APPLICATION

Volume #1: Relief Sought

1. The Applicant adopts his definitions from the record of proceeding, including the hearing record in NOM #13 to #15 and NOM #16 and they have the same meaning herein as they do therein.

2. The Applicant makes the application for the following relief in the form of any orders, declarations, findings, determinations or directions with great respect to the License Appeal Tribunal and gratitude to the ONSC (Divisional Court) for its consideration of the same:

    a. An Order that this JRPA proceeding be declared as public interest litigation;

    b. An order that no costs are awarded against the Applicant in any event of the cause;

    c. An Order compelling Vice Chair Morrissette or the Tribunal to decide the Applicant's motion (defined as "NOM #16" which was served on SNIC, TDHA, and TDGIC and filed in September 2024) or confirm with the Applicant, copied to this ONSC (Divisional Court), that it is declining to exercise its jurisdiction or discretion under section 21.1 of the SPPA;

i. An Order, thereafter the Tribunal complying with the above order, that Vice Chair Lake either amend her reconsideration decision (the "RD") or confirm, with a copy to this court, that she is declining to exercise her jurisdiction or discretion;

1. An Order that the 30 day time limit under the JRPA does not commence until the above orders are complete;

d. A preliminary or procedural order that this judicial review is heard before a single sitting judge pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA;

e. A procedural and preliminary order that the limitation period for judicial review involving the final orders involving NOM #14 and NOM #15 does not commence until the Licence Appeal Tribunal/AABS issues its order regarding the Applicant's section 21.1 of the SPPA motion ("NOM #16") (filed in September 2024 but "in "progress" as of November 15, 2024, to the LAT/AABS) and the Tribunal issues any amended decision regarding the Applicant's likely amended reconsideration motion;

f. An Order that the Applicant may add and include fresh evidence when it becomes available to him through any lawful means including the LAT and/or any privacy requests that are outstanding at the time of this JRPA Application;

g. A procedural and preliminary order that no responsive materials are required from the Respondent Insurers and they are not entitled to participate without leave as they chose not to participate in the underlying motions subject to the Respondent Insurers participating in any of aforementioned amended motions arising out of the Applicant's NOM #16;

h. An order in the nature of mandamus requiring the Tribunal to comply with its requirements regarding the provision of hearing notices to any and all parties prior to issuing decisions;

i. An Order in the nature of mandamus requiring the Tribunal to comply with its specific rules, effective August 21, 2023, with particular reference to granting non-parties the right to make submissions prior to the issuance of a decision;

j. A declaration that certain specific rules in the LAT Rules are ultra vires the Tribunal which will be specified in the Applicant's factum;

k. An Order that the relief sought in the Applicant's motions (see: NOM #14 (August 3, 2024) and NOM #15 (August 21, 2024)) (see: Appendices #1 and #2) including his reconsideration motion, dated September 27, 2024, is granted in substantially the same form:

i. An Order quashing or in certiorari and/or varying the orders of Vice Chair Morrissette ("VCM") decision on September 12, 2024, to the substantive orders sought therein; and

ii. An Order quashing or in the nature of certiorari and/or varying the orders in the Vice Chair decision on involving the Applicant's reconsideration motion;

l. More specifically, the Orders sought by the Applicant shall be granted in full or substantially the same form as he sought them at the time:

i. An Order cancelling the decisions and orders of the Adjudicator in NOM #14 and NOM #15;

ii. An Order varying the decision of the Appellate Tribunal as follows:

1. Granting the relief sought in NOM #14 (see: Hearing Record, Tab 1, page 3; see also: Appendix #1 herein); and

2. Grant the relief in NOM #15, paragraph #3 (see: Appendix #2 herein);

m. A Declaration and Order that TDHA, FSRA registration number 1063, is declared the "First Insurer" pursuant to Reg 283, and such an order shall remain as it relates to the Applicant (also defined as the "Insured Person" or "Disabled Individual" arising out of no-fault car accident on August 31, 2022);

n. An Order compelling the LAT to provide and disclose any and all records involving who was the first respondent denoted in its LAT/AABS e-filing system;

o. An Order quashing VC Lake's Reconsideration Decision on grounds of conflict of interest and/or reasonable apprehension of bias;

p. Such injunctive or interlocutory relief as may be sought by the Applicant, until such time this application can be determined on its merits;

q. Costs in favour of the Applicant; ~~and~~

r. Such other relief that the Applicant may advise and this Court may allow~~.~~ ;

Orders Sought in NOM #1 and NOM #2

s. An order granting all of the relief in NOM #1 and NOM #2 by way of endorsing the draft orders before this Honourable Court with reasons to follow

Disqualification of Mr. Boyce or any other in-house SLASTO legal unit counsel; and other orders

t. An Order disqualifying Mr. Boyce and any other SLASTO legal unit counsel from acting from the Tribunal in this JRPA Proceeding;

u. An order prohibiting counsel for the Respondent Insurance Companies from acting until they comply with the Practice Direction, Part 1, heading F, "Information To Be Submitted to the Court";

v. An order requiring the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies to seek leave to file their factums and application records in relation to the non-Charter issues before taking any further steps;

Shuttleworth-Esque type order

w. A Declaration, finding or order that the circumstances herein rise to reasonable apprehension of lack of adjudicative independence;

The SPPA, the JRPA and LATA

x. A Declaration that the Tribunal breached section 20 of the SPPA;

y. A Declaration that the Tribunal has breached section 10 of the JRPA;

z. A Declaration that the Tribunal breached section 10 of LATA by not providing the undisclosed motion orders on July 24, 2024, and August 16, 2024 (the "Undisclosed Motion Orders");

Charter Breaches herein

Section 2(B) of the Charter

aa. a Declaration that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") has breached, continues to breach and will remain in a perpetual state of breach of section 2(b) of The Constitution Act, 1982, Schedule B to the Canada Act 1982 (UK), 1982, c 11, cited as the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (defined herein as the "Charter") by its failure or neglect to comply with section 20 of the SPPA at first instance;

bb. a Declaration that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Tribunal") has breached, continues to breach and will remain in a perpetual state of breach of section 2(b) of the Charter by its failure to file the record of proceeding;

cc. a Declaration that the LAT has breached the Applicant's section 7 rights under the Charter;

dd. A Declaration that the LAT has breached the Applicant's section 8 rights under the Charter pursuant to the unreviewable decisions defined as the Undisclosed Motion Orders;

ee. A Declaration that the LAT has breached the Applicant's section 8 rights by the particularized conduct infra by way of unreasonable searches or seizures it authorized, had a high degree of control of the same and/or responsibility for some or all of the acts;

ff. Interim, interlocutory and injunctive relief in favour of the Applicant pursuant to section 24(1) of the Charter;

gg. Damages in favour of the Applicant pursuant to section 24(1) of the Charter; and hh. A Declaration that to the extent that the LAT Rules authorize any of the conduct outlined and particularized in the "print out" attached at Exhibit "A" of the Applicant's Affidavit #18 including the Undisclosed Motion Orders, failing to extend natural justice rights to parties or interested persons including non-parties, and failing to comply with procedural fairness requirements, they are of no force and effect and must be struck down, read down or severed;.

Section 52(1) of the Charter

Volume #2: The Grounds for the Application

3. This judicial review can be disposed of on one legal ground and error, while there are broader errors in the VCM decision in the First Insurer Motions which include the following statement: "[27] .....The initial respondent [sic], TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC accepted priority over the applicant's [sic] insurance policy".

4. Therefore, if SNIC and TDGIC accepted priority of the Insurance Policy, as found by the Adjudicator, and the Appellant did not make any such offer to either for them to 'accept priority of the Insurance Policy' and/or neither SNIC nor TDGIC first received the Appellant's Completed Application, then TDGIC had to receive that offer of "priority" (as the Adjudicator puts it) from the "First Insurer".

5. As a matter of law, could TDHA offer "priority" to SNIC and TDGIC? The question answers itself.

6. As the Applicant, along with SNIC, TDHA and TDGIC, are awaiting the decision from Vice Chair Morrissette in NOM #16, the Applicant took the time to advance this judicial review application so that it is filed and then can be amended after receiving the NOM #16 decision. Moreover, it may be affecting the reconsideration decision of Vice Chair Lake. Unlike an appeal under LATA, the underlying matter is not stayed.

7. The Appellant is a disabled individual residing in Toronto, Ontario. At the time of the Accident, he was 39 years old with a G2 license. At the time of these submissions, he is 41 years old with a G license. The Appellant is the spouse of the individual insured (Nicole Artopoulos) and the Insured Automobile was leased from the lessor BMW Financial Services Inc. Since April 2018, the Appellant and Ms. Artopoulos have resided at 775 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario, M5V 2K3. Ms. Artopoulos, in Spring 2018, obtained an exclusive automotive insurance policy through SNIC as her being a University Of Toronto alumnus for a previous BMW leased vehicle. In October 2019, the same insurance policy was transferred to the Insured Automobile.

8. Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") was incorporated under the CBCA in 1934, then continued under the federal Insurance Act with its head office in Montreal, Quebec. At the time of the Accident, SNIC was licensed with the FSRA to provide six (6) classes of insurance in Ontario and its FSRA registration number if 397. From 2018 to the time of the Accident and thereafter, SNIC's Ontario office has been the McNabb Building in Markham, Ontario. The primary area code for phone and fax lines in Markham is "905". At the time of the Accident, SNIC provided the return mailing address of the Markham

McNabb Building but, in error, provided a "416 area code" fax number. The head tenants at the Markham McNabb Building are: (I) TD Bank; and (ii) General Motors. SNIC and Primmum Insurance Company ("Primmum") (FSRA reg. #1396), by virtue of them not having "TD" in their corporate names, operate under the colloquial business name of "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" under two licensed trademarks from TD Bank and Meloche Monnex Inc. in: (i) "TD Insurance"; and (ii) "Meloche Monnex". SNIC, through TDIMM, issues policies under the "Professionals and Alumni Program" and Primmum, through TDIMM, issues policies under the "Employer Group Program". In October 2023, upon the Appellant's return to Canada after obtaining requisite MRIs, examinations, assessments and reports, the Appellant learned that SNIC had purported to change its physical address and fax number to: (i) the Burlington Address; and (ii) 905 Fax Number. The Burlington Address is 91 km from SNIC Markham (McNabb Building), where Meloche Monnex Inc. has its registered records office. The "Ontario Business Directory" lists the Burlington Address and 905 Fax Number as being the business of "TD Insurance". The "Ontario Business Directory" also lists the head office associated with the Burlington Address as the Victoria Park Building (see: Affidavit #29, Exhibit "A", page 1 and 2).

9. In the SNIC Response, SNIC did not list the 416 Fax Number as a fax number for service. With the benefit of hindsight and labyrinthian investigations, the only factual contact information that SNIC provided to the Appellant was its mailing address at the Markham McNabb Building. Neither the 416 Fax Number (which is the material mistake as it relates to whom is the First Insurer) nor the 905 Fax Number were fax numbers for SNIC as a recipient. Further, the Burlington Address was not an address for receipt of documents from the Appellant for SNIC.

10. TD Home And Auto Insurance Company ("TDHA") is an insurance company that is licensed, by the FSRA, to provide three classes of insurance including automotive insurance. TDHA's FSRA registration number is 1063. At the time of the Accident, the lead tenant(s) at the Victoria Park Building were denoted as "TD Insurance" by the property manager at the VP Building in Collies International. From 2018 to present, the "Ontario Business Directory" has listed the fax number of 416-774-3120 (the "416 Fax Number") as the fax number for TDHA. The 416 Fax Number is a landline, owned by Bell Canada Inc., which is grounded at the Victoria Park Building. In the HCAI Portal, the Appellant's TD Claim #3, contrary to the information he provided his physiotherapists as the return mailing address in documents, prima facie, sent to him by SNIC, auto-populated the name of the adjuster and a branch address for SNIC of 304 The East Mall, 6th floor, Etobicoke, Toronto, Ontario, M9B 6B7 (the "Etobicoke East Mall

Address") (see: Affidavit #21, Exhibit "A", page 20 to 22 for "branch names" as being "independent" of the licensed insurer. Yelp, another online business directory, lists the Etobicoke East Mall Address as the address for TDHAIC (see: Tab 18, page 340 to 343). While SNIC never, in letter to the Appellant, represented that its address was the Etobicoke East Mall Address, it is now clear that said address, created by SNIC for this TD Clam #3, was independent of SNIC, and an address for TDHA.

11. On or around September 1, 2022, the Appellant notified SNIC of his intention to apply for accident benefits. Due to an error in his postal code, the Appellant did not received an application benefits package from SNIC until late September 2022. On October 13, 2022, the Appellant fax delivered his OCF-1 (also defined as "Completed Application") to the 416 Fax Number. The Appellant also delivered the OCF-2, on his behalf by his employer, to the 416 Fax Number. On November 3, 2022, his attending medical doctor for his post-Accident impairments, completed and signed his portions of the OCF-3, and faxed the completed OCF-3 to the 416 Fax Number. 90 days from October 13, 2022 was January 10, 2022. The Appellant did not receive any dispute notice from SNIC or any other insurance company by January 10, 2023, pursuant to Reg 283. From January 11, 2023, to October 2023, the Appellant continued to fax the 416 Fax Number with all confidential information and other OCF forms regarding TD Claim #3. In October 2023, the Appellant attempted to fax some of his documents to the 905 Fax Number, with a copy to the 416 Fax Number, but the 905 Fax Number would more regularly, than the 416 Fax Number, block his faxes and/or drop them during the sending process. In November 2023, the Appellant fax delivered the completed OCF-19. On December 24, 2023, the Appellant filed this Appeal and served the duly signed Appeal to the 416 Fax Number. For some context along the way, in March 2023, the Appellant received a request from SNIC via mail wishing to communicate via email. The Appellant faxed the 416 Fax Number with his decline regarding the same and the reasons therein (i.e. PIPEDA issues and absence of compliance by whom he presumed was SNIC).

12. In April 2023, the Appellant received the "Spam Faxes" wherein an unknown person or company represented to him that it (after receipt of faxes at the 416 Fax Number but not from the 416 Fax Number) had no record of his TD Claim #3. The Appellant promptly faxed the 416 Fax Number (attention: Ms.

Nurse) to alert SNIC to the issue of the "Spam Faxes" and his dismay that said recipient had no record of his TD Claim #3. In early May 2023, the Appellant received the purported attempt by SNIC to partially approve and partially reject the Dhaliwal OCF-18 (April 6, 2023) with the Forged Nurse Signature. After being successful in his NOM #8, by order on June 21, 2024, of the Tribunal, the Appellant filed his NOM #13 for non-party production and disclosure by the Fictitious Respondent (TDGIC) on July 9, 2024. The Appellant hand delivered the NOM #13 hearing brief to the listed address for the Fictitious Respondent, which was the Victoria Park Building which only became known to the Appellant for TDGIC in February 2024 (as it was not in the SNIC Response as an address for SNIC or previously), and learned that TDGIC had misrepresented its address to the Tribunal as it had not been a tenant for over a year (i.e. July 2023). The building manager for the VP Building represented that TDGIC had moved to the Markham McNabb Building. The building manager for the VP Building did NOT represent that TDGIC had moved to any of the following addresses: (i) the Burlington Address; or the (ii) the Etobicoke East Mall Address. From July 26 to July 31, 2024, the Appellant provided notice to TDHA, with a copy to SNIC, that the evidence was uncontroverted that the 416 Fax Number, the 905 Fax Number, the Burlington Address, and the East Mall Address were contact information exclusively for TDHA. Neither TDHA nor SNIC denied the same. From August 1 to 2, 2024, the Appellant sought the consent of SNIC and TDHA to add TDHA as a party, and neither TDHA nor SNIC responded. As of August 3, 2024, TDHA has never responded to the Appellant despite the Appellant sending faxes to the 416 Fax Number, 905 Fax Number, and through authorized submissions to HCAI, the East Mall Address. SNIC has not started any section 7(1) of Reg 283 arbitration. SNIC and the Appellant consented since January 2024 to the Email Communication Protocol

13. The question of fact to be answered in NOM #14 are on a balance of probabilities:

a. a) Who was the owner of the 416 Fax Number, which is a landline located at the Victoria Park Building in Toronto, in October 2022? (b) Was the address of 304 The East Mall, 6th Floor,

Etobicoke, Toronto, Ontario (the "East Mall Address"), which is denoted by auto-population in HCAI after TD Claim #3 is inputted therein, an address for an address for SNIC, the address of TDHA, SNIC or another insurance company? And (c) Which insurance company holds the file for the Fictitious TD Claim Number*?*

14. The issue of law to be answered in this NOM #14 on a balance of probabilities is whether TDHA was the First Insurer (i.e. the insurance company to receive the Appellant's Completed Application on October 13, 2022)?

15. The substantial amendments to Reg 283 became effective in September 2010. Reg 283 is designed to keep priority disputes out of the courts (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 6). Reg 283 is also purposed to prevent SABS claims, including vital treatments and income benefits, from being delayed while insurers fight over priority dispute under section 268(2) of the Insurance Act (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 16). SABS and Reg 283, having undergone major amendments in 2010 after being submitted to industry consultations and amendments before proclamations, they reflect important policy choices to ensure order and stability in regulated industries (see: Bristol-Myers Squibb v. Canada (AG), 2005 1 SCR 533 at paragraph 99-100). As a matter of principle, there is difference between an insurer's failure to pay under section 2 of

Reg 283 and a failure to pay under any provision of SABS (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 54). While a First Insurer may have never received insurance premiums from the insured person (claimant) may seem intuitively wrong but the Legislature and LGIC's intent are to be respected. There is no, per se, harshness to be alleviated by a sophisticated insurance company, with endless resources, who receives a faxed OFC1, who fails to investigate within three months and provides a notice to an insured person and other insurers under section 3 of Reg 283. The provisional first-insurer rule under the regulation and the priority regime under the statute operate differently (see: Zurich, paragraph 8). As long as a claimant for accident benefits completes all required fields (see: SABS, ss. 66 and 67) and signs the OCF-1, the First Insurer that receives an OCF-1 application MUST pay benefits in accordance with SABS (see: Reg 283, ss. 2.1(6)). If the First Insurer does not take any issue, within ten business days (approximately 15 calendar days) of receipt of the Completed Application, the First Insurer has 75 days from then to provide a notice of dispute that it is required to pay the benefits of the claimant in which it received a Completed Application. Irrespective of whether the claimant is an "insured person" or not in the subjective mind of the First Insurer, the First Insurer must respond to the Completed Application and the claimant (see: Reg 283, ss. 2.1(6)). Acceptance during the 90-day period is merely provisional (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 29). If the First Insurer does not dispute, within 90 days, its liability to pay all benefits, in accordance with SABS, of the claimant, there is no other process for the First Insurer to transfer, dispute and recover any paid or to be paid benefits to the claimant. First Insurer's calculus to not accept a claim for whatever subjective reason can turn out to a costly and permanent mistake (see: Zurich, paragraph 10). As of 2015, in Zurich 2015, the SCC held that Chubb ought to have responded to the SABS claim immediately on a 'pay first and dispute later' basis (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 12). long as the Completed Application by the claimant was not arbitrary, there is a nexus between the claimant and the

First Insurer (i.e. the one to receive the Completed Application) (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 14). In Zurich 2015, the SCC (see: 2015 SCC 19) restored Goldstein J (ONSC (Divisional Court)) in adopting the dissent of Juriansz J.A.: 2014 ONCA 400. A vague recollection about seeing an insurer's name at a rental car office was sufficiently non-arbitrary to require the First Insurer (Chubb in Zurich 2015)) to step into the shoes as a "First Insurer" for the purposes of section 2(1) of Reg 283 (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 15). long as the First Insurer providers automobile insurance in Ontario at the time of receipt of the Completed Application there is a sufficient nexus between a claimant and the First Insurer (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 16). The policy behind the inflexible rule that an insurer (like TDHA) fails to pay benefits and fails to put other insurers on notice after receipt of a Completed Application, when there is SOME nexus, being permanently responsible for the claimant's benefits is to promote compliance with the statutory scheme. It is not an issue herein of this Appellant and TDHA but rather the greater public interest and ongoing and future compliance by all other similarly situated 'First Insurers' (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 31, where the second arbitrator cited paragraph 62 from the decision of Strathy J. (as he then was) in Lombard Canada Ltd., 2008, 94 O.R. (3d) 62 (Ont. S.C.J.)The ONSC in Zurich 2024 has settled the law in the above regards as follows:

(i) breach of section 2 of Reg 283, according to the case law, does not result in the an insurer being required to pay benefits to the claimant permanently; BUT, (ii) the failure TO AVAIL itself of section 3 does. TDHA's permanent liability for paying benefits was a self-inflicted consequence of its failure to adhere to the requirements of both section 2 and s. 3 of Reg 283.

The combination of provisions in Reg 283 transformed TDHA's provisional liability into a permanent one (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 64). For TDHA to not be declared as the First Insurer would mean that there were no consequences for the conduct (or inaction) of TDHA by receipt of the Completed

Application and by continuing to have its former branch office address (East Mall Address) auto-populate in HCAI, and it would defeat the legislation's public policy: "pay now and dispute later".[i]

16. "Arbitrary" means: determined by impulse rather than reason. The Appellant faxed the Completed Application solely based on the reason that SNIC represented that its fax number was the 416 Fax Number when it could not have been based on SNIC's physical location at SNIC Markham. Therefore, the Appellant did not make an "arbitrary decision" to fax his Completed Application to the 416 Fax Number. "Receipt" means: "to get possession of". TDHA got possession of the Completed Application as the First Insurer on October 13, 2022. There is now no dispute that the Spam Faxes, which SNIC could not produce in the face of a demand from the Appellant for the same, were on behalf of TDHA and its attempt to steer the Appellant away from the 416 Fax Number and its representation it [TDHA] had no record of its claim. TDHA would NOT have had a "record" of the Appellant's TD Claim #3 as it the TD Claim #3 was likely created by SNIC but when the Appellant faxed the Completed Application, as opposed to mailing to SNIC Markham, to the 416 Fax Number, TDHA became the First Insurer.

17. The 416 Fax Number was the fax number for TDHA in September and October 2022. TDHA has been an adjusting insurance company, by reference to the East Mall Address which has been exclusively represented to the public as TDHA's address, of the Appellant's TD Claim #3, including by way of the Fictitious TD Claim Number, since it was so denoted in the HCAI portal as such. The 905 Fax Number and the Burlington Addresses were, at the material times post receipt of the Appellant's OCF-1, OCF-2, OCF-3, OCF-6's and OCF-18 (Dhaliwal), address for receipt of documents and confidential information of the Appellant (albeit unbeknownst to him) by TDHA.

18. TDHA was the First Insurer, pursuant to Reg 283, and it is solely and permanently liable for the Appellant's claims for benefits pursuant to SABS. The Tribunal must grant ancillary orders compelling TDHA to provide the Appellant with the current address and fax number for TDHAIC along with an adjuster that is authorized for TDHA along with amendments to the HCAI portal for accuracy purposes for any and all ongoing or day-to-day matters. SNIC must remain as a party as it may be liable for some of the costs in this SNIC Proceeding to be dealt with at the hearing proper.

19. It is the word "accept" that is conspicuous, marked and eye-catching. Whatever acceptance of priority of the applicant's [sic] insurance policy was and is of no consequence in law as per Reg 283, section 4(1), 5(1) and (2). The Appellant never received any notice of "assignment, sharing or transfer of priority". It is trite that TDGIC's fax was in the LAT orders as early of February 2024 and SNIC resiled from the 416.774.3120 fax number by no later than Summer of 2023. TDHA was the First Insurer and received the Completed Application at first instance, and all other OCF documents. It is understandable why certain adjusters at SNIC, and then Mr. Nieuwland for TDGIC, were so unfamiliar with the documents and claimed to be missing certain documents like MRI reports, Brain MRI UHN Notification and others. It may be the most clichéd phrase in the history of law: "offer, acceptance, consideration." Prior to the 'acceptance' by SNIC and TDGIC over the insurance policy, as found by the Adjudicator, there had to be an offer from another person. There are four automotive insurance companies in "TD Insurance", as per its public website and URL for "legal", which are: (i) SNIC; (ii) TDGIC; (iii) TDHAIC (TDHA); and (iv) Primmum. SNIC and Primmum, without any reference TD in their names, operate under the banner of two distinct yet combined trademarks which are: (i) TD Insurance," which is owned by "The TD Bank"; and (ii) "Meloche Monnex," which is owned by Meloche Monnex Inc. (not to be confused with Meloche Monnex Financial Services Inc. or other brokers or agents with permutations of the name). Ironically, TDGIC and TDHA do not have "TD Insurance" in their name as the "insurance" word comes after "General" and "Auto" sequentially for the aforementioned.

20. There is no dispute that SNIC was the Sole Underwriter of the Insurance Policy. SNIC delivered an accident benefits package to the Appellant in late September 2022. SNIC represented its address as the SNIC Markham Office with a fax number of 416.774.3120. On May 2, 2024,3 in relation to NOM #4 and NOM #6, Nieuwland (with Karat appearing as the ADR Specialist for SNIC) orally represented, contrary the April 11 submissions (supra) solely on behalf of TDGIC, 8 that SNIC and TDGIC were and are "one and the same". The Appellant objected and reserved his rights.

21. "One And the Same" is defined, by Collins Dictionary as "When two or more people or things are thought to be separate and you say that they are one and the same, you mean that they are in fact one single person or thing."

22. While there is no dispute what Nieuwland thought and meant on May 2, 2024, his thoughts and meanings, while unambiguous, are contrary to the statute (Ins. Act) in which this SNIC Proceeding arose and FSRA Enforcement Decisions have found that the SABS Insurer (SNIC) and TDGIC are separate persons. The Tribunal not only viewed and found SNIC and TDGIC to be separate persons but it found, without disclosure to the Applicant, on or around April 22, 2024, that TDGIC was a "related party" (see: Affidavit #18, Exhibit "A")./ The filing on April 22, 2024, by TDGIC was in relation to the case conference that was to be held on May 2, 2024, and then was held on May 2, 2024. The Applicant pleads a point of law that the Tribunal had no statutory authority to hold a case conference with a person that was not a party by law pursuant to section 5 of the SPPA. Ergo, the case conference conducted by the Tribunal as per Vice Chair Painchaund was a nullity, void and void ab initio at law (the "Nullity Case Conference"). The Tribunal acted in bad faith by its dishonesty and intentional misrepresentation to the Applicant by denoting its own books, records or accounts in the purported record of proceeding that TDGIC was a "related party" (see: Affidavit #18 of the Applicant, Exhibit "A", and Exhibit "B", page 304, Tab 303) yet it had prior and thereafter conducted the LAT Proceeding as if and in actuality that TDGIC was the only respondent entitled by law to be a party. The deceit by the Tribunal did not cease at that stage. Adjudicator Morrissette, as she then was, referred and found that the Applicant's NOM #8 went by consent in relation to the substantive order to change the style of cause. This finding was contrary to the evidence before her. It necessitated the Applicant bringing NOM #12, pursuant to section 21.1 of the SPPA, to correct the same. Adjudicator Morrissette did not, per se, grant NOM #12 but clarified what she was intending to mean therein and flippantly and perfunctorily referred to not opposing and consenting as not having any distinction in law. Vice Chair Morrisette was wrong in law. Moreover, the "print out" of the record of proceeding provided by the LAT Registrar, in the face of the Applicant's demands and inclusion of the AGO himself and Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario in Mr. Sean Weir to the email chain, confirmed that it appeared that the Tribunal had granted NOM #8 well in advance of the set hearing date of June 20, 2024; particularly on June 6, 2024. Returning to the misconduct and bad faith of this Tribunal generally and towards the Applicant, it was Vice Chair Lake who engaged in her issuing of a decision in relation to the Applicant's NOM #5 where she cited the incorrect LAT rule as some sort of unjustifiable legal ground for why Mr. David Karat could sign, file and serve the SNIC Response and why TDGIC must remain as the sole respondent party. Vice Chair Lake did so in the face of the settled precedents of the Tribunal such as Dankha and Mosa, and the unequivocal amendments to the LAT Rules clarifying and interpreting the definition of a "Respondent", "Response" and other definitions. At the time of the decision by Vice Chair Lake, SNIC was the only insurance company in the TDI Group that had filed a Response (see: LAT Rule).

23. The now finding by the Tribunal that SNIC and TDGIC accepted priority over the insurance policy means that they agreed (which is possible in fact but not in law) to accept an offer from another regarding priority. This is not only the logical explanation for what transpired and why TDHA, an automotive insurer in Ontario which is the only required element for a non-underwriter of an insurance policy to be the provisional First Insurer and then potentially the permanent First Insurer, has not been responded and paid the benefits due and owing to the Appellant despite receipt of the same from the Appellant via fax. This also explains the Spam Fax in Spring 2023 which was nearly or identical to the August 2024 letter (see: Affidavits #34 and Affidavit #35 in the LAT Appeal).

24. It is unfortunate, from an access to justice standpoint and for the benefit of the public, for the Adjudicator to rush this decision, as it was not available when the Appellant inquired on September 11, 2024, as to the date of the hearing for the NOM #13. With the greatest of respect, the Adjudicator was unfamiliar with the facts, which one can empathize with if she was new to this LAT proceeding but she granted the most consequential motion in this proceeding so far, and basic one at that such as the first order in this proceeding of her fellow Vice Chair (VC Lake). Adjudicator Morrissette was of the mistaken view that the Tribunal changed, at some unknown time, the IDENTITY of SNIC to TDGIC after January 30, 2024, but some time before February 19, 2024. One can understand not being able to pinpoint an exact date when identities are changed or swapped in a cyber-attack or ransomware plot, but the Adjudicator found that it was THE TRIBUNAL that changed the identity from SNIC to TDGIC. It appears that the Adjudicator was implying that an administrative individual employed by the License Appeal Tribunal in the AABS division somehow on off-time engaged in some administrative identity swapping without notice to the litigants in the proceeding. The Appellant is not attempting to be hyperbolic or histrionic in any way, but the License Appeal Tribunal is one of 13 tribunals part of Tribunals Ontario and it is a division or sub-body within the office of the most important ministry as it pertains to the law: THE MINISTRY OF ATTORNEY GENERAL. And the Appellant is merely finding out about this in September 2024? This is beyond concerning and beyond the Appellant's immediate interest. Perhaps, Adjudicator Morrissette meant December 30, 2023, to January 19, 2024? This would make more sense in that an administrator or case manager would have reviewed the Appeal and attached documents and countless references to TD SNIC and Security National Insurance Company and input SNIC as the respondent. Then, likely someone informed Mr. Grant to change the name from SNIC to TDGIC. This, of course, would have required such a change as the Appellant had already filed two motions by January 8, 2024. The Appellant only objected for six months, and this appears to have been the strategy by SNIC and then TDGIC of which neither were First Insurers.

25. A "Respondent" is a party in a LAT Proceeding. Legislative definitions are sometimes counter-intuitive and defy common sense. In Ontario, "legislation" includes "legislation and regulations", but a statute is distinct from a regulation. Section 5 of the SPPA: "The parties to a proceeding SHALL be: (i) the persons specified as parties by/under the statute17 under which the proceeding arises; OR (ii) if, not so specified, persons entitled BY LAW18 to be parties to the proceeding19. One would have thought with the benefit of Adjudicator Morrissette who expressly dealt with a party issue in NOM #8, such a misstatement of law or query from her would have been obsolete. By law is an ambiguous phrase which is not to be confused with a municipal by-law. "Source law" is a definition under the Legislation Act 2006, and it includes regulations. Tribunals in Ontario and Canada have held that persons who are not expressly required by statute to be parties may be added as parties pursuant to section 5 (SPPA) if s/he or it have a substantial and direct interest in the proceeding's outcome.

26. A final order disposes of the litigation, or finally disposes of part of the litigation: Ball v. Donais (1993), 1993 CanLII 8613 (ON CA), 13 O.R. (3d) 322 (C.A.). An interlocutory order disposes of the issue raised, most often a procedural issue, but the litigation proceeds: Hendrickson v. Kallio, 1932 CanLII 123 (ON CA), [1932] O.R. 675 (C.A.), at p. 678.The interlocutory order from which there is no appeal is an order which does not determine the real matter in dispute between the parties – the very subject matter of the litigation, but only some matter collateral (see: Hendrickson v. Kallio, 1932 CanLII 123 (ON CA), [1932] O.R. 675 (C.A.)

27. In Smerchanski v. Lewis (1980), 1980 CanLII 1699 (ON CA), 30 O.R. (2d) 370 (C.A.), at para. 18: This Court has held that an order made in a contest between a party to an action and someone who is not a party is a final order, appealable without leave, if the order finally disposes of the rights of the parties in the issue raised between them. In M.E. v. Ontario, 2021 ONCA 718, the ONCA found at paragraphs therein : "We conclude that M.E. was seeking to add new causes of action. An order refusing leave to amend pleadings to plead a new cause of action is final: Atlas Construction Inc. v. Brownstones Ltd. (1996), 46 C.P.C. (3d) 67 (Ont. Gen. Div.). So is an order dismissing a motion to add a party, which M.E. also appears to have been trying to do Bryson v. Kerr (1976), 1976 CanLII 867 (ON SC), 13 O.R. (2d) 672 (Ont. Div. Ct.). Accordingly, leave to appeal is not required and an appeal lies as of right to the Court of Appeal: Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, s. 6(1)(b)."

28. In Vavilov, the SCC attempted to clear up complexities and uncertainty brought on by Dunsmuir. ~~22~~ The SCC cited three (3) non-exhaustive examples in Vavilov where the correctness standard must be applied by a review tribunal or court: (i) constitutional questions (ii) general questions of law of central importance to the legal system as a whole; and (iii) questions regarding jurisdictional boundaries between two or more administrative bodies.

29. The Supreme Court in Housen found an error of law including the: (i) application of an incorrect legal standard; (ii) a failure to consider a required element of a legal test; or (iii) the mischaracterization of the standard.

30. A tribunal errors in law when it improperly approaches the evidence such as by misapprehending evidence, ignoring relevant evidence or relying on irrelevant evidence or irrelevant factors in reaching its decision 30 (see: Nguyen). In Drewlo Holdings v. MPAC, 33 the ONSCJ (DC) cited its decision in Yatar~~34~~ where, at ¶28, the Court confirmed a finding of fact can constitute an error of law: "is when a finding of fact on a material point is based on no evidence.

31. The failure to identify or consider the legal criteria that govern (the "Identification Failure Governing Legal Criteria") the exercise of discretion may constitute an error of law.

32. In Gega, the Divisional Court applied a novel yet functional determination of when an issue was one of law as opposed to one of 'mixed fact and law': "[19] This issue is a matter of law...argue this issue is a matter of mixed fact and law, but there are no factual findings that need to be made by me to consider this question."

33. In Kawa Arab, the Divisional Court found an administrative decision of statutory interpretation as a matter of law. At paragraph 19, Tzimas J found, "[19 If an Adj. ignores evidence that the law requires to be considered to arrive at a DECISION, that will amount to an error of law."

34. In Bassline, VC Lamoreux found in 201846 at ¶ 20, "Therefore, I am satisfied that the Tribunal erred by determining that it had no jurisdiction to consider the issues raised in the Notice."

35. In Lapcevich, the ONSCJ~~49~~ found: "We agree with the appellant, Registrar, that the Licence Appeal Tribunal erred in its approach to the statutory framework and exceeded its jurisdiction; and it did not make the necessary threshold determinations, as required by the statute. In Sparks, the Divisional Court found that inconsistent findings of facts as "errors of law."

36. In Glencore, the FCA considered a second appeal wherein it stated the applicable SOR for extricable legal issues in that no deference is owed to the overall conclusion (see: ¶ 22).

37. In THMR, ONCA found that when hearing below is in writing that the correctness standard applies.

38. The case of Fatemea Rezaiezadeh v. State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, 2016 ONFSCDRS 59 ("Reza") stands for the proposition below. The Appellant notes the case of Reza (for short) wherein, albeit under the FSCO, the arbitrator found the following: "The Appellant concedes there is no explicit procedure in the Code or the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, as amended, to permit a party to continue a proceeding against a non-party." The "Dispute Resolution Code" is no longer applicable as it only applied with the FSCO. Even where State Farm Automobile Insurance Company was bought out by Certas and Desjardins regarding its Canadian operations, State Farm remained as the party as it was the underwriter at the time of the accident therein. Therefore, this is yet another reason that the decision of the Adjudicator and now the decision of the Appellate Tribunal (LAT) is one that finally disposes of the Appeal even when it is not in favour of the Appellant. If the Appellant does not have the First Insurer as the primary and liable party for the main issues between the Appellant and it (with SNIC only therein for costs as a result of it filing the sole Response (SNIC Response) to date but only as a result of the LAT Rules which is a distinction between present times and a case like Volfson), then all of the protections under SABS are illusory.

39. The provisional "First Insurer rule" (the "First Insurer Rule") under the regulation and priority regime under the statute operate differently (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 8). If a claimant for accident benefits completes all required 'fields' (see: SABS, ss. 66 and 67), duly signs the OCF-1 and then sends via mail or fax, the First Insurer that receives an OCF-1 application MUST benefits in accordance with SABS (see: Reg 283, ss. 2.1(6)). If the First Insurer does not take any issue, within ten business days of receipt of the Completed Application, the First Insurer has approximately 75 days from then to provide a notice of dispute that it is required to pay the benefits of the claimant in which it received a Completed Application. Irrespective of whether the claimant is an "insured person" or not in the subjective mind of the First Insurer, the First Insurer must respond to the Completed Application and the claimant (see: Reg 283, ss. 2.1(6)).

40. Acceptance during the 90-day period is merely provisional (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 29). If the First Insurer does not dispute, within 90 days, its liability to pay any and all benefits, in accordance with SABS, of the claimant, there is no other process for the First Insurer to transfer, dispute and recover any paid or to be paid benefits to the claimant. A First Insurer's calculus to not accept a claim for whatever subjective reason can turn out to be a costly and permanent mistake.60 This is full answer to the Adjudicator's query about whether the Tribunal had authority to add the First Insurer to this LAT Proceeding, which is oddly required as a matter of law.

41. As of 2015, in Zurich 2015, the SCC held that Chubb ought to have responded to the SABS claim immediately on a 'pay first and dispute later' basis (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 12). As long as the Completed Application by the claimant was not arbitrary, there is a "nexus" between the claimant and the First Insurer (i.e. the one to receive the Completed Application) (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 14). In Zurich 2015, the SCC (see: 2015 SCC 19) restored Goldstein J's decision (ONSC (Divisional Court)) in adopting the dissent of Juriansz J.A.: 2014 ONCA 400. A vague recollection about seeing an insurer's name at a rental car office was sufficiently non-arbitrary to require a 'First Insurer' (Chubb in Zurich 2015)) to step into the shoes as a "First Insurer" for the purposes of section 2(1) of Reg 283 (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 15). If the First Insurer provides automobile insurance in Ontario at the time of receipt of the Completed Application there is a sufficient nexus between a claimant and the First Insurer (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 16). The policy behind the inflexible rule is that an insurer who fails to pay benefits and fails to put other insurers on notice after receipt of a Completed Application, when there is SOME nexus between the claimant and the First Insurer, being permanently responsible for the claimant's benefits is to promote compliance with the statutory and regulatory scheme.

42. No power to pursue a non-party under statute is answered above. As a matter of principle, there is NO difference between an insurer's failure to pay under section 2 of Reg 283 and a failure to pay under any provision of SABS (see: Zurich 2024, paragraph 54). As the Tribunal is required to decide this LAT Proceeding in accordance with SABS as a matter of statute (see: section 280(4) of the Insurance Act), then it was not a matter of discretion for Adjudicator Morrissette but a requirement upon her to ensure that the Appellant had the correct and liable party (see also: Insurance Act, ss. 268(3)) before the Tribunal and in the future for not only himself but his service providers. While there is an ability of a party to "request an expedited hearing" in the dropdown menu of Tribunals Ontario e-filing portal, there is a dearth of jurisprudence regarding the same with LAT/AABS matters. As of 2010, the amendments to Reg 283 led to an absence of listed fax numbers for insurance companies and for good reason: some unsavory insured persons may deliberately manipulate the system by faxing their OCF-1's to an incorrect insurance company with no record of them as insured persons leading to those insurance companies in receipt of confidential information with an inability to dispute that they were not liable along with which insurance company may be liable. This could lead to an insurance company, who had not received premiums with no previous interaction with such an unsavory insured person, being liable to respond and pay benefits to said unsavory insured person.

43. It is important to note that the actual relief sought in the hearing record was slightly different in language but a distinction with a difference at Order #5: [5] Any further relief that is consistent with the above and in accordance with Reg 283, SABS, and Reg 664. The issue of adding the party TDHA as the First Insurer is one that the Adjudicator was required to answer (see: Rio Tinto, SCC 2010 SCC 43). However, even if the Adjudicator had granted Order #1 that would have been sufficient as a decision (order, declaration, determination and/or finding) that would have finally disposed of the Appeal, as it was currently constituted on September 13, 2024.

44. Again, the Reconsideration Decision references that the appellant did not cite to any binding case law or legislative authority regarding adding a second respondent. The Tribunal has yet again misunderstood the Appellant's argument in that TDHA would be the First Insurer and SNIC would remain solely as it relates for costs in the proceeding prior to TDHA being the First Insurer. In relation to binding case law, Zurich 2024 as per Justice Akazaki unequivocally found that a breach of Reg 283 or SABs were a distinction without a difference. The decision of VCM in mid-

September 2024 is not only an incorrect decision but a dangerous decision. It must be corrected forthwith for the benefit of the general public, the insurance industry and the relevant participants.

45. Moreover, had the Adjudicator determined the factual issue at Order #3 in NOM #15, this would have been a decision that finally disposes of the Appeal. In this regard, the Tribunal issued a Notice of Motion Scheduling Order on Thursday, September 12, 2024, that fond that SNIC was located at the Burlington Office: "[3] preliminary finding, determination, or order, that the fax number 416-774-3120 was a landline phone number utilized as a fax number on the 4th floor of the building situated at the premises municipally known as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7. The decision of Vice Chair Lake on reconsideration suffers from the same issues but remains premature considering not having NOM #16 decided in advance of the same. Once NOM #16 is decided, it will allow for the Applicant (Appellant) to be able to advance this judicial review in accordance with having final decisions on all the same.

The Fresh Evidence, New Factual and Legal Grounds

Summary of the new evidence and factual grounds

46. It became indisputable in September 2024 that Mr. Papadimitropoulos was the forger of a purported signature on April 20, 2023, document (OCF-18) of the initial claims advisor in the TD insurance claim number 03257390-03 (the "TD Claim #3") in response to an OCF-18 tendered through HCAI on April 6, 2023, by comparison to an anniversary card that he tendered to the named individual insured (the "Papadimitropoulos Anniversary Card" or "Anniversary Card") prior to their separation and ultimate divorce by divorce decree of an Ontario court on or around 2019. The Applicant found the Anniversary Card under the bed at the address denoted for himself below. It was under a pile of junk which apparently had not been discarded by the named individual insured and his former common law spouse. The Applicant immediately tendered the same by way of affidavit through the e-filing portal for the LAT/AABS (see: Affidavit #3 herein, which included the relevant affidavits before the LAT that included the same).

47. It also became indisputable in the Summer of 2024 to the Applicant, albeit by way of fraudulent concealment by the Respondent Insurance Companies and their various agents and/or representatives, that the fax number of 416.774.3120 was that of TDHA and not a fax number for SNIC or TDGIC during the time of September and October 2022.

48. After the LAT granted the order in the Applicant's NOM #8, by issuance on June 20, 2024, the Applicant took steps to ensure that SNIC would list and produce documents along with that of TDGIC. The Applicant made demands upon the non-party of TDGIC from late June 2024 to early July 2024.

49. On July 10, 2024, the Applicant filed his NOM #13 which was a motion seeking document production from a non-party in TDGIC (see: Affidavit #18, Exhibit "B", page 322, cross-referencing page 220 of the "print out" provided by the LAT on February 26, 2025).

50. Approximately two weeks later on Wednesday, July 24, 2024, the LAT apparently heard and decided NOM #13 with a final order, albeit in "docx form", but did not disclose the same to the Applicant. The Tribunal acted contrary to its own LAT Rule, Rule 9.2.2. which required, inter alia, an opportunity for the non-party to make submissions in response to the motion.

51. The referenced document was and is intitutled,

"2M_-_Motion_Order-2019071 0_-Final.2024-07-24_15-04-56.docx".

52. No such motion order was ever released to the Applicant.

August 3, 2024

53. On August 3, 2024, the Applicant filed NOM #14, which is the primary motion herein (with one final order in NOM #15 which is the subject of a quashing order), after serving the same on SNIC and TDHA (see: Affidavit #18, Exhibit "B", page 326, Tab 565).

August 6, 2024

54. On Tuesday August 6, 2024, the Tribunal input in the purported record of proceeding a document titled "notice of motion" which the Applicant did not file or serve but with the inscription of "motion denied" (see: Affidavit #18, Exhibit "B", page 326, Tab 588).

August 16, 2024

55. On August 16, 2024, the Tribunal input in its purported record of proceeding the following inscription:

"2M_-_Motion_Order-2019071 0_-Final.2024-08-16_13-26-16.docx"

56. No such motion order was ever released to the Applicant.

Similarities between the July 24 Undisclosed Motion Order and the August 16 Undisclosed Motion Order

57. The similarities between the motion orders of July 24, 2024, and August 16, 2024 (collectively, the "Summary 2024 Undisclosed Motion Orders") are as follows:

a First letters: "2M";

b Type of order: "Motion Order";

c Numbers thereafter: "2019071 0";

d Type of order or decision: "Final"; and e Type of document: Word document with "docx".

August 22, 2024: Undisclosed Notice of Motion Schedule Motion Hearing

58. On August 22, 2024, the Tribunal input a "Notice of Motion Schedule Motion Hearing" for the Applicant's NOM #16 which was a motion for SNIC to list and produce documents as it had not listed or produced a document during the LAT Proceeding (see: Affidavit #18, Exhibit "B", page 329, Tab 606). All of the documents contained therein as denoted attachments are "PDF documents". The Applicant never received a copy of the document titled "Notice of Motion Schedule Motion Hearing". He did receive a "Notice of Motion Schedule Motion Hearing" on September 12, 2024, in relation to NOM #16 which denoted that SNIC's address with the Tribunal was the Burlington Office Address with the fifth floor so denoted.

59. The Tribunal breached and remains in breach of section 10 of LATA which states, 10 The Tribunal shall send a copy of its final decision or order, including any reasons, to each party to a hearing, or to the person who represented the party. 2011, c. 1, Sched. 5, s. 5 (3)."

60. The Applicant avers that the Tribunal was able to file what it possessed of the record of proceeding but it chose to deliberately breach section 10 of the JRPA and section 2(B) of the Charter because the index and records would demonstrate that it had made errors that authorized the ONSC Divisional Court or a single justice of the ONSC to set aside the final VCM orders and decisions in NOM #14 and, in part, NOM #15. The Applicant further avers that the Tribunal breached its duties under section 20 of the SPPA to compile a record of the proceeding involving the same and the, at least, implicit requirement, by reference to section 10 of the JRPA, that it have available and ready for filing with the ONSC upon the bringing of a judicial review application by an applicant.

61. The Applicant filed his reconsideration request motion of the VCM's final orders and final decisions in NOM #14 and #15 on September 29, 2024, due to the apparent and purported backdating of the date of the decision to September 6, 2024, by VCM, which is inconsistent with the "print out" from the LAT on February 26, 2024 (see: Compendium, Tab 25).

October 15, 2024: the Reconsideration Decision

62. On October 15, 2024, Vice Chair Lake, who was on notice of a conflict of interest involving herself from Spring 2024, issued the reconsideration decision reasons.

63. The Applicant, within days, informed the Tribunal that he intended to appeal the same.

64. The Applicant avers that the Tribunal was of the view that the Applicant would appeal and he would need leave to proceed with an appeal which triggered a 15 day requirement to do so.

65. For whatever its misguided understanding of the law (then and now), the Applicant avers that the Tribunal instructed and authorized the Respondent Insurance Companies (some or all) and retained ultimate control upon the Respondent Insurance Companies to then engage in the theft of the Applicant's property; namely, his computer, phone, wallet, identification et al.

October 25, 2024: The Theft consummated at the direction of the Tribunal, the Tribunal having a high degree of control regarding the same, and/or retaining responsibility for the act of theft and thereafter

66. On October 25, 2024, the Applicant was in the visitor area of CAMH, not for any personal reason but for another, and he attended the publicly usable restrooms therein for a period of approximately four minutes. He left his backpack, which contained his computer, wallet, electronic devices, medication, identification and passport (the "McLean Backpack"), and a carry-on luggage type bag that had, in fact, had a logo of TD Bank. The Applicant was utilizing the latter for his hard copy materials and other personal effects. Upon his return, the McLean Backpack was stolen but not the luggage backpack.

67. The Applicant immediately asked other persons in the visitor area, who were working on their laptops or otherwise eating and resting, if they say any person and they confirmed that they did not. The Applicant immediately contacted the security in CAMH and they responded promptly with an incident report.

68. The individual who committed the theft was not Mr. Papadimitropoulos. In effect, he could not conduct the same.

October 28, 2024: Applicant makes access request of CAMH for the records involving the persons involved in the theft

69. On October 28, 2024, the Applicant made an access request upon CAMH after the security personnel reviewed the video footage therein.

October 28, 2024: Mr. Papadimitropoulos utilizes the identification that was the subject of the crime (theft) of the McLean Backpack:

Impersonation of Mr. McLean and forging of his signature albeit with his own signature but with Mr. McLean's name as the "borrower"

70. On October 28, 2024, at 4:35 and 4:36. unbeknownst to the Applicant, Mr. Papadimitropoulos engaged in fraud and forgery of the Applicant's name, whilst using the TPL library card contained in the McLean Backpack, to obtain and borrow laptops from the TPL Fort York branch. Mr. Papadimitropoulos did so again at approximately 17:43. On the same day at the same branch, he checked out two books from the TPL Fort York Branch in the name of the Applicant, without his authorization, at the times of 7:41 and 8:16 (see: Appendix #4 herein).

November 2024: the 1st to the 15th

71. As the Tribunal learned from the Applicant in early to mid November 2024 that he would be bringing a judicial review, Mr. Papadimitropoulos engaged in two distinct acts under a high degree of control from the Tribunal as follows:

a Friday, November 8, 2024: the booking of a reservation to attend the Aga Khan museum on November 9, 2024 (see: Appendix #5 herein); and b Monday, November 11, 2024: taking out some 14 books on Monday, November 11, 2024, from the branch of Queen and Saulter of the TPL. Said library branch is some 300 metres from his rental residence on Queen Street East, Toronto, Ontario.

November 15, 2024

72. The Applicant filed and served his judicial review on the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies on November 15, 2024.

73. Despite not having access to any banking, computers, electronic devices, et al, the Applicant still found a way to prepare the JRPA Application and file the same along with service.

74. The Applicant alleges that the Tribunal was stunned and it did not know how to respond. Despite a motion for documents outstanding, along with two other motions, the Tribunal was unable to conceptualize the same. It is scheme was without its desired goal.

November 16, 2024

75. On November 16, 2024, the Applicant obtained a new library card based on having his birth certificate and access to the emails that alerted him to the unauthorized taking out of books. At the time, the Applicant was unaware of the unauthorized and fraudulent borrowing of laptops by way of a false document with a forged signature and forged initials in the Laptop Borrowing Request Consent Form.

November 27, 2024

76. After the Tribunal had taken some 13 days, after service of the JRPA Application, it filed the two page NOA. The Tribunal did not file forthwith and attempted to put forward misguided theories about the law regarding the rudimentary distinction between interlocutory decisions and orders, and the prematurity doctrine. It was on that date that Mr. Boyce represented that the Tribunal would need three to four weeks to file the record of proceeding. The Applicant disagreed.

77. By latter letter on November 27, 2024, the Tribunal as per Mr. Boyce, was of the view, albeit incorrect on the law, that the Applicant was judicially reviewing interlocutory decisions or orders. It is trite that the decisions and orders of VCM where judicial review has been sought are final decisions and orders (see: ME v. Ontario, supra). However, that position of the Tribunal, not advanced by the Respondent Insurance Companies, is an admission that its view triggered a 15 day period that would have required leave to appeal which would have been October 30, 2024.

78. However, it is the LAT's position regarding the same that, in part, grounds his relief pursuant to section 8 of the Charter.

79. The Tribunal filed its Notice of Appearance on November 27, 2024. Despite the Respondent Insurance Companies being served with the filed JRPA Application on November 15, 2024, they did not file a Notice of Appearance until December 3, 2024, and only at the urging of the Tribunal. Upon further analysis of the metadata, layout, font, language and similar errors in the Respondent Insurance Companies' NOA, the Applicant put the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies on notice that there had been improper information and document sharing between them. They did not deny the same. Thereafter, Mr. Nieuwland, counsel to the Respondent Insurance Companies, amended his practicing status with the LSO in "to be confirmed" mode.

80. The Respondent Insurance Companies failed to comply with the Chief Justice issued practice direction for the Divisional Court as of June 2023 (the "Valid Practice Direction") with respect to "Information To Be Submitted to the Court" (see: Part 1, Heading "F"). As of the date of this Amended JRPA Application, the Respondent Insurance Companies have failed to comply with the same.

December 3, 2024

81. The Tribunal complied with the Valid Practice Direction, "Information To Be Submitted To the Court". The Tribunal estimated a half day for the hearing of the JRPA Application and raised a preliminary objection of the prematurity doctrine.

82. The Applicant complied with the same, and confirmed with respect to the filing and serving of any documents that he was in the process of filing and serving his factum and application record.

83. The Applicant filed and served the Applicant's Factum on December 10, 2024 (see: Compendium, Tab 38). The Applicant addressed the prematurity doctrine and it contained no merit then or now.

84. Mr. Boyce, before the Applicant filed his Factum but without having read the same, relied on Awada and Heegsma for the apparent position of what constituted a "final order" versus an "interlocutory order". The Applicant responded in kind and kindly pointed out to Mr. Boyce of the Tribunal that Heegsma involved the appeal of an order of the ONSC regarding the OHRC attempting to intervene as a friend of the court. It had no applicability to the JRPA Application and his reliance on his attempted legal position and that of the prematurity doctrine.

85. The Applicant filed and served his Application Record on December 12, 2024.

86. It was only the Tribunal that was engaged in emails before and after the filing of Notices of Appearances. It was Mr. Boyce that was clamouring for a phone call with Mr. McLean. There was nothing to discus per se but Mr. McLean remained open to a cognitive and productive discussion.

87. The Applicant paid form filed and served his Certificate of Perfection on December 13, 2024. The Divisional Court stamped and issued the Certificate of Perfection on December 16, 2024 (see: Compendium, Tab 39).

88. The Applicant provided a copy of his duly completed and executed certificate of perfection on Friday, December 13, 2024, via email. The Registrar noted with the Applicant that he was required to pay for the same and file it in the JSO Portal. The Applicant did so later that afternoon.

89. On the same day at 7 p.m., Mr. Papadimitropoulos attended the TPL Reference Library, with the Applicant's wallet and identification, and obtained a new library card in fraudulent and unauthorized fashion. The Applicant avers and pleads that at all material times Mr. Papadimitropoulos was relying on some form of governmental action, namely that of the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

90. Mr. Papadimitropoulos was not copied on any of the emails with the ONSC Divisional Court and the Respondents at the time. On December 13, 2024, the Respondent Insurance Companies had not an evinced an intention to even submit information to the court pursuant to the Valid Practice Direction.

91. On the same day in the evening, Mr. Papadimitropoulos, under a high degree of control exercised by the LAT through its in-house counsel of the SLASTO legal unit and the vice chairs and adjudicators whose decisions were so impugned and with the LAT retaining responsibility for the act in question, renewed some 16 books at 7:09 (19:09 p.m.) he had taken out with the Applicant's first library card which was validly issued in 2022. Mr. Papadimitropoulos had to obtain a new library card as the Applicant had obtained the Second Library Card and he could engage in further misconduct, all contrary to section 7 and 8 of the Charter, under the control of the LAT with the LAT retaining responsibility for the acts in question.

92. Consistent with the carefully selected borrowing of books by their names and synopses, which had deep personal connections or similarities to the Applicant's life experience, Mr. Papadimitropoulos then changed the phone number of the Applicant from his phone number on file to that of a CBC investigative journalist in Ms. Valerie Oullette (see: Appendix #4, 416-919-7820).

93. The Applicant further pleads that an adverse inference must be drawn against the Tribunal by way of Mr. Boyce removing his address and employer name after December 30, 2024, when the Applicant directly copied and pasted his decisions involving the three Respondent Insurance Companies when he was an adjudicator wherein those insurance companies were successful 14 times to zero defeats.

94. On December 16, 2024, the Certificate of Perfection was issued.

95. After a reasonable period and contrary to Rule 68.05 and the language in this Form 68(A) in the JRPA Application (see: Compendium, Tab 37), the Registrar did not send a Form 68(B) via mail (or email (pursuant to Rules of Civil Procedure, rule ____) at first instance or thereafter.

December 17, 2024 to December 21, 2024

96. From Thursday, December 19, 2024, the Applicant sought the position of the Tribunal regarding the decisions of the Ontario (Energy Board), Drewlo v. MPAC (the "Tranquilli Decision") and Hutchinson v. Aviva General Insurance and whether the Tribunal could even participate in the JRPA Application.

97. Mr. Boyce did respond, but not substantively to the questions posed, and confirmed that he was available on January 2, 2025, for a case conference as he knew the time for providing its responsive factum and application record along with not duplicating any factums from the Respondent Insurance Companies.

98. On December 20, 2024, the Applicant confirmed that he had obtained a Case Center account and was awaiting the invitation to the same and was awaiting a Form 68(B).

Return to the unauthorized conduct at the control and direction of the Tribunal

99. On Saturday, December 21, 2024, Mr. Papadimitropoulos then obtained a fourth library card in the Applicant's name albeit this time with a return to the Fort York Branch of the TPL (see: Appendix #4 herein). Mr. Papadimitropoulos then engaged in the taking out of laptops in the Applicant's name pursuant to the unauthorized laptop and equipment borrowing form wherein he impersonated the Applicant whilst using a forged signature and uttering a false document, on December 21, 2024. Mr. Papadimitropoulos, under a high degree or control and authorization of the LAT, then took out books and periodicals in the afternoon therein.

100. The Applicant was wholly unaware of the conduct on said date and was not present in the library on said date.

December 23, 2024

101. On Monday, December 23, 2024, the Applicant continued to assert the urgency of having the JRPA Application heard along with limited to no rights of the Tribunal to participate.

December 24, 2024

102. In the face of the same, the Applicant, on December 24, 2024, filed, and served his requisition pursuant to Rule 4.08, requiring the Registrar to comply with her obligation pursuant to Rule 68.05(2). Despite filing the same in the JSO Portal on December 24, 2024, it was not technically stamped until late January 2025 (see: Compendium, Tab 41).

December 28, 2024

103. After the Tribunal had received those emails that confirmed the law in relation to the Keeprite Standard and the limited ability of the Tribunal to participate, Mr. Papadimitropoulos again attended the Fort York Branch and engaged in further unauthorised conduct by the taking out of laptops and periodicals.

Affidavit #30 of December 30, 2024

104. As there was no existing requirement for a case conference under the Valid Practice Direction, while there was a requirement that all Divisional Court cases were subject to judicial case management, the Applicant, on December 30, 2024, swore affidavit #2 herein (see: Compendium, Tab 36), with affidavit #1 being his compulsory affidavit of service (see: Tab 40 of the Compendium) for the Certificate Of Perfection, to ensure that he led evidence of why there was urgency to the JRPA Application and why there would likely be a failure of justice if the JRPA Application was heard by a three justice panel of the ONSC Divisional Court.

105. Shortly after Mr. Boyce's receipt of affidavit #2, Mr. Boyce took the step with the LSO by way of the LSO Portal of removing his physical address and name of his employer (denoted as "business name" in the LSO online directory (the "LSO Directory"). The Applicant was unaware of the same until later into the month of January 2025, and he inquired with the LSO. The LSO confirmed that its records demonstrated that Mr. Boyce remained employed by the SLASTO Legal Unit at the same address of 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario.

January 2, 2025

106. On January 2, 2025, the Applicant filed a requisition by urgent email filing to the ONSC Divisional Court in the singular email thread for communications between the Applicant, respondents and interested persons, seeking an urgent hearing before a single justice of the ONSC (see: Compendium, Tab 42).

107. The Applicant did not receive any response from the ONSC Divisional Court in relation to the compulsory Form 68(B) sending to the parties or the request for urgent hearing pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA.

January 7, 2025: Madam Justice Shore somehow requires the parties to attend before her when she is the only justice of 93 in the Toronto Region who worked at the law firm (Epstein Cole LLP) that acted for Mr. Papadimitropoulos involving an individual insured in a car accident with its Insurance Policy with SNIC

108. On January 7, 2025, the Registrar did email the Applicant and the Respondents with an apparent copy and paste of an email or transcribed note from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore that read that she was exercising her powers of compulsory attendance before her for a case conference.

January 8, 2025: The Applicant's Objection to Madam Justice Shore's involvement herein and in the future

109. On January 7 and 8, 2025, the Applicant reviewed the public biographical information regarding Madam Justice Shore, and he learned that she was as a partner at the law firm of Epstein Cole LLP until the summer of 2018 before her appointment to the ONSC by way of the Constitution, section 96 to 101. The Applicant immediately objected to her involvement in this JRPA Proceeding as said law firm was counsel to Mr. Papadimitropoulos in his matrimonial litigation with Ms. Nicole Artopoulos, the named insured individual in the Insurance Policy issued by SNIC in 2018 and renewed each year thereafter until 2023 (see: named listed in the LAT Appeal (see: Compendium, Tab 6) and SNIC Response (see: Compendium, Tab 7).

110. The Applicant took it a step further and swore affidavit #3 which outlined the factual grounds as to why he was objecting. The Applicant filed and served affidavit #3 herein on January 8, 2025 (see: Compendium, Tab 43).

January 13, 2025: Tribunal fails to file any factum or application record; same with the Respondent Insurance Companies (although RIC's – no objections on a preliminary basis)

111. On January 13, 2025, neither the Tribunal nor the Respondent Insurance Companies filed a responsive factum with supporting materials in the form of a respondent's application record. The Applicant pleads a point of law that those respondents, not the AGO who was and is statutorily entitled to be heard at the hearing of the JRPA Application pursuant to section 9(4) of the JRPA, contravened rule 68.04. The Applicant also pleads a point of law that Rule 38 is not applicable to judicial review applications before the Divisional Court which eliminated the potential of those aforementioned respondents filing factum at a time prior to the hearing date. Rather, the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies were required to file and serve their responsive factums and application record 30 days from December 12, 2024. To date, the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies have not sought leave to file their responsive factums and application records.

112. The Applicant, at all material times, before and after January 13, 2025, confirmed, in writing, that he viewed the failure to do so as one that would lead to nullity filings if those respondents attempted to do so without leave.

January 16, 2025: Applicant files written submissions to the attention of the Chief Justice et al: appears never provided to Chief Justice

113. After awaiting to hear from the ONSC Divisional Court, the Applicant prepared written submissions regarding the Shore J. recusal request and the invalidation of the compulsory case conference attendance requirement before her (see: Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 77). The Applicant filed and served those written submissions on January 16, 2025, to the attention of, inter alia, the Honourable Chief Justice Mr. Morawetz, the Associate Chief Justice, and the Regional Senior Justice of the Toronto region.

114. The Applicant presumed that his affidavit #3 and the written submissions would be brought to the attention of the Chief Justice. He tendered the same predicated on there not being any uniform practice in Ontario for how to raise the recusal of a justice and pursuant to a secondary source article, issued by Gowlings LLP, citing one of the most astute and erudite justices to ever grace the ONSC in The Honourable Mr. Justice Perrell, formerly of the "seven sister law firm" in Oslers LLP (see: Gowlings LLP).

115. While the impugned conflict of interest involving Madam Justice Shore was being addressed, the Tribunal remained in breach of its forthwith filing requirement pursuant to section 10 of the JRPA. While Mr. Boyce, counsel to the Tribunal, had provided some inconsistent self-imposed, non-statutory, and non- prescribed timelines of three to four weeks from late November 2024 or 60 days in a subsequent letter to the Applicant and other respondents, by any measure of the same, the Tribunal had not complied with those self-imposed deadlines by January 23, 2025.

116. In the face of the Applicant's COI recusal submissions and nullification of the case conference compulsory requirement, albeit the Respondents failed to comply with the timelines in the Rules of Civil Procedure to file their responsive factums and application records thereafter, some 29 items were renewed by an unknown individual utilizing the Fourth Library Card obtained on false pretenses by Mr. Papadimitropoulos.

Affidavit #4: January 18, 2025

117. On January 18, 2025, the Applicant filed and served affidavit #4 (see: Compendium, Tab 45).

January 22, 2025
Re: NOM #1 filed and served upon the Tribunal

118. On January 22, 2025, the Applicant filed and served upon the Tribunal his notice of motion #1 ("NOM #1") seeking various relief, inter alia, that the Tribunal comply with section 10 of the JRPA to file the record of proceeding for the court's use for the JRPA Application (see: Compendium, Tab 48). NOM #1 was returnable on January 30, 2025.

119. On January 24, 2025, the Applicant filed and served his Affidavit #7 (with affidavits #5 to #6 being affidavits of service) on the Respondents (see: Compendium, Tab

120. On January 27, 2025, the Applicant filed and served his Affidavit #8 on the respondents

121. The Tribunal did not object to the relief sought regarding the same within the prescribed time requirement of four days (January 27, 2025) or at all.

January 30, 2025

122. On the morning of January 30, 2025, the Applicant filed a written argument (see: Compendium, Tab 50) to supplement his Notice of Motion and Confirmation of Motion (se: Compendium, Tab 49). Prior to January 30, 2025, the Applicant requested a case conference call number of the ONSC Divisional Court but did not receive the same.

123. The relief sought in NOM #1 remains unopposed and uncontested with a vetted draft order with respect to form and content as per the amendments to the Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 59.

January 30, 2025: AGO withdraws from the JRPA Proceeding in the face of the Applicant putting the uncontroverted evidence of the October 25, 2024, theft and subsequent unlawful conduct in the record of proceeding

124. Without any resistance of the relief sought in the JRPA Application or the merits of the same and the Applicant's continued and unwaived intention for strict compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure, the AGO confirmed in writing, on January 30, 2025, that he was withdrawing through his esteemed counsel in Ms. Judie Im.

January 31, 2024: NOM #2 made, served and then immediately filed for written hearing 125. On January 31, 2024, the Applicant moved promptly to make (see: language in Rule 37.12(4)) his motion for a written hearing within 14 days of said date. The Applicant served and immediately thereafter filed his NOM #2, Motion Record, Draft Order, and Factum on the Remaining Respondents.

126. The Remaining Respondents had ten days from February 1, 2025, being Tuesday, February 11, 2025, to choose one of the four prescribed options pursuant to Rule 37.12(5). The Applicant was also required to file and serve a Compendium at least three days, by two p.m., before the hearing of the written hearing. The Applicant filed and served his Compendium on February 14, 2025, at 1:59 pm. The Remaining Respondents, as potential responding parties (see: Rule 1.03(1)), did not choose any of the four options under Rule 37.12(5).

127. As the Applicant had not received an invitation to Case Center, contrary to the ONSC Guide to Judicial Review In Divisional Court" (see: language therein, "…invitation to CaseLines (former name) upon bringing the JRPA Application), by February 5, 2025, the Applicant filed and served Requisition #6 (see: Compendium, Tab 56), that required the Registrar to bring the entire court file to the attention of the sitting motions justice. The Applicant filed an additional requisition ("Requisition #7") seeking, yet again, an invitation to Case Center (see: Compendium, Tab 57).

128. The Applicant pleads a point of law that there is no similar provision for triages or conferences under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

129. In early February 2025, Mr. Nieuwland had changed his status to "to be confirmed" with no address for service, no employer, no email or phone number. The Applicant promptly inquired with the LSO regarding the same and Mr. Nieuwland then changed his contact information particulars back to the previous information.

February 1, 2025: Mr. Papadimitropoulos no longer employed by TD Insurance 130. On or around February 1, 2025, Mr. Papadimitropoulos was no longer employed by TD Insurance.

131. After February 11, 2025, the Applicant provided a revised and current Draft Order for NOM #2 on Friday, February 14, 2025, before the commencement of court.

132. On February 14, 2025, the Applicant also swore his Affidavit #16 (with affidavits #9 to #15 being affidavits of service for not only the Remaining Respondent but Mr. Papadimitropoulos and the law firm of Epstein Cole LLP). Neither Epstein Cole LLP nor Mr. Papadimitropoulos filed any responsive materials.

February 15, 2025 to end of February: Applicant scheduled to be away but an access request bore fruit: Mr. Papadimitropoulos forging signatures yet again with the Laptop Borrowing Request Consent Form

133. The Applicant was scheduled to be away from the weekend of February 15, 2025, until the end of February 2025 for necessary medical procedures for impairments as a consequence of the Accident on August 31, 2022. The Applicant was able to attend to the same in the week of February 18, 2025 to February 22, 2025, but then received a response to his access request of the Toronto Public Library involving some of the information contained in the chart that it provided to the Applicant on January 23, 2025; specifically, a copy of the document denoted as a "Laptop or Equipment Borrowing Form with the TPL" from October 28, 2024. The Applicant was, without his wallet and stored hard copy identification inclusive of his TPL issued library card as of October 25, 2024, as a result of the theft of the same in the CAMH visitor area. The Applicant did not ever request such a form or initial and execute such a form regarding the same. Ironically, the Applicant was in the TPL (Fort York branch) at the time of the fraudulent obtaining, fraudulent completion and forging of the same at approximately 4:30 on Monday, October 28, 2024.

134. The Applicant reviewed a copy of the document, personally compared the same and had a handwriting and signature experts compare the same to the printing in the authored anniversary card from Mr. Papadimitropoulos to Ms. Nicole Artopoulos at a time prior to 2017. The Applicant's belief and opinion of an expert in the aforementioned area was that they were similar to the aforementioned anniversary card. The Applicant's handwriting expert had previously confirmed that the forged signature of the "As per A. Nurse" on the OCF-18 (April 20, 2023), contained nearly identical letters such as: (i) "e's"; (ii) "n's"; and (ii) others (see: Compendium, Tab 43, Affidavit #3).

135. The Applicant had to put his health to the sidelines and attend to the making of an affidavit which was affidavit #17. The Applicant filed and served affidavit #17 on an urgent basis on February 26, 2025.

136. While it appears that anxiety got the better of Mr. Papadimitropoulos or being a "creature of habit" on October 28, 2024, , it was the very signature, under "Borrower Name (please print)" that was an "A", "N" and "P" that was most compelling. Under the "signature field", Mr. Papadimitropoulos input "Kevin Mclean". The Applicant spells his last name with a capital "L" which is his mother's maiden name and his maternal grandfather's surname.

Legal Grounds in relation to the Charter relief

137. The Applicant repeats and rely on the law cited in his served and filed NOCQ of March 4, 2025.

Section 2(B) of the Charter and the record of proceeding

138. The Applicant pleads that the Tribunal has breached, is breaching and continues to breach section 2(b) of the Charter with respect to the "open court principle".

139. The Applicant repeats and relies upon the law cited in his NOM #1 with respect to the importance of filing the record of proceeding from a judicial review standpoint and our constitution.

140. An applicant for judicial review has the right to have a full and accurate record of what went on before the tribunal put before the court: Payne at paragraph 161. The reason for the Applicant being entitled to the same is not grounded in the statutory sections but the ONSC Divisional Court's inherent jurisdiction: Payne at paragraph 161 (sentence 2).

141. A statutory body subject to judicial review cannot immunize itself or its process by arriving at decisions on considerations that are not revealed by the record it files with the court: ibid.

Section 7 of the Charter

142. The purpose of section 7 of the Charter is as follows.

143. Section 7 of the Charter requires that laws or state actions that interfere with life, liberty and security of the person conform to the principles of fundamental justice — the basic principles that underlie our notions of justice and fair process (Charkaoui v. Canada (Citizenship and Immigration), [2007] 1 S.C.R. 350 at paragraph 19).

144. Section 7 involves a two-step analysis:

a. Is there a deprivation of one of the three (3) protected interests, that is to say life, liberty or security of the person?
b. Is the deprivation in accordance with the principles of fundamental justice?

145. This second step may be broken down into two steps, where it is necessary a) to identify the relevant principle or principles of fundamental justice and then b) to determine whether the deprivation has occurred in accordance with such principles. (R. v. Malmo-Levine, [2003] 3 S.C.R. 571 at paragraph 83; R. v. White, [1999] 2 S.C.R. 417 at paragraph 38; R. v. S.(R.J.), [1995] 1 S.C.R. 451 at page 479).

146. There is no independent right to fundamental justice. Accordingly there will be no violation of section 7 if there is no deprivation of life, liberty or security of the person (R. v. Pontes, [1995] 3 S.C.R. 44, at paragraph 47).

147. The principles of fundamental justice incorporate at least the requirements of the common law duty of procedural fairness (Singh, supra at pages 212-13; Lyons, supra, at page 361; Suresh, supra at paragraph 113; Ruby, supra at paragraph 39). They also incorporate many of the principles set out in sections 8-14 of the Charter (Re B.C. Motor Vehicle Act, supra at paragraphs 29-30) and are "inextricably intertwined" with the requirements of s. 11(d) (R. v. Rose, [1998] 3 S.C.R. 262 at paragraph 95; J.J., supra at paragraph 114). Context is particularly important with respect to procedural fundamental justice — the more serious the infringement of life, liberty and security of the person, the more rigorous the procedural requirements (Suresh paragraph 118; Charkaoui (2007), supra at paragraph 25; Charkaoui v. Canada (Citizenship and Immigration, [2008] 2 S.C.R. 326, at paragraphs 53-58). The protections are generally more stringent in the criminal law context than in other areas of law (Chiarelli, supra at pages 743; Ruby, supra at paragraph 39). However, the guiding question is always the severity of the impact on protected interests rather than a formal distinction between the different areas of law (Charkaoui (2008), supra at paragraph 53).

148. Deciding what procedural protections must be provided involves consideration of the following factors: (1) the nature of the decision made and the procedures followed in making it, that is, "the closeness of the administrative process to the judicial process"; (2) the role of the particular decision within the statutory scheme; (3) the importance of the decision to the individual affected; (4) the legitimate expectations of the person challenging the decision where undertakings were made concerning the procedure to be followed; and (5) the choice of procedure made by the agency itself. This list of factors is non-exhaustive in determining the procedures demanded by the principles of fundamental justice (Baker v. Canada (Minister of Citizenship and Immigration), [1999] 2 S.C.R. 817 at paragraphs 23-27; Suresh, supra at paragraph 115; Charkaoui (2008), supra at paragraph 57).

149. The following are procedural principles of fundamental justice that have been found to apply outside the criminal context: the right to a hearing before an independent and impartial tribunal (Ruffo v. Conseil de la magistrature, [1995] 4 S.C.R. 267 at paragraph 38; Pearlman v. Manitoba Law Society Judicial Committee, [1991] 2 S.C.R. 869, at page 883; Charkaoui (2007), supra at paragraphs 29, 32); the right to a fair hearing, including the right to State-funded counsel where circumstances require it to ensure an effective opportunity to present one's case (G.(J.), supra at paragraphs 72-75 and 119; Ruby, supra at paragraph 40); the opportunity to know the case one has to meet (Chiarelli, supra, at pages 745-46; Suresh, supra at paragraph 122; May v. Ferndale Institution, supra at paragraph 92; Charkaoui (2007), supra at paragraph 53), including, where the proceeding may have severe consequences, the disclosure of evidence (Charkaoui (2008), supra at paragraphs 56, 58; Harkat, supra at paragraphs 43, 57, 60); the opportunity to present evidence to challenge the validity of the state's evidence (Suresh, supra at paragraph 123; Harkat, supra at paragraph 67); the right to a decision on the facts and the law (Charkaoui (2007), supra, paragraphs 29, 48); the right to written reasons that articulate and rationally sustain an administrative decision (Suresh, supra at paragraph 126); and the right to protection against abuse of process (Cobb, supra at paragraphs 52-53). The application of these principles is highly contextual, but it may be assumed that if they apply outside the criminal context, they apply with greater force in the criminal context.

150. By the very internal denoting of TD General Insurance Company on April 22, 2024, as a "related party" when it was, at the time, the sole respondent in the LAT Appeal, was and is an admission that it was interfering with the life, liberty and security of the Applicant in an unjust and unfair manner when he needed and still needs vital benefits and treatments.

Section 8 of the Charter

151. It would be analytical overkill to go into all of the purposes of section 8 of the Charter because the theft, impersonation, and fraud are all without authority.

152. The more intellectual argument, worthy of some attention, is that the unreviawability of decisions involving the Undisclosed Motion Orders.

Charter Damages

153. Anyone who has had their guaranteed Charter rights breached or violated may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction for such remedies that the court considers appropriate and just in the circumstances (see: section 24(1) of the Charter).

154. This section permits a person whose rights have been infringed to apply to a "court of competent jurisdiction" for "such remedy as the court considers appropriate and just in the circumstances". Within certain jurisdictional limits, the court's exercise of its remedial power is discretionary.

Not just past or current breaches but apprehended breaches

155. Anyone whose rights or freedoms have been directly infringed or denied may apply for a remedy. Despite the plain wording of the section ("Anyone whose rights have been violated…") indicating the contrary, section 24(1) applies not only in the case of actual interference with Charter guarantees, but also where an apprehension of a future interference can be established on

Legal Test and burden of proof

156. To obtain a Charter remedy, the applicant must: (1) establish an adequate factual foundation; (2) bring their claim at the correct stage of litigation; and (3) persuade the court that, on a balance of probabilities, their Charter rights have been violated (Collins, supra, at page 277).

157. The Applicant has presented an adequate factual foundation and brought the relevant evidence as soon as he was aware of the same.

158. There is no dispute that the Applicant has had his section 2(b) of the Charter rights infringed. The question is one of remedies.

159. In relation to section 8 of the Charter, there is no dispute that the Undisclosed Orders are unreviewable orders and decisions which violate section 8 of the Charter and cannot be saved under section 1 of the Chart.er

160. In relation to the other alleged section 8 breaches, the respondent LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies have ten days to provide a notice of appearance and any competing evidence to dispute the same.

Types of Remedies

161. When there is a right, there is a remedy (see: (Doucet-Boudreau, supra, at paragraph 25).

162. It is "difficult to imagine language which could give the court a wider and less fettered discretion" in crafting remedies than section 24(1) (Mills, supra, at page 181).

163. The Divisional Court is to approach Charter remedies purposively and give vitality to the maxim, "where there is a right, there must be a remedy")

Purposive Approach

164. The purposive approach consists of two specific requirements:

a the remedy must be "responsive" and promote "the purpose of the right being protected";

b the remedy must be effective (Doucet-Boudreau, supra, at paragraph 25; PHS Community Services Society, supra, at paragraph 142).

The Section 2(B) rights

165. The section 2(B) rights are inextricably bound to the inherent jurisdiction of this Divisional Court of the ONSC as per the Divisional Court reinforcing the legal precedents and rights of this Applicant and all similarly situated applicants in judicial review.

166. Section 2(b) protects the "open court principle", a strong presumption in favour of open courts that allows the public and the press to attend hearings, to consult court files, and to inquire into and comment on the workings of the courts (Sherman Estate v. Donovan, 2021 SCC 25). The open court principle is embedded in the common law tradition and is protected by section 2(b) because it promotes the full and fair discussion of public institutions, which is vital to any democracy: (Sherman Estate, supra at paragraph 30; Ruby v. Canada (Solicitor General), [2002] 4 S.C.R. 3 at paragraph 53; Canadian Broadcasting Corp. v. New Brunswick (Attorney General), [1996] 3 S.C.R. 480 at paragraph 23; Edmonton Journal v. Alberta (Attorney General), [1989] 2 S.C.R. 1326 at pages 1339-40; B.C.G.E.U. v. British Columbia (Attorney General), [1988] 2 S.C.R. 214; R. v. MacIntyre, [1982] 1 S.C.R. 175).

167. Open courts discourage mischief and ensure confidence in the administration of justice through transparency (Sherman Estate, supra at paragraphs 39, 44).

Interplay between section 2(b) and 7 of the Charter

168. The open court principle is also protected as appropriate under the right to a fair and public trial pursuant to section 7 and section 11(d).

169. Section 11(d) is not at issue for the Applicant per se but it may be for some others in other proceedings.

170. The open court principle applies to all judicial proceedings, whatever their nature (Sherman Estate, supra at paragraph 44). This entails a presumption of access to both criminal and civil hearings, and also, for example, to pretrial proceedings (Re Vancouver Sun, supra at paragraph 27), probate proceedings (Sherman Estate, supra at paragraphs. 44-45), and court exhibits (Canadian Broadcasting Corp. v. The Queen, [2011] 1 S.C.R. 65 at paragraph 12; Canadian Broadcasting Corp. v. New Brunswick (Attorney General), supra; Hill v. Church of Scientology of Toronto, [1995] 2 S.C.R. 1130). Court openness would be limited by, for example, sealing orders, publication bans, orders excluding the public from a hearing, or redaction orders (Sherman Estate, supra at paragraph 38).

171. There is no issue regarding any redacted documents, orders or otherwise before the Tribunal.

172. A person asking a court to exercise discretion in a way that limits court openness must establish that: (1) court openness poses a serious risk to an important public interest; (2) the order sought is necessary to prevent this risk because reasonably alternative measures will not prevent the risk; and (3) as a matter of proportionality, the benefits of the order outweigh its negative effects. This test applies to all discretionary limits on court openness. (Sherman Estate, supra at paragraph 38; Sierra Club of Canada v. Canada (Minister of Finance), [2002] 2 S.C.R. 522; R. v. Mentuck, [2001] 3 S.C.R. 442; Dagenais v. Canadian Broadcasting Corp., [1994] 3 S.C.R. 835.)

173. As the open court principle applies equally to administrative tribunals particularly those that are adjudicative in nature like the LAT, the LAT has not attempted to rely on any of the above and nor could it.

174. The Tribunal has understandably yet unlawfully attempted to shield itself from judicial scrutiny.

175. "Adjudicative records", in the context of this application, meant records that are part of the actual record of the tribunal hearing, not documents that were part of the pre-hearing discovery but that did not get introduced at the hearing itself (see: summary of Toronto Star v. AGO (2018).

176. The open court principle, which is inextricably tied to the rights guaranteed by s. 2(b) of the Charter, applies to administrative tribunals as well as to courts (see: summary of Toronto Star).

177. The Tribunal has violated section 2(B) of the Charter at first instance, from December 24, 2023, until September 13, 2024, by its failure to compile records in an organized and responsible manner. In this regard, the Tribunal cannot have it both ways by tossing around the language of "quasi-judicial" but then engage in deplorable organizational record and file management.

178. The Tribunal has purported to created a reverse onus upon the Applicant and it must pay for his expenses and costs in compiling the index and seeking to obtain, and potentially obtaining the adjudicative records before the Tribunal during the ROP Temporal Period.

179. There must be consequences for the actions of the Tribunal and that can only be obtained by way of remedy that is not nominal and trivial.

180. The Supreme Court has stated emphatically that when it comes to access of the press to Adjudicative Records, "covertness is the exception and openness the rule" (see: Nova Scotia (Attorney General) v. MacIntyre, 1982 CanLII 14 (SCC)).

181. The point is even more forceful when it applies to a party to a proceeding before a Tribunal.

182. Once a judicial review application is commenced, openness is not only the rule but it is constitutional entrenched and a democratic principle.

183. While the Applicant, consistent with his approach before the Tribunal in exhausting all available, alternative and adequate remedies, is exhausting all routes outside of the Court process out of respect for the scare, finite and valuable judicial resources. Moreover, he is leaving nothing to chance when it comes to this insurance industry funded Tribunal.

184. The relief sought in NOM #1 is an effective remedy as it curtails and prohibits the Tribunal from participating in this JRPA Proceeding until it complies with its forthwith filing duties.

185. However, that was more than 45 days ago and the Tribunal has still failed in its duty to file with the court. It would be one thing if the Tribunal took the position that it had filed the record of proceeding during the ROP

186. Temporal Period but did not serve the Applicant. In reality, the Tribunal has put the Applicant to further expense, harm, and cost to obtain the same through alternate methods but he still has not seen a single document that was filed from the apparent repository of the Tribunal.

187. This is not a situation like that occurred in Toronto Star where it was seeking access to tribunal schedules but rather the Tribunal has not filed a single document form the record of proceeding.

188. The remedy in favour of the Applicant, and to an extent the public, must be significant, meaningful and effective to ensure that the Tribunal does not engage.

189. The Applicant has proposed by way of remedy that the LAT pay the sum of $280,000 to pro bono legal services earmarked for SABS claims of injured persons before the LAT. In this manner, some balancing of the scales of justice and monetary power of the insurance funded tribunal is effected. The Applicant arrived at said number based on the summation of the salaries of Mr. Boyce and Vice Chair Morrissette. The Applicant is not submitting that it said funds comes from their salaries but from the LAT itself.

What is an appropriate and just remedy?

190. A remedy that is "appropriate and just" fulfils the following requirements:

a. the remedy is meaningful, in that it is "relevant to the experience of the claimant and must address the circumstances in which the right was infringed or denied" (Doucet-Boudreau, supra, at paragraph 55).

b. the remedy must respect basic constitutional principles, such as the principle of separation of powers, although it is permissible for a Charter remedy to "touch on functions that are principally assigned to the executive" (at paragraph 56).
c. the remedy does not exceed the judiciary's power and competence by involving it in "the kinds of decisions and functions for which its design and expertise are manifestly unsuited" (at paragraph 57); and
d. The remedy must be fair to the party against which it is imposed in that it "should not impose substantial hardships that are unrelated to securing the right" (at paragraph 58).

191. The circumstances of the Applicant, and particularly in the spirit of similarly situated applicants, is underscored by the recent report of the Ontario Trial Lawyers Association in its push for urgent review of the LAT. Injured persons are losing their cases, while represented by highly skilled and competent counsel, more than 90 percent of the time. This is a stark change from five years ago and pre-pandemic numbers where claimants were at least successful in obtaining vital benefits and treatments 30 percent of the time.

192. It is why the entire record of this JRPA Proceeding is being provided to the Ontario Trial Lawyers Association because the Applicant through all the pain and suffering has likely discovered one of the primary causes to that precipitous drop off in the last five years.

193. Where a rule of equity conflicts with a rule of the common law, the rule of equity prevails: section 96(2) of the CJA.

194. Only the Court of Appeal and the Superior Court of Justice, exclusive of the Small Claims Court, may grant equitable relief, unless otherwise provided: section 96(3) of the CJA.

195. The Court of Appeal and the Superior Court of Justice, exclusive of the Small Claims Court, may make binding declarations of right, whether or not any consequential relief is or could be claimed: section 97 of the CJA.

196. Relief seeking mandamus, certiorari or prohibition shall be disposed of in a summary manner: section 7 and section 8 of the JRPA.

197. The Civil Rules shall be liberally construed to secure the just, most expeditious and least expensive determination of every civil proceeding on its merits: Rule 1.04. It is the merits that must be decided. The Applicant has underscored the drastic change in the law pursuant to Yatar as it relates to judicial review.

198. Herein, there are final orders and final decisions, which were apparently issued at some time in August 16, 2024, but not disclosed to the Applicant. Even the namesake of the document in Word form was "final".

199. The benefit of having the input of the AGO and the AGC, somewhat more the AGC in certain regards due to the egregious conduct of Mr. Papadimitropoulos directly injecting himself into the pith and substance of the powers of the federal branch of government, is for the hearing of the constitutional questions. The Applicant has provided now sufficient and necessary evidence for this Honourable Court to decide the NOM #2. While those general questions of law that are of the utmost importance to the legal system as a whole which are evasive of this JRPA Application and of importance to practice and procedure before the LAT, the Charter questions exceed their importance.

200. The Applicant has proposed that by way of orders sought that the relief in NOM #2 is decided, and then a date is set for the hearing of the constitutional questions. It likely requires a day for all to be heard but it must be in open court, with the public access and the lights shining bright.

201. To the extent that they cannot be heard in such fashion, then an urgent date needs to be set. How many more injured persons need to suffer?

202. Because courts should expect evolution in the understanding of what is required to appropriately remedy Charter violations, the approach to Charter remedies must "remain flexible and responsive to the needs of a given case," and they should remain open to employing remedies with "novel and creative features when compared to traditional and historical remedial practice" (at Doucet-Boudreau, paragraph 59).

203. The question that is not easily answerable as only the LAT will know is whether its misconduct herein is consistent with its previous conduct or misconduct. Put another way, is the LAT regularly engaging in making and deciding motions but not disclosing the same and then disclosing a different order at a later date while leaving injured persons in the wings waiting?

204. "[C]osts and practicalities" may be relevant in a court's selection of an appropriate and just remedy (Association des parents de l'école Rose-des-vents v. British Columbia (Education), [2015] 2 S.C.R. 139 at paragraph 49).

205. The LAT has its vice chairs and adjudicators receiving salaries in the 99.9 percentile of Canadians. Yet, the OTLA is challenging whether these adjudicators and vice chairs are even competent at first instant or qualified to do their jobs.

206. The Applicant is not hiding behind their statements and he has taken it a step further in challenging whether Vice Chair Morrisette should have been hired in the first place? It is not to suggest that she is not a highly intelligent person in another field like the health sector on a federal level or delving into the injustices in West Africa but her integrity was non-existent when investigated by the federal government; specifically the investigative and enforcement arm under the Lobbyist Act.

207. The types of adjudicators and vice chairs that must be selected at first instance are those that have a strong background in this area. SABS has changed many times over since 2010. Reg 283 underwent significant changes in 2010. Certain regulations have been repealed in favour of the FSRA passing rules in lieu of the same.

208. The Insurance Act (Ontario) is a lengthy statute that requires much reading many times over with constant attention to detail and language.

209. The SPPA is another statute that was amended substantially in 2006 pursuant to the Access To Justice Act 2006 which dovetailed with significant amendments to the LSA. To add the intellectual rigour required to be an astute, competent and up-to-date adjudicator or Vice Chair like a Vice Chair McGee or Vice Chair Maedel in Dankha and Mosa, you must have read not only the LSA but the LSO By-Laws.

210. During the Nullity Case Conference, Vice Chair Painchaund was asking the Applicant for which sections of the LSO By-Laws prohibited a non-licensee from signing a responsive pleading in a statutory appeal involving accident benefits. This can never happen again.

Civil Remedies

211. Damages are available in appropriate cases where they would serve a "functional" purpose in remedying a Charter violation.

212. This requires a claimant to demonstrate that damages would further one or more of the general objects of the Charter, including those of section 24(1), namely:

a compensation (remedying any personal loss the claimant has suffered);
b vindication (importance of upholding Charter rights); and c and/or deterrence (of further breaches by state actors) (Ward, supra, at paragraphs 25-31).

213. The Applicant has suffered enormous personal loss by the failure to comply with section 2(b) at first instance which was evidence by all of the mistakes of a chronological, evidentiary and factual matrix nature in each and every one the Adjudicator or Vice Chair Morrisette decisions.

214. The Formal LAT Admission (see: Compendium, Written Argument) in mid February 2025 that it was attempting to figure out how to best compile the record of proceeding requires remedies to vindicate the Charter rights and deter future breaches by state actors.

215. The same is applicable to the section 8 breaches relating to the unreviewability of the Undisclosed Motion Orders.

216. In response to a Charter damages claim, the government may establish that other considerations render a pecuniary award inappropriate or unjust in the circumstances, e.g., double compensation or duplicative remedies; or concerns that an award of damages would interfere with "good governance" and the rule of law (Ward, supra, at paragraphs 32-45). The quantum will be determined based on evidence of pecuniary or non-pecuniary loss, as well as in light of the other functional purposes of section 24(1), i.e., vindication and deterrence (Ward, supra, at paragraphs 46-57).

217. The LAT has engaged in horrific governance and its conduct has been counter to the rule of law (see: Compendium, Applicant's Factum, Tab 38).

218. Where a claimant seeks Charter damages in a civil suit alleging that a Crown prosecutor breached the Charter in respect of disclosure obligations, damages are available if harm was suffered by the accused and the Crown intentionally withheld information when it knew, or would reasonably be expected to have known, that the information was material and that the failure to disclose would likely affect the accused's ability to make full answer and defence (Henry v. British Columbia (Attorney General), [2015] 2 S.C.R. 214 at paragraph 82).

219. While not a criminal matter for the Applicant per se, the Tribunal clearly intentionally withheld the record of proceeding for self-evident reasons. To borrow the word from the VCM Decision and that word alone, it was fatal to her and her final decisions and orders being upheld as correct.

220. Had the Tribunal filed the record of proceeding forthwith with an index like the Applicant had done in his affidavit #18, court resources could have been more focused on having the merits decided.

221. While Vice Chair Morrisette found that the Applicant had put a strain on the Tribunal, she was not strained at all with her Undisclosed Motion Orders in late July and August 2024. It was posturing and deceit by the Tribunal aimed at attempting to deter the Applicant from advancing his rights. Thankfully, the Applicant saw it for what it was: weakness, insecurity, and covertness.

222. While the LAT (or the Respondent Insurance Companies) have not filed a single affidavit in this JRPA Proceeding, the Applicant welcomes their sworn evidence in the face of his evidence in relation to whether the LAT maintained a high degree of control over Mr. Papadimitropoulos in executing that four month crime spree involving the Applicant's identity, credit cards, banking cards, library card (and newly obtained one). Mr. Papadimitropoulos and those authorizing him with government have an odd obsession with the Applicant to spending their time hand-picking book titles that bore resemblance to his life experiences with everything in those books from his life in and out of the practice of law, corruption, NCAA Division 1 athletics, not meeting one's biological father, the country of Greece and holidays, et al.

223. Perhaps, they should have spent their time learning this area of law and focusing on the merits.

Costs

224. In relation to the damages and costs elements along with that of the avoidance of double collection, the case of Soleil Hospitality Inc. v. Louie, 2010 BCSC 1183, aff'd at the BCCA:

> [384] As a general rule, the type of misconduct that justifies an award of special costs will relate to the course of the litigation and not to pre-litigation misconduct. This is so because reprehensible pre-litigation misconduct giving rise to a cause of action is typically addressed by an award of punitive damages. In some cases, however, reprehensible misconduct may have originated prior to litigation but continued throughout the litigation process. In these circumstances, special costs may be ordered in addition to punitive damages without double punishment being imposed: Golden Capital Sec. Ltd. at ¶ 161-176.
> [385] Perjury is reprehensible misconduct, as is fraud and conspiracy. Such misconduct cannot be condoned by the court. On the contrary, it should be denounced and deterred, both specifically and generally. For these reasons, acts of perjury, fraud and conspiracy often attract an award of special costs. Such awards may be made on the basis of full indemnity: Fullerton v. Matsqui (District), [1992] B.C.J. No. 2969 (C.A.) at ¶ 17; Insurance Corporation of British Columbia v. Phung, 2003 BCSC 1619 (CanLII) at ¶ 8 & 11.

225. To the extent that the LAT provides sworn evidence that it was not directing or authorizing Mr. Papadimitropoulos and others within the TD insurance group, irrespective of their now defunct or non-existent status with the same, but acting in concert with him, by action or inaction, then this can be addressed in costs and damages.

226. Whether technically inside the ropes or outside of the same, the pleaded uncontroverted facts supra are deserving of rebuke.

227. Certainly, Madam Justice Shore is not the individual to make that judgment call. To borrow from our US counterparts, Chief Justice Roberts of the US Supreme Court once stated words to the effect, "My job is that of an umpire and to call balls and strikes in a dispassionate and objective manner."

228. The public importance issues require a justice as far away from Mr. Papadimitropoulos as humanly possible whether based on past or current association, affiliation or knowledge.

No Deference with the VCM Decisions and No Deference when reviewing the impugned LAT Rules

229. The Applicant pleads a point of law: There is no deference when reviewing legislation ab initio. Courts engaged in judicial review of impugned legislation, the court must hold a law invalid if it is inconsistent with the Charter. Where a provision is declared unconstitutional pursuant to s. 52 of the Constitution Act, 1982, that will be end of all matters that involve that question of law

230. Pursuant to Vavilov, there is no deference owed to VCM's decisions and orders, which were final orders and decisions, as there was a statutory appeal mechanism available to the Applicant, the general questions posed herein are of important to the legal system as a whole, they are evasive of the JRPA Application and of great importance to practice before the LAT, they engage the rule of law and varies subspecies or categories of the rule of law, they engage questions that test the boundaries of two or more administrative bodies not only on a provincial level but a federal level.

Avoidance of Multiplicity of Proceedings

231. The Courts of Justice Act require that the Court determine all issues and fact before it in a singular proceeding as opposed to a multiplicity of proceedings.

Now increasingly obvious and palpable errors of law on the face of the record

Errors of Law

232. The power of the court to set aside a decision for error of law on the face of the record on an application for an order in the nature of certiorari is extended so as to apply on an application for judicial review in relation to any decision made in the exercise of any statutory power of decision to the extent it is not limited or precluded by the Act conferring such power of decision: section 2(2) of the JRPA.

Admissible Evidence only and Lack of Evidence

233. Where the findings of fact of a tribunal made in the exercise of a statutory power of decision are required by any statute or law to be based exclusively on evidence admissible before it and on facts of which it may take notice and there is no such evidence and there are no such facts to support findings of fact made by the tribunal in making a decision in the exercise of such power, the court may set aside the decision on an application for judicial review: section 2(3) of the JRPA.

Power to Set Aside

234. Where the applicant on an application for judicial review is entitled to a judgment declaring that a decision made in the exercise of a statutory power of decision is unauthorized or otherwise invalid, the court may, in the place of such declaration, set aside the decision: section 2(4) of the JRPA.

Conclusion

235. An urgent hearing must be held regarding the above noted issues that are evasive of this judicial review in light of the discretionary powers that the LAT wields and the manner in which it is conducting hearings not even in accordance with its own LAT Rules and in breach of the natural justice rights and Charter rights of injured persons.

Volume #3: Documentary Evidence

46. The following documentary evidence will be used at the hearing of the application:

(a) The Motion Hearing Record for NOM #14 which includes the affidavits of the Applicant therein (see: Appendix #3)

(b) The Motion Hearing Record for NOM #15 of the Applicant which includes the affidavits of the Applicant therein (see: Appendix #4);

(c) The Motion Hearing Record for NOM #13 of the Applicant which includes the affidavits of the Applicant therein;

(d) The decision of Vice Chair Morrissette in relation to NOM #13 to #15 of the Applicant;

(e) The decision of Vice Chair Lake in relation to the Applicant's reconsideration motion;

(f) The record of proceeding in AABS File Number: "23-015662/AABS"

(g) Such other affidavit material and evidence as counsel may advise and this Honourable Court may deem proper; and

(h) The sworn evidence listed in the Applicant's Compendium (February 14, 2025) and the Applicant's 1st Amended Compendium (February 18, 2025) denoted by tabs therein.

Appendix #1

The actual relief sought The Appellant seeks the following orders, without consent of SNIC and TDHA, as follows:

Order #1: First Insurer Declaration 1. An Order, Declaration, determination and/or finding that TD Home And Auto Insurance Company, FSRA registration number 1063 ("TDHA" or "TDHAIC") was the First Insurer to receive, pursuant to Reg 283, the Appellant's fax delivered Completed Application (see: Reg 283, s. 1) to the fax number, provided to him by SNIC as a return address [sic] for SNIC, of 416-774-3120 (the "416 Fax Number") on October 13, 2022; Order #2: East Mall Address (Branch Office): Determination of which licensed insurer carried on business at said branch office

2. An Order, Declaration, determination or finding the physical address, which is apparently denoted as a branch office of SNIC in HCAI, municipally known as 304 The East Mall, Floor 6, Etobicoke, Toronto, Ontario, M9B 6B7 (the "Etobicoke East Mall Address") was or is an address or branch office of TDHA and not SNIC;

Orders #3 and #4: Adding TDHA as a Party 3. An Order adding TDHA as a respondent party to this LAT proceeding herein; 4. An Order requiring TDHA, should it wish to oppose the relief sought in the Appellant's Appeal, file and serve a Response to the Appellant's Appeal within 14 days of the date of the orders herein;

Order #5: Ancillary Relief 5. Any further relief that is consistent with the above and in accordance with Reg 283, SABS, and Reg 664; and Order #6: Costs against SNIC pursuant to section 17.1 of the SPPA and Rule 19 of the LAT Rules.

Appendix #2

Schedule “A” for NOM #15 The Appellant seeks the following remedies, without the consent of SNIC, as follows: 1. An Order that NOM #14 is heard in an expedited fashion and by no later than August 28, 2024 or, in the alternative, at the earliest date available for a Vice-Chair or adjudicator to determine the same; 2. An Order that if the Respondent Party (SNIC), TDHA or any other non-party or interested person wishes to oppose NOM #14, it must provide notice, via filed letter, to the Tribunal by no later than Wednesday, August 21, 2024; and 3. A preliminary finding, determination, or order, that the fax number 416-7743120 was a landline phone number utilized as a fax number on the 4th floor of the building situated at the premises municipally known as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7; a. In the alternative, an order that said issue of fact is added to the hearing of NOM #14; 4. An Order that NOM #13 is set for hearing three (3) weeks after the final decision of the Tribunal in NOM #14; and 5. An Order that the Appellant shall tender his hearing brief for his potential motion regarding document production and disclosure from SNIC (the “SNIC Document Production Motion”) within one week after the decision of NOM #14 with a notice of scheduled hearing date to be issued by the Tribunal regarding exchange of responsive and reply briefs; 6. An Order that NOM #13 (Non-Party production by TDGIC) and the SNIC Document Production Motion (if applicable) shall be heard together three weeks after the decision in NOM #14; and Costs against SNIC for this motion herein if it opposes the same

(DIVISIONAL COURT)

BETWEEN:

KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN

APPLICANT

- and -

TD HOME AND AUTO INSURANCE COMPANY, SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY, TD GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

RESPONDENTS

ORDER

THIS MOTION, made by the Applicant, Mr. Kevin A. McLean, for the relief sought at the paragraphs denoted in his Notice of Motion of November 17, 2025 was heard in writing on December 3, 2025

AND ON READING the following: (i) materials in support of the Applicant's Notice of Motion (the "Materials In Support") (see: motion record of the Applicant and amended or updated motion records tendered by the Applicant prior to issuing and making of the "Reasons for Decision" or "Reasons for Judgment"); and (ii) on hearing, while excluding any purportedly filed documents by the Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT due to its failures to "file" and "deliver" Notices of Appearances", the following in written form way of evidence, forms, submissions and other documents signed by the Applicant, written and filed documents or submissions (non-sworn evidence) of the Applicant, which are particularized and described as (see:); AND the respondents being served with the Applicant's JRPA Application immediately after he made the JRPA Application to the Court via the online filing and paying for the same on November 15, 2024, non-service of the LAT's NOA of November 27, 2024, along with the absence of "filing" or "delivery" of the same, and December 3, 2024, NOA of the Respondent Insurance Companies duly served on the Applicant but neither "filed" nor "served" on the Applicant;

the Tribunal neglecting or failing to comply with its statutory duties under the JRPA and SPPA to forthwith file a record of proceedings that contained all of the content requirements at section 20 of the SPPA, and not opposing or consenting to the Applicant's NOM #1 that sought compliance with the same;
the Respondent Insurance Companies not complying with the Practice Direction entitled "Information Submitted to the Court" within two weeks of the JRPA Application being issued or at all;
the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Tribunal being served with the Applicant's Factum and Application Record (December 12, 2024) yet not complying with Rule 68.04(4), or seeking leave to deliver responsive factums and application records after January 13, 2025; and neither the Respondent Insurance Companies nor the Tribunal (collectively, the "Responding Parties" or "Remaining Respondents") complying with Rule 37.12.1(5) within ten days of the date of the made NOM #3 of the Applicant and not filing any objections to NOM #2, despite not being permitted to do so without seeking and obtaining an order of the court to "deliver" their Notices of Appearances some 366 days late, being heard in writing or seeking to be heard orally (see: Rule 37.12.1(5)(d));

This Court Orders the following:
UPON THE MOTION for the comprehensive relief sought by the Applicant, Kevin Alexander McLean, as formally particularized within his Notice of Motion dated November 17, 2025 (hereinafter "NOM #3");

AND UPON the Motion having proceeded as a written hearing on the 3rd day of December, 2025, pursuant to the Rules of Civil Procedure;

AND UPON READING: (i) the materials tendered in support of the Applicant's NOM #3 (the "Materials In Support"), including the Applicant's Motion Record and all subsequent amended or updated motion records filed prior to the issuance of any Reasons for Decision or Reasons for Judgment; and

(ii) upon considering all evidence, forms, submissions, and other documents, signed or otherwise, submitted in written form by the Applicant;

AND NOTWITHSTANDING the exclusion of any purportedly filed documents by the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) due to their manifest failures to "file" and "deliver" their respective Notices of Appearances, it is observed that: the Respondents were served with the Applicant's Judicial Review Procedure Application (JRPA Application) immediately subsequent to its online filing on November 15, 2024; non-service of the LAT's Notice of Appearance (NOA) of November 27, 2024, is evident, concomitant with the absence of its requisite "filing" or "delivery"; and the NOA of the Respondent Insurance Companies, dated December 3, 2024, was duly served upon the Applicant but neither "filed" nor "delivered" upon the Applicant;

AND FURTHER NOTING that the Tribunal neglected or failed to discharge its statutory obligations pursuant to the Judicial Review Procedure Act and the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (SPPA) to forthwith file a complete record of proceedings, inclusive of all content requirements stipulated at section 20 of the SPPA, and did not proffer opposition or consent to the Applicant's antecedent NOM #1 seeking compliance therewith; that the Respondent Insurance Companies failed to adhere to the Practice Direction entitled "Information Submitted to the Court" within the prescribed two-week period following the issuance of the JRPA Application, or at any subsequent juncture; that the Responding Parties failed to comply with Rule 68.04(4) of the Rules of Civil Procedure subsequent to being served with the Applicant's Factum and Application Record (December 12, 2024), nor did they seek leave to deliver responsive factums and application records post-January 13, 2025; and that neither the Respondent Insurance Companies nor the Tribunal (collectively, the "Remaining Respondents") complied with Rule 37.12.1(5) within ten days of the promulgation of the Applicant's NOM #3, nor did they file any objections to NOM #2, despite being jurisdictionally precluded from doing so without first seeking and obtaining a mandatory order of this Honourable Court to effect the "delivery" of their Notices of Appearances, which are now approximately 366 days late, or seeking an oral hearing (vide: Rule 37.12.1(5)(d));

THIS COURT DOTH ORDER, DECLARE, DIRECT, AND DECREE THE FOLLOWING:

1. ASSIGNMENT AND JUDICIAL REQUISITION ORDERS

1.1 JUDICIAL ASSIGNMENT ORDERS AND RECUSAL REQUISITES (CONFLICT OF INTEREST)

1.1.1 PEREMPTORY JUDICIAL REQUISITION AN ORDER directing the President of the Divisional Court (pursuant to subsection 18(2) of the Courts of Justice Act) to forthwith issue a Judicial Assignment which shall, in the most peremptory and unequivocal manner, expressly mandate that the judicial officer designated to preside over the determination of this written motion shall not, under any conceivable or colourable circumstance, include, be comprised of, or be derived from the following specified jurists, lest a justifiable apprehension of bias, prima facie, arise: i. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore (hereinafter "Justice Shore"); ii. The Honourable Madam Justice Melanie Kraft (hereinafter "Justice Kraft"); iii. Any judicial officer who was actively employed by, or served as a partner within, the limited liability partnership of Epstein Cole (hereinafter "Epstein Cole LLP") during the critical temporal ambit spanning from the commencement of the Fall of 2017 to the present moment.

1.1.2 FRESH JUSTICE MANDATE: An Order in the nature of a Fresh Justice Order, confirming with incontrovertible finality that, in the event that any previous requirements, determinations, findings, judgments, or orders unilaterally issued by Madam Justice Shore (collectively, the "Justice Shore Steps") are sought to be vacated or set aside, such remedial relief shall be heard and determined exclusively by a duly constituted Judge of the Divisional Court, thereby precluding any consideration by a single judge of the Superior Court exercising jurisdiction in banco.

2. INTERIM AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

2.1 PRESERVATION, DELIVERANCE, AND INTERDICTORY ORDERS (PROPERTY CUSTODY)

2.1.1 IMMEDIATE PRESERVATION INJUNCTION AN IMMEDIATE ORDER mandating that all automotive insurance entities within the TDIA Group, Mr. Karat, and his supervising agent, Mr. Papadimitropoulos, shall undertake all reasonable, efficacious, and affirmative steps to preserve and secure all confidential and proprietary information pertaining to the Applicant, whether such information exists in tangible hard-copy form or as electronic data, pending the final and conclusive disposition of the within proceeding (constituting an Interim, Interlocutory, and Permanent Injunction).

2.1.2 MANDATORY DELIVERY UP: AN ORDER compelling the immediate and unreserved delivery up of the Applicant's property that was subjected to the unauthorized appropriation (the "TDI Karat Theft") on October 25, 2024, and subsequently utilized and/or disclosed, with such property to be restored to the Applicant within three (3) days of the formal pronouncement of this Order.

2.2 NUNC PRO TUNC AND CONVERSION DECREES

2.2.1 RETROACTIVE EFFECT: AN ORDER decreeing that all Orders herein contained shall be granted nunc pro tunc where such retroactive application is applicable.

2.2.2 CONVERSION *AD JUDICIUM: AN ORDER converting the within motion, due to the demonstrated and inexplicable lack of responsive material forthcoming from the Respondents, together with the allegation of fraud manifest on its face, ad judicium, into a Motion for Final Judgment and to be heard on writing. A further Order, pre-emptive in nature, that any filings by the Respondent Insurance Companies and/or the LAT are declared void ab initio and not accepted for filing until the Respondent Insurance Companies and LAT have obtained separate orders to file their NOA's and further file material on the application in accordance with, inter alia, Rule 38.07(2)(c). A further Order, pre-emptive and on a nunc pro tunc basis, that the Divisional Court (court staff) are mandated, directed and ordered to not provide any notice of steps to the Respondent Insurance Companies and LAT, and only provide notice to the AGO in relation to the hearing of the constitutional and Charter issues.

2.2.3 FURTHER ORDER REGARDING APPLICANT'S REQUIREMENT: A Declaration and Order that but for the notice that the Applicant provided herein in relation to NOM #3, the Applicant is permitted to not further file or serve the Respondent Insurance Companies and LAT with any further filings or otherwise;

2.3 LEAVE FOR SUPPLEMENTARY SUBMISSIONS

2.3.1 LEAVE TO FILE: AN ORDER granting leave to the Applicant to file further submissions and supplementary evidence, the quantum of which shall be restricted to a predetermined number of pages, PRIOR to the judicial adjudication of the outstanding and herein Orders, contingent upon the Applicant's receipt of the documents, records, evidence, and things sought through the production mandates herein established and/or through his multitude of PIPEDA requests and OPCC complaints along with FIPPA requests and OIPC Appeals;

2.3.2 RULE 38.11 EXPEDITED HEARING: AN ORDER pursuant to Rule 38.11 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, establishing the Rule 38.11 Order, which confirms the Applicant's entitlement to have the relief seeking to set aside the Justice Shore Steps heard upon the tendering of three (3) days' notice, subsequent to any purported judgment or Order coming to the Applicant's immediate and actual attention.

3. DECLARATIONS REGARDING PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

3.1 DECLARATIONS CONCERNING JURISDICTION AND FILING IMPERATIVES

3.1.1 NON-SERVICE OF NOA (LAT): A DECLARATION that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) failed to effect requisite "service" of its Notice of Appearance (NOA) dated November 27, 2024.

3.1.2 FAILURE TO DELIVER NOA: A DECLARATION that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies failed to forthwith "deliver" their respective Notices of Appearances immediately subsequent to being served with the Applicant's JRPA Application.

3.1.3 ABSENCE OF NOA DELIVERY A DECLARATION that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies are in an absolute state of non-compliance with the imperative to "deliver" their Notices of Appearances and have not taken any steps to rectify the same by seeking an order of this Honourable Divisional Court to "file" a First Defence and "deliver" their Notices of Appearances;

3.1.4 ABSENCE OF "FILING" OF A FIRST DEFENCE: A DECLARATION that none of the Respondents, as of December 3, 2024, or at any subsequent date, had filed a "First Defence" as defined and mandated by Rule 77 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

3.1.5 BREACH OF RULE 38.07(1): A DECLARATION that a palpable breach of Rule 38.07(1) of the Rules of Civil Procedure was occasioned by the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies.

3.1.6 BREACH OF RULE 38.07(2): A DECLARATION that a breach of Rule 38.07(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure occurred in consequence of the Divisional Court providing notification of steps or documents to the LAT, Respondent Insurance Companies, and the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) due to the Respondents' abject failure to deliver Notices of Appearances.

3.1.7 VOID AB INITIO SUBMISSIONS: A DECLARATION that any purported filings, whether de facto or de jure, submitted by the LAT or the Respondent Insurance Companies post-November 27 or December 3, 2024, are rendered void ab initio and are subject to the vitiating effect of insufficient notice rules stipulated under the Rules of Civil Procedure, and are heard, even notionally, on three days notice.

3.2 DECLARATIONS PERTAINING TO CASE MANAGEMENT AND PRIOR JUDICIAL STEPS

3.2.1 INVALID CASE CONFERENCE REQUEST: A DECLARATION AND ORDER that, as a direct and immediate consequence of the Respondents' demonstrable failure to file a "First Defence" by December 3, 2024, the LAT's request for a case conference was directly contrary to Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, and the JRPA Proceeding could not have been legitimately and lawfully "Assigned for Case Management."

3.2.2 ULTRA VIRES* ASSIGNMENT: A DECLARATION AND ORDER that Madam Justice Shore was jurisdictionally estopped from assigning the JRPA Proceeding for case management pursuant to Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, and, a fortiori, from assigning the JRPA Proceeding to herself, pursuant to, inter alia, Rule 77.06 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, for case management.

3.2.3 NULLIFICATION OF STEPS TAKEN: AN ORDER that, as a direct ramification of the preceding declaration, all steps taken by Madam Justice Shore were rendered a nullity and are void ab initio.

3.2.4 LAT REQUEST VOID: A DECLARATION that the request by the LAT on December 3, 2024, for the JRPA Proceeding to be assigned for case management was void ab initio.

3.2.5 JUDICIAL CONSIDERATION VOID A DECLARATION that the judicial consideration by the case management judge of the Divisional Court of a request, by the LAT for assignment for case management pursuant to Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, and the subsequent assignment of the case to herself and/or himself, is void ab initio.

3.3 DECLARATIONS REGARDING ELECTRONIC FILING ACCESS (CASE CENTER)

3.3.1 ENTITLEMENT TO ACCESS: A DECLARATION that the Applicant was entitled to an invitation to the Divisional Court Case Center electronic platform immediately upon the formal commencement of this Judicial Review (JRPA) Proceeding on or around November 15, 2024, pursuant to the binding administrative directives and guidelines established in the Divisional Court JRPA Guide.

3.3.2 CONSISTENCY WITH RULES: A DECLARATION that the portion of the Divisional Court JRPA Guide relating to the provision of an invitation to Case Center upon the commencement of a JRPA application is not inconsistent with the Rules of Civil Procedure.

3.3.3 MISLEADING OF APPLICANT: A DECLARATION that court staff, being employees of the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), actively misled the Applicant concerning his entitlement relating to the timing and/or prerequisites for a self-represented litigant to receive access to Case Center, thereby occasioning a breach of their administrative duty (vide: correspondence between the Applicant and Ms. Lawrence of the Divisional Court in December 2024).

3.3.4 UNAUTHORIZED WITHHOLDING OF ACCESS: A DECLARATION that court staff are not entitled to withhold access to Case Center and then unilaterally assert that copies of filed materials will be provided to a judge or judges without the express consent of the Applicant.

3.3.5 UNLAWFUL EX PARTE CONFERENCE: A DECLARATION that any conference conducted without the Applicant possessing full electronic access and formal notification is hereby deemed an unlawful ex parte event, constituting an irremediable violation of the fundamental principles of natural justice and procedural fairness.

3.3.6 PREJUDICIAL CHARACTERIZATION: A DECLARATION that the Applicant was precluded from his invitation to Case Center, either in part or in whole, because he was unjustly and unfairly brandished as a criminal litigant before the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) when this matter was and remains strictly a civil proceeding, thus contravening the most basic principles of procedural fairness and the status quo ante.

3.4 DECLARATIONS REGARDING MOTIONS HEARING PREREQUISITES

3.4.1 ENTITLEMENT TO HEARING *IN LIMINE: A DECLARATION that the Applicant was entitled to have his Notice of Motion #1 and Notice of Motion #2 heard and judicially determined, without the imposition of the pre-condition of an invitation to Case Center, pursuant to his filed requisitions submitted in strict accordance with Rule 38.

3.4.2 SUBVERSION OF RULES: A DECLARATION that the imposition of an unauthorized prerequisite (electronic Case Center access) necessary to hear a pending motion constitutes a subversion of the Rules and the equitable mandate of the Court, thereby frustrating the Applicant's recourse to judicial remedies and necessitating a finding of ultra vires as to the administrative action.

3.5 DECLARATIONS REGARDING RECORD AND NOTICE (FORM 68(B))

3.5.1 STATUTORY DUTY TO FILE RECORD FORTHWITH: A DECLARATION that administrative tribunals, subsequent to the formal commencement and service of the JRPA Proceeding, are statutorily required to file the complete record of the proceeding forthwith and without undue or dilatory delay with the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court), pursuant to Section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act.

3.5.2 ENTITLEMENT TO *FORM 68(B): A DECLARATION that the Applicant, and all applicants in proceedings under the JRPA, were and are entitled to the issuance of a Form 68(B) notice immediately subsequent to the filing and requisite payment for the Certificate of Perfection, or, alternatively, at some point thereafter during the month that they have filed and paid for the "Certificate Of Perfection" and herein during the month December 2024.

3.6 DECLARATIONS REGARDING TRIBUNAL STATUS

3.6.1 NON-EQUIVALENCE OF TRIBUNALS: A DECLARATION that Tribunals Ontario is not legally equivalent to the LAT (Licence Appeal Tribunal).

4. DECLARATIONS OF LAW AND MISCONDUCT

4.1 DECLARATIONS OF MISCONDUCT (FRAUD, BRIBERY, AND OBSTRUCTION)

4.1.1 FRAUD UPON THE COURT A FRAUD DECLARATION: declaring that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies committed a demonstrable fraud upon the Court with specific and precise reference to the facts fully particularized in the Applicant's Affidavits, Factum, and evidence to be gleaned from the case conference transcripts, thereby tainting the entire acta of the proceeding.

4.1.2 ACT OF BRIBERY: A DECLARATION that the conduct involving Mr. Karat, an employee or contractor to the Respondent Insurance Companies, in the unauthorized appropriation of the Applicant's property on October 25, 2024, and subsequent related actions (including the purchase of new property and the utilization of a fictitious name by Ms. Julia Dunk) ascended to the level of a bribe or an act of bribery.

4.1.3 SPECIAL NULLITY *IPSO FACTO: A FURTHER DECLARATION AND ORDER that the aforementioned declared act of bribery has irreparably tainted the proceeding and rises to the level of a special nullity such that any and all steps, requirements, orders, decisions, or judgments prejudicial to the Applicant must be, ipso facto, set aside.

4.1.4 UNDISCLOSED JUDICIAL INVOLVEMENT: AN ORDER AND DECLARATION that Madam Justice Shore was involved in an undisclosed fashion in a prior judicial capacity with the Applicant with specific reference to the Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding.

4.1.5 EXTORTION AND OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE AN OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE DECLARATION, declaring the Respondent Insurance Companies committed the criminal offence of extortion and obstruction of justice, on a balance of probabilities, and the associated intentional torts, both prior to the origination of this JRPA Proceeding and throughout its subsequent bringing, commencement and advancement.

4.2 DECLARATION OF FRAUD SCOPE

4.2.1 SCOPE OF FRAUD UNDER *RULE 59.06: A DECLARATION that there is no prerequisite or requirement under Rule 59.06(2)(a) of the Rules of Civil Procedure that the fraud must be committed exclusively against an opposing party or solely by a party, and that it may be committed by any person so long as it had a material, demonstrable, and causative effect within the legal proceeding.

5. FINAL RELIEF, PRODUCTION, AND CONSEQUENTIAL ORDERS

5.1 ORDERS VACATING PRIOR JUDICIAL STEPS

5.1.1 NULLIFICATION *IN TOTO: AN ORDER setting aside, in toto and ab initio, all of the Justice Shore Steps pursuant to: i. The Declarations of Law supra (relating to the established bias and procedural breach); ii. Rule 38.11 of the Rules of Civil Procedure on account of insufficient or non-existent notice; and iii. Rule 59 of the Rules of Civil Procedure on the grounds of fraud and miscarriage of justice, as the underlying judicial steps were irrevocably and fundamentally tainted by misconduct and conflict.

5.1.2 IMPERMISSIBLE DELEGATION: AN ORDER that Justice Shore's consideration of the LAT's void ab initio request for assignment for case management and the subsequent assignment of the JRPA Proceeding to herself was an impermissible delegation of authority, and/or was directly contrary to Rule 77 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

5.2 ORDERS FOR INSTITUTIONAL AND THIRD-PARTY PRODUCTION OF RECORDS

5.2.1 JUDICIAL COMPULSION AND DISCLOSURE (JUSTICE SHORE): AN ORDER compelling Madam Justice Shore to provide an affidavit confirming or denying her prior judicial involvement with the Applicant within three (3) days of this Order, said affidavit to be provided to the Applicant and the Respondents (Non-Appearing Respondents) and the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO).

5.2.2 LAT PRODUCTION MANDATES: AN ORDER that the LAT produce copies of the Undisclosed Motion Orders of July 24, 2024, and August 16, 2024, which are made without reference to any motion of the Applicant or the Respondents.

5.2.3 SUPERIOR COURT PRODUCTION MANDATES: AN ORDER that the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) or the Court of Appeal for Ontario (ONCA) shall produce copies of any and all informations and indictments received involving the Applicant, including any associated or supporting documents or records (nota bene: a Form 4 Criminal Code must be filed electronically via email as per the Criminal Proceeding Rules of the SCJ (Ontario)).

5.2.4 POLICE PRODUCTION MANDATES: AN ORDER that the Toronto Police Service (TPS) produce any documents and records involving TPS Occurrence Numbers of Sunday September 15, 2024, and Sunday, September 22, 2024, and Police Case ID: 457197, including but not limited to any complaints made by any of the Respondents or their agents (actual or purported).

5.2.5 MAG/SOLGEN PRODUCTION MANDATES: AN ORDER that any relevant ministry of the Ontario Government, with particular reference to the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG) and the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLGEN), shall produce to the Parties (aside from itself with respect to the MAG) copies of any draft or signed Criminal Code Form 4 Indictments and/or any other documents relating to the Applicant.

5.2.6 DIVISIONAL COURT INTERNAL RECORDS: AN ORDER commanding the immediate production to the parties of the name of the Local Administrative Judge of the Divisional Court during the critical operational period spanning from December 2024 to January 2025 (the "LAJ Name Order") (if one was designated).

5.2.7 REQUISITIONED DOCUMENTATION: AN ORDER that the Registrar of the Divisional Court shall provide certified copies of all documentation and materials specifically requested by the Applicant in Requisition #8 and subsequent related requisitions, without equivocation, demurral, or administrative impedance.

5.2.8 RESIDUAL PRODUCTION MANDATE: AN ORDER that all Respondents and persons formally notified of this NOM #3 shall produce all documents, things, papers, records, or communications that are demonstrably relevant to this NOM #3, irrespective of the physical or electronic situs of their storage or custody.

5.3 CONSEQUENTIAL AND FINAL JUDGMENT DECREES

5.3.1 SPECIAL NULLITY *DE NOVO: A DECLARATION AND ORDER that as a direct and immediate consequence of the Fraud Declaration and the irreparable taint of Bribery, the within Judicial Review Procedure Act Proceeding is deemed to be a special nullity (ab initio) vis-à-vis the prior steps taken, and shall proceed de novo from the point of initial application filing, requiring no further procedural steps to perfect the matter for the final hearing of the Judicial Review on its merits.

5.3.2 FINAL JUDGMENT ENTITLEMENT: AN ORDER decreeing with conclusive finality that the Applicant is entitled to Judgment in accordance with the comprehensive relief sought in his JRPA Application, Factum, and as further particularized and referenced in the Oral Compendium with "Outline."

5.3.3 NOM #2 GRANTED: AN ORDER granting, in its entirety, the comprehensive and unreserved relief sought in the Applicant's Notice of Motion #2 ("NOM #2").

5.3.4 STRIKING OF NOA: AN ORDER striking the Notices of Appearances purportedly filed by the Respondents.

5.3.5 PREFERENTIAL SCHEDULING: AN ORDER that the Registrar shall forthwith set the Judicial Review Application down for hearing on the earliest available preferential date, thereby abridging any standard notice or scheduling periods otherwise required by the Rules of Civil Procedure or Practice Directions, on account of the demonstrated systemic misconduct and judicial conflict.

5.4 MANDATORY REFERRAL, PROTECTIVE, AND REMEDIAL ORDERS (FLOWING FROM FRAUD/BRIBERY)

5.4.1 MANDATE TO TRANSMIT EVIDENCE: AN ORDER mandating that the Registrar of the Divisional Court shall immediately transmit the entirety of the Applicant's evidence, including all Affidavits, Factums, and the within Orders, to the Law Society of Ontario (LSO), the Attorney General of Canada (for potential criminal investigation), and the Law Enforcement Agency of the Applicant's choice, for investigation into the declared acts of Fraud, Bribery, Obstruction of Justice, and professional misconduct.

5.4.2 PROTECTIVE EXPUNGEMENT: AN ORDER that all records of the JRPA Proceeding, including but not limited to those documents purportedly served but never legally "filed" or "delivered" according to the Rules, being irrevocably tainted by fraud and bribery, shall be sealed and/or administratively expunged from all publicly accessible databases (including CanLII, court databases, and Case Center) to prevent the dissemination of records arising from a special nullity (the "Protective Expungement Order" and "Open Court Principle Regularization Order").

5.4.3 IMMEDIATE REIMBURSEMENT: AN ORDER mandating the immediate reimbursement of any and all filing fees, disbursement costs, and other expenses directly and necessarily incurred by the Applicant in responding to or attempting to set aside the steps tainted by the declared Fraud and Bribery.

5.5 CHARTER AND COSTS ORDERS

5.5.1 CHARTER DETERMINATION: AN ORDER that the determination of the said Charter relief shall proceed via written argument or oral hearing, to be finally adjudicated and decided by the presiding Divisional Court Judge within thirty (30) days of the date of this Order.

5.5.2 FULL INDEMNITY COSTS: AN ORDER awarding Costs against any and all Respondents that oppose or do not consent to the relief herein sought, such costs to be assessed on a full indemnity basis due to the egregious and indefensible nature of the underlying misconduct and the manifest necessity of this extraordinary procedural intervention.

5.5.3 NOM #1 COSTS: AN ORDER granting costs on a substantial-indemnity basis for the Applicant's Notice of Motion #1 ("NOM #1"), along with the indemnification of his motion filing fee for NOM #1.

AND an Order that the Applicant may submit any draft order to the Divisional Court for immediate signature and entry, and it is effective from the date of pronouncement including all relief in relation to NOM #2;

AND SUCH FURTHER AND OTHER RELIEF as may be deemed just and equitable by this Honourable Court.

THIS COURT DOTH ORDER THAT the Applicant is entitled to seek subsequent directions regarding the implementation or interpretation of any of the provisions contained herein.

AFFIDAVIT OF SERVICE

ONTARIO SUPERIOR COURT OF JUSTICE
(DIVISIONAL COURT)

BETWEEN:

KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN

APPLICANT

- and -

TD HOME AND AUTO INSURANCE COMPANY, SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY, TD GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

RESPONDENTS

I, KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN, of the City of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, GENTLEMAN Applicant, Party and LITIGANT, MAKE OATH AND SAY:

1. I am, de facto and de jure , the Applicant in the within judicial review proceeding, and, consequently, I possess an intimate and comprehensive knowledge of the facts and circumstances hereinafter deposed; I am thus endowed with the requisite authority to proffer this solemn testimonial instrument. The statements herein articulated are predicated entirely upon my direct, immediate, and continuous engagement in the processes of documentation, preparation, and formal service.
2. I adopt the definitions from the documents contained in the index to my NOM #3 motion record (the "Motion Record").

Doc ID: 8b960b234a8f0e2f0a969b3a1cb577119ccaf25d

VOLUME #1: SERVICE ON THE RESPONDENTS (BUT NOT "PARTIES" AND WITHOUT LAWYERS OF RECORD)

3. I effectuated service of the requisite judicial documentation upon the aforementioned Respondents and the named persons in Exhibit "A", Tabs 2 to 5 (collectively defined as the "Non-Respondents").

4. Specifically, on the 20th day of November, 2025, I caused the following comprehensive evidentiary corpus (see: Tab 3 and 4 of the Motion Record for my NOM #3) to be transmitted forthwith to the designated legal representatives and institutional entities for the Respondents. By referencing "designated legal representatives", I do not accept or admit that those lawyer licensees are "lawyers of record" as defined under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

VOLUME #2: DATES OF SERVICE AND UPON WHOM IN RELATION TO RESPONDENTS AND NON-RESPONDENTS

5. I executed the aforementioned service via electronic mail transmission, which is a method canonically sanctioned and acknowledged for the expeditious conveyance of critical process, directing the instruments to the prescribed email addresses of all represented by email, counsel to the Respondents, in the following:

    a. Mr. Boyce at jesse.boyce@ontario.ca for the LAT;

    b. Mr. Nieuwland at matthew.nieuwland@tdinsurance.com for the Respondent Insurance Companies:

        i. TDHA;

        ii. SNIC; and

        iii. TDGIC;

    c. Ms. Im for the AGO at Judie.im@ontario.ca; and

    d. The AGC at the email address of NCQ-AQC.Toronto@justice.gc.ca;

6. I served Ms. Dunk, Mr. Karat and the Epstein Cole LLP Client at:

    a. Ms. Julia Dunk at jdunk@himprolaw.com;

    b. Mr. David Karat at david.karat@tdinsurance.com;

Doc ID: 8b960b234a8f0e2f0a969b3a1cb577119ccaf25d

c. Mr. Papadimitropoulos at andrew.papadimitropoulos@td.com and andrew.papadimitropoulos@tdinsurance.com;

7. I served the TPS by way of its chief legal officer and its legal department at the following:
    a. Falguni.Debnath@tps.ca; and
    b. Legal.Services@torontopolice.on.ca
8. I served the Ministry of Solicitor General and the SOLGEN et al at the following emails:
    a. SOLGEN.Correspondence@ontario.ca;
    b. michael.kerzner@pc.ola.org
    c. Minister.SOLGEN@ontario.ca;
    d. nicolas.dimarco@ontario.ca;
    e. christopher.johns@ontario.ca;
    f. joe.dipietro@ontario.ca; and
    g. jenna.fullerton@ontario.ca.
9. I served Mr. Sinnadurai counsel to Madam Justice Shore, on November 20, 2025, at the email that he has utilized in representing Madam Justice Shore in the Superior Court of Justice and the email that he provided to me in the Summer of 2025 when I was seeking access to copies of information, information assets, documents, papers, files, and records in the custody and/or control of the various courts involved in the False Information Package including but not limited to the criminal proceeding documents, electronically filed, as required, with the relevant and pertinent court level and the originating courthouse as it relates to the issuing, giving and/or making of the "signed arrest warrant".
10. In this present jurisdictional instance, I do hereby unequivocally and expressly adopt and reaffirm the entire substantive and procedural content of my prior "Statutory Declarations" (see: Tabs #3 and #4). This comprehensive adoption includes, but is not limited to, every specific factual assertion, every derived legal extrapolation, and the totality of the documentary exhibits appended thereto. These antecedent instruments, namely the Statutory Declarations dated October 13, 2025, and November 14, 2025, are not merely referenced within this document, but are, by this present solemn swearing, seamlessly incorporated by reference, acquiring the identical force and judicial effect as if they were fully reproduced ad seriatim herein.

11. It is my considered submission that this integrated evidentiary matrix, comprising the declarations in toto and their accompanying exhibits, establishes my prima facie entitlement to the judicial remedies sought. This body of evidence renders my ultimate conclusions self-evident and thereby necessitates an immediate and comprehensive judicial contemplation of the substantive issues presented.

VOLUME #3: EXHIBIT "A": TABS 1 TO 5 (PAGES 1 TO 35)

12. I swear that the following exhibits are attached to this Affidavit and are comprised of the following documentation:

    a. Exhibitum A, Tab 1: Jurisdictional and Foundational Service Documents:

        i. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A," commencing at page 1 and concluding at page 7, is a true and accurate copy of the electronic mail transmissions, inclusive of all attachments thereto, involving the formal service of process upon the Respondents, alongside the simultaneous provision of a courtesy copy to the Registrar of the Divisional Court.

            1. This Exhibit "A", Tab 1 serves as irrefutable documentation of my diligent discharge of procedural duty concerning notice despite the absence of any filed documents by the Respondents including but not limited to:

                a. LAT;

                b. Respondent Insurance Companies; and

                c. AGO.

    b. Exhibitum "A", Tab 2: Service of Declarations and Motion Record upon Designated Counsel

        i. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "B," Tab 2, commencing at page 8 and concluding at page 20, is a comprehensive copy of electronic mail exchanges and their attendant attachments regarding the formal service of my Statutory Declarations and the complete Motion Record (NOM #3) upon Ms. Julia Dunk, Mr. David Karat, and the representative for the Epstein Cole LLP Client.

Doc ID: 8b960b234a8f0e2f0a969b3a1cb577119ccaf25d

1. This section constitutes the acta confirming service upon these specified individuals involved in, inter alia, the TDI Karat Theft at 1025 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario, at approximately 1:11 p.m. on October 25, 2024, with Mr. Karat wearing a hat with a Keffiyeh scarf, and the subsequent impersonation of myself by the Epstein Cole LLP Client on the following dates:
    a. Monday, October 28, 2024 (Fort York TPL library branch including the TPS Fraudulent Equipment Borrowing Agreement);
    b. Friday, November 8, 2024 (the day after I served the AGO and AGC with the NOCQ in the HRTO Proceeding);
    c. November 11, 2024;
    d. December 13, 2024;
    e. December 21, 2024; and
    f. December 28, 2024.

c. Exhibitum "A", Tab 3: Service of Motion Record upon Toronto Police Services Board (TPS)

i. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A", Tab 3 commencing at page 21 and concluding at page 26, is conclusive documentation of the service of the NOM #3 Motion Record, executed on Thursday, November 20, 2025, upon the Toronto Police Services Board ("TPS"), specifically directed to the Chief Legal Officer, Ms. Falguni Debnath, and the Legal Services Department.

1. This Exhibit "A", Tab 3 embodies the formal notice provided to this institutional entity relating to the relief sought against it;

d. Exhibitum "A", Tab 4: Service of Motion Record upon Ministry of the Solicitor General (MSG):

i. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A", Tab 4 commencing at page 27 and concluding at page 31, is irrefutable evidence of the service of the NOM #3 Motion Record, executed on Thursday, November 20, 2025, upon the Ministry of the Solicitor General ("MSG"), including specific direction to the Honourable Solicitor General, Mr. Michael Kerzner (the "SOLGEN"), and other associated officials within the Ministry.

Doc ID: 8b960b234a8f0e2f0a969b3a1cb577119ccaf25d

1. This documentation confirms the comprehensive delivery of process to this Ministry and its Minister regarding the relief sought against it and him (where applicable);

e. Exhibitum "A", Tab 5: Service of Motion Record upon Counsel to Madam Justice Shore

i. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A", Tab 5, commencing at page 32 and concluding at page 35, is irrefutable evidence of the service of the NOM #3 Motion Record, executed on Thursday, November 20, 2025, upon Mr. Sinnadurai, who acts as counsel to Madam Justice Shore;

1. This documentation confirms the comprehensive delivery of process to this counsel of record to Madam Justice Shore as per public records and my communications with Mr. Sinnadurai and his, inter alia, insistence that I only communicate with him in the Summer and Autumn of 2025 regarding my seeking access to various information,

13. I proffer this Affidavit for Service for multi-purposes purposes including but not limited to:

a. exclusive and specific purpose of establishing formal compliance with the procedural mandates regarding the transmission of documents, and to effectuate the conclusive integration of the antecedent evidentiary record into the prevailing juridical milieu of the matter sub judice.

14. The following assertions are presented for the express purpose of delineating my legal position with respect to the procedural status of the Respondents, absent being "parties" and having "lawyers of record", but with the proviso that the AGO is entitled to be "heard" at the hearing of the JRPA Application (see: section 9(4) of the JRPA) and the efficacy of service effected.

15. The, in my view, sophisticated legal arguments in my NOM #3, are foundational to my Motion In Limine (Motion Number 3) and are to be considered in conjunction with the facts sworn in the foregoing Affidavit, with express incorporation of the statutory declarations to the extent further formality is so required.

VOLUME #4: DISTINCTION BETWEEN "RESPONDENT" AND "RESPONDING PARTY"

16. I verily believe that a critical jurisdictional nuance must be observed concerning the definitive status of the various entities named in the style of cause. I rely upon the precise lexicon enshrined within the JRPA and Rules of Civil Procedure to maintain the position that none of the named Respondents have achieved the definitive procedural designation of "party" by virtue of their collective and continued omission to forthwith "deliver" a Notice of Appearance, or to "deliver" such an instrument at all.

17. I repeat and rely, with express adoption of my aforementioned statutory declarations, the uncontested and non-denied belief that none of the Respondents "filed" a "First Defence".

18. This distinction is further predicated upon the canonical definitions within the Rules:

    a. "respondent" means a person against whom an application is made or an appeal is brought, as the circumstances require; and

    b. "responding party" means a person against whom a motion is made.

19. I note that Respondent Insurance Companies are different "persons" at law and not "one and the same".

20. I note that the LAT is a distinct entity from "Tribunals Ontario" to the extent the latter could be construed as a "person".

21. I maintain that while the named entities are unequivocally Respondents (as they are the subjects against whom the Application for Judicial Review is made and some against the NOM #3 is made), their failure to "file" the requisite initiating document in the Divisional Court precludes their automatic acquisition of the procedural rights and obligations exclusively reserved for an active, participating Responding Party pursuant to, inter alia, Rule 38.07(2)(a) to (c), at this stage, of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

22. As of today's date, I have not received any motions from any of the Respondents seeking an order to receive any further document in the JRPA Application (see: Rule 38.07(2)(b).

23. I maintain in perpetuity my pre-emptive objection that any of the Respondents "file" any material (not merely "exchange" as Madam Justice Shore would have it or had it in the January 7, 2025, purported direction that was, in my view, more in the nature of a void ab initio compulsory attendance requirement before her at some time in the future predicated on conditions) on the JRPA Application (see: Rule 38.07(2)(c)).

24. I distinguish between the "Respondents" under Rule 38.07 of the Rules of Civil Procedure and the Non-Respondents in relation to responding to my NOM #3. Bluntly speaking, I welcome their served and filed documents evidencing their positions in relation to, inter alia, my stolen property, the undisclosed criminal proceeding document(s), the undisclosed "signed arrest warrant" (see: emails with Mr. Sinnadurai by way of his letters on June 25, 2025, and July 4, 2025) and any other records, documents et al relating to the preservation, production, and/or disclosure of the same.

25. I verily believe that a paramount consideration, one which engenders profound apprehension, pertains directly to the felonious expropriation of personal property—comprising the tangible assets and the digital infrastructure resident thereon—and the attendant, demonstrable implications of enduring fraudulent acta and calculated digital personation. This mala fides conduct is of such a pervasive and sustained character that the very sanctity of the digital identity has been jeopardized, thereby necessitating the immediate and decisive intervention of this Honourable Tribunal to preclude the perpetuation of this multifaceted delict.

26. It is formally deposed that the proprietary status in respect of the digital domain designated www.searchandseizure.ca has been maintained. The associated electronic mail repository was utilized with palpable vigour and in an actively managed fashion throughout the temporal period spanning 2021 through 2022, serving as a critical conduit for sensitive and privileged professional communications; however, the subsequent usage thereof was intentionally terminated in toto due to overriding considerations of confidentiality, predicated upon a specific antecedent agreement and a multiplicity of binding undertakings designed to shield proprietary interests and personal information from unauthorized disclosure. Notwithstanding this cessation of utilization, a notification was received during the current week, indicating that action had been successfully initiated by an unknown, unauthorized third party to sustain the operational viability of the contiguous Google account associated with the aforementioned domain, thereby countermanding its scheduled administrative termination—a course of action which is affirmatively confirmed was not undertaken or authorized by the affiant, constituting, prima facie, an act of wilful trespass into the digital infrastructure and a profound breach of the expectation of digital security.

Volume #4(A): Particulars of non-coincidental fraudulent conduct post material events involving myself

28. I verily believe and maintain the profound conviction that the juridical persons, or their designated managers, representatives, and/or agents, intrinsically linked to the felonious TDI Karat Theft, are the responsible parties for this unauthorized account reactivation. The singular viable logical inference, supported by the evidentiary acta, is that access to the requisite credentialling mechanisms, essential for such reactivation, was illicitly obtained from the stolen computing apparatus. Ipso facto, this Affidavit is proffered for a multiplicity of objectives, encompassing, inter alia, the substantiation of the interim, interlocutory, and permanent injunctive relief currently being sought, serving as a critical piece of newly discovered evidence supporting the narrative of ongoing, coordinated, in my view unlawful, digital espionage and harassment.
29. I verily believe that this egregious digital episode constitutes a calculated acta of systemic harassment and sophisticated fraud, perpetrated by the individuals who expropriated the property and who, by undeniable logical extrapolation, secured illicit access to the electronic mail repository and its associated credentialling mechanisms, the particulars of which were resident upon the stolen computing apparatus; moreover, the precise temporal convergence with the litigation timeline is demonstrable, manifestly intended to disrupt the focus and inject an element of profound digital insecurity into the affiant's affairs.

30. I verily believe that, prima facie, this demonstrative evidence provides substantial fortification for the extant allegations of pervasive fraud perpetrated by, at the minimum, the Respondent Insurance Companies, their delegates, representatives, et al. This continuous stream of misconduct suggests a systemic failure of supervision, or conversely, a calculated directive, that permits or encourages the utilization of illicitly obtained personal information to perpetuate ultra vires acts of digital personation. The inescapable conclusion is that the initial theft was merely the antecedent to an ongoing campaign of identity manipulation.
31. It is sworn that the perusal of the entirety of the said email did not occur until the day immediately succeeding its transmission. Consequent to this discovery, further comprehensive investigations into the disconcerting particulars of this digital intrusion were immediately initiated, or caused to be initiated. These investigations are currently dedicated to mapping the digital footprint of the unauthorized reactivation, thereby aiming to procure forensic corroboration that may definitively link this intrusion to the known actors or their associates, which would definitively establish the requisite mens rea for contempt proceedings.

Volume #4(B): Temporal Nexus and Pattern of Misconduct (a pattern of one business day or approximately post a filing or seeking of documents involving

32. Upon meticulous observation, I verily believe that a recurrent similarity is revealed with respect to the temporal periodicity of precisely one diurnal cycle immediately following the service of legal documentation upon the opposing parties. This synchronicity does not constitute a statistical anomaly but represents a discernible modus operandi wherein the substantive advancement of the legal claims acts as the immediate catalyst for a retaliatory, fraudulent acta. Such a pattern compels the juridical inference of a calculated design, executed with a clear intent to intimidate, distract, or otherwise impede the due course of justice.
33. This pattern, demonstrative of a retaliatory modus operandi, is illuminated by the comprehensive chronology of events hereinbelow, each instance reinforcing the syllogistic inference of targeted action:

a. September 19, 2024: Subsequent to the service of Affidavit #37, which furnished compelling evidentiary proof of the fraudulent signatures and the systematic falsification of documents by the Epstein Cole LLP Client on various instances, this substantial juridical submission was swiftly followed by an egregious administrative measure, ipso facto resulting in the effective denial of possessory rights and peaceful enjoyment, evidenced by the denial of physical ingress to the residential unit on the succeeding day;

b. October 25, 2024: The TDI Karat Theft—the profound and consequential theft of property, which contained the very digital keys currently being utilized—was perpetrated on the next business day subsequent to the service of the HRTO Application upon the Toronto Police Service (TPS) at 40 College Street, Toronto, Ontario, suggesting a clear attempt to disrupt the presentation of the case in limine;

c. October 25, 2024 (Following Business Day): Immediately subsequent to the aforementioned TDI Karat Theft and the formal, written request to the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH) for immediate institutional assistance and compliance with its duties under various legislative instruments, including the Occupiers Liability Act and Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), et al, the Epstein Cole LLP Client was engaged in a multiplicity of preparatory steps, including, but not limited to, the procurement of the TPS Fraud Equipment Loan Agreement (Laptop Service), thereby demonstrating a swift, coordinated, and resource-intensive response to the commission of the underlying theft;

d. November 7, 2024: On the day succeeding the service of the Notice of Constitutional Question (NOCQ) in the HRTO Proceeding upon the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO, via electronic medium) and the Attorney General of Canada (AGC, via physical hard copy), Mr. Karat or the Epstein Cole LLP Client engaged in the fraudulent reservation of an entry for the affiant at the Aga Khan Museum in North York, Toronto, Ontario, scheduled for November 9, 2024, an acta of clear in-personam harassment and digital personation;

e. November 9, 2024 (Following Business Day): Subsequent to the Saturday, November 9, 2024 date, and after the Toronto Public Library (TPL) was alerted to fraudulent activity involving the affiant's name and identification et al with the TPL library account (the prior fraud being unknown at that time), the Epstein Cole LLP Client engaged in the fraudulent borrowing of approximately twenty-four (24) distinct books, magazines, or periodicals from the TPL Queen Saulter Branch, constituting a significant, coordinated effort to misuse and compromise public institutional access;

f. December 13, 2024: On the precise date of the service and filing of the Certificate Of Perfection, a document of significant procedural import, the Epstein Cole LLP Client was observed to attend at the TPL Reference Library during the evening to initiate the unauthorized alteration of the telephone number associated with the TPL library account, accompanied by the ostensible changing of the name, by clear implication, to that of Ms. Valerie Oulette, thereby establishing a pattern of leveraging administrative processes to obfuscate digital misconduct;

g. December 21, 2024 (Saturday): Subsequent to various electronic mail transmissions tendered concerning the impermissibility, as a matter of common law jurisprudence, of the participation of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) in the JRPA Proceeding, further fraudulent activity was engaged involving the TPL library account at the TPL Fort York Branch, showcasing a persistence that transcends mere happenstance and enters the realm of calculated retaliation;

h. December 24, 2024 (Following Business Day/Saturday, December 28, 2024): One full business day after the filing of Requisition #1 and Requisition #2 on December 24, 2024, yet further fraudulent activity was detected involving the TPL library account, occurring at the TPL Fort York branch, thereby demonstrating the direct correlation between the filing of substantive motions and the immediate subsequent acts of digital personation;

i. June 19, 2025 (4:44 p.m.): The police caution from Police Officer Aaron Bourdages of the TPL 55th Division (the same jurisdictional location as the Epstein Cole LLP Client) was tendered by Mr. Papadimitropoulos on this precise date and time. Although no communication was exchanged with the Epstein Cole LLP Client on or immediately proximate to this time, the subsequent review of electronic mail archives observed the dispatch of the following communiqués within three days of the aforesaid caution: (a) An electronic mail dispatch to the SCJ Criminal and Family Court on June 17, 2025, directed to the attention of specified personnel and 393 University Avenue (SCJ), requesting access to the Criminal Code Form 4 or Form 2 and the signed arrest warrant; (b) A facsimile transmission to the SCJ Criminal Intake Division delivered on June 18, 2025; and (c) The receipt of the inaugural email from the Toronto Region CSD (MAG), which directed the affiant to Mr. Sinnadurai as the sole counsel. Correspondence was thereafter directed to the Toronto Region CSD (MAG) and Mr. Sinnadurai on June 18, 2024, at 4:38 p.m. I verily believe that this synchronicity of timing exhibits an exceptionally incongruous connection between the Respondent Insurance Companies, through their current or former managers or representatives, and the Executive Branch of Government, thereby establishing a troubling confluence of state and private actors seemingly aligned in their opposition to the legal advancement of the affiant.

34. My profound concern remains that not only is further digital ultra vires fraud ongoing as of the current week—in direct relation to the feloniously expropriated property, inclusive of identification and sensitive personal, personal health, and confidential information—but that such, in my view, egregious conduct shall persist unabated until the plenary relief being pursued is formally granted. The compromised personal health information and professional data constitute a vulnerability of the utmost severity, demanding immediate and rigorous judicial protection against ongoing misuse by the Respondent entities and their proxies.

35. I verily believe that such relief must entail that the Respondent Insurance Companies and the individuals so involved, in conjunction with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and potentially others associated with the MAG and the various courts including the SCJ and Divisional Court, which I squarely direct to Madam Justice Shore by her propensity to email all judges about Mr. McIntosh in McIntosh v. Shore et al along with the direct quotes attributed to her in the JRPA Proceeding and my requests for records, information and information assets in the UCP — whose administrative conduct has been called into serious question—are formally and perpetually restrained from any future misconduct under the penalty of contempt. I verily believe that this stringent measure, which must be ordered in limine, is an essential prerequisite to restoring the status quo ante with respect to digital and personal security and ensuring that the continued integrity of the judicial process remains unimpaired by these sophisticated acts of digital interference.

36. I verily believe that the observation of the, in my view, highly suspicious temporal nexus is reiterated: approximately twenty-four hours subsequent to the service of the NOM #3 and the Statutory Declaration of November 14, 2025, upon the Respondents, further fraud transpired involving an email workspace account that had neither been sought for reactivation nor desired for utilization. I verily believe that this latest acta of impersonation represents the conclusive element in a lengthy chain of circumstantial evidence, transforming the suspicion of coordinated fraud into an undeniable judicial certainty.

37. I verily believe that the proposition that the timing of these calculated, retaliatory acta is merely a matter of coincidence is not acceded to. The extrapolation of the aforementioned pattern, which invariably links successful legal submissions to an immediate, unauthorized countermeasure involving the stolen identity or property, renders the conclusion of intentionality self-evident and compels the immediate issuance of the requested injunctive orders by this Honourable Court.

VOLUME #5: STATUS (OR LACK THEREOF) OF THE LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL (LAT)

38. In relation to the Tribunal Respondent, the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), I reiterate and rely upon the prescriptive language of section 9(2) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA). This legislative provision delineates the specific, circumscribed role and participatory scope of a tribunal in a judicial review, which fundamentally differs from the robust, full participation accorded to a substantive litigant.

VOLUME #6: ABSENCE OF "LAWYER OF RECORD"

39. I assert that, consequent to the absence of filed Notices of Appearance from the Respondent Insurance Companies, their purported legal counsel do not currently hold the formal designation of a "lawyer of record" within this specific Judicial Review proceeding.

40. I observe the definition:

    a. "lawyer's office" means the office of the lawyer of record as set out in the last document filed by him or her.

41. As no proof has been tendered to me indicating that any representative of the Respondents (including counsel such as Mr. Boyce, Mr. Nieuwland, and/or Ms. Im) has definitively filed a document—which would include a "First Defence" or, indeed, any "last document"—in this JRPA proceeding, the status quo ante remains that there are, pro hac vice, no lawyers of record.

VOLUME #7: ABSENCE OF ANY ABILITY TO EXCHANGE DOCUMENTS THROUGH AN EDX

42. I note that the Rules of Civil Procedure explicitly authorize service upon parties in compliance with the Ontario's regime for electronic document exchange (EDX), which, under certain circumstances, permits service without an Affidavit of Service due to the automatic generation of email notifications and the instant documentation of receipt, time, and date. While I have, ex abundante cautela, generated the foregoing Affidavit, the method of service via confirmed electronic transmission aligns with the procedural efficiencies inherent in the EDX framework. This reliance on verifiable electronic conveyance underscores the efficacy and incontrovertible nature of the service executed, confirming, beyond peradventure, the temporal and technical transmission of the complete Motion Record upon all mandated Respondents, irrespective of their formal designation as a full "Responding Party."

VOLUME #8: CONCLUSION

43. In light of the new evidence learned of this week and now deposed, I will continue to seek the relief I am seeking and any relief of abridgements of time and granting of orders nunc pro tunc.

Subject I: Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR, Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court)

Subject II: Formal Service of Applicant's Motion Record (NOM #3) in the Matter of McLean v. TD Home and Auto Insurance Company, et al.

I. Introduction to Correspondence and Adopted Definitions

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your judicious time and earnest consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (either by reference or inclusion). I profoundly appreciate your finite yet valuable resources, which is why immense time has been expended to thoroughly research the pertinent legal issues herein and effectuate their precise application to the factual matrix.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence in this matter.

II. Formal Service of Motion Record and Procedural Necessity

Pursuant to the relevant Rules of Civil Procedure, including, inter alia, Rule 37.10(2), formal notice is hereby conveyed regarding the instant service of the Applicant's Motion Record in this jurisdictional proceeding. Due to the voluminous nature of the documentation comprising the complete record—the Motion Record ("The Record") has been necessarily bifurcated into two distinct, yet cohesive, parts.

The Record includes, by way of example and not exclusion, the Factum of the Applicant (dated November 18, 2025) and the Statutory Declaration of the Applicant (dated October 13, 2025), among other essential acta. The complete Motion Record is attached hereto and cited as follows:

1. Attachment A: "Motion Record - NOM #3 - Part I"
2. Attachment B: "Motion Record - NOM #3 - Part II"

III. Prior Omissions to Respond to my Demands and Consequent Service

It is herewith reiterated and confirmed that The Record has been served only subsequent to the demonstrable and conspicuous lack of response to the antecedent procedural steps. Specifically, you were previously served with the Motion Form and accompanying Declarations on the respective dates of October 13, 2025, and November 14, 2025.

The omission of any substantive reply to the aforesaid correspondence and documentation evinces an absence of engagement that has consequently precipitated the mandatory service of the current Motion Record. The present procedural step is thus not gratuitous but is instead necessitated by the status quo ante established by the Respondents' previous inaction.

IV. Continuance of Demands and Legal Imputability

It is imperative that the enduring and complete validity of all prior demands, claims, and allegations contained within the antecedent correspondence and the appended Motion Record be explicitly confirmed. All such demands remain extant ("currently in existence") and fully operative.

Furthermore, attention is specifically drawn to the immutable legal maxim: ignorantia juris non excusat ("ignorance of the law does not excuse"). Consequently, the absence of engagement or response cannot be subsequently defended or excused by any alleged lack of knowledge concerning the procedural or substantive obligations imposed by the Rules of Civil Procedure, the Courts of Justice Act, or the established jurisprudence of this Province. The Respondents are deemed to possess a constructive, if not actual, cognizance of the entire legal framework governing this proceeding.

V. Relief Sought and Mandate for Responsive Documentation

It remains the Applicant's resolute intention to seek the relief outlined in the appended Motion Record accordingly. Consequently, should you deem it appropriate or necessary to file any responsive documentation pertaining to this motion, it is a formal requirement that you serve the Applicant with the same file, simultaneously providing proof of service evidencing compliance with this mandate.

A failure to serve the Applicant with any documentation in relation to this motion shall not only constitute a procedural default but will also compel the Applicant to duly notify both the Divisional Court and the named Respondents of such an absolute omission. This notification shall be effectuated so that the presiding justice may proceed with the adjudication of the motion on a prima facie basis, considering only the acta tendered by the Applicant.

Part 1 is enclosed and Part 2 will follow.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT II: DC-24-00000718-00JR: McLean v. TDHA et al — Precipitating Dereliction and Remediation Mandate in Locus Poenitentiae Pertaining to Feloniously Expropriated Assets, Fraudulent Misrepresentation, Extortionate Duress, and Subornation of Bribery
(The "Correspondence Subjects")

Statement of Purpose and Adopted Lexicon

Reference is hereby formally effectuated with respect to the aforementioned Correspondence Subjects of this instrument. Gratitude is herewith extended for the forthcoming consideration of this communication and its ancillary documentation (by reference or inclusion) ("Documentary Enclosures"). Appreciation is evinced for the necessity of respecting finite yet valuable resources; consequently, a substantial temporal commitment has been dedicated to the comprehensive legal research and the subsequent application of salient legal principles to the operative facts herein. All previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence shall serve as the source for the adoption of established definitions ("Prior Definitions").

This instrument constitutes the unequivocal and requisite formal confirmation that the service of Notice of Motion #3 ("NOM #3"), a substantial procedural implement demanding judicial intervention, has been successfully executed upon the recipients. This extraordinary recourse was regrettably rendered necessary by the manifest and continuing dereliction of duty, specifically evidenced by the failure to effectuate the Restitution of Proprietary Assets by Mr. Karat on the stipulated date of October 25, 2024 ("Procedural Default").

The aforementioned Procedural Default is inextricably linked with a concomitant series of flagrant malfeasance, encompassing, inter alia, fraudulent misrepresentation, egregious extortionate duress, and a calculated subornation of bribery. These actions are considered a profound contravention of both the established precepts of the common law of torts and the relevant provisions of the Criminal Code (the "Code"). As a point of objective legal exposition, the established jurisprudence dictates a stringent precedent concerning the timely and unimpeachable obligation for the Restitution of Proprietary Assets following an advancement of a claim of misappropriation, a fundamental principle which appears to have been cavalierly disregarded.

It is asserted, through the deployment of advanced syllogisms and rigorous extrapolations of extant legal principles, that the composite effect of the Procedural Default amalgamated with the antecedent malfeasance renders the current posture of the Respondent untenable, thereby leading to a conclusion of self-evident liability upon dispassionate consideration.

Jurisdictional Preconditions for Abatement of Proceedings and Locus Poenitentiae

The Applicant's position is maintained in a formal and composed manner, remaining resolutely focused upon the resolution of this matter, guided exclusively by the imperative to ensure mandated compliance with the established canons of law.

In the event that an intention to comply forthwith with the peremptory exigencies of the governing statutes is held by the counter-party, specifically the immediate and complete Restitution of Proprietary Assets, the doctrine of locus poenitentiae (opportunity for repentance) remains, for a delimited temporal period, theoretically accessible. The provision of such immediate and unimpeachable compliance would permit the filing of a Notice of Compliance with the Divisional Court by the Applicant, thereby obviating the necessity for the full spectrum of relief sought in NOM #3 to proceed to adjudication.

In the absence of this immediate and tangible remediation, the Divisional Court will necessarily be fully apprised of the Procedural Default and its nexus to the embedded acts of fraud, extortion, and subornation of bribery, which is rendered cogent and robust by the very essence of the Documentary Enclosures appended to the original service of NOM #3.

Govern yourselves accordingly.

Respectfully and with appreciation for the due process of law,

I. PEREMPTORY STIPULATION AND REQUISITE AFFIRMATIVE CONFIRMATION

Dear Sirs, Mesdames, or Other Addressees Represented by Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This formal communication is tendered with a singular, exigent, and unambiguous objective: to provide a final locus poenitentiae (opportunity for repentance or change of mind) for the rectification of egregious malfeasance directly antecedent to the procurement and subsequent retention of property—chattels or otherwise—which stands demonstrably predicated upon manifest fraudulent conduct. Pursuant to this imperative, you are hereby afforded a final, non-negotiable terminus, namely the end of business day today, November 14, 2025, to issue an unequivocal, affirmative stipulation confirming your definitive intent to effect the reversion and restitution of the aforementioned property.

This concession, in the form of a final private pre-litigation opportunity, emanates solely from the Applicant's preference for an efficient and expedited resolution that obviates the necessity for further protracted judicial intervention, a preference which should under no circumstances be misconstrued as an attenuation or diminution of the gravamen of the underlying claims. The fraudulent paradigm upon which the proprietary deprivation was meticulously conceived and executed demands nothing less than the immediate status quo ante restoration, thereby necessitating an immediate and voluntary cessation of the ongoing tortious and potentially criminal maintenance of control over assets belonging rightfully and exclusively to the Applicant.

Dereliction in providing this requisite affirmative stipulation prior to the peremptory terminus shall be construed, per se, as an irrevocable declination, serving as a conclusive waiver of any future consideration for amicable settlement. Such refusal will thereby compel and necessitate the immediate and comprehensive exercise of all extant legal rights and remedies available to the Applicant, both in civil jurisprudence—including but not limited to equitable remedies such as constructive trust, restitutionary relief, and the process of tracing of proprietary assets—and potentially engaging the full purview of the Criminal Code jurisdiction. Should an affirmative stipulation be punctually received, thereby evidencing a belated but commendable recognition of your remedial or fiduciary obligation, the Applicant shall, forthwith, transmit a separate missive specifying end of day deadline and the precise designated location for the coordinated collection and pickup of the property, ensuring the expeditious and unencumbered conclusion of this protracted proprietary dispute.

II. ENCLOSED EVIDENTIARY DOCUMENTATION FOR NOM #3

This section confirms the formal enclosure of evidentiary materials intended for the impending Notice of Motion #3 (NOM #3) within the matter identified by Divisional Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR. Enclosed herewith, and integrated by reference into the corpus of this communication for the purpose of affording you full and timely notice pursuant to the dictates of the Rules of Civil Procedure, are the two (2) comprehensive Statutory Declarations executed by the Applicant, Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean, dated October 13, 2025 and November 14, 2025. These instruments are specifically designated for immediate inclusion and formal consideration within NOM #3, which shall be filed with the Honourable Divisional Court instanter upon the expiration of the present deadline without satisfactory compliance, consistent with the procedural requirements of Rule 37. The Declarations themselves carry significant evidentiary weight, constituting formal attestations of fact which, if necessary, are readily convertible into a formal affidavit sworn pursuant to the Evidence Act (Ontario), and will serve as the evidentiary foundation for the relief sought.

As will be manifestly apparent from the aforementioned Declarations—the contents of which may be subsequently formalized into a sworn affidavit, si necessitate est (if it is necessary)—the conduct of Mr. Papadimitropoulos is therein meticulously delineated, encompassing serious allegations of public mischief and further fraudulent activity pertaining to interactions with the Toronto Police Service's 55 Division (specifically referencing Police Officer Bourdages). This alarming confluence of civil and potentially criminal allegations illuminates the profound gravity of the malfeasance and establishes a clear, premeditated pattern of calculated deception intended to manipulate legal and law enforcement processes. While the Applicant's principal focus remains fixed upon the expedited resolution of the civil action, strictly adhering to the fundamental legal maxim ubi jus ibi remedium (where there is a right, there is a remedy), the right to pursue all parallel or auxiliary legal avenues, including the submission of a formal police complaint, remains unequivocally reserved and unmitigated.

The considered inclusion of Ms. Julia Dunk as a necessary and essential party to this definitive ultimatum is directly attributable to the compelling evidentiary nexus uncovered during the Applicant's intensive due diligence. This nexus specifically concerns her known spousal connection to Mr. Karat, notwithstanding any ostensible legal separation of names observed in the conveyance documentation for the property situated at 591 Fleet Avenue, Oshawa, Ontario. Her involvement is deemed integral to the comprehensive constellation of facts underpinning the fraudulent procurement, invoking equitable principles of constructive notice and the tracing of property. It is explicitly noted that the evidential connections between the addressees and all relevant associated parties have been solidified, at the very least, beyond a reasonable doubt, establishing a clear factual matrix for the Court's adjudication. Equity's inherent jurisdiction is engaged in this paradigm to follow assets acquired through funds tainted by fraudulent derivation, regardless of the subsequent legal title holder, thereby preventing the unjust enrichment of any individual connected to the original wrong.

III. CONSEQUENCE OF NON-COMPLIANCE AND IMPENDING PROCEEDINGS

This document constitutes the definitive, final opportunity to unilaterally and conscientiously redress the demonstrated dereliction of probity and the resulting wrongful appropriation of the Applicant's property, thereby strategically forestalling the inevitable judicial inquiry into this intricate and injurious matter.

A. Professional and Ethical Obligations of Licensees

Furthermore, any addressee who is a member or licensee of a professional regulatory body is hereby formally reminded of the elevated professional and ethical obligations incumbent upon their status. Failure to confirm immediate restitution and subsequent judicial findings of fraudulent conduct or participation in the wrongful retention of property may compel the Applicant to file a formal complaint with the relevant regulatory body (e.g., Law Society of Ontario, Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada, etc.). Such proceedings impose profound consequences, including public reprimands, fines, suspension, or the revocation of professional licensure, entirely separate and distinct from the punitive measures administered by the Divisional Court. The preservation of professional integrity necessitates immediate and corrective action in the face of such serious allegations.

B. Judicial Remedies for Sustained Dereliction

Be apprised that in the event of your sustained dereliction to comply with the peremptory deadline articulated herein, the Applicant shall proceed forthwith with the formal filing of NOM #3. Notwithstanding the necessity of this exigent demand, you shall, ceteris paribus (all else being equal), be afforded the fundamental entitlement to appropriate notification and the opportunity to respond to the substance of NOM #3, consistent with the dictates of the Rules of Civil Procedure and the principles of natural justice. However, your present non-compliance will operate as compelling evidence of an intractable and premeditated refusal to effect an equitable, out-of-court resolution regarding the property's immediate restitution, thereby creating a powerful syllogism of intent that will profoundly influence the Court's assessment of your credibility, the merit of your overall defence, and the quantum of judicial remedies imposed.

The consequences flowing from a failure to effect restitution are demonstrably severe, encompassing the potential for adverse findings concerning contempt of court—given the inherent jurisdiction of the Superior Court to compel obedience and adherence to the administration of justice—the imposition of substantial aggravated damages designed to account for the extraordinary humiliation, distress, and economic injury caused by the calculated manner of the defendants' fraudulent and deceitful conduct, and, most notably, the imposition of exemplary punitive remedies designed specifically to censure and denounce such flagrant disregard for the law and the sanctity of proprietary rights. The sustained and deliberate withholding of property predicated on fraud represents an enduring affront to the Court's authority and the integrity of the rule of law, necessitating the most rigorous judicial response to ensure that justice is not merely dispensed, but seen to be dispensed with unequivocal firmness and finality.

I remain available solely for the purpose of receiving the definitive, affirmative confirmation of your intent to initiate restitution prior to the aforementioned deadline.

Yours most respectfully and resolutely,

Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)

Applicant

To: Ms. Falguni Debnath (Falguni.Debnath@tps.ca), Chief Legal Officer of the Toronto Police Service ("TPS"); c/o Legal Services (Legal.Services@torontopolice.on.ca)

Subject I: SERVICE OF THE APPLICANT'S MOTION RECORD IN COURT FILE NO. DC-24-00000718-00JR (The "Motion Record")

Subject II: FOCUS ON EXTRAORDINARY RELIEF PERTAINING TO NON-RESPONDENTS, AS PARTICULARIZED IN THE DRAFT ORDER AT TAB 21 (The "Relief Sought")

I. Formal Introduction and Adoption of Definitions

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein. The present communication is executed in strict conformity with the highest professional standards, designed to provide comprehensive notification of judicial proceedings that bear consequential and, potentially, mandatory relevance to the administrative operations and public interest mandate of the Toronto Police Service ("TPS"). The Applicant is acutely cognizant of the institutional pressures faced by the TPS, yet the imperative of judicial rectitude necessitates this formal service.

Furthermore, it is confirmed that I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence, thereby ensuring rigorous terminological consistency and precluding any unnecessary ambiguity throughout this formal exchange. The continued use of established vernacular is crucial for the precise articulation of legal concepts. Consequently, all Relief Sought is to be interpreted in the broadest possible construction of the status quo ante which the Applicant seeks to restore, which, by necessity, implicates remedial measures that transcend the immediate adversarial parties and extend to any non-party whose actions or inactions contributed to the existing legal imbalance or whose assistance is required to effectuate a comprehensive judicial remedy. The underlying policy objective is the achievement of unreserved systemic correction.

II. Purpose of Correspondence and Service of Motion Record

This formal missive serves to effectuate the compulsory service of the Applicant's voluminous and comprehensive Motion Record, which has been duly filed in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice (Divisional Court) under Court File No. DC-24-00000718-00JR. The Motion Record encompasses the totality of the evidentiary submissions, documentary exhibits, and legal authorities upon which the Applicant will rely in the vigorous prosecution of this application for judicial review and associated extraordinary relief. This body of material presents a cogent and detailed narrative supporting the Applicant's claim for remedial intervention. The service upon the TPS is fundamentally predicated upon the procedural necessity of granting full non-party disclosure regarding the specific judicial orders being sought, thereby according procedural fairness given the prospective imposition of institutional obligations.

The comprehensive documentation provided is intended to ensure that the TPS possesses full and unfettered opportunity to conduct a thorough and meticulous review of the entire body of material. This is not merely a superfluous formality; rather, it constitutes a critical and indispensable prerequisite for the TPS to competently assess the intricate factual matrix and the compelling juridical basis that underpins the imposition of obligations that may flow from the ensuing court order. The sheer magnitude and gravity of the documented acta, which address fundamental questions of institutional accountability and procedural oversight, warrant an elevated degree of institutional due diligence and profound scrutiny by your office. This scrutiny must extend not only to the immediate practical consequences of the Draft Order but also to the broader legal implications for the TPS's compliance framework under The Police Services Act and other relevant legislation.

III. Particularization of Extraordinary Relief Pertaining to Non-Respondents

The cardinal focus of this service is the specific, extraordinary relief sought which is directed toward, or necessitates the administrative or operational action of, a non-Respondent party, namely the TPS. This particularized Relief Sought is comprehensively delineated within the Draft Order appended to the Motion Record at Tab 21 ("Draft Order"), which articulates precise, mandatory judicial directives intended to rectify a manifest miscarriage of justice resulting from the underlying administrative process. The relief sought against the TPS is fundamentally remedial in nature, seeking not to punish but to compel corrective conduct.

This Draft Order specifies judicial directives that, if granted, possess the ipso facto effect of imposing certain administrative, operational, or disclosure obligations, thereby requiring a specific, unreserved, and timely course of action by the TPS. The Applicant maintains with reasoned confidence that such judicial intervention is not ultra vires the jurisdictional mandate of the Divisional Court; conversely, it is asserted that the power to issue such an order is, prima facie, unequivocally within the inherent, supervisory, and remedial jurisdiction of the Honourable Court to ensure the efficacy and integrity of the entire judicial process. The inherent jurisdiction of the superior courts of justice, as masters of their own process, extends logically and necessarily to issuing ancillary orders against non-parties whose cooperation is essential to give efficacy to the primary judicial determination and to remedy the underlying grievances enumerated within the Motion Record. Failure to seek such relief would constitute a procedural waiver of the Applicant's full right to remedy. The Draft Order should be thoroughly reviewed, in limine, to appreciate the full, intricate scope of the Applicant's application, which is designed to prevent further erosion of the Applicant's entrenched rights and to restore the integrity of the institutional processes involved in this matter.

IV. Procedural Requirements for Opposition

The TPS is hereby formally and expressly apprised that, should the institution determine that the Relief Sought—insofar as it pertains directly or indirectly to the TPS's administrative or institutional functions—warrants intercession by way of opposition, the following procedural steps must be meticulously observed and executed to the requisite judicial standard of diligence and precision:

1. Service of Documentation: The TPS is strictly mandated to serve upon the undersigned legal counsel comprehensive documentation detailing with forensic precision the legal and factual grounds upon which any opposition is predicated. This documentation must explicitly cite the governing rules of civil procedure, relevant legislation, and supporting jurisprudence defining any potential limitations on the Court's remedial authority over the TPS. Mere unsubstantiated assertions, generalized policy objections, or procedural non-compliance will be deemed insufficient and procedurally non-compliant, potentially attracting adverse cost consequences.
2. Filing with the Court: Concurrently and without delay, this documentation must be formally filed with the Divisional Court, ensuring the judicial record remains complete and accurate for the Honourable Judge's comprehensive adjudication. Punctuality and adherence to filing rules are mandatory.
3. Proof of Service: The requisite documentation must include demonstrable and unimpeachable proof of service upon the Applicant, verifying compliance with the mandatory procedural notice requirements.

The Applicant maintains an objective and neutral tone throughout this correspondence, but respectfully posits that any opposition must necessarily address the advanced syllogisms and detailed extrapolations of legal principles, including those pertaining to public interest duties, the scope of judicial review, and the doctrine of proportionality, which are compellingly presented in the Motion Record. The heavy burden rests upon the TPS to demonstrate, with legal specificity and evidentiary support, why the extraordinary, yet essential, relief sought would contravene established legal doctrine, or result in a substantial, demonstrable, and irreparable prejudice that fundamentally outweighs the manifest necessity of the proposed judicial intervention to cure the underlying defects in the administrative process.

V. Concluding Sentiment

In concluding this formal service correspondence, the Applicant reiterates his profound conviction that the Relief Sought is indispensable for the maintenance of procedural fairness and the elevation of justice in this complex proceeding. The entire application is predicated upon the fundamental belief that institutional accountability is paramount to the proper and ethical functioning of the legal system and that the courts possess the necessary authority to compel remedial actions where administrative bodies fall short of their mandated obligations. The conclusions regarding the necessity of this intervention are, sub silentio, rendered entirely self-evident by the documented facts contained within the Motion Record and the failure of alternative, less restrictive remedies to achieve the requisite systemic correction. The Applicant anticipates your office's professional and timely acknowledgment of the same.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

SUBJECT I: IMPLICATIONS ARISING FROM UNDISCLOSED CRIMINAL CODE (THE "CODE") FORM 4 INDICTMENT (THE "INDICTMENT") AND ASSOCIATED SIGNED ARREST WARRANT (THE "WARRANT"). SUBJECT II: NECESSITY OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTABILITY REGARDING PURPORTED NEXUS BETWEEN THE MINISTRY OF THE SOLICITOR GENERAL (THE "MINISTRY") AND JUDICIAL OFFICERS

Introduction

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclusion). I appreciate your finite yet valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein. I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

Exposition of the Factual Matrix and Legal Implications

This correspondence is necessitated by a meticulous review of public representations disseminated on the social media platforms associated with the Ministry of the Solicitor General (the "Ministry"). This extensive scrutiny has given rise to profound concerns regarding the potential implications of the Honourable Michael Kerzner (the "Solicitor General")'s involvement in an ostensibly undisclosed Criminal Code (the "Code") Form 4 Indictment (the "Indictment") and an associated "signed arrest warrant" (the "Warrant").

It is submitted that the Ministry's mandate is intrinsically linked to the preservation of public order and the maintenance of the highest standards of integrity within the correctional and policing ecosystems. This is reflected in the official statement that the Ministry of the Solicitor General (the "Ministry") is responsible for "the safety and security of communities across Ontario through effective policing, correctional services and emergency services programs," which includes promoting policing excellence and maintaining effective correctional programs.

The gravity of the current status quo (the "Current State") is magnified by the potential nexus purportedly extrapolated from the aforementioned public social media representations. A careful analysis of this publicly available acta ("the Records") suggests a possible connection between the Solicitor General (the "Solicitor General"), Madam Justice Shore ("Justice Shore"), and Justice of the Peace Jiri ("JP Jiri"). Such a connection, if substantiated, raises serious questions concerning the appropriate boundaries and propriety of engagement between the Executive arm of government and the independent Judiciary, potentially bordering on ultra vires ("beyond the powers") conduct if it impinges upon judicial or ministerial impartiality.

Requisite Standards of Ministerial and Judicial Conduct

The indicia available prima facie ("on its first appearance") necessitate an immediate and comprehensive investigation into the veracity of the claims surrounding the Indictment and the Warrant. It is axiomatic that the principles of Ministerial responsibility and judicial independence must be upheld without derogation. Any suggestion of a failure of mens rea ("guilty mind") on the part of involved officials—or, conversely, the appearance of impropriety ipso facto ("by the fact itself")—must be addressed with the utmost alacrity and transparency.

The Re: Status of Executive Responsibility (the "Status Jurisprudence")—which governs the indispensable need for the Executive to operate within the ambit of its statutory and constitutional authority—is particularly pertinent. It is submitted that the presence of an undisclosed criminal process involving the Solicitor General (the "Solicitor General") represents a matter of overwhelming public interest, demanding a forthright disclosure in limine ("at the threshold").

Furthermore, given the Ministry's supervisory and advisory role with respect to the Ontario Provincial Police (the "OPP"), which provides "front-line policing services," a request is hereby made upon the OPP as well, to the extent that it was involved in any capacity concerning the origination or execution of the Indictment or the Warrant.

Formal Demand for Dispute and Procedural Requirements

Should the Solicitor General (the "Solicitor General") or the Ministry wish to contest, refute, or otherwise provide a substantive rejoinder to the contentions advanced herein, it is formally requested and demanded that such disputation be effectuated exclusively by way of formal service and filing with proof of service.

This procedural stricture is mandated to ensure adherence to the formal requirements stipulated in the Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules"), thereby precluding any subsequent claim of procedural irregularity.
This correspondence and its attendant concerns are submitted in the earnest hope that the necessity of a formal judicial review process, grounded in the principles of natural justice ("Procedural Fairness") and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (the "Charter"), can be obviated through the exercise of prudent and transparent executive governance.

Conclusion

The underlying factual assertions, while derived from a review of publicly available material, are grave and material to the public's confidence in the Ministry and the administration of justice. The maintenance of the status quo ante ("the way things were before") is no longer tenable without a formal and public response.
Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

I. INTRODUCTION AND DEFINITIONAL ADOPTION

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. This correspondent proffers profound appreciation in futuro for the finite yet invaluable allotment of temporal and intellectual resources necessarily devoted to the perusal and careful consideration of this correspondence and its referenced or appended enclosures. The meticulous effort undertaken to research the extant legal issues and apply them ad factum is predicated upon a recognition of your finite yet valuable resources.
I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

II. PREDICATE FOR FORMAL SERVICE

The present communication serves to effect the requisite formal service of the Applicant's Notice of Motion #3 ("NOM #3") and the initial portion of its supporting Motion Record upon you, pursuant to the Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules"). This imperative arises directly from your established engagement as the lawyer licensee responsive to the Applicant's preceding and extensive requests for documents, information, and information assets pertaining to various court levels and registries, as previously delineated in correspondence emanating from mrkevinalexandermcleanbajdcim@gmail.com (as known to you).
The comprehensive rationale compelling this service, as well as the specific, extraordinary relief sought by the Applicant, is meticulously articulated within the body of the Motion Record. This formal service is a necessary procedural concomitance, ensuring that cognizance of this application, which pertains inter alia to the administration and oversight of the judicial process, is duly vested in all interested and relevant parties.

III. ATTACHMENTS AND PENDING SERVICE

Enclosed herewith, and cited by reference as a foundational component of this service, is Part 1 of the Motion Record supporting the aforementioned NOM #3. Part 1, the document entitled "Motion Record - NOM #3 - Tabs 1 to 21 - Index - Tabulated - APPLICANT - MR MCLEAN - 19-Nov-2025" (attached hereto), encompasses the principal evidentiary and procedural foundation for the relief sought before the Divisional Court. Part 1 is attached. Part 2 will follow.
It is further confirmed that Part 2 of the Motion Record, which shall contain supplementary and ancillary materials, shall be transmitted to you contemporaneously upon its compilation, thereby completing the formal service of the entire motion record, as it currently stands, of documentation supporting NOM #3.

IV. LEGAL AND PROCEDURAL EXTRAPOLATION

The Motion Record meticulously details why the status quo ante cannot be permitted to endure, necessitating this procedural intervention. Should the factual and legal premises advanced within the NOM #3 be established prima facie, it becomes self-evident that judicial intervention is warranted to remediate the extant deficiencies. This acta is not predicated upon a foundation of emotion; rather, it represents the culmination of a cognitive, rigorous, and dispassionate application of legal principles to the ascertained facts.
The relief sought therein, including the adjudication of Charter entitlements, is designed to restore a normative legal equilibrium. The Applicant's submissions posit a cogent syllogism: where actions or inactions by an entity are found to be ultra vires or otherwise deficient under law, the necessary and appropriate remedy must be granted to prevent an ongoing miscarriage of justice. This proceeding, therefore, is fundamentally resolution-oriented, seeking judicial pronouncements that define the legal boundaries and compel compliance with the supreme law of the land, obviating the necessity for protracted and superfluous litigation.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

What is Judicial Review?

Judicial review is a process by which courts make sure that the decisions of administrative bodies are fair, reasonable, and lawful. The Divisional Court hears applications for judicial review of decisions of administrative bodies in Ontario by virtue of s. 6(1) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act, R.S.O 1990, c J.1.

In an application for judicial review, a party asks a three-judge panel of the Divisional Court to change or set aside a decision of an administrative body where the party can show an error was made that warrants action by the Court. Judicial review is not an opportunity to re-argue the case, but rather to show that the decision-maker failed to properly exercise its decision-making powers.

What Kind of Decisions Can Be Reviewed?

Decision-makers whose authority and powers exist by virtue of statute are subject to judicial review. Administrative bodies whose decisions may be reviewed by the Divisional Court include administrative tribunals or government decision-makers whose responsibility it is to decide any person or party's legal rights or their eligibility to receive a benefit or licence. Section 1 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act defines the scope of decisions that can be subject to judicial review. The decisions of private actors are not subject to judicial review.

For example, decisions of an administrative tribunal such as the Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario or an official decision-maker such as the Independent Police Review Director are subject to judicial review. There need not be legislation that specifically grants the right to judicial review.

When to Apply for Judicial Review

An application for judicial review of an administrative decision must be brought within thirty days of the decision being made, as set out in s. 5(1) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act. However, the Court may exercise its discretion to extend the time for making an application for judicial review if there are apparent grounds for relief and no substantial prejudice will occur to any person, under s. 5(2) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act.

Where there is a right to request reconsideration of the decision by the original decision-maker or to appeal, the Court may decline to hear the application for judicial review until that process has been completed. Generally speaking, decisions should be final and determinative of a case before they are judicially reviewed.

Urgent Applications

Various approaches to addressing urgent matters may be discussed as part of case management, discussed below. For example, a party may request an expedited schedule and hearing date. Parties with urgent matters should request a case conference.

In addition, under s. 6(2) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act, if a matter is urgent, an application for judicial review may be made to a single judge of the Superior Court. In Toronto, such applications are heard by a Divisional Court judge sitting as a judge of the Superior Court of Justice. Elsewhere in the province, a Superior Court judge deals with the urgent application.

Remedies

In order to know whether to bring an application for judicial review, it is important to understand what relief the Court can order. Subsection 2(1) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act specifies that, on an application for judicial review, the Court may grant remedy in the nature of mandamus, prohibition, certiorari, a declaration or an injunction. All of these remedies can but do not have to be granted as the Court sees fit.

Mandamus – is an order requiring a party to do something. If the Court determines that the decision-maker has a duty to do something, but did not, then the Court may require the decision-maker to fulfil that duty.

Prohibition – prevents a decision-maker from continuing an unlawful process or action. If the Court determines that the decision-maker has no authority to do something or it would be wrong for them to do something, the Court may prevent the decision-maker from doing or continuing to do that thing.

Certiorari – is an order that the decision under review is of no force and effect (i.e., quashed). If the Court decides that the decision cannot be upheld (for example, because the decision-maker lacks jurisdiction or there has been a breach of procedural fairness), the Court may grant an order quashing the decision. The Court may then send the matter back to the decision-maker or, in exceptional circumstances, make the decision it considers appropriate.

Declaration – is a statement made by the Court about the parties' legal positions or the law applicable to them. A declaration may be made to rule on a party's rights or whether the decision-maker acted within its legislative authority.

Injunction – is an order stopping a party or prohibiting a party from doing something. The Court may order an injunction to prevent harm or protect a legal right.

Standard of Review

The standard of review is an important feature of all judicial review applications and should be addressed in the written argument you file with the Court (your factum).

The standard of review refers to the degree of scrutiny that the court will apply in examining the substance of the decision being reviewed. There are generally two standards of review: reasonableness and correctness. Where an application involves issues of procedural fairness, no standard of review analysis is necessary.

For all judicial review applications, there is a presumption that the standard of review is reasonableness. This presumption is only rebutted in exceptional, narrowly defined circumstances. Looking at recent cases where the Court considered similar decisions by the same decision-maker will assist you in determining what standard of review the Court will apply.

Reasonableness

Reasonableness is a deferential standard of review. A reasonable decision is “based on internally coherent reasoning” and is justified in light of the facts and law that constrain the decision-maker. Where a decision-maker has provided reasons, those will guide the Court’s review. The reasonableness standard recognizes that there may be more than one reasonable interpretation or more than one reasonable possible result. On this standard, courts will not interfere with decision they consider reasonable, even if the judges themselves might have come to a different decision

When a court applies the reasonableness standard, the person applying for judicial review has to persuade the court that the decision was unreasonable. A court will find that a decision is unreasonable if there are any fatal flaws in its overall logic or if it does not respect the factual and legal constraints on the decision. Those constraints include the evidence, the relevant law, the issues before the court as framed by the parties, the parties’ arguments, past practices, and the effect of the decision.

Correctness

While reasonableness is the default standard, in certain limited circumstances, the correctness standard will apply instead.

In applying a correctness standard of review, the Court does not defer to the decision of the administrative decision-maker. Instead, it makes its own determination of the correct outcome. A correctness standard will only apply to the following questions:

- Constitutional questions;
- General questions of law of central importance to the legal system as a whole (that is, questions that must always be answered the same way because the answer has implications across the justice system);
- Questions concerning the jurisdictional lines between two decision makers; and
- Questions where Courts and administrative bodies have concurrent first instance jurisdiction over a legal issue.

Procedural Fairness

Where an application for judicial review challenges the procedural fairness of a decision-maker’s process or hearing, the Court will consider what level of procedural fairness is necessary in the circumstances, and whether that level has been met. In determining the content of the duty of procedural fairness, the Court will look at the relevant factors, including:

- The nature of the decision being made and process followed in making it;
- The nature of the statutory scheme and the terms of the statute pursuant to which the body operates;
- The importance of the decision to the individual or individuals affected;
- The legitimate expectations of the person challenging the decision; and
- The choices of procedure made by the original decision-maker itself.

Many statutes also set out particular procedural requirements. The Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. 22 ("SPPA"), establishes minimum procedural requirements that must be met by administrative tribunals in conducting hearings and decision-making. Not all administrative bodies are subject to the SPPA, nor are all tribunals required to hold a hearing. The decision-maker's enabling legislation, regulations, by-laws, and rules may set out specific procedural requirements.

What to Include in an Application for Judicial Review

Judicial review is initiated by filing a "Notice of Application for Judicial Review" (Form 68A) with the Divisional Court. The Notice of Application must be served on the Attorney General of Ontario. The Notice of Application should also be served on the decision-maker that exercised the statutory power and anyone else who participated in the original hearing. The decision-maker may also be a party to the proceedings. You can serve the Notice of Application on the Attorney General of Ontario and the relevant administrative body by mail, facsimile, or by delivering it in person to their offices. You should look online for the correct contact information.

Notice of Application

The Notice of Application briefly sets out:

1. The remedy being sought (as described above) – the order the applicant is asking the Court to make if the applicant is successful;
2. The grounds for review – the errors alleged to have been made by the decision-maker, why the Court should make a different decision, and reference to any statutory provision or rule relied on; and
3. A list of the evidence to be relied on – this will usually be limited to the evidence that was before the decision-maker in making its decision. The circumstances under which an applicant can file additional evidence are very limited.

An applicant bringing a constitutional challenge as part of an application for judicial review must also file a "Notice of Constitutional Question" (Form 4F). The Notice of Constitutional Question must be served on the Attorney General of Ontario and the Attorney General of Canada. Notice is required when the applicant raises the constitutional validity or applicability of federal or provincial legislation, a regulation or by-law, or a common law rule is in issue or a remedy is claimed against the governments under s. 24(1) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

Stay Motions

Filing an application for judicial review does not mean that the original decision under review ceases to apply or be effective. If you want the Court to order that the decision made by the administrative body be suspended until the Court considers the application for judicial review, you must apply to the Court for what is called a "stay" of the decision. To do so in the Divisional Court, an applicant must bring a motion seeking an order staying the original decision so that it does not take effect until the final determination of the application.

Records

If the tribunal is subject to the Statutory Powers Procedures Act and a hearing was held, the decision-maker that made the original decision will file a "Record of Proceedings" with the Court. The Record of Proceedings will include:

- Any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;
- The notice of hearing;
- Any interlocutory (intermediary) orders made by the tribunal;
- All documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents may be used in evidence in any proceeding;
- The transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and
- The decision of the tribunal and the reasons, where reasons were given.

The applicant must prepare and file an Application Record. An Application Record will normally contain the following documents:

- A table of contents,
- A copy of the Notice of Application,
- A copy of the reasons of the Court or tribunal whose decision is to be reviewed, with a further typed or printed copy if the reasons are handwritten,
- A copy of all affidavits and other materials served by any party that were before the original decision-maker. (As indicated above, the circumstances under which new/additional evidence will be allowed are limited.),
- A list of all relevant transcripts of evidence, and
- A copy of any other material in the Court file that is necessary for the hearing of the application

Factum

The applicant must also file a factum, which should be no more than 30 pages in length. A factum is a concise summary of a party's case, and should be organized as follows:

- Part 1: A statement identifying the applicant, as well as the court or tribunal whose decision is to be reviewed and stating the result in that court or tribunal;
- Part 2: A concise summary of the facts relevant to the issues on the application, with specific reference to the evidence;
- Part 3: A statement of each issue raised, immediately followed by a concise statement of the law and authorities relating to that issue;
- Part 4: A statement of the order that the Court will be asked to make, including any order for costs;
- Schedule A: List of authorities referred to; and
- Schedule B: Text of all relevant provisions of statutes, regulations and by-laws.

Book of Authorities

If a party's factum relies on previous tribunal or court decisions, or other legal texts, then the entire decision or the relevant text (for example, the complete legal article or, if it is a book, the relevant chapter or pages) should be compiled in a Book of Authorities. It is also a good idea to highlight the portions of the case or text that are referred to in the factum. The Book of Authorities is often filed when the application is perfected but it does not technically need to be filed at that time.

Cases that are frequently relied on in judicial review applications are supplied to Divisional Court judges in a Judges' Book of Authorities and do not need to be included in a party's Book of Authorities. The list of cases included in the Judges' Book of Authorities is updated from time to time and can be found on the Divisional Court's website.

Certificate of Perfection

Once the above materials have been served and filed, the applicant must complete a "certificate of perfection". The certificate of perfection confirms that all the material required to be filed by the applicant for the hearing of the application has been filed.

Once the certificate of perfection has been filed at the Court, the registrar will place the application on a list for hearing and send the "Notice of Listing for Hearing" (Form 68B) to the parties. The Notice of Listing for Hearing will advise you of the next steps required in order to get a date for the application to be heard by the Divisional Court.

Filing & Timing

The Notice of Application, Application Record, factum, Book of Authorities, and Certificate of Perfection should be served on the Attorney General, the decision-maker, and any other respondent. Once the material is served, an electronic version of the materials should also be filed with the Court.

The Notice of Application should be accompanied by an Affidavit of Service (Form 16B) confirming that it was served on each party.

Once the Application Record has been served on a respondent, the respondent will have 30 days to file a responding Application Record and a factum.

If the applicant has not yet delivered an application record and factum and filed a certificate of perfection within one year of filing a notice of application, the respondent may make a motion to dismiss for delay. The Registrar can also give notice of a dismissal for delay. Once notice of dismissal is given, the applicant will have 10 days to file the missing materials.

Case Management

Most motions and applications for judicial review in the Divisional Court are subject to judicial case management. As part of that process, the time for the delivery of court materials may be changed as set out in directions from the court. Case management is more flexible than a traditional hearing and allows certain issues to be dealt with efficiently to reduce time and expenses during the judicial review hearing.

CaseLines

CaseLines is an online document sharing platform which allows the Court to electronically view your materials. The Divisional Court uses CaseLines for remote and in-person hearings. After you have brought an application for judicial review, you will receive an email to register for CaseLines and upload your materials. There is no fee to use CaseLines.

Filing materials with the Court is not the same as uploading to CaseLines. In order for the Court to view your materials, you must complete both steps according to the timeline in the "Notice to the Profession – Divisional Court" or as directed by a judge. Generally, your materials must be uploaded four weeks before your scheduled hearing date. During the hearing, you may make use of CaseLines features including directing participants to a specific page and displaying exhibits.

The Hearing

At the hearing of the application, the parties will have the opportunity to argue the case before a three-judge panel of the Divisional Court. The parties can expect the panel to have read the materials filed and be familiar with the issues in the case. The oral hearing is an opportunity to present each party's position on the key issues in the case. It is not an opportunity to recite what is in the factums. The judges may ask questions about the arguments. The hearing begins with the applicant's submissions, after which the respondent(s) will make their oral submissions. The applicant may then make reply submissions, however this is not an opportunity to repeat your submissions, as replies should only address new matters raised by the respondent.

What is Judicial Review?

Judicial review is a process by which courts make sure that the decisions of administrative bodies are fair, reasonable and lawful. The Divisional Court hears applications for judicial review of decisions as set out in the Judicial Review Procedure Act, R.S.O 1990, c. J.1.

In an application for judicial review, a party asks a three-judge panel of the Divisional Court to change or set aside a decision of an administrative body where the party can show an error was made that warrants action by the Court. Judicial review is not an opportunity to re-argue the case, but rather to show that the decision-maker failed to properly exercise its decision-making powers.

What Kind of Decisions Can Be Reviewed?

Decision-makers whose authority and powers exist by virtue of statute are subject to judicial review. Administrative bodies whose decisions may be reviewed by the Divisional Court include administrative tribunals or government decision-makers whose responsibility it is to decide any person or party's legal rights or their eligibility to receive a benefit or licence. The decisions of private actors are not subject to judicial review.

For example, decisions of an administrative tribunal such as the Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario or an official decision-maker such as the Complaints Director under the Community Safety and Policing Act are subject to judicial review.

An application for judicial review of an administrative decision must be brought within 30 days of the decision being made. However, the Court may exercise its discretion to extend the time for making an application for judicial review if there are apparent grounds for relief and no substantial prejudice will occur to any person.

Where there is a right to request reconsideration of the decision by the original decision-maker or to appeal, the Court may decline to hear the application for judicial review until that process has been completed. Generally, decisions should be final and determinative of a case before they are judicially reviewed.

The Divisional Court may, in its discretion, consider an appeal alongside a judicial review application.

Urgent Applications

Various approaches to addressing urgent matters may be discussed as part of case management, outlined below. For example, a party may request an expedited schedule and hearing date. In addition, if a matter is urgent, an application for judicial review may be made to a single judge of the Superior Court with leave of that Court. Parties with urgent matters should request an urgent case conference in the Divisional Court.

Filing an application for judicial review does not mean that the original decision under review ceases to apply or be effective. If you want the Court to order that the decision made by the administrative body be suspended until the Court considers the application for judicial review, you must bring a motion for what is called a "stay" of the decision.

Leave to Commence an Application for Judicial Review

In some instances, a statute may require you to seek leave from the Divisional Court in order to bring an application for judicial review.

To seek leave, the applicant must serve and file a notice of motion for leave to commence a judicial review. The notice of motion should state that the motion will be heard on a date to be fixed by the Registrar and should set out the specific issues that will be raised in the hearing if leave is granted. All leave motions must be filed in the Toronto Region. The steps for filing the leave motion are set out in the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings.

The motion for leave will be heard by a panel of three judges in writing (i.e., you will not attend a hearing to argue in-person why the Court should grant you leave to bring your application).

Case Management

Once you commence your application for judicial review or your motion for leave, there are steps that you must take regarding the schedule for the exchange of court documents and any preliminary issues. These steps are set out in the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings.

All proceedings in the Divisional Court are subject to judicial case management. The purpose of case management is to facilitate access to justice through the timely adjudication of proceedings in the Divisional Court in a cost-effective and proportional manner.

This means that you may receive written directions from a judge and a judge may direct that there will be a case conference prior to the hearing of your motion or application.

As part of this process, the time for the delivery of court materials may be determined or changed as set out in directions from the Court. Other issues may be addressed, as set out in the judge's directions. Directions are normally sent to the parties by email.

Case Center

Case Center is an online document sharing platform which allows the Divisional Court to electronically view your court materials. The Divisional Court uses Case Center for both remote and in-person hearings. After you have brought an application or motion for leave, you will receive an email to register for Case Center and upload your materials. There is no fee to use Case Center.

Filing materials with the Court is not the same as uploading to Case Center. In order for the Court to view your materials, you must complete both steps according to the timeline in the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings or as directed by a judge. Generally, your materials must be uploaded four weeks before your scheduled hearing date.

Information about how to use Case Center is available on the Court's website: https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/casecenter/.

When uploading documents to Case Center, you should ensure that you follow the naming rules set out in Schedule B of the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings.

What to Include in an Application for Judicial Review

Judicial review is initiated by filing a "Notice of Application for Judicial Review" (Form 68A) with the Divisional Court. The Notice of Application must be served on the Attorney General of Ontario. The Notice of Application should also be served on the decision-maker that exercised the statutory power and all parties who participated in the original hearing. The decision-maker may also be a party to the proceedings. You can serve the Notice of Application on the Attorney General of Ontario and the relevant administrative body by mail, fax or delivering it in person to their offices. You should look online for the correct contact information.

Notice of Application

The Notice of Application briefly sets out:

1. the remedy being sought (as described above) – the order the applicant is asking the Court to make if the applicant is successful;
2. the grounds for review – the errors alleged to have been made by the decision-maker, why the Court should make a different decision, and reference to any statutory provision or rule relied on; and
3. a list of the evidence to be relied on – this will usually be limited to the evidence that was before the decision-maker in making its decision. The circumstances under which an applicant can file additional evidence are very limited.

An applicant bringing a constitutional challenge as part of an application for judicial review must also serve and file a "Notice of Constitutional Question" (Form 4F). The Notice of Constitutional Question must be served on the Attorney General of Ontario and the Attorney General of Canada. This Notice is required when the applicant raises the constitutional validity or applicability of federal or provincial legislation, a regulation or by-law, or a common law rule is in issue or a remedy is claimed against the government under s. 24(1) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

Records

If the tribunal is subject to the Statutory Powers Procedure Act and a hearing was held, the decision-maker that made the original decision will serve and file a "Record of Proceedings". The Record of Proceedings will include:

- any application, complaint, reference or other document, by which the administrative proceeding was commenced;
- the notice of the administrative hearing;
- any interlocutory (intermediary) orders made by the tribunal;
- all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents may be used in evidence in any proceeding;
- the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and
- the decision of the tribunal and the reasons, where reasons were given.

The applicant must prepare, serve and file an Application Record. The applicant's Application Record will normally contain the following documents:

- a table of contents;
- a copy of the Notice of Application;
- a copy of the reasons for decision of the court or tribunal whose decision is to be reviewed, and any related orders, with a further typed or printed copy if the reasons are handwritten;
- a copy of all affidavits and other materials if they are not in the Record of Proceedings (note that the circumstances under which new/additional evidence will be allowed are limited);
- a list of all relevant transcripts of evidence; and
- a copy of any other material in the court file that is necessary for the hearing of the application.

The respondent must also prepare, serve and file an Application Record, which will contain:

- a table of contents; and
- a copy of any material to be used by the respondent on the application and not included in the applicant's Application Record (note that the circumstances under which new/additional evidence will be allowed are limited).

Factum

The applicant must also file a Factum, which should be no more than 9,200 words and 40 pages in length, double spaced, with each paragraph consecutively numbered. A Factum is a concise summary of a party's case.

The applicant's Factum should be organized as follows:

- Part I: A statement identifying the applicant, as well as the court or tribunal whose decision is to be reviewed and stating the result in that court or tribunal;

- Part II: A concise summary of the facts relevant to the issues on the application, with specific reference to the evidence;
- Part III: A statement of each issue raised, immediately followed by a concise statement of the law and authorities relating to that issue;
- Part IV: A statement of the order that the court will be asked to make, including any order for costs;
- Certificate: A statement of how much time (expressed in hours or fractions of an hour) will be required for oral argument, not including reply;
- Schedule A: List of authorities referred to; and
- Schedule B: Text of all relevant provisions of statutes, regulations and by-laws.

The respondent's Factum should be organized as follows:

- Part I: A statement of the facts in the applicant's summary of relevant facts that the respondent accepts as correct and those facts with which the respondent disagrees and a concise summary of any additional facts relied on, with specific reference to the evidence;
- Part II: A statement of the position of the respondent with respect to each issue raised by the applicant, immediately followed by a concise statement of the law and the authorities relating to that issue;
- Part III: a statement of any additional issues raised by the respondent, the statement of each issue to be immediately followed by a concise statement of the law and the authorities relating to that issue;
- Part IV: A statement of the order that the court will be asked to make, including any order for costs;
- Certificate: A statement of how much time (expressed in hours or fractions of an hour) will be required for oral argument, not including reply;
- Schedule A: List of authorities referred to; and
- Schedule B: Text of all relevant provisions of statutes, regulations.

Book of Authorities

If your Factum relies on previous tribunal or court decisions, or other legal texts, then the entire decision or the relevant text (for example, the complete legal article or, if it is a book, the relevant chapter or pages) should be provided to the Court in one of two ways.

If the decision is available on a free public website like CanLII.org, you must provide a hyperlink to that decision in your Factum. Alternatively, you may file an electronic book of authorities. In your Book of Authorities, you should provide the full text of all relevant court decisions. You must also include the relevant excerpts from any other sources you rely on. However, if the text is available on a free public website, then you may simply provide a hyperlink to that text in the table of contents of the Book of Authorities without providing the full text.

The Book of Authorities is often filed when the application is perfected.

Filing & Timing

The Notice of Application, Application Record, Factum and Book of Authorities should be served on the Attorney General, the decision-maker and any other respondent. Once the material is served, an electronic version of the materials should also be filed with the Court. Instructions for filing materials with the Court can be found online here. There may be fees associated with filing certain documents.

When filing documents electronically, you should ensure that you follow the document naming rules set out in Schedule B of the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings.

The Notice of Application should be accompanied by an "Affidavit of Service" (Form 16B) confirming that it was served on each party.

Unless otherwise specified, the application for judicial review should be made within 30 days after the date the decision to be reviewed was made.

Once the Application Record has been served on a respondent, the respondent will have 30 days to file a responding Application Record and their Factum.

If the applicant has not yet delivered an Application Record and Factum within 1 year of filing a notice of application, the respondent may make a motion to dismiss for delay. The Registrar can also give notice of a dismissal for delay. Once notice of dismissal is given, the applicant will have 10 days to file the missing materials.

All your court documents must be uploaded to Case Center. Filing materials with the Court is not the same as uploading to Case Center. In order for the Court to view your materials, you must complete both steps according to the timeline in the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings or as directed by a judge. Generally, your materials must be uploaded at least four weeks before your scheduled hearing date. During the hearing, you may make use of Case Center features including directing participants to a specific page and displaying exhibits.

When uploading documents to Case Center, you should ensure that you follow the document naming rules set out in Schedule B of the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings.

Standard of Review

The standard of review refers to the degree of scrutiny that the Court will apply in examining the substance of the decision being reviewed. The standard of review is an important feature of all judicial review applications and should be addressed in the written argument you file with the Court (your Factum).

For all judicial review applications, there is a presumption that the standard of review is reasonableness. This presumption is only rebutted in exceptional, narrowly defined circumstances in which the standard of review is correctness. Looking at recent cases where the Court considered similar decisions by the same decision-maker will assist you in determining what standard of review the Court will apply.

Where an application involves issues of procedural fairness, the Court considers what procedure is required and whether it was provided.

Reasonableness

Reasonableness is a deferential standard of review. A reasonable decision is “based on internally coherent reasoning” and is justified in light of the facts and law that constrain the decision-maker. Where a decision-maker has provided reasons, those will guide the Court’s review. The reasonableness standard recognizes that there may be more than one reasonable interpretation or more than one reasonable possible result. On this standard, courts will not interfere with a decision they consider reasonable, even if the judges themselves might have made a different decision.

When a court applies the reasonableness standard, the person applying for judicial review has to persuade the court that the decision was unreasonable. A court will find that a decision is unreasonable if there are any fatal flaws in its overall logic or if it is not justified in light of the factual and legal constraints on the decision. Those constraints include the evidence, the relevant law, the issues before the Court as framed by the parties, the parties’ arguments, past practices and the effect of the decision.

Correctness

While reasonableness is the default standard of review, in certain limited circumstances, the correctness standard will apply instead.

In applying a correctness standard of review, the Court does not defer to the decision of the administrative decision-maker. Instead, it makes its own determination of the correct outcome. A correctness standard will only apply to the following questions:

- constitutional questions;
- general questions of law of central importance to the legal system as a whole (that is, questions that must always be answered the same way because the answer has implications across the justice system);
- questions concerning the jurisdictional boundaries between two decision makers; and
- questions where courts and administrative bodies have concurrent first instance jurisdiction over a legal issue.

Procedural Fairness

Where an application for judicial review challenges the procedural fairness of a decision-maker's process or hearing, the Court will consider what level of procedural fairness is necessary in the circumstances, and whether that level has been met. In determining the content of the duty of procedural fairness, the Court will look at the relevant factors, including the following:

- the nature of the decision being made and the process followed in making it;
- the nature of the statutory scheme and the terms of the statute pursuant to which the body operates;
- the importance of the decision to the individual or individuals affected;
- the legitimate expectations of the person challenging the decision; and
- the choices of procedure made by the original decision-maker.

Many statutes also set out particular procedural requirements. Further, when applicable, the Statutory Powers Procedure Act (the "SPPA") establishes minimum procedural requirements that must be met by administrative tribunals in conducting hearings and decision-making. Not all administrative bodies are subject to the SPPA, nor are all tribunals required to hold a hearing. The decision-maker's enabling legislation, regulations, by-laws, and rules may set out specific procedural requirements.

The Divisional Court Hearing

The Court office will provide the parties with the hearing date. At the hearing of the application for judicial review, the parties will have the opportunity to argue the case before a three-judge panel of the Divisional Court. The parties can expect the panel to have read the materials filed and be familiar with the issues in the case. The oral hearing is an opportunity to present each party's position on the key issues in the case. It is not an opportunity to recite what is in the Factums. The judges may ask questions about the arguments.

The hearing begins with the applicant's submissions, after which the respondent(s) will make their oral submissions. The applicant may then make brief reply submissions, however this is not an opportunity to repeat your submissions, as replies should only address new matters raised by the respondent. The panel of judges presiding at the hearing may adjust these steps.

Remedies

Once the Divisional Court has heard an application for judicial review, it may grant remedy in the nature of mandamus, prohibition, certiorari, a declaration or an injunction: s. 2(1) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act. All these remedies can, but do not have to, be granted as the Court sees fit.

Mandamus

Mandamus is a remedy requiring a party to do something. If the Court determines that the decision-maker has a duty to do something, but did not, then the Court may require the decision-maker to fulfil that duty.

Prohibition

Prohibition prevents a decision-maker from continuing an unlawful process or action. If the Court determines that the decision-maker has no authority to do something or it would be wrong for them to do something, the Court may prevent the decision-maker from doing or continuing to do that thing.

Certiorari

Certiorari is a remedy that renders the decision under review of no force and effect (called quashing the decision). If the Court decides that the decision cannot be upheld (for example, because the decision-maker lacks jurisdiction or there has been a breach of procedural fairness), the Court may grant an order quashing the decision. The Court may then send the matter back to the decision-maker or, in exceptional circumstances, make the decision it considers appropriate.

Declaration

A Declaration is a statement, made by the Court, of its decision about the parties' legal rights or obligations or determining a question of law applicable to them. For example. a declaration may be made to rule on a party's rights or whether the decision-maker acted within its legislative authority.

Injunction

An injunction is an order stopping a party from doing something. The Court may order an injunction to prevent harm or protect a legal right.

The Decision

The parties may receive an oral decision from the panel on the day of the hearing. Otherwise, the decision will be reserved and released at a later date in writing.

Note: Parties are responsible for ensuring that all materials in the above list are (a) filed with the court and (b) uploaded to Case Center by the applicable deadline in rule 4.05.3 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

I estimate that the time required for the motion, including costs submissions, will be "not applicable" minutes for the moving party*(ies)* is "not applicable" minutes for the responding party*(ies)* (nota bene:

not applicable because the responding parties, distinct from Respondents, have not served, filed, with proof of service, Notices of Appearance. The determination of the Applicant's Notice of Motion Number Three is predicated upon a hearing in writing. It is of paramount significance to observe, in limine, that the Respondents have not tendered a First Defence and have failed to deliver their respective Notices of Appearance (*NOA*s). This critical antecedent procedural default engages a precise mechanism within the Rules of Civil Procedure. Pursuant to the mandatory stipulations enumerated in Rule 38.07(2)(a) to (c) of the Rules of Civil Procedure, the Respondents are ipso facto precluded from the filing of any material whatsoever pertaining to the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA) Application. This prohibition extends, as a necessary corollary, to the instant Notice of Motion Number Three. Moreover, in the absence of a remedial order of the Court, which has not been duly sought or secured at the juncture of this Confirmation of Motion, the Respondents are further barred from receiving subsequent procedural steps or documentation within this JRPA proceeding. Consideration must also be given to Rule 37.12.1(5), which, by invoking the preclusionary mandate of Rule 38.07(2)(c), prohibits the Responding Parties from filing requisite documentation for motions in writing. Consequently, the non-delivery of *NOA*s renders untenable the subsequent filing of: (1) A consent to the motion; (2) A notice affirming non-opposition; (3) A motion record, inclusive of a factum entitled "factum for a motion in writing," or any corresponding agreement to have the matter adjudicated in writing; or (4) A notice of intent to make oral argument, along with any supporting material intended to be relied upon. The failure to "deliver" the Notices of Appearance is demonstrably the foundational element that vitiates any entitlement to "filing" material. The JRPA proceeding has been fundamentally impacted by a series of alleged ultra vires actions. Were the Respondent Insurance Companies to deliver their *NOA*s at this belated juncture, such a remedial action would constitute a tacit affirmation that all antecedent procedural steps taken by them were voidable irregularities, or, more likely, absolute nullities foundational to the entire JRPA Proceeding. This affirmation would inherently extend to the following: (1) The request for a case conference by the License Appeal Tribunal (LAT) is rendered null and void; (2) The compulsory case conference mandated by Madam Justice Shore is rendered null and void; (3) The resultant failures of the Respondents to serve and file application records and facta by the designated deadline of January 13, 2025, were substantively defective; (4) The Applicant's Notice of Motion Number One (NOM #1) and Notice of Motion Number Two (NOM #2) stand unopposed; and (5) All previous case conference appearances by the Respondents, particularly those conducted without the Applicant's attendance (under notice and objection, yet involving subsequent discoveries of fraud and material facts), are demonstrably null and void. Furthermore, the LAT's inability to "deliver" its NOA is substantiated by Ms. Maciel's acknowledged failure to provide a sufficient proof of service thereof. To the extent that the Respondent Insurance Companies subsequently delivered their *NOA*s, the resultant legal effect would maintain the unopposed status of NOM #1 and NOM #2. This action would compel a return to the status quo ante, effectively serving as an admission that all steps, documents, and/or orders executed subsequently were, at the very least, irregularities warranting being set aside, or, more probatively, were nullities that vitiated the underlying foundation of the JRPA Proceeding. Rule 38.07(2)(d) presents a distinguishing factor pertaining solely to the hearing of the JRPA Application itself; nevertheless, it necessitates the procurement of leave from the presiding justice. Moreover, while section 9(4) of the JRPA establishes a clause paramount to the Rules of Civil Procedure, its overriding effect is restricted exclusively to procedural requirements for the appearance of the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO). Consequently, the Respondent Insurance Companies are obliged to seek judicial leave for the filing of a factum and an application record in the primary Application. This exigency exists against the backdrop of the LAT's dereliction in its duty to file the Record of Proceeding forthwith, or at all. Furthermore, the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies are concurrently required to seek leave to serve and file their responsive documentation to NOM #1 and NOM #2. Such a motion for leave must be buttressed by sworn or declared evidence demonstrating the requisite mens rea (or lack thereof) which led to the initial non-opposition of the aforementioned motions. Finally, the AGO, in a welcome communication dated January 30, 2025, has formally confirmed that participation in this matter will not be undertaken.]

Divisional Court (Registrar)

Attorney General of Canada ("AGC")

SUBJECT I: PART 2 OF 2 OF THE HYPERLINKED AND BOOKMARKED MOTION RECORD FOR APPLICANT'S NOM #2

SUBJECT II: ENCLOSURE OF THE IN FORCE DIVISIONAL COURT JRPA GUIDE AT THE MATERIAL TIME
SUBJECT III: ASSURANCE AND PROMISE THAT MY CONFIRMATION OF MOTION FOR NOM #3 WILL BE GIVEN TO THE REGISTRAR WITH A COPY TO THE RESPONDENTS ALTHOUGH THEY ARE DISENTITLED TO RECEIVE NOTICE OF ANY STEPS IN THE JRPA PROCEEDING, RECEIVE DOCUMENTS IN THE JRPA PROCEEDING, AND FILE MATERIALS ON THE JRPA APPLICATION AS PER RULE 38.07(2)(A) TO (C)

INTRODUCTION AND ADOPTED DEFINITIONS
I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence, the cumulative import of which necessitates an expeditious and judicious resolution by this Honourable Court. I tender my sincerest appreciation in limine for your valuable time and considered deliberation concerning this material correspondence and its contemporaneous enclosures, including the designated Part 2 of the Motion Record and the in force Divisional Court JRPA Guide. Acknowledging the finite, yet unequivocally valuable, resources at the Court's disposal, it is incumbent upon me to confirm that I have devoted an immense quantum of time to the exhaustive research and methodical analysis of the complex legal issues herein delineated, and their appropriate application to the intricate factual matrix of this file, thereby ensuring maximal efficiency in the judicial process. This effort is not merely about procedural compliance, but about safeguarding the integrity of the judicial review process itself, which is a cornerstone of public confidence in administrative law. The function of judicial review, as the primary mechanism for the supervisory jurisdiction of the superior courts, is to ensure that administrative bodies, such as the LAT, operate within the boundaries of their statutory mandate and adhere to the fundamental tenets of natural justice. This proceeding, therefore, is fundamentally resolution-oriented, seeking judicial pronouncements that define the legal boundaries of procedural regularity and compel adherence to the governing Rules. This is necessary to obviate the need for protracted and superfluous litigation stemming from the initial, profound procedural irregularities, and to restore the Applicant's right to an unblemished review of the administrative decision-making process.

The resolution sought in this correspondence is fundamentally resolution-oriented, aiming to secure judicial pronouncements that define the legal boundaries of procedural regularity and compel adherence to the governing Rules. This is necessary to obviate the need for protracted and superfluous litigation stemming from the initial, profound procedural irregularities. Furthermore, and in the interest of terminological precision and economy of expression, I formally adopt all definitions, whether explicitly, indirectly, or directly, contained within previously exchanged correspondence and documents forming the record, including but not limited to the Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules") and the Judicial Review Procedure Act (the "JRPA").

The present correspondence operates with a tone that is very formal, yet simultaneously gracious and fundamentally resolution-oriented, maintaining a strictly cognitive and non-emotional posture throughout its articulation, thereby ensuring the discourse remains immutably anchored in the objective reality of legal and procedural fact. This approach is paramount to facilitating the prompt administration of justice.

Status Update and Definitive Conclusions Regarding Extra-Judicial Proceedings

The Locus Standi of the Case Conference and Procedural Mens Rea

As previously communicated, please find Part 2 of 2 attached (the "Attachment"), which contains supplementary evidence integral to the Applicant's position. Subsequent to my prior communication, I have secured confirmation via the specific auto-reply received from the representative of Tribunals Ontario (the "Tribunals"), Ms. Maciel, who was the individual charged with the attempted service of the Notice of Application (the "NOA") for the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "LAT"). The confirmation of Ms. Maciel's confirmed and indefinite absence, devoid of any stipulated return date for her resumption of duties, precipitates a foundational procedural and legal impossibility regarding the requisite filing of the affidavit of service for the NOA. The successful and demonstrable service of the originating process, evidenced by a properly sworn affidavit, is not merely a formality, but a jurisdictional prerequisite (sine qua non) for the validity of all subsequent procedural steps; the absence of a competent affiant renders this fundamental step incapable of perfection, thus vitiating the procedural chain in toto.

The inescapable syllogism, therefore, is that in the complete absence of an affiant competent to execute the affidavit of service, the request by the LAT for a case conference on December 3, 2024, at approximately 3:30 p.m., was void *ab initio, possessing no legal force or effect from its purported inception. This defect is patent on the face of the record, as the Court could not have been presented with the necessary proof of jurisdiction over the Respondents. Ipso facto, it is axiomatic that no case conferences could have been lawfully or properly conducted in the complete absence of a perfected service record, as the Tribunal lacked the demonstrable jurisdiction over the parties mandated by the Rules at that material time. The consequence of this profound procedural nullity dictates that the legal status quo ante must be rigorously restored, which necessitates completely disregarding the purported extra-judicial proceedings and any directions that may have stemmed therefrom. The inherent flaw is that the Tribunal's action, however well-intentioned, fails the test of procedural vires when measured against the mandatory requirements of the Rules. A proceeding cannot be validly commenced without proof of service on the opposing party, as the court's jurisdiction over that party is derived from the fact of notice. The very concept of procedural fidelity demands this conclusion, as the mens rea (intent/knowledge) of the moving party (the Tribunal) cannot supersede the explicit dictates of the Rules concerning service. Furthermore, allowing directions derived from a void ab initio conference to stand would undermine the principle of judicial economy by injecting uncertainty into the procedural framework, inviting further litigation on collateral issues of validity.

Unavailability of Digital Recordings, Judicial Scrutiny, and Ultra Vires Actions

The substantive relief sought pertaining to the mandatory obtainment of the transcripts from those purported case conferences remains entirely extant, retaining its full legal force, especially as Madam Justice Shore has heretofore declined to judicially acknowledge the existence or content of the same. This judicial non-acknowledgement, while perhaps intended to minimize judicial entanglement in extra-procedural matters, paradoxically creates a record gap that obstructs the Applicant's ability to demonstrate the full procedural history of the dispute. The integrity of the appellate record, which must be complete and accurate, is a fundamental right guaranteed by the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness. The Applicant's right to review the totality of the administrative record, including all interactions that influence the progression of the judicial review, is not discretionary.

My due diligence efforts are continuous and exacting, seeking to compel the production of this essential documentation, which is required for a complete record of review. Furthermore, I have been demonstrably unable to obtain the Compact Disc (CD) copies of the digital recordings, notwithstanding the fact that I remitted the requisite payment to secure this material. The continuous denial of delivery, coupled with the retention of the remitted funds, constitutes a prima facie breach of contract and an affront to the principles of natural justice. It remains sub judice and highly problematic why Madam Justice Shore has ostensibly taken the position that I should be deprived of funds paid and unreturned while simultaneously being denied receipt of the digital recordings to which I am definitively entitled by the executed Request Form Undertaking of October 2025. This situation constitutes an ongoing denial of the right to access the full administrative record under section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act and is a direct impediment to the Applicant's ability to conduct effective review. The denial of this paid-for evidence, which forms part of the administrative record (however flawed), constitutes an action that may be considered ultra vires (beyond the powers) the authority conferred by the JRPA and the inherent principles of natural justice, specifically the right to a fair hearing and the ability to review the complete record without impediment. A core tenet of procedural fairness is the expectation that the fruits of a legally binding agreement (the undertaking and payment) will be delivered promptly. The denial of the full administrative record for review violates the principle of completeness, which is essential for effective appellate or supervisory review and the constitutional right to access the courts. If a thirty (30) day period was stipulated for the provision of the recordings, that period has demonstrably elapsed without adherence to the procedural covenant, constituting a breach of the undertaking. Furthermore, the argument that these were in camera proceedings does not diminish the need for transcription, as the Applicant retains the right to review the transcript for errors of natural justice, such as procedural unfairness, bias, or the failure to give proper deference. Consequently, further due diligence efforts are continuing with the Office of the Public Complaints Commissioner (the "OPCC") in relation to the compulsory securement of the recordings via Zoom or other verifiable means, ensuring the principle of audi *alteram partem (the right to be heard) is not vitiated by the withholding of the record. The Court's intervention is required to prevent a miscarriage of justice predicated upon the incomplete administrative record, and to compel the immediate release of the paid-for recordings or the return of the funds remitted.

Procedural Compliance and the Evolving Divisional Court JRPA Guide

NOM #3, the Compendium Requirement, and Procedural Symmetry

In relation to Rule 4.05.3 of the Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules"), the ultimate deadline for filing is noted to be 2:00 p.m. three days prior to the mandated hearing date of December 3, 2025. This Rule provides a clear procedural timeline which must be rigorously respected. It is further noted that if the Notice of Motion #3 (the "NOM #3") is unopposed de jure (as a matter of law), a compendium is not a mandatory prerequisite per se. Nevertheless, the Motion Record for NOM #3 has been deliberately and sufficiently hyperlinked and meticulously bookmarked in a comprehensive "compendium style," thereby proactively mitigating any administrative burden upon the Court and fulfilling the spirit, if not the strict letter, of the requirement. This proactive submission underscores the Applicant's commitment to judicial efficiency and the principle of good faith litigation. To the extent that a formal "Compendium" is not de jure required due to the presumable absence of opposition—which would necessarily be the case unless the Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT were able to secure an ancillary order in limine—I shall nonetheless include all filed documentation relevant to the hearing for NOM #3. This approach ensures procedural symmetry, eliminates the potential for a subsequent technical objection based on form, and facilitates the Court's ready access to the relevant evidentiary landscape. The purpose is to make the conclusions of the motion self-evident through the organization of the materials, thereby promoting both judicial and litigant efficiency.

The Retroactivity of Practice Guides and Lex Prospicit Non Respicit

The Divisional Court Judicial Review Procedure Act Guide (the "JRPA Guide") has undergone recent, substantive amendment, specifically in relation to hyperlinking, which necessitates that the in force version at the material time—the version which governed the Applicant's commencement of the JRPA Proceeding—be furnished to the presiding judicial officer. The legal principle of prospective application must govern this dispute, as any contrary finding would violate the right to procedural fairness. I shall presume that NOM #3 will be unopposed relative to the Confirmation of Motion required, and shall incorporate the same into the Motion Record for NOM #3 along with a physical exemplar of the JRPA Guide as it existed prior to the amendments most recently effected in 2025, or as it is demonstrably reflected in the metadata of late June 2025.
The alterations are most noticeable in that the iteration of the Guide to Judicial Review in Divisional Court not in force at the relevant time, represented as of late June or early July 2025, includes new and comprehensive sections regarding judicial case management that appear to impose new scheduling requirements:

"Case Management
Once you commence your application for judicial review or your motion for leave, there are steps that you must take regarding the schedule for the exchange of court documents and any preliminary issues. These steps are set out in the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings.
All proceedings in the Divisional Court are subject to judicial case management. The purpose of case management is to facilitate access to justice through the timely adjudication of proceedings in the Divisional Court in a cost-effective and proportional manner.
This means that you may receive written directions from a judge and a judge may direct that there will be a case conference prior to the hearing of your motion or application.
As part of this process, the time for the delivery of court materials may be determined or changed as set out in directions from the Court. Other issues may be addressed, as set out in the judge's directions. Directions are normally sent to the parties by email."

It is a self-evident legal conclusion that a non-statutory "guide" is not imbued with retroactive effect, a principle encapsulated by the ancient legal maxim lex prospicit non respicit (the law looks forward, not backward). This maxim is fundamental to the rule of law, ensuring legal certainty and fairness. Procedural rules are generally presumed to be prospective in their operation unless the language compelling retrospective application is explicit and unambiguous, a condition not met by a non-statutory practice guide. While I maintain a vigorous academic disagreement with certain elements of the language concerning case management per se contained therein, the merits of that discursive point are presently moot as the Guide cannot retroactively cure procedural defects in the case at bar, nor impose obligations that did not exist when the proceeding was initiated. I remain firmly of the view that the LAT retains the mandatory, statutory obligation to file the record of proceeding forthwith as dictated by the JRPA prior to the guide's amendments, and this statutory duty cannot be superseded by a practice direction.

Case Management Assignment: The Jurisdictional Flaw Under Rule 38.07(2)

The purported exercise of judicial authority in assigning this proceeding for case management or issuing written directions must be rigorously scrutinized against the jurisdictional pre-conditions set out in Rule 38.07(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure. This Rule governs the point at which a judge may assign a proceeding for case management and states:

"No Consent

(2) At any time on or after the filing of the first defence in a proceeding to which this Rule may apply, a regional senior judge or, subject to the direction of a regional senior judge, any judge or associate judge may assign the proceeding for case management under this Rule,

(a) on his or her own initiative; or

(b) on the request of a party or on motion if the court requires it." (Emphasis added)

The language of Rule 38.07(2) is clear and dispositive: the power to assign a proceeding for case management, whether on the Court's own initiative or upon the request of a party, is contingent upon the jurisdictional trigger event: the filing of the first defence. As established in the conclusion regarding NOM #2, the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies have demonstrably failed to file their Notices of Appearance (NOAs) or their First Defence. This failure is a matter of irrefutable record, legally corroborated by the adverse inference doctrine arising from their sustained silence and inability to cure the defect nunc pro tunc.

In the context of a Judicial Review Application, the "First Defence" is not merely an equivalent to a Statement of Defence, but is typically marked by the filing of the Respondent's Record and/or Factum, or at a minimum, the Notice of Appearance required under the Rules to acknowledge the proceeding and indicate an intention to defend the administrative body's decision. In this case, the complete absence of any responsive document that constitutes a "First Defence" means the fundamental procedural trigger required by the Rules for the commencement of case management has not been pulled. Consequently, the assignment of this proceeding for case management, and any judicial directions issued pursuant thereto, were procedurally and jurisdictionally flawed, as the prerequisite for assigning the proceeding for case management under Rule 38.07(2) had not been met. While a judge possesses the inherent authority to manage proceedings, this power cannot be permissibly exercised in contravention of a clear and mandatory procedural precondition established by the Rules themselves, which are statutory instruments authorized by the Courts of Justice Act. The action of assigning the proceeding for case management, and subsequently issuing directions based on that assignment, was void *ab initio, as it lacked the fundamental jurisdictional basis of a filed "First Defence." The Rules are designed to provide a predictable framework, and their contravention by an administrative assignment renders that assignment inherently defective, necessitating a return to the status quo ante where the Respondents are required to comply with their basic obligations before judicial management can commence.

Furthermore, even assuming, for the purpose of argument alone, that a proceeding could be assigned for case management without the requisite filing, the subsequent direction by Madam Justice Shore to assign steps to herself as a particular case management judge represents an impermissible assignment of authority. Rule 38.07(2) indicates that a judge may assign the proceeding for case management, which is purely an "assignment for case management" *per se. The assignment of all subsequent steps to a particular judge is typically reserved for the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) or the Associate Chief Justice of the SCJ—the quintessential President and Vice-President of the Divisional Court, an intermediate appellate court. This distinction is critical: the power to administratively designate a judge to take charge of a file for all purposes rests with the designated leadership of the Court, not with the individual judge. The Divisional Court, unlike the general SCJ, is a court of intermediate appeal and its internal administration must adhere strictly to the established protocols for judicial assignment. While a judge may be designated as the case management judge after the initial assignment is properly made, they cannot unilaterally self-assign the entirety of the proceedings to themselves and simultaneously issue binding directions absent the jurisdictional foundation (the filed defence). Madam Justice Shore's purported written directions or order directing a case conference prior to the hearing of the JRPA Application are therefore without lawful procedural foundation, reinforcing the Applicant's argument that these extra-judicial proceedings are a complete legal nullity. The principle of delegatus non potest delegare (a delegate cannot delegate) may not strictly apply here, but the principle that judicial authority must be exercised in accordance with established rules of assignment is paramount to maintaining institutional integrity.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Case Center language within the prior JRPA Guide unequivocally stipulated that I was entitled to an invitation to Case Center upon the initiation of the JRPA Application, an entitlement that was denied in this proceeding:
"Case Center is an online document sharing platform which allows the Divisional Court to electronically view your court materials. The Divisional Court uses Case Center for both remote and in-person hearings. After you have brought an application or motion for leave, you will receive an email to register for Case Center and upload your materials. There is no fee to use Case Center".

The non-compliance inherent in the failure to extend such an invitation constitutes a systemic deficiency in the administration of the file, representing a matter of profound disappointment and, more critically, a denial of procedural parity with litigants whose proceedings were administered correctly. This denial of electronic access has forced the Applicant to engage in more cumbersome, paper-based processes, impeding the efficient acta (acts/transactions) of the litigation. This systemic deficiency is formally directed towards Madam Justice Shore's oversight of the matter. The quoted language under the "Case Management" section of the Divisional Court Guide to Judicial Review, which was not in force at the relevant time, serves as unequivocal proof that the JRPA Guide did not exist in that specific iteration at the time of the dispute, highlighting the fluid procedural environment. Consequently, the procedural irregularities witnessed here are symptomatic of a transition period, and it appears this NOM #3 and the attendant JRPA Application may represent the last vestiges of a "dying breed" of proceedings predating the current, formalized procedural regime of judicial case management. This non-compliance is highly prejudicial, forcing the Applicant to shoulder unnecessary burdens of manual document management and service, a condition not suffered by those whose files were administered correctly via the Case Center platform.

The Hierarchy of Law and the Limits of Inherent Jurisdiction

Upon a balance of probabilities, the quoted language attributed to Madam Justice Shore may well have reflected her desired procedural status quo at the time of the dispute; however, judicial preference does not possess the force of the governing law. I shall therefore make express reference to the legal principles concerning retroactivity versus retrospectivity versus the proactive force of legislative and regulatory instruments, and the impact upon procedural due process.
Legal Hierarchy of Authority:

1. Statute (Judicial Review Procedure Act): Supreme expression of legislative will, binding on the Court and all parties.
2. Regulation (Rules of Civil Procedure): Statutory instrument authorized by the Courts of Justice Act, governing the conduct of all civil proceedings.

3. Practice Direction/Guide (Divisional Court JRPA Guide): Administrative tool to aid in the application of the Rules, possessing no statutory authority to override the Statute or the Rules, and therefore having only persuasive, not prescriptive, force.

It remains my substantiated view that particular provisions of the current Divisional Court JRPA Guide are not perfectly aligned with the Rules, nor with the enabling Judicial Review Procedure Act (the "JRPA" or the "statute"), nor with the foundational common law. The JRPA Guide is not a regulation, is not subsidiary legislation, and does not constitute "source law"; its function is descriptive, not prescriptive, and must yield to the higher sources of law. As such, it is subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure, which are in turn subject to the statute, the ultimate interpretation of which is subject to the common law. In the event of an irreconcilable conflict between the common law and the principles of equity, equity prevails (lex ferenda). Notwithstanding this hierarchy, inherent jurisdiction, while vast and essential for the functioning of the Court, cannot be permissibly utilized to override clear Legislative will as expressed in a statute or its attendant regulations; to do so would be an act of legislative ultra vires and an overreach of judicial authority, potentially resulting in an appealable error and a denial of due process. The reliance on an administrative Guide to retroactively impose case management, particularly one that undermines a mandatory prerequisite of the Rules, is an application of lex obliqua (oblique law) rather than lex recta (straight law). The maxim lex prospicit non respicit confirms that the Applicant's procedural rights must be assessed based on the law and rules in force at the time the cause of action accrued and the proceeding was commenced, not by subsequently amended administrative directions.

Confirmation of Procedural Diligence

I provide the preceding exposition to confirm the rationale for the deliberate omission of hyperlinks in the JRPA Guide references within the Motion Record served upon the relevant Respondents and Non-Respondents, as the inclusion would have improperly directed the reader to the incorrect, amended JRPA Guide. For the Court's convenience, I confirm that the correct, in force version of the Divisional Court JRPA Guide (as applicable at the material time) is enclosed with this correspondence, along with Part 2 of 2 of the Motion Record. This meticulous approach ensures procedural integrity and avoids any possible confusion regarding the governing procedural framework at the material time, whilst maintaining meticulous attention to ensuring perfected service and notice, notwithstanding the potential relief offered by the provisions of Rule 38.07. All such steps are taken out of an abundance of caution and are undertaken without any concurrent or implied waiver of my substantive or procedural rights, which are preserved in toto.

Conclusion on NOM #2 and NOM #3 and Confirmation of Motion Compliance

I note, regarding the Draft Order for NOM #2, that I was operating under the misapprehension, a misconception consistent with my post-March 2025 discovery evidence, that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies had successfully filed their Notices of Appearances (the "NOAs"). This assumption was demonstrably not the factual status quo, as corroborated by the adverse inference doctrine. Approximately one month has now elapsed since I sought definitive proof or disproof of the filing and service of their NOAs. The complete absence of proffered evidence, combined with the subsequent inability of the parties to file nunc pro tunc (now for then), leads to the unequivocal conclusion that the NOAs were never filed, a finding which must be drawn by the Court in the interest of procedural clarity. Furthermore, the LAT's request for a case conference was procedurally predicated upon the "filing" of a First Defence at the time of the request, a requirement that was not met, as detailed extensively in the analysis of Rule 38.07(2). The Respondent Insurance Companies conspicuously refrained from participating in the process concerning potential preliminary issues. Consequently, in the absence of the filing of a First Defence or any NOA, the Respondents could not have lawfully received notice of any procedural steps or documentation within this JRPA Proceeding, thereby rendering their formal participation severely curtailed.

Moreover, in light of the requirements under Rule 37.10.1 regarding the Confirmation of Motion, I note the following procedural reality:

> "Confirmation of Motion
> 37.10.1 (1) A party who makes a motion on notice to another party shall confer or attempt to confer with the other party and shall, not later than 2 p.m. five days before the hearing date,
> (a) give the registrar a confirmation of motion (Form 37B) by,
> (i) sending it by email to the court office, or > (ii) leaving it at the court office; and
> (b) send a copy of the confirmation of motion to the other party by email."

I submit that, pursuant to the unique and compelling factual acta herein, the procedural landscape was definitively established not merely by the filing and payment for the Certificate of Perfection, but ipso facto by the subsequent, protracted cessation of any formal or active participation by the Respondents. This confluence of events—the complete perfection of the record antecedent to the Listing for Hearing—has consequentially precluded the formal, regulatory definition of opposing "parties" as contemplated by the Rules of Civil Procedure. The extended and considerable delay in the judicial process has rendered the appearance of any putative Respondent moot for the purposes of immediate procedural determination.

The absence of the requisite procedural condition, specifically the lack of a Listing for Hearing, combined with the de facto non-appearance of Respondents subsequent to the completion of the Certificate of Perfection, dictates a finding that the strict application of subsection 37.10.1(b) is presently vitiated and rendered nugatory. It is a fundamental legal principle that the strictures of the Rules cannot be imposed where the factual and procedural basis for their operation does not, in effect, exist. My conclusion, therefore, becomes self-evident: the extant Rule 37.10.1(b) is, under these singular circumstances, utterly superfluous.

The status quo ante prevailing at the material time is demonstrably reflected in the then-operative Divisional Court Judicial Review Practice Guide, a relevant regulatory instrument.
This Guide articulated a precise circumscription on the scope of mandatory judicial case management, unequivocally stating that: "Most motions and applications for judicial review in the Divisional Court are subject to judicial case management." The employment of the quantifying adjective "Most" is, prima facie, determinative; it prohibits an interpretation that would compel the absolute and universal application of case management to all matters.

The judicial pronouncement articulated in the Intake Court Endorsement [sic] dated February 3, 2025, whereby a mandatory and universal proposition was purportedly adduced, exhibits a profound discrepancy with the official and contemporaneous regulatory framework. It remains beyond my comprehension from whence this verbatim quotation was derived, yet the resulting necessity for comprehensive, painstaking research—a dedication spanning from May 2025 to the present date—has been compelling.

I further submit that the highly specialized and erudite registry staff, including Ms. Gentles with whom I became acquainted during the summer and autumn of 2025, would have possessed an intimate and unequivocal knowledge of the content of the Rules of Civil Procedure and the Divisional Court Practice Directions. Their expertise would preclude any assumption that such universal and mandatory language was contained within the official regulatory instruments. Consequently, the application of such a directive, if it purports to impose an obligation outside the express terms of the Rules or the Guide, is ultra vires the foundational procedural authority.

I must respectfully note that, in other less constrained procedural contexts—specifically, those not characterized by such immense delays and the consequent crystallization of the procedural record without opposing participation—I would deem it necessary to challenge the language presently contained within the current Divisional Court JRPA Guide, particularly the provisions effective June 2025. Nevertheless, this reservation of jurisprudential contention is a question for a future determination and is not requisite for the resolution of the matter in limine.

The requirement to "confer or attempt to confer with the other party" presupposes the existence of a legally recognized opposing party who has formally attested to their participation by filing a defence. Since the Respondents are technically in default and have not filed the requisite documentation to become formal "parties" in the sense contemplated by this Rule, the obligation to confer is diminished, though not entirely extinguished. The Applicant's conferral obligations cannot force an unrepresented or defaulted party to engage, nor can a non-response be deemed an agreement to a motion's content.

However, in the utmost spirit of professional courtesy and respecting the Court’s time and the interests of others, I have attempted to confer with the Respondents and Non-Respondents per se through the various notifications provided. I will now proceed to give the registrar the Confirmation of Motion in the required Form 37B by sending it via email to the court office, thereby satisfying the core obligation under Rule 37.10.1(1)(a). This proactive step ensures the Court is fully informed of the Applicant's intention to proceed on the scheduled date, thus promoting judicial efficiency despite the Respondents' procedural omissions. Furthermore, recognizing the interest of the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) to be heard at the hearing of the JRPA Application, and to maintain transparency, I will provide copies of the Confirmation of Motion to the Non-Respondents, ensuring that all interested entities are duly apprised of the Applicant's intention to proceed on the scheduled date.
Irrespective of the ultimate disposition of NOM #3, transcripts from the case conferences are imperatively required. This requirement stems from the need for judicial oversight and the ability of the Applicant to exercise his right of appellate review; the alleged in camera nature of those proceedings does not defeat the right to a complete record for judicial scrutiny. The principle of accountability dictates that the record must be capable of being reviewed. My Confirmation of Motion shall subsequently follow to ensure a singular, cohesive motion record. My position regarding the lack of opposition to the same will be predicted upon a de *jure conclusion (a legal certainty dictated by the lack of filing and the subsequent lack of jurisdiction for case management), as opposed to a de *facto one (a mere factual observation). The legal conclusions arising from the procedural defaults are clear, and I have now drawn the necessary distinction with the required specificity. Those procedural defaults remain uncorrected without repentance or explanation.

I reserve the unqualified right to rely upon the entire exposition contained in this comprehensive correspondence for any lawful purpose whatsoever, inclusive of the future determination of costs, particularly in the context of the pervasive procedural irregularities and the lack of response from opposing parties documented herein. The systemic failures and procedural defects that have necessitated this extensive motion practice—including the failure of service, the void ab initio case conferences, the denial of the paid-for record, and the unauthorized invocation of Rule 38.07(2)—constitute exceptional circumstances justifying an award of substantial indemnity costs against the defaulting parties to deter future similar breaches of procedural fidelity.

SUBJECT: Enclosure of the NOM #3 Motion Record with Extensive and Meticulous Hyperlinking and Bookmarking within the Table of Contents, Tabs 1 to 22, with Emphasis Involving the Factum
Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I. TRANSMITTAL OF INAUGURAL COMPONENT SUBMISSION AND EVIDENTIARY AUTHENTICATION

As has been previously and unequivocally undertaken by the undersigned, the instant communication constitutes the formal transmittal of the inaugural component (Part I of II) of the overarching legal submission that will ultimately define the parameters of this proceeding. It is herein confirmed that the appended Factum, which serves as the principal argumentative instrument, has been rendered with a degree of meticulousness that warrants specific judicial consideration and mention, thereby facilitating the subsequent adjudication. The instrument incorporates a comprehensive system of internal hyper-citations that correspond precisely and seamlessly to the requisite Tabs and page enumerations of the voluminous and compendious evidentiary record. This sophisticated referencing structure is deliberately employed to ensure the preservation of analytical continuity and to expedite the comprehension of the judicial officer.
Furthermore, external linkages have been duly embedded within the textual fabric of the Factum, constituting the authoritative and jurisprudential bases for every material legal assertion contained within the instrument. This integration ensures that the submitted materials are not merely assertions in vacuo, but are robustly grounded in the prevailing corpus juris and relevant statutory enactments. The submission, by virtue of this intricate compilation and cross-referencing, renders the critical issues immediately and incontrovertibly justiciable, compelling the necessary judicial attention to the merits of the proposition advanced.

II. FORMAL ATTESTATION OF SERVICE, DEEMED ACCEPTANCE, AND PROCEDURAL ACQUIESCENCE

It is hereby formally and with requisite solemnity attested, as of the current date of execution of this document, that the process of service has been duly and properly effected upon all designated persons or entities, strictly pursuant to the procedural mandates stipulated in the Rules of Civil Procedure and/or any ancillary Rules of Practice governing these proceedings. In furtherance of the paramount principle of full and candid disclosure to the Court, it is confirmed that a multiplicity of various recipients have provided an acknowledgment of receipt, primarily, though not exclusively, in the form of automated electronic replies, which nevertheless fulfill the threshold requirement for proof of delivery.
Crucially, a material assertion, with profound procedural implications, is advanced: None of the designated Non-Respondents, within the established style of cause, have registered any formal controversy, objection, or substantive dispute regarding the facts, assertions, or evidentiary material proffered for the Court's contemplation. This deliberate, calculated absence of opposition or formal rebuttal, ipso facto, gives immediate rise to the necessary prima facie presumption of an implicit and legally binding acceptance of both the efficacy of the service process and the underlying substantive accuracy of the materials transmitted. This non-action is not construed as mere passivity, but rather as an affirmative procedural acquiescence, which compels the deduction that all served instruments are deemed procedurally sound and materially accurate, thereby constituting a fundamental and irrevocable procedural waiver of the right to contest the initial introduction of these materials in limine.

III. SYLLOGISTIC EXTRAPOLATION ON JUDICIAL SERVICE AND DOCTRINE OF AGENCY

Of paramount significance is the formal attestation regarding the demonstrable efficacy of service upon the Honourable Madam Justice Shore, the judicial officer seized of this matter. It is herein confirmed that Mr. Sinnadurai, Esquire, a barrister and solicitor, and his professional assistant, Ms. Kwok—with whom a professional acquaintance has been established since the summer of MMXXV and subsequently—have not, at any juncture, registered any dispute concerning the propriety or the legal sufficiency of service effected upon Her Ladyship through their office. This service, it is syllogistically and logically posited, is validated by the undeniable professional retention of Mr. Sinnadurai as retained counsel to Her Ladyship in the context of this specific file and/or the related proceedings.

The established doctrine of agency dictates that service upon retained counsel constitutes effective service upon the client, and in this judicial context, this principle stands unassailable. Therefore, the antecedent delivery of duplicative documents to the respective Managers of Court Operations for the Divisional Court and the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) at 361 University Avenue—which constitutes the non-Divisional Court location of the Honourable Madam Justice Shore's chambers—is, by this confirmation of counsel's authority, deemed an ultra vires and superfluous administrative act. The independent undertaking of such delivery would be entirely lacking the necessary legal actus or practical utility, as the matter of notification and receipt has been definitively concluded through counsel. The status quo ante—the state of procedural sufficiency—is thereby maintained solely by this singular, effective, and procedurally compliant service upon Her Ladyship's authorized representative.

IV. CONCLUSION AND COMPULSORY PRESUMPTION OF NON-OPPOSITION

In the eventuality that no substantive motions—including, but not limited to, applications for directions, motions to strike, or any request for interim or interlocutory relief that might impede the scheduled progression of this matter—are duly filed by either the Respondent Insurance Companies and/or the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) within the requisite temporal framework established under the Rules for the proper service and subsequent commencement of such applications, then the undersigned shall, in application of established and compelling legal principles, invoke the formidable presumption of non-opposition with respect to Notice of Motion No. 3 (NOM #3). This presumption is not merely ceremonial; it constitutes a definitive legal entitlement, thereby rendering NOM #3 uncontested and ripe for immediate disposition by the Court based exclusively upon the submitted materials.

A certified true copy of the within Transmittal and formal Attestation shall be forthwith remitted to all designated persons or entities as Non-Respondents. This serves as supplemental evidence of service and provides the requisite and explicit notification of the procedural consequence—the inevitable invocation of the foregoing presumptions—ensuring that no subsequent objection pertaining to lack of notification may be entertained in limine by the Court.

Respectfully Submitted,
Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)

Style of Proceeding: McLean v. TDHA et al.

Document Description: Notice of Motion No. 3 Motion Record with Hyperlinking and Bookmarking

Party: Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM) (mcleansettlement@gmail.com)

TO: The Respondent Insurance Entities (TD Home and Auto Insurance Company, Security National Insurance Company, TD General Insurance Company) The Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) The Attorney General of Ontario (AGO)

COPIED TO: The Divisional Court The Attorney General of Canada (AGC)

SUBJECT: ENCLOSURE OF THE COMPREHENSIVE NOTICE OF MOTION NO. 3 MOTION RECORD, INCORPORATING METICULOUS HYPERLINKING AND BOOKMARKING ACROSS THE ENTIRETY OF THE TABLE OF CONTENTS AND TABS 1 THROUGH 22, WITH PARTICULAR EMPHASIS UPON THE FACTUM, THEREBY FACILITATING JUDICIAL REVIEW AND EXPEDITING THE DETERMINATION OF SUBSTANTIVE MATTERS.

I. INTRODUCTION AND CONVEYANCE OF MATERIAL

The present correspondence functions as the formal instrument effecting the transmission of the Notice of Motion No. 3 Motion Record of the Applicant, Mr. Kevin A. McLean. This extensive evidentiary and argumentative repository has been prepared with scrupulous, even obsessive, attention to detail, manifesting as an exceptionally robust system of hyperlinking and bookmarking meticulously integrated within the electronic document's architecture. This intricate framework specifically traverses the entirety of the Table of Contents and the sequential contents housed within Tabs 1 to 22. Particular diligence has been exercised in ensuring that the Factum contained therein—the central legal submission of the Applicant—is comprehensively and recurrently cross-referenced with maximum precision to the evidentiary material, thereby establishing a foundation of undeniable factual nexus between the legal submissions and the primary evidentiary foundation.

The preparation of this record embodies a paramount commitment to the principles of judicial economy and procedural transparency, which are recognized as foundational pillars of the Canadian justice system. The exhaustive hyperlinking and bookmarking are not merely superficial aesthetic enhancements, but rather a sophisticated, functional mechanism devised to afford this Honourable Court immediate, seamless, and unerringly precise navigability through the voluminous documentation. The meticulous cross-referencing establishes an unimpeachable factual nexus, thereby minimizing the judicial expenditure of time requisite for the laborious, meticulous verification of every single citation and evidentiary reference. This proactive adherence to the highest echelon of best practices in digital litigation manifests the Applicant's profound respect for the scarce resources of the court system and the imperative for an expeditious, reasoned, and procedurally unimpeachable determination. The conveyance of these electronic copies, executed as a profound gesture of bona fides and professional obligation, underscores the gravity attributed to the unimpeded and accurate apprehension of the material facts and the complex legal propositions proffered. The comprehensive, self-contained nature of this document is ultimately intended to facilitate the Court’s judicious review and to ensure the most efficient possible disposition of this judicial review proceeding, precluding any plausible argument of procedural deficiency or informational opacity.

II. OBSERVATIONS ON THE OCCP PORTAL AND FILING REQUIREMENTS

It is noted that the Case Centre functionality within the MyOntario portal has been duly activated in relation to the Ontario Civil Claims Portal (OCCP), signifying a pivotal and necessary evolution in the digitalization of the Ontario superior courts. This transition requires a corresponding elevation in the technical proficiency of all litigants. Consequent upon this institutional transition, necessary steps shall be undertaken forthwith to achieve complete and proficient familiarization with the intricate procedural and operational dictates of the said portal, ensuring a complete and in limine comprehension of all associated technical specifications, security protocols, and upload idiosyncrasies. This is to ensure strict and unimpeachable compliance with all relevant Rules of Civil Procedure, attendant practice directions, and specialized electronic filing requirements recently promulgated by the Chief Justice.

Furthermore, profound recognition is accorded to the stringent temporal mandate governing the uploading of all exhibits, evidence, and authorities intended for reliance during the scheduled forthcoming written hearing. The temporal exigency—an acute and pressing demand—requires that this complete, compiled upload must be consummated approximately three (3) clear, full days prior to the established date of the hearing, specifically by the two o’clock post-meridiem (2:00 p.m.) deadline. This procedural deadline is understood not as a flexible suggestion or an administrative guideline, but as an unforgiving, absolute threshold. Failure to comply with this electronic filing requirement shall ipso facto jeopardize the admissibility and, consequently, the judicial consideration of the requisite documentation, thereby incurring the non-negligible risk of procedural forfeiture and severely compromising the Applicant's substantive rights to due process. Strict, absolute, and demonstrable adherence to this technological and chronological imperative is therefore guaranteed by the Applicant, ensuring no procedural deficiency shall be imputed to this moving party.

III. JURISPRUDENTIAL CONTEXT AND PROCEDURAL IMPERATIVE

A fundamental jurisprudential principle dictates that a party alleging mala fides or fraud must prosecute its claim within the procedural ambit of the specific proceeding where the alleged fraudulent conduct originated or where the resultant administrative decision was rendered. The jurisprudential foundation for the selection of this forum—the Divisional Court via a JRPA Application—rests upon the established doctrine of procedural propriety, which rigorously constrains attempts at a collateral attack upon prior judgments or administrative determinations. This principle ensures the orderly administration of justice by preventing multiple proceedings challenging the same root issues.

Notwithstanding the potential for a more financially lucrative quantum of damages potentially obtainable through a direct petition sounding in the egregious elements of fraud—a course analogous to the specialized fraud litigation procedural mechanisms extant in the Province of British Columbia—the immutable dictate of Ontario procedural law prevails. This jurisdiction mandates that any challenge predicated upon allegations of mala fides, systemic irregularity, or ultra vires conduct (action taken without legal authority), particularly those possessing the highly prejudicial hallmarks of a fundamental vitiation of process (akin to the requisite standard for mens rea in a criminal context, applied here analogously to corporate or administrative intent), must be formally and singularly adjudicated within the original proceeding or via the prescribed mechanisms of judicial oversight, such as judicial review. Therefore, the prevailing Ontario procedure dictates that the instant JRPA Application is confirmed, a fortiori, as the procedurally correct, statutorily sanctioned, and unavoidable legal container within which the documentation requisite to expose and remedy the alleged ultra vires conduct and subsequent fraud must be definitively filed, addressed, and resolved by the superior courts of jurisdiction. The utilization of this JRPA, therefore, constitutes a meticulous adherence to the established lex fori (law of the forum).

IV. IMPLICATIONS OF NON-FILING OF NOTICES OF APPEARANCE

It is again formally underscored, for the benefit of the Respondent parties and the judicial record, that the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) have not yet duly filed and delivered their respective Notices of Appearance in this proceeding. The current procedural posture of these entities is consequently drawn into sharp and unambiguous relief by their sustained omission to comply with the mandated initial filing requirements, as set out in the relevant Rules. This sustained absence constitutes a definitive procedural bar, which may preclude their subsequent participation in the substantive hearing of this matter, unless cured by extraordinary judicial dispensation.

Should these parties subsequently determine that a participatory role is desired, or should they seek to make submissions concerning the Applicant's motion, it shall become incumbent upon them to seek formal leave to appear by way of a substantive, documented motion to the Divisional Court. The grant of such extraordinary relief is profoundly discretionary and is strictly predicated upon a demonstration of compelling merit, the absence of any demonstrable prejudice to the Applicant, and the provision of a satisfactory, exhaustive, and credible explanation for the antecedent failure to adhere to the established filing deadlines. This strict procedural sine qua non is essential for the preservation of the integrity and predictability of the litigation schedule and ensures that the status quo ante—the legal position of non-participation and the attendant consequence of limited rights—is not unilaterally disturbed without judicial oversight. The Court's supervisory function is robustly invoked to ensure that such procedural omissions are addressed rigorously and formally, thereby maintaining the fairness and predictability essential to the just administration of justice.

V. RESERVATION OF RIGHTS AND CONCLUSION

The Applicant hereby expressly reserves all rights to rely upon this specific correspondence, as an unequivocal statement of procedural position and intent, for any and all lawful purposes throughout the remaining tenure of this litigation and any derivative proceedings, including its potential tender as evidence of procedural notification.

As previously articulated, and out of an abundance of caution, Part 1 and Part 2 of the meticulously hyperlinked and bookmarked Motion Record shall follow this transmittal as a separate electronic delivery. This division of files is a technical necessity owing to the maximum size constraints imposed by email servers for single attachments.

Sincere appreciation is hereby extended for the professional consideration and immediate attention afforded to this critical material, the prompt review of which is essential to the timely advancement of this judicial review and unravelling the errors that have spawned from Shore J.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose including the making of the NOM #3 one week ago along with meticulous courtesy notice and service of all documents.

Sincerely,

/s/ Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)

SUBJECT II: AMPLIFICATION OF THE EXIGENT CIRCUMSTANCES NECESSITATING IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION OF THE APPLICANT'S NOTICE OF MOTION (NOM #3) DUE TO FURTHER ACTS OF FRAUD AND MALFEASANCE CONCERNING PERSONAL PROPERTY AND INFORMATION

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I. Introduction, Preliminary Adoptions, and Procedural Ratio

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank the Recipients in advance for the time and consideration they dedicate to this correspondence and its attachments, which are incorporated herein by reference and/or inclusion. It is fully appreciated that the Recipients operate with finite, yet profoundly valuable, professional and institutional resources, which is precisely why the Applicant has undertaken immense and fastidious effort to research the salient legal issues herein and apply them comprehensively to the extant factual matrix. This detailed approach is not merely an exercise in rhetorical flourish but an attempt to mitigate any potential confusion, ambiguity, or procedural locus standi challenge that might otherwise burden the judicial process and the Recipients' professional obligations. The central procedural ratio of this document is the demonstration of both diligent compliance, through the provision of the Affidavit, and the immediate, escalating need for judicial protection against the egregious acta being perpetrated. This dual emphasis serves to underscore the Applicant's good faith while simultaneously placing the onus of responsibility for the ongoing crisis upon the opposing parties and the relevant judicial administration.

The Applicant adopts all definitions and conventions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence and all documentation contained within the index to the Applicant's NOM #3 motion record (the "Motion Record"). Specifically, the Applicant provides the following definitions for the purposes of precise legal articulation and consistent terminology throughout the Within Proceeding:

i. Affidavit of Service (the "Affidavit");
ii. Notice of Motion (the "NOM");
iii. Toronto-Dominion Insurance Group of Automotive Insurance Companies (the "TDI");
iv. Further acts of fraud involving my stolen property (the "TDI Karat Theft of this week");
v. Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules");
vi. Courts of Justice Act (the "Act");
vii. McLean v. TDHA et al (the "Within Proceeding");
viii. Privacy legislation, including but not limited to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (the "PIPEDA"), and all analogous provincial statutes (the "Privacy Regime");
ix. The agent of the Respondent Insurance Companies, as he once was by LSO Directory, engaged in fraudulent impersonation (the "Epstein Cole LLP Client").

II. Substantive Provision of Documentation and Evidentiary Efficacy: The Nunc Pro Tunc Principle

This correspondence serves as the formal transmittal mechanism for the un-notarized or un-commissioned Affidavit (Affidavit #28) pertaining to the service of documentation in the Within Proceeding. The Affidavit is appended hereto and its contents are incorporated in extenso as if fully restated herein, thereby establishing a formal nexus between the act of service and the judicial record. The provision of this documentation, although presently un-commissioned, does not diminish its inherent factual veracity, which is sworn to by the Applicant. It is a demonstrable commitment to transparency and timely disclosure, reserving the right to file the formally commissioned document nunc pro tunc—literally, "now for then"—a judicial doctrine utilized to remedy procedural omissions where the delay is minimal and does not prejudice the opposing parties (of which there are none). The service of this un-commissioned instrument immediately achieves the substantial compliance required for procedural advancement.

The submission of this Affidavit, notwithstanding its temporary un-commissioned status, is effectuated for multi-purposed utility, primarily to establish prima facie evidence of service as required by the Rules, specifically Rule 16, and to delineate the immutable chronological progression of the Within Proceeding. This preemptive submission is critical; it ensures that the evidentiary foundation for the subsequent procedural steps, including the hearing of the NOM #3, is robustly established and available for the Recipients' immediate perusal and instruction.

Furthermore, it pre-emptively addresses and vitiates any potential procedural challenges regarding timely notification of all interested parties, thereby eliminating opportunities for delay based on technical non-compliance which could, in turn, frustrate the ends of justice and exacerbate the Applicant's ongoing prejudice. The Applicant operates on the principle of uberrima fides (utmost good faith), providing evidence even if a formal technicality is pending, to accelerate the judicial process. This transparent disclosure of the completed service acta mandates that the Recipients cannot plead lack of notice or surprise regarding the impending filing of the Motion Record or the substantive arguments contained within the NOM #3.

III. Exigent Circumstances and the Necessitas for NOM #3: The Constitutional Dimension of Harm and Suspicion

The provision of the aforementioned Affidavit is rendered all the more exigent and pressing in consequence of the egregious and subsequent TDI Karat Theft of this week. This new and reprehensible sequence of events involves further unauthorized access, manipulation, and deprivation concerning the Applicant's personal information (the "Personal Information"), confidential information, personal health information, and sensitive personal information. The continuity of such calculated deprivation and unauthorized access necessitates an immediate judicial response, confirming that the issues at the heart of the litigation are dynamically deteriorating and that the Respondents (or their affiliates) continue to exert an unauthorized dominion over the Applicant's private sphere. This phenomenon signifies a distinct escalation in the perceived risk to the Applicant's safety and proprietary interests, moving beyond mere financial damages to encompassing fundamental liberty and privacy concerns enshrined within Canadian jurisprudence and quasi-constitutional documents. The judiciary's authority must be exercised in the affirmative to arrest this negative trajectory and re-establish the lawful status quo ante.

Such unauthorized acta directly and severely contravene the fundamental tenets of privacy legislation, including the PIPEDA and the broader Privacy Regime, and the Applicant's status quo ante rights concerning the inviolability of private dominion. The persistence of these unlawful activities, purportedly perpetrated ipso facto against the Applicant, incontrovertibly furnishes additional, compelling evidence that the underlying issues giving rise to the Within Proceeding are not merely historical infractions, susceptible to remedial measures over an extended timeline, but represent an ongoing and deleterious campaign of malfeasance.

Crucially, while the Applicant maintains a rigorous decorum and refrains from unsupported conjecture concerning the precise orchestrators of the current acta, the timing of this new deprivation is deemed most suspicious. The only established and known facts are: (1) the identity of the initial de facto thief, (2) his unequivocal agency tie to the Respondent Insurance Companies (the TDI entities), and (3) the subsequent, clear instance of impersonation executed by the Epstein Cole LLP Client. These facts construct a compelling circumstantial narrative that necessitates urgent investigation and judicial constraint. This ongoing pattern of conduct exponentially amplifies the irreparable harm that the Applicant continues to suffer, moving the matter from one of ordinary dispute resolution to one demanding extraordinary interim and injunctive relief to prevent the complete erosion of proprietary control over personal data. The very integrity of the judicial process is arguably implicated when parties demonstrate such a patent disregard for proprietary and informational boundaries during the pendency of active litigation, manifesting a brazen attempt to circumvent or undermine the authority of the Court. The Applicant posits that this conduct exhibits a sophisticated extrapolation of prior, lesser infractions into a concerted, high-gravity acta demanding judicial scrutiny sine mora (without delay).

IV. Obligation of Mitigation and Procedural Finality: The Equitable Duty

To the extent that any Respondents or their duly authorized agents possess knowledge of this unconscionable conduct and are vested with the ability, power, or operational control to interdict or cease the same, it is requested with the utmost seriousness that active and immediate steps be taken to mitigate the ongoing harm. This active duty of mitigation is a foundational principle of equity and civil responsibility, extending beyond passive cessation to requiring affirmative measures to claw back or neutralize the unlawful informational control. Any willful omission to act in the face of known, ongoing breaches, particularly where such breaches involve sensitive information protected by the Privacy Regime, shall be considered a compounding factor, evidencing a corporate or institutional mens rea in the Applicant's pursuit of aggravated and punitive remedies. The Recipients are hereby put on formal notice of this escalating exposure to adverse findings predicated upon the doctrine of respondeat superior (let the master answer).

Furthermore, the Applicant affirms the procedural finality regarding the evidentiary status of the service: This Affidavit of Service, to be commissioned shortly and without delay, will be formally and irrevocably included under the remaining tab of the Motion Record, subsequent to which the entirety of the Motion Record will be filed with the Court as such. The function of this filing is to ensure comprehensive documentary submission well in advance of the judicial hearing date. A complete and comprehensive copy of the same, including the duly commissioned Affidavit, will be served concurrently upon the Non-Respondents who have already been served with prior documentation in the Within Proceeding, thereby satisfying the procedural imperative of complete documentary dissemination to all interested parties. This meticulous approach ensures that all parties, whether designated as Respondents or Non-Respondents, possess the full evidentiary context required to prepare for the substantive hearing of the NOM #3.

V. Legal Syllogism and Conclusion: The Mandate of Judicial Alacrity

It is a core syllogism that judicial intervention becomes an absolute necessitas when non-judicial entities engage in a continuous course of action that is ultra vires their lawful mandate and which manifests an inherent mens rea—a guilty or deliberate mind—to disregard the Applicant's entrenched justiciable rights. The deliberate and repeated nature of the alleged infractions, extending into the current week, provides a strong extrapolation that the Respondents' activities are calculated, volitional, and systematic, rather than merely negligent or accidental administrative failures. This animus necessitates a judicial remedy of a protective and pre-emptive nature, rather than a mere compensatory one, to prevent further proliferation of the alleged harm. The Court is therefore urged to consider the protective dimensions of the relief sought in NOM #3 as being paramount to the curative, emphasizing the doctrine of irreversible judicial protection.

The factual extrapolations flowing from the TDI Karat Theft of this week demonstrate that the core relief sought by the NOM #3—which fundamentally concerns the preservation of rights, the cessation of unlawful processes, and the maintenance of evidentiary purity—is not merely desirable, but is now a matter of acute and immediate judicial necessity. The current situation demands an adjudication ex parte if the initial circumstances warrant such protective measures, followed by inter partes proceedings at the earliest judicial opportunity, lest the Respondents benefit from the temporal delay inherent in standard scheduling and thereby consummate their alleged unlawful objectives, rendering the Court's future orders irrelevant.

As this NOM #3 was made this week on Monday, the timing of the fraudulent conduct on Tuesday, November 18, 2025, is a pattern as the service of the Motion Record was thereafter.

The further investigations currently underway concerning the TDI Karat Theft of this week shall, without a scintilla of doubt, serve only to buttress the Applicant's assertions of systemic and ongoing breach, providing granular evidentiary detail to the Court. Consequently, the NOM #3 must be prioritized on the judicial docket to address these accumulating and compounding harms in limine (at the threshold). The failure to expeditiously address the substantive legal issues and the underlying causative mechanisms that permit such ongoing breaches risks the judicial validation of an unlawful status quo and potentially renders the ultimate judgment nugatory—a hollow victory devoid of practical effect that severely undermines the purpose of the Act. This would constitute a profound miscarriage of justice that the Applicant seeks strenuously to avoid through this detailed and urgent correspondence.

The conclusions drawn herein are thus rendered self-evident: the necessity of the NOM #3 has been logarithmically elevated by the Respondents' latest purported acta, placing a definitive and urgent onus upon the Recipients to acknowledge the amplified gravity and inherent procedural complexity of the Within Proceeding. The immediate scheduling and contemplation of the relief sought are prerequisites for restoring the equitable balance between the litigating parties and ensuring that justice is not merely promised, but substantively delivered with alacrity and finality.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

I. INTRODUCTORY PROLEGOMENA AND TRANSMISSION OF ACTA

This formal, definitive, and profoundly weighty correspondence is hereby dispatched in rigorous and unwavering fulfillment of the antecedent undertaking to submit the Applicant's voluminous, complex, and dispositive Notice of Motion No. 3 (NOM #3) Motion Record. This compendium is inclusive of all supplementary documentary and exhaustive evidentiary materials which fundamentally and directly pertain to the above-referenced judicial review proceeding. The intrinsic gravity and the consequential implications of the lis pendens—a matter concerning the rightful adjudication of constitutional liberties within an administrative framework—necessitate this immediate filing to ensure that the matter proceeds with the requisite celerity, procedural rectitude, and an absolute fidelity to the principles of justice that underpin the Courts of Justice Act.

Enclosed herewith is the initial, but by no means exhaustive, instalment, which has been designated Part 1, comprising a consequential segment of the complete and comprehensive documentary compendium. This inaugural submission contains the systematically tabulated and consecutively enumerated materials, the entirety of which culminates with the requisite Draft Order, a pivotal jurisdictional document which is logically situated and clearly referenced at Tab 21 of the overall record. This complete filing, spanning several thousands of pages of documentary evidence, constitutes an articulate, forceful, and irrefutable exposition of the compelling legal position necessitating the immediate and substantive intervention of this Honourable Superior Court to address the systemic failures that have precipitated this extraordinary recourse. The Applicant, in the exercise of his constitutional rights, presents this acta to delineate the failures of the administrative process below.

II. PROCEDURAL ELABORATION AND CURIAL AMENITY

It is a substantive matter of formal confirmation that the entirety of the electronically submitted record has been rendered in a state of reasonably precise and navigable electronic bookmarking, thereby efficaciously optimizing the preliminary organization for immediate comprehension. Nevertheless, and notwithstanding the execution of this initial, indispensable preparatory measure, the immense compilation shall imminently undergo further, comprehensive technical refinement. This subsequent, highly specialized refinement involves the rigorous implementation of internal hyperlinking and meticulous cross-referencing across the entirety of the record. The purpose is to ensure the utmost ease of navigation between the Factum, the evidentiary Statutory Declaration (which can be reduced to an appended affidavit if necessary but provided for temporal purposes in such format due to the urgency and necessary, inter alia, return of property or confirmation of destruction by those who de facto and de jure stole from me tainting this proceeding), and the cited authorities. This technically advanced undertaking is extended not merely as a superficial convenience, but as a deliberate and essential curial amenity, fundamentally designed to construct the most expeditious and intellectually unencumbered intellectual pathway for the Presiding Honourable Justice when engaging with the complex evidentiary matrix. This refinement is a critical mechanism to mitigate the logistical complexities arising from the record's prodigious magnitude, ensuring the Tribunal's constitutional overreach and the Respondents' deleterious conduct are immediately accessible for judicial scrutiny. Furthermore, by reason of the sheer volume of the documentary evidence and legal authorities amassed in support of the Applicant's articulated position, the complete NOM #3 Motion Record is necessarily and pragmatically segregated into discrete electronic parts. This essential segmentation ensures seamless, secure, and efficient transmission to the Court and all interested respondents thereby deliberately obviating any potential for technological impediment or administrative confusion in processing the entirety of the voluminous acta.

III. SUBSTANTIVE PRÉCIS OF RELIEF SOUGHT

It is considered procedurally and substantively imperative that the Honourable Court, alongside all respondents (not technically "parties"), take explicit notice, in limine, of the profound substantive exigencies and fundamental jurisdictional imperatives motivating the NOM #3. The application predicates, with undeniable force, upon the manifest and inescapable necessity for the Divisional Court to exercise its superior, inherent jurisdiction to grant efficacious and essential remedies, the scope of which fundamentally and decisively transcend the statutory limitations and the restrictive, inherent authority of the Licence Appeal Tribunal. The underlying premise, which is capable of an irrefutable extrapolation of legal principles, is that the Tribunal, having acted arguably ultra vires its mandate in its disposition or, more precisely, its failure to properly address constitutional questions, has created a jurisdictional void and a constitutional lacuna that only the supervisory jurisdiction of this Court may fully and finally rectify.

The constellation of relief sought, as meticulously detailed within the Factum of the Applicant, is substantially and logically predicated upon two principal and non-severable components:

1. Constitutional Determination and Procedural Due Process: An unequivocal Order establishing that the determination of the requisite Charter relief shall proceed forthwith, either via detailed written argument or an expedited oral hearing, to be finally adjudicated and definitively rendered by the presiding Divisional Court Judge within a strictly defined, narrow temporal parameter, such as thirty (30) days from the date of the issuance of the Order. This immediate adjudication is not merely preferential but is rendered indispensable to rectifying the current status quo ante, which is undeniably and fundamentally compromised by reason of the protracted denial of the Applicant's constitutional entitlements pursuant to section 7 and section 15 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The delay, prima facie, amounts to irreparable prejudice, thus demanding an immediate restoration of procedural fairness and the cessation of the constitutional stagnation currently afflicting the proceeding. The mens rea, or lack of due diligence, demonstrated by the systemic actors in permitting this situation to subsist, justifies this robust judicial intervention.
2. Exemplary Costs and Judicial Rebuke: An Order awarding Full Indemnity Costs against any and all Respondents who elect to oppose, or who demonstrate a failure to unequivocally consent to, the straightforward and self-evident remedial measures herein sought. This extraordinary entitlement is claimed, not capriciously, but on the compelling and judicially recognized basis of the demonstrated and egregious nature of the underlying systemic and procedural misconduct. Such malfeasance has rendered this judicial intervention an inescapable matter of absolute procedural and legal necessity, designed to prevent the perpetuation of injustice. The legal syllogism articulated within the Applicant's Factum posits that such indefensible conduct—conduct which suggests an intentional disregard for the Applicant's constitutional rights and the process of justice—is ipso facto sufficient to justify a punitive and corrective measure on the highest, full indemnity basis. This serves the dual purpose of compensating the Applicant for the unnecessary expenditure of resources and providing an appropriate in terrorem effect against those corporate entities and governmental offices that would otherwise countenance the continuance of the deleterious acta under judicial review.

IV. CONFIRMATION OF SERVICE

Confirmation is likewise unequivocally afforded that due and diligently attested service upon all interested persons and counsel of record, including the statutorily mandated service upon the respective Attorneys General owing to the constitutional nature of the claims advanced, shall be effectuated forthwith. This service will strictly adhere to the modalities prescribed by the Rules of Civil Procedure. Subsequent to the rigorous completion of the entirety of the multi-jurisdictional service process, a formal Affidavit of Service, meticulously documenting precise compliance with Rule 16 and its associated strictures, shall be generated, commissioned, and filed with the Registry. This document will serve as the final and conclusive proof of service upon all necessary persons, thereby perfecting the procedural record for the Court's consideration.

I will continue all due diligence efforts to ensure that the open court principle and the truth seeking function of civil litigation is honoured. To the extent that I obtain further relevant evidence to the same, I will provide it as a courtesy.

Part 2 of 2 shall follow.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

As promised, please find Tab #1 (Factum For Motion in Writing) for NOM #3 for service upon the relevant persons. The remainder will be provided with the motion record which is Tabs #1 to #21 and enumerated consecutively. I provide this as a courtesy in light of the failure to file a First Defence by the Respondent Insurance Companies and LAT and to "deliver" Notices of Appearances.

As noted and discovered, all of the proven allegations and highly pointed special categories of nullities where the Divisional Court is implicated are unequivocally and absolutely directed at Madam Justice Shore herein.

Thank you.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

As promised, my statutory declaration of November 14, 2025, served on Mr. Karat, Ms. Dunk and the Epstein Cole LLP Client. As noted, the statutory declaration, with the time stamping of the same for temporal precision, may be appended to an affidavit or affidavits for formality purposes but the substance and exact language and exhibits therein will obviously remain the same.

Due to its size, it has been served in double compressed form.

Thank you.

Designated Recipient Entities

The Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT)
Attention: The Office of the Registrar, Mr. Boyce, or Designated Senior Legal Counsel, as the originating administrative body whose record and conduct are the subject of the instant judicial review.
The Respondent Insurance Corporations:
Corporate entities possessing established jural personality and attendant legal obligations under the Insurance Act (Ontario) and the common law, specifically named herein as the entities in default of filing a substantive defence:

- TD Insurance Home and Auto (TDHA)
- Security National Insurance Company (SNIC)
- TD General Insurance Company (TDGIC)

Courtesy Recipients: Entities of Oversight and Jurisdiction

The Divisional Court
Attention: The Office of the Clerk of the Court (Madam Clerk Clegg et al.), as the administrative and record-keeping authority for the reviewing judicial body. The Divisional Court's mandate, as the superior court, includes the supervisory function over the inferior tribunals of this province, thereby necessitating its prompt awareness of the institutional non-compliance herein documented.
The Attorney General of Ontario (AGO)
Attention: Crown Counsel, Ms. Im, whose office maintains an enduring supervisory role over the proper conduct of administrative tribunals, the integrity of the provincial justice system, and the enforcement of all apposite provincial statutes. This role imports a compelling public interest obligation to address allegations of systemic fraud and administrative malfeasance.
The Attorney General of Canada (AGC)
Attention: Legal Counsel, whose interest is necessarily engaged when questions of fundamental justice, the Charter implications of procedural failures, and the possible systemic failure of federally-regulated entities are implicated by the provincial proceedings.
The considered inclusion of these esteemed entities of sovereign oversight constitutes a necessary, non-supererogatory procedural measure, serving to ensure that the profound procedural lacuna and the patent administrative failings created by the categorical non-compliance of the Respondents are brought directly to the immediate cognizance of those vested with the responsibility of upholding the comprehensive integrity and efficacious operation of the Canadian judicial and administrative apparatuses. The highly sensitive nature of the emergent fraud claims mandates the attention of both governmental levels, inasmuch as these claims speak directly to potential systemic deficiencies impacting the fundamental public trust in regulated insurance and administrative bodies. The Divisional Court, specifically, requires full and unreserved awareness of the Respondents' procedural deficiencies in the underlying Tribunal process, as this bears directly upon the quantum and type of remedy available upon judicial review.

Subject Matter of Transmittal

CONCERNING: The formal and definitive enclosure of the Applicant's now perfected and finalized Notice of Motion Number Three (NOM #3) and the supplementary, critical Statutory Declaration of November 14, 2025.

These transmitted documents collectively delineate the sine qua non (the essential condition) upon which the Applicant's immediate and urgent request for judicial intervention is predicated, serving as the procedural mechanism for obtaining conclusive relief. The perfection of the NOM #3 signifies that all requisite documentary components have been assembled, finalizing the Applicant's locus standi to seek a definitive ruling. This intervention specifically addresses and seeks definitive redress for the systemic procedural failures, the egregious delays, and the substantiated substantive deficiencies evinced by the Respondents throughout the entirety of the subject proceeding, failures which fundamentally subvert the principles of justice and fairness mandated by the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The NOM #3 constitutes the conclusive demand for remedy based upon an uncontroverted record and the inherent authority vested in the reviewing court to correct patent procedural irregularities that prejudice a litigant's position. The relief sought is not of an interlocutory nature but aims for the final resolution of the extant procedural and substantive defaults.

Correspondence: Substantive Submissions

To the Esteemed Recipients and Affected Parties, formal salutations and unequivocal notice are hereby extended:

This instrument is addressed to the aforementioned Divisional Court proceeding, DC-24-00000718-00JR, thereby effectuating the official and legally significant service of the Applicant's current and material submissions. This action is undertaken to ensure that all parties possess the requisite constructive notice concerning the consequential relief sought, the allowance of which is now demonstrably procedurally predetermined by the Respondents' documented and persistent defaults in filing, thereby compelling the Court's subsequent ruling ex parte if necessary.

Section I: The Transmittal of Definitive Filings and Evidentiary Submission

Pursuant to the mandatory procedural requisites stipulated by the Tribunal and the fundamental, inherent requirements of natural justice and the duty of candour owed to the court, and by way of formal, contemporaneous service upon all designated Respondents, the requisite documentary portfolio is herewith transmitted for immediate and non-derogable consideration and procedural acknowledgment. This portfolio is comprised of the following two foundational submissions, both of which are central to the prompt, conclusive, and legally sound adjudication of the instant motion:

1. The Applicant's Statutory Declaration, which was solemnly executed on the fourteenth day of November, MMXV. This declaration, a pivotal evidentiary instrument, has been previously and punctiliously served upon Messrs. Karat, Dunk, and Papadimitropoulos of the Epstein Cole LLP entity, thereby establishing their specific, non-deniable knowledge of the factual assertions contained therein. Notwithstanding the documented service upon opposing counsel, the absence of any formal rejoinder or evidentiary rebuttal results in the conclusive, uncontroverted status of this sworn evidence. The declaration is adduced as conclusive sworn evidence, attesting to facts that are materially exculpatory of the Applicant's conduct and simultaneously incriminating of the Respondents' procedural derelictions and substantive mala fides in the underlying dispute. Its contents are predicated upon personal knowledge and documentation which constitute res gestae of the underlying dispute and stand as sworn evidence before this Honourable Court, carrying with it the attendant, irrebuttable weight of proof until formally rebutted via a mechanism provided for within the Rules of Civil Procedure, a mechanism the Respondents have conspicuously failed to employ. The uncontroverted status of this sworn evidence renders any future attempts to introduce contradictory facts an abuse of process.
2. The Applicant's finalized and perfected Notice of Motion Number Three (NOM #3), bearing the date of today's execution. This document meticulously articulates the complex legal and factual premises underpinning the specific and far-reaching judicial orders requested, encompassing relief that extends to procedural regularization, costs on a solicitor-client basis, and substantive remedies. It serves as the definitive statement of the Applicant's current procedural posture and the consequential remedies sought under the Courts of Justice Act, particularly concerning the enforcement of procedural compliance by recalcitrant parties who have demonstrated a palpable disregard for the Court's scheduling and procedural directives.

The simultaneous service of these definitive filings operates to remove any conceivable or potential procedural impediment to the motion's ultimate disposition by the Divisional Court, thereby placing the entire and undivided onus of timely and legally sufficient response entirely and exclusively upon the respective Respondents. The time allocation for delay, evasion, or equivocation has demonstrably expired, requiring a prompt resolution of the resulting procedural impasse through the immediate enforcement of the procedural Rules.

Section II: Extrapolation of Non-Appearance and Consequent Legal Implication

The conspicuous and profoundly concerning absence of any substantive, defensible, and formal rejoinder to the antecedent correspondence, transmitted on the twenty-sixth day of October, MMXV, and the failure of Messrs. Karat, Dunk, and their instructing client to file a rebuttal to the Statutory Declaration of November 14, 2025, notwithstanding documented service, compels a necessary and unassailable syllogistic extrapolation regarding the Respondents' procedural posture and, indeed, their bona fides in this protracted litigation. Such protracted and unexplained procedural inertia suggests not merely passive negligence, which would be sufficient grounds for sanction, but a deliberate strategy of calculated procedural disengagement designed to frustrate the orderly, timely, and just progression of the matter, conduct which could be conclusively construed as an abuse of process and a contemptuous disregard for the judicial process.

This protracted and demonstrated failure confirms, unequivocally, that the Licence Appeal Tribunal and the Respondent Insurance Corporations have manifestly and deliberately eschewed their fundamental procedural obligation to lodge, with requisite proof of service appended, a First Defence as formally stipulated under the apposite Rules of Civil Procedure of the Superior Court of Justice, specifically referencing Rule 37 pertaining to Notices of Appearance and defence filing deadlines. This is not a mere technical oversight or venial error of minimal consequence; it constitutes a fundamental procedural dereliction that irrevocably jeopardizes the very foundation of adversarial fairness and necessitates the exercise of the Court's inherent jurisdiction to mandate judicial intervention. The failure to file a defence is tantamount to an admission of the Applicant's claims for the purposes of this motion.

Sub-Section A: The Undisclosed Professional Retainer and Appearance of Impropriety

As is meticulously documented herein, the Applicant recently ascertained that Mr. Sinnadurai served as counsel to Madam Justice Shore, an association which, although potentially facilitated by design by the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), nonetheless establishes an undeniable, established relationship of professional retainer between Madam Justice Shore and Mr. Sinnadurai. This circumstance is particularly notable given that Mr. Sinnadurai was the sole, insistent point of contact designated for all requests for records involving the Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding, a role performed over and above the established jurisdictional authority of the MAG Civil Strategy Division (CSD) Records Division. This exclusive delegation of authority to an individual with a known professional tie to a senior member of the judiciary raises profound concerns regarding the duty of institutional neutrality. The selection of Mr. Sinnadurai for this sensitive and exclusionary role, considering the extensive roster of available legal professionals at the MAG, and the pre-existing professional history with Madam Justice Shore, presents a question of patent and non-trivial impropriety, impacting the confidence of the Applicant in the impartiality of the document production process. The legal ramifications of such a confluence of professional associations and designated roles, particularly when records pertaining to an Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding are centralized in the hands of one individual with conflicts of interest, are, upon objective consideration, manifest. The potential for the appearance of conflict of interest, bias, or preferential treatment in the handling of sensitive judicial and governmental records cannot be ignored by this Court. Res ipsa loquitur (The thing speaks for itself).

This operational omission (failure to file a Defence) constitutes a procedural forfeiture of the highest order, resulting in a tacit and undeniable abandonment of the entitlement to substantively controvert the factual or legal merits of the instant judicial review application. The practical, undeniable, and immediate effect of this default is the creation of a procedural estoppel against future contestation of the Applicant's narrative or the facts attested to in the Statutory Declaration. By failing to avail themselves of the prescribed procedural mechanisms for reply within the designated time parameters, the Respondents have voluntarily and conclusively relinquished their right to invoke the protective doctrine of audi alteram partem (the right to be heard) in opposition to the merits of NOM #3, a consequence that is entirely self-imposed and wholly attributable to their procedural choices.

A direct and binding admonition is hereby issued that the Licence Appeal Tribunal and the Respondent Insurance Corporations are under a strict, non-delegable obligation to actively petition for and obtain formal curative orders from the Court. These orders are required for the regularization of manifest procedural irregularities, including, but not limited to, the dereliction involving the non-filing and non-delivery of the requisite Notices of Appearance, prior to any possible consideration of their standing being deemed in bonis (in good order) before this Honourable Court. This onerous procedural obligation rests squarely and unilaterally upon the defaulting parties, and their failure to secure such regularization serves as further conclusive evidence of their non-compliance. Absent such an order, any subsequent attempt by the Respondents to participate in the proceedings must be dismissed in limine (at the threshold) due to fundamental lack of standing.

Consequently, by direct operation of this material, persistent, and unrectified procedural default, the entirety of the Applicant’s proposed conclusions, legal assertions, and factual predicates presented in the attached Statutory Declaration and NOM #3 are rendered, prima facie, self-evident, incontestable, and utterly uncontroverted. The evidentiary record, as it stands following this unilateral procedural failure, is singularly and overwhelmingly in favour of the Applicant, thereby necessitating the mandatory and non-discretionary allowance of the consequential relief sought, specifically encompassing orders for the immediate return of the Applicant’s property *et al and all ancillary judicial directives involving the same. The Divisional Court, in the face of this persistent default and the related ethical anomalies, is thus duty-bound to grant the Orders requested in the enclosed NOM #3 to restore the procedural equilibrium, deter similar future misconduct, and secure the Applicant’s constitutional access to justice without further undue, prejudicial delay.

Attachments, which shall include the statutory declaration noted above, are to follow separately, attended by filing in the new Ontario Court Case and Document Portal (OCPP) in accordance with the prescribed digital (filing) protocols.

The Applicant's factum, motion record, confirmation of motion, draft orders et al shall follow promptly for the purpose of complete procedural compliance and final submission to the Court's judicial officer not a client of Mr. Sinnadurai who have come to know all too well in 2025.
I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose inclusive of costs.

Respectfully submitted,

(Collectively, the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This comprehensive missive is hereby formally tendered concerning the aforementioned Subjects of correspondence, necessitating an immediate and definitive clarification regarding the integrity and fidelity of the court record. Appreciation is a priori (from the former) extended for the time and considered deliberation that will be accorded this correspondence and its appended attachments (whether by reference or inclusion). The finite yet invaluable institutional and human resources of the recipients are profoundly valued, which consideration is precisely why an immense and painstaking commitment of time has been undertaken to thoroughly research the extant legal principles herein and ensure their diligent application to the germane, operative facts. Confirmation is hereby given that, mutatis mutandis (with the necessary changes having been made), all definitions and designations from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence are adopted. I refer to the Applicant in the third person herein for ease of reference. The meticulous adherence to procedural stipulations, particularly those governing the initiation of a court record and the formal joinder of parties, is not a superfluous formality or a suggestion of best practice; rather, it constitutes an indispensable, constitutional foundation for the proper, lawful exercise of judicial authority and the enduring preservation of natural justice (audi alteram partem—hear the other side). This adherence is critical, given that the procedural framework of the court constitutes the lex fori (law of the forum), and any material derogation therefrom possesses the potential to fundamentally impair the substantive rights of a litigant, thereby undermining the principles of due process and compelling the court's inherent jurisdiction to restore the procedural equilibrium ex officio (by virtue of office).

Preamble of Intent and Reserved Rights: Demand for Strict Proof and Procedural Nullities

The Respondents herein are hereby put to strict proof, requiring the production of unmanipulated documentation as mandated by law. These respectful and courtesy requisitions are observed to possess an element of public interest. Furthermore, the issues pertain to knowledge that is not subject to proof or disproof by the Applicant, as the Respondents shall either be in custody or control of documents demonstrating filing with proof of service (a requirement of two documents) or such documents shall be absent. The absence of such documentation would not constitute a mere irregularity (a defect curable by the court under the discretion conferred by Rule 2.02) but a nullity (a fundamental defect that renders the act invalid from the outset, incapable of being made valid retrospectively), since such failures are not voidable by an applicant, such as the filing of a record of proceeding forthwith albeit under a statute and not a regulation. Consequently, all subsequent steps taken shall be void ab initio. A distinction is necessarily drawn between a filing that is void ab initio and a document that was never filed with proof of service at the first instance.

Furthermore, pursuant to the judicial distinction articulated in the British Columbia Court of Appeal's ruling in Long v. Red Branch Investments, which differentiated between the procedural requisites for the discovery of new facts or evidence of fraud post-judicial step in the jurisdictions of British Columbia and Ontario, the Applicant is necessarily constrained to proceed with the prosecution of the instant Judicial Review Application before the Divisional Court. To the extent that documents were purportedly filed by any Respondents subsequent to the alleged non-filings (i.e., filed in the Divisional Court with proof of service), such filings would similarly be deemed void ab initio due to the jurisdictional defect of the antecedent actions. This fatal procedural consequence would also extend to any unauthorized uploading of documents to the electronic Case Center, should an invitation have been proffered to the Respondents without the co-equal and simultaneous issuance of the requisite invitation to the Applicant. It is further posited that any such subsequent filings, irrespective of their due execution with proof of service and/or proper delivery, would inevitably be subject to challenge

This mandates that the subsequent steps taken by the Divisional Court, which may have involved court staff in the court office, including but not limited to Madam Registrar Clegg, Ms. Lawrence, Ms. Tibula, and Ms. Badwal (albeit a single judge motions coordinator), are void ab initio (as if they never occurred) regarding those steps by the Divisional Court that were adverse to the Applicant, though not in relation to steps that were aligned with the statute in the JRPA (i.e., heard in a summary fashion on the record). The preservation of the court's institutional legitimacy hinges upon strict adherence to the "delivery" rule, which acts as a bulwark against the subversion of the judicial process.

The Applicant further asserts that the purported assignment of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore to take carriage of the JRPA Proceeding is also void *ab initio because no direction was made under Rule 77.06(1) for all steps in a proceeding to be heard by a particular judge, thereby invalidating any purported authority exercised pursuant to Rule 77.07(2). This procedural infirmity is independent of the NOA defect and forms a separate, fatal jurisdictional challenge to the management of this case.

I. Detailed Recitation of Material Facts and Precedent Events (Procedural Courtesy)

A comprehensive and precise recitation of the operative facts pertinent to the tempus preceding this query is herein commenced. On November 15, 2024, the JRPA Application was duly submitted by the Applicant through the Justice Services Online (JSO) Portal, whereupon the electronic filing mechanism applied its official date-stamp, thereby establishing the unimpeachable chronology of this application under Court File Number DC-24-00000718-00JR. This initiation of process, which constitutes the genesis of the Divisional Court's jurisdiction, vested in the Court the mandate to supervise the administrative proceedings, subject to strict and unambiguous compliance by all participants. Crucially, the JRPA Application, being a distinct and superior form of legal recourse to the Superior Court of Justice, instituted a new and separate legal proceeding. This judicial review, by its very nature, necessitated the formal designation of a specific electronic address, mcleansettlement@gmail.com, for all subsequent official correspondence and service related exclusively to the Divisional Court, an address that is materially and practically separate from the antecedent LAT Proceeding and any associated email channel, which became functus officio (having performed its office) upon the issuance of the final LAT decision (which is distinct from a "last decision"). Notably, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not take heed of any of the positions advanced by Mr. Boyce of the LAT as there was no service as exclusively posited and written by Ms. Maciel on November 27, 2024. Leaving that aside, Mr. Boyce conflated the prematurity doctrine with the sometimes utilized rule when there are no interlocutory orders of "rule against bifurcation of administrative proceedings".

This correspondence is afforded as an extended professional courtesy, and action is proceeded upon out of an abundance of caution (ex cautela abundanti) to ensure that documents forming the foundation of the judicial record are accurately, authentically, and honestly depicted and referenced for both current and subsequent lawful purposes. The necessity for this precautionary measure is underscored by the gravity of maintaining a pristine and unimpeachable documentary record, a requirement that is geometrically amplified in matters of public law and judicial review where the fairness and lawfulness of an administrative decision are scrutinized. Any ambiguity, inconsistency, or fundamental defect in the filing process possesses the potential to irrevocably vitiate subsequent steps, documents (served, filed, and with proof of service), and proceedings, thereby necessitating the expenditure of further public and private resources to rectify what ought to have been a straightforward, ministerial procedural execution. This diligence is undertaken not merely to challenge a technical point, but to prevent any future challenge, at any level of appellate scrutiny, premised upon a fundamental, jurisdictional procedural irregularity, thereby ensuring the integrity of the judicial review process remains sacrosanct and immune to collateral attack based on a flawed record. The Applicant emphasizes that the integrity of the record is not a mere preference, but a requirement fundamental to the rule of law itself.

II. Corpus Delicti – The Deficiency in Formal Delivery and the Imperative of Strict Compliance

It remains entirely unknown to the Applicant, who is the principal adversely affected party, whether the requisite and complete "delivery" of the Notices of Appearances was effectuated by any of the four designated Respondents in the precise manner stipulated by the pertinent procedural provisions. This profound lacuna in the record does not constitute a mere ministerial technicality; rather, the deficiency relates directly to the substantive jurisdictional steps necessary to confirm the Respondents' formal participation and their unequivocal, lawful submission to the court's adjudicative authority. The prevailing standard required in such formal, jurisdictional processes in Canadian courts is, in the absence of explicit judicial dispensation, that of strict compliance (versus the less exacting standard of substantial compliance, which is often reserved for non-jurisdictional matters). This rigour is applied precisely because the procedural requirement, such as proper service and filing, is designed to ensure the other party is formally, unequivocally, and correctly apprised of the respondent's intention to defend the proceeding and, equally important, to ensure the official court record is complete and authentic. This deficiency or lacuna in the official court record necessitates the immediate and forthwith resolution articulated in the subsequent section of this correspondence, as the court cannot de jure (by law) exercise its jurisdiction over a party that has failed to formally enter an appearance and complete the process of "delivery."

A. The Ratio Decidendi Regarding the Licence Appeal Tribunal and Procedural Prejudice

The Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), the administrative body under review, forwarded an electronic copy of its Notice of Appearance dated November 27, 2024, by way of an electronic mail transmission originating from Law Clerk Ms. Maciel Milene. This transmission constitutes, at best, an informal, unsolicited method of service—a mere conveyance of information—but not the complete definition of "delivery," which, by the clear and unambiguous wording of Rule 1.03 and the related service provisions under Rule 16, inexorably demands the conjoined requirement of service and the subsequent filing of the document accompanied by proof of service with the court. The cardinal, overriding difficulty, however, lies in the fact that the destination address for this transmittal was the electronic mail exclusively dedicated to the antecedent and sub judice LAT Proceeding (mcleansniclat@gmail.com). This address is materially distinct and procedurally disparate from the electronic mail address explicitly provided, designated, and utilized for the current, separate JRPA Application and all subsequent correspondence with the Divisional Court (mcleansettlement@gmail.com). The failure to use the designated email address is not a clerical error; it actively undermines the integrity of the Applicant's digital record-keeping and could lead to procedural prejudice, including the risk of the Applicant missing important deadlines or filings due to the misdirection of official court documents into a dormant or inappropriately monitored inbox. This lack of diligence by the LAT in ensuring proper service fundamentally violates the principle of natural justice, which dictates that a party must have adequate notice of the actions taken against them.

B. The Quid Pro Quo Regarding the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Onus Probandi

Similarly, the Respondent Insurance Companies—TDHA, SNIC, and TDGIC—electronically transmitted their Notice of Appearance on December 3, 2024. A comparable, if not greater, degree of uncertainty subsists regarding the bona fide compliance with the complete "delivered" stipulation regarding this particular filing. It must be unequivocally stated and structurally reinforced that the onus probandi (burden of proof) rests squarely and solely upon the Respondents—highly sophisticated corporate entities represented by experienced legal counsel—to furnish independent documentary evidence confirming their precise compliance with the prescribed filing and service methodologies. The mere issuance of an electronic document, without the corresponding submission of a formally executed Proof of Service affidavit or certification simultaneously filed and accepted within the JSO Portal, represents an incomplete and potentially invalid procedural step. The quid pro quo here is that the Respondents receive the right to participate fully in the judicial review only in exchange for demonstrably fulfilling their primary procedural obligation—the proper "Delivery" of their Notice of Appearance. Absent this strict demonstration, the Respondents cannot be considered "parties" properly before the court and any subsequent steps they take, or that are taken on their behalf, would lack the necessary procedural foundation. The court's reliance on documents that were not properly delivered would create a fatally flawed record, compromising the entire proceeding.

III. Demand for Production and Temporal Stipulation (Exigence and Efficiency)

In recognition of the self-evident fact that the production of independent and indisputable evidence—specifically, a filed copy via the JSO Portal bearing an official date-stamp and a valid, correctly executed Proof of Service—of the aforementioned Notices of Appearances from the LAT or Respondent Insurance Companies should not necessitate a protracted or extensive investigatory period, the immediate production of the following is formally and expeditiously requested:

1. Filed Notices of Appearance that bear the requisite JSO Portal acceptance stamp, clearly indicating the date of official filing, thereby confirming the existence of the document on the Court's electronic record (if extant); and
2. Filed Notices of Appearance with proof of service that are demonstrably appended to the filed document, certifying service upon the Applicant at the correct JRPA Application designated electronic mail address. This proof must detail the method, time, and date of service, and be formally executed as required by the relevant Rules (if extant), specifically using Form 16B or Form 16B.1 (where applicable).

The Respondents are therefore put to strict proof to forthwith produce the filed NOA, with stamping on the same, and the associated proof of service. The failure to meet this deadline shall compel the Applicant to proceed on the documented assumption that the documents are absent from the record, an assumption that the Respondents, by their lack of timely response, shall have rendered indefeasible. This strict temporal requirement is necessitated by the principle that judicial efficiency cannot take precedence over the fundamental integrity of the judicial record; however, the resolution of this foundational defect must not be unnecessarily delayed.

IV. Nisi Prius – Legal Consequences, Conflicts, and Judicial Nullity

Should satisfactory evidence of the complete and proper "delivery" of the aforesaid documents not be received forthwith, the Applicant shall proceed, without further notification or correspondence, to file a fresh Notice of Motion (NOM), relying entirely upon the appended Statutory Declaration which attests to the documented, factual lacuna in the Applicant's official record. The subsequent finalization of the Factum and Motion Record shall be executed sans the inclusion of any Notices of Appearances in the court record, thus entirely precluding any necessity to seek the additional relief of formally striking the purported Notices of Appearances on the legal axiom that the document was never duly filed with proof of service in the first instance, thereby rendering any purported subsequent action thereunder procedurally null and void. The Applicant reserves the right to seek costs against any Respondent or third party that acted without procedural foundation.

A. The Unlawful Assignment or non-assignment or non-direct: A Newly Discovered Fact or presumed fact subject to dispute - Challenge under Rule 77.07(2) and the Ultra Vires Doctrine

The Applicant challenges the fundamental authority under which the proceeding has been managed, drawing attention to Rule 77.07 of the Rules of Civil Procedure:

To Whom Made
77.07 (1) A motion may be made only to a judge or associate judge.
Same, Particular Judge
(2) If a direction is made under subrule 77.06 (1) for all steps in a proceeding to be heard by a particular judge, then any motions in the proceeding shall be made to that judge.

The Applicant asserts that no direction was made by the Chief Justice (CJ) of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ), the Associate Chief Justice (ACJ) of the SCJ, or a Local Administrative Judge (LAJ) of the Divisional Court to assign the entirety of the proceeding to a particular judge under Rule 77.06(1). The language in Rule 77.07(2) is specific: "all steps in a proceeding," not "all proceedings." The administrative function of assignment must be performed by the judiciary, not court staff, to maintain the integrity of judicial independence and the constitutional separation of powers. This power of direction is vested in senior judicial officers as a safeguard against improper influence or the appearance of non-impartial case management.
The unassailable corollary, based on the absence of filed or disclosed proof of direction, is that, in the absence of a proper direction or assignment by the requisite Judicial Authority (CJ, ACJ, or LAJ) as defined by the Courts of Justice Act (CJA) and Rule 77, the only rational and unassailable inference that remains is that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore assigned the case for case management to herself in an unlawful fashion. The result is that any step taken by the named judge to take carriage of the JRPA Proceeding, including any attempt to curtail the Applicant's previous motions (NOM #1 and NOM #2), is void *ab initio. Furthermore, a judge cannot attain the status of functus officio (having discharged their duty) in a proceeding where their initial jurisdiction was founded upon a void *ab initio assignment or direction, as the foundational prerequisite for the exercise of authority was never lawfully established. The reference in any endorsement to a case management judge, or the reference to an assignment to Shore J., must therefore be put to strict proof to demonstrate the formal, written direction from the proper judicial authority. Any reliance on an internal administrative practice that bypasses the mandatory Rule 77.06(1) direction would be ultra vires (beyond the court's powers) and fundamentally ineffective.

B. Void Ab Initio Steps, Conflict of Interest, and Judicial Misconduct

The Applicant notes that, irrespective of whether the failure to file the NOAs is an irregularity (attackable under Rule 2.02) or a nullity (attackable in any event), the subsequent steps taken by the case management judge are subject to challenge. Importantly, all of the foregoing procedural defects, coupled with the newly discovered facts and/or evidence of fraud, are materially fundamental to the legitimacy of this JRPA, go to the foundation of judicial independence, and may collectively constitute a novel issue of fraud on the court by a judge herself, an unprecedented matter that requires urgent judicial attention. The Applicant asserts, with extreme emphasis, that due to known and recently discovered conflicts of interest (including The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's prior judicial involvement in a separate, undisclosed "Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Process" and her prior partnership at Epstein Cole LLP), she cannot hear any motions of the Applicant or motions attempting to cure the void *ab initio steps of the Respondents. These undisclosed involvements create a reasonable apprehension of bias, which is the constitutional test for disqualifying a judge, as articulated by the Supreme Court of Canada in cases such as R. v. S. (R.D.). A reasonable person, informed of the facts, would conclude that the judge might not be impartial.

The Applicant further asserts that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's engagement in the JRPA Proceeding without compliance with the law (i.e., self-assignment contrary to the law) is sufficient grounds for her to be removed from office and is the subject of a formal complaint lodged with the Canadian Judicial Council (CJC). This complaint necessarily invokes the standards set out in the Judges Act concerning judicial independence, impartiality, and integrity. This failure to recuse herself upon prompt objection, and her alleged misstatements of law on October 10, 2025, are posited as sufficient grounds for the Applicant to be in an unequivocally adversarial type position with the named judge. The alleged misstatements—such as those concerning the mandatory nature of case management or access to transcripts—suggest a pattern of conduct that undermines the perceived fairness of the process.

Furthermore, the lack of proper assignment means that:

1. The Respondents were not "parties" under Rule 77.05(4) as they failed to "Deliver" a first defence (NOA) with proof of service. This failure to become de jure parties prevents the subsequent application of case management rules to them.
2. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not compel any conference call or appearance under Rule 77.04(2):
   77.04 (2) A judge or associate judge may, on his or her own initiative, require the parties to appear before him or her or to participate in a conference call to deal with any matter arising in connection with the case management of the proceeding, including a failure to comply with an order or the rules.
   Since the Respondents were not legally "parties," and the assignment was void ab initio, no authority existed for the named judge to compel attendance or conduct a case conference. Any such conference and its subsequent endorsements are, by extension, void ab initio.
3. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not technically assign a case for case management to herself, as the power to assign is vested in the CJ, ACJ, or LAJ (as per Rule 77.05(4) and sections of the Courts of Justice Act (CJA)), which was not executed. The Applicant asserts that this is a fatal flaw of jurisdiction that cannot be cured by the invocation of inherent jurisdiction, as inherent jurisdiction cannot be used to contravene clear statutory or regulatory mandates.

The Applicant reiterates that this failure to comply with the rules, coupled with the alleged undisclosed prior judicial involvement and conflicts of interest, underscores that the necessary constitutional filter or safeguard (proper judicial assignment) was not in place, causing permanent and lasting damage to the integrity of the Divisional Court. The Applicant reserves all rights to bring forward more newly discovered facts and evidence of fraud as it becomes known.

V. Appendix: Cited Legal Authorities and Maxims

This Appendix provides an exhaustive catalogue of the primary and secondary legal authorities and Latin maxims referenced in this correspondence, ensuring transparency and facilitating verification of the Applicant's legal arguments.

A. Rules of Civil Procedure

Authority	Description	Contextual Relevance
Rules of Civil Procedure (R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194)	The primary procedural framework governing all civil proceedings in the Superior Court of Justice, including the Divisional Court, in Ontario, Canada.	Establishes the governing regime for all actions, motions, and filings.
Rule 1.03 (Definition of "Deliver")	A specific provision within the Rules that provides a definitive interpretation of key procedural terms.	The term "Deliver" mandates the conjoined requirement of both serving a document and filing it with an acceptable proof of service.
Rule 2.02	Pertains to the ability of the court to set aside steps where there has been a procedural irregularity (curable defect).	Distinguished from a nullity, which the Applicant asserts the current defects are, making the steps attackable in any event.
Rule 59.06	Pertains to setting aside or varying judgments or orders based on newly discovered facts and/or fraud.	Cited as an independent ground for setting aside previous directions or orders, irrespective of the procedural nullity argument.
Rule 77.04(2)	Permits a judge to compel the parties to a conference or appearance for case management issues.	Argued that this rule was unavailable to the named judge because the Respondents were not "parties" and the judge lacked proper assignment.
Rule 77.05(4)	Outlines the criteria for assigning a proceeding for case management, with the power reserved to the Regional Senior Judge, other judge, or associate judge.	Used to challenge the named judge's authority to assign, particularly to herself, when no parties were properly before the court.

Rule 77.06(1)	The rule authorizing the requisite judicial authority (CJ, ACJ, or LAJ) to make a direction for a particular judge to hear all steps in a proceeding.	Cited as the source of authority that was allegedly not invoked, rendering subsequent assignment ultra vires.
Rule 77.07(2)	The rule mandating that motions be heard by a particular judge only if a direction was made under Rule 77.06(1).	Central to the argument that motions were correctly made not to the named judge due to the lack of proper direction/assignment.
Form 16B or 16B.1	The prescribed forms for Proof of Service used in Ontario proceedings.	Specifically demanded to prove the lawful "delivery" of the Notices of Appearance.

B. Legislation and Jurisprudence

Authority	Description	Contextual Relevance
Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA)	The statute governing the Applicant's proceeding.	The JRPA's statutory requirements (not the ROCP) govern the filing of the Record of Proceeding (ROP).
Courts of Justice Act (CJA) Section 75(1)	Outlines the powers and duties of a judge with authority to direct and supervise sittings and assignment of judicial duties.	Supports the argument that assignment is an administrative task that must be performed by the judiciary (CJ/ACJ/LAJ), not by self-assignment.
Judges Act (Federal)	The federal statute governing the conduct and removal of federally appointed judges.	Cited in relation to the CJC complaint and the standards of impartiality, independence, and integrity.
R. v. S. (R.D.) (SCC)	Supreme Court of Canada decision setting out the test for reasonable apprehension of bias.	Used to frame the recusal and misconduct argument against the named judge based on alleged conflicts of interest.
Long v. Red Branch Investments (BCCA)	Jurisprudence from the British Columbia Court of Appeal providing a distinguishing analysis of the procedural requirements in different	Supports the Applicant's right and requirement to proceed with the JRPA Application and to challenge antecedent procedural steps.

	jurisdictions post-discovery of new facts or fraud.

C. Latin Maxims and Phrases

Latin Maxim	Translation	Contextual Application in Missive
Ultra Vires	Beyond the powers.	Used to describe the unauthorized nature of the purported judicial assignment.
Void Ab Initio	Void from the beginning.	The critical legal conclusion regarding non-delivered documents and the subsequent lack of authority.
Onus Probandi	The burden of proof.	Establishes that the Respondents bear the sole legal responsibility to prove they complied with "delivery."
Ex Cautela Abundanti	Out of an abundance of caution.	Justifies the pre-emptive, rigorous nature of this formal inquiry.
Functus Officio	Having performed its office.	Used to describe the email address dedicated to the LAT Proceeding, which became irrelevant upon filing the JRPA.
Lex Fori	The law of the forum.	Emphasizes that the Rules of Civil Procedure are the mandatory law of the Divisional Court.
Nisi Prius	Unless before.	Used formally to structure a conditional legal consequence (i.e., unless evidence is provided, then X will occur).

The right is expressly reserved to rely upon this correspondence for any and all lawful purposes, including the submission of this missive as an exhibit in the Applicant's upcoming Motion Record, with the assertion that the Applicant and The Honourable Madam Justice Shore are now in an unequivocally adversarial type position.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

I cordially denote for the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies to govern themselves accordingly especially in relation to the officers of the court as the demand above is made upon them and no one else.

I thank the innocent persons for their patience while I discovered new facts and fraud in the most diligent and painstaking fashion as, inter alia, evidenced by this comprehensive letter herein and by reference to the above noted complaint – not directed at any of the addressees per se.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns

I. Preliminary Overture and Foundational Context

To: The Esteemed Recipients of the Court and Counsel to the various respondents

I pen this communication concerning the aforementioned proceeding. Subsequent to the timely filing and service of my Notice of Motion No. 3 (hereinafter "NOM No. 3") herein, I was placed in receipt of an electronic correspondence, transmitted via my authorized transcriptionist of the Province of Ontario, which conveyed a substantive response from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore concerning my requisite Transcript Order Form for the digital audio recordings of the case management conferences.

The tenor and substance of this communication mandated a meticulous re-evaluation of the extant factual matrix and the applicable jurisprudence governing the release of court records, necessitating a contextual comparison to previous judicial pronouncements, whether directly attributable to Her Ladyship or discernible by means of logical deduction (per deductio).

It is self-evident, ex facie the contents of the perfected NOM No. 3 transmitted (made, urgently filed and served) on Friday, October 10, 2025, that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had prior judicial involvement with myself antecedently to the formal institution of this Judicial Review Application (JRPA) Proceeding; however, Her Ladyship's name had not been formally disclosed, nor has this involvement been unequivocally acknowledged by the Court at this juncture. Notwithstanding this protracted obfuscation, a sufficient quantum of investigative due diligence, spanning several months, permits the responsible advancement of this assertion.
For the purposes of immediate reference and to substantiate the imperative for the annexed statutory declaration, I reproduce the following sworn statement:

"I verily believe that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had prior judicial involvement with myself in the referenced ex parte in camera criminal proceedings or hearings, which involvement was undisclosed to me prior to my commencement of the JRPA Application and subsequent thereto."

In light of this recent disclosure and its resultant exigency—discovered during the post-meridiem hours of Friday, October 10, 2025, immediately preceding a statutory holiday weekend—I have deemed it necessary, pursuant to the provisions of the Evidence Act (Ontario), to forthwith file the aforementioned statutory declaration. I have simultaneously submitted a Request Form Undertaking to the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office (hereinafter the "SCJ RMO") and shall proceed, with all due expedition, to tender the prescribed requisite fee to procure the digital audio materials of the subject case management conferences.

The remittance of the bank draft shall be effectuated without delay; however, I furnish the statutory declaration of October 13, 2025, ad interim. As shall be elucidated infra, the analysis proffered by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is, with the greatest deference, flawed; yet, Her Ladyship's response proves fortuitous in that it demonstrates a linguistic and structural style demonstrably consistent with other judicial documents pertaining to this matter, even those wherein her name was previously suppressed.

II. Judicial Pronouncement and Formal Legal Dissent

A. The Impugned Judicial Directive

The official electronic communication transmitted by the SCJ RMO on October 10, 2025, relayed the explicit directive and judicial decision emanating from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore regarding my request. The germane excerpt, conveying Her Ladyship's instruction and position, is herein reproduced:

> "Justice Shore has advised as follows:
> 'The attendances were case management conferences and we do not release transcripts for conferences. No transcript/audio can be provided.'"

Following a comprehensive legal review conducted throughout the long weekend—a necessity to ensure that my subsequent representation to the SCJ RMO was both factually accurate and jurisprudentially sound—I transmitted the appended formal submission on October 13, 2025, the full text of which is reproduced forthwith for ease of reference and contextualization herein:

> I provide the below out of an abundance of caution in a comprehensive and contextual manner to ensure that in the event of an untimely demise or further injury to myself that I have papered my affairs accordingly for those who will benefit from my estate and ancillary reasons. I also do so for the reasons infra and previously on a contextual level.

I. PRELIMINARY OBSERVATION AND IMPERATIVE FOR FORTHWITH COMMUNICATION

This formal submission is necessitated by the exigency of the matter aforementioned. I must solicit your kind indulgence for the transmission of this document upon a statutory holiday, an action to which I have been compelled to undertake on a forthwith basis, subsequent to being placed in receipt, during the post-meridiem hours of Friday, October 10, 2025, of electronic correspondence from Ms. Amirthalingam. That communication, inter alia, incorporated a quotation attributable to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, referenced within the context of a distinct Transcript Order Form Request submitted during the preceding week.

II. DISSECTION OF LEXICAL AMBIGUITY: THE PERMISSIVE VERSUS THE CAPABILITY CONUNDRUM

I take formal cognizance of Ms. Amirthalingam's previous lexical usage, conveyed to my retained Authorized Transcriptionist in Ontario (hereinafter, an "ACT" or "ATO"), which I concede to be substantively accurate in its descriptive premise:
"Good afternoon,
According to our records, both of the requested dates were Civil Case Conferences where the Ordering Party was not present. Judicial Acknowledgement is required to determine whether the audio may be released for the purposes of preparing a transcript."

To avoid the pitfalls of eliding two discrete communications—an analytical error which I am assiduous in seeking to circumvent—I shall reproduce the germane excerpts from Ms. Amirthalingam's subsequent electronic mail of Friday, October 10, 2025, which was relayed to me later on that day:
"Justice Shore has advised as follows:
"The attendances were case management conferences and we do not release transcripts for conferences. No transcript/audio can be provided."

The distinction between the administrative inquiry and the judicial pronouncement is not merely semantic; it represents a fundamental divergence in legal effect. Ms. Amirthalingam's employment of the verb "may" correctly encapsulates the permissive nature of a judicial assessment, articulating the prospect of whether a specific allowance will be granted. Conversely, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's utilization of the auxiliary verb "can" improperly denotes an issue of ability or capability; it suggests an absolute physical or systemic incapacity to provide the material. The conclusion, therefore, is self-evident: the administrative position acknowledges the possibility of release subject to judicial acknowledgement, while the subsequent judicial pronouncement erroneously asserts an irremediable impediment to the provision of the audio material.

III. EXTRAPOLATION OF LEGAL PRINCIPLE: THE DISTINCTIVE REGIMES OF CIVIL AND FAMILY PROCEEDINGS

I am necessarily constrained to articulate my formal disagreement with the linguistic construction and legal import ascribed by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, given that superior courts do not furnish "transcripts" per se, but rather release the requisite digital audio materials from which a transcript may be professionally prepared.

It is posited that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has perhaps inadvertently conjoined the distinct procedural strictures applicable to Family Law matters—specifically those involving "family law case conferences"—with the procedural mandates governing Civil and Divisional Court proceedings, particularly those concerning the judicial review of administrative or adjudicative decisions.

The Family Law Conferences Exception [inapplicable herein]

The material divergence is comprehensively articulated within the Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual, page 16, which states:

"b) Family Law Conferences Relevant Websites & Resources • Family Law Rules: https://www.ontario.ca/laws/regulation/990114

Rule 17 of the Family Law Rules provides for three types of conferences: case conferences, settlement conferences and trial management conferences.
These conferences may be recorded at the request of the presiding judicial official. These recordings are for the judge's use only. Transcripts of these recordings cannot be provided to any party without a court order or the consent of the presiding judicial official."

It is axiomatic that the Family Law jurisdiction constitutes a unique, insular sphere—an sui generis domain—due to the highly sensitive, often privileged (e.g., spousal privilege), and inherently confidential nature of its subject matter, which frequently involves the paramount consideration of the best interests of children. For compelling public policy rationales, the restrictive access protocol is thus warranted within this specific context.

The Civil/Divisional Court Open Court Principle

No such sui generis restriction applies to a Civil Proceeding, including the Divisional Court's judicial review of an administrative or adjudicative body's impugned decision. The guiding imperative remains the open court principle, which is a foundational tenet of our constitutional and common law tradition, binding upon the Divisional Court as a superior court of inherent jurisdiction. The proceedings must be recorded, irrespective of the platform utilized—either by a court staff member or court reporter using an Approved Recording Device (a "DRD"), or via an Alternative Recording Platform (an "ARP"), such as the utilisation of Zoom or teleconferencing technologies, as was referenced for these specific attendances at which I was unable to be physically present.

IV. COMPLIANCE AND TECHNICAL AVAILABILITY OF THE DIGITAL RECORDING

The matter herein falls under the ARP system of recording, which bypasses the conventional DRD process. As such, the recording exists as a digital file upon a server, and its provision is governed by Regulation 293/92 to the Evidence Act (Ontario).

Under sub-section 1(1) 11. of the Schedule, the prescribed fee applies: “For a copy on compact disc (CD) of a digital recording of a court hearing in respect of a case, if such a recording exists and a copy is available.” The cost structure articulated therein—$23.00 plus $11.00 for a total of $34.00, as the request involves multiple recordings from the same case—is the legally applicable fee.

The technical availability is readily demonstrable: ”Available,” in its established meaning, signifies ”the state of being obtainable or accessible.” The digital recording exists as a file on a server, thereby satisfying this definition. Furthermore, I have satisfied two independent stipulations under the Request Undertaking Form, which is hereby enclosed. Since the Divisional Court is a branch of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) and is not a constituent part of the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ), no prior court order is mandatorily required for the Applicant’s access to a copy of this digital recording.

To fortify the foregoing analytical construction regarding technical feasibility, I append the widely understood technical process for the procurement of such files from the conferencing service:
Zoom Recording Protocol: The court, being in control of the same, possesses the M4A audio-only file from the Zoom recording, which is demonstrably convertible to a compatible format (e.g., WAV or MP3) for the purpose of creating a Standard Audio CD, thereby rendering the digital recording available for provision.

a. ”Step 1: you need to get the files from Zoom. The process differs slightly depending on whether you used cloud or local recording.
1. Cloud Recording: If you have a paid Zoom account and are recorded to the cloud, Zoom will automatically generate separate files, including the audio/video (MP4 or M4A) and the transcript (VTT file).
2. You’ll receive an email notification when the recording and transcript are ready. Log in to the Zoom web portal, go to the “Recordings” section, and download both the audio-only file (M4A) and the transcript (VTT).
3. Local Recording: If you recorded to your computer, Zoom saves the files to a local folder (usually in your Documents folder under a “Zoom” directory). The transcript function is not automatically available for local recordings, so you’ll have to find a separate transcription service or software to create one from the audio file.
b. Step 2: Prepare the Files for CD
i. Create a Standard Audio CD (Audio Only)
ii. This is the most common and straightforward method if you only want to listen to the audio on a standard CD player (like in a car or home stereo).
iii. Get the Audio File: Locate the M4A audio-only file from your Zoom recording which the court would have control of the same.
iv. Convert to a Compatible Format: M4A is not always compatible with older CD players. You will need to convert the M4A file to a format like WAV or MP3.
v. Burn the Audio CD: Use a CD burning program (like Windows Media Player, iTunes, or a third-party application) to create an

Audio CD. This process converts the WAV/MP3 files into the specific format that a CD player can read."

V. COMPREHENSIVE UNDERLYING FACTUAL AND LEGAL BASES

I provide the preceding comprehensive analysis not merely to articulate a grievance concerning what constitutes an unwarranted obstruction—whether judicial or administrative—to my ACT's ability to perform their professional mandate, but to confirm the legal and technical basis upon which this request is grounded. The response attributed to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is, upon close examination, inconsistent with the applicable legal framework governing Civil and Divisional Court proceedings.

Due to the persistent urgency of this matter, I now formally attach a copy of the digitally executed Request Undertaking Form. The prescribed fee of $34.00 will be remitted for delivery on the subsequent day, and I shall furnish confirmation upon receipt of the delivery confirmation.

Requisition for Electronic Audio Recordings and Logistics

Pursuant to the requisite payments previously remitted to the Superior Court of Justice (earmarked for the Minister of Finance as required) and, in parallel, to the Authorized Court Transcriber(s) (hereinafter, "ACT(s)"), the administrative division is hereby requested to effectuate the immediate preparation of the electronic audio recordings of the proceedings.

Kindly ensure that the aforesaid recordings are prepared for transcription and subsequent transfer onto a compact disc (CD). Upon the demonstrable receipt of the prescribed fee, the undersigned respectfully requests that the appropriate Court Services personnel advise, with expediency, of a precise date and time for the physical retrieval of the said material from Room 405 of the Superior Court of Justice located at 361 University Avenue Courthouse.

The Unassailable Judicial Misapprehension and Resultant Legal Infringement

The undersigned is compelled to register a formal objection predicated upon the assertion that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has demonstrably engaged in an erroneous legal interpretation and/or a palpable misdirection regarding prevailing jurisprudence. This conduct constitutes additional indicia of a potential conflict of interest, the full legal and factual dimensions of which remain the subject of continuing due diligence, the underlying grounds having been, inter alia, discovered subsequent to March 2025 and hitherto unknown to the undersigned.

It must be underscored that the conduct in question is patently and inexorably consistent with a demonstrable infringement upon the fundamental protections enshrined within the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and other pertinent legal rights. Furthermore, such actions concomitantly constitute a breach of the foundational Open Court Principle, the ambit of which extends the prophylactic shield of procedural fairness to all interested observers and litigants alike.

Erroneous Interpretation of Transcription Protocols: A Syllogistic Analysis

In the context of the procedural requirements governing the "Transcript Order Form" and its associated obligations concerning the ACT(s), the undersigned shall direct this substantive issue to superior administrative and judicial regulatory authorities who possess the requisite jurisdiction to evaluate and correct such a manifest misstatement of law. It is axiomatic that an exercise of a judicial function cannot, sub specie aeternitatis, encompass the prerogative to misapprehend the established rules pertaining to court records, especially when expressed through the ambiguous utilization of the unspecified pronoun, "we."

Should one be compelled to assent to the Honourable Madam Justice Shore's purported interpretation of the governing legal framework, the inescapable conclusion of law would be that no requestor, throughout the entire historical practice of the civil division (excluding Family Law matters) of the Superior Court of Justice or the Divisional Court, could ever have secured the required tapes and materials required for transcription for delivery to their Authorized Court Transcriber.

Such an argumentum ad absurdum renders the interpretation devoid of merit. If such were truly the case, the esteemed Superior Court of Justice Records Management Office (RMO) and its Records Management Co-ordinators (RMCs) would possess a comprehensive awareness of this unprecedented operational constraint. Consequently, their administrative response to transcription requests would be materially distinct from the judiciously accurate response rendered by Ms. Amirthalingam, which correctly mandated a specific level of acknowledgment, rather than an outright judicial fiat of prohibition, as a prerequisite to the release of the electronic audio records.

Out of an abundance of caution, I note that while similar fact evidence involving a party is presumptively inadmissible unless the probative value outweighs the prejudicial value, the same is not applicable to the scope of Shore J's prior judicial involvement with myself. I note the following language utilized by way of passing the same onto me which she did not author which was yet another misstatement of law (when measured on its face against The Honourable Chief Justice of the SCJ's Divisional Court Consolidated Practice Direction, effective June 15, 2023) wherein she (the esteemed Clerk of the Divisional Court Ms. Clegg) stated in late January 2025 (after The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had inserted herself into the JRPA Proceeding):

"Are you requesting a hearing date or a case conference?

Please advise that all [sic] cases are being case managed, coordinators are not providing dates.

As all matters [sic] are currently being case managed in Divisional Court, hearings are scheduled as per the directions of the case management Judge. The Coordinators are not providing hearing dates unless directed."

I inquired with Madam Clerk Ms. Clegg as to where she obtained the quote and to provide a link to the same and none was provided. It became clear then and crystal clear now that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore provided the same which was inconsistent with the aforementioned Divisional Court Consolidated Practice Direction for 18 months at the time.

The same can be said of the denial of my access to Case Center after bringing my JRPA Application in mid November 2024 along with, inter alia, failure to stamp requisitions, provide me with a Form 68(B) which was required after my payment of the Certificate of Perfection on December 13, 2024, and the failure to allow me to proceed before a single judge of the SCJ as opposed to a three person panel of the Divisional Court (see: statutory language under the JRPA, section 6; wherein the Legislature distinguished between the SCJ and Divisional Court). This is also consistent with Mr. Sinnadurai, a lawyer licensee with the MAG (Civil division) representing to me and some with supporting documentation that there was no evidence of Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 under Criminal Code "Information" in the OCJ and none in the "Superior Court of Justice" in Toronto.

For refresher purposes, one "Ashleigh" of the SCJ RMO represented to one of my ACT's in September 2025 as follows:

"Hi ____

There are currently no DRD recordings before the Toronto Superior Court for Mr. McLean. It is my understanding that Mr. McLean had matters heard at the Ontario Court of Justice (10 Armoury).

Given the above, there is nothing further staff can assist with"

In addressing the latter first, I note again the distinction, as it relates to my obtaining that which I am entitled in relation to the prior judicial involvement of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore and myself, that DRD recordings only exist when there is a court reporter or court staff member who uses an approved recording device and then certifies a Form 1. This customarily do not exist in relation to the latter and the former referenced individual do not appear in ex parte in camera intake or pre-enquete hearings. As such, it is the ARP Platform(s) that govern the same so there would not be any DRD recordings but an ARP Platform recording (i.e. Zoom).

I also note the distinction between the Superior Court and the Divisional Court by reference to statutes. I thank Ms. Amirthalingam for confirming that the SCJ RMO handles recordings for 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario in addition to the SCJ courthouses on University Avenue, Toronto.

Notably, it was not "Ashleigh's understanding" that matters were heard in Central West Region OCJ Brampton Courthouse or any other region or any other courthouse outside of the Toronto Region. There was no dispute that the OCJ 10 Armoury Courthouse was a transferee courthouse but the issue of the "originating courthouse" was and remains at issue (kindly address that separately as I paid $23.00 via bank draft in mid August 2025 and not only is the SCJ RMO able to assist but required to do so).

The usage of the word "can" is another word choice that is consistent with The Honourable Madam Justice Shore but not the SCJ RMO and its esteemed staff.

As OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse was not involved until October 3, 2024, one day after my arrest, which naturally meant that the tapes, as an additional ground (i.e. in addition to a process having been issued which includes a Summons (Form 6) or Arrest Warrant (Form 7 under the Criminal Code) but not an Undertaking or Appearance Notice (Form 10 and 9 under the Criminal Code respectively in that they can be signed by a peace officer), were to be released to anyone who requested the same which includes the public.

In relation to the latter, I do not dispute, for contextual purposes, that a judge of the SCJ is also a judge of the Divisional Court as per the Courts of Justice Act and that a judge of the Superior Court Of Criminal Jurisdiction, in the province of Ontario, means a judge of the SCJ and ONCA. The import of that to my circumstances involving The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is that irrespective of whether she was in her designated by the CJ of the SCJ rotation in the Divisional Court in 2024 and beyond, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had the parliamentary statutory authority to hear and consider an application, ex parte and in camera (closed to the public) [but not without a recording via ARP Platform at first instance because upon an arrest OR a process being issued, the tapes and materials required for transcription become available to the public as per the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide and the Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual which are and were both issued by the Ontario government (MAG) in 2019 and 2024 respectively) and by the Criminal Code, she was required to hear and consider the same. As we now know, it was an un-proceeded upon Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment, which had to be signed by the Attorney General, which also includes the SOLGEN by Parliamentary statutory definition, post-facto, by the later manipulation of the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] including that of the Criminal Code Form 2 Information of Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas, but the legal test is whether The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had "prior judicial involvement with myself" PRIOR to the Divisional Court JRPA Proceeding. The key words therein were and are: (i) judicial; and (ii) involvement.

As I had predicted, the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] was not from the OCJ, as admitted by the MAG CSD Records Division, as that would have required a digital signature therein which could not be removed. Moreover, I had predicted prior to knowing that the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] purported to be transcribed by the "law enforcement applicant" document. That is permissible under various sections of the Criminal Code which is primarily under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code but the issuing of a summons versus an arrest warrant (or as Shore J called it a "warrant in the first" which is consistent with a nationwide arrest warrant in which only an SCJ can issue – not the likes of a JP or PCJ as per the Criminal Code) does not permit the same. Ergo, any filing of the e-indictment (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules, "definitions" and rule 4.10) had to "produce a writing" which the email filing of the same would do. Moreover, this now, in light of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's strident and incorrect comments of Friday, October 10, 2025, which is now a pattern of conduct with her involving me, fully answers the misguided initial position taken by the Divisional Court Manage of Court Operations that the Divisional Court could not hear criminal matters or proceedings. That may be correct as a matter of provincial law but not the federal law, which pursuant to the paramountcy doctrine trumps provincial law in the event of a conflict, and it is not only permissible but practical that those Toronto Region Judges (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules and Criminal Code definition of "judge" versus "justice" or "provincial court judge) in their Divisional Court rotations or designations, by statutory authority (de jure) and in fact (de facto) hear and consider ex parte in camera "law enforcement applications" as they clearly have less of an intensive in-court schedule when compared to the family law judges at SCJ 361 University Courthouse and those at SCJ 393 University Avenue and 330 University Avenue courthouses. This does not detract from the demanding nature of their schedules but simply that their availability is more present when there are allegedly urgent "law enforcement applications" or applications for various warrants including that of arrest warrants wherein they are preceded by a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment – which while the SCJ can hear any criminal matters it primarily only hears indictable offences.

It is nonetheless compelling and now most telling that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore utilized the language of "accepted on its face" as if it did not require some credibility finding by her but naturally it would have considering that the requirement is to "hear and decide". It necessarily requires the weighing of evidence and submissions and considering the perspective of the person who is not entitled to notice under the Criminal Code.

In a rather fortuitous set of circumstances, with the benefit of hindsight, I came to learn that the SCJ Toronto Region practice direction for criminal matters prohibits a self-represented litigant from having access to Case Center but the same cannot be said of civil proceedings including the Divisional Court proceedings where it is a requirement that I received an invitation to Case Center and utilized the same. The reason proffered by Ms. Lawrence of the Divisional Court to me was inconsistent with the Divisional Court Judicial Review Guide and the now known authentic reason was as per The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's prior judicial involvement with me I was unfairly brandished as a criminal and treated as a "criminal litigant" in a Divisional Court proceeding.

Parenthetically, on the Transcript Order Form issue (distinct from herein), under The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's interpretation, and one were to then exercise rights of appeal (either applicant or respondents), there would not be a transcript for the Court of Appeal's benefit. As such, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is yet again wrong on that ground.

It is quite a shame as a matter of law, access to justice, and the rule of law (which requires procedural and substantive equality) that this occurred. However, what is done is done and I require access to the digital recordings from the case conferences on the denoted dates as per my entitlement to the same without a court order and as a litigant/party on two independent grounds in light of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore email of Friday, October 10, 2025.

Thankfully, the procedure in Ontario is distinct from BC (see: Long v. Red Branch Investments Ltd, 2018 BCCA decision) in that I must bring my motion, which I did on Friday but prior to reviewing the email forwarded to me by my ACT by Ms. Amirthalingam with the quoted language of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore (see: supra), and it is one of the factual and legal grounds for why I require the digital recordings as an interim measure albeit being unable to provide a copy to the Divisional Court and the sitting motions judge on October 27, 2025.

VI. DENOUEMENT

The undersigned explicitly reserves the unequivocal right to rely upon this detailed correspondence for any and all lawful purposes, including, but not limited to, the advancement of legal proceedings and administrative review.

Pursuant to the requisite payments previously remitted to the Superior Court of Justice (earmarked for the Minister of Finance as required) and, in parallel, to the Authorized Court Transcriber(s) (hereinafter, "ACT(s)"), the administrative division is hereby requested to effectuate the immediate preparation of the electronic audio recordings of the proceedings.

Kindly ensure that the aforesaid recordings are prepared for transcription and subsequent transfer onto a compact disc (CD). Upon the demonstrable receipt of the prescribed fee, the undersigned respectfully requests that the appropriate Court Services personnel advise, with expediency, of a precise date and time for the physical retrieval of the said material from Room 405 of the Superior Court of Justice located at 361 University Avenue Courthouse.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated compliance with the law which dos not require a court order as per supra albeit I am constrained by usage of the to be received copy on CD of the digital recording by an ARP Platform.

I trust this comprehensive submission with the attached was of assistance from a contextual and underlying bases standpoint so there is not unnecessary back and forth which I now know the genesis or etiology of the same.

Wishing you well on your well-deserved statutory holiday.
Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)
/s/ Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)"

In my view and having carefully examined previous responses of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore or attributed to her, it is unequivocal that she had prior judicial involvement involving myself but nonetheless undisclosed. As such, it amounts to a post-facto (March 2025) discovery of new facts and/or fraud which vitiates all previous steps taken that were subject to the failure to disclose the same to me.

At the very least, the JRPA Proceeding has been tainted with fraud and no court in this land will allow a person to keep an advantage which he has obtained by fraud. No judgment of a court, no order of a Minister, can be allowed to stand if it has been obtained by fraud. Fraud unravels everything.

Should Shore J.'s position change, I will promptly notify you of the same but it will likely require an interim order regarding the same which was already addressed in the NOM #3 but on slightly different factual grounds.

I will continue to exercise all of my rights and act with due diligence in obtaining the same but you will note that I have done so but been stonewalled and delayed at every turn.

I sincerely trust you appreciate the detailed email to assist your obtaining instructions from your various clients.

I repeat and rely upon the above subjects of the email.

Respectfully Submitted,

Re: my multi-purposed motion herein to set aside any steps, compulsory case conferences, orders et al based on new facts arising or discovered and fraud since March 2025

To the Honourable Court and Counsel, In Re the Within Proceeding:

I. Introduction and Procedural Compliance

This communication is tendered in pertinentia to the above-referenced matter. Pursuant to the mandatory precepts enshrined within the relevant Ontario statutes and regulations, which necessitate the commencement of an application or motion to vitiate any prior order or judgment resultant from the emergence or subsequent discovery of material facts or the unearthing of palpable fraud within the ambit of the original proceeding, please find appended hereto the Third Motion Record of the Applicant.

II. Newly Ascertained Indicia of Facts and Subsequent Procedural Impediments

A plethora of newly ascertained indicia of material facts and potential malfeasance have demonstrably materialized subsequent to the prior filing, with the anticipation of further revelations yet to unfold. In limine, it is imperative to register the observation that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has, as of the present moment, elected not to furnish a substantive reply to the Court Services personnel of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Records Management Office (RMO)—the designated repository for all judicial recordings and transcripts originating from SCJ venues, including 361 University Avenue Courthouse, and the Divisional Court at 130 Queen Street West. This non-response, which significantly impedes the procurement of authorized transcripts essential to the Applicant's prosecution of this matter, was further exacerbated by the Registrar's failure to honour the Applicant's formal requisition for the production of all filings submitted by the Respondents or Interested Persons, save and except for the Notices of Appearance tendered by the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies—a deficiency underscored by the sub judice issues concerning the alleged pervasive managerial dominion exerted by the LAT in the drafting of the Respondents' materials.

III. Judicial Process and the Open Court Principle

Notwithstanding the aforementioned procedural hurdles, the Applicant has maintained an unreservedly transparent posture in the preparation of this Third Motion, advancing the current exigencies at the earliest possible juncture consonant with the discovery of germane evidence. This evidence, inter alia, pertains to the inability of the Superior Court of Justice and its various functionaries to unequivocally repudiate the contention that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore exercised a judicial function—distinct from the successful repudiation concerning Madam Justice Kraft—in a sub rosa (ex parte, in camera) judicial determination involving the issuance of criminal process or an arrest warrant, alongside other potential authorizations.

While the conventional practice dictates the preservation of the confidentiality and privilege associated with such sensitive information, the fundamental Open Court Principle mandates public accessibility to instruments such as Informations and Indictments, thereby rendering disclosure paramount. This principle accentuates the subsequent issue: the demonstrable manipulation of court documents pertaining to the Applicant during September and October 2024 by unknown actors. This manipulation persisted even subsequent to the formal admission by counsel for the Ministry of the Attorney General (Civil Branch) that the purported Criminal Code Form 2 'Information' did not exist in the alleged form. The Applicant's conduct remains unimpeachable in this particular context, having committed none of the acts documented in the counterfeit materials—materials featuring the forged signature of a Justice of the Peace from the Central West Region (OCJ Brampton Court) and purporting to evidence an 'Intake Court Endorsement [sic]' and a 'warrant in the first' dated in September 2024. The Respondents are fully cognizant of the Applicant's contemporaneous and conspicuous participation in the LAT proceeding at the material time, thereby negating any suggestion of evasion.

IV. Contemplated Relief: Draft Orders

Consistent with the exigency of these circumstances, the Motion Record includes two distinct Draft Orders for the Court's consideration:

1. Interim Draft Order: Pertaining to the mandated production and complete disclosure of the audio recordings from specific case conferences, specifically those wherein the Applicant's non-availability was notified in advance to Ms. Badwal (a Motions Coordinator of the Divisional Court) and the subsequent conference necessitated by the Applicant's hospitalization due to injuries sustained from an e-scooter accident—communicated via electronic mail at 04:00 hours. Furthermore, this Order includes ancillary interim relief, particularly the exigent return of all property de facto unlawfully appropriated by Mr. Karat of the Respondent Insurance Companies (specifically the insurer Primmum, but excluding TD Life).

2. Final Order: A comprehensive determination of the substantive relief sought.

V. Legal Extrapolation and Scope of Remedy

The fundamental ratio of this Motion concerns the vexata quaestio of whether the LAT exercised a pervasive managerial dominion over the TDIA Group and/or the Respondent Insurance Companies. This assessment is acutely relevant subsequent to the March 2025 unlawful appropriation of the Applicant's property by Mr. David Karat—an individual whose conduct has been previously particularized as felonious by the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH). The property unlawfully appropriated included highly sensitive personal information and electronic devices, the very nature of which magnifies the Applicant's Reasonable Expectation of Privacy (REOP).

Consequently, the principal remedy sought is a judicial finding establishing this high degree of control, with attendant leave to address the quantum of pecuniary damages at the appropriate future juncture. Furthermore, the exigent return of the appropriated property from Mr. Karat—as mandated by the proposed Interim Order—is a requisite antecedent to the full determination of damages, as it will facilitate a comprehensive forensic analysis of the electronic devices and ancillary materials to ascertain the full extent of data retention or exfiltration.

VI. Alternative Submission and Final Confirmations

Should the aforementioned approach not be favourably received by the Court, the Applicant shall submit an itemized sum within the accompanying Factum and pertinent Draft Order for the Court's immediate reference. This submission is proffered contingent upon the Applicant's request that this Motion be adjudicated in writing, subject always to any meritorious objections lodged by the opposing parties.

Given the Applicant's understanding that the Justice Services Online (JSO) portal is currently undergoing a process of decommissioning and systemic replacement, the requisite prescribed filing fees shall be remitted forthwith upon the activation and operationalization of the successor electronic filing infrastructure.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Applicant hereby confirms that this Motion Record has been duly filed and served upon all principal parties as of the date hereof, prior to the hour of 16:00. Service upon all other potentially affected third-party persons shall be effectuated by the Applicant under separate cover.

The subsequent materials shall follow.

May this holiday season afford all parties a respite conducive to reflection and equanimity.

[i]It is applicable to all Divisional Court proceedings in Ontario by reference to section 1: "Parties are required to follow the practice set out below for all matters in the Divisional Court anywhere in Ontario." Practice Directions are subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure (see: Rule 1.07: "practice direction" means a direction, notice, guide or similar publication for the purpose of governing, subject to these rules, the practice for proceedings). Ergo, the Valid Practice Direction for Divisional Court proceedings in Ontario

Affidavit #23 of the Applicant

I, Kevin Alexander McLean, Disabled (B.A., J.D., CIM) of Toronto, Ontario, SWEAR THAT:

1. I am the applicant in this JRPA Proceeding, and I swear under pains and penalties of perjury that the following facts are true. Where information is based on my beliefs, I have provided the sources of my beliefs. Definitions from documents filed, provided, or served on respondents or interested parties in this JRPA Proceeding retain their meanings here unless noted otherwise. Additionally, definitions from my 2nd Amended Compendium dated March 28, 2025, are adopted here unless stated otherwise. The date is April 24, 2025.

2. My last affidavit was filed under seal and it was filed and served on the date therein. Since that time, I have not received any responses to my outstanding requests. I repeat and rely upon my previous evidence. I have not waived any of the rights in fact or at law. I intend to proceed as previously particularized.

3. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A" to this my affidavit are copies of the following documents which are consecutively enumerated:

   a. a copy of my fax request of the Divisional Court for copies of the requested filed documents (if any) by the Respondents during the relevant temporal period denoted therein (see: page 1);
   b. a copy of the confirmed delivery of the above noted fax to the Divisional Court (see: page 2); and
   c. a copy of my emails following up with the Divisional Court regarding Exhibit "A", page 1 (see: pages 3 and 4).

4. As of today's date, I have not received any response to those requests in Exhibit "A" or any of my previous requests via email.

5. I now have further 'fresh evidence' or new[1] facts that I will be providing by additional affidavit material and subsequent submissions.

6. I swear this affidavit for no improper purpose and for the above purposes.

Re: Request for any alleged or purported filed materials by any Respondents (defined infra) in the above noted proceeding excluding of filed Notices of Appearances by TD Home and Auto Insurance Company ("TDHA"), Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC"), TD General Insurance Company ("TDGIC") and Licence Appeal Tribunal ("LAT") (collectively defined for this email as the "Respondents")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames et al:

1. I politely write regarding the above. I am the individual applicant above and I have requested access to any allegedly filed material including the following: motions; motion records; confirmations of motion; submissions; affidavits; and/or affidavits of service, by the Respondents. I am presuming that they must have attempted to file some of the above noted documents in late February and/or until on or around March 20, 2025. At this time as there appears to be a suggestion to mail or fax, I have sent this urgent request via fax but kindly respond to me via email above and known to you for ease of reference. If there has not been anything filed, kindly confirm the same via email. I may follow up to confirm the same via email.

2. I thank you in advance for your time.

FORM 4D

Courts of Justice Act

AFFIDAVIT

ONTARIO SUPERIOR COURT OF JUSTICE (DIVISIONAL COURT)

BETWEEN:

KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN

APPLICANT

AND:

TD HOME AND AUTO INSURANCE COMPANY, SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY, TD GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

RESPONDENTS

I, Kevin Alexander McLean, Disabled (B.A., J.D., CIM) of Toronto, Ontario, SWEAR THAT:

1. I am the applicant in this JRPA Proceeding, and I swear under pains and penalties of perjury that the following facts are true. Where information is based on my beliefs, I have provided the sources of my beliefs. Definitions from documents filed, provided, or served on respondents or interested parties in this JRPA Proceeding retain their meanings here unless noted otherwise. Additionally, definitions from my 2nd Amended Compendium dated March 28, 2025, are adopted here unless stated otherwise. The date is April 24, 2025. It is my second affidavit sworn on said date.

VOLUME #1: Exhibit "A"

2. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A" to this my affidavit are copies of the following documents which are consecutively enumerated:

   a. a copy of my perfected and finalized written access request made of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "LAT" or "Tribunal") FIPPA division (the "LAT FIPPA Division") of on or around March 19, 2025 (the "Access Request") (see: pages 1 to 29);
   b. a copy of my emails to the LAT FIPPA Division following up on the finalized and perfected Access Request of it (see: pages 30 to 88); and
   c. a copy of a document confirming that I filed and paid for my OIPC appeal on April 23, 2025, regarding the LAT FIPPA Division's failure to provide a compliant decision or any decision within 30 calendar days of receiving my Access Request and statutory and prescribed application fee (see: page 89).

3. The Access Request was further to my initial January 2025 access request of the LAT FIPPA Division. As per my previously sworn evidence and submissions (filed and served on the Respondents as they were at the various times) in January to March 2025, the LAT FIPPA Division directed me to the LAT Registrar regarding 'adjudicative records'. However, the LAT Registrar, through Ms. Lee, confirmed what she did at the various time and I repeat and rely upon the same (see: the formal admissions made by the LAT Registrar that it was still attempting or determining the best way to compile the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period.

4. I am still seeking the 13 classes of records (as defined under FIPPA) denoted in Exhibit "A", pages 7 and 8 which are in addition to all of the adjudicative records involving the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period for the, inter alia, reasons espoused as per my legal bases, sworn evidence and submissions in my NOM #1, NOM #2, and Compendia (twice amended since February 14, 2025), from the LAT FIPPA Division.

Volume #2: Exhibit "B"

5. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "B" is a copy of my submissions in relation to my NOM #8 before the LAT in relation to costs. Exhibit "B" is enumerated from pages 90 to 119.

6. I provide, in part, this Exhibit "B" to demonstrate some of the types of documents that would be contained in the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period. I also provide the same to this Divisional Court to demonstrate the diligence I have previously exhibited to search for and obtain evidence of the likes of the LSBC and its legal counsel committing fraud upon various tribunals, the BC Supreme Court (the "BCSC"), BCCA and the SCC.

7. As denoted therein, I was the subject to criminal conduct by the LSBC in the form of a concealed RAM Dump of my computer in June 2014 which the LSBC failed, by omission, to inform the various tribunals at issue and courts (superior and appellate) of the same. I believe that if the soon-to-be former LSBC, pursuant to the Legal Professions Act (BC) (2024), could commit that type of fraud upon the various tribunals and courts, then it is probable that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies did as well by commission or omission. While I learned of this fraud committed by the soon-to-be defunct LSBC (see:

8. I invite the Respondents and the Divisional Court to review the same to confirm the veracity of my positions before various tribunals and courts in BC when measured against the documents at appendices therein.

9. I have alleged that the LAT failed to follow its own LAT Rules in various respects and this was another example where it did so by failing to understand that it had jurisdiction to award costs at the time and it was required to make a decision regarding costs (see: LAT Rules in this regard). I note that said decision in relation to NOM #8 was by adjudicator Morrissette as she then was.

VOLUME #3: Application Fee paid to the LAT FIPPA Division and LAT's failures to comply with FIPPA and the open court principle

10. The statutory and prescribed pursuant to FIPPA and its associated regulation(s) application fee was tendered to the LAT FIPPA Division on or around March 20, 2025, and it accepted the same on or around said date. As of today's date, the LAT FIPPA Division has failed to produce a single document from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period including those particularized documents or records that are required in Exhibit "A", pages 7 to 9. The only 'document' that I have received is the LAT Print Out from the LAT Registrar. As of today's date, the LAT FIPPA Division has failed to respond to my Access Request and the follow up emails.

11. The LAT FIPPA Division did not seek clarification of my Access Request. The LAT FIPPA Division did not seek an extension of time relating to my Access Request. The LAT FIPPA Division did seek any further payment of fees of myself to it for me to access to the requested records in my Access Request.

12. Moreover, the LAT, through Mr. Boyce, itself did not provide a single document to me from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period as per my request of it during February 2025. I allege based on the current chronological table that I have compiled of the, in my view, relevant events (jurisprudential, factual and evidentiary) that Mr. Boyce misled and committed fraud (as it is interpreted in some of the below jurisprudence) upon this Honourable Court at various times and stages during this JRPA Proceeding. I refer to Mr. Boyce and the LAT in this regard because based upon my review of the chronology, as currently composed with reference to the documents in my affidavit #21 and beyond, the LAT was the Respondent sending the majority of emails under our dedicated email thread regarding the same.

13. For courtesy and notice purposes, as I have not had any responses from the Respondents and the Divisional Court, in relation to my requests relating to the Purported Dismissal, I will be relying on the following cases including but not limited to the ground of 'fraud': LAC Minerals Ltd., (1988) 66 O.R. (23d) 7610 (H.C.) and JV Mechanical Limited v. Steelcase Construction Inc et al , 2010 ONSC 1443, and those decisions affirming the legal test for fraud and setting aside any order (to the extent there was a valid and lawfully issued order and duly endorsed at the time) that was predicated upon the same.

14. I repeat and rely upon my previous citation of various precedents that remaining silent or omitting material information at relevant times may amount to fraud.

15. While the evidence of the fraud is not known to me[1] and I continue to request the same but without any responses from the Respondents or the Divisional Court, I believe that it will be material. I continue to apply as much diligence as I can to obtain the same and act without delay. However, without the filed documents (if any) in addition to the requested underlying documents from the Divisional Court, it is not possible for me to make full legal argument. I will also file requisitions relating to the same out of an abundance of caution. I do not require certified copies but merely copies of what was allegedly filed and at what time it was filed (if applicable), and/or the relevant issued order. I reserve my rights to review a copy of the draft order involving the Purported Dismissal and I rely on the legal ground

VOLUME #4: CONCLUDING PARAGRAPHS AND JURAT

16. This is some of the 'fresh evidence or new facts' that I will introduce to set aside the Purported Dismissal and obtain the relief that I have been seeking in my JRPA Application (amended on March 5, 2025), motions (filed and to be filed), NOCQ (March 4, 2025) et al. I intend to and will exhaust every conceivable legal avenue in order to attempt to and obtain the relief that I have been seeking. I remain of the view and belief that a fraud has been committed on this Divisional Court and upon myself, and I will seek that relief in relation to the style of cause titled above involving the facts and relief sought that have been adjudicated upon at all, as known to me, and by decision makers that are not only independent but seen to be independent.

17. I allege that there is a systemic problem with the Licence Appeal Tribunal ("LAT") including that of Tribunals Ontario with respect to its conduct in relation to compliance with including the following but not limited to:

a. section 20 of the SPPA;
b. section 10 of LATA;
c. section 10 of the JRPA; and
d. the 'open court principle; under our Charter.

18. I note that there have been allegations in some cases against Epstein Cole LLP communicating with the court staff and the Court in an improper manner. I do not know whether those allegations were true or not. Without castigating Epstein Cole LLP, I again note that it did not respond to my requests of it relating to my NOM #2. I do not believe that Madam Justice Shore was assigned and/or took some form of carriage of the JRPA Proceeding in January 2025 randomly to this JRPA Proceeding. While I note that the Chief Justice of the ONSC, The Honourable Mr. Justice Morawetz is responsible for the assignment of justices to certain matters, it is unclear to me whether he assigned Madam Justice Shore at first instance relating to the Compulsory Case Conference Requirement on or around January 7, 2025, or whether Justice Shore sought the same. I have found recent decisions (see: 2024[2] and 2025) involving the only other justice of the ONSC (Toronto Region) that I believe was employed and/or a partner at Epstein Cole LLP in The Honourable Madam Justice Melanie Kraft during the period of 2017 to present, and they were not in the Divisional Court. I will be seeking various orders pursuant to various legal bases, including section 146 of the Courts of Justice Act, and the Inherent Jurisdiction of this Honourable Court in relation to the above.

19. I will also be seeking an order of this Honourable Court to produce the transcripts from any and all case conferences (actual, purported or otherwise) so I can inspect the same and be granted permission to file additional submissions in relation to the motion itself. For notice purposes, I will provide a draft consent order for consideration by the Respondents. For further notice purposes and to demonstrate my continued diligence along with acting with, in my view, without delay, while also being as patient, in my view, as I can to receive responses from the Respondents and the Divisional Court, whilst respecting their resources, I will await their responses to the same by end of the business day on Friday, April 25, 2025. I have further evidence that will be filed under seal that will be tendered in support the above.

20. I swear this affidavit for no improper purpose and for the above purposes.

Sworn before me by videoconference:

Re #2: confirmation – only requesting few documents from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period: documents number therein

Re #3: broadening of access request to the following documents generally

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

VOLUME #1: INTRODUCTION

1. I write regarding the above. I adopt the definitions from the emails between myself and the LAT FIPPA Division, and they have the same meaning herein unless otherwise noted.

2. "Requested Time Period" means the time period from December 24, 2023, to January 31, 2025.

3. I reserve the right to formalize and amend any errors herein. I attempt to return from a relatively serious accident on March 5, 2024, albeit not involving any motor vehicles. I am having some serious dental issues as my face hit the pavement. I apologize in advance for any administrative, grammar or spelling errors. If I do amend, including an e-copy of this letter, with hyperlinking and bookmarking, I will highlight the amendments of the same.

4. Since we last communicated, and I apologize for the delay as I was unfortunately hit by an e-scooter in the evening of March 5, 2025, and had to attend the emergency room at a local hospital. As such, I had been recovering since that time. I am somewhat better so I have had some assistance with the drafting of the same but the contents and thoughts remain mine. In any event, this access request and records sought, personal information in nature, remain urgent and of extreme importance to me involving that which involves my rights to benefits from the First Insurer along with ensuring that my health and safety are adequately protected. In this regard, I am also ensuring that I have done all that I can do to exhaust all potential avenues to obtain records, inspect the same and determine if I need to protect myself.

5. I thank you for your responses previously via email and requested redirection to the LAT Registrar. While it bore some fruit per se, the delays and lack of transparency were not readily apparent. As noted in email, I obtained an alleged "print out" from the LAT on February 26, 2025, (the "LAT ROP Print-Out") the of the alleged records that compiled the record of proceeding (the "ROP") from the ROP Temporal Period. However, it raised more questions than answers. As such, oversight of the LAT FIPPA Division, bound by the requirements under FIPPA and its interpretative, persuasive and binding jurisprudence that specifically cites sections of FIPPA or otherwise, is required in any event.

6. Detachment and objectivity are required.

7. It is indisputable on the evidence that my suspicions turned to reasonable belief to reasonable grounds to believe to near certainties that this LAT had a vendetta and malice towards me. In this regard, one of my great nemeses involving my 11-year war involving my former regulatory body in the LSBC was that of the law firm of the BLG LLP. Current executive director of the Tribunals Ontario is that of Mr. Sean Weir who was the national managing partner of BLG LLP from 2001 to 2018. I reference some of my seminal decisions and you will see that BLG was not only involved in various stages therein in a role of purported independent supervising solicitor and independent adjudicator. However, I came to learn later that BLG LLP took the position that its client was listed at the LSBC and it would not even allow me to view its invoices for its work performed (by way of partner at BLG LLP (Vancouver office) in Mr. Robert Deane, KC).

8. I then learned that there was an unlawful RAM dump of my CPU (see: NOM #8 of the Applicant on "Costs"), alien to that of what was authorized by the LSBC (albeit challenged on many levels and successful on many levels and then ultimately successful by way of the LPA being repealed to the New LPA in nearly the exact form I had requested formally in the BCSC) on June 3 and/or 4, 2014, at my private, confidential and privileged law office in Vancouver, BC. I then later learned in

9. While I do not intend to impugn the character or integrity of Mr. Weir, it is not a remote potential that Mr. Weir remains in contact with many of the lawyers, paralegals and staff at BLG LLP. I do not fault him for doing so but it is important that I know of the same to further protect myself. However, I had one specific lawyer who was the 'chief risk officer" of BLG LLP at the time engage in threatening conduct towards me in July 2022. I was able to overcome the same with the benefit of the BLG LLP PIPEDA department and its esteemed privacy officers in Montreal, Quebec. I was thankful for the same. However, there was certainly some 'bad blood' created by said chief risk officer.

10. In this regard and again exclusively to assist your LAT FIPPA Division with its anticipated conclusion that I am correct that I am entitled to a wide and broad scope of requested records even where there may be an initial position taken by LAT or the individual who acted in the scope of his or her authorities with the LAT that the records are subject to privilege, would constitute an unreasonable invasion of privacy of their privacy and/or it would create some unreasonable safety risk to said individuals.

11. I wish to make clear herein that I can confirm like I did with CAMH and TPL that I would not and did not make any complaints to law enforcement. While many with those public bodies, without naming any names, were most astonished as to why, I had my confidential reasons for not doing so. However, the main one that was not confidential is that I do my adversarial work in the civil sense. I do not need to ever waste taxpayer dollars on criminal investigations for that type of unauthorized and fraudulent conduct. I also remain of the view that it is best to fix one's problems and to not delay any civil proceedings or potential civil proceedings with a criminal charge or otherwise.

12. I confirm the same herein albeit I doubt that any conduct would rise to that level. I raise this point in light of the aforementioned but to immediately dispel any potential that the LAT and various individuals could or would posit that providing with the personal information records, or part of those records (subject to any lawful redactions), to myself would put their health and safety at risk (i.e. the potential of a quasi-criminal charge or criminal charge). I would say that said position would not be reasonable in any event.

13. Moreover, there is nothing about potential civil liability or requirements to comply with the law that could be seen as a 'threat" to the health and safety of an individual. Moreover with a reasonable or objective person test, nothing could be construed as a reasonable threat regarding the same.

14. I will be comprehensive herein out of an abundance of caution and by way of some learning experiences from my access requests and appeals (now concluded) involving CAMH (see: infra for relevant particulars herein) and The Toronto Public Library (see: infra for particulars). In relation to the beneficial learning experiences, I found some by 'trial and error' that by recasting or, at first instance, making an access request that was specific and particularized, with its legal bases, along with a forward-looking element allowed for a streamlined appeal and, in one instance, a nearly immediate resolution between myself and the public body. I cannot delve into the details per se of the same and I do not cite the same for the truth of their contents but the timing of delivering the same could not be more apropos.

15. I am also sending the enclosed five dollars via hand delivery or mail along with this letter as I appreciate technological errors that can occur and to ensure that I do not need to unnecessarily follow-up, whilst welcoming any follow-ups from your privacy department of the LAT via email, you will have a singular document, cross-referenced to the relevant components of the email access request, to rely upon. To the extent your division disagrees with my legal bases and the anticipated records to be received on or before 30 calendar days of receipt of this letter with the five-dollar application fee,

16. As I had noted with those public institutions and to some extent in my emails, which triggered the retention of the information in record form request or to be created depending on what is learned in your search,

17. I repeat and rely upon the relevant contents of the access request minus the need for each and every document from the record of proceeding in the LAT Proceeding as I have reviewed the printout from the LAT Registrar and I am aware of the majority of the documents therein but for the following:

    a. The documents ending in file type of: ".msg";
    b. The denotation of the related party of "TD General Insurance Company" on April 22, 2024;
    c. The undisclosed motion order on or around July 27, 2024; and
    d. The undisclosed motion order on or around August 16, 2024.

18. There were a variety of documents contained therein that are unknown to me. Ergo, I am requesting those documents or records from you so I can obtain copies of the same.'

19. Moreover, the printout raises more questions than answers, and, as such, my access request of the LAT is not one and the same with the request for the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period.

VOLUME #2: INCLUSION OF DOCUMENTS

20. I shall be referring to the following documents by inclusion herein (in part or in whole) and/or by inclusion via email:

    a. Tab #1: select pages from my index that I created;
    b. Tab #2: select pages from the LAT Registrar Print Out;
    c. Tab #3: CAMH images in redacted form;
    d. Tab #4: TPL chart of unauthorized activities; and
    e. Tab #5: Unauthorized completing of a form denoted as "TPL laptop and equipment borrowing form"; and
    f. Tab #6: Notices of Appearance by the LAT and three insurance companies in the TDI Group on the dates therein (see: November 27, 2024, and December 3, 2024, respectively).

21. Some, if not all, of the above noted documents are already known to the LAT FIPPA Division.

22. I apologize in this regard for a little bit of a foggy memory as I was concussed by my accident, via e-scooter from behind, on March 5, 2025, and I am to avoid light from screens as much as possible.

VOLUME #3: My specified and particularized request for access to copies of records via email to the above noted email

23. Ergo, I am requesting the following records from the LAT/AABS division from the following period of December 24, 2023, to January 31, 2025, which I delineate into the following groups or classes of documents:

    A. CLASS #1: FILE LOGS, SCREENSHOTS (INCLUDING ANY PREVIOUS VERSIONS (SEE: CLASS #3 REGARDING 'POWER OUTAGE')

        i. the file logs and screenshots from whatever "back end" of the LAT/AABS division including but not limited to:
        ii. record indicating the style of cause and when it changed (if at all);
        iii. when any insurance companies were input as the respondents into said portal or back-end;
            1. Conclusion: not a large number of records. Perhaps, a few records.

B. CLASS #2: POWER OUTAGE RECORDS

i. the date and records when there was an apparent power outage on or around March 30, 2024, and the steps taken, inclusive of records, to recreate the file and any lost records from that period;
    1. Conclusion: not a large number of records. Perhaps one or two records.

C. CLASS #3: SPECIFIC DOCUMENTS FROM THE LAT REGISTRAR FEB 26 PRINT OUT

i. specific documents from the LAT Registrar the records involving the following from the LAT print out from on or around February 26, 2025
ii. the denotation of the TDGIC as a related party on April 22, 2024 (on or around);
iii. the undisclosed motion order from July 27, 2024;
iv. the undisclosed motion order from August 16, 2024;
v. the document that include .msg as follows in said index.
    1. Conclusion: not a large number of records and must be in the possession and control of the LAT.

D. CLASS #4 – THE SHUTTLEWORTH (SEE: Mary Shuttleworth v. Licence Appeal Tribunal, 2018 ONSC 3790 (CanLII), <https://canlii.ca/t/hsm3q>) TYPE DOCUMENTS:

i. records, specific to the LAT Proceeding, which are in the nature of the types of documents that were present in the Shuttleworth decision. In this regard, I reference the components of the decisions in Shuttleworth vs. Licence Appeal Tribunal (see: paragraph 24);
    1. Conclusion: not a large number of records as it is simply in relation to each decision or order, whether that four-step process was followed.

E. CLASS #5: LIST OF PROFESSIONAL ADVISERS INCLUDING LEGAL COUNSEL (IN-HOUSE I.E. LAT IN-HOUSE OR SLASTO IN-HOUSE LEGAL COUNSEL LIKE MR. BOYCE):

i. The name of any legal counsel, inclusive of a lawyer licensee or paralegal licensee along with their legal assistants (de facto, de jure, actual or implied) (defined hereinafter as "Legal Counsel" or "Legal Counsel Team"), to the Tribunal and any decision makers in the LAT Proceeding (denoted as 23-015662/AABS) and a list (not necessarily the documents of themselves) of any and all communications between the following:
    1. Legal counsel and any decision maker;
    2. Legal counsel and the Tribunal;

3. The Tribunal and any legal counsel;
    a. In this regard, I would be most grateful, which I believe would be helpful to both of us, in a form similar to that of an LOD or affidavit of documents in the ONSC;
        i. Conclusion: not a large umber of records and must already be in the easily accessible possession and control like those in the ROP index created by Mr. McLean. To the extent they are not, they would need to be easily cross-referenced.

f. Class #6: LAT AND TDI GROUP RECORDS INVOLVING MYSELF:

i. Any and all communications between the LAT and the tdiadr@tdinsurance.com including Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos or any agents of TD by said vocational emails or personal emails where I am NOT copied from December 24, 2023, to January 31, 2025;
    1. Conclusion: not a large number of records and easily searchable.

G. CLASS #7: LAT CRO'S AND TDI GROUP:

i. Any and all communications involving the email of josh.grant@ontario.ca and any individual associated with TD Insurance group (the "TDI Group");
    1. Conclusion: not a large number of records and easily searchable.

h. Class #8: LAT CRO and TDI Group (where I was not copied):

i. Any and all communications between the LAT and Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos about or relating to myself between December 24, 2023, and January 31, 2025;
    1. Conclusion: not a large number of records (hopefully).

I. CLASS #9: LAT (MR. BOYCE AND HIS ASSISTANTS) AND TDI (MR. NIEUWLAND AND HIS ASSISTANTS INCLUDING ANY COLLEAGUES):

i. Any communications between Mr. Boyce and Mr. Nieuwland (see: emails) between December 24, 2023, and January 31, 2025;
    1. Conclusion: unlikely to be a large number of records but certainly the LAT provided Mr. Nieuwland or for his attention a copy of an NOA for him to fill out, and sign on or around December 3, 2024;

J. CLASS #10: NOTES TO PHONE CALLS:

i. any notes to phone calls between the LAT and any individuals of, agents to, or employees of TDI Group during the requested time period;

1. Conclusion: not a large number of records. It is unclear if staff members at the LAT other than lawyers and paralegals engage the same. The LSO does require some level of note taking for phone calls involving their licensees:

K. CLASS #11: NON-EMAIL COMMUNICATIONS VIA MOBILE, SMART PHONES OR SMART DEVICES VIA TEXT, WHATSAPP, VIBER OR ANY OTHER MESSAGING SOFTWARE:

i. any communications, including e-communications via mobile, smart device devices, tablets et al in any other medium but for email between the LAT and TDI Group, including TD Bank (see: Mr. Papadimitropoulos new employer and address for delivery of documents on the LSO Directory);
   1. Conclusion: only the experienced employee will know whether LAT employees (and potentially consultants) have government issued mobile and smart devices. If they do, the definition of 'control' is the right of the public institution TO REQUEST TO MAKE A COPY of the record;

L. CLASS #12: MR. WEIR AND OTHERS INVOLVING MYSELF:

i. any and all communications by or to Mr. Sean Weir or any other individual with the management of LAT with any other persons besides myself that involve me from the Requested Time Period (see: Mr. _____):
ii. Conclusion: unlikely to be a large number of records but some including any decisions to not release records or to specifically denote certain records as sensitive and/or with differing levels of authorization to access the same;

m. Class #13: Residual

i. Any other records not exactly specified regarding the above but in the spirit of the same that come to your attention when conducting your search and processing of the same.

VOLUME #4: The Shuttleworth Process (2018 and 2019 decisions)

24. I note the following from the ONSC Divisional Court in Shuttleworth at the following paragraphs:

> "The Decision Review Process
> [24] In-house counsel for the LAT swore an affidavit explaining that the executive chair implemented a decision review process at the LAT. The stated reason was to maximize the quality of the tribunal's decisions. The peer review process has not been adopted formally. No written policy was provided but counsel swore that, "generally, the LAT decision review process for final decisions is, and at all material times in this case was" as follows:

> First, there is peer review: After drafting a decision, an adjudicator is expected to send the decision for peer review by the Duty Vice-Chair. The Duty Chair offers suggestions to improve clarity, reasoning and readability and might also evaluate, for example, whether the correct legal test has been applied and whether any related case law that was not mentioned might be helpful.
> Second, there is legal review: The SLASTO Legal Services Unit reviews the decision to ensure that the correct legal test has been applied and to identify any related case law that was not mentioned that might be helpful.
> Third, there is a second peer review by the executive chair: "In some rare instances – such as when a decision involves a novel, contentious, precedent-setting, or high profile issue – the Legal Services Unit will send the decision to the Executive chair for her review. In these instances, the Executive chair serves, in essence, as a second peer reviewer and accordingly will order the same kinds of comments that the author would typically receive during the initial peer review."
> Fourth, there is a review by the file's case management officer: The case management officer[i] acts as an intake officer and primary point of contact for the parties. This review involves examining the decision's format, correcting grammatical and spelling errors, and ensuring that the template and parties' names are correct. [Emphasis added.]

[25] The absence of a written policy is significant. The ATAGAA contains a very formal process to ensure the accountability of tribunal members and officers both internally and to the public. Sections 7 and 8 of ATAGAA read as follows:

> Member accountability framework
> 7 (1) Every adjudicative tribunal shall develop a member accountability framework.
> Contents
> (2) The member accountability framework must contain,
> (a) a description of the functions of the members, the chair and the vice-chairs, if any, of the tribunal;
> (b) a description of the skills, knowledge, experience, other attributes and specific qualifications required of a person to be appointed as a member of the tribunal;
> (c) a code of conduct for the members of the tribunal; and

(d) any other matter specified in the regulations or in a directive of the Management Board of Cabinet. 2009, c. 33, Sched. 5, s. 7 (2).

Approval
(3) The member accountability framework must be approved by the tribunal's responsible minister.
Publication, Amendment and Review of Public Accountability Documents Publication of public accountability documents

8 Every adjudicative tribunal shall make its public accountability documents, approved as required by section 3, 4, 5, 6 or 7, as the case may be, available to the public.

[26] No documents were provided to outline LAT's review process nor were we advised that the process had been adopted and published in accordance with the statutory process designed to protect and enhance accountability as provided by the statute.

[27] According to counsel for the LAT,

> … those who review a draft decision accept, and do not question, the facts and evidence as presented in the draft. To the extent that a reviewer's comments might relate to the facts or evidence, they are simply intended to clarify the author's findings. The reviewer functions simply as an editor. Likewise, those who review a draft decision do not comment on the decision's policy choice(s) or ultimate result. In this sense, the LAT's decision review process recognizes that an adjudicator assigned to hear and determine a matter is completely independent to render whatever determination he or she sees fit. Again, the reviewer functions simply as an editor. The adjudicator has complete discretion to accept or reject any suggested revisions offered as part of the decision review process, as well as complete discretion over the extent to which he or she shows a reviewer any further drafts or revisions before releasing the decision to the parties; and while SLASTO has a formal process for peer and legal review as described above, there is no means to compel adjudicators to participate in it. If an adjudicator declined to participate in process, there is no means to prevent him or her from releasing the decisions without further comment or discussion.

25. As the LAT is a quasi-judicial body, its conduct must mirror that of the courts in Ontario when it comes to transparency, openness and honesty.

VOLUME #4: The Privilege List and the underlying documents: one of the presumed disputes regarding access

26. By way of courtesy, I appreciate that the LAT is likely going to contend that any document in a list of privileged documents are semi-eponymously privileged. I would disagree at first instance for a variety of reasons. However, I need not speculate. As such, I will simply request a list of the documents as follows:

a. Author (sender);
b. Recipient;
c. Date;
d. Type of document; and
e. Short description of document.

VOLUME #4(A): Mr. Boyce

27. I have reasonable grounds to believe that one of the legal counsel was that of Mr. Jesse Aaron Boyce.

28. For some background in this regard, Mr. Boyce, as you know, became declared counsel to the LAT in the JRPA Proceeding at a time unknown to me. However, he became known to me on or around November 27, 2024.

29. Mr. Nieuwland on behalf of the three insurance companies (TDHA, SNIC and TDGIC) filed an NOA on December 3, 2024.

VOLUME #4(B): Legal Bases regarding whether privilege (litigation privilege, solicitor-client or settlement privilege) exists

30. Trusting the LAT is well-known with the legal tests for the same, they do not bear much in the way of repeating per se but for the basic principles.

31. In Goldman Sachs & Co. v. Sessions, 2000 BCSC 67 (CanLII), <https://canlii.ca/t/52qg>, the BCSC stated the obvious:

> [12] I cannot agree with Mr. Nathanson. The burden of establishing privilege rests on the party who asserts privilege. Communications between client and lawyer are not privileged simply on the basis of the status of the parties. Only communications made to Ms. Litt for the purpose of seeking legal advice or made by her to provide advice in her professional capacity as a lawyer are privileged.

32. It is trite that in-house counsel, whether to the LAT during the LAT Proceeding or to the LAT during the JRPA Proceeding, are tempered depending on whether an in-house lawyer was truly acting in his legal capacity or acting more in an investigative role. In my Amended JRPA Proceeding, which was preceded by the NOCQ (March 4, 2025), I have alleged therein (and will beyond) that the likes of those involved in the theft and subsequent unauthorized conduct were under a high degree of control from the LAT.

33. The exceptions to privilege are as follows:

a. Waiver;
   i. Implicit;
   ii. Explicit;
b. Conduct;
c. Future crimes[ii];
d. Non-criminal breaches of the law; and
e. it is necessary to protect public safety.[iii]

34. In relation to subparagraph 34(d), I note the following case at the following paragraphs: McDermott v McDermott, 2013 BCSC 534 (CanLII), 46 BCLR (5th) 121 at paras 72 to 73. This exception applies not just to communications that are "necessarily criminal in nature", it may also apply to communications in relation to any "unlawful conduct" that "causes injury to the legal rights of other citizens", which includes "breaches of regulatory statutes, breaches of contract, and torts and other breaches of duty.

35. Administrative bodies have a duty of fairness to the public. This is particularly apposite when they are an extension of the MAG and/or have a memorandum with the MAG that requires it to be uphold certain duties.

36. It is trite that the conduct of the LAT, perhaps at the misguidance of one of the TDIG insurance companies through the likes of Mr. Papadimitropoulos, Mr. Karat and/or Mr. Nieuwland et al, caused it to be askew from the outset.

37. However, the documents in the index, created by myself after receipt of the February 26, 2025, print out, demonstrate a pattern of breaching its duty of good faith to me along with various statutes including section 20 of the SPPA and section 10 of the LATA.

38. In the same style of cause as the above but in the year of 1999, the BCSC addressed the exceptions to solicitor-client privilege in the civil context:

> [20] The defendants' burden is described in Pax Management Ltd. v. C.I.B.C. (1987), 1987 CanLII 153 (BC CA), 14 B.C.L.R. (2d) 257 (C.A.) at pp. 265-66, where Wallace J.A., speaking for the Court, adopted the reasoning of Viscount Finlay in O'Rourke v. Darbishire, supra, at p. 604, that there must be more than a mere allegation — there must be "something to give colour to the charge", that is, "some prima facie evidence that it has some foundation in fact." He identified the proper approach in this passage:

> I have concluded that the plaintiffs have specifically pleaded fraudulent misrepresentation and that the surrounding circumstances, as revealed by the affidavits filed in support of the application, satisfy me that the claim is honestly advanced and has sufficient credence to justify exercising the Court's discretion to disallow the privilege so that all relevant material is before the Court when resolving this very serious allegation.
> [21] Accordingly, it is not necessary for the court to weigh conflicting evidence and to make findings of fact on an application such as this. Rather, the court must examine the applicant's case in the light shed by all of the evidence and the surrounding circumstances to determine if it "gives colour to the charge."
> [22] Before it can be determined whether the defendants have given colour to the charge here, it is necessary to consider the submission made by Mr. Nathanson, for the plaintiffs, that the defendants have not pled a cause of action for abuse of process in their counterclaim.

39. The BCSC went further at paragraph 30 to explain what is meant by colour to the charge:

> [30] The showing of colour to the charge is not sufficient, in itself, to justify setting aside the privilege, however. If that threshold is crossed, the Court must then inspect the communications in camera to determine the legitimacy of the claim of privilege: Middelkamp v. Fraser Valley Real Estate Board, 1992 CanLII 2241 (BC CA), [1993] 1 W.W.R. 436 (B.C.C.A.) at para. 6.
> [31] There will, therefore, be an order that the plaintiffs produce the documents described in the notice of motion to the court for inspection.
> [32] This conclusion does not engage the risks that concerned Goff J. that the whole basis of privilege will be endangered and that persons will be prevented from seeking legitimate legal advice: Crescent Farms, supra, at p. 565. That concern is met by the requirement that the privilege will apply unless the recipient of the professional legal communication obtained it for a wrongful purpose: see R. v. Campbell, supra, at paras. 58-59, and by the requirement that the communication be inspected by the chambers judge before production will be ordered."

40. If the position of the LAT Privacy Division is that those requested records must be reviewed by the OIPC in camera, then kindly advise as soon as you know of the same.

41. As noted, I will provide the further documents via email due to their size including those already known to the LAT and those not known to the LAT.

42. I have already provided affidavits in the JRPA Proceeding regarding the same. I may have an additional affidavit to you for these purposes herein or specified herein. The honesty of my claims therein and future claims are indisputable. Whether I am correct or not is a matter of access to the Requested Personal Information Records.

43. Moreover, in light of the wildly undisciplined and unauthorized conduct by the likes of an agent of the LAT, at least at various times, in forging my signature, engaging in fraudulent misrepresentation et al, without any disavowing of the same by the LAT through Mr. Boyce, public safety remains at risk.

44. While TD Insurance Group appears to have dismissed Mr. Papadimitropoulos, his email remains active @tdinsurance.com as does his new email of @td.com. Therefore, it appears some steps have been taken by TD Insurance but it is certainly not enough. The LAT as part of or a division of MAG cannot sit idle. It needs to be fully transparent in all respects even to confirm if documents or records have been deleted or destroyed.

VOLUME #5: Legal Bases: FIPPA

VOLUME #5(A): Settled Legal Principles from the authorities

45. I commence with the obvious and that is the definition and interpretation of personal information.

46. The general legal principles are:

a. Procedure: access applicants ("Access Applicants") versus complainants against Public Body ("Public Body Complainants"): Access Applicants make requests pursuant to a right of general records or personal information records, and then review requests or appeals (depending on provincial nomenclature) under FIPPA leading to potential inquiries (not investigations) and/or orders under relevant statutory sections;
b. The COMMISSIONER has the additional powers to "reviews" or "appeal" under FIPPA ensure FIPPA Purposes are guaranteed achieved by making orders described under various sections;
c. Public Body Complainants make complaints which lead to investigations and the COMMISSIONER may make orders under relevant statutory sections
d. Access to Information Rights – Purpose – *Facilitate Democracy: the overarching purpose of access to information rights ("Information Rights") is to facilitate democracy by ensuring that citizens have the information required to participate meaningfully in the democratic process;
e. Privacy Rights – Purpose: privacy rights are designed to protect the privacy of individuals with respect to Personal Information held by government institutions and to provide individuals with a right of access to that information; (d): Privacy Act (federal and provincial): quasi-constitutional[iv];

f. (e):Exceptions from an individual applicant's access rights – interpreted narrowly: In Lavigne v. Canada (Office of the COMMISSIONER of Official Languages), 2002 SCC 53 (CanLII), [2002] 2 S.C.R. 773, Gonthier J. observed that exceptions from the rights set out in the act should be interpreted narrowly, with any doubt resolved in favour of preserving the right;
g. (f): Burden of proof: the burden of persuasion on the person asserting the exception (at paras. 30-31). (Lavigne); (g): Privacy Rights only compromised when there is a compelling state interest for doing so: in Dagg v. Canada (Minister of Finance), 1997 CanLII 358 (SCC), [1997] 2 S.C.R. 403, the court articulated the governing principles of privacy law including that protection of privacy is a fundamental value[v] in modern democracies and is enshrined in ss. 7 and 8 of the Charter, and privacy rights are to be compromised only where there is a compelling state interest for doing so (at paras. 65, 66, 71);
h. (i) Competing values: the operation of FIPPA to balance the competing values of privacy and access is a matter which the COMMISSIONER is tasked with overseeing;
i. (j) "Compliance" and "duty": these are not permissive or directive but rather mandatory word choices by the Legislature that require a public body or public institution to comply with the same. It cannot chose when it wishes to comply with its legal duties or not;
j. (l) Discretionary exceptions - even if access is technically protected under a limited exception – public interest is paramount:
k. (m) In Order 02-38[vi], at para. 149, I affirmed once again that the head of a Public Body should always consider the public interest in disclosure of information that is technically protected from disclosure and cited some of the relevant factors in considering the public interest in disclosure.
l. COMMISSIONER, as an independent officer of the legislature, has a variety of means at his or her disposal.
m. Even where orders not made: findings still have "teeth" and must be complied with.

47. The OPCC, FCC and FCA has interpreted personal information to be the following at this endnote.[vii]

48. Records are defined as the following:

> "record" means any record of information however recorded, whether in printed form, on film, by electronic means or otherwise, and includes,
> (a) correspondence, a memorandum, a book, a plan, a map, a drawing, a diagram, a pictorial or graphic work, a photograph, a film, a microfilm, a sound recording, a videotape, a machine readable record, any other documentary material, regardless of physical form or characteristics, and any copy thereof, and

> (b) subject to the regulations, any record that is capable of being produced from a machine readable record under the control of an institution by means of computer hardware and software or any other information storage equipment and technical expertise normally used by the institution; ("document")

49. Subsection (b) in the definition of "record" is similar to a provision under BC FIPPA which requires the public body to create a record and even create applications to make the same where such records are not immediately accessible.

50. Being forced to learn FIPPA and M*FIPPA* as a result of the October 25 CAMI Theft and the unauthorized TPL conduct from October 28, 2024, to present has provided a silver lining or benefit on an individual and collective level. It allowed me, being used to the BC FIPPA, to provide my positions in advance and on a preemptive basis which I and the public bodies so involved found helpful and truncated the time regarding the same.

51. My briefing of FIPPA was and is as follows.

52. The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (R.S.O. 1990, CHAPTER F.31) aims to balance the public's right to access information held by institutions with the need to protect individual privacy. It establishes a framework for accessing records under the control of institutions, ensuring that information is available to the public while limiting exemptions to specific and necessary cases. The Act also mandates independent review of government disclosure decisions to maintain transparency and accountability (section 1).

53. The Act applies to various institutions, including ministries, hospitals, and educational institutions, and outlines the roles and responsibilities of the Information and Privacy Commissioner. The Commissioner is tasked with overseeing compliance, handling appeals, and ensuring that institutions adhere to the Act's provisions regarding the collection, use, and disclosure of personal information (sections 2, 4, and 5).

54. The legislation details procedures for requesting access to records, including timelines for responses and conditions under which access may be denied. It also specifies exemptions for certain types of records, such as those related to law enforcement, solicitor-client privilege, and Cabinet deliberations. Additionally, the Act provides guidelines for the protection of personal information, including its collection, retention, and disposal (sections 10, 12, 19, and 40).

55. The Act includes provisions for appeals and reviews, allowing individuals to challenge decisions made by institutions regarding access to information. It also outlines the powers of the Commissioner to conduct inquiries and issue orders to ensure compliance. The legislation is designed to promote transparency, accountability, and the protection of personal privacy within Ontario's public sector (sections 50, 52, and 54).

56. The Act was last amended in 2024 and is consolidated from January 29, 2025, to the e-Laws currency date.

Outline of the seminal legislative sections to this January 2025 Access Request

Purposes (section 1)

57. Establishes the Act's objectives to provide public access to information and protect individual privacy regarding personal information held by institutions.

58. The Legislature's stated purpose is supplemented, bolstered and solidified by the common law principles found by the ONCA and SCC.

59. The obvious potential dispute will be what records are privileged, including the type of privilege, and whether there are any exemptions to the claim of privilege. However, the names of the lawyers, paralegals and/or staff are not privileged in of themselves.

Limited Application Re Assembly (section 1.1)

60. Specifies the Act's limited application to the Assembly, focusing on reviewable expenses and personal information of Opposition leaders and their staff.

61. This subsection is inapplicable to my January 2025 Access Request.

Definitions (section 2)

62. Provides definitions for key terms used throughout the Act, such as "institution," "personal information," and "record." Those are noted and defined above.

Part I — Administration (sections 3–9)

63. Outlines the roles of the responsible minister and the Information and Privacy Commissioner, including appointment, powers, duties, and office administration.

Part II — Freedom of Information (sections 10–36.1)

64. Details the right of access to records, exemptions, access procedures, and information to be published or made available by institutions.

65. As I am only seeking personal information of myself and personal health information (where applicable), the presumption is that I am entitled to said personal information.

66. The burden is on the LAT to prove why a narrow exemption would apply to any of the classes of documents or documents within those classes. The burden is a heavy one and not easily displaced.

67. Of course, solicitor-client privilege has been somewhat constitutionalized. However, where the communications are not for the purposes of the client seeking advice from in-house tribunal counsel, then such privilege does not exist.

68. Whether the dominant purpose of the communication was the contemplation or the actuality of litigation will have to be inspected by reference to a list in this regard. There is no dispute that Mr. Boyce and Mr. Nieuwland or a proxy or agent (de facto, de jure or purported one) have communicated without my involvement.

69. Section 10 of FIPPA is worth repeating herein:

> 10 (1) Subject to subsections (1.1) and 69 (2), every person has a right of access to a record or a part of a record in the custody or under the control of an institution unless,
> (a) the record or the part of the record falls within one of the exemptions under sections 12 to 22; or
> (b) the head is of the opinion on reasonable grounds that the request for access is frivolous or vexatious. 1996, c. 1, Sched. K, s. 1; 2010, c. 25, s. 24 (6); 2019, c. 7, Sched. 31, s. 1 (1

70. There is nothing frivolous about this request or in any way vexatious as has been self-evident from the royal runaround that has occurred with the LAT registrar and it apparently sincere apologies. Unfortunately with the trust broken and my life, health, liberty and security being affected by the conduct of certain individuals in the TDI Group (now some at TD Bank Group by what appears to have been a dismissal of some individuals like Mr. Papadimitropoulos), the exceptions are not available to the LAT but for potentially bona fide and lawful solicitor-client communications. As I cannot prove or disprove (i.e. not prove a negative), I will need to inspect the list of documents and he inputs therein under the above noted categories sot determine if I need to continue with my initial assertion that no privilege would attach to any of the listed but not disclosed as it relates to the contents of those listed documents therein (if that is the case).

71. If certain parts of documents are determined by lawful discretion to be subject to an exception (lawful) but the other part of the document does not, kindly disclose the same and the reasons for why part of said document may have been served (see: section 10(2) of FIPPA).

72. I note the general requirement of preservation by the Legislature (see: 10.1 of FIPPA).

73. I note that section 13 of FIPPA may be relied upon the LAT with respect to potential advice provided by an in-house counsel or retained consultant by LAT. It is naturally permissive so balancing would be required therein.

74. I note the exceptions under section 13(2) which will apply to all factual material and anything in relation to reasons for decision or orders including the Undisclosed Motion

Orders or any other undisclosed motion orders or reasons for decision which are not encapsulated by the LAT Registrar Print Out (February 26,2025).

75. Sections 14 to 16 of FIPPA are irrelevant so I need not address them.

76. In relation to section 17 of FIPPA, I am not seeking, when referencing the class of documents that relates to logs or back-end of the electronic database of the LAT in relation to the LAT Proceeding, any trade secrets or confidential information. As provided by the LAT Registrar with resect to the "Print Out", there is even disclosure therein of the alleged URL that was utilized to access the same. I am, of course, solely concerned in the authenticity of the back end of the portal for the LAT for access by case managers and point-in-time references, supported by authentic documents,

77. Section 18 of FIPPA cannot have any relevance as there is nothing that could be injurious to the Government of Ontario by said disclosure.

78. Section 18.1 of FIPPA would not apply to the LAT as it is not an educational institution, hospital or governing body (i.e. the LSO, the College of Physicians and Surgeons or the College of Chartered Accountants).

79. In relation to where some but not all of the Requested Personal Information Records may be subject to withholding or non-disclosure of some or all of the same, it is section 19(a) of FIPPA that would be at issue. I note when referencing some, it would not be a large amount per se due to the classes of documents that are some 13 headings and sub-headings.

80. Of course, where the Tribunal is not the client per se but communications in the form of records or records to be made involve the Tribunal and other persons not namely a legal advisor (in-house or consultant) (i.e. a communication between Mr. Boyce and Mr. Nieuwland or Mr. Boyce and Mr. Papadimitropoulos).

81. On first blush, it would appear that the only time that section 21 of FIPPA could be at issue is when the client, as privilege is the right of the client, objects to the same involving lawful and permissible communications between a solicitor and a client and a client seeking advice from its solicitor(s). However, the word "individual" is used and not that of a "person" so it is not applicable.

82. In citing the above about the current causes of action against the LAT and relief sought against it in the JRPA Proceeding and potentially by extension in other future claims or offshoots of the same, I am also relying upon the exception to the exception where there is the potential but I say not possible at first instance unjustified invasion of another individuals' privacy. This exception to the exception or factor where a section 21(1) issues arise is denoted as:

> 22(2)(d): the personal information is relevant to a fair determination of rights affecting the person who made the request

83. There is an unfortunate history of the Tribunal not complying with its statutory duties at first instance like section 20 of the SPPA and section 10 of the LATA, and then at the JRPA Proceeding under section 10 of the JRPA. Insult to injury has occurred with the delinquent, unprofessional and unreliable communications from the LAT after the redirection by Ms. Jennifer of the LAT FIPPA Division.

84. In relation to the other factors under section 21(2) of FIPPA, I have copied and pasted the same:

> (a) the disclosure is desirable for the purpose of subjecting the activities of the Government of Ontario and its agencies to public scrutiny;
>
> (b) access to the personal information may promote public health and safety;
>
> (c) access to the personal information will promote informed choice in the purchase of goods and services;
>
> (e) the individual to whom the information relates will be exposed unfairly to pecuniary or other harm;
>
> (f) the personal information is highly sensitive;
>
> (g) the personal information is unlikely to be accurate or reliable;
>
> (h) the personal information has been supplied by the individual to whom the information relates in confidence; and
> (i) the disclosure may unfairly damage the reputation of any person referred to in the record. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 21 (2).

85. Again, only when there will be an unjustified invasion of another individual's privacy will the LAT be REQUIRED to not disclose some of the Requested Personal Information Records to me. Ergo, where there is discretion, then such discretion must be exercised lawfully and in accordance with the presumption that I am entitled to access to my personal information.

86. All of the factors above are in my favour and resoundingly so.

Part III — Protection of Individual Privacy (sections 37–49)

87. Covers the collection, retention, use, and disclosure of personal information, including personal information banks and rights of access and correction.

88. It is trite that the LAT is not a bank but it is within the MAG but not technically the MAG. In this regard, I refer to the memorandum between LAT and the AGO.

Part III.1 — Data Integration (sections 49.1–49.15)

89. Addresses data integration units, the collection and use of personal information, and the role of the Commissioner in reviewing practices.

Part IV — Appeal (sections 50–56)

90. Provides the right to appeal decisions regarding access to records, outlines the appeal process, and details the Commissioner's powers during inquiries.

91. As noted, I have exercised appellate rights previously by submitting and paying the appeal fee to the OIPC BC.

Part V — General (sections 57–70)

92. Includes provisions on fees, whistleblowing, the Commissioner's annual report, powers and duties, and regulations, as well as the Act's application and exceptions.

VOLUME #8: Legal Bases: open court principle and the importance of the record of proceeding in relation to judicial review

93. As all privacy and access statues, whether provincial or federal, are quasi-constitutional statutes, and I as noted supra, filed and served a notice of constitutional question on March 4, 2025, and an amended JRPA Application on March 5, 2025, the below law is most relevant, at least, for context purposes in your search, processing and disclosure to me of the Requested Personal Information Records.

94. The relief sought therein was exclusively against or in relation to the LAT.

95. The legal bases regarding the same are as follows.

1. Content of the record: The content of the record for an application for judicial review is defined by the Judicial Review Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. J-1, SPPA, and by the Rules of Civil Procedure.
2. Process to trigger Tribunal's obligations: The process begins with the notice of application: r. 68.01(1). Upon being served with the notice of application for judicial review, the decision-maker is required by s. 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act, to forthwith file with the Divisional Court "the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made". The "record" is not defined by the Act: Payne, at paragraph 160 (see: paragraph 34);
3. Full and accurate record: An applicant for judicial review has the right to have a full and accurate record of what went on before the tribunal put before the court: Payne at paragraph 161 (see: paragraph 35);

4. Court is entitled to the Record Of Proceeding pursuant to statute (see: section 10 of the JRPA);
5. An applicant is entitled to the Record Of Proceeding pursuant to inherent jurisdiction: The reason for the Applicant being entitled to the same is not grounded in the statutory sections but the ONSC Divisional Court's inherent jurisdiction: Payne at paragraph 161 (sentence 2
6. As early as 1952, Lord Denning in R. v. Medical Appeal Tribunal ex p. Gilmore, [1957] 1 Q.B. 574 at 583 (C.A.) found the following as a basis the common law and/or equitable powers of the English courts upon which our common law and courts of equity are founded "The court has always had power to order an inferior tribunal to complete the record ... [A] tribunal could defeat a writ of certiorari unless the courts could order them to complete or correct an imperfect record. So the courts have the power to give such an order
7. The ONCA adopted the same in 2000 in its decision in Payne at paragraph 161 where it also cited other jurisprudence.
8. A statutory body subject to judicial review cannot immunize itself or its process by arriving at decisions on considerations that are not revealed by the record it files with the court." (see: (see: paragraph 161 of Payne (ONCA)).
9. The erudite justices in Rol-Land Farms Limited for the Divisional Court in 2008 reaffirmed the legal precedent that the temporal period for which documents, evidence, and decisions must be included in the forthwith filing by an administrative decision maker with the ONSC Div. Ct. at paragraphs 37 and 38: As indicated in an oral ruling during the hearing, volume 3 of the Record Of Proceedings is not admissible. Section 10 of the JRPA requires a tribunal to file its Record Of Proceedings when served with an application for judicial review of a decision. It is the Record Of Proceedings relating to the particular decision that is to be filed, as is clear from the words of s. 10; and thus, the content of volume 3 is not properly part of the record required to be filed pursuant to s. 10 of the JRPA, as it post-dates the decisions under review."
10. While entitled – the dangers of not bringing a motion: Ergo, pursuant to s. 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act, it was available to the applicant to bring a motion seeking production of documents it alleges were relied on by the decision-maker but are not contained in the record: see, for example K.D. v. Peel Children's Aid Society, 2017 ONSC 7392 (Div. Ct.) at paras. 16-17). The applicant failed to do so. As a result, it is precluded from raising this issue for the first time on judicial review: Reflection Productions v. Ontario Media Dev. Corp., 2022 ONSC 64, the ONSC Div. Ct (as per MORAWETZ C.J., VARPIO, KRISTJANSON JJ.

96. openness to the public is the "authentic hallmark of judicial as distinct from administrative procedure". (see: paragraph 40 of Toronto Star). The LAT is a public institution, albeit funded by the insurance industry, that is conducting adjudicative matters.

97. Just as justice delayed can be justice denied, so reportage delayed can be reportage denied (see: paragraph 67 of Toronto Star).

98. The leading case regarding the “open court principle” and “adjudicative records” is that of the ONSC in Toronto Star v. AG Ontario, 2018 ONSC 2586. In that case, the Toronto Star was entitled to “Adjudicative Records” as a member of the media or journalism sector.

99. Ms. Jennifer was correct to note that I was entitled to the requested adjudicative records from the LAT Registrar but it took longer than 30 days to even provide the simulacrum of records that it did. As such, my confidence and trust are completely eradicated on a permanent level. I frankly do not trust whatever it provides me as being full, accurate and complete. While I do and did appreciate the reference and redirection, the LAT, by way of its staff in non-FIPPA capacities cannot be trusted to the degree that I need for that to have been an alternative route. In light of the distrust that it created by its waffling timelines by reference to the LAT Registrar which was consistent with the misconduct of Mr. Boyce on its behalf in the JRPA Proceeding, I, at the very least, need some levels of checks and balances or a frame of reference regarding the same.

100. The open court principle is one of the hallmarks of a democratic society . . . [and] is inextricably tied to the rights guaranteed by s. 2(b) of the Charter (see: paragraph 54 of Toronto Star).

101. This open access, and concomitant protection of freedom of the press, is in keeping with those tribunals' obligation "in exercising their statutory functions . . . [to] act consistently with the Charter and its values". This is not optional or discretionary on the part of administrative tribunals. As the Supreme Court has stated, "the protection of Charter guarantees is a fundamental and pervasive obligation, no matter which adjudicative forum is applying it". (see: paragraph 55 of Toronto Star).

102. It is important to keep in mind that freedom of expression "protects listeners as well as speakers" (see: paragraph 56 of Toronto Star).

103. Naturally, my standing and privacy rights are much wider because I am only seeking records that relate to or about myself and that relate to or about (however tangentially to the LAT Proceeding.

104. As such, I am on stronger footing than the Toronto Star in Toronto Star.

105. Statutory tribunals exercising judicial or quasi-judicial functions involving adversarial-type processes which result in decisions affecting rights truly constitute part of the "administration of justice": Southam Inc v Canada (Minister of Employment and Immigration), [1987] FCJ no 658 (QL). The legitimacy of such tribunals' authority requires that confidence in their integrity and understanding of their operations be maintained, and this can be effected only if their proceedings are open to the public: Germain v Saskatchewan (Automobile Injury Appeal Commission), 2009 SKQB 106.

106. Tribunals like the LAT conduct administrative hearings governed by the Statutory Powers Procedure Act ("SPPA") are required to be open to the public. In principle, therefore, it is uncontroversial that "[t]he 'open court' principle" -- at least in some version -- "is a cornerstone of accountability for decision-making tribunals and courts" (see: paragraph 6 of Toronto Star).

107. The Supreme Court of Canada has stated that "[a]ll law and law-makers that touch the people must conform to [the Charter]. Tribunals and commissions charged with deciding legal issues are no exception." (see: Toronto Star, paragraph 14).

108. The open court principle, which is inextricably tied to the rights guaranteed by s. 2(b) of the Charter, applies to administrative tribunals as well as to courts

VOLUME #7: Conclusion

109. Kindly respond via email henceforth.

110. As noted under section 23 of FIPPA, none of any of the potential exemptions could have any merit because of the following:

> 23 An exemption from disclosure of a record under sections 13, 15, 15.1, 17, 18, 20, 21 and 21.1 does not apply where a compelling public interest in the disclosure of the record clearly outweighs the purpose of the exemption. R.S.O. 1990, c. F.31, s. 23; 1997, c. 41, s. 118 (2); 2017, c. 8, Sched. 13, s. 3.

111. The facts and evidence, which I have sworn, are unprecedented and the public safety issue and public interest issues in the disclosure of the record to myself clearly outweigh the purpose of any of the potential exemptions (if applicable).

112. What I found in my recent appeals with the OIPC was that by having such a document provided at first instance, it allowed for the OIPC to review the nature of my appeal in expedient fashion while causing the other public body(ies) to consent to a settlement (confidential of course). In this manner, I was most pleased as I was able to inform the OIPC immediately that we did not require its resources.

113. Ironically, the positions of one of the public body's immediately changed once it knew that I had filed and paid for an OIPC appeal through the portal. Perhaps, said public institution was relying on the being "overly cautious" aspects and did not think I would appeal. As this matter is even more urgent than my other access requests, I can confirm as a courtesy that if there is not full, transparent, accurate and complete disclosure of the Requested Personal Information Records (see: supra), albeit not many per se overall, then I will appeal immediately. I will even appeal if there is an attempt to seek an extension of time.

114. I shall presume that you do not have any need for clarification of the nature of the requests made and they are sufficiently particularized herein and previously where applicable.

115. I appreciate your time is valuable and finite so I will await unless I hear from you otherwise to hear from you on or before the expiry of the 30 calendar days.

116. As I consider this as an extremely serious matter involving my safety and public safety and it remains most concerning that the LAT has somehow teamed up with the likes of an insurance company at least at the JRPA Proceeding level, I would be most grateful if this access request was prioritized.

117. I intend to keep the truth of the contents of this communications and any receipt of such communications, subject to the permissibility of utilizing records for lawful purposes, as confidential. If you feel otherwise, kindly advise.

118. As a parting note, I wish to emphasize that Mr. Papadimitropoulos is the ex-husband of my former spouse Ms. Nicole Artopoulos and he is highly dangerous, volatile, unhinged and clearly out of control. His conduct in impersonating me with my identification that was stolen on October 25, 2024, and forging my signature albeit with the initials of "A", "N" and "P" demonstrates his recklessness. I still stay that the LAT had a high degree of control or authority, at least by instructions, over him. In that regard, I say he is easily influenced, malleable and insecure such that he would engage in this conduct albeit under unlawful instructions and authorization from the likes of an in-house counsel of LAT.

119. The concerns about Mr. Boyce are plenty considering he removed his physical address and employer after I raised a conflict-of-interest issue involving himself and the insurance companies in the JRPA Application (i.e. when he was a vice chair or adjudicator, he decided in favour of those insurance companies at a clip of 14-0-1). Moreover, Mr. Boyce has engaged in misleading myself and others regarding the record of proceeding and when the Tribunal would produce the same. No such statutory option was open to the Tribunal (see: section 10 of the JPRA). I have sworn that he has not denied any of my beliefs, allegations and impugnment of him with respect to conduct that demonstrates conduct contrary to the common law, statutes and regulations.

120. By way of courtesy notice, when I know I am right at law, I persist until the end while exhausting all avenues. I made the most unlikely candidate to take on the LSBC's unconstitutional statutory and regulatory regime but I could not sit idle when it engaged in what I thought was only forensic copying of my hard drive in June 2014 but later discovered to be the most egregious breach of a professional's privacy rights along with his clients by usage of a tool in DumpIt that does not copy the "RAM", which cannot be copied. How I was successful to the extent I was without that seminal piece of information, undisclosed in fraudulent fashion by the LSBC and its purportedly esteemed counsel (now one of which is a judge of the BCSC) but I owed it to other lawyers (past, present and future) to challenge the same.

121. I yet again became the most unlikely candidate to challenge the LAT's conduct herein but in the oddest of ways, I was the perfect candidate to be rear-ended at high velocity. It is now known to me that elements of the car accident were planned and deliberate.

122. There are some serious issues with certain employees of the LAT including but not limited to former employees like Ms. Therese Reilly and current employees like that of Mr. Boyce, Ms. Lake and Ms. Morrissette. Vice Chair Morrissette's history of criminal and unlawful conduct (albeit not charged by the RCMP when she intentionally and repeatedly breached The Lobbyist Act (Canada) when she was an employee of the Canadian Red Cross after being an employee of the Ministry of Health (federal)) is most concerning to me and should be to the public.

123. I solely advanced my rights and she clearly issued decisions or orders without providing me with copies of the same. I look forward to receiving copies of not only those Undisclosed Motion Orders.

124. I can see why Mr. Boyce did not want to put the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period to me but that makes it intentional misconduct on his behalf and binding the LAT.

125. You, of course, at liberty to review my NOCQ and Amended JRPA Proceeding from the likes of Mr. Boyce as the Tribunal was served with those documents on March 4 and 5, 2025 respectively.

126. If we end up in the appeal process, I will ask for an expedited hearing of the issues (not known now) due to the public interest issues at play and my health and safety remaining at risk. While this must be an access partnership, if we have to engage in an adversarial process such as that (if it is such), then it will be because a lack of compliance by the LAT.

127. I always like to leave the door open for resolutions between myself and others. As such, should the likes of Mr. Weir or an assigned counsel by him for the Tribunal in this regard and globally wish to resolve the issues identified herein and any potential issues so arising, including that which is pleaded (and before the ONSC Divisional Court), you have my email. If you wish to have a sit-down in person, kindly name the time and place. In the spirit of full disclosure, many say that I am quite self-assured and confident in my ability to "win" in litigation. I do not see it that way. Rather, I see it as life has treated me too well and I got way more than I deserve in life. I owe it to every marginalized, disadvantaged, struggling injured person that has been before the LAT and may have been subject to similar type conduct that I endured to advance all matters to conclusion or by way of settlement.

128. With respect to any resolution or settlement of these issues, there will need to confirmation to me, albeit confidentially, in a binding proposed document that the LAT has addressed these issues of breaches of privacy and/or breaches of the above noted principles. The mere shock of myself when I went through that "print out" from the LAT Registrar on February 26, 2024, remains palpable. Honestly, "orders" that are not disclosed and then being lied by the LAT. If I am the only individual who has experienced the same, then I will chalk it up as being "public enemy number one" of the lawyers in BC and here. Again, I was the victim of the worst privacy breach in Canadian history involving a professional and a regulatory body but I appreciate that the likes of the lawyers that were involved in the same at the time of the RAM Dump and thereafter believe that I somehow caused damage to their reputation and firm names by advancing PIPEDA requests inclusive of Mr. Weir's former firm where he reached the obscenely high level of managing partner. They would be wrong or playing the "victim". It was me, as a single individual, had to make some 250 plus privacy requests of various organizations implicated by a record I received from LSBC counsel in October 2021 which was anything but only the records and information from a RAM Dump.

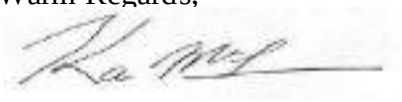
129. By direct reference and communications with the other two public bodies involving some of the events herein, not by active involvement, find me to be quite reasonable on all fronts. I believe you will feel the same if we have candid and confidential discussion. My goal is not to embarrass or put the LAT under some high degree of embarrassment but the more time that passes, it simply means that I will have to prepare to advance the same. As I am at about 40 percent of where I used to be, it requires much planning in advance. Kindly note the same in the event you know (as I do not know have the custody and control of records at issue) a way to resolve the same without wasting resources of the LAT Privacy Division and potentially the OIPC (ON) and others.

130. Of course, if I receive an affidavit, sworn under the penalty of perjury by a knowledgeable representative of LAT that it has searched for the above records and all of the conduct engaged in by the likes of agents of TD Insurance Group (various insurance companies therein) were solely at their own direction or direction of insurance companies without any knowledge of the LAT, then you will have my immediate written apology for such belief and allegations and withdrawal of various aspects of this access request. However, I do not hear from you in a reasonable time, I will have to presume that I am correct in substance

131. I thank you for efforts and discharging the duties of the division in accordance with the rule of law. I thank you in advance for your anticipated compliance with FIPPA and other laws and the common law which remain binding upon it.

132. Yours truly

Warm Regards,



Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)[viii]

[i]Ergo, the requests of the LAT involving the CRO's at various times. As there was an issue involving the correct respondent party at various times, the initial input into the LAT database is most germane and required to be produced.

[ii]If that arises in your search, I await the results of the same. I, of course, am only seeking personal information so such future crimes would have to continue to relate to me. I still do not have access or control of my property stolen on October 25, 2024, and any relief from the unauthorized conduct thereafter, including the return of the property utilized thereafter including the return of proprietary items like my passport, TPL library card, credit cards, banking cards, health card et al. I have alleged and continue to allege that the LAT, through the likes of one Mr. Boyce and others at the LAT or SLASTO, instructed, unauthorized approved or acquiesced to the unlawful conduct at various times.

[iii]Smith v Jones, 1999 CanLII 674 (SCC), [1999] 1 SCR 455, per Cory J, at para 26 and later ("...society recognizes that the safety of the public is of such importance that in appropriate circumstances it will warrant setting aside solicitor-client privilege.")

[iv]Justice Tysoe in 1998 referenced the decision of Dyment in Mazhero. "The protection section 8 provides for privacy — personal, territorial and informational — is essential not only to human dignity, but also to the functioning of our democratic society. As such, section 8 protects a sphere of individual autonomy within which people have the right "to be let alone" and on which the state cannot intrude without permission[iv] (R. v. Ahmad, 2020 SCC 11 at paragraph 38)."" Section 8 protects people, not places, against unjustified intrusions on their privacy interests (Hunter v. Southam Inc., [1984] 2 S.C.R. 145 at 159; R. v. Gomboc, [2010] 3 S.C.R. 211 at paragraphs 17, 75)."" The values underlying the privacy interest protected by section 8 are dignity, integrity and autonomy (R. v. Plant, [1993] 3 S.C.R. 281 at page 292. "The courts have defined "search" for section 8 purposes as any state activity that interferes with a reasonable expectation of privacy. This can include looking for things that are tangible or intangible, such as spoken words[iv] and electronic data (R. v. Morelli, [2010] 1 S.C.R. 253), or scents (Evans at paragraphs 12-21; R. v. Kokesch, [1990] 3 S.C.R. 3).A "seizure" for section 8 purposes is the "taking of a thing from a person by a public authority without that person's consent" (R. v. Dyment, [1988] 2 S.C.R. 417 at 431; R. v. Colarusso, [1994] 1 S.C.R. 20 at 58; R. v. Law, [2002] 1 S.C.R. 227 at paragraph 15). This includes situations in which a person is required to produce a thing (including information) pursuant to a state compulsion (R. v. McKinlay Transport Ltd., [1990] 1 S.C.R. 627 at 642; Mills (1999) at paragraph 77; British Columbia Securities Commission v. Branch, [1995] 2 S.C.R. 3 at page 34; see also R. v. White, [1999] 2 S.C.R 417; R. v. Fitzpatrick, [1995] 4 S.C.R. 154; Thomson Newspapers Ltd. v. Canada (Director of Investigation and Research, Restrictive Trade Practices Commission), [1990] 1 S.C.R. 425). The power to make copies of documents is analogous to a requirement for production of documents and constitutes a seizure within section 8 (Comité paritaire at page 439).In order to constitute a "seizure", a "taking" by the state need not be directly from the person whose rights are affected. For example, where a medical professional obtains a bodily sample for medical purposes, disclosure of the sample to police will amount to a "seizure" (Dyment; R. v. Dersch, [1993] 3 S.C.R. 768; Colarusso at page 56). This is so whether the sample is provided pursuant to a police demand, request, or whether it is provided voluntarily. The fact that a person who has acquired lawful possession of information for their own purposes voluntarily discloses THE INFORMATION to the state does not vest in the state a delegated or derivative power to appropriate that information for the purposes of a criminal investigation (R. v. Cole, [2012] 3 S.C.R. 34 at paragraph 67)."The section 8 protection against seizure does not apply to government action merely because those actions interfere with property rights. Rather, "there must be a superadded impact upon privacy rights occurring in the context of administrative or criminal investigation" (Quebec (Attorney General) v. Laroche, [2002] 3 S.C.R. 708 at paragraph 53). "Where the state has seized records, the Supreme Court has indicated that disclosure of those records to individuals outside of those to whom, or for purposes other than for which, they were originally divulged may interfere with a reasonable expectation of privacy (Mills (1999) at paragraph 108; R. v. Quesnelle, 2014 SCC 46, [2014] 2 S.C.R. 390 at paragraphs 28-30, 39-43; see also Wakeling at paragraphs 91-96 per McLachlin C.J. and paragraphs 122-125 per Karakatsanis J., dissenting; but see Wakeling at paragraphs 32-40 where Moldaver J. appears to endorse a plain meaning interpretation of s. 8 that would not generally capture the disclosure of information by the state)."

"In fostering the underlying values of dignity, integrity and autonomy, it is fitting that section 8 of the Charter should seek to protect a biographical core of Personal Information which individuals in a free and democratic society would wish to maintain and control from dissemination to the state. This would include information which tends to reveal intimate details of the lifestyle and personal choices of the individual (Plant at 293). Informational privacy has been defined as "the claim of individuals, groups, or institutions to determine for themselves when, how, and to what extent information about them is communicated to others" (Tessling at paragraph 23; see also Patrick, Gomboc, Cole, A.M.) Informational privacy includes at least three conceptually distinct, though overlapping, understandings of what privacy is: privacy as secrecy; privacy as control and privacy as anonymity. Privacy as secrecy encompasses the expectation that information disclosed in confidence will be held in trust and confidence by those to whom it is disclosed. Privacy also encompasses a wider notion of control over, access to, and use of information. This aspect of privacy "derives from the assumption that all information about a person is in a fundamental way his own, for him to communicate or retain for himself as he sees fit" (Spencer at paragraph 40). Privacy as anonymity permits individuals to act in public places but to preserve freedom from identification and surveillance. This conception of privacy is particularly important in the context of Internet usage (Spencer at paragraphs 41-43). Because the Internet has exponentially increased both the quality and quantity of information that is stored about Internet users, and because users cannot fully control or even be fully aware of who may observe a pattern of online activity, it is by remaining anonymous that the user can in large measure be assured that the activity remains private (Spencer at paragraph 46). Privacy concerns in relation to information are at their strongest where aspects of an individual's identity are at stake, such as in the context of information "about one's lifestyle, intimate relations or political or religious opinions" (Mills (1999) at paragraph 81; Thomson Newspapers at 517; Branch at paragraph 62)."Privacy is a normative rather than descriptive standard (Tessling, paragraph 42; R. v. Jarvis, 2019 SCC 10 at paragraph 68).""Privacy as secrecy encompasses the expectation that information disclosed in confidence will be held in trust and confidence by those to whom it is disclosed". Privacy is not an all or nothing right. It encompasses the reasonable expectation that private information will remain Confidential to the persons to whom and restricted to the purposes for which it was divulged (Mills (1999) at paragraph 108; Dyment at page 429; Colarusso at page 71). Accordingly, a person may have a residual and continuing privacy interest protecting against the subsequent use or disclosure — and potentially retention — of information that has been divulged for a specific or limited purpose (Law at paragraph 23; Dyment at pages 432-435; Mills (1999) at paragraph 94; R. v. Dore (2002), 166 C.C.C. (3d) 225 (Ont. C.A.); Wakeling at paragraph 39).A person normally does not retain a reasonable expectation of privacy with respect to property or things, including informational content that have been voluntarily abandoned. Dear LAT access and privacy division:

I write to confirm that I am proceeding with my access request. I have started a separate thread for ease of reference but copied the previous emails. I was about to have th Tribunal provided what it called an index but was a print out of some back-end. Nonetheless, this should make the access request more simple. Moreover, I will be able to majority of these documents and pick out certain documents. However, my access request will still include the previous request for logs, change of parties, et al. I do see a refers to TD General Insurance Company on or around page 130. Therefore, it appears that will be a seminal time. I will confirm when the five dollars is delivered. Thank

Good Afternoon to you LAT/AABS privacy division (FIPPA):

I am making an access request for a copy of a list, index or print out of the filed documents in the record of proceeding involving the LAT file 23-015662/AABS from the 12, 2024. I am the Appellant therein.

I look forward to working with you on how best to obtain a list, index or print out of what was filed on the back-end of your system for documents that were e-filed by m various times which were: (i) TD General Insurance Company ("TDGIC"); and (ii) Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC").

I am seeking a list or index, unless it is easier and more efficient for you to send me a PDF of all of the documents filed by myself, and the aforementioned insurance c representative by one Mr. Nieuwland on or around January 30, 2024, and on or around June 28, 2024.

Please also provide any records that denote the "style of cause" at the various times as it appears on your back-end portal.

I may provide some further background information regarding the same but I trust this satisfies what I am seeking in the primary or in the alternative (depending on wh have delivered the $5 application fee to the location at 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario as the 15 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario, location was not accessible for

I will presume on the above that a print out will be the easiest from your back-end and kindly provide the same herein via email. If a print out of the back-end with that above, kindly provide the same.

Thank you.

VIA EMAIL

Re: urgent request for the adjudicative records herein

Re #2: inclusion of The Honourable Mr. Downey and the esteemed Mr. Weir, Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario for oversight and the provision of the record of "Tribunal") file number 23-0155662/AABS from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024 (the "ROP Temporal Period")

Dear LAT Registrar (copied to the AGO and EC of Tribunals Ontario):

1. I again thank Jennifer of the access and privacy division for the LAT for confirming with me that the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to Septem am entitled to without the necessity of a formal FIPPA request along with the statutory and prescribed fees. As such, I confirm that the FIPPA time periods do not a

2. In light of the above issues with delays along with failure to comply with one of the more basic aspects of a statutory requirements under section 10 of the system[ii], I have copied Mr. Sean Weir, Executive Chair ("EC") of Tribunals Ontario and The Honourable Mr. Attorney General of Ontario in Mr. Downey for ove the above purposes but also in light of his learned counsel in Ms. Judie Im in the JRPA Proceeding denoted by file number above Court File No. DC-24-000 participate in the same as of late last week.

3. As the relevant decision-makers of the LAT at the relevant time purported to rely on the record of proceeding, it must be provided to a party in myself w documents were filed electronically so the LAT, with its resources and technological capabilities, with presumably AWS as the storage provider, return access to a be the most rudimentary of tasks.

4. The lack of a confirmatory response is most concerning and appears to be part of a pattern. My belief is that the LAT does not have a full and accurate ROP outages" at various times. As we know, "technology happens" from time to time. As such, please provide the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period by no later Temporal Period. By my computation, we are looking at a period of 264 days.

5. I may provide a subsequent email of what I will be expecting that you will be providing today. To the extent that you wish to provide some piecemeal today i.e I am amenable with said approach. That being said, I cannot imagine that it is not possible to complete that which is in the possession and control of the LAT by copies.

6. To the extent that none of the records from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period are provided today, I will presume that the Tribunal has lost or had stolen Temporal Period.

7. As The Honourable Mr. Downey will undoubtedly know, as the chief law officer in this province, the language chosen by our Legislature was for the Tribunal decision) to file forthwith the record of proceeding for the court's use. However, one Mr. Boyce imposed an arbitrary timeline of three to four weeks in mid Nove the Tribunal. In a subsequent email to myself, with others copied, he had contrived a non-statutory timeline of 60 days from November 15, 2024 (i.e. the date c behalf of the Tribunal, had not met either then or now.

8. I also ground my belief that the Tribunal either does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding on the bases of the above but also that some of the issu makers in June, July and September 2024 were not conversant with the documents and facts. In this regard, they were askew by not only time periods but the acto me to believe that they did not have the entire ROP at those times. Moreover, there were continued references to McLean v. TD General Insurance Company [sic] favour which was a motion served and filed by me in mid May 2024 culminating in a decision of the Tribunal (Adjudicator Morrissette as she then was) on or change of the respondent from TDGIC to Security National Insurance Company. As such, those "adjudicative records" will also include the below at section 20 of that a responsive pleading like a statutory response under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act is not explicitly captured. However, I would respectfully submit that and it is "evidence" albeit not sworn but signed by an individual representative on behalf of an insurance company (i.e. true, accurate and complete).

9. When providing the same, kindly denote the same in the following format: "Record of Proceeding [24-Dec-2023 – Sept 13-2024] – Respondent - Licence A you are unable or unwilling to do so, I will solely change the title of the document to the same with various volumes depending on size (i.e. for the current and While it is for the Tribunal to have filed the same, Mr. Boyce has only been interested in filing a Notice of Appearance and no interest in facing the merits of the s most basic of duties.

10. I trust, in copying two of the great legal minds in our province in the Honourable AGO and former managing partner of Canada's last largest law firm in B reference the purpose of the filing of the record of proceeding by the Tribunal. Perhaps, the LAT, in its somewhat infancy being in its nearly tenth year by my cou purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a "record of proceedings" is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it has the infc tribunal in the first instance. A court reviewing an adjudicative decision may look at decisions to admit evidence, submissions of witnesses, and other evidence anc [or tribunal] of first instance: Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ONCA) ["Payne"] at para. 23. Payne was adopted by the ONS decisis, but in referencing that long standing legal precedent nearly a half quarter century later in Lachance (as per the Honourable Justices Myers, Stewart and Court found:

> "[37] I agree with the finding of Ryan Bell J. that by bringing this application for judicial review the applicants became entitled to receive all adopted the words of Sharpe JA in Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ON CA) at paragraph 161

11. As such, an interesting interplay arises between the forthwith filing requirement of the Tribunal with the court for its use, the inherent jurisdiction of the H applicant's rights on judicial review.

12. Arguably the most important precedential statement of law to come from Payne was its adoption, verbatim in parts, of the precedent from The Honourable Lor Gilmore, [1957] 1 Q.B. 574 at 583 (C.A.) which was:

> "A statutory body subject to judicial review cannot immunize itself or its process by arriving at decisions on considerations that are not revea

> (see: paragraph 161 of Payne (ONCA)).

13. As such, it matters not the source (equitable, common law, statutory, prescribed or otherwise) of the legal obligation or whether it is to file forthwith with t obligation that requires immediate rectification.
14. Without conflating a previous access request of the LAT, I was impressed with the rapidity that the access and privacy division provided access to some of the on the email thread. I invoked the same herein due to a more urgent and pressing request for the very adjudicative records I am so entitled, the court is entitled entitled to discharge its supervisory powers so section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act of Canada is adhered to.

15. Trusting the Tribunal will provide the compiled record of proceeding, at the various times and then added to over time, by today at three p.m. (as there was 2024) to me as a party (the 'applicant' or 'appellant' depending on the preferred nomenclature), I can remove the Honourable AGO and EC of Tribunals Ontario important work that they do whilst confirming the satisfactory closure of my request.

16. Thank you for your compliance with the above, and I most look forward to confirming the closure of this request. A copy of this email may follow via fax due caution.

Dear LAT Registrar (Ms. Lee), FIPPA privacy officer (Ms. Jennifer), EC of Tribunals Ontario and the AGO email:

I thank you for your response. I have copied Mr. Weir, the FIPPA privacy and AGO email as noted above. I have also copied the relevant parts of your email to the below as some of it is i privacy requests. I apologize for the brief delay on my part as I see your email came in late yesterday and I did not check this email until now.

However, that is entirely unacceptable on all fronts in relation to "how best to compile" the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024.

Section 20 of the SPPA:

"Record of proceeding

20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,

(a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;

(b) the notice of any hearing;

(f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20."

Therefore, this explains exactly why these decisions issued by Vice Chair Morrissette and others were so askew with the facts because the Tribunal had not even compiled the record of pr The duty to compile operates irrespective of whether any appeal or judicial review is advanced.

The requirement was to file the record of proceeding forthwith with the ONSC Divisional Court. The JRPA Application was brought in mid-November 2024. Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal f the Tribunal was to file an NOA forthwith which for the most part it did.

However, the Tribunal is only working on compiling the record now. There is nothing to discuss in terms of reaching out to me for information. I have already provided the information ar so as a courtesy.

...ch, the Tribunal is in breach of two sets of statutory duties. As stated, please provide what you have during those time periods on a forthwith basis to me. The time is now 1:55 p.m. commence today.

Respectfully, this should not take more than 30 minutes to do as I am a party and it is a period of some 8.5 months. Kindly re-attach the same by reply email. Based on size Alternatively, you can send via multiple piecemeal emails.

If you commence providing today, you can remove Mr. Weir and the AGO email address. Please remove Jennifer and her email in any event.

Dear LAT Registrar (and to Ms. Lee):

I write regarding the above. I confirm you have failed to provide the record of proceeding from the ROP Temporal Period. You did not follow up on February 21, 2025, ev the records that make up the record of proceeding.

Please provide the same by the end of the business day to this email herein. I make this demand and request for all of the above reasons.

I appreciate the Tribunal does not have the full and accurate record of the proceeding from the ROP Temporal Period due to that technological issue (framed as a "power o said, that will make the provision of what the Tribunal has in its possession and control all the easier and simplified.

Thank you.

Dear LAT (privacy division):

1. I write to confirm that the five dollar application fee was delivered last week with your offices at 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto. By my computation, this would in turn mean 2025.

2. I enclosed a letter regarding the same which is now re-attached. As noted therein, I apologize for the delay as I was recovering from an accident where I was hit while walkin

3. In any event, I thank the kind and helpful individuals for their assistance in bringing to the attention of the privacy officers involved in searching for the requested records tl unhelpful, I am not wasting collective resources on that route any further.

4. As the finalized and delivered access request is highly particularized, I will presume no clarity is required.

5. The only thing I can imagine by way of supplementation is that of confirming the legal grounds for why I am entitled to access.

6. I kindly note that to the extent that I do not receive access within the 30 calendar days, I will file an appeal with the OIPC (ON) without further notice. I hope that will not be

7. If you would kindly provide me with your file number assigned to this request, I would be most grateful.

Re: urgent request for the adjudicative records herein

Re #2: inclusion of The Honourable Mr. Downey and the esteemed Mr. Weir, Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario for oversight and the provision of the record ("Tribunal") file number 23-0155662/AABS from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024 (the "ROP Temporal Period")

Dear LAT Registrar (copied to the AGO and EC of Tribunals Ontario):

1. I again thank Jennifer of the access and privacy division for the LAT for confirming with me that the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to Septe am entitled to without the necessity of a formal FIPPA request along with the statutory and prescribed fees. As such, I confirm that the FIPPA time periods do no

2. In light of the above issues with delays along with failure to comply with one of the more basic aspects of a statutory requirements under section 10 of th system[ii], I have copied Mr. Sean Weir, Executive Chair ("EC") of Tribunals Ontario and The Honourable Mr. Attorney General of Ontario in Mr. Downey for o the above purposes but also in light of his learned counsel in Ms. Judie Im in the JRPA Proceeding denoted by file number above Court File No. DC-24-0(participate in the same as of late last week.

3. As the relevant decision-makers of the LAT at the relevant time purported to rely on the record of proceeding, it must be provided to a party in myself documents were filed electronically so the LAT, with its resources and technological capabilities, with presumably AWS as the storage provider, return access to be the most rudimentary of tasks.

4. The lack of a confirmatory response is most concerning and appears to be part of a pattern. My belief is that the LAT does not have a full and accurate RO outages" at various times. As we know, "technology happens" from time to time. As such, please provide the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period by no lat Temporal Period. By my computation, we are looking at a period of 264 days.

5. I may provide a subsequent email of what I will be expecting that you will be providing today. To the extent that you wish to provide some piecemeal today I am amenable with said approach. That being said, I cannot imagine that it is not possible to complete that which is in the possession and control of the LAT b copies.

6. To the extent that none of the records from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period are provided today, I will presume that the Tribunal has lost or had stol Temporal Period.

7. As The Honourable Mr. Downey will undoubtedly know, as the chief law officer in this province, the language chosen by our Legislature was for the Tribun decision) to file forthwith the record of proceeding for the court's use. However, one Mr. Boyce imposed an arbitrary timeline of three to four weeks in mid Nov the Tribunal. In a subsequent email to myself, with others copied, he had contrived a non-statutory timeline of 60 days from November 15, 2024 (i.e. the date behalf of the Tribunal, had not met either then or now.

8. I also ground my belief that the Tribunal either does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding on the bases of the above but also that some of the is makers in June, July and September 2024 were not conversant with the documents and facts. In this regard, they were askew by not only time periods but the a me to believe that they did not have the entire ROP at those times. Moreover, there were continued references to McLean v. TD General Insurance Company [sic favour which was a motion served and filed by me in mid May 2024 culminating in a decision of the Tribunal (Adjudicator Morrissette as she then was) on c change of the respondent from TDGIC to Security National Insurance Company. As such, those "adjudicative records" will also include the below at section 20 that a responsive pleading like a statutory response under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act is not explicitly captured. However, I would respectfully submit th and it is "evidence" albeit not sworn but signed by an individual representative on behalf of an insurance company (i.e. true, accurate and complete).

9. When providing the same, kindly denote the same in the following format: "Record of Proceeding [24-Dec-2023 – Sept 13-2024] – Respondent - Licence you are unable or unwilling to do so, I will solely change the title of the document to the same with various volumes depending on size (i.e. for the current a While it is for the Tribunal to have filed the same, Mr. Boyce has only been interested in filing a Notice of Appearance and no interest in facing the merits of the most basic of duties.

10. I trust, in copying two of the great legal minds in our province in the Honourable AGO and former managing partner of Canada's last largest law firm in reference the purpose of the filing of the record of proceeding by the Tribunal. Perhaps, the LAT, in its somewhat infancy being in its nearly tenth year by my c purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a "record of proceedings" is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it has the in

11. As such, an interesting interplay arises between the forthwith filing requirement of the Tribunal with the court for its use, the inherent jurisdiction of the applicant's rights on judicial review.

12. Arguably the most important precedential statement of law to come from Payne was its adoption, verbatim in parts, of the precedent from The Honourable L Gilmore, [1957] 1 Q.B. 574 at 583 (C.A.) which was:

13. As such, it matters not the source (equitable, common law, statutory, prescribed or otherwise) of the legal obligation or whether it is to file forthwith witl obligation that requires immediate rectification.
14. Without conflating a previous access request of the LAT, I was impressed with the rapidity that the access and privacy division provided access to some of t on the email thread. I invoked the same herein due to a more urgent and pressing request for the very adjudicative records I am so entitled, the court is entitle entitled to discharge its supervisory powers so section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act of Canada is adhered to.

15. Trusting the Tribunal will provide the compiled record of proceeding, at the various times and then added to over time, by today at three p.m. (as there wa 2024) to me as a party (the 'applicant' or 'appellant' depending on the preferred nomenclature), I can remove the Honourable AGO and EC of Tribunals Onta important work that they do whilst confirming the satisfactory closure of my request.

16. Thank you for your compliance with the above, and I most look forward to confirming the closure of this request. A copy of this email may follow via fax du caution.

February 14, 2025

Dear LAT Registrar (Ms. Lee), FIPPA privacy officer (Ms. Jennifer), EC of Tribunals Ontario and the AGO email:

I thank you for your response. I have copied Mr. Weir, the FIPPA privacy and AGO email as noted above. I have also copied the relevant parts of your email to the below as some of it i privacy requests. I apologize for the brief delay on my part as I see your email came in late yesterday and I did not check this email until now.

However, that is entirely unacceptable on all fronts in relation to "how best to compile" the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024.

Section 20 of the SPPA:

"Record of proceeding

20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,

(a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;

(b) the notice of any hearing;

(c) any interlocutory orders made by the tribunal;

(d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents may b

(e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and

(f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20."

Therefore, this explains exactly why these decisions issued by Vice Chair Morrissette and others were so askew with the facts because the Tribunal had not even compiled the record of The duty to compile operates irrespective of whether any appeal or judicial review is advanced.

The requirement was to file the record of proceeding forthwith with the ONSC Divisional Court. The JRPA Application was brought in mid-November 2024. Mr. Boyce for the Tribuna the Tribunal was to file an NOA forthwith which for the most part it did.

However, the Tribunal is only working on compiling the record now. There is nothing to discuss in terms of reaching out to me for information. I have already provided the information so as a courtesy.

As such, the Tribunal is in breach of two sets of statutory duties. As stated, please provide what you have during those time periods on a forthwith basis to me. The time is now 1:55 p.n commence today.

Respectfully, this should not take more than 30 minutes to do as I am a party and it is a period of some 8.5 months. Kindly re-attach the same by reply email. Based on s Alternatively, you can send via multiple piecemeal emails.

If you commence providing today, you can remove Mr. Weir and the AGO email address. Please remove Jennifer and her email in any event.

(Jennifer, I apologize for having you caught up in this email but I copied you to ensure that you are aware that I will be attending the relevant office (like last time) to deliver the fees fo separate thread with you so we do not conflate the two. However, for interim measure, it is the same as above with any logs from the back-end.)

Good Morning to you LAT Privacy Division:

1. I hope you are well. I write to confirm that the responsive decision and access to the requested records (personal information) are due in approximately 9 days. As such, I con has been sought and I have particularized the request with sufficient detail. I confirm that the application fee was received in mid March 2025 by the LAT privacy division.

2. I further confirm that the request (non-FIPPA) of the LAT Registrar was wasteful but for the apparent print-out of some of the documents in the record of proceeding so provi exhibiting of the same.

Re: urgent request for the adjudicative records herein

Dear LAT Registrar (copied to the AGO and EC of Tribunals Ontario):

1. I again thank Jennifer of the access and privacy division for the LAT for confirming with me that the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to Sep am entitled to without the necessity of a formal FIPPA request along with the statutory and prescribed fees. As such, I confirm that the FIPPA time periods do n

2. In light of the above issues with delays along with failure to comply with one of the more basic aspects of a statutory requirements under section 10 of system[ii], I have copied Mr. Sean Weir, Executive Chair ("EC") of Tribunals Ontario and The Honourable Mr. Attorney General of Ontario in Mr. Downey for the above purposes but also in light of his learned counsel in Ms. Judie Im in the JRPA Proceeding denoted by file number above Court File No. DC-24- participate in the same as of late last week.

3. As the relevant decision-makers of the LAT at the relevant time purported to rely on the record of proceeding, it must be provided to a party in mysel documents were filed electronically so the LAT, with its resources and technological capabilities, with presumably AWS as the storage provider, return access t be the most rudimentary of tasks.

4. The lack of a confirmatory response is most concerning and appears to be part of a pattern. My belief is that the LAT does not have a full and accurate R outages" at various times. As we know, "technology happens" from time to time. As such, please provide the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period by no l Temporal Period. By my computation, we are looking at a period of 264 days.

5. I may provide a subsequent email of what I will be expecting that you will be providing today. To the extent that you wish to provide some piecemeal toda I am amenable with said approach. That being said, I cannot imagine that it is not possible to complete that which is in the possession and control of the LAT copies.

6. To the extent that none of the records from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period are provided today, I will presume that the Tribunal has lost or had st Temporal Period.

7. As The Honourable Mr. Downey will undoubtedly know, as the chief law officer in this province, the language chosen by our Legislature was for the Tribu decision) to file forthwith the record of proceeding for the court's use. However, one Mr. Boyce imposed an arbitrary timeline of three to four weeks in mid N the Tribunal. In a subsequent email to myself, with others copied, he had contrived a non-statutory timeline of 60 days from November 15, 2024 (i.e. the da behalf of the Tribunal, had not met either then or now.

8. I also ground my belief that the Tribunal either does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding on the bases of the above but also that some of the makers in June, July and September 2024 were not conversant with the documents and facts. In this regard, they were askew by not only time periods but the me to believe that they did not have the entire ROP at those times. Moreover, there were continued references to McLean v. TD General Insurance Company [favour which was a motion served and filed by me in mid May 2024 culminating in a decision of the Tribunal (Adjudicator Morrissette as she then was) or change of the respondent from TDGIC to Security National Insurance Company. As such, those "adjudicative records" will also include the below at section 2 that a responsive pleading like a statutory response under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act is not explicitly captured. However, I would respectfully submit and it is "evidence" albeit not sworn but signed by an individual representative on behalf of an insurance company (i.e. true, accurate and complete).

9. When providing the same, kindly denote the same in the following format: "Record of Proceeding [24-Dec-2023 – Sept 13-2024] – Respondent - Licen you are unable or unwilling to do so, I will solely change the title of the document to the same with various volumes depending on size (i.e. for the current While it is for the Tribunal to have filed the same, Mr. Boyce has only been interested in filing a Notice of Appearance and no interest in facing the merits of t most basic of duties.

10. I trust, in copying two of the great legal minds in our province in the Honourable AGO and former managing partner of Canada's last largest law firm i reference the purpose of the filing of the record of proceeding by the Tribunal. Perhaps, the LAT, in its somewhat infancy being in its nearly tenth year by my purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a "record of proceedings" is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it has the tribunal in the first instance. A court reviewing an adjudicative decision may look at decisions to admit evidence, submissions of witnesses, and other evidence [or tribunal] of first instance: Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ONCA) ["Payne"] at para. 23. Payne was adopted by the C decisis, but in referencing that long standing legal precedent nearly a half quarter century later in Lachance (as per the Honourable Justices Myers, Stewart Court found:

> "[37] I agree with the finding of Ryan Bell J. that by bringing this application for judicial review the applicants became entitled to receive adopted the words of Sharpe JA in Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ON CA) at paragraph 161

11. As such, an interesting interplay arises between the forthwith filing requirement of the Tribunal with the court for its use, the inherent jurisdiction of th applicant's rights on judicial review.

12. Arguably the most important precedential statement of law to come from Payne was its adoption, verbatim in parts, of the precedent from The Honourable Gilmore, [1957] 1 Q.B. 574 at 583 (C.A.) which was:

> "A statutory body subject to judicial review cannot immunize itself or its process by arriving at decisions on considerations that are not r

13. As such, it matters not the source (equitable, common law, statutory, prescribed or otherwise) of the legal obligation or whether it is to file forthwith w obligation that requires immediate rectification.
14. Without conflating a previous access request of the LAT, I was impressed with the rapidity that the access and privacy division provided access to some o on the email thread. I invoked the same herein due to a more urgent and pressing request for the very adjudicative records I am so entitled, the court is enti entitled to discharge its supervisory powers so section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act of Canada is adhered to.

15. Trusting the Tribunal will provide the compiled record of proceeding, at the various times and then added to over time, by today at three p.m. (as there 2024) to me as a party (the 'applicant' or 'appellant' depending on the preferred nomenclature), I can remove the Honourable AGO and EC of Tribunals On important work that they do whilst confirming the satisfactory closure of my request.

16. Thank you for your compliance with the above, and I most look forward to confirming the closure of this request. A copy of this email may follow via fax caution.

February 14, 2025

Dear LAT Registrar (Ms. Lee), FIPPA privacy officer (Ms. Jennifer), EC of Tribunals Ontario and the AGO email:

I thank you for your response. I have copied Mr. Weir, the FIPPA privacy and AGO email as noted above. I have also copied the relevant parts of your email to the below as some of i privacy requests. I apologize for the brief delay on my part as I see your email came in late yesterday and I did not check this email until now.

However, that is entirely unacceptable on all fronts in relation to "how best to compile" the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024.

Section 20 of the SPPA:

"Record of proceeding

20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,

(a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;

(b) the notice of any hearing;

(c) any interlocutory orders made by the tribunal;

(d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents may

(e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and

(f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20."

Therefore, this explains exactly why these decisions issued by Vice Chair Morrissette and others were so askew with the facts because the Tribunal had not even compiled the record The duty to compile operates irrespective of whether any appeal or judicial review is advanced.

The requirement was to file the record of proceeding forthwith with the ONSC Divisional Court. The JRPA Application was brought in mid-November 2024. Mr. Boyce for the Tribu the Tribunal was to file an NOA forthwith which for the most part it did.

However, the Tribunal is only working on compiling the record now. There is nothing to discuss in terms of reaching out to me for information. I have already provided the informati so as a courtesy.

As such, the Tribunal is in breach of two sets of statutory duties. As stated, please provide what you have during those time periods on a forthwith basis to me. The time is now 1:55 p commence today.

Respectfully, this should not take more than 30 minutes to do as I am a party and it is a period of some 8.5 months. Kindly re-attach the same by reply email. Based on Alternatively, you can send via multiple piecemeal emails.

If you commence providing today, you can remove Mr. Weir and the AGO email address. Please remove Jennifer and her email in any event.

(Jennifer, I apologize for having you caught up in this email but I copied you to ensure that you are aware that I will be attending the relevant office (like last time) to deliver the fees separate thread with you so we do not conflate the two. However, for interim measure, it is the same as above with any logs from the back-end.)

By my computation, we are looking at a period of 264 days.

5. I may provide a subsequent email of what I will be expecting that you will be providing today. To the extent that you wish to provide some piecemeal to I am amenable with said approach. That being said, I cannot imagine that it is not possible to complete that which is in the possession and control of the L copies.

6. To the extent that none of the records from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period are provided today, I will presume that the Tribunal has lost or had Temporal Period.

7. As The Honourable Mr. Downey will undoubtedly know, as the chief law officer in this province, the language chosen by our Legislature was for the Tr decision) to file forthwith the record of proceeding for the court's use. However, one Mr. Boyce imposed an arbitrary timeline of three to four weeks in mid the Tribunal. In a subsequent email to myself, with others copied, he had contrived a non-statutory timeline of 60 days from November 15, 2024 (i.e. the behalf of the Tribunal, had not met either then or now.

8. I also ground my belief that the Tribunal either does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding on the bases of the above but also that some of th makers in June, July and September 2024 were not conversant with the documents and facts. In this regard, they were askew by not only time periods but th me to believe that they did not have the entire ROP at those times. Moreover, there were continued references to McLean v. TD General Insurance Company favour which was a motion served and filed by me in mid May 2024 culminating in a decision of the Tribunal (Adjudicator Morrissette as she then was) change of the respondent from TDGIC to Security National Insurance Company. As such, those "adjudicative records" will also include the below at section that a responsive pleading like a statutory response under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act is not explicitly captured. However, I would respectfully subm and it is "evidence" albeit not sworn but signed by an individual representative on behalf of an insurance company (i.e. true, accurate and complete).

9. When providing the same, kindly denote the same in the following format: “Record of Proceeding [24-Dec-2023 – Sept 13-2024] – Respondent - Lic

11. As such, an interesting interplay arises between the forthwith filing requirement of the Tribunal with the court for its use, the inherent jurisdiction of applicant’s rights on judicial review.

12. Arguably the most important precedential statement of law to come from Payne was its adoption, verbatim in parts, of the precedent from The Honourab

14. Without conflating a previous access request of the LAT, I was impressed with the rapidity that the access and privacy division provided access to some on the email thread. I invoked the same herein due to a more urgent and pressing request for the very adjudicative records I am so entitled, the court is er entitled to discharge its supervisory powers so section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act of Canada is adhered to.

15. Trusting the Tribunal will provide the compiled record of proceeding, at the various times and then added to over time, by today at three p.m. (as ther

Dear LAT Registrar, Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario, Office of the Attorney General and Ms. Jennifer [last name unknown] (an officer in the priva access requests made pursuant to FIPPA):

1. I write further to the above involving my access request made to the LAT in January 2025. Dear LAT Registrar (Ms. Lee), FIPPA privacy officer (Ms. Jennifer), EC of Tribunals Ontario and the AGO email:

I thank you for your response. I have copied Mr. Weir, the FIPPA privacy and AGO email as noted above. I have also copied the relevant parts of your email to the below as some o privacy requests. I apologize for the brief delay on my part as I see your email came in late yesterday and I did not check this email until now.

However, that is entirely unacceptable on all fronts in relation to "how best to compile" the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024.

Section 20 of the SPPA:

> "Record of proceeding
>
> 20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,
>
> (a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;

> (f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20."

Therefore, this explains exactly why these decisions issued by Vice Chair Morrissette and others were so askew with the facts because the Tribunal had not even compiled the reco The duty to compile operates irrespective of whether any appeal or judicial review is advanced.

The requirement was to file the record of proceeding forthwith with the ONSC Divisional Court. The JRPA Application was brought in mid-November 2024. Mr. Boyce for the Tril the Tribunal was to file an NOA forthwith which for the most part it did.

However, the Tribunal is only working on compiling the record now. There is nothing to discuss in terms of reaching out to me for information. I have already provided the informa so as a courtesy.

As such, the Tribunal is in breach of two sets of statutory duties. As stated, please provide what you have during those time periods on a forthwith basis to me. The time is now 1:5 commence today.

Respectfully, this should not take more than 30 minutes to do as I am a party and it is a period of some 8.5 months. Kindly re-attach the same by reply email. Based Alternatively, you can send via multiple piecemeal emails.

If you commence providing today, you can remove Mr. Weir and the AGO email address. Please remove Jennifer and her email in any event.

URGENT

VIA EMAIL

Re: urgent request for the adjudicative records herein

Re #2: inclusion of The Honourable Mr. Downey and the esteemed Mr. Weir, Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario for oversight and the provision of the re "Tribunal") file number 23-0155662/AABS from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024 (the "ROP Temporal Period")

Dear LAT Registrar (copied to the AGO and EC of Tribunals Ontario):

1. I again thank Jennifer of the access and privacy division for the LAT for confirming with me that the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, tc am entitled to without the necessity of a formal FIPPA request along with the statutory and prescribed fees. As such, I confirm that the FIPPA time periods

2. In light of the above issues with delays along with failure to comply with one of the more basic aspects of a statutory requirements under section 1 system[ii], I have copied Mr. Sean Weir, Executive Chair ("EC") of Tribunals Ontario and The Honourable Mr. Attorney General of Ontario in Mr. Downey the above purposes but also in light of his learned counsel in Ms. Judie Im in the JRPA Proceeding denoted by file number above Court File No. DC participate in the same as of late last week.

3. As the relevant decision-makers of the LAT at the relevant time purported to rely on the record of proceeding, it must be provided to a party in m documents were filed electronically so the LAT, with its resources and technological capabilities, with presumably AWS as the storage provider, return acc be the most rudimentary of tasks.

4. The lack of a confirmatory response is most concerning and appears to be part of a pattern. My belief is that the LAT does not have a full and accura outages" at various times. As we know, "technology happens" from time to time. As such, please provide the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period by Temporal Period. By my computation, we are looking at a period of 264 days.

5. I may provide a subsequent email of what I will be expecting that you will be providing today. To the extent that you wish to provide some piecemeal I am amenable with said approach. That being said, I cannot imagine that it is not possible to complete that which is in the possession and control of the copies.

6. To the extent that none of the records from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period are provided today, I will presume that the Tribunal has lost or h Temporal Period.

7. As The Honourable Mr. Downey will undoubtedly know, as the chief law officer in this province, the language chosen by our Legislature was for the decision) to file forthwith the record of proceeding for the court's use. However, one Mr. Boyce imposed an arbitrary timeline of three to four weeks in m the Tribunal. In a subsequent email to myself, with others copied, he had contrived a non-statutory timeline of 60 days from November 15, 2024 (i.e. tl behalf of the Tribunal, had not met either then or now.

8. I also ground my belief that the Tribunal either does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding on the bases of the above but also that some of makers in June, July and September 2024 were not conversant with the documents and facts. In this regard, they were askew by not only time periods but me to believe that they did not have the entire ROP at those times. Moreover, there were continued references to McLean v. TD General Insurance Compa favour which was a motion served and filed by me in mid May 2024 culminating in a decision of the Tribunal (Adjudicator Morrissette as she then was change of the respondent from TDGIC to Security National Insurance Company. As such, those "adjudicative records" will also include the below at secti that a responsive pleading like a statutory response under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act is not explicitly captured. However, I would respectfully sub and it is "evidence" albeit not sworn but signed by an individual representative on behalf of an insurance company (i.e. true, accurate and complete).

9. When providing the same, kindly denote the same in the following format: "Record of Proceeding [24-Dec-2023 – Sept 13-2024] – Respondent - L you are unable or unwilling to do so, I will solely change the title of the document to the same with various volumes depending on size (i.e. for the cur While it is for the Tribunal to have filed the same, Mr. Boyce has only been interested in filing a Notice of Appearance and no interest in facing the merits most basic of duties.

10. I trust, in copying two of the great legal minds in our province in the Honourable AGO and former managing partner of Canada's last largest law fi reference the purpose of the filing of the record of proceeding by the Tribunal. Perhaps, the LAT, in its somewhat infancy being in its nearly tenth year by purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a "record of proceedings" is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it has tribunal in the first instance. A court reviewing an adjudicative decision may look at decisions to admit evidence, submissions of witnesses, and other evid [or tribunal] of first instance: Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ONCA) ["Payne"] at para. 23. Payne was adopted by decisis, but in referencing that long standing legal precedent nearly a half quarter century later in Lachance (as per the Honourable Justices Myers, Stew Court found:

> "[37] I agree with the finding of Ryan Bell J. that by bringing this application for judicial review the applicants became entitled to rec adopted the words of Sharpe JA in Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ON CA) at paragraph 161

> [38] When met by a reluctant decision-maker, the applicants always had the ability to obtain the documents that they needed to advance t

11. As such, an interesting interplay arises between the forthwith filing requirement of the Tribunal with the court for its use, the inherent jurisdiction c applicant's rights on judicial review.

12. Arguably the most important precedential statement of law to come from Payne was its adoption, verbatim in parts, of the precedent from The Honour Gilmore, [1957] 1 Q.B. 574 at 583 (C.A.) which was:

> "A statutory body subject to judicial review cannot immunize itself or its process by arriving at decisions on considerations that are r

> (see: paragraph 161 of Payne (ONCA)).

13. As such, it matters not the source (equitable, common law, statutory, prescribed or otherwise) of the legal obligation or whether it is to file forthwi obligation that requires immediate rectification.
14. Without conflating a previous access request of the LAT, I was impressed with the rapidity that the access and privacy division provided access to sor on the email thread. I invoked the same herein due to a more urgent and pressing request for the very adjudicative records I am so entitled, the court is entitled to discharge its supervisory powers so section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act of Canada is adhered to.

15. Trusting the Tribunal will provide the compiled record of proceeding, at the various times and then added to over time, by today at three p.m. (as th 2024) to me as a party (the 'applicant' or 'appellant' depending on the preferred nomenclature), I can remove the Honourable AGO and EC of Tribunals important work that they do whilst confirming the satisfactory closure of my request.

16. Thank you for your compliance with the above, and I most look forward to confirming the closure of this request. A copy of this email may follow via caution.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

1. I write further to the above. In the circumstances, I confirm that I am entitled to the adjudicative records without an access request under FIPPA. Howe records from the record of proceeding are missing from the time period denoted above, I confirm that my FIPPA request was made from the time he delivered tomorrow. February 14, 2025

Dear LAT Registrar (Ms. Lee), FIPPA privacy officer (Ms. Jennifer), EC of Tribunals Ontario and the AGO email:

I thank you for your response. I have copied Mr. Weir, the FIPPA privacy and AGO email as noted above. I have also copied the relevant parts of your email to the below as some privacy requests. I apologize for the brief delay on my part as I see your email came in late yesterday and I did not check this email until now.

However, that is entirely unacceptable on all fronts in relation to "how best to compile" the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024.

Section 20 of the SPPA:

"Record of proceeding

20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,

(a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;

(b) the notice of any hearing;

(c) any interlocutory orders made by the tribunal;

(d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents

(e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and

(f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20."

Therefore, this explains exactly why these decisions issued by Vice Chair Morrissette and others were so askew with the facts because the Tribunal had not even compiled the rec The duty to compile operates irrespective of whether any appeal or judicial review is advanced.

The requirement was to file the record of proceeding forthwith with the ONSC Divisional Court. The JRPA Application was brought in mid-November 2024. Mr. Boyce for the T the Tribunal was to file an NOA forthwith which for the most part it did.

However, the Tribunal is only working on compiling the record now. There is nothing to discuss in terms of reaching out to me for information. I have already provided the infor so as a courtesy.

As such, the Tribunal is in breach of two sets of statutory duties. As stated, please provide what you have during those time periods on a forthwith basis to me. The time is now 1 commence today.

Respectfully, this should not take more than 30 minutes to do as I am a party and it is a period of some 8.5 months. Kindly re-attach the same by reply email. Base Alternatively, you can send via multiple piecemeal emails.

If you commence providing today, you can remove Mr. Weir and the AGO email address. Please remove Jennifer and her email in any event.

(Jennifer, I apologize for having you caught up in this email but I copied you to ensure that you are aware that I will be attending the relevant office (like last time) to deliver the separate thread with you so we do not conflate the two. However, for interim measure, it is the same as above with any logs from the back-end.)

I again thank Jennifer of the access and privacy division for the LAT for confirming with me that the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, am entitled to without the necessity of a formal FIPPA request along with the statutory and prescribed fees. As such, I confirm that the FIPPA time perio

2. In light of the above issues with delays along with failure to comply with one of the more basic aspects of a statutory requirements under section system[ii], I have copied Mr. Sean Weir, Executive Chair ("EC") of Tribunals Ontario and The Honourable Mr. Attorney General of Ontario in Mr. Down the above purposes but also in light of his learned counsel in Ms. Judie Im in the JRPA Proceeding denoted by file number above Court File No. L participate in the same as of late last week.

3. As the relevant decision-makers of the LAT at the relevant time purported to rely on the record of proceeding, it must be provided to a party in documents were filed electronically so the LAT, with its resources and technological capabilities, with presumably AWS as the storage provider, return a be the most rudimentary of tasks.

4. The lack of a confirmatory response is most concerning and appears to be part of a pattern. My belief is that the LAT does not have a full and accu outages" at various times. As we know, "technology happens" from time to time. As such, please provide the ROP from the ROP Temporal Period t Temporal Period. By my computation, we are looking at a period of 264 days.

5. I may provide a subsequent email of what I will be expecting that you will be providing today. To the extent that you wish to provide some piecemea I am amenable with said approach. That being said, I cannot imagine that it is not possible to complete that which is in the possession and control of th copies.

6. To the extent that none of the records from the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period are provided today, I will presume that the Tribunal has lost or Temporal Period.

7. As The Honourable Mr. Downey will undoubtedly know, as the chief law officer in this province, the language chosen by our Legislature was for th decision) to file forthwith the record of proceeding for the court's use. However, one Mr. Boyce imposed an arbitrary timeline of three to four weeks in the Tribunal. In a subsequent email to myself, with others copied, he had contrived a non-statutory timeline of 60 days from November 15, 2024 (i.e. behalf of the Tribunal, had not met either then or now.

8. I also ground my belief that the Tribunal either does not have a full and accurate record of proceeding on the bases of the above but also that some makers in June, July and September 2024 were not conversant with the documents and facts. In this regard, they were askew by not only time periods t me to believe that they did not have the entire ROP at those times. Moreover, there were continued references to McLean v. TD General Insurance Com favour which was a motion served and filed by me in mid May 2024 culminating in a decision of the Tribunal (Adjudicator Morrissette as she then w change of the respondent from TDGIC to Security National Insurance Company. As such, those "adjudicative records" will also include the below at sec that a responsive pleading like a statutory response under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act is not explicitly captured. However, I would respectfully su and it is "evidence" albeit not sworn but signed by an individual representative on behalf of an insurance company (i.e. true, accurate and complete).

9. When providing the same, kindly denote the same in the following format: "Record of Proceeding [24-Dec-2023 – Sept 13-2024] – Respondent - you are unable or unwilling to do so, I will solely change the title of the document to the same with various volumes depending on size (i.e. for the c While it is for the Tribunal to have filed the same, Mr. Boyce has only been interested in filing a Notice of Appearance and no interest in facing the mer most basic of duties.

10. I trust, in copying two of the great legal minds in our province in the Honourable AGO and former managing partner of Canada's last largest law reference the purpose of the filing of the record of proceeding by the Tribunal. Perhaps, the LAT, in its somewhat infancy being in its nearly tenth year purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a "record of proceedings" is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it h tribunal in the first instance. A court reviewing an adjudicative decision may look at decisions to admit evidence, submissions of witnesses, and other ev [or tribunal] of first instance: Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ONCA) ["Payne"] at para. 23. Payne was adopted b decisis, but in referencing that long standing legal precedent nearly a half quarter century later in Lachance (as per the Honourable Justices Myers, St Court found:

11. As such, an interesting interplay arises between the forthwith filing requirement of the Tribunal with the court for its use, the inherent jurisdictior applicant's rights on judicial review.

12. Arguably the most important precedential statement of law to come from Payne was its adoption, verbatim in parts, of the precedent from The Honou Gilmore, [1957] 1 Q.B. 574 at 583 (C.A.) which was:

> "A statutory body subject to judicial review cannot immunize itself or its process by arriving at decisions on considerations that ar

13. As such, it matters not the source (equitable, common law, statutory, prescribed or otherwise) of the legal obligation or whether it is to file forthv obligation that requires immediate rectification.
14. Without conflating a previous access request of the LAT, I was impressed with the rapidity that the access and privacy division provided access to s on the email thread. I invoked the same herein due to a more urgent and pressing request for the very adjudicative records I am so entitled, the court entitled to discharge its supervisory powers so section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act of Canada is adhered to.

15. Trusting the Tribunal will provide the compiled record of proceeding, at the various times and then added to over time, by today at three p.m. (as 2024) to me as a party (the 'applicant' or 'appellant' depending on the preferred nomenclature), I can remove the Honourable AGO and EC of Tribuna important work that they do whilst confirming the satisfactory closure of my request.

16. Thank you for your compliance with the above, and I most look forward to confirming the closure of this request. A copy of this email may follow v caution.

Dear LAT Registrar (Ms. Lee), FIPPA privacy officer (Ms. Jennifer), EC of Tribunals Ontario and the AGO email:

I thank you for your response. I have copied Mr. Weir, the FIPPA privacy and AGO email as noted above. I have also copied the relevant parts of your email to the below as so privacy requests. I apologize for the brief delay on my part as I see your email came in late yesterday and I did not check this email until now.

However, that is entirely unacceptable on all fronts in relation to "how best to compile" the record of proceeding from December 23, 2023, to September 13, 2024.

Section 20 of the SPPA:

"Record of proceeding

20 A tribunal shall compile a record of any proceeding in which a hearing has been held which shall include,

(a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;

(b) the notice of any hearing;

(c) any interlocutory orders made by the tribunal;

(d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documer

(e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and

(f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 20."

Therefore, this explains exactly why these decisions issued by Vice Chair Morrissette and others were so askew with the facts because the Tribunal had not even compiled the r The duty to compile operates irrespective of whether any appeal or judicial review is advanced.

The requirement was to file the record of proceeding forthwith with the ONSC Divisional Court. The JRPA Application was brought in mid-November 2024. Mr. Boyce for the the Tribunal was to file an NOA forthwith which for the most part it did.

However, the Tribunal is only working on compiling the record now. There is nothing to discuss in terms of reaching out to me for information. I have already provided the inf so as a courtesy.

As such, the Tribunal is in breach of two sets of statutory duties. As stated, please provide what you have during those time periods on a forthwith basis to me. The time is now commence today.

Respectfully, this should not take more than 30 minutes to do as I am a party and it is a period of some 8.5 months. Kindly re-attach the same by reply email. Ba Alternatively, you can send via multiple piecemeal emails.

If you commence providing today, you can remove Mr. Weir and the AGO email address. Please remove Jennifer and her email in any event.

(Jennifer, I apologize for having you caught up in this email but I copied you to ensure that you are aware that I will be attending the relevant office (like last time) to deliver th separate thread with you so we do not conflate the two. However, for interim measure, it is the same as above with any logs from the back-end.)

Dear LAT Registrar (and to Ms. Lee):

I write regarding the above. I confirm you have failed to provide the record of proceeding from the ROP Temporal Period. You did not follow up on February 21 the records that make up the record of proceeding.

Please provide the same by the end of the business day to this email herein. I make this demand and request for all of the above reasons.

I appreciate the Tribunal does not have the full and accurate record of the proceeding from the ROP Temporal Period due to that technological issue (framed as a said, that will make the provision of what the Tribunal has in its possession and control all the easier and simplified.

Thank you.

URGENT NOTICE

Good Morning LAT FIPPA Division: I have copied Mr. Weir on this email to confirm that there has been another failure with respect to my receipt of the requested personal information. I am in the process of filing an OIPC Appeal. It will take me a few hours to do so. Therefore, if you are able to provide me the requested personal information (records) in the interim, then it can be avoided. If nothing is provided by that time, I will also copy the AGO's office to confirm that there appears to be a systemic issue or at least an issue in relation to myself that requires immediate correction and attention.

Volume #1: Overview

1. This costs submission for NOM #8 (the "Costs Submission" or "Costs Argument") is encapsulated by the famous quote from Sir Walter Scott's play "Marmion": "Oh, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive".[16] This is the Appellant's costs submissions, pursuant to Rule 19 of the LAT Rules[17] tendered before a decision or orders is made by the Tribunal with respect to the NOM Hearing Order on June 5, 2024 setting the "hearing" for NOM #8 on June 20, 2024. For ease of reference and ease of reading in the body of this Costs Submission, the Appellant provides a summary[18] as to the legal bases involving NOM #8 and why the Tribunal was not only authorized to correct the "similar error" in all of its decisions or orders since January 2024 including the NOM Hearing Order ("NOMHO").

"A Note on Length and Spacing"

2. As "costs submissions", which must be in writing at first instance, are not a "motion per se", there is no requirement that the submissions be "six pages, double spaced exclusive of evidence and authorities" (see: Rule 15.1(b)). As such, there is much for the Appellant to traverse herein so details and particulars, along with reasons are important as there are many complex areas of law that are referenced by directness but also analogy and context. This will be added in the "hearing brief record" for internal purposes at the last tab. To the extent that SNIC responds to the costs submissions within a reasonable time and with time to include the same in a "joint hearing record", the Appellant is amenable to include any responsive costs submissions therein. If SNIC does not respond by midday tomorrow, then the Appellant will presume that SNIC is not contesting a costs order against it.

3. The Appellant's review of Rule 17.1 of the SPPA and Rule 19 of the LAT Rules is that "costs submissions" (in writing) do not fall under the requirement that written argument submissions are confined to a page length and double spacing:
   a. all supporting submissions, which must not exceed 6 double-spaced pages in length, exclusive of evidence and authorities (see: Rule 15.1(b)):
   b. The completed form must be served on the other parties prior to being filed with the Tribunal and must include all submissions and evidence in support of the request. Submissions must not exceed 5 double-spaced pages in length and must include (Rule 16); and
   c. The reconsideration request includes the following: All submissions in support of the request, which must specify the applicable criteria under Rule 18.2. The submissions must not exceed 10 double-spaced pages in length, exclusive of evidence and authorities (Rule 18).

4. As such, the Appellant has confined these submissions to 11 pages, single spaced as he also cannot find any "practice direction" on the same that would limit him to the same.

SNIC's failure to respond to the underlying NOM #8

5. As SNIC has failed to respond to NOM #8 even by written email confirming its "position", the Appellant is proceeding with this Costs Submissions. Insured persons should not have to go through the financial, emotional and temporal costs by engaging with the Tribunal in order to have an insurer that is liable for SABS benefits comply (see: Peel Mutual and Vila).

6. The Appellant is seeking $1,000 in costs against SNIC (the "respondent party" pursuant to the statute under which this Appeal arose) for its unreasonable, bad faith, vexatious and/or frivolous conduct.

7. SNIC is defined as "SNIC 397", "SABS Insurer", "First Insurer" or "Offending Party".

8. The License Appeal Tribunal is a creature of statute and can only add a Non-SABS Insurance Company or individual by order in which the Appellant was entitled to notice. It is a matter of procedural and administrative fairness.

9. The Appellant has exceeded the threshold for being entitled to tender a costs' submission as only "belief" is required.

10. The Appellant has sworn[19] four affidavits that are contained in the hearing record that condescend upon particulars as to the unreasonable, bad faith, vexatious or frivolous conduct of SNIC in relation to NOM #8. It is trite that evidence under oath is the equivalent of "reasonable grounds to believe" (also known as "reasonable and probable grounds" (see: R. v. Kang, SCC) which is a higher standard of "belief". The standard of proof remains a "balance of probabilities" and the Appellant carries the burden. As the NOM #8 hearing is not being held orally, Rule 19.3[20] does not apply.

Volume #1(A)(I)(a): The Particulars
Affidavit #21 (see: NOM #8, Hearing Record, Tab 2, pages 3 to 59)

11. The Appellant is required to set out the "reasons" and "particulars"[21]. Affidavit #21 was made on the day after the May 2, 2024, (see: May 3, 2024) case conference and "to be heard" NOM #4 and NOM #6, pursuant to LAT orders, which provided the relevant particulars to further demonstrate to the Tribunal that the OCF-18 from April 2023 was exclusively sent to SNIC. Moreover, the Appellant continued to distinguish between the SABS Insurer and Non-SABS Insurance Company.

12. The affidavit #21 was 57 pages in total with body occupying eight (8) pages and Exhibit "A" with separate tabs occupying the remaining pages. The Appellant was unequivocal in his affirmed evidence that he continued to object to Fictitious Respondent having any status as a "party", without having brought a motion to be added (not substituted for the SABS Insurer) he was reserving all of his rights in facts and at law, and that he continued to object in perpetuity (see: paragraphs 6 and 7 therein).

13. SNIC did not take any active steps to remedy the situation by way of what is sought in Order #1 in NOM #8.

14. Karat has the opportunity to dispute the same by responsive evidence herein. Only time will tell if he does so and before the Tribunal renders a decision on June 20, 2024. While the time has passed for SNIC to provide any responsive submissions and evidence to the underlying motion, the Appellant challenges SNIC to do so in relation to this Costs Submission. The Appellant affirmed, on belief, that SNIC and the Fictitious Respondent were in breach of the various sections of PIPEDA along with the OPCC decisions involving the standardized form of the OCF-1 (see: paragraphs 20 to 29). The Appellant affirmed, and noted, that the string of 'TD Insurance' was and is consistent with 'TD Insurance Meloche Monnex' but "TD General Insurance Company" was not (see: paragraph 32).

15. At no time did the Appellant provide any reference in the Appeal (along with the listed and attached documents to the Appeal) or his first three motions wherein the Appellant has affirmed, on belief, that the Tribunal was misled by Nieuwland or someone authorized by him.[22] The Appellant filed and served Affidavit #21 on SNIC on May 3, 2024.

> Volume #1(A)(II)(b): The Particulars Affidavit #22 of the Appellant (see: NOM #8 Hearing Record, Tab 3, pages 60 to 104)

16. The Appellant made, affirmed, filed and served Affidavit #22 on May 10, 2024. By May 10, 2024, the Appellant had determined that the Nieuwland "One and the Same Representation" was unequivocally false as a result of the FSRA Enforcement Decisions. The Appellant's language was at paragraphs 3[23] and 4[24] of the Affidavit #22. As the Appellant presumed that the issue was effectively "cut and dried" without any room for an ambiguous interpretation, he filed a request of the Tribunal by letter (see: paragraph 5)[25].

17. SNIC did not budge and the Tribunal presumably wished to have formality by way of motion pursuant to the "New LAT Rules" as opposed to doing so on its own initiative. The Appellant particularized how he had believed the misapprehension was created on or around early to mid January 2024, the Tribunal including its staff (such as Mr. Josh Grant and others) and Vice Chair Lake (see: paragraph 7).[26]

18. On May 6, 2024, Mr. Karat remained active in 23-015662/AABS while pursuant to section 1(7) of the LSA had engaged in conduct that was legislatively deemed to be representation of a person (SNIC) in a proceeding (23-015662) before an adjudicative body (License Appeal Tribunal), with courtesy, responding to the Appellant's request as to the particulars of when the TDIADR email was sent to the Tribunal and misled the Tribunal. Mr. Karat represented to the Tribunal and the Appellant that the TDIADR email did NOT send "outgoing email" and was only for "incoming email". Mr. Karat was mistaken.

19. The Appellant received an email response on January 17, 2024, from said TDIADR email account but Mr. Karat's response was nonetheless appreciated (see: page 3 of Exhibit "A" of Affidavit #22). By said time, Mr. Karat had done the following, prima facie, exclusively on his own: (i) signed the SNIC Response; (ii) filed the SNIC Response; (iii) served the SNIC Response; and (iv) filed and signed a COS for said SNIC Response.

20. With class and humility along with good faith and honesty, the Appellant admitted, on May 8, 2024, he had made an error in relying on the insurance registration numbers for SNIC and TDGIC from another province (albeit distinct) but then tendered the FSRA Enforcement Decisions for SNIC and TDGIC which confirmed that SNIC and TDGIC had different FSRA registration numbers.[27] Despite Mr. Karat responding on May 6, 2024, SNIC did not respond to this epiphany.

21. The seminal paragraph in Affidavit #22, by way of particulars, was paragraph 22[28] it cannot now take the position with the Tribunal that another registered insurance company in TDGIC (#353) can be substituted as the "SABS* INSURER" when it is not. I respectfully submit that the same applies to TDGIC (see: Exhibit "A", page 20).The Appellant notes the following particulars in paragraphs 24 to 29.[29]

> Volume #1(A)(II)(b)(i) Appellant explicitly referenced the prejudice it was causing him (paragraph 30 of Affidavit #22)

22. For sake of convenience, the Appellant quotes the following from paragraphs 30[30] and 31[31]: The Appellant affirmed on belief, in the remaining paragraphs of Affidavit #22 the prejudice that he was suffering and would suffer as a result of SNIC and the Fictitious Respondent opposing notifying the Tribunal of the mistake and error in the name of the respondent. The standard before the Tribunal of jointly notifying the Tribunal of an error in the naming of the respondent was denoted in F.C. v. Wawanesa.

> Volume #1(A)(II)(c): Affidavit #23 (made on May 11, 2024) (see: BOA, Tab 4, pages 105 to 257)

23. Affidavit #23 was primarily exhibit based which was separated by ten tabs and provided a chronology of events from December 24, 2023, to May 11, 2024.

> Volume #1(A)(II)(d):
> Affidavit #24 (made on May 15, 2024)

24. Affidavit #24 provided further details and evidence that even in May 2024 the TD Insurance Meloche Monnex programs referred to two different insurance programs in the "Alumni And Professional Program" (underwritten by SNIC) and the "Employer Group Program" (underwritten by TDGIC). Only the former was applicable and neither included "TD General Insurance Company".

> Volume #1(A)(II)(d)(i):The Case of Reza (see: Fatemea Rezaiezadeh v. State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, 2016 ONFSCDRS 59 ("Reza")

25. In the case of Fatemea Rezaiezadeh v. State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, 2016 ONFSCDRS 59 ("Reza") which is provided which is provided for the purpose that at no time has TD Insurance (Meloche Monnex) (Security National Insurance Company) represented publicly that any other insurer underwrites the Insurance Policy herein or the Alumni And Professionals Program. The TD Insurance website clearly delineates between SNIC (397), being the underwriter for the Alumni Program, and Primmum (1396) being the underwriter for the "Employer Group Program".

26. The Appellant notes the case of Reza (for short) wherein, albeit under the FSCO, the arbitrator found the following: "The Appellant concedes there is no explicit procedure in the Code or the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, as amended, to permit a party to continue a proceeding against a non-party." The "Dispute Resolution Code" is no longer applicable as it only applied with the FSCO. Even where State Farm Automobile Insurance Company was bought out by Certas and Desjardins regarding its Canadian operations, State Farm remained as the party as it was the underwriter at the time of the accident therein. The time of the accident herein was August 31, 2022, SNIC sent the Appellant (Insured Person) the OCF-1 with its pre-printed and determined returned sender address of SNIC Markham (attention: Ms. Alisha Anne-Nurse). For a summary regarding the steps that were required of SNIC to provide notice to the Appellant if there was a dispute as to which "insurer" was liable (in part or in whole) for SABS benefits, the Appellant has done so by "endnote"[32] regarding the applicability of the uncontroverted evidence to Reg 283. Reg 283 cannot be circumvented by a substitution between insurers, during a LAT proceeding after the "respondent party" (SNIC #397) by law (see: section 5 of the SPPA), as any condoning of such conduct would render the protections for an Insured Person under Reg 283 largely illusory.

27. After the Appellant apprised the Tribunal and SNIC that Nieuwland's representations were false with respect to the "One & Same Misrepresentation" by providing the FSRA Enforcement Decisions, SNIC remained silent. It has remained silent even after the June 5, 2024 LAT Order setting the written hearing for June 20, 2024. Silence was not a legal option or legal right at all and particularly after SNIC was served with NOM #8. In the context of a "banking case" of Sugar Peat where remaining silent when a "third party" was aware of the misrepresentations made by another (which is somewhat ironic considering that "The Toronto-Dominion Bank" licenses the trademarked name of "TD Insurance" and Meloche Monnex Inc. licenses the trademarked name of "Meloche Monnex" for "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" for SNIC ("Alumni And Professional Insurance Program") and Primmum ("Employer Group Program")

28. is persuasive and binding for its legal principles, which have been adopted in legal principles as per Adjudicator Henein Thorn in Bennett. In Sugar Peat, Southey J., writing for the Ontario High Court of Justice found, "the bank was guilty of fraud in remaining silent and permitting S. to rely on the statements of the receiver-manager acting as the bank's agent, when employees of the bank knew the statements to be false." In this SNIC Proceeding, while the usage of the word "agent" is somewhat "taboo" pursuant to the amendments in the Omnibus Bill, stylizes as the Access to Justice Act, 2006, which amended the Law Society Act, the SPPA et al with the Legislation Act receiving "Royal Assent" from our Legislature in October 2006. The effect of the same was that those non-lawyers or non-paralegals, wherein paralegals received well-deserved recognition status as paralegals under a "single regulator" in the LSO, who were appearing as 'agent' for clients could no longer to do so unless they were licensed lawyers (L1, L2 or L3) or paralegals (P1).[33]

29. Sugar Peat Ltd.'s negligence in failing to verify the statements was no defence; nor was her delay, since she did not learn of the bank's knowledge until October, 1984. Sugar Peat Ltd. was entitled to recover the full amount of its investment before that date.

30. Without sounding self-serving or braggadocios, the Appellant has been the opposite of negligent when it was not a requirement per se because "bad faith, civil fraud, dishonesty and extortion" are special category of nullity.

31. The impugning remarks by a non-viable 'representative' in Nieuwland for a Fictitious Respondent have been in the nature that the Appellant has been too detailed and voluminous.

32. The Appellant, objectively speaking, takes such an "accusation" as evidence that he was fastidious in preserving his legal rights.

33. Simply put, it should not have taken 130 days for the Fictitious Respondent to relent to the same. While the liability for SABS and costs herein is that of an "insurer" and "SABS Insurer", it was not open to Mr.

Karat as the "agent" for SNIC to allow Nieuwland to make the representations he did in the submissions on April 11, 2024 about who "assigned" or "appointed".

34. Mr. Karat's email on January 23, 2024 was unequivocal with Nieuwland and Persaud copied. While Karat is a "Non-Licensee", he was required to raise the issue with a manager or supervising lawyer within SNIC Markham. Therein lay Karat's issue in that there is evidence that he has worked in the same premises as the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer on a case stylized as Quinn v. Security National Insurance Company.

35. However, that is not the issue herein as the issue is whether the inactivity from mid May 2024 to present is deserving of a costs award; specifically whether the conduct of the "Offending Party" in SNIC was unreasonable, frivolous, vexatious or in bad faith.

Volume #1(C): Definitions are required for "bad faith

Volume #1(C)(I): Bad Faith

36. What constitutes bad faith is not always obvious. The Courts have, however, provided some guidance. In Fidler v. Sunlife Assurance Company of Canada[34], the Supreme Court of Canada clarified that bad faith: requires a conscious wrongdoing or "an act of dishonesty operating within an improper or illegal design." Therefore, mere negligent adjusting of a file is not always going to be bad faith. In the context of personal injury claims, the Ontario courts, for context, have found the following conduct has constituted bad faith (see: Demetriou v. AIG Insurance Company of Canada per Justice Gray).[35] While punitive damages cannot be awarded by the Tribunal are not the same as a costs award in the Tribunal, the concept of "bad faith" and a lesson learned as to why AIG, in the Demetriou case, had punitive damages awarded against it: You can't hide in the weeds; and While there are consequences for failed defences, however unmeritorious, you also cannot hedge.

Volume #1(C)(II): SNIC hiding in the weeds with the ultimate hedge or was it?

37. By Karat, solely signing and filing the SNIC Response on behalf of SNIC on January 25, 2024, and Nieuwland filing the DOR for the Fictitious Respondent, this was the "ultimate hedge". Or was it? However, the issue again is the conduct of SNIC from from mid May 2024 to present in relation this NOM #8. Stenega is a case that was cited by the Appellant in his earlier motions wherein at paragraph 55 of the decision Justice Zarnett provides a useful summary of the features of a bad faith claim or punitive damages claim that outside the scope of the Tribunal's jurisdiction.[36] Despite this agreement, the Court of Appeal upheld the decision of the motions judge. The Court held that by virtue of section 280 of the Insurance Act, the LAT has exclusive jurisdiction over SABS claims.

Volume #1(C)(II): Frivolous

38. "Frivolous" is defined as: "not having any serious purpose or value". There was zero value in the Nieuwland DOR and the nullity filings by the Fictitious Respondent. However, the Fictitious Respondent was and is not a "party" pursuant to section 5 of the SPPA. Ergo, the issue is whether SNIC's inaction and refusal to respond to this NOM #8, when Karat was active in January, February and May 2024 in this file with the Appellant and Tribunal, then he could have provided a response on behalf of SNIC even in email. In that regard, Karat cannot sign correspondence unless it is of a routine administrative nature (see: By-Law 7.1, section 6(d)) but an email response on behalf of SNIC is likely appropriate. However, the issue for Karat was that he and Nieuwland have different "clients" (the former being the "party" and the other being the Fictitious Respondent) so it was debatable whether he could do so on his own unless he was being supervised by a different lawyer(s) in the background.

Volume #1(C)(III): Vexatious

39. Vexatious is defined as: "causing or tending to cause annoyance, frustration, or worry". To put this Appellant to the worry about all of the issues in this SNIC Proceeding while having to "battle" against two different insurance companies with two different representatives along with a Fictitious Legal Assistant (Moraes) is the quintessential vexatious conduct. However, the issue for this NOM #8 is whether the conduct from the lead up to NOM #8 to the filing of NOM #8 to present was vexatious when measured against the Fictitious Respondent making the Non-Party Admission on June 6, 2024. At that point, if Nieuwland felt he could act for SNIC, SNIC had a duty to instruct him and have him file a DOR on its behalf. SNIC has not done so.

40. Vexatious conduct has been found where an unauthorized representative, albeit duly called to the LSO, was acting without authority from the correct and legal party (see: Chandrarajah[37], and citing Toma). The Appellant learned, it used to be that under the FCSO regime in the mid 2000's that costs could be awarded against non-parties like Volfson and others in the SunLife Assurance case. However, under the current regime as of August 21, 2023, the LAT Rules only authorize costs against the other party. While costs were not awarded in Chandrarajah, Adjudicator Jarda's reasons, in her seminal decision, were unambiguous in that it was the insurer seeking costs, it was a sympathetic situation as the wife had lost her husband to injuries unrelated to the accident impairments, and the issues were directed at "applicant's counsel" in Ms. Erin Neal (see: https://naimarklaw.com/team/#ErinNeal). Of counsel, a lawyer or paralegal (licensee) must have instructions from the client, and this is standard protocol in the client intake process. Adjudicator Jarda, with is a precedent decision of the License Appeal Tribunal which was beautifully articulated and reasoned as she, while not being bound by FCSO decisions, provided how the License Appeal Tribunal will decide cases where the prima facie "representative", albeit a licensee, did not have authority to act on behalf of a non-party. In providing the legal precedent therein, Adj. Jarda found, explicitly and by implication, that while all of the previous filings by the prima facie representative were in the "record of proceeding", they were nullities. Adj. Jarda, by implication, found that where much time has passed (i.e. three to five months) and there is no evidence that the authorized representative has taken steps to file a DOR on behalf of the "legal party", there is no viable way for the unauthorized party to continue. It leads to, pursuant to section 23(1) and 25.0.1, to an extraordinary remedy

41. There was was no authority to award costs against the representative and certainly not Mr. Karat who is an unlicensed representative.

42. The ironic relevance herein is that Karat has appeared before the Tribunal, not on his own but with in-house counsel in the Divorced Husband Conflicted Lawyer (Quinn) and external counsel or law firm (McCague Borlack LLP) in Kopylets.

Volume #1(C)(IV): Unreasonable

43. Unreasonable connotes an objective person standard. Unreasonable means: beyond the limits of acceptability or fairness. Collins Dictionary refers to the synonyms as: biased, arbitrary, irrational,

VOLUME #2: ISSUE OF LAW

44. As the Appellant is only required to meet one of the requirements under Rule 19.1, has the Appellant established on a balance of probabilities that SNIC has conducted itself in relation to NOM #8 in a vexatious, bad faith, frivolous OR bad faith manner?
    a. If the answer is yes, what is the Tribunal allowed to award against SNIC in favour of the Appellant?
        i. Further, what would be the enforcement jurisdiction should SNIC fail to pay?

VOLUME 3: ARGUMENT

Volume #3(A): The Changes from 2016

45. Rule 19.1 of the Rules mirrors the language of s. 17.1(2) of the SPPA, and provides that a party may make a request to the Tribunal for its costs where a party believes that another party in a proceeding has acted unreasonably, frivolously, vexatiously or in bad faith. Prior to April 1, 2016, under s. 282 (11) of the Insurance Act ("Act"), an arbitrator's jurisdiction and discretion to award expenses was broad. Unlike Rule 19.1, arbitrators at the Financial Services Commission Ontario ("FSCO") could consider criteria other than vexatious, unreasonable, frivolous and bad faith behaviour of a party, such as a party's degree of success in the outcome of the proceeding, the conduct of a party, or a party's representative, the failure of a party to comply with undertakings or orders, any written offers to settle, and/or any aspect that was improper, vexatious or unnecessary. Section 281 (11) of the Act was repealed on April 1, 2016. The Tribunal's opinion is that the repeal of s. 281 (11) is a clear statement of legislature's intent to limit the circumstances where the Tribunal can award costs in a proceeding. However, the repeal of s 281 (11) does not prevent parties from negotiating costs and disbursements between themselves as they settle files. An award of costs under Rule 19 differs significantly from an award of expenses at FSCO. In FSCO arbitrations, the successful party typically receives its expenses. In contrast, an award of costs under Rule 19 is a discretionary remedy. Such an award does not routinely follow success at a hearing as costs are not meant to compensate parties for bringing or defending a claim. Rather, in appropriate circumstances an award of costs penalizes a party whose actions have impeded the Tribunal in carrying out its mandate to provide fair and efficient resolution of automobile accident benefit disputes. The possibility of an award under Rule 19 also acts to deter inappropriate behaviour by a party (see: 16-002272 v Aviva Insurance Canada, 2017 CanLII 39578).

Volume #3(B): Tribunal's Authority to Award Costs*

46. The Tribunal has authority to award costs against a party to the maximum of $1,000 per full day of attendance for a motion hearing, in this NOM #8, a "written hearing". Tribunal may, in the circumstances set out in rules made under section 17.1(4) of the SPPA, order a party to pay all or part of another party's [see: TDGIC not a "party" under the Insurance Act so not a party under the SPPA; conflict between LAT Rule 2 and legislation] costs in a proceeding. Tribunal shall NOT make an order to pay costs under section 17 UNLESS the conduct or course of conduct of a Party has been: (i) unreasonable; (ii) frivolous; (iii) vexatious or a Party has acted in "bad faith", AND the Tribunal (see: Rule 19) has made rule section 17.1(4)Section 17.1(1) of the SPPA states that a Tribunal "may, in the circumstances set out in rules made under subsection (4), order a party to pay all or part of another party's costs in a proceeding." However, there are limitations. Section 17.1(2) of the SPPA states that the Tribunal shall not make an order to pay costs unless the following apply: "a) the conduct or course of conduct of a party has been unreasonable, frivolous or vexatious or a party has acted in bad faith; and b) the Tribunal has made rules under subsection (4)."

Volume #3(B): Insurance Companies are the sophisticated party

47. Insurance companies have been found to be the sophisticated parties: Mosa.

Volume #3(C): No Conflation of Reg 664 vs. Section 17.1 of SPPA and Rule 19 of the LAT Rules 48. Some applicants have conflated "costs" under section 25.1 of the SPPA and the rules of the LAT with a "Reg 664 award". They are not "one and the same".

Volume #3(D): SNIC owes the Appellant a fiduciary duty

49. The starting point with respect to SNIC's obligations is that it owed and continues to owe the Appellant a duty of good faith and fiduciary duties (see: Beasley, 2010, paragraph 34).

Volume #3(F): the Five Part Test (only four parts relevant)

Volume #3(F)(I):Seriousness of the SNIC's conduct relating to NOM #8

50. The seriousness of the misconduct by SNIC is on the highest of the ends as it is in breach of its fiduciary duties to the Appellant. Further, SNIC has been on notice of being required to have a lawyer licensee file a DOR on its behalf since early February 2024.

Volume #3(F)(II):Misconduct in breach of an order

51. While it appears from the evidence that SNIC and its unlicensed representative who remained active in this SNIC Proceeding into May 2024 by attending the case conference and responding to queries by the Appellant regarding the TDIADR Email. Even worse than breaching an order or the LAT Rules is breaching the very enabling legislation under the Insurance Act when the SABS Insurer has been in business since 1934.

Volume #3(F)(III): Whether the party's behaviour interfered with the Tribunal to carry out a fair, efficient and effective process

52. What could amount to more interference than requiring the Appellant to bring a motion for an order under section 21.1 of the SPPA after finding that counsel for a Fictitious Respondent had made a litany of misrepresentations on its behalf?

Volume #3(F)(IV):Prejudice to other parties

53. It is trite that TDGIC as the Fictitious Respondent was not a party, never has been and never will by the Non-Party Admission. The only other party is the Appellant and the prejudice has been astronomical by reference to Affidavit #21 to #24 and onwards.

Volume #3(G): Other cases regarding costs

Volume #3(G)(I): Aviva case (see: Eghomwanre v Aviva General Insurance, 2024 CanLII 35846)

54. Herein, SNIC has not provided any rationale for its non-responses. It is important to note that Mr. David Karat has been responsive to the Appellant, at times, and was the individual that represented (albeit apparently by mistake) on May 6, 2024 that the "TDIADR email" did not send outgoing emails. Mr. Karat also appeared at the case conference on May 2, 2024.

Volume #3(G)(II): The cases cited by Aviva: 16-001032 v Allstate Insurance Company of Canada, 2017 CanLII 148122; and PM v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex

55. At paragraph 9 of the 2017 Aviva decision, Rebecca Hines, Adjudicator found as follows: "The applicant did not request the consent of the Tribunal with respect to filing late submissions and evidence. Nor did the applicant provide a reasonable explanation with respect to why their submissions were late or why the documents were not disclosed in accordance with Rule 9 or the Case Conference Adjudicator's Order. In addition, she failed to address the respondent's requests for costs in their reply submissions. I agree with the respondent that this behaviour was unreasonable."

56. Pursuant to the LAT Rules (effective August 31, 2023), a party is now required to seek permission with motion materials to overcome its offending or contravening conduct. The Applicant continued to invite even Nieuwland to file a DOR for SNIC and he declined. Even Mr. Grant (case manager), who has been pure class and professionalism personified, invited Mr. Nieuwland to do so.

Volume #3(G)(III): PM v. TD Insurance (Meloche Monnex)

57. In PM v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex, Adjudiactor Derek Grant found: " [35] Parties in a proceeding have a duty to ensure the Tribunal's Orders are adhered to. Should there be a delay, or a foreseeable reason for a delay, the parties have a duty to ensure the timeliness and efficiency of the proceeding is maintained, by notifying the other party of a foreseeable delay. Further, bad faith, vexatious and/or frivolous actions on behalf of a party, contrast with the Tribunal's purpose of ensuring a fair proceeding takes place.

Volume #3(G)(IV): Black Swan:

58. As found by another one of the Tribunals that forms Tribunals Ontario, the HRTO found in Black Swan as follows: "The error in the respondent's name, the applicant submits, is a barrier to effective enforcement of the orders in the Decision. It would be an abuse of the Tribunal's process for the respondent to benefit from its failure to correctly self-identify in the Response or during the course of the proceeding in which it appeared and actively responded to the Application."

59. SNIC correctly self-identified in the "Response" which Adj. Lake found, albeit adjudicating a dispute under different legislation and regulations in Van Hodge, is a "responsive pleading". However, it then "passed the baton" to another insurer which was not only prohibited by the OCF-1 documents but PIPEDA, the Insurance Policy and the common law. It is what Mr. Nieuwland did not say on May 2, 2024 that is of import, with Mr. Karat there as the "ADR Specialist", in that Mr. Nieuwland NEVER said, "Well, Vice Chair, the Insurance Policy is now underwritten by TDGIC". He said the opposite when he misrepresented the following:

60. Mr. Karat remained silent which was not open to him pursuant to section 1(7) of the LSA in that his acts on January 25, 2024 are 'deemed representation of a person in this proceeding before an adjudicative body'. As such, his silence bound SNIC. Moreover, it was open to Karat to respond via email like he had on May 6, 2024 after the Non-Party Admission on June 6, 2024 by the Fictitious Respondent. He remained silent. He bound SNIC yet again.

Volume #3(G)(V): Withdrawal of an Application: costs

61. As Executive Chair, Linda Lamoureux, has noted, "a withdrawal of an application alone will rarely, if ever, be a sufficient basis on which the Tribunal will make a cost order." Given that access to justice is central to the mandate of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, "a cost award shall not be granted merely because a withdrawal has caused another party inconvenience. In the case of a withdrawal, there must be sufficient evidence that the Applicant has engaged in a course of conduct that is unreasonable, frivolous, vexatious, or is in bad faith." (see: 16-002272 v Aviva Insurance Canada, 2017 CanLII 39578 (ON LAT), at para 15).

62. The distinction herein is that the Fictitious Respondent was not a lawful party and all of the steps it took were nullities predicated on dishonesty. At the very least, SNIC was required to take decisive and active steps to respond to this NOM #8 and communicate with the Appellant and Tribunal. It failed miserably. It was clearly not "good faith" and certainly a breach of its fiduciary duties. Ergo, it was and is "bad faith".

Volume #4: Conclusion

63. Enforcement is not within the jurisdiction of the Tribunal (see: McGrath v. Ontario (Superintendent Financial Services, 2010 ONFST 9; section 19 of the SPPA.)[38] Any monetary orders herein, relating to SABS, can only be enforced against SNIC (see: Shinozaki). A certified copy of the Tribunal's decision or order in this SNIC Proceeding may be filed in the Ontario Superior Court of Justice by the Tribunal OR a party and on filing shall be deemed to be an order of that court and is enforceable as such (see: section 19(1)).

64. The two adages are apropos herein: "There is never a wrong time to do the right thing"; and "Better late than never".

65. While this costs submissions is solely focused on SNIC's conduct since the filing of the NOM #8 in mid May 2024, the LAT Order on June 5, 2024, the Non-Party Admission by TDGIC on June 6, 2024, and missing the deadline pursuant to the LAT Order of June 11, 2024, whilst remaining in "radio silence" mode", SNIC's conduct must be measured against its overarching fiduciary duties to the Appellant. SNIC has not extended the courtesy to the Tribunal and the Appellant to provide the name of a representative that may be in a position to file a DOR on its behalf and by when. SNIC continues to leave everyone in the dark. With particularity to this SNIC Proceeding, there is nothing that precluded a representative from filing a DOR and, by letter, advising the Tribunal that SNIC would be, through a lawyer licensee representative, taking steps to remedy the unfortunate state of affairs regarding the steps taken by the Fictitious Respondent, and its position relating to NOM #8. SNIC had a duty, consistent with its fiduciary duties, to consent to this order and not put the Tribunal to unnecessary and unreasonable expenses, as justice is not free, along with not wasting the Appellant's time in a frivolous, bad faith, unreasonable and vexatious manner. The above cases makes it clear that failure to comply with an Order from LAT, especially with no adequate explanation, may amount to unreasonable conduct and therefore could attract cost consequences. Ultimately, it goes without saying that all Counsel need to ensure that they are in compliance with the Orders issued by LAT.

66. As Nieuwland, albeit an unauthorized representative for a Fictitious Respondent put the Appellant's character at issue, the Appellant will respond once and once only. The reason for the same is that the Tribunal is not unfairly influenced by that kind of irrelevant one-sided type of attack. Unfortunately, the Appellant cannot seek costs against a Fictitious Respondent and Nieuwland. Moreover, neither the Fictitious Respondent nor Nieuwland are being served as they are both not "parties". The Appellant notes section 8 of the SPPA: "8. Where the good character, propriety of conduct or competence of a party is an issue in a proceeding, the party is entitled to be furnished prior to the hearing with reasonable information of any allegations with respect thereto. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 8". The Appellant direct SNIC, so it does not engage in the same type of issues that distract from the real issues and contrast with section 2 of the SPPA and section 64 of the Legislation Act. The Appellant cordially directs the Tribunal to Appendix #1 and Appendix #2, and the Tribunal may read the full extent of those decisions at their leisure.

67. However, like SNIC failing to notify the Tribunal in an honest and forthright fashion, beyond remarkably, neither was the LSBC. For ease of reference, the Appellant directs the Tribunal and SNIC to Appendix #3 which is a copy and paste of the motion (which was consistent with the LSBC's pleadings in the McLean

v. LSBC action and JRPA later challenge) that the LSBC filed in April 2017 which failed. After some happenstance and luck, the Appellant learned that the LSBC, while misleading the Court for years, may have committed a RAM Dump which is the most intrusive and unlawful types of searches and seizures and requires a warrant. The Appellant made a FOIPPA (BC) privacy request in June 2021 and in October 2021, the LSBC's counsel was required to produce the same which was an 8.49 GB evidentiary trail of criminal conduct by the LSBC and others. Unsurprisingly, the LSBC is approximately a month away from its disbandment. It appears that the SNIC and the LSBC have some common traits in that they both do not notify tribunals and courts when they are required to do so. What is even now more ironic is that the nullity filings by TDGIC on April 11, 2024, there was a unknown reference, to the Appellant, to a request made by PWC LLP (without any evidence of how it was sent, when it was sent, and/or how it was delivered) regarding "accounting requests". The Tribunal can take judicial notice of the fact that the LSBC's auditor is PWC LLP. It raises the interesting question as to why the "bait and switch" from SNIC to TDGIC and the stubborn, without justification of law, position of SNIC to not reclaim its position as the lawful respondent party. The Appellant could go on but he felt compelled to face that issue once – and once only so he is not prejudiced by the "record of proceeding", albeit a nullity, containing those filings.

68. It raises the obvious question: what does that have to doe with SNIC's fiduciary obligations in a dispute resolution proceeding under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act, and having this SNIC Proceeding governed in accordance with SABS? The question answers itself.

69. That being said, the Appellant is the first to admit that while running a litigation practice that contained a plethora of successful decisions on behalf of his clients, and then later himself (albeit not in the practice of law), he lacked maturity, discipline, and an understanding of what it meant to be a well-rounded lawyer and how to run a successful practice of law. He owns it. He knows it and he has to live with that regret. While he had walked away into the business field (which allowed him to move from Vancouver to Toronto to reunite with his now Spouse and Individual Policyholder) before the disbar by the LSBC (where he was not served but beyond the pale here) and continued that path up and until the Accident, there was no place for the willful misrepresentations by the LSBC in tribunals and courts over a ten year period, and there is no place for it by SNIC by omission. In a court action, it is grounds for "solicitor-indemnity costs" and herein, unfortunately as $1,000 will not do much monetarily to SNIC, it is grounds for the "max". The Appellant's hope with this highly particularized and detailed legal analysis of awarding costs against SNIC is that it is motivates to be compliant specifically and generally.

70. As the Fictitious Respondent did not oppose the relief sought in NOM #8, it is also deemed to have admitted that the evidence was true and correct, and not at issue. Speculating on motives and intent or the underlying reasons as why this error occurred only bog down from the merits of this SNIC Proceeding which is why the Appellant has signed this submission and affirmed further evidence to provide comfort to the Tribunal that he is solely focused on having the merits of this SNIC Proceeding determined in the most expeditious, just and cost-effective manner (see: Dadi v. Aviva). However, SNIC needs to be discouraged from this type of conduct post the order in NOM #8 so that, if it wishes to have a representative and is able to defeat some of the other remedial relief being sought by the Appellant consequential to the Fictitious Respondent so the remainder of this SNIC Proceeding is governed in accordance with the Governing Statutes, Governing Regulations and LAT Rules.

71. All of which is respectfully submitted on Monday, June 17, 2024

Appendices

Appendix #1: Decision of The Honourable Mr. Justice Grauer as he then was (all in the same court file cited by Nieuwland in his nullity motion filing on behalf of TDGIC on April 11, 2024)

McLean v. Law Society of British Columbia, 2015 BCSC 1431

[93] Accordingly, I am of the view it is appropriate to grant the orders sought in paragraphs 7 and 8 of the May 13, 2015 application. I am making the following orders:

1. The plaintiff is not required to produce his personal phone to the Law Society pursuant to the Rule 4-43 order, and
2. Restraining the Law Society from entering or attempting to enter the plaintiff's residence pursuant to that order.

Appendix #2 : Decision of The Honourable Mr. Justice Grauer as he then was (all in the same court file cited by Nieuwland in his nullity motion filing on behalf of TDGIC on April 11, 2024)

McLean v Law Society of British Columbia, 2017 BCSC 987

4.1.2 Mr. McLean’s application for summary judgment

[65] As I see it, and as the Court of Appeal intimated, it is important to distinguish between the different questions that arise from Mr. McLean’s claim.

[66] The first question is whether the Law Society exceeded its statutory jurisdiction when it granted the investigation order; in other words, was the order ultra vires the Law Society? If so, it must be set aside.

[67] The second question is whether, assuming that it had jurisdiction to grant the order, the Law Society nevertheless acted improperly in the manner in which it granted the order, giving rise to procedural unfairness, so that the order must be set aside and, presumably, remitted to the Chair of the Discipline Committee. On this aspect, Mr. McLean relies upon: the failure of Mr. Riddell to give reasons for his decision to grant the order; the absence of information under oath to support the decision; the fact that the order was granted without notice to Mr. McLean; the absence of procedural safeguards (such as would, for instance, be available in an application for an Anton Pillar order, to which Mr. McLean likens the investigation order); and the conflict of interest that arises from what Mr. McLean terms a solicitor-client relationship that existed between Mr. Bussanich and Mr. Riddell.

[68] If either of those two questions were resolved in favour of Mr. McLean, then it would follow that the steps taken by the Law Society in carrying out the order were unlawful. The question of consent becomes immaterial.

[69] The third question is whether, assuming that the Law Society had jurisdiction to grant the order and did not act improperly in doing so, the Law Society nevertheless carried out the order in a manner that constitutes an unreasonable search and seizure. This turns primarily on the question of consent.

[70] The third question is one that could indeed be the subject of a civil action for damages, but I am satisfied that it is not one that can be decided on this application. This is because I would be obliged to weigh the evidence concerning whether and to what extent Mr. McLean consented to the investigation of his records and the copying of his computer contents.

Appendix #3: Filed NOA by the LSBC in April 2017

The filing by the LSBC in S-1410056 on April 2017

[23] On the morning of June 4, 2014, the plaintiff emailed Mr. Bussanich again and stated that his office was wide open for the Law Society to investigate. The plaintiff provided Mr. Bussanich with the password to his computer and stated that the investigators were at liberty to copy any documents they wanted [24] On June 4, 2014, the investigators attended again at the plaintiffs office. The investigators took two forensic copies of the HARD DRIVE on the plaintiff’s office computer. They also took copies of paper files provided by the plaintiff.

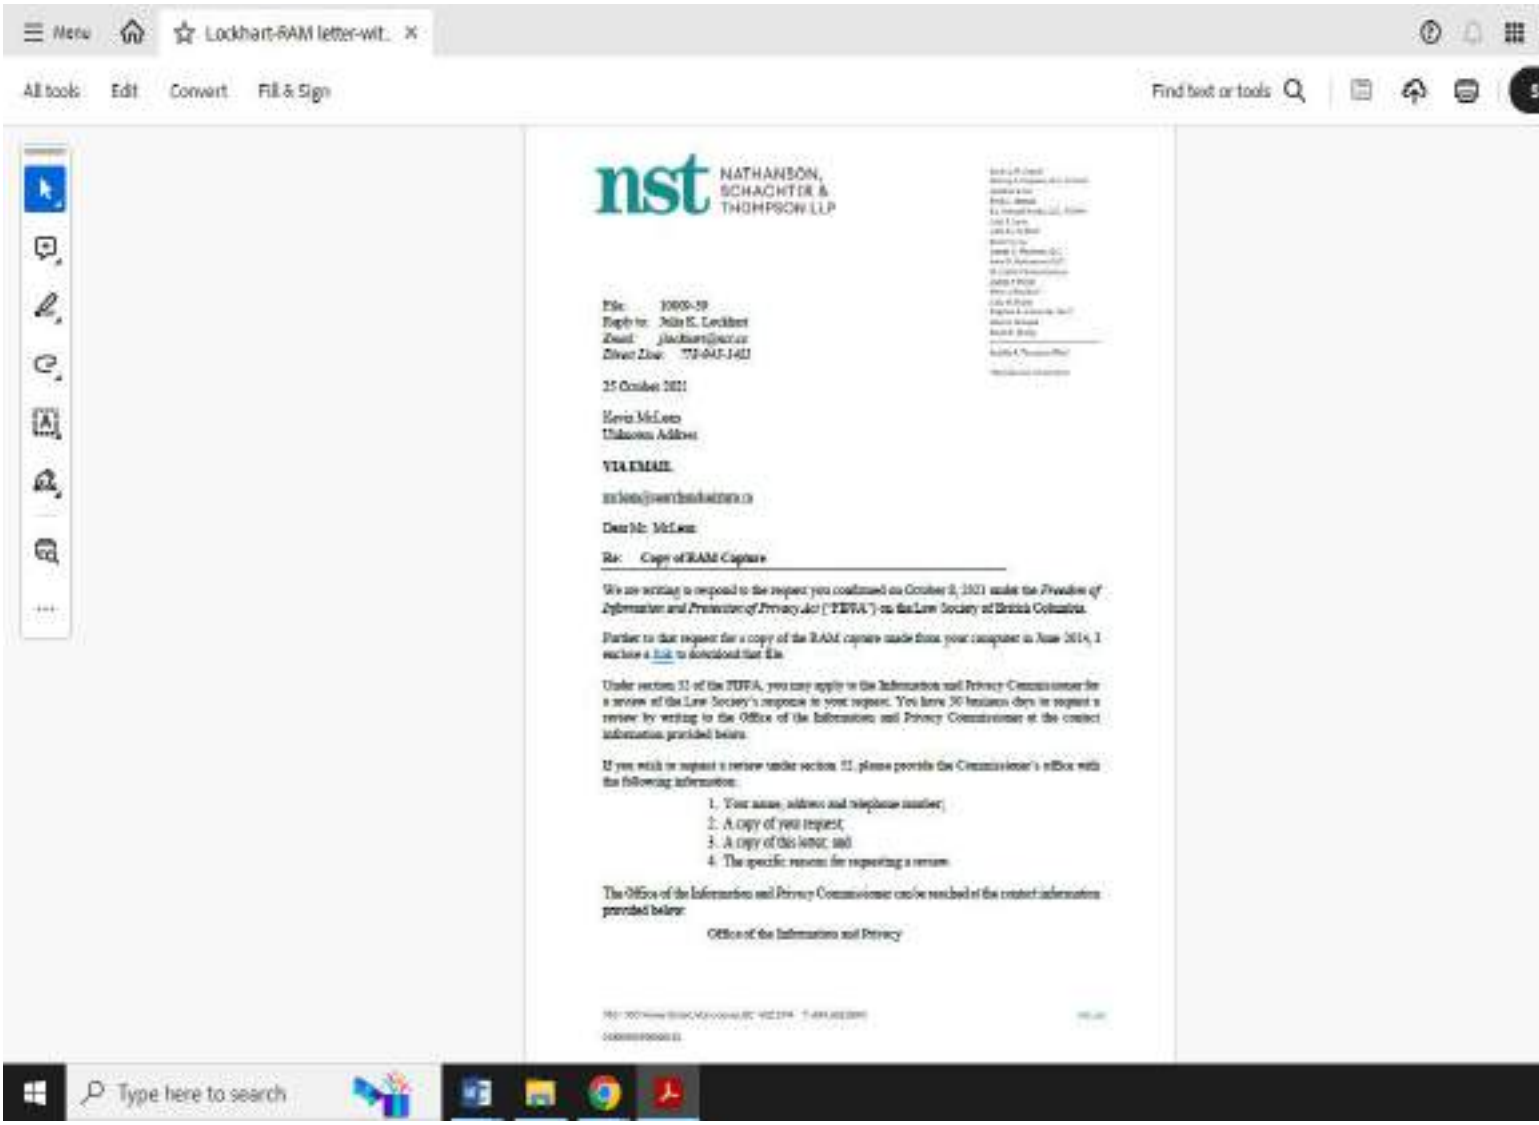
[25] Nobody from the LSBC reviewed the HARD DRIVE until the conclusion of a process set out in the Rule 4-43 order for the adjudication of the plaintiffs request that certain documents be excluded from review. As it turned out, the plaintiff initiated but did not pursue the exclusion request and an independent adjudicator eventually dismissed the request.

[26] The plaintiff did not provide to the investigators all the records they requested. He was cited for failing to comply with the Rule 4-43 order.

Appendix #4: LSBC compelled to provide access to the Appellant of the “Concealed RAM Dump”



Appendix #5
Re: Distinction between "forensic copying" of a hard drive and a "RAM Dump" of a "computer" Distinction between forensic copying and RAM dumps in the event the Tribunal is unaware as it took the Appellant months with forensic experts to understand the distinction between the "hard drive" and "RAM" and what a "RAM Dump" entailed when measured against forensic copying. (nota bene: the issues of the LSBC attempting to enter the Appellant's home are now moot by the passage and proclamation of "Royal Assent" of Bill 21 (also known as the "Legal Professions Act, SBC 2024 c. ___) (nota bene: should the Tribunal wish to have further details, the Appellant can provide on a confidential basis.)

RAM Dumps:

(i) Memory is not storage;

(ii) Not magnetic;

(iii) Volatile;

(iv) RAM cannot be copied;

(v) Native Images from RAM dumps are not Forensically Verifiable a RAM DUMP and RAM CANNOT be COPIED due to the:

a. Usage of CPU before Dump;

b. Volatile Memory in constant flux

c. Creating a RAM DUMP changes the evidence – no write BLOCK

d. Imaged CANNOT be validated.

ENDNOTES

[1]"Insurance" means the undertaking by one person to indemnify another person against loss or liability for loss in respect of a certain risk or peril to which the object of the insurance may be exposed, or to pay a sum of money or other thing of value upon the happening of a certain event, and includes life insurance (see: s.1(1) of the UDAP Rule);

[2]UDAP Rule, 1(1)(v)(c): "Contract of insurance" means:(c) for a contract of insurance not referred to in (a) or (b), has the meaning ascribed to "contract" in s. 1 of the Act; see: section 1(1) of Insurance Act (Ontario): "contract" means a contract of insurance, and includes a policy, certificate, interim receipt, renewal receipt, or writing evidencing the contract, whether sealed or not, and a binding oral agreement;

[3]See: SPPA, section 1(1) definition of license: registration or similar form of permission required by law;

[4]See: Insurance Act, ss. 279 (incudes does not exclude); see: section 3(1) of SABS which includes the Spouse of the Individual Named Insured (Artopoulos)

[5]As defined under UDAP Rule, ss. 1(1): "Claimant": "means a person who claims statutory accident benefits or who otherwise claims any benefit, compensation or payment under a contract of insurance,

[6]See: SNIC Response on January 25, 2024

[7]"Automobile Accident Benefits Service (AABS) Claim" means an application to the LAT pursuant to s. 280(2) of the Insurance Act seeking resolution of a dispute involving statutory accident benefits.

[8]As it relates to the statutorily deemed contractual relationship between the Insured Person (Applicant) and SNIC (#397). In reference to the statutorily deemed or imposed contractual relationship between the Applicant and Respondent (SNIC), the Insurance Act does not distinguish at law (distinction without a difference) between named and unnamed insured persons when an Insured Person is a Spouse of the Individual Policyholder and, namely herein, the Unnamed Spouse was driving his Spouse on an emergency basis for a personal and confidential issue, and was rear-ended in the course of those "spousal duties" or "spousal efforts". Put another way, the Appellant met the definition of an Insured Person on a variety of independent grounds including being the occupant (driver) and Spouse along with not being at any kind of fault for the accident (i.e. such driving conduct by some drivers is so reckless that it renders the coverage null and void irrespective of their named or unnamed insurance status. There was and is certainly an argument that the tortfeasor by running a red-light by way of left hand turn from St. Clair onto Spadina avenue, and then rear ending the Insured Automobile at high velocity up a slight hill may be such conduct that would have or may render her outside of her coverage with Pembridge but that is yet to be determined and no relevant herein). There is a surfeit of a law on the concept or doctrine of a "third party beneficiary" as it relates to, inter alia, certain individuals being foreign to the contract (i.e. not privies) but seeking recourse under such a contract as a "third party beneficiary" in cases such as privacy breaches where an unknown class of persons is identified as potentially being subject to prejudice thereunder and potential benefit therein by paying out of damages. It is a rare concept and often fails but nonetheless worthy of noting for distinction purposes. Under the Insurance Act (and SABS by implication or expressly, and/or a combination of both), the Legislature was unequivocal and unambiguous in its language that not only was the Appellant deemed an "Insured Person" but he was deemed to be a party to the Insurance Policy as if he had provided consideration thereunder at the time of contract formation (on or around April 2018) and the ongoing "consideration" in the form of monthly premiums and other requirements thereunder (albeit many unknown to him at the time of contract formation or thereafter).

[17](see: Rule 19.2: A request for costs may be made to the Tribunal in writing or orally at a case conference or hearing, at any time before the decision or order is released)

[18]After providing notice to the Tribunal, after May 2, 2024, that Nieuwland's representations, exclusively on behalf of his client in TDGIC, were false in fact and at law, the Appellant filed his NOM #8 in mid May 2024. Amending the style of cause to be correct has been granted on numerous occasions with non-regulated entities (see: Black Swan, Shinozaki, Grzesiak). Ontario Tribunals routinely grant requests to amend the names of corporate respondents to reflect their correct legal names.[18] [18] Between an injured person and an insurance company, it is the insurance companies that have been found to be the sophisticated corporations (see: Mosa). In the SABS context, the insurer whom an insured person has recourse is liable for under the Schedule (see: Insurance Act). Motions to correct the naming of a corporate respondent to its factual and legal name are granted when reviewing the allegations in the pleadings as it pertains to the relationship between a claimant and respondent (see: Tab 10, page 267, Ziemendorf v. Toronto Police Services Board, paragraph 8 therein). The point is even more forceful when considering the good faith and fiduciary duties owed by this SABS Insurer to an Insured Person who was not at any fault in the Accident and has suffered immensely (see: Beasley, Transamerica, Dervisholli et al). [18] Moreover, it is only SNIC and Primmum that operate under the business or trade name of "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex".The overriding issue in this LAT Proceeding is whether SNIC has discharged its good faith duties pursuant to the law of contract (see: Bhasin), and its fiduciary duties to the Appellant (an Insured Person) (see: Beasley, Dervisholli, Transamerica, De Rosa, and Jia) and complied with SABS. It is quite obvious for context purposes that SNIC has not even when analyzing the Forged Nurse Signature in the OCF-18 from April 20, 2023. However, for the purposes of this costs submissions, this type of "stonewalling", "delaying" and "royal runaround" has to be sanctioned. Section 21.1 of the SPPA is an exception to the principle of functus officio (see: Tan, 2023 ONPSDT 9) and a codification of he common law setting out the circumstances under which admin Tribunals may revisit their decision or orders for the purpose of amendment or alteration (see: State Farm v. Ramalingam, 2008 ONFSCDRS 22). Under the LAT Rules, as this Appellant has learned by way of decision of Vice Chair Logan, there is no right of reconsideration for not having the style of cause amended if the decision of the initial decision maker is NOT a "final decision". Therefore, it is only section 21.1 of the SPPA that can be advanced with the necessary evidentiary record to demonstrate the error. Rule 17 goes further than section 21.1 of the SPPA, and provides more discretion, "The Tribunal may at any time: Correct a typographical error, an error of calculation or similar error in its order or decision; OR clarify an order or decision that contains a misstatement or ambiguity, which is not substantive and does not change the order or decision." Herein, the orders of any decision makers do not change anything substantive in those decisions per se but rather ensure consistency with the Governing Legislation and Governing Regulations. None of those decisions or orders finally dispose of this Appeal so the only route is section 21.1 of the SPPA. Now with the evidence correctly before the Tribunal with respect to the distinctions between SNIC and TDGIC in Ontario, it is merely the amendment of a slip of "two words" by strikethrough and deletion.

[19]When using the word "sworn" it is interchangeable with "affirmed"

[20](see: The Tribunal may order that a party making a request orally under Rule 19.2 shall provide written submissions to the Tribunal and all other parties within 7 days of that oral request. A submission on costs shall set out the amount being requested.).

[21](see: A submission on costs shall set out the reasons for the request and the particulars of the other party's conduct that are alleged to be unreasonable, frivolous, vexatious, or in bad faith.)

[22]The remainder of the evidence therein in the body of the affidavit #21 is more relevant to a Reg 664 award as opposed to a Rule 19 costs award.

[23](see: I will continue to distinguish between SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY as the "SABS INSURER" or "SNIC #397" or words and definitions to the similar effect)

[24](see: I will continue to reference to TD General Insurance Company as "NON-SABS INSURANCE COMPANY" (or "TDGIC #353")

[25]I filed and served my request pursuant to subsection 21.1 of the SPPA (the "Error Correction Request" or "SPPA Section 21.1 Request") which has sought the following: correction to the name of the respondent in previously issued decisions and orders of the Tribunal pursuant to the statutory authority under section 21 of the SPPA along with all other sections of the SPPA that are relevant to the definition and interpretation of "parties", representatives et al including references to the Legislation Act, Insurance Act and SABS; and in favour of the above and to avoid continuing advancing my request for the outstanding information for how, inter alia, a misapprehension was created upon the Tribunal, regarding which email (or communications orally) and/or individuals inadvertently misrepresented (in writing or orally) to or created the misapprehension upon the Tribunal that the "respondent" [sic] was TDGIC [SIC], I am content to have the name of the respondent corrected by the amendment of two words:

~~TD General~~ Insurance Company to SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

[26]Now shown to me on page 5 to 11 is a copy of my email from May 2, 2024 which I sent at 8:12 a.m. wherein I asked SNIC to provide me a copy of one of one of the "Spam Faxes" which I denoted in my affidavit #3, which was served on SNIC prior to the filing of this my "Application Of An Injured" and solely served on SNIC as I did not know the name of "TDGIC" at said time in relation to TD Claim #3. Despite my request I did not receive a copy of the same from any of the persons that I requested the same upon. I believe, based upon the lack of response to my request, that an individual on behalf of TDGIC created an misapprehension upon the Tribunal on or around January 13, 2024 and said error must, which is not a legal conclusion but my belief (based on the now loss and damage that I am suffering as a result) be corrected in accordance with the strict requirements (see: "technical deficiency" defined on page 28 of my Exhibit "A"; "technical": according to strict interpretation of the law" and "deficiency": the state of not having something that is needed (i.e. the words of "Security National" in favour of "TD General") of the Insurance Act, SPPA, Legislation Act, Law Society Act, and any associated regulations with said empowering and enabling legislation.

[27](see: NOM #8 Hearing Record, Tab 5 and 7 along with Exhibit "A", page 3 therein which was a "copy and paste" of the "tables" with hyperlinks to those decisions).

[28](see: respectfully submit to the Tribunal that since SNIC agreed and consent to the payment of fines (see: Exhibit "A", page 19, brought by the initial allegations of contravention by the FSRA (formerly the FCSO) against it [SNIC #397], [29]I affirm that my Error Correction Request is NOT a "reconsideration request" like my "reconsideration request" in relation to NOM #5 as the Tribunal's orders and decisions in relation to notices of motions or that of Mr. Nieuwland on behalf of the NON-SABS INSURANCE COMPANY (TDGIC #353) as there were not any "final decisions" made by the Tribunal. I note that in Black Swan, albeit in relation to an HRTO matter, that at paragraph 9 (see: Exhibit "A", page 23), the decision maker of the HRTO, noted that the Tribunal routinely grants requests to amend the names of corporate respondents to reflect their correct legal names. I note that the correct legal name of the SABS* INSURER herein is "SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY" (see: including but not limited to: Insurance Policy, correspondence in my listed and attached documents to my filed Appeal on December 24, 2023; denial letters filed on or around January 9, 2024 pursuant to the requirement of the Tribunal in order to process my Appeal; my notices of motions (#1 to #3 filed in January 2024; Mr. Karat's email to me on January 23, 2024 wherein he represented to me that he was assigned as the "ADR" to handle this LAT Dispute while representing that he was 'representing the SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY; and the Karat COS, evidencing his service of the cover letter (see: return address of SNIC Markham with the logo in the upper left hand corner of "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex") and SNIC Response which he signed and filed whilst referencing the insurance company of "SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY)I note that TDGIC and SNIC are both "corporations" but only one can be the "insurer" (see: Insurance Act, s.1(1)) as it relates to SABS. As I have claims for monetary orders in this SNIC Proceeding, I note the language in Black Swan which the HRTO stated, "The error in the respondent's name...is a barrier to effective enforcement of the orders..." While I am not raising the issue herein as it relates to an abuse of process under section 23(1) of the SPPA, I note that Mr. Nieuwland, which was astonishing to me at the time of his representation to me on May 2, 2024, that "SNIC and TDGIC are one and the same". Since that is his position, and his a lawyer licensee with the LSO (which requires him to be honest in any representations or submissions made to the Tribunal), I respectfully submit to the Tribunal that there is no prejudice to TDGIC to correct (amend) the errors in previously issued orders or decisions of the Tribunal. In this regard, I also note that the issues faced by the applicant and then judgment creditor after the issuance of a decision and order relation, in Shinozaki v. 2252419 Ontario Inc., 2013 HRTO 2023 (see: Exhibit "A", page 26). The applicant therein attempted to have her order enforced by the sheriff but was advised by the sheriff that the Tribunal's order could NOT be enforced (see: paragraph 5, sentence 3 therein; Exhibit "A", page 26) unless it was amended to reflect the respondent's corporation name as opposed to a registered business name. As SNIC is the only corporation (SABS* INSURER: SNIC #397) that has paid me benefits by ETF, pursuant to my exclusive consent to SNIC #397, to do so and I have NOT consented to any other insurance company paying me in said form or otherwise, I re-affirm my previously affirmed evidence that I would not be able to have a monetary order enforced, as it relates to SABS, against "TDGIC #353"; rather, I could only, in good faith and honesty, seek to enforce any monetary order pursuant to SABS against SNIC #397. I am only seeking remedies against SNIC in reference to the Insurance Act and SABS (see: Exhibit "A", page 27 citing paragraph 12 of Shinozaki).

[30][30] I again affirm that by not correcting the errors in the "respondent's name", it is creating prejudice and difficulty for me in updating my various health practitioners, professionals et al, as to the status of this SNIC Proceeding as there is a differently named corporation (TDGIC) than the underlying documents in TD Claim #3.

[31][31] As of today's date, which was somewhat of the impetus for this affidavit herein, I was queried by two separate "professionals" who have provided services to me and continue to provide services to me (whilst I continue to attempt to resolve this LAT dispute), with words to the effect of whether any favourable decisions against TDGIC would have any effect in our ongoing professional relationship (i.e. whether a decision to remove me from the MIG against TDGIC as opposed to SNIC would authorize of any treatment plans or payment for their services through HCAI in the future). Moreover, I have had recent confirmation from one prospective health practitioner that their clinic could not submit any treatment plans without referencing the name in the Insurance Policy and any discrepancy between the same would not be sufficient for it. As such, before I embark on the same or provide necessary updates to my current health practitioners (which are aware of the issues involving SNIC), I kindly request that the "technical deficiencies" are corrected forthwith.

[32]SNIC, pursuant to Reg 283, section 2.1(1) and (2) provided the Applicant with an "application" (OCF-1) for benefits (see: Reg 283, section 1, "benefits") "in late September 2022. On October 13, 2022, the Appellant, pursuant to section 2(4) of Reg 283, used the Application provided by SNIC delivered a "Completed Application"[32] to SNIC. On October 13, 2022, by receipt of Completed Application via fax to it, SNIC complied with section 2.1(5) of Reg 283. SNIC was the first insurer (and only insurer) to receive the Appellant's Completed Application and, as the "First Insurer", was responsible for paying benefits pending the resolution of any dispute to which insurer was required to pay benefits.[32] 90 days from SNIC's receipt of the Completed Application was January 12, 2023. As of January 13, 2023, SNIC was permanently prohibited from disputing its obligation to pay benefits under section 268 of the Act. SNIC has never purported or actually relied on section 3(2) of Reg 283. From October 13, 2022, SNIC has never "redirected" the Appellant to "another insurer". At all material times after the Accident, SNIC, pursuant to section Reg 283, ss. 2(3) provided the Application and other appropriate forms that included the insurer's name (SNIC), mailing address (SNIC Markham and SNIC Burlington), telephone and fax number (416 Fax Number and 905 Fax Number).From October 13, 2022 to April 5, 2023, SNIC paid the Appellant, to the Appellant's Beneficiary Bank Account which the Appellant tendered in signed fashion exclusively to SNIC in early October 2022, the sum of $1419.98 for "Medical and Rehab Benefits" pursuant to completed OCF-6 forms. SNIC never gave notice to the Appellant (Insured Person) under section Reg 283, ss. 4(1) and, by law, SNIC never gave notice under section 3 of Reg 283 to other insurers, and was prohibited from disputing its obligation to pay benefits under section 268 of the Act. The Appellant filed his Appeal on December 24, 2023 and served SNIC on December 24, 2023. The remainder of the material facts leading up to May 2, 2024 have been painstakingly put before the Tribunal in NOM #8, #10 and #11. Despite Nieuwland, on behalf of the Fictitious Respondent, signing and filing three motion submissions (April 11, 2024), a case conference brief, and attending a pre-hearing conference on behalf (May 2, 2024) and re-filing (May 22, 2024) of the Fictitious Respondent's submissions to the Appellant's NOM #6, all predicated on his misrepresentations (by omission or commission) to the Tribunal since January 2024, Nieuwland, exclusively on behalf of the Fictitious Respondent, made the Non-Party Admission in relation to NOM #8.[32]On May 2, 2024, Nieuwland orally represented to the Tribunal (VCP) that "SNIC and TDGIC" were "one and the same (the "One & Same Misrepresentation"). The "One & Same Misrepresentation" was contradicted by the public decisions, under "Enforcement Actions and Warnings" wherein the FCSO confirmed for the public that SNIC had a separate insurance license number of 397 and the Fictitious Respondent had an FSRA registration number of 353.[32]"The Appellant was only able to unequivocally disprove the One & Same Misrepresentation by fortuitousness. [32] [32] Nieuwland also represented, whilst solely acting for TDGIC, to the Tribunal (VCP), that "This is how we always do it" in relation to the party issue of TDGIC being substituted for SNIC during a LAT proceeding (the "Unilateral Party Sub Misrepresentation").

In relation to the "Unilateral Party Substitution Misrepresentation", the Appellant, found the "Syed Decisions" where Nieuwland acted for Security National Insurance Company (Respondent) in an initial hearing[32] and reconsideration hearing[32] before Adjudicator Evans. The reconsideration decision as per Adjudicator Evans was released in July 2023, and the LAT proceeding therein was commenced in 2020[32]. There is no record of Nieuwland ever representing the Fictitious Respondent before the Tribunal. [32] the tribunal has made rules under section 25.1 of the SPPA dealing with pre-hearing conferences, the tribunal may direct the parties , but not "non-parties", to participate in a pre-hearing conference to consider a variety of issues (see: 5.3(1) (a) to (f) of the SPPA). The corollary is that any direction or order by the Tribunal regarding non-parties to attend a pre-hearing conference and in relation to obligations of a non-party that masqueraded as a "party" are null and void as it relates to a "non-party" or "non-parties". A member who presides at a pre-hearing conference may make such orders as he or she considers necessary or advisable with respect to the conduct of the proceeding, including adding parties.[32]. TDGIC never sought to be added as a party therein or be added as a party with an order that its previous filing were admitted by ay of "nunc pro tunc" order.

Non-parties are NOT entitled to reasonable notice of the hearing, which includes "written hearings", of the Tribunal: section 6(1) of the SPPA.

[33]The distinction had an important difference when considering that one Mr. Ronald Spiegel in the early 2000's where he was able to carve out a niche as a "public adjuster" and avoid any sanctions but when he was grandfathered in as a paralegal, he suffered fines and sanctions as a paralegal in the hundreds of thousands. In effect, those outside the regulatory reach of the LSO could not discipline these "agents", "ADR types" or "Swiss Army Knife types" (without any pejorative implication as many non-lawyers and non-paralegals are highly intelligent, experienced and contribute well, either as a public adjuster or claims adjuster, or even in the context of being an ADR individual (see: the distinction in Mosa wherein Mr. Morrow as the "ADR Specialist" and the adjuster for BelairDirect was a different female individual). Most, on first glance, will argue that non-licensees, who are engaged in the unauthorized practice of law or unauthorized provision of legal services can suffer the pain, stigma and loss (temporal, financial, emotional et al) of section 26.1 of the LSA. However, that requires the LSO to expend resources to file a petition with the ONSC, seek injunctive relief, and proceed with a hearing of the matter. Impecuniosity of these individuals or inability to pay the fines, and then the court costs to the LSO, may be an issue. Like the Tribunal, LSO's resources are finite and valuable, and while it has a book and asset value in the nine figures, it cannot be spending its resources going after each and every unauthorized legal practitioner. However, herein, Nieuwland has represented, which, with due respect, it is difficult to attribute much credibility to his representations herein (perhaps idiosyncractic to this SNIC Proceeding) considering his resiling, on behalf of the Fictitious Respondent, of his not only unlawful position as per his DOR (January 30, 2024) but one that is a nullity. Timing is everything with nullities. Had Nieuwland taken heed of the Appellant's reference to the law in NOM #4, #5, #6 and #7, NOM #8 would not have arisen. Moreover, NOM #9 (the COI preliminary motion albeit difficult to determine at this stage as the validity of those orders from VCP (with no castigation of her) as TDGIC cannot comply with orders when it is no longer "on the books" as the "respondent party".

34In Fidler v. SunLife Assurance Company of Canada, 2006 S.C.C. 30, the Supreme Court of Canada adopted the following paragraph from 702535 Ontario Inc. v. Lloyd's London Non-Marine Underwriters 2000, 184 D.L.R. (4 th) 687 (Ont. CA) at para 29: The duty of good faith also requires an insurer to deal with its insured's claim fairly. The duty to act fairly applies both to the manner in which the insurer investigates and assesses the claim and to the decision whether or not to pay the claim. In making a decision whether to refuse payment of a claim from its insured, an insurer must assess the merits of the claim in a balanced and reasonable manner. It must not deny coverage or delay payment in order to take advantage of the insured's economic vulnerability or to gain bargaining leverage in negotiating a settlement. A decision by an insurer to refuse payment should be based on a reasonable interpretation of its obligations under the policy. This duty of fairness, however, does not require that an insurer necessarily be correct in making a decision to dispute its obligation to pay a claim. Mere denial of a claim that ultimately succeeds is not, in itself, an act of bad faith.
[36]An insurer is under a duty of good faith and fair dealing. A breach of the duty of good faith is independent of and in addition to the breach of a contractual duty to pay the insured's loss. It is an actionable wrong, which can support a claim for punitive damages: Whiten, at paras. 79. A breach of the duty to act fairly and in good faith gives rise to a separate cause of action that is distinct from the cause of action founded on the express terms of the policy and that is not restricted by the limits in the policy. Hence it may result in an award of consequential damages distinct from the proceeds payable under the policy: Ferme Gérald Laplante & Fils Ltée v. Grenville Patron Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (2002), 2002 CanLII 45070 (ON CA), 61 O.R. (3d) 481 (C.A.), at para. 78. Statutory conditions in an insurance contract imposing limitation periods for "a claim under [this] contract" or an action "under this contract…in respect of the loss or damage to person or property" do not apply to a bad faith claim. A bad faith claim is not a claim for indemnity under the contract: Dundas v. Zurich Canada, 2012 ONCA 181 (CanLII), 109 O.R. (3d) 521, at paras. 46-49.
[37]word "vexatious" was used four (4) time as follows: [11] In its written hearing submissions, the respondent raised a procedural issue. The respondent submits that since the applicant is deceased and that no estate trustee has been appointed, the application is not legally viable as there is no authority on which it can proceed. Further, the respondent argues that, in the circumstances, the application was not properly commenced. As such, the respondent requests that the application be dismissed on the basis that it is vexatious.[17] The arbitrator found that the insured's claims had become vexatious as there was no legally viable way of pursuing them, and he indicated as follows on page 2 of the decision: Mr. Toma has been deceased for more than two years. A deceased person cannot pursue accident benefits. A legally appointed representative, either an executor or an estate trustee can "stand in the shoes" of the deceased and pursue a claim for accident benefits. No such person exists in this claim, nor, apparently, are there any plans to appoint a trustee. There is some question in my mind as to whether the dispute resolution process was properly commenced, given the lack of an executor or estate trustee. Costs[30] Pursuant to Rule 19.1 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, 2023, costs may be ordered where a party has acted unreasonably, frivolously, vexatiously, or in bad faith.[31] In its written hearing submissions, the respondent sought costs against the deceased applicant in the amount of $1,000.00. The respondent submits that the application is vexatious and should never had been commenced given that no estate trustee was appointed. The respondent argues that at the very least, the application should have been withdrawn. The respondent indicates that it has incurred legal costs to defend the application against a party that does not have any legal standing or existence.[32] The applicant's counsel did not respond to the respondent's request for costs in the reply submissions, despite having the opportunity to do so. As such, the applicant's counsel's position is unknown.
[33] It is well established that the test to award costs represents a high bar. I find that the respondent has not demonstrated that the applicant's conduct attracts costs and I note that neither the deceased applicant nor an estate trustee acting on his behalf pursued this application. While I acknowledge that the respondent has been inconvenienced as a result of the applicant’s counsel’s actions, I have not been directed to any authority to support that the Tribunal has the power to make an order for costs against a legal representative.[34] Accordingly, I decline to make an order for costs against the deceased applicant.

[38]Section 19 of the SPPA requires an entered order, with notice by the enforcing party against a party that, in fact and at law, owes the monies (or risking an entire nullity of the entire proceeding) with a correct order at the time directed against the insurer that the insured person has recourse or vice versa. The alternative is that a party that is owed monies cannot have said order corrected by the Ontario Superior Court (Sheriff) but has to return to the Tribunal to correct that which was required to be correct at first instance (see: Shinozaki).

URGENT FILING TO THE DIVISIONAL COURT

REQUISITION FOR URGENT REGISTRAR OBLIGATORY COMPLIANCE AND FACILITATION OF ELECTRONIC UPLOAD ACCESS BY WAY OF INVITATION TO THE APPLICANT IN HIS CASE CENTER ACCOUNT, NOW ACCESSIBLE THROUGH MYONTARIO ACCOUNT

SUBJECT: Requisition for Mandated Electronic Document Upload Repository Access for the Litigant Pertaining to Motion Number 3 (NOM #3), filed November 17, 2025, inclusive of the Factum (November 18, 2025), Motion Record (November 19, 2025), and Proof of Service (November 21, 2025), all having been duly served, filed, and fees remitted, and which is returnable on December 3, 2025.

TO THE LOCAL REGISTRAR at the Divisional Court, Osgoode Hall, 130 Queen Street West, Room 174, Toronto, Ontario, M5H 2N5 (the "Divisional Court"). Telephone: (416) 327-5100.

I. DEMAND FOR ACCESS TO THE ELECTRONIC UPLOAD REPOSITORY

1. I REQUIRE Access to the Case Center electronic upload repository is necessitated forthwith for the effectual prosecution of this Judicial Review and Peremptory Application (JRPA) Proceeding, in strict conformity with the inherent procedural obligations imposed by the Rules of Civil Procedure. The denial of timely access constitutes a significant impediment to the preparation of submissions in limine, thereby risking a contravention of the foundational tenets of procedural fairness. The efficacious administration of justice is predicated upon the full and transparent disclosure of all relevant acta intended for the perusal of the presiding judicial officer, a prerequisite which is manifestly compromised in the absence of the requisite login credentials and upload functionality.
2. I REQUIRE AA facilitative invitation link to the Case Center system is commanded immediately in consequence of the Confirmation of Motion (November 24, 2025), the aforementioned document having been duly delivered and filed, and containing the explicit stipulation that:
    1. "Parties are responsible for ensuring that all materials in the above list are (a) filed with the court and (b) uploaded to Case Center by the applicable deadline in Rule 4.05.3 of the Rules of Civil Procedure."
        1. The lack of this requisite invitation ipso facto renders the Applicant non-compos mentis regarding the full electronic court record, which is fundamentally inimical to the requirement of procedural equality, particularly when the forthcoming motion hearing necessitates precise reference to the uploaded documentary evidence for the consideration of the Bench.

II. LEGAL AND PROCEDURAL IMPERATIVES

A. COMPLIANCE WITH FILING REGULATIONS AND THE JUDICIAL RECORD

a. It is confidently asserted, subject to verification through the requested access, that all requisite documentary “materials,” as meticulously delineated in the aforementioned Confirmation of Motion, have been deposited with the Chancery of the Divisional Court, the temporal ambit of such deposit spanning either the antecedent period of November 2024 to February 2025 or the current calendar month of November 2025. This deposition satisfies the fundamental jurisdictional requirement for placing the acta of the proceeding before the tribunal.

b. Notwithstanding the recent amendment to the Rules of Civil Procedure under Rule 4.05.3 relating to the Toronto Region—whereby the Registrar is primarily responsible for the uploading of all filed documents with the singular exception of the Compendium—an ineluctable entitlement to be fully apprised of the entire contents uploaded to Case Center is maintained for the benefit of the presiding justice concerning Motion Number 3. This right is critical to ensure that the presiding justice is endowed with the complete acta of the matter, thus mitigating the potential for judicial misapprehension or the denial of natural justice occasioned by an incomplete record. This procedural prerogative is buttressed by the principles enunciated in Long v. Redbranch Investments Ltd. (2018, BCCA), which meticulously references the procedural divergence extant between Ontario and its Western counterparts (specifically British Columbia and Alberta), and, by extrapolation, the foundational necessity of considering new facts or the discovery of fraud arising subsequent to the issuance of an impugned order, consistent with the foundational legal principle embodied in Rule 59.06(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure. The inability to examine the uploaded documents precludes the Applicant from effectively preparing an argument in limine on December 3, 2025, concerning the totality of the record which is expected to be placed before the Court.

B. NULLITIES, IRREGULARITIES, AND THE INTEGRITY OF PROCEEDINGS

c. Ineluctably, non-compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure is generally presumed to constitute an irregularity and not an absolute nullity. Nevertheless, pursuant to the foundational principle codified in Rule 2.01, those litigants whose conduct evinces non-compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure are obligated to make an application and obtain an order for relief to regularize the proceedings, thereby discharging the onus placed upon them to cure the procedural defect. No such application for exculpatory relief has been advanced by the defaulting or non-compliant Respondents, which failure further compounds the irregularity. While the Divisional Court is possessed of the inherent judicial discretion to dispense with strict adherence to the Rules of Civil Procedure, the same imperative exists that the Respondents must take proactive and discernible steps to obtain such exculpatory relief; their passive posture is legally untenable. This is consonant with the application of Rule 59.01, which demarcates the various pronouncements of the court, distinguishing a formal order, which generates legally enforceable obligations, from a mere compulsory attendance requirement, a judicial direction, or other preparatory judicial pronouncements that do not possess the same enduring legal effect. Furthermore, for a judicial order to achieve legal status, notwithstanding its validity ab initio from the time of pronouncement (subject to specified exceptions), a formal order must be drafted by "parties." At the current status quo ante, the only litigant actively participating remains the Applicant, pending the formal and requisite "delivery" of a Notice of Appearance by the Respondent Insurance Companies or the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO).

d. Albeit contestation as to the undertaking of subsequent procedural steps is absent, it is emphatically asserted that these subsequent acta were executed devoid of any cognizance concerning the operative irregularities, as evidenced by the draft order for Motion Number 2 (February 14, 2025) and Requisition Number 8, wherein operation was predicated upon the prima facie presumption that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies had duly filed their respective Notices of Appearance. Consequently, a question of mixed fact and law arises in Motion Number 4 regarding whether constructive knowledge of these irregularities ought to have been possessed at the juncture of undertaking subsequent procedural steps, requiring a determination of the litigant's necessary mens rea in taking those steps. This is an issue demanding resolution on a balance of probabilities by the presiding motion judge during the scheduled written hearing on December 3, 2025; such a determination will have a direct and significant bearing upon the legal validity of all subsequent procedural events.

e. Rule 2.01 addresses not only the singular remediation of orders but also the rectification of "steps" and "documents" constituting the acta of the proceeding.

i. In this JRPA Proceeding and Motion Number 3, Rule 2.01 of the Rules of Civil Procedure seamlessly dovetails with other cognate rules, particularly Rule 38.07(2), which explicitly references the receipt of "steps" and "documents" and the negation thereof via the prohibition imposed upon the Divisional Court when Respondents have not formally "delivered" their Notices of Appearance, thereby vitiating the notice of those subsequent acta.

ii. Given the post hoc ascertainment (late October 2025) that the Respondents had neither filed nor delivered any Notices of Appearance, and contingent upon the resolution of the issues scheduled for December 3, 2025, a judicial determination is necessitated that all "steps" or "documents" received by way of notice by the Respondent Insurance Companies, the LAT, and the AGO are susceptible to being set aside, nullified, invalidated, or rendered of no force and effect ipso facto and ab initio. Such procedural invalidation would be effective subsequent to November 27, 2024, thereby restoring the status quo ante prior to the unauthorized participation of the non-compliant Respondents.

iii. Furthermore, as the request for a Case Management Conference by the LAT on December 3, 2024, was demonstrably advanced by a non-"party"—the LAT never having served its Notice of Appearance (the purported service by Ms. Maciel on November 27, 2024, being deficient as it was not transmitted to the Applicant's email address for service)—the request for case management conference was not made by a "party" as stipulated by the rules. Consequently, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore was legally precluded from assigning the JRPA Proceeding for case management pursuant to Rule 77.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. A corollary of this intricate procedural predicament is that The Honourable Madam

Justice Shore was precluded from the ultra vires assignment of the entire proceeding and its attendant steps to her own judicial oversight, as contemplated by Rule 77.06 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. While the assignment of a particular judge is conceivable, this requires the bona fide delegation of authority by the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ), the Associate Chief Justice of the SCJ, or potentially an unidentified Local Administrative Judge (LAJ), but not a Regional Senior Judge. The extant facts are insufficient to substantiate that Her Ladyship was so assigned in limine to January 7, 2025; such an inference is further undermined by the communication emanating from Ms. Lawrence of the Divisional Court which stipulated that approvals for case management are subject to the discretion of "the case management judge," a judicial role distinct from that of the Chief Justice of the SCJ, the Associate Chief Justice of the SCJ, or a LAJ of the SCJ courthouse. Ergo, the approval of a request for case management, which must only be initiated by a "party" subsequent to the filing of a "First Defence," is not co-extensive with, or equivalent to, an assignment to a "particular judge." As a Local Administrative Judge and a Case Management Judge (CMJ) are distinct judicial functionaries, and a LAJ is prevented from assigning a particular JRPA proceeding to himself or herself as this would constitute an impermissible delegation of power, all steps taken subsequent to this procedural lapse are deemed null and void on account of being irregularities subject to attack by Motion Number 3, with facts and fraud arising or discovered after the steps, documents, or orders were so taken, made, or issued, thereby rendering all subsequent directions coram non judice.

iv. Conclusively, access to the Case Center system is required, as an indefeasible right inheres, for the purpose of discerning with precision which documents have been duly filed and entered into the court file (c.f. Rule 4.05.3 (Subparagraph (1) versus Subparagraph (2))). This is a matter of paramount importance to ensure that the Applicant is fully cognizant of the exact digital record that will form the basis of the impending judicial deliberation.

v. Furthermore, access is necessary to facilitate proactive preparation in the event that some or all Respondents "deliver" a Notice of Appearance (albeit not forthwith), thereby potentially entitling them to file materials concerning the JRPA Application and acquire locus standi. Should this circumstance materialize, the Applicant may be thereby compelled to interpose opposition to the relief sought in Motion Number 3 and/or to the notion that Motion Number 3 be adjudicated by written submission alone, which would necessitate an oral hearing on Wednesday, December 3, 2025. This latter scenario would compel the Applicant, and any potential participating non-Respondents or non-parties (if a Notice of Appearance is filed with proof of service), to access Case Center. The system is mandated for all participating persons or parties, and the reference to uploaded documents is requisite for the presentation of effective oral submissions, a requirement that cannot be met when access is denied.

vi. Moreover, the upload of the Compendium corresponding to Motion Number 3 is both an entitlement and a requirement, with said document being near completion at the moment of this Requisition's issuance. This Compendium is required to be uploaded by 2:00 p.m., three days preceding the hearing date of December 3, 2025. Given that the Rules of Civil Procedure do not stipulate "business days," a plain reading dictates that the Applicant's mandated uploading deadline is 2:00 p.m. on Friday, November 28, 2025. The delay in providing access directly infringes upon the ability to meet this crucial temporal imperative, causing demonstrable prejudice to the Applicant's procedural rights.

vii. The Confirmation of Motion is unequivocal in its reliance upon documentation that has been duly filed outside the immediate scope of the Motion Number 3 Motion Record, reinforcing the necessity of full access to the acta of the JRPA Proceeding.

viii. Access to Case Center through the issuance of a formal invitation is primarily predicated upon the statutory mandate governing Judicial Review and Peremptory Application proceedings, irrespective of any potential revision to the Divisional Court JRPA Guide subsequent to July 2025—a revision ostensibly suggested by the inspection of metadata therein. Given the inherently summary nature of JRPA proceedings, which are required to be conducted strictly upon the extant record, and considering the antecedent perfection of the JRPA Application on December 13, 2024, or, ad extremum, on December 16, 2024, the Registrar's office was thereto obligated to effectuate a "listing for hearing," thereby affording any participating litigant the prerogative to solicit the approximate date of the hearing for the JRPA Application, an obligation that was not discharged.

ix. This procedural obligation concerning the required listing remains res integra, and the manifest non-compliance with, or the existence of an ostensible, unpublished practice by the Divisional Court to circumvent, Rule 68.05 of the Rules of Civil Procedure is ultimately de minimis in consequence; every scheduled hearing or conference necessitates that a party assumes the responsibility for uploading all filed documents prior to the proceeding, subject only to the limited exception currently prevailing in the Toronto Region. Notwithstanding the delegated responsibility of the Registrar in the Toronto Region to effectuate the upload of core materials, the Compendium remains a distinct and mandatory submission that must be initiated by the litigant, even in circumstances wherein the motion is unopposed. Therefore, given the temporal exigency herein, the upload of the Compendium for Motion Number 3 remains a paramount obligation, the documents contained within being those upon which the Applicant has unequivocally signified reliance by way of the Confirmation of Motion. The failure to receive the invitation effectively nullifies this procedural entitlement and duty.

x. Furthermore, any modifications embodied within the Divisional Court JRPA Guide, which does not possess the status of "source law" and remains subservient to the Rules of Civil Procedure, the latter being themselves hierarchically subordinate to applicable statutes pursuant to the doctrines of paramountcy or legislative hierarchy, cannot operate either retrospectively or retroactively to divest vested procedural rights (lex prospicit non respicit), especially in relation to applications advanced under Rule 2.01 (curing irregularities), Rule 38.11 (setting aside originating process), Rule 59.06 (orders made without mens rea or with fraus), and other operative sections of the Courts of Justice Act (CJA) et al. These fundamental procedural safeguards remain immutable, notwithstanding subsequent administrative changes to the Divisional Court's procedural guidance.

3. An invitation link to Case Center is required forthwith, as an indefeasible right of access has existed since the judicial review application was officially filed, commenced, or brought. This position is supported by the Ontario Superior Court of Justice Guide to Judicial Review (Divisional Court) [the "Divisional Court JRPA Guide"], which explicitly states:

"After an application for judicial review has been brought, an email will be received for registration for Case Center and the uploading of materials. There is no fee to utilize Case Center" (See: Page 8 of 9). This written confirmation establishes a procedural expectation and right that must be respected.

4. Access to the Case Center electronic upload repository is immediately required, as a strict procedural obligation exists for the Applicant to upload the Compendium corresponding to Motion Number 3, and failure to facilitate this access constitutes a breach of the Court's implied duty to ensure the procedural efficacy of its own electronic systems.

Note: For the purposes of this Requisition, "registrar" denotes the Registrar of the Divisional Court or Court of Appeal, or a local registrar of the Superior Court of Justice, as the circumstances necessitate.

All of which is respectfully required and requisitioned to the Divisional Court Registrar for her immediate attention and subsequent action pursuant to Rule 4.08 and other cited "source laws" that are binding upon the Registrar, who is a creature of statute.

Note: Parties are responsible for ensuring that all materials in the above list are (a) filed with the court and (b) uploaded to Case Center by the applicable deadline in rule 4.05.3 of the Rules of Civil Procedure.

I estimate that the time required for the motion, including costs submissions, will be "not applicable" minutes for the moving party*(ies)* is "not applicable" minutes for the responding party*(ies)* (nota bene:

not applicable because the responding parties, distinct from Respondents, have not served, filed, with proof of service, Notices of Appearance. The determination of the Applicant's Notice of Motion Number Three is predicated upon a hearing in writing. It is of paramount significance to observe, in limine, that the Respondents have not tendered a First Defence and have failed to deliver their respective Notices of Appearance (*NOA*s). This critical antecedent procedural default engages a precise mechanism within the Rules of Civil Procedure. Pursuant to the mandatory stipulations enumerated in Rule 38.07(2)(a) to (c) of the Rules of Civil Procedure, the Respondents are ipso facto precluded from the filing of any material whatsoever pertaining to the Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA) Application. This prohibition extends, as a necessary corollary, to the instant Notice of Motion Number Three. Moreover, in the absence of a remedial order of the Court, which has not been duly sought or secured at the juncture of this Confirmation of Motion, the Respondents are further barred from receiving subsequent procedural steps or documentation within this JRPA proceeding. Consideration must also be given to Rule 37.12.1(5), which, by invoking the preclusionary mandate of Rule 38.07(2)(c), prohibits the Responding Parties from filing requisite documentation for motions in writing. Consequently, the non-delivery of *NOA*s renders untenable the subsequent filing of: (1) A consent to the motion; (2) A notice affirming non-opposition; (3) A motion record, inclusive of a factum entitled "factum for a motion in writing," or any corresponding agreement to have the matter adjudicated in writing; or (4) A notice of intent to make oral argument, along with any supporting material intended to be relied upon. The failure to "deliver" the Notices of Appearance is demonstrably the foundational element that vitiates any entitlement to "filing" material. The JRPA proceeding has been fundamentally impacted by a series of alleged ultra vires actions. Were the Respondent Insurance Companies to deliver their *NOA*s at this belated juncture, such a remedial action would constitute a tacit affirmation that all antecedent procedural steps taken by them were voidable irregularities, or, more likely, absolute nullities foundational to the entire JRPA Proceeding. This affirmation would inherently extend to the following: (1) The request for a case conference by the License Appeal Tribunal (LAT) is rendered null and void; (2) The compulsory case conference mandated by Madam Justice Shore is rendered null and void; (3) The resultant failures of the Respondents to serve and file application records and facta by the designated deadline of January 13, 2025, were substantively defective; (4) The Applicant's Notice of Motion Number One (NOM #1) and Notice of Motion Number Two (NOM #2) stand unopposed; and (5) All previous case conference appearances by the Respondents, particularly those conducted without the Applicant's attendance (under notice and objection, yet involving subsequent discoveries of fraud and material facts), are demonstrably null and void. Furthermore, the LAT's inability to "deliver" its NOA is substantiated by Ms. Maciel's acknowledged failure to provide a sufficient proof of service thereof. To the extent that the Respondent Insurance Companies subsequently delivered their *NOA*s, the resultant legal effect would maintain the unopposed status of NOM #1 and NOM #2. This action would compel a return to the status quo ante, effectively serving as an admission that all steps, documents, and/or orders executed subsequently were, at the very least, irregularities warranting being set aside, or, more probatively, were nullities that vitiated the underlying foundation of the JRPA Proceeding. Rule 38.07(2)(d) presents a distinguishing factor pertaining solely to the hearing of the JRPA Application itself; nevertheless, it necessitates the procurement of leave from the presiding justice. Moreover, while section 9(4) of the JRPA establishes a clause paramount to the Rules of Civil Procedure, its overriding effect is restricted exclusively to procedural requirements for the appearance of the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO). Consequently, the Respondent Insurance Companies are obliged to seek judicial leave for the filing of a factum and an application record in the primary Application. This exigency exists against the backdrop of the LAT's dereliction in its duty to file the Record of Proceeding forthwith, or at all. Furthermore, the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies are concurrently required to seek leave to serve and file their responsive documentation to NOM #1 and NOM #2. Such a motion for leave must be buttressed by sworn or declared evidence demonstrating the requisite mens rea (or lack thereof) which led to the initial non-opposition of the aforementioned motions. Finally, the AGO, in a welcome communication dated January 30, 2025, has formally confirmed that participation in this matter will not be undertaken.]

INTRODUCTION AND ADOPTED DEFINITIONS
I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence, the cumulative import of which necessitates an expeditious and judicious resolution by this Honourable Court. I tender my sincerest appreciation in limine for your valuable time and considered deliberation concerning this material correspondence and its contemporaneous enclosures, including the designated Part 2 of the Motion Record and the in force Divisional Court JRPA Guide. Acknowledging the finite, yet unequivocally valuable, resources at the Court's disposal, it is incumbent upon me to confirm that I have devoted an immense quantum of time to the exhaustive research and methodical analysis of the complex legal issues herein delineated, and their appropriate application to the intricate factual matrix of this file, thereby ensuring maximal efficiency in the judicial process. This effort is not merely about procedural compliance, but about safeguarding the integrity of the judicial review process itself, which is a cornerstone of public confidence in administrative law. The function of judicial review, as the primary mechanism for the supervisory jurisdiction of the superior courts, is to ensure that administrative bodies, such as the LAT, operate within the boundaries of their statutory mandate and adhere to the fundamental tenets of natural justice. This proceeding, therefore, is fundamentally resolution-oriented, seeking judicial pronouncements that define the legal boundaries of procedural regularity and compel adherence to the governing Rules. This is necessary to obviate the need for protracted and superfluous litigation stemming from the initial, profound procedural irregularities, and to restore the Applicant's right to an unblemished review of the administrative decision-making process.

The resolution sought in this correspondence is fundamentally resolution-oriented, aiming to secure judicial pronouncements that define the legal boundaries of procedural regularity and compel adherence to the governing Rules. This is necessary to obviate the need for protracted and superfluous litigation stemming from the initial, profound procedural irregularities. Furthermore, and in the interest of terminological precision and economy of expression, I formally adopt all definitions, whether explicitly, indirectly, or directly, contained within previously exchanged correspondence and documents forming the record, including but not limited to the Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules") and the Judicial Review Procedure Act (the "JRPA").

The present correspondence operates with a tone that is very formal, yet simultaneously gracious and fundamentally resolution-oriented, maintaining a strictly cognitive and non-emotional posture throughout its articulation, thereby ensuring the discourse remains immutably anchored in the objective reality of legal and procedural fact. This approach is paramount to facilitating the prompt administration of justice.

Status Update and Definitive Conclusions Regarding Extra-Judicial Proceedings

The Locus Standi of the Case Conference and Procedural Mens Rea

As previously communicated, please find Part 2 of 2 attached (the "Attachment"), which contains supplementary evidence integral to the Applicant's position. Subsequent to my prior communication, I have secured confirmation via the specific auto-reply received from the representative of Tribunals Ontario (the "Tribunals"), Ms. Maciel, who was the individual charged with the attempted service of the Notice of Application (the "NOA") for the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "LAT"). The confirmation of Ms. Maciel's confirmed and indefinite absence, devoid of any stipulated return date for her resumption of duties, precipitates a foundational procedural and legal impossibility regarding the requisite filing of the affidavit of service for the NOA. The successful and demonstrable service of the originating process, evidenced by a properly sworn affidavit, is not merely a formality, but a jurisdictional prerequisite (sine qua non) for the validity of all subsequent procedural steps; the absence of a competent affiant renders this fundamental step incapable of perfection, thus vitiating the procedural chain in toto.

The inescapable syllogism, therefore, is that in the complete absence of an affiant competent to execute the affidavit of service, the request by the LAT for a case conference on December 3, 2024, at approximately 3:30 p.m., was void *ab initio, possessing no legal force or effect from its purported inception. This defect is patent on the face of the record, as the Court could not have been presented with the necessary proof of jurisdiction over the Respondents. Ipso facto, it is axiomatic that no case conferences could have been lawfully or properly conducted in the complete absence of a perfected service record, as the Tribunal lacked the demonstrable jurisdiction over the parties mandated by the Rules at that material time. The consequence of this profound procedural nullity dictates that the legal status quo ante must be rigorously restored, which necessitates completely disregarding the purported extra-judicial proceedings and any directions that may have stemmed therefrom. The inherent flaw is that the Tribunal's action, however well-intentioned, fails the test of procedural vires when measured against the mandatory requirements of the Rules. A proceeding cannot be validly commenced without proof of service on the opposing party, as the court's jurisdiction over that party is derived from the fact of notice. The very concept of procedural fidelity demands this conclusion, as the mens rea (intent/knowledge) of the moving party (the Tribunal) cannot supersede the explicit dictates of the Rules concerning service. Furthermore, allowing directions derived from a void ab initio conference to stand would undermine the principle of judicial economy by injecting uncertainty into the procedural framework, inviting further litigation on collateral issues of validity.

Unavailability of Digital Recordings, Judicial Scrutiny, and Ultra Vires Actions

The substantive relief sought pertaining to the mandatory obtainment of the transcripts from those purported case conferences remains entirely extant, retaining its full legal force, especially as Madam Justice Shore has heretofore declined to judicially acknowledge the existence or content of the same. This judicial non-acknowledgement, while perhaps intended to minimize judicial entanglement in extra-procedural matters, paradoxically creates a record gap that obstructs the Applicant's ability to demonstrate the full procedural history of the dispute. The integrity of the appellate record, which must be complete and accurate, is a fundamental right guaranteed by the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness. The Applicant's right to review the totality of the administrative record, including all interactions that influence the progression of the judicial review, is not discretionary.

My due diligence efforts are continuous and exacting, seeking to compel the production of this essential documentation, which is required for a complete record of review. Furthermore, I have been demonstrably unable to obtain the Compact Disc (CD) copies of the digital recordings, notwithstanding the fact that I remitted the requisite payment to secure this material. The continuous denial of delivery, coupled with the retention of the remitted funds, constitutes a prima facie breach of contract and an affront to the principles of natural justice. It remains sub judice and highly problematic why Madam Justice Shore has ostensibly taken the position that I should be deprived of funds paid and unreturned while simultaneously being denied receipt of the digital recordings to which I am definitively entitled by the executed Request Form Undertaking of October 2025. This situation constitutes an ongoing denial of the right to access the full administrative record under section 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act and is a direct impediment to the Applicant's ability to conduct effective review. The denial of this paid-for evidence, which forms part of the administrative record (however flawed), constitutes an action that may be considered ultra vires (beyond the powers) the authority conferred by the JRPA and the inherent principles of natural justice, specifically the right to a fair hearing and the ability to review the complete record without impediment. A core tenet of procedural fairness is the expectation that the fruits of a legally binding agreement (the undertaking and payment) will be delivered promptly. The denial of the full administrative record for review violates the principle of completeness, which is essential for effective appellate or supervisory review and the constitutional right to access the courts. If a thirty (30) day period was stipulated for the provision of the recordings, that period has demonstrably elapsed without adherence to the procedural covenant, constituting a breach of the undertaking. Furthermore, the argument that these were in camera proceedings does not diminish the need for transcription, as the Applicant retains the right to review the transcript for errors of natural justice, such as procedural unfairness, bias, or the failure to give proper deference. Consequently, further due diligence efforts are continuing with the Office of the Public Complaints Commissioner (the "OPCC") in relation to the compulsory securement of the recordings via Zoom or other verifiable means, ensuring the principle of audi *alteram partem (the right to be heard) is not vitiated by the withholding of the record. The Court's intervention is required to prevent a miscarriage of justice predicated upon the incomplete administrative record, and to compel the immediate release of the paid-for recordings or the return of the funds remitted.

In relation to Rule 4.05.3 of the Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules"), the ultimate deadline for filing is noted to be 2:00 p.m. three days prior to the mandated hearing date of December 3, 2025. This Rule provides a clear procedural timeline which must be rigorously respected. It is further noted that if the Notice of Motion #3 (the "NOM #3") is unopposed de jure (as a matter of law), a compendium is not a mandatory prerequisite per se. Nevertheless, the Motion Record for NOM #3 has been deliberately and sufficiently hyperlinked and meticulously bookmarked in a comprehensive "compendium style," thereby proactively mitigating any administrative burden upon the Court and fulfilling the spirit, if not the strict letter, of the requirement. This proactive submission underscores the Applicant's commitment to judicial efficiency and the principle of good faith litigation. To the extent that a formal "Compendium" is not de jure required due to the presumable absence of opposition—which would necessarily be the case unless the Respondent Insurance Companies and the LAT were able to secure an ancillary order in limine—I shall nonetheless include all filed documentation relevant to the hearing for NOM #3. This approach ensures procedural symmetry, eliminates the potential for a subsequent technical objection based on form, and facilitates the Court's ready access to the relevant evidentiary landscape. The purpose is to make the conclusions of the motion self-evident through the organization of the materials, thereby promoting both judicial and litigant efficiency.

The Retroactivity of Practice Guides and Lex Prospicit Non Respicit

The Divisional Court Judicial Review Procedure Act Guide (the "JRPA Guide") has undergone recent, substantive amendment, specifically in relation to hyperlinking, which necessitates that the in force version at the material time—the version which governed the Applicant's commencement of the JRPA Proceeding—be furnished to the presiding judicial officer. The legal principle of prospective application must govern this dispute, as any contrary finding would violate the right to procedural fairness. I shall presume that NOM #3 will be unopposed relative to the Confirmation of Motion required, and shall incorporate the same into the Motion Record for NOM #3 along with a physical exemplar of the JRPA Guide as it existed prior to the amendments most recently effected in 2025, or as it is demonstrably reflected in the metadata of late June 2025.
The alterations are most noticeable in that the iteration of the Guide to Judicial Review in Divisional Court not in force at the relevant time, represented as of late June or early July 2025, includes new and comprehensive sections regarding judicial case management that appear to impose new scheduling requirements:

"Case Management
Once you commence your application for judicial review or your motion for leave, there are steps that you must take regarding the schedule for the exchange of court documents and any preliminary issues. These steps are set out in the Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings.
All proceedings in the Divisional Court are subject to judicial case management. The purpose of case management is to facilitate access to justice through the timely adjudication of proceedings in the Divisional Court in a cost-effective and proportional manner.
This means that you may receive written directions from a judge and a judge may direct that there will be a case conference prior to the hearing of your motion or application.
As part of this process, the time for the delivery of court materials may be determined or changed as set out in directions from the Court. Other issues may be addressed, as set out in the judge's directions. Directions are normally sent to the parties by email."

It is a self-evident legal conclusion that a non-statutory "guide" is not imbued with retroactive effect, a principle encapsulated by the ancient legal maxim lex prospicit non respicit (the law looks forward, not backward). This maxim is fundamental to the rule of law, ensuring legal certainty and fairness. Procedural rules are generally presumed to be prospective in their operation unless the language compelling retrospective application is explicit and unambiguous, a condition not met by a non-statutory practice guide. While I maintain a vigorous academic disagreement with certain elements of the language concerning case management per se contained therein, the merits of that discursive point are presently moot as the Guide cannot retroactively cure procedural defects in the case at bar, nor impose obligations that did not exist when the proceeding was initiated. I remain firmly of the view that the LAT retains the mandatory, statutory obligation to file the record of proceeding forthwith as dictated by the JRPA prior to the guide's amendments, and this statutory duty cannot be superseded by a practice direction.

Case Management Assignment: The Jurisdictional Flaw Under Rule 38.07(2)

The purported exercise of judicial authority in assigning this proceeding for case management or issuing written directions must be rigorously scrutinized against the jurisdictional pre-conditions set out in Rule 38.07(2) of the Rules of Civil Procedure. This Rule governs the point at which a judge may assign a proceeding for case management and states:

"No Consent

(2) At any time on or after the filing of the first defence in a proceeding to which this Rule may apply, a regional senior judge or, subject to the direction of a regional senior judge, any judge or associate judge may assign the proceeding for case management under this Rule,

(a) on his or her own initiative; or

(b) on the request of a party or on motion if the court requires it." (Emphasis added)

The language of Rule 38.07(2) is clear and dispositive: the power to assign a proceeding for case management, whether on the Court's own initiative or upon the request of a party, is contingent upon the jurisdictional trigger event: the filing of the first defence. As established in the conclusion regarding NOM #2, the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies have demonstrably failed to file their Notices of Appearance (NOAs) or their First Defence. This failure is a matter of irrefutable record, legally corroborated by the adverse inference doctrine arising from their sustained silence and inability to cure the defect nunc pro tunc.

In the context of a Judicial Review Application, the "First Defence" is not merely an equivalent to a Statement of Defence, but is typically marked by the filing of the Respondent's Record and/or Factum, or at a minimum, the Notice of Appearance required under the Rules to acknowledge the proceeding and indicate an intention to defend the administrative body's decision. In this case, the complete absence of any responsive document that constitutes a "First Defence" means the fundamental procedural trigger required by the Rules for the commencement of case management has not been pulled. Consequently, the assignment of this proceeding for case management, and any judicial directions issued pursuant thereto, were procedurally and jurisdictionally flawed, as the prerequisite for assigning the proceeding for case management under Rule 38.07(2) had not been met. While a judge possesses the inherent authority to manage proceedings, this power cannot be permissibly exercised in contravention of a clear and mandatory procedural precondition established by the Rules themselves, which are statutory instruments authorized by the Courts of Justice Act. The action of assigning the proceeding for case management, and subsequently issuing directions based on that assignment, was void *ab initio, as it lacked the fundamental jurisdictional basis of a filed "First Defence." The Rules are designed to provide a predictable framework, and their contravention by an administrative assignment renders that assignment inherently defective, necessitating a return to the status quo ante where the Respondents are required to comply with their basic obligations before judicial management can commence.

Furthermore, even assuming, for the purpose of argument alone, that a proceeding could be assigned for case management without the requisite filing, the subsequent direction by Madam Justice Shore to assign steps to herself as a particular case management judge represents an impermissible assignment of authority. Rule 38.07(2) indicates that a judge may assign the proceeding for case management, which is purely an "assignment for case management" *per se. The assignment of all subsequent steps to a particular judge is typically reserved for the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) or the Associate Chief Justice of the SCJ—the quintessential President and Vice-President of the Divisional Court, an intermediate appellate court. This distinction is critical: the power to administratively designate a judge to take charge of a file for all purposes rests with the designated leadership of the Court, not with the individual judge. The Divisional Court, unlike the general SCJ, is a court of intermediate appeal and its internal administration must adhere strictly to the established protocols for judicial assignment. While a judge may be designated as the case management judge after the initial assignment is properly made, they cannot unilaterally self-assign the entirety of the proceedings to themselves and simultaneously issue binding directions absent the jurisdictional foundation (the filed defence). Madam Justice Shore's purported written directions or order directing a case conference prior to the hearing of the JRPA Application are therefore without lawful procedural foundation, reinforcing the Applicant's argument that these extra-judicial proceedings are a complete legal nullity. The principle of delegatus non potest delegare (a delegate cannot delegate) may not strictly apply here, but the principle that judicial authority must be exercised in accordance with established rules of assignment is paramount to maintaining institutional integrity.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Case Center language within the prior JRPA Guide unequivocally stipulated that I was entitled to an invitation to Case Center upon the initiation of the JRPA Application, an entitlement that was denied in this proceeding:
"Case Center is an online document sharing platform which allows the Divisional Court to electronically view your court materials. The Divisional Court uses Case Center for both remote and in-person hearings. After you have brought an application or motion for leave, you will receive an email to register for Case Center and upload your materials. There is no fee to use Case Center".

The non-compliance inherent in the failure to extend such an invitation constitutes a systemic deficiency in the administration of the file, representing a matter of profound disappointment and, more critically, a denial of procedural parity with litigants whose proceedings were administered correctly. This denial of electronic access has forced the Applicant to engage in more cumbersome, paper-based processes, impeding the efficient acta (acts/transactions) of the litigation. This systemic deficiency is formally directed towards Madam Justice Shore's oversight of the matter. The quoted language under the "Case Management" section of the Divisional Court Guide to Judicial Review, which was not in force at the relevant time, serves as unequivocal proof that the JRPA Guide did not exist in that specific iteration at the time of the dispute, highlighting the fluid procedural environment. Consequently, the procedural irregularities witnessed here are symptomatic of a transition period, and it appears this NOM #3 and the attendant JRPA Application may represent the last vestiges of a "dying breed" of proceedings predating the current, formalized procedural regime of judicial case management. This non-compliance is highly prejudicial, forcing the Applicant to shoulder unnecessary burdens of manual document management and service, a condition not suffered by those whose files were administered correctly via the Case Center platform.

The Hierarchy of Law and the Limits of Inherent Jurisdiction

Upon a balance of probabilities, the quoted language attributed to Madam Justice Shore may well have reflected her desired procedural status quo at the time of the dispute; however, judicial preference does not possess the force of the governing law. I shall therefore make express reference to the legal principles concerning retroactivity versus retrospectivity versus the proactive force of legislative and regulatory instruments, and the impact upon procedural due process.
Legal Hierarchy of Authority:

1. Statute (Judicial Review Procedure Act): Supreme expression of legislative will, binding on the Court and all parties.
2. Regulation (Rules of Civil Procedure): Statutory instrument authorized by the Courts of Justice Act, governing the conduct of all civil proceedings.

3. Practice Direction/Guide (Divisional Court JRPA Guide): Administrative tool to aid in the application of the Rules, possessing no statutory authority to override the Statute or the Rules, and therefore having only persuasive, not prescriptive, force.

It remains my substantiated view that particular provisions of the current Divisional Court JRPA Guide are not perfectly aligned with the Rules, nor with the enabling Judicial Review Procedure Act (the "JRPA" or the "statute"), nor with the foundational common law. The JRPA Guide is not a regulation, is not subsidiary legislation, and does not constitute "source law"; its function is descriptive, not prescriptive, and must yield to the higher sources of law. As such, it is subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure, which are in turn subject to the statute, the ultimate interpretation of which is subject to the common law. In the event of an irreconcilable conflict between the common law and the principles of equity, equity prevails (lex ferenda). Notwithstanding this hierarchy, inherent jurisdiction, while vast and essential for the functioning of the Court, cannot be permissibly utilized to override clear Legislative will as expressed in a statute or its attendant regulations; to do so would be an act of legislative ultra vires and an overreach of judicial authority, potentially resulting in an appealable error and a denial of due process. The reliance on an administrative Guide to retroactively impose case management, particularly one that undermines a mandatory prerequisite of the Rules, is an application of lex obliqua (oblique law) rather than lex recta (straight law). The maxim lex prospicit non respicit confirms that the Applicant's procedural rights must be assessed based on the law and rules in force at the time the cause of action accrued and the proceeding was commenced, not by subsequently amended administrative directions.

Confirmation of Procedural Diligence

I provide the preceding exposition to confirm the rationale for the deliberate omission of hyperlinks in the JRPA Guide references within the Motion Record served upon the relevant Respondents and Non-Respondents, as the inclusion would have improperly directed the reader to the incorrect, amended JRPA Guide. For the Court's convenience, I confirm that the correct, in force version of the Divisional Court JRPA Guide (as applicable at the material time) is enclosed with this correspondence, along with Part 2 of 2 of the Motion Record. This meticulous approach ensures procedural integrity and avoids any possible confusion regarding the governing procedural framework at the material time, whilst maintaining meticulous attention to ensuring perfected service and notice, notwithstanding the potential relief offered by the provisions of Rule 38.07. All such steps are taken out of an abundance of caution and are undertaken without any concurrent or implied waiver of my substantive or procedural rights, which are preserved in toto.

Conclusion on NOM #2 and NOM #3 and Confirmation of Motion Compliance

I note, regarding the Draft Order for NOM #2, that I was operating under the misapprehension, a misconception consistent with my post-March 2025 discovery evidence, that the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies had successfully filed their Notices of Appearances (the "NOAs"). This assumption was demonstrably not the factual status quo, as corroborated by the adverse inference doctrine. Approximately one month has now elapsed since I sought definitive proof or disproof of the filing and service of their NOAs. The complete absence of proffered evidence, combined with the subsequent inability of the parties to file nunc pro tunc (now for then), leads to the unequivocal conclusion that the NOAs were never filed, a finding which must be drawn by the Court in the interest of procedural clarity. Furthermore, the LAT's request for a case conference was procedurally predicated upon the "filing" of a First Defence at the time of the request, a requirement that was not met, as detailed extensively in the analysis of Rule 38.07(2). The Respondent Insurance Companies conspicuously refrained from participating in the process concerning potential preliminary issues. Consequently, in the absence of the filing of a First Defence or any NOA, the Respondents could not have lawfully received notice of any procedural steps or documentation within this JRPA Proceeding, thereby rendering their formal participation severely curtailed.

Moreover, in light of the requirements under Rule 37.10.1 regarding the Confirmation of Motion, I note the following procedural reality:

> "Confirmation of Motion
> 37.10.1 (1) A party who makes a motion on notice to another party shall confer or attempt to confer with the other party and shall, not later than 2 p.m. five days before the hearing date,
> (a) give the registrar a confirmation of motion (Form 37B) by,
> (i) sending it by email to the court office, or > (ii) leaving it at the court office; and
> (b) send a copy of the confirmation of motion to the other party by email."

I submit that, pursuant to the unique and compelling factual acta herein, the procedural landscape was definitively established not merely by the filing and payment for the Certificate of Perfection, but ipso facto by the subsequent, protracted cessation of any formal or active participation by the Respondents. This confluence of events—the complete perfection of the record antecedent to the Listing for Hearing—has consequentially precluded the formal, regulatory definition of opposing "parties" as contemplated by the Rules of Civil Procedure. The extended and considerable delay in the judicial process has rendered the appearance of any putative Respondent moot for the purposes of immediate procedural determination.

The absence of the requisite procedural condition, specifically the lack of a Listing for Hearing, combined with the de facto non-appearance of Respondents subsequent to the completion of the Certificate of Perfection, dictates a finding that the strict application of subsection 37.10.1(b) is presently vitiated and rendered nugatory. It is a fundamental legal principle that the strictures of the Rules cannot be imposed where the factual and procedural basis for their operation does not, in effect, exist. My conclusion, therefore, becomes self-evident: the extant Rule 37.10.1(b) is, under these singular circumstances, utterly superfluous.

The status quo ante prevailing at the material time is demonstrably reflected in the then-operative Divisional Court Judicial Review Practice Guide, a relevant regulatory instrument.
This Guide articulated a precise circumscription on the scope of mandatory judicial case management, unequivocally stating that: "Most motions and applications for judicial review in the Divisional Court are subject to judicial case management." The employment of the quantifying adjective "Most" is, prima facie, determinative; it prohibits an interpretation that would compel the absolute and universal application of case management to all matters.

The judicial pronouncement articulated in the Intake Court Endorsement [sic] dated February 3, 2025, whereby a mandatory and universal proposition was purportedly adduced, exhibits a profound discrepancy with the official and contemporaneous regulatory framework. It remains beyond my comprehension from whence this verbatim quotation was derived, yet the resulting necessity for comprehensive, painstaking research—a dedication spanning from May 2025 to the present date—has been compelling.

I further submit that the highly specialized and erudite registry staff, including Ms. Gentles with whom I became acquainted during the summer and autumn of 2025, would have possessed an intimate and unequivocal knowledge of the content of the Rules of Civil Procedure and the Divisional Court Practice Directions. Their expertise would preclude any assumption that such universal and mandatory language was contained within the official regulatory instruments. Consequently, the application of such a directive, if it purports to impose an obligation outside the express terms of the Rules or the Guide, is ultra vires the foundational procedural authority.

I must respectfully note that, in other less constrained procedural contexts—specifically, those not characterized by such immense delays and the consequent crystallization of the procedural record without opposing participation—I would deem it necessary to challenge the language presently contained within the current Divisional Court JRPA Guide, particularly the provisions effective June 2025. Nevertheless, this reservation of jurisprudential contention is a question for a future determination and is not requisite for the resolution of the matter in limine.

The requirement to "confer or attempt to confer with the other party" presupposes the existence of a legally recognized opposing party who has formally attested to their participation by filing a defence. Since the Respondents are technically in default and have not filed the requisite documentation to become formal "parties" in the sense contemplated by this Rule, the obligation to confer is diminished, though not entirely extinguished. The Applicant's conferral obligations cannot force an unrepresented or defaulted party to engage, nor can a non-response be deemed an agreement to a motion's content.

However, in the utmost spirit of professional courtesy and respecting the Court’s time and the interests of others, I have attempted to confer with the Respondents and Non-Respondents per se through the various notifications provided. I will now proceed to give the registrar the Confirmation of Motion in the required Form 37B by sending it via email to the court office, thereby satisfying the core obligation under Rule 37.10.1(1)(a). This proactive step ensures the Court is fully informed of the Applicant's intention to proceed on the scheduled date, thus promoting judicial efficiency despite the Respondents' procedural omissions. Furthermore, recognizing the interest of the Attorney General of Ontario (AGO) to be heard at the hearing of the JRPA Application, and to maintain transparency, I will provide copies of the Confirmation of Motion to the Non-Respondents, ensuring that all interested entities are duly apprised of the Applicant's intention to proceed on the scheduled date.
Irrespective of the ultimate disposition of NOM #3, transcripts from the case conferences are imperatively required. This requirement stems from the need for judicial oversight and the ability of the Applicant to exercise his right of appellate review; the alleged in camera nature of those proceedings does not defeat the right to a complete record for judicial scrutiny. The principle of accountability dictates that the record must be capable of being reviewed. My Confirmation of Motion shall subsequently follow to ensure a singular, cohesive motion record. My position regarding the lack of opposition to the same will be predicted upon a de *jure conclusion (a legal certainty dictated by the lack of filing and the subsequent lack of jurisdiction for case management), as opposed to a de *facto one (a mere factual observation). The legal conclusions arising from the procedural defaults are clear, and I have now drawn the necessary distinction with the required specificity. Those procedural defaults remain uncorrected without repentance or explanation.

I reserve the unqualified right to rely upon the entire exposition contained in this comprehensive correspondence for any lawful purpose whatsoever, inclusive of the future determination of costs, particularly in the context of the pervasive procedural irregularities and the lack of response from opposing parties documented herein. The systemic failures and procedural defects that have necessitated this extensive motion practice—including the failure of service, the void ab initio case conferences, the denial of the paid-for record, and the unauthorized invocation of Rule 38.07(2)—constitute exceptional circumstances justifying an award of substantial indemnity costs against the defaulting parties to deter future similar breaches of procedural fidelity.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

SUBJECT: Enclosure of the NOM #3 Motion Record with Extensive and Meticulous Hyperlinking and Bookmarking within the Table of Contents, Tabs 1 to 22, with Emphasis Involving the Factum
Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I. TRANSMITTAL OF INAUGURAL COMPONENT SUBMISSION AND EVIDENTIARY AUTHENTICATION

As has been previously and unequivocally undertaken by the undersigned, the instant communication constitutes the formal transmittal of the inaugural component (Part I of II) of the overarching legal submission that will ultimately define the parameters of this proceeding. It is herein confirmed that the appended Factum, which serves as the principal argumentative instrument, has been rendered with a degree of meticulousness that warrants specific judicial consideration and mention, thereby facilitating the subsequent adjudication. The instrument incorporates a comprehensive system of internal hyper-citations that correspond precisely and seamlessly to the requisite Tabs and page enumerations of the voluminous and compendious evidentiary record. This sophisticated referencing structure is deliberately employed to ensure the preservation of analytical continuity and to expedite the comprehension of the judicial officer.
Furthermore, external linkages have been duly embedded within the textual fabric of the Factum, constituting the authoritative and jurisprudential bases for every material legal assertion contained within the instrument. This integration ensures that the submitted materials are not merely assertions in vacuo, but are robustly grounded in the prevailing corpus juris and relevant statutory enactments. The submission, by virtue of this intricate compilation and cross-referencing, renders the critical issues immediately and incontrovertibly justiciable, compelling the necessary judicial attention to the merits of the proposition advanced.

II. FORMAL ATTESTATION OF SERVICE, DEEMED ACCEPTANCE, AND PROCEDURAL ACQUIESCENCE

It is hereby formally and with requisite solemnity attested, as of the current date of execution of this document, that the process of service has been duly and properly effected upon all designated persons or entities, strictly pursuant to the procedural mandates stipulated in the Rules of Civil Procedure and/or any ancillary Rules of Practice governing these proceedings. In furtherance of the paramount principle of full and candid disclosure to the Court, it is confirmed that a multiplicity of various recipients have provided an acknowledgment of receipt, primarily, though not exclusively, in the form of automated electronic replies, which nevertheless fulfill the threshold requirement for proof of delivery.
Crucially, a material assertion, with profound procedural implications, is advanced: None of the designated Non-Respondents, within the established style of cause, have registered any formal controversy, objection, or substantive dispute regarding the facts, assertions, or evidentiary material proffered for the Court's contemplation. This deliberate, calculated absence of opposition or formal rebuttal, ipso facto, gives immediate rise to the necessary prima facie presumption of an implicit and legally binding acceptance of both the efficacy of the service process and the underlying substantive accuracy of the materials transmitted. This non-action is not construed as mere passivity, but rather as an affirmative procedural acquiescence, which compels the deduction that all served instruments are deemed procedurally sound and materially accurate, thereby constituting a fundamental and irrevocable procedural waiver of the right to contest the initial introduction of these materials in limine.

III. SYLLOGISTIC EXTRAPOLATION ON JUDICIAL SERVICE AND DOCTRINE OF AGENCY

Of paramount significance is the formal attestation regarding the demonstrable efficacy of service upon the Honourable Madam Justice Shore, the judicial officer seized of this matter. It is herein confirmed that Mr. Sinnadurai, Esquire, a barrister and solicitor, and his professional assistant, Ms. Kwok—with whom a professional acquaintance has been established since the summer of MMXXV and subsequently—have not, at any juncture, registered any dispute concerning the propriety or the legal sufficiency of service effected upon Her Ladyship through their office. This service, it is syllogistically and logically posited, is validated by the undeniable professional retention of Mr. Sinnadurai as retained counsel to Her Ladyship in the context of this specific file and/or the related proceedings.

The established doctrine of agency dictates that service upon retained counsel constitutes effective service upon the client, and in this judicial context, this principle stands unassailable. Therefore, the antecedent delivery of duplicative documents to the respective Managers of Court Operations for the Divisional Court and the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) at 361 University Avenue—which constitutes the non-Divisional Court location of the Honourable Madam Justice Shore's chambers—is, by this confirmation of counsel's authority, deemed an ultra vires and superfluous administrative act. The independent undertaking of such delivery would be entirely lacking the necessary legal actus or practical utility, as the matter of notification and receipt has been definitively concluded through counsel. The status quo ante—the state of procedural sufficiency—is thereby maintained solely by this singular, effective, and procedurally compliant service upon Her Ladyship's authorized representative.

IV. CONCLUSION AND COMPULSORY PRESUMPTION OF NON-OPPOSITION

In the eventuality that no substantive motions—including, but not limited to, applications for directions, motions to strike, or any request for interim or interlocutory relief that might impede the scheduled progression of this matter—are duly filed by either the Respondent Insurance Companies and/or the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) within the requisite temporal framework established under the Rules for the proper service and subsequent commencement of such applications, then the undersigned shall, in application of established and compelling legal principles, invoke the formidable presumption of non-opposition with respect to Notice of Motion No. 3 (NOM #3). This presumption is not merely ceremonial; it constitutes a definitive legal entitlement, thereby rendering NOM #3 uncontested and ripe for immediate disposition by the Court based exclusively upon the submitted materials.

A certified true copy of the within Transmittal and formal Attestation shall be forthwith remitted to all designated persons or entities as Non-Respondents. This serves as supplemental evidence of service and provides the requisite and explicit notification of the procedural consequence—the inevitable invocation of the foregoing presumptions—ensuring that no subsequent objection pertaining to lack of notification may be entertained in limine by the Court.

Respectfully Submitted,
Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)

SUBJECT: ENCLOSURE OF THE COMPREHENSIVE NOTICE OF MOTION NO. 3 MOTION RECORD, INCORPORATING METICULOUS HYPERLINKING AND BOOKMARKING ACROSS THE ENTIRETY OF THE TABLE OF CONTENTS AND TABS 1 THROUGH 22, WITH PARTICULAR EMPHASIS UPON THE FACTUM, THEREBY FACILITATING JUDICIAL REVIEW AND EXPEDITING THE DETERMINATION OF SUBSTANTIVE MATTERS.

I. INTRODUCTION AND CONVEYANCE OF MATERIAL

The present correspondence functions as the formal instrument effecting the transmission of the Notice of Motion No. 3 Motion Record of the Applicant, Mr. Kevin A. McLean. This extensive evidentiary and argumentative repository has been prepared with scrupulous, even obsessive, attention to detail, manifesting as an exceptionally robust system of hyperlinking and bookmarking meticulously integrated within the electronic document's architecture. This intricate framework specifically traverses the entirety of the Table of Contents and the sequential contents housed within Tabs 1 to 22. Particular diligence has been exercised in ensuring that the Factum contained therein—the central legal submission of the Applicant—is comprehensively and recurrently cross-referenced with maximum precision to the evidentiary material, thereby establishing a foundation of undeniable factual nexus between the legal submissions and the primary evidentiary foundation.

The preparation of this record embodies a paramount commitment to the principles of judicial economy and procedural transparency, which are recognized as foundational pillars of the Canadian justice system. The exhaustive hyperlinking and bookmarking are not merely superficial aesthetic enhancements, but rather a sophisticated, functional mechanism devised to afford this Honourable Court immediate, seamless, and unerringly precise navigability through the voluminous documentation. The meticulous cross-referencing establishes an unimpeachable factual nexus, thereby minimizing the judicial expenditure of time requisite for the laborious, meticulous verification of every single citation and evidentiary reference. This proactive adherence to the highest echelon of best practices in digital litigation manifests the Applicant's profound respect for the scarce resources of the court system and the imperative for an expeditious, reasoned, and procedurally unimpeachable determination. The conveyance of these electronic copies, executed as a profound gesture of bona fides and professional obligation, underscores the gravity attributed to the unimpeded and accurate apprehension of the material facts and the complex legal propositions proffered. The comprehensive, self-contained nature of this document is ultimately intended to facilitate the Court’s judicious review and to ensure the most efficient possible disposition of this judicial review proceeding, precluding any plausible argument of procedural deficiency or informational opacity.

II. OBSERVATIONS ON THE OCCP PORTAL AND FILING REQUIREMENTS

It is noted that the Case Centre functionality within the MyOntario portal has been duly activated in relation to the Ontario Civil Claims Portal (OCCP), signifying a pivotal and necessary evolution in the digitalization of the Ontario superior courts. This transition requires a corresponding elevation in the technical proficiency of all litigants. Consequent upon this institutional transition, necessary steps shall be undertaken forthwith to achieve complete and proficient familiarization with the intricate procedural and operational dictates of the said portal, ensuring a complete and in limine comprehension of all associated technical specifications, security protocols, and upload idiosyncrasies. This is to ensure strict and unimpeachable compliance with all relevant Rules of Civil Procedure, attendant practice directions, and specialized electronic filing requirements recently promulgated by the Chief Justice.

Furthermore, profound recognition is accorded to the stringent temporal mandate governing the uploading of all exhibits, evidence, and authorities intended for reliance during the scheduled forthcoming written hearing. The temporal exigency—an acute and pressing demand—requires that this complete, compiled upload must be consummated approximately three (3) clear, full days prior to the established date of the hearing, specifically by the two o’clock post-meridiem (2:00 p.m.) deadline. This procedural deadline is understood not as a flexible suggestion or an administrative guideline, but as an unforgiving, absolute threshold. Failure to comply with this electronic filing requirement shall ipso facto jeopardize the admissibility and, consequently, the judicial consideration of the requisite documentation, thereby incurring the non-negligible risk of procedural forfeiture and severely compromising the Applicant's substantive rights to due process. Strict, absolute, and demonstrable adherence to this technological and chronological imperative is therefore guaranteed by the Applicant, ensuring no procedural deficiency shall be imputed to this moving party.

III. JURISPRUDENTIAL CONTEXT AND PROCEDURAL IMPERATIVE

A fundamental jurisprudential principle dictates that a party alleging mala fides or fraud must prosecute its claim within the procedural ambit of the specific proceeding where the alleged fraudulent conduct originated or where the resultant administrative decision was rendered. The jurisprudential foundation for the selection of this forum—the Divisional Court via a JRPA Application—rests upon the established doctrine of procedural propriety, which rigorously constrains attempts at a collateral attack upon prior judgments or administrative determinations. This principle ensures the orderly administration of justice by preventing multiple proceedings challenging the same root issues.

Notwithstanding the potential for a more financially lucrative quantum of damages potentially obtainable through a direct petition sounding in the egregious elements of fraud—a course analogous to the specialized fraud litigation procedural mechanisms extant in the Province of British Columbia—the immutable dictate of Ontario procedural law prevails. This jurisdiction mandates that any challenge predicated upon allegations of mala fides, systemic irregularity, or ultra vires conduct (action taken without legal authority), particularly those possessing the highly prejudicial hallmarks of a fundamental vitiation of process (akin to the requisite standard for mens rea in a criminal context, applied here analogously to corporate or administrative intent), must be formally and singularly adjudicated within the original proceeding or via the prescribed mechanisms of judicial oversight, such as judicial review. Therefore, the prevailing Ontario procedure dictates that the instant JRPA Application is confirmed, a fortiori, as the procedurally correct, statutorily sanctioned, and unavoidable legal container within which the documentation requisite to expose and remedy the alleged ultra vires conduct and subsequent fraud must be definitively filed, addressed, and resolved by the superior courts of jurisdiction. The utilization of this JRPA, therefore, constitutes a meticulous adherence to the established lex fori (law of the forum).

IV. IMPLICATIONS OF NON-FILING OF NOTICES OF APPEARANCE

It is again formally underscored, for the benefit of the Respondent parties and the judicial record, that the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) have not yet duly filed and delivered their respective Notices of Appearance in this proceeding. The current procedural posture of these entities is consequently drawn into sharp and unambiguous relief by their sustained omission to comply with the mandated initial filing requirements, as set out in the relevant Rules. This sustained absence constitutes a definitive procedural bar, which may preclude their subsequent participation in the substantive hearing of this matter, unless cured by extraordinary judicial dispensation.

Should these parties subsequently determine that a participatory role is desired, or should they seek to make submissions concerning the Applicant's motion, it shall become incumbent upon them to seek formal leave to appear by way of a substantive, documented motion to the Divisional Court. The grant of such extraordinary relief is profoundly discretionary and is strictly predicated upon a demonstration of compelling merit, the absence of any demonstrable prejudice to the Applicant, and the provision of a satisfactory, exhaustive, and credible explanation for the antecedent failure to adhere to the established filing deadlines. This strict procedural sine qua non is essential for the preservation of the integrity and predictability of the litigation schedule and ensures that the status quo ante—the legal position of non-participation and the attendant consequence of limited rights—is not unilaterally disturbed without judicial oversight. The Court's supervisory function is robustly invoked to ensure that such procedural omissions are addressed rigorously and formally, thereby maintaining the fairness and predictability essential to the just administration of justice.

V. RESERVATION OF RIGHTS AND CONCLUSION

The Applicant hereby expressly reserves all rights to rely upon this specific correspondence, as an unequivocal statement of procedural position and intent, for any and all lawful purposes throughout the remaining tenure of this litigation and any derivative proceedings, including its potential tender as evidence of procedural notification.

As previously articulated, and out of an abundance of caution, Part 1 and Part 2 of the meticulously hyperlinked and bookmarked Motion Record shall follow this transmittal as a separate electronic delivery. This division of files is a technical necessity owing to the maximum size constraints imposed by email servers for single attachments.

Sincere appreciation is hereby extended for the professional consideration and immediate attention afforded to this critical material, the prompt review of which is essential to the timely advancement of this judicial review and unravelling the errors that have spawned from Shore J.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose including the making of the NOM #3 one week ago along with meticulous courtesy notice and service of all documents.

Sincerely,

SUBJECT I: PROVISION OF THE UN-NOTARIZED OR UN-COMMISSIONED AFFIDAVIT OF SERVICE, MULTI-PURPOSED (AFFIDAVIT #28) IN THE WITHIN PROCEEDING

SUBJECT II: AMPLIFICATION OF THE EXIGENT CIRCUMSTANCES NECESSITATING IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATION OF THE APPLICANT'S NOTICE OF MOTION (NOM #3) DUE TO FURTHER ACTS OF FRAUD AND MALFEASANCE CONCERNING PERSONAL PROPERTY AND INFORMATION

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

I. Introduction, Preliminary Adoptions, and Procedural Ratio

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank the Recipients in advance for the time and consideration they dedicate to this correspondence and its attachments, which are incorporated herein by reference and/or inclusion. It is fully appreciated that the Recipients operate with finite, yet profoundly valuable, professional and institutional resources, which is precisely why the Applicant has undertaken immense and fastidious effort to research the salient legal issues herein and apply them comprehensively to the extant factual matrix. This detailed approach is not merely an exercise in rhetorical flourish but an attempt to mitigate any potential confusion, ambiguity, or procedural locus standi challenge that might otherwise burden the judicial process and the Recipients' professional obligations. The central procedural ratio of this document is the demonstration of both diligent compliance, through the provision of the Affidavit, and the immediate, escalating need for judicial protection against the egregious acta being perpetrated. This dual emphasis serves to underscore the Applicant's good faith while simultaneously placing the onus of responsibility for the ongoing crisis upon the opposing parties and the relevant judicial administration.

The Applicant adopts all definitions and conventions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence and all documentation contained within the index to the Applicant's NOM #3 motion record (the "Motion Record"). Specifically, the Applicant provides the following definitions for the purposes of precise legal articulation and consistent terminology throughout the Within Proceeding:

i. Affidavit of Service (the "Affidavit");
ii. Notice of Motion (the "NOM");
iii. Toronto-Dominion Insurance Group of Automotive Insurance Companies (the "TDI");
iv. Further acts of fraud involving my stolen property (the "TDI Karat Theft of this week");
v. Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules");
vi. Courts of Justice Act (the "Act");
vii. McLean v. TDHA et al (the "Within Proceeding");
viii. Privacy legislation, including but not limited to the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (the "PIPEDA"), and all analogous provincial statutes (the "Privacy Regime");
ix. The agent of the Respondent Insurance Companies, as he once was by LSO Directory, engaged in fraudulent impersonation (the "Epstein Cole LLP Client").

II. Substantive Provision of Documentation and Evidentiary Efficacy: The Nunc Pro Tunc Principle

This correspondence serves as the formal transmittal mechanism for the un-notarized or un-commissioned Affidavit (Affidavit #28) pertaining to the service of documentation in the Within Proceeding. The Affidavit is appended hereto and its contents are incorporated in extenso as if fully restated herein, thereby establishing a formal nexus between the act of service and the judicial record. The provision of this documentation, although presently un-commissioned, does not diminish its inherent factual veracity, which is sworn to by the Applicant. It is a demonstrable commitment to transparency and timely disclosure, reserving the right to file the formally commissioned document nunc pro tunc—literally, "now for then"—a judicial doctrine utilized to remedy procedural omissions where the delay is minimal and does not prejudice the opposing parties (of which there are none). The service of this un-commissioned instrument immediately achieves the substantial compliance required for procedural advancement.

The submission of this Affidavit, notwithstanding its temporary un-commissioned status, is effectuated for multi-purposed utility, primarily to establish prima facie evidence of service as required by the Rules, specifically Rule 16, and to delineate the immutable chronological progression of the Within Proceeding. This preemptive submission is critical; it ensures that the evidentiary foundation for the subsequent procedural steps, including the hearing of the NOM #3, is robustly established and available for the Recipients' immediate perusal and instruction.

Furthermore, it pre-emptively addresses and vitiates any potential procedural challenges regarding timely notification of all interested parties, thereby eliminating opportunities for delay based on technical non-compliance which could, in turn, frustrate the ends of justice and exacerbate the Applicant's ongoing prejudice. The Applicant operates on the principle of uberrima fides (utmost good faith), providing evidence even if a formal technicality is pending, to accelerate the judicial process. This transparent disclosure of the completed service acta mandates that the Recipients cannot plead lack of notice or surprise regarding the impending filing of the Motion Record or the substantive arguments contained within the NOM #3.

III. Exigent Circumstances and the Necessitas for NOM #3: The Constitutional Dimension of Harm and Suspicion

The provision of the aforementioned Affidavit is rendered all the more exigent and pressing in consequence of the egregious and subsequent TDI Karat Theft of this week. This new and reprehensible sequence of events involves further unauthorized access, manipulation, and deprivation concerning the Applicant's personal information (the "Personal Information"), confidential information, personal health information, and sensitive personal information. The continuity of such calculated deprivation and unauthorized access necessitates an immediate judicial response, confirming that the issues at the heart of the litigation are dynamically deteriorating and that the Respondents (or their affiliates) continue to exert an unauthorized dominion over the Applicant's private sphere. This phenomenon signifies a distinct escalation in the perceived risk to the Applicant's safety and proprietary interests, moving beyond mere financial damages to encompassing fundamental liberty and privacy concerns enshrined within Canadian jurisprudence and quasi-constitutional documents. The judiciary's authority must be exercised in the affirmative to arrest this negative trajectory and re-establish the lawful status quo ante.

Such unauthorized acta directly and severely contravene the fundamental tenets of privacy legislation, including the PIPEDA and the broader Privacy Regime, and the Applicant's status quo ante rights concerning the inviolability of private dominion. The persistence of these unlawful activities, purportedly perpetrated ipso facto against the Applicant, incontrovertibly furnishes additional, compelling evidence that the underlying issues giving rise to the Within Proceeding are not merely historical infractions, susceptible to remedial measures over an extended timeline, but represent an ongoing and deleterious campaign of malfeasance.

Crucially, while the Applicant maintains a rigorous decorum and refrains from unsupported conjecture concerning the precise orchestrators of the current acta, the timing of this new deprivation is deemed most suspicious. The only established and known facts are: (1) the identity of the initial de facto thief, (2) his unequivocal agency tie to the Respondent Insurance Companies (the TDI entities), and (3) the subsequent, clear instance of impersonation executed by the Epstein Cole LLP Client. These facts construct a compelling circumstantial narrative that necessitates urgent investigation and judicial constraint. This ongoing pattern of conduct exponentially amplifies the irreparable harm that the Applicant continues to suffer, moving the matter from one of ordinary dispute resolution to one demanding extraordinary interim and injunctive relief to prevent the complete erosion of proprietary control over personal data. The very integrity of the judicial process is arguably implicated when parties demonstrate such a patent disregard for proprietary and informational boundaries during the pendency of active litigation, manifesting a brazen attempt to circumvent or undermine the authority of the Court. The Applicant posits that this conduct exhibits a sophisticated extrapolation of prior, lesser infractions into a concerted, high-gravity acta demanding judicial scrutiny sine mora (without delay).

IV. Obligation of Mitigation and Procedural Finality: The Equitable Duty

To the extent that any Respondents or their duly authorized agents possess knowledge of this unconscionable conduct and are vested with the ability, power, or operational control to interdict or cease the same, it is requested with the utmost seriousness that active and immediate steps be taken to mitigate the ongoing harm. This active duty of mitigation is a foundational principle of equity and civil responsibility, extending beyond passive cessation to requiring affirmative measures to claw back or neutralize the unlawful informational control. Any willful omission to act in the face of known, ongoing breaches, particularly where such breaches involve sensitive information protected by the Privacy Regime, shall be considered a compounding factor, evidencing a corporate or institutional mens rea in the Applicant's pursuit of aggravated and punitive remedies. The Recipients are hereby put on formal notice of this escalating exposure to adverse findings predicated upon the doctrine of respondeat superior (let the master answer).

Furthermore, the Applicant affirms the procedural finality regarding the evidentiary status of the service: This Affidavit of Service, to be commissioned shortly and without delay, will be formally and irrevocably included under the remaining tab of the Motion Record, subsequent to which the entirety of the Motion Record will be filed with the Court as such. The function of this filing is to ensure comprehensive documentary submission well in advance of the judicial hearing date. A complete and comprehensive copy of the same, including the duly commissioned Affidavit, will be served concurrently upon the Non-Respondents who have already been served with prior documentation in the Within Proceeding, thereby satisfying the procedural imperative of complete documentary dissemination to all interested parties. This meticulous approach ensures that all parties, whether designated as Respondents or Non-Respondents, possess the full evidentiary context required to prepare for the substantive hearing of the NOM #3.

V. Legal Syllogism and Conclusion: The Mandate of Judicial Alacrity

It is a core syllogism that judicial intervention becomes an absolute necessitas when non-judicial entities engage in a continuous course of action that is ultra vires their lawful mandate and which manifests an inherent mens rea—a guilty or deliberate mind—to disregard the Applicant's entrenched justiciable rights. The deliberate and repeated nature of the alleged infractions, extending into the current week, provides a strong extrapolation that the Respondents' activities are calculated, volitional, and systematic, rather than merely negligent or accidental administrative failures. This animus necessitates a judicial remedy of a protective and pre-emptive nature, rather than a mere compensatory one, to prevent further proliferation of the alleged harm. The Court is therefore urged to consider the protective dimensions of the relief sought in NOM #3 as being paramount to the curative, emphasizing the doctrine of irreversible judicial protection.

The factual extrapolations flowing from the TDI Karat Theft of this week demonstrate that the core relief sought by the NOM #3—which fundamentally concerns the preservation of rights, the cessation of unlawful processes, and the maintenance of evidentiary purity—is not merely desirable, but is now a matter of acute and immediate judicial necessity. The current situation demands an adjudication ex parte if the initial circumstances warrant such protective measures, followed by inter partes proceedings at the earliest judicial opportunity, lest the Respondents benefit from the temporal delay inherent in standard scheduling and thereby consummate their alleged unlawful objectives, rendering the Court's future orders irrelevant.

As this NOM #3 was made this week on Monday, the timing of the fraudulent conduct on Tuesday, November 18, 2025, is a pattern as the service of the Motion Record was thereafter.

The further investigations currently underway concerning the TDI Karat Theft of this week shall, without a scintilla of doubt, serve only to buttress the Applicant's assertions of systemic and ongoing breach, providing granular evidentiary detail to the Court. Consequently, the NOM #3 must be prioritized on the judicial docket to address these accumulating and compounding harms in limine (at the threshold). The failure to expeditiously address the substantive legal issues and the underlying causative mechanisms that permit such ongoing breaches risks the judicial validation of an unlawful status quo and potentially renders the ultimate judgment nugatory—a hollow victory devoid of practical effect that severely undermines the purpose of the Act. This would constitute a profound miscarriage of justice that the Applicant seeks strenuously to avoid through this detailed and urgent correspondence.

The conclusions drawn herein are thus rendered self-evident: the necessity of the NOM #3 has been logarithmically elevated by the Respondents' latest purported acta, placing a definitive and urgent onus upon the Recipients to acknowledge the amplified gravity and inherent procedural complexity of the Within Proceeding. The immediate scheduling and contemplation of the relief sought are prerequisites for restoring the equitable balance between the litigating parties and ensuring that justice is not merely promised, but substantively delivered with alacrity and finality.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

SUBJECT: FORMAL SERVICE OF THE APPLICANT'S NOTICE OF MOTION NO. 3 (NOM #3) MOTION RECORD (Part 1 of 2)

I. INTRODUCTORY PROLEGOMENA AND TRANSMISSION OF ACTA

This formal, definitive, and profoundly weighty correspondence is hereby dispatched in rigorous and unwavering fulfillment of the antecedent undertaking to submit the Applicant's voluminous, complex, and dispositive Notice of Motion No. 3 (NOM #3) Motion Record. This compendium is inclusive of all supplementary documentary and exhaustive evidentiary materials which fundamentally and directly pertain to the above-referenced judicial review proceeding. The intrinsic gravity and the consequential implications of the lis pendens—a matter concerning the rightful adjudication of constitutional liberties within an administrative framework—necessitate this immediate filing to ensure that the matter proceeds with the requisite celerity, procedural rectitude, and an absolute fidelity to the principles of justice that underpin the Courts of Justice Act.

Enclosed herewith is the initial, but by no means exhaustive, instalment, which has been designated Part 1, comprising a consequential segment of the complete and comprehensive documentary compendium. This inaugural submission contains the systematically tabulated and consecutively enumerated materials, the entirety of which culminates with the requisite Draft Order, a pivotal jurisdictional document which is logically situated and clearly referenced at Tab 21 of the overall record. This complete filing, spanning several thousands of pages of documentary evidence, constitutes an articulate, forceful, and irrefutable exposition of the compelling legal position necessitating the immediate and substantive intervention of this Honourable Superior Court to address the systemic failures that have precipitated this extraordinary recourse. The Applicant, in the exercise of his constitutional rights, presents this acta to delineate the failures of the administrative process below.

II. PROCEDURAL ELABORATION AND CURIAL AMENITY

It is a substantive matter of formal confirmation that the entirety of the electronically submitted record has been rendered in a state of reasonably precise and navigable electronic bookmarking, thereby efficaciously optimizing the preliminary organization for immediate comprehension. Nevertheless, and notwithstanding the execution of this initial, indispensable preparatory measure, the immense compilation shall imminently undergo further, comprehensive technical refinement. This subsequent, highly specialized refinement involves the rigorous implementation of internal hyperlinking and meticulous cross-referencing across the entirety of the record. The purpose is to ensure the utmost ease of navigation between the Factum, the evidentiary Statutory Declaration (which can be reduced to an appended affidavit if necessary but provided for temporal purposes in such format due to the urgency and necessary, inter alia, return of property or confirmation of destruction by those who de facto and de jure stole from me tainting this proceeding), and the cited authorities. This technically advanced undertaking is extended not merely as a superficial convenience, but as a deliberate and essential curial amenity, fundamentally designed to construct the most expeditious and intellectually unencumbered intellectual pathway for the Presiding Honourable Justice when engaging with the complex evidentiary matrix. This refinement is a critical mechanism to mitigate the logistical complexities arising from the record's prodigious magnitude, ensuring the Tribunal's constitutional overreach and the Respondents' deleterious conduct are immediately accessible for judicial scrutiny. Furthermore, by reason of the sheer volume of the documentary evidence and legal authorities amassed in support of the Applicant's articulated position, the complete NOM #3 Motion Record is necessarily and pragmatically segregated into discrete electronic parts. This essential segmentation ensures seamless, secure, and efficient transmission to the Court and all interested respondents thereby deliberately obviating any potential for technological impediment or administrative confusion in processing the entirety of the voluminous acta.

III. SUBSTANTIVE PRÉCIS OF RELIEF SOUGHT

It is considered procedurally and substantively imperative that the Honourable Court, alongside all respondents (not technically "parties"), take explicit notice, in limine, of the profound substantive exigencies and fundamental jurisdictional imperatives motivating the NOM #3. The application predicates, with undeniable force, upon the manifest and inescapable necessity for the Divisional Court to exercise its superior, inherent jurisdiction to grant efficacious and essential remedies, the scope of which fundamentally and decisively transcend the statutory limitations and the restrictive, inherent authority of the Licence Appeal Tribunal. The underlying premise, which is capable of an irrefutable extrapolation of legal principles, is that the Tribunal, having acted arguably ultra vires its mandate in its disposition or, more precisely, its failure to properly address constitutional questions, has created a jurisdictional void and a constitutional lacuna that only the supervisory jurisdiction of this Court may fully and finally rectify.

The constellation of relief sought, as meticulously detailed within the Factum of the Applicant, is substantially and logically predicated upon two principal and non-severable components:

1. Constitutional Determination and Procedural Due Process: An unequivocal Order establishing that the determination of the requisite Charter relief shall proceed forthwith, either via detailed written argument or an expedited oral hearing, to be finally adjudicated and definitively rendered by the presiding Divisional Court Judge within a strictly defined, narrow temporal parameter, such as thirty (30) days from the date of the issuance of the Order. This immediate adjudication is not merely preferential but is rendered indispensable to rectifying the current status quo ante, which is undeniably and fundamentally compromised by reason of the protracted denial of the Applicant's constitutional entitlements pursuant to section 7 and section 15 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The delay, prima facie, amounts to irreparable prejudice, thus demanding an immediate restoration of procedural fairness and the cessation of the constitutional stagnation currently afflicting the proceeding. The mens rea, or lack of due diligence, demonstrated by the systemic actors in permitting this situation to subsist, justifies this robust judicial intervention.
2. Exemplary Costs and Judicial Rebuke: An Order awarding Full Indemnity Costs against any and all Respondents who elect to oppose, or who demonstrate a failure to unequivocally consent to, the straightforward and self-evident remedial measures herein sought. This extraordinary entitlement is claimed, not capriciously, but on the compelling and judicially recognized basis of the demonstrated and egregious nature of the underlying systemic and procedural misconduct. Such malfeasance has rendered this judicial intervention an inescapable matter of absolute procedural and legal necessity, designed to prevent the perpetuation of injustice. The legal syllogism articulated within the Applicant's Factum posits that such indefensible conduct—conduct which suggests an intentional disregard for the Applicant's constitutional rights and the process of justice—is ipso facto sufficient to justify a punitive and corrective measure on the highest, full indemnity basis. This serves the dual purpose of compensating the Applicant for the unnecessary expenditure of resources and providing an appropriate in terrorem effect against those corporate entities and governmental offices that would otherwise countenance the continuance of the deleterious acta under judicial review.

IV. CONFIRMATION OF SERVICE

Confirmation is likewise unequivocally afforded that due and diligently attested service upon all interested persons and counsel of record, including the statutorily mandated service upon the respective Attorneys General owing to the constitutional nature of the claims advanced, shall be effectuated forthwith. This service will strictly adhere to the modalities prescribed by the Rules of Civil Procedure. Subsequent to the rigorous completion of the entirety of the multi-jurisdictional service process, a formal Affidavit of Service, meticulously documenting precise compliance with Rule 16 and its associated strictures, shall be generated, commissioned, and filed with the Registry. This document will serve as the final and conclusive proof of service upon all necessary persons, thereby perfecting the procedural record for the Court's consideration.

I will continue all due diligence efforts to ensure that the open court principle and the truth seeking function of civil litigation is honoured. To the extent that I obtain further relevant evidence to the same, I will provide it as a courtesy.

Designated Recipient Entities

The Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT)
Attention: The Office of the Registrar, Mr. Boyce, or Designated Senior Legal Counsel, as the originating administrative body whose record and conduct are the subject of the instant judicial review.
The Respondent Insurance Corporations:
Corporate entities possessing established jural personality and attendant legal obligations under the Insurance Act (Ontario) and the common law, specifically named herein as the entities in default of filing a substantive defence:

- TD Insurance Home and Auto (TDHA)
- Security National Insurance Company (SNIC)
- TD General Insurance Company (TDGIC)

Courtesy Recipients: Entities of Oversight and Jurisdiction

The Divisional Court
Attention: The Office of the Clerk of the Court (Madam Clerk Clegg et al.), as the administrative and record-keeping authority for the reviewing judicial body. The Divisional Court's mandate, as the superior court, includes the supervisory function over the inferior tribunals of this province, thereby necessitating its prompt awareness of the institutional non-compliance herein documented.
The Attorney General of Ontario (AGO)
Attention: Crown Counsel, Ms. Im, whose office maintains an enduring supervisory role over the proper conduct of administrative tribunals, the integrity of the provincial justice system, and the enforcement of all apposite provincial statutes. This role imports a compelling public interest obligation to address allegations of systemic fraud and administrative malfeasance.
The Attorney General of Canada (AGC)
Attention: Legal Counsel, whose interest is necessarily engaged when questions of fundamental justice, the Charter implications of procedural failures, and the possible systemic failure of federally-regulated entities are implicated by the provincial proceedings.
The considered inclusion of these esteemed entities of sovereign oversight constitutes a necessary, non-supererogatory procedural measure, serving to ensure that the profound procedural lacuna and the patent administrative failings created by the categorical non-compliance of the Respondents are brought directly to the immediate cognizance of those vested with the responsibility of upholding the comprehensive integrity and efficacious operation of the Canadian judicial and administrative apparatuses. The highly sensitive nature of the emergent fraud claims mandates the attention of both governmental levels, inasmuch as these claims speak directly to potential systemic deficiencies impacting the fundamental public trust in regulated insurance and administrative bodies. The Divisional Court, specifically, requires full and unreserved awareness of the Respondents' procedural deficiencies in the underlying Tribunal process, as this bears directly upon the quantum and type of remedy available upon judicial review.

Subject Matter of Transmittal

CONCERNING: The formal and definitive enclosure of the Applicant's now perfected and finalized Notice of Motion Number Three (NOM #3) and the supplementary, critical Statutory Declaration of November 14, 2025.

These transmitted documents collectively delineate the sine qua non (the essential condition) upon which the Applicant's immediate and urgent request for judicial intervention is predicated, serving as the procedural mechanism for obtaining conclusive relief. The perfection of the NOM #3 signifies that all requisite documentary components have been assembled, finalizing the Applicant's locus standi to seek a definitive ruling. This intervention specifically addresses and seeks definitive redress for the systemic procedural failures, the egregious delays, and the substantiated substantive deficiencies evinced by the Respondents throughout the entirety of the subject proceeding, failures which fundamentally subvert the principles of justice and fairness mandated by the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The NOM #3 constitutes the conclusive demand for remedy based upon an uncontroverted record and the inherent authority vested in the reviewing court to correct patent procedural irregularities that prejudice a litigant's position. The relief sought is not of an interlocutory nature but aims for the final resolution of the extant procedural and substantive defaults.

Correspondence: Substantive Submissions

To the Esteemed Recipients and Affected Parties, formal salutations and unequivocal notice are hereby extended:

This instrument is addressed to the aforementioned Divisional Court proceeding, DC-24-00000718-00JR, thereby effectuating the official and legally significant service of the Applicant's current and material submissions. This action is undertaken to ensure that all parties possess the requisite constructive notice concerning the consequential relief sought, the allowance of which is now demonstrably procedurally predetermined by the Respondents' documented and persistent defaults in filing, thereby compelling the Court's subsequent ruling ex parte if necessary.

Section I: The Transmittal of Definitive Filings and Evidentiary Submission

Pursuant to the mandatory procedural requisites stipulated by the Tribunal and the fundamental, inherent requirements of natural justice and the duty of candour owed to the court, and by way of formal, contemporaneous service upon all designated Respondents, the requisite documentary portfolio is herewith transmitted for immediate and non-derogable consideration and procedural acknowledgment. This portfolio is comprised of the following two foundational submissions, both of which are central to the prompt, conclusive, and legally sound adjudication of the instant motion:

1. The Applicant's Statutory Declaration, which was solemnly executed on the fourteenth day of November, MMXV. This declaration, a pivotal evidentiary instrument, has been previously and punctiliously served upon Messrs. Karat, Dunk, and Papadimitropoulos of the Epstein Cole LLP entity, thereby establishing their specific, non-deniable knowledge of the factual assertions contained therein. Notwithstanding the documented service upon opposing counsel, the absence of any formal rejoinder or evidentiary rebuttal results in the conclusive, uncontroverted status of this sworn evidence. The declaration is adduced as conclusive sworn evidence, attesting to facts that are materially exculpatory of the Applicant's conduct and simultaneously incriminating of the Respondents' procedural derelictions and substantive mala fides in the underlying dispute. Its contents are predicated upon personal knowledge and documentation which constitute res gestae of the underlying dispute and stand as sworn evidence before this Honourable Court, carrying with it the attendant, irrebuttable weight of proof until formally rebutted via a mechanism provided for within the Rules of Civil Procedure, a mechanism the Respondents have conspicuously failed to employ. The uncontroverted status of this sworn evidence renders any future attempts to introduce contradictory facts an abuse of process.
2. The Applicant's finalized and perfected Notice of Motion Number Three (NOM #3), bearing the date of today's execution. This document meticulously articulates the complex legal and factual premises underpinning the specific and far-reaching judicial orders requested, encompassing relief that extends to procedural regularization, costs on a solicitor-client basis, and substantive remedies. It serves as the definitive statement of the Applicant's current procedural posture and the consequential remedies sought under the Courts of Justice Act, particularly concerning the enforcement of procedural compliance by recalcitrant parties who have demonstrated a palpable disregard for the Court's scheduling and procedural directives.

The simultaneous service of these definitive filings operates to remove any conceivable or potential procedural impediment to the motion's ultimate disposition by the Divisional Court, thereby placing the entire and undivided onus of timely and legally sufficient response entirely and exclusively upon the respective Respondents. The time allocation for delay, evasion, or equivocation has demonstrably expired, requiring a prompt resolution of the resulting procedural impasse through the immediate enforcement of the procedural Rules.

Section II: Extrapolation of Non-Appearance and Consequent Legal Implication

The conspicuous and profoundly concerning absence of any substantive, defensible, and formal rejoinder to the antecedent correspondence, transmitted on the twenty-sixth day of October, MMXV, and the failure of Messrs. Karat, Dunk, and their instructing client to file a rebuttal to the Statutory Declaration of November 14, 2025, notwithstanding documented service, compels a necessary and unassailable syllogistic extrapolation regarding the Respondents' procedural posture and, indeed, their bona fides in this protracted litigation. Such protracted and unexplained procedural inertia suggests not merely passive negligence, which would be sufficient grounds for sanction, but a deliberate strategy of calculated procedural disengagement designed to frustrate the orderly, timely, and just progression of the matter, conduct which could be conclusively construed as an abuse of process and a contemptuous disregard for the judicial process.

This protracted and demonstrated failure confirms, unequivocally, that the Licence Appeal Tribunal and the Respondent Insurance Corporations have manifestly and deliberately eschewed their fundamental procedural obligation to lodge, with requisite proof of service appended, a First Defence as formally stipulated under the apposite Rules of Civil Procedure of the Superior Court of Justice, specifically referencing Rule 37 pertaining to Notices of Appearance and defence filing deadlines. This is not a mere technical oversight or venial error of minimal consequence; it constitutes a fundamental procedural dereliction that irrevocably jeopardizes the very foundation of adversarial fairness and necessitates the exercise of the Court's inherent jurisdiction to mandate judicial intervention. The failure to file a defence is tantamount to an admission of the Applicant's claims for the purposes of this motion.

Sub-Section A: The Undisclosed Professional Retainer and Appearance of Impropriety

As is meticulously documented herein, the Applicant recently ascertained that Mr. Sinnadurai served as counsel to Madam Justice Shore, an association which, although potentially facilitated by design by the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), nonetheless establishes an undeniable, established relationship of professional retainer between Madam Justice Shore and Mr. Sinnadurai. This circumstance is particularly notable given that Mr. Sinnadurai was the sole, insistent point of contact designated for all requests for records involving the Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding, a role performed over and above the established jurisdictional authority of the MAG Civil Strategy Division (CSD) Records Division. This exclusive delegation of authority to an individual with a known professional tie to a senior member of the judiciary raises profound concerns regarding the duty of institutional neutrality. The selection of Mr. Sinnadurai for this sensitive and exclusionary role, considering the extensive roster of available legal professionals at the MAG, and the pre-existing professional history with Madam Justice Shore, presents a question of patent and non-trivial impropriety, impacting the confidence of the Applicant in the impartiality of the document production process. The legal ramifications of such a confluence of professional associations and designated roles, particularly when records pertaining to an Undisclosed Criminal Proceeding are centralized in the hands of one individual with conflicts of interest, are, upon objective consideration, manifest. The potential for the appearance of conflict of interest, bias, or preferential treatment in the handling of sensitive judicial and governmental records cannot be ignored by this Court. Res ipsa loquitur (The thing speaks for itself).

This operational omission (failure to file a Defence) constitutes a procedural forfeiture of the highest order, resulting in a tacit and undeniable abandonment of the entitlement to substantively controvert the factual or legal merits of the instant judicial review application. The practical, undeniable, and immediate effect of this default is the creation of a procedural estoppel against future contestation of the Applicant's narrative or the facts attested to in the Statutory Declaration. By failing to avail themselves of the prescribed procedural mechanisms for reply within the designated time parameters, the Respondents have voluntarily and conclusively relinquished their right to invoke the protective doctrine of audi alteram partem (the right to be heard) in opposition to the merits of NOM #3, a consequence that is entirely self-imposed and wholly attributable to their procedural choices.

A direct and binding admonition is hereby issued that the Licence Appeal Tribunal and the Respondent Insurance Corporations are under a strict, non-delegable obligation to actively petition for and obtain formal curative orders from the Court. These orders are required for the regularization of manifest procedural irregularities, including, but not limited to, the dereliction involving the non-filing and non-delivery of the requisite Notices of Appearance, prior to any possible consideration of their standing being deemed in bonis (in good order) before this Honourable Court. This onerous procedural obligation rests squarely and unilaterally upon the defaulting parties, and their failure to secure such regularization serves as further conclusive evidence of their non-compliance. Absent such an order, any subsequent attempt by the Respondents to participate in the proceedings must be dismissed in limine (at the threshold) due to fundamental lack of standing.

Consequently, by direct operation of this material, persistent, and unrectified procedural default, the entirety of the Applicant’s proposed conclusions, legal assertions, and factual predicates presented in the attached Statutory Declaration and NOM #3 are rendered, prima facie, self-evident, incontestable, and utterly uncontroverted. The evidentiary record, as it stands following this unilateral procedural failure, is singularly and overwhelmingly in favour of the Applicant, thereby necessitating the mandatory and non-discretionary allowance of the consequential relief sought, specifically encompassing orders for the immediate return of the Applicant’s property *et al and all ancillary judicial directives involving the same. The Divisional Court, in the face of this persistent default and the related ethical anomalies, is thus duty-bound to grant the Orders requested in the enclosed NOM #3 to restore the procedural equilibrium, deter similar future misconduct, and secure the Applicant’s constitutional access to justice without further undue, prejudicial delay.

Attachments, which shall include the statutory declaration noted above, are to follow separately, attended by filing in the new Ontario Court Case and Document Portal (OCPP) in accordance with the prescribed digital (filing) protocols.

The Applicant's factum, motion record, confirmation of motion, draft orders et al shall follow promptly for the purpose of complete procedural compliance and final submission to the Court's judicial officer not a client of Mr. Sinnadurai who have come to know all too well in 2025.
I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose inclusive of costs.

Respectfully submitted,

Subject I: Respectful Query and Urgent Request of the Respondents (LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies) – Formal demand for copies of evidentiary proof concerning the complete and accurate "delivery" (pursuant to Rule 1.03 definition of "Deliver" signifying both a successful service upon the Applicant and the subsequent FILE of the document accompanied by proof of service) of the Notice of Appearance by the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), with particular emphasis on the manifest failure to transmit the document to the Applicant via the exclusive and formally designated email address within the Judicial Review Application (the "JRPA Application") and the demonstrable use of an alternate, antecedent channel (an electronic mail transmission from Law Clerk Ms. Maciel Milene directed to the address reserved solely for the LAT Proceeding: mcleansniclat@gmail.com).

Subject II: Respectful Query and Formal Demand – Requisition for copies of evidentiary proof concerning the complete and procedurally sound "Delivery" (Service and Filed Proof) of the Notice of Appearance by the Respondent Insurance Companies dated December 3, 2024.
(Collectively, the "Subjects")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns:

This comprehensive missive is hereby formally tendered concerning the aforementioned Subjects of correspondence, necessitating an immediate and definitive clarification regarding the integrity and fidelity of the court record. Appreciation is a priori (from the former) extended for the time and considered deliberation that will be accorded this correspondence and its appended attachments (whether by reference or inclusion). The finite yet invaluable institutional and human resources of the recipients are profoundly valued, which consideration is precisely why an immense and painstaking commitment of time has been undertaken to thoroughly research the extant legal principles herein and ensure their diligent application to the germane, operative facts. Confirmation is hereby given that, mutatis mutandis (with the necessary changes having been made), all definitions and designations from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence are adopted. I refer to the Applicant in the third person herein for ease of reference. The meticulous adherence to procedural stipulations, particularly those governing the initiation of a court record and the formal joinder of parties, is not a superfluous formality or a suggestion of best practice; rather, it constitutes an indispensable, constitutional foundation for the proper, lawful exercise of judicial authority and the enduring preservation of natural justice (audi alteram partem—hear the other side). This adherence is critical, given that the procedural framework of the court constitutes the lex fori (law of the forum), and any material derogation therefrom possesses the potential to fundamentally impair the substantive rights of a litigant, thereby undermining the principles of due process and compelling the court's inherent jurisdiction to restore the procedural equilibrium ex officio (by virtue of office).

Preamble of Intent and Reserved Rights: Demand for Strict Proof and Procedural Nullities

The Respondents herein are hereby put to strict proof, requiring the production of unmanipulated documentation as mandated by law. These respectful and courtesy requisitions are observed to possess an element of public interest. Furthermore, the issues pertain to knowledge that is not subject to proof or disproof by the Applicant, as the Respondents shall either be in custody or control of documents demonstrating filing with proof of service (a requirement of two documents) or such documents shall be absent. The absence of such documentation would not constitute a mere irregularity (a defect curable by the court under the discretion conferred by Rule 2.02) but a nullity (a fundamental defect that renders the act invalid from the outset, incapable of being made valid retrospectively), since such failures are not voidable by an applicant, such as the filing of a record of proceeding forthwith albeit under a statute and not a regulation. Consequently, all subsequent steps taken shall be void ab initio. A distinction is necessarily drawn between a filing that is void ab initio and a document that was never filed with proof of service at the first instance.

Furthermore, pursuant to the judicial distinction articulated in the British Columbia Court of Appeal's ruling in Long v. Red Branch Investments, which differentiated between the procedural requisites for the discovery of new facts or evidence of fraud post-judicial step in the jurisdictions of British Columbia and Ontario, the Applicant is necessarily constrained to proceed with the prosecution of the instant Judicial Review Application before the Divisional Court. To the extent that documents were purportedly filed by any Respondents subsequent to the alleged non-filings (i.e., filed in the Divisional Court with proof of service), such filings would similarly be deemed void ab initio due to the jurisdictional defect of the antecedent actions. This fatal procedural consequence would also extend to any unauthorized uploading of documents to the electronic Case Center, should an invitation have been proffered to the Respondents without the co-equal and simultaneous issuance of the requisite invitation to the Applicant. It is further posited that any such subsequent filings, irrespective of their due execution with proof of service and/or proper delivery, would inevitably be subject to challenge

This mandates that the subsequent steps taken by the Divisional Court, which may have involved court staff in the court office, including but not limited to Madam Registrar Clegg, Ms. Lawrence, Ms. Tibula, and Ms. Badwal (albeit a single judge motions coordinator), are void ab initio (as if they never occurred) regarding those steps by the Divisional Court that were adverse to the Applicant, though not in relation to steps that were aligned with the statute in the JRPA (i.e., heard in a summary fashion on the record). The preservation of the court's institutional legitimacy hinges upon strict adherence to the "delivery" rule, which acts as a bulwark against the subversion of the judicial process.

The Applicant further asserts that the purported assignment of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore to take carriage of the JRPA Proceeding is also void *ab initio because no direction was made under Rule 77.06(1) for all steps in a proceeding to be heard by a particular judge, thereby invalidating any purported authority exercised pursuant to Rule 77.07(2). This procedural infirmity is independent of the NOA defect and forms a separate, fatal jurisdictional challenge to the management of this case.

I. Detailed Recitation of Material Facts and Precedent Events (Procedural Courtesy)

A comprehensive and precise recitation of the operative facts pertinent to the tempus preceding this query is herein commenced. On November 15, 2024, the JRPA Application was duly submitted by the Applicant through the Justice Services Online (JSO) Portal, whereupon the electronic filing mechanism applied its official date-stamp, thereby establishing the unimpeachable chronology of this application under Court File Number DC-24-00000718-00JR. This initiation of process, which constitutes the genesis of the Divisional Court's jurisdiction, vested in the Court the mandate to supervise the administrative proceedings, subject to strict and unambiguous compliance by all participants. Crucially, the JRPA Application, being a distinct and superior form of legal recourse to the Superior Court of Justice, instituted a new and separate legal proceeding. This judicial review, by its very nature, necessitated the formal designation of a specific electronic address, mcleansettlement@gmail.com, for all subsequent official correspondence and service related exclusively to the Divisional Court, an address that is materially and practically separate from the antecedent LAT Proceeding and any associated email channel, which became functus officio (having performed its office) upon the issuance of the final LAT decision (which is distinct from a "last decision"). Notably, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not take heed of any of the positions advanced by Mr. Boyce of the LAT as there was no service as exclusively posited and written by Ms. Maciel on November 27, 2024. Leaving that aside, Mr. Boyce conflated the prematurity doctrine with the sometimes utilized rule when there are no interlocutory orders of "rule against bifurcation of administrative proceedings".

This correspondence is afforded as an extended professional courtesy, and action is proceeded upon out of an abundance of caution (ex cautela abundanti) to ensure that documents forming the foundation of the judicial record are accurately, authentically, and honestly depicted and referenced for both current and subsequent lawful purposes. The necessity for this precautionary measure is underscored by the gravity of maintaining a pristine and unimpeachable documentary record, a requirement that is geometrically amplified in matters of public law and judicial review where the fairness and lawfulness of an administrative decision are scrutinized. Any ambiguity, inconsistency, or fundamental defect in the filing process possesses the potential to irrevocably vitiate subsequent steps, documents (served, filed, and with proof of service), and proceedings, thereby necessitating the expenditure of further public and private resources to rectify what ought to have been a straightforward, ministerial procedural execution. This diligence is undertaken not merely to challenge a technical point, but to prevent any future challenge, at any level of appellate scrutiny, premised upon a fundamental, jurisdictional procedural irregularity, thereby ensuring the integrity of the judicial review process remains sacrosanct and immune to collateral attack based on a flawed record. The Applicant emphasizes that the integrity of the record is not a mere preference, but a requirement fundamental to the rule of law itself.

II. Corpus Delicti – The Deficiency in Formal Delivery and the Imperative of Strict Compliance

It remains entirely unknown to the Applicant, who is the principal adversely affected party, whether the requisite and complete "delivery" of the Notices of Appearances was effectuated by any of the four designated Respondents in the precise manner stipulated by the pertinent procedural provisions. This profound lacuna in the record does not constitute a mere ministerial technicality; rather, the deficiency relates directly to the substantive jurisdictional steps necessary to confirm the Respondents' formal participation and their unequivocal, lawful submission to the court's adjudicative authority. The prevailing standard required in such formal, jurisdictional processes in Canadian courts is, in the absence of explicit judicial dispensation, that of strict compliance (versus the less exacting standard of substantial compliance, which is often reserved for non-jurisdictional matters). This rigour is applied precisely because the procedural requirement, such as proper service and filing, is designed to ensure the other party is formally, unequivocally, and correctly apprised of the respondent's intention to defend the proceeding and, equally important, to ensure the official court record is complete and authentic. This deficiency or lacuna in the official court record necessitates the immediate and forthwith resolution articulated in the subsequent section of this correspondence, as the court cannot de jure (by law) exercise its jurisdiction over a party that has failed to formally enter an appearance and complete the process of "delivery."

A. The Ratio Decidendi Regarding the Licence Appeal Tribunal and Procedural Prejudice

The Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT), the administrative body under review, forwarded an electronic copy of its Notice of Appearance dated November 27, 2024, by way of an electronic mail transmission originating from Law Clerk Ms. Maciel Milene. This transmission constitutes, at best, an informal, unsolicited method of service—a mere conveyance of information—but not the complete definition of "delivery," which, by the clear and unambiguous wording of Rule 1.03 and the related service provisions under Rule 16, inexorably demands the conjoined requirement of service and the subsequent filing of the document accompanied by proof of service with the court. The cardinal, overriding difficulty, however, lies in the fact that the destination address for this transmittal was the electronic mail exclusively dedicated to the antecedent and sub judice LAT Proceeding (mcleansniclat@gmail.com). This address is materially distinct and procedurally disparate from the electronic mail address explicitly provided, designated, and utilized for the current, separate JRPA Application and all subsequent correspondence with the Divisional Court (mcleansettlement@gmail.com). The failure to use the designated email address is not a clerical error; it actively undermines the integrity of the Applicant's digital record-keeping and could lead to procedural prejudice, including the risk of the Applicant missing important deadlines or filings due to the misdirection of official court documents into a dormant or inappropriately monitored inbox. This lack of diligence by the LAT in ensuring proper service fundamentally violates the principle of natural justice, which dictates that a party must have adequate notice of the actions taken against them.

B. The Quid Pro Quo Regarding the Respondent Insurance Companies and the Onus Probandi

Similarly, the Respondent Insurance Companies—TDHA, SNIC, and TDGIC—electronically transmitted their Notice of Appearance on December 3, 2024. A comparable, if not greater, degree of uncertainty subsists regarding the bona fide compliance with the complete "delivered" stipulation regarding this particular filing. It must be unequivocally stated and structurally reinforced that the onus probandi (burden of proof) rests squarely and solely upon the Respondents—highly sophisticated corporate entities represented by experienced legal counsel—to furnish independent documentary evidence confirming their precise compliance with the prescribed filing and service methodologies. The mere issuance of an electronic document, without the corresponding submission of a formally executed Proof of Service affidavit or certification simultaneously filed and accepted within the JSO Portal, represents an incomplete and potentially invalid procedural step. The quid pro quo here is that the Respondents receive the right to participate fully in the judicial review only in exchange for demonstrably fulfilling their primary procedural obligation—the proper "Delivery" of their Notice of Appearance. Absent this strict demonstration, the Respondents cannot be considered "parties" properly before the court and any subsequent steps they take, or that are taken on their behalf, would lack the necessary procedural foundation. The court's reliance on documents that were not properly delivered would create a fatally flawed record, compromising the entire proceeding.

III. Demand for Production and Temporal Stipulation (Exigence and Efficiency)

In recognition of the self-evident fact that the production of independent and indisputable evidence—specifically, a filed copy via the JSO Portal bearing an official date-stamp and a valid, correctly executed Proof of Service—of the aforementioned Notices of Appearances from the LAT or Respondent Insurance Companies should not necessitate a protracted or extensive investigatory period, the immediate production of the following is formally and expeditiously requested:

1. Filed Notices of Appearance that bear the requisite JSO Portal acceptance stamp, clearly indicating the date of official filing, thereby confirming the existence of the document on the Court's electronic record (if extant); and
2. Filed Notices of Appearance with proof of service that are demonstrably appended to the filed document, certifying service upon the Applicant at the correct JRPA Application designated electronic mail address. This proof must detail the method, time, and date of service, and be formally executed as required by the relevant Rules (if extant), specifically using Form 16B or Form 16B.1 (where applicable).

The Respondents are therefore put to strict proof to forthwith produce the filed NOA, with stamping on the same, and the associated proof of service. The failure to meet this deadline shall compel the Applicant to proceed on the documented assumption that the documents are absent from the record, an assumption that the Respondents, by their lack of timely response, shall have rendered indefeasible. This strict temporal requirement is necessitated by the principle that judicial efficiency cannot take precedence over the fundamental integrity of the judicial record; however, the resolution of this foundational defect must not be unnecessarily delayed.

IV. Nisi Prius – Legal Consequences, Conflicts, and Judicial Nullity

Should satisfactory evidence of the complete and proper "delivery" of the aforesaid documents not be received forthwith, the Applicant shall proceed, without further notification or correspondence, to file a fresh Notice of Motion (NOM), relying entirely upon the appended Statutory Declaration which attests to the documented, factual lacuna in the Applicant's official record. The subsequent finalization of the Factum and Motion Record shall be executed sans the inclusion of any Notices of Appearances in the court record, thus entirely precluding any necessity to seek the additional relief of formally striking the purported Notices of Appearances on the legal axiom that the document was never duly filed with proof of service in the first instance, thereby rendering any purported subsequent action thereunder procedurally null and void. The Applicant reserves the right to seek costs against any Respondent or third party that acted without procedural foundation.

A. The Unlawful Assignment or non-assignment or non-direct: A Newly Discovered Fact or presumed fact subject to dispute - Challenge under Rule 77.07(2) and the Ultra Vires Doctrine

The Applicant challenges the fundamental authority under which the proceeding has been managed, drawing attention to Rule 77.07 of the Rules of Civil Procedure:

To Whom Made
77.07 (1) A motion may be made only to a judge or associate judge.
Same, Particular Judge
(2) If a direction is made under subrule 77.06 (1) for all steps in a proceeding to be heard by a particular judge, then any motions in the proceeding shall be made to that judge.

The Applicant asserts that no direction was made by the Chief Justice (CJ) of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ), the Associate Chief Justice (ACJ) of the SCJ, or a Local Administrative Judge (LAJ) of the Divisional Court to assign the entirety of the proceeding to a particular judge under Rule 77.06(1). The language in Rule 77.07(2) is specific: "all steps in a proceeding," not "all proceedings." The administrative function of assignment must be performed by the judiciary, not court staff, to maintain the integrity of judicial independence and the constitutional separation of powers. This power of direction is vested in senior judicial officers as a safeguard against improper influence or the appearance of non-impartial case management.
The unassailable corollary, based on the absence of filed or disclosed proof of direction, is that, in the absence of a proper direction or assignment by the requisite Judicial Authority (CJ, ACJ, or LAJ) as defined by the Courts of Justice Act (CJA) and Rule 77, the only rational and unassailable inference that remains is that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore assigned the case for case management to herself in an unlawful fashion. The result is that any step taken by the named judge to take carriage of the JRPA Proceeding, including any attempt to curtail the Applicant's previous motions (NOM #1 and NOM #2), is void *ab initio. Furthermore, a judge cannot attain the status of functus officio (having discharged their duty) in a proceeding where their initial jurisdiction was founded upon a void *ab initio assignment or direction, as the foundational prerequisite for the exercise of authority was never lawfully established. The reference in any endorsement to a case management judge, or the reference to an assignment to Shore J., must therefore be put to strict proof to demonstrate the formal, written direction from the proper judicial authority. Any reliance on an internal administrative practice that bypasses the mandatory Rule 77.06(1) direction would be ultra vires (beyond the court's powers) and fundamentally ineffective.

B. Void Ab Initio Steps, Conflict of Interest, and Judicial Misconduct

The Applicant notes that, irrespective of whether the failure to file the NOAs is an irregularity (attackable under Rule 2.02) or a nullity (attackable in any event), the subsequent steps taken by the case management judge are subject to challenge. Importantly, all of the foregoing procedural defects, coupled with the newly discovered facts and/or evidence of fraud, are materially fundamental to the legitimacy of this JRPA, go to the foundation of judicial independence, and may collectively constitute a novel issue of fraud on the court by a judge herself, an unprecedented matter that requires urgent judicial attention. The Applicant asserts, with extreme emphasis, that due to known and recently discovered conflicts of interest (including The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's prior judicial involvement in a separate, undisclosed "Ex Parte In Camera Unrecorded Hearings Unretained Indictment Process" and her prior partnership at Epstein Cole LLP), she cannot hear any motions of the Applicant or motions attempting to cure the void *ab initio steps of the Respondents. These undisclosed involvements create a reasonable apprehension of bias, which is the constitutional test for disqualifying a judge, as articulated by the Supreme Court of Canada in cases such as R. v. S. (R.D.). A reasonable person, informed of the facts, would conclude that the judge might not be impartial.

The Applicant further asserts that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's engagement in the JRPA Proceeding without compliance with the law (i.e., self-assignment contrary to the law) is sufficient grounds for her to be removed from office and is the subject of a formal complaint lodged with the Canadian Judicial Council (CJC). This complaint necessarily invokes the standards set out in the Judges Act concerning judicial independence, impartiality, and integrity. This failure to recuse herself upon prompt objection, and her alleged misstatements of law on October 10, 2025, are posited as sufficient grounds for the Applicant to be in an unequivocally adversarial type position with the named judge. The alleged misstatements—such as those concerning the mandatory nature of case management or access to transcripts—suggest a pattern of conduct that undermines the perceived fairness of the process.

Furthermore, the lack of proper assignment means that:

1. The Respondents were not "parties" under Rule 77.05(4) as they failed to "Deliver" a first defence (NOA) with proof of service. This failure to become de jure parties prevents the subsequent application of case management rules to them.
2. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not compel any conference call or appearance under Rule 77.04(2):
   77.04 (2) A judge or associate judge may, on his or her own initiative, require the parties to appear before him or her or to participate in a conference call to deal with any matter arising in connection with the case management of the proceeding, including a failure to comply with an order or the rules.
   Since the Respondents were not legally "parties," and the assignment was void ab initio, no authority existed for the named judge to compel attendance or conduct a case conference. Any such conference and its subsequent endorsements are, by extension, void ab initio.
3. The Honourable Madam Justice Shore could not technically assign a case for case management to herself, as the power to assign is vested in the CJ, ACJ, or LAJ (as per Rule 77.05(4) and sections of the Courts of Justice Act (CJA)), which was not executed. The Applicant asserts that this is a fatal flaw of jurisdiction that cannot be cured by the invocation of inherent jurisdiction, as inherent jurisdiction cannot be used to contravene clear statutory or regulatory mandates.

The Applicant reiterates that this failure to comply with the rules, coupled with the alleged undisclosed prior judicial involvement and conflicts of interest, underscores that the necessary constitutional filter or safeguard (proper judicial assignment) was not in place, causing permanent and lasting damage to the integrity of the Divisional Court. The Applicant reserves all rights to bring forward more newly discovered facts and evidence of fraud as it becomes known.

V. Appendix: Cited Legal Authorities and Maxims

This Appendix provides an exhaustive catalogue of the primary and secondary legal authorities and Latin maxims referenced in this correspondence, ensuring transparency and facilitating verification of the Applicant's legal arguments.

A. Rules of Civil Procedure

Authority	Description	Contextual Relevance
Rules of Civil Procedure (R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194)	The primary procedural framework governing all civil proceedings in the Superior Court of Justice, including the Divisional Court, in Ontario, Canada.	Establishes the governing regime for all actions, motions, and filings.
Rule 1.03 (Definition of "Deliver")	A specific provision within the Rules that provides a definitive interpretation of key procedural terms.	The term "Deliver" mandates the conjoined requirement of both serving a document and filing it with an acceptable proof of service.
Rule 2.02	Pertains to the ability of the court to set aside steps where there has been a procedural irregularity (curable defect).	Distinguished from a nullity, which the Applicant asserts the current defects are, making the steps attackable in any event.
Rule 59.06	Pertains to setting aside or varying judgments or orders based on newly discovered facts and/or fraud.	Cited as an independent ground for setting aside previous directions or orders, irrespective of the procedural nullity argument.
Rule 77.04(2)	Permits a judge to compel the parties to a conference or appearance for case management issues.	Argued that this rule was unavailable to the named judge because the Respondents were not "parties" and the judge lacked proper assignment.
Rule 77.05(4)	Outlines the criteria for assigning a proceeding for case management, with the power reserved to the Regional Senior Judge, other judge, or associate judge.	Used to challenge the named judge's authority to assign, particularly to herself, when no parties were properly before the court.

Rule 77.06(1)	The rule authorizing the requisite judicial authority (CJ, ACJ, or LAJ) to make a direction for a particular judge to hear all steps in a proceeding.	Cited as the source of authority that was allegedly not invoked, rendering subsequent assignment ultra vires.
Rule 77.07(2)	The rule mandating that motions be heard by a particular judge only if a direction was made under Rule 77.06(1).	Central to the argument that motions were correctly made not to the named judge due to the lack of proper direction/assignment.
Form 16B or 16B.1	The prescribed forms for Proof of Service used in Ontario proceedings.	Specifically demanded to prove the lawful "delivery" of the Notices of Appearance.

B. Legislation and Jurisprudence

Authority	Description	Contextual Relevance
Judicial Review Procedure Act (JRPA)	The statute governing the Applicant's proceeding.	The JRPA's statutory requirements (not the ROCP) govern the filing of the Record of Proceeding (ROP).
Courts of Justice Act (CJA) Section 75(1)	Outlines the powers and duties of a judge with authority to direct and supervise sittings and assignment of judicial duties.	Supports the argument that assignment is an administrative task that must be performed by the judiciary (CJ/ACJ/LAJ), not by self-assignment.
Judges Act (Federal)	The federal statute governing the conduct and removal of federally appointed judges.	Cited in relation to the CJC complaint and the standards of impartiality, independence, and integrity.
R. v. S. (R.D.) (SCC)	Supreme Court of Canada decision setting out the test for reasonable apprehension of bias.	Used to frame the recusal and misconduct argument against the named judge based on alleged conflicts of interest.

C. Latin Maxims and Phrases

Latin Maxim	Translation	Contextual Application in Missive
Ultra Vires	Beyond the powers.	Used to describe the unauthorized nature of the purported judicial assignment.
Void Ab Initio	Void from the beginning.	The critical legal conclusion regarding non-delivered documents and the subsequent lack of authority.
Onus Probandi	The burden of proof.	Establishes that the Respondents bear the sole legal responsibility to prove they complied with "delivery."
Ex Cautela Abundanti	Out of an abundance of caution.	Justifies the pre-emptive, rigorous nature of this formal inquiry.
Functus Officio	Having performed its office.	Used to describe the email address dedicated to the LAT Proceeding, which became irrelevant upon filing the JRPA.
Lex Fori	The law of the forum.	Emphasizes that the Rules of Civil Procedure are the mandatory law of the Divisional Court.
Nisi Prius	Unless before.	Used formally to structure a conditional legal consequence (i.e., unless evidence is provided, then X will occur).

The right is expressly reserved to rely upon this correspondence for any and all lawful purposes, including the submission of this missive as an exhibit in the Applicant's upcoming Motion Record, with the assertion that the Applicant and The Honourable Madam Justice Shore are now in an unequivocally adversarial type position.

I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purpose.

I cordially denote for the LAT and the Respondent Insurance Companies to govern themselves accordingly especially in relation to the officers of the court as the demand above is made upon them and no one else.

I thank the innocent persons for their patience while I discovered new facts and fraud in the most diligent and painstaking fashion as, inter alia, evidenced by this comprehensive letter herein and by reference to the above noted complaint – not directed at any of the addressees per se.

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender-Neutral Pronouns

I. Preliminary Overture and Foundational Context

To: The Esteemed Recipients of the Court and Counsel to the various respondents

I pen this communication concerning the aforementioned proceeding. Subsequent to the timely filing and service of my Notice of Motion No. 3 (hereinafter "NOM No. 3") herein, I was placed in receipt of an electronic correspondence, transmitted via my authorized transcriptionist of the Province of Ontario, which conveyed a substantive response from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore concerning my requisite Transcript Order Form for the digital audio recordings of the case management conferences.

The tenor and substance of this communication mandated a meticulous re-evaluation of the extant factual matrix and the applicable jurisprudence governing the release of court records, necessitating a contextual comparison to previous judicial pronouncements, whether directly attributable to Her Ladyship or discernible by means of logical deduction (per deductio).

It is self-evident, ex facie the contents of the perfected NOM No. 3 transmitted (made, urgently filed and served) on Friday, October 10, 2025, that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had prior judicial involvement with myself antecedently to the formal institution of this Judicial Review Application (JRPA) Proceeding; however, Her Ladyship's name had not been formally disclosed, nor has this involvement been unequivocally acknowledged by the Court at this juncture. Notwithstanding this protracted obfuscation, a sufficient quantum of investigative due diligence, spanning several months, permits the responsible advancement of this assertion.
For the purposes of immediate reference and to substantiate the imperative for the annexed statutory declaration, I reproduce the following sworn statement:

"I verily believe that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had prior judicial involvement with myself in the referenced ex parte in camera criminal proceedings or hearings, which involvement was undisclosed to me prior to my commencement of the JRPA Application and subsequent thereto."

In light of this recent disclosure and its resultant exigency—discovered during the post-meridiem hours of Friday, October 10, 2025, immediately preceding a statutory holiday weekend—I have deemed it necessary, pursuant to the provisions of the Evidence Act (Ontario), to forthwith file the aforementioned statutory declaration. I have simultaneously submitted a Request Form Undertaking to the Superior Court of Justice Recording Management Office (hereinafter the "SCJ RMO") and shall proceed, with all due expedition, to tender the prescribed requisite fee to procure the digital audio materials of the subject case management conferences.

The remittance of the bank draft shall be effectuated without delay; however, I furnish the statutory declaration of October 13, 2025, ad interim. As shall be elucidated infra, the analysis proffered by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is, with the greatest deference, flawed; yet, Her Ladyship's response proves fortuitous in that it demonstrates a linguistic and structural style demonstrably consistent with other judicial documents pertaining to this matter, even those wherein her name was previously suppressed.

II. Judicial Pronouncement and Formal Legal Dissent

A. The Impugned Judicial Directive

The official electronic communication transmitted by the SCJ RMO on October 10, 2025, relayed the explicit directive and judicial decision emanating from The Honourable Madam Justice Shore regarding my request. The germane excerpt, conveying Her Ladyship's instruction and position, is herein reproduced:

> "Justice Shore has advised as follows:
> 'The attendances were case management conferences and we do not release transcripts for conferences. No transcript/audio can be provided.'"

Following a comprehensive legal review conducted throughout the long weekend—a necessity to ensure that my subsequent representation to the SCJ RMO was both factually accurate and jurisprudentially sound—I transmitted the appended formal submission on October 13, 2025, the full text of which is reproduced forthwith for ease of reference and contextualization herein:

> I provide the below out of an abundance of caution in a comprehensive and contextual manner to ensure that in the event of an untimely demise or further injury to myself that I have papered my affairs accordingly for those who will benefit from my estate and ancillary reasons. I also do so for the reasons infra and previously on a contextual level.

I. PRELIMINARY OBSERVATION AND IMPERATIVE FOR FORTHWITH COMMUNICATION

This formal submission is necessitated by the exigency of the matter aforementioned. I must solicit your kind indulgence for the transmission of this document upon a statutory holiday, an action to which I have been compelled to undertake on a forthwith basis, subsequent to being placed in receipt, during the post-meridiem hours of Friday, October 10, 2025, of electronic correspondence from Ms. Amirthalingam. That communication, inter alia, incorporated a quotation attributable to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, referenced within the context of a distinct Transcript Order Form Request submitted during the preceding week.

II. DISSECTION OF LEXICAL AMBIGUITY: THE PERMISSIVE VERSUS THE CAPABILITY CONUNDRUM

I take formal cognizance of Ms. Amirthalingam's previous lexical usage, conveyed to my retained Authorized Transcriptionist in Ontario (hereinafter, an "ACT" or "ATO"), which I concede to be substantively accurate in its descriptive premise:
"Good afternoon,
According to our records, both of the requested dates were Civil Case Conferences where the Ordering Party was not present. Judicial Acknowledgement is required to determine whether the audio may be released for the purposes of preparing a transcript."

To avoid the pitfalls of eliding two discrete communications—an analytical error which I am assiduous in seeking to circumvent—I shall reproduce the germane excerpts from Ms. Amirthalingam's subsequent electronic mail of Friday, October 10, 2025, which was relayed to me later on that day:
"Justice Shore has advised as follows:
"The attendances were case management conferences and we do not release transcripts for conferences. No transcript/audio can be provided."

The distinction between the administrative inquiry and the judicial pronouncement is not merely semantic; it represents a fundamental divergence in legal effect. Ms. Amirthalingam's employment of the verb "may" correctly encapsulates the permissive nature of a judicial assessment, articulating the prospect of whether a specific allowance will be granted. Conversely, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's utilization of the auxiliary verb "can" improperly denotes an issue of ability or capability; it suggests an absolute physical or systemic incapacity to provide the material. The conclusion, therefore, is self-evident: the administrative position acknowledges the possibility of release subject to judicial acknowledgement, while the subsequent judicial pronouncement erroneously asserts an irremediable impediment to the provision of the audio material.

III. EXTRAPOLATION OF LEGAL PRINCIPLE: THE DISTINCTIVE REGIMES OF CIVIL AND FAMILY PROCEEDINGS

I am necessarily constrained to articulate my formal disagreement with the linguistic construction and legal import ascribed by The Honourable Madam Justice Shore, given that superior courts do not furnish "transcripts" per se, but rather release the requisite digital audio materials from which a transcript may be professionally prepared.

It is posited that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has perhaps inadvertently conjoined the distinct procedural strictures applicable to Family Law matters—specifically those involving "family law case conferences"—with the procedural mandates governing Civil and Divisional Court proceedings, particularly those concerning the judicial review of administrative or adjudicative decisions.

The Family Law Conferences Exception [inapplicable herein]

The material divergence is comprehensively articulated within the Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual, page 16, which states:

"b) Family Law Conferences Relevant Websites & Resources • Family Law Rules: https://www.ontario.ca/laws/regulation/990114

Rule 17 of the Family Law Rules provides for three types of conferences: case conferences, settlement conferences and trial management conferences.
These conferences may be recorded at the request of the presiding judicial official. These recordings are for the judge's use only. Transcripts of these recordings cannot be provided to any party without a court order or the consent of the presiding judicial official."

It is axiomatic that the Family Law jurisdiction constitutes a unique, insular sphere—an sui generis domain—due to the highly sensitive, often privileged (e.g., spousal privilege), and inherently confidential nature of its subject matter, which frequently involves the paramount consideration of the best interests of children. For compelling public policy rationales, the restrictive access protocol is thus warranted within this specific context.

The Civil/Divisional Court Open Court Principle

No such sui generis restriction applies to a Civil Proceeding, including the Divisional Court's judicial review of an administrative or adjudicative body's impugned decision. The guiding imperative remains the open court principle, which is a foundational tenet of our constitutional and common law tradition, binding upon the Divisional Court as a superior court of inherent jurisdiction. The proceedings must be recorded, irrespective of the platform utilized—either by a court staff member or court reporter using an Approved Recording Device (a "DRD"), or via an Alternative Recording Platform (an "ARP"), such as the utilisation of Zoom or teleconferencing technologies, as was referenced for these specific attendances at which I was unable to be physically present.

IV. COMPLIANCE AND TECHNICAL AVAILABILITY OF THE DIGITAL RECORDING

The matter herein falls under the ARP system of recording, which bypasses the conventional DRD process. As such, the recording exists as a digital file upon a server, and its provision is governed by Regulation 293/92 to the Evidence Act (Ontario).

Under sub-section 1(1) 11. of the Schedule, the prescribed fee applies: “For a copy on compact disc (CD) of a digital recording of a court hearing in respect of a case, if such a recording exists and a copy is available.” The cost structure articulated therein—$23.00 plus $11.00 for a total of $34.00, as the request involves multiple recordings from the same case—is the legally applicable fee.

The technical availability is readily demonstrable: ”Available,” in its established meaning, signifies ”the state of being obtainable or accessible.” The digital recording exists as a file on a server, thereby satisfying this definition. Furthermore, I have satisfied two independent stipulations under the Request Undertaking Form, which is hereby enclosed. Since the Divisional Court is a branch of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) and is not a constituent part of the Ontario Court of Justice (OCJ), no prior court order is mandatorily required for the Applicant’s access to a copy of this digital recording.

To fortify the foregoing analytical construction regarding technical feasibility, I append the widely understood technical process for the procurement of such files from the conferencing service:
Zoom Recording Protocol: The court, being in control of the same, possesses the M4A audio-only file from the Zoom recording, which is demonstrably convertible to a compatible format (e.g., WAV or MP3) for the purpose of creating a Standard Audio CD, thereby rendering the digital recording available for provision.

a. ”Step 1: you need to get the files from Zoom. The process differs slightly depending on whether you used cloud or local recording.
1. Cloud Recording: If you have a paid Zoom account and are recorded to the cloud, Zoom will automatically generate separate files, including the audio/video (MP4 or M4A) and the transcript (VTT file).
2. You’ll receive an email notification when the recording and transcript are ready. Log in to the Zoom web portal, go to the “Recordings” section, and download both the audio-only file (M4A) and the transcript (VTT).
3. Local Recording: If you recorded to your computer, Zoom saves the files to a local folder (usually in your Documents folder under a “Zoom” directory). The transcript function is not automatically available for local recordings, so you’ll have to find a separate transcription service or software to create one from the audio file.
b. Step 2: Prepare the Files for CD
i. Create a Standard Audio CD (Audio Only)
ii. This is the most common and straightforward method if you only want to listen to the audio on a standard CD player (like in a car or home stereo).
iii. Get the Audio File: Locate the M4A audio-only file from your Zoom recording which the court would have control of the same.
iv. Convert to a Compatible Format: M4A is not always compatible with older CD players. You will need to convert the M4A file to a format like WAV or MP3.
v. Burn the Audio CD: Use a CD burning program (like Windows Media Player, iTunes, or a third-party application) to create an

Audio CD. This process converts the WAV/MP3 files into the specific format that a CD player can read."

V. COMPREHENSIVE UNDERLYING FACTUAL AND LEGAL BASES

I provide the preceding comprehensive analysis not merely to articulate a grievance concerning what constitutes an unwarranted obstruction—whether judicial or administrative—to my ACT's ability to perform their professional mandate, but to confirm the legal and technical basis upon which this request is grounded. The response attributed to The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is, upon close examination, inconsistent with the applicable legal framework governing Civil and Divisional Court proceedings.

Due to the persistent urgency of this matter, I now formally attach a copy of the digitally executed Request Undertaking Form. The prescribed fee of $34.00 will be remitted for delivery on the subsequent day, and I shall furnish confirmation upon receipt of the delivery confirmation.

Requisition for Electronic Audio Recordings and Logistics

Pursuant to the requisite payments previously remitted to the Superior Court of Justice (earmarked for the Minister of Finance as required) and, in parallel, to the Authorized Court Transcriber(s) (hereinafter, "ACT(s)"), the administrative division is hereby requested to effectuate the immediate preparation of the electronic audio recordings of the proceedings.

Kindly ensure that the aforesaid recordings are prepared for transcription and subsequent transfer onto a compact disc (CD). Upon the demonstrable receipt of the prescribed fee, the undersigned respectfully requests that the appropriate Court Services personnel advise, with expediency, of a precise date and time for the physical retrieval of the said material from Room 405 of the Superior Court of Justice located at 361 University Avenue Courthouse.

The Unassailable Judicial Misapprehension and Resultant Legal Infringement

The undersigned is compelled to register a formal objection predicated upon the assertion that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has demonstrably engaged in an erroneous legal interpretation and/or a palpable misdirection regarding prevailing jurisprudence. This conduct constitutes additional indicia of a potential conflict of interest, the full legal and factual dimensions of which remain the subject of continuing due diligence, the underlying grounds having been, inter alia, discovered subsequent to March 2025 and hitherto unknown to the undersigned.

It must be underscored that the conduct in question is patently and inexorably consistent with a demonstrable infringement upon the fundamental protections enshrined within the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms and other pertinent legal rights. Furthermore, such actions concomitantly constitute a breach of the foundational Open Court Principle, the ambit of which extends the prophylactic shield of procedural fairness to all interested observers and litigants alike.

Erroneous Interpretation of Transcription Protocols: A Syllogistic Analysis

In the context of the procedural requirements governing the "Transcript Order Form" and its associated obligations concerning the ACT(s), the undersigned shall direct this substantive issue to superior administrative and judicial regulatory authorities who possess the requisite jurisdiction to evaluate and correct such a manifest misstatement of law. It is axiomatic that an exercise of a judicial function cannot, sub specie aeternitatis, encompass the prerogative to misapprehend the established rules pertaining to court records, especially when expressed through the ambiguous utilization of the unspecified pronoun, "we."

Should one be compelled to assent to the Honourable Madam Justice Shore's purported interpretation of the governing legal framework, the inescapable conclusion of law would be that no requestor, throughout the entire historical practice of the civil division (excluding Family Law matters) of the Superior Court of Justice or the Divisional Court, could ever have secured the required tapes and materials required for transcription for delivery to their Authorized Court Transcriber.

Such an argumentum ad absurdum renders the interpretation devoid of merit. If such were truly the case, the esteemed Superior Court of Justice Records Management Office (RMO) and its Records Management Co-ordinators (RMCs) would possess a comprehensive awareness of this unprecedented operational constraint. Consequently, their administrative response to transcription requests would be materially distinct from the judiciously accurate response rendered by Ms. Amirthalingam, which correctly mandated a specific level of acknowledgment, rather than an outright judicial fiat of prohibition, as a prerequisite to the release of the electronic audio records.

Out of an abundance of caution, I note that while similar fact evidence involving a party is presumptively inadmissible unless the probative value outweighs the prejudicial value, the same is not applicable to the scope of Shore J's prior judicial involvement with myself. I note the following language utilized by way of passing the same onto me which she did not author which was yet another misstatement of law (when measured on its face against The Honourable Chief Justice of the SCJ's Divisional Court Consolidated Practice Direction, effective June 15, 2023) wherein she (the esteemed Clerk of the Divisional Court Ms. Clegg) stated in late January 2025 (after The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had inserted herself into the JRPA Proceeding):

"Are you requesting a hearing date or a case conference?

Please advise that all [sic] cases are being case managed, coordinators are not providing dates.

As all matters [sic] are currently being case managed in Divisional Court, hearings are scheduled as per the directions of the case management Judge. The Coordinators are not providing hearing dates unless directed."

I inquired with Madam Clerk Ms. Clegg as to where she obtained the quote and to provide a link to the same and none was provided. It became clear then and crystal clear now that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore provided the same which was inconsistent with the aforementioned Divisional Court Consolidated Practice Direction for 18 months at the time.

The same can be said of the denial of my access to Case Center after bringing my JRPA Application in mid November 2024 along with, inter alia, failure to stamp requisitions, provide me with a Form 68(B) which was required after my payment of the Certificate of Perfection on December 13, 2024, and the failure to allow me to proceed before a single judge of the SCJ as opposed to a three person panel of the Divisional Court (see: statutory language under the JRPA, section 6; wherein the Legislature distinguished between the SCJ and Divisional Court). This is also consistent with Mr. Sinnadurai, a lawyer licensee with the MAG (Civil division) representing to me and some with supporting documentation that there was no evidence of Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas Form 2 under Criminal Code "Information" in the OCJ and none in the "Superior Court of Justice" in Toronto.

For refresher purposes, one "Ashleigh" of the SCJ RMO represented to one of my ACT's in September 2025 as follows:

"Hi ____

There are currently no DRD recordings before the Toronto Superior Court for Mr. McLean. It is my understanding that Mr. McLean had matters heard at the Ontario Court of Justice (10 Armoury).

Given the above, there is nothing further staff can assist with"

In addressing the latter first, I note again the distinction, as it relates to my obtaining that which I am entitled in relation to the prior judicial involvement of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore and myself, that DRD recordings only exist when there is a court reporter or court staff member who uses an approved recording device and then certifies a Form 1. This customarily do not exist in relation to the latter and the former referenced individual do not appear in ex parte in camera intake or pre-enquete hearings. As such, it is the ARP Platform(s) that govern the same so there would not be any DRD recordings but an ARP Platform recording (i.e. Zoom).

I also note the distinction between the Superior Court and the Divisional Court by reference to statutes. I thank Ms. Amirthalingam for confirming that the SCJ RMO handles recordings for 130 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario in addition to the SCJ courthouses on University Avenue, Toronto.

Notably, it was not "Ashleigh's understanding" that matters were heard in Central West Region OCJ Brampton Courthouse or any other region or any other courthouse outside of the Toronto Region. There was no dispute that the OCJ 10 Armoury Courthouse was a transferee courthouse but the issue of the "originating courthouse" was and remains at issue (kindly address that separately as I paid $23.00 via bank draft in mid August 2025 and not only is the SCJ RMO able to assist but required to do so).

The usage of the word "can" is another word choice that is consistent with The Honourable Madam Justice Shore but not the SCJ RMO and its esteemed staff.

As OCJ 10 Armoury Street Courthouse was not involved until October 3, 2024, one day after my arrest, which naturally meant that the tapes, as an additional ground (i.e. in addition to a process having been issued which includes a Summons (Form 6) or Arrest Warrant (Form 7 under the Criminal Code) but not an Undertaking or Appearance Notice (Form 10 and 9 under the Criminal Code respectively in that they can be signed by a peace officer), were to be released to anyone who requested the same which includes the public.

In relation to the latter, I do not dispute, for contextual purposes, that a judge of the SCJ is also a judge of the Divisional Court as per the Courts of Justice Act and that a judge of the Superior Court Of Criminal Jurisdiction, in the province of Ontario, means a judge of the SCJ and ONCA. The import of that to my circumstances involving The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is that irrespective of whether she was in her designated by the CJ of the SCJ rotation in the Divisional Court in 2024 and beyond, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had the parliamentary statutory authority to hear and consider an application, ex parte and in camera (closed to the public) [but not without a recording via ARP Platform at first instance because upon an arrest OR a process being issued, the tapes and materials required for transcription become available to the public as per the MAG CSD Court Information Access Guide and the Court Transcripts Practices Standards Manual which are and were both issued by the Ontario government (MAG) in 2019 and 2024 respectively) and by the Criminal Code, she was required to hear and consider the same. As we now know, it was an un-proceeded upon Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment, which had to be signed by the Attorney General, which also includes the SOLGEN by Parliamentary statutory definition, post-facto, by the later manipulation of the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] including that of the Criminal Code Form 2 Information of Court Officer (Toronto Region) Mrs. Frugoni-Rojas, but the legal test is whether The Honourable Madam Justice Shore had "prior judicial involvement with myself" PRIOR to the Divisional Court JRPA Proceeding. The key words therein were and are: (i) judicial; and (ii) involvement.

As I had predicted, the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] was not from the OCJ, as admitted by the MAG CSD Records Division, as that would have required a digital signature therein which could not be removed. Moreover, I had predicted prior to knowing that the Intake Court Endorsement [Sic] purported to be transcribed by the "law enforcement applicant" document. That is permissible under various sections of the Criminal Code which is primarily under section 487.1 of the Criminal Code but the issuing of a summons versus an arrest warrant (or as Shore J called it a "warrant in the first" which is consistent with a nationwide arrest warrant in which only an SCJ can issue – not the likes of a JP or PCJ as per the Criminal Code) does not permit the same. Ergo, any filing of the e-indictment (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules, "definitions" and rule 4.10) had to "produce a writing" which the email filing of the same would do. Moreover, this now, in light of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's strident and incorrect comments of Friday, October 10, 2025, which is now a pattern of conduct with her involving me, fully answers the misguided initial position taken by the Divisional Court Manage of Court Operations that the Divisional Court could not hear criminal matters or proceedings. That may be correct as a matter of provincial law but not the federal law, which pursuant to the paramountcy doctrine trumps provincial law in the event of a conflict, and it is not only permissible but practical that those Toronto Region Judges (see: Criminal Proceeding Rules and Criminal Code definition of "judge" versus "justice" or "provincial court judge) in their Divisional Court rotations or designations, by statutory authority (de jure) and in fact (de facto) hear and consider ex parte in camera "law enforcement applications" as they clearly have less of an intensive in-court schedule when compared to the family law judges at SCJ 361 University Courthouse and those at SCJ 393 University Avenue and 330 University Avenue courthouses. This does not detract from the demanding nature of their schedules but simply that their availability is more present when there are allegedly urgent "law enforcement applications" or applications for various warrants including that of arrest warrants wherein they are preceded by a Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment – which while the SCJ can hear any criminal matters it primarily only hears indictable offences.

It is nonetheless compelling and now most telling that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore utilized the language of "accepted on its face" as if it did not require some credibility finding by her but naturally it would have considering that the requirement is to "hear and decide". It necessarily requires the weighing of evidence and submissions and considering the perspective of the person who is not entitled to notice under the Criminal Code.

In a rather fortuitous set of circumstances, with the benefit of hindsight, I came to learn that the SCJ Toronto Region practice direction for criminal matters prohibits a self-represented litigant from having access to Case Center but the same cannot be said of civil proceedings including the Divisional Court proceedings where it is a requirement that I received an invitation to Case Center and utilized the same. The reason proffered by Ms. Lawrence of the Divisional Court to me was inconsistent with the Divisional Court Judicial Review Guide and the now known authentic reason was as per The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's prior judicial involvement with me I was unfairly brandished as a criminal and treated as a "criminal litigant" in a Divisional Court proceeding.

Parenthetically, on the Transcript Order Form issue (distinct from herein), under The Honourable Madam Justice Shore's interpretation, and one were to then exercise rights of appeal (either applicant or respondents), there would not be a transcript for the Court of Appeal's benefit. As such, The Honourable Madam Justice Shore is yet again wrong on that ground.

It is quite a shame as a matter of law, access to justice, and the rule of law (which requires procedural and substantive equality) that this occurred. However, what is done is done and I require access to the digital recordings from the case conferences on the denoted dates as per my entitlement to the same without a court order and as a litigant/party on two independent grounds in light of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore email of Friday, October 10, 2025.

Thankfully, the procedure in Ontario is distinct from BC (see: Long v. Red Branch Investments Ltd, 2018 BCCA decision) in that I must bring my motion, which I did on Friday but prior to reviewing the email forwarded to me by my ACT by Ms. Amirthalingam with the quoted language of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore (see: supra), and it is one of the factual and legal grounds for why I require the digital recordings as an interim measure albeit being unable to provide a copy to the Divisional Court and the sitting motions judge on October 27, 2025.

VI. DENOUEMENT

The undersigned explicitly reserves the unequivocal right to rely upon this detailed correspondence for any and all lawful purposes, including, but not limited to, the advancement of legal proceedings and administrative review.

Pursuant to the requisite payments previously remitted to the Superior Court of Justice (earmarked for the Minister of Finance as required) and, in parallel, to the Authorized Court Transcriber(s) (hereinafter, "ACT(s)"), the administrative division is hereby requested to effectuate the immediate preparation of the electronic audio recordings of the proceedings.

Kindly ensure that the aforesaid recordings are prepared for transcription and subsequent transfer onto a compact disc (CD). Upon the demonstrable receipt of the prescribed fee, the undersigned respectfully requests that the appropriate Court Services personnel advise, with expediency, of a precise date and time for the physical retrieval of the said material from Room 405 of the Superior Court of Justice located at 361 University Avenue Courthouse.

Thank you in advance for your anticipated compliance with the law which dos not require a court order as per supra albeit I am constrained by usage of the to be received copy on CD of the digital recording by an ARP Platform.

I trust this comprehensive submission with the attached was of assistance from a contextual and underlying bases standpoint so there is not unnecessary back and forth which I now know the genesis or etiology of the same.

Wishing you well on your well-deserved statutory holiday.
Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)
/s/ Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)"

In my view and having carefully examined previous responses of The Honourable Madam Justice Shore or attributed to her, it is unequivocal that she had prior judicial involvement involving myself but nonetheless undisclosed. As such, it amounts to a post-facto (March 2025) discovery of new facts and/or fraud which vitiates all previous steps taken that were subject to the failure to disclose the same to me.

At the very least, the JRPA Proceeding has been tainted with fraud and no court in this land will allow a person to keep an advantage which he has obtained by fraud. No judgment of a court, no order of a Minister, can be allowed to stand if it has been obtained by fraud. Fraud unravels everything.

Should Shore J.'s position change, I will promptly notify you of the same but it will likely require an interim order regarding the same which was already addressed in the NOM #3 but on slightly different factual grounds.

I will continue to exercise all of my rights and act with due diligence in obtaining the same but you will note that I have done so but been stonewalled and delayed at every turn.

I sincerely trust you appreciate the detailed email to assist your obtaining instructions from your various clients.

I repeat and rely upon the above subjects of the email.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Re: my multi-purposed motion herein to set aside any steps, compulsory case conferences, orders et al based on new facts arising or discovered and fraud since March 2025

To the Honourable Court and Counsel, In Re the Within Proceeding:

I. Introduction and Procedural Compliance

This communication is tendered in pertinentia to the above-referenced matter. Pursuant to the mandatory precepts enshrined within the relevant Ontario statutes and regulations, which necessitate the commencement of an application or motion to vitiate any prior order or judgment resultant from the emergence or subsequent discovery of material facts or the unearthing of palpable fraud within the ambit of the original proceeding, please find appended hereto the Third Motion Record of the Applicant.

II. Newly Ascertained Indicia of Facts and Subsequent Procedural Impediments

A plethora of newly ascertained indicia of material facts and potential malfeasance have demonstrably materialized subsequent to the prior filing, with the anticipation of further revelations yet to unfold. In limine, it is imperative to register the observation that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore has, as of the present moment, elected not to furnish a substantive reply to the Court Services personnel of the Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) Records Management Office (RMO)—the designated repository for all judicial recordings and transcripts originating from SCJ venues, including 361 University Avenue Courthouse, and the Divisional Court at 130 Queen Street West. This non-response, which significantly impedes the procurement of authorized transcripts essential to the Applicant's prosecution of this matter, was further exacerbated by the Registrar's failure to honour the Applicant's formal requisition for the production of all filings submitted by the Respondents or Interested Persons, save and except for the Notices of Appearance tendered by the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies—a deficiency underscored by the sub judice issues concerning the alleged pervasive managerial dominion exerted by the LAT in the drafting of the Respondents' materials.

III. Judicial Process and the Open Court Principle

Notwithstanding the aforementioned procedural hurdles, the Applicant has maintained an unreservedly transparent posture in the preparation of this Third Motion, advancing the current exigencies at the earliest possible juncture consonant with the discovery of germane evidence. This evidence, inter alia, pertains to the inability of the Superior Court of Justice and its various functionaries to unequivocally repudiate the contention that The Honourable Madam Justice Shore exercised a judicial function—distinct from the successful repudiation concerning Madam Justice Kraft—in a sub rosa (ex parte, in camera) judicial determination involving the issuance of criminal process or an arrest warrant, alongside other potential authorizations.

While the conventional practice dictates the preservation of the confidentiality and privilege associated with such sensitive information, the fundamental Open Court Principle mandates public accessibility to instruments such as Informations and Indictments, thereby rendering disclosure paramount. This principle accentuates the subsequent issue: the demonstrable manipulation of court documents pertaining to the Applicant during September and October 2024 by unknown actors. This manipulation persisted even subsequent to the formal admission by counsel for the Ministry of the Attorney General (Civil Branch) that the purported Criminal Code Form 2 'Information' did not exist in the alleged form. The Applicant's conduct remains unimpeachable in this particular context, having committed none of the acts documented in the counterfeit materials—materials featuring the forged signature of a Justice of the Peace from the Central West Region (OCJ Brampton Court) and purporting to evidence an 'Intake Court Endorsement [sic]' and a 'warrant in the first' dated in September 2024. The Respondents are fully cognizant of the Applicant's contemporaneous and conspicuous participation in the LAT proceeding at the material time, thereby negating any suggestion of evasion.

IV. Contemplated Relief: Draft Orders

Consistent with the exigency of these circumstances, the Motion Record includes two distinct Draft Orders for the Court's consideration:

1. Interim Draft Order: Pertaining to the mandated production and complete disclosure of the audio recordings from specific case conferences, specifically those wherein the Applicant's non-availability was notified in advance to Ms. Badwal (a Motions Coordinator of the Divisional Court) and the subsequent conference necessitated by the Applicant's hospitalization due to injuries sustained from an e-scooter accident—communicated via electronic mail at 04:00 hours. Furthermore, this Order includes ancillary interim relief, particularly the exigent return of all property de facto unlawfully appropriated by Mr. Karat of the Respondent Insurance Companies (specifically the insurer Primmum, but excluding TD Life).

2. Final Order: A comprehensive determination of the substantive relief sought.

V. Legal Extrapolation and Scope of Remedy

The fundamental ratio of this Motion concerns the vexata quaestio of whether the LAT exercised a pervasive managerial dominion over the TDIA Group and/or the Respondent Insurance Companies. This assessment is acutely relevant subsequent to the March 2025 unlawful appropriation of the Applicant's property by Mr. David Karat—an individual whose conduct has been previously particularized as felonious by the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH). The property unlawfully appropriated included highly sensitive personal information and electronic devices, the very nature of which magnifies the Applicant's Reasonable Expectation of Privacy (REOP).

Consequently, the principal remedy sought is a judicial finding establishing this high degree of control, with attendant leave to address the quantum of pecuniary damages at the appropriate future juncture. Furthermore, the exigent return of the appropriated property from Mr. Karat—as mandated by the proposed Interim Order—is a requisite antecedent to the full determination of damages, as it will facilitate a comprehensive forensic analysis of the electronic devices and ancillary materials to ascertain the full extent of data retention or exfiltration.

VI. Alternative Submission and Final Confirmations

Should the aforementioned approach not be favourably received by the Court, the Applicant shall submit an itemized sum within the accompanying Factum and pertinent Draft Order for the Court's immediate reference. This submission is proffered contingent upon the Applicant's request that this Motion be adjudicated in writing, subject always to any meritorious objections lodged by the opposing parties.

Given the Applicant's understanding that the Justice Services Online (JSO) portal is currently undergoing a process of decommissioning and systemic replacement, the requisite prescribed filing fees shall be remitted forthwith upon the activation and operationalization of the successor electronic filing infrastructure.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Applicant hereby confirms that this Motion Record has been duly filed and served upon all principal parties as of the date hereof, prior to the hour of 16:00. Service upon all other potentially affected third-party persons shall be effectuated by the Applicant under separate cover.

The subsequent materials shall follow.

May this holiday season afford all parties a respite conducive to reflection and equanimity.

[i]It is applicable to all Divisional Court proceedings in Ontario by reference to section 1: "Parties are required to follow the practice set out below for all matters in the Divisional Court anywhere in Ontario." Practice Directions are subject to the Rules of Civil Procedure (see: Rule 1.07: "practice direction" means a direction, notice, guide or similar publication for the purpose of governing, subject to these rules, the practice for proceedings). Ergo, the Valid Practice Direction for Divisional Court proceedings in Ontario

APPLICANT'S SUBMISSION ON COSTS: APPLICATION FOR AN AWARD OF SUBSTANTIAL INDEMNITY

I. PROEMIUM AND EXORDIUM

1. This is the Applicant's submissions on costs pursuant to section 131 of the CJA and, inter alia, Rule 57 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. The Applicant may supplement the same with a Form 57(A) for each unnecessary step or for a combination of unnecessary steps in a singular or separate documents.
2. The Applicant adopts the facts from his uncontested evidence and facts contained in documents filed such as motion submissions, factums et al.
3. This comprehensive and meticulously articulated motion for costs is formally tendered by the Moving Party, appearing pro se, to this Honourable Tribunal. The "Moving Party" or "Applicant" has served and filed (with payment of $339.00) with proof of delivery (a "Delivery" under the Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 1.03, "Definitions), his NOM #3 along with by separate and commingled inclusions the following:
    a. NOM #3 as a separate document;
    b. Factum for NOM #3 as a separate document;
    c. Affidavit of Service as a separate document and commingled in the Motion Record; and
    d. Confirmation of Motion as a separate document.
4. The instant requisition for an extraordinary award of costs is necessitated, ipso facto, by the patently deleterious and exceptional modus operandi exhibited by the Respondent institutional parties throughout the entire temporal duration of this protracted and labyrinthine litigation. A formal award of costs on the elevated scale of Substantial Indemnity is herewith supplicated; the jurisprudential justification for which is predicated upon the fundamental tenets enshrined within the Courts of Justice Act (hereinafter referred to as the Act) and the Rules of Civil Procedure of this Province—specifically Rule 57—and its attendant jurisprudential directives concerning the rigorous assessment of litigant conduct.
5. The Moving Party asserts, with unwavering certitude, that the cumulative repercussions of the Respondents' procedural recalcitrance and substantive intransigence have irrevocably propelled this action beyond the conventional parameters of ordinary costs. Having been compelled to assume the onerous mantle of pro se representation due to the inherent complexity engendered by the Respondents' systemic refusal to adhere to their fundamental statutory and regulatory obligations, the Moving Party has expended an extraordinary quantum of professional time and intellectual capital. It is respectfully submitted that an award of Partial Indemnity would, in toto, fail to adequately remunerate the successful party for the demonstrable prejudice sustained, thereby permitting the Respondents to externalize the pecuniary consequences of their own malfeasance. Such an outcome would fundamentally vitiate the principle of audi alteram partem, allowing a party with superior informational and financial capacity to utilize the mechanisms of justice as instruments of systemic oppression and financial attrition. The integrity of the judicial process is demonstrably imperiled when a successful litigant is compelled to absorb the substantial costs solely precipitated by the opposing party's calculated procedural vexation.

6. The institutional behaviour of the Respondents—characterized by the consistent deployment of dilatory tactics and the defence of an initial decision devoid of any arguable jurisdictional foundation—has created a fundamental disequilibrium in the administration of justice. To deny full recovery to a successful pro se litigant under these specific and highly compromised circumstances would inevitably precipitate a chilling effect, signalling to powerful institutional actors that they may utilize procedural attrition without fear of significant pecuniary sanction. This application for Substantial Indemnity is therefore not merely a request for monetary compensation, but a solemn appeal for the maintenance of the judicial equilibrium and the unequivocal condemnation of mala fides litigation management. The Court is implored to recognize that the financial integrity of the Applicant has been directly attacked by a deliberate strategy of procedural exhaustion, a tactic that seeks to leverage the economic disparities inherent in a dispute between a sole individual and a multi-billion dollar financial institution. The award sought is restorative, preventative, and fundamentally necessary to uphold the equitable enforcement of the Insurance Act.
7. The unique burden imposed upon a pro se litigant when confronting the consolidated power and limitless financial resources of sophisticated corporate and governmental Respondents cannot be overstated. The jurisprudence acknowledges the inherent vulnerability of the self-represented party who must, by necessity, master the intricacies of procedural law, administrative law, and the substantive legal issues, all while simultaneously managing the debilitating effects of the injuries sustained in the motor vehicle accident. The Respondents' misconduct—which includes the active suppression of critical evidence and the fabrication of claim documents—is demonstrably more egregious when perpetrated against an individual who lacks the immediate access to specialized counsel and the procedural machinery available to the institutional litigant. The Court must recognize that Substantial Indemnity in this context serves a crucial restorative function: it levels the playing field, ensuring that the successful Applicant is not penalized merely for having prevailed against a determined and ethically compromised institutional opposition. Any lesser award would represent a tacit endorsement of the Respondents' exploitative strategy of procedural exhaustion, thereby enabling corporate litigants to budget for bad faith as a cost of doing business. The cumulative impact of this institutional aggression has imposed a demonstrable and quantifiable cognitive load on the Moving Party, an uncompensated injury that must be factored into the final cost determination.

8. The total quantum of relief presently solicited by the Moving Party is Two Hundred and Sixty-Five Thousand Dollars ($265,000.00). This comprehensive figure comprises two distinct, yet intrinsically interdependent, components: a compensatory award for professional time and intellectual capital expended in the prosecution of this application, calculated at $250,000.00, and a necessary reimbursement for disbursements and mandatory filing fees, approximating $15,000.00. This quantum is not merely a request for pecuniary compensation but constitutes an indispensable element of the judicial function, designed to preserve the inherent integrity of the process and maintain the accessibility of justice against formidable, well-resourced institutional actors, whose acta throughout this proceeding have been demonstrably ultra vires and procedurally unsound. The Tribunal must, ergo, invoke its inherent jurisdiction to condemn and mitigate the profound prejudice wrought by the Respondents' sustained course of misconduct, which culminated in an unprecedented abuse of both the civil and criminal justice systems.

II. CHRONOLOGICAL COMPENDIUM OF FACTS AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

THE ANTECEDENT GENESIS OF CONFLICT AND THE NEXUS OF JUDICIAL BIAS (2017 – 2018)

1. The Foundational Conflict of Interest and the Epstein Cole Nexus

9. The primordial genesis of the instant dispute was undeniably sown in the calendar year 2017, a period contemporaneous with the acrimonious and highly contentious dissolution of the marital union involving the Epstein Cole Client (Mr. Papadimitropoulos) and the Individual Insured (Ms. Nicole Artopoulos). During this protracted epoch of matrimonial discord, legal representation and strategic counsel were afforded to Mr. Papadimitropoulos by the prestigious and influential limited liability partnership of Epstein Cole LLP. It is formally averred, with the requisite gravity and specificity, that the Honourable Madam Justice Shore, prior to her subsequent elevation to the bench of the Superior Court of Justice in October 2018, served in the distinguished capacity of a senior equity partner within said firm. Her professional purview during this critical timeframe was not merely that of a passive observer; rather, she exercised significant administrative and operational authority, specifically including the oversight of the student, articling, and young associates committee. This specific role necessitated an intimate and granular knowledge of the firm's high-profile clientele and the strategic nuances of active litigations, including the management of contentious files such as that involving the Epstein Cole Client, to effectively guide junior counsel. The subsequent non-disclosure of this material professional nexus, prior to the commencement of the current proceedings, constitutes a fundamental and irreparable failure of the judicial duty to ensure the appearance of impartiality ab initio.

10. The jurisprudence is clear that the test for reasonable apprehension of bias is an objective one: whether an informed, reasonable person, viewing the matter realistically and practically, would conclude that the judicial officer might not bring an impartial mind to the resolution of the matter. This test, articulated by the Supreme Court of Canada in R. v. S. (R.D.) (1997), does not require proof of actual bias, but rather an apprehension thereof. The legal fiction that a senior partner would remain oblivious to the substantial files managed by her firm—particularly one that included allegations of criminal misconduct used as leverage—is untenable in this context. The failure to disclose the nature of the relationship with a prominent party's counsel, or the relationship with the firm representing a key antagonist in the underlying factual matrix, created an indelible appearance of structural conflict. This antecedent professional association establishes an indelible and structural nexus between the presiding judicial officer and the Epstein Cole Client, which, when coupled with the subsequent revelation regarding her former counsel's involvement with the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), creates an apprehension of bias so palpable that it permeates the entirety of the subsequent proceedings, rendering the impartial administration of justice an impossibility in the eyes of a reasonable and informed observer. The resulting prejudice is procedural and systemic, undermining the Applicant's faith in the fairness of the entire judicial gatekeeping process, thereby necessitating increased cost recovery to redress the foundational inequity.

2. The Unlawful Ingress, Assault, and the Weaponization of Law Enforcement

11. In or about March 2018, the conflict escalated from civil litigation to alleged criminal malfeasance. Disturbing and substantiated allegations arose indicating that Mr. Papadimitropoulos effected an unauthorized and unlawful ingress into the residential premises situated at the Minto Buildings. This breach of the sanctity of the dwelling house was not benign; it was executed for the specific and malevolent purpose of perpetrating an assault vi et armis (with force and arms) and battery upon the person of Ms. Artopoulos. Subsequent to this egregious occurrence, and in a Machiavellian manoeuvre characterized by retaliatory animus, Mr. Papadimitropoulos inverted the narrative of victimization. He proceeded to lodge a formal, yet demonstrably frivolous, complaint with the Toronto Police Service (TPS) 14th Division, paradoxically alleging that he was the victim of an assault perpetrated by Ms. Artopoulos. This calculated legal manoeuvre—a strategic deployment of law enforcement as an instrument of private vengeance—resulted in severe and immediate consequences for the Individual Insured. Consequent to this complaint, Ms. Artopoulos was charged, detained, and subjected to the indignity of incarceration. She was subsequently released only under restrictive bail conditions which mandated a prohibition on direct or indirect contact with Mr. Papadimitropoulos.

3483 Ultimately, the criminal charge against Ms. Artopoulos was withdrawn by the Crown, a tacit acknowledgment of the lack of a reasonable prospect of conviction and the infirmity of the complaint, thereby confirming the mala fides nature of the original charge. However, this withdrawal did not occur before the instantiation of "discernible detriment" to her reputation and liberty, perpetually damaging her status quo ante. The established pattern of leveraging state and judicial processes for personal advantage is a crucial contextual element when assessing the Respondents' subsequent litigation conduct, demonstrating a premeditated willingness to exploit the system for advantage, regardless of the ethical or legal boundaries crossed.

B. The Insurance Claim and Initial Misrepresentations (September 2022 – December 2022)

1. The Corporate Veil Obfuscation and Policy Identification

12. On the thirty-first day of August, 2022, the Moving Party sustained profound, debilitating, and permanent impairment injuries following a high-velocity rear-end collision. In September 2022, an accident benefits package was transmitted to the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule (SABS) Applicant by Security National Insurance Company (SNIC). Nota Bene: The insignia adorning the header of the documentation erroneously and deceptively identified "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex," a distinct corporate entity, representing a material misrepresentation of the actual underwriting entity. This obfuscation of the insurer's identity served to obfuscate the Moving Party's pursuit of legitimate entitlements ab initio. The inclusion of a demonstrably incorrect postal code constituted an indicium of gross administrative negligence or, conversely, calculated obstruction. This practice of systematically using incorrect corporate branding and addresses directly violates the transparency requirements established under the Insurance Act and is evidence of a calculated attempt by the multi-entity corporate Respondent to create a "shell game" intended to frustrate proper claim service and identification.

2. The Electronic Funds Transfer Authorization and the Severing of the Legal Nexus

13. Between September and October 2022, an Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) Authorization was executed regarding Claim 035325790-03. The Moving Party irrevocably authorized the "Insurer" to deposit all claim benefits payable under Insurance Policy Number 00101351806 directly into his financial institution. It is posited that if SNIC subsequently elected to permit TD General Insurance Company (TDGIC) to assume the role of sole respondent in subsequent Tribunal proceedings, the legal nexus to the valid insurance policy would be severed ipso facto. Such a severance would render the non-payment of benefits to health practitioners, physiotherapists, and doctors—despite the tender of valid invoices—legally inexplicable and contractually indefensible, constituting an actionable breach of the duty of utmost good faith inherent in every insurance contract. This intentional blurring of corporate lines between SNIC, TDGIC, and the true First Insurer, TDHA, amounts to a deliberate strategy of corporate veil obfuscation, specifically designed to delay and confuse the Moving Party's proper legal targeting. The practical consequence of this multi-entity confusion was the imposition of significant investigative costs upon the pro se Moving Party, expenditures that a diligent insurer is statutorily bound to prevent.

C. THE ADMINISTRATIVE LABYRINTH, BENEFITS CESSATION, AND FINANCIAL FRAUD (JANUARY 2023 – APRIL 2023)

1. The Information Lacuna and Breach of Fiduciary Duty

14. A conspicuous and legally indefensible hiatus in communication occurred between January 11, 2023, and March 21, 2023, during which the insurer effectively "went dark," violating the transparency standards required by the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule—General, O. Reg. 34/10. On February 13, 2023, a formal requisition was issued by the Moving Party seeking unequivocal identification of the actual payor and the originating financial institution for the purported benefits. By February 15, 2023, it became evident through a retrospective "hindsight analysis" that no lawful grounds existed for the withholding of Income Replacement Benefits (IRB). This absence of justification supports the irresistible conclusion that SNIC was merely a façade, and not the First Insurer obligated to remit payments. The deliberate and prolonged silence constitutes a foundational breach of the insurer's fiduciary-like duty to deal promptly and fairly with its claimant, an act of institutional contempt for the regulatory framework that severely prejudiced the Moving Party's access to necessary rehabilitation and funding.

2. The Forgery of the OCF-18 and Systemic Financial Manipulation

15. On April 20, 2023, a seminal act of malfeasance and fraud transpired. It is averred with conviction that the signature affixed to OCF-18 #1 (the "Dhaliwal OCF-18"), originally dated March 30, 2023, was a forgery. The document bore the inscription "As per A. Nurse," purportedly signed by the adjuster Ms. Nurse, executed on a date when Ms. Nurse was ostensibly no longer managing the file, thereby demonstrating a deliberate intent to mislead. Subsequent forensic analysis conducted in September 2024 revealed a striking calligraphic concordance between this forgery and the known penmanship of Mr. Papadimitropoulos, discovered on a 2016 Anniversary Card. This handwriting match provides compelling circumstantial evidence of his direct and continuing interference in the claims process, thereby linking the insurance dispute to the antecedent matrimonial and criminal acta.

16. Furthermore, the Respondent Insurer's financial contrivance is manifest: SNIC represented that it had approved the sum of $1,995 for physiotherapy sessions, yet only $1,499.98 was actually remitted on April 6, 2023. This specific sum was mathematically contrived in a patently transparent attempt to maintain the Moving Party within the $3,500 Minor Injury Guideline (MIG) cap, as dictated by O. Reg. 34/10, s. 18(1). The calculation was executed with such ineptitude that it exceeded the permissible limit by a mere fifty-five cents, exposing the arbitrary, capricious, and fundamentally dishonest nature of the insurer's adjudication, directly contravening the duty of good faith required by r. 20 of the Rules of Civil Procedure. This deliberate under-remittance was a calculated financial maneuver designed to improperly constrain the Moving Party's access to benefits, forcing him to litigate his claim under the severely restrictive parameters of the MIG. The reliance on a forged document to support an improperly curtailed payment constitutes the deployment of a known falsehood to advance a financial advantage, an act of institutional fraud that is unequivocally "scandalous and outrageous" and requires Substantial Indemnity.

D. Procedural Obfuscation and Discovery of the True Insurer (Summer 2023 – Summer 2024)

The Departure of Ms. Nurse and the "Ghost" Adjuster

17. In September 2023, correspondence was received from an individual designated as Ms. Persaud, purporting to act as the replacement adjuster for Ms. Nurse on behalf of SNIC. However, auto-replies received from Ms. Persaud's email account in December 2023 indicated that she had been absent from her post since September 2023. This glaring inconsistency suggests that the file was being managed by a "ghost" adjuster or through administrative artifice, with no actual human oversight, thereby prejudicing the Moving Party's ability to instruct counsel or negotiate the claim. The utilization of a non-existent or absent adjuster is a classic example of institutional obfuscation, designed to frustrate the Moving Party's right to prompt communication and resolution. This deliberate failure of claims management—the purposeful denial of a responsive human agent—constituted a severe impediment to the procedural efficiency, forcing the Moving Party to pursue formal legal channels merely to initiate routine communication.

THE DISCOVERY OF TDHA AS FIRST INSURER AND HCAI DATA MANIPULATION

18. Between July 27 and July 31, 2024, definitive and incontrovertible evidence was unearthed confirming that TDHA was, in fact, the First Insurer. The Ontario Business Directory explicitly listed TDHA at the Victoria Park Building with the 416.774.3120 fax number, directly linking the recipient of the Moving Party's critical medical documents to TDHA. Moreover, it was discovered via a diligent PIPEDA request that SNIC had manipulated the Health Claims for Auto Insurance (HCAI) data to auto-populate the "East Mall Address." This manipulation of a core industry claims database (HCAI) demonstrates a systemic, institution-wide effort to conceal the true obligor (TDHA) and steer liability toward the non-responsible entities (SNIC/TDGIC). This calculated scheme to shield the true obligor constitutes an egregious breach of the duty of good faith under the Insurance Act and warrants the most severe cost sanction. Formal demands were served upon TDHA on July 29 and 30, 2024, to discharge its liability as the First Insurer. These demands were systematically ignored, constituting a further and sustained breach of the duty of good faith.

3. Specific Procedural Non-Compliance in the Judicial Review Process

19. During the formal Judicial Review proceedings, the Respondents exhibited a sustained pattern of non-compliance that significantly and unnecessarily complicated the litigation. For instance, the Respondent's Record, filed belatedly and incompletely, contained material omissions and irrelevant documents, necessitating the Moving Party to spend extensive time compiling and cross-referencing the correct and crucial exhibits, a task properly incumbent upon the Respondent. This calculated "document dump" strategy, combined with the late service of voluminous documents containing key facts (like the corporate address link) on the eve of deadlines, demonstrates a clear intent to overwhelm the pro se litigant. This deliberate procedural attrition, designed not to inform the Court but to exhaust the opposition, is precisely the species of conduct that the jurisprudence deems reprehensible and is a direct violation of the spirit of r. 57.01(1)(b) regarding unnecessary complication of issues.

E. The Convergence of Civil and Criminal Malfeasance (September 2024): The Collateral Attack

1. The Undisclosed LAT Orders and Forgery Confirmation

20. In July and August 2024, the Licence Appeal Tribunal issued final orders regarding unreferenced motions without providing any notice or copies to the Moving Party. By September 19, 2024, the Moving Party filed Affidavit #37, establishing the forensic match between Mr. Papadimitropoulos's handwriting and the forged "As per A. Nurse" signature, thereby cementing the allegation of fraud within the administrative proceeding. The Tribunal's issuance of orders in absentia regarding motions never formally served upon the Moving Party constitutes a profound denial of natural justice and procedural fairness, further compounding the institutional failures that led to the Judicial Review.

2. The Unlawful Lockout (Mr. Karat's partner in crime in Mrs. Aphrodite Artopoulos as revealed in CAMH Unredacted Images) and the Abuse of Process as a Collateral Attack

21. Coincident with the exposure of the forgery, a coordinated and malicious campaign of harassment was initiated against the Moving Party. An ex parte in camera hearing was allegedly convened, resulting in an unsigned Intake Court Endorsement and a "warrant in the first," purportedly leading to the Moving Party's unlawful exclusion from his residence. The Moving Party was physically excluded from his lawful tenancy at Unit 410-775 King Street West, with the locks being physically altered and the security FOB deactivated, purportedly under the authority of the questionable arrest warrant. This act was not a mere criminal event, but a direct collateral attack on the Moving Party's ability to prosecute the insurance litigation. By attempting to seize or control the physical location of the Moving Party's residence, the antagonists sought to compromise his access to documents, records, and the stability required to manage the highly complex Judicial Review, demonstrating an extraordinary and malicious deployment of state power for private, adversarial gain.

3. The Falsified Information and the "Non-Existent" Court Officer

22. On September 23, 2024, a Criminal Code Form 2 Information was purportedly declared by Court Officer Ms. Frugoni-Rojas. The Ministry of the Attorney General subsequently admitted in July 2025 that no such Form 2 was ever filed or laid in the Ontario Court of Justice, rendering the entire criminal process a nullity. The Intake Court Endorsement lacked a digital or physical signature, rendering the document a "false instrument" and the entire proceeding void ab initio pursuant to the maxim fraus omnia corrumpit (fraud unravels everything). The utilization of the state apparatus (police and court forms) based on falsified and non-existent documents for the purpose of a private vendetta demonstrates the most extreme form of abuse of public and private processes, squarely falling within the "scandalous and outrageous" category justifying Substantial Indemnity.

Remaining Facts

23. The Applicant adopts the facts from Tabs #1 to #4 and Tab #22 (Affidavit) in the NOM #3 Motion Record.

III. ISSUES FOR DETERMINATION

24. The pertinent issues necessitating determination by this Honourable Tribunal are elucidated with the requisite specificity and legal precision as follows:

    a. Whether Substantial Indemnity Costs ought to be awarded, and if so, against whom the financial burden of these punitive and compensatory costs should be justly apportioned (specifically between the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies), and in what precise quantum?
    b. Whether Substantial Indemnity costs ought to be awarded for institutional conduct antecedent to the formal commencement of the Judicial Review Application (JRPA) Proceeding, including the period of fraudulent claims administration? If affirmed, the Tribunal must delineate from what specific temporal juncture the costs are recoverable and in relation to what specific reprehensible conduct.
    c. Whether the conduct, encompassing forgery, systemic corporate and HCAI data obfuscation, the non-disclosure of judicial conflict, and the weaponization of judicial and law enforcement processes for adversarial purposes, satisfies the requisite jurisprudential threshold of "reprehensible, scandalous or outrageous" behaviour to justify an award of Substantial Indemnity, thereby serving the paramount goal of institutional deterrence against future misconduct.

IV. THE JURISPRUDENTIAL PREDICATE FOR ENHANCED INDEMNITY

THE GOVERNING LEGAL FRAMEWORK AND THE "REPREHENSIBLE" THRESHOLD

25. The Court's discretionary authority to award costs is governed by s. 131 of the Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, and by r. 57.01 of the Rules of Civil Procedure, R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194. It is a well-established tenet that costs should be awarded on a partial indemnity basis unless the efficacious administration of justice can only be achieved by complete or substantial indemnification: see Foulis v. Robinson (1978). As a general rule, justice will only require substantial indemnification where there has been "reprehensible, scandalous or outrageous conduct on the part of one of the parties" (Young v. Young, 1993 CanLII 34 (SCC), at p. 134).

26. The Moving Party herewith maintains that the Respondents' institutional conduct, distinguishable from a mere isolated failure to comply with disclosure obligations, rises definitively to the "reprehensible, scandalous or outrageous" threshold articulated in Young. This distinction is critical: the threshold is not merely traversed by inept litigation management, but by systemic bad faith and the deployment of the judicial process for ulterior motives, namely the exhaustion of a successful Applicant. The award of Substantial Indemnity is therefore a necessity, not an option, to fully indemnify the Moving Party against the full financial consequence of the Respondents' calculated misconduct. The litigation history is indelibly marked not by a single misstep, but by a pervasive strategy of unwarranted obfuscation and unjustifiable persistence in maintaining a position that was, ab initio, legally untenable and factually devoid of an arguable foundation. The Ontario Court of Appeal in McDougald Estate v. Gooderham (2005) solidified this principle, confirming that costs on this elevated scale are a function of the Court's inherent power to control its process and condemn true misconduct. The use of a forged document (OCF-18), the manipulation of an industry-wide database (HCAI), and the systemic corporate concealment are actions that go directly to the integrity of the evidence and the administration of justice, which is reprehensible conduct per se.

B. THE DOCTRINE OF ABUSE OF PROCESS, COLLATERAL ATTACK, AND VEXATIOUS CONDUCT

27. The cumulative conduct of the Respondents constitutes a clear and sustained abuse of process, a species of mala fides litigation management that warrants the most severe cost sanction. An abuse of process occurs when the Court's process is intentionally used for an ulterior or improper purpose, or when it is utilized in a way that is unfair to the point of being manifestly injurious to the public interest. The pursuit of a defence founded upon a forged document and corporate concealment, coupled with the systemic procedural non-compliance detailed in Section II, transitions the Respondents' acta from mere advocacy to unacceptable vexatious conduct. In Del Giudice v. Thompson (2021), significant substantial indemnity costs were awarded to clearly signal the Court's condemnation of the pursuit of unmeritorious claims and the unduly complication of proceedings. Similarly, the Respondents' persistence in defending a position that was jurisdictionally void ab initio and factually corrupted by fraud falls squarely within this condemned category, making enhanced costs a mandatory punitive and deterrent measure.

28. Crucially, the attempt to leverage a falsified criminal process (the "non-existent" court officer and Form 2 Information, Section II.E.3) simultaneously with the civil proceeding constitutes an unlawful collateral attack. The purpose of the ex parte criminal action was not justice, but the acquisition of an unfair advantage in the civil insurance dispute by attempting to incapacitate the pro se Moving Party through harassment, unlawful eviction, and the threat of incarceration. This specific fusion of malicious civil and quasi-criminal actions to achieve a singular adversarial goal represents an unprecedented affront to the integrity of the legal system, demonstrating that the Respondents' primary objective was not the honest resolution of the claim but the complete elimination of the Applicant as a litigant. This extreme level of systemic hostility places the conduct far beyond the reach of standard Partial Indemnity.

C. Deterrence and Institutional Conduct: The Necessity of a Condemnatory Award

29. The principles articulated in Davies v. American Home Assurance Co. (2002) concerning institutional conduct bear direct application herein. The Court recognized that where an insurer—or, by extension, a public tribunal—conducts litigation in a manner that is unduly aggressive, vexatious, or founded on procedural sharp practice, the remedial purpose of a cost award shifts from mere compensation to a forceful deterrent signal. The Respondent Insurers, in particular, utilized their superior resources and legal capacity to prolong a dispute that was fundamentally resolved by the LAT's original ultra vires error, compounding the Moving Party's burden and warranting the highest degree of indemnity. This litigation acta amounts to a calculated disregard for the tenets of fair play, prioritizing institutional interest over the statutory rights of the individual. As held in Sagl v. Chubb Insurance Co. of Canada (2018), where an insurer's conduct in litigation is designed to impede the just resolution of the claim or to obfuscate the truth—as demonstrated by the forgery and corporate concealment (Section II.D.2)—such behaviour is inherently reprehensible and demands a cost award that reflects the Court’s condemnation of the institutional strategy. The Court must intervene to ensure that the Respondent Insurers do not perceive the pecuniary consequences of a Partial Indemnity award as merely an acceptable operational expense for systemic misconduct. An award of Substantial Indemnity in this context serves a public interest function by reinforcing the judiciary's intolerance for institutional bad faith.

D. Entitlement to Costs for Pre-Commencement Conduct: The Boucher Principle

30. The genesis of this protracted legal engagement lies in the original decision rendered by the LAT, which constituted an ultra vires exercise of authority, operating entirely outside the permissible ambit of its statutory or regulatory charter. This decision is the causa sine qua non of the Moving Party's injury. As definitively elucidated in Boucher v. Public Accountants Council for the Province of Ontario (2004), misconduct is not confined solely to the improper conduct post-commencement of the litigation but extends substantively to the improper behaviour and oppressive acta employed in the administrative phase that necessitates the judicial intervention. The ratio decidendi of Boucher permits the Court to look beyond the formal commencement date of the Judicial Review to the administrative and pre-litigation conduct that gave rise to the action.

31. The Moving Party asserts that the recoverable costs must commence from the date the insurer relied upon the forged OCF-18 (April 2023), as this fraudulent document was the direct instrument used to deny lawful benefits and force the claim into the administrative process. This act of pre-litigation fraud, subsequently defended by the Insurers in the LAT and Judicial Review, is inextricably linked to the present costs. The Moving Party is therefore entitled to Substantial Indemnity costs relating to the conduct from April 2023 onward, encompassing all administrative appeals and preparatory legal work, which was wholly necessitated by the Insurers' fraudulent claims management and the LAT's subsequent, unlawful decision. This award is mandated to ensure that the indemnification is comprehensive and truly compensatory for the entire legal and administrative burden imposed upon the Moving Party.

V. THE INDEPENDENT BASIS FOR PUNITIVE SANCTIONS: INSURER BAD FAITH CLAIMS HANDLING

32. Distinct from the Rules of Civil Procedure concerning litigation conduct, the common law imposes a severe penalty for breaches of the duty of utmost good faith in claims handling, which informs the reprehensibility of the Insurers' conduct prior to and during the litigation.

THE FLETCHER AND BEASLEY FIDUCIARY DUTIES AND PUNITIVE DAMAGES (ONLY COSTS AVAILABLE IN JUDICIAL REVIEW CASES (SEE: TELEZONE CASES (I.E. TO JUDICIALLY REVIEW OR SUE) AND STEGENGA

33. The seminal Supreme Court of Canada decision in Fletcher v. Manitoba Public Insurance Co. (1990) established the insurer’s fiduciary-like duty of utmost good faith, requiring them to act promptly and fairly in the investigation and payment of claims. More recently in Ontario, the Superior Courts of Justice in Beasley and cases that follow in Dervisholli, Transamerica, Jia et al found that in the no fault regime in auto insurance, "first insurers" (provisional or permanent) are subject to a fiduciary duty to insured persons (see: Applicant's Factum of December 12, 2024; and Outline in Compendium of February 15, 2025) The misconduct detailed in Section II—specifically the "ghost" adjuster, the five-month information lacuna, and the corporate obfuscation—constitutes a clear breach of this Fletcher duty.

Aggravating Factors in Claims Handling:

34. Canadian courts recognize that institutional actions that purposefully cause financial and emotional distress to claimants, particularly those resulting from injury, merit exceptional sanctions. The Insurers' calculated attempt to pin the Moving Party under the restrictive MIG cap via an improperly calculated payment and a forged document (Section II.C.2) is precisely the kind of exploitative claims handling that courts condemn. This manoeuvre placed the Moving Party under severe financial duress, forcing him to choose between essential medical treatment and protracted litigation. This institutional bullying, prior to and throughout the litigation, is an independent justification for the punitive element inherent in the Substantial Indemnity rate. The award of enhanced costs serves as a proxy for the punitive damages that would otherwise be sought in a separate bad faith action, efficiently punishing the corporate misconduct within the costs framework.

VI. APPORTIONMENT OF LIABILITY FOR COSTS

35. The Tribunal is respectfully directed to undertake a rigorous analysis for the apportionment of this exceptional cost award between the Respondents, specifically the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) and the Respondent Insurance Companies. The liability should be judiciously apportioned based on the demonstrable degree to which each Respondent materially contributed to the necessity, the complexity, and the inordinate length of the proceedings.

Liability of the LAT: The Foundational Jurisdictional Error (Estimated 20-25 percent Liability)

36. The LAT, as a statutory tribunal, initiated the harm by rendering the original ultra vires Decision. The Tribunal, in its administrative capacity, committed the fundamental legal error that necessitated the entire Judicial Review. This error, being a jurisdictional flaw, is legally distinct from the procedural faults of the Insurers, yet is the foundational causa of the Moving Party's entire expense. The LAT's liability should be limited to a component of the costs that corresponds to the fundamental illegality of the initial decision, or the costs incurred up to the point of the Companies assuming carriage of the substantive defence, which includes the pre-commencement costs claimed under Issue 2. The 20-25% liability reflects the necessary cost of correcting the Tribunal's judicial mistake, but excludes the cost associated with fighting the Insurers' subsequent fraud.

2. Liability of the Respondent Insurance Companies: The Aggravated and Prolonged Misconduct (Estimated 75-80% Liability)

37. The Insurance Companies are responsible for the subsequent and more egregious procedural misconduct. They actively pursued an indefensible defence, engaged in procedural mala fides, and compelled unnecessary interlocutory motions. This conduct is the direct cause of the protraction and the elevated nature of the costs. Their role moved beyond merely defending the LAT's decision to actively adopting and maintaining an obstructive strategy that inflated the complexity and duration of the litigation, thus justifying the majority of the Substantial Indemnity rate. This strategy of attrition, combined with the evidence of fraudulent documentation, systemic obfuscation of the true obligor (TDHA), and the collateral criminal attack, represents a profound institutional failure that demands the imposition of the most severe available sanction. The Insurers bear the substantial majority of the cost liability, given that their litigation conduct prolonged the proceedings, necessitated the uncovering of complex fraud, and warranted the Substantial Indemnity rate.

VII. QUANTIFICATION, INDEMNIFICATION, AND RESTORATION OF THE STATUS QUO ANTE

A. THE BASIS FOR COMPENSATORY PROFESSIONAL TIME (QUANTUM MERUIT AND OPPORTUNITY COST)

38. The Moving Party's request for $250,000.00 for professional time must be viewed not through the limited lens of a standard bill of costs, but as a holistic quantum meruit award reflective of the irretrievable opportunity cost imposed by the Respondents' misconduct. The Moving Party, possessing advanced professional credentials (BA, JD, CIM), was forced to divert a substantial portion of his intellectual and professional life—equivalent to approximately 2000 hours of senior litigation work—to the relentless task of defending himself against systemic fraud and institutional aggression.

    a. The Opportunity Cost: This concept dictates that the cost of pursuing this litigation is not just the value of the time spent, but the value of the next best alternative professional engagement that the Moving Party was forced to forego. Given the Moving Party's background, this foregone value significantly exceeds the hourly rate, making the lump sum request a reasonable measure of actual, measurable financial injury.

    b. The Cognitive Burden on seriously disabled physically (see: MRI in Tab #4 of the Motion Record: Furthermore, the quantification must account for the unique cognitive and emotional duress involved in simultaneously identifying, proving, and litigating against the Respondents' fraud (OCF-18 forgery, HCAI manipulation, collateral criminal attack). Performing this investigative and legal work pro se, while simultaneously recovering from a serious motor vehicle accident, exponentially increased the difficulty and associated stress, justifying the higher end of the professional fee spectrum.

Schedule of Professional Time:

Category of Work	Estimated Hours Consumed	Nature of Work Performed (Detailed Examples)
I. Jurisdictional/Administrative Analysis	100 Hours	Analysis of the LAT's ultra vires decision; SABS regulation review; drafting internal appeals; comprehensive analysis of the administrative record and statutory timelines.

II. Forensic Investigation & Fraud	1000 Hours	HCAI Data Investigation (identifying manipulation); PIPEDA requests; Forensic Handwriting Analysis (OCF-18 vs. Known Hand); documenting the MIG-cap financial contrivance; preparing affidavits on factual fraud.
III. Judicial Review Drafting & Strategy	100 Hours	Drafting the Notice of Application, Comprehensive Factum (including Sections on Fraud, Bias, and Ultra Vires action), Affidavits, and detailed reply submissions; legal research on administrative and insurance law.
IV. Procedural & Motion Management	900 Hours	Addressing the Respondent's Record deficiencies (identifying omissions and irrelevance); preparing for and attending interlocutory motions; Managing the Collateral Attack (Police/Court Forms); electronic service management.
V. Costs Submissions & Quantification	50 Hours	Drafting this Substantial Indemnity submission; legal research on the Young, Fletcher, and McDougald Estate cost principles; detailed time-tracking, quantum meruit justification, and opportunity cost documentation.
Total Professional Time	Approx 20000 Hours	Valued at $416.67 per hour (Senior Counsel Rate) = $800,000

39. This total of 2000 hours at a rate of $416.67/hour provides a transparent and justified basis for the requested indemnification of the work undertaken by the Applicant and Moving Party of $800,000.00, representing a necessary indemnification for the complexity and misconduct encountered.

40. The Applicant seeks his disbursements in addition to the same. The award sought is an essential component of the Court's remedial jurisdiction, aimed at restoring the Moving Party to the status quo ante—the precise position that would have obtained had the Respondent not embarked upon its unlawful initial decision and subsequent meritless legal trajectory. The imposition of this specific quantum is a necessary mechanism to safeguard the Rule of Law and ensure that the powerful institutional Respondents are strictly held to account for the manifest prejudice inflicted upon the Moving Party.

VIII. CONCLUSION AND RELIEF SOUGHT

41. Within the jurisdictional ambit of the Province of Ontario, the award of costs upon a substantial indemnity basis constitutes a discernible and profoundly exceptional derogation from the prevailing presumptive standard of partial indemnity. This standard regime, meticulously prescribed by the Rules of Civil Procedure, comprises the comprehensive procedural framework that governs civil litigation within this forum, having been fundamentally constructed to foster access to justice through the mitigation of financial disincentives associated with the adjudicative process. The underlying public policy rationale for the maintenance of the partial indemnity standard is the fundamental societal value placed upon the constitutional right of citizens to the unimpeded presentation of justiciable claims before the courts, thereby preventing the potential for the disproportionate cost consequences of litigation from chilling access to the judicial edifice. In this context, the assessment of costs is not merely a quantitative accounting exercise but an act that intrinsically involves the exercise of judicial discretion, which must be executed consistently with the foundational principles of procedural fairness and due process. Such a materially elevated pecuniary award is, therefore, reserved for the manifestation of truly exceptional contingencies, being typically predicated upon one of two primary, though non-mutually exclusive, grounds. The first ground is the egregious and reprehensible conduct of a litigant, which must demonstrably amount to an abuse of the court's inherent process and is sanctionable under the judiciary's inherent power to govern its own proceedings and to maintain their dignity. The second ground is the attainment of a pecuniary outcome at the adjudicative phase that is demonstrably more favourable than the applicant's prior formal offer of settlement, a mechanism explicitly codified under Rule 49.10, the principal objective of which is the promotion of litigation efficiency and the discouragement of the unreasonable refusal of compromise, irrespective of the underlying conduct of the parties. Notwithstanding the absence of a prescribed, exhaustive compendium of justifying criteria, the jurisprudence hereinafter delineated, emanating from the superior courts of this province, elucidates the restrictive parameters that govern the exercise of judicial discretion within this critical domain of litigation finance.

42. The pivotal concept that justifies the imposition of enhanced costs is the presence of acta so deficient in rectitude that their occurrence necessitates formal judicial chastisement. This reprehensibility must be substantive, providing demonstrable proof of a calculated disregard for the opposing party's rights or the procedural integrity of the court. The requisite mens rea for such sanctions is typically established by evidence of malice, recklessness, or a calculated bad faith which transcends mere negligence, error in judgment, or aggressive, albeit legitimate, advocacy. Conduct that falls short of this exacting threshold—such as the unsuccessful pursuit of a novel or difficult legal argument, or the bona fide presentation of a legal position ultimately deemed unmeritorious—is generally insufficient to trigger the award of substantial indemnity, for the right to pursue a claim, even a tenuous one, must be preserved. A meticulous distinction must be maintained by the court between legitimate, albeit aggressive, advocacy and sanctionable misconduct, which is characterized by its wilful, oppressive, or deceitful nature. The determination of reprehensibility must, furthermore, be contextual and demonstrably connected to the increased duration or complexity of the litigation.

43. The following cases are in support of the costs submissions based on the principle of vertical and horizontal stare decisis:

    a. McDougald Estate v. Gooderham* (2005): This foundational pronouncement by the Ontario Court of Appeal solidified the doctrinal precept that costs on a substantial indemnity scale (historically denominated as "solicitor-and-client" costs) are fundamentally reserved for conduct demonstrably characterized as "reprehensible, scandalous or outrageous." This judgment establishes an exceptionally high threshold for the imposition of chastisement via an enhanced cost award, emphasizing that the function of costs in such a context is distinctly punitive and prophylactic, being intended to deter similar abuses of the court's precious resources and inherent dignity. The ratio decidendi explicitly rejected the notion that the complexity of the case or the quantum of damages alone could justify an enhancement. The Court's reliance upon the historical standard underscores the enduring stricture against the routine imposition of elevated costs.

b. Iannarella v. Corbett* (2015): The Court of Appeal, in this instance, reaffirmed that the judicial warrant for elevated costs, inclusive of substantial indemnity, is exclusively warranted by either patently egregious litigation conduct or substantial success following a formal settlement proposal. It was conclusively determined that the mere espousal of an "unmeritorious position" by the unsuccessful party does not, ipso facto, suffice to justify the increased scale. This distinction is of paramount importance, serving to safeguard the right of litigants to pursue claims, even tenuous ones, without undue fear of disproportionate financial penalty absent demonstrable mala fides. The court emphasized that the failure to succeed is not the equivalent of misconduct; rather, the conduct must be independently assessed for its abusive characteristics.

c. Del Giudice v. Thompson* (2021): The Ontario Superior Court of Justice delivered a significant award of substantial indemnity costs (exceeding $1.2 million) against the unsuccessful class plaintiffs and their counsel within a high-profile privacy class action. This decision transmitted an unequivocal judicial admonition regarding the prosecution of claims devoid of prima facie merit and the undue, deliberate complication of the proceedings. The volume and complexity of the unnecessary evidentiary and procedural steps undertaken by the plaintiffs were deemed so disproportionate to the merits that they constituted an abuse, particularly when such conduct leads to an oppressive burden on the opposing party. The court's analysis underscored the necessity of proportionality in litigation steps relative to the ultimate merits of the claim.

d. Barry v. Anantharajah* (2025): The Court of Appeal validated a substantial cost imposition where the respondent had elected to pursue a "zero-offer" negotiating posture. This emphasized the judicial perspective that such an uncompromising strategy, even where the eventual damages awarded to the plaintiff were modest and failed to satisfy a formal threshold, may nonetheless constitute unreasonable and sanctionable conduct warranting enhanced costs. This underscores the judicial expectation that litigants must engage in meaningful, good-faith settlement discussions as an integral component of the litigation process, lest they face the punitive consequences of an elevated costs award. An in limine refusal to negotiate, without rational foundation, can constitute reprehensible acta, particularly when coupled with a failure to demonstrate genuine commitment to compromise throughout the proceedings.

e. Issa v. Aiello (2025): Enhanced costs on a substantial indemnity basis were mandated by the Ontario Superior Court of Justice in this matter due to the applicant's "reprehensible" litigation acta. This egregious conduct specifically encompassed the prosecution of baseless claims within a will challenge, unsupported by any requisite medical or testamentary capacity evidence. The failure to adduce even minimal substantiation for allegations impugning the testator's capacity demonstrated a reckless disregard for the evidential burden and the attendant expense to the opposing party, thereby needlessly protracting the resolution of a sensitive estate matter. The judicial rebuke in this case reinforces the principle that mere assertion without evidence, especially in matters of high-stakes personal status, constitutes sanctionable conduct.

f. Benoit Construction v. Hard at Work (2022): This judgment, emanating from the Ontario courts, illuminated the prospective application of substantial indemnity costs within proceedings initiated under the Construction Act, particularly when a party has demonstrably breached contractual obligations, refused payment without legitimate basis, and advanced unsubstantiated counterclaims. The persistent advancement of unsupportable defences and counterclaims subsequent to clear contractual breaches was deemed to prolong the dispute unjustly, consuming judicial time and resources through the maintenance of positions known to be untenable. The court recognized the necessity of deterring the use of litigation as a tool for economic coercion

g. 781526 Ontario Inc. v. Elliott Gerstein (2023): While ultimately resulting in an award of full indemnity costs, this precedent reinforced that a confluence of actions, such as the deliberate failure to effect full and fair disclosure, the misrepresentation of material facts, and the assertion of unsupported allegations of fraud, collectively constitute sufficient foundation for the imposition of enhanced cost awards. Such conduct is a direct affront to the administration of justice, striking at the root of the court's truth-seeking function. The court's willingness to aggregate multiple instances of procedural failure underscores the holistic assessment of a litigant's overall conduct.

h. Sawdon Estate v. Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of Canada (2014): This case exemplifies the judicial exercise of broad discretion to award elevated costs, stemming from the specific dynamics and the substandard quality of conduct exhibited throughout the litigation, including a patent lack of legal or factual merit in the opposing party's asserted positions. The court found that the litigation was needlessly protracted due to the intransigence and unfounded claims of the losing party, which elevated the cost and duration of the proceedings substantially. The focus here was on the sustained, systemic recalcitrance demonstrated over the life of the file.

i. Pye v. Di Trapani (2024): The Ontario Court of Appeal affirmed a significant cost and interest award in favour of a plaintiff who achieved a superior outcome following the defendant's unreasonable rejection of settlement overtures. This powerfully demonstrated the financial consequences attendant upon the failure to engage in reasonable, good-faith settlement negotiations, reinforcing the operation of Rule 49.10. The rule operates as an independent, conduct-neutral basis for increased costs, rewarding prudence and penalizing intransigence in the settlement negotiation process. This case highlights the efficacy of the formal offer regime as a powerful instrument of litigation management.

j. Laczko v. Alexander (2016): Reaffirming the central tenet that partial indemnity remains the general rule, the Court of Appeal provided a perspicuous summation regarding the exceptional nature of substantial indemnity costs, citing grounds such as the failure to comply with mandatory disclosure obligations. Bayford v. Boese, 2021 ONCA 533. The persistent, unexcused violation of procedural requirements constitutes an obstruction of the judicial process which warrants censure, particularly where such non-compliance compromises the preparation of the opposing counsel. Further instances of reprehensible conduct, as consistently identified in the jurisprudence, include the improper conduct of cross-examinations, the violation of express court orders, and the unjustified abandonment of claims or defences late in the proceeding, all of which constitute acta that increase the burden upon the opposing party and the judiciary

44. The award of costs on a substantial indemnity scale serves a dual imperative: it is simultaneously punitive, serving as a formal judicial rebuke or "chastisement" of the offending party, and prophylactic, acting as a potent deterrent against future litigation misconduct. The narrow application of this standard is vital; were it to be deployed broadly, it would invariably chill legitimate access to the courts, a fundamental constitutional entitlement guaranteed under the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The tension between sanction and access is resolved by reserving the highest sanctions for the most profound abuses, ensuring that mere adversarial zeal is not confounded with deliberate misconduct. Therefore, the court's authority to award substantial indemnity costs under Rule 57 is wielded with circumspection, being reserved for those instances where the conduct amounts to an indisputable abuse, demonstrating a subjective mens mea of malice, recklessness, or calculated bad faith. This contrasts sharply with mere tactical error or flawed legal judgment. The analysis necessarily encompasses not only the acta committed during the interlocutory or trial phases but also the antecedent circumstances that occasioned the very necessity of the litigation (Mars Canada Inc. v. Bemco Cash & Carry Inc., 2018 ONCA 239, at para. 43). The court's jurisdiction to award such costs is an expression of its supervisory duty to ensure the fairness and efficiency of its processes, guaranteeing that the rules of engagement are respected by all participants.

45. The operation of Rule 49.10 constitutes the second and distinct mechanism for the elevation of cost awards, one that is explicitly conduct-neutral. The imposition of increased costs under this provision is automatic upon the fulfillment of specific mathematical criteria: the successful litigant must have made a formal offer to settle, the offer must not have been withdrawn or expired, and the outcome achieved must be equal to or more favourable than the terms of the offer. The judicial intent underpinning this Rule is purely functional and economic, designed to exert compelling financial pressure upon litigants to realistically appraise the merits of their respective positions and to refrain from the unreasonable rejection of prudent settlement proposals. The automatic nature of the penalty is critical, removing the subjective element of assessing mala fides and allowing for an objective determination. The court retains a residual discretion under Rule 49.13 to refuse to apply the cost provisions of Rule 49.10 where the interest of justice so dictates; however, this discretion is exercised sparingly, only in those narrow circumstances where the strict application of the rule would lead to a manifest injustice, such as where an element essential to the litigation was unknown to the party refusing the offer at the time of refusal. This formal offers regime acts as a parallel structure to the conduct-based sanctioning power, collectively optimizing the efficiency of the court docket.

46. The imposition of cost sanctions represents an intrinsic tension between two competing public policy objectives: the necessity of maintaining free and unimpeded access to the courts, and the imperative of ensuring the courts are not utilized as instruments of oppression or vexatious prosecution. The standard of partial indemnity is the legislative mechanism employed to strike this balance, rendering litigation economically viable for parties acting bona fide. When a litigant commits acta that transgress the bounds of fair play, such as dishonesty, delay, or the fraudulent presentation of evidence, the balance is deliberately shifted. The punitive cost award then acts as a necessary counterweight, reaffirming that the privilege of access to the judicial forum is conditional upon adherence to the fundamental principles of honesty and candour. Failure to impose severe sanctions in cases of demonstrable abuse would effectively license the perpetuation of misconduct, thereby jeopardizing the foundational legitimacy of the judicial system itself. The prophylactic function of the award is thus equally important as the compensatory, serving notice to the legal community that such infractions shall be met with an unyielding judicial response.

47. A precise and jurisprudentially significant demarcation exists between the two tiers of elevated cost awards, each corresponding to a differing quantum and severity of judicial disapprobation. This distinction is critical for maintaining the coherence of the cost-sanctioning framework and ensuring proportionality between the misconduct and the financial penalty.

    a. Substantial Indemnity Costs: These are formally calculated as 1.5 times the quantum of partial indemnity costs and represent the primary elevated scale of costs habitually utilized when the court seeks to formally express its censure regarding the conduct of a party involved in the litigation. The imposition of this scale seeks to shift a significantly greater proportion of the innocent party's legal expenditure back to the transgressing litigant, without necessarily achieving complete indemnification. The use of the term "solicitor-and-client costs" has, for many years, been confined to the jurisprudence as the historical nomenclature, replaced by the more precise "substantial indemnity" scale, signifying the fixed mathematical relationship to the partial indemnity scale.

b. Full Indemnity Costs: This term, devoid of a precise formal statutory definition in the Rules, is universally understood to signify the "complete reimbursement of all amounts a client has had to pay his or her lawyer in relation to the litigation." (Davies v. Clarington (Municipality), 2009 ONCA 722, 100 O.R. (3d) 66, at para. 13). This highest tier aims to restore the successful litigant to a pecuniary status quo ante with respect to legal fees, effectively making the innocent party whole. The inherent power of the superior courts to award full indemnity costs derives from the need to prevent the court's own procedures from being rendered futile by the conduct of a litigant and to ensure that no party is financially prejudiced by the extreme abuse of another party.

48. The distinction in application is crucial: substantial indemnity is the "elevated scale of costs normally resorted to," whereas conduct warranting the ultimate sanction would necessarily have to be "especially egregious to justify the highest scale of full indemnity costs." (Net Connect Installation Inc. v. Mobile Zone Inc., 2017 ONCA 766, at para. 8). An imposition of costs on a full indemnity basis is, therefore, reserved for those truly rare and exceptional circumstances wherein the court deems it necessary to chastise a litigant for conduct of which the court unequivocally disapproves (Davies, at para. 30). The difference between the two scales is often characterized as a spectrum of mala fides, where full indemnity necessitates not merely reprehensible conduct, but behaviour that fundamentally undermines the rectitude of the entire judicial process through intentional dishonesty or gross obstruction

49. The egregious forms of mala fides conduct which may necessitate an award of costs on a full indemnity basis are those actions that directly assail the integrity of the judicial forum itself, effectively rendering the litigant's 3505 acta ultra vires the legitimate bounds of the adversarial system. These include, but are not limited to, the following high-impact acta:

a. The fabrication of exculpatory or inculpatory evidence, thereby obstructing the court's ability to discern the truth (Net Connect, at para. 9); this represents an attack on the foundational evidentiary process.

b. The deliberate failure to be forthright regarding documentary disclosure, the fraudulent creation of documents, the assertion of false testimony under oath, and the calculated attempt to perpetrate a fraud upon the opposing party and the court itself (Pirbhai v. Singh, 2011 ONSC 1366, at para. 119). Such acts constitute a profound breach of the duty of candour owed to the court.

50. It is a recognized judicial prerogative to consider not only the conduct demonstrated during the litigation per se, but also the foundational circumstances that instigated the commencement of the legal action (Mars Canada Inc. v. Bemco Cash & Carry Inc., 2018 ONCA 239, at para. 43; Davies, at para. 30). Where the actus reus of the misconduct lies in the creation of the underlying cause of action itself—for instance, the fraudulent execution of a document—the misconduct is both antecedent to and pervasive throughout the litigation. The court is thus entitled to conduct an expansive inquiry into the entire factual matrix of the dispute

51. The appellant's requisition for costs calculated on a Substantial Indemnity basis is predicated upon the demonstrable fact that the narrative advanced by the respondent at the trial level, and subsequently countenanced by the presiding judge, asserted the authenticity of a Will purportedly witnessed by two individuals. As subsequently and definitively ascertained by the appellate jurisdiction, this was not the veracious status quo ante. Indeed, the attesting parties affixed their signatures subsequent to the demise of the testator. In essence, it is posited that the respondent endeavoured to perpetrate a fraud upon the judicial process, a clear and deliberate attempt to mislead the court by presenting fabricated testamentary documents as genuine. This is not a matter of mere unmeritorious defence, but rather an active and sustained campaign of deception, fundamentally compromising the integrity of the proceedings and the reliability of the evidence presented.

52. The syllogistic conclusion is thus self-evident and utterly inescapable: the egregious and mala fides conduct of the Respondents throughout the entirety of the application constitutes a recognized, exceptional circumstance under Canadian jurisprudence. The substantiated evidence pertaining to the fraudulent documentation, systemic administrative obfuscation, corporate non-disclosure, judicial conflict, and the unwarranted weaponization of the criminal process compels the deployment of the Court's most fitting elevated cost sanction. The cumulative effect of the Respondents' actions demonstrates a systemic failure to uphold the most basic and fundamental tenets of good faith, fairness, and procedural integrity. The conduct is not merely censurable; it is, ipso facto, deserving of the Court's unequivocal and decisive condemnation. As was held by the Supreme Court of Canada in Young v. Young: Solicitor-client costs are generally awarded only where there has been reprehensible, scandalous or outrageous conduct on the part of one of the parties.

53. The magnitude of the Moving Party's comprehensive success, coupled with the necessity of judicial deterrence to prevent the recurrence of such institutional acta, mandates a final determination that is both fully compensatory and punitive in its effect, operating as a clear judicial repudiation of the Respondents' litigation methodology. The sustained nature of the misconduct, spanning multiple procedural steps and implicating the foundational evidence of the dispute, elevates the severity of the transgression beyond the mere technical to the realm of a structural attack on the administration of justice.

54. The imposition of Substantial Indemnity is not merely a compensatory function, but a definitive judicial declaration that such a profound abuse of process is strictly prohibited and will be decisively penalized. The award serves to unequivocally reinforce the sanctity of testamentary documents and the necessity of complete candour when such documents are presented before the court. It is, therefore, respectfully petitioned, with the utmost deference and rhetorical conviction, that a final judgment be rendered in favour of the Moving Party for the entirety of the amount sought, being $800,000.00 upon a Substantial Indemnity basis plus disbursements, with the primary apportionment of liability directed against the Respondent Insurance Companies, augmented by the requested prejudgment and post-judgment interest at the prescribed statutory rates. This definitive award is requisite to properly reflect the gravity of the circumstances, the magnitude of the Moving Party's vindication, the profound personal cost borne by the Moving Party pro se, and the imperative need for judicial deterrence, thereby ensuring that justice, in both substance and form, has been demonstrably served and that the institutional Respondents are strictly held to account for their patent transgressions of proper legal conduct.

55. It must be remembered that this Accident on the Accident Date was yet another example of the Epstein Cole LLP Client engaged in his puppeteering of others and it was and is an "Attempted Murder". Because of vehicle was used makes it more egregious. How could it not be when TDIA Group promptly yet unlawfully cancelled the TD My Advantage App after the Accident? Moreover, when faced with SNIC providing the personal information to the Applicant after the PIPEDA request of it, it breached PIPEDA and then engaged in the fraudulent shifting from SNIC and TDGIC that was all sanitized by the LAT.
56. As opposed to those engaged in the conspiratorial scheme of the Attempted Murder facing criminal sanctions and lengthy federal penitentiary sentences, a just result is the Respondent Insurance Companies footing (heavily) (pardon the pun considering the type of high velocity rear ender committed on the Applicant on a slight grade North of St. Clair Avenue on Spadina Road (not avenue)) the costs bill in conjunction with the LAT sharing the same.
57. Our fellow Canadian Citizens and Ontario residents do not need the criminal justice system utilized any more than it already has by the fraud in the False Information Package.
58. Subject to any amendments to the same for current purposes of which the Applicant reserves his rights, the Applicant thanks the Honourable Divisional Court by way of a presiding judge over this NOM #3, naturally dovetailed to the relief sought in NOM #2, all unopposed, and NOM #1, unopposed by the LAT – as neither the LAT nor the Respondent Insurance Companies "filed" or "delivered" their Notices of Appearances.

ALL OF WHICH IS RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED ON THIS 26th OF NOVEMBER 2025

SUBJECT I: Confirmation of Payment and Filing Status of the Motion Record (the "Motion Record") in the Ontario Courts Public Portal (the "OCPP")

SUBJECT II: Request for Immediate Access to the Case Centre (the "Case Centre") in Advance of the Hearing Date Pursuant to Rule 4.05.3(4)

I cordially write regarding the above Subjects of this correspondence. I thank you in advance for your time and consideration of this correspondence and its attachments (by reference or inclu valuable resources which is why I have taken immense time to research the legal issues herein and apply them to the facts herein. The present document serves as an official record, meticul judicial effort necessary for comprehension of the procedural posture, thereby facilitating an efficient and efficacious resolution. The complexity of this matter demands meticulous procedural f have assiduously adhered throughout this JRPA proceeding.

I adopt all definitions from previously, indirectly or directly, cited correspondence.

I. Preliminary Confirmations and Current Technical Impediments to Finalization

This correspondence serves to confirm the successful remittance of the requisite fees, where applicable, for the Motion Record (comprising, inter alia, Notice of Motion #3, the Factum, and a of service, and the Confirmation of Motion (the "Confirmation") within the OCPP. This successful financial transaction, the particulars of which are appended hereto as Appendix II, represen protracted efforts to navigate the initial iterations of the OCPP, which previously exhibited an in limine reluctance to recognize certain file formats or resolve encrypted document properties.

It is acknowledged that the OCPP constitutes an estimable interface, capable of accommodating substantial documentation, and that the integrated payment module functions with commenda facility stands in contradistinction to the preceding difficulties encountered, thereby underscoring the continual improvement in the Court's technological infrastructure.

Receipt is also hereby confirmed of the electronic mail communication disseminated by the Government of Ontario, which specified the linkage of the Case Centre platform with the MyOntari account had been previously established under the auspices of Thomson Reuters, the account has persisted and been migrated to the MyOntario framework, thereby maintaining the status digital identity and associated procedural history.

The Persistence of the Current Technical Impediment

Notwithstanding the foregoing successes in payment and portal navigation, a singular, refractory technical challenge has materialized this afternoon. An attempt was made to upload a consoli expedient measure intended to streamline judicial review—which included the Confirmation appended with the two Divisional Court Judicial Review Procedure Act (the "JRPA") Guides, mate Confirmation's substance. This unitary upload was regrettably met with a pervasive 403 error code within the OCPP. This systemic failure to process a correctly structured submission is de that ipso facto precluded the finalization of the comprehensive filing. The resolution of this technical anomaly is, therefore, a necessary precondition to the full and timely electronic submissio without which the filing cannot be considered procedurally complete. Until this technical defect is cured, the integrity of the electronic record remains compromised, an outcome that is, natural context of judicial review.

II. Imperative Necessity for Case Centre Access and Chronological Compliance

Pursuant to the Confirmation and the prevailing Rules of Civil Procedure (the "Rules"), it is mandated that all filed documentation be uploaded to the Case Centre within a strict temporal fra transcends mere procedural formality; it is an acta essential for the proper administration of justice, ensuring the Bench and all parties have commensurate access to the complete record. Ru part, a mandatory deadline:

> "(4) Subject to subrules (4.1) and (5), the documents listed in subrule (3) must be uploaded to Case Center by the following deadline:
> 1. In the case of the hearing of a motion or application where the party is required to give the registrar a confirmation of motion (Form 37B) or confirmation of application (Form 38B three days before the hearing date, unless the court orders otherwise."

This provision establishes a prima facie obligation for the User to effect the uploading of the relevant documents no later than 2:00 post meridiem on Friday, given the chronology of the impe this procedural matter is non-negotiable, and any failure to meet this tempus could potentially prejudice the User's position.

The esteemed Ms. Gentles, Registrar (the "Registrar") of the Divisional Court, is appropriately exempt from the provisions of Rule 4.05.3(4.1), which explicitly stipulates that the Registrar ca uploading of documents on behalf of a party. This distinction correctly places the administrative burden of electronic transmission upon the party, ensuring clear lines of responsibility. Furtherm inapplicable, as the matter at hand is a Motion, not a Trial, and the Confirmation was timely transmitted via electronic mail to the Divisional Court, in strict accordance with the requirements o obviating any requirement for transcripts at this juncture.

Analysis of the Apparent Regulatory Inconsistency and the Role of the Registrar

There appears to be a minor inconsistency per se concerning Ontario Regulation 226/25 (the "Regulation"), which became effective in early October 2025, specifically regarding proceedings —a geographical designation applicable to the JRPA Proceeding herein (as detailed in Appendix I). The Regulation pertains to documents filed or residing within the Court file, creating a cru between the Registrar's mandated duties and those of a designated "party" concerning the chronological uploading of documentation. The scope of the Registrar's authority is not ultra vires procedural application of the Regulation requires judicial clarification to ensure consistency with the spirit of the Rules.

Upload Intent and Entitlement to Unfettered Access Status

In light of the preceding technical delays and the User's commitment to facilitating a comprehensive review by the Court, the intention to upload the previously filed Compendium is hereby rea conventional dispensation accorded to unopposed or consent motions. This is a voluntary act of procedural diligence.

The User possesses a prior, inchoate entitlement to access the Case Centre stemming from the initiation of the JRPA Proceeding over one year prior. This access is not a gratuity but a neces punctual compliance with the prescribed deadline, the immediate and unfettered grant of access to the Case Centre is absolutely essential. The Divisional Court is respectfully solicited to furr preferably by the conclusion of the present business day, to allow for the indispensable acclimation to the Case Centre protocols and to verify the consistency of the Registrar's prior uploads verification is crucial to ensure that the documentary record upon which the Court will ultimately rely is accurate and complete.

It is posited that only the User's filings shall presently reside in the Case Centre, as the Respondents have not yet filed materials. Should any Non-Respondents or Non-Parties seek leave to Appearance or similar instrument, the onus for their respective uploading responsibilities shall attach solely to them. The User is entitled to be apprized of the status of all "filed documents," as existing per se within the overall Court file, so that no ambiguity exists concerning the record in limine.

For the purpose of effecting the immediate invitation, the designated electronic mail address is the one used for this correspondence, and the designated Username is kmack1983.

I will have my Costs Submissions to the Respondents today along with a copy to the Non-Respondents.

Yours most appreciatively and gratefully,

/s/Mr. Kevin A. McLean (BA, JD, CIM)

Dear DC (Registrar and Local Registrar) and the Respondents by their counsel by email representations (but not filed documents):

The present letter is formally tendered for the record, addressing the Honourable Court and all persons and your clients herein (where applicable). Confirmation is hereby effectuated that due service of the Confirmation of Motion has been accomplished upon all Non-Respondents possessing a dem the subject proceeding. Furthermore, a definitive response has been formulated subsequent to the thorough and measured consideration of an electror received on the preceding Friday, the complete contents of which were reviewed in extenso on the current date; this response was critically assessed a prior formal requisition addressed to the Honourable Deputy Attorney General of Ontario (hereinafter designated as the "DAG"). A facsimile of the afore appended hereto for immediate reference. Should the exigent nature of the motion necessitate such disclosure, this material may be submitted for the j presiding Justice, specifically concerning the necessary determination of whether documentary or other material evidence was subjected to disposal pr purported directives and concurrent approbation of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Justice (The Honourable Mr. Justice Morawetz), the found representation has been accepted prima facie.

A critical corollary of the Deputy Attorney General's explicit repudiation of signature upon the Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment is the effective transfere regarding the instrument's authentic provenance. The negation of ministerial involvement necessitates that the Originating Judicial Precinct or t must demonstrate, with requisite particularity, the agent or officer who formally executed and preferred the charging instrument, thereby ens integrity of the commencement of the criminal process. This evidentiary vacuum, created by the absence of a verifiable ministerial fiat, compels juc administrative chain of custody and the delegated authority under which the Indictment was filed, an examination that must proceed concurrently with tl

ANALYSIS OF MATERIAL FACTS, NON-DISCLOSURE, AND PROSPECTIVE EVIDENTIARY DISCLOSURE

The proceedings must acknowledge the materially significant facts that have been either discovered or have arisen ex post facto—specifically the disce non-disclosure pertaining not only to the executed arrest warrant but also to the Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment. The gravamen of this non-disclos withholding of facts fundamental to the Applicant's comprehension of the ratio underpinning the original judicial process, which non-disclos compounded by the substitution of the originating charge with a subsequent False Information Package. This systemic substitution prevented t engaging in a substantive defense predicated upon the true nature of the originating accusation, thereby establishing the necessary elements for the es fraud: a false representation (or omission), knowledge of its falsity, intent to deceive, and reliance that resulted in detriment to the Applicant. Notwiths commitment to the rigorous exercise of due diligence, and in adherence to the requisite spirit of bona fides, the appended evidentiary materials shall co basis of reliance for the scheduled judicial hearing of December 3, 2024, premised upon the comprehensive rationale articulated hereinafter.

For the purpose of maximal procedural clarity and concision, the detailed enumeration of the underlying rationales for reliance is found within the apper all Counsel of Record and Litigants (vide: Appendix #1, Sections II and III).

Juridical Syllogism Regarding Unidentified Principal-Agent Relationships and Material Non-Disclosure

It is logically and legally incumbent upon the proceedings that the following assertion be acknowledged: should the Respondent Insurance Companies, Tribunal (LAT), or Mr. Weir, or the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), have possessed any degree of involvement in the origination of the criminal Applicant—notwithstanding the fact that said complaint was subsequently rendered non-procedural through the substitution of the False Information Pa involvement remain undisclosed and ignotum at the present juncture, such circumstance would constitute a fact arising and/or a fraud arising subseque development would necessarily be deemed to have reasonably and materially vitiated the judicial outcome. The doctrine of ultra vires agency, while limits of delegated authority, cannot be permitted to shield the corporate or governmental principal from the imputation of knowledge or liab misfeasance or non-disclosure is demonstrably linked to the origination of the impugned judicial process. Conversely, the individual liability of in public office, predicated upon bad faith or malice, operates independently of the principal's immunity, offering an alternative avenue for remedial judic the existence of such an undisclosed nexus is, in limine, frequently unknown to the presiding judicial officer under conventional procedural paradigms, t demonstrably engenders a unique and unprecedented legal issue within this particular sphere of jurisprudence, thereby warranting exceptional judicial A principled, non-derogable obligation is submitted to rest upon all officers of the court to formally adduce any evidence pertaining to their substantive k demonstrable absence thereof concerning these material facts. The disclosure required transcends merely the known facts and encompasses th inquire into the institutional knowledge held by the respective governmental or corporate clients that may bear relevance to the integrity of t failure to make a requisite disclosure of such pertinent information, followed by the subsequent discovery of the same through the Applicant's rigorous a due diligence, would ipso facto and demonstrably engender another potential opportunity to formally institute a motion pursuant to Rule 59.06(2)(a) of t Procedure, concerning the setting aside or variation of an order on the basis of a matter arising subsequent to the making of the order, as is definitively procedural framework of this Province, in contradistinction to the less rigorous processes extant in other jurisdictions.

Judicial Precedent Pertaining to Suability and the Scope of Remedial Efficacy

It is acknowledged that no definitive inference may be drawn from the courteous and meticulously articulated electronic mail correspondence tendered 2024 (vide: Appendix #2). However, it is now judicially observed, with the benefit of the pronouncement by the Ontario Court of Appeal (ONCA) in Grati Technologies Inc. v. Ontario, 2010 ONCA 501, that the procurement of declaratory or injunctive relief cannot be permissibly sought per se against a nor such as the aforenoted commission, owing to its inherent legal incapacity to be subjected to suit. The ratio decidendi of the ONCA explicitly determined 1992, did not expressly or implicitly confer such legal capacity, and, critically, that the inclusion of a claim for declaratory and injunctive relief does not, i augment the entity's susceptibility to suit. The pertinent excerpts from this decision are hereby reproduced:

The Commission was not a suable entity. It was a non-corporate entity and was not expressly liable to suit by the terms of the Act. The Act d indication of a legislative intent that legal capacity to be sued should be inferred of the Commission. Indeed, the provisions of the Act relatin significantly undercut that suggestion. As the Commission was not a suable entity, it was irrelevant that the claim was for declaratory and in damages. The liability to suit of non-corporate statutory entities is not augmented where declaratory or injunctive relief is claimed.

The claim against the subcommittee members was for misfeasance in public office. The core of their pleading against the subcommittee members cons allegations of bad faith, actual malice and bias. To avoid the protective ambit of the immunity from suit provision in s. 31(1) of the Act, sufficient facts ha assertions of bad faith or malice. Moreover, in cases involving allegations of malice, rule 25.06(8) of the Rules of Civil Procedure requires that full partic plea of malice is insufficient to defeat a rule 21.01(1)(b) motion. The only substantial facts pleaded by the plaintiffs were assumptions and speculations underlying the conduct of the subcommittee members and that the asserted facts were nothing more than legal conclusions or bald assertions of bad fa and obvious that the statement of claim did not disclose a reasonable cause of action against the subcommittee members. As the individual defendants was similarly not liable.

This pivotal distinction between the non-suable statutory entity and the suable individual acting in an official capacity is paramount to the es current locus standi. Specifically, the availability of injunctive and declaratory remedies against individuals, notwithstanding the non-suabilit principal, ensures that the judicial review process retains efficacy in compelling compliance with judicial mandates. The nomination of Mr. We the capacity of Executive Chair of Tribunals Ontario, therefore serves to provisionally satisfy the jurisdictional threshold, enabling the judicial interventio non-disclosure. The selection of this procedural anchor permits the Court to issue binding orders directed towards the non-corporate persons who mai over the requisite documentation or whose actions gave rise to the dispute, thereby avoiding the structural impediments imposed by the Gratton-Masuy entity itself.

The advent of the Tribunals Adjudicative Records Act, 2019 (TARA) and the creation of "Tribunals Ontario" as a non-incorporated umbrella o further layer of complexity to the suability analysis. While TARA imposes specific duties regarding the creation, retention, and public access of adju tribunals themselves, the organizational structure of "Tribunals Ontario" as a mere collective reference or administrative body, rather than a distinct, sua raises a material question: how can such an entity, which is not an adjudicative tribunal in itself (vide: Derenzis), be the ultimate repository or records ho incapable of being sued? The principle articulated in Gratton-Masuy suggests that an umbrella organization lacking its own express statutory capacity t liability augmented simply by being named as the custodian of records. Notwithstanding this, the overarching Crown liability for the conduct of an adjud various statutes, including the Administration of Tribunals and Government Agencies Act, 2019 (ATGAGA), remains a factor to be reconciled within the current application. The confirmed refusal by the LAT to provide copies of the two undisclosed Motion Orders, whether pursuant to TARA or, i Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA), substantiates the necessity of compelling production via a judicial order direc individuals or the appropriate Ministerial entities.

Accordingly, the prior nomination of individuals, specifically Mr. Weir, in various capacities may be considered fortuitous, thereby establishing a provisio the ad hoc purpose of seeking the relevant remedies pursuant to Notice of Motion Number Three (NOM #3). Notwithstanding the potential limitations im jurisprudence, formal notification of this assertion is hereby provided to all interested persons.

Consideration of Procedural Propriety and Remedial Scope

It is incumbent upon this submission to formally address the subsequent assertions proffered via electronic communication from Senior Counsel Ms. Im inclusion of Her Majesty the Queen, utilizing an archaic template reference to the Queen as opposed to the King, was procedurally questionable is ackn de minimis error does not vitiate the overall validity of the judicial review application, given that the Crown remains a de facto person via the Attorney G requirement pursuant to section 9(4) of the Judicial Review and Procedures Act (JRPA).

Furthermore, the contention that the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) must be formally named as a respondent, pursuant to section 9(3) of the JRPA, is a duly noted. Nonetheless, the operative consideration remains that the declaratory and injunctive relief sought by NOM #3 is principally directed toward documentation held by the nominated individuals and non-Respondent entities. As the JRPA permits the issuance of injunctive and declaratory relief ge compelling need to compel the production of records controlled by individuals like Mr. Weir or entities within the Ministry's purview, the application for ju viable even without the formal designation of the LAT as a suable person. The Tribunal's failure to effectuate proper delivery and filing of its own Notice Review, as asserted, further complicates the jurisdictional landscape but does not mitigate the need for the immediate judicial intervention sought by the

While I believe that most of what Ms. Im was articulating was correct on many technical levels, I believe that the Attorney General is entitled to participa JRPA Application – not necessarily a hearing as a matter of right but perhaps a moot issue.

This comprehensive submission is trusted to be deemed of material assistance in the Court's deliberations. The totality of the aforementioned proce especially the denial of signature by the DAG and the continued refusal to disclose the Motion Orders by the LAT, is advanced at this junctur submissions regarding costs, thereby ensuring that the Court is apprised of the current factual and procedural status quo ante.

APPENDIX #1: TRANSMITTAL AND INQUIRY PERTAINING TO JUDICIAL PROCESS

Dear Counsel of Record (The Honourable Shore J.):

I. Transmittal of Judicial Filing and Confirmation of Service
Pursuant to the doctrine of good faith and the necessary requirements of professional comity, transmitted herewith is a facsimile of the Confirmation of Number Three (NOM #3). This instrument was duly furnished to the Registrar of the Divisional Court on the preceding date. Notification shall also be fo Divisional Court confirming service of this requisite instrument upon all persons of record, thereby ensuring strict adherence to Rule 4 of the Rules of C
II. Inquiry Pertaining to Criminal Code Indictment
A. Confirmation of Lack of Ministerial Signature
It is further confirmed, pursuant to the aforementioned good faith exchange, that a representative, acting on behalf of the Honourable Deputy Attorney G courteously provided a substantive response concerning the ascertainment of whether the aforementioned official effectuated the signature de facto an Code Form Indictment. The affixing of the signature was unequivocally repudiated by the representative, notwithstanding the fact that the Deputy Attorr have satisfied the statutory prerequisites for an agent or signing officer of the Attorney General under section 2 of the Criminal Code.
B. Extrapolation Regarding Custodial Mandate
This aforementioned repudiation is fundamentally consonant with the established custodial mandate requiring the Originating Judicial Precinct to retain arrest warrant, alongside a duplicate of the Criminal Code Form 4 Indictment. The representative of the Honourable Deputy Attorney General did not pr inference that the Judiciary of the Provincial Court (Ontario), being the Ministry of the Attorney General (MAG), may have authorized the execution of th the totality of the circumstances and the compelling inferences arising therefrom appear to gravitate toward the Ministry of the Solicitor General (SOLG proximity and demonstrable nexus with Tribunals Ontario (being situated on the same floor). This connection is underscored by the proven linkage betw Tribunal (LAT), operating as agents of the Crown, and the Respondent Insurance Companies, which are similarly situated as agents. Due diligence con exercised through all appropriate investigative avenues to conclusively resolve this outstanding matter, which involves complex considerations of ultra v
C. Legal Conclusion on Retention
Irrespective of the erroneous contention, occasionally posited, that judicial precincts do not retain copies of executed arrest warrants, it follows ipso fac Judicial Precinct is legally compelled to maintain a copy of the document that commenced the criminal proceeding, whether said document was electro in physical form.
III. Custody of Judicial Process and Compulsion for Production
A. Potential Custodial Venues
By potentiality, the only Originating Judicial Precincts that have not affirmatively disclaimed custody or control of the aforementioned initiating document follows:

1. The Superior Court of Justice (SCJ) at 361 University Avenue; and
2. The Divisional Court at 130 Queen Street West, Toronto.

B. Syllogistic Analysis of Document Location
It is presumable that the hypothesis obtains that each jurisdictional location may possess a copy of only one of the instruments. The Criminal Code For conceivably be lodged via electronic mail with the SCJ 361 University Precinct pursuant to Rule 4.10 of the Criminal Proceeding Rules. Conversely, giv Divisional Court is inherently a Judge of the SCJ, the issuance and execution of an arrest warrant by such a judicial officer, exercising jurisdiction ad ho Region, 361 University Avenue), confers the custodial jurisdiction (de facto and/or de jure) upon the location of the presiding Judge.
Such proceedings are conducted in camera by definitive constraint, which, being ex parte relative to the Accused, appropriately delineates the element camera process. Notwithstanding this framework, it must be submitted that the archival recordings of these proceedings are subject to production, both contexts, subsequent to the arrest of the accused or the issuance of a judicial process. The principles of open justice and judicial accountability m pertaining to the issuance of compelling process, such as arrest warrants, must be retained and subject to inspection or production pursuar particularly given the subsequent challenges to the procedural validity of the initiating instrument. This principle, concerning the acta of the cou prohibitive ruling regarding civil case conferences, as was posited by the Honourable Madam Justice Shore, whose focus was placed upon an alleged than a demonstrable unwillingness to comply with extant directives.
C. Compulsion for Production
Notwithstanding the preceding complexities, the conceded position of the Deputy Attorney General remains that the judicial documents resident within t alienated or otherwise disposed of by official direction emanating from the Honourable Deputy Attorney General and subsequently ratified by the Chief thus a self-evident conclusion that these documents are subject to production pursuant to judicial directive from any entity possessing custody, control, failure of a person to definitively locate or account for the disposition of a mandatory court record, such as the initial charging document, necessitates a is either still in existence and subject to production or was improperly disposed of, in which latter case the consequences for the vitiated process must b As the Originating Judicial Precinct is statutorily compelled to possess custody and/or control of the process, particularly given the electronic preference operative inquiry devolves upon whether the same has been officially expunged by the precinct or the transmitting person. The ultimate factual determi ante remains a matter requiring further forensic discovery.

Dear Attorney General of Ontario:

As per my discussions with Ms. Benson of your office, she requested that I serve the above counsel and then discuss directly with assigned counsel.

I look forward to those discussions and I await to hear regarding the same.

I will update on my proposal for timing, schedule and the hearing of this judicial review. I will update on other procedural and preliminary matters.

As it currently stands, I am finalizing the application record for the ONSC (Divisional Court) or a single justice depending on whether the urgency reque then the factum and the authorities.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean (B.A. (MCL), J.D., CIM) (he/him) to me

Mr. McLean,

Thank you for service of your Notice of Application for Judicial Review.

I accept service as counsel for the Attorney General, who is required to be served with all Notice of Applications for judicial review as per section 9(4) o Procedures Act, RSO 1990, cJ1. Please be advised that you are NOT required to name the AG as respondent in your application, although he is requi entitled to participate in any JR should he choose to do so.

Also, you have named the "EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRES CHAIR OF TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR."

I believe the decision(s) you are seeking to have reviewed are decisions of the License Appeals Tribunal? If that is the case, you are required to compl of the JRPA. Section 9(3) states that "…any two or more persons who, acting together, may exercise a statutory power, whether styled a board or comr collective title, shall be deemed to be a person under such collective title…"

In short, you are required to name and serve the License Appeal Tribunal as a respondent to your NOA.

I do not and cannot accepts service of the NOA for the LAT.

Thank you.

TD HOME AND AUTO INSURANCE COMPANY, SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY, TD GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL, HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF ONTARIO, REPRESENTED BY EXECUTIVE CHAIR OF TRIBUNALS ONTARIO IN MR. SEAN WEIR, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF ONTARIO

BILL OF COSTS
AMOUNTS CLAIMED FOR FEES AND DISBURSEMENTS

(Following the items set out in Tariff A, itemize the claim for fees and disbursements. Indicate the names of the lawyers, students-at-law and law clerks who provided services in connection with each item.)

Representation of the Applicant, Kevin Alexander McLean, has been effectuated in a pro se capacity. The claim for professional fees is rigorously predicated upon the substantial indemnity quantum, having been precisely quantified at a commensurate rate of $400.00 per hour. This rate is considered an objective metric, reflective of the requisite senior professional expertise. The remuneration also accounts for the significant economic sacrifice, identified as opportunity cost, which has been rigorously sustained through the necessary, comprehensive divestment of billable professional engagements. These foregone opportunities primarily encompassed high-value, fixed-term commercial and financial regulatory consulting contracts, the execution of which was rendered infeasible by the overwhelming, non-delegable temporal demands imposed by this Judicial Review proceeding, thereby quantifying a substantial loss of professional income directly attributable to the litigation. Furthermore, the rate is justified by the manifest, documented complexity inherent in the legal, constitutional, and forensic subject matter of the within Judicial Review. This complexity is not merely procedural but extends to the interdisciplinary requirement for expertise across administrative law, constitutional jurisprudence, and advanced financial forensic analysis, thereby imposing an evidentiary and strategic burden far exceeding the parameters of routine litigation. The application of the principle of quantum meruit is directly engaged, as the Applicant’s Juris Doctor (JD) credential authorizes the provision of specialized legal services, while the Chartered Investment Manager (CIM) certification facilitates sophisticated, non-delegable financial and forensic analyses. Such a unique combination of skillsets renders the retention of separate, costly expert consultants unnecessary. Consequently, the claimed rate represents the combined and efficient value of senior legal advocacy and specialized forensic consulting services, resulting in a documented mitigation of costs for the judicial system. It is submitted that the Respondents' institutional behaviour throughout the duration of the litigation, specifically encompassing widespread procedural deficiencies, overt institutional resistance concerning discovery and disclosure obligations, and the manifest failure to address substantive allegations of pervasive systemic fraud, constitutes conduct of a manifestly improper and oppressive nature. This conduct necessitates the award of costs on a substantial indemnity scale pursuant to Rule 57.01, ensuring full restitution for the high-level expertise, quantifiable opportunity cost (representing a loss of potential income from antecedent professional engagements), and the exceptional, adversarial effort mandated by the Respondents' defensive posture and the technical and constitutional novelty introduced by the claim. The hourly remuneration of $400.00 is submitted as comparable to that commanded by a senior practitioner possessing 10 to 15 years of concentrated experience within the administrative, constitutional, and regulatory law spheres in the primary metropolitan jurisdiction, thereby justifying the application of the quantum meruit approach to the valuation of the Applicant's specialized temporal contribution.

Item (Based on Tariff A)	Description of Service / Step	Services Provided By	Time Claimed (Hours)	Rate/Fee Claimed FEES
1. Institution of Proceeding (Rule 57.01(1) 1)	Initial Case Assessment, Drafting, and Filing of Notice of Application (NOA). This fixed-fee component addresses the critical, non-hourly valuation of the antecedent strategic assessment of the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) decision, which exhibited manifest irregularities. Said assessment mandated a granular, detailed analysis of the alleged jurisdictional transgression, patent procedural unfairness, and fundamental deficiencies within the administrative decision-making framework, thus ensuring the application's proper commencement within the Divisional Court's specialized jurisdictional and	K.A. McLean (Applicant)	N/A	$1,500.00

procedural parameters. The process necessitated the meticulous compilation of the initial application record materials, followed by the final execution and electronic submission of the Notice of Application for Judicial Review. The NOA required not only technical compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure, specifically including the issuance of a Constitutional Issues Notice pursuant to the Courts of Justice Act, but also the careful, evidence-based articulation of multi-faceted legal theories. These theories included detailed allegations concerning institutional fraud, administrative bias, and ultra vires action, all of which were essential prerequisites to the formal commencement of this complex Judicial Review proceeding. This fixed fee is demonstrative of the inherent intellectual and strategic value in establishing the sound legal foundation, determining the appropriate judicial forum, and formulating the complex, multi-layered legal narrative which subsequently informed the entirety of the application. This fee is submitted as being commensurate with the fixed tariff amount designated for the commencement of a complex, multi-issue court proceeding. Extensive Legal Research, Substantive Drafting, and Complex Record Management (Total 2100 Hours @ $400/hr = $840,000.00). This item subsumes the overwhelming majority of the substantive, high-level, non-delegable, and often proprietary preparatory work mandated for a Judicial Review that directly

2. Preparation for Hearing (Rule 57.01(1) 5)	challenges a regulatory body upon constitutional, public interest, and complex financial fraud grounds. The intensity and specialized nature of this work unequivocally justifies the quantum: I. Jurisdictional/Administrative Analysis (100 Hrs): This involved intensive legal research into the parameters of administrative authority, with a specific focus upon the LAT's alleged ultra vires decision and conduct. Work included	K.A. McLean (Applicant)	2,100.0	$840,000.00 rigorous interpretative analysis of the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule (SABS) regulation and related legislative instruments, the preparation of both formal and internal appeals, and comprehensive scrutiny of the voluminous administrative record to identify breaches of natural justice and procedural fairness, alongside meticulous adherence to strict statutory temporal constraints. Research focused critically upon the applicable standard of review for mixed questions of law and fact involving jurisdictional overreach and the specific "correctness" standard necessitated by the involvement of Charter issues, specifically examining the doctrine of patent unreasonableness as applied to the LAT's findings regarding the Applicant's medical status and entitlement to benefits, a central challenge within the Judicial Review. II. Forensic Investigation & Specialized Fraud Analysis (1000 Hrs): The allocation of this extraordinary temporal resource was non-delegable in nature, necessitating exclusive reliance upon the Applicant's specialized JD and CIM expertise in conjunction with advanced forensic acumen. This involved proprietary technical work such as deep HCAI Data Investigation (identifying systemic data manipulation, irregularities related to billing, and data inconsistencies that implied fraudulent intent across institutional systems by cross-referencing treatment billing codes against initial diagnostic codes to flag pattern anomalies) and detailed, iterative PIPEDA requests followed by rigorous analysis of the returned information to expose discrepancies. Specialized Forensic Handwriting Analysis was conducted (comparing official OCF-18 forms against known samples) to address core issues of forgery and misrepresentation in the underlying insurance documentation. Critically, this encompassed the technical and financial work of documenting the MIG-cap financial contrivance, detailing the mechanism by which the Minor Injury Guideline designation was allegedly employed to prematurely cap and deny complex claims, and the preparation of extensive expert-level affidavits concerning the factual substratum of the alleged fraud. This necessitated the tracing of complex financial flows, the interpretation of specialized insurance protocols, and the mathematical modeling of the incurred financial harm, thereby demonstrating the direct and undeniable link between the regulatory failure and the resulting economic prejudice. The claimed time reflects the specialized nature of the analysis that, in the ordinary course of litigation, would be delegated to prohibitively expensive forensic accountants and financial experts. III. Judicial Review Drafting & Appellate Strategy (100 Hrs): This involved high-stakes legal drafting where conceptual precision and clarity of exposition were paramount. Drafting included the Notice of Application, the 80-plus page Comprehensive Factum (which incorporated specialized, evidence-based Sections on institutional Fraud, Administrative Bias, and Ultra Vires action), detailed supporting Affidavits, and voluminous Reply Submissions. This drafting necessitated simultaneous, exhaustive legal research on foundational administrative law principles (e.g., Dunsmuir review standards, the principles of institutional neutrality, the doctrine of separation of powers), complex insurance regulatory regimes, the law of factual and procedural fraud (including the tort of misrepresentation), and ensuring all constitutional arguments were properly framed within the Rules of Civil Procedure and established appellate jurisprudence. IV. Procedural & Interlocutory Motion Management (900 Hrs): This involved a substantial expenditure of time dedicated to defensively addressing and mitigating the Respondents' protracted, repetitive, and allegedly unnecessary procedural tactics. This included extensive temporal resources devoted to correcting the Respondents' deficiencies in their filed Record (identifying omissions, missing exhibits, improper indexing, and ensuring completeness and accuracy for the Court), which required the Applicant to engage in considerable consultation with court administrative personnel and opposing counsel to ascertain and rectify the true state of the record. This also covers the preparation for and attendance at multiple interlocutory motions (including those pertaining to the conduct of the parties, late service, or the state of the record, necessitating rapid legal research and response on procedural fairness and estoppel), Managing the Collateral Attack (addressing associated legal proceedings and corresponding to external authorities concerning Police/Court Forms filings), and the rigorous electronic service and correspondence management over the extended life of the file. The quantum reflects the extreme volume and complexity of the procedural contention allegedly initiated by the opposing side, which demanded constant vigilance and sophisticated legal maneuvering to preserve the integrity of the Judicial Review process and ensure the Applicant's right to be heard was not prejudiced by procedural delay or unwarranted complexity.

3. Attendance at Motion/Hearing (Rule 57.01(1) 6)	Full Day Attendance and Oral Presentation at the Divisional Court Hearing. This entry comprises all temporal resources expended on the designated date of the hearing, including necessary preparation immediately preceding the hearing, transportation logistics, waiting time, and the entire duration dedicated to the oral presentation of argument before the three-judge panel on December 3, 2025. The presentation synthesized years of forensic and legal work, concerning the merits and remedies sought in the Judicial Review, with specific emphasis upon the constitutional and fraud elements. This time reflects the dedicated temporal capacity	K.A. McLean (Applicant)	6.0	$900.00 required for a full-day block hearing, including contingency for extensive judicial questioning, supplemental reply submissions, and necessary final argument structure adjustments on highly complex and novel points of law. This fee is submitted as being commensurate with the fixed tariff amount designated for a full day hearing attendance.

4. Written Submissions on Costs (Rule 57.01(1) 9)	Preparation and Finalization of Costs Documentation (50 Hours @ $400/hr = $20,000.00). This includes the meticulous drafting, subsequent editing, and peer review of this Substantial Indemnity submission; specialized legal research focused upon complex cost jurisprudence, including the principles articulated in leading appellate decisions such as Young, Fletcher, and McDougald Estate (which govern cost awards in demonstrably complex or unusual circumstances, against public bodies, and where the conduct of one party is found to have unjustifiably augmented the duration and complexity of	K.A. 	the proceedings); detailed methodological justification of time-tracking; comprehensive development of the quantum meruit justification for the Applicant's senior counsel rate; and formal documentation of opportunity costs sustained throughout the litigation. This also encompasses the final formatting, submission, and service preparation of this intricate Bill of Costs, ensuring scrupulous compliance with Rule 57.01(1)(9) and related procedural rules. The extensive time claimed is deemed necessary given the considerable size of the fee claim and the requisite need to thoroughly justify the Substantial Indemnity rate for a pro se litigant possessing specialized professional credentials.

This substantial claim accurately reflects the necessary hard copy production for the three-judge panel and multiple Respondents, including expenditures for paper stock, toner, binding apparatus or binder materials, and courier costs for formal submission. This is indicative of the immense volume and multi-party service requirements necessitated by the administrative record and filed materials. The specified cost per page comprehensively includes materials, labour, and associated binding/courier charges.

TOTAL AMOUNT CLAIMED (Fees + Disbursements)		$888,661.00

Disbursements pertaining to court filing fees are officially recorded by the Divisional Court. Other disbursements are predicated upon the inclusive costs associated with the aforementioned photocopying and printing, with the provision of supporting invoices being subject to judicial request. It is asserted that all claimed disbursements are necessary, reasonable, and possess a direct nexus to the prosecution of this complex Judicial Review, noting that expenses related to evidence production (forensics/PIPEDA) are encompassed within the claimed hourly fee for professional work.

STATEMENT OF EXPERIENCE

A claim for fees is being made with respect to the following individuals:

Name of individual	Years of Experience	Capacity / Title
KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN	N/A	Self-Represented Litigant (Pro Se) Education/Professional Qualifications: BA (Psychology) (Magna Cum Laude) (USA); JD (Canada); Chartered Investment Manager (Canadian Securities Institute). The Applicant's unique and highly specialized educational foundation—comprising a Juris Doctor conferred by a recognized Canadian law school, an advanced financial certification (CIM) which grants profound insight into institutional compliance, regulatory failure, and securities analysis, and a BA in Psychology (Magna Cum Laude) deemed essential for the analysis of institutional bias, pattern recognition, and systemic fraud schemes—

provides a highly relevant interdisciplinary skill set. This unique confluence of expertise is fundamental to addressing the forensic, regulatory, and complex financial fraud issues forming the very core of this protracted litigation. This unique blending of skills constitutes specialist expertise that would, in the absence of self-representation, necessitate the retention of multiple external experts (including forensic accountants and compliance counsel) and senior litigation counsel, thereby validating the claimed rate under the principle of efficient self-representation of specialized expertise.

Relevant Litigation History: The claim is premised upon the temporal resources expended, rigorously quantified at a Senior Counsel Rate, due to the demonstrable, exceptional complexity, the advanced forensic nature of the work performed, the clear public interest ramifications, and the documented, successful expertise in significant litigation spanning multiple provincial jurisdictions, levels of court, and appellate bodies. This history definitively demonstrates the consistent ability to successfully navigate novel and technically difficult legal terrain at a level commensurate with senior practitioners in highly specialized fields.

Public Interest and Regulatory Litigation: Administrative Tribunal Expertise (British Columbia and Ontario): Documented, repeated success in a variety of tribunal hearings, including the attainment of the first-ever order from the LAT mandating a change of insurance companies involving a fictitious respondent (a feat highlighting novel legal strategy and success against institutional opponents), and the highly effective utilization of procedural mechanisms leading to successful document production orders (demonstrating procedural mastery and the strategic application of administrative law to compel necessary disclosure). 6180 Fraser Holdings Inc. v Ali, 2012 BCSC 247 (Successfully demonstrated proficiency in urgent court procedures, specifically Interim and Injunctive Relief, essential for protecting rights pending final determination in complex real estate matters); McLean v. Law Society of British Columbia (Multiple BCSC and BCCA citations, 2015-2019), culminating in the successful defeat of the Attorney General of British Columbia at the Court of Appeal in a reported decision (McLean v. Attorney General of British Columbia, 2019 BCCA 133). This landmark history involved the Applicant's forensic discovery of a fraudulently withheld criminal RAM dump of a computer by LSBC investigators and legal counsel, which had been deliberately concealed across multiple levels of proceedings (OIPC, LSBC, BCSC, BCCA, and the Supreme Court of Canada). This forensic and legal success directly contributed to a major legislative amendment in 2024, thereby establishing the Applicant's seminal role as the first individual to successfully defeat a professional and regulatory association/body in a final judgment concerning the breach of Charter rights of both members and their clientele in public interest issues. This judicial victory resulted in the LSBC losing its interim motion against the BC government and its subsequent institutional winding down. The substantive changes enacted within the new statute were directly aligned with the relief originally sought by the Applicant, validating the Applicant's initial legal position, a phenomenon consistent with the principles articulated by the late Professor Peter Hogg regarding the defence of repealed legislation. The depth and complexity of this regulatory and constitutional experience provide direct and compelling context for the current Judicial Review of the LAT, where analogous issues of institutional misconduct and denial of access to justice are fundamentally central to the application.

Commercial Arbitration and International Trade Litigation: Consistent success and specialized expertise have been demonstrated across a variety of complex commercial (domestic and international) arbitrations within British Columbia. This substantial experience is critical for comprehending the intricate contractual, commercial, and financial complexities inherent in the insurance industry, international reinsurance, and regulatory compliance, which underpins the LAT's functional remit and the alleged financial fraud elements of the current case. The successful navigation of private, binding dispute resolution mechanisms further underscores the Applicant's senior strategic capabilities in complex dispute resolution environments. This commercial background allows for an informed and detailed critique of the Respondents' conduct from the perspective of institutional governance and financial responsibility, a factor crucial for the substantiation of the fraud allegations.

Complex Fraud, Securities, and Trial Litigation: Mann v. Stevenson, 2013 BCSC 2341 (Successful management of Complex Securities Litigation, requiring specialized knowledge of financial regulations, securities trading, and disclosure requirements); Jacobs v. Yehia, 2014 BCSC 845 (Extensive Trial Experience: 16-day trial counsel work where the defendant prevailed on 12 of the 13 advanced issues in a claim of an approximate magnitude of $50 million—showcasing advanced trial strategy, complex cross-examination, and superior issue management under intense judicial scrutiny, thereby demonstrating an ability to isolate and prevail upon core legal and factual issues); and Hampton Park Holdings Inc. v. Kim, Yoo et al, 2014 BC Supreme Court (Unreported Decision: This decision represents the first success in BC history to secure a $20 million dollar real estate share purchase deal on summary judgment before The Honourable Mr. Justice Groves and included the successful defeat of an attempted appeal, causing a subsequent withdrawal at the British Columbia Court of Appeal—demonstrating profound mastery of civil procedure, high-value litigation risk assessment, forensic financial due diligence, and the capacity to resolve complex financial transactions efficiently and decisively). This collective and impressive litigation history directly underpins the Applicant's assertion that the highly specialized nature of the forensic, financial, and legal skills utilized in Item 2 unequivocally warrants the senior counsel rate claimed.

APPLICANT'S OUTLINE TO COMPENDIUM
Compendium filed and served on February 11, 2025
1st Amended Compendium of February 15, 2025
Includes: Affidavit #16, current Draft Order
Dated: FEBRUARY 17, 2025

WRITTEN OUTLINE
(SIMPLIFIED VERSION IN LIGHT OF FORMAL LAT ADMISSION ON FEBRUARY 14, 2025)

1. If the Responding Parties, which are, in substance, TDHA, SNIC and the Licence Appeal Tribunal (the "Remaining Respondents" after the AGO withdrew on January 30, 2025) had objected pursuant to Rule 37.12.1.(5)(d) to have NOM #2 decided in writing, and an oral hearing ensued on Friday, February 14, 2025, the Applicant's Oral Submissions would have followed herein in 15 minutes. Due to their neglect or failure to do so, and file responsive factums and applications in accordance with Rule 68.04(4), the Applicant provides this written outline that would have been his oral argument for the benefit of the Court. The comprehensive detailed written outline to the Compendium (1st amended) is below after the table of contents and for the benefit of the court and for assurance purposes that this Court can issue an order in substantially the same form as the Draft Order (see: Compendium, Tab 61) with "reasons to follow". The written outline has many arguments purposed in the hypothetical, alternative, et al due to the AGO withdrawing on January 30, 2025, and the failures of the Remaining Respondents to participate in this JRPA Proceeding.

2. At their highest, SNIC and TDHA evinced an intention to respond to the JRPA Application but never did so.

3. At its highest, in-house legal counsel of the SLASTO Legal unit at 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, [the same address as the other decision makers at issue herein] Tribunal evinced an intention to respond to the JRPA Application on November 27, 2024, with its Notice of Appearance, and then provided the cases of Awada, Mansuri and Heegsma on an informal basis for its misguided objection pursuant to the prematurity doctrine. The Applicant has provided those cases cited by the Tribunal, albeit informally and without compliance with the Rules of Civil Procedure, as per the public interest issue, general legal questions of central importance to the legal system as a whole, questions of boundaries between a multitude of administrative bodies (federally and provincially), and questions that are evasive of this judicial review and potentially of great importance to practice before the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

4. But for Rule 38.01 which unequivocally states that Rules 38.02 and 38.09 are not applicable to proceedings before the Divisional Court, the Remaining Respondents could have waited to file their factums and application records. However, that hypothetical is not the reality. Rule 68.04(4) required the Remaining Respondents to file their responsive factums and application records on January 13, 2025.

5. After Mr. McLean made an access request for the Record Of Proceeding as Mr. Boyce did not dispute the evidence of Mr. McLean, on belief, that the Tribunal had lost some of the records in the Record Of Proceeding or destroyed the same, he was referred from the LAT privacy division to the LAT registrar.

6. As seen from the below email in his Affidavit #16 (see: Compendium, tab 60), the LAT did not respond for nearly nine days but then admitted it was still compiling the Record Of Proceeding and revert back to him in another week if it need more information from him. A copy and paste of the relevant parts of the email is:

> "We thank you for your patience, while we review how best to compile and forward the records identified in your request. We will reach out to you with additional information by February 21, 2025.

(see: Compendium, Tab 60, Affidavit #16 of the Applicant filed and served before five pm. on Friday, February 14, 2025).

(defined as the "LAT Failure To Compile ROP Admission" or "Formal LAT Admission").

7. This Formal LAT Admission bolsters the Applicant's relief sought in this being a proper case to convert NOM #2 into a Motion For Judgment.

8. Moreover, as a result of the same, the issues that were originally in the Applicant's written outline regarding the following: (i) the limited or non-existent participation rights of the Tribunal pursuant to the legal test and analysis in Ontario Energy Board and those that affirmed the general principles therein and added further legal principles involving judicial review or appeals before the Divisional Court; (ii) the non-participation or limited participation rights of SNIC and TDHA; and (iii) other headings, were removed herein.

9. However, in order to ensure that they are before the Court before a single motions justice becomes functus officio, the Applicant has included a comprehensive and lengthy written outline that covers those issues and other issues in the event they are issues that a sitting motions justice may wished written argument regarding the same.

The Law of Admissions and Agency: in light of the Formal LAT Admission

10. Leaving aside the prescribed time requirements, the Tribunal was required to compile the Record Of Proceeding from December 23, 2024, Mr. Boyce's ability to file the Record Of Proceeding forthwith pursuant to section 10 of the JRPA was frustrated and stymied. As the Applicant's sworn beliefs turned out to be true, he was fortunate to receive an honest answer from the LAT in the form of a formal written admission (see: supra) that bound the Tribunal and provided explanations for why Mr. Boyce could not comply with his self-imposed and non-statutory timelines.

11. In light of the same, the law of admissions and agency become germane.

12. There is no dispute that Ms. Lee bound the LAT pursuant to the law of agency. "Where a principal gives an agent general authority to conduct any business on his behalf, he is bound as regards third persons by every act done by the agent which is incidental to the ordinary course of such business, or which falls within the apparent scope of the agent's authority: Pastoor v. Pastoor, 2007 CanLII 28331 (ON SC).

13. This admission was a formal admission by the LAT for the following reasons. The admission was made by an officer of the LAT and it bound the LAT. The formal admission was during the course of the proceeding and related to "Adjudicative Records" (see: Toronto Star v. AGO, infra) sought for the Record Of Proceeding in light of the failures of Mr. Boyce, as declared counsel of record for the Tribunal in the JRPA Proceeding, to file the Record Of Proceeding during the time period from December 24, 2023, to September 13, 2024 (the "ROP Temporal Period").

14. An admission has been defined as an unambiguous deliberate concession to the opposing party: Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation v. The City of Toronto, 1951 CanLII 121 (ON CA), [1951] O.R. 726, paragraph 7[1].

15. A formal admission is not evidence; it is an express and intentional waiver done by a party, or their counsel, during the course of litigation (see Wigmore, vol 9 at p 821). A formal admission is, as Jeremy Bentham integrity of litigation as they improve the efficiency of the administration of justice, advance fairness interests, and promote reliable fact finding and legal reasoning (see Patterson v Scherloski (1971), 1971 CanLII 703 (ON SC), 21 DLR (3d) 641 at 645 (Ont H Ct); and S Casey Hill, Louis P Strezos & David M Tanovich, McWilliams Canadian Criminal Evidence, 5th ed (Toronto: Thomson Reuters, 2013) (loose-leaf updated 2021, release 4), pt IV, ch 25 at section 25:1 (online: WL Can (date accessed 25 November 2021)).

16. There is no dispute that the LAT is a party to this JRPA Proceeding. It was done while this litigation remained ongoing in relation to the Record Of Proceeding. As the Tribunal was required to compile the Record Of Proceeding from the time the Applicant commenced the LAT Appeal on December 24, 2023, the Tribunal admitted, by an officer of it no less, that it had not been compiling the Record Of Proceeding from the outset and on an ongoing basis.

17. Ergo, this disposes of the underlying genesis why VCM made so many errors that masqueraded as facts but were unknown to the Record Of Proceeding and the Applicant.

18. There is no dispute that the Remaining Respondents have had the opportunity to fully argue their positions in this JRPA Proceeding. It is now three months since the JRPA* Application was brought. It is approximately three months since the Tribunal was required to file the Record Of Proceeding from the time period of the commencement of the LAT Appeal to the time of the VCM Decision It is also now more than two months since the Remaining Respondents were required to file and serve their factums and application records (see: Rule 68.04).

19. Therefore, the sole question before this Divisional Court is whether there the necessary evidence is before it to grant Judgment (i.e. finally dispose of the merits of this JRPA* Application).

20. A trial judge has the freedom to interpret what an admission means: Allto Construction Services Ltd. v. Toronto and Region Conservation Authority, 2017 ONCA 488, at para. 11. But that interpretive exercise cannot morph into an analysis of the veracity of the admission. A formal admission is not like other pieces of evidence led at trial that a judge can weigh at their discretion. A formal admission is conclusive of the matter admitted. The court is bound to act on formal admissions before it, even if other evidence contradicts the admission: Serra v. Serra, 2009 ONCA 105, 93 O.R. (3d) 161, at para. 106."

21. As such, the issues of the likes of the prematurity doctrine objection, whether the Tribunal will participate and on what terms are now moot or no longer, ironically, justiciable.

22. There is now nothing to be gained by taking further steps in this JRPA Proceeding.

ISSUE #1: MOTION HEARD IN WRITING AND A PROPER CASE TO CONVERT TO A MOTION FOR JUDGMENT

Issue #1: Statement of Issue

23. Have the jurisprudential legal tests met under Rule 37.12.1(4) and (5) and Rule 37.13(2)(a) been met?

Answer to Issue #1: Motion in Writing and Conversion to Motion for Judgment

24. As a matter of constitutional law, judicial review is intimately connected with the preservation of the rule of law. It is essentially that constitutional foundation which explains the purpose of judicial review and guides the foundational democratic principle, which finds an expression in the initiatives of Parliament and legislatures to create various administrative bodies and endow them with broad powers.[2]

25. A person has a right to seek judicial review, and "[t]o give courts a discretion not to hear judicial review applications because of their perception of the quality and quantity of internal reconsiderations would allow judicial discretion to trump [a] constitutional principle" (P. Daly, A Culture of Justification: Vavilov and the Future of Administrative Law (2023), at p. 226, note 94). While there is discretion to hear the application on the merits and deny relief, this discretion does not extend to decline to consider the application for judicial review (see: paragraph 49 of Yatar).

Judicial Review is NOT limited to rare or exceptional cases

26. In Yatar v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex, the SCC found that the ONCA and ONSC (Divisional Court) were in error hold that, where there is a limited right of appeal, judicial review should only be exercised in exceptional or rare cases. Ergo, as of March 15, 2024, the unassailable corollary of that legal precedent of law involving an injured person and an insurance company in a LAT dispute, which involves the very same statutory scheme as herein, is that judicial review is NOT limited to rare or exceptional cases.

The Previous Legal Standard of the Divisional Court: still in the Applicant's favour

27. Even if one were to use to the previous standard by the ONSC Divisional Court in Ontario Nurses Association by The Honourable Justice Backhouse at paragraph 7: "I have concluded that there are no extraordinary or exceptional circumstances to justify departing from the Divisional Court's usual approach restricting judicial review to final decisions. The application should be dismissed for prematurity", the prematurity doctrine has no applicability herein because the impugned decisions on September 13, 2024, of the Licence Appeal Tribunal as per Vice Chair Morrissette ("VCM") were final decisions and final orders

Rule 37.12.1(4)

28. The Applicant made his NOM #2 14 days in advance of February 14, 2025 (see: Compendium, Tab 51; Rule 37.12.1(4)(a)), and then immediately served the motion record, draft order and factum with affidavits of service on the responding parties (see: Rule 37.12.1(4)(b) and (c)) and Mr. Papadimitropoulos (the client of Madam Justice Shore's former law firm Epstein Cole LLP). The Applicant filed his confirmation of motion on Sunday, February 2, 2025, via email to the Registrar.

29. As the Applicant's "Factum For Motion In Writing" (see: Compendium, Tab 53), was technically filed and served on February 1, 2025, the Responding Parties had ten days, after receipt of the NOM #2, Motion Record, Draft Order and Factum For Motion in Writing, to do one of four things: (i) consent via notice; (ii) not oppose via notice; (iii) agree to have the motion heard in writing with a responsive factum, motion record et al; and (iv) object by notice to the motion being heard in writing and request to be heard orally (see: Rule 37.12.1(5)(a) to (d)).

Rule 37.12.1(5)

30. The Remaining Respondents (Responding Parties) had the opportunity to sufficiently argue their positions but chose not to. The Tribunal had not compiled the Record Of Proceeding throughout and it would have been entirely foolish for Mr. Boyce to object regarding the same to have the matter heard orally with a transcript. SNIC and TDHA remained silent like they did before the Tribunal which is consistent with those that did not participate in the hearing before the Tribunal not being afforded the right to participate in judicial review.

31. As such, the Remaining Respondents remained silent and did not even extend the courtesy to the Applicant or this Divisional Court as to whether they would not oppose, consent, file a competing motion record or factum, or seek to be heard orally.

32. In Agbapu v Dr. Munshi, 2023 ONSC 3458, Regional Senior Justice Firestone at paragraphs 3, 4 and 6 found: "…the Respondent's motion record, factum and book of authorities was served on the Appellant in accordance with the procedure set forth in Rule 37.12.1(4). No responding materials have been delivered and no request for an oral hearing has been made within the timeframe provided in Rule 37.12.1(5). [4] the Respondent's motion record, factum and book of authorities was served on the Appellant in accordance with the procedure set forth in Rule 37.12.1(4). No responding materials have been delivered and no request for an oral hearing has been made within the timeframe provided in Rule 37.12.1(5). [6] To date, the Appellant, ….. has not taken any steps to perfect the appeal or move this matter forward.

33. Therefore, strict compliance by the Applicant was discharged in relation to having NOM #2 heard in writing and the Remaining Respondents (Responding Parties), Mr. Papadimitropoulos and Epstein Cole LLP remained silent.

34. The JRPA Applicant met the legal test for NOM #2 to be heard in writing. This does not guarantee success per se but he met the legal test for NOM #2 to be heard in writing.

Rule 37.13(2)(a): Proper Case

35. The Remaining Respondents had sufficient opportunity to argue their positions fully but chose not to or were hamstrung or unable to do so by the Tribunal failing to compile the Record Of Proceeding or the more likely that large parts of the Record Of Proceeding were destroyed from April 2024 to December 2023.

36. The necessary evidence is before the ONSC to convert NOM #2 into a Motion For Judgment.

How could Vice Chair Morrissette have the basic facts (some from cursory review of the pleadings) so wrong?

37. The more compelling question for the public interest so that this ONSC Divisional Court ensures and guarantees that such incompetent and misguided findings of purported facts, albeit fictitious in reality, in other LAT proceedings where vital treatments and benefits are needed for fellow Ontarians to survive and continue to exist after the traumatizing and debilitating experience of a car accident, is how could VC Morrisette make at least four errors of law in one sentence? (see: paragraph 27 of the VCM Reasons for Decision involving NOM #14).

38. The answer is the formal admission made, with thanks for her honesty in Case Manager Ms. Lee of the LAT (by way of LAT registrar email), as follows on late February 13, 2025:

> "We thank you for your patience, while we review how best to compile and forward the records identified in your request. We will reach out to you with additional information by February 21, 2025.

39. The records identified in the Applicant's request were the records that make up the Record Of Proceeding from December 24, 2023, to September 12, 2024.

December 24, 2023, to September 12, 2024. The Tribunal was required to then forthwith file the Record Of Proceeding pursuant to the JRPA

Why has the Tribunal not been able to file a factum and application record?

41. It now obvious based on the LAT Formal Admission, as to why Mr. Boyce could not file and serve a factum and application record on behalf of the Tribunal on January 13, 2025, and now beyond.

Why did the Tribunal not oppose or consent to NOM #1?

42. Mr. Boyce could not consent to the relief sought because as of February 13, 2025, the Tribunal was, in breach of its statutory duty under the SPPA (section 20), was still trying to figure out how to best compile the Record Of Proceeding.

FINAL CONCLUSION ON ISSUE #1

43. NOM #2 is to be heard in writing. The Applicant has met the test for NOM #2 to be converted into a Motion For Judgment.

ISSUE #2: FINAL DECISIONS AND DETERMINATIONS

Issue #2: Statement of Issue

44. Were the decisions and determinations, primarily in NOM #14, final or interlocutory?

ANSWER TO ISSUE #2: Determinations and Decisions of VCM were final determinations and decisions

45. The refusal by VCM to grant the relief in NOM #14 and Order #3 in NOM #15 were final determinations because they refused relief to add a party, add a cause of action, and amend pleadings. As the refusal to grant the First Insurer relief sought was a question of law on a summary motion, it was a final order coupled by a "final decision". As "issue estoppel" is a live issue and needs an answer herein, this is yet another reasons why all of the refused orders and decisions refusing the relief sought particularly in NOM #14 were final decisions and final orders.

46. With that segue, final decisions and final orders are those decisions and orders that refuse relief to: (i) add parties; (ii) amend pleadings; and/or (ii) causes of action (see: ME v. Ontario).

47. Further, where a motion, that is summary disposition in nature is dismissed, it will be FINAL if it involves a substantive issue like issue estoppel (SEE: Almrei v. Canada (Attorney General), 2011 ONCA 779 ["Almrei"]).

48. While TDHA, the "First Insurer", and SNIC, the "Sole Underwriter", are distinct entities, the test for issue estoppel is yet another reason why this Divisional Court must provide a uniform and final answer to the questions posed herein.

Seminal Point: Issue Estoppel

49. The decisive point herein is that issue estoppel is a doctrine that will not be raised now but would be raised potentially at a future date. Hence, the word "estoppel" which is used as a "shield" and not a "sword". As such, on this ground alone, this ONSC Divisional Court will need to provide a uniform, consistent and final answer to whether insurance companies within a group of insurance companies are "privies" generally or whether analytical precision is required with each "insurance group" in Ontario.

Legal Test for Issue Estoppel

50. In Danyluk v. Ainsworth Technologies Inc., 2001 SCC 44 (CanLII) at para. 25, the Supreme Court outlined the three requirements for issue estoppel: (i) The same question has been decided; (ii) the decision said to give rise to the estoppel is final; and (iii) the parties to the decision and privies were the same persons as the parties to the proceeding in which the estoppel is raised or their privies.

51. Issue estoppel prevents re-litigation of the material facts that the cause of action in the prior action embraces: Danyluk, at para. 54.

52. "Cause of action" means: a fact or facts that enable a person to bring an action against another.

53. The sheer oddity, based on the JRPA Applicant being misled over such a period of time, is that the Applicant's facts, subject to removal of the "denial letters by SNIC", which even SNIC sought to avoid by having TDGIC replace it during the LAT Appeal, are largely the same as he faxed each and every document to 416.774.3120. The Applicant did for a period of time fax documents to the 905 Fax Number but it was largely blocked or rejected for periods of time.

54. There is no dispute that the decisions of VCM to refuse the relief to add TDHA as a party and amend the pleadings and causes of action directed towards TDHA, were final orders and decisions. Therefore, the Applicant has an automatic right of judicial review even if this were a JRPA Application advanced in 2023 as per the statement of law by Justice Back house in Ontario Nurse Association. The misguided antiquated preliminary objection exclusively by the Tribunal regarding "prematurity" had no merit in 2024 or any year before that.

55. Leaving that aside, the JRPA Application was brought post Yatar (and post Zurich 2024) so judicial review was available to the Applicant in any event and judicial reviews are no longer heard only in a "rare" and "exceptional cases". The Tribunal and "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" were wrong then and now the Tribunal and now TDHA, SNIC and TDGIC, and the Tribunal are wrong yet again.

56. While the focus is the 11 paragraphs of reasons for decision involving NOM #14, and not as much as the "orders" as only one of the four substantive orders in NOM #14 was directly faced, all of the orders are inextricably bound to some degree. The decision to refuse to add TDHA is tied to, some degree, to adding TDHA as a party. While it is conceivable that a party could be added that was not the First Insurer (permanent) but was the First Insurer (Provisional), or added because it was, not pursuant to Reg 283 but the priority scheme under the Insurance Ac (statute), added based on having a potential insurance policy that was applicable. However, that is not at issue herein as the focus is not section 268 of the Insurance Act but rather the prescribed scheme relating to priority and not the statutory. As Justice Akazaki found in Zurich 2024, the statutory priority scheme and the regulatory priority scheme operate differently.

57. There is no dispute that 416.774.3120 was the phone number (fax) on the fourth floor of the Victoria Park Building (North York) and 416.774.3629 as the phone number (fax) on the ninth floor of the Victoria Park Building. This was the order sought in NOM #15, Order #3.

replacing SNIC as the liable insurance company to respond to the Applicant and pay benefits. As such, it will have an opportunity to provide its pleaded position before the Tribunal. This is Order #4.

Order #2: HCAI Order – Importance for Ability of Applicant to be able to discharge his obligations and obligations discharged on his behalf with HCAI

59. The importance of Order #2, by which the refusal was a final decision, cannot be understated. The following is stated under the Schedule, section 32(3) and (4) state the following:

> "(3) If an insurer that is subject to a Guideline referred to in subsection 64 (7) determines, acting reasonably[3], that there is a likelihood that the person may, in connection with the accident, deliver one or more documents referred to in that subsection, the insurer shall provide the following information to the central processing agency referred to in that subsection:
> 1. The name, address, gender and date of birth of the person.
> 2. The date of the accident.
> 3. Particulars of the automobile insurance policy under which the person asserts he or she is entitled to a benefit or benefits, including,
>
> i. the name of the insurer, > ii. the policy number, and > iii. the name of the person to whom the policy was issued.
> 4. The claim number assigned by the insurer.
> 5. Any other information reasonably required by the central processing agency to enable it to carry out its obligations to the insurer under this Regulation. O. Reg. 34/10, s. 32 (3).
>
> (4) An insurer's obligation to provide the information referred to in subsection (3) may be discharged by,
>
> (a) providing the information to the central processing agency; or
> (b) confirming, correcting or supplementing the information previously provided to the central processing agency. O. Reg. 34/10, s. 32 (4)."

60. As SNIC and TDHA are separate entities at law (see: rule in Foss v. Harbottle and section 92 of the Legislation Act), the "an insurer" would be SNIC, and by finding that the address denoted in HCAI of 304 The East Mall, Etobicoke, Toronto, Ontario, was that of TDHA as the last known insurance company to be a tenant therein, SNIC would have to discharge its obligation under subsection 32(4) of the Schedule by correcting the information previously provided to HCAI.

FINAL CONCLUSION ON ISSUE #2:

61. It is only final determinations and decisions, and orders (where refused explicitly or implicitly) that are at issue. While there is no dispute that VCM failed to determine Orders #1 (the "First Insurer Order"), Order #2 (the "HCAI Order"), Order #4 (the "Amendment Of Pleadings Order"), and Order #5 (the "Fax Number Location Order"), she did dismiss Order #3 which was to add TDHA as a party. On that dismissal or refusal of relief alone, it was a final determination that provides an automatic right of judicial review even under the previous legal test prior to Yatar v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (SCC).

ISSUE #3: THE PREMATURITY DOCTRINE OBJECTION

Statement of Issue #3:

62. As the determinations and decisions made by VCM were final, not interlocutory, is the prematurity doctrine objection exclusively by the Tribunal sustainable at law?

Answer to Issue #3:

63. Mr. Boyce has confused the differences in various doctrines. Nonetheless, the Tribunal cannot argue the prematurity doctrine without a filed Record Of Proceeding. By its Formal Admission, it will be seeking Mr. McLean's input before it even forwards the same to him. Moreover, the final orders and decisions have an automatic right of judicial review even as per the practice of the Divisional Court cited in Ontario Nurses Association at paragraph 7 which was before the decision of Yatar in Spring 2024.

Conclusion to Issue #3:

64. There is no merit to the preliminary prematurity objection and it has only caused wasted resources and expenses of the Applicant which can be addressed in costs.

ISSUE #4: STANDARD OF REVIEW

STATEMENT OF ISSUE #4:

65. What is the standard of review of the final decisions and determinations of VCM on September 13, 2024, in light of the following: (i) a statutory appeal mechanism under LATA; (ii) VCM committing a plethora of independent errors of law; (iii) general legal questions of central legal importance to the legal system; (iv) questions are evasive of the judicial review along with those issues potentially a matter of general practice important in proceedings before LAT; (v) questions involving the jurisdictional boundaries between multiple administrative bodies; and (vi) persistent discord intra the LAT on various decisions of importance.

ANSWER TO ISSUE #4

66. The standard of review is correctness. There is a statutory mechanism of appeal in place by section 11(6) of the LATA. Moreover, the legal questions are of general importance to the legal system as a whole. Moreover, such legal questions involve the boundaries between two administrative bodies. Moreover, the standard of review to the errors of law requires correctness.

67. However, the best statement of law is from this hallowed Divisional Court in Jia, which, without sounding obsequious, Mr. McLean feels absolutely honoured and privileged to have the opportunity to tender these submissions, when so tailored herein. To blatantly steal the line from the ONSC Divisional Court in Jia the questions herein are "evasive of appeal and it is potentially a matter of general practice important in proceedings before LAT."

68. While the decision of Jia was one where Vice Chair Trojek granted the reconsideration request of the applicants (the widow husband and a daughter without a mother), it was under the previous LAT Rules which were not as constrained in allowing reconsideration requests to be granted. The LAT Rules were amended in August 2023, and the Applicant was saddled with said current form and language of the LAT Rule 18. In any event, he exhausted the reconsideration route in good faith.

in favour of the applicants in the LAT Appeal (respondents in the appeal to the Divisional Court pursuant to section 11(6) of the LATA) and against the appellant in The Personal Insurance Company and respondent in the LAT Appeal.

70. An interesting note from Jia was that the original decision of Justices Corbett, Ducharme and Gomery JJ, was reached on November 20, 2019, the day of the hearing. However, the citation of the decision (see: 2020 ONSC 6361) and date of it (20201022) was nearly a year later. This was because of the release of the decision of Vavilov in 2019. The ONSC Divisional Court had this to say in this regard and its conclusion on the three issues (one being premature):

> "[16] In conclusion, I would find:
>
> a. The Vice-Chair's finding that the appellant's lawyer was in conflict of interest acting in both the priority dispute and the liability dispute was reasonable;
>
> b. The Vice-Chair's finding that the EUOs obtained by the insurer in the priority dispute should not be permitted to be used in the liability dispute because they were not obtained in compliance with s.33 of the SABS Regulation was reasonable.
>
> c. This appeal was in any event premature as it relates to the use of the impugned transcripts.
>
> [17] This appeal was heard and decided prior to release of the Supreme Court of Canada's decision in Canada (Minister of Citizenship and Immigration) v. Vavilov. Our reasons are framed on the basis on which this decision was reached on November 20, 2019, when it was rendered. We considered and decided against conducting a re-hearing on the basis of Vavilov because our decision would be the same in any event. Even if we had concluded that SLASTO erred as a matter of law on whether there is an inherent conflict in the same lawyer acting for an insurer in a priority dispute and a benefits dispute arising from the same events, on the facts there was a conflict in this case. This misuse of evidence obtained in the priority dispute in the benefits dispute, contrary to the checks and balances prescribed in the statutory scheme, placed the appellant's lawyer in a position where he could not continue to represent the insurer in the benefits dispute.
> [18] I would also find that it is not necessary to re-hear this appeal or to receive supplementary submissions on the effect of Vavilov because of the improper filing of the EUO transcripts. The improper use of the transcripts arose because of the dual role played by counsel for the insurer in the two proceedings. These facts raise a conflict of interest in this case, as a matter of fact. No purpose would be served by reconsidering the parties' arguments in this case through the correctness lens brought to bear on questions of law as a result of the Vavilov decision."

71. It is notable that the uncontroverted and unchallenged submissions, supported by uncontroverted evidence in the Applicant's Application Record (December 12, 2024), and the Compendium (1st Amended), are that VCM erred in law or committed errors of law as per the scope of this JRPA Application.

72. Ergo, the legal test articulated in Jia to hearing an appeal or judicial review of interlocutory decisions is merely whether the issues are of "potential general practice" and "important in proceedings before the LAT".

73. In Jia, the decisions were interlocutory involving the conflict of interest issues like Mansuri. Herein, the decisions and determination of VCM were final decision as they refused relief to add parties, add causes of action, and supplement pleadings.

74. Based on the very position of Mr. Nieuwland in his covering email that he was acting for SNIC also referred to as "TD Home and Auto [sic] and TD General Insurance company [sic]", he put issue estoppel squarely in decision as to whether insurance companies in a group of affiliated or related insurance companies are privies.

75. While the seminal statement of the Divisional Court in Jia was made in relation to the Appellant being heard on appeal of interlocutory decisions, the language of it can be transferred to that of a Rule Of Law SOR Exception as follows, "The questions posed herein are evasive of this judicial review and potentially matters of general practice important in proceedings before LAT."

76. In this regard, where the question, like whether the LAT has jurisdiction to add a party that has been found to be the First Insurer (i.e. the first to receive a Completed Application of a SABS applicant) in the middle of a proceeding is evasive of this judicial review and a potentially a matter of general practice important in proceedings before LAT.

77. As far as possible, multiplicity of legal proceedings shall be avoided (see: section 138 of the CJA). This is a full answer to why the JRPA Applicant did not commence an appeal and a judicial review.

78. As there is a statutory appeal mechanism under LATA, the presumptive standard of review is that of correctness. To add to the same, the questions posed herein are of a general nature and of great importance to the legal system as a whole. They also involve questions involving the boundaries of two administrative bodies.

79. The other exception in Vavilov is where the law requires the correctness standard which refers to the Housen standard.

80. As per the formal written admission made by the LAT on February 13, 2025, it disposes of any potential to defer to any of the reasons of VCM on September 13, 2024, in relation to NOM #14 and the one order in NOM #15. Simply put, even if the findings made by VCM were argued (hypothetically speaking) to be findings of fact and/or mixed fact and law (albeit with extricable legal issues), they were only "dressed up as findings of fact" or "mixed fact and law" as per the law cited in the JRPA Application (see: Compendium, Tab 38) but, at law, were "errors of law":

    a. Misapprehension of evidence, ignoring relevant evidence, or irrelevant evidence: A tribunal errors in law when it improperly approaches the evidence such as by misapprehending evidence, ignoring relevant evidence or relying on irrelevant evidence or irrelevant factors in reaching its decision (see: Nguyen);
    b. No evidence in a material point: In Drewlo Holdings v. MPAC, the ONSCJ (DC) cited its decision in Yatar, where, at ¶28, the Court confirmed a finding of fact can constitute an error of law: "is when a finding of fact on a material point is based on no evidence";
    c. Ignorance of evidence: if an Adj. ignores evidence that the law requires to be considered to arrive at a DECISION, that will amount to an error in law (see: Kawa Arab);
    d. If no factual findings required by Divisional Court to answer the question posed on judicial review: "[19] This issue is a matter of law. The Landlords argue that this issue is a matter of mixed fact and law, but there are no factual findings that need to be made by me to consider this question." (see: . Gega); and
    e. Inconsistent findings of fact: Divisional Court found that inconsistent findings of facts as "errors of law."

81. This JRPA Application can somewhat be reduced to the oversimplified heuristic for various tribunals, "If you do not compile, then you cannot file. If you cannot file, then the impugned errors will be presumed to be based on guile".

82. The most inconsistent finding of fact by VCM was beyond irreconcilable when considering the following:

b. Page 9 of VCM Decision: The initial respondent [sic], TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC accepted priority over the Applicant's [sic] insurance policy.

83. If TDGIC was not a party to the proceeding, as it was neither a First Insurer nor the Sole Underwriter, then how did Vice Chair Lake unilaterally include TDGIC as the sole respondent [fic] in her decision of January 16, 2024 (see: Compendium, Tab 4)? By that inconsistent finding within the same reasons for decision, VCM has found that non-parties can be liable for entitlement and quantum of benefits by TDGIC being the sole respondent for six months despite the objection of the Applicant for that six month period.

84. The following, while not fictitious facts found by VCM and other decision makers who make purported findings of facts where there is no evidence to support the same, are further "errors of law". In Bassline, VC Lamoreux found. "Therefore, I am satisfied that the Tribunal erred by determining that it had no jurisdiction to consider the issues raised in the Notice".

85. With the Correctness SOR standard set, where the Applicant erring on the side of caution especially if the court found or finds that one or two of the questions involve a question of mixed fact and law and/or finding of fact, this Divisional Court, analyzing final decisions and final orders, is to "step into the shoes' of VCM without any deference. No deference is owed by VCM.

86. The SCC in Vavilov clarified and drastically changed the judicial review landscape from what it was in Dunsmuir. Since 2019, the presumptive standard of review is reasonableness. However, that presumptive standard is ousted to that of correctness in a litany of situations which are effectively all present herein.

87. There are, at least, five primary exceptions to the presumptive standard of reasonableness: (1) where the correctness standard is required by law; (2) where statutory appeal mechanisms are in place; (3) constitutional questions; (4) general legal questions of central importance to the entire legal system; and (5) questions regarding the jurisdictional boundaries between administrative bodies (SEE: Vavilov, paras 34, 36, 55, 58, and 63). The exceptions, at (3) to (5), are defined herein as the "Rule* Of Law SOR Exceptions": Tab 38, Factum, pages in COMPENDIUM.

88. The case of SOCAN has provided for an additional ground to rebut the presumption of reasonableness which is concurrent jurisdiction of the court and a tribunal.

89. As is readily obvious from the above, section 11(6) of the LATA was passed in 2014 pursuant to the Fighting Fraud and Reducing Automobile Insurance Rates Act, 2014, SO 2014, c 9, "Other Acts". However, prior to April 1, 2016, automobile accident benefit disputes were adjudicated at FSCO, where there was no statutory right of appeal, only judicial review (see: Penney, at paragraph 18). Ergo, ss. 11(6) did not become practically effective until the LAT officially replaced the FSCO.

90. As of 2024, statutory appeal mechanisms were in place for approximately eight years. Ergo, the reasonableness SOR was and is rebutted herein. There are a litany of questions posed herein that invoke the "Rule Of Law SOR Exceptions" which are outlined in the Applicant's Factum.

91. To the extent that the Housen standard is applicable herein, the JRPA* Applicant provided unrefuted evidence and legal argument on why the errors by Vice Chair Morrisette were errors of law: Compendium, Tab 37, pages 619 to 621.

92. VCM committed a plethora of errors of law with respect to the following: (i) application of an incorrect legal standard; (ii) a failure to consider a required element(s) of a legal test; or (iii) the mischaracterization of the standard.

(a) no evidence, (b) irrelevant evidence, or (c) an irrational inference (Johannson v. Saskatchewan Government Insurance, 2019 SKCA 52 at paras. 24-25) (see: Yatar, ONSC Divisional Court).

94. Under any of the exceptions to the presumptive reasonableness standard the standard of review is correctness. In the alternative, to the extent that the ONSC Divisional Court were to find that Orders #2 (the "HCAI Last Known Insurer So Located Order") and Order #5 (renumbered after being Order #3 in NOM #15) required findings of fact, the Applicant's position, which he has to somewhat argue in the hypothetical and pre-emptively on account of no arguments advanced by the Remaining Respondents, the Applicant submits that no findings of fact were made so VCM's failure to make any findings renders those refused orders and where no necessary findings of fact are required by the Divisional Court (see: Gega) such that the correctness standard applies to each.

CONCLUSION ON ISSUE #4: STANDARD OF REVIEW

95. For any of the above disjunctive grounds, the SOR is correctness.

ISSUE #5: CORRECTNESS STANDARD

Statement of Issue for Issue #5

96. The issue herein is what does the correctness standard entail in terms of what the ONSC Divisional Court is entitled to do while it shows no deference to initial decision maker.

97. ONSC Divisional Court has two options: (i) to uphold the decision of VCM in relation to the refused relief sought in Orders #1 to #4 in NOM #14 and Order #3 in NOM #15 which were final decisions and orders (where applicable); OR (ii) to quash said final decisions and substitute them with its own determinations, findings and orders.

98. No deference is owed to the VC Morrissette reasons and refusal of relief. While perhaps Mr. McLean was overly pointed at VC Morrissette's past, he does not retract it because for her to suggest that he had put "strain on the Tribunal" when it could not even compile the Record Of Proceeding at first instance and throughout required her, in her promoted position as Vice Chair, to inform the parties and representatives that the Tribunal had lost some of the records and work with them to re-obtain the same with the filing confirmations.

99. In Vavilov, 2019 SCC 65 (S.C.C.) at paragraph 54: "When applying the correctness standard, the reviewing court may choose either to uphold the administrative decision maker's determination or to substitute its own view: Dunsmuir, at para. 50.

CONCLUSION ON ISSUE #5

100. The language of "determination" is most important. When "no determination" was made by VCM and there is no evidence in the record from SNIC but for a pleading by way of the SNIC Response, then the Applicant has necessarily met the balance of probabilities test for Orders #1, #2, and #4 and #5.

ISSUE #6: REQUIRED DECISION UNDER THE CORRECTNESS SOR

101. Is it legally possible for the ONSC Divisional Court to uphold the refusals of relief sought (see: (i) to add a party; (ii) to amend pleadings; (iii) to add causes of action; (iv) a point of law regarding whether TDHA was the First Insurer (which is a discrete issue of party status which was finally determined); and (v) that involves, at the very least, issue estoppel) predicated on these "reasons" by the initial decision maker of the LAT:

> [27] .....The initial respondent [sic], TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC accepted priority over the Applicant's [sic] insurance policy".

102. The issue posed herein answers itself. Such a misstatement of law is so egregious that it requires an immediate, final and uniform answer such that no member of the public or any person in the insurance industry so relies on the same.

ISSUE #6: RETURN TO THE JRPA APPLICATION

103. To return to the JRPA* Application, paragraphs 4 and 5, the following is copied and pasted:

> [4] Therefore, if SNIC and TDGIC accepted priority of the Insurance Policy, as found by the Adjudicator, and the Appellant did not make any such offer to either for them to 'accept priority of the Insurance Policy' and/or neither SNIC nor TDGIC first received the Appellant's Completed Application, then TDGIC had to receive that offer of "priority" (as the Adjudicator puts it) from the "First Insurer".
> [5] As a matter of law, could TDHA offer "priority" to SNIC and TDGIC? The question answers itself.

ISSUE #6(A): EVEN IF THE SOR WAS REASONABLENESS – VCM FINAL DETERMINATIONS FAIL THAT TEST

104. Even if reasonableness was the standard, the VCM determinations and decisions fail that test.

105. In the further alternative, to the extent that ONSC Div. Ct. were to find that the refusals to grant Order #2 and #4 were "findings of fact" or "questions of fact" (albeit without reasons) or "questions of mixed of fact and law", the Applicant submits that VCM erred in jurisdiction by failing to decide all issues of fact and law before her pursuant to LATA, and as such erred in jurisdiction.

106. As a further alternative ground, solely in relation to Orders #2 and Order #4, to the extent that the ONSC Div. Ct. cogitated about whether Orders #2 and Order #4 were considered not to be "questions of law", the Applicant submits that the ONSC decision in Elkins would those refusals to be "errors of law". In Elkins v. Van Wissen, 2023 ONCA 789 [4], the ONCA found that the Board (LTB) reasons made no mention of the second issue nor the evidence relating to it. Clearly, appellate review was prevented on that issue and, for that reason alone, the Board erred in law. ONCA went further in Elkins[5] finding the following: "[69] In addition, however, the Board reasons on the first issue are so deficient as to constitute legal error".

107. Irrespective of the same, if TDHA is added as a party, the Applicant's causes of action and amendment of pleadings are directed towards it such that the refusals to grant Orders #1, #3 and #4 are final decisions which involve the discrete issue of party status which are pure questions of law. To the extent that there is a is extricable from the same as there was no competing evidence before VCM and none now.

Conclusion on Issue #6:

108. This ONSC Divisional Court is required to quash the determinations, decisions, and orders refused by VCM, and where no determination was made, make determinations and findings based upon the Applicant's Application Record and Compendium (1st Amended).

SUMMARY

This current and comprehensive legal outline to the COMPENDIUM (1st Amended) is for a judicial review application, by way of conversion of NOM #2 (in writing) into a Motion For Judgment by Mr. Kevin Alexander McLean in the ONSC Divisional Court against the impugned final decisions and determinations and impugned final orders of Vice Chair Morrissette on September 13, 2024, at the Licence Appeal Tribunal.

First. Parties Involved:
- The case involves Kevin Alexander McLean as the Applicant and several insurance companies, including TD Home and Auto Insurance Company, Security National Insurance Company, and TD General Insurance Company, as respondents.

Second. Applicant's Claims:
- McLean seeks judicial review of the Licence Appeal Tribunal's decisions, arguing that the Tribunal made final decisions that should be reviewed for correctness.

Third. Legal Standards and Precedents:
- The document references various legal standards and precedents, including the Judicial Review Procedure Act, the Insurance Act, and case law such as Vavilov and Savone, to support the Applicant's arguments.

Fourth. Final Decisions and Orders:
- McLean argues that the Tribunal's refusal to add parties and amend pleadings were final decisions, which should be reviewed for correctness rather than reasonableness.

Fifth. Prematurity Doctrine:
- The document contends that the Tribunal's objection based on the prematurity doctrine is unsustainable since the decisions in question are final and not interlocutory.

Sixth. Tribunal has conflated the Prematurity Doctrine with the Anti-Fragmentation Proceedings Doctrine:
- Anti-Fragmentation Proceeding Doctrine: imprecise and inapplicable herein

Seventh. Burden for merits not to be argued is on the Tribunal: due to its inaction, intentional breaches of its statutory obligations to file the Record Of Proceeding forthwith or at all, the Tribunal's counsel engaging in intentional clandestine obfuscation of his address and business employer during the JRPA Proceeding, it has failed miserably to meet the burden that the
- NOM #1:

Eighth. Merger of four anti-justiciability doctrines: The Applicant submits that four of the anti-justiciability doctrines, which are inapplicable herein, as a matter of law, must be merged. They are:
- Rule Against Judicial Review of Interlocutory Decisions:
- Prematurity Doctrine:
- Exhaustion Doctrine:
- Available, Alternative, and Adequate Remedies Doctrine

Ninth. Standard of Review: The Applicant argues that the standard of review for the Tribunal's decisions should be correctness, citing the following:
- Statutory mechanisms in place with LATA, section 11 (passed in 2016);
- Rule Of Law destroyed and obliterated by VCM
- presence of general questions of law and issues of central importance to the legal system
- Persistent discord between the decisions of decision makers of the same Tribunal
- Tribunal was unable to decide any hearings from the time it lost or had stolen or destroyed the filed documents from December 23, 2023, to the time of the alleged power outage where Mr. McLean could not file

Tenth. Overall Burden of Proof:

Tribunal's, more likely than not, final decisions were incorrect and should be declared as incorrect, set aside, and quashed in the nature of certiorari.

- One paragraph (SEE: paragraph 27 of VCM Decision at COMPENDIUM, Tab 2),
- The most glaring misstatement of fact, unsupported by evidence was that VCM found, without any evidence and contrary to the pleadings (SEE: first page of the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) and first page of the SNIC Response (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 7, pages 32 to 35)), that the Insurance Policy was that of the Applicant [sic]. While masquerading as a "finding of fact", it was not a fact. Ergo, it was an error of law.
- The most glaring misstatement of law or error of law was Eleventh. Tribunal's Participation:

- The document discusses the constrained scope of the Tribunal's participation in the judicial review proceeding, arguing that the Tribunal should not defend the correctness of its decisions, not argue the standard of review, and be confined to that which is in the Record Of Proceeding.

Twelfth. SNIC and TDHA's limited or non-existent participation rights at first instance

- As neither SNIC nor TDHA participated in NOM #14 and #15 at first instance or on reconsideration, they were presumptively not entitled to participate in this JRPA Proceeding. In fact, it is what they have done herein. They were effectively forced to participate by the Tribunal with the Tribunal providing them with a template Notice of Appearance which they incorrectly copied and confused with the Attorney General of Ontario with the Attorney General of Canada whilst using the address in the Tribunal's NOA for the AGO

Thirteenth. Data Fiduciaries: The document introduces the concept of insurance companies, who are first insurers on a provisional basis and/or on a permanent basis ("First Insurers") as data fiduciaries, arguing that they have fiduciary duties regarding the personal data of insured persons.

Fourteenth. Orders Sought: McLean seeks several substantive orders, including the addition of TD Home and Auto Insurance Company as a party and the declaration that it is the First Insurer to ensure that it has an insurance company that is obligated to respond to him and his service providers (where applicable) and pay any benefits on a historical, current and future bases (where applicable). Moreover, such a substantive order, by way of declaration, will also assist in an outstanding issue of ensuring that the Applicant has the correct address for TDHA in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) along with a fax number for the provision of attachments that cannot be uploaded, as a matter of technological infrastructure, in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271). At this stage, the SABS Claim under TD Claim #3 is an outright mess as neither the non-licensee representative for SNIC nor the lawyer licensee representative, who had a brief foray in the "to be confirmed" status in late January and February 2025, who is also the representative for TDGIC in the LAT Appeal could account for what was paid to or on behalf of Mr. McLean (SEE: The misrepresentation regarding the amount paid to McLean or on his behalf (SEE: *COMPENDIUM, Tab 21, page 349, paragraph 6)

COMPREHENSIVE DETAILED WRITTEN OUTLINE TO COMPENDIUM

PREFACE #I: Introduction

The Licence Appeal Tribunal's Decisions on September 13, 2024, were final decisions and orders
The Public Deserves Final and Uniform Answers to Questions of Central Importance to the legal system; and
*P*arty issue is a discrete issue – finally determined by VCM on September 13, 2024

1. These are the JRPA Applicant's comprehensive submissions, cross-referenced, hyperlinked and bookmarked to the Compendium, which is also hyperlinked and bookmarked therein, that cover all of the issues while brining all of the relevant material to the attention of the sitting motions justice as of February 14, 2025, before he or she is functus officio. They are also designed to be of a benefit to the ONSC Divisional Court due to the unprecedented nature of the conduct before the Tribunal by the respondent insurance companies. The misconduct of SNIC at first instance, then TDGIC and TDHA, by its silence, was unprecedented. Never

2. They are of considerable length and detail for the following reasons:

    a. They include cross-reference the informal recusal submissions, supported by affidavit #3 at first instance, of January 16, 2025;
    b. They include and cross-reference the Applicant's NOM #1 which was filed and served on January 23, 20

3. It is trite that the decisions and orders that the JRPA Applicant has sought to have reviewed are final decisions and orders. TDHA has a substantial or direct interest in the outcome of the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) and it is entitled, by law, to be a party to the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6). None of the Non-Justiciability Doctrines are applicable herein as the final orders and decisions clearly oust the rule against judicial reviews of interlocutory orders. The Applicant cannot seek relief against a non-party and/or the Tribunal cannot award relief against a non-party pursuant to the SPPA with Reza interpreting the same. While not a precondition to judicial review, the Applicant exhausted his right of review internally with the reconsideration motion (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 25) and submissions (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 25).

4. The Divisional Court (ONSC) found, while drawing similarities to Great Atlantic v. Minister of Citizenship (Ontario), in Rol-Land Farms Limited as follows at paragraph 44:

> [44] In this case, as in Great Atlantic &Pacific Co. of Canada Ltd. v. Ontario (Minister of Citizenship), [1993] O.J. No. 4179 (Div. Ct.), the question whether Ms. Harold was properly added as a party should be addressed as an interlocutory matter. The issue of party status is a discrete issue that has been FINALLY DETERMINED by the Tribunal. The full record upon which the Tribunal made its decision is before this Court.

5. The full record, as it relates to the final orders and final decisions in the NOM #14 and NOM #15, has been before this Honourable Court since December 12, 2024.

6. Under the sub-heading, the converse is also true: putting the JRPA Applicant, in his capacity as a SABS Applicant, to the expense and time of proceeding against a non-First Insurer runs the risk of repeating this any decisions or potential decisions in the future.

7. Moreover, since the three distinct respondent insurance companies did not make a preliminary objection on any grounds, it is only the Tribunal that did so. However, the Tribunal's Prematurity Doctrine objection is on even worse footing or legal grounds that that of Ms. Harold's judicial review because she was added as a party to that administrative proceeding before the Agricultural Affairs Tribunal. It is trite law that the addition of a party by a tribunal is an interlocutory decision whereas the refusal or dismissal to add a party is a final decision.

8. As such, the Tribunal has the burden of advancing an argument as to why on final orders and final decisions the prematurity doctrine has any merit. As the Tribunal has not filed any documents in the court file but for a Notice Of Appearance, and has not even been compiling the Record Of Proceeding as statutorily required by the SPPA. Ergo, it cannot get out of the proverbial gate to comply with section 10 of JRPA.

9. Bluntly put, the "show must go on" as the public deserves it, no matter how delinquent and noncompliant this Tribunal has been with its obligations under the very statute that governs its conduct in proceedings and the statute that governs its obligation to file the Record Of Proceeding.

10. As submitted in NOM #1 by way of NOM (see: Compendium, Tab 48), Confirmation of Motion (see: Compendium, Tab 49), and Written Argument (see: Compendium, Tab 50), the following legal principles and precedents are well-settled by this ONSC Divisional Court and facts are not in dispute:

    a. Facts:
        i. The Tribunal was required to compile a Record Of Proceeding from the date of December 23, 2024 and onwards;
        ii. The Tribunal was required to file (not necessarily serve) the Record Of Proceeding immediately after receipt of the JRPA* Application. For mathematical and dating purposes, the Tribunal was required to file the Record Of Proceeding in the week of November 18 to 22, 2024 (see: Compendium, Tab 50, page 1223, paragraph 27);
        iii. The duty of the Tribunal to file the Record Of Proceeding is an independent one from its right of an undefined scope of participation as a party in an application for judicial review or judicial review proceeding (ibid, paragraph 28);
        iv. In this modern day of technology, along with the specific filings herein that it involve a LAT/AABS e-filing portal, all of the filed materials would be compiled and organized in a manner that it could not take the LAT more than a day to prepare an index with tabulations for the delineated different classes of filed documents and then enumerate the same before filing the Record Of Proceeding with the ONSC Divisional Court ((see: Compendium, Tab 50, page 1224, paragraph 30);
        v. Therefore, any administrative tribunal in this province that is subject to being served with a 'notice of application for judicial review' is only required to file the Record Of Proceedings forthwith, after having compiled the same if there was a hearing before it. Put another way, there is no requirement upon any administrative body to participate in any judicial review after it has filed the Record Of Proceeding forthwith. It is not even required, by statute, to serve the applicant with a copy of the same or any other respondents or interested persons (see: ibid, page 1225, paragraph 33);

    b. Legal bases:
        i. Content of the record: The content of the record for an application for judicial review is defined by the Judicial Review Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. J-1, SPPA, and by the Rules of Civil Procedure.
        ii. Process to trigger Tribunal's obligations: The process begins with the notice of application: r. 68.01(1). Upon being served with the notice of application for judicial review, the decision-

Divisional Court "the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made". The "record" is not defined by the Act: Payne, at paragraph 160 (see: paragraph 34);

iii. Full and accurate record: An applicant for judicial review has the right to have a full and accurate record of what went on before the tribunal put before the court: Payne at paragraph 161 (see: paragraph 35);

iv. Court is entitled to the Record Of Proceeding pursuant to statute (see: section 10 of the JRPA);

v. An applicant is entitled to the Record Of Proceeding pursuant to inherent jurisdiction: The reason for the Applicant being entitled to the same is not grounded in the statutory sections but the ONSC Divisional Court's inherent jurisdiction: Payne at paragraph 161 (sentence 2

vi. As early as 1952, Lord Denning in R. v. Medical Appeal Tribunal ex p. Gilmore, [1957] 1 Q.B. 574 at 583 (C.A.) found the following as a basis the common law and/or equitable powers of the English courts upon which our common law and courts of equity are founded "The court has always had power to order an inferior tribunal to complete the record ... [A] tribunal could defeat a writ of certiorari unless the courts could order them to complete or correct an imperfect record. So the courts have the power to give such an order

vii. The ONCA adopted the same in 2000 in its decision in Payne at paragraph 161 where it also cited other jurisprudence.

viii. A statutory body subject to judicial review cannot immunize itself or its process by arriving at decisions on considerations that are not revealed by the record it files with the court." (see: (see: paragraph 161 of Payne (ONCA)).

ix. The erudite justices in Rol-Land Farms Limited for the Divisional Court in 2008 reaffirmed the legal precedent that the temporal period for which documents, evidence, and decisions must be included in the forthwith filing by an administrative decision maker with the ONSC Div. Ct. at paragraphs 37 and 38: As indicated in an oral ruling during the hearing, volume 3 of the Record Of Proceedings is not admissible. Section 10 of the JRPA requires a tribunal to file its Record Of Proceedings when served with an application for judicial review of a decision. It is the Record Of Proceedings relating to the particular decision that is to be filed, as is clear from the words of s. 10; and thus, the content of volume 3 is not properly part of the record required to be filed pursuant to s. 10 of the JRPA, as it post-dates the decisions under review."

x. While entitled – the dangers of not bringing a motion: Ergo, pursuant to s. 10 of the Judicial Review Procedure Act, it was available to the applicant to bring a motion seeking production of documents it alleges were relied on by the decision-maker but are not contained in the record: see, for example K.D. v. Peel Children's Aid Society, 2017 ONSC 7392 (Div. Ct.) at paras. 16-17). The applicant failed to do so. As a result, it is precluded from raising this issue for the first time on judicial review: Reflection Productions v. Ontario Media Dev. Corp., 2022 ONSC 64, the ONSC Div. Ct (as per MORAWETZ C.J., VARPIO, KRISTJANSON JJ.

11. With the above set in stone as for the facts and law, the House of Lords put it some eight decades ago, openness to the public is the "authentic hallmark of judicial as distinct from administrative procedure". (see: paragraph 40 of Toronto Star). The LAT is a public institution, albeit funded by the insurance industry, that is conducting adjudicative matters.

12. Just as justice delayed can be justice denied, so reportage delayed can be reportage denied (see: paragraph 67 of Toronto Star).

13. The leading case regarding the "open court principle" and "adjudicative records" is that of the ONSC in Toronto Star v. AG Ontario, 2018 ONSC 2586. In that case, the Toronto Star was entitled to "Adjudicative Records" as a member of the media or journalism sector.

the SPPA which forecloses the possibility it could comply with section 10 of the JRPA, "Adjudicative Records" as a PARTY TO THE LAT PROCEEDING. The Tribunal's response, inconsistent with that of Mr. Boyce, was that it is still attempting to compile the same and would request more information from the JRPA* Applicant by February 21, 2025. To submit that is unacceptable would be the understatement in the history of judicial review proceedings under the JRPA in this province.

15. In order for the public to benefit from such an order endorsed (see: Compendium, Tab 61), it must be endorsed with reasons to follow.

16. Former Chief Justice Lamer has pointed out that characterizing administrative bodies depends on their function in the circumstances: "the principles for judicial independence . . . are applicable in the case of an administrative tribunal, where the tribunal is functioning as an adjudicative body settling disputes and determining the rights of parties" (see: paragraph 42 of Toronto Star).

17. The open court principle is one of the hallmarks of a democratic society . . . [and] is inextricably tied to the rights guaranteed by s. 2(b) of the Charter (see: paragraph 54 of Toronto Star).

18. This open access, and concomitant protection of freedom of the press, is in keeping with those tribunals' obligation "in exercising their statutory functions . . . [to] act consistently with the Charter and its values". This is not optional or discretionary on the part of administrative tribunals. As the Supreme Court has stated, "the protection of Charter guarantees is a fundamental and pervasive obligation, no matter which adjudicative forum is applying it". (see: paragraph 55 of Toronto Star).

19. It is important to keep in mind that freedom of expression "protects listeners as well as speakers" (see: paragraph 56 of Toronto Star).

20. But the open court principle in s. 2(b) of the Charter only applies to Adjudicative Records (see: paragraph 62 of Toronto Star).

21. Statutory tribunals exercising judicial or quasi-judicial functions involving adversarial-type processes which result in decisions affecting rights truly constitute part of the "administration of justice": Southam Inc v Canada (Minister of Employment and Immigration), [1987] FCJ no 658 (QL). The legitimacy of such tribunals' authority requires that confidence in their integrity and understanding of their operations be maintained, and this can be effected only if their proceedings are open to the public: Germain v Saskatchewan (Automobile Injury Appeal Commission), 2009 SKQB 106.

22. Tribunals like the LAT conduct administrative hearings governed by the Statutory Powers Procedure Act ("SPPA") are required to be open to the public. In principle, therefore, it is uncontroversial that "[t]he 'open court' principle" -- at least in some version -- "is a cornerstone of accountability for decision-making tribunals and courts" (see: paragraph 6 of Toronto Star).

23. The Supreme Court of Canada has stated that "[a]ll law and law-makers that touch the people must conform to [the Charter]. Tribunals and commissions charged with deciding legal issues are no exception." (see: Toronto Star, paragraph 14).

24. The open court principle, which is inextricably tied to the rights guaranteed by s. 2(b) of the Charter, applies to administrative tribunals as well as to courts. This Tribunal followed up the incorrect decision of VCM with attempting to immunize itself from the constitutional guarantees and rights under section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act of Canada of the public to judicial review of administrative bodies by admitting through the LAT Registrar that it had not even compiled the Record Of Proceeding at first instance and throughout the LAT Proceeding (SEE: Affidavit #16; COMPENDIUM, Tab 60).

25. The leading case in Ontario regarding the right of the media is Toronto Star v. AGO, 2018. It provided the interpretation of what constituted "Adjudicative Records" in the context of section 20 of the SPPA.[8]

26. While the JRPA* Applicant was not required to make any request for the ROP during the ROP Temporal Period, he was compelled to do so as a result of the misrepresentations made by Mr. Boyce, counsel to the Tribunal, as to when he anticipated filing the same.

27. Like section 2(b) of the Charter and section 10 of the JRPA that requires filing (not necessarily serving per se at first instance) of the Record Of Proceeding, as it was before a statutory decision maker at the time of

28. The failures and likely loss or destruction by the Tribunal of the Record Of Proceeding from, at least in part, December 24, 2023, to September 12, 2024, provide further justification as to why NOM #2 must be converted into a Motion For Judgment and the Draft Order must be signed by the sitting motions justice, signed by the Registrar and entered into the electronic filing system with the ONSC Divisional Court

29. This Honourable Divisional Court is fully entitled as per the Civil Rules and common law (SEE: Tesky; Harisson v. LSO) to issue its order or endorsement to the NOM #2 Motion Record (or JRPA* Application, COMPENDIUM, or 'record) with "reasons to follow".

30. As per the Applicant's affidavit #16, which was brough to the immediate attention of the ONSC Divisional Court once he learned on February 14, 2025, that the Tribunal had not even been compiling the Record Of Proceeding, the Tribunal has been unable to comply with section 10 of the JRPA for some time.

31. Had the Applicant known that the Tribunal was not even compiling the Record Of Proceeding throughout, which was consistent with the Applicant's NOM #18, seeking a litany of corrections at each and every page of the "reasons for decisions" (for NOM #13 to #15), he would have sought Charter relief against the Tribunal for violating his Charter rights and consequential damages.

32. It is trite that the distinction between section 24(1) and (2) vs. section 52 of the Charter is that the former is where an individual has been aggrieved by some governmental action and the latter is where the law itself is impugned and alleged to be unconstitutional.

33. While the necessary evidence is available for the Court to decide the Applicant's NOM #2, which was motion in writing and seeking to convert said motion into a "Motion For Judgment", the intentional and egregious breaches of section 20 of the SPPA by the Tribunal have led to the conclusion that it is impossible for the Tribunal to comply with section 10 of the JRPA. Since it is impossible for the Tribunal to comply with section 10 of the JRPA, then the Court must operate from the best evidence available.

34. While the issue in Reza as to whether the style of cause was required to be amended to Certas Insurance Company was not decided and left for another day, albeit without a reported decision at a later date in that proceeding or another, there was no dispute that the scheme of the SPPA does not authorize an injured person to obtain SABS benefits or quantum from a non-party. Since it is only the First Insurer, under Reg 283, that is duty bound, by law, to respond and to pay benefits (if any) to an applicant for benefits, at first instance and after 90 days of receipt of a Completed Application (OCF-1), then said First Insurer (provisionally or permanently) must be a party to a LAT proceeding. It matters not when the discovery occurs during a LAT proceeding but what matters is that it is added so that the issue of whom an injured person has recourse against, and at what times, is determined finally and unequivocally.

35. Despite utilizing the document referred to as the "Spam Fax" or the August 2024 letter, which informed Mr. McLean that no insurance company within the TDI Group had a record of his claim number, there should a Motion for Judgment.

36. However, the word used by the Federal Court in CB Powell cited by Buffalocalf of "available" dovetail with the insurance context (AABS) like found, as a principle of law, in Reza in that the Applicant therein could not proceed against a non-party as the SPPA (part of the administrative process) did not permit (afford) an 'available' remedy. [9]

37. The distinction, with a fundamental difference, was that State Farm wished to exit the Ontario automotive insurance market and looked for a prospective purchaser of its Canadian operations when the delegate provided the background to section "change of title of proceedings" of the matter, "The Appellant therein brought a motion for an order that both the appeal and arbitration title of proceeding be amended to substitute "Certas Home and Auto Insurance Company" for the Respondent. The Appellant submitted that the Desjardins Group acquired State Farm January 1, 2015, and that the Respondent's correspondence and website suggest that Certas Home and Auto Insurance Company are now liable for any amounts payable to the Appellant."

38. There was an obvious cause and effect regarding why State Far++m was ready, willing and able to sell its Canadian insurance business, and how that is different from the "one and the same" misguided arguments made. Desjardins Group acquired State Farm Canada's property and casualty business, including its operations in Ontario, in January 2015. The State Farm brand was rebranded as Desjardins Insurance.[10] The impact of the sale by State Farm to Desjardins, which operates its automotive insurance under Certas, was that Desjardins became the second largest provider of property and casualty insurance in Canada.[11] As part of the deal, Desjardins kept employees of State Farm but they were then employees of Desjardins and relevant to the Reza claim, they were employees of Certas. As part of the contract between Desjardins, a cooperative with large European financial backing, and State Farm, State Farm had to provide an influx of capital of some 450 million into the newly acquired in non-voting preferred shares into Desjardins Group's post-closing property and casualty insurance businesses, which includes the newly acquired State Farm Canada property and casualty operations.

39. The non-voting requirement was clearly a requirement of our statutory insurance scheme so foreign insurance companies could not continue to have voting control of a Canadian insurance company albeit without being the "underwriter" of record or on paper. With that segue, the reasons for State Farm willing to sell and selling its Canadian business, particularly the Ontario division, were its issues with the Canadian government.[12] In brief, there was an apparent deglobalization of the insurance industry with less foreign owned insurance companies operating in Canada and the article, mostly referenced to speaks at the "P & C Crystal Ball" and a mandated reduction of premiums in the private passenger market[13]. Such a sale would have required regulatory approval such that Desjardins (Certas) would have taken on all of the outstanding assets and liabilities of State Farm's Canadian operations. Of course, Reza could not proceed against the entity that departed the Canadian operations that was also being rebranded as Certas with no reference to State Farm. In the case of Reza, there was no priority dispute between State Farm and another insurance company, so the Applicant therein was bound to proceed against his underwriter and each "contract of insurance" was required or deemed to provide all of the benefits under SABS.

40. Desjardins' purchase of State Farm was an asset transaction. The likely terms required Desjardins to assume liabilities, which may explain the $450 million injection into non-voting preferred shares by State Farm to cover any potential liabilities. There is no evidence of a sale from TDHA to SNIC or other theories presented by the respondent's counsel in this JRPA Proceeding. Documents from FSRA confirmed that SNIC and TDGIC are distinct companies, as are TDHA and SNIC. Without TDHA being added as a party and filing a response per LAT *Rule*s, the Applicant cannot seek remedies against non-parties through the LAT process under SPPA and LATA guidelines. Attempts to obtain non-party documents through NOM #13 were detailed in VCM's decision. If an order against TDHA for non-party document production was refused, it would result in an interlocutory order, prohibiting judicial review.

41. This final orders and final decisions of VCM remain errors of laws and no member of the public should rely on a single solitary word from those decisions as it relates to her conflating contracts with SABS claims, discretion with obligation, which were based on errors of law (albeit masquerading as facts) for the now obvious reason that the Tribunal was not complying with its basic statutory duty to compile the record into a Record Of Proceeding irrespective of whether a party before the Tribunal commences an appeal or judicial review.

42. Without TDHA being named as a party, and the party responsible to respond and pay benefits, then the LAT Proceeding (stylized as McLean v. SNIC) contains no purpose at law. Every step thereafter remains a nullity but for motions involving points of law that are evasive of the issues of whether the SABS Applicant was entitled to benefits and in what quantum: (i) whether Mr. Karat violated the LSA and LSO By-Laws by signing a statutory responsive pleading and what relief must be granted; and (ii) whether the case conference was a nullity at law by contravening the explicit wording the SPPA

43. In order for the McLean LAT Proceeding to be determined in accordance with SABS, party status, which is a discrete issue must be determined by this ONSC Divisional Court such that there is a uniform and final answer.

PREFACE #I(A): A "Proper Case"

Leading sufficient evidence for Motion #2 (Rule 37.12 and Rule 37.13(2)(a); and section 6(2) is liberally construed analogy to the "proper case" –

BY ANALOGY AND IMPORTANT CONTEXT – HOW WE ARRIVED HERE[14]

44. While it appears to be common ground that an affidavit is preferred, Justice AD Grace found in Her Majesty the Queen, 6418 at paragraph "[11][15] . In Cureatz v. Progressive Party of Canada, [1997] O.J. No. 2309 (Gen. Div.), LaForme J., as he then was, accepted jurisdiction to determine the matter, sitting as a single judge of the Divisional Court pursuant to s. 6(2) of the JRPA, while adopting various authorities, found: "In view of the fact that the Divisional Court is not able, in general, to deal with a question of urgency ... I take the view that s. 6(2) should be liberally construed. Thus, to my mind, the time that might be taken up before the Divisional Court can hear the matter is an important factor: Universal Settlements International v. Duscio, 2010 ONSC 6547 (CanLII), at para. 6).[16]

45. The above language in Rol-Land Farms Limited and section 6(2) of the JRPA are ironically similar in that the ONSCDC used the following: "where the preliminary decision will likely result in a fundamental failure of justice" and section 6(2) of the JRPA utilizes the language of "where it is made to appear to the judge that the case is one of urgency and that the delay required for an application to the Divisional Court is likely to involve a failure of justice. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 6 (2); 2006, c. 19, Sched. C, s. 1 (1)." The common or similar words between the jurisprudential statement of law and the legislative language in the JRPA are: likely; result vs. involve; and failure of justice.

46. The statement of law in Rol-Land Farms Limited and JRPA, ss. 6(2) both relate to a timing issue as follows:

a. The ONSC determining whether to decide a JRPA Application at a certain time where the underlying administrative proceeding is ongoing (i.e. whether or not it is premature to do so); and
b. The ONSC determining whether to decide a JRPA Application before a single justice as opposed to having a three-judge panel of the ONSC Divisional Court decide the same later (i.e. whether or not the delay in waiting for the ONSC Divisional Court to decide it later will likely, albeit only a appearance, result in a failure of justice).

determined a failure of justice is likely if the single justice of the ONSC does not assume jurisdiction. The merits of an application are important factors in determining whether there will be a failure of justice.

48. It is now unsurprising why SNIC purported to approve the sum of approximately $2,000 in the first submitted OCF-18 in April 2023, and then Mr. Nieuwland for TDGIC and Mr. Karat represented to the Tribunal that TDGIC or "they" [as incompetent and inaccurate as that was] had paid $2850 in benefits but both were incorrect. There is no dispute that the hearing of this JRPA Application is "urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition))". It is more likely than that that there will be a failure of justice if there is a delay in not having this JRPA Application heard urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition) subject to the ONSC Divisional Court being available in mid-January 2025, as SNIC has not even filed a valid pleading therein, SNIC did not file a case conference brief, and it is not the First Insurer.

49. While the Tribunal found in Mosa and Dankha that it cannot excuse or condone non-compliance with the LSA and LSO By-Laws, this is exactly what the likes of Vice Chair Lake and Vice Chair Morrissette have done since the outset and continued to flout another piece of legislation, and its by-laws which have legislative force, in the LAW SOCIETY ACT. There is a persistent and internal discord between the decisions of Vice Chair McGee and Vice Chair Maedel in Dankha and Mosa respectively, and those of Vice Chair Lake and Vice Chair Morrissette. This is yet another ground, and a test case, to determine if this internal discord meets one of the disjunctive and independent grounds an exception to presumption of reasonableness.

50. The JRPA Applicant has led more than sufficient evidence with an affidavit #2 being solely confined to the test for leave. The Applicant respectfully submits that it is "plain and obvious" that this JRPA Application will succeed at least on the substantial and pressing questions of law. However, this is merely contextual now as the Applicant's Requisition #2 was somehow and inexplicably not advance can be addressed on a substantive level by NOM #2.

51. Herein, the sole ground that VCM set forth in not granting Order #3 in NOM #14, without addressing the other orders #1, #2, #4 and #5, was that she did not believe she had any jurisdiction to exercise a discretion to add TDHA albeit there was no dispute or finding to the contrary that TDHA was the First Insurer as a matter of law. VCM was statutorily required to decide the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) in accordance with SABS. A breach of Reg 283 is legally equivalent to a breach of SABS.

PREFACE #1(A)(I): Remaining Respondents only evinced an intend to respond to JRPA* Application but never did; Tribunal did not comply with section 20 of the SPPA; cannot comply with section 10 of JRPA; and did not participate in NOM #2

52. It is trite that judgments, also called reasons for judgment or reasons, are the explanation that the court gives at the conclusion of a hearing, explaining why an order is being made. By contrast, an order is the formal expression of the ruling of the court. Nothing is to be gained from another step in this JRPA Proceeding but for costs or further submissions on any points of law below.

53. The Applicant is concomitantly requesting that a sitting motions justice endorse the Draft Order or issue the same with "reasons to follow". This is consistent with Rule 59 that an order is effective from the date of pronouncement. It is then incumbent upon the parties to draft an order for review by the justice who issued judgment for it be deposited and/or it may already be deposited and signed upon the Motion #2 Motion Record, COMPENDIUM, JRPA Factum or JRPA* Application. The Motion Record #2 is preferrable and ideal.

Applicant has been without a First Insurer, with concomitant duties to respond and pay benefits and without a correct insurer and address in HCAI to be able to submit treatment plans.

PREFACE #1(A)(II): WRITTEN REASONS TO FOLLOW (AN Order or Endorsement)

55. There are many instances in which a trial judge may feel compelled to provide an immediate oral decision though she or he intends to subsequently file more detailed reasons in writing. In R. v. Teskey, [2007] 2 S.C.R. 267, the Supreme Court of Canada provided the following examples (at paragraph 17): ...it is often necessary in the interests of achieving trial efficiency for a trial judge to announce promptly the disposition on an evidentiary ruling or on a motion, with reasons to follow at a later date. In Teskey, the Supreme Court held that a trial judge "is not precluded from announcing a verdict with 'reasons to follow'" (at paragraph 16).

56. The recent decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in The Queen v. Teskey, 2007 SCC 25, is authority for the proposition that a trial judge is not precluded from issuing a judgment "with reasons to follow", provided the reasons objectively reflect the real basis and reasoning underlying the decision. In this case, I felt it imperative to move the case forward as expeditiously as possible in light of the already inordinate length of the proceeding, the time that had expired since the proceeding had commenced and because it was important to secure the earliest possible date for the disposition hearing: Children's Aid Society of Toronto v. K.(A.), 2007 ONCJ 735 (CanLII) at paragraph 27.

PREFACE #1(A)(II)(a): Tribunal cases

PREFACE #1(A)(II)(a)(i): Bottom Line Rulings

57. In Harrison v. LSO, the panel found Bottom line rulings at paragraph 5: "At the conclusion of the appeal hearing on November 20, 2023, we reserved our decision. On November 28, 2023, we issued a bottom-line ruling. We indicated that the appeal would be allowed, principally on procedural grounds, and that written reasons would follow. We also addressed the relief that would flow from our ruling. At paragraph 68, the LSO appeal tribunal found: "The court was nevertheless at pains to stress the salutary nature of an immediate decision, with reasons to follow, in many circumstances.[18] In Ms. Harrison's case, the passage of one month between the delivery of an oral ruling and the release of the written reasons is neither unusual nor questionable in the context of our Tribunal: Law Society of Ontario v. Harrison, 2024 ONLSTA 1 (CanLII), at para 68).

PREFACE #1(A)(II)(b): LAT cases

58. In Little Start Child Care Inc. v. Director, Child Care and Early Years Act, 2014, 2021 CanLII 21001 (ON LAT), Member Friedland cited Tesky with approval at paragraph 31: "I agree with the appellant's submissions that an adjudicator may announce a decision with reasons to follow. As affirmed by the Supreme Court of Canada in the context of a civil case: the needs of justice in a given case may be better served by an announcement of the disposition of the matter as soon as the deliberation process is completed but before full written reasons can be made available to the parties."

PREFACE #1(A)(II)(c): How much delay is too much delay?

59. In R. v. Cunningham, [2011] O.J. No. 3546, the Ontario Court of Appeal held that "reasons, even if released long after the decision, are presumed to reflect the reasoning that led him [the trial judge] to his decision" (at paragraph 13). The Court of Appeal also held that there "is no time limit on the delivery of reasons," but concern that the requisite link between the two does not exist" (at paragraph 37).

PREFACE #1(A)(IV): Distinctions under the Rules of Civil Procedure to the standard involving criminal law under the Criminal Code

PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(a): Rule 59

60. Rule 59 is analyzed with respect to the absolute right of this ONSC Divisional Court to approve the Draft Order (February 14, 2025) filed by the Applicant and stamped by the Registrar, with sincere thanks. The amendments in 2021 to this Ruel 59 contained distinctions with a difference that are important to note in the context of the unprecedented misconduct of the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies.

PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(b): Effective Date

61. An order is effective from the date on which it is made unless contrary language appears: Rule 59.01.

PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(c): Endorsements

62. An endorsement of an order shall be made on the following: the appeal book, compendium, record, notice of motion, notice of application; OR (ii) a separate document by the judge, associate judge or officer making the order: *Rule 5*9.02 (new provision since 2021 as per O. Reg. 383/21, s. 15).

PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(d): If a separate document

63. If a separate document it utilized, then it MAY [not "shall"] may include the reasons for the decision. However, the separate document SHALL include the following: (i) nature of the hearing or conference; (ii) date of the hearing [nota bene: if written hearing, then the notional date it was returnable on]; (iii) disposition made at the hearing; (iv) list of parties and lawyers who participated in the hearing or conference and who did not participate in the hearing or conference [nota bene: in the content of a Rule 37.12.1(4) motion, then non-participation is gauged by whether the responding parties filed any notices or requests to be heard orally or agreed to have the matter heard in writing and then filed responding parties' motion records, factums et al] (SEE: Rule 59.02).

64. This gives the court the flexibility to combine the endorsement and the reasons for decision into one single document. Alternatively, the Court can do it in a separate stages by endorsing the motion record, notice of motion, notice of application (JRPA* Application) or "record".

PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(e): Draft Order

65. Notably, a draft order must now be sent for approval to all parties "who participated" in the hearing (rather than just those parties who were "represented" at a hearing). As the JRPA* Applicant has already filed and had stamped the Draft Order for NOM #2, Rule 59.03 is inapplicable.

PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(f): Registrar's signature of an order

66. The Registrar may sign the order if it reflects the endorsement made by the sitting motions justice who made it (SEE: Rule 59.04(3)).

PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(g): Draft Order must be approved for FORM and CONTENT

67. A draft order is now to be approved in both form and content (unlike the earlier version of the rule, which required only approval as to its form). The Applicant's draft order of February 14, 2025, has been approved in content and form (see: Compendium, Tab 61)

> PREFACE #1(A)(IV)(h): Application of Rule 59 to the uncontroverted evidence herein

68. The issued order shall be provided to the Applicant has he filed the Draft Order for NOM #2, in Word and PDF, on February 14, 2025, after learning that the responding parties were not complying with their obligations under the Civil Rules (SEE: Rule 59.04(4)). As the Applicant does not have access to Case Center, email is the preferred route for provision of the same.

69. If the registrar is not satisfied that the requirements under Rule 59.04(3) have been met (i.e., the draft order is not in the proper form and/or does not comply with the endorsement or decision), the registrar must give notice to the person who filed the draft order (Rule 59.04(5)). However, that is not an issue herein.

> PREFACE I(B): Party Status: section 5 of the SPPA

70. The Tribunal is subject to the SPPA.[17] Under the SPPA, parties are those that are specified by statute or entitled by law to participate in the proceeding. The Insurance Act does not specify the parties to a LAT proceeding so it is those that are entitled by law to participate in the LAT Proceeding that is applicable. It is an entitlement to participate, but not a duty, that triggers "party status".

71. The irony herein is overwhelming in that section 5 of the SPPA was cited in NOM #8, and it is part of the Record Of Proceeding, demonstrating that said motion did not proceed by consent but rather it required the Applicant to obtain the status certificates from the FSRA and tender them the day before the June 20, 2024, written hearing. The SPPA was included in the motion record, which is in the Application Record, by way of an authority and tendered in perfectly compliant fashion with the relevant LAT Rule.

72. The Applicant not only relied upon the binding legislation, upon the Tribunal, but he relied upon the authorities that bound the Tribunal in the Zurich quintopoly[18] of cases from 2012 to 2024. Mr. Justice Akazaki, a justice of the ONSC, which makes him a justice of the 'division', known as the "Divisional Court" (an intermediate appellate court), issued a beautifully articulated decision in May 2024, which further clarified and bolstered the decision of the Honourable Justice Juriansz of the ONCA in 2014 (adopted by the SCC in verbatim fashion).

73. According to VCM, decisions of the SCC, ONCA, and ONSC (Divisional Court) were not binding upon her. While the expertise or lack thereof of a Tribunal (and/or its decision makers) is no longer a factor in setting the standard of review, it is the four-step process articulated in Shuttleworth by an in-house counsel of the LAT that is so terribly concerning. While the Applicant cited the same, it is the complete absence of any jurisprudence in the VCM Decision in NOM #14 (SEE: pages 8 and 9 of COMPENDIUM) that requires this reviewing court to start afresh.

74. VCM had to address each order sought and not merely dismiss a 'motion' in a general sense. She had to grapple with the evidence, issues, and submissions. As it relates to the evidence, her apparent biggest gripe is that there was some kind of 'strain' put on the Tribunal as if the Tribunal was subject to some motor vehicle accident and its hypothetically personified impairments needed some level of classification. Moreover, in NOM #15, VCM took aim at the Applicant somehow 'curtailing' [sic] presuming VCM meant circumventing] his affidavit evidence to include too much 'material in support of his motion and submissions'.

75. In a pre-LAT decision denoted in the JRPA Application and Factum in Reza, the decision maker therein was concerned that a decision changing the style of cause from State Farm to Certas would affect all other ongoing proceedings before the FSCO. It is unclear why following the law would take a 'back seat' to some administrative changes to the style of cause.

76. The distinction between the sale of a business by State Farm to Certas could not be more different as State Farm naturally no longer had an FSRA number but that was presumably assumed by Certas and/or removed from the rolls of the register for the FSRA.

PREFACE I(C): The direct OR substantial interest in outcome test

77. At paragraph 59 of UFCW Canada v. Rol-Land Farms Limited, 2008 CanLII 6652 (ONSC DC), Swinton J., found as follows for a unanimous Divisional Court:

> "[59] Principles of administrative law have long held that a person can be made a party to a proceeding only if he or she has a direct or substantial interest in the outcome of the case (Re Hoogendoorn and Greening Metal Products & Screening Equipment (1967), 1967 CanLII 20 (SCC), 65 D.L.R. (2d) 641 (S.C.C.))."

78. There is no dispute any of the evidence on a general level but also specifically under this sub-heading that TDHA, on a balance of probabilities had and has a direct OR substantial interest in the outcome of the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6). However, the adding of the party of TDHA as the First Insurer, along with the concomitant sought orders pursuant to the declaratory relief along the addition of those "causes of action" against "another" were all final orders and decisions that squarely invoke the Constitution of Canada. "Causes of Action" is defined as: "a fact or facts that enable a person to bring an action against another". As SNIC and TDGIC were not "one and the same", neither are SNIC and TDHA.

79. The JRPA Applicant seeks the following substantive orders between himself vs. SNIC and TDHA as particularized in his Draft Order for Motion #2 in paragraph fives to seven:

> [8] THIS COURT ORDERS THAT the NOM #2 is heard in "written format" on February 14, 2025, and that said NOM #2 was converted into a Motion for Judgment (SEE: Rule 1.03(2)ii) pursuant to Rule 37.13(2)(a);
>
> [9] THIS COURT ORDERS THAT that the Applicant shall have Judgment in this JRPA Proceeding as, in part, particularized in his JRPA Application, Factum and Factum to his NOM #2 as follows:
>
> a. THIS COURT DECLARES THAT the impugned decisions and orders (relevant to the Applicant's NOM #14 (August 3, 2024) (SEE: particularized therein as Orders #1 to #4 of Vice Chair Morisette (SEE: Schedule "D") and NOM #15 (August 17, 2024) (particularized therein as Order #3), dated and signed on September 12, 2024 (the "VCM Decision"), and Vice Chair Lake on reconsideration (October 15, 2024) involve final decisions and final orders;
>
> b. THIS COURT FURTHER DECLARES that the standard of review to those final decisions and final orders, particularized and cross-referenced herein, is correctness;
>
> c. THIS COURT ORDERS AND QUASHES, in the nature of certiorari, the decisions and orders of VCM (excluding the order(s) in NOM #13 contained in the same issued reasons for decision VCM (defined above as the "VCM Decision") upheld on reconsideration by VC Lake, and substituting the same for the orders sought in NOM #14 as follows including the following consequential or ancillary orders:
> i. An Order setting aside the final order of VCM that refused the Applicant's relief sought to add TDHA as a party and substituting it with an order that TDHA is added as a party to the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6);
> ii. An Order that TDHA has 14 days from the date of this order to file a responsive pleading to the causes of action of the Applicant's LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) that it received on December 24, 2023, via fax;
> iii. An Order that TDHA is declared as the First Insurer pursuant to Reg 283;
> iv. An Order that TDHA is required to comply with all of its obligations under the Insurance Act, Reg 283, and SABS forthwith on a past, current and future bases;
> v. An Order SNIC and TDHA shall take all necessary steps to provide the correct name of 'the insurer' that first received the Applicant's Completed Application with current mailing address and fax number to the Applicant at his email for his accident benefits claim at mcleansniclatgmail.com, and correct the same with the central processing agency also known as HCAI within 7 days of this order;

PREFACE III: THE STATEMENT OF ISSUES

80. The issues to be answered at the February 14, 2025, written hearing are as follows.

ISSUE #1: A PROPER Case to Convert NOM #2 into a Judgment Motion

81. As per the following legal principles and facts herein[19], is this a proper case to convert the motion #2 into a motion for judgment (a "Motion For Judgment" or "Judgment Motion")? Has the Applicant brought the necessary evidence to the attention of the single motion justice for a Rule 37.13(2)(a) to convert NOM #2 into a motion for judgment? In light of the Applicant's strict and unbridled compliance with the JRPA, Rules of Civil Procedure, Practice Directions et al, and the Remaining Respondents failures,

ISSUE #2: FINAL DECISIONS AND FINAL ORDERS

82. When an administrative tribunal, particularly a quasi-judicial one, refuses relief (i) add parties; (ii) amend pleadings and/or (iii) causes of actions versus granting any of those heads of relief; and makes determinations refusing relief for (iv) summary motions for questions of law; and that invoke (v) involving res judicata and issue estoppel, are those decisions or determinations final decisions and/or final orders?

i. More specifically, did Vice Chair Morrisette ("VCM") issue, on September 13, 2024, final decisions and orders when she refused the relief and orders sought as follows in the SABS Applicant's NOM #14 and #15 in the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6):

i. Order #1:
   1. An Order, Declaration, determination and/or finding that TD Home And Auto Insurance Company, FSRA registration number 1063 ("TDHA" or "TDHAIC") was the First Insurer (i.e.. to receive, pursuant to Reg 283, the Appellant's fax delivered Completed Application (SEE: Reg 283, s 0. 1) to the fax number, provided to him by SNIC as a return address [sic] for SNIC, of 416-774-3120 (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) on October 13, 2022;

ii. Order #2:
   1. An Order, Declaration, determination or finding the physical address, which is apparently denoted as a branch office of SNIC in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271), municipally known as 304 The East Mall, Floor 6, Etobicoke, Toronto, Ontario, M9B 6B7 (the "Etobicoke East Mall Address") was or is an address or branch office of TDHA and not SNIC;

iii. Order #3:
   1. An Order adding TDHA as a respondent party to this LAT proceeding therein;

iv. Order #4:
   1. An Order requiring TDHA, should it wish to oppose the relief sought in the Appellant's Appeal, file and serve a Response to the Appellant's Appeal within 14 days of the date of the orders herein; and

v. "Order #5" [Order #3 in NOM #14]
   1. A preliminary finding, determination, or order, that the fax number 416-774-3120 (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; Tab 10, page 147 and 148) was a landline phone number utilized as a fax number on the 4th floor of the building situated at the premises municipally known as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7.

(the "Refused Relief Sought")

ISSUE #3: PREMATURITY DOCTRINE: INAPPLICABILITY

83. As the Refused Relief Sought became final decisions when the Tribunal (as per Vice Chair Morissette) became functus officio on September 13, 2024, was the Tribunal's (as per SLASTO legal unit counsel in Mr. Boyce), November 2024 prematurity doctrine objection, which did not provide any basis for what adequate, alternate and available relief was available against the First Insurer (TDHA) which was not a party of record, objection sustainable at law?

    i. Assuming arguendo that the Prematurity Doctrine was applicable to this JRPA Proceeding, would any the exceptions to the Prematurity Doctrine, including any of the other anti-justiciability doctrines, render this judicial review justiciable in any event?

ISSUE #4: STANDARD OF REVIEW

84. Do the questions posed in the JRPA Application, Applicant's Factum[20] et al in this JRPA Proceeding involve: (i) a statutory right[21] of appeal or statutory appeal mechanisms being in place; (ii) the relationship between the Legislature and other branches of government; (iii) the jurisdictional boundaries between two or more administrative bodies within Ontario and federally; (iv) general questions of central importance to the legal system as a whole; (v) constitutional questions; and/or (vi) persistent discord within the Licence Appeal Tribunal?

ISSUE #5: APPLICANT'S BURDEN OF PROOF: BALANCE OF PROBABILITIES

85. What is the Applicant's burden of proof and what is this Court entitled to do when the standard of review by the Divisional Court of the Licence Appeal Tribunal is correctness (the "Correctness SOR")?

ISSUE #6: The Tribunal's Qualified Standing and Non-Existent Participation Rights

86. On account of the following: (i) section 9(2) of the JRPA is not unequivocal as to the statutory decision maker's scope of participation; (ii) the Tribunal is a quasi-judicial body; (iii) the Respondent Insurance Companies opposed, at least implicitly, the relief in the JRPA Application; (iv) have been available to oppose the relief sought JRPA Application as of December 3, 2024, along with having the necessary expertise and knowledge to do so; and (v) the Tribunal's admission, as of February 13, 2025, that it had been compiling the Record Of Proceeding and was attempting to do so, what would have been, the scope of the Tribunal's participation in this JRPA Proceeding?

ISSUE #7: Specific Issues of Central Importance to the Legal System as a Whole - Evasive of the Specific Issues in the Judicial Review

RE: DATA FIDUCIARIES

RE #2: CAUSES OF ACTION OUTSIDE OF THE SABS DISPUTE RESOLUTION PROCESS INVOLVING A NON-FIRST INSURER AND NON-UNDERWRITER – THAT IMPROPERLY INSERTED ITSELF INTO A TRIBUNAL PROCEEDING

87. Following the masterfully articulated decision of the Honourable Mr. Justice Akazaki, a current justice of this ONSC and a justice of the ONSC Divisional Court, in Zurich 2024 [SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 30] which followed and affirmed the arguably most well-reasoned dissenting decision of the ONCA by The Honourable Mr. Justice Juriansz (as he then was) in Zurich 2014, what further principles of law can be expanded upon with respect to the duties of a First Insurer, on a provisional basis, and a First Insurer, on a permanent basis?[22]

ISSUE #8: Participation Rights of Insurance Companies in SNIC and TDHA in this JRPA Proceeding pursuant to the Keeprite Standard and Sticky Nuggz

88. As the Respondent Insurance Companies did not participate in the initial hearing before VCM or VC Lake on reconsideration, how would the Keeprite Standard have affected the Respondent Insurance Companies' participation rights (i.e. filing of any evidence, submissions or otherwise) in this JRPA Proceeding and NOM #2?

ISSUE #9: Reasonable Apprehension of Bias or COI; Case Conference – impossible to conduct – none of the participants have received invitation to Case Center; Case Conference Compulsory Requirement Now Moot or Spent; and "Exchange of Materials" devoid of meaning as per the Civil *Rule*s

89. The issues are as follows:

a. Is there a ROAB involving the Madam Justice Shore in light of her being a partner at Epstein Cole LLP at the time when Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos retained Epstein Cole LLP along with the admission of law by counsel of record in this JRPA Proceeding to the three distinct insurance companies that Mr. Andrew Papadimitropoulos could not be involved in the Applicant's SABS Claim and LAT Appeal by his contractually agreed requirement that he not have any indirect or direct contact Ms. Nicole Artopoulos (spouse of the Applicant at material times) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, page 66)?
b. Pursuant to the common law in Canada that a RAOB cannot be remedied, what order must be granted in relation to the Shore J. Case Management Appearance Requirement?
c. As the Compulsory Case Conference Attendance Requirement was predicated on a prematurity doctrine objection by the Tribunal yet the Tribunal had not even compiled the Record Of Proceeding on an initial and ongoing basis, could prematurity even been hypothetically discussed the same?
d. As the Applicant does not have an invitation to Case Center and he could not comply with the requirement that the parties upload all materials that they intend to rely upon five days before, was or is a case conference able to be conducted in accordance with the requirements of the Civil Rules?

ISSUE #10: Orders or Endorsement with Reasons to Follow

90. As the Tribunal is unable to file a Record Of Proceeding due to its failure to comply with its compilation duties pursuant to section 20 of the SPPA, none of the Remaining Respondents opposed NOM #1, the Remaining Respondents failed to comply with Rule 37.12.1(5)(a) to (d), the form and content of the current Draft Order has been served, filed and stamped by the Divisional Court,

VOLUME #1: ISSUE #1: A PROPER CASE TO CONVERT MOTION TO MOTION FOR JUDGMENT

VOLUME #1(I)(A): Prescribed Definitions

91. "Judgment" means a decision that finally disposes of an application …… on its merits: Rule 1.03. "Order" includes a Judgment: Rule 1.03. "Application" means a proceeding commenced by notice of application. "Proceeding" means an action or application.

VOLUME #1(I)(B): Undefined by LGIC: Dictionary definitions

92. "Dispose" means: to settle a matter finally: M-W dictionary. "Proper" means: marked by suitability, rightness, or appropriateness: M-W Dictionary.

VOLUME #1(I)(C): Judicial Review: Summary Proceedings – Legislature's Intent Must be Respected

93. Applications for judicial review are intended to be summary proceedings, and preliminary motions add greatly to the cost and time required to deal with such matters and are therefore to be discouraged.[23] By analogy, like a party may not rest on allegations in its pleadings on a motion for summary judgment, the same applies to motions before tribunals on points of law that are dispositive of whom is the "First Insurer" out of two or more insurance companies. The party must "put its best foot forward" or "lead trumps or risk losing".[24] The principle is applicable herein to the NOM #14 and #15 being summary type hearings and this JRPA Proceeding.

94. Applications for judicial review are intended to be summary proceedings as per the explicit language of the JRPA in section 7 and 8. Moreover, the language in the Ontario Civil *Rule*s of Procedure explicitly and implicitly reaffirms the summary nature of judicial review proceedings. Further, even the Valid Consolidated Practice Direction of this Divisional Court provides further evidence by its amendments in July 2023 as to why it too is of the view that judicial review proceedings are summary in nature.

VOLUME #1(I)(C)(i): JRPA

95. The power of the court to set aside a decision for error of law on the face of the record on an application for an order in the nature of certiorari is extended so as to apply on an application for judicial review in relation to any decision made in the exercise of any statutory power of decision to the extent it is not limited or precluded by the Act conferring such power of decision: section 2(2) of the JRPA.

96. Where the findings of fact of a tribunal made in the exercise of a statutory power of decision are required by any statute or law to be based exclusively on evidence admissible before it and on facts of which it may take notice and there is no such evidence and there are no such facts to support findings of fact made by the tribunal in making a decision in the exercise of such power, the court may set aside the decision on an application for judicial review: section 2(3) of the JRPA.

97. On an application for judicial review in relation to a statutory power of decision, where the sole ground for relief established is a defect in form or a technical irregularity, if the court finds that no substantial wrong or miscarriage of justice has occurred, the court may refuse relief and, where the decision has already been such terms as the court considers proper: s. 3.

98. On an application for judicial review, the court may make such interim order as it considers proper pending the final determination of the application: section 4 of the JRPA.

99. An application for an order in the nature of mandamus, prohibition or certiorari shall be deemed to be an application for judicial review and shall be made, treated and disposed of as if it were an application for judicial review: section 7 of the JRPA.

100. It is sufficient in an application for judicial review if the Applicant sets out in the notice of application the grounds on which the Applicant is seeking relief and the nature of the relief: section 9 of the JRPA.

101. When notice of an application for judicial review of a decision made in the exercise or purported exercise of a statutory power of decision has been served on the person making the decision, such person shall forthwith file in the court for use on the application the record of the proceedings in which the decision was made: section 10 of the JRPA.

VOLUME #1(I)(D): CJA and Ontario Rules of Civil Procedure: why JRPA Proceedings are summary in nature

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(I): CJA

102. All justices of the ONSC are also justices of the ONSC Divisional Court: s. 18 of the CJA. Every judge of the Superior Court of Justice is also a judge of the Divisional Court: section 18(3) of the CJA.

103. Application" means a civil proceeding that is commenced by notice of application or by application. "motion" means a motion in a proceeding or an intended proceeding. "order" includes a judgment or decree: section 1 of the CJA.

104. In matters that are assigned by law to the judiciary, registrars, court clerks, court reporters, interpreters and other court staff shall act at the direction of the chief justice of the court: section 76 of the CJA.

105. Where a rule of equity conflicts with a rule of the common law, the rule of equity prevails: section 96(2) of the CJA.

106. Only the Court of Appeal and the Superior Court of Justice, exclusive of the Small Claims Court, may grant equitable relief, unless otherwise provided: section 96(3) of the CJA. The Court of Appeal and the Superior Court of Justice, exclusive of the Small Claims Court, may make binding declarations of right, whether or not any consequential relief is or could be claimed: section 97 of the CJA

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(i): Rules of Civil Procedure ("Civil *Rule*s")

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(i)(a): Rule 1.02 and 1.04

107. The Civil *Rule*s are not applicable to the procedures under statutes like the SPPA and JRPA: Rule 1.02(3.)

108. These rules shall be liberally construed to secure the just, most expeditious and least expensive determination of every civil proceeding on its merits: Rule 1.04(1).

PROCEDURE

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(a): Rule 38: Application of the Rule and Place of In-Person Hearings: Rule 38.03

109. *Rule*s 38.02 and 38.09 do not apply to applications to the Divisional Court: Rule 38.01 (2). Rule 38.09 is "Material for Use on Application" and its subrules including different requirements for timing of filing and serving the factum and application record from that of Rule 68.04.

110. If the application is to be heard in person, it shall be heard in the county where the proceeding was commenced or to which it has been transferred under rule 13.1.02, unless the court orders otherwise: Rule 38.03(1.1).

111. At any place where no practice direction concerning the scheduling of applications is in effect, an application may be set down for hearing on any day on which a judge is scheduled to hear applications: Rule 38.03(2)

112. An urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and Tab 42 (Requisition)) application may be set down for hearing on any day on which a judge is scheduled to hear applications, even if a lawyer estimates that the hearing is likely to be more than two hours long: Rule 38.03(3.1).

113. If a notice of application has been served and the respondent wishes to make an application against the Applicant, or against the Applicant and another person, the respondent shall make the application at the same place and time to the same judge, unless the court orders otherwise (SEE: Rule 38.03(4).

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(a)(i): Service of Notice: Generally: Rule 38.06: served at least ten days before the date of the hearing (indicative of the Civil *Rule*s Committee focus on summary disposition of a judicial review notice of application)

114. The notice of application shall be served at least ten days before the date of the hearing of the application, except where the notice is served outside Ontario, in which case it shall be served at least twenty days before the hearing date: Rule. 38.06.

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(b): Rule 38.07: Notice of Appearance

115. A respondent who has been served with a notice of application shall forthwith deliver a notice of appearance (Form 38A). Rule 38.07 (1). By filing a "Notice of appearance", a respondent is entitled to file documents in the judicial review proceeding and cross-examine an affiant on his or her affidavit, be heard at the hearing of the Application: Rule 38.07(2).

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(c): Rule 38.10: Disposition of Application

116. On the hearing of an application the presiding judge may: (a) grant the relief sought or dismiss or adjourn the application, in whole or in part and with or without terms; and (b) (a) grant the relief sought or dismiss or adjourn the application, in whole or in part and with or without terms.

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(d): Rule 38.12: Striking out a Document

117. Rule 25.11 applies, with necessary modifications, with respect to any document filed on an application (SEE: Rule 38.12.)

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(iii)(a): Applicable Procedure

118. Rule 38, except as provided in subrule 38.01 (2), [which excludes Rule 38.02 and Rule 38.09 from divisional court judicial review proceedings] and rules 68.03 to 68.07 apply to applications to the Divisional Court for judicial review: (SEE: Rule 68.02(1))

119. Rule 38 applies to applications to the Superior Court of Justice for judicial review under subsection 6 (2) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act: Rule 68.02(2).

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(b): Hearing Date in Divisional Court

120. A notice of application shall state that the application is to be heard on a date to be fixed by the registrar at the place of hearing: Rule 68.03.

121. Ergo, it is not a date that is set by the Court but rather by the Registrar.

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(c): Application Records and Factums

122. The Applicant shall deliver an application record and a factum: (b) where the nature of the application does not require such a record, within thirty days after the application is commenced: Rule 68.04(1).

123. The respondent shall deliver an application record and a factum within thirty [30] days after service of the Applicant's application record and factum (SEE: Rule 68.04(4).)

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(d): "Certificate Of Perfection" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 39)

124. The Applicant shall file with the application record a "Certificate Of Perfection" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 39): (a) stating that all the material required to be filed by the Applicant for the hearing of the application has been filed; and (b) setting out, with respect to every party to the application and any other person entitled by statute or by an order under rule 13.03 (intervention) to be heard on the application: Rule 68.05(1).

125. When the "Certificate Of Perfection" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 39) has been filed, the registrar shall place the application on a list for hearing and give notice of listing for hearing (Form 68B) by mail to the parties and the other persons named in the "Certificate Of Perfection" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 39) (SEE: r. 68.05 (2)).

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(e): Rule 37: Motions

126. A judge has jurisdiction to hear any motion in a proceeding (SEE: Rule 37.02).

127. A motion shall be made to the court if it is within the jurisdiction of an associate judge or registrar and otherwise shall be made to a judge (SEE: Rule 37.04).

128. At any place[25] where no practice direction concerning the scheduling of motions is in effect, a motion may be set down for hearing on any day on which a judge or associate judge is scheduled to hear motions: Rule 37.05.

and shall, not later than 2 p.m. five days before the hearing date: give the registrar a confirmation of motion (Form 37B) by; and (b) send a copy of the confirmation of motion to the other party by e-mail.

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(g): Opposed Motions in Writing

130. The moving party may propose in the notice of motion that the motion be heard in writing without the attendance of the parties, in which case: Rule 37.12.1(4).

131. Within ten days after being served with the moving party's material, the responding party shall serve and file, with proof of service, in the court office where the motion is to be heard: (a) a consent to the motion(b) a notice that the responding party does not oppose the motion;(c) a motion record, a notice that the responding party agrees to have the motion heard and determined in writing under this rule and a factum entitled factum for a motion in writing, setting out the party's argument; or(d) a notice that the responding party intends to make oral argument, along with any material intended to be relied upon by the party: Rule 37.12.1(5).

VOLUME #1(I)(D)(ii)(g)(i): Disposition of a Motion

132. On the hearing of a motion, the presiding judge or officer may grant the relief sought or dismiss or adjourn the motion, in whole or in part and with or without terms, and may: (b) where the proceeding is an application, order that it be heard at such time and place as are just. r. 37.13 (1). Pursuant to Rule 37.13(2), "A judge who hears a motion may, (a) in proper case, order that the motion be converted into a motion for judgment".

VOLUME #1(I)(E): Practice Direction of the Divisional Court

133. The Divisional Court Practice Direction of June 15, 2023, authorized by Chief Justice Morawetz, made several significant changes in repealing all previous "Notices to Profession" and the "Repealed Practice Direction". The Valid Practice Direction states:

> "Consolidated Practice Direction for Divisional Court Proceedings > Effective June 15, 2023
> This practice direction applies to Divisional Court proceedings. It replaces all previously issued practice directions and notices to the profession for the Divisional Court and the Provincial Notice to the Profession, Parties, Public, and Media."

134. Some of the substantive and relevant amendments were, as applicable herein, that the Divisional Court would no longer manage all judicial reviews, steps in all matters by way of case conferences or case management:

i. Repealed provision under "Notice of Profession" (D7): All matters in Divisional Court, and all steps in all matters in Divisional Court, are subject to judicial case management (SEE: D7, 1.); versus

ii. CURRENT PROVISION (SECTION 31): All applications, appeals, and motions in Divisional Court, and all steps in those proceedings, may be subject to judicial case management: Part I: Divisional Court Proceedings, G: Triage and Case Management, section 31.

135. There is no specific provision within the New Practice Direction regarding scheduling of motions. The Divisional Court sits all days in January to June 2025. As such, a justice of the ONSC, who is also a judge of the Divisional Court, can hear a motion at any time.

136. The distinction between the Current DC Practice Direction and the Invalid DC Practice Direction and the Notice to Profession are numerous and significant. The two invalid or spent documents in the 'Repealed DC Practice Direction' and 'Repealed Notice to Profession" are contained within the DC JRPA Guide. The DC JRPA Guide remains a valid Practice Direction but the hyperlinks contained therein are not. Under the Old Practice Direction, case conferences and case management were always required but under the Current DC Practice Direction, they are not. There is a live issue by way of NOM #2 as to whether there is a reasonable apprehension of bias ("RAOB"), conflict of interest or lack of independence by Madam Justice Shore being involved in this JRPA Proceeding by her being a partner at the law firm (Epstein Cole LLP) that advised Mr. Papadimitropoulos.

VOLUME #1(I)(F): Guide to Judicial Review in the Divisional Court

137. The Div Ct JRPA Guide is a practice direction. It fills the lacuna above as it relates to the timing of receipt of the Case Center invitation. The Applicant was entitled to an invitation to Case Center upon his bringing of the JRPA Application which was November 15, 2024. As such, he had to seek an order in NOM #2 regarding the same that reflected the status at the time of seeking said order.

VOLUME #1(I)(G): Rule 37.13: A Proper Case: Vertical Stare decisis and Horizontal Stare decisis

VOLUME #1(I)(G)(i): The Jurisdiction of the Ontario Courts

138. Under Rule 37.13(2)(a), a judge who hears a motion may, in a proper case, order that the motion be converted into a motion for judgment: Wilson v. Ingersoll (1916), 38 O.L.R. 260 (H.C.J.); Janisse v. Livesey, [1944] O.J. No. 185 (H.C.J.); CMLQ Investors Co. v. CIBC Trust Corp., [1996] O.J. No. 3171 (C.A.).

VOLUME #1(I)(G)(ii): The Two Part Legal Test

139. The law in this province has been since 1996 that a proper case to convert a motion into a motion for judgment involves a two part legal test: (i) where the parties have had the opportunity to fully argue their positions; and (ii) all necessary evidence was before the motions judge.

VOLUME #1(I)(G)(iii): But first: the underlying facts

140. The converting of a motion, in writing (as the Responding Parties did not file any notices or opposition by way of factum and motion records to NOM #3), into a Motion For Judgment is not one that means that the moving party will be successful in his motion to obtain Judgment or to dismiss a proceeding. Rather, the conversion is merely that: one where the opportunity has been afforded to the parties to fully argue their positions, and all necessary evidence, not necessarily all evidence, to finally dispose of the issues in the proceeding is in the court file at the time of conversion.

VOLUME #1(I)(G)(iv): Opportunity to Fully Argue their Positions

141. The issue of opportunity is rather rudimentary in a judicial review proceeding because the opportunity to argue one's position fully is determined by the JRPA and the Civil *Rule*s. The first part of the legal test is rather easy hurdle to determine based on whether the respondents have complied with the timelines in a judicial review proceeding (SEE: Rule 68).

("Judgment")

142. The second part of the test is more nuanced. "Evidence" is not defined under the Civil *Rule*s or any other provincial statute. "Necessary" is defined as: absolutely needed. What is "necessary" with respect to evidence is shaped by that which is necessary to finally dispose of the merits of the JRPA Application.

143. While a JRPA Application is not technically a 'pleading' per se, the scope of the pleadings determines the scope of the facts, relief and evidence before the Court. Further, an Applicant's Factum and application record will determine what relief has been distilled and particularized that is being sought. From that Factum, which triggers the time for the respondent to file a responsive factum and application record, the evidence that is absolutely necessary to determine whether the merits can be determined is to be decided by the sitting motions justice.

144. If the parties have had the opportunity to fully argue their positions, and the necessary evidence is before the motions judge to either grant Judgment in favour (full or in part of the Applicant or respondents), then the motions judge must convert because there is nothing to be gained by either party by adding further proceedings (or steps) to those already taken. : CMLQ Investors Co. v. CIBC Trust Corp., 1996 CanLII 905 (ON CA), <https://canlii.ca/t/6hzv>, cited with approval in Royal Bank of Canada v. Rastogi, 2011 ONCA 47.

VOLUME #1(I)(G)(vi): Inherent Jurisdiction of this Honourable Divisional Court (not a statutory court)

145. Rule 37.13(2)(a) has been cited directly or by being a prescribed companion to the inherent jurisdiction of the court: Stickel v. Unum Provident Corporation, 2009 CanLII 63588 (ON SC) at paragraph 4.

VOLUME #1(I)(H): Application of the Law to the Facts

146. The Respondents have had ample opportunity to fully argue their positions but they have chosen not to do so. The Tribunal has failed to file the Record Of Proceeding during the ROP Temporal Period on a forthwith basis. The Tribunal has failed, as of the date of February 14, 2025, which is more than 90 days since the time of being served with the filed copy of the JRPA Application. Despite the Applicant bringing NOM #1 to compel production of the ROP, the Tribunal has still failed to file the same. The Applicant has also made an access request through FIPPA and may turn into a FIPPA complaint. The Tribunal filed its Notice of Appearance on November 27, 2024 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 57). The Respondent Insurance Companies filed their Notices Of Appearance on December 3, 2024 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 57). Since the outset of this JRPA Proceeding, adhering to timelines has been an issue for the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies.

VOLUME #2(A): Final Orders and Final Decisions: refuse relief to add a party, amend pleadings and causes of action 147. The dismissal of NOM #14 (Orders #1 to #4) and NOM #15 (Orders #3) by VCM, absent any analysis of the statutory scheme were decisions and orders that were final in nature: ME v. Ontario[26] citing Atlas[27], Kerr et al. Further authorities of our Ontario courts unequivocally support the unequivocal common law principles and precedents that to refuse relief to add a party, cause of action, and/or amendment of pleadings are final orders.

148. Even motions that were dismissed that sought leave to issue third- and fourth-party claims were FINAL (SEE: Khalil et al. v. United Investment Services Ltd. et al., 1975 CanLII 490 (ONSC) ["Khalil"]. Khalil has been cited positively in cases like Denison Mines Ltd. v. Ontario Hydro, 2001 CanLII 5681 (ON CA) at paragraph 21.

149. In Hollinger, an order maintaining a sealing order FINALLY determined that a newspaper could not exercise its right to have access to the court file and was thus FINAL for the purposes of appeal (see Hollinger Inc. v. Ravelston Corp., 2008 ONCA 207 ["Hollinger"].

150. Even further, where a question of law is at issue, even when the ongoing inferior tribunal proceeding is ongoing, is a final order or decision. An order dismissing a motion for summary judgment on a question of law, where the only genuine issue is the question of law should probably be regarded as giving rise to res judicata and, hence, a FINAL* order (*SEE: David Polowin Real Estate Ltd. v. Dominion of Canada General Insurance Co., 2004 CanLII 19916 (ON CA) ["Polowin"]). In Polowin, Polowin Real Estate Ltd. was the plaintiff, respondent and moving party and Dominion Insurance Company [abbreviated] was the defendant, Applicant, and responding party [on motion] wherein the moving party sought to quash the appeal involving order of Justice Roland J. Haines of the Superior Court of Justice dated July 14, 2003. Its quashing motion was predicated on the distinction between interlocutory vs. final orders with naturally the moving party seeking an order, declaration or finding that the orders were interlocutory. The ONCA disagreed, while later finding that McNaughton was wrongly decided,

> "[5] The orders are also not just a declaration that the principle of stare decisis applies because there is an order dismissing the motions. As stated in S (R) v. H. (R) (2000), 2000 CanLII 17038 (ON CA), 52 O.R. (3d) 152 (C.A.) 159- 160:
>
> > …an order dismissing a motion for summary judgment on a question of law, where the only genuine issue is the question of law (as provided for in rule 20.04(4)) should probably be regarded as giving rise to a res judicata and, hence, a final order.
> [6] The effect of the order of the motions judge was to preclude the defendants from contesting that they were not entitled to deduct the deductible portion of an insurance policy and claim salvage in the cases before him. Thus, the orders are final."

151. Similarly, herein, the only genuine issues before VCM, as there were no disputes on the evidence as none had been submitted on behalf of any respondent party or non-parties, were questions of law. Therefore, this is yet another disjunctive ground why the Applicant's has an automatic right of judicial review. It is fatal to the Tribunal's preliminary objection of prematurity.

conclusion, is a final order. Where a motion, that is summary disposition in nature is dismissed, it will be FINAL if it involves a substantive issue like issue estoppel (SEE: Almrei v. Canada (Attorney General), 2011 ONCA 779 ["Almrei"]).

VOLUME #2(B): Orders granting leave to add a party, cause of action or amendments to pleadings – interlocutory

153. The natural corollary is that orders that grant the adding of a party, causes of action and/or amendments to pleadings are interlocutory. Permitting amendments to pleadings are generally interlocutory (*SEE: Dynasty Furniture Manufacturing Ltd. v. Toronto-Dominion Bank, 2015 ONCA 137 ["Dynasty Furniture"]). Order granting leave to amend a statement of claim was interlocutory (*SEE: Merling v. Southam Inc., et al, 2000 CanLII 5621 (ONCA) ["Merling"]). An order ADDING a defendant is interlocutory (nota bene: supra, order refusing or denying the addition of a proposed party is FINAL which is trite in the sense that if a party has a cause of action and can seek relief against said proposed party, the refusal FINALLY disposes of that substantive right) (SEE: Prescott & Russell (United Counties) v. David S. Laflamme Construction Inc., 2018 ONCA 495 ["Prescott"]). Order granting leave to amend paragraphs in a statement of claim was interlocutory (*SEE: Natario v. Rodriguez, 2015 ONCA 227 ["Natario"]).

VOLUME #2(C): ISSUE #2: APPLICATION OF THE LAW TO THE FACTS

154. The Refused Final Orders were final in nature as they refused relief to add parties, add causes of action and amend pleadings. Moreover, the very legal test for issue estoppel uses the word "final". The only genuine issues were questions of law or issues of law. Ergo, any of the foregoing four grounds are sufficient for declaration that the decisions issued by VCM in NOM #14 and #15 were of a final nature.

VOLUME #3; ISSUE #3: PREMATURITY DOCTRINE: UNSUSTAINABLE WHEN FINAL ORDERS OR FINAL DECISIONS AT ISSUE – TRIBUNAL HAS BURDEN – FAILED TO DISCHARGE

VOLUME #3(A): Judicial Review – final decisions – automatic right of judicial review

155. In Ontario Nurses Association, Justice Backhouse for the Divisional Court[28] clarified, in 2023, the law in relation to judicial review being restricted to final decisions:

> "[7][29] For the reasons set out below, I have concluded that there are no extraordinary or exceptional circumstances to justify departing from the Divisional Court's usual approach restricting judicial review to final decisions."

156. Justice Backhouse did not find that the law, in Ontario for divisional court proceedings commenced correctly under section 6(1) of the JRPA, was that the entire proceeding had to be completed prior to any commencement of a judicial review which is commonly referred to as one of the doctrines under the anti-justiciability doctrines or rules (the "Anti-Justiciability Doctrines" or "Anti-Justiciability *Rules"). That aforementioned singular doctrine is commonly referred to as the doctrine against fragmentation or bifurcation of administrative proceedings (the "Anti-Fragmentation Doctrine").

157. The two cases cited by the ONSC Divisional Court on its subcategory or sub URL on the Ontario Courts URL (SEE: https://www.ontariocourts.ca/scj/divisional-court/casebook/) are: (i) Volochay (2012 ONCA); an (ii) Ontario College of Art (1993 ONSC DC).

VOLUME #3(B): Volochay

158. The facts in Volochay have no relevance herein as Volochay involved a massage therapist engaged in a litany of bizarre, unlawful, unethical and disturbing conduct involving one of his patients. As such, while the general legal principle is well-taken, vertical stare decisis does not apply. Volochay, at the ONCA, discussed the issue whether the application judge was right to grant judicial review and quash two decisions made by the College of Massage Therapists of Ontario regarding a complaint against Mr. Oleg Volochay, who was accused of professional misconduct. The College's Complaints Committee investigated the complaint without notifying Mr. Volochay or giving him a chance to respond, which violated the procedural fairness required by the Code. Justice Ratushny granted Mr. Volochay's judicial review application, quashing the decisions of the Complaints Committee and the subsequent appointment of an investigator, citing violations of natural justice and procedural fairness. The regulatory framework under the Regulated Health Professions Act and the Health Professions Procedural Code mandates procedural fairness, including the right to notice and the opportunity to respond to complaints. The Court of Appeal concluded that the application judge was wrong in principle to grant judicial review and that Mr. Volochay should have pursued the alternative remedy before seeking judicial intervention. The College was awarded costs for both the judicial review in the Divisional Court and the appeal, totaling $22,500.

VOLUME #3(C): Art College

159. In Art College, The Ontario Court (General Division) Divisional Court dismissed an application for judicial review concerning a decision by the Ontario Human Rights Commission to seek the appointment of a board of inquiry. The application was deemed premature, emphasizing the importance of allowing administrative proceedings to reach their conclusion before judicial intervention. The College and the chairman sought to General who argued that the application was premature.

160. This was an understandable result because the College of Art, Van Kempen and the other individual took issue with the investigation undertaken by an officer of the Ontario Human Rights Commission – not to be confused with the HRTO. However, this was again at the investigative stage involving the OHRC requesting that the Minister of Citizenship conduct an inquiry through a board.

161. There was no final decision or final order therein as it was merely a decision to appoint a board to inquire into the impugned conduct. Ergo, the legal precedent or ratio decidendi ("the reason for deciding" or "principle that said case establishes on the facts of that case") of Art College does not invoke any vertical stare decisis herein. It is important to note that in 1993, there was no Ontario Human Rights Tribunal as that was not created until 2008. At the time of Art College, there was only an Ontario Human Rights Commission that engaged in not only deciding matters through a Board of Inquiry but an investigative stage.

162. Ironically, there was perhaps a similar type procedure of compelled mediation and then arbitration before the FSCO prior to 2016 but that was abolished by the passage of various pieces of legislation and subsequent action in 2016. As such, there is no similar type procedure to be compared involving the LAT (AABS) that could apply the legal principles or precedent from Art College to the facts herein.

VOLUME #3(D): THE KNOWN CASES RELIED UPON BY THE TRIBUNAL ALBEIT INFORMALLY IN CORRESPONDENCE

163. The Applicant addressed the cases cited by the Tribunal in his Factum For Motion In Writing for NOM #2. Those cases were: (i) Mansuri; (ii) Awada; and (iii) Heegsma.

VOLUME #3(D)(I): Mansuri: more harm than good to the Tribunal's half-hearted objection[30]

164. It is paragraphs four to six in Mansuri, before the ONSC Divisional Court in 2023, with The Honourable Justice Lococo writing for the unanimous Divisional Court that are of great import in the analysis herein [emphasis is the Applicant's]:

> "[4] The Applicants [Mansuri brothers] argue that the court should exercise its jurisdiction upon judicial review and determine on the merits that the Tribunal erred in law in finding that there was no breach of privacy or confidentiality and no conflict of interest.
> [5] DOMINION DISPUTES the merits of the application but, together with the Tribunal, raises the issue of prematurity. The respondents argue that unless there are exceptional circumstances, the Divisional Court should decline to consider an application for judicial review of the Tribunal's interlocutory decision until the underlying Tribunal applications are completed. The respondents submit that there are no exceptional circumstances nor is it a "rare case" that would warrant the court's intervention.
> [6] Following oral submissions on the issue of prematurity, the parties were advised at the application hearing that the application was being dismissed, with written reasons to follow. These Reasons for Judgment explain the court's decision to dismiss the judicial review application as premature, without deciding the merits of the Applicants' challenge to the Initial Decision."

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(i): Interlocutory Decisions or Orders: can be errors of law dispute that a decision, by Vice Chair McGee, to NOT find a conflict of interest with consequential relief (i.e. that counsel were disqualified along with various adjusters involved in the various Mansuri file numbers with Dominion Insurance Company of Canada post each accident of each individual) could have been an error of law.

166. As found by the SCC in Yatar, the grounds for declining to undertake judicial review of the merits of an application for judicial review are now different than they once were in 2023 and prior. However, the "rare and exceptional cases" truly only applied when a decision was truly interlocutory. No such arises herein.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(ii): Respondent Insurance Company allowed to argue merits but NOT LAT in Mansuri

167. Dominion Insurance Company was allowed to argue the merits of the JRPA* Application but the LAT was not allowed to do so.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(iii): TDHA and SNIC entitled to argue the merits but confined by the motion records

168. In McLean v. TDHA et al, TDHA and SNIC can argue the merits but it must be on the basis of the motion records, which is substance the Applicant's Application Record of December 12, 2024, (SEE: Rule 68) before the Tribunal as they were on September 12, 2024.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(iv): Dominion and LAT joined together to argue prematurity [TDHA & SNIC, and Tribunal did NOT]

169. As Vice Chair McGee's decision was interlocutory in nature, as it did not determine any issue around party status, adding of parties, adding of causes of action, amendments to pleadings or involved issue estoppel (or res judicata), or a summary disposition of the underlying claims regarding entitlement or quantum of benefits, Dominion Insurance Company and the LAT were entitled to jointly argue prematurity.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(v): the Three Respondent Insurance Companies herein did NOT object on grounds of prematurity but LAT did: distinction with a difference

170. Herein, it is only the LAT (as per Mr. Boyce as the agent for the Tribunal) that objected on the grounds of prematurity by way of preliminary objection. Therefore, any reliance by the Tribunal on Mansuri was misguided.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(vi): Applicant's COI Motion before the LAT: His NOM #6 and the renumbered as NOM #9

171. Herein, the Applicant did bring a conflict of interest motion, albeit on different facts and evidence involving a variety of actors for a variety of insurance companies (some known and unknown) within the TDI Group, some not in a SABS department and perhaps some in the SABS department, by way of his NOM #6 which then was renumbered as NOM #9. The Applicant has no judicial review challenge to the decision of the Tribunal in this regard.

172. It is trite that the orders made or declined to be decided by VC Morrissette were final orders and final decisions as she refused to add a party, refused to add cause of actions, and refused to allow for the amendments of pleadings. No such relief was sought or dismissed in Mansuri v Dominion of Canada General add another insurance company to their tribunal proceeding on the basis that Dominion Insurance Company was not the First Insurer. The Mansuri brothers primary complaint was that which the Applicant disagrees with them and their counsel, there was allegedly improper information sharing between their claims and not between Dominion Insurance Company of Canada and other insurance companies.

173. Moreover, the facts involving the raising of the issue of prematurity are different in that Dominion and the Tribunal raised the issue of prematurity. Herein, the Respondent Insurance Companies have not raised the issue of prematurity. The Respondent Insurance Companies did not even engage in the pretense of complying with the Practice Direction of this Divisional Court regarding 'information submitted to the court'. As such, the Tribunal did not have a 'dance partner' for its preliminary objection of prematurity in November 2024.

174. The refusal to find a conflict of interest and/or improper information (Personal Information, Personal Health information, sensitive personal information, and/or confidential information) is not a final decision but rather interlocutory. Mansuri does more harm than good to the Tribunal's position of prematurity because while the Mansuri brothers had their judicial review application dismissed without the merits being heard, it was done AT THE APPLICATION HEARING (not on motion or case conference). Put another way, this is unequivocal evidence of the practice of the Divisional Court that the Tribunal was required to file its factum and application record, along with filing the Record Of Proceeding forthwith, and argue the same the hearing of the JRPA Application. As the Tribunal has chosen not to comply with its basic statutory requirements to file forthwith the Record Of Proceeding, it cannot argue the issue of prematurity as having the Record Of Proceeding before this Divisional Court isa precondition to being able to argue the same at first instance and particularly when there are final orders and/or final decisions at issue. Herein, analysis is required with respect to each "reasons for decision" and "each order sought and refused" as to whether they are interlocutory or final. Of course, each are of a final nature considering the refusals to grant the relief.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(vii): Vertical Stare decisis – ME v. Ontario is binding upon this ONSC Divisional Court as it relates to Orders #1, #3, and #4

175. The ONCA in ME v. Ontario could have not been any clearer that the refusal to add parties, amend pleadings, and causes of action are final orders. Assuming arguendo, had the Applicant been imprecise in his JRPA Application and challenged all of the "reasons for decision" in the unilaterally consolidated "reasons for decisions" for NOM #13 and #15, and sought to judicially review the refused orders in NOM #13, which were all interlocutory as they were sought orders of a non-party to produce documents, then a different 'discussion' could have been had. However, that hypothetical is not the reality of this JRPA Application, the Applicant's Factum, the Applicant's Application Record and now COMPENDIUM.

176. The Prematurity Doctrine cannot be discussed in the abstract as the Tribunal would have it and its obligations to file the Record Of Proceeding and from what time period are contained in NOM #1.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(viii): AGO withdrawal

177. It should not be unsurprising, with all of the misconduct prior to the JRPA Application by TDGIC and its representative along with SNIC and its non-licensee representative and some of the misconduct during this JRPA Proceeding by the Tribunal and Respondent Insurance Companies, that the AGO had seen enough and withdraw, through his handpicked and highly accomplished counsel in Ms. Judie Im, on January 30, 2025.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(ix): Non-Justiciability Doctrines

178. With those orders and decisions being final, the doctrine against interlocutory judicial review or interlocutory appeals (also defined as "Non-Justiciability ["NJ"] Interlocutory Doctrine") is obsolete. As there has been adequate, alternative and available[31] remedy doctrine (the "AAAR Doctrine"), there cannot be any sustainable non-frivolous preliminary objection by a respondent insurance company or the Tribunal (SEE: section 9(2) of the JRPA) or the AGO (SEE: section 9(4) of the JRPA). It is noted yet again that the Divisional Court Practice Direction is being flouted with impunity by the respondent insurance companies as they, some or all, have refused to even submit the relevant information to the court within two weeks of the JRPA having been brought.

179. The same is applicable to the exhaustion doctrine as that is predicated upon an Applicant seeking judicial review exhausting all AAAR ("Exhaustion Doctrine"). If the potential party that is an Applicant avers, with supporting evidence, is subject to a cause of action is not added by decision of an administrative decision maker who becomes functus officio[32], and reconsideration fails, then he or she has exhausted any available, alternate and adequate remedies [AAAR] before the Tribunal.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(x): Binding statement of law required

180. Therefore, this ONSC should make the binding statement of law that, at the very least, the Exhaustion Doctrine, AAAR Doctrine, and Prematurity Doctrine are effectively the same doctrine. The Anti-Justiciability Interlocutory Doctrine often has the same elements of the former three anti-justiciability doctrines but it is somewhat of an academic issue as all of the orders and decisions that the Applicant has sought to have reviewed by this Court are final orders and decisions.

181. While reconsideration is not an absolute prerequisite to judicial review (Ellis-Don Ltd. v. Ontario (Labour Relations Board), 2001 SCC 4 (CanLII)), the Applicant did so and received the three-page decision where VCL, a decision-maker that he had drawn a potential and prima facie conflict of interest between him and her to the attention of the former case manager in Mr. Grant, wherein she took issue with the ME v. Ontario precedential statements of law.

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(xi): Applicant was obligated to bring First Insurer Motion

182. As found in Grewal v. Peel Mutual Insurance Company, 2024 ONSC 2085 ["Grewal"], the ONCA found, "…… argument advanced by the Appellant in this case focuses on a transfer of "jurisdiction" from the Superior Court to the LAT. As explained in Keulen, exclusive jurisdiction over SABS claims has been removed from the Superior Court of Justice and the Financial Services Commission of Ontario and has been placed in the LAT. This is the effect of the language in s. 280 of the Insurance Act. The authority granted to the LAT is circumscribed by the Insurance Act, the SABS and the applicable regulations. The LAT has no inherent jurisdiction."

Volume #3(D)(I)(a)(xii): Ultra Vires: VCM's failure to decide NOM #14 in accordance with SABS was an abdication of jurisdiction – decision was ultra vires

183. Any decision outside its authority is ultra vires (without authority or jurisdiction) and to not decide the matter in accordance with SABS (Schedule) was without authority or jurisdiction. If a breach of Reg 283 is the legal equivalent of a breach of SABS, then not making a decision or issuing an order in accordance with Reg 283, is the legal equivalent of not deciding said LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) in accordance with SABS. Simply put, VCM breached the very statute she was required to follow: section 280 of the Insurance Act (must decide in accordance with SABS).

VOLUME #3(D)(I)(b): Burden is everything; and whether it can be cured on judicial review issue, the Applicant has the burden to demonstrate why there are exceptional circumstances. However, when a final decision is at issue, the respondent raising prematurity has the burden. Hence, it is the Tribunal's sole burden to overcome.

185. While the Mansuri brother applicants were unable to demonstrate that they could not cure the same on the ultimate appeal or judicial review, this was because there was no issue about who the First Insurer was and it was the same as the sole underwriter for each of the brothers therein. Herein, there is a party issue and it is a discrete issue.

VOLUME #3(D)(I)(c): In the context of the NOM #2

186. Further, with a Rule 37.13(2)(a) motion, the Applicant is seeking to have the merits decided so if the Tribunal does not face the same, then the merits can be decided because it had the opportunity to raise the same.

187. However, the refusal herein to not add parties, add causes of action, amend pleadings et al are final decisions.

VOLUME #3(D)(II): Awada v. Allstate (2021 ONSC DC)

188. Not much needs to be noted in the way of submissions regarding Allstate v. Awada because it was normal interlocutory production order in which Allstate sought to appeal by a statutory appeal. This would be the equivalent of this JRPA Applicant bringing an appeal of the decision in NOM #13. He has not done so. Moreover, the corollary of the legal precedent and the ratio decidendi is contained within the Applicant's Factum.

VOLUME #3(D)(III): Heegsma

189. Heegsma, again referenced in the NOM #2 Factum, involved the OHRC appealing the decision of the ONSC to the ONCA that refused it being added as an intervenor in the underlying claim against the City of Hamilton by a variety of plaintiffs who were residing in encampments and removed therefrom pursuant to by-laws passed by the municipality. The OHRC was seeking to be added on its own, without ever having the proverbial litigation finger pointed at it like a TDHA in the context of a highly regulated industry of automotive insurance, as a party or friend of the court to provide insight into human rights issues of those living in encampments. It was a noble cause and use of resources by the OHRC but that involved Rule 13.02 of the Civil *Rule*s at the court level at first instance. There is no precedent to be taken from Heegsma to be applied to this JRPA Proceeding.

VOLUME #3(E)(IV): ME v. Ontario

190. As cited in the Applicant's reconsideration submissions (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 25) before the Tribunal, his JRPA Application, Applicant's Factum et al, the case of ME v. Ontario is binding upon this Divisional Court for its legal precedents.

191. If there is no prematurity, then the merits are to be decided as per NOM #2.

VOLUME #3(F): Application of the Law to the Facts

192. The issue in this JRPA Application is one of party status, which is a discrete issue, and whether Mr. McLean was required to continue the futile path, however successful for him personally, against SNIC. However, the larger issue for the public, and himself, is ensuring that the correct and lawful "First Insurer" is determined. It was not determined before the Tribunal at first instance and thereafter on reconsideration. This JRPA

the Sole Underwriter and sole insurance company that was notified and then purported to respond to the Applicant, albeit miserably yet understandably after learning it was not the First Insurer, for 18 months, then filed a Response before the Tribunal and then sought to pass the "litigation baton" to another insurance company which was never named in the statutory LAT application and did not have any contact information (mail, fax or otherwise) that was contained in the records involving the SABS Applicant.

193. The statutory or legislative scheme was beautifully articulated by the Honourable Justice Akazaki in that a breach of Reg 283 and SABS are legally equivalent. Moreover, a determination as to whom the First Insurer was, provisionally and permanently, for the facts to be applied against section 51 of SABS and section 10 of Reg 664. What was or was not unreasonable in terms of withholding or delaying benefits varies based upon whom had the duty to respond.

194. Moreover, the issue of the quality or lack thereof of denial letters is one to be measured against whom was the First Insurer (SEE: section 56 of SABS).

195. It is well-known in our modern technological times that whether a pre-authorized debit or deposit ("PAD"), a federal body formerly known was "Canada Payments Association" and known as Payments Canada requires that the payor is correctly identified as the sole payor along with the payee. Therefore, there is yet another issue of boundaries of, at least, four administrative bodies between the LAT, FSRA, OSFI and Payments Canada.

196. This ONSC Divisional Court cannot allow insurance companies to be unilaterally determining who the First Insurer without strict compliance with Reg 283 as it could open the floodgates of them engaging in fraud with having certain insurance companies within a group of insurance companies utilizing liabilities (contingent or otherwise) and/or payments as deductibles in some form of sophisticated tax scheme to ensure that minimal tax is paid by each depending on the "accounting, financial and taxation needs of each insurance company within the group".

197. In 2020, this Divisional Court precisely and appropriately found that the law of prematurity was effectively synonymous with that of the AAAR Doctrine in Metro Ontario Real Estate Limited v. Corporation of the City of Orillia, 2020 ONSC 7002 at paragraph 30: Judicial review is a discretionary remedy. There is a principle of administrative law that an application for judicial review is premature and relief should be denied if the Applicant has an adequate alternative remedy to address the issues (Volochay v. College of Massage Therapists of Ontario, 2012 ONCA 541 at paras. 68, 70 and 73; C.B. Powell Ltd. v. Canada (Agence des services frontaliers), 2010 FCA 61 at paras. 30-33). It was not merely paragraph 30, which was unequivocal enough to confirm that the erudite Honourable Justices Swinton, Patillo and Bloom had found that the Prematurity Doctrine was only applicable if a JRPA Applicant (whether insured person or insurance company in the context herein but no therein) had not exhausted adequate, alternative and available remedies.

198. At paragraph 31, those Honourable Justices found for the Divisional Court:

> "[31] Metro had an adequate alternative remedy to this application for judicial review. It could have proceeded to the HON and requested an adjournment on the basis that it had had inadequate time to prepare and to participate in the hearing because of the timing of the Notice of Grounds and the timing of the disclosure. No doubt the City would have argued that there was adequate notice, and there was no element of surprise given that the Downtown Tomorrow Plan had been adopted in 2012 and the parties had been in extensive negotiations over the years with respect to the Coldwater Street extension and the redevelopment plan for the downtown. It would then have been up to the Inquiry Officer to determine whether an adjournment was warranted in the interests of a fair hearing."

199. The Applicant did not have any adequate, available and alternative remedy after the reconsideration was dismissed because there is no statutory power for him to proceed against a party that is NOT by law entitled involving the same. Further, if a party is not named in the style of cause, the Applicant cannot seek costs against the same or any substantive relief.

200. Hence, why the Prematurity Doctrine, in its precisely defined form, and the AAAR Doctrine, along with the Exhaustion Doctrine, should be merged and/or fall under the same umbrella. The Prematurity Doctrine is not "one and the same" with the Anti-Fragmentation Doctrine. It appears, without the benefit of any formalized and filed submissions in any factum from the Tribunal regarding its exclusive objection, that what Mr. Boyce was attempting to argue was the Anti-Fragmentation Doctrine.

201. As this JRPA Proceeding involves a litany of public interest orders, which are evasive of the lis between the Applicant and the to be added party in TDHA and SNIC and of central importance to the law as a whole, the Applicant throughout refers to the positions, however informal, of the Tribunal in correspondence. One of those positions, albeit post noncompliance with Rule 68.04, was that the Tribunal proceeding was ongoing, albeit between the Applicant and SNIC (Sole Underwriter, who chose not to participate for six months until compelled on June 20, 2024, by order of Adjudicator Morrissette pursuant to the Applicant's NOM #8). As any relief, positively or negatively, hypothetically or actually, has no legal effect and is counter to Reg 283 and SABS, it need not be addressed.

202. Moreover, the Anti-Fragmentation Doctrine is inconsistent to the unassailable corollaries when the other four Anti-Justiciability Doctrines are inapplicable. The other four Anti-Justiciability Doctrines are: (i) the Prematurity Doctrine (the "Prematurity Doctrine"); (ii) the available, adequate and alternative relief ("AAAR") doctrine (the "AAAR Doctrine"); (iii) exhaustion doctrine (the "Exhaustion Doctrine"); and (iv) the rule against interlocutory judicial reviews (the "Interlocutory JR Review Prohibition" or "Anti-Justiciability Interlocutory Doctrine").

203. If a final decision is being challenged, then this ONSC must 'hear and decide' the same.[33] The JRPA Applicant is only challenging the final decisions and final orders in the VCM Decision[34] (the "VCM Final Decisions" or "VCM Final Orders"). Ergo, the JRPA Applicant has an automatic right to judicial review of those VCM Final Decisions. Ergo, if final decisions and final orders are being challenged by way of judicial review, then the issue of prematurity is not a sustainable one.[35] [36] [37] While final orders or final decisions differ by size and shape, the Impugned Five Orders of VCM are final orders involving the refusal to add the First Insurer as a party, refusal to add causes of action against TDHA (First Insurer), and the refusal to amend pleadings consequentially or accordingly. While the Prematurity Doctrine is the only preliminary objection so advanced and solely by the Tribunal, the only doctrine that could have been advanced was that of the Anit-Fragmentation Doctrine. This doctrine is somewhat antiquated and imprecise per se.

VOLUME #3(G): Rolling Back to the 'Farmed Principles': Rol-Land Farms Limited

204. However, it cannot be applicable when party status is at issue as found in Rol-Land Farms Limited at paragraph 44: "The issue of party status is a discrete issue that has been FINALLY DETERMINED by the Tribunal. The full record upon which the Tribunal made its decision is before this Court."

205. What was not said in Rol-Land Farms Limited is of great importance and dispositive of the issue of the preliminary objection exclusively by the Tribunal. The Divisional Court in 2008 did not say that the entire administrative proceeding between a union and Ms. Diane Harold (the judicial review Applicants therein) and a tribunal (the Agricultural, Food and Rural Affairs Tribunal) must be completed prior to judicial review being commenced and being subject to the authority of the ONSC Div. Ct. justiciability authority. Ergo, the Anti-Fragmentation Doctrine has no applicability herein and in the ONSC Div. Ct. if a final decision is at issue.

(The exceptions to the non-justiciability doctrines)

206. Even where decisions or orders are interlocutory, which they are not herein, and a SABS Applicant has adequate, alternative, and available remedies before the Tribunal, which this JRPA Applicant does not, this ONSC Divisional Court and other similarly situated courts have intervened in the following circumstances.

VOLUME #3(H)(I): Repetition of judicial review proceedings

207. In rare cases this court will intervene on an application for judicial review in the midst of an administrative process where there are strong reasons to believe that the ongoing process is so deeply flawed that there is a strong likelihood that it will have to be run over again, usually on the basis of bias, reasonable apprehension of bias or want of jurisdiction…where the potential prejudice of the risk of repeating proceedings after review outweighs the prejudice to the general orderly processing of administrative proceedings without interruption until their conclusion: Lourenco v. Hegedus, 2017 ONSC 3872 at paragraph 6 ["Lourenco"].

208. It is more than a risk that the LAT Proceeding will have to run over again as each and every decision prior to was of no force and effect (i.e. prior to NOM #8) as it involved the incorrect party – on even worse footing than SNIC as it was not even the underwriter of the Insurance Policy.

VOLUME #3(H)(II): Real unfairness (prospect of)

209. If there is a prospect of real unfairness through denial of natural justice or otherwise, a superior court may always exercise its inherent supervisory jurisdiction to put an end to the injustice before all the alternative remedies are exhausted'… (paragraph 65 of the Applicant's Factum citing Gage).

210. This exception is most compelling for an override of not only the NJ Interlocutory Doctrine and Exhaustion Doctrine but the AAR Doctrine because where there is the prospect (forward looking), then then an Applicant or appellant need not even exhaust alternative remedies.

VOLUME #3(H)(III): Natural justice breach – 'clear and obvious' application succeeds

211. "Where the court is being asked to determine whether a particular breach of natural justice rises to an "exceptional" circumstance, the court may consider whether it is "clear and obvious" that the application will be successful: Unimac-United Management Corp. v St. Clare's-Monaco Place, 2015 ONSC 4760 ["Unimac"] at paras. 16 and 17.)

212. If it was not "clear and obvious" at the JRPA Application commencement stage, then it was increasingly clear at the Applicant's delivery of the Factum and Application Record stage. If it was not clear then, it become an increasing certainty the failure of the Tribunal to file the Record Of Proceeding stage by its own inconsistent timelines stage.

213. If it was not clear then, then it become obvious that the JRPA Application would succeed on the substantive relief after the Tribunal, SNIC and TDHA failed to file factums and application records.

214. The Applicant respectfully submits that he can do better than prove that it is more likely than not that the VCM Final Decisions were not. At this stage on February 13, 2025, he can prove them at least beyond the criminal standard of proof (i.e. beyond a reasonable doubt) and to a certainty.

215. Broad Implications: "The Decision has broad implications for human rights disputes arising between unionized employers and employees throughout the province. Delaying this application until the conclusion of the hearing on the merits, which does not depend on any evidence or law relevant to the jurisdictional issue, will result in uncertainty for employers, employees and unions. This is an appropriate case for this court to exercise its discretion to hear this judicial review": London District Catholic School Board v. Weilgosh, 2024 ONSC 3857 ["Weilgosh"].

216. Herein, it is VCM's usage of the language of jurisdiction that squarely put the jurisdictional issue in play in this JRPA Proceeding. However, this JRPA Applicant is on much stronger footing because the decisions and orders of VCM are final ones whereas in Weilgosh, the HRTO issued a true interim order based on it having concurrent jurisdiction with that of labour arbitrators appointed under the Labour Relations Act, 1995, S.O. 1995, c. 1, Sched. A (the "LRA"). The School Board was entitled to have its judicial review application heard but its judicial review application was contemporaneously dismissed. This is another ground why the issue of prematurity is one that should be, as judicial reviews are summary in nature, decided at the hearing of this judicial review. The JRPA Applicant has an automatic right to be heard on final decisions and orders. The issue of whether he will be successful will be decided at the hearing on the merits before the ONSC Divisional Court or a single justice of the ONSC, pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA. The Applicant respectfully submits that having it heard before a single justice of the ONSC is preferrable because of the intersection of language between section 6(2) of the JRPA and language in decisions involving prematurity. Therein, one of the respondents (not all as the Tribunal cannot duplicate arguments of respondents (parties or non-parties)) will be entitled to argue prematurity. In order to argue prematurity, the Record Of Proceeding will need to have been filed as the Record Of Proceeding provides the background of all of the steps take in the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) and the content of the Record Of Proceeding i.e. whether it is complete or not.

VOLUME #3(H)(V): Fatally Flawed Process

217. "This Court has stated that it will review an interlocutory decision of a tribunal where a process is fatally flawed (Roosma v. Ford Motor Co. of Canada 1988 CanLII 5633 (ON SCDC) ["Roosma"] at paragraphs 25 and 26 (SEE: "Delay is at odds with the rationale of appointment of the Tribunal").

VOLUME #3(H)(V): Was the process fatally flawed?

218. Was the process fatally flawed from the outset by having a non-licensee represent SNIC by intentionally breaching the LSA and LSO By-Laws, section 6(1)(b) and (d) and having Mr. Nieuwland act for TDGIC by filing a declaration of representative on January 30, 2024? The question answers itself.

219. The criticism of the JRPA Applicant was that he was too exhaustive of bringing motions. It was by design to ensure that he had done all he could to remove this unknown entity, without any justifiable reason posited by Mr. Nieuwland for months. Mr. Nieuwland in, ironically, a "case conference" then made those two notorious representations of "one and the same" (in relation to SNIC and TDGIC) and "this is how we always do it" (in relation to TDGIC being the 'sole respondent' at the LAT even if SNIC was the sole underwriter). Both were provably false but for different reasons. After ardent, but misguided, opposition by TDGIC, and SNIC by its silence, which in the area of torts and by reference to Bennett v. TDGIC were intentional misrepresentations, the charade came to an end on June 20, 2024, after TDGIC did not oppose the relief in NOM #8. However, it was merely the "tip of the iceberg" of a sophisticated unlawful scheme involving a variety of persons and individuals by way of agreement with the intent to harm the Applicant, which continues to cause harm and loss, and by unlawful means. The summer of 2024, by way of length investigations and serendipitous discoveries, led to the discovery of the "First Insurer" in TDHA which met passenger market' in Ontario.

VOLUME #3(H)(VI): Lack of jurisdiction, privacy rights at issue or resultant or prospective hearing would be unfair

220. Judicial intervention may be warranted in situations where the tribunal clearly lacks jurisdiction to proceed, privacy rights are at issue or where proceeding with the hearing [proper] would result in an unfair hearing or a breach of natural justice: Rowe v. College of Nurses of Ontario and al., 2023 ONSC 6414 ["Rowe"].

221. Unlike Mansuri, where they were misguided about the scope and parameters of the consent that they gave to Dominion Insurance Company of Canada, and its ability to share their personal information and personal health information for the purposes in the clear language of the OCF-1, issued by the FSRA, formerly the FSCO.

222. It is not "one and the same" in this case at bar where the consent provided by the duly authorized signature of the Applicant in the OCF-2 and his own signature in OCF-1 (not 'as per' the same individual as some would have it) was only, as he believed, to one insurance company and one only in SNIC. However, the fax number of 416.774-3120 was not that of SNIC.

223. By way of a simple example, a claimant or plaintiff could not claim that he, she, or it, had served an opposing party via fax if he, she or it faxed a different number than the one provided in an address for service however successfully faxed it was.

224. It is trite law that misrepresentation, particularly intentional ones, vitiate consent. For clarity, the Applicant has not withdrawn his consent per se in the OCF-1, a statutory and prescribed precondition to receiving benefits, but solely noted the actualities and facts, and the requirements for the First Insurer (first recipient of the McLean Completed Application) to comply with its duties by law.

VOLUME #3(H)(VII): Judicial Intervention even at the preliminary[38] stages of an administrative proceeding

225. "Judicial review is a discretionary remedy, and the Divisional Court has taken the position that it should not fragment proceedings before administrative tribunals. Absent exceptional circumstances demonstrating that the application should be heard, the Court will not intervene at a PRELIMINARY STAGE in proceedings. However, where the preliminary decision will likely result in a fundamental failure of justice, the Court may exercise its discretion to hear the application: FCW Canada v. Rol-Land Farms Limited, 2008 CanLII 6652 (ON SCDC) ["Rol-Land Farms Limited"][39].

226. While the decision of VCM to refuse to add TDHA as a party, wherein the Applicant would have had a cause of action against TDHA, with consequential relief for TDHA to file a pleading, were final decisions and not preliminary in nature, they also result in a fundamental failure of justice.

VOLUME #3(H)(VIII): Natural Justice Breaches

227. In Lifford, the denial of a summons was a breach of natural justice as per the headnote. If the Tribunal complies with its statutory duties under the JRPA, the Tribunal will inevitably see that the Applicant sought summons of various individuals which were denied.[40]

228. While the judicial review landscape has changed twice since Lifford by Dunsmuir and Vavilov, the next principle is of immense importance when considering the VCM Decision:

> "[45] Moreover, as I have said, although the rejection by an administrative tribunal of relevant evidence does not automatically constitute a breach of natural justice, where the rejection of such evidence taints hearing fairness, a breach of natural justice arises. The demonstration of such a breach displaces curial deference and permits judicial intervention: Larocque at paras. 42, 43 and 46."

229. VCM engaged in far worse errors than merely rejecting evidence but she created an "alternate universe of facts and evidence" without any cross-referencing to the same;

VOLUME #3(H)(IX): Gonsalves

230. The case of Gonsalves (also referred as "Certas") is yet another case where even an interlocutory decision was allowed to be reviewed by the ONSC Div. Ct. The JRPA Applicant challenges brought by this JRPA Applicant do NOT relate to any interlocutory decisions or orders in the VCM Decision. As such, he has an automatic right of judicial review.

231. Higashi and Gonsalves establish that this Court will hear an appeal if a full hearing before the Tribunal could be avoided with a successful appeal. Although this is a JRPA Application, this principle applies because if TDHA is identified as the First Insurer and added as a party, further hearings will not be required, saving costs. It is incorrect to say these doctrines only apply "when the administrative process has finished." The anti-fragmentation doctrine is outdated and an inaccurate representation of previous practices by the ONSC Divisional Court or common law.

VOLUME #3(I): Application of the Binding Precedents involving the Prematurity Doctrine to the Uncontroverted Facts

232. The decisions and orders challenged by the Applicant are final decisions and final orders. As such, the Prematurity Doctrine has no applicability herein. To the extent that it has any applicability, the

233. Practically, Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal is not conversant with the rudimentary principles of Anti-Justiciability Doctrines. Like his colleague at the LAT, neither of them have made a ripple in the lake of analytical precision in different contexts.

234. Mr. Boyce wants to have a discussion in the abstract without the Record Of Proceeding. As such, he has now bound the Tribunal to a further issue, solely arising intra this JRPA Proceeding, and that is a constitutional one as per the findings by the SCC in Yatar.

VOLUME #4: STANDARD OF REVIEW OF THE FINAL DECISIONS AND FINAL ORDERS (X 5) OF THE LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL ON SEPTEMBER 13, 2024

VOLUME #4(A): INTRODUCTION

235. In 2019, the SCC in Vavilov clarified that the common law presumptive standard for judicial reviews by a reviewing court of an inferior tribunal is reasonableness. However, reasonableness is easily rebutted when the statutory scheme allows for a statutory appeal on questions of law.

236. The questions of law herein are multiple which are evasive of appeal and of great importance to not only substantive law but the practice before the Tribunal. Ergo, the standard of review is correctness.

237. This does not mean that a sitting justice or panel of justices do not find that the decision of an impugned statutory decision maker is not correct or was correct at first instance as a whole or in relation to certain orders issued and/or the decision.

VOLUME #4(B)(I): JUDICIAL REVIEW – SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS

238. Applications for judicial review are intended to be summary proceedings, and preliminary motions add greatly to the cost and time required to deal with such matters and are therefore to be discouraged.[41] The matter remains one where the delay will likely[42] involve a failure of justice being an affront to the Rule of Law and subspecies of the Rule Of Law that involve: (i) general questions of law of central importance to the legal system as a whole; (ii) questions related to the jurisdictional boundaries between two or more administrative bodies; and (iii) the relationship between the legislature and the other branches of the state, which require a final and determinate answer from the courts (the "Final Answer Requirement").

VOLUME #4(B): Standard of Review, Urgency and Failure of Justice: all invoke the "Rule Of Law" which are exceptions to the non-existent non-justiciability doctrines but also require the standard of correctness

239. There are, at least, five primary exceptions to the presumptive standard of reasonableness and they all, but one ('constitutional questions') apply herein: (1) where the correctness standard is required by law; (2) where statutory appeal mechanisms are in place; (3) constitutional questions; (4) general legal questions of central importance to the entire legal system; and (5) questions regarding the jurisdictional boundaries between administrative bodies (SEE: Vavilov, paras 34, 36, 55, 58, and 63). The exceptions, at (3) to (5), are defined herein as the "Rule* Of Law SOR Exceptions": Tab 38, Factum, pages in COMPENDIUM).

240. There are, at least, four primary disjunctive grounds to support that Correctness SOR (i.e. no deference to the orders, reasons for decision, and errors made by VCM in NOM #14 and NOM #15 as it related to those five dismissed orders by express dismissal or implied dismissal of the same).

241. The Applicant also argues that an additional ground of persistent discord on certain issues is another ground to support the Correctness SOR.

general questions of law that are of central importance to the legal system as a whole because they require uniform and consistent answers (the "Uniform Answers Requirement" or "Vertical *Stare decisis").[43]

243. The "Rule of Law" requires courts to intervene where one administrative body has interpreted the scope of its authority in a manner that is incompatible with the jurisdiction of another administrative body since the Rule of law cannot tolerate conflicting orders and proceedings where they result in a true operational conflict between two administrative bodies ("Intolerance Conflicting Orders Requirement").[44]

244. Whether affiliate or related insurance companies can accept priority, without any independent notices (SEE: (i) notice of transfer; (ii) notice of a potential agreement between insurers; and/or (iii) notice of arbitration) to an insured person or absolute noncompliance with Reg 283, over an Applicant's [sic] insurance policy [sic] (not a SABS claim) is a question that must be answered by this ONSC on an urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition)) basis[45] (SEE: Affidavit #2, COMPENDIUM, Tab 36).

245. Some of the pertinent principles regarding the Rule of law herein are: (i) equality before the law[46]; (ii) accountability[47]; and (iii) access to justice[48].

246. While administrative tribunal independence and absence of bias is not a constitutional principle, like that which is present pursuant to section 96 to 101 of the Constitution Act involving courts, conflicts of interest, bias and independence are presumed to be absent or at least reasonably perceived to be.

247. The VCM Decision (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 2) was not only incorrect and unreasonable[49] but it was counter to the ROL requirement of "equality before the law" to which the Applicant and, by extension, his service providers were so entitled.

248. The VCM Decision (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 2, pages 8 and 9) lacked "accountability to the law" as it was opaque in not only substance but process as: (i) it failed to reference any uncontroverted filed and served evidence; (ii) it failed to reference the binding "source law" wherein the Tribunal was required to decide all questions of law and fact before it in accordance with Reg 283, SABS and Reg 664[50]; and (iii) it failed to reference any jurisprudence that was binding upon it.

VOLUME #4(C): Right of Statutory Appeal – new phenomenon – post 2016

Volume #4(C)(i): Penney and LATA

249. The case of Penney v. The Co-operators General Insurance Company, 2022 ONSC 3874 ["Penney"] noted the timing of when the statutory right of appeal became effective after the passage of section 11(6) of LATA in 2015. At paragraphs 17 and 18, the ONSC (Div. Ct.) found as follows whist citing, with some irony, cases involving SNIC:

> "[17] I now turn to the recent cases involving LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6)s. In Security National Insurance Company v. Kumar, 2018 ONSC 3556, this Court heard an appeal of an interlocutory order where both parties agreed that the appeal was not premature, because the preliminary issue was essentially the only issue in dispute between the parties. In finding that the "court does, at least on occasion, hear appeals from tribunals on specific preliminary issues that do not constitute final determination on the merits", the Court relied on the following cases (at para. 8): Certas Direct Insurance Company v. Gonsalves, 2011 ONSC 3986; Security National America v. Dong Do, 2015 ONSC 1891.

> [18] It is important to note that these three cases were applications for judicial review from decisions of the Financial Services Commission of Ontario ("FSCO"), not appeals to the Divisional Court. Prior to April 1, 2016, automobile accident benefit disputes were adjudicated at FSCO, where there was no statutory right of appeal, only judicial review. These judicial reviews of FSCO decisions do not address or assist in determining whether an interlocutory decision may be appealed under s. 11(1) of the LAT Act. Only Certas discusses the doctrine of prematurity, doing so in the context of judicial review of an interlocutory decision."

VOLUME #3(C)(ii): "May Have Appealed" – not "did appeal" – statutory mechanisms – Legislative Intent -

250. Language is important in that the SCC used the words of "may appeal" and not "have appealed" or made use of the statutory appellate route as opposed to judicial reviews. Under LATA, parties may appeal only questions of law. Therefore, even where a party has chosen the route of judicial review, the appellate standard applies to each question to be answered. Therefore, the determination of whether the error was one of fact, mixed fact and law, and/or error of law is a key determination.

251. Where a legislature has provided for an appeal (the "Statutory Appeal SOR Exception"), correctness review applies in all circumstances: "Where a legislature has provided that parties may appeal from an administrative decision to a court, either as of right or with leave, it has subjected the administrative regime to appellate oversight and indicated that it expects the court to scrutinize such administrative decisions on an appellate basis" (at para. 36 of Vavilov).

252. This was a monumental change. As Abella and Karakatsanis JJ noted in their concurring yet separate reasons for judgment (the "Vavilov* Concurring Reasons") , "the majority's reasons strip away deference from hundreds of administrative actors subject to statutory rights of appeal" (at para. 199).

253. It is the language of "administrative decisions" that is key. The SCC did not use the word of "orders". Therefore, if a decision of an administrative body is one where it is subject to appeal mechanisms by way of statute, then the presumption is NOT reasonableness but correctness.

254. The Legislature was not so broad in its legislative language to pass a statutory provision that insured persons and insurance companies could appeal on any questions but rather questions of law or "errors of law".

255. When combining the legislative language under the JRPA with the common law decisions of this ONSC Divisional Court, whether it is a question of fact, question of mixed fact and law and/or question of law is not relevant to the automatic right of judicial review. The determination of whether final orders or final decisions are at issue, wherein some may be final and some may not, is the threshold issue as to whether an applicant who has brought a "notice of application for judicial review" is entitled to be heard.

256. Under the categorical non-nuanced approach, this category alone requires this reviewing court (Divisional Court), whether by a single justice of the ONSC by way of ss. 6(2) of the JRPA or by way of conversion of the "motion in writing" into a motion for judgment, or a panel of the Divisional Court, to afford no deference consolidated three motions.

257. In Yatar v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex, the SCC found the following in relation to what is applicable herein, wherein the SCC also emphasized that judicial review plays an important role in upholding the rule of law and ensuring that public authorities – including LAT adjudicators – are subject to the supervisory power of the superior courts. In addition, the SCC reiterated the constitutional nature of the right to seek judicial review. Citing Mr. Paul Daly, the SCC held that it cannot be the case that a court has discretion to not hear a judicial review application, as this would allow the court's "perception of the quality and quantity of internal reconsiderations … to trump [a] constitutional principle."

258. The Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999 does not contain any privative clause that seeks to bar or otherwise restrict judicial review. The SCC held that both the Divisional Court and Court of Appeal erred in their application of Strickland to this case. Properly applied, the Strickland framework indicated that the court should exercise its discretion to grant relief. The Court of Appeal was mistaken when it held that the statutory appeal right reflected legislative intent to restrict judicial review. The fact that the legislature provided for a statutory right of appeal on questions of law can only demonstrate legislative intention to subject questions of law arising from an LAT adjudicator's decision to correctness review.

259. The legislature specifically did not provide for a right of appeal on questions of fact or questions of mixed fact and law, though it could have done so. Allowing judicial review of such questions, it thus fully complies with the legislature's intentions.

260. It is perfectly reasonable for an insured person to seek judicial review alone as opposed to bringing multiple proceedings because of the rule against bringing a "multiplicity of proceedings." In considering the statutory right to appeal, the SCC cited back to its statement in Vavilov that "because judicial review is protected by s. 96 of the Constitution Act, 1867, legislatures cannot shield administrative decision making from curial scrutiny entirely."

261. The SCC, however, acknowledged the argument that the court's jurisdiction to conduct judicial review has been ousted where there is an appropriate alternative forum or remedy. Nevertheless, in Yatar, there was no adequate alternative remedy. Since the statutory right of appeal only allowed for an appeal on a question of law, the statutory right of appeal was not an adequate alternative remedy. The fact that the scheme provided for reconsideration by the LAT adjudicator also did not assist, as it was this very reconsideration decision that was under review. Additionally, while the appropriateness of judicial review in the circumstances is a "balancing exercise", concerns over judicial economy were outweighed in this case by the need to ensure that individuals have meaningful and adequate means to challenge (i) unreasonable decisions; or (ii) procedurally unfair administrative decisions.

VOLUME #4(D): Exception to the presumption of reasonableness: Rule of law" exceptions

262. Note that the three JR SOR 'Rule of law' exceptions are for 'constitutional, 'central importance to the legal system' and 'jurisdictional boundaries' questions - other exceptions are grounded on other principles. The Applicant raises, for completeness, the persistent discord within the tribunal as a further ground for an ROL exception.

VOLUME #4(E): Most relevant authority and example of a general question of law: admin proceeding barred by res judicata and/or issue estoppel issue estoppel and/or abuse of process in Toronto (City) vs. CUPE at para. 15 is an example where the question to be answered is of "general question of law". The locus classicus for the modern doctrine of abuse of process[52] and its relationship to res judicata is Hunter which affirmed McIlkenny v. Chief Constable of the West Midlands, [1980] Q.B. 283 (C.A.).

264. It is where the law of issue estoppel plays such an important role, as detailed in the Applicant's Factum (SEE: COMPENDIUM, , because where issue estoppel is of concern in a decision, the decision of an adjudicator is final one but also sets the standard of review of correctness. Moreover, where a decision is a final one, then the Non-Justiciability Doctrines have no applicability because to let a proceeding run its course when the liable insurance company, as it relates to responding and paying benefits, is not a party would mean that the SABS Applicant would be saddled with the issues of non-communication and non-payment of benefits on an ongoing basis.

265. As noted in the OCF-18 #1 (April 20,2023) that SNIC, by the forged signature (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 14, page 270) document above on the OCF-18 from APRIL 2023, represented it would pay.

266. The only solution, which is the only lawful decision, is to ensure that the First Insurer in TDHA is declared as the First Insurer forthwith and on an urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition)) basis.

VOLUME #4(F): SOR EXCEPTION: General Questions of Law of Central Importance

267. The other categories where this reviewing court must not defer whatsoever to the VCM Decisions is where the rule of law is at issue which are outlined in detail in the Applicant's Factum.

Volume #4(F)(i): "True Questions of Jurisdiction" no longer a "Rule Of Law" ground to invoke correctness SOR

268. These are the categories set out in Dunsmuir, minus true questions of jurisdiction: "respect for the rule of law requires courts to apply the standard of correctness for certain types of legal questions: constitutional questions, general questions of law of central importance to the legal system as a whole and questions regarding the jurisdictional boundaries between two or more administrative bodies" (at para. 53).

269. The majority's conception of the rule of law, which has been somewhat amorphous and difficult to analytically target but in more general terms it is engaged in situations where "consistency" and thus "a final, determinate answer" to a general legal question of a non-trivial nature is necessary (at para. 53; SEE: Applicant's Factum).

Volume #4(F)(ii): This is how we do it' at "TD Insurance" as per Mr. Nieuwland)

270. Nobody admitted better than Mr. Nieuwland, then as counsel for TDGIC, at the unauthorized, by statute, case conference, when he represented to Vice Chair Painchaund in response to Mr. McLean's continuous objections to TDGIC being the sole respondent party or a party at all, "This is how we always do it."

271. If that is how they [we] always do it, this Divisional Court can take judicial notice that the four insurance companies in the TDI Group take up a significant market share in the automotive insurance marketplace, and there are vast amounts of individual insured persons that may have been affected, are affected and will be affected in light of the representation by a lawyer licensee who is acting for three of the four automotive insurance companies in the TDI Group.

VOLUME #4(G): A unique decision in Vavilov: more ways than one 272. Vavilov was decided, without a dissenting opinion, by a nine-justice panel[53] of the SCC but seven justices were part of a "joint reasons" (the "Vavilov* Joint Reasons" or the "Joint Reasons") but Abella and Karakatsanis JJ delivered "joint concurring reasons" (the "Vavilov* Joint Concurring Reasons" or "Concurring Reasons"). The Concurring Reasons are somewhat of a misnomer in that they at times read more like a dissenting opinion. Nonetheless, for purposes of the judicial scorecard and the judicial review landscape, Vavilov was and is the law of the land at the time this JRPA Application was brought.

VOLUME #4(H): Expertise no longer a factor in SOR; questions of general and central importance (broad catch all)

273. The majority in Vavilov, in the Joint Reasons, insisted that "questions of central importance are now transformed into a broad catch-all category for correctness review" simply "because expertise no longer plays a role in the selection of the standard of review" (at para. 61).

274. In the context of the VCM Decision, this is fatal to her 'reasons' if they can be so euphemistically described, because she whilst taking irrelevant and unconstrained jabs at the Applicant purports to rely heavily on how her and the Tribunal's expertise somehow operates and its processes.

275. While she engaged in claiming that a non-natural person how endured some level of "strain", the very same tribunal has failed to even file a single document from the Record Of Proceeding, despite two concomitant statutory duties, and could not meet deadlines under the Rules of Civil Procedure.

276. Now, as per the 1st Amended COMPENDIUM of the Applicant on February 14, 2025, as per arguably the most shocking admission by an agent of the LAT (LAT registrar office) that it was attempting to compile

277. As per the SCC in Vavilov, the reasonableness review can never exist based upon expertise because it "does not give [administrative decision-makers] licence to enlarge their powers [or not exercise the same] beyond what the legislature intended" and that the "governing statutory scheme will always operate as a constraint on administrative decision makers and as a limit on their authority" (at para. 68) for non-deferential reasonableness review (also known as "Correctness SOR" or the "Correctness Standard").

VOLUME #4(I): Errors of Law

278. This court had an opportunity to further expand on what constitutes a question of law on a statutory appeal in Yatar v. TD Insurance Meloche Monnex, 2021 ONSC (Div. Ct.), aff'd 2022 ONCA 446, reversed on other grounds, 2024 SCC 8, 489 D.L.R. (4th) 191. In that case, Kristjanson J. of this court explained as follows, at para. 28:

> "[28] On a statutory appeal limited to questions of law alone, the court considers whether the decision-maker correctly identified and interpreted the governing law or legal standard relevant to the facts found by the decision-maker. There are limited circumstances in which findings of fact, or the administrative decision-maker's assessment of the evidence, may give rise to an error of law alone for the purposes of the appeal. If the adjudicator ignored items of evidence that the law required him or her to consider in making the decision, then the adjudicator erred in law: Canada (Director of Investigation and Research) v. Southam Inc., 1997 CanLII 385 (SCC), [1997] 1 S.C.R. 748 at para. 41. Challenges to the sufficiency or weight of evidence supporting a finding of fact to not give unless the failure is based on a wrong legal principle: R. v. J.M.H., 2011 SCC 45, [2011] 3 S.C.R. 197, at paras. 25 and 29. It is an error of law to make a finding of fact on a material point where the factual finding is based solely on (a) no evidence, (b) irrelevant evidence, or (c) an irrational inference (Johannson v. Saskatchewan Government Insurance, 2019 SKCA 52 at paras. 24-25)"

Volume #4(I)(a): JRPA, section 2(1)

279. The JRPA was passed in 1990 by the Legislature. Subsection 2(1) of the JRPA mortises with the Civil Rules regarding the styling of the originating notice of a "Notice of Application For Judicial Review", the court, which is the Superior Court of Justice, which includes the Divisional Court and the "Non-Divisional Court", may:

> "the court may, despite any right of appeal, by order grant any relief that the Applicant would be entitled to in any one or more of the following: 1. Proceedings by way of application for an order in the nature of mandamus, prohibition or certiorari 2. Proceedings by way of an action for a declaration or for an injunction, or both, in relation to the exercise, refusal to exercise or proposed or purported exercise of a statutory power. R.S.O. 1990, c. J.1, s. 2 (1).

VOLUME #4(J): APPLICATION OF THE LAW – POST 2019 VAVILOV AND POST 2016 LATA AMENDMENTS AND POST YATAR – TO THE FACTS

280. Simply put, the vexing contextual factors and expertise of the decision maker were abolished. In the context of this JRPA* Proceeding, such abolition in being a post-Dunsmuir decision are most important when considering, arguably the most glaring misstatement of law in the history of a decision makers post the passage of Reg 283 by our Lieutenant Governor in 2010, because this reviewing court cannot ruminate about her expertise (or lack thereof) in which she could not, and did not, distinguish between the difference between a "contract" and a "SABS claim".

281. As the initial 'vice-chair' did not distinguish between a 'contract' and a 'prescribed application for benefits', she failed or neglected to provide any findings and answers in relation to the following:

a. which insurance company was the First Insurer; and
b. Which insurance company was located at the address in the central processing agency, known as "HCAI" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271).

282. The standard of review of the dismissed final orders sought by the final decision of VCM are analyzed herein. The standard of review is unequivocally correctness.

283. There is no dispute that general questions of law arose before it by reference to PREFACE #I but VCM took some ten or so paragraphs to only address one of the four orders in NOM #14, and did not address the questions of facts and law before.

284. The question of fact which VCM failed or neglected to answer was Order #5. It was a pure question of fact to be answered as it involved whether the 'phone number' used as a fax number was a landline phone number located on the 4th floor of the building, situated on the land, at 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto. It is as if VC Morissette was deliberately avoiding answering that issue. The Applicant submits that she did so because if she had answered that issue, she, on behalf of the Tribunal, would have had to answer that question in the affirmative which would have then led to unassailable legal conclusions. It did not call for a legal determination per se but rather that said fax number (416.774.3120) ((SEE: Affidavit #30 of the

"D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) first provided to the Applicant and the fax number that first received, was situated on a certain floor inside the Spark Building.

285. The unassailable legal conclusions would have then been as follows:

a. SNIC was not the First Insurer as its represented address in September and October 2022 was in Markham, Ontario and not North York, Toronto, Ontario; and
b. TDGIC could not have been the First Insurer because the Tribunal found that TDGIC's fax number was 416.774.3629.

286. With those unassailable legal conclusions, then it could have only been TDHA that was the First Insurer. Therefore, VCM would have been compelled, by law, to grant Order #1. This would have left Orders #2 to #4 sought in NOM #14.

287. By law, VCM was required to add TDHA as a party as it was the First Insurer. It would not have precluded TDHA from its right to seek give a late notice to the SABS Applicant, an unnamed insured individual in the Insurance Policy but an insured person by the statute (Insurance Act), and the other insurance companies that it alleged were liable to respond and pay accident benefits (if any). Whether an arbitrator would have believed the evidence and submissions of TDHA, hypothetically speaking, that 90 days from October 13, 2022, was not a sufficient time, from an objective person's standard, to conduct an investigation and determine who was the responsible insurer to pay benefits and respond to the Applicant is a matter of conjecture and speculation. Moreover, TDHA, once found to have been the First Insurer, would not have been precluded from seeking a stay of the LAT Proceeding while it potentially exercised its potential legal rights. However, TDHA (and potentially SNIC and its apparent joint and several co-indemnitor or perhaps contributor to liability of an insurance policy where they accepted priority [sic]) would have, most ironically in light of the misguided prematurity objection solely by the Tribunal, subject to the rule against reviews or appeals or interlocutory decisions and orders.

288. It is trite law that an order that grants the addition of a party (or cause of action), by way of order sought in a motion (whether at the tribunal or court level) is an interlocutory decision. Conversely, an order that refuses, dismisses, or does not grant an order to add a party (and a cause of action) is a final decision or final order.

289. Objectively speaking, the JRPA Applicant was beyond courteous to seek an order that granted TDHA the right to file a responsive pleading within 14 days of an order adding it as a party, which has been denoted as Order #3 in NOM #14, by way of Order #4 in NOM #14. The Applicant could have not sought such an order predicated on TDHA having been served at the fax number of 416.774.3120 (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) with the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) on December 24, 2023. However, the Applicant nonetheless sought Order #4 which can only be characterized as an "amendment of pleading order", which was not decided specifically but rather refused by dismissal of the motion itself (NOM #14).

290. This would have left Order #2 in NOM #14. Said order sought is somewhat of a contextual or supplemental order to the First Insurer Order Sought (Order #1) and the Fax Number Location Order Sought (Order #5). If either were granted, then the finding that TDHA was the only known or last known, by reference to the uncontroverted public evidence so appended to the Applicant's affidavit material, that the East Mall Address was one that TDHA utilized before the City of Toronto amended the various zoning plans involving the commercial building known as the Valhalla Executive Suites to allow for the development of mixed-use commercial-residential towers. While no insurance company, l*et al*one any company could have been located at 304 The East Mall in October 2022, which was the time that the address was input into the CPA or HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) back-end technological database, or at the time of the VCM supplemental evidence as to why TDHA was the First Insurer in October 2022.

291. Simply put, the fax number of 416.774.3120 (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) was that of TDHA in September and October 2022, and that is all that matters as it relates to Reg 283 as to whom was the First Insurer. An insurance company may move 20 days, 20 months or 20 years later from the physical office where such a landline fax number was based but the sole question to be answered, pursuant to Reg 283 which dovetails with the Schedule, is which owner, tenant, sub-tenant, assignee, or addressee was so located on the 4th floor of the Spark Building at said time.

292. While some of the orders above would have amounted to findings of fact, VCM failed or neglected to decide the same. It is unclear if that amounted to declining or not. In any event, VCM failed to decide the issue of law and the finding that TDHA was the First Insurer which would have required the adding of TDHA, including the cause of action against it, with amendment of the pleadings accordingly. As such, whether the nomenclature is 'failing to decide', 'refusing to decide', or 'refusing to add a party, a cause of action, or amendment of pleadings', the dismissal of NOM #14 amounted to a final decision. It is about as trite law as it gets in the field of civil appellate (judicial review) litigation of a statutory tribunal.

293. The standard of review on all issue is that of correctness because VCM did not engage in any analysis of the statutory scheme. Moreover, there are hints or reasonable perceptions of bias and lack of independence along with breaches of the Applicant's natural justice rights. As seen in the Applicant's Factum, there is the potential that not only the decision of the Tribunal would invoke the same but a decision here, without clear addressing of this issue, could lead to the same. It is herein where VCM's attacks on the SABS Applicant as somehow putting a strain on the Tribunal by notifying and advancing his SABS claim under TD Claim #3 was an "abuse of process". Section 138 of the CJA codifies the principle that a multiplicity of proceedings must be avoided.[54] This leaves the sole issue being one of timing.

(X5) ARE ALL INCORRECT

VOLUME #5(A): Introduction

294. The correctness standard entails this Court stepping into the shoes of VCM and deciding this JRPA Application afresh.

Volume #5(A)(i): Correctness: (i) to uphold; or (ii) substitute – that is the choice

295. In Vavilov, 2019 SCC 65 (S.C.C.) at paragraph 54: "When applying the correctness standard, the reviewing court may choose either to uphold the administrative decision maker's determination or to substitute its own view: Dunsmuir, at para. 50.

296. While it should take the administrative decision maker's reasoning into account—and indeed, it may find that reasoning persuasive and adopt it—the reviewing court is ultimately empowered to come to its own conclusions on the questions before it.

297. In any civil case the plaintiff must prove their case on a balance of probabilities if they are to succeed. This means that the plaintiff must prove that his facts tip the scale in his favor even if it is only a 51% probability that he is correct. The only civil standard of proof is proof on a balance of probabilities: F.H. v. McDougall, 2008 SCC 53, at para. 40.

298. In all cases, the evidence adduced to meet this standard must be "sufficiently clear, convincing and cogent" to persuade the trier of fact of the merits of the claim on a balance of probabilities: McDougall, at para. 46.

VOLUME #5(B): Why VCM's Refusal Final Orders were incorrect at law

299. The VCM Reasons incorrectly found that the Applicant's was the individual insured individual when he was not.

300. The VCM Reasons found that two insurance companies, both of which DID NOT have the fax number of 416.774.3120 (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) as per the uncontroverted evidence, accepted priority over an insurance policy at some unparticularized time by some of unparticularized method.

301. It does not get more 'general' in terms of a legal question than whether an underwriter of an automotive insurance policy can provide a different fax number than its own at first instance and then purport to accept priority with another insurance company when neither first received an injured person's Completed Application pursuant to Reg 283.

VOLUME #5(C): Even if reasonableness were the standard of review

302. To the extent that any questions could be decided under the "reasonableness SOR", which they could not, the VCM Decisions[56] would fail yet again under the following hallmarks of an unreasonable decision. While the Applicant strongly submits that reasonableness cannot be the SOR on any of the questions or issues herein, the Applicant respectfully submits that he would have hypothetically met that burden[57] as the VCM Reasons for decisions, particularly in relation to NOM #14 are:

a. not transparent, intelligible and justified (the "Incoherent[58] Failure");
b. internally incoherent and irrational chain of analysis and that is not justified in relation to the facts and law that constrained her ("Rationality Process Failure")
c. where the result reached by the administrative decision-maker is untenable in light of the relevant factual and legal constraints that bear upon the decision ("Untenable Result"); and
d. Failure to even request submissions from the respondent insurance companies[59].

303. As there is no "counter judicial review application" by any of the three respondent insurance companies, and no preliminary objection, the judicial review is to be heard and decided on the basis of whether the impugned VCM Decisions ((SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 2) were correct or not as a matter of law. Unsurprisingly and consistently with the respondents (SNIC and TDHA) not wishing to participate in NOM #14 and NOM #15, and the reconsideration motion (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 25), there is no evidence to weigh on their behalf and no submissions to consider. An adverse inference must be drawn against each SNIC and TDHA in both of those 'written hearings' and in this JRPA Proceeding. It was almost as if the Tribunal had to force the three respondent insurance companies to file a Notice of Appearance.

VOLUME #5(D): Since reasonableness is NOT the SOR

304. Since reasonableness is not the standard of review, correctness must be the SOR. It is a zero sum game.

305. Unlike the reasonableness SOR, this reviewing court must ask itself the following (SEE: the corollaries of the paragraphs in Vavilov at paras. 75, 83 and 116):

a. how it would have resolved [the] issues;
b. undertake a de novo analysis;
c. ask itself what the correct decision would have been; and
d. decide the issues itself.

VOLUME #5(D)(i): De Novo Analysis and Decide the issues itself

306. In relation to the 'decide the issues itself', VCM did not decide the issues under Order #1, #2, #4 and #5 in NOM #14 and #15. Ergo, this Divisional Court must do so based on the motion hearing records as they were at the time of the VCM Decision on September 12, 2024, irrespective of the b*lata*nt purported backdating on page 1 of the VCM Reasons For Decision which were inconsistent with the

Volume #5(D)(ii): What order did VCM explicitly refuse

307. There is no dispute from the Applicant that VCM dismissed Order #3 sought, which was the TDHA Party Addition Order but her reasons for dismissing that order sought were predicated upon the misguided legal understanding, somewhat reflexively queried therein, as to whether the Tribunal had a discretionary jurisdiction to add TDHA as a party.

Volume #5(D)(iii): What orders did VCM refuse but not explicitly state 308. By dismissing NOM #14, albeit without specifically grappling with the law and evidence, VCM's refused Orders #1, #2, and #4. The same is applicable to NOM #15 with respect to Order #3.

Conflating "discretion" vs. "obligation" automotive insurance contract and an automotive accident benefits claim, the distinction between the following:

a. an obligation pursuant to statute; and
b. discretion pursuant to statute.

310. Analytical precision is required when issuing decisions but also making submissions to this ONSC Divisional Court.

311. Parties are those persons that are entitled to be parties "by law". The Legislature provided a discretion, in the broad sense to a variety of tribunals that are subject to the SPPA, to have persons who are entitled by law to be parties, to be parties to a proceeding before them.

312. However, in the Reg 283/SABS/LAT/AABS context, it is a matter of which insurance company, for liability to respond to the insured person and to pay benefits (if any i.e. the entitlement), and not a multitude of insurance companies.

SABS entitlement and benefits are different than costs

313. Theoretically, there could be two insurance companies that are subject to a LAT appeal or section 280(2) statutory application for resolution involving automotive benefits with the following:
a. First Insurer (Provisional): and
b. First Insurer (Permanent).

314. Those insurance companies may be liable in different amounts for costs in a LAT proceeding.

315. With no competing evidence, sworn or otherwise to the substantive rights and final orders sought, most undecided and not faced, in NOM #14 (orders #1 to #4) and NOM #15 (order #3), in the Applicant's Application Record, and none in the Record Of Proceeding, any purported finding of fact was one without supporting evidence. Even those findings 'dressed up as findings of fact' but, as per the actual record (at least the documents filed by the SABS Applicant, SNIC with one filed document (SNIC Response (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 7, pages 32 to 35)) and TDGIC with a variety of void ab initio filings), are subject to the Correctness SOR because they were unsupported by any reference to a document, evidence or otherwise.

Tribunal lawlessness has continued into this JRPA Proceeding

316. Although the Tribunal has decided to act without statutory authority by unilaterally deciding that its convenience in filing the Record Of Proceeding is unlawfully paramount to the clear legislative language ('forthwith file'), it apparently took some misguided heed of its statutory authority in refusing to add TDHA as the First Insurer and leave SNIC as a party for purposes of costs. Moreover, the Tribunal has admitted, by way of the Applicant's access request of it in January 2025 regarding the Record Of Proceeding, on February 13, 2025, that it is determining how to compile the same.

317. What is for the court's use and an obligation to do forthwith is of no concern to this Tribunal. It does as it wants when it wants and how it wants. It picks and chooses when obligations are of any concern to it. When the Legislature passes provisions like section 20 of the SPPA

318. But therein is the answer or one of the answers for the OTLA as to why injured persons are losing at exponentially lower rates than they did some five years ago.

VC McGee in Mansuri before the ONSC Divisional Court

319. As Vice Chair McGee, a decision maker that had issued a litany of correct and coherent decisions which the Applicant relied upon in the Tribunal proceeding, noted in Mansuri, as follows at paragraph 14:

> "[14] The Applicants submit the relief they seek relates to a dispute under the Insurance Act and, therefore, falls within the Tribunal's jurisdiction. The Applicants also refer me to the Tribunal's authority under the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, RSO 1990, c S.22 ("SPPA") to make orders with respect to the procedures and practices that apply in a proceeding, and to the Tribunal's authority under the Licence Appeal Tribunal Act, 1999, SO 1999, c 12, Sched G ("LAT Act") to determine all questions of fact or law that arise in matters before it.

320. There is no dispute that general questions of law arose before it by reference to PREFACE #1 but VCM took some ten or so paragraphs to only address one of the four orders in NOM #14, and did not address the questions of facts and law before.

321. The question of fact which VCM failed or neglected to answer was Order #5. It was a pure question of fact to be answered as it involved whether the 'phone number' used as a fax number was a landline phone number located on the 4th floor of the building, situated on the land, at 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto. It is as if VC Morissette was deliberately avoiding answering that issue. The Applicant submits that she did so because if she had answered that issue, she, on behalf of the Tribunal, would have had to answer that question in the affirmative which would have then led to unassailable legal conclusions. It did not call for a legal determination per se but rather that said fax number (416.774.3120) (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) first provided to the Applicant and the fax number that first received, was situated on a certain floor inside the Spark Building.

Unassailable Conclusions – De Novo or at First Instance

322. The unassailable legal conclusions would have then been as follows:

a. SNIC was not the First Insurer as its represented address in September and October 2022 was in Markham, Ontario and not North York, Toronto, Ontario; and
b. TDGIC could not have been the First Insurer because the Tribunal found that TDGIC's fax number was 416.774.3629.

Order #1 in NOM #14

323. With those unassailable legal conclusions, then it could have only been TDHA that was the First Insurer. Therefore, VCM would have been compelled, by law, to grant Order #1. This would have left Orders #2 to #4 sought in NOM #14.

Not Permissive as VCM would have it

324. By law, VCM was required to add TDHA as a party as it was the First Insurer. It would not have precluded TDHA from its right to seek give a late notice to the SABS Applicant, an unnamed insured individual in the Insurance Policy but an insured person by the statute (Insurance Act), and the other insurance companies that it alleged were liable to respond and pay accident benefits (if any). Whether an arbitrator would have believed the evidence and submissions of TDHA, hypothetically speaking, that 90 days from October 13, 2022, was the responsible insurer to pay benefits and respond to the Applicant is a matter of conjecture and speculation. Moreover, TDHA, once found to have been the First Insurer, would not have been precluded from seeking a stay of the LAT Proceeding while it potentially exercised its potential legal rights. However, TDHA (and potentially SNIC and its apparent joint and several co-indemnitor or perhaps contributor to liability of an insurance policy where they accepted priority [sic]) would have, most ironically in light of the misguided prematurity objection solely by the Tribunal, subject to the rule against reviews or appeals or interlocutory decisions and orders.

325. It is trite law that an order that grants the addition of a party (or cause of action), by way of order sought in a motion (whether at the tribunal or court level) is an interlocutory decision. Conversely, an order that refuses, dismisses, or does not grant an order to add a party (and a cause of action) is a final decision or final order.

Applicant was courteous and not cutthroat

326. Objectively speaking, the JRPA Applicant was beyond courteous to seek an order that granted TDHA the right to file a responsive pleading within 14 days of an order adding it as a party, which has been denoted as Order #3 in NOM #14, by way of Order #4 in NOM #14. The Applicant could have not sought such an order predicated on TDHA having been served at the fax number of 416.774.3120 (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) with the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) on December 24, 2023. However, the Applicant nonetheless sought Order #4 which can only be characterized as an "amendment of pleading order", which was not decided specifically but rather refused by dismissal of the motion itself (NOM #14).

327. This would have left Order #2 in NOM #14. Said order sought is somewhat of a contextual or supplemental order to the First Insurer Order Sought (Order #1) and the Fax Number Location Order Sought (Order #5). If either were granted, then the finding that TDHA was the only known or last known, by reference to the uncontroverted public evidence so appended to the Applicant's affidavit material, that the East Mall Address was one that TDHA utilized before the City of Toronto amended the various zoning plans involving the commercial building known as the Valhalla Executive Suites to allow for the development of mixed-use commercial-residential towers. While no insurance company, l*et al*one any company could have been located at 304 The East Mall in October 2022, which was the time that the address was input into the CPA or HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) back-end technological database, or at the time of the VCM Decision, such an order was sought as it provided further independent and supplemental evidence as to why TDHA was the First Insurer in October 2022.

328. Simply put, the fax number of 416.774.3120 (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) was that of TDHA in September and October 2022, and that is all that matters as it relates to Reg 283 as to whom was the First Insurer. An insurance company may move 20 days, 20 months or 20 years later from the physical office where such a landline fax number was based but the sole question to be answered, pursuant to Reg 283 which dovetails with the Schedule, is which owner, tenant, sub-tenant, assignee, or addressee was so located on the 4th floor of the Spark Building at said time.

VOLUME #5(E): further reasons why VCM erred in law

329. With the SOR being correctness, the VCM Decision also suffers from a variety of errors of law where this reviewing court also extends no deference to the inferior tribunal's decisions and orders.

VOLUME #5(F): failure to grapple with issues and evidence

330. An administrative decision maker's reasons must "meaningfully account for the central issues and concerns raised by the parties" and be responsive to the parties' submissions: Vavilov, at para. 127; Elkins at paragraph 69[60]. VCM failed to issue a notice of hearing, contrary to the SPPA, and request submissions from SNIC or TDHA. VCM failed to meaningfully account for concerns raised by the Applicant. Consequently, the VCM Reasons have prevented meaningful appellate review and constitute errors of law.[61] As the Legislature has evinced a clear intention to allow for, if an aggrieved party so wishes, appellate review on questions of law by LATA, although that leads to a stay of the underlying proceeding, this signals a correctness SOR.

331. If the Tribunal was subject to some "power outage" or "privacy breach" (internal or external) and did not have a full and accurate Record Of Proceeding in September 2024, it should have informed the parties therein so they could assist. Certainly, such a mess of a decision by VCM that had some 45 errors in 11 pages resembled could not have indicative of her competence. The only other potential was that VCM issued those "decisions" (NOM #13 not under judicial review) from a faulty memory. In this regard, the Applicant is willing to give her the benefit of the doubt. However, that makes the point that compounding and aggravating the issue as the Tribunal has done through its counsel in Mr. Boyce can never be the answer. It is antithetical to unwritten constitutional principles, constitutional values and the supervisory role of our constitutionally guaranteed independent judiciary.

VOLUME #5(G): failed to identify the orders sought in NOM #14

332. In Elkins v. Van Wissen, 2023 ONCA 789 [62], the ONCA found that the Board (LTB) reasons made no mention of the second issue nor the evidence relating to it. Clearly, appellate review was prevented on that issue and, for that reason alone, the Board erred in law.

333. The VCM's reasons did not address orders #1 and #2 and the issues so inextricably intertwined with the same. Ergo, judicial review was prevented on this issue and, for that reason alone, VCM erred in law.

VOLUME #5(H): Deficient reasons (not absence of reasons): error of law

334. The ONCA went further in Elkins[63] finding the following: "[69] In addition, however, the Board reasons on the first issue are so deficient as to constitute legal error". The VCM Reasons, in relation to NOM #14, also suffer from that fatal level of deficiency albeit in relation to numerous issues.

VOLUME #5(I): Typographical errors, error of calculations or similar errors made in the VCM Decision

335. The Applicant continues to draw to the attention of the Tribunal and the ONSC that the VCM Decision contains the errors in its decision as follows. The VCM Decision does not only contain rejection of relevant evidence but an apparent recitation of facts unknown to the Record Of Proceeding. The errors in 11 pages were astounding as per the JRPA Applicant's section 21.1 of the SPPA motion, which he incorrectly (being objective) noted was NOM #16 when it was NOM #18, as follows (which are somewhat required because of the Tribunal's failure to comply with section 10 of the JRPA) (SEE: Appendices).

VOLUME #5(J): The fatal misstatement of law by VCM

336. While using the word "fatal" should not be utilized as a standard naming protocol in civil litigation, the JRPA Applicant has done so for emphasis as per the word choice by VCM in her brief reasons for decision in NOM #14.

quashed, and substituted for correct decisions and orders, one of the benefits of the orders and decisions in NOM #14 and #15 (collectively, the "First Insurer Motions") being set aside, is that this misstatement of law is expunged, eradicated and eviscerated as any form of precedent so that no other person (private, public or otherwise) ever relies on the same:

> "This judicial review can be disposed of on one legal ground and error, while there are broader errors in the VCM Decision in the First Insurer Motions which include the following statement: "[27] .....The initial respondent [sic], TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC accepted priority over the Applicant's [sic] insurance policy". [the "Joint Insurance Company Insurance Policy Priority"][64].
>
> 4. Therefore, if SNIC and TDGIC accepted priority of the Insurance Policy, as found by the Adjudicator, and the Appellant did not make any such offer to either for them to 'accept priority of the Insurance Policy' and/or neither SNIC nor TDGIC first received the Appellant's Completed Application, then TDGIC had to receive that offer of "priority" (as the Adjudicator puts it) from the "First Insurer".
>
> 5. As a matter of law, could TDHA offer "priority" to SNIC and TDGIC? The question answers itself.
> (SEE: paragraphs three to five of the JRPA Application; COMPENDIUM, Tab 37, pages 604 to 631).

338. With great respect, VCM's analysis therein is, bluntly, incompetent. It is not competent because in the reasons for decision, VCM refers to TDGIC as a non-party. Since TDGIC was a non-party, by virtue of her own orders and decisions in NOM #8, then how could an insurance company that apparently, albeit without any evidence in the Application Record or the Record Of Proceeding, accept priority over the Applicant's [sic] insurance policy [sic] and not be a party to the JRPA* Proceeding? Based on VCM's reasoning, then both SNIC and TDGIC were required to be parties as, hypothetically speaking, why should the Applicant be deprived from enforcement of any monetary aspects and/or the duty to respond and pay benefits if two insurance companies inexplicably, without evidence in the Application Record, accepted priority over an insurance policy – whatever that means at law.

VOLUME #5(K): Applicant is in "exceptional company"

339. While it would be one thing for this Applicant to be on an "island" making such bold and pointed submissions at this LAT, he is not. The JRPA Applicant is in extremely good company and, ironically, his factum, which took dead aim at the questionable qualifications of VCM at it relates to being an adjudicator (then promoted to Vice Chair) was filed before his reading of the below. As it relates to competence, the Ontario Trial Lawyers Association has squarely taken aim at this Tribunal as of November 2024. When commencing the JRPA Application, the very thoughts, by mere happenstance and coincidence, of the OTLA were a source of rumination for the JRPA Applicant.

340. It is not an overstatement or hyperbole to submit that the Ontario Trial Lawyers Association is the preeminent trial lawyers association in any common law jurisdiction. When you look to the history of the calibre of civil and criminal trial lawyers produced by Ontario from Mr. John Josiah Robinette to Mr. David Tanovich to Mr. Edward Greenspan to Mr. Peter Hogg to those justices of our ONSC and ONCA who were members of the OTLA, it is a statement that is nearly beyond debate. While our American counterparts will argue that the likes of Mr. Johnie Cochran to Mr. Shapiro and others are superior, the US courts are notoriously more based on persuasion and acting the part than pure legal acumen. Out of an abundance of caution, the JRPA Applicant wishes to make clear that being in that exceptional company for that fleeting moment was a coincidence and he is not within the same stratosphere of legal acumen of those aforementioned individuals.

341. With that segue, the very OTLA is pushing for an urgent review of the LAT:

> "OTLA Pushes for Urgent Review of the LAT (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition)) LAT Review"
> (SEE: The Applicant quotes: "The association cited "disturbing trends" drawn from an inHEALTH analysis". OTLA noted that the success rate for insured Applicants bringing their disputes to LAT has fallen over the years, with just 10% getting a win in 2023 compared to 2017's 33%. "Our members have voiced concerns that the LAT's process is overly rigid, is fraught with procedural unfairness, and fails to accommodate requests, even when both parties agree. This also raises important questions about the qualifications and training of LAT adjudicators," Purewal said. "The LAT is an arm of our justice system. Injured Ontario citizens should feel confident that they are getting a fair hearing, and that justice is being done. Unfortunately, with the recent declining trends in success rates for Applicants and the overwhelming success of insurers is raising significant questions for our membership."

342. Similarly, this JRPA Applicant is seeking an 'urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition))' judicial 'review' of two (2) decisions makers of the LAT and the LAT itself. Whether by section 6(2) of the JRPA and Rule 37.13(2)(a), it matters not because urgency is a temporal issue – not a procedural one.

VOLUME #5(L): Déjà Vu All Over Again or worse than Shuttleworth?

343. As it relates to integrity, this ONSC Divisional Court is well attuned to the decision in Shuttleworth, and it, at least, prima facie, appears to have resurfaced herein to some degree. Where a Tribunal such as this one is back to its old "bad habits" like it was in Shuttleworth[65] and the recent discovery that a former adjudicator in Therese Reilly (LSO number 28621D; "not practising law" with "contact information withheld"[66]) had received a conditional job offer from Aviva in 2022 and then proceeded to apparently issue 13 decisions in favour of Aviva before embarking on her in-house legal position.[67] [68]

344. The "similar fact evidence" or "contextual evidence", all of it public, is a "cocktail" of some administrative actors that palpably lack any level of objectivity.

VOLUME #5(M): AN UNPRECEDENTED STEP BY TRIBUNAL COUNSEL (SLASTO LEGAL UNIT) BY MR. BOYCE IN THE FACE OF RECEIPT OF AFFIDAVIT #2;

THE SLASTO LEGAL UNIT CONNECTION TO THE IMPUGNED DECISIONS OF THE IMPUGNED DECISION MAKERS

345. As denoted in the Applicant's affidavit #4 (January 18, 2024), Mr. Boyce, in-house counsel at the SLASTO legal unit, took the extraordinary step of removing certain information in his public contact information such as: (i) address; and (ii) employer name, although maintain his status as "practising law – employed". The Applicant's affidavit #2 (December 30, 2024), clearly put Mr. Boyce on notice of a potential reasonably perceived conflict of interest issue and the inability for the Tribunal to further participate in this JRPA Proceeding on grounds of an absence of impartiality pursuant to his office address being the same as VCM and VCL, and potentially being the SLASTO lawyer that advised those decision makers and co-drafted those impugned decisions. As opposed to Mr. Boyce facing the same, and providing this ONSC Div. Ct. with an explanation and/or evidence, he took the extraordinary step of removing the very information from the public record in the LSO directory.

issued licences." Mr. Boyce removed his "assumed name". Mr. Boyce did not have any "personal contact information" so that subsection of By-Law #8 is irrelevant. His employer or business contact information was removed but not changed per se. There does not appear to be any grounds whatsoever to remove the "business name" or "employer name" from the LSO directory through the LSO Portal.

347. Inexplicably and without reference to the very "business" or "employer", Mr. Boyce' status remained the same as he is still "practising law – employed". Thankfully, affidavit #2 in the Divisional Court record provided the exact particulars of Mr. Boyce's business or employer name, address, and phone number therein. As such, the issue of whether Mr. Boyce, as the agent (lawyer licensee representative) of the Tribunal can advance arguments in an impartial manner for the quasi-judicial LAT is at issue.

348. Leaving that aside, Mr. Boyce is an officer of the court, at common law and by section 29 of the LSA: 29 (1) Every person who is licensed to practise law in Ontario as a barrister and solicitor is an officer of every court of record in Ontario. 2006, c. 21, Sched. C, s. 26. There are six cases cited under this section that was passed in 2006 which was by way of the Access To Justice Act, 2006. Paralegals are not officers of the court[69] whereas lawyer licensees are: Gobin v. Sheriff of the Regional Municipality of Durham, 2018 ONSC 1255 as per Justice Salmers. Black's Law Dictionary, 8th ed., defines "officer of the court" as "a person who is charged with upholding the law and administering the judicial system." (SEE: Nixon v. The King, 2023 TCC 124 at paragraph 6, cited at note 3). Every barrister and solicitor licensed to practise law in Ontario is an officer of the court: s. 29 of the Act. Further, by operation of s. 33, every advocate practising law in Ontario is prohibited from engaging in professional misconduct or conduct unbecoming a licensee (SEE: at paragraph 9 of Groia (2016 at the ONCA).

349. When considering the litany of errors in VCM Decision, by reference to the Applicant's section 21.1 of the SPPA motion alone, wherein VCM failed to cross-reference any filed evidence or evidence altogether, it leads to a very scary inference. That scary inference is all the more frightening when former case manager Mr. Josh Grant[70] was, without notice, relieved of his duties in favour of case manager, Ms. Hannah Lee in Fall of 2024. The insight from Shuttleworth[71] as to the procedure before a decision is issued during this "behind the doors and non-public consultation process" leads to the obvious inference that the VCM Decision, coupled with VC Lake coming out of the "woodwork" after there was a clear objection by the Applicant to the Tribunal that VC Lake not engage in any further role in the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6), was not relying on evidence in the "Record Of Proceeding" but rather on non-public evidence. Were there conversations behind closed doors or at least not including the Applicant as to what transpired? It seems to be the only natural inference. Were Mr. Nieuwland and Mr. Boyce communicating during the LAT Proceeding? Their evidence was welcomed but "radio silence" followed.

350. In this regard, the Applicant welcomed the Tribunal speaking to the Record Of Proceeding but on one condition: if it has it in full and precise form. As of January 15, 2025, the Tribunal has filed to file a single document of the Record Of Proceeding. As of January 14, 2025, the Tribunal failed to file its application record and factum contrary to Rule 68.04(4) of the Civil Rules.

VOLUME #6: CONSTRAINED SCOPE OF THE LICENSE APPEAL TRIBUNAL'S PARTICIPATION[72]

351. Judicial review is not an opportunity to re-argue the case or hearing, but rather to show that the decision-maker failed to properly exercise its decision-making powers or for the respondent insurance companies to do the opposite. Judicial review is not documentary discovery. However, compliance with section 10 of the JRPA is a requirement or obligation upon the Tribunal. The Civil Rules have no applicability pursuant to Rule 1.02(1)(3.). As a 'Practice Direction' is subject to the Civil Rules, neither any Practice Direction nor any Civil Rule can override the statute; particularly the forthwith requirement that the Tribunal filed the Record Of Proceeding.

ISSUE #6; Volume #6(I)(A): Standing of the Tribunal

352. Ss. 9(2) of the Judicial Review Procedure Act entitles the administrative tribunal to be a party to the proceedings but leaves to the court's discretion the scope of its standing (SEE: Goodis at paragraph 33). It is not the "can" in relation to participation but the "content" of the participation.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(B): Why the Tribunal must be prohibited from arguing the correctness of the VCM Decision and VCL Decision

353. As such, the lens through which the court is analyzing the Application Record, and where applicable the Record Of Proceeding, is whether the JRPA Applicant, in his capacity as a SABS Applicant, provided clear, convincing and cogent proof that, it was more likely than not, that TDHA was the First Insurer. If the Tribunal were entitled to argue the correctness of the VCM Decision and VCL Decision (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 3), it would be tantamount to the Tribunal arguing the hearing of NOM #14 and NOM #15 for the respondent insurance companies as they volitionally did not participate. It would be the equivalent of Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal standing in the shoes of TDHA and SNIC in this JRPA Application along with the potential of the Tribunal taking a second bite of the cherry for SNIC and TDHA. When considering that Mr. Boyce and the Vice Chairs work from the same location and for SLASTO, which is funded by insurance industry, it would be tantamount to the Tribunal engaging in the legal argument that SNIC and TDHA chose to not engage in and, at least, the appearance of a lack of independence between the Tribunal and the insurance companies – which are sources of funding capital for SLASTO.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(C): Northwestern Utilities; Paccar and Profession Mullan

354. In Northwestern Utilities, supra, Estey J. articulated the other [competing interest being a fully informed adjudication on the issues] significant consideration, namely the importance of maintaining tribunal impartiality. This obviously matters to the parties to the decision, particularly if the application results in the matter being referred back to the tribunal. More broadly however, in future cases before the tribunal where similar interests arise, or where the tribunal serves a defined and specialized community, there may be a risk that full- fledged participation by a tribunal as an adversary in a judicial review proceeding will undermine future confidence in its objectivity (cited in Goodis in paragraph 38).

ISSUE #6, VOLUME #6(I)(D): The decision presented adequately by the party that had relief refused?

355. As our ONCA stated in Goodis, citing Paccar at paragraph 37 and quoting Professor David Mullan, one of the preeminent legal scholars in administrative law[73] with the following:

"Professor Mullan put it this way at Mullan, supra, at p. 459:

> Under a discretionary approach, the principal question should probably be whether the participation of the tribunal is needed to enable a proper defence or justification of the decision under attack. If that decision will almost certainly be presented adequately by the losing party at first instance or by some other party or intervenor such as the attorney general, there may be no need for tribunal representation irrespective of the ground of judicial review or appeal."

356. The word justification connotes that the reasonableness standard of review is at issue. The standard of review on the decisions and orders, by way of impugnment, is correctness. Justification, intelligibility and rationality are not the standards or benchmarks herein but rather whether the decisions and orders of VCM were correct or incorrect. In this instant circumstance, one of the hallowed and honourable justices will decide the leave request and, if granted, will "step into the shoes" of VCM and make a decision, either confirming her decisions or substituting them, on the record that was before her, and, where applicable, the Reconsideration Decision based on the principles cited in Kawa Arab. Simply put, if the VCM Decisions and VCM Orders in NOM #14 and #15 (SEE: VCM Decision, Tab 2, pages 8 to 11) are incorrect, they must be set aside.

357. The issue is whether this Tribunal is needed? It is not. The Applicant, as the unsuccessful party in NOM #14 and #15, albeit without any adverse findings of fact on the issue of the relevant owner of a landline fax in North York and the HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) former branch office (East Mall Address), has already presented the decisions, along with the Application Record, at issue in adequate fashion.

> ISSUE #6, VOLUME #6(I)(E): Not merely no need for Tribunal representation but Mr. Boyce should be prohibited on grounds of conflict of interest and bias (SEE: Affidavit #2); Moot Issue as he is not effectively participating on behalf of the Tribunal; and Has this Tribunal learned anything since Shuttleworth? Or is it getting worse?

358. As a starting point, if Mr. Boyce (and Mr. Nieuwland) spent as much time changing their addresses and practice statuses with the LSO as they did herein, perhaps, they would have been able to assist the Court with some cogent and comprehensive arguments.

359. While Shuttleworth is well-known to the ONSC (Divisional Court), which was upheld by the ONCA, the paragraphs from its decision are most compelling [double underlining is the Applicant's and single underlining is that of the court]:

> "The Decision Review Process
> [24] In-house counsel for the LAT swore an affidavit explaining that the executive chair implemented a decision review process at the LAT. The stated reason was to maximize the quality of the tribunal's decisions. The peer review process has not been adopted formally. No written policy was provided but counsel swore that, "generally, the LAT decision review process for final decisions is, and at all material times in this case was" as follows:
>
> > First, there is peer review: After drafting a decision, an adjudicator is expected to send the decision for peer review by the Duty Vice-Chair. The Duty Chair offers suggestions to improve clarity, reasoning and readability and might also evaluate, for example, whether the correct legal test has been applied and whether any related case law that was not mentioned might be helpful.

> to ensure [guarantee] that the correct legal test has been applied and to identify any related case law that was not mentioned that might be helpful[74].
>
> Third, there is a second peer review by the executive chair: "In some rare instances – such as when a decision involves a novel, contentious, precedent-setting, or high-profile issue – the Legal Services Unit will send the decision to the Executive chair for her review. In these instances, the Executive chair serves, in essence, as a second peer reviewer and accordingly will order the same kinds of comments that the author would typically receive during the initial peer review."
>
> Fourth, there is a review by the file's case management officer: The case management officer acts as an intake officer and primary point of contact for the parties. This review involves examining the decision's format, correcting grammatical and spelling errors, and ensuring that the template and parties' names are correct." [Emphasis added.]

ISSUE #6, VOLUME #6(I)(E)(i): Application of the LAT structure to these facts

360. In-house counsel for the Tribunal would be the likes of a Mr. Boyce. With great respect to the former case manager in Mr. Grant, his explanations regarding why he apparently input TDGIC as the sole respondent party do not pass muster. He requested, on January 8, 2024 (which was ironically 14 days (which is the rule deadline for a respondent to file a Response) after the filing and serving of the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) on the fax number of 416.774.3120) (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) that the Applicant provide the denial letters, which were already contained in the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) by way of pre-LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) affidavits, and they contained "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex logos" with the address of SNIC with its two locations of Markham and Burlington. Neither location housed the landline fax number of 416.774.3120. It is submitted that Mr. Grant, as a case manager, knew that 416.774.3120 was the fax number of TDHA and was most confused by the Applicant's written references to TD SNIC in the Appeal and then TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company) in his initial motions in early January 2024.

361. The mere fact that Mr. Grant would be responsible for the "parties' names are correct" is a scary cogitation. This is the same Mr. Grant that represented to the SABS Applicant that when he could not file, when his file number was not recognized in the e-filing portal, solely on account of a "power outage". If there was a power outage for the server that received electronically filed documents in the AABS e-filing portal, would the whole portal not have been down? The question answers itself.

362. It was about as believable as his previous representations about why he input TDGIC as the sole respondent over the very name in the "denial letters" when he represented that the only two "TD Insurance" companies that were in the database of LAT/AABS (which naturally makes the very point that TDHA was an automotive insurer in Ontario at the time of August 31, 2022):

    a. TDGIC; and
    b. TDHA.

363. As noted in NOM #18, the Applicant has filed three motions with the respondent's name in the style of cause as "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" (Security National Insurance Company) and the denial letters were filed and served on January 8th, 2024, which was "sandwiched" in between NOM #1 and NOM #3. How could Mr. Grant conceivably and reasonably, with no filed documents from any of the three respondent insurance companies, concluded, absent any further requests of the Applicant, that TDGIC was the 'sole respondent' referencing the incorrect party, and the unequivocal language in the requested denial letters? While his emails are in evidence and the Record Of Proceeding, the more salient question arises: why is the Tribunal remaining in a state of non-compliance with its statutory duties to forthwith file the Record Of Proceeding*?* The Applicant respectfully submits that the question answers itself.

ISSUE #6, VOLUME #6(I)(F): The many hats of "tribunal counsel"[75]

364. This leaves the obvious question as to whether Mr. Boyce or any of the undisclosed lawyers who are working on this file (SEE: file number above) have acted in the dual capacity of counsel to the Tribunal involving any decisions that are at issue (SEE: 23-015662/AABS).

365. Ergo, while it may seem reasonable or helpful for Mr. Boyce to argue prematurity, would he, on behalf of the Tribunal (not one and the same) really be arguing prematurity or acting in a mode of self-preservation? [76]

366. It is self-evident and common knowledge that any loss of any document (hard copy or electronic) that is required by law or otherwise is an embarrassing situation.

ISSUE #6, VOLUME #6(I)(G): Mr. Boyce's decisions subject to appeal or review

367. In Lockyear v. Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Company, 2022 ONSC 94, the Divisional Court overturned the decision and reconsideration decision of then Vice Chair Boyce. [12] Jeffrey Lockyear requested a reconsideration and submitted that the Tribunal erred when it failed to admit the video footage. The Tribunal did not agree. It found that the video would not have been probative of the "ultimate issue." (SEE: Amended Reconsideration Decision of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, May 16, 2019 (Jesse Boyce, Adjudicator) Appeal Book and COMPENDIUM [therein], at Tab 2 at para. 10.[77] The Divisional Court was highly critical in blunt language about Vice Chair Boyce's analysis.[78]

368. It is important to note that Mr. Boyce was a Vice Chair and member of the LAT while VCM and VCL were as well. But for Vice Chair Morrissette's error in her address and/or not updating the same, Mr. Boyce, whose employer is SLASTO along with VCL yet Vice Chair Morrissette inputs the LAT (only Vice Chair to it, whereas Vice Chair Lake has issued decisions involving under tribunals under the sub-cluster of SLASTO).

369. In relation to Tribunal's preliminary objection on grounds of prematurity (i.e. to the ONSC Divisional Court within the required two weeks while noting that the respondent insurance companies failed to do so), and then citing Awada and Heegsma (both of which are not on point with these facts), the Applicant notes AIG Insurance Company of Canada v. Riddell, 2024 ONSC 6033. Mr. Boyce argued that said JR by AIG (not Riddell) was premature as it related to the decision of an adjournment request. The JRPA Applicant agrees with Mr. Boyce and the Tribunal on those known facts.

370. The Applicant notes Fernandez v. Commonwell Mutual Insurance, 2024 ONSC 5180 and the LAT, represented by Mr. Boyce, that there was a denial of procedural fairness therein. The Applicant also notes in Shahin v. Intact Insurance Company, 2024 ONSC 2059 where Ms. Shahin was successful with another breach of procedural fairness by LAT. Mr. Boyce was counsel. Despite that stellar record below with SNIC and TDHA, the ONSC Divisional Court found Adjudicator Boyce erred in law again: Varriano v. Allstate, 2021 ONSC 8242.

ISSUE #6, VOLUME #6(I)(H):Ontario Energy Board

reviews and appeals, the three-part test is as follows as it relates to when the statute does not clearly resolve the issue as to tribunal standing, as to the scope or fullness (or lack thereof) of tribunal standing:

> "In accordance with the foregoing discussion of tribunal standing, where the statute does not clearly resolve the issue, the reviewing court must rely on its discretion to define the tribunal's role on appeal. While not exhaustive, I would find the following factors, identified by the courts and academic commentators cited above, are relevant in informing the court's exercise of this discretion:
>
> (1) If an appeal or review were to be otherwise unopposed, a reviewing court may benefit by exercising its discretion to grant tribunal standing.
>
> (2) If there are other parties available to oppose an appeal or review, and those parties have the necessary knowledge and expertise to fully make and respond to arguments on appeal or review, tribunal standing may be less important in ensuring just outcomes.
> (3) Whether the tribunal adjudicates individual conflicts between two adversarial parties, or whether it instead serves a policymaking, regulatory or investigative role, or acts on behalf of the public interest, bears on the degree to which impartiality concerns are raised. Such concerns may weigh more heavily where the tribunal served an adjudicatory function in the proceeding that is the subject of the appeal, while a proceeding in which the tribunal adopts a more regulatory role may not raise such concerns.

372. The review is not unopposed as Mr. Nieuwland, in his cover email, made a legal argument that SNIC was also referred to as TDHA and TDGIC. Mr. Nieuwland, on behalf of the respondent insurance companies, filed a Notice of Appearance. At the very least, the respondent insurance companies are available to argue and oppose the JRPA Application, and there is no dispute that those parties have the necessary knowledge and expertise to fully make and respond to argument on review.

373. The LAT is a quasi-judicial body so the third part of the test weighs heavily in limited participation by the Tribunal.

ISSUE #6, VOLUME #6(I)(I)(a): Vigorous arguments are prohibited and tone matters

RE; NOT WHAT YOU SAY BUT HOW YOU SAY IT

374. As found by the SCC in Ontario Energy Board, "If an administrative tribunal seeks to make submissions on a judicial review of its decision, it [should] pay careful attention to the tone with which it does so. Although this is not a discrete basis upon which its standing might be limited, there is no doubt that the tone of the proposed submissions provides the background for the determination of that issue. A tribunal that seeks to resist a judicial review application will be of assistance to the court to the degree its submissions are characterized by the helpful elucidation of the issues, informed by its specialized position, rather than by the aggressive partisanship of an adversary." [para. 61]

375. While Ontario (Energy Board) was a 2016 decision, of enormous help to the Canadian administrative law community as a whole in answering general questions of importance, the distinction between each and ever judicial review statute and administrative tribunal appellate statutes could not be analyzed by the SCC.

376. Hence, OEB was merely a starting point to set the general legal test which is modified within each province depending on passed statutes at the relevant time. In Ontario, the relevant provisions of LAT (SEE: section 11) were passed in 2016, as the FSCO ceased its role altogether in being replaced by the FSRA, and the FSRA services that were licensed provincially and not licensed provincially.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(b): Two competing interests: fully informed adjudication of issues vs. tribunal impartiality

377. The two most important considerations, drawn from those cases, were the (i) "importance of having a fully informed adjudication of the issues before the court" (para. 37), and (ii) "the importance of maintaining tribunal impartiality": para. 38. The principle of impartiality is implicated by tribunal argument on appeal, because decisions may in some cases be remitted to the tribunal for further consideration. Stratas J.A. found that "[s]ubmissions by the tribunal in a judicial review proceeding that descend too far, too intensely, or too aggressively into the merits of the matter before the tribunal may disable the tribunal from conducting an impartial redetermination of the merits later": Quadrini, at para. 16. [79] (SEE: paragraph 50 of Ontario (Energy Board))

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(b): Finality

378. Finality, the principle whereby a tribunal may not speak on a matter again once it has decided upon it and provided reasons for its decision, is discussed in greater detail below, as it is more directly related to concerns surrounding "bootstrapping" rather than agency standing itself. The court should limit tribunal participation if it will undermine future confidence in its objectivity. The court identified a list of factors, discussed further below, that may aid in determining whether and to what extent the tribunal should be permitted to make submissions: paras. 36-38 of Goodis[80].

379. If the judicial review application involves only questions of law or primarily questions of law (or the limitation of the appeal to questions of law or an extricable question of law from a finding of mixed fact and law and/or findings of fact unsupported by evidence which are questions of law) in relation to certain decisions and orders, then the participation (not necessarily intervention) of the Tribunal in this JRPA Proceeding is not particularly necessary or relevant.

380. Based upon the misconduct, even by omission and failure to be forthcoming and honest, two Latin principles or maxims become relevant herein:

a. Ex turpi causa non oritur action: is a legal principle that prevents a person from seeking legal action if it arises from their own illegal act; and
b. Omnia praesumuntur contra spoliatorem: which means "all things are presumed against the wrongdoer".

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(c): Purpose of Record Of Proceeding (SEE: NOM #1, COMPENDIUM)

381. This subheading is addressed further in the written argument to NOM #1. The purpose of requiring a tribunal or adjudicator to file a "Record Of Proceedings" is to ensure that when the court reviews the tribunal's decision, it has the information and evidence as it appeared before the tribunal in the first instance. A court reviewing an adjudicative decision may look at decisions to admit evidence, submissions of witnesses, and other evidence and may substitute its judgment for that of the court [or tribunal] of first instance: Payne v. Ontario Human Rights Commission, 2000 CanLII 5731 (ON CA), [2000] O.J. No. 2987, 136 O.A.C. 357 (C.A.), at para. 23; Jacko v. McLellan, 2008 CanLII 22921 (ON SCDC) at paragraph 18).

"Nishikawa Motion Decision"]

382. In Hutchinson v. Aviva General Insurance Company, 2022 ONSC 7136, Justice Nishikawa sitting as a motion judge, found the following at paragraph 14[81]:

> (h) The LAT will accept the record as prepared by the parties and not add to it, adduce further evidence or raise any new issues;
> (i) The LAT will limit its submissions to the proposed issues (a) and (c) above;
> (j) The LAT will make all reasonable efforts to avoid duplicating the Respondent's submissions;
> (k) The LAT will serve a factum not exceeding 15 double-spaced *page*s;
> (l) The LAT will be permitted to make submissions not exceeding 15 minutes at the hearing of the appeal; and > (m) Unless the panel permits otherwise, the LAT will not seek costs.

383. Hutchinson[82] was an "appeal" so the section 10 of the JRPA obligation was not upon the Tribunal.

384. However, Justice Nishikawa effectively confirmed the Keeprite Standard by his order at paragraph 14(h). The proposed issues (a) and (c) (albeit listed differently at paragraph 9[83]) were: (a) The statutory and procedural context of the proceeding at the LAT; and (c) Procedural fairness and the tribunal's ability to control its own process. What Justice Nishikawa excluded from the proposed submissions of Aviva were the following: (b)[84] The applicable standard of review; and (d) Reasonable apprehension of bias, by subparagraph 14(i) order. Ergo, the standard involving the Tribunal's standing rights and the extent of the same is that the Tribunal will not make submissions on the SOR. The policy behind the same seems obvious because the SOR can drastically affect the outcome of a JRPA Proceeding and by arguing the same, it veers into the territory of defending the merits. As see in Ontario (Energy Board), this would offend the principles of: (i) finality; and (ii) impartiality. In fact, the Tribunal, which is the best authority for how the Tribunal conducted itself in LAT/AABS matters, proposed: "the LAT does not propose to take a position on the merits of its decision or the outcome of the appeal" (SEE: paragraph 9 of Hutchinson).

385. It is commonplace in other orders that administrative tribunals not comment on whether there was a "reasonable apprehension of bias" because such an impugning of the same because any such defence of the same would require the engaging in vigorous advocacy in defending the actual or apprehension of bias of the Tribunal. It would require an analysis of the law to the facts. "Independence" and "bias" are not one and the same. Independence refers to the relationship between the "tribunal" and another party or person or lack thereof. It is more institutional in nature than a reasonable apprehension of bias or actual bias or prejudice towards a person.[85]

386. Returning to the order referenced at paragraph 14(h) in Hutchinson, the Tribunal is not able to advance the statutory and procedural context of the 'proceeding' (not the hearing of NOM #14 and #15) if it fails to file a Record Of Proceeding and remains in a perpetual state of breach with section 10 of the JRPA.

387. While there were certainly breaches of procedural fairness by the Tribunal in relation to NOM #14 and #15, it would require a "counter application" by the respondent insurance companies to apply to set aside the decision of VCM in relation to NOM #14 and #15 without reference to the merits. As such, there is nothing for the Tribunal to add of any assistance to the court in order to have a "fully informed adjudication". This leaves the counterbalancing principles of "impartiality" and "finality" and the prohibition against "bootstrapping".

"Tranquilli Decision")

388. In the Tranquilli Decision[86], Justice Tranquilli found at paragraph 11 that the tribunal therein could participate on the terms proposed which were at paragraph 7 therein: (i) the limitation of the appeal to questions of law or an extricable question of law from a finding of mixed fact and law; (ii) the applicable standard of review of correctness within the context of the Board's specialized function; and (iii) procedural fairness as it relates to the tribunal's ability to make procedural choices and the extent to which the Board may consider law or argument not raised by the parties.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(e)(i): Taylor v. Pivotal HR

389. In Taylor v. Pivotal Integrated HR Solutions, 2021 ONSC 7720, the Applicant, Paul Taylor, moved pursuant to s. 21(5) of the Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, to set aside the orders of Sachs J. made October 8, 2020. The motion judge made orders adding the Workplace Safety and Insurance Appeals Tribunal as a party to Mr. Taylor's judicial review application and dismissing the application for extreme delay.

390. In Taylor, ONSC Divisional Court (Toronto) as per The Honourable Justices Ryan Bell, Nishikawa, and Shore JJ., made the seminal statements of law relating to the overarching discretion of the ONSC (whether Divisional or otherwise) with respect to the Tribunal's participation:

> "[18] Section 9(2) of the JRPA does not affect this court's supervisory jurisdiction. It does not shield administrative tribunals such as the Tribunal from curial scrutiny entirely; rather, s. 9(2) permits tribunals to bring relevant matters to the attention of the court.
> [19] Allowing an administrative tribunal such as the Tribunal to participate on an application for judicial review does not give rise to "unjust opposition" as Mr. Taylor contends. To the contrary, the presence of the administrative tribunal as a party may help to ensure that the court hears both sides of a dispute where there is no other well-informed party standing in opposition to the party challenging the tribunal decision: Ontario (Energy Board) v. Ontario Power Generation Inc., 2015 SCC 44, at para. 54.
> [20] Once a tribunal is a party, the court still has discretion as to the scope of participation to be accorded to the tribunal during the hearing. This involves balancing the need for fully informed adjudication against the importance of maintaining tribunal impartiality: Hydro Ottawa v. Ontario (Workplace Safety and Insurance Appeals Tribunal), 2019 ONSC 4898 (Div. Ct.), at para. 6. This court is under no obligation to accept the submissions of a tribunal that appears before it."

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f): Mr. Boyce's admission, by conduct, in January 2025, has disabled the Tribunal from adjudicating the matter at the Tribunal level any further or in the future and Mr. Boyce must be prohibited from acting in this JRPA Proceeding

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(i): Remitting to the Tribunal: undesirable and impossible for it to decide future matters if it does not have the Record Of Proceeding (see: Formal LAT Admission, supra) uncontroverted evidence, are more in the nature of a "shield" as opposed to a "sword". Moreover, they are most pre-emptive in the event in any late filed submissions are purportedly tendered.

392. The principle of impartiality is implicated by tribunal arguments, however informal or otherwise, in this JRPA Application, because decisions may in some cases be remitted to the tribunal for further consideration.

393. The Tribunal is now disabled from deciding any matters that involve previous records in the Record Of Proceeding considering it has admitted that it has not even compiled the Record Of Proceeding as of February 13, 2025.

394. While an order adding TDHA as a party, a declaration that it was and is the First Insurer, with the causes of actions contained in the LAT Appeal and all thereafter will resolve the majority of all of the outstanding benefit issues involving the Applicant, it casts serious doubt on the Tribunal's ability to issue any further decisions.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(ii): Talisman Resort v. Keyser, Usling et al, 2013 ONSC 1901 (CanLII)(per Conlan J.) ["Talisman Resort"]

395. The LSO public practice management resources and By-Laws, which have legislative force, are of great import. From this ONSC in Talisman Resort as per Conlan J. of the Central West Region, articulated the legal principles in relation to the ONSC (which the ONSC Divisional Court is the intermediate appellate court or 'court of review')

> "This Court's jurisdiction to remove Bennett Jones LLP as counsel for Talisman on the basis of a conflict of interest is an inherent one. It is not derived from any particular legislation or rule. It is grounded in the Court's objective to safeguard the proper administration of justice. Puhl v. Katz Group Canada Ltd., [2006] O.J. No. 4596 (S.C.J.) at paragraph 23.
> [14] The question is whether these Defendants have established on a balance of probabilities that a fair-minded and reasonably informed member of the public would conclude that the removal of Bennett Jones LLP as counsel for Talisman is necessary for the proper administration of justice. MacDonald Estate v. Martin, 1990 CanLII 32 (SCC), [1990] 3 S.C.R. 1235 at paragraph 47.
> [17] In analyzing the question, the Court may consider any applicable rules of professional conduct. Where there is a rule or guideline or ethical principle directly on point, the Court ought to consider it but is not bound by it. MacDonald Estate, supra, at paragraph 21."

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(iii): Mr. Boyce hiding his address: admission, adverse inference, or other

396. As it relate to a lawyer, which Mr. Boyce is albeit he must have taken active steps to hide his address and employer name of SLASTO after the conflict of interest was drawn to his attention on December 30, 2024. Mr. Boyce also made up a new version of the law that there was some kind of convention for the Tribunal to file the Record Of Proceeding within 60 days of an Applicant, in a JRPA matter, bringing her JRPA Application. Apparently, Mr. Boyce's views and practices are more important and take precedence and/or are paramount to that of a well-functioning democratic society under the rule of law by a democratically elected members of the Legislature. In any event, he has not even followed his created non-law requirement.

that there is a systemic issue if the LAT wishes to obtain leave to file its factum and application record post the deadline imposed by our Lieutenant Governor under the Rules of Civil Procedure. Moreover, there cannot be a case conference at ANY TIME with Mr. Boyce as counsel to the LAT because he would be in breach of his professional obligations and duties as an officer of the court.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(iv): This is the Divisional Court of ONSC: discussions in the abstract are most beneath its standards

398. Moreover, without a Record Of Proceeding, to the extent that 'prematurity' needed to be 'discussed' (whatever that means in fact or at law – leaving aside another conflict of interest, albeit without anywhere near the allegations made and directly aimed at the Tribunal and Mr. Boyce) such discussions cannot be in the abstract. Mr. Boyce in his unilateral triaging out of emails with this ONSC (Divisional Court) copied but only the Applicant and other respondents and their counsel, which with the benefit of hindsight bias and retrospection had self-evident purposes, relied on Awada and Heegsma. Awada's legal principles are in the Applicant's Factum. Heegsma has about as much relevance herein as Mr. Boyce's representation of the Tribunal herein considering his representation of the Tribunal, and provision of legal advice to it involving the LAT Proceeding.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(v): Officers of the Court [not officers of the Tribunal]

399. Mr. Boyce has an overriding duty as an officer of the court. Lawyers are officers of the court in Canada. This means that lawyers are part of the legal system and have a role in the administration of justice. The Applicant forcefully notes the overlap between the jurisdiction of this court to remove counsel to the Tribunal (or disregard its arguments pursuant to Taylor v. HR Solutions at paragraph 20) and the role of a lawyer, as an officer of the court in the administration of justice.

400. Lawyers are officers of the court when they appear in court on behalf of a client. They are expected to uphold the authority and dignity of the court, and to serve the cause of justice. Adjudicators make mistakes. They are human. To err is human. But to not correct the same is inhumane. The law will not correctly evolve is counsel to the Tribunal are treating their role as one as "adversarial" when they advance an argument dressed up as the "prematurity doctrine" but when seen in its bare and true form is entirely distinct.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(vi): Conflicts of Interest do NOT arise in every LAT Act Appeal but they will presumptively when in-house counsel are utilized in JRPA proceedings

401. Parenthetically, it does not mean that such conflict of interest does not arise in a LAT Act Appeal but it is more obvious and glaring when there is no stay of the inferior LAT proceeding and the record of proceeding is required. As noted in the Nishikawa Decision, which involved a LAT Act Appeal, or the Tranquilli Decision, involving an appeal under different legislation, the absence of the requirement for an administrative tribunal to forthwith file a record of proceeding along with section 9(2) of the JRPA is a distinction with a difference.

402. It is rather ironic twist considering the decision of VCM in NOM #13 involving a non-party in TDGIC – of which said decisions and orders therein (not in NOM #14) is not under judicial review.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(vii): Duties Owed to Third Persons

403. As per this ONSC in Talisman, rules of professional conduct are most instructive.

considerable distance, persons with respect to duties is that of this ONSC Divisional Court which includes its staff, and those crème de la crème former lawyers turned judges, when compared to that of the JRPA Applicant. Nonetheless, there are multiple third persons to which Mr. Boyce owes duties and it is a zero sum game.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(viii): Substantial Risk to Lawyer or Paralegals loyalty to representation to client

405. A conflict of interest exists when there is a substantial risk that a lawyer or paralegal's loyalty to or representation of a client would be materially and adversely affected by competing duties to another party or competing interests between the client(s) and the licensee.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(ix): Good intent matters not

406. Because even well-intentioned licensees may not realize that the performance of their duties has been impaired, the rules address the risk of impairment rather than actual impairment. Substantial risk means a significant and plausible risk. It need not be certain or even likely, but it must be more than a mere possibility. Conflicts of interest may fall into one of the below categories.[87]

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(x): Mr. Boyce would have had to provided affidavit evidence to counter the same 407. A client cannot waive a COI where the lawyer may be a witness (SEE: Wheeler v. Taylor 2024 ONSC 818 as per Justice Dietrich).

408. At paragraph 31, Justice Dietrich, citing Urquhart v Allen Estate, found as follows whilst citing the SCC and another one of the historically great legal minds to come to the Ontario bench in The Honourable Mr. Justice Perrell, formerly of Oslers who had written, as a lawyer, a vast amount of analytically precise secondary source articles:

> [31] As stated by Gillese J. (as she then was) in Urquhart v. Allen Estate, [1999] O.J. No. 4816 (Ont. S.C.), at para. 27:
> When counsel appears as a witness on a contentious matter, it causes two problems. First, it may result in a conflict of interest between counsel and his client. That conflict may be waived by the client …. The second problem relates to the administration of justice. The dual roles serve to create a conflict between counsel's obligations of objectivity and detachment, which are owed to the court, and his obligations to his client to present evidence in as favourable a light as possible. This is a conflict that cannot be waived by the client as the conflict is between counsel and the court/justice system.
>
> [32] The Law Society of Ontario Rules of Professional Conduct similarly state that a lawyer who appears as advocate shall not testify or submit their own affidavit evidence before the tribunal unless permitted to do so or on a purely formal or uncontroverted matter: s. 5.2-1.
> [33] While the courts are not bound by the codes of conduct applicable to lawyers, the Supreme Court of Canada stated in MacDonald Estate, at p. 1246, that "an expression of a professional standard in a code of ethics relating to a matter before the court should be considered an important statement of public policy."

[34] In Bose v. Bangiya Parishad Toronto, 2018 ONSC 7639, at para. 98, Perell J. confirmed that a lawyer who is a material witness should not be permitted to continue acting as counsel, even if they do not intend to testify in the case.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xi): Counter to the high standards we expect of the legal profession and administration of justice

409. Mr. Boyce is (and has been for some time since his inclusion as formal counsel of record herein) now in a conflict between himself and the ONSC (Divisional Court). To even allow Mr. Boyce to discuss another matter, formally or informally, would be an affront to the high standards that we expect of lawyer licensees and the administration of justice. The word "just" means "fairness".

410. It is herein that Tribunal counsel is regularly charged with providing an overview of the filed Record Of Proceeding and the context of the proceeding before the Tribunal. The following questions are self-answering:

a. W*as it fair that Mr. Boyce changed his address by removing his employer name, employer address et al? What other reason would Mr. Boyce have for requesting the amendment of his information with the LSO through the LSO Portal but only after receipt of the* Applicant*'s affidavit #2 (*SEE: COMPENDIUM); and

b. Is Mr. Boyce, in light of his amendment and obfuscation of his employer (SLASTO) and his address for contact with the public LSO Directory, able to discharge those duties in accordance with his duties to this Court as an officer of the Court? The question answers itself.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xii): Food for thought: future JRPA Proceedings generally and specifically involving the LAT (insurance industry (insurance company) funded)

411. *The more compelling public interest question is whether any lawyer (in-house (*SEE: reference in the affidavit provided by in-house counsel in Shuttleworth)) who is employed by SLASTO able to do so? The Applicant says that optically, by reasonable perception, is that it is impossible for any lawyer to do so whether or not they are or were, in fact, providing advice to the Tribunal in any specific decisions involving any JRPA Applicant.

412. There is a strong inference that licensees who work together share confidences especially where they work under a "group" even if internal confidentiality screens are in place (SEE: Mariangeli, [2004] OJ 3082 (Ont Sup. Ct.). The issue of a confidential information is replaced herein with "privileged information" and "privileged legal advice".

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xiii): Adjudicators as licensees

413. The first obvious counter or query is: are the adjudicators licensees? They are indeed VC Lake and VC Morrissette are licensees but "not practising law". However, it matters not because, as per Shuttleworth, the in-house or "practicing law – employed" lawyers like Mr. Boyce are giving legal advice to the adjudicators and vice chairs.

414. The second counter is that Mariangeli related to confidential information between potentially shared between a prior related matter to a current retainer.

when considering the participation scope that the Tribunal could be entitled to by virtue of having some form of general party status pursuant to section 9(2) of the JRPA. The SLASTO legal unit, which Mr. Boyce rapidly removed from the LSO Directory after receipt (got possession of) Affidavit #2 of the Applicant.

416. Moreover, this ONSC has a supervisory and residual discretion to not accept arguments from the Tribunal whether there is any pre-hearing motion, case conference, affidavit or any other filed document in the "court file".

417. Each Tribunal must be analyzed distinctly but this Tribunal, the LAT under the SLASTO, is admittedly, or at least by representation to the public, a quasi-judicial tribunal. However, a case conference, even by telephone, is an "appearance before the Court" which is fatal to Mr. Boyce and this Tribunal.

418. Therefore, Mr. Boyce has to rebut the inference and provide contextual explanations, preferably and presumably under oath, to this Court as to why he engaged in the removal of his employer's name and address after receipt of the Applicant's affidavit #2 and perhaps affidavit #3 (and perhaps after the deadline under Rule 68.04(4) of the Civil Rules).

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xix): Confidentiality Screens

419. Moreover, the SLASTO, Tribunal and Mr. Boyce, and any potential legal counsel, who works for the SLASTO, would have to provide evidence of the confidentiality screens. Are there confidentiality screens between the adjudicators of LAT and legal counsel of LAT? It is where the Shuttleworth decision comes back to haunt this Tribunal in that the very draft decisions are sent to the SLASTO Legal Unit – Mr. Boyce's employer - that he in January 2025 hid from the "public record".

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xv): The suspiciously similar Notices of Appearances by the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies

420. The Applicant put the LAT and Respondent Insurance Companies on notice that it appeared from a further inspection of the Notices of Appearances that there were covert, clandestine and undisclosed communications between the LAT and Mr. Nieuwland after Mr. McLean removed Mr. Nieuwland from email communications. Mr. McLean did so because SNIC and TDHA had not participated in the written hearing before VCM and the reconsideration motion hearing before VCL.

421. Upon doing so, Mr. Boyce re-added Mr. Nieuwland to the email chain and approximately an hour later, pursuant to the metadata, the NOA for the Respondent Insurance Companies was complete. An hour thereafter (approximately 4:50 p.m. on December 3, 2024), Mr. Nieuwland filed and served the NOA for the Respondent Insurance Companies.

422. When the JRPA* Applicant challenged Mr. Boyce and Mr. Nieuwland to explain away the seemingly obvious, they remained silent. An adverse inference must be drawn against them, and a finding, even in obiter dictum, that they were exchanging legal documents for filing in this ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xvi): the LAT Formal Admission

423. As Mr. Boyce is the only individual, on behalf of another client, that raised the preliminary objection of "prematurity", without him being able to participate on behalf of the Tribunal, and the Tribunal not filing any factum or application record, the Applicant is entitled to proceed and not wait around for the SLASTO to "clean up his house" and manipulate addresses on the back-end of the LSO portal for public removal.

"higher ups" at the Tribunal raised prematurity: bad faith

424. Mr. Boyce only raised prematurity because he wanted to delay the inevitable result in this JRPA Proceeding, at least as it relates to the First Insurer issue, so that he could give more advice to the Tribunal in relation to other decisions. It is now likely he was giving advice to it all along the way after November 15, 2024, in relation to the outstanding motions and how to navigate the same.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xviii): Office Location Dependent: Tribunals Ontario has all working under one building: 25 Grosvenor Street, Toronto, Ontario

425. This does not mean that every other tribunal in this province or other provinces in Canada cannot have representation at the administrative tribunal level from in-house licencees (lawyers or paralegals) but it leads to the inevitable conclusion that when the likes of tribunal in-house counsel are at the same physical location as adjudicators and vice chairs, and where they share the same domain name with the same hosting under the same website, and they admit in Shuttleworth that the LAT's practice explicitly involves the SLASTO legal unit (the very employer name that Mr. Boyce removed from the LSO Directory as that would change the actualities of what occurs "behind the scenes"):

> "Second, there is legal review: The SLASTO Legal Services Unit reviews the decision to ensure [guarantee] that the correct legal test has been applied and to identify any related case law that was not mentioned that might be helpful."

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(f)(xix): solution to this issue involving the LAT: Amicus Curae or "Public Advocates"

426. The legal scholars in this area have suggested a potentially preferred route for counsel to tribunals and that is to have judicially appointed amicus curia appear on behalf of tribunals, particularly government ones that are self-espouses as quasi-judicial. In the following article[88], Mr. Lorne Neudorf (SEE: JD (Victoria), LLM (McGill), PhD (Cambridge); Member of the Law Society of Upper Canada[89]; Assistant Professor, Thompson Rivers University, Faculty of Law) espoused the following whilst cross-referencing with authorities at 226 ALBERTA LAW REVIEW (2016) 54:1, page 8 therein:

> "Courts may also appoint amici curiae as part of their inherent jurisdiction where it is necessary to assist the court in discharging its work.[90] The public advocate or amicus curiae could gather specialist information and present it in a more detached and impartial manner to the court. Such a system would better protect public confidence in administrative impartiality as it would interpose a layer, akin to an "institutional sieve,"[91] between the tribunal and the reviewing court."

427. The Applicant does not submit that this would apply to ever tribunal in the Tribunals Ontario as some are different in their scope of resolving matters and some are more policy based, as opposed to quasi-judicial like the LAT, than others.

428. Moreover, the LAT is the only tribunal that is funded by the insurance industry and represents itself as quasi-judicial.

429. The Tribunal is not discharged of its statutory duties to a file a Record Of Proceeding under the JRPA. However, the only evidence, necessary as it is, is that the Tribunal does not have a full and accurate Record Of Proceeding.

with section 20 of the SPPA (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 60, Affidavit #16 of the Applicant)

430. As of February 13, 2025, the LAT, through the case manager in Ms. Lee on behalf of the LAT Registrar (SEE: latregistrar@ontario.ca) admitted, in writing, that it was still attempting to compile the Record Of Proceeding for an eight month period (the "ROP Temporal Period").

431. It is trite that since the Tribunal has not even complied with its initial and ongoing duties to compile the Record Of Proceeding, then it answers the question as to why it did not file

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(g): 3RD PART OF THE TEST OF OEB

INVESTIGATIVE POLICY BASED TRIBUNALS VS. ADJUDICATIVE/QUASI-JUDICIAL TRIBUNALS

432. The LAT represents that is not only adjudicative but "quasi-judicial" so that militates against it participating at all. Impartiality of said Tribunal (like LAT that is quasi-judicial) weights against them in the heaviest of weights in terms of any standing – impartiality is not just actual but perceived. This factor is measured against administrative tribunal impartiality (or lack thereof). For tribunals tasked with this latter responsibility, "the importance of fairness, real and perceived, weighs more heavily" against tribunal standing: Henthorne v. British Columbia Ferry Services Inc., 2011 BCCA 476, 344 D.L.R. (4th) 292, at para. 42.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(h): Full party standing vs. qualified or limited standing 433. As found in Ontario Energy Board, "Among its many roles: it licenses market participants, approves the development of new transmission and distribution facilities, and authorizes rates to be charged to consumers. In this case, the Board was exercising a regulatory role by setting just and reasonable payment amounts to a utility. This is unlike situations in which a tribunal may adjudicate disputes between two parties, in which case the interests of impartiality may weigh more heavily against full party standing (SEE: paragraph 61)." The former is more analogous to the FSRA and the latter is more analogous to the LAT.

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(i): Participation vs. submissions (content)

434. It remains to consider whether the content of the Board's arguments was appropriate. (SEE: paragraph 62 of Ontario Energy Board).

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(I)(I)(j): Bootstrapping

STANDING: WHAT TYPES OF ARGUMENT TRIBUNAL MAY MAKE BOOTSTRAPPING: CONTENT OF ARGUMENTS

435. The issue of tribunal "bootstrapping" is closely related to the question of when it is proper for a tribunal to act as a party on appeal or judicial review of its decision.

436. The standing issue concerns what types of argument a tribunal may make, i.e. jurisdictional or merits arguments, while the bootstrapping issue concerns the content of those arguments (SEE: paragraph 63 of Ontario (Energy Board)).

437. As the term has been understood by the courts who have considered it in the context of tribunal standing, a tribunal engages in bootstrapping where it seeks to supplement what would otherwise be a deficient decision with new arguments on appeal (SEE: United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, Local 1386

"defen[d] its decision on a ground that it did not rely on in the decision under review": Goodis, at para. 42.

438. There is no question that the VCM Decision, particularly at pages 8 and 9 therein vis-à-vis- NOM #14, could have used some supplementation, clarification, deletion, amendments, revising, and rewriting. However, once she signed those reasons for decisions, she was functus officio. There is no similar type requirement with tribunals to have said orders and reasons for decisions issued and signed by the LAT Registrar and then entered (SEE: Rule 59, supra, and cited jurisprudence supra).

ISSUE #6: VOLUME #6(II)): CONCLUSION ON LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL STANDING GENERALLY AND SPECIFICALLY HEREIN

A NEW PRECEDENT MUST BE SET INVOLVING THE SOLE STATUTORY BODY FUNDED BY THE INSURANCE INDUSTRY (AKA THE INSURANCE COMPANIES)

439. A new precedent must be set herein that where an administrative tribunal that does not comply with its forthwith duties under the JRPA and the SPPA to file the Record Of Proceeding, this Court must exercise its discretion to not permit said statutory body to file any documents or participate in a judicial review proceeding until it does so. This is especially apposite an administrative tribunal has its own theories, through the likes of tribunal counsel like Mr. Boyce herein, of when it is allowed to file the Record Of Proceeding.

440. To the extent that an administrative tribunal is permitted to participate, it participatory rights and standing status must be further limited to the likes of a seven page factum and seven minutes in oral argument. Herein, the LAT must be prohibited from any form of participation, including defending the Applicant's costs submissions until it does so. In any event, as the Tribunal is an adjudicative quasi-judicial statutory body, this factor militated in favour of its already limited status. This is a constant variable that never changes. As a result of SNIC and TDHA being represented by counsel and being available to oppose the relief sought herein along with having the necessary expertise and knowledge to do so, along with presumably opposing the relief sought, the Tribunal should have been limited to a 15 page factum and 15 minute oral submission.

441. However, as a result of the relief sought in NOM #1, which must be ordered so that this Divisional Court sends a clear message to any other administrative tribunal that engages in similar type conduct, the Tribunal must be precluded from any participation herein until it not only files the contents of the Record Of Proceeding that it has in its possession and control but explains, informally or formally, precisely what contents it may not have.

442. There is no place for this kind of misconduct by a statutory tribunal; particularly when the Tribunal's counsel has engaged in the kind of reprehensible conduct that it has in not following its own self-imposed non-statutory deadlines. The irony is most surreal considering the VCM Decision, particularly with respect to NOM #14, and the trite fact that the LAT is a statutory body.

VOLUME #7: GOOD FAITH (IMPLIED IN CONTRACT) VERSUS FIDUCIARY DUTIES (DUTY TO RESPOND AND PAY BENEFITS VS. DATA FIDUCIARIES):

AUTOMOTIVE INSURANCE CONTEXT: SOURCES OF DUTIES, SCOPE OF DUTIES, AND DUTIES OF UNDERWRITERS VS. FIRST INSURERS (PROVISIONAL AND PERMANENT) – CONTRACTS VS. REG 283/SABS CLAIMS

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(A): Duty of Good Faith – implied in every contract – Bhasin

443. The Applicant provides a courtesy note under this Volume #7. In being comprehensive and anticipatory of any potential arguments, as a result of the dearth of compliance by the Tribunal and respondent insurance companies, the Applicant has engaged in extensive analysis regarding some of the topics hereunder. As the pressing issues are in Orders #1 to #5, the Applicant has included those more extensive legal arguments at various appendices.

444. The duty of an underwriter in a "contract of insurance" or "insurance policy" is that of good faith and the insured person has a reciprocal duty of good faith: Bhasin. The duty of good faith does not exist pre-contract or in the negotiation phase, so it does not apply to brokers or agents in the same way that it does to an underwriter of an insurance policy: Bhasin. A breach of duty of good faith pursuant to contract is actionable in law for various types of relief and it may be independent of an automobile accident and those include the likes of acceptance of repudiation of a contract, recission et al. A breach of the duty of good faith includes half-truths, white lies, silence et al: Zollinger.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(B): Multiple Insurance Policies

445. It is trite that after an automobile accident occurs, an insured person may have multiple insurance policies that may be applicable to the insured automobile. There are often disputes involving the Insurance Act as to which of those policies has priority in relation to the insured person who has been injured: Markel v. TD General Insurance. Such disputes are the quintessential statutory priority dispute: section 268 of the Insurance Act.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(C): Reg 283 et seq (2010 amendments) operate different than Insurance Act, section 268

446. However, the priority dispute regulation operates differently in that where an injured person in an automobile accident suffers impairments delivers a Completed Application to a non-underwriter, said non-underwriter is provisionally liable to respond to the SABS Applicant on a provisional basis and pay any potential benefits on a provisional basis: Reg 283; and Zurich 2024 [SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 30].

447. Where the injured person has not engaged in any arbitrary conduct in selecting the non-underwriter insurer by delivering the Completed Application to said non-underwriter by fax or mail (SEE: Reg 283), there is a nexus between the injured person (Applicant under Reg 283) and the non-underwriter insurance company: Zurich 2024. Where the insured person did not "select" (but was provided the mailing or fax address for the non-underwriter insurer), the matter cannot be resolved through arbitration if an insured person was entitled to receive a notice under section 4, has given a notice of objection under section 5 and disagrees with an agreement among insurers that an insurer other than 'the insurer' selected by the insured person should pay the benefits, the dispute shall be resolved through an arbitration under the Arbitration Act, 1991 initiated by the insured person. O. Reg. 38/10, s. 8. Alternatively, the insured person can bring the matter to arbitration but the First Notified Insurer that provided the misleading OCF-1 application will stand no chance of success and the injured person will inevitably be successful in her objection and disagreement that "an insurer" other than "the insurer" selected by the insured person as to who is required to respond to the injured person in holding the First Insurer liable for benefits and responding duties permanently.

448. The First Insurer in effect obtains an operational windfall because it obtains an accident benefits file that it would not otherwise have as not only is it entitled to indemnification for the payment of benefits but also the 'responding duties" by way of indemnification for: any legal fees, adjuster's fees, administrative costs and disbursements: section 2.1(7), 449. If one year passes since the time that the First Insurer gave the A143 notice, then neither 'the insurer' nor the insured person can initiate arbitration proceedings: section 7(3) of Reg 283. The corollary is that the First Insurer that was paying benefits and responding is permanently bound to do so until the SABS claims are either settled pursuant to a binding agreement in accordance with section 9.1 of Reg 664 or the dispute, as to entitlement OR quantum, is resolved before the Tribunal. If not resolved before the Tribunal, either "the insurer" or the insured person may apply within two years of each validly sent notice to deny entitlement and/or quantum pursuant to section 56 of the Schedule: RM v. CAA).

450. SABS and Reg 283 work in harmony in this regard in that it is simple computation: (i) the potentially insured person has 7 days from the time of the accident to deliver an oral notification of her intent to apply for accident benefits to an insurance company (the "First Notified Insurer"); (ii) the First Notified Insurer must promptly provided accident benefit forms along with an explanation of benefits; (iii) the explanation of benefits is not a fiduciary duty but a duty pursuant to the notification of one's underwriter in their pink slips or one of the two in pink slips (perhaps an employer insurance policy and alumni policy); (iv) the insured person must then deliver a Completed Application within 30 days along with an OCF-2 to 'one insurer"; (v) the First Insurer has 90 days to deliver an A143 notice; (vi) even if the First Insurer delivers said A143 notice on the last day and was denying benefits, entitlement or quantum during that period, the SABS Applicant will still have two years from that date to file with the Tribunal; and (vi) if neither the insured person nor the First Insurer (or another insurer) has initiated arbitration proceedings from the date of the A143 notice, then the issue of whom the First Insurer is, is one that is completely resolved by Reg 283.

451. Where arbitration proceedings are commenced by the insured person or an insurer, then said arbitration proceedings have certain temporal requirements like a pre-hearing within 120 days and completion within two years.

452. On approximate math, even if the First Notified Insurer delivers the accident benefit forms on the last conceivable day, the insured person delivers the Completed Application on the last imaginable day, the First Insurer delivers the A143 on the 90th day after receipt of the Completed Application, an insurer or insured person initiates arbitration on the 365th day after receipt of notice of the 143 by the insured person, the arbitration will be completed within approximately three years. There is no dispute that an insured person will be required to commence some form of application, pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act, within two years of a validly sent letter to her, and it may be that arbitration proceedings are running concurrently to a potential LAT proceeding. In that scenario, the insured person would be most reasonable to name the First Insurer and any other potential insurer.[92] It is a principle of law that a claimant or plaintiff is entitled to name those that they know at the time could be liable.]. Moreover, the obligation to add a party to a claim once that insured person has discovered the potential for liability and said causes of action and amendment of pleadings (either directly or indirectly) is trite. It allows an insured person to avoid the potential that they are not estopped from filing a similar or the same claim against another insurance company by principles of res judicata, issue estoppel or abuse of process. Res judicata is noted herein that while TDHA and SNIC are not "one and the same", there could be an argument that they are or one that has been made by counsel to the respondent insurance companies.

453. The form that the First Insurer is required to send to the SABS Applicant is A143. The SABS Applicant is, if she wishes to object to the potential transfer from the First Insurer to another insurance company, required, within 14 days to object in said form and return it to First Insurer: https://www.fsrao.ca/notice-Applicant- insurance company, the SABS Applicant, who has objected to the transfer of the claim in Form 143, may thereafter consent to the potential agreement or not consent to the same: section 5(3) of Reg 283.

454. The word "selected" means "to carefully choose as being the best or most suitable". In some ways, it is the opposite of "arbitrary" which means "based on random choice or personal whim, rather than any reason or system". So long as there is reason to why the injured person faxed or mailed the Completed Application to said insurance company, then there is a nexus between the injured person and insurance company even if that insurance company is not the underwriter of any contract of insurance which may be applicable to the insured automobile (or insured person). Therefore, if said insured person took the necessary steps to object and disagree with any 'agreement" among 'the insurer's other than 'the insurer' that was selected by the insured, then she is entitled to payment of benefits and responses from the First Insurer until it is resolved in accordance with Reg 283 and Schedule.

455. The obligation to respond to an Applicant for SABS benefits and pay any benefits is trigged by the receipt of a duly Completed Application (OCF-1) for accident benefits: Reg 283, section 2.1 and 2.6; Beasley; Jia; and Zurich 2014; Zurich 2015; and Zurich 2024.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(D): A Test Case Unlike Any Other

456. The duty of an insurer that is obligated to pay benefits is a fiduciary obligation: Beasley, paragraph at paragraph 34. It may be that an insurer that first received the SABS Applicant's Completed Application only turns out to be a First Insurer on a provisional basis and second insurance company has the SABS Applicant's Completed Application et al (the "SABS* Claim") transferred to it without objection by the insured person, by agreement or by arbitration. In this scenario, then there are two insurance companies with fiduciary obligations as "ad hoc fiduciaries"; more specifically as "data fiduciaries.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(E): Fiduciary Obligations: (i) obligation to pay and respond; and (ii) data fiduciaries

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(E)(I): Stegenga

NO CONCURRENT JURISDICTION (ANOTHER GENERAL EXCEPTION TO THE PRESUMPTIVE SOR OF REASONABLENESS)

457. In Stegenga, the Court of Appeal concluded that the legislature in enacting a cost-effective and efficient dispute resolution scheme, could not have intended that both the LAT and the court should be required to determine the same questions on a path to granting different relief. It is not the legal characterization of the claim (unreasonableness v. bath faith) but rather, the facts giving rise to the dispute that are determinative.

458. Stegenga stands for the legal principle that Court of Appeal closed the door on independent bad faith claims arising from an insurer's conduct in handling a claim for accident benefits in the automotive industry.

459. But what about the conduct of 'an insurer' who was never entitled, at first instance, to handle an accident benefits claims but apparently did so in any event like TD General Insurance Company?

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(E)(I)(a)(i): Unassailable Corollaries arising out of Stegenga

460. The JRPA Applicant poses the following rhetorical questions:

company] was neither the underwriter in the insurance policy (contract of insurance) nor a First Insurer, provisionally or permanently, (or even a potential insurer for which any accident benefits claim was subject to a transfer), but interfered in the Tribunal processes as an unauthorized de facto sole respondent for a period of six months?

b. Further, since costs can only be awarded against a party, and TDGIC was not a party, at law, pursuant to section 5 of the SPPA, should the Applicant be without recourse for a potential damages claim against TDGIC for its conduct?
c. Would the authority and legal principles in Stegenga preclude him or others similarly situated from doing so? Put another way, should the door be left open?

The seminal question:

461. So why was TDGIC chosen for its specialized, yet unlawful, role of being the "hired gun insurance company fictitious sole respondent" when it was neither the underwriter of the Insurance Policy (SEE: Insurance Policy nor a First Insurer?

462. The answer is now obvious because as a non-underwriter, it did not have to comply with the duty of good faith espoused in our common law by Bhasin, and as a 'non-First Insurer', it did not have any duties under Reg 283 i.e. to respond and pay benefits.

463. Moreover, by not being the "first collector" or "first recipient", by virtue of its [TDGIC] fax number in 416.774.3629 [[not that of TDHA being 416.774.3120] (SEE: Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) TDGIC avoided any discovery that it was the 'first insurer' thereby ending the entire LAT Proceeding.

464. Put another way, it would have been too risky from a 'bottom line perspective' to have TDHA be the 'fictitious respondent' because the Applicant would have been able to compare the fax numbers in his faxes to 'an insurance company' (whom he thought was SNIC but it was not) to an order of the Tribunal that listed contact information particulars.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(G): Data Fiduciaries in Canadian Privacy Law:
generally and specifically to the automotive insurance context

465. Despite the unsettling and alarming effects of abuses and breaches of confidentiality undertaken by various organizations in Canada, Canadian privacy law does not currently impose an explicit fiduciary obligation on insurance companies who misuse their insured persons 'data, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' data. This subheading argues the data fiduciary concept fits squarely into this area of Canadian law. It falls under the notion a decision could be issued here or the door left open to address it in the future with notice to the insurance industry by way of a cautionary note.

466. Firstly, the Applicant argues that insurance companies, who are either provincial First Insurers or permanent First Insurers can be recognized as data fiduciaries because they satisfy the common law requirements for ad hoc fiduciary relationships.

467. Secondly, the scope of the fiduciary duties for First Insurers is discussed below.

468. Thirdly, the Applicant illustrates the content of data fiduciaries' obligations to their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, including the duties of: (i) confidentiality; (ii) care; (iii) loyalty; and (iv) disclosure.

469. In most cases, the concept of remedy would be discussed but since this is a SABS matter, it need not be addressed herein. The Applicant, if able to do so and the Court finds that the necessary information is of a public nature, argues that a finding that First Insurers, who receive a Completed Application are bound by fiduciary duties in relation to the data therein. "Data" encompassed personal information ("PI" or "PII") and personal health information ("PHI") as defined under the controlling statute of PIPEDA as it relates to motor vehicle insurers in Ontario.

470. The sui generis nature of a breach of confidence claim is based upon the policy of the law that confidences must be respected. It is not that PIPEDA and the FCC cannot provide for the remedies sought but it is the prerequisite of making a PIPEDA request and then a PIPEDA complaint and the year period permissible, by federal statute, to the OPCC to issue its investigation report (which is not a matter for judicial review per se but rather an investigation report) is not conducive to effective remedies.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(G)(i): Ad hoc Data Fiduciaries

471. Insurance companies should be recognized as ad hoc fiduciaries, not de facto fiduciaries, because of the different factual circumstances surrounding each relationship. I am not arguing that the law should recognize all insurance companies as data fiduciaries, thereby creating a new category of de facto fiduciaries; rather, I am arguing that the data fiduciary concept should be recognized in Canadian law, but whether an insurance company is a data fiduciary depends on the specific factual matrix of the relationship. The primary rationale for this distinction is that not all insurance companies have the same capacity to collect insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' data or engage in the same practices with respect to the data. Thus, the existence of a data fiduciary will turn on the specific facts and circumstances of the relationship.

472. The Supreme Court of Canada has identified four requirements for a court to recognize an ad hoc fiduciary relationship: (i) the alleged fiduciary has scope for the exercise of some discretion or power; (ii) a person or class of persons vulnerable to the alleged fiduciary's control; (iii) the alleged fiduciary can exercise their power or discretion to affect the beneficiary's legal or practical interests; and (iv) a mutual understanding or the alleged fiduciary's undertaking to act in the best interests of the alleged beneficiary.

473. Drawing on uncovered practices by insurance companies with at least the three insurance companies denoted herein, the Applicant argues that these elements are present in the relationship between these insurance companies and any SABS or Reg 283 Applicant when an insurance company has received [got possession of] a Completed Application.

474. While the establishment of an ad hoc fiduciary relationship is factually dependent, the presence of these elements in existing relationships between claimants and first recipients of Completed Applications (inclusive of any other organizations denoted in the OCF-). It opens the door for the recognition of the data fiduciary concept in Canadian privacy law with respect to First Insurers – provisionally or permanently.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(G)(i)(a): Exercise of Discretion or Power over Insured Persons who were injured in an MVA

475. Insurance companies have significant discretion over their insured persons, including a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283. These companies can influence insured persons' behaviour, gather information, and collect data because they design and control the technological infrastructure used for collecting, transmitting, submitting, and receiving information. Herein, the Court will note that one or some of the insurance companies, when First Insurer has the word "first", were requesting some or all of the following:

a. email protocol during the SABS phase;
b. sending confidential information through some company named "E-Claims (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9)"; and
c. others.

476. They can even amass their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' data when their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, are operating under the strict parameters of the OCF-1 standardized language but the insurance companies are not by the 'bait and switch game' and using other insurance companies for overt breaches of the OCF-1 parameters whilst trying to convince an injured person that two insurance companies within a group are 'one and the same' while making inconsistent representations to the OSFI and FSRA.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(G)(i)(b): Vulnerability of Injured Persons (Data Context)

477. Identifying vulnerability involves pinpointing those under an alleged fiduciary's control, depending on specific facts. Vulnerability is a key factor in determining an ad hoc fiduciary relationship though not always necessary or sufficient. It comes from a beneficiary's inability to "prevent injurious exercise of power" and lack of legal remedies.

478. In the data fiduciary context, insured persons, particularly 'SABS Applicants' under Reg 283, cannot prevent insurance companies from using their power due to asymmetry in information and power. Companies collect and share personal data rapidly, often undiscovered until years later by journalists. Insured individuals don't have sufficient remedies under privacy laws like PIPEDA.

479. PIPEDA permits individuals to complain to the Privacy Commissioner but it does not allow lawsuits against violators directly without going through a lengthy protracted process where delegated investigators of the Federal Privacy Commissioner engage in awaiting 45 days after the complaint to then isolated back and forth communications with the complainant and the organization that often leads to some "broken telephone".

480. Tort law also falls short. Breach of confidence, intrusion upon seclusion, and public disclosure of embarrassing private facts often do not apply to insurance data misuse cases.

481. For breach of confidence, it must be shown that (1) information was confidential, (2) shared in a confidential context, and (3) unauthorized use caused harm. Public disclosure of private facts requires proof that private info was shared widely and was offensive to a reasonable person. Intrusion upon seclusion focuses on invasion into private affairs, not misuse of data. Existing torts rarely provide adequate redress for privacy breaches by insurance companies.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(G)(i)(c): Affecting Users' (Insured Injured Persons) Legal and Practical Interests

482. Insurance companies can leverage their power or discretion to affect their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' legal or practical interests. These companies have the technological capacity to extrapolate their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' information, such as political affiliation, personal habits, credit histories and previous work experiences which is seen from the 'pooling' in the OCF-1.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(G)(i)(d): Mutual Understanding or Undertaking by the Fiduciary to Act in the Best Interests of the Injured Insured Persons

483. An essential element for recognizing an ad hoc fiduciary relationship is a mutual understanding or an undertaking by the fiduciary to act in the beneficiary's best interests. A mutual understanding occurs when one party agrees to act solely on behalf of the other. In Norberg v Wyn rib, Justice McLachlin stated that fiduciary relationships often stem from voluntary agreements where the fiduciary undertakes to act in the beneficiary's interests. Similarly, Justice Cromwell in Perez v Galambos highlighted the importance of loyalty in fiduciary relationships, noting that while vulnerability is relevant, it doesn't constitute a separate category of ad hoc fiduciary relationships. A mutual understanding can take many forms: (1) the exercise of statutory powers; (2) express or implied terms of an agreement; or (3) an undertaking to act accordingly. The exercise of statutory powers will be discussed in Section IV, which covers implementing the data fiduciary concept into Canadian law. An explicit agreement or undertaking to act responsibly requires insurance companies to form separate agreements with each insured person. However, including such clauses would likely be avoided by insurers due to the stringent obligations and profit constraints. Courts are more inclined to infer an undertaking from the implied terms of an agreement, considering if the alleged fiduciary induced reliance on its loyalty. Insurance companies often induce this reliance through privacy policies and terms and conditions, especially for a '*SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, by promising not to misuse personal data.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(H): Scope of the Duty

484. As previously mentioned, fiduciary obligations concerning data would apply to insurance companies who collect personal information from insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, on their online platform. The data fiduciary's obligations would pertain to the information collected on their platforms. The duty would extend to third parties who obtain insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' information from data fiduciaries because many insurance companies who collect data on their own websites also provide the data to others. Third parties include persons to whom the user consents to sharing their data, as well as persons who did not obtain insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' consent. The Applicant further argues that the fiduciary duty must "run with the data", which means that the law should impose similar obligations on third parties who have obtained insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' personal data. The rationale behind extending the duty to third parties is that insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, do not have a "separate contractual agreement" with each organization that obtains the data, which maintains certainty and consistency.

485. One problem with "running with the data" is that ad hoc fiduciary relationships require a mutual understanding or an undertaking, which implies that the beneficiary is aware that the third party is collecting their personal information. However, many insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, like this Applicant may be aware of who the "First Insurer" was (at first instance), and then and when the unauthorized collection, access and disclosure occurred thereafter and when a third party is collecting their data and from whom.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(I): Content of the Duty

486. While the nature of the fiduciary relationship between an information fiduciary and its insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, may not attract the same degree of care, loyalty and protection required by traditional fiduciary relationships. The content of a fiduciary duty depends on certain factors, including the "trust, confidence, complexity of subject matter, and community or industry standards." The main components of a data fiduciary's obligations regarding PII, PHI and confidential information it collects from SABS Applicants by receipt of a Completed Application and thereafter. The non-exhaustive duties are a combination of duties owed by traditional fiduciaries and non-conventional fiduciaries.

somewhat ironic and/or fitting, considering that a breach of confidence affords remedies that are sui generis.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(J): Components of the fiduciary's obligations: (I): Duty of Confidentiality; (ii) Duty of Care; (iii) Duty of Loyalty; (iv) Duty of Disclosure; and (iv) other duties

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(J)(i): Duty of Confidentiality

488. The duty of confidentiality and the duty of care require data fiduciaries to keep their beneficiaries' information confidential and secure. This is consistent with the judicial statements of law in Dervisholli, Transamerica, and Jia. Inherent in these duties are that data fiduciaries must create safeguards to ensure re the security of their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' data. The duty of confidentiality and the duty of care would require First Insurers, whether provisionally and/or permanently, to ensure that their insured persons' personal data is confidential and secure.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(J)(ii): Duty of Care

489. The duty of care would also require the data fiduciary to ensure that personal information is only used for the purpose for which it was collected. Many insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, originally consent to disclosing their personal data because they trust insurance companies will use it for a certain purpose. However, many companies use it for other purposes in an attempt to monetize data as a commodity. The duty of care would limit the use of personal data to specified purposes and would require data fiduciaries to obtain consent if the data are to be used for another purpose. This is consistent with the language in the OCF-1 and explicit language in PIPEDA. The doctrine of paramountcy, whereby any inconsistency between federal law and provincial law, federal law trumps provisional law) applies therein.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(J)(iii): Duty of Loyalty

490. The duty of loyalty requires the data fiduciary to use their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' personal data for the best interests of the user. Traditional fiduciaries are barred from "[entering] into engagements or [assuming] functions in which he has or can have a personal interest conflicting or which possibly may conflict with the interests of those he is bound to protect". In the case of data fiduciaries, the duty of loyalty would prohibit them from manipulating insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' emotions or behaviours for their own personal gain. While data fiduciaries may still use personal data for certain purposes, such as advertising and marketing, they must not do so in a way that would conflict with the interests of its insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(J)(iv): Duty of Disclosure

491. Data fiduciaries have a duty of disclosure in two primary situations:

a. they have a duty to promptly notify affected insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, in the event of a security or privacy breach. This allows insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, to immediately take any necessary steps, such as changing passwords or deleting information, to prevent any further breaches; and
b. data fiduciaries have a duty to disclose to their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283, any potential conflicts of interest. For example, if a data fiduciary is entering into a contract with a third party that involves insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' personal information, the fiduciary must disclose this conflict of interest and obtain consent when necessary.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(J)(v): Conflicting Duties

492. Directors of data fiduciaries owe a fiduciary duty to act in the best interests of the company, which may conflict with their duties to their insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,

493. In particular, acting in the best interests of the company typically involves maximizing profits which is often a benefit to the owners of said company known as the shareholders.

494. Directors' fiduciary duties to the company may cause friction with their duties to their insured persons, or even non-insured persons who are claimants regarding personal data. However, directors can perform both duties concurrently without contention by maximizing profits for the company within the confines of respect for injured persons' privacy rights.

495. For example, directors have other duties to consumers, the environment and competitors that may conflict with their fiduciary duty to the company. Under PIPEDA, post 2018 pursuant to the Digital Privacy Act amending PIPEDA in 2015 with the effective date of the amendments being in November 2018, directors can be held liable for privacy breaches under PIPEDA.

496. Nevertheless, management is bound by other areas of law to carry out these duties concurrently. Similarly, directors of insurance companies can still maximize profits without engaging in business practices that harm insured persons, but particularly herein a 'SABS Applicant' under Reg 283,' privacy interests.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(I)(K): Breach of Fiduciary Duty and Remedies outside of the SABS processes

497. The law would hold data fiduciaries to a strict standard of conduct, and any slight abrogation from the standard would constitute a breach of the duty. Manipulating insured persons and/or claimants, behaviour, emotions and/or pooling data to third parties (or even inviting the same as it did with "E-Claims (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9) services" without claimant's knowledge and consent will obviously violate the fiduciary obligation. However, other conduct may not be as clear.

498. A potential plaintiff must demonstrate that the data fiduciary acted inconsistently with its duty to act in utmost good faith. In the event of a privacy violation, the data fiduciary can rebut the de facto breach by showing that it acted consistently with its duties.

499. The remedies for a breach of fiduciary obligation are non-exhaustive. The appropriate remedy will depend on the factual circumstances of the case, and courts have discretion to grant the plaintiff an appropriate equitable remedy. Courts may order an injunction to prohibit a privacy-violating practice, a mandatory order to compel the information fiduciary to commit a rightful act or redress the loss or improper gain through rescission, restitution or damages.

500. Depending on what steps an individual has taken by of PIPEDA access request and potential complaint, it may be that the affected individual will pursue the matter through the federal courts as the FCC can order any remedies. However, if it is more time sensitive, the individual may wish to proceed through the ONSC to obtain interim relief in relation to prohibiting any further disclosure of PPI, PHI and confidential information, and/or any property so associated with the impugned conduct.

ISSUE #7: VOLUME #7(II): Application of the Law to the Facts benefits and respond to the SABS* Applicant but it also has "fiduciary duties" as an "ad hoc data fiduciary" by having been the First Insurer (Provisional) and First Insurer (Permanent).

502. This Court must recognize that each and every "First Insurer", whether provisional or permanent, has fiduciary duties to those SABS Applicants (claimants), who may or may not be insured persons under insurance policies that have been issued by said insurance company, and where those fiduciary duties are not accounted for under PIPEDA in relation to 'data', said fiduciary duties will fall any lacuna.

503. Like a lawyer who holds property in trust in a commercial transaction, there are often conditions attached to the same which are restrictive and permissive. Like the OCF-1 standard form document, it is not that the recipient First Insurer cannot disclose personal information and personal health information, and must exclusively act in the best interests of the individual but it is tailored to the circumstances of each situation.

VOLUME #8(A): WHAT IS THE 'STANDARD' THAT PROHIBITS FILING OF EVIDENCE THAT WAS NOT BEFORE THE DECISION MAKER?

504. In Ontario, this is known as the "Keeprite Standard" (by reference to Keeprite Workers' Independent Union et al. and Keeprite Products Ltd., 1980 CanLII 1877 (ON CA), <https://canlii.ca/t/g14jm>) wherein in 2013 Madam Justice Swinton (who received supernumerary status in 2013) summarized the Keeprite Standard on judicial review regarding the impermissible inclusion of materials that were not before the decision maker:

> "[18] The Keeprite Standard for the admission of affidavit evidence on judicial review has been applied in numerous decisions involving labour boards and labour arbitrators. These cases have held that affidavit evidence can be admitted either to show an absence of evidence on an essential point or to disclose a breach of natural justice that cannot be proven by a mere reference to the record."

505. This was affirmed in the decision of Sticky Nuggz by the ONSC Divisional Court in 2020. Affidavit evidence containing material that was not before the decision-maker is not admissible on judicial review unless it: a) provides non-argumentative background information; b) demonstrates that the decision-maker decided an essential point without any evidence; or c) demonstrates the decision-maker breached the *Rule*s of natural justice (SEE: Sticky Nuggz Inc. v. Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario, 2020 ONSC 5916 as per The Honourable Justices Swinton, Lederer, Penny JJ ["Sticky Nuggz"]).

ISSUE #8, VOLUME #8(II): Application of the Law to the Facts

506. Certainly, Mr. Boyce's decisions, when he was an adjudicator and Vice Chair, delineated between the various insurance companies that are apparently in the TDI Group. This does not mean that TDHA and SNIC are not entitled to have counsel represent their interests, but they cannot provide any additional evidence (which would be evidence at first instance) and cannot attempt to re-argue (or argue for the first time) to the Tribunal l*et al*one any of benefit. To do so would be tantamount to intentionally including inadmissible affidavit evidence and subject to a costs award. Further, while SNIC or TDHA is entitled to oppose the relief sought, submissions are not evidence, and they cannot overcome the balance of probabilities test. Without a Record Of Proceeding filed, the respondent insurance companies cannot reference any material outside of the Applicant's Application Record.

VOLUME #9: JUDICIAL DISQUALIFICATION OR RECUSAL; COMPULSORY CASE CONFERENCE ATTENDANCE NULLITY; AND RESIDUAL

VOLUME #9(A): Reasonably Perceived Conflict of Interest (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 44) and Affidavit Evidence (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 43)

507. The conflict of interest submissions (the "COI Recusal Submissions") were filed and served on January 16, 2025 which were supported by Affidavit #3. The only addition thereafter was that of the case of GWL Properties in that it was applicable to some of the facts involving case conferences and a justice having an association with one of the representatives of one of the parties. As of February 13, 2025, the interested individual and interested law firm in Epstein Cole LLP did not respond or provide any contrary evidence. As such, to the extent that the sitting motions justice, not Justice Shore, cannot find that there was and is a reasonably perceived conflict of interest, then the Applicant has sought, without objection, an order that Mr. Papadimitropoulos and Epstein Cole LLP produce a copy of the separation agreement and divorce decree for the sitting motions justice inspection in camera.

508. The Applicant also relies on the SCC law as follows in Economical Mutual Insurance Company v. British Columbia (Information and Privacy Commissioner), 2013 BCSC 903 citing Gurtins v. Goyert, 2008 BCCA 196, the court stressed the importance of clarity in court orders. It said at para. 15:

> The rule of law requires that court orders be obeyed. Accordingly, it is of paramount importance that persons who are subject to court orders be able to readily determine their obligations and responsibilities. They do this by having regard to what is on the face of the formal order setting out what they are required to do, or refrain from doing. As stated in Arlidge, Eady & Smith on Contempt (London: Sweet & Maxwell, 2005) (at para. 12-55), "[a]n order should be clear in its terms and should not require the person to whom it is addressed to cross-refer to other material in order to ascertain his precise obligation".

509. While the Shore J. compulsory case conference attendance requirement was not an order, clarity matters as well. While "exchange of material" was devoid of legal meaning per se, there was nothing in that emailed language that directed that the requirements to upload documents in the court file was dispensed with.

510. As such, once it was a reasonable time before five days prior to February 18, 2025, the proposed case conference could not be conducted in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure. As such, any such case conference would be a nullity and not merely an irregularity. This is a pure point of law.

511. Some rhetorical and self-answering questions regarding the conflict of interest involving Madam Justice Shore (Epstein Cole LLP) and a representatives, pursuant to the LSA, section 1(7)(a) and (c), in Mr. Karat and Mr. Papadimitropoulos and Mr. Grant, the relieved of his duties case manager for the LAT

512. Was there a "power outage", as represented by former case manager Mr. Grant, that led to Mr. McLean's LAT file number being unrecognizable and deleted in the LAT e-filing portal along with the records from December 2023 to April 2024 or is it more likely than not that because the Tribunal had acceded to some "backroom clandestine chatter between Mr. Grant and some representative of "TD Insurance" (likely Mr. Papadimtropoulos) about including TDGIC as the respondent on its books", in the face of the denial letters the respondent as "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company)"

513. Is it more likely than the individual in Mr. Papadimitropoulos (client of Epstein Cole LLP), who was the forger of the first OCF-18 on April 20, 2023, of Ms. Nurse's signature, albeit clumsily and incompetently, with the "As per A. Nurse" purported signature, who was controlling the tdiadr@tdinsurance.com email so listed in the order of the Tribunal in February 2024, was communicating with Mr. Grant? Is it more likely than not that this was occurring with the case manager in Mr. Grant, who was relieved of his duties in summer of 2024, which is a position that, pursuant to the affidavit evidence of in-house counsel in Shuttleworth, is responsible for: "Fourth, there is a review by the file's case management officer: The case management officer acts as an intake officer and primary point of contact for the parties. This review involves examining the decision's format, correcting grammatical and spelling errors, and ensuring that the template and parties' names are correct" and he was perhaps instructed to delete and destroy the records from the Record Of Proceeding in April 2024 which is why Ms. Lee is now trying how best to compile them in February 2025?

514. Is it more likely than not that VCM Decision, impugned aspects in NOM #14 and part in NOM #15, suffered from inconsistent findings of fact, and ignorance of evidence, because VCM did not have an accurate and complete Record Of Proceeding on September 12, 2024?

515. Is it more likely than not that individuals, like Mr. Papadimitropoulos and the ADR specialist in Mr. Karat (who had been an assistant to him in a case involving SNIC), orchestrated the theft of Mr. McLean's property a few days after he had represented to the Tribunal and SNIC that he intended to judicially review or appeal the decision of Vice Chair and Vice Chair Morrissette?

516. The question that may need to be answered, subject to Judgment being granted in favour of the Applicant, is how out of 93 justices in the ONSC did the "one justice" who worked at the law firm that represented Mr. Papadimitropoulos in his matrimonial litigation with the one individual named insured in the Insurance Policy, have an email sent on her behalf regarding a compulsory requirement attendance before her on the issues that the Tribunal wished to have argued?

517. As per the relief sought in NOM #2 that Mr. Papadimitropoulos and Epstein Cole LLP produce a copy of the separation agreement between him and the individual named insured in the Insurance Policy in camera to the sitting motions justice, which would have language of a non-contact (direct or indirect) order between them, who would have been motivated to have the "Insurance Policy" not be that of his former spouse?

518. Is it more likely than not that after Mr. McLean brought forward his affidavit evidence and NOM #2, along with his PIPEDA request of all insurance companies in the TDI Group, on reasonable belief that Mr. Papadimtriopoulos and Mr. Karat engaged in the theft of his property (personal information and personal health information) along with months of fraudulent impersonation of him with credit cards, banking cards, and the TPL library card (along with impersonating him at the TPL to obtain a third library card and change his phone number therein) that TD Insurance relegated Mr. Papadimitropoulos to "TD Bank" and a different address before his inevitable dismissal?

519. Is Mr. Nieuwland's representation to the Tribunal in his responsive submissions to NOM #6 (the "COI Motion") albeit for the "Fictitious Respondent TDGIC") that Mr. Papadimitropoulos had never been involved in his SABS benefits claim or access request credible?

520. If Mr. Papadimitropoulos was working out of 101 McNabb Street, Markham, Ontario , TDGIC had its fax number of 416.774.3629 on the 9th floor of 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, and it would have had a litany of faxes being received from injured persons in the "private passenger" market as it was responsible for issuing policies in the general market (not SNIC or Primmum) but TDHA would have its fax on the 4th floor of Spark Building (416.774.3120) so required therein for motor vehicle accidents from previous accidents before it departed the private passenger market and other motor vehicle accidents that Papadimitropoulos chose the fax number of 416.774.3120 so he could pick up the faxes himself .

VOLUME #9(B): Case Conference: Incapable of Performance due to failure to send invite to Case Conference contrary to Civil *Rule*s and Practice Direction (Divisional Court JRPA Guide): Rendered a Nullity (not an Irregularity)

521. Rule 4.05.3(3) states: "Every party participating in the hearing or conference shall provide the following documents to the court by uploading them to Case Center in accordance with this rule:

> 1. A copy of every document filed with the court by the party in respect of the hearing or conference;
> 2. Subject to subrule (5) [transcripts], a copy of any other document in the court file on which the party intends to rely at the hearing or conference that has not already been uploaded to Case Center by another party; and
> 3. Unless the court directs otherwise and subject to subrule
> (3.1), a COMPENDIUM that meets the requirements of subrule (7). O. Reg. 300/24, s. 2 (1).
>
> Reg 300/24 was proposed by the Ministry of the AGO, from the very address of Ms. Im, which was passed in 2024 which was summarized as follows:
>
> a. This regulation, O. Reg. 300/24, introduces a new rule governing factums, streamlines other rules pertaining to factums, sets out new requirements for COMPENDIUMs and certain other documents uploaded to Case Center (formerly CaseLines), clarifies the circumstances when a book of authorities is required to accompany a factum in the Superior Court of Justice, and improves terminology.

522. Unless the court directs otherwise, this rule applies to all or part of any hearing, pre-trial conference or case conference held in the Superior Court of Justice or the Divisional Court: Rule 4.05.3(2). Ergo, unless the Divisional Court has directed otherwise unequivocally that Rule 4.05.3 does not apply to any hearing or case conference, then Case Center rules apply.

523. Moreover, without the court staff providing the Applicant and Remaining Respondents with a case center invitation link with sufficient time to upload desired materials into Case Center, it made the case conference process entirely futile and incapable of being conducted. Despite multiple requisitions by the Applicant for compliance with the same, the court staff chose not to provide the same. The Remaining Respondents did not object. As such, if the Applicant is not successful in obtaining the substantive orders, this issue will be addressed at another date.

VOLUME #9(C): "Exchange of Material": Devoid of Legal Meaning

524. The starting point is the doctrine of paramountcy between statutes and regulations. It is trite law that in the event of an inconsistency between a statute and a regulation, the statute prevails. It is further trite law that in the event of an inconsistency between a regulation and a practice direction, the regulation prevails. This is codified in the Civil Rules. There is no dispute that the Practice Direction purports that where a timetable or a deadline is set through case management, it supersedes any civil rule. As a matter of time, that is now impossible because a case conference could not be held on Monday, January 13, 2025. Ergo, the deadlines in two source laws continue to apply:

a. JRPA, section 6(2) for the Tribunal (SEE: Rule 1.02(1)(3.)); and
b. Rule 68.04(4) for the respondents who filed Notices of Appearances (nota bene: albeit the three respondent insurance companies did not file forthwith).

525. "Factum" is defined as: "factum" includes a book of authorities, if one is required by rule 4.06.1. "Application Record" is not defined under the Civil Rules but it is interpreted under 38.09 but said rule is not applicable to judicial review applications. However, it is interpreted Rule 68.04(2)[93]. The Applicant filed and served his Application Record on December 12, 2024.

526. However, that is the "application record" for the Applicant which was filed and served on the respondents on December 12, 2024. The respondents, should they wished to oppose, had 30 days from that date to file: (a) factum; and (b) application record (SEE: 68:04(4)). It is rule 68.04(5) that is relevant:

> (5) The respondent's application record shall contain, in consecutively numbered pages arranged in the following order,
> (a) a table of contents describing each document, including each exhibit, by its nature and date and, in the case of an exhibit, by exhibit number or letter; and
> (b) a copy of any material to be used by the respondent on the application and not included in the application record. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 68.04 (5).

527. Therefore, the words of "exchange" and "materials" becomes germane. Simply put, there is nothing that the respondents can include that was NOT included in the JRPA Applicant's Applicant Record. Therefore, the issue is the 'table of contents' describing each document, including each exhibit by its nature and date, and in the case of an exhibit, the exhibit letter. They may truncate the same but the records will remain the same.

528. The word "document" includes data and information in electronic form. Practically, the respondents are, as it relates to their application records, are extracting the documents from the Applicant's Application Record that they wish to highlight in their responsive factums should they wish to oppose.

529. As it relates to 'exchange of material', assuming arguendo the issue of bias (reasonable apprehension of) did not arise, it appears that the word 'material' would refer to those documents that support the responsive factum. There is always the potential that the respondents could contend that they wish to rely upon

530. Ergo, the "Factum" and "Application Record" are distinct. The Factum does not include "materials" but incudes the book of authorities by reference or separate authorities' book. The Application Record may include materials in support of the same but that depends on the content of the same. Further, it may be that a respondent solely relies on the Application Record of the JRPA Applicant.

531. The word "materials" has no legal effect at all. This leaves aside that the one justice out of some 75 was in a conflict of interest by her pre-case conference vague direction. As such, any such direction was void ab initio – not merely voidable. No subsequent orders cure the same but merely aggravate and are all null and void from the date of issuance. The ONSC Div. Ct. registrar CANNOT give effect to the same by scheduling a case conference when the Registrar remains duty bound to provide all of the aforementioned documents, some in court forms, prior to even considering the same.

532. Moreover, even assuming arguendo that such a pre-hearing direction would have any legal effect, which it cannot as the SCC has firmly settled and clarified the common law that any such direction (order or not), does NOT supersede the timetable or deadlines in the Civil Rules because no timetable or deadline can be or has been set through case management prior to the respondents (some or all) filing responsive factums. To the extent that that the respondents viewed the "application record" as 'materials', nothing needs to be exchanged because the documents in the Applicant's Application Record.

534. "Application" means a proceeding commenced by notice of application. Rule 68.01(1) and (2) were passed in 1990 with subsection of 68.01 being amended in 1999 by reference to Reg 292/99, s.1(2):

> "How Commenced
> 68.01 (1) An application to the Divisional Court or to the Superior Court of Justice for judicial review under the Judicial Review Procedure Act shall be commenced by notice of application, and where the application is to the Divisional Court the notice of application shall be in Form 68A. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 68.01 (1); O. Reg. 292/99, s. 1 (2).
> (2) If the application is made to the Divisional Court and is not commenced at a regional centre, the local registrar in the place where it is commenced shall forthwith transfer a copy of the notice of application and of any material filed in support of the application to the court office in the regional centre of the region where the application is to be heard, and all further documents in the application shall be filed there. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 68.01 (2).

535. The Applicant commenced his Notice of Application for Judicial Review in Form 68(A) on November 15, 2024. This is further evidence under the enactment (regulation) of the *Rule*s Of Civil Procedure that "material" means that which supports an originating process. The same can be extrapolated to the likes of an "application record" for respondents which relates to documents and exhibits and not the "facta" of the respondents. Pursuant to the Keeprite Standard and Sticky Nuggz, it is not improper, at least prima facie, for an Applicant to tender non-controversial affidavit evidence in support but that is a hypothetical that need not be entertained. While other provinces, like BC, have judicial reviews commenced by "petition", there is also a corresponding requirement of a respondent to file a "response to petition." No such procedure arises under our Civil Rules.

536. "Court" means the court in which a proceeding is pending and, in the case of a proceeding in the Superior Court of Justice, includes an associate judge. The court in which this proceeding is pending is the ONSC. The division of it is the "divisional court."

537. To the extent that the requisition was not filed per se or stamped as such, it pre-dated the Justice Shore pre case conference direction. Out of an abundance of caution, the Applicant filed a requisition to compel or require the Registrar to comply with her duties which are as follows:

a. Form 68(b): filed on December 24, 2024;
b. Confirmed the filing of the Rule 38.03(3.1) request for urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition)) hearing (January 2, 2025); and
c. Providing an invitation to the JRPA Application to the Case Center (formerly Case Lines)

538. While the word "materials" is not defined, it auto-populates five (5) times, with two (2) under headings, under the Civil Rules. They are as follows (with removal for the reference to "leave to the court of appeal" under section 61.03):

539.

a. Rule 76.01 relates to the "Simplified Procedure":
    i. Materials: Depending on the practical requirements of the situation, the motion may be made with or without supporting material or a motion record. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 48;

b. Rule 77 is "Civil Case Management":

the motion may be made with or without supporting material or a motion record. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 49.

540. This is consistent with the JRPA Application relating to "what material to be relied upon," which is often in the form of affidavits. In the context of this JRPA Application, there are no "materials to exchange" per se as the Tribunal remains required to file the Record Of Proceedings forthwith and cannot rely on any Civil Rules or practice directions as the Civil Rules do not apply to the timing required by statute (SEE: Rule 1.02(1)(3.))With that segue, civil case management is under Rule 77. The relayed statement of Shore J. from the Registrar to the Applicant, LAT and respondent insurance companies was in the nature of Rule 77.04(2) and nothing more, at best, which is "(2) A judge or associate judge may, on his or her own initiative, require the parties to appear before him or her or to participate in a conference call to deal with any matter arising in connection with the case management of the proceeding, including a failure to comply with an order or the rules". It is a requirement of an appearance, at a future date to be set by the Registrar (subject to the Registrar complying with her other duties that remain extant), to discuss prematurity. However, it is the requirement to appear before him or her (a 'her' in this case which is Justice Sharon Store – former partner at Epstein Cole LLP at the very time when the forgery specialist in Mr. Andrew Papadimtripoulos was represented by said firm regarding matrimonial litigation involving the named female insured individual and the residence where the JRPA Applicant resided then and until now) and the bias issue that stops that dead in its tracks. The Civil Rules do NOT say that a judge may on her own initiative require the parties to appear before ANOTHER JUDGE. It did not say the obligations of the respondents in any way. Nor could Shore J do so without motion materials. Shore J did not purport to do so. Under Rule 59.06, "set aside orders", that is not particularly the issue because the order is somewhat open ended per se. Moreover, a "requirement of an appearance" to discuss matters cannot be seen to be an order that has any effect on the requirements under the Civil Rules. It is also subject to the Registrar setting such a date.

541. Orders are not presumptively retroactive either. They can be retroactive if they are "nunc pro tunc" but that did not occur here. However, there is no stay of obligations and rights.

542. Moreover, there is a lack of clarity with respect to the Shore J. pre-hearing requirement direction. The general rule under Rule 59.01 is that the binding effect of a judgment or order commences on the date upon which it is pronounced. However, this rule is not unqualified. For example, the judgment or order itself may provide otherwise. In other situations, the judgment or order may be uncertain and clarification may be required, something of substance has been missed. In these situations, judgment or order is effective from the date of entry, rather than pronouncement (paras 58-59 of Fontaine v. Canada (Attorney General), 2012 ONCA 206).

VOLUME #9(D): Shore J Compulsory Case Conference Attendance Requirement: NOT an endorsement or order

543. The question arises as to whether the "relayed email" from Justice Shore is an "order". The court held that an e-mail sent by a judge to the parties was not an "endorsement" because it was not "made" on the motion record. This decision highlights the formalistic constraints of the former Rule 59.02(2). Presumably, under the new rule, a judge may issue an endorsement in the form of an e-mail provided that the requirements for a "separate Document" are met: Alfano et al v. Piersanti et al, 2014 ONSC 60.

544. *Rule*s 59.01 and 59.02 state: "Effective Date 59.01 An order is effective from the date on which it is made, unless it provides otherwise. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 59.01. Endorsement of Orders 59.02 (1) An endorsement of an order shall be made on the appeal book, COMPENDIUM, record, notice of motion, notice of application or on a separate document by the judge, associate judge or officer making the order. O. Reg. 689/20, s. 38; O. Reg. 383/21, s. 15.

2025. With respect to setting a hearing date, Form 68(b) gives a range of dates or approximation and the parties are entitled to the same. As it relates to the word "discussion", it would be impossible to have any such discussion until the facta and application records are received along with a filed Record Of Proceeding.

VOLUME #9(E):
The word "Exchange": may be service but may not; exchange is not filing

546. The word "deliver" means to serve and file with proof of service. Therefore, 'filing' alone is not equivalent to 'delivering' or 'service'. Rule 16 governs service within Ontario and frequently uses the word 'exchange', which appears 12 times under the Civil Rules. Exchange differs from 'filing', which the Tribunal does not fulfill promptly as required by statute. Ironically, the Tribunal objects to judicial review under the JRPA while not complying with its requirements. "Case Center" (formerly Caselines) is not the same as a "document exchange" or "electronic document exchange" as per Rules of Civil Procedure, Service, Rule 16 - Service of Documents. According to the 2nd ed, 2022 CanLIIDocs 997: "To serve a lawyer representing the opposite party, service can be done by depositing a copy of the document through the document exchange if it is set up." Electronic document exchanges are web-based platforms for sending documents between parties. Uploading documents to "Case Center" is not equivalent to filing or delivering, and thus, cannot constitute service. The Applicant is entitled to proceed with the matter as the dominus litis principle applies, along with the intention for judicial reviews to be summary.

547. The TD Insurance ("TDI") group of companies consists of five companies with four distinct auto insurance providers. Each company within the "TDI Group" maintains its own unique history, FSRA registration number, balance sheets, financial statements, goodwill, areas of expertise, insurance products, programs, and office locations.

Volume #10(I): Security National Insurance Company

The "Sole Underwriter" in the Insurance Policy [not the "JRPA* Applicant"" as VCM would have it]

548. Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC"), the underwriter mentioned in paragraph 27 of the VCM Reasons, is an out-of-province insurer based at 50 Boulevard Crémazie, Floor 12, Montreal, QC, H2P 1B6. SNIC's FSRA registration number is 397. Established in 1933 under the CBCA and continued under Canada's Insurance Companies Act, SNIC offers insurance products for professionals and alumni under the TD Insurance Meloche Monnex ("TDIMM") brand. TDIMM is the combination of two distinct trademarks of "TD Insurance", owned by The Toronto-Dominion Bank, and "Meloche Monnex", owned by Meloche Monnex Inc.

Volume #10(I)(a): TDI Meloche Monnex: two insurance companies

549. For context, under TDIMM combined trademarks, Primmum provides auto insurance products but only to employer groups. Employer group products have no relevance to the underlying SABS Claim, LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) and JRPA Proceeding.

Volume #10(I)(b): the Non-Underwriter First Insurer: TDHA

Volume #10(II): TD Home and Auto Insurance Company ("TDHA")

the First Insurer

550. TD Home And Auto Insurance Company ("TDHA") is a Canadian incorporated insurance company with an FSRA registration number of 1063.

551. TDHA is the former Liberty Insurance Company of Canada which was the former Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. Liberty Insurance Company of Canada sold its Canadian business and operations to Meloche Monnex Inc. and then renamed it TD Insurance Home and Auto Company on or around 2005. As seen in the 2007 case before the SCC (SEE: https://decisions.scc-csc.ca/scc-csc/scc-l-csc-a/en/item/11288/index.do), the name was utilized in substantially the same form. It was only TDHA that had its contact information by way of address (4th floor of the Spark Building (North York)) and fax number (4th floor of the VP Building (Spark Building)). The only known fax number in evidence and the Record Of Proceeding, and represented by SNIC in 2023 in written correspondence to the Applicant, was 905.305.1074, and its address was the Burlington Office Address absent the provision of a floor number.

552. As seen by the FSRA registration number of 1063, TD Home and Auto Insurance Company naturally came TD General Insurance Company and SNIC which had FSRA (formerly FSCO) registration numbers of 353 and 397 respectively. Thereafter, Primmum obtained an FSRA registration number of 1396.

Affidavit #30 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal of July 31, 2024; COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 34; for Exhibit "D" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 147 and 148) which was the grounded landline, issued by Bell Canada (not Bell Mobility) on the 4th floor of 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, District of North York, City of Toronto, Province of Ontario.

554. At the Material Time, TDHA was the last known insurance company to have an office at the East Mall Address in Etobicoke.

Volume #10(III): TD General Insurance Company: the Fictitious Respondent Party at the Tribunal

the Automotive Insurance Company that Masqueraded as the Sole Respondent before the Tribunal

555. TD General Insurance Company, previously known as CT Direct Insurance Company, is a Canadian incorporated insurance company. At the Material Time, TDGIC's fax number was 416.774.3629, which was associated with a grounded landline issued by Bell Canada (not Bell Mobility) on the 9TH FLOOR of 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario.

Volume #10(A): Material Facts – NOT IN DISPUTE

556. The material facts are oddly addressed in the proposed corrections to VCM Reasons, inclusive of in NOM #18 [misnamed as NOM #16 by the Applicant, with notice to the Divisional Court and Respondents [as they were before the AGO withdrew on January 30, 2025],

557. The material facts from August to October 13, 2022, are not in dispute. As the Applicant notified orally SNIC, via telephone, of his intention to seek benefits on or around September 1, 2022, he discharged his burden to promptly notify an insurance company that he believed was responsible to pay him vital benefits for his survival pursuant to section 32 of the Schedule. SNIC was the "First Notified Insurer" which is definition the Applicant has created for distinction between SNIC and TDHA (the "First Insurer").

558. While SNIC, at least prima facie, provided the Applicant with some documents and explanations for accident benefits, it did so in tardy fashion because it input the incorrect postal code for his residential address. His residential address was the identical location of his then spouse who was the individual named insured in the Insurance Policy. At the time, Mr. Papadimitropoulos' information on the LSO Directory (online) was that of "TD Insurance" at the Markham McNabb Address.

559. The return address for the initial accident benefits package was that of the Markham McNabb Address. However, the name of the individual "claims advisor" [not adjuster] was that of Ms. Alisha-Anne Nurse.

560. However, the fax number provided in the OCF-1 was NOT that of SNIC but rather TDHA located on the 4th floor of the building (the "Spark Building") located on the lands and premises municipally described as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, District of North York, City of Toronto, Province of Ontario. This was unknown to the SABS Applicant and he utilized the fax number provided to deliver the completed OCF-1 on October 13, 2022 (the "McLean Completed Application" or the "McLean Completed OCF-1") and the completed OCF-2 on October 13, 2022.

VOLUME #10(A)(I): August and September 2022

561. The following facts are provided herein.

Volume #10(A)(i): the "Accident" ("MVA") on August 31, 2022 involving the Insured Automobile by Security National Insurance Company

562. On August 31, 2022, the Applicant suffered impairments (the "Impairments")[95] as a result of a motor vehicle accident (the "Accident" or "MVA") on August 31, 2022 (the "Accident Date") at the location of Spadina Road (not to be confused with Spadina Avenue) north of St. Clair Avenue and south of Heath Road, in the Forest Hill neighbourhood.

563. The SNIC Insured Automobile had two named insured persons: (i) Ms. Nicole Artopoulos; and (ii) BMW Financial Services Inc.

564. The Insured Automobile was a leased vehicle from 2019 to the date of the Accident. The Insured Automobile suffered more than five thousand dollars worth of damage and the impact of the collision by the sole female driver (Ms. Alisha Carey) of an Acura MDX SUV, insured by Pembridge Insurance Company, an insurance company within the Allstate Group of Insurance Companies, was such that the trunk would not close and the electronic systems were largely inoperable or malfunctioning. The Insured Automobile was taken for inspection in North York at the police reporting collision centre and had well in excess of $2,000 worth of damage to it. The police reporting number is denoted in the motion record before VCM of the Licence Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM).

565. The Insured Automobile was propelled some 30 feet forward from a stationary stopped position when the Acura MDX rear-ended it without stopping which caused the Applicant's head to hit the steering wheel and snap back, and come towards oncoming traffic as the cars in front of him move forward on a green light. The Applicant was able, with his reflex instincts to jerk the car into part of a driveway of residential homes on the East Side of Spadina Road, and bring the car to a stop. The distance between Insured Automobile and Acura MDX was some 25 feet or so.

Volume #10(A)(ii): the JRPA Applicant: not at fault – driver of Insured Automobile

566. The Applicant was the driver of the Insured Automobile, but not a named insured individual on the Insurance Policy. VC Morrissette made an incorrect finding, unsupported by the Record Of Proceeding from the time of the commencement of the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6) to the time of the signing of her decision (September 12, 2024) to its issuance one day later.

Volume #10(A)(iii): the Applicant was an Insured Person

567. The Applicant was an "Insured Person" by virtue of being a Spouse of the named individual insured.[96]

568. On September 1, 2022, the Applicant orally notified SNIC of his Impairments thereby making SNIC the "First Notified Insurer" pursuant to a combination of Reg 283 and SABS, section 32(1)[97].

569. After the Applicant received his initial MRI results from St. Joseph's hospital regarding his October 3, 2022, MRI (the "October 2022 MRI"), the Applicant, on October 6, 2022, fax delivered the electronic funds transfer authorization (the "EFT Authorization") to the fax number provided by SNIC to the Applicant which was 416.774.3120 (the known fax number as of August 2024 by the Applicant, of TDHA, defined herein as the "TDHA Fax Number", "416 Fax Number", "Non-905 Fax Number" or the "Victoria Park Building 4th Floor Fax Number") (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 46, Affidavit #3 of the Applicant in the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6), Exhibit "A", page 27).

Completed Application"), pursuant to Reg 283, to the TDHA Fax Number albeit unknown to him at the time to be that of TDHA. The OCF-1 (defined as "Application" under Reg 283, section 1) contained a "Return this form to" field which contained pre-printed language with SNIC, an address of a Markham office, and the TDHA Fax Number (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 48). Part 12 of the OCF-1 Application, provided to the SABS Applicant, contained Part 12, "Signature" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 53), which provided the duties of "the insurer" regarding the receipt of the PII and PHI from the SABS Applicant and the constrained rights of collection, usage and disclosure (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 53, paragraphs 1 to 9). There is no dispute on the evidence in the Application Record that TDHA was the first to receive the Completed Application on October 13, 2022.

VOLUME #10(B): THE STANDARD FORM DOCUMENT, ISSUED BY FSRA: OCF-1)

571. Contained within the OCF-1, Part 12, are 15 unnumbered paragraphs. The Applicant analyzes each paragraph herein as it relates to the material issues to be decided herein this JRPA Proceeding.

VOLUME #10(B)(I): Paragraph 1 of Part 12: the "Direct Collecting Requirement (SEE: OC, Tab 8, page 53)

572. At paragraph 1, the OCF-1, Part 12 denoted that the SABS Applicant understands that "the insurer" and persons acting for "the insurer" (nota bene: TDHA is "the insurer" aka the "First Insurer" which is distinct from the "First Party Insurer", which is defined under Reg 664, which relates to the Insurance Policy) will [shall] collect PI and PHI about the SABS Applicant that is related to [my] claims for accident benefits arising out of the Accident and that such information shall be collected DIRECTLY from me OR from any other person WITH MY CONSENT.

573. SNIC did not collect the Applicant's PII and PHI directly from him. TDHA was and is the First Insurer. TDHA collected directly from him albeit based on the provision of TDHA's Fax Number by SNIC (an out of province insurance company) without his knowledge or consent.

574. The misrepresentations vitiated the Applicant's consent per se.

VOLUME #10(B)(II): OCF-1, Paragraph 2: The Insurer will collect certain pieces of information

575. At paragraph 2, Part 12 of the OCF-1, it represented that the SABS Applicant, by executing and delivering the Completed Application to "the insurer" via mail or fax", understood that "the insurer" would collect information about:

(i) [my or your] driving record;
(ii) [my or your] auto insurance policy history; and
(iii) [my or your] automobile insurance claims history if they exist.

Application of the Paragraph 2 to the Facts

576. The Applicant's driving record was unblemished, he did not have any auto insurance policy history in Ontario and no claims history in Ontario.

VOLUME #10(B)(III): OCF-1, Paragraph 4: Collection and Use represented that the information collected above, which was limited in scope and exclusively from the SABS Applicant, would only be used reasonably [objective] necessary for purposes of (all of which the SABS Applicant 'understood'):

a. investigating the SABS Applicant's claim ("Claims Investigation") and processing claims ("Claims Processing") as required "by law";
b. obtaining or verifying information relating to the SABS Applicant's claim in order to determine entitlement and quantum ("Claims Information Verification");
c. recovering payment from insurers and others liable in law for amount that that "'the insurer'" pays in connection with the SABS Applicant's claims ("Other Insurer Payment Recovery" or "Reg 283* Indemnification");
d. identifying and analyzing the nature and COGS that are provided to victims of auto accidents by health care providers ("COGS Classification Analysis");
e. preventing, detecting and supressing ("PDS") fraud ("Fraud Prevention");
f. compiling anonymized statistics for government agencies ("Anonymous Stats Compilation"); and
g. assessing underwriting risks and claims experience ("Underwriting Risk Assessment").

(SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 13, page 267; Affidavit #18, para. 29).

578. At paragraph 5 of the OCF-1, the SABS Applicant confirmed, by being the sole signatory, that he understood that "'the insurer'" may disclose "this information"[98] to the following persons or organizations. At paragraph 6, the SABS Applicant confirmed and understood that 'the insurer' may pool this information with information from other sources and may analyze this information for the PDS fraud (limited purpose). At paragraph 7, the SABS Applicant understood by consenting, that you ["'the insurer'"] to collecting, using and disclosing ["CUD"] this information in the manner described above, but NO MORE of such information than is reasonably [objective] necessary to meet the legitimate purpose of such CUD. At paragraph 8, the SABS Applicant understood that if he had any questions about 'this consent' that he was free to consult his insurance company representative OR legal advisor before signing the OCF-1 ('Application' under Reg 283). At paragraph 9, the SABS* Applicant was 'also aware' that 'the insurer' may be required or permitted by law to disclose 'this information' to others without his knowledge and consent. This section of the OCF-1 Application implicitly invoked section 7(3) of PIPEDA.

VOLUME #10(B)(IV): TDHA was [and is] the "First Insurer" TDHA also the "First Collector"

579. As TDHA was the First Insurer by its receipt of the Completed Application, it was also the "First Collector" (SEE: CBA Article, "Transfers of Information For Processing[99]", in the Record Of Proceeding).

580. While the SABS Applicant thought, by detrimentally relying upon the representations made by SNIC in written mailed correspondence, that he was delivering his Completed Application (the "McLean Completed Application") to SNIC, he, in fact, delivered the McLean Completed Application, through no arbitrariness or fault of his own, to TDHA.

581. The doctrine of contra proferentem is applicable herein in that all ambiguities are construed against the drafter and not the SABS Applicant (Mr. McLean).

582. 90 days from October 13, 2022, was January 10, 2023. TDHA had until January 10, 2023, to object to it being the First Insurer on a provisional basis (the "First Provisional Insurer"). If TDHA did not, it became the First Insurer on a permanent basis (the "First Permanent Insurer" or "First Insurer (Permanent")).

583. On January 11, 2023, TDHA became the First Insurer (Permanent) pursuant to Reg 283.

VOLUME #10(B)(V): OCF-2

(SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 54)

584. The OCF-2 contained in the 'Accident Benefits Package' also contained the fax number for TDHA in the " 'Return this Form To" header field' albeit unknown to the SABS Applicant at the time, and the Markham office address which was not the office address for SNIC as found the Tribunal in September 2024 and by reference to SNIC's change of address in Spring/Summer of 2023.

VOLUME #10(B)(VI): October 2022: SABS, subsections 32(2) and (3)

[Central Processing Agency (HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271))]

585. At a time known in or around September or October 2022, SNIC included the particulars (pursuant to section 32(3) of the Schedule) involving the SABS Applicant to HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) but in reference to itself, it did NOT include its represented address of the Markham office.

586. Rather, it included the address of sixth floor, 304 The East Mall, District of Etobicoke, City of Toronto, Ontario (the "East Mall Address" or a "TDHA Etobicoke Address").

587. The aforementioned and latter definition was utilized by the Applicant as per his discovery that the East Mall Address was exclusively associated with TDHA by reference to public listings of YELP.

VOLUME #10(B)(VII): October 2022: SNIC Mailing Address in mailed documents to Applicant NOT the same as mailing address in HCAI

SNIC had not provided its mailing address in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) but an address only ever associated with TDHA; and Fax number of TDHA

588. By mid October 2022, SNIC had not provided its mailing address in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) but provided that of an address for TDHA as known to the public AND provided the fax number of TDHA for the OCF-1 and OCF-2. Neither the mailing address in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) was an address of SNIC, as represented in mailed documents to the Applicant and the OCF-1 (Application), in Markham, or even in its subsequently represented address in Burlington, nor the fax number of 416.774.3120 was an area code that resident jurisdictionally in Markham (or even in Burlington). [100]

VOLUME #10(B)(VIII): October 25, 2022, to Jan 11, 2023: No steps taken by First Insurer

(SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 55)

589. From October 25, 2022, to January 11, 2023, (and thereafter), the Applicant exclusively faxed his communications to the TDHA Fax Number presuming it was SNIC. Simply put, he continued to "submit" and "deliver" all communications to the TDHA Fax Number and TDHA continued to receive all documents.

590. The Applicant received, via mail, communications that purported to be from TD Insurance Meloche Monex (SNIC) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, tab 8, page 56; top right hand corner with the address of SNIC, 101 McNabb Street, 2nd Floor, Markham, Ontario, L3R 4H8, Telephone: 1.877.855.3767 [bolded] with the website of www.melochemonnex.com). While the correspondence purportedly from SNIC had a "return address" of SNIC with a telephone number, it did not list the 416.774.3120 fax number as a return fax number. Rather, with the benefit of now hindsight, the correspondence reference the same phone number above but with an extension for Ms. Nurse (claims adjuster at the time) and the fax of 416.774.3120 in contacting 'her' (SEE:

Monnex" with a "cc Kevin McLean" (whatever means in fact or at law)). At said time, said fax number (416.774.3120) was grounded by way of landline at the 4th floor of the building and premises situated at 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, District of North York, City of Toronto, Province of Ontario (the "Spark Building" or "VP Building") (defined herein as, the "4th Floor VP Building Fax Number"). By hindsight analysis, it appears that SNIC, after TDHA's fax number received the Completed Application (OCF-1), was attempting to redirect the Applicant to the address in Markham by physical mail.

591. In the additional October 18, 2022, letter (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 58), the return address is emphasizing mail without any reference to faxing the OCF-3 to the fax number and the enclosed OCF-3 did not have a pre-printed address in the "return this form to" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 59). It appears that this was an attempt to again have the Applicant send via mail to the Markham office and not fax to the VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number.

VOLUME #10(B)(IX): November 2022:

Delivery of the Disability Certificate (OCF-3)

592. On November 3, 2022, the OCF-3 was faxed submitted and delivered to the 4th Floor VP Building Fax Number by the Applicant's medical office (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 8, page 64).

VOLUME #10(B)(X): January 11, 2023

Expiry of the 90 day period under Reg 283

Seminal Date to Determine if TDHA was the First Insurer pursuant to Reg 283

593. The Applicant did not receive any notice in the A-143 from any insurance company l*et al*one TDHA or SNIC by January 10, 2023.

594. TDHA was the First Insurer (Permanent) on January 11, 2023.

VOLUME #10(B)(XI): January 12, 2023, to March 2023: Ongoing expenses submitted, SPAM Fax, SNIC (purportedly) request for consent for email communications, and refusal by SABS Applicant

VOLUME #10(B)(XI)(a): Applicant continues to submit ongoing expenses

595. From January 12, 2023, to March 2023, the Applicant continued to submit his OCF-6 expenses and deliver documents to the 4th Floor VP Building Fax Number.

VOLUME #10(B)(XI)(b): The Spam Fax in March 2023

(nota bene: similar to the August 2024 letter – responsive purportedly to the OCF-18 delivered via mail to TDHA and SNIC (and TDGIC for good measure)

596. In March 2023, the Applicant received, what he has defined as the "Spam Fax" wherein an unknown sender from an unknown fax number (not 416.774.3120) represented that it had received his recent correspondence and documents but had no record of his claim. It then input a box or chart in the document regarding which numbers to fax the same to for his claim with required particulars. Parenthetically, while the Applicant asked for a copy of the same from SNIC before the case conference, he received a document, albeit initially received by a health practitioner of his in August 2024, that was nearly identical to the same.

VOLUME #10(B)(XI)(c): SNIC requests to communicate via email

597. In March 2023, the Applicant also received mail from SNIC requesting to communicate via email and sought his consent.

VOLUME #10(B)(XI)(d): Applicant refuses consent via fax

598. The Applicant declined the same until compliance was affected involving, inter alia, his PIPEDA request.

VOLUME #10(B(XII): April 2023: Fraud PIPEDA Response

Re: PIPEDA response by undisclosed organization from New Brunswick to Applicant's 2023 PIPEDA access request of SNIC (only known insurance company to him in the TDI Group)

599. There was further corroborative evidence, undisputed no less before Vice Chair Morrisette, that TDHA was (and is) the First Insurer with respect to the PIPEDA request made by the Applicant of SNIC.

600. In the purported response to the PIPEDA request, the Applicant received mailed documents, via UPS (which was distinct from the previous mailed sent from TDIMM, which was by regular mail, with its TD Insurance insignia on the outside of the envelope), from a Ms. Smith from New Brunswick. With the benefit of hindsight analysis, TDHA, while an automotive insurer in Ontario, was not an auto-insurer in the private passenger market in Ontario, but it was in New Brunswick. Conversely, TDGIC, the "Fictitious Respondent", a non-underwriter in relation to the Insurance Policy and "non-First Insurer", was, in October 2022, was an insurer in the private passenger market in Ontario but not in New Brunswick.

VOLUME #10(B(XIII): Forged signature on OCF-18 (as Per A. Nurse) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 14, page 270) ;

False Document and Uttering a False Document

601. In mid-May 2024, the Applicant received one page of the OCF-18 (Dhaliwal OCF-18) that had a forged signature (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 14, page 270) of the claim's advisor in Ms. Alisha-Anne Nurse ("as per A. Nurse"). Upon later discovery by the Applicant, in his residence, the ex-husband of his then common law spouse, had tendered an anniversary card to her (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 11, page 196).

602. While Mr. Nieuwland represented, as a member in good standing on behalf of TDGIC (Fictitious Respondent), that an ex-husband of the individual policyholder was never involved in the SABS Claim or LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6), said document was signed, albeit a forgery and "false document", on April 20, 2023. The context matters herein. Said OCF-18 was the first tendered by the SABS Applicant, and unbeknownst to him, the address on the back end of HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271), which he did not have access to the same as he is not a health practitioner, was that of TDHA's former address at The East Mall Address (Etobicoke). Moreover, the representation made therein was that SNIC had approved approximately $2,000 in payment of benefits to his then physiotherapist but no payment was ever issued. This is corroborating evidence that SNIC was not the First Insurer. As TDGIC's fax number, as a finding by the Tribunal, to be 416.774.3629 (SEE: Tab 5, order of the Tribunal on February 13, 2024), then this leaves Primmum and TDHA.

VOLUME #10(B(XIV): Spring/Summer 2023: SNIC address changes
Re: Change of SNIC's address from Markham to Burlington

603. By sometime known in the Summer 2023, there was a change in address by SNIC from the Markham Office to the Burlington Office and from the 416.774.3120 fax number to the 905 Fax Number (Burlington).

604. This appears to have been predicated upon the Applicant's refusal to consent to email, discovery of the Spam Fax, PIPEDA requests and apparent response from a New Brunswick address et al.

605. The claims advisor changed from Ms. Nurse to Ms. Persaud.

VOLUME #10(B(XV): October 2023: E-Claims Workflow (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9): request of "TD Insurance – Ontario Accident Benefits Carol Persaud" (SEE: Tab 9, page 65)

606. On or around October 11, 2023, the Applicant received an email, despite not consenting to email communication and not sending any alleged email, which referenced the following:

a. Sender: TD Insurance – Ontario Accident Benefits Carol Persaud
b. Reference [incorrect]: 035325790-02 [sic]
c. Sent: 2023-10-12, 9:21 a.m.
d. eMsg Tracking #: [contained therein]

VOLUME #10(B(XV)(a): Who is "E-Claims Workflow")

607. E-Claims (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9) Workflow is a Canadian company but not an insurance company. It is not even a broker or agent as those terms are defined under the Insurance Act. Mr. Ian Edger is the CEO of E-Claims (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9) workflow.

608. Had the Applicant acceded to this purported requirement, SNIC, whom he thought was the sole insurance company responsible for responding and paying benefits (TD Claim #3 (not TD Claim #2 [SEE:)), direct collection would not have occurred from SNIC or the First Insurer in TDHA. In any event, any insurance company who engaged in this conduct would be in breach of the standardized language of the OCF-1.

609. This is further evidence that SNIC was NOT the First Insurer. Moreover, pursuant to cases like De Rosa, accident benefit files cannot be shared even between a husband and wife. The SABS Applicant did not know whose accident benefit claims that was it could have been his former spouse or BMW Financial Services Inc. In any event, the Applicant did not send any email and it is now unequivocal that the faxes to 416.774.3120 were causing an issue of which the Applicant was unaware as to why. The Applicant never sent any documents through this allegedly secure website which was E-Claims (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9) Workflow. In light of the sender (TD Insurance – Ontario Accident Benefits – Carol Persaud) not having the correct exposure number, it is a shocking self-aggrandizing statement by E-Claims (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9) Workflow, "Founded in 2004, we are a Toronto based team that is dedicated to the Insurance claims and Medical industries. Created before the PIPEDA legislation, we have been and continue to be leaders in vendor management and compliance. Our solutions automate and secure information flows between companies for both people and for automated systems."

610. However, it is this statement on its website that is most concerning when measured against the precedential statements of law in the Zurich Quintopoly involving Reg 283 and there being only First Insurer (either by arbitration decision) which is as follows:

> "Multi Vendor Workflow
> Converged communications and process management for a compliance based world. We help organize, assess, and secure inter-company claims and medical processes.

611. "Inter" means 'between'. This representation is also quite concerning in the context of Ontario laws including but not limited to the likes of: (i) Jia; (ii) Beasley; (iii) Dervisholli; (iv) Transamerica; and (v) Reg 283.

> "Converged Claims Management
>
> "A multi-vendor claims management platform with > complete visibility from the office or mobile."

612. "Converged"[101] means to come together in one place. It was not until 14 months into the SABS Claim that any reference was made of E-Claims (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 9) Workflow. Where the First Insurer is not disclosed to the Applicant, this would amount to a multitude of breaches of SABS and Reg 283. It is a complete and unequivocal breach of OCF-1 as SNIC represented by the standard form language that it was required to collect information directly from the SABS Applicant.

VOLUME #10(B(XV)(b)): Form AF-082 (SEE: AF-082E (2023))

613. Moreover, if there are claims between companies, whether affiliated or not, those competing 'inter' (not 'intra') company claims must be resolved in accordance with Reg 283 and SABS. Moreover, any insurance company that is entitled to indemnification based on a breach of Reg 283 must submit a specific form by email which is intitutled as "Insurer Remittance Form for Disputes Between Insurers Arbitration Decisions". As such, naturally the likes of SNIC, TDGIC and TDHA would wish to avoid this oversight and regulatory requirement.

614. If the above evidence was not sufficient to prove on a balance of probabilities that TDHA was the First Insurer, and certainly not SNIC, the email above demonstrated unequivocally that TDHA did not want the SABS Applicant faxing to 416.774.3120. While the Applicant had a separate fax number for SNIC at its determined and found address of SNIC Burlington, it was regularly blocked or could not receive faxes. The obvious answer as to why the 416.774.3120 fax number would receive faxes but SNIC would not or block the same is a smaller workforce for TDHA in Ontario as it has been out of the private passenger market by way of issuing new policies since on or around 2020. This does not mean that TDHA does not have to still service its existing clients and customers but certainly it would not need as much of a workforce when TDHA was not issuing new private passenger automotive insurance policies.

VOLUME #10(B)(XVI): December 24, 2023: Applicant files LAT Appeal and serves 416.774.3120; and onward

April and May 2024: the jurisdictional boundaries issue raised

615. On December 24, 2023, the Applicant filed the LAT Appeal and then served the fax number of 416.774.3120.

616. On April 14, 2024, the Applicant swore Affidavit #17 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 12, pages 197 to 254) which provided, inter alia, a detailed pieces of evidence as to why the Applicant had never consented to the breaches of PIPEDA as were known to him involving SNIC and TDGIC. At the time, the Applicant was unaware that TDGIC's fax number was listed in the orders of the Tribunal commencing in February 2024 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 5, pages 20 to 21).

617. On April 15, 2024, the Applicant served and filed Affidavit #18 that provided his evidence regarding the substantial unfairness that he alleged was being conducted in relation to the LAT Proceeding (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 13, pages 255 to 261).

618. On April 24, 2024, the Applicant filed Affidavit #19, which provided some of the breaches of procedural fairness that he had alleged and particularized (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 20, page 320). The Applicant also provided his belief, based on research, as to whether Mr. Karat, a non-licensee (who claimed an affiliation with the LSUC [sic])) as to whether a claims adjuster could sign a responsive pleading pursuant to the LSO By-Law 7.1, section 6. The analysis led to the uncontroverted position that a claims adjuster may or may not be a paralegal or lawyer, and whether the issue of CAT Impairment was in the pleadings. Paralegals are prohibited from acting in any capacity, on their own, when CAT Impairment is at issue (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 20, page 326).

VOLUME #10(B)(XVII): The shocking misrepresentations by Mr. Nieuwland on behalf of TDGIC at the Nullity Case Conference (May 3, 2024)

619. On May 3, 2024, the day after a case conference, and hearings that were never properly heard, with SNIC not filing a case conference brief, the Applicant served and filed Affidavit #21, which provided evidence and cited decisions of the OPCC involving the "interplay between OPCC and SABS" (i.e. jurisdictional boundaries between two administrative bodies (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 14, pages 264, 265, 266 and 267).

620. The Applicant also provided information from various websites including the OSFI and Canadian Gazettes as denoted therein.

621. On May 10, 2024, the SABS Applicant provided the evidence in relation to his NOM #8 which was affidavit #22 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 15, pages 273 to 282), On May 11, 2024, the SABS Applicant served and filed Affidavit #23, providing evidence in relation to, inter alia, the Motor Vehicle Liability Card ('pink document') (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 16, page 284).

622. On May 15, 2024, the SABS Applicant filed and served Affidavit #24 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 17, pages 286 to 303), which provided evidence from various government websites involving the trademarks and corporate registries that make up "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex". "TD Insurance" is one trademark that is owed by The TD Bank (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 17, page 293) and "Meloche Monnex" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 17, page 297) is one trademark owned by Meloche Monnex Inc., which is not to be confused with Meloche Monnex Financial Services Inc. Affidavit #24 provided further uncontroverted evidence that the "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" program (the "TDIMM Program") included specifically designed programs for: (i) professionals and alumni (the SNIC product under the TDIMM Program); and (ii) employer groups (Primmum) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 17, page 301; 302).

VOLUME #10(B(XVII)(a) : TDGIC does not oppose NOM #8

623. On June 6, 2024, Mr. Nieuwland on behalf of TDGIC exclusively confirmed in writing that TDGIC would NOT oppose the relief sought in NOM #8.

624. Contrary to VCM's findings thereafter, unsupported by the evidence in the Record Of Proceeding from the ROP Temporal Period, TDGIC did NOT consent but did NOT oppose.

was served with the JRPA Application is contained in Affidavit #16 (February 14, 2025) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 60).

VOLUME #10(B)(XVIII): June 11, 2024 : Status Certificates

626. On June 11, 2024, the Applicant served and filed Affidavit #27 wherein he swore that he had applied and paid the requisite fees to the FSRA to obtain status certificates for SNIC and the Fictitious Respondent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 18, page 307, paragraph five (5)).

627. At the said time, no lawyer licensee had filed a DOR on behalf of SNIC (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 18, page 307, paragraphs 9 and 10). The Applicant swore that he never consented to TDGIC having access to his AB file, which he thought at the time was with SNIC but in fact was with TDHA at least by delivery and sending it to TDHA and TDHA first receiving the same, and he never consented to TDGIC substituting itself as the sole respondent party, and then resiling and recoiling from its position of non-opposition to SNIC being the sole respondent party (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 18, page 308). It was not a matter of consent between the SABS Applicant and TDGIC, and certainly not consent between the Applicant, TDGIC and SNIC but TDGIC admitting, at least tacitly, that it was not the sole respondent party or a party at all. On July 5, 2024, the Applicant filed his Affidavit #19 and then filed his NOM #13. The decisions and orders in NOM #13 are not being challenged herein.

VOLUME #10(B(XIX): July 31, 2024: TDHA DISCOVERY: FIRST INSURER (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, pages 70 to 177

(nota bene: the VCM Decision was released on September 13, 2024, and neither SNIC nor TDHA sought to provide any contradictory evidence to the same within the 44 days)

628. After finding independent evidence that the fax number of 416.774.3120 belonged to TDHA, the Applicant swore affidavit #30 on July 31, 2024 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 73, affidavit 30, paragraph #11, paragraph #13. The Applicant also moved promptly with serving and filing his NOM #14 on SNIC and TDHA. Contrary to the Reconsideration Decision, NOM #14 did not merely seek the remedy of adding TDHA as a party but it also sought: (i) declarations of law; (ii) adding causes of action; (iii) amendments of pleadings; and (iv) others (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 25, Reconsideration Submissions). NOM #14 was in part titled, "in a potential motion, subject to the First Insurer as known to the licensed insurer with the 416 Fax Number and the East Mall Address. The Applicant swore that he believed that whoever provided the 416 Fax Number in the mailed document purporting to be the fax number of SNIC at the SNIC Markham Office, made a mistake or misrepresented (perhaps innocently) it as belonging to SNIC could not have had a 416 area code fax number (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 73, paragraphs 13 and 14 of said affidavit #30). The Applicant swore evidence that the only public indication as to who controlled, owned and operated the 416 Fax Number was TDHA (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 73, paragraph 16). Further, the Applicant swore evidence that the only indication of a tenant at the 6th floor of 304 The East Mall, as that was the address input in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) (the "CPA"), was TDHA (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 73-75, paragraph 16- 20 (with images)). At paragraph 20 therein, the Applicant swore that he believed that if TDHA disputed that the 416 Fax Number was its fax number, it would have denied the same. The Applicant had not had any denials at the time and none were made before the VCM Decision. The Applicant turned his mind and openly swore evidence as to whether it was better to add TDHA as a party to the LAT Proceeding or commence a separate LAT Proceeding against TDHA for similar relief (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 76, paragraph 22). The Applicant swore evidence that he believed that Mr. Nieuwland knew [NTD: include the line from Jia] that the 416 Fax Number was that of TDHA (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 76, paragraph 24). The Applicant further provided sworn evidence on belief as also why they utilized TDGIC as opposed to TDHA (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, paragraph 25). The Applicant swore further evidence that he believed that not only did TDHA first receive the Completed Application making it the First Insurer but it also, on account of the East Mall Address, received all of the OCF-18's via HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 76, paragraph 26 of Affidavit #30). The Applicant also provided his consent to TDHA to communicate with him via email (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 77). The Applicant revisited, by evidence, the Spam Faxes and his belief that the Spam Faxes (March 2023) (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 15, page 274) were at the instruction or advice of TDHA to SNIC to ensure that the Applicant did not send any further faxes to the 416 fax Number (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 77). The Applicant provided further evidence that he remained stunned that an insurance company would claim, at the time, that it would have no record of his claim number, which was TD Claim #3 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10 page 77, paragraph 27). The Applicant swore further that he believed that TDHA refused to respond to the Applicant, despite being the First Insurer, in the hopes that the Applicant would never discover that the 416 Fax Number [416.774.3120] was its fax number at the Material Time along with the East Mall Address being its former branch office [not that of SNIC] (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 77, paragraph 28).

VOLUME #10(B(XX): Exhibits for Affidavit #30

629. The seminal exhibits in affidavit #30 are denoted in the Applicant's OC Index (SEE: supra).

VOLUME #10(B(XXI): Potentially two respondent parties in this LAT Proceeding:

(i) one solely for costs from January 23, 2024 to date of order of this Honourable Court; and

(ii) one as First Insurer and costs from the date of order until conclusion of the LAT Appeal (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 6)

630. In relation to the two potential respondent parties in the LAT Proceeding, the SABS Applicant provided his evidence in relation to the mechanics of the same with TDHA and SNIC being respondent parties but with TDHA as the First Insurer in relation to liability and SNIC being the respondent solely for costs (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 79 and 80, paragraph 41 to 46).

VOLUME #10(B)(XXII): Uncontroverted evidence (on belief)

631. The Applicant again swore under oath that with the absence of any response from TDHA and SNIC that he then believed that it was only TDHA that received (got possession) at first instance of his Completed Application including his OCF-2, OCF-3, OCF-6, and OCF-18's (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 90, paragraph 47).

VOLUME #10(B)(XXIII): September 28, 2024

632. On September 28, 2024, the Applicant swore affidavit #38 which provided further evidence, inter alia, for his section 21.1 of the SPPA motion along and some of what he alleged to be the "real unfairness" in the LAT Proceeding (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 11, *page*s 178 to 196).

633. The Applicant also provided evidence in relation to case manager Mr. Grant's representations as to how he apparently arrived at TDGIC being named as a party on the file (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 11, page 192, paragraph 40; and COMPENDIUM, Tab 11, page 195). The Applicant's NOM #8 motion followed and was successful, and it was not by consent as VCM found it was albeit incorrectly. Despite the findings made by VCM absent any supporting evidence so referenced, the Applicant thanked the Tribunal for providing paragraph 46).

VOLUME #10(B(XXIV): Reconsideration Decision, JRPA Application, Factum, Application Record, "Certificate Of Perfection" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 39), and Requisitions Requisition for Form 68(B)[102], Requisition for urgent (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 36 (Affidavit #2) and 42 (Requisition)) hearing et al

634. The timing of the above is well known to this Court as it is the Record Of Proceeding with the ONSC Divisional Court. The Reconsideration Decision was issued on October 16, 2024, and the Applicant filed his JRPA Application on November 15, 2024. The Applicant filed his Factum on December 10, 2024, and then following with his Application Record on December 12, 2024. The Applicant filed and served the "Certificate Of Perfection" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 39) and Affidavit of Service ("Affidavit #1") (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 40)) on December 13, 2024. The Applicant then filed Requisition #1 on December 24, 2024, which sought a copy of the presumed issued Form 68(B). The Applicant filed his Affidavit #2 in support of his section 6(2) of the JRPA request which was filed by requisition on January 2, 2024.

The JRPA Divisional Court Practice Direction: Certificate of Perfection

635. From the JRPA Guide Divisional Court [which is a 'Practice Direction'] it states:

> "Once the "Certificate Of Perfection" (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 39) has been filed [not necessarily served or delivered] at the Court, the registrar will place the application on a list for hearing and send the "Notice of Listing for Hearing" (Form 68B) to the parties."

636. Form and "forms matter". "Once" means: as soon as; when.

Prescribed Form: Form 68(B)

637. Form 68(B) states the following:

> "FORM 68B
> Courts of Justice Act
> NOTICE OF LISTING FOR HEARING (JUDICIAL REVIEW)
> (General heading)
>
> NOTICE OF LISTING FOR HEARING
> THIS APPLICATION FOR JUDICIAL REVIEW HAS BEEN PERFECTED and has been listed for hearing at (place). You may ascertain from my office the approximate date of hearing."

638. The Applicant has remained deprived of this ability since December 13, 2024, to even an "approximate date" for the hearing proper of the JRPA Application. As such, he brought forward another requisition (SEE: Requisition #2) on January 2, 2025 for an urgent hearing. Moreover, the aggregated facts above led to him bringing forward NOM #1 which was not opposed by the Tribunal, and then NOM #2 with a "Motion For Judgment".

VOLUME #11: ORDERS SOUGHT

639. For ease of reference, they are the Five Orders from NOM #14 and #15 which are and remain:

i. Order #1: An Order, Declaration, determination and/or finding that TD Home And Auto Insurance Company, FSRA registration number 1063 ("TDHA" or "TDHAIC") was the First Insurer to receive, pursuant to Reg 283, the Appellant's fax delivered Completed Application (SEE: Reg 283, s 0. 1) to the fax number, provided to him by SNIC as a return address [sic] for SNIC, of 416-774-3120 (the "416 Fax Number") on October 13, 2022 [the "First Insurer Order"];

ii. Order #2: An Order, Declaration, determination or finding the physical address, which is apparently denoted as a branch office of SNIC in HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271), municipally known as 304 The East Mall, Floor 6, Etobicoke, Toronto, Ontario, M9B 6B7 (the "Etobicoke East Mall Address") was or is an address or branch office of TDHA and not SNIC [the "HCAI (SEE: COMPENDIUM, TAB 14, PAGE 271) Office Order"]

iii. Order #3: An Order adding TDHA as a respondent party to this LAT proceeding therein [the "TDHA Party Addition Order" and "TDHA Cause Of Action Order"]; and

iv. Order #4: An Order requiring TDHA, should it wish to oppose the relief sought in the Appellant's Appeal, file and serve a Response to the Appellant's Appeal within 14 days of the date of the orders herein; and

v. "Order #5": A preliminary finding, determination, or order, that the fax number 416-774-3120 was a landline phone number utilized as a fax number on the 4th floor of the building situated at the premises municipally known as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7.

Compendium, Tab 61: DRAFT ORDER (FEBRUARY 14, 2025)

AFTER FORMAL LAT ADMISSION (REGARDING STILL ATTEMPTING TO DETERMINE HOW BEST TO COMPILE RECORD OF PROCEEDING) AND WITHOUT ANY RESISTANCE BY RESPONDING PARTIES TO NOM #2 (NO DENIAL OF A COI INVOLVING SHORE J.)

640. The Applicant also seeks the following orders herein as per his NOM #2, to the extent that any of the issues involving the merits are not finally disposed of by way of reference to the Draft Order for NOM #2, filed and stamped on February 17, 2025.

All of which is respectfully submitted on February 17, 2025, to this ONSC Divisional Court:

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A., J.D., CIM)

[8]The application is restricted even further to those documents that qualify as records of tribunal proceedings. The SPPA contains a list of "records" for the purposes of hearings by tribunals covered by that Act. This list provides a ready definition of the documents to which the present application applies ("Adjudicative Records"). These include:

(a) any application, complaint, reference or other document, if any, by which the proceeding was commenced;
(b) the notice of any hearing;
(c) any interlocutory orders made by the tribunal;
(d) all documentary evidence filed with the tribunal, subject to any limitation expressly imposed by any other Act on the extent to or the purposes for which any such documents may be used in evidence in any proceeding;
(e) the transcript, if any, of the oral evidence given at the hearing; and
(f) the decision of the tribunal and the reasons therefor, where reasons have been given.

[9]See: Applicant's Factum, paragraph 58 and 59, "The case of Fatemea Rezaiezadeh v. State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, 2016 ONFSCDRS 59 ("Reza")[9] stands for the proposition below wherein an arbitrator found the following: "The Appellant concedes there is no explicit procedure in…the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, as amended, to permit a party to continue a proceeding against a non-party." While Reza was a decision before the FSCO, the Legislature has not amended the SPPA in any manner that would change that precedential statement of law. The Applicant will also be deprived of his rights under section 19 of the SPPA in relation to enforcement of a monetary order." [59] In Reza, the following excerpt has extreme relevance to why this JRPA Proceeding must proceed expediently before a single justice and, if it fails, then before the ONSC (Div. Court): "The Appellant's apparent concern is that if she is successful on appeal and obtains a monetary award, if the Respondent does not pay, whose property does the sheriff seize? The Respondent submits that Certas would respond to any "valid" judgment by cutting a cheque because of its contractual obligation with State Farm. This did not seem to reassure the Appellant."

[13]Campbell has said in Jan 2013, at the CIP Society luncheon, that the minority ruling Liberals and the New Democratic Party are "contemplating arbitrary mandated price cuts in an industry that's in a free market and is already losing money." That was before the Liberals, at the behest of the NDP, announced they would mandate a 15% reduction, over two years, in private passenger auto premiums.
[14]DIFFERENCES BETWEEN A SINGLE MOTION JUSTICE OF THE ONSC (IN DIVISIONAL COURT ROTATION) VS. SINGLE MOTION JUSTICE ON A RULE 37.12 AND RULE 37.13(2)(A) ARE NOT MERELY COSMETIC BUT UNDERLYING CONTEXT AND CHRONOLOGY ARE IMPORTANT FOR HOW WE ARRIVED AT SAID STAGE
[15]While Mr. Borton did not file an affidavit saying that he had lost his home, it seems obvious to me that Mr. Borton is suffering economically and that the uncertainty of a hearing date in the Divisional Court creates a real risk of there being a failure of justice. The prejudice to Mr. Borton grows with each passing day; prejudice he can only mitigate by capitulating or by finding an available day for argument.". [12] In the circumstances of this case, I am satisfied that Mr. Borton has met the test articulated in s. 6(2) of the JRPA. The required leave is given: Apotex Inc. v. Ontario Minister of Health and Long Term Care, [2006] O.J. No. 5141 (S.C.J.) at paras. 4 and 5; Griffin v. Ontario (Minister of Transportation), [2004] O.J. No. 54 (S.C.J.). [13] I turn to the merits of the application."
[16]While a 1997 decision, this principle has been codified since 2006 in the Legislation Act, section 64.
[17]. Other tribunals, like the HRTO, are not carte blanche subject to the SPPA but the SPPA applies subject to it not being inconsistent with the HR Code, which is paramount to all other provincial legislation and curiously contains a standard of review of "patent unreasonableness", and the HRTO Common *Rule*s and Specific *Rule*s.

[22]Specifically, how can this Divisional Court further clarify and shape the law with respect to the obligations of Provisional First Insurer and Permanent First Insurers, and the sources of their duties?

1. More specifically, as the SCC found in 2014 that parties to a commercial contract are bound by the implied duty of good faith, how do the duties of First Insurers differ, who are not bound by a 'contract of insurance', differ from those that are bound by a contract of insurance (i.e. underwriters of the same) (if at all)?
2. As Ontario does not have any statute that exempts Ontario non-public bodies from PIPEDA, how does PIPEDA, the binding jurisprudence in Beasley, Dervisholli, Transamerica, and Jia, shape the duties of First Insurers with respect to any and all personal information ("PII") and personal health information ("PHI") that they receive either at first instance or by way of disclosure from a First Insurer? More specifically, should insurance companies who receive PII and PHI at first instance under an OCF-1 (Completed Application under Reg 283) be found at law to be data fiduciaries ("Data Fiduciaries") irrespective of whatever the volume, amount and types of PII and PHI that they have received, hold or have held, accessed and/or disclosed?

[25]The ONSC Divisional Court does NOT have any practice direction on scheduling motions.
[26]M.E. v. Ontario, 2021 ONCA 718: As per the endnote in this subheading, the plaintiff (appellant at the ONSC Divisional Court and appellant at the ONCA) had a rather baseless claim marked by ludicrous, absurd and baseless attacks against any and everyone. She was seeking criminal convictions against various government bodies and employees in absentia. However, the relief sought to add parties, which included six lawyers no less, which was dismissed by The Honourable Justice Vella of the ONSC, sitting as a case management judge dismissed the motion on grounds of abuse of process, frivolous, vexatious et al pursuant to Rule 2.01 of the Civil Rules. The ONCA, with a three-judge panel as Justice Simmons of the ONCA was concerned that while the Divisional Court's decisions and orders were final, the motions judge's (as the ONCA referred to Justice Vella, although more precisely a case management judge) order may not have been interlocutory. The corollary of the same was that the M.E. would not have required leave to appeal the order of Justice Vella but rather would have been able to bring an appeal without leave. As Simmon J.A. could not determine the same as a single justice of the ONCA, she adjourned the leave motion to the ONCA to ME, to a three-justice panel. In 2021, the ONCA found as follows: [1] This matter has a long procedural history. For present purposes, it is sufficient to focus on the motion brought by M.E. on October 9, 2020, wherein she sought to add additional causes of action and new parties to the action. The motion judge dismissed the motion as frivolous, vexatious, and an abuse of process under r. 2.1.01: Rules of Civil Procedure, R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194. M.E. then sought leave to appeal the motion judge's order to the Divisional Court. A panel of the Divisional Court dismissed that motion.[2] On May 17, 2021, M.E. applied to this court for leave to appeal the Divisional Court's order. The Registrar has repeatedly informed her that her materials do not comply with the Rules and practice directions. On July 5, 2021, M.E. filed the underlying" Notice of Motion for Non-Compliance." Simmons J.A. heard the motion on July 27, 2021. She adjourned the matter to a full panel, noting that while the Divisional Court's order was final, the motion judge's order concerned a motion to add causes of action, which may not be interlocutory. As a single judge, Simmons J.A. could not determine this issue. [3] We conclude that M.E. was seeking to add new causes of action. An order refusing leave to amend pleadings to plead a new cause of action is final: Atlas Construction Inc. v. Brownstones Ltd. (1996), 46 C.P.C. (3d) 67 (Ont. Gen. Div.). So is an order dismissing a motion to add a party, which M.E. also appears to have been trying to do: Bryson v. Kerr (1976), 1976 CanLII 867 (ON SC), 13 O.R. (2d) 672 (Ont. Div. Ct.). Accordingly, leave to appeal is not required and an appeal lies as of right to the Court of Appeal: Courts of Justice Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. C.43, s. 6(1)(b).[4] We order that the appeal of the motion judge's order of October 9, 2020, may proceed in this court. Costs of this motion are reserved to the panel hearing the appeal."

[29]Nota bene: the closest link was paragraph four (4) therein
[30]Prematurity Argued at the Hearing Proper of the Judicial Review Application of the Mansuri Brothers; Three Judge Panel; Error of Law on interlocutory decision (VC McGee) – Potentially – but still premature as it was not a final order or final decision; respondent insurance company allowed to argue merits but NOT Tribunal; if premature – merits are not decided; the key point: if final decision (i.e. refusing to add a third party, refusing to add a cause of action, or refusing to add amendments to pleadings, a substantive point of law on a summary motion (i.e. that would dispose of the merits of the case), or a decision that would allow a further defence of issue estoppel or res judicata);

31 "Adequate" is defined as: lawfully and reasonably sufficient.[31] This connotes an objective person test by the word "reasonably". "Sufficient" is defined as: enough to meet the needs of a situation or a proposed end. "Lawfully" is defined as: being in harmony with the law; (ii) "Alternative" is defined as: "offering or expressing a choice"; and "Available" means "present or ready for immediate use".

[32]The general common law rule is that a decision-maker is functus officio when they make a final decision in respect of the matter before it": Chandler v. Alberta Association of Architects, 1989 CanLII 41 (SCC), [1989] 2 S.C.R. 848, at p. 861. In Chandler, the Supreme Court held that: "As a general rule, once a tribunal has reached a final decision in respect to the matter that is before it in accordance with its enabling statute, that decision cannot be revisited because the tribunal has changed its mind, made an error within jurisdiction or because there has been a change of circumstances. It can only do so if authorized by statute or if there has been a slip or error within [certain] exceptions…." Ergo, while it is always prudent and responsible, like the Applicant did, to bring forth a reconsideration motion, VCM was functus officio when she executed the VCM Decision (see: Compendium, Tab 2) .

[33]It, of course, does not mean that an Applicant for judicial review will necessarily be successful. A final decision or order may be predicated on a pure finding of fact or a question of mixed fact and law without an extricable legal issue which means that the standard of review would be reasonableness. However, that is a hypothetical that need not be canvassed herein.

[34]Compendium, Tab 2, pages 1 to 11

[35]As those final decisions and orders relate to issues and general questions of central importance to the public, legal profession, "implicates professional responsibility and the legal profession in Ontario", and involve the jurisdiction of the Tribunal as it relates to other administrative tribunals by way of boundaries, and along with some persistent discord within the tribunal in its decision-making processes and consultation, the standard of review is correctness. Herein, there was no competing evidence from the respondent insurance companies in SNIC and TDHA in NOM #14 and NOM #15, there was no evidence to weigh by VCM and she did not purport to weight any evidence. The Tribunal cannot 'save the day' even if it so desired. It is most restricted in its ability to make any arguments as it is a quasi-judicial tribunal, unlike the former FSCO which occupied a variety of roles. This court is tasked with determining whether the moving party, who had said relief refusal, demonstrated on a balance of probabilities (more likely than not to the approximate quantum of 51% which requires clear, cogent and convincing evidence) that he was entitled to the relief sought. Where the successful responding parties did not, ironically, provide any evidence and submissions to the tribunal at first instance or on reconsideration, pursuant to the Keeprite Standard, they are prohibited from supplementing this JRPA Proceeding record with any further evidence. In that instance, this court is required to disregard any such filings or contents therein that contravene the Keeprite Standard.

[36]Also, depending on what transpires on Monday, January 13, 2025, a new precedent may arise for those tribunals, which exercise or purport to exercise a statutory power of decision pursuant to section 1 of the SPPA with the same definition under s. 1 of the JRPA, that fail to file the ROP on a forthwith basis, which should prohibit their participation or further limits the same.

[37]The sine qua non for why this JRPA Application must be successful is that the orders and decisions that are being reviewed are final orders and those final orders or determinations involve errors of law. Therefore, there is an automatic right of judicial review and on the standard of correctness. As such, this Court is required to look at this matter ab initio and may substitute or confirm VCM's decisions, determinations and orders. In relation to orders #1 to #3, VCM failed to even address the same. Therefore, they are questions of law. As such, there is nothing to uphold per se as nothing was decided in relation to those orders sought. Where the rule of law is at issue in a JRPA Proceeding, not only is the standard of review correctness, but the ROL and its principles operate as full overrides or exceptions to the Non-Justiciability Doctrines (see: definition, supra and infra).

(4th) 537 (Div. Ct.) at 553).

[40]This was against the backdrop of the Fictitious Respondent being inserted into the LAT Proceeding absent any legal bases or jurisdiction. While the Applicant was entitled to vital treatments and income replacement, his first three motions were declined to be decided by Vice Chair Lake with the Fictitious Respondent as the sole respondent party. When then measured against SNIC being the only of the three-respondent insurance to file a pleading, albeit invalid, yet Mr. Nieuwland filing a DOR on behalf of TDGIC, whilst using a fictitious legal assistant for months, Vice Chair Lake cited an old LAT Rule in relation to what constituted a respondent in the Applicant's NOM #5. His NOM #4 and NOM #6 were to be heard at the case conference while he continued to object to TDGIC being the sole respondent party. This did not occur at the case conference whilst SNIC failed to file a case conference brief. As such, the case conference was not only futile but contrary to the SPPA as only parties can be directed to a case conference.

[42]Balance of probabilities standard: is it more likely than not that there will be a failure of justice by the delay.

[43]Mr. Nieuwland's recent email to this ONSC (Divisional Court) has reignited the subsequent issues: (i) whether insurance companies in a group of insurers are 'one and the same', 'also known as' or 'also referred as'; (ii) the rule in Foss v. Harbottle; (ii) the FSRA guidance on affiliated entities only have an exemption on the non-adjuster broker side, and (iv) the motives for why such insurance companies in the TDI Group would engage in such misconduct.

[44]In this regard, the VCM Decision (see: Compendium, Tab 2) has again put two administrative bodies, at least, in the FSRA and the Tribunal against each other when they operate under the same enabling statute (Insurance Act) and the participants (insured persons, service providers and insurance companies) must comply with the UDAP Rule (2022 et seq).

[45]The Applicant is seeking by his factum to be heard before a single justice of the ONSC, with leave, due to the urgency of the issues herein.

[46]all people are equal under the law and have the right to equal protection and benefits with SABS benefits for all similarly situated persons to this Applicant

[51]The burden is on the party challenging the decision to show that it is unreasonable. Any alleged flaws or shortcomings must be more than merely superficial or peripheral to the merits of the decision": Vavilov, at para. 100
[52]In the context of the tribunal abusing the process, Abrametz was a case that raised issues of abuse of process, a component of procedural fairness. The Supreme Court discussed the relationship between abuse of process, fair play, and the relationship between administrative decisionmakers, those affected by the decisions and society. Questions of abuse of process are questions of law, and thus, we apply a standard of correctness to the question of procedural fairness in the context of this statutory appeal: See Abrametz at paras. 30-36. Whether there has been an abuse of process is a question of law. Thus, the applicable standard of review is correctness (Abrametz, paragraph 30).
[53]Wagner C.J. and Abella, Moldaver, Karakatsanis, Gascon, Côté, Brown, Rowe and Martin JJ.
[54]Herein, a multiplicity of proceedings will be avoided and the law will be clarified and settled, while avoiding a return by this Applicant to make the same arguments that he would even if all of his benefits and quantum were found in his favour because the wrong party would be liable for the same and required to respond post-facto the conclusion of the Hearing Proper. In this regard, the Applicant herein confirms, by his authorized signature, that he would bring the same JRPA Application and he respectfully submits that the principle of mootness, cited by the SCC in Borowski, would not be applicable because the important legal issues would not only not be decided but the decision of the LAT would be in conflict with the governing statutes, governing regulations and its own LAT Rules.

[67]Ms. Reilly's reply to the bias allegation a frightening one: "Reilly has told media her decisions in the insurance cases were fact-based and untainted by bias. She claims LAT disclosure procedures should be tightened up to prevent any appearance of bias." In effect, an experienced Vice Chair of the Tribunal's position is that the public should not known of a "conditional offer" of employment with an insurance company where she inevitably worked for a period thereafter (i.e. avoid these "disclosures" and have less transparency). The prejudice experienced by these injured person is denoted in a case like Nagesu v Traders General Insurance Company, 2024 CanLII 23453 (ON LAT) where Associate Chair had to cancel the decisions of former adjudicator Ms. Reilly. The position of Aviva is perhaps even more concerning: "Aviva Canada said it was unaware Reilly was involved in insurance cases for LAT after 'the insurer' hired her." It is rather disingenuous or intentionally misleading considering it was a "conditional offer of employment" and, of course, Vice Chair Reilly could not be involved in insurance cases for LAT after the hiring.
Upon investigation by the LAT, it was, in fact, only four decisions wherein Vice Chair Reilly had issued decisions after her acceptance of an offer of conditional employment. Mr. Boyce, counsel to the Tribunal herein and a former Vice Chair of the Tribunal with the same employer or payor of his wages (see: Appendix #2), "batted a better record" for the TDHA and SNIC as his time as a Vice Chair. Involving SNIC and TDHA, they were 14-0-1 when Vice Chair Boyce, as he then was, was the decision maker (see: Appendix #3). Is this Mr. Boyce's 'cooling off period' before joining the likes of Mr. Nieuwland as counsel at TD Insurance Staff Legal? Is this why Mr. Nieuwland and his clients have remained silent? Is Mr. Boyce seeking to, in good faith, raise prematurity or is this a circuitous route for him to defend the advice he provided to the Tribunal before the VCM Decision (see: Compendium, Tab 2) was issued? The optics are not pleasant to the eyes or ears. The rule of law requires the ONSC, by a single justice, to intervene judicially to immediately put an end to the real unfairness to not only this JRPA Applicant but others similarly situated. It must be forcefully noted that of the 13 tribunals in Tribunals Ontario, the Licence Appeal Tribunal is the one tribunal funded by the insurance industry. This Tribunal must earn back the respect of the public and not be seen on any level to be siding with the insurance company giants whether at first instance or by counsel who are former adjudicators with unfettered mobility.[67]

[69]With post 2016, the distinction between barristers and solicitor no longer being applicable: Whatever historical differences may have existed between the roles of barrister and solicitor no longer apply under Ontario law. Section 29 of the Law Society Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. L.8 provides that every "member" is an officer of every court of record in Ontario and s. 28 provides that a person who is qualified and is called to the bar and enrolled and admitted as a solicitor "are members and entitled to practice law in Ontario as barristers and solicitors" (see: Iroquois Falls Power Corp. v. Jacobs Canada Inc., 2006 CanLII 35612 (ON SC), https://canlii.ca/t/1ptvd, note 15)

[77](Caselines A947)) – THEREIN).

[78][37] The Amended Reconsideration Decision says the following:

> After reviewing the decision, it is clear the Tribunal's reasons were based on conflicting medical reports and the credibility of Mr. Drew's testimony. There is no disagreement that the test was administered by Mr. Drew shortly following the accident.[39]
> [Emphasis added]
> [38] As the italicized words in quotation above demonstrated, this is wrong. The Tribunal found the test was never initiated. The paragraph in the Amended Reconsideration Decision goes on:
> The disagreement lies in whether J. L. has a score of 15/15-the score Mr. Drew registered three times immediately following the accident-or a score of 8/15, which is the score that Mr. Drew registered in his report from November 2015, three months following the accident and on request of J. L.'s counsel. I find the admission of the video footage-which is not continuous, has no sound and does not alter the fact that the reports have conflicting scores, would not have been probative of the ultimate issue.
>
> [40] I point out that the Amended Reconsideration Decision refers to the submission of counsel for Jeffrey Lockyear, as stating:
> "…under 18.2(b) that the Tribunal should have admitted video footage of the paramedic attending at the scene and allegedly administering the Glasgow Coma Scale test he recorded in a later report"[40]
> [Emphasis added].
> [41] I wonder at the use of the word "allegedly". Given the understanding that the "test was administered" (see the quotation at fn. 38), the word "allegedly" can only refer to the suggestion that the video shows the test actually being applied. That would be highly probative. It would be consistent with and confirmed by the observation made by Dr. Keith Meloff following his review of the video and inconsistent with the conclusion of the Licence Appeal Tribunal, in its original decision, that the test was never initiated.
> [42] The Amended Reconsideration Decision goes on:
> Further, even if the footage were was admitted, I fail to see how it would have changed the result since silent video cannot corroborate which Glasgow Coma Scale score was registered at the scene of the accident, which would not help J.L. meet his onus of proving catastrophic impairment.[41]
> [43] This proposes that the only means by which the video could corroborate the values set by each of the three components of a Glasgow Coma Scale test is if somebody announces them such that they can be heard. This again denies the possibilities raised by the observations of Dr. Keith Meloff. At the risk of relying on an overused cliché, if a picture is worth a thousand words, how many words is an appropriately described video worth?
> [44] The paragraph which begins with the quotation, immediately above, continues and ends as follows:
> In submissions, J.L. does not offer a compelling explanation why he felt the footage was so needed, other than to aide in [sic] Mr. Drew's memory. In my view, it is unclear what value video footage would provide in the context either, since Mr. Drew testified that he recalls many details of the accident and prepared a contemporaneous report that could have aided his memory just as well. On these facts, I see no reason to interfere with the Tribunal's decision to exclude the video evidence.[42]
> [45] The assertion that it was unclear what value the video would have, given its relevance, would stand in favour of, not against, its admission as evidence so that its probative value (its weight) could be tested. The proposition that Adam Drew's ability to otherwise recall what happened misses the point. Adam Drew's evidence was not accepted. His credibility was questioned. Could the video have served not just to help him remember but more importantly confirm what he otherwise said?

[46] Refusing to admit the video was a denial of the right of Jeffrey Lockyear to be heard and a breach of procedural fairness.

[82]Injured person appealed under LATA; sought to adjourn and format of hearing; LAT dismissed both and right to benefits; Appellant raises issues of procedural fairness and reasonable apprehension of bias, among other issues; failure to oppose by Applicant/appellant [injured person']; LAT could provide useful insight on how hearings are conducted [nb: not at issue herein]; no duplication of submissions of the respondent [which speaks to the issue of whether respondent insurance companies [SNIC and TDHA will oppose relief as intending to respond to the JRPA Application does not by the Purported Appearance provide any insight into whether they will oppose some or all of the relief, take no position and/or consent]; 15 page factum; no costs seeking; and 15 minute oral argument [hence rife for a single justice, on leave, by teleconference]; notice of proposed factum on motion is required

[84]Albeit alphabetized differently at paragraph 9;

[85]The SCC found in Ocean Port Hotel[85] as follows in the summary: "It is settled case law that, in the absence of constitutional constraints, the degree of independence required of a decision-maker or administrative tribunal is determined by its enabling statute. The statute must be interpreted as a whole to determine the degree of independence intended by the legislature. When faced with silent or ambiguous statutes, courts will generally infer that Parliament, or the legislature intended that the procedures of the administrative tribunal should conform to the principles of natural justice. However, as with all principles of natural justice, the degree of independence required of members of the administrative tribunal may be disregarded by the express terms of the statute or by necessary implication. There is a fundamental distinction between administrative tribunals and courts of law. Superior courts, by virtue of their inherent jurisdiction, are constitutionally required to provide objective guarantees of institutional and individual independence. The same constitutional imperative applies to provincial courts. Administrative tribunals, on the other hand, are not constitutionally separate from the executive. They are in fact created specifically for the purpose of implementing government policy. In fulfilling this function, they may be called upon to render quasi-judicial decisions." The SCC in Ocean Port Hotel distinguished between that administrative tribunal (commission) and others by referencing the issuing of permits which is not the same as the quasi-judicial functions of LAT and particularly those of VCM. [85] The enabling statute that formed the LAT is LATA. Some of the structures in place for the LAT are discussed in Shuttleworth (infra). The inference appears to be that by backdating the VCM Decision (see: Compendium, Tab 2) to September 6, 2024, when it was signed on September 12, 2024, and released on September 13, 2024, whilst VCL found on reconsideration that it was made or issued on September 13, 2024, that there were some breaches of the consultation rule in Ellis Don[85]. The Executive Chair was the same individual who was responsible for delaying the Applicant's FIPPA request which remains ongoing by way of appeal to the IPC (Ontario). The other inference is that VCL, who reappeared in face of the Applicant's objection to her having any role on grounds of a conflict of interest, was superior to VCM, at least by seniority as a "vice chair", was responsible for, and perhaps down the hierarchical ladder, for imposing consultation on VCM. Without any draft decisions of VCM, it is impossible to prove a negative but there are suspicious circumstances (see: second part of the Ellis Don test: There is reason to believe the executive chair changed the adjudicator's decision). The three part test in Ellis Don regarding the "institutional consultation principle" is institutional consultation ensures consistency in the decisions of an administrative body and does not create an apprehension of bias or lack of independence if the following rules are respected: (1) the consultation proceeding cannot be imposed by a superior level authority within the administrative hierarchy; (2) the consultation must be limited to questions of policy and law; and (3) even on questions of law and policy, the decision-makers must remain free to make their own decision. There was clearly some form of unrest with the Tribunal when case manager Ms. Lee replaced case manager Mr. Grant. Under the regime, which is unclear if it still exists, of a case manager having some level of say in a final proofing of a decision (see: Shuttleworth), this if of great concern and bolsters the "real unfairness" considering the representations made by Mr. Grant (former case manager) in relation to the inclusion of TDGIC as the "initial respondent" on or around January 8, 2024. His response on May 6, 2024, was internally and externally inconsistent.

The corollary is that this is not the criminal context.

[92]This is a full answer to VCM's reflexive query and finding that she was unable to find any authority for the same.

93 The Applicant's application record shall contain, in consecutively numbered pages arranged in the following order,
(a) a table of contents describing each document, including each exhibit, by its nature and date and, in the case of an exhibit, by exhibit number or letter;
(b) a copy of the notice of application;
(b.1) a copy of the reasons of the court or tribunal whose decision is to be reviewed, with a further typed or printed copy if the reasons are handwritten;
(c) a copy of all affidavits and other material served by any party for use on the application;
(d) a list of all relevant transcripts of evidence in chronological order, but not necessarily the transcripts themselves; and
(e) a copy of any other material in the court file that is necessary for the hearing of the application. R.R.O. 1990, Reg. 194, r. 68.04 (2); O. Reg. 219/91, s. 8; O. Reg. 248/21, s. 14.

[94]The Applicant, by way of outline purposes, engages in some painstaking detail herein because of the inability to even determine where VCM obtained her chronology, facts and evidence. They were unsupported by even the reference to any material in the record of proceeding. As noted in the JRPA Application in Kawa Arab if an adjudicator ignores evidence that the law requires to be considered to arrive at a decision, that would amount to an error in law (see: paragraph 19). There is no challenge by this JRPA Applicant to the sufficiency of or the weight given to the evidence supporting a finding of fact but rather that what she called facts or implied were facts were contrived, and it appears now that she did not have proper access to the record of proceeding. In a reconsideration decision, this Court's (whether Divisional Court or single justice of the ONSC pursuant to section 6(2) of the JRPA), is narrower than the review of an adjudicator's decision by a Vice Chair (in this JRPA* Proceeding – both were technically "vice chairs") who undertakes the review (see: Kawa Arab, paragraph 20). The question for the Court is to determine whether in her reconsideration of the underlying decision (the "VCM Decision" herein), the Vice Chair erred in law she conducted the review OR in her decision. In the Reconsideration Decision by VC Lake, who was already on notice of a potential conflict of interest from Spring 2024 and most surprisingly was somehow 'delegated' authority absent particulars, VC Lake failed to even address orders #1 and #2 in NOM #14 and Order #3 in NOM #15.

[96]The Applicant was not a named insured individual. The Applicant was an Insured Person as he was a spouse of Ms. Nicole Artopoulos (the "Individual Named Insured" or "Nicole"). - March 21, 2023: accounting of the IRB at said time of $11,200 without a single payment despite the representation by SNIC, with the fax number of TDHA [416.774.3120] and the address for delivery of Markham Office [not its office as SNIC's office – as represented in Spring 2023 was the Burlington Office Building [absent a floor number]]: (SEE: page 39 paragraph 193

- April 3, 2023: Mr. McLean's refusal (no consent) to engage in email communications despite SNIC seeking the same by way of consent – which is to be commended – hindsight analysis – around this time – the SPAM Fax (denial of any claim number for the Applicant) was sent – independent evidence – SNIC's fax was NOT – 416.774.3120 – leaves two potential insurance companies: (i) TDGIC; or (ii) TDHA: PAGE 40 (SEE: Volume #10(A) therein, paragraph 197)
- April 03, 2023: receipt of package from New Brunswick – later learned in relation to PIPEDA request – had Applicant's number with the area code of New Brunswick therein – did not come in envelope from TD Insurance – not opened – returned to sender – New Brunswick – UPS: PAGE 40 (SEE: paragraph 198);
    - Nota bene: April 6, 2023: OCF-18 #1 ("Dhaliwal OCF-18") was signed by SABS Applicant with address therein of Markham Office and fax number of 416.774.3120
        - Nota bene #2: SABS Applicant later learns that his previous physiotherapist, registered health professional and health practitioner, could only deliver through HCAI of which he was authorized but not the SABS Applicant – had already automatically – October 2022 – set the branch office of TD Insurance – Etobicoke – East Mall Address
- April 19, 2023: confirmation of switch of physiotherapists – courtesy notice AND PIPEDA matters handled separately: Page 40 (SEE: Volume #10(B), paragraph 199)
    - April 20, 2023: the date of the forged signature on the OCF-18 #1 (Dhaliwal OCF-18, originally printed on March 30, 2023 and then signed by the Applicant on April 6, 2023 (nota bene: TDGIC was most concerned about demanding a copy of the same at the nullity case conference on May 2, 2024 – which the Applicant later obtained despite some efforts – through PIPEDA request of HCAI)
        - SNIC represented therein that it had approved the sum of $1995 in physio sessions but only $85.87 in the initial full body assessment (prohibited under the MIG if Applicant was under the MIG) received to Beneficiary Bank Account, on April 6, 2023, the sum of $1499.98. The above math was contrived to attempt to keep the Applicant within the $3,500 but it was over by 55 cents.

- The Applicant learned, through lengthy investigations, in Summer 2024 – SNIC never sent a cheque for payment to any physiotherapist to the SABS Applicant.
- Despite an invoice (OCF_23) not being required – one was tendered to TDHA, SNIC and TDGIC (out of an abundance of caution). Response came in late August 2024 – no record of the Applicant's claim number at "TD Insurance"

- April 25, 2023: receipt of the New Brunswick mailed documents but in TD Insurance denoted envelope – SABS Applicant confirms – PIPEDA addressed separately and via email (SEE: PAGE 40) (see; Volume #10(C), paragraph 200)
  - April 2023: Andrew Papadimtriopoulos – no longer denoted as lawyer with TD Insurance – but a "consequence management" – potential demotion
- October 12, 2023: SABS Applicant had been delivering faxes to the 416 Fax Number (416.774.3120)
- (nota bene: Applicant did not know of the TDGIC fax (or TDGIC itself) (SEE: 416.774.3629) until the LAT Order of February 13, 2024 (SEE: supra, Tab 5)
  - Response to letter o Ms. Persaud, replacement adjuster for Ms. Nurse – of her September 18, 2023 letter – purporting to be on behalf of SNIC but SNIC at Burlington Office Building [no floor number] [nota bene: floor number later provided by Tribunal in September 2024 LAT Order] [SEE: page 41 (SEE: Volume #17(D), paragraph 268)
    - Nota bene: upon providing an email copy of the LAT Appeal to Ms. Persaud in December 2023 – Ms. Persaud's auto-reply confirmed that she had been away since September 2023
- October 12, 2023: further fax from Applicant to 416 Fax Number – Ms. Persaud represented that based on the medical evidence documented (nota bene: hindsight analysis – Ms. Persaud – SNIC – did not have the file of the SABS Applicant – alleged – Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos destroyed the file upon departing and the switch from Ms. Nurse to Ms. Persaud (SEE: page 42);
- October 19, 2023: SABS Applicant delivers to 416.774.3120 fax number – OCF-19 with reports to follow (nota bene: TDHA received the OCF-19 and did not respond within 10 business days)

- October 27, 2023: Ms. Persaud of SNIC – unfamiliar with the file – when SABS Applicant had referral for brain MRI – UHN Notification– March and April 2023
  - Nota bene: around the time that Mr. Andrew Papadimtriopoulos was allegedly demoted from being a lawyer with TD Insurance to "consequence management"
  - SPAM Fax received by SABS Applicant (i.e. no record of his claim number, insurance policy number, file, et al) – despite it being responsive to a fax delivered by the SABS Applicant to 416.774.3120
  - Matter of proximity: Andrew Papadimtriopoulos was not supposed – by LSO By-Laws – be involved in any SABS Claims involving his ex-wife – including the SABS Applicant – but his work location was at the Markham Office – TDHA fax was 3650 Victoria Park Avenue – 4th floor – North York, Toronto – distance between two addresses – 7 minutes by car between the two (SEE: Google Maps Directions)
    - Distance between SNIC's office (the "Burlington Office") and the Markham Office is 91 km.
  - Motive for using the TDHA fax number:
    - TDGIC – as of recently - underwrites all policies for auto insurance in Ontario – when a named insured person – NOT with SNIC (employer group program) [nota bene: however, only SNIC was the underwriter of the Insurance Policy wherein Ms. Nicole Artopoulos [not the Applicant as VCM incorrectly found (nota bene: evidence that the Tribunal did not have a full and accurate Record of Proceeding as of September 13, 2024, - further corroborated by the Applicant's NOM #18 [misquoted by JRPA Applicant in JRPA Application – but notice provided to ONSC Div. Ct. and respondents of the same] – finally undisputedly corroborated by Mr. Boyce for the Tribunal being unable to file the Record Of Proceeding on a forthwith basis or at all] ▪ With a landline fax grounded on the 4th floor of TDHA's office floor at 3650 Victoria Park Avenue (the "Spark Building") in October 2022 – TDHA was the First Insurer – but it had also departed a subcategory of being an automobile licensed insurer with the FSRA – which was "private passenger market" – like TD Direct Insurance (SEE: FSRA website) – the prohibition on TD Direct Insurance Inc. was "no new policies after 1995" – TDHA does not have that prohibition – falls under category of not a "non-automobile insurer" – but – without private passenger segment (likely the largest segment or sub-space) – less operational manpower (or womanpower or non-binary power) required – easier – to obtain faxes when this "lawyer" – came to and from work (nota bene: landline faxes – different than e-fax – no remote access) ▪ It was likely discovered in March/April 2023 by another employee or Mr. Papadimtripoulos was required to attempt to steer the SABS Applicant away from the 416.774.3120 by referencing "North York" in relation to said fax number but providing fax numbers for other provinces but one in Ontario which was Burlington. The Applicant was concerned about a privacy breach and presumed at the time that the North York fax reference was incorrect (i.e. not knowing the distinction between Markham and North York with the former only having 905 fax numbers and the latter having a 416 area code)

	VOLUME #3(B)(II): EVIDENCE AND AFFIDAVITS DURING LAT APPEAL
9.	Select evidence from NOM #13: Appendices ▪ October 2023: E-claims Workflow ▪ February 2024: TDGIC represented in a purported but unlawful response to the Applicant's PIPEDA request of SNIC in January 2024 that Mr. Andrew Papadimtripoulos had not been involved in any way with this claim or access request. However, the claim number provided therein was 035325709-04 [sic] (SEE: page 66)	Pages 1175 to 1177	65 to 69

Exhibits therein:

- Exhibit "A": copies of emails to the chief agent of TDHA and SNIC from July 27 to July 31, 2024, regarding the 416 Fax Number and TDHA being the First Insurer (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 77, paragraph 30; for Exhibit "A" itself: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 90 to 134);
  - July 27, 2024, notification – discovered TDHA – First Insurer: page 90, 91, 92, 93, 94 to 95;
  - July 27, 2024, follow up: corroborating evidence as to why TDHA was the First Insurer: 24 points:
    - Pages 96, 97, 98, 99
  - July 29, 2024:
    - Confirmation that the fax number in LAT Orders involving TDGIC was distinct from that of TDHA (SEE: page 101);
    - TDHA fax number of 416.774.3120 – Ontario Business Directory: page 102, paragraph 14
    - Confirmation TDHA received all of the OCF documents after first receiving OCF-1
    - Addressing the forged signature: page 107, paragraph 8
    - Addressing the issues surrounding the failure by SNIC to pay what it represented it would on April 20, 2023: page 107, paragraph 7;
    - TDHA liable to respond and pay benefits (SEE: page 107, paragraph 11);
    - Attaching invoice for TDHA (SEE: page 108, paragraph 16);
    - Demand upon TDHA to pay out any and all outstanding benefits (SEE: page 109, paragraph 20).
  - July 30, 2024: further demand made upon TDHA (SEE: page 110, paragraph 3 therein);
  - July 31, 2024: SNIC had manipulated the HCAI auto-population to only that of East Mall (SEE: page 112, paragraph 3); TDHA's address was the East Mall Address (not Markham) – further evidence that TDHA was the First Insurer;
    - HCAI submitted copy – Applicant obtained with PIPEDA request (SEE: page 166);

- Exhibit "B":
  - the public listing of TDHA that lists its address as the Vicotria Park Building with a fax number of 416-774-3120 (SEE: COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page 78, paragraph 32; for Exhibit "B" itself, COMPENDIUM, Tab 10, page* 136,);
  - Could not be SNIC's fax number
  - Page 137: October 13, 2022 letter that demonstrates that the fax number for TDHA is 41.6774.3120

BACKGROUND

[1] The applicant was injured in an automobile accident on August 31, 2022, and sought benefits pursuant to the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule – Effective September 1, 2010 (including amendments effective June 1, 2016). The applicant was denied certain benefits and submitted an application to the Licence Appeal Tribunal (Tribunal) on December 27, 2023.

[2] A case conference in this matter was held on May 2, 2024 and a Case Conference Report and Order (CCRO) was issued to the parties on May 7, 2024. Relevant to the motions herein, paragraph [20] of the CCRO states that the applicant did not identify any specific document requests at the case conference and paragraph [22] states that the applicant made no production requests.

[3] In an Order dated June 20, 2024, on consent of the parties, I granted the applicant's request to change the respondent from TD General Insurance Company (TDGIC) to Security National Insurance Company (SNIC).

[4] A written hearing is scheduled in this matter for January 24, 2025.

[5] This file is currently 254-days old and this is the twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth motions filed by the applicant. The applicant refers to these motions respectively as "NoM #13", "NoM #14" and "NoM #15".

Notice of Motion filed August 19, 2024

[8] On August 19, 2024, the applicant filed an additional Notice of Motion (which the applicant refers to as "NoM #15) for:

1. An Order that NoM #14 be heard in an expedited fashion and by no later than August 28, 2024, or, in the alternative, at the earliest date available;

2. An Order that if the respondent, TDHA, or any other non-party or interested person wishes to oppose NoM #14, it must provide notice, via filed letter, to the Tribunal by no later than August 21, 2024;

583 DOC TAB #1 PAGE 6

3. A preliminary finding, determination, or order, that the fax number 416-774-3120 was a landline phone number utilized as a fax number on the 4th floor building situated at the premises municipally known as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario, M2H 3P7; or

4. In the alternative, an Order that said issue of fact is added to the hearing of NoM #14;

5. An Order that NoM #13 is set for a hearing three weeks after the final decision of NoM #14;

6. An Order that the applicant shall tender his hearing brief for his potential motion regarding document production and disclosure from SNIC within one week after the decision of NoM #14 with a notice of scheduled hearing date to be issued by the Tribunal regarding exchange of responsive and reply briefs;

7. An Order that NoM #13 and the SNIC document production motion, if applicable, shall be heard together three weeks after the decision in NoM #14; and

8. Costs.

[9] No submissions were requested of the respondent or of the non-parties.

RESULT

[10] The applicant's motions are denied.

[11] I decline to make an order as to costs at this time. The applicant's request for costs has already been added to the issues in dispute in this matter and shall be determined at the hearing on the substantive issues.

ANALYSIS AND REASONS

The applicant's request for non-party productions is denied

[12] The applicant relies on Rule 9.2.2 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, 2023 (Rules) in support of the list of 32 items for which he seeks production and additional relief. He submits that he made demands of the non-party to obtain the requested documents on June 25, 2024 and June 27, 2024, but has received no reply.

584 AOC TAB #1 PAGE 7

[13] Rule 9.2.2 provides that the Tribunal may exercise its discretion to order a non-party to disclose or produce any relevant document or thing. The onus, however, is on the parties to obtain the documents and things that they wish to rely on and that they are required to produce to the other party or parties. When a party has the power to obtain documents or things from a non-party, the Tribunal will generally not make an order under Rule 9.2.2 where the party's efforts fall short.

[14] The applicant submits that for him to know the "authentic reasons" for the respondent's position regarding the issues in dispute, he must have access to these documents. The applicant argues that persons other than the respondent may have or been part of the decision-making process and that, in order to determine the applicant's entitlement to an award (one of the issues in dispute), the applicant requires the names of the "drafters and/or authors" of various documents which he submits were agents of TDGIC.

[15] First, part of the documentation sought by the applicant, for example the documents or things related to his PIPEDA requests in 2024, have no relevance to the matters to be adjudicated by this Tribunal and are denied on this basis.

[16] Second, although the applicant submits that the documents are not protected by solicitor-client privilege, I find that some of the requests made, for example the request found at xxvi. above (documents regarding legal research including but not limited to: the legal positions taken by SNIC with respect to CAT impairment, IRB calculations, MIG, OCF-6 expenses, et al.) could be protected by privilege. Pursuant to s. 15(2)(a) of the Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, privileged information is inadmissible.

[17] Furthermore, while one of the issues in dispute is an award under s. 10 of Regulation 664, I find that the remainder of the documents and things requested by the applicant are excessive, unreasonable, and no more than a fishing expedition.

[18] Moreover, at the time of the case conference on May 2, 2024, the respondent in this matter was TDGIC. The applicant made no document exchange requests or production requests at the time and has provided no explanation for waiting until after the production deadlines (as set out in the CCRO) have passed to make these requests. As a matter of procedural fairness, the respondent (now SNIC) is entitled to notice of the case to meet and to prepare for the hearing based on the documents exchanged in a timely manner in advance of the hearing and according to the Tribunal's orders including those in the CCRO.

[19] The sole reason TDGIC is a non-party is because the applicant requested - and obtained consent - to change the respondent to SNIC. The applicant has not satisfied me that the documents and things sought are relevant to the issues in dispute. Ultimately, the applicant submits that he is seeking the names of the "drafters and/or authors" of these various documents which is a fishing expedition rather than a basis to prove relevance.

585 AOL TAB #1 PAGE 8

[20] The applicant's motion for the production of documents and things as per NoM #13 are denied.

The applicant's request to add TDHA as a respondent and additional relief sought in NoM #14 is denied [21] In order to properly address the applicant's NoM #14, and more specifically the applicant's prolonged and inconsistent argument regarding the correct identification of the respondent, a brief history following the filing of the application is required.

[22] The applicant filed his application in December 2023 naming "TD Insurance" as the respondent insurer. On January 25, 2024, the respondent filed its response to the application under the insurer name SNIC, accompanied by its correspondence written on "TD Insurance" letterhead. In correspondence following the filing of the response, the applicant referred to the respondent as "TD SNIC" (as an example, in the applicant's first notice of motion and the applicant's affidavit dated January 28, 2024 – Affidavit #7 – he refers to the respondent as "TD SNIC").

[23] On January 30, 2024, respondent's counsel filed a Declaration of Representative (DoR) noting that he was representing the insurer "TDGIC". At some point between the filing of the respondent's counsel's DoR on January 30, 2024 and February 19, 2024, the respondent's identity was administratively changed by the Tribunal from SNIC to TDGIC.

[24] From February 19, 2024 when the applicant filed his fifth notice of motion, the applicant objected to the respondent being TDGIC and sought an order for it to be changed to SNIC. The applicant refuted the respondent's information that SNIC and TDGIC were "one and the same". The applicant filed five more notices of motion – all of which included submissions that the applicant opposed the respondent being TDGIC and requesting that it be changed to SNIC. In an Order dated June 20, 2024, on consent of the respondent, the applicant's request was granted and the name of the respondent was changed to SNIC.

[25] The applicant has now filed a motion in which he requests, amongst other relief, that TDHA be added as a respondent to the application.

[26] In his motion submissions, the applicant failed to point to any binding case law or legislative authority that permits the Tribunal to add a second respondent to an application before the Tribunal. As the Tribunal is a creature of statute and has no inherent jurisdiction, the relief sought by the applicant raises questions about whether the Tribunal has jurisdiction to add TDHA as a second respondent in these circumstances. The applicant failed to address the fundamental question of the Tribunal's jurisdiction to grant this relief in his submissions which is fatal to the application request.

[27] Even if the Tribunal has the authority to grant this relief, I am not satisfied that it would be appropriate to exercise that authority in the circumstances. The initial respondent, TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC, accepted priority over the applicant's insurance policy.

[28] The applicant's requests, under NoM #14, are denied.

The applicant's request to set timelines for the Tribunal's process is denied [29] It is well-settled that the Tribunal is entitled to control its own procedure (s. 25.01.1(a), Statutory Powers Procedure Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22) and is entitled to deference on matters requiring the exercise of discretion, such as scheduling and adjournment requests (Riddell v. Huynh, 2019 ONSC 2620 (Ont. Div. Ct.), at para. 33). Also, the Tribunal, and parties accessing the Tribunal, are assisted by its Rules.

[30] As such, the relief sought in the applicant's NoM #15 – to determine the process and set timelines for the determination of the various motions filed – is denied.

The applicant's continuous disregard of the Tribunal's process and resources

[31] Between the filing of the within application (on December 27, 2023) up to the filing of the applicant's NoM #15 on August 19, 2024 - the equivalent of 236 days - the applicant filed 13 motions, one request for accommodation, and a reconsideration request. This is the median equivalent of the applicant filing one motion with the Tribunal every 17 calendar days. It is challenging to provide an accurate list of all the requests made by the applicant during this period as several were made through correspondence in addition to the notices of motion filed.

[32] In my Order dated June 20, 2024, I put the applicant on notice that should he continue to disregard the Tribunal's processes, the Tribunal may simply refuse to hear the applicant's motion or dismiss it as an abuse of process. I provided examples of the numerous contradictions made by the applicant in his submissions which have made it challenging for the Tribunal to properly assess his position and how the continuous (and sometimes repetitive) notices of motion filed by the applicant have hindered the Tribunal's ability to ensure efficient and timely resolution of the requests made by the applicant and how this has rendered the case management of this file very challenging.

[33] I acknowledged the Tribunal's duty to accommodate self-representatives and noted the significant steps the Tribunal has taken to accommodate the applicant's unfamiliarity with its process. Despite the Tribunal's attempts to assist and educate the applicant, the applicant has continued to disregard the Tribunal's notice.

587 ROC (TAB #1, PAGE 10

[34] Of particular concern, the applicant continues to frustrate the Tribunal's process by filing significant submissions – over the 6 double-spaced page limit – which has continuously been brought to the applicant's attention. I note that after filing his motion #13 within, case management at the Tribunal contacted the applicant to remind him that submissions are to be limited to a maximum of six pages. The applicant responded by stating that his submissions were within that range.

[35] I note that although the document which the applicant refers to as his "submissions" are kept within six double-spaced pages, within these submissions, he references additional submissions filed through the means of affidavits. These affidavits, to date now totaling 30, are all sworn by the applicant and as such, are an attempt by the applicant to curtail the 6-page limit.

[36] In motion #13, the applicant filed an additional affidavit (Affidavit #26) which consists of 13 single-spaced pages (plus appendices with additional submissions) and references Affidavit #17 (55 pages), Affidavit #18 (9 pages), Affidavit #19 (33 pages), Affidavit #21 (27 pages), Affidavit #22 (10 pages), Affidavit #23 (5 pages), Affidavit #24 (19 pages), and Affidavit #27 (6 pages) for a total of at least 169 additional single-spaced pages of submissions.

[37] In motion #14, the applicant filed additional affidavits - Affidavit #29 (9 pages) and Affidavit #30 (20 pages) – and also references Affidavit #21 (2 pages) for a total of at least 31 additional single-spaced pages.

[38] As cited in my June 20, 2024 Order:

> The doctrine of abuse of process engages the inherent power of the court to prevent the misuse of its procedure, in a way that would be manifestly unfair to a party to the litigation before it or would in some other way bring the administration of justice into disrepute. (Justice Arbour in Toronto (City) v. C.U.P.E., Local 79, 2003 SCC 63 at para. 37).

[39] The applicant's actions have put a significant strain on Tribunal resources. If the applicant does not curtail his motion requests, the Tribunal will entertain any motion put forward by the respondent requesting costs against the applicant for frivolous motions and abuse of process.

Costs are denied

[40] The applicant seeks costs in each of its motions (NoM #13, 14 and 15).

[41] Rule 19.1 of the Rules provides that a party may make a request to the Tribunal for its costs where a party believes that another party in a proceeding has acted unreasonably, frivolously, vexatiously, or in bad faith. Rule 19.2 allows a request for costs to be made any time before a decision is released.

[42] The issue of costs has already been added to the issues in dispute in this matter. Doing so again would be repetitive and redundant.

588 ADL TAB #1 PAGE 11

[43] The applicant's motions are denied.

[44] I decline to determine the issue of costs at this time and leave it to the hearing adjudicator to determine.

[45] Except for the provisions contained in this Order, all previous orders made by the Tribunal remain in full force and effect.

[46] If the parties reach an agreement on the issues in dispute, the applicant shall immediately advise the Tribunal in writing.

[47] I am not seized of this matter.

ORDER

[1] On September 30, 2024, the applicant submitted a request for reconsideration with respect to the Tribunal's motion order dated September 13, 2024. In the motion order, the Tribunal dismissed the applicant's Notices of Motions filed on July 9, 2024, August 3, 2024, and August 19, 2024. In the applicant's August 3, 2024 Notice of Motion (also referred to by the applicant as "NoM #14"), the applicant sought an order adding TD Home and Auto Insurance Company (TDHA) as a respondent to this application.

[2] Pursuant to s. 17(2) of the Adjudicative Tribunals Accountability, Governance and Appointments Act, 2009, S.O. 2009, c. 33, Sched. 5, the Executive Chair has delegated to me authority to deal with such matters.

[3] I find that the applicant's request for reconsideration fails to comply with Rule 18.1 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, 2023 ("Rules") for the following reasons.

[4] The Tribunal's power to reconsider as set out in Rule 18.1 is a discretionary one. It provides that the Tribunal may reconsider any decision that finally disposes of an appeal if the request for reconsideration is made within 21 days of the date of the decision. In this case, although the applicant's request was filed within the 21-day deadline for filing a request for reconsideration, the September 13, 2024 motion order is not a decision that finally disposed of an appeal as required by Rule 18.1.

[5] The applicant's request for reconsideration focused solely on the Tribunal's decision in the September 13, 2024 motion order to not add TDHA as a second respondent to this application. The applicant relied upon several decisions including the Ontario Court of Appeal decision in M.E. v. Ontario, 2021 ONCA 719 (CanLII) (M.E.) which referred to the High Court of Justice, Divisional Court Decision in Bryson et al. v. Kerr, 1976 CanLII 887 (ON SC) (Bryson). The applicant submitted that these decisions stand for the proposition that an order dismissing a motion to add a party is a final order and, therefore, can be the subject of a reconsideration. I find that these decisions can be distinguished on the facts from this matter.

[6] M.E. is a decision under the Child, Youth and Family Services Act, 2017, S.O. 2017, c. 14, Sch. 1 in which the appellant filed a motion to add additional causes of action and new parties to the action. The motion was dismissed at first instance as frivolous, vexatious, and an abuse of process, and leave to appeal the motion to the Divisional Court was also dismissed. The appellant then sought leave to appeal the Divisional Court decision to the Ontario Court of Appeal.

which was granted as the Court of Appeal, relying on the decision in Bryson, found that an order dismissing a motion to add a party is "final."

[7] In Bryson, the plaintiff who was involved in a motor vehicle accident was seeking to add a co-defendant in what appears to be a tort proceeding involving the application of a limitation period under the then Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O. 1970, c. 202. The court in this matter found that an order dismissing an application made by the plaintiffs to add a defendant to the action was a final order.

[8] In this matter, Rule 16.1 is clear that the Tribunal may only reconsider any decision that finally disposes of an appeal and does not use the same wording as in M.E. and Bryson of a "final order." A final order is one that would finally dispose of the rights of the parties whereas an interlocutory matter is one that does not determine the real matter in dispute between the parties or the very subject matter of the litigation, but rather only a collateral matter: [LM] v. The Co-operators General Insurance Company, 2021 CanLII 28676 (ON LAT Reconsideration) at para. 9. Here, the motion order did not determine any of the substantive issues in dispute as set out in the May 2, 2024 Case Conference Report and Order, and the proceeding in this matter is ongoing with the written hearing scheduled for January 24, 2025.

[9] In his reconsideration submissions, the applicant also failed to point to any binding case law or legislative authority that would permit the Tribunal to add a second respondent to an application as noted in paragraph 26 of the September 13, 2024 motion order. As the Tribunal is a creature of statute and has no inherent jurisdiction, the Tribunal found that the relief sought by the applicant raised questions about whether the Tribunal has jurisdiction to add TDHA as a second respondent in this matter. This also distinguishes the circumstances in this matter from the decisions in Bryson and M.E. as in those cases, multiple respondents or defendants were permitted.

[10] Finally, and as noted above, the Tribunal's power to reconsider a decision is not an appeal of right but is rather a discretionary power which the Tribunal may exercise. If I am incorrect and the Tribunal's Motion Order dated September 13, 2024 is a "decision that finally disposes of an appeal" and the Tribunal may add multiple respondents to an application, I find this would not be an appropriate matter in which to exercise this discretion because the applicant has already made a request for, and was granted, an order regarding the naming of the respondent. The applicant filed 6 previous motions with the Tribunal seeking, amongst various other relief, an order changing the respondent's name from TD General Insurance Company to Security National Insurance Company (SNIC). In an Order dated June 20, 2024, on consent of the respondent, the applicant's request was granted, and the name of the respondent was changed to SNIC.

[11] For these reasons, the applicant's request for reconsideration is dismissed.

APPEARANCES:
For the Applicant:	Kevin McLean, self-represented
For the Respondent:	No submissions were requested
Motions heard in writing:	January 15, 2024

BACKGROUND

[1] The applicant was injured in an automobile accident on August 31, 2022 and sought benefits pursuant to the Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule Effective September 1, 2010 (including amendments effective June 1, 2016) (Schedule).

[2] The applicant was denied certain benefits and submitted an application to the Licence Appeal Tribunal - Automobile Accident Benefits Service (Tribunal) on December 27, 2023. The file has been open with the Tribunal for 19 days.

[3] A case conference has not yet been scheduled in this matter.

MOTIONS

[4] The applicant has filed three motions with the Tribunal.

[5] The applicant filed a Notice of Motion dated January 2, 2024 requesting the following relief:[1]

a. That the Tribunal issue the following Interim Orders:

i. A declaration that a catastrophic (CAT) impairment designation or determination is not a benefit under the Schedule;

ii. A declaration and Order that any assessment and/or examination fee, including fees associated with medical reports, the GOS test, and the completion of an Application for Determination of Catastrophic Impairment form (OCF-19) are not considered an expense pursuant to s. 18 of the Schedule;

iii. A declaration and Order that the provisions in s. 18 of the Schedule do not apply to fees and expenses incurred by the applicant for a CAT impairment determination by way of the submitted OCF-19 in a complete manner on November 10 and 11, 2023 to TD SNIC;

iv. A declaration that the submitted August 2023 MRI invoice and the October 2023 Neurosurgeon invoice are "subject and pursuant to section 25 of the SABS, being 'adjusting fees' and/or 'adjusting

[1] The applicant also requested various other forms of relief in his motion submissions on page 7. Rule 15.1 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, 2023 (Rules), however, provides that submissions in support of a motion must not exceed 6 double-spaced pages in length. As a result, the additional requests for relief were not considered as they were contained on pages that exceeded the permitted page length.

expenses" and are subject to the monetary limits under s. 25(5)(a) of the Schedule; and

v. An Order that TD SNIC pay the August 2023 MRI invoice on a forthwith basis.

[6] The applicant filed a Notice of Motion dated January 7, 2024 requesting the following relief:

a. An Order that the respondent pay to the applicant the rounded amount of the BMW Parkview Invoice ($1,531.00);

b. An Order that the respondent pay to the applicant $25,000 pursuant to s. 16(1), (2), (3)(j) and (4)(e) of the Schedule;

c. An Order that the respondent pay $598.50 to the applicant (April 2023 Rehab Invoice);

d. An Order that the respondent provide to the applicant, with a copy to the Tribunal, a full accounting of the amounts it has paid to the applicant since January 7, 2024;

e. Interest; and

f. An Award under Regulation 664.

[7] The applicant filed a Notice of Motion dated January 9, 2024 requesting the following relief:

a. A declaration that the respondent has failed within 10 business days of receipt of the applicant's Application for Accident Benefits (OCF-1), Employer's Confirmation (OCF-2), and Disability Certificate (OCF-3) dated November 3, 2022 to comply with s. 36(4) of the Schedule and is required to pay the specified benefit under s. 36(4)(a);

b. A declaration that the respondent remains bound by s. 36(6) of the Schedule until or if it complies with all of the requirements under section 36(4)(b) of the Schedule;

c. Interest;

d. "Penalty and compound interest" under Regulation 664; and

e. Costs of this motion if it is opposed.

RESULT

[8] I decline to consider the applicant's motions at this time.

ANALYSIS AND REASONS

[9] The applicant has filed various motions seeking, in part, interim orders and declaratory relief that requires findings on the substantive issues in dispute. A motion is not the proper procedure to make such requests, as the issues in dispute between the parties must proceed through the Tribunal's established processes. The Tribunal will only consider the substantive issues at the hearing of this matter.

[10] Further, if the applicant wishes to add any issues to the issues in dispute that he may have not included in his application, the process to do so is outlined in Rule 20.4 of the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, 2023 and these matters can also be addressed at the case conference.

[11] The applicant has also sought orders for production of certain information from the respondent. These requests can be considered and addressed at the case conference once scheduled.

ORDER

[12] I decline to consider the applicant's motions at this time.

[13] Except for the provisions contained in this Order all previous Orders made by the Tribunal remain in full force and effect.

[14] If the parties reach an agreement on the issues in dispute, the applicant shall immediately advise the Tribunal in writing.

NOTICE OF MOTION TO BE HEARD AT SCHEDULED EVENT

The Licence Appeal Tribunal will hear the motion filed by the applicant dated February 9, 2024 at the case conference scheduled to proceed on Thursday, May 2, 2024.

The order sought by the applicant is as follows:

1. An Order that the respondent pay the applicant $27,200 or any greater amount for the time period of one week after the accident to the deemed receipt date by the applicant of the respondent's "admitted IRB Denial on the IRB Denial Date (Saturday, December 23, 2023)."

The applicant also sought an Order for an award under s. 10 of Regulation 664 and costs. The applicant has already included his claim for an award in his application. The issue of costs can be requested to be added to the issues in dispute at the case conference. As a result, these requests will not be addressed as part of this motion.

The party responding to the motion is invited to file responding submissions by April 11, 2024. Submissions shall be limited to 6 double-spaced pages, exclusive of evidence and authorities, and they shall be served on all other parties and filed with the Tribunal. Responding submissions filed after this deadline or that exceed the page limits may not be considered by the adjudicator hearing the motion.

697 NOM #13 TAB #2 (1)

The party bringing the motion is invited to file reply submissions by April 25, 2024. Submissions shall be limited to 3 double-spaced pages, exclusive of evidence and authorities, and they shall be served on all other parties and filed with the Tribunal. Reply submissions filed after this deadline or that exceed the page limits may not be considered by the adjudicator hearing the motion.

If you do not participate in the case conference, the Tribunal may make a decision on the motion in your absence and without further notice to you.

The documents submitted by the parties for the motion may be made available to the public, unless the Tribunal orders otherwise.

If the parties reach an agreement on the motion prior to the scheduled motion hearing date, the party bringing the motion shall immediately advise the Tribunal in writing.

If you require an accommodation to participate in a Tribunal proceeding, or, information about the Tribunal's processes, including the Licence Appeal Tribunal Rules, please contact the Tribunal by phone at 416-326-1356 or toll-free at 1-888-444-0240. Re #2: maximum amount payable for Medical and Rehab benefits respect of Insured Person SHALL not exceed the sum of $3,500.00 for an Impairment that is predominately a Minor Injury

269. Now shown to me marked as EXHIBIT "A", pages denoted above are copies of the documents described and particularized above. TD SNIC, based upon my review of the documents and the October 12, 2023 letter.

VOLUME 17(D)(I): what type of "a review" was done and by whom? Was the individual(s) who conduct said review able to fully grasp and comprehend the "documented medical evidence"?

270. It is unclear to me what type of "review" was done by TD SNIC. I look forward to seeing and inspecting those documents (if there are any) and whom they were completed by.

271. As noted above and in the documentary evidence to this my affidavit #3 and previous affidavits #1 and #2, I put TD SNIC to strict proof herein and thereof any positions it has taken, and challenge it to produce documents in any process or by way of privacy requests, and to retain all of the same until I have exhausted all of my rights (whether provincial or federal).

272. Based on TD singular review of the documented medical evidence, which was created by medical professionals (Physicians) utilizing MRIs and X rays, I believe that I have provided TD with means and opportunity to determine that the plain language in the MRI Reports (and X-rays which excluded a broken bone in my left hand), and I would presume it has the "skill" to review the language in MIG to determine that there is no language therein that would fall under the definition of "Minor Injury".

VOLUME 17(D)(II): "Unable" (to determine)

273. I note the definition of "unable" is lacking.
a. Skill;
b. Means; or
c. opportunity to do something.

274. I find and have found it unfortunate that TD SNIC does not have the skills to determine that my "existing medical condition(s)" are sufficient to exclude me from the MIG

Dear Ms. Nurse, thank you for the recent letter and enclosed OCF-3. I will have to review the materials in detail and revert back to you. In the interim, I note that I am to see the surgeon on November 3 or 4, 2022 (have to check my records). I can provide the update that I am following the information provided and trying to utilize all of the medications, supplements, therapeutic measures but, as stated, in the MRI I am suffering from degenerative disc disease as a result of the Collision. It takes quite some time to book an appointment for these matters but I will see if I can do a "walk in" or book an expedited appointment. Thank you kindly and hope all is well. Take care, Kevin

Dear Sir:

Thank you for submitting your Application for Accident Benefits (OCF-1) dated October 7, 2022 and received on October 13, 2022. Based on our review of the above documentation, we have assessed your eligibility to receive the benefits listed below.

Medical and Rehabilitation Benefit:
The maximum amount payable for Medical and Rehabilitation Benefits in respect of an insured person shall not exceed the sum of $3,500.00 for a non-catastrophic impairment under the definition of a Minor Injury. This amount is inclusive of the treatment received within the Minor Injury Guideline. As your impairment has not been deemed to be outside of the Minor Injury Guideline or to meet the criteria for a catastrophic impairment, no further Medical and Rehabilitation benefits will be considered in excess of the above limitation.

Please be advised that we will not pay for any portion of the approved goods and services which are payable under any other insurance plan. You or your healthcare providers are required to first submit an invoice for these expenses to your own extended healthcare plan for coverage prior to submitting to TD Insurance.

Income Replacement Benefit:
The amount of the benefit is calculated based on 70% of your gross weekly income from employment to a maximum of $400 per week and may be subject to deduction for collateral benefits or income from Employment received subsequent to the accident. The benefit is payable during the period that you continue to suffer a substantial inability to perform the essential tasks of your employment.

No benefit is payable for the first week of disability or for a period longer than 104 weeks of disability, unless you continue to suffer a complete inability to engage in any employment for which you are reasonably suited by education, training or experience.

We are unable to determine your entitlement to this benefit without the completed Disability Certificate (OCF-3).

Non-Earner Benefit:

(43)

The Non-Earner Benefit is payable for the period you continue to suffer a complete inability to carry on a normal life. The amount of the benefit payable is $185 per week. No benefit is payable for first 4 weeks of disability and for any period before you attain the age 18, if applicable. Be advised that this benefit is payable only for the first 104 week from the date of the above accident.

We are unable to determine your entitlement to this benefit without the completed Disability Certificate (OCF-3).

Housekeeping and Home Maintenance & Caregiver Benefits:
We have determined that you are not eligible for these benefits as you have not purchased Optional Housekeeping and Caregiver Benefits as part of your automobile policy and your injuries do not meet the definition of a catastrophic impairment, you are not eligible to receive these benefits.

Damage to Clothing, Glasses, Hearing Aids, etc.
You will be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred by you to repair or replace clothing you were wearing at the time of the accident including prescription eyewear, dentures, hearing aids, prosthesis, and other medical or dental devices that were lost or damaged as a result of the accident.

We are enclosing another Disability Certificate OCF-3 for your convenience. The OCF-3 is to be completed by a health practitioner of your choosing. A health practitioner may include, but is not limited to, your family physician. The OCF-3 form describes who can complete it on your behalf.

The enclosed Applicant's Right to Dispute notice explains your rights and limitations regarding your Accident Benefits claim.

If we can assist you in any way, please contact Alisha-Anne Nurse, Claims Services, at 1-877-855-3767 x264213, or by fax at 416-774-3120. When doing so, please refer to the above-mentioned claim number to help us serve you better.

As requested, I have paid for and had the OCF-3 form completed with a duly licensed doctor who has seen me since the Date of Loss. I kindly enclose my receipt for the same and I await reimbursement for this expenses and the outstanding expenses to the bank account provided approximately a month ago. I have a copy of the fax transmission sheet from the doctor's office this morning. It has been quite an ordeal to do so as a result of the timing of the Collision. I have a further letter to follow but I will await the benefits and reimbursement of expenses to be paid to the bank account above. Thank you.

   b. certain declaratory relief; and
   c. ancillary relief.

8. I believe, even if TDHA is the solely liable insurance company for my benefits pursuant to the Schedule in accordance with requirements under Reg 283, SNIC, as the "Sole SABS Insurer" should bear some of the costs of this McLean Proceeding if TDHA, as known to it, does not comply with its legal obligations and I am required to bring a motion to add TDHA as a party.

9. I repeat and rely, and incorporate the definitions from Reg 283 herein as follows:

   a. Application;
   b. Benefits; and
   c. Completed Application.

10. While I had addressed Reg 283 in certain costs submission et al in this McLean Proceeding, I had done so in the context between SNIC and TDGIC, and my allegation by the unilateral inclusion of TDGIC as the sole respondent party after SNIC had filed and served its "Response" (which remains the sole Response herein this McLean Proceeding) that SNIC had circumvented Reg 283 by its approval or tacit approval, by conduct, of the defence of the relief sought in my Appeal (including

This is the 20th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under TD insurance (SNIC – Wildfire Program") Claim Number [illegible] from Mr. TD Insurance Policy Number [illegible] (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number [illegible] (the "LAT File Number", "LAT Proceeding" or "Arbitration Proceeding") under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 397 ("SNIC #397") and potentially involving the "Third Party" to whom an Unredacted Application October 15, 2022 was my fax to the 416 Fax Number any other unknown or fictitious TD claim numbers associated with me) being "transferred" or "assigned" to TDGIC.

11. I now believe, after my recent investigations and discoveries, that there is no evidence (external or internal) related to TDGIC but exclusively related to TDGIC which is as follows including but not limited to.

a. The fax number of 416-774-3120 (the "416 FAX NUMBER") having only public evidence from 2018 to present as being the fax number of TD Home And Auto Insurance Company ("TDHA"); and

b. The address of 304 The East Mall, Etobicoke, Toronto, Ontario, M9B 6B7 (the "East Mall Address" or the former "Valhalla Executive Offices" (the "Former Valhalla Executive Offices") being associated, by way of former 6th floor office space being listed on Yelp as "TD Home And Auto Insurance Company".

12. I swear that the insurance policy under the Policy Number (see: header) only listed Security National Insurance Company as the insurer in that "contract of insurance".

13. However, I now believe that whomever provided the 416 FAX NUMBER in mailed documents to be purporting to be the fax number of SNIC at the SNIC Markham office ("SNIC Markham Office") made a mistake or misrepresented (perhaps innocently) said 416 FAX NUMBER as the fax number of SNIC at the SNIC Markham Office. I now believe, having reviewed and investigated postal codes in Ontario and Markham, that SNIC could not have had a 416 FAX NUMBER in Markham (see: Exhibit "A" herein).

14. I further now believe that whomever conducted the technological setting or changes in HCAI to purport that SNIC had a branch office at the East Mall Address in 2022 to 2024 made a mistake or misrepresented (perhaps innocently) the East Mall Address as a purported branch office of SNIC in the HCAI by way of "auto-population" (which cannot be amended by the submitter which I have learned from health practitioners and I verily believe to be true).

15. I now further believe that whomever has been conducting the technological changes to the names of adjusters for SNIC, albeit at the East Mall Address from, at least, 2023 to 2024, has made a mistake or misrepresented the same therein by way of those adjusters not being located at the East Mall Address.

16. While I appreciate that "TD General Insurance Company" and "TDHA" may have been tenants at the same time after my Date Of Loss at the Victoria Park Building, the only evidence that I can find in relation to the East Mall Address, which has auto-populated in HCAI since at least part of 2023 and 2024, is tied to "TD Home And Auto Insurance Company". Moreover, I cannot find any evidence that the 416-774-3120 fax number is tied to TDGIC but rather, the public evidence that I have found, is that said 416 FAX NUMBER is the fax number of TDHA.

17. Based upon my research, I believe that the "Former Valhalla Executive Centre" looked like this:

This is the 39th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under TD Insurance (SNC "Absent Program") Claim Number 0353157003 ("TD Claim #"), TD Insurance Policy Number 8001615510 (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "21-005663/AABS" (the "LAT File Number"), LAT Proceedings or Ahl case Proceeding") under section 258(3) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole independent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") as Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 399 ("SNIC #399") and potentially involving the "First Insurer" (as set out in Claimant Application) October 11, 2022 via my fax to the 416 Fax Number

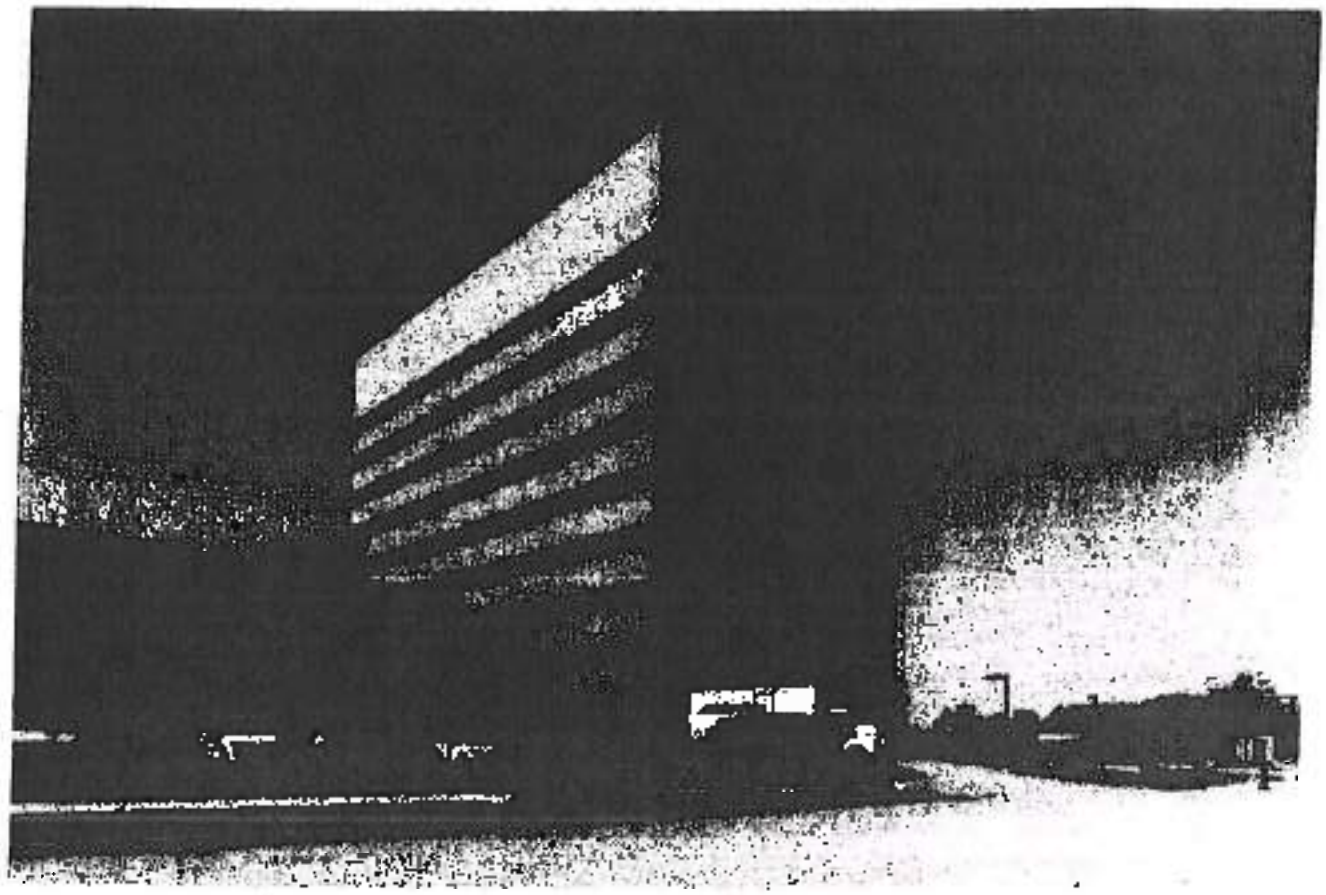
This is the 20th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under TD Insurance (Slight) "Abatujt Program") Claim Number [illegible] Policy Number [illegible] (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "[illegible]" (the "LAT File Number"), "LAT Proceeding" or "Motion Proceeding") under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act (formally involving the sole responding party (the "Sole Responding Party") the Security Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 307 ("SNIC #307") and potentially involving the "Third Insurer" in receipt of Completed Applications of October 13, 2022 via my fax to the 416 Fax Number



18. I note the "304" in blue to the left of the commercial truck with the name of "Mackie".

19. I swear under oath that I am not aware of any potential home policy that was combined with the Insurance Policy with SNIC as the underwriter. I maintain my evidence that SNIC was and is the "SABS Insurer".

20. If TDHA, through its chief agent in Mr. Russell (along with the delivery this week of the emails deposed in Exhibit "A", to TDHA to 66 Wellington West, Toronto, Ontario), disputed that the 416 FAX NUMBER was that of TDHA, I believe that TDHA would have denied the same. As of today's date, I have not received any denials of the same.

21. I believe, based on my copying and pasting from online dictionaries that the definitions of "receipt" and "pending" are as follows:

a. "Receive" means: get something; come into possession of.
b. "Pending" means: "begun but not completed.

This is the 30th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under TD Insurance (SNIC, "Abatelli Program") Claim Number 0350579[illegible] ("the McLean SNIC") TD Insurance Policy Number #0099L351B06 (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number [illegible] (the "LAT File Number") ("LAT Proceeding" or "Action Proceeding") under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 397 ("SNIC #397") and potentially involving the First Insurer to receive my Completed Application (October 13, 2022 via my fax to the 416 Fax Number)

22. I am continuing to ruminate about whether it is best to add TDHA as a "party" or to commence a separate LAT Proceeding against TDHA for similar relief sought herein albeit due to a "unilateral mistake" or "misrepresentation" by SNIC to me.

23. I do not believe that the Tribunal, as a creature of statute, has any inherent or equitable jurisdiction and must conduct any proceedings in accordance with the Insurance Act and associated regulations along with the SPPA, LATA and Legislation Act.

24. I have also ruminated about why Mr. Nieuwland and TDISL continued to take the position that "TDGIC and SNIC" were one and the same, and opposing my requests and relief (until June 2024) for TDGIC to be removed as it was not the SABS insurer, when the now evidence I have all points to TDHA having the 416 FAX NUMBER and having a branch office at the East Mall Address. I have also ruminated about why Mr. Nieuwland, Ms. Moraes and those employed at TDISL would represent that TDGIC was the sole respondent party when I believe they knew that the 416 FAX NUMBER and the East Mall Address were associated with TDHA, and not seek to represent TDHA (as opposed to TDGIC).

25. I now believe that TDISL, through Mr. Nieuwland and Ms. Moraes, did so because they sought to delay my access to benefits under the Schedule, and had Mr. Nieuwland filed a DOR for TDHA (as opposed to TDGIC on January 30, 2024). I further believe that the aforementioned did so because if I had the name of "TD Home And Auto Insurance Company" as the sole respondent party in lieu of SNIC, then I may have typed in the name of "TDHA" and it would have returned the 416 FAX NUMBER. I further believe that they were concerned or anxious that had I done so, I would have then realized (as both the 416 FAX NUMBER and the East Mall Address were all represented to me as being the fax number of SNIC and the branch office of SNIC) that TDHA was the "First Insurer" to receive my Completed Application (see: Reg 283). In this regard, although only SNIC filed a "Response" in the McLean Proceeding, it may have allowed me or at least they (TDISL, Mr. Nieuwland and Ms. Moraes) feared that I could have, inter alia, proceeded against TDHA on a summary basis without the delays of having motions, case conferences, et al against TDGIC, and continuing to seek to have the style of cause amended by order.

26. Based on my review of the "A07 Auto Bulletin" (see: infra) from the then FSCO, I believe that the First Insurer has not only a duty to pay all benefits, if it does not dispute within 90 days of receipt of the Completed Application, but it also has a duty to respond and engage with the "applicant" who delivered the "Completed Application" to the "First Insurer". Regarding myself, I only submitted the Completed Application via fax to the 416 FAX NUMBER. To the extent, and I have no evidence to the contrary or denials by TDHA or SNIC, that the 416 FAX NUMBER and East Mall Address are as the public evidence indicates, the fax number and former branch office of TDHA, then my belief is that not only was TDHA the "First Insurer" to receive the Completed Application but the only insurer to receive all of the OCF-18's from Rehab Mechanics. I believe that to the extent that TDHA was the First Insurer to receive the Completed Application and all of the OCF-18's to the represented branch office at the East Mall Address, then TDHA has an obligation to pay any and all benefits that I am entitled under SABS, and I still do not have any "decision" from TDHA in relation to any of the benefits that I have sought. I further believe that if TDHA was the First Insurer to receive the Completed Application, then its obligations to pay and all outstanding benefits and future benefits operate independently from this McLean Proceeding. I ground my belief in this regard pursuant to the Insurance Act, SABS, Reg 283 and the CDAP Rule. I have provided TDIIA, though its chief agent, with my consent to communicate via email to the email (mcleanSNICLat@gmail.com) for any and all purposes relating to the same (see: Exhibit "A").

27. I now believe that the attempts to have me consent to communicate via email in Spring 2023 and the "Spam Faxes" were at the instruction or advise of TDIIA to SNIC to ensure that I did not send any more faxes to the 416 FAX NUMBER. I note that the "Spam Faxes" did not have any reference to any insurance company and I recall finding it to be terribly informal and was stunned that any "insurance company" would claim it had no record of my "claim number" which was "TD Claim #3". Now having read Reg 283 and the A07 Auto Bulletin, along with my recently discovered evidence as of July 26, 2024 to present, I believe that is consistent with some of the language in the Auto Bulletin (see: infra) as follows:

> b) The insurer that first receives a completed OCF-1 application is the "first insurer" for the purposes of Ontario Regulation 283/95. (Section 2.1(5))
> A "first insurer" may not refuse to respond to the application on the basis that the application is not from an "insured person", or that there was no relevant policy in place on the date of the accident (e.g., the insurance policy was cancelled, expired or never existed).

28. I now believe that TDIIA refused to respond, which I believe was not an entitled it had, in the hopes that I would never figure out or learn of the 416 FAX NUMBER being its fax number at the material times along with the East Mall Address being its former branch office.

29. I make a formal demand for the benefit of my health practitioners, who are enrolled with HCAI, that whomever made the mistake in HCAI that he or she correct the mistake and include only the name of the "First Insurer", as 90 days from October 13, 2022 (the date of receipt of my Completed Application by the 416 Fax Number) was on or around January 10, 2023, and its correct mailing address, head office and/or branch office.

Volume #2: Exhibits

30. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A" to this my affidavit is a copy of my emails that I have delivered to TDIIA (chief agent for TDIIA in Mr. Russell) and SNIC (its adjusters and representatives as known to me) from on or around July 27, 2024 to July 30, 2024 regarding my confirmation, without denial from TDIIA or SNIC, that the fax number of 416-774-3120 was, during the months of September to December 2022 (and beyond), TDIIA's fax number. Exhibit "A" is enumerated from pages 1(a) to 46.

31. For ease of reference, I have defined the fax number of 416-774-3120 as the "416 FAX NUMBER". I have also utilized this definition because it is the only 416 area code fax number that I received from SNIC in September 2022, which I now do not believe was its [SNIC] fax number at any time after the Date Of Loss. I believe, based on the sources of my belief in the exhibits herein, that the 416 FAX NUMBER was TDIIA's fax number at the Victoria Park Building. From Exhibit "1" to Exhibit "X", I included the majority of the exhibits therein as attachments to my emails to TDIIA and SNIC.

This is the 30th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under FB Insurance (SNIC - Ontario Program) (Claim Number 0[illegible] DOI [illegible] FB Insurance Policy Number 000[illegible] (the "Policy Number"); LAT File Number: 24-003642/AABS (the "LAT File Number", "LAT Proceeding" or "Mclean Proceeding") under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party also "Sole Respondent Party" is Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 309 ("SNIC FSRA #309") and potentially involving the "third interest" in recovery as it employs but, Application on October 11, 2022 via my fax to the 416 Fax Number

32. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "B" to this my affidavit is a copy of a public listing for TDHA that lists its address as the Victoria Park Building with a fax number of 416-774-3120 (see: page 47), and copies of letters from SNIC to myself, which represented to me that SNIC's fax number was the 416 FAX NUMBER (see: pages 48 to 55).

33. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "C" to this my affidavit are copies of documents involving the Victoria Park Building (see: pages 56 to 69).

34. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "D" to this my affidavit is a copy of the Order involving the "Notice of Motion to be heard at Scheduled Event" from February 13, 2024 (see: pages 70 to 71). I note in Exhibit "D", page 71 that the phone number list for "TDGIC" (not TDHA) is not as close to the fax number digits as the TDHA listed phone number in the "Ontario Business Directory" (see: Exhibit "B", page 47).

35. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "E", pages 72 to 73, to this my affidavit is a copy of documents from the Ontario Business Directory website from on or around July 18, 2024, involving the "Burlington Address" which was represented as SNIC by SNIC, with reference to Ms. Persaud as the then claims adjuster or advisor for SNIC, with the fax number of 905-315-1074 (the "905 Fax Number").

36. Based upon my review and research, SNIC Markham is approximately 91 kilometers from the Burlington Address. Based upon phone calls, research and investigations conducted by myself or on my behalf, I do not believe that SNIC has been located at the Burlington Address after the Date Of Loss to present.

Exhibit "F"

37. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "F", pages 74 to 76 is a copy of the document that was sent to me on or around April 20, 2023 but not received until early May 2023. I note that on page 76 therein that Ms. Nurse did not sign the OCF-18, Part 13 "Signature of Insurer" under the field "signature of adjuster" as it reads to me as "As per A. Nurse" in printed language with the inscription of "Ki W" above it". It appears to me that the entirety of the document on page 7 was typed and printed and then the printed "As Per A. Nurse" appears to me to be in black ink.

38. I now believe that one of the reasons that Ms. Nurse could not sign this Dhaliwal OCF-18 was because she was a claims advisor or adjuster for SNIC, and TDHA was the "First Insurer" to receive my "Completed Application" (OCF-1) albeit unbeknownst to me until July 26, 2024.

39. I further note that I have never received a signed OCF-18, Part 13 from any adjuster on behalf of SNIC or otherwise despite the submission of signed OCF-18's from my physiotherapists in 2023 and 2024 which amount, by my recent computation, to five (5) OCF-18's.

40. Based upon my investigations or investigations on my behalf, I now, pursuant to the exhibits herein, do NOT believe that any of the "claims advisors" or "claims advisors" for SNIC have had any authority to execute any of the OCF-18's pursuant to, inter alia, TDHA being the "First Insurer" to receive my Completed Application on October 13, 2022 (see: Reg 283).

Exhibit "G"

Re: OCF-18's select pages

41. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "G", pages 77 to 95 are copies of some of my OCF-18's as follows:

a. Dhaliwal* OCF-18 (April 06, 2023) (see: pages 77 to 86);
b. The first page of the February 2024 OCF-18 submitted by Rehab Mechanics through HCAI that returned a document number therein with the address of the East Mall Address (see: page 87);
c. Other pages from OCF-18, submitted in 2023, by Rehab Mechanics to the attention of Ms. Persaud (see: pages 88 to 94); and
d. The first page from the OCF-18 from summer of 2024 submitted by Rehab Mechanics that had the address of the East Mall Address (see: page 95).

42. I swear that all of my OCF-18's have been submitted by myself to the Tribunal and served upon SNIC.

43. While I was entirely unaware that the East Mall Address was NOT an address for SNIC but only TDHA, by reference to the Yelp listing (the "TDHA Yelp Listing") in public internet search engines, until the time of making this Affidavit #30, I inquired with various health practitioners, who have HCAI accounts, as to how the address would be denoted as such without my input whatsoever. I learned from those various health practitioners, as of this week, and I verily believe to be true, that the East Mall Address would auto-populate along with a potential adjuster. I believe the same to be true based upon my conversations with the aforementioned health practitioners because my current physiotherapy company knew of the change from Ms. Persaud to Ms. Michie before I did when it was preparing and finalizing the HCAI OCF-18 submissions. In this regard, we have chosen the route to sign off on the draft OCF-18's at first instance and then the finalized HCAI OCF-18 submitted versions thereafter.

Potentially two respondent parties in this LAT Proceeding

44. In light of the potential that there may be two parties in this LAT Proceeding, I am now redefining the SNIC Proceeding to "McLean Proceeding" to avoid any confusion if TDHA is the sole insurance company that is liable to pay any and all benefits under TD Claim #3 and the McLean Proceeding.

45. I reference "two respondent parties" as it is unclear to me whether Mr. Dhaliwal's HCAI submission had the address of the East Mall Address or SNIC Markham in the final submission as Rehab Mechanics does not have access to TONP's HCAI account.

46. To the extent that SNIC received the Dhaliwal OCF-18 at SNIC Markham, which is unclear to me and I now demand, pursuant to section 5.4(1) of the SPPA and the LAT Rules, whichever "branch

However, my review leads me to a different conclusion pursuant to Reg 283 and the amendments as of 2010 to Reg 283, to the extent that TDHA was the "first recipient insurer" or "First Insurer" (all defined as "First Insurer") to RECEIVE my Completed Application. While I was only entitled to submit the Completed Application to one (1) insurance company, pursuant to, inter alia, Reg 283, I believed at the time of submitting my Completed Application, by reference to the pre-printed language in the OCF-1 that was provided to me via mail, that I was submitting to SNIC at its SNIC Markham branch office (now defined herein and retrospectively as the "SNIC Markham Branch Office").

47. With the absence of any responses from TDHA and SNIC, I now believe that it was only TDHA that received (got possession of) at first instance my Completed Application including my OCF-2, OCF-3, OCF-6's and OCF-19's. I further now believe, based upon the exhibits and hyperlinks herein, that TDHA received at TDHA's former office or "former branch office" on the 6th floor of the East Mall Address, all of the OCF-18's from Rehab Mechanics.

This regulation is intended to ensure that claimants receive accident benefits (e.g., medical and income replacement benefits) in a timely fashion while these disputes are being resolved[7]. Ontario Regulation 283/95 was established in 1995 following several years of experience with the no-fault accident benefits system.

> During the past several years, a number of procedural issues and disputes over the interpretation of Ontario Regulation 283/95 have led to delays in paying claimants' benefits. In addition, the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund (MVACF) has frequently had to get involved to ensure that benefit payments to injured persons were not delayed - even if a private insurer was obliged to make the payments

This is the 30th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. Arcuri in his capacity as Chief Executive Officer of Arcuri Insurance Brokers Inc. (the "Agent") dated October 23, 2024.

As part of the automobile insurance reforms which resulted from FSCO's Five Year Review of Automobile Insurance, effective September 1, 2010 Ontario Regulation 283/95 is amended by Ontario Regulation 38/10. These amendments were made to ensure that claims are not deflected and that claimants receive payments without delay in cases where there may be a dispute regarding which insurer is liable to pay statutory accident benefits. Insurers that do not comply with this regulation will be subject to appropriate regulatory action.

Key Regulation Changes

1. Deflection of Applications for Accident Benefits

a) Upon request, an insurer must provide a claimant timely access to OCF-1: Application for Accident Benefits (OCF-1 application). (Section 2.1(2))

Individuals who are injured in automobile accidents often contact the insurance company that they believe is liable to pay accident benefits before they complete and send their OCF-1 application to the insurer. In many cases, claimants are not aware of the priority rules that determine which insurer is liable to pay them benefits. The Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule (SABS) requires an insurer to provide an OCF-1 application to an injured person who expresses an intention to make a claim for benefits. This requirement is now reinforced by section 2.1(2) of Ontario Regulation 283/95.

b) An insurer must not impede claimants from submitting OCF-1 applications or redirect them to other insurers or the MVACF. (Section 2.1(5))

When a claimant first contacts an insurer following an accident, it is not always clear, based on information reported by the claimant, if that insurer is responsible for paying the accident benefits in accordance with the priority rules. It is inappropriate for the insurer to discourage the injured person from filing an OCF-1 application, for example on the grounds that there is no insurance coverage (e.g., due to a cancelled insurance policy), or that there is another insurer to whom the person should make his or her claim. Insurers must provide claimants who express an intention to make an accident benefits claim with an OCF-1 application and not direct them to file it with MVACF or another insurer. Section 2.1(5) of Ontario Regulation 283/95 prohibits the deflection of OCF-1 applications. This includes deflection on the grounds that it is not clear which insurer is required to pay accident benefits.

c) The first insurer that receives an OCF-1 application must pay accident benefits in accordance with the SABS. (Section 2.1(6))

In order to prevent delays in payments, Ontario Regulation 283/95 requires the first insurer that receives a completed OCF-1 application to pay the accident benefits, as long as the claimant meets the requirements of the SABS. Although an insurer may believe that it is not responsible for paying accident benefits under the priority rules, the process to transfer, dispute and recover paid benefits is set out in Ontario Regulation 283/95.

d) An insurer that fails to comply with this section will reimburse the MVACF or another insurer[1] all related legal fees, administrative costs and disbursements. (Section 2.1(7)

Section 2.1 (7) has been added to Ontario Regulation 283/95 to confirm the ability to recover costs incurred by the MVACF or an insurer in the administration of a claim (including adjusting costs) from the non-compliant insurer.

2. Definitions of "First Insurer" and "Completed Application"

Several amendments are intended to provide clarity on issues that have arisen since the release of Ontario Regulation 283/95 in 1995; such as what is a "first insurer" and "Completed Application".

a) A "Completed Application" is defined as a completed and signed OCF-1 application. (Section 0.1)

b)The insurer that first receives a completed OCF-1 application is the "first insurer" for the purposes of Ontario Regulation 283/95. (Section 2.1(6))

A "first insurer" may not refuse to respond to the application on the basis that the application is not from an "insured person", or that there was no relevant policy in place on the date of the accident (e.g., the insurance policy was cancelled, expired or never existed).

c) The applicant shall complete the OCF-1 application that is provided by the insurer and send it to only one insurance company. (Section 2.1(4))

Claimants are required to submit a completed OCF-1 application to only one insurer. This is intended to avoid potential disputes over which insurer first received a Completed Application, rather than creating confusion by submitting OCF-1 applications to more than one insurer.

3. Time Limitations for Notifying Other Insurers of Liability a) Before initiating a dispute against the MVACF, an insurer is required to complete a reasonable investigation to determine if any other insurer(s) is/are liable to pay benefits in priority to the MVACF, and provide the MVACF with the particulars and results of the investigation. (Section 3.1(2)(a) and (b))

Section 3 of Ontario Regulation 283/95 provides the first insurer 90 days from the receipt of the Completed Application to conduct a reasonable investigation. This time frame allows the insurer to conduct an investigation to determine whether another insurer is liable

This is the 38th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean made TD Insurance (SMC: "Aviva Program") Claim Number 03525799-3 ("Claim #3") ... Policy Number 4001033[illegible] (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "23-005603/AABS" (the "LAT File Number"), "LAT Proceeding" ... Proceeding Number section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") ... Company ("SMC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 397 ("SMC #397") and potentially involving the "Applicant" in respect of my Completed Application ... October 13, 2022 via my fax to the 416 Fax Number to pay benefits, and to deliver written notice to other insurers if it believes they are liable to pay for accident benefits under the priority rules.

Ontario Regulation 283/95 provides an extension beyond 90 days only if the first insurer has made reasonable investigation of the claim, but cannot reach a decision within the 90 day period.

Section 3.1 requires an insurer that wishes to put the MVACF on notice of a dispute to first complete a reasonable investigation and provide the results of the investigation to the MVACF. Due to the unique nature of the claims that are submitted directly to the MVACF, in many cases another policy is discovered only after an extended period of investigation. As a result, this time limit does not apply to OCF-1 applications that are submitted first to the MVACF. (Section 3(2.1)) To facilitate the early resolution of disputes between insurers, a dispute about which insurer is responsible for payments must go to arbitration within one year of providing notice to the other insurer. See section 7 for the specific rules that need to be followed.

Enforcement

Note that in addition to sections 2.1(7) and 7 (6), actions contrary to Ontario Regulation 283/95 will be subject to appropriate enforcement or regulatory action in accordance with section 441 of the Insurance Act and Ontario Regulation 7/00: Unfair or Deceptive Acts or Practices. Publication of Arbitration Decisions involving Disputes Between Insurers Amendments to Ontario Regulation 283/95 have been made to ensure that arbitration decisions involving disputes between insurers are both timely and publicly available. The amendments require the insurer that is found by the arbitrator to be liable to pay benefits to make the arbitrator's decision public in a manner and form specified by the Superintendent. (Section 8(4)) The specified form and the process by which insurers will need to comply with this requirement will be the subject of a future Property & Casualty Auto Bulletin.

Effective Date

The effective date of the Ontario Regulation 283/95 amendments is September 1, 2010.

All insurers need to ensure that their[19] claims and underwriting staff, plus any other staff who may be affected by these amendments, are informed of these changes. In addition, insurers are to ensure that they make any operational changes needed to implement the reforms by the effective date. Copies of Regulations

May 13, 2010

Exhibit "H"

49. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "H", pages 96 to 103 are copies of pages from Yelp that exclusively reference the East Mall Address (see: page 96, "TD Home And Auto Insurance Company", 304 The E Mall, Toronto, ON , M9B 6B7; see: page 98, 304 The E Mall 6th Fl Toronto, ON M9B 6B7; see: page 99, 304 The E Mall, 6th Fl, Toronto, ON M9B 6B7 Etobicoke)

50. I swear under oath that I have not been able to find any evidence, or been provided any evidence from SNIC that its branch office was at the East Mall Address in 2022 to 2024.

51. For completeness purposes, I also cannot find any evidence that the Fictitious Respondent ("FXGIC") had its branch office at the East Mall Address.

52. I swear that I have only found information and evidence that the East Mall Address WAS a branch office for TD Home And Auto Insurance Company.

53. Based on my evidence supra, I believe that the "auto-population" of the address of the East Mall Address exclusively relates to TDHA (FSRA registration number 1063).

Exhibit "I"

54. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "I", pages 104 to 106 are copies of documents that I have found which I believe demonstrate that the East Mall Address in the former "Valhalla Executive Centre" has been inoperable since on or around 2020 or 2021 (prior to my Date Of Loss) relating to not only the East Mall Address but also "300 The East Mall" and "302 The East Mall" as follows:

a. Article from www.toronto.com by Ms. Tamara Shepard on November 11, 2020 titled "High-rise condos replacing Valhalla Executive Centre in Etobicoke" (see: pages 104 to 106).

Exhibit "J"

55. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "J", pages 107 to 112 are copies of documents that I have found which I believe demonstrate that not only was the Valhalla Executive Office (buildings and premised approved for demolition in 2020 by Toronto city council (the "Toronto Council" or "City Council") and demolished thereafter but that the "breaking of ground" for construction of the 494 units (which includes 172 "affordable units" in Valhalla Village on "The East Mall") occurred in January 2024:

a. Article from the Daily Commercial News titled "KingSett leads Toronto East Mall affordable housing project" dated January 18, 2024 (see: pages 107 to 109); and
b. Article from the "City of Toronto" titled, "City of Toronto celebrates the ground-breaking of 172 affordable rental homes at 300-304 The East Mall" dated January 16, 2024.

Volume #3: Conclusion and Jurat

56. I note the following from SABS, along with Reg 283, with specific reference to section 32:

a. Upon an insurer being notified of a person's intent to apply for one or more benefits described in the Schedule (see: SABS, ss. 32(1)), said insurer shall promptly provide said person with appropriate application forms, Specified Benefit election rights, and information to assist the person in applying for benefits (see: SABS, ss. 32(2)).
   i. In order for said person to apply for benefits, she must, in writing, send the Completed Application via mail or fax (see: Reg 283) within 10 days after she has received the various application forms which includes an OCF-1 (see: SABS, ss. 32(5)).

b. If an insurer receives an incomplete or unsigned application, the recipient insurer (via mail or fax) shall notify said applicant within 10 business days AFTER receiving the allegedly incomplete or unsigned application AND shall advise the applicant of the missing that is required or that the applicant's signature is missing, as appropriate (see: SABS, ss. 32(6)).
   i. However, the recipient insurer SHALL NOT give a notice under ss. 32(6) unless the insurer, after a reasonable review of the incomplete application is unable to determine, without the missing information whether a benefit is payable OR whether the application has not been signed by the applicant (see: SABS, ss. 32(7)); and

c. From the time the recipient insurer (via mail or fax) has received the Completed Application, which is deemed complete if the recipient insurer does not give said insured person a ss. 32(6) notice, said recipient insurer has 90 days to provide a notice of dispute to not only other insurer(s) but the insured person.

57. I was never, and not within ten business days of October 13, 2022, notified by the "First Insurer" or any licensed insurer in Ontario that my Completed Application was incomplete or not duly signed.

58. I further note that the distance between the East Mall Address and the Burlington Address is approximately 38 kilometers whereas the distance between the Burlington Address and SNIC Markham is approximately 91 km (see: using "Map Quest").

59. To the extent that any or all of the above is consistent and correct with the exhibits, including my own positions in emails to TDHA with a copy to SNIC, I believe that I am not required to engage with the "complaint officer" for TDHA as the FSRA form requires a reference to the insurance policy of my (as an "insured person") Insurance Policy with SNIC (the "SABS Insurer") but I could make a complaint directly to the FSRA regarding the conduct (or lack thereof) of TDHA in being the "First Insurer".

60. I also believe that there is no preclusion under Reg 664, section 9.1(1) for multiple and independent settlements between myself and SNIC and myself and TDHA. As TDGIC is no longer a party in the McLean Proceeding and the evidence, in my view, all being consistent with TDHA having the 416 FAX NUMBER at the time of my delivery, via fax, of the Completed Application to the 416 FAX NUMBER and the East Mall Address auto-population in HCAI, then I do not see any need for a "settlement" under Reg 664, section 9.1(1) between myself and TDGIC.

This is the 30th Affidavit of Ms. Karen A. McLaren under TD Insurance (SNIC "Absurd Program") Claim Number [illegible] TD Claim #3 [illegible] TD Insurance Policy Number [illegible] (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "[illegible]" (the "LAT File Number"), LAT Proceeding "[illegible]" in Ontario Proceeding Number under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") in Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 397 ("SNIC #397") and potentially involving the "First Insurer" in receipt of my Completed Application on October 13, 2023 via my fax to the 416 Fax Number

61. To the extent that TDHA does not comply with its obligations, as known to it, by August 1, 2024 at 5:00 p.m., I reserve the right to tender this affidavit #30 to any and all persons who are lawfully entitled to receive the same.

62. I reserve all of my rights in fact and at law if TDHA does not comply with its legal obligations as known to it.

63. I remain available to communicate with TDHA on a "with prejudice" or "without prejudice" basis at the email provided and I confirm that I am consenting to email communications with TDHA as a result of outstanding nature of the benefits to which I am entitled in accordance with Reg 283 and SABS.

64. For all of the above evidentiary reasons and exhibits, I believe this is why there was a reference in the "PIPEDA response" on February 14, 2024 to what I defined as the "Fictitious TD Claim Number".

65. I swear under oath and under the pains and penalties of perjury that I did not become aware of the issues with the 416 Fax Number and auto-population of the East Mail Address until the times detailed herein; generally, in the month of July 2024. I do not believe that I had any duty to investigate these issues per se but that the duty was and remains upon the "First Insurer" that received my Completed Application. I further swear that I have never received a fax from the 416 Fax Number. I further swear that any and all "Spam Faxes" were not from the 416 Fax Number. I further swear, under oath, that I never received a fax from the 905 Fax Number, and I again re-swear the issues that I particularized as "delays" in receiving mail from what I presume was "SNIC" but perhaps TDHA 'masquerading' as SNIC or using SNIC as a "conduit".

66. Out of an abundance of caution and for record keeping purposes, along with any potential that I become incapacitated or die before resolution of any and all issues involving my Accident, I swear that I will NOT and do not authorize the release of any personal information, PHI or confidential information but in accordance with the law including PIPEDA. Moreover, in the same vein, I will not provide any personal information, PHI or confidential information to any insurance company (SNIC or TDHA) until I have admissions by each regarding the same and compliance with Reg 283 and SABS as known to each.

67. I swear that I will notify the Tribunal of any and all resolutions between myself and SNIC and potentially myself and TDHA for context purposes relating to the former.

68. I respectfully put SNIC and TDHA to strict proof herein and I will rely on the law of adverse inference along with the requirement that SNIC continues to owe me fiduciary duties as the "SABS Insurer".

69. I reserve the right to swear further evidence as it becomes known to me for any and all lawful purposes.

ENDNOTES

"Insurance" means the undertaking by one person to indemnify another person against loss or liability for loss in respect of a certain risk or peril to which the object of the insurance may be exposed, or to pay a sum of money or other thing of value upon the happening of a certain event, and includes life insurance (see: s.1(1) of the UDAP Rule);

[2] UDAP Rule, 1(1)(v)(c): "Contract of insurance" means:(c) for a contract of insurance not referred to in (a) or (b), has the meaning ascribed to "contract" in s. 1 of the Act; see: section 1(1) of Insurance Act (Ontario): "contract" means a contract of insurance and includes a policy, certificate, interim receipt, renewal receipt, or writing evidencing the contract, whether sealed or not, and a binding oral agreement;

[3] See: SPPA, section 1(1) definition of license: registration or similar form of permission required by law;

[4] See: Insurance Act, ss. 279 (includes does not exclude); see: section 3(8) of SABS which includes the Spouse of the Individual Named Insured (Antopoulos)

[5] As defined under UDAP Rule, ss. 1(1): "Claimant": "means a person who claims statutory accident benefits or who otherwise claims any benefit, compensation or payment under a contract of insurance.

[6] See: SNIC Response on January 25, 2024

[7] The "file number provided in the Andy Gass response" that was approved by TDI Legal which denoted the incorrect File number which I swear is the "TDGIC internally denoted file number" which it had and has possession and control of the same

[8] I shall be relying on jurisprudence in any to be heard motions and this SNIC Proceeding or future proceedings between SNIC and I where other insurers have had "two files" (one authentic and another not as authentic or not part of the assigned claim number for an insured person or injured person)

[9] See: LAT Rules (effective August 21, 2023), "Response" means the response a respondent is required to provide in relation to an appeal or as may otherwise be specified by the Tribunal.

[10] Please see: submissions and affidavits by myself regarding the inapplicability or lack of compliance with it by TDHA or SNIC within 90 days since receipt of my OCF-1 and OCF-2 (on my behalf) (see: October 13, 2022). At no time did TDHA (or SNIC) as it appears to me that TDHA's fax number was 416-774-3129 and the First Mail Address was TDHA's prior to the demolition of the "Valhalla Executive Centre", represent to me that there was any dispute between it and any other insurer(s) pursuant to Reg 283. This affidavit #30 will be (if necessary) in support of my motion to add TDHA as a party and seek declaratory relief regarding TDHA being the "First Insurer" to receive my "Completed Application"

[11] One year after the Accident as determined by a physician (neurosurgeon) when reviewing the four different MRIs that I had since the Accident (please: Affidavits #1 to #4 which were attached to my filed pleading herein on December 24, 2023).

[12] Synonym: guarantee

[13] Based upon my review there are five insurance companies, licensed to do business in Ontario, as follows: (i) SNIC (397); (ii) Primmum (1796), (iii) TDHA (1063); (iv) TDGIC (353); and (v) TD Direct Insurance Company (although not able to issue policies since 1995)

[14] No discretion

[15] I now believe, after investigation and discoveries (with potentially more discoveries), that the dispute between which insurer is liable is between: (i) SNIC (397); and (ii) TDHA (1063)

[16] Myself

[17] If no dispute or no "pending dispute" (as I am not aware of any pending dispute between SNIC and any other insurance company including TDHA), then I rely on ss. 2(1) of Reg 283 for TDHA being liable, as the "First Insurer" that received a Co

[18] TDHA and SNIC are different insurers

[19] Where there is an "insurance group", in my view, it will vary from insurance company to insurance company within the "insurance group" as they are all not one and the same as per the 'status certificates' from the FSRA regarding SNIC and TDGIC (see: June 19, 2024)

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns

1. I write regarding the above.

2. I am commencing this thread for the reasons above and exclusively to
   a. SNIC; and
   b. TDHA.

3. I will be supplementing this email with further email(s) below. However, at this interim, I confirm that I require SNIC to provide me with its fax number for SNIC Markham, and for TDHA to confirm that it is obligated as the first insurer to receive this its fax number 416-774-3120 my OCF-1 (see: Reg 283, "completed application") that it still has my Beneficiary Bank Account information. If TDHA has misplaced the same. I ask that TDHA request the same to this email by no later than the end of business this on Monday, July 29, 2024.

4. Pardon my obtuseness or lack of familiarity with area codes in Ontario as I have lived most of my life outside of Ontario but my preliminary review leads to the inevitable conclusion that the city of Markham does NOT have a 416 area code and is associated with 905.

5. Therefore, some individual must have erred from the outset of my claim for accident benefits in providing the incorrect fax number for SNIC.

239

6. I have attached the document from the Ontario Business Directory regarding the same fax number and I have double checked against what was provided to me by SNIC and the number of 416-774-3120 number is not a Markham fax number and is not clearly the same number as denoted by SNIC Markham (Ms. Nurse as "claims advisor") on its documents to me in Fall 2022 and 2023.

7. TDHA may communicate with me via email for the above purposes.

8. TDHA will also need to provide me with a "claims advisor" and/or "claims adjuster" for it.

9. I confirm that SNIC has not made any payment to me for IRH (Specified Benefits) and it now makes sense as to why as SNIC was NOT the "First Insurer" to receive my Completed Application. TDHA was the "First Insurer" to receive my Completed Application.

10. I will have to go through my fax records to determine each and every television document, application (OCF or otherwise) received by the 416 Fax Number but in the interim, the evidence is uncontroverted that TDHA's fax number was and is the 416 Fax Number and it is obligated to pay any and all outstanding benefits under SABS. For courtesy purposes, I will provide an accounting in this regard.

11. If there are no further disputes by this Monday, July 29, 2024 to the above then I am entitled to presume that the 416 Fax Number is that of TDHA. Simply put, SNIC Markham could not have its fax at a Toronto area code with another prefix of 774. The requirements under the governing statutes, governing regulations, and binding jurisprudence require firewalls and protective measures for confidential information even between departments in the SAMIC insurance company here, for legal principles and precedents: Bentley, Dorvenholt, Transamerica, De Rosa, Jacot et al.

12. SNIC could not have me detrimentally rely on the incorrect fax number for any period of time let alone the length of time it did. Further, as the "SABS Insurer", SNIC had fiduciary duties to me and has ongoing duties to me. However, TDHA as the "First Insurer" under Reg 283 was bound by its receipt of the Completed Application to pay benefits even while it is disputed the same. However, it had to follow the required procedures under Reg 283 which explicitly references, by language, the Insurance Act (which is of course the enabling or empowering legislation to Reg 283).

13. It is nearly 16 months since the regulatory deadline for TDHA to have disputed its liability under Reg 283. Therefore, any attempt at this stage for TDHA to dispute its liability would stand no chance of success.

14. As the evidence is uncontroverted and a matter of public record that the 416 Fax Number is that of TDHA, I will provide TDHA with the opportunity to work with me on the payment of benefits and take any position of denial by Monday, July 29, 2024 if TDHA does not by said date, I will presume that I am correct in this regard on the facts and the law (which will be supplemented).

page

15. I confirm that even if SNIC pays out the outstanding IBB, with SABS (section 51 of SABS) or (a Reg 664 amount), it will still be TDHA (subject to any defences or evidence denial that the public records showing that the 416 Fax Number is its fax number and SNIC Markham would have a Markham area code fax number) that is required to pay any outstanding, ongoing or future benefits.

16. Of course, I was completely misled not only on the 416 Fax Number but for TDHA's benefit, TD General Insurance Company, FSRA Registration Number 353 ("TDGIC") purported to act as the sole respondent party in the SNIC Proceeding for nearly half a year. It was not until volumes of materials, research, affidavits, submissions, negotiations (including having to obtain status certificates for SNIC and TDGIC from the FSRA) and all were poured into finding a way, as Mr. Nicholson was counsel to TDGIC (and sadly remains so) and stubbornly represented to me as early as February 2024 that TDGIC would oppose all relief I sought, to have it removed that Mr. Nicholson for TDGIC finally relented and confirmed that TDGIC would not oppose such relief. I will provide further particulars for TDHA's benefit as per its likely and inevitable liability under SABS prior to the SNIC Proceeding, likely for issues in the SNIC Proceeding and beyond.

17. For the time being, this will suffice as notice to TDHA.

18. I confirm that I only became aware of this material change as of Friday, July [illegible] 2024 and I brought it to the attention of SNIC and the Tribunal. I confirm that the rules and legislation, regulations and jurisprudence has been reviewed, annotated and now attached (see: Attachment #2). Ironically, there was a small benefit (despite the document being much higher) to me (pardon the pun) to TDGIC masquerading as the sole respondent (sorry for SNIC in that I came to learn the truth as to whom I was dealing with and that was TDHA).

19. I thank TDHA in advance for its anticipated compliance with its statutory, regulatory and legal requirements. I remain available via this email for TDHA to reconcile any outstanding benefits. Should anything be unclear or TDHA disputes the above, and or SNIC disputes the above, please advise by no later than Monday, July [illegible], 2024 at 9 am I will presume (as I am entitled) that all of the above factual and legal positions are correct, and I will, of course, rely on the doctrine of adverse inference. I look forward to hearing from Mr. Russell on behalf of TDHA and/or any authorized individual for TDHA. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any lawful purposes including drawing to the attention of the Tribunal, the FSRA, any relevant regulatory body and or the licensing complaint officer for TDHA. Lastly, before SNIC or TDHA (through one of their representatives) consider misleading me again (SNIC) or TDHA (by commission now), I have already lodged a complaint with SNIC's licensing complaint officer, and those the relevant documents by reference to multiple PIPEDA requests including further and distinct ones involving "other Organizations" (unknown to me prior). I will leave it at that by provision of notice without speaking to the truth of the contents of those documents and clients. I will follow up with quantification amounts where payment shall be made by the "FIRST INSURER" to have received my Completed Application.

Re #2: Based upon the unopposed evidence (see: Attachment #1), IDHA is obligated under Reg 283 and by receipt of my "Completed Application" to pay any and all benefits pursuant to SABS

Re #3: Confirmation that IDHA, by its receipt of my completed application, never sought to dispute its liability under SABS, with reference to the required procedures under Reg 283 (see: Attachment #2) within 90 days of October 13, 2022 (date of receipt of Completed Application to the 416 Fax Number

Re #4: Confirmation that SNIC has never made any payments for IRB and assistive device benefits (to be particularized)

Re #5: residual

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns

I write further to the above. For context purposes and to support the unopposed evidence at Attachment #1, I note some of the following:

1. Incorrect postal code for my application benefits package but not my Specimen;
2. The April 20, 2023, letter misrepresenting that there was no medical information on file (when I had faxed my MRI results on multiple occasions along with other medical evidence) to support my being outside of IMG;
3. Failures to pay the amounts allegedly approved in OCF-18s (to this date);
4. Adjusters not signing OCF-18's where required (April 20, 2023 and beyond);
5. SNIC not having control of all relevant records and personal information;
6. The SPAM Faxes (my definition) (see: Spring 2023);
7. The request for only email communications (see: March 2023);
8. The delays in SNIC responding to fax communications (see: from the Date of Loss to the time of my filing of the Appeal);
9. The failure of SNIC to respond at all to fax communications;
10. The attempt to switch to the 905 Fax Number (which was still not SNIC's fax number and located in Burlington and which I have just checked and they are some 91 km's apart);
11. The October 2023 email from "E-claims fax service" claiming that I had sent an email when I had not (and not consented at that time to email communications with SNIC until my PIPEDA request (at the time) was resolved to my satisfaction);
12. The attempt to have my OCF-19 submitted through IE AI with reference to an "Appropriate Ontario Health Practitioner" (sic);
13. Continued responses allegedly from SNIC to my faxing to the 416 Fax Number when I was in Europe along with the 905 Fax Number not receiving faxes or blocking the same;
14. Ms. Persaud being out of office for four months from September to December 2024;
15. Ms. Persaud apparently not having access to my AB File including documents like the UHN Notification for my Brain MRI;
16. Refusal to respond to my request for accounting, tax and payor information

ADC "this at the page 11

(8)

(215)

17. The SNIC Response that failed to identify, list and attach documents as required by said form;
18. The unauthorized participation by TDGIC in the SNIC Proceeding;
19. The conduct of Mr. Nicowland in the SNIC Proceeding albeit on behalf of TDGIC;
20. The conduct of the Fictitious Legal Assistant in Ms Moraes for TDGIC;
21. The Fictitious TD Claim Number;
22. Mr. Kuras offering the email communication protocol on January 23, 2024;
23. Perhaps, oddly correct, that Mr. Papaliminopoulos was NEVER involved in any claim for accident benefits and the SNIC Proceeding as he is located in SNC Markham and His 416 Fax Number is in Toronto; and
24. Other particulars (known and unknown).

I further note that I made a demand upon SNIC for the "Spam Faxes" (my definition) but SNIC has not been able to produce the same. When referencing the "Spam Faxes", I am referring to faxes sent to me by an unknown fax number attempting to redirect me to another fax number which is also different from the 416 Fax Number.

Why would the likes of an unknown entity attempt to direct me to a different fax number by a letter that had no return address, not from the 416 Fax Number, purport to inform me that "TD" (emphasis is mine) had no record of my "claim number", and to a different fax number than the 416 Fax Number? The question answers itself.

Ironically, and with the benefit of hindsight, I was directed to a 905 Fax Number (first learned of the same in October 2023 but letters were sent in Summer of 2023 to one but not read and actioned until I returned from Europe from my required MRIs et al) that also was not SNIC's fax number.

I look forward to working with TDHA so it can comply with Reg 283 et al and then working in tandem with SNIC to notify the Tribunal (without unnecessary embarrassment to all but in an private, confidential and discreet manner) as that is clearly not my goal or prerogative that all issues in the SNIC Proceeding have been resolved.

I reserve all of my rights in fact and at law.

Your truly,

KAM

Re: further to the above – two attachments – awaiting TDHA confirmation regarding 416 Fax Number – awaiting SNIC's provision of its actual fax number at the time of any submitted Completed Application

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns

1. I write further to the above. For further evidentiary purposes while I await the confirmation from TDHA that the 416 Fax Number was its fax number at the time that I delivered my Completed Application, I enclose the following attachments:

a. True North REIT brochure regarding the Victoria Park Building (which will be defined herein as "Attachment #3");
b. Colliers International brochure, as it is the commercial listing realtor for the Victoria Park Building (or "Spark Building") (defined herein as "Attachment #4"); and
c. Notice Of Motion Of Hearing At Scheduled Event Order for my NOM (as which provides an example of the address and phone number for TDHA (before its removal on June 21, 2024 in relation to my NOM #8 (defined herein as "Attachment #5").

2. I further await to receive SNIC's actual fax number at the time that I delivered my Completed Application (including all other OCF documents).

Part 2: Uncontroverted Evidence

3. As noted, the lead tenants were colloquially referred to as "TD Insurance" by True North REIT (see: Attachment #3).

4. The two insurance companies without any reference to the name of "TD" in their names per se (whilst noting "TD General Insurance Company"[1] and "TD Home And Auto Insurance Company") have the word "insurance" after their descriptors. These two insurance companies that use two trademarks of "TD Insurance" and "Meloche Monnex" (for "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" absent any "Inc.", "Incorporated", "Company", "Corp.", "Ltd." or "Limited" as those are in their legal and correct corporate names"[2] which are:

a. Security National Insurance Company (FSRA Registration Number [redacted] ("SNIC"); and

b. Printemps Insurance Company (FSRA Registration 1396) ("Printemps").

5. SNIC has been a tenant on the 2nd floor of SNIC Markham at the McNabb Building since on or around 2018. SNIC's landline fax number must be an area code associated with Markham which is a 905 fax number. I note that Markham has other area codes but those area codes are NOT area code "416" and they are area codes associated with "mobile numbers".

6 The Victoria Park Building (or "Spark Building") is nine floors and the lead tenants of "TD Insurance" had multiple floors therein which is particularly important when the likes of TDHA and TDGIC are tenants therein.

7. Since 2018, TDHA's publicly listed fax number has been the 416 Fax Number (see: 416-774-3120) (see: Ontario Business Directory website)

8. The Tribunal listed the address for "TD General Insurance Company" in the "Notice of Motion To Be Heard Scheduled Event Order" (the "TBHSE Order") for my NOM #4 (the "IRB Quantification Order") as the following (with emphasis on the "prefix" of "774" and the "first three (3) digits" of the "last four (4) digits":

> "TD General Insurance Company
> 3650 Victoria Park Avenue,
> 9th Floor
> North York, ON
> M2H 3P7
> TDHADR@tdinsurance.com
> (416) 774-3629"

9. It is trite that "North York" is part of the City Of Toronto.

10. In said "Notice Of Motion TBHSE Order", it is important to note the phone number listed therein which commences with the following:

a. Area code: 416; and
b. Prefix: 774.

11. It is further important to note that the the "last four digits" of the phone number for TD General Insurance Company do NOT commence with the digits of "31" (see: "36" and then "29"). This distinction is a seminal one because in in turn means that the likely fax number of TDGIC at the Victoria Park Building commences or commenced (depending on the date of its departure[1]) as a tenant or occupier of the Victoria Park Building)

12. It is important to note that the phone number listed for Mr. Nguyen had, as he then was exclusively[2] declared representative for TDGIC, at the offices located at Wellington West in downtown Toronto was:

(24B)

- (416) 599-7439

13. While the area code is obviously a Toronto area code (416) (as being downtown Toronto), the first prefix is "599".

14. In reviewing the "Ontario Business Directory website information" (see: Attachment #1), it is notable that the phone number and fax number for TDHA not only commence with the same area code and prefix but the "first three digits" of the last four numbers to make up the ten digit phone number (emphasis is mine).

a. Phone number: 416-774-3123; and
b. Fax number: 416-774-3120.

15. As they are landlines, owned by Bell Canada (not Bell Mobility), phone numbers and fax numbers are directed and received at the Victoria Park Building. Of course, two insurance companies cannot share the same fax number as that would be a breach of the variety of governing statutes, governing regulations, FSRA Rule, Tribunal rules, Civil Rules, governing policies, guidance documents, jurisprudence et al. Moreover, this means that all faxes to the 416 Fax Number, which I sent, were received at the Victoria Park Building.

16. Had the listed phone number for TDGIC in this Tribunal Proceeding (see: 015662/AABS) had its last four digits of "312X", then there may have been an argument that the 416-774-3120 fax number belonged to or was controlled by TDGIC in the material and relevant times. However, that mere hypothetical is not a fact. Rather the publicly listed phone number and fax number for TDHA both begin with the following:

a. 416-774-312X.

17. As noted in the various letters that are included in Attachment #1, the mailing address was SNIC Markham with the author being "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" (neither TDGIC nor TDHA operate under TD Insurance Meloche Monnex) and the boilerplate language at the last paragraph before the author (TDIMM) of:

> "If we can assist you in any way, please contact Alisha Anne Prince, Claims Services, at 1-877-3767 x26413, OR by fax at 416-774-3139"

18. I note that the fax number was pre-printed in certain OCF documents that I received via mail.

Part 3: Conclusion (as of July 29, 2024)

249

19. As of September 2022, the fax number of 416-774-3120 was for TDHA. Therefore, my position, based on the current uncontroverted evidence, is that TDHA through no fault of my own, received the following including but not limited to (at 9:27):

a. OCF-1;
b. OCF-2;
c. OCF-3;
d. OCF-6; and
e. All other confidential communications.

20. Unless TDHA disputes the above by the end of the business day, I will presume that my position is correct and that TDHA will be liable for any and all benefits that are outstanding. I will then provide a demand letter to TDHA with all of the outstanding amounts to TDHA, with SNIC copied as a courtesy, and then TDHA will be required to pay those principal amounts plus SABS interest pursuant to section 51 of SABS. The only issue that will remain is Reg 664 awards against TDHA if it does not deny and provide contrary evidence that the 416 Fax Number was its fax number at the time of receipt of the Completed Application (see: Reg 283). To the extent that I am correct in fact in all of the above positions, then any amounts that SNIC has allegedly paid is not on my behalf (nota bene: I am still awaiting whether SNIC was the actual payor of these benefits (which do not include IRB and amounts over and outside of the MIG, after OCF-6 expenses, at all) will simply act as a deduction against the amounts that TDHA was, is and will be required to pay as the "First Insurer" to receive my Completed Application without protestation and following the requirements under Reg 283. This will be a matter to be resolved between TDHA and SNIC regarding, inter alia, reconciling their books, records and accounts, and not myself. I am not required to wait for TDHA and SNIC to resolve those matters between them as it is nearly 18 months since the expiry of the 90 day period since TDHA (presuming that there is no contrary evidence to the above and SNIC's fax number could not have been 416-774-3120 in September and October 2022).

21. I will continue to investigate these issues and provide any further evidence that is relevant to the above so that any and all insurance companies and individuals act in accordance with the governing statutes, governing regulations et al. I reserve all of my rights in fact and at law.

22. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence for any purpose that I deem necessary and that is lawful.

23. Thank you to all for their prompt attention to each distinct matter and note how we as known to each.

Your truly,

IRAM

Kind attention: relevant accounts payable department of the liable insurance company that received my Completed Application

Re: Quantification of the IRB that is due and owing in principal amount to this Thursday, August 1, 2024

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

I write regarding the above. Presuming that TDIHA will not deny that the 416 fax number was its fax number when it received my Completed Application, I confirm that the amount of IRB due and owing this Thursday, August 1, 2024 is the sum of $39,600 (the "Current IRB Principal Debt").

page - 103

(14) (251)

I further confirm that I have not received any IRB as of today's date despite delivery of the Completed Application (along the OCF-2 and OCF-3) to the 416 Fax Number (416-771-3100). Therefore, the full amount of the Current IRB Principal Debt, plus interest pursuant to section 51 of SABS, will be due and owing on this Thursday, August 1, 2024. I provide this unrefuted and uncontroverted evidence to the attention of the insurance company that received my Completed Application via fax to the 416 Fax Number so that it can prepare the necessary calculations and payments for this Thursday, August 1, 2024.

As SNIC will know that the 416 Fax Number was not its fax number at the material time. Record only leaves TDHA by all accounts of public evidence and the above.

I confirm that any switching of fax numbers from the 416 Fax Number to the 905 Fax Number (see: Burlington Address references) is inconsequential because the law bases the liability for the insurance company (albeit unknown to me until last Friday, July 26, 2024) under the "no-fault insurance regime" on RECEIPT and timing of receipt which was October 13, 2022.

As I provided my Beneficiary Bank Account information to the 416 Fax Number the recipient insurance company (not any other insurance company that may have received a Benefits Plan required pursuant to SABS to make payment of the same by this Thursday, August 1st, 2024 with accumulated SABS interest (see: section 51 of SABS).

Thank you for your attention to this outstanding matter regarding compliance with SABS and payment of the IRB and interest.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (McGill), J.D., C.(Ab)

Re: the referenced 905 fax number which was - 905-315-3447 (the "905 Fax Number")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

In reference to the 905 fax number, I confirm that the above fax number is the 905 Fax Number which is a landline at the address of 5045 S Service Rd, Burlington, ON L7L 5Y7 (the

278

"Burlington Address"). I further note while the address at the McNabb Building does reference a "floor number" the Burlington Address does not. This is likely another indication that the Burlington Address was an attempt to move me away from the 416 Fax Number (i.e. the TDHA fax number at the material times) as it was not SNIC's fax address as SNIC was located in Markham.

I attach a copy of a printout from the Ontario Business Directory website relating to the Burlington Address and the 905 Fax Number. As noted therein, the Ontario Business Directory does not reference SNIC but does reference the Victoria Park Building. I have defined the attachment as "Attachment #6" herein.

Thank you for your (relevant insurance company as known to each) to the above matters.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (Hist.), LL.B., LL.M.)

Re: confirmation – no denial by TDHA by end of business day today – that 416 [illegible] fax number at all material times

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Simply put, I write to confirm the above. I will provide in separate emails, which will be multiple (through no fault of my own but solely to being misled without denial of the same) herein as certain benefits are SABS come under different provisions and there are different consequences for delay involving each.

I confirm that Messrs Nieuwland Karat failed to even provide the correct fax number for SNIC by the end of the business day with the Tribunal and Mr. Josh Grant copied. I say that constitutes the drawing of an adverse inference.

I am copying Mr. Russell in his capacity as chief agent for TDHA. Thank you.

as the respondent party and SABS insurer in some bizarre manner), that "what had been paid" was $2,850 to me in benefits.

5. I can confirm that I have received the sum of $1499.98 but $80 was for the OCF-18. It appears that the $80 would be a section 25 expense but SNIC (then TDIA) to some degree) to have lumped them together.

6. In any event, it appears that the $2,850 number (while not precise per se) is an amount of $1,350 that has been paid on my behalf with $50 being for the sum of a "transfer physio fee" albeit misguided under MIG.

7. As known to SNIC and the Tribunal, the Forged Nurse Signature (see: "As Per A. Nurse" with the inscription of "Ks. W" above the name) was not compliant with the requirements under SABS (see: a combination of section 38(8) and 32(11) and sections 66 and 67 of SABS). As such, this is dispositive as to whether I was out of the MIG (as by noting all of my injuries were outside of the definition of "minor injury") as SNIC (albeit while not referencing its correct fax number in the letter and noting that the OCF-18 in April 2023 referenced Ms. Nurse and Ms. Nurse only along with the fax number of 416-774-3120 – which was also in her letter but often hard to scan as they were double sided and sent in regular enveloped leading to their "crumpling")) was prohibited from taking the position that I was in the MIG on the 11th business day after receipt. I have identified this "attachment" as "Attachment #7".

8. However, intentional misrepresentation vitiates everything as that is the OCF document and with the fictitious fax number being used on behalf of SNIC, that is sufficient to render the entirety of the April 20, 2023 letter and resulted OCF-18. That 12 application null and void.

9. In any event, as TDIA has not denied that its fax number, in the Toronto area code calling or faxing (see: the letter of April 20, 2023 and its enclosure referencing the number was 416-774-3120, then it was, in fact and at law, TDIA that received the Completed Application.

10. Pursuant to subsection 2(3) of Reg 283, the "Application" (not to be confused with the LAT Application (pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act)) pursuant to the definition in Reg 283, section 1, the "Application" provided by the insurer MUST include the insurer's name, mailing address and telephone AND [emphasis is mine] and FACSIMILE NUMBERS [emphasis is mine].

11. I again note that I only receive one fax number at the material time and that was 416-774-3120. Said 416 Fax Number is tied to the mailing address and landline of the Victoria Park Building (North York, Toronto). North York (Toronto) is in a different area code than Markham.

12. Therefore, it was, in fact and at law, TDIA that was obliged to respond to each and every OCF-18 or pay the benefits (see: for example, subsection 36(1) of Reg 283) (a) course, by not disputing its liability pursuant to Reg 283, with the deadline being on January 10, 2023, TDIA was required to pay all benefits IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE SCHEDULE pending the resolution of ANY dispute as to which insurer is (and was) required to pay the benefits (see: again, ss. 266 of Reg 283).

13. With no dispute pending or one at all, TDIA, by being the "First Insurer" (and now the only insurer, albeit through me not knowing that 416 Fax Number was NOT SNIC) to have received (at least first which is all that is required under Reg 283) to receive any "Completed Application", it was TDIA that required to dispute any and all OCF submitted documents signed by myself (OCF-1 and OCF-6's), or by the relevant company in the OCF-2, or duly signed by myself and a health practitioner which are as follows:

a. OCF-3 (myself and Dr. Paulin) (November 3, 2022);
b. OCF-18's (April 2023 to July 2024) (myself and Mr. Dhaliwal, PT (CCSNP) and myself Mr. Atwala, PT (Rehab Mechanics) (see: attached (now defined as "Attachments 8 to 12"); and
c. OCF-19 (November 2023) (signed by myself and the Neurosurgeon).

14. As I delivered the OCF-19 to the 416 Fax Number (as the 905 Fax Number was oddly rejecting faxes on a regular basis), the "First Insurer" will have a copy of that OCF-19. The OCF-19 and relevant sections of SABS (i.e. section 45 et al) do NOT have a deeming provision. However, all of the other OCF documents do. Therefore, any and all amounts of benefits are due and owing in that regard.

15. Of course, there will need to be a decision based upon my OCF-19 (CAT Impairment) but I will address that issue later and provide (again because TDIA has not denied that its fax number was the 416 Fax Number and I am inquiring through other avenues as what is SNIC's actual fax number in Markham).

16. Kindly find the above OCF-18's attached relating to physiotherapy. We will leave the calculations finalized on our side but in summary form, it appears only $1,900 was paid for physiotherapy leaving $1300 due and owing on the OCF-18 from April 2023 and the remainder are all due and owing and to Rehab Mechanics with SABS interest from the 1st day after ten business days of receipt. While appreciating the attempts to have the fees of an OCF-19 go through HCAI with an "Appropriate Ontario Health Practitioner" [SIC], submitting through HCAI is not a requirement or often done even with a physiatrist (without geographical restriction) or a practising neuropsychologist in Canada with five years of experience. Most physicians [without geographical restriction] and neuropsychologists (even those with five years Canadian experience that are based in Ontario) are not registered with HCAI. It seems that this was an attempt to NOT have them or me fax to the 416-774-3120 fax number.

17. In any event, SNIC remained the SABS Insurer but NOT the "First Insurer".

18. As such, I trust that these attachments for TDIA are of great assistance to it so it knows its liability in terms of the OCF-18's.

19. I will hereafter attach a copy of the OCF-18 for my orthotics which was [illegible] however, that will follow in the next email.

20. Should anything be unclear for the "First Insurer", kindly advise at your earliest opportunity. Otherwise, I will fully expect, as it is requirement under the Insurance Act, S.O. 1990, Reg 283 and UDAP Rule for TDHA (again based on the [illegible] fax number being what was provided to me as the ONLY and SOLE fax number to deliver the "Completed Application") to pay out any and all amounts to myself and to Ecliptic Mechanics to its known bank account to "you" by no later than this Thursday, August 1 2024.

21. I reserve the right to formalize these communications and reduce them to affidavit material at any time.

22. I kindly remind all of their obligations pursuant to the UDAP Rules and requirements of being licensed insurers in Ontario.

23. Thank you kindly for your (as known to each of you (where applicable) attorneys) to the above urgent and outstanding matters.

Warm regards,

Mr. Kevin A. McLean (B.A. (Hist.), J.D. (Law)

I enclose a copy of the OCF-18 for orthotics in the amount of $450. This was also tendered on the form of an OCF-6 at first instance. I may provide the same for you for ease of reference as that was faxed to the 416 Fax Number in November 2023. The 416 Fax Number insurer will have received the same and have a copy of the same.

Since I paid for said amount, kindly tender the amount plus SABS interest for the above to my Beneficiary Bank Account submitted to the 416 Fax Number in October 2023

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

I write regarding the above. Having had no denial from FDIA that the 416-774-3120 belonged to it at the material times, as a courtesy, I attach a copy of the signed and delivered EFT authorized form. Re #2: Confirmation that the OCF-18 submitted treatment plans by, inter alia, Rehab Mechanics through the HCAI portal: auto-populate an address for SNIC under any OCF form as of the Etobicoke Address (note bene: has been the case since at least April 2024)

Dear TDHA:

1. I write briefly regarding the above to draw the above demands again to the attention of TDHA. There is now further evidence to support that the 416-771-1120 fax number was TDHA's at all material times by reference to Re #1 and Re #2.

2. I confirm Re #1 and Re #2.

3. I had occasion to discuss Re #2 with various health practitioners who are experienced in submitting documents through HCAI and it has been confirmed, with evidence, that SNIC has manipulated the auto-population of the address for SNIC to the Etobicoke Address.

4. It is trite that SNIC's physical address was listed, as it relates to SABS and Reg 283, as SNIC Markham and not the Etobicoke Address. The Etobicoke Address is that of TDHA (see Attachment #13 herein).

5. Further, I note that the Burlington Address that SNIC directed me to, along with the 905 Fax Number, does not appear to be an address for SNIC either. In any event, it is not relevant to the issue of who was the "First Insurer" but it demonstrates that the Burlington Address was also NOT the East Mall Address.

6. Moreover, as HCAI is not an "fax portal" per se, it is notable that the Dhaliwal OCF-18 (April 2023) had the SNIC address and fax number therein as I provided to Mr. Dhaliwal in advance. It is unclear whether it was submitted through HCAI or whether that was merely the hard copy version that I have. In any event, all of the OCF-18's have been submitted through HCAI but were obviously directed to the Etobicoke Address (or East Mall Address) through SNIC's manipulation of the same as a health practitioner is unable so change the auto-population of the back-end of HCAI. This issue is being investigated further from a technological standpoint.

7. I have copied the "represented" adjusters of SNIC and the representatives of SNIC in the Tribunal Proceeding (see: 23-013662/AABS).

8. The Forged Nurse Signature (see: "As Per A. Nurse" with the "K.L. W" inscription above it) is now making sense – albeit non-compliance with SABS and sacred texts issued by the CEO of the FSRA.

9. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence and its attachments for any lawful purpose. I reiterate the above demands which will remain until the "First Insurer" and any subsequent recipient of what was received by the First Insurer complies with the Insurance Act, SABS, Reg 283 et al. Re #3: April 30, 2023 letter referencing Ms. Nurse as the "claims advisor" and "no medical evidence" reference

Re #4: Confirmation that the reason SNIC could not list and attach any documents to the SNIC Response, as required by the "Response Form" (0456E) (see: "Response by an Insurance Company pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act") was because TDHA had control and possession of the entirety of the accident benefits file under TD Claim #3

Dear TDHA:

1. I write regarding the above. I write again to ensure that I have "papered" any and all facts and issues to ensure that TDHA complies with its obligations under S 185 and Reg 283 which were both passed and amended pursuant to the Insurance Act.

2. It now stands to reason why the SNIC Response was referencing HCAI as the "First Insurer" was TDHA. SNIC and TDHA are not "one and the same". SNIC and TDGIC are "not one and the same". SNIC and Prisumum are not "one and the same" even though they both operate under the distinct trademarks of "HD Insurance Meloche Monnex".

3. I further note that SNIC deceived me in requesting copies of the submitted OCF-18's as SNIC would not have access to the same if the "branch office" was that of TDHA. I also note that SNIC took an extraordinarily long time to ever provide me with the requested information in my Dhaliwal OCF-18.

4. I further confirm that any references to the "Fictitious Respondent" in TDGIC were false in fact and at law. TDIC has since been removed as the sole respondent party. SNIC remains the sole "SABS Insurer" but with the further evidence regarding the Last 3 half Address by way of auto-population in the HCAI portal, TDHA appears (subject to any further review) to have received all of the Rehab Mechanics invoices in the OCF-18's therein.

5. It stands to reason that the underlying deception by SNIC in misrepresenting to the Tribunal that TDGIC (not TDHA) was the "Respondent Party" was to ensure that I did not learn and discover that TDHA was the "First Insurer".

6. The fundamental reason that Ms. Nurse could not sign the Dhaliwal OCF-18 (competent for the adjuster) was because TDHA was the "First Insurer" to receive my Completed Application.

7. In relation to "Re #3", the reason that SNIC did not have any medical evidence to support me being outside of the MIG was because I faxed all of my supporting medical evidence (including the October 2022 MRI Report and supporting evidence) to 416-774-3120.

8. It is now unassailable as to why SNIC misrepresented the legal test of "Ippersiel Ontario Health Practitioner" [sic] for an OCF-19 and failed to respond to the OCF-19 delivered package to the 416-774-3120 as SNIC could not. It was only TDHA that would respond (and it was obliged to do so) to the OCF-19.

9. Simply put, I was duped by the SABS Insurer (SNIC) on a variety of occasions over a period of nearly two years and SNIC has failed to correct the same.

Ans 185 #17 pg. 116

10. In order for the "SNIC Proceeding" to be resolved, TDHA will need to pay any and all outstanding benefit amounts, including confirming in writing it was the First Insurer to receive my Completed Application on October 13, 2022, with an acknowledgment of the same to the very Beneficiary Bank Account it received in early October 2023 via my fax to the fax number of 416-774-3120.

11. The deadline is a hard and fast one at the end of business day on August 1, 2024 for TDHA to comply with its duties under the Insurance Act, SABS Reg. 34 et al. If TDHA fails to do so, I reserve the right to make complaints to external bodies in accordance with the law including but not limited to seeking relief with the Tribunal and other provincial and federal bodies. TDHA has had and has the correct Beneficiary Bank Account in its possession and control and can avoid the above by paying all outstanding benefits (or confirmation that it has sent the same and the funds are en route to not only myself but any health practitioners with outstanding invoices tendered on their file to SNIC but clearly to TDHA via fax or through IBCAH.

12. For SNIC's purposes, I confirm that each and every document that I sent me via email was a "false document" as SNIC intentionally misrepresented its fax number which was required under SABS and, particularly, under Reg 283.

13. I confirm that the amounts that TDHA is required to pay under SABS on a historical basis and in the future are unequivocally required as a matter of law but TDHA will have a full right of indemnity against SNIC for misusing the following:

a. Fax number: 416-774-3120; and
b. East Mall Address.

14. While SNIC was the insurance company, known (in part and still being further investigated) to me as of July 26, 2024, that misrepresented its fax number (see: 416-774-3120) and address (see: IBCAH auto-population issue for health practitioners). It appears that ss. 2(7) requires the "first insurer" to reimburse another insurer (SNIC) for any legal fees, adjuster's fees, administrative costs and disbursements that are REASONABLY INCURRED by the other insurer as a result of the non-compliance. However, it appears that the "Spam Faxes" (albeit not on letterhead per se of any insurer and now for obvious reasons) in Spring 2023 in attempting to direct me to another fax number were an attempt by TDHA to not receive any further faxes from me to the 416 Fax Number. However, I immediately confirmed with the 416 Fax Number (albeit detrimentally relying upon the misrepresentations by SNIC) that the "Spam Faxes" had been removed from the main fax inbox and said fax number was "blocked" and "blacklisted".

15. While this is yet another set of facts to add to the most unprecedented fact pattern in the history of the License Appeal Tribunal and its predecessor in the FSCO, I yet again confirm that to the extent that TDHA attempts to serve a notice some 18 months after the requirement under Reg 283 to dispute its liability, it may do so by email. I will oppose such a notice (if applicable).

292 Ref TAS #10 page 117 27 (216)

16. I cordially remind TDHA of its obligations under the Insurance Act, SABS and Reg 283. I remind TDHA of its obligations under the UDAP Rule.

17. I remind SNIC and the various individuals who have represented to me that they have authority for SNIC of the UDAP Rule.

18. I hereby confirm that so long as TDHA (as neither SNIC nor TDHA have denied that TDHA's fax number, at the material times, was 416-774-0120 and its Last Mail Address (as listed on Yelp I might add) was and is TDHA's address (not SNIC's) makes payment (or confirms that the payment amounts have been sent through direct deposit to myself and via whatever method health practitioners are paid for performing valuable services on my behalf) of any and all outstanding benefits to me by Thursday, August 1, 2024, at 4:59 p.m., then I will hold any and all lawful steps that I may take, including but not limited to make any complaints to external bodies and/or taking steps before the Tribunal or otherwise, in abeyance pending further resolution between us regarding the SABS interest on each benefit amount. In this regard, it will only leave the issue of a Reg 664 award which I am amenable to negotiate the same on each as we are not wasting valuable resources of ours and that of the Tribunal including potentially the FSRA and others.

19. In this manner, and only after "First Insurer" complies with its obligations by the deadline of August 1, 2024 at 4:59 p.m. (i.e. either confirmation of having sent payment through the Canada Payments by direct deposit to me and that a cheque has been issued to Rehab Mechanics and potentially IONP (Mr. Dhaliwall (where applicable), it would seem that Reg 664, section 9.1(1) allows for separate settlements between myself and SNIC, and myself and TDHA. As TDGIC was not located at the East Mail Address, and the 416 Fax Number was TDHA's at all material times, it appears that no settlement would be required under SABS between myself and TDGIC.

20. Of course, if the "First Insurer" does not comply with Reg 283 and SABS at all by the deadline denoted above, then I will be at liberty to take any and all lawful steps without further notice to TDHA (and SNIC), including adding TDHA as a party to the "SNIC Proceeding". To the extent that there is an argument that TDHA is the only liable insurer under TD Claim #3 (and any Fictitious TD Claim Numbers (known or unknown) my argument will be that SNIC is liable for some of the costs of the SNIC Proceeding from January 2024 to present and will be required to remain SNIC, as the "Sole SABS Insurer", filed a responsive pleading in the SNIC Proceeding as well so it is unlikely that it can be removed per se but that is a few steps down the road and subject to further evidence.

21. As I am required to make demands as promptly as I can once I know of the evidence and material facts leading to the same, I will continue to rely on the law of relevant influence.

22. If TDHA fails to meet the deadline of tomorrow, presuming it will need to have an independent representative or a member of its board of directors and/or a "senior officer"

AOC TAB #10 pg 118

20

communicate with me (and I remain amenable to communicate with Mr. Russell in his capacity as chief agent of TDHA (FSRA Registration #11063).

23. My goal remains to resolve this terribly unlawful conduct and what would be facts of embarrassing and detrimental to the repute of any insurance company or individual so involved if I were required to file materials that were open to the public in a measured cognitive and confidential manner. However, it will require immediate compliance by the "First Insurer" as denoted above.

24. To ensure that I have made the point, it is now unavoidable or at least, fair to ask the facts as to why NO adjuster for SNIC has signed (at least lawfully and in his or her personal capacity with a valid signature) one OCF-18. I have made demands on SNIC for copies of the signed OCF-18, Part 12, and it has been "radio silence". Put another way, SNIC has not produced or disclosed an OCF-18, Part 12, with the signature of an adjuster that I/we could & when TDHA was the "First Insurer" to receive the "Completed Application".

25. I sincerely hope that this is not a standard or usual practice of SNIC and TDHA and purely idiosyncratic to myself.

26. I confirm that if I am required to bring a motion to add TDHA as a party to the SNIC Proceeding, I am only entitled at that time to seek costs against a party and I will seek costs against SNIC pursuant to Section 17.1 of the SPPA and LAT Rule 19.

27. I reserve the right to rely on this correspondence (herein or under the Appeal) and any attachments for any lawful purpose.

Warm regards,

KAM

I enclose a copy of the OCF-18 for orthotics in the amount of $450. This was also rendered in the form of an OCF-6 at first instance. I may provide the same for you for ease of reference as that was faxed to the 416 Fax Number in November 2023. The 416 Fax Number insurer will have received the same and have a copy of the same.

Since I paid for said amount, kindly tender the amount plus SAIS interest for the above to my Beneficiary Bank Account submitted to the 416 Fax Number in October 2023.

Warm regards.

Re: outstanding amounts owing for the OCF-18's pursuant to Reg 283 and SABS – enclosed are the relevant documents including the only OCF-18, Part 12 (April 20, 2023) which remains incomplete and can never be completed for the reasons infra and previously affirmed or sworn under oath and/or submitted to me and all relevant "persons"

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns,

1. I write regarding the above.

2. I enclose copies of the OCF-18's signed by myself and the relevant health practitioners are the relevant times regarding physiotherapy. While each and every OCF-18 was addressed to SNIC, while noting the names of the "adjusters" that were provided to myself and each physiotherapist as being adjusters for SNIC in relation to TD Claim #3, it appears that the law is unequivocal in that the 416 Fax Number (416-774-3120) that first insurance company to receive the Completed Application (see: Reg 283) is responsible and liable for the benefits unless that insurance company disputed its liability by following the requirements under the binding and governing regulation (see: Reg 283).

3. As there is no evidence and I never received any notice from TDIA disputing its liability (and no denial that 416 Fax Number was its fax number at the relevant and material times herein), then TDIA is responsible for paying all outstanding amounts to Rehub Mechanics.

4. While SNIC has not been forthcoming (with a clearer understanding of why) about the amounts paid to Mr. Dhaliwal, PT (of Toronto Orthopedic Physiotherapy) (defined as "TONP") and likely SNIC did not know the amounts, SNIC, through Ms. Kuut in some degree, represented in May 2024 (although there was an issue with TDGIC masquerading as the respondent party and SABS lawsuit in some bizarre manner), that "what had been paid" was $2,850 to me in benefits.

5. I can confirm that I have received the sum of $1499.98 but $80 was for the OCF-3. It appears that the $80 would be a section 25 expense but SNIC often (if not to some degree) to have lumped them together.

6. In any event, it appears that the $2,850 number (while not precise per SNIC) is an amount of $1,350 that has been paid on my behalf with $50 being for the sum of a "transfer physio fee" albeit misguided under MIG.

7. As known to SNIC and the Tribunal, the Forged Nurse Signature (see: "As Per A. Nurse" with the inscription of "Kit W" above the name) was not compliant with the requirements under SABS (see: a combination of section 38(8) and 38(11) and section 66 and 67 of SABS). As such, this is dispositive as to whether I was out of the MIG (while noting all of my injuries were outside of the definition of "minor injury") as SNIC (albeit while not referencing its correct fax number in the letter and noting that the OCF-18 in April 2023 referenced Ms. Nurse and Ms. Nurse only alone with the fax number of 416-774-3120 – which was also in her letter but often found to scan as they were double sided and sent in regular envelopes leading to their "crumpling")) was prohibited from taking the position that I was in the DRO on the 11th business day after receipt. I have defined this "attachment" as "Attachment #7".

8. However, intentional misrepresentation vitiates everything as that is an OCF document and with the fictitious fax number being used on behalf of SNIC, that is sufficient to render the entirety of the April 20, 2023 letter and required OCF-18 Part 12 signature null and void.

9. In any event, as TDHA has not denied that its fax number, in the Toronto area code calling or faxing (see: the letter of April 20, 2023 and its enclosure (clearly the same) was 416-774-3120, then it was, in fact and at law, TDHA that received the Completed Application.

10. Pursuant to subsection 2(3) of Reg 283, the "Application" (not to be confused with the LAT Application (pursuant to section 280(2) of the Insurance Act)) pursuant to the definition in Reg 283, section 1, the "Application" provided by the insurer MUST include the insurer's name, mailing address and telephone AND (emphasis is mine) and FACSIMILE NUMBERS (emphasis is mine)

11. I again note that I only receive one fax number at the material time and that was 416-774-3120. Said 416 Fax Number is tied to the mailing address and facilities at the Victoria Park Building (North York, Toronto). North York (Toronto) Hall has a different area code than Markham.

12. Therefore, it was, in fact and at law, TDHA that was obliged to respond to each and every OCF-18 or pay the benefits (see: for example, subsection 2(6) of Reg 283). Of course, by not disputing its liability pursuant to Reg 283, with the deadline being on January 10, 2023, TDHA was required to pay all benefits IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE SCHEDULE pending the resolution of ANY dispute as to which insurer is (and was) required to pay the benefits (see again: s. 2(6) of Reg 283).

13. With no dispute pending or one at all, TDHA, by being the "first insurer" (and now the only insurer, albeit through me not knowing that 416 Fax Number was NOT SNIC, to have received (at least first which is all that is required under Reg 283)) to receive my "Completed Application", it was TDHA that required to dispose any and all OCF submitted documents signed by myself (OCF-1 and OCF-6's), or by the relevant company in the OCF-2, or duly signed by myself and a health practitioner which are as follows:

a. OCF-3 (myself and Dr. Profitt) (November 3, 2022);
b. OCF-18's (April 2023 to July 2024) (myself and Mr. Dhaliwal, PT (TONP) and myself Mr. Atwala, PT (Rehab Mechanics) (see attached) (now defined as "Attachments 8 to 12"); and 301

c. OCF-19 (November 2023) (signed by myself and the Neurosurgeon)

14. As I delivered the OCF-19 to the 416 Fax Number (as the 905 Fax Number was oddly rejecting faxes on a regular basis), the "First Insurer" will have a copy of that OCF-19. The OCF-19 and relevant sections of SABS (i.e. section 15 et al) do NOT have a deeming provision. However, all of the other OCF documents do. Therefore, any and all amounts of benefits are due and owing in this regard.

15. Of course, there will need to be a decision based upon my OCF-19 (i.e. Impairment) but I will address that issue later and provide again because HCAI has not denied that its fax number was the 416 Fax Number and I am inquiring through other avenues as what is SNIC's actual fax number in Markham).

16. Kindly find the above OCF-18's attached relating to physiotherapy. We will have the calculations finalized on our side but in summary form, it appears only $1300 was paid for physiotherapy leaving $1300 due and owing on the OCF-18 from April 2023 and the remainder are all due and owing and to Rehab Mechanics with SABS interest from the 1st day after ten business days of receipt. While appreciating the attempts to have the likes of an OCF-19 go through HCAI with no "Appropriate Ontario Health Practitioner" (SNIC), submitting through HCAI is not a requirement or often done even with a physician (without geographical restriction) or a practising neuropsychologist in Canada with five years of experience. Most physicians (without geographical restriction) and neuropsychologists (even those with five years Canadian experience that are based in Ontario) are not registered with HCAI. It seems that this was an attempt to NOT have them provide fax to the 416-274-3120 fax number.

17. In any event, SNIC remained the SABS Insurer but NOT the "First Insurer"

18. As such, I trust that these attachments for DOIA are of great assistance so it knows its liability in terms of the OCF-18's.

19. I will hereafter attach a copy of the OCF-18 for my orthotics which was $150. However, that will follow in the next email.

20. Should anything be unclear for the "First Insurer", kindly advise at your earliest opportunity. Otherwise, I will fully expect, as it is required under the Insurance Act, SABS, Reg 283 and HDAP Rule for DOIA (again based on the 416-274-3120 fax number being what was provided to me as the ONLY and SOLE fax number to deliver the "Completed Application") to pay out any and all amounts to myself and to Rehab Mechanics to its known bank account to "you" by no later than this Thursday, August 1, 2024.

21. I reserve the right to formalize these communications and reduce them to affidavit material at any time.

Re: reference to all the issues in the SNIC Proceeding

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

As I had referenced in my above email, which was received at the 416 Fax Number (416-774-3120) on December 24, 2023, I provide a copy of the pleadings herein with the parties (myself, myself and SNIC. As the insurance company that received the "Appeal" (December 24, 2023) (also known as an "Application Of An Injured Person pursuant to section 280(7) of the Insurance Act" will have a copy, I am providing a copy of Security National Insurance Company's pleading (January 25, 2024 – signed and served by one Mr. David Kurtz). The emails to follow will be the quantification of what is owing within the SNIC Proceeding and perhaps subject to review outside of the SNIC Proceeding.

You will see one of the confirmations of the fax delivery to 416-774-3120 which was six pages as part of my Appeal was blocked and I had to send it in multiple faxes. As noted, this became a consistent theme involving 416-774-3120 which required me to send faxes from multiple fax numbers and sometimes discreet ones as per the blocking. Alas, from having multiple landline faxes over the years in multiple jurisdictions, you can block an income landline fax with ease as long as you are close to the actual fax machine. Moreover, there are often issues with them being busy like the antiquated days of calling a landline and someone else is on the phone at that time.

As noted, there is no question that SNIC (not TDGIC) was and is the SABS insurer for the one named in the Insurance Policy donated in the pleadings by both myself and SNIC, but the issue is the receipt of the Completed Application (see: Reg 283).

I will provide the documents where applicable as to what remains outstanding in terms of benefits with supporting documentation.

Thank you.

Warm regards,

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

Simply put, I write to confirm the above. I will provide in separate emails, which will be multiple (through no fault of my own but solely to being misled without denial of the same here) as to why benefits are SARS come under different provisions and there are different consequences for the Ls involving each.

I confirm that Messers Nieuwland Karal failed to even provide the correct fax number for SNIC by the end of the business day with the Tribunal and Mr. Josh Grant copied. I say that compound the drawing of an adverse inference.

I am copying Mr. Russell in his capacity as chief agent for TDHA. Thank you

Re: the referenced 905 fax number which was - 905-315-3447 (the "905 Fax Number")

Dear Sirs/Mesdames:

In reference to the 905 fax number, I confirm that the above fax number is the 905 Fax Number which is a landline at the address of 5045 S Service Rd, Burlington, ON L7L 5Y7 (the "Burlington Address"). I further note while the address at the McNabb Building does reference a "floor number" the Burlington Address does not. This is likely another indicator that the Burlington Address was an attempt to move me away from the 416 Fax Number (i.e. the TDHA fax number at the material times) as it was not SNIC's fax address as SNIC was located in Markham.

I attach a copy of a printout from the Ontario Business Directory website relating to the Burlington Address and the 905 Fax Number. As noted therein the Ontario Business Directory does not

Kind attention: relevant accounts payable department of the public insurance company that received my Completed Application

Re: Quantification of the IRB that is due and owing in principal amount by this Thursday, August 1, 2024

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns:

I write regarding the above. Presuming that TDHA will not deny that the 416 Fax Number was its fax number when it received my Completed Application, I confirm that the amount of IRB due and owing this Thursday, August 1, 2024 is the sum of $39,600 (the "Current IRB Principal Debt").

I further confirm that I have not received any IRB as of today's date despite delivery of the Completed Application (along the OCT-2 and OCT-3) to the 416 Fax Number (416-221-6470). Therefore, the full amount of the Current IRB Principal Debt, plus interest pursuant to section 51 of SABS, will be due and owing on this Thursday, August 1, 2024. I provide this evidence and unconverted evidence to the attention of the insurance company that received my Completed Application via fax to the 416 Fax Number so that it can prepare the necessary authorizations and payments for this Thursday, August 1, 2024.

As SNIC will know that the 416 Fax Number was not its fax number at the material time, there only leaves TDHA by all accounts of public evidence and the above.

I confirm that any switching of fax numbers from the 416 Fax Number to the 905 Fax Number (see: Burlington Address references) is inconsequential because the law loves the liability for the insurance company (albeit unknown to me until last Friday, July 26, 2024) under the "one fax# insurance regime" on RECEIPT and timing of receipt which was October 13, 2023.

As I provided my Beneficiary Bank Account information to the 416 Fax Number, the recipient insurance company (not any other insurance company that may have received it thereafter) is required pursuant to SABS to make payment of the same by this Thursday, August 01, 2024 with accumulated SABS interest (see: section 51 of SABS).

Thank you for your attention to this outstanding matter regarding compliance with SNIC's and payment of the IRB and interest.

Re: further to the above – two attachments – awaiting TDHA confirmation regarding 416 Fax Number – awaiting SNIC's provision of its actual fax number at the time of my submitted Completed Application

Dear Sirs/Mesdames/Other Gender Neutral Pronouns

1. I write further to the above. For further evidentiary purposes which I await the confirmation from TDHA that the 416 Fax Number was its fax number at the time that I delivered my Completed Application. I enclose the following attachments:

a. True North REIT brochure regarding the Victoria Park Building (which will be defined herein as "Attachment #3");
b. Colliers International brochure, as it is the commercial leasing agent for the Victoria Park Building (or "Spark Building") (defined herein as "Attachment #4"); and
c. Notice Of Motion Of Hearing At Scheduled Event Order for my NOM #4, which provides an example of the address and phone numbers for TDGIC (before its removal on June 21, 2024 in relation to my NOM #8 (defined herein as "Attachment #5").

2. I further await to receive SNIC's actual fax number at the time that I delivered my Completed Application (including all other OCI documents).

Part 2: Uncontroverted Evidence

3. As noted, the lead tenants were colloquially referred to as "TD Insurance" by True North REIT (see: Attachment #3).

4. The two insurance companies without any reference to the words of "TD" in their names per se (whilst noting "TD General Insurance Company"[iii] and "TD Home And Auto Insurance Company") have the word "Insurance" after their descriptors[iii] are those insurance companies that use two trademarks of "TD Insurance" and "Meloche Monnex" (for "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" absent any "Inc.", "Incorporated", "Company", "Corp.", "Ltd." or "Limited" as these are in their legal and correct corporate names") which are:

a. Security National Insurance Company (FSRA Registration Number 397) ("SNIC"); and
b. Primmum Insurance Company (FSRA Registration Number [illegible]) ("Primmum").

5. SNIC has been a tenant on the 2nd floor of SNIC Markham at the McNabb Building since on or around 2018. SNIC's landline fax number must be an area code associated with Markham which is a 905 fax number. I note that Markham has other area codes but those area codes are NOT area code "416" and they are area codes associated with "mobile numbers".

6. The Victoria Park Building (or "Spark Building") is one Doors and the lead tenants of "TD Insurance" had multiple Doors therein which is particularly important when the likes of TDHA and TDGIC are tenants therein.

7. Since 2018, TDHA's publicly listed fax number has been the 416 Fax Number (see: 416-774-3120) (see: Ontario Business Directory website)

8. The Tribunal listed the address for "TD General Insurance Company" in the "Notice of Motion To Be Heard Scheduled Event Order" the "TBHSE Order") for my NOM #4 (the "IRB Quantification Order") as the following (with emphasis on the "prefix" of "774" and the "last three (3) digits" of the "last four (4) digits":

> "TD General Insurance Company
> 3630 Victoria Park Avenue,
> 9th Floor
> North York, ON
> M2H 3N7
> TDIADR@tdinsurance.com
> (416) 774-3629"

9. It is trite that "North York" is part of the City Of Toronto

10. In said "Notice Of Motion TBHSE Order", it is important to note the phone number listed therein which commences with the following:

a. Area code: 416; and
b. Prefix: 774.

Doc 1AR B10 page 132

307

11. It is further important to note that the the "last four digits" of the phone number for TD General Insurance Company do NOT commence with the digits of "31" (see: "36" and then "29"). This distinction is a seminal one because as in turn means that the likely fax number of TDGIC at the Victoria Park Building commences or commenced (depending on the date of its departure[2]) as a tenant or occupier of the Victoria Park Building)

12. It is important to note that the phone number listed for Mr. Kevin McLean as he then was exclusively[3] declared representative for TDGIC at the office located at Wellington West in downtown Toronto was:

The Non-Earner Benefit is payable for the period you continue to suffer a complete inability to carry on a normal life. The amount of the benefit payable is $185 per week. The benefit is payable for first 4 weeks of disability and for any period before you reach the age of 65, if applicable. Be advised that this benefit is payable only after the first 104 week from the date of the above incident.

We are unable to determine your entitlement to the benefit without the completed Disability Certificate (OCF-3).

Housekeeping and Home Maintenance & Caregiver Benefits:
We have determined that you are not eligible for these benefits as you have not purchased Optional Housekeeping and Caregiver Benefits as part of your automobile policy and your injuries do not meet the definition of a catastrophic impairment, you are not eligible to receive these benefits.

Damage to Clothing, Glasses, Hearing Aids, etc.
You will be reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred by you to repair or replace clothing you were wearing at the time of the accident including prescription eyewear, dentures, hearing aids, prosthesis, and other medical or dental devices that were lost or damaged as a result of the accident.

We are enclosing another Disability Certificate OCF-3 for your convenience. The OCF-3 is to be completed by a health practitioner of your choosing. A health practitioner may include, but is not limited to, your family physician. The OCF-3 form requires who will complete it on your behalf.

The enclosed Applicant's Right to Dispute notice explains your rights and limitations regarding your Accident Benefits claim.

If we can assist you in any way, please contact Allstate Accident Claims Services, at 1-877-633-3787 (option 2, or by fax at 416-774-3120. When doing so, please refer to the above mentioned claim number to help us serve you better.

Assignment body within the meaning of the Public Accounting Act 2004, and the expense is reasonable and necessary for the purpose of determining your entitlement to IRB. We will pay no more than $2,500 for the preparation of this or more of these reports.

The amount of the Income Replacement Benefit is determined based on 70% of the sum of your gross monthly income from employment and monthly income from self-employment less monthly income from self-employment preceding the accident. This amount may be increased by 70% of monthly loss from self-employment if providing loss to the Insurer. This entitlement is further adjusted for a deduction for payments for loss of income replacement received or available from other sources. The amount of the IRB payable is the lesser of the preceding amount determined and $400 (Amounts may differ if optional benefits have been purchased) per week but 70% of gross income and income from self-employment earned or received after the accident. The benefits payable during the period that you continue to suffer a substantial inability to perform the essential tasks of your employment. We begin to pay for the first week of disability or for a period longer than 104 weeks of disability, unless you continue to suffer a complete inability to engage in any employment for which you are reasonably suited by education, training or experience.

The enclosed "Applicant's Right to Dispute" notice explains your rights and limitations in regards to your Accident Benefits claim with us.

Respondent

NOTICE OF MOTION TO BE HEARD AT SCHEDULED EVENT

The Licence Appeal Tribunal will hear the motion filed by the applicant dated February 9, 2024 at the case conference scheduled to proceed on Thursday, May 2, 2024.

The order sought by the applicant is as follows:

1. An Order that the respondent pay the applicant $27,200 or any greater amount for the time period of one week after the accident to the deemed receipt date by the applicant of the respondent's "admitted IRB Denial on the IRB Denial Date (Saturday, December 23, 2023)."

The applicant also sought an Order for an award under s. 10 of Regulation 664 and costs. The applicant has already included his claim for an award in his application. The issue of costs can be requested to be added to the issues in dispute at the case conference. As a result, these requests will not be addressed as part of this motion.

The party responding to the motion is invited to file responding submissions by April 11, 2024. Submissions shall be limited to 6 double-spaced pages, exclusive of evidence and authorities, and they shall be served on all other parties and filed with the Tribunal. Responding submissions filed after this deadline or that exceed the page limits may not be considered by the adjudicator hearing the motion.

Claim No.: (035325780-3)
Date Of Loss: 2022-08-31
Claimant: Kevin Meleno

Dear Sir:

Thank you for submitting the Treatment and Assessment Plan (OCF-18) prepared by prepared by Ortho Neuro Physiocare and dated April 6, 2023. We have reviewed the recommendations and are approving the following items:

- Physical rehabilitation in the amount of $1995.00
- Assessment (examination), total body in the amount of $85.57

We do not agree to pay for any of the following goods, services and/or assessments for medical reasons and all other reasons known as of the date of this notice as follows:

- Physical rehabilitation in the amount of $598.50
- Assessment (examination), total body in the amount of $129.43

To date we have received no further information, despite our s33 request for clinical notes and records, that the proposed goods and services are reasonable, necessary and/or essential to your recovery from your accident-related impairments. Currently, there is no medical evidence to support that the proposed goods and services are essential to your ongoing treatment / rehabilitation. In effort to obtain a holistic view of your impairments we require in-person examinations.

Your claim remains subject to the Medical and Rehabilitation limit of $3,500. The amount of treatment, goods and services that has been approved to date is $3,590.

In order to determine if you suffer from an impairment that comes within the above Guideline, the Treatment Plan (OCF-18) will be reviewed by an assessor(s) chosen by the insurer. A notice will follow under a separate cover with further information regarding the particulars of the examination including the date, time and location.

If you fail or refuse to participate in the examination, we will make a determination that you are not entitled to any of the goods, services and/or assessments described in the Treatment and Assessment Plan (OCF-18).

YOUR RIGHT TO DISPUTE THE INSURANCE COMPANY'S DETERMINATION OF YOUR CLAIM FOR STATUTORY ACCIDENT BENEFITS

Under the Insurance Act, if your claim for statutory accident benefits has been reduced or denied by your insurance company, you have a right to dispute your insurance company's determination.

If you do not agree with the insurance company's decision you may file an application with the Licence Appeal Tribunal (LAT) – Automobile Accident Benefits Service (AABS) within 2 years of the date of reduction or denial.

WARNING: TWO YEAR TIME LIMIT

You have TWO YEARS from the date of your insurance company's refusal to pay, or reduction of a benefit, to file an application with the Licence Appeal Tribunal – Automobile Accident Benefits Service. If you do not apply within two years, you will lose the right to dispute the determination.

Your insurance company may have an internal complaints review system. While you are encouraged to work with your insurance company to settle your complaint, be warned that it does not extend the two-year time limit to make your claim.

HOW TO FILE AN APPLICATION TO THE LICENCE APPEAL TRIBUNAL - AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT BENEFITS SERVICE

To file an application you must complete the following steps:

1. Complete an AABS Application by an Injured Person (the "application");
2. Send a copy of the application to the insurance company (this is called 'serving' the other party);
3. Complete an AABS Certificate of Service to explain how you have sent the copy of the application to the other party; and
4. Submit the completed application and the Certificate of Service to AABS and pay the AABS application fee.

Forms

The forms can be downloaded and can be filled in on a computer or by hand. For more information on forms and serving documents please visit http://www.giaato.gov.on.ca/en/AABS/Pages/Forms.aspx

If you need a paper copy or if you have questions about the forms or process, please call AABS at 416-314-4260 from the Toronto calling area, or toll-free at 1-800-255-2214.

Fee

The fee to file an application with AABS is $106.00. This payment can be made by cheque or credit card when you submit the forms. The $106.00 fee is non-refundable once AABS has confirmed that it can proceed with your claim.

For the experience only the customer service that I spoke at this end at least and was told that before I can receive my insurance package

After 2 weeks of not receiving anything, I called again and was told that a package would be ready. I received it yesterday and it's a BLANK automobile insurance application.

I called their customer service line and was on hold for 10-15 mins. Only to be finally told that this review system is down so they can't pull up any account.

A customer rep called me back, but is for a quote in her insurance, so now I have to pay long distance charges to try to register this. My renewal is up soon and I may have to switch to my current provider because of TD's incompetence.

I've received go the customer service at this branch level, but their management should be reprimanded and be organized.

SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY

RESPONDENT

This is the 3rd Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under OB Insurance (SNIC "Mutual Program") Claim Number 0358879034-101 Date of 1 All Insurance Policy Number 3000015118 (the "Policy Number"). LAT File Number "24-0106A2/A-MEN" (the "LAT File Number" "LAT Proceeding" or "Section Proceeding") under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently governing the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") to Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registration Number of 397 ("SNIC #397") and pursuant to serving the "Joint Insurer" to receive an Completed Application on October 13, 2022 via my fax to the fax number of 416-774-3120 (the "4th Floor 3650 Victoria Park Avenue Fax Number" or "VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number")

Regarding the following matters including but not limited to (see: definitions herein previous definitions in Appellant's "Glossary"):

IN THE MATTER of an automobile accident (the "Accident") on August 31, 2022, appertaining to the application and compliance by the Appellant, SNIC and the First Insurer with the Insurance Act, RSO 1990, c I.8 et seq (the "Insurance Act") and outstanding, current and future benefits (the "Benefits") owed to, owing to or to be owed to the Appellant and on behalf of the Appellant pursuant to Reg 283 and SABS (also defined as the "Schedule"[3]);

IN THE MATTER of a provided OCF-1 application (the "Application"[4]) by the Sole Underwriter of the Insurance Policy in Security National Insurance Company, FSRA registration number 397 ("SNIC"), with the unalterable return mailing address[5] of 200-101 McNabb Street, Markham, Ontario, L3R 4H8 ("SNIC Markham Office") and unalterable return (see: "Return this form to") landline facsimile number[6], provided by Bell Canada Inc. ("Bell" or "Bell Canada"), grounded and wired to the fourth floor of the building (colloquially known as the "Spark Building" which is owned the True North REIT" and managed by Colliers International), situated on the premises municipally known as 3650 Victoria Park Avenue, district of North York, city of Toronto (Metro Toronto), postal code of M2H 3P7 (defined herein as the "Victoria Park Building" or "VP Building"), of 416-774-3120[7], (the "VP Building 4th Fl. Fax Number") to the Appellant, in his capacity as an Insured Person pursuant to being an "Occupant", "Driver" and "Spouse" of the individual named insured in the Insurance Contract", on or around September 20, 2022, and the Appellant's completion and execution, on October 12, 2022, (the "Completed Application"[8]), and delivery of the Completed Application to "one insurer" (see: Reg 283, ss. 2.1(4)) to the VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number, albeit unbeknownst to the Appellant at the time that a different insurance company (the "First Insurer") than SNIC would and did receive (see: Reg 283, ss. 2(1) and 2.1(6)) the Completed Application on October 13, 2022 (the "Receipt Date: Completed Application" or "Completed Application Receipt Date");

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the First Insurer, pursuant to Reg 283, ss. 2(1), 2.1(1) and 2(6), being responsible for the payment of benefits to the Appellant from October 13, 2022, to January 10, 2023 and to respond to the Appellant on a forthwith basis (collectively, the "Duties To Respond & To Pay");

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of "an insurer" (SNIC) that provided an Application under ss. 2(2) of Reg 283, being prohibited from taking any action intended to prevent or stop the Applicant (distinguished from "Appellant" but referring to the same individual) from submitting a completed application to [THE INSURER (nota bene: based on public evidence regarding the owner and tenant associated with the telephone landline fax number of 416-774-3120 at the Material Time being THIS] AND shall NOT refuse to accept the completed application or direct an Applicant to another insurer (see: Reg 283, ss. 2.1(5));

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the First Insurer being required, pursuant to Reg 283, ss. 2(7), to reimburse another insurer (SNIC) for any legal fees, adjuster's fees, administrative costs and disbursements that are reasonably incurred by the other insurer as a result of non-compliance;

This is the 18th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McCann under TD Insurance (SNIC's Accident Program 1 (Claim Number [illegible]) (the Policy Number) LAT File Number [illegible] (the "LAT File Number") LAT Proceeding (the "LAT Proceeding") under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act pursuant involving the sole respondent party who Sole Respondent Party The Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registrant Number of 297 ("SNIC #297") and generally involving the First Insurer's Incorrect or Unexpected Application on October 13, 2022 sent by fax to the fax number of 416-774-3120 (the "3rd Floor 3620 Victoria Park Avenue Fax Number" or "VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number")

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the First Insurer being legally prohibited from disputing its obligation to pay benefit under section 268 of the Insurance Act as it did not give written notice within 90 days (January 10, 2023) of October 13, 2022, (its receipt of the Completed Application) to any and every insurer that it could have claimed was required to pay under section 268 of the Insurance Act (see: Reg 283, ss. 3(1) and to the Appellant in accordance with Reg 283, ss. 4(1);

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the Appellant swearing that he had no knowledge that the VP Building 4th Floor Fax Number was not the fax phone number of SNIC until August 2024 and disclaiming any intent or knowledge in relation to the section titled "Warning – Offences" in the "Accident Benefits Application Package" (effective 2016-06-01) (c) Queen's Printer for Ontario, 2016, FSCO 1224E.5));

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of an "Application of an Injured Person" ("Appeal") filed by the Appellant with the Licence Appeal Tribunal ("LAT" or "Tribunal") Automobile Accident Services ("AABS") division ("AABS Division") on December 24, 2023, and served upon the insurance company with the fax number of 416-774-3120 (same as the "First Insurer") and the known[11] claims advisors in Ms. Alisha-Anne Nurse ("Ms. Nurse") and Ms. Carol Persaud ("Ms. Persaud"), who purported to be of SNIC, and the sole Response[12] signed and filed by SNIC with the Tribunal on January 25, 2024 (the "SNIC Response") and then served on the Appellant on January 25, 2024, all pursuant to subsection 280(2) of the Insurance Act, RSO 1990, c I.8., in relation (expressly or implicitly, or by inclusion or exclusion) to the following statutes (and made rules thereunder) and regulations:

i. SPPA;
ii. LATA;
   a. LAT Rules made under the SPPA and LATA that are not inconsistent with the above;
iii. Legislation Act;
iv. Regulations
   a. Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule, O Reg 34/10 et seq ("SABS").
   b. Automobile Insurance, RRO 1990, Reg 664 et seq ("Reg 664");
   c. Disputes Between Insurers, O Reg 283/95 et seq ("Reg 283");
   d. Other denoted regulations herein or in this LAT Proceeding.

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of a multi-purposed affidavit involving my allegations that SNIC has breached its fiduciary duties owed to the Appellant (myself) and other insured persons under the Insurance Contract (or if a systemic issue, then other insured persons who were, are and may be "similarly situated, the First Insurer has breached its duties owed to me, various insurance companies within the TDI Group, TDISL, various persons employed by TDISL, various claims advisors within the TDI Group, various claims advisors of SNIC, and other persons have agreed to breach the Insurance Act, Reg 283, SABS, Reg 664, the LDAP Rule, FSRA bulletins, FSRA guidance documents, and other "laws";

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the "Spam Fax" in Spring 2021 resembling or approximating the same language as the letter (see: Affidavit #34, Exhibit "B", page 4; and Affidavit #35, Exhibit "C" herein) delivered to Rehab Mechanics on or around August 28, 2024, which, inter alia, being "[illegible] TO MATCH

YOUR ENCLOSED DOCUMENT(S) WITH ONE OF OUR CLAIMS" (see: Exhibit "A" herein"). Further, IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the "Spam Fax" in Spring 2023 being responsive to the Appellant's delivered fax to the telephone number (fax number) of 416-774-3120 yet by similar unidentified sender per se, unidentified return address, and unspecified phone number et al. yet referring him to the a "list of fax numbers" across Canada albeit one of the fax numbers being the Victoria Park Building 4th Floor Fax Number which he had faxed to:

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of SNIC purporting to amend or change its mailing address and fax number to the Burlington Office Address (absent a floor number) (attention: Ms. Persaud) in Summer of 2023, and then reverting back to the mailing address of SNIC Markham absent a fax number:

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the delivered August 9, 2024, (albeit not "received" until August 15, 2024) letter to all active insurance companies in the TDI Group and no insurance company in the TDI Group being able to match the Appellant by name, Insurance Policy, TD Claim Number, telephone number, address or any other particulars therein; IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of TDI Group not being able to match any of the enclosed documents in the delivered Invoice #1(A) which appended to it attachments including the Dhaliwal OCF-18 and the Appellant's affidavit therein which included but not limited to: (i) the Appellant's TD Claim Number; (ii) the Appellant's phone number; (iii) the Appellant's address; (iv) the Insurance Policy Number; (v) the Date of Loss; (vi) the claims advisor (at the time); (vii) the Appellant's legal name; (viii) the Appellant's gender; and (ix) all particulars contained in the enclosed documents (Invoice #1(A) with attachments) (the "Enclosed Documents") (see: pages 4 to 70 of Exhibit "A" of Affidavit #15)

IN THE SPECIFIC MATTER of the Appellant's to be filed motion seeking, inter alia, "Correction of Errors" pursuant to ss. 21.1 of the SPPA (A tribunal may at ANY TIME correct a: (i) typographical error; (ii) error of calculation, or (iii) similar error made in its: (a) decision; or (b) order) ("NOM #18").

I, Kevin Alexander McLean, Disabled[14] (B.A., J.D., CIM) of Toronto, Ontario, SWEAR[15] THAT:

Volume #1: Sworn Under Oath; under the Penalty of Perjury; and Definitions

1. I am the deponent or affiant (also defined as the "Appellant"[16], "Applicant"[17], "Insured Person"[18], "Disabled Individual"[19] and/or "CAT Impaired Individual"[20]) herein and I swear, under the pains and penalties of perjury, the following facts to be true. Where I have stated or sworn information on my belief(s), I have cited the source of my belief(s) by references, citations, end-noting or otherwise. When I have used the expressions (including any permutations) of "in my view", "in my opinion", or "belief", I am not drawing or making any conclusion of law or swearing a conclusion of law but rather citing my position and opinions as a matter of fact.

2. I adopt the definitions from my previously filed documents in this LAT Proceeding (also defined as the "SNIC Proceeding" and now also defined as the "McLean Proceeding" [see: infra for explanation as to why) and they have the same meaning herein as they do therein unless expressly denoted otherwise.

This is the 38th Affidavit of Mr. Kevin A. McLean under File Insurance (SNIC "Abuse Program") Claim Number [illegible] FSRA Claim #[illegible] Insurance Policy Number [illegible] (the "Policy Number"). LAT File Number "[illegible] (the "LAT File Number") LAT Proceeding or Motion Proceeding under section 280(2) of the Insurance Act currently involving the sole respondent party (the "Sole Respondent Party") Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC") with an FSRA Registrants Number of [illegible] ("SNIC #397") and potentially involving the "First Insurer" to receive my completed Application on October 13, 2022 namely (as to the fax number of 416-734-3120 (the "4th Floor 2650 Victoria Park Avenue Fax Number") or "VP Holdings" (Fax Number")

1. For ease of chronology, NOM #16 is my SNIC document production motion of which I must file a reply by end of business day on Monday, September 30, 2024.

4. NOM #17 is another SNIC document production motion of which the Tribunal has been kind enough to notify me is still being reviewed.

5. I swear this evidence in support of NOM #18 which is not set to be heard by way of the statutorily required "notice" to the parties regarding the time, date, purpose and format of the hearing along with the consequences of non-attendance or participation in the same.

6. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A" to this my affidavit are copies of emails and attachments therein whereby I am the sender of all but for the first email from the female case manager named therein with the attachment of the "reasons for decision" and "orders" therein of Vice Chair Morrissette ("VCM"). I have separated the following by "parts" with the following pages:

   a. Part 1: the email and attachment from the female case manager denoted therein with the attached VCM decision for NOM #13 to #15 which was received by myself on Friday, September 13, 2024. Exhibit "A", Part 1, is enumerated from pages 1 to 12;
   b. Part 2: my two emails in that email thread which are enumerated from pages 13 to 24; and
   c. Part 3: the attachments to my third email of September 28, 2024, in that email thread therein which are enumerated from pages 25 to 48.

7. I expressly incorporate and adopt the facts and my beliefs, while citing the source, in my two emails in Exhibit "A" herein and they are my evidence herein.

8. On a go forward basis, I would respectfully ask the Tribunal that since Vice Chair Morrissette is not seized that an adjudicator other than her decide any hearings herein.

Dear Ms. Maureen Balagtas (she/her):

Thank you kindly for this attachment and decision involving SNIC and TDIA with respect to NOM #14 and #15 and TDGIC with respect to NOM #13.

I confirm that this was not received until Friday, September 13, 2024, so the date is off by a week. I am solely confirming the same out of an abundance of caution. The adjudicator may wish to correct that but nonetheless it was not received until Friday, September 13, 2024, so I am using that date for precision purposes as this came after an order of September 12, 2024. Put another way, I will referring to this decision as the Friday September 13 Decision.

Thank you.

Warm regards.

Mr. Kevin McLean, B.A. (Hon.), J.D., LL.M.

Re: my notice to SNIC, TDGIC and TDIA that I will be bringing a motion pursuant to subsection 21.1 of the SPPA

Re #2: residual – abundance of caution

635 Dear LAT Registrar: (19)

1. I write regarding the above and for notice purposes.

2. I write to confirm that I inspected the metadata of the "reasons for decision" of now Vice-Chair Morrissette. I extend my congratulations to her on her ascent at LAT. I copy and paste the same to this email at "Appendix #1". From what we have gleaned, Ms. Zukowski, is a "Senior Project Manager, Team Lead at the Ministry of the Attorney General". For ease of reference, I have defined Vice Chair Morrissette as "VCM" at various parts herein.

3. It is unclear how the decision is dated September 6, 2024, when it was delivered to myself and counsel to SNIC at 11:12 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024. This is consistent with when the document was created (see: 11:09:06 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024) and last modified before its delivery (see: 11:09:56 a.m. on Friday, September 13, 2024).

4. I submit with the greatest respect that not having the date of a "reasons for decision" is an error that needs correction considering its impact on timelines in the LAT Rules.

5. I was particularly concerned with the tone in the Reasons For Decision and some of the attacks and implications of language used by Vice-Chair Morrissette therein. I had it reviewed by external and experienced lawyers and they agreed with me. Vice Chair Morrissette appears to have some level of dislike towards me.

6. Additionally, she is referencing the accommodation towards me and my unfamiliarity with the process. I have certainly had some learning but I have been compliant with the forms to use, the LAT Rules, usage of indices, tabulations, consecutive numbering et al. With great respect, it was not I that had the incorrect party in the initial decision of Vice Chair Lake when my motions #2 to #3 all referenced "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company". How that became "TD General Insurance Company" remains beyond me. I sought the amendment of TDGIC to SNIC in my NOM #4 yet Vice Chair Lake issued an order and reasons for decision that she declined to decide. Even at that time, the law was unequivocally clear that TDGIC was not a separate entity from SNIC. I need not be repetitious. However, if TDGIC did not oppose it from January 2024 until June 2024, time could have been better allocated. I am reviewing the provisions of the SPPA on validity of the case conference as that is noted in Vice Chair Morrissette's order. Of course, only parties can be compelled to case conferences and pre-hearing conferences. By Vice Chair Morrissette's granting of my NOM #8, her order was retroactive effect on all orders issued by the Tribunal. That being said, the case conference did not have SNIC on the record per se.

7. In this regard, Vice-Chair Morrissette stated at part in paragraph 18 which I am paraphrasing that I did not make any document demands upon SNIC when SNIC was not the party. I kindly direct Vice Chair Morrissette and the Tribunal to my case conference form submitted and signed which remained consistent. I do not know what production deadlines she is referring to therein. It remains unclear. The case law shows production requests being made after case conferences on a regular occasion. SNIC did not submit a case conference brief so it is unclear how I am being held responsible for the same and deprived of documents or things from a non-party. Vice Chair Morrissette went further in saying that Mr. Nieuwland, on behalf of TDGIC, consented to NOM #8. To be objective and precise, Mr. Nieuwland's language on June 6, 2024, was that TDGIC did not oppose. Not opposing and consenting are different in law. Consent to a motion, with approval from the decision maker, results in a consent order. A consent order is a contract and can only be set aside on the traditional grounds of: (i) duress; (ii) misrepresentation; (iii) mistake; (iv) absence of consent; (v) non est factum; and (iv) others. Not opposing the wishes of another is not the same as consenting to such intended conduct.

8. As Adjudicator Morrissette, as she then was, is aware I sought corrections and amendments in her "reasons for decision" of her granting of my NOM #8 order with language that was imprecise including the above. For example, Adj. Morrissette, as she then was, was not as analytically precise as one would expect when she referenced Mr. Nieuwland filing a Response (capitals were hers). It was TDGIC that filed responses to my motions when it had no legal right to be a party. TDGIC never filed a Response (as defined under the LAT Rules). It was a crucial distinction that was required and the Appellant thanked Adjudicator Morrissette for her clarification of what she was intending.

9. That being said, of particular concern with the September 6, 2024, incorrect date for her "reasons for decision" was that on that date I had tendered a privacy request with MAG and paid the requisite funds for the processing of the funds to the Minister of Finance (MAG). It was not an easy process with my impairments and considering Tribunals Ontario has been closed for some time. I had to liaise with the most accommodating Ontario Provincial Police ("OPP") constables or officers at the building adjacent to the right (West) of Tribunals Ontario to find the correct individual to receive the same. After some time, we were able to find said individual and the funds were provided along with the FOIPPA request. While I will not go into details of my FOIPPA request, it was, in part, because it was represented to me by LAT in late July 2024 that my NOM #13 would be heard in due course.

10. I was not receiving any responses at all to my queries. I appreciate Mr. Grant was away for a period of time in July 2024 and I noted the female case manager (name escapes me currently and reference to female was the "she/her" reference and to distinguish her from Mr. Grant who was away) who confirmed that my NOM #13 was received in compliant fashion and referenced "due course"

11. Vice Chair Morrissette was correct that Mr. Gant was prompt to notify me that LAT believed that there was an issue with the page length of my submissions when they were six pages double spaced. I confirm that they were on multiple occasions and that was the cessation of that conversation. I note that this happened with Mr. Nieuwland as well. To ensure that is not an issue moving forward, I will ensure that only the body of my submissions are numbered and not the initial pages containing the LAT file number, style of cause, contact information et al.

12. Returning to NOM #13, I was required to make demands upon the Non-Party TDGIC and I did so. I did not receive any response.

13. I followed up regarding NOM #13 on Wednesday, September 11, 2024 as it was exactly two months since I had served TDGIC at its office represented by the Tribunal, without objection from TDGIC, at 9th floor-3650 Victoria Park Avenue, North York, Toronto, Ontario.

14. On Thursday, September 12, 2024, I and SNIC then received a motion scheduling order for NOM #16. Nothing was received regarding NOM #13. I did not seek consolidation of NOM #13 with NOM #14 and NOM #15. It is unclear why that was done considering it was only NOM #13 that had the representation attached to it that it was enacted in due course. However, the statutory requirements denoted below are distinct from the exercise of discretion to consolidate hearings. I still say, pursuant to section notice of each hearing was required in consolidated form or by distinction.

15. It is trite that NOM #13 involved TDGIC alone. NOM #14 and NOM #15 involved SNIC and TDHA.

16. It is further unoriginal that I sought that NOM #13 was to be heard on a written hearing.

No Notice of Three Hearings in One by Vice Chair Morrissette

(16

17. There appears to be an issue that has been drawn to my attention regarding Vice Chair Lake and Vice Chair Morrissette engaging in issuing orders and reasons for decision without notice of hearing.

LAT Rule 15.3: Responding and Reply Submissions

18. I appreciate that the LAT Rules have a provision that states the following:

> "Before a motion is granted, the Tribunal may provide the responding parties with the opportunity to make submissions. The Tribunal may also provide the moving party with the opportunity to make reply submissions."

19. I am not certain that is allowable under the SPPA. If the splicing therein is that the responding party has received notice of the hearing by way of date, purpose and manner of format but there is no statutory right to file submissions and the Tribunal has ordered that only affidavit evidence (or documents and not "submissions" per se) is required from the responding party. If that is what is meant by the erudite minds who drafted the LAT Rules, effective August 2023, then I can see the logic.

20. If it is a proper and intra vires exercise of delegated statutory rule making authority under another statute, I will have to review the same.

21. However, if it is, it has been pointed out to me that the following sections of the SPPA state the following:

" Section 1, "Definitions"

"hearing" means a hearing in any proceeding.

Notice of hearing

6 (1) The parties to a proceeding shall be given reasonable notice of the hearing by the tribunal. R.S.O. 1990, c. S.22, s. 6 (1).

Statutory authority

(2) A notice of a hearing shall include a reference to the statutory authority under which the hearing will be held.

Written hearing

(4) A notice of a written hearing SHALL include,

(a) a statement of the date and purpose of the hearing, and details about the manner in which the hearing will be held,

(b) a statement that the hearing shall not be held as a written hearing if the party satisfies the tribunal that there is good reason for not holding a written hearing (in which case the tribunal is required to hold it as an electronic or oral hearing) and an indication of the procedure to be followed for that purpose;

(c) a statement that if the party notified neither acts under clause (b) nor participates in the hearing in accordance with the notice, the tribunal may proceed without the party's participation and the party will not be entitled to any further notice in the proceeding. 1994, c. 27, s. 56 (13); 1997, c. 23, s. 13 (13); 1999, c. 12, Sched. B, s. 16 (5).

44

Effect of non-attendance at hearing after due notice

Same, written hearings

(2) Where notice of a written hearing has been given to a party to a proceeding in accordance with this Act and the party neither acts under clause 6 (4) (b) nor participates (IV) in the hearing in accordance with the notice, the tribunal may proceed without the party's participation and the party is not entitled to any further notice in the proceeding "

Application of the above to the facts

22. The above language is unambiguous in that parties are entitled to notice of a hearing with the time, date, place and purpose of the hearing. Further, the manner in which a hearing is to be held is provided to the parties. It is not fining upon them particularly when a party has followed up and informed that it will be heard in "due course". In order for the hearing to be heard, notice is required. It may be short notice or lengthier notice. Certainly, then a party may object to the same and bring a motion to have a shorter or lengthier notice than the ordered notice period.

23. Moreover, the statutorily required notice, by way of document in most scenarios, provides a responding party the opportunity to provide "good reason" why a written hearing should be held as an oral hearing. Without a notice document issued from the Tribunal, how does a responding party do so? Of course, in that hypothetical measured against my proposal for written hearings, that would have been opposed. However, this is not a matter of my interests per se but the requirements under statute. As a creature of statute, LAT cannot deviate from those obligatory requirements.

24. Whether a responding party is entitled or NOT entitled to make submissions, there is no conceivable way, as a matter of administrative law but particularly section 6 of the SPPA, that a respondent party is not entitled to notice of the hearing. As noted in some of my earlier authorities like IV Raleigh Holdings Ltd. v. OSC and others, if a party receives notice of a hearing and does not attend a hearing, the remainder of the proceeding (whether a LAT, privacy, ONLRB or others) may be conducted in absentia of that duly notified but non-participating party.

25. I will have to review the law further in this manner to consider the impact of VCM's decision absent a notice of hearing being provided which is all the more confusing considering that NOM #16 had a notice motion hearing scheduling date issued the day before.

26. NOM #8 is a perfect example of the statutorily required compliance with the SPPA from a notice standpoint. On June 5, 2024, the Tribunal issued a notice of hearing for it to be heard on June 21, 2024. Between that time, I arranged for the payment and procedural efforts to obtain the independent status certificates for SNIC and TDGIC. I agreed with the FSRA that I would pay for expedited delivery of the same. The FSRA was able to do so, with great appreciation to it, and I obtained the same a few days before the hearing of NOM #8 and included them in the record of proceeding. During that time, Mr. Nieuwland for TDGIC, and credit to him for being responsive, on June 6, 2024, confirmed TDGIC did not oppose.

27. Whether it is this LAT proceeding or any other proceeding, any respondent (insurer or insured) has the right to notice of a hearing and to consider how it wishes to participate or not participate. Obviously, Mr. Nieuwland with his vast experience knew that not saying anything could be viewed as non-participation so he provided that confirmation of non-opposition on behalf of TDGIC. Parenthetically, this is yet another reason (not the "sole reason") why TDGIC had to be removed and SNIC in its role as a party after being the sole insurance company to file a Response

639 pursuant to the LAT Rules. In this example, SNIC was not a party so it was NOT entitled to notice under the SPPA. The Legislature was unequivocal in its language that notice entitlement only applies to parties.

28. Even the LAT Rules acknowledge the same, at least tacitly, in Rule 9.2.2 where it was inclusive and intentional with language of the extension of the right to a non-party to make submissions before an order is granted.

29. I note the following language which I know copy and paste:

> "Before an order is granted by the Tribunal, the non-party will have an opportunity to make submissions as set out in the notice of motion hearing."

30. As I was reading the same and then dictating, an epiphany arose. TDGIC was and is a non-party, and the Tribunal did not follow its own rule.

31. The language of "will" is used under Rule 9.2.2 yet "may" is used in Rule 15.3. Even if different hearings are consolidated, which is somewhat troubling considering a Rule 9.2.2. motion being distinct from other types of motions, with non-parties and the Respondent Party, the non-party will have the opportunity to make submissions, which is a guaranteed right of the non-party by the LAT Rule 9.2.2., and the responding party will, as a matter of statutory right be entitled to notice of the hearings (even if one rule does not afford it with the right to make submissions (i.e. Rule 9.2.2. entitles the Respondent Party to receipt of the motion materials as the moving party must serve the Respondent Party and the Non-Party)).

Conclusion

32. I am deeply concerned about some of the revisionist history in the above. Much of the "reasons for decision" of Vice Chair Morrissette are inconsistent with the record of proceeding. At this stage, there is no eraser that can be used for that which has been filed with "permanent ink" and that I have stored in three separate cloud storages and hard copies into binders.

33. It appears that VCM has also conflated the distinction between Motion Submissions and Costs Submissions. I was clear in my Costs Submissions, which are not motions unto themselves, are not constrained by the limits under Rule 15. It is very disquieting that there is ostensible conflation of the two: the hearing record index or indices are unequivocal into the distinction between Motion Submissions and Costs Submissions which are in separate tabs.

34. There is a reference to the "sole reason" required, as a matter of law, change of name from TDGIC to SNIC is because that I requested it and obtained consent (from whom is unclear in this VCM decision). That is patently false. The reason was as a matter of law it was required to be amended. The second reason was SNIC filed and served a Response and TDGIC did not. The third reason was the FSRA informed me they were not one and the same. The fourth reason was that the FSRA confirmed if I paid fees for status certificates that it would provide current evidence that they were not one and the same. The fifth reason was that TDGIC never sought to be added as a party but somehow took over from SNIC when the Consent Email Communication Protocol between myself and SNIC, as Mr. Karat as ADR specialist for SNIC.

35. As it relates to NOM #16, I will file my reply by the end of the business day on Monday, September 30, 2024.

36. However, in light of the above, without getting into any substantive positions on potential reconsideration and/or future judicial review and/or appeal, pursuant to LATA, Vice Chair Morrissette's decision commences with the incorrect date which is then followed with a litany of errors that must be corrected and amended to reflect the actualities and facts of the record of proceeding.

37. The reason for the same is that of the likes of Rule 18 "Reconsideration" which uses the words of "date of the decision".

38. Lastly, and these are the most troubling aspects of the VCM Decision which are from paragraphs 22 to 28. It is quite the finding about "inconsistency" directed towards me. In any event, I note some of the following:

a. Paragraph 22: I did not refer to TD SNIC after the filing of the "Response" but it was in my pre-appeal affidavits and in the Appeal itself. Simply put, there was not enough room to put "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company):

i. In motions #1 to #3, the Respondent is so titled as "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company) which VCM has somehow skipped;

ii. The change to TDGIC was by Vice-Chair Lake in mid-January 2024.

b. Paragraph 23: for the same reasons above is incorrect and must be corrected;

c. Paragraph 24 to 26: the Motion Submissions and NOM #14 could not have been clearer in that TDHA was the First Insurer, by overwhelming and independent public evidence. SNIC only remains as per costs which is oddly consistent with the VCM decision herein;

d. Paragraph 27: again, the pleadings themselves demonstrate that the insurance policy was not mine per se so that must be corrected.

i. However, it is the language as follows: "The initial respondent, TDGIC, and the current respondent, SNIC, accepted priority over the applicant's [sic] policy".

ii. For precision purposes, VCM found at paragraph 23, "At some point between the filing of the respondent's counsel's DoR on January 30, 2023, and February 19, 2024, the respondent's IDENTITY was administratively changed by the Tribunal from SNIC to TDGIC."

a. This would in turn mean that SNIC was the initial respondent if the administrative change occurred at some unknown time between January 30, 2024 to February 19, 2024;

b. Inconsistent with subpart "a", the above language in paragraph 27 refers to TDGIC as the "initial respondent" but that would make TDGIC the second respondent due to the administrative change.

i. As such, these corrections must be made due to being factually incorrect but it cannot be a fact (not a legal issue) that two insurance companies accepted priority over the "applicant's [sic] policy". I do not know what it means to accept priority over an insurance policy. An insurance company may accept priority, pursuant to Reg 283, over an automotive claim pursuant to a Completed Application being "initially" or "first received" by said insurance company (note bene: receipt can be mail or fax – not email).

ii. This obviously lends support that TDHA was the First Insurer as the name of TDGIC only surfaced at the Tribunal and never by me. Moreover, TDGIC's fax was 416.774.3629 and the fax number provided by SNIC was not its fax and not even where its office was located then or now, to the Appellant (then in his capacity as a "Claimant" (unless that definition is referred to under the LSO By-Laws as "claimant" is not included in an individual who has CAT Impairment – as paralegals cannot act for an individual who may have a CAT impairment claim or where such issues are included or added in a LAT AABS proceeding) of 416.774.3128. We know that SNIC was not located at VP Building (North York) 4th Floor so TDHA was the First Insurer by its receipt of my Completed Application on October 13, 2022.

39. With that segue (and although my usage of TD Insurance was with TD SNIC for definitions from October 2023 and onwards and in motions #1 to #3 listed the "Respondent" as "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (Security National Insurance Company)). I note Mr. Grant's comments, with great thanks, that provide insight into how he, as an experienced case manager, viewed the same as "TD Insurance" between "TDGIC" and "TDHA". While I never indicated "TD General Insurance Company" and technically speaking if the words start with "TD Insurance" then "Meloche Monnex" can follow with "SNIC" or "Primmum" as underwriters for their insurance programs but the same cannot be said of "TDHA" or "TDGIC".

40. For ease of reference and by way of impetus – said decision of VCM, Mr Grant represented the following on May 6, 2024:

LA registrar (MAG) <LATregistrar@ontario.ca> Mon, May 6, 2024 at 11

41. I have just noticed that Mr. Grant refers to the denial letters as "TD Insurance" which had the "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" (SNIC). Mr. Grant made that request of me on or around January 8, 2024, but I will check the exact date. The denial letters has SNIC at the "Markham address" and the Burlington address (albeit without a floor). Mr. Grant had it right the first time that the administrative denotation was done before Vice Chair Lake's decision on January 16, 2024, (nota bene: I will check the exact date). My style of cause in each motion makes NO reference to TD General Insurance Company. TDGIC is not part of the "TD Insurance Meloche Monnex" programs as would be well-known to the Tribunal. Vice Chair Lake overrode my style of cause with TD General Insurance Company.

42. I have been detailed herein so that the Tribunal and the relevant persons have notice as to which will follow. Moreover, it will make my submissions ultra-brief which will be six pages double spaced as per previous filings. I will append the above and attachments to an affidavit.

43. In conclusion, with great respect as I appreciate that the LAT runs a very sophisticated operation, but I am beyond alarmed that VCM, with the benefit of a well-accomplished senior project manager in Ms. Zukowski, that there is a reference to "at some point" between a 20 or 21 day period that the "Respondent's IDENTITY" was changed. How would the Tribunal not know the date when it was changed? This must be a matter of record. I will now attend to the motion, affidavit, and service of a very brief hearing record along with a FOIPPA request so we are not guessing.

44. I confirm, out of an abundance of caution, that I will be seeking reconsideration of the decision that if decided in my favour would have finally disposed of the appeal (i.e. a final decision and not an interlocutory decision like NOM #13) but with respect to timing, it would have been 21 days from September 13, 2024 (not the date of September 6, 2024). However, we will need the benefit of a decision on the corrections and amendments of errors, calculation errors (potentially if known) and similar errors before this VCM decision is correct in its entirety. Of course, this does not guarantee that the Tribunal will agree with every proposed amendment but I will outline the same and not speculate. However, if I may be so bold and audacious, there will have to be some corrections and amendments of some of the above, even by additional language in sentences, to provide some context.

45. For ease of reference, I have attached the denial letters that I filed which Mr. Grant confirms in his email above.

46. I also thank the Tribunal for providing SNIC's correct address of SNIC Burlington (the inclusion of the 5th floor by the Tribunal while SNIC failed to do so in its denial letters of which you will some in the attachment(s)). This makes logical sense because I have confirmed independently that Primmum is located in the same building and it is the other distinct insurer under the trade name by way of two combined trademarks of TD Insurance Meloche Monnex (nota bene: (i) TD Insurance licensed by The TD Bank; and (ii) Meloche Monnex licensed by Meloche Monnex Inc. (not to be confused with Meloche Monnex Financial Services Inc.).

47. As I trust the Tribunal is aware of the importance of my rehab from my impairments and my surgery in the USA, I will notify said clinic that I will need a little more time to address these issues

643 and have certainty and clarity with my schedule so I can be slotted in at the appropriate, yet earlier, time. I also note that all of the above is not only integral and crucial for this LAT proceeding but also prior to and outside of the same, and after its conclusion. In my humble view, addresses, insurer names and facsimile numbers are not only important but they must be precise. Certainly, the LGIC thought so in 2010 when it amended Reg 283. Moreover, our Parliament certainly thinks so and has engaged in demonstrating the importance of the same by amendments to PIPEDA

48. Thank you all and I trust that this will provide the necessary courtesy notice in advance of receipt of the above. My best to all over the weekend.

Tribunal file 23-013862/AABS - Kevin McLean vs. TD General Insurance Company

Hello.

Further to the correspondence below re the above-referenced matter, the documents naming TD Insurance as the Respondent in this dispute are the Application (the 'Insurance Company Information' listed is 'TD Insurance') and the copies of claim denial letters from TD Insurance which were filed. Accordingly, as the information did not indicate 'TD Home and Auto' which is the other, separate, 'TD' insurance company in our system, TD General Insurance company was named as a party on the file.

Furthermore, various TD Insurance companies (including TD General, TD Home and Auto, and Security National) as parties on AABS files are all communicated with via 'TDI ADR' at TDIADR@tdinsurance.com.

I see that the Insurer's Response form listed "Security National Insurance Company" as the party but the Respondent's Contact's Declaration of Representative form listed "TD General Insurance Company" as the party.

If there is a concern that Security National Insurance Company, not TD General Insurance Company, be named as the Respondent party on the file, please advise if the parties agree that change should be made.

Thank you.

Dear LAT

I am directing this to LAT as the "email account" of "TDIADR" is non-responsive to him.

Would you kindly provide me with a copy of the documents and information requested as it relates to who provided the Tribunal the information representing "TD General Insurance Company"? I presume that we are looking at the time frame of January 12 to 14, 2024 but I [LAT] will know better than I.

23-015662/AABS

This is the 16th Affidavit of Kevin A. McLean under TD's Claim Number 03532579043 (the "Claim Number" or "TD Claim #3"), TD Insurance Policy Number #001 0135118/06 (the "Policy Number"), LAT File Number "23-015662/AABS" (the "LAT File Number" or "LAT Proceeding") and was finalized and made on April 14, 2024

BETWEEN:

KEVIN ALEXANDER MCLEAN

APPLICANT/APPELLANT

AND:

TD INSURANCE MELOCHE MONNEX (SECURITY NATIONAL INSURANCE COMPANY)

RESPONDENT

Affidavit #17 of Kevin A. McLean

In a matter under the Insurance Act, RSO 1990, c I 8, (the "Insurance Act")

In the matter of an "Application of an Injured Person" ("Application" or "AIP") by the Applicant pursuant to subsection 280(2) of the Insurance Act, RSO 1990, c I.8., in relation to statutory Accident benefits and the following regulations including but not limited to:

i. Statutory Accident Benefits Schedule, O Reg 34/10 ("SABS"), and
ii. Automobile Insurance, RRO 1990, Reg 664 ("Reg 664")

I, Kevin Alexander McLean, Disabled (B.A., J.D., CIM) of Toronto, Ontario AFFIRM THAT

VOLUME #1: affirmation

1. I am the affiant (also defined as the "Applicant", "Insured Person", "Disabled Individual" and/or "CAT Impaired Individual") herein and I affirm, under the pains and penalties of perjury, the following facts to be true. Where I have stated information on my belief, I have cited the source of my belief by references, citations, sub-noting or otherwise.

700 (9)

2. Where I have used square brackets (i.e. [.....]), I have done so for ease of reference and to provide my evidentiary beliefs while citing the source of the same.

3. Where there are double underlined words, they are mine for ease of reference

4. I have adopted the definitions from my served and filed evidence herein and the have same meaning herein as they do therein.

5. I adopt the definitions from the above noted legislation and regulations, including rules where not made under the SPPA, and they have the same meaning herein as they do therein

6. Where I have included definitions, I am not making a legal argument in this affirm evidence but I have included the same for consistency purposes.

7. I affirm that where I have added emphasis is "copying and pasting" from any legislation, regulation or rule, the emphasis mine.

8. In light of Mr. Nieuwland filing and serving (albeit through his now known yet previously concealed legal assistant in Ms. Ortiz) with, inter alia, the purportedly responsive hearing briefs to my motions (see: #4 and #6 by LAT Orders on February 14, 2024 and April 9, 2024), which did not factually comply with the requirements under LAT Rules (see: indices, tabs, and consecutive numbering) yet included a document known as my OCF-1, I made this affidavit #17

9. My factual and legal positions are contained by my annotations therein.

10. My additional position for the purported filings by Mr. Nieuwland, of which I have notified him since early February 2024 that he needed to bring a motion to obtain permission to refile the Nieuwland DOR Non-Respondent, is re-confirmation that I did not consent to TDGIC being or "masquerading" as the Respondent named in the Purported SNIC Response (also defined as the "PSR").

11. In reviewing the OCF-1, I did not consent to TDGIC (or TD Insurance Staff Legal, Mr. Nieuwland, Ms. Moraes, Ms. Klukowska, Ms. Saeed et al) collecting, using, accessing, modifying, copying, or retaining my personal information ("PI") and personal health information ("PHI") therein (or otherwise) from SNIC. I did not consent to SNIC disclosing my PI and PHI to TDGIC for any purpose other than what I consented to and certainly not for TDGIC to attempt to become the "insurer" or "underwriter" not named in any of the documents sent to or receive from Ms. Nurse (SNIC Markham) or Ms. Persaud (SNIC Burlington). I certainly did not consent to TDGIC collecting, using or disclosing ("CUD") PI or PHI for the purposes of purporting or masquerading as the "Respondent" or a "Party" herein, and defending motions or filing motions. Amongst other things, I require any and all unauthorized recipients of my PI and PHI (including TDGIC and Mr. Nieuwland) to return my PI and PHI to SNIC without retaining a copy of the same but for the purpose of complying with the summonses.

12. I do not consent and object to TDGIC's documents being filed in the public record with LAT and I will be able to strike them on a variety of grounds including a breach of my privacy rights.

13. I confirm that I have only provided motions upon Mr. Nieuwland and TDGIC as a courtesy and for the purposes of my motions after January 30, 2024

14. My position remains that Mr. Karat is the sole unlicensed representative for SNIC and I re-affirm my beliefs as to those individuals involving in TD Claim Numbers and this SNIC Proceeding, and that they are in a conflict of interest.

15. Now shown to me and marked as Exhibit "A", separated by six tabs and consecutively numbered, are copies of the following documents with my annotations:

a. Tab 1: select copies of pages from my blank OCF-1 with my annotations (see pages 1 and 2), b. Tab 2: my handwritten notes involving my absent of any consent, and never consenting to the purposes, which were unknown to me at the time of executing the OCF-1, and only became known to me in 2024 (see: pages 3 to 7),
c. Tab 3: copies of pages from PIPEDA, sections 5(3) to 7(3) therein with my annotations (see pages 8 to 15);
d. Tab 4: copies of my initial PIPEDA request from 2024 with my annotations therein (see. pages 16 to 39),
e. Tab 5: PIPEDA bulletin regarding applying paragraphs 7(3)((d.1) and 7(3)(d.2) of PIPEDA from March 2017 with my annotations which I believe are relevant to what will be my motion #7 herein to strike the purported filings by Mr. Nieuwland herein (see: pages 40 to 44); and
f. Tab 6: PIPEDA bulleting, with my annotations, regarding "PIPEDA Fair Information Principle #5 - Limiting Use, Disclosure and Retention (see: pages 45 to 46).

Volume #3: Concluding paragraphs and Jurat

16 I remain stunned that TDGIC had access to my OFC-1 and has somehow utilized it for the purposes of responding to my motions (albeit Mr. Nieuwland has somehow miscounted the motion numbers and the reconsideration request) when I never consented to TDGIC being a "party" or "respondent" and I never consent to TDGIC CUD my PI and PHI to defend my TD Claim Number #3, this SNIC Proceeding or any matter.

17. If Mr. Nieuwland and TDGIC, along with any and all individuals who have received access to my PI and PHI that was solely disclosed to SNIC for the purposes therein and not to TDGIC (as I did not know of TDGIC until late January 2024) do not confirm by 11 a.m. on April 15, 2024 that they have returned all of my PI and PHI to SNIC (attention: Ms. Nurse and Ms. Persaud where applicable) except for the purposes of the summonses upon them, then I will apply to seek further relief in this regard. I will do so on an expedited basis due to the timing and urgency of the same. I may supplement or clarify this affidavit #17 with further affidavits as further evidence and law becomes known to me. If any of my annotations require clarification or explanation, I can provide them upon request.

18. I affirm this Affidavit #17 for no improper purpose and in relation to my NOM #7. general purposes and ancillary purposes (known and unknown).

TO THE INSURER, INCLUDING IMAOF, TO WHOM THIS APPLICATION IS BEING SUBMITTED:

I UNDERSTAND that you, and persons acting for you, will collect personal information and personal health information about me that is related to my claims for accident benefits arising out of the accident described in this application, and that all such information will be collected directly from me or from any other person with my consent.

I ALSO UNDERSTAND that you and persons acting for you will collect information about my driving record, automobile insurance policy history and automobile insurance claims history from time to time.

I ALSO UNDERSTAND that if I am the holder of an automobile insurance policy, you and persons acting for you will collect the driving record, automobile insurance policy history and automobile insurance claims history of any listed drivers on my automobile insurance policy or other drivers whom I have permitted to drive my automobile.

I ALSO UNDERSTAND that the information described above will be collected and used only as reasonably necessary for the purposes of:

- investigating my claims and processing my claims as required by law, including the Ontario Automobile Policy;
- obtaining or verifying information relating to my claims in order to determine entitlement and the proper amount of payment;
- recovering payment from insurers and others liable in law for amounts that you pay in connection with my claims;
- identifying and analyzing the nature and costs of goods and services that are provided to automobile accident victims by health care providers;
- preventing, detecting and suppressing fraud;
- compiling anonymized statistics for government agencies; and
- assessing underwriting risks and claims experience.

I ALSO UNDERSTAND that you, and persons acting for you, may disclose this information to the following persons or organizations, who may collect and use this information (limited to what is reasonably necessary to enable you or them to carry out the purposes described above):

insurers; insurance adjusters, agents and brokers; employers; health care professionals; hospitals; accountants; financial advisors; solicitors; organizations that consolidate claims and underwriting information for the insurance industry; fraud prevention organizations; other insurance companies; the police; databases or registries used by the insurance industry to analyze and check information provided against existing information; and my agents or representatives as designated by me from time to time.

I ALSO UNDERSTAND that you, and persons acting for you, may pool this information with information from other sources and may analyze this information for the limited purpose of preventing, detecting or suppressing fraud.

I CONSENT and, if I am the holder of an automobile insurance policy, declare that I have obtained consent from the listed drivers on my policy and any other drivers whom I have permitted to drive my automobile, to you collecting, using and disclosing this information in the manner described above, but no more of such information than is reasonably necessary to meet the legitimate purpose of such collection, use or disclosure.

I UNDERSTAND that if I have any questions about this consent I am free to consult with my insurance company's representative or legal advisor before signing this document.

I AM ALSO AWARE that you, and persons acting for you, may be required or permitted by law to disclose this information to others without my knowledge or consent.

I CERTIFY THAT THE INFORMATION PROVIDED IS TRUE AND CORRECT.

I UNDERSTAND THAT IT IS AN OFFENCE UNDER THE INSURANCE ACT to knowingly make a false or misleading statement or representation to an insurer under a contract of insurance.

I FURTHER UNDERSTAND THAT IT IS AN OFFENCE UNDER THE FEDERAL CRIMINAL CODE for anyone, by deceit, falsehood, or other dishonest act, to defraud or attempt to defraud an insurance company. This information will be used for processing payments of claims, identifying and analyzing the nature, effects and costs of goods and services that are provided to automobile accident victims, by health care providers, and PREVENTING, DETECTING AND SUPPRESSING FRAUD.

To obtain further information about how your consent relates to pooling and data analytics to prevent and detect fraud please visit http://www.fsrao.ca/industry/insurance-anti-fraud

Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act

S.C. 2000, c. 5

716 (3) An organization may collect, use or disclose personal information only for purposes that a reasonable person would consider are appropriate in the circumstances.

Effect of designation of individual

6 The designation of an individual under clause 4.1 of Schedule 1 does not relieve the organization of the obligation to comply with the obligations set out in that Schedule.

Valid consent

6.1 For the purposes of clause 4.3 of Schedule 1, the consent of an individual is only valid if it is reasonable to expect that an individual to whom the organization's activities are directed would understand the nature, purpose and consequences of the collection, use or disclosure of the personal information to which they are consenting.

2015, c. 32, s. 5.

Collection without knowledge or consent

7 (1) For the purpose of clause 4.3 of Schedule 1, and despite the note that accompanies that clause, an organization may collect personal information without the knowledge or consent of the individual only if

(a) the collection is clearly in the interests of the individual and consent cannot be obtained in a timely way;

(b) it is reasonable to expect that the collection with the knowledge or consent of the individual would compromise the availability or the accuracy of the information and the

717 collection is reasonable for purposes related to investigating a breach of an agreement or a contravention of the laws of Canada or a province; NO

(b.1) it is contained in a witness statement and the collection is necessary to assess, process or settle an insurance claim; TOUIC → NOT INSURER NO

(b.2) it was produced by the individual in the course of their employment, business or profession and the collection is consistent with the purposes for which the information was produced; NO

(c) the collection is solely for journalistic, artistic or literary purposes; NO

(d) the information is publicly available and is specified by the regulations; or NO

(e) the collection is made for the purpose of making a disclosure

(i) under subparagraph (3)(c.1)(i) or (d)(ii), or

(ii) that is required by law. NO

Use without knowledge or consent

(2) For the purpose of clause 4.3 of Schedule 1, and despite the note that accompanies that clause, an organization may, without the knowledge or consent of the individual, use personal information only if

(a) in the course of its activities, the organization becomes aware of information that it has reasonable grounds to

718 believe could be useful in the investigation of a contravention of the laws of Canada, a province or a foreign jurisdiction that has been, is being or is about to be committed, and the information is used for the purpose of investigating that contravention;

(b) it is used for the purpose of acting in respect of an emergency that threatens the life, health or security of an individual;

(b.1) the information is contained in a witness statement and the use is necessary to assess, process or settle an insurance claim;

(b.2) the information was produced by the individual in the course of their employment, business or profession and the use is consistent with the purposes for which the information was produced;

(c) it is used for statistical, or scholarly study or research, purposes that cannot be achieved without using the information, the information is used in a manner that will ensure its confidentiality, it is impracticable to obtain consent and the organization informs the Commissioner of the use before the information is used;

(c.1) it is publicly available and is specified by the regulations; or

(d) it was collected under paragraph (1)(a), (b) or (e).

Disclosure without knowledge or consent

Electronically filed / Déposé par voie électronique : 18-Feb-2025
Toronto Superior Court of Justice / Cour supérieure de justice

7 (3) For the purpose of clause 4.3 of Schedule 1, and despite the note that accompanies that clause, an organization may disclose personal information without the knowledge or consent of the individual only if the disclosure is

(a) made to, in the Province of Quebec, an advocate or notary or, in any other province, a barrister or solicitor who is representing the organization;

(b) for the purpose of collecting a debt owed by the individual to the organization;

(c) required to comply with a subpoena or warrant issued or an order made by a court, person or body with jurisdiction to compel the production of information, or to comply with rules of court relating to the production of records;

(c.1) made to a government institution or part of a government institution that has made a request for the information, identified its lawful authority to obtain the information and indicated that

(i) it suspects that the information relates to national security, the defence of Canada or the conduct of international affairs,

(ii) the disclosure is requested for the purpose of enforcing any law of Canada, a province or a foreign jurisdiction, carrying out an investigation relating to the enforcement of any such law or gathering intelligence for the purpose of enforcing any such law,

720 (iii) the disclosure is requested for the purpose of administering any law of Canada or a province, or

(iv) the disclosure is requested for the purpose of communicating with the next of kin or authorized representative of an injured, ill or deceased individual;

(c.2) made to the government institution mentioned in section 7 of the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act as required by that section; NO

(d) made on the initiative of the organization to a government institution or a part of a government institution and the organization TOUIC → NOT GOOT INSTITUTE

(i) has reasonable grounds to believe that the information relates to a contravention of the laws of Canada, a province or a foreign jurisdiction that has been, is being or is about to be committed, or

(ii) suspects that the information relates to national security, the defence of Canada or the conduct of international affairs; INVESTIGATING ≠ ACTING AS RESPONDENT

(d.1) made to another organization and is reasonable for the purposes of investigating a breach of an agreement or a contravention of the laws of Canada or a province that has been, is being or is about to be committed and it is reasonable to expect that disclosure with the knowledge or consent of the individual would compromise the investigation; DOES NOT ALLOW TOUIC TO BECOME RESP ⊕ FILE

(d.2) made to another organization and is reasonable for the purposes of detecting or suppressing fraud or of

721 preventing fraud that is likely to be committed and it is reasonable to expect that the disclosure with the knowledge or consent of the individual would compromise the ability to prevent, detect or suppress the fraud;

(d.3) made on the initiative of the organization to a government institution, a part of a government institution or the individual's next of kin or authorized representative and

(i) the organization has reasonable grounds to believe that the individual has been, is or may be the victim of financial abuse,

(ii) the disclosure is made solely for purposes related to preventing or investigating the abuse, and

(iii) it is reasonable to expect that disclosure with the knowledge or consent of the individual would compromise the ability to prevent or investigate the abuse;

(d.4) necessary to identify the individual who is injured, ill or deceased, made to a government institution, a part of a government institution or the individual's next of kin or authorized representative and, if the individual is alive, the organization informs that individual in writing without delay of the disclosure;

(e) made to a person who needs the information because of an emergency that threatens the life, health or security of an individual and, if the individual whom the information is about is alive, the organization informs that individual in writing without delay of the disclosure;

722 (e.1) of information that is contained in a witness statement and the disclosure is necessary to assess, process or settle an insurance claim;

(e.2) of information that was produced by the individual in the course of their employment, business or profession and the disclosure is consistent with the purposes for which the information was produced;

(f) for statistical, or scholarly study or research, purposes that cannot be achieved without disclosing the information, it is impracticable to obtain consent and the organization informs the Commissioner of the disclosure before the information is disclosed;

(g) made to an institution whose functions include the conservation of records of historic or archival importance, and the disclosure is made for the purpose of such conservation;

(h) made after the earlier of

(i) one hundred years after the record containing the information was created, and

(ii) twenty years after the death of the individual whom the information is about;

(h.1) of information that is publicly available and is specified by the regulations; or

(h.2) [Repealed, 2015, c. 32, s. 6]

(i) required by law.

EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE PURPOSES OF PIPEDA

FURTHER TO LAT APPEAL ALBEIT BROADER

January 15, 2024

Re: PIPEDA request of TD Insurance (August 31, 2022 to January 2024)

Dear TD Insurance (Privacy Officer):

My name is Kevin Alexander McLean and I was born on March 25, 1983.

I am making a PIPEDA access request in accordance with the below.

In light of the time being after five p.m., I confirm that this access request was made effective and deemed received on January 16, 2024.

As noted below (in the five (5) appendices), I have compiled the authorities and created the same over the years and they are applicable to my access request.

I confirm that I am the individual that is an insured person with TD Insurance Meloche Monnex ("TD Insurance") and Security National Insurance Company ("SNIC")[1] with the Claim Number 035325790-3 (the "Claim Number") and TD Policy Number #0010135511806 (the "Policy Number"). NO REFERENCE TO TOGIL

Since my previous access request was not addressed in compliance with PIPEDA (albeit caused TD Insurance to retain all information subject of the same), and having reviewed the literature in this regard, it is best that I make a fresh PIPEDA request such that your Organization discloses any and all relevant personal information that it has in its control and/or any EUD along with an accounting of disclosures of the same.

In light of the above, I confirm that TD Insurance (the "Organization") is required to provide me with a compliant response by no later than February 15, 2024.

For particulars, I am requesting access to any and all personal information (in existence, used, or disclosed) and with strict compliance with the below accounting obligation with respect to disclosures to other persons.

While appreciating that TD Insurance may take the position that some of the information after December 27, 2023 (subject to an AABS Claim Number) is subject to "litigation privilege", I will rely on the Override Provision for needing the information (not necessarily personal information per se albeit likely being personal information) for my health, life and security as it remains threatened. S. 9(4)

But for providing identification to confirm my identity for your file purposes, this will be my last email herein and will await a compliant response with access to the above from August 31, 2022 until the relevant date herein in 2024. I am of course seeking access to the full "Accident Benefits File" involving the above from August 31, 2022 to January 2024. If there is any matter that you say is subject to "solicitor-client privilege", I will take the position that it is subject exceptions and the Override Provision. The same applies to any purported denial of access of "litigation privilege".

If there is a resolution with TD Insurance separately, I will promptly advise you of the same and whether part or all of the PIPEDA request has been withdrawn. However, until that time and unless you receive the same in writing from me, this PIPEDA request shall remain extant. (17) PAGE 34

725 Kindly provide a compliant response to this email herein on or before February 15, 2024. Should anything be unclear, kindly advise me at your earliest opportunity or I will presume that all remains clear and precise.

Upon receipt of a fully compliant response with full access during the above temporal period solely involving TD Insurance, I will review the same and then be in a position to confirm that said PIPEDA request is closed.

As a courtesy, I have included the most recent insurance adjuster in Mr. Persaud on the email as that may be of assistance to your privacy division.

Thank you.

Appendix 2

WHAT IS PI?
Personal Information is information about an identifiable individual (see: PIPEDA, s. 1).
Part B(II): Federal Court Interpretation
Part B(III)(i): Broad and Expansive Interpretation

Drawing from jurisprudence in the federal public sector, the definition of personal information must be given a broad and expansive interpretation (Dagg v. Canada (Minister of Finance), [1997] 2 S.C.R., dissenting, 403 at para 68, Canada (Information Commissioner) v. Canada (Transportation Accident Investigation and Safety Board), 2006 FCA 157; Canada (Information Commissioner) v. Canada (Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police), [2003] 1 S.C.R. 66, 2003 SCC 8, at para 23).

Part B(II)(ii): About: Relates or Concerns

Personal information is information "about" an identifiable individual. "About" means that the information is not just the subject of something but also relates to or concerns the subject (Canada (Information Commissioner) v. Canada (Transportation Accident Investigation and Safety Board), 2006 FCA 157).

Part B(II)(iii): Serious Possibility

Information will be about an "identifiable individual" where there is a serious possibility that an individual could be identified through the use of that information, alone or in combination with other information (Gordon v. Canada (Health), 2008 FC 258 (CanLII).

Part B(II)(iv): Need Not Be Recorded

Information need not be recorded for it to constitute personal information.

Part B(II)(v): Oral Conversations and Real Time Surveillance

It is sufficient that the information be about an identifiable individual even if the information is not in a recorded form, such as oral conversations, biological samples and real time video surveillance

Part B(II)(vi): Absence of Recording

While the absence of a recording may go to the issue of collection, it does not change the fact that the information is personal information (Morgan v. Alta Flights Inc. (2006) FCA 121, affirming (2005) FC 421).

Part B(II)(v): Even if Public – Irrelevant

Information will still be personal information even if it is publicly available within the meaning of the regulations and is exempt from applicable consent requirements (Englander v. TELUS Communications Inc., 2004 FCA 387 (CanLII)).

Part B(II)(vi): Subjective Information

Subjective information about an individual may still be personal information even if it is not necessarily accurate (Lawson v. Accusearch Inc. 2007 FC 125).

Part B(II)(vii): Business and Professional Context

An individual's cell phone records from their work cell phone may be the personal information of the individual.

Part B(II)(viii): Company Association

However, an individual's personal information may be so inextricably linked to information about his or her company (e.g. an owner/operator of a small business) that information about that company can constitute personal information about the individual.

Part B(II)(ix): Personal Information in the Business and Professional Context

Other personal information in the Business and Professional context include:

1. NOA and SIN
2. Email addresses and fax numbers
3. Messages
4. Purchase
5. Services
6. Transactions
7. Membership
8. Account Information; and
9. Complaint Information.

Part B(II)(x): De-Identified is Irrelevant

Personal information that has been de-identified does not qualify as anonymous information if there is a serious possibility of linking the de-identified data back to an identifiable individual.

Part B(II)(xi): Financial Context

Examples of financial information which may constitute personal information of an individual include:
1. bank account numbers;
2. summaries or balances
3. transaction histories
4. Debt-related information
5. Mortgage information; Credit reports
6. Credit scores

Part B(II)(xi): TECHNOLOGICAL
Examples of personal information in the technological context include forms of biometric information, such as fingerprints and voiceprints. A photograph of an individual's home may constitute the personal information of that individual. Video surveillance that captures an individual's physical image or movement may also constitute his or her personal information even if it is not taped since the definition of personal information in PIPEDA does not require that the information be recorded.

Part B(II)(xii): IP Addresses

An Internet Protocol (IP) address can be considered personal information if it can be associated with an identifiable individual. For example, in one complaint finding, we determined that some of the IP addresses that an internet service provider (ISP) was collecting were personal information because the ISP had the ability to link the IP addresses to its customers through their subscriber IDs. See also a report prepared by the Technology Analysis Branch of the OPC on "What an IP Address Can Reveal About You".

APPENDIX 3: BASIC PRINCIPLES:
Resolution Based – when it Reached OPCC
One of the Commissioner's primary roles is to investigate and try to resolve privacy complaints

General Principles
While findings on a given issue may differ depending on the facts of each case and the position of the parties, over time, findings on certain key issues can crystallize into general principles that can serve as helpful guidance for both complainants and organizations.
Summary and Guide
In an effort to summarize the general principles that have emerged from court decisions and the Commissioner's findings to date, the OPC issues interpretations of certain key concepts in PIPEDA. These interpretations are not binding legal interpretations, but rather, are intended as a guide for compliance with PIPEDA. As the Commissioner issues more findings, and the courts render more decisions, these interpretations may evolve and be further refined.
I. Relevant Statutory Provisions of the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act, S.C. 2000, c. 5 (PIPEDA)
EUD
Principle 4.9: Upon request, an individual SHALL be informed of the existence, use, and disclosure of his personal information and be given access to that information. [note: holding or control is merely one factor and not determinative]
Challenge Existence
An individual SHALL be able to challenge the accuracy and completeness of the information and have it amended as appropriate [note: in order to challenge, Mr. McLean must know the EUD along with Accen]
Holding is One Aspect
Principle 4.9.1: Upon request, an organization SHALL inform an individual whether or not the organization holds personal information about the individual.
Source

Organizations are encouraged to indicate the source of this information. (W) PAGE 37

728

Shall Allow Access to Holding or Held

The organization SHALL allow the individual access to this information.

Accounting of Use: Has Been or Is Being; Third Parties Received Disclosure

In addition, the organization SHALL provide an account of the use that has been made or is being made of this information and an account of the third parties to which it has been disclosed.

Sufficient Information by Mr. McLean as and Only for this Purpose

Principle 4.9.2: An individual may be required to provide sufficient information to permit an organization to provide an account of the existence, use, and disclosure of personal information. The information provided SHALL only be used for this purpose.

Account of Third Parties – Specifics and Particulars

Principle 4.9.3: In providing an account of third parties to which it has disclosed personal information about an individual, an organization should attempt to be as specific as possible.

May Have Disclosed

When it is not possible to provide a list of the organizations to which it has actually disclosed information about an individual, the organization SHALL provide a list of organizations to which it may have disclosed information about the individual.

30 Calendar Days pg

Principle 4.9.4: An organization SHALL respond to an individual's request within a reasonable time and at minimal or no cost to the individual.

Generally Understandable – Codes with Explanations

The requested information SHALL be provided or made available in a form that is generally understandable. For example, if the organization uses abbreviations or codes to record information, an explanation SHALL be provided.

Inaccurate or Incomplete

Principle 4.9.5: When an individual successfully demonstrates the inaccuracy or incompleteness of personal information, the organization SHALL amend the information as required. Depending upon the nature of the information challenged, amendment involves the correction, deletion, or addition of information.

Transmitted to Third Parties as Well

Where appropriate, the amended information SHALL be transmitted to third parties having access to the information in question.

TOGIC → TD INS. START

Unresolved Challenges and Transmitted to Third Parties

Principle 4.9.6: When a challenge is not resolved to the satisfaction of the individual, the substance of the unresolved challenge SHALL be recorded by the organization. When appropriate, the existence of the unresolved challenge SHALL be transmitted to third parties having access to the information in question.

In Writing

Section 8(1): A request under clause 4.9 of Schedule 1 must be made in writing. (s

Assist Mr. McLean

Section 8(2): An organization SHALL assist any individual who informs the organization that they need assistance in preparing a request to the organization.

Due Diligence – No Later than 30 Days

Section 8(3): An organization SHALL respond to a request with due diligence and in any case not later than thirty days after receipt of the request.

No Extensions As Of Yet: Organizations are Large Companies with Immense Resources; No Third Party Consultations (McLean Objects); and Conversion is Simple for Tech Companies with Vast Resources – Simply Decrypt or Inflate

Section 8(4): An organization may extend the time limit (a) for a maximum of thirty days if (i) meeting the time limit would unreasonably interfere with the activities of the organization, or (ii) the time required to undertake any consultations necessary to respond to the request would make the time limit impracticable to meet; or (b) for the period that is necessary in order to be able to convert the personal information into an alternative format.

Right to Make a Complaint for Extension of Time

In either case, the organization SHALL, no later than thirty days after the date of the request, send a notice of extension to the individual, advising them of the new time limit, the reasons for extending the time limit and of their right to make a complaint to the Commissioner in respect of the extension.

(W) PAGE 38

Reasons for Refusal, Particulars of Reasons and Recourse

Section 8(7): An organization that responds within the time limit and refuses a request SHALL inform the individual in writing of the refusal, setting out the reasons and any recourse that they may have under [Part I of PIPEDA].

Retention After Privacy Request

Section 8(8): Despite clause 4.5 of Schedule 1, an organization that has personal information that is the subject of a request SHALL retain the information for as long as is necessary to allow the individual to exhaust any recourse under [Part I of PIPEDA] that they may have.

Mr. McLean Has Not Made any Third Party Privacy Requests

Section 9(1) : Despite clause 4.9 of Schedule 1, an organization SHALL not give an individual access to personal information if doing so would likely reveal personal information about a third party. However, if the information about the third party is severable from the record containing the information about the individual, the organization SHALL sever the information about the third party before giving the individual access.

No Solicitor-Client Privilege – No Litigation Privilege - No Confidential Commercial Information Sought No Individual Requests – No Formal Dispute Resolution Process – Sever If Necessary (note: Mr McLean is only seeking his PI)

Section 9(3): Despite the note that accompanies clause 4.9 of Schedule 1, an organization is not required to give access to personal information only if (a) the information is protected by solicitor-client privilege or the professional secrecy of advocates and notaries or by litigation privilege; (b) to do so would reveal confidential commercial information; (c) to do so could reasonably be expected to threaten the life or security of another individual; (c.1) the information was collected under paragraph 7(1)(b); (d) the information was generated in the course of a formal dispute resolution process; or (e) the information was created for the purpose of making a disclosure under the Public Servants Disclosure Protection Act or in the course of an investigation into a disclosure under that Act.

Must Notify Commissioner if Refusing Access

Section 9(5): An organization that decides not to give access to personal information in the circumstances set out in paragraph (3)(c.1) SHALL, in writing, so notify the Commissioner, and SHALL include in the notification any information that the Commissioner may specify.

V. Application by the Courts and the OPC in Different Contexts

Whether an organization can be said to meet its access obligations under PIPEDA will vary depending on the facts of each complaint investigation. The following examples illustrate how the access principle has been interpreted and applied by the Courts and the OPC in different contexts.

Policies, Practices, and Procedures

An organization should have procedures in place to ensure that an access to personal information request is properly processed.[5]

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2007-377 Law firm's shoddy privacy practices result in missing personal information, request for access denied
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2007-367 Need to establish procedures for handling access to personal information requests streamed
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2014-016 Sobeys Refuses to Respond to Customer's Requests for Access to Personal Information and Does Not Participate in Subsequent OPC Investigation

STRAIGHTFORWARD: Organizations should have a straightforward procedure that will be adhered to by the personnel handling access to personal information requests.

- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2011-002 Airline must ensure policies comply with Canadian privacy law

ADEQUATE TRAINING: Organizations must adequately train their staff on how to properly handle access to personal information requests and on the legal obligations of the organization in this regard.

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2009-014 Fraud detection not an acceptable reason to collect driver's licence numbers for store memberships

Right of Access

Includes Documents under PI

PIPEDA does not give individuals a right of access to any document. Rather, it entitles individuals to be informed of the existence, use and disclosure of their personal information. (Fahmy v. Bank of Montreal, 2016 FC 479)

In response to an access to personal information request, organizations need only search for and provide those records related to the conduct of their business. (Johnson v. Bell Canada, 2008 FC 1086)

Request of an Insurance Company – Access Required

Handwritten notes of a doctor taken during an independent medical examination performed at the request of an insurance company may be subject to an access request. (Wyndowe v. Rousseau, 2008 FCA 39) FCA 39

730

Control

Recovery of Overwritten or Deleted Data – Compelling Evidence that It Existed

"It CANNOT be seriously suggested that an organization has a responsibility to recover deleted or overwritten data in the absence of compelling evidence that it existed.

Critical Need: is my view, such a herculean task should only be required to be undertaken, if ever, in circumstances where there is a critical need for the recovered information." (Johnson v. Bell Canada, 2008 FC 1086)

Reasonable Search

An organization receiving a broad request for access to personal information has two options: (1) it can inquire of the party making the request if the party can be more specific as to the information requested, in which case the requesting party has an obligation to cooperate in defining the request, or (2) it can conduct a reasonable search of information it can reasonably expect to be responsive to the request. Where that latter course is chosen, and absent further evidence, there is no reason to conduct a search for messages falling outside the scope of what the organization reasonably believes it would collect, use and disclose in the course of its business operations. (Johnson v. Bell Canada, 2008 FC 1086)

Where an organization has conducted a reasonable search in response to an access request, and the requester claims that there is other information that has not been produced, the burden lies on the requester to establish at least a prima facie case that the search was inadequate. (Johnson v. Bell Canada, 2008 FC 1086)

In responding to access requests, organizations must search all their files and locations for personal information, not only those that are obvious sources of such data.

- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2009-023 Email regarding vehicle repair complaint used for marketing without consent

Responding to Access Requests

RELEASE ALL – EVEN WHERE NOT REQUESTED: A complainant who requests access to all personal information relating to him or her should be provided with all information that the organization can provide to the complainant. If the organization has the information and there is no reason to deny access, it should release all the responsive information even though certain documents were not specifically requested.

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2005-291 Collection agency adopts narrow interpretation of access to personal information request

WHERE IT LOOKED: When an organization responds to an access request, it should give an indication of where it looked for the requestor's information and the types of information it holds.

FORTHCOMING: Organizations should be forthcoming in providing details regarding the sources of information and to whom information has been disclosed (NOTE: may not be in possession or control but HAD DISCLOSED)

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2007-370 Airline broadens interpretation of personal information and improves handling of personal information access MEANINGFUL WAY: When in receipt of a request for access to personal information, organizations must respond in a meaningful way, even if only to indicate that they have already provided the individual with all of their information, or if only to indicate that they have no information that is responsive to the request ("EUD").

- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2010-005 An organization Improperly Discloses Client's Personal Information
- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2013-005 Beneficiary's access to estate information is limited to his own personal information under PIPEDA

DESTROYED: An individual should be advised when personal information has been destroyed in accordance with an organization's retention policy, if this is in response to a personal information access request.

- PIPEDA Settled Case Summary #2016-001 Complaint about access request settled as audio recordings were deleted in accordance with retention policy

RETAINED: An organization must, within the time limits prescribed in PIPEDA , inform an individual in writing of an access request refusal, setting out the reasons for the refusal and any recourse that the individual may have under PIPEDA .

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2003-216 An airport is accused of not having disclosed all the personal information requested by an employee and of not having retained other personal information
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2003-149 Individual denied access to personal information
- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2017-008 Jet Airways says possibility of litigation allows it to refuse access to personal information

IMPROPER TO SAY COURT PROCEEDING OR OTHER ORGANIZATION: An organization CANNOT refuse to provide access to personal information on that basis that the information can be obtained through some other channel, such as a court proceeding.
- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2014-017 Collection agency can't refuse access to personal information on basis that it would be provided as part of a legal proceeding

Form

NO REQUIREMENT TO REFERENCE PIPEDA: There is no obligation for requesters to specify in an access to personal information request that they are making their request pursuant to PIPEDA.
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2003-222 Bank exceeds time limits in responding to an access request

GENERALLY UNDERSTANDABLE: The requested information SHALL be provided in a form that is generally understandable. For example, if the organization uses abbreviations or codes to record information, an explanation SHALL be provided.
- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2009-023 Email regarding vehicle repair complaint used for marketing without consent

ONUS ON ORGANIZATION: Principle 4.9.4 clearly puts the onus on the organization to explain information in understandable terms to the individual and PIPEDA makes no provision for an organization to refer the individual to another organization for that purpose.
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2002-049 Credit applicant accuses bank of withholding credit reporting information

TIME LIMIT

SHORTENED TIME LIMIT: When receiving an individual's access request, the organization should determine as quickly as possible whether it will be able to complete the request within the initial time limit allowed by PIPEDA.

PARTIAL RESPONSES DO NOT MEET THE 30 DAY TIME LIMIT: The Commissioner found that an organization's partial response to an access request within 30 days was not sufficient to satisfy the 30 day time limit provided for in PIPEDA.
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2003-229 Bank denied individual access to her personal information

NO CONSULTATIONS AND OBJECTIONS: A time extension cited by an organization under s. 8(4)(a)(ii) of PIPEDA was found not to be valid as no consultations were undertaken to find the information an individual had requested.
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2004-266 Bank improves credit card application process

MEDICAL LEAVE INSUFFICIENT TO EXTEND TIME: The fact that a member of the organization's staff may have been on medical leave does not excuse the organization under PIPEDA for not respecting the time limits. The organization is responsible for ensuring that it has, at all times, appropriate arrangements to comply with the Act.
- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2017-008 Jet Airways says possibility of litigation allows it to refuse access to personal information

STILL MUST RESPONSE WITH REASONS FOR "EUAD": Even if an organization believes it is entitled to refuse an access request, it must nevertheless respond to the request within the time limits set out in section 8 and provide reasons for the refusal.
- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2017-008 Jet Airways says possibility of litigation allows it to refuse access to personal information

Retention

RETAIN UNTIL ALL APPEALS EXHAUSTED: "From a practical and pragmatic standpoint, what subsection 8(8) of PIPEDA requires of an organization is that it retain that information that it has discovered in its search that is or may be responsive to the request, until the person making the request has exhausted all avenues of appeal." (Johnson v Bell Canada, 2008 FC 1086)

OVERRIDE: For personal information implicated in a specific access request, organizations should consider, and where necessary, override their regular deletion/retention practices until such time as the individual has exhausted any recourse under PIPEDA to get access to that information.
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2010-003 Poor response to customer's access requests causes unnecessary deletion of his personal information

9(1) Personal information of a third party

732

Paragraph 9(1) of PIPEDA provides that an individual SHALL not be given access to personal information if doing so would likely reveal information about a third party. However, if information about the third party is severable, it SHALL be severed. (Cote v. Day & Ross Inc., 2015 FC 1283)

If information about a third party is severable from the record pertaining to an individual's access request, the organization must sever the information about a third party and give the individual access to his or her personal information.

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2005-314 Insurance company denies access to personal information in third party claimant's statement
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2017-002: Access to personal information held by insurance company facilitated through the early resolution process

EMPLOYEES USE AS WELL – EXCEPT DISCIPLINARY ACTION TAKEN AGAINST EMPLOYEES: Individuals have a right to know the details of unauthorized access of their personal information by an organization's employees. However, organizations must protect third party personal information, such as the disciplinary action taken against the employee involved.

PIPEDA Case Summary #2016-001 Bank shares details on employee's snooping but, rightly, not discipline

9(3)(a) – information protected by solicitor-client privilege / professional secrecy of lawyers and notaries

IMMEDIATE REFERRAL (see: also Exhibit "A"): For purposes of independently verifying claims of solicitor-client privilege invoked by organizations as grounds for refusing access, the Privacy Commissioner may refer the issue to the Federal Court at any point in the course of an investigation, or the Privacy Commissioner may report an impasse over the issue of privilege in a Report of Findings and bring an application to the Federal Court for relief. (Canada (Privacy Commissioner) v. Blood Tribe Department of Health, 2008 SCC 44; Privacy Commissioner of Canada v. Air Canada, 2010 FC 429)

NO ADMIN TRIBUNAL AND NO GRIEVANCE DISPUTE: Information withheld under paragraph 9(3)(a) can include information prepared by company lawyers with respect to a workers' compensation board dispute and a grievance lodged by a complainant.

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2003-147 Railway company withholds employee's personal information

LITIGATION PRIVILEGE – IRRELEVANT – NO DOMINANT PURPOSE (SEE: ALSO EXHIBIT A): Under paragraph 9(3)(a) of PIPEDA, an organization can withhold access to personal information if it is subject to litigation privilege. Litigation privilege is a component of solicitor-client privilege; it protects materials brought into existence for the DOMINANT purpose of litigation or reasonably anticipated litigation

- PIPEDA Case Summary #2011-003 Personal Information Collected in Company's Defence of Damage Claim Falls under PIPEDA
- PIPEDA Case Summary #2009-018 Psychologist's anonymized peer review notes are the personal information of the patient BLANKET POLICY – UNLAWFUL: A blanket policy applicable to all documents generated from incidents on board an aircraft did not, in the Commissioner's view, meet the test for solicitor-client privilege or litigation privilege.

- PIPEDA Report of Findings #2017-008 Jet Airways says possibility of litigation allows it to refuse access to personal information

9(3)(b) – confidential commercial information

MUST ARTICULATE REASONS: In light of the quasi-constitutional nature of PIPEDA, courts CANNOT simply defer to the general qualification given by an organization to the information withheld under paragraph 9(3)(b) of the Act for confidential commercial information. There must be articulate reasons for denying access to any particular document. The standard for justifying the withholding of information under paragraph 9(3)(b) of the Act is very high (Bertucci v. Royal Bank of Canada, 2016 FC 332)

RAW DATA: "Raw data" about an individual –does not fall within the exemption under paragraph 9(3)(b) of the Act (Bertucci v. Royal Bank of Canada, 2016 FC 332)

VERY HIGH STANDARD: The standard for justifying the withholding of personal information because it would reveal confidential commercial information is very high. Providing access to personal information upon request is the rule and withholding such information is the exception.

- PIPEDA Findings #2017-011 Financial institution originally misuses confidential commercial information exemption to withhold personal information

EVEN AT ADMIN TRIBUNAL – STILL DISCLOSED: The Commissioner did not agree that information regarding compensation paid to the complainant and the costs related to his claim with the province's workplace safety board constituted confidential commercial information.

o PIPEDA Case Summary #2003-147 Railway company withholds employee's personal information

9(3)(d) – information generated in the course of a formal dispute resolution process

MUST BE FORMAL: In order to qualify as a "formal dispute resolution process" pursuant to paragraph 9(3)(d) of PIPEDA , as a basis for withholding access to personal information, the process's purpose must be to resolve a dispute and the process itself must be formal. A formal process mandates the presence of a framework or structure, either legislated or agreed to by the parties to the dispute

o PIPEDA Report of Findings #2016-006 An insurance company's internal ombudsman office is not a "formal dispute resolution process" under PIPEDA

Notes generated in the process of conducting a medical evaluation to assist an insurer in determining the complainant's eligibility for benefits were not considered to have been "generated in the course of a dispute resolution process".

o PIPEDA Case Summary #2005-306 Physician refuses to provide access to individual's personal information

An insurance company's internal ombudsman office is not considered a "formal dispute resolution process" under PIPEDA .

o PIPEDA Report of Findings #2016-006 An insurance company's internal ombudsman office is not a "formal dispute resolution process" under PIPEDA

A grievance and arbitration process can be considered a formal dispute resolution process.

Corrections

Merely informing a third party that information has been amended without sending the amended information to the third party is not sufficient to satisfy the requirement set out in clause 4.9.5 of PIPEDA , (Hamma v. TransUnion of Canada Inc., 2010 FC 1284)

An individual must demonstrate the inaccuracy of the information that an organization holds for the organization to be required to amend the information in question.

o PIPEDA Case Summary #2005-293 Commissioner considers access, correction, and inappropriate disclosure allegations against insurance company

o PIPEDA Case Summary #2006-359 Bank reported accurate information regarding bounced cheque

o PIPEDA Case Summary #2002-070 Bank accused of assigning inaccurate credit ratings

Organizations must keep personal information as accurate, complete and up-to-date as is necessary for the purposes for which it is to be used. Organizations must amend an individual's personal information as required when the individual successfully demonstrates either the inaccuracy or the incompleteness of the information.

o PIPEDA Report of Findings #2013-008 Individual objects to the real-time accuracy of credit score

o PIPEDA Report of Findings #2013-010 In response to a case of a teen who was a victim of online impersonation, Facebook agrees to help non-users, on a case-by-case basis, reinstate their on-line reputation

Where appropriate, the amended information SHALL be transmitted to third parties having access to the information in question.

o PIPEDA Report of Findings #2013-010 In response to a case of a teen who was a victim of online impersonation, Facebook agrees to help non-users, on a case-by-case basis, reinstate their on-line reputation

o PIPEDA Case Summary #2016-010 Credit reporting agency takes remedial action after failing to maintain accurate records

An organization was found to have met its obligations under Principle 4.9.6 when it gave an individual the opportunity to provide a statement regarding a disputed entry, which the organization then recorded and attached to the individual's credit file and transmitted to any third parties having access to the individual's credit information.

CONCLUSION: not applicable

SOLICITOR-CLIENT PRIVILEGE

does not exist because the Organizations are not law firms; report about Incidents does not meet the test (see: PIPEDA* Report of Findings #2017-008)

"In our view, a blanket policy applicable to all documents generated from onboard incidents would not meet the tests for solicitor-client privilege and litigation privilege. Not every document that is prepared in response to an onboard incident will be for the dominant purpose of litigation or involve a solicitor-client communication. Such a policy would, in all likelihood, lead to privilege claims that are overbroad, and therefore in contravention of the respondent's obligation to provide access to personal information under the Act.

While the respondent no longer maintains its position that all documents generated as a result of an onboard incident are subject to litigation privilege, it has submitted that it was entitled to claim litigation privilege once the "legal notice" was issued. In our view, such a position is also problematic as it means potentially claiming litigation privilege for documents that were created prior to a "legal notice" being received and which were not created for the dominant purpose of litigation that is reasonably contemplated"

LITIGATION PRIVILEGE: did not exist and does not exist as it does not meet the test that litigation was ongoing or was reasonably contemplated at the time the document was CREATED; and

ii. that the dominant purpose of creating the document was to prepare for that litigation

1. Litigation privilege protects from disclosure materials created or gathered by a lawyer, including communications between a lawyer and Third Parties, where litigation was in reasonable prospect at the time of the communication, and the dominant purpose of the communication was litigation: see Hamalainen v. Sippola (1991), 1991 CanLII 440 (BC CA), 62 B.C.L.R. (2d) 254 at 260 (C.A.).

iii. Not at the point of preparing for litigation as no complaint is even filed (then or now) – merely an access request under provincial legislation (not federal)
