Senior Chemists Day Trip

On Friday, May 17, the Senior Chemists Group conducted a day trip to Counter Culture Coffee, DeeLuxe Chicken for lunch, Duke Homestead, and Bennett Place. All the activities were only a few miles from each other in Durham. Attendees included Ralph and Lola May, David Pollard, Henry Offerding, Robert and Phyllis Yokley, Jennifer Robards, and Cynthia Williard. Many thanks to Cynthia for organizing this fun-filled day. Her careful planning made everything proceed like clockwork.

The day commenced at Counter Culture Coffee (10 AM) where we drank coffee, listened to a 30-minute seminar on coffee brewing and flavors, participated in coffee tasting, and toured the coffee grinding/packaging plant. Now fully caffeinated, the next stop was for lunch at DeeLuxe Chicken. This is apparently a popular eatery in Durham but we arrived early enough to avoid the rush. After a relaxing and tasty lunch, we traveled to Duke Homestead where we watched a film and then toured the museum and the original family home as well as some of the tobacco barns that were there prior to the Civil War. We had a fabulous tour guide and learned a lot of interesting facts about the Duke family and their philanthropy. Washington Duke returned to the family farm after the Civil War and started his pipe tobacco business with only a few barns and two blind mules. Our last stop for the day was Bennett Place. This was the site of the largest surrender of Confederate soldiers at the end of the war. General Joe Johnston surrendered to General William Sherman in James and Nancy Bennett's farmhouse. We watched an interesting film followed by visits to the museum and gift shop.

It was a fun-filled day of exploring, learning, and socializing. Join us for a future Senior Chemist Day trip.

Chair, Senior Chemists Group
