appellant’s stolen TPL card, with the books containing subtle threats or calculated hints. The close physical proximity of a senior TDI Group employee to the location of the fraud, combined with the volume and calculated nature of the materials borrowed, strongly suggests a deliberate, personal involvement in the identity fraud.
250. November 15, 2024 (Litigation and Listing): The Appellant filed and served his JRPA Application on the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies. On the very same day, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk (using her correct legal name for the sale) listed the 625 Grandview Home for sale for 599,000. The timing—listing the property on the day the Appellant escalated his legal challenge to the Divisional Court—is highly suggestive of a contingency plan related to the theft.
251. Purchaser Conflict of Interest: The apparent agreement of purchase and sale for the 625 Grandview Home involved three Transferees: Ms. Dorothy-During Gibbs (a social worker employed by CAMH, the exact location of the theft), Mr. Michael Gibbs, and Mr. Peter Gibbs, whose wife worked at CAMH for 30 years. Mr. Peter Gibbs had decades of experience in the insurance industry, with offices located in the TD Towers. The direct involvement of a CAMH employee—the Institutional venue for the theft—as the primary joint-tenant purchaser, further links the financial transactions to the underlying Institutional malfeasance.
252. The Appellant avers that the simultaneous property transactions and the subsequent financing arrangements constitute Bribery and Secret Commissions.
253. Gratuitous Funding Allegation (Bribery): The 591 Fleetwood Home purchase was consummated on February 6, 2025, with TD Bank acting as the mortgagee for Mr. Karat and Ms. Karat sic
254. The sale of the 625 Grandview Home was finalized four days later, on February 10, 2025, involving the discharge of the existing Scotia mortgage and TD Bank becoming the new mortgagee for the purchasers (the Gibbs family).
255. Because the purchase of the new home (591 Fleetwood) occurred prior to the completion of the sale of the old home (625 Grandview), Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk did not have the necessary sale proceeds available from the 599,000 listing to fund the new 1 million property purchase. The Appellant alleges that TD Bank Group effectively gratuitously funded the new property acquisition via the banking arm of the corporation, arguing this constitutes a “bribery” payment or “secret commission” in exchange for the underlying criminal acts that thwarted the Appellant’s legal rights.

256. Furthermore, the sale to the Gibbs family was concluded for approximately 130,000 more than its list price of 599,000 (i.e., approximately 729,000), supporting the claim of undisclosed secret payments or indicia of a corrupt transaction designed to benefit the perpetrators. The use of the fictitious name Ms. Julia Karat [sic] for the purchase of the 591 Fleetwood Home, followed by the use of the correct legal name Ms. Julia Dunk for the sale of the 625 Grandview Home, adds a final layer of potential fraud in the conveyancing process. The highly irregular sequence of the transactions—purchase before sale, massive gratuitous funding, sale significantly over list price to a CAMH-connected buyer—is advanced by the Appellant as compelling circumstantial evidence of a corrupt quid pro quo related to the theft and subsequent litigation obstruction.

Organizational Shift:

257. In late January 2025, coinciding with the finalization of these financial arrangements, Mr. Papadimitropoulos (involved in the TPL fraud) formally changed his listed employment from “TD Insurance” to the “TD Bank” legal department on the LSO Directory, further cementing the organizational consolidation into the TD Bank Group at a critical juncture in the JRPA.

D. CONTINUATION OF FRAUD AND CONCLUSION OF COMPLICITY (DEC 2024 – MAY 2025)

258. The campaign of obstruction continued into the judicial review phase, focusing intently on the Record of Proceeding (ROP). On December 13, 2024, the Appellant filed and paid for the “Certificate of Perfection” for the JRPA. Ninety minutes later, an individual attended the TPS Reference Library, committing fraud to obtain a new library card and, crucially, changed the Appellant’s phone number to that of CBC investigative journalist Ms. Ouelette. This swift, targeted action demonstrates a deliberate attempt to compromise the Appellant’s ability to communicate with media contacts, indicating the perpetrators were actively monitoring the Divisional Court docket. The inference was that the LAT and TDI Group were attempting to monitor or compromise the Appellant’s media contacts.
259. The systematic identity fraud continued with further acquisitions of library cards, laptop borrowing, and book/periodical borrowing on December 21, 2024, and December 28, 2024, the latter occurring shortly after the Appellant formally raised a conflict issue regarding Mr. Boyce (counsel for the LAT) due to his shared operational location with the impugned decision-makers within SLASTO (Social Justice Tribunals Ontario).
260. Crucially, notwithstanding the statutory mandate under section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA) for the LAT to forthwith file the ROP, the Institution had not filed any responsive materials or the ROP by January 27, 2025. The LAT’s delay—a direct statutory breach of the JRPA—was compounded by the LAT Registrar’s admission that they were “still determining how best to compile the ROP” (the LAT Compilation Failure Admission) on late January 2025. The LAT’s failure to compile the Record of Proceeding forthwith is a direct statutory contravention that paralyzed the Divisional Court proceedings for months. This failure to file the ROP forthwith is functionally equivalent to an act of Institutional obstruction, serving the same goal as the Karat-TDI theft: defeating the judicial review application by making the procedural requirements impossible to meet. The Appellant discontinued the JRPA process on March 3, 2025.

261. The Appellant's evidence linking the opposing party to the fraud acts continued to mount. The convergence of handwriting evidence, linking the Papadimitropoulos Anniversary Card, the Forged Nurse Signature Document, and the TPL Fraudulent Loan Agreement, formally adduced in Affidavit #17 on February 26, 2025, established a connection between the TD Group and multiple acts of forgery and fraud.
262. Following the formal filing of Access Request #2 on March 19, 2025, the investigation was centered on the LAT's communication with the now-implicated third party. On March 29, 2025, the Appellant filed Affidavit #21, evidencing Mr. Boyce misleading the Court regarding the ROP filing timeline, further cementing the Institutional pattern of evasion. Legal counsel for the TD Bank Group (Ms. Johnson) then responded, but their subsequent preliminary inquiry poorly asserted that no credible evidence was provided by the Appellant regarding the theft, despite the suspicious organizational switch from TDI (Insurance) to TD Bank (Banking) in their legal representation, suggesting a coordinated defensive strategy.
263. The Appellant's own investigation culminated on May 10, 2025, when he unequivocally identified Mr. David Karat as the perpetrator of the theft and the orchestrator of the subsequent identity fraud. Following the communication of this conclusive evidence to legal counsel for the TD Bank Group (Mr. Russell and Ms. Johnson) on May 7, 2025, both counsel immediately blocked all further communications from the Appellant. The failure of the third party's legal counsel to acknowledge or investigate this incontrovertible evidence of criminal conduct by their former employee, and their immediate coordinated defensive response of stonewalling, renders the conclusion that the Institution (the LAT, through its entanglement with the third party's agents) has been inextricably linked to the antecedent unlawful conduct self-evident. This deliberate obstruction is the final piece of evidence mandating the disclosure of the requested records under the Public Interest Override to fully expose the Institutional malfeasance. The TD Bank Group's refusal to address video evidence of theft by an agent who was centrally involved in the LAT proceeding is a tacit ratification of the criminal conduct, reinforcing the Appellant's necessity to use the OIPC process to force accountability and transparency.

CHAPTER #3: STATEMENT OF ISSUES

264. The following issues, essential to a comprehensive resolution of the matter, are respectfully proffered for determination by the Information and Privacy Commissioner/Ontario (OIPC)

- a. Whether, given the conclusive determination by the OIPC that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) constitutes the singular and exclusive Respondent Institution in this appeal, and given the consequential failure of the LAT to seek either a reconsideration of that finding within the stipulated twenty-one (21) day period or to initiate an application for judicial review within the thirty (30) day statutory limitation, the subsequent submission purportedly tendered by “Tribunals Ontario” is rendered void ab initio and without legal effect, thereby necessitating an Order declaring the contested decision an administrative nullity and compelling the Head of the LAT to issue a lawful, substantive access determination pursuant to the mandate of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA);
- b. What is the precise legal import of the admission—or at least the non-correction thereof—by Counsel, Mr. Wagner (MAG – Civil Law Division – Crown Law Office Civil, 11th Floor, 720 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, LSO No. 60318U), that he, as counsel for the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), was acting for Tribunals Ontario as the “third party records holder” of the contested records sought from the LAT? Is this finding and representation by the MAG of Tribunals Ontario as a records holder juridically synonymous with the control of the records at issue sought from the LAT? Does this, a fortiori, imply that the LAT retains no residual control over records generated within the context of deliberative secrecy or solicitor-client privilege? Does this further posit that the LAT is not the client for the purposes of the privilege, but rather that Tribunals Ontario occupies that status, and is such an arrangement reconcilable with the purported void response of Tribunals Ontario dated October 14, 2025?;
- c. Does the submission of the legally void purported response by Tribunals Ontario constitute a flagrant abuse of process by the LAT? If the answer is affirmative, what remedies of a preventative and remedial nature ought to be granted to preclude any further perpetration of such abuses of administrative procedure?
- d. Does the demonstrable omission by the Head of the LAT to assert personal carriage and direct superintendence over this critical access request constitute a continuing deemed refusal under the legislation and, moreover, represent an egregious breach of the fundamental non-delegability principle meticulously codified within subsection 50(3) of FIPPA?
- e. Has the LAT, by virtue of its failure to adhere to the OIPC’s determination regarding its status as the sole Respondent Institution and its subsequent reliance upon the void ab initio response, unequivocally forfeited its entitlement to participate in this Appeal and discharge the evidentiary burden mandated by FIPPA?
- f. Is the LAT, by its presentation of the aforementioned void purported response dated October 14, 2025, operating in manifest breach of the overarching purposes and legislative leitmotifs enshrined in FIPPA?

II. Custody, Control, and Evidentiary Burden

The Inquiry Mandate and the Onus Probandi

- g. Is the OIPC legally required to determine, independent of any assertions or arguments proffered by the LAT, whether the LAT should or must produce the records sought across the thirteen (13) Record Classes? If this imperative is established, what measures ought to be employed to ensure the Inquiry Phase is conducted with requisite expediency, justice, and cost-effectiveness?
- h. Does the LAT, at the material time of the request, retain either custody or control of some or all of the records encompassed within the thirteen (13) Record Classes, notwithstanding the intervening representation that Tribunals Ontario serves as a records holder?
- i. Has Mr. Weir, in his capacity as the Head of the LAT, demonstrably acted in breach of section 10.1 of FIPPA, which delineates the duties concerning the creation and retention of records?
- j. In light of the grave allegations of brazen thefts, fraud, and impersonation involving an ADR specialist for the Respondent Insurance Companies (Mr. Karat), coupled with the comparable malfeasance involving the since-terminated and dismissed Mr. Papadimitropoulos, and the prima facie partiality demonstrated towards these individuals and Mr. Nieuwland by senior officials, specifically CMO Grant, VC Lake, and VC Morrisette—along with the clandestine sharing of template documentation between the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies in December 2024—does Mr. Weir incur a mandatory obligation to disclose records to the public or persons affected, pursuant to the Public Interest Override, due to such records evidencing a grave health or safety hazard to the public? Furthermore, given the totality of these circumstances, is the compelling public interest in the disclosure of the records so decisive that it outweighs the purpose of any potential exemptions asserted under sections 13, 15, 15.1, 17, 18, 20, 21 and 21.1 of FIPPA?
- k. Since the OIPC formally designated this Appeal as an Inquiry (Expedited) on September 29, 2025, what definitive timeline is allotted to the LAT to discharge its burden of proof that some or all of the requested records fall unequivocally within one of the specified exemptions enumerated in FIPPA?
- l. Given the mandatory duty imposed upon the OIPC under subsection 54(1) of FIPPA subsequent to the designation of an Appeal for an Inquiry, what duration should the OIPC prescribe for the LAT to tender its evidentiary submission? Moreover, considering that Tribunals Ontario has been posited as a records holder involving records sought of the LAT, and that Tribunals Ontario is represented by MAG-employed counsel (Mr. Wagner), what nature of evidence could the LAT possibly submit in these proceedings that would possess material value? Would the LAT, acting through its Head under the authority of FIPPA, even possess the legal capacity to discharge its burden under section 53 if the LAT is definitively not the records-holder of documentation pertaining to its own proceedings, appeals, or judicial review applications emanating therefrom?

III. Statutory Interpretation and Interplay of FIPPA and TARA Undisclosed Orders and the Exhaustion of Statutory Rights

- m. Considering the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders, which bear the presumptive characteristic of being prima facie final adjudicative instruments, do these Orders fall within the purview and ambit of the Tribunals Adjudicative Records Act, 2019 (TARA)? Furthermore, what precise legal interpretation ought to be ascribed to the operative word “made” in the statutory context of a decision or order executed pursuant to the provisions of TARA?
- n. To the extent that subsection 13(1) of FIPPA (Cabinet/Board records) is deemed to possess any initial applicability, would its potential exemption be overridden by any of the mandatory requirements for disclosure stipulated in subsection 13(2)? More specifically, in light of the failure to produce the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders—either herein, under TARA, or at the material time—would subsection 13(2)(l) permit the compelled production of any internal reasons for decision if the Order itself was devoid of reasons?
- o. What is the precise legal consequence of the LAT’s demonstrable failure to exercise any of its rights or obligations pursuant to subsection 24(2) of FIPPA (regarding notice to affected third parties)?
- p. What is the precise legal consequence of the LAT’s demonstrable failure to exercise any of its rights or obligations pursuant to subsection 25(1) or 25(2) of FIPPA (regarding the severing of exempt matter)?
- q. What is the precise legal consequence of the LAT’s demonstrable failure to seek an extension of time for a response pursuant to section 27 of FIPPA?
- r. What is the precise legal consequence of the LAT’s demonstrable failure to exercise any of its rights or obligations in relation to the thirteen (13) Record Classes pursuant to section 28 of FIPPA (regarding transfer of request)?
- s. Does clause 29(1)(a) of FIPPA (the access request response provision) impose a mandatory requirement upon an Institution, when it invokes the ground “there is no such record,” to specify with precision whether the non-existence pertains to a lack of custody or control, or whether the Institution possesses custody or control but asserts the records are exempt from the operation of FIPPA pursuant to a specific subsection under section 65 of FIPPA (inapplicability)?
- t. What is the legal effect of the Commissioner’s decision not to immediately dismiss this Appeal pursuant to subsection 50(2.1) of FIPPA (grounds for dismissal)?

- u. What is the legal effect of the Commissioner not having issued permissive notice to an additional Institution under FIPPA or MFIPPA, or to any other person with a discernible interest in the Appeal, pursuant to subsection 50(3) of FIPPA?
- v. What is the precise interplay and hierarchical relationship between FIPPA and its attendant regulations, the OIPC Code of Procedure, and OIPC Practice Direction #3 subsequent to the designation of an Inquiry by the Commissioner?
- w. Is the LAT currently in breach of its independent and explicit statutory duty under the Tribunals Adjudicative Records Act, 2019 (TARA) to provide open access to its adjudicative records, irrespective of and collateral to the application of any exemptions asserted under FIPPA?

IV. Malfeasance, Privilege Abrogation, and Public Interest

The Iniquity Exception and Supervisory Oversight

- x. Does the uncontroverted and detailed nature of the allegations—which document the involvement of the LAT and its agents in promoting, concealing, or participating in criminal conduct and torts—establish a sufficient and prima facie case to invoke the venerable iniquity exception to privilege, thereby requiring the abrogation of any claim of solicitor-client or litigation privilege over the contested records?
- y. Does the mandatory Public Interest Override under section 23 of FIPPA apply, given that the public interest in exposing Institutional malfeasance and demonstrable impropriety within a quasi-judicial body decisively outweighs the harm that might result from the disclosure of records otherwise asserted to be exempt?
- z. Has the Appellant tendered convincing evidence that a foundational element of illegal purpose has been established, thus engaging the iniquity doctrine?
- aa. Has the Appellant adduced evidence *prima facie of fraud sufficient to trigger a necessity for review under the iniquity exception?
- bb. Whether, to ensure procedural fairness and properly test the prima facie case for the iniquity exception, the OIPC must conduct a thorough in camera review of the records sought before permitting the Institution to rely on blanket or generic exemption assertions?

V. Duties of Preservation, Investigation, and Enforcement

Commissioner's Intervention Ex Proprio Motu

- cc. Does the OIPC's supervisory role and statutory mandate necessitate a definitive finding that the LAT is in breach of its mandatory obligation under FIPPA s. 10.1 and the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2020 to preserve all records relevant to this ongoing dispute, given the gravity of the allegations concerning Institutional malfeasance?

- dd. Should the Commissioner exercise her broad jurisdiction to compel the production and subsequent examination of any record that is in the custody or under the control of the LAT, irrespective of Parts II and III of FIPPA or the provisions of any other Act or claim of privilege? Furthermore, should the Commissioner exercise the authority to enter the premises of the LAT for the purpose of an investigation into its specific custody or control of the records sought herein?
- ee. Should the Commissioner exercise the statutory jurisdiction to summon and examine on oath any person who may possess information germane to the within Inquiry? More specifically, should the Commissioner issue a summons to individuals such as Mr. Karat, Mr. Papadimitropoulos, Mr. Nieuwland, CMO Grant, CMO Ms. Lee, and Mr. Weir?

VI. Delegation and Vicarious Liability

Impermissible Delegation and FIPPA Protections

- ff. In addition to the void ab initio nature of the response by Tribunals Ontario, is Ms. Jennifer Janes disentitled from acting for the LAT in this matter on the grounds that she is neither a duly licensed paralegal nor a law clerk, nor subject to any of the specific exemptions—such as the single employer exemption—delineated in the relevant Law Society of Ontario By-Laws?
- gg. Would subsection 62(2) of FIPPA (protection for individuals under direction of the Head) offer statutory protection to an individual acting under the direction of the Head if that person was not a person acting on behalf of or for the Institution at issue in the access request and subsequent appeal?
- hh. What is the precise legal effect if the Head of an Institution purports to delegate a power or duty vested in the Head to an officer that is not an officer of the Institution itself, but rather an “officer” of “Tribunals Ontario”? Would such an action amount to an impermissible delegation at law, rendering the delegated action ultra vires?
- ii. Moreover, what is the legal effect and interplay between an impermissible delegation by the Head to a non-officer of an Institution, an officer of a Non-Institution, or an officer not of “The Institution” with subsections 62(2) and (3) of FIPPA? More specifically, would the Crown be vicariously liable pursuant to subsection 62(3) of FIPPA for any torts committed by a person mentioned in subsection 62(2) of FIPPA, if the root cause of the action was an impermissible and void ab initio delegation of power or duty?
- jj. What is the critical legal distinction between a delegation effected pursuant to subsection 62(1) of FIPPA and the provision for protection under subsection 62(2) of FIPPA?

VII. Records Disposition and Issue Estoppel Archives, Transfer, and Finality of Adjudication

- kk. What is the legal effect and difference between a person or organization, other than an MFIPPA or FIPPA Institution, who places a record with the Archives of Ontario, versus an Institution that transfers a record to the Archives of Ontario pursuant to a requirement of the Archivist? What is the distinction at law between “placing” and “transfer” of a record? More specifically, if a person or organization that is not an M/FIPPA Institution places a record with the Archives of Ontario, and if the placing involves a mere copy of the record, does that transaction render FIPPA inapplicable even if the Institution at issue still retains custody and/or control of the placed record?
- ll. Whether the production of the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders is barred by the OIPC’s inability to re-adjudicate a matter already subject to a final, binding determination under the rigorous doctrine of issue estoppel, thereby requiring the OIPC to enforce the original Tribunal Order regarding production, assuming one exists and is valid.

CHAPTER 4: ARGUMENT

A. THE FOUNDATIONAL DEFECT: NULLITY, NON-DELEGATION, AND DEEMED REFUSAL

265. The Licence Appeal Tribunal is a statutorily defined Institution under FIPPA. The statutory architecture is clear: the Head of the Institution is the only person vested with the authority to make and defend access decisions (s. 50(3)). The attempt to substitute this statutory authority with the amorphous administrative collective known as “Tribunals Ontario” is a fatal jurisdictional flaw. The rule of persona designata demands that a specific public official, by virtue of their office, must personally execute their statutory duties. The purported response is legally non-existent—a vox nihili—because the issuing body possessed no legal capacity to act under FIPPA.
266. The OIPC cannot, in good conscience, proceed to adjudicate the merits of the exemptions (s. 26 and s. 29) when the decision applying them originated from an unauthorized source. To do so would be to sanction the Institution’s breach of the non-delegability principle (delegatus non potest delegare) and undermine the strict statutory accountability scheme of FIPPA. The only appropriate administrative action is an Order declaring the decision void ab initio, thereby restoring the matter to its correct legal status: an ongoing deemed refusal by the Head of the LAT. This requires a peremptory Order compelling the Head of the LAT to file a proper, lawful response, signed by the designated statutory officer, thus ensuring that the Appellant is finally dealing with the correct legal entity.

B. THE DOCTRINE OF PROCEDURAL FINALITY AND ABUSE OF PROCESS

267. The Appellant asserts that the production of the Two Undisclosed Motion Orders has already been the subject of a final, binding determination in antecedent Tribunal proceedings. The doctrine of issue estoppel requires the OIPC, as a reviewing administrative authority, to recognize and enforce this prior conclusive ruling. The three prerequisites for issue estoppel—sameness of issue, finality of decision, and identity of parties—are met concerning these specific adjudicative records.
268. The LAT cannot be permitted to use the FIPPA access regime as a mechanism to avoid or collaterally attack its own prior binding adjudicative determinations. This would represent a clear abuse of process by the Institution, frustrating the principle of procedural finality. Accordingly, the OIPC's mandate is restricted not to re-adjudicate the necessity of disclosure, but to compel the Institution to produce the records as commanded by the original, binding order (or to confirm its non-production based on the same).
269. This procedural mandate is reinforced by the TARA, which establishes an independent, affirmative obligation for the LAT to make its adjudicative records public. Regardless of any potential FIPPA exemption, a formal Motion Order is a dispositive document central to the open courts principle and is subject to the TARA's broad disclosure requirements. The LAT's ongoing failure to furnish these Orders constitutes a breach of the dual statutory regime, mandating disclosure.

C. THE CONSTITUTIONAL PUBLIC INTEREST OVERRIDE AND THE INIQUITY EXCEPTION

270. The Appellant's allegations concerning the involvement of LAT agents in promoting criminal conduct (including theft and related malfeasance) and breaches of fiduciary duties establish a prima facie case sufficient to invoke the iniquity exception to privilege (Descôteaux v. Mierzwinski). This exception requires the privilege to yield when the communication or record was utilized to further or constitute an unlawful act. Given the gravity of the allegations involving a quasi-judicial body, the public interest in exposure and accountability decisively outweighs the harm of disclosing otherwise privileged records.
271. The Public Interest Override under FIPPA s. 23 is a mandatory disclosure provision. The Appellant asserts that the disclosure of these records, especially internal communications and the contents of the Orders, is necessary to shed light on the systemic nature of the alleged wrongdoing, a matter of paramount public concern. The OIPC is therefore compelled to conduct a thorough in camera review of the contested records to properly test the prima facie case. This review is essential to determine the nexus between the records and the alleged malfeasance. The burden then rests heavily upon the Institution to demonstrate why the override does not apply—a burden made substantially heavier by the allegations of criminality.

D. THE MANDATORY DUTY OF RECORD PRESERVATION

272. In light of the serious, systemic nature of the alleged wrongdoing, the potential for records to be destroyed, lost, or altered by the Institution is a serious concern. The OIPC must, as an immediate, protective measure, invoke the Institution's mandatory duty under FIPPA s. 10.1 and the Archives and Recordkeeping Act to preserve all relevant records. This immediate order ensures that the Institution cannot frustrate the OIPC's investigation by causing the irretrievable loss of documentary evidence, a principle affirmed in prior OIPC jurisprudence (See: Ontario (Municipal Affairs and Housing) (Re), 2023 CanLII 95949 (ON IPC), at para 30). This preservation order must encompass all thirteen classes of records to protect the integrity of the review process.
273. The present circumstances furnish an unassailable predicate for the issuance of a mandatory disclosure order. The LAT's manifest non-compliance with the established legal and procedural frameworks of the Act constitutes an unacceptable affront to the legislative imperative of timely access to information, compelling an immediate and decisive intervention by the OIPC. The ensuing submission shall, with exacting precision and jurisprudential rigor, articulate the factual and legal predicates that compel such an order, thereby rendering the requested relief not merely a matter of administrative convenience, but an inevitable corollary of the established facts and a necessary measure to restore the integrity of the information access regime. The Appellant postulates that the very legitimacy of the LAT's operations, as a public Institution entrusted with quasi-judicial functions, is called into question by its conspicuous and prolonged failure to adhere to these foundational statutory duties. This failure, by its very nature, constitutes an Institutional betrayal of the public trust that must be met with a swift and unequivocal judicial response.
274. A dispositive determination on the merits of the access request, with unimpeded access to all personal information records, is the sine qua non for ascertaining whether the LAT possessed and retains the requisite custody and control over the various records identified in the March 20, 2025, access request (the "Access Request") and this attendant Appeal. This is contingent only upon those records manifestly unencumbered by any necessary statutory exemptions, save for a prima facie claim of privilege, the validity and scope of which would be subject to subsequent debate following the production of a privilege log containing brief descriptions of the implicated documents. In the interest of administrative decision making economy and the expeditious administration of justice, even arguendo that the LAT were to advance the contention that section 21(1) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) is at issue, it is demonstrably clear that the application of subsection 21(1)(b) of said Act is warranted. This position is substantiated by both previously tendered evidence and forthcoming submissions, which shall further detail the perfidious malfeasance of the TDIA Group and its associated current and former individuals. The aforementioned actions, which are both corroborated and documented through various forms of evidence—including video and documentary proof—encompass a broad spectrum of criminal and civil transgressions, inter alia, theft, impersonation, fraud, and falsification of documents. The totality of this corroborative evidence elucidates a pattern of fraudulent conduct which, while shocking, is regrettably unsurprising.

II. THE STATUTORY IMPERATIVE OF TIMELY DISCLOSURE

275. The legislative intent of FIPPA constitutes a cornerstone of democratic governance and Institutional probity. As articulated with deliberate clarity in section 1 of the Act, its dual purposes are: (a) to provide a right of access to information under the control of Institutions in accordance with the principles that: (i) information should be available to the public; (ii) necessary exemptions from the right of access should be limited and specific; and (iii) decisions on the disclosure of government information should be reviewed independently of government; and (b) to protect the privacy of individuals with respect to personal information about themselves held by Institutions and to provide individuals with a right of access to that information (the “FIPPA Purposes”).
276. The very essence of these “FIPPA Purposes” is inexorably contingent upon the timely receipt of information. An unfulfilled statutory duty to respond, therefore, represents an egregious contravention of these foundational principles. As a matter of axiomatic legal philosophy, “justitia dilata est justitia negata.” This maxim is more than a mere truism; it is a profound articulation of a procedural and substantive reality. A delayed response, irrespective of its ostensible causa proxima, effectively abrogates the right of access and transmutes the independent review of government information into a merely academic exercise devoid of practical utility. The right of access becomes a nullity if it can be perpetually deferred by an Institution’s inaction. This deliberate or negligent administrative inertia functions as a de facto denial, rendering the statutory framework nugatory and undermining public confidence in a government’s commitment to transparency and accountability. The Appellant submits that an Institution’s failure to respond within the prescribed period is tantamount to a categorical refusal, and should be treated as such by this esteemed tribunal. A request for information is a temporal imperative; to ignore it is to deny it in the most fundamental sense.

III. JURISPRUDENCE ON “DEEMED REFUSAL”

277. The legal principle of “deemed refusal” is not a novel concept but is, rather, a consistently applied and judicially sanctioned doctrine within the jurisprudence of the OIPC. As demonstrated in a series of precedential orders, including Ontario (Labour) (Re), 2011 CanLII 63499 (ON IPC), and University Health Network (Re), 2017 CanLII 62935 (ON IPC), an Institution’s failure to provide a timely and substantive response to a request for records places it in a state of “deemed refusal.” The LAT’s prolonged and conspicuous silence is far more egregious than the circumstances found in any of these precedents, as it has not engaged with the “Appellant,” the appeal, or the OIPC’s processes in any manner whatsoever. The collective holdings of these cases provide an unambiguous affirmation that the LAT’s failure to provide a timely and substantive response triggers the OIPC’s authority and its obligation to issue a mandatory order. The LAT was statutorily mandated to issue a response within thirty (30) days of the “Appellant’s” request of March 20, 2025, a deadline that expired, without exception, on April 19, 2025. It is a matter of irrefutable record that no response, no acknowledgment, and no form of communication has been received from the LAT in the intervening months. This complete and utter silence, in direct and flagrant contravention of the clear and unambiguous language of the Act, provides irrefutable grounds for the OIPC to proceed with an expedited order under Rule 9.03(g), which explicitly permits the issuance of an order “without hearing further from the Parties.” The term “expedite,” a loanword from the Latin expedire—meaning “to make ready or to dispatch”—is, in this specific context, not a mere suggestion but an articulation of an operational necessity. It signifies the imperative of accelerating a process that has been unjustifiably and interminably protracted. The LAT’s conduct presents a patent and indisputable case of “deemed refusal” pursuant to the unambiguous command of section 29(4) of the Act, which dictates: “A Head who fails to give the notice required under section 26 or subsection 28(7) concerning a record shall be deemed to have given notice of refusal to give access to the record on the last day of the period during which notice should have been given.”

IV. ANALYSIS OF THE REQUESTED RECORDS

278. The “Appellant’s” request for records is both diverse in its nature and specific in its scope, falling entirely within the LAT’s operational possession and control. The request has been meticulously subdivided into thirteen (13) distinct classes, each designed to elicit a discrete and manageable volume of records. The LAT’s failure to provide a response, or even an index of responsive records, is not merely a breach of its statutory duty but also a tacit admission that it has not conducted a “reasonable search” as mandated by the Act. To further delineate the non-onerous nature of this request, a summary of the sought-after records is provided, demonstrating their ease of retrieval:

- a. Class #1: File Logs and Screenshots: These records, residing in the LAT’s “back end” systems, are electronic logs and screen captures. They are not voluminous, but are a limited series of digital artifacts indicating changes in the “style of cause” or the entry of insurance companies as respondents.

These are demonstrably limited in number and easily retrievable with minimal effort, presenting no rational basis for a failure to produce;

- b. Class #2: Power Outage Records: This class seeks specific records pertaining to a power outage on or around March 30, 2024. The request is for documentation of the incident and the subsequent steps taken to recreate the file. The logical extrapolation is that these are a very small number of records, likely consisting of a singular report or a pair of related documents, whose existence and location should be readily ascertainable.
- c. Class #3: Specific LAT Registrar Documents: This class requests specific documents identified from a LAT Registrar printout from on or around February 26, 2025. These documents, which include two Undisclosed Motion Orders and the denotation of the TDGIC as a related party, are finite in nature and must be in the direct possession and control of the LAT. Their non-production is a fundamental failure of information management.
- d. Class #4: Shuttleworth-type Documents: The records in this class are specific to the LAT proceeding and are analogous to those addressed in Mary Shuttleworth v. Licence Appeal Tribunal, 2018 ONSC 3790 (CanLII). The number of such records is proportional to the number of decisions or orders in the proceeding, making the search for them a straightforward task and obviating any claim of undue burden.
- e. Class #5: Professional Advisers & Legal Counsel: This class requests the names of legal counsel and “Legal Counsel Teams” to the Tribunal and decision-makers. It further requests a list of communications between these parties. The request explicitly indicates a preference for a format similar to an affidavit of documents, confirming its intention to facilitate the process rather than impede it. This information is integral to the transparency of adjudicative proceedings.
- f. Classes #6, #7, #8, and #9: Communications with TD Insurance Group: These classes meticulously delineate specific email and communication records involving various LAT and TDI Group personnel. The requests are limited to a finite time period and are restricted to specific individuals, making them easily searchable within the Institution’s digital archives. The conclusions that these records are neither large in number nor difficult to locate are based on the clear parameters of the requests.
- g. Class #10: Notes to Phone Calls: This class requests notes from phone calls between LAT employees and the TDI Group. As licensed professionals are required to maintain some form of call log or notes, these records are presumed to exist and are not expected to be numerous. Their absence would be indicative of a significant procedural deficiency.
- h. Class #11: Non-Email Communications: The request for communications via mobile, smart devices, and messaging software such as WhatsApp and Viber is predicated on the broad definition of “control” under the Act. This definition grants the public Institution the right to request a copy of such a record if it is relevant to the request, thereby making the search entirely feasible.

- i. Class #12: Mr. Weir and Others: This class requests all communications by or to the Head of the LAT, Mr. Sean Weir, or any other member of LAT management, that involve the Appellant. It is highly unlikely that these records would be voluminous, but they are essential to the Appellant’s inquiry and must be produced.
- j. Class #13: Residual Records: This final class is a catch-all, ensuring that any other relevant records that come to the LAT’s attention during a thorough and professional search are also included in the production.

279. The concept of “control” in relation to a public body’s records is expansive. As per the precedent in Canada Post Corp. v. Canada (Minister of Public Works), 1995 CanLII 3574 (FCA), a broad, liberal, and purposive approach must be taken. This principle, refined in Ministry of Small Business, Tourism and Culture and the AGBC v. The Information and Privacy Commissioner of BC and Svend Kjong, 2000 BCSC 929, holds that a public body has “control” over a record if it possesses the legal right to obtain a copy of the record to respond to a request. The LAT, therefore, has the legal right and corresponding obligation to secure and produce records, including those held by third parties such as “Tribunals Ontario,” should it be found to be a de facto records holder. The failure to exercise this right of “control” is, in itself, a breach of its statutory duty. A crucial distinction must be drawn between the universal applicability of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms to governmental entities and the specific, enumerated application of FIPPA to designated “Institutions.” While “Tribunals Ontario” functions as an overarching administrative umbrella for thirteen adjudicative tribunals, including the LAT, it is not enumerated as an “Institution” within the exhaustive Schedule to R.R.O. 1990, Regulation 460, General. This lacuna in statutory designation carries profound implications for accountability and information governance, as it appears to enable a designated Institution (the LAT) to circumvent its explicit statutory obligations by having a non-FIPPA-designated entity serve as its de facto “records holder” or “records controller.” The “Tribunals Adjudicative Records Act, 2019” (TARA), governs the public availability of certain tribunal records. TARA defines “adjudicative records” as those related to a proceeding, such as applications, notices of hearing, written submissions, evidence, decisions, and orders (TARA, s. 1(2)). However, it explicitly excludes “personal notes, draft decisions, draft orders and communications related to draft decisions or draft orders” from this definition (TARA, s. 1(3)). The LAT’s duty under TARA is to make these adjudicative records “available to the public” (TARA, s. 2(1)). This is a statutory obligation independent of FIPPA. While there is an overlap in the general principle of public access, the majority of the records sought in this request are not “adjudicative records.” The request seeks internal administrative records, communications between the LAT and third parties, and records that fall outside the formal adjudicative process. Therefore, even if the LAT were to claim some of the requested records are “adjudicative records” and subject to the specific rules and confidentiality provisions of TARA, this would not justify its failure to respond to the entirety of the request. The blanket non-response is a failure to meet its duties under both statutes and must be rectified.

V. THE OPEN COURT PRINCIPLE AND ACCESS TO ADJUDICATIVE RECORDS: LIMITED APPLICATION (IF ANY)

280. The public’s right of access to adjudicative records and proceedings constitutes a fundamental tenet of Canadian common law, a principle universally known as the “open court principle.” This doctrine, articulated with authoritative finality by the Supreme Court of Canada in cases such as McInerney v. MacDonald, 1992 CanLII 57 (SCC), presumes that all tribunal proceedings are accessible to the public unless a demonstrably valid reason for their closure or the withholding of information is established. The LAT’s silence not only constitutes a flagrant violation of the Act but also fundamentally undermines the democratic rights of persons seeking general records and personal information about themselves. It precludes any and all public scrutiny of the LAT’s operations, thereby concealing the very information necessary for an informed citizenry to hold the Institution accountable. The LAT’s manifest inability to maintain a comprehensive, accurate, and readily accessible record of proceedings serves as further irrefutable evidence of its chronic non-compliance with FIPPA and its foundational principles of transparency, accessibility, and accountability.

VI. THE EXIGENCY OF EXPEDITED PROCESSES

281. The OIPC’s Practice Direction #13: Expedited Processes, implemented in July 2024, unequivocally establishes a framework for the expedited resolution of issues under appeal. This Practice Direction specifically enumerates “Deemed Refusal,” “Failure to Disclose,” and “Time Extension” appeals as types that will “routinely utilize expedited processes.” The “Appellant’s” FIPPA appeal falls squarely within these enumerated categories, demanding an immediate and accelerated resolution. The LAT’s non-action for over 180 days—five times the statutory deadline—is a matter of exceptional concern and justifies the most expeditious course of action.
282. The LAT by a void ab initio response by Tribunals Ontario remains in such a state. Justice delayed is justice denied.

VII. GOVERNANCE AND ACCOUNTABILITY

283. The Licence Appeal Tribunal is a public body subject to the provisions of the Adjudicative Tribunals Accountability, Governance and Appointments Act, 2009, S.O. 2009, c. 33, Sch. 5 (the “ATAGAA”). The purpose of this Act, as set out in section 1, is to “ensure that adjudicative tribunals are accountable, transparent and efficient in their operations while remaining independent in their decision-making.” The Superior Court of Justice (“SCJ”), through Justice Mundhane, has demonstrated it has serious concerns about the LAT’s independence in 2025 when the SCJ and the Ontario Court of Appeal (“ONCA”) already found that it had issues in the decision of Shuttleworth. The conduct of the Head of the LAT, by General Regulation, is far worse than what transpired in Shuttleworth when he was not the prescribed Head of the LAT. The Adjudicative Tribunals Accountability, Governance and Appointments Act, 2009, S.O. 2009, c. 33, Sch. 5 (the “ATAGA”), serves as the overarching legislative framework dictating the accountability, governance, and appointment processes for adjudicative tribunals in Ontario. Its stated purpose, as articulated in section 1, is to “ensure that adjudicative tribunals are accountable, transparent and efficient in their operations while remaining independent in their decision-making” (ATAGA, s. 1). This Act defines an “adjudicative tribunal” as an entity that is “prescribed” by regulation (ATAGA, s. 2).

DESIGNATION OF ADJUDICATIVE TRIBUNALS AND CLUSTERS (O. REG. 126/10)

284. O. Reg. 126/10, entitled “Adjudicative Tribunals and Clusters,” is the principal regulation that prescribes entities as “adjudicative tribunals” for the purposes of the ATAGA. Section 1 of O. Reg. 126/10 explicitly lists various agencies, boards, and commissions, including the Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario (Item 19 of Schedule 1), as prescribed adjudicative tribunals. This unequivocally establishes the LAT as a distinct legal entity subject to the ATAGA. Crucially, O. Reg. 126/10 also provides for the designation of clusters of adjudicative tribunals. Section 2 of this Regulation designates certain tribunals as a “cluster” entitled “Tribunals Ontario” (O. Reg. 126/10, s. 2). However, this designation as a “cluster” does not, ipso facto, confer upon “Tribunals Ontario” the status of a distinct legal entity, nor does it elevate it to the level of an “adjudicative tribunal” itself. Rather, it is merely an administrative grouping of existing, prescribed adjudicative tribunals. The regulation consistently refers to the enumerated tribunals within the cluster, not to the cluster itself as a singular adjudicative body. This distinction is fundamental: individual tribunals are legal entities, whereas the cluster is a functional arrangement.

B. ETHICS PLAN - CONTENTS (O. REG. 91/11)

285. The ATAGA mandates that every adjudicative tribunal shall develop an “ethics plan” (ATAGA, s. 6(1)). O. Reg. 91/11, entitled “Ethics Plan - Contents,” prescribes the specific requirements for these plans. Section 1 of O. Reg. 91/11 dictates that an ethics plan must describe practices and procedures for ensuring members are familiar with ethical conduct and political activity requirements, as well as the tribunal's code of conduct. These obligations are placed squarely upon the individual "adjudicative tribunal," not upon the "cluster." This regulatory precision further reinforces the understanding that accountability, including ethical conduct, resides at the level of the individual tribunal, not the overarching, non-legal entity known as "Tribunals Ontario."

C. DEADLINES RE ACCOUNTABILITY DOCUMENTS (O. REG. 90/11)

286. O. Reg. 90/11, "Deadlines re Accountability Documents," specifies the timeframes within which adjudicative tribunals and clusters must develop their public and governance accountability documents. While it refers to deadlines for "a cluster" to jointly develop documents (O. Reg. 90/11, s. 2(2)), this does not transform the cluster into a legal person. It merely outlines a collaborative administrative requirement for the constituent tribunals that form the cluster. The primary obligation to develop various accountability documents—such as mandate and mission statements, consultation policies, service standard policies, ethics plans, and member accountability frameworks (ATAGA, ss. 3-7), as well as governance accountability documents like memoranda of understanding, business plans, and annual reports (ATAGA, ss. 11-13)—rests with the individual "adjudicative tribunal" (O. Reg. 90/11, s. 2(1), 3(1)). The cluster mechanism is a means of shared administration, not a transference of legal personality or statutory responsibility from the individual tribunals.

D. APPOINTMENT TO ADJUDICATIVE TRIBUNALS (O. REG. 88/11)

287. Section 14 of the ATAAGA prescribes that the selection process for appointing members to an adjudicative tribunal must be "competitive, merit-based" (ATAGA, s. 14(1)). O. Reg. 88/11, "Appointment to Adjudicative Tribunals," outlines the public information requirements for recruitment processes (O. Reg. 88/11, s. 1) and specifies circumstances under which the competitive, merit-based selection process may be waived (O. Reg. 88/11, s. 2). Crucially, these provisions consistently refer to the "adjudicative tribunal" as the entity to which members are appointed. While the ATAGA establishes roles such as "executive chair" for a cluster and "associate chairs" for tribunals within a cluster (ATAGA, s. 16), these positions are intrinsically linked to the governance and administration of the individual tribunals. The legal act of appointment is to the "adjudicative tribunal," underscoring its distinct legal identity. The appointment process and accountability for members remain tethered to the individual tribunals, even when administrative functions are consolidated under a cluster.
