“ When talking to this client to build their dream space... It was obvious what they wanted, but first and foremost they needed to feel confident in me. I needed to listen and understand them. When we paged through the photos that in compilation would make their dream kitchen, I instantly knew Holiday Kitchens would be the perfect cabinets for this job. We needed it be custom! We then gazed through my showroom, discussed the space we had available and the necessary accessories to make this dream come true. The rest was history and now their dreams are reality. ”

From the Dealer

“Eagle River Cabinets has been with Holiday Kitchens for 24 years and fortunately I have had the opportunity to work with both Eagle River Cabinets and Holiday Kitchens for the past 23 years. I choose Holiday Kitchens because they offer a nice selection of styles and finishes that suit my client's needs. Holiday's different construction options allow for various budgets which benefit both us as the dealer and our clients. We can create a custom look by making some alterations... with various door styles, wood and finish options to fit any budget we can add that "must-have" accessory... no matter what, we can do it! My experience, combined with the extensive style options and superior customer service, really "made" this job. This particular kitchen has a unique shape which drove the island design. The client's love for turned posts and the metal wire accent on the custom range hood surround was the perfect accent to complete this unique space.”

From the Homeowner

“When beginning any remodeling project, you want to find someone to work with that you are confident in to make your dreams and visions a reality. So naturally, we started asking around. We heard from many people the exceptional job that Eagle River Cabinets does. This was perfect, as we wanted to buy local. Julie at Eagle River Cabinets was our inspiration for space and design and helping to put our dream home together. She truly has an eye for design and gets the job done. I didn't have to worry about the project at all... which in return gave me more time to walleye fish. She took a difficult space and made a masterpiece. I LOVE every aspect of my kitchen and cannot give enough credit to Julie, Eagle River Cabinets or Holiday Kitchens. If I were to do it all over again, I would go the same route!”

“ My name is Dan Babl and our business, Babl Kitchen and Bath, has been a Holiday dealer since the early 80's. I originally selected Holiday Kitchens because of the vast options in colors, styles, and construction. Over the years Holiday Kitchens has become a pillar of my business and I value the relationship we have built. Holiday continues to do an exceptional job at working with us to provide the best product and service possible.”

~Dan Babl | Babl Kitchen & Bath - NE

“ At Babl Kitchen and Bath our business is built on “Transforming Dreams into Reality.” Holiday Kitchens has allowed us the ability to exceed our customer's expectations. We tell our customers that if they can dream it, we will design it, and Holiday Kitchens will build it. In designing and building my own home I wanted to highlight how versatile cabinets can be. They play a huge part in how we function as a family and express our style. I look forward to working with Holiday for many years to come.”

~Kay Jedlicka | Babl Kitchen & Bath - NE

“ Holiday Kitchens plays a vital role in our design process. We can only create a space for our customers based upon the products and materials that are available to us. When it comes to customizing a space, we need the freedom Holiday offers us to make it work. Being a successful designer is all about being able to bring balance and function to a space while focusing on your customers' vision and style.”

“ Working with our client began with building a relationship that was built on trust and the ability to take our clients very specific ideas and bring them to a reality. Their unique needs make Holiday Kitchen's customizable features a wonderful match for this project. The ability to customize so many features for our client gave them the built-in furniture look they were after in multiple rooms in their home. Their one of a kind kitchen is now the focal point in their stunning home for their family to enjoy. ”

“ Stone Creek Custom Interiors opened their doors in April of 2012 and have been working with Holiday Kitchens from day one. What we like most about Holiday Kitchens is being able to create a custom design for almost every budget. The finish is also outstanding. This particular project had a multiple soffit situation going on. The client wanted a staggered look, so we had to tear out one level of the soffits. They also wanted to extend the length of the kitchen overall, so we had to figure out a way to make that look good when we extended past the upper soffit level.”

“ Johnson's Cabinetry was started in 2009 as a custom cabinet shop delivering high end handcrafted cabinetry. As the market shifted we realized we need to stay competitive but didn't want to jeopardize quality and custom features so we looked at several cabinet manufacturers and when we came across Holiday Kitchens we knew we had a winner. We selected Holiday Kitchens for their “Fit & Finish”, custom features, reasonable pricing and quick manufacturing time. We are featuring this beautiful beaded inset kitchen with features like, integrated door end panel with seamless corners, built in walk in pantry, custom made to order wood hood and touch top open cabinets on island back. This job is truly custom built to my customer's specifications and the Johnson team couldn't be any happier with the finished product. ”

“ We are proud to say we have been a dealer of Holiday Kitchens for over three years. The reason I chose Holiday Kitchens was because of the value of the line along with being able to stay within budget. My experience with Holiday Kitchens has been great. Our sales representative is very helpful and there are options for almost ever budget within the line. If I could describe Holiday Kitchens in one phrase it would be “endless possibilities.” There is so much you can do with the line that allows me to fulfill any customer’s needs. This particular job could be described as “Graceful.” The customer’s pre-design, ease of making selections, and installation by such a skilled builder made for a smooth beautifully completed project. ”

From the Dealer

“ We have had the opportunity to work with Holiday Kitchens since 1995. We value the quality and options in the product line along with the many custom options. It has been exciting watching Holiday Kitchens grow over the years. We appreciate that they listen to us, their dealer, and continue to enhance their product line by adding more finishes, door styles and modifications. If we were to describe Holiday in one phrase, it would be: “Custom Cabinets and a Fair Price.” This particular job stood out to us because of the island configuration and the island legs...it's the little details that go a long way! It is a soft, contemporary job with just enough modern touches. ”
~Valued Holiday Kitchens Dealer | Kitchen Kraft - OH

From the Homeowner

“ As a homeowner, it was easy for me to decide who I wanted to use for this job. I have seen Kitchen Kraft's work and was very impressed. I was even more impressed when the owner, Jim Deen, came out and provided more options that I could have even imagined possible. He made it clear to me why his reputation in town was so good and why my friends and acquaintances used Kitchen Kraft and Holiday Kitchens in their homes. My favorite part of this entire project was the designer's creativity and the versatility of the cabinets. Kitchen Kraft was the only dealer who have gave me a unique design for the 12-foot island I was envisioning. Kitchen Kraft really made my vision a reality and I would use them again without a doubt. ”

From the Dealer

“ Whether enjoying a quiet evening at home or entertaining guests, the homeowner wanted the builder grade kitchen transformed into an elegant space. With the help of Catherine Goss, of Nicely Done Kitchens and Baths, they got that and so much more.

Starting with the layout of the kitchen, the designer moved the location of all the appliances and rotated the island. These changes created a better work flow in the kitchen and made a more cohesive place for guest to gather. Next, the aesthetics were addressed. Previously, the refrigerator was the focal point of the kitchen. The designer relocated the 48" range to the back wall to create a dramatic focal point with a custom cabinet hood. Glass cabinets on either side of the hood further enhanced the hood. The cabinet height and a double crown molding were used to balance the proportions within the room. Upgrades to the island included a wine cabinet and prep sink. Finally, on the opposite side of the room, glass cabinets were added above the sink and dishwasher area for both function and display.

Holiday's detailed Newcastle cabinets were chosen with a Nordic finish. Bianco Romano granite countertops and sage green paint create the serene background for the kitchen while coordinating with the adjacent dining room and family room. The hardwood flooring, recessed lighting, tile backsplash and hardware complete the transformation ”

“The client contracted me to create a master bath with a refined rustic look and Victorian detailing. The space was vast, so scale was a huge concern in order to make the bathroom feel intimate and keep all the details in proportion. I turned to my cabinet supplier, Annapolis Kitchen and Bath, and Holiday Kitchens knowing they had all the moulding details and customization options to create the furniture looking vanities we wanted along with the shaped vanity bridge to connect it all together. Using the character oak and inset cabinet doors gave us the bit of rustic charm we needed to keep the room from being too formal while the applied mouldings gave us the Victorian detail we wanted. The claw foot tub reinforced the Victorian tone while we mixed polished nickel plumbing with champagne and bronze finishes on the accents for a modern collected feel. All the elements came together perfectly and the overall finished product far surpassed my client's expectations.”

“ Design 1 Kitchen and Bath has been working with Holiday Kitchens since opening its doors in 2007 and I have been enthusiastically designing and specifying Holiday Kitchens cabinetry for the past 9 years. I choose Holiday Kitchens because they offer a great and versatile product line that I find so easy to design with! My clients can enjoy the finest fit and finish in a cabinet line and still meet their budget goals due to Holiday’s multiple construction options, finishes and door styles. Custom built-in drawers set into the storage space adjacent to this bathroom give the customers added storage while keeping the floor plan of this master bath open. Minor alterations achieved this look without breaking our clients budget and this added feature gives the look of a complete custom design. ”

“When we first started working with these clients, we were not yet a dealer for Holiday Kitchens. These clients knew what they wanted in each space and how they wanted it to look. It was during the last planning stages of this build that we became Holiday Kitchen dealers, but we had already determined that the job would be completed using a different brand. That is until we ordered in some sample doors from that brand and came in less than impressive. Within a couple days of being new dealers and with the help of our Holiday Kitchens Rep, we decided to order in sample doors that would be comparable to those that we had on hand. After seeing the Holiday door samples, the clients decided to join us in being our first job using Holiday Kitchens. What a wise decision that turned out to be! As mentioned, these clients knew exactly how they wanted their new home to look and with the help of Holiday Kitchens, their vision became a reality...and what a gorgeous reality it was!

From the Dealer

“ We have closely worked with Holiday Kitchens for over seven years. We were first attracted to their high quality painted finish, quality construction, customizable door styles and fashionable design styles. Holiday Kitchens was a perfect fit for our business because they have excellent customer service and offer a competitive price that works for our clients.

The best word that comes to mind when we think of Holiday Kitchens is Supportive. Our fabulous factory representative, Tim Bates, trains and supports our KDP team with the newest and latest products. He reaches out to us often and immediately responds to any questions we have. Tim also effectively follows up on issues in the field. The customer service department consisting of: Jamie, Leanne, Connie, Bobbi and Susie are helpful and very willing to lend their support to any and all questions we have.

This project was more complicated because there were hidden beams in the ceiling. We hid a portion of the support beams as well as added beams as a decorative element to integrate the kitchen and breakfast room into one cohesive space.

The best word for this particular job would be Gratifying. Prior to the remodel, the kitchen felt closed off and confining. We opened it up and updated the space. It now feels stylish and spacious. ”

“ I have been specifying and selling Holiday Kitchens for the past 12 years, though it pales in comparison with the 30 years SELW Kitchens has been working with Holiday Kitchens. I felt that Holiday Kitchens was the best fit for this project because the client wanted something modern, crisp and integrated... But wanted the best value too. I knew I could customize Holiday to fit my need, and that I could rely on Holiday to deliver a beautiful, quality product. Holiday Kitchens is my go-to for all things contemporary. I love the veneers and the options in slab doors from wood, to veneer, to paint and acrylic. The transitional doors are beautiful and custom colors are a non-issue! The options in quality help me control features and cost, and the lifetime warranty is something I know is a real value to my clients! If I could explain Holiday Kitchens in one word it would be “Versatile.” Holiday can do all styles, with any feature, at every price point.

This job was unique in the alignment and integrated features and details. Everything from the Integrated Sub zero refrigeration and hidden appliance garage with rollouts made specifically with the heights of the clients small appliances in mind, to the cooktop recessed in the counter. Every reveal had to align and be clean and the design had to stay clean and crisp. Wall cabinets over the cooktop were designed with oversized doors to eliminate the need for hardware at eye level. If I could explain this particular job in one phrase it would be “Clean...Everything in its place, because everything has a place!” ”

From the Dealer

“ The Cabinetry has been a Holiday Dealer since 2011. Holiday Kitchens was an easy move for us because I was drawn to the variety of finishes and the a la carte choices for the box construction. This allows my clients to choose the features they value and still have a choice of the many beautiful finishes and door styles. We have had a great working relationship with Holiday Kitchens. The customer support team is among the best we've worked with and our local rep is a tremendous support. We have attended Holiday trainings both locally and in Rice Lake, Wisconsin which were crucial to helping us understand the product and how to be incorporate it into our designs. The factory tour showed us firsthand the people, equipment and processes they use to produce such a high quality product. If I had to choose one phrase that explained Holiday Kitchens it would be Comprehensive Offering. Now about this beautiful job, My clients were a young couple who met and got married while living in New York City. They moved to a Boston suburb and bought a beautiful, classic New England home that needed a new kitchen. Although the home style is rather traditional they wanted to incorporate the modern esthetic they saw and loved in New York and yet still maintain some of the traditional New England style. To achieve this we decided to design a space with a mix of traditional, painted, inset cabinetry and a modern textured Thermofoil on a frameless box. We also worked in some aluminum doors that add an industrial feel to the white painted cabinetry. Our clients have two small boys so they wanted a cabinet line that was well made with durable finishes and that would meet their budget. Holiday was the perfect match for this kitchen and the client loves the new space! ”

From the Homeowner

“ And the project starts! I decided to work with The Cabinetry after being recommended by a trusted contractor. After meeting the team and visiting their welcoming showroom, I knew it was the right fit. We walked in and had a clear idea of the style and look we wanted after working with an interior designer to put all the details together and plan the layout. The knowledge the staff had at The Cabinetry made me confident I was going to get the outcome I wanted. My favorite part of working with The Cabinetry was getting to create the exact kitchen/living space we wanted for our family. I loved picking out the details, inserts and designating the location for everything in the kitchen. The finished product is a custom space that was made just for my family. ”
