LOCAL NEWS.

No one seems to have found out yet who that San Francisco detective is. A large party of tourists leave for the Volcano by the steamer W. G. Hall to-day.

The steamer Geo. W. Elder is to leave San Francisco for this place to-morrow. The subject at the tent to-night will be "Baptism, its Object and Mode." All are invited.

It is reported that Honolulu is to have a negro barber from the Coast some time next month.

Mr. J. A. Palmer, the business agent, has moved his office to the building formerly occupied by Mr. S. Roth, on Fort street.

The regular cash sale will be held at the auction rooms of Mr. J. Lyons, corner Queen and Fort streets, at ten o'clock this morning.

The schooner Ke Au Hou sailed for Kau, Hawaii, yesterday afternoon. She will make regular trips from this port to Kau and back.

The business of Mrs. Thos. Lack has been moved to the store on the corner of Fort and Merchant streets, formerly occupied by the O. P. M. B.

The schooner Canute yesterday took some machinery to Hitchcock & Co., Papeaio, Hawaii. She also took thirty-six Japanese to Waikae plantation.

The attention of the reading public is called to the series of articles now being published in the Press on "Hawaiian Ferns and Feneries," written by Mr. F. L. Clarke.

Our genial business agent, Mr. Miller, had a hard tussle with a bicycle on Merchant street last evening. After several fruitless attempts he managed to seat himself on the unruly thing and glide away.

The swimming season has been opened in Honolulu rather early this year. Every evening, between five and six o'clock, a large crowd gathers on the immigration wharf to take a plunge in the briny deep.

We call attention to the advertisement in another column of this paper of the valuable real estate sale to be held at the auction rooms of Messrs. E. P. Adams & Co., on next Monday at twelve o'clock noon.

The old wooden building occupied by Mrs. Thos. Lack, on Fort street, is to be torn down and a new brick building is to be erected in its place. It will be a good improvement on the old building and on the entire block.

A row occurred between two natives last night, on Nuuanu street near the first bridge, which ended in blows. The two combatants were separated by another native who succeeded in making them realize that they had been drinking a quarrelsome brand of gin.

Dr. McGrew's two magpies seem to be the happiest creatures in town. Every morning at about four o'clock they wake up and begin to sing, then they talk to each other, telling who the people were, who went home late at night, and all the funny things they did.

The Anglican Church Chronicle for February makes the following favorable comment upon Thurm's Annual for 1886: "The enterprising compiler gives as usual the most interesting and useful information of the islands. It is a capital book to send abroad to people desirous of becoming acquainted with the Hawaiian Islands."

A Chinaman and a native went out in a canoe yesterday afternoon from Waikiki. While attempting to stand up in one end of the canoe the Chinaman lost his balance and fell overboard. The native succeeded in rescuing the man, who could not swim, after he had sunk to the bottom twice. At the place where the man fell overboard the water was about twelve feet deep.

A very impressive scene was witnessed on Punchbowl street, in front of the Kawaiahanui cemetery, yesterday afternoon. It was the funeral procession of a young native girl who had died on Wednesday night. After the hearse came the mourners, then came about twenty South Sea Islanders. On entering the cemetery they removed their hats, and listened with marked attention to the sad services over the remains of the young girl, who had been so suddenly snatched from this world of sorrow.

Maunakea street, between Queen and the water front, was the scene of some excitement yesterday afternoon, when a native and a Chinaman got into a little dispute which was settled in true Sullivani style. It seems that the native had overheard the Chinaman some money, and meeting yesterday the Chinaman demanded that the bill should be paid. The native refused to comply with the request, when hot words were exchanged, which led to blows. The contestants were pretty evenly matched, and after the fight it was hard to tell which had received the worst drubbing. Claret was spurring from the native's nose, and one of his eyes was pretty badly scratched, while both of the Chinaman's eyes were in mourning, and his loose blouse was torn into shreds.

It would be a good idea for the Government to look after some of the dogs who roam the streets of Honolulu. Walking along the streets in almost any part of the city, are seen any number of dogs. Some are many dogs, some are large and ferocious dogs, some are small dogs who make more noise than a brass band. Honolulu seems to be a dog's paradise. You can find almost any species, breed or sized dogs by the hundreds. There ought to be a law imposing a license on all dogs, and any dog caught without a license should be held for a certain length of time, after which they should be sold or made away with.

They say: That the man with a "cousin" seems to have an oriental understanding of the law of relationship; that the Premier was actually snubbed the other day by Rex as the latter came down the gangway of the steamer when it reached the wharf; that the girls of the churches intend supplying this place with a new entertainment to be known as the "sewing bee;" that the next move of the Government will be to find some more money to spend; that the next move of the people will be to keep the Government from getting any more money; that the shipping interests of Honolulu are on the increase at present; that the vessels in port can all get cargoes if they want them; that the cocoanut business is an industry that will bear a deal of patient watching; that there is some very interesting history relating to the career of a "political tramp" which would come to light if the history of the House of Hawaiian Nobles was written; that the weather still refuses to behave itself as tropical weather should; that the quaint but unfathomable utterances of the Advertiser on astronomy and politics need a long telescope and a sure one; that the breath of scandal blows mildly again in this Island world; that strawberries and ice cream are called yum yum jam in the bon ton society of Honolulu; that the school teachers throughout the Kingdom will please take notice that the Island of Hawaii was lately "painted red;" that the political elephant in Hawaiian phrenology is called a "dusky mammal;" that the Merry Makers have gone to the other Islands for the benefit of their pocket books; that the members of the United States Congress are making some important conditions, unfavorable to the Advertiser's position, before they vote in favor of the Reciprocity Treaty; that the latest way of putting the political question is not what shall we do about the past, but the more important question of what shall the people do in the future to preserve their property interests and their civil liberty; that the Government of Hawaii is practically more despotic than that of Russia; and that the result of the late election is in stern truth the beginning of the end.

"Sweet By-and-By." This is how the now famous hymn "Sweet By-and-By" came to be written: Dr. Filmore Bennett, the author, lives at Richmond, Ill., and is poor. The hymn was written by Dr. Bennett at Elkhorn, Wis., in 1868. The writing of the words was based upon a remark made by J. P. Webster, who composed the music. Mr. Webster was of an exceedingly nervous and sensitive nature, and subject to periods of terrible depression. In one of his melancholy moods he chanced to drop in at the house of Dr. Bennett, when the latter asked him: "What is the matter now?" "Oh, it is no matter," replied the despondent man, "it will be all right by-and-by." The last three words immediately conveyed a suggestion to Dr. Bennett, and he says: "The idea of the hymn came to me like a flash of sunlight." Turning to his desk, he penned the words which have since become so famous. He says it did not take him more than twenty minutes to write the hymn.

The following notice is posted conspicuously in one of Orville's leading hotels: "Warning—This is a United States house, and that is the only language spoken here. Any guest using the words 'tour, root, root' for route, sweet for suite, commercial tourist for drummer, will immediately be waited upon by a committee from Butte county's 601 and given two hours in which to leave the county."

The Latest American Invention. THE VICTORY OF ELECTRICITY. Since Electricity has been applied for lighting purposes, all efforts of inventors have been directed to construct a lamp for general domestic use. The reason why this problem has till now not been solved, is that none of the inventors could rid themselves of the idea of gas lighting, and that all have adhered to the system of producing the Electricity in some central place, or by large machinery, instead of first laying down the principle that a Lamp which should ever become generally useful and popular, must be portable, like an Oil Lamp, and contain the generator of Electricity in itself, i. e., in the foot of the Lamp. The Norman Electric Light Company has at last succeeded in completely realizing this ideal of Electric Lighting, and there is no doubt that this most important invention will bring about a complete revolution in all branches of lighting. Our Electric Lamp needs neither Machinery, Conductors, nor any expensive outlay, and is neither complicated, nor disintegrable in manipulation; all that is necessary is to refill it every four or five days with acid. The cost of lighting will be as cheap as gas (3¢ cents per hour), and it has before the latter the immense advantage of neither producing heat, smoke nor carbonic acid, owing to which the air is not impured, and remains at the same degree of temperature. It is further absolutely odorless, and does not need to be kindled by match, or otherwise, but simply by turning the key, thus avoiding all dangers of fire, explosion or suffocation, as in the case of gas, if the key is left open; and it must be conceded that this advantage alone is invaluable. It is further preferable to any known kind of lighting for the following reasons: (1.) Its manipulation is so simple that any child can keep it in order. (2.) That the Lamp is portable, and can be
