TD HOME AND AUTO INSURANCE COMPANY, SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY, TD GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

RESPONDENTS

APPLICANT'S COMPENDIUM FOR APPLICANT'S NOM #3)

Date of Hearing: Wednesday, December 3, 2025 (via “written hearing”)

#	Document	Exhibit	Date of Document	Pages
1.	Factum of the Applicant for NOM #3		Nov 18, 2025	1 to 46
2.	NOM #3 of the Applicant		Nov. 17, 2025	47 to 135
3.	Statutory Declaration of the Applicant (since that time expressly adopted by affidavit in Tab #22)		October 13, 2025	136 to 1433
	Body of Stat Dec.			137 to 198
	Compilation of electronic mail correspondence exchanged between Applicant with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office	“A”		199 to 248

	(“ SCJ RMO ”) from August to September 2025
	Electronic mail chain between Applicant and SCJ Criminal Intake Office (Room 241) and the Divisional Court	“B”		249 to 261
	It contains an electronic mail communication dated August 31, 2025, dispatched to the Toronto Police Service (“ TPS ”) and its Chief Legal Officer	“C”		262 to 265
	Exhibit is an electronic mail thread from July to August 2025, concerning a request for records under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). It was directed to Ms. Havovi Viccajee of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) and the FIPPA division	“D”		266 to 277
	Exhibit comprises an electronic mail thread from August 2025, meticulously addressed to the SCJ RMO.	“E”		278 to 293
	Exhibit contains an email from CSMD Diversion (MAG) dated August 26, 2025, and my ensuing formal and detailed response. The CSMD email, alarmingly, alleges that I have engaged in inappropriate communications with the Chief Justice, which were then forwarded to the Justice Sector Security Office (“JSSO”).	“F”		294 to 328
	Exhibit contains, inter alia , is a Transcript Order Form of an Ontario Court Proceeding, dated March 20, 2025, that I completed to request a transcript of a pre-enquête hearing. The form contains an extensive and intricate narrative in the “Additional Details” section. This narrative meticulously outlines my deductions and legal reasoning for believing that the hearing was presided over by Madam Justice	“G”		329 to 334

	Shore and that a “ False Information Package ” was used by the Toronto Police Service (TPS). The form also details numerous and manifest deficiencies in the allegedly false document, including the absence of a proper judicial signature, manipulated fonts, and an erroneous page numbering scheme, all of which lend support to the contention that the document is spurious
	This Exhibit contains, inter alia , a formal letter, sent via facsimile and mail to the Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice, Mr. Geoffrey B. Morawetz, and the Regional Senior Justice, Mr. Stephen E. Firestone. The letter, dated August 23, 2025, respectfully requests judicial intervention to resolve two persistent procedural impasses with the SCJ RMO. It re-states the issues of the SCJ RMO’s refusal to provide audio recordings and its failure to provide a definitive timeline for pickup. The letter cites the Courts of Justice Act , particularly section 76(1), and the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide to establish the judiciary’s supervisory authority over court staff and records, arguing that administrative inaction is not merely an inconvenience but a material impediment to my lawful access to justice	“H”		335 to 356
	This Exhibit “I” contains, inter alia , the following documents. This is a Transcript Order Form with extensive and detailed content, including a Schedule “A” which presents a granular, 41-point analysis of the purported “False Information Package.”	“I”		357 to 391
	This Exhibit is an electronic mail thread from August 2025, addressed to Zoom’s Privacy Team, concerning a formal access request under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) .	“J”		392 to 402

	This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from July 2025 to Versaterm (eJust Systems, Inc.), a third-party technology provider that holds a contract with the Ontario government for the Criminal E-Intake Platform. I repeat and rely upon my previous evidence as per the distinctions between the OCJ (ICON System with Criminal E-Intake Platform) and the SCJ (FRANK System with a paper and electronic hybrid system).	“K”		403 to 410
	This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from July 2025, addressed to the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) at the 10 Armoury Street courthouse and other parties, including the South Toronto Crown. The emails serve as a formal notification and confirmation of a stay of proceedings, asserting that service of my Notice of Application on July 11, 2025, effected a stay ipso facto pursuant to Criminal Proceedings Rules, Rule 43.03(5).	“L”		411 to 417
	This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from August 2025, addressed to the Divisional Court, in which I formally requested the production of files and documents under the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide . I argued with detailed legal reasoning, in my view, that a Superior Court Justice or “Judge” (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules, Rule 1.03 for definition), even when designated to a Divisional Court rotation, retains jurisdiction over criminal matters. also note that an SCJ Judge who receives a sworn or declared affidavit along with an application for a “general warrant” and/or a sworn Form 1 in support of certain type(s) of warrants under section 487.1, whether in person or by telecommunication, is required to hear and consider the same but not necessarily grant the same. The correspondence cites a detailed analysis	“M”		418 to 429

	of the Criminal Code , particularly section 487.1, and its implications for telecommunication-based warrants. I also seek to definitively confirm the jurisdictional locus of control over records, particularly in the absence of a designated physical courtroom, thereby highlighting the ambiguity that has pervaded the entire proceeding
	This Exhibit is an extensive electronic mail thread from June and July 2025, directed to the Office of the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice (“OCJ”), the Regional Senior Justices, and other representatives. The emails detail my urgent requests for court records, including a “Form 2 Information” and a post-docket list from September 23, 2024	“N”		430 to 556
	This Exhibit contains an email thread from July 2025, addressed to the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse and others. The correspondence provides a high-level forensic and metadata analysis of the “False Document Package,” concluding that it was likely fabricated or maliciously manipulated using	“O”		557 to 591
	This Exhibit contains reference to a copy of the Ministry of the Attorney General’s Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits, Revised April 2019 (the “MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide” or “MAG CSD Guide”).	“P”		592 to 598
	This Exhibit contains, inter alia , an electronic mail thread from June and July 2025, addressed to various TPS Divisions within the Toronto Region	“Q”		599 to 632
	This Exhibit is an electronic mail thread from June 2025, addressed to the Ministry of the Attorney	“R”		633 to 642

	General, CSD Records Division, and key contacts, including Ms. Katie Wood, the Assistant Deputy Attorney General
	This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from June 2025, directed to Superintendents of the TPS 14th and 52nd Divisions and various police officers. The emails constitute a formal written demand for a copy of the arrest warrant, as required by the Criminal Code , section 29	“S”		643 to 655
	This Exhibit contains an email thread from May and June 2025, addressed to the SCJ CSD Records division. The correspondence reiterates my request for administrative records related to a criminal proceeding, including the identity of the justice who issued a warrant on or around September 23, 2024. The emails challenge the administrative structure and record-keeping protocols of the Ministry, referencing a prior email from “ SCJ Correspondence (JUD) ” and arguing that the Ministry is responsible for maintaining a record of judicial activities. I submit that this communication demonstrates the jurisdictional and administrative confusion surrounding the entire matter, and that a clear judicial directive is required to resolve this systemic issue.	“T”		656 to 751
	Emails from the Crown (OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse) to stop emailing Mr. Rudra although he was the Assigned Crown	“U”		752 to 754
	This Exhibit contains, inter alia , an extensive electronic mail thread from October 2024 to May 2025, addressed to the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (“CAMH”) Privacy Division along with documents related to the “ruse” and “trickery” in my view that were performed, de facto, by the TPL, CAMH and the thieves of my property (Mr. David Karat) and subsequent impersonators of myself.	“V”		755 to 775

	265. The emails document a formal request under FIPPA for video footage of my backpack being stolen from the CAMH premises on October 25, 2024.
	The Bribery (Secret Commission): consecutively numbered pages, are copies of documents from OnLand, dated various dates including today, involving the title search, inclusive of deleted and active instruments, of the Fleetwood Drive Home.	“W”		776 to 807
	a. copy of emails involving myself the Divisional Court; b. Copies of emails involving myself and the Respondents; c. Copies of emails involving myself and Thomson Reuters (Case Center access and set up) and Ms. Lawrence, a court staff individual of the Divisional Court; and d. Other copies of various emails referenced above and in my Notice of Motion	X		808 to 1211
	Copies of various documents further evidencing the fraud committed upon me and as I verily believe the fraud committed on the court or the tainting of the legal process and proceeding herein. I continue to demand the return of my property and to the extent that it is not returned to me within 24 hours, I will provide further evidence to assist this Honourable Court regarding the return of the same	“Y”		1213 to 1430
	Request Form Undertaking, without digital signature, for digital recordings involving the two case conferences	“Z”		1431 to 1432
4.	Statutory Declaration of the Applicant (since that time, the facts and beliefs therein, expressly adopted by Affidavit		November 14, 2025	1433 to 2132
	Body of the Stat. Dec.			1433 to 1544
	Exhibit “A” : No “First Defence” filed: JRPA Application undefended	“A”		1545 to 1554

	The LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies failed to “file” their Notices Of Appearances after purported service and actual service of the same:
	Now produced and marked as Exhibit “B” are copies of my Affidavit #37 (LAT Appeal) and attendant correspondence dated September 19, 2024, followed by the notification of potential judicial review on September 28, 2024.	“B”		1555 to 1608

*Courts of Justice ActONTARIO SUPERIOR COURT OF JUSTICE (DIVISIONAL COURT)

BETWEEN:

KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN

APPLICANT

- AND -

TD HOME AND AUTO INSURANCE COMPANY, SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY, TD
GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF
TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

RESPONDENTSAPPLICANT'S FACTUM FOR A MOTION IN WRITING*Date of hearing: December 3, 2025

1. This Factum is hereby submitted in unambiguous advancement of the immediate Motion for Judicial Review.
The invocation of this Court’s inherent supervisory jurisdiction is formally sought for the necessary and rigorous scrutiny of the administrative and quasi-judicial acta emanating from the antecedent proceedings involving TD Home and Auto Insurance Company et al. The primary contention advanced is that the documented modus operandi of the Respondents has precipitated egregious procedural and substantive deficiencies, encompassing, inter alia, fatal irregularities in formal process and service, assignments to case management that were patently ultra vires, and the most severe allegations of malfeasance and fraud. Consequently, declaratory, interim, and final injunctive relief is solicited, the entitlement to which is predicated upon the foundational statutory instruments: the Courts of Justice Act, the Judicial Review Procedure Act (hereinafter, the “JRPA”), and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (the “Charter”). The legal capacity for judicial review is properly understood as a constitutional imperative and must not be misconstrued as a mere discretionary indulgence (Yatar v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex, 2024 SCC 8). The legislative mandate, specifically Section 2(1) of the JRPA, confers an unambiguous and fundamental prerogative to challenge administrative determinations alleged to be either substantively unlawful or procedurally deficient. Furthermore, a rigorous, textualist interpretation of Section 6(1) of the JRPA serves to delineate the precise jurisdictional separation obtaining between the Divisional Court and the Superior Court of Justice. Given that the institution of the present Application transpired subsequent to the judicial pronouncement in Yatar, the availability of judicial review is established as an unequivocal and non-derogable entitlement. While judicial latitude is maintained by this Court concerning the ultimate quantum and nature of the relief to be adjudicated on the substantive merits, no judicial discretion exists for the summary declination of the adjudication of this Application in limine. The reliance by the Respondents upon any antecedent, obsolete jurisprudence that posits the reservation of judicial review solely for exceptional exigencies is, per se, erroneous in law and demonstrably inconsistent with prevailing constitutional principles.
2. The fundamental integrity of the antecedent proceedings has been compromised irremediably by the demonstrable failure to effectuate the requisite “delivery” of the Notices of Appearance (NOA) in scrupulous compliance with the mandatory provisions of Rule 38.07. The judicial definition of “delivery” is conjunctive, necessitating the simultaneous fulfilment of both the formal act of filing and the provision of unequivocal proof of service upon all relevant parties. It is established that the Respondents (with the singular exception of the Attorney General Ontario) have neglected to satisfy this bifurcated jurisdictional prerequisite. Consequently, the restrictive provisions of Subrules 38.07(2)(a) and (c) operate ipso facto to legally preclude and prohibit the undertaking of any subsequent procedural steps or the tendering of further documentary material to this Court by those persons. Given the procedural nullity that arose from the non-constitution of proper parties, the Divisional Court was demonstrably divested of the requisite jurisdiction to legitimately assign the subject matter to case management pursuant to Rule 77.05. The precondition of requisite consent, in this specific procedural posture, constituted a legal impossibility to achieve. Accordingly, the purported assignment of the file, executed by the Honourable Madam Justice Shore, along with the subsequent purported Directive issued on January 7, 2025, is rendered void ab initio, possessing no legal force or binding effect whatsoever. The demonstrable omission regarding the extension of a formal invitation for the participation of the Applicant in the Case Center protocol constitutes a contravention per se of both the governing Rules of Civil Procedure and the explicit directives issued by the Divisional Court. This systemic failure had the demonstrable consequence of rendering the presiding Judge procedurally unable to undertake a comprehensive review of the entire, voluminous filed record. Such a profound omission stultified the judicial process and eviscerated the principles of natural justice, thereby rendering the totality of the resulting proceedings a patent nullity. Formal submission of allegations of criminal malfeasance, specifically fraud, bribery, and extortion, is herein advanced. These allegations are buttressed by prima facie evidence demonstrating the systematic fabrication of foundational documents in a prior proceeding, wherein there was undisclosed involvement of Madam Justice Shore by concealed by the usage of fluent “Assyrian (Aramaic”) speaking justice of the peace, which has a conclusive connection to proudly public representations of Madam Justice Shore and SOLGEN Kerzner regarding their proposed and actual judicial and ministry agendas, and the proffering of improper inducements, all designed with the specific mens rea of impeding the constitutional right of access to justice. These indictable offences, as strike directly at the very core and efficacy of the administration of justice and, ipso facto, necessitate the most robust and penetrating judicial scrutiny. The inherent gravity of these allegations mandates, without cavil, the issuance of mandatory orders for full and unexpurgated documentary production, such that an exhaustive investigation into these most serious claims are effectively consummated.

3. Pursuant to the analogous procedural requirements stipulated in Motion No. 3, a certified copy of this comprehensive Factum is mandated to be duly served upon the retained legal representative for the Honourable Madam Justice Shore. This representative is precisely identified as Mr. Anathan Sinnadurai, a licensed barrister and solicitor whose professional affiliation is maintained with the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), and who is concurrently co-located at the Toronto premises utilized by an associate counsel, Ms. Im. The Applicant affirms, with unequivocal certainty, that precise knowledge of this particular professional association and the concomitant extent of judicial representation was not within his cognizant purview until a comparatively recent juncture. This belated discovery compelled the Applicant to formally transmit all pertinent materials and evidentiary discoveries to Mr. Sinnadurai. The aforementioned transmittal to counsel was conjoined with a conclusive overture demanding strict adherence to the relevant statutory and jurisprudential dictates on the part of the Originating Courthouse and, by necessary extension and derivative authority, the originating and presiding judicial officer, the Honourable Madam Justice Shore. This final, non-negotiable attempt was made to facilitate the restoration of the status quo ante through compliance with the paramount requirements of the law. The conspicuous and subsequent failure of the retained counsel to issue any substantive or curative response to this demand constitutes, ipso facto, a profound and discernible dereliction of the professional obligation to address allegations of procedural or substantive infirmity. The sustained and calculated silence of the counsel for the Honourable Madam Justice Shore, in the face of compelling evidence regarding potential misrepresentation or procedural lapse, provides a prima facie inference of acquiescence to the Applicant's assertions of non-compliance with the established legal parameters. The inherent principle, extrapolated from the foundational tenets of procedural fairness, dictates that a failure to rebut a clearly articulated demand for compliance, especially by a representative of the judiciary, serves to elevate the Applicant's contention from mere assertion to an established, uncontroverted reality. Consequently, any subsequent defence or in limine application seeking to challenge the validity of the Applicant's premises must be viewed with marked judicial skepticism, given this antecedent refusal to address the matter when formally presented.

PART II: THE BRIEF MATERIAL FACTS

4. The salient facts are delineated in the Applicant's declarations of October 13 and November 14, 2025, and further detailed within Notice of Motion (NOM) #3, duly made and served on November 17, 2025.

5. The issues are as follows:

- a. Judicial Ultra Vires and Substantive Compliance: The central inquiry pertains to whether the entirety of the procedural acta and the resultant judicial determinations, which are alleged to have been orchestrated and directed under the exclusive superintendence of the Honourable Case Management Justice, Madam Justice Shore, constitute a manifest transgression of the jurisdictional mandate, thereby rendering the determinations ultra vires the powers stipulated within the governing statutes, including, but not limited to, The Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, the concomitant regulatory instruments, and the immutable common law principles. In this regard, whether the misrepresentations, attributed to Madam Justice Shore, which are similar to post misrepresentations of law by her or attributed to her, regarding the timing of and inevitability, later determined to be false, of an invitation to Case Center were part of a large scheme of fraudulent misrepresentations;
- b. Perfection of Service and Filing Requirements: A determination is necessitated as to whether scrupulous adherence to the mandatory requisites governing the perfection of service and filing, specifically concerning the requisite transmission of the Notice of Application (NOA) and the entirety of the Record of Proceedings (ROP), was effectuated by the Respondent. Furthermore, should a demonstrable dereliction of these indispensable procedural obligations be conclusively ascertained, the precise legal ramifications, including, but not limited to, the voidability or the ipso facto nullity of the ensuing judicial proceedings and attendant orders, must be meticulously adjudicated;
- c. Judicial Impartiality and the Doctrine of Recusal
 - i. Apprehension of Bias and Undisclosed Judicial Involvement: The primary consideration involves the assessment of whether antecedent judicial participation in the substantive lis pendens serves to engender a palpable or objectively reasonable apprehension of bias, a circumstance constituting a fundamental derogation from the canonical principle of nemo iudex in causa sua. Concomitantly, a rigorous analysis must be undertaken to discern the juridical effect of undisclosed prior judicial involvement, specifically whether such non-disclosure furnishes an independent and sufficient ground for mandatory judicial recusal, or whether the principle operates concurrently with, or is entirely independent of, a substantive motion seeking the extirpation of judicial steps, documentation, and/or orders predicated upon the specialized doctrine of nullities;
 - ii. Procedural Aberrations and the Doctrine of Nullity: Whether the established and undeniable corpus of procedural aberrations and irregularities rises to the threshold of fatal defects, thereby constituting special categories of nullities, is an issue requiring definitive resolution; should this determination be affirmative, the consequential judicial directive must involve the setting aside of all previous adjudicative pronouncements and orders in limine, thus mandating the meticulous restoration of the proceedings to the status quo ante.
- d. Allegations of Malfeasance and Evidentiary Relief;
 - i. Culpability for Fraud, Bribery, or Extortion: An evidentiary determination is requisite concerning whether the cumulative conduct of the Respondents, either individually or in concert, inclusive of the actions of their respective representatives and agents, and any associated natural or juridical persons, including functionaries of the Divisional Court, satisfies the prescribed standards for the establishment of civil or criminal culpability, extending specifically to the offenses of fraud, bribery, or extortion, pursuant to the required confluence of mens rea and actus reus stipulated within the relevant provisions of The Criminal Code, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-46, and the attendant common law jurisprudence;
- e. Interlocutory and Injunctive Relief: The pivotal issue necessitating consideration is whether a prima facie entitlement to interlocutory and interim injunctive relief has been definitively established by the Applicant, such extraordinary measures being predicated upon the successful demonstration of the requisite tripartite standard governing the issuance of such extraordinary judicial remedies, pending the comprehensive disposition and final adjudication of the within Motion;
- f. Preservation and Disclosure of Evidence: The warranted nature and strict necessity of a compelling judicial order mandating the comprehensive preservation, production, and unexpurgated disclosure of all documentary and testimonial evidence adjudged to be germane to the issues herein delineated must be determined, as such action is crucial for the preservation of the evidentiary record's integrity and the effectuation of the impartial administration of justice.

PART IV: ARGUMENT

ISSUE #1: THE THRESHOLD DETERMINATION: SUBSTANTIVE AND TEMPORAL PARAMETERS GOVERNING ACCESS TO THE ELECTRONIC CASE CENTRE PLATFORM

6. The efficacious administration of justice, specifically within the jurisdictional ambit of the Superior Court of Justice and Divisional Court, is rigorously governed by a comprehensive digital mandate, the fundamental parameters which have been principally codified within the Rules of Civil Procedure. Commencing with effectuation in the year 2020, the specialized appellation “Case Centre” has been accorded a formal prescribed definition as proprietary software duly authorized by the Ministry of the Attorney General for the express purposes contemplated by the Rules of Civil Procedure, the operational platform for which is electronically accessible via Internet under the designated nomenclature (as established per O. Reg. 689/20, s. 7; see also Rule 4.05.3(1)). Absent an explicit judicial directive providing contrary dispensation, the application of a provision maintains a ubiquitous reach, extending to encompass the entirety or a specified portion of any scheduled hearing, pre-trial conference, or case conference (referencing Rule 4.05.3(2)). A peremptory obligation is formally and strictly imposed by the Rules upon every litigating party participating in such proceedings, mandating the electronic uploading of all requisite documentary evidence to the Case Centre interface. This mandate specifically comprehends every document that has been officially “filed” with the court relative to the impending hearing or conference, as well as any materials not previously uploaded by a litigational adversary. The sole and limited derogation from this comprehensive uploading requirement is narrowly confined to a designated compendium when presented exclusively in the context of a conference, an unopposed motion, or a motion predicated upon mutual consent (vide: Rule 4.05.3(3.1)). The procedural architecture meticulously establishes rigid temporal framework, which shall hereinafter be denominated as the “Mandatory Deadline” (consult subrule 4.05.3(4)). This provision explicitly mandates that all documents—with the specific exclusion of transcripts (see: subparagraph (5) of Rule 4.05.3)—are to be electronically uploaded no fewer than five days antecedent to the scheduled date of the hearing (a term encompassing, inter alia, applications, motions, appeals, or trials) or conference. Ipsso facto, in order for compliance with the statutory obligation to transmit a document to Case Centre five days antecedent to a “Hearing” or “Conference” to be effectuated by a litigant, it follows as an unassailable syllogism that the subject document must have been duly served and officially “filed,” accompanied by the requisite proof of service, at a point in time prior to the commencement of that five-day limitation period. Furthermore, the Divisional Court JRPA Guide, while perhaps not strictly qualifying as subordinate legislation per se, did, at the material time, unequivocally articulate a procedural expectation, stating that “After an application for judicial review has been brought, an email to register for CaseLines and upload materials will be received.” The utilisation of the term “brought,” notwithstanding its lack of a specific definition within the Courts of Justice Act or the Rules of Civil Procedure, logically and linguistically connotes the precise moment at which the JRPA Application has been formally “filed” and, consequently, officially issued into the court record. Pursuant to the application of the aforementioned principles of legal logic, a crystallized entitlement to receive an invitation to access the Case Centre platform was possessed by the aggrieved party no later than Tuesday, November 19, 2024. The provision of this requisite digital access constitutes a procedural sine qua non for the preservation of procedural validity; absent the necessary invitation to the Case Centre, the subsequent conduct of a case conference is rendered a practical and legal impossibility, particularly in light of the antecedent requirement to electronically “upload” all “filed” documents five days prior to the scheduled date. In the complete and demonstrable absence of any judicial order dispensing with mandatory compliance, or an order explicitly exempting the requirement to upload all “filed” documents within the rigidly prescribed temporal framework, the purported case conferences that transpired were necessarily conducted ultra vires and are therefore deemed void ab initio, having been deprived of foundational legal authority.

Fraudulent Misrepresentation and the Vitiating of Steps, Documents and/or Orders

7. The assertions disseminated by the functional personnel of the Divisional Court—which assertions are formally averred to have been communicated under the delegated authority of Madam Justice Shore—positing that an entitlement to receive the requisite Case Centre invitation subsisted solely upon the formal scheduling of a hearing, are characterized as constituting, prima facie, a fraudulent misrepresentation pertaining to the obligatory statutory requirements. Such specific pronouncements, having been advanced without the demonstrable basis of a genuine or objectively justifiable belief in their intrinsic veracity, were maintained in direct and unmistakable contravention of the textual meaning of the governing Rules. Access to the Case Centre apparatus is structurally and jurisprudentially foundational to the constitutional right of the aggrieved party to ensure that the JRPA

Application is adjudicated upon its substantive merits; indeed, this electronic platform constitutes the singular mechanism by which the presiding judicial authority is afforded the necessary capability to execute the preliminary review of all officially “filed” materials. Notwithstanding the delayed temporal discovery of the inherent mendacity of these representations by the litigant during the months of January and February 2025, the resultant incapacitation to present this fundamental procedural defect before an independent, duly vested motions judge—an adjudicator who was necessarily precluded from being Madam Justice Shore by the operation of the doctrine of Impermissible Authority Delegation—*ipso facto occasioned the aggrieved party to be entirely bereft of an effective procedural recourse for seeking in limine relief, the consequence of which is not attributable to any fault or dereliction of responsibility on the part of the litigant. It remains an established, deeply entrenched, and ancient trite principle of the common law jurisprudence that fraus omnia corrumpit—a legal maxim underscoring that fraud, by its very nature and effect, fundamentally vitiates or unravels all subsequent acta. Consequently, the demonstrable failure to adhere meticulously to the mandatory provisions of the Rules of Civil Procedure and the prescriptive procedural guidelines enunciated in the Divisional Court JRPA Guide is not merely an instance of a procedural irregularity susceptible to judicial cure through the court's inherent authority, but rather is to be legally classified as a fundamental nullity which strikes directly at the jurisdiction and efficacy of the entirety of the proceedings. Therefore, all subsequent acta taken, documents processed, or orders formally issued following the fraudulent misrepresentations proffered by the Divisional Court between December 23 and December 31, 2024, and subsequent thereto, which operated in a manner prejudicial to the Applicant, must, by necessity, be formally invalidated and set aside ex debito justitiae. The subsequent factual matrix and the demonstrative evidence of fraud discovered post-March 2025 served exclusively to illuminate the undisclosed prior judicial involvement of Madam Justice Shore, thereby fundamentally distinguishing the instant matter from the jurisdictional purview of falsely inserted Justice of the Peace Jiri at some time in November 2024 or thereafter.

ISSUE #2: FAILURE TO FILE FORTHWITH AND FAILURE TO “DELIVER” FORTHWITH

ISSUE #2(A): ROP DURING THE ROP TEMPORAL PERIOD

8. It is respectfully advanced that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the “Tribunal”) has failed to consummate the requisite filing of the Record of Proceedings (the “Record”) with the Divisional Court for judicial utilization subsequent to the effectuation of service of the Application for Judicial Review. It is incumbent upon the adjudicator to distinguish in limine the procedural dichotomy existing between “service” and “filing”; it is posited that the mere service of the Record upon the Applicant does not satisfy the requirement of filing with the Court. In the absence of evidentiary substantiation regarding said filing, the Record cannot be deemed “delivered” within the strict construction of the Rules of Civil Procedure (the “Civil Rules”). The Civil Rules prescribe a rigorous framework governing the service and filing of originating processes, specifically regarding the Notice of Application and the Record of Proceedings. Rule 38.03(1) imposes a mandatory obligation that notice be provided “forthwith” to all parties. It is a well-settled canon of jurisprudence that non-compliance with mandatory service and filing regimes may render proceedings a nullity, thereby necessitating the setting aside of orders ex debito justitiae. It is contended that the failure of the Respondents to provide: timely and proper notice materially prejudiced the capacity of the Applicant to proffer a response and participate effectively, thereby constituting the breaches outlined in NOM #1 (see: Tab #10 to #12).

9. Section 10 of the JRPA unequivocally mandates that upon service of an application for judicial review, the decision-maker “shall forthwith file in the court for use on the application the record of the proceedings.” The statutory language is to be construed as imperative, rather than discretionary. By failing to file the Record “on the application,” it is submitted that the Tribunal effectively sought to immunize itself from judicial scrutiny ultra vires. The Tribunal responded to its lack of opposition that it was waiting for Madam Justice Shore. It is understandable as to why with the benefit of post March 2025 discoveries through an exhaustive investigation which remains ongoing.
10. Accordingly, the Tribunal was statutorily obligated to file the Record for the ROP Temporal Period ipso facto no later than November 19, 2024. The representations by the LAT through Mr. Boyce were fraudulent misrepresentations in November, December and January regarding the inconsistent, internally and externally, representations that he made for the reasons why the LAT had not filed the record of proceeding predicated on an arbitrary self-imposed timeline. This was all aggravated by the fact that the LAT was a non-appearing Respondent and was not entitled to file any material on the Application as per the Rules of Civil Procedure while remaining bound by the governing statute, section 10. While the term “served” is not explicitly defined within the definitions section of the Rules, it is incontestable that the Tribunal was served with the JRPA Application on November 15, 2024. Reference is made to Rule 16.02(2), which posits that a party who delivers a Notice of Appearance “shall be deemed to have been served with the originating process as of the date of delivery.” However, this deeming provision is rendered inapplicable herein, as the Tribunal failed to perfect delivery of a Notice of Appearance (NOA), notwithstanding valid service upon the Tribunal Registrar via the AABS/LAT e-filing portal and the subsequent receipt of notice by Counsel for the Tribunal. The Applicant effected service upon the Respondent Insurance Companies, the Tribunal, and the Attorney General of Ontario on November 15, 2024, prior to perfecting the filing fee payment. The Tribunal purported to serve its NOA via electronic mail from a law clerk representing “Tribunals Ontario” to an address not designated for service on November 27, 2024. The Respondent Insurance Companies, through counsel, served a copy of their NOA on December 3, 2024. Rule 38.07(1) mandates that a “respondent who has been served with a notice of application shall forthwith deliver a notice of appearance.” The term “Respondent” denotes a person against whom an application is made (Rule 1.03). Crucially, “delivery” is a term of art defined in Rule 1.03 as meaning “serve and file with proof of service.” It is submitted that the Respondents breached Rule 38.07(1) by failing to deliver their Notices of Appearance on a forthwith basis. While the Respondent Insurance Companies effected service, the Tribunal failed to properly serve its NOA simpliciter. Those Respondents electing to participate in the JRPA Proceeding were legally obligated to deliver their Notices of Appearance no later than November 19, 2024, yet they failed to discharge this mandatory burden forthwith as prescribed by Rule 38.07(1), a failure evidenced on a balance of probabilities by their lack of response to the Applicant’s correspondence of October 26, 2025 (see: Tab #4, Exhibit “A”). Consequently, pursuant to the strictures of the Rules, the Respondents were statutorily disentitled from taking steps, receiving documentation without judicial order, filing materials, or being heard at the hearing absent leave; since no such order was sought or obtained, ergo, all “notices of steps” received subsequent to Nov. 19, 2024, are nullities, and any filings or receipt of documentation must be set aside and struck from the record ex debito justitiae due to the Respondents' lack of standing.

ISSUE #3: JUSTICE'S SHORE PRIOR JUDICIAL INVOLVEMENT WITH THE APPLICANT: FRAUD BY MATERIAL NON-DISCLOSURES AGGRAVATED BY NON-DISCLOSURE IN THE JRPA PROCEEDING AND IMPLICATIONS FOR FUTURE CASES

11. The fundamental juridical acta requiring resolution pertains to whether the Honourable Madam Justice Shore was possessed of prior judicial involvement concerning the litigant, a material circumstance that remained entirely undisclosed throughout the pertinent temporal continuum extending from November 2024 to March 2025. This requisite inquiry necessitates the delineation of two segregated, yet integrally intertwined, analytical paths: the initial consideration involves determining whether such antecedent engagement furnishes grounds for a reasonable apprehension of bias; and the secondary consideration addresses whether the subsequent and sustained non-disclosure of this involvement constitutes a special cause of nullity, particularly one rooted in the principles of equitable fraud, subsequent to the promulgation of further undisclosed, unrecorded or the unwillingness of Madam Justice Shore to comply with the Charter and the “open court principle” in relation to those case conferences (see: October 10, 2025, email with thanks for the quotations attributed to Madam Justice Shore by the SCJ RMO).

12. An unequivocal triggering of a reasonable apprehension of bias is established whenever a judicial functionary or case management authority has been demonstrably privy to antecedent judicial proceedings or has otherwise manifested a conspicuous deficit of impartiality. The operative jurisprudential standard, meticulously articulated by the Supreme Court of Canada in cited decisions in NOM #2,, is predicated upon the objective assessment concerning whether a judiciously informed person, meticulously evaluating the circumstances with realism and practicality, would conclude that a fair-minded observer would indeed apprehend bias. The position advanced holds that the assignment continuum for case management, being inextricably linked to the Justice’s antecedent judicial engagement within the criminal acta underlying the present matter, establishes an inescapable apprehension of bias, thereby compelling the nullification of any and all resultant Orders. Furthermore, the indispensable imperative of procedural fairness dictates the mandated absence not solely of manifest bias, but also of any discernible semblance of a reasonable apprehension thereof. The engagement is classified as prior by virtue of its antecedent temporal placement to the litigant's apprehension on October 2, 2024, an incident that was subsequently ascertained in April and June 2025 to be prima facie predicated upon an Information Package containing material falsehoods, which determination was subsequently corroborated by the representative counsel for the Ministry of the Attorney General (Toronto Region). The signification of the term “involvement” is not confined to the formal promulgation of a judicial Order or regulatory directive; conversely, it signifies the state, action, or empirical reality of participation in an activity. The evidence adduced, which is deemed incontrovertible and is corroborated by acknowledgments emanating from the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Regional Manager’s Office, functions to circumscribe the cohort of potential authorizing Justices, thereby rendering the conclusion, on a balance of probabilities, that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore was the undisclosed judicial functionary who executed the signed arrest warrant in September 2024, more probable than the negative assertion.

13. The establishment of the tort of deceit and the requisite standard for fraud enumerated in Rule 59.06(2)(a) of the Rules of Civil Procedure are amenable to being predicated upon either an act of commission or an act of omission. A deliberate dereliction of the duty to speak when confronted with a material misrepresentation, thereby sustaining a misleading impression, suffices to establish liability in fraud. In the case sub judice, the failure to disclose the prior judicial involvement constitutes a fraudulent omission of facts that are fundamentally material (vide: Sidhu Estate v. Bains, 1996 CanLII 3332 (BC CA)). The deliberate concealment of the antecedent judicial status quo ante by the Justice and the Respondents is inherently legally consequential.
14. The operative juridical principle dictates that in circumstances where a party, particularly an officer of the court, maintains silence when confronted with a third-party misrepresentation, and where that very silence conveys to the representor that the representee is operating under a misapprehension, such inaction is tantamount to a tacit adoption of the misrepresentation as one's own. A compelling duty of care was incumbent upon the officers of the court to undertake the correction of the representations disseminated by the Divisional Court on January 7, 2025. The litigant, being the innocent party, possesses an entitlement to challenge these manifest irregularities and to pursue remedial relief grounded in this specialized category of nullities occasioned by the concealment. The venerable principle that silence maintained in the face of an extant false representation may establish liability for the tort of deceit was robustly affirmed in Halton v. Rezaizadeh, 2004 CanLII 6236 (ON SC).

15. The prevailing jurisprudential syllogism dictates that a disclosed antecedent judicial involvement may furnish a sufficient jurisdictional basis for a judicial functionary to exercise the inherent discretion to recuse oneself from a matter. Conversely, it is submitted that an undisclosed involvement pertaining to a litigant necessitates, ipso facto, the mandatory disqualification of the adjudicator; this imperative is rendered eminently apposite when such engagement was transacted ex parte relative to the legitimate interests of the affected party, thereby striking at the status quo ante of procedural fairness and due process, and raising profound questions regarding the requisite objectivity of the tribunal. This fundamental proposition is further fortified and contextualized by the allegations that the executive arm of government evinced a demonstrable reluctance to adhere to the mandatory strictures of section 29 of the Criminal Code pertaining to the production of the duly executed arrest warrant; compounding this significant statutory non-compliance is the subsequent acknowledgment, emanating from the Ministry of the Attorney General, concerning the material mendacity associated with the originating Information Package, which, prima facie, casts profound aspersions upon the foundational integrity of the entire acta of the prosecution, where such demonstrated administrative dereliction fundamentally impedes the constitutional right of the Applicant to make full answer and defence. The duly completed Transcript Order Form was officially tendered within the undisclosed criminal proceeding (UCP) during the month of August 2025, and the singular objection proffered concerning the document's contents was articulated by the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Records Management Officer (RMO), specifically referencing the temporal parameters designated by the "date range" (vide: Tab #3, Exhibits "G" and "I"); this procedural application was submitted immediately following the Applicant's remittance of the stipulated fee, accompanied by a Request Form Undertaking seeking a digital recording (CD format) (see: Tab #3, Exhibit "Z") of the pre-enquête Ex Parte In Camera Hearing presided over by Madam Justice Shore. The evident non-production of the "tapes and materials required for transcription", despite the Applicant's prior remuneration for the requested digital recording, compels the immediate re-characterization of the aforementioned proceedings, whereby, by the operation of this failure, the Ex Parte In Camera Hearing is qualitatively metamorphosed into, at minimum, an "Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearing" or, where the materials are deemed permanently irretrievable, an "Ex Parte In Camera Hearing Destroyed Hearings", and such an absence of archival documentation places the entirety of the judicial intervention in limine in a state of irrefutable evidentiary vacuum. Furthermore, the administrative failure to provide copy of the Form 4 Indictment stipulated under the Criminal Code, which pertains to either the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) or the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), or a co-operative production thereof—akin to their joint Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) response protocol, as administered by the identical Privacy Officer—has resulted in the previously described "Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings" being further compounded into "Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Processes", and this sequence of institutional omissions suggests a structural systemic breakdown in the retention and provision of essential prosecutorial instruments. Concomitantly, the Superior Court of Justice has effectuated an ultra vires retention of the monetary consideration tendered by the Applicant, without the reciprocal provision of the mandated services for which the remuneration was intended; this egregious dereliction of fiduciary duty and administrative probity has necessitated a laborious litany of further due diligence efforts, specifically manifesting in multiple requests submitted pursuant to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) (vide: Tab #3, Exhibits “J”, “K”, and “L”), and it is submitted that the unlawful retention of funds is intrinsically linked to the failure to produce the essential tapes, effectively constituting a denial of service. The judicial test for recusal, specifically addressing “Prior Judicial Involvement with Litigants,” only necessitates the demonstration of a “strident adverse credibility finding” under conditions of disclosed or known antecedent engagement. In contradistinction, where the involvement is entirely undisclosed, concealed, and only subsequently discovered post facto, the condition requiring a strident adverse credibility finding is rendered juridically moot and wholly inapplicable to the present analysis. The insistence upon the application of this requirement under prevailing circumstances of concealment would be tantamount to conferring an unmerited benefit upon the very non-disclosure that forms the basis of the actionable irregularity.

16. Nevertheless, the issuance of the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic], which was not from the Central West Region OJC Brampton Courthouse but involving the SCJ 361 University Courthouse but with Madam Justice Shore as the presiding judge which was permitted by statute in the CJA (provincial) and federal (Criminal Code) (see: for discussion of these principles and due diligence correspondence by virtue of its acceptance of the information “on its face” and the specific authorization for the “warrant in the first: issue,” constituted an unmistakable and forceful adverse determination regarding the litigant's credibility. This judicial determination, having the effect of subjecting the party to the most serious jurisdiction of the Superior Court of Justice, is tantamount to an “unpleasantly forceful” assertion of judicial sentiment. The temporal proximity between the execution of the arrest warrant in September 2024 and the subsequent review of the void ab initio case conference request on December 3, 2024, is deemed insufficient to permit the requisite process of disabusing the judicial mind of evidence to be effectively accomplished. The foundational legal principle, Quod nullum est, nullum producit effectum, dictates that the entire proceeding has been vitiated by the fraudulent non-disclosure and the antecedent ex parte involvement. The determination that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore was indeed possessed of undisclosed prior judicial involvement occasions severe juridical consequences, satisfying the requisite criteria for a fact and fraud that arose or was discovered subsequent to March 2025. The concealment of the prior judicial involvement constitutes both a fact and fraud discovered post facto, thereby attaining the threshold established within Rule 59.06(2)(a) of the Rules of Civil Procedure and simultaneously invoking the inherent jurisdiction of this Honourable Court to forestall a manifest abuse of process. Judicial immunity is strictly circumscribed, extending solely to the acta performed within the functional scope of a Justice's judicial office. The unilateral assumption of authority for the assignment of a matter to case management, in the absence of a filed First Defence transmitted through the requisite JSO Portal in strict conformity with the Rules of Civil Procedure, is fundamentally ultra vires the proper operational scope of an SCJ Justice. Furthermore, the specific and subsequent assignment of the file to the Justice herself, a manoeuvre that potentially usurps the separate and distinct judicial assignment functions prescribed by Rule 77.05 and .06, is similarly positioned beyond the protected purview of the judicial function.

MALICIOUS INTENT AND COMPOUND IMPOSITION

17. The sustained concealment of the antecedent engagement, when juxtaposed with the subsequent assumption of the case management function, is tantamount to a wilful, malicious, and compounded imposition of judicial authority upon the litigant. The resultant inference is therefore self-evident: the fraudulent manipulation of the False Information Package (see: Tab #3, Exhibit “G”) and the refusal to tender the signed arrest warrant constituted calculated measures explicitly designed to obfuscate the authorizing Justice and thereby preclude the litigant from initiating a timely challenge predicated upon a conflict of interest, a practice colloquially recognized as “bench hunting.” It is, therefore, demonstrably requisite that the status quo ante be immediately reinstated. The fraudulent concealment of the prior judicial involvement constitutes a fatal nullity demanding the immediate vitiating of all affected Orders, the prompt issuance of the interim, interlocutory, and injunctive relief solicited, and the complete, unreserved disclosure of the underlying acta.

ISSUE #4: THE DEFINING DIFFERENTIATION: PROCEDURAL IRREGULARITY VERSUS NULLITIES ARISING FROM FAILURE TO FILE A FIRST DEFENCE AND NON-DELIVERY

18. The comprehensive declarative remedies, as solicited in antecedent submissions, are deemed a conditio sine qua non for the lawful adjudication, the requisite judicial capacity being statutorily conferred by Section 96 of the Courts of Justice Act. The locus of the juridical proposition resides in the critical distinction between a remediable procedural irregularity and a fundamental nullity, which, by inherent constitutional deficiency, operates ex proprio vigore to render discrete acta void ab initio.
19. Immediate judicial consideration is compelled regarding the conspicuous omission by the License Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies (hereinafter, the “Respondents”) to effect the imperative tripartite obligation of delivery, filing, and attestation of the 17 Notices of Appearance (Form 38A) subsequent to the origination of the Judicial Review and Prohibition Application (JRPA Application). This material omission, established in limine upon expiry of the prescriptive ten-day period, effected the activation of the non-discretionary procedural disablement within Rule 38.07(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure, the operation of which, ex proprio vigore, results in the immediate and pre-emptive forfeiture of the Respondents' participatory rights, including, inter alia, foreclosure from notification and oral submissions; conversely, the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO), pursuant to subsection 9(4) of the JRPA, maintains a superior statutory entitlement to present submissions in propria persona, entirely detached from the Rule's stricture.

20. Notwithstanding the curative textual provision of Rule 2.01(1), which characterizes non-adherence to the Rules prima facie as a mere procedural irregularity not operating ipso facto to annihilate the proceeding—thereby preserving the status quo ante—the omission herein is appropriately denominated post-jurisdictional non-compliance. This designation is necessitated because the failure to effect the delivery of the Notice of Appearance does not impugn the Court's fundamental authority, thereby rendering procedural forfeiture the immediate consequence, rather than the vitiation of the Application's inherent validity.
21. Notwithstanding the initial procedural irregularity, the subsequent acta undertaken by the non-compliant Respondents and the presiding judicial officer are adjudged void ab initio owing to the palpable absence of necessary jurisdictional conditions precedent. The apodictic premise for case management pursuant to Rule 77 is predicated upon the definitive establishment of all jurisdictional preconditions, subsequent to which the assignment is rendered permissible. As the Respondents had not achieved the status of legitimate “parties,” the Applicant's status as the sole legally recognized litigant party was established, nullifying the power to assign the matter for case management due to the absence of the requisite precondition of consent. The administrative directive of January 7, 2025, emanating from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, is adjudged procedurally void ab initio owing to the conspicuous lacuna in the requisite enactment authority provided by Rule 77. The hermeneutic complexity is augmented by the impermissible arrogation of powers inherent in the self-assignment executed by the judicial officer as the designated case management judge, this simultaneous execution constituting a patent jurisprudential inconsistency and, consequently, an ultra vires self-evident legal nullity. Further procedural deficiency is demonstrated by the directive for the “exchange of material,” utilized in contravention of the jurisprudentially significant term “file,” irrefutably evidencing judicial cognizance that a First Defence had not been formally submitted, and the lawful convening of a case conference was precluded by the mandatory provisions of Subrule 4.05.3(3), which stipulates the mandatory upload of documents that have been “FILED”, ensuring the foundational material was nonexistent.

22. By procedural-syllogistic extrapolation, the Respondents' failure to deliver Notices of Appearance is confirmed as a procedural irregularity, subjecting them instantaneously to the procedural forfeitures codified within Rule 38.07(2). Nonetheless, the subsequent attempted assignment of the JRPA Application to case management, predicated upon the absence of mandatory jurisdictional conditions precedent (Rule 77.05) and compounded by the manifestly ultra vires self-assignment, constitutes a fundamental legal nullity ab initio. The judicial officer's jurisdictional incapacity to promulgate directives pursuant to Rule 77 is undeniable, rendering all subsequent acta by the LAT and court personnel definitively bereft of legal effect. Consequently, the Orders solicited in the Applicant's unopposed Notices of Motion must be formally granted, together with an award of costs upon a substantial indemnity scale, consonant with the Respondents' protracted procedural default and the necessity for the prosecution of the instant motion.

ISSUE #5: THE EXCEPTIONAL PREDICATES FOR VITIATION AB INITIO: PECUNIARY MALFEASANCE, FRAUDULENT DOLUS MALUS, AND EXTORTIVE COERCION

23. The ascertained convergence of fraudulent misrepresentation, including pecuniary malfeasance (specifically denoted herein as peculation or bribery), and the imposition of duress (termed extortive coercion) is demonstrably constitutive of an exceptional stratum of foundational nullities, the judicial significance of which fundamentally transcends all other potential bases for legal invalidation. This crucial assertion is predicated upon the fundamental, established jurisprudential axiom, often encapsulated by the Latin maxim that fraud operates to unravel all antecedent matters and transactions. Judicial tribunals are strictly enjoined to exercise the utmost circumspection and reasoned prudence in the determination and substantiation of fraud; notwithstanding this requisite caution, once the imputation thereof has been conclusively and distinctly established, the unavoidable legal effect entails the vitiatio ab initio of all judicial pronouncements, consensual contractual agreements, and every transaction quid pro quo without derogation, as meticulously supported by the seminal judicial exposition in Lazarus Estates Ltd. v. Beasley, at page 712, cited with express approbation in Landreville v. Town of Boucherville, 1978 CanLII 202 (SCC). The technical term “vitiate” denotes the decisive legal act of rendering an instrument, pronouncement, or transaction legally ineffective or void ab initio. These specified categories of absolute nullities function as substantive exceptions to the common law doctrines of res judicata, issue estoppel, and functus officio, an exemption predicated upon the overriding jurisprudential imperative to maintain the absolute probity and sanctity of the entire judicial process. The definitional compass of “misrepresentation” was extensively expounded in the authoritative judicial pronouncement Curtis v Chemical Cleaning & Dyeing Co., 1951 1 All ER 631 (CA) (“Curtis”), the principles of which were subsequently cited with distinct approbation in the dissenting judgment rendered by Houliden J.A. in Hayward v Mellick, 1984 CanLII 1975 (ON CA) at 753 [“Mellick”]. Within Curtis, the judicial articulation established that any compartment, whether conveyed through verbal assertion or manifested through non-verbal conduct, suffices to constitute a misrepresentation if its effect is to mislead a counterparty concerning the existence or full ambit of an exemption, given that the dissemination of a false impression is held to be sufficient to warrant this conclusion; furthermore, if the creation of this false impression is effectuated with deliberation and knowledge (scienter), it constitutes a fraudulent misrepresentation, whereas its execution unwittingly results in an innocent misrepresentation, yet either species is deemed adequate to disentitle the originator of the impression from deriving any benefit from the exemption.

24. Consequently, the expansive definition of fraud necessarily encompasses a broad spectrum of compartment, inclusive of both verbal and physical acts acta, executed through either commission or omission, where the central jurisprudential inquiry when scrutinizing a purported “fraud on the court” involves the determination of whether a false impression was intentionally conveyed, followed by an assessment of whether this conveyance was executed knowingly or, alternatively, with palpable recklessness. While the evidence adduced is considered to warrant an affirmative finding within the variegated and often intertwined counts of fraud, proof of the same is mandatorily established upon the applicable balance of probabilities. Notwithstanding the explicit invitation extended to the Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT, where applicable, for the refutation of the recently acquired conviction that the proper filing and service of their Notices of Appearance (“NOAs”) had been omitted, a complete and sustained silence was maintained, the observation of which was duly recorded (see: Declaration #2 of the Applicant). Such sustained omission, whilst potentially commonplace in conventional litigation, may constitute a substandard adherence to the professional obligations incumbent upon those functioning as officers of the court.

25. Independently of the codified stipulations contained within the Rules of Civil Procedure, the jurisdiction to formally rescind and vacate judicial pronouncements on the basis of fraud is inherently situated within the equitable jurisdiction of this Superior Court, the progressive development of the governing principles applicable to the exercise of this jurisdiction, both prior to and subsequent to the enactment of the Judicature Sections, having been comprehensively reviewed in the scholarly treatise authored by D. M. Gordon, Q.C., in (1961), 77 L.Q.R. 358 at p. 533 (Vale, 1998, ONSC). Within the Province of Ontario, in contradistinction to the procedural framework prevailing in British Columbia, an applicant seeking nullification must prosecute the attendant motion within the precise judicial level, courthouse, and ongoing proceeding wherein the alleged fraud transpired (Long v. Redbranch Investments Ltd.), which procedural stricture is formally codified in Rule 59.06(2)(a): The party seeking (a) to have an order set aside or varied on the ground of fraud or of facts arising or discovered after it was made shall move within the subsisting proceeding. Ergo, a moving party in Ontario is mandated to bring the subject motion under the pre-existing and subsisting proceeding as a “moving party”—an exceptional circumstance that operates as an exception to the doctrine of functus officio. Consequently, the Respondents did not attain the requisite status of “parties” to the proceeding ipso facto because the lawful “delivery” of their Notices of Appearance was omitted, a formal demand having been issued upon them on October 25, 2025, predicated upon a new discovery or facts arising in October 2025, soliciting their affirmation or denial regarding the filing of their Noa’s. An “Order”, which includes a “Judgment” that has been contaminated and fundamentally affected by fraudulent conduct, is tainted throughout its entire complexion, thereby necessitating the failure of the whole (Hip Foong Hong v. H. Neotia & Co., 191 A.C. 888 at p. 894, per Lord Buckmaster). No judicial officer, having been appointed by the federal Canadian government, within this jurisdiction shall countenance the retention of an unwarranted advantage(s) procured through the perpetration of fraud by one count or distinct counts. The legal principle preserving the sanctity of res judicata, or its subspecies in issue estoppel, must inevitably yield to the principle recognizing the right, and indeed the duty, of the Court to safeguard its own operational processes, thereby ensuring that litigants shall not be permitted to garner profit from their egregious or improper conduct, as cited by Cullity J in Vale, referencing Estey J.A. at p. 395. This conclusion is deemed to flow inexorably from the body of evidence adduced.

26. The imputation of fraud must be proved upon a balance of probabilities by the moving party (Brown v. Spagnuolo, 2012 ONSC 2141). However, while the burden of proof constitutes a prima facie significant evidentiary hurdle, it is incumbent upon the judicial body to ensure that the standard maintains a necessary posture of flexibility, considering that the inherent concealment accompanying fraud, when discovered subsequent to an impugned order or judgment, frequently renders direct documentary proof either wholly unavailable or only available post-facto when the facts arise or are discovered. This situation is conceptually analogous to an alleged conflict of interest, where such a conflict is not readily susceptible to explicit proof or disproof (see: MacDonald Estate), thus rendering the position that fraud must be directly proven one that has been consistently determined to be untenable within the common law framework; limited protection would be afforded by the system of justice against egregious fraud if such an inflexible evidential standard were to be imposed, given that those harbouring the deliberate intent to defraud employ every conceivable means at their disposal to conceal their purpose.
27. In the instant Judicial Review Application (JRPA Proceeding), the comportment described as potentially criminal in nature involved individuals, including Mr. Papadimitropoulos (identified as the SABS manager, a client of the presiding judicial officer's prior law firm and a continuing client of Epstein Cole LLP), who have been proven to have engaged in deliberate acts to conceal forgery, fraud, and concealment of their conduct relating to a fraudulent equipment loan agreement from the Toronto Public Library (TPL). A similar egregious pattern of conduct concerning Mr. Karat, who designated himself as the “ADR” (sic), and is asserted to have engaged in the theft of the Applicant’s instruments of trade, litigation filings and records stored upon electronic devices, identification documents, and monetary access via banking cards et al, perpetrated on October 25, 2024. The discovery of the profound interplay between this fraudulent conduct and its alleged involvement of persons representing the Respondent Insurance Companies was not achieved until May 2025, when the identity of Mr. Karat was ascertained through the CAMH Unredacted Images, followed by the subsequent establishment of a critical connection between Mr. Karat and a confidential source via the professional networking platform LinkedIn. While the initial alleged criminal theft by Mr. Karat temporally preceded the formal commencement of the JRPA Proceeding, the fraudulent dolus malus is asserted to have persisted and continued during the subsistence of the JRPA Proceeding. It is similarly established, as a general rule, that dishonesty must frequently be substantiated solely through the reasoned application of presumptions and circumstantial or inferential evidence. Pursuant to Rule 59.06 of the Rules of Civil Procedure and as an intrinsic component of its equitable jurisdiction, the Court possesses the authority to vacate a judgment or order predicated upon the grounds of fraud, which fraud in this specific context is sometimes described as “common-law fraud” and constitutes an essential element of the tort of deceit. Under this head of fraud, fraud is demonstrably proven when a misrepresentation has been established to have been made: (i) knowingly; (ii) without belief in its truthfulness; or (iii) recklessly as to whether it be true or false, such that proof of the absence of a genuine conviction in the truth of the misrepresentation is sufficient to render the misstatement or the misconduct, whether by commission or omission, fraudulent (Vale v. Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, 1998 CanLII 14823). There could be no conviction in the truth of statements involving the Case Center Misrepresentations, the Divisional Court misrepresentation regarding Form 68B’s, Madam Clerk Clegg, prima facie, misrepresentation regarding the mandatory requirement of case management in the Divisional Court et al.

B. Fraud by Omission and Immateriality of Motive

28. Maintaining a deliberate silence can, in specific circumstances, constitute a wilful or fraudulent misrepresentation, which is critically juxtaposed against an “innocent misrepresentation”. When individuals who did not personally originate the misrepresentation are nonetheless cognizant that the underlying statements are mendacious but elect to remain silent, they, too, may be found liable for the tort of fraud (Sugar v. Peat Marwick Ltd. (Ont. H.C.J.), 1988 CanLII 4635 (ONSC)), given that the underlying motive of the alleged fraudsters is immaterial to the legal determination of liability.
29. The demonstrable animus underlying the concerted acta of the interconnected governmental and non-governmental entities, executed by agents exhibiting palpable mala fides and engaging in wilful malfeasance, stands in patent contravention to the foundational principles mandated by the Judicature Sections of the Constitution Act, 1867. The ulterior motives of these entities are rendered virtually self-evident by the resultant prejudice; the demonstrable intent indicates, at the minimum, a calculated stratagem to effectuate the deprivation of the Applicant's fundamental right to timely and effective judicial review, and, at the maximum, constitutes a conspiracy to inflict grievous bodily harm, or, retrospectively considered, to precipitate his ultimate demise, as was chillingly extrapolated by the Applicant's then-common law spouse—a prescient articulation that an “army was coming to get him.” This sustained and egregious course of conduct has hitherto been characterized as the quintessential, asymmetric conflict of the solitary individual against a formidable state and bureaucratic apparatus. This protracted adversarial posture was, however, dramatically altered by an unexpected, almost providential event—a deus ex machina—which occurred on May 4, 2025, resulting in the public, albeit atypical, revelation of the Applicant, Mr. Karat, whose deployment of a Keffiyeh scarf, deliberately leaving his visage unobscured, represents an undeniable distinction with a difference that warrants judicial consideration in limine.

30. Consistent with the requisite flexibility governing the standard of proof, inferential and circumstantial evidence is admissible for the purpose of establishing the committed and/or omitted clandestine malfeasance (North British & Mercantile Insurance Co. v. Tourville (1895), 1895 CanLII 68 (SCC), 25 S.C.R. 177, at paras. 7-9, and quoted in Canada v. Granite Inc., at para. 291). The established fraud must possess the quality of materiality in the sense that it is not required to be the sole determining factor, but rather a factor where the judicial officer's decision may have been reasonably affected in its result(s) had the concealed factual elements been known to the judicial officer at the critical time of decision-making (Vale v. Sun Life).
31. The moving party is statutorily required to have discovered the vitiating element subsequent to the issuance of the impugned judicial decision, act, or conduct, and the moving party is further obligated to have acted throughout with due diligence. This situation bears a conceptual analogy, yet constitutes a distinct and independent legal ground for attack unlawful orders, to Rule 2.02 (attacking irregularities), which stipulates that a moving party is precluded from “attacking irregularities,” save with leave of the Court, if knowledge or the reasonable expectation of knowledge of the irregularity existed prior to the taking of any subsequent procedural step in the proceeding. Ergo, the sylogism or simple heuristic arises as follows: should a procedural step have been taken without knowledge or without reasonably ought to have had knowledge, then the requirement for leave is precluded. A conclusive finding of fraud renders orders not merely voidable (that is, susceptible to discretionary setting aside), but fundamentally void ab initio—a legal nullity possessing no inherent force or legal effect whatsoever. The consequential orders sought herein reflect this legal distinction by explicitly declaring that all preceding judicial and administrative determinations are vitiated ex tunc (from the time of the initial vitiating event), thereby restoring the parties to the status quo ante bellum (the state existing prior to the dispute's inception), as if those corrupted procedural steps leading to the impugned orders had never transpired.

32. Madam Clerk Clegg, whose subsequent designation has been altered from the “Clerk of the Court” to an assistant hearing coordinator, was the specific individual who represented to the Applicant on Friday, December 13, 2024, that the filing and remuneration of the required fee for the Certificate of Perfection within the Justice Services Online (JSO) Portal was obligatory for the formal perfection of the JRPA Application. Subsequent to the Applicant's compliance, Madam Clerk Clegg was mandated to place the application upon a hearing list and to provide notice of the listing for hearing (pursuant to Form 68(B)) by mail to all parties and other persons duly enumerated in the Certificate of Perfection. The Applicant having named all relevant persons in the Certificate of Perfection, Madam Clerk Clegg was required, at the very least, to place the JRPA Application on a list for hearing, as the operative term “Shall” in the relevant Rule imputes no residual discretion upon the Registrar. Even a judge of the SCJ, who possesses inherent jurisdiction, cannot override the clear and unambiguous language of a statute or regulation through the invocation of inherent jurisdiction; therefore, the non-performance constitutes an act ultra vires. The determination as to whether the conduct, by omission in failing, of Madam Clerk Clegg, ghost written by Madam Justice Shore, constituted fraud in the civil sense or the tort of deceit is dependent upon an analysis of the representations made. Madam Clerk Clegg’s explicit representations to the Applicant asserted that specific steps were required to perfect the JRPA Application, with the implicit assurance that the Applicant would, as a direct consequence, be placed on a list for hearing and that a mailed (or electronically delivered, pursuant to the Rules of Civil Procedure) Form 68(B) would be transmitted. The assertion is made that Madam Clerk Clegg made the explicit representations with the knowledge that the commitment to place the JRPA Application on a list for hearing was untrue, which is asserted to be proven by Madam Clerk Clegg’s subsequent representation that the Divisional Court, which is alleged to be false, was not dispatching Form 68(B) to parties and persons named in the Certificate of Perfection. This chain of deceit reverts directly to the undisclosed involvement of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore until January 7, 2025, and then was carried on by Madam Justice Shore by way of her impermissible and void ab initio case management duties. It is noted forcefully and stridently that Madam Justice Shore was, at the very least, aware of the JRPA Proceeding on December 3, 2024 (see: email of Ms. Lawrence regarding the approval process after a request by a “party”, which there was none at the time, by “the case management judge”).

33. The Applicant duly tendered his Requisition No. 1 on 24 December 2024. Pursuant to Rule 4.08 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, this submission ipso facto imposed an exigent and statutory mandate upon the Divisional Court Registry staff to render a formal determination—either acceptance or rejection—within a stipulated period of five business days, which temporal limit was proximate to 31 December 2024. This mandatory directive, which constitutes an essential actum of the Registry’s function, was demonstrably unfulfilled, thereby initiating a procedural lacuna of considerable magnitude. Subsequent to this non-feasance, and only upon the procurement of incontrovertible admissions from personnel within the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Registry and the SCJ Rec. Management Office (RMO) concerning the selective exclusion of all other SCJ jurists while retaining The Honourable Madam Justice Shore (spanning the temporal ambit of late August through October 2025; vide: Tab #3, Exhibit “A”; Tab #3, Exhibit “E”), was the Applicant apprised of Her Ladyship’s prior, undisclosed judicial engagement in a matter directly concerning the Applicant. This judicial involvement arose from the ex parte in camera hearing(s)—which, by sylogistic extrapolation and the evidential matrix, are now denominated the Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings and the Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Process—that had engaged a judge of the Superior Court of Criminal Jurisdiction (vide: Criminal Code, section 2). This critical involvement transpired during Her Ladyship’s assignment to the Divisional Court, thus rendering the judicial appointment of concern susceptible to a prima facie challenge concerning the impartial maintenance of the status quo ante in litigation between the parties. (C.f. further analysis and evidentiary correspondence, the veracity of which remains unrefuted by the Divisional Court, concerning the critical distinction between the jurisdictional acta of a “court” versus the prerogative of a “judge,” as exhaustively documented at Tab #3, Exhibit “M”) It is axiomatic that this critical and belated disclosure was only precipitated following the Applicant’s exhaustive, due diligence endeavours to definitively ascertain and confirm the absence of involvement by the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) (vide: Tab #3, Exhibit “N” and “O”). This concerted effort was meticulously documented alongside substantive correspondence from the SCJ Judicial Office (vide: Tab #3, Exhibit “T”) and the SCJ Court Services Division (CSD) Records Division (vide: Tab #3, Exhibit “R”).
34. The breadth and specificity of the Applicant’s proactive inquiry was further evinced by formal communiqués directed to the Toronto Police Service (TPS) 14th and 52nd Divisions, the latter of which constituted a division formerly associated with Judicial Officer Jiri. More, the patent apprehension and evident desire to maintain the secrecy surrounding the judicial action on the part of the OCJ Crown's office became manifest when an unindividualized electronic mail account issued a unilateral and peremptory directive to the Applicant. This directive mandated the cessation of all further correspondence with the “assigned OCJ Crown” concerning the sought particulars pertaining to the identity of the undisclosed presiding jurist who authorized the Ex Parte In Camera Hearing relative to the “warrant in the first: issue” (vide: Tab #3, Exhibit “U”). This extraordinary step, viewed in juxtaposition with the prior non-disclosure, permits the extrapolation that a systemic effort was being deployed to circumvent the Applicant's legitimate pursuit of procedural and jurisdictional clarity.

35. Due to the demonstrable failure by the court staff, who are Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) employees which is juxtaposed from the conduct of the MAG FIPPA Division (see: Tab #3, Exhibit “D”), to provide the requisite invitation to Case Center, as mandated both by the Rules of Civil Procedure and the unambiguous language of the Divisional Court JRPA Guide, the Applicant was precluded from uploading the material. Whereas initial analytical focus was directed toward the purported motive of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore concerning assistance to the client of her former professional association, the primary operative motive is now posited to relate directly to the previously undisclosed judicial involvement in the criminal proceeding (which was purportedly concealed by the issuance of a False Information Package). These facts and the attendant fraud were discovered or arose subsequent to the commencement of the JRPA Proceeding and unequivocally post-March 6, 2025. Ergo, the various acts of fraud perpetrated by the court staff, alleged to have been unlawfully directed by Madam Justice Shore, which are reducible to orders in the form of the declaration sought with consequential relief, are asserted to satisfy all requisite elements: (i) Fraudulent Comportment Proved: The demonstration, upon a balance of probabilities, that representations made or omitted were executed with the knowledge of untruth or with reckless or careless disregard as to their veracity, with the internal inconsistency of some representations necessitating a judicial determination as to which are accurate and which are false, as mutual veracity is logically precluded; (ii) Materiality of the Fraudulent Comportment: The distinct counts of fraud possess the requisite materiality in that they are NOT required to be the sole determining factor, but rather a factor where the judicial officer's decision may have been reasonably affected in its result(s) had the concealed facts been fully known to the judicial officer at the critical time (Vale v. Sun Life). Where the process was subject to fraud, bribery, and extortion, the result is ipso facto rendered null; for it has been established axiomatically that the integrity of the process substantially affects the legitimacy of the results; and (iii) Distinct Issues of Fraud Undisclosed to the Moving Party: The failure to furnish the Applicant with the invitation to Case Center is asserted to be dispositive against the Respondents and in favour of the Applicant, necessitating Judgment on the grounds of NOM #1 and NOM #2, as all steps, documents, directions, determinations, requirements, and orders must be set aside upon a multiplicity of distinct legal grounds. The matter “filed” in the JSO Portal constitutes part of the Divisional Court JRPA record of proceeding but remains unknown to any judicial officer UNTIL it is uploaded into Case Center, and while judicial acquiescence or aiding and abetting the frauds is alleged, the concealment of even the Applicant's “filed” documents is also asserted. The Applicant is entitled to the relief under Chapter 1, Volume 4.1 specifically Order 4.1.1., 4.2, Volume 5.1.

ISSUE #6: THE JURIDICAL FOUNDATION FOR THE REMEDY OF BRIBERY AND SECRET COMMISSION

36. The indispensable juridical standard required for the efficacious establishment of the tort of bribery, which is fundamentally predicated upon the remittance or transmission of a secret commission, was definitively explicated within the confines of the seminal appellate pronouncement issued by the Ontario Court of Appeal, specifically Enbridge Gas Distribution Inc. v. Marinaccio, 2012 ONCA 650; the exhaustive exposition of this authoritative judgment, which proceeded from the Honourable Justices Laskin and Blair JJ.A. and Brown R.S.J. (Ad Hoc), is located at paragraph 33. It has been subsequently posited and maintained as an established and incontrovertible legal tenet that the subjective mens rea, or the unmanifested interior motivations and mental states of the involved transactional parties, are jurisprudentially deemed matters wholly extraneous and materially irrelevant to the objective determination of legal culpability associated with the aforementioned tort (Marinaccio, at paragraph 39). The conveyance and subsequent reception of undisclosed pecuniary inducements are universally adjudged by the judiciary to constitute a demonstrably deleterious and corrosive practice, a position that is further articulated in the compelling English jurisprudence of Wood v Commercial First Business Ltd & Ors, 2021 EWCA Civ 471 (BAILII) at paragraph 42. Such nefarious activity, which is wholly devoid of equivocation or mitigation, constitutes a profound subversion of the requisite institutional integrity necessary for the felicitous operation of the open market and is unequivocally detrimental to the essential good governance of both public and private corporate entities, a sentiment previously characterized by Lord Templeman in Attorney-General for Hong Kong v Reid (1993), 1994

1 AC 324 (PC (Eng)), as “an evil practice which threatens the foundational tenets of any civilised society” (at page 330). Formal submission of an indispensable observation must be undertaken concerning the bifurcated regulatory framework currently applicable to occurrences of corruption: the criminal law is predominantly established through specific, meticulously drafted statutory enactment, whereas the civil law, which is competently utilized to furnish remedial recourse within this particular jurisdictional context, is founded entirely upon the organic expansion of the common law and its attendant equitable jurisprudence. Ergo, the fundamental juridical basis for the lawful imposition of liability in instances of civil bribery is a matter residing solely within the purview of the common law's developmental trajectory and corresponding equitable principles. It is incumbent upon this analysis to observe that, in marked and distinct contradistinction to general criminal offences—which encompass, inter alia, criminal conspiracy, elaborate fraud schemes, the purloining of assets, the possession of criminally obtained property, and complex money laundering—the Criminal Code (hereinafter “the Code”) has been demonstrated to enact a multiplicity of circumscribed offences, each having been meticulously designed to address variegated forms of domestic corruption and bribery (see sections 119–125, 426). The hypothetical circumstance, whereby a municipal functionary solicits or receives pecuniary consideration in reciprocal exchange for the provision of heightened co-operation or undue favouritism toward the remunerating corporate entity, assumes paramount pertinence in casu. Such demonstrably egregious conduct has the potential, in a subsequent stage of the adjudicative process, to occasion the exposure of the aforementioned functionary to criminal prosecution pursuant to section 122 (breach of trust by public officer) and/or section 123 (municipal corruption) of the Code. As was stipulated by the Honourable Richards JA (as he then was) in Strudwick v Lee, 2007 SKCA 11, section 123 “in the most unvarnished terms, unequivocally proscribes the payment of bribes to municipal officials” (at paragraph 16). Beyond a reasonable doubt, Mrs. Dorothy-During Gibbs, a CAMH employee professionally situated within the same CAMH building where the TDI Karat Theft occurred, later purchasing Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk’s former Grandview Oshawa Property, some 60 kilometres from CAMH, at $120,000 more than the listed purchase price (invitation to treat), with TD Bank as the mortgagee, was some form of secret commission. Within the civil realm, the doctrine of bribery is precisely situated within the interstice existing between the common law and equitable jurisprudence, given that measures offering remedial relief for established acta of bribery may be competently derived from both jurisdictional domains (see Wood at paragraph 94). The assertion of allegations pertaining to bribery is invariably observed to occasion the emergence of multiple, overlapping, and occasionally recondite juridical bases for the necessary procurement of relief, with legal actions sounding simultaneously in contract and in tort, and also pursuant to the established principles of equity (reference is made to the then erudite and now Honourable Mr. Justice Paul M Perell, “Remedies for the Victims of a Bribe” (1999) 22:2 Adv Q 198; and Peter T Burns & Joost Blom, Economic Torts in Canada, 2nd ed (LexisNexis, 2016) at chapter 10). The operable judicial delineation of the term “bribe” was competently articulated by Leggatt J (as he then was) in Anangel v IHI (1989), 1990 1 Lloyd’s Rep 167 (QB (Eng)), in which case the proclamation was made that a bribe constitutes a “commission or other inducement, which is given by a third party to an agent as such, and which is secret from his principal” (at page 171). Crucially, it must be emphasized that the semantic field and application of the term “bribe” encompass a far more expansive ambit than its popular, vernacular acceptation, extending “well beyond its popular connotation of a corrupt payment, to include any payment or gift made as an inducement to an ‘agent’ and not disclosed to the ‘principal’ “ (Wood at paragraph 43). The existence of a fiduciary duty owed by the First Insurer to the injured or impaired individual is recognized pursuant to the binding Ontario jurisprudence that is governing this common law province. The appellate authority in Beasley (paragraph 34) employed language that was unequivocal, finding that the fiduciary obligations incumbent upon an insurance company, irrespective of their provisional or permanent designation, are immediately triggered by the operative requirement to remit benefits (should such an obligation exist). The Honourable Justice Moore explicitly found that “[34] The relationship between an insured and an insurer in accident benefits matters involves a duty of good faith, a fiduciary obligation; the relationship between plaintiff and defendant in a tort action does not. The obligation, if any, to pay accident benefits is very different from the exposure, if any, that a defendant faces in a tort action.”

37. As was profoundly elucidated by Richards LJ in Wood, the inherent iniquity associated with the tendering of a corrupt inducement, particularly when directed toward the specific purpose of securing civil remedies, resides in the potentiality that the payee may be induced to consciously or inadvertently derogate from the comprehensive duty of fidelity owed to the appointing principal (at paragraph 44). An indisputable entitlement to the certitude that the agent shall conduct all affairs exclusively and entirely for the principal’s best interests is maintained by the principal. The operative juridical test for the necessary determination of whether a pecuniary transmission, a supplementary benefit, or a promise constitutes a bribe is entirely contingent upon the actualization of a realistic prospect of a conflict of interest arising as between the appointed agent and the instructing principal. It is critically important to underscore that the exigency of the present application for judicial review and this Notice of Motion No. 3 necessitates the nullification and dissolution of all antecedent procedural directives and orders—which are procedural steps that were demonstrably tainted by the corrupt practice—as opposed to the establishment of a novel cause of action per se. The primary objective has been designated as the systemic unwinding of the compromised judicial proceedings to restore the status quo ante. The subject, Mr. Karat, possessed four distinct corporate insurance entities—specifically SNIC, TDGIC, Primmum, and TDHA—as his operable principals, for which authorization to act had been duly conferred; these entities are herein collectively identified as the Respondent Insurance Companies. Furthermore, the former SABS Manager was similarly subjected to corrupting influences; nevertheless, the designation of the latter was managerial, thereby rendering the insurance companies the per se principals to whom a paramount duty of fidelity was owed. The secret commission associated with the Fleet Oshawa Domicile, having been received by the subject Mr. Karat, was indisputably secured from TD Bank, rather than having been provided directly by any of the aforementioned Respondent Insurance Companies. It is axiomatically established that, as of 2015, TD Bank was the sole Schedule I bank maintaining corporate entities affiliated or associated with the insurance sector, notwithstanding the legal mandate requiring the maintenance of strict juridical separation between these entities. The temporal proximity observed between the material events is ineluctably suggestive of fundamental malfeasance and illicit arrangement. Consent to the acquisition of a novel residential property was furnished to the subject Mr. Karat, or was executed with the provision of extreme financial and resource assistance, by TD Bank—a transaction conspicuously structured with the intent to effectuate the exclusion of the spouse’s legal name from the deed—on November 8, 2025, which is a date separated by a mere fortnight subsequent to the alleged incident of fraud and theft perpetrated on October 25, 2024. The pecuniary consideration associated with this acquisition was calculated to be in the approximate amount of one million dollars. Prior to the execution of this transaction, the individuals Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk were perceived as being exceedingly financially encumbered (“highly leveraged”) with respect to the 625 Grandview Home, having acquired a minimal equity stake amounting to only 1.5 per cent in April 2020. Considering the high degree of certainty that the majority of the monthly blended mortgage payments would have been predominantly allocated toward the servicing of interest throughout the initial quadrennium, and having regard to the mandatory requirement for CMHC insurance, it becomes a self-evident conclusion that the cumulative charges related to property taxes and utilities would have effectively annihilated any accrued equity of a negligible nature. The accumulated student debt carried by the subject Mr. Karat, whose entire academic trajectory was demonstrably characterized by a consistent absence of academic or professional probity from quasi-undergraduate studies through to the paralegal program and subsequent commencement of duties as a legal assistant in 2016 following a septennial period of fledgling, resultless academia, rendered the entirety of said debt an encumbrance entirely devoid of any prospective future value. Upon the preponderance of probabilities, the sylogistic inference that is required to be drawn is that the subject Mr. Karat, operating solely and independently (considering that the existence of “Ms. Karat” constitutes an unverifiable construct generating a fraudulent instrument and fraudulent document), did not possess the requisite liquid assets indispensable to effectuate the purchase of a one-million-dollar domicile prior to October 25, 2024, or during the subsequent period preceding November 7, 2024, unless involvement in conduct constituting fraud and theft had been previously undertaken, which was underlaid by the promise of a “secret commission,” thereby operating to preclude the Applicant's legitimate exercise of all attendant rights. An indisputable contention that a secret commission was received by the subject Mr. Karat exists, as evidenced by the irrevocable consent that was given for the acquisition of a one-million-dollar property, which occurred in the complete absence of any concomitant guarantees or warranties pertaining to the expeditious sale of his then-existing residence. The demonstrable lack of a prior listing of the property serves to further compound the inference of a covert and undisclosed arrangement. Furthermore, while it is manifestly evident that a pecuniary inducement was also received by the individual Mrs. During-Gibbs of CAMH—a transaction manifested through her utilization as a nom de paille purchaser on an inflated valuation of the 625 Grandview Home, in which her spouse's father secured a nominal 1 per cent proprietary stake—it must be formally acknowledged that CAMH and its affiliated agents have not been designated as respondents within the confines of the present litigation. The assertion proffered by Mr. Nieuwland that the subject inducement originated with the undifferentiated entity “TD” (rather than the distinct corporate entities TDGIC, SNIC, or TDHA) constitutes a rhetorical lapsus linguae, a linguistic error that is highly suggestive of a conflation of separate entities, which is a state that was intentionally obscured by the pervasive nature of the underlying fraudulent scheme. The official instruments issued by the Land Titles Office, per se, incontrovertibly establish that a secret commission, defined either as a monetary value or an ascertainable benefit, was rendered to the subject Mr. Karat by TD Bank, as opposed to having been provided by the discrete insurance corporate entities comprising the TDI Group. This demonstrably illicit transaction was fundamentally predicated upon the acta of theft perpetrated by Mr. Karat on October 25, 2024, from which the actionable theft realized a direct pecuniary commodum. Nihilominus, this collective conduct is determined to have irrevocably tainted the entirety of the judicial proceeding. It is an unavoidable and necessary consequence that all individuals associated or affiliated with CAMH and the purloining of the Applicant's property—a substantial portion of which was critically required for the Judicial Review and Procedural Adjudication (JRPA) Proceeding—shall be permanently barred from securing any financial or procedural commodum stemming from their demonstrably improper conduct.

ISSUE #7: EXTORTION: VEILED REFERENCES AND THREATS EMBEDDED AND BOOKED ON TOP OF FRAUD

38. The exigent juridical analysis, specifically directed toward the actionable wrong of extortion, necessarily mandates a comprehensive, bifurcated consideration of its complex and manifold legal provenance, thereby contrasting its historical development with its current statutory codification. Whereas the common law tradition must be acknowledged as providing the historical substructure for the correlative actionable wrong of bribery, the primary fons et origo of the contemporary criminal offence of extortion is demonstrably and immutably entrenched within the sui generis statutory framework of the Criminal Code, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-46, being specifically located within Part IX, which bears the appellation 'Offences Against Rights of Property'. Irrespective of this stipulated penal origin, the assertion is herein formally advanced by the Applicant that, predicated upon a preponderance of probability capable of surpassing the requisite evidentiary threshold for civil liability, the collective acta of the agents and authorised representatives deployed by the Respondent Insurance Companies—whose conduct was arguably compounded propter hoc by the patent procedural subterfuge emanating from the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT)—constitute, in casu, the perpetration of the civil wrong of extortion against the Applicant, the gravamen of which remains inextricably rooted in the established common law precepts of this sovereign jurisdiction. The extortion contained in Tab #3, Exhibit “F”, was self-evident when an email from the “Court Services Management Diversion Program Email Account” threatened the Applicant with legal jeopardy for exercised required due diligence by his letters to the President of the Divisional Court and the RSJ of the SCJ (Toronto Region) (see: Tab #3, Exhibit “H”) regarding the obstructionist conduct of the courts through the court staff. Said CSMD email had an inconsistent signature of the “JSSO” which was troubling in of itself let alone the contents of the email were part of pattern, most similar with that of the criminal conduct of the Respondent Insurance Companies from October 25, 2024, to at least June 2025 (the Epstein Cole LLP Client public mischief criminal complaint against the Applicant). The statutory proscription against such conduct is precisely articulated in subsection 346(1) of the Criminal Code. The offence of Extortion is principally constituted by the penalisation of specific conduct that is definitively characterized by the systematic deployment of intimidation and the consequent, unwarranted interference with the volitional autonomy of the afflicted party (R. v. Davis, 1999 CanLII 638 (SCC), per Lamer C.J.). A fortiori, the statutory provision was meticulously devised for the express and singular purpose of counteracting the strategic deployment of coercion, the universal telos of which is intended to vitiating a complainant's requisite free will toward the objective of extracting a pecuniary, material, or otherwise advantageous emolument; whereupon, as was cogently expressed by Doherty J.A. in the apposite jurisprudence of R. v. Alexander, 2005 CanLII 32566 (ON CA), at paragraph 71, the determination becomes axiomatic that the legislative animus is fundamentally directed against those whose methodologies involve the utilization of coercion to overcome the free will of others for the explicit purpose of effecting some form of illicit gain. This establishes that the legislative concern is concentrated not upon the intrinsic nature of the ultimate gain per se, but almost exclusively upon the modus operandi—specifically, the improper and compulsory exertion of undue pressure intended to induce the subject's compelled compliance thereof. Furthermore, it is persuasively posited that an implied or subtly veiled reference to a potential detriment may, sub judice, fully suffice to establish the existence of a viable threat, provided that a judicious examination of the totality of the ambient circumstances definitively demonstrates that the communication was adequate to convey to the recipient the undesirable ramification or the perceived apprehension sought to be circumvented (R. v. Barros, 2016 ABQB 243 (CanLII), per Lee J., at paragraph 16); from this logical extrapolation, it is made self-evident that an express declaration of harm is not a requisite precondition for establishing the essential mens rea of the alleged perpetrators, as the necessary criminal intent can be unequivocally inferred from the objective and systematic presentation of the coercive actions employed. The continuous and unremitting temporal sequence of the Respondents' demonstrated conduct is herein considered to constitute a demonstrable nexus of coercive acta, commencing with the alleged misappropriation perpetrated by a representative of one of the Respondent Insurance Companies on October 25, 2024; immediately proceeding therefrom through the overt fraudulent misrepresentation orchestrated by the Epstein Cole LLP Client on October 28, 2024; subsequently encompassing the elaborate fabrication of the false reservation record concerning the Aga Khan Museum on November 8, 2024 (an act which included profoundly specific and contextualized insinuations pertaining to the Keffiyeh scarf, thereby establishing a disturbing and prescient linkage of the current scenario to broader geopolitical and historical conflicts); and ultimately extending to the unauthorized conduct culminating in the TPL Reference slew of fraud on December 13, 21, or 28, 2024; irrespective of the individual characteristics of these multiple instances, each action was meticulously conceived and executed for the express purpose of subjugating or representing an unambiguous attempt to vitiating the Applicant's volitional capacity toward the procurement of an illicit advantage, thereby establishing, in limine, the requisite prima facie case. Within the restrictive context of this actionable wrong, the consummation of the illicit extraction is not deemed to be a requisite element; rather, the fundamental legal inquiry is focused exclusively upon the demonstrable attempt to impose illegitimate duress or to create a reasonable apprehension of harm, which egregious endeavour, being utterly distinct from the mere threat of a legitimate civil recourse (the contemplation or execution of which the Respondent's agent has repeatedly evinced no cognitive capacity to effectuate), fully satisfies the statutory precondition of the offence. Furthermore, the spurious complaint subsequently lodged with official law enforcement organs, in his very jurisdiction which coincided with the Queen and Saulter TPL Branch but not by coincidence, by the Epstein Cole LLP Client in June 2025 constitutes indispensable, additional evidentiary material supportive of the Applicant's prevailing claim, given that this patently retaliatory action transpired precisely at the juncture when the Epstein Cole Client's deceptive machinations had become definitively exposed, coinciding with the occurrence of his corporate dismissal from the TDI Group due to palpable professional misconduct, which unfortunate circumstance renders his functional designation adjectival to the core issue of duress, thus rendering the subsequent lodging of the complaint ipso facto evidence of an intent to inflict unwarranted harm in retaliatory response to the uncovering of the initial coercive scheme and the consequent displacement of the status quo ante.

ISSUE #8: INTERIM AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF; MANDATORY PROPRIETARY RELIEF

Statutory and Procedural Foundation for Interlocutory Orders versus Inherent Jurisdiction

39. The authority for the granting of both injunctive and proprietary relief is demonstrably conferred without ambiguity by the provisions set forth in sections 101 and 102 of the Courts of Justice Act (CJA). The procedural apparatus requisite for the prosecution of such interlocutory or mandatory orders finds its due authorization within Rule 40.01 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. Moreover, in scrupulous adherence to the prescriptive tenets of Rule 40.03, a declared undertaking concerning the potential liability for damages has been formally furnished. Pursuant to the powers legitimately vested by Rule 45.01(1), the Divisional Court is empowered to issue an interim order for the custody or preservation of any res—specifically defined as property—which either constitutes the subject matter of the extant proceeding or is deemed instrumental to a material issue in litis (vide: Tab #4, paragraphs 18 and 19 of the statutory declaration). Demands have been made upon the thieves, fraudsters, extortionists and bribees but without response (see: Tab #3, Exhibit “Y”). The inherent jurisdiction of the Superior Court of Justice is understood to extend ipso facto to the preclusion of any foreseeable frustration of the civil process, an imperative duty realised most acutely through the pre-emptive prevention of the calculated suppression or subversion of material evidence. This guiding principle has been authoritatively delineated by the Court of Appeal for Ontario in Ontario Realty Corp. v. P. Gabriele & Sons Ltd. (at paragraphs 13–15; vide: Tab #4, page 6 of 111, paragraph 21). Such a jurisprudential stance is unequivocally buttressed by the subsequent judicial pronouncements articulated in Young v. IAMGOLD Corporation (at paragraph 76). A crucial dialectical interplay must necessarily be acknowledged between the panoply of interim, injunctive, and interlocutory judicial remedies accessible within the purview of the Superior Court of Justice, operating in its dual capacity as an intermediate judicial review and appellate body (Divisional Court), and the corresponding prerogative pertaining to the nullification of extant procedural steps, filed documentation, and prior fiats. This requisite synergy is fundamentally governed by the Court’s overarching inherent jurisdiction to act pro bono justitiae, thereby ensuring the complete and unimpeachable integrity of the entire judicial system. The conceptual demarcation separating the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) from the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG)—the latter acting in representation of the Crown—is predicated upon the essential prerequisite of adjudicative independence, irrespective of Tribunals Ontario’s incorporation into the governmental nomenclature of provincial ministries. Despite this structural exigency, the jurisprudence established in Derenzis confirms that Tribunals Ontario performs the function of the records holder pertaining to proceedings conducted before the LAT, with its legal representation having been provided by Counsel for MAG. Furthermore, the judicial determination rendered in Young v. IAMGOLD Corporation, 2022 ONSC 3811, affirms the propriety of judicial reliance upon analogous professional regulatory case law and expressly stipulates that the principle mandating the maintenance of the status quo ante is not strictly circumscribed to circumstances involving constitutional challenge or instances of manifest ultra vires conduct or the deliberate flouting of the law by the Crown. This judicial directive confirms that the governing legal principle possesses the requisite elasticity to permit broad interpretation, a mechanism which demonstrably facilitates the attainment of equitable justice as between the respective litigating parties (vide: Young v. IAMGOLD Corporation, 2022 ONSC 3811 (CanLII), at paragraph 76). Notwithstanding the aforementioned judicial flexibility, the facts underlying the present matter reveal conduct that constitutes, at the very least, a deliberate flouting of the law by the Crown, which conduct has demonstrably compromised or irrevocably prejudiced the fairness and procedural rectitude of this Judicial Review Proceeding (JRPA Proceeding). The precondition sine qua non for the formal issuance of a preservation order pursuant to Rule 45.01 is the satisfactory establishment that the res is demonstrably “in question in a proceeding or relevant to an issue in a proceeding.” The Court of Appeal, in its pivotal pronouncement in BMW Canada Inc. v. Autoport Ltd., 2021 ONCA 42, stipulated that the application of a singular, monolithic test is inappropriate, considering the myriad factual circumstances under which the interim preservation of property may be legitimately requested. Consequently, the judiciary is mandated to undertake a comprehensive consideration of all evidence adduced on the motion and to judicially fashion a directive that most aptly and judiciously responds to the specific exigencies of the circumstances in limine. Notwithstanding this judicial discretion, in the prosecution of the present application, the venerable three-part test articulated in the above determined to represent the most suitable legal metric. This test necessitates the establishment of the following indispensable criteria by the party petitioning for the preservation order: 1. The asset designated for preservation must constitute the subject matter of the originating dispute. 2. A serious issue must be shown to exist for adjudication concerning the proprietary claim being advanced to the aforementioned asset. 3. The balance of convenience must be demonstrated to preponderate decisively in favour of the immediate granting of the requested relief. It is further observed that the ratio decidendi in BMW Canada Inc. v. Autoport Ltd. had previously incorporated a four-element schema, wherein the third constituent component required the demonstration that the property was strictly essential for the successful prosecution or defence of the claim. This specific prerequisite has since been jurisprudentially abolished or integrated into the more comprehensive and expansive legal metric established in the aforementioned framework.

40. The fundamental raison d'être of the adjudicative process is, prima facie, recognised as a truth-seeking function; consequently, the judicial process may not, under any circumstances, be executed in a state of informational opacity or in an aggressively obstructionist manner. Should the sanctity of this Honourable Divisional Court be maintained as a paramount concern, the inevitable and necessary sylogism dictates that all fiats and prior directives issued by the various respective entities must be produced immediately for the requisite inspection by the Divisional Court and all other interested parties legally entitled to such perusal and examination. Formal application is made for the issuance of comprehensive orders mandating the preservation, production, and disclosure of all material documentation, germane communications, and extant records. The procurement of such stringent judicial directives is deemed absolutely essential for the guarantee of the unimpeachable integrity of the judicial review proceeding and for the safeguarding of the fundamental right to a full and fair hearing. The judiciary has consistently acknowledged the exigent importance of robust disclosure in those circumstances comprising credible allegations of official misconduct and fundamental procedural irregularity. Therefore, it is formally requested that the Divisional Court exercise its inherent authority to compel the Respondents to effect the production of all documents and communications that bear demonstrable relevance to the issues currently forming the substance of the dispute, as meticulously delineated within the appended schedules. Concomitantly, the precise entitlement to the specified relief is established and formally articulated within Chapter #1, Volume 5.2 of NOM No. 3.

PART IV: CONCLUDING STATEMENTS IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST AND RESPECTFULLY ORDERS REQUESTED

41. The Applicant courteously notes that infra concluding statements are for purposes of inferential and circumstantial connections between like-minded persons with no castigation of background, faith, religion or otherwise. Upon the governance structures of the Province of Ontario, the imperative rests for the strict assurance that all individuals invested with public trust and professional licensure shall adhere to an uncompromising standard of accountability. Whereas the regulatory surveillance of all legal practitioners, including those subject to allegations of protracted professional misconduct or malfeasance—specifically those ascribed to certain un-licensed entities—remains integrally within the authorized purview of the Law Society of Ontario (LSO), the comportment exigently required of its designated licensees and, indeed, of elected officials occupying ministerial portfolio, must invariably be subjected to a distinctly superior threshold of comprehensive regulatory scrutiny. A Minister of the Crown, by virtue of the conferral of the titular designation of The Honourable, is axiomatically bound to the execution of the duties of said office with an irrefutable and demonstrable fidelity to the foundational precepts of impartial governmental administration. The ostensible politicization of ministerial privilege, most notably when manifested through the discernible prioritization of the agenda of a singular ethno-religious demographic—denominated as “Jewish faith based safety”—evokes a prima facie apprehension regarding the comprehensive and equitable application of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (hereinafter, the Charter) across the entirety of marginalized populations resident within the provincial jurisdiction; consequently, such observed actions, or the perception generated therefrom, necessarily compel a meticulous assessment of whether the Minister’s exercise of governmental power has potentially exceeded the delineated scope of statutory authority, thereby formally rendering the action ultra vires. The critical deficiency in the direct regulatory surveillance exerted by the LSO over specific non-licensees, which is exemplified by the protracted conduct attributed to the individual denominated as Mr. Karat, is observed to have fundamentally engendered an environment conducive to actionable malfeasance, thereby positioning the aforementioned individual as the ideal vector for the alleged unauthorized and unrepentant contraventions of the Law Society Act (LSA) and the concomitant LSO By-Laws, as documented within the SNIC Response and all subsequent evidentiary materials. This specific post facto fraudulent activity, which was purportedly ghost-drafted by the Epstein Cole Client, subsequently occasioned a response from the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) that demonstrably evinced a discernible pattern of procedural equivocation—a pattern which bears a remarkable analogy to that previously observed within the OIPC FIPPA proceeding between McLean v. LAT; this sequence of events necessarily compels the drawing of a direct and crucial inference concerning the underlying mens rea motivating institutional complicity and the resultant sanitization of the alleged regulatory breaches.

42. Such administrative manoeuvring is situated in direct and material contradistinction to the controlling precedent formally established by the erudite and jurisprudentially sound adjudicators of the LAT in the antecedent matters of Dankha and Mosa (specifically: Vice-Chair McGee and Vice-Chair Maedel), within which it was unequivocally adjudicated that the Tribunal is statutorily devoid of any authority to condone infractions of the LSA or the LSO’s governing regulatory instruments. The unilateral effectuation of the substitution of the sole-named insurer with a distinct, non-first-party corporate entity, TDGIC, was allegedly executed by the LAT at the explicit behest of the aforementioned non-licensee and the Epstein Client, and was thereupon subsequently ratified, de jure, through the Director of Appeals' (DOR) formal determination rendered in late January 2024, notwithstanding the fact that the initial alleged insurer, SNIC, had previously purported to submit a Response pursuant to the mandatory provisions of section 280(2) of the Insurance Act. The subsequent demonstrable reluctance of the Tribunal to formally place the comprehensive record of proceeding on file is therefore not merely suggestive of a benign administrative oversight, but rather is determined to constitute a statutory prohibition against the permissibility of such actions. The judicial disposition, formally rendered by the presiding Justice on the designated date of October 10, 2025, is observed to incorporate specific declarations pertaining to the accessibility of court records, notably the assertion that “no audio/transcripts (sic) can be provided.” This statement, within its operative context, is susceptible to interpretation as a potential and fundamental misapprehension of the established administrative protocols promulgated by the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG). A meticulous and comprehensive review of the pertinent administrative directives, which encompass, inter alia, the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide (2019) and the Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual (2024), unequivocally reveals an intricate and prescribed framework governing the disclosure of information assets, documents, and transcripts; the judicial pronouncement, particularly if it substantively represents an unwarranted conflation of distinct legal regimes—such as the jurisdictional separation between civil law and family law—exigently demands a formal and comprehensive review by the designated regulatory oversight body to definitively ascertain complete adherence to the stipulated judicial access standards. Furthermore, the employment of an overtly strident and apparently unrepentant rhetorical style within the disposition is subjected to intensive examination, as this stylistic choice constitutes a significant deviation from the requisite objective and neutral tone uniformly appropriate for formal judicial pronouncements; the necessary sylllogism which must inexorably be derived from the entirety of the procedural history dictates that the presiding Justice, being demonstrably cognizant of the voluminous evidentiary breadth implicating both the former client and the Justice's previous legal firm, was demonstrably and intentionally wilfully blind and, ergo, materially obstructionist in the final judicial determination. Moreover, the quantitative representation of judicial officers within the Toronto Region—comprising approximately ninety-two Superior Court Justices (SCJ), seventy-five Ontario Court Justices (OCJ), and seventy-five Justices of the Peace—necessitates an inquiry into the deliberate selection of the latter for the issuance of the alleged fictitious arrest warrant. The proposition is thus advanced that the integrity of the SCJ and OCJ complement would refrain from participation, either actively or tacitly, in such an undertaking; this supposition is predicated upon the presumption of adherence to paramount judicial independence. While Justices of the Peace are likewise presumed to possess high integrity, notwithstanding the frequent absence of a formal legal education or professional regulatory experience, the selection of an SCJ or OCJ Judge would have permitted the immediate adjudication of the matter via interlocutory applications, such as a Motion to Set Aside or a Garofoli Application. As is well known to this Divisional Court, royal prerogative writs can only be granted by a court possessing inherent jurisdiction. Consequently, the deployment of a Justice of the Peace operating within the Central West Region OCJ Brampton jurisdiction, necessitating personal service upon JP Jiri, is construed as a tactical manoeuvre intended to establish unduly burdensome distance requirements for the Applicant, though this strategic objective was ultimately circumvented by the efficacious personal service. Notwithstanding the procedural elements, the compelling and material inference that must be drawn from the confluence of Madam Justice Shore's judicial actions, the ministerial portfolio of SOLGEN Kerzner, and the specific personal characteristics of JP Jiri, resides in the Justice of the Peace's unique and publicly advertised fluency in Assyrian—more technically denominated as Neo-Assyrian or Aramaic. For the aforementioned government officials, who publicly and proudly affiliate with Jewish faith-based principles—a commitment further evidenced by the SOLGEN's represented annual travel to Israel and public-facing social media content reflecting an almost exclusive concentration upon Jewish safety and rights, save for ancillary celebratory acknowledgments pertaining to the cultural interests of the Georgian and Azerbaijani communities, with a specific focus on the Kurdistan region (which comprises the Eastern part of Turkey, the northern part of Iraq, the northern part of Iran, and the northern part of Syria), the latter being characterized by the Minister as a “Jewish-Azerbaijan fusion”—this shared linguistic and cultural heritage becomes analytically salient. It is, therefore, posited that the initially issued arrest warrant, which was accepted on its face upon the strength of a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment by Madam Justice Shore and executed under the guise of JP Jiri, represents a functional fusion between senior Jewish government officials and a Justice of the Peace who is publicly affiliated with the Assyrian Church of the East, a linkage predicated upon significant historical, linguistic, and cultural commonalities inherent to both the Assyrian Church of the East and Judaism, principally rooted in their common ancient Near Eastern (Semitic) heritage, given that the early Christian communities in Mesopotamia substantially derived from the surrounding Jewish traditions. Moreover, the intrinsic integrity of governmental administrative processes is implicated by the official response rendered to the Applicant's FIPPA request (as referenced in: Tab #4, Exhibit "J"), within which the Ministry of the Solicitor General is alleged to have engaged in the deliberate manipulation of the official Ontario government logo. Such copyright infringement intra the Ministry was brought to the attention of SOLGEN Kerzner but was demonstrably devoid of a ministerial response. Rhetorically speaking, an inquiry arises as to the identity of the other government logo that was similarly manipulated in the prior False Information Package, purportedly on September 23, 2024, antecedent to the JRPA Proceeding. The question is inherently self-answering, but for the sake of reference, the manipulated document was page three of five in the False Information Package, wherein the Ontario Court of Justice logo was falsely inputted with the name of "George Jiri" and the annotation "digitally signed," yet crucially absent was any actual signature (whether handwritten, electronic, or digital) in contradiction of the attendant Secure Electronic Signature Regulation under two pertinent federal statutes, the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) and the Canada Evidence Act (Federal). It is more than trite to state that the police possess the sole authority to investigate crimes and the Crown, operating under the MAG, is charged with the prosecution of said crimes. It is further axiomatic that the police must possess reasonable grounds to believe that a person has committed or will commit an offence to secure the attendance of an accused and potential defendant before a court by way of Criminal Code Form 6 Summons or Form 7 Warrant for Arrest, both of which necessitate the signature (actual, electronic, or digital) of a "justice." Oddly, a signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment is not a declared or sworn statement but is a document signed by the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO), the Attorney General of Canada (AGC), or the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), and the scope of its involvement would ordinarily pertain to the specific level of court including a judge of the SCJ, a judge of the Divisional Court, or a judge of the ONCA, pursuant to the Criminal Code, as it appertains to Ontario judges and the Courts of Justice Act (CJA), often through permissive ad hoc delegations by the Chief Justice of the ONCA, the President of the Divisional Court, or the Regional Senior Justice (RSJ) of the SCJ to the eight administrative regions. Hence, the "information" contained in the Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment may reference the superficial acceptance of the same on its face, but the necessity for a complete evidentiary review emerges when an examination is conducted behind the opaque chambers or undisclosed process. Should this serious assertion be ultimately sustained through evidentiary substantiation, such conduct would unequivocally represent a profound regulatory departure, one which necessitates immediate and robust institutional intervention to formally restore the status quo ante pertaining to the inviolable sanctity of governmental information and official communications. A consistent and demonstrable pattern of conduct, characterized by the deployment of litigious assertiveness directed toward private individuals, is strongly suggested by the similar fact evidence relating to the Justice's professional trajectory immediately prior to the elevation to the bench of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ). The subsequent demonstration of a pronounced defensive posture, which was purportedly necessitated by a critical deficiency of substantive acta available to provide adequate support for the October 10, 2025, disposition, became ipso facto evident upon a rigorous review of the formal judicial reasoning. The cardinal and enduring principle of the separation of ecclesiastical and state authority must be perpetually and unequivocally maintained, lest the fundamental credibility and institutional probity of both the judiciary and the political executive be irremediably compromised. The comprehensive catalogue of remedies constitutes the indispensable relief solicited by the Applicant, as meticulously delineated (vide: Tab No. 21). The overarching objective is the rectification of manifold jurisdictional and procedural irregularities, thereby facilitating the due administration of justice.

ALL OF WHICH IS RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED ON THIS 18th OF NOVEMBER 2025

 TD GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE f, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL,
 HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF

RESPONDENTS

NOTICE OF MOTION

The Applicant will make a motion to the court on Wednesday, December 3, 2025, at 9:30 a.m. (to be heard in writing)

PROPOSED METHOD OF HEARING: The motion is to be heard:

X In writing as an opposed motion under subrule 37.12.1 (4);

at the following location:

Address of Local Registrar court office:

Divisional Court
 130 Queen Street
 Room 174
 Toronto, ON
 M5H 2N5

THE MOTION IS FOR the following relief:

CHAPTER #1: ORDERS

ASSIGNMENT AND JUDICIAL REQUISITION ORDERS

1.1 Judicial Assignment Orders (Conflict of Interest)

AN ORDER that the President of the Divisional Court (pursuant to section 18(2) of the Courts of Justice Act) shall issue a Judicial Assignment mandating, in the most peremptory fashion, that the presiding motions Judge for this written motion shall not be, under any conceivable or colourable circumstances:

- The Honourable Madam Justice Shore (“Justice Shore”);
- The Honourable Madam Justice Melanie Kraft (“Justice Kraft”);
- Any other Justice who was actively employed by or served as a partner in the limited liability partnership of Epstein Cole (“Epstein Cole LLP”) during the temporal ambit spanning from the commencement of the Fall of 2017 to the present moment.

AN ORDER in the nature of a Fresh Justice Order, confirming with incontrovertible finality that where any previous requirements, ‘directions’, determinations, findings, judgment, or orders unilaterally issued by Madam Justice Shore (the “Justice Shore Steps”) are sought to be set aside, such remedial relief shall be heard and determined exclusively by a Divisional Court Judge.

INTERIM AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

2.1 Preservation, Delivery, and Injunctive Orders (TDI Karat Theft)

AN IMMEDIATE ORDER requiring any of the automotive insurance companies in the TDIA Group, Mr. Karat, and his supervisor Mr. Papadimitropoulos to undertake all reasonable and effective steps to preserve and secure all confidential and proprietary information of the Applicant, whether such information exists in hard copy or electronic form, until the final and conclusive disposition of this action (the Interim, Interlocutory, and Permanent Injunction).

AN ORDER mandating the immediate and unreserved delivery up of the Applicant’s property that was subject to the TDI Karat Theft on October 25, 2024, and subsequently utilized and/or disclosed, to the Applicant within three (3) days of the pronouncement of this Order.

2.2 Nunc Pro Tunc and Conversion Orders

AN ORDER that all orders herein, where applicable, are granted nunc pro tunc.

AN ORDER converting this motion, due to the demonstrated and inexplicable lack of responsive material from the Respondents, ad judicium, and fraud, on its face, into a Motion for Final Judgment.

2.3 Leave to File Further Submissions

AN ORDER granting leave to the Applicant, PRIOR to the adjudication of the outstanding motion orders and herein Orders, based upon receipt of documents, records, evidence and things sought herein, to file further submissions and evidence limited to a certain number of pages.

AN ORDER pursuant to Rule 38.11 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, establishing the Rule 38.11 Order, confirming the Applicant’s entitlement to have the relief setting aside the Justice Shore Steps heard upon the tendering of three (3) days’ notice, subsequent to any ‘judgment’ or purported Order coming to the Applicant’s immediate attention.

3.1 Declarations Regarding Service, Appearance, and Defence

A DECLARATION that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) failed to “serve” its Notice of Appearance on November 27, 2024.

A DECLARATION that the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies failed to forthwith “deliver” their Notices of Appearances after being served with the Applicant’s JRPA Application.

A DECLARATION that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies failed to “deliver” their Notices of Appearances.

A DECLARATION that none of the Respondents as of December 3, 2024 (and beyond) had filed a “First Defence” as per Rule 77 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

A DECLARATION that there was a breach of Rule 38.07(1) of the Rules of Civil Procedure by the LAT.

A DECLARATION that there was a breach of Rule 38.07(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure by the Divisional Court providing notification of any steps or documents to the LAT, Respondent Insurance Companies and AGO by their failure to deliver Notices of Appearances.

A DECLARATION that any purported filings or de facto or de jure filings by the LAT or Respondent Insurance Companies post November 27 or December 3, 2024, were void ab initio and subject to the lack or insufficient notice rules under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

3.2 Declarations Regarding Case Management and Prior Steps

A DECLARATION and ORDER that as a consequence of the failure of the Respondents to have filed a “First Defence” on December 3, 2024, the LAT’s request for a case conference was contrary to Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, and the JRPA Proceeding could not have been “Assigned for Case Management.”

A DECLARATION and ORDER that Madam Justice Shore could not have assigned the JRPA Proceeding for case management and assigned the JRPA Proceeding for case management to herself.

AN ORDER that as a consequence of the same, any steps taken by Madam Justice Shore were null and void.

A DECLARATION that the request by the LAT on December 3, 2024, for the JRPA Proceeding to be assigned for case management was void ab initio.

A DECLARATION that the consideration by the case management judge of the Divisional Court of a request for assignment for case management and assignment of the case to herself and himself is void ab initio.

3.3 Declarations Regarding Electronic Filing Access (Case Center)

A DECLARATION that the Applicant was entitled to an invitation to the Divisional Court Case Center electronic platform immediately upon the formal commencement of this Judicial Review (JRPA) Proceeding on or around November 15, 2024, pursuant to the binding administrative directives and guidelines established in the Divisional Court JRPA Guide.

A DECLARATION that the portion of the Divisional Court JRPA Guide relating to the provision of an invitation to Case Center upon the commencement of a JRPA application is not inconsistent with the Rules of Civil Procedure.

A DECLARATION that the court staff, employed by the MAG, misled the Applicant about his entitlement relating to the timing and/or prerequisites for a self-represented accused to receive access to Case Center, and thereby breached their duty (see: emails between Applicant and Ms. Lawrence of the Divisional Court in December 2024).

A DECLARATION that court staff are not entitled to withhold access to Case Center and then unilaterally claim they will provide copies of filed materials to a judge or judges without consent.

A DECLARATION that any conference held without the Applicant possessing full electronic access and formal notification is hereby deemed an unlawful ex parte event, constituting an irremediable violation of the principles of natural justice and due process.

A DECLARATION that the Applicant was precluded from his invitation to Case Center, in part or in whole, because he was unfairly brandished as a criminal litigant before the SCJ when this was and is a civil matter, in contravention of the principles of procedural fairness.

3.4 Declarations Regarding Motions Hearing Prerequisites

A DECLARATION that the Applicant was entitled to have his Notice of Motion #1 and Notice of Motion #2 heard and determined, without the pre-condition of an invitation to Case Center, pursuant to his filed requisitions submitted in strict accordance with Rule 38.

A DECLARATION that the imposition of an unauthorized prerequisite (electronic Case Center access) necessary to hear a pending motion constitutes a subversion of the Rules and the equitable mandate of the Court, thereby frustrating the Applicant's recourse to judicial remedies.

3.5 Declarations Regarding Record and Notice (Form 68(B))

A DECLARATION that administrative tribunals, subsequent to the formal commencement and service of the JRPA Proceeding, are statutorily required to file the complete record of the proceeding forthwith and without undue, dilatory delay with the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court), pursuant to Section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act.

A DECLARATION that the Applicant was and all applicants in proceedings under the JRPA are entitled to the issuance of a Form 68(B) notice immediately subsequent to the filing and requisite payment for the Certificate of Perfection, or, in the alternative, at some point during the month of December 2024.

3.6 Declarations Regarding Tribunal Status

A DECLARATION that Tribunals Ontario is not legally equivalent to the LAT (Licence Appeal Tribunal).

DECLARATIONS OF LAW AND MISCONDUCT

4.1 Declarations of Misconduct (Fraud, Bribery, and Obstruction)

A FRAUD DECLARATION, declaring that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies committed a demonstrable fraud upon the Court with specific reference to the facts fully particularized in the Applicant's Affidavits, Factum, and evidence to be learned of from the case conference transcripts.

A DECLARATION that the conduct involving Mr. Karat, an employee of or contractor to the Respondent Insurance Companies, in stealing the Applicant's property on October 25, 2024, and subsequent related actions (purchase of new property, use of fictitious name by Ms. Julia Dunk) rose to the level of a bribe or bribery.

A FURTHER DECLARATION and ORDER that said declared act of bribery has tainted the proceeding and rises to the level of a special nullity such that any steps, requirements, orders, decisions, or judgments prejudicial to the Applicant must be set aside.

AN ORDER and DECLARATION that Madam Justice Shore was involved in undisclosed fashion in a prior judicial capacity with the Applicant with specific reference to the Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding.

AN OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE DECLARATION, declaring that the LAT and/or the Respondent Insurance Companies committed obstruction of justice prior to the origination of this JRPA Proceeding and throughout its subsequent prosecution.

4.2 Declaration of Fraud Scope

A DECLARATION that there is no requirement under Rule 59.06(2)(a) that the fraud be committed against an opposing party or by a party, and that it may be committed by any person so long as it had a material effect within the proceeding.

FINAL RELIEF, PRODUCTION, AND CONSEQUENTIAL ORDERS

5.1 Orders Setting Aside Prior Judicial Steps

AN ORDER setting aside, in toto and ab initio, all of the Justice Shore Steps pursuant to:

1. The Declarations of Law supra (relating to bias and procedural breach);
2. Rule 38.11 of the Rules of Civil Procedure on account of insufficient or non-existent notice; and
3. Rule 59 of the Rules of Civil Procedure on the grounds of fraud and miscarriage of justice, as the underlying judicial steps were irrevocably and fundamentally tainted by misconduct and conflict.

AN ORDER that Shore J's consideration of the LAT's void ab initio request for assignment for case management and assigning the JRPA Proceeding to herself was an impermissible delegation of authority, and/or contrary to Rule 77 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

5.2 Orders for Institutional and Third-Party Production of Records

5.2.1 Judicial Compulsion and Disclosure Orders (Justice Shore)

AN ORDER compelling Madam Justice Shore to provide an affidavit confirming or denying her prior judicial involvement with the Applicant within three (3) days of this Order, to be provided to the Applicant (party) and the Respondents (Non-Appearing Respondents) and the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO).

5.2.2 LAT Production Orders

AN ORDER that the LAT produce copies of the Undisclosed Motion Orders of July 24, 2024, and August 16, 2024, which are without reference to any motion of the Applicant or Respondents.

A DECLARATION that to the extent that the Applicant does not receive the requested records (Undisclosed Motion Orders) in his "TARA Request" of the LAT, the LAT was incapable of filing a true, accurate, and complete Record of Proceeding ("ROP") for the ROP Temporal Period.

5.2.3 SCJ/OCJ/ONCA Production Orders

AN ORDER that the SCJ or ONCA shall produce copies of any and all informations and indictments received involving the Applicant, including any associated or supporting documents or records (nota bene: a Form 4 Criminal Code must be filed electronically via email as per the Criminal Proceeding Rules of the SCJ (Ontario)).

AN ORDER that the OCJ, SCJ, and ONCA, through the respective managers of court operations, shall produce copies of any processes, arrest warrants, and/or warrants referenced under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code, and any authorizations, extensions, or renewals of interception of private communications denoted under section 184 of the Criminal Code issued, given, and/or made involving the Applicant.

5.2.4 TPS Production Orders

AN ORDER that the Toronto Police Service (TPS) produce any documents and records involving TPS Occurrence Numbers of Sunday September 15, 2024, and Sunday, September 22, 2024, and Police Case ID: 457197, including but not limited to any complaints made by any of the Respondents or their agents (actual or purported).

5.2.5 MAG/SOLGEN Production Orders

AN ORDER that any relevant ministry of the Ontario Government, with particular reference to the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) and the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), shall produce to the Parties (aside from itself with respect to the MAG) copies of any draft or signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments and/or any other documents relating to the Applicant.

5.2.6 Divisional Court Internal Records

AN ORDER commanding the immediate production to the parties of the name of the Local Administrative Judge of the Divisional Court during the critical operational period spanning from December 2024 to January 2025 (the “LAJ Name Order”) (if any).

AN ORDER mandating the immediate production to the parties of all records, memoranda, and internal communications involving the timing and mechanical processes of the assignment (if any) of Madam Justice Shore to this JRPA Proceeding (the “Justice Shore Assignment Records Order”).

AN ORDER requiring the court staff of the ONSC Divisional Court to produce the aggregate numerical quantity of Form 68(B) notices that have been dispatched since the issuance of the Valid Practice Direction (the “Form 68(B) Quantity Order”).

AN ORDER that the Applicant is entitled to the transcript, in toto, of any conference(s) that were conducted ex parte to his person (the “Conference Transcript Orders”).

5.2.7 Requisitioned Documents

AN ORDER that the Registrar of the Divisional Court provide certified copies of all documentation and materials specifically requested by the Applicant in Requisition #8 and subsequent related requisitions, without equivocation, demurral, or administrative impedance.

5.2.8 Residual Production Order

AN ORDER that all Respondents and notified persons of this Motion on Notice #3 (NOM #3) produce all documents, things, papers, records, or communications that are relevant to this NOM #3, irrespective of where such materials are stored or held.

5.3 Consequential and Final Judgment Orders

A DECLARATION AND ORDER that as a direct and immediate consequence of the Fraud Declaration and the taint of Bribery, the within Judicial Review Procedure Act Proceeding is deemed to be a special nullity (ab initio) vis-à-vis the prior steps taken, and shall proceed de novo from the point of initial application filing, requiring no further procedural steps to perfect the matter for the final hearing of the Judicial Review on its merits.

AN ORDER decreeing with conclusive finality that the Applicant is entitled to Judgment in accordance with the relief sought in his JRPA Application, Factum, and as further particularized and referenced in the Oral Compendium with “Outline.”

AN ORDER granting, in its entirety, the comprehensive and unreserved relief sought in the Applicant’s Notice of Motion #2 (“NOM #2”).

AN ORDER striking the Notices of Appearances filed by the Respondents.

AN ORDER that the Registrar shall forthwith set the Judicial Review Application down for hearing on the earliest available preferential date, abridging any standard notice or scheduling periods otherwise required by the Rules of Civil Procedure or Practice Directions, on account of the demonstrated systemic misconduct and judicial conflict.

5.4 Mandatory Referral, Protective, and Remedial Orders (Flowing from Fraud/Bribery)

AN ORDER mandating that the Registrar of the Divisional Court immediately transmit the entirety of the Applicant’s evidence, including all Affidavits, Factums, and the within Orders, to the Law Society of Ontario (LSO), the Attorney General of Canada (for potential criminal investigation), and the Law Enforcement Agency of the Applicant’s choice, for investigation into the declared acts of Fraud, Bribery, Obstruction of Justice, and professional misconduct.

AN ORDER that all records of the JRPA Proceeding, including but not limited to those documents purportedly served but never legally “filed” or “delivered” according to the Rules, being irrevocably tainted by fraud and bribery, shall be sealed and/or administratively expunged from all publicly accessible databases (including CanLII, court databases, and Case Center) to prevent the dissemination of records arising from a special nullity (the “Protective Expungement Order”).

AN ORDER mandating the immediate reimbursement of any and all filing fees, disbursement costs, and other expenses directly incurred by the Applicant in responding to or attempting to set aside the steps tainted by the declared Fraud and Bribery.

5.5 Charter and Costs Orders

An Order that the determination of the said Charter relief shall proceed via written argument or oral hearing, to be finally adjudicated and decided by the presiding Divisional Court Judge within thirty (30) days of the date of this Order.

AN ORDER awarding Costs against any and all Respondents that oppose or do not consent to the relief herein sought, such costs to be assessed on a full indemnity basis due to the egregious, indefensible nature of the underlying misconduct and the manifest necessity of this extraordinary procedural intervention.

AN ORDER granting costs on a substantial-indemnity basis for the Applicant’s NOM #1, along with the indemnification of his motion filing fee for NOM #1.

Such other relief that is just and equitable.

Such other relief that may arise on facts or fraud further discovered between the timing of making and serving this NOM #3 and thereafter.

THE GROUNDS FOR THE MOTION ARE:

CHAPTER #2: FACTUAL GROUNDS (THE INCONTROVERTIBLE SUBSTRATUM OF THE MOTION)

1. As per the requirement in Ontario civil procedure to bring a motion to set aside steps, documents and/or orders by way of motion within the proceeding where the impugned irregularities, new facts arising or discovered and/or nullities, which include fraud, bribery, and/or extortion, occurred, along with a specific pleading of the material facts involving the aforementioned non-compliance with “source law” or “common law”, this motion serves that purpose.
2. The present motion serves to articulate profound challenges directed toward a series of putative, non-public operational protocols and established practices purportedly pervasive within the Divisional Court, the collective effect of which is the creation of a procedural labyrinth that impedes the timely disposition of judicial review applications. It is herein posited that these identified administrative de facto deviations—which are enumerated in extenso in the subsequent paragraphs—constitute a fundamental departure from both established jurisprudence governing judicial efficiency and statutorily codified procedural mandates established by the Rules of Civil Procedure:
 - a. Case Management Overreach: The designation of all Divisional Court matters as subjects for case management is purported, an action which stands in direct contravention of Rule 77 of the Rules of Civil Procedure and the extant 2023 Divisional Court Practice Direction, the latter of which explicitly delineates criteria for the imposition of case management; this blanket application imposes an unwarranted administrative burden upon litigants and unnecessarily protracts the timeline for resolution, thereby frustrating the underlying intent of the judicial review process, which is generally designed for expeditious resolution;
 - b. Case Center Invitation Exclusion: The unwarranted withholding of a forthwith invitation to Case Center for applicants who have duly initiated and filed judicial review proceedings constitutes an omission contrary to the dictates enunciated within the Divisional Court JR Guide, and critically, this administrative failure curtails the applicant’s ability to monitor the progress of the file, upload requisite documentation promptly, and participate effectively in the electronic carriage of the matter, leading to consequential delays that are solely attributable to the Court administration;
 - c. Hearing List setting Omission: The contention is advanced that the Divisional Court is under no requisition to schedule applications onto the “hearing list” subsequent to the tendering, acceptance, and due payment for a certificate of perfection via the JSO Portal (or OCPP Portal), a position which fundamentally misapprehends the purely ministerial nature of the act of perfection and transforms it into a discretionary judicial function, thereby denying the applicant the indefeasible right to a hearing following procedural completion;

- d. Form 68(B) Non-Issuance: The systemic omission by the Divisional Court to issue a Form 68(B) following the acceptance of the certificate of perfection and the requisite financial disbursements constitutes a failure of procedural duty, as this form represents the official court notification that the matter is in statu quo for assignment to a panel, and its absence obstructs procedural clarity and provides a pretext for subsequent administrative delays in the scheduling of the hearing date;
- e. Administrative Dilatoriness: The systematic failure of Divisional Court staff to affix the requisite date stamp upon requisitions or submitted documents within the five-business-day window prescribed by their own internal policy represents an unacceptable instance of administrative dilatoriness, which inevitably compromises the integrity of the record by introducing uncertainty concerning the precise date upon which documents were officially received for filing, potentially jeopardizing the calculation of critical procedural timelines;
- f. Rule 77 Non-Adherence: The demonstrable non-compliance of the Divisional Court with the strictures set forth in Rule 77.05 and Rule 77.06 of the Rules of Civil Procedure is herein established, underscoring a systemic disregard for the detailed procedural schema designed by the rule-making authority to ensure the orderly and efficient flow of judicial review applications;
- g. Urgent Motion Dereliction: The systemic failure to adhere to Rule 37.03 of the Rules of Civil Procedure pertains to the mandatory expeditious disposition of urgent motions or applications, resulting in the erosion of the efficacy of the urgent motion mechanism and causing irreparable harm or prejudice to litigants whose liberty or fundamental rights necessitate immediate judicial intervention;
- h. Case Conference Scheduling: The arrangement of case conferences predicated upon the submission of voluminous documentation to Case Center merely five days prior to the conference is deemed procedurally deficient, as this abbreviated timeline renders effective preparation and meaningful engagement by the parties and the judicial officer practically impossible, thereby undermining the foundational purpose of the case conference;
- i. Judicial Access Preclusion: The approval of motions for service and filing, complete with proof of service, by Divisional Court staff via the JSO Portal (or its successor) without the simultaneous provision of access to an audience before a presiding judicial officer, constitutes an effective judicial access preclusion for the applicant, improperly delegating a gatekeeping function, which is inherently judicial in character, to administrative personnel.

3. These procedural deficiencies, when subjected to cumulative evaluation, are deemed to evince a pattern of unilateral administrative fiat, an action which materially prejudices the indefeasible right of an applicant to an unfettered, efficient, and transparent judicial review process, and thus presents a compelling factual predicate for the issuance of an order in the nature of mandamus compelling the Court administration to adhere strictly to its own codified procedural obligations.

4. Notwithstanding the standard jurisprudential test, the newly emergent and subsequently discovered facts—having arisen during the temporal continuum of the Summer and Fall of 2025—are regarded as sufficient, ineluctably, to compel a finding of bias against The Honourable Madam Justice Shore. The deliberate failure to disclose this prior relationship, especially when juxtaposed with the Applicant’s previous assertions regarding the presiding Justice’s prior professional affiliation with the SABS Manager of TDI Group (a former and continuing client of the Justice’s former law firm), serves to solidify the ineluctable inference of not merely a reasonable apprehension of bias, but of actual bias. The cumulative effect of these prior associations and the subsequent non-disclosure creates an insurmountable structural barrier to the appearance of impartiality.

5. It is asserted that such a finding of bias, resting upon the factual foundation established herein, shall necessarily vitiate ab initio all consequential steps, directions, and orders undertaken by the presiding Justice during the administration and management of the JRPA Proceeding, entirely irrespective of their potential substantive merit (Newfoundland Telephone Co. v. Newfoundland (Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities), [1992] 1 SCR 60). The aforementioned purported direction [sic] issued, by hearsay, on January 7, 2025, by Justice Shore—which unilaterally assigned the application to case management and simultaneously to the Justice as the presiding jurist—constituted an impermissible delegation of power. This act, standing alone, renders the assignment void ab initio, as the inherent jurisdiction of the court cannot be legitimately invoked to override or circumvent the explicit legislative intent or codified procedural regime; this constitutes a jurisdictional error requiring nullification.
6. The requisite legal test remains unchanged in principle, yet the factual matrix has been fundamentally altered by the discovery of the undisclosed prior relationship. The established jurisprudential threshold dictates that judicial disqualification is not warranted unless the informed, reasonable, and right-minded person would conclude that the circumstance renders it more probable than not that the adjudicator, whether through conscious or unconscious mechanism, would be unable to adjudicate the matter with requisite impartiality. The question herein is whether a reasonable person, informed of the three-to-five-month, non-public criminal involvement, would harbor a reasonable apprehension of bias.
7. Nonetheless, an “undisclosed prior judicial involvement” can be grounds for recusal on grounds of bias but also facts or fraud arising or discovered post any order or step taken that are sufficient to unravel everything prejudicial to the innocent person (i.e. the litigant subjected to the undisclosed prior judicial involvement which may have been prejudicial to he or she).
2. Simply rendered, a moving party in British Columbia is obligated to initiate a “petition under a new proceeding” as a “Petitioner,” whereas, in Ontario, the moving party is mandated to bring the subject motion under the pre-existing and subsisting proceeding as a “moving party” – an exception to the doctrine of functus officio. Ergo, the Respondents did not attain the requisite status of “parties” to the proceeding because the lawful “delivery” of their Notices of Appearance was omitted, a formal demand having been issued upon them on October 25, 2025, predicated upon a new discovery or facts arising in October 2025, soliciting their affirmation or denial regarding the filing of their NOA’s, and despite the provision of a strict timeline, refutation of the Applicant’s conviction regarding the failure to file, with or without requisite proof of service, the Notices of Appearance has not been advanced as of the present date, consequently necessitating the prosecution of Motion No. 3 upon these compelling bases. The term “fraud” is referenced only five times within the entirety of the Rules of Civil Procedure, the initial two automated occurrences arising under Rule 9 (Estates and Trusts), the third appearing under the heading of “Pleadings,” and the fifth under the rubric of “Revocation of Certificate of Appointment”. An “Order”, which includes a “Judgment” that has been contaminated and fundamentally affected by fraudulent conduct is tainted throughout its entire complexion, thereby necessitating the failure of the whole (Hip Foong Hong v. H. Neotia & Co., 191 A.C. 888 at p. 894, per Lord Buckmaster). No judge, appointed by the federal Canadian government, within this jurisdiction shall countenance the retention of an unwarranted advantage(s) procured through the perpetration of fraud by one count or distinct counts; neither a judicial pronouncement nor an administrative order emanating from a branch of government, known as the Judiciary, can be permitted to retain its validity if its procurement was predicated upon fraud, as fraud operates to unravel everything (Lazarus Estates Limited v Beasley, 1956 1 Q.V. 702 at page 712, per Denning J.), and a judgment procedure secured through a deliberate act of omission or commission cannot retain its efficacy (Meek v. Flemming). The term “tainted”, as employed within these seminal legal principles, refers to that which is morally or ethically corrupted—that is, relating to or deriving from the principles of right and wrong in comportment. The legal principle preserving the sanctity of res judicata, or its subspecies in issue estoppel, must inevitably yield to the principle recognizing the right and, indeed, the duty of the Court to safeguard its own operational processes, thereby ensuring that litigants shall not be permitted to garner profit from their egregious or improper conduct, as cited by Cullity J in Vale, referencing Estey J.A. at p. 395, and this conclusion is deemed to flow inexorably from the body of evidence adduced. With the exceptions to the doctrine of res judicata and issue estoppel, also comes with the non-discharge of functus officio. Within that Latin phrase, is “officio” (official or office) and “functus” which literally translates to “worked”. If Madam Justice Shore was impermissibly delegated by herself or impermissibly assigned to the JRPA Proceeding, she could have never “worked” or “performed” the duties of her office as the assignment was void ab initio.

8. The principal investigative purview is the ascertainment of the specific functionaries endowed with the requisite scienter or the administrative capacity sufficient to effect the manipulation and subsequent attempted transmittal of the purportedly falsified administrative instrumentation. This determination encompasses, inter alia, the unfiled Criminal Code Form 2 Information, which is ascribed to Court Officer (Toronto Region) Ms. Frugoni-Rojas, and the unlaidd Intake Court Endorsement, which has been attributed to Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri.

CHAPTER #2(I): THE PRIMARY NEXUS OF DISCIPLINARY AND JUDICIAL ACTORS

9. Subsequent to the discernible and disquieting congruence between the malfeasance evidenced in the undisclosed criminal proceeding, “Ex Parte In Camera Hearing(s)” and undisclosed documents contained in that ex parte in camera processes (the “Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding”) and the Judicial Review Procedural Application (the “JRPA Application”) and “JRPA Proceeding”, concurrent with subsequent revelations procured post April 2025, a meticulous analysis of the delineated facts pertaining to three principal individuals, representative of distinct institutional contingents, is necessitated concerning the integrity of the administrative instruments:
 - a. Madam Justice Shore: A former barrister and partner at the firm of Epstein Cole LLP, situated at 393 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, whose elevation to the Superior Court of Justice (Ontario) bench occurred in October 2018. Subsequent to her initial assignment to the Toronto Region, she assumed the role of Family Law Team Leader at the SCJ 361 University Avenue Courthouse. Subsequent to the issuance of a Statement of Claim against her by Mr. McIntosh in or about 2022/2023, concerning allegations of defamation predicated upon an electronic mail transmission disseminated to all ninety-three (93) judges within the Toronto Region regarding the applicant’s family law matter, designation to an alternate capacity was ostensibly effected;
 - b. The Honourable Solicitor General Kerzner (the “SOLGEN”): The Minister vested with the responsibility for the Ministry of the Solicitor General, whose ministerial offices are geographically located upon the eighteenth storey (18th floor) of 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario; and
 - c. Justice of the Peace George Jiri (the “JP Jiri”): A former police constable formerly stationed within the 52nd Division and the institutional hub located at 40 College Street (specifically within the Sex Crimes and Human Trafficking portfolios).

10. A subsequent examination reveals a patent interconnectedness within the allegedly unlawful enterprise, manifesting through institutional and procedural affiliations between:
- Mr. Weir, the Executive Director of Tribunals Ontario, whose administrative locus resides upon the nineteenth storey (19th floor) of 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario;
 - Court Officer (Toronto Region) Ms. Frugoni-Rojas, whose principal administrative location is centered at 40 College Street, Toronto, Ontario—a locale not specifically tethered per se to a singular divisional designation within the Toronto Region, and whose duties include liaising with judicial officers such as Madam Justice Shore within the courthouse vicinities; and
 - Other ancillary functionaries whose roles warrant subsequent determination.

CHAPTER #2(II): INSTITUTIONAL AFFINITIES AND SUBSTRATE: THE PRIMA FACIE CONFLUENCE

A. BACKGROUND AND INTELLECTUAL TRAJECTORY OF MADAM JUSTICE SHORE

11. Madam Justice Shore was birthed in or about the year 1972, matriculating from the Bnei Akiva (Ulpanat Orot) secondary institution in 1990; her patronymic antecedent was designated as “Martel.” The academic tenure of Madam Justice Shore at Bnei Akiva Ulpanat Orot, a Modern Orthodox Religious Zionist institution, necessitated the attainment of mastery and demonstrable fluency in the Hebrew tongue, thereby establishing an intellectual foundation rooted in detailed, rigorous analysis.

1. The Primacy of Textual Rigor and Exegetical Authority

12. The Talmud represents a comprehensive compendium of rabbinic dialogues and definitive adjudications pertaining to the Torah, systematically collated between the third and eighth centuries. It is regarded as the paramount source for Jewish jurisprudence, requiring a stringent and sophisticated hermeneutics in its analysis. The Gemara, which constitutes the preponderance of the Babylonian Talmud, is principally transcribed in Jewish Babylonian Aramaic. Ergo, an astute comprehension of Aramaic is an indispensable prerequisite for the rigorous scholastic engagement with the Talmud within a traditional framework. JP Jiri has native fluency in Aramaic, the neo-Assyrian language.
13. Her discernible intellectual trajectory suggests a jurisprudence rooted in a textual tradition that demands stringent interpretation, rigorous adherence to established stare decisis, and granular textual deconstruction.

14. Her profound anchoring within this specific segment of Orthodox Judaism imports an ethical framework grounded in a system of religious law that assigns an inestimable premium to moral accountability and the precise application of prescriptive mandates.
15. These antecedents manifest a distinct alignment with the background of the SOLGEN, Mr. Kerzner, who exhibits a profound adherence to Orthodox Judaism.
16. The issue concerning the manipulation of governmental logos surfaced in early to mid-October 2025, specifically subsequent to the SOLGEN's ministerial response to the Applicant's Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) request. The fraudulent alteration of the Ontario government logo was specifically drawn to the attention of the SOLGEN, who demonstrably failed to proffer a timely or substantive response, notwithstanding the gravity of the communication.

B. THE MANDATE OF THE MINISTRY OF THE SOLICITOR GENERAL

17. The Minister of the Solicitor General bears the consequential responsibility for ensuring public safety, overseeing provincial law enforcement operations, and administering correctional services; this comprehensive mandate entails the superintendence of numerous agencies, including the Ontario Provincial Police. The essential munera of the Ministry of the Solicitor General include: Public Safety and Law Enforcement; Corrections and Rehabilitation; and Emergency Management.

C. THE POLITICAL AND INSTITUTIONAL LEVERAGE OF THE HONOURABLE SOLGEN KERZNER

18. The ministerial portfolio of the SOLGEN situates the individual at the apex of the administrative apparatus that governs all police and court support services, strategically utilizing a political identity and two potent, geographically defined institutional nexuses to exercise substantial influence.

The Affinity Network as a Parallel Governance Structure:

19. The SOLGEN's political constituency is rooted within the Conservative Jewish movement. This is significantly augmented by a secondary Eastern European/Polish affinity axis, establishing non-formal, shared ethnic heritage lines that could readily facilitate seamless communication and institutional deference within the operational strata of law enforcement.

20. The most salient component is the SOLGEN's public and sanctioned endorsement of a Jewish-Azerbaijan fusion event, which operates as a strategic cultural bridge. Considering JP Jiri's potential cultural provenance, this deliberate political action directly integrates JP Jiri's cultural sphere into the SOLGEN's public agenda. This stratification systematically constructs a robust, implicit Cultural Affinity Network that conspicuously bolsters systemic institutional trust and cooperation.
21. The ministerial control is strategically relevant because JP Jiri is operationally posted at the Central West Region OCJ Brampton Courthouse, a location situated squarely within the Peel Region. This circumstance institutes a direct ministerial/operational alignment: the executive authority that influences regional policing strategy and resource allocation is synchronized with the specific judicial locus (Brampton) where JP Jiri discharges his duties, thereby demonstrating the SOLGEN's systemic institutional reach to engage a cooperative judicial officer within a prioritized regional jurisdiction.

III. THE INSTITUTIONAL BRIDGE: JUSTICE OF THE PEACE MR. GEORGE JIRI

22. The precise geographical location of the Sex Crimes and Human Trafficking Enforcement Team, wherein JP Jiri served, is the aforementioned institutional hub at 40 College Street, Toronto, Ontario.
23. JP Jiri was formally appointed to the office of Justice of the Peace in January 2024 and assigned to the Central West Region, specifically the Brampton Courthouse.

LINGUISTIC KINSHIP AND HISTORICAL NEXUS: ASSYRIAN AND HEBREW

24. JP Jiri is natively proficient in both English and Assyrian, which is accurately designated as the Neo-Aramaic language, adopted approximately two millennia ante Christum.
25. This Aramaic text possesses a profound and multilayered Semitic-linguistic connection to the Jewish faith and the Hebrew Bible.
26. The Aramaic Targums and the composition of the Gemara in Aramaic underscore the linguistic and historical consanguinity between the languages, which are both members of the Northwest Semitic language family. This linguistic proficiency is deemed crucial for the rigorous textual analysis foundational to Orthodox Judaism and Zionist scholastic inquiry, thereby linking the judicial officer to the intellectual foundation of the affinity network.

IV. THE INSTITUTIONAL CAPTURE AND THE CRIMINAL CODE INDICTMENT

27. Pursuant to section 2 of the Criminal Code, the Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment necessitates endorsement by the “Attorney General,” a definition that legally encompasses the SOLGEN.
28. Ergo, it is a logical and legal certainty that the SOLGEN or a duly authorized signing officer of the Ministry of the Solicitor General possessed the statutory authority to execute the Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment concerning the Applicant, notwithstanding the present lack of public disclosure of such an instrument.
29. Justice of the Peace Jiri’s professional profile provides the multi-layered institutional and ethno-cultural link between the law enforcement/ministerial apparatus and the judicial process, concentrated around the primary operational hub of 40 College Street and reinforced by his enduring, public institutional fealty.

The Operational Apex of the 40 College Street Nexus

30. JP Jiri’s career culminated at the 40 College Street institutional hub. His continued, active display of institutional loyalty and allegiance to specialized Toronto Police Service officers at 40 College Street subsequent to his judicial appointment signals his utility as an institutional bridge—an judicial officer whose functions are perceived as an extension of the operational branch rather than an independent authority.

C. THE VERTICAL ADMINISTRATIVE NEXUS: MINISTRY OF SOLGEN AND TRIBUNALS ONTARIO

31. Tribunals Ontario (“TO”) is geographically positioned on the nineteenth storey (19th floor) of 25 Grosvenor Street. The Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN) is situated on the floor immediately inferior (the 18th floor) to the administrative hub of Tribunals Ontario. Furthermore, it is noted that the institutional presence of the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) is situated within the atrium of the 25 Grosvenor Street building.

32. This physical, vertical contiguity strategically positions the administrative command center of all provincial tribunals directly over the ministry responsible for state enforcement, with a law enforcement presence in the building's main area. This organizational proximity translates into a profound institutional nexus, fundamentally compromising any legal claim of independence necessary to justify its non-Crown classification pursuant to PIPEDA. This structural arrangement creates a clear and active risk of executive influence overriding administrative and adjudicative integrity.

V. RECAPITULATION: THE DUAL-AXIS CONVERGENCE AND INSTITUTIONAL SUBVERSION (SUMMARY OF CONNECTION AND INSTITUTIONAL CAPTURE)

33. The alleged administrative actions necessitated a calculated and systematic subversion of judicial independence, made possible by the convergence of layered cultural affinity, strategically concentrated institutional leverage, and dual geographical nexuses across Toronto's administrative and operational centres.
34. The Institutional Axis operates through two critical nexuses that provide both administrative cover and the operational point of contact:
- a. 40 College Street (Operational Nexus): This site furnishes the point of execution and compliance, leveraging JP Jiri's active institutional loyalty to his former law enforcement colleagues to secure the requisite judicial authorization (Endorsement) at the operational level; and
 - b. 25 Grosvenor Street (Administrative Nexus): This site furnishes the executive control and administrative cover, leveraging the vertical adjacency of the SOLGEN's ministry, the presence of the OPP in the atrium, and the location of Tribunals Ontario to compromise the integrity of court logistics, records administration, and judicial review processes at the highest administrative echelons.
 - c. The Cultural/Linguistic Axis provides the non-explicit foundation of trust, weaving together the Semitic heritage (Shore/Jiri), Eastern European/Polish heritage, and Azerbaijani political outreach into a dense, mutually reinforcing affinity network. This dual-axis convergence—integrating a reliable judicial figure (Shore), politically empowered executive influence (Kerzner), and a compliant operational bridge (Jiri)—is the hypothesized mechanism that permitted the alleged administrative action to be effectively and precisely implemented through the justice system while simultaneously establishing sophisticated, almost impenetrable, layers of administrative and cultural cover.

VI. ANALYSIS OF INSTITUTIONAL AND CULTURAL NEXUS: MAXIMAL EXPANSION AND INTEGRATION

35. This section presents a comprehensive analysis of the professional, cultural, and linguistic nexus connecting Justice of the Peace (JP) Jiri, Solicitor General (SOLGEN) Kerzner, and Madam Justice Shore. The analysis illuminates the hypothesized complex network of affinity, institutional complementarity, and concentrated geographical leverage that allegedly facilitated the administrative actions surrounding the contested Intake Court Endorsement. The synthesis of evidence suggests a system of institutional capture relying on a dual axis of influence, operating with calculated precision.

A. MADAM JUSTICE SHORE: ALIGNMENT WITH REPRESENTED HIGH JUDICIAL INTEGRITY AND THE OPERATIONAL SHIELD

36. Madam Justice Shore's powerful background serves a crucial, often implicit, institutional function by associating a figure of unassailable integrity and intellectual rigor with the judicial system under scrutiny, which operates as a primary defense mechanism against accusations of systemic failure: (a) Hebrew Proficiency, Textual Rigor, and Intellectual Discipline as an Operational Shield: The intellectual training received, rooted in the detailed, relentless analysis of foundational texts, demands strict interpretation and adherence to established precedent. This intellectual discipline is directly aligned with the highest expectations of a judicial officer who champions fidelity to the rule of law. The presence of an individual of her stature at the senior judicial level provides an automatic, critical layer of perceived legitimacy and unassailability to the administrative processes in which she operates. Her high integrity thus functions as a chilling shield for the entire system, rendering any challenge to the system's administrative output less credible by compelling the challenger to question the integrity of the judicial environment that includes her; and (b) The Value of Ethical Governance and Public Trust as Political Capital (The Chilling Effect): Her deeply rooted background and confirmed capacity for professional discipline constitutes immense, non-formal political capital. Her association—even if passive or indirect—lends the entire judicial structure a sense of moral ballast and robust oversight. The practical consequence of associating an allegedly flawed process with a justice system featuring an individual of her calibre is to deter scrutiny and suppress administrative oversight, thereby creating a chilling effect on lower-level actors who might otherwise raise alarms about administrative misconduct.

B. SOLICITOR GENERAL KERZNER: ALIGNMENT WITH POLITICAL POWER, INSTITUTIONAL CONTROL, AND THE NEXUS STRATEGY

37. The SOLGEN's ministerial role situates him at the apex of the administrative and political machinery, wherein a complex web of cultural and geographical alignments is leveraged to establish de facto ministerial authority over areas nominally requiring judicial independence: (a) The Affinity Network as a Parallel Governance Structure—Bypassing Bureaucracy: The layered affinity network—Semitic/Eastern European/Azerbaijani—is hypothesized to facilitate a parallel, informal governance structure utilized for securing sensitive outcomes outside of official ministry memoranda. This network provides a social and cultural currency that can be leveraged to secure cooperation and deferential treatment without leaving a traceable paper trail. This non-explicit, high-trust communication channel extends vertically from the executive to the operational level, ensuring high-speed compliance; and (b) Ministerial Control, Strategic Alignment, and Resource Leverage (Peel Region): The SOLGEN's documented heavy support for Peel Regional Police dictates resource allocation and administrative prioritization. The posting of JP Jiri in Peel Region institutes a direct ministerial/operational alignment, ensuring that the executive authority has a readily available and compliant judicial resource whose regional and professional success is implicitly linked to the success of the ministerial portfolio. This structural reliance creates a conflict of interest at the grassroots level, undermining the arm's-length principle by substituting formal independence with political obligation; (C) The Dual-Nexus Strategy: The Architecture of Institutional Capture: The alleged mechanism for systemic capture relies upon the convergence of two distinct physical locations: (a) The Operational Nexus: 40 College Street (The Delivery Mechanism): This hub ensures that the request for judicial cover (the Endorsement) can be initiated and fulfilled seamlessly by an officer intimately familiar with the operational personnel. This nexus furnishes the technical efficiency and low visibility requisite for rapid administrative subversion, where the judicial authorization is perceived as a necessary formality. This is the point of execution for the administrative action; and (b) The Vertical Administrative Nexus: 25 Grosvenor Street (The Cover Mechanism and Escape Valve): This is the strategic apex of administrative control, representing an Architectural Failure of Governance. The placement of the SOLGEN's ministry immediately beneath Tribunals Ontario, and the presence of the OPP in the building's atrium, facilitates the subtle, yet powerful, exertion of executive influence over administrative justice and records management through proximity and the co-mingling of policy and adjudication. The risk is institutionalized by Mr. Sean Weir whose dual executive role effectively merges the administrative management of Tribunals Ontario with the decision-making head of the LAT, creating a formal channel for vertical capture where administrative review is inherently compromised. This nexus ensures the action cannot be corrected through the administrative justice system.

C. JUSTICE OF THE PEACE JIRI: THE OPERATIONAL APEX, DEFERRED LOYALTY, AND THE INSTRUMENT OF SUBVERSION

38. Justice of the Peace Jiri's professional history and specific posting render him the ideal, pre-vetted instrument for the alleged administrative actions, relying on deferred loyalty to the executive state apparatus: (a) Deferred Loyalty and The Conflict with Judicial Impartiality: JP Jiri's continued, active display of institutional loyalty and allegiance to specialized TPS officers at 40 College Street subsequent to his judicial appointment signifies deferred loyalty to his former employer and the state enforcement apparatus. This loyalty dictates that he is not perceived as an impartial judicial officer but as an institutional bridge—an extension of the operational branch. This deferred allegiance renders him the predictable and compliant candidate for administrative requests, as his professional identity remains structurally tied to the needs of the police service and the executive ministry; (b) The Signature Evasion Strategy (The Mechanism of Subversion): The Intake Court Endorsement is the specific instrument of capture because it is a low-profile document. The critical lack of a signature on the document attributed to JP Jiri is inferred to be a deliberate strategy: By using a non-Toronto Region Justice of the Peace with a prior law enforcement background, the primary conspirators could secure the necessary document (the Endorsement) without requiring the JP to commit a reportable professional offense (by signing an instrument that conflicts with their jurisdiction), thus safeguarding higher judicial officers (SCJ/OCJ judges) who would be bound by stricter reporting mandates. This combination of technical knowledge and guaranteed compliance achieved through deferred loyalty allowed the alleged action to proceed without the friction typically expected from an independent judiciary.

D. SYSTEMIC IMPLICATIONS: ARCHITECTURAL FAILURE, PARALLEL GOVERNANCE, AND THE EROSION OF STATE INTEGRITY

39. The hypothesized network structure and reliance on tripartite institutional nexuses point to a systemic failure where state power is leveraged through highly personalized and strategically located channels: (a) Systemic Erosion of Judicial Independence via Calculated Selection: The analysis details a pattern of strategic selection—utilizing a former law enforcement officer (Jiri) posted in a ministerially favored region (Peel)—to bypass judicial independence protocols. The consequence is the creation of a de facto system where the administrative needs of the executive branch are systematically prioritized over the rights of individuals before the court. The ability of the executive to influence the effective compliance of the judiciary through regional and professional ties constitutes a direct threat to the Separation of Powers, substituting institutional checks with personal and political obligations; (b) Architectural Failure of Governance at 25 Grosvenor Street: The 25 Grosvenor Street Vertical Nexus represents an architectural failure that inherently facilitates the executive control of administrative justice. This design converts judicial administration into an adjunct of ministerial policy, rendering the administrative review process incapable of correcting executive misconduct; and (c) The Risk of Parallel Governance: the convergence of the Cultural Affinity Network with the Dual Institutional Nexus suggests the operation of a Parallel Governance Structure. This shadow structure allows the executive to execute sensitive actions while utilizing the high integrity of senior figures like Madam Justice Shore as a defensive shield against public scrutiny, fundamentally compromising the state's integrity and turning public resources toward private, specialized objectives.

VII. CHRONOLOGY: FOUNDATIONAL CONFLICT, FRAUD DISCOVERY, AND UNLAWFUL LOCKOUT (2017 – OCTOBER 3, 2024)

FOUNDATIONAL CONFLICT OF INTEREST: THE EPSTEIN COLE LITIGATION NEXUS

40. In the calendar year 2017, the dissolution of the marital union between Mr. Papadimitropoulos (the “Epstein Cole Client”) and Ms. Nicole Artopoulos (the “Individual Insured”) was initiated. In March 2018, Mr. Papadimitropoulos is alleged to have effected an unlawful ingress into the Minto Buildings, Unit 410-775 King Street West, City of Toronto, for the purpose of executing an unlawful assault and battery upon Ms. Artopoulos.

COUNTER-COMPLAINT AND DETENTION

41. Subsequent to this action, Mr. Papadimitropoulos submitted a police complaint to the Toronto Police Service Board (“TPS”) 14th Division, alleging assault by Ms. Artopoulos. Consequent to this complaint, Ms. Artopoulos was charged, detained, and subjected to incarceration, subsequently being released under a restrictive condition prohibiting direct or indirect contact with Mr. Papadimitropoulos.

EPSTEIN COLE INVOLVEMENT

42. Mr. Papadimitropoulos was represented during the matrimonial litigation by Epstein Cole LLP, the institutional firm wherein the Honourable Madam Justice Shore was, at the time, a senior equity partner and designated head of the student, articling, and young associates committee.

JUDICIAL APPOINTMENT AND SETTLEMENT

43. In October 2018, the Honourable Madam Justice Shore was appointed to the SCJ and assigned to the Toronto Region. The matrimonial litigation subsequently reached a settlement culminating in a formal decree of divorce, and the criminal charge against Ms. Artopoulos was ultimately withdrawn by the Crown, but not before the instantiation of discernible detriment. A condition of the formal settlement stipulated that Mr. Papadimitropoulos and Ms. Artopoulos were to maintain absolute abstention from direct or indirect contact, a term subsequently conveyed to the Applicant by Ms. Artopoulos.

THE APPLICANT’S INJURY (AUGUST 2022):

44. The Applicant repeats and relies upon the entirety of the record of proceeding submitted before the Divisional Court, which pertains to the period extending from August 31, 2022, to October 15, 2024. In summary, the Applicant sustained serious impairment injuries in a motor vehicle collision, wherein the SNIC Insured Automobile was rear-ended at high velocity and propelled forward from a stationary position by an above average weight Acura SUV some 30 feet, causing serious impairments to the Applicant then and now (see: Declaration #2 of the Applicant; re: MRI regarding spine).

B. THE ADMINISTRATIVE TRIGGER: INSURANCE CLAIMS, UNDISCLOSED ORDERS, AND THE FORGERY DISCOVERY (JULY–SEPTEMBER 2024)

The Unknown and Undisclosed Motion Orders (July–August 2024)

45. On July 24, 2024, the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) purportedly rendered a final order concerning an unreferenced motion; however, the order was neither issued nor provided to the Applicant, despite numerous formal requests (see: Declaration #2 of the Applicant). Similarly, on August 16, 2024, the LAT purportedly issued a second final order regarding an unreferenced motion, which was also withheld from the Applicant (see: Declaration #2 of the Applicant).

The Forgery and Fax Nexus (September 2024)

46. On September 12, 2024, the Tribunal issued a notice of hearing regarding the Applicant’s Notice of Motion (NOM) #16, a SNIC document production motion. The notice included a 905 area code fax number for SNIC, which was demonstrably inconsistent with the 416.774.3120 number. The Tribunal’s subsequent finding, which was not subjected to reconsideration, appeal, or judicial review by the Respondent Insurance Companies or the LAT, corroborated that the 905 number was the contact provided in Spring 2023 following the removal of Ms. Nurse as the adjuster for the SABS file.

Discovery of Precedent Fraud

47. Prior to Ms. Nurse’s departure, Mr. Papadimitropoulos is alleged to have effected an incompetent forgery of Ms. Nurse’s signature, annotating the document with “As per A. Nurse” below the signature field, in or around April 20, 2023, concerning the Applicant’s first OCF-18 form. Although SNIC purported to partially approve approximately $2,000 of the requested $2,650 in rehabilitation services, payment was never remitted, as TDHA was the actual First Insurer.

VCM Decisions and Handwriting Match:

48. On September 13, 2024, VCM issued her decisions in relation to NOM's #13 to #15 of the Applicant, which contained evidence of backdating and fraud. Only NOM #14 and #15 were subject to the relief in the JRPA Application (see: Declaration #1 of Applicant, October 13, 2025, paragraphs 32 and 33). On Sunday, September 15, 2024, the Applicant located an "Anniversary Card" containing a sample of Mr. Papadimitropoulos's printing and penmanship, which was subsequently confirmed by his former spouse to match the fraudulent "As per A. Nurse" signature.

C. THE EXECUTION OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE ACTION AND ALLEGED EX PARTE JUDICIAL PROCEEDING (MID-SEPTEMBER 2024)

Law Enforcement Action Initiated

49. On Sunday, September 15, 2024, a Toronto Police Service (TPS) Occurrence Number (2024-2028039) was apparently generated by the 14th Division, involving Detective Constable Eric Tang. It is noted that the Applicant was never formally apprised of any such issue or complaint by the TPS.

Criminal Charges Sought and Indictment:

50. On or around Monday, September 16, 2024, it is averred that law enforcement, potentially including the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) (Police Case ID: 457197), sought to initiate criminal charges against the Applicant, ostensibly predicated upon misrepresentations originating from high-level functionaries, including Mr. Weir (Executive Director of Tribunals Ontario), agents of the TDIA Group insurance companies, and other LAT agents. It is further averred that an indictment (pursuant to the Criminal Code Form 4) was prepared and formally executed by either the Attorney General or the SOLGEN, whose ministerial offices are geographically located upon the eighteenth storey (18th floor) of 25 Grosvenor Street. The Applicant avers that this instrument contained a litany of false charges but was encouraged and incited by the LAT, MAG, TDIA Group, and SOLGEN.

51. The Applicant alleges, based upon admissions and deductions, that the complainants in the criminal sphere appeared ex parte and in camera before The Honourable Madam Justice Shore during the week commencing at some time during the week of September 16 to 20, 2024, under TPS Occurrence Number 2024-2028039 and Police Case ID: 457197.

Judicial Endorsement Alleged

52. It is further averred and declared on belief that the specific phraseology contained in the Intake Court Endorsement was either originated by Madam Justice Shore or another designated judicial officer of the Superior or Divisional Court, and subsequently transcribed by the agents of the law enforcement applicant(s). Allegations are further asserted that Madam Justice Shore may have orally rendered a finding that the “information was accepted on its face” and issued a directive, “warrant in the first: issue,” concerning the Applicant’s apprehension.

Contextual SCJ RMO Representation

53. This is noted notwithstanding the SCJ RMO’s representation in August/September 2025 that Madam Justice Shore was not scheduled for involvement with the Applicant in the critical period of September 23 to October 2, 2024. The Applicant notes that he was unaware of the first TPS Occurrence Number (Sunday, September 15, 2024) at that time (i.e. the due diligence for discovery of evidence that related to the prior judicial involvement, albeit undisclosed, of Madam Justice Shore).

FILINGS DURING THE WEEK: HONING IN ON THE UNDISCLOSED CRIMINAL CODE FORM 4 INDICTMENT WHICH INVOLVED THE LAT, RESPONDENT INSURANCE COMPANIES, SOLGEN KERZNER, TPS, OPP, AND MADAM JUSTICE SHORE AT FIRST INSTANCE (THEN BY LATER FRAUD BY FALSE INFORMATION PACKAGE WITH COURT OFFICER (TORONTO REGION) MRS. FRUGONI-ROJAS CRIMINAL CODE FORM 2 INFORMATION AND INTAKE COURT ENDORSEMENT [SIC] WITH JP JIRI)

54. During the week of September 16 to September 20, 2024, the Applicant filed further documents in the LTB Proceeding and the LAT Proceeding. Crucially, on Thursday, September 19, 2024, the Applicant filed and served evidence of the fraudulent signature of Mr. Papadimitropoulos—specifically, the Anniversary Card (2016) containing his penmanship and a comparative analysis demonstrating a match to the “As per A. Nurse” signature (April 2023 forgery). On this date, the Applicant filed and served Affidavit #37. The unlawful lockout by the Landlord and the associated police interference commenced the following day, Friday, September 20, 2024.

The Unlawful Lockouts and Arrest Warrant:

55. The alleged unlawful lockouts of the Residential Unit, located at Unit 410-775 King Street West, were predicated upon a judicial arrest warrant purportedly signed by Justice Shore during that week, presumed to be issued on or around 12:59 p.m. on Friday, September 20, 2024.

Exclusion from Residence:

56. On Friday, September 20, 2024, the Applicant returned from physiotherapy and medical appointments to discover that the lock to the front door of the Residential Unit had been physically changed, and later learned that the associated security FOB had also been deactivated, constituting an unlawful exclusion from the premises.

D. THE POST-LOCKOUT EVENTS, FALSIFIED INFORMATION, AND UNLAWFUL ARREST
(SEPTEMBER 21 – OCTOBER 3, 2024)

LTB Guidance and Police Contact (September 21, 2024)

57. On Saturday, September 21, 2024, the Applicant adhered to Licence Appeal Tribunal (LTB) guidance, attempting to resolve the lockouts by: (i) contacting the police for assistance; (ii) contacting the Rental Housing Enforcement Unit (RHEU); and (iii) filing an urgent motion. The Applicant attended the TPS 14th Division to seek police assistance and liaised with Police Officer Mr. Javier Solermo. During this interaction, the Applicant drew the attention of the TPS to the active LTB matter and the compliance effort. Police Officer Solermo made the representation that he intended to shred the documents provided by the Applicant, an action that elicited shock from the Applicant considering the official LTB guidance being followed.

58. Despite the Applicant maintaining no communication with his former spouse on Saturday, September 21, or Sunday, September 22, 2024, Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas purportedly declared a Criminal Code Form 2 Information on Monday, September 23, 2024, alleging that the Applicant had committed harassment on or around Sunday, September 22, 2024. Critically, this declaration lacked essential particulars regarding the method, repetition (only a single instance was referenced), and the reasonable grounds for fear of safety.

The JP Jiri Endorsement and Judicial Authority Conflict

59. While it was later admitted by the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), via Mr. Sinnadurai, that no Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 (Criminal Code) was ever formally filed or laid in the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ), there was an apparent approval of a “warrant in the first” by Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri on September 23, 2024, at 12:59 p.m. Critically, this instrument lacked a digital or physical signature on the Intake Court Endorsement, thereby rendering it a false instrument (see: Declaration, Applicant, Oct. 13, 2025, page 15, paragraphs 39 and 40). The Applicant avers and underscores the inference that the absence of a required judicial signature strongly suggests that Madam Justice Shore and SOLGEN Kerzner required a Justice of the Peace who would be amenable to having their name included on the official document, but without the personal reference of having actually signed it. This strategic choice of using a non-Toronto Region JP with a former police background was ostensibly intended to avoid a reportable offense, like occurred with the Regional Senior Judge of the Central West Region (OCJ) in The Honourable Justice Mr. Paul Currie (see: Re RSJ Currie, 2025 OJC 1; and Re RSJ Currie, 2025 OJC 2), by a Superior Court or Ontario Court of Justice judge, as the failure to sign a formal warrant would mandate reporting by a de facto or de jure judge.
60. Furthermore, a “warrant in the first” is trite law that it is one of nationwide effect that can only be issued by a judge of the Superior Court of Criminal Jurisdiction (SCJ) pursuant to section 2 of the Criminal Code, which conflicts directly with the jurisdiction of a Justice of the Peace.

61. Notwithstanding his unlawful exclusion from the Residential Unit, the Applicant diligently filed two further motions in the LAT Proceeding concerning the fraudulent signature of Mr. Papadimitropoulos and a section 21.1 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (SPPA) motion. The Applicant also filed a reconsideration motion regarding the VCM Decisions in late September 2024.
62. During the same temporal period the Applicant filed with the LTB an urgent motion concerning the unlawful lockouts. This ex parte LTB motion, which did not require service, was subsequently granted on October 1, 2024, by Vice Chair Delorenzi.

THE FORMAL NEXUS OF THE ARREST INSTRUMENT:

63. According to the Toronto Police Service, it obtained the Intake Court Endorsement based on the strength (or lack thereof) of the Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 Criminal Code Information (declared time: 11:49 a.m.), securing the unsigned Endorsement at 12:59 p.m., which referenced the “warrant in the first.”
64. However, the MAG represented in June 2025 and July 2025 that no such Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas was ever filed or laid in August to October 2024. Ergo, no Criminal Code Form 2 Information, no Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] as represented to the OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse at some time in November 2024 or thereafter.

Notification to Landlord and Request for Access (October 1, 2024):

65. On October 1, 2024, subsequent to the favorable LTB motion, the Applicant formally notified the Landlord of the requirement for forthwith access to the Residential Unit and its contents (personal property, sensitive PII, et al). The Applicant referenced the upcoming hearing concerning the Landlord’s “bizarre and unlawful transgressions” and noted that, if necessary, he would seek the assistance of the TPS 14th Division, consistent with his prior visit.

THE RUSE AND UNLAWFUL ARREST (OCTOBER 2, 2024):

66. On October 2, 2024, Constable Romano of the TPS emailed the Applicant, falsely representing that certain property had been “received” and was being held in a temporary locker for pickup within seven days but without any pickup within seven days, the property would be sent to the TPS PEMU.
67. The Applicant attended in good faith that evening. He was waved in by Constable Romano, introduced to D/C Kolankowski under the pretense of signing a property receipt, and was immediately placed under arrest for alleged harassment.

Refusal of Warrant Production and Coercion:

68. Upon arrest, the Applicant requested to see the alleged, yet represented to have been in existence at the time, warrant, as required by the federal statutory mandate under section 29 of the Criminal Code (see: Applicant Declaration, page 15, paragraph 41).
69. This request was denied by the TPS at the time and thereafter.
70. Constable Romano then applied explicit coercion, stating that the Applicant could either “keep asking for a copy of the warrant or get out of here,” effectively forcing the Applicant to prioritize self-preservation and forgo his statutory right to view the authorizing instrument. The Applicant was informed he would be imprisoned overnight and transferred to a new jail facility to make his case for release to a judge.

The Role of Detective Abdulhameed K. Virani (52nd Division Nexus)

71. During the period of incarceration, the Applicant was informed he could be released if he spoke privately with “Detective Abdul.” The Applicant welcomed the opportunity to clear up the confusion. Detective Abdul, later identified as Detective Abdulhameed K. Virani of the TPS 52nd Division (a former institutional location of JP Jiri), spoke to the Applicant through the jail cell glass and confirmed release would be granted upon the signing of a Criminal Code Form 10 Undertaking, without engaging in a substantive discussion. The fact that the authorizing judicial officer, JP Jiri, was formerly of the 52nd Division was not disclosed to the Applicant during the arrest or subsequent detention.

Post-Release Demand for Warrant (October 3, 2024)

72. On October 3, 2024, the Applicant formally requested a copy of the arrest warrant from Sergeant Cassidy, D/C Kolankowski, and Constable Romano. The Applicant urged them to either withdraw the charge (referenced by TPS Occurrence Number 2024-2082035) or provide the warrant.

Legal Requirement of Endorsed Warrant:

73. It is a fundamental principle that an accused and arrested person cannot be lawfully released on a Criminal Code Form 10 Undertaking unless an “endorsed arrest warrant” exists. The release of the Applicant on this instrument thus provides prima facie confirmation that an undisclosed, signed, or endorsed arrest warrant, issued by a judicial officer, must exist but remains unprovided to the Applicant.

VIII. CHRONOLOGY: POST-LOCKOUT ADMINISTRATIVE & FINANCIAL SUBVERSION (OCTOBER 15 – NOVEMBER 8, 2024)

74. This section details the pattern of administrative and alleged criminal activity that immediately followed the Applicant’s discovery and filing of the forensic evidence of fraud, which appears calculated to exert pressure on the Applicant’s ability to pursue a statutory appeal or Judicial Review Application.

A. Administrative Conflict and Appeal Window Pressure (October 15 – 16, 2024)

TDI Group Admission of Police Engagement (October 15, 2024)

75. Mr. Papadimitropoulos, acting on behalf of the TDI Group, provided feedback regarding the FSRA Fraud Reporting Rule, wherein the TDI Group formally admitted to engaging with police concerning the reporting of white-collar crime and similar matters (see: Tab 3). This admission underscores the pre-existing nexus and collaboration between the Respondent Insurance Companies and law enforcement.

UNSOLICITED AND UNLAWFUL REAPPEARANCE OF CONFLICTED VICE CHAIR LAKE (OCTOBER 16, 2024)

76. Vice Chair Lake (VC Lake), who had previously been notified of a conflict of interest involving the Applicant in Spring 2024, conspicuously reappeared to issue her reconsideration decision regarding the VCM

Decisions. The timing of this conflicted intervention placed the administrative decision directly into the Applicant's statutory appeal window.

NOTIFICATION OF APPEAL/JRPA AND DEADLINE

77. A few days thereafter, the Applicant notified the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies of his intention to file either a statutory appeal or a judicial review. Had the Applicant proceeded with a statutory appeal, the filing deadline may have been approximately Tuesday, October 30, 2024 (15 days from the decision date of October 16, 2024).

C. THE THEFT, LANDLORD NEXUS, AND FORGERY EXTORTION (OCTOBER 25 – 28, 2024)

THEFT OF APPLICANT'S PROPERTY (OCTOBER 25, 2024)

78. On Friday, October 25, 2024, Mr. David Karat, who was unknown to the Applicant at the time, committed the theft of the Applicant's backpack, which contained critical property including his wallet, identification, banking/credit cards, computer, electronic devices, and medication, from the visitor area of the CAMH McCain Recovery Complex located at 1025 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario, at approximately 1:11 p.m. (see: Tab 3, page 16, paragraph 44).

Subsequent Discovery of the TDI Thief and the Landlord's Presence:

79. The Applicant later determined, via the miraculous and serendipitous unredacting of CAMH CCTV images pursuant to a FIPPA request on May 9, 2025, that not only was Mr. Karat the de facto thief, but the Landlord was demonstrably present in the CCTV images during the commission of the theft. This evidence provided the necessary, although previously unknown, link between the Landlord and the Respondent Insurance Companies/Nexus via their mutual association with Mr. Karat.

Post-Theft Fraud and Extortion (October 28, 2024):

80. Subsequent to the theft, on Monday, October 28, 2024, Mr. Papadimitropoulos engaged in further acts of fraudulent and forged signature execution within the "TPL Fraudulent Equipment Loan Agreement" and fraudulently borrowed two books using the Applicant's Toronto Public Library (TPL) card (see: Tab 3, page 16, paragraphs 45 and 46).

ALLEGATION OF CALCULATED DURESS:

81. The Applicant avers that these immediate and targeted acts of theft, fraud, and extortion, committed just prior to the statutory appeal deadline, were calculated to vitiate his free will and choice to proceed with the statutory appeal or the JRPA Application by creating an environment of maximum duress and vulnerability.

D. THE BRIBERY/FINANCIAL NEXUS AND FINAL EXTORTION (OCTOBER 31 – NOVEMBER 8, 2024)

HOME LISTING AND PURCHASE AGREEMENT (OCTOBER 31 – NOVEMBER 7, 2024)

82. On Thursday, October 31, 2024, the home located at 591 Fleetwood Drive, Oshawa, Ontario (the "Fleetwood Oshawa Home") was listed for sale. By Thursday, November 7, 2024, this property, prima facie, was subject to a formal agreement of purchase and sale involving Mr. Karat and his spouse, Ms. Julia Karat, and the vendors of the said property.

ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL LEVERAGE

83. At the time of this purchase agreement, Mr. Karat and his spouse, Ms. Dunk, already jointly owned the home located at 625 Grandview Avenue, Oshawa, with an initial mortgage (2020) representing nearly 98 percent of the property's value. Given the relatively short duration (48 months) of mortgage payments and the use of the "declining balance method", along with the required Canadian Mortgage Housing Corporation ("CMHC") insurance premiums, they would have possessed little equity in the Grandview property, which had not yet been listed for sale. The contractual obligation to purchase the $1 million Fleetwood Home on November 7, 2024, immediately following the theft and fraud campaign, is presented as circumstantial evidence of possible bribery or illicit inducement orchestrated via the financial nexus; most specifically, the payment of a secret commission or benefit by a non-principal to Mr. Karat.

EXTORTIONARY ACT (NOVEMBER 8, 2024)

84. On November 8, 2024, the final day of the relevant administrative decision period, a person utilizing the Applicant's TPL library card reserved passes to attend the Aga Khan Museum for the following day. This use of stolen identity for a specific cultural/religious destination is characterized as a further act of fraud and extortion aimed at maximizing psychological duress during the final period of the appeal window.
85. On the eleventh day (11th) of November, two thousand and twenty-four, the SABs Manager for the Respondent Insurance Companies effectuated the clandestine and unwarranted appropriation of twenty-four (24) distinct intellectual properties from the Queen and Saulter branch of the Toronto Public Library (TPL). This deliberate operation signifies an egregious dereliction of the duty of fidelity, given that the Epstein Cole LLP Client demonstrably appropriated the Applicant's official designation, proprietary identification, and established library account privileges to requisition these assets. A fortiori, this course of conduct constitutes an incontrovertible instance of material misrepresentation, executed with the requisite mens rea—the malicious intent—to perpetrate fraud upon the public institution and, by necessary implication, upon the Applicant through the resultant communicative actus reus. The res gestae of the collected materials, encompassing the initial tranche of sixteen (16) literary volumes, articulated a calculated concatenation of menacing allusions and subtle admonitions, thereby establishing ab initio the demonstrable intentionality underpinning the subsequent thematic conveyance.
86. The establishment of jurisdictional locus standi is manifestly discernible, rendering the conclusion self-evident. At the specific temporal antecedent of the transgression, the Epstein Cole LLP Client maintained a primary residential domicile situated in immediate proximity—specifically, three hundred (300) metres to the East (see: 869 Queen St E, Toronto, ON M4M 1J2)—of the aforementioned TPL branch. This precise geographical alignment positions the Epstein Cole LLP Client squarely within the immediate geographical nexus of the locus where the fraudulent material requisition was systematically executed. For empirical substantiation concerning this established residential nexus, reference may be made to the documentary evidence furnished within Tab 3, page 18, paragraphs 60 to 62. The irrefutable confluence of the temporal specificity and this established geographical predicate accentuates the calculated gravamen of the Epstein Cole LLP Client's pre-meditated actions.

87. Extortion is the criminalization of "intimidation and interference with freedom of choice (see: R v Davis, 1999 CanLII 638; R v. Barros, 2016 ABQB 243 per Lee J at para 16). The methodical selection of the aforementioned literary works did not issue from a source of serendipitous fortuity, but rather constituted the deliberate utilization of symbolic media specifically intended to articulate repercussions that any judicious personage would be compelled to eschew. The Epstein Cole LLP Client, embedded with the already committed fraud by the TDI Karat Theft, used "threats, accusations, menaces or violence" against the Applicant, and the culprit (Respondent Insurance Companies so bound by the Epstein Cole LLP and perhaps Madam Justice Shore so bound by her former law firm's bribe of the Epstein Cole LLP Client) did the prohibited conduct to induce or attempt to induce any person (the inducement recipient or a third party) to do anything and they were not threats to institute civil proceeding. The only requirements under extortion are that the culprits:
- a. Attempted (induct any person to do or not do anything); and
 - b. Intended (to obtain something).
88. A "veiled reference may constitute a threat if it is sufficient, in light of all the circumstances, to convey to the complainant the consequences which he or she fears or would prefer to avoid (see: R. v. Alexander, 2005 CanLII 325666 ONCA).
89. The "veiled" theft and fraud with the Keffiyeh scarf by Mr. Karat by October 25, 2024.
90. The "veiled" TPL Fraudulent Equipment Loan Agreement by the Epstein Cole LLP Client on October 28, 2024.
91. The "veiled references" within some of the fraudulently borrowed books of the TPL under the Applicant's name constituted and, as of this day, constitute threats to have conveyed and convey to the Applicant the consequences in which he would prefer to avoid.

92. By November 11, 2024, the offences of fraud, bribery and extortion were made out under the Criminal Code on a balance of probabilities. Ergo, they are made out under the common law legal tests for fraud, bribery and extortion.
93. The collective thematic undercurrent interwoven through these titles forms a manifest rhetorical instrumentality purposefully engineered to elicit palpable disquietude and apprehension in the Applicant:
- a. Camino Ghosts (Mr. John Grisham): This particular judicial thriller delineates narratives centred upon corporate avarice, political subversion, and the methodical surveillance of a protagonist who endeavors to unearth pervasive systemic fraud.
 - i. The veiled reference to powerful legal and political entities that actively impede the discovery of truth establishes a clear, intimidating parallel to the Applicant's present circumstances;
 - b. The Guest Book (Blake): This volume of historical fiction explores themes of entrenched generational privilege, moral complicity, and the prejudiced perspectives of an affluent, dynastic lineage.
 - i. By placing salient focus upon antecedent betrayals and the potential dissolution of an established sanctuary, this selection prima facie constitutes a calculated insinuation concerning the Applicant's perceived social or moral standing, thereby predicting an inevitable confrontation with historical transgressions;
 - c. Yellowface (Kuang): The explicit elements of professional corruption within this narrative revolve around literary plagiarism, cultural appropriation, and the systemic prioritization of fiscal emolument over ethical probity within the publishing milieu;
 - i. The narrative's singular focus upon an unreliable central character who rationalizes deceit serves as a poignant, if not rhetorical, parallel to the Respondent's own admitted actions, positing that even notorious actions can yield favourable public recognition: "mala publicitas est etiam bonum";
 - d. Closer Together: Knowing Ourselves, Loving Each Other (Trudeau): Ostensibly a document of introspection and self-discovery, this volume's discussion of emotional signatures and attachment dynamics appears strategically deployed as a subtle, yet profound, attempt to introduce a psycho-emotional element into the pervasive campaign of intimidation;
 - e. Sooley (Grisham): The narrative trajectory of a promising young prodigy whose future is systematically fragmented by civil conflict and profound personal bereavement constitutes a palpable suggestion of impending catastrophe and emotional dissolution directed toward the Applicant;
 - f. The Boys from Biloxi (Grisham): This judicial thriller explicitly details a protracted rivalry culminating in a seminal courtroom confrontation between a prosecuting official and a figure deeply immersed in organized criminal enterprise, complete with evidential references to calculated contract killings and covert surveillance protocols.
 - i. The deployment of this volume is an unequivocal conveyance of aggressive adversarial intent;
 - g. Holly (King): This selection centres upon a private investigator who methodically uncovers an elderly couple perpetrating gruesome, non-supernatural atrocities as a means to decelerate their own physical decline.
 - i. The rhetorical emphasis on enduring patience, calculated cunning, and remorseless ruthlessness concealed behind a harmless facade is a potent and transparent rhetorical flourish intended to convey the Respondent Insurance Companies, the LAT and government apparatuses own purported capacity for protracted and intensely malicious conduct;
 - h. Diva: The overarching thematic exploration of love, ambition, betrayal, and the substantial cost of professional celebrity strongly suggests a calculated insinuation targeting the Applicant's past conjugal relationship and former domestic partnership; and

- i. That Night in the Library: The intricate plot detailing matriculating university students trapped within a library post factum of a ritual, culminating in a series of shocking homicides, escalating paranoia, betrayal, and a fight for self-preservation until the matutinus period (dawn), is an overt and elaborate metaphorical depiction of the Applicant’s then circumstances—that is, being figuratively ensnared and facing clandestine aggression.

B. CORROBORATING EVIDENCE OF CONCEALMENT

94. Pro forma, it is essential to stipulate that the presence of an individual named Mr. Karat was confirmed to be concealing his presence within the TIDES classroom, situated in the basement of the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (“CAMH”), on the twenty-fifth day of October, two thousand and twenty-four. This fact was unequivocally conceded by CAMH in documentation provided pursuant to the Applicant’s second formal Access Request thereof.

IV. JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF NOVEMBER 13, 2024

A. INITIAL APPEARANCE AND DEMAND FOR DOCUMENTATION

95. On the thirteenth day of November, two thousand and twenty-four, the Applicant appeared for his inaugural appearance at the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) at 10 Armoury Street Courthouse, in direct compliance with the obligations stipulated in the Criminal Code Form 10 Undertaking. During this proceeding, the Applicant proffered an application for dismissal *nolle prosequi of the charge and required the production of the foundational arrest warrant from the representative of the Crown. The Crown acknowledged the query and indicated they were undertaking requisite internal investigation regarding the demand. Subsequently, the Applicant was apprised of the designation of assigned Crown Counsel (Mr. Rudra) presiding over the criminal proceeding. Crown Counsel Mr. Rudra failed to provide a substantive response to this formalized request for disclosure, creating an issue of evidentiary *lacuna.

I. COMMENCEMENT OF JUDICIAL REVIEW AND CONTEMPORANEOUS ACTIONS (NOVEMBER 15, 2024)

96. On the fifteenth day of November, Anno Domini MMXXIV, the inauguration of the instant proceeding was effectuated through the lodgment of the Application for Judicial Review (JRPA Application). This monumental act of instigation necessitated the provision of the requisite formal service upon all designated parties, which enumeration encompassed the Respondent Insurance Companies, the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LTB), the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO), and the Attorney General of Canada (AGC). (Vide Tab 3, paragraph 69 of the evidentiary record).

97. Coincidentally, an attendance for the inaugural oral disquisition before the LTB was undertaken. Regrettably, the quantum of time allocated was subsequently determined to be inadequate for a comprehensive hearing concerning the matter at issue. Furthermore, during this specific appearance, the documentary record substantiates that unduly strident and patently injudicious remarks were articulated by the presiding LTB adjudicator. It is essential, pro forma, to acknowledge the operational mandate of the LTB, which is situated under the direct aegis of Mr. Weir, the incumbent Head of that tribunal, pursuant to the General Regulation promulgated under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA).

A. THE VEXING CONCOMITANT SALE OF REAL PROPERTY

98. Upon the identical date of the JRPA Application's initiation and "bringing", the property, formally designated as the 625 Grandview Home, Oshawa, Ontario (the "Grandview Oshawa Home"), was effectually listed for the pecuniary consideration of $599,000 by the Respondents, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk, the latter utilizing her correct legal appellation. Such a valuation is demonstrably a reasonable assessment, inasmuch as it signifies an appreciation approximating $44,000 across a forty-eight-month tenure.
99. A rigorous extrapolation predicated upon the available financial particulars permits the revelation of several salient facts. The inceptive equity investment by the purchasers constituted the mandatory deposit of $10,000 towards the $550,000 purchase price in the Spring of MMXX. The extant mortgage structure—defined by monthly amortizations of $2,400 at a pecuniary interest rate of 2.34%—would have consequently occasioned combined remittances to Scotia Mortgage Corporation in excess of $140,000 over a four-year period. Assuming the maintenance of a non-variable interest rate, the reduction of principal indebtedness would have approximated $40,000, thereby culminating in a total equity position of $50,000. Per contra, in the event of a variable interest rate mechanism, the accrued principal reduction would have been substantially curtailed to an estimated $20,000, yielding a total equity position of $30,000.

100. Crucially, the inceptive loan-to-value ratio applicable to Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk, the latter being a licensed paralegal (whereas Ms. Karat is designated as a fictitious individual), would have quantifiably exceeded eighty percent; this circumstance mandatorily necessitated the procurement of mortgage default insurance coverage from the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) being affixed upon the instrument of title.

II. THE INTRICATE WEB OF THE AGREEMENT OF PURCHASE AND SALE

101. The ostensible Agreement of Purchase and Sale pertaining to the 625 Grandview Home has been demonstrated to have involved a plurality of individuals possessing a discernible nexus with the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH). The purchasing parties, as formally enumerated, comprised the following:

- a. Ms. Dorothy-During Gibbs: An individual formally retained by CAMH in the professional capacity of a social worker, specifically operating within the Treatment of Interdisciplinary Depression and Eating Disorders (TIDES) program;
- b. Mr. Michael Gibbs: The spousal unit of Ms. Dorothy-During Gibbs, designated as the primary joint tenant, holding a ninety-nine percent beneficial interest; and
- c. Mr. Peter Gibbs: The progenitor of Mr. Michael Gibbs, designated as a one percent interest held as a tenant-in-common.

102. The propinquity, both familial and professional, is further extended by the demonstrable fact that the spouse of Mr. Peter Gibbs was retained in a professional capacity by CAMH for a period approximating three decades, performing duties within its archiving department or foundation. Furthermore, Mr. Peter Gibbs himself is a veteran professional within the insurance industry, having conducted his professional operations from offices previously situated within the prominent TD Towers on Wellington Street in Toronto (vide Tab 3, page 21). The confluence of these professional and familial associations amongst the purchasers and their immediate kin constitutes a matter warranting scrupulous examination and is not to be precipitously dismissed sub silentio.

III. INTERIM EVENTS AND PROCEDURAL DILIGENCE (NOVEMBER 16 – NOVEMBER 21, 2024)

103. On Saturday, the sixteenth day of November, MMXXIV, a necessary administrative action was undertaken through the procurement of a successor library card, thereby rectifying the antecedent matter concerning the unauthorized removal of various literary works that had been charged to the personal account of the Applicant without explicit authorization.
104. During the immediately succeeding week of operations, specifically spanning November 18 to November 21, MMXXIV, a detailed epistolary exchange was conducted with Madam Clerk Clegg concerning the stipulated intake protocols of the Divisional Court. The Applicant discharged the requisite procedural duty through the comprehensive review and furnishing of the necessary documentation and attendant material, which were subsequently ratified and accepted by the Divisional Court. Parenthetically, the Respondent Insurance Companies, acting in egregious derogation of the mandatory requirements imposed by the Divisional Court, demonstrably omitted the submission of any requisite information pertaining to the aforementioned intake process.
105. A fortiori, the mandatory procedural obligations incumbent upon the Respondents under the Rules of Civil Procedure were not duly discharged; the Respondents failed to effect the lodgment of any Notice of Appearance (NOA) forthwith during the entire administrative week commencing the eighteenth day of November and concluding the twenty-second day of November, MMXXIV.

IV. THE CONSUMMATION OF THE TRANSACTION AND ABROGATION OF PROCEDURAL FIDELITY (NOVEMBER 26–27, 2024)

A. Denotation of Sale (November 26, 2024)

106. The Agreement of Purchase and Sale pertaining to the Grandview Oshawa Home was denotated as being irrevocably sold on the twenty-sixth day of November, MMXXIV. With the indispensable benefit of hindsight (post hoc ergo propter hoc), this specific date has subsequently been observed to assume a position of paramount and increased significance, particularly when subjected to concomitant consideration (pari passu) with the subsequent procedural omissions and derelection exhibited by the LTB.

107. On November 27, MMXXIV, the Notice of Appearance (NOA) was ultimately submitted by Mr. Boyce, functioning in the capacity of counsel for the LTB. This belated lodgment constituted a clear and undeniable breach of the Rules of Civil Procedure, which unequivocally stipulates that such documentary material must be filed forthwith subsequent to the formal service of the application. The resulting filing delinquency is therefore established beyond peradventure and may be deemed self-evident by the tribunal.
108. Furthermore, Mr. Boyce, whose professional engagement was formally recorded within the Law Society of Ontario Directory as being with the Safety, Licensing Appeals and Standards Tribunals Ontario (SLASTO)—an administrative conglomeration of tribunals encompassing functions related to safety, licensing, and accident adjudication—manifestly failed to substantiate procedural rectitude by neglecting to furnish formal service of the NOA to the Applicant via the specifically designated electronic mail address for the current JRPA Proceeding. The professional history of Mr. Boyce includes tenure with SLASTO commencing in MMXXIII, which followed prior service as an adjudicator for two independent tribunals: (i) the antecedent entity of the LTB; and (ii) the Law Enforcement Complaints Agency (LECA), which was previously denominated as the Ontario Police Civilian Commission, an organization responsible for the adjudication of complaints levied against police officers within the Province of Ontario.

I. SERVED YET UNFILED AND UNDELIVERED NOTICE OF APPEARANCE BY RESPONDENT INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THE PRESUMPTION OF EX PARTE CONSULTATION (DECEMBER 3, 2024)

109. Upon the service of the Notice of Appearance (NOA) by the lawyer licensee counsel for the Respondent Insurance Companies, Mr. Nieuwland, on December 3, 2024, a striking congruence was discerned between the substantive content of the Respondent Insurance Companies' NOA and that purportedly originating from the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT). This parallel nature of the submissions gave rise to the powerful and unavoidable inference of clandestine ex parte communications between the parties external to the official court record.

II. JURISPRUDENTIAL CONSTRAINTS ON TRIBUNAL PARTICIPATION

110. Given that the LAT constitutes the subject adjudicative tribunal in the present matter, the permissible ambit of its participation rights in this judicial review application is necessarily circumscribed by the authoritative pronouncements of the Supreme Court of Canada in Ontario (Energy Board) and its jurisprudential progeny. This lineage includes, inter alia, the controlling precedents established in Drewlo Holdings, Tranquilli, and Hutchison v. Aviva which were denoted in exchanged emails between the Applicant and the Respondent Insurance Companies, LAT, AGO and Divisional Court (vide: Tab 3, page 22, paragraph 83). The foundational principle articulated in these decisions mandates the severely limited participation of the Tribunal, chiefly to non-merits-based, administrative issues.

III. DIVISIONAL COURT CONFIRMATION REGARDING JUDICIAL CASE MANAGEMENT

111. In early December 2024, Ms. Lawrence, an Assistant Hearing Coordinator for the Divisional Court, formally attested that the scheduling of case conferences is an inherently discretionary measure, and is neither a mandatory nor a routine procedural requirement. According to her representations, an agent of the Divisional Court, employed by the MAG (Ontario), the activation of such a conference was contingent upon the sound discretion and official approval of the designated “case management judge”. Madam Justice Shore was later disclosed to the Applicant, a “party”, and the Respondent Insurance Companies and LAT (collectively, the “Non-Appearing Respondents”), and the AGO, non-appearing at the time and later confirmed in January 2025 to be non-participating in the JRPA Proceeding, to be the “case management judge”.
112. Ergo, if the “case management judge” was the “judge” (neither an RSJ nor an Associate Judge) that directed that the JPRA Proceeding was to be “Assigned For Case Management” that power had to be grounded in authority which would have been Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.
113. Rule 77.05 of Rules of Civil Procedure is titled, “Assignment for Case Management” which comports a discretion: to assign or not to assign.
114. Rule 77.05(1) of Rules of Civil Procedure is titled “On Consent Of Parties”: A regional senior judge or, subject to the direction of a regional senior judge, any judge or associate judge may, with the consent of all parties, assign a proceeding to which this Rule may apply for case management under this Rule. O. Reg. 438/08, s. 64; O. Reg. 383/21, s. 15.

115. Rule 77.05(2) of Rules of Civil Procedure is titled “No Consent”: (2) At any time on or after the filing of the first defence in a proceeding to which this Rule may apply, a regional senior judge or, subject to the direction of a regional senior judge, any judge or associate judge may assign the proceeding for case management under this Rule, (a) on his or her own initiative; or (b) on the request of a party or on motion if the court requires it. O. Reg. 438/08, s. 64; O. Reg. 383/21, s. 15.
116. The law is always speaking and principles of basic legislative interpretation require the words to be interpreted in the natural context and in harmony with the enabling statute and English language.
117. The reference to the “case management judge” by Ms. Lawrence on December 3, 2024, is all the more telling now considering the amendments to Rule 77.05 in 2008 when measured against the previous language in 2007.

Rule 77.05 in 2007 which was more concordant to Rule 77.09 (“Defence Of Proceeding”) and Rule 77.09.1 (“Assignment of Particular Judge”) under the 2007 Rules of Civil Procedure (the “2007 Civil Rules”)

118. In 2007, Rule 77.09(2) was entitled of “Assignment to Case Management” as opposed to “Assignment for Case Management” with the current Rule 77 (subject to the amendments from “Master” to “Associate Judge”) coming into force on January 10, 2010, under the heading of “Defence of Proceeding”. The change in language is subject to the expressio est alterius principle with Rule 77.09(2) stating in the 2007 Civil Rules:

“Assignment to Case Management

(2) On the filing of a defence, the proceeding shall be assigned to a case management judge or team for management in accordance with rules 77.10 to 77.17. O. Reg. 284/01, s. 27.

119. “Defence” under the 2007 Civil Rules still included the filing of a “Notice Of Appearance”. Nonetheless, under the 2007 Civil Rules, the “filing” of a “defence” was required for any assignment to case management but notably it was to a case management judge.
120. As of January 2, 2010, there was no mandatory assignment of a case to case management let alone to a “case management judge”.

121. Rather under the 2024 Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 77.05 distinguished between “consent of parties” and “no consent” and embedded in the same, that there was more than one “party”. Without consent, a “party”, which is one that has filed a “defence” and only after a “First Defence” has been filed in the proceeding at issue, may request that said proceeding is for case management.
122. Case management is not the same as a “case conference” per se.
123. However, without the filing of a “First Defence”, a “Judge” (as an RSJ or Associate Judge are not relevant in the Divisional Court) CANNOT direct that any JRPA proceeding is “Assigned for Case Management” on her own initiative. Moreover, any request, which would be a respondent but not a “party” per se, would be null and void, without a “First Defence” having been filed in the JSO Portal and now the OCPP.
124. Ergo, for a 14 year period in December 2024, the JRPA Proceeding could not have, as a matter of rudimentary English language comprehension, been requested by the LAT for “Assignment For Case Management” or the “case management judge” (as posited and represented by Ms. Lawerence of the Divisional Court) could not even “consider” such a null and void request for “Assignment For Case Management”.
125. Consequently, the Divisional Court was correct to not that case management was discretionary but “the case management judge” could not determine, as a matter of law:
126. Whether the JRPA Proceeding could be “Assigned For Case Management”; and
127. Assignment to a particular judge under Rule 77.06 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.
128. The reason for the same, in law, is a matter of elementary legislative enactment interpretation, in that Rule 77.06 under the current Rules of Civil Procedure requires that the CJ or ACJ of the SCJ (Ontario), a RSJ, or a judge designated by any of them (the aforementioned three judges (CJ, ACJ and RSJ), which is commonly known as a “Local Administrative Judge”. A “case management judge” and “local administrative judge” are not ‘one and the same’.
129. The LAJ has an enduring designation or “assignment of power” to “administratively delegate” that “all steps in a proceeding that is assigned for case management”, implying already assigned for case management under Rule 77.05(1) or (2), depending on the actuality of consent of the parties versus the no-consent of “parties”, subject to the filing of a “First Defence”, not a “Last Defence” or expiry of the timeline to file a Notice of Appearance. The “expiry” of the filing of an NOA under the 2007 Civil Rules was an odd and non-harmonious usage of prescribed language because anything not filed immediately would be the expiry of that period.

130. Under the 2007 Civil Rules, Rule 77.09.1 “ASSIGNMENT OF PARTICULAR JUDGE”, contained two subsections or subrules which were:
 - a. “On Consent of Parties” (see: Rule 77.09.1(1); and
 - b. “On Motion – Application” (see: Rule 77.09.1(3).
131. The former 2007 Civil Rules, Rule 77.09.1(1) stated, “A regional senior judge or a judge designated by him or her may, with the written consent of all parties, assign one or more proceedings to a judge, or in exceptional circumstances to two or more judges, for management in accordance with rules 77.10 to 77.17. O. Reg. 113/01, s. 7”.
132. The 2007 Civil Rules, Rule 77.09.1(1) stated, “(3) In an application, on the filing of the last notice of appearance or on the expiration of the time for filing notices of appearance, a regional senior judge or a judge designated by him or her may, on a party’s motion, assign the application to a judge, or in exceptional circumstances to two or more judges, for management in accordance with rules 77.10 to 77.17. O. Reg. 113/01, s. 7”.
133. Ergo, under the current Rules of Civil Procedure, there cannot be any assignment to “two judges” but to a specific singular “particular judge”. Further, the assignment to a “particular judge” can be done by request but it requires the active step of “filing” a “First Defence”. In simplistic terms, a change from expiry of the filing of the “Last Defence” to the active filing of the “First Defence”. Without that active step of filing, which must naturally be with “proof of service” with the two forming “delivery”, there cannot be any “Assignment For Case Management” under Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. Without an “Assignment For Case Management”, there cannot be any assignment to a “particular judge” by the: (i) CJ of the SCJ; (ii) ACJ of the SCJ; (iii) RSJ of the SCJ; or (iv) LAJ of the Divisional Court.
134. The change from the repealed 2007 Civil Rules (the “Repealed 2007 Civil Rules”) to the current Rules of Civil Procedure was intentional and unequivocal in that under the binding Rules of Civil Procedure, “consent” is not required for assignment to a “particular judge”. Moreover, if there was no consent for assignment to a “particular judge”, then after the filing of the last notice of appearance or the expiration of the time for filing notices of appearance [plural], a RSJ or a judge designated by him or her (which would be odd or nonsensical considering the RSJ managing the Toronto Region for the SCJ and the Divisional Court being an intermediate court of appeal or judicial review along with the RSJ not being, by statute, of the Divisional Court as per section 18(2) of the Courts of Justice Act) could either grant or refuse the motion by a party seeking that a JRPA application or any “notice of application” be assigned to a judge or previously to two or more judges.

135. Ergo, not only was Madam Clerk Clegg of the Divisional Court representations in January and February 2025 that all cases before the Divisional Court were case managed wrong on its face by its lack of quotation and citing that which was quoted, it contradicted the Rules of Civil Procedure and its requirements along with the 2023 Divisional Court Practice Direction, issued by the CJ of the SCJ.
136. Moreover, Madam Justice Shore could not have heard and decided any motions of the Applicant as she one cannot assign something to themselves and therein the SCC decision of Peace River and its ratio decidendi and judicial precedent is consistent with Rule 77.05 and .06.

IV. The LAT’s Invalid, Null and Void Request for a Case Management Conference

137. Absent any demonstrable evidence of the requisite “filing” or formal ‘delivery’ of an NOA by any of the named Respondents, the LAT—whose subsequent actions must be critically examined through the prism of the adverse inference doctrine—tendered a request for a case conference that was void ab initio (null from the outset) pursuant to the strictures of Rule 77.06. Furthermore, the LAT provided no evidentiary documentation confirming either its own “delivery” or the necessary “filing” of its NOA. Correspondingly, the Respondent Insurance Companies likewise failed to proffer such evidence. In the resultant lacuna of procedural compliance, there existed no foundational evidence of the “filing” of a “First Defence”. Consequently, in the absence of a perfected file or the explicit consent of all participating parties at that material time, the LAT possessed no authority to solicit the scheduling of a case conference.

V. PERFECTION OF THE JUDICIAL REVIEW APPLICATION AND ANCILLARY INCIDENTS OF FRAUD (DECEMBER 10 – 16, 2024)

138. On December 10, 2024, the Applicant effected the due service and filing of the Application Record. Two days subsequent, on December 12, 2024, the Applicant served and filed his comprehensive Factum. The culmination of the filing requirements occurred on December 13, 2024, when the Applicant provided a signed Certificate of Perfection. Madam Clerk Clegg subsequently confirmed that the Applicant was obligated to remit the amount of $645.00, which was duly paid by the Applicant on Friday, December 13, 2024, a fact confirmed to the Respondents. On December 16, 2024, the Applicant confirmed the successful filing of the Certificate of Perfection, complete with proof of service pertaining to his Factum and Application Record. Madam Clerk Clegg officially confirmed the receipt and subsequent filing of these documents via the Justice Services Online Portal (JSO Portal).

B. Procedural Deficiency in Listing for Hearing

139. At the aforementioned juncture, Madam Clerk Clegg was required, as a matter of obligatory procedural duty, to assign the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA) application to a “listing for hearing”. Her Honour failed to execute this mandate at the appointed time. Furthermore, within a reasonable temporal proximity, Madam Clerk Clegg was obligated to disseminate, via postal service, a Form 68(B) to all parties and other persons delineated in the Certificate of Perfection.

C. ANCILLARY INCIDENTS OF FRAUD AND IMPERSONATION

140. Simultaneously, on December 13, 2024, an individual utilizing the Applicant’s identification—later definitively ascertained to be Mr. Papadimitropoulos—engaged in a further act of criminal fraud. This perpetration transpired at the Toronto Public Library (TPL) Reference Library in the evening hours, involving the unauthorized removal of sundry literary works. Prior to this, the malefactor fraudulently altered the Applicant’s primary telephone number to that belonging to Ms. Valerie Oulette, a well-established investigative journalist known for her rigorous reporting on instances of police corruption. The Applicant remained wholly unaware of these contemporaneous nefarious activities.

VI. FORMAL COMMUNICATIONS AND REQUISITIONS TO THE COURT (DECEMBER 19 – 24, 2024)

A. Delimitation of Tribunal Locus Standi

141. The Applicant communicated his reasoned legal position regarding the circumscribed ability of the LAT to participate in the proceedings, limiting its role to very banal and non-merit issues, on December 19, 2024 (vide: Exhibit “X” of Tab 3, pages 694 to 704). On December 23, 2024, the Applicant further solidified his stance, reiterating that the LAT could participate only in an exceedingly narrow capacity (vide: Tab 3, Exhibit “X”, pages 704 to 713). At said time, the Applicant did not know and could not have known that the LAT did not file its un-served, by sending to the wrong email address, Notice of Appearance.

B. Procedural Inquiries and Technology Compliance

142. On December 20, 2024, the Applicant formally inquired into the receipt of a Form 68(B) and confirmed that he had established an account for CaseLines, awaiting his official invitation thereto. The Applicant further confirmed his intention to upload all previously filed documentation via CaseLines in strict compliance with the relevant Practice Direction (vide: Exhibit “X”, page 705).

C. The Applicant’s Requisitions (December 24, 2024)

143. After formally confirming to the LAT (with the Respondents copied) the narrow strictures governing its participation rights, and observing the Respondent Insurance Companies’ persistent failure to comply with requests emanating from the Divisional Court, the Applicant formally submitted Requisition #1 on December 24, 2024. This instrument sought to compel the Divisional Court (specifically, court staff) to provide the requisite Form 68(B) and comply with their statutory and procedural duties (vide: Tab 3, Exhibit “X”, page 714).

144. In view of the exigent nature of the JRPA Application, the Applicant also filed Requisition #2, seeking an urgent hearing pursuant to section 6(2) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act, to secure leave before a single judge of the Superior Court of Justice, as distinct from the Divisional Court.

VII. MISREPRESENTATION OF THE CASE CENTER (FORMERLY CASELINES) PROTOCOL BY THE DIVISIONAL COURT (COURT STAFF) (DECEMBER 23 – 31, 2024)

145. From December 23, 2024, through December 31, 2024, Divisional Court staff, primarily through the actions of Ms. Lawrence, actively engaged in a fraudulent misrepresentation, contending that the Applicant would only be granted access to Case Center upon the formal scheduling of a hearing date (the “Case Center Misrepresentation”). This assertion stands in direct contradiction to the mandatory requirements enshrined in the Rules of Civil Procedure (Rule 4.05.3), which stipulates that every participating party in any hearing or conference shall upload documents to CaseLines for the court’s consideration (vide: Rule 4.05.3(3)).
146. It is only an “order” that could exempt the requirement of uploading of documents into the Case Center portal. It is beyond axiomatic and a matter of evidence that no judge issued any “order” prior to any “conference”. Ergo, the Rules of Civil Procedure’s requirement remained.
147. The stipulated deadline for this mandatory compliance is five days prior to a conference (vide: Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 4.05.3(4)(2.)). The only document exempted from pre-conference uploading is a “Compendium” (vide: Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 4.05.3(3.1)). This denial of access to Case Center rendered the Applicant incapable of uploading his filings, thereby preventing any presiding motions or conference judge from properly reviewing the critical documentation necessary for adjudication (vide: Tab 3, page 23).
148. However, there is an exception for “motions” but NOT “conferences” which is Rule 37.10 of the Rules of Civil Procedure which the Applicant utilized by requisition as prescribed for NOM #1 and NOM #2.
149. As such, the Applicant has sought an order, by “Declaration” and “Order”, that the Divisional Court and Madam Justice Shore breached Rule 4.05.3 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. The purported “compulsory case conference attendance requirement” could not be compulsory because it was void ab initio on a multitude of grounds.
150. Ergo, an Order is sought by the Applicant by declaration, pursuant to the Courts of Justice Act and the Inherent Jurisdiction of the Court, which the Divisional Court has in this regard (see: section 97, The Court of Appeal and the Superior Court of Justice, exclusive of the Small Claims Court, may make binding declarations of right, whether or not any consequential relief is or could be claimed. 1994, c. 12, s. 39; 1996, c. 25, s. 9 (17)). The Applicant also seeks orders of specific performance by the “First Insurer” or “damages to the extent that it is more aligned with expeditiousness, justness, and cost-effectiveness on the merits.

VIII. SUBSEQUENT ACTS OF EXTORTION AND NON-COMPLIANCE WITH FILING TIMELINES

151. While there is somewhat of a dividing line between pre-litigation misconduct and intra-proceeding misconduct for purposes of damages and costs, such a dividing line for analytical precision is noted but it matters not herein because the fraud, extortion and bribery occurred pre-JRPA Proceeding and during the JRPA Proceeding.
152. On December 21, 2024, subsequent to an exchange of electronic mail between the Applicant and Respondents (with the Divisional Court copied), a further incident of fraud transpired involving the Applicant's TPL account. The perpetrators, demonstrably emanating from the original act of theft perpetrated by Mr. Karat, engaged in the unauthorized withdrawal of periodicals and the illicit borrowing of a laptop computer. On Saturday, December 28, 2024, a similar fraudulent occurrence was logged at the TPL Fort York branch.
153. The Applicant submitted Affidavit #2 on December 30, 2024 (vide: Exhibit "X", page 717). In accordance with the standard required for the official stamping or refusal of a filing, the JSO Portal (Civil Online) was obligated to affix the official timestamp to both Requisition #1 and Requisition #2 within five business days, the deadline for which was December 31, 2024. No such stamping occurred.

IX. JUDICIAL INTERVENTION AND THE DISREGARD OF STARE DECISIS (JANUARY 2025)

A. The Case Conference Directive

154. On January 2, 2025, the Applicant formally submitted his revised Requisition #2 via electronic mail, consistent with the dictates of the Divisional Court 2023 Consolidated Practice Direction (vide: Tab #3, Exhibit "X", 719). Requisition #2 sought an urgent hearing before a singular judge of the SCJ, not the Divisional Court per se.
155. The judicial purported directive which was in the nature of a purported compulsory case conference requirement albeit without official judicial capacity, which was promulgated on January 7, 2025, by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, the antecedent professional association and partnership of whom with Epstein Cole LLP was not proffered for disclosure, prima facie, through the purported intercession of Divisional Court personnel (specifically, a MS. Tibula, an Assistant Trial Coordinator), is that which constitutes the gravamen of the instant submission. Said directive delineated the following stipulations:

There shall be a case management conference on this file, on a date to be provided by the Court office. The parties should come prepared to discuss whether the application for judicial review is premature and, if necessary, prepared to set a schedule for the exchange of material and set a hearing date.”

II. THE JURISPRUDENTIAL IMPERATIVE OF ABATEMENT (VOID AB INITIO)

156. The position maintained is that the aforementioned judicial direction is rendered void ab initio, possessing no operative legal force or effect whatsoever, consequent to the patent absence of discernible parties and the non-existence of a "First Defence" having been duly lodged at the material epoch of its promulgation. This fundamental jurisprudential defect is understood to constitute the terminus of the discursive engagement concerning the vires of the direction itself, inasmuch as the establishment of the nullity of a purported judicial instruction is not contingent upon the requisite multiplicity of distinct and independent judicial pronouncements. Non sequitur, the paramount exigencies of the public interest are considered to necessitate the issuance of declarations of right and law, such pronouncements being crucial for the prospective elucidation of the tenets of practice, procedure, and process, especially regarding those complex aspects demonstrably evasive of immediate resolution within the strictures of the instant JRPA Application.

III. DETAILED SCRUTINY OF PROCEDURAL IRREGULARITIES

A. Non-Conformity with the Rules and Statutory Provisions

157. Firstly, the phraseological inclusion "on this file" is required to be considered coterminous with the procedural mandate encapsulated in Rule 38.07(2)(c) of the Rules of Civil Procedure. Concomitant with the Respondents' action of merely "delivering" their respective Notices of Appearance (NOA), any non-appearing respondent was legally precluded from undertaking the subsequent obligation pertaining to the filing of material pertinent to the application.

158. Secondly, given the demonstrable fact that a singular litigant constituted the entire complement of participants at the designated time, the purported prerequisite established by the Honourable Justice Shore for the involvement of "parties" was devoid of any operational legal efficacy at that juncture, thereby failing to acknowledge the actual configuration of the litigation then extant.

159. Thirdly, any discursive engagement with the concept of "prematurity" must be undertaken with the critical understanding that counsel for the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), Mr. Boyce, has previously been observed to conflate the distinct Prematurity Doctrine with the separate Rule against bifurcation or fragmentation of administrative proceedings. The failure to maintain this crucial jurisprudential distinction demonstrably vitiates the utility of the directive's content.
160. Fourthly, the inclusion of the conditional qualifier, "if necessary," stands as a direct contravention of, or is repugnant to, the principles delineated in Yatar at paragraph 49, which mandates a more decisive and less contingent approach to procedural governance by the judiciary.

B. DEFECTIVE ASSIGNMENT AND ULTRA VIRES JUDICIAL MANAGEMENT

161. Fifthly, the Honourable Madam Justice Shore assumed the mantle of the case management judge, having ratified a non-compliant and void *ab initio request for "Assignment For Case Management." This request was tendered solely by the LAT, which, as of December 3, 2024, had only purportedly served—but conspicuously failed to both "file" and "deliver"—its Notice of Appearance, thereby vitiating the foundation of the assignment.
162. Sixthly, the official record is manifestly bereft of any formal judicial order that mandated any party or person to refrain from uploading their "filed" documentation to Case Center. Ergo, in the absence of such a requisite order, the scheduled convocation of any subsequent conference lacked the necessary procedural foundation for its proper execution.

C. Judicial Misrepresentation and Systemic Corruption

163. Seventhly, the conspicuous "bolding" employed within the judicial language's opening segment is manifestly consistent with the historical misrepresentation of law previously perpetrated by the Divisional Court (specifically, Madam Clerk Clegg) concerning the purported mandatory nature of case management proceedings within the Divisional Court. This foundational misstatement was demonstrably false at the time and materially corrupted the foundation of the JRPA Proceeding. The logical and necessary extrapolation is that Madam Justice Shore, being the author of the late January and early February 2025 judicial pronouncements, is inextricably linked to the perpetuation of this misstated and misrepresented legal premise.

164. Eighthly, Madam Justice Shore conspicuously refrained from issuing an abeyance of the prescribed period for the filing (an act distinct from the mere exchange) of the necessary documents within the JRPA Application. The necessary and unavoidable inference to be drawn is that the Honourable Justice possessed knowledge, or ought to have apprehended, that none of the Respondents had fulfilled their dual obligation to both "file" and "deliver" their respective Notices of Appearance.
165. Ninthly, the conceptualization of a "case management judge" (vide: "case management judge" means the judge or a member of a team of judges assigned to manage a proceeding; ("juge responsable de la gestion de la cause") within the Repealed 2007 Civil Rules) was fundamentally predicated upon the judicial review of a request for "Assignment for Case Management," a procedural mechanism that was formally repealed on January 1, 2010. Even under the superseded Repealed 2007 Civil Rules, a case management judge was designated to manage a proceeding, not every proceeding (ad infinitum).
166. Tenthly, although it remains indisputable that a judicial order may properly emanate from a case conference, the attendant obligation to appear, whether purported or otherwise, can only be triggered if the proceeding has been validly assigned for case management and validly assigned to a specific judicial officer. A breach of either of these legislative prerequisites (vide section 1 of the Legislation Act) is both sufficient and necessary to effectuate the setting aside of the impugned procedural step or document.

D. Critical Omissions and Subsequent Judicial Intent

167. It is critically important to underscore that no concurrent order was issued by Justice Shore effectuating the suspension of the parties' mandatory obligation to comply with Case Center protocols by uploading all filed documents five days prior to any scheduled conference. Furthermore, neither a determinate date for the purported Case Management Conference was specified, nor was any stay or abeyance granted concerning the statutory obligations enshrined in section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act or any other extant filing requirement.

168. A plain construction dictates that Madam Justice Shore appeared to embrace willful blindness in relation to the Record of Proceeding, which, had it been reviewed with appropriate diligence, would have been brought unequivocally to her cognizance by either the Applicant or the Respondents in accordance with Rule 4.05.3.

The Calculated Abnegation of Evidential Review

169. It is posited, upon a more refined exegesis, that a calculated lack of desire for the review of any argumentation, evidential material, submissions, or legal authorities tendered by the Applicant was evinced. Had such materials been permitted to come to light, they would assuredly have revealed further evidence compelling her inevitable recusal from any subsequent supervisory capacity sought to be exercised over the Applicant's proceeding.

IV. Investigative Discoveries and Imperative Recusal

170. It is, with the utmost deference, submitted that Madam Justice Shore was well-apprehended of the fact that case conferences are conducted in camera pursuant to the Rules of Civil Procedure. However, the exclusion of the public is neither legally nor practically synonymous with the complete absence of a contemporaneous recordation of the proceedings.
171. The representation by Madam Justice Shore to the Applicant—conveyed through SCJ RMO Ms. Amirthalingam on October 10, 2025—that "we" do not furnish transcripts for case conferences and that no "audio/transcript can be provided" necessitated comprehensive analysis and exhaustive investigations by the Applicant. This endeavour sought to establish the requisite inferential and circumstantial evidence necessary to set aside, on a balance of probabilities, the steps, documents, or orders upon prescribed, statutory, common law, or equitable grounds.

172. Parenthetically, these subsequent investigative efforts undertaken by the Applicant proved immensely fruitful, culminating in the disclosure (latu sensu) that Ms. Sinnadurai was counsel to Madam Justice Shore. The revealed material includes, inter alia
173. An Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding and all non-disclosed documentation therein, including the "signed arrest warrant" which was not issued by JP Jiri;
174. The initial non-disclosure of Mr. David Karat in the TDI Karat Theft matter;
175. The initial non-disclosure of the fraudulent conduct of the Epstein Cole LLP Client on October 28, 2024, concerning the Fraudulent TPL Equipment Loan Agreement; and
176. Other related matters within the intra the JRPA Proceeding.

V. Conclusion and Determination

177. Notwithstanding any submission concerning the legal permissibility of Madam Justice Shore to have validly assigned the JRPA Proceeding for case management and to have assigned the JRPA Proceeding to herself, the Applicant's Notices of Motion (NOM #1 and NOM #2), in conjunction with the instant motion, are subject to an imperative requirement that they not be adjudicated before her, either at first instance or in perpetuity (in perpetuum).

B. DEVIATION FROM SUPREME COURT PRECEDENT

178. Moreover, the quoted judicial language regarding prematurity appears to be contrary to the definitive ratio decidendi of the Supreme Court of Canada in Yatar v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex, which unequivocally mandates that JRPA Applications must be heard on their merits. Furthermore, at this time, the LAT was in breach of section 10 of the JRPA by a duration exceeding fifty-three days.

C. MISREPRESENTATION REGARDING THE RECORD OF PROCEEDINGS

179. Subsequently, Mr. Boyce proffered a misrepresentation, asserting that the Record of Proceedings (ROP) had not been filed. His contention rested upon a spurious claim of a prior consent by the Applicant (purportedly acting alone, which is neither possible in fact nor de jure) concerning an otherwise forthwith statutory requirement. The Applicant had neither the legal authority (de jure) nor the practical intent (de facto) to waive the statutory timeline (vide: Tab 3, Exhibit "X", page 728).

X. THE QUESTIONABLE INVOLVEMENT OF THE HONOURABLE MADAM JUSTICE SHORE

180. The Applicant promptly registered an objection to the inclusion of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore in the proceedings. This objection was predicated upon Her Honour’s prior professional capacity as a partner at Epstein Cole LLP, where she had counselled Mr. Papadimitropoulos in his matrimonial proceedings with the Individual Insured (Ms. Nicole Artopoulos) during their separation and marital breakdown in 2017.
181. With a profound sense of irony and in the context of compelling “similar fact evidence,” it is recalled that Mr. Papadimitropoulos engaged in his initial frivolous police complaint at the Toronto Police Service’s 14th Division in March 2018. This complaint coincided with his illegal entry into the sole residence of Ms. Artopoulos (Nicole) and his subsequent abuse of her. In a pattern of unlawful consistency, Mr. Papadimitropoulos proceeded to file a police complaint against Ms. Nicole Artopoulos for an alleged assault upon his person. The ensuing charge was ultimately dismissed; however, the resultant damage was already irremediably effected.

CONTINUING PROCEDURAL MISAPPREHENSION AND SUBSEQUENT JUDICIAL FILINGS (FEBRUARY 2025)

THE SECOND CASE CENTER MISREPRESENTATION

182. Subsequent to the initial communication, and on the identical calendar date of February 11, 2025, Ms. Lawrence, Counsel for the Respondent, once again propounded a demonstrably erroneous interpretation concerning the Applicant’s eligibility for an invitation to Case Center. She erroneously asserted that such an invitation was contingent upon the formal institution of the Application for Judicial Review (JRPA) filed on November 15, 2024 (hereinafter, the “Second Case Center Misrepresentation”). An Order and Declaration is sought in this regard.

VITIATION OF THE CASE CONFERENCE MECHANISM

183. Consequently, as of February 13, 2025, the requisite invitation to Case Center for the JRPA Proceeding remained unissued, thereby vitiating the possibility of conducting a case conference. This procedural impasse arose directly from the strictures of the Rules of Civil Procedure, specifically Rule 4.05.3(4)(2), which stipulates:“(4) Subject to subrule (5), the documents listed in subrule (3) must be uploaded to Case Center by the following deadline: 2. In any other case, the deadline is five days before the date of the hearing or conference, unless the court orders otherwise. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 7; O. Reg. 224/22, s. 1; O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (6); O. Reg. 301/24, s. 1”.

184. While the specified chronological requirement for document submission may be subject to judicial amendment—permitting either a more truncated or extended period—the fundamental obligation of uploading the relevant materials to Case Center remains an undisputed and non-derogable procedural prerequisite.

The Court File Bringing Misrepresentation

185. Furthermore, no statutory analogue exists governing the transmission of an entire court file for case conferences, in the stead of the specific provision governing motions, Rule 37.10. The Applicant had formally requisitioned that the entirety of the court file be duly placed before the presiding judicial officer for the motion hearing. Consequently, any assertion proffered by Ms. Lawrence regarding the mechanism for conveying the court file to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore for the purposes of a case conference was fundamentally impermissible and devoid of procedural basis (the “Court File Bringing Misrepresentation”).

Disposition of Draft Order and Concurrent Concession

186. On Friday, February 14, 2025, the Applicant formally submitted and served the draft order, which was subsequently sanctioned on the identical date. The Applicant concomitantly apprised the relevant parties that he would be undertaking a prolonged absence over the ensuing week or weeks, the precise duration being contingent upon his pre-scheduled medical appointments following the statutory long weekend.
187. Concurrently on that same date, the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) formally conceded that it was still endeavouring to delineate the optimal methodology for the proper compilation of the Record of Proceedings (ROP).

THE FRAUDULENT INSTRUMENT DISCOVERY: FEBRUARY 20, 2025

188. While this intra discovery was prior to March 2025, it was not able to be uploaded and be brought to the attention of any judge as a result of the breach of the failure of the Divisional Court (court staff), presumably through directions, unauthorized and unlawful, by Madam Justice Shore upon them.
189. On February 20, 2025, the Applicant ascertained through documentation procured from the Toronto Public Library (TPL) the existence of a fraudulently authorized Equipment Borrowing Agreement directly implicating Mr. Papadimitropoulos. The Applicant subsequently adduced this instrument to the court for judicial consideration.

COMMENCEMENT OF AMENDED APPLICATION AND SUBSEQUENT INJURIOUS INCIDENT: MARCH 3–5, 2025

190. On March 4, 2025, the Applicant submitted the Notice of Constitutional Question (NOCQ), and on the subsequent day, March 5, 2025, the Amended Application for Judicial Review was duly filed (vide: Tab 3, p. 33). In the late evening of March 5, 2025, the Applicant sustained injuries resulting from a collision involving an electric scooter. Consequently, the Applicant was compelled to seek immediate medical attention in the early morning hours of March 6, 2025. A formal electronic transmission was subsequently dispatched from the hospital facility to both the Divisional Court and the Respondents at approximately 04:00 hours, apprising them of the exigency.

INVESTIGATIVE INQUIRIES AND ASCERTAINMENT OF FURTHER FRAUD: APRIL AND MAY 2025

191. Throughout the period of April and May 2025, the Applicant commenced a series of inquiries via electronic mail directed toward Court Officer (Toronto Region), Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas. These communications were probing the potential nexus between her geographical deployment within the Toronto Region's central courthouses and the circulation of the purported Form 2 Information, as well as her potential involvement with The Honourable Madam Justice Shore. Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas neglected to furnish a reply; however, a response was subsequently provided by Deputy Clerk Rizwan Mohammed.

192. On May 4, 2025, the Applicant uncovered evidence of the fraudulent scheme implicating Mr. David Karat through the process of deciphering the redaction applied to photographic documentation originating from the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH). A facial comparison analysis was then meticulously conducted between the aforementioned individual’s image and Mr. Karat’s publicly accessible professional photograph on the LinkedIn platform, yielding irrefutable corroboration of identity.

JUNE 2025: THE FICTITIOUS OR PUBLIC MISCHIEF POLICE COMPLAINT BY MR. PAPADIMITROPOULOS

I. INITIATION OF THE ALLEGEDLY FRIVOLOUS LAW ENFORCEMENT GRIEVANCE (JUNE 2025)

193. Subsequent to being duly effected service of initiating process from the Applicant, a conveyance to which he possessed an undisputed entitlement and which the Applicant was under a strict onus to execute, Mr. Papadimitropoulos improperly engaged in lodging a formal grievance with law enforcement authorities, specifically the 55th Division of the Toronto Police Service (TPS). The Applicant, having discovered the electronic correspondence inadvertently segregated into a dedicated TPS folder by automated filtration protocols, subsequently rendered a substantive reply later during the Summer of 2025.

II. EPOCH OF PERSISTENT JUDICIAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE INQUIRY (MAY 2025 – OCTOBER 2025)

A. The Quest for the Authorizing Judicial Officer

194. Commencing in May 2025 and continuing through September 2025, the Applicant diligently prosecuted his persistent inquiry concerning the identity of the undisclosed judicial officer who authorized the subject warrant in the first instance. This sustained pursuit was predicated upon the receipt of a forensically bookmarked Compendium of Erroneous Representations (or False Information Package) transmitted from the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) at the 10 Armoury Street Courthouse (vide: Declaration of October 13, 2025, Exhibit “S”, pp. 401–434; vide Exhibit “T”, pp. 435–444).

195. In June 2025, the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Judicial Correspondence email protocol furnished an electronic directive to the Applicant, mandating a referral to the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) Court Services Division (CSD) Records Division, in direct response to the Applicant’s prior formal correspondence addressed to the Chief Justice (CJ) and the Associate Chief Justice (ACJ) of the SCJ. The MAG CSD Records Division, in turn, redirected the Applicant to the SCJ Criminal Intake email associated with the 361 University Avenue Courthouse—a jurisdiction distinctly separate from the OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse and, a fortiori, from the Central West Region OCJ Brampton Courthouse.
196. During the late junctures of June 2025 and the incipient days of July 2025, the MAG, acting through its representative, Mr. Sinnadurai, formally represented to the Applicant that the Court Officer (Toronto Region) designated as Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas on Form 2 of the Criminal Code Information was non-existent. Ergo, the Judicial Pre-Inquiry (JP Jiri Intake Court Endorsement) constitutes a manifest instance of fraus in lege or a vitiating procedural irregularity. The conclusion that the official document is inauthentic becomes self-evident upon the official denial of the document’s signatory.

B. PURSUIT OF EXTANT RECORDS AND ACCOUNTABILITY

197. In July 2025, the Applicant submitted a formal access request to E-just Systems Inc., the third-party technological provider administering the Criminal E-Intake Portal for the OCJ.
198. On July 18, 2025, the Applicant duly submitted a request pursuant to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) to the MAG (vide: Exhibit “D” of Tab 3).
199. On August 6, 2025, the Applicant effected service upon the Justices of the Divisional Court with his Notice of Application (NOA), which had been previously filed and served at the SCJ 361 University Courthouse (Criminal Division) on July 10, 2025.
200. Throughout the entirety of the Summer of 2025, the Applicant diligently sought the procurement of informations and indictments from both the OCJ and the SCJ; all such attempts were unavailing and failed to conform with the provisions stipulated within the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide (vide: Exhibit “M”).

201. On August 18, 2025, the MAG furnished a non-compliant response pertaining to FIPPA and subsequently recharacterized the Applicant's prior request under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) after soliciting clarification and receiving the Applicant's corresponding reply.
202. On August 18, 2025, the Applicant submitted a PIPEDA request to Zoom, the technological platform utilized for the pre-enquête ex parte hearings conducted before the previously undisclosed SCJ or Divisional Court Judge in September 2024. Zoom omitted to furnish a substantive response within the mandated thirty (30) day period, thereby effecting a denial of access devoid of articulated justification. Said PIPEDA request subsequently formed the subject matter of a formal complaint before the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada (OPCC), to which a distinct OPCC file number has been duly assigned.

C. CHALLENGES TO JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION AND TRANSCRIPT ACCESS

203. Spanning the period of August to September 2025, the Applicant engaged in a variety of protracted communications with the SCJ Regional Management Office (RMO) and its designated representatives regarding the procurement of the transcript pertaining to the undisclosed authorizing judge of the SCJ or Divisional Court. Initially, the Applicant inputted the name of The Honourable Madam Justice Kraft; however, the SCJ RMO unequivocally confirmed her lack of involvement in any ex parte in camera hearings concerning the Applicant. Thereafter, the Applicant specified The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, following which Ms. Azim confirmed that the sole impediment regarding the Transcript Order Form resided in the “date range” (vide: Tab 3, Exhibit “A”). Furthermore, the Applicant apprised the SCJ RMO of his established legal position that only a “definitive frame of reference” was requisite, and that a “date range” was, by definition, an acceptable delimitation (vide: Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual, sections 1 and 2) (vide: Exhibit “E” of Tab 3).
204. On August 26, 2025, subsequent to the delivery of correspondence, facsimile transmissions, and formal letters to the CJ of the SCJ, the Applicant received the threatening electronic mail communication emanating from the Court Services Management Diversion Program (CSMD Program). The Applicant tendered a corresponding reply in like manner. The CSMD Program, which is tethered to the “JSSO” (sic)—now formally the Justice Sector Security and Emergency Branch (JSSEM) as per the Info Go website—constitutes yet another demonstrable instance of unwarranted interference by the MAG, and potentially the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP), the designated police service operating supra.

205. The antecedent correspondence in question, addressed to the CJ of the SCJ, the CJ of the Divisional Court, and the Regional Senior Justice (RSJ) of the SCJ (Toronto Region), originated on August 23, 2025 (vide: Exhibit “H”, pp. 136–150; Exhibit “N”, pp. 232–284).
206. On August 27, 2025, the Applicant conveyed new intelligence received from the TPS Primary Electronic Monitoring Unit (PEMU), inclusive of the initial TPS Occurrence Number (Sunday, September 15, 2024), to the SCJ Criminal Intake email (vide: Tab 3, Exhibit “B”).
207. On August 31, 2025, the Applicant corresponded via electronic mail with the TPS and its Civil Litigation Office (CLO) regarding an update, following a prior telephonic inquiry made to the TPS 14th Division concerning the retrieval of his property, which was allegedly unlawfully seized subsequent to September 20, 2024 (vide: Tab 3, Exhibit “C”).

D. THE JUDICIAL NEXUS AND IMPLICATION OF THE HONOURABLE MADAM JUSTICE SHORE

208. Through September and October 2025, the Applicant sustained his efforts to procure access to the requisite undisclosed documents that served as the genesis of the criminal proceeding against him—notwithstanding the un-proceeded-upon allegations and unproven offences (both tunc and nunc). These documents include the signed arrest warrant and any filings potentially submitted before the Divisional Court, alongside the transcripts and audio recordings (pursuant to the Applicant’s undertakings). Nulla bona was provided despite the remittance of requisite payments, which remain unreturned. On October 10, 2025, the crucial evidentiary nexus substantiating the involvement of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore became apparent through inference. The self-evident question arises: Why was The Honourable Madam Justice Shore so resolutely intent upon executing a case conference involving the Applicant and the Respondents? The extrapolation of legal principles dictates that this unwarranted insistence arose from her erroneous, yet again, presumption that the matter was subject to “family law” jurisdiction—a presumption definitively contradicted by the circumstances—as articulated upon the Applicant’s learning of her statement shortly after the filing of his motion:

209. “Justice Shore has advised as follows:

“The attendances were case management conferences and we do not release transcripts for conferences. No transcript/audio can be provided.”

210. This purported “advice” was erroneous ab initio and persistently so. The Applicant is possessed of an indefeasible entitlement to the case conference transcripts subsequent to the provision of the “tapes” and “materials required for transcription” to his Authorized Transcript Only Agent (ATO). The discovery of further vitiating irregularities and potential fraud on the court is highly anticipated upon the review of said materials. This judicial pronouncement constituted the last known linchpin of an alleged fraud upon the court.

211. In early November 2025, the Applicant formally queried the Deputy Attorney General (DAG) as to whether he had issued any executive directive mandating the destruction of documents related to the un-proceeded-upon criminal proceeding involving The Honourable Madam Justice Shore’s signed arrest warrant (a document apparently no longer retained by Ontario courts, yet utilized by the OCJ Criminal E-Intake Portal), pursuant to the Courts of Justice Act (CJA). The DAG omitted to furnish a reply, notwithstanding transmission via electronic mail, physical mailing, and facsimile.

212. Lastly, and the ultimate linchpin, was the discovery from that Mr. Anathan Sinnadurai, counsel at the MAG (Ontario) in Toronto, Ontario, was counsel to Madam Justice Shore by reference to the McIntosh decisions involving the claim against Madam Justice Shore for her defamation of a litigant to all judges in the Toronto Region. While there were legal defences for the defamation, in the form of libel, by Madam Justice Shore, not that of The Honourable ACJ of the SCJ or The Honourable CJ of the SCJ, the defamation remained.

213. While defences like absolute privilege insulate the likes of defamatory statements, like libelous ones made by Madam Justice Shore to the full audience of Toronto Region SCJ Judges, it nonetheless does not make the statements any less defamatory. While inevitably claims against judges, subject to judicial immunity when judges are acting in their capacities as judges, are dismissed immediately and summarily, that claim against Madam Justice Shore was not. The overcoming of that hurdle by a self-represented litigant involving a claim to see his “children” (i.e. access rights) speaks volumes of what out of Toronto Region judges view of the conduct or misconduct of Madam Justice Shore.

214. Similar fact evidence, in addition to circumstantial and inferential evidence, must be admitted because its probative value outweighs the prejudicial.

CHAPTER #3: LEGAL GROUNDS

215. The Applicant repeats and relies upon the legal grounds in his NOM #1, NOM #2 along with his Oral Outline of February 2024 along with any subsequent legal bases in subsequent documents filed.

JURISPRUDENTIAL GROUNDS FOR NULLIFICATION

THE PARAMOUNT EFFICACY OF FRAUD: FRAUS OMNIA CORRUMPIT

I. The Doctrine of Fundamental Nullity and Extrinsic Fraud

216. The totality of the proceeding sub judice, which denotes the entire action currently positioned within the adjudicatory purview of this Honourable Tribunal, is, by the most unassailable jurisprudential axioms, rendered a fundamental nullity and consequently declared void ab initio (from the commencement). This absolute invalidity is predicated upon the entrenched constitutional precept that fraud, encompassing malfeasance, extortion, and bribery, does not merely constitute a procedural infirmity or a tangential error, but rather establishes a distinct and paramount category of nullity that possesses a transcendent character, operating to abrogate all other forms of potential legal imperfection. This principle finds its definitive articulation in the ratio decidendi of the Supreme Court of Canada in Landreville v. Town of Boucherville, 1978 CanLII 202 (SCC), wherein confirmation was provided with unwavering authority that fraud unravels everything (fraus omnia corrumpit). The philosophy underscoring this maxim is that an act or judgment founded upon deliberate dishonesty possesses no legitimate legal parentage and cannot be permitted to survive within a system predicated upon integrity and good faith.

217. This maxim signifies considerably more than a mere rhetorical embellishment; it constitutes a foundational pillar of the common law, possessing a lineage traceable through centuries of English equity. The establishment of fraud vitiates not only contractual instruments but likewise solemn judicial pronouncements and all transactions whatsoever, irrespective of their ostensible finality or conclusive disposition. This Tribunal, therefore, is enjoined to scrutinize the allegations with meticulous rigour, cognizant of the fact that fraud constitutes a defect of jurisdiction per se, as the Court is imposed upon rather than legitimately invoked. The fraudulent conduct herein is understood not merely as intrinsic—perjury concerning the facts in judicio, which would generally necessitate appellate review—but is alleged to be extrinsic, fundamentally undermining the very integrity of the judicial process through subversion of the assignment protocol of the tribunal and the due process mandated for the litigant. Extrinsic fraud is a corruption of the method by which the judgment was obtained, effectively preventing the injured party from presenting their case in a fair environment or, more gravely, corrupting the court’s institutional mechanisms. Once such extrinsic fraud is substantiated, even upon the standard of a balance of probabilities or compelling inference, the resultant judgment or proceeding cannot, in justice, be permitted to retain its efficacy, as to permit such retention would be to tacitly sanction an unparalleled affront to the administration of justice and an imposition upon the Court’s time and resources. The inherent authority of the Court to accord effect to the impugned steps is dissolved entirely by the presence of this vitiating element, requiring the Court to declare the proceedings a formal nullity.

ABROGATION OF RES JUDICATA AND THE EQUITABLE JURISDICTION

218. The doctrine of fraus omnia corrumpit operates as an exception of paramount necessity to the salutary principle of finality of litigation (res judicata). Whereas res judicata dictates that a matter once decided must be considered conclusive, fraud, particularly of an extrinsic nature that corrupts the adjudicative mechanism itself, renders the initial judgment an imposition upon the Court rather than a binding determination. The right to move to set aside the order on the ground of fraud is not tantamount to an appeal; it is the invocation of the Court’s inherent equitable jurisdiction to protect its own integrity from subornation and deliberate deception. This jurisdiction is activated by the gravitas of the misconduct alleged, transforming the issue from a point of error into a question of systemic corruption. Therefore, the usual strictures that constrain appellate review are inapplicable to the instant motion under Rule 59.06(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure, which codifies this equitable remedy. The continued existence of a judgment obtained by fraud is inimical to the very foundation of the Rule of Law and its demand for procedural fairness, necessitating the application of the maxim nullus commodum capere potest de sua injuria propria (no one can gain an advantage from their own wrong). The Court's overriding duty to ensure the purity of the legal process, which is an expression of its parens patriae authority to protect the public interest in the administration of justice, must supersede the policy interest in repose and finality when such profound corruption is demonstrated.

B. THE CONSTITUTIONAL MANDATE OF JUDICIAL INDEPENDENCE AND INHERENT JURISDICTION

II. THE CIRCUMSCRIPTION OF INHERENT JURISDICTION AND THE LEX SUPERIOR

219. The superior courts of this jurisdiction, by virtue of their status as courts of inherent jurisdiction conferred by section 96 of the Constitution Act, 1867, possess an auctoritas that may be characterized as a residual, plenary power. This reserve of authority is invoked only when demonstrably necessary for the upholding, protection, and fulfillment of the judicial function of administering justice in a regular, orderly, and efficacious manner. This inherent power is integral to the constitutional architecture, operating to ensure that the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) maintains absolute control over its own processes to guarantee the effective dispensation of justice. This inherent jurisdiction serves a prophylactic function, empowering the court to prevent abuses of process that may not be explicitly catalogued within legislative enactments. This is the core jurisdiction of the Superior Courts, which cannot be statutorily abrogated without offending the Constitution.
220. Nevertheless, this inherent jurisdiction is subject to two critical, immutable legal proscriptions that prevent judicial authority from eclipsing legislative sovereignty. Primarily, it may not be exercised in derogation of or in conflict with any unambiguous statutory provision or duly enacted rule of court. The most crystalline articulation of this restrictive principle is discovered in the Supreme Court of Canada's seminal judgment in College Housing Co-operative Ltd. v Baxter Student Housing Ltd. (1976), wherein the stipulation was unequivocally made that the judiciary cannot negate the unequivocal legislative voluntas (will) as expressed in statute or duly promulgated Rules. The power, being of an extraordinary nature, must be exercised with extreme circumspection (adagio) and reserved exclusively for the clearest of cases of necessary judicial self-preservation. Secondarily, and possessing profound constitutional import, inherent jurisdiction cannot be deployed as an instrumentality for the creation of new precepts of substantive law. To contravene these constraints would be to offend the constitutional doctrine of the separation of powers, effectively asserting judicial authority as the lex superior (higher law) over the express will of the legislative branch, a proposition antithetical to the Canadian model of responsible governance. The ultimate purpose of this judicial power is to uphold the unwritten constitutional principle of the Rule of Law, acting as a check on ultra vires actions, consistent with the doctrine articulated in Crevier v. Attorney General of Quebec (1981), which confirms the supervisory role of the superior courts over statutory bodies, ensuring that no administrative tribunal can operate as a shadow court that evades judicial review.

221. Within Ontario, where the Rules of Civil Procedure constitute regulations enacted pursuant to the Courts of Justice Act (CJA), they embody an explicit expression of legislative will, thereby categorically precluding the utilization of inherent jurisdiction for the purpose of superseding their provisions. Recourse to inherent jurisdiction is therefore not sought for the circumvention of the Rules, but rather for the enforcement of the most fundamental constitutional principles that transcend and inform the Rules. The failure of the Executive Branch to facilitate the court's process, particularly where mandated by the Rules (e.g., through access to electronic filing), constitutes an administrative affront to the court's core jurisdiction that demands the prophylactic invocation of its inherent powers to ensure procedural rectitude. This intervention serves to reinforce the constitutional boundary between the executive function of providing resources and the judicial function of administering justice.

III. THE CONSTITUTIONAL GUARANTEE OF JUDICIAL INDEPENDENCE: STATUS AND RELATIONSHIP

THE TRIPARTITE REQUIREMENTS OF JUDICIAL INDEPENDENCE AND INSTITUTIONAL INTEGRITY

222. Sections 96 through 101 of the Constitution Act, 1867 establish a constitutional imperative requiring that the judiciary of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) must not merely exist as independent in esse (in being), but must also be demonstrably and irrefutably positioned so as to appear to be independent. The Supreme Court of Canada in Valente v. The Queen (1985) conclusively delineated the three essential conditions integral to the establishment of judicial independence under section 11(d) of the Charter: security of tenure, financial security, and the third condition—relating to administrative matters bearing directly on the exercise of the judicial function. The failure of any one of these conditions, which are considered to be minimum standards, constitutes a constitutional breach that vitiates the legitimacy of the judicial process. The Provincial Judges Reference (1997) reaffirmed that judicial independence is both an individual and an institutional value, rooted in history and essential for the modern court’s role as the defender and arbiter of the Constitution.

223. This foundational constitutional doctrine is conceptually distinct from impartiality. Independence pertains to the systemic state of relationship existing between the judicial arm of government and all other governmental entities, whereas impartiality is concerned with the subjective mental attitude of the individual judicial officer relative to the particular issues and litigants in casu. Independence, by necessity, furnishes the indispensable foundation upon which the impartiality of the adjudicator is constructed. The deficit of institutional independence, therefore, creates a prima facie basis for an apprehension of partiality toward interested governmental or corporate persons. The third condition mandates that the judiciary must be the “Masters in their Own House” (Deschênes Report), exercising full control over its core adjudicative processes, including assignment and scheduling, to prevent executive-branch manipulation of the judicial function itself. This principle dictates that any action concerning the assignment of a judicial officer must be unequivocally controlled by the judiciary, not merely delegated to staff who are employees of the Attorney General.

2. THE MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING AND THE PERIL OF ADMINISTRATIVE ENCROACHMENT

224. The Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) executed between the Chief Justice of the SCJ and the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) acknowledges the respective, yet vitally interconnected, responsibilities concerning court administration. The CJA, at section 75, vests the authority to direct and supervise the sittings and assignment of judicial duties in the Chief Justice or the Regional Senior Justices. Pursuant to the MOU, court staff, while employees of the Executive Branch (MAG), are explicitly mandated to act at the direction of the Chief Justice in matters assigned by law to the judiciary (CJA, s. 76).

225. This administrative paradigm renders the actions of Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) Court Services Staff in administrative matters that bear directly upon the exercise of the judicial function, particularly assignments and scheduling, subject to the most penetrating constitutional scrutiny. The provision of input into the Division's Five-Year Plan by the Office of the Chief Justice, while a collaborative measure, underscores the fine line existing between legitimate management controls and unconstitutional executive interference that possesses the potential to imperil the constitutional status of the judiciary. As noted in Valente, the primary role of the judiciary is adjudication, whereas the Executive is responsible for the provision of court facilities and staff. When the actions of Executive-branch personnel—such as those responsible for Case Center access, an administrative function in extremis—result in the unilateral taking of judicial steps in the litigant's absence, this constitutes a trespass from management into a procedural dereliction that impacts the judicial function, thereby violating the third Valente condition and the very letter of the MOU itself. The judiciary must, consequently, reassert its authority to control its list and process, not merely as an administrative preference, but as a constitutional mandate essential to preserving its independence from executive encroachment, whether occasioned by intent or negligent omission. Any ambiguity regarding the source of administrative action must be resolved in favour of judicial autonomy, particularly when the administrative failure directly compromises the litigant's right to audi alteram partem (hear the other side) and prevents access to fundamental electronic filing systems. The failure to facilitate system access in accordance with the spirit and letter of the Rules constitutes a deliberate systemic failure that requires an authoritative judicial directive to rectify the administrative lacuna. The constitutional breach is thus attributed to the institutional relationship between the MAG employees and the judicature, necessitating a judicial remedy against the administrative entity.

C. THE BIFURCATION OF JUDICIAL FUNCTIONS: ADJUDICATION V. ADMINISTRATION

IV. THE SCOPE OF PRIVILEGE, IMMUNITY, AND CONSTITUTIONAL ACCOUNTABILITY

226. The immunities accorded to the Executive Branch (e.g., Crown Counsel) and those conferred upon judicial officers do not share an equivalent substance or effect; the former are qualified, while the latter, in their adjudicative core, are absolute. Nevertheless, both categories of protection rest upon the fundamental premise that a measure of immunity from the normal operation of law is requisite to ensure the proper, unimpeded discharge of public duties.

ADJUDICATIVE PRIVILEGE VERSUS ADMINISTRATIVE PRIVILEGE: THE MACKEIGAN DICHOTOMY

227. In Canadian jurisprudence, adjudicative privilege (or Deliberative Privilege) is characterized by its almost absolute nature, functioning to safeguard the internal deliberations, notes, and thought processes of adjudicative bodies (MacKeigan v. Hickman, 1989 CanLII 40 (SCC)). The objective of this privilege is the preservation of the integrity and impartiality of the judicial decision-making continuum, ensuring that judicial officers may decide without the apprehension of subsequent interrogation regarding the rationale of their judgment. This absolute immunity, however, is strictly confined to the adjudicative function—namely, the process of reaching and articulating a decision in a dispute. The privilege ensures the decisional independence necessary for the Justice to render judgment without fear of recourse or inquiry into the mental process of deliberation. The principle judex non potest injuriam sibi datum (a judge cannot receive an injury from himself) underpins the necessity of this absolute protection.

228. Conversely, administrative privilege is significantly more qualified. It operates to protect those functions of the judiciary relating to court management, such as the assignment of judicial duties, but is not absolute and does not extend to shielding impropriety, corruption, or documented misconduct. As posited by the correlative legal principles, where a judicial officer's conduct involves either: (1) an improper discharge of official functions; or (2) the discharge of a non-official function that is not in the public interest, the foundational linchpin of judicial immunity is consequently withdrawn. The distinction is crucial: MacKeigan confirmed a privilege against being compelled to explain judicial decisions, but an unassailable shield against disclosure of administrative acts was not created in instances where the integrity of the assignment process itself is directly challenged, or where a manifest conflict of interest regarding the assignment has emerged. A reasonable measure of accountability concerning administrative functions encourages and bolsters the proper execution of adjudicative duties; privilege must not, consequently, be utilized as a shield for impropriety. Indeed, the disclosure of these administrative records becomes a self-correction mechanism essential to upholding the judicial independence that non-disclosure was originally designed to protect. The records of court staff in performing administrative tasks are, therefore, subject to the principles of public law review and transparency, unlike the private, deliberative documents of the judicial officer.

2. THE OPEN COURT PRINCIPLE AND THE PUBLIC'S JUS DICENDI

229. The open court principle constitutes an indispensable hallmark of a democratic polity, being inextricably interwoven with the rights enshrined in section 2(b) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (Charter). This principle mandates a robust presumption in favour of transparency, affording the public and the press the unimpeded ability to attend hearings, consult court files, and inquire into the workings of the courts (Sherman Estate v. Donovan, 2021 SCC 25).
230. The raison d'être (reason for being) of this principle is two-fold: it discourages potential mischiefs by actors both inside and outside the courtroom and fosters unwavering public confidence in the administration of justice through the application of the salutary gaze of public scrutiny. Critically, the protection afforded by section 2(b) extends not only to the speaker (the press) but also to the listener (the public), thereby protecting the citizenry's jus dicendi—the fundamental right to express an opinion or knowledge. While the privilege of judicial thought processes remains protected (Li), the administrative records concerning judicial assignments, scheduling, and procedural management are, by this compelling logic and the authoritative direction of Sherman Estate, subject to disclosure where the core integrity of the court's institutional function and impartiality is impugned. The denial of access to these foundational administrative records in the face of a sworn allegation of bias constitutes an institutional obstruction to the public's right to comprehend the workings of the courts, thereby contravening the constitutional mandate of s. 2(b). The systemic failure to provide the litigant with access to Case Center, an administrative function, directly contravenes the transparency required by this constitutional principle, rendering the administrative step constitutionally suspect and creating an information asymmetry that violates due process.

D. VITIATION OF THE STEPS, DOCUMENTS AND ORDERS IN A PROCEEDING BY THE IMPUGNED PERSONS: FRAUD, BIAS, BRIBERY AND EXTORTION, AND CONSTITUTIONAL DERELICTION

V. Fraudulent Misrepresentation and Setting Aside Orders: The International Corona Standard

231. The allegation of fraud in casu is ultimately an assertion of a fraud perpetrated upon the Tribunal itself, striking at the root of the judicial process. Pursuant to Rule 59.06(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure (R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194), a party may move to have an order set aside or varied on the disjunctive grounds of fraud or of facts arising or discovered subsequent to its promulgation. This critical provision permits the instant motion within the proceeding itself, recognizing the singular urgency of addressing systemic integrity failures.

232. To secure the extraordinary remedy of setting aside a judgment for fraud, the Applicant must satisfy the following three prerequisites, as consolidated in International Corona Resources Ltd. v. LAC Minerals Ltd. (1988), and summarized in jurisprudence such as Robson (Trustee of) v. Robson

- a. Demonstration of Fraud: The fraud must be proven on the requisite standard of the balance of probabilities. Critically, the courts acknowledge that inferential and circumstantial evidence is admissible and frequently necessary to establish the existence of such clandestine malfeasance. Where conspiratorial agreements are at issue, the drawing of robust inferences from a pattern of conduct and subsequent concealment that is logically consistent with an underlying fraudulent scheme is permissible (Brown v. Spagnuolo). The onus of proof upon the moving party, while significant, must be interpreted flexibly, considering that the concealment inherent in fraud frequently renders direct, documentary proof unavailable to the party victimized by the act. The evidential flexibility is a necessary tool to counteract the intrinsic opaqueness of fraudulent activity, ensuring that the sophistication of the fraud does not become its own shield.

- b. Materiality: The established fraud must be material, in that it must appertain to the foundation of the case or the crucial issue coram judice. The test is not whether the fraud was definitively a “determining factor,” but whether the presiding judicial officer’s decision might reasonably have been different had the concealed facts been known. A judgment procured through deliberate deception, even if merely affecting credibility, cannot be permitted to retain its efficacy (Meek v. Fleming). The test of materiality is not set “too high,” ensuring that the integrity of the judicial process remains paramount over the finality of the decision itself (100 Main Street East Ltd. v Sakas). The fraudulent concealment of the administrative and professional nexus alleged herein directly relates to the material issue of the court’s very capacity to impartially hear the matter, an issue that is fundamentally material to the entire proceeding.
- c. New Discovery and Due Diligence: The evidence constitutive of the fraud must have been unknown to the moving party at the time of the original adjudication, and the moving party must demonstrate that requisite due diligence was exercised in attempting to discover the evidence prior to the rendering of the impugned decision. The Applicant’s diligence is evinced by the fact that the material facts, including the unmasking of the identity of the alleged perpetrators, were not ascertainable until subsequent to the original proceeding. Furthermore, due diligence is qualified by the litigant’s status pro se and the systemic obstruction encountered in attempting to access the requisite administrative records, thereby lowering the threshold required to satisfy this element in light of the demonstrated institutional failures.

VI. THE INTOLERABLE INFRINGEMENT OF JUDICIAL NEUTRALITY: STRUCTURAL BIAS

SYLLOGISM OF THE INSTITUTIONAL NEXUS AND APPREHENSION OF BIAS: NEMO IUDEX IN CAUSA SUA

233. The application is grounded in the non-derogable constitutional imperative that no individual shall be a judge in his or her own cause (nemo iudex in causa sua). The objective facts, when subjected to scrutiny by the reasonable, informed person, decisively surpass the rigorous test for establishing a reasonable apprehension of bias (R. v. S. (R.D.), 1995 3 SCR 683). The resulting conflict is not merely ad hominem, but institutional or structural in nature, arising from a prolonged, high-level professional affiliation. This professional kinship elevates the apprehension of bias from mere speculation to a logical inference, particularly when the lis involves a corporate entity where the former professional associate served as a senior executive. The appearance of institutional proximity warrants the judicial officer's recusal sua sponte (on one's own motion), as the duty to maintain public confidence supersedes any interest in continuing to preside.

2. The Irreconcilable Conflict of Coercive Judicial Authority

234. A further, and perhaps more profound, ethical chasm arises from the alleged dual deployment of judicial authority. The exercise of a Justice's adjudicative power in a litigant's civil proceeding is rendered fundamentally irreconcilable with any concomitant or collateral exercise of coercive criminal judicial power—such as the issuance of an arrest warrant or the supervision of ex parte, in camera hearings—against the same litigant. The institutional failure to publicly and explicitly disavow involvement in these collateral criminal proceedings involving the Applicant creates an undeniable, exacerbated reasonable apprehension of bias. The judicial process, under these conditions, becomes irredeemably compromised and fundamentally unconstitutional in its application, demanding the immediate vitiating (ab initio) of all affected orders. This conflation of punitive and civil authority by the same judicial officer against the same individual is a manifest violation of the principles of fundamental justice articulated in Section 7 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, creating an oppressive environment that denies the litigant the right to security of the person within the judicial sphere. The ex parte nature of the alleged collateral involvement further compounds the violation of procedural fairness, as the judicial office's monopoly on coercive power is utilized in a manner that compromises the perception of neutrality in a related civil dispute.

VII. ABUSE OF PROCESS AND INSTITUTIONAL DERELICTION

235. The collective conduct of the Respondents and the MAG Court Services Staff meets the elevated threshold necessary to establish a fundamental abuse of process, which is actionable when the continuation of the proceedings would violate the principles of fundamental justice or bring the administration of justice into profound disrepute through oppression or vexation (Canam Enterprises Inc. v. Coles). The intentional use of the judicial process for an ulterior purpose, or the use of court mechanisms to cause undue hardship, falls squarely within this doctrine. The abuse in casu is characterized by both litigant mala fides and institutional dereliction.
236. The MAG, through its Court Services Staff, bears a public law duty of candour and an imperative to facilitate, not frustrate, the Applicant's access to justice. The systemic and sustained procedural dereliction—specifically the failure to furnish access to the Divisional Court Case Center for an extended duration—constitutes an independent basis for relief. This institutional obstruction precluded the Applicant from receiving electronic service, monitoring prescribed deadlines, and becoming cognizant of the Justice Shore Steps taken in the litigant's demonstrable absence. This mala fides (bad faith) administrative inaction constitutes an infraction upon the Applicant's right to security of the person and the right to a fair hearing pursuant to Section 7 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (Charter). This failure by the executive branch to uphold its administrative duty towards the court results in a constitutional infringement that must be remedied by the judiciary. The resultant institutional oppression caused by the administrative failure satisfies the high threshold for abuse of process, warranting the most extreme remedy of dismissal or nullification.

VIII. PROCEDURAL PREDICATE: THE MANDATE FOR DISCLOSURE QUIA TIMET

237. The necessity of the Preliminary Interim Orders, specifically those compelling the disclosure of administrative records (such as assignment logs and communications), flows from the venerable principle of preventative justice (quia timet - "because he fears"). Given the prima facie evidence pointing toward a grave judicial impropriety (structural bias and conflict of coercive authority), the litigant's request for pre-emptive documentary relief is essential to preclude a future, more irreparable harm to the Rule of Law and the litigant's rights. The Court possesses the inherent supervisory jurisdiction to mandate disclosure when the foundational integrity of the judicial process is challenged. The administrative records requested (e.g., Justice Shore Assignment Records) constitute a targeted procedural prerequisite necessary to move the allegation of bias from the sphere of inference to the sphere of demonstrable fact, thereby enabling the Court to perform its constitutional self-correction. The failure of the MAG staff to release these records, even when requested by the Court, would constitute a further violation of the constitutional mandate, triggering the Court's ultimate authority to compel disclosure against the executive branch. This disclosure is a matter of constitutional access to information, distinct from the standard rules of civil discovery, and must be enforced by the Court's inherent power to control its own processes.

E. CONCLUDING SUBMISSIONS ON THE IMPERATIVE FOR DEFINITIVE RELIEF

IX. THE MANDATE FOR A PROPORTIONAL AND JUST REMEDY

254. The requisite juridical standard for the establishment of the tort of bribery and the payment of a secret commission was definitively delineated in the seminal appellate pronouncement of the Ontario Court of Appeal, Enbridge Gas Distribution Inc. v. Marinaccio, 2012 ONCA 650, by the Honourable Justices Laskin and Blair JJ.A. and Brown R.S.J. (Ad Hoc) at paragraph 33). It has been posited as an established tenet that the subjective mens rea or internal motivations of the participating parties are matters wholly extraneous to the determination of legal culpability pertaining to the tort of bribery (ONCA in Marinaccio, at paragraph 39). The conveyance and receipt of pecuniary inducements are universally regarded by the judiciary as a demonstrably deleterious and corrosive practice (Wood v Commercial First Business Ltd & Ors, 2021 EWCA Civ 471 (BAILII) at para 42). Such activity constitutes a serious subversion of the institutional integrity required for the felicitous operation of the free market and is unequivocally detrimental to the necessary good governance of both public and private entities. Lord Templeman, in Attorney-General for Hong Kong v Reid (1993), 1994 1 AC 324 (PC (Eng)), characterized this nefarious conduct as an “evil practice which threatens the foundational tenets of any civilised society” (at p 330). An observation must be made regarding the bifurcated regulatory framework applicable to corruption: the criminal law is predominantly derived from statutory enactment, while the civil law, which is utilized to furnish remedial recourse in this jurisdictional context, is entirely predicated upon the common law and its attendant equitable jurisprudence. Ergo, the fundamental juridical basis for civil bribery is a matter of common law development.

255. In sharp contradistinction to and distinctly separate from general criminal offences, including but not limited to conspiracy, sophisticated fraud schemes, the purloining of assets, the possession of property obtained by crime, and complex money laundering, the Criminal Code (hereinafter “the Code”) has been observed to enact a multiplicity of specific offences, meticulously designed to address variegated forms of domestic corruption and bribery (see sections 119-125, 426).
256. The hypothetical scenario wherein a municipal functionary solicits or receives pecuniary consideration in reciprocal exchange for the furnishing of heightened co-operation or undue favouritism toward the remunerating entity is of paramount pertinence in casu. Such demonstrably egregious conduct may, in a subsequent stage, occasion the exposure of said functionary to criminal prosecution pursuant to section 122 (breach of trust by public officer) and/or section 123 (municipal corruption) of the Code. As was stipulated by the Honourable Richards JA (as he then was) in Strudwick v Lee, 2007 SKCA 11, section 123 “in the most unvarnished terms, unequivocally proscribes the payment of bribes to municipal officials” (at para 16). Within the civil realm, the doctrine of bribery is situated within the interstice existing between the common law and equitable jurisprudence, considering that remedial measures for established acts of bribery may be competently derived from both jurisdictional domains (see Wood at para 94). The assertion of bribery allegations has been observed invariably to occasion the emergence of multiple, overlapping, and occasionally recondite juridical bases for the procurement of relief, sounding both in contract and in tort, and pursuant to the principles of equity (see Paul M Perell, “Remedies for the Victims of a Bribe” (1999) 22:2 Adv Q 198; and Peter T Burns & Joost Blom, Economic Torts in Canada, 2nd ed (LexisNexis, 2016) at ch 10). The operable judicial delineation of the term “bribe” was competently articulated by Leggatt J (as he then was) in Anangel v IHI (1989), 1990 1 Lloyd’s Rep 167 (QB (Eng)), wherein the proclamation was made that a bribe constitutes a “commission or other inducement, which is given by a third party to an agent as such, and which is secret from his principal” (at p 171). Mr. Karat had his principals being that of Respondent Insurance Companies but not TD Bank (FIN 004).

257. Crucially, it must be noted that the meaning of a bribe encompasses a far more expansive ambit than its popular, vernacular acceptance, extending “well beyond its popular connotation of a corrupt payment, to include any payment or gift made as an inducement to an ‘agent’ and not disclosed to the ‘principal’ ” (Wood at para 43).
258. As noted in the Ontario binding jurisprudence in our common law province, the First Insurer owes a fiduciary duty to the injured or impaired individual (see: Beasley, paragraph 34; was unequivocal in its language that the fiduciary duties of an insurance company, whether they are provisional or permanent, are triggered by the obligation to pay benefits (if any) wherein the Honourable Justice Moore found: “[34] The relationship between an insured and an insurer in accident benefits matters involves a duty of good faith, a fiduciary obligation; the relationship between plaintiff and defendant in a tort action does not. The obligation, if any, to pay accident benefits is very different from the exposure, if any, that a defendant faces in a tort action.”
259. As was profoundly elucidated by Richards LJ in Wood, the inherent iniquity associated with the tendering of a bribe, particularly for the specific purpose of securing civil remedies, is resident in the potentiality that the payee may be induced to consciously or inadvertently derogate from the comprehensive duty of fidelity owed to the appointing principal (at para 44). An indisputable entitlement is maintained by the principal to the certitude that the agent shall conduct all affairs exclusively and entirely for the principal’s best interests (Otkritie International Investment Management Ltd & Ors v Urumov & Ors, 2014 EWHC 191 (BAILII) at para 67; see also Hitchcock v Sykes (1914), 1914 CanLII 5 (SCC), 49 SCR 403 at 422, Brodeur J; and Barry v Stoney Point Canning Co (1917), 1917 CanLII 620 (SCC), 55 SCR 51 at 73-77, Anglin J). The operative juridical test for the determination of whether a pecuniary transmission, supplementary benefit, or promise constitutes a bribe is entirely contingent upon the creation of a realistic prospect of a conflict of interest as between the appointed agent and the instructing principal (see Fiona Trust & Holding Corporation Ors v Privalov Ors, 2010 EWHC 3199 (BAILII) at para 73; Otkritie International at para 67; and Eze v Conway & Anor, 2019 EWCA Civ 88 (BAILII) at para 35). It is critically important to underscore that the exigency of the present application for judicial review and this NOM No. 3 necessitates the nullification and dissolution of antecedent procedural directives and orders—procedural steps that were demonstrably tainted by the corrupt practice—as opposed to the establishment of a novel cause of action per se. The primary objective is designated as the systemic unwinding of the compromised judicial proceedings. The operative principals of the subject, Mr. Karat, were comprised of four distinct corporate insurance entities, specifically SNIC, TDGIC, Primmum, and TDHA, for which authorization to act had been duly conferred; these entities are collectively identified herein as the Respondent Insurance Companies. Moreover, the former SABS Manager was similarly subjected to corrupting influences; however, the designation of the latter was managerial, thereby rendering the insurance companies the per se principals to whom a duty of fidelity was owed. The secret commission associated with the Fleet Oshawa Home, received by the subject Mr. Karat, was indisputably secured from TD Bank, rather than being received directly from any of the aforementioned Respondent Insurance Companies. It is axiomatic that, as of 2015, TD Bank was the sole Schedule I bank that maintained corporate entities affiliated or associated with the insurance sector, notwithstanding the mandate that these entities must maintain juridical separation.

260. The temporal proximity observed between the material events is highly suggestive of fundamental malfeasance. Consent to the acquisition of a novel residential property was furnished or at the very least with extreme financial and resource assistance by TD Bank by the subject Mr. Karat—a transaction conspicuously structured to effectuate the exclusion of the spouse’s legal name from the deed—on November 8, 2025, a date separated by a mere fortnight subsequent to the alleged incident of fraud and theft perpetrated on October 25, 2024. The pecuniary consideration for this acquisition was calculated at approximately one million dollars. Prior to the execution of this transaction, the individuals Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk were perceived as being exceedingly financially encumbered (“highly leveraged”) concerning the 625 Grandview Home, having acquired a minimal equity stake amounting to 1.5 per cent in April 2020. Given the certainty that the majority of the monthly blended mortgage payments would have been predominantly allocated toward the servicing of interest during the initial quadrennium, and having regard to the mandatory requirement for CMHC insurance, it becomes a self-evident conclusion that the cumulative charges related to property taxes and utilities would have effectively annihilated any accrued equity of a negligible nature. The documentary evidence, specifically the photographic record associated with the 625 Grandview Home, corroborates the familial status of the parties as primo genitor parents and verifies the custodianship of two motor vehicles, a status commensurate with Ms. Dunk’s professional engagement in the metropolitan core of Toronto and Mr. Karat’s occupational location in Markham, Ontario. Furthermore, the subject Mr. Karat’s entire academic trajectory, having been demonstrably marked by a consistent absence of academic or professional probity from quasi-undergraduate studies to the paralegal program, and subsequent commencement of duties as a legal assistant in 2016 following a septennial period of fledgling, resultless academia, rendered the accumulated student debt an encumbrance devoid of any prospective future value.

261. Upon the preponderance of probabilities, it is asserted that the subject Mr. Karat, acting solely and independently (given that the existence of “Ms. Karat” is an unverifiable construct creating a fraudulent instrument and fraudulent document), did not possess the requisite liquid assets necessary to effectuate the purchase of a one-million-dollar domicile prior to October 25, 2024, or subsequent to that date and prior to November 7, 2024, unless involvement in conduct constituting fraud and theft had been undertaken, underlaid by the promise of a “secret commission”, thereby operating to preclude the Applicant’s legitimate exercise of all attendant rights. Bribery, money laundering, fraudulent transfer of funds et al has become more sophisticated and concealed as evidenced by two publicly known clients of the very law firm (BLG LLP) that Mr. Weir was CEO of until 2018 in Kinglory Inc. and Binance Inc. While Binance represented withdrawal from the Ontario market was represented in 2021, its activities were much prior to the same.
262. There exists an indisputable contention that a secret commission was received by the subject Mr. Karat, as evidenced by his irrevocable consent to the acquisition of a one-million-dollar property in the absence of any concomitant guarantees or warranties pertaining to the expeditious sale of his then-existing residence. The demonstrable lack of a prior listing of the property serves to further compound the inference of a covert and undisclosed arrangement. Furthermore, while it is manifestly evident that a pecuniary inducement was also received by the individual Mrs. During-Gibbs of CAMH—a transaction manifested through her utilization as a nom de paille purchaser on an inflated valuation of the 625 Grandview Home, in which her spouse’s father secured a nominal 1 per cent proprietary stake—it must be acknowledged that CAMH and its affiliated agents have not been designated as respondents in the present litigation.

263. The very assertion by Mr. Nieuwland that the subject inducement originated with “TD” (rather than the distinct corporate entities TDGIC, SNIC, or TDHA) constitutes a rhetorical lapsus linguae, which is highly suggestive of a conflation of entities, a state which was intentionally obscured by the pervasive nature of the underlying fraudulent scheme. The official instruments issued by the Land Titles Office, per se, incontrovertibly establish that a secret commission, defined either as a monetary value or an ascertainable benefit, was rendered to the subject Mr. Karat by TD Bank, as opposed to being provided by the discrete insurance corporate entities comprising the TDI Group. This demonstrably illicit transaction was fundamentally predicated upon the act of theft perpetrated by Mr. Karat on October 25, 2024, from which the actionable theft realized a direct pecuniary commodum. Notwithstanding the fact that non-litigant actors, specifically Mrs. During-Gibbs of CAMH, her husband Mr. Michael Gibbs, and his father, Mr. Peter Gibbs (whose spouse maintained enduring connections with CAMH and its Archives), also demonstrably engaged in fraudulent conduct, the requisite standard for the imposition of severe procedural consequences is understood to remain elevated. Nihilominus, this collective conduct is determined to have irrevocably tainted the entirety of the judicial proceeding. It is a necessary consequence that all individuals associated or affiliated with CAMH and the purloining of the Applicant’s property—a substantial portion of which was critically required for the Judicial Review and Procedural Adjudication (JRPA) Proceeding—shall be permanently barred from securing any financial or procedural commodum stemming from their demonstrably improper conduct.
264. Unlike the civil wrong of bribery, which is principally derived from the common law tradition, the criminal offence of extortion finds its fons et origo in Part IX, entitled ‘Offences Against Rights of Property’ of the Criminal Code, R.S.C. 1985, c. C-46. Notwithstanding this penal provenance, the Applicant maintains that, upon a preponderance of probability, the agents and representatives of the Respondent Insurance Companies, with a level of fraud embedded or on top of the same by the LAT, at the very least, committed the actionable wrong of extortion against the Applicant, the gravamen of which is rooted in the established common law of this jurisdiction. The statutory embodiment of the offence is precisely articulated in subsection 346(1) of the Criminal Code, which stipulates: “Every one commits extortion who, without reasonable justification or excuse and with intent to obtain anything, by threats, accusations, menaces or violence induces or attempts to induce any person, whether or not he is the person threatened, accused or menaced or to whom violence is shown, to do anything or cause anything to be done.” Extortion constitutes the penalization of conduct characterized by intimidation and the attendant interference with volitional autonomy (R. v. Davis, 1999 CanLII 638 (SCC), per Lamer C.J.). Fundamentally, the provision is meticulously designed to counteract the deployment of coercion intended to vitiate a complainant’s free will for the purpose of extracting a pecuniary or material advantage. As cogently expressed by Doherty J.A. in R. v. Alexander, 2005 CanLII 32566 (ON CA), at paragraph 71, “The section is aimed at those who would use coercion to overcome the free will of others for the purpose of extracting some gain.” The conclusion becomes self-evident: the legislation is not concerned with the nature of the gain per se, but the modus operandi—the improper exertion of pressure to compel compliance. It is further posited that an implied or veiled reference may, sub judice, suffice to establish a threat, provided that the totality of the ambient circumstances demonstrates it was adequate to convey to the recipient the undesirable ramification or perceived apprehension sought to be circumvented (R. v. Barros, 2016 ABQB 243 (CanLII), per Lee J., at paragraph 16). Consequently, an express declaration of harm is not a requisite for establishing the essential mens rea of the perpetrators. The continuous temporal sequence of the Respondents’ demonstrated conduct—commencing with the alleged theft perpetrated by a representative of one of the Respondent Insurance Companies on October 25, 2024; proceeding through the overt fraudulent misrepresentation of the Epstein Cole LLP Client on October 28, 2024; encompassing the elaborate fabrication of the false reservation record concerning the Aga Khan Museum on November 8, 2024 (inclusive of deeply specific and contextualized insinuations concerning the Keffiyeh scarf, thereby linking the current scenario to broader geopolitical and historical conflicts); and extending to the unauthorized conduct culminating in the TPL Reference slew of fraud on December 13, 21, or 28, 2024—constitutes a demonstrable nexus of coercive acts. Irrespective of their individual characteristics, each action was meticulously designed to subjugate or represented an unambiguous attempt to vitiate the Applicant’s volitional capacity for the procurement of an illicit advantage. In the context of this actionable wrong, the consummation of the illicit extraction is not a requisite element; rather, the legal inquiry focuses exclusively upon the attempt to impose illegitimate duress or to create a reasonable apprehension of harm. This egregious endeavour, distinct from the threat of a legitimate civil recourse (which the Respondent's agent has repeatedly evinced no cognitive capacity to contemplate or execute), satisfies the statutory precondition of the offence. Indeed, the factual narrative detailed in casu is so transparently illustrative of the offence that it warrants comparison with the very canonical compendiums and their attendant synopses which explicate the intricacies of extortionate methodologies. Finally, the spurious complaint subsequently lodged with law enforcement by the Epstein Cole LLP Client in June 2025 constitutes additional evidentiary material supportive of the Applicant's claim. This retaliatory action occurred precisely when the Epstein Cole Client's deceptive machinations had become definitively exposed, coinciding with his corporate dismissal from the TDI Group due to evident professional misconduct, thereby rendering his functional designation adjectival to the core issue of duress.

265. This Divisional Court is constitutionally enjoined to approach Charter remedies purposively, giving full vitality to the venerable maxim, "where there is a right, there must be a remedy." The remedy sought must be both meaningful and responsive to the infringement, while simultaneously respecting the fundamental principle of the separation of powers (Doucet-Boudreau). The judicial exercise of discretion under section 24(1) of the Charter necessitates a remedy that achieves the functional objectives of compensation, vindication (upholding the importance of Charter rights), and deterrence (discouraging further breaches by state actors) (Ward v. Canada). The element of vindication is of paramount importance herein, as the constitutional injury lies in the affront to the appearance of justice, which requires a public and decisive declaration of nullity. Nonetheless, Charter remedies must be granted along with Charter questions being so decided in a factual vacuum and without a robust evidentiary record. As such, the evidentiary record for Charter questions must be developed further by the interim, interlocutory and injunctive relief.

266. Given the extensive, uncontroverted sworn evidence of fraud, the jurisdictional challenge, the insuperable judicial conflict manifesting as a reasonable apprehension of bias on multiple levels, and the institutional abuse of process, it is respectfully submitted that the appropriate and most proportionate remedy is the issuance of Final Judgment. The underlying administrative decision is demonstrably vitiated by both illegality and fraud. The interests of judicial integrity, the preservation of the rule of law, and the vindication of the litigant's constitutional entitlements mandate a definitive and terminal resolution of this vexatious litigation. To permit this proceeding to continue would be to implicitly condone the mala fides conduct of the Respondents and the procedural dereliction of the Court's administrative staff, thereby bringing the administration of justice into profound and irreparable disrepute. The Respondents, having engaged in alleged fraud, are disentitled to any equitable consideration, as a litigant seeking equity must arrive with clean hands (Ex turpi causa non oritur actio). The Final Judgment is not merely a desired outcome, but a constitutional necessity that serves the public interest in the purity of the legal system, terminating a corrupted process and precluding a multiplicity of subsequent litigation.

THE FOLLOWING DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE WILL BE USED AT THE HEARING OF THE MOTION:

1. Delivered JRPA Application of the Applicant on November 15, 2024;

RESPONDENTS

DECLARATION OF MR. KEVIN A. MCLEAN

I, Kevin Alexander McLean, Disabled (B.A., J.D., CIM) of Toronto, Ontario, DECLARE THAT:

1. I am the Applicant in the within Judicial Review Procedure Act Proceeding (hereinafter referred to as the “JRPA Proceeding”), and as such, I am intimately familiar with the factual matrix and procedural history pertinent to the matters herein declared. I declare to the veracity of the ensuing factual averments, predicated upon my direct knowledge and profound conviction, save and except where explicitly stated to be founded upon information and belief, in which instances the provenance of such belief shall be meticulously delineated.
2. This declaration is submitted to this Honourable Court for the specific purpose of consolidating, synthesizing, and comprehensively presenting the voluminous documents, previously tendered across my antecedent affidavits all of which have been duly filed and served within this JRPA Proceeding.

3. The overarching objective of this consolidation is to furnish the Court with a cohesive, sequential, and readily intelligible evidentiary record. Such a record is indispensable for apprehending the full scope and gravity of the interconnected pattern of conduct engaged in by certain Respondents and interested persons—a pattern that I contend constitutes, inter alia, profound conflicts of interest, egregious procedural malfeasance, criminal obstruction of justice, and calculated fraud.
4. It is my solemn submission that the cumulative effect of these actions has been to vitiate the integrity of these proceedings ab initio, fundamentally compromising the administration of justice from its very inception and rendering a just outcome impossible absent this Court’s intervention.
5. The evidence, when viewed holistically, demonstrates not a series of isolated or unrelated indiscretions, but a concerted and escalating campaign of unlawful conduct. This campaign, I aver, was designed with a singular, malevolent purpose: to prevent a fair and impartial adjudication of the underlying matters on their merits by any means necessary.
6. This affidavit, therefore, serves as a comprehensive roadmap to the evidence, connecting the disparate acts of misconduct and revealing them as component parts of a larger, unconscionable scheme.
7. I swear this affidavit in full recognition of the gravity of the allegations contained herein, and in the firm belief that the integrity of the justice system itself is implicated by the conduct I am about to describe in extensive detail.
8. On or about October 8, 2025, the SCJ RMO provided an initial response via email to my retained ATO, indicating that the request was not immediately processable and required judicial authorization.
9. The ATO immediately relayed the substance of this requirement—“Judicial Acknowledgement”—to me as the ordering party.
10. The exact text of the October 8, 2025, email from the SCJ RMO was:

“Good afternoon,

According to our records, both of the requested dates were Civil Case Conferences where the Ordering Party was not present. Judicial Acknowledgement is required to determine whether the audio may be released for the purposes of preparing a transcript.”

11. The requirement for “Judicial Acknowledgement,” as relayed by the SCJ RMO, indicated that the Court required explicit direction from the presiding judge, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, before the necessary “audio” (or digital recording materials) could be released to the ATO for transcription.
12. My ATO followed up on the transcript request on October 9, 2025, but did not receive a substantive response regarding the judicial direction that day.
13. Given the ongoing nature and urgency of the matter, the delay prompted my ATO to make further inquiries to secure a final decision from the SCJ RMO.
14. Late on Friday, October 10, 2025, my ATO provided me with a further email response from the SCJ RMO, specifically from Ms. Nivatha Amirthalingam, Court and Client Representative/Recording Management Coordinator.
15. The email was sent by Ms. Nivatha Amirthalingam, who is identified in her signature block as a Court and Client Representative/Recording Management Coordinator within the Court Services Division of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG).
16. The SCJ RMO email of October 10, 2025, relayed the explicit direction and decision from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore regarding my request.
17. The relevant portion of the October 10, 2025, communication, conveying Madam Justice Shore’s instruction, reads as follows:

“Justice Shore has advised as follows:

“The attendances were case management conferences and we do not release transcripts for conferences. No transcript/audio can be provided.”

Therefore, this transcript request will not be processed. Please advise your OP accordingly.

Thank you, Nivatha Amirthalingam Court and Client Representative/ Recording Management Coordinator | Court Services Division Ministry of the Attorney General | Ontario Public

18. After reviewing the law over the weekend to ensure that what I was to represent to the SCJ RMO was factually and legally correct, I tendered the following letter to the SCJ RMO which the text will be reproduced herein for ease of reference herein.
19. I now reproduce the exact text:

SUBJECT: Formal Submission of the Digitally Executed Request Form/Undertaking for Access to Digital Court Recordings Pertaining to Two Specific Dates in McLean v. TDHA et al, Court File: DC-24-00000718-00JR

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I provide the below out of an abundance of caution in a comprehensive and contextual manner to ensure that in the event of an untimely demise or further injury to myself that I have papered my affairs accordingly for those who will benefit from my estate and ancillary reasons. I also do so for the reasons infra and previously on a contextual level.

I. PRELIMINARY OBSERVATION AND IMPERATIVE FOR FORTHWITH COMMUNICATION

This formal submission is necessitated by the exigency of the matter aforementioned. I must solicit your kind indulgence for the transmission of this document upon a statutory holiday, an action to which I have been compelled to undertake on a forthwith basis, subsequent to being placed in receipt, during the post-meridiem hours of Friday, October 10, 2025, of electronic correspondence from Ms. Amirthalingam. That communication, inter alia, incorporated a quotation attributable to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, referenced within the context of a distinct Transcript Order Form Request submitted during the preceding week.

II. DISSECTION OF LEXICAL AMBIGUITY: THE PERMISSIVE VERSUS THE CAPABILITY CONUNDRUM

I take formal cognizance of Ms. Amirthalingam's previous lexical usage, conveyed to my retained Authorized Transcriptionist in Ontario (hereinafter, an "ACT" or "ATO"), which I concede to be substantively accurate in its descriptive premise:

"Good afternoon,

According to our records, both of the requested dates were Civil Case Conferences where the Ordering Party was not present. Judicial Acknowledgement is required to determine whether the audio may be released for the purposes of preparing a transcript."

To avoid the pitfalls of eliding two discrete communications—an analytical error which I am assiduous in seeking to circumvent—I shall reproduce the germane excerpts from Ms. Amirthalingam's subsequent electronic mail of Friday, October 10, 2025, which was relayed to me later on that day:

"Justice Shore has advised as follows:

"The attendances were case management conferences and we do not release transcripts for conferences. No transcript/audio can be provided."

The distinction between the administrative inquiry and the judicial pronouncement is not merely semantic; it represents a fundamental divergence in legal effect. Ms. Amirthalingam's employment of the verb "may" correctly encapsulates the permissive nature of a judicial assessment, articulating the prospect of whether a specific allowance will be granted. Conversely, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's utilization of the auxiliary verb "can" improperly denotes an issue of ability or capability; it suggests an absolute physical or systemic incapacity to provide the material. The conclusion, therefore, is self-evident: the administrative position acknowledges the possibility of release subject to judicial acknowledgement, while the subsequent judicial pronouncement erroneously asserts an irremediable impediment to the provision of the audio material.

III. EXTRAPOLATION OF LEGAL PRINCIPLE: THE DISTINCTIVE REGIMES OF CIVIL AND FAMILY PROCEEDINGS

I am necessarily constrained to articulate my formal disagreement with the linguistic construction and legal import ascribed by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, given that superior courts do not furnish "transcripts" per se, but rather release the requisite digital audio materials from which a transcript may be professionally prepared.

It is posited that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has perhaps inadvertently conjoined the distinct procedural strictures applicable to Family Law matters—specifically those involving "family law case conferences"—with the procedural mandates governing Civil and Divisional Court proceedings, particularly those concerning the judicial review of administrative or adjudicative decisions.

The Family Law Conferences Exception [inapplicable herein]

The material divergence is comprehensively articulated within the Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual, page 16, which states:

"b) Family Law Conferences Relevant Websites & Resources • Family Law Rules: <https://www.ontario.ca/laws/regulation/990114>

Rule 17 of the Family Law Rules provides for three types of conferences: case conferences, settlement conferences and trial management conferences.

These conferences may be recorded at the request of the presiding judicial official. These recordings are for the judge's use only. Transcripts of these recordings cannot be provided to any party without a court order or the consent of the presiding judicial official."

It is axiomatic that the Family Law jurisdiction constitutes a unique, insular sphere—an sui generis domain—due to the highly sensitive, often privileged (e.g., spousal privilege), and inherently confidential nature of its subject matter, which frequently involves the paramount consideration of the best interests of children. For compelling public policy rationales, the restrictive access protocol is thus warranted within this specific context.

No such sui generis restriction applies to a Civil Proceeding, including the Divisional Court’s judicial review of an administrative or adjudicative body’s impugned decision. The guiding imperative remains the open court principle, which is a foundational tenet of our constitutional and common law tradition, binding upon the Divisional Court as a superior court of inherent jurisdiction. The proceedings must be recorded, irrespective of the platform utilized—either by a court staff member or court reporter using an Approved Recording Device (a “DRD”), or via an Alternative Recording Platform (an “ARP”), such as the utilisation of Zoom or teleconferencing technologies, as was referenced for these specific attendances at which I was unable to be physically present.

IV. COMPLIANCE AND TECHNICAL AVAILABILITY OF THE DIGITAL RECORDING

The matter herein falls under the ARP system of recording, which bypasses the conventional DRD process. As such, the recording exists as a digital file upon a server, and its provision is governed by Regulation 293/92 to the Evidence Act (Ontario).

Under sub-section 1(1) 11. of the Schedule, the prescribed fee applies: “For a copy on compact disc (CD) of a digital recording of a court hearing in respect of a case, if such a recording exists and a copy is available.” The cost structure articulated therein—$23.00 plus $11.00 for a total of $34.00, as the request involves multiple recordings from the same case—is the legally applicable fee.

The technical availability is readily demonstrable: “Available,” in its established meaning, signifies “the state of being obtainable or accessible.” The digital recording exists as a file on a server, thereby satisfying this definition. Furthermore, I have satisfied two independent stipulations under the Request Undertaking Form, which is hereby enclosed. Since the Divisional Court is a branch of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) and is not a constituent part of the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ), no prior court order is mandatorily required for the Applicant’s access to a copy of this digital recording.

To fortify the foregoing analytical construction regarding technical feasibility, I append the widely understood technical process for the procurement of such files from the conferencing service:

Zoom Recording Protocol: The court, being in control of the same, possesses the M4A audio-only file from the Zoom recording, which is demonstrably convertible to a compatible format (e.g., WAV or MP3) for the purpose of creating a Standard Audio CD, thereby rendering the digital recording available for provision.

- a. “Step 1: you need to get the files from Zoom. The process differs slightly depending on whether you used cloud or local recording.
 1. Cloud Recording: If you have a paid Zoom account and are recorded to the cloud, Zoom will automatically generate separate files, including the audio/video (MP4 or M4A) and the transcript (VTT file).
 2. You’ll receive an email notification when the recording and transcript are ready. Log in to the Zoom web portal, go to the “Recordings” section, and download both the audio-only file (M4A) and the transcript (VTT).
 3. Local Recording: If you recorded to your computer, Zoom saves the files to a local folder (usually in your Documents folder under a “Zoom” directory). The transcript function is not automatically available for local recordings, so you’ll have to find a separate transcription service or software to create one from the audio file.
- b. Step 2: Prepare the Files for CD
 - i. Create a Standard Audio CD (Audio Only)
 - ii. This is the most common and straightforward method if you only want to listen to the audio on a standard CD player (like in a car or home stereo).
 - iii. Get the Audio File: Locate the M4A audio-only file from your Zoom recording which the court would have control of the same.
 - iv. Convert to a Compatible Format: M4A is not always compatible with older CD players. You will need to convert the M4A file to a format like WAV or MP3.
 - v. Burn the Audio CD: Use a CD burning program (like Windows Media Player, iTunes, or a third-party application) to create an Audio CD. This process converts the WAV/MP3 files into the specific format that a CD player can read.”

V. COMPREHENSIVE UNDERLYING FACTUAL AND LEGAL BASES

I provide the preceding comprehensive analysis not merely to articulate a grievance concerning what constitutes an unwarranted obstruction—whether judicial or administrative—to my ACT’s ability to perform their professional mandate, but to confirm the legal and technical basis upon which this request is grounded. The response attributed to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is, upon close examination, inconsistent with the applicable legal framework governing Civil and Divisional Court proceedings.

Due to the persistent urgency of this matter, I now formally attach a copy of the digitally executed Request Undertaking Form. The prescribed fee of $34.00 will be remitted for delivery on the subsequent day, and I shall furnish confirmation upon receipt of the delivery confirmation.

Requisition for Electronic Audio Recordings and Logistics

Pursuant to the requisite payments previously remitted to the Superior Court of Justice (earmarked for the Minister of Finance as required) and, in parallel, to the Authorized Court Transcriber(s) (hereinafter, “ACT(s)”), the administrative division is hereby requested to effectuate the immediate preparation of the electronic audio recordings of the proceedings.

Kindly ensure that the aforesaid recordings are prepared for transcription and subsequent transfer onto a compact disc (CD). Upon the demonstrable receipt of the prescribed fee, the undersigned respectfully requests that the appropriate Court Services personnel advise, with expediency, of a precise date and time for the physical retrieval of the said material from Room 405 of the Superior Court of Justice located at 361 University Avenue Courthouse.

The Unassailable Judicial Misapprehension and Resultant Legal Infringement

The undersigned is compelled to register a formal objection predicated upon the assertion that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has demonstrably engaged in an erroneous legal interpretation and/or a palpable misdirection regarding prevailing jurisprudence. This conduct constitutes additional indicia of a potential conflict of interest, the full legal and factual dimensions of which remain the subject of continuing due diligence, the underlying grounds having been, inter alia, discovered subsequent to March 2025 and hitherto unknown to the undersigned.

It must be underscored that the conduct in question is patently and inexorably consistent with a demonstrable infringement upon the fundamental protections enshrined within the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and other pertinent legal rights. Furthermore, such actions concomitantly constitute a breach of the foundational Open Court Principle, the ambit of which extends the prophylactic shield of procedural fairness to all interested observers and litigants alike.

Erroneous Interpretation of Transcription Protocols: A Syllogistic Analysis

In the context of the procedural requirements governing the “Transcript Order Form” and its associated obligations concerning the ACT(s), the undersigned shall direct this substantive issue to superior administrative and judicial regulatory authorities who possess the requisite jurisdiction to evaluate and correct such a manifest misstatement of law. It is axiomatic that an exercise of a judicial function cannot, sub specie aeternitatis, encompass the prerogative to misapprehend the established rules pertaining to court records, especially when expressed through the ambiguous utilization of the unspecified pronoun, “we.” Should one be compelled to assent to the Honourable Madam Justice Shore’s purported interpretation of the governing legal framework, the inescapable conclusion of law would be that no requestor, throughout the entire historical practice of the civil division (excluding Family Law matters) of the Superior Court of Justice or the Divisional Court, could ever have secured the required tapes and materials required for transcription for delivery to their Authorized Court Transcriber.

Such an argumentum ad absurdum renders the interpretation devoid of merit. If such were truly the case, the esteemed Superior Court of Justice Records Management Office (RMO) and its Records Management Coordinators (RMCs) would possess a comprehensive awareness of this unprecedented operational constraint. Consequently, their administrative response to transcription requests would be materially distinct from the judiciously accurate response rendered by Ms. Amirthalingam, which correctly mandated a specific level of acknowledgment, rather than an outright judicial fiat of prohibition, as a prerequisite to the release of the electronic audio records.

Out of an abundance of caution, I note that while similar fact evidence involving a party is presumptively inadmissible unless the probative value outweighs the prejudicial value, the same is not applicable to the scope of Shore J's prior judicial involvement with myself. I note the following language utilized by way of passing the same onto me which she did not author which was yet another misstatement of law (when measured on its face against The Honourable Chief Justice of the SCJ's Divisional Court Consolidated Practice Direction, effective June 15, 2023) wherein she (the esteemed Clerk of the Divisional Court Ms. Clegg) stated in late January 2025 (after The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had inserted herself into the JRPA Proceeding):

"Are you requesting a hearing date or a case conference?

Please advise that all [sic] cases are being case managed, coordinators are not providing dates.

As all matters [sic] are currently being case managed in Divisional Court, hearings are scheduled as per the directions of the case management Judge. The Coordinators are not providing hearing dates unless directed." I inquired with Madam Clerk Ms. Clegg as to where she obtained the quote and to provide a link to the same and none was provided. It became clear then and crystal clear now that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore provided the same which was inconsistent with the aforementioned Divisional Court Consolidated Practice Direction for 18 months at the time.

The same can be said of the denial of my access to Case Center after bringing my JRPA Application in mid November 2024 along with, inter alia, failure to stamp requisitions, provide me with a Form 68(B) which was required after my payment of the Certificate of Perfection on December 13, 2024, and the failure to allow me to proceed before a single judge of the SCJ as opposed to a three person panel of the Divisional Court (see: statutory language under the JRPA, section 6; wherein the Legislature distinguished between the SCJ and Divisional Court). This is also consistent with Mr. Sinnadurai, a lawyer licensee with the MAG (Civil division) representing to me and some with supporting documentation that there was no evidence of Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 under Criminal Code "Information" in the OCJ and none in the "Superior Court of Justice" in Toronto.

For refresher purposes, one "Ashleigh" of the SCJ RMO represented to one of my ACT's in September 2025 as follows:

"Hi _____

There are currently no DRD recordings before the Toronto Superior Court for Mr. McLean. It is my understanding that Mr. McLean had matters heard at the Ontario Court of Justice (10 Armoury).

Given the above, there is nothing further staff can assist with"

In addressing the latter first, I note again the distinction, as it relates to my obtaining that which I am entitled in relation to the prior judicial involvement of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore and myself, that DRD recordings only exist when there is a court reporter or court staff member who uses an approved recording device and then certifies a Form 1. This customarily do not exist in relation to the latter and the former referenced individual do not appear in ex parte in camera intake or pre-enquete hearings. As such, it is the ARP Platform(s) that govern the same so there would not be any DRD recordings but an ARP Platform recording (i.e. Zoom).

I also note the distinction between the Superior Court and the Divisional Court by reference to statutes. I thank Ms. Amirthalingam for confirming that the SCJ RMO handles recordings for 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario in addition to the SCJ courthouses on University Avenue, Toronto.

Notably, it was not "Ashleigh's understanding" that matters were heard in Central West Region OCJ Brampton Courthouse or any other region or any other courthouse outside of the Toronto Region. There was no dispute that the OCJ 10 Armoury Courthouse was a transferee courthouse but the issue of the "originating courthouse" was and remains at issue (kindly address that separately as I paid $23.00 via bank draft in mid August 2025 and not only is the SCJ RMO able to assist but required to do so).

The usage of the word "can" is another word choice that is consistent with The Honourable Madam Justice Shore but not the SCJ RMO and its esteemed staff.

As OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse was not involved until October 3, 2024, one day after my arrest, which naturally meant that the tapes, as an additional ground (i.e. in addition to a process having been issued which includes a Summons (Form 6) or Arrest Warrant (Form 7 under the Criminal Code) but not an Undertaking or Appearance Notice (Form 10 and 9 under the Criminal Code respectively in that they can be signed by a peace officer), were to be released to anyone who requested the same which includes the public. In relation to the latter, I do not dispute, for contextual purposes, that a judge of the SCJ is also a judge of the Divisional Court as per the Courts of Justice Act and that a judge of the Superior Court Of Criminal Jurisdiction, in the province of Ontario, means a judge of the SCJ and ONCA. The import of that to my circumstances involving The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is that irrespective of whether she was in her designated by the CJ of the SCJ rotation in the Divisional Court in 2024 and beyond, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had the parliamentary statutory authority to hear and consider an application, ex parte and in camera (closed to the public) [but not without a recording via ARP Platform at first instance because upon an arrest OR a process being issued, the tapes and materials required for transcription become available to the public as per the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide and the Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual which are and were both issued by the Ontario government (MAG) in 2019 and 2024 respectively) and by the Criminal Code, she was required to hear and consider the same. As we now know, it was an un-proceeded upon Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment, which had to be signed by the Attorney General, which also includes the SOLGEN by Parliamentary statutory definition, post-facto, by the later manipulation of the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] including that of the Criminal Code Form 2 Information of Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas, but the legal test is whether The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had “prior judicial involvement with myself” PRIOR to the Divisional Court JRPA Proceeding. The key words therein were and are: (i) judicial; and (ii) involvement.

As I had predicted, the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] was not from the OCJ, as admitted by the MAG CSD Records Division, as that would have required a digital signature therein which could not be removed. Moreover, I had predicted prior to knowing that the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] purported to be transcribed by the “law enforcement applicant” document. That is permissible under various sections of the Criminal Code which is primarily under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code but the issuing of a summons versus an arrest warrant (or as Shore J called it a “warrant in the first” which is consistent with a nationwide arrest warrant in which only an SCJ can issue – not the likes of a JP or PCJ as per the Criminal Code) does not permit the same. Ergo, any filing of the e-indictment (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules, “definitions” and rule 4.10) had to “produce a writing” which the email filing of the same would do. Moreover, this now, in light of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore’s strident and incorrect comments of Friday, October 10, 2025, which is now a pattern of conduct with her involving me, fully answers the misguided initial position taken by the Divisional Court Manage of Court Operations that the Divisional Court could not hear criminal matters or proceedings. That may be correct as a matter of provincial law but not the federal law, which pursuant to the paramountcy doctrine trumps provincial law in the event of a conflict, and it is not only permissible but practical that those Toronto Region Judges (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules and Criminal Code definition of “judge” versus “justice” or “provincial court judge) in their Divisional Court rotations or designations, by statutory authority (de jure) and in fact (de facto) hear and consider ex parte in camera “law enforcement applications” as they clearly have less of an intensive in-court schedule when compared to the family law judges at SCJ 361 University Courthouse and those at SCJ 393 University Avenue and 330 University Avenue courthouses. This does not detract from the demanding nature of their schedules but simply that their availability is more present when there are allegedly urgent “law enforcement applications” or applications for various warrants including that of arrest warrants wherein they are preceded by a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment – which while the SCJ can hear any criminal matters it primarily only hears indictable offences.

It is nonetheless compelling and now most telling that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore utilized the language of “accepted on its face” as if it did not require some credibility finding by her but naturally it would have considering that the requirement is to “hear and decide”. It necessarily requires the weighing of evidence and submissions and considering the perspective of the person who is not entitled to notice under the Criminal Code.

In a rather fortuitous set of circumstances, with the benefit of hindsight, I came to learn that the SCJ Toronto Region practice direction for criminal matters prohibits a self-represented litigant from having access to Case Center but the same cannot be said of civil proceedings including the Divisional Court proceedings where it is a requirement that I received an invitation to Case Center and utilized the same. The reason proffered by Ms. Lawrence of the Divisional Court to me was inconsistent with the Divisional Court Judicial Review Guide and the now known authentic reason was as per The Honourable Madam Justice Shore’s prior judicial involvement with me I was unfairly brandished as a criminal and treated as a “criminal litigant” in a Divisional Court proceeding.

Parenthetically, on the Transcript Order Form issue (distinct from herein), under The Honourable Madam Justice Shore’s interpretation, and one were to then exercise rights of appeal (either applicant or respondents), there would not be a transcript for the Court of Appeal’s benefit. As such, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is yet again wrong on that ground.

It is quite a shame as a matter of law, access to justice, and the rule of law (which requires procedural and substantive equality) that this occurred. However, what is done is done and I require access to the digital recordings from the case conferences on the denoted dates as per my entitlement to the same without a court order and as a litigant/party on two independent grounds in light of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore email of Friday, October 10, 2025.

Thankfully, the procedure in Ontario is distinct from BC (see: Long v. Red Branch Investments Ltd, 2018 BCCA decision) in that I must bring my motion, which I did on Friday but prior to reviewing the email forwarded to me by my ACT by Ms. Amirthalingam with the quoted language of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore (see: supra), and it is one of the factual and legal grounds for why I require the digital recordings as an interim measure albeit being unable to provide a copy to the Divisional Court and the sitting motions judge on October 27, 2025.

VI. DENOUEMENT

The undersigned explicitly reserves the unequivocal right to rely upon this detailed correspondence for any and all lawful purposes, including, but not limited to, the advancement of legal proceedings and administrative review.

Pursuant to the requisite payments previously remitted to the Superior Court of Justice (earmarked for the Minister of Finance as required) and, in parallel, to the Authorized Court Transcriber(s) (hereinafter, "ACT(s)"), the administrative division is hereby requested to effectuate the immediate preparation of the electronic audio recordings of the proceedings.

Kindly ensure that the aforesaid recordings are prepared for transcription and subsequent transfer onto a compact disc (CD). Upon the demonstrable receipt of the prescribed fee, the undersigned respectfully requests that the appropriate Court Services personnel advise, with expediency, of a precise date and time for the physical retrieval of the said material from Room 405 of the Superior Court of Justice located at 361 University Avenue Courthouse.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated compliance with the law which does not require a court order as per supra albeit I am constrained by usage of the to be received copy on CD of the digital recording by an ARP Platform.

I trust this comprehensive submission with the attached was of assistance from a contextual and underlying bases standpoint so there is not unnecessary back and forth which I now know the genesis or etiology of the same.

Wishing you well on your well-deserved statutory holiday.

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

/s/ Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM) "

20. I verily believe that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had prior judicial involvement with myself in that referenced ex parte in camera criminal proceedings or hearings which was undisclosed to me prior to my commencement of the JRPA Application and beyond.

VOLUME #1 : OVERVIEW OF THE FACTS ARISING OR DISCOVERED POST MARCH 2025 AND/OR FRAUD DISCOVERED OR ARISING POST MARCH 2025

21. I have prepared and filed, on an urgent basis via email, a Notice of Motion, dated October 10, 2025, which is scheduled to be heard by the Court in writing on Monday, October 27, 2025, at 9:30 a.m., as an opposed motion under subrule 37.12.1 (4). This date marks the culmination of numerous efforts to bring these critical issues before the Court for substantive determination.

22. I verily believe that I have been stonewalled in obtaining documents, records and court information involving the steps involving criminal proceedings, whether proceeded upon or not proceeded upon or having expired by virtue of the time from commencement of a criminal proceeding which is the time that an “Indictment” or “Information” is made or laid (see: R. v. Awad for example).
23. The following facts, which are set out in further detail in the accompanying Motion Record and Factum, support the necessity for the relief sought, including the reasons why the Orders referenced in Paragraph 4, Chapter 2, should be set aside, as they form the predicate of a cascade of procedural irregularities and substantive prejudice.

JULY 24, 2024, AND AUGUST 16, 2024: THE UNDISCLOSED MOTION ORDERS

24. The LAT ostensibly rendered or made two adjudicative instruments, collectively designated as the “Undisclosed Motion Orders.” These Orders, which represent active adjudicative decisions on my claims, were neither officially promulgated nor duly served upon me, despite subsequently being listed within the putative index of the Record of Proceeding (the “ROP”).
25. I verily believe that the retention of these decisions by the LAT, despite rigorous and documented due diligence efforts—including a formal appeal to the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario—constitutes a prima facie breach of the transparency obligations imposed by the Tribunals Adjudicative Records Act (“TARA”) and the duty to provide reasons under section 20 of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (SPPA).
26. I verily believe that this administrative retention of the ratio scripta establishes an undeniable predicate of administrative concealment and directly obstructs the necessary judicial review, as the Court cannot review orders of which the Applicant was never properly apprised.

27. Notice of Motion #13, demanding the production of critical non-party records, was formally initiated. Crucially, the LAT failed to accord the non-party, TDGIC, the requisite procedural fairness by denying the opportunity to file responsive submissions, in contravention of the LAT Rules. This omission, concerning a motion ad prosequendum for material disclosure, further compounded the systemic denial of procedural rights at the tribunal level and violated the fundamental precept of audi alteram partem (the right to be heard). The failure to allow a response to a substantive motion tainted the fairness of the resulting decision on disclosure.

LATE JULY TO EARLY AUGUST 2024:

28. The proprietary entity responsible for the facsimile number 416-774-3120, a number previously furnished by SNIC as a return contact, was definitively ascertained to be TD Home and Auto Insurance Company (“TDHA”). This discovery exposed a sophisticated and calculated pattern of document fraud within the TD Insurance automotive group (the “TDIA Group”), specifically engineered to obscure the identity of the true insurer responsible for the claim under the complex “First Insurer” analysis pursuant to O. Reg. 283/95 of the Insurance Act. This act of concealment served to frustrate the entire statutory scheme established for prompt claims administration by creating a continuous loop of jurisdictional confusion regarding the correct adverse party.

AUGUST 4, 2024, AND AUGUST 17, 2024

29. Notice of Motion #14 (the “First Insurer Finding Motion”) and the subsequent Notice of Motion #15 were initiated. These motions sought to secure the addition of TDHA as the legally mandated First Insurer, relying upon the evidential proof of the fraudulent fax assignment and seeking to pierce the veil of corporate non-accountability that had been strategically erected. The legal imperative for the declaration of TDHA as the First Insurer pursuant to O. Reg. 283/95 is of fundamental and final significance to the entire administrative proceeding, as the identity of the insurer governs jurisdiction and liability.

AUGUST 7, 2024:

30. An application to the Landlord and Tenant Board (LTB) was rendered a necessity due to a persistent pattern of coercive residential tactics executed by the Landlord, which included unlawful entry and the making of injurious falsehoods. These actions displayed a conspicuous temporal congruence with the progression of my LAT Appeal, strongly suggesting a concerted collateral attack formulated with the probable mens rea to dissipate my finite financial and emotional resources, thereby drawing my attention and resources away from the primary litigation and impairing my ability to effectively prosecute my claims.

LATE AUGUST 2024:

31. Notice of Motion #16, concerning SNIC's continued dereliction in fulfilling its disclosure obligations, was filed. This motion demonstrated the persistent administrative resistance encountered, which necessitated repeated and costly motions merely to secure basic procedural compliance in the production of material evidence necessary for the determination of my claim. The need for constant motioning due to deliberate non-compliance is itself evidence of an obstructive pattern by the adverse parties.

SEPTEMBER 13, 2024:

32. A decision concerning Notices of Motion #13, #14, and #15 was purported to be issued by Vice Chair Morissette (VCM)—a decision bearing a date of September 6, 2024, yet demonstrably not issued until this later date. The determination was rendered in favour of the respondent insurers absent the submission of any evidence or argument from said parties, thereby abrogating the evidentiary standard required for the moving party in such applications.
33. I verily believe this practice, of deciding in favour of the non-participating respondents who offered no rebuttal evidence, constitutes a fundamental breach of the duty of impartiality and natural justice, thereby exhibiting an unprecedented and impermissible advocacy for the corporate respondents at the expense of my procedural rights, fundamentally compromising the fairness of the administrative process.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 2024:

34. Physical evidence was discovered, linking a lawyer licensee and former TDIA Group consequence manager, Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos, to the probable signature forgery on the initial OCF-18 form. Concurrent with this pivotal discovery, an unknown entity filed Toronto Police Service (TPS) Occurrence Number 2024-2028039, marking the immediate onset of the coordinated criminal and civil obstruction that subsequently ensued, which I verily believe was intended to intimidate and silence me.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 2024:

35. I verily believe I was subjected to an unlawful lockout from the residential premises. This action, constituting detainer without authority or colour of right in violation of the Residential Tenancies Act, is posited to have been calculated to impede the prosecution of my LAT Appeal and constitutes a palpable interference with the administration of justice demonstrating a systemic abuse of power by the Landlord in coordination with other parties.
36. Without the underacting of the CAMH photos in May 2025, I would not have been able to have tied concretely the Landlord to the TDIA Group. I note that the Landlord is contained in some of the images therein.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 2024, AT 11:49 A.M. AND 12:59 P.M. (ALLEGEDLY) INVOLVING A CC FORM 2 AND AN "INTAKE COURT ENDORSEMENT" [SIC]

37. A Criminal Code Form 2 "Information," asserting a single count of criminal harassment on or around September 22, 2024 against me involving my former spouse when I did not communicate with her directly or indirectly on or around that date, was purportedly declared by Court Officer Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas.
38. As later admitted by the MAG (Mr. Sinnadurai, a lawyer licensee with the LSO, employed by the MAG at 720 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario) there was no record of the Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 "Information" have been filed or laid by Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas in the OCJ.

39. This was succeeded by a purported “Intake Court Endorsement” on September 23, 2024, at 12:59 p.m., allegedly signed by Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri. The subsequent lack of any demonstrable record of this Information having been duly filed within the Ontario Courts of Justice renders the document a fraudulent ab initio instrument; the Information failed to meet the mandatory requirements for swearing and filing a criminal charge. Consequently, the attendant “warrant in the first,” if authentic, would be deemed patently defective, as it would contravene the statutory requirements of Form 7 under the Criminal Code.
40. The involvement of JP Jiri, a former TPS officer, further underscores the systemic conflict of interest and the calculated effort to establish a fraudulent criminal predicate designed to effect the deprivation of my liberty contrary to section 7 (right to life, liberty and security of the person) and section 9 (right not to be arbitrarily detained or imprisoned) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

OCTOBER 2, 2024 (EVENING):

41. I attended the TPS 14th Division to retrieve property and was subsequently arrested pursuant to an unproduced arrest warrant as of this day. My repeated invocation of the right pursuant to section 29(1) of the Criminal Code to inspect the warrant was actively resisted by the arresting officers, being met with an admonition to cease ‘barking’ if immediate liberation was desired. The wilful resistance to producing the warrant served to further conceal the true and fraudulent predicate of the criminal process initiated, suggesting that the officers may have acted upon an unsigned or procedurally defective judicial instrument, thereby violating a fundamental right integral to the judicial process and placing me under unlawful detention.

OCTOBER 15, 2024:

42. Formal feedback was submitted on behalf of the TDI Group to the Financial Services Regulatory Authority of Ontario, advocating for increased collaboration and information-sharing between insurers and law enforcement regarding fraud. This position is profoundly incongruous with the concurrent, fraudulently initiated criminal charges against me, strongly suggesting a concerted and premeditated strategy of corporate overreach intended to utilize the state's prosecutorial apparatus as a tool for private litigation leverage, constituting a serious abuse of process that subverts the jurisdictional boundaries between civil and criminal law.

OCTOBER 20 TO 22, 2024

43. I evinced my intention to file a judicial review or appeal involving the VCM Decisions and the Reconsideration Decision of VC Lake which I received on October 16, 2024.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 25, 2024:

44. The theft of my property documents pertaining to me was executed by Mr. David Karat. The nine pivotal images unredacted on May 9, 2025, provided conclusive confirmation of Mr. Karat's culpability. This larceny further demonstrates the utilization of unlawful means by agents of the TDIA Group to suppress or acquire documentation relevant to the LAT Appeal, confirming a deliberate strategy of evidence subversion and obstruction of the truth-seeking function of the Tribunal.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 28, 2024:

45. An Unauthorized Activity and Fraudulent Loan Agreement was recorded at the Toronto Public Library, further evidencing the persistent pattern of identity-based larceny and intrusion, which extended to the misappropriation of digital resources essential for the preparation of my JRPA Application.
46. The continuous nature of these unauthorized activities speaks to an ongoing, calculated effort to compromise my ability to litigate effectively and to secure justice in foro conscientiae.

47. I repeat and rely upon the LTO documents involving Mr. Karat and his spouse, Julia Dunk, with the ties to CAMH personnel, involving the bribery related to the theft of my property in exchange for his purchase of a new property prior to even listing his previous property jointly owned with his spouse.
48. This complex interrelationship further evidences the extensive and coordinated nature of the activities undertaken to prejudice my position.

49. The 591 Fleetwood Home was listed for sale.
50. At the time, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk were the joint owners of a property at 625 Grandview Street, Oshawa, Ontario,

MR. NIEUWLAND AWAY FROM OFFICE FROM OCTOBER 31, 2024 TO NOVEMBER 7, 2024

51. On or around November 1, 2024, I received an auto-reply that Mr. Nieuwland was out of office from November 1 to November 8, 2024.

NOVEMBER 7, 2024

52. According to property public records, the home at 591 Fleetwood Avenue, Oshawa, Ontario, was subject to an agreement of purchase and sale involving Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia Dunk (or using a fictitious name) and the vendors of said property.
53. I note at this time, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk had not even listed their property for sale at 625 Grandview Avenue, Oshawa, Ontario.
54. Based upon their mortgage with Scotia Mortgage Corporation, and their monthly amounts for payment since 2020, I estimated that they had little equity in said Grandview Avenue property.
55. As such, by November 8, 2024, Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk were obligated contractually to pay nearly one million dollars involving the 591 Fleetwood Property and also obligated regarding their mortgage to Scotia Mortgage Corporation.

56. From October 25, 2024, to November 8, 2024, at no time did Mr. Karat attempt to return my property to me despite my email communications with he, Mr. Nieuwland and other legal practitioners for the various Respondent Insurance Companies.

NOVEMBER 8, 2024, TO NOVEMBER 18, 2024: MR. KARAT ON AUTO-REPLY

57. Mr. Karat was then on auto-reply from November 8, 2024, to November 18, 2024.

NOVEMBER 8 AND 9, 2024: AGA KHAN MUSEUM FRAUDULENT

58. On Friday, November 8, 2024, a person in unauthorized fashion using my TPL library card from the October 25, 2024, theft booked a reservation at the Aga Khan museum. I received notification to my email of the same.
59. The reservation was for Saturday, November 9, 2024.

NOVEMBER 11, 2025: THE QUEEN AND SAULTER BRANCH

60. At the branch of the TPL which is within the Toronto Police Service 55 division an unauthorized individual took out or reported to borrow 55 16 different books from that library branch.
61. I learned of the same the following weekend when I was requesting the same from that TPL for York branch.
62. I note that the TPL Queen and Saulter Branch is within the 55 Division which was the same jurisdiction involving the police caution that I received from police officer Mr. Aaron Bourdages involving Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos as particularized infra. This occurred in the Summer of 2025 and presumably in relation to my discovery of the fraudulent and unauthorized activity involving Mr. Papadimitropoulos et al.

NOVEMBER 13, 2024: FIRST APPEARANCE IN THE OCJ 10 ARMOURY STREET COURTHOUSE

63. On Wednesday, November 13, 2024, I had my first appearance involving the criminal proceeding involving the fictitious Criminal Code Form 2 “Information” involving Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas and the false Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] denoted as involving JP Jiri.
64. I did not learn of the same until said “False Information Package” was provided to me by a lawyer licensee involving myself and the TPS et al on or around March 22, 2025.
65. I note that the respondents in that HRTO proceeding were originally required to file their Responses by January 25, 2025, but sought a one month extension of time without compliance with the HRTO Rules and filed a Response without required document listing and production. The TPS originally filed their Response in late February 2025 but the HRTO required that it provided the documents that commenced the criminal proceeding against me. As opposed to obtaining the same from the TPS, counsel to the TPS filed what she obtained from the OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse in late March 2025.
66. Said counsel informed me that she obtained the same from the OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse (a “Transferee Courthouse”) from the undisclosed originating courthouse involving an undisclosed authorized judge.
67. Counsel to the TPS later withdrew as counsel when faced with questions and motions about producing the actual criminal proceeding commencing documents i.e. a Criminal Code Form 2 or Criminal Code Form 4.
68. It remains unclear to me when the Criminal Code Form 2 and Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] were falsified or created but I did not become aware of the same until late March 2025.

NOVEMBER 15, 2024:

Filing and serving of the JRPA Application

69. The JRPA Application was duly filed, commencing the judicial review process and proceeding. The Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT, pursuant to Rule 9(2) of the JRPA were forthwith required to file a Notice of Appearance (NOA) pursuant to Rule 38.07 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

70. The term “forthwith,” in legal parlance, mandates immediate compliance, or at the earliest practicable moment, which strict interpretation is non-negotiable in the context of jurisdictional review.

KARAT AND DUNK LIST THE GRANDVIEW HOME FOR SALE (SEE: EXHIBIT “W”)

71. On November 15, 2024, Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK listed the Grandview Street Home for sale for $599,000. I believe that said amount was a reasonably accurate valuation of the Grandview Street Home in November 2024. In numerical terms, Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK had valued that their Grandview Street Home had increased approximately $44,000 over the four-plus years since they purchased the same, albeit with a debt-to-asset ratio of 98.5 percent. I believe that Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK would have required CMHC insurance on title as the loan to them for the purchase of the Grandview Street Home was more than 80 percent of its value in April 2020.
72. The taxes, as per Zolo, were approximately $4,000 per year. Therefore, Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK would have had to pay approximately $16,000 in taxes to the City of Oshawa over that period.
73. Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK had monthly payments to Scotia Mortgage Corporation of approximately $2,400 with a then-interest rate of 2.34 percent (without knowing whether it was variable or not variable). $$2400 \times 12$ is approximately $29,000 per year. However, factoring in the declining balance method for mortgages, where most of the payments in early years are primarily interest, I believe that Mr. Karat and Ms. DUNK had not paid much in the way of principal upon their mortgage amount to Scotia Mortgage Corporation. I doubt that they had even paid enough down on that mortgage to have more than 20 percent equity in the Grandview Street Home. My estimate is that 80 percent of $555,000 is approximately $440,000. Stated differently, I do not believe that Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK paid down more than $105,000 in principal on the Grandview Street Home at the time they apparently agreed to sell the Grandview Street Home or thereafter. I appreciate that they believed that said Grandview Street Home had increased approximately $8,000 per year. I believe that to the extent that the insurance premium required for those that purchase homes without being able to tender 20 percent or more of the value of the property was included in the mortgage payments, then they would have ended up with even less equity than I have suspected.

74. I note that Ms. Dunk and Mr. Karat utilized Ms. Tsenter of the law firm in Richmond Hill, Ontario, at Suite 10, 50 West Pearce St for the April 2020 charge against title. I believe the aforementioned address is the address for the law firm of FIJ Law LLP. I believe that Ms. Julia DUNK worked at said law firm at the time.
75. In relation to facts arising and fraud discovered after March 2025, I have learned, among other things, that Ms. Julia Marie Dunk has utilized two different surnames in multiple legal documents involving the Grandview Street Home and the Fleetwood Drive Home, as per the LSO directory of today's date and the transfer of the Oshawa Grandview Home by her and Mr. David Karat.
76. In the Grandview Street Home transaction, Ms. Julia Dunk utilized the name she represents as her legal name on the LSO Directory, which is Ms. Julia Dunk. In the sale of the Grandview Street Home, Ms. Julia Dunk utilized her name, as it was when she was a transferee of the same property in April 2020, in the sale of that home, albeit in joint tenancy with Mr. David Karat, to three individuals:
 - a. Mrs. Dorothy During-Gibbs;
 - b. Mr. Michael Gibbs;

(99 percent as joint tenants)

and
 - c. Mr. Peter Gibbs.

(1 percent tenant-in-common).
77. As previously particularized, the Grandview Street Home was listed on November 15, 2024, the same day that I served and filed the JRPA Application, and it was purportedly, by way of presumed agreement of purchase and sale, agreed to be sold on November 26, 2024.

78. Prior to the aforementioned sale, I presume that Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia Marie DUNK agreed to purchase the Fleetwood Drive Home on November 7, 2024, when it was listed for sale on October 31, 2024.
79. On November 7, 2024, Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK had agreed to purchase a $955,000 home without having yet listed the Grandview Street Home.
80. Based upon my review of the mortgage or charge provided by the chargors of the Grandview Street Home, Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia Marie DUNK, they had a face value mortgage provided to the mortgagee, Scotia Mortgage Corporation, for $545,490.00 as of April 30, 2020. Their first payment was due on May 28, 2020. The last payment date for that mortgage was April 30, 2025.
81. Based upon the consideration provided by Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK for the Grandview Street Home in April 2020 to Mr. David Stratton and Mrs. Donna Marie Stratton, which was $555,000.00, and the face value of the mortgage provided to Scotia Mortgage Corporation, the Grandview Street Home was leveraged approximately 98.5 percent. Stated differently, Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK had approximately 1.5 percent equity in the Grandview Street Home as of April 2020.
82. In April 2020, Mr. Meirovici of FIJ Law acted for the transferees of the Grandview Street Home, who were Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK.

DECEMBER 3, 2024

83. The Respondent Insurance Companies, through their counsel, filed a demonstrably defective NOA, approximately nineteen (19) days beyond the statutory “forthwith” requirement. This procedural default, compounded by the conscious non-participation in the interlocutory motions below, was challenged immediately as a warrant for their exclusion from participating at the judicial review level, predicated on the principle that procedural rights are forfeited by wilful default, particularly when such default materially affects the timeline for perfecting the appeal. The defective nature of the filing further demonstrates a disregard for the mandatory procedural rules of the Divisional Court.

DECEMBER 12, 2024:

84. The Factum was formally filed and duly served upon the Respondents.

DECEMBER 13, 2024: THE CERTIFICATE OF PERFECTION

85. The Certificate of Perfection was filed, signaling the completion of my mandated duties under the Rules of Civil Procedure. Immediately subsequent to this filing, further acts of identity-based larceny were executed at the Toronto Reference Library, including the unauthorized alteration of my phone number on file, evidencing a continuous, systemic effort to disrupt my life and litigation efforts in tandem with key procedural steps.

DECEMBER 24, 2024:

86. Requisition #1 was filed to compel the Registrar to issue the Notice of Listing for Hearing (Form 68(B)), alongside a second Requisition for an urgent hearing before a single judge of the Superior Court of Justice pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA.
87. I verily believe that the Registrar's subsequent failure to comply with the statutory duty to issue the Form 68(B) within the requisite timeframe constitutes a further act of administrative dereliction, directly impeding the progression of the appeal to a substantive hearing and frustrating the intent of the Judicial Review Procedure Act.

DECEMBER 20, 2024, TO DECEMBER 31, 2024:

88. Divisional Court staff, primarily through Ms. Lawrence, actively denied access to Case Center, erroneously representing that access would only be provided upon the scheduling of a hearing date. This representation is in patent contravention of the mandatory requirements set forth in Rule 4.05.3 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, which stipulates that every participating party shall upload documents to Case Center for the purpose of any hearing. This denial constitutes a systemic obstruction that deprived me of the ability to present filed materials in the prescribed electronic format for judicial review, thereby frustrating the very purpose of electronic court filing and creating an adverse inference against the Court’s administrative staff concerning the discharge of their duty of uberrima fides (utmost good faith).

JANUARY 7, 2025:

89. A direction was promulgated from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore that mandated a compulsory Case Management Conference (the “Case Management Appearance Requirement”) to address the preliminary issue of prematurity. The compulsory nature of this direction, coupled with the lack of access to Case Center for necessary pre-conference uploading, immediately created a procedural impediment for me, placing a substantial, unjustified burden on the moving party.
90. An assertion was made on behalf of the LAT that the ROP had not been filed because a prior consent to a waiver of the statutory requirement had been proffered—a fraudulent misrepresentation immediately refuted by me.
91. This assertion stands in direct conflict with the absolute statutory duty to file the ROP forthwith, as mandated by section 10 of the JRPA and section 20 of the SPPA.
92. I note that Mr. Boyce had conflated the distinction between the “prematurity objection” versus the “the alleged rule against bifurcation of proceedings”. Had I had access to Case Center, I would have been able to have drawn the evidence to the attention of any judge in this regard.

JANUARY 8, 2025:

93. Formal notification was provided to the Court concerning a profound and objectively perceived reasonable apprehension of bias involving The Honourable Madam Justice Shore. The basis rested upon the undisputed fact of Justice Shore’s prior partnership at Epstein Cole LLP, the firm that had acted for the adverse litigant, Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos, in his matrimonial litigation, which professional relationship was extant at a material time in 2018. The temporal overlap and the associational connection with a party now central to allegations of fraud and forgery provide compelling grounds for sua sponte recusal under the constitutional principle of judicial independence, as tested by the objective standard of the reasonably informed person established in R. v. S. (R.D.), warranting immediate reassignment of the matter.

JANUARY 9, 2025:

94. Affidavit #3 was filed in support of the objection and Urgent Requisition for a single-judge hearing, adhering scrupulously to the procedural duty to raise the issue in limine (at the earliest possible juncture), with the implicit request that the Chief Justice exercise the administrative powers granted by section 76 of the Courts of Justice Act to reassign the matter administratively.

JANUARY 7, 2025 (LAT NON-COMPLIANCE):

JANUARY 14, 2025:

95. I verily believe Registrar Clegg misrepresented the law by stating that all cases were being case managed, contrary to the permissive language of the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings (effective June 15, 2023). This administrative misstatement misled me regarding my procedural rights and constituted a further procedural misstep by court administration, thereby impairing the efficient adjudication of the file and adding unnecessary confusion to the process.

JANUARY 16, 2025:

96. A comprehensive written Recusal Request was filed, and the process pursuant to sections 75 and 76 of the Courts of Justice Act was formally initiated to direct the matter to the Chief Justice, seeking immediate administrative redress pursuant to Rule 59.06 (setting aside or varying an order for fraud or misrepresentation).

JANUARY 20, 2025:

97. Notice of Motion #1 was filed, seeking an Order to compel the Tribunal to file the ROP forthwith, thereby forcing the matter to a judicial determination regarding the LAT's procedural contempt of its legislative mandate and demanding that the Tribunal comply with its statutory duties.

LATE JANUARY 2025: THE FRAUDULENT MISREPRESENTATION REGARDING AN UNCITED, UNREFERENCED, UNKNOWN AND INVALID PRACTICE DIRECTION – ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN AUTHORED BY SHORE J.

98. In late January 2025, Registrar Clegg misrepresented the Divisional Court Consolidated Practice Direction by quotation:

“Hello Mr. McLean,

Are you requesting a hearing date or a case conference?

Please advise that all [sic] cases are being case managed, coordinators are not providing dates.

As all matters [sic] are currently being case managed in Divisional Court, hearings are scheduled as per the directions of the case management Judge. The Coordinators are not providing hearing dates unless directed.

Thanks,”

99. Notice of Motion #2, which formally incorporated the Disqualification Request and the request to convert the matter to a motion for judgment, was filed. On this date, the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) formally withdrew from the proceeding, and notification of Mr. Papadimitropoulos's termination from the TDIA Group on January 31, 2025, was received, further emphasizing the significance of the allegations made against him.

100. On February 10, 2025, Ms. Romena Pinto of Himelfarb Proszansky LLP (“Himelfarb LLP”) acted for the transferors of the Grandview Street Home, who were Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia Dunk (see: Exhibit “A”, Page 8). Himelfarb LLP is located as denoted above in Exhibit “C” for both Ms. Pinto and Ms. Julia Dunk, which is 480 University Avenue, Toronto, reasonably close, in my view, to the downtown Toronto courthouse (ONCJ and ONSC) and to some extent close to the Licence Appeal Tribunal and the TPL Reference Library.
101. Ms. Julia Dunk confirmed in LR0 #40 Transfer on February 10, 2025, that her name was Julia DUNK and her address for service was 591 Fleetwood Drive, Oshawa, Ontario. She represented that her spouse (Mr. David Karat) was a party to the document or had consented to the transaction. Ms. Julia DUNK also confirmed that the document was not authorized under a power of attorney.
102. The transferor client number for Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK was “20250034”. Therefore, I believe that Ms. Julia DUNK and Mr. David Karat were clients of Himelfarb LLP as it related to the sale of the Grandview Street Home.
103. As noted previously, TD Bank became the mortgagee on the Grandview Street Home by way of mortgage from Mrs. Dorothy During-Gibbs, a CAMH social worker (1025 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario), and Mr. Peter Gibbs, her spouse, along with Mr. Peter Gibbs, father of Mr. Michael Gibbs, on February 10, 2025.
104. Despite Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK, with said surname, being clients of Himelfarb LLP in relation to the sale of the Grandview Home, Ms. Pinto, an associate of Himelfarb LLP and work colleague of Ms. Julia DUNK. I note that Ms. Pinto was acting for the ‘transferees’ of the Fleetwood Drive Home on “2025-02-06”, which was Wednesday, February 6, 2025.
105. At that time, the transferee client number was 20240993. I believe the “2024” relates to the year in which the file was created. That being said, I believe that Ms. Pinto knew that Ms. Julia DUNK’s surname was DUNK and not “Karat”. I base my belief on the following:
- a. The LSO Directory website at the time and now; and

b. The sale of the Grandview Street Home some four days later wherein Ms. Pinto was advising Ms.

DUNK regarding the same.

106. Ms. Pinto of Himelfarb LLP, the same Himelfarb LLP that Ms. DUNK works for or at, prepared the tax statements for the “Land Transfer Tax Statements”.
107. Himelfarb LLP also prepared and signed the Charge/Mortgage documents against title of the Fleetwood Drive Home, which are at Exhibit “B”, page 23. The name of the individual signor is a presumed real estate law clerk or legal assistant by the name of Ms. Manisha Sondhi. She also is of the address for service of Himelfarb LLP at 1401-480 University Avenue, Toronto, M5G 1V2. Ms. Sondhi signed on February 6, 2025.
108. Therefore, at first glance, without the discharge of Ms. Julia DUNK and Mr. David Karat’s mortgage in favour of Scotia Mortgage Corporation, Mr. Karat and Ms. DUNK would have been obligated to not only have paid for the consideration of the Fleetwood Drive Home (February 6, 2025) but would also have been indebted to Scotia Mortgage Corporation for the remaining balance of that mortgage.
109. It is my contention that the identity of Ms. Julia Marie Karat [sic] and Ms. Julia DUNK are not one and the same.
110. I submit that either Ms. Julia DUNK or Ms. Julia Karat is a fictitious person and does not represent the legal name of an actual individual. I will presume that the former, Ms. Julia Marie DUNK, as publicly represented in the LSO Directory as of June 30, 2025, is the legal name of the individual employed at Himelfarb LLP. The purported existence of “Ms. Julia Marie Karat [sic]” as a distinct legal entity is, to my belief, entirely fabricated. I believe Ms. Julia Karat is a fictitious individual or person.
111. As the purported mortgagors or transferors of a charge to TD Bank, distinct from Scotia Mortgage Corporation, I observe that the client file number for Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia KARAT [sic] of Himelfarb LLP was 20240093, which diverges from the client file number for Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia Karat [sic] concerning the transfer of the Fleetwood Drive Home, which was 20250034. I do not take issue with the divergence but I note that they must have been two separate retainers. I note the requirements of the LSO to identify a client for each client matter.

112. I find it inexplicable how Himelfarb LLP could have, in a manner consistent with non-fraudulent practice, utilized two disparate surnames for an individual purportedly sharing the same birthdate, namely Ms. Julia DUNK (of the LSO) and the alleged Ms. Julia Karat [sic]. This discrepancy raises significant concerns regarding the authenticity of the transactions.
113. I believe it is pertinent to quote the definitions section from the Land Titles Act (Ontario) of the following:

“fraudulent instrument” means an instrument,

- (a) under which a fraudulent person purports to receive or transfer an estate or interest in land,
- (b) that is given under the purported authority of a power of attorney that is forged,
- (c) that is a transfer of a charge where the charge is given by a fraudulent person, or
- (d) that perpetrates a fraud as prescribed with respect to the estate or interest in land affected by the instrument; (“acte frauduleux”)

“fraudulent person” means a person who executes or purports to execute an instrument if,

- (a) the person forged the instrument,
- (b) the person is a fictitious person, or
- (c) the person holds oneself out in the instrument to be, but knows that the person is not, the registered owner of the estate or interest in land affected by the instrument; (“fraudeur”)

114. I reiterate my allegation that the sale of the Grandview Street Home was not to bona fide purchasers and that TD Bank had a role in what I allege to be a fraudulent conveyance or preference predicated upon the TDI Karat Theft of October 25, 2024. However, I believe that the names of Mr. David Karat and Ms. Julia Marie DUNK were their legal names. I do not believe that they are fictitious people.
115. Conversely, I firmly believe that Ms. Julia Marie Karat [sic] is a fictitious person, as defined by subsection (b) of the “fraudulent person” definition in the Land Title Act. As such, and in direct consequence of this fictitious identity, I contend that all land title documents involving the sale of the Fleetwood Drive Home, where “Ms. Julia Marie Karat [sic]” is a party, constitute fraudulent instruments, including but not limited to:
- a. The Transfer; and
 - b. The Charge in favour of TD Bank as of February 6, 2025.
116. Given that these instruments are executed by or purport to involve a fictitious person, they are in my view by operation of law, void ab initio. I believe that this means they are null and without legal effect from their very inception, as a transaction cannot be validly concluded with a non-existent party. Consequently, I believe the purported transfer of the Fleetwood Drive Home and the subsequent charge against its title are legally invalid and unenforceable.
117. I do not believe that Mr. Karat masterminded the fraudulent conduct and steps prior to October 25, 2024, and thereafter. Rather, I believe that the LAT had a high degree of control or authority over the conduct of the Respondent Insurance Companies and Mr. Papadimitropoulos. I believe that the LAT had the most compelling motive as it is decision makers, inclusive of VC Morissette who had previously, by admission, admitted to intentionally violating federal laws and was under criminal investigation, and VC Lake had the most to ‘lose’. I note that their allowance in various decisions of Mr. Karat’s violations of the Law Society Act and LSO By-Laws.
118. However, I believe that Mr. Karat should turn his mind to the notion that if the purchasers of the Grandview Street Home are valid purchasers, and since his spouse used her correct and legal name in that transaction, then if the Fleetwood Drive Home is unwound on account of being a fraudulent transfer involving fraudulent instruments and a fraudulent person, namely Ms. Julia Karat [sic], then this in turn would mean that he and his spouse, Ms. Julia Dunk, will be without any home ownership. I believe that there are other consequences but I will focus my efforts on the issues herein including the fraudulent conduct, as alleged and to be alleged, that I submit has tainted the adverse steps to me in this JRPA Proceeding, and seek to unwind everything. I submit that leaves us at the same stage when the Respondents failed to file any factums and application records but for now the Charter issues, Charter damages and the costs of this JRPA Proceeding.

119. I believe that Mr. Papadimitropoulos was moved from TD Insurance Group to TD Bank in late January 2025 or February 1, 2025, to assist, by way of his publicly denoted information with the LSO (i.e., legal department of TD Bank), to facilitate the fraudulent transactions involving the fictitious and fraudulent person of Ms. Julia Karat [sic], which were, in my view, fraudulent instruments on title as of the day before Canada Day 2025.
120. I believe that one of the reasons for what I allege to be an intentional changing of names to a fictitious person in Ms. Julia Karat [sic] was for any potential mortgage pre-approval by inputting a name in an individual without the substantial debt of the mortgage in favour of the Scotia Mortgage Corporation mortgage. I believe by falsely inflating income or suppressing debt, individuals can qualify for a mortgage amount that exceeds their actual borrowing capacity. I believe that by moving Mr. Papadimitropoulos from TD Insurance Group to TD Bank (Legal Department), Mr. Karat and Ms. Julia DUNK had an individual that could bypass mortgage pre-approval requirements and transactional issues that they may not have been able to do so if they used Ms. Julia DUNK's actual name.
121. I allege that all of alleged badges of fraud post-theft of my property on October 25, 2024, by way of the TDI Karat Theft, were connected to the fraudulent and unlawful act to the unlawful and fraudulent, as alleged by me, by some or all of the Respondents prior to my commencement of the JRPA Proceeding and during the same. I will provide a comprehensive chronology for the benefit of this Divisional Court and the Respondents which will be hyperlinked, cross-referenced and bookmarked therein for ease of reference and convenience.

FEBRUARY 11, 2025:

122. Ms. Lawrence again confirmed the erroneous position regarding the withholding of Case Center access, constituting a persistent and intentional misrepresentation of Rule 4.05.3. This administrative malfeasance served to maintain the judicial conflict by preventing my evidence on recusal from being readily accessible to the assigned Judge in the prescribed electronic format, which constitutes a procedural subversion of court protocols and impedes the judge’s ability to rule on the matter.

FEBRUARY 14, 2025:

123. The LAT confirmed that the internal process concerning the “reviewing how best to compile and forward the records” was ongoing, further confirming the fraudulent nature of the earlier representations regarding a waiver, as the Tribunal was patently incapable of fulfilling its statutory duty regardless of any alleged consent. The Tribunal’s enduring delay in compiling the ROP constitutes a procedural contempt of its legislative mandate and a systemic obstruction to justice, warranting the highest censure.

FEBRUARY 20, 2025:

124. The “Papadimitropoulos Fraudulently Authorized Laptop Borrowing Agreement” was discovered, further evidencing the persistent and wide-ranging pattern of identity-based fraud, which now extends across multiple instruments and institutions and provides direct evidence of the bad faith of the parties involved.

MARCH 3 TO 5, 2025

125. I verily believe that the initial operative procedural step, antecedent to any substantive engagement, was duly executed on March 4, 2025. On this precise date, the Notice of Constitutional Question (NOCQ) was formally filed, concomitant with the mandatory service upon all relevant persons and entities, thereby satisfying the fundamental jurisdictional prerequisites for de jure constitutional challenge. Subsequently, on March 5, 2025, the Amended Judicial Review and Procedural Application (JRPA Application) was perfected. This filing, which superseded and supplanted the prior iteration, was immediately accompanied by the requisite service upon all stipulated parties and their counsel, ensuring comprehensive appraisal of the modified application's ambit, pursuant to the applicable Rules of Civil Procedure.
126. Notwithstanding the timely perfection of the afore-referenced Applications, an exigent and wholly unforeseen circumstance transpired late in the evening of March 5, 2025. While traversing a designated pedestrian concourse (sidewalk) within the central business district of Toronto, the applicant suffered acute corporeal trauma resultant from a collision involving a motorized conveyance, specifically an e-scooter. The immediate sequelae of this incident necessitated the prompt acquisition of immediate medical intervention at a recognized healthcare facility.
127. Following this initial assessment, and subsequent to the medical professionals' unqualified clearance for a return to prior occupational and quotidian activities, the severity of the neurological and skeletal insult persisted. Consequently, further diagnostic procedures were requisitioned, including Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) studies pertinent to the afflicted regions of the spine.
128. The unambiguous findings emanating from these advanced radiological assessments unequivocally confirmed the presence of substantially exacerbated pathology and the advent of materially new, pronounced impairments within the vertebral column, when contrasted with my pre-existing baseline medical condition.

MARCH 20, 2025:

129. An access request was delivered to the LAT regarding the thirteen (13) record classes, which remains outstanding, as the LAT is under a subsequent order from the OIPC to comply by October 14, 2025. This necessitates my continued reliance upon the judicial process to compel administrative transparency, thereby consuming my scarce resources and confirming the Tribunal's unwillingness to adhere to its statutory and regulatory duties voluntarily.

MAY 9, 2025:

130. Photographic evidence identifying Mr. David Karat as the perpetrator of the theft that occurred on October 25, 2024, was unredacted and disclosed, providing conclusive evidential proof of the larcenous actions perpetrated by an agent of the adverse litigant and confirming the concerted strategy to acquire and suppress key documentation.

JUNE 2025:

131. Receipt of a police caution confirmed that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos had lodged a police complaint predicated upon the service of court documents, which he characterized as harassment. This official document serves as a conclusive record that the adverse litigant was actively attempting to utilize law enforcement as a tool of corporate and personal coercion, thereby connecting the October 2024 fraudulent criminal predicate to an ongoing, malicious strategy intended to chill my pursuit of civil remedies and constituting a continuing abuse of process.

JUNE 2025 TO SEPTEMBER 2025

132. I continued my pursuit in my view in duly diligent fashion to determine the mystery Judge of the "warrant in the first".
133. I continue to exercise due diligence in relation to the same.

OCTOBER 10, 2025:

134. Access to the full ROP, the transcripts of the Case Management Conferences, and the final determination of unopposed motions remains denied to me. The self-evident conclusion is that a systemic and concerted effort—involving corporate entities, administrative tribunals, and elements within the court administration—has been executed to obstruct my access to an impartial and timely adjudication, thereby necessitating the extraordinary judicial intervention sought herein, with the ultimate object being the remediation of this cascade of procedural, administrative, and constitutional infringements.

OCTOBER 10, 2025: AFTERNOON

135. I repeat and rely upon the above in this regard relating to the date above.

OCTOBER 13, 2025

136. I tendered the email above and a Request Form Undertaking duly signed on said date. I will be attending to immediate payment of the same for both dates so involved.

VOLUME #2: INSTITUTIONAL IMPROPRIETY: CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND PROCEDURAL DERELICTION AT THE TRIBUNAL

137. Immediately subsequent to the formal commencement of this JRPA Proceeding on November 15, 2024, I verily believe that a series of significant and deeply troubling procedural irregularities and potential conflicts of interest concerning the Licence Appeal Tribunal (hereinafter the “Tribunal”) and its designated legal counsel became manifestly apparent.
138. These were not minor administrative oversights, but rather fundamental deviations from the requisite standards of administrative fairness, due process, and institutional impartiality that are the bedrock of our legal system and are guaranteed by the principles of natural justice.

139. I verily believe that they were, with the benefit of my due diligence and efforts post March 2025, were tied to the “mystery and undisclosed judge” involving the, alleged, breaches of my Charter rights involving ex parte and in camera hearings before a Judge other than JP Jiri.

VOLUME #2(A): THE COMPROMISED INDEPENDENCE OF TRIBUNAL COUNSEL

140. On or about November 27, 2024, the Tribunal served its Notice of Appearance through its counsel, Mr. Jesse Aaron Boyce. A fundamental tenet of administrative law is that an administrative body must not only be independent, but must be manifestly seen to be independent.

141. At that precise juncture, the public-facing records meticulously maintained by the Law Society of Ontario (hereinafter the “LSO”) unequivocally identified Mr. Boyce’s employer as SLASTO (Safety, Licensing Appeals and Standards Tribunals Ontario).

142. Critically, these same records listed his business address as 25 Grosvenor Street, 4th Floor, Toronto, Ontario.

143. I verily believe that this location is perfectly coterminous with the official business addresses of Vice-Chair Lake and other adjudicators of the very Tribunal Mr. Boyce was retained to represent.

144. I verily believe that this shared physical nexus erodes the sacrosanct firewall that must exist between impartial adjudication and partisan legal representation. It creates an unacceptable perception that counsel for the Tribunal is not at arm’s length from the decision-makers whose conduct is under review.

145. I verily believe that the commingling of adjudicative and representational functions within the same physical space gives rise to an insidious apprehension of bias, suggesting an institutional culture where the lines between advocate and arbiter are regrettably blurred.

146. I note that in late December 2024 and early January 2025, Mr. Boyce’s employer designation and his business address were summarily excised from the public record. I contend that this was not a mere administrative correction but a calculated act of obfuscation, undertaken as a direct and reactionary response to my evidentiary submissions having exposed this institutional entanglement.

147. I verily believe that this maneuver, far from ameliorating the initial concern, served only to exacerbate the appearance of impropriety. It suggested a consciousness of wrongdoing and a conscious effort to conceal the problematic institutional arrangements from judicial scrutiny, transforming a procedural concern into an issue of institutional candour and integrity.
148. I verily believe that a transparent institution, confident in its impartiality, would have addressed the concern forthrightly. Instead, the response was to alter the public record, an act of concealment that speaks volumes.

VOLUME #2(B): THE WILLFUL DERELICTION OF STATUTORY DUTY

149. Concurrently with these developments, the Tribunal remained inexplicably and persistently delinquent in its fundamental statutory obligation, as mandated under section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, to forthwith file the Record of Proceeding.
150. This is not a discretionary requirement; it is a mandatory precondition to a fair judicial review. The term “forthwith” denotes immediacy and diligence, not administrative convenience.
151. This inexcusable failure to act has persisted, creating a procedural vacuum that materially obstructs a fully informed and just adjudication of this matter. It has necessitated the filing of my Notice of Motion #1 to compel compliance with this non-discretionary duty (Affidavit #4, paras. 23-26; Affidavit #8, paras. 5-9).
152. The prejudice engendered by this delinquency is substantial and ongoing. It deprives me and this Court of the essential evidentiary foundation upon which the Tribunal’s impugned decision was purportedly based. Without the Record, I am forced to argue against a decision whose factual and legal underpinnings remain officially shrouded in secrecy.
153. I verily believe that the Tribunal’s protracted non-compliance stems directly from its institutional inability to compile a complete, coherent, and accurate record.
154. This belief was subsequently corroborated by astonishing communications received from the LAT Registrar in February 2025. These communications contained the admission that the Tribunal was, at that late date, still deliberating internally on the very methodology for compiling the said record.

155. This is a startling concession of institutional unpreparedness and procedural chaos. It calls into question the integrity of the Tribunal's entire record-keeping process and suggests that the proceedings below were conducted in a manner so disorganized as to be fundamentally unfair (Affidavit #17).
156. If an administrative body cannot even determine how to assemble the record of its own proceedings months after a judicial review has been commenced, its capacity to render a just and reasoned decision in the first instance is thrown into profound doubt.

VOLUME #2(C): CORRUPTION OF THE JUDICIAL PROCESS: APPREHENSION OF BIAS OR ACTUAL BIAS BUT ALSO FRAUD BY OMISSION – DISCOVERED ON BELIEF AND UNCONTROVERTED IN SEPTEMBER/OCTOBER 2025

157. On or about January 7, 2025, this judicial review proceeding was made subject to directive from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, compelling the parties to attend a case management conference.
158. My subsequent and diligent investigations into the public record revealed the salient fact that Madam Justice Shore was, for many years prior to her esteemed appointment to the bench, a partner at the distinguished Toronto law firm of Epstein Cole LLP.
159. This discovery, in and of itself, was unremarkable; however, its profound significance became apparent when contextualized against the backdrop of the individuals central to this dispute.
160. The test for reasonable apprehension of bias, as established by the Supreme Court of Canada in landmark cases such as R. v. S. (R.D.) and Baker v. Canada, is what a reasonable, right-minded person, informed of all the circumstances, would conclude. The inquiry is into the appearance of justice, not the actuality of bias.
161. It is an incontrovertible matter of record, and a fact to which I have previously declared at length, that the law firm of Epstein Cole LLP represented Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos during a particularly contentious and acrimonious matrimonial dispute with my former spouse.
162. My former spouse is, notably, the named insured on the very policy of insurance that lies at the heart of the underlying administrative proceeding and this ensuing judicial review.
163. At all material times, Mr. Papadimitropoulos was not a disinterested party but a manager of considerable seniority within the TD Insurance group of companies (hereinafter the "TDI Group").

164. As my evidence demonstrates, he was covertly and impermissibly involved in the handling and administration of my statutory accident benefits claim. This was a shadowy and impermissible intervention that was never disclosed, in flagrant breach of his professional and ethical obligations.
165. His involvement was not peripheral; it was determinative, and undertaken from a position of profound and undisclosed conflict of interest. He acted as a “shadow claims handler,” manipulating the process from behind the scenes.
166. My fortuitous discovery of an anniversary card penned entirely in the handwriting of Mr. Papadimitropoulos, when juxtaposed with a contested and highly suspect insurance document from my file bearing the purported signature “As per A. Nurse,” provided compelling, indeed dispositive, evidence of his handwriting.
167. This forensic link served as the linchpin that irrefutably established his direct, personal, and undisclosed involvement in my claim file. The document signed “As per A. Nurse” was an internal document used to make key decisions on my claim. The handwriting comparison proves Mr. Papadimitropoulos authored or directed its creation.
168. Such conduct, which I uncovered through my own efforts, constitutes not only a profound and irremediable conflict of interest but also raises the specter of criminal forgery and a deliberate attempt to mislead all parties, including the Tribunal and, ultimately, this Court.
169. I verily believe that the confluence of these extraordinary circumstances—namely, a case management judge whose former law firm provided legal representation to a central, adverse figure in the underlying insurance dispute, a figure who was demonstrably engaged in surreptitious, unethical, and potentially illegal conduct directly impacting my rights—creates an undeniable and objectively reasonable apprehension of bias.
170. I verily believe that a reasonable person, informed of this deep, historical professional connection between the presiding judge’s former firm and a key adverse party engaged in fraudulent conduct, would apprehend that the judge might, even subconsciously, be influenced by this prior association.

171. Consequently, it necessitated my formal, albeit reluctant, request for Her Honour's recusal to preserve the sanctity and unimpeachable integrity of the judicial process, which must not only be fair but must be seen to be fair.

VOLUME #2(D): OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE: A CAMPAIGN OF THEFT, IMPERSONATION, AND FRAUD

172. The already fraught course of these proceedings has been further and grievously vitiated by a series of brazen acts of a criminal nature. I contend that these acts were not random or coincidental; rather, they were orchestrated as part of a systematic campaign to obstruct, pervert, and ultimately defeat the course of justice by crippling my ability to prosecute my own case.

173. This was not mere litigation strategy; it was a descent into criminal enterprise intended to render my participation in these proceedings untenable through sabotage and harassment.

174. On October 25, 2024, my essential personal property, including my laptop computer containing critical legal research and draft materials, my wallet, my passport, and all other forms of personal identification, was stolen from a secure locker within the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH).

175. The theft of my laptop was particularly devastating, as it contained the entirety of my work product for this litigation—my legal research, my draft facts, and my organized evidence. It was a direct attack on my ability to function as a self-represented litigant. I verily believe that this fraud was further compounded by fraudulent misrepresentations to me regarding, inter alia, my right of access to Case Center, receipt of stamped documents within 5 business days from the JSO portal, right to a Form 68(B) after filing my certificate of perfection on December 13, 2024, my right to seek leave pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA to have my JRPA Application heard before a single judge of the SCJ – not the Divisional Court.

176. After considerable effort and resistance from the institution, I obtained unredacted surveillance images from the time of the theft.

177. This irrefutable visual evidence unequivocally identifies the perpetrator of this larceny as Mr. David Karat, an employee of the TDI Group who has previously acted as a litigation representative for the Respondent Insurance Companies in these and related matters. His identity is not a matter of speculation; it is a matter of photographic certainty.
178. In the immediate aftermath of this targeted theft, I verily believe that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos weaponized my stolen identification to engage in a calculated series of fraudulent acts designed to sow chaos and confusion.
179. I verily believe that his elaborate impersonation scheme demonstrates a nexus between the theft by Mr. Karat and the subsequent fraud by Mr. Papadimitropoulos, indicating a coordinated effort. The scheme included, but was not limited to, fraudulently executing a laptop borrowing agreement in my name with the Toronto Public Library (TPL) on October 28, 2024, and subsequently making numerous unauthorized withdrawals of library materials throughout November and December of 2024. I verily believe that the timing of these acts of impersonation corresponds with suspicious and direct precision to key filing deadlines and other critical procedural steps within this very JRPA Proceeding, betraying a clear and malicious intent to interfere with my ability to meet my legal obligations.
180. For instance, an act of impersonation occurred on the very day my responding materials to a motion were due. I verily believe that another occurred the day before I was scheduled to appear in court. I verily believe that his temporal correlation is too precise to be coincidental.
181. To offer a particularly flagrant example, on December 13, 2024, a mere matter of hours after I had successfully filed and remitted payment for the Certificate of Perfection in this matter—a crucial step in advancing this application—Mr. Papadimitropoulos took the audacious step of impersonating me in person at the TPL Reference Library.
182. I verily believe that his purpose on that occasion was to fraudulently obtain a new library card in my name and, more insidiously, to unlawfully alter my personal contact information on the library's official file, an act presumably intended to intercept communications or create further administrative disruption.

183. This was a direct, tactical interference with my ability to manage my own affairs at a critical litigation juncture.
184. These reprehensible actions, which plainly constitute the criminal offences of theft, identity theft, and fraud under the Criminal Code, were anything but random.
185. I verily believe and therefore aver that they were integral components of a calculated and malicious campaign, the sole purpose of which was to disrupt and sabotage my ability to effectively prepare and prosecute this judicial review.
186. I verily believe that this conduct transcends the bounds of civil litigation and constitutes a direct and contemptuous assault on the administration of justice.
187. It is, in its very essence, a profound and sustained obstruction of justice, intended to win by unlawful attrition what could not be won by meritorious argument.

VOLUME #2(E):: FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCES: SHIELDING ASSETS FROM JUSTICE – TAINING OF PROCEEDING WITH FRAUD

188. I rely on the jurisprudential references in motions to set aside steps, orders et al, of “tainting” or “tainted” with fraud.
189. I verily believe that the conduct of Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk in relation to the timing of the agreement to purchase the 591 Fleetwood Drive home (i.e. prior to even having listed the Grandview Street property but after having stolen my property including my credit cards, bank cards, identification, electronic devices et al) amounts to undisclosed and unknown to me until post March 2025 tainting of the JRPA Proceeding with fraud.
190. I also believe it amounts to obstruction of justice.
191. I believe that Mr. Karat and Ms. Dunk were bribed by some or all of the Respondents that in attempting to have my JRPA Application not be heard (i.e. not be able to file) and that said bribery amounts to special type of nullity which nullifies any assignments, determination, case management, directions or orders that were prejudicial to me and beneficial to them.

192. I verily believe that the pervasive pattern of egregious misconduct extends beyond procedural malfeasance and obstruction into the realm of fraudulent real estate transactions.
193. I verily believe that the aforementioned transactions were undertaken, I allege, with the specific intent to defeat the interests of creditors, a category which includes myself as a potential judgment creditor arising from the substantial claims for tortious conduct and Charter damages sought herein. I verily believe that I am a potential creditor of Mr. Karat and the Respondent Insurance Companies on a variety of levels including that Mr. Karat remains an
194. I verily believe that the doctrine of fraudulent conveyance, enshrined in the Fraudulent Conveyances Act, is designed to prevent precisely this type of asset-stripping in the face of foreseeable liability. The courts have identified numerous “badges of fraud” to infer intent.
195. On or about November 15, 2024—a date of profound significance as it was the very day I formally filed this JRPA Application with the Court—Mr. David Karat and his spouse, Ms. Julia Marie Dunk, a licensed paralegal, listed their matrimonial home for sale.
196. I verily believe that the timing of this transaction is the most powerful and undeniable badge of fraud imaginable. I verily believe that the decision to list a major asset for sale on the exact day that litigation is commenced is too coincidental to be innocent. I verily believe that it strongly indicates an immediate intent to liquidate and shield assets from potential legal recourse.
197. I verily believe that the property was then agreed to be sold by presume agreement of purchase and sale with remarkable alacrity on November 26, 2024. I verily believe that the haste with which the transaction was concluded is another classic badge of fraud, suggesting a desire to complete the conveyance before any legal impediments, such as a certificate of pending litigation, could be put in place.
198. My subsequent investigations into the purchase of a new residential property by Mr. Karat and his spouse have revealed a deliberate and fraudulent corruption of the land registration system itself.
199. Specifically, the transfer documents and the related mortgage charge registered in favour of The Toronto-Dominion Bank were executed utilizing a fictitious person, namely “Julia Marie Karat.”

200. There is no such legal person. Ms. Dunk's legal name, as confirmed by LSO records and other documentation, does not include the surname "Karat." The creation of this legal chimera was a deliberate choice.
201. The use of a non-existent legal entity in these foundational instruments renders them, I submit, "fraudulent instruments" pursuant to the clear language of the Land Titles Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. L.5, and, as a matter of law, makes them void ab initio.
202. I verily believe that this was not a clerical error, but a deliberate act of deception targeting the integrity of the public land registry system, presumably to obfuscate ownership and further hinder any future attempts at asset tracing or execution.
203. I verily believe that the facilitation of these highly irregular and seemingly fraudulent transactions by the law firm Himelfarb Proszanski LLP raises grave questions of professional misconduct, negligence, and potential complicity.
204. It is a matter of record that Ms. Dunk is employed by this firm, and that lawyers from this very firm acted on both the precipitous sale and the subsequent fraudulent purchase.
205. I verily believe that the involvement of a licensee's own firm in such a transaction demands the highest level of scrutiny and due diligence. A law firm cannot be a party to a conveyance that contains clear indicia of fraud, particularly when one of its own employees is a principal.
206. I verily believe that this disquieting facilitation of a fraudulent scheme, whether through active participation or willful blindness, compelled me to file a separate, formal complaint with the LSO to seek accountability and uphold the integrity of the legal profession, which is tasked with being a gatekeeper against such fraud.

VOLUME #3:
EXHIBITS A TO Z

207. Now shown to me and filed in support of the relief are the following exhibits.

EXHIBIT "A": PAGES 1 TO 50

208. This Exhibit is a voluminous compilation of electronic mail correspondence exchanged between August and September 2025 with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office (“SCJ RMO”) and its representatives, including Ms. Nivatha Amirthalingam and Ms. Lisa Hsieh. The genesis of this correspondence was my persistent and exigent effort to obtain a copy of a digital recording of a pre-enquête hearing, for which a perfected Request Form Undertaking had been submitted and the prescribed fee duly tendered.
209. The emails meticulously document the SCJ RMO’s initial refusal to provide the recording, based on the specious contention that “no audio recordings were made.”
210. I verily believe that my subsequent communications, drafted with a high degree of legal precision, rely upon and cite various sections of the Courts of Justice Act, O. Reg. 293/92, and other cognate legal principles to incontrovertibly assert that a recording, having been created via telecommunication, must exist and is subject to the court’s administrative custody and control. I submit that the SCJ’s position is an administrative fiat that ignores the modern reality of judicial proceedings conducted remotely. The correspondence also contains representations from the South Toronto Crown that communications with Crown counsel are not to be direct.

EXHIBIT “B”: PAGES 51 TO 63

211. This Exhibit comprises a critical electronic mail chain dated August 27, 2025, directed with equal gravity to the SCJ Criminal Intake and the Divisional Court.
212. This correspondence serves as a comprehensive, restated, and meticulously particularized request for court documents, files, and records, predicated upon newly acquired intelligence from the Toronto Police Service (TPS). It elucidates my unequivocal entitlement to access these records in my capacity as the accused/litigant, a position that is jurisprudentially distinct from that of a mere member of the public. I buttressed my position by relying upon the foundational principles of the “open court” doctrine and the MAG CSD Document Access Guide, arguing that the ongoing procedural lacuna, created by administrative recalcitrance, is a material impediment to the proper administration of justice.

213. The correspondence meticulously delineated the new intelligence that a TPS occurrence number, previously unknown, now serves as a definitive temporal anchor for my inquiries.
214. I emphasize that I have provided this evidence to highlight my due diligence in seeking to obtain the name of this mystery judge involving in the issuing of a “warrant in the first”.

EXHIBIT “C”: PAGES 64 TO 67

215. This Exhibit contains an electronic mail communication dated August 31, 2025, dispatched to the Toronto Police Service (“TPS”) and its Chief Legal Officer.

EXHIBIT “D”: PAGES 68 TO 79

216. This Exhibit is an electronic mail thread from July to August 2025, concerning a request for records under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). It was directed to Ms. Havovi Viccajee of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) and the FIPPA division. The correspondence presents, in my view, intricate legal arguments for the Ministry’s custodial responsibilities over certain administrative records, citing the Ontario Court of Appeal’s seminal decision in Criminal Review Board v. Hale, 1999 O.J. No. 2228 (ONCA).
217. I assert with unassailable conviction that the Ministry (AG), as the employer of court staff, bears a legal and statutory duty to produce records relating to judicial assignments, administrative communications, and the “laying” of informations, even if such records originated from a telecommunication that did not produce a writing in the first instance. I rely on the principle that an institution cannot abdicate its statutory duties by delegating them to an independent contractor.
218. Furthermore, I distinguish between adjudicative records, which may be subject to judicial or adjudicative privilege, and administrative records, which document the ministerial actions of court staff and are therefore within the Ministry’s purview.

219. Since that time I had filed a motion with the OIPC to obtain an order without further hearing from the MAG as it was non-responsive to its control and custody of a non-fictitious and actual criminal proceeding commencement document by way of reference to a Form 4 under the Criminal Code.
220. My ACT or ATO company ordered a copy of the Form 4 Indictment from the SCJ Criminal Intake and it was represented to it that it would take six to ten weeks. I confirmed that said delay was unlawful as I had requested the same and as a party to the proceeding I was and am entitled to the same upon request (see: section 7 of the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide).

EXHIBIT “E”: PAGES 80 TO 94

221. This Exhibit comprises an electronic mail thread from August 2025, meticulously addressed to the SCJ RMO. The emails serve to unequivocally refute the SCJ RMO’s assertion that it is “unable” to process a transcript order without the provision of specific dates. I contend that the provision of a “definitive frame of reference,” which I have supplied, is legally and procedurally sufficient. The correspondence relies on the Ontario Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual and the Courts of Justice Act to assert the RMO’s mandatory obligation to undertake a search for and provide the audio recordings. The Exhibit includes a copy of a Transcript Order Form, which was amended to incorporate a comprehensive date range, demonstrating a good-faith effort to facilitate the request (please see: Exhibit “E”, page 90).
222. I note that while the SCJ RMO, which manages four distinct courthouses with respect to providing tapes and transcription materials in the downtown Toronto area of the Toronto Region, claimed, which I do not agree with the basis of its claim or position, that it required exact dates to process the Transcript Order Form, it did not deny the name of the SCJ (who is also a judge of the Divisional Court pursuant to section 18 of the CJA).
223. I have proceeded on that bases and rely on that representation by the SCJ RMO.
224. The correspondence also highlights the legal and procedural paradox created by the RMO: on the one hand, it possesses the institutional knowledge and technological means to conduct a search for the dates; on the other hand, it demands that I, the litigant in that context, provide the very information that is exclusively within its control. This demand, I argue, is not merely inefficient but constitutes a procedural obstruction of justice.

EXHIBIT “F”: PAGES 95 TO 129

225. This Exhibit contains an email from CSMD Diversion (MAG) dated August 26, 2025, and my ensuing formal and detailed response. The CSMD email, alarmingly, alleges that I have engaged in inappropriate communications with the Chief Justice, which were then forwarded to the Justice Sector Security Office (“JSSO”).
226. My comprehensive response refutes this allegation with great particularity, asserting that my communications were predicated on lawful authority and were in strict conformity with Rule 8 of the Criminal Proceedings Rules.
227. I argue that the JSSO, and by extension the CSMD Diversion program, possesses no jurisdiction over a matter involving the Superior Court of Justice’s supervisory authority concerning court records, court information et al.
228. The Exhibit contains an extensive legal and factual rebuttal of the harassment claim, citing multiple legal principles to establish the lawfulness of my conduct.
229. I further submit that the CSMD Diversion Program is for individuals with a serious mental illness who have been charged with a minor offense and have voluntarily agreed to participate, and that this program has no relevance to me whatsoever (please see: Exhibit “F”, page 96).
230. I submit that the forwarding of my communications to this program is an administrative malfeasance and a profound mischaracterization of the legal and factual issues.

EXHIBIT “G”: PAGES 130 TO 150

231. This Exhibit contains, inter alia, is a Transcript Order Form of an Ontario Court Proceeding, dated March 20, 2025, that I completed to request a transcript of a pre-enquête hearing. The form contains an extensive and intricate narrative in the “Additional Details” section. This narrative meticulously outlines my deductions and legal reasoning for believing that the hearing was presided over by Madam Justice

Shore and that a “False Information Package” was used by the Toronto Police Service (TPS). The form also details numerous and manifest deficiencies in the allegedly false document, including the absence of a proper judicial signature, manipulated fonts, and an erroneous page numbering scheme, all of which lend support to the contention that the document is spurious. I submit that the document’s flaws are not mere clerical errors but are indicative of a deliberate attempt to obfuscate the procedural origins of the criminal proceeding and/or the origins of certain types of undisclosed warrants under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code.

EXHIBIT “H”: PAGES 136 TO 150

232. This Exhibit contains, inter alia, a formal letter, sent via facsimile and mail to the Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice, Mr. Geoffrey B. Morawetz, and the Regional Senior Justice, Mr. Stephen E. Firestone. The letter, dated August 23, 2025, respectfully requests judicial intervention to resolve two persistent procedural impasses with the SCJ RMO. It re-states the issues of the SCJ RMO’s refusal to provide audio recordings and its failure to provide a definitive timeline for pickup. The letter cites the Courts of Justice Act, particularly section 76(1), and the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide to establish the judiciary’s supervisory authority over court staff and records, arguing that administrative inaction is not merely an inconvenience but a material impediment to my lawful access to justice.
233. The letter serves as an explicit and documented appeal to the highest judicial authority within the Superior Court of Justice to rectify the administrative dereliction. The gravity of the situation is underscored by the fact that I am a litigant who is being denied access to the very record upon which his prosecution is based, a situation that is anathema to the principles of a fair and open court.

EXHIBIT “I”: PAGES 159 TO 193

234. This Exhibit “I” contains, inter alia, the following documents. This is a Transcript Order Form with extensive and detailed content, including a Schedule “A” which presents a granular, 41-point analysis of the purported “False Information Package.”

235. The form itself is dated August 8, 2025, and requests a transcript for a pre-enquête hearing. It delineates a date range for the proceedings and posits a specific name for the presiding official.
236. The appended Schedule “A” meticulously enumerates a panoply of internal and external errors, inconsistencies, and corroborative evidence within the document, concluding that the document was fabricated or maliciously manipulated by the Toronto Police Service Board (herein “TPS”).
237. The detail provided in this Exhibit is, in my view and belief, a powerful testament to the fundamental illegitimacy of the documents upon which the criminal proceedings are founded. I submit that the court, by accepting and acting upon these documents, has tacitly endorsed a process that is procedurally and jurisprudentially flawed.

EXHIBIT “J”: PAGES 194 TO 204

238. This Exhibit is an electronic mail thread from August 2025, addressed to Zoom’s Privacy Team, concerning a formal access request under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA). The correspondence seeks all personal information held by Zoom related to a criminal pre-enquête hearing that was conducted via their technological platform. The emails reference the Ontario Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual and explain the technical process by which the court is obligated to obtain the recording from Zoom.
239. This Exhibit confirms that Zoom is not the custodian of the records, but rather the service provider, and that the Superior Court of Justice, as the “account owner” and host of the event, is the initial public institution (albeit not under FIPPA) to fulfill the request.
240. I verily believe that this is particularly salient given the SCJ’s prior claim that no recording existed; my request to Zoom serves as a procedural mechanism to demonstrate the existence of the very records that the court has disclaimed.

EXHIBIT “K”: PAGES 205 TO 212

241. This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from July 2025 to Versaterm (eJust Systems, Inc.), a third-party technology provider that holds a contract with the Ontario government for the Criminal E-

Intake Platform. I repeat and rely upon my previous evidence as per the distinctions between the OCJ (ICON System with Criminal E-Intake Platform) and the SCJ (FRANK System with a paper and electronic hybrid system).

242. My correspondence with them is a formal access request under PIPEDA for my personal information. I requested all records related to the submission or filing of a “Form 2 Information” and other materials on or after September 23, 2024. I believe that this Exhibit demonstrates my methodical efforts to obtain records from all potential third-party technology providers, thereby leaving no stone unturned in my exhaustive quest for the truth.

EXHIBIT “L”: PAGES 213 TO 218

243. This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from July 2025, addressed to the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) at the 10 Armoury Street courthouse and other parties, including the South Toronto Crown. The emails serve as a formal notification and confirmation of a stay of proceedings, asserting that service of my Notice of Application on July 11, 2025, effected a stay ipso facto pursuant to Criminal Proceedings Rules, Rule 43.03(5).
244. I informed the OCJ that the basis for its jurisdiction is flawed and that a definitive resolution will be sought at the Superior Court level, thereby underscoring the legal and procedural primacy of the Superior Court of Justice in this matter.
245. This communication served as a formal notice to all parties of the procedural suspension, an essential step, in my view, in maintaining the integrity of the legal process.

EXHIBIT “M”: PAGES 219 TO 231

246. This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from August 2025, addressed to the Divisional Court, in which I formally requested the production of files and documents under the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide . I argued with detailed legal reasoning, in my view, that a Superior Court Justice or “Judge” (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules, Rule 1.03 for definition), even when designated to a Divisional Court rotation, retains jurisdiction over criminal matters. I also note that an SCJ Judge who receives a sworn or declared affidavit along with an application for a “general warrant” and/or a sworn Form 1 in support of certain type(s) of warrants under section 487.1, whether in person or by telecommunication, is required to hear and consider the same but not necessarily grant the same.

247. The correspondence cites a detailed analysis of the Criminal Code, particularly section 487.1, and its implications for telecommunication-based warrants. I also seek to definitively confirm the jurisdictional locus of control over records, particularly in the absence of a designated physical courtroom, thereby highlighting the ambiguity that has pervaded the entire proceeding.

EXHIBIT “N”: PAGES 232 TO 284

248. This Exhibit is an extensive electronic mail thread from June and July 2025, directed to the Office of the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice (“OCJ”), the Regional Senior Justices, and other representatives. The emails detail my urgent requests for court records, including a “Form 2 Information” and a post-docket list from September 23, 2024.
249. I express my profound concern regarding the purported “Intake Court Endorsement [Sic]” document and its myriad inconsistencies, arguing with a high degree of certainty that the OCJ Brampton and OCJ 10 Armoury courthouses do not possess the records in question and are required to provide a definitive denial.
250. Notably, in my telephone conversations with the SCJ 361 University Courthouse, it represented to me that it had told me, when it had not, that I should check OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse. I did so in any event and it did not have any documents filed with it including tapes or materials required for transcription prior to October 3, 2024.

EXHIBIT “O”: PAGES 285 TO 312

251. This Exhibit contains an email thread from July 2025, addressed to the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse and others. The correspondence provides a high-level forensic and metadata analysis of the “False Document Package,” concluding that it was likely fabricated or maliciously manipulated using GrapeCity software. I argue that the document's inherent technical flaws and legal inconsistencies render it spurious. The email also contains a detailed deconstruction of a CCO form (C-2-000-1-C_ and various screenshots of font discrepancies, asserting that the document's integrity has been profoundly compromised.

EXHIBIT “P”: PAGES 313 TO 358

252. This Exhibit contains reference to a copy of the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits, Revised April 2019 (the “MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide” or “MAG CSD Guide”). The document, cited with a high degree of frequency in my electronic mail correspondence, is provided in its entirety for the court's reference. It establishes the legal framework for public access to court files, documents, and records, detailing the specific procedures for accessing criminal, civil, and family court documents, including those from pre-enquête and in camera proceedings. The guide is a cornerstone of my legal position, as it sets forth the very rules that administrative staff have violated and are, by their non-compliance, violating.

EXHIBIT “Q”: PAGES 359 TO 393

253. This Exhibit contains, inter alia, an electronic mail thread from June and July 2025, addressed to the OCJ, including the Chief Justice and Regional Senior Justices.
254. The correspondence reiterates my urgent and outstanding requests for court records, particularly the “Form 2 Information” and a copy of the alleged arrest warrant.
255. It relies on the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide and the open court principle to assert my entitlement to these records without fee as an accused person – however misguided that criminal charge may or may not be.
256. This Exhibit further documents my methodical and persistent attempts to obtain these records from both the OCJ and SCJ, and my growing frustration with the lack of timely and substantive responses.

257. While I have referenced an emotion of “frustration”, I may provide further evidence and submissions relating to the relief I have sought including quantum and costs for being put to the various expenses.

EXHIBIT “R”: PAGES 394 TO 400

258. This Exhibit is an electronic mail thread from June 2025, addressed to the Ministry of the Attorney General, CSD Records Division, and key contacts, including Ms. Katie Wood, the Assistant Deputy Attorney General. The correspondence requests assistance in identifying the originating courthouse for the issuance of an arrest warrant and access to related records. It relies on specific provisions of the Criminal Code concerning telecommunications and the distinction between a “making” and “laying” of an information. The email also cites the MAG CSD Guide and other regulations to reinforce my entitlement as an accused to records without fee. This communication highlights the bureaucratic labyrinth I have been compelled to navigate.

EXHIBIT “S”: PAGES 401 TO 434

259. This Exhibit contains an electronic mail thread from June 2025, directed to Superintendents of the TPS 14th and 52nd Divisions and various police officers. The emails constitute a formal written demand for a copy of the arrest warrant, as required by the Criminal Code, section 29. The correspondence details the chronology of my arrest and release, highlights a clerical error in the “Intake Court Endorsement,” and requests confirmation of the originating courthouse and the name of the justice who approved the warrant.
260. The email emphasizes my statutory right as an arrested person to receive a copy of the warrant upon request and my reliance on the principle that the law is not to be a secret. I submit that the TPS’s failure to produce the warrant, as is statutorily required, is a breach of a mandatory duty and gives rise to a clear inference that the TPS refused to provide it as it would have demonstrated a conflict of interest involving the authorizing judicial official.

Exhibit “T”: pages 435 to 444

261. This Exhibit contains an email thread from May and June 2025, addressed to the SCJ CSD Records division. The correspondence reiterates my request for administrative records related to a criminal proceeding, including the identity of the justice who issued a warrant on or around September 23, 2024. The emails challenge the administrative structure and record-keeping protocols of the Ministry, referencing a prior email from “SCJ Correspondence (JUD)” and arguing that the Ministry is responsible for maintaining a record of judicial activities. I submit that this communication demonstrates the jurisdictional and administrative confusion surrounding the entire matter, and that a clear judicial directive is required to resolve this systemic issue.

EXHIBIT “U”: PAGES 445 TO 457

262. This Exhibit contains, inter alia, electronic mail threads from April and May 2025, addressed to Court Officer Christyn Frugoni-Rojas and Detective Constable Rizwan Mohamed. The correspondence includes my direct inquiry to Ms. Frugoni-Rojas regarding her involvement in the alleged theft of my property and her role as the informant along with interactions with certain SCJ, ONCA et al judges. It subsequently documents a response from Detective Mohamed, who, in a professional and cordial tone, advises me that Ms. Frugoni-Rojas’s role was purely administrative. I then, in turn, provide a detailed rebuttal to his assertions, arguing that an informant’s evidence is a core component of the judicial process. I submit that Ms. Frugoni-Rojas’s declaration, as the declared basis for the criminal charge, makes her an indispensable witness to the proceeding, and any claim to the contrary is a mischaracterization of her role.
263. However, I note the distinction between her Form 2 Criminal Code Information and the representations made by Mr. Sinnadurai of the MAG civil law division (i.e. nothing filed by Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas in the OCJ).

EXHIBIT “V”: PAGES 458 TO 553

264. This Exhibit contains, inter alia, an extensive electronic mail thread from October 2024 to May 2025, addressed to the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (“CAMH”) Privacy Division along with documents related to the “ruse” and “trickery” in my view that were performed, de facto, by the TPL, CAMH and the thieves of my property (Mr. David Karat) and subsequent impersonators of myself.

265. The emails document a formal request under FIPPA for video footage of my backpack being stolen from the CAMH premises on October 25, 2024.
266. The correspondence details my legal arguments for why CAMH should provide the unredacted footage, citing relevant jurisprudence from the Supreme Court of Canada and other courts on the reasonable expectation of privacy (“REOP”) and my right to access records to protect my health and safety.
267. In my view, CAMH failed me and its requirements under FIPPA.
268. The CAMH’s position is that it must redact the image of the individual to protect their privacy, a position I vociferously contest. I submit that the individual who stole my property, and subsequently engaged in fraudulent activity with my identification, has no reasonable expectation of privacy in the circumstances. My requests to CAMH, which were ultimately denied on administrative grounds, underscore the profound and ongoing harm to my health and security, which is directly linked to the subject matter of the criminal proceedings.

EXHIBIT “W”

269. Now shown to me are a variety of documents obtained post March 2025.
270. I provide background regarding the same as follows.
271. I have obtained access to many of the underlying instruments on title, whether deleted or active, for the following residential properties in Oshawa:
- a. 625 Grandview Street South, Oshawa, ON, L1H 7T5 (the “Grandview Street Home”); and
 - b. 591 Fleetwood Drive, Oshawa, ON L1K 2V7 (the “Fleetwood Drive Home”).
272. I am still investigating and researching these matters.
273. Now shown to me at Exhibit “W”, with consecutively numbered pages, are copies of documents from OnLand, dated various dates including today, involving the title search, inclusive of deleted and active instruments, of the Fleetwood Drive Home.

274. Now shown to me at Exhibit “W”, with consecutively numbered pages, are copies of documents from OnLand, dated various dates including today, involving the title search, inclusive of deleted and active instruments, of the Grandview Street Home.
275. Now shown to me at Exhibit “W”, are copies of the following documents:
- a. a saved PDF from the LSO Directory (online) of the legal name, without any assumed names, for paralegal licensee (P10606) Ms. Julia Marie DUNK, with an address of employment of Himelfarb Proszanski LLP at Suite 1401-480 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario M5G 1G2 (email address of jDUNK@himprolaw.com) (see: pages 28 and 29); and
 - b. a saved PDF from the LSO Directory (online) of the legal name of Ms. Romena Tina Pinto, assumed name of Romena Pinto, who is a lawyer licensee with LSO number 64367P (real estate insured) with an address of employment of Himelfarb Proszanski LLP at Suite 1401-480 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario M5G 1G2.

EXHIBIT “X”

276. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “X” are:
- a. copy of emails involving myself the Divisional Court;
 - b. Copies of emails involving myself and the Respondents;
 - c. Copies of emails involving myself and Thomson Reuters (Case Center access and set up) and Ms. Lawrence, a court staff individual of the Divisional Court; and
 - d. Other copies of various emails referenced above and in my Notice of Motion.

EXHIBIT “Y”:

277. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit “Y” is a copy of various documents further evidencing the fraud committed upon me and as I verily believe the fraud committed on the court or the tainting of the legal process and proceeding herein. I continue to demand the return of my property and to the extent that it is not returned to me within 24 hours, I will provide further evidence to assist this Honourable Court regarding the return of the same.

EXHIBIT “Z”

278. Now shown to me is a copy of my submitted Request Form Undertaking, without digital signature, for digital recordings involving the two case conferences.
279. I will be attending to the payment of the prescribed fee tomorrow.

PART III: CONCLUSION AND DECLARATION

280. In summation, the totality of these documented acts reveals a pattern of conduct that is shocking to the conscience and antithetical to the principles of justice.
281. I believe that there was not merely one fraud by one person but multiple frauds by the respondents including the MAG wherein it wore various different hats including the following:
- a. The MAG as counsel herein;
 - b. The MAG involving the court staff at the Divisional Court;
 - c. The MAG involving the court staff as Central West Region OCJ Brampton;
 - d. The MAG involving the court staff at the Toronto Region OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse ;
 - e. The MAG involving the court staff at the Toronto Region SCJ courthouses;
 - f. The MAG involving their privacy and access division; and
 - g. Others.
282. I verily believe that that each and every independent act of misconduct, as alleged, was not zealous advocacy or procedural hardball. It is a case of systematic, unlawful, and criminal interference with the judicial process. I verily believe that the misconduct commenced with institutional impropriety at the Tribunal, where the lines between advocate and arbiter were blurred and statutory duties were ignored. I verily believe It progressed to a situation giving rise to a reasonable apprehension of judicial bias, threatening the very impartiality of this Honourable Court’s oversight function.

283. I verily believe that a conflict of interest (actual or apprehended) involving a judge based upon any legal grounds (including a prior judicial involvement with a litigant who is subsequently within the purview of that judge) may also constitute the necessary material fraud to set aside an order if the conflict of interest (actual or apprehended) is discovered post-facto a step, requirement, direction, or order.
284. I believe and allege that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore was involved, indirectly or directly, in the approval of a process or arrest warrant or other types of warrants involving myself prior to my commencement of the JRPA Proceeding and certainly prior to January 7, 2025.
285. I challenge the Respondents to prove me otherwise.
286. I believe that all of the Respondents knew of the above facts to varying degrees and I welcome their evidence in this regard.
287. It then escalated into a campaign of criminal harassment, including theft of my legal materials and a sophisticated identity fraud scheme, all timed to sabotage my litigation efforts and quest for justice.
288. I verily believe that it has culminated and continues in in a fraudulent attempt to render any potential judgment a nullity by unlawfully conveying and concealing assets through deceitful means. I verily believe that these are not separate and distinct issues. They are interconnected elements of a single, overarching conspiracy, using fraudulent means, to subvert the legal process and deny me access to justice.
289. I verily believe that the common thread uniting all of these actions is a profound contempt for the rule of law and a belief that legal and ethical norms can be disregarded with impunity.
290. I verily believe that the evidence demonstrates a willingness on the part of certain individuals associated with the TDI Group to engage in any conduct, no matter how egregious or illegal, to achieve their desired outcome.
291. At all times, I verily believe that TDI Group was under a high degree control of the LAT and perhaps under the LAT, through the Executive Chair in Mr. Weir of “Tribunals Ontario” which is not an “adjudicative tribunal”, was under a high degree of control of the executive branch (municipal and provincial) of the Ontario government and perhaps even the federal government to some degree.

292. This conduct has created an imbalance of power that is impossible to overcome without the Court's intervention. As a self-represented litigant, I am not merely facing a well-resourced opponent; I am facing an opponent who has demonstrated a willingness to operate outside the law.
293. The integrity of this judicial proceeding has been irremediably compromised by these actions.
294. The stream of justice has been poisoned from its source at the administrative tribunal, and the poison has continued to spread throughout the course of this judicial review.
295. It is a foundational principle that a party cannot be permitted to profit from its own wrongdoing, particularly when that wrongdoing consists of a direct assault on the administration of justice.
296. I therefore submit that the evidence contained in my 33 prior affidavits, and consolidated herein, establishes a clear and overwhelming case of abuse of process.
297. This conduct, in its totality, impugns the very integrity of this judicial proceeding and reveals a shocking contempt for the legal and ethical norms that govern civilized disputes.
298. I have brought these matters to the Court's attention not to cast aspersions, but because I believe the evidence reveals a pattern of conduct so severe that it strikes at the heart of the judicial system's ability to dispense justice fairly.
299. The evidence of theft is photographic. The evidence of impersonation is documentary. The evidence of fraudulent conveyance is a matter of public record. I verily believe that the evidence of conflict of interest is manifest.
300. I challenge each and every respondent inclusive of the MAG in its all of its different capacities to prove me wrong regarding the above with declared or sworn evidence.
301. I continue to rely on established legal principles and precedents regarding fraud. In light of the extensive investigations and analyses I have undertaken to complete the record of this proceeding concerning 'fraud,' I draw attention to the principle articulated by Lord Buckmaster in Hip Foong Hong v. H. Neotia & Co., [1918] A.C. 888 at p. 894:

“...A judgment that is tainted and affected by fraudulent conduct is tainted throughout, and the whole must fail;”

302. I note in my factum that fraud may be proven based on circumstantial evidence or inferential evidence for purposes of the materiality requirement.
303. I intend to prove that the conduct in question involves fraud, bribery, extortion, and bad faith, which, as stated by Lord Denning in Lazarus Estates v. Beasley (as quoted by the Supreme Court of Canada in Landreville), “Fraud, dishonesty, bad faith, extortion and bribery form a special category of causes of nullity, which transcends all others. Fraud unravels everything. The Court is careful not to find fraud unless it is distinctly pleaded and proved; but once it is proved, it vitiates judgments, contracts and all transactions whatsoever...”.
304. I will also rely on the further principle from Lazarus Estates Limited v Beasley, [1956] 1 Q.V. 702 at page 712, per Denning, J.: “No court in this land will allow a person to keep an advantage which he has obtained by fraud. No judgment of a court, no order of a Minister, can be allowed to stand if it has been obtained by fraud. Fraud unravels everything.”
305. Furthermore, to ensure an independent judiciary, including the appearance of independence, adjudicates the relief I have sought and will be seeking, I rely on the following authorities, which reaffirm the enduring principle that ‘Fraud unravels everything,’ as stated by Lord Justice Denning in Lazarus Estates Ltd. v. Beasley, [1956] 1 Q.B. 702, at p.712. This equitable principle remains foundational not only in the UK, as emphasized in Takhar v. Gracefield Developments Ltd. & Ors, [2019] UKSC 13, but also in Canada. Canadian courts have consistently upheld this maxim as a ‘well-established equitable rule’ (Zelezniak v. Senkiw (1983), [1983] 2 D.L.R. (4TH) 321 (Man.C.A.)) and a ‘firm immutable principle’ (R. v. Skanes (1988), [1988] 220 A.P.R. 248 (Nfld.C.A.), at paragraph 23). This principle has been recognized by this Court in various decisions, including but not limited to: 885676 Ontario Ltd. (Trustee of) v. Frasmet Holdings Ltd., [1993] O.J. No. 113 (S.C.J.), at paragraph 37; Fiorello v. Krispy Kreme Doughnuts Inc., [2009] O.J. No. 2430 (S.C.J.), at paragraph 108; Caja Paraguaya De Jubilaciones Y Pensiones Del Personal De Itaipu Binacional v. Garcia, 2018 ONSC 5379, at paragraph 434; and Justice for Children and Youth v. Clegg, 2021 ONSC 8515, at paragraph 85.
306. The term ‘tainted,’ as used in the legal principles cited, refers to something that is:

- a. corrupted morally or ethically;
- b. damaged or spoiled by alteration from a correct or original state or form;

(see: M-W Online Dictionary).

- 307. I declare this evidence for no improper and in support of the relief sought in my NOM #3.
- 308. I make this statutory declaration in accordance with the Evidence Act (Ontario) and electronically sign the same in accordance with the Electronic Commerce Act (Ontario).

Subject: Confirmation required – copy of CD for the digital recording requested with undertaking and payment of prescribed fee from August 15, 2025

This correspondence is respectfully predicated upon all prior communications and is sent on grounds of lawful authority. The purpose of this transmission is to formally inquire as to the status of, and respectfully request the immediate and expeditious provision of, the compact disc copy of the digital recording. The prescribed fee for this item was previously remitted in full, and the duly completed and executed Request Form and Undertaking was submitted on August 15, 2025.

Due to the exigency of the matter, and for the specific purposes elucidated in the aforementioned Request Form and Undertaking, the provision of this media by today's date is of paramount importance. The timely fulfillment of this administrative obligation is integral to the advancement of its intended use and the subsequent progression of the matter for which it was required. Failure to furnish this item in a timely fashion will inevitably lead to considerable inconvenience and impede the objectives outlined in our original request. Your prompt attention to this matter is therefore most graciously anticipated and appreciated, with the shared objective of achieving a swift and complete resolution.

I have a bonded courier available to pick up only the copy of the CD. Alternatively, if I or an agent can attend, that is amenable as well.

Kindly respond positively or negatively.

Thank you kindly.

Subject: Pertaining to the Scheduled Retrieval of Duly Requisitioned Digital Evidence

August 27, 2025

To the Esteemed Office of the Superior Court of Justice (RMO) and all others whom it may concern by way of RMC's:

Preamble and Foundational Principles

This communication is tendered on the grounds of lawful authority and is predicated upon a desire to ensure the most efficacious and judicious utilization of both public resources and professional time. By way of this instrument, all antecedent correspondence, documentation, and the entirety of the factual and legal premises contained therein are hereby reaffirmed, reiterated, and relied upon, the substance of which may be further elucidated in subsequent external or internal communications. Furthermore, it is a self-evident conclusion that all prior definitions, terms, and understandings established in said communications are adopted herein verbatim and with full effect, unless otherwise specified.

Request for Affirmative Confirmation

In a spirit of mutual respect and administrative efficiency, a request is hereby submitted to respectfully solicit a definitive confirmation that the denoted time of 3:30 p.m. on the aforementioned date, or a proximate time thereafter, remains acceptable for the retrieval of the singular Compact Disc containing the digital recordings. This request pertains specifically to the digital evidence for which the prescribed fee was duly remitted and the duly digitally signed Request Form Undertaking was executed and submitted precisely thirteen days prior to the date of this present missive.

It is presumed, subject to immediate and countervailing counsel, that the retrieval shall occur at Room 405. For the avoidance of any doubt or ambiguity, it is to be unequivocally stated that the authorization for the collection of this Compact Disc is exclusive and does not extend to the retrieval of any other items or documentation.

Concluding Observations and Future Collaboration

Profound appreciation is extended for the diligent attention to this matter. Timely confirmation will serve to preclude any potential administrative inefficiencies and will facilitate a seamless resolution to the present matter. The expediency of a response is not merely a courtesy, but a vital component in ensuring that due process is followed with the utmost celerity and precision.

Should you need an additional day or few hours, kindly confirm by return email at your earliest moment.

Yours truly,
Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: REQUEST FOR FORTHWITH PROVISION OF DIGITAL RECORDING TO THE UNDERSIGNED Subject II: CONFIRMATION OF PRESCRIBED FEE AND REFINED TEMPORAL AMBIT - courtesy

Subject III: REQUISITION FOR PICKUP BY AUTHORIZATION OF BONDED COURIER TO ARRIVE TOMORROW AT 3:30 p.m. ON AUGUST 27, 2025 - PLEASE HAVE DIGITAL TAPES READY FOR PICKUP BY THEN

Part 1: Salutation and Preliminary Matters

To the Esteemed Personnel of the Superior Court of Justice, Recording Management Office, and Recording Management Coordinators,

It is hereby confirmed that the prescribed fee and the Request Form Undertaking have been duly received by your office for a period of thirteen days. The purpose of this communication is not to formally amend the said Undertaking, in that the digital recording is to be provided directly to the undersigned, Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM), rather than to an authorized transcriptionist, but to provide further information of assistance on a courtesy basis, which is not, in any event, strictly necessary.

Part 2: Elucidation of Factual Circumstances and Temporal Ambit

In a concerted effort to aid in the prompt and efficacious provision of the requisite materials, new information has come to the attention of the undersigned as of this morning. It has been established that the specific Toronto Police Service Occurrence Number relevant to this matter is #2024-2028093, with Detective Constable Eric Tang in charge. The aforementioned information was previously unknown. Like the mystery warrant(s) and mystery judge, now known, Detective Constable Tang is now known as well.

This new information narrows the temporal ambit of the proceedings in question, which is already known to you. While a definitive date range was previously provided, it is now logically confined to the period subsequent to Sunday, September 15, 2024, and likely prior to September 23, 2024.

The provision of a specific occurrence number, which directly implicates a named police officer, moves this matter from a broad inquiry to a targeted request. The absence of a sworn Form 2 Information in the Ontario Court of Justice, as conceded by a representative of the Ministry of the Attorney General, lends substantial credence to the hypothesis that the application and any ensuing warrant were sought and granted in a different jurisdiction, namely the Superior Court of Justice, on an ex parte and in camera basis. Therefore, the information provided herein is not merely supplementary; it is a critical piece of the puzzle that establishes the jurisdictional nexus and temporal scope with the highest degree of specificity possible given the clandestine nature of the proceedings.

Nonetheless this is consistent with previous representations, admissions and syllogistic deductions.

Part 3: Legal and Procedural Assertions

As full compliance with the requirements of the Request Form Undertaking has been achieved, the entitlement to the prompt provision of the digital recording is asserted and undeniable. It is respectfully requested and demanded that the digital recording be provided forthwith tomorrow by the time above. A bonded courier has already been authorized for that time.

Part 4: Concluding Statement and Requisition

To avoid any confusion, the authorized bonded courier is only authorized to pickup a CD and nothing else. Kindly advise if there will be any delay tomorrow. Otherwise, it will be presumed there will not be.

Due to the urgency, in the event of some unforeseen development with the authorized bonded courier, another authorized agent may be dispatched or the undersigned may attend personally at 3:30 p.m.

Respectfully Submitted, /Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM) Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns,

In re the matter of obtaining a time and place for the pickup of the digital recording, this correspondence serves to formally confirm, as was duly promised, that I have been constrained to furnish a detailed letter with paginated, cross-referenced attachments to The Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice. This action was taken in a proactive effort to ensure that I had definitively exhausted an avenue of potential escalation.

I have duly apprised The Honourable Chief Justice that, upon my receipt of a forthcoming response specifying a time and place for the retrieval of the digital recording on a compact disc, any and all proceedings that may have been necessitated by him, in accordance with the tenets of the law, would be immediately rendered superfluous.

It is my fervent hope that the intervention of The Honourable Chief Justice is ultimately rendered moot; however, the absolute necessity of said intervention is, as a matter of course, entirely contingent upon a forthcoming, timely response to this communication.

I express my profound gratitude for your time and the due consideration you extend to this correspondence.

Yours faithfully,

Attention: Recipients Herein

Subject: Urgent Demand and Final Courtesy Notice of Escalation Concerning Access to Digital Recording of Ex Parte Pre-Enquête Hearings

Subject No. 2: Failure to Provide a Confirmed Date of Delivery and Escalation Pursuant to Section 76 of the Courts of Justice Act

This correspondence is dispatched on this twenty-second day of August, anno Domini two thousand twenty-five, and the matter herein discussed continues to be one of absolute exigency. It has been a full week since the tender of the prescribed fee and the submission of the duly signed Request Form Undertaking for the digital recording of the ex parte pre-enquête hearings on the dates known to your office.

A reiteration of and full reliance upon the aforementioned facts is hereby asserted. It is currently seven-forty hours a.m. on this date. Should a substantive communication from your office not be received shortly subsequent to the commencement of business hours at the Superior Court of Justice, a measure of last resort will be undertaken, consisting of the drafting and transmission of the relevant correspondence to the attention of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice. Such a measure is undertaken with profound reluctance, as the sole objective remains the obtaining of a confirmed date, time, and location for the retrieval of the digital recording, whether by the undersigned or by a bonded courier.

The protracted silence and absence of communication from your office are unequivocally unacceptable, particularly in light of the appreciated logistical exigencies involved in transcribing the Zoom telecommunications into a tangible digital recording. This process is predicated upon the fundamental principle that a Form 2 Information predicated upon a telecommunication must, a fortiori, culminate in a writing. Such a requirement completely abrogates any specious contention that an ex parte, in camera hearing is not susceptible to the creation of a written record or could have been heard in the office of a judge because that is not "telecommunication" but rather "in person". It is with this understanding that the finalization of the draft correspondence to the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice has commenced. This course of action is predicated upon the statutory authority vested in the Chief Justice by section 76 of the Courts of Justice Act, and other cognate provisions, which compel the Chief Justice to provide direction to court personnel regarding matters assigned to the judiciary. The control and custody of judicial recordings and tapes indisputably constitute such an assigned matter.

The failure to provide a confirmed date of delivery and location for the requested materials constitutes a material dereliction of the public institution's duty of good faith to its residents and citizens. Furthermore, the denial of access to said recordings, following the issuance of a process and arrest, gives rise to a compelling inference of an infringement upon Charter rights, the open court principle, and the principles of procedural fairness. A self-evident conclusion follows that the absence of a confirmed timeline necessitates escalation.

I respect the requirements of your work schedule and I am solely seeking a time, location and mode of pickup for the CD of which I am entitled. As you know, out of respect for your resources, I procured a bank draft to ensure that there were no delays and it represented immediate cash in the hands of the recipient without any risk of delays.

Thank you for your prompt attention and due consideration of this correspondence.

Yours truly,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Re: Request Form Undertaking Duly Delivered August 14, 2025; Remittance of Prescribed Fee on August 15, 2025; Requisition for Elucidation of Timeline and Procedure for Provision of Authorized Audio Recording

To the Esteemed Records Management Office,

Volume I: Procedural and Substantive Status of Request

1. I trust this missive finds you in good order. I pen this correspondence, with the utmost deference and in the most elevated degree of formality, to follow up on the procedural and substantive status of my Request Form Undertaking, which was duly delivered to your esteemed office on Thursday, August 14, 2025, and for which the prescribed statutory fee was remitted on Friday, August 15, 2025.

2. At the outset, I must respectfully confirm that as of the date of this letter, I remain in a state of anticipated receipt of an official update from your office. This letter is to specify with precision both the temporal framework and the detailed modus operandi by which I may obtain a copy of the requisite audio recording, rendered in a compact disc format. I have previously conveyed my willingness to retrieve the compact disc either through an authorized bonded courier of my designation or, contingent upon feasibility, to have the file securely uploaded to my W Delivery Slip account, in strict conformity with my prior undertakings. I reiterate that the timeline and terms, as memorialized within the Request Form Undertaking, are pellucid, unequivocal, and legally binding.
3. Please be advised that this correspondence has been meticulously drafted in the most formal and comprehensive manner, and may be expressly relied upon for escalation to the Honourable Attorney General and the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice. I confirm that, at the present juncture, my inclination is to pursue escalation through the Chief Justice; however, I reserve all rights to pursue any and all available avenues without limitation. The comprehensive nature of this missive is such that it encapsulates my position in its entirety, and I expressly incorporate by reference all previous written and oral communications provided to your office on this matter. The unassailable corollary is that the court is bound to fulfill its obligations under the undertaking.
4. I wish to avoid a conflation of distinct legal issues, but my stated purpose of “preparation in connection with the legal proceedings with respect to this case” while nonetheless reaffirming my absolute, unfettered entitlement, as a litigant, to obtain a copy of the transcript and/or audio recording as retained by the telecommunications service provider to the SCJ. I note, with heightened concern, a recent procedural irregularity wherein a reference was made to my alleged provision of multiple dates or a date range in respect of my requisition. This ambiguity, whether perceived or otherwise, has resulted in an increased exigency to secure the audio recordings in question, so that I may listen to and utilize them in strict conformity with my undertaking as delineated in the Request Form Undertaking.

Volume II: Affirmation and Reaffirmation (in perpetuity) of Undertaking and Legal Obligations

5. To be abundantly clear, I acknowledge and concur that any digital recording to be provided pursuant to my requisition will be subject to the following express stipulations and conditions:
 - a. I have perused and comprehended section 136 of the Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, and am fully cognizant that any contravention of this section constitutes an offense punishable, upon conviction, by a pecuniary fine not exceeding $25,000, incarceration for a term of not more than six months, or both.
 - b. I shall not publish, broadcast, reproduce, or otherwise disseminate the digital recording, nor any annotation therein, by any means whatsoever.
 - c. I will not replicate, save, upload, or download the digital recording under any circumstances.
 - d. I will not authorize, assist, or permit any other individual or entity to publish, broadcast, reproduce, or disseminate the digital recording or any annotation thereof.
 - e. I will not, directly or indirectly, provide the digital recording, or copies of the same in any format, to any third party, natural person, or corporate entity.
 - f. In the event that a witness exclusion order has been issued in the proceeding, I shall refrain from disclosing the contents of the digital recording to any prospective witness who has not yet given testimony or provided evidence.
 - g. I acknowledge and accept that any notes, transcriptions, or analogous documents that I may produce utilizing the digital recording are not to be considered official court transcripts or records. I will not purport, represent, or imply that such notes or transcriptions are court transcripts or records.
 - h. When the digital recording is not being used for the express purposes permitted by the undertaking, I will ensure it is secured in a manner that precludes access by any unauthorized individuals.

i. I will permanently destroy and render inoperable the digital recording upon the conclusion of the specific purpose for which it was provided to me.

6. I reaffirm my unwavering commitment to the aforementioned stipulations and assert my fundamental right to prepare notes exclusively for my own use, in a manner consistent with my rights as enshrined in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

Volume III: Statutory Analysis and Jurisprudence

7. It is of critical importance to note that nothing regarding my requisition for dates of the audio recording stands in conflict with section 136 of the Courts of Justice Act. For heightened clarity:
- Subsection 136(1)(a) is not applicable, as my requisition does not pertain to photography or recording within the context of an open court hearing but rather concerns an ex parte in camera proceeding.
 - Subsection 136(2)(b) clearly provides that a party acting in person may unobtrusively make an audio recording, provided it is sanctioned by the judge, for the sole purpose of supplementing or replacing handwritten notes.
 - Subsection 136(3) authorizes the court to permit and regulate the creation of audio recordings for purposes of the hearing or with consent of the parties and witnesses for approved educational or instructional purposes.
8. I respectfully direct your attention to section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act, which mandates that court administration must be conducted in a manner that maintains the independence of the judiciary, recognizes the respective roles of the Attorney General and the judiciary, encourages public access, promotes public confidence, supports the provision of high-quality services, and ensures efficient utilization of public resources. In this spirit, my continuing engagement with your office is and remains cooperative, collaborative, and guided by bona fides.
9. Further to section 76 of the Courts of Justice Act, I reiterate that in all matters assigned by law to the judiciary, court personnel—including but not limited to registrars, clerks, reporters, and interpreters—are required to act at the direction of the Chief Justice of the court. These obligations are not diminished by the absence of a physical courtroom, given the prevalence of virtual hearings and remote proceedings.
10. I am acutely cognizant that bringing such matters to the attention of the judiciary, and indeed, His Lordship the Chief Justice, is not an action undertaken lightly. However, I am compelled to do so by virtue of the binding contractual nexus that came into existence as of August 15, 2025, in relation to my duly completed undertaking and remittance of the prescribed fee. It is now self-evident by admissions made that the undertaking has been accepted and the only remaining obligation is for the court to produce the recording.
11. In support of my position, I place reliance upon the Supreme Court of Canada’s landmark decisions in Bhasin v. Hrynew, 2014 3 S.C.R. 494, and Callow v. Zollinger, 2020 3 S.C.R. 138, which unequivocally establish the organizing principle of good faith contractual performance and the specific duty of honest performance binding on all parties. These jurisprudential pronouncements underscore that parties must not lie, mislead, or otherwise act in mala fides regarding matters directly linked to contractual performance, and that silence, omissions, half-truths, and inaction may all amount to dishonesty attracting legal consequences.

Volume IV: Distinction Between a Criminal Litigant and a Member of the Public

12. The salient distinction in the process is that a criminal accused (a “litigant”) possesses a recognized entitlement to access the materials of their own case to prepare for a fair trial. A member of the public, conversely, must satisfy the “open court” principle, which may be constrained by privacy concerns or specific court directives. For an ex parte hearing, where only one party is present, these restrictions are of particular import to consider.

Process for a Criminal Accused (Litigant)

13. A criminal accused seeking digital recordings of their own proceedings, including an ex parte hearing, generally possesses a right to this material. This is because they have a profound need to be able to review the record to ensure the integrity of the process and meticulously prepare their defense.

- a. Requirement for a Court Order: A self-represented litigant will need to seek a court order authorizing access to the digital recordings. This is a crucial procedural antecedent
- b. Required Form: The litigant must complete the “Request Form/Undertaking to the Court for Access to Digital Court Recordings.” This form is a joint instrument used by both the Superior Court of Justice and the Ontario Court of Justice.
- c. Undertaking: By affixing their signature to the form, the litigant is giving an “undertaking” to the court. This signifies that they are promising to utilize the recordings solely for the purposes delineated in the form—specifically, for their own case preparation—and not for any other purpose, such as public dissemination. They must also agree not to broadcast or reproduce the recording.
- d. Submission and Fee: The completed form, along with the prescribed fee, must be submitted to the court office where the proceeding transpired.

14. The judicial officer considering the requisition will then grant the order, thereby empowering the litigant to obtain the recordings. The process is designed to ensure the litigant's right to a fair hearing while simultaneously maintaining the court's complete control over its records.

Process for a Member of the Public

15. For a member of the public, the process is far more restrictive, particularly for a criminal matter. The “open court” principle generally allows for public attendance at hearings and access to court files, but not necessarily to the actual recordings.

- a. Court Order is Mandatory: A member of the public will not be provided with access to digital recordings unless a judge of the Superior Court of Justice orders otherwise. This is a very high threshold to surpass.
- b. Application to the Court: The individual must make a formal application to the court for an order authorizing access. This is a more involved legal process than merely completing a form.
- c. Required Form and Fee: Similar to the litigant, the member of the public must also complete the “Request Form/Undertaking to the Court for Access to Digital Court Recordings” and remit the required fee. However, in contradistinction to a litigant, they cannot obtain the recordings without a judicial order first.
- d. The Why: The judge will evaluate the requisition based upon established legal principles. The applicant would need to demonstrate a compelling rationale for access that outweighs privacy concerns, especially for an ex parte hearing where the other party was not present to be heard.

Comparative Analysis: Criminal Review Board v. Hale and the SCJ Case

16. The decision in Criminal Review Board v. Hale establishes a fundamental legal principle that is directly applicable to the current situation. The core holding of the case is that a government institution retains control over a record created by an independent contractor if that record was made for the purpose of fulfilling the institution's statutory mandate. The court reasoned that control is not defined by physical custody alone, but by the purpose for which the record was created and the institution's implicit right to access it to ensure accuracy and compliance with its legal duties.

17. In Hale, the independent court reporter's “backup audio tapes” were deemed to be under the control of the Review Board because their sole purpose was to assist in creating an accurate record of proceedings, which the Board was statutorily required to maintain. The court rejected the argument that the tapes belonged to the reporter, emphasizing that the Board's statutory function required it to be able to access all records related to its proceedings.

18. The facts of this situation or case present a strong and direct analogy:

- a. The Institution: The Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) is the analogue to the Ontario Criminal Review Board. Both are government bodies with a legal obligation to maintain a record of their proceedings.
- b. The Independent Contractor: Zoom, or any other independent contractors, serves the same role as the independent court reporter in Hale. Zoom is hired to facilitate the creation of the digital recording, a service that directly contributes to the SCJ's statutory duty.
- c. The Recording: The digital file initially created and made by Zoom is the analogue to the backup audio tapes. The purpose of this recording is to create an accurate, verbatim record of the court proceeding. The fact that the SCJ must subsequently process this file (by formatting and burning it to a CD) underscores, rather than diminishes, its control. This is an administrative act to transform the record into a distributable copy, not a creation of an entirely new record.

19. The unassailable corollary is that the SCJ is in control of the Zoom audio recordings. The institution cannot abdicate its statutory duty to maintain and provide access to its records by hiring an independent contractor. The initial recording is created for the benefit and statutory compliance of the SCJ, and as such, it is the SCJ's responsibility to possess it and make copies available upon proper requisition.

Specific Legal and Factual Conclusion

20. The SCJ has control of the audio recordings made by Zoom, even though they were not made by the SCJ at first instance. This control is established by virtue of the purpose for which the recordings were created—to fulfill the SCJ's statutory obligation to maintain a record of its proceedings.

21. The process of the SCJ taking the digital file, formatting it, and burning it onto a CD is an exercise of this control (i.e. its making – with thanks regarding the usage of such language as it clarified for all involved what remained). It is an administrative and mechanical function to prepare a copy of an existing record, not a creative act that diminishes the SCJ's authority over the original digital data. The recording exists and is available to the SCJ from the moment it is created by Zoom's system.

22. This position is further supported by O. Reg. 158/03 under the Evidence Act, which governs the certification of court recordings. This regulation applies to proceedings in the Superior Court of Justice and references an “approved device” for recording sound. The regulation outlines that a recording made by such a device must be certified by the person “in charge of the approved device while the recording is being made.” This indicates that the recording, even when made by a third-party's device, is an official record that falls under the purview of the court's administrative and evidentiary control.

Definitions

23. The following definitions are important due to the lack of statutory or prescribed definitions:

- a. Digital: Pertaining to information represented by discrete binary values (0s and 1s), as opposed to a continuous signal. In this context, it refers to a non-physical data file.
- b. Digital Recording: The capture of sound or other data as a digital file. The recording exists on a server the moment the data is saved.
- c. CD: An acronym for Compact Disc, a physical optical storage medium that holds digital data. It is a tangible copy of the non-physical digital recording.
- d. Exists: To have a factual, objective presence in a particular state. A digital recording exists as a file on a server.
- e. “Available” in relation to the word “copy”: The state of being obtainable or accessible. A copy of the digital recording becomes available when the institution with control (the SCJ) has completed the administrative steps to produce it in the requested format (a CD). A “copy” is a duplicate of the original digital recording, whether in a digital or physical format.

Volume VII: Formal Requisition and Concluding Statement

24. By analogy, I reference the decision in Criminal Review Board v. Hale, 1999 O.J. No. 2228 (ONCA), which held that backup audio tapes created by independent court reporters for administrative tribunals are under the control of those tribunals and must be produced when required to fulfill statutory or contractual duties. In this regard, audio recordings of court proceedings—whether created by telecommunications providers, court reporters, or otherwise—must be deemed under the control of the Superior Court of Justice and rendered accessible to satisfy legal and contractual obligations.

25. With all the foregoing in mind, and having met every triggering requirement and obligation including the timely provision of my signed undertaking and remittance of the requisite fee, I hereby respectfully and formally requisition:

- a. Written confirmation of the date and time at which my requested audio CD will be available for retrieval at the designated location (361 University Avenue, Room 405), or
- b. Clear, written instructions and a timeline for the secure upload of the audio file to my W Delivery Slip account, or
- c. Alternatively, should courier delivery be necessitated, confirmation of the procedure for authorization and provision of the name and particulars of my selected bonded courier prior to release.

26. Please acknowledge receipt of this letter at your earliest possible opportunity, and kindly advise on the status of my requisition, the anticipated temporal framework for completion, and any and all steps required on my part to facilitate a prompt and efficient resolution.

27. I trust that this correspondence, which is articulated in the strongest and most respectful terms, will be given the highest priority. Kindly be advised that, should there be further deferral or an absence of procedural clarity, I reserve my right to escalate the matter to the Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice or to the Attorney General, as circumstances may warrant.

28. Of course on many levels I will be entitled, including but not limited to the Criminal Proceedings Rules of the SCJ, to draw this to the attention of the Chief Justice of the SCJ (while noting that bizarre and unfounded claim, notably dismissed, against The Honourable Lordship and Justice Shore – so he is obviously aware of all of his justices that he designates and assigns but I do not expect him to micromanage or be aware of all of their activities to the minutia) but presuming based upon the admissions already made, albeit without concrete dates provided to me, because Rule 8 of the Criminal Proceeding Rules state:

“Communications Out of Court

8.01

Unless otherwise directed by the Court, there shall be no direct out-of-court communication with a judge about a proceeding over which the judge is presiding.

8.02

Any indirect communication with a judge of the Court, for example, through the trial coordinator for scheduling or administrative matters, must comply with all applicable procedural rules and any orders made by the Court.

29. Oddly if that is the case, I will be back to where I was on May 9, 2025, when I received a response with thanks from the SCJ JUD email account. He will of course then be aware, if not already, of the steps I have taken in good faith and to exhaustion (by way of principle).

30. Should you need further time to confirm when the CD will be ready for pickup, kindly advise. I am amenable to reasonable time lines but communication is paramount. Without communication and "radio silence", then I must construe it as bad faith. Kindly revert back to me by the end of the business day with a timeline for pickup.

31. Thank you in advance for your prompt attention to this matter and discharge of your obligations. I remain, as always, at the Court's service.

Yours respectfully and sincerely,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Dear SCJ RMO et al:

I am penning this correspondence as a matter of professional courtesy and to formally confirm that I have been compelled to initiate a series of requests under the auspices of both the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) and the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). These requests, inter alia, have been directed to various technology platform and teleconference service providers, including Zoom. In light of their exemplary professionalism and meticulous attention to detail, and their consistent compliance with PIPEDA provisions, it has been definitively corroborated by said providers that all relevant documents and personal information of mine from the applicable time frame have been and will continue to be securely retained. Based on their extensive experience in liaising with the Superior Courts, it has been affirmed that it is standard protocol for such records, documents, and personal information to be saved in an encrypted format, and that the Superior Courts of Ontario, acting as the account owner, maintain customized and effectively infinite retention periods. Moreover, the file names of such recordings, specifically those from Zoom, are preserved in an encrypted state, accessible and decryptable solely by an authorized account owner.

It is an established principle of information access, as articulated within the provisions of PIPEDA, that should an applicant be able to procure the requisite personal information or other pertinent data from an alternative source, the recourse to official requests becomes superfluous and subject to withdrawal. My recent investigations have, ipso facto, rendered this matter self-evident. As the judicial entity and account owner, the Superior Court possesses the exclusive capacity and authority to access and decrypt the aforementioned digital file.

Consequently, I am constrained to respectfully request that you proceed with the necessary administrative and technical steps to access and retrieve the digital recording for which I have provided remuneration. I kindly implore you to furnish a precise schedule for when and by what methodology I shall receive access to this material. Your prompt attention to this matter will serve to mutually conserve the valuable time and resources of third-party service providers and all parties implicated in this legal proceeding.

Thankyou for your immediate attention to this urgent matter . I am cognizant that the requisite downloading and decryption processes may require a day's duration; however, my request, at its core, is a petition for a definitive timeline for when I may expect to receive the aforementioned document.

To the extent I do not hear from you by tomorrow, I will have to escalate as this is not acceptable at this stage. However, all is well that ends well.

From: Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Date: August 18, 2025

Type of Document: Correspondence

Related to: Aforementioned matter, sub judice

Reply Via Email: mrkevinalexandermcleanbajdcim@gmail.com

Classification: Confidential – Subject to Duty of Confidence (may be used, accessed and disclosed only for authorized purposes)

Subject Line No. 1: Acknowledgment of Fees Paid and Request for Production of Digital Recording

Subject Line No. 2: The Requisite Production of a "Recording" as Prescribed by the Superior Court of Justice and Court of Appeal - Fees, O. Reg. 293/92 and Criminal Code as a 'recording' 'exists' and a copy is available (to be obtained)

Subject Line No. 3: ancillary and administrative issues

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. This correspondence is to confirm and reiterate my formal request for the production of the digital recording of the hearing in the above-referenced matter, following my payment of the prescribed fee as mandated by the Administration of Justice Act (Ontario). This fee, a liquidated amount of twenty-three dollars ($23.00), was remitted via bank draft on Friday, August 15, 2025, and indisputably covers a minimum of one day's proceedings.
2. I acknowledge your prior email of this morning. It is imperative to underscore my reliance upon the legal requirement to produce a "writing" or a "recording" when proceedings are laid via telecommunication, as articulated in sections 506, 508.1, and 788 of the Criminal Code. The use of an alternative recording methodology, such as teleconference or videoconference (e.g., Zoom), does not abrogate the statutory and regulatory imperative for a verifiable and reproducible record. The Criminal Code's requirement for the telecommunication to "produce a writing" is a legislative flourish designed to ensure the integrity, verifiability, and subsequent review of judicial proceedings.
3. Superior Court of Justice and Court of Appeal - Fees, O. Reg. 293/92 is the relevant legal instrument governing this matter. It provides for a copy on compact disc of a "digital recording of a court hearing in respect of a case, if such a recording exists and a copy is available." This provision is not contingent upon the manner in which the recording was "made" or by whom, but rather solely upon its existence and availability. A recording's existence is a self-evident conclusion, as telecommunications platforms are inherently designed to capture and retain a record of the audio and/or visual content transmitted. The fact that a recording may not have been "made" by court support staff at the time, due to their non-attendance, is an administrative exigency and does not obviate the existence of the recording.
4. Does a recording exist even with an alternative recording method? The question answers itself.
5. Is a copy available (i.e. can it be obtained)? The question answers itself.
6. This distinction is further elucidated by the Court Transcripts Standards and Procedures Manual of the Ministry of the Attorney General, which addresses the very scenario of "recordings that do not contain a Form 1 certification." The manual explicitly states that such recordings may occur when proceedings are conducted via teleconference or Zoom and court support staff were not present with a digital recording device. In such cases, while the recording may lack the annotations typically made by an Authorized Transcriptionist (ACT), a recording nonetheless exists, and is thus "available" to be obtained by the court.
7. As per the absence of a Form 1 from the court support staff at the time of the criminal ex parte in camera hearing, then an ATO cannot engage in the Form 2 under the Evidence Act's attendant regulation, which is Certification of Recordings and Transcripts, O Reg 158/03:

2	Certificate of Transcript (Subsection 5 (2))	September 1, 2022

8. As per the MAG's Court Transcripts and Standards Manual, this issue was squarely addressed in what was previously provided but again to avoid any unnecessary wasted resources as I have paid the prescribed fees which is a liquidated amount that subsumes the same when it stated:

“5.3.2 Certification of Audio Recordings that Do Not Contain a Form 1 Certification

There may be recordings that are not accompanied by a completed Form 1. As a result, an ACT would not be able to certify the recording using the appropriate Certificate of Transcript. This may occur if the court proceeding was conducted using platforms such as teleconference or Zoom and court support staff may not have been present to take the court record using a digital recording device (DRD). As a result, the audio recording may not contain annotations.”

9. If the court staff did not take, then they did not make. Ergo, it must be made at the time of the Request Form Undertaking and/or the time that the SCJ RMO receives an transcript order from an ordering party with the information input in the relevant fields from the ACT.

10. The likes of Zoom (a non-approved recording device or authorized person) do not make those annotations but a recording still exists and must exist and that renders it available (to be obtained by the courts and within its control but perhaps not immediate custody).

11. While the recording may not have been made (i.e. not taken at the time) by the SCJ or Divisional Court, there is nonetheless a recording that exists. In order for the recording to be made onto a disc, the following is instructive which will require some steps to make the audio recording which I take as an admission that it has not been made. However, I appreciate that I did not perfect my Request Form Undertaking until Friday, August 15, 2025. Returning to the same, I provide which would be known to you in any event, information regarding the following to confirm your representation that an audio recording has not been made:

“Step 1: Obtain the Zoom Recording and Transcript

First, you need to get the files from Zoom. The process differs slightly depending on whether you used cloud or local recording.

Cloud Recording: If you have a paid Zoom account and recorded to the cloud, Zoom will automatically generate separate files, including the audio/video (MP4 or M4A) and the transcript (VTT file). You'll receive an email notification when the recording and transcript are ready. Log in to the Zoom web portal, go to the "Recordings" section, and download both the audio-only file (M4A) and the transcript (VTT).

Local Recording: If you recorded to your computer, Zoom saves the files to a local folder (usually in your Documents folder under a "Zoom" directory). The transcript function is not automatically available for local recordings, so you'll have to find a separate transcription service or software to create one from the audio file.

As you will know whether there was a cloud recording or “local recording”, I defer:

Step 2: Prepare the Files for CD

You have two main options for how to “burn” the information to a CD, depending on what you want to achieve.

Option A: Create a Standard Audio CD (Audio Only)

This is the most common and straightforward method if you only want to listen to the audio on a standard CD player (like in a car or home stereo).

Get the Audio File: Locate the M4A audio-only file from your Zoom recording which the court would have control of the same.

Convert to a Compatible Format: M4A is not always compatible with older CD players. You will need to convert the M4A file to a format like WAV or MP3.

Burn the Audio CD: Use a CD burning program (like Windows Media Player, iTunes, or a third-party application) to create an Audio CD. This process converts the WAV/MP3 files into the specific format that a CD player can read. Be aware that a standard audio CD can only hold about 80 minutes of audio.”

12. It could not be 80 minutes in length because of the time the Criminal Code Form 2 was declared and the time the “Intake Court Endorsement [Sic]” at least, by reference, concluded (see; 12:59 p.m.). Therefore, ergo, it is an axiomatic conclusion that while the court may not have "made" the recording, a "recording" exists, and it is at your disposal as the Registry Management Office (RMO) to obtain it. The prescribed fee I have paid is intended to subsume the administrative labor involved in undertaking the steps necessary to secure this recording from its original source (e.g., the Zoom platform) and subsequently burn it onto a compact disc.

13. This is not a castigation of the court's administrative posture but a practical element of the alleged urgency demonstrated by the TPS with its then back-dating and forging of records for filing in a non-originating courthouse, for compliance with the governing regulations and a recognition of the status quo ante. The recording, being the pre-eminent record of the proceeding, is indispensable for the purposes for which it is required.

14. Lastly, and on a separate but related matter, please be advised that the fees of my retained Authorized Transcriptionist (ACT) have been paid in full and in advance. While I am entitled to a certified transcript, it is not in the typical Form 2 as per the Court Transcripts Standards and Procedures Manual which is as follows:

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT the foregoing is a true and accurate transcription of the audio recording number (insert number) to the best of my skill, ability, and understanding.

Name of ACT, ACT ID #

Other Matters Where a Form 1 Doesn't Exist

(e.g., Proceedings recorded using analogue technology (i.e., cassette tapes), proceedings conducted using alternative recording methods such as teleconference and/or Zoom, and where court support staff may not have been present to take the court recording using a digital recording device (DRD)), etc.

15. The provision of this digital recording will serve a dual purpose, fulfilling both the requirements of the court's own processes and the needs of my ACT.

16. This document has been drafted using dictation software and may be amended for any administrative errors, but the substance and legal intent shall remain in toto. By reservation of author, a copy of this email may be further formalized on letterhead by reference to the date herein.

17. Time is of the essence and I trust I will not need to call upon the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice to direct court staff in a manner consistent with the law.

18. Thank you for your attention to the same and your substantive and prompt response for administration coordination of my pickup of the CD pursuant to my Request Form Undertaking or if provided to my W Delivery Slip account.

19. Time is of the essence. Please by advise today on a forthwith basis when I can expect, with some margin, to pick up the copy of the CD of the digital recording. I appreciate your time is valuable and justice is not free so I must not be required to ask again and hence why I have been comprehensive herein.

Sincerely,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Dear SCJ RMO et al:

Thankyou for your email. Further to your correspondence and subsequent to a meticulous review of the same, I write to reiterate my previous position, which remains predicated upon the terms and conditions outlined in the Request Undertaking Form. It is imperative to note that said Form, having been duly executed and digitally signed, and the requisite bankdraft having been provided on Friday, August 15, 2025, confers primacy upon my request, as it procedurally predates the receipt of your electronic mail.

Your antecedent communication referenced a specific judicial officer and a delimited temporal scope spanning from September 23, 2024, to October 2, 2024. However, the ambit of my Request Undertaking Form is demonstrably more expansive and is not confined to this narrow period. I extend my appreciation for your tacit admission that the subject matter may have originated prior to the aforementioned dates, an acknowledgement which supports the broader scope of my undertaking.

With respect to the production of an audio recording, I am in accord with your assessment that its creation, originating from a platform such as Zoom or a teleconference, ipso facto necessitates its conversion into a tangible medium, such as a physical document or, more relevantly, a CD-ROM. Consequently, I anticipate the completion of this necessary procedural step, culminating in the formal "making" of the aforementioned recording. I wish to explicitly and unequivocally delineate that the Request Undertaking Form is not to be conflated with any discrete transcript request orders, as these are fundamentally distinct procedural avenues. Accordingly, I await the "making" of the digital recording, derived from the Zoom and/or teleconference technology, given that no contemporaneous court reporter with a digital recording device would have been present. The production of a written format being a requisite, this act of creation or "making" onto a CD is a necessary antecedent to its subsequent upload into the W Delivery Slip account.

This payment of twenty-three dollars was tendered specifically to defray the costs associated with the creation and subsequent electronic transmission of the audio recording into my W Delivery Slip account. I trust that this method of delivery is deemed acceptable. Should the physical pickup of the finalised item be required subsequent to its creation, kindly provide formal notification. Having complied fully with the stipulations of the undertaking, I now await your reciprocal compliance in the expeditious "making" of the same.

CONFIRMATION OF DELIVERY OF PRESCRIBED FEE AND COPY OF THE REQUEST FORM/UNDERTAKING

Dear SCJ RMO Recordings Management Office, Nivatha and Lisa:

I write to confirm, out of an abundance of caution, that I delivered the Request Form/Undertaking along with a bank draft for $23.00 payable to the Minister of Finance today. The bank draft for $23.00 was in a separate white envelope contained inside the yellow envelope. Duplicate copies of the cover letter, two pieces of photo identification, and two copies of the Request Form/Undertaking digitally signed as of August 14, 2025, were also included. Kindly let me know when the audio recording can be picked up or if it can be sent via email with a secure password. Thank you kindly. (nota bene: I will attach what was sent separately).

Subject: Confirmation of Submitted Request and Undertaking Form with Arrangements for Document Retrieval: via email at 9:44 a.m. and fax at noon (see: Appendix)

To the attention of the Superior Court of Justice, RMO

(Attention: Ms. Nivatha Amirthalingam and Ms. Lisa Hsieh)

Dear SCJ RMO (kind attention: Nivatha Amirthalingam (see: Nivatha.Amirthalingam@ontario.ca) and Ms. Hsieh (see: lisa.hsieh@ontario.ca))

This correspondence serves to formally confirm the submission of my request and undertaking form, digitally authenticated with a trust authority and certificate authority with my name and signature (digital), unlike the aforementioned fictitious signature input by the TPS that caused this unfortunate investigative effort, in accordance with the provisions of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) and the Canada Evidence Act along with the Secure Electronic Signature Regulations. This document was transmitted via electronic mail at 9:44 a.m. this morning, and subsequently delivered via facsimile transmission at noon today. A representative has been duly authorized to attend your office between 9:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. tomorrow for the purpose of retrieving the requested materials.

With respect to the scope of the request, it is observed that the initial "Information Package," filed on October 3, 2024, at the transferee courthouse, may have contained a clerical error, insofar as it referenced two hearing dates by reference to a single Toronto Police Service occurrence number and case identifier. This presents a potential ambiguity. While the originating courthouse maintains custody and control of the official record, including the digital recording, it is a matter of established principle (de jure) that the custodian of the materials is the appropriate party to respond to a request for same. In deference to your superior knowledge of the court's administrative protocols and the jurisdictional nexus of the Ministry of the Attorney General (Executive Branch), I submit to your determination as to whether the request pertains to one or two hearing dates. Regardless of this determination, the authorized courier will attend the aforementioned location tomorrow for counter service. In the event that the designated agent is unable to complete the counter service within the stipulated timeframe, a remittance in the form of a cheque for the potentially higher amount—which is deemed equivalent to cash under the Bills of Exchange Act—will be delivered, with a subsequent visit to occur later in the day or on the following Monday.

I have appended my identification hereto which serves as a definitive confirmation that I am the accused party identified in the undertaking. Having reviewed the pertinent sections of the cross-referenced statutes, their attendant regulations, and the specific language of the form, it is my considered position that a court order is not requisite for the timely provision of these materials. This request is made bona fide, predicated upon a necessity for urgent preparation, as my authorized transcriptionist is regrettably indisposed with a personal matter today and will require additional time tomorrow and potentially over the weekend to complete the transcripts.

In conclusion, I appreciate your kind efforts in ensuring the expeditious availability of the requested digital recording(s). In this manner, it will take care of "two birds" with "one stone" - proverbially speaking (i.e. myself with the tapes for my own purposes) and a separate delivery of the tapes to my authorized transcriptionist in McLean Court Reporting Services (Janet McLean).

This detailed and comprehensive communication has been provided out of an abundance of caution, as my concurrent legal obligations render me unavailable for the remainder of the day. As such, I bid you a wonderful remainder of your day.

Respectfully,

/KAM

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

VIA EMAIL

Urgent Request for Access to Digital Court Recordings to Litigant in SCJ_pre-enquete or ex parte type hearing(s).

To:

Superior Court of Justice

Recording Management Office

361 University Avenue, Room 405

Toronto, Ontario

M5V 2K3

Attention: Nivatha Amirthalingam et al.

SUBJECT LINE NO 1: SEPARATE SUBJECT BUT INCLUDED HEREIN FOR FAMILIARITY AND INSTANT VERIFICATION OF MYSELF MR KEVIN A MCLEAN (BA JD CIM):

SUBJECT LINE NO 2: Request and Undertaking for Access to Digital Court Recordings Pertaining to Heretofore Ex Parte Proceedings, Pursuant to a Digitally Executed by the Accused Requestor by way of Undertaking, and as an Entitlement of a Litigant Subsequent to the Execution of a Warrant (October 2, 2024) in relation to antecedent ex parte hearing(s).

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to respectfully submit a formal application for immediate access to digital court recordings. The request is made in accordance with the digitally executed undertaking form and pertains to the ex parte proceedings conducted in my absence between August and October 2024. I trust this correspondence finds you in good health and that my prior submissions on this matter have provided a sufficient basis for this request.

As the litigant and subsequent defendant, my entitlement to these materials is contingent only upon the provision of sufficient particulars, which I have heretofore supplied. To ensure absolute clarity and obviate any further delay, please find herein the requisite details for identification and case context. My identity, including my date of birth and fixed residential address, is attested to by the appended copies of my valid G-class driver's license and passport, the former of which precisely delineates my domicile at 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3.

The gravamen of this application is founded upon the principle that, following the issuance of a process and the subsequent arrest of the defendant, the materials of a pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible. As is a matter of record, I was arrested on October 2, 2024, at approximately 7:45 p.m. at TPS 14th Division. Ergo, my status as a litigant who has been subjected to the legal process elevates my position beyond that of a standard member of the public, thereby entitling me to immediate access to the aforementioned recordings without the need for a separate court order like a litigant when such occurred before OCJ at the relevant time. This conclusion is further buttressed by the explicit language contained within the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Guide, which states:

"2.2.2 Pre-Enquête documents and recordings

If A process is issued...

[the] documents of the pre-Enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served, unless there are legislative restrictions to access... or a court order restricts access."

Inasmuch as there are no legislative prohibitions or judicial orders restricting access in this specific instance, my entitlement is, de jure, self-evident. The requested materials are necessary for the preparation of my defence in the extant legal proceedings, a purpose expressly countenanced by the undertaking form. The subject matter of these recordings is, in toto, an ex parte hearing, which I presume involved the issuance of a warrant for my apprehension and arrest, and a potential concomitant search warrant targeting my fixed address. However, it may be that the "arrest warrant" or "warrant in the first" only provided authority for my arrest if I attended 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3.

For the purpose of facilitating the acquisition of these materials, I am making arrangements for an authorized agent to deliver payment and collect the CD(s) tomorrow morning, August 15, 2025. I anticipate the pickup will be at Room 405 or 241, with payment tendered in cash. My request is intentionally broad, encompassing any and all proceedings before a Superior Court of Justice judge in her Divisional Court Toronto Region rotation that may have transpired in my absence during the specified period in 2024. While a formal case name or information number may not have been affixed at the material time of the ex parte hearings, I defer to your institutional records to identify any such associated identifiers that may have been subsequently assigned for retrieval purposes.

As I am awaiting my time today to be heard on a without notice basis, I will be away from my email in last minute preparations, you may receive my auto-reply but I have already authorized all of the above..

I will presume that all of the attachments are openable unless I hear otherwise.

I confirm that this email is being delivered at 9:42 a.m. on today's date and will be considered delivered at that time.

My best to all,

/KAM

Subject: Further Corroboration and Request for Transcriptional Tape or Tapes to my authorized transcriptionist and Court Reporter Identification to myself as per my entitlement to the same

Dear Ms. Nivatha,

I trust this correspondence finds you in good health and professional fortitude.

I extend my sincere appreciation for your diligent and expeditious responses, which have been instrumental in the methodical process of narrowing the operative issues through a logical process of elimination. To corroborate my understanding and the representations you have heretofore proffered, I have conducted an independent inquiry with the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ), Brampton, Central West Region courthouse. The results of this consultation unequivocally confirm that there is no extant record of any transcript associated with the aforementioned courthouse involving Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jury, as delineated in the attached documentation.

Furthermore, this finding is consistent with the absence of any record at the OCJ Toronto Armory courthouse, which, notwithstanding the face value of the intake court endorsement (CIC), I am not at liberty to accept. Consequently, if the intake proceeding or hearing were to have transpired, it would not have been at the aforementioned venue. I am in concordance with the premise, as evidenced by the Order Form for an authorized transcriptionist of Ontario, that an intake court proceeding is distinct from a pre-enquete hearing, a distinction I have consistently maintained.

The aforementioned is thus wholly consistent with the representations of Mr. Sinnadurai and the fact that no Information was filed by Court Officer Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas whatsoever during the period of August, September, and October 2024. Accordingly, and given that the Form 2 Information contained within the information package is a sworn or declared document, affirmed by an importing officer who is regularly assigned to the downtown Toronto courthouses of the Superior Court of Justice, the sole logical extrapolation is that a Superior Court of Justice courthouse served as the presiding venue for the ex parte in camera hearing.

While I appreciate that the Information, being Form 2 of the Criminal Code, was ostensibly laid via telecommunication pursuant to Section 508.1 of the Criminal Code, thereby precluding a technical "filing" per se, I must reiterate my confirmation that there is no endorsed arrest warrant on record, as confirmed by the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Criminal Intake Office. This does not, however, negate the possibility that a Form 2 Information was indeed laid, perhaps initiated by the administrative process of setting up a video conference, which constitutes a documented instruction, to an available Superior Court of Justice judge in downtown Toronto. I note parenthetically that the Divisional Court is an integral branch of the Superior Court of Justice, albeit located at a separate physical address of 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

Based on these premises, I posit that if the presiding judge was located within the Divisional Court, Toronto Region, she may have utilized Virtual Room 462 or another virtual courtroom on the date in question. Conversely, if the judge was affiliated with the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal division, it is presumed that any of the available virtual rooms, rather than a physical courtroom per se, would have been utilized.

Given the substantial disparity in case volume between the Divisional Court and the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal list, it is entirely comprehensible that a virtual room at the Divisional Court would have been leveraged for the hearing.

I recognize that the onus probandi to prove a negative is logically impossible; consequently, should it transpire that a different SCJ Justice presided over the matter in the Toronto Region, I would welcome the provision of that information. Regardless, the established search parameters would not be predicated upon the name of a judge.

My definitive exclusion of OCJ courts, including Justice of the Peace Jury of the OCJ Brampton Courthouse, is founded upon a robust collation of circumstantial evidence and deductions. These include, but are not limited to, the following: the involvement of the Toronto Police Service (TPS) as the arresting division; the application for the Information by a TPS court officer; the admission by the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) that no filings were made by the TPS to the OCJ; the proximity and familiarity of Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas with the SCJ courthouses at 361 University Avenue and 130 Queen Street West; the officer-in-charge being situated at 52 Division (Dundas and University); the historical (albeit indirect) and recent involvement of Madam Justice Shore in other proceedings concerning myself in 2024 and 2025; the exclusion of The Honourable Justice Kraft; the conspicuous refusal of the TPS to furnish a copy of the arrest warrant or even the name of the presiding judge for a hearing that was conducted ex parte, in camera and pre-enquete; my inability to locate all of my personal property from my residence subsequent to the event of being locked out on September 20, 2024 so that may be the date that it occurred which was a Friday which oddly adds up with the time of me being locked out which is around 1:30 p.m.; the reluctance of another transcriptionist to wish to engage but who was not engaged formally like McLean Court Reporting Services (Ms. Janet McLean) in the matter following my discoveries and deductions. A fortiori, my best-reasoned prediction is that Madam Justice Shore presided over the hearing at some point between August and October 2024. It seems that September 20, 2024, is a likely date involving the same as that was the date of the lockout from my residential unit. I learned of the same around 230 p.m. which would add up with the time of the 12:59 p.m. on page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package.

However, it may have been August 23, 2024, which was a Friday.

While it is indisputable that remote hearings have become common in a virtual format, I must confirm that there is no procedural provision for the laying of a Form 2 via telecommunication to then include an in-person appearance by a judge in their office. Furthermore, as no counsel was present at the time, we can dismiss that possibility.

I am acutely aware that Zoom is the platform utilized by both the SCJ and the Divisional Court (as a branch of the SCJ), and therefore, I trust it is not necessary to formally request access to the recordings from the days in question.

Ergo, I await with anticipation the name of the court reporter, irrespective of whether the proceeding was conducted via a virtual room at 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West. I am grateful for the provision of this information pertaining to the relevant date, which, to provide my best efforts, I surmise would have been September 23, 2024, notwithstanding the possibility that it could have occurred on any date between August 20, 2024, and October 2, 2024. The period from August 20, 2024, was a Tuesday, thus leaving four business days in that week, followed by the week of the 26th to the 30th. Subsequently, there was the Labour Day holiday, which was then succeeded by four business days at the start of September 2024, followed by the weeks of September 9-13 and September 16-20, 2024. It remains ambiguous whether your reference to the search for Justice Shore from September 23, 2024, to October 2, 2024, was in relation to a specific courthouse or any courthouse generally.

I look forward to the receipt of the court reporter's name, presumably tied not to a physical courtroom but to a 'virtual room,' and the corresponding tapes, which are to be provided to my authorized transcriptionist. This information is to be sourced based upon the following search parameters:

1. My name, date of birth, and driver's license number, which are referenced in the attached identification for your ease of reference (and in relation to a process inclusive of an Arrest Warrant); and,
2. In relation to a search warrant or any kindred instrument: the address denoted in my driver's license, being 405-1333 King Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3.

I trust this is sufficient information or necessary detail as per, in spirit, the MAG CSD Guide for the "requested matters" (as defined by different search parameters) to be duly addressed. Lastly, it could be multiple dates i.e. one for a search warrant and another with an arrest warrant. Alternatively, it could only be one or the other. As this remains urgent, I look forward to hearing from you as soon as possible today so I can take the necessary steps as required by me. I shall notify my authorized transcriptionist of Ontario that we should expect tapes in short order and notify the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal and other party(ies) in my NOA #1 of the same.

Dear Nivatha,

I trust this correspondence finds you well. I am writing once again to express my sincere gratitude for your prompt attention to this matter. Given the ongoing complexities and the necessity of establishing a comprehensive and unambiguous record, I am compelled to submit this formal communication, which consolidates our recent exchanges and incorporates new insights.

Please find the attached order form, which has been slightly amended to reflect the evolving nature of this inquiry. The rationale for broadening the scope of this request, as necessitated by events on July 24, 2025, is to unequivocally preclude any technical refusals by the Superior Court of Justice Regional Manager's Office, which, as you have confirmed, is the custodian of transcripts and recordings for authorized transcriptionists. I reiterate and incorporate by reference all foregoing assertions, which remain fundamentally operative.

This communication serves to formally memorialize and clarify the circumstances surrounding our prior correspondence, which established that no pertinent record could be located for the period spanning September 23, 2024, to October 2, 2024—the latter being the date of my apprehension at the Toronto Police Service (TPS) 14th Division. It is axiomatic that, from the moment of my arrest, I am legally entitled to all audio recordings and ancillary documentation pertaining to any pre-enquête hearing or Form 2 Information laid before a presiding judicial officer.

As you are undoubtedly cognizant, the document designated as page three of five within the ostensibly "false information package" has been demonstrably and fundamentally manipulated, as has the Form 2 Information within the CCO-validated package. My prior enumeration of approximately forty-two distinct discrepancies remains unrefuted. While further elaboration on this point is superfluous, I must reiterate the foundational legal principle that one cannot be compelled to prove a negative. In this instance, my position is not subject to a burden of proof; rather, I rely upon the unequivocal admissions of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) that no filings involving my name, any informant's name, or the TPS, and tied to my verified address, were ever lodged with the Ontario Courts of Justice concerning an arrest warrant. Ergo, my assertion that I was deemed of unsound mind in a matter before the Superior Court of Justice remains in dispute, a conclusion now further bolstered by the absence of any record to the contrary.

I am appreciative of your referral to the Ontario Court of Justice Toronto Armoury Courthouse recording office, where a similar absence of records was confirmed. Nevertheless, the false information package unequivocally asserts that a representative of the TPS executed an arrest warrant on or before October 3, 2024. In the interest of full and complete disclosure, and notwithstanding the professional embarrassment and patently frivolous nature of the said action, I am entitled to copies of the actual pre-enquête hearing records.

Thank you for confirming that a Ms. Justice Kraft was not the presiding judicial officer, nor was any individual with the initials "NK" involved. This has rectified certain faulty information previously conveyed to me. I have been compelled, in effect, to cast a broad investigatory net due to what can only be described as a protracted and unavailing bureaucratic circumvention. Since I cannot, per se, prove a negative, I have been necessitated to expand my temporal scope of inquiry to encompass the entire period from the TPS occurrence number (August 20, 2024) to the date of my arrest (October 2, 2024).

It remains unclear which courthouse you referenced in your search for records between September 23, 2024, and October 2, 2024, if that search was conducted outside of 361 University Avenue. Nevertheless, given the undisputed fact that the information was laid in a telecommunication format, a physical copy of the Form 2 Information would not be lodged with the Superior Court of Justice, Criminal Intake. A fortiori, had an arrest or search warrant not been endorsed, no record of the same would exist. However, there must always be a transcript—a document that produces a writing. Therefore, the audio recordings and transcripts are of paramount importance, for while documents can be egregiously fabricated, a certified transcript by an authorized transcriptionist is a true and accurate representation of what transpired before a judicial officer. Such a hearing need not have occurred in a courtroom, but may have been conducted remotely, with the TPS presenting its application without my presence or that of my legal counsel (as per the aforementioned circumstances).

Hence, as I am required to provide a copy of this transcript for my imminent hearing on August 19, 2025, my unremitting and meticulous focus on this detail is necessitated. This is to ensure that I can file a copy of this crucial transcript in the record for my Notice of Application, dated July 10, 2025, which seeks a variety of specific orders. You will again observe that I have included the court addresses for both 130 Queen Street West (Divisional Court) and the Superior Court of Justice at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, predicated on the customary location of Madam Justice Shore versus the location of her judicial designation. As judicial officers are considerably more malleable, nimble, and mobile than was once the case, the precise location of the hearing is of great import. I therefore request that you provide confirmation of the court reporter's name and where that court reporter was designated to have been at the material time, presumably at either 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West.

In summation, while I extend my appreciation for your prompt responses, the hard reality is that I must obtain a transcript of the pre-enquête ex parte in camera hearing. I presume this hearing was not tied to a specific courtroom, and I note that, by reference to the documents I have, the hearing did not occur at the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse; indeed, as confirmed by Mr. Sinnadurai, the OCJ has no record of the same. My Notice of Application to quash and seek various declarations necessitates the provision of a recording or "tape" to my authorized transcriptionist and the name of the court reporter, irrespective of whether their appearance was remote or physical.

The following points are unequivocally true and, as such, must guide the "requested matters" and not as you had input them (without any castigation but to ensure we are operating ad idem):

1. There was no appearance by me, as the ex parte in camera hearing with a Form 2 Information being laid via telecommunication is, by its very nature, an ex parte proceeding conducted without my appearance. Consequently, this aspect of the matter requires no further discussion.
2. An individual's name, such as "R. v. McLean," would not appear in a search because it does not constitute a valid search parameter for an arrest and/or search warrant.
3. "Criminal Door Sheets," presumably intended to mean criminal docket sheets, would likewise not be relevant based on the time the alleged information was laid.
4. When I refer to my definition of the MAG CSD Guide, I am referencing Section 2 of the hyperlinked webpage: <https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-documents-and-exhibits/section-2-public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents>. I am clearly entitled to the recordings, and as per an esteemed legal counsel for the MAG, there was absolutely no record of any filings with the Ontario Courts of Justice involving my name, the informant, or otherwise.

5. While I appreciate your reference to obtaining certain electronic documents from the SCJ Criminal Intake Email, it remains my view, on a de jure basis, that Ms. Tasheka Gentles, the head registrar of the Divisional Court Toronto Region, would possess said documents in light of Madam Justice Shore's designated location. This explains why I served Madam Justice Shore personally at said address.

6. I must respectfully disagree with any reference to counsel attending in the judge's chambers. As I was not present, there could not have been any counsel present on my behalf, and the TPS was the applying party, albeit with a court officer.

7. Moreover, even if Madam Justice Shore was seated before her computer in an office at the SCJ at 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West—a setting akin to a case conference where no courtroom is physically designated—the proceeding was nonetheless recorded and is mandated to be recorded.

8. I would also note the same in relation to an arrest warrant, as per section 508.1(2) of the Criminal Code.

9. It may be that the search warrant component of another TPS application would be executed without the production of a writing, but this is factually impossible, given the impracticality of not having a recording, even if uncertified.

10. Moreover, your reference to Madam Justice Shore being present or sitting during a relevant time period is accepted and thankfully so.

11. Your representation that a Justice Kraft or an MK was not involved is also accepted and appreciated.

12. The representation that a search was conducted for "R. v. McLean, Kevin" is noted. This was not the request. The request was for my name with my date of birth and driver's license, along with my address, which was removed and replaced with "NFA." Of course, if a search was conducted for "R. v. McLean, Kevin," nothing would populate. This is consistent with the MAG CSD Guide, which states that search warrants are not tied to a specific individual. The removal of my residential address from the documentation, coupled with the inclusion of "NFA" (No Fixed Address), is now an obvious manipulation by the TPS. I have had forensic experts in various areas investigate the same, and this is yet another instance of the TPS revealing its hand through forensic inspection. As such, I confirm that by deduction or inference, Madam Justice Shore was the presiding judge. The transcript, however, remains the objective record, as "the transcript never lies."

13. I reiterate and rely upon all of the foregoing points.

Please see the slightly amended order form attached for ease of reference.

My apologies for my previous implicit misstatement wherein I had not yet heard from Ms. Kerri McLean and incorrectly presumed on Friday that I was communicating with McLean Court Reporting Services. While I take accountability for my error, the subsequent realization that Ms. Kerri McLean was not working for an indeterminate period provided important insight. It did not, however, relate to the most pressing and outstanding order derived from the pre-enquête ex parte in camera hearing, nor did it cause confusion when referencing Madam Justice Kraft.

Let us kindly operate within the boundaries of the Charter and the open court principle and help one another, for justice is not free. The hard reality is that I am hard done by and am being put to extra expense.

The failure to provide a response has necessitated this formal communication. My sole requirement is to provide sufficient information to obtain the requisite recordings when submitting a request to Room 405. The same is applicable to Room 241, where the issue is being handled in a manner oddly analogous to the aforementioned matter.

I look forward to this matter being brought to a close by tomorrow. The repeated references to "appearances" when there were none, criminal "door sheets" when that was not applicable, and the requested matter of "R. v. McLean, Kevin," simply bolster the manipulation of the documents. I anticipate receiving the results of searches involving my name with my date of birth and driver's license number, as well as the results of searches using my "Fixed Address" of 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3. For what it is worth, the SCJ Criminal Intake utilized the same language of not having an "appearance" for me, and of course, that is true. However, it has become a little bit infantile and immature in my view, almost like a "Do not look here or ask here" strategy, making it most obvious—except when there were explicit denials for Madam Justice Kraft, unlike for Madam Justice Shore.

Thank you kindly for your diligent attention to this matter and for your immediate provision of the recording from the ex parte in camera hearing to my authorized transcriptionist, Ms. Janet McLean of McLean Court Reporting Services. This recording, from whatever date the non-courtroom-tied hearing was held, has been accessible to the public as of October 3, 2024. Assuming arguendo a member of the public obtained this unjust evidence of a frivolous criminal charge and execution of an arrest warrant against me, he, she, or it would be in the same position that I am in and having to cast a broad net.

If you require a specific date as opposed to a broadly cast net of dates through no fault of my own, then kindly provide me with the date. If you need the specific courthouse based on a de jure basis, kindly provide the same. Otherwise, I will presume that this order form is sufficiently particularized and provides enough detail. This is to be an access partnership in accordance with the Charter and open court principle. Respectfully, it is not my job to guess, but in protecting my life, liberty, and security, et al., I am exhausting every avenue possible. I anticipate a resolution by tomorrow with the name of the court reporter, however remotely she or he appeared.

I have painstakingly detailed to ensure that we are not going back and forth like two trains crossing in the night because what I requested was not a "requested matter" as you input it. Thank you for respecting my time, the ATO's time and taxpayer dollar time. I look forward to the closure of the same by tomorrow as it is a daily order.

Lastly, I will confirm with my ATO that a copy of this email and attachment have been provided to you. Have a great evening!

Esteemed Nivatha,

I am in receipt of your recent communication, for which I extend my sincerest gratitude. Notwithstanding the proximity of the current time to the conclusion of the business day, I must respectfully reiterate my antecedent request for the appellation of the court reporter who presided over the pre-enquete criminal hearing (not an intake per se). The identification of this individual is a paramount and indispensable prerequisite to the expeditious procurement of the requisite audio recordings, a matter of considerable urgency.

While I remain committed to the diligent pursuit of all other available avenues outside the scope of the tapes' direct acquisition, my continued efforts necessitate the provision of this name. I thank you again for the reference to OCJ Armoury Toronto Courthouse but I confirm that it does not have any tapes involving the requested tapes. As such, we can now close that door - proverbially speaking.

It is to be noted that this matter does not pertain to issues of counsel, personal appearance, or the criminal docket sheet, but rather relates to an ex parte and in camera matter concerning a telecommunications laying of the same. The syllogistic extrapolation of established legal principles dictates that the procedural identity of the court officer responsible for the record, in this instance the court reporter, is a distinction separate and apart from the substantive confidentiality of the proceedings themselves. The former is a matter of procedural entitlement and to the public itself. As such a member of the public could request the same but as the accused who is advancing an application returnable in a week, I am not only entitled but obligated. As such, I will exhaust all avenues so I can show the court I have done the same.

Furthermore, in light of the unforeseen incapacitation of an authorized transcriptionist subsequent to a recent incident, the urgency of this request is compounded. This exigency necessitates the exploration of all viable contingency plans. It is therefore prudent that a presiding court officer, upon a date to be determined (presumptively between August 20, 2024, and September 20, 2024), be afforded the opportunity to remotely certify the authorized transcript IF he or she is an authorized transcriptionist. I will only know the same by having the NAME of the COURT REPORTER as I am entitled. While I remain steadfast in my commitment to the currently available transcriptionist, maintaining this flexibility is a judicious approach to mitigate potential delays.

In conclusion, I await the provision of the aforementioned name with a sense of considerable urgency. As articulated supra, access to this information is a procedural entitlement foundational to the orderly advancement of this matter. It may be that said court reporter is an authorized transcriptionist or he or she may not be but only time will tell.

I appreciate your prompt attention to this request.

CONTINUED URGENCY

Subject: Re: Clarification Regarding The Above - thank you for your response

Dear Nivatha,

Thank you for your correspondence regarding the aforementioned matter. I have reviewed your submission; however, I must respectfully present a number of objections and clarifications predicated upon established legal principles and procedural guidelines.

I must reiterate the crucial distinction between a search warrant and an arrest warrant. A search warrant is predicated in rem upon a specific location or premises, whereas an arrest warrant is issued in personam and is predicated upon the identification of a particular individual. Therefore, your assertion that the search parameters would be predicated upon "R. v. McLean" is an extrapolation that, in this instance, is not factually or procedurally tenable. The appropriate search parameters would be founded upon my personal identifiers, such as my date of birth and/or driver's licence number, for the purpose of a search against an arrest warrant. In the alternative, for the purposes of a search warrant, the proper search parameter would be the address location previously provided. Furthermore, I must again emphasize that the pertinent events may have transpired prior to September 23, 2024, as the occurrence number has been decoded to August 20, 2024. Consequently, any date between the latter and the former is likely one of the dates of which an arrest warrant and/or search warrant would have been executed, for which the search criteria would unequivocally NOT be "R. v. McLean".

I must also take issue with the contention that the presence of "counsel" would preclude the existence of any recordings. Your use of the term "counsel" appears to conflate the role of defence counsel with the presence of police personnel, as I was neither present at the hearing nor represented by legal counsel at that time. Given that the hearing was conducted ex parte and in camera, the presence of any individual does not, per se, abrogate the statutory and procedural obligation to create and preserve a record of the proceedings.

In this regard, I draw your attention to the Ministry of the Attorney General's Criminal Service Division (MAG CSD) Guide, Section 2, which states, inter alia:

"If process is issued... the documents of the pre-Enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served, unless there are legislative restrictions to access... If process is not issued... the documents and tapes of the pre-Enquête hearing are not publicly accessible."

As a process was demonstrably issued, and as I was subsequently arrested on October 2, 2024, the self-evident conclusion arises that the documents and tapes from the pre-Enquête hearing are publicly accessible. Consequently, my entitlement to all such recordings, including any tapes, is unfettered, and the requisite order form has been duly submitted.

I have repeatedly contacted the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Criminal Intake regarding the Form 2 Information, which I maintain was laid by Madam Justice Shore via telecommunication. To date, I have not received a substantive response or a denial of this fact. As mandated by section 508.1(2) of the Criminal Code, any such telecommunicated information must be reduced to a written form, which in turn becomes an official court record AND a TAPE (recording).

With respect to your reference to a "presiding justice," it is acknowledged that Madam Justice Shore would have served as the presiding judicial officer during the pre-Enquête hearing. My appreciation of the fact that the hearing would not have been conducted in a physical courtroom is not a concession of my position. The judicial and statutory obligations remain irrespective of the hearing's physical location.

The request directed to the SCJ Criminal Intake constitutes a request for these official court records. While the records themselves may not exist in a traditional paper format if the information was laid via telecommunication, a record of the event, such as telephone logs or routing information, must nonetheless exist. I reserve my rights to pursue these records, though I recognize that this pursuit is ancillary to the central issue herein.

Regarding the precise location of the court, whether de jure at 130 Queen Street West or 361 University Avenue, I have personally served Madam Justice Shore at the former location and have had an authorized agent serve her at the latter on July 11, 2025. Both services have been confirmed via affidavits. I reiterate that the location, whether de iure or de facto, does not abrogate the requirement for the production of a writing and a transcript of the proceedings. The Records Management Office (RMO) (405) is statutorily compelled to provide these recordings, however brief, regardless of whether the hearing was conducted remotely or in a physical courtroom. Thank you for confirming that your office handles the provision of tapes to an authorized transcriptionist for 130 Queen Street West as well.

As the accused party, I possess an unfettered entitlement to these records, and it is my obligation to provide a copy of the transcript to the court. The open-ended nature of the transcript order form submitted is intended to encompass any and all relevant dates prior to September 23, 2024, and both court locations.

I continue to operate on the admissions made by the MAG that the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ) is not the applicable venue for this matter, as per the representations and admissions made to me regarding the document manipulation by the Toronto Police Service (TPS).

As a courtesy administrative note, please be advised that the previous authorized transcriptionist has experienced an accident and is unavailable for an indeterminate period. The request will therefore be handled by Janet McLean (not Kerri McLean). The order form was corrected regarding the same. I will ensure that the authorized transcriptionist is aware of this communication and the date of the order may be prior to September 23, 2024.

As a final note, Room 241 of the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal is solely for records (i.e. copies of informations, arrest warrants, etc.) request, not for transcripts and tapes. Consequently, further discussion on this point is respectfully redundant. I will exercise my rights at the correct rooms within the respective relevant courthouses.

As the page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package was manipulated, the date may have also been manipulated and the information may not even be Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas and certainly was not JP Jiri (OCJ Brampton Courthouse) as admitted by the Ministry of Attorney General. I will pass all of this on to the authorized transcriptionist who has not fallen with injury.

I appreciate your response but this is not supposed to be a long and winding labyrinth but nonetheless, the deductions over three months along with admissions are self-evident to that which I am entitled and that which I have paid for.

To confirm, the order is submitted and the dates provide a range along with the above which did NOT confine it to September 23, 2024 to October 2, 2024 but perhaps before as the TPS Occurrence Number is: Occ#: 24-2082035.

As such, that is the 24th year. The 08 is the month which was August. The 20 is the day. The date is a compelling one because some conduct collateral to the same. As such if the complaint was made to the TPS on August 20, 2024, as the TPS Case ID is fictitious then we would be looking for a date from August 20, 2024, thereafter.

Thank you for confirming that Madam Justice Shore was active during the relevant period, unlike Madam Justice Kraft.

Good morning,

If a matter was heard in a Presiding Justices chambers and only counsel are present, our office would not have a record of it.

I have looked into all of the recordings heard before Justice Shore between September 23rd and October 2nd, 2024, and I can confirm that the requested matter of R. v. McLean, Kevin did not appear in either of them.

Our office previously looked into our system to see if the requested matter was previously heard at our SCJ courthouse locations and we did not find any dates or matters. I strongly urge you to contact the SCJ Criminal Intake Of fice for any further questions, confirmations or clarifications.

THE PRE-ENQUÊTE EX PARTE AND IN CAMERA HEARING

Concerning: Myself (or Fixed Address: 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, ON, M5V 2K3)

Date(s) at issue: August, September, or October 2024 (presumed September

I am writing to again formally request, on an urgent basis, the name of the court reporter who was present at the pre-enquête ex parte and in camera hearing involving myself or my fixed address of 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, in or around September 23, 2024 (potentially a date shortly after or before, but certainly prior to October 2, 2024). I am providing, with this letter, a copy of my ATO-submitted order form with Schedule A, as daily service, to assist in your efforts. I will be providing a copy of this email and attached order form to my retained ATO. Due to the unfortunate manipulation of the False Information Package by the TPS, I have kept it broad so there is no ability to not assist myself, the ordering party, on technical grounds when it is no fault of my own. I am entitled to have my retainer completed with the retained ATO and while I appreciate the required undertaking and administrative internal use only requirement for the ATO, I am entitled to the name of the court reporter along with any other particulars that relate to the same. This is most pertinent considering the absence of document production despite non-FOI requests of the Originating Courthouse, including the potential of a Form 2 Information having been laid via telecommunications and the likelihood of an "Unendorsed Arrest Warrant". As such, in this manner, the RMO of the SCJ, provides the necessary safeguard as per the CJC that the Superior Courts of Justice and their courthouse must ensure that they keep a "record of activities" permanently.

I wish to confirm that the OCJ 10 Armoury Courthouse does not have any recordings or records involving myself prior to October 2, 2024, and that its first relevant record pertains to my appearance on November 13, 2024. Similarly, the OCJ Brampton Courthouse, including the office of JP Jiri (though not referenced at page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package – see Schedule A), has confirmed no records or documents submitted or laid involving myself.

Additionally, Mr. Sinnadurai, MAG lawyer licensee at 720 Bay Street, 8th floor, Toronto, ON, has confirmed that there were no Informations submitted or laid by a court officer, special constable of TPS, or involving myself in the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ). The OCJ has thus been eliminated as a locus of record or recording for the ex parte and in camera hearing presumed on September 23, 2024, though the actual date may be slightly subsequent but prior to October 2, 2024.

Your previous representations have been invaluable, and I am further grateful for your confirmation that there were no appearances or entries involving my name on the Criminal Door List for September 23, 2024, as my first criminal proceeding appearance was on November 13, 2024. The Criminal Door or Docket Lists would not have populated a Form 2 Information laid ex parte and in camera, nor would these be anticipated in remote, Zoom, or virtual formats absent a fixed courtroom but rather tied to the de jure location of the authorizing, issuing, and giving Judge.

I acknowledge that a Judge of the Divisional Court Toronto Region has both a designated office at 130 Queen Street West and a permanent office at 361 University Avenue. I defer to your delineation of the proper location, but note the necessity for a recording as the laying of Form 2 Information via telecommunication under section 508.1 of the Criminal Code must “produce a writing.”

As my urgent return date with the Criminal Intake Office, SCJ (361 University Avenue), is August 19, 2025, I appreciate your prompt attention to this matter. By providing the name of the court reporter – for which I have provided sufficient information – I am willing to undertake necessary follow-up as a courtesy and in appreciation of your time constraints.

Justice, efficiency, and the rule of law underpin my request, alongside the Charter and open court principle. The process was issued, and my arrest occurred on October 2, 2024. It remains vital for the Canadian Judicial Council and the Superior Courts (including the Divisional Court) to maintain permanent records of such activities.

I respectfully request you provide the name of the court reporter associated with the referenced hearing, based on my name and DOB and/or the search location after September 23, 2024 (410-775 King Street West, Toronto, ON, M5V 2K3). I understand there were no appearances by myself until November 13, 2024, and no entries on criminal dockets (or doors if that is the correct language), which implicitly affirms that records may reside with either 361 University Avenue SCJ or 130 Queen Street West SCJ. Whether “records” have been destroyed or not, even by accident as accidents happen, the recordings must remain along with the record of activities.

I again note from the MAG CSD Guide:

"If process is not issued

If process is not issued, the documents and tapes of the pre-Enquête hearing are not publicly accessible.

(see: <https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-documents-and-exhibits/section-2-public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents>)"

As a process was issued and I was arrested on October 2, 2024, then "For both private and Crown prosecutions, if process is issued, the documents of the hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served" and it is trite that a recording is a "document".

I am also entitled to "information" including the court reporter's name as per the ATO website.

I will confirm the same with my authorized ATO so that the retainer can be finalized and payment made for her services.

I repeat and rely upon all contained in the order form with particular reference to the lengthy and meticulously detailed text

Thank you sincerely for your continued assistance, promptness, and for excluding unauthorized parties from this process. I await your reply directly, as well as to my retained ATO, and look forward to resolution of this urgent matter by provision of the name of the court reporter to me and the recording to my retained AGO as time is of the essence.

As you will receive a copy of this order form from my retained ATO, who is entitled to fees now on an daily basis which I must absorb the extra cost (which I will not raise again), I confirm that I am providing this for dual purposes and for context along with record keeping purposes. As such, I authorize and require you to provide the name of the court reporter to me (and her) and the recording to her for her immediate transcription on Monday, August 11, 2025,

If a phone call is easier, my number is below. Moreover, if a phone call from me to you is easier, I can do so on Monday morning.

Dear Nivatha (apologies on the misspelling of your name previously):

To follow up on the above with courtesy, I apologize for not citing the location of where it stated I could obtain the information from you and your office room for all relevant court sites or courthouses and the requirement is to provide me with the same.

While a prior communication referenced the Authorized Court Transcriptionists of Ontario website, it failed to articulate the underlying legal principle with the requisite clarity. The foundational premise is self-evident: the production of a transcript for any given proceeding is contingent upon the accurate identification of the court reporter who formally recorded the event. As the pertinent judicial hearing was conducted ex parte and in camera, the imperative for a precise and official record remains paramount (see: Appendix)

A syllogistic analysis of the matter reveals a clear path forward. The laying of a Form 2 Information under the Criminal Code, even if initiated by way of telecommunication, mandates the production of a written record (produces a writing). Consequently, a court reporter must, a fortiori, have been present to document the hearing (which was NOT an Appearance and would NOT have been on the Courtroom Door Sheets as you stated).

The identification of the judicial officer who presided, the date of the hearing, and the name of the court reporter are therefore sufficient identifiers for the location of the official record, obviating the necessity for more extensive or peripheral details.

Based upon the specific and exceptional circumstances of this matter, there is a presumption that no other hearings of an ex parte and in camera nature would have occurred involving the following unique identifiers:

1. A search warrant concerning the premises at 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3 with a potential date range extending from August 20, 2024, to October 1, 2024.
2. An arrest warrant for Mr. Kevin McLean, born March 25, 1983.

Furthermore, it is a well-established tenet of jurisprudence that a Justice of the Superior Court of Justice retains the inherent and parliamentary statutory authority to approve warrants, notwithstanding any specific judicial designation, such as one to the Divisional Court. The jurisdiction of a Justice of the Superior Court of Justice is not circumscribed by such designations; rather, it is broadly conferred, and as such, their capacity to approve warrants (arrest or search) remains intact. It has been confirmed and admitted that Madam Justice Kraft was not scheduled to preside at the 361 University Avenue Superior Court of Justice courthouse on September 23, 2024, and I thank you for the same.

However, the same cannot be said of Madam Justice Shore although not de jure located (but perhaps in her office at 361 University Avenue with a videoconference type ex parte and in camera hearing which must have produced a writing) at 361 University Avenue but at 130 Queen Street West. As such, I presume as I need to order today that I will input the amendments to the same but without a courtroom unless you tell me otherwise.

With due deference to the authority of the judiciary, and without intending to cast aspersions on the administration of justice, it is understood that the relevant information is under the exclusive control and custody of your office, specifically within Room 405. Given that your office possesses the requisite authority and access to search for this information, a facility not accorded to the undersigned, I trust that a simple search utilizing the provided address or personal identifiers will yield the necessary documentation in an expedient fashion. The provision of these two identifiers is intended purely to be of assistance in expediting this process.

I am most pleased that I am in the correct place(s), after much investigations, for a transcript for a judge (where the adjudication was made, the warrants were issued and whose warrants are at issue) of the SCJ albeit de jure located at 130 Queen Street West albeit an SCJ Judge of the Toronto Region.

Thank you again for your promptness today as it does not go unnoticed.

APPENDIX

“1.6 Q. What if I want the court reporter that took the in-court record to produce the transcript, but I don’t know who the person is?

A. You can contact the court site where the proceeding took place and court staff will provide you with the name of the court reporter who recorded the proceeding. Before contacting the court reporter, you should refer to the Authorized Court Transcriptionists for Ontario website to see if the court reporter is on the List of Authorized Court Transcriptionists.”

Subject: Response to the above and Continued Urgency of Transcript Order Form and Associated Inquiries - so I can have my authorized transcriptionist place the relevant order

Dear Nivathan,

I am in receipt of your expeditious reply and regret the delay in my own correspondence, which was occasioned by a series of unforeseen medical appointments. The bolded information I require from you with great respect is herein and copied to be at the top of the email:

As noted in the public materials from the Authorized Transcriptionists of Ontario, it unequivocally denotes contacting Room 405 to obtain the name of the following while allowing me to utilize the court reporter on the day in question if said court reporter is an authorized transcriptionist in Ontario:

- 1. Name of the judicial officer (obviously not Madam Justice Kraft with thanks as she was not sitting as admitted in the SCJ 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario):

2. Courtroom;

3. Courtroom number; and

4. Court reporter:

5. Exact day and time of the ex parte and in camera hearing (not an "Appearance" and not on the "Criminal Docket Sheets" or "Criminal Door Sheets") involving the following if searching for a section 487 of a search warrant:

1. Agency that applied: Toronto Police Service;
2. Name of court officer: Mrs. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas;
3. Location of search: 410-775 King Street Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3;

If in relation to an arrest warrant, I provide the required information again which is contained in my attached documents yet again:

1. My name if applicable: Kevin McLean
2. Date of birth: March 25, 1983
3. Driver's license if applicable: M16514331830325

The remainder of the information is placed as an Appendix because it is more in the nature of an abundance of caution.

I thank you for directly answering my questions as they were not answered in some respects and I am most grateful to know that you perform transcriptionist services for 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario as per the below based on recent service of it and Madam Justice Shore (whom I have reasonable grounds to believe and not denied by my service on Wednesday, August 6, 2025 of this week at the aforementioned location) on most likely September 23, 2024, but the scope of my request is prior to that date and after the same as I received a false document from the TPS but that was filed in 10 Armoury OCJ.

You can try me via telephone or I may call if that is easier than spending email time on the same.

My best to you,

Appendix

I wish to clarify certain points of fact and procedure pertaining to my transcript request. While you have referenced an appearance on file for September 12, 2025, my Notice of Application #1 ("NOA #1") is unequivocally scheduled for August 19, 2025. Nonetheless, this discrepancy is a matter that I shall address administratively with the Superior Court of Justice located at 361 University Avenue, and is ancillary to the immediate purpose of this communication. It pertains solely to my NOA #1, which was duly filed on July 10, 2025, in relation to a variety of interconnected matters.

With respect to the jurisdiction of the Ontario Court of Justice, the transferee courthouse was indeed 10 Armoury OCJ. However, the presence of Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri, who is attached to the Brampton Courthouse OCJ, on the document suggests a clerical error. It is understood that the Toronto Police Service filing with the 10 Armoury OCJ courthouse commenced on October 3, 2024, a day subsequent to my arrest on October 2, 2024.

I have meticulously reviewed the points of confirmation provided in your previous correspondence and offer the following responses:

I am grateful for your confirmation that your office processes transcript requests for the Superior Court of Justice locations, including 130 Queen Street West. This is a matter of considerable importance, as I possess reasonable grounds and supporting external evidence to substantiate my belief that Madam Justice Shore, in her capacity as a Superior Court Judge and during her Divisional Court rotation, was the presiding justice of the ex parte ad in camera hearing - not an "appearance" and not Madam Justice Kraft.

Your assertion that the sole appearance on file is a future date of September 12, 2025, has been noted. However, as previously stated, I am not seeking information regarding a future appearance but rather an urgent matter tied to my NOA #1, which is for August 19, 2025. This shall be addressed separately, particularly in light of an imminent response from the Crown's office required by the Criminal Proceedings Rules.

Your confirmation that Justice Kraft was not sitting at the aforementioned SCJ locations on September 23, 2024, is appreciated. Recent evidence, which remains undisputed by the office at 130 Queen Street West, demonstrates that it was Madam Justice Shore who was most recently and properly served in accordance with the Criminal Proceedings Rules.

Your advice to contact the OCJ courthouse at 10 Armoury Street is acknowledged. However, as noted above, a transcript from that courthouse has already been obtained for a date subsequent to October 3, 2024. I was not suggesting that any of the Superior Court locations operated an "intake court," but rather that a reference to "Intake Court Endorsement [Sic]" appeared within a document bearing numerous inconsistencies and clerical errors. Therefore, your kind suggestion, while noted, is rendered unnecessary.

I also appreciate your guidance to contact the Criminal Intake Office at Toronto.SCJ.Criminalintake@ontario.ca. I have already undertaken this step, as that office is located at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. A key syllogism in this matter is that since Madam Justice Shore was designated by the Chief Justice of the SCJ to the Divisional Court of Ontario (Toronto Region), her de jure place for issuing, making, or giving orders was 130 Queen Street West. Accordingly, your office, performing transcript duties for that specific location, is the correct and appropriate venue for this inquiry. I can also confirm that I have served the Manager of Court Operations at 130 Queen Street West and personally served Madam Justice Shore with the NOA #1 as of Wednesday of this week.

Conclusion

In light of the foregoing, and given the urgency predicated upon the date on my NOA #1, my transcript order form must be amended. I respectfully request a comprehensive response to my inquiries, including confirmation of any relevant dates beyond September 23, 2024, and definitively excluding any involvement from Justice Kraft.

For reference, the relevant address is not tied to a scheduled appearance or even my name but likely the address location of 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario as per the MAG CSD Guide, as the hearing was an ex parte proceeding of which I did not appear as I had no knowledge of the same. This is a distinction I believe you appreciate, as a review of today's Courtroom Docket Sheets confirms there are no references to ex parte or in camera hearings. As noted, a judge designated to the Divisional Court of Ontario (Toronto Region) may be authorized to issue, inter alia, arrest warrants, search warrants, and other processes from their de jure location.

While the "Intake Court Endorsement [Sic]" reference was likely a mis-transcription, your confirmation regarding Justice Kraft has proven to be an efficacious clarification, and she is consequently removed from any future deliberation on this matter. Moreover, the confirmation of 130 Queen Street West recordings is most helpful. I will amend the same as well. As such, I look forward to your prompt confirmation of the same as it relates to either 361 University Avenue and/or 130 Queen Street West.

The remaining issue pertains to confirming the exact date of the transcript, which should fall within the period commencing no earlier than September 23, 2024, and concluding no later than October 2, 2024. This is essential for the procurement of the transcript of the hearing that generated the arrest warrant and presumed search warrant (or other form of authorization).

I thank you for your attention to this urgent matter and anticipate your prompt response.

Subject: Acquisition of Information to finalize my retainer for services of an authorized transcriptionist of Ontario relating Transcripts Concerning Ex Parte and In Camera Proceedings involving myself or if not by name involving the location of the search warrant, date of seizure, date of arrest et al

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I am writing to you on an exigent basis with respect to the above-noted matter. I am in receipt of your correspondence, dated [Date of original email], a portion of which is reproduced below:

"The requested matter did not appear on the Criminal Door Sheets on the requested date of September 23rd, 2024. Nor was it heard before Justice Kraft on this date as well. Please advise your Ordering Party as such."

I seek your esteemed clarification regarding the phrase "Criminal Door Sheets." I presume this to be a reference to criminal docket sheets or court lists. If this presumption is correct, it is my belief that the matter would not have appeared on any such public list on the date in question. The reported form of the Criminal Code information was declared pursuant to s. 508.1(2) of the Criminal Code by a court officer, Ms. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas, at 11:49 a.m. As such, this proceeding would not have been a matter scheduled on the regular criminal docket sheets, and consequently, there would be no public-facing post-docket list to consult for confirmation.

Moreover, if the information was laid via telecommunication, it would constitute an ancillary or supplementary judicial proceeding, undertaken in camera and therefore not available for public perusal. Put differently, the procedural timeline would not have afforded the matter the necessary interval for inclusion on the criminal docket sheets of that date. I would further add that the issuance of the approval of a singular charge against myself, Mr. Kevin McLean (date of birth March 25, 1983), was apparently issued at 12:59 p.m. on Monday, September 23, 2024. This occurred approximately one hour after the customary conclusion of counter services at 11 a.m., which typically commences at 9 a.m. The temporal constraints thus render the physical filing of an information at the counter an impossibility, thereby necessitating the laying of a Form 2 information via telecommunication, in conformity with s. 508.1(2) of the Criminal Code, which, though requiring the production of a writing, obviates the necessity for an in-person oath (see: Information laid otherwise than in person, s. 508.1(1) and (2)). This legal provision pertains, ergo, to the process of seeking approval for a charge prior to subsequent notification.

To further elucidate and provide sufficient information, the data I have received, though somewhat attenuated, indicates that a warrant in the first instance was issued via an intake court endorsement, and the information was accepted on its face on September 23, 2024, at 12:59:50 p.m., a mere ten seconds prior to the customary lunch recess for litigants and the court. The court officer, Ms. Frugoni-Rojas, explicitly articulated her reliance on s. 508.1 in the Form 2 information, thereby underscoring the requirement to produce a written record.

My reference to the Ministry of the Attorney General's Guide to Accessing Court Files, Documents, and Exhibits (effective 2019), hereafter referred to as the "MAG CSD Guide," reveals the following:

General Principles of Accessibility

In general, once process is issued (meaning an Information is sworn and an arrest is made or a summons is served), criminal court files and documents are publicly accessible, unless legislation, a common law rule or a court order restricts access.

2.2.2 Pre-Enquête Documents and Recordings

If process is issued

For both private and Crown prosecutions, if process is issued, the documents of the pre-Enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served, unless there are legislative restrictions to access (for example, the YCJA) or a court order restricts access.

As a process was indeed issued, and I was subsequently arrested on October 2, 2024, at the Toronto Police Service (TPS) 14th Division, the documents and recordings (tapes) of the pre-Enquête hearing became publicly accessible at that juncture. I was also apprised of the existence of an arrest warrant while the TPS was in possession of my property, which had been seized from my residential condominium unit located at 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3. The logical consequence of this issuance of process is that the documents and tapes are, by legal right, publicly accessible. As the accused, I am duly entitled to copies of these tapes from the relevant date, or from any date prior to my arrest.

Consequently, I respectfully request your assistance in providing my authorized transcriptionist, Ms. Kerri McLean of McLean Court Reporting Services, with copies of the tape(s), the name of the judicial officer, and the courtroom (if any) in which the proceeding was conducted. While I appreciate that a telecommunicated proceeding might not involve a physical courtroom, a record, whether audio or a produced writing, would have been generated. Providing this information will enable me to amend my prescribed ordering form for my transcriptionist. In relation to that date, would you please conduct a search for the matter involving R. v. Kevin McLean (date of birth March 25, 1983) and my driver's license number [Your Driver's License Number].

Your assertion that the matter would not appear on any searchable list by name is noted. However, I draw your attention to a provision under the MAG CSD Guide which states:

2.2.4 Search warrants (s. 487 of the Criminal Code)

A search warrant is a tool that permits investigators to search specified locations (such as a residence, office or vehicle) and seize particular items. Warrants are not necessarily tied to a specific individual.

Specialized search warrants also exist for: [List omitted for brevity]

Requesting access to search warrants

Individuals seeking access to search warrants must provide enough information for court staff to identify the records sought. This most commonly includes the location (for example, an address) searched and/or the date the warrant was executed and may also include, when known, the:

- name of the person (often a police officer) or agency who sought the warrant;
- name of the judicial official who approved the warrant; and/or
- date the search warrant was issued.

Search warrants are filed by location to be searched and date of search. If an individual does not know the address and/or date of search, court staff will attempt to assist the requester, however sufficient information to allow court staff to identify the requested warrant is necessary. Search warrants are not filed by name of an individual subsequently charged as a result of an investigation.”

In accordance with the requirements for obtaining records, specifically tapes and recordings related to a search warrant and subsequent seizure, I provide the following particulars:

- Name of the agency who sought the warrant: Toronto Police Services Board (either 14th or 52nd Division);
- Date the search warrant was issued: Between September 20, 2024, and October 2, 2024, as I was locked out of my residential unit on September 20, 2024, and became aware of the TPS seizure on October 2, 2024;
- TPS Occurrence Number: 24-2082035;
- Location: Unit 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3;
- Name of the judicial officer: I have received some information which may be of assistance in this regard, but it requires confirmation.

I further note the following from the MAG CSD Guide:

“If the individual seeking access believes that a search warrant has been executed, but there is no information publicly accessible at the court counter, they may wish to obtain further details from the police or investigating service.”

I have procured as much information as possible from the TPS. The distinction between obtaining tapes and documents is a significant one, and your reference to the matter not appearing on criminal docket sheets does not axiomatically mean the matter was not heard. This is congruent with your representation of “no information publicly accessible” as it was not on the Criminal Docket Sheets. However, I take your point regarding the specific hearing before Madam Justice Kraft, and I will amend my order to reflect this for the purpose of obtaining a transcript from the relevant date, contingent upon the foregoing. It is plausible that multiple hearings were conducted on different dates, one for a search warrant and another for an arrest warrant, and I await your confirmation in this regard so that I may properly exercise my rights and my authorized transcriptionist may be compensated commensurately for her professional services.

2.2.5 Arrest warrants (warrants in the first instance and bench warrants)

Warrants of arrest (also known as Warrants in the First Instance) may or may not be filed with the court. Practices for filing warrants of arrest vary depending on the police service. If a warrant of arrest or copy of a warrant of arrest is in the court file, it is only publicly accessible after the accused has been arrested or has received a summons, provided no other public access restrictions apply (for example, the YCJA).”

It appears that the situation involves an “Intake Court Endorsement” rather than an endorsed arrest warrant or other endorsed search warrants. This would explain why nothing would have been filed with the transferee courthouse(s).

2.2.8 In camera / publicly-excluded proceedings

Under various sections of the Criminal Code, the public may be excluded in whole or in part from a court proceeding. These proceedings are known as in camera or publicly excluded proceedings. If the public is excluded from a court proceeding, the public cannot access the records relating to that portion of the proceeding, except by court order.

I also recall that I recently obtained a post-docket list from a different courthouse, and there was a complete absence of any reference to appearances by individuals who were not physically present, a natural consequence of the ex parte nature of the proceedings. This particular court list, comprising 102 pages of unopposed docket matters, contained not a single reference to any ex parte or in camera proceedings on that day. My personal experience, while subject to non-disclosure principles, provides a strong empirical basis for my assertion. Your reference to “THE REQUESTED MATTER” not appearing on the Criminal Door Sheets on September 23, 2024, is therefore taken in stride and understood within the context of these legal principles.

Conclusion

For the sake of complete transparency and to substantiate my identity as the accused and my connection to the locus of the seized property, I have appended two pieces of identification:

- My passport; and
- My driver’s license.

I thank you in advance for your accommodation in light of my disabilities.

I kindly request your response by 1 p.m. today, as my authorized transcriptionist requires the ordering information forthwith to finalize the remaining transcript.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter.

Subject: Comprehensive, Restated, Clarified, and Particularized Request for Court Documents, Information, and Records Pertaining to TPS Occurrence Number 2024-2028093 (The "September 15 TPS Tang Police Case ID") and the first occurrence number (see: Appendix #3) made, as required, to the "Originating Courthouse" (depending on a de facto vs. de jure analysis)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

This communication is tendered on grounds of lawful authority, and it is with a profound commitment to procedural fairness and the transparent administration of justice that it is composed this day. This letter, which shall be regarded as a restated and particularized request, incorporates by reference all previous correspondence relating to material facts and law, thereby establishing a cumulative record of all relevant communications. Furthermore, all previous definitions are hereby adopted where applicable, while a novel factual dimension is introduced, a circumstance that necessitates the present clarification and renewed application. It is the sincere aspiration that this correspondence will serve to facilitate a prompt and cooperative resolution to the extant issue, thereby obviating the necessity for further legal process. The underlying principle guiding this request is lex specialis derogat legi generali, whereby a specific, fact-based request, grounded in a particularized entitlement, takes precedence over general policies of public access, a jurisprudential tenet of paramount importance in the equitable dispensation of justice.

Some definitions are required in light of the “MAG CSD Access Documents Guide” (or “Policy”)

- a. “Must” is equivalent to “shall” which is an imperative and mandatory.
- b. “Facilitate” is defined as: to make something possible or easier
- c. “Access” is defined as: obtain, examine, or retrieve (data or a file).
- d. “Quickly” is defined as: with little or no delay; promptly.
- e. “Efficiently” is defined as: in a way that achieves maximum productivity with minimum wasted effort or expense.
- f. “Court documents” are distinct from “court files”

The Epiphany of New Information and Its Consequent Clarification

This communication is predicated upon new information that has been obtained from the Toronto Police Service (“TPS”) Public Email Management Unit (“PEMU”) as of yesterday’s date. I have been furnished with the September 15 TPS Tang Police Case ID, specifically:

- TPS Occurrence Number or Police Case ID #: 2024-2028093
- Date of Alleged Occurrence: Sunday, September 15, 2024
- Case Manager Police Officer: Mr. Eric Tang #10942
- Email Address: 10942@tps.ca
- Division of the TPS: 14th Division

This new intelligence provides the seminal distinction that clarifies the previous ambiguity and confusion that has pervaded my earlier attempts to access court records. As it was previously confirmed that there existed no records in relation to myself, Mr. Kevin A. McLean, on September 23, 2024, the newly ascertained date of September 15, 2024, now serves as the operative foundation for my present inquiry. This discovery is a critical juncture that resolves the logical impasse of prior searches. It is now palpably evident that the absence of records under a different date was not indicative of a lack of documentation, but rather a temporal misdirection rooted in a misunderstanding of the originating occurrence. The previous confusion, while understandable given the lack of specific information, served to create a procedural paradox in which the very information required to locate records could not be obtained without first locating the records themselves. The acquisition of this precise date and corresponding Police Case ID transforms a speculative inquiry into a direct, laser-focused request that allows for the efficient and targeted retrieval of the information to which a party is lawfully entitled, and which a principled judicial system is mandated to provide. This new evidence, when considered in the totality of circumstances, renders the prior lack of clarity moot and establishes a clear, unimpeachable pathway toward the necessary disclosure.

Legal and Procedural Principles Governing Access to Records

In making this non-FIPPA request, wherein the courts and judiciary retain supervisory control and custody over the records, documents, and information at issue, reliance is placed upon the foundational principles of openness and accessibility enshrined in the MAG CSD Document Access Guide. Section 1.1 of the Guide articulates that “Ontario’s court system is based on the fundamental principles of openness and accessibility. In general, most court documents are publicly accessible.” While this principle is generally applicable, the position of the undersigned is elevated beyond that of a mere member of the public. The undersigned possesses locus standi as the accused/litigant in the matter identified by the TPS Occurrence Number. Entitlement to access is therefore inherent and distinct. The court’s supervisory and protecting power over its records, as held by the Supreme Court of Canada, is a power exercised not to obscure but to ensure proper disclosure in the interests of justice, particularly to a party directly affected by the proceedings, as is the case in the present matter. This distinction is critical and finds its basis in a litigant's fundamental right to participate meaningfully in the legal process, a right that is directly and adversely affected by the unavailability of relevant court records.

- Syllogism Regarding the Pre-Enquête Hearing: Documents from a pre-Enquête hearing become publicly accessible once a defendant has been arrested or a summons has been served. An arrest was effected upon the undersigned on October 2, 2024, by the very division where Officer Eric Tang is located. A fortiori, the documents of the pre-Enquête hearing pertaining to the September 15 TPS Tang Police Case ID are therefore accessible to the undersigned as the accused. The argument that the hearings were in camera or ex parte does not defeat this entitlement, as those restrictions are aimed at the public, not the direct party to the matter. The very purpose of sealing pre-Enquête documents is to protect the integrity of a nascent investigation and prevent the potential for flight of the accused. Once that purpose has been abrogated by the fact of an arrest, the countervailing principle of the accused's right to be heard and to confront the information against him—a fundamental tenet of audi alteram partem—takes precedence. Any continued withholding of these documents from the accused, once process has issued and an arrest has been effected, would constitute an egregious and unjustifiable breach of procedural rights, running counter to the foundational principles of due process as codified in the Charter.
- Extrapolation of the Imperative for Timeliness: Section 1.3 of the Guide mandates that court staff "must facilitate access to court files and documents as quickly and efficiently as possible." The word "must" is an imperative, akin to "shall," signifying a mandatory obligation that admits of no discretion or qualification. The definitions of "facilitate," "access," "quickly," and "efficiently" collectively point to a mandatory duty to make the requested records available without undue delay or wasted effort. To "facilitate" is an active verb, denoting an obligation to make a process easier and more streamlined for the requester. "Access" is not merely the right to view, but the right to "obtain, examine, or retrieve." The conjunctions "quickly" and "efficiently" impose a temporal and practical imperative that requires a proactive rather than a passive response, thereby ensuring that the principles of timeliness are not merely aspirational but actionable. The ongoing judicial review, which requires a hearing to be scheduled within 30 days of service upon the relevant judges (no later than August 6, 2025), accentuates the urgent necessity of this request. To date, this imperative has not been met, thereby creating a procedural lacuna that could lead to a multiplicity of proceedings. The provision of the documents forthwith would serve the best interests of the administration of justice by avoiding further procedural delays and the unnecessary expenditure of judicial and litigant resources. This is not merely a matter of convenience but a matter of fundamental procedural integrity, ensuring that the wheels of justice are not impeded by administrative inertia.
- Arguments on Search Warrants and General Warrants: Section 2.2.4 of the MAG CSD Document Access Guide states that search warrants are not necessarily tied to a specific individual. My request for documentation is not predicated on the name of the accused, but rather on the location searched (my residence at 410-775 King Street West, Toronto) and the date of the search, which is surmised to be on or around Friday, September 20, 2024. The distinction between a search warrant and a general warrant is a key factor herein. A general warrant, as described in the Guide and in sections 487.01(1) of the Criminal Code, permits an investigative technique that would otherwise violate section 8 of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The fact that an arrest was effected and property was taken from the residence makes it self-evident that a warrant of some nature was issued and executed. This logical extrapolation is further supported by the police's representation of a "no further action" (NFA) status, which ironically harmonizes with the use of a general warrant, as such a warrant permits the seizure of property without the immediate need to lay charges. Given that a general warrant is a more intrusive measure that permits a search of property and seizure of items that would otherwise be a Charter violation, the records pertaining to such an action are of paramount importance for the affected party to access and review. As no restrictions, such as a sealing order, have been placed on these records, the entitlement to full access is unassailable. The Criminal Code delineates a variety of judicial officers who may issue such warrants, from a justice of the peace to a judge, thereby making it incumbent upon the court to identify the relevant judicial officer and provide the corresponding documentation. The refusal to provide this information would effectively render the warrant a secret, a concept anathema to the principles of a transparent justice system. For your ease of reference, a selection of relevant warrant types has been appended hereto as Appendix #1.

Particularized Request for Information and Documentation

With the aforementioned legal principles and newly acquired information as the foundation, a combination of data is now provided that is more than sufficient to facilitate the expeditious identification of the records sought. This is in accordance with Section 2.7 of the MAG CSD Document Access Guide:

- Individual Concerned: Kevin A. McLean (also known as Kevin A. Lane), DOB: March 25, 1983, Place of Birth: Vancouver, BC.
- Address of Offence: 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3.
- Driver's Licence: M16514331830325 (fixed address contained therein).
- Date of Alleged Offence: Sunday, September 15, 2024.
- Police Officer: Mr. Eric Tang #10942.

Pursuant to the principles enumerated in the MAG CSD Document Access Guide, and particularly as the undersigned is the accused, entitlement to receive copies of informations and signed endorsements without charge is affirmed. It is axiomatic that an individual cannot be required to prove a negative by providing a record that does not exist in their possession; thus, it is incumbent upon the court to confirm the existence of these documents.

Therefore, it is respectfully submitted that an obligation is mandated to provide a copy of any informations (as per Criminal Code Form 2) associated with either the September 15 TPS Tang Police Case ID or the subsequent TPS Occurrence Number (24-2082035), with reference to the name, address, or as part of a general warrant. Furthermore, a copy of any endorsement or warrant of any kind signed by the presiding judicial officer in relation to this matter is requested. As the presiding judicial official has been represented to have been Madam Justice Shore, the only outstanding element required to identify the records is the specific date of issuance. This date is respectfully requested to be provided. It is to be noted that access is not being sought for digital recordings at this time, but rather for the documents and endorsements which are subject to a different and more accessible regime.

Enclosed Documentation

The following are enclosed as follows: (1) Driver's License; (2) passport for security and verification purposes. These documents are provided to further substantiate identity and to serve as verification.

Conclusion

Appendix #1 outlines where applicable an SCJ Judge, OCJ Judge and/or Justice of the Peace have statutory authority to conduct an intake court, pre-enquête, ex parte, in camera proceeding naturally laid by telecommunication i.e. absent filing of said document, but naturally and inevitably leads to an endorsed search warrant.

Section 487.1 of the Criminal Code was amended significantly in 2022.

Appendix #2 provides a detailed analysis of the issues with the False Information Package and why Ms. Azim of the SCJ RMO have readily admitted that my Transcript Order Form that the only issue, which I disagree with, was that of "date range" (August 2024 to October 2, 2024). We have now narrowed the scope of the same with this new intelligence relating to DC Eric Tang and that occurrence number with occurrence date.

Based on the provided letter, and request, I am seeking the following specific documents and information:

- Dates of pre-Enquête, ex parte, or in camera hearings related to the September 15, 2024, TPS occurrence and the second TPS occurrence number.
- Copies of any informations (Criminal Code Form 2) filed in connection with this occurrence (Eric Tang on September 15, 2024) and others.
- Copies of any endorsements or warrants of any kind, particularly any general or search warrants, that were signed by a presiding judicial official in relation to this matter.
- The specific date of issuance for the aforementioned warrants, as well as the name of the judicial official who approved them.
- Any and all other documents, files, papers, and information assets related to this case, from either the Superior Court of Justice Criminal Intake or Divisional Court, for which you have a lawful entitlement to access as the accused/litigant. This includes any documents or information in connection with the technological requirements to set up the laying of telecommunication information including emails, notes to file, et al.

The letter asserts that due to my status as the accused in the first and second occurrence numbers or police case ID with the TPS, I am entitled to this information and these documents without incurring any copy fees, as specified in the MAG CSD Document Access Guide. The core of the request is to obtain these records to move forward with the matter and to resolve the "procedural lacuna" caused by the lack of clear, specific intelligence until that which was obtained until yesterday.

I am also seeking any and all information in relation to: Police Case Identification Number (contained on the Intake Court Endorsement [sic]): 457197.

Therefore, there are now three distinct numbers to cross-reference in the two TPS occurrence numbers and the Police Case ID.

Appendix #3 provides the two occurrence numbers of the TPS with dates of offences. This new intelligence with the first TPS occurrence number provides unequivocal intelligence to ensure that I receive all relevant documents, information, information assets et al upon request.

Appendix #4 is a copy of the email involving Ms. Azim to my retained and paid in advance ACT.

As the SCJ Divisional Court has confirmed that it received copies of my NOA #1 of July 10, 2025, for personal service on Justice Shore or any other judge who was in his or her Divisional Court rotation at the time, personal service was effected no later than August 6, 2025.

Final conviction is held that the proper discharge of judicial and administrative duties will lead to an expeditious and equitable resolution.

I will continue to be available to provide any further responses or clarification if required. If I do not hear from you I will presume that none will be required.

Should I not receive a response by four p.m. tomorrow, then I will presume that I will need to escalate further.

Sincerely,

/KAM

Mr. Kevin A. McLean

Appendix #2: Detailed Analysis of the False Information Package

A meticulous examination of the five-page False Information Package has revealed no fewer than 41 internal and external errors and inconsistencies, and corroborative evidence, of the SCJ Judge (undenied by various persons in various courthouses and court levels to be Madam Justice Shore but nonetheless the Applicant is not required to guess per se but rather entitled to the name of the court reporter along with any other particulars and information so that ATOs can be perform their authorized work and the Applicant tenders a transcript of the portion of the criminal proceeding in question) in this Amended Order Form through no fault of the ordering party or the ATO. By way of illustrative, albeit brief, examples (based on the document metadata from the Ontario Court of Justice, 10 Armoury, which appears to have been generated by GrapeCity, Inc., specifically GrapeCity.Documents.PDF.6.0.2.0), the following deficiencies are enumerated:

1. The footer on pages 1 and 5 of 5 is demonstrably different from the footer on page 2 of 5.
2. Page 1 of 5 erroneously includes two commas following “NFA [sic]” where the undersigned’s address, 410-775-King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3, was presumably entered.
3. NFA is also an error considering the reference to the Applicant’s driver’s license number on page 5 of 5 of the False Information Package.
4. A superfluous numeral “(1)” precedes my name on page 1 of 1.
5. The placement of the date of birth on page 1 of 1 is incorrect, as the standard format mandates “address” preceding “date of birth.”

The date of birth itself is rendered incorrectly on page 1 of 1, as it fails to adhere to the required format of ‘(day/jour) (month/mois) year/année’.

6. The inclusion of “Count 1” implies the existence of “other counts,” a premise inconsistent with the document’s content and the provisions of section 788 and subsequent sections of the Criminal Code.
7. Under the heading ‘[Accused/Accusé]’, the required “Last Name, First Name” and (nom, prénom) is conspicuously absent.

8. The phrase “end of charges/counts” constitutes an improper input and is not a component of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
9. Page 2 of 5 contains an improper header, displaying “R. v. McLean, Kevin” with a Toronto Police Service (“TPS”) occurrence number, which is identical to the one found on the Undertaking Form 10 dated October 2, 2024. Notably, there was no fictitious Police Case ID from the 14th Division TPS on October 2, 2024 (evening).
10. The jurat on page 2 of 5 is improperly located and legally impermissible, as it appears on a separate page from the text to which it pertains.
11. The footer is incorrect, as it fails to include a single space between the “e” and the preceding “C” (i.e., “C-e” instead of “C e”) in the form designation (rev. 10/20).
12. The accents on the four “e’s” are incorrectly oriented, presenting as ‘accents graves’ rather than the requisite ‘accents aigus’. This is explicitly evident in the phrase “This document has been digitally signed / Ce document a été signé numériquement,” which utilizes an 8-point Arial font. For corroboration, please refer to page 5 of 5 of the False Information Package, which correctly displays ‘accents aigus’ (x 4) and a different font.
13. Furthermore, when the False Information Package is printed in “grayscale (black and white)” and “save toner mode,” the only footer that remains legible is that on page 2 of 5. This phenomenon provides conclusive evidence that, while pages 1 and 2 of 5 of the electronically submitted Form 2 Information package may have been digitally signed by Court Officer (“CO”) Frugoni-Rojas on September 23, 2024, the document as a whole is characterized by missing text and false documentation.
14. The designation “Police Case ID:457197” on page 3 of 5 constitutes a false case identification number, as the standard data input requires a two- or four-digit year string, followed by a hyphen, and then seven (7) digits, not six (6).
15. The phrase “Intake Court Endorsement” is standard terminology within family law for lawyers, paralegals, and judges. A judge with a background and experience in criminal law would not commit this error.
16. Given the acknowledged exclusion of The Honourable Madam Justice Kraft, Justice Shore is the only other federally appointed Superior Court of Justice judge in the Toronto Region with an exclusively family law background who has exclusively rendered family court decisions since 2018 while sitting as a judge in the Superior Court of Justice (Criminal) Toronto Courthouse.
17. The deployment of “Intake Court Endorsement” terminology appears to be a deliberate diversion from the jurisdictional authority of a Superior Court of Justice or Divisional Court judge, as per section 18 of the Courts of Justice Act (“CJA”).
18. Similarly, the omission of the city in which the authorizing, giving, and issuing judge was located (i.e., the Toronto Region) further supports this inference.
19. This omission is likely predicated upon the quasi-provincial statutory language within the CJA concerning the designation of a Superior Court of Justice judge to the Divisional Court by the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice.
20. While the Criminal Code supersedes the CJA (i.e., federal law is paramount to provincial law via the “Paramountcy Doctrine”), it is plausible that an internal, and perhaps non-public, practice exists whereby Divisional Court judges are precluded from reverting to their previous areas of adjudication at 361 University Avenue (Superior Court of Justice, Criminal and Family Courthouse) for ex parte and in camera hearings after their designation to the Divisional Court (Toronto Region). Although statutorily permissible under the Criminal Code, such a practice would constitute a breach of internal requirements and designations and raise concerns regarding the prudent expenditure of federal taxpayer funds if a designated Divisional Court (Toronto Region) judge were to become judicially involved in matters outside their designated scope at the Divisional Court.

21. Errors in grammar, spelling, and phrasing, such as “This Information is Accepted [sic] on its face,” are indicative of a court officer, not a TPS detective, such as 52nd Division Detective Abdul Virani (referencing page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package).
22. The inclusion of a French translation under the dating and location (Ontario only) on page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package was not required.
23. Moreover, the unauthorized TPS transcriber erred by omitting “jour” and “de” after the “23” for “day of.”
24. The TPS transcriber further erred with respect to “Fait à/au:” when it should have been “Fait à (au):”.
25. Additionally, the text should properly read “Dated At City of Toronto” followed by “...in the Province of Ontario.”
26. These discrepancies constitute further corroborative evidence that the TPS attempted to obfuscate the origin of the document.
27. The phrase “This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement” on page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package has incorrect bolding of the English component and an improperly included period. While the accents are correct (i.e., ‘aigu’), this demonstrates that pages 1 and 2 of 5 were manipulated by the TPS (and not by the court site or the venue of adjudication, warrant, determination, or order issuance).
28. The phrase “This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement” should be located in the footer, not in the middle of page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package.
29. An erroneous footer, which is a reproduction of the header from page 1 of 5 of the False Information Package, further points to common errors caused by GrapeCity applications, particularly GrapeCity.Documents.PDF.
30. Page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package is not a constituent part of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
31. The inclusion of “Intake Court Endorsement” by TPS manipulation is predicated on a diversion to Justice of the Peace George Jiri, who was not the presiding judicial official and did not digitally or otherwise sign said page 3 of 5.
32. It is a matter of public record that all “intake” at the Ontario Court of Justice level has been conducted through the Criminal E-Intake Portal on a province-wide basis since 2022. This portal facilitates real-time communication between the Justice of the Peace and law enforcement, and all documents processed are digitally signed.
33. Ergo, Justice of the Peace Jiri was not the “presiding official.” This conclusion is further buttressed by the removal of page 4 of 6 from the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package, a removal consistent with the involvement of a Judge exclusively.
34. The “e” in the form designation may also refer to an “e-indictment.” If this is the case, it is consistent with the Superior Court of Justice, 361 University Avenue, representing to an authorized agent for service that there was no “arrest warrant” (i.e., an unendorsed arrest warrant), while not denying that a Form 2 Information was submitted or laid via telecommunications.
35. While the Form 2 may have been filed, a critical distinction exists between “filing” and “laying.”
36. Furthermore, if pages 1 and 2 were indeed manipulated, the retention of a copy of the authentic document, as it existed on September 23, 2024, by the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse, Criminal (Room 241: Criminal Intake Office) would be problematic. The question arises as to who would address this issue. It is presumed this responsibility would fall to a court officer or court liaison.
37. It is noteworthy that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, without any prior acquaintance with the undersigned, served as the head of security at 361 University Avenue in mid-June 2025 and directed the undersigned to the precise room to obtain a copy of an arrest warrant.

38. Similarly, CO Frugoni-Rojas was present at the security area of the Divisional Court Toronto Region on July 6, 2025, and was able to direct the undersigned to the correct location for Room 174 for serving of a judge of the Divisional Court, at the material time even if antiquated or no longer present therein.

39. The Criminal Proceedings Rules for the Superior Court of Justice stipulate that “4.10 Indictments, including e-indictments, shall be submitted to the Court electronically by email or such other electronic filing platform as may be adopted by the Court.” Accordingly, the document may be merely an “Information” and not an “indictment.” Nonetheless, if it were an “Information,” being a Form 2 Information Package per se, it could be laid by telecommunication and previously made by declaration rather than oath.

40. Page 3 of 6 of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package has been rearranged to page 4 of 5 in the False Information Package, while page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package is improperly formatted.

41. Page 4 of 6 of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package is absent from the False Information Package. This omission is consistent with the involvement of a Superior Court of Justice Judge or a Divisional Court Judge, whose nomenclature would be utilized pursuant to section 18 of the CJA, in completing the relevant Form 7 “Warrant for Arrest” under the Criminal Code. Furthermore, if a warrant was also issued under section 487 of the Criminal Code, then the signing of said ‘search warrant’ or other authorization, order, et al. would be governed by whatever parliamentary statutory form was required.

42. Page 4 of 6 would also have been required for Crown Election, which was summarily conveyed via email by the assigned Crown counsel in late 2024.

43. This enumeration of deficiencies is not exhaustive, as a comprehensive list extends beyond the purview of the present order form, which is intended solely to facilitate the procurement, in good faith, of the names of the court reporters. (No aspersions are cast upon said court reporter, as he or she was merely discharging their required duties.)

SUBJECT: Formal Communication Regarding Procedural Suspension of a Bench Warrant (Justice Block on June 11, 2025 in OCJ 10 Armoury Road) by operation of law - kindly update your internal TPS records

VOLUME I: PREFATORY REMARKS

This instrument of correspondence is herewith dispatched as a direct and formal follow-up to a substantive and collegial oral discourse conducted on the date of yesterday, August 30, 2025, with Police Officer Mr. Geoffrey Jolly of the 14th Division. The singular purpose of this communication is to ensure an absolute and unequivocal procedural clarity, thereby preventing any administrative lacuna that might inadvertently arise between the issuance of a bench warrant, purportedly by the Honourable Mr. Justice Block, and the subsequent filing and service of a Notice of Application. The professional deportment and diligent efforts of Police Officer Jolly in providing essential information pertaining to the TPS occurrence number 2024-2028093 are duly acknowledged. This communication is issued, ex abundanti cautela, with a pure and unmitigated abundance of caution to preempt any potential procedural irregularities or a subsequent miscarriage of justice. The transmission of this document is undertaken pro bono publico, with the objective of supporting the integrity of the judicial and law enforcement systems by ensuring that all parties operate from a foundation of current and accurate information. The gravity of this matter is magnified by the potential for an administrative oversight to result in a substantial infringement of fundamental rights and freedoms, thereby necessitating this proactive intervention. The factual and legal framework upon which this missive is predicated stands as a testament to the meticulous efforts undertaken to ascertain the precise status of the aforementioned judicial instrument.

I provide this letter as per my cordial communications with Police Officer Jolly and I thank him for bringing this to my attention.

VOLUME II: ADOPTION OF PRIOR COMMUNICATIONS AND DEFINITIONS

For the avoidance of doubt, it is explicitly confirmed that the entirety of all antecedent and extant correspondence, inter alia, the Notice of Application filed on July 10, 2025, is adopted and relied upon. All material facts and legal principles delineated within those prior communications are hereby incorporated by reference as if fully set forth herein. Furthermore, all definitions and interpretations previously employed in communications, where applicable, are likewise adopted for the purposes of this present missive. This communication is delivered upon grounds of lawful authority and obligation, serving as an official legal notice to all named recipients. The procedural act of incorporating these prior documents is a critical measure to establish a comprehensive and continuous record of all related proceedings. In essence, this communication serves to consolidate and clarify all legal filings and actions taken to date, ensuring that the collective body of evidence and argument forms a cohesive whole.

VOLUME III: SUBSTANTIVE MATTERS AND PROCEDURAL CLARIFICATION

A discourse on the date of yesterday brought to the fore a reference to a bench warrant of which there was previous cognizance, ostensibly issued on June 11, 2025. While a delving into the substantive merits of the same is unnecessary at this juncture, the procedural implications are of paramount concern. As is undoubtedly known, the Criminal Proceeding Rules of the Superior Court of Justice of Ontario are, prima facie, unequivocal. Specifically, Rule 43.03(5) states, in haec verba, that service of a notice of application to quash suspends the proceedings which are the subject of the application. The import of this rule is that the very act of service, and not a subsequent judicial order, operates to render the underlying process ipso facto inoperative and without legal effect. This suspension is a statutory mandate, not a discretionary measure subject to further judicial approval. It operates to freeze the effects of the warrant pending a full hearing of the application to quash.

It is hereby recorded that the service of the aforesaid Notice of Application was effected upon the Superior Court of Justice on July 11, 2025. This action was taken in strict compliance with Rule 5.02(1)(c), which mandates personal service upon a judge by the leaving of a copy of the document with a person in charge of the court office in the location where the adjudication was rendered. The personal service upon the pertinent presiding justice, the Honourable Mr. Justice Block was subsequently completed in the same temporal window. The suspension of the operation of the bench warrant by Mr. Justice Block has been in place for approximately fifty days. A prior attempt to appear before the court via Zoom was unsuccessful, as admittance was not, for whatever reason, provided by the clerk.

As per my countless other appearances prior to that date, I take attending court very seriously and appearing on time and at the relevant time.

Notably, the court docket list was scheduled for Room 702 and I attended via Zoom to that location but I was not on that docket. I then attended a courtroom on the 8th level, all via Zoom, and I had an exchange with Crown Counsel. He, not the court staff, provided me with a link to the courtroom for Justice Block and I waited, which was confirmed by evidence under oath, for three hours to be let in.

Moreover, subsequent to the filing and service of the Notice of Application, protracted and meticulous investigations led to the identification of an SCJ Judge who presided over certain undisclosed authorizations related to the aforementioned TPS occurrence. As a consequence, personal service upon this judge was effected on August 6, 2025. Pursuant to the Criminal Proceeding Rules, the Notice of Application is now required to be heard within thirty days of this final service. The substance of the Notice of Application, as previously communicated, is to seek an assortment of remedies inter alia declarations, writs of prerogative, and determinations at common law or in equity, all of which pertain to undisclosed and unprovided warrants and authorizations. It is imperative to distinguish this from an appeal, wherein a motion for a stay or suspension would be a prerequisite; in this circumstance, the service of the Notice of Application itself operates, a fortiori, as a suspension of the proceedings which gave rise to the bench warrant. By the doctrine of paramountcy, these federally created rules take precedence over any potentially conflicting provincial statutes or regulations.

VOLUME IV: ANALYSIS OF JURISDICTION AND PROCEDURAL MATTERS

As such, and considering the numerous facts of an uncontroverted nature, prima facie (on their face) and by deduction, including the reference to R. v. McLean on the second page of the False Information Package (perhaps a clerical or tech error on part of the court staff), it is posited that there was a prior to September 23, 2024, ex parte in camera hearing. This may have been in the nature of a search warrant, general warrant, and/or other type of authorization, warrant, et al under section 487 of the Criminal Code. The Notice of Application #1 of July 10, 2025, contemplates and seeks a variety of orders in the form of declarations, royal prerogative writs, determinations, and findings at common law, equity, or otherwise, in relation to unknown, undisclosed, and unprovided authorizations, warrants, or extensions of the same. Upon personally serving a branch of the SCJ by its referenced name by statute of “Divisional Court” and a specified SCJ Judge (see: section 18 of the Courts of Justice Act) who was in his/her rotation by designation of the Chief Justice of the SCJ by statute, there was some pushback about the jurisdiction of the Divisional Court.

It was confirmed without objection that the issue, at law, was not the jurisdiction of the Divisional Court under provincial statute, but the jurisdiction of the SCJ Judge at issue at the time of the issuing of various orders. As such, said SCJ Judge, who is also a judge of the Divisional Court at all times by statute, with the practice being rotations by designation, had authority by federal statute, and pursuant to the “paramountcy doctrine,” which requires the federal statute to be paramount to provincial statutes, to grant the unknown orders, determinations, et al.

As is known from the creation and declaration of Criminal Code Form 2 Informations by such a declaration (see: section 508.1(2) of the Criminal Code), which must produce a writing, those Form 2 Informations are laid by audioconference or videoconference. The standard practice is an alternative recording provider. As such, the presiding SCJ Judge in the Toronto Region (not Central West Region and certainly not OCJ Brampton Courthouse and certainly not JP Jiri) had a criminal and/or family bent, which renders their main office at 361 University Avenue SCJ. However, by practice, those in their Divisional Court rotation have ad hoc or temporary offices at the Divisional Court of 130 Queen Street West (Osgoode Hall).

It is notable that the Chief Justice and Associate Chief Justice of the Superior Courts of Justice (“SCJ”) are located at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario, which houses the Divisional Court, ONCA, and the LSO. The latter is not relevant. However, the RSJ of the Toronto Region (Mr. Justice Firestone) is located at 361 University Avenue. Both the CJ of the SCJ (Honourable Justice Morawetz) and the ACJ of the SCJ (Honourable Judge Faye E. McWatt) could by the Criminal Code grant an arrest warrant or a summons and any authorizations, orders, warrants, et al under section 487.

The SCJ has 3 specialized branches:

- Unified Family Court
- Divisional Court, which hears:
 - certain types of civil, family, and child protection appeals and, where applicable, motions for leave to appeal of these matters
 - most applications for judicial review
 - certain statutory appeals from decisions of provincial administrative tribunals
- Small Claims Court, which hears:
 - actions where the claim is solely for money or recovery of possession of personal property valued up to $35,000
 - receives tribunal and OCJ orders valued up to $35,000 for filing and enforcement through the Small Claims Court (SCC, Bailif f)

Ontario’s SCJ sits in over 50 court locations across the province, with its headquarters at Osgoode Hall in Toronto. The Chief Justice of the SCJ, Geoffrey B. Morawetz, was appointed on June 27, 2019. The Chief Justice of the SCJ is supported by Associate Chief Justice Faye E. McWatt. As well as performing statutory responsibilities, the associate chief justice performs duties assigned by the chief justice, including oversight of the Bankruptcy Court, Divisional Court and the Small Claims Court (SCC). Since 2017, there has been a provincially appointed SCC administrative judge. The current SCC Administrative Judge is Justice Laura Ntoukas. The senior family judge provides advice to the chief justice on matters pertaining to the family court and performs other duties relating to family justice throughout the province, as assigned by the chief justice. Senior Family Justice Suzanne M. Stevenson is the current senior family judge.

In addition to statutory responsibilities under various federal and provincial laws, the chief justice of the SCJ has the statutory authority to direct and supervise the sittings of the court, as well as the assignment of judicial duties. These powers are delegated, subject to the direction of the Chief Justice, to 8 Regional Senior Judges (RSJs) to exercise in their respective regions. In turn, the RSJs may designate Local Administrative Judges (LAJs) or lead judges to assign and schedule cases at certain court sites.

(<https://www.ontario.ca/document/2023-2024-court-services-division-annual-report/introduction-ontarios-courts>)

The question turned on where they would be de jure if they granted such a process, order, determination, et al. It is a nuanced question, but it is nonetheless a moot one because the SCJ Toronto Region 361 University Avenue is required to have the Notice of Application #1 heard.

VOLUME V: EXPLICIT STATEMENT REGARDING COMPLIANCE AND SELF-PRESERVATION

It is duly appreciated that the Toronto Police Service does not receive immediate notification from the courts regarding the procedural suspension of such judicial instruments. Consequently, the impetus behind this communication is to provide due notice, bona fide, to preclude any administrative error that might lead to an unwarranted arrest, a grave violation of due process, and a potential dereliction of duty. A physical copy of this correspondence shall be retained upon my person at all times for presentation to any TPS officer who may be labouring under the misconception that an active bench warrant remains in effect. In such an event, reliance shall be placed upon this document and the relevant principles of law, with objection to any such arrest being a matter of pure self-preservation and lawful authority. While DC Tang has not been copied, in deference to the representations made by Police Officer Jolly that no charges or warrants have arisen from the TPS occurrence, consideration shall be given to forwarding this letter to the SCJ 361 University Avenue Courthouse and the Special Motions Crown in due course. It may also be found necessary to supplement this missive with further documentation, should the circumstances so require. The purpose of this notification to other parties is not merely a formality but a necessary step to ensure that the procedural suspension is a matter of record across all relevant judicial and prosecutorial bodies, thus eliminating any ambiguity.

VOLUME VI: CONCLUDING REMARKS

While the ultimate outcome of the Notice of Application before the Superior Court of Justice cannot be predicted, confidence remains that the procedural law is aligned with my position. The status quo of the underlying warrant has been altered by operation of law, and it is trusted that this formal notification will be duly noted and acted upon within your systems. Availability remains should any further clarification be required. The receipt and consideration of this matter are duly acknowledged.

SUBJECT: A supplemental confirmation in Support of my Immediate Access to Sought Records under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA)

I. Introduction and Foundational Principles

Dear Sir/Madam/Other Gender-Neutral Pronoun:

This correspondence is tendered as an immediate and necessary augmentation to my initial request for access to personal information records, which was formally filed on July 29, 2025. The request was based on the principle that access to governmental information should be a matter of prompt and unreserved disclosure, in accordance with the spirit of the "access partnership" that underpins the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA). The rationale for the requested records, and to provide the Ministry with an unequivocal directive for their expeditious production. The collaborative ethos of the "access partnership" is a substantive commitment to transparency and accountability. A delay or refusal in providing access to information, particularly records of a personal nature, serves to undermine the government's demonstrable commitment to transparency, and any obstruction to this process, whether intentional or not, is a failure to uphold the principles of the FIPPA.

II. Procedural Timelines and Legal Standing

It is a legal axiom, as underscored by section 26 of FIPPA, that a response to an access request must be provided within thirty (30) days of its receipt. The Ministry of the Attorney General (MOAG) failed to do so. As of today's date, thirty-three (33) days have elapsed since the initiation of the statutory processing period. The Ministry's failure to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe is a breach of the FIPPA. This deemed refusal is not a mere technicality; it is a legal fiction that triggers a right of appeal and places the onus on the Ministry to justify its failure. The Ministry's failure to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe is a breach of the FIPPA. This deemed refusal is not a mere technicality; it is a legal fiction that triggers a right of appeal and places the onus on the Ministry to justify its failure.

I must unequivocally address the Ministry's purported request for clarification, conveyed via correspondence on July 29, 2025. This request, even if viewed in the most lenient light, is an attempt to circumvent the statutory deadline. The FIPPA does not contain a provision that permits the indefinite suspension of the thirty-day period for the purpose of seeking clarification. Any such pause would have, at most, been a temporary delay. Moreover, no formal extension of time was sought or obtained by the Ministry in accordance with section 27(1) of FIPPA. Section 27(1) of FIPPA requires the Ministry to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe. The Ministry's failure to do so is a breach of the FIPPA. The Ministry's failure to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe is a breach of the FIPPA. The Ministry's failure to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe is a breach of the FIPPA.

I shall now summarize the circumstances that have transpired to date. The Ministry sought clarification regarding the identity of specific court staff and the nature of the complexities, and confirmed the identities of various individuals and the relevant court file numbers. I also provided a summary of the records sought, including the existence of a Form 2 Information from a Ms. Frugoni-Rojas from the relevant period. These facts, and my provision of them, demonstrate the Ministry's pre-existing knowledge of the records sought. The Ministry's failure to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe is a breach of the FIPPA. The Ministry's failure to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe is a breach of the FIPPA. The Ministry's failure to provide a substantive response within the prescribed timeframe is a breach of the FIPPA.

III. The Doctrine of 'Control' and Jurisprudential Support

As to the legal principles governing the "control of a record" under FIPPA, I draw your attention to the landmark decision of the Ontario Court of Appeal in Ontario court, in interpreting section 10(1) of FIPPA, held that "control" is a broad and liberal concept, extending beyond mere physical possession. The court ruled that the I reporter because the tapes were created for the purpose of fulfilling the Board's statutory mandate to keep an accurate record. The court's reasoning was based on a principle by delegating tasks to independent contractors. This jurisprudential principle is of paramount importance; it prevents institutions from outsourcing their record-keeping

This principle, when extrapolated to the instant case, dictates that the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) has custody and control of any records created by administrative functions of the court are distinct from its adjudicative functions, a distinction meticulously articulated in the Information and Privacy Commissioner's report. In Beamish, the adjudicator found that the Ministry had custody and control of statistical reports used for administrative functions, even though the data originated from actual contents of any court file because they are not in fact copies" but rather "aggregate information and data" used for the Ministry's own administrative and prosecutive purposes. I claim a blanket exemption for records merely because they are related to the judiciary. The records I seek, which document the administrative actions of court staff and administrative data that falls outside the scope of judicial privilege and squarely within the Ministry's custodial and control duties.

It is crucial to underscore that documentation in the custody and/or control of MAG officers, supervisors, and managers within the Superior Courts of Justice and Ontario. These records may be physically located within a courthouse, their legal status is determined by their purpose and creator. The existence of MAG employees, including court staff, is within the Ministry's boundary. Documents that these individuals create or receive in their capacity as employees of the Ministry are administrative records of the Ministry. This reality, in my view, is under the control of both the Ministry (as the employer of the staff who created it) and the court (if the record is an integral part of an adjudicative function). However, FIPPA so long as an exemption does not apply.

IV. Statutory Framework for Record-keeping

The Ministry's duties concerning record-keeping are further substantiated by the Archives and Recordkeeping Act, 2006, S.O. 2006, c. 34, Sch. A. This statute requires that records be preserved in a useable form for the benefit of present and future generations" and in fostering "government accountability and transparency" (s. 1(a), (b)). The Act also sets out her duties, regardless of any other Act or privilege (s. 8(4)). This provides a compelling statutory basis for the principle articulated in Hale—that the government, defined as "a record made or received by a public body in carrying out the public body's activities" (s. 2(1)). My requested records, which document the activities of the Ministry, constitute a direct contravention of the Act's purpose to "foster government accountability and transparency" and "support effective government administration by promoting and facilitating the efficient and effective use of government resources."

Furthermore, the Disposal of Personal Information, R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 459, under FIPPA imposes specific duties upon the Ministry. Pursuant to section 2(1), after the destruction of personal information, the Ministry must ensure that the information is not destroyed or transferred to the Archives and the date of that destruction or transfer" (s. 6(1)). I therefore submit that, in addition to the records of personal information, as they too are public records within the Ministry's control. This provides an additional, self-evident category of records to which I am entitled, in my view.

V. Specific Categories of Records and Corresponding Arguments

I must unequivocally confirm that no further fees have been requested, nor can they be legally requested at this stage of the process. My initial payment of the prescribed fee was duly tendered on July 18, 2025. This payment fulfilled the statutory requirement to submit a request for access to personal information. The aforementioned Regulation, section 6 and 6.1. However, these are fees for the production and provision of access to records, not for the administrative act of processing a request. Consequently, the Ministry's decision to grant access to the records and has provided a cost estimate, in accordance with section 57 of FIPPA. The absence of a fee estimate, or any other formal notification, is a procedural deficiency. Any attempt to solicit a deposit under section 7(1) of the Regulation would be similarly premature and without legal basis.

The following categories of records, by virtue of this jurisprudential principle and the statutory obligations, are unequivocally within the custody and control of the Ministry and are therefore accessible to me:

- 1. Administrative Records for Tele-Warrant Application by TPS, AG or AG's agent: This category encompasses internal documents, email correspondence, assignment, and coordination of the ex parte and in camera tele-warrant application on or about September 23, 2024. These records include, but are not limited to, the judicial availability, and the administrative authorization of a court officer to appear before a judicial officer. These are not adjudicative records but rather administrative records of the Ministry's administrative mandate for the "administration of the courts" under the Ministry of the Attorney General Act, and thus fall within its custody and control.
- 2. Communications between Court Staff and Law Enforcement: This includes all records of communication, electronic or otherwise, that concern the coordination of the purpose of an ex parte and in camera administrative component. For instance, any internal memoranda or email exchanges between court staff and law enforcement are administrative records. They do not reveal the substance of judicial deliberations but instead document the ministerial actions taken to assist in the judicial process.
- 3. Digital Recordings and Transcripts: While the original digital recording of the criminal pre-enquête, ex parte, and in camera hearing is a record of the Ministry's undeniable role in its creation, maintenance, and eventual transcription. The steps taken by the Ministry to facilitate this record, such as the digital capture of the proceedings, are administrative in nature. I am cognizant of the fact that a court reporter was not present in the relevant room for the laying of the Form 2 Criminal Code Information, nor the transcription of the proceedings. This procedural deficiency does not, however, negate the existence of the digital record or the Ministry's control over it. The Ministry, through its obligation implicitly grants it a right of control over the means by which those records are created.
- 4. Records relating to Judicial Assignment in any proceedings involving myself (civil, criminal, divisional or otherwise as known to you): Any and all records relating to the assignment of judicial officers to the courts, it is a logical and necessary extrapolation of the Hale principle that the records of how it carries out this function are within its custody and control. The mechanisms of judicial management, which are firmly within the executive's sphere of responsibility.
- 5. Personal Information Records and Procedural History: The records sought, including those related to the unendorsed arrest warrant, the laying of the warrant, and the proceedings, are records of a personal information nature. Pursuant to sections 2 and 47 of FIPPA, an individual has a right of access to any personal information relating to a prosecution if all proceedings have not been completed does not apply in this instance, as these are personal information records that I am seeking in relation to an ongoing investigation, and the records sought here are of a historical, administrative nature, and therefore do not fall under that provision.

VI. Concluding Demands and Timeliness

I must reiterate that the underlying reality of the situation is that the majority, if not all, of these records should have been produced and provided within the thirty-day timeline. The Ministry has taken a position that the clarification request, which was not a bona fide request in the first instance, could halt the statutory timelines is a flagrant abuse of process.

Furthermore, none of the exemptions under FIPPA are applicable to these records, and the Ministry has failed to provide any valid basis for withholding them. As a result, the exemptions in the Act. To be clear, the exception under section 65(5.2) of FIPPA for records relating to a prosecution if all proceedings have not been completed does not apply.

I confirm my willingness to receive these records on a piecemeal basis to facilitate our continued collaboration in the spirit of the "access partnership." I trust that this and unreserved disclosure of all relevant records. Justice delayed, in this instance, is justice denied.

I confirm that this correspondence may be formalized on letterhead in due course and that a duty of confidentiality exists herein.

Yours sincerely,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: A Supplemental and Substantive Submission in Support of My Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) Request Pertain to "partnership" which is the antithesis of an adversarial relationship

Dear Sir/Madam/Other Gender-Neutral Pronoun:

This correspondence represents a meticulous augmentation of my previous request for records, meticulously constructed to provide an exhaustive and robust foundation for a collaborative ethos that undergirds our mutual responsibilities under the FIPPA regime. While a detailed compendium of the specific records sought intended to elucidate with syllogistic precision the intricate rationale for the requested records. These records are circumscribed in both scope and temporal dimension of significant public import.

Volume I: The Inextricable Intersections of Jurisdiction and Procedure but natural independence and distinctness of custody and control of records between the Courts and the MAG

1. The Nexus of Records: A Principled Distinction Between FIPPA and the Courts

I hereby re-affirm my prior filings or submitting of refined and/or further updated requests for non-FOI records with the following entities, a practice necessitated by the body:

- The Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division), located at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario M5G 1T3.
- The Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court (Toronto Region), located at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario M5H 2N5.

This bifurcated approach is indispensable, as it directly addresses the administrative and jurisdictional overlap that exists between the Ministry of the Attorney General's own extensive inquiries and a recent epiphany, that the originating jurisdiction is either the Superior Court of Justice at 361 University Avenue or, alternatively, the assumption that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore presided over a preliminary intake or pre-inquiry hearing, conducted via telecommunication, which did not give rise to a writing.

My renewed petition is predicated upon a recent epiphany, informed by extensive inquiries with various court offices and an authorized transcriptionist, that the document to be a transcript generated by an unauthorized individual, most likely a peace officer or police constable. This belief is fortified by a rigorous analysis of Sul enforcement in specific, exceptional circumstances where a telewarrant application does not produce a writing. This legal provision, however, is subject to stringent requirements.

2. The Pecuniary and Practical Imperatives of the MAG's Role

It is a well-established principle that while court staff are intrinsic to the daily operations and administrative function of the courts, they are nonetheless employed by the Public Service Employees Union (OPSEU). This distinction is pivotal, as it illuminates the administrative records, distinct from adjudicative records, that must, as an extreme improbability—nay, the logistical impossibility—that law enforcement could have submitted a complete information package within the brief ten-minute window of an arrest warrant.

The issuance of an arrest warrant via telewarrant under Subsection 487.1 is a procedure reserved exclusively for those exigent circumstances where it is impracticable to obtain a warrant. Code, places a high evidentiary burden on the applicant to articulate the specific particulars necessitating this expedited process. The purported issuance of an arrest warrant during a customary lunch hour recess, a logistical impossibility given the confluence of factors that would have been required: the identification and location of a presiding judge, the intricate series of events simply could not have transpired in the span of a single minute.

Furthermore, while the Originating Court Region and its Regional Senior Justice may assert that the assignment of a judge, and all communications and records supporting documentation and communications between the Regional Senior Justice and court staff would provide evidence of this assignment. These latter records are of equal force to the assignments of the Superior Court of Justice Presiding Judge in the criminal proceeding and the Judicial Review Proceeding.

Volume II: The Ineluctable Conclusions of Unassailable Fact

1. The Incontrovertible Falsity of the Information Package (the "False Information Package")

The written admission by Mr. Centre, an agent of the MAG, that the Ontario Court of Justice possesses no copy of a Form 2 Information from a Ms. Frugoni-Rojas in support of the arrest warrant. This conclusion is further buttressed by the absence of a digital signature, which would have been a mandatory procedural requirement for the Court's records. It must be authenticated by a verifiable signature; its absence is not a minor technicality, but an irrefutable indication of a fabricated document.

It is an axiomatic principle of legal procedure that the laying of information by telecommunication must nonetheless produce a writing. The evident manipulation of the process, furnishes a compelling motive for the impropriety. The absence of a digital signature where one would have been statutorily mandated provides an additional layer of scrutiny. These statutory requirements is not an innocent procedural mistake but a calculated departure from the due process of law.

2. The Syllogism of Judicial Assignment

My investigation has revealed that the Divisional Court is physically located at a different address than the Superior Court of Justice (Criminal). This architectural syllogism: if the Honourable Madam Justice Shore, a judge of the Superior Court of Justice who was then in her Divisional Court rotation, was the presiding judicial officer, then the records would be held by the Divisional Court.

It is for this reason that my access request extends to records held by the Divisional Court, as they would logically hold records of her judicial activities from that period. It was misrepresented to her, as I believe this was, is a linchpin in this narrative. The assignment of a judicial officer to a case often follows a logical, procedural path that demands scrutiny. The records will either confirm the conventional assignment process or, conversely, will reveal the irregular and suspect mechanisms by which Mr. Centre's request was processed.

Volume III: The Evolving Law of Telewarrants and its Implications for Records

The legal landscape governing telewarrants has undergone a material transformation, particularly in the period following the amendments to Subsection 487.1 of the Criminal Code. The records that an institution such as the MAG would have in its custody or control.

1. The Pre-2022 Regime: Impracticability to Appear Personally

Prior to the legislative amendments, the law on telewarrants, as documented in the provided Telewarrants (Until 2022) - Criminal Law Notebook, operated on the "impracticable to appear personally." The focus was on the officer's inability to be physically present before a justice. The documentation outlines a procedure which was required to "record[s] the application verbatim, in writing or otherwise, and certify the record or a transcription of it as to time, date and contents." This process was required. The MAG's records would therefore consist of communications and records that demonstrate the administrative process of locating a justice under these circumstances.

2. The Current Regime: Impracticability to Submit a Writing

The current iteration of Subsection 487.1, as provided in the section 487.1 of the Criminal Code, has subtly but profoundly shifted this legal test. It now focuses on the application by a means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing "only if it would be impracticable in the circumstances to submit the application in writing." This change creates a higher threshold for non-written applications as compared to the impracticability of a personal appearance to the impracticability of generating a written record.

Consequently, the types of administrative records held by the MAG would also have evolved. The current regime's preference for written submissions means that the MAG's records would consist of information packages. Even in cases where a non-written telecommunication is authorized, the new provision places a heightened onus on the judicial officer to ensure that the administrative records would thus contain communications related to this transcription process, including directives given to court staff or the applying officer. The records, in legal principle, are squarely in the custody and control of the Ministry.

Volume IV: The Legal Principles of Custody and Control

1. Jurisprudential Scrutiny of Judicial Records and FIPPA

The matter of whether court records fall within the "custody or control" of an institution has been the subject of considerable judicial and administrative scrutiny. In Order P-994, which, by reference to Order P-994, establishes that the courts and the judiciary are not "institutions" under the Act. Adjudicator John Higgins, citing Order P-994, contemplates that the courts and the judiciary... are to be set apart from other types of institutions and from the other branches of government generally" (see page 6 of the decision). That adjudicative records are not within the purview of a FIPPA request directed at the Ministry.

Furthermore, a specific policy referenced by the Ministry in its submissions, the Canadian Judicial Council's Model Policy for Access to Court Records in Canada, court staff. The CJC Model Policy, as noted in the OIPC Beamish Decision, states:

"The Council's Model Policy also makes clear that access to court records policies and over all control over court records and documents rests with the judiciary alone."

Any access policy developed by the judiciary on the basis of this model policy will be founded upon the inherent jurisdiction of the judiciary to maintain supervisory control over the court. The policy to the "court" does not include the administrative aspects of the court for which the executive branch of the government is responsible, but only the judiciary's records." [Emphasis added.] (p.1)

This excerpt is profoundly telling, as it confirms that the "administrative aspects of the court for which the executive branch of the government is responsible" are carried out by the court staff, who are employees of the MAG. This includes the very records I am seeking: notes on phone conversations, routing, verification, and the authentication of records.

2. A Crucial Distinction: Adjudicative vs. Administrative Privilege

While the common law recognizes a distinction between adjudicative privilege (also known as "Deliberative Privilege") and administrative privilege, this distinction is not "institution" under the Act. Nonetheless, for the sake of completeness and to pre-emptively address any potential objections, it is essential to delineate these concepts. Adjudicative privilege is a doctrine that protects the internal deliberations and communications of adjudicative bodies, such as courts and tribunals. Its purpose is to preserve the integrity and impartiality of the judicial decision-making process. This privilege is generally considered to be absolute in nature. In contrast, administrative privilege relates to the management of court operations. Its purpose is to safeguard the independence of the judiciary from external interference in its management. However, this privilege is not absolute.

As one court noted in a dissenting opinion on a similar issue:

"An important distinction must be drawn between the two types of judicial immunity. The privilege of the judiciary not to be questioned as to the decisions they administer, the courts, however, is not of the same fundamental importance and is qualified in nature. It is an adjunct to the adjudicative privilege."

This distinction highlights that while the judiciary's adjudicative function is almost entirely shielded, its administrative functions are not immune from scrutiny. It is the staff of the courts. Court staff are employees of the MAG, a designated "institution" under FIPPA. Consequently, there is no "court staff immunity" or "MAG immunity" for a qualified one, such as in the context of the tort of malicious prosecution, and is therefore inapposite to this administrative law framework.

3. Assignment and Composition of Panels

The minority opinion in MacKeigan was cognizant of the fact that matters such as the composition of a judicial panel should not be shielded from review. Testimonial concerns, such as the avoidance of a multiplicity of proceedings, must also be paramount. Where there is no threat of a civil suit against a justice, the administrative records sought. The competing interests become overwhelming when considering the following:

- The rights of a citizen who is injured as a result of judicial misconduct (or the appearance of it); and
- The public interest in the disclosure of relevant evidence.

Even in the context of a FIPPA request of a public institution, there would be compelling health or safety concerns for the Applicant, in his capacity as a requestor, communications between a judge and an email address were generic, such as with SCJF.toronto.CriminalIntale@ontario.ca, and contained no personal identifier vis the court staff.

4. The Attorney General's Role and the Corollary of Non-Exempt Acts

The obvious corollary of the principles discussed above is that acts which are not judicial pre-trials are not exempt from the access provisions of FIPPA. The Attorney General provides a clear basis for the existence of the records I seek. These responsibilities include:

- Chief Law Officer ("CLO") of the Government: As chief law officer, the Attorney General provides independent legal advice ("ILA") to the Government. The law is maintained and that government actions are legally and constitutionally valid.
- Criminal and provincial prosecution: The Attorney General is responsible for all criminal and provincial prosecutions.
- Legislative drafting: The Attorney General is responsible for legislative drafting.
- Civil litigation involving the government: The Attorney General is responsible for civil litigation involving the government.
- Administration of the courts: The Attorney General is responsible for the administration of the courts.
- Services delivered by the Ministry of the Attorney General: The Attorney General is responsible for the services delivered by the Ministry.
- Shall advise the heads of the ministries and agencies of Government upon all matters of law connected with such ministries and agencies.
- Shall conduct and regulate all litigation for and against the Crown or any ministry or agency of Government in respect of any subject within the authority of the Government.

As such, the court staff, in their capacity as agents of the MAG, must have custody and control of supporting documentation involving the issuance of an arrest routing of phone numbers after they had determined which judge had availability, and the aftermath. These records may overlap with the judiciary's records because of control of their records on their side. Email is a prime example of such a dual-custody arrangement.

Volume V: Concluding Demands and Timeliness

I confirm that my initial FIPPA request was filed and paid on July 18, 2025. Pursuant to the statutory timelines, the deadline for your response is a firm August 17, 2025, without further delay, lest it be interpreted as an unwillingness to cooperate.

This letter serves as a formal demand for an unequivocal statement, by no later than 3:00 P.M. on August 16, 2025, confirming or denying the existence of any records, the avoidance of any doubt, "control" in this context signifies the inherent and present ability to demand the production of said records, not merely the fact of a misapplication of the Act.

Naturally, the FRANK System with the SCJ will require the obtaining of paper copies of documents due to its lack of integration from an electronic standpoint. To be dealing with a body like the TPS who cannot even follow the basics of the Criminal Code, section 29 and others, I will stand corrected but only by records and not by

But it begs the obvious question: if JP Jiri was the authorizing justice or presiding judicial officer, which he was not, and he digitally signed the Intake Court Endorsement, would the TPS manipulate an Intake Court Endorsement? The question answers itself. Moreover, why would the TPS have an issue not providing me the name of the Simply put, the name of the Presiding Judge in my criminal proceeding on an ex parte and in camera hearing, whether transcribed or not (i.e. does or does not produce) and most simply put, who, how and when Madam Justice Shore was assigned in my JRPA Proceeding is a matter of which the MAG has custody and control of a labyrinthine and coming out on the other side that Madam Justice Shore intervened or was assigned to my JRPA Proceeding after already having been assigned to months before.

The open court principle, the Charter and our democracy require the production of what is ironically a narrow set of records over a narrow time period. I look for the future holds, I will nonetheless obtain the same through a variety of methods under FIPPA or not thereunder but justice delayed is justice denied.

I have my theories on motive as to why the False Document Package came to light but I am not required to determine motive but that may become apparent by the

Re: Abundance of caution relation to the sought Records , personal information in nature, under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act

Good Evening to you:

I am writing this correspondence with an abundance of caution, pursuant to our collaborative access partnership. Following further inquiries today—conducted no judicial venues—a salient and highly probable conclusion has emerged regarding the identity of the presiding judicial officer.

It has become conspicuously apparent, with profound gratitude for the candour and professionalism of the dedicated court personnel employed by the Ministry of Justice, a Justice of the Superior Court of Justice in the Toronto region. My forthcoming further iteration of the same merely expounding upon that which I am bringing this finding to your attention.

It is highly probable that Madam Justice Shore was in her Divisional Court rotation on or about September 23, 2024, a fact that, while not publicly documented, her jurisdictional breadth potentially encompasses a multiplicity of courthouses. While her principal venue is almost certainly 361 University Avenue, her Divisional Court pertinent time.

As you know, a judge of the Superior Court of Justice is also a judge of the Divisional Court pursuant to section 18 of the CJA but where said judge is notionally the same, albeit with the telewarrant process, it may be that it does not produce a writing, could be a technical one. As such, I confirm that my access request is for another region if that is what your search turns up.

Subsequent to highly productive telephone conversations with various court staff and quorum representatives at 361 University Avenue, it was definitively confirmed that writing but rather were laid telephonically. This elucidates the absence of a written record for the submission and filing of said documents, as well as the non-involvement of Justice for her invaluable clarification in this regard, and to Ms. Collie whose exemplary conduct in redirecting my inquiries was similarly impressive.

Therefore, to forestall any potential misunderstanding and to mitigate the expenditure of resources, it is my considered and reasonably grounded conviction that I am on September 23, 2024, between 12:40 PM and 12:59 PM. The logical corollary of this factual predicate is that no tangible court record or submitted material via audio conference record. Such a record would still fall squarely within the ambit of the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto region, which is the expansive jurisdiction

A fortiori, it is incumbent upon me to ensure that the capacious scope of my request is fully comprehended, thereby precluding a technically narrow interpretation of no records pertaining to the "tele-warrant" process. Such a response could arise if my initial request were perceived to be limited exclusively to 361 University Avenue

Based on the information I have now obtained, it is highly probable that your search will unearth records confirming Madam Justice Shore as the presiding judge. court staff directed the telephonic communication to her. While this refinement will not alter the ultimate discovery, it is my desideratum to provide this crucial clarification to facilitate a resolution within the statutory thirty-day timeframe. Such an outcome would allow me to confirm the closure of this access matter without the necessity

I express my gratitude for your time and anticipate our continued collaboration in the spirit of our access partnership. I will persist in exhausting all other avenues available procured therein.

I have not found any literature yet, at least publicly available, as to how a warrant or tele information is laid without it producing a writing per se (i.e. c intermediation by the court staff). It appears the Criminal Code and jurisprudence requires the latter but I am still researching. Nonetheless, the judiciary is requir MAG Court staff engaging in the liaising and facilitating of the same, it would records as well. They may be different but nonetheless there must be some record o

So while it would be somewhat strange for the Divisional Court to keep records of an intake proceeding involving one of its justices in that rotation, there is nothi case herein, imagine there were exigent circumstances that requires a SCJ Judge under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code and the issuing of a warrant or investi information (Form 2) via phone that does not produce a writing? Of course not as said justice could. The question as it relates to this FIPPA request is which cour the warrant via telecommunication or audioconference that does not produce a writing? I believe if we use Madam Justice Shore as the example that on Septe Ontario. In that vein, hence why the 361 University Avenue SCJ does not have any filed via email Form 2 Information packages and perhaps the Divisional Cou calls involving myself as those are records on that day in question because while such a hearing is ex parte and in camera, the reference is at that time. However 361 University Avenue or another courthouse in Toronto Region. I confirm that my access request has covered all of the above. Nonetheless, you can imagine t telephone conversations today along with that of the Divisional Court which has lied to me and misrepresented the law since late December 2024 and January 20 answered and produced by the access request.

Thank you for your professionalism and I bid you adieu.

- Subject III: AMBIT OF DEFINITIVE FRAME OF REFERENCE FOR TRANSCRIPTION REQUEST - COURTESY ASSISTANCE

Part 1: Salutation and Preliminary Matters

To the Esteemed Personnel of the Superior Court of Justice, Recording Management Office, Recording Management Coordinators and to Ms. Aversa,

1. This communication is submitted on the grounds of lawful authority, and its objective is to facilitate a cooperative and efficacious resolution materials requisite for transcription. It is imperative to state in limine that this correspondence reiterates, ratifies, and incorporates by reference a transmitted internally or externally, which bear upon the material facts and principles of law previously asserted. Furthermore, all definitions previous the purposes of this present communication, where applicable. It is further noted that all parties are bound by the statutory and common law duty to all is covered based upon this newfound, as of today, information.

Part 2: Elucidation of Factual Circumstances and Temporal Ambit

2. In a concerted effort to aid in the prompt and efficacious provision of the requisite materials, information was brought to attention as of this mc Toronto Police Service possess any nexus to the undersigned. These occurrences are delineated in the Appendix appended hereto. While cogn held, the former, involving Police Constable Eric Tang, was heretofore unknown. In light of this recent revelation, the definitive frame of reference pertains to the procurement of recordings for the retained and prepaid Authorized Court Transcriptionist (Ms. Janet McLean), is now narrowed. The the dates subsequent to Sunday, September 15, 2024.

3. I note that the name of Police Officer Eric Tang is the individual police officer denoted in the following:

- a. CBC news article (see: <https://ici.radio-canada.ca/nouvelle/2118690/alpha-henry-meurtre-parents-sante-mentale>); and
- b. R. v. Henry, 2024 ONSC 6348 (CanLII) who is referenced 35 times in that judgment of The Honourable Madam Justice JM Barrett.
 - i. To assist in that regard, it appears that, at least at the time, police officer Mr. Eric Tang was at the 23rd Division;
 - ii. Based upon my research, the 23rd Division appears to be the most North East division of the former city of Etob

4. Presuming that any ex parte in camera hearing conducted in this matter would have occurred on a weekday, the date range is consequently cc September 20, 2024. For contextual purposes, it is necessary to reiterate that an unlawful lockout from the residential unit located at 410-775 Kin Friday, September 20, 2024.

5. It is relevant to note that the previous search conducted by Ms. Amirthalingam, which spanned the period from September 23, 2024, to Octobe the Honourable Justice Shore. This serves to underscore the necessity of a definitive frame of reference rather than a judicial name for a succe delineation feasibly possible has been provided without engaging in hazardous speculation, thereby facilitating the obligation of this office to furnis consummate the services for which her retainer was secured.

Part 3: Legal and Procedural Assertions

6. As full compliance with the requirements of the Ordering Transcript Form, which the ACT has already submitted, has been achieved, the entitler finalize said services is asserted.

7. Attention is also directed toward the fact that Police Constable Eric Tang is the individual referenced in a CBC news article and in the judgm matter of R. v. Henry, 2024 ONSC 6348 (CanLII), wherein he is mentioned on thirty-five occasions. It appears, at that particular time, that Police Cc based on research, is situated in the north-eastern portion of the former City of Etobicoke. The reference to the District of Etobicoke, while s precision of the details provided in the Ordering Transcript Form and its appended Schedule "A". Apprisement has not been received regarding wh at the time of the first occurrence; however, it is certain that you will be able to ascertain this information. Regardless, there exists an e transcript of any and all ex parte and in camera proceedings encompassed within the definitive frame of reference.

8. Parenthetically, it is noted that Constable Tang has a known history of engaging in seizures, as confirmed by the statement: "The police officer c in a bag provided for that purpose." This is a matter of public record, and it lends credence to the necessity of the quest for all relevant documen complete a new Ordering Transcript Form, as the information provided herein is entirely consistent with the details previously submitted.

9. This is also consistent with the representation made by the SCJ Criminal Intake Unit that no arrest warrant existed; rather, the situation bears the have been obtained subsequent to the unlawful lockout. While it is tempting to extrapolate that the Toronto Police Service obtained such a warrant the unlawful lockout, engagement in such a supposition is not necessary. The obligation has been fulfilled by providing a definitive frame of reference. The assertion that the Toronto Police Service was awaiting the lockout event to input "NFA" (no further action), which is demonstrably false, is left occurred; however, the Notice of Appearance #1 contemplates such an eventuality, and the SCJ at 361 University Avenue and the Crown shall be advised.

10. Respectfully, all representations and admissions heretofore made point precisely to what had been previously surmised and which is now a temporal ambit (amend the "date range" to "dates"), the entitlement remains for the ACT to be furnished with the materials required for transcript. The assertion detracts from the merits of the False Information Package but rather serves to supplement it. The burden of proving a negative cannot be imposed regarding a Toronto Police Service Occurrence Number of which there was no prior knowledge.

11. Moreover, this is consonant with the representations made by counsel for the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division and deductions based upon the service of both the SCJ at 361 University Avenue, Toronto and the SCJ Divisional Court at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto. Criminal Intake did not have anything for me on September 23, 2024, but referencing an "appearance" and "R. v. McLean, Kevin" on September 23, 2024, that date or prior will be known to you. All that is known is that "Justice of the Peace Jiri" and the OCJ Brampton Courthouse did not have any record. Information having been laid in the Ontario Courts of Justice ("OCJ") as admitted by Ms. Sinnadurai of the MAG (Civil Law Division), which is Occurrence Number was created on Sunday, September 15, 2024, a date where I never even communicated with the purported complainant. Amirthalingham could not deny the involvement of the presiding judicial official so named.

12. It is trusted that this provides a more comprehensive and precise delineation of the matter. This communication in no wise limits the right to search the Police Service or the SCJ Criminal Intake, nor does it abrogate the right to multiple digital recordings within the now more precisely defined date range to assist in the efficient utilization of your (public purse I might add) resources.

13. For ease of reference, I refer to Appendix #2 with respect to the "date range" comment and require my exact dates which is not required under the Manual.

14. If you wish to provide me, in the spirit of cooperation, with the exact date(s) of the hearings that were ex parte and in camera, not on a criminal charge, I am content to receive the same and submit a new Transcript Ordering Form but solely with said amendment. Otherwise, I shall presume, lawfully I must have submitted to you was fully compliant with the conditions precedent so required and they have been triggered.

15. Finally, the presumption is made that the provision of the Toronto Police Service occurrence number, which involves the undersigned and Police Service's drastic pay cut post the incident with Mr. Alpha Henry (of which I have no opinion on the merits or lack thereof therein but certainly a tragedy for all to the deceased parents and other victims), will be of significant assistance at least from an efficiency standpoint. A copy of this communication shall be provided to confirm her receipt of the materials required for transcription. The temporal exigency of this matter is pronounced.

16. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose including the exoneration of my name which has been clandestinely sabotaged and to determine where my property in my residential unit was being held and/or is being held.

17. I confirm my lawful authority to send this correspondence and my ACT's right to the materials required for transcription. Unless the exact dates are provided, I shall rely on my and my ACT's compliance in submitting the Transcript Order Form "as it was" and for her to be furnished with the same forthwith.

18. I repeat and rely upon all relevant aspects of previous correspondence which I am entitled to particularize if necessary.

19. Thank you kindly for already effected compliance or to be affected compliance.

Respectfully Submitted,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

ATTENTION: Ms. Sana Azim, Recording Management Coordinator

SUBJECT: Acknowledgment and Refutation of the Purported Sole Remaining Requirement Regarding the Provision of Specific Dates for Transcript Production - so was a "definitive frame of reference" and that is equivalent to a "date range – Ergo – a "date range" was acceptable and compliant

Subject II: confirmation that the RMO of the SCJ through an RMC is required to provide the "materials required for transcription" forthwith to my ACT

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. I am writing to you today to address the ongoing issue concerning the provision of audio recordings for transcription. I must respectfully, but firmly, refute due to the inclusion of a date range rather than specific, exact dates.
2. To begin, it is important to establish a clear understanding of the terminology at issue which are a matter of public settled definitions of words and phrases:
 - a. A "definitive" time frame is one that is clear, certain, and conclusive;
 - b. A "frame of reference" is the set of criteria or information used to orient or define a specific event or situation. It is the collection of details (like accurately locate and understand something, such as a court proceeding;
 - c. The phrase "of reference" denotes a basis for comparison or orientation; and
 - d. A "date range" is a period of time specified by a starting date and an ending date.
3. When these terms are applied to the context of the Ontario Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual (CTSPM), it is clear that a "definitive frame range." I would go further that a "date range" is even more precise than what is required by a "definitive frame of reference". However, that is a moot issue exceedingly comply.
4. The Transcript Order Form complies with the requirement that I, as the ordering party, have provided a "definitive frame of reference." I provided the nam locations—361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West—which was admitted to be acceptable. I have confirmed that the Authorized Court Transcription is the court where the proceedings took place, and no issue was taken with this or anything else on the form, save for the date range.
5. The language of the CTSPM, Section 2.1, is mandatory. It states: "The completed Transcript Order Form...will be processed by court staff performing rec from an ACT, the details are entered into the court's electronic Recording Management System (RMS). The two conditions required for the court to process the court, which she has, and (ii) there are no restrictions on providing the requesting party with a transcript.
6. As it has been confirmed by the ACT and admitted by court staff that there are no restrictions on my receipt of the transcripts, recording management staff "I have retained and paid in advance. The RMO is currently prohibiting Ms. McLean from earning the funds she is entitled to in her chosen profession. I will, of cost to the court, as per Section 2.1.1.
7. The CTSPM, in Section 1.6, states that "not all recorded proceedings are transcribed. Transcription is only initiated when an order for transcript of p appreciate that a recording may not have been "made" by the SCJ relevant courthouse, but as an Intake Proceeding (ex parte, in camera hearing via telecom judicial officer.

8. The CTSPM, Section 2.2.5, confirms that “Intake court proceedings are recorded by the presiding judicial officer and authorized persons may request transcription is restricted but is granted “if legal process issues as a result of the hearing (i.e. charges have been filed) transcripts can be produced and distributed,” and accessible. The CTSPM, Section 2.2.6, confirms that for Pre-enquête proceedings conducted “in camera,” the transcripts “become publicly accessible once the defendant was arrested on October 2, 2024.

9. As there could have been two distinct hearings conducted during the definitive frame of reference (which is all that was required), I could not have been notified. I have admitted that I am not required to obtain a judicial order for the materials, and the fact that Ms. McLean's form was acceptable with a reference to either 3 itself.

10. In a final attempt to resolve this matter amicably, I confirm that I will be in a position to withdraw my respectful request to the Chief Justice and Regional Superior Court supervisory jurisdiction and mandated control of this process upon my ACT receiving access to the “materials required for transcription.” I appreciate that a transcript was confirmed by the CTSPM (see Section 5.3.2). However, as per Section 6.3, the RMO must provide the ACT with a cost estimate if she needs one.

11. Simply put, there is no discretion for the RMO or its RMCs to not provide a copy of the “required materials for transcription.” As per Rule 5.2 of the CTSPM, that a hearing of my July 10, 2025 Form 1 Application was required within 30 days of service, which could not be later than August 6, 2025, receiving transcription is an expectation but it is required by law.

12. Thank you for your prompt and forthwith attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: Outstanding Request for Expedited Provision of Audio Recordings Pertaining to a Criminal Pre-enquête ex parte in camera Hearings;
SUBJECT NO. 2: FINAL COURTESY NOTICE - IF I DO NOT HEAR FROM YOU FORTHWITH - COMPELLED TO ESCALATE

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I trust this correspondence finds you in good health.

I am writing to you today with the utmost respect for your roles and responsibilities in providing essential public services on behalf of the Superior Court of Justice, Recording Management Office and its pivotal function in managing audio recordings for the four distinct courthouses within the downtown Toronto region, and my desire to maintain a courteous and collaborative rapport in our ongoing communications.

This communication serves to confirm that I repeat and rely upon all prior correspondence concerning the material facts and legal principles articulated therein. Furthermore, I hereby adopt all previous definitions as they may apply to this matter. Please be advised that this correspondence is transmitted in confidence upon my unwavering entitlement to access the judicial record in this matter.

With that premise established, I must express my grave concern and profound disappointment that circumstances necessitate an escalation of the urgency of audio recordings to my retained and duly authorized transcriptionist, Ms. Jenna McLean of McLean Court Reporting Services (who, for the record, is of no relation to me). As articulated in your email of August 20, 2025, our office is “unable to process orders with date ranges” and requires “exact dates.” While I appreciate that your only obligation is to provide information of a sufficient magnitude to facilitate the location of the pertinent judicial proceedings, an obligation I maintain has been breached.

It is axiomatic that you possess a superior vantage point and are in the best position to ascertain the precise dates of the proceedings in question, a fact which has been confirmed by Ms. Amirthalingam and Ms. Shea of the Recording Management Office, Room 405. In this regard, I must note that Ms. Amirthalingam was able to perform a search involving the name of the presiding judge as provided on the transcript ordering form. However, as I have previously averred, I must take issue with the paragraph designation “r.v. McLean, Kevin.” Inter alia, I direct your attention to the Ministry of the Attorney General’s Access to Documents and Information Guide, paragraph 1.1, which states that a search requires a requester to furnish a name, date of birth, and potentially a driver’s license number. Thus, a search predicated upon a “requested matter” where no appearance had transpired and no formal case name had been ascribed at the time the recording was created. It is further understood that the underlying proceedings were presumably utilizing the Zoom video conferencing platform.

I confirm that the judicial system can and must operate in a manner that is both expeditious and just for all participants. The transcript ordering form mandates that I provide the name of the judge and the courtroom in which the proceeding occurred; a requirement with which my authorized transcriptionist has complied. Consequently, I have no obligation to furnish a specific date for a proceeding, particularly when such information has not been provided to me through no fault of my own circumstance.

As it has been related to my authorized agent on July 11, 2025, that I am not a Form 2 Information under the Criminal Code nor an endorsed arrest warrant has definitive record of the proceeding. In a final, courteous attempt to collaborate without prejudice to any of my rights, I am seeking confirmation as to whether an immediate and unequivocal confirmation as to when the tapes will be released to her. As of the time of authoring this letter, I have not received any such matter.

Be advised that this serves as a final courtesy notice. In the event I do not receive an affirmative response at the commencement of your business day, I shall present the matter to the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice of Ontario, the Honourable Mr. Morawetz, to seek his direction (to you), and confirmation of the same to my transcriptionist. While this may ultimately prove to be an inexpedient exercise, I must remain prepared to take all necessary measures to vindicate my rights.

By way of a cooperative gesture, I offer the following for your consideration: the TPS occurrence number is dated August 20, 2024. As a criminal proceeding, excessive urgency per se (as an arrest warrant would have required immediate apprehension of myself and I am not a difficult person to locate (and was not have been obtained at any time prior to September 20, 2024. Therefore, her search parameters may have been incorrect or the dates misapprehended by Ms. Avera. As an issue that the search parameters did not include my name, date of birth, driver's license, and fixed address, which is contained in the transcript ordering which you have referenced in the plural, I would require those dates in order to submit an amended transcript ordering form; however, I do not believe that such

It would of course be within my rights to submit some 23 transcript ordering forms with a date on each for the 23 workdays between August 20, 2024 to September 20, 2024 from an authorized transcriptionist and myself. Nonetheless, as Ms. Amirthalingam confirmed that she had conducted a search of certain dates, you must provide the audio recording numbered tapes to my authorized transcriptionist or provide me with the dates and I can submit an amended Transcript Ordering Form. Finally, I trust you can appreciate the profound urgency of this matter in light of my fundamental Charter rights and my entitlement to the complete judicial review of the requested materials will enable my transcriptionist to certify the final transcript to the best of her ability and skill, an act that is of paramount importance to the

It is my presumption that the transcript ordering form transmitted to you is the version herein attached, as opposed to any antecedent it was effectuated subsequent to the representations made to me by Nivatha. Accordingly, the current version is appended hereto for the purpose of apprising of which specific document, incorporating Ms. Janet McLean's requisite inputs, was previously furnished to your office.
2. I await the provision of the specific dates, failing which I shall proceed on the irrefutable presumption that the requisite audio recording is consistent with the daily service requirements. Furthermore, I take judicial notice that the Criminal Proceedings Rules of the Superior Court of Justice require thirty days of the personal service upon any justices, judges, or other persons who rendered determinations. This service was effectuated in the extent that the presiding Judge was located de facto and/or de jure at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario. The unassailable corollary is the compelling factor necessitating either the immediate provision of the dates to me to amend the same and pertaining to the ex parte in camera immediate provision of the audio recordings to Ms. Janet McLean in a suitable format on a forthwith basis by email transmission in encrypted form in isolation but in harmony with each other.
3. To the extent that September 23, 2024, was one of the relevant dates, kindly advise as I am content to commence with one of the dates with the same.

Dear SCJ RMO, Ms. Azim and Ms. Aversa:

1. This correspondence serves to confirm my full and unreserved reliance upon the contents delineated within the annexed document, a duplicate for your convenience and immediate perusal. The present communication, being an instrument of formal inquiry, is necessitated by the requirement for a prompt response from the Superior Court of Justice. This institution, pursuant to the foundational Judicature Sections of the Constitution Act, is enjoined to operate with impartiality, free from any semblance of bias, real or perceived. The very integrity of the judicial process hinges upon the ability of litigants to access the record of proceedings. Such, it is sui generis that no further elucidation or reiteration beyond the comprehensive scope of said document is necessary or warranted. For ease of reference, attached hereto, its contents serving as an irrefutable expression of my formal request and its corresponding legal basis, thereby precluding any future communication on this matter.
2. I hereby formally request and, indeed, require that you provide the dates germane to the aforementioned matter by 15:00 hours on this date. My reliance upon the expeditious provision of court records necessary for the pursuit of justice, a cornerstone of our legal system. The timely provision of such records is a procedural right, without which the very ability to prepare and prosecute one's legal position is demonstrably compromised. In the absence of such prompt provision, and successfully completed the requisite search parameters for the relevant dates and, by extension, have furnished Ms. Janet McLean of McLean & Associates with the necessary information to proceed with her proceedings on those pertinent dates. The question answers itself, as your presumed provision of these recordings to my transcriptionist, in the absence of such prompt provision. Upon this presumed provision, I will receive the transcript as originally intended and as stipulated by my antecedent payment, rendered in advance, for the transcription of the records. I am remitted with the full and unequivocal expectation of prompt and professional service, consistent with the high standards of the Court.
3. It is now self-evident by the admissions made and the actions previously undertaken that a failure to provide the requested dates constitutes a breach of the Court's duty. This conclusion is buttressed by the legal principle of estoppel, wherein a party's silence or inaction, when a duty to speak or act exists, can be interpreted as an affirmation of the facts as presented. The administrative office, having an explicit duty to facilitate the production of court records for a duly retained transcriptionist. To fail to do so, while purporting to represent that the request has been fulfilled. Once you have so acted and I receive the requisite confirmation, I shall be pleased to confirm that the request has been fulfilled. A course of action which would be both regrettable and entirely avoidable if the requested information is provided in a timely manner. I am remitted with the full and unequivocal expectation of prompt and professional service, consistent with the high standards of the Court. I am remitted with the full and unequivocal expectation of prompt and professional service, consistent with the high standards of the Court.
4. To the extent that I am compelled to escalate this matter, I cannot be faulted, as I have acted in good faith and with complete transparency, expecting that the invaluable time of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice (His Lordship Mr. Justice Morawetz) is far better spent on the merits of the case, as opposed to his being required to so direct you to provide my authorized transcriptionist. My transcriptionist, who has been retained and paid in advance, is awaiting these dates to fulfill her professional obligation. This is particularly salient given that it is the courts, although not strictly bound by FIPPA, that are the custodians of these criminal ex parte in camera hearings, which were conducted via telecommunication without a court reporter present. The singular and compelling nature of these specific records renders any protestation of an inability to provide the dates as a procedural impediment to the administration of justice. The court records places it under a positive obligation to produce them expeditiously, thereby fulfilling its overarching duty to uphold the principles of transparency and accountability.
5. It is a common principle that any form, whether prescribed or not, can be varied to meet the circumstances of a situation.

6. Moreover, whether it is by reference to the Interpretation Act (Federal) or the Legislation Act (Ontario), a form is not invalidated if it does not comply with the sections of the aforementioned statutes, by analogy due to the intersectionality of provincial and federal statutes, as follows:

Forms

32 Where a form is prescribed, deviations from that form, not affecting the substance or calculated to mislead, do not invalidate the form used.

R.S., c. I-23, s. 26

Deviations from required form

84 Deviations from a form whose use is required under an Act do not invalidate the form if,

(a) they do not affect the substance and are unlikely to mislead; and

(b) the form is organized in the same or substantially the same way as the form whose use is required. 2006, c. 21, Sched. F, s. 84.

7. The irony considering the False Information Package provided to the transferee courthouse is a little overwhelming. In any event, I utilized the (see: Interpretation Act, section 32) or from a form (see: Legislation Act, section 84) which do not affect the substance and certainly not calculated to

8. Ergo, if the form provided by me to Ms. Janet McLean and then by her to you with her required inputs as a professional in a regulated sphere, did affect the substance, as admitted by Ms. Azim's email, then the form is valid. A further corollary is that it was validly submitted on an urgent daily schedule [plural emphasized] of a criminal ex parte in camera hearing laid via telecommunication without an endorsed arrest warrant (i.e. no filed document to me, and in camera, is without public viewing along with the timing, as known to you, would not be present on "criminal docket sheets".

9. Ergo, like I have said for some time, "MRIs, metadata and transcripts do not lie".

10. I further confirm that once you have acted upon this request, thereby rendering the dates accessible to my transcriptionist, I will be in a position to provide various service providers to the Superior Court of Justice that have possession of the audio recordings and transcript in the first instance (e.g., Zoom Cloud Meetings). The circumstances, represent a more protracted and resource-intensive avenue for obtaining the very same information, as they involve a more cumbersome process. Your swift compliance would thus not only benefit my own process but would also serve to streamline the administrative burden on this ecosystem. The inherent efficiency of the court's direct action is a testament to the principle that justice delayed is justice denied.

11. I cordially remind you that the Crown is bound by the Human Rights Code. While the employees (court staff) are providing services to my discretion to put a disabled individual to some sort of sleuthing exercise when I am the victim of the fictitious inputs in the False Information Package, the Charter entitled all disabled persons to not only equality but differential treatment, procedurally and substantively, to achieve equality. My mission to ascertain dates that are uniquely within the court's purview constitutes a clear and palpable violation of these principles. Such a request implies that a just and fair legal system is obligated to eliminate. The principles of the HR Code and the Charter mandate that accommodations must be made to have equal access to the mechanisms of justice.

12. The "open court principle" operates post the issuance of any process OR arrest was made irrespective of whether an arrest warrant was duly obtained. [Sic] was not even an endorsement per se. I endured the pain of the arrest, the detention, the imprisonment et al, and my 'reward' is the knowing acknowledgment (inclusive of the Charter). Put another way, without any such conduct by the TPS, I would be making a request as a 'member of the public' with more limited access.

13. I confirm that all entailed herein are distinct from my rights in other requests.

14. I trust that you will comprehend the gravity of this communication and act accordingly, thereby obviating the need for any further, more formal, and I confirm that I am not the author of any misfortune or wasted resources but rather efficient use of public resources falls on the recipients of this email.

15. Thank you in advance for your anticipated and required compliance with this procedural and substantive formality.

Sincerely,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: Acknowledgment and Refutation of the Purported Sole Remaining Requirement Regarding the Provision of Specific Dates for Transcript Proc from the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office - to be forwarded to them to avoid any wasted resources of yourself and your company

Dear Jant:

1. This correspondence serves as a formal acknowledgment of your electronic mail, which forwarded a communication from Ms. Sana Azim of 1
(“SCJ RMO”), located at 361 University Avenue, Room 405, Toronto, Ontario. As previously confirmed by Ms. Amirthalingam of the same office, the within the downtown Toronto judicial precinct. The substance of this matter involves a request for judicial records, a function which falls squarely contracted entity and, by extension, the SCJ RMO.
2. It is my intention to provide a comprehensive and exhaustive response herein, a measure necessitated by my disabilities to ensure reliance upon undue strain upon my serious impairments. This approach will, in turn, promote consistency, efficiency, cost-effectiveness, and the pursuit of just outc this discourse is not a matter of choice but of necessity, designed to establish a clear and incontrovertible record of the relevant facts, legal principles, a administration of justice.
3. It has been ascertained through diligent inquiry that Ms. Sana Azim, also known by the nomen Sally Azim, holds the position of “Senior Manager, Services,” as underscored by her public professional profile. This position substantiates that our correspondence is now correctly directed to the appropr recording had not yet been created or “made”. This technological and procedural reality renders any assertion of an inability to provide dates for an ex

4. I must acknowledge and express appreciation for your reference to the concept that the presiding judge and the SCJ would ultimately resolve in FIPPA or PIPEDA, it is an unassailable corollary that the public body or organization is vested with the paramount responsibility to determine the control. The fundamental principle of institutional knowledge dictates that the SCJ, as the originator and custodian of the judicial record, possesses a control systems and the data contained therein. To shift this burden to the litigant is to undermine the very foundation of this legal and administrative principle.

5. Notwithstanding the foregoing, I must, de jure, contest the assertion that I am obligated to resubmit a “Transcript Order Form.” I vociferously (Technology Services) is “unable” to process the request without specific dates is legally unsustainable. While it is conceivable that the institution is not patently their professional obligation to undertake a search for the relevant dates and, upon identification, provide them to you. The distinction in semantics; it is a critical delineation between a lack of capacity and a deliberate refusal to discharge a statutory and professional duty.

6. In the spirit of cooperation, and without prejudice to any of my rights, I am willing to amend and re-submit the order form should they elect to produce, particularly as a Superior Court of Justice, to act in strict conformity with the “open court principle,” especially subsequent to the issuance of a question or issue answers itself, as the matter of my Charter rights is inextricably linked to the transparent administration of justice. The notion that the ex parte in camera hearings is a perfunctory and legally specious contention that contravenes established legal norms and the constitutional imperatives.

7. Moreover, section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43 indisputably refutes Ms. Azim’s position, stating inter alia:

- o PART V
- o ADMINISTRATION of the courts
- o Goals
- o 71 The administration of the courts shall be carried on so as to,
- o (a) maintain the independence of the judiciary as a separate branch of government;
- o (b) recognize the respective roles and responsibilities of the Attorney General and the judiciary in the administration of justice;
- o (c) encourage public access to the courts and public confidence in the administration of justice;
- o (d) further the provision of high-quality services to the public; and
- o (e) promote the efficient use of public resources. 2006, c. 21, Sched. A, s. 14.

8. As a litigant and a member of the public, this matter engages two distinct levels of legal principle, and Ms. Azim’s request for me to conjecture the for section 71(e), which mandates the efficient utilization of public resources. To provide a multiplicity of transcript order forms, which could then would be a highly inefficient and resource-intensive undertaking. This approach would not only waste the time of both parties but would also place a burden on the statutory mandate to promote efficiency.

9. While the dates pertaining to the “recordings” are undeniably within the custody and control of the SCJ—and while an argument could be advanced that it possesses joint control, an issue which is ad interim moot—I would direct your attention to section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act:

- o Direction of court staff
- o 76 (1) In matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act in accordance with the direction of the court. Sched. A, s. 14.

10. The Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice, The Honourable Mr. Justice Morawetz, is the ultimate authority in this regard. Consequently, if I am not satisfied, I shall be compelled to escalate this matter. This deadline is established in light of the sustained exigency of the matter. The refusal to provide these transcripts in a matter assigned by law to the judiciary, as the request for a transcript is a direct legal entitlement.

11. It is now self-evident by admissions made that an inconsistency exists. Ms. Nivatha Amirthalingam represented on August 8, 2025, that “Justice requested date of September 23rd, 2024, as indicated on the Order Form,” yet on August 11, 2025, she asserted, “I have looked into all of the recordings from October 2nd, 2024, and I can confirm that the requested matter of R. v. McLean, Kevin did not appear in either of them.” This is a profound and irreconcilable inconsistency.

12. It demonstrates that the SCJ RMO has the capacity (see: Appendix #1) to search by presiding judge and date range, as confirmed by the latter applicable reference for this matter, as the MAG Access Court Documents Information Guide specifies that arrest warrants require a name, date, and location (not necessarily tied to a specific individual) require the location searched and/or date of execution. This is a crucial distinction. It is not equivalent to a search that was conducted via technology and not directly tied to a physical courtroom. This inconsistent application of search parameters suggests either a lack of training or a need not speculate or prove the same.

13. Is Ms. Azim, Manager, Vendor, Contract and Risk Management Services for Justice Technology Services required to search as well and provide the question answers itself. Given that Ms. Amirthalingam and Ms. Sally Azim are colleagues within the same office, if Ms. Amirthalingam is denied the aforementioned dates—assuming the correct search parameters are utilized—then Ms. Azim is equally capable. In simple terms, Ms. Azim of the SCJ is not meeting the requirements. To assert that the litigant must provide a specific date while simultaneously possessing the internal technological means to conduct a search is untenable.

14. I appreciate your prior communication referencing that you have been paid in advance for the “first transcript.” It is patently clear that once payment is received, a copy of the transcripts, which appear to encompass multiple dates. This advance payment establishes a fiduciary duty on your part to furnish upon the SCJ RMO to facilitate their provision by providing the necessary information, namely the dates. The SCJ RMO’s delay in providing these dates is an unnecessary complication of a process that has already been financially settled.

15. I am cognizant of the fact that Ms. Amirthalingam has confirmed that she did not locate any proceedings before Justice Shore from September 24-2082035, referenced in the False Information Package, appears to allude to August 20, 2024. There were twenty-three business days or open court dates in that expansive period further underscores the unreasonableness of the demand for me, the litigant, to pinpoint the specific date of a hearing to which I was not present. The fact that the proceedings, if they exist, falls within their records, is on the SCJ RMO, not myself.

16. In the spirit of professional comity, and without prejudice to any of my rights, I will extend to them an opportunity to provide me with the specific dates. I shall simply use a strikethrough upon the date range and incorporate the relevant dates, amending the order date alone. I intend to demonstrate a good faith effort to resolve this matter amicably, without conceding the central legal and procedural point of this dispute.

17. In conclusion, and to the extent that I am provided with the requisite dates, I confirm that the following elements are not at issue, in an effort to correct the record:

- o Presiding official: There is no issue with the name input, as the identity of the presiding official is confirmed by their records.
- o Court location: There is no issue with the two potential locations of 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West, as these are the relevant locations for the proceedings.
- o Courtroom: There is no issue with the designation “unknown,” as the proceeding was conducted via telecommunications and not in a physical courtroom.
- o Court file, info or indictment: Acknowledged as unknown, as no such file number was provided.
- o Proceedings from: The designation of the Superior Court of Justice is correct and undisputed.
- o Additional details: There is no issue with the supplemental information provided.

- o Proceeding detail: No issue with the detail of the proceeding.
- o Portion of proceeding: No issue with the specified portion.
- o Evidence of witnesses (additional details): No issue.
- o Rulings: No issue.
- o Any others not captured above where there are no issues and the only outstanding issue is providing the “exact dates”.

18. This final point encapsulates the singular and entirely unnecessary obstacle being placed in the path of this request.

19. You are correct in your assertion that I am contending with certain disabilities and serious impairments, which I do not take issue with you re: accident and a more recent accident in March 2025. I will be including the accessibility coordinator for the relevant courthouse on my subsequent correspondence and require assistance in this regard. The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 mandates that public bodies accommodate individuals to the extent that no dates are provided by three p.m. today, I will confirm with you and the SCJ RMO that they are not discharging their duties accordingly search, which I presume they already know, and draw this to the attention of the CJ of the SCJ. While out of court communications with a presiding judge of the SCJ, The Honourable CJ of the SCJ Mr. Morawetz is not a presiding judge in my criminal proceeding matter before the SCJ and was certified in August to October 2, 2024. I will boldly presume that with the passing on of this email, in substance at the very least, that such intervention and a hypothetical bridge we need not cross.

20. I shall advise you when I have transmitted the electronic mail to the SCJ RMO and Ms. Azim.

Sincerely,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean

Appendix #2: Quotations from the relevant sources relating to Zoom and from my communications with Zoom

“Step 1: Obtain the Zoom Recording and Transcript

First, you need to get the files from Zoom. The process differs slightly depending on whether you used cloud or local recording. (note below)

Cloud Recording: If you have a paid Zoom account [which the SCJ RMO would have] and recorded to the cloud, Zoom will automatically upload the recording (M4A) and the transcript (VTT file). You will receive an email notification when the recording and transcript are ready (note below: the Services).

Log in to the Zoom web portal, go to the “Recordings” section, and download both the audio-only file (M4A) and the transcript (VTT file) via email in encrypted form and then with password to decrypt]

Local Recording: If you recorded to your computer, Zoom saves the files to a local folder (usually in your Documents folder) and they are automatically available for local recordings, so you'll have to find a separate transcription service or software to create [make] one from the files. As you will know whether there was a cloud recording or “local recording”, I defer:

Step 2: Prepare the Files for CD [note below: this is only required for my Request Form Undertaking which I am bound by]

You have two main options for how to “burn” the information to a CD, depending on what you want to achieve.

Option A: Create a Standard Audio CD (Audio Only)

This is the most common and straightforward method if you only want to listen to the audio on a standard CD player (like in a car or home). Get the Audio File: Locate the M4A audio-only file from your Zoom recording which the court would have control of the same.

Convert to a Compatible Format: M4A is not always compatible with older CD players. You will need to convert the M4A file to a format that a CD player can read. Burn the Audio CD: Use a CD burning program (like Windows Media Player, iTunes, or a third-party application) to create an Audio CD in a format that a CD player can read. Be aware that a standard audio CD can only hold about 80 minutes of audio.”

11. It is now self-evident by admissions made that an inconsistency exists. Ms. Nivatha Amirthalingam represented on August 8, 2025, that “Justice requested date of September 23rd, 2024, as indicated on the Order Form,” yet on August 11, 2025, she asserted, “I have looked into all of the records and on October 2nd, 2024, and I can confirm that the requested matter of R. v. McLean, Kevin did not appear in either of them.” This is a profound and irreconcilable inconsistency.

12. It demonstrates that the SCJ RMO has the capacity (see: Appendix #1) to search by presiding judge and date range, as confirmed by the latter’s applicable reference for this matter, as the MAG Access Court Documents Information Guide specifies that arrest warrants require a name, date of birth, and not necessarily tied to a specific individual) require the location searched and/or date of execution. This is a crucial distinction. It is not equivalent to a search that was conducted via technology and not directly tied to a physical courtroom. This inconsistent application of search parameters suggests either a lack of understanding or a need not speculate or prove the same.

13. Is Ms. Azim, Manager, Vendor, Contract and Risk Management Services for Justice Technology Services required to search as well and provide the dates? The question answers itself. Given that Ms. Amirthalingam and Ms. Sally Azim are colleagues within the same office, if Ms. Amirthalingam is denied the aforementioned dates—assuming the correct search parameters are utilized—then Ms. Azim is equally capable. In simple terms, Ms. Azim of the SCJ RMO is responsible for providing the dates. To assert that the litigant must provide a specific date while simultaneously possessing the internal technological means to conduct a search is unreasonable.

14. I appreciate your prior communication referencing that you have been paid in advance for the “first transcript.” It is patently clear that once payment is received, you will receive a copy of the transcripts, which appear to encompass multiple dates. This advance payment establishes a fiduciary duty on your part to furnish upon the SCJ RMO to facilitate their provision by providing the necessary information, namely the dates. The SCJ RMO’s delay in providing these dates is an unnecessary and uncompensated process that has already been financially settled.

15. I am cognizant of the fact that Ms. Amirthalingam has confirmed that she did not locate any proceedings before Justice Shore from September 23, 2024 to October 2, 2024, referenced in the False Information Package, appears to allude to August 20, 2024. There were twenty-three business days or open court dates during this expansive period further underscores the unreasonableness of the demand for me, the litigant, to pinpoint the specific date of a hearing to which I would have to appear. The date that falls within their records, is on the SCJ RMO, not myself.

16. In the spirit of professional comity, and without prejudice to any of my rights, I will extend to them an opportunity to provide me with the specific dates. I shall submit a revised order form. I shall simply use a strikethrough upon the date range and incorporate the relevant dates, amending the order date alone to reflect the intended to demonstrate a good faith effort to resolve this matter amicably, without conceding the central legal and procedural point of this dispute.

17. In conclusion, and to the extent that I am provided with the requisite dates, I confirm that the following elements are not at issue, in an effort to correct the record:

- o Presiding official: There is no issue with the name input, as the identity of the presiding official is confirmed by their records.
- o Court location: There is no issue with the two potential locations of 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West, as these are the relevant locations for the SCJ RMO.
- o Courtroom: There is no issue with the designation “unknown,” as the proceeding was conducted via telecommunications and not in a physical courtroom.
- o Court file, info or indictment: Acknowledged as unknown, as no such file number was provided.
- o Proceedings from: The designation of the Superior Court of Justice is correct and undisputed.
- o Additional details: There is no issue with the supplemental information provided.
- o Proceeding detail: No issue with the detail of the proceeding.
- o Portion of proceeding: No issue with the specified portion.
- o Evidence of witnesses (additional details): No issue.
- o Rulings: No issue.
- o Any others not captured above where there are no issues and the only outstanding issue is providing the “exact dates”.

18. This final point encapsulates the singular and entirely unnecessary obstacle being placed in the path of this request.

19. You are correct in your assertion that I am contending with certain disabilities and serious impairments, which I do not take issue with you referring to a past accident and a more recent accident in March 2025. I will be including the accessibility coordinator for the relevant courthouse on my subsequent correspondence and require assistance in this regard. The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 mandates that public bodies accommodate individuals with disabilities to the greatest extent possible. To the extent that no dates are provided by three p.m. today, I will confirm with you and the SCJ RMO that they are not discharging their duties accordingly. I will presume they already know, and draw this to the attention of the CJ of the SCJ. While out of court communications with a presiding judge, Rules of the SCJ, The Honourable CJ of the SCJ Mr. Morawetz is not a presiding judge in my criminal proceeding matter before the SCJ and was certified on August 2, 2024 to October 2, 2024. I will boldly presume that with the passing on of this email, in substance at the very least, that such intervention and a hypothetical bridge we need not cross.

20. I shall advise you when I have transmitted the electronic mail to the SCJ RMO and Ms. Azim.

Sincerely,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean

(to be forward to the persons above as a courtesy and assistance to you completing our retainer (contract) with payment in advance)

Appendix #1

"Please list the exact dates your Ordering Party wishes to order and re-submit an updated order form."

Appendix #2: Quotations from the relevant sources relating to Zoom and from my communications with Zoom

"Step 1: Obtain the Zoom Recording and Transcript

First, you need to get the files from Zoom. The process differs slightly depending on whether you used cloud or local recording. (nota bene)

Cloud Recording: If you have a paid Zoom account [which the SCJ RMO would have] and recorded to the cloud, Zoom will automatically provide you with the recording (M4A) and the transcript (VTT file). You will receive an email notification when the recording and transcript are ready [nota bene: the transcript is in PDF format].

Log in to the Zoom web portal, go to the "Recordings" section, and download both the audio-only file (M4A) and the transcript (VTT file) via email in encrypted form and then with password to decrypt]

Local Recording: If you recorded to your computer, Zoom saves the files to a local folder (usually in your Documents folder) and makes them automatically available for local recordings, so you'll have to find a separate transcription service or software to create [make] one from the recording. As you will know whether there was a cloud recording or "local recording", I defer:

Step 2: Prepare the Files for CD [nota bene: this is only required for my Request Form Undertaking which I am bound by]

You have two main options for how to "burn" the information to a CD, depending on what you want to achieve.

Option A: Create a Standard Audio CD (Audio Only)

This is the most common and straightforward method if you only want to listen to the audio on a standard CD player (like in a car or home). Get the Audio File: Locate the M4A audio-only file from your Zoom recording which the court would have control of the same.

Convert to a Compatible Format: M4A is not always compatible with older CD players. You will need to convert the M4A file to a format that a CD player can read.

Burn the Audio CD: Use a CD burning program (like Windows Media Player, iTunes, or a third-party application) to create an Audio CD format that a CD player can read. Be aware that a standard audio CD can only hold about 80 minutes of audio."

Good morning, Mr. Kevin McLean,

The Justice Sector Security Office (JSSO) of the Ministry of the Attorney General has the mandate to address complaints of threats, intimidation, and harassment experienced by justice officials, including judges.

We are writing to you today to inform you that the JSSO has received such a complaint from the Superior Court of Justice, Correspondence Unit.

It was reported to JSSO that on August 22, 2025, you allegedly sent four (4) emails to the Superior Court of Justice, including the Chief Justice Morawetz.

On August 22, 2025, you received correspondence by e-mail from SCJ Correspondence Unit informing you that it is inappropriate to communicate directly or indirectly with a member of the Court, unless otherwise directed, with respect to matters that are, or may be, before the Court.

You were also advised to review the Court's policy on access to digital recordings, specifically the section on "Access to Digital Recordings for Self-Represented Litigants". The policy is accessible on the Court's website here Accessing a Digital Recording & Ordering Transcripts – Ontario Superior Court of Justice

Despite being asked to not further communicate with members of the Court it is alleged that on August 22, 2025, at 12:44 PM and at 4:09 PM you again sent more emails to the SCJ Correspondence Unit, directed to the Chief Justice Morawetz resulting in the matter being reported to the JSSO.

At this point, we would like to inform you that further correspondence with members of the Court, including the SCJ Correspondence Unit or Chief Justice Morawetz may be viewed as harassment and could result in some form of legal jeopardy.

Therefore, to avoid escalation, we respectfully request that you discontinue sending e-mails to Court, including the SCJ Correspondence Unit or Chief Justice Morawetz

SUBJECT: A Formal Request to Direct Court Staff to Comply with a Matter Assigned by Law to the Judiciary: Expedited Provision of Audio Recordings to an Authorized Transcriptionist

SUBJECT II: The Legal Insufficiency of Requiring Specific Dates for Ex Parte and In Camera Proceedings, Predicated upon the Established Efficacy of a Date Range and the Inherent Knowledge of the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office

I. INTRODUCTION AND PRELIMINARY MATTERS

This document is submitted with the profoundest respect for the exalted office of the Chief Justice and for the foundational principles upon which the administration of justice in this province is constructed. This correspondence is necessitated by a persistent procedural impasse with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office ("SCJ RMO"), an impediment that has unduly protracted the effort to procure essential audio recordings of a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The singular objective of this communication is to respectfully implore a judicious intervention and directive, which may catalyze an immediate resolution to this protracted matter. The gravity of this situation is underscored by its potential to undermine the very principles of fairness and procedural rectitude that are fundamental to the judicial process, and it is in the interest of preserving the integrity of that process that this communication is proffered. The exigency of this request is not predicated upon a desire for mere expedition, but upon a fundamental concern that the continued obstruction of access to the judicial record constitutes a form of procedural prejudice, rendering it an insurmountable barrier to the proper preparation of legal arguments and the vindication of rights.

While there are some obvious clerical issues, to put it charitably, in the “False Information Package” (my definition), I was nonetheless arrested on October 2, 2024, by the TPS at the 14th Division – as surreal as that remains to me. It certainly remains even more surreal to me in light of the False Information Package.

This communication is submitted on grounds of lawful authority, and it is a matter of incontrovertible record that all previous correspondence relating to the material facts and legal principles has been reiterated and relied upon. Furthermore, all previous definitions, where applicable, are formally adopted, thereby ensuring an unbroken chain of legal and factual continuity. The cumulative effect of these prior submissions and the annexed materials is to establish a comprehensive and unassailable foundation for the requests contained herein, thereby precluding any assertion that the matter has been inadequately articulated. The very act of this submission is predicated upon the fundamental and inalienable right of a litigant to access the judicial record pertinent to their case. The denial of this access, for reasons that appear to be grounded in administrative convenience rather than legal principle, is antithetical to the principles of judicial transparency and accountability.

II. THE IMPERATIVE OF JUDICIAL OVERSIGHT AND THE OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE RECORDS

This matter does not represent a mere administrative dispute; it is a subject that implicates the very essence of the "open court principle" and the judiciary's supervisory power over its own records, as affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada. The Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits ("MAG CSD Guide") is explicit in its pronouncement that "each court has jurisdiction over its own records, and all policies respecting access to court documents, files and exhibits are subject to judicial direction" (referencing MAG CSD Guide, Section 1.2). This a priori declaration establishes the supremacy of judicial authority in all matters of court record access. The Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, in their model policies for the classification and retention of court information, consistently affirm this custodial responsibility, noting that courts have an "unassailable corollary that the public body or organization is vested with the paramount responsibility to determine the nature of the information within its custody and control." The inherent jurisdiction of the court to control its process and its records is a constitutional norm that cannot be subordinated to administrative convenience or a narrow, proscriptive interpretation of procedural requirements.

In light of this jurisprudential and statutory framework, it is an inescapable conclusion that this matter, which pertains to the provision of a judicial record for transcription, falls squarely within the purview of a matter assigned by law to the judiciary. The obligation of court staff in this regard is not discretionary; indeed, it is a direct duty articulated in section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act, which stipulates that "[i]n matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the judiciary." This provision establishes a clear and mandatory hierarchy of authority, placing the responsibility for such matters squarely under judicial direction. Accordingly, the necessity to seek a directive from the ultimate authority to compel staff to discharge their professional and statutory duties becomes apparent and inescapable. A failure to provide the records in question constitutes a fundamental impediment to the exercise of an individual's rights and a contravention of the principles of natural justice, as it unjustly obstructs the ability to prepare legal proceedings with the benefit of the complete judicial record. Such a course of action is wholly incompatible with the constitutional mandate to ensure equitable access to justice. The judiciary, as the ultimate arbiter of procedural fairness, must ensure that its administrative arms facilitate, rather than hinder, the pursuit of justice.

III. LEGAL SYLLOGISM AND THE CORROBORATION OF ATTACHED MATERIALS

The request for transcription pertains to a hearing concerning a criminal pre-enquête proceeding that was conducted ex parte and in camera, for which a warrant was issued. The MAG CSD Guide confirms that such proceedings are not open to the public; however, it also incontrovertibly provides that "if process is issued, the documents of the pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served" (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.2.2). The arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at which point the process was unequivocally issued. A logical extrapolation of this legal principle mandates that all records of this hearing, including the audio recordings thereof, must now be rendered publicly accessible, a determination that has already been adjudicated by operation of law. The procedural hurdle created by the SCJ RMO's demand for a specific date is, therefore, an administrative obstacle without a cognizable legal foundation.

The SCJ RMO has, through the electronic mail transmissions attached hereto, acknowledged its capacity to search for these recordings. The sole pretext for its refusal to provide them has been a purported inability to process orders with a date range, a contention that is legally and logically fallacious. The Transcript Order Form dated August 8, 2025, delineates a date range of "Between August 20, 2024 to October 2, 2024," along with the name of the presiding judicial official, "Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore." The MAG CSD Guide states that requests for search warrants require a sufficient combination of information to "accurately identify the records sought," such as a name and date of birth (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.7). A date range, in conjunction with the presiding judge's name, represents a quantum of information that transcends mere sufficiency; it is a definitive frame of reference that places the burden of locating the recording on the custodian, not the litigant. To demand a specific date in these circumstances is to impose a patently unreasonable burden that contravenes the principles of accessibility and efficiency enshrined in section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act.

It is noted that the sole objection contained in the response from the SCJ RMO to the authorized transcriptionist pertained to the specification of exact dates. While a cooperative posture is maintained for the purpose of a collaborative resolution, it is submitted that such a requirement appears to be at variance with the principles of efficient utilization of public resources, the open court principle (which applies post-issuance of a process but perhaps NOT "made" i.e. completed, dated, printed name of the presiding judge, with a signature (digital, electronic or handwritten)), the Charter rights of the applicant, and the required independence and impartiality of the Superior Courts. The act of necessitating the applicant to identify the precise date of an in camera proceeding—a fact uniquely within the court's purview—represents a perversion of the procedural burden. The court, as the custodian of institutional knowledge, possesses the singular means to perform such a search, and to shift this burden is to engage in a specious and procedurally unjust, inefficient, and non-expeditious exercise.

This respectful request is self-evidently distinct from another request involving a Request Form Undertaking (i.e. I cannot share that digital recording). I do not see anything that would not allow for the utilization of the dates from those audio recordings (so numbered after being downloaded from the likes of a Zoom Communications, Inc.) to then make the amendments to the Transcript Ordering Form (see: attached), and resubmitting. This is not viewed as a procedural requirement but if that request is granted forthwith by the SCJ RMO with or without your intervention then perhaps it would achieve a dual objective.

Furthermore, the Canadian Judicial Council's model policies on information retention emphasize that "courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible" (Model

Policy for the Retention of Court Info, page 7). The "ensure" implies a guarantee that transcends mere administrative convenience. The audio recording of a judicial proceeding, irrespective of whether the physical documents may have been disposed of, constitutes a permanent and indispensable component of the court's activities. The Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual confirms that digital recordings of a closed proceeding are considered "Restricted" information and require a higher degree of protection (Manual, Section 2.2.13 and Model Policy for the Classification of Court Information, Table 4, page 23). This classification, however, does not abrogate the court's duty to release the record upon issuance of process. A careful and deliberate reading of the relevant documentation compels the conclusion that the recordings exist and can be located with the information already furnished.

IV. CONCLUSION AND RESPECTFUL REQUEST

In light of the foregoing, it is the firm, yet gracious, conviction that the continued refusal of the SCJ RMO to furnish the requested audio recordings constitutes a manifest dereliction of a duty assigned by law to the judiciary. The documentation provided, including the Transcript Order Form, the MAG CSD Guide, the Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual, and the Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, serves as a comprehensive and irrefutable testament to the legality and propriety of the request. It is now, a fortiori, self-evident that the impediment is not procedural or legal, but rather a misapplication of administrative discretion that contravenes established statutory and jurisprudential principles. Such an administrative fiat, if left unaddressed, could establish a pernicious precedent wherein the onus to identify the precise details of an ex parte proceeding is improperly shifted from the court as custodian to the litigant, thereby compromising the due administration of justice. The court's record-keeping obligations are designed to serve, and not to obstruct, the course of justice.

It is trusted that the gravity of this communication and the profound urgency of this matter will be comprehended. It is hoped that the Chief Justice's direction will provide the necessary impetus for the SCJ RMO to provide the audio recordings to the authorized transcriptionist forthwith, thereby obviating any need for further escalation. The resolution of this matter would not only ensure the proper discharge of professional duties but also serve to uphold the integrity of the court's record-keeping function and the public's confidence in an equitable and accessible legal system.

Gratitude is expressed for the time and most careful consideration of this correspondence. Notification will be provided to both the SCJ RMO and the authorized transcriptionist that this letter has been sent.

Respectfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Kevin McLean,

We are in receipt of your August 22, 2025, email, and the included attachments, directed to Chief Justice Geoffrey Morawetz.

Please review the Court's policy on access to digital recordings, specifically the section on "Access to Digital Recordings for Self-Represented Litigants". The policy is accessible on the Court's website here Accessing a Digital Recording & Ordering Transcripts – Ontario Superior Court of Justice.

Please also be advised that it is inappropriate to communicate directly or indirectly with a member of the Court, unless otherwise directed, with respect to matters that are, or may be, before the Court.

For this reason, your communication will not be addressed by Chief Justice Morawetz.

If you wish to bring a matter to the attention of the Court, you must do so in compliance with the appropriate procedural rules and any orders made by the Court. This will ensure that matters on which the Court may adjudicate are tabled in open Court, on notice to all parties, and not through ex parte communications with members of the judiciary.

Complaints made against court staff regarding any procedural irregularities must be directed to the individual staff member's direct supervisor.

Your co-operation in not directly or indirectly communicating with the Chief Justice, or any other judge of the Superior Court of Justice, regarding your concerns is appreciated. Further communication from you in relation to this matter will not receive a response and may be forwarded to the Justice Sector Security Office. This will be the Court's final response regarding these matters. Please do not respond to this email.

Thank you,

Attention: The Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice (by way of forwarding from his judicial assistant(s))

Subject: A Respectful Formal Request for Judicial Direction (My Request Form Undertaking perfected August 15 2025 with payment of prescribed fees) to the relevant court staff to process, make and provide a digital audio recording due to their non-responses at this time : specific request pursuant to the Courts of Justice Act, section 76 et al. Re:

Provision of a Timeline for the Retrieval, Making and Providing of a Digital Recording pursuant to the "Perfected Request Form Undertaking" as of August 15, 2025 - full compliance with the relevant statutes and regulations (see: attendant regulation under the Administration of Justice Act, RSO 1990, c A.6., which is the Superior Court of Justice and Court of Appeal - Fees, O Reg 293/92)

Dear Mr. Chief Justice:

1. Purpose and Foundational Premise of Correspondence

This communication is tendered upon grounds of lawful authority and for the express purpose of entreating the Honourable Chief Justice to exercise superintendence over the administration of court operations. This is a matter of paramount importance and exigency that pertains directly to the provision of a clear and definitive timeline for the retrieval of a digital audio recording. This request is predicated upon due and complete compliance with all procedural requisites, specifically the submission of a perfected Request Form Undertaking and the prescribed fee payment. It is a matter of public import, for the principle of judicial and administrative transparency, as well as the litigant's right to unencumbered access to the record of proceedings, must be upheld without derogation. The present circumstances, which have necessitated this correspondence, compel this Honourable Court to exercise its inherent jurisdiction to rectify a procedural vacuum that has materially impeded the ability to prepare for legal defence.

2. Reliance Upon Pre-Existing Correspondence and Communications

For the sake of jurisprudential and procedural clarity, it is confirmed herein that reliance is placed upon all previous correspondence, both internal and external, which addresses the material facts and principles of law relevant to this matter. This course of action is taken in toto to avoid the prolixity of reiterating previously articulated arguments and to establish a consistent, documented record of assiduous efforts to secure the requested materials. Furthermore, all previous definitions where such a practice is applicable and relevant are formally adopted and incorporated, thereby ensuring a consistent and unwavering terminology throughout the entire body of this communication.

3. Statement of Facts and Procedural Compliance

As the accused and applicant in a matter currently before the Superior Court of Justice, which was initiated by way of an application dated July 10, 2025, and has since been supplemented by a Notice of Constitutional Question and multiple affidavits, there has been an assiduous adherence to the procedural strictures delineated within the Criminal Code and the Criminal Proceeding Rules of the Superior Court of Justice. This compliance has been effectuated through meticulous service and personal service upon all relevant courts, judicial officers, provincial court judges, and Superior Court of Justice judges, whether designated by this Court in the Divisional Court or in the Superior Court of Justice, de facto or de jure.

However, the above was for context and the sole focus is that the court staff comply with a direction from the CJ of the SCJ regarding my Request Form Undertaking in that it has been perfected for a week but without any confirmation as to when I will be able to pick up the same.

There has been strict compliance with the terms of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking, which was digitally executed on August 14, 2025, and followed by the payment of the prescribed fee via a bank draft that was delivered on August 15, 2025. This remittance, by way of bank draft, was specifically procured to signify an unassailable and immediate tender of the required funds, thereby obviating any potential for delay. For the ease of review, the relevant emails have been appended, which have been enumerated so that the precise cross-referencing of the salient points contained therein may be followed.

(please see: Email from Kevin McLean dated August 14, 2025, at 9:44 a.m., confirming submission of the digitally executed undertaking form and the fax confirmation from SCJ RMO dated August 14, 2025 at 12:00 PM, on pages 14-15; Email from Kevin McLean dated August 15, 2025, at 4:24 PM, confirming delivery of the bank draft for $23.00, on page 14; and the email from the SCJ RMO dated August 18, 2025, at 9:09 AM, stating "there were no audio recordings made," on page 13.)

4. Procedural Inadequacy and Inexplicable Non-Response

The solitary and inadequate response provided in relation to the aforementioned perfected request was the unsubstantiated assertion that an audio recording had not been made. This contention is inconsistent with the procedural realities of the court, particularly in an era of virtual proceedings. It is a self-evident conclusion that a proceeding conducted via a telecommunications platform, such as Zoom, must, a fortiori, give rise to a verifiable and reproducible record. A copy of the digitally signed Request Form Undertaking and the corroborating evidence of the prescribed fee payment have been enclosed to underscore the veracity of this claim and to dispel any and all misapprehensions regarding the matter. The continued absence of a substantive response, particularly one that offers a non-specific timeline, can only be construed as a procedural dereliction that obstructs the due course of justice.

5. The Exigency and a Self-Evident Conclusion

While it is profoundly loath to resort to this extraordinary avenue of recourse, the protracted and inexplicable absence of any substantive communication has rendered this petition an absolute procedural and legal necessity. The court's lack of action has resulted in a material delay that is prejudicial to the legal interests of the party and infringes upon a fundamental right to a fair hearing. This delay, which is now nearing a week since the perfection of the undertaking, amounts to a tangible obstacle to the ability to prosecute the case and prepare a defence.

The fundamental principle governing the administration of justice dictates that procedural requisites be met with an appropriate and timely administrative response. This correspondence, therefore, extrapolates from the procedural vacuum to syllogistically conclude that judicial intervention is warranted to direct court staff to provide a specific timeline for the fulfillment of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking. A failure to do so would, in absentia, constitute a material impediment to the ability to prosecute the case.

6. Ancillary Analysis and Jurisprudential Imperatives

It is a matter of established jurisprudence, most notably in Bhasin v. Hrynew, 2014 SCC 71, and Callow v. Zollinger, 2020 SCC 45, that an organizing principle of good faith contractual performance and a specific duty of honest performance are operative and binding on all parties. The application of this principle to the present matter is an unassailable corollary, for the failure of the court's administrative arm to provide a timeline or substantive response following the perfection of the undertaking and payment constitutes an act of bad faith, whether by omission or design. The court's own Courts of Justice Act, section 76, vests in the Chief Justice the authority and obligation, with most respect, to provide direction to court personnel. This statutory mandate is in place precisely to ensure that administrative processes, such as the provision of recordings, are conducted efficiently and fairly. The court's responsibility to manage and control its records, regardless of whether they were created by its own staff or an external provider like Zoom, is further buttressed by decisions such as Criminal Review Board v. Hale, 1999 O.J. No. 2228 (ONCA). That decision held that a government institution retains control over records created by an independent contractor for the purpose of fulfilling the institution's statutory mandate. In this context, the digital audio recording of the proceeding, a matter the court is statutorily obligated to record, is irrefutably under the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice.

7. Regulatory Context and Juridical Control

Court records, if they exist, are under the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice, and/or the Ontario Court of Justice, and/or the Court of Appeal for Ontario. Courts are not governed by FIPPA and court records under the supervisory control of the judiciary are not available through the FOI process or subject to FIPPA. Requests for court records should be made to the originating courthouse (nota bene: I have received confirmation with thanks that the SCJ RMO handles the obtaining, making and providing of tapes (i.e. if made by an independent contractor at first instance) for the four downtown Toronto SCJ courthouses of which is a branch of the SCJ (Divisional Court at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario). More information is available, naturally well-known to you in the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits.

8. Conclusion and Final Disposition

In light of the foregoing, and having met every triggering requirement and obligation, a formal requisition is respectfully made for the exercise of statutory authority to direct the relevant court staff to provide a definitive timeline for the fulfillment of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking. The failure to provide a confirmed timeline or location for the requested materials constitutes a material dereliction of the public institution's duty of good faith to its residents and citizens. It is trusted that this correspondence, which is articulated in the strongest and most respectful terms, will be given the highest priority.

It is with the utmost gratitude that the potential for the required direction from the Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice is acknowledged. Should a substantive response be received from the court staff, confirming a time and mode for pickup, the same will be promptly confirmed via this email channel to the attention of the judicial assistant(s). Such procedural notice from the court staff would obviate the need for any further response. However, the importance and urgency of the matter, along with the specified preparation purposes delineated in the undertaking, cannot be overstated.

Gracious acknowledgement is expressed, which I find regrettable but necessary, for the time and due consideration afforded to this correspondence, and the party remains, as always, at the Court's service.

Yours faithfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: A Formal Request to Direct Court Staff to Comply with a Matter Assigned by Law to the Judiciary: Expedited Provision of Audio Recordings to an Authorized Transcriptionist

SUBJECT II: The Legal Insufficiency of Requiring Specific Dates for Ex Parte and In Camera Proceedings, Predicated upon the Established Efficacy of a Date Range and the Inherent Knowledge of the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office

I. INTRODUCTION AND PRELIMINARY MATTERS

This document is submitted with the profoundest respect for the exalted office of the Chief Justice and for the foundational principles upon which the administration of justice in this province is constructed. This correspondence is necessitated by a persistent procedural impasse with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office ("SCJ RMO"), an impediment that has unduly protracted the effort to procure essential audio recordings of a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The singular objective of this communication is to respectfully implore a judicious intervention and directive, which may catalyze an immediate resolution to this protracted matter. The gravity of this situation is underscored by its potential to undermine the very principles of fairness and procedural rectitude that are fundamental to the judicial process, and it is in the interest of preserving the integrity of that process that this communication is proffered. The exigency of this request is not predicated upon a desire for mere expedition, but upon a fundamental concern that the continued obstruction of access to the judicial record constitutes a form of procedural prejudice, rendering it an insurmountable barrier to the proper preparation of legal arguments and the vindication of rights.

While there are some obvious clerical issues, to put it charitably, in the "False Information Package" (my definition), I was nonetheless arrested on October 2, 2024, by the TPS at the 14th Division – as surreal as that remains to me. It certainly remains even more surreal to me in light of the False Information Package.

This communication is submitted on grounds of lawful authority, and it is a matter of incontrovertible record that all previous correspondence relating to the material facts and legal principles has been reiterated and relied upon. Furthermore, all previous definitions, where applicable, are formally adopted, thereby ensuring an unbroken chain of legal and factual continuity. The cumulative effect of these prior submissions and the annexed materials is to establish a comprehensive and unassailable foundation for the requests contained herein, thereby precluding any assertion that the matter has been inadequately articulated. The very act of this submission is predicated upon the fundamental and inalienable right of a litigant to access the judicial record pertinent to their case. The denial of this access, for reasons that appear to be grounded in administrative convenience rather than legal principle, is antithetical to the principles of judicial transparency and accountability.

II. THE IMPERATIVE OF JUDICIAL OVERSIGHT AND THE OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE RECORDS

This matter does not represent a mere administrative dispute; it is a subject that implicates the very essence of the "open court principle" and the judiciary's supervisory power over its own records, as affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada. The Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits ("MAG CSD Guide") is explicit in its pronouncement that "each court has jurisdiction over its own records, and all policies respecting access to court documents, files and exhibits are subject to judicial direction" (referencing MAG CSD Guide, Section 1.2). This a priori declaration establishes the supremacy of judicial authority in all matters of court record access. The Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, in their model policies for the classification and retention of court information, consistently affirm this custodial responsibility, noting that courts have an "unassailable corollary that the public body or organization is vested with the paramount responsibility to determine the nature of the information within its custody and control." The inherent jurisdiction of the court to control its process and its records is a constitutional norm that cannot be subordinated to administrative convenience or a narrow, proscriptive interpretation of procedural requirements.

In light of this jurisprudential and statutory framework it is an inescapable conclusion that this matter, which pertains to the provision of a judicial record for transcription, falls squarely within the purview of a matter assigned by law to the judiciary. The obligation of court staff in this regard is not discretionary; indeed, it is a direct duty articulated in section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act, which stipulates that "[i]n matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the judiciary." This provision establishes a clear and mandatory hierarchy of authority, placing the responsibility for such matters squarely under judicial direction. Accordingly, the necessity to seek a directive from the ultimate authority to compel staff to discharge their professional and statutory duties becomes apparent and inescapable. A failure to provide the records in question constitutes a fundamental impediment to the exercise of an individual's rights and a contravention of the principles of natural justice, as it unjustly obstructs the ability to prepare legal proceedings with the benefit of the complete judicial record. Such a course of action is wholly incompatible with the constitutional mandate to ensure equitable access to justice. The judiciary, as the ultimate arbiter of procedural fairness, must ensure that its administrative arms facilitate, rather than hinder, the pursuit of justice.

III. LEGAL SYLLOGISM AND THE CORROBORATION OF ATTACHED MATERIALS

The request for transcription pertains to a hearing concerning a criminal pre-enquête proceeding that was conducted ex parte and in camera, for which a warrant was issued. The MAG CSD Guide confirms that such proceedings are not open to the public; however, it also incontrovertibly provides that "if process is issued, the documents of the pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served" (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.2.2). The arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at which point the process was unequivocally issued. A logical extrapolation of this legal principle mandates that all records of this hearing, including the audio recordings thereof, must now be rendered publicly accessible, a determination that has already been adjudicated by operation of law. The procedural hurdle created by the SCJ RMO's demand for a specific date is, therefore, an administrative obstacle without a cognizable legal foundation.

The SCJ RMO has, through the electronic mail transmissions attached hereto, acknowledged its capacity to search for these recordings. The sole pretext for its refusal to provide them has been a purported inability to process orders with a date range, a contention that is legally and logically fallacious. The Transcript Order Form dated August 8, 2025, delineates a date range of "Between August 20, 2024 to October 2, 2024," along with the name of the presiding judicial official, "Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore." The MAG CSD Guide states that requests for search warrants require a sufficient combination of information to "accurately identify the records sought," such as a name and date of birth (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.7). A date range, in conjunction with the presiding judge's name, represents a quantum of information that transcends mere sufficiency; it is a definitive frame of reference that places the burden of locating the recording on the custodian, not the litigant. To demand a specific date in these circumstances is to impose a patently unreasonable burden that contravenes the principles of accessibility and efficiency enshrined in section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act.

It is noted that the sole objection contained in the response from the SCJ RMO to the authorized transcriptionist pertained to the specification of exact dates. While a cooperative posture is maintained for the purpose of a collaborative resolution, it is submitted that such a requirement appears to be at variance with the principles of efficient utilization of public resources, the open court principle (which applies post-issuance of a process but perhaps NOT "made" i.e. completed, dated, printed name of the presiding judge, with a signature (digital, electronic or handwritten)), the Charter rights of the applicant, and the required independence and impartiality of the Superior Courts. The act of necessitating the applicant to identify the precise date of an in camera proceeding—a fact uniquely within the court's purview—represents a perversion of the procedural burden. The court, as the custodian of institutional knowledge, possesses the singular means to perform such a search, and to shift this burden is to engage in a specious and procedurally unjust, inefficient, and non-expeditious exercise.

This respectful request is self-evidently distinct from another request involving a Request Form Undertaking (i.e. I cannot share that digital recording). I do not see anything that would not allow for the utilization of the dates from those audio recordings (so numbered after being downloaded from the likes of a Zoom Communications, Inc.) to then make the amendments to the Transcript Ordering Form (see: attached), and resubmitting. This is not viewed as a procedural requirement but if that request is granted forthwith by the SCJ RMO with or without your intervention then perhaps it would achieve a dual objective.

Furthermore, the Canadian Judicial Council's model policies on information retention emphasize that "courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible" (Model Policy for the Retention of Court Info, page 7). The term "ensure" implies a guarantee that transcends mere administrative convenience. The audio recording of a judicial proceeding, irrespective of whether the physical documents may have been disposed of, constitutes a permanent and indispensable component of the court's activities. The Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual confirms that digital recordings of a closed proceeding are considered "Restricted" information and require a higher degree of protection (Manual, Section 2.2.13 and Model Policy for the Classification of Court Information, Table 4, page 23). This classification, however, does not abrogate the court's duty to release the record upon issuance of process. A careful and deliberate reading of the relevant documentation compels the conclusion that the recordings exist and can be located with the information already furnished.

IV. CONCLUSION AND RESPECTFUL REQUEST

In light of the foregoing, it is the firm, yet gracious, conviction that the continued refusal of the SCJ RMO to furnish the requested audio recordings constitutes a manifest dereliction of a duty assigned by law to the judiciary. The documentation provided, including the Transcript Order Form, the MAG CSD Guide, the Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual, and the Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, serves as a comprehensive and irrefutable testament to the legality and propriety of the request. It is now, a fortiori, self-evident that the impediment is not procedural or legal, but rather a misapplication of administrative discretion that contravenes established statutory and jurisprudential principles. Such an administrative fiat, if left unaddressed, could establish a pernicious precedent wherein the onus to identify the precise details of an ex parte proceeding is improperly shifted from the court as custodian to the litigant, thereby compromising the due administration of justice. The court's record-keeping obligations are designed to serve, and not to obstruct, the course of justice.

It is trusted that the gravity of this communication and the profound urgency of this matter will be comprehended. It is hoped that the Chief Justice's direction will provide the necessary impetus for the SCJ RMO to provide the audio recordings to the authorized transcriptionist forthwith, thereby obviating any need for further escalation. The resolution of this matter would not only ensure the proper discharge of professional duties but also serve to uphold the integrity of the court's record-keeping function and the public's confidence in an equitable and accessible legal system.

Gratitude is expressed for the time and most careful consideration of this correspondence. Notification will be provided to both the SCJ RMO and the authorized transcriptionist that this letter has been sent.

Respectfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject: A Respectful Formal Request for Judicial Direction (My Request Form Undertaking perfected August 15 2025 with payment of prescribed fees) to the relevant court staff to process, make and provide a digital audio recording due to their non-responses at this time : specific request pursuant to the Courts of Justice Act, section 76 et al. Re:
Provision of a Timeline for the Retrieval, Making and Providing of a Digital Recording pursuant to the "Perfected Request Form Undertaking" as of August 15, 2025 - full compliance with the relevant statutes and regulations (see: attendant regulation under the Administration of Justice Act, RSO 1990, c A.6., which is the Superior Court of Justice and Court of Appeal - Fees, O Reg 293/92)

Dear Mr. Chief Justice:

1. Purpose and Foundational Premise of Correspondence

This communication is tendered upon grounds of lawful authority and for the express purpose of entreating the Honourable Chief Justice to exercise superintendence over the administration of court operations. This is a matter of paramount importance and exigency that pertains directly to the provision of a clear and definitive timeline for the retrieval of a digital audio recording. This request is predicated upon due and complete compliance with all procedural requisites, specifically the submission of a perfected Request Form Undertaking and the prescribed fee payment. It is a matter of public import, for the principle of judicial and administrative transparency, as well as the litigant's right to unencumbered access to the record of proceedings, must be upheld without derogation. The present circumstances, which have necessitated this correspondence, compel this Honourable Court to exercise its inherent jurisdiction to rectify a procedural vacuum that has materially impeded the ability to prepare for legal defence.

2. Reliance Upon Pre-Existing Correspondence and Definitions

For the sake of jurisprudential and procedural clarity, it is confirmed herein that reliance is placed upon all previous correspondence, both internal and external, which addresses the material facts and principles of law relevant to this matter. This course of action is taken in toto to avoid the prolixity of reiterating previously articulated arguments and to establish a consistent, documented record of assiduous efforts to secure the requested materials. Furthermore, all previous definitions where such a practice is applicable and relevant are formally adopted and incorporated, thereby ensuring a consistent and unwavering terminology throughout the entire body of this communication.

3. Statement of Facts and Procedural Compliance

As the accused and applicant in a matter currently before the Superior Court of Justice, which was initiated by way of an application dated July 10, 2025, and has since been supplemented by a Notice of Constitutional Question and multiple affidavits, there has been an assiduous adherence to the procedural strictures delineated within the Criminal Code and the Criminal Proceeding Rules of the Superior Court of Justice. This compliance has been effectuated through meticulous service and personal service upon all relevant courts, judicial officers, provincial court judges, and Superior Court of Justice judges, whether designated by this Court in the Divisional Court or in the Superior Court of Justice, de facto or de jure. However, the above was for context and the sole focus is that the court staff comply with a direction from the CJ of the SCJ regarding my Request Form Undertaking in that it has been perfected for a week but without any confirmation as to when I will be able to pick up the same.

There has been strict compliance with the terms of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking, which was digitally executed on August 14, 2025, and followed by the payment of the prescribed fee via a bank draft that was delivered on August 15, 2025. This remittance, by way of bank draft, was specifically procured to signify an unassailable and immediate tender of the required funds, thereby obviating any potential for delay. For the ease of review, the relevant emails have been appended, which have been enumerated so that the precise cross-referencing of the salient points contained therein may be followed.

(please see: Email from Kevin McLean dated August 14, 2025, at 9:44 a.m., confirming submission of the digitally executed undertaking form and the fax confirmation from SCJ RMO dated August 14, 2025 at 12:00 PM, on pages 14-15; Email from Kevin McLean dated August 15, 2025, at 4:24 PM, confirming delivery of the bank draft for $23.00, on page 14; and the email from the SCJ RMO dated August 18, 2025, at 9:09 AM, stating "there were no audio recordings made," on page 13.)

4. Procedural Inadequacy and Inexplicable Non-Response

The solitary and inadequate response provided in relation to the aforementioned perfected request was the unsubstantiated assertion that an audio recording had not been made. This contention is inconsistent with the procedural realities of the court, particularly in an era of virtual proceedings. It is a self-evident conclusion that a proceeding conducted via a telecommunications platform, such as Zoom, must, a fortiori, give rise to a verifiable and reproducible record. A copy of the digitally signed Request Form Undertaking and the corroborating evidence of the prescribed fee payment have been enclosed to underscore the veracity of this claim and to dispel any and all misapprehensions regarding the matter. The continued absence of a substantive response, particularly one that offers a definitive timeline, can only be construed as a procedural dereliction that obstructs the due course of justice.

5. The Exigency and a Self-Evident Conclusion

While it is profoundly loath to resort to this extraordinary avenue of recourse, the protracted and inexplicable absence of any substantive communication has rendered this petition an absolute procedural and legal necessity. The court's lack of action has resulted in a material delay that is prejudicial to the legal interests of the party and infringes upon a fundamental right to a fair hearing. This delay, which is now nearing a week since the perfection of the undertaking, amounts to a tangible obstacle to the ability to prosecute the case and prepare a defence.

The fundamental principle governing the administration of justice dictates that procedural requisites be met with an appropriate and timely administrative response. This correspondence, therefore, extrapolates from the procedural vacuum to syllogistically conclude that judicial intervention is warranted to direct court staff to provide a specific timeline for the fulfillment of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking. A failure to do so would, in absentia, constitute a material impediment to the ability to prosecute the case.

6. Ancillary Analysis and Jurisprudential Imperatives

It is a matter of established jurisprudence, most notably in Bhasin v. Hrynew, 2014 SCC 71, and Callow v. Zollinger, 2020 SCC 45, that an organizing principle of good faith contractual performance and a specific duty of honest performance are operative and binding on all parties. The application of this principle to the present matter is an unassailable corollary, for the failure of the court's administrative arm to provide a timeline or substantive response following the perfection of the undertaking and payment constitutes an act of bad faith, whether by omission or design. The court's own Courts of Justice Act, section 76, vests in the Chief Justice the authority and obligation, with most respect, to provide direction to court personnel. This statutory mandate is in place precisely to ensure that administrative processes, such as the provision of recordings, are conducted efficiently and fairly. The court's responsibility to manage and control its records, regardless of whether they were created by its own staff or an external provider like Zoom, is further buttressed by decisions such as Criminal Review Board v. Hale, 1999 O.J. No. 2228 (ONCA). That decision held that a government institution retains control over records created by an independent contractor for the purpose of fulfilling the institution's statutory mandate. In this context, the digital audio recording of the proceeding, a matter the court is statutorily obligated to record, is irrefutably under the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice.

7. Regulatory Context and Juridical Control

Court records, if they exist, are under the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice, and/or the Ontario Court of Justice, and/or the Court of Appeal for Ontario. Courts are not governed by FIPPA and court records under the supervisory control of the judiciary are not available through the FOI process or subject to FIPPA. Requests for court records should be made to the originating courthouse (nota bene: I have received confirmation with thanks that the SCJ RMO handles the obtaining, making and providing of tapes (i.e. if made by an independent contractor at first instance) for the four downtown Toronto SCJ courthouses of which is a branch of the SCJ (Divisional Court at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario). More information is available, naturally well-known to you, in the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits.

8. Conclusion and Final Disposition

In light of the foregoing, and having met every triggering requirement and obligation, a formal requisition is respectfully made for the exercise of statutory authority to direct the relevant court staff to provide a definitive timeline for the fulfillment of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking. The failure to provide a confirmed timeline or location for the requested materials constitutes a material dereliction of the public institution's duty of good faith to its residents and citizens. It is trusted that this correspondence, which is articulated in the strongest and most respectful terms, will be given the highest priority.

It is with the utmost gratitude that the potential for the required direction from the Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice is acknowledged. Should a substantive response be received from the court staff, confirming a time and mode for pickup, the same will be promptly confirmed via this email channel to the attention of the judicial assistant(s). Such procedural notice from the court staff would obviate the need for any further response. However, the importance and urgency of the matter, along with the specified preparation purposes delineated in the undertaking, cannot be overstated.

Gracious acknowledgement is expressed, which I find regrettable but necessary, for the time and due consideration afforded to this correspondence, and the party remains, as always, at the Court's service.

Yours faithfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

CONFIDENTIAL

RESPONDING OUT OF COURTESY - AND URGENTLY IN LIGHT OF MY CURRENT RESEARCH ON THE CSMD DIVERSION PROGRAM

To:

CSMD Diversion Program (Email)

Subject Lines:

- Apparent Unauthorized Transmittal of Correspondence
- Inquiry Pertaining to Alleged Communications with the Superior Court of Justice JUD Email Account
- Clarification of Factual and Legal Matters Pertaining to Communications with the Superior Court of Justice
- Formal Response to Allegations, Filed under an Abundance of Caution

Introduction and Principle of Primacy

This correspondence is made in receipt of a communication dated August 22, 2025. It is the express intention of the author to facilitate the resolution of any and all points of contention with a mutual commitment to clarity and a spirit of cooperative resolution. This communication is issued under the authority of applicable law.

At the outset, the authenticity of the aforementioned electronic mail is not certain, and a discrepancy exists between the purported sender's address and the alleged signatory. Identification of the individual responsible for the origination of this electronic mail is hereby requested. A preliminary inquiry into the nature of the email account reveals the following about the CSMD Diversion (MAG) program:

CSMD Diversion (MAG) refers to the Criminal and Secure Mental Disorder Diversion program, a component of the mental health court support services in Ontario. It is a program, managed by the Ministry of the Attorney General, that serves to divert individuals with serious mental health issues away from the traditional criminal justice system.

The operational framework of the program includes:

- Voluntary participation: Participation is of a voluntary nature and is offered by the Crown Attorney to individuals with a serious mental illness who have been charged with a minor offense.
- Assessment: The accused must undergo an assessment to confirm their mental health status and suitability for treatment within the community.
- Diversion plan: Participants enter into an agreement for a diversion plan that may involve community-based services such as counseling, case management, addiction treatment, and housing support.
- Outcome: Upon the successful completion of the program, the criminal charges are withdrawn or stayed, thereby preventing the individual from acquiring a criminal record. In the event of non-completion, the charges can be reinstated.

To be eligible for CSMD Diversion, an individual must:

- Be diagnosed with a serious mental illness.
- Be charged with a relatively minor, non-violent offense.
- Agree to participate voluntarily and accept responsibility for their actions.
- Be recommended for the program by the Crown Attorney.

The objectives of the CSMD Diversion program are predicated upon rehabilitation rather than punishment, with the focus being the amelioration of underlying mental health issues that contributed to the offense. The benefits of this program include:

- The avoidance of a criminal record.
- Connection to requisite mental health and community services.
- Reduction in the probability of recidivism.
- Lowering of overall costs for the justice and correctional systems.

The subject matter of the CSMD Diversion Program appears to be devoid of any direct applicability to the circumstances at hand. Moreover, it is not clear by what authority electronic mails, which were tendered in strict confidence and privately to the SCJ JUD email account previously provided, are being forwarded to such a program, particularly as no criminal offense has been committed. The transmittal is considered to constitute a potential unauthorized use and disclosure of personal information, thereby raising the issue of a potential breach of the duty of confidence.

I will raise the same with the appropriate persons regarding such an email being received and it will be temporarily blocked in the even it is phishing, spam, or unauthorized sending of the same. Moreover, the CSMD Diversion has no authority for a separate branch of government. This is outright alarming on all fronts.

I am not part of your program, never have been and never will be.

Nevertheless, a response is hereby rendered under the auspices of self-preservation and an abundance of caution. For the purposes of clarity and for the official record, this correspondent hereby repeats, relies upon, and incorporates by reference all prior correspondence related to the material facts and law, which may be cited in subsequent communications, whether internal or external. Furthermore, all previously established definitions are adopted as applicable herein.

Clarification of Factual Allegations

It is the understanding of the author that reference is being made to a prior communication from an electronic mail address not identified in the electronic mail threads of this correspondent as having provided the initial advisement. Therefore, the means of dispatch and the fact of receipt of said email remain unclear. A diligent review of its contents shall be undertaken in due course.

With respect to the assertion, "We are writing to you today to inform you that the JSSO has received such a complaint from the Superior Court of Justice, Correspondence Unit. It was reported to JSSO that on August 22, 2025, you allegedly sent four (4) emails to the Superior Court of Justice, including the Chief Justice Morawetz," a direct and unequivocal clarification must be provided. A meticulous review of the relevant electronic records indicates that only two electronic mails of a substantive nature were transmitted on the aforementioned date to the email address previously provided in May 2025. This was followed by two subsequent communications intended solely to confirm receipt.

The allegation that correspondence was received on August 22, 2025, from the SCJ Correspondence Unit, wherein it was instructed that direct communication with a member of the Court is inappropriate, is hereby repudiated. The provision of the relevant electronic mail threads is a measure for which a state of preparedness has been attained, thereby substantiating this position.

Legal Principles and Duty to the Court

The contention that a state of harassment has been engaged in by this correspondent represents an egregious mischaracterization of the factual and legal circumstances. The subject communications constitute the exercise of a legal right, authority, and solemn duty, predicated upon the drawing of a matter to the attention of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice, within the sphere of the Court's supervisory jurisdiction concerning the control of documents, information, and records. It is a well-established principle in law that a party is entitled to draw matters to the attention of the court where such issues involve supervisory jurisdiction, and this is explicitly permitted by the Criminal Proceedings Rules of the Superior Court of Justice. Reference is respectfully directed to Rule 8 in this regard.

Consequently, the cited hyperlink, Accessing a Digital Recording & Ordering Transcripts – Ontario Superior Court of Justice, is considered to be factually devoid of relevance to the subject matter of the electronic mails, which pertain to issues separate and distinct. While the scope of the demand is acknowledged, the matter is rendered somewhat moot, as no further contribution via electronic mail is possessed by this correspondent.

Conclusion and Principle of Recency

Receipt of the subject communication has been confirmed; however, the veracity of the assertions contained therein is not conceded. An extension of this courtesy has been effectuated in the interest of a lucid and formal dialogue, serving to preserve the professional decorum that should characterize all discourse between the parties. This extension of courtesy, however, is not to be misconstrued as an admission of fault, nor does it prejudice any rights, remedies, or claims available under applicable law. Instead, it represents a good-faith effort to navigate this matter expediently and with due respect for the judicial process. The actions of this correspondent are predicated upon a principled approach to dispute resolution, wherein transparent communication and a commitment to factual accuracy are paramount.

It is anticipated that this communication provides the necessary clarification to move toward a swift and principled resolution. Furthermore, it is herewith confirmed, under an abundance of caution while reserving all rights, that the quasi-threat related to the SCJ JUD email account and to attention, exclusively by email to the CJ of the SCJ, has been noted.

In closing, it is herewith submitted that further research into the aforementioned is required due to certain very concerning aspects. In the interim, this will constitute the sole communication, rendered for the exclusive purpose of expressly denying and refuting the factual and legal positions advanced.

Thank you.

Good morning, Mr. Kevin McLean,

The Justice Sector Security Office (JSSO) of the Ministry of the Attorney General has the mandate to address complaints of threats, intimidation, and harassment experienced by justice officials, including judges.

We are writing to you today to inform you that the JSSO has received such a complaint from the Superior Court of Justice, Correspondence Unit.

It was reported to JSSO that on August 22, 2025, you allegedly sent four (4) emails to the Superior Court of Justice, including the Chief Justice Morawetz.

On August 22, 2025, you received correspondence by e-mail from SCJ Correspondence Unit informing you that it is inappropriate to communicate directly or indirectly with a member of the Court, unless otherwise directed, with respect to matters that are, or may be, before the Court.

You were also advised to review the Court's policy on access to digital recordings, specifically the section on "Access to Digital Recordings for Self-Represented Litigants". The policy is accessible on the Court's website here Accessing a Digital Recording & Ordering Transcripts – Ontario Superior Court of Justice

Despite being asked to not further communicate with members of the Court it is alleged that on August 22, 2025, at 12:44 PM and at 4:09 PM you again sent more emails to the SCJ Correspondence Unit, directed to the Chief Justice Morawetz resulting in the matter being reported to the JSSO.

At this point, we would like to inform you that further correspondence with members of the Court, including the SCJ Correspondence Unit or Chief Justice Morawetz may be viewed as harassment and could result in some form of legal jeopardy.

Therefore, to avoid escalation, we respectfully request that you discontinue sending e-mails to Court, including the SCJ Correspondence Unit or Chief Justice Morawetz

SUBJECT: A Formal Request to Direct Court Staff to Comply with a Matter Assigned by Law to the Judiciary: Expedited Provision of Audio Recordings to an Authorized Transcriptionist

SUBJECT II: The Legal Insufficiency of Requiring Specific Dates for Ex Parte and In Camera Proceedings, Predicated upon the Established Efficacy of a Date Range and the Inherent Knowledge of the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office

I. INTRODUCTION AND PRELIMINARY MATTERS

This document is submitted with the profoundest respect for the exalted office of the Chief Justice and for the foundational principles upon which the administration of justice in this province is constructed. This correspondence is necessitated by a persistent procedural impasse with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office ("SCJ RMO"), an impediment that has unduly protracted the effort to procure essential audio recordings of a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The singular objective of this communication is to respectfully implore a judicious intervention and directive, which may catalyze an immediate resolution to this protracted matter. The gravity of this situation is underscored by its potential to undermine the very principles of fairness and procedural rectitude that are fundamental to the judicial process, and it is in the interest of preserving the integrity of that process that this communication is proffered. The exigency of this request is not predicated upon a desire for mere expedition, but upon a fundamental concern that the continued obstruction of access to the judicial record constitutes a form of procedural prejudice, rendering it an insurmountable barrier to the proper preparation of legal arguments and the vindication of rights.

While there are some obvious clerical issues, to put it charitably, in the "False Information Package" (my definition), I was nonetheless arrested on October 2, 2024, by the TPS at the 14th Division – as surreal as that remains to me. It certainly remains even more surreal to me in light of the False Information Package.

This communication is submitted on grounds of lawful authority, and it is a matter of incontrovertible record that all previous correspondence relating to the material facts and legal principles has been reiterated and relied upon. Furthermore, all previous definitions, where applicable, are formally adopted, thereby ensuring an unbroken chain of legal and factual continuity. The cumulative effect of these prior submissions and the annexed materials is to establish a comprehensive and unassailable foundation for the requests contained herein, thereby precluding any assertion that the matter has been inadequately articulated. The very act of this submission is predicated upon the fundamental and inalienable right of a litigant to access the judicial record pertinent to their case. The denial of this access, for reasons that appear to be grounded in administrative convenience rather than legal principle, is antithetical to the principles of judicial transparency and accountability.

II. THE IMPERATIVE OF JUDICIAL OVERSIGHT AND THE OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE RECORDS

This matter does not represent a mere administrative dispute; it is a subject that implicates the very essence of the "open court principle" and the judiciary's supervisory power over its own records, as affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada. The Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits ("MAG CSD Guide") is explicit in its pronouncement that "each court has jurisdiction over its own records, and all policies respecting access to court documents, files and exhibits are subject to judicial direction" (referencing MAG CSD Guide, Section 1.2). This a priori declaration establishes the supremacy of judicial authority in all matters of court record access. The Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, in their model policies for the classification and retention of court information, consistently affirm this custodial responsibility, noting that courts have an "unassailable corollary that the public body or organization is vested with the paramount responsibility to determine the nature of the information within its custody and control." The inherent jurisdiction of the court to control its process and its records is a constitutional norm that cannot be subordinated to administrative convenience or a narrow, proscriptive interpretation of procedural requirements.

In light of this jurisprudential and statutory framework, it is an inescapable conclusion that this matter, which pertains to the provision of a judicial record for transcription, falls squarely within the purview of a matter assigned by law to the judiciary. The obligation of court staff in this regard is not discretionary; indeed, it is a direct duty articulated in section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act, which stipulates that "[i]n matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the judiciary." This provision establishes a clear and mandatory hierarchy of authority, placing the responsibility for such matters squarely under judicial direction. Accordingly, the necessity to seek a directive from the ultimate authority to compel staff to discharge their professional and statutory duties becomes apparent and inescapable. A failure to provide the records in question constitutes a fundamental impediment to the exercise of an individual's rights and a contravention of the principles of natural justice, as it unjustly obstructs the ability to prepare legal proceedings with the benefit of the complete judicial record. Such a course of action is wholly incompatible with the constitutional mandate to ensure equitable access to justice. The judiciary, as the ultimate arbiter of procedural fairness, must ensure that its administrative arms facilitate, rather than hinder, the pursuit of justice.

III. LEGAL SYLLOGISM AND THE CORROBORATION OF ATTACHED MATERIALS

The request for transcription pertains to a hearing concerning a criminal pre-enquête proceeding that was conducted ex parte and in camera, for which a warrant was issued. The MAG CSD Guide confirms that such proceedings are not open to the public; however, it also incontrovertibly provides that "if process is issued, the documents of the pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served" (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.2.2). The arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at which point the process was unequivocally issued. A logical extrapolation of this legal principle mandates that all records of this hearing, including the audio recordings thereof, must now be rendered publicly accessible, a determination that has already been adjudicated by operation of law. The procedural hurdle created by the SCJ RMO's demand for a specific date is, therefore, an administrative obstacle without a cognizable legal foundation.

The SCJ RMO has, through the electronic mail transmissions attached hereto, acknowledged its capacity to search for these recordings. The sole pretext for its refusal to provide them has been a purported inability to process orders with a date range, a contention that is legally and logically fallacious. The Transcript Order Form dated August 8, 2025, delineates a date range of "Between August 20, 2024 to October 2, 2024," along with the name of the presiding judicial official, "Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore." The MAG CSD Guide states that requests for search warrants require a sufficient combination of information to "accurately identify the records sought," such as a name and date of birth (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.7). A date range, in conjunction with the presiding judge's name, represents a quantum of information that transcends mere sufficiency; it is a definitive frame of reference that places the burden of locating the recording on the custodian, not the litigant. To demand a specific date in these circumstances is to impose a patently unreasonable burden that contravenes the principles of accessibility and efficiency enshrined in section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act.

It is noted that the sole objection contained in the response from the SCJ RMO to the authorized transcriptionist pertained to the specification of exact dates. While a cooperative posture is maintained for the purpose of a collaborative resolution, it is submitted that such a requirement appears to be at variance with the principles of efficient utilization of public resources, the open court principle (which applies post-issuance of a process but perhaps NOT "made" i.e. completed, dated, printed name of the presiding judge, with a signature (digital, electronic or handwritten)), the Charter rights of the applicant, and the required independence and impartiality of the Superior Courts. The act of necessitating the applicant to identify the precise date of an in camera proceeding—a fact uniquely within the court's purview—represents a perversion of the procedural burden. The court, as the custodian of institutional knowledge, possesses the singular means to perform such a search, and to shift this burden is to engage in a specious and procedurally unjust, inefficient, and non-expeditious exercise.

This respectful request is self-evidently distinct from another request involving a Request Form Undertaking (i.e. I cannot share that digital recording). I do not see anything that would not allow for the utilization of the dates from those audio recordings (so numbered after being downloaded from the likes of a Zoom Communications, Inc.) to then make the amendments to the Transcript Ordering Form (see: attached), and resubmitting. This is not viewed as a procedural requirement but if that request is granted forthwith by the SCJ RMO with or without your intervention then perhaps it would achieve a dual objective.

Furthermore, the Canadian Judicial Council's model policies on information retention emphasize that "courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible" (Model Policy for the Retention of Court Info, page 7). The term "ensure" implies a guarantee that transcends mere administrative convenience. The audio recording of a judicial proceeding, irrespective of whether the physical documents may have been disposed of, constitutes a permanent and indispensable component of the court's activities. The Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual confirms that digital recordings of a closed proceeding are considered "Restricted" information and require a higher degree of protection (Manual, Section 2.2.13 and Model Policy for the Classification of Court Information, Table 4, page 23). This classification, however, does not abrogate the court's duty to release the record upon issuance of process. A careful and deliberate reading of the relevant documentation compels the conclusion that the recordings exist and can be located with the information already furnished.

IV. CONCLUSION AND RESPECTFUL REQUEST

In light of the foregoing, it is the firm, yet gracious, conviction that the continued refusal of the SCJ RMO to furnish the requested audio recordings constitutes a manifest dereliction of a duty assigned by law to the judiciary. The documentation provided, including the Transcript Order Form, the MAG CSD Guide, the Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual, and the Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, serves as a comprehensive and irrefutable testament to the legality and propriety of the request. It is now, a fortiori, self-evident that the impediment is not procedural or legal, but rather a misapplication of administrative discretion that contravenes established statutory and jurisprudential principles. Such an administrative fiat, if left unaddressed, could establish a pernicious precedent wherein the onus to identify the precise details of an ex parte proceeding is improperly shifted from the court as custodian to the litigant, thereby compromising the due administration of justice. The court's record-keeping obligations are designed to serve, and not to obstruct, the course of justice.

It is trusted that the gravity of this communication and the profound urgency of this matter will be comprehended. It is hoped that the Chief Justice's direction will provide the necessary impetus for the SCJ RMO to provide the audio recordings to the authorized transcriptionist forthwith, thereby obviating any need for further escalation. The resolution of this matter would not only ensure the proper discharge of professional duties but also serve to uphold the integrity of the court's record-keeping function and the public's confidence in an equitable and accessible legal system.

Gratitude is expressed for the time and most careful consideration of this correspondence. Notification will be provided to both the SCJ RMO and the authorized transcriptionist that this letter has been sent.

Respectfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

We are in receipt of your August 22, 2025, email, and the included attachments, directed to Chief Justice Geoffrey Morawetz.

Please review the Court's policy on access to digital recordings, specifically the section on "Access to Digital Recordings for Self-Represented Litigants". The policy is accessible on the Court's website here Accessing a Digital Recording & Ordering Transcripts – Ontario Superior Court of Justice.

Please also be advised that it is inappropriate to communicate directly or indirectly with a member of the Court, unless otherwise directed, with respect to matters that are, or may be, before the Court.

For this reason, your communication will not be addressed by Chief Justice Morawetz.

If you wish to bring a matter to the attention of the Court, you must do so in compliance with the appropriate procedural rules and any orders made by the Court. This will ensure that matters on which the Court may adjudicate are tabled in open Court, on notice to all parties, and not through ex parte communications with members of the judiciary.

Complaints made against court staff regarding any procedural irregularities must be directed to the individual staff member's direct supervisor.

Your co-operation in not directly or indirectly communicating with the Chief Justice, or any other judge of the Superior Court of Justice, regarding your concerns is appreciated. Further communication from you in relation to this matter will not receive a response and may be forwarded to the Justice Sector Security Office. This will be the Court's final response regarding these matters. Please do not respond to this email.

Dear Mr. Chief Justice:

1. Purpose and Foundational Premise of Correspondence

This communication is tendered upon grounds of lawful authority and for the express purpose of entreating the Honourable Chief Justice to exercise superintendence over the administration of court operations. This is a matter of paramount importance and exigency that pertains directly to the provision of a clear and definitive timeline for the retrieval of a digital audio recording. This request is predicated upon due and complete compliance with all procedural requisites, specifically the submission of a perfected Request Form Undertaking and the prescribed fee payment. It is a matter of public import, for the principle of judicial and administrative transparency, as well as the litigant's right to unencumbered access to the record of proceedings, must be upheld without derogation. The present circumstances, which have necessitated this correspondence, compel this Honourable Court to exercise its inherent jurisdiction to rectify a procedural vacuum that has materially impeded the ability to prepare for legal defence.

2. Reliance Upon Pre-Existing Correspondence and Definitions

For the sake of jurisprudential and procedural clarity, it is confirmed herein that reliance is placed upon all previous correspondence, both internal and external, which addresses the material facts and principles of law relevant to this matter. This course of action is taken in toto to avoid the prolixity of reiterating previously articulated arguments and to establish a consistent, documented record of assiduous efforts to secure the requested materials. Furthermore, all previous definitions where such a practice is applicable and relevant are formally adopted and incorporated, thereby ensuring a consistent and unwavering terminology throughout the entire body of this communication.

3. Statement of Facts and Procedural Compliance

As the accused and applicant in a matter currently before the Superior Court of Justice, which was initiated by way of an application dated July 10, 2025, and has since been supplemented by a Notice of Constitutional Question and multiple affidavits, there has been an assiduous adherence to the procedural strictures delineated within the Criminal Code and the Criminal Proceeding Rules of the Superior Court of Justice. This compliance has been effectuated through meticulous service and personal service upon all relevant courts, judicial officers, provincial court judges, and Superior Court of Justice judges, whether designated by this Court in the Divisional Court or in the Superior Court of Justice, de facto or de jure.

However, the above was for context and the sole focus is that the court staff comply with a direction from the CJ of the SCJ regarding my Request Form Undertaking in that it has been perfected for a week but without any confirmation as to when I will be able to pick up the same.

There has been strict compliance with the terms of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking, which was digitally executed on August 14, 2025, and followed by the payment of the prescribed fee via a bank draft that was delivered on August 15, 2025. This remittance, by way of bank draft, was specifically procured to signify an unassailable and immediate tender of the required funds, thereby obviating any potential for delay. For the ease of review, the relevant emails have been appended, which have been enumerated so that the precise cross-referencing of the salient points contained therein may be followed.

(please see: Email from Kevin McLean dated August 14, 2025, at 9:44 a.m., confirming submission of the digitally executed undertaking form and the fax confirmation from SCJ RMO dated August 14, 2025 at 12:00 PM, on pages 14-15; Email from Kevin McLean dated August 15, 2025, at 4:24 PM, confirming delivery of the bank draft for $23.00, on page 14; and the email from the SCJ RMO dated August 18, 2025, at 9:09 AM, stating "there were no audio recordings made," on page 13.)

4. Procedural Inadequacy and Inexplicable Non-Response

The solitary and inadequate response provided in relation to the aforementioned perfected request was the unsubstantiated assertion that an audio recording had not been made. This contention is inconsistent with the procedural realities of the court, particularly in an era of virtual proceedings. It is a self-evident conclusion that a proceeding conducted via a telecommunications platform, such as Zoom, must, a fortiori, give rise to a verifiable and reproducible record. A copy of the digitally signed Request Form Undertaking and the corroborating evidence of the prescribed fee payment have been enclosed to underscore the veracity of this claim and to dispel any and all misapprehensions regarding the matter. The continued absence of a substantive response, particularly one that offers a definitive timeline, can only be construed as a procedural dereliction that obstructs the due course of justice.

5. The Exigency and a Self-Evident Conclusion

While it is profoundly loath to resort to this extraordinary avenue of recourse, the protracted and inexplicable absence of any substantive communication has rendered this petition an absolute procedural and legal necessity. The court's lack of action has resulted in a material delay that is prejudicial to the legal interests of the party and infringes upon a fundamental right to a fair hearing. This delay, which is now nearing a week since the perfection of the undertaking, amounts to a tangible obstacle to the ability to prosecute the case and prepare a defence.

The fundamental principle governing the administration of justice dictates that procedural requisites be met with an appropriate and timely administrative response. This correspondence, therefore, extrapolates from the procedural vacuum to syllogistically conclude that judicial intervention is warranted to direct court staff to provide a specific timeline for the fulfillment of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking. A failure to do so would, in absentia, constitute a material impediment to the ability to prosecute the case.

6. Ancillary Analysis and Jurisprudential Imperatives

It is a matter of established jurisprudence, most notably in Bhasin v. Hrynew, 2014 SCC 71, and Callow v. Zollinger, 2020 SCC 45, that an organizing principle of good faith contractual performance and a specific duty of honest performance are operative and binding on all parties. The application of this principle to the present matter is an unassailable corollary, for the failure of the court's administrative arm to provide a timeline or substantive response following the perfection of the undertaking and payment constitutes an act of bad faith, whether by omission or design. The court's own Courts of Justice Act, section 76, vests in the Chief Justice the authority and obligation, with most respect, to provide direction to court personnel. This statutory mandate is in place precisely to ensure that administrative processes, such as the provision of recordings, are conducted efficiently and fairly. The court's responsibility to manage and control its records, regardless of whether they were created by its own staff or an external provider like Zoom, is further buttressed by decisions such as Criminal Review Board v. Hale, 1999 O.J. No. 2228 (ONCA). That decision held that a government institution retains control over records created by an independent contractor for the purpose of fulfilling the institution's statutory mandate. In this context, the digital audio recording of the proceeding, a matter the court is statutorily obligated to record, is irrefutably under the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice.

7. Regulatory Context and Juridical Control

Court records, if they exist, are under the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice, and/or the Ontario Court of Justice, and/or the Court of Appeal for Ontario. Courts are not governed by FIPPA and court records under the supervisory control of the judiciary are not available through the FOI process or subject to FIPPA. Requests for court records should be made to the originating courthouse (nota bene: I have received confirmation with thanks that the SCJ RMO handles the obtaining, making and providing of tapes (i.e. if made by an independent contractor at first instance) for the four downtown Toronto SCJ courthouses of which is a branch of the SCJ (Divisional Court at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario). More information is available, naturally well-known to you, in the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits.

8. Conclusion and Final Disposition

In light of the foregoing, and having met every triggering requirement and obligation, a formal requisition is respectfully made for the exercise of statutory authority to direct the relevant court staff to provide a definitive timeline for the fulfillment of the Perfected Request Form Undertaking. The failure to provide a confirmed timeline or location for the requested materials constitutes a material dereliction of the public institution's duty of good faith to its residents and citizens. It is trusted that this correspondence, which is articulated in the strongest and most respectful terms, will be given the highest priority.

It is with the utmost gratitude that the potential for the required direction from the Honourable Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice is acknowledged. Should a substantive response be received from the court staff, confirming a time and mode for pickup, the same will be promptly confirmed via this email channel to the attention of the judicial assistant(s). Such procedural notice from the court staff would obviate the need for any further response. However, the importance and urgency of the matter, along with the specified preparation purposes delineated in the undertaking, cannot be overstated.

Gracious acknowledgement is expressed, which I find regrettable but necessary, for the time and due consideration afforded to this correspondence, and the party remains, as always, at the Court's service.

Yours faithfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: A Formal Request to Direct Court Staff to Comply with a Matter Assigned by Law to the Judiciary: Expedited Provision of Audio Recordings to an Authorized Transcriptionist

SUBJECT II: The Legal Insufficiency of Requiring Specific Dates for Ex Parte and In Camera Proceedings, Predicated upon the Established Efficacy of a Date Range and the Inherent Knowledge of the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office

I. INTRODUCTION AND PRELIMINARY MATTERS

This document is submitted with the profoundest respect for the exalted office of the Chief Justice and for the foundational principles upon which the administration of justice in this province is constructed. This correspondence is necessitated by a persistent procedural impasse with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office ("SCJ RMO"), an impediment that has unduly protracted the effort to procure essential audio recordings of a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The singular objective of this communication is to respectfully implore a judicious intervention and directive, which may catalyze an immediate resolution to this protracted matter. The gravity of this situation is underscored by its potential to undermine the very principles of fairness and procedural rectitude that are fundamental to the judicial process, and it is in the interest of preserving the integrity of that process that this communication is proffered. The exigency of this request is not predicated upon a desire for mere expedition, but upon a fundamental concern that the continued obstruction of access to the judicial record constitutes a form of procedural prejudice, rendering it an insurmountable barrier to the proper preparation of legal arguments and the vindication of rights.

While there are some obvious clerical issues, to put it charitably, in the “False Information Package” (my definition), I was nonetheless arrested on October 2, 2024, by the TPS at the 14th Division – as surreal as that remains to me. It certainly remains even more surreal to me in light of the False Information Package.

This communication is submitted on grounds of lawful authority, and it is a matter of incontrovertible record that all previous correspondence relating to the material facts and legal principles has been reiterated and relied upon. Furthermore, all previous definitions, where applicable, are formally adopted, thereby ensuring an unbroken chain of legal and factual continuity. The cumulative effect of these prior submissions and the annexed materials is to establish a comprehensive and unassailable foundation for the requests contained herein, thereby precluding any assertion that the matter has been inadequately articulated. The very act of this submission is predicated upon the fundamental and inalienable right of a litigant to access the judicial record pertinent to their case. The denial of this access, for reasons that appear to be grounded in administrative convenience rather than legal principle, is antithetical to the principles of judicial transparency and accountability.

II. THE IMPERATIVE OF JUDICIAL OVERSIGHT AND THE OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE RECORDS

This matter does not represent a mere administrative dispute; it is a subject that implicates the very essence of the "open court principle" and the judiciary's supervisory power over its own records, as affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada. The Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits ("MAG CSD Guide") is explicit in its pronouncement that "each court has jurisdiction over its own records, and all policies respecting access to court documents, files and exhibits are subject to judicial direction" (referencing MAG CSD Guide, Section 1.2). This a priori declaration establishes the supremacy of judicial authority in all matters of court record access. The Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, in their model policies for the classification and retention of court information, consistently affirm this custodial responsibility, noting that courts have an "unassailable corollary that the public body or organization is vested with the paramount responsibility to determine the nature of the information within its custody and control." The inherent jurisdiction of the court to control its process and its records is a constitutional norm that cannot be subordinated to administrative convenience or a narrow, proscriptive interpretation of procedural requirements.

In light of this jurisprudential and statutory framework, it is an inescapable conclusion that this matter, which pertains to the provision of a judicial record for transcription, falls squarely within the purview of a matter assigned by law to the judiciary. The obligation of court staff in this regard is not discretionary; indeed, it is a direct duty articulated in section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act, which stipulates that "[i]n matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the judiciary." This provision establishes a clear and mandatory hierarchy of authority, placing the responsibility for such matters squarely under judicial direction. Accordingly, the necessity to seek a directive from the ultimate authority to compel staff to discharge their professional and statutory duties becomes apparent and inescapable. A failure to provide the records in question constitutes a fundamental impediment to the exercise of an individual's rights and a contravention of the principles of natural justice, as it unjustly obstructs the ability to prepare legal proceedings with the benefit of the complete judicial record. Such a course of action is wholly incompatible with the constitutional mandate to ensure equitable access to justice. The judiciary, as the ultimate arbiter of procedural fairness, must ensure that its administrative arms facilitate, rather than hinder, the pursuit of justice.

III. LEGAL SYLLOGISM AND THE CORROBORATION OF ATTACHED MATERIALS

The request for transcription pertains to a hearing concerning a criminal pre-enquête proceeding that was conducted ex parte and in camera, for which a warrant was issued. The MAG CSD Guide confirms that such proceedings are not open to the public; however, it also incontrovertibly provides that "if process is issued, the documents of the pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served" (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.2.2). The arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at which point the process was unequivocally issued. A logical extrapolation of this legal principle mandates that all records of this hearing, including the audio recordings thereof, must now be rendered publicly accessible, a determination that has already been adjudicated by operation of law. The procedural hurdle created by the SCJ RMO's demand for a specific date is, therefore, an administrative obstacle without a cognizable legal foundation.

The SCJ RMO has, through the electronic mail transmissions attached hereto, acknowledged its capacity to search for these recordings. The sole pretext for its refusal to provide them has been a purported inability to process orders with a date range, a contention that is legally and logically fallacious. The Transcript Order Form dated August 8, 2025, delineates a date range of "Between August 20, 2024 to October 2, 2024," along with the name of the presiding judicial official, "Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore." The MAG CSD Guide states that requests for search warrants require a sufficient combination of information to "accurately identify the records sought," such as a name and date of birth (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.7). A date range, in conjunction with the presiding judge's name, represents a quantum of information that transcends mere sufficiency; it is a definitive frame of reference that places the burden of locating the recording on the custodian, not the litigant. To demand a specific date in these circumstances is to impose a patently unreasonable burden that contravenes the principles of accessibility and efficiency enshrined in section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act.

It is noted that the sole objection contained in the response from the SCJ RMO to the authorized transcriptionist pertained to the specification of exact dates. While a cooperative posture is maintained for the purpose of a collaborative resolution, it is submitted that such a requirement appears to be at variance with the principles of efficient utilization of public resources, the open court principle (which applies post-issuance of a process but perhaps NOT "made" i.e. completed, dated, printed name of the presiding judge, with a signature (digital, electronic or handwritten)), the Charter rights of the applicant, and the required independence and impartiality of the Superior Courts. The act of necessitating the applicant to identify the precise date of an in camera proceeding—a fact uniquely within the court's purview—represents a perversion of the procedural burden. The court, as the custodian of institutional knowledge, possesses the singular means to perform such a search, and to shift this burden is to engage in a specious and procedurally unjust, inefficient, and non-expeditious exercise.

This respectful request is self-evidently distinct from another request involving a Request Form Undertaking (i.e. I cannot share that digital recording). I do not see anything that would not allow for the utilization of the dates from those audio recordings (so numbered after being downloaded from the likes of a Zoom Communications, Inc.) to then make the amendments to the Transcript Ordering Form (see: attached), and resubmitting. This is not viewed as a procedural requirement but if that request is granted forthwith by the SCJ RMO with or without your intervention then perhaps it would achieve a dual objective.

Furthermore, the Canadian Judicial Council's model policies on information retention emphasize that "courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible" (Model Policy for the Retention of Court Info, page 7). The term "ensure" implies a guarantee that transcends mere administrative convenience. The audio recording of a judicial proceeding, irrespective of whether the physical documents may have been disposed of, constitutes a permanent and indispensable component of the court's activities. The Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual confirms that digital recordings of a closed proceeding are considered "Restricted" information and require a higher degree of protection (Manual, Section 2.2.13 and Model Policy for the Classification of Court Information, Table 4, page 23). This classification, however, does not abrogate the court's duty to release the record upon issuance of process. A careful and deliberate reading of the relevant documentation compels the conclusion that the recordings exist and can be located with the information already furnished.

IV. CONCLUSION AND RESPECTFUL REQUEST

In light of the foregoing, it is the firm, yet gracious, conviction that the continued refusal of the SCJ RMO to furnish the requested audio recordings constitutes a manifest dereliction of a duty assigned by law to the judiciary. The documentation provided, including the Transcript Order Form, the MAG CSD Guide, the Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual, and the Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, serves as a comprehensive and irrefutable testament to the legitimacy and propriety of the request. It is now, a fortiori, self-evident that the impediment is not procedural or legal, but rather a misapplication of administrative discretion that contravenes established statutory and jurisprudential principles. Such an administrative fiat, if left unaddressed, could establish a pernicious precedent wherein the onus to identify the precise details of an ex parte proceeding is improperly shifted from the court as custodian to the litigant, thereby compromising the due administration of justice. The court's record-keeping obligations are designed to serve, and not to obstruct, the course of justice.

It is trusted that the gravity of this communication and the profound urgency of this matter will be comprehended. It is hoped that the Chief Justice's direction will provide the necessary impetus for the SCJ RMO to provide the audio recordings to the authorized transcriptionist forthwith, thereby obviating any need for further escalation. The resolution of this matter would not only ensure the proper discharge of professional duties but also serve to uphold the integrity of the court's record-keeping function and the public's confidence in an equitable and accessible legal system.

Gratitude is expressed for the time and most careful consideration of this correspondence. Notification will be provided to both the SCJ RMO and the authorized transcriptionist that this letter has been sent.

Respectfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject I: Cover Letter for two enclosures

Subject II: Correspondence regarding enclosed emails previously delivered to the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice via the SCJ-CJS email account concerning two distinct matters as of August 22, 2025: (i) failure or neglect of the court staff SCJ RMO to provide audio recording tapes of dates, known to it, involving criminal pre-enquête ex parte in camera hearing(s) (see: references by Mr. Azim to “dates”) when the only required amendment therein was that of “dates” and to resubmit after providing specific dates - not a date range; (ii) failure or neglect of court staff to provide me with a time and specific location for my pickup of the digital audio recording pursuant to my perfected Request Form Undertaking as per my duly completed, digitally signed (August 14, 2025) and payment of prescribed (Superior Court of Justice and Court of Appeal Fees, under the enabling statute of the Administration of Justice Act (Ontario))

VOLUME I: PREAMBLE AND PROFFERED OBJECTIVES

1. This communication is submitted with the utmost deference to the offices of the Honourable Chief Justice and the Honourable Regional Senior Justice. Its delivery has been effectuated in a spirit of collaborative and expeditious resolution concerning a procedural impediment that has arisen within the purview of the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office (“SCJ RMO”). The paramount objective of this correspondence is the submission of a respectful request for a judicious intervention that will serve to preserve the integrity of the judicial process, to promote the efficient utilization of public resources, and to ensure that the procedural rights of litigants are not unduly compromised by administrative recalcitrance. The efficacy of any legal system is, in part, a function of its administrative coherence and the promptness with which its procedural elements are discharged; thus, any administrative friction that impedes a litigant’s lawful access to court records necessitates a decisive and authoritative resolution. I repeat and rely upon the emails and their attachments of which the relevant email recipient can provide to both of you if you do not already have copies of the same.
2. For the purpose of legal continuity, it is herewith confirmed that all prior correspondence, inclusive of all material facts and legal principles, is reiterated and relied upon, with the possibility of further elaboration to be provided in subsequent internal or external communications. Furthermore, all definitions previously advanced are formally adopted where applicable to the matters presently before the Court. This submission is predicated upon lawful authority, and the requests contained herein are considered to be in complete consonance with the statutory and jurisprudential framework governing the Ontario Superior Court of Justice. The very genesis of this respectful request resides in the obligation to uphold the procedural probity of the judicial system, a duty incumbent upon all parties to a legal proceeding, including the administrative apparatus of the courts.

VOLUME II: EXPOSITION OF THE FACTUAL AND LEGAL BASIS

3. The present communication concerns two distinct, albeit interconnected, matters as delineated in the attached email correspondence, which has been paginated for convenient reference. The first matter pertains to a formal respectful request for a directive to be issued to court staff for the provision of audio recordings of a criminal ex parte and in camera pre-enquête proceeding. As detailed within the enclosed electronic communication, the SCJ RMO has declined to process the request, purportedly on the grounds that a specified date range is insufficient for the procurement of the recordings. The nature of an in camera proceeding, being closed to the public and conducted with a degree of confidentiality, renders the precise date of such an event a piece of information that is uniquely within the institutional knowledge and custody, along with control of the Court’s administrative records.
4. The second matter concerns a separate respectful request for a digital audio recording under a Request Form Undertaking. This request, previously submitted and perfected in accordance with prescribed procedural requirements, has been met with a failure by court staff to provide a time and specific location for the pickup of the digital audio recording. The overarching purpose of this consolidated correspondence is the provision to both the Chief Justice and the Regional Senior Justice of a comprehensive overview of these concurrent matters, thereby facilitating a singular and informed directive by which a resolution to both issues may be achieved with celerity. The administrative findings in these two distinct instances, while procedurally separate, converge upon a common theme: the obstruction of a litigant's lawful access to court materials which are, by right, publicly accessible.

5. The enclosed email correspondence serves to substantiate the legal arguments that are predicated upon various authorities, including the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits ("MAG CSD Guide") and the Courts of Justice Act. As established in the enclosed materials, section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act provides an unambiguous directive that, "In matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the judiciary." This statutory provision constitutes the very foundation of the respectful request for a judicial directive or direction to the court staff, as it establishes a clear chain of command and authority between the judiciary and court administration.

VOLUME III: SYLLOGISTIC ANALYSIS AND THE SELF-EVIDENT NATURE OF THE CONCLUSION

6. The crux of the matter, as articulated in the enclosed correspondence, is that the demand by the SCJ RMO for a specific date for an in camera proceeding is an administrative impediment devoid of a cognizable legal foundation. The MAG CSD Guide confirms that once process is issued, the records of the pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible. The Court, as the custodian of institutional knowledge, possesses the singular means to perform a search for the audio recordings using the date range and the presiding judge's name that have already been furnished. The act of necessitating the applicant to identify the precise date of such a proceeding, a fact uniquely within the Court's purview, is construed as a perversion of the procedural burden and a contravention of the principle of efficient utilization of public resources. This administrative requirement places an unreasonable onus upon a litigant to possess information that, by its very nature, is a matter of court record and not within the litigant's personal domain.
7. The conclusion is rendered self-evident: the continued refusal to furnish the requested recordings constitutes a manifest dereliction of a duty assigned by law to the judiciary. Such an administrative fiat, if left unaddressed, could establish a pernicious precedent wherein the onus to identify the precise details of an ex parte proceeding is improperly shifted from the Court as custodian to the litigant, thereby compromising the due administration of justice. The Court's record-keeping obligations are designed to serve, and not to obstruct, the course of justice. This is further elucidated by the legal principle ubi ius, ibi remedium, or "where there is a right, there is a remedy," which underscores that a just and equitable legal system requires a mechanism for redress when a right is infringed upon.
8. The current administrative inaction effectively denies a legal right to access court records, thereby undermining the foundational principles of procedural fairness and due process. The procedural lacuna that has emerged in this matter threatens to undermine the very principles of transparency and accessibility that are fundamental to a functional legal system.

VOLUME IV: CONCLUSION AND A RESPECTFUL REQUEST FOR A FORTHWITH RESPONSE

9. It should go without saying that either or both of the two recipients must be aware of when the admitted, by conduct by one Ms. Azim, judge was sitting to hear and consider, while admitted she was statutorily (federal) required to hear and consider the same once she received the Criminal Code Form 2 Information, laid via telecommunication, which must 'produce a writing', which "dates" are at issue involving myself. While not your obligation, and certainly not called upon to do so, to provide me with the dates, the obligation, with the greatest respect and gratitude for your time involving the same of which I am not the author of the misfortune and oddly traversed legal terrain, but to direct the court staff to:

- i. To provide myself with a time and location for pickup of the CD copied audio digital recording and for me to use in the strictest compliance with my undertaking contained within my August 14, 2025, Request Form Undertaking; and
- ii. To provide my authorized transcriptionist with a copy of the audio recordings for her usage in accordance with the requirements of her ongoing undertaking to the courts (which is unknown to me).

10. In light of the foregoing, and with the utmost respect, a humble respectful request is hereby made for a response to be provided on a reasonably forthwith basis concerning these two distinct matters. A posture of cooperation and problem resolution has been and shall remain maintained. It is presumed that the gravity of this communication and the profound exigency of this matter will be comprehended. A timely directive would not only ensure the proper discharge of professional duties but also serve to uphold the integrity of the Court's record-keeping function and the public's confidence in an equitable and accessible legal system. The prompt resolution of this matter is not merely a procedural formality but a demonstrable affirmation of the judiciary's commitment to ensuring that its administrative functions are executed in a manner that is both efficient and just.

11. Sincerest gratitude is expressed for the time and the most careful consideration that will be accorded to this correspondence and its attachments. It is a matter of jurisprudential consensus that the administration of justice is not a gratuitous undertaking; rather, it is a resource-intensive endeavour, and therefore, the scrupulous and conscientious application of resources is a paramount concern for all participants within the legal system. The timely intervention of the judiciary in this matter will serve as a testament to the principles of judicial economy and administrative rectitude. Duplicate copies of the emails and their attachments shall follow via mail to the distinct offices for each.

12. If there is anything in this letter or the attachments that is unclear, kindly contact me at your earliest convenience via email directly or on your behalf.

Sincerely,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT: A Formal Request to Direct Court Staff to Comply with a Matter Assigned by Law to the Judiciary: Expedited Provision of Audio Recordings to an Authorized Transcriptionist

SUBJECT II: The Legal Insufficiency of Requiring Specific Dates for Ex Parte and In Camera Proceedings, Predicated upon the Established Efficacy of a Date Range and the Inherent Knowledge of the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office

I. INTRODUCTION AND PRELIMINARY MATTERS

This document is submitted with the profoundest respect for the exalted office of the Chief Justice and for the foundational principles upon which the administration of justice in this province is constructed. This correspondence is necessitated by a persistent procedural impasse with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office ("SCJ RMO"), an impediment that has unduly protracted the effort to procure essential audio recordings of a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The singular objective of this communication is to respectfully implore a judicious intervention and directive, which may catalyze an immediate resolution to this protracted matter. The gravity of this situation is underscored by its potential to undermine the very principles of fairness and procedural rectitude that are fundamental to the judicial process, and it is in the interest of preserving the integrity of that process that this communication is proffered. The exigency of this request is not predicated upon a desire for mere expedition, but upon a fundamental concern that the continued obstruction of access to the judicial record constitutes a form of procedural prejudice, rendering it an insurmountable barrier to the proper preparation of legal arguments and the vindication of rights.

While there are some obvious clerical issues, to put it charitably, in the “False Information Package” (my definition), I was nonetheless arrested on October 2, 2024, by the TPS at the 14th Division – as surreal as that remains to me. It certainly remains even more surreal to me in light of the False Information Package.

This communication is submitted on grounds of lawful authority, and it is a matter of incontrovertible record that all previous correspondence relating to the material facts and legal principles has been reiterated and relied upon. Furthermore, all previous definitions, where applicable, are formally adopted, thereby ensuring an unbroken chain of legal and factual continuity. The cumulative effect of these prior submissions and the annexed materials is to establish a comprehensive and unassailable foundation for the requests contained herein, thereby precluding any assertion that the matter has been inadequately articulated. The very act of this submission is predicated upon the fundamental and inalienable right of a litigant to access the judicial record pertinent to their case. The denial of this access, for reasons that appear to be grounded in administrative convenience rather than legal principle, is antithetical to the principles of judicial transparency and accountability.

II. THE IMPERATIVE OF JUDICIAL OVERSIGHT AND THE OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE RECORDS

This matter does not represent a mere administrative dispute; it is a subject that implicates the very essence of the "open court principle" and the judiciary's supervisory power over its own records, as affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada. The Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits ("MAG CSD Guide") is explicit in its pronouncement that "each court has jurisdiction over its own records, and all policies respecting access to court documents, files and exhibits are subject to judicial direction" (referencing MAG CSD Guide, Section 1.2). This a priori declaration establishes the supremacy of judicial authority in all matters of court record access. The Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, in their model policies for the classification and retention of court information, consistently affirm this custodial responsibility, noting that courts have an "unassailable corollary that the public body or organization is vested with the paramount responsibility to determine the nature of the information within its custody and control." The inherent jurisdiction of the court to control its process and its records is a constitutional norm that cannot be subordinated to administrative convenience or a narrow, proscriptive interpretation of procedural requirements.

In light of this jurisprudential and statutory framework, it is an inescapable conclusion that this matter, which pertains to the provision of a judicial record for transcription, falls squarely within the purview of a matter assigned by law to the judiciary. The obligation of court staff in this regard is not discretionary; indeed, it is a direct duty articulated in section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act, which stipulates that "[i]n matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the judiciary." This provision establishes a clear and mandatory hierarchy of authority, placing the responsibility for such matters squarely under judicial direction. Accordingly, the necessity to seek a directive from the ultimate authority to compel staff to discharge their professional and statutory duties becomes apparent and inescapable. A failure to provide the records in question constitutes a fundamental impediment to the exercise of an individual's rights and a contravention of the principles of natural justice, as it unjustly obstructs the ability to prepare legal proceedings with the benefit of the complete judicial record. Such a course of action is wholly incompatible with the constitutional mandate to ensure equitable access to justice. The judiciary, as the ultimate arbiter of procedural fairness, must ensure that its administrative arms facilitate, rather than hinder, the pursuit of justice.

III. LEGAL SYLLOGISM AND THE CORROBORATION OF ATTACHED MATERIALS

The request for transcription pertains to a hearing concerning a criminal pre-enquête proceeding that was conducted ex parte and in camera, for which a warrant was issued. The MAG CSD Guide confirms that such proceedings are not open to the public; however, it also incontrovertibly provides that "if process is issued, the documents of the pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served" (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.2.2). The arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at which point the process was unequivocally issued. A logical extrapolation of this legal principle mandates that all records of this hearing, including the audio recordings thereof, must now be rendered publicly accessible, a determination that has already been adjudicated by operation of law. The procedural hurdle created by the SCJ RMO's demand for a specific date is, therefore, an administrative obstacle without a cognizable legal foundation.

The SCJ RMO has, through the electronic mail transmissions attached hereto, acknowledged its capacity to search for these recordings. The sole pretext for its refusal to provide them has been a purported inability to process orders with a date range, a contention that is legally and logically fallacious. The Transcript Order Form dated August 8, 2025, delineates a date range of "Between August 20, 2024 to October 2, 2024," along with the name of the presiding judicial official, "Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore." The MAG CSD Guide states that requests for search warrants require a sufficient combination of information to "accurately identify the records sought," such as a name and date of birth (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.7). A date range, in conjunction with the presiding judge's name, represents a quantum of information that transcends mere sufficiency; it is a definitive frame of reference that places the burden of locating the recording on the custodian, not the litigant. To demand a specific date in these circumstances is to impose a patently unreasonable burden that contravenes the principles of accessibility and efficiency enshrined in section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act.

It is noted that the sole objection contained in the response from the SCJ RMO to the authorized transcriptionist pertained to the specification of exact dates. While a cooperative posture is maintained for the purpose of a collaborative resolution, it is submitted that such a requirement appears to be at variance with the principles of efficient utilization of public resources, the open court principle (which applies post-issuance of a process but perhaps NOT "made" i.e. completed, dated, printed name of the presiding judge, with a signature (digital, electronic or handwritten)), the Charter rights of the applicant, and the required independence and impartiality of the Superior Courts. The act of necessitating the applicant to identify the precise date of an in camera proceeding—a fact uniquely within the court's purview—represents a perversion of the procedural burden. The court, as the custodian of institutional knowledge, possesses the singular means to perform such a search, and to shift this burden is to engage in a specious and procedurally unjust, inefficient, and non-expeditious exercise.

This respectful request is self-evidently distinct from another request involving a Request Form Undertaking (i.e. I cannot share that digital recording). I do not see anything that would not allow for the utilization of the dates from those audio recordings (so numbered after being downloaded from the likes of a Zoom Communications, Inc.) to then make the amendments to the Transcript Ordering Form (see: attached), and resubmitting. This is not viewed as a procedural requirement but if that request is granted forthwith by the SCJ RMO with or without your intervention then perhaps it would achieve a dual objective.

Furthermore, the Canadian Judicial Council's model policies on information retention emphasize that "courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible" (Model Policy for the Retention of Court Info, page 7). The term "ensure" implies a guarantee that transcends mere administrative convenience. The audio recording of a judicial proceeding, irrespective of whether the physical documents may have been disposed of, constitutes a permanent and indispensable component of the court's activities. The Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual confirms that digital recordings of a closed proceeding are considered "Restricted" information and require a higher degree of protection (Manual, Section 2.2.13 and Model Policy for the Classification of Court Information, Table 4, page 23). This classification, however, does not abrogate the court's duty to release the record upon issuance of process. A careful and deliberate reading of the relevant documentation compels the conclusion that the recordings exist and can be located with the information already furnished.

IV. CONCLUSION AND RESPECTFUL REQUEST

In light of the foregoing, it is the firm, yet gracious, conviction that the continued refusal of the SCJ RMO to furnish the requested audio recordings constitutes a manifest dereliction of a duty assigned by law to the judiciary. The documentation provided, including the Transcript Order Form, the MAG CSD Guide, the Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual, and the Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, serves as a comprehensive and irrefutable testament to the legitimacy and propriety of the request. It is now, a fortiori, self-evident that the impediment is not procedural or legal, but rather a misapplication of administrative discretion that contravenes established statutory and jurisprudential principles. Such an administrative fiat, if left unaddressed, could establish a pernicious precedent wherein the onus to identify the precise details of an ex parte proceeding is improperly shifted from the court as custodian to the litigant, thereby compromising the due administration of justice. The court's record-keeping obligations are designed to serve, and not to obstruct, the course of justice.

It is trusted that the gravity of this communication and the profound urgency of this matter will be comprehended. It is hoped that the Chief Justice's direction will provide the necessary impetus for the SCJ RMO to provide the audio recordings to the authorized transcriptionist forthwith, thereby obviating any need for further escalation. The resolution of this matter would not only ensure the proper discharge of professional duties but also serve to uphold the integrity of the court's record-keeping function and the public's confidence in an equitable and accessible legal system.

Gratitude is expressed for the time and most careful consideration of this correspondence. Notification will be provided to both the SCJ RMO and the authorized transcriptionist that this letter has been sent.

Respectfully,

/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

I. INTRODUCTION AND PRELIMINARY MATTERS

This document is submitted with the profoundest respect for the exalted office of the Chief Justice and for the foundational principles upon which the administration of justice in this province is constructed. This correspondence is necessitated by a persistent procedural impasse with the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office ("SCJ RMO"), an impediment that has unduly protracted the effort to procure essential audio recordings of a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The singular objective of this communication is to respectfully implore a judicious intervention and directive, which may catalyze an immediate resolution to this protracted matter. The gravity of this situation is underscored by its potential to undermine the very principles of fairness and procedural rectitude that are fundamental to the judicial process, and it is in the interest of preserving the integrity of that process that this communication is proffered. The exigency of this request is not predicated upon a desire for mere expedition, but upon a fundamental concern that the continued obstruction of access to the judicial record constitutes a form of procedural prejudice, rendering it an insurmountable barrier to the proper preparation of legal arguments and the vindication of rights.

While there are some obvious clerical issues, to put it charitably, in the “False Information Package” (my definition), I was nonetheless arrested on October 2, 2024, by the TPS at the 14th Division – as surreal as that remains to me. It certainly remains even more surreal to me in light of the False Information Package.

This communication is submitted on grounds of lawful authority, and it is a matter of incontrovertible record that all previous correspondence relating to the material facts and legal principles has been reiterated and relied upon. Furthermore, all previous definitions, where applicable, are formally adopted, thereby ensuring an unbroken chain of legal and factual continuity. The cumulative effect of these prior submissions and the annexed materials is to establish a comprehensive and unassailable foundation for the requests contained herein, thereby precluding any assertion that the matter has been inadequately articulated. The very act of this submission is predicated upon the fundamental and inalienable right of a litigant to access the judicial record pertinent to their case. The denial of this access, for reasons that appear to be grounded in administrative convenience rather than legal principle, is antithetical to the principles of judicial transparency and accountability.

II. THE IMPERATIVE OF JUDICIAL OVERSIGHT AND THE OBLIGATION TO PROVIDE RECORDS

This matter does not represent a mere administrative dispute; it is a subject that implicates the very essence of the "open court principle" and the judiciary's supervisory power over its own records, as affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada. The Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits ("MAG CSD Guide") is explicit in its pronouncement that "each court has jurisdiction over its own records, and all policies respecting access to court documents, files and exhibits are subject to judicial direction" (referencing MAG CSD Guide, Section 1.2). This a priori declaration establishes the supremacy of judicial authority in all matters of court record access. The Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, in their model policies for the classification and retention of court information, consistently affirm this custodial responsibility, noting that courts have an "unassailable corollary that the public body or organization is vested with the paramount responsibility to determine the nature of the information within its custody and control." The inherent jurisdiction of the court to control its process and its records is a constitutional norm that cannot be subordinated to administrative convenience or a narrow, proscriptive interpretation of procedural requirements.

In light of this jurisprudential and statutory framework, it is an inescapable conclusion that this matter, which pertains to the provision of a judicial record for transcription, falls squarely within the purview of a matter assigned by law to the judiciary. The obligation of court staff in this regard is not discretionary; indeed, it is a direct duty articulated in section 76(1) of the Courts of Justice Act, which stipulates that "[i]n matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the judiciary." This provision establishes a clear and mandatory hierarchy of authority, placing the responsibility for such matters squarely under judicial direction. Accordingly, the necessity to seek a directive from the ultimate authority to compel staff to discharge their professional and statutory duties becomes apparent and inescapable. A failure to provide the records in question constitutes a fundamental impediment to the exercise of an individual's rights and a contravention of the principles of natural justice, as it unjustly obstructs the ability to prepare legal proceedings with the benefit of the complete judicial record. Such a course of action is wholly incompatible with the constitutional mandate to ensure equitable access to justice. The judiciary, as the ultimate arbiter of procedural fairness, must ensure that its administrative arms facilitate, rather than hinder, the pursuit of justice.

III. LEGAL SYLLOGISM AND THE CORROBORATION OF ATTACHED MATERIALS

The request for transcription pertains to a hearing concerning a criminal pre-enquête proceeding that was conducted ex parte and in camera, for which a warrant was issued. The MAG CSD Guide confirms that such proceedings are not open to the public; however, it also incontrovertibly provides that "if process is issued, the documents of the pre-enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served" (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.2.2). The arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at which point the process was unequivocally issued. A logical extrapolation of this legal principle mandates that all records of this hearing, including the audio recordings thereof, must now be rendered publicly accessible, a determination that has already been adjudicated by operation of law. The procedural hurdle created by the SCJ RMO's demand for a specific date is, therefore, an administrative obstacle without a cognizable legal foundation.

The SCJ RMO has, through the electronic mail transmissions attached hereto, acknowledged its capacity to search for these recordings. The sole pretext for its refusal to provide them has been a purported inability to process orders with a date range, a contention that is legally and logically fallacious. The Transcript Order Form dated August 8, 2025, delineates a date range of "Between August 20, 2024 to October 2, 2024," along with the name of the presiding judicial official, "Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore." The MAG CSD Guide states that requests for search warrants require a sufficient combination of information to "accurately identify the records sought," such as a name and date of birth (MAG CSD Guide, Section 2.7). A date range, in conjunction with the presiding judge's name, represents a quantum of information that transcends mere sufficiency; it is a definitive frame of reference that places the burden of locating the recording on the custodian, not the litigant. To demand a specific date in these circumstances is to impose a patently unreasonable burden that contravenes the principles of accessibility and efficiency enshrined in section 71 of the Courts of Justice Act.

It is noted that the sole objection contained in the response from the SCJ RMO to the authorized transcriptionist pertained to the specification of exact dates. While a cooperative posture is maintained for the purpose of a collaborative resolution, it is submitted that such a requirement appears to be at variance with the principles of efficient utilization of public resources, the open court principle (which applies post-issuance of a process but perhaps NOT "made" i.e. completed, dated, printed name of the presiding judge, with a signature (digital, electronic or handwritten)), the Charter rights of the applicant, and the required independence and impartiality of the Superior Courts. The act of necessitating the applicant to identify the precise date of an in camera proceeding—a fact uniquely within the court's purview—represents a perversion of the procedural burden. The court, as the custodian of institutional knowledge, possesses the singular means to perform such a search, and to shift this burden is to engage in a specious and procedurally unjust, inefficient, and non-expeditious exercise.

This respectful request is self-evidently distinct from another request involving a Request Form Undertaking (i.e. I cannot share that digital recording). I do not see anything that would not allow for the utilization of the dates from those audio recordings (so numbered after being downloaded from the likes of a Zoom Communications, Inc.) to then make the amendments to the Transcript Ordering Form (see: attached), and resubmitting. This is not viewed as a procedural requirement but if that request is granted forthwith by the SCJ RMO with or without your intervention then perhaps it would achieve a dual objective.

Furthermore, the Canadian Judicial Council's model policies on information retention emphasize that "courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible" (Model Policy for the Retention of Court Info, page 7). The term "ensure" implies a guarantee that transcends mere administrative convenience. The audio recording of a judicial proceeding, irrespective of whether the physical documents may have been disposed of, constitutes a permanent and indispensable component of the court's activities. The Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual confirms that digital recordings of a closed proceeding are considered "Restricted" information and require a higher degree of protection (Manual, Section 2.2.13 and Model Policy for the Classification of Court Information, Table 4, page 23). This classification, however, does not abrogate the court's duty to release the record upon issuance of process. A careful and deliberate reading of the relevant documentation compels the conclusion that the recordings exist and can be located with the information already furnished.

IV. CONCLUSION AND RESPECTFUL REQUEST

In light of the foregoing, it is the firm, yet gracious, conviction that the continued refusal of the SCJ RMO to furnish the requested audio recordings constitutes a manifest dereliction of a duty assigned by law to the judiciary. The documentation provided, including the Transcript Order Form, the MAG CSD Guide, the Court Transcript Standards and Procedures Manual, and the Canadian Judicial Council dossiers, serves as a

It is now, a fortiori, self-evident that the impediment is not procedural or legal, but rather a misapplication of administrative discretion that contravenes established statutory and jurisprudential principles. Such an administrative fiat, if left unaddressed, could establish a pernicious precedent wherein the onus to identify the precise details of an ex parte proceeding is improperly shifted from the court as custodian to the litigant, thereby compromising the due administration of justice. The court's record-keeping obligations are designed to serve, and not to obstruct, the course of justice.

It is trusted that the gravity of this communication and the profound urgency of this matter will be comprehended. It is hoped that the Chief Justice's direction will provide the necessary impetus for the SCJ RMO to provide the audio recordings to the authorized transcriptionist forthwith, thereby obviating any need for further escalation. The resolution of this matter would not only ensure the proper discharge of professional duties but also serve to uphold the integrity of the court's record-keeping function and the public's confidence in an equitable and accessible legal system.

Gratitude is expressed for the time and most careful consideration of this correspondence. Notification will be provided to both the SCJ RMO and the authorized transcriptionist that this letter has been sent.

SUBJECT LINE I: Submission of the requisite prescribed fee for access to digital recordings of presumed ex parte in camera hearings conducted via telecommunication.

SUBJECT LINE II: Request for confirmation regarding the modality of transmission for said recordings.

TO THE ATTENTION OF ALL RECIPIENTS:

I. Preliminary Matters and Fundamental Principles

This formal correspondence is tendered to effectuate the submission of the duly completed Request Form/Undertaking and the requisite prescribed fee, in accordance with the provisions of the Superior Court of Justice and Court of Appeal - Fees, O Reg 293/92. I respectfully and with due deference request the provision of a digital recording, transmitted either via compact disc or a secure electronic medium, pertaining to the aforementioned proceedings. Enclosed herewith is a draft money order, in the amount of twenty-three dollars ($23.00), which constitutes the prescribed fee for a single day's recording as stipulated by the attendant regulatory framework.

The comprehensiveness and analytical rigor of this singular piece of correspondence are intended to preclude the necessity of further submission, given its initial delivery via hard copy along with the monetary instrument. Should the proceedings span multiple days, it is my respectful request that your office prioritize the provision of the recording for the earliest or most chronologically antiquated hearing, whereupon I shall remit a subsequent fee for any additional days. However, it is my presumption that this contingency is unlikely.

The enclosed Request Form/Undertaking for Access to Digital Court Recordings, a document I have already submitted electronically via fax and email, meticulously delineates the precise particulars of my application.

II. The Presumptive Right of Access and Distinctions Inter Partes

As a self-represented litigant and the sole accused in this matter, I possess a well-established and constitutionally underpinned presumptive right of access to all documents, records, and information assets germane to my legal proceedings. This entitlement is not merely a procedural convenience; it is a fundamental tenet that underpins the constitutional right to make full answer and defence, as enshrined in the administration of justice.

It is respectfully submitted that a meticulous reading of the Request Form/Undertaking unequivocally substantiates the contention that a pre-existing judicial order is not a prerequisite for a litigant to obtain such recordings from the Superior Court of Justice. This is manifestly distinguishable from the explicit requirement for a prior court order imposed upon members of the public or for requests concerning the Ontario Court of Justice. The legal maxim, expressio unius est exclusio alterius, which signifies that the express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of others, is demonstrably applicable in this context. The form's architecture, wherein a section is provided for the judicial official to grant the order directly on the form itself, serves as a streamlined mechanism for the judicial officer to formally sanction the litigant's request, thereby fulfilling the procedural requirement for an order while simultaneously acknowledging the litigant's presumptive right of access.

III. The Inapplicability of the SCJ Digital Court Recording Policy and the Nexus to Ex Parte In Camera Hearings

The prevailing SCJ Digital Court Recording Policy is rendered largely inapplicable to the present circumstances, as its scope is explicitly confined to matters heard in open court. A verbatim excerpt from said policy states: "This policy outlines Access to Digital/Audio Court Recordings... of matters heard in open court." Given that my application pertains to an ex parte in camera hearing, a proceeding in which I was not involved and was, a priori, not open to the public, the policy's stipulations do not govern my entitlement. My right to a copy of these recordings is predicated on the language of the Request Undertaking Form, which permits access for matters "in which they were involved."

IV. Syllogistic Analysis of Statutory Framework and Evidentiary Principles

The subject proceedings, being ex parte in camera hearings, were ostensibly conducted via telecommunication platforms. As per sections 506, 508.1, and 788 of the Criminal Code, such proceedings must produce a writing. These hearings may not have involved a court support staff member to operate a Digital Recording Device (DRD) or to produce a Form 1 certification, as contemplated by O. Reg. 158/03: CERTIFICATION OF RECORDINGS

AND TRANSCRIPTS. Nevertheless, the authenticity and certification of a writing are distinct from the requirement for the proceeding itself to produce a recording. I am entitled to receive and review that recording, regardless of the remote nature of the hearing or the physical location of the presiding judicial official.

The Court Transcript Manual confirms that when platforms such as Zoom or teleconference are utilized, a Form 1 authorization may not be generated under the Evidence Act. This is not a legal impediment per se, as the manual provides a clear delineation of alternative procedures. Specifically, "Section 5.3.2" clarifies the "Certification of Audio Recordings that Do Not Contain a Form 1 Certification," stating that an Authorized Court Transcriptionist (ACT) can still certify the recording by attesting that it is a "true and accurate transcription... to the best of my skill, ability, and understanding."

While this circumstance may preclude the recording from being a certified court record, it does not diminish its utility or my right to access it for the express purpose of preparation in connection with these legal proceedings. The recording, though perhaps lacking annotations, is indispensable for a thorough review of the proceedings for which I was not present, thereby enabling me to prepare a cogent defence.

V. Adherence to Undertaking and Final Disposition

Having satisfied the prerequisites for access by providing a duly signed Request Undertaking Form and the prescribed fee, I re-affirm my entitlement to the recordings for the purposes denoted therein. I am fully apprised of the proscription against the broadcast, reproduction, or dissemination of the recordings, as stipulated in s. 136 of the Courts of Justice Act.

My retained Authorized Court Transcriptionist is entitled to a separate copy of the recording for transcription purposes. Concurrently, I am also entitled to my own separate copy for immediate preparatory purposes. The language employed in the Request Form/Undertaking was intentionally broad to encompass any potential dates, presiding judicial officials, and locations, including the Superior Court of Justice at 361 University Avenue or the Divisional Court Toronto Region at 130 Queen Street West.

As noted, if a search warrant was sought, it would be tied to my address of 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3. However, this is NOT a mailing address and I will pick up the same.

To the extent that pickup is not acceptable, please send the same (as that address is notorious for losing mail with other residents in the building and mistakes by Canada Post and concierge) to the following address (which is my medical clinic/physiotherapy/chiro/ et al clinic and has necessary security all out of respect for the language in the Request Form/Undertaking to the Court to Access to Digital Court Recordings):

To:
Prime Medical Clinic
68 Abell Street
Unit 1
Toronto, Ontario
M6J 0A2

To the attention of and only to be opened, controlled, accessed by: Mr. Kevin McLean

Kindly send the same to me via email if possible in a manner with a password to decrypt the same or have it available for pick-up at a designated counter or room for pickup including Room 405 or Room 241 at SCJ 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. Should a different pick-up address be required, kindly email me herein.

Time is of the essence as it relates to my entitlement for preparation in connection with the legal proceedings with respect to this case.

Kindly confirm via email when the digital audio recording, presumably without the benefit of a court reporter, who may or may not be an ATO, is available for pickup unless you can send via email at first instance and exclusively.

Kindly provide confirmation via electronic mail when the digital audio recording, presumably without the benefit of a contemporaneous Form 1 certification, is available for retrieval, unless it is feasible to transmit the file via a secure electronic medium at the outset. I am prepared to retrieve the recording at a designated location, such as Room 405 or Room 241 at 361 University Avenue. Should a different pick-up location be designated, I request that you communicate this to me via email.

Duplicate copies will be provided based on delivery in a singular envelope depending on where payment was to be received for the triggering which has now occurred by the SCJ RMO which performs the provision of audio recordings, irrespective of the absence a Form 1 under the Reg 158/03.

Given the exigency of this matter as it relates to my entitlement to make full answer and defence, time is of the essence.

Best regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

for the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) 361 University Recording Management Office. I respectfully request that this communication and its enclosure be forwarded to the SCJ 361 University Recording Management Office; I shall, in tandem, be initiating a separate follow-up with them. It has been unequivocally confirmed that the SCJ 361 University Avenue Recording Management Office provides recordings for all Toronto Region SCJ courthouses, including the Divisional Court Toronto Region located at 130 Queen Street West. The issuance of this duplicate order form to the SCJ 361 University Avenue Recording Management Office ("RMO") is predicated on the foundational principle, as articulated on the Authorized Transcriptionist of Ontario website, that I am entitled to ascertain the identity of the court reporter who transcribed the pre-enquête, ex parte, and in camera hearing. My pursuit is the transcript of a pre-enquête criminal hearing which, being ex parte and in camera, was not an intake court but a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The precise date of this hearing may diverge from the September 23, 2024 date inscribed by the Toronto Police Service (TPS) within its Information Package (see: CCO-2-000-1-C-e), as the latter document, originating from a Toronto Region matter, contains a forged purported signature of a Justice of the Peace (JP) in the Central West Region (Brampton Courthouse). This document, despite bearing the prima facie valid digital signature of Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas on its CC Form 2 Information, constitutes a false document, replete with a TPS occurrence number and a second, fictitious police case identification number that is conspicuously missing a year, a hyphen, and a final digit in its string. The anticipated content of the transcript is expected to include, inter alia, the following verbatim or substantially similar pronouncements concerning the "warrant in the first" as represented by the TPS: "This Information is Accepted [sic] on its face. Kevin McLean: warrant in the first: issue. Dated in the province of Ontario, September 23, 2024." This request for transcription does not involve any appearance by the requestor (Kevin McLean), given the hearing was ex parte (to him) and in camera (to the public). Consequently, the transcript would not reference any "Criminal Door Sheets" or "Criminal Docket Sheets" for September 23, 2024, as the information would not have been on the initial court lists for that day due to Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas not declaring her Form 2 Information until 11:49 a.m. on September 23, 2024. The operational counter hours for the SCJ Toronto Region (361 University) Courthouse and the Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen Street West) are from 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m., with docket sheets customarily prepared on the preceding day. The SCJ 361 University Avenue Recording Management Office would possess no record of any involvement by Justice Kraft or any other "MK," as Justice Kraft was not sitting at 361 University Avenue on the specified date. Furthermore, it is plausible that no "Information Number" existed at that juncture, as such numbers are not assigned until an accused is formally arrested. My arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at TPS 14th Division, based on the representation that the TPS had "received" some of my property from my residential address at 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario. For particulars, I had been unlawfully locked out by my Landlord and the property management company on Friday, September 20, 2024. Therefore, to narrow the potential date of the search warrant—which may differ from the prima facie date of the arrest warrant's issuance—it is likely that both were issued on September 23, 2024. Presuming the TPS appeared via videoconference, it is posited that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, whom I encountered recently at the security checkpoint at Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen St. West) while personally serving Madam Justice Shore with a copy of my filed and processed NOA #1 (filed July 10, 2025, and returnable Tuesday, August 19, 2025), and also serving the Manager of Court Operations (Office) with the same NOA #1, laid the Information via "telephone communication" and through a videoconference service such as Zoom. This aligns with her declaration, as opposed to an oath, and her reference to section 508.1 of the Criminal Code (see: CCO-2-000-1-C-e footer in the attached Schedule to this order form). If the Information was laid via videoconference, this would be consistent with my inability to obtain a copy of any electronically filed or paper copy of the CCO-2-000-1-C-e of the Information Package, as it then was on the date of its 'making' and 'laying' (presumably at approximately 12:45 p.m.). Should the laying of Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas' Information have occurred at or around 12:45 p.m., and given that page 3 of 5 reads as a transcription-like document from the TPS, the attached document (page 3 of 5) is, in all probability, an internal TPS copy of the proceedings or a set of shorthand notes thereof. As such, it would have required the presence of two or more individuals from the TPS to apply for or submit the same on September 23, 2024. While my arrest transpired at the 14th Division TPS, it is highly probable that the officer-in-charge was Detective Abdulhameed Virani of the 52nd Division, which is situated a mere 400 metres from both the SCJ 361 University Avenue Courthouse and the Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen St. West). The TPS has never produced a copy of the alleged arrest warrant, notwithstanding its representation to me that it executed such a warrant on October 2, 2024. As will be observed, the Transferee Courthouse at OCJ 10 Armoury has records only from October 3, 2024, wherein it was represented that the TPS executed a 'warrant in the first'. The dual reference to these locations necessitates a legal interpretation as to the actual place where the presiding judicial officer was situated when the adjudication was rendered (vide: Rule 5.02(1)(c), "in the place where the adjudication was made"), and where the warrant(s), orders, or determinations were issued (vide: Rule 5.01(3), "at the place where the warrant, order or determination was made"), et al. There is no dispute that the SCJ, which includes a Judge of the SCJ or the Divisional Court, is authorized to hear and consider an Information submitted to said Judge. A "Judge" is also a "Justice," but the converse is not always true. More forcefully, if a Judge receives an Information where the accused has not yet been arrested—as I had not been on September 23, 2024—the Judge must hear and consider the evidence presented in the Form 2 Information, which is located on pages 1 and 2, prima facie, within the attached False Information Package. If the arrest warrant represented by the TPS was not endorsed, it would follow that I was arrested by an issued but unendorsed warrant. Should that fact be established, it would be a logical contradiction to my subsequent release on the Form 10 Undertaking, which I was provided with post-arrest on October 2, 2024. This is consistent with the TPS's representations to me after my arrest, during which my property was seized. To assist the authorized transcriptionist and the SCJ Toronto Region recording management office, I have also submitted other FIPPA and non-FOI requests to the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) and the relevant court levels and courthouses. The OCJ Brampton Courthouse has no record of a JP named Jiri having received a Form 2 Information involving myself and my date of birth, nor that of Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas. It is notable that if JP Jiri had, in fact, authorized an arrest warrant, a digital signature from the Criminal E-Intake Portal would have been present, yet none is contained within the document. As a "court officer" of the TPS, his or her jurisdiction is confined to the Toronto Region, not the Central West Region. Furthermore, as Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas acts, in part, as a liaison to the court, she would have regular interactions with the Judges and be apprised of their phone numbers and/or Zoom coordinates. My recent secondary source research indicates that SCJ Judges in their Divisional Court (Toronto Region) capacity, designated by the Chief Justice of the SCJ, operate from separate court offices from the SCJ 361 University Avenue courthouse. Madam

Justice Shore, prior to her Divisional Court designation or rotation for non-ex parte and non-in camera duties (i.e., hearing and deciding judicial reviews or statutory appeals), issued decisions almost exclusively in family law at the SCJ 361 University Avenue courthouse, which serves both family and criminal law matters. The SCJ courthouses at 393 University Avenue and 330 University Avenue are designated for civil matters. Therefore, the probable private, confidential, and permanent office location of Madam Justice Shore is that of 361 University Avenue (SCJ). While the specific floor remains unknown, the SCJ 361 University Avenue Records Management Office would possess this information, regardless of whether the issuance of an arrest warrant (by my name, date of birth, and driver's license number) and a potential warrant under section 487 of the Criminal Code (by my fixed address) occurred in a designated courtroom. I provide this personal data, along with attached copies of my driver's license and passport, to facilitate the SCJ Recording Management Office's search. Regarding the purported arrest warrant, a lawyer with the MAG (720 Bay Street West) represented to me in late June 2025 that the SCJ does not retain copies of arrest warrants after they are signed. I believe this assertion to be erroneous, in light of the requirements of the Canadian Judicial Council incumbent upon SCJ Judges and the SCJ in our nation. However, to the extent that an endorsed arrest warrant and/or endorsed search warrant was discarded, the transcript becomes the most essential and indispensable requirement for my NOA #1, which I am obligated to purchase and submit to the SCJ Toronto Criminal Courthouse. Although transcripts are not mandated 30 days prior to the August 19, 2025 hearing, their inclusion is compulsory; hence, this "daily" request for their provision. Presuming that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas was capable of liaising with the SCJ Judges at 361 University Avenue and the Divisional Court, she would have possessed knowledge of the Judges' office phone numbers and potential Zoom coordinates. Given the time required for Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas to declare the Form 2 Information—a process that would have necessitated her presence before a computer, likely a laptop with Adobe Inc. capabilities for a digital signature—she would have utilized a computer, presumably at the courthouse. I note the following: "The Toronto Police Service (TPS) has officers assigned to work within various court locations and they do have designated office spaces within those courthouses. These officers, part of the Court Services division, play a crucial role in maintaining order, serving legal documents, and executing warrants within the court environment." Alternatively, if not located within one of the four "South Toronto" courthouses, Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas could have been at 40 College Street, Toronto, which serves as the headquarters (2nd floor) for the Court Services Unit. While this may be the head office, it is more plausible that she was situated within one of the courthouses, presumably at the SCJ 361 University Avenue Courthouse or the Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen Street West), in one of her designated offices for court officers. As Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas would have required a police officer to speak at the ex parte and in camera hearing for the 'submitted or laid application,' it is presumed that this individual was Detective Adbul Virani of the 52nd Division, as he was the detective who released me on October 2, 2024, after I had been held in the jail quadrant of the 14th Division. It is presumed that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas's role was administrative and note-taking, and it appears that the errors within the attached documents are either understandable or not coincidental. As I was released on a Form 10 Undertaking, there is a legal requirement for the existence of an endorsed arrest warrant. Court officers in Toronto, as Special Constables with the Toronto Police Service, are governed by the Police Services Act (now the Community Safety and Policing Act, 2019) and the Courts of Justice Act. They are sworn in as Special Constables, which confers upon them the powers of police officers for their court-related duties. The Police Services Act outlines the powers, duties, and responsibilities of police officers, including Special Constables, providing the legal framework for their authority within the courts. The Courts of Justice Act establishes the framework for the Ontario court system and outlines the role of court officers in maintaining order and security. The Toronto Police Services Board is responsible for the appointment and oversight of these officers. The City of Toronto Act, 2006 grants the city the authority to establish and delegate powers to its agencies, including the Toronto Police Service. While "Court Officers" fall under section 73 of the Courts of Justice Act, it is notable that section 74 of the same Act would not permit the "destruction of documents," as stipulated by the following: Destruction of documents⁷⁴ Documents and other materials that are no longer required in a court office shall be disposed of in accordance with the directions of the Deputy Attorney General, subject to the approval of, (a) in the Court of Appeal, the Chief Justice of Ontario; (b) in the Superior Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice; (c) in the Ontario Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice. 2006, c. 21, Sched. A, s. 14. An "arrest warrant" would be a perennial requirement in a court office, as it may be subject to a subsequent motion for review. Moreover, while the SCJ 361 University Avenue RMO is correct that the SCJ does not maintain an "intake court" with Zoom coordinates, any references to OCJ 10 Armoury Courthouse must be wholly disregarded. It is ironic that the phrase 'no longer required' by a court office is utilized, because if the TPS, including Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, manipulated the actual CCO Information Package, one would presume there would be concern regarding another courthouse possessing copies of the originals. However, such destruction would have necessitated the directions of the Deputy Attorney General and, most critically, the approval of the Chief Justice of the SCJ. Nonetheless, even if such documents were, perhaps inadvertently, destroyed—a possibility suggested by the representation of MAG Civil Counsel that the court does not retain copies of arrest warrants after they are signed, and by the representation of Crown Counsel OCJ referencing a summary proceeding which would never have returned the matter to the SCJ—the Canadian Judicial Council has unequivocally declared: "As public bodies, and in accordance with the open courts principle, courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible." The term "ensure" implies a guarantee, and "permanent" is self-evident. While documents may have been destroyed, section 508.1(1) of the Criminal Code mandates the following: "For the purposes of sections 504 to 508, a peace officer may lay an information by any means of telecommunication that produces a writing." While "telecommunication" is not explicitly defined in the Criminal Code, its practical application in this context would imply "videoconference" (i.e., a real-time exchange). The courts' utilization of Zoom provides the capability to transcribe the ex parte and in camera hearing. Pre-enquête hearings (criminal SCJ), once a Process has been issued or an individual has been arrested, are open to the public, including the recordings thereof. Even in relation to the search warrant component under section 487 of the Criminal Code, it would have been unduly onerous to have fulfilled all the requirements of a statement of circumstances, including the justification for laying the information by telecommunications without the production of a writing. Furthermore, there was insufficient time to have done so, as there were only 70 minutes from the moment Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas declared her Form 2 Information to be laid by telecommunication to the conclusion of a hypothetical hearing that would have been required to produce a writing. Moreover, Parliament's use of "reasonable grounds to believe" under section 487.1, coupled with a statement of circumstances, would have required supplementary sworn affidavit evidence by the TPS, the Attorney General (AG), or the AG's agent. Consequently, the preparation, review, and swearing of an affidavit in conjunction with this declaration or oath would have necessitated approximately one hour, thereby leaving no time for the application. Time would also have been required to secure, outside of counter hours, a direct line to the relevant court office or the Zoom coordinates for an available SCJ or Divisional Court Judge. However, Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, in her liaison capacity, could have provided or known such information. Nonetheless, a record of these activities is legally required to be maintained by the court site, courthouse, court level, and branch. This is a matter of what the originating courthouse—the locus where the adjudication was made, and the warrant was issued—is obligated to preserve, regardless of the physical coordinates of the presiding Judge. Given the absence of any reference to a search warrant per se, the application submitted by the TPS to have me charged and an arrest warrant issued must have produced a writing. As such, it necessarily would have been transcribed by a court reporter. It is noteworthy that the SCJ 361 University Avenue and Divisional Court 130 Queen Street West courthouses were operational until 1 p.m. on Monday, September 23, 2024, prior to the lunch recess. Consequently, a court reporter could have appeared remotely on Zoom to record the proceedings. Therefore, while documents may have been destroyed, the name of the court reporter must be known. The location where Madam Justice Shore was situated, be it her permanent office at 361 University Avenue or the 130 Queen Street West Divisional Court, would still constitute the de jure designated place where the adjudication was made and the arrest warrant was issued, et al. Hence, the 361 University Avenue RMO, which is mandated to provide recordings to an authorized transcriptionist for 130 Queen Street West, must also provide me with the name of the court reporter. It is conceded that if Madam Justice Shore was located in her office at 361 University Avenue, in the absence of a courtroom, this would be consistent with her Chief Justice SCJ Divisional Court designation. Furthermore, this is consistent with the admission that the Divisional Court Toronto Region does not possess jurisdiction over criminal matters. However, an "SCJ Judge" designated to the Divisional Court does retain the jurisdiction to hear such a matter, as the sole legal test is whether the "Judge" or "Justice" possesses such authority. In consideration of these unfortunate circumstances and the requirement that authorized transcriptionists be compensated for services related to issued arrest warrants that must produce a writing—even if the underlying documents were, as a matter of fact, destroyed—the 361 University Avenue RMO is obligated to provide the Authorized Transcriptionist of Ontario (ATO) with the recordings, and I shall also procure a copy of the court reporter's name. I trust that this comprehensive review of the facts, to my knowledge, and the accompanying False Information Package from the Transferee Courthouse (OCJ 10 Armoury), which evidently possesses no record of the pre-enquête ex parte and in camera hearing, will suffice. If the representation made by the SCJ Toronto Region courthouses is that they destroyed the documents because they were no longer required—an assertion I would vehemently dispute—this does not abrogate the RMO's obligations to provide the name of the court reporter and the tape to the ATO. This obligation would exist irrespective of any transfer of documents from the SCJ or Divisional Court to the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse. As this constitutes a daily and highly urgent order, precipitated by being misled and causing wasted time for the retained ATO, I implore you to ensure that the RMO at 361 University Avenue provides the requested materials forthwith.

RE: Schedule “A”

A detailed analysis of the purported Information Package provided by the Ontario Court of Justice, 10 Armoury Courthouse, on June 6, 2025, by Ms. Ally to the Accused.

(Nota Bene (Courtesy for all involved): This attached package, hereinafter referred to as the “False Information Package,” is NOT to be relied upon as a valid legal instrument but to ASSIST the retained ATO in obtaining the relevant recording from the RMO of the SCJ and require, by dual purpose, the RMO of the SCJ 361 University Avenue Toronto, which provides recordings for 330 University Avenue, 361 University Avenue, 393 University Avenue and 130 Queen Street West with thanks to the RMO’s office for that confirmation. Its submission herein is for the sole purpose of illuminating the exigency that necessitated this extensive language in the required order form for an ATO, thereby precluding any further unnecessary expenditure of time and resources for the undersigned, the ATO and the Recording Management Office Superior Court of Justice (“RMO SCJ”) which is required to provide the recordings for transcription by the retained ATO for 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West depending, as a point of law at least to some degree, as to the place where: (i) adjudication was made; (ii) warrant was made; and (iii) determination or order was made).

The standardized CCO-2-000-1-C form package, with or without an “e” designation, is comprised of six (6) pages, in contradistinction to the five (5) pages of the document under scrutiny. This six-page valid form shall be designated herein as the “Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.”

A meticulous examination of the five-page False Information Package has revealed no fewer than 41 internal and external errors and inconsistencies, and corroborative evidence, of the SCJ Judge (undenied by various persons in various courthouses and court levels to be Madam Justice Shore but nonetheless the Applicant is not required to guess per se but rather entitled to the name of the court reporter along with any other particulars and information so that ATOs can be perform their authorized work and the Applicant tenders a transcript of the portion of the criminal proceeding in question) in this Amended Order Form through no fault of the ordering party or the ATO. By way of illustrative, albeit brief, examples (based on the document metadata from the Ontario Court of Justice, 10 Armoury, which appears to have been generated by GrapeCity, Inc., specifically GrapeCity.Documents.PDF.6.0.2.0), the following deficiencies are enumerated:

1. The footer on pages 1 and 5 of 5 is demonstrably different from the footer on page 2 of 5.
2. Page 1 of 5 erroneously includes two commas following “NFA [sic]” where the undersigned’s address, 410-775-King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3, was presumably entered.
3. NFA is also an error considering the reference to the Applicant’s driver’s license number on page 5 of 5 of the False Information Package.
4. A superfluous numeral “(1)” precedes my name on page 1 of 1.
5. The placement of the date of birth on page 1 of 1 is incorrect, as the standard format mandates “address” preceding “date of birth.”

The date of birth itself is rendered incorrectly on page 1 of 1, as it fails to adhere to the required format of ‘(day/jour) (month/mois) year/année)’.

6. The inclusion of “Count 1” implies the existence of “other counts,” a premise inconsistent with the document’s content and the provisions of section 788 and subsequent sections of the Criminal Code.
7. Under the heading ‘[Accused/Accusé]’, the required “Last Name, First Name” and (nom, prénom) is conspicuously absent.
8. The phrase “end of charges/counts” constitutes an improper input and is not a component of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
9. Page 2 of 5 contains an improper header, displaying “R. v. McLean, Kevin” with a Toronto Police Service (“TPS”) occurrence number, which is identical to the one found on the Undertaking Form 10 dated October

- 2, 2024. Notably, there was no fictitious Police Case ID from the 14th Division TPS on October 2, 2024 (evening).
10. The jurat on page 2 of 5 is improperly located and legally impermissible, as it appears on a separate page from the text to which it pertains.
11. The footer is incorrect, as it fails to include a single space between the “e” and the preceding “C” (i.e., “C-e” instead of “C e”) in the form designation (rev. 10/20).
12. The accents on the four “e’s” are incorrectly oriented, presenting as ‘accents graves’ rather than the requisite ‘accents aigus’. This is explicitly evident in the phrase “This document has been digitally signed / Ce document a été signé numériquement,” which utilizes an 8-point Arial font. For corroboration, please refer to page 5 of 5 of the False Information Package, which correctly displays ‘accents aigus’ (x 4) and a different font.
13. Furthermore, when the False Information Package is printed in “grayscale (black and white)” and “save toner mode,” the only footer that remains legible is that on page 2 of 5. This phenomenon provides conclusive evidence that, while pages 1 and 2 of 5 of the electronically submitted Form 2 Information package may have been digitally signed by Court Officer (“CO”) Frugoni-Rojas on September 23, 2024, the document as a whole is characterized by missing text and false documentation.
14. The designation “Police Case ID:457197” on page 3 of 5 constitutes a false case identification number, as the standard data input requires a two- or four-digit year string, followed by a hyphen, and then seven (7) digits, not six (6).
15. The phrase “Intake Court Endorsement” is standard terminology within family law for lawyers, paralegals, and judges. A judge with a background and experience in criminal law would not commit this error.
16. Given the acknowledged exclusion of The Honourable Madam Justice Kraft, Justice Shore is the only other federally appointed Superior Court of Justice judge in the Toronto Region with an exclusively family law background who has exclusively rendered family court decisions since 2018 while sitting as a judge in the Superior Court of Justice (Criminal) Toronto Courthouse.
17. The deployment of “Intake Court Endorsement” terminology appears to be a deliberate diversion from the jurisdictional authority of a Superior Court of Justice or Divisional Court judge, as per section 18 of the Courts of Justice Act (“CJA”).
18. Similarly, the omission of the city in which the authorizing, giving, and issuing judge was located (i.e., the Toronto Region) further supports this inference.
19. This omission is likely predicated upon the quasi-provincial statutory language within the CJA concerning the designation of a Superior Court of Justice judge to the Divisional Court by the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice.
20. While the Criminal Code supersedes the CJA (i.e., federal law is paramount to provincial law via the “Paramountcy Doctrine”), it is plausible that an internal, and perhaps non-public, practice exists whereby Divisional Court judges are precluded from reverting to their previous areas of adjudication at 361 University Avenue (Superior Court of Justice, Criminal and Family Courthouse) for ex parte and in camera hearings after their designation to the Divisional Court (Toronto Region). Although statutorily permissible under the Criminal Code, such a practice would constitute a breach of internal requirements and designations and raise concerns regarding the prudent expenditure of federal taxpayer funds if a designated Divisional Court (Toronto Region) judge were to become judicially involved in matters outside their designated scope at the Divisional Court.
21. Errors in grammar, spelling, and phrasing, such as “This Information is Accepted [sic] on its face,” are indicative of a court officer, not a TPS detective, such as 52nd Division Detective Abdul Virani (referencing page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package).
22. The inclusion of a French translation under the dating and location (Ontario only) on page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package was not required.
23. Moreover, the unauthorized TPS transcriber erred by omitting “jour” and “de” after the “23” for “day of.”

24. The TPS transcriber further erred with respect to “Fait à/au:” when it should have been “Fait à (au):”.
25. Additionally, the text should properly read “Dated At City of Toronto” followed by “...in the Province of Ontario.”
26. These discrepancies constitute further corroborative evidence that the TPS attempted to obfuscate the origin of the document.
27. The phrase “This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement” on page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package has incorrect bolding of the English component and an improperly included period. While the accents are correct (i.e., ‘aigu’), this demonstrates that pages 1 and 2 of 5 were manipulated by the TPS (and not by the court site or the venue of adjudication, warrant, determination, or order issuance).
28. The phrase “This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement” should be located in the footer, not in the middle of page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package.
29. An erroneous footer, which is a reproduction of the header from page 1 of 5 of the False Information Package, further points to common errors caused by GrapeCity applications, particularly GrapeCity.Documents.PDF.
30. Page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package is not a constituent part of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
31. The inclusion of “Intake Court Endorsement” by TPS manipulation is predicated on a diversion to Justice of the Peace George Jiri, who was not the presiding judicial official and did not digitally or otherwise sign said page 3 of 5.
32. It is a matter of public record that all “intake” at the Ontario Court of Justice level has been conducted through the Criminal E-Intake Portal on a province-wide basis since 2022. This portal facilitates real-time communication between the Justice of the Peace and law enforcement, and all documents processed are digitally signed.
33. Ergo, Justice of the Peace Jiri was not the “presiding official.” This conclusion is further buttressed by the removal of page 4 of 6 from the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package, a removal consistent with the involvement of a Judge exclusively.
34. The “e” in the form designation may also refer to an “e-indictment.” If this is the case, it is consistent with the Superior Court of Justice, 361 University Avenue, representing to an authorized agent for service that there was no “arrest warrant” (i.e., an unendorsed arrest warrant), while not denying that a Form 2 Information was submitted or laid via telecommunications.
35. While the Form 2 may have been filed, a critical distinction exists between “filing” and “laying.”
36. Furthermore, if pages 1 and 2 were indeed manipulated, the retention of a copy of the authentic document, as it existed on September 23, 2024, by the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse, Criminal (Room 241: Criminal Intake Office) would be problematic. The question arises as to who would address this issue. It is presumed this responsibility would fall to a court officer or court liaison.
37. It is noteworthy that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, without any prior acquaintance with the undersigned, served as the head of security at 361 University Avenue in mid-June 2025 and directed the undersigned to the precise room to obtain a copy of an arrest warrant.
38. Similarly, CO Frugoni-Rojas was present at the security area of the Divisional Court Toronto Region on July 6, 2025, and was able to direct the undersigned to the correct location for Room 174 for serving of a judge of the Divisional Court, at the material time even if antiquated or no longer present therein.
39. The Criminal Proceedings Rules for the Superior Court of Justice stipulate that “4.10 Indictments, including e-indictments, shall be submitted to the Court electronically by email or such other electronic filing platform as may be adopted by the Court.” Accordingly, the document may be merely an “Information” and not an “indictment.” Nonetheless, if it were an “Information,” being a Form 2 Information Package per se, it could be laid by telecommunication and previously made by declaration rather than oath.

40. Page 3 of 6 of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package has been rearranged to page 4 of 5 in the False Information Package, while page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package is improperly formatted.
41. Page 4 of 6 of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package is absent from the False Information Package. This omission is consistent with the involvement of a Superior Court of Justice Judge or a Divisional Court Judge, whose nomenclature would be utilized pursuant to section 18 of the CJA, in completing the relevant Form 7 “Warrant for Arrest” under the Criminal Code. Furthermore, if a warrant was also issued under section 487 of the Criminal Code, then the signing of said ‘search warrant’ or other authorization, order, et al. would be governed by whatever parliamentary statutory form was required.
42. Page 4 of 6 would also have been required for Crown Election, which was summarily conveyed via email by the assigned Crown counsel in late 2024.
43. This enumeration of deficiencies is not exhaustive, as a comprehensive list extends beyond the purview of the present order form, which is intended solely to facilitate the procurement, in good faith, of the names of the court reporters. (No aspersions are cast upon said court reporter, as he or she was merely discharging their required duties.)

Name of Case: His Majesty The King v. Kevin McLean (R v. McLean)

Order Date: 08/08/2025

Presiding Official: Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore (or whomever was the presiding judicial official or others)

Unknown or non-existent (i.e. via telecommunications to Judge in her chambers (office) either main office or designated Divisional Court Office

Court Location: 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario

Courtroom #: Divisional Court Office

Court File, Info or Indictment #: Unknown (if any)

Date(s) of Proceeding: Between August 20, 2024 to October 2, 2024
(mm/dd/yyyy)Proceedings from: ☐ Ontario Court of Justice ☒ Superior Court of Justice

Beyond a reasonable doubt Shore J was presiding judge. She was an SCJ Judge but in Div. Ct. rotation by designation of CJSCJ at time. Location of ct. rm. (if any) and courthouse (at the place where adjudication was made) require a legal interpretation if conducted via telecom.

This is provided for both "portion of proceeding", which was commenced by the making of a Form 2 Declaration by CO Frugoni-Rojas on September 23, 2024 at 11:49 a.m. The portion of the proceeding sought has NOTHING to do with an appearance by me, as it was ex parte (to me) and in camera (to the public) and would not be on the "Criminal Docket Sheets". This comprehensive and detailed account, accompanied by a five-page attachment from the Ontario Court of Justice, 10 Armoury Street, Toronto (hereinafter referred to as the "Transferee Courthouse" or "Non-Originating Courthouse"), is provided as a matter of professional courtesy. Its purpose is twofold: to ensure that the valuable time of authorized transcriptionists is not expended on the wasteful task of billing for document pages rather than for the time dedicated to their professional duties, and to streamline the process for the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) 361 University Recording Management Office. I respectfully request that this communication and its enclosure be forwarded to the SCJ 361 University Recording Management Office; I shall, in tandem, be initiating a separate follow-up with them. It has been unequivocally confirmed that the SCJ 361 University Avenue Recording Management Office provides recordings for all Toronto Region SCJ courthouses, including the Divisional Court Toronto Region located at 130 Queen Street West. The issuance of this duplicate order form to the SCJ 361 University Avenue Recording Management Office ("RMO") is predicated on the foundational principle, as articulated on the Authorized Transcriptionist of Ontario website, that I am entitled to ascertain the identity of the court reporter who transcribed the pre-enquête, ex parte, and in camera hearing. My pursuit is the transcript of a pre-enquête criminal hearing which, being ex parte and in camera, was not an intake court but a criminal pre-enquête hearing. The precise date of this hearing may diverge from the September 23, 2024 date inscribed by the Toronto Police Service (TPS) within its Information Package (see: CCO-2-000-1-C-e), as the latter document, originating from a Toronto Region matter, contains a forged purported signature of a Justice of the Peace (JP) in the Central West Region (Brampton Courthouse). This document, despite bearing the prima facie valid digital signature of Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas on its CC Form 2 Information, constitutes a false document, replete with a TPS occurrence number and a second, fictitious police case identification number that is conspicuously missing a year, a hyphen, and a final digit in its string. The anticipated content of the transcript is expected to include, inter alia, the following verbatim or substantially similar pronouncements concerning the "warrant in the first" as represented by the TPS: "This Information is Accepted [sic] on its face. Kevin McLean: warrant in the first: issue. Dated in the province of Ontario, September 23, 2024." This request for transcription does not involve any appearance by the requestor (Kevin McLean), given the hearing was ex parte (to him) and in camera (to the public). Consequently, the transcript would not reference any "Criminal Door Sheets" or "Criminal Docket Sheets" for September 23, 2024, as the information would not have been on the initial court lists for that day due to Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas not declaring her Form 2 Information until 11:49 a.m. on September 23, 2024. The operational counter hours for the SCJ Toronto Region (361 University) Courthouse and the Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen Street West) are from 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m., with docket sheets customarily prepared on the preceding day. The SCJ 361 University Avenue Recording Management Office would possess no record of any involvement by Justice Kraft or any other "MK," as Justice Kraft was not sitting at 361 University Avenue on the specified date. Furthermore, it is plausible that no "Information Number" existed at that juncture, as such numbers are not assigned until an accused is formally arrested. My arrest transpired on October 2, 2024, at TPS 14th Division, based on the representation that the TPS had "received" some of my property from my residential address at 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario. For particulars, I had been unlawfully locked out by my Landlord and the property management company on Friday, September 20, 2024. Therefore, to narrow the potential date of the search warrant—which may differ from the prima facie date of the arrest warrant's issuance—it is likely that both were issued on September 23, 2024. Presuming the TPS appeared via videoconference, it is posited that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, whom I encountered recently at the security checkpoint at Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen St. West) while personally serving Madam Justice Shore with a copy of my filed and processed NOA #1 (filed July 10, 2025, and returnable Tuesday, August 19, 2025), and also serving the Manager of Court Operations (Office) with the same NOA #1, laid the Information via "telecommunication" and through a videoconference service such as Zoom. This aligns with her declaration, as opposed to an oath, and her reference to section 508.1 of the Criminal Code (see: CCO-2-000-1-C-e footer in the attached Schedule to this order form). If the Information was laid via videoconference, this would be consistent with my inability to obtain a copy of any electronically filed or paper copy of the CCO-2-000-1-C-e of the Information Package, as it then was on the date of its 'making' and 'laying' (presumably at approximately 12:45 p.m.). Should the laying of Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas' Information have occurred at or around 12:45 p.m., and given that page 3 of 5 reads as a transcription-like document from the TPS, the attached document (page 3 of 5) is, in all probability, an internal TPS copy of the proceedings or a set of shorthand notes thereof. As such, it would have required the presence of two or more individuals from the TPS to apply for or submit the same on September 23, 2024. While my arrest transpired at the 14th Division TPS, it is highly probable that the officer-in-charge was Detective Abdulhameed Virani of the 52nd Division, which is situated a mere 400 metres from both the SCJ 361 University Avenue Courthouse and the Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen St. West). The TPS has never produced a copy of the alleged arrest warrant, notwithstanding its representation to me that it executed such a warrant on October 2, 2024. As will be observed, the Transferee Courthouse at OCJ 10 Armoury has records only from October 3, 2024, wherein it was represented that the TPS executed a 'warrant in the first'. The dual reference to these locations necessitates a legal interpretation as to the actual place where the presiding judicial officer was situated when the adjudication was rendered (vide: Rule 5.02(1)(c), "in the place where the adjudication was made"), and where the warrant(s), orders, or determinations were issued (vide: Rule 5.01(3), "at the place where the warrant, order or determination was made"), et al. There is no dispute that the SCJ, which includes a Judge of the SCJ or the Divisional Court, is authorized to hear and consider an Information submitted to said Judge. A "Judge" is also a "Justice," but the converse is not always true. More forcefully, if a Judge receives an Information where the accused has not yet been arrested—as I had not been on September 23, 2024—the Judge must hear and consider the evidence presented in the Form 2 Information, which is located on pages 1 and 2, prima facie, within the attached False Information Package. If the arrest warrant represented by the TPS was not endorsed, it would follow that I was arrested by an issued but unendorsed warrant. Should that fact be established, it would be a logical contradiction to my subsequent release on the Form 10 Undertaking, which I was provided with post-arrest on October 2, 2024. This is consistent with the TPS's representations to me after my arrest, during which my property was seized. To assist the authorized transcriptionist and the SCJ Toronto Region recording management office, I have also submitted other FIPPA and non-FOI requests to the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) and the relevant court levels and courthouses. The OCJ Brampton Courthouse has no record of a JP named Jiri having received a Form 2 Information involving myself and my date of birth, nor that of Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas. It is notable that if JP Jiri had, in fact, authorized an arrest warrant, a digital signature from the Criminal E-Intake Portal would have been present, yet none is contained within the document. As a "court officer" of the TPS, his or her jurisdiction is confined to the Toronto Region, not the Central West Region. Furthermore, as Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas acts, in part, as a liaison to the court, she would have regular interactions with the Judges and be apprised of their phone numbers and/or Zoom coordinates. My recent secondary source research indicates that SCJ Judges in their Divisional Court (Toronto Region) capacity, designated by the Chief Justice of the SCJ, operate from separate court offices from the SCJ 361 University Avenue courthouse. Madam

Justice Shore, prior to her Divisional Court designation or rotation for non-ex parte and non-in camera duties (i.e., hearing and deciding judicial reviews or statutory appeals), issued decisions almost exclusively in family law at the SCJ 361 University Avenue courthouse, which serves both family and criminal law matters. The SCJ courthouses at 393 University Avenue and 330 University Avenue are designated for civil matters. Therefore, the probable private, confidential, and permanent office location of Madam Justice Shore is that of 361 University Avenue (SCJ). While the specific floor remains unknown, the SCJ 361 University Avenue Records Management Office would possess this information, regardless of whether the issuance of an arrest warrant (by my name, date of birth, and driver's license number) and a potential warrant under section 487 of the Criminal Code (by my fixed address) occurred in a designated courtroom. I provide this personal data, along with attached copies of my driver's license and passport, to facilitate the SCJ Recording Management Office's search. Regarding the purported arrest warrant, a lawyer with the MAG (720 Bay Street West) represented to me in late June 2025 that the SCJ does not retain copies of arrest warrants after they are signed. I believe this assertion to be erroneous, in light of the requirements of the Canadian Judicial Council incumbent upon SCJ Judges and the SCJ in our nation. However, to the extent that an endorsed arrest warrant and/or endorsed search warrant was discarded, the transcript becomes the most essential and indispensable requirement for my NOA #1, which I am obligated to purchase and submit to the SCJ Toronto Criminal Courthouse. Although transcripts are not mandated 30 days prior to the August 19, 2025 hearing, their inclusion is compulsory; hence, this "daily" request for their provision. Presuming that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas was capable of liaising with the SCJ Judges at 361 University Avenue and the Divisional Court, she would have possessed knowledge of the Judges' office phone numbers and potential Zoom coordinates. Given the time required for Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas to declare the Form 2 Information—a process that would have necessitated her presence before a computer, likely a laptop with Adobe Inc. capabilities for a digital signature—she would have utilized a computer, presumably at the courthouse. I note the following: "The Toronto Police Service (TPS) has officers assigned to work within various court locations and they do have designated office spaces within those courthouses. These officers, part of the Court Services division, play a crucial role in maintaining order, serving legal documents, and executing warrants within the court environment." Alternatively, if not located within one of the four "South Toronto" courthouses, Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas could have been at 40 College Street, Toronto, which serves as the headquarters (2nd floor) for the Court Services Unit. While this may be the head office, it is more plausible that she was situated within one of the courthouses, presumably at the SCJ 361 University Avenue Courthouse or the Divisional Court Toronto Region (130 Queen Street West), in one of her designated offices for court officers. As Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas would have required a police officer to speak at the ex parte and in camera hearing for the 'submitted or laid application,' it is presumed that this individual was Detective Adbul Virani of the 52nd Division, as he was the detective who released me on October 2, 2024, after I had been held in the jail quadrant of the 14th Division. It is presumed that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas's role was administrative and note-taking, and it appears that the errors within the attached documents are either understandable or not coincidental. As I was released on a Form 10 Undertaking, there is a legal requirement for the existence of an endorsed arrest warrant. Court officers in Toronto, as Special Constables with the Toronto Police Service, are governed by the Police Services Act (now the Community Safety and Policing Act, 2019) and the Courts of Justice Act. They are sworn in as Special Constables, which confers upon them the powers of police officers for their court-related duties. The Police Services Act outlines the powers, duties, and responsibilities of police officers, including Special Constables, providing the legal framework for their authority within the courts. The Courts of Justice Act establishes the framework for the Ontario court system and outlines the role of court officers in maintaining order and security. The Toronto Police Services Board is responsible for the appointment and oversight of these officers. The City of Toronto Act, 2006 grants the city the authority to establish and delegate powers to its agencies, including the Toronto Police Service. While "Court Officers" fall under section 73 of the Courts of Justice Act, it is notable that section 74 of the same Act would not permit the "destruction of documents," as stipulated by the following: Destruction of documents⁷⁴ Documents and other materials that are no longer required in a court office shall be disposed of in accordance with the directions of the Deputy Attorney General, subject to the approval of, (a) in the Court of Appeal, the Chief Justice of Ontario; (b) in the Superior Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice; (c) in the Ontario Court of Justice, the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice. 2006, c. 21, Sched. A, s. 14. An "arrest warrant" would be a perennial requirement in a court office, as it may be subject to a subsequent motion for review. Moreover, while the SCJ 361 University Avenue RMO is correct that the SCJ does not maintain an "intake court" with Zoom coordinates, any references to OCJ 10 Armoury Courthouse must be wholly disregarded. It is ironic that the phrase 'no longer required' by a court office is utilized, because if the TPS, including Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, manipulated the actual CCO Information Package, one would presume there would be concern regarding another courthouse possessing copies of the originals. However, such destruction would have necessitated the directions of the Deputy Attorney General and, most critically, the approval of the Chief Justice of the SCJ. Nonetheless, even if such documents were, perhaps inadvertently, destroyed—a possibility suggested by the representation of MAG Civil Counsel that the court does not retain copies of arrest warrants after they are signed, and by the representation of Crown Counsel OCJ referencing a summary proceeding which would never have returned the matter to the SCJ—the Canadian Judicial Council has unequivocally declared: "As public bodies, and in accordance with the open courts principle, courts have a responsibility to ensure that a record of their activities is permanently and publicly accessible." The term "ensure" implies a guarantee, and "permanent" is self-evident. While documents may have been destroyed, section 508.1(1) of the Criminal Code mandates the following: "For the purposes of sections 504 to 508, a peace officer may lay an information by any means of telecommunication that produces a writing." While "telecommunication" is not explicitly defined in the Criminal Code, its practical application in this context would imply "videoconference" (i.e., a real-time exchange). The courts' utilization of Zoom provides the capability to transcribe the ex parte and in camera hearing. Pre-enquête hearings (criminal SCJ), once a Process has been issued or an individual has been arrested, are open to the public, including the recordings thereof. Even in relation to the search warrant component under section 487 of the Criminal Code, it would have been unduly onerous to have fulfilled all the requirements of a statement of circumstances, including the justification for laying the information by telecommunications without the production of a writing. Furthermore, there was insufficient time to have done so, as there were only 70 minutes from the moment Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas declared her Form 2 Information to be laid by telecommunication to the conclusion of a hypothetical hearing that would have been required to produce a writing. Moreover, Parliament's use of "reasonable grounds to believe" under section 487.1, coupled with a statement of circumstances, would have required supplementary sworn affidavit evidence by the TPS, the Attorney General (AG), or the AG's agent. Consequently, the preparation, review, and swearing of an affidavit in conjunction with this declaration or oath would have necessitated approximately one hour, thereby leaving no time for the application. Time would also have been required to secure, outside of counter hours, a direct line to the relevant court office or the Zoom coordinates for an available SCJ or Divisional Court Judge. However, Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, in her liaison capacity, could have provided or known such information. Nonetheless, a record of these activities is legally required to be maintained by the court site, courthouse, court level, and branch. This is a matter of what the originating courthouse—the locus where the adjudication was made, and the warrant was issued—is obligated to preserve, regardless of the physical coordinates of the presiding Judge. Given the absence of any reference to a search warrant per se, the application submitted by the TPS to have me charged and an arrest warrant issued must have produced a writing. As such, it necessarily would have been transcribed by a court reporter. It is noteworthy that the SCJ 361 University Avenue and Divisional Court 130 Queen Street West courthouses were operational until 1 p.m. on Monday, September 23, 2024, prior to the lunch recess. Consequently, a court reporter could have appeared remotely on Zoom to record the proceedings. Therefore, while documents may have been destroyed, the name of the court reporter must be known. The location where Madam Justice Shore was situated, be it her permanent office at 361 University Avenue or the 130 Queen Street West Divisional Court, would still constitute the de jure designated place where the adjudication was made and the arrest warrant was issued, et al. Hence, the 361 University Avenue RMO, which is mandated to provide recordings to an authorized transcriptionist for 130 Queen Street West, must also provide me with the name of the court reporter. It is conceded that if Madam Justice Shore was located in her office at 361 University Avenue, in the absence of a courtroom, this would be consistent with her Chief Justice SCJ Divisional Court designation. Furthermore, this is consistent with the admission that the Divisional Court Toronto Region does not possess jurisdiction over criminal matters. However, an "SCJ Judge" designated to the Divisional Court does retain the jurisdiction to hear such a matter, as the sole legal test is whether the "Judge" or "Justice" possesses such authority. In consideration of these unfortunate circumstances and the requirement that authorized transcriptionists be compensated for services related to issued arrest warrants that must produce a writing—even if the underlying documents were, as a matter of fact, destroyed—the 361 University Avenue RMO is obligated to provide the Authorized Transcriptionist of Ontario (ATO) with the recordings, and I shall also procure a copy of the court reporter's name. I trust that this comprehensive review of the facts, to my knowledge, and the accompanying False Information Package from the Transferee Courthouse (OCJ 10 Armoury), which evidently possesses no record of the pre-enquête ex parte and in camera hearing, will suffice. If the representation made by the SCJ Toronto Region courthouses is that they destroyed the documents because they were no longer required—an assertion I would vehemently dispute—this does not abrogate the RMO's obligations to provide the name of the court reporter and the tape to the ATO. This obligation would exist irrespective of any transfer of documents from the SCJ or Divisional Court to the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse. As this constitutes a daily and highly urgent order, precipitated by being misled and causing wasted time for the retained ATO, I implore you to ensure that the RMO at 361 University Avenue provides the requested materials forthwith.

RE: Schedule “A”

A detailed analysis of the purported Information Package provided by the Ontario Court of Justice, 10 Armoury Courthouse, on June 6, 2025, by Ms. Ally to the Accused.

(Nota Bene (Courtesy for all involved): This attached package, hereinafter referred to as the “False Information Package,” is NOT to be relied upon as a valid legal instrument but to ASSIST the retained ATO in obtaining the relevant recording from the RMO of the SCJ and require, by dual purpose, the RMO of the SCJ 361 University Avenue Toronto, which provides recordings for 330 University Avenue, 361 University Avenue, 393 University Avenue and 130 Queen Street West with thanks to the RMO’s office for that confirmation. Its submission herein is for the sole purpose of illuminating the exigency that necessitated this extensive language in the required order form for an ATO, thereby precluding any further unnecessary expenditure of time and resources for the undersigned, the ATO and the Recording Management Office Superior Court of Justice (“RMO SCJ”) which is required to provide the recordings for transcription by the retained ATO for 361 University Avenue or 130 Queen Street West depending, as a point of law at least to some degree, as to the place where: (i) adjudication was made; (ii) warrant was made; and (iii) determination or order was made).

The standardized CCO-2-000-1-C form package, with or without an “e” designation, is comprised of six (6) pages, in contradistinction to the five (5) pages of the document under scrutiny. This six-page valid form shall be designated herein as the “Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.”

A meticulous examination of the five-page False Information Package has revealed no fewer than 41 internal and external errors and inconsistencies, and corroborative evidence, of the SCJ Judge (undenied by various persons in various courthouses and court levels to be Madam Justice Shore but nonetheless the Applicant is not required to guess per se but rather entitled to the name of the court reporter along with any other particulars and information so that ATOs can be perform their authorized work and the Applicant tenders a transcript of the portion of the criminal proceeding in question) in this Amended Order Form through no fault of the ordering party or the ATO. By way of illustrative, albeit brief, examples (based on the document metadata from the Ontario Court of Justice, 10 Armoury, which appears to have been generated by GrapeCity, Inc., specifically GrapeCity.Documents.PDF.6.0.2.0), the following deficiencies are enumerated:

1. The footer on pages 1 and 5 of 5 is demonstrably different from the footer on page 2 of 5.
2. Page 1 of 5 erroneously includes two commas following “NFA [sic]” where the undersigned’s address, 410-775-King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3, was presumably entered.
3. NFA is also an error considering the reference to the Applicant’s driver’s license number on page 5 of 5 of the False Information Package.
4. A superfluous numeral “(1)” precedes my name on page 1 of 1.
5. The placement of the date of birth on page 1 of 1 is incorrect, as the standard format mandates “address” preceding “date of birth.”
The date of birth itself is rendered incorrectly on page 1 of 1, as it fails to adhere to the required format of ‘(day/jour) (month/mois) year/année)’.
6. The inclusion of “Count 1” implies the existence of “other counts,” a premise inconsistent with the document’s content and the provisions of section 788 and subsequent sections of the Criminal Code.
7. Under the heading ‘[Accused/Accusé]’, the required “Last Name, First Name” and (nom, prénom) is conspicuously absent.
8. The phrase “end of charges/counts” constitutes an improper input and is not a component of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
9. Page 2 of 5 contains an improper header, displaying “R. v. McLean, Kevin” with a Toronto Police Service (“TPS”) occurrence number, which is identical to the one found on the Undertaking Form 10 dated October

2, 2024. Notably, there was no fictitious Police Case ID from the 14th Division TPS on October 2, 2024 (evening).

10. The jurat on page 2 of 5 is improperly located and legally impermissible, as it appears on a separate page from the text to which it pertains.
11. The footer is incorrect, as it fails to include a single space between the “e” and the preceding “C” (i.e., “C-e” instead of “C e”) in the form designation (rev. 10/20).
12. The accents on the four “e’s” are incorrectly oriented, presenting as ‘accents graves’ rather than the requisite ‘accents aigus’. This is explicitly evident in the phrase “This document has been digitally signed / Ce document a été signé numériquement,” which utilizes an 8-point Arial font. For corroboration, please refer to page 5 of 5 of the False Information Package, which correctly displays ‘accents aigus’ (x 4) and a different font.
13. Furthermore, when the False Information Package is printed in “grayscale (black and white)” and “save toner mode,” the only footer that remains legible is that on page 2 of 5. This phenomenon provides conclusive evidence that, while pages 1 and 2 of 5 of the electronically submitted Form 2 Information package may have been digitally signed by Court Officer (“CO”) Frugoni-Rojas on September 23, 2024, the document as a whole is characterized by missing text and false documentation.
14. The designation “Police Case ID:457197” on page 3 of 5 constitutes a false case identification number, as the standard data input requires a two- or four-digit year string, followed by a hyphen, and then seven (7) digits, not six (6).
15. The phrase “Intake Court Endorsement” is standard terminology within family law for lawyers, paralegals, and judges. A judge with a background and experience in criminal law would not commit this error.
16. Given the acknowledged exclusion of The Honourable Madam Justice Kraft, Justice Shore is the only other federally appointed Superior Court of Justice judge in the Toronto Region with an exclusively family law background who has exclusively rendered family court decisions since 2018 while sitting as a judge in the Superior Court of Justice (Criminal) Toronto Courthouse.
17. The deployment of “Intake Court Endorsement” terminology appears to be a deliberate diversion from the jurisdictional authority of a Superior Court of Justice or Divisional Court judge, as per section 18 of the Courts of Justice Act (“CJA”).
18. Similarly, the omission of the city in which the authorizing, giving, and issuing judge was located (i.e., the Toronto Region) further supports this inference.
19. This omission is likely predicated upon the quasi-provincial statutory language within the CJA concerning the designation of a Superior Court of Justice judge to the Divisional Court by the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice.
20. While the Criminal Code supersedes the CJA (i.e., federal law is paramount to provincial law via the “Paramountcy Doctrine”), it is plausible that an internal, and perhaps non-public, practice exists whereby Divisional Court judges are precluded from reverting to their previous areas of adjudication at 361 University Avenue (Superior Court of Justice, Criminal and Family Courthouse) for ex parte and in camera hearings after their designation to the Divisional Court (Toronto Region). Although statutorily permissible under the Criminal Code, such a practice would constitute a breach of internal requirements and designations and raise concerns regarding the prudent expenditure of federal taxpayer funds if a designated Divisional Court (Toronto Region) judge were to become judicially involved in matters outside their designated scope at the Divisional Court.
21. Errors in grammar, spelling, and phrasing, such as “This Information is Accepted [sic] on its face,” are indicative of a court officer, not a TPS detective, such as 52nd Division Detective Abdul Virani (referencing page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package).
22. The inclusion of a French translation under the dating and location (Ontario only) on page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package was not required.
23. Moreover, the unauthorized TPS transcriber erred by omitting “jour” and “de” after the “23” for “day of.”

24. The TPS transcriber further erred with respect to “Fait à/au:” when it should have been “Fait à (au):”.
25. Additionally, the text should properly read “Dated At City of Toronto” followed by “...in the Province of Ontario.”
26. These discrepancies constitute further corroborative evidence that the TPS attempted to obfuscate the origin of the document.
27. The phrase “This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement” on page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package has incorrect bolding of the English component and an improperly included period. While the accents are correct (i.e., ‘aigu’), this demonstrates that pages 1 and 2 of 5 were manipulated by the TPS (and not by the court site or the venue of adjudication, warrant, determination, or order issuance).
28. The phrase “This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement” should be located in the footer, not in the middle of page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package.
29. An erroneous footer, which is a reproduction of the header from page 1 of 5 of the False Information Package, further points to common errors caused by GrapeCity applications, particularly GrapeCity.Documents.PDF.
30. Page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package is not a constituent part of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package.
31. The inclusion of “Intake Court Endorsement” by TPS manipulation is predicated on a diversion to Justice of the Peace George Jiri, who was not the presiding judicial official and did not digitally or otherwise sign said page 3 of 5.
32. It is a matter of public record that all “intake” at the Ontario Court of Justice level has been conducted through the Criminal E-Intake Portal on a province-wide basis since 2022. This portal facilitates real-time communication between the Justice of the Peace and law enforcement, and all documents processed are digitally signed.
33. Ergo, Justice of the Peace Jiri was not the “presiding official.” This conclusion is further buttressed by the removal of page 4 of 6 from the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package, a removal consistent with the involvement of a Judge exclusively.
34. The “e” in the form designation may also refer to an “e-indictment.” If this is the case, it is consistent with the Superior Court of Justice, 361 University Avenue, representing to an authorized agent for service that there was no “arrest warrant” (i.e., an unendorsed arrest warrant), while not denying that a Form 2 Information was submitted or laid via telecommunications.
35. While the Form 2 may have been filed, a critical distinction exists between “filing” and “laying.”
36. Furthermore, if pages 1 and 2 were indeed manipulated, the retention of a copy of the authentic document, as it existed on September 23, 2024, by the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse, Criminal (Room 241: Criminal Intake Office) would be problematic. The question arises as to who would address this issue. It is presumed this responsibility would fall to a court officer or court liaison.
37. It is noteworthy that Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, without any prior acquaintance with the undersigned, served as the head of security at 361 University Avenue in mid-June 2025 and directed the undersigned to the precise room to obtain a copy of an arrest warrant.
38. Similarly, CO Frugoni-Rojas was present at the security area of the Divisional Court Toronto Region on July 6, 2025, and was able to direct the undersigned to the correct location for Room 174 for serving of a judge of the Divisional Court, at the material time even if antiquated or no longer present therein.
39. The Criminal Proceedings Rules for the Superior Court of Justice stipulate that “4.10 Indictments, including e-indictments, shall be submitted to the Court electronically by email or such other electronic filing platform as may be adopted by the Court.” Accordingly, the document may be merely an “Information” and not an “indictment.” Nonetheless, if it were an “Information,” being a Form 2 Information Package per se, it could be laid by telecommunication and previously made by declaration rather than oath.

40. Page 3 of 6 of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package has been rearranged to page 4 of 5 in the False Information Package, while page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package is improperly formatted.
41. Page 4 of 6 of the Valid CCO Information Standard Form Package is absent from the False Information Package. This omission is consistent with the involvement of a Superior Court of Justice Judge or a Divisional Court Judge, whose nomenclature would be utilized pursuant to section 18 of the CJA, in completing the relevant Form 7 “Warrant for Arrest” under the Criminal Code. Furthermore, if a warrant was also issued under section 487 of the Criminal Code, then the signing of said ‘search warrant’ or other authorization, order, et al. would be governed by whatever parliamentary statutory form was required.
42. Page 4 of 6 would also have been required for Crown Election, which was summarily conveyed via email by the assigned Crown counsel in late 2024.
43. This enumeration of deficiencies is not exhaustive, as a comprehensive list extends beyond the purview of the present order form, which is intended solely to facilitate the procurement, in good faith, of the names of the court reporters. (No aspersions are cast upon said court reporter, as he or she was merely discharging their required duties.)

CANADIAN ACCESS REQUEST - OF ONTARIO RESIDENT

From: Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Type of Document: Correspondence, Subject to PIPEDA

Related to: Access to Personal Information pursuant to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA)

Reply via Email: mrkevinalexandermcleanbajdcim@gmail.com

Classification: Confidential – Subject to a “Duty of Confidence” (may be used, accessed, and disclosed only for authorized purposes)

Subject Line No. 1: Formal Request for Access to Personal Information – A Propos a Criminal Proceeding

Subject Line No. 2: The Requisite Production of “Personal Information” as Prescribed by the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA)

Subject Line No. 3: Adjudicative Particulars and Administrative Issues

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This correspondence constitutes a formal and unequivocal request for access to any and all personal information held by your organization pertaining to the undersigned. The basis of this request is predicated upon the statutory rights and obligations enumerated in the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, S.C. 2000, c. 5, as amended, commonly referred to as PIPEDA.

I, Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean, with a date of birth of March 25, 1983, and a residential address of 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3, am seeking a complete and comprehensive disclosure of all “personal information” as that term is defined in section 2(1) of the aforementioned legislation. Specifically, this pertains to any data that has been collected, used, accessed, held, or disclosed by your entity in relation to a “pre-enquête” ex parte in camera hearing. This proceeding, conducted on or around August or September 2024, was facilitated via your technological platform within the courts of the Toronto Region of Ontario.

It is a known particular that this matter involved the laying of a Criminal Code Form 2 Information by way of telecommunication, utilizing your platform's inherent capabilities. This occurrence, although not involving my personal presence in the hearing, nonetheless implicates my personal information. I am cognizant of the fact that your organization, in the ordinary course of its operations, is required by statute to maintain a record of any disclosures by the word 'may' of my "personal information" to third parties. I therefore require a full and complete list of any and all instances of such disclosure.

I require the same in relation to holdings as well - whether current or past to ensure that all is brought current from that which was preserved.

While the specific Zoom coordinates for the hearing in question have not been furnished to me, I am actively seeking them and shall provide them forthwith upon acquisition. The application for this hearing was made by the Toronto Police Services Board, at a courthouse located in downtown Toronto.

This document has been drafted using dictation software and may be subject to minor administrative revisions, although its substantive and legal intent shall remain in toto. By reservation of author, a copy of this email may be further formalized on letterhead by reference to the date herein.

I extend my appreciation for your organization's dedication to privacy management and the protection of personal information. I anticipate a substantive and prompt response in this matter, and I trust that the provision of the requested information will not necessitate further action on my part.

CANADIAN ACCESS REQUEST - OF ONTARIO RESIDENT

From: Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Type of Document: Correspondence, Subject to PIPEDA

Related to: Access to Personal Information pursuant to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA)

Reply via Email: mrkevinalexandermcleanbajdcim@gmail.com

Classification: Confidential – Subject to a “Duty of Confidence” (may be used, accessed, and disclosed only for authorized purposes)

Subject Line No. 1: Formal Request for Access to Personal Information – A Propos a Criminal Proceeding

Subject Line No. 2: The Requisite Production of “Personal Information” as Prescribed by the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA)

Subject Line No. 3: Adjudicative Particulars and Administrative Issues

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This correspondence constitutes a formal and unequivocal request for access to any and all personal information held by your organization pertaining to the undersigned. The basis of this request is predicated upon the statutory rights and obligations enumerated in the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, S.C. 2000, c. 5, as amended, commonly referred to as PIPEDA.

I, Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean, with a date of birth of March 25, 1983, and a residential address of 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3, am seeking a complete and comprehensive disclosure of all "personal information" as that term is defined in section 2(1) of the aforementioned legislation. Specifically, this pertains to any data that has been collected, used, accessed, held, or disclosed by your entity in relation to a "pre-enquête" ex parte in camera hearing. This proceeding, conducted on or around August or September 2024, was facilitated via your technological platform within the courts of the Toronto Region of Ontario.

It is a known particular that this matter involved the laying of a Criminal Code Form 2 Information by way of telecommunication, utilizing your platform's inherent capabilities. This occurrence, although not involving my personal presence in the hearing, nonetheless implicates my personal information. I am cognizant of the fact that your organization, in the ordinary course of its operations, is required by statute to maintain a record of any disclosures by the word 'may' of my "personal information" to third parties. I therefore require a full and complete list of any and all instances of such disclosure.

I require the same in relation to holdings as well - whether current or past to ensure that all is brought current from that which was preserved.

While the specific Zoom coordinates for the hearing in question have not been furnished to me, I am actively seeking them and shall provide them forthwith upon acquisition. The application for this hearing was made by the Toronto Police Services Board, at a courthouse located in downtown Toronto.

This document has been drafted using dictation software and may be subject to minor administrative revisions, although its substantive and legal intent shall remain in toto. By reservation of author, a copy of this email may be further formalized on letterhead by reference to the date herein.

I extend my appreciation for your organization's dedication to privacy management and the protection of personal information. I anticipate a substantive and prompt response in this matter, and I trust that the provision of the requested information will not necessitate further action on my part.

To the extent I obtain the personal information from other sources, I will notify you forthwith. I will provide further details regarding the same

I may provide further courtesy assistance and as further information becomes known to me but I thought it was important to provide you with these particulars to ensure the 30 day statutory deadline was in place and for our "access partnership".

Sincerely,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject Line No. 1: Many thanks for your response - kind follow up with particulars

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I am writing to express my sincere appreciation for your expeditious communication. I am presently engaged in the process of a more comprehensive refinement of the pertinent details; however, I am still somewhat lacking complete information. I shall endeavour to provide both the primary and alternative particulars expeditiously to facilitate your investigative efforts. I am fully cognizant of the value of your time and shall convey this regard to the relevant Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) "Recording Management Office" (RMO), which is situated at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, Room 405. The contact information for my two professional liaisons at that location can be furnished upon request.

To affirm my commitment to this matter, I have undertaken the measure of due diligence to remunerate the SCJ RMO for a digital recording, which would necessitate its creation. It has been conclusively verified, however, that no court reporter (court support staff) was present; consequently, no independent "recording" per se was generated. An alternative recording mechanism was employed via your esteemed platform, a resource which I have personally utilized for an extensive duration. I anticipate that I can soon reconcile this disparity with the SCJ, and I trust that the invaluable nature of your resources will aid in this endeavour. I extend my gratitude for your retention of the same in any event.

As evidenced by the Court Transcripts Standards and Procedures Manual, the document specifically references platforms such as yours. I refer you to the following provision:

“5.3.2 Certification of Audio Recordings that Do Not Contain Form 1 Certification

There may be recordings that are not accompanied by a completed Form 1. As a result, an ACT would not be able to certify the recording using the appropriate Certificate of Transcript. This may occur if the court proceeding was conducted using platforms such as teleconference or Zoom and court support staff may not have been present to take the court record using a digital recording device (DRD). As a result, the audio recording may not contain annotations.”

In the absence of a conventional recording, and as a technologically adept individual, I extrapolate that the SCJ is obligated to execute the following technical protocols, mutatis mutandis, as outlined in the manual's directives:

“Step 1: Obtain the Zoom Recording and Transcript

First, you need to get the files from Zoom. The process differs slightly depending on whether you used cloud or local recording. Cloud Recording: If you have a paid Zoom account and recorded to the cloud, Zoom will automatically generate separate files, including the audio/video (MP4 or M4A) and the transcript (VTT file). You'll receive an email notification when the recording and transcript are ready. Log in to the Zoom web portal, go to the "Recordings" section, and download both the audio-only file (M4A) and the transcript (VTT). Local Recording: If you recorded to your computer, Zoom saves the files to a local folder (usually in your Documents folder under a "Zoom" directory). The transc function is not automatically available for "local recordings," so you'll have to find a separate transcription service or software to create one from the audio file.

As you will know whether there was a cloud recording or “local recording”, I defer:

Step 2: Prepare the Files for CD

You have two main options for how to “burn” the information to a CD, depending on what you want to achieve.

Option A: Create a Standard Audio CD (Audio Only)

This is the most common and straightforward method if you only want to listen to the audio on a standard CD player (like in a car or home stereo).

Get the Audio File: Locate the M4A audio-only file from your Zoom recording which the court would have control of the same.

Convert to a Compatible Format: M4A is not always compatible with older CD players. You will need to convert the M4A file to a format like WAV or MP3.

Burn the Audio CD: Use a CD burning program (like Windows Media Player, iTunes, or a third-party application) to create an Audio CD. This process converts the WAV/MP3 files into the specific format that a CD player can read. Be aware that a standard audio CD can only hold about 80 minutes of audio.”

It is pertinent to note that the SCJ RMO exercises custodial activities and control over recordings originating from the judicial complexes at 393, 361, and 330 University Avenue, as well as 130 Queen Street West. The “user” of record is, I presume, the Superior Court of Justice, specifically at either the 361 University or 130 Queen Street West locations. The temporal allocation for the proceeding was between 12:30 p.m. and 1:00 p.m. on Monday, September 23, 2024, though it is plausible that the event commenced or concluded slightly outside of this precise interval.

I extend my gratitude once more and shall undertake all possible efforts to render this Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) request unnecessary; however, in the spirit of professional caution, it was essential to proceed in this manner to ensure continued retention.

Thank you for the impeccable services you provide.

Sincerely,

Kevin McLean

CONFIDENTIAL & EXCLUSIVELY FOR PIPEDA PURPOSES

TO: privacy@zoom.us

Canadian Privacy Division

VIA EMAIL

Date: August 22, 2025

FROM: Mr. Kevin A. McLean, B.A., J.D., CIM

SUBJECT I: Supplemental Provision pursuant to "Access Partnership" to a Prior Formal Request for Access to Personal Information Pursuant to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, S.C. 2000, c. 5 (PIPEDA)

SUBJECT II: Provision of Adjudicative Particulars and Supporting Documentation to Facilitate the Requisite Production of Personal Information

I. Preamble and Adjudicative Context

This correspondence constitutes a formal and substantive supplement to a prior communication dated August 18, 2025, concerning a request for access to personal information pursuant to the aforementioned PIPEDA. All material facts and legal principles articulated in the preceding correspondence are hereby reiterated and incorporated by reference, and all definitions previously established are adopted as applicable. The transmission of this communication proceeds on the basis of lawful authority and for the express purpose of advancing the expeditious resolution of the request for access. It is submitted that the provision of personal information under the ambit of PIPEDA is not a matter of mere administrative convenience but a fundamental statutory right that, in this instance, possesses a direct nexus to a criminal proceeding. The fulfilment of this right is indispensable for the preparation of a robust and comprehensive defense.

Confirmation has been obtained that a presiding judicial official, The Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore of the Superior Court of Justice (Toronto Region), was involved in the relevant adjudicative process, albeit in her capacity within the Divisional Court rotation at the material time. This corroboration, predicated upon information recently obtained, is deemed a crucial particular that serves to narrow the scope of the aforestated criminal proceeding. The identity of the presiding official provides a definitive point of reference that, in the absence of a precise chronological record, establishes a cogent basis for the requested search. The divisional court designation of the judge, a matter of public record, does not in any manner diminish the jurisdiction or authority possessed to preside over the matter in question.

II. Provision of Ancillary Documentation - Solely for PIPEDA purposes

In the interest of facilitating a diligent and comprehensive search for the requested personal information during the designated period of August 2024 to October 2, 2024, two documents of pertinence have been appended to this correspondence:

- 2024
1. A "Request Form/Undertaking to the Court for Access to Original Court Recordings," dated August 14, 2025.
 2. A "Transcript Order Form of an Ontario Court Proceeding," dated August 8, 2025.

The furnishing of these documents is undertaken solely for the purpose of assisting with the search for personal information as prescribed by the relevant provisions of PIPEDA. The content of said documents contains specific, albeit approximate, details regarding the dates, the presiding judicial official, and the nature of the proceedings, which should prove instrumental in said efforts. This submission is provided in lieu of a precise chronological schedule, which is not available, and serves to establish a clear adjudicative nexus that permits the recipient to proceed with the requisite search and production. The documents elucidate the specific legal and factual context of the matter, thereby removing any ambiguity that might otherwise impede a thorough investigation of the data held by your organization.

III. The Impetus for this Supplemental Communication

The singular response received to date from an external party with jurisdiction over the matter has been an assertion that the provision of more specific dates for the proceedings is required by the Superior Court of Justice. However, as is a matter of established principle, a precise chronological enumeration of these ex parte hearings is not a matter of public record. Furthermore, due to the nature of the in camera proceedings, such dates were not heretofore available to the undersigned. Consequently, this procedural impediment, while seemingly insurmountable, is circumvented by the provision of this correspondence and its supporting documentation, which furnish the recipient with the necessary contextual information to perform a thorough and exhaustive search, thereby enabling the prompt provision of personal information as mandated by statute. The present circumstance necessitates a shift from a reliance upon an exact temporal designation to an approach predicated upon the provision of comprehensive adjudicative particulars. This methodological reorientation is both reasonable and entirely consistent with the spirit and letter of the relevant legislation.

IV. Conclusion

It is the considered conclusion that the contents of this letter, in conjunction with the appended documentation, render self-evident the necessity for the recipient organization to conduct an exhaustive search. A resolute conviction is maintained that, upon a proper review of this material, the requested personal information can be located and produced. The absence of a precise date of proceedings (hearings to be exact), a fact beyond the control of the undersigned, does not abrogate the statutory duty to provide access to personal information. The provision of these documents establishes a sufficient basis for a diligent search, and any further delay would constitute an undue procedural obstruction.

As of today's date, the requested personal information has not been received from the requested sources. This communication serves to document the continuing effort to obtain said information under exigent circumstances.

Gratitude is extended for the time and due consideration of this correspondence. An expeditious and resolution-oriented response is anticipated, and it is trusted that the recipient organization will proceed forthwith.

Respectfully submitted,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject: Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (“PIPEDA”) Access Request – Kevin Alexander McLean

Dear Organization

1. This letter constitutes a formal access request for my personal information under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, SC 2000, c 5 (PIPEDA), specifically regarding the personal information you control, as defined under PIPEDA. I understand that your Organization, E-Just Systems, holds a contract with the Ontario government to manage, collect, retain, and store personal information related to criminal charge approvals and associated processes via the Criminal E-Intake Platform^[i].
2. As noted, the Organization successfully secured a contract with the Ontario government relating to, inter alia, the Criminal E-Intake Platform.
3. Further, the Organization has been noted as having been involved in the following aspects of the Criminal E-Intake Platform and all associated collection, use, access and disclosures of personal information (see: Appendix #3).
4. As admitted by the Organization, it collects personal information as follows:

What Personal Data We Collect

Axon may collect and process different types of Personal Data in the course of operating our business and providing our products or services, this includes:

• Contact Information and other Identifiers. This includes any information you provide to us that would allow us to contact you such as your name, postal address, email address, social network details, or phone number.

<https://www.axon.com/en-ca/products/axon-evidence>

5. I am seeking access to all personal information that your Organization has held, is currently holding, has accessed, used, and/or disclosed concerning me. As it relates to disclosure, I request a comprehensive list of any other persons or entities to whom your Organization may have disclosed my personal information.

6. To enable your Organization to efficiently search for the relevant personal information, I provide the following particulars and attachments. My request is necessitated by a clerical error by the Toronto Police Service (TPS) regarding the originating courthouse for a criminal proceeding. While I have beliefs regarding the correct courthouse, a FIPPA request to the TPS would be unduly delayed, hence this direct access request to your Organization.

7. As you may be aware, the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) Crown Services Division (CSD) Guide entitles an accused person to access a "Form 2 Information" sworn or declared by an "Informant." The Informant in this matter is CO Frugoni-Rojas, and the Form 2 Information would have been submitted or filed on September 23, 2024, shortly after 11:49 a.m.

8. I request that you search your records, particularly those associated with the Criminal E-Intake Platform, for information filed on or after September 23, 2024, in either the Ontario Court of Justice (Ontario Courts) or Superior Court of Justice of Ontario (Superior Courts). This will enable me to refine my inquiry regarding the originating courthouse, as making individual requests to every courthouse in the province would be excessively time-consuming.

9. My personal details are as follows:

- Name: Kevin Alexander McLean
- Date of Birth: March 25, 1983
- Driver's Licence: M16514331830325
- Contact Email: mrkevinalexandermcleanbajdcim@gmail.com

10. In addition to the general request for all my personal information, I specifically request the following, filed with the Criminal E-Intake Platform on or after September 23, 2024:

- a. The original or a copy of the Information by the Informant (CO Frugoni-Rojas)
- b. Any other materials filed in support of the aforementioned Information;
- c. Identification of the Toronto Police Service (TPS) police officers who filed the Information and supporting materials;
- d. Any questions or requests made of the Originating Courthouse and presiding justice via the Criminal E-Intake Platform related to this matter; and
- e. Any Process (e.g., Arrest Warrant or Summons) issued by the presiding justice concerning this matter.

- 208
11. While PIPEDA allows for a thirty-day response period, I would be most grateful if you could provide the requested information as expeditiously as possible.
 12. For your reference, and in the event you are unfamiliar with PIPEDA, I have included relevant sections below with a hyperlink.
 13. I understand that courts, and entities engaged in the storage and retention of personal information for judicial processes, are required to retain such information permanently. I confirm that your Organization is required to retain all information subject to this request until I have exhausted all avenues of recourse.
 14. I trust your Organization will be able to provide the requested personal information with relative ease, efficiency, and expediency, in accordance with the principles outlined above and below. Upon safe receipt and review of the information, I will confirm that this access request has been resolved to my satisfaction, allowing you to close your associated file.
 15. To facilitate an efficient and cost-effective "access partnership," kindly provide me with the name and contact information of your designated privacy officer in accordance with PIPEDA at your earliest convenience.
 16. Once I have been able to confirm I have the correct email address, I can also provide the attachments and/or they will follow on a piecemeal basis.
 17. I may supplement the above to assist but it is my respectful position that I have satisfied my requirements to make a written request with sufficient particulars or enough details.
To the extent that you have more personal information in your control and/or have collected, used, accessed and/or disclosed the same through the Axon platforms and/or collected through other means such as video cameras or other products, kindly advise and provide the same.
 18. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Kevin Alexander McLean

SCHEDULE 1(Section 5)

Principles Set Out in the National Standard of Canada Entitled Model Code for the Protection of Personal Information, CAN/CSA-Q830-96

Appendix #3: Axon Evidence involvement

Ontario is implementing a cloud-based Digital Evidence Management System (DEMS) and an eIntake platform to streamline the criminal justice process, allowing for secure digital evidence sharing and electronic filing of criminal charges. The DEMS, powered by Axon Evidence.com, enables police to store, manage, and share evidence like video and audio recordings across agencies and with the public. The eIntake system allows for the electronic filing of criminal charges, expediting the process for law enforcement and reducing paperwork

Appendix #4: Formerly Evidence.Com

Axon, the company behind Axon Evidence (formerly Evidence.com), has a Canadian presence with an office in Toronto. Axon Public Safety Canada manages the Digital Evidence Management System (DEMS) platform for Ontario, which is a cloud-based system for secure evidence sharing among justice partners. This system is also known as Axon Evidence

More Details:

- Evidence.com/Axon Evidence:

This is the name of the cloud-based digital evidence management system used in Canada.

- Ontario's DEMS:

The Province of Ontario, on behalf of all police services, procured Axon's DEMS platform (Evidence.com/Axon Evidence) to modernize evidence sharing.

- Canadian Cloud-Based System:

Axon Public Safety Canada operates the DEMS platform through a Canadian cloud-based system.

- Secure Evidence Sharing:

The system allows for secure storage, transfer, and sharing of digital evidence, including body-worn camera footage, interview recordings, and other digital files.

- Public Access:

The public can also use the system to upload evidence related to investigations according to West Grey Police.

- Axon's Global Presence:

While Axon is headquartered in Scottsdale, Arizona, they also have offices in various locations, including Toronto, Canada according to Newswire Canada.

SUBJECT: Prima Facie Non-Compliance – Follow-Up on Formal Access Request Pursuant to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, S.C. 2000, c. 5 ("PIPEDA") – Kevin Alexander McLean

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This communication is intended to follow up on the formal access request I submitted on July 5, 2025, pursuant to my rights under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, S.C. 2000, c. 5 ("PIPEDA"). That preceding correspondence delineated a comprehensive request for all personal information that your Organization has collected, retained, accessed, utilized, or otherwise disclosed concerning myself, Kevin Alexander McLean. This request was made particularly in relation to the Criminal E-Intake Platform and its associated judicial processes but it was not limited to the same.

I hereby reaffirm that you have duly received my initial request, as evidenced by your acknowledgement dated July 5, 2025. This present missive is intended to respectfully inquire as to the current status of my access request and to solicit any material updates regarding the expeditious provision of the aforementioned information.

It is imperative to note that the statutory deadline for your Organization's response, pursuant to the provisions of PIPEDA, expired on August 4, 2025. As this date has elapsed, a state of non-compliance is prima facie established. Consequently, should a substantive response not be furnished by noon on Monday, August 12, 2025, I will be compelled to initiate a formal complaint with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada (OPCC). I further reserve all rights to pursue all available remedies, inclusio unius est exclusio alterius and including, but not limited to, damages, injunctive relief, and an award of costs, at law or in equity, both during and following any potential OPCC investigation.

Should your esteemed Organization require any supplementary clarification, ancillary documentation, or further particulars to aid in your information retrieval processes or to otherwise facilitate compliance with my formal request, please do not hesitate to contact me. I am committed to cooperating fully to ensure that your Organization is able to process my request as efficiently as possible. However, self-communication or one-sided communication makes it impossible to work in the spirit of an access partnership.

I furthermore reiterate my demand for a comprehensive ledger of any persons or corporate entities ("Third Persons") to whom my personal information may have been disclosed, inter alia, as well as the complete contact information of your Organization's designated privacy officer.

I appreciate your attention to this exigent matter and anticipate a timely and substantive response. Please confirm receipt of this follow-up and advise on next steps or estimated timelines for compliance.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated compliance. Should you fail to do so, I intend to also draw these failures to the attention of any other persons so entitled to receive notice of the same.

Sincerely,

/KAM

Kind attention: ONCJ Registrar and Applications Coordinator for ONCJ 10 Armoury Road, Toronto, Ontario

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Esteemed Recipients,

I confirm the above subject line.

Part I: Contextual Underpinnings of the Present Application

I wish to delineate the procedural and substantive grounds necessitating this communication. My filings were meticulously executed in accordance with the Criminal Proceedings Rules for the Superior Court of Justice (Ontario) (hereinafter, "the Rules"), which mandate electronic transmission for all filings, including those initiating a proceeding. Illustratively, this encompasses the laying of a Criminal Code of Canada ("CCC" or "Criminal Code") Form 2 "Information." In the instant matter, the pertinent Form 2 Information (hereinafter, "the CO Rojas Form 2 Information") was purportedly effected by Court Officer (CO) Mrs. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas on September 23, 2024, at 11:49 a.m., by means of a declaration pursuant to section 508.1(2) of the Criminal Code, as opposed to a sworn oath. It is axiomatic that such an Information is presumed to have been duly filed, albeit not statutorily required to be served ex parte upon a defendant, given the inherent nature of police forces seeking judicial sanction for criminal charges and the subsequent issuance of process. The Criminal Code typically presumes the issuance of a Form 6 "Summons" over a Form 7 "Warrant for Arrest," unless reasonable and probable grounds (RGB) exist, substantiated by oath (cf. Hunter v. Southam Inc., SCC, 1984, which distinguishes from 'reasonable belief' not requiring sworn evidence), to conclude that the issuance and endorsement of a pro forma arrest warrant (Form 7) are in the public interest. No other ancillary grounds for such a warrant are presently germane to this discourse.

It has been unequivocally established, through confirmation from a legal professional within the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), specifically the MAG CSD Records Division, that a diligent search for any Form 2 Information filed by Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas in August, September, or October 2024 within the Ontario Courts of Justice (OCJ) yielded no responsive records. This conclusive admission by the MAG and the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) irrefutably demonstrates the falsity of the purported JP Jiri Intake Court Endorsement [Sic]. The logical extrapolation from this evidentiary lacuna is that the said endorsement constitutes an internal fabrication by the Toronto Police Service (TPS), rather than an authentic record originating from either the OCJ or, indeed, the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ).

Furthermore, the advent and province-wide implementation of the Criminal E-Intake Platform in 2022 dictates that no OCJ, irrespective of its regional situs (e.g., Central West or Toronto Region), could have assumed initial carriage of this matter, thereby precluding its designation as the originating courthouse. Consequently, the SCJ emerges as the only plausible originating court level. Given that CO Rojas was situated within the Toronto Region, as was I at the time of the alleged offense – notwithstanding my factual contention of engaging in no direct or indirect communications on September 22, 2024, or immediately proximate dates – and given the conspicuous absence of any pre-assignment court records or documents within the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, it is patently evident that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse was not, and could not have been, the originating jurisdiction. The sole other criminal courthouse within downtown Toronto, the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal) located at 361 University Avenue, ordinarily handles a confluence of criminal and family law matters. While the SCJ frequently presides over family matters due to its inherent jurisdiction and capacity to grant equitable relief, including those pertaining to trust law, unjust enrichment, and quantum meruit, its criminal docket is typically reserved for offenses of the gravest magnitude, such as those involving notorious individuals, significant drug trafficking operations, or organized crime syndicates. Nevertheless, the TPS indisputably retains the prerogative to petition an SCJ Judge for the issuance of process pursuant to the relevant provisions of the Criminal Code. While Crown, Crown agents and the AG himself can apply for an arrest warrant or process, it is unclear if they did. It may be the reason why the TPS did not have a copy of the arrest warrant along with a peace officer being statutorily required to have it on he or she at the time of arrest and to produce a copy upon request (see: section 29 of the Criminal Code).

Part III: Status of the Court Officer and Prior Encounters

It is noteworthy that CO Rojas, while an employee of the TPS, is not strictly a police officer per se. Her functional role appears to align more closely with that of an agent of the Crown rather than an agent of the TPS, a distinction that future proceedings may further elucidate.

I reiterated my consistent invitation to the assigned Crown attorneys at the OCJ to withdraw the singular criminal charge but they failed to do so. All my legal and factual positions, as articulated previously, remain steadfast. However, the issuance of a baseless and injudicious bench warrant, of which I was never formally provided a copy or confirmation from the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, compelled me to undertake steps for its immediate quashing. Moreover, my overarching contention persists that the OCJ, including the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, has at various junctures divested itself of jurisdiction over my person.

Part IV: Current Procedural Status and Future Directions

In light of the foregoing, please find attached copies of my recent filings, provided as a professional courtesy for your respective files and, more critically, to formally affirm that this proceeding is stayed by operation of Rule 43.03(5) of the Criminal Proceedings Rules. While my applications seek not only the quashing of the aforementioned bench warrant but also other substantive remedies and forms of relief, many of which do not fall under the rubric of prerogative writs, I have demonstrably filed a Form 1 under the Rules, two supporting affidavits, an affidavit of service executed by myself, and a supplementary affidavit of service from an authorized agent. The sole remaining prerequisite for the returnability of my Notice of Application

(NOA) #1 is the personal service upon JP Jiri, although this may be rendered moot by virtue of the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal) having cognizance of the matter and/or a response from the OCJ Brampton Courthouse.

I extend this courtesy notice to both you and the OCJ to apprise you that while I was prepared to proceed on July 17, 2025, a date on which historical precedent suggests a further adjournment would have been probable, I was compelled to undertake decisive action upon discerning that the OCJ possessed no record of any Form 2 Information from CO Rojas, including any arrest warrant accessible via the Criminal E-Intake Platform.

Presently, I am in the process of procuring the transcript of what appears to have been a brief ex parte and in camera proceeding before an SCJ Judge. The endorsement status of any process issued therefrom remains presently indeterminate. Whether the endorsement was so executed by the authorizing and issuing SCJ Judge or a registrar, as permitted and where applicable, is irrelevant to the requirement before the SCJ that the hearing 'produces a writing'.

Whether this OCJ proceeding will ever reconvene, even to address moot points, remains a matter of speculation. I undertake to apprise you of any material changes in circumstances, and I encourage you to contact me should any queries arise.

As matters currently stand, my NOA #1 is scheduled for Tuesday, August 19, 2025, and is returnable, at least concerning the prerogative writ elements, within 30 days of all Justices, Provincial Court Judges, and SCJ Judges who issued a warrant, made an order or determination, or whose order is at issue, being personally served at a specified location (courthouse), and/or who engaged in 'making an adjudication' (vide: Rule 5.02(1)(c)).

I do not express opposition to the participation of the AGO or the Attorney General of Canada (AGC) in the hearing slated for August 19, 2025. Should you elect to attend, kindly inform me, and I shall ensure your inclusion in the pertinent electronic communication thread.

I trust this is of assistance to court staff of the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse. I confirm that I have already electronically served the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse and copies were served and personally served on the Manager of Court Operations and PCJ in question on July 11, 2025.

I confirm the ongoing requirement of the Manager of Court Operations for the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse with respect to providing certified copies of all documents, papers, Form 2's et al in his or her custody or power along with the forthwith requirement of the prescribed certificate to the clerk of the court of the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal).

Thank you for your attention to this critical matter.

Sincerely,

Dear OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse (copied to all):

I write to confirm that I have successfully served all of the potentially relevant courthouses inclusive of the mighty trek out to OCJ Brampton Courthouse. I provide that update as a courtesy.

I confirm that this OCJ proceeding was stayed from the time of service of last Friday, July 11, 2025 but to the extent that the position was that I had to serve the OCJ Brampton Courthouse, then it was effectively stayed at 10:30 a.m. on July 16, 2025.

I confirm that I have filed a Form 5 NOCQ as of today's date as well and I am still waiting for certificates from Managers of Court Operations from various courthouses to be provided to the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal). I will continue to assist my cause by requesting any true copies of documents from any and all relevant courthouses.

Out of an abundance of caution, I will rely on this email in the event a law enforcement officer is misguided relating to the validity of any orders herein such as a bench warrant.

Wishing you all well. Take care,

SUBJECT: A Request , by the Accused, Pursuant to the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division ("MAG CSD") Guide for the Production of Files, Documents, Information, and Papers Under the Custody and/or Control of the Divisional Court Pertaining to an SCJ Justice Assigned to the Divisional Court Rotation on September 23, 2024, who was likely involved in the issuance of an arrest warrant involving myself via telecommunications that did not produce a writing - thank you

SALUTATIONS:

This correspondence is tendered with utmost respect and urgency, borne of a protracted and labyrinthine process to secure documentation essential for the exercise and protection of my fundamental rights and freedoms, as guaranteed by the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

I have reasonable grounds to conclude, with a high degree of certainty, that the Honourable Madam Justice Sure, while potentially in a Divisional Court rotation, was responsible for the issuance of an arrest warrant pertaining to me on September 23, 2024, at approximately 12:59 PM. This conclusion is predicated upon a careful and painstaking analysis of various documents and representations, which have, in numerous instances, proven to be misleading. Through recent assiduous inquiry, it has come to my attention that an arrest warrant was purportedly issued against me by telecommunication. I must state, in limine, that I do not concede the validity of the said warrant or its underlying Form 2 Information under the Criminal Code. This communication is, per se, a demand for records pursuant to the MAG CSD Guide.

The provenance of this request is rooted in the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Guide, a compendium that authorizes an accused to seek records, documents, and information under the custody and/or control of the relevant court level and courthouse. The present circumstances necessitate a request directed to the Divisional Court, premised on the jurisdictional ambiguity surrounding the originating courthouse when a Superior Court Justice, while in a Divisional Court rotation, adjudicates a criminal matter ex parte and in camera via telecommunication. The lack of a designated courtroom or an official court reporter in such a scenario renders the designation of a specific courthouse a nuanced matter of legal interpretation. Given that a Superior Court Justice, pursuant to section 18 of the Courts of Justice Act, is also, de jure, a justice of the Divisional Court, and that the matter originated within the Toronto Region, it is an inescapable syllogism that the Toronto Regional Courthouse was the originating courthouse.

It is patently obvious that the document purporting to be the Form 2 Information lacks a digital or handwritten signature, thereby definitively excluding the Ontario Court of Justice from this matter. This fact alone has necessitated an exhaustive inquiry into the Superior Court of Justice and its various courthouses in the Toronto Region. This is an exceptional set of circumstances that requires an equally exceptional and thorough inquiry and response in accordance with the MAG CSD Guide.

In this vein, I seek a definitive confirmation or denial as to whether any justice in the Divisional Court rotation in September 2024 received an information, via telecommunication or otherwise, concerning me and whether or not they subsequently issued an arrest warrant, whether in verbal form or otherwise. Pursuant to the open court principle and my standing as an accused, I am unequivocally entitled to any and all documentation and records that are in the custody or control of the court. For the avoidance of any doubt, "control" is not to be construed as having previously demanded the records, but rather the ability to make a demand for the records and have them produced. This includes, but is not limited to, judicial records of activity, telephone logs, and any documentation supporting the communication between the Toronto Police Service (or its agents) and a presiding justice. These are distinct from records maintained by the MAG CSD relating to court staff.

I require a substantive response to this inquiry by 3:00 PM on August 8, 2025. Failure to provide a timely response will be construed as a denial that any such records exist within the custody or control of the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court.

I have previously provided identification, as is my entitlement and obligation under the relevant procedural guides.

I trust that this letter clarifies the basis for my request and underscores its importance.

Respectfully tendered,

--

Re: Clarification and Request for Information Regarding Court Information, Court Documents, Court Records et al and Custody

To the Divisional Court (Records Division), Superior Court of Justice:

This correspondence is a follow-up to my previous electronic mail, the delivery of which has been duly confirmed. The purpose of this communication is to provide salient clarifications and to reiterate certain inquiries with the utmost precision.

First, I must correct the previously stated deadline for a substantive response. The date by which a reply is required is, in fact, Monday, August 4, 2025, at 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time, and not August 8, 2025. It is my understanding that August 4, 2025, is not designated as a statutory holiday, and therefore, this deadline remains in full force and effect. The purpose of this deadline is to receive a definitive confirmation or denial regarding the existence of any records pertinent to the subject matter within the custody or control of the judiciary. To be precise, the term "control" is to be understood not as the exercise of a prior demand, but as the inherent authority to make a demand for such records to be produced.

Secondly, I tender my apologies for an inaccuracy in my preceding missive. The error was in my assertion that the Form 2 information lacked a signature. A more precise articulation of this point is that page three of five of the said information package, specifically, the endorsement by the presiding judicial officer, was absent. Furthermore, it conspicuously lacked a legal signature from the Justice of the Peace, Mr. George Jiri. I can confirm, however, that page two of five of the same package bears an alleged signature of one Mrs. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas, a Court Officer whose professional association with the Toronto Police Service is, I presume, well-known to you. This raises a fundamental query regarding the verifiability and probative value of her certificate of trust root authority from Adobe Inc. and the legitimacy of her electronic or digital signature, particularly when a copy of the requisite document is tendered to an individual.

Prima facie, this matter appears to be both unconventional and without precedent. The premise of this situation is that the Criminal Intake Division of the Superior Court of Justice would have been compelled to perform some degree of intake, even if the ex parte and in camera hearing was conducted telephonically via an audio or video conference, and without the contemporaneous creation of a physical writing. Assuming arguendo that the level of intake was limited to a mere confirmation of the Court Officer's identity (the aforementioned Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas) and an availability check for a presiding Superior Court of Justice judge who happened to be in their Divisional Court rotation, the following syllogism inexorably leads to a critical legal and administrative question: Which courthouse within the Toronto region of the Superior Court of Justice would properly have custody or control of these anomalous records through a process other than a formal Freedom of Information request?

I respectfully submit that this query warrants a general response so that I may determine whether further inquiries must be directed to the originating courthouse. In that regard, I must again note that the notional location of a judge in their divisional court rotation in the Toronto region would not, in all likelihood, preclude the issuance of an arrest warrant. However, the originating courthouse's location would necessarily be predicated upon the existence of a physical or designated courtroom that either houses or serves as the venue for the in camera ex parte hearing. When such proceedings are conducted remotely, perhaps with the judge not physically present at either courthouse but rather at a remote office or at home, the question of custody and control devolves upon which courthouse is ultimately designated as the originating courthouse subsequent to the issuance of the process by the presiding judge.

I trust that this clarification is sufficient for your purposes. The matter remains one of considerable urgency to me and, furthermore, carries significant public interest implications concerning the open court principle and the operational guidelines of the MAG CSD Guide. For these reasons, a definitive response is not merely a courtesy, but a necessity. Should any part of this letter lack lucidity, I implore you to contact me via e-mail without delay, to which I will respond with alacrity.

If there is a specified email for such requests, I kindly ask that you provide it so I can correspond with the same for expeditiousness, efficiency and cost-effectiveness.

Yours with due solemnity,

Re: additional court documents, records, information et al sought with respect to a potential search warrant, authorization, order or extension under the Criminal Code issued by an SCJ Judge in his or her Divisional Court rotation on or around September 23, 2024 to October 2, 2024 or thereafter involving Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean (DOB: March 25, 1983) involving including but not limited to 775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3

Dear SCJ Divisional Court:

I write further to the MAG CSD Guide (Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits) and I look forward to hearing from you on the above.

In addition to the above request, to the extent that a SCJ Judge in his or her Divisional Court rotation was the presiding judge in relation to an arrest warrant, I have reasonable grounds to believe that an SCJ Judge may have issued a warrant, order or authorization under the Criminal Code that is outside the scope of an arrest warrant per se.

Please see my attached letter to the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division) at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. I may provide further particulars and information for context but I trust this suffices with respect to the TPS as the relevant agency, my name, the relevant residential address (or at least one of them) and the approximate date of issuing the same (September 23, 2024 to October 2, 2024)

Thank you for your consideration of the above.

Dear SCJ Divisional Court (Toronto Region): I copy and paste the relevant recent email and its attached email to the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division) for your ease of reference to substantiate my above request. I await to hear from you and adopt all of the same by principle herein that is reference herein.

Thank you for your prompt attention to the above and I await to receive access or an explicit denial from the SCJ Divisional Court regarding the same.

Should anything be unclear, kindly contact me at your earliest convenience so I can explain. Otherwise, I will presume all therein is sufficiently clear.

To the Esteemed Office of the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division):

Subject: Further courtesy evidence and particulars - regarding my court document request - Inquiry Regarding the Controller Custodianship of Judicial Authorizations and Evidentiary Material Pertaining to Property Seizure on or before October 2, 2024, likely issued on September 23, 202 by an SCJ Judge

This communication is tendered to substantively reinforce my antecedent request and to proffer additional corroborative documentation pertinent to the aforementioned matter. Appended hereto are the electronic mail exchanges between myself and the Toronto Police Service (TPS) 14th Division, dated October 2, 2024, and October 3, 2024. These communications unequivocally demonstrate a representation by the TPS 14th Division acknowledging the "receipt" of certain personal effects originating from my erstwhile residence, specifically Unit 410, 775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3. The precise provenance from which the TPS 14th Division acquired said property remains, ad hoc, indeterminate to me. While a speculative inference might posit the involvement of the TPS 52nd Division, the possibility of another distinct divisional entity cannot be definitively precluded. I hereby confirm the partial restitution of the enumerated property; however, my comprehensive requisition for the entirety of my possessions contained therein, which were, prima facie, subject to a search and seizure warrant and/or other forms of legal authorization, remains unfulfilled. Your judicious attention to this salient point is profoundly appreciated.

It is incumbent upon me to observe, parenthetically, that my ongoing scholarly review of the various species of warrants, authorizations, and orders, inter alia, as delineated under Section 487.1 of the Criminal Code, reveals a salient jurisprudential principle: a considerable proportion of such instruments, particularly those authorizing ingress into a private domicile, along with other pertinent authorizations, are exclusively within the adjudicative purview of a Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Judge. This observation underscores the gravity and specialized nature of the judicial oversight required in such instances. Many of the warrants, authorizations, orders and extensions requires at least a PC Judge or SCJ Judge which again eliminates the likes of JP Jiri (of the Brampton OCJ Courthouse in the Central West Region).

Consequently, I anticipate with considerable interest and expectation a definitive pronouncement from your esteemed office, in conjunction with the SCJ Divisional Court, regarding the precise jurisdictional locus of control and custodianship over any search warrants or arrest warrants, et al., issued by an SCJ Judge during the period of his or her Divisional Court rotation within the Toronto Region (130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario). Specifically, clarification is sought as to whether such control and custody are predicated upon the physical location of the SCJ Judge at the moment of issuance (e.g., within his or her chambers at the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal or another judicial facility), or whether it is determined by the rotational assignment of the presiding judicial officer, or alternatively, by the venue of initial intake of the matter (e.g., the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal).

A response characterized by its definitive clarity and unambiguous precision would prove immeasurably beneficial, facilitating the efficient, expeditious, cost-effective, and ultimately just utilization of collective judicial and administrative resources.

Without engaging in supererogatory exposition, I shall, pro forma, transmit all germane electronic correspondence herein to the SCJ Divisional Court (Toronto Region) for their comprehensive review and consideration.

This of course aligns with my belief that page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package being a transcription of what was apparently uttered by a judicial officer which is permitted under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code.

I extend my profound gratitude for your time and consideration of this urgent matter.

Until there is an unequivocal denial of the same in writing, I will have reasonable grounds to believe that the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal) or any SCJ courthouse, whether Divisional Court or otherwise depending on some of the idiosyncrasies herein, have control and custody of the requested information, documents, papers et al.

With great respect, it is only the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal and of course the recent addition of the SCJ Divisional Court (Toronto Region) that has not denied having any control or custody, in writing that is, of the requested information, documents et al.

Sincerely,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

VIA ELECTRONIC TRANSMISSION, AT FIRST INSTANCE

To:
The Honourable Superior Court of Justice
Divisional Court
Osgoode Hall
130 Queen Street West
Toronto, Ontario
M5H 2N5

Subject: Clarification Regarding the Inclusion of the Local Registrar, Ms. Jessa-Marie Clegg, Pursuant to the Criminal Proceedings Rules for the Superior Court of Justice, inter alia, Concerning the Definitional Ambit of "Clerk of the Court"

Subject No. 2: Awaiting Confirmation or Disaffirmation Regarding the Custody and Control of Records by the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court (Osgoode Hall), Pertaining to: (i) Form 2 Information; (ii) CCO-2-000-1-C-e Information Packages — Presumed to Have Been Transmitted via Telecommunications; and (iii) Any Issued, Albeit Potentially Unendorsed or Unexecuted, Arrest Warrants.

Subject No. 3: Awaiting Confirmation or Disaffirmation Regarding the Custody and Control of Records by the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court (Osgoode Hall), Pertaining to Non-Arrest Warrants, Specifically Any Instruments Issued Under Section 487.1 of the Criminal Code or Other Germane Provisions Thereof.

Esteemed Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court:

I hereby affirm my understanding of the procedural imperative mandating that this requisition be directed to the "originating courthouse," as delineated by the directive accessible via the following Uniform Resource Locator: <https://www.ontario.ca/page/freedom-information-request>. This directive, notwithstanding a minor orthographic infelicity concerning "Divisional Court," unequivocally stipulates:

"Court records (family, criminal, civil, divisional, etc.)

No

Ministry of the Attorney General

Court records, if they exist, are under the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice, and/or the Ontario Court of Justice, and/or the Court of Appeal for Ontario. Courts are not governed by FIPPA and court records under the supervisory control of the judiciary are not available through the FOI process or subject to FIPPA. Requests for court records should be made to the originating courthouse. More information is available in the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits. Contact information for courthouses in Ontario."

It is my reasoned conviction, predicated upon the absence of refutation by the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court, and further corroborated by deductive inference admissions proffered by the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Records Division, alongside other judicial venues including the Ontario Court of Justice, the Ontario Court of Justice, 10 Armoury Courthouse, coupled with the demonstrable absence of records within the Criminal E-Intake Portal for the Ontario Court of Justice pertaining to submitted and laid Form 2 Informations under the Criminal Code, that the requisite procedural nexus has been established.

In contextualizing the present inquiry, I respectfully adduce the pertinent provisions of Section 487.1 of the Criminal Code, which articulates the modalities for the issuance of warrants and other judicial instruments by means of telecommunication:

"Warrants, etc., by telecommunication

487.1 (1) Despite anything in this Act, the Attorney General, a peace officer or a public officer may, if they are permitted to apply for any of the following, submit their application by a means of telecommunication:

- (a) a warrant under subsection 83.222(1);
- (b) an order under subsection 83.223(1);
- (b.1) a warrant under subsection 110.1(5);
- (b.2) a warrant under subsection 117.0101(6);
- (c) a warrant under subsection 117.04(1);
- (d) a warrant under subsection 164(1);
- (e) an order under subsection 164.1(1);
- (f) a warrant under subsection 320(1);
- (g) an order under subsection 320.1(1);
- (h) a warrant under subsection 320.29(1);
- (i) a warrant under subsection 395(1);
- (j) a warrant under subsection 462.32(1);
- (j.1) a warrant under subsection 462.321(1);
- (k) an order under subsection 462.33(3);
- (l) a warrant under subsection 487(1);
- (m) a warrant under subsection 487.01(1) that does not authorize the observation of a person by means of a television camera or other similar electronic device;
- (n) an extension under subsection 487.01(5.2);
- (o) an order under any of sections 487.013 to 487.018;
- (p) an order under subsection 487.019(3);
- (q) an order under subsection 487.0191(1);
- (r) an order under subsection 487.0191(4);
- (s) a warrant under subsection 487.05(1);
- (t) a warrant under subsection 487.092(1);
- (u) an order under subsection 487.3(1);
- (v) an order under subsection 487.3(4);
- (w) a warrant under subsection 492.1(1);
- (x) a warrant under subsection 492.1(2);
- (y) an authorization under subsection 492.1(7);
- (z) a warrant under subsection 492.2(1).

Alternative to oath

(2) A person who must swear an oath in connection with an application submitted by a means of telecommunication that produces a writing may, instead of swearing the oath, make a statement in writing stating that all matters submitted in support of the application are true to their knowledge and belief, and the statement is deemed to be a statement made under oath.

Certification

(3) A judicial officer who receives an application submitted by a means of telecommunication that produces a writing shall certify the application as to time and date of recording.

(4) An application under subsection 487.01(5.2) shall not be submitted by a means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing.

Application — telecommunication not producing writing

(5) An applicant may submit their application by a means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing only if it would be impracticable in the circumstances to submit the application by a means of telecommunication that produces a writing.

Statement of circumstances

(6) An application submitted by a means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing shall include a statement of the circumstances that make it impracticable to submit the application by a means of telecommunication that produces a writing.

Oath

(7) Any oath required in connection with an application submitted by a means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing may be administered by a means of telecommunication.

Certification

(8) A judicial officer who receives an application submitted by a means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing shall record the application verbatim, in writing or otherwise, and certify the record or a transcription of it as to time, date and contents.

Limitation on issuance

(9) If an application is submitted by a means of telecommunication that does not produce a writing, the judicial officer shall not issue the warrant, order, extension or authorization unless he or she is satisfied that the application discloses reasonable grounds for dispensing with its submission by a means of telecommunication that produces a writing.

Warrant, etc.

(10) A judicial officer who issues the warrant, order, extension or authorization may do so by a means of telecommunication, in which case

- (a) the judicial officer shall complete and sign the document in question, noting on its face the time and date;
- (b) if the means of telecommunication produces a writing, the judicial officer shall transmit a copy of the document to the applicant by that means; and
- (c) if the means of telecommunication does not produce a writing, the applicant shall, as directed by the judicial officer, transcribe the document, noting on its face the name of the judicial officer as well as the time and date.

Definitions

(11) The following definitions apply in this section.

judicial officer means a judge or justice who is authorized, under the applicable provision of this Act, to issue a warrant, order, extension or authorization referred to in subsection (1). (fonctionnaire judiciaire) public officer means a public officer who is appointed or designated to administer or enforce a federal or provincial law and whose duties include the enforcement of this Act or any other Act of Parliament. (fonctionnaire public)"

It is patently evident that page 3 of 5 of the "False Information Package" (see: Appendix #1) constitutes an ostensible transcription by the Applicant, the Toronto Police Services (TPS), pursuant to Section 487.1(10)(c) of the Criminal Code. While acknowledging the presence of demonstrable inaccuracies within this transcription, the inherent reference unequivocally designate it as a rendition by the aforementioned applicant. The document, though summarily transcribed, may regrettably lack material particulars. Although temporal and chronological markers are present, a digital or physical signature remains conspicuously absent. Furthermore, the designation of the judicial officer is erroneously recorded, notwithstanding the accurate inclusion of the time and date: September 23, 2024, at 12:59:50 p.m. There is no concomitant reference to Justice of the Peace Jiri Bampton where he is assigned.

It would appear, prima facie, that two distinct instruments would necessitate further action:

1. Form 7 Arrest Warrant; and
2. Warrant under Section 487.1 of the Criminal Code.

My preliminary legislative interpretation analysis, conducted with due diligence, is herein presented:

Analysis of Section 487.1 of the Criminal Code by Mr. Kevin A. McLean:

- Subsection 83.222(1):
 - Title: "Warrant of Seizure"
 - Subject Matter: Hate Propaganda
 - Judicial Authority: Judge only.
- Subsection 110.1(5):
 - Title: "Warrant to Search and Seize"
 - Subject Matter: Weapons
 - Judicial Authority: Provincial Court Judge (encompassing a Superior Court of Justice Judge).
- Subsection 117.0101(6):
 - Title: "Warrant to Search and Seize"
 - Subject Matter: Firearm
 - Judicial Authority: Provincial Court Judge (encompassing a Superior Court of Justice Judge).
- Subsection 117.04(1):
 - Title: "Application for Warrant to Search and Seize"
 - Subject Matter: A weapon, a prohibited device, a firearm part, ammunition, prohibited ammunition, or an explosive substance.
 - Judicial Authority: Any Justice.
- Subsection 164(1):
 - Title: "Warrant of Seizure"
 - Subject Matter: Intimate Images
 - Judicial Authority: Judge only.
- Subsection 320.29(1):
 - Title: "Warrants to Obtain Blood Samples"
 - Subject Matter: Blood Samples
 - Judicial Authority: Justice.
- Subsection 395(1):
 - Title: "Search for Valuable Minerals"
 - Subject Matter: Minerals
 - Judicial Authority: Any Justice.
- Subsection 462.32(1):
 - Title: "Special Search Warrant" (Nota bene: This provision involves a Form 1.)
 - Subject Matter: Proceeds of Crime
 - Judicial Authority: Judge (upon application of the Attorney General).
 - Applicant: Attorney General of Ontario (AGO).
- Subsection 462.321(1):
 - Title: "Special Warrant — Digital Assets"
 - Judicial Authority: Judge only.
- Subsection 487(1):
 - Title: "Information for Search Warrant"
 - Subject Matter: Search Warrant
 - Judicial Authority: Justice who is satisfied by information on oath in Form 1.
- Subsection 487.01(1): (Does not authorize the observation of a person by means of a television camera or other similar electronic device.)
 - Title: "Information for General Warrant"
 - Subject Matter: General Warrant
 - Judicial Authority: Provincial Court Judge or a Judge of a Superior Court of Criminal Jurisdiction, or a judge as defined in Section 552 (excluding a Provincial Court Judge or Justice of the Peace).
- Subsection 487.05(1):
 - Title: "Information for Warrant to Take Bodily Substances for Forensic DNA Analysis"
 - Subject Matter: DNA
 - Judicial Authority: Provincial Court Judge (encompassing a Superior Court of Justice Judge).
- Subsection 487.092(1):
 - Title: "Information for Impression Warrant"
 - Judicial Authority: Any Justice.
- Subsection 492.1(1):
 - Title: "Warrant for Tracking Device — Transactions and Things"
 - Subject Matter: Tracking Devices
 - Judicial Authority: Justice or Judge.
- Subsection 492.1(2):
 - Title: "Warrant for Tracking Device — Individuals"
 - Subject Matter: Tracking an individual's movement by identifying the location of a thing that is usually carried or worn by the individual.
 - Judicial Authority: Justice or Judge.
- Subsection 492.2(1):
 - Title: "Warrant for Transmission Data Recorder"
 - Judicial Authority: Justice or Judge.

I shall undertake a comprehensive review of the aforementioned statutory provisions to ascertain, to the best of my ability, the precise nature of the warrant that would have been issued. However, I reiterate and repose full reliance upon the preceding assertions.

In accordance with my entitlement to access any species of search warrant, including those empowering seizure, I draw attention to the following stipulations as per my requirements, articulated at:

<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-documents-and-exhibits/section-2-public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents>:

"Requesting access to search warrants

Individuals seeking access to search warrants must provide enough information for court staff to identify the records sought. This most commonly includes the location (for example, an address) searched and/or the date the warrant was executed and may also include, when known, the name of the person (often a police officer) or agency who sought the warrant; name of the judicial official who approved the warrant; and/or date the search warrant was issued.

Search warrants are filed by location to be searched and date of search. If an individual does not know the address and/or date of search, court staff will attempt to assist the requester, however sufficient information to allow court staff to identify the requested warrant is necessary. Search warrants are not filed by name of an individual subsequently charged as a result of an investigation."

The applicant's identity is the Toronto Police Service, potentially encompassing other personnel, including Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas (Christyn). The approximate date of issuance for the search warrant would have been on or about September 23, 2024. While the precise identity of the judicial officer remains technically unknown to me, I possess reasonable grounds to infer that it was The Honourable Madam Justice Shore. The locus of the search would likely have comprised, but not been confined to, 410 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3, or any other location where my person was situated.

I respectfully request that you revert with all pertinent information within the custody and control of the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court, Osgoode Hall, specifically concerning any telecommunicated application laid by the Toronto Police Service Applicant and any corresponding reception or transmission by the presiding judicial officer. Should it be definitively established that The Honourable Madam Justice Sharon Shore of the Superior Court of Justice (Toronto Region), serving since October 2018, is not the judicial officer in question, I solicit an unequivocal confirmation of this fact. Absent such disaffirmation, I shall proceed under the presumption that the aforementioned Madam Justice Shore presided over the issuance of the warrant on September 23, 2024, or on a date proximate thereto.

Detailed Requisition Pertaining to Subject No. 2: Documents, Records, and Ancillary Information Sought

In furtherance of Subject No. 2, I hereby delineate with greater specificity the precise documents, records, papers, and ancillary information that are urgently required for a comprehensive understanding of the circumstances surrounding the telewarrant application and issuance. These particulars are essential for ensuring the transparency and integrity of the judicial process, particularly in light of the telecommunication modalities employed.

I specifically request the following:

1. Officer Verification Documentation: Any and all records pertaining to the verification of the identity and authorization of the Toronto Police Service officer(s) who initiated the telewarrant application. This should include, but not be limited to, internal police documentation, court records of authorization, or any other instrument utilized to confirm the officer's standing to make such an application.
2. Telecommunication Logs and Records: Comprehensive logs and records of all telephonic communications, electronic transmissions, or any other form of telecommunication exchanged between the Toronto Police Service applicant(s) and the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court, or any judicial officer or court member, pertaining to the application for, and issuance of, the aforementioned warrants. This encompasses:
 - o Detailed call logs, including timestamps, duration, and originating/receiving numbers.
 - o Transcripts or recordings of any oral telewarrant applications, as mandated by Section 487.1(8) of the Criminal Code.
 - o Records of any electronic submissions, including metadata, transmission confirmations, and content of the submitted materials.
3. Judicial Assignment and Consideration Records: Documentation detailing the process by which a specific judicial officer was assigned to hear and consider the telewarrant application. This should include:
 - o Any internal court directives, policies, or protocols governing the assignment of judicial officers for telewarrant applications.
 - o Records indicating the specific judicial officer, or designated Judicial Justice (JJ), who was contacted and subsequently presided over the application.
 - o Any records reflecting the judicial officer's consideration of the application, including notes, endorsements, or reasons for decision, even if brief.
4. Identification of Authorized Court Staff: The specific and general identification of any court staff member(s) authorized to facilitate telewarrant applications including those responsible for:
 - o Receiving initial inquiries from law enforcement.
 - o Verifying officer credentials.
 - o Connecting officers with designated judicial officers or JJs.
 - o Recording or transcribing telewarrant applications.
 - o Transmitting issued warrants back to the applicant.

This should include their names, roles, and the scope of their authority in this context. It is understood that in Canada, police officers typically obtain the court information for a judge for a telewarrant through established procedures, often involving the Chief Judge's office or court administration, ensuring that only designated judicial officers are contacted. Therefore, records reflecting these established procedures and the individuals involved are of paramount importance.

It is imperative to note that search warrants, particularly in instances involving a potentially conjoined application for both a search warrant and an arrest warrant, are not indexed by the name of the individual subsequently charged. This procedural reality elucidates why the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Records Division, Toronto Region, was unable to unearth any documentation associated with my application or, indeed, with the name of the Informant. I draw a critical distinction between information that is publicly accessible and that to which I am entitled as the individual subsequently charged and arrested on October 2, 2024.

I also note the same regarding arrest warrants:

2.2.5 Arrest warrants (warrants in the first instance and bench warrants)

Warrants of arrest (also known as Warrants in the First Instance) may or may not be filed with the court. Practices for filing warrants of arrest vary depending on the police service. If a warrant of arrest or copy of a warrant of arrest is in the court file, it is only publicly accessible after the accused has been arrested or has received a summons, provided no other public access restrictions apply (for example, the YCJA).

Whether they are filed in a transferee courthouse or not, any courthouse particularly SCJ Divisional Court Osgoode Hall must keep a permanent record of all its activities, and the court must keep a copy of the same.

The time is now four p.m. on August 5, 2025, and I trust due to the uniqueness of this situation and facts that searching for and obtaining the records would not take more than some 15 minutes or so i.e. to determine and know whether they existed at the relevant time as known to you.

I trust you can respond by five p.m. today. Should you need further time with respect to documents that are to be provided to me on request, kindly seek the same and we can work together.

I confirm that pursuant to section 7 of the "MAG CSD Access Guide" that I am entitled to any endorsements upon request as a "party". Moreover, while a Form 2 Information or "Information Package" (see: CCO-2-000-1-C-e) may have been laid via telecommunications (i.e. audioconference or videoconference) and you may not have a copy of the same, the MAG CSD Access Guide entitles me to the production of any Information upon request and without fee. This would of course include any records, documents, papers et al that support the same upon request if no copy of Informations (Form 2 of the Criminal Code and section 788 of the Criminal Code) were filed by electronic means or filing.

In fine, this matter requires immediate and transparent resolution. The integrity of the judicial process demands nothing less. I trust that you will provide a definitive response thereby obviating the necessity for such an escalation.

Should you need any further particulars or sufficient details, please apprise me promptly so I can assist.

Otherwise, I shall presume that I am seeking the records, documents, information, etc. from the correct "Originating Courthouse". I say so out of respect for your time and resources.

I will research the above in the interim to see if I can assist further.

If there were any endorsements by a clerk of the court, provide them to me forthwith.

Thank you kindly.

To the Esteemed Office of the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division):

Subject: Further courtesy evidence and particulars - regarding my court document request - Inquiry Regarding the Controller Custodianship Judicial Authorizations and Evidentiary Material Pertaining to Property Seizure on or before October 2, 2024, likely issued on September 23, by an SCJ Judge

This communication is tendered to substantively reinforce my antecedent request and to proffer additional corroborative documentation pertinent to the aforementioned matter. Appended hereto are the electronic mail exchanges between myself and the Toronto Police Service (TPS) 14th Division, dat October 2, 2024, and October 3, 2024. These communications unequivocally demonstrate a representation by the TPS 14th Division acknowledging the "receipt" of certain personal effects originating from my erstwhile residence, specifically Unit 410, 775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3. The precise provenance from which the TPS 14th Division acquired said property remains, ad hoc, indeterminate to me. While a speculative inference might posit the involvement of the TPS 52nd Division, the possibility of another distinct divisional entity cannot be definitively precluded. I hereby confirm the partial restitution of the enumerated property; however, my comprehensive requisition for the entirety of my possessions contained therein, which were, prima facie, subject to a search and seizure warrant and/or other forms of legal authorization, remains unfulfilled. Your judicious attention to this salient point is profoundly appreciated.

It is incumbent upon me to observe, parenthetically, that my ongoing scholarly review of the various species of warrants, authorizations, and orders, inter alia, as delineated under Section 487.1 of the Criminal Code, reveals a salient jurisprudential principle: a considerable proportion of such instruments, particularly those authorizing ingress into a private domicile, along with other pertinent authorizations, are exclusively within the adjudicative purview of Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Judge. This observation underscores the gravity and specialized nature of the judicial oversight required in such instances. Many of the warrants, authorizations, orders and extensions requires at least a PC Judge or SCJ Judge which again eliminates the likes of JP Jiri (of the Brampton OCJ Courthouse in the Central West Region).

Consequently, I anticipate with considerable interest and expectation a definitive pronouncement from your esteemed office, in conjunction with the SCJ Divisional Court, regarding the precise jurisdictional locus of control and custodianship over any search warrants or arrest warrants, et al., issued by an Judge during the period of his or her Divisional Court rotation within the Toronto Region (130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario). Specifically, clarification is sought as to whether such control and custody are predicated upon the physical location of the SCJ Judge at the moment of issuance (e.g., within his/her chambers at the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal or another judicial facility), or whether it is determined by the rotational assignment of the presiding judicial officer, or alternatively, by the venue of initial intake of the matter (e.g., the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal).

A response characterized by its definitive clarity and unambiguous precision would prove immeasurably beneficial, facilitating the efficient, expeditious, cost-effective, and ultimately just utilization of collective judicial and administrative resources.

Without engaging in supererogatory exposition, I shall, pro forma, transmit all germane electronic correspondence herein to the SCJ Divisional Court (Toronto Region) for their comprehensive review and consideration.

This of course aligns with my belief that page 3 of 5 of the False Information Package being a transcription of what was apparently uttered by a judicial officer which is permitted under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code.

I extend my profound gratitude for your time and consideration of this urgent matter.

Until there is an unequivocal denial of the same in writing, I will have reasonable grounds to believe that the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal) or any courthouse, whether Divisional Court or otherwise depending on some of the idiosyncrasies herein, have control and custody of the requested information documents, papers et al.

With great respect, it is only the SCJ Toronto Courthouse Criminal and of course the recent addition of the SCJ Divisional Court (Toronto Region) has not denied having any control or custody, in writing that is, of the requested information, documents et al.

Sincerely,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Dear SCJ Divisional Court:

I write further to the MAG CSD Guide (Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits) and I look forward to hearing from you on the above.

In addition to the above request, to the extent that a SCJ Judge in his or her Divisional Court rotation was the presiding judge in relation to an arrest warrant, have reasonable grounds to believe that an SCJ Judge may have issued a warrant, order or authorization under the Criminal Code that is outside the scope of arrest warrant per se.

Please see my attached letter to the SCJ Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division) at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. I may provide further particulars and information for context but I trust this suffices with respect to the TPS as the relevant agency, my name, the relevant residential address (or at least one of them) and the approximate date of issuing the same (September 23, 2024 to October 2, 2024)

Thank you for your consideration of the above.

Re: Clarification and Request for Information Regarding Court Information, Court Documents, Court Records et al and Custody

To the Divisional Court (Records Division), Superior Court of Justice:

This correspondence is a follow-up to my previous electronic mail, the delivery of which has been duly confirmed. The purpose of this communication is to provide salient clarification to reiterate certain inquiries with the utmost precision.

First, I must correct the previously stated deadline for a substantive response. The date by which a reply is required is, in fact, Monday, August 4, 2025, at 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time, not August 8, 2025. It is my understanding that August 4, 2025, is not designated as a statutory holiday, and therefore, this deadline remains in full force and effect. The purpose of the deadline is to receive a definitive confirmation or denial regarding the existence of any records pertinent to the subject matter within the custody or control of the judiciary. To be precise the term "control" is to be understood not as the exercise of a prior demand, but as the inherent authority to make a demand for such records to be produced.

Secondly, I tender my apologies for an inaccuracy in my preceding missive. The error was in my assertion that the Form 2 information lacked a signature. A more precise articulation point is that page three of five of the said information package, specifically, the endorsement by the presiding judicial officer, was absent. Furthermore, it conspicuously lacked a legal signature from the Justice of the Peace, Mr. George Jiri. I can confirm, however, that page two of five of the same package bears an alleged signature of one Mrs. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas a Court Officer whose professional association with the Toronto Police Service is, I presume, well-known to you. This raises a fundamental query regarding the verifiability and probat value of her certificate of trust root authority from Adobe Inc. and the legitimacy of her electronic or digital signature, particularly when a copy of the requisite document is tendered to individual.

Prima facie, this matter appears to be both unconventional and without precedent. The premise of this situation is that the Criminal Intake Division of the Superior Court of Justice would have been compelled to perform some degree of intake, even if the ex parte and in camera hearing was conducted telephonically via an audio or video conference, and without the contemporaneous creation of a physical writing. Assuming arguendo that the level of intake was limited to a mere confirmation of the Court Officer's identity (the aforementioned Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas) and an availability check for a presiding Superior Court of Justice judge who happened to be in their Divisional Court rotation, the following syllogism inexorably leads critical legal and administrative question: Which courthouse within the Toronto region of the Superior Court of Justice would properly have custody or control of these anomalous records through a process other than a formal Freedom of Information request?

I respectfully submit that this query warrants a general response so that I may determine whether further inquiries must be directed to the originating courthouse. In that regard, I must again note that the notional location of a judge in their divisional court rotation in the Toronto region would not, in all likelihood, preclude the issuance of an arrest warrant. However, the originating courthouse's location would necessarily be predicated upon the existence of a physical or designated courtroom that either houses or serves as the venue for the in camera hearing. When such proceedings are conducted remotely, perhaps with the judge not physically present at either courthouse but rather at a remote office or at home, the question of custody and control devolves upon which courthouse is ultimately designated as the originating courthouse subsequent to the issuance of the process by the presiding judge.

I trust that this clarification is sufficient for your purposes. The matter remains one of considerable urgency to me and, furthermore, carries significant public interest implications concerning the open court principle and the operational guidelines of the MAG CSD Guide. For these reasons, a definitive response is not merely a courtesy, but a necessity. Should any part of the letter lack lucidity, I implore you to contact me via e-mail without delay, to which I will respond with alacrity.

If there is a specified email for such requests, I kindly ask that you provide it so I can correspond with the same for expeditiousness, efficiency and cost-effectiveness.

Yours with due solemnity,

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL AND PRIVILEGED

TO: The Superior Court of Justice of Ontario (the "SCJ") Divisional Court 130 Queen Street West Toronto, Ontario M5H 2N5

ATTENTION: Local Registrar, Intake, Records Management Team, et al. EMAIL: scjsj.divcourtmail@ontario.ca

SUBJECT: A Request, by the Accused, Pursuant to the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division ("MAG CSD") Guide for the Production of Files, Documents, Information, and Papers Under the Custody and/or Control of the Divisional Court Pertaining to an SCJ Justice Assigned to the Divisional Court Rotation on September 23, 2024, who was likely involved in the issuance of an arrest warrant involving myself via telecommunications that did not produce a writing - thank you

SALUTATIONS:

This correspondence is tendered with utmost respect and urgency, borne of a protracted and labyrinthine process to secure documentation essential for the exercise and protection of my fundamental rights and freedoms, as guaranteed by the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

I have reasonable grounds to conclude, with a high degree of certainty, that the Honourable Madam Justice Sure, while potentially in a Divisional Court rotation, was responsible for issuance of an arrest warrant pertaining to me on September 23, 2024, at approximately 12:59 PM. This conclusion is predicated upon a careful and painstaking analysis of various documents and representations, which have, in numerous instances, proven to be misleading. Through recent assiduous inquiry, it has come to my attention that an arrest warrant purportedly issued against me by telecommunication. I must state, in limine, that I do not concede the validity of the said warrant or its underlying Form 2 Information under the Criminal Code. This communication is, per se, a demand for records pursuant to the MAG CSD Guide.

The provenance of this request is rooted in the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Guide, a compendium that authorizes an accused to seek records, documents and information under the custody and/or control of the relevant court level and courthouse. The present circumstances necessitate a request directed to the Divisional Court, given the jurisdictional ambiguity surrounding the originating courthouse when a Superior Court Justice, while in a Divisional Court rotation, adjudicates a criminal matter ex parte and in camera via telecommunication. The lack of a designated courtroom or an official court reporter in such a scenario renders the designation of a specific courthouse a nuanced matter of legal interpretation. Given that a Superior Court Justice, pursuant to section 18 of the Courts of Justice Act, is also, de jure, a justice of the Divisional Court, and that the matter originated within the Toronto Region, it is an inescapable syllogism that the Toronto Regional Courthouse was the originating courthouse.

It is patently obvious that the document purporting to be the Form 2 Information lacks a digital or handwritten signature, thereby definitively excluding the Ontario Court of Justice from this matter. This fact alone has necessitated an exhaustive inquiry into the Superior Court of Justice and its various courthouses in the Toronto Region. This is an exceptional set of circumstances that requires an equally exceptional and thorough inquiry and response in accordance with the MAG CSD Guide.

In this vein, I seek a definitive confirmation or denial as to whether any justice in the Divisional Court rotation in September 2024 received an information, via telecommunication or otherwise, concerning me and whether or not they subsequently issued an arrest warrant, whether in verbal form or otherwise. Pursuant to the open court principle and my standing as an accused, I am unequivocally entitled to any and all documentation and records that are in the custody or control of the court. For the avoidance of any doubt, "control" is not to be construed as having previously demanded the records, but rather the ability to make a demand for the records and have them produced. This includes, but is not limited to, judicial records of activity, telephone logs, and any documentation supporting the communication between the Toronto Police Service (or its agents) and a presiding justice. These are distinct from records maintained by the MAG CSD relating to court staff.

I require a substantive response to this inquiry by 3:00 PM on August 8, 2025. Failure to provide a timely response will be construed as a denial that any such records exist within custody or control of the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court.

I have previously provided identification, as is my entitlement and obligation under the relevant procedural guides.

I trust that this letter clarifies the basis for my request and underscores its importance.

Respectfully tendered,

Dear MAG CSD Toronto Region and Mr. Sinnadurai:

I am obliged to provide you with a copy of this email and its attachment as per what was represented therein. I thank you for your provision of the apparent post-docket court list with the OCJ Brampton Courthouse from September 23, 2024, but it falls well short of the requirements of true copies of other documents so requested including true copies of an Information Package from the relevant dates as received by the OCJ. I am only addressing the OCJ component herein.

I trust you appreciate receiving a copy but I have had to invoke the supervisory jurisdiction of the OCJ CJ, and RSJ's of the relevant regions.

I find it to be regrettable to have done so but perhaps it will serve as the necessary impetus to my obtaining of what was requested as it relates to the OCJ in late May 2025.

1. I respectfully yet regrettably write regarding the above. I respectfully ask that this correspondence and attachment is directed to the Chief Justice of the West Region and Regional Senior Justice of the Toronto Region.
2. As with all of my letters and emails of any non-cursory style, they are dictated at first instance in light of some serious impairments I sustained as a result of more MRIs, examinations and assessments, my recent diagnosis is far worse than it once was with, inter alia, degeneration in my L3-L4, L4-L5 and L5-S1 effect, I am only getting worse and degenerating. As such, I reserve the right to amend this correspondence for any errors of a grammatical, spelling and qualifiers but the substance will remain the same.
3. As there is no public email per se for the CJ of the OCJ, RSJ's of the two relevant court regions, I ask that the recipients confirm the forwarding of it to the regional senior justices of the relevant regions. This email will be emailed under the relevant threads for historical accuracy along with consecutive sequencing.
4. Any issues that have arisen with the SCJ will be addressed separately.
5. If I do not hear back within a reasonable time, I will ensure that this email and attachments with Exhibit "A" to "F" is sent via fax and mail to the relevant parties.
6. I pen this missive with profound gravity concerning the aforementioned subject matter. For a protracted period, spanning several months, my assiduous of the Attorney General Court Services Division Guide (hereinafter, the "MAG CSD Guide"), as meticulously delineated in Exhibit "E" (pages 75-112) with an egregious dereliction of timely response, or indeed, any substantive communication whatsoever, regarding the provision of access to indispensable information.
7. I stand as the accused in the matter styled R. v. McLean, a proceeding partially, albeit problematically, evidenced by a document I unequivocally call "Document Package" (Exhibit "A"). This designation arises from a meticulous comparative analysis with Exhibit "B" (pages 7-13), a six-page comparative information package. The patent and palpable distinctions between Exhibit "A" (pages 1-6) and Exhibit "B" (pages 7-13) inexorably lead to the conclusion that Exhibit "B" (pages 7-13) is a six-page document consistently bearing footers on each page, a structural integrity conspicuously absent from Exhibit "A" (pages 1-6) page 5 of 5.
8. Furthermore, as evinced by my antecedent electronic correspondence addressed to the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse (as part of my unwavering courtesy, professionalism, and an amicable disposition, persistently sought true copies of the information package in its pristine state, as it was at a temporal juncture presently unknown to me. The only iterations of the information package currently in my possession date from Spring 2025 and are demonstrably false documents, particularly with reference to Exhibit "A" (page 3 of 5), which purports to contain an "intake and court endorsement" but is not signed by Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri. Exhibit "A" (page 3 of 5), purporting to be an intake court endorsement without any actual endorsement, paradoxically, digital, handwritten, or electronic imprimatur is discernible to the naked eye. This renders it, prima facie, a false document.
9. Moreover, this page contains a footer, or a quasi-footer, with content erroneously duplicated from Exhibit "A" (page 1 of 5). The proximate cause of this duplication, attributed to Ms. Ally (without any imputation of personal culpability to her), indicates that it is the product of GrapeCity Inc. (formerly known as GrapeCity Inc., now MESCIUS USA Inc.). I have previously articulated the problematic features inherent in GrapeCity Inc., particularly in relation to version 6.0.2.0 of GrapeCity Documents PDF, which was generated in 2023. This constellation of issues is not confined to the Document Package (Exhibit "A"), encompassing, inter alia, the incorrect placement of content and the programmatic failure to re-establish footers and signatures particularly after the purported signing and/or digital signing by a Justice of the Peace or a Provincial Court Judge of your esteemed Ontario Court of Justice.
10. It remains ignotum to me whether Mr. George Jiri, a Justice of the Peace assigned to the Brampton courthouse of your esteemed and honourable Ontario Court of Justice, officer (constable, detective constable, or plainclothes constable with the 52nd Division of the Toronto Police Services Board, or Toronto Police Services Board) was somehow inserted into a purported intake court endorsement (Exhibit "A", page 4 of 5), asserting a digital signature that is patently absent. Further, the lack of court endorsement per se exists renders it subject to being a document that would not be processed within the recently established Criminal E-Intake Portal and Axon Evidencing (formerly Taser Inc.).
11. I have initiated separate and distinct requests under the PIPEDA with both of these organizations, as their operations in Ontario fall under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Legislature not having sought an exemption to enact its own provincially issued, passed, and Royal Assented privacy statute. I have received no response recently undergone a name change to "Versa Systems" or a similar appellation. However, I have yet to procure a response from Axon Evidencing, which a Portal, established through contractual and approved measures by the Attorney General of Ontario and the Solicitor General of Ontario.
12. As articulated in my detailed and highly analytical correspondence with the various courthouses (see Exhibit "C" (pages 14-46) and Exhibit "D" (pages 47-112)) with contacting the originating courthouse to procure court records, documents, and information. I recognize that my standing differs from that of a mere bystander given that I am the accused in the proceeding styled R. v. McLean, bearing the information number 4810 998 24 48129169, subsequently truncated to a nine-digit information number. It is my understanding, subsequent to diligent and exhaustive research, that the information number is not universally provided to the "Notes" version of the attached documents, I note that I was apprehended and arrested on October 2, 2024 (the "Arrest Date").

13. While I need not delve into the granular particulars or antecedent circumstances of my apprehension, suffice it to state that it was predicated upon : Toronto Police Service, 14th Division, located at 350 Dovercourt Road, Toronto, Ontario. He represented that the TPS had somehow acquired certain collection within seven days. He further threatened or imposed a sanction, or consequences, for non-collection within the stipulated seven-day period if property would result in its transmittal to the Property Evidence Management Unit (“PEMU”) of the Toronto Police Services Board (the “TPS”). Given much of it confidential, to which I had not consented to the TPS's receipt, if such was indeed the case, the modus operandi was highly suspect.

14. Secondly, the facta reveal that I was effectively ensnared into an attempt to procure my signature on a property receipt notice, whereupon Constable Ro promptly inquired, “Harassment in relation to whom?” He responded, “Nicole Artopoulos.” I rejoined that I had not been communicating with her, save for previously referenced in my responsive email to Constable Romano's missive on the evening of Wednesday, October 2, 2024. I then responded, in a state of me, including the alleged complainant, to which Detective Constable Michael Kolankowski retorted, “No, I warned you.” I responded, “That's impossible.” Romano then represented, “We have an arrest warrant.” Knowing full well that an arrest warrant must be issued by a Justice of the Peace, Provincial Court demanded to inspect it. They responded, “We'll talk about that downstairs,” referring to the incarceration or prison quadrant of the 14th Division of the TPS. the arrest warrant.

15. With the benefit of hindsight, it has become apparent that certain arrest warrants may not be endorsed at the time of issuance, making, or giving. I comprehending the contents of the standardized pro forma information package (Exhibit “B”, pages 7-13), which references a Criminal Code Form 2 Information or Superior Court Judges are typically required to affix their name and date on page 4 of 6 of that standardized information package (Exhibit “B”, page 7 of the standardized package, presuming it bears reasonable similitude to the one I obtained from the Lincoln County Law Association, located in St. Catharines that there may be minor administrative distinctions between the pro forma package revised or most recently updated in June 2018. I note that the footer in the package of 5) is not from October 2020. While approximately a year and a half elapsed between those two documents, and the reference to “e” after the final “package whereby an informant may duly declare his or her evidence as opposed to having it sworn before a Justice of the Peace or any other justice capable that solemn occasion, there cannot be substantial distinction, save perhaps for the removal of language on page 4 of 6 of the 2018 pro forma information package

16. It is patently evident that there are errors, indeed egregious errors, inconsistencies, and a lack of compliance with formality therein, which can be originally submitted and filed documentation in the form of that information package, presumably around September 23, 2024, by reference to the date authority for the digital signature (see: the Canada Evidence Act and its jointly associated or attendant regulation, the Secure Electronic Signature Regulation, and knowledge and a practice of the law of evidence that the final piece of language contained before the jurat must be reasonably proximate to the same and precisely what has transpired herein. Please refer to Exhibit “A” (pages 1 and 2) for the referenced discrepancies. You will also observe errors in the footer when compared to Exhibit “A” (page 1 of 5), in that the bracket “[” lacks spacing between it and the “e” after the “C.” This can occur when utilizing Microsoft Word 6.0.2.0.

17. My inability to ascertain the complete factual matrix stems from the palpable lack of adherence to the Ministry of the Attorney General Court Services Exhibit “E” (pages 75-112) and Exhibit “F” (page 114), the latter being the web page from the Ontario government that provides directives to request access to court documents, court information, and other records of activities, all of which are enshrined under the open court principle, which is natural under Section 2(b) of our Charter protects listeners as well. I occupy two distinct roles: that of the accused and that of a member of the public. I am entitled, pursuant to Court Services Division Guide, effective June 2019 (which has not been amended since the time of my request to the present, a somewhat moot point in page 112), to access, upon request and without fees, an information and an endorsement. As such, I have adopted the position, consistent with the aforementioned the Criminal Code Form 2 Information without fee and upon request. My interpretation of the standard English Dictionary definition of the word “upon” and/or immediately upon my request.

18. As noted, it may be impracticable to disaggregate the Form 2 Information, as it relates to the Criminal Code, when juxtaposed with the document dated 2020.” In my considered view, the information package encompasses multiple distinct sections of the MAG CSD Guide, thereby entitling me to a copy of the Form 2 Information pursuant to the Criminal Code's statutory schedules. Moreover, I am entitled to a copy of any and all ends of the CSD Guide Section 7.3 (Exhibit “E”, page 112). There has been, as you will observe, some debate concerning an accused's entitlement to a copy of an arrest warrant, would not be filed per se by the law enforcement agency, namely the Toronto Police Service, or the Attorney General or the Attorney General Sections 505, 506, 507, and 508 concerning a Form 2 Information under the Criminal Code. In this regard, I am unaware of the submitting party, if you will, package by reference to this “CCO,” which I believe to be “Criminal Code Ontario” by colloquial language and/or acronym. In this regard, I would also (Exhibit “B”, page 10 of 13), which is conspicuously absent from the false information package (Exhibit “A”). I also note the missing page 5 (Exhibit “B”, page 10 of 13) and other modes of trial, whether by judge alone or judge and jury.

19. For your contextual edification, and with utmost respect for your invaluable time, I believe, and hope you share the conviction, that this matter is not limited to listeners within our country and those who seek access to records pursuant to the open court principle, as enshrined under Section 2(b) of the Charter. I am acumen, which is likely unparalleled, particularly at your lofty position. However, I do reference the case styled Toronto Star Newspapers Limited v. Attorney General of Ontario, which was heard by the Supreme Court of Canada, and the case styled Toronto Star Newspapers Limited v. Attorney General of Ontario, which was heard by the Supreme Court of Canada. As noted in that case, it can be cogently argued that the open court principle is not merely a legal construct; it has withstood the test of time in the United Kingdom, which was transposed and transferred herein, subject to derogation and removal by our common law courts (excluding Quebec), which is fundamentally a sine qua non of democracy, enabling active and decisive action in elections concerning various governmental bodies, namely municipal, provincial, and federal. It is not particularly involved with the Ontario Court of Justice, but it is with the Superior Court of Justice, pursuant to the judicature sections of our Constitution Act.

20. In this regard, I note that the Ministry of the Attorney General and the Ontario Court of Justice, pursuant to cases such as Valente, necessitate an acknowledgment of the judicial and executive branches. As the Honourable Minister of the Attorney General, Mr. Douglas Downey, is not only a member of the executive branch, it is imperative to acknowledge that such distinctions and boundaries are unequivocally required. While I take some issue with the prescribed method for making public, it is the extant system, and its efficacy is neither here nor there at this juncture concerning any inherent issues with the MAG CSD Guide. I shall refer to the CSD Guide, with reference to its implicit and explicit notation that the open court principle governs the same. As there are no restrictions by way of the Criminal Code proceeding (which presumably commenced at the time of the making of the Form 2 Criminal Code Information, although it remains unclear if the Frugoni-Rojas was, in fact, the actual informant), the principle must prevail.

VOLUME II: SYSTEMIC ISSUES AND OPERATIONAL DEFICIENCIES

21. While I have engaged in communications with various divisions or subdivisions of the MAG CSD Records Division, which I understand is located at the Ministry of the Attorney General, I am concerned that the record-keeping and record management, or the inability or unwillingness to disclose true copies from a temporal perspective, has not been a terribly embarrassing moment for the Toronto Police Service if it was, in fact, responsible for the manipulation of documents utilizing that, respectfully, the

Inc. in being a certificate authority (which GrapeCity Documents is not). However, embarrassment is not a justifiable basis for non-compliance with the principle of being as diligent and respectful of the time and resources of the two courthouses over which you exercise supervisory jurisdiction. Never deceptive responses, or indeed, the outright silence (which can constitute a wilful misrepresentation), from the MAG court staff, officers, employees, or bargaining agreement as a unit with the Crown in Right of Ontario) persist. It remains that the courts and, ergo, the judiciary, and specifically the highest-ranking Honourable Chief Justice Nicklas, bear responsibility for the supervisory jurisdiction encompassing these matters.

22. It remains unclear to me whether there has been any communication between yourself or your office as the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice to know the decision involving Mr. Beamish, an adjudicator for the Ministry of the Attorney General of Ontario, in that when an access request is directed to the court staff to then communicate with the Office of the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice. I presume a similar protocol exists as an administrative mechanism for communications to be documented and provided between court staff and the courts, thereby precluding a direct line of communication at that level of divide when it pertains to an ongoing proceeding. However, when a request is made for court documents and information, including a Form 2 Arrest Warrant (if endorsed), in my view, that level of communication and divide must cease or disintegrate to some degree.

23. In this regard, I obviously do not possess your direct electronic mail address, nor do I seek to obtain such. Rather, I draw this to your attention with Exhibits “A” (pages 1-6) to “F” (pages 113-120), which is not in the form of an affidavit, as that would be unnecessary per se, but which has each page remain sanguine that you will recognize that, in any situation, irrespective of whether an individual is an accused or not, the rule of law must trump any for the Ministry of the Attorney General, such that the judicial branch of government maintains its separation of powers. It remains unknown to me whether they were engaged in manipulation per se, or whether they merely received a copy of the false document package from the Toronto Police Services or the Attorney General’s “Court Officer” Frugoni-Rojas, is not a police officer per se; they would likely fall under the definition of a public officer or peace officer under the Criminal Code. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas and was met with a rather stern or blockade-type response from an actual detective of the TPS, Detective Rizwan Mohammed respected her right to effectively invoke her right to remain silent per se. I informed Detective Mohammed that I had a right to ask for adverse inferences, but Mohammed.

24. As I have ascertained, two distinct systems operate within the Ontario Court of Justice and the Superior Court of Justice, with the former operating on a paper-based system. It remains my belief, sworn under oath, that the Superior Court of Justice, by deductive reasoning, must have been the originating courthouse for the Criminal Proceedings Rules enacted under the power of Section 482.1 of the Criminal Code by the Superior Court of Justice) of any documents to an original reviewing further documents and information (albeit with some false material particulars contained therein), it is without question that it was a Toronto Justice of the Peace George Jiri, would be rather impossible or unfounded, as Brampton was not an area that could involve the same. You will note that the features two commas after “NFA,” which I have come to understand means “no fixed address.” This is juxtaposed inconsistently with Exhibit “A” (page 1) reference to my driver’s license number, which had my fixed address (Apt 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3), which remains my fixed address therein, from a fixed address to a non-fixed address, was by design and in some way intended to involve Mr. George Jiri, Justice of the Peace Jiri, who is Justice of the Peace Review and Complaints Committee (to which I confirm I have not made any such complaint at this time and do not intend to, because involved him). I do not wish to speculate per se, but I may have to exercise that route if I continue to be stonewalled by this process, with no rights to Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario, which would have ceased these communications as I would have filed an appeal long after a 30-day rights, I address you with great respect and with utmost deference and admiration for your role as the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice, belatedly open court principle as it relates to all of the courthouses that operate in Ontario under your supervisory jurisdiction. I can also confirm for you that I was to narrow the issues and/or to obtain documents that would provide a train of inquiry to obtain access to other documents within my records request documents contained in Exhibit “C” (pages 14-46) and Exhibit “D” (pages 47-74), namely documents and emails addressed to the Ontario Court courthouse and the Toronto Armoury Courthouse (where I understand you are so located). I had been extremely specific in what I was seeking from those cacophony or certitude of auto-replies, stonewalling, and attempts to redirect me to other courthouses. I find all of this to be incredibly troubling, and I idiosyncratic to my person.

25. In attempting to maintain a professional, amicable, and public interest approach, I have exerted my utmost efforts to research these issues and draw jurisdiction from an Ontario Courts of Justice perspective. However, without a singular contact to receive a response (albeit presuming some of the response package, through no fault by reference specifically to Ms. Ally of the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse), this cannot be the standard of this country and its provinces. While I appreciate that the Ontario Court of Justice may have only received what it did at a certain time, it has failed to that information as an accused. This is not a matter of seeking disclosure from the Crown (which obviously would be further false information if it, in fact, the TPS), but nonetheless, it is within the control of the judiciary, which is neither part of the executive nor the legislative branch of government. While the without inherent jurisdiction, the requirement to follow the Charter is binding upon all.

VOLUME III: ANALYSIS OF THE “FALSE DOCUMENT PACKAGE” AND SOFTWARE ANOMALIES

26. I provided prior notice and warning, with great respect, to the various courthouses of the Ontario Court of Justice, including the Brampton Courthouse response by July 30, 2025, with a potential long weekend of a statutory holiday upcoming, I would be necessitated to draw this to your attention as of the time it be forwarded to your attention by a separate email thread, along with hard copies to be received by you, which I trust you are receiving in advance and given the Judicial Council is the oversight body for the Superior Court of Justice in Ontario, I do not believe that the Canadian Judicial Council oversees such conduct the Ministry of the Attorney General. As I transition from reviewing the FRANK system and ICON system type reports, or having them commingled and advanced and experienced system for handling such records, whereas the FRANK system is not. However, it is not unforeseen and has occurred previously by way of an intake court hearing or a pre-enquête hearing (which is ex parte to myself and in camera to the public) are then transferred to the Ontario occurred or when it does occur, because there are certain instances where it must occur or does occur. However, I note that the Criminal E-Intake Portal is to the newness or lack of history with the FRANK system, the checking of documents, records, and information associated with a certain courthouse courthouse, which are under the independent jurisdiction, control, and custody of a Superior Court of Justice, namely said courthouse. I appreciate that the systems and to utilize a new system that will replace both, but for the time being, this is our current reality.

27. It should go without saying that most of the courthouses, irrespective of whether they possessed records or not, were required to provide me with a held any such records, so that I was not, proverbially, “spinning my wheels” and pursuing any further follow-up requests. As noted, I am not the author of the information and any endorsements, or where the endorsement may only be contained within the information package and not in a duly completed judicial officer with a date and a signature of the judicial officer (which may be handwritten, electronic, or a digital signature with a verifiable and recognizable GrapeCity Inc. is not designated by our federal government as a certificate authority or trust authority for digital signatures; rather, it is primarily, if not to engage in the modification, change, and manipulation of documents, which has occurred herein without any question whatsoever. This does not preclude the development of documents that can be used without the payment of subscription fees to entities like Adobe Inc. or DocuSign for the purposes of filling out for the usage of GrapeCity Documents PDF, as per the metadata that you will observe within the emails contained in Exhibit “D” (pages 48-55) (reference).

subscriber of such, and that was the metadata contained therein, which cannot be altered as to the PDF producer or the application software utilized in correspondence with the Ontario Court of Justice, particularly the Toronto Armoury Courthouse, there is no place for GrapeCity Inc. for an end-user of Justice, because an end-user would merely need to input information as it relates to certain court appearances (which would be on page 3 of 6 of an authentic page 5 of 6 (Exhibit "B", page 11 of 13) as it relates to various other information (which I note would require the signature of a judge, not a Justice of the page 10 of 13) to note that any information input therein would simply be in the fields or boxes as it relates to information on Crown election, which I call licensee lawyer, represented to me in an email with the Crown's election to proceed summarily. I confirm that I need not delve into the merits or lack thereof that communication, because I maintain an open style. Nonetheless I am entitled to a copy of any Form 2 Informations as they were when made and laid for PDF 6.0.2.0).

VOLUME IV: LEGAL ENTITLEMENTS

28. Should you possess any queries concerning the materials I have tendered to you, I welcome an open dialogue from you to me by whatever medium you choose for that communication, because I maintain an open style. Nonetheless I am entitled to a copy of any Form 2 Informations as they were when made and laid for PDF 6.0.2.0).

VOLUME V: CONCLUDING ARGUMENTS AND CALL TO ACTION

29. One can understand but not condone the motive of the TPS, if it was it, to manipulate the signature or endorsement of JP Jiri on a document titled "It was not endorsed at the time of arrest, then it was an unendorsed arrest warrant and I was disentitled to be released on a Form 10 Undertaking which I was of time. It would render the entirety of the "criminal proceeding" a nullity and a non-commencement of a "criminal prosecution".

30. Nothing shall be construed herein as debating the merits or my challenges to the same as this correspondence is solely on account of my entitlements. In any event, context was required.

31. In light of the foregoing, and with an unwavering commitment to the principles of transparency, probity, and the unimpeachable integrity of the judicial system, I implore the immediate provision of true copies of any and all court records, court documents, and information previously requested. I further implore, Madam Justice, to direct the court staff of the relevant courthouses within the Ontario Court of Justice to furnish these materials forthwith. The expedited provision is merely a matter of administrative expediency but a fundamental imperative to uphold the rule of law and the public's confidence in the judicial system.

32. While regrettable to have to invoke such an approach, I intend to exhaust all of my rights until my requests pursuant to the MAG CSD Guide are satisfied.

33. In closing, so long as I receive honest, transparent and precise responses with honest, transparent and accurate records from the times requested, I will accept the requests of each of the courthouses within the OCJ.

34. Thank you in advance for your anticipated compliance.

Yours faithfully,

/KAM

Mr. Kevin A. McLean

To: "Brampton OCJ Courts (MAG)" <Brampton.OCJ.courts@ontario.ca>, "Sharma, Anita (MAG)" <Anita.Sharma@ontario.ca>

To the Esteemed Office of the Ontario Court of Justice, Brampton Courthouse,

I pen this missive to formally corroborate the recent reception of what purports to be a copy of the post-docket court, dated September 23, 2024, disseminated presently engaged in the meticulous scrutiny of the aforementioned document, it is conspicuously devoid of any direct or discrete mention pertaining to my therefore, that Justice of the Peace Jiri was not the duly constituted judicial arbiter presiding over matters on the said date, save for the contingency of his purview of the 'Failure to Respond' (FTR) protocols, acting as a surrogate for the specifically designated 'Justice of the Peace'.

In a concerted effort to preclude any further unwarranted imputation or potential professional opprobrium upon Justice of the Peace Jiri and his unblemished the Ontario Court of Justice, Brampton Courthouse. Specifically, I seek your esteemed confirmation that Justice of the Peace Jiri did not, at any temporal juncture to the relevant procedural strictures, from any duly constituted peace officers, members of law enforcement agencies, or other public functionaries concern as the 'Intake Court Endorsement' [sic] is utterly devoid of the authenticating imprimatur of Justice of the Peace Jiri. While this proposition may appear self-ambiguities.

Your expeditious attention to this critical matter would be profoundly appreciated.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Brampton Courthouse (ONCJ):

1. This correspondence serves as a formal follow-up regarding my unfulfilled requests for specific court records prior to the assignment of a court file or true copies of the particularized sought records (“Sought Records”).
2. I confirm that the Brampton Courthouse (ONCJ) has not responded to the two options request as per yesterday .
3. Despite prior attempts to obtain these documents, I have yet to receive a substantive and compliant response from the Brampton Courthouse (ONCJ) on this communication.
4. My request pertains to
 1. a true and accurate copy of the Information of the Informant, which was formally presented on September 23, 2024, at 1 1:49 a.m., and
 2. associated records with the subsequently approved and digitally signed “Intake Court Endorsement” which referenced a “warrant in the first Courthouse (ONCJ) at 12:59 p.m. on Monday, September 23, 2024. The extant documentation confirms Justice of the Peace Jiri's digital endorses

5. As previously indicated, and reiterated due to the absence of a responsive action from your esteemed courthouse, other than references to prevailin Coordinator to ensure compliance with my accommodation needs. I have specific physical disabilities that limit my ability to travel to Brampton and I via email and they are made to the Originating Courthouse (see: MAG CSD Guide).

6. For clarity and pursuant to the provisions outlined in Appendix F regarding accessibility accommodations, the specific details of the format requested are the same are:

- a. Court Address:
 - i. Brampton Courthouse (ONCJ): 7755 Hurontario Street Brampton, Ontario L6W 4T1;
- b. Court File Number:
 - i. Not applicable at the time of the relevant proceeding as a court file number or Information Number is not provided until the time that the accused is served with a process (Arrest Warrant or Summons) (neither have happened yet but I do have a copy of an Intake Court Endorsement but that is not the case).
- c. Date and Time of Relevant Proceedings:
 - i. Between 11:49 a.m. and 12:59 p.m. on Monday, September 23, 2024 (or perhaps slightly after the same if there was a clerical error);
- d. Required Accommodations:
 - i. Response and provision of documents via email and in written format;
 - ii. Elimination of the requirement for in-person counter attendance to pick-up the same;
 - iii. Provision of documents in PDF format, maintaining their exact original format as received and issued; and
 - iv. In the event that no such records exist at the Brampton Courthouse (ONCJ), I respectfully request immediate notification in written format to the court by September 23, 2024;
7. This accommodation is critical due to my inability to commute to the Brampton Courthouse, as I do not reside within the Central West Region or its jurisdiction.
8. Your prompt attention to this matter, including the provision of the requested records or a definitive statement regarding their non-existence, along with a response to the request, is appreciated.
9. If I do not hear from you by way of any response to the same, then as per the MAG CSD Guide, the relevant institution is that of the MAG, I will have to follow the Guide, open court principle et al.
10. I may also have to direct the same to the Chief Justice of the ONSC to ensure that she directs her court staff to comply with the law.
11. I would find that regrettable but the lack of compliance with the MAG CSD despite requests for the same is very concerning and troubling, particularly as approximately 8:30 p.m., all of the underlying court records became publicly accessible. I am entitled to copies of the Information without charge as at that time and without charge, and upon request.
12. Lastly, should you need an additional amount of time, I am content to listen to that needed time (if applicable) but I request a concrete timeline for a response.
13. Thank you.

Yours truly,

Brampton, Ontario
Criminal Division

Attention: Criminal Intake Division

VIA EMAIL: Brampton.OCJ.courts@ontario.ca

Dear Sirs/Mesdames,

This correspondence pertains to my ongoing records request, submitted in accordance with the MAG CSD Guide. My aim is to facilitate an efficient, expedient process.

A MAG CSD Records Division has requested that I avoid naming specific individuals within courthouses, a request I will honor but I also request the same for this non-FOI request. As such, the publicly available email addresses of originating courthouses remain relevant for direct communication.

The records I seek are under the custody and/or control of the judiciary, either the Ontario Court of Justice (ONCJ) or the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (OSJ) Courthouse via mail, counter, or email. I initially submitted my request via email in late May 2025. I appreciate your response that it is a Toronto matter (as

I should not have to speculate on the originating courthouse. However, when an internal TPS document referenced "JP Jiri" and was delivered to the ONCJ (unequivocally confirmed it was not the Originating Courthouse. Therefore, the Brampton Courthouse (ONCJ) is obligated to provide me with access to any Criminal Code) or perhaps a Summons (Form 6 under the Criminal Code):

To resolve this matter promptly, I request a definitive written response by 5:00 PM today, confirming one of the following:

Option 1: Records Not Found

"Dear Mr. McLean:
After a thorough search of records within the custody and control of the ONSC courthouse located at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, this courthouse under the Criminal Code) resembling that declared by court officer Mrs. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas on September 23, 2024, concerning Mr. Kevin McLean (DOB: March 25, 1983). Furthermore, this courthouse confirms that the Toronto Police Service (TPS) did not submit any such Information, by any method, from the Informant on September 23, 2024. Please contact any courthouse you believe may be the originating courthouse."

Option 2: Records Located

"Dear Mr. McLean:
Following a comprehensive search pursuant to your Records Request, this courthouse has located the following:
1. A copy of the Information declared by the Informant on September 23, 2024, and received by this courthouse on [Insert Date of Receipt]. This document contains an alternative email address if applicable.
2. A copy of the Process, hereby attached, which is dated with the location and signature of the authorizing justice named therein."

I confirm that my communications are exclusively for lawful purposes and align with the MAG CSD Guide. Upon receipt of either of the above responses I will confirm receipt of the same and review it. I will then be in a position to confirm that the response or access to the Sought Records in the Records Request satisfies my needs.

I will still require access to the post-docket court list on September 23, 2024, in the event Option 2 is not selected. Your direct and unambiguous response is crucial for achieving cost-effectiveness, efficiency, and expediency.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter as I still have not received a compliant response since May 2025.

Sincerely,

Kevin McLean

Dear Esteemed Recipients:

Volume I: Introduction

1. I am providing you with this courtesy copy to formally confirm the indispensable measures I am compelled to undertake, contingent upon the improbable pr Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse. These aforementioned measures, which transcend the scope of the preceding enumeration, encompass the inherent right and attachments thereto, to the express attention of the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice, or the designated office thereof. On an interim basis, I resq transmitted to Her Ladyship. I shall, pari passu, furnish separate copies directly to her attention. Furthermore, I shall disseminate a copy of this electronic m Sinnadurai and other pertinent officials within the Ministry of the Attorney General (Civil) and the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Re correspondence, documents, and records, I shall endeavor to be somewhat comprehensive in light of the aforementioned copying and forwarding protocols.

2. This correspondence is dispatched to formally apprise you of a grave jurisprudential matter concerning the veracity and foundational integrity of a document t Armoury Courthouse, which has been disseminated to a transferee judicial body.

3. Upon meticulous forensic examination of the embedded metadata within the aforementioned simulacrum of an Ontario court form package relevant to the C designated Information Package 4810 998 24 48129169-00.pdf (hereinafter referred to as the “False Document” or “False Document Package”), it has been concl corporate entity formerly known as GrapeCity, Inc. (hereinafter, “GrapeCity Inc.”), including the GrapeCity Documents application (hereinafter, the “GrapeCity Portable Document Format (hereinafter, “GrapeCity PDF Application” or “GcPDF”), identified by the following precise digital indicia:

a. Application: Grape.City.Documents.PDF-6.0.2.0; and

b. PDF Producer: Grape.City.Documents.PDF-6.0.2.0.

4. It is incumbent upon this representation to unequivocally state that the panoply of deficiencies and anomalies evinced within this five-page document t documented issues and inherent limitations frequently associated with the GrapeCity Documents Software, particularly its iteration tailored for Portable Doct edification of all pertinent parties, a compendium of relevant information concerning this software is herein appended.

5. GrapeCity Inc., a privately held, multinational software corporation headquartered in Sendai, Japan, is principally engaged in the development of sophistic development services, comprehensive consulting services, and advanced Customer Relationship Management (“CRM”) solutions. The corporate nexus of Grape operational hubs in the United States, Japan, India, China, South Korea, Colombia, Vietnam, and Albania. The enterprise has additionally established WINEst facility situated within Japan.

6. The corporate transformation of GrapeCity, Inc. to MESCIUS, USA, underscores a continued commitment to excellence and product innovation. The developers, designers, and architects with an unparalleled compendium of preeminent JavaScript and .NET components, including but not limited to grids, report controls. The intrinsic value proposition of these instrumental aids lies in their capacity to expeditiously resolve complex developmental challenges, thereby liberating pursuits such as creativity, innovation, and systemic optimization.

7. While that is the ostensible value proposition, it is noted, infra, that such capabilities can be subject to abuse through the surreptitious manipulation of documents or document packages which expressly incorporate a Criminal Code Form, which is a Form 2 “Information.” As the Toronto Police Service is mandated to provide Criminal Code Offence (CCO) Information Package to one of two designated repositories (contingent upon its election or choice):

a. Ontario Court of Justice: the Criminal E-Intake Portal;

b. Superior Court of Justice (Toronto Region): via electronic mail to the Superior Court of Justice Criminal Intake electronic mail address (vide: Toronto.SCJ.Crim).

8. As there is no extant evidence concerning the Criminal E-Intake Portal, including the manipulation of the George Jiri input and the purported “digital” handwritten, electronic, or digital, is conspicuous), alongside the fact that this matter was never properly commenced as a “criminal prosecution,” being a “Toronto” my geographical location, and the purported complainant’s geographical location as a matter of one of the eight regions), then the Superior Court of Justice was Region, where the “criminal proceeding” (juxtaposed to “criminal prosecution”) was, presumptively speaking, commenced by the making and laying of a Criminal Code Form 2-000-1-C information packages, with modifications for the CCO-2-000-1-C-e (hereinafter, the “Electronic Information Packages”). The Electronic Criminal Code, particularly section 508.1(2), which pertains to declared evidence as opposed to evidence tendered under oath. Nonetheless, pursuant to sections 508.1(1) and 508.1(2), Form 2 may be laid by telecommunication, a term not explicitly defined under the Criminal Code but which would be subsumed under either “audioconference” or “videoconference.” In any event, any intake court hearing or pre-enquête hearing, which would constitute the inaugural hearing in a criminal proceeding, but not necessarily the “first” the presiding judicial officer (hereinafter, the “Presiding Judicial Officer”), is ex parte to the accused and in camera to the public. However, that does not ipso facto (writing’), as the ex parte in camera hearing is statutorily mandated to produce a writing as per section 508.1(1) of the Criminal Code.

9. Moreover, this assertion is substantiated by the following:

a. The Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Guide; and

b. The officially published document by the Government of Ontario pertaining to the requirement of authorized transcriptionists within the Province of Ontario.

10. I now comprehend the rationale underlying the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Guide’s representation that copies of arrest warrants invariably filed by the relevant law enforcement agency.

11. However, the manipulation of official documents is, lamentably, not an unprecedented phenomenon within the Toronto Police Service, as evidenced by the following: “But that’s not the case, according to pending disciplinary charges against Boag’s superior, Det. Mark Beson.

CBC News attempted to contact Beson by phone and email. A representative for the Toronto Police Association said Beson was aware of this story before its publication — who is not currently suspended and next appears before the tribunal on Aug. 26 — faces seven disciplinary charges for allegedly spending Jan. 30, 2016, constables under his supervision drank alcohol on-duty.

More concerning though, say criminal defence lawyers, are the allegations that Beson later falsified records to conceal his team’s misconduct.”

A finding that Beson altered paperwork would “be substantial fodder for any criminal defence lawyer” who encounters the detective, defence lawyer Craig Zeeshan said. “You have an officer who’s willing to lie — why not willing to lie under oath? Why not willing to lie in court?” said Zeeshan.

“If you have an officer willing to fudge records to support his narrative, that can undermine many investigations, depending on his role in them.”

Adam Weisberg, vice-president of the Criminal Lawyers’ Association, agreed.

“If there’s a lot of meat to this allegation ... I wouldn’t be surprised if a lot of charges get stayed wherever this officer’s evidence is key,” Weisberg said.

(vide: <https://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/toronto/toronto-police-crash-tribunal-1.7593036>)

12. I do not posit that the Ministry of the Attorney General is employing such a rudimentary document manipulation tool as the GrapeCity PDF Application; however, the Service was utilizing such an application or software. Herein, the sole detective known to me was “Detective Abdul,” whom I subsequently ascertained, without doubt, was the 52nd Division of the Toronto Police Service. Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri was formerly affiliated with the 52nd Division of the Toronto Police Service. S. Kolankowski is not, per se, a “Detective.” Naturally, Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, in her capacity as a part-time contractor or employee of the Toronto Police Service within “South Toronto,” which would encompass both the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, and the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, a court officer unequivocally affiliated with the Toronto Police Service (and not the Peel Police Services Board), would not be providing legal advice at the Courthouse.

Volume II: GrapeCity Inc. Products, Software, and Applications Designed for Editing and Manipulation

17. Further elucidation regarding GrapeCity Documents PDF (GcPDF) reveals its constitution as a .NET library engineered to empower developers with the algorithm to manipulate PDF documents. It constitutes a potent instrument for the intricate handling of PDF files within the .NET ecosystem, furnishing capabilities for both high-level document construction. Its salient features and capabilities include, inter alia:

a. Cross-Platform Operability: GcPDF manifests compatibility across a tripartite operating system spectrum: Windows, Linux, and MacOS;

b. Core Object Model Adherence: The library’s foundational object model scrupulously adheres to the PDF specification, thereby affording direct programmatic access to:

i. Pages;

ii. Fonts;

iii. Annotations; and

iv. A multitude of other elements.

c. High-Level Feature Integration: GcPDF incorporates advanced functionalities enabling the architectural composition of intricate PDF documents, replete with graphical representations.

d. Advanced Font Handling: It provides a robust and platform-agnostic engine for the comprehensive management of fonts and the sophisticated layout of textual content.

i. Nota bene: The fonts in the False Document Package are demonstrably discrepant, transitioning from Arial to Times New Roman to Courier (vide: metadata of document).

e. PDF Standards Compliance: GcPDF rigorously supports a multiplicity of PDF standards, notably including ISO 32000 (PDF 2.0).

f. Document Manipulation Prowess: Developers are endowed with the capacity to seamlessly load, modify, and persist PDF files.

i. Nota bene: Any modification subsequent to its submission to the Originating Courthouse (vide: Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Guide).

g. Image Export Versatility: PDF documents are capable of programmatic conversion into a diverse array of image formats, encompassing BMP, GIF, JPEG, PNG,

h. Structural Modularity: GcPDF facilitates the facile merging and partitioning of PDF documents.

- i. Textual Precision and Layout Sophistication: Included are advanced functionalities for text formatting and layout, encompassing comprehensive support for complex typographic considerations.
 - j. Comprehensive Graphics Rendering: The library supports all prevalent graphical drawing and filling operations.
 - k. Table Layout Engine: An integrated engine enables the creation of complex grid-based layouts within documents;
 - i. Nota bene: GrapeCity performed poorly in this regard (vide: page 4 of 5 in the False Document Package).
 - l. Security and Encryption Protocols: Robust APIs for encryption and security are intrinsically integrated.
 - m. Textual Analysis Capabilities: Tools are provided for the systematic identification of text, the generation of text maps inclusive of coordinate data, and the analysis.
 - n. Integrated PDF Viewer: GcPDF additionally incorporates a client-side JavaScript PDF viewer control (GcPDFViewer) designed for the seamless display and based applications.
18. In summation, GcPDF presents a formidable and exhaustive toolkit empowering developers to engage with PDF documents within their .NET applications, from rudimentary PDF genesis (creation) to highly advanced document manipulation and meticulous analysis.
19. I confirm that I have never utilized GrapeCity Inc.'s products; consequently, the initial manipulation of the documentation therein, and subsequent additions by the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse. It is presumed.
20. Nonetheless, the Originating Courthouse is statutorily required to retain copies of the instrument originally submitted by the Toronto Police Service, albeit it was likely not Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, vide: discrepancy between the footer on page 1 of 5 of the False Document Package versus page 2 of 5 of the False form. As you are aware, the Ministry of the Attorney General, through Mr. Sinnadurai, has conceded its inability to locate any filed Form 2 Informations under the August to October 2024. Based upon the foregoing,
21. Moreover, the Originating Courthouse is required to retain copies of any subsequently completed, box-checked, dated, and duly signed aspects of page 4 of 6 of

22. Notwithstanding its self-proclaimed, and in some instances, lauded PDF manipulation capabilities, GrapeCity Documents for PDF, despite its widespread adoption, significant operational deficiencies. These include, but are not limited to, excessive memory consumption, the intermittent manifestation of exceptions during PDF corruption when subjected to linearization under specific conditions. Documented instances of such issues encompass exceptions encountered during the printing the invocation of "Document catalog not found" errors, "Item already has an owner" errors, and "Object reference not set to an instance of an object" errors upon footprint has proven particularly vexatious, with anecdotal reports detailing instances where the generation of substantial reports has led to the maximal utilization.
23. Specifically concerning memory issues, users have reported a discernible surge in memory consumption during the export of reports to PDF subsequent to up deleterious effect can precipitate "Insufficient memory" exceptions or a marked degradation in performance, potentially impacting the operational efficacy of other errors, the component has been observed to recurrently generate exceptions during critical PDF management tasks, such as printing, loading, or saving particular PDF "Document catalog not found," "Item already has an owner," and "Object reference not set to an instance of an object." Pertaining to linearization issues, the Documents for PDF has been empirically demonstrated to result in document corruption under a defined set of circumstances. Moreover, while GrapeCity Documents constrained by inherent limitations extrapolated from the very PDF specification concerning the precise encryption algorithm and requisite key length.
24. While it is duly noted that GrapeCity, Inc. has endeavoured to ameliorate some of these identified issues through the release of subsequent updates, as evidenced the persistent feedback from users regrettably indicates that certain problems may endure, or indeed, novel complications may emerge post-update or post-manipulation.

25. A particularly salient concern pertains to the rendering of footers, wherein GrapeCity's PDF library may exhibit irregularities culminating in erroneous placement addition or display of these critical document elements.
26. More specifically, the library may misallocate footers at divergent offsets across disparate pages, or even paradoxically render them within the header section. to a “footer” on page 3 of 5 within the False Document Package, specifically in the Intake Court Endorsement [sic], wherein the header from page 1 of 5, or even page (rev. 06/18), was incorrectly placed on page 3 of 5 in the False Document Package) is also demonstrably true as it relates to the instruments provided on two separate Armoury Courthouse. This observation is not intended to impute fault to the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, but rather to underscore that the capabilities and limitations of the underlying electronic PDF Producer – herein, GrapeCity PDF Producer 6.0.2.0, which was generated in 2023.
27. Furthermore, a highly anomalous scenario has been observed where, in the presence of a defined header template without a corresponding footer, the phrase inexplicably materialize within the footer area (vide: the language in the foregoing paragraph regarding “header” to “footer”). Conversely, if a footer template is created may appear within the header area.
28. A more egregious defect arises when both header and footer templates are stipulated, yet neither manifests in the final rendering, as if their definitions were empty messages, potentially indicative of corrupted PDF files, necessitating investigative measures such as document sanitization, optimization, or re-exportation. The Package.

Volume III (B): GrapeCity vs. Adobe:

29. Dear OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, Mr. Henriquez and Office of the Minister of Attorney General:

This communication pertains to the aforementioned matter. This correspondence serves to reaffirm the exigent nature of the preceding request. Access to encompassing, inter alia, the subcategory designated as the "Information Package" pertinent to the initial transferee court's utilization and all subsequent avoidance of doubt, the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, is herein formally designated as the "Transferee Courthouse." The forego foundational to this requisition.

Subsequent to a meticulous examination conducted with high-resolution analytical tools, it is observed that the CCO-2-000-1-C (June 2018 iteration), cor capital 'C', and positing minor revisions attributable to its electronic genesis (scilicet, telecommunication, as contemplated by section 508.1 of the Criminal Code discernible when juxtaposing page 6 of 6 of the CCO-2 (2018) pro forma with page 5 of 5 of the partial CCO-2-C-e (2020) document. Specifically, under the ensuing discrepancies are meticulously enumerated:

1. The 2018 pro forma:
 - a. C.V.O.R. No. (Commercial Vehicles Only), which is translated to: numéro C.E.C.V.U. (véhicules utilitaires seulement)
2. The 2020 CCO-2-000-1-C-e (2020), notwithstanding the manifest absence of the requisite footer on pages 3 and 4:
 - a. C.V.O.R. No. (Commercial Vehicles Only), which is translated to: numéro C.I.U.V.U (véhicules utilitaires seulement)

It is conceivable that this alteration in acronym constitutes one of the minor, revisionist amendments enacted between June 2018 and October 2020 with by law enforcement agencies and sundry courts throughout the Province of Ontario, encompassing both the Superior Court of Justice and the Ontario Court of Justice (pro forma instrument). This particular alteration is conspicuously absent from the five-page document furnished to external legal counsel representing the notwithstanding its striking similitude to a document containing subsequent augmentations on page 4 of 5 pertaining to my ensuing appearances.

As previously articulated, Mr. Rudra formally affirmed, in written correspondence addressed to me, that the Crown intended to proceed summarily, a proceeding been duly annotated on page 4 of 6 of the CCO-2 of 2018 vintage. This observation is predicated upon the demonstrable fact that Mr. Rudra's presence in my appearances throughout 2024 and 2025; consequently, it is a logical inference that he was compelled to transmit this critical information to the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse. This particular alteration is conspicuously absent from the five-page document furnished to external legal counsel representing the notwithstanding its striking similitude to a document containing subsequent augmentations on page 4 of 5 pertaining to my ensuing appearances.

While it is not contended that certain minor, and likely salutary, modifications have been introduced to differentiate between the CCO Form (2018) and the CCO Form (2020) pertaining to electronically declared Criminal Code Form 2 Informations (as evinced by the excision of specific fields on page 4 of 6 related to the attestation 'In the Province of Ontario this ___ day of ___ 20___; _____ Justice of the Peace'), it remains axiomatic that a distinct section ought to be present for the name, date, and imprimatur of the judicial officer.

For the sake of comprehensive elucidation, it is further observed that page 1 of 6 of the CCO 2018 document, when contrasted with the partial CCO 2020 document, exhibits, in the latter iteration (as currently held by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse), an apparent maladjustment in its linguistic structure.

- a. (1) McLean, Kevin [sic]: An inexplicable numerical prefix, (1), precedes the nominal entry, which, being extrinsic to my appellation, renders the fidelity of the entry incongruous.
- b. The field designated for residential address, subsequent to my name, contains instead the incongruous notation "NFA, , [sic] ON."
- c. Concomitantly, the entry "DOB: 25 Mar. 1983" appears incongruously positioned, given that the "Date of Birth/date de naissance" is expressly stipulated to be positioned subsequent to the "Date of Issuance/date de délivrance".
- d. Furthermore, although the 'package' provided by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse largely comprises congruent English and French translations, the instructional phrase "(enter the charges here/insérer les accusations ici)" is conspicuously absent.

Upon scrutiny of page 5 of 5 of the OCJ Information Package (which, prima facie, appears to be a mere simulacrum of the authentic document), it is observed that the "Return Date" are entirely omitted from the apex of said page.

A further incongruity is noted in the presentation of "NFA" and "ON" between page 1 of 5 and page 5 of 5, the latter exhibiting solely "NFA" followed by a

It is respectfully requested that the aforementioned missing court records, documents, and information be furnished forthwith. Furthermore, it is again requested that the "information package's" receipt by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse be disclosed (specifically, whether on October 3, 2024, or any date interim October 3, 2024).

Although the established courtesy deadline has elapsed, the epistolary communication addressed to the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice remands the immediate provision of the requisite materials. All enumerated demands shall remain in statu quo, enduring irrespective of any internal oversights, particularly by the Ontario Court of Justice in this instant matter, and potentially by the Superior Court of Justice by virtue of its transmission of the information to the Armoury Courthouse, or, per contra, by its retention of said originals or their facsimiles.

Finally, nulla est quaestio that page 2 of 5 constitutes an erroneous and mendacious document, ipso facto attributable to the incongruous orientation of its 'accent grave' rather than the 'accent aigu' uniformly present on pages 3 of 5 and 5 of 5. Conversely, page 3 of 5, designated "Intake Court Endorsement" exhibits the application of bold typeface and the inclusion of a terminal period subsequent to the word "signed." Furthermore, it incorporates entries for "arrest data" information which, de jure, is exclusively situated on the initial page of the CCO-0-2-000-1-C pro forma. It is per se logical and reasonable that such data serving as an intrinsic component of a "bring forward system," rather than being redundantly replicated. Moreover, the necessity for a "Police Case ID" is expressly delineated on page 3 of 5. It therefore appears prima facie that solely the Toronto Police Service occurrence number, or indeed, that of any per identifier.

The MAG CSD Guide and the entrenched open court principle, as enshrined within section 2(b) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, mandating that the information maintained at the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, should the five-page document heretofore furnished to me and others, notwithstanding its purported accuracy, prove to be anything less than veracious, comprehensive, and accurate, to your knowledge. In such a regrettable eventuality, the precise date and time of the Crown's assumption of paramount significance for all members of the public engaged in the exercise of their fundamental rights.

I convey my sincere appreciation for your immediate compliance with the requirements under the MAG CSD Guide and the Charter as it relates to the public and accused like myself have timely access and where applicable upon request access to the likes of a Criminal Code Form 2 Information and any other documents.

I have provided this detailed analytical email to ensure that there is no misunderstanding in the event I have to escalate today.

It would seem that Mr. Henriquez would know better than any individual of the MAG (court staff) as to what was received and when and I ask that he turn that there must be a date of arrest on the page 6 of 6 of the required pro-forma but the TPS Information Package, a simulacrum of the same, has not included "at" on its page 5 of 5. Notably, the date of "deemed sworn/affirmed date" is included therein which would be input when it could be input which would be required when or if ever effected. It was effected, as admitted on your page 4 of 5 by reference to execution to a warrant in the first which is consistent with the number, which would have provided my fixed address, is often required for requesting any "Informations", "warrants" et al whether in the ICON system or otherwise, date of birth, which the TPS did input as correct, so that may have been required in any event.

I believe, based upon previous communications with other courts, that the OCJ often refers to the Information and then "ST" for South Toronto when referring to the originally input data by TPS (which is Toronto Police Services Board not "Toronto Police Service [sic]") would have been "SCJT" or "SCJ-T" for Toronto, Ontario, which houses both criminal and family law.

It likely would have read:

At/ A (Au) SCJT 361 University Avenue

Toronto, Ontario, M5G 1T3

As we know from the page 3 of 5, it is impossible that the "courtroom" could have been missing along with the way in which the TPS referenced

"OCJT #204 IPV South

10 Armoury St, Toronto ON M7A 0B9"

There is no such thing as "South 10" per se. It strikes me as this was completed by the TPS or a court officer who may have been attempting to engage in the follow the requisite steps.

Irrespective of the same, there is no requirement to have a referenced courtroom number under the "At" or a reference to IPV as that is at the top of the court order.

As per the OCJ website, courtroom 204 (IPV) does not handle ex parte and in camera hearings for the approval of charges, summons and arrest warrant

Re: Urgent Request for Remedial Action and Clarification Regarding Purported Court Documents and Procedural Irregularities

Esteemed Sirs/Mesdames:

I submit this correspondence in furtherance of preceding communications, prior to the established deadline of Monday at 11:30 a.m., with the express intent of

In a spirit of collegial cooperation, I must herein articulate my profound consternation that the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse compendium of judicial endorsements pertaining to a bench warrant, alongside precise temporal indications regarding its receipt of the "Information Package." material manipulation, evinced inter alia by the discernible omission of pages three and four from the extant CCO-2-000-1-C Ontario government form previously conveyed, I find such purported activities profoundly regrettable, yet demonstrably necessary to address. Furthermore, I hereby extend an invitation succour with respect to this matter prior to the conclusion of the present business day; such intervention would be received with considerable appreciation. Should this overture for proactive resolution remain unaddressed, it will become incumbent upon me to invoke the supervisory jurisdiction and inherent power of control and custody of the court's own processes. Ultimately, the locus of ultimate responsibility for the integrity of the judicial process resides with the judiciary Ontario Court of Justice.

While such systemic irregularities are, ex hypothesi, infrequent aberrations, I proffer this correspondence to ensure that the official record is rendered not merely serves as a succinct recapitulation of the salient issues and recent elucidations concerning the ostensible manipulation of documents, presumably attributable to It remains plausible, as intimated by the aforementioned courthouse (OCJ Armoury), that the purported "Information Package" — a mere simulacrum thereof facto, received by said courthouse until immediately antecedent to November 13, 2024, the date of my initial appearance. It appears improbable, though not beyond subsequent fabrication of the Intake Court Endorsement (designated as page three of five within the contentiously presented "Information Package") trans from 9:00 p.m. on my Arrest Date (October 2, 2024) to the dawn of October 3, 2024.

One can only lament the absence of direct observation into the deliberations of the Toronto Police Service 14th Division officers during my period of detention. My perspective, ab initio, was that of an individual unjustly confined, rather than an impartial observer.

Whilst I am unequivocally appreciative of my release shortly before midnight on the aforementioned date, it remains an incontrovertible fact that my initial contention that an unendorsed arrest warrant was the true instrument issued, not the document per se as asserted by the Toronto Police Service. Consequently, noting that they have remained unchallenged and undisputed.

I submit that the reference conveyed to me by my authorized agent from the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division) — specific from the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse — implied that the Superior Court of Justice was the originating judicial authority, which subsequently trans established jurisdictional protocols.

I reiterate my formal request for any and all documents pertaining to my person, beyond merely the name of the Informant, Ms. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas, a ser confirm that this request falls squarely within the ambit of my Records Request dated May 9, 2025, which was subsequently particularized with greater specificity

My insistence upon the provision of these documents is predicated upon a meticulous review of the "Information Package" furnished in Winter 2025 to a Toronto Police Service). This review revealed three disparate inscriptions pertaining to digital signatures on the ostensible Information Package, presenting pat

- Page 2 of 5: "This document has been digitally signed / Ce document a été signé numériquement." (It is nota bene that the French diacritical marks accents, and there is an inexplicable absence of a period following the English word "signed.")
- Page 3 of 5 (devoid of the requisite footer): "This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement." (In this instance "signed," and the English portion is rendered in boldface. Furthermore, the French diacritics are accurately positioned from a translational perspective.)
- Page 5 of 5: "This document has been digitally signed / Ce document a été signé numériquement." (Herein, the period after "signed" is conspicuously

Conversely, the French diacritical marks are correctly rendered as acute accents on the words "été," "signé," and "numériquement." Moreover, this page Further analytical scrutiny reveals inconsistencies in the footers of pages one, two, and five: pages one and five exhibit a spatial separation between the 'e' and 'r' whereas page two conspicuously lacks this spacing. Ergo, the digital signature on page two, coupled with the conspicuously immense spacing between "Co conclusion that Constable Frugoni-Rojas was not, in fact, the actual Informant. It has always been an anomalous feature that a 'court officer' would be permitted common practice. Naturally, page two of five constitutes the most critical component of the "Form 2 Criminal Code Information," for without it, there exist of the Criminal Code. Additionally, page one of five, characterized by the aforementioned spacing between the 'e' and the brackets preceding the "revised refe not limited to:

1. "NFA" (No Fixed Abode);
2. The insertion of two superfluous commas between "NFA" and "ON";
3. A date stipulating no communication between myself and the named female individual;
4. The ambiguous "On or about" reference;
5. The vague assertion of "personal safety" when the statutory requirement mandates that the individual must genuinely fear for her personal safety and not referenced;
6. The reference to "Count 1," which implies the existence of additional counts per se;
7. The peculiar placement of parentheses immediately preceding my name;
8. A reference indicating the conclusion of "charges/counts" when only a singular charge was, in fact, articulated.

These demonstrable irregularities lead to the ineluctable conclusion that the designated informant is not the true informant. Furthermore, they compel the ir document per se, was subsequently manipulated to integrate the name of Constable Frugoni-Rojas and to effectuate other material alterations to the information Page two of five is, ipso facto, a manipulated document by virtue of the aforementioned points.

Page three of five conspicuously lacks a footer, thereby precluding its inclusion as an integral component of the Information Package Common Ontario Form this page, indicating that it was neither digitally signed nor otherwise signed. Pertinently, page three of five contains a bottom reference that pertains to the incorrect or presented in an improper format.

Page four of five likewise lacks a footer and, in a standardized Information Package Form, ought to be designated as page three of six.

Page five of five appears to possess the correct footer stylization, and its digital signature reference is accurate in terms of translation.

However, a closer examination reveals additional irregularities, including but not limited to:

1. The absence of an "Information Number" on page five of five suggests that this document must be the one utilized by the Originating Courthouse (matter). This inference is drawn from the presence of the Information Number on the first page, yet its absence on page five of five.
2. It is improbable that my driver's license number was a requisite datum for input; if it was, any reference to "NFA" (No Fixed Abode) would be illogical.
3. The critical date of arrest, October 2, 2024, is conspicuously absent where its inclusion is mandated.
4. Police Officer (Detective Constable) "MI Kolankowski" is referenced, yet it is highly probable that his initials should correspond to "MR" for Michael.
5. The letter "e" is absent after "Servic" in "Toronto Police Services."
6. The inclusion of the word "Division" would not have been a requisite entry.
7. The reference to Detective Constable Kolankowski, whose badge number appears accurate, would not typically be incorporated into the contemporaneously noted.
8. Furthermore, this administrative section of page five of five (devoid of any adjudicative privilege, quid pro quo) pertains to whether a summons, whether a motor vehicle offence is reportable. Consequently, it ought to include the Informant's name, the originating police division, the name of the date of arrest, the specific courtroom (which is notably absent), and the venue where the ex parte and in camera intake court proceeding was conducted.
9. Notably, on page five of five from the 10 Armoury Courthouse (Toronto) (OCJ), the courtroom number is conspicuously unfilled.
10. There is a reference to "OCJT #204 IPV SOUTH 10 ARMOURY ST, TORONTO ON M7A 0B9."
11. "OCJT" is not a common acronym for the Ontario Courts of Justice; "OCJ" is the standard abbreviation.
12. "204" designates the location of the "first appearance," not the venue where an intake hearing would have transpired.
13. "IPV" is a reference to page one of five, of which, I might add, no such document, stricto sensu, existed in the context of a valid Information.
14. The designation "South" ought not to precede the street number of the edifice located on Armoury Street.
15. While I acknowledge the existence of the geographical reference "South Toronto," this would be abbreviated as "ST" and would not be required in the
16. Rather, the "courtroom number" is an essential datum for members of the public seeking to ascertain the venue where the intake proceeding occur enable the court to determine the propriety of providing copies of documents (i.e., subsequent to the issuance of process or even after an arrest).
17. While the identity of the justice or judicial officer is not enumerated on page five of five (which would customarily be page six of six), it would be the 'e' is present or absent). This omission renders it impossible for a member of the public to procure a transcript by completing the authorized transcription the necessary information for transcription is absent.
18. It is imperative to input both the judicial officer's name and the courtroom number.
19. Courtroom 204 is unequivocally not the appropriate venue for an intake proceeding.
20. In effect, page five of five would have left the date of arrest blank, a field that was introduced as an addition in 2018 (vide: Lincoln County Law Ass court upon the occurrence of an arrest).
21. However, the arresting officer per se would not necessarily be identified therein, but rather the original police officer overseeing the informant's information.
22. The occurrence number reference elucidates why there would be no Police Case ID on the Intake Court Endorsement.
23. Furthermore, the reference to R. v. McLean on page two of five would be inappropriate for inclusion, given that there is no guarantee that a process
24. I contend that the originating police division was the 52nd Division, as corroborated by Detective Constable Kolankowski's reference to "Detective discussion concerning these matters. My preceding points further substantiate this contention.
25. Consequently, with the courts operating under the purview of the 52nd Division, and in light of Constable Frugoni-Rojas's (who, with due necessitating the intervention of Detective Rizwan Mohammed) position, the 52nd Division should be duly input, along with the name of Detective Ab

Therefore, this purported Form 2 Information Package, ad summam, ought to have comprised six pages, bearing the name of the actual informant, with said information included the name of the actual judicial officer on page three of six, with a definitive reference to a warrant, absent any misleading endorsement such as "Information the "judicial officer" along with a date, sans any superfluous French translation, was a prerequisite. However, pages three of six and four of six are conspicuously inconsistent with standard procedure.

The Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, must possess an authentic copy of the original documents. It defies logical and procedural creation the basis of this simulacrum and manipulated document, especially given the absence of an arrest date on page five of five, yet simultaneously referencing the (

How, quaere, could any individual effectively exercise their fundamental Charter rights pursuant to paragraph 2(b) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms courtroom number and the name of the judicial officer presiding over the arrest warrant, including the indispensable ability to obtain a transcript in the absence with the hypothesis that an arrest warrant may not have been formally filed with the court, but was merely available if endorsed (an "Endorsed Arrest Warrant even more pronounced).

Consequently, we ascertain that the Ontario Court of Justice, Brampton Courthouse, was not the originating courthouse, nor could it be, prima facie, the Ontario the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division) is presumptively the originating authority on that date of September 23, 2024. The judicial Justice (not "OCJT") must, therefore, unequivocally reflect the precise actualities of what transpired, in strict accordance with the Ministry of the Attorney General Charter.

I respectfully demand the immediate provision of the aforementioned documents and the implementation of all necessary rectifications to the judicial record.

I have removed The Honourable AG Mr. Downey as this has been brought to his attention but left the AGO email.

I am writing in reference to the email dated June 5, 2025, concerning the aforementioned matter. Given that my case was not subject to archiving, I was duly entitled to approach the close of July 2025, this protracted delay has become a significant concern. I also acknowledge, with appreciation, the timely response received earlier regarding the requested acronyms and glossary references.

Please be advised that should access to the requested materials from this courthouse not be granted by 11:30 AM on Monday, July 28, 2025, I will regrettably be constrained to Justice. A formal letter detailing this situation will be prepared for her office, though its dispatch will be withheld should the stipulated deadline be met.

Your immediate attention to this pressing matter is greatly appreciated. I extend my best wishes for the upcoming weekend.

Subject: Urgent Follow-Up: Requisition for Access to Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, Judicial Records, Documents, and General's Court Services Division Guide, and Formal Notice of Non-Compliance

Esteemed Sirs/Mesdames et al.:

This correspondence is tendered to address a matter of paramount import, necessitating prompt and unequivocal adherence to the established protocols governing the Province of Ontario. My consistent and diligent efforts to secure particularized court documents, as delineated within the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), have been met with a protracted delay that has become a significant concern. I also acknowledge, with appreciation, the timely response received earlier regarding the requested acronyms and glossary references.

The MAG CSD Guide unequivocally stipulates the entitlement of members of the public, and particularly accused individuals such as myself, to obtain unfettered access to the formal requisition. Specifically, this prerogative extends, inter alia, to:

- These provisions are neither discretionary nor subject to abrogation by court staff, who, nota bene, are employees of the Crown in Right of Ontario. The Attorney officer of the executive branch—with explicit oversight of court staff activities—and a member of the legislature, possesses the requisite authority to ensure scrupulous compliance. It is lamentable that after numerous antecedent communications, courteously extended but demonstrably unavailing, the exigency of the present circumstances now compels this Office. This recourse, though undertaken with profound reluctance, has become an unavoidable consequence of the protracted non-production and non-disclosure of the documents in question.

Conversely, an ostensibly endorsed "Intake Court Endorsement" (sic) by Justice of the Peace George Jiri ("JP Jiri") on September 23, 2024 (Vide: Appendix #3: who ostensibly presided over an "intake court hearing" following the commencement of criminal proceedings related to a Criminal Code Form 2 Information deal on September 23, 2024, at 11:49 a.m. EDT, has been presented. It is imperative to acknowledge, ex abundanti cautela, that Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas legally altered her in my email of June 5, 2025, at 11:00 AM, the Brampton Courthouse, where JP Jiri is purportedly assigned, possesses no record germane to this matter (Pa attendance at the aforementioned Brampton Courthouse likewise yielded no extant record of his engagement in such judicial activities or any documentation w email of July 18, 2025, at 12:35 PM, Page 7 of GMAIL Attachment.PDF).

The jurisprudence firmly establishes, as trite law to any discerning legal mind, that a criminal proceeding formally commences upon the making, or at the latest, of a criminal prosecution is not juridically inaugurated until a judicial officer—be it a Justice of the Peace, a Provincial Court Judge of the Ontario Court of Justice issues a process, either by way of a Criminal Code Form 6 (Summons) or a Criminal Code Form 7 (Warrant for Arrest). Furthermore, it is axiomatically understood that, upon the issuance of a Form 7 Arrest Warrant, an accused individual cannot be lawfully released subsequent to arrest unless said judicial officer, or another duly authorized justice, upon bail. Put another way, without a judicial officer's unimpeachable endorsement of the "Processes," also known as the "release documents," the criminal proceeding, remains a legal nullity.

In light of the foregoing, I respectfully yet firmly demand full and unfettered access to all requested records, as meticulously elucidated within the annexed email business on the twenty-fifth day of July, 2025. This exigent request for the expedient provision of these documents, particularly the endorsed Form 2 Informatic highlighted and assiduously pursued in my previous communications, most notably in my email of July 21, 2025, at 10:32 AM (Pages 7-9 of GMAIL~1.PDF) a GMAIL~1.PDF). Failure to procure these documents within the stipulated time frame will, volens volens, necessitate the immediate escalation of this matter to the Minister of Justice, the Honourable Justice Nicklas. I would find such an escalation regrettable, but nonetheless, utterly indispensable.

The language enshrined within the MAG CSD Guide unequivocally mandates timely access to requested records, and indeed, specifies a more expedited time foundational instruments such as a Criminal Code Form 2 Information and associated judicial endorsements. The precise timing of the transmission of these TPS Region, not the OCJ Brampton Courthouse) to the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse falls squarely within the ambit of my entitlement to access. Moreover, as Endorsement [Sic] is conspicuously devoid of any footer, whilst pages 1, 2, and 5 of the "Information Package" conspicuously bear a footer denoting CCO-2-0 plausible, if not compellingly evident, that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse may have received documents divergent from those that have been subsequent, immediate confirmation or denial of this profound discrepancy.

Other referenced attachments will follow separately, si necessitas, but are nonetheless intrinsically integrated within this comprehensive email thread for context. While I need not rely on the open court principle as per section 2(b) of the Charter, the law does not operate in a vacuum. As such, I rely on that principle and the Charter section 2(b) protects listeners as well.

To the extent that any of the records in the court file or without a court file per se are not the original and authentic documents, I trust that the Honourable AG will

Mr. Henriquez is copied herein as a result of his name being in the "Information Package" as it was in Winter or Spring 2025 and then again thereafter as it rel "clerk of the court" on that day, the Crown, the presiding justice and any inscriptions therein of highlighted nature.

I trust that the gravity of this situation and the undeniable imperative for transparency and unswerving adherence to established legal frameworks will impel your provision of the requested documentation. I remain at your disposal should any further clarification or ancillary information be deemed requisite.

Sincerely,

/KAM

CONTINUED URGENCY

To the Esteemed Administration of the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse:

It has become unequivocally manifest, following an exhaustive scrutiny of the germane communications and archival digital collections, that a conspicuous paucity of overtures.

Consequently, I deferentially reassert my petition for access to the antecedently referenced juridical instruments and appurtenant minutiae. The exigency of an authenticated verbatim record of the judicial deliberations convened before the Honourable Justice Block on the eleventh day of June in the year of our Lord two thousand and twenty-four, despite my unambiguous preparedness for engagement, my rightful ingress into the designated judicial forum, whether corporeal or virtual, was regrettably obstructed by a technical anomaly experienced by the officiating Clerk of the Court.

Premised upon the aforementioned considerations, I herewith persist in formally requisitioning the prompt and unreserved dispensation of the ensuing document remains unfulfilled ad hanc diem:

1. An authenticated duplicate of the endorsement promulgated by the Clerk of the Court, Mr. Henriquez, on the third day of October, anno domini 2024 observing the salient non-attendance of prosecutorial representation and a juridical standing non de jure within the official annals;
2. Elucidative records delineating the specific chronology, operational modalities, and geographical situs of acquisition by the Ontario Court of Justice, (Code) Information pertaining to Constable Frugoni-Rojas, encompassing all interconnected or correlative documentation. Concerning this particular matter, documentation, inclusive of any reference to the warrant in the first instance, was transmitted on the third day of October, two thousand and twenty-four, thirteenth day of November, two thousand and twenty-four, or indeed at a posterior juncture;
3. A pristine, unadulterated exemplar of the aforementioned Form 2 Information and the "Information Package" antedating any subsequent modification at the Toronto Armoury Courthouse. All currently surviving folios constituting the dossier identified as CCO-2-000-1-C-e, particularly those conspicuously absent from the concomitant endorsements affixed thereto. Conspicuous emphasis is directed towards the fourth page of the standardized informational compendium, which was signed by the appointed Justice, complemented by the inscription of a specific date and the judicious selection of the pertinent procedural indicia (e.g., the warrant in the document contains specific fields requiring input from the prosecution (namely, the election to proceed summarily). Given that Mr. Rudra has unequivocally demonstrated such critical data must, a fortiori, be duly incorporated within the CCO-2-000-1-C-e file. I therefore insist upon its immediate disclosure;
4. An authenticated duplicate of the bench warrant, hypothetically promulgated as a Form 7 pursuant to the express provisions of the Criminal Code of Canada, promulgation on the aforementioned calendar date. I posit, prima facie, that the Honourable Justice Block was the issuing authority. The raison d'être for the issuance of this instrument is to meticulously ascertain the foundational causae necessitating its issuance. Should it subsequently be ascertained that said warrant is not an official verbatim transcript shall become an indispensable prerequisite for the perspicuous elucidation of the germane judicial pronouncements. Your esteemed assistance is profoundly appreciated; and
5. Any and all additional documentation or intelligence, not explicitly delineated supra, that bears direct pertinence to these antecedently referenced proceedings.

Whilst acknowledging that the dispensation of certain documentation or intelligence may present disparate degrees of logistical expediency, I deferentially beseech your assistance on this basis, concomitant with their availability. My conscious abstention from precipitating a formal escalation at this temporal juncture serves to underscore my unwavering respect for the amicable resolution of this specific matter. Given the protracted and egregious delinquency concerning the fulfillment of my aforementioned request, I am assured no later than fifteen hundred hours this very day. It is axiomatically understood that as an accused, I possess an inalienable entitlement to the prompt and complete disclosure of judicial records, and associated information, particularly as stipulated by the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Guide (effective 2019), in the present circumstances.

Irrespective of the preceding declarations, the documentation specified under enumerated desiderata one through three (1-3) must, ipso facto, be expeditiously retransmitted within the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Guide and all other cognate statutory and jurisprudential mandates.

In the eventuality that the aforementioned bench warrant has not undergone the requisite formal endorsement, I deferentially solicit immediate notification pertaining to the issuance of the bench warrant and its precise time of promulgation, I shall be entirely amenable to receiving such notification (if deemed applicable) of a formally endorsed facsimile thereof.

Absent any responsive communication by fifteen hundred hours this very day (i.e., sans any discernible form of reply), I shall, nolens volens, be constrained to a written submission by a comprehensive missive dispatched to the Ontario Court of Justice, with concurrent transmittal to counsel in said proceeding (notwithstanding the current status of the proceedings) to the Honourable Justice Block for a detailed response concerning these matters, including the provision of any endorsed copies he may or may not have caused to be executed.

With utmost deference and respect,

Respectfully Urgent

VIA EMAIL

Subject: Affirmation of Entitlement to Court Records, Court Documents, and Court Information (OCJ related involving the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse)

Dear Esteemed Court Representatives of the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, and Mr. Henriquez:

I hereby again acknowledge with profound appreciation the expeditious and comprehensive electronic communication received at 6:10 a.m., which confirms the receipt of the bench warrant by Mr. Henriquez. It is my presumption that Mr. Henriquez played a pivotal role in facilitating this timely response, whether through initial intervention or through the assistance of him eminently qualified to furnish a substantial portion of the requested documentation.

It is imperative to reiterate my entitlement, pursuant to the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) Court Services Division (CSD) Guide, to procure copies of court records and documents, which prerogative explicitly encompasses endorsements issued by court clerks, which are permissible on behalf of presiding justices in accordance with Section 3 of the Guide, in the particular aspect of my request.

Furthermore, I confirm that the MAG CSD Records Division has unequivocally verified the absence of any submitted Form 2 Information pertaining to my petition for access to the court records and documents of August, September, or October 2024. As my inaugural court appearance was duly scheduled for November 13, 2024, it logically follows that no such documents were submitted (TPS) via the Criminal E-Intake Portal during the aforementioned period. Consequently, I fully comprehend that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, along with the Ministry of the Attorney General, is entitled to repose reliance upon the representations of the TPS concerning the existence of an endorsed warrant, which underpinned my initial submission to the court upon the execution of my Form 10 Undertaking on October 2, 2024. I further acknowledge that the TPS is not procedurally obligated, as per the MAG CSD Guide, to provide a copy of the bench warrant to the transferee courthouse (hereinafter, "Transferee Courthouse"). Moreover, it is patently clear that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, even upon a cursory review of the originating courthouse (hereinafter, "Originating Courthouse"). Therefore, there exists no conceivable premise upon which the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse would endorse, including a Form 29, which mandates the release of an accused by a presiding judicial officer pursuant to Section 499 of the Criminal Code, which is demonstrably the case in my particular circumstances.

In consonance with my prior requisition for a copy of the bench warrant purportedly issued by Justice Block, I respectfully solicit clarification as to whether the issuance was solely confined to its initial promulgation.

With specific reference to the pro-forma document disseminated by the Lincoln County Law Association (accessible via: <https://thelcla.ca/wp-content/uploads/2024/07/Form-29-with-highlighted-changes.pdf>), I direct your attention to page four of six, upon which I anticipate the presence of any pertinent endorsement by the Crown Counsel in the aforementioned proceeding. This document appears to constitute an integral component of a standardized template employed for ongoing proceedings.

As you are undoubtedly aware, the Ontario Court of Justice is statutorily obligated to maintain a permanent repository of its operational activities.

Given the protracted nature of obtaining timely access to these records, as stipulated by the MAG CSD Guide, should I not receive a substantive response by 11:00 AM on Wednesday, July 23, 2025, I will elevate this matter to the Office of the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) to solicit their intervention and assistance. I remain also concerned that the TPS may need to seek the assistance of the Auditor General of Ontario if this is a systemic issue involving the TPS. However, I will provide this opportunity to engage in any event.

I respectfully note the same because I do not have any FIPPA appellate rights so the only recourse is to draw the same to the attention of the AGO but in view of court documents, records and information.

My exhaustive articulation herein is deliberately intended to obviate the necessity for any duplication or redundancy of communication should such escalation occur.

Again, I appreciate that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse will not have access presumably to the CO Rojas Form 2 Information that was submitted to the AGO, kindly provide a copy of the same.

While I would unequivocally prefer to avert such a measure, this matter retains an extraordinary degree of urgency, particularly in light of the proactive and remedial interests and rights, a pursuit that inherently aligns with the broader public interest.

Out of an abundance of caution, I confirm that all communications herein are on account of my lawful authority to obtain access to court records, court documents, records and information, from July 13, 2024, to November 13, 2024, or sometime thereafter based upon when the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse received the CO Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 Information.

Obviously, if there was no endorsement by an SCJ Judge, PCJ, or JP of a Form 7 Arrest Warrant, then I could not have been released and was required to be in custody. The proceeding never commenced at law.

Should the exigencies of the situation necessitate an extension of the stipulated time frame, I request that you graciously apprise me accordingly.

Thank you for your prompt attention to the above. I remain available should you need any clarification or wish to agree on a schedule or timetable, but with it being said, I will provide this opportunity to engage in any event.

Esteemed Office of the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse:

It is with profound appreciation that I acknowledge receipt of your recent communication, the promptitude and informational content of which I find of great interest, the assertion that the matter at hand purportedly commenced as a "warrant in the first," a characterization evidently derived from the Information Package. It does not reside with the procedural integrity of your esteemed OCJ courthouse per se, but rather with a conspicuous lacuna: the aforementioned package lacks any substantive judicial or administrative endorsement. Therefore, if there are other court records, court documents, et al that evidence a "warrant in the first" at Brampton Courthouse, I welcome seeing them. However, if there are not the likes of a page 4 like the Lincoln County Law Association document, I welcome seeing them. Again, I appreciate that this request is solely about my entitlements to access to court records, court documents and information.

In the course of recent diligent inquiry, I have fortuitously unearthed, or more precisely, re-discovered, the correct CCO-2-000-1-C form, original Information Package (vide: attached hereto). While it is readily conceded that this particular instrument predates the "Information Package" submitted by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse by eighteen months, it nonetheless underscores a critical deficiency: the "Information Package" furnished by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse contains an inexplicable omission of several integral pages. This discrepancy, prima facie, impedes a comprehensive understanding of the procedural genesis of the matter.

In light of the foregoing, I respectfully yet firmly reiterate my request for unencumbered access to the aforementioned court documents, records and information. In derogation from the generality of the foregoing, I solicit the underlying evidentiary records that substantiate the conclusion regarding the initial Information Package. I request precise details concerning the nature, temporal parameters, and methodology of the receipt of said records from the Toronto Police Service. Furthermore, I formally request access to that specific endorsement itself, ad fundatum. Your expeditious attention to this matter would be most appreciated.

Kindly provide all of the requested records by the end of the business day as this is respectfully quite dated.

URGENT

Subject: Expedited Inquiry Regarding the Foregoing Matter and Request for the Authentic CCO-2-000-1-C Document from the Lincoln County Information Number 4810 998 24 48129169

Subject II: Affirmation of the Incompleteness and Anomalies Pertaining to the Previously Furnished "Information Package," Specifically Noted Therein

To the Esteemed Officials of the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse,

1. It is my earnest hope that this correspondence finds you and your esteemed staff in good health and professional equipoise. While it is with a great deal of regret that I must engage the invaluable resources of your court staff in this particular exigency, I trust you will appreciate that the fundamental tenets of my life, I enshrined Charter rights, are presently in a precarious state. I extend my profound gratitude in anticipation of your expeditious attention to the aforementioned veritably complete and unadulterated copy of the document denominated as the "Information Package." As previously articulated, a truncated and incomplete judicial proceeding and subsequently furnished by former counsel for the Toronto Police Service, albeit disseminated via the auspices of the Ontario Court of Justice.

I have attached the document from the Lincoln County Law Association and the "Information Package" (missing one page and with two pages that one of those pages contains the Intake Court Endorsement).

2. This communication serves as a diligent follow-up to the preceding discourse. Subsequent to a meticulous review and exhaustive jurisprudence, the CCO-2-000-1-C-e form, which originates from the esteemed Lincoln County Law Association. It is my understanding that the Lincoln County Law Association, domiciled in St. Catharines, Ontario. While the attached exemplar bears the designation CCO-2-000-1 (Rev 6/18), I have been reliably apprised that revisions to the CCO-2-000-1 series primarily encompass minor, non-substantive amendments, thereby preserving the fundamental integrity and

3. The appended suffix "E" within the form's nomenclature unequivocally denotes its applicability to electronic or telecommunicative modalities and formally attests to information and subsequently renders said information in an electronic format.

4. Ergo, it becomes demonstrably evident that the "Information Package" (as variously defined or titled by the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto) indeed the iteration I personally received in June 2025, is fundamentally incomplete. The standard pro forma document disseminated by the Lincoln County Law Association compilation. Naturally, the footer of each page within this standardized instrument invariably delineates the specific type of document contained

5. Upon rigorous scrutiny of the "Information Package" furnished by the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, I discern the following:

a. The requisite footer is conspicuously present on pages 1, 2, and 5, yet it is conspicuously absent from pages 3 and 4; b. Page 3 purports to be a proprietary chart detailing various event updates. Prima facie, these pages do not conform to the standardized structure of the CCO-2-000-1-C form.

6. Conversely, a thorough examination of the authentic and unamended "Information Package" disseminated by the Lincoln County Law Association reveals:

a. The document comprises six pages, each of which bears the indispensable footer, which unequivocally identifies the governmental form or CC form. i. Page 1: Exhibits a boilerplate format largely analogous to the document you provided, notwithstanding minor temporal variations and correlative page designed for the inclusion of supplementary counts. iii. Page 3: Effectively corresponds to what was designated as page 4 in the Toronto Armoury Courthouse (notwithstanding that the public record page 3, i.e., your version, lacks any footer whatsoever). iv. Page 4: Constitutes wherein the informant formally attests to the veracity of the information, thereby permitting a temporal correlation with page 3, followed by the incorporation of the following provisions, which are entirely consistent with the statutory mandates of sections 508, 512, et seq. of the Criminal Code (spatial allocations (while judiciously omitting any spacing or lines for a Justice of the Peace to commission, witness, or notarize the signature of the Criminal Code). Specifically, it stipulates: a. VERIFICATION OF STATUS: i. Cancelled: Police to notify defendant; ii. Cancelled: Summons;

Then spacing for the following:

Name of the JP:

Date:

Signature of the JP

(the last element is missing even in the Intake Court Endorsement)

7. The "Information Package," colloquially denoted as "Information (Multi)," is demonstrably a six-page document, not five.

8. Given that the purported "Intake Court Endorsement" is neither a valid endorsement nor an intrinsic component of the court form designated as true, accurate, and complete copies of the authentic court form. Ipso facto, whatever iteration was previously provided to you could not have been six pages, incorporates two pages that bear no relevance to the "Information Package" by virtue of their lack of the requisite footer, and, most critically, designed for a Justice of the Peace, Provincial Court Judge, or Superior Court Judge to affix their name, date, and an authentic handwritten, electronic

9. As previously observed, page 5 (5 of 5) of your provided document indicates that the entire document has been digitally signed. This assertion is inconsistent with the preceding content. A document purportedly digitally signed in its entirety cannot logically possess pages 1 and 2 with the requisite footer and retains it. This internal inconsistency undermines the integrity of the document as a whole.

10. The fortuitous discovery of the CCO-2-0001-C form from the Lincoln County Law Association, encompassing all its recent revisions, has permitted mutandis, furnishes sufficient and cogent evidentiary material to substantiate the present assertions.

11. While I most appreciate that the MAG CSD Guide confirms that some police forces do not file arrest warrants, there would still be a copy of the warrant confirming the warrant in the first along with the required name of the JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge with, in fact and at law, signature.

12. Notably, there are some errors in your page 4 of 5 compared to what should be page 3 of 6 in the standard form.

13. I am not here to point fingers at whomever did this but I am entitled to a copy of what was submitted and filed with the OJC Toronto Armoury Courthouse, JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge, then kindly provide me with a copy of the same.

14. If there was no signed arrest warrant (i.e. an Unendorsed Arrest Warrant) that is a different issue per se as that is a Form 7 under the Criminal Code by the relevant JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge but nonetheless this Information Package is not a Form 7 but a Form 2 type Information Package utilized in which there must be evidence that it was before a JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge with a date, name and signature in order for it to have been transferred to the OJC who actually issued or gave the arrest warrant but naturally did not come to the stage of endorsing the same.

15. I am not suggesting that the OJC Toronto Armoury Courthouse engaged in this handy work per se but rather if that is what was submitted by you.

16. I express my appreciation for your forthcoming provision of the precise document as it was originally submitted to the Ontario Court of Justice. The furnished document accurately reflects the submitted form, particularly in light of the noted discrepancies: a five-page form, devoid of footers on the mandated order of the CCO form 2, and naturally lacking any annotations contained within the chart on your page 4 of 5 (which, de jure, should have been six pages).

It is now quite obvious that the TPS were attempting to hide the actual JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge as it cannot be JP Jiri as the OJC is required to follow the mandate there would not be any ability (as I have checked that with the vendors of the same) to manipulate the same. As such, that leads to the obvious conclusion that the Intake Platform.

No matter the type of revisions to any standardized form in a two year period, which would naturally remove the Promise to Appear and some other information in the very utilized form on pages 1, 2 and 5 but not pages 3 and 4.

17. Thank you for your prompt attention to the above and providing me with the exact documents that were submitted to your courthouse and that you do so with the date they were submitted and they are the exact, true copies of the same, I will confirm the safe receipt and we can close this matter.

Should anything be unclear, kindly let me know at your convenience.

Subject: Abundance of caution confirmation of previously provided records (with thanks) and Subsequent Request for Documentation Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse pursuant to the MAG CSD policies and procedures for access to documents

Dear Esteemed Representative at the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse (Attention: Ally or other designated official):

I extend my continued gratitude to Ally for her prompt response and the provision of the aforementioned judicial records. Upon further deliberation I submit this refined requisition for the following documents, records, and particularized information:

1. A comprehensive facsimile of any Form 10 undertaking lodged with your esteemed courthouse, contingent upon its existence, thereby clarify specific Ontario Court of Justice establishment.
2. A pristine impression of the Form 2 Information pertaining to Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, specifically one antecedent to the inscription of the or emendations contained therein.
3. A complete compendium of all documents, records, papers, and sundry evidentiary materials germane to the Toronto Police Service's submission concerning Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, along with the corresponding Intake Court Endorsement.
4. A verified duplicate of any endorsed bench warrant issued by a provincial court judge, presumably Justice Block, if my recollection serves me bene: there was a technological error in that I was not let into that courtroom after the Crown Counsel provided me with a Zoom link and I was only caught a snippet of the same from the Crown Counsel (Mr. Rudra) when he was able to locate me in another courtroom for judicial case management.

Confirmation Regarding Absence of Issued Process

In the interest of unequivocal clarity, and given prior instances of inadvertent misdirection by other judicial precincts, I seek explicit corroboration that the associated with the Toronto Armoury Courthouse has ever issued any judicial process, including a Criminal Code Form 6 Summons or a Criminal Code 23, 2024, pertaining to my person. This inquiry is proffered without any implicit castigation, but rather as a diligent measure to obviate further proceedings.

I acknowledge and appreciate the information regarding Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri and his purported assignment to the Brampton Courthouse. Brampton Courthouse, however, yielded no extant record of his engagement in such judicial activities, nor any documentation whatsoever related to confirmation that the Ontario Court of Justice Toronto Armoury Courthouse possesses no record of any issued processes by any Justice of the Peace Court would be invaluable. Such an affirmation would empower me to unequivocally disabuse those other judicial establishments that are demonstrably misinformed.

Your expeditious attention to this matter is profoundly appreciated.

Exhibit “E”

Access court files, documents and exhibits

Learn what court documents are available to the public and media and how to access them. Read the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits.

Version date: Revised April 2019

The following guide is the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division Policies and Procedures on Public Access to Court Files, Documents and Exhibits. We posted the guide online to enhance public access to court proceedings, information and documents. This guide was first compiled and provided to Ministry court staff in January 2006 as part of the Ministry's ongoing efforts to ensure that there is consistent application of these procedures across the province. Policies regarding access to court files, documents and exhibits are periodically reviewed and updated, subject to the direction of the judiciary.

The material provided here is the same as the material on public access to court documents provided to court staff.

Section 1: General principles and policies for public access

1.1 Open and accessible court system

Ontario's court system is based on the fundamental principles of openness and accessibility. In general, most court documents are publicly accessible, unless a statutory provision, common law rule or court order restricts access.

The Supreme Court of Canada has held that the courts have a supervisory and protecting power over their records, and as a result, determine rules for public access. The Court Services Division of the Ministry of the Attorney General is responsible for the care and maintenance of court files and documents, with the exception of court files and documents in Provincial Offences courts, which are administered by municipal partners under a transfer agreement. The Court Services Division makes policies regarding the care and maintenance of court files and documents, in accordance with applicable law, and subject to judicial direction.

1.2 Judicial direction

Each court has jurisdiction over its own records, and all policies respecting access to court documents, files and exhibits are subject to judicial direction. However, legislation and regulations (including rules of practice), existing jurisprudence, and consultation with the judiciary have led to the result that, except in the specific circumstances outlined in this guide, many documents are publicly accessible. Judicial consent is required to obtain access to court exhibits (see Section “6 Public access to exhibits (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-documents-and-exhibits/section-6-public-access-exhibits>)”).

1.3 Timeframes for public access

Timeliness is essential to ensure access to court files and documents. The ability of court staff to facilitate timely access can be affected by various factors. Court Services Division Record Retention Schedules outline the requirements for storing files on-site or off-site. Retention schedules also outline when records can be destroyed or stored by the Archives of Ontario. For example, post court dockets may be destroyed after 3 years.

Where on-site storage is limited, some files may be transferred off site sooner than set out in the Retention Schedules. By necessity, the time required for access to files and documents that are stored off site will be longer than for files and documents stored at the courthouse.

In addition, court staff must prioritize their responsibilities to ensure:

- matters scheduled before the court are proceeding;
- the needs of parties, witnesses, interpreters and jurors are met; and
- judicial direction is followed.

Given these priorities, court staff must facilitate access to court files and documents as quickly and efficiently as possible.

316 1.4 Providing information over the telephone

Information from court records that would be accessible to the public at no charge is available over the telephone. Many court records in the Ontario Court of Justice and Superior Court of Justice are accessible at no charge. See section “7 Fees for public access to court documents (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents>)” for information about fees to access documents.

1.5 Procedures for ensuring public access

Because a court file may contain documents that are not publicly accessible, court staff must ensure that only publicly accessible documents are provided to members of the public for inspection.

In civil and family matters, Court Services Division requires the use of a correspondence pocket in court files. Documents for which public access is restricted must be filed in the correspondence pocket. Court staff must remove the correspondence pocket from the file before providing the file to a member of the public for inspection. For additional information, please refer to section “3.7 Other documents Related to Civil Proceedings (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-civil-court-files-and-documents#section-6>)”.

1.6 Copies and photographs of documents

Court staff can provide a copy of any document in the court file if:

- the requester has the right to see the document;
- the document can be photocopied; and
- the requester pays the relevant copy fee (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents#section-2>).

Members of the public can make a copy of any documentation in the court file using their own camera or other electronic device at no charge if they have the right to see the document. The use of photography is limited to the documentation in the court file and must be conducted in the administration area. Please refer to section “1.7 Use of cameras, recording and other electronics devices in the courtroom”

(<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents#section-6>) for further explanation about the use of cameras and recording devices.

Members of the public may have a copy of a digital recording of a court hearing if:

- they have the right to a copy of the recording;
- judicial direction is obtained; and
- they pay the relevant copy fee (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents#section-2>) .

1.7 Use of cameras, recording and other electronic devices in the courtroom

No cameras (including cell phone cameras) or video recording devices may be used in the courtroom without the approval of the presiding judicial official (s. 136 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK183>)) (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43>) . Photographing of any person in attendance at the courthouse is also prohibited.

For further information about the use of electronic communication devices in court proceedings, please see the Ontario (<http://www.ontariocourts.ca/ocj/legal-professionals/practice-directions/electronic-devices/>) Court of Justice website (<https://www.ontario.ca/www.ontariocourts.ca/ocj/legal-professionals/practice-directions/electronic-devices/>) and the Superior Court of Justice website (https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/practice/practice-directions/provincial#D_Electronic_Devices_in_the_Courtroom) .

Section 2: Public access to criminal court files and documents

2.1 General principle of public accessibility

In general, once process is issued (meaning an Information is sworn and an arrest is made or a summons is served), criminal court files and documents are publicly accessible, unless legislation, a common law rule or a court order restricts access.

2.2 Criminal court files and documents with restricted access

Exceptions to this general principle of public accessibility are outlined below. In accordance with section 1.2 of this policy, the following exceptions to public accessibility are always subject to judicial direction:

2.2.1 Documents in Youth Criminal Justice Act proceedings

General Rule

Court files and documents of Youth Criminal Justice Act (<https://www.laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/y-1.5/index.html>) (YCJA) proceedings or other proceedings that make reference to YCJA information (for example, Parental Responsibility Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/00p04>) Small Claims Court actions (see section “3.2.1 Documents regarding Parental Responsibility Act matters”), (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-civil-court-files-and-documents#section-1>) child protection cases (see section “4.2.1 Child protection cases (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-family-court-files#section-0>)”), or Mental Health Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90m07>) (MHA) proceedings (see section “2.2.11 Mental health assessments (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-family-court-files#section-0-11>)”) are not accessible to the public, unless the young person receives an adult sentence and:

- the appeal period has elapsed; or
- an appeal has been heard and the court of appeal has upheld the adult sentence.

YCJA records are accessible to persons listed in s.119 of the YCJA (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/Y-1.5/page-13.html?txthl=119#s-119>) , or if a court order is obtained pursuant to s.119(1)(s) of the YCJA (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/Y-1.5/page-13.html?txthl=119#s-119>) .

Exception for information about courtroom location and future court dates

Daily court lists providing the courtroom location for YCJA matters are available to the public. These lists include the initials of a young person and the charges they are facing.

Court staff will not release the young person’s name in a YCJA matter.

Future court dates in YCJA matters are available to the public if sufficient information is provided to allow court staff to access the information in a reasonable amount of time. The following are examples of information that may be necessary to allow court staff to locate the information:

- court file number;

- last court date;
- charges against the young person; and
- date of birth.

If an exclusion or sealing order has been made in the YCJA matter, disclosure of next court date information is not permitted.

2.2.2 Pre-Enquête documents and recordings

Intake is presided over by a justice of the peace and is a forum for the police and individuals to bring Informations before a justice of the peace in order to lay criminal charges.

The justice of the peace may conduct a pre-Enquête hearing to determine whether legal process should issue (meaning, whether an Information is sworn and then whether to issue process by way of a summons or warrant). Pre-Enquête hearings are not open to the public.

If process is issued

For both private and Crown prosecutions, if process is issued, the documents of the pre-Enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served, unless there are legislative restrictions to access (for example, the YCJA) or a court order restricts access.

If process is not issued

If process is not issued, the documents and tapes of the pre-Enquête hearing are not publicly accessible.

2.2.3 Documents relating to a peace bond application

An individual or peace officer may make an application to the court for a peace bond to request that a person be ordered to keep the peace. To begin the application, the complainant presents an Information at an initial interview with a justice of the peace.

If the justice of the peace issues process, any documents relating to the application are accessible to the public once the defendant has been served with the summons (or in rare circumstances, has been arrested), unless otherwise ordered by the court. If the justice of the peace refuses to issue process, there is no public access to the documents.

2.2.4 Search warrants (s. 487 of the Criminal Code)

A search warrant is a tool that permits investigators to search specified locations (such as a residence, office or vehicle) and seize particular items. Warrants are not necessarily tied to a specific individual.

Specialized search warrants also exist for:

- the seizure of bodily substances for DNA analysis;
- controlled drugs and substances;
- counterfeit money;
- hate propaganda;
- lumber or lumbering equipment;
- obscene material;
- precious metals; and
- proceeds of crime.

General warrants permit peace officers to use devices or investigative techniques described in the warrant if a search and/or seizure without it would violate section 8 of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/const/page-12.html>) (the right to be secure against unreasonable search or seizure).

DNA warrants are publicly accessible if the warrant has not been sealed by court order.

Search warrants and general warrants, including those under the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-38.8/>) , are publicly accessible, if:

- the warrant has not been sealed by court order;
- the warrant has been executed and a seizure has been made; and
- a Report to a Justice (Form 5.2) has been filed with the court office by the relevant police or investigating service or an Order of Disposition has been made by the presiding judicial official

- Depending on the police or investigating service, it may take some time for the Report to Justice to be filed with the court, if a seizure has been made.

Court staff do not have the authority to provide any information about the search warrant or related documents (including confirming the existence of an application for a search warrant) if:

- the warrant has not been executed;
- the warrant was executed but nothing was seized; or
- things were seized, but a Report to Justice has not been filed by the police or investigating service or an Order for Disposition has not been made.

This is consistent with rulings of the Supreme Court of Canada and ensures that ongoing investigations are not compromised and that privacy rights are respected.

If the individual seeking access believes that a search warrant has been executed, but there is no information publicly accessible at the court counter, they may wish to obtain further details from the police or investigating service.

Requesting access to search warrants

Individuals seeking access to search warrants must provide enough information for court staff to identify the records sought. This most commonly includes the location (for example, an address) searched and/or the date the warrant was executed and may also include, when known, the:

- name of the person (often a police officer) or agency who sought the warrant;
- name of the judicial official who approved the warrant; and/or
- date the search warrant was issued.

Search warrants are filed by location to be searched and date of search. If an individual does not know the address and/or date of search, court staff will attempt to assist the requester, however sufficient information to allow court staff to identify the requested warrant is necessary. Search warrants are not filed by name of an individual subsequently charged as a result of an investigation.

Tracking warrants and number recorder warrants (s. 492.1 and s. 492.2 of the Criminal Code)

Staff must seek judicial direction when a third-party requests access to tracking warrants issued under section 492.1 and number recorder warrants issued under section 492.2 of the Criminal Code. (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-46/>)

Sealed warrants

Under subsection 487.3(1) of the Criminal Code (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-46/page-71.html?txthl=487.3#s-487.3>), the presiding judicial official may, upon application, make an order prohibiting access to and disclosure of documents related to any warrant. This is referred to as a sealing order. Access to sealed warrants is only permitted if the sealing order provides exceptions for specific persons or by further order of the court.

A sealing order typically provides the date the file was sealed and the name of the judicial official who sealed the documents, but it does not disclose information about the content of the warrant. Assuming that is the case, the sealing order is accessible unless otherwise ordered by a judicial official. However, if the sealing order contains confidential information that is under seal, judicial permission is required for access.

Given the confidential nature of sealed records and the limited information available to court staff where a warrant is sealed (for example, the location, address or subject searched is often itself confidential), staff may not always be able to identify the warrants sought.

Persons seeking access to the sealed materials may bring an application to the judicial official who made the order or to a judge of the court where any proceedings arising out of the investigation may be held.

2.2.5 Arrest warrants (warrants in the first instance and bench warrants)

Warrants of arrest (also known as Warrants in the First Instance) may or may not be filed with the court. Practices for filing warrants of arrest vary depending on the police service. If a warrant of arrest or copy of a warrant of arrest is in the court file, it is only publicly accessible after the accused has been arrested or has received a summons, provided no other public access restrictions apply (for example, the YCJA).

352B

Bench warrants may also be issued and executed anywhere in Canada against a person who does not appear in court or remain in attendance for his or her court appearance. Information about these warrants is publicly accessible, provided no other public access restrictions apply (for example, the YCJA).

2.2.6 Production orders

A production order is made by a judge or justice of the peace and is similar to a search warrant. When a production order is made, the person in possession of the information identified in the order must produce it upon request to the law enforcement agency. There are five different types of production orders:

- General production order – requires a person to produce or prepare a document from data in his/her possession or control.
- Financial data production order – requires a financial or commercial institution to produce account details, such as the name and other identifying information about the owner, the status and type of account, and the day it was opened or closed.
- Trace specified communication production order – requires a person to prepare a document containing data that identifies a device or person involved in the transmission of a communication.
- Transmission data production order – requires a person to prepare or produce a document providing information including the origin, destination, date, time or duration of a telecommunication.
- Tracking data production order - requires a person to prepare or produce a document containing data about the location of an individual or thing.

Information about an application for a production order, the documents or information provided is publicly accessible if:

- the production order has not been sealed by court order;
- the production order has been executed; and
- documents or data were produced in response to the order.

2.2.7 Court files and documents under Criminal Code publication bans

When a publication ban is imposed by the court (for example, s. 486.4 related to sexual offences or s. 517 related to judicial interim release or bail hearings) or is automatically provided for (for example, s. 542 related to preliminary hearings), the court file and documents are still accessible to the public. Staff will notify the recipient that the file or document is under a publication ban and will warn him or her that publication, broadcasting or transmitting in any way the information governed by the publication ban could be a violation of law.

2.2.8 In camera / publicly-excluded proceedings

Under various sections of the Criminal Code (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-46/>) [1], the public may be excluded in whole or in part from a court proceeding. These proceedings are known as in camera or publicly excluded proceedings. If the public is excluded from a court proceeding, the public cannot access the records relating to that portion of the proceeding, except by court order.

2.2.9 Court files and documents in section 276(2), section 278.2, section 278.92(2) and O'Connor applications

Applications to:

- determine the admissibility of a complainant's sexual activity (s. 276(2) of the Criminal Code (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-46/section-276.html>));
- determine whether there will be production of third-party records in sexual offence cases (s. 278.2 of the Criminal Code (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-46/section-278.2.html>)));
- determine the admissibility of records relating to a complainant that are in the possession of the accused (s. 278.92(2) of the Criminal Code (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-46/section-278.92.html>))); and
- determine whether there will be production of third-party records in non-sexual offence cases (O'Connor applications).

require that specific documents be filed with the court. These documents may be filed at the time of the application or before the court date

Applications for a hearing and hearings to determine admissibility under s. 276(2) or s. 278.92(2) must be held in camera.

For s. 278.2 applications, the judicial official will consider the application in a mandatory in camera proceeding. If the judicial official orders the record be produced to the court, the judicial official may hold an in camera hearing to determine whether to produce the record to the accused.

Documents filed in advance of these mandatory in camera proceedings are not publicly accessible prior to the court hearing, except by court order.

For O'Connor applications, a hearing will be held to determine the relevance of third-party records. There is no mandatory requirement that the hearing be held in camera. However, an order excluding the public may be requested by one or both of the parties either at the time of the application or in their documents filed before the court date. Until the judge hearing the application determines whether or not the public should be excluded, any documents filed in advance of these proceedings are not publicly accessible, except by court order.

2.2.10 Identifying information about witnesses

Section 486.31 of the Criminal Code (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-46/page-66.html?txthl=486.31#s-486.31>) allows a court to restrict disclosure of any information that could identify a witness in a criminal proceeding if the order is in the interest of the proper administration of justice. Upon an application by the prosecutor or witness, a hearing will be held to determine whether the order should be made. These hearings may be held in camera and until the judge hearing the application determines whether or not the public should be excluded, any documents filed in advance of the application are not publicly accessible, except by court order. If the court grants the non-disclosure order after the hearing, identifying information about the witness is not publicly accessible, without judicial permission.

2.2.11 Mental health assessments

Access to the materials listed below requires judicial direction:

- assessment reports prepared for the court under s. 672.11 of the Criminal Code (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-46/page-98.html>) (mental disorder);
- any written information filed with the court regarding an accused person's fitness to stand trial;

- any written information filed with the court regarding whether an accused person should be found not criminally responsible due to mental disorder;
- all records relating to assessments ordered by a judge in a criminal proceeding under s. 21 or 22 of the Mental Health Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90m07>) ; and
- all records relating to applications to a Justice of the Peace under the Mental Health Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90m07>) for an order for an examination by a physician of a person thought to be suffering from a mental disorder.

As previously noted, any reference to Youth Criminal Justice Act (<https://www.laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/y-1.5/index.html>) information contained in Mental Health Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90m07>) records is not publicly accessible.

2.2.12 Sealed files and documents

A sealing order typically provides the date the file was sealed and the name of the judicial official who sealed the documents, but it does not disclose information about the content of the sealed documents. Assuming that is the case, the sealing order is accessible unless otherwise ordered by a judicial official. However, if the sealing order contains confidential information that is under seal, judicial permission is required for access.

Please refer to the section “2.2.4 Search warrants (s. 487 of the Criminal Code)” (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-3>) ” for information about access to sealed search warrants.

2.2.13 Cannabis Act ticketable offence proceedings

The federal Cannabis Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-24.5/>) contains prohibitions on the recreational use of cannabis. For certain offences under the Act, persons 18 years of age or older may be dealt with using a criminal ticket instead of being prosecuted under the usual criminal process.

Pursuant to the Act, records of criminal tickets are not accessible if the accused:

- pleads guilty to the ticket or is convicted of the offence and all outstanding fines are paid; or
- accused is convicted of the offence and has served, in full, any period of imprisonment imposed as a result of a default in payment of the fine.

Where access to these matters is restricted, court staff must not allow access to the court documents and must not disclose the existence of documents to any person.

2.2.14 Documents relating to absolute and conditional discharges

This section does not apply to absolute discharges imposed as a result of a ticket under the Cannabis Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-24.5/>) . Information on access to those records can be found in the section “2.2.13 Cannabis Act ticketable offence proceedings (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-12>) ”.

The Criminal Records Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-47/>) denies public access to criminal records:

- after one year, if the defendant has received an absolute discharge; or
- after three years, if the defendant has received a conditional discharge.

The Province of Ontario has adopted this policy with regard to court documents that are the subject of an absolute or conditional discharge. The access period commences from the date the discharge was imposed by the judicial official.

If an absolute or conditional discharge has been ordered, court staff must not allow access to the court documents and must not disclose the existence of these documents, after the specified periods noted above, to anyone other than the person who is the subject of the discharge or counsel acting on his or her behalf. Requests for access by the person who is the subject of the discharge must be made in writing to the court.

2.2.15 Documents relating to record suspensions and expungements

If a record suspension has been granted, documents relating to the original conviction in the custody of a department or agency of the Government of Canada are not publicly accessible, without prior approval of the Federal Minister of Justice. The Province of Ontario has adopted this policy with regard to court documents that are the subject of a record suspension.

If an expungement has been granted, documents relating to the original conviction in the custody of a department or agency of the Government of Canada will be destroyed or removed from its repositories or systems.

328
If a record suspension or expungement has been granted, court staff must not allow access to the court documents and must not disclose the existence of these documents to any person, other than the person who is the subject of the record suspension or expungement or counsel acting on his or her behalf. Requests for access by the person who is the subject of the record suspension or expungement must be made in writing to the court.

2.2.16 Records of convictions under section 10.6 of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA)

Effective November 17, 2024

Section 10.6 of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-38.8/>) (CDSA) provides that records of convictions in respect of an offence under section 4(1) of the CDSA must be kept separate and apart from other records of convictions within certain time periods.

The Province of Ontario has adopted this policy for records of convictions for CDSA section 4(1) drug possession.

If a person has been convicted of drug possession under CDSA section 4(1), court staff must not allow access to the record of conviction of the CDSA section 4(1) offence and must not disclose the existence of that conviction, in accordance with the applicable time periods in section 10.6 of the CDSA, to anyone other than the person who is the subject of that conviction or counsel acting on their behalf. Requests for access by the person who is the subject of the conviction must be made in writing to the court.

This section of the policy does not apply to YCJA records. For the policy in relation to access to YCJA records, please refer to section 2.2.1.

2.3 Index books

In criminal cases, index books are not accessible to the public, as they may contain information about documents for which access is prohibited.

2.4 Dockets and case event lists

2.4.1 Pre-court docket and case event list

The pre-court docket or case event list is a list of names of the accused persons and the charges scheduled to be heard in a specific courtroom, on a specific date, and at a specific time.

Pre-enquête, Youth Criminal Justice Act (<https://www.laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/y-1.5/index.html>) and Prevention of and Remedies for Human Trafficking Act, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17p12>) restraining order dockets must remain confidential and are not publicly accessible. All other pre-court dockets are publicly available.

Court staff must make pre-court dockets or case event lists available to the public at no charge, by either posting the docket or list in a location convenient to the public or by making it available at the court counter. A copy of the docket can be provided on payment of the prescribed copy fee (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents#section-2>).

The daily court lists (<https://www.ontariocourtdates.ca/>) provide users with basic next day case event information for Ontario Court of Justice and Superior Court of Justice cases, subject to certain restrictions. Website users may choose a court location and case type from drop down lists. A list of scheduled matters to be heard the next day at that location will then be displayed.

Hearing lists of the Ontario Court of Appeal (<http://www.ontariocourts.ca/coa/en/caselist/>) are also available the week before matters are to be heard.

2.4.2 Post-court docket and case event list

The post-court docket or case event list is the same as the pre-court docket or list, with notes outlining the judicial decisions for each charge listed.

The post-court docket or list is publicly accessible, except to the extent that it includes cases that:

- have been sealed;
- are subject to a specific court order restricting access;
- are applications for restraining orders under the Prevention of and Remedies for Human Trafficking Act, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17p12>);

- pertain to youth matters; or
- are outside legislated disclosure periods (for example, access to some matters are time limited, including absolute and conditional discharges, as outlined in the section “2.2.14 Documents relating to absolute and conditional discharges (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-13>)”, and records of convictions under section 10.6 of the CDSA, as outlined in section “2.2.16 Records of convictions under section 10.6 of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/c-38.8/>) (CDSA)”).

Court staff must make post-court dockets or lists available to the public for viewing at no charge. If a copy of the docket or list is requested, staff should charge the prescribed copy fee (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents#section-2>) .

Note: Due to storage limitations in the court office, some older court dockets and lists may not be immediately available at the court counter. The time required to access older dockets and lists that are not stored in the court office might be longer.

2.5 Provincial Offences Act court documents

As noted previously in the section “1.1 Open and accessible court system (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents#section-0>)”, municipal partners administer court files and documents in Provincial Offences courts under a transfer agreement with the province. In general, court documents related to the Provincial Offences Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90p33>) (POA) are publicly accessible, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

However, the following court documents for Provincial Offences Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90p33>) proceedings are not publicly accessible:

- all records relating to an application for an order of examination under the Mental Health Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90m07>) , unless access is approved by a justice of the peace; and
- all proceedings against young persons commenced under Part VI of the Provincial Offences Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90p33>) .

Search warrants issued under the Provincial Offences Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90p33>) are accessible in accordance with the policy for criminal search warrants. In general, search warrants are accessible if:

- the warrant has not been sealed by court order;
- the warrant has been executed and a seizure has been made; and
- a Report to a Justice (Form 5.2) has been filed with the court office by the relevant police or investigating service, or an Order of Disposition has been made by the presiding judicial official. Depending on the police or investigating service, it may take some time for the Report to Justice to be filed with the court, if a seizure has been made.

For more detailed information about accessing search warrants, see section “2.2.4 Search warrants (s. 487 of the Criminal Code)” (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-3>)

2.6 Prevention of and Remedies for Human Trafficking Act, 2017 court documents

The Prevention of and Remedies for Human Trafficking Act, 2017

(<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17p12>) (PRHTA) allows victims, or potential victims, of human trafficking to apply for a restraining order. Unless legislation, a common law rule or a court order restricts access, records of such applications are publicly accessible if:

- an application is made with notice to the respondent; or
- an application is made without notice to the respondent, the order is granted, and the respondent has been served.

Where an order is made without notice to the respondent, the application form and any supporting affidavits may be provided only to the sheriff and members of the police service to assist in carrying out service of the restraining order.

In all other circumstances, judicial permission is required before court staff can provide any information about a PRHTA restraining order or related documents, including confirming the existence of an application for such an order.

2.6.1 Court files and documents under Prevention of and Remedies for Human Trafficking Act, 2017 publication bans

When a publication ban is automatically provided for under subsection 10(1) of the PRHTA, or a publication ban is imposed by the court under subsection 10(2) of the PRHTA, PRHTA restraining order court files and documents are still accessible to the public. Staff must notify the person who is accessing the file or document that it is under a publication ban and must warn them that publishing, broadcasting or transmitting the information governed by the publication ban in any way could be a violation of law.

2.7 Criminal court documents

Criminal court staff can provide information and copies of court documents relating to matters that are either before the court or have been before the court in the past in accordance with these policies and procedures, as long as no other access restrictions exist. If an individual received an absolute or conditional discharge, if the individual has a record of conviction subject to section 10.6 of the CDSA, if the criminal record is subject to a record suspension (pardon) or if the court documents are sealed by court order, access is limited and information and court documents will be provided only in accordance with "2.2.12 Sealed files and documents (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-12>)", "2.2.14 Documents related to absolute and conditional discharges" (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-13>), "2.2.15 Documents relating to record suspensions and expungements (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-14>)" and "2.2.16 Records of convictions under section 10.6 of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act (CDSA)".

A request for access to criminal court documents should include a combination of information that will permit staff to accurately identify the individual concerned, which most commonly will be name and date of birth. In some circumstances where a name is common, further information such as home address, date of offences or charges may be required in order for court staff to accurately identify the individual. The combination of information required will vary depending on what is necessary to correctly identify the requested information in a particular case.

Some people believe that court staff can provide an official criminal record check. The court case tracking system is not a comprehensive database of criminal charges or criminal dispositions and does not constitute an official criminal record. Only police services can undertake an official criminal record check for employment or related purposes.

Section 3: Public access to civil court files and documents

3.1 Courts of Justice Act provisions for public access

Section 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>) (CJA) provides for public access to civil court documents.

Upon payment of the prescribed fee, members of the public are entitled to see any current list maintained by the court of civil proceedings commenced, any documents filed in a civil proceeding, or any judgments entered, unless a statutory provision, common law rule or court order restricts access.

3.2 Statutory restrictions to public access

Statutory provisions restrict public access to the following civil court documents:

3.2.1 Documents regarding Parental Responsibility Act matters

Documents filed in the Small Claims Court in relation to the Parental Responsibility Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/00p04>) that include evidence obtained under the Young Offenders Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/y-1/index.html>) (YOA) or Youth Criminal Justice Act (<https://www.laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/y-1.5/index.html>) (YCJA) must be treated like Young Offenders Act or Youth Criminal Justice Act documents and are not publicly accessible. See section “2.2.1 Documents in Youth Criminal Justice Act Proceedings (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-criminal-court-files-and-documents#section-1-0>) ” for details on public access to these documents.

3.3 Files and documents under publication bans

In general, when the court imposes a publication ban, the public can still access the court file and documents. Staff must tell the person who is accessing the file or document that it is under a publication ban and must warn him or her that publication could be a violation of law.

3.4 Sealed files and documents

A sealing order typically provides the date the file was sealed and the name of the judicial official who sealed the documents, but it does not disclose information about the content of the sealed documents. Assuming that is the case, the sealing order is accessible unless otherwise ordered by a judicial official. However, if the sealing order contains confidential information that is under seal, judicial permission is required for access.

3.5 Daily filing list report

The Daily Filing List Report contains the court file numbers, names of plaintiffs and defendants, the Short Title of the proceeding, the Case Type, the Case Opened Date and the Initiating Document for proceedings commenced on that day, and may be made publicly available for viewing at no charge. Copies of the Daily Filing List Reports may be made publicly available on request on payment of the relevant copy fee (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents#section-2>) .

3.6 Case event lists and post-court dockets

The Daily Court Lists (<http://www.ontariocourtdates.ca/>) provide users with basic next day case event information for Superior Court of Justice cases, subject to certain restrictions. Website users may choose a court location and case type from drop down lists. A list of scheduled matters to be heard the next day at that location will then be displayed.

Hearing lists of the Ontario Court of Appeal (<http://www.ontariocourts.ca/coa/en/caselist/>) are also available the week before matters are to be heard.

Subject to orders of the court and the statutory restrictions outlined in section “3.2 Statutory restrictions to public access” (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-civil-court-files-and-documents#section-1>)”, the post-court docket and case event lists are public documents and may be viewed at no charge. A copy of the docket or list can be provided to members of the public, upon payment of the relevant copy fee (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents#section-2>) .

Note: Due to storage limitations in the court office, some older court dockets and case event lists may not be immediately available at the court counter. The time required to access older dockets and case event lists that are not stored in the court office might be longer.

3.7 Other documents related to civil proceedings

Other documents may be contained in the court file, even though they have not been filed in the proceeding within the meaning of s. 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>) . As section 137 does not apply to these documents, they are not automatically publicly accessible. Some examples of these documents include:

- correspondence between the trial coordinator and the parties to canvass available dates for events;
- correspondence between the court office and an individual regarding fees paid to court (for example, regarding an NSF cheque); and
- correspondence between the court office and an institution/agency (for example, police) necessary for the institution/agency to enforce or register an order
- fee waiver information.

These documents must be filed in the correspondence pocket within the court file. Court staff must remove the correspondence pocket from the file before providing the file to a member of the public for inspection. However, if the court staff require someone to provide a document to the court before "filing" something further (for example, court staff require a letter explaining, for the purposes of rule 61.13 of the Rules of Civil Procedure (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/regulation/900194#BK606>) , why certain parties have not been served), that document, even if it is the form of a letter, should be placed in the part of the file that is publicly accessible and not in the correspondence pocket.

Section 4: Public access to family court files

4.1 Courts of Justice Act provisions for public access

Section 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>) (CJA) provides for public access to family court documents.

Members of the public are entitled to see any current list maintained by the court of family cases started, any documents filed in a family case, or any orders signed, unless a statutory provision, common law rule or court order restricts access.

4.2 Notice requirements for public access

Rule 1.3 of the Family Law Rules (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/regulation/990114>) requires members of the public to give 10 calendar days' written notice before they may access certain court files under s. 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>). The written notice must be sent to the parties in the case, as well as the Children's Lawyer in some circumstances.

A member of the public is required to give 10 days' written notice before they can see any document filed in a case involving:

- A claim about decision-making responsibility, parenting time, or contact with respect to a child under the Divorce Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/d-3.4/FullText.html>) or Part III of the Children's Law Reform Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c12>);
- An order under Part I of the Children's Law Reform Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c12>); or
- International child abduction.

After receiving notice, a party then has 10 calendar days to bring a motion for a restricted access order, if they choose to do so. If a motion is made, court staff are not allowed to grant public access until the court determines the motion. If no motion is made, after the 10 calendar days have passed, the member of the public requesting access must file an affidavit (Form 14A) confirming the date they gave notice, to whom and by what method, and that they have not been served with a motion for a restricted access order. That person may then access the court file..

The following persons are exempt from the notice requirements under rule 1.3:

- A party or their lawyer
- A person authorized in writing by a party or the party's lawyer
- The Director of the Family Responsibility Office
- The Children's Lawyer
- A children's aid society
- Legal Aid Ontario
- Legal Aid Ontario

- A recipient, or an agency referred to in clause (b) or (c) of the definition of “recipient” in subrule 2(1) of the Family Law Rules (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/regulation/990114#BK9>) when attempting to determine whether it is a recipient
- A Crown Attorney, assistant Crown Attorney or Deputy Crown Attorney
- A police officer, First Nations Constable or officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, when acting in the course of their duties
- A service provider within the meaning of s. 149 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK205>)

4.3 Statutory restrictions to public access

Statutory provisions restrict public access to the following family court documents:

4.3.1 Child protection cases

Under subsections 87(4) and 121(8) of the Child, Youth and Family Services Act, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14>) (CYFSA), child protection hearings and appeals of child protection decisions are closed to the public, unless otherwise ordered by the court. Under subsections 87(5) and 121(8) of the Act, select representatives of the media may attend the hearings, unless the court makes an order excluding them. Subsection 87(8) of the Act prohibits the publication of any identifying information about a child, child’s parent or foster parent or a member of the child’s family in a child protection case.

Court staff are therefore not permitted to provide public or media access to court documents filed in child protection cases, including any warrant issued under the CYFSA, even to media representatives who attended the hearing.

4.3.2 Secure treatment cases

Secure treatment cases involve applications to the court to commit a child to a secure treatment program. Under subsection 161(7) of the Child, Youth and Family Services Act, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14>) (CYFSA), secure treatment hearings are closed to both the public and the media. Court staff are not permitted to provide access to court documents filed in these cases, including any warrant issued under the CYFSA.

4.3.3 Adoption cases and openness orders

Under subsections 204(1) and 215(6) of the Child, Youth and Family Services Act, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14#BK223>) (CYFSA), adoption hearings and appeals of adoptions orders are closed to the public. Subsection 204(2) of the CYFSA (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14#BK281>) states that court files concerning applications for adoption are only accessible to:

- the court;
- court employees;
- the parties and their lawyers or agents; and
- the Director or local director (appointed pursuant to subsection 53(1) of the CYFSA (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14#BK72>)) or children's aid society under the CYFSA (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14>) .

The files are not accessible to the public, including members of the media.

Under subsection 222(2) of the CYFSA (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14#BK305>) , the documents used in an application for an adoption order must be sealed with a certified copy of the original order placed within the sealed file. The sealed file can only be accessed through an order of the court or written direction of the Registrar of Adoption Information.

4.3.4 Proceedings under the Family Responsibility and Support Arrears Enforcement Act, 1996

The Family Responsibility and Support Arrears Enforcement Act, 1996 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/96f31>) , applies to cases involving the enforcement of support obligations in Ontario.

During a default hearing under the Act, the court may order a person who is 'financially connected' to the payor to file a financial statement and any other relevant documents with the court. Under subsection 41(24) of the Act, the person's financial statement or other documents must be sealed in an envelope in the court file and is only accessible through an order of the court.

Under section 54 of the Act, if a person needs information from another person or organization to enforce an order that is not filed with the Family Responsibility Office, the court can order that the requested information be provided to the court. The information that is obtained under this order must be sealed in an envelope in the court file. It is only accessible by court order, or in the other circumstances described in the Act at section 54.

4.4 Files and documents under publication bans

In family cases, other than cases under the Child, Youth and Family Services Act, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17c14>) (CYFSA), when a publication ban is imposed by the court, the public can generally still access the court file and documents. Staff must notify the recipient that the file or document is under a publication ban and must warn him or her that publication could be a violation of law.

4.5 Sealed files and documents

A sealing order typically provides the date the file was sealed and the name of the judicial official who sealed the documents, but it does not disclose information about the content of the sealed documents. Assuming that is the case, the sealing order is accessible unless otherwise ordered by a judicial official. However, if the sealing order contains confidential information that is under seal, judicial permission is required for access.

4.6 Index books

Family index books contain lists of court file numbers and names of the applicants and respondents. In family cases, other than, adoption, child protection and openness order cases, information in index books is publicly available at no charge.

4.7 Case event lists and post-court dockets

The Daily Court Lists (<http://www.ontariocourtdates.ca/>) provide users with basic next day case event information for Ontario Court of Justice and Superior Court of Justice cases, subject to certain restrictions. Website users may choose a court location and case type from drop down lists. A list of scheduled matters to be heard the next day at that location will then be displayed.

Hearing lists of the Ontario Court of Appeal (<http://www.ontariocourts.ca/coa/en/caselist/>) are also available the week before matters are to be heard.

Subject to orders of the court and the statutory restrictions outlined in section “Statutory restrictions to public access” (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-civil-court-files-and-documents#section-1>), the case event lists and post-court dockets are public documents and may be viewed at no charge. A copy of the list or docket can be provided to members of the public, upon payment of the relevant copy fee (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/fees-public-access-court-documents#section-2>) .

Note: Due to storage limitations in the court office, some older case event lists and post- court dockets may not be immediately available at the court counter. The time required to access older lists and dockets that are not stored in the court office might be longer.

4.8 Other Documents Related to Family Cases

Other documents may be contained in the court file, even though they have not been filed in the case within the meaning of s. 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>) . Because section 137 does not apply to these documents, they are not automatically publicly accessible. Some examples of these documents include:

- correspondence between the trial coordinator and the parties to canvass available dates for events;
- correspondence between the court office and an individual regarding fees paid to court (for example, regarding an NSF cheque)
- correspondence between the court office and an institution/agency (for example, police, Family Responsibility Office, Registrar General) necessary for the institution/agency to enforce or register an order; and
- fee waiver information.

These documents must be filed in the correspondence pocket within the court file. Court staff must remove the correspondence pocket from the file before providing the file to a member of the public for inspection.

Section 5: Public access to enforcement files

5.1 Documents in the enforcement file covered by section 137 of the Courts of Justice Act

Enforcement documents filed with the court fall under section 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>) (CJA) and are therefore publicly accessible, upon payment of the prescribed fee and provided that no statutory provision, common law rule or court order restricts access.

Examples of these documents include:

- writs;
- orders;
- schemes of distribution;
- notices of garnishment; and
- any other documents provided to the enforcement office on a form prescribed by the rules of the court.

5.2 Other documents in the enforcement file

Other documents may be contained in the enforcement file, even though they have not been filed in the proceeding within the meaning of s. 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>). These documents are not automatically publicly accessible, and include any correspondence or material created or required by the enforcement office in order to conduct an enforcement (for example, appraisals, notice of sale, contracts for storage of seized goods, etc.).

For information on access to documents needed to enforce a support obligation, see section “4.2.4 Proceedings under the Family Responsibility and Support Arrears Enforcement Act, 1996 (<https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-and-documents/public-access-family-court-files#section-1-3>)”.

Section 6: Public access to exhibits

6.1 Exhibits in criminal cases

Exhibits may take many forms. Examples include:

- physical evidence (for example, guns, knives, clothing);
- photographic/electronic evidence (for example, photos, videotapes, audiotapes, compact discs);
- business documents (for example, phone records, bank records, business transaction records);
- expert reports (for example, psychiatric reports, crime scene analyses, toxicologist reports);
- forensic documents; and
- intoxilyzer technician's certificates of analysis.

Judicial consent is required to obtain access to court exhibits. Media and members of the public may fill out a simple request form (<http://ontariocourtforms.on.ca/en/access-to-exhibits-1/>) that will be submitted to the presiding judicial official, or if that individual is unavailable, to the Local Administrative Justice. The judicial official will provide direction about whether access may be granted (including any terms and conditions of access) or whether a formal application, on notice to the parties, is required to balance access rights, privacy interests and the proper administration of justice.

Media and members of the public should direct their inquiries to court staff who will provide a copy of the request form (<http://ontariocourtforms.on.ca/en/access-to-exhibits-1/>) and seek judicial direction about what is required in a particular case.

Returned Exhibits

An exhibit may be returned to the party who filed it upon the completion of the legal proceedings and after the relevant appeal period has expired. If an exhibit is no longer in the court's possession, an individual seeking access to the record/item may make a request to the party directly. If the party denies access, a formal application may be brought to the court where the proceedings were heard.

Exhibit Lists

An exhibit list is prepared in every criminal case to record all exhibits entered into court. Exhibit lists are publicly accessible documents unless they contain information about matters that are sealed or were held in camera.

6.2 Exhibits in civil and family cases

6.2.1 Exhibits filed in a proceeding

If the exhibit was attached to an affidavit and filed with the court, it is a document filed in a proceeding and is publicly accessible under section 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>) (CJA) unless a statutory provision, common law rule or court order restricts access.

6.2.2 Exhibits referred to in an affidavit

If an exhibit is referred to in an affidavit as being produced and shown to the deponent, the party does not attach the exhibit to the affidavit. Instead, the party leaves the exhibit with the registrar/clerk for the court's use. In this case, the exhibit is not "filed" with the court and is not accessible under s. 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>).

6.2.3 Exhibits entered into evidence during trial

If the exhibit was entered into evidence in the course of a trial (meaning, marked, numbered and entered on a list by the registrar/clerk), the exhibit is not "filed" in the proceeding and is therefore not covered by s. 137. These exhibits are within the control of the court and are not publicly accessible, except with judicial consent.

Members of the public may fill out a simple request form (<http://ontariocourtforms.on.ca/en/access-to-exhibits-1/>) that will be submitted to the presiding judicial official, or if that individual is unavailable, to the Local Administrative Justice. The judicial official will provide direction about whether access may be granted (including any terms and conditions of access) or whether a formal application, on notice to the parties, is required to balance access rights, privacy interests and the proper administration of justice.

Media and members of the public should direct their inquiries to court staff who will provide a copy of the request form (<http://ontariocourtforms.on.ca/en/access-to-exhibits-1/>) and seek judicial direction about what is required in a particular case.

6.2.4 Copies of exhibits in exhibit books

Since exhibit books are documents filed with the court within the meaning of s. 137 of the Courts of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90c43#BK184>), copies of exhibits contained in an exhibit book and filed with the Court of Appeal are publicly accessible, unless a statutory provision, common law rule or court order restricts access.

Section 7: Fees for public access to court documents

Note: Fees are subject to change.

7.1 Fees to access criminal court documents

7.1.1 Ontario Court of Justice and Superior Court of Justice

There is no charge to access criminal court documents or search criminal court files in the Ontario Court of Justice and Superior Court of Justice.

There is a fee to obtain a copy of a criminal court document. The Ontario Court of Justice fee schedule and the Superior Court of Justice fee schedule, which are regulations made under the Administration of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90a06>), set out the fee to be paid whenever a member of the public requests and is granted copies of all or portions of a criminal court record. The following copy fees apply:

- for copies of documents in provincially-administered Ontario Court of Justice courts:
 - not requiring certification, $1.00 per page
 - requiring certification, $3.50 per page
- for copies of documents in municipally-administered Ontario Court of Justice courts, also known as Provincial Offences Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90p33>) courts:
 - not requiring certification, $1.00 or $2.00 per page (depending on the municipality)
 - requiring certification, $3.50 per page
- for copies of Superior Court of Justice documents:
 - not requiring certification, $1.00 per page
 - requiring certification, $4.00 per page

3435
 Copies of informations, indictments and judgments and interim release documents shall be provided upon request to the accused and their counsel of record without copy fees being charged. Copies of Prevention of and Remedies for Human Trafficking, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17p12>) restraining order court files and documents shall be provided upon request to parties and their counsel of record without copy fees being charged. Requests should be made in person at the counter or in writing by mail or email.

7.2 Fees to access civil and family court documents and enforcement documents

7.2.1 Ontario Court of Justice

There is no fee to access court documents in the Ontario Court of Justice. Access to court documents, where there is no statutory provision or court order that restricts access, may be obtained at the originating or filing court. There is a fee to obtain a copy of a document. See Section 7.3.

7.2.2 Superior Court of Justice, and Court of Appeal for Ontario, Small Claims Court, and Enforcement Offices (Sheriff)

There is no fee to access court documents in:

- the Family Court branch of the Superior Court of Justice; and
- family cases heard by the Superior Court of Justice that are not appeals.

There is a fee to obtain a copy of a document in the Family Court Branch and in non-appeal family cases heard by the Superior Court of Justice. See Section 7.3.

There is a fee to access court documents in:

- the Court of Appeal,
- civil cases in the Superior Court of Justice, including estates, bankruptcy, and Divisional Court proceedings,
- family appeals in the Superior Court of Justice,
- the Small Claims Court, and
- Enforcement Offices (the Sheriff)

The following chart summarizes the prescribed fees under the Administration of Justice Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90a06>) to access court documents in the above courts and court proceedings. There are also fees to obtain a copy of a document. See Section 7.3.

[] These fees are not payable by, or on behalf of, a party to an application for or appeal of a restraining order under the Prevention of and Remedies for Human Trafficking Act, 2017 (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/17p12>) .

7.3.1 Fees for copies of endorsements

Court staff must provide copies of endorsements to parties to a case or their lawyer at no charge.

7.4 Fee waiver

There is a fee waiver mechanism for persons who might otherwise be denied access to justice because of their financial circumstances. Learn more about having court fees waived (<https://www.ontario.ca/page/have-your-court-fees-waived>) .

Exhibit “F”

Freedom of Information request

Learn what information and records you can access through a Freedom of Information (FOI) request, including who to request the information and records from and how to file a request.

Overview

You have the right to request information from certain government institutions including ministries in Ontario. This includes information from:

- Ontario government ministries, agencies, community colleges and universities covered by the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90f31>)
- Ontario municipalities and other municipal public sector organizations, such as school boards, library boards and police services covered by the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (MFIPPA) (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90f31>)

You can submit a Freedom of Information (FOI) request to:

- access general records, such as government reports
- request your own personal information, such as your medical and employment histories
- correct your personal information
- access another individual's personal information (with appropriate authorization or consent of the individual)

Anyone can make a request for information — there are no restrictions.

Before making a request, you may want to consult Ontario's Open Data Catalogue. (<https://data.ontario.ca/>) Ontario shares many datasets online to increase transparency and accountability. The data you are looking for could already be accessible online.

Step 1: Identify the institution and information or records

Before you make a request, you will need to identify which provincial or municipal public sector institution, such as a government ministry or municipal school board, is most likely to hold the information or records. If you don't know which institution holds your records, consult the table below.

If you don't know which institution holds your records, use our table to find frequently requested records from Ontario government ministries and other public sector institutions. It does not reflect all records available from a ministry or other public sector institutions.

You can also refer to the Directory of Records (<http://www.ontario.ca/page/directory-records>) for descriptions of information and records kept by provincial ministries and agencies to help identify the institution with the information or records you are looking for.

Institutions that fall under MFIPPA are responsible for their own Directory of Records. Please consult directly with the municipality for records and information in their custody and control.

The Directory of Institutions (<https://www.ontario.ca/page/directory-institutions>) lists and provides contact information for FOI coordinators for provincial and municipal public sector institutions covered under FIPPA and MFIPPA.

Depending on what you're looking for, supporting information or documentation may be required. Some information may be available and does not require an FOI request.

Note: The list below will help you find frequently requested records from Ontario government ministries and municipal police services. It does not reflect all records available from a ministry or agency.

Step 2: Submit an FOI request

There is a mandatory $5 application fee for each FOI request. There is no application fee for a request to make a correction to your own personal information.

Check with the institution you are seeking records from to see what forms of payment are available (for example, cheque, money order, credit/debit cards and an in-person option to use cash).

Processing fees

Additional fees may apply to process a request. The processing fee is determined by the:

- type of information you requested (for example, general records or personal information)
- format you wish to receive the information (for example, paper, electronic or multimedia records)
- total costs incurred by the institution to produce or prepare the information

You will receive a fee estimate from the FOI office or institution where you submitted your FOI request, if the processing fees will be more than $25. When processing fees are over $100, a deposit may be required.

You have the right to request a waiver of fees if the payment will cause financial hardship or if the information will benefit public health or safety. The FOI office or institution that receives your request for a fee waiver will discuss next steps in the process.

Online requests

Online requests can be submitted for many institutions by completing the Access or Correction request form online. (<https://forms.mgcs.gov.on.ca/en/dataset/on00089>)

File an online request (<https://forms.mgcs.gov.on.ca/en/dataset/on00089>)

Don't forget to include a detailed description of the records requested and any other relevant information, such as dates, addresses and/ or file numbers.

Requests by mail

You can submit a request by mail to any institution under FIPPA and MFIPPA.

- complete the PDF version of the Access or Correction Request form (<https://forms.mgcs.gov.on.ca/en/dataset/on00089>) (or submit a written letter that gives enough information to identify the records you want)
- if you are submitting an FOI request to the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks, complete and submit this form (<https://forms.mgcs.gov.on.ca/en/dataset/012-2146>),
 - Note: on the forms page, there are HTML and PDF versions of forms to allow for online and offline completion. There are descriptions under each form to explain when each form should be completed.
- refer to the Directory of Institutions (<https://www.ontario.ca/page/directory-institutions>) for the relevant institution address(es) to submit your completed form or letter.

Please note: if you are looking for records from municipalities, municipal police services, hospitals, or academic institutions, please contact them directly. The Directory of Institutions (<https://www.ontario.ca/page/directory-institutions>) provides contact information for FOI coordinators for provincial and municipal public sector institutions covered under FIPPA and MFIPPA. Step 3: The institution will process your request

The institution will review your request and begin their search. They may contact you for clarifications or notify you if a time extension is required to process your request.

Within 30 days, the institution will send you a decision indicating what information and records are available and what can be released to you. If any additional fees are required (for search-time, for example), the fees will be outlined in the decision.

You will receive your information or records via an email or link to a dedicated website if you submit online. If payment is required, the institution will only release the records or information once the balance of payment is received.

If you submit a request by mail to any institution under FIPPA, correspondence and records released in response to your request will be provided by mail.

File an appeal or make a privacy complaint

You have the right to appeal any decision about access to records (including fees) made by institutions that are covered under FIPPA (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90f31>). This includes appealing a decision if your request for information is denied.

Appeal a decision

You may file an appeal with the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario (IPC) (<https://www.ipc.on.ca/>) by:

- downloading and completing an appeal form (<http://www.ipc.on.ca/english/Resources/Forms/Forms-Summary/?id=199>) (or by submitting a written letter to the contact below)

- submitting the form to the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario within 30 calendar days of the institution giving notice of its decision

Appeal fees:

- $10 for appeals related to access to, or correction, of your personal information
- $25 for appeals related to access to general records

Learn more about the appeals process (<http://www.ipc.on.ca/english/Access-to-Information/Appeals-for-Public/>)

Make a privacy complaint

If you think that your personal information has been improperly collected, used, or disclosed by a public institution, you have the right to make a complaint (<https://www.ipc.on.ca/privacy-individuals/filing-a-privacy-complaint/>) to the IPC (<https://www.ipc.on.ca/>) of Ontario.

Contact us

If you have questions or need assistance with your FOI request, please contact the Freedom of Information and Privacy coordinator (<http://www.infogo.gov.on.ca/infogo/#orgProfile/1803/en>) at the institution that holds the information.

The Directory of Institutions (<https://www.ontario.ca/page/directory-institutions>) also lists and provides contact information for FOI coordinators for provincial and municipal public sector institutions covered under FIPPA and MFIPPA.

Ontario's privacy laws include the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90f31>) (FIPPA) and the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (<https://www.ontario.ca/laws/statute/90m56>) (MFIPPA). Madam Chief Justice, Regional Senior Justices, Esteemed Sirs, and Mesdames

VOLUME I: INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND OF THE DISPUTE

1. I respectfully yet regrettably write regarding the above. I respectfully ask that this correspondence and attachment is directed to the Chief Justice of the West Region and Regional Senior Justice of the Toronto Region.

2. As with all of my letters and emails of any non-cursory style, they are dictated at first instance in light of some serious impairments I sustained as a result of more MRIs, examinations and assessments, my recent diagnosis is far worse than it once was with, inter alia, degeneration in my L3-L4, L4-L5 and L5-S1 effect, I am only getting worse and degenerating. As such, I reserve the right to amend this correspondence for any errors of a grammatical, spelling and qualifiers but the substance will remain the same.

3. As there is no public email per se for the CJ of the OCJ, RSJ's of the two relevant court regions, I ask that the recipients confirm the forwarding of this email to the regional senior justices of the relevant regions. This email will be emailed under the relevant threads for historical accuracy along with consecutive sequencing.

4. Any issues that have arisen with the SCJ will be addressed separately.

5. If I do not hear back within a reasonable time, I will ensure that this email and attachments with Exhibit "A" to "F" is sent via fax and mail to the relevant parties.

6. I pen this missive with profound gravity concerning the aforementioned subject matter. For a protracted period, spanning several months, my assiduous efforts to the Attorney General Court Services Division Guide (hereinafter, the "MAG CSD Guide"), as meticulously delineated in Exhibit "E" (pages 75-112) with an egregious dereliction of timely response, or indeed, any substantive communication whatsoever, regarding the provision of access to indispensable information.

7. I stand as the accused in the matter styled R. v. McLean, a proceeding partially, albeit problematically, evidenced by a document I unequivocally call "Document Package" (Exhibit "A"). This designation arises from a meticulous comparative analysis with Exhibit "B" (pages 7-13), a six-page comparative information package. The patent and palpable distinctions between Exhibit "A" (pages 1-6) and Exhibit "B" (pages 7-13) inexorably lead to the conclusion that Exhibit "B" (pages 7-13) is a six-page document consistently bearing footers on each page, a structural integrity conspicuously absent from Exhibit "A" (pages 1-6) page 5 of 5.

8. Furthermore, as evinced by my antecedent electronic correspondence addressed to the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse (as per my request with unwavering courtesy, professionalism, and an amicable disposition, persistently sought true copies of the information package in its pristine state, as it was at a temporal juncture presently unknown to me. The only iterations of the information package currently in my possession date from Spring 2025 and contain demonstrably false documents, particularly with reference to Exhibit "A" (page 3 of 5), which purports to contain an "intake and court endorsement" but is not signed by Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri. Exhibit "A" (page 3 of 5), purporting to be an intake court endorsement without any actual endorsement, paradoxically, digital, handwritten, or electronic imprimatur is discernible to the naked eye. This renders it, prima facie, a false document.

9. Moreover, this page contains a footer, or a quasi-footer, with content erroneously duplicated from Exhibit "A" (page 1 of 5). The proximate cause of this duplication is the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, attributed to Ms. Ally (without any imputation of personal culpability to her), indicates the product of GrapeCity Inc. (formerly known as GrapeCity Inc., now MESCIUS USA Inc.). I have previously articulated the problematic features inherent in GrapeCity Inc., particularly in relation to version 6.0.2.0 of GrapeCity Documents PDF, which was generated in 2023. This constellation of issues is not contained in the Document Package (Exhibit "A"), encompassing, inter alia, the incorrect placement of content and the programmatic failure to re-establish footers on subsequent pages particularly after the purported signing and/or digital signing by a Justice of the Peace or a Provincial Court Judge of your esteemed Ontario Court of Justice.

10. It remains ignotum to me whether Mr. George Jiri, a Justice of the Peace assigned to the Brampton courthouse of your esteemed and honourable Ontario Court of Justice, or a constable (constable, detective constable, or plainclothes constable with the 52nd Division of the Toronto Police Services Board, or Toronto Police Services Board) was somehow inserted into a purported intake court endorsement (Exhibit "A", page 4 of 5), asserting a digital signature that is patently absent. Further, the lack of court endorsement per se exists renders it subject to being a document that would not be processed within the recently established Criminal E-Intake Portal and Axon Evidencing (formerly Taser Inc.).

11. I have initiated separate and distinct requests under the PIPEDA with both of these organizations, as their operations in Ontario fall under the jurisdiction of the Ontario Legislature not having sought an exemption to enact its own provincially issued, passed, and Royal Assented privacy statute. I have received responses from both organizations, however, I have yet to procure a response from Axon Evidencing, which is a data collection and management Portal, established through contractual and approved measures by the Attorney General of Ontario and the Solicitor General of Ontario.

12. As articulated in my detailed and highly analytical correspondence with the various courthouses (see Exhibit "C" (pages 14-46) and Exhibit "D" (pages 47-112)) with contacting the originating courthouse to procure court records, documents, and information. I recognize that my standing differs from that of a mere bystander given that I am the accused in the proceeding styled R. v. McLean, bearing the information number 4810 998 24 48129169, subsequently truncated to a nine-digit information number. It is my understanding, subsequent to diligent and exhaustive research, that the information number is not universally provided to all courthouses. In the "Notes" version of the attached documents, I note that I was apprehended and arrested on October 2, 2024 (the "Arrest Date").

13. While I need not delve into the granular particulars or antecedent circumstances of my apprehension, suffice it to state that it was predicated upon : Toronto Police Service, 14th Division, located at 350 Dovercourt Road, Toronto, Ontario. He represented that the TPS had somehow acquired certain collection within seven days. He further threatened or imposed a sanction, or consequences, for non-collection within the stipulated seven-day period if property would result in its transmittal to the Property Evidence Management Unit (“PEMU”) of the Toronto Police Services Board (the “TPS”). Given much of it confidential, to which I had not consented to the TPS’s receipt, if such was indeed the case, the modus operandi was highly suspect.

14. Secondly, the facta reveal that I was effectively ensnared into an attempt to procure my signature on a property receipt notice, whereupon Constable Ro promptly inquired, “Harassment in relation to whom?” He responded, “Nicole Artopoulos.” I rejoined that I had not been communicating with her, save for previously referenced in my responsive email to Constable Romano’s missive on the evening of Wednesday, October 2, 2024. I then responded, in a state of me, including the alleged complainant, to which Detective Constable Michael Kolankowski retorted, “No, I warned you.” I responded, “That’s impossible.” Romano then represented, “We have an arrest warrant.” Knowing full well that an arrest warrant must be issued by a Justice of the Peace, Provincial Court demanded to inspect it. They responded, “We’ll talk about that downstairs,” referring to the incarceration or prison quadrant of the 14th Division of the TPS. The arrest warrant.

15. With the benefit of hindsight, it has become apparent that certain arrest warrants may not be endorsed at the time of issuance, making, or giving. I comprehending the contents of the standardized pro forma information package (Exhibit “B”, pages 7-13), which references a Criminal Code Form 2 Information or Superior Court Judges are typically required to affix their name and date on page 4 of 6 of that standardized information package (Exhibit “B”, page 7 of the standardized package, presuming it bears reasonable similitude to the one I obtained from the Lincoln County Law Association, located in St. Catharines, Ontario, that there may be minor administrative distinctions between the pro forma package revised or most recently updated in June 2018. I note that the footer in the package (of 5) is not from October 2020. While approximately a year and a half elapsed between those two documents, and the reference to “e” after the final “of” package whereby an informant may duly declare his or her evidence as opposed to having it sworn before a Justice of the Peace or any other justice capable of that solemn occasion, there cannot be substantial distinction, save perhaps for the removal of language on page 4 of 6 of the 2018 pro forma information package.

16. It is patently evident that there are errors, indeed egregious errors, inconsistencies, and a lack of compliance with formality therein, which can be seen in the originally submitted and filed documentation in the form of that information package, presumably around September 23, 2024, by reference to the date of authority for the digital signature (see: the Canada Evidence Act and its jointly associated or attendant regulation, the Secure Electronic Signature Regulation, and the knowledge and a practice of the law of evidence that the final piece of language contained before the jurat must be reasonably proximate to the same and precisely what has transpired herein. Please refer to Exhibit “A” (pages 1 and 2) for the referenced discrepancies. You will also observe errors in the footer when compared to Exhibit “A” (page 1 of 5), in that the bracket “[” lacks spacing between it and the “e” after the “C.” This can occur when utilizing Microsoft Word 6.0.2.0.

17. My inability to ascertain the complete factual matrix stems from the palpable lack of adherence to the Ministry of the Attorney General Court Services Exhibit “E” (pages 75-112) and Exhibit “F” (page 114), the latter being the web page from the Ontario government that provides directives to request access to court documents, court information, and other records of activities, all of which are enshrined under the open court principle, which is natural under Section 2(b) of our Charter protects listeners as well. I occupy two distinct roles: that of the accused and that of a member of the public. I am entitled, pursuant to the Court Services Division Guide, effective June 2019 (which has not been amended since the time of my request to the present, a somewhat moot point in page 112), to access, upon request and without fees, an information and an endorsement. As such, I have adopted the position, consistent with the aforementioned the Criminal Code Form 2 Information without fee and upon request. My interpretation of the standard English Dictionary definition of the word “upon” and/or immediately upon my request.

18. As noted, it may be impracticable to disaggregate the Form 2 Information, as it relates to the Criminal Code, when juxtaposed with the document dated 2020.” In my considered view, the information package encompasses multiple distinct sections of the MAG CSD Guide, thereby entitling me to a copy of the Form 2 Information pursuant to the Criminal Code’s statutory schedules. Moreover, I am entitled to a copy of any and all ends of the CSD Guide Section 7.3 (Exhibit “E”, page 112). There has been, as you will observe, some debate concerning an accused’s entitlement to a copy of an arrest warrant, would not be filed per se by the law enforcement agency, namely the Toronto Police Service, or the Attorney General or the Attorney General Sections 505, 506, 507, and 508 concerning a Form 2 Information under the Criminal Code. In this regard, I am unaware of the submitting party, if you will, package by reference to this “CCO,” which I believe to be “Criminal Code Ontario” by colloquial language and/or acronym. In this regard, I would also also (Exhibit “B”, page 10 of 13), which is conspicuously absent from the false information package (Exhibit “A”). I also note the missing page 5 (Exhibit “A”) and other modes of trial, whether by judge alone or judge and jury.

19. For your contextual edification, and with utmost respect for your invaluable time, I believe, and hope you share the conviction, that this matter is not limited to listeners within our country and those who seek access to records pursuant to the open court principle, as enshrined under Section 2(b) of the Charter. I am acumen, which is likely unparalleled, particularly at your lofty position. However, I do reference the case styled Toronto Star Newspapers Limited v. Attorney General of Ontario, Superior Court of Justice. As noted in that case, it can be cogently argued that the open court principle is not merely a legal construct; it has withstood the test of time in the United Kingdom, which was transposed and transferred herein, subject to derogation and removal by our common law courts (excluding Quebec), which is fundamentally a sine qua non of democracy, enabling active and decisive action in elections concerning various governmental bodies, namely municipal, provincial, and federal. It is not particularly involved with the Ontario Court of Justice, but it is with the Superior Court of Justice, pursuant to the judicature sections of our Constitution Act.

20. In this regard, I note that the Ministry of the Attorney General and the Ontario Court of Justice, pursuant to cases such as Valente, necessitate an acknowledgment of the judicial and executive branches. As the Honourable Minister of the Attorney General, Mr. Douglas Downey, is not only a member of the executive branch, it is imperative to acknowledge that such distinctions and boundaries are unequivocally required. While I take some issue with the prescribed method for making information public, it is the extant system, and its efficacy is neither here nor there at this juncture concerning any inherent issues with the MAG CSD Guide. I shall refer to the CSD Guide, with reference to its implicit and explicit notation that the open court principle governs the same. As there are no restrictions by way of the Criminal Code proceeding (which presumably commenced at the time of the making of the Form 2 Criminal Code Information, although it remains unclear if the Frugoni-Rojas was, in fact, the actual informant), the principle must prevail.

VOLUME II: SYSTEMIC ISSUES AND OPERATIONAL DEFICIENCIES

21. While I have engaged in communications with various divisions or subdivisions of the MAG CSD Records Division, which I understand is located at the Toronto Police Service, I am concerned that the record-keeping and record management, or the inability or unwillingness to disclose true copies from a temporal perspective, has not been a terribly embarrassing moment for the Toronto Police Service if it was, in fact, responsible for the manipulation of documents utilizing that, respectfully, current

Inc. in being a certificate authority (which GrapeCity Documents is not). However, embarrassment is not a justifiable basis for non-compliance with the principle endeavoured to be as diligent and respectful of the time and resources of the two courthouses over which you exercise supervisory jurisdiction. Never deceptive responses, or indeed, the outright silence (which can constitute a wilful misrepresentation), from the MAG court staff, officers, employees, or bargaining agreement as a unit with the Crown in Right of Ontario) persist. It remains that the courts and, ergo, the judiciary, and specifically the highest-ran Honourable Chief Justice Nicklas, bear responsibility for the supervisory jurisdiction encompassing these matters.

22. It remains unclear to me whether there has been any communication between yourself or your office as the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice to know the decision involving Mr. Beamish, an adjudicator for the Ministry of the Attorney General of Ontario, in that when an access request is directed is utilized by the court staff to then communicate with the Office of the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice. I presume a similar protocol exists administrative mechanism for communications to be documented and provided between court staff and the courts, thereby precluding a direct line of communication at that level of divide when it pertains to an ongoing proceeding. However, when a request is made for court documents and information, including a Form 2 Arrest Warrant (if endorsed), in my view, that level of communication and divide must cease or disintegrate to some degree.

23. In this regard, I obviously do not possess your direct electronic mail address, nor do I seek to obtain such. Rather, I draw this to your attention with Exhibits “A” (pages 1-6) to “F” (pages 113-120), which is not in the form of an affidavit, as that would be unnecessary per se, but which has each page remain sanguine that you will recognize that, in any situation, irrespective of whether an individual is an accused or not, the rule of law must trump any for the Ministry of the Attorney General, such that the judicial branch of government maintains its separation of powers. It remains unknown to me whether were engaged in manipulation per se, or whether they merely received a copy of the false document package from the Toronto Police Services or the Attorney “Court Officer” Frugoni-Rojas, is not a police officer per se; they would likely fall under the definition of a public officer or peace officer under the Criminal Code. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas and was met with a rather stern or blockade-type response from an actual detective of the TPS, Detective Rizwan Mohammed respected her right to effectively invoke her right to remain silent per se. I informed Detective Mohammed that I had a right to ask for adverse inferences, but Mohammed.

24. As I have ascertained, two distinct systems operate within the Ontario Court of Justice and the Superior Court of Justice, with the former operating a system. It remains my belief, sworn under oath, that the Superior Court of Justice, by deductive reasoning, must have been the originating courthouse for the Criminal Proceedings Rules enacted under the power of Section 482.1 of the Criminal Code by the Superior Court of Justice) of any documents to an original reviewing further documents and information (albeit with some false material particulars contained therein), it is without question that it was a Toronto Justice of the Peace George Jiri, would be rather impossible or unfounded, as Brampton was not an area that could involve the same. You will note that features two commas after “NFA,” which I have come to understand means “no fixed address.” This is juxtaposed inconsistently with Exhibit “A” (page reference to my driver’s license number, which had my fixed address (Apt 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3), which remains my fixed therein, from a fixed address to a non-fixed address, was by design and in some way intended to involve Mr. George Jiri, Justice of the Peace Jiri, who is Justice of the Peace Review and Complaints Committee (to which I confirm I have not made any such complaint at this time and do not intend to, because involved him). I do not wish to speculate per se, but I may have to exercise that route if I continue to be stonewalled by this process, with no rights to Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario, which would have ceased these communications as I would have filed an appeal long after a 30-day rights, I address you with great respect and with utmost deference and admiration for your role as the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice, belated open court principle as it relates to all of the courthouses that operate in Ontario under your supervisory jurisdiction. I can also confirm for you that I was to narrow the issues and/or to obtain documents that would provide a train of inquiry to obtain access to other documents within my records request documents contained in Exhibit “C” (pages 14-46) and Exhibit “D” (pages 47-74), namely documents and emails addressed to the Ontario Court courthouse and the Toronto Armoury Courthouse (where I understand you are so located). I had been extremely specific in what I was seeking from those cacophony or certitude of auto-replies, stonewalling, and attempts to redirect me to other courthouses. I find all of this to be incredibly troubling, and I idiosyncratic to my person.

25. In attempting to maintain a professional, amicable, and public interest approach, I have exerted my utmost efforts to research these issues and draw jurisdiction from an Ontario Courts of Justice perspective. However, without a singular contact to receive a response (albeit presuming some of the response package, through no fault by reference specifically to Ms. Ally of the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse), this cannot be the standard of this country and its provinces. While I appreciate that the Ontario Court of Justice may have only received what it did at a certain time, it has failed to that information as an accused. This is not a matter of seeking disclosure from the Crown (which obviously would be further false information if it, in fact the TPS), but nonetheless, it is within the control of the judiciary, which is neither part of the executive nor the legislative branch of government. While the without inherent jurisdiction, the requirement to follow the Charter is binding upon all.

VOLUME III: ANALYSIS OF THE “FALSE DOCUMENT PACKAGE” AND SOFTWARE ANOM

26. I provided prior notice and warning, with great respect, to the various courthouses of the Ontario Court of Justice, including the Brampton Courthouse response by July 30, 2025, with a potential long weekend of a statutory holiday upcoming, I would be necessitated to draw this to your attention as of the time be forwarded to your attention by a separate email thread, along with hard copies to be received by you, which I trust you are receiving in advance and given Judicial Council is the oversight body for the Superior Court of Justice in Ontario, I do not believe that the Canadian Judicial Council oversees such conduct the Ministry of the Attorney General. As I transition from reviewing the FRANK system and ICON system type reports, or having them commingled and advanced and experienced system for handling such records, whereas the FRANK system is not. However, it is not unforeseen and has occurred previously by way of an intake court hearing or a pre-enquête hearing (which is ex parte to myself and in camera to the public) are then transferred to the Ontario occurred or when it does occur, because there are certain instances where it must occur or does occur. However, I note that the Criminal E-Intake Portal is to the newness or lack of history with the FRANK system, the checking of documents, records, and information associated with a certain courthouse courthouse, which are under the independent jurisdiction, control, and custody of a Superior Court of Justice, namely said courthouse. I appreciate that the systems and to utilize a new system that will replace both, but for the time being, this is our current reality.

27. It should go without saying that most of the courthouses, irrespective of whether they possessed records or not, were required to provide me with a held any such records, so that I was not, proverbially, “spinning my wheels” and pursuing any further follow-up requests. As noted, I am not the author of namely an information and any endorsements, or where the endorsement may only be contained within the information package and not in a duly completed judicial officer with a date and a signature of the judicial officer (which may be handwritten, electronic, or a digital signature with a verifiable and recognizable GrapeCity Inc. is not designated by our federal government as a certificate authority or trust authority for digital signatures; rather, it is primarily, if not engage in the modification, change, and manipulation of documents, which has occurred herein without any question whatsoever. This does not preclude development of documents that can be used without the payment of subscription fees to entities like Adobe Inc. or DocuSign for the purposes of filling out for the usage of GrapeCity Documents PDF, as per the metadata that you will observe within the emails contained in Exhibit “D” (pages 48-55) (reference subscriber of such, and that was the metadata contained therein, which I note must not be altered as to the PDF producer or the application software utilized in correspondence with the Ontario Court of Justice, particularly the Toronto Armoury Courthouse, there is no place for GrapeCity Inc. for an end-user of the Court of Justice, because an end-user would merely need to input information as it relates to certain court appearances (which would be on page 3 of 6 of an authentic page 5 of 6 (Exhibit "B", page 11 of 13) as it relates to various other information (which I note would require the signature of a judge, not a Justice of the Court of Justice, page 10 of 13) to note that any information input therein would simply be in the fields or boxes as it relates to information on Crown election, which I call to the attention of the licensee lawyer, represented to me in an email with the Crown's election to proceed summarily. I confirm that I need not delve into the merits or lack thereof of the Notice of Application pursuant to the Criminal Proceedings Rules with the Superior Court of Justice to seek various declarations as it relates to certain documents, void, and null, and have no force and effect. Moreover, I have sought certain remedies as it relates to quashing in the nature of certiorari, but also as it relates to the Court of Ontario can grant. I have also sought various requirements by virtue of the Criminal Proceedings Rules, which requires managers of court operations at the courthouse and the Toronto Armoury courthouse, to provide their required certificates with duly authorized signatures of managers of court operations pursuant to the Superior Court of Justice. To my knowledge, they have not provided certificates at this time, but that is not an issue that is per se relevant in my current context.

VOLUME IV: LEGAL ENTITLEMENTS

28. Should you possess any queries concerning the materials I have tendered to you, I welcome an open dialogue from you to me by whatever medium you prefer for that communication, because I maintain an open style. Nonetheless I am entitled to a copy of any Form 2 Informations as they were when made and laid out for PDF 6.0.2.0).

VOLUME V: CONCLUDING ARGUMENTS AND CALL TO ACTION

29. One can understand but not condone the motive of the TPS, if it was it, to manipulate the signature or endorsement of JP Jiri on a document titled "It was not endorsed at the time of arrest, then it was an unendorsed arrest warrant and I was disentitled to be released on a Form 10 Undertaking which I was of time. It would render the entirety of the "criminal proceeding" a nullity and a non-commencement of a "criminal prosecution".

30. Nothing shall be construed herein as debating the merits or my challenges to the same as this correspondence is solely on account of my entitlements. In any event, context was required.

31. In light of the foregoing, and with an unwavering commitment to the principles of transparency, probity, and the unimpeachable integrity of the judicial system, I implore the immediate provision of true copies of any and all court records, court documents, and information previously requested. I further implore, Madam Justice, to direct the court staff of the relevant courthouses within the Ontario Court of Justice to furnish these materials forthwith. The expedited provision is merely a matter of administrative expediency but a fundamental imperative to uphold the rule of law and the public's confidence in the judicial system.

32. While regrettable to have to invoke such an approach, I intend to exhaust all of my rights until my requests pursuant to the MAG CSD Guide are satisfied.

33. In closing, so long as I receive honest, transparent and precise responses with honest, transparent and accurate records from the times requested, I will accept the requests of each of the courthouses within the OCJ.

34. Thank you in advance for your anticipated compliance.

Yours faithfully,

/KAM

Mr. Kevin A. McLean

Dear Esteemed Recipients:

Volume I: Introduction

1. I am providing you with this courtesy copy to formally confirm the indispensable measures I am compelled to undertake, contingent upon the improbable Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse. These aforementioned measures, which transcend the scope of the preceding enumeration, encompass the inherent right a attachments thereto, to the express attention of the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice, or the designated office thereof. On an interim basis, I re transmitted to Her Ladyship. I shall, pari passu, furnish separate copies directly to her attention. Furthermore, I shall disseminate a copy of this electronic Sinnadurai and other pertinent officials within the Ministry of the Attorney General (Civil) and the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division correspondence, documents, and records, I shall endeavor to be somewhat comprehensive in light of the aforementioned copying and forwarding protocols.

2. This correspondence is dispatched to formally apprise you of a grave jurisprudential matter concerning the veracity and foundational integrity of a documer Armoury Courthouse, which has been disseminated to a transferee judicial body.

3. Upon meticulous forensic examination of the embedded metadata within the aforementioned simulacrum of an Ontario court form package relevant to the designated Information Package 4810 998 24 48129169-00.pdf (hereinafter referred to as the “False Document” or “False Document Package”), it has been cor corporate entity formerly known as GrapeCity, Inc. (hereinafter, “GrapeCity Inc.”), including the GrapeCity Documents application (hereinafter, the “GrapeCit Portable Document Format (hereinafter, “GrapeCity PDF Application” or “GePDF”), identified by the following precise digital indicia:

a. Application: Grape.City.Documents.PDF-6.0.2.0; and

b. PDF Producer: Grape.City.Documents.PDF-6.0.2.0.

4. It is incumbent upon this representation to unequivocally state that the panoply of deficiencies and anomalies evinced within this five-page documen documented issues and inherent limitations frequently associated with the GrapeCity Documents Software, particularly its iteration tailored for Portable Dc edification of all pertinent parties, a compendium of relevant information concerning this software is herein appended.

5. GrapeCity Inc., a privately held, multinational software corporation headquartered in Sendai, Japan, is principally engaged in the development of sophisti development services, comprehensive consulting services, and advanced Customer Relationship Management (“CRM”) solutions. The corporate nexus of Gra operational hubs in the United States, Japan, India, China, South Korea, Mongolia, Vietnam, and Albania. The enterprise has additionally established WINE facility situated within Japan.

6. The corporate transformation of GrapeCity, Inc. to MESCIUS, USA, underscores a continued commitment to excellence and product innovation. The developers, designers, and architects with an unparalleled compendium of preeminent JavaScript and .NET components, including but not limited to grids, repo controls. The intrinsic value proposition of these instrumental aids lies in their capacity to expeditiously resolve complex developmental challenges, thereby lib pursuits such as creativity, innovation, and systemic optimization.

7. While that is the ostensible value proposition, it is noted, infra, that such capabilities can be subject to abuse through the surreptitious manipulation of documents or document packages which expressly incorporate a Criminal Code Form, which is a Form 2 “Information.” As the Toronto Police Service is manda Criminal Code Offence (CCO) Information Package to one of two designated repositories (contingent upon its election or choice):

a. Ontario Court of Justice: the Criminal E-Intake Portal;

b. Superior Court of Justice (Toronto Region): via electronic mail to the Superior Court of Justice Criminal Intake electronic mail address (vide: Toronto.SCJ.C

8. As there is no extant evidence concerning the Criminal E-Intake Portal, including the manipulation of the George Jiri input and the purported “digita handwritten, electronic, or digital, is conspicuous), alongside the fact that this matter was never properly commenced as a “criminal prosecution,” being a “Toro my geographical location, and the purported complainant’s geographical location as a matter of one of the eight regions), then the Superior Court of Justice w Region, where the “criminal proceeding” (juxtaposed to “criminal prosecution”) was, presumptively speaking, commenced by the making and laying of a Crimi of the CCO-2-000-1-C information packages, with modifications for the CCO-2-000-1-C-e (hereinafter, the “Electronic Information Packages”). The Electrc Criminal Code, particularly section 508.1(2), which pertains to declared evidence as opposed to evidence tendered under oath. Nonetheless, pursuant to section Form 2 may be laid by telecommunication, a term not explicitly defined under the Criminal Code but which would be subsumed under either “audioconference” In any event, any intake court hearing or pre-enquête hearing, which would constitute the inaugural hearing in a criminal proceeding, but not necessarily the “fi the presiding judicial officer (hereinafter, the “Presiding Judicial Officer”), is ex parte to the accused and in camera to the public. However, that does not if writing’), as the ex parte in camera hearing is statutorily mandated to produce a writing as per section 508.1(1) of the Criminal Code.

9. Moreover, this assertion is substantiated by the following:

a. The Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Guide; and

b. The officially published document by the Government of Ontario pursuant to the requirement of authorized transcriptionists within the Province of Ontario.

10. I now comprehend the rationale underlying the Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Guide's representation that copies of arrest warrant invariably filed by the relevant law enforcement agency.

11. However, the manipulation of official documents is, lamentably, not an unprecedented phenomenon within the Toronto Police Service, as evidenced by the fact that "But that's not the case, according to pending disciplinary charges against Boag's superior, Det. Mark Beson.

CBC News attempted to contact Beson by phone and email. A representative for the Toronto Police Association said Beson was aware of this story before its publication — who is not currently suspended and next appears before the tribunal on Aug. 26 — faces seven disciplinary charges for allegedly spending Jan. 30, 2024, constables under his supervision drank alcohol on-duty.

More concerning though, say criminal defence lawyers, are the allegations that Beson later falsified records to conceal his team's misconduct."

A finding that Beson altered paperwork would "be substantial fodder for any criminal defence lawyer" who encounters the detective, defence lawyer Craig Zehev. "You have an officer who's willing to lie — why not willing to lie under oath? Why not willing to lie in court?" said Zehev.

"If you have an officer willing to fudge records to support his narrative, that can undermine many investigations, depending on his role in them."

Adam Weisberg, vice-president of the Criminal Lawyers' Association, agreed.

"If there's a lot of meat to this allegation ... I wouldn't be surprised if a lot of charges get stayed wherever this officer's evidence is key," Weisberg said.

(vide: <https://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/toronto/toronto-police-crash-tribunal-1.7593036>)

12. I do not posit that the Ministry of the Attorney General is employing such a rudimentary document manipulation tool as the GrapeCity PDF Application; how the Service was utilizing such an application or software. Herein, the sole detective known to me was "Detective Abdul," whom I subsequently ascertained, without the 52nd Division of the Toronto Police Service. Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri was formerly affiliated with the 52nd Division of the Toronto Police Service. Kolankowski is not, per se, a "Detective." Naturally, Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, in her capacity as a part-time contractor or employee of the Toronto Police Service within "South Toronto," which would encompass both the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, and the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, a court officer unequivocally affiliated with the Toronto Police Service (and not the Peel Police Services Board), would not be present at the Courthouse.

Volume II: GrapeCity Inc. Products, Software, and Applications Designed for Editing and Manipulation

17. Further elucidation regarding GrapeCity Documents PDF (GcPDF) reveals its constitution as a .NET library engineered to empower developers with the ability to manipulate PDF documents. It constitutes a potent instrument for the intricate handling of PDF files within the .NET ecosystem, furnishing capabilities for both high-level document construction. Its salient features and capabilities include, inter alia:

- a. Cross-Platform Operability: GcPDF manifests compatibility across a tripartite operating system spectrum: Windows, Linux, and MacOS;
- b. Core Object Model Adherence: The library's foundational object model scrupulously adheres to the PDF specification, thereby affording direct programmatically accessible features:

 - i. Pages;
 - ii. Fonts;
 - iii. Annotations; and
 - iv. A multitude of other elements.

- c. High-Level Feature Integration: GcPDF incorporates advanced functionalities enabling the architectural composition of intricate PDF documents, replete with complex graphical representations.
- d. Advanced Font Handling: It provides a robust and platform-agnostic engine for the comprehensive management of fonts and the sophisticated layout of textual content.

 - i. Nota bene: The fonts in the False Document Package are demonstrably discrepant, transitioning from Arial to Times New Roman to Courier (vide: metadata of the False Document Package).

- e. PDF Standards Compliance: GcPDF rigorously supports a multiplicity of PDF standards, notably including ISO 32000 (PDF 2.0).
- f. Document Manipulation Prowess: Developers are endowed with the capacity to seamlessly load, modify, and persist PDF files.

 - i. Nota bene: Any modification subsequent to its submission to the Originating Courthouse (vide: Ministry of the Attorney General, Court Services Division Guide).

- g. Image Export Versatility: PDF documents are capable of programmatic conversion into a diverse array of image formats, encompassing BMP, GIF, JPEG, PNG, and TIFF.
- h. Structural Modularity: GcPDF facilitates the facile merging and partitioning of PDF documents.

 - i. Textual Precision and Layout Sophistication: Included are advanced functionalities for text formatting and layout, encompassing comprehensive support for complex typographic considerations.

- j. Comprehensive Graphics Rendering: The library supports all prevalent graphical drawing and filling operations.
- k. Table Layout Engine: An integrated engine enables the creation of complex grid-based layouts within documents;

 - i. Nota bene: GrapeCity performed poorly in this regard (vide: page 4 of 5 in the False Document Package).

- l. Security and Encryption Protocols: Robust APIs for encryption and security are intrinsically integrated.
- m. Textual Analysis Capabilities: Tools are provided for the systematic identification of text, the generation of text maps inclusive of coordinate data, and the analysis of document structure.
- n. Integrated PDF Viewer: GcPDF additionally incorporates a client-side JavaScript PDF viewer control (GcPDFViewer) designed for the seamless display of PDF documents within web-based applications.

18. In summation, GcPDF presents a formidable and exhaustive toolkit empowering developers to engage with PDF documents within their .NET application from rudimentary PDF genesis (creation) to highly advanced document manipulation and meticulous analysis.

19. I confirm that I have never utilized GrapeCity Inc.'s products; consequently, the initial manipulation of the documentation therein, and subsequent additions thereto, by the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse. It is presumed.

20. Nonetheless, the Originating Courthouse is statutorily required to retain copies of the instrument originally submitted by the Toronto Police Service, albeit it was likely not Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, vide: discrepancy between the footer on page 1 of 5 of the False Document Package versus page 2 of 5 of the False Document Package. As you are aware, the Ministry of the Attorney General, through Mr. Sinnadurai, has conceded its inability to locate any filed Form 2 Informations under the False Document Package from August to October 2024. Based upon the foregoing,

21. Moreover, the Originating Courthouse is required to retain copies of any subsequently completed, box-checked, dated, and duly signed aspects of page 4 of 6 of the False Document Package.

Volume III: GrapeCity PDF Deficiencies, Incompatibilities with Adobe (PDF), and Common Errors During Manipulation and Modification

22. Notwithstanding its self-proclaimed, and in some instances, lauded PDF manipulation capabilities, GrapeCity Documents for PDF, despite its widespread adoption, exhibits significant operational deficiencies. These include, but are not limited to, excessive memory consumption, the intermittent manifestation of exceptions during document manipulation, and file corruption when subjected to linearization under specific conditions. Documented instances of such issues encompass exceptions encountered during the printing process.

the invocation of "Document catalog not found" errors, "Item already has an owner" errors, and "Object reference not set to an instance of an object" errors a footprint has proven particularly vexatious, with anecdotal reports detailing instances where the generation of substantial reports has led to the maximal utilization

23. Specifically concerning memory issues, users have reported a discernible surge in memory consumption during the export of reports to PDF subsequent to a deleterious effect can precipitate "Insufficient memory" exceptions or a marked degradation in performance, potentially impacting the operational efficacy of the errors, the component has been observed to recurrently generate exceptions during critical PDF management tasks, such as printing, loading, or saving particular "Document catalog not found," "Item already has an owner," and "Object reference not set to an instance of an object." Pertaining to linearization issues, the Documents for PDF has been empirically demonstrated to result in document corruption under a defined set of circumstances. Moreover, while GrapeCity Document constrained by inherent limitations extrapolated from the very PDF specification concerning the precise encryption algorithm and requisite key length.

24. While it is duly noted that GrapeCity, Inc. has endeavoured to ameliorate some of these identified issues through the release of subsequent updates, as evincing the persistent feedback from users regrettably indicates that certain problems may endure, or indeed, novel complications may emerge post-update or post-manipulation

Volume III(A): Issues with Footers (vide: False Document Package: pages 1 of 5 versus page 2 of 5 (vide: error in spacing on page 2 of 5 between “-e” and (rev.

25. A particularly salient concern pertains to the rendering of footers, wherein GrapeCity's PDF library may exhibit irregularities culminating in erroneous placement or addition or display of these critical document elements.

26. More specifically, the library may misallocate footers at divergent offsets across disparate pages, or even paradoxically render them within the header section to a “footer” on page 3 of 5 within the False Document Package, specifically in the Intake Court Endorsement [sic], wherein the header from page 1 of 5, or even (rev. 06/18), was incorrectly placed on page 3 of 5 in the False Document Package) is also demonstrably true as it relates to the instruments provided on two : Armoury Courthouse. This observation is not intended to impute fault to the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armory Courthouse, but rather to underscore the capabilities and limitations of the underlying electronic PDF Producer – herein, GrapeCity PDF Producer 6.0.2.0, which was generated in 2023.

27. Furthermore, a highly anomalous scenario has been observed where, in the presence of a defined header template without a corresponding footer, the inexplicably materialize within the footer area (vide: the language in the foregoing paragraph regarding “header” to “footer”). Conversely, if a footer template is may appear within the header area.

28. A more egregious defect arises when both header and footer templates are stipulated, yet neither manifests in the final rendering, as if their definitions were messages, potentially indicative of corrupted PDF files, necessitating investigative measures such as document sanitization, optimization, or re-exportation. Package.

Volume III (B): GrapeCity vs. Adobe:

29. In contradistinction to the programmatic utility of GcPDF, it is imperative to delineate the distinct operational ambit of Adobe Acrobat and Adobe Reader generate, peruse, and modify PDF documents, designed for autonomous operation irrespective of Adobe's software suite while striving, but not ensuring, for fidelity

30. However, it unequivocally does not constitute a functional substitute for Adobe Acrobat or Reader when the objective is the comprehensive viewing of sophisticated security mechanisms.

31. Herein, as GrapeCity was ostensibly utilized for viewing and subsequent editing, coupled with an apparent digital signature of Court Officer Frugoni-Roja requirements would be intrinsically embedded therein, further circumscribing the permissible usage of GrapeCity for the purposes of editing, modifying, and manipulation

Volume III(C): The “Backpage” and “For Administrative Purposes Only”

32. It is noted that the emendation by additions performed by the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armory Courthouse court staff is permissible, provided however, pages 1, 2, and 3 could not be legitimately modified post-facto. Page 5 of 5, notwithstanding the absence of the requisite pages 3 and 4 out of 6 in the un necessitates the input of the following particulars:

- a. “No. Of Information”:
 - i. Which is conspicuously absent therein;
 - b. “Return date”:
 - i. Which is conspicuously absent therein;
 - c. “Information against”:
 - i. Which contains “MCLEAN, Kevin”;
 - ii. Address: NFA , ON [nota bene: peculiar or anomalous spacing];
 - d. “Charge”:
 - i. HARASSMENT BY REPEATED COMMUNICATION WITH PERSON;
- [Refer to front page for further counts]

Volume III(D): “FOR ADMINISTRATIVE PURPOSES ONLY” SECTION on page 5 of 5 in the False Document Package and page 6 of 6 in the authentic copy

33. As is well-established within the purview of civil jurisprudence, a documentary adjunct, colloquially termed a “back page” or “data information page”—such Divisional Court proceedings—facilitates the ascertainment by the judicial administration of each originating and transferee courthouse, encompassing disparate

- a. The species of instruments tendered or formally issued by the judicial authority (presiding judicial officer):
 - i. Summons;
 - ii. Order to Show Cause;
 - iii. Primary Warrant; or
 - iv. Superseding or re-filed Information.

34. This is distinctly differentiated from a reportable motor vehicle offence, as delineated by section 199 of the Highway Traffic Act, and further from the singular

35. Furthermore, a dedicated data field is allocated for:

- a. Gender;
- b. Date of Birth;
- c. Whether the respondent held proprietary interest in a conveyance;
- d. Driver's License Identification Number;
- e. License Plate Indicia; and
- f. Involvement in a Vehicular Collision.

36. Subsequent thereto, additional data fields are designated for:

568
308

a. Informant:

i. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas

b. The date upon which the instrument was statutorily deemed sworn or affirmed (nota bene: the "e" reference within the False Document Package, wherein the page," is observed, alongside the spatial or dimensional attributes of said document);

i. September 23rd, 2024

c. Date of Apprehension:

i. Conspicuously absent within the False Document Package;

d. Attesting Officer:

i. Kolankowski, MI

ii. No: 82239

e. Law Enforcement Agency and Divisional Affiliation:

i. The Toronto Police Service, specifically its Fourteenth Division (notwithstanding the redundant designation);

f. Judicial Chamber:

i. Vacant;

g. Location:

i. The Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto, Judicial Chamber 204 (sic), situated within the IPV South precinct (sic), located at 10 Armoury Street, Toronto, Ontario, 37. Given that the preceding particulars pertain to the Primary Warrant (as indicated by the affirmative selection), it logically follows that the subsequent "Attesting Officer," "Law Enforcement Agency," and "Occurrence Number," in the conspicuous absence of any entry for "Date of Apprehension," would require September 23, 2024, thereby constituting a prior data input. This observation is further corroborated by the absence of an "Information Number" (an identifier for the apprehension of the accused, upon which occasion the charges, along with the duly confirmed, dated, and signed Process, including any pertinent release documents).

38. Naturally, the Toronto Police Service could complete the "Information Again" and "Address" fields (notwithstanding their demonstrable falsity and incongruity with the "Charge" designation, antecedent to its submission to the Originating Courthouse. Nevertheless, the Toronto Police Service would remain unapprehended, or indeed at any point, should the Process be ultimately repudiated by the presiding judicial officer.

39. Conversely, the designation "for administrative purposes only" strongly suggests that the instrument was either partially completed or intended for completion by the Toronto Police Service, contingent upon their explicit authorization to undertake such a task. Nonetheless, the absence of a specified judicial chamber necessitates the conclusion that, furthermore, the information provided is demonstrably erroneous, inasmuch as Judicial Chamber (Courtroom) 204 is not designated for ex parte or in camera proceedings.

Volume III(E): GrapeCity Documents for PDF (GcPDF):

40. Principally engineered as a .NET library, its fundamental raison d'être lies in facilitating the programmatic manipulation of Portable Document Format documents. Its autonomy permits the generation, emendation, and archival preservation of PDF instruments entirely sans reliance upon the proprietary applications of Adobe Acrobat. Its emphasis is unequivocally centered upon furnishing a comprehensive panoply of functionalities for the creation and sophisticated manipulation of PDF documents and intricate textual arrangement. It maintains a robust compatibility across the .NET Standard 2.0 and a diverse spectrum of .NET Framework iterations.

Volume III(F): Adobe Acrobat/Reader:

41. Serving as the quintessential industry-standard instrumentarium for the perusal, emendation, and comprehensive custodianship of Portable Document Format documents, it offers robust capacity for managing a diverse spectrum of PDF security protocols, including, but not limited to, password encryption and digital certification. Adobe Acrobat is the sole purpose of opening and perusing PDF files, non obstante any inherent editing capabilities per se.

42. The fundamental disparities and potential points of contention subsisting between these aforementioned applications warrant explicit elucidation:

a. Modification of Encrypted Portable Document Format Files: An instrument secured by virtue of password-based encryption or digital certificates unequivocally requires the use of the correct password or passphrase or certificates (vide: the regulatory framework denominated "SESR" under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act and the ambit of Adobe Acrobat).

i. Crucially, GcPDF may not inherently possess the capacity to directly process or surmount these intricate security paradigms.

1. This observation is particularly apposite in scenarios where the digital imprimatur affixed by a presiding judicial officer falls outside the purview of its signature have been affixed without recourse to Adobe's proprietary software, a cascade of additional complications would invariably ensue, as exemplified by the following:

b. Disparate Operational Paradigms: GcPDF primarily functions as an instrumental asset for software developers, meticulously designed to integrate PDF documents with applications. Conversely, Adobe Acrobat stands as the canonical instrument for end-users to engage with Portable Document Format files.

i. In essence, the judicial personnel of the Ministry of the Attorney General, who render services to the courts (vide: the designation of Mr. Henriquez's office), are not permitted to employ GrapeCity, given its classification not as an "end-user application" but rather as a "developer and programmer application."

c. Functional Equivalence: While GcPDF assiduously endeavors to conform with the Adobe Portable Document Format specification, it cannot axiomatically support for every singular functionality proffered by Adobe Acrobat.

43. Ergo, through an inexorable process of syllogistic deduction and an exhaustive extrapolation of the aforementioned technical and functional disparities, the document, originating from the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, and formally designated as "Information Package 4810 998 24 4812916 (denominated the "False Document Package)". This conclusion is further buttressed, inter alia, by prior correspondence and an exhaustive, albeit supererogatory, inherent limitations of the "GrapeCity Documents for PDF application," which, by its very nature and teleological design, is demonstrably ill-suited for the solemn imprimatur of judicial instruments. Consequently, any subsequent end-user activities undertaken by the judicial personnel of the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto, or computer software applications to ensure an unimpeachable standard of consistency, authenticity, and security.

44. The profound gravitas inherently associated with formal declarations of evidence and the official imprimatur of judicial officers necessitates an unimpeachable standard demonstrably compromised by the inherent characteristics of the software application presently under scrutiny.

45. In the regrettable and lamentable absence of a substantive rebuttal or comprehensive rectification pertaining to the foregoing particulars, I shall proceed to the ancillary evidentiary materials, to the Honourable Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice.

46. It shall be respectfully, yet unequivocally, requested that Her Ladyship exercise her inherent jurisdiction to intervene, her requisite supervisory authority over the court's systems management protocols within the Ontario Court of Justice, thereby guaranteeing, ab initio, that only authentically verified instruments are duly filed and that no transference is applicable.

47. It is a matter of profound and regrettable circumstance that the exigencies of the situation have necessitated recourse to such measures; however, the court's uncompromising adherence to probity in the custodianship and management of official documentation.

48. I have undertaken the deliberate endeavor to bring these critical findings to your esteemed attention, ensuring that the foundational references and ancillary : for their formal transmittal to the Honourable Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice. This comprehensive presentation is intended to apprise Her Ladysh and to underscore the imperative nature of the supervisory role, alongside the stringent controls and secure custodianship of the initial court documents, whic Justice, Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division) or may, per se, be solely domiciled therein. Nonetheless, substantive and expeditious responses were imperativ Armoury Courthouse, did not possess a duplicate of the aforementioned.

Dear OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, Mr. Henriquez and Office of the Minister of Attorney General:

This communication pertains to the aforementioned matter. This correspondence serves to reaffirm the exigent nature of the preceding request. Access encompassing, inter alia, the subcategory designated as the "Information Package" pertinent to the initial transferee court's utilization and all subsequent avoidance of doubt, the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, is herein formally designated as the "Transferee Courthouse." The foregoing foundational to this requisition.

Subsequent to a meticulous examination conducted with high-resolution analytical tools, it is observed that the CCO-2-000-1-C (June 2018 iteration), capital 'C', and positing minor revisions attributable to its electronic genesis (scilicet, telecommunication, as contemplated by section 508.1 of the Criminal Code) discernible when juxtaposing page 6 of 6 of the CCO-2 (2018) pro forma with page 5 of 5 of the partial CCO-2-C-e (2020) document. Specifically, under ensuing discrepancies are meticulously enumerated:

1. The 2018 pro forma:

a. C.V.O.R. No. (Commercial Vehicles Only), which is translated to: numéro C.E.C.V.U. (véhicules utilitaires seulement)

2. The 2020 CCO-2-000-1-C-e (2020), notwithstanding the manifest absence of the requisite footer on pages 3 and 4:

a. C.V.O.R. No. (Commercial Vehicles Only), which is translated to: numéro C.I.U.V.U (véhicules utilitaires seulement)

It is conceivable that this alteration in acronym constitutes one of the minor, revisionist amendments enacted between June 2018 and October 2020 witnessed by law enforcement agencies and sundry courts throughout the Province of Ontario, encompassing both the Superior Court of Justice and the Ontario Court of Justice (pro forma instrument). This particular alteration is conspicuously absent from the five-page document furnished to external legal counsel representing the transferee notwithstanding its striking similitude to a document containing subsequent augmentations on page 4 of 5 pertaining to my ensuing appearances.

As previously articulated, Mr. Rudra formally affirmed, in written correspondence addressed to me, that the Crown intended to proceed summarily, a process previously been duly annotated on page 4 of 6 of the CCO-2 of 2018 vintage. This observation is predicated upon the demonstrable fact that Mr. Rudra's presence at my appearances throughout 2024 and 2025; consequently, it is a logical inference that he was compelled to transmit this critical information to the OCJ Toronto. I mention that Mr. Leoni dispatched an electronic communication, characterized by a discernibly inequitable yet peremptory tone, instructing me to direct the direct pertinence of said inquiries to the OCJ (court) itself. This ancillary detail is presented solely for contextual elucidation.

While it is not contended that certain minor, and likely salutary, modifications have been introduced to differentiate between the CCO Form (2018) and the CCO Form (2020) pertain to electronically declared Criminal Code Form 2 Informations (as evinced by the excision of specific fields on page 4 of 6 related to the attestations of the Justice of the Peace: 'In the Province of Ontario this ___ day of ___ 20 ___; ___ Justice of the Peace'), it remains axiomatic that a distinct section ought to contain the name, date, and imprimatur of the judicial officer.

For the sake of comprehensive elucidation, it is further observed that page 1 of 6 of the CCO 2018 document, when contrasted with the partial CCO 2020 document, exhibits, in the latter iteration (as currently held by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse), an apparent maladjustment in its linguistic presentation.

- a. (1) McLean, Kevin [sic]: An inexplicable numerical prefix, (1), precedes the nominal entry, which, being extrinsic to my appellation, renders the fidelity of the entry questionable.
- b. The field designated for residential address, subsequent to my name, contains instead the incongruous notation "NFA, , [sic] ON."
- c. Concomitantly, the entry "DOB: 25 Mar. 1983" appears incongruously positioned, given that the "Date of Birth/date de naissance" is expressly stipulated to be the date of birth.
- d. Furthermore, although the 'package' provided by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse largely comprises congruent English and French translations of the instructional phrase "(enter the charges here/insérer les accusations ici)" is conspicuously absent.

Upon scrutiny of page 5 of 5 of the OCJ Information Package (which, prima facie, appears to be a mere simulacrum of the authentic document), it is observed that the "Return Date" are entirely omitted from the apex of said page.

A further incongruity is noted in the presentation of "NFA" and "ON" between page 1 of 5 and page 5 of 5, the latter exhibiting solely "NFA" followed by "ON".

It is respectfully requested that the aforementioned missing court records, documents, and information be furnished forthwith. Furthermore, it is again requested that the "information package's" receipt by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse be disclosed (specifically, whether on October 3, 2024, or any date interim October 2024 thereto).

Although the established courtesy deadline has elapsed, the epistolary communication addressed to the Chief Justice of the Ontario Court of Justice requires the immediate provision of the requisite materials. All enumerated demands shall remain in statu quo, enduring irrespective of any internal overruling itself, particularly by the Ontario Court of Justice in this instant matter, and potentially by the Superior Court of Justice by virtue of its transmission of the materials to the Armoury Courthouse, or, per contra, by its retention of said originals or their facsimiles.

Finally, nulla est quaestio that page 2 of 5 constitutes an erroneous and mendacious document, ipso facto attributable to the incongruous orientation of the 'accent grave' rather than the 'accent aigu' uniformly present on pages 3 of 5 and 5 of 5. Conversely, page 3 of 5, designated "Intake Court Endorsement", the application of bold typeface and the inclusion of a terminal period subsequent to the word "signed." Furthermore, it incorporates entries for "arrested" and "information" which, de jure, is exclusively situated on the initial page of the CCO-2-000-1-C pro forma. It is per se logical and reasonable that such data serving as an intrinsic component of a "bring forward system," rather than being redundantly replicated. Moreover, the necessity for a "Police Case ID" is expressly delineated on page 3 of 5. It therefore appears prima facie that solely the Toronto Police Service occurrence number, or indeed, that of any police identifier.

The MAG CSD Guide and the entrenched open court principle, as enshrined within section 2(b) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, maintained at the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, should the five-page document heretofore furnished to me and others, notwithstanding its purported prove to be anything less than veracious, comprehensive, and accurate, to your knowledge. In such a regrettable eventuality, the precise date and time Crown assumes paramount significance for all members of the public engaged in the exercise of their fundamental rights.

I convey my sincere appreciation for your immediate compliance with the requirements under the MAG CSD Guide and the Charter as it relates to the public and accused like myself have timely access and where applicable upon request access to the likes of a Criminal Code Form 2 Information and a

I have provided this detailed analytical email to ensure that there is no misunderstanding in the event I have to escalate today.

It would seem that Mr. Henriquez would know better than any individual of the MAG (court staff) as to what was received and when and I ask that he tell me that there must be a date of arrest on the page 6 of 6 of the required pro-forma but the TPS Information Package, a simulacrum of the same, has not in "at" on its page 5 of 5. Notably, the date of "deemed sworn/affirmed date" is included therein which would be input when it could be input which would be required when or if ever effected. It was effected, as admitted on your page 4 of 5 by reference to execution to a warrant in the first which is consistent with the number, which would have provided my fixed address, is often required for requesting any "Informations", "warrants" et al whether in the ICON system date of birth, which the TPS did input as correct, so that may have been required in any event.

I believe, based upon previous communications with other courts, that the OCJ often refers to the Information and then "ST" for South Toronto when referring to believe that the originally input data by TPS (which is Toronto Police Services Board not "Toronto Police Service [sic]") would have been "SCJT" or "SCJ-Toronto, Ontario, which houses both criminal and family law.

It likely would have read:

At/ A (Au) SCJT 361 University Avenue

Toronto, Ontario, M5G 1T3

As we know from the page 3 of 5, it is impossible that the "courtroom" could have been missing along with the way in which the TPS referenced

"OCJT #204 IPV South

10 Armoury St, Toronto ON M7A 0B9"

There is no such thing as "South 10" per se. It strikes me as this was completed by the TPS or a court officer who may have been attempting to engage follow the requisite steps.

Irrespective of the same, there is no requirement to have a referenced courtroom number under the "At" or a reference to IPV as that is at the top of the

Re: Urgent Request for Remedial Action and Clarification Regarding Purported Court Documents and Procedural Irregularities

I submit this correspondence in furtherance of preceding communications, prior to the established deadline of Monday at 11:30 a.m., with the express intent

In a spirit of collegial cooperation, I must herein articulate my profound consternation that the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Court compendium of judicial endorsements pertaining to a bench warrant, alongside precise temporal indications regarding its receipt of the "Information Package" material manipulation, evinced inter alia by the discernible omission of pages three and four from the extant CCO-2-000-1-C Ontario government form previously conveyed, I find such purported activities profoundly regrettable, yet demonstrably necessary to address. Furthermore, I hereby extend an inv succour with respect to this matter prior to the conclusion of the present business day; such intervention would be received with considerable appreciation. Should this overture for proactive resolution remain unaddressed, it will become incumbent upon me to invoke the supervisory jurisdiction and inherent power control and custody of the court's own processes. Ultimately, the locus of ultimate responsibility for the integrity of the judicial process resides with the judicial Ontario Court of Justice.

While such systemic irregularities are, ex hypothesi, infrequent aberrations, I proffer this correspondence to ensure that the official record is rendered not merely serves as a succinct recapitulation of the salient issues and recent elucidations concerning the ostensible manipulation of documents, presumably attributable to It remains plausible, as intimated by the aforementioned courthouse (OCJ Armoury), that the purported "Information Package" — a mere simulacrum thereof facto, received by said courthouse until immediately antecedent to November 13, 2024, the date of my initial appearance. It appears improbable, though not subsequent fabrication of the Intake Court Endorsement (designated as page three of five within the contentiously presented "Information Package") transmitted from 9:00 p.m. on my Arrest Date (October 2, 2024) to the dawn of October 3, 2024.

One can only lament the absence of direct observation into the deliberations of the Toronto Police Service 14th Division officers during my period of detention. My perspective, ab initio, was that of an individual unjustly confined, rather than an impartial observer.

Whilst I am unequivocally appreciative of my release shortly before midnight on the aforementioned date, it remains an incontrovertible fact that my initial contention that an unendorsed arrest warrant was the true instrument issued, not the document per se as asserted by the Toronto Police Service. Consequently noting that they have remained unchallenged and undisputed.

I submit that the reference conveyed to me by my authorized agent from the Superior Court of Justice, Toronto Courthouse (Criminal Division) — specifically from the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse — implied that the Superior Court of Justice was the originating judicial authority, which subsequently to established jurisdictional protocols.

I reiterate my formal request for any and all documents pertaining to my person, beyond merely the name of the Informant, Ms. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas, a s confirm that this request falls squarely within the ambit of my Records Request dated May 9, 2025, which was subsequently particularized with greater specificity.

My insistence upon the provision of these documents is predicated upon a meticulous review of the "Information Package" furnished in Winter 2025 to (Toronto Police Service). This review revealed three disparate inscriptions pertaining to digital signatures on the ostensible Information Package, presenting problems:

- Page 2 of 5: "This document has been digitally signed / Ce document a été signé numériquement." (It is nota bene that the French diacritical marks accents, and there is an inexplicable absence of a period following the English word "signed.")
- Page 3 of 5 (devoid of the requisite footer): "This document has been digitally signed. / Ce document a été signé numériquement." (In this instance "signed," and the English portion is rendered in boldface. Furthermore, the French diacritics are accurately positioned from a translational perspective)
- Page 5 of 5: "This document has been digitally signed / Ce document a été signé numériquement." (Herein, the period after "signed" is correct. Conversely, the French diacritical marks are correctly rendered as acute accents on the words "été," "signé," and "numériquement." Moreover, this page Further analytical scrutiny reveals inconsistencies in the footers of pages one, two, and five: pages one and five exhibit a spatial separation between the 'e' and 'n' whereas page two conspicuously lacks this spacing. Ergo, the digital signature on page two, coupled with the conspicuously immense spacing between "C" and "on" leads to the conclusion that Constable Frugoni-Rojas was not, in fact, the actual Informant. It has always been an anomalous feature that a 'court officer' would be permitted common practice. Naturally, page two of five constitutes the most critical component of the "Form 2 Criminal Code Information," for without it, there exists no record of the Criminal Code. Additionally, page one of five, characterized by the aforementioned spacing between the 'e' and the brackets preceding the "revised re not limited to:

1. "NFA" (No Fixed Abode);
2. The insertion of two superfluous commas between "NFA" and "ON";
3. A date stipulating no communication between myself and the named female individual;
4. The ambiguous "On or about" reference;
5. The vague assertion of "personal safety" when the statutory requirement mandates that the individual must genuinely fear for her personal safety not referenced;
6. The reference to "Count 1," which implies the existence of additional counts per se;
7. The peculiar placement of parentheses immediately preceding my name;
8. A reference indicating the conclusion of "charges/counts" when only a singular charge was, in fact, articulated.

These demonstrable irregularities lead to the ineluctable conclusion that the designated informant is not the true informant. Furthermore, they compel the conclusion that the document per se, was subsequently manipulated to integrate the name of Constable Frugoni-Rojas and to effectuate other material alterations to the information. Page two of five is, ipso facto, a manipulated document by virtue of the aforementioned points.

Page three of five conspicuously lacks a footer, thereby precluding its inclusion as an integral component of the Information Package Common Ontario Form. This page, indicating that it was neither digitally signed nor otherwise signed. Pertinently, page three of five contains a bottom reference that pertains to the incorrect or presented in an improper format.

Page four of five likewise lacks a footer and, in a standardized Information Package Form, ought to be designated as page three of six.

Page five of five appears to possess the correct footer stylization, and its digital signature reference is accurate in terms of translation.

However, a closer examination reveals additional irregularities, including but not limited to:

1. The absence of an "Information Number" on page five of five suggests that this document must be the one utilized by the Originating Courthouse (matter). This inference is drawn from the presence of the Information Number on the first page, yet its absence on page five of five.
2. It is improbable that my driver's license number was a requisite datum for input; if it was, any reference to "NFA" (No Fixed Abode) would be illogical.
3. The critical date of arrest, October 2, 2024, is conspicuously absent where its inclusion is mandated.

Subject: Urgent Follow-Up: Requisition for Access to Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, Judicial Records, Documents, and General's Court Services Division Guide, and Formal Notice of Non-Compliance

Esteemed Sirs/Mesdames et al.:

This correspondence is tendered to address a matter of paramount import, necessitating prompt and unequivocal adherence to the established protocols governing the Province of Ontario. My consistent and diligent efforts to secure particularized court documents, as delineated within the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) (vide: <https://www.ontario.ca/page/freedom-information-request> and <https://www.ontario.ca/document/access-court-files-documents-and-exhibits>), regrettably, encountered persistent impediments, thereby compelling this direct appeal for intervention and redress. These protracted impediments are commencing with my initial email requisition to the 10 Armoury OCJ Courts (MAG) on June 5, 2025, at 8:39 AM (Page 2 of GMAIL~1.PDF), and continuing to July 1, 2025, at 12:35 PM (Page 6 of GMAIL Attachment), and July 21, 2025, at 10:32 AM (Page 7 of GMAIL Attachment).

The MAG CSD Guide unequivocally stipulates the entitlement of members of the public, and particularly accused individuals such as myself, to obtain unimpeded formal requisition. Specifically, this prerogative extends, inter alia, to:

1. Criminal Code Form 2 Information; and
2. Judicial Endorsements.

These provisions are neither discretionary nor subject to abrogation by court staff, who, nota bene, are employees of the Crown in Right of Ontario. The Attorney General, as an officer of the executive branch—with explicit oversight of court staff activities—and a member of the legislature, possesses the requisite authority to ensure scrupulous compliance. Lamentable that after numerous antecedent communications, courteously extended but demonstrably unavailing, the exigency of the present circumstances has compelled this recourse. This recourse, though undertaken with profound reluctance, has become an unavoidable consequence of the protracted non-production and non-disclosure of the requested materials.

Central to this protracted impasse is the elusive nature of a singular endorsement, purportedly rendered by "DJ"—a designation understood to signify "Default Judgment"—granted by the 10 Armoury OCJ Courts (MAG) on July 23, 2025, at 6:21 AM (Page 13 of GMAIL~1.PDF)—on the third day of October, anno Domini 2024. This precise temporal nexus of the endorsement is likewise referenced in my communication of July 24, 2025, at 11:44 AM (Page 66 of GMAIL~1.PDF). This specific endorsement assumes con-representations advanced before the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, that the Toronto Police Service (TPS) purportedly executed an arre October 2, 2024, at TPS 14th Division (Vide: Appendix #3: Detailed Particulars, Page 11 of GMAIL Attachment.PDF). Despite the purported execution of such duly furnished.

Conversely, an ostensibly endorsed "Intake Court Endorsement" (sic) by Justice of the Peace George Jiri ("JP Jiri") on September 23, 2024 (Vide: Appendix # who ostensibly presided over an "intake court hearing" following the commencement of criminal proceedings related to a Criminal Code Form 2 Information de on September 23, 2024, at 11:49 a.m. EDT, has been presented. It is imperative to acknowledge, ex abundanti cautela, that Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas legally altered h in my email of June 5, 2025, at 11:00 AM, the Brampton Courthouse, where JP Jiri is purportedly assigned, possesses no record germane to this matter (F attendance at the aforementioned Brampton Courthouse likewise yielded no extant record of his engagement in such judicial activities or any documentation ' email of July 18, 2025, at 12:35 PM, Page 7 of GMAIL Attachment.PDF).

The jurisprudence firmly establishes, as trite law to any discerning legal mind, that a criminal proceeding formally commences upon the making, or at the latest, a criminal prosecution is not juridically inaugurated until a judicial officer—be it a Justice of the Peace, a Provincial Court Judge of the Ontario Court of Just issues a process, either by way of a Criminal Code Form 6 (Summons) or a Criminal Code Form 7 (Warrant for Arrest). Furthermore, it is axiomatically unde Form 7 Arrest Warrant, an accused individual cannot be lawfully released subsequent to arrest unless said judicial officer, or another duly authorized justice, i upon bail. Put another way, without a judicial officer's unimpeachable endorsement of the "Processes," also known as the "release documents," the crimi commenced, remains a legal nullity.

This jurisprudential principle holds equally true if the staff of the Ontario Court of Justice were inadvertently misinformed by the TPS regarding the existence o a Form 10 Undertaking on October 2, 2024 (Vide: Appendix #3: Detailed Particulars, Page 11 of GMAIL--1.PDF). Consequently, and through no fault of my c an initial appearance at the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, on November 13, 2024 (Vide: 10 Armoury OCJ Courts (MAG) email of Just The fundamental precepts of justice dictate that taxpayer resources be judiciously expended, underscoring the imperative for procedural exactitude and docum the foundational principles upon which our legal system operates.

In light of the foregoing, I respectfully yet firmly demand full and unfettered access to all requested records, as meticulously elucidated within the annexed emu business on the twenty-fifth day of July, 2025. This exigent request for the expedient provision of these documents, particularly the endorsed Form 2 Informa highlighted and assiduously pursued in my previous communications, most notably in my email of July 21, 2025, at 10:32 AM (Pages 7-9 of GMAIL--1.PDF, GMAIL--1.PDF). Failure to procure these documents within the stipulated time frame will, nolens volens, necessitate the immediate escalation of this matter t of Justice, the Honourable Justice Nicklas. I would find such an escalation regrettable, but nonetheless, utterly indispensable.

The language enshrined within the MAG CSD Guide unequivocally mandates timely access to requested records, and indeed, specifies a more expedited tir foundational instruments such as a Criminal Code Form 2 Information and associated judicial endorsements. The precise timing of the transmission of these T Region, not the OCJ Brampton Courthouse) to the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse falls squarely within the ambit of my entitlement to access. Moreover, e Endorsement [Sic] is conspicuously devoid of any footer, whilst pages 1, 2, and 5 of the "Information Package" conspicuously bear a footer denoting CCO-2- plausible, if not compellingly evident, that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse may have received documents divergent from those that have been subsequer immediate confirmation or denial of this profound discrepancy.

Other referenced attachments will follow separately, si necessitas, but are nonetheless intrinsically integrated within this comprehensive email thread for context While I need not rely on the open court principle as per section 2(b) of the Charter, the law does not operate in a vacuum. As such, I rely on that principle and th the Charter section 2(b) protects listeners as well.

To the extent that any of the records in the court file or without a court file per se are not the original and authentic documents, I trust that the Honourable AG w

Mr. Henriquez is copied herein as a result of his name being in the "Information Package" as it was in Winter or Spring 2025 and then again thereafter as it i "clerk of the court" on that day, the Crown, the presiding justice and any inscriptions therein of highlighted nature.

I trust that the gravity of this situation and the undeniable imperative for transparency and unswerving adherence to established legal frameworks will impel you provision of the requested documentation. Subject: Affirmation of Entitlement to Court Records, Court Documents, and Court Information (OCJ related involving the OCJ Toronto Armoury

Dear Esteemed Court Representatives of the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, and Mr. Henriquez:

I hereby again acknowledge with profound appreciation the expeditious and comprehensive electronic communication received at 6:10 a.m., which confirm evening to Mr. Henriquez. It is my presumption that Mr. Henriquez played a pivotal role in facilitating this timely response, whether through initial interview him eminently qualified to furnish a substantial portion of the requested documentation.

It is imperative to reiterate my entitlement, pursuant to the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) Court Services Division (CSD) Guide, to procure a prerogative explicitly encompasses endorsements issued by court clerks, which are permissible on behalf of presiding justices in accordance with Section this particular aspect of my request.

Furthermore, I confirm that the MAG CSD Records Division has unequivocally verified the absence of any submitted Form 2 Information pertaining to my of August, September, or October 2024. As my inaugural court appearance was duly scheduled for November 13, 2024, it logically follows that no such communication (TPS) via the Criminal E-Intake Portal during the aforementioned period. Consequently, I fully comprehend that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, also of Justice, is entitled to repose reliance upon the representations of the TPS concerning the existence of an endorsed warrant, which underpinned my initial me upon the execution of my Form 10 Undertaking on October 2, 2024. I further acknowledge that the TPS is not procedurally obligated, as per the MAC transferee courthouse (hereinafter, "Transferee Courthouse"). Moreover, it is patently clear that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse, even upon a court function as the originating courthouse (hereinafter, "Originating Courthouse"). Therefore, there exists no conceivable premise upon which the OCJ Toronto warrant so endorsed, including a Form 29, which mandates the release of an accused by a presiding judicial officer pursuant to Section 499 of the Criminal ambit of Section 469 of the Criminal Code, which is demonstrably the case in my particular circumstances.

In consonance with my prior requisition for a copy of the bench warrant purportedly issued by Justice Block, I respectfully solicit clarification as to why issuance was solely confined to its initial promulgation.

With specific reference to the pro-forma document disseminated by the Lincoln County Law Association (accessible via: <https://thelcla.ca/wp-content/uploads/2024/07/FORM-WITH-HIGHLIGHTED-CHANGES.pdf>), I direct your attention to page four of six, upon which I anticipate the presence of any pertinent endorsement Crown Counsel in the aforementioned proceeding. This document appears to constitute an integral component of a standardized template employed for ongoing As you are undoubtedly aware, the Ontario Court of Justice is statutorily obligated to maintain a permanent repository of its operational activities.

Given the protracted nature of obtaining timely access to these records, as stipulated by the MAG CSD Guide, should I not receive a substantive response before elevate this matter to the Office of the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) to solicit their intervention and assistance. I remain also concerned that the TPS may need to seek the assistance of the Auditor General of Ontario if this is a systemic issue involving the TPS. However, I will provide this opportunity to you in any event.

I respectfully note the same because I do not have any FIPPA appellate rights so the only recourse is to draw the same to the attention of the AGO but in court documents, records and information.

My exhaustive articulation herein is deliberately intended to obviate the necessity for any duplication or redundancy of communication should such escalation

Again, I appreciate that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse will not have access presumably to the CO Rojas Form 2 Information that was submitted to me do, kindly provide a copy of the same.

While I would unequivocally prefer to avert such a measure, this matter retains an extraordinary degree of urgency, particularly in light of the proactive and interests and rights, a pursuit that inherently aligns with the broader public interest.

Out of an abundance of caution, I confirm that all communications herein are on account of my lawful authority to obtain access to court records, court documents 2024, to November 13, 2024, or sometime thereafter based upon when the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse received the CO Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 Information

Obviously, if there was no endorsement by an SCJ Judge, PCJ, or a Police Form 7 Arrest Warrant, then I could not have been released and was required to be proceeding never commenced at law.

Should the exigencies of the situation necessitate an extension of the stipulated time frame, I request that you graciously apprise me accordingly.

Thank you for your prompt attention to the above. I remain available should you need any clarification or wish to agree on a schedule or timetable, but with documents, records et al.

Esteemed Office of the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse:

It is with profound appreciation that I acknowledge receipt of your recent communication, the promptitude and informational content of which interest, the assertion that the matter at hand purportedly commenced as a "warrant in the first," a characterization evidently derived from the does not reside with the procedural integrity of your esteemed OCJ courthouse per se, but rather with a conspicuous lacuna: the aforementioned lacks any substantive judicial or administrative endorsement. Therefore, if there are other court records, court documents, et al that evidence at Brampton Courthouse, I welcome seeing them. However, if there are not the likes of a page 4 like the Lincoln County Law Association document commenced per se. Again, I appreciate that this request is solely about my entitlements to access to court records, court documents and information.

In the course of recent diligent inquiry, I have fortuitously unearthed, or more precisely, re-discovered, the correct CCO-2-000-1-C form, original Association (vide: attached hereto). While it is readily conceded that this particular instrument predates the "Information Package" submitted eighteen months, it nonetheless underscores a critical deficiency: the "Information Package" furnished by the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse inexplicable omission of several integral pages. This discrepancy, prima facie, impedes a comprehensive understanding of the procedural genesis.

In light of the foregoing, I respectfully yet firmly reiterate my request for unencumbered access to the aforementioned court documents, records, derogation from the generality of the foregoing, I solicit the underlying evidentiary records that substantiate the conclusion regarding the initial precise details concerning the nature, temporal parameters, and methodology of the receipt of said records from the Toronto Police Service. I the court clerk, I formally request access to that specific endorsement itself, ad fundatum. Your expeditious attention to this matter would be most appreciated.

Kindly provide all of the requested records by the end of the business day as this is respectfully quite dated.

Dear OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse:

I hope you are well. I have noticed in the chart (see: screenshot below), that there is a reference to a clerk of the court in Michael Henriquez and a justice as "DJ". Would you please provide the name of that justice with those initials.

Moreover, would you please provide the meanings of those acronyms of NP, NA, and NOR.

While it is with engage the invaluable resources of your court staff in this particular exigency, I trust you will appreciate that the fundamental tenets of my life enshrined Charter rights, are presently in a precarious state. I extend my profound gratitude in anticipation of your expeditious attention to the veritably complete and unadulterated copy of the document denominated as the "Information Package." It is my understanding that the Lincoln County Law Association is domiciled in St. Catharines, Ontario. While the attached exemplar bears the designation CCO-2-000-1 (Rev 6/18), I have been reliably apprised of revisions to the CCO-2-000-1 series primarily encompass minor, non-substantive amendments, thereby preserving the fundamental integrity of the

The standard pro forma document disseminated by the Lincoln County Law Association page compilation. Naturally, the footer of each page within this standardized instrument invariably delineates the specific type of document contained therein.

5. Upon rigorous scrutiny of the "Information Package" furnished by the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse, I discern the following anomalies:
a. The requisite footer is conspicuously present on pages 1, 2, and 5, yet it is conspicuously absent from pages 3 and 4; b. Page 3 purports to be a proprietary chart detailing various event updates. Prima facie, these pages do not conform to the standardized structure of the CCO-2-000-1-C form.

(the last element is missing even in the Intake Court Endorsement)

7. The "Information Package," colloquially denoted as "Information (Multi)," is demonstrably a six-page document, not five.

8. Given that the purported "Intake Court Endorsement" is neither a valid endorsement nor an intrinsic component of the court form designated true, accurate, and complete copies of the authentic court form. Ipsa facto, whatever iteration was previously provided to you could not have been six pages, incorporates two pages that bear no relevance to the "Information Package" by virtue of their lack of the requisite footer, and, most importantly, designed for a Justice of the Peace, Provincial Court Judge, or Superior Court Judge to affix their name, date, and an authentic handwritten, etc.

9. As previously observed, page 5 (5 of 5) of your provided document indicates that the entire document has been digitally signed. This assertion with the preceding content. A document purportedly digitally signed in its entirety cannot logically possess pages 1 and 2 with the requisite footer retains it. This internal inconsistency undermines the integrity of the document as a whole.

10. The fortuitous discovery of the CCO-2-0001-C form from the Lincoln County Law Association, encompassing all its recent revisions, has mutandis, furnishes sufficient and cogent evidentiary material to substantiate the present assertions.

11. While I most appreciate that the MAG CSD Guide confirms that some police forces do not file arrest warrants, there would still be a copy confirming the warrant in the first along with the required name of the JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge with, in fact and at law, signature.

12. Notably, there are some errors in your page 4 of 5 compared to what should be page 3 of 6 in the standard form.

13. I am not here to point fingers at whomever did this but I am entitled to a copy of what was submitted and filed with the OCJ Toronto Armoury JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge, then kindly provide me with a copy of the same.

14. If there was no signed arrest warrant (i.e. an Unendorsed Arrest Warrant) that is a different issue per se as that is a Form 7 under the Criminal Code by the relevant JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge but nonetheless this Information Package is not a Form 7 but a Form 2 type Information Package utilized there must be evidence that it was before a JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge with a date, name and signature in order for it to have been transferred to the who actually issued or gave the arrest warrant but naturally did not come to the stage of endorsing the same.

15. I am not suggesting that the OCJ Toronto Armoury Courthouse engaged in this handy work per se but rather if that is what was submitted I pages.

16. I express my appreciation for your forthcoming provision of the precise document as it was originally submitted to the Ontario Court of Justice furnished document accurately reflects the submitted form, particularly in light of the noted discrepancies: a five-page form, devoid of footers the mandated order of the CCO form 2, and naturally lacking any annotations contained within the chart on your page 4 of 5 (which, de jure, is

It is now quite obvious that the TPS were attempting to hide the actual JP, PCJ or SCJ Judge as it cannot be JP Jiri as the OCJ is required to follow there would not be any ability (as I have checked that with the vendors of the same) to manipulate the same. As such, that leads to the obvious Intake Platform.

No matter the type of revisions to any standardized form in a two year period, which would naturally remove the Promise to Appear and some signature in the very utilized form on pages 1, 2 and 5 but not pages 3 and 4.

17. Thank you for your prompt attention to the above and providing me with the exact documents that were submitted to your courthouse and you do so with the date they were submitted and they are the exact, true copies of the same, I will confirm the safe receipt and we can close this

Should anything be unclear, kindly let me know at your convenience.

Dear Esteemed Representative at the Ontario Court of Justice, Toronto Armoury Courthouse (Attention: Ally or other designated official):

I extend my continued gratitude to Ally for her prompt response and the provision of the aforementioned judicial records. Upon further deliberation I submit this refined requisition for the following documents, records, and particularized information:

1. A comprehensive facsimile of any Form 10 undertaking lodged with your esteemed courthouse, contingent upon its existence, thereby clarifying specific Ontario Court of Justice establishment.
2. A pristine impression of the Form 2 Information pertaining to Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, specifically one antecedent to the inscription of any emendations contained therein.
3. A complete compendium of all documents, records, papers, and sundry evidentiary materials germane to the Toronto Police Service's submission concerning Court Officer Frugoni-Rojas, along with the corresponding Intake Court Endorsement.
4. A verified duplicate of any endorsed bench warrant issued by a provincial court judge, presumably Justice Block, if my recollection serves me well: there was a technological error in that I was not let into that courtroom after the Crown Counsel provided me with a Zoom link and I was only caught a snippet of the same from the Crown Counsel (Mr. Rudra) when he was able to locate me in another courtroom for judicial case.

Confirmation Regarding Absence of Issued Process

In the interest of unequivocal clarity, and given prior instances of inadvertent misdirection by other judicial precincts, I seek explicit corroboration that no judicial process associated with the Toronto Armoury Courthouse has ever issued any judicial process, including a Criminal Code Form 6 Summons or a Criminal Code Form 10, on July 23, 2024, pertaining to my person. This inquiry is proffered without any implicit castigation, but rather as a diligent measure to obviate further process.

I acknowledge and appreciate the information regarding Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri and his purported assignment to the Brampton Courthouse. Brampton Courthouse, however, yielded no extant record of his engagement in such judicial activities, nor any documentation whatsoever related to his assignment. Confirmation that the Ontario Court of Justice Toronto Armoury Courthouse possesses no record of any issued processes by any Justice of the Peace would be invaluable. Such an affirmation would empower me to unequivocally disabuse those other judicial establishments that are demonstrably not.

Your expeditious attention to this matter is profoundly appreciated.

As noted, one motion was filed with the ONCJ (Toronto Region: 10 Armoury Street Courthouse) on May 8, 2025, to be heard at the next scheduled hearing. The receipt of this motion was not confirmed. I was referring to my initial motion and its accompanying documents, which were subsequently filed pursuant to the court's order.

Despite the reason, the documents I filed are not included in the record of proceedings. I have addressed this directly with the division through a letter.

It appears that an unnamed local administrative judge may have caused this upon Mr. Leoni after the fact but I would be speculating. If there was anyone who was behind causing my filings to not be in the record of proceedings will be dealt with head on. In an odd way, it may produce a better world by doing my part for the public benefit.

Sender: Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Subject: access to, out of a pure abundance of caution, requested court records including but not limited to: (i) application materials of the TPS to a justice of the ONCJ ONSC for the issuance of a process; (ii) a copy of the alleged arrest warrant (Form 7) or otherwise; and (iii) other records involved or related to the pre-enquête hearing (collectively, the “Requested Records”)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. I am kindly writing regarding the above on account of my request of the MAG CSD Records division for ONCJ, ONSC and ONCA records (civil, family, criminal or divisional). As you know, I am the defendant in a proceeding stylized as R. v. McLean and with a file number of: : Court File No: 24-48129169.
2. While I am seeking the originating courthouse and it is impossible for the 10 Armoury Road ONCJ to be the originating courthouse as per the apparent inclusion of the JP Jiri non-digital signature but purporting to be one of him albeit without a location (i.e. at the Brampton courthouse) of his signature, I am inquiring in any event to demonstrate to that MAG CSD Records Division that I have done so.
3. A copy of my most recent letter is attached.

4. To the extent that you have some of all of the above records, kindly provide them to me exclusively in this email thread. Thank you.

Attention: chief privacy officer or a designated accountable individual, pursuant to PIPEDA of eJust Systems Inc. ("Chief Privacy Officer")

Subject: Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act ("PIPEDA") Access Request – Kevin Alexander McLean

Dear eJust Systems:

1. This letter constitutes a formal access request for my personal information under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, SC 2000, c 5 (PIPEDA), specifically regarding the personal information you control, as defined under PIPEDA. I understand that your Organization, E-Just Systems, holds a contract with the Ontario government to manage, collect, retain, and store personal information related to criminal charge approvals and associated processes via the Criminal E-Intake Platform.
2. As noted, the Organization successfully secured a contract with the Ontario government relating to, inter alia, the Criminal E-Intake Platform.
3. Further, the Organization notes the following:

eJust Systems, Inc collects information that may be personally identifiable in order to provide end users with a quality experience when using our web site(s).

4. I am seeking access to all personal information that your Organization has held, is currently holding, has accessed, used, and/or disclosed concerning me. As it relates to disclosure, I request a comprehensive list of any other persons or entities to whom your Organization may have disclosed my personal information.

5. To enable your Organization to efficiently search for the relevant personal information, I provide the following particulars and attachments. My request is necessitated by a clerical error by the Toronto Police Service (TPS) regarding the originating courthouse for a criminal proceeding. While I have beliefs regarding the correct courthouse, a FIPPA request to the TPS would be unduly delayed, hence this direct access request to your Organization.

6. As you may be aware, the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) Crown Services Division (CSD) Guide entitles an accused person to access a "Form 2 Information" sworn or declared by an "Informant." The Informant in this matter is CO Frugoni-Rojas, and the Form 2 Information would have been submitted or filed on September 23, 2024, shortly after 11:49 a.m.

7. I request that you search your records, particularly those associated with the Criminal E-Intake Platform, for information filed on or after September 23, 2024, in either the Ontario Court of Justice (Ontario Courts) or Superior Court of Justice of Ontario (Superior Courts). This will enable me to refine my inquiry regarding the originating courthouse, as making individual requests to every courthouse in the province would be excessively time-consuming.

8. My personal details are as follows:

- Name: Kevin Alexander McLean
- Date of Birth: March 25, 1983
- Driver's Licence: M16514331830325
- Contact Email: mrkevinalexandermcleanbajdcim@gmail.com

9. In addition to the general request for all my personal information, I specifically request the following, filed with the Criminal E-Intake Platform on or after September 23, 2024:

- a. The original or a copy of the Information by the Informant (CO Frugoni-Rojas)
- b. Any other materials filed in support of the aforementioned Information;
- c. Identification of the Toronto Police Service (TPS) police officers who filed the Information and supporting materials;
- d. Any questions or requests made of the Originating Courthouse and presiding justice via the Criminal E-Intake Platform related to this matter; and
- e. Any Process (e.g., Arrest Warrant or Summons) issued by the presiding justice concerning this matter.

10. While PIPEDA allows for a thirty-day response period, I would be most grateful if you could provide the requested information as expeditiously as possible.

11. For your reference, and in the event you are unfamiliar with PIPEDA, I have included relevant sections below with a hyperlink.

12. I understand that courts, and entities engaged in the storage and retention of personal information for judicial processes, are required to retain such information permanently. I confirm that your Organization is required to retain all information subject to this request until I have exhausted all avenues of recourse.

13. I trust your Organization will be able to provide the requested personal information with relative ease, efficiency, and expediency, in accordance with the principles outlined above and below. Upon safe receipt and review of the information, I will confirm that this access request has been resolved to my satisfaction, allowing you to close your associated file.

14. To facilitate an efficient and cost-effective "access partnership," kindly provide me with the name and contact information of your designated privacy officer in accordance with PIPEDA at your earliest convenience.

15. Once I have been able to confirm I have the correct email address, I can also provide the attachments and/or they will follow on a piecemeal basis.

16. I may supplement the above to assist but it is my respectful position that I have satisfied my requirements to make a written request with sufficient particulars or enough details.

17. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Kevin Alexander McLean

 - Form 10: Signed and countersigned by Sergeant Cassidy and Mr. McLean (BA, JD, CIM).
 - Form 10 contained: TPS Occurrence Number.
 - Form 10 did not contain: TPS Case ID Number.
 - Conclusion: TPS 14th Division was NOT the originating police division (“Non-Originating Police Division”) but TPS 52nd Division was the originating police division (the “Originating Police Division”).
- Conclusion:
 - Location of TPS copy of ‘arrest warrant’: TPS 52nd Division.
 - Location of court copy (and public copy) after arrest was made on October 2, 2024, of processes issued to approved the singular charge against the Defendant including potentially an arrest warrant (Form 7) of the Criminal Code: ONSC South Toronto (Criminal Division) Courthouse.
 - Issuing Date of the above: Presumed to be September 23, 2024.

- 598
- Issuing Judge of the ONSC: Unknown.
 - Pre-enquête materials: Unknown but for part of the Form 2 of Court Officer Rojas.

Appendix #2: Relevant Sections of PIPEDA

Written request

- 8 (1) A request under clause 4.9 of Schedule 1 must be made in writing.
- Assistance (2) An organization shall assist any individual who informs the organization that they need assistance in preparing a request to the organization.
- Time limit (3) An organization shall respond to a request with due diligence and in any case not later than thirty days after receipt of the request.

- Reasons

(7) An organization that responds within the time limit and refuses a request shall inform the individual in writing of the refusal, setting out the reasons and any recourse that they may have under this Part.

- Retention of information

(8) Despite clause 4.5 of Schedule 1, an organization that has personal information that is the subject of a request shall retain the information for as long as is necessary to allow the individual to exhaust any recourse under this Part that they may have.

Dear Superintendent Khan and Inspector Mr. Crone of the 52nd Division:

I am writing regarding the matter above. Due to the breach of section 8 of the Charter by Superintendent Domenic Sinopoli of the 14th Division on October 2, 2024, if I do not hear from you by the end of the business day, I will escalate this to Chief of Police Myron Demkiw. To expedite, I have copied:

- i. Constable Romano of the 14th Division;
- ii. Detective Constable Michael Roman Kolankowski of the 14th Division; and
- iii. Detective Abdulhameed K. Virani of the 52nd Division

As you know, Constable Romano represented to me that TPS had an arrest warrant on October 2, 2024. DC Kolankowski is listed as the arresting officer and point of contact in Form 10. Detective Virani visited me in the 14th Division jail cells. As you know, the Form 10 (October 2, 2024) did not have a Police Case Identification Number but the Intake Court Endorsement [sic] did. For details, please refer to previous emails.

Additionally, the court record at ONCJ (10 Armoury Courthouse) highlights 'warrant first executed':

It has been 257 days since October 2, 2024, and I have made many requests for a copy of the document in question. According to section 29 of the Criminal Code, peace officers must provide it during an arrest if feasible and without restrictions upon request. If you can provide a copy by the end of the business day, we can avoid escalating the matter to the Chief of Police or filing a complaint with the Complaints Committee for Justices of the Peace. The Brampton Courthouse (ONCJ) has no record of this document.

Please provide the document by the end of today or by tomorrow at the latest to prevent further action. You may rely on this email for clarification. Providing the document electronically should take no more than 15 minutes.

Also, if you can identify the Superior Court Justice involved in this matter, please inform me by the end of today. I am willing to grant an administrative extension if needed. Thank you for your attention to this request.

Dear Superintendent Mr. Khan and Inspector Mr. Crone:

I have removed Superintendent Sinopoli from the email as his response was unhelpful at best. As such, I reiterate my request for a copy of the arrest warrant as represented to me by Constable Romano on October 2, 2024, and as reference in the Intake Court Endorsement [sic]. Our Parliament, as per section 29 of the Criminal Code, has required the TPS to provide me with a copy of the same when a request has been made.

Section 29 emphasizes the importance of transparency and communication during the execution of warrants and arrests, while also recognizing the need for practical considerations and good faith efforts by law enforcement.

As confirmed, what I have is an Intake Court Endorsement [sic] purportedly in the file of the TPS under the Police Case Identification Number (as known to you). It appears that a clerical error occurred regarding the same.

In any event, whatever that Intake Court Endorsement [sic] is purporting to be, by reference to a 'warrant in the first, it is NOT an Arrest Warrant.

If the argument was that 14th Division did not have a copy on it or Constable Romano and DC Michael Kolankowski, which I say it was required to do so, and the request has to be the originating police division, which I say no such formal requirement exists, then I have made that request.

As such, the 52nd Division of the TPS is required to produce the same.

If you do not have a copy on your person and/or at the TPS, kindly obtain one from the originating court level and courthouse which is known to the TPS.

Kindly provide a copy of the same to this email via electronic fashion to this email.

Thank you.

Re: further information to assist the TPS with my written request of the TPS for a copy of the arrest warrant

Dear 14th and 52nd Division Superintendent:

1. In the spirit of cooperation and a gesture of bringing us closer together, please find the underlying particulars to assist with your search by presumed reference to the Police Case Identification Number which I presume is of the 52nd Division of the TPS.
2. By the esteemed Superintendent Mr. Sinopoli's response and that of the ONCJ (Brampton Courthouse) it cannot be JP Jiri, the former 52nd division police officer. Ergo, it must have a clerical error by the individual managing the TPS 52nd Division Police Case Identification Number. I say that out of respect, to be polite and give people the benefit of the doubt so to speak.
3. If I were to hazard a guess as members of the public I understand are already requesting copies of the same, I will predict The Honourable Madam Justice Kraft of the ONSC. She is a former family law partner at Epstein Cole LLP located at 393 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. I will predict her because she was counsel to Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos, who is the ex-husband of my former common law spouse (apparently the purported complainant), and he has since been fired from TD Insurance Auto Group. His colleague Mr. David Karat, employed by the TDIA Group currently was the individual who stole my property on October 25, 2024, alongside the complainant's mother (Mrs. Aphrodite Artopoulos) on 'lookout duty' (see: attached). On September 17, 2024, I discovered that Mr. Papadimitropoulos was engaged in forgery in my insurance accident benefits case and it was part of the reason that he was terminated from TDIA Group. I can understand his anger in being caught regarding the same but it would seem to me if insurance companies can engage in the same with the benefit of CAMH and CAMH oddly had some role in the same, and insurance companies are in regular communication with police for lawful reasons, he being a lawyer had some role in assisting the TPS alongside that of Ms. Kanavas (a Seneca professor of paralegal studies), another lawyer of the same descent as he.
4. The CLO of CAMH has the same last name as Detective Virani who was referred to me as "Detective Abdul" of the 52nd Division. Perhaps, it is just a coincidence.
5. It would seem that with perhaps his longstanding relationship with former partners at Epstein Cole LLP in Madam Justice Shore, who was then and thereafter in the Divisional Court and has taken a particular interest in one of my matters, that it would have been Madam Justice Shore. Perhaps, it is just irony that said building at 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario is not only a criminal court but a family courthouse albeit only an ONSC.
6. You are required by the Criminal Code to provide me with a copy of the duly signed, dated with location Form 7 Criminal Code arrest warrant. Kindly advise if I am correct with respect to the Originating Courthouse (and the name of the justice in Madam Justice Kraft). I confirm that there is no statutory fee for my written request of the TPS to produce a copy of the arrest warrant as per section 29 of the Criminal Code. There is a fee for FIPPA and I will not be tendering monies to the TPS for that which I am entitled by federal statute (not a provincial statute).
7. For confirmation purposes, as Superintendent Khan of the 52nd Division, I apologized to Detective Petrie when I had wrongly presumed by the information provided by CAMH, prior to unredacting the images CAMH provided, but I may have been Detective Petrie. He did not deny the same but nonetheless when you err, you apologize.

8. I thank you for your honesty of both divisions in confirming that neither had my property and it turned out to be entirely honest as it was Mr. Karat and the TDIA Group engaged in the theft alongside the Purported Complainant's mother. (I will circle back with the 14th Division on that issue but it is not for this email thread).

9. My formal request remains extant until there is compliance by the TPS.

10. Thank you.

Dear Superintendent Sinopoli (copied to Superintendent Mr. Khan and Inspector Mr. Crone):

Thank you again for your email. In the even you were unaware, please see the relevant section of the Criminal Code:

Duty of person arresting

- 29 (1) It is the duty of every one who executes a process or warrant to have it with him, where it is feasible to do so, and to produce it when requested to do so.
- (2) It is the duty of every one who arrests a person, whether with or without a warrant, to give notice to that person, where it is feasible to do so, of
 - (a) the process or warrant under which he makes the arrest; or
 - (b) the reason for the arrest.

408

Disclosure is a process that is required of the ~~408~~ of Ontario Criminal Law Division (the “Ontario Crown”) and not the TPS. The TPS cannot require me to obtain that from the Crown or pay to obtain through FIPPA, which I anticipate the TPS would attempt to not disclose to me, which its TPS’ officers were and are required to have it on them when executing a process or a warrant. Perhaps, the argument of the TPS 14th Division was that it was not feasible at the time which I disagree with. In any event, the TPS are required to produce it when requested to do so.

I confirm that this is a formal written request of the TPS to the attention of each superintendent of the 14th and 52nd Division. My view is that the 52nd Division was the division that sought and obtained a potential approval of the criminal charge and arrest warrant.

It is trite that the Brampton Courthouse is not the originating courthouse and nor is the ONCJ 10 Armoury Road. I have confirmation from both regarding the same.

In the interim, I query whether the originating courthouse was since it is not the above? As you may know, arrest warrants are not always filed with the courthouse per se.

I note the following from the MAG website in relation to obtaining access to court records which I now copy and paste the following from the Ontario government website: ^[i]

“2.2.2 Pre-Enquête documents and recordings

Pre-Enquête hearings are not open to the public.

If process is issued

For both private and Crown prosecutions, if process is issued, the documents of the pre- Enquête hearing become publicly accessible once the defendant has been arrested or the summons has been served, unless there are legislative restrictions to access (for example, the YCJA) or a court order restricts access.

If process is not issued

If process is not issued, the documents and tapes of the pre-Enquête hearing are not publicly accessible.

2.2.5

Arrest warrants (warrants in the first instance and bench warrants)

Warrants of arrest (also known as Warrants in the First Instance) may or may not be filed with the court. Practices for filing warrants of arrest vary depending on the police service. If a warrant of arrest or copy of a warrant of arrest is in the court file, it is only publicly accessible after the accused has been arrested or has received a summons, provided no other public access restrictions apply (for example, the YCJA). “

The distinction between myself and the general public is noted.

Ergo, if the originating courthouse was not 4070 and 10 Armoury Road (ONCJ), then it must be the ONSC 361 University Avenue, Toronto, which is the only criminal court in downtown Toronto or “South Toronto” (“ST”).

As the ONCJ and ONSC are not the same level of court per se and would not be integrated per se by way of data, it would have been incumbent upon the TPS to file the arrest warrant in the non-originating courthouse which is ONCJ (10 Armoury Road). It is not filed with the non-originating and current courthouse of the ONCJ (10 Armoury Road).

As your division knows, I was arrested on October 2, 2024. Ergo, not only is the arrest warrant public but all of the documents of the pre-enquête hearing are as well. They would not be before that date but they would after that date.

If your division, while I await for a response from the 52nd Division, does not have a copy, kindly provide the originating courthouse so I can engage in searching for the same.

I presume that the originating courthouse was 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario. Would you kindly confirm? In that manner, we can work in cooperation while respecting resources as I will obtain more than the Form 7 Arrest Warrant, and we need not be duplicative or redundant. I can then confirm with you that my written request (while other oral and written requests were made but not technically to the 14th and 52nd Division Superintendents) is no longer extant.

Thank you for your cooperation where applicable and your statutory compliance where also applicable.

(Dear Superintendent Khan, I understand that you are returning tomorrow from being away. I hope you are well and safe. Inspector Mr.Crone, would you kindly assist regarding the above particulars?)

Dear Mr. Sinopoli:

Thank you for your email. I disagree with you on that front. An officer in your division (Constable Romano) represented that he had an arrest warrant. I demanded to see a copy of the same. Pursuant to the Criminal Code, the TPS is required to provide me with a copy of the same.

There is also an ancillary reason for my asking but I can deal with that later (if necessary).

Please provide a copy of the same herein.

Attention: 52nd Division Superintendent

Re: Demand and request for a copy of the arrest warrant as represented by the 14th Division of the TPS to me and contained by reference in an information package to the ONCJ 10 Armoury Road

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

1. I write regarding the above. My name is below and my DOB was March 25, 1983. I was arrested on October 2, 2024, by 14th Division after coming to the TPS 14th Division by email of Constable Romano. On that date, I received a Form 10 signed by Sergeant Cassidy and myself (see: attached). The Form 10 did not have a copy of the police file identification number like that of the Intake Court Endorsement [sic] from September 23, 2024.

2. Since that time, I have learned that the “Detective Abdul”, who visited me in the jail cell of the 14th Division, was Detective Abdulhameed K. Virani of the 52nd Division.

3. Thereafter, I received a copy of a Form 2 from court officer Ms. Frugoni-Rojas and an Intake Court Endorsement (but not endorsed) which references a Brampton Courthouse JP in JP Jiri. JP Jiri was formerly of the 52nd Division as of early January 2024 before his appointment to the Brampton Courthouse ONCJ. It was quite obvious from the outset that JP Jiri could not have been the JP who approved the criminal charge (singular charge of criminal harassment) as per his assignment and by clear reference to the attached document.

4. Brampton Courthouse ONCJ has confirmed it does not have any record of a JP Jiri Intake Court Endorsement which is unsurprising considering that 10 Armoury Road ONCJ has confirmed that it was not the originating courthouse. Ergo, neither could be the originating courthouses.

5. As such, would you kindly provide me a copy of the arrest warrant in signed and executed form? If you do not have a copy handy on you for attachment purposes, would you kindly provide me with the following (presuming it was 52nd division that was the originating police division):

- a. Originating courthouse: ONCJ or ONSC; and
- b. Justice who approved and executed the same.

6. I presume you are looking for an arrest warrant on 23rd day of September which was a Monday.

7. One of the courthouses represented to me that I could obtain a duplicate copy of the arrest warrant through the TPS as it is required to have a copy of the same. I understand that the ONCJ and ONSC are looking through the ICON (sp) system for the same for its copy of the same.

8. Respectfully and irrespective of whether I receive a copy of the same in the morning from the originating courthouse, I will still require a copy from the TPS to compare the same to ensure they are accurate.

If there is a specific email for this request, I would be most grateful to receive the same from you.

9. Thank you.

Encl.

Re: apology

Good Evening Detective Petrie:

I thank you for your response above. I owe you an apology in thinking that you may have been the individual that potentially took my property. I had a purely fluke experience in copying and pasting the redacted photos I received from CAMH and somehow the security feature was no longer active and it showed the individual. It was Mr. David Karat, who is known to me from my car accident matter, and he is a 'claims specialist' at TD Insurance group (the "TDI Group").

Thanks for your responses nonetheless and I am a man enough to admit when I was wrong and I also did not want you thinking that I still thought it may have been you when it was not. I have attached them for ease of reference. As this is not your jurisdiction per se, I am working with CAMH so the thief himself can be apprehended and not cause those kinds of issues again.

Wishing you well and thanks for your honesty above. I was wrong. You were right.

URGENT

Dear Detective Petrie:

1. I write regarding the above and I forward you a true copy of my email to the attention of the Superintendent and Inspector of the 52 Division and 52nd Division itself.
2. I have reasonable grounds to believe that the individual who took my property without my consent and without my authorization was you. Perhaps, you were mistaken as to what your task was that day or received errant information. In any event, if you had a search warrant, you would have been required to serve me with the same or any officer would have been required to serve the same. The duty to account thereafter is required and by the above you have admitted, which is trite in fact and at law, none existed. Moreover, pursuant to cases like R. v. Vu, it would have required an additional search warrant to search electronic devices which you could not have had.
3. I presume that Mrs. Megan Elizabeth Petrie is somehow related to you and/or your wife. I congratulate you on the same if that is your wife of many years in having a successful long marriage. However, you will know why her location at 10 Armoury is somewhat important to me. I presume that the woman at the end of the hallway is that of Ms. Frugoni-Rojas (formerly Ms. Boulton), a court officer of the TPS. I will ask her directly as well.
4. Mistakes happen. I respect your right to have had a long career in law enforcement and continuing the same which is why I am approaching it in said manner. However, I trust you will respect my Charter rights and do the lawful thing.
5. If you believe that my RGB are incorrect, then represent the same to me otherwise without equivocation. As you cannot, you will need to meet the deadline I have imposed so this can be resolved and

I need not address it any further.

6. I have my contacts at CAMH where they and it can confirm it has been found and waiting for my pickup. However, if I am not reunited with my property, then I will take all lawful steps thereafter.

7. My goal remains to be on good terms with law enforcement. Who would not want to be on good terms with law enforcement and Crown Counsel? However, my pedigree (and I am sure nobody was betting that I could make it this long in such fashion) is that of civil litigation and that is where my attention will always be: civil at first and litigation if necessary.

8. I am giving you the choice you did not give me.

9. To avoid any imputation of 'harassment', I confirm that this email is for lawful purposes. If I do not hear from you with an unequivocal denial regarding the same, I am entitled to presume that I am correct.

If I do not have my identification, along with my property contained in a backpack that looks similar to the one that you had in that YouTube video, for my upcoming medical appointments, examinations and testing arising out of an accident (hit from behind by an E-scooter on March 5, 2025), then I will have to hold everyone liable.

I am more than content to view this as you received incorrect information and acted upon the same, and it need never be addressed again. However, time is of the essence.

10. Thank you for resolving this forthwith.

April 24, 2025

Dear esteemed Superintendent, Inspector and 52 Division:

1. I write regarding the above. I have asked for a contact at your division who is more helpful and accommodating than Detective Rich Petrie. I waited patiently. Detective Petrie's responses are not credible considering that I asked to check the 'lost and found' or 'temporary lockers' with oversight and he did not allow me to do so. Moreover, he feigned as if the 52 Division could not check for property without identification. This response was also not credible.

2. As time is of the essence for me to retrieve said property, if I do not hear from you by the end of the business day, I will presume that the individual who took my backpack and property on October 25, 2024, from CAMH at approximately 1 p.m. was Detective Petrie. It will be the only logical inference that I can draw based upon the evidence that I have. The description provided to me was a male, approximately 5'10" to 5'11, slight build, wearing plain clothes, and was unknown to CAMH. This is consistent with 14th Division's explanations to me about my property at various times and not having the same.

3. It begs the question as to why would a specialized Detective be 'tasked' with responding if he was not involved at first instance? The question seems to answer itself.

4. He was also not welcoming when I referenced making a criminal complaint about the individual that impersonated me at the TPL Reference Library, within the 52nd Division's jurisdiction, to obtain a third library card in my name albeit utilizing my identification in a fraudulently fashion. While I know that was not Detective Petrie as we are distinct in age, looks and all other discernible characteristics, one would think that the rule of law would matter. I cordially refer you to the chart from the TPL which is attached above.

5. I do not intend to castigate Detective Petrie but when I take that description provided to me by CAMH and some other innocent bystanders, and this public YouTube video, the similarities are uncanny. While I do not condone or support the language or approach of that individual hurling comments at Detective Petrie, I rely on the same for comparison purposes.

6. I was also informed that the individual who took my property without my consent had a second backpack. If you look closely at the above video at the relevant time (and said time) Detective Petrie is sporting a backpack of similar size to mine that was taken. You can see the same from the redacted images from CAMH.

7. I also note that, while similar fact evidence is not presumptively admissible, doing an ‘odd job’ like serving PC Holmes for his discipline hearing, he trespassed into the backyard of PC Holmes to serve him with the same (see: <https://leca.ca/wp-content/uploads/Decision-Holmes-Final-1.pdf>). While PC Holmes was certainly quite irate and that level of emotional control was most regrettable, he seemed to be hinting at certain past conduct of Detective Petrie. At the very least, entering a premises where he was not authorized at law for the purposes of service of documents is similar to what occurred with me. Specifically, an individual entered the premises at CAMH, operated with some level of general spying on me or tracking my movements, and within the span of some five minutes, knew which bag to take, while inspecting another, and then exited quickly out of CAMH through the front entrance. I was informed at a later date from another witness that the individual left on bike. I refer you to the above video.

8. As the matter is important to me, whilst remaining extremely urgent for reasons stated above, I note some attachments involving Detective Petrie, which I have not produced, but they contain some incidents of everything from lawsuits filed by him involving defamation, HRTO cases, and incidents of Charter breaches of accused individuals. They are also positive ones as well.

9. Moreover, CAMH and the TPL regularly represented to me, without making a police complaint themselves, that I should contact the police. I find those representations rather compelling and confirmatory of the above.

10. Moreover, I believe that there is a female ‘officer’ (perhaps not ‘police officer’) in one of the images. She holds up the bag at the end of the East part of the corridor at 1025 Queen Street West before entry into the sidewalk and across the road as is the “TD Commons”.

11. I do know that the individual who was impersonating me, at material times, was Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos and he is approximately 6’4” so he was not the individual that took my property without consent but did commence utilizing my identification and other personal information as of October 28, 2024.

12. Notably, the TPL never relied on the law enforcement exception involving his conduct with my identity but I was able to obtain what I did after a succession of MFIPPA requests and OIPC appeal.

13. Most importantly to this issue, CAMH never relied on the law enforcement exception to production of the records to myself. It is trite that the conduct was not incident to arrest or a search warrant (but more appropriately a ‘seizure warrant’ and then potentially a ‘search warrant’) (see: R. v. Vu). While it was in err, I am now what is called an “assiduous inquirer”.

14. I am a reasonable individual who is willing to let ‘bygones be bygones’ but it will require an immediate and substantive answer along with provision of whatever has been in your possession and control and/or is in your possession and control. To the extent it was discarded, even accidentally, kindly inform me of the same so I am respectful of your time which includes taxpayer dollars.

15. Out of an abundance of caution and for notice purposes, I shall notify Detective Petrie of the same. However, if I have a response that puts an end to this matter to my satisfaction, you can consider the matter closed and not to be raised without further incident. You have it in writing from my authorized email that if my property that was in your possession and control and/or in your possession and control is returned to CAMH ‘lost and found’ (Detective Petrie’s words) by no later than tonight at 8 p.m., then the matter is closed without any further raising of the same by me in relation to the TPS. If I do so, it will be a breach of confidence by me and I would be acting in bad faith. However, if not, then I will rely on the doctrine of adverse inference and my evidence from then till now and will be at liberty to take all further lawful steps.

If 'to serve and protect' matters, then there is never a wrong time to do the right thing.

16. Thank you kindly for resolving these issues without further incident.

Detective Petrie: I appreciate your promptness but I should be able to check the lost and found with oversight of the same (i.e. not without cameras and/or a police officer watching the same). As such, it is unclear why a Detective is handling an administrative request so I will revert back to Superintendent Khan and ask for an individual that is responsible for that administrative component. I thank you for your time.

However, I will leave you with these photos as I will be making a formal police complaint with sworn evidence regarding the impersonation, fraud, and forgery in your division's jurisdiction on December 13, 2024. I will have that delivered shortly through the best channel. The December 13, 2024, date in question involved the TPL Reference Library which I believe is your jurisdiction. I appreciate that will be a little bit below your line of work so I bid you adieu.

For ease of reference, it is a male about 5'10", slight build, brown hair, and left on a bike like those Tangerine ones. He is Caucasian, about mid 50's. This is some of the information I obtained from some of my meetings. Just a shot in the dark.

If you do ever hear or learn of who that individual is in the photos taking my backpack and property, you have my email. Take care,

Good Morning Detective Petrie:

Thanks for your email as it is greatly appreciated. I certainly checked with CAMH at the time and made an access request and paid sums of money to obtain the images that I did. CAMH had never seen the individual who took the bag before and I have been in contact with it since on a periodic basis. However, I will nonetheless follow up with it in any event.

However, it would likely not have my identification attached to the property other than my wallet and passport. My wallet and passport were being utilized after the fact of the theft. For example, approximately 1.5 months after an individual was utilizing my identification to obtain a library card at the TPL Reference library. As such, items like my computer, mobile, electronic devices, etc., would not have my identification contained therein.

Is there anyone that can check the 'lost and found' or 'temporary lockers' at your 52 Division for those items? I would be most grateful to know.

Lastly, with respect to an occurrence report, I will look into that but the urgent aspect is above.

Thanks Detective (apologies for the previous reference) Petrie for your efforts. Is there a way to check at 52 Division and/or PEMU where it is NOT under a name but by property description or in a temporary locker per se? Could it be under the police officer's name? They have received it or found it? Thanks in advance for your time. Once I know that, that should be all.

Dear Superintendent Mr. Khan:

I write regarding the above forward. You may read at your convenience. Would you be kind enough, which is a shot in the dark, whether your division (the “52nd Division”) has had or has any of my property (described above), which was moved and taken without my authorization on October 25, 2024, (CAMH visitor area) and then utilized in unauthorized fashion (see: attached)?

I should have asked previously because I now realize that your division is beside 14th Division and whoever took it may have delivered it to your division.

I am writing urgently as all of the property taken is terribly important to me including my computer, electronic devices, identification, wallet, etc. The reason for the continued urgency is that I have some MRIs upcoming and I require my health card which is contained in there. I would presume that if it was delivered, then it would have been done so on in the year of 2025 as per the unauthorized use of one of my pieces of identification (TPL library card) into the year of 2025.

I have attached all of the same images that I provided to the 14th Division who had no record of the same.

I have also contacted the TPS PEMU and it has no record either so this would leave other divisions close to the area of the initial incident. I also note that there was some unauthorized use of my TPL library card on December 13, 2024, at the TPL Reference Library which I believe is your jurisdiction.

Based upon the urgency, I may supplement to assist but for the time being this should assist. I remain available should anything be unclear. Thank you in advance.

Thank you so much Mr. MacNeil. I did not think you would have but it was a shot in the dark so to speak. I am dealing with managing counsel for a “Big 5 bank” (if you will) who is acting for the individual and the insurance company(ies) that I know are involved at various times after October 25, 2024 (CAMH incident).

Naturally as well, CAMH referenced the individual thief being a “civilian” that it had never seen before.

I can confirm that I did hear from the TPS PEMU (a Mr. Da Silva who was equally professional and prompt) and he confirmed nothing received on his side either.

This seems to all add up now and look forward to having this resolved without ever wasting your valuable resources again.

Wishing you all well at the 14th Division! The valuable work you do does not go unnoticed and it is appreciated. All the best,

3. In the spirit of good faith and cooperation, I can confirm that I am aware of, at least, one of the individuals who engaged in the conduct of impersonating me with the Toronto Public Library from October 28, 2024, to the end of December 2024. He is not a member of the TPS.
4. I attach a copy of some of the evidence of impersonation of me by way of two attachments:
 - a. A forged document with the TPL (Fort York Branch) on October 28, 2024; and
 - b. A printout from the TPL involving the fraud, false pretenses and impersonation of me over that period since the theft at CAMH on October 25, 2024.

5. It may be that this individual came to his senses and sent some of my property to a TPS division like the 14th (i.e. the area of your division where the original theft occurred), and you were unable to identify the same without my identification that was contained in my wallet and/or my passport.

6. I would be most grateful to hear from you when you are able after checking your storage and lockers at the TPS 14th Division regarding the same. I do appreciate that you are busy but I look forward to crossing this potential location off the list.

7. I confirm that this is not a police complaint against the individual as I would prefer to respect your valuable time and resolve the same in a civil manner outside of our emails.

8. I remain available should you need any further particulars regarding the descriptions of the property in question but for ease of general reference, the “backpack” is contained in the above noted picture, the laptop is a black Lenovo T510, and phone is an iPhone 11. The iPhone 11 has a green casing on it at the time but that may have been discarded.

9. Thank you kindly.

Good Morning to you (presuming it is the same individual) Police Constable Mr. De Nobrega: thank you for your email and confirmation regarding your role at 14th Division. It appears that I have the incorrect individual for such a request. In this regard, I would prefer to keep the same in writing so we are not being duplicative of communications and redundant out of respect for your resources.

As such, I have copied the honourable Superintendent Mr. Domenic Sinopoli to the email. (Mr. Sinopoli, thank you in advance for your consideration of the above request and the indulgence). (Thank you for your time Constable Mr. De Nobrega).

Would you kindly look into the above to determine if my property (some or all), as particularized above, was ever received by the 14th Division on October 25, 2024, or thereafter. If it remains in one of your temp or holding lockers, I would be most grateful to know. For ease of reference, I have attached the emails above along with the same attachments.

I appreciate you have urgent and pressing matters that are more important than some property ‘lost and found’ but I would kindly appreciate a response at your earliest convenience and by the end of the week if possible. Thankyou kindly . Wishing you a productive day and tomorrow.

Subject: Re: kind request whether any property (denoted infra) has been in the possession, control or custody of the TPS 14th Division

Good Morning to you Police Constable Mr. De Nobrega:

1. Thanks so much for your prompt response and I hope you and your team are well. By way of courtesy, the email was above regarding the request. I have attached a copy of the emails above including yours herein.

2. By way of courtesy, I had some property delivered to the TPS 14th Division early in October 2024 and one of your constables informed me of the same and that it would be held in a temporary locker.

3. I have contacted the TPS PEMU as of this morning but so I can inform them and be of assistance while respecting their time, would you kindly check to see if it is in a temporary or holding locker?

4. I ask because when I received the return of my property in October (early in the month) I received the same in a bag that was sealed that had "found, lost, received or seized" (or some language like that) so I presume that there would be some indication as to whether anything (perhaps not identification) was received after October 25, 2024. I re-attach the images from CAMH (see: Email #1) to assist in the type of backpack that you will be looking for. It is page #2 therein and it is the time stamp of 1:12: 12 PM EDT. It is the backpack in the hand of the individual who is blurred out.

5. In this regard, you would be looking for a grey backpack with black trim and it would have pieces of identification like the ones I have attached.

6. To conclude, I have attached the following:

a. Previous emails;

425
b. CAMH images reacted with a focus on page #2 at the time stamp of 1:12:12 PM EDT;

c. My identification in the form of:

- i. Ten year passport; and
- ii. G Drivers Licence.

7. I thank you sincerely again for the above and in advance so I can cross any potential locations off the list or otherwise. To the extent that I hear positively or negatively from the TPS Property Bureau or PEMU, I will promptly notify you so your valuable services are not wasted.

Dear 14th Division:

1. I write regarding the above and I hope you and your team are well. As I have not heard from you regarding the above since my email of some four days ago, I will also reach out to the Property Evidence Management Unit (“PEMU”) to determine if it was sent to that TPS property bureau.
 2. I am following that train of inquiry as I had an email from Constable Romano some six months back that property had been received at the 14th Division and if I did not pick up the same that it would be sent to PEMU.
 3. While my request or demand (not to be overly aggressive if you will but for language purposes) shall remain in perpetuity, I provide this email as a courtesy. Thank you.

To Whom It May Concern:

1. I write regarding the above and on a courtesy basis.
2. On October 25, 2024, I had the below items in my backpack stolen from CAMH visitor area at 1025 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario. It contained a variety of items of mine therein including but not limited to:
 - a. a laptop computer (IBM Lenovo T510);
 - b. my passport;
 - c. Logitech mouse (cursor);
 - d. electronic devices;
 - e. chargers for various electronic devices;
 - f. banking cards;
 - g. credit cards;

 - i. driver's license; and
 - j. a Louis Vuitton wallet with my initials of "K.A.M" therein.
3. I attach some of the pictures that I obtained from CAMH FIPPA division in late November or early December 2024.
4. In relation to the passport element, I am required in applying to obtain a replacement passport, which will cost some $500 on an expedited basis, to confirm if I have made a police complaint or not, and if not, then why not. As such, I thought it was best to err on the side of caution and see if it was hopefully and/or fortuitously turned into your division as I believe it is the division that was closest to the above noted CAMH visitor area.

Dear MAG CSD Records Division, MAG Office, The Honourable AGO Mr. Downey et al:

1. I am now compelled to include the office of the Ministry of the Attorney General of Ontario ("MAG Office") and The Honourable Minister of Attorney General of Ontario and the Executive branch of the Ontario government. However, I am seeking his assistance in the latter, not the former.
 2. I repeat and rely upon the above.
 3. I believe that you have pointed me in the correct direction of the ONSC Toronto Region Criminal Intake division (361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario) (the "Originating" that is the correct Originating Courthouse.
 4. I have also made a written request of the TPS inclusive of superintendents of the two divisions that are at issue in the 14th and 52nd Division. However, this would only apply of ONCJ (10 Armoury Road) (the "Non-Originating Courthouse") does not contain the represented by Constable Romano of the 14th Division on October 2, 2024, at the 1st Division", any filed arrest warrant. While it is not required per se to be filed at the Non-Originating Courthouse, not only is the arrest warrant required to be produced by the Ontario at the ONCJ, ONSC and ONCA) but all of the records of the pre-enquête hearing which would include the following including but not limited to:
 - a. The emailed Form 2;
 - b. The emailed underlying application materials;
 - c. Communications with the Originating Courthouse;
 - d. The pre-enquête hearing itself;
 - e. The executed Form 7 of the Criminal Code; and
 - f. Other records not captured by the above.
 5. I appreciate that the MAG Ontario website references contacting the 'originating courthouse' so I kindly ask that you confirm unequivocally that the 'originating courthouse' (Criminal Division)). I have referenced the "Criminal Division" as I understand there is also a family law division as well but that the civil divisions in "South Toronto" are at:
 - a. 330 University Avenue; and
 - b. 393 University Avenue.
 6. It is trite law that the TPS are required to produce a copy of the arrest warrant upon request. The request may be oral or written. I have made a request for the same on numerous pre-enquête hearing. As such, Parliament, not the Legislature, evinced an intention to only require police officers to have a copy of the arrest warrant on his or her person and not
 7. I have also received some information from the Brampton Courthouse relating to the following:
 - a. "ST" which I presume means South Toronto;
 - b. "702" (and by inference '703') which I presume relates to the section of the Criminal Code relied upon by the provincial court judge but more likely the ONSC Judge nationwide arrest warrant or a 'warrant in the first'.
 8. While I turned my mind to the notion of 702 being a courtroom in ONCJ (10 Armoury Road) or the ONSC, a date was provided in late 2025 so that could not be the case per ONSC JUD Correspondence Email was also pointing me in the correct direction to have you assist with my search and access to that which I am entitled along with the public in
 9. I find it somewhat regrettable to have copied the MAG Office and the AGO but without a response to the above, when I had faxed an email above, I must do so as time request remains until satisfied or otherwise withdrawn but the letter will only occur if I receive all of the records requested from another source or sources. As such, I confirm the same (if applicable).
- However, I must also confirm that I disagree with the representation of "MM" (presuming that is the esteemed Ms. Miranda (member of the LSO)) that the MAG CSD SJC R University Avenue but we know that the MAG CSD Records Division (SCJ) is at 720 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario (the McMurtry Scott Building). Perhaps, her role is designated Records Division and even the public can access the records so long as there is no legislative exclusive like YCJA or court order sealing part or all of the record. Therefore, it's now clear that the ONCJ (Toronto region) does not possess the underlying application documents, re originating courthouse. The location of this originating courthouse remains unknown to me.

While I understand there are eight different regions, we can now rule out the Toronto region and its courthouses at the ONCJ level in our search.

Given the absence of any evidence of the underlying documents, specifically the Arrest Warrant and any other related documents exchanged or issued after Sep courthouse" is still unclear. Consequently, whether this email is reaching you from an individual at 330 University Avenue or 720 Bay Street within the MAG CSD the MAG CSD SCJ Records division, in its criminal capacity (as this matter is criminal, not civil, family, or divisional), plays a crucial role in ensuring residual cove

I assume that when you refer to the criminal courthouse of the ONSC in the Toronto Region, you are referring to 361 University Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

Regardless, I maintain that this email pertains to all SCJ issues that fall under the purview of the MAG CSD Records division handling SCJ matters. It's important must sign and endorse them and retain a copy. This creates a record associated with a court proceeding, and the ONSC judge (as per the Criminal Code) would have arrest warrant after an arrest, is an entitlement and not subject to adjudicative or administrative privilege.

I would greatly appreciate your assistance in identifying the originating courthouse. Please be assured that I am committed to respecting your resources and will do that we can maintain a mutually respectful approach to our shared resources. While I understand your services are publicly funded, the correspondence I received from criminal intake division holds all the authentic copies of the records I seek, further action would be unnecessary. However, I doubt this is the case, and cross-referencing initially provided. The only silver lining is that with a clerical error on the TPS side and the Crown not receiving the underlying documents of the same along with level, judges are required to maintain their scheduling, records, review of the same, and issued processes including summons or warrants. 4. It is trite that a pre-enquête hearing is not available to the public, heard in camera and ex parte to the potential accused and defendant. It is also trite that documents from the pre-enquête hearing become public subject to YCJA restrictions or a court order. My criminal proceeding is not a YCJA matter and the court or not, a justice had to issue the same. If a justice issued the same, then is a court record because a proceeding commenced once the Form 2 has been issued at the originating courthouse or any subsequent venue for a criminal proceeding. I repeat and rely upon the oddities and eccentricities along with clerical error in the “Intake Court Endorsement”. It is trite law that a digital signature must comply with the requirements under the associated regulation of PIPEDA and the Access to Information Act (also defined as the “SESR” herein).

5. As you will see and know, the purported “Intake Court Endorsement” masquerades as a ‘warrant in the first’ but it does not comply with any of the requirements of the document with a forged signature. You will note the name therein which is that of Justice of the Peace Mr. Jiri (“JP Jiri”). JP Jiri was assigned to the jurisdiction being that of the 52nd Division which is the TPS division closest to the downtown Toronto courthouses (ONCJ and ONSC). The criminal proceeding is at “ONCJ 10 Armoury Road”). If one were to accept at face value the Intake Court Endorsement, then the originating courthouse is that of Brampton namesake the ‘signature’. Expectedly and unsurprisingly, the Brampton Courthouse has not been able to produce any documents associated with the proceeding. I appreciate the reference that a request should be made to the ‘originating courthouse’ as per the Ontario government guidance, “Ministry of the Attorney General, Justice, and/or the Ontario Court of Justice, and/or the Court of Appeal for Ontario. Courts are not governed by FIPPA and court records under the superior court. Requests for court records should be made to the originating courthouse”, I am in the most peculiar of situations of not knowing what was the originating courthouse. I have some empathy while assisting in locating the originating courthouse for me. Once that is provided to me, I am more than amenable to do the proverbial leg

6. However, referring me to the ONSC Criminal Intake Division when there is no evidence of the ONSC being the ‘intake court per se’ but it is conceivably peace (a “JP”) of the ONCJ, of the ONCA or ONSC having approved a process and an arrest warrant (see: definition of “justice” under section 2 of the Criminal Code). While a clerk of the court may sign a document related to a matter that was issued from the bench, a clerk’s signature is not the factual and “judicial proceeding” is, inter alia, “judicial proceeding” means a proceeding “(c) before a court, judge, justice, provincial court judge or coroner” whether appointed or elected to discharge a public duty.^[vii] It is notable that there are many sections under the Criminal Code in which only a justice can issue certain warrants by the law of the province in which he is appointed to do anything that is required to be done by two or more justices may do alone anything that this Act or any other Act gives him the same power and authority to preserve order in a court over which he presides as may be exercised by the superior court of criminal jurisdiction of the province during the absence of a justice.

7. A “judicial officer” means a judge or justice who is authorized, under the applicable provision of this Act, to issue a warrant, order, extension or authorization.

8. Even where the types of warrants specified under section 487.1 requires a justice to do the following:

“Warrant, etc.

(10) A judicial officer who issues the warrant, order, extension or authorization may do so by a means of telecommunication, in which case

- o (a) the judicial officer shall complete and sign the document in question, noting on its face the time and date;
- o (b) if the means of telecommunication produces a writing, the judicial officer shall transmit a copy of the document to the appropriate court or justice.

- 4379
- o (c) if the means of telecommunication does not produce a writing, the applicant shall, as directed by the judicial officer, state the date.

9. “Warrant” when used in relation to a warrant for the arrest of a person, means a warrant in Form 7 and, when used in relation to a warrant for the Endorsement is not a Form 7 Arrest Warrant but it purports to be a writing that evidenced a ‘warrant in the first’.

10. There is no dispute that the Form 2 Information was made by way of declaration and not affidavit (see: 508.1(2) of the Criminal Code). Ergo, by the Information laid otherwise than in person

11. There is obviously a distinction between ‘making’ and ‘laying’. Ergo, when a Form 2 was made by declaration, then telecommunications, either audio or video, requesting the same but if all that the MAG CSD can provide me with is the originating courthouse then please provide the following:

- q. Level of courthouse;
- r. Name of justice; and
- s. Location of the courthouse.

12. However, when reviewing the Intake Court Endorsement and what was represented to me when I was arrested on October 2, 2024, the TPS represented

“Justice to hear informant and witnesses

508 (1) A justice who receives an information laid before him under section 505 shall

- o (a) hear and consider, ex parte,
 - (i) the allegations of the informant, and
 - (ii) the evidence of witnesses, where he considers it desirable or necessary to do so;

14. Therefore, the mysteries are: (i) what was the ‘originating courthouse’; and (ii) who was the justice who approved the Form 2 Information and issued a

By copying or forwarding this correspondence to the individuals listed below, I am demonstrating my efforts to explore all possible avenues for the requested documents from any of the aforementioned parties. Please note that these documents are also required for the HRTO proceeding, which further demonstrates the need for the documents.

25. Should any fees be associated with the retrieval of these documents, kindly inform me of the amount, and I will arrange for payment to be delivered promptly to the CSD of MAG for any level of court in Ontario to assist in identifying the originating courthouse and the name of the justice who received the Form 7 Arrest Warrant following a pre-enquête hearing.

26. I maintain the understanding that the MAG CSD is obligated to provide me with access to these records, subject to any applicable fees. However, based on that information.

Should anything be unclear, kindly advise.

Dear ONSC Court Services Records (criminal, civil, family or divisional):

1. Thank you. So what is the email for a court service division records administration clerk of the MAG for criminal matters? You have not provided any of a record arrest warrant, then I am in the right location and I require, pursuant to the above, that the MAG CSD SJC (not merely civil) conduct a search. If you are correct that justice has signed an arrest warrant which could apply to ONCJ or ONSC matters. I have asked multiple times but none has been provided so whatever has been explained.
2. I am not merely seeking an 'intake division' because an "arrest warrant" is most of the time NOT in a court file. As such, it is seeking of records in the possession.
3. The email you provided is consistent with the below (see: Appendix #1).
4. Based on what you have represented, then if I had a civil request, then it would be:
5. Toronto.SCJ.CIVILINTAKE@ontario.ca
6. However, that was not the email I was provided. I agree with the above unless you are able to provide me with a MAG Court Services Division email (i.e. CSD seeking what would be in the court file. Please see my previous examples.
7. As such, I am going to follow what was represented to me by SCJ Correspondence (JUD) as that is consistent with public records.
8. My request remains unless another "records email" is provided to me. You have not provided any such other email and that email provided was known to me Division. For example, it would be the same if the initial justice was of the ONCJ as it may Or may NOT be.
9. I do not see any evidence from you that your email is merely civil per se for 'records'.
10. I thank you for your prompt response but my request will remain unless you are able to provide a records email Your reference to only being 'civil' is not supportive.
11. Since this is NOT a FIPPA request, I must assert that my request is to MAG CSD Records email (which has nothing in the email that references only being civil).
12. I confirm my request remains and is NOT withdrawn. If you cannot personally assist me, please put me in touch with the head individual of the MAG CSD Records.
13. If this is an email that is handled by a variety of various court services records admin clerks, then please put me in touch with the individual that manages SCJ MAG.
14. What you have explained has not confirmed why this email is only civil. For example then, what email would be the records email for family and divisional?
15. It clearly states above from the SCJ Correspondence (JUD) that the email provided (this one) is handled for criminal matters.
16. Of course, if I receive the records elsewhere and they are authentic, I will notify you but nothing has transpired at this time. My sole goal is to obtain what is right.
17. The matter is terribly important to me and I am entitled to assert my rights while relying on the email from the SCJ Correspondence (JUD) email. As such, I am exhausted all of my resources.
18. I reserve the right to rely on these emails to confirm that I have made a request of the only email for CSD SJC MAG court records requests. Of course, a court records some traversing between court levels so hence my request is made of the SJC MAG CSD records division (no distinguishing features for criminal, civil, family or divisional).
19. Thank you.

Dear ONSC Court Services Division for all matters (criminal, family, civil, or divisional) (Kind Attention: MM),

Thank you for your response. While I have already submitted a request to the Intake Division of the ONSC, and I have reservations regarding its potential that I have fulfilled my commitment to you. Although I anticipate this may be unsuccessful, I am open to being proven incorrect.

Upon review of your email and the previously provided correspondence, I have not identified any information that pertains exclusively to the Civil Division. The signature block does not specify a connection to this division.

If there is no alternative email address for a specific subdivision within the CSD of MAG for ONSC records, I would appreciate it if you could forward the email address to me so I can address this matter.

Otherwise, I will assume that this email serves as the proper channel for my request. I wish to clarify that the Intake Division or a specific court division is not the correct channel for my request.

My inquiry will remain active until it is fully addressed. I trust that initiating a search for the requested records or locating the relevant contact information is the best course of action.

I will promptly inform you if the records I am seeking are indeed provided through the email address you previously sent, although I currently anticipate that the records will not be provided.

I respectfully await the results of your search and the provision of the requested records, or alternatively, the email address for a Records Administration Clerk. If this not be provided, I will presume that no such dedicated email exists, consistent with the information contained in the previous email from the ONSC correspondence email.

I would appreciate an update regarding the outcome of your search and record retrieval efforts, or if a specific email address for a Records Administration Clerk is provided.

I have no further comments at this time and will await the requested information OR the provision of a records administration clerk in the criminal division. I will also await the ONSC correspondence email that it would have provided an email if such an email existed. However, please correct the ONSC correspondence email if it is not the correct email or court correspondence email) that specifically searches for the records that I have requested. If no email exists, I will expect a lawful search and obtain the records.

Dear Ms. Frugoni-Rojas:

I write regarding the images attached from CAMH where my backpack was taken from me inclusive of all of its property. I have reasonable grounds to believe that the individual at the end of the hallway who lifts up my backpack to inspect it may be you. Is it? Kindly advise.

Dear Ms. Frugoni-Rojas:

1. I send this email for exclusively lawful purposes and my entitlement to information. I remind you of your professional obligations as a 'court officer'.
2. For your ease of reference and to refresh your memory, I became aware of your name as of this month in relation to the attached documents. I hope this refreshes your memory and you can assist regarding the above.
3. It is unclear where you obtained your information in relation to the sworn evidence you provided as I did not communicate with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos on September 22, 2024.
4. It is unfortunate as well that you put "NFA" with two commas before the Province of Ontario when my identification (driver's licence) was included as well. If you had reviewed my driver's licence, you would have known that my fixed address was 410-775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3.

5. I look forward to hearing from you in any event regarding whether that individual is you in the CAMH provided redacted images. In this regard, I respectfully note that when I was in the washroom, without any abandonment of my property, an in-patient banged loudly on the door when I was in there. It caused me to believe that she needed to use the facilities quite urgently. In this regard, I am referring to the washroom at the West end of the corridor at CAMH (1025 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario). It caused me to then come out rapidly and defer to an in-patient.
6. Ironically, I became friendly and acquainted with said lady at various times thereafter although, on a human level, I had spoken with her before. I learned, despite her challenges, that she had a fear of prison and law enforcement which I found sad and attempted to speak with her about it. Suffice it to say, while Detective Petrie was in a plainclothes, I presume that you were in your office special constable or court officer garb which is what triggered her.
7. I presume that you were in communication with Ms. Nikki Kanavas who was acting as legal counsel to one Ms. Aphrodite Artopoulos and Ms. Nicole Artopoulos. It appears that she was terminated in a formal capacity thereafter.
8. I note that you were quite the athlete in your day and played indoor soccer at Seneca where Ms. Aphrodite Artopoulos taught for some 30 or so years. I also note that Ms. Kanavas taught at Senecas as well.
9. The little bit that I have been able to glean regarding now Justice of the Peace Mr. George Jiri (“JP Jiri”) was that he did his police foundations course at Seneca at the same time you were enrolled at Seneca which I believe was between 2000 to 2002.
10. It is remarkable that a JP from Brampton was endorsing a warrant for the Toronto Region which is where you claimed to be located in your sworn declaration. I note that JP Jiri was formerly of the 52nd Division. The detective who visited me in the jail cells at 14th Division, which remains a huge source of serious injury for me, which is much in the need of continued therapy, is of the 52nd Division. I am of course referring to Detective Abdul Virani (referred to as “Detective Abdul”) when I was speaking to him through the window of being incarcerated without lawful authority.
11. I further note that the Form 2 that I received from one Sergeant Cassidy did not have a case file number but your declaration under oath did. Hence, an arrest warrant was endorsed in Toronto 52nd Division but not the 14th Division. It raises some very compelling questions that will need to be answered.
12. I, of course, know that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos, of the same background and nationality as that of Ms. Kanavas and the ex-husband to Ms. Nicole Artopoulos, was engaged in a variety of unauthorized activity commencing after October 25, 2024. I attach a chart from the TPL for your ease of reference. I also attach a copy of Mr. Papadimitropoulos forgery of my name, consummation of a false document and uttering of the same on October 28, 2024 at the TPL Fort York branch.
13. Involving his conduct, a series of complaints may be filed in short order and I sincerely hope that the 52nd Division abides by the rule of law.
14. I have turned my mind to the notion that you were somehow compelled to declare evidence with a date of non-communication by myself and Ms. Nicole Artopoulos. If that is the case, you have my empathies but certainly I would be most grateful if you would come forward and admit your mistake.
15. He then appeared to have turned on the 52nd Division by engaging in conduct that he did on December 13, 2024, at the TPL Reference Library by inputting the phone number for me I might add of one Ms. Valerie Oulette of the CBC. I was apparently too traumatized to pick up his unsolicited hints.
16. My position and evidence remains that this was quarterbacked by the Licence Appeal Tribunal. It then dawned on me that the times that I attended the building of the Tribunals Ontario to deliver documents and fees that there were ‘special constables’ there at the front.

17. I remain of the view that the LAT had the most to gain regarding the unauthorized taking of my property inclusive of my computer and other electronic devices.

18. Perhaps, this was your first stab (pardon the pun as it had quite the debilitating effect upon me) at a declaration under oath but that its effects are still being felt. Hopefully, this is a learning lesson for you and other 'court officers'.

19. It appears based on the temporal aspect of when your declaration was signed with Adobe to the time that JP Jiri endorsed the same (about an hour) that someone must have called him to alert him to the same so he could sign off on the same.

20. The only thing I could not figure out before was how a former partner of Mr. Papadimitropoulos' retained law firm in his matrimonial litigation with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos became involved in JPRA Application when she was only one of two judges from Epstein Cole LLP in the Toronto Region. In effect, 2 of 93 justices in the ONSC Toronto Region were from Epstein Cole. Those are some seriously slim odds but then it came to me that a court officer does not have a physical station but primarily operates at the courthouses at the 52 Division.

21. This segue leads me to my second question: have you spoken to any justices, like Madam Justice Shore, involving myself since November 15, 2024 until February 2024? If you did not, are you aware of any of your colleagues that did.

22. I note that Mr. Petrie's presumed wife in a Mrs. Petrie works at 10 Armoury Road, Toronto, Ontario, so that is perhaps another link to the same.

23. I also note that Epstein Cole LLP is at 393 University Avenue which is in the 52nd Division. I presume your division deals with them quite regularly and certainly on account of those disputes where spouses are charged with various charges sometimes in bona fide fashion and sometimes for manipulative and strategic reasons.

24. I digress because the above is merely background. The important pressing issue is the return of my property and knowledge is clearly power in this situation.

25. I will presume all of the above to be correct unless there is not a denial regarding the same. If you do not respond, I will of course move forward on that basis.

26. I use the word 'presume' to avoid any imputation of another false allegation of harassment due to the trauma I have endured.

27. I look forward to hearing from you in an honest, open and transparent manner. Other than that, if I need to provide you notice as an affected person, I will do so within the boundaries of the law and with lawful authority.

28. Thank you kindly.

Dear Ms. Frugoni-Rojas:

1. I confirm that I have delivered the above two emails without a bounce back to either. As I have some medical appointments, examinations, testing and procedure this week, I kindly ask that you provide your response to those questions by the end of business day on Tuesday, April 29, 2025.
2. I confirm that if I do not hear from you with an unequivocal denial by that time, I will be entitled to presume that the answer to those questions are in the affirmative.
3. Thank you.

Dear Ms. Frugoni-Rojas:

1. I confirm that I have provided reasonable time for you to explicitly deny that you were engaged in the activities which I had reasonable grounds to believe and/or certainty that you did. You have not done so. I confirm the above emails were received.
2. I have been able to confirm that Deputy Crown Ms. Petrie is not related to Detective Rich Petrie. You can see the difference in class and professionalism by her when measured against the failure or neglect to respond like you and Detective Petrie.
3. I can again confirm that I did not communicate with the Purported Complainant on or around September 22, 2024. You were incorrect in your declared evidence. Since you have not responded, I will request that JP Jiri in fact endorsed the arrest warrant that was not provided to me on request for the same on the 14th Division (despite the False Pretense Email et al) and not having it on them at the time for whatever their reasons were because you have not denied the above.
4. I confirm that the arrest warrant that was obtained was predicated on false premises and fraudulent grounds. It has no merit in fact and at law and could have never been relied upon.
5. Now that I know it is you in the images from CAMH holding my backpack up, I will make the necessary complaint regarding your conduct. Obviously, if it was not you, you would have denied the same. I confirm that any court officers and other police officers, who relied on this unlawful conduct, are to stay away from me forthwith. I make a formal demand that you take all necessary steps to assist in the return of my property that was stolen on October 25, 2024. Thank you.

Good morning Mr. McLean,

My name is Detective Constable Mohamed with the Toronto Police. I deal with matters involving Court Officers.

I can advise you that that Officer Frugoni-Rojas performed an administrative function by swearing to an Information in order to bring your matter before the court. I can further advise that Officer Frugoni-Rojas is not a witness in the case, was not physically present at CAMH and had no role in confiscating your property. She also has no ability to return your property or stop the court proceedings.

I can further advise that Officer Frugoni-Rojas does not wish to receive any form of contact or communication from you, so if you would like to further discuss the case, I would recommend contacting the Officer-in-Charge or the assigned Crown Attorney.

Thank you,

Rizwan Mohamed

Thank you Detective Mohammed. I appreciate the response. I am about to step into a medical appointment so I have not read it in full. I will do so later but I believe I get it. Anything, I will review the same and revert back so I covered all bases.

In any event, it is interesting timing because I emailed my apologies to Detective Petrie last night as I learned who the culprit was and it is explained below in the email to (see: Appendix). The individual is Mr. David Karat of TD Insurance Group as per the below.

Bye for now. Take care

Re: apology

Good Evening Detective Petrie:

I thank you for your response above. I owe you an apology in thinking that you may have been the individual that potentially took my property. I had a purely fluke experience where the redacted photos I received from CAMH and somehow the security feature was no longer active and it showed the individual. It was Mr. David Karat, who is known as a 'claims specialist' at TD Insurance group (the "TDI Group").

Thanks for your responses nonetheless and I am a man enough to admit when I was wrong and I also did not want you thinking that I still thought it may have been you v. them for ease of reference. As this is not your jurisdiction per se, I am working with CAMH so the thief himself can be apprehended and not cause those kinds of issues again.

Wishing you well and thanks for your honesty above. I was wrong. You were right.

To: Rizwan Mohamed <Rizwan.Mohamed@tps.ca>

May 16, 2025

Dear Detective:

1. Thanks again for your professional and cordial tone. As always, I like to think that no matter how odd a situation is and what has transpired, I can put the relevant roles in shaping the legal framework herein in Ontario and nationwide to some degree.
2. With respect to Ms. Frugoni-Rojas not being a witness. If you are referring to the R. v. McLean (criminal harassment charge involving the Information she swore to at the time of the arrest or ab initio. However, it may become a moot point as per a few motions I have outstanding to dismiss the criminal charge on separate points of law. I swear to the evidence with affidavit evidence alone but nonetheless she would be fully entitled to face the evidence. Moreover, it is only in good practice and spirit to ensure that all relevant evidence is presented.
3. I will respect her wishes to not receive service directly so if the situation arises where she is a potential witness or notice is required and/or I have the power to serve inter alia, her declared Form 2 Information.

4. In relation to the comment regarding the 'assigned Crown', it was Mr. Aijun Rudra, a reasonably new call of the LSO, but I received an email a little while before that he would delete any emails from me. I disagreed that was permissible at first instance but certainly impermissible if another assigned Crown as not provided to me in good faith and for purposes of the Criminal Proceeding (as defined in the filed materials).

5. In relation to the 'officer-in-charge', I presume you are referring to Detective Abdulhameed Virani of the 52nd Division. I have reached out to him but without having visited me in the jail cell of the 14th Division.

6. I will review your position on whether the declarant or affiant of a Form 2 is or is not a witness. My experience is much in the civil arena in BC and less in the criminal arena. I guess that any individual who has given evidence in a proceeding and the individual who swore evidence to commence a proceeding (i.e. the Form 2) is required to be the same. I certainly agree with you that it is the decision of the MAG (Criminal Law Division), particularly The Honourable Attorney General Mr. Downey but I am not counsel in the relevant jurisdiction and by the Crown prosecutorial manual to some degree, and that is an issue that Mr. Rudra and his superiors in that branch of the court are dealing with.

7. That being said and as per your lofty role with the TPS and overseeing the conduct of a court officer, I implore you to ensure that honesty and transparency declaration pursuant to those provisions of the Criminal Code lend to at the very least a falsely declared affidavit. I did not communicate with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos on September 21 or 23, 2024. Ms. Frugoni-Rojas swore (declared to be precise) the Form 2 on September 23, 2024, shab facie, that is an Adobe digital signature. I do not know what the CL (M) means but nonetheless that is her legal name.

8. That being said, mistakes happen with sworn and declared evidence but the correction to the same would have had to have happened shortly thereafter and certainly important for the rule of law that Ms. Frugoni-Rojas confirms to the Crown Counsel that an error occurred and as such the proceeding should have never been commenced.

9. I will allow you to review the same and do so on her behalf and she can do so on her own volition. We all must realize that justice is not free and tax dollars are required to run the system. Form 2 declared information that has a date where no communications occurred by me or on my behalf. I only write for myself and nobody else writes for me.

10. In an odd way, she has the power to end the proceeding because without that declared information, the proceeding never started.

I will await to hear whether she is ready, willing and able to do so.

11. Thank you.

Good morning Mr. McLean,

Thank you for your detailed response.

I appreciate your response that you will respect Officer Frugoni-Rojas' wishes to not receive service directly.

As it pertains to my role of investigating allegations of misconduct by Court Officers, I do not have reason to believe that any misconduct took place in this instance and since I have no involvement in any further reviews. However, if you do come to believe that Officer Frugoni-Rojas is, or should be, a witness in R. v. McLean, I would recommend a notification through the proper channels.

Thank you,

May 16, 2025

Dear Detective:

1. Thanks again for your professional and cordial tone. As always, I like to think that no matter how odd a situation is and what has transpired, I can put the rule of law and public interest first. We all Ontario and nationwide to some degree.
 2. With respect to Ms. Frugoni-Rojas not being a witness. If you are referring to the R. v. McLean (criminal harassment charge involving the Information she swore), I would not concede that point a moot point as per a few motions I have outstanding to dismiss the criminal charge on separate points of law. I say that because those are written motions with affidavit evidence alone but nonetheless Moreover, it is only in good practice and spirit to ensure that all relevant persons have a chance to provide evidence.
 3. I will respect her wishes to not receive service directly so if the situation arises where she is a potential witness or notice is required and/or I have the power to do so, I will direct it to you regarding
 4. In relation to the comment regarding the 'assigned Crown', it was Mr. Arjun Rudra, a reasonably new call of the LSO, but I received an email a little while ago from the South Toronto Crown disagreed that was permissible at first instance but certainly impermissible if another assigned Crown as not provided to me. I provide that information to you in good faith and for purposes of the Crim
 5. In relation to the 'officer-in-charge', I presume you are referring to Detective Abdulhameed Virani of the 52nd Division. I have reached out to him but without a response. He was the individual that
 6. I will review your position on whether the declarant or affiant of a Form 2 is or is not a witness. My experience is much in the civil arena in BC and less in the criminal law. However, I would evidence in a proceeding and the individual who swore evidence to commence a proceeding (i.e. the Form 2) is required to provide evidence within the scope of the same. I certainly agree with you Division), particularly The Honourable Attorney General Mr. Downey but as delegated to the various deputy crown counsel in the relevant jurisdiction and by the Crown prosecutorial manual to some superiors in that branch of executive government will have to address.
 7. That being said and as per your lofty role with the TPS and overseeing the conduct of a court officer, I implore you to ensure that honesty and transparency are at premium. Ms. Frugoni-Rojas Criminal Code lend to at the very least a falsely declared affidavit. I did not communicate with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos on Sunday, September 22, 2024. I did not communicate with the aforementioned swore (declared to be precise) the Form 2 on September 23, 2024, shortly before noon. I do not dispute, prima facie, that is an Adobe digital signature. I do not know what the CL (M) means but nonetheless
 8. That being said, mistakes happen with sworn and declared evidence but the correction to the same would have had to have happened shortly thereafter and certainly before I was arrested. I believe Rojas confirms to the Crown Counsel that an error occurred and as such the proceeding should have never been commenced on said evidence.
 9. I will allow you to review the same and do so on her behalf and she can do so on her own volition. We all must realize that justice is not free and tax dollars are being expended at an alarming rate where no communications occurred by me or on my behalf. I only write for myself and nobody else writes for me.
 10. In an odd way, she has the power to end the proceeding because without that declared information, the proceeding never started.
- I will await to hear whether she is ready, willing and able to do so.
11. Thank you.

Re: apology

Good Evening Detective Petrie:

I thank you for your response above. I owe you an apology in thinking that you may have been the individual that potentially took my property. I had a purely fluke experience in copying and pasting the information somehow the security feature was no longer active and it showed the individual. It was Mr. David Karat, who is known to me from my car accident matter, and he is a 'claims specialist' at TD Insurance group.

Thanks for your responses nonetheless and I am a man enough to admit when I was wrong and I also did not want you thinking that I still thought it may have been you when it was not. I have attached the jurisdiction per se, I am working with CAMH so the thief himself can be apprehended and not cause those kinds of issues again.

Wishing you well and thanks for your honesty above. I was wrong. You were right.

Access to my backpack - VIDEO FOOTAGE - PRIVACY REQUEST - FRIDAY - OCTOBER 25, 2024 FROM AROUND 12:55 P.M. TO 1:30 P.M.

Dear CAMH (Privacy Division): I hope you are all well. I confirm that I have unequivocally determined who the individual was who moved my property without consent and lawful authorization. If he was and is unknown to you, it is Detective Richard Petrie of the 52nd Division. The woman at the end of the corridor is likely a court officer by the name of Ms. Christyn Frugoni-Rojas but I am still inquiring regarding the same. I provide this to you to inform you that I have connected with the former and his division and that they are to return my property to CAMH 'lost and found' at their earliest convenience. If they do not, you will receive a second access request from me in the correct form with the application fee on the basis of being an assiduous inquirer for further records.

While Detective Petrie, not of the 14th Division, was likely not known to you is because he was dressed in plain clothes and acting under the direction of the Licence Appeal Tribunal along with that of one Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos, formerly of TD Insurance and now of TD Bank. The latter engaged in the conduct which I attach in the form of a chart from the TPL. It is a shame that we could not resolve on the FIPPA issues earlier as it has put me through 'hell and back' but nonetheless all is well that ends well.

Mr. Papadimitropoulos, unbeknownst to me at the time, engaged in forgery and impersonation of me on Octobre 28, 2024, (three days after the theft of my property) at the TPL Fort York branch by the attached document. You can see that he signed in the incorrect field and input his own signature ("A", "N" and "P"). I trust that the 'former reference' is not lost upon you.

I reserve the right to rely on this email for a future access request (if necessary).

I will address the non-FIPPA aspects with legal counsel of CAMH.

Yours truly,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM) (he/him)

I hope you and your team are well. Thank you again for providing your initial response herein with the images. It still appears to me with my review and some information technological assistance that there were multiple individuals involved in this theft. However, it is difficult to know exactly when the images are blurred regarding the same. Respectfully, I cannot see any merit to your position in accordance with the law. Since you have relied on a mandatory provision under FIPPA, I will boldly presume that in the event that the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Ontario orders CAMH to produce the unredacted images and any further images, and other records (as it remains somewhat incomplete in my view despite appreciating you clarifying and/or amending the initial response), that you will not contest the same. As noted, I had to proceed with an appeal of your decision and provide all of our emails and attachments, and look forward to having my safety, security and health protected on a short-term and long term basis.

I provide this to the CAMH privacy division solely for purposes of FIPPA.

Should you review the law that I have cited and your position changes as a result of a "sober second thought", kindly notify me forthwith so we do not waste further time of the IPC (Ontario).

Finally, I remain on track to learn of the individual who then engaged in further unauthorized acts involving the property in the McLean Backpack so it is imperative that I can cross-reference the same. If the provision of those images would cause a change in your position, kindly let me know. Thank you.

Thanks so much for your response. Apologies for the delay as I was filing a factum with the ONSC Divisional Court. I will of course request a review and will do so promptly.

It is unfortunate that this individual is being protected over and above my interests when I had a REOP and continue to have an REOP and said individual does not but I will exercise that rights and find out who this individual is.

I again express the urgency of the above and if you change your decision, you may email here.

Dear CAMH Privacy:

I appreciate your response yet again in relation to the above. While I appreciate your position, no police report can be filed in good faith without knowing who the individual was or if multiple individuals were involved. I was kindly asking whether the redacted individual by the door is holding my backpack. Would you confirm or deny the same so I know which way to proceed and how to proceed?

Again, a theft happened in your building and you have the images in unredacted form. Therefore, it was incumbent upon CAMH to file a police complaint as soon as it knew and had access to the same. I trust you will or have done so in the event you were tardy in doing so to assist in the return of my property to CAMH. Again, I note the same in the event you have not and you have reasonable grounds to believe that a criminal offence was committed.

Of course, my focus is primarily on the civil side and having my property returned.

My review of the images, where there are no legal grounds under FIPPA to withhold the same, shows that when the individual by the door is holding something that there are no images involving my backpack at the same time. Do you agree with me in that regard?

I again ask because there is an individual(s) who have engaged in fraud, impersonation, identity theft et al thereafter.

I repeat and rely upon the above.

Thank you.

CAUTION: This email originated from outside of CAMH. Do not click links, open attachments or respond to requests for information unless you recognize the sender and know the content is safe.

Good Morning again CAMH Privacy Division:

Thanks again for the above. As promised, I would review the decision in more detail. Kindly find the two paragraphs that I have emphasized herein:

“Following a review of the images responsive to your request, it has been concluded that other individuals (such as CAMH clients or visitors) personal information is part of these responsive records. As such, it has been determined that certain exemptions under FIPPA would apply to this request.

As these responsive records contain personal information of individuals that meets the definition of section 21(1) of FIPPA, disclosure of such records would constitute an unjustified invasion of personal privacy. Section 21(1) of FIPPA is enclosed for your reference.”

Section 21(1) of FIPPA reads as follows:

“21 (1) A head shall refuse to disclose personal information to any person other than the individual to whom the information relates except..”

By my reading, you are relying on section 21(1)(f) of FIPPA to some level of implication or inference and that the exemption does not apply:

“(f) if the disclosure does not constitute an unjustified invasion of personal privacy. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 21 (1).”

I have exhausted the legal analysis supra.

To assist me in determining whether it is worth filing an appeal with the OIPC (Ontario), which would not be for general records, and/or whether we can narrow the gaps herein so I can confirm my access request has been satisfied in full:

1. How do you say that these images do not relate to me?

a. How is an individual holding my property and going through my other suitcase/carry-on (black bag) not relatable to me?

i. It is trite that personal information may be relate to two people (see: supra);

b. When referring to these images, I am referring to the snapshot of the images where the individual is holding my bag or going through my other black bag.

2. If the other individuals had no role in the same (i.e. East door entrance), then we need not discuss them per se. I appreciate that those individuals need not be exposed or shown per se if that is the case. If they were somehow involved, which is not represented in the investigation report but there may be more records therein based on the length of the investigation as represented to me by CAMH SS, then it ~~will be~~ a different matter. However, for current purposes, as it is unclear if they were communicating with each other from the images, I will presume, without waiver of my rights, that they were not involved.

3. How would the disclosure of all of the images of my backpack and contents therein be an unjustified invasion of said Thief's personal privacy?

4. How would the disclosure of the legs, torso, and back of the Thief be an unjustified invasion of his or her personal's privacy?

a. Put another way, do you say that the Thief has any reasonable expectation of privacy ("REOP")?

There is no dispute that I knew that other individuals would be contained in the images. There is no dispute that personal information is contained in those images. The issue, by my reading of section 21(1) of FIPPA, is not whether personal information is contained in the images (records) but whether the disclosure of some or all of the personal information of others would constitute an unreasonable invasion of personal privacy. The Thief cannot have any REOP in coming into CAMH and engaging in theft on CAMH property of others therein. The CCTV sets the standard and there is no REOP for that type of conduct and leaves immediately out the main entrance. It seems that individual left out the main entrance as he or she knew that I would come in through the East side entrance. This is outright scary and alarming.

In any event, would you please provide a response that specifically and absolutely complies with FIPPA under section 29 as it relates to each record in question. The response must include why section 21(1) applies to each record and image (nine) and distinguish between the individuals therein.

Contents of notice of refusal

29 (1) Notice of refusal to give access to a record or a part thereof under section 26 shall set out,

- (b) where there is such a record,
- (i) the specific provision of this Act under which access is refused,
- (ii) the reason the provision applies to the record,
- (iii) the name and position of the person responsible for making the decision, and
- (iv) that the person who made the request may appeal to the Commissioner for a review of the decision. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 29 (1)

My reading also indicates that you should provide a response as to whether the exemptions apply to any or all of the images. Please let me know whether you agree or disagree with the above. Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

CAMH Access Request File 2024-006G

Dear CAMH Privacy:

VOLUME #1: Thank you and my continued respect

1. Thank you again for your response and provision of some of what was requested. I am still reviewing it in detail. To ensure we respect the OIPC's resources, I have some follow up questions or points of clarification so I am not misunderstanding what you have conveyed and/or your legal position. I adopt the definitions from the above correspondence.

2. I wish to also make clear that I hope you can appreciate that my sole goal remains the return of my property (some or all). I appreciate the work that you do and it can be arduous, challenging and time consuming. I appreciate the lack of charging fees for the above while I say what I have requested remains my personal information. I see from the metadata that Ms. Gregory created the Adobe PDF on November 18, 2024, so I take you at your word that you may have had some issues obtaining the images from the CAMH SS (see: definition infra).

3. I confirm that all information and records are to be retained until I have exhausted all avenues of recourse.

VOLUME #2: CAMH Security Services ("CAMH SS"): further records – investigation after Friday, October 25, 2024

4. However, in the interim, my understanding was that the CAMH Security Services was still investigating up until mid-November. My request included the records included in the same. Would you provide the same or provide your position regarding the same?

VOLUME #3: Redactions: narrowing the scope

VOLUME #3(A): the courteous female at the "west side" of the long affixed white table

5. With respect to the redaction (red-blobs around figures of individuals), I confirm that the woman sitting at the long table to the West of the individual who stole my property was known to me. I do not need or did not request any un-redacted images of her. She is the individual with the computer and eating soup.

VOLUME #3(B): Individuals on the East Side of the CAMH Building

6. With respect to the images of those persons at the door on the East side by the entrance doors to the park (TD Commons), is it your unequivocal position that those individuals had no role in touching or moving my backpack? I ask because one of the images looks like an individual may be holding a backpack and the backpack is no longer visible in said image. However, it may be that she (or he or any other non-binary individual) may be holding a picture or a baby. I am referring to the first image on the first page as some pages have two images.

VOLUME #3(C): How is my backpack visible in some images but not others

7. In relation to the above, it is unclear how the backpack is later visible in other images when it was not in the first images. It is also unclear how the backpack was visible in some images but not others. It appears that the backpack has been improperly redacted in those images. Would you kindly send me images without those redactions of the backpack? It is obviously difficult for me to determine if the individual is wearing my backpack or holding one of the other bags. If the individual is holding or wearing my backpack, then I am entitled to that information as it is personal information.

8. I again repeat and rely upon the above correspondence and law that a thief has no right to be left undisturbed and no REOP.

9. While I disagree with the redactions entirely, it would be helpful to narrow the scope in the event I have to appeal to the Ontario IPC (the "Privacy Commissioner"). I have not decided that because the impersonation with my library card is oddly more serious on many fronts. There have also been unlawful attempts and usage of my banking cards (debit and credit). I am continuing that investigation alongside the relevant fraud divisions.

VOLUME #3(D): Individual other than those by the door by TD Commons and the lady sitting at the long table

10. While I am still reviewing the decision of November 20, 2024, (the "CAMH Access Decision" or "CAMH Decision") you have made and confirmed received, it is unclear from that decision how the redactions of the thief (individual) is subject to section 21(1) of FIPPA. As noted, I had read that section and FIPPA in detail along with the override exemptions. It appears that the CAMH Decision does not differentiate between the innocent bystanders, to the extent they all were or are, and the Thief. I am relying on your representation that this theft was conducted by one individual in the Thief.

11. I am, of course, not entitled to any images in unredacted or unsevered form of individuals who were merely carrying on their work, eating lunch, or minding their own business. However, I do not see from the CAMH Decision how you say that section 21(1) of FIPPA applies to the Thief. Perhaps, I have missed it and I will review it in more detail. However, due to the urgency of this matter which was expanded as a result of the initial theft on CAMH property (specifically the CAMH Building), my health and security remain at serious and grave risk.

12. To the extent that you say that section 21(1) of FIPPA clearly applies to the Thief, would you please explain your reasons as to why? Was personal privacy (REOP) does the Thief have? What is the invasion of the Thief's personal privacy? Why is it unjustified?

13. In light of the ongoing evidence that I have provided in good faith regarding the breaches of my security by way of impersonation, false pretenses, and fraud that all arose from the Theft, do you say that I did not meet the test for compelling circumstances affecting health, safety and security? If so, is there anything more I can do to persuade you? If you need sworn evidence, I am happy to provide the same. I am happy to put CAMH at ease and carry the burden of risk with an affidavit that you can rely upon.

14. I have not found any authorities that protect the personal privacy of a thief such that he or she would be entitled to privacy from their criminal acts. Perhaps, the Thief did not have the mens rea to commit the offence but it is a criminal act and likely many criminal acts. Moreover, the fact that there have been three separate instances of further criminal acts involving not only my property but government or bank issued property must be of concern to CAMH. The individual(s) who have been engaged in the library fraud on October 28, 2024 and November 2024 frauds clearly know me to a high degree. The only logical conclusion is that the individual who stole the McLean Property is the one using the bank issued cards and TPL issued library card and impersonating me or said individual (Thief) delivered to another individual. Therefore, there is a level of connectedness that is most alarming or this individual clearly has animus towards me and it was not an isolated theft.

15. I will kindly ask again that you provide me with not only all images where my backpack is visible but the image of the Thief. In the alternative, without waiving any of my rights, I reiterate and restate my request for anything on a piecemeal basis.

VOLUME #3(E): The reflection in the window

16. It appears that the individual in the window is the reflection of the individual who stole the McLean Property. Would you please confirm or deny the same?

17. If it is not, then I will work with you to receive new images with that individual redacted to any degree.

18. If the individual in the reflection is the same individual as the Thief, then I can work on the higher resolution of the same. If that is the case, then I do not need higher resolution as I can have tech people increase the resolution of the same.

19. However, I will await your response with respect to confirmation or denial. Would you kindly revert back by the end of the day on that front?

VOLUME #4: Conclusion

20. I trust that we can narrow the gaps on some of these issues. Again, I am used to the FIPPA (BC) process which suggests that the public body and the requestor should work together to ensure that there are no misunderstandings and narrow any gaps where they could be. Also, I believe, consistent with FIPPA (BC) and the BCIPC's secondary sources, that it is common sense to not waste a privacy commissioner's resources if we do not have to. Moreover, in the context of the above, it seems only logical that I need to know exactly why the Thief's images have been redacted and on what grounds compared to the other innocent individuals. I would presume it is a requirement that the CAMH privacy division explains to some level of detail as to why the exemptions to section 21(1) of FIPPA do not apply.

21. I thank you for your follow-up responses and potential further provision of access to records and/or a timeline regarding the same. I appreciate that we are still within the 30-day window but the urgency cannot be understated.

22. I kindly await to hear from you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM)

Thank you for the email again CAMH (Aleks and Noelle) and the enclosures. Did you not consider compelling circumstances involving my health or security? Did you not consider the override involving the same?

I do not intend to waste time if you are not going to provide the unredacted images but I confirm that you have retained the images without redactions.

However, I would ask for higher resolution involving the reflection therein.

Moreover, since the reflection appears to be the individual that took the backpack and my property, I am now being impersonated regarding the same.

I confirm that you represented to me that if I took the same to the police, you would provide unredacted images of the same.

I wish for this to be a collaborative process.

My safety and health remain in jeopardy so I would appreciate knowing your position by the end of day tomorrow.

Thanks, Aleks for these images. I have reviewed many of them in detail with a timeline. We disagree on the law and its application. There is no unjustified invasion of privacy of a thief and this appears to be a tag team effort with people at the door. Is your position different that it was only one individual?

My compelling circumstances override the same in any event.

However, to work with you on this level without any waiver of my rights, would you kindly send the images of when this individual entered and from where? Did this individual leave out the East side door or hand my property to someone else?

If my backpack has been redacted from any images, please unredact said image. I am referring to the image at 1:11:53 p.m. Is that individual looking at my backpack?

Also, please send me higher resolution images of the individual in the reflection from the end of the long table? You can see in the image at 1:12:12 p.m. that there is an individual in the reflection with a bag in his left hand like the redacted image. It appears to be an individual who is of darker skin tone, about 5'10" and medium build.

I spoke with the lady on the West Side of the long table and she was very helpful and concerned, and apologetic although the apology from her was unnecessary.

When comparing her petite frame to the redaction, they are somewhat crudely done.

It is a step in the right direction but still well short of what FIPPA requires. However, I will work in the spirit of cooperation and piecemeal basis. My goal is to obtain the return of my property particularly in light of how an individual took my property and then has impersonated me.

Kindly send whatever else you have on a forthwith basis. It remains urgent.

Warm regards,

Dear CAMH Privacy Division:

I provide further detailed information regarding the impersonation that this individual who has my library card from my wallet has been engaged in since that time. It is calculated, premeditated and threatening to my health and security.

Please provide me with an image(s), of somewhat high resolution, so I can protect myself.

If you need an explanation of my notes, kindly request forthwith.

If I do not hear from you, I trust you will not leave me in such a dire situation and at risk.

Thank you.

November 16, 2024

Dear CAMH Privacy Division:

6691
I write regarding the above with an urgent update. As of this morning, the TPL after further investigation has provided me with a list of the books taken out under my now cancelled library card. It is alarming to say the least.

There were two books taken out on the Monday, October 28, 2024, at the Fort York library where I was incidentally emailing CAMH from that day and then delivering the application fee. The borrowing of books happened on two separate occasions. I will have to check to see if I was in the library at that time but I believe that I may have been. The two take outs at that time may have been one to test the card and then a second before the Fort York library closed.

The, perhaps, more alarming impersonation of myself was on Friday, November 8, 2024, from the time of 11:57 a.m. to 12:29 a.m. The branch in question is of the "Queen/Saulter branch" which is at 765 Queen Street East, Toronto. It is the branch that is on the corner of Queen Street East and Broadview Avenue. If you are unfamiliar with that branch, as I was, it is close to the 'southern tip' of Broadview avenue, and directly on Queen Street East^[1]. (nota bene: I was mistakenly thinking of the branch on Broadview Avenue (close to Gerrard)).

You will recall that this individual also used my library card on Friday, November 1, 2024, at the time of around 1:05 p.m. to reserve tickets to attend the Aga Khan museum for the following day (Saturday, November 2, 2024).

You will also recall that said individual took my property on Friday, October 25, 2024, at around 1 p.m.

There is a clear pattern of conduct on Friday in the early afternoon.

CAMH has confirmed that it does not know the individual who left immediately with my property.

Please provide me with multiple images before, during and after taking the McLean Property, and I will be able to confirm if I know the individual.

Please do so forthwith as these are beyond compelling circumstances that continue to not only affect but threaten my health and safety.

The unjustified invasion of my privacy continues. I remind you cordially of the requirements of the HR Code.

I have copied Ms. Armstrong, yet again, because the lack of response is troubling on many levels. I am obviously now obtaining all of the images from both libraries and they will be for comparison purposes but we will need to determine if the individual is the same. It is not my style to speculate and I am happy that I did not.

I appreciate it is a weekend but anything later than Monday at noon is unacceptable. We have agreed it is urgent and you have my recitation of the law. There are no winners here but I was correct even before reading FIPPA (ON) and our ONCA said it best in R v. Van Duong, "thieves do not have a right to be left undisturbed" until they return that which is not theirs.

FIPPA occupies that important role from a legislative perspective that allows for checks and balances on someone clearly with way too much time on their hands. As you can imagine, if I do not have images from your side in short order, I may not be able to pinpoint who this is and my health and safety continue to be at risk. If I end up shot and dead, it is on CAMH.

Dear CAMH Privacy Division:

I appreciate that the individuals whom I have communicated with are high-level privacy officers and have great acumen in the area.

As noted, this is one of these issues where the facts are not in dispute and I am always going to do my best to assist with the right cause and selfishly with my own. Moreover, like anyone, you have confidential and privileged information on the likes of computers and even things that other people send you that you have a duty to keep in confidence.

In terms of the comment regarding blurring or redacting the image, I stand by my position which is the law on these facts. I have at least three exceptions relating to the exemption that you purport to rely upon under section 21(1) of FIPPA.

I appreciate that it must always be about the law first. As such, at first instance, my previous submissions detailing the Charter analysis that would apply were correct and in accordance with the binding authorities. Therefore, section 21(1) of FIPPA is inapplicable. I provide this for CAMH's comfort and always welcome constructive yet expedient intellectual dialogue. I have no interest in violating the privacy of an individual who was not involved in this admitted (by CAMH) theft.

The SCC brief^[i] of the Director of Public Prosecutions, which is one of our giant institutions in Canada, and can almost be taken as the law when it is in a SCC brief. However, for precision purposes, the DPP, in her pronoun "she", submitted the following at paragraph:

"28. What if the vehicle were stolen or obtained from a stranger? In the DPP's submission, there cannot be an expectation of privacy in a stolen car. Similarly, a person who obtains possession of a house by fraud does not have a reasonable expectation of privacy^[ii] because a thief or fraudster is not entitled to control of the property and so has no right to be left undisturbed."

In this instance, we have a stolen backpack with a wallet, computer, electronics, passport, identification, credit cards, bank cards, library card and other property of myself (collectively, the "McLean Property"). Until this unknown individual returns the McLean Property, he has no right to be left undisturbed.

As FIPPA is a quasi-constitutional statute, our SCC cases and provincial authorities that deal with similar facts are binding or persuasive (where applicable). Van Duong was summarized beautifully by the ONSC in R. v. Chambers^[iii]:

[36] In R. v. Van Duong, 2018 ONCA 115, at paras. 6 and 7, the court dealt with a case where the accused obtained possession of a residence by means of a fraud. They used the residence for cooking methamphetamine. They had the physical ability to admit and exclude others from the residence. However, they had no legal right to do so. They may have desired privacy. However, they did not have a subjective expectation of privacy in the sense of entitlement to be left undisturbed.

It is trite that “undisturbed” is a strong “invasion” of “personal privacy” that that of providing a disclosure of an image where said individual had no REOP at first instance.

Therefore, in order for us to be compliant with FIPPA (ON), I need not even dignify another representation about “blurring an individual”. To blur such an individual or even suggest would be a violation of FIPPA.

Why CAMH did not report this to the police immediately is beyond me? However, that is beyond the scope of FIPPA. Perhaps, CAMH has “bigger fish to fry” and I have to respect that.

We are left with what you say are fees for providing me the disclosure. Again, if someone obtained my PIN to my library card, I can be of assistance to CAMH on the privacy side. Therefore, the answers to my questions may do it but likely with a few images. Particularly, if an individual left immediately out of CAMH Building (see: definition) and off the campus, then it is someone that knew me or of me. It is also noteworthy that said individual did not grab my other bags.

I need to protect myself and I need your assistance and compliance with FIPPA.

Any individual who comes in for one purpose to CAMH, steals another's items, and then leaves immediately, all while being unknown to CAMH, should be of great concern to CAMH overall from a safety and health standpoint. Moreover, it is here where the CAMH privacy division can implicitly send the correct message that if an individual engages in such activities, not only is there the risk of law enforcement but individual's will exercise their privacy rights, and the law affords them no protection from being identified. And why should it? The question answers itself.

Please commence that tomorrow by early morning. I have a few meetings in the afternoon so I frankly beg of you to do so by the morning. Piecemeal is fine but kindly remember the urgency herein.

Thank you for responding to the above so I can work with your resources and you can also be attentive to the agreed and increasing urgency.

(As a final note: if CAMH does not know the individual, which is understandable, then under section 21(1)(b) of FIPPA, it is likely only I can help you with the last known address. If you wish to have my help, which I am happy to give, please answer the questions in relation to fees and I can provide some insight. I cannot guarantee it will be correct but at least “last known”.

Dear CAMH Privacy Division:

Thankfully, the other public body is investigating the issue without requiring a fee from me. As such, I was able to return quicker than expected. The other public body realizes the why even with an IP address and my health or safety worsening as a result of not having the same. It is trite that safety subsumes security. Moreover, it is trite that health subsumes life. Of course, with the recent evidence of the individual using my library card with my PIN, this is beyond frightening to me that any individual would have that kind of knowledge of private, confidential and undisclosed information. It is also concerning considering a four-digit PIN of that nature is not one that I used with any regularity.

I can speculate as to whom this is on many fronts but it is best that I not speculate.

In relation to the "redacting or blurring the entire individual", the language used by the adjudicator of OIPC (ON) in Ms. Diane Smith articulated it beautifully when she stated at sentence two at paragraph 48:

"The purpose of section 21(1)(b) is to enable the disclosure of information in urgent circumstances to prevent a health and safety situation materializing or worsening concerning the affected person to whom the information relates."

We have agreed from the outset that the matter is urgent.

In order to prevent this matter, please answer my questions about fees and let me know how I can pinpoint the same for you while all the information is retained. It is already worsening.
