

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Tamarinds for sale. See notice. The H. H. Co. have a few words to say to-day. A Supreme Court decision is on the first page. An ex-editor is reported to be the writer of the English page of the Ka Leo. A shaft of the Union Ice Co.'s works was broken the other day. The Union Iron Works are repairing it. Some beautiful local views, painted on celluloid, are to be seen in a window of the Pacific Hardware store, painted by a Honolulu lady.

A large invoice of Laysan Island canary bird cages has been received by the Hawaiian Hardware Co., and are on exhibition at their store.

The Union Iron Works are engaged in making new boilers for the W. G. Hall, as the Honolulu Iron Works are building boilers for the Kikan.

Messrs. Theo. H. Davies & Co., agents for the bark Annie Johnson, are in receipt of several makes of bicycles by that vessel, direct from Liverpool.

The Kahului Railway Co. have elected the following officers: W. C. Wilder, President; W. F. Allen, Vice-President; and Auditor: S. B. Rose, Secretary; F. L. Stolz, Treasurer.

At 6:53 p. m. Thursday, Prof. C. J. Lyons of the Government Survey, saw from Panahou, a meteor pass over Diamond Head to the eastward. It was about three times as bright as Venus.

A silver charm, made out of an English sixpence, with the initials of the giver and the date, was found a few days ago, which the owner can have by calling at the office of this paper.

The Kikan brought on Saturday from windward ports 222 passengers, of whom 39 were cabin and 183 deck passengers; also of freight—1385 packages.

Two natives were seen coming from the wharf yesterday evening with fishing poles in their hands. When asked for whom they are catching fish, replied, "for the Bulletin cannery."

A fire started Wednesday forenoon in the servants' quarters of the Oahu Prison. The fire engines responded promptly, but the blaze was put out by water from the yard being turned on.

Twenty-eight of the number of horses that came by the barkentine W. H. Dimond were forwarded to the Makaweli plantation, Kauai, in the Mikahala on Tuesday. The animals were much admired.

A native while hanging to the side of a tramcar about 10 o'clock Saturday evening, fell striking the ground with the side of his head, tearing his ear off. The man was under the influence of liquor.

The Myrtle Boat Club held a meeting Wednesday evening. A full attendance was present. Two new members were elected. Mr. Alex. Lyle was elected captain, vice Mr. Alex. Robinson, resigned, the latter leaving for the East in a short time.

The new electric light company is putting up the large poles to which the wires are to be attached. The company expect to be ready for lighting by Saturday, 22d inst. The efficient electrician, W. V. Lockwood, with a lot of workmen have been kept busy for some time in putting up the electrical machinery.

The mail despatched on Tuesday by the Zealandia contained 4,866 letters and 1,529 parcels of papers. In addition to the letters dispatched 3,500 letters for Japan and China have been held back to go by the City of Pekin, which will be due here on or about the 18th inst., en route for Japan and China.

In the death of Rev. Father P. Modest Favens, the Catholic Mission loses one of its first members to the Islands, and the people of Honolulu will miss the face of one long familiar here. He died Thursday morning at 3:15 o'clock. The funeral took place on Friday from the Catholic Cathedral.

Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, pastor of the second congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, performed the marriage ceremony uniting Mr. Paul E. R. Struch and Miss Fanny Markham, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The ceremony was performed at the Cathedral. The married couple left on the Claudine in the evening, for Maui.

A petition is being circulated for signatures, asking the Government to compel the tramcar company to fill up the streets even with the tramway, a clause in the franchise, or less lose their right. It already has signatures of some prominent citizens, and no doubt will receive more. According to public sentiment the Alakea street line should be taken up.

The Kamalo Sugar Mill, on Molo-kai, was burned on the night of August 7th. The cause of the fire had not been discovered up to the time of the steamer's leaving. Hon. J. S. Walker has $20,000 insurance on the mill, machinery and sugar; $6,000 in the Union Insurance Co. of New Zealand, and $14,000 in the Royal of Liverpool. Jas. F. Morgan is the Honolulu agent for the plantation.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Mr. J. W. Winter is off for a short vacation at the volcano.

A general merchandise store has been opened for a week or two at Ewa.

Thirteen prisoners arrived from Kauai by the Mikahala Sunday morning.

A number of amateur photographers were busy out around the park yesterday.

Rice planters are busy putting in plants all along the way to Ewa sugar plantation.

Prof. H. S. Townsend has returned to the seminary at Lahainalua, of which he is principal.

The O. S. S. Australia is due today from San Francisco with late news to August 11th.

This, the second week of Mr. N. S. Sachs' clearance sale, is to be the last. So don't fail to call before the week has passed if you want some bargains.

Nearly all Honolulu theatre-goers wish to hear Sarah Bernhardt; yet if they are backward about subscribing for tickets, no one will get to hear her here. It takes dollars to hear such an actress. See!

Moses Kihopole, a member of the Hook & Ladder Company of the Fire Department, died at his home Saturday night and was buried Sunday. The flag was lowered to half mast at the Bell Tower.

The S. S. City of Pekin was to leave San Francisco August 11, one hour later than the Australia, the latter leaving at 2 p. m. There is an opportunity for a race, with the chances in favor of the Australia.

The funeral procession of the late Rev. Father Modest Favens was one of the largest Honolulu has witnessed for a long time. His Lordship, the Bishop of Oiba, assisted by his clergymen, performed the services.

Mr. Max Lobeide, Instructor for the Gymnasium, resumes his work this evening. His classes commence their study of the Greco-Roman wrestling to be given at a tournament the latter part of September.

A young Scotchman, named John Wylie, died on the 9th instant, at Pepeekeo, Hawaii. He was employed at the time of his death as book-keeper on the plantation. His remains were interred in the Hilo cemetery.

Mr. Jos. Tinker took a number of his friends to Pearl Harbor Sunday in his vapor launch Our Queen. The little launch is reported to have behaved nicely, making the homeward trip against heavy winds from 3:45 to 5:30 p. m.

Anne Kuamoo, wife of John Kuamoo, died Saturday, and was buried Sunday in the Kawaiahao cemetery. The Hawaiian Band followed the remains to the grave, "Jack" Kuamoo being the small drummer in the band, having been so engaged for twenty years.

Mrs. J. H. Reist is having the boat house (formerly Dr. Trouse's) near the Marine Railway, renovated. Several rooms have been nicely fitted up and are to let. Parties not wishing to go out of town for a sea bath can be accommodated at this house.

Some weeks ago a man in search of health arrived here from the East with a male servant. It is becoming a notorious fact that the sick man is not getting proper care from his rascally servant. It may be a case for the Board of Health or some other city authorities to look into.

Two native and two half-caste girls, between the tender ages of 12 to 15 years, were arrested Wednesday afternoon upon the charge of imbibing too freely of gin. They were lodged in the Police Station, a place fit for their intoxicated condition, but for their ages a place that perhaps any other civilized community would blush for the fact that such young girls should be put into so rough a place.

Mr. Talloch, operator at Kohala of the Hilo, Hamakua and Kohala Telephone Company states that telephone connection with Hilo was completed August 1st, and between Hilo and Waiohinu August 11th, so that messages can now be sent throughout the entire circuit of over one hundred miles. The long stretch between Kawaihae and Waiohinu still remains unspanned, and may continue so for years to come, unless the government shall take the task in hand.

H. M. C. S. The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society met at the residence, Saturday evening, of Mr. W. W. Hall. Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani was present attended by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Aldrich. After the usual programme was carried out, Mr. Rand was introduced to the society. He gave a general geographical outline of the island of Ponape. Prof. W. D. Alexander spoke briefly about the languages of the different groups. Mrs. Rand read an account of the recent trouble on Ponape between the Spaniards and the Ponapeans.

To those who need a pleasant Tonic for any kind of debility, we can recommend Clements' as the best. For sale by Holt's & Co.

THE ROYAL TOUR.

Her Majesty the Queen was entertained at Makao, near Haunala, Koolauloa, on Saturday by Mr. Lane and other prominent Hawaiians of that locality. In the afternoon, the Queen went out canoe riding, the canoe being drawn by a lively span of horses by means of ropes attached to the canoe. The horses were ridden at full gallop, the canoe skimming along the surface of the water at a lively rate. After the novel canoe ride Her Majesty and many others went out sea bathing.

On Sunday, the Queen and party attended the Mormon Church at Laie, the followers of Brigham Young attending in large numbers. The Queen remained for the night at the residence at that place of the Hon Cecil Brown.

On Monday morning, the royal party left in wagonettes, others being on horses, for Kahuku Plantation, visiting on the way, "Laiewai," a small lake several miles from the coast, being noted in legends as the place where "Laieikawai," a fairy belle, was nursed in one of its secret places. This lake is much visited by strangers. Arriving at Kahuku, the Queen and party were treated to a sumptuous luncheon.

About noon, Her Majesty and suite left for Waialua. When they reached the Waimea stream over which a new bridge has been recently built, and was forbidden to the public until the Queen crossed it first, appropriate remarks from some of Waialua's prominent citizens were made on the occasion of crossing the bridge. When the ceremony ended, the party proceeded to Waialua, arriving there early in the afternoon, the royal party putting up at Gov. Dominis' (Prince Consort) country residence.

The Royal party returned to town on Wednesday afternoon, after having made a circuit of this island.

KOHALA NOTES.

The connection of the telephone lines by which messages can be sent to Hilo is among the events of the past few days.

During the past week the unusual spectacle of a prominent Honolulu lawyer conducting cases in the Police Court has been witnessed. Hon. Paul Neumann having been engaged by Mr. R. Freitas to pilot him through three cases, in which he or members of his family were concerned, has done good work for him and won them all. This is most certainly enterprise.

Keeper of rain gauges report a little over four inches of rain within forty-eight hours, during the early part of this week, and more has fallen since.

The thieves and burglars are busy here too. Several chicken roosts have been visited during the night, one of the thieves dropping a chicken on being pursued.

On another occasion a house in Kapaau was entered, a native woman and child being the only occupants. The woman's slumber having been disturbed, she asked, "who is that?" Whereupon the intruder fled, having behind him a Chinese slipper. Yet these do not appear to have aroused sufficient interest to provoke any search for the marauders. Query: Does silence on the subject indicate that our police force understands its business so much better than those in Honolulu, that it is doing its detective work quietly?

Wilder's S. S. & R. R. Co. seems looking after business. Application has been made to lease some of the private plantation landings, a bargain is said to have been closed with Dr. J. Wight for the landing at Halawa.

Don't Miss the Chance. All the week a large number of people have been seen at Mr. N. S. Sachs' store. In fact the store has been crowded all week. It is noticed that when they leave they invariably carry packages, large and small, with them. So judging from this, big bargains, must be offered during this clearance sale. Housekeepers would do well to drop in and learn prices of articles in their line, while those in search of ball dresses can save a great deal by examining the dress silks and laces for draperies that are being offered at cost. Mr. Sachs has but one clearance sale a year, and then every article is reduced. Those who have not visited the store yet would do well to do so at once for although there is a large stock to be disposed of, yet the crowds each day lessen it considerably. The clearance sale lasts but another week.

For the Public Records. The new fire proof vault being built in one of the rooms of the Interior Department is completed so far as the rough workmanship on the walls is concerned. The walls are made of concrete and are thirty-four inches thick. A double door opens from the vault, having all the improvements necessary to make a perfectly burglar proof door. The doors with their fixings are from Canton, Ohio. The walls both inside and out are to receive an extra covering, adding both to the thickness and appearance. The part of the building occupied as this vault was formerly a part of the Attorney-General's Department, a partition having been put in, dividing the vault from the Oahu Governor's offices.

THREE EXTRA INNINGS.

A Close and Exciting Game of Ball.

The Honolulu and Kamehamehas drew out a large attendance to the ball grounds Saturday last, quite a number being in carriages. The band was in attendance and played lively airs during the afternoon.

What promised to be a poor game at the start turned out to be one of the most remarkable and closest ever seen on the diamond, when the number of innings (twelve) is taken into consideration.

The Kamehamehas being short a couple of the regular nine substituted new players, and a complete change in the make-up of the team was the result. Davis and Pahau composed the battery, and to the former belongs most of the credit for winning. He had good support and the team played well together.

For the Honolulu—well, they played ball for all they knew how, but, for some reason unknown, they failed to hit Davis as they would have liked to, and then again, their good hits were scattered and counted nothing. Luck was against them all through.

The game, after the first innings, was a surprise to everyone, and it was anybody's (not even excepting the umpire's) until the finish, so close did they play. After the ninth the enthusiasm was great, and every individual play was cheered by the audience from that time to the finish.

Each side scored three runs in the first owing to wild throws and fumbling. In the third the Kamehamehas took the lead by a run, and it was not until the sixth that the Honolulu got another run, and that was their last, the next six innings being a succession of goose eggs.

The Kamehamehas played almost in the same luck. After their run in the third, eight innings passed by without their scoring. In their last half of the twelfth, however, things took a turn and Pahau singled, stole second, advanced to third and home on two singles—this being the winning run.

Messrs. Hengee and Lockwood acted as umpires. Following is the score by innings: Honolulu.....3 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0-4 Kamehamehas...3 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1-5

Large Mangoes.

A fine mango lies on our table taken from a tree in Judge McCully's residence, measuring twelve inches around in its length, and weighing eleven ounces. It was one of a dozen or more of the same size from the same tree. Some years ago we raised one that weighed thirteen and a half ounces, and measured fourteen inches around its length.

The notice relating to a large mango, in Tuesday's paper, has brought one to our office which throws the other into the shade. It was raised on the grounds of Dr. J. M. Whitney, at Panahou, and measures fourteen inches around and weighs twenty-two ounces. It is the Peruvian variety, the first trees of which, brought from Callao, were grown on Mrs. Victoria Ward's premises, at "Sunny South." The fruit is handsome to look at, but not much relished for eating, the turpentine taste being quite strong.

Judge J. P. Kama Dead.

A few minutes before 6 o'clock on Thursday evening, August 13th, Judge J. P. Kama, of Waianae, Oahu, died at the residence of Mr. Junius Kaae on Beretania street. Mr. Kama was brought to this city from Waianae about a month ago in a low state of health, his family hoping that the change of climate and better medical skill would improve his condition.

Mr. Kama was born at Ewa, Oahu, nearly fifty-three years ago. A wife, whom he married over ten years ago, survives him. Mr. Kama has been for nine years District Justice at Waianae, a post which he held with honor and credit. On Friday afternoon his remains were taken to Waianae for burial.

Supreme Court—At Chambers.

MONDAY, AUGUST 10. BEFORE DOLE, J. The Queen vs. Akana, violating carriage regulations. Defendant withdraws his plea of not guilty and pleads guilty. The Court orders defendant to pay $15 fine and costs of Court. Deputy Attorney-General Creighton for the prosecution; J. L. Kaulukou for defendant.

THURSDAY, AUG. 11. BEFORE DOLE, J. In re Estate of Philip Milton. Executor's accounts. The court orders the accounts approved. Cecil Brown executor, in person.

BEFORE HICKERTON, J. THURSDAY, AUG. 13. Ahoi vs. Lalinaholo. Assumpsit heard and judgment rendered in favor of the defendant. Carter for plaintiff; Achi for defendant.

A Midnight Opium Find.

Mr. Wm. Sheldon of the Customs Department, with several assistants, captured 100 tins of opium with two Chinamen in the act of sampling it, in the feed house of the Port Surveyor, Mr. J. Holt, at Aala, in the rear of St. Louis College, late Sunday evening. Opium and Chinamen were locked up at the station house. Mr. Sheldon has had his "eagle eye" on this opium for a few days and has been rewarded at last in capturing it.

THE NEW ENGINE.

Housing at Hall of Company No. 1—Largely Attended.

Engine Company No. 1, housed their new engine Saturday evening. The event took place at their hall on King street, and besides members of the company a large number of other guests were present.

Among them were noticed: His Excellency J. Mott-Smith, Minister of Finance; His Excellency W. A. Whiting, Attorney-General; Mr. Walter Hill, Postmaster-General; Mr. J. N. S. Williams, President of the Union Iron Works; Mr. Alex. Young, President of the Honolulu Iron Works; Marshal C. B. Wilson, Col. Geo. W. Macfarlane, Messrs. J. H. Paty, F. A. Schaefer, Chas. Creighton, W. G. Ashley, A. F. Peterson, Daniel Logan, editor of the Bulletin, J. A. Mehreen, John Lucas, J. D. Tucker and E. B. Thomas.

Of course, the first object of consideration was the new engine. It was clearly and brightly polished, with the handsome team of bays hitched to it. The team is the property of the company, having been purchased in the States with money generously given by merchants and other property holders of the town. For this generosity Foreman Robt. More and the whole company are grateful.

The repairs made in the engine house make it much more convenient in putting away the engine. A turntable has been constructed upon which the engine can be driven and turned. With this advantage—and the efficiency of the engineer, Mr. P. Hughes, and the driver, Mr. David Koi—the new engine will never be the last one to arrive at a fire.

After the inspection of the engine the guests and others ascended to the hall where two large tables were spread, on which was a splendid collation prepared by Mr. Hamilton Johnson, of the Hamilton House, assisted by his efficient steward and corps of waiters. The spread did credit to both the occasion and the house from which it came. The long tables were lined with the numerous guests.

The foreman, Robt. More, in a few words welcomed all to the celebration of the event. After the honor was somewhat appeased, Mr. More rose to propose the health of Her Majesty Queen Liliuokalani. In response to the toast to the Cabinet Hon. J. Mott-Smith made a few remarks. He spoke of the paid fire departments of other cities, which increases their efficiency. But in looking over the faces of the volunteers of this company he saw one equal to any occasion. The speaker referred to the great fire of Chinatown, and the late King's presence.

Robt. More, the foreman's health was drunk, when the company sang "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." In response he stated that the engine is as fine a one of its kind as can be found. It is entirely due to the Chief Engineer that we have it. He tendered his thanks to the merchants for their liberal donations.

Mr. Schaefer proposed the health of Chief Engineer Wilson, who told those present that the efficiency of the Fire Department was entirely due to the unanimous work of the members. As to the implements and machinery for putting out fires, they were bought by the aid of the Government and merchants. Engine Co. No. 1 is supplied with as good an engine as can be had. The old one was in use over ten years, double the ordinary time of an engine's worth. He hoped the company would do as well with the new as with the old engine.

The Assistant Engineer stated that this is the third engine he has helped to house. The Fire Department of Honolulu is better equipped than many other cities visited.

Fire Companies other than No. 1 were represented in an address by Mr. Walter Hill. His remarks, some at the expense of a journalist of the Bulletin, aroused considerable applause. The Fire Police went to a fire not to put out fire nor use the hook and ladder, but to protect the property from being "hooked." He also referred to what the merchants have done; that all debts are paid and scores of dollars in the treasury.

Mr. Alex. Young responded to the health of the guests. He was pleased to see the improvements of the company, and that it has a team of fine horses to draw its engine. He spoke of the willing manner in which the firemen, after working hard all day, responded at once at the tap of the bell. He congratulated the members upon their success and efficiency, notwithstanding the debilitating effect of the climate. They should not let the Government and people rest till brick houses are built for engines, etc.

In response to the toast to the health of the ladies, Col. Geo. W. Macfarlane was called. In the course of his remarks he told of the difference in insurance rates, being lower here than in many other places. He related an instance of the late King at Coronada, California, where he surprised some present by stating he was a member of the Fire Department.

At this point of the "housing," a song was called for. Mr. G. W. Ashley played an accompaniment to a song by Mr. Geo. F. Ritman. In response to a hearty encore the singer gave the popular base ball song. Mr. W. H. Charlock was prevailed upon to sing also. After the songs, speeches were made by a number of members of the Company and guests. All left voting the housing of the engine one of the most pleasant times in the history of the Fire Department.

STILL AT LARGE.

The Apparently Never To Be Caught Burglar Makes Another Round.

The Criterion saloon was the place of operation by the burglars Thursday night. An entrance was effected through a window in the rear of the saloon that was broken by the thief. About $10 in current coin was taken, besides some English coins, also a silver cup that was given as a present to Mr. Jas. Dodd. The party evidently had a taste for a variety of liquors, as about six or seven bottles of as many kinds of liquor were taken, also several boxes of cigars.

Messrs. H. H. Williams & Co. think they have got rid of two baby chairs not sold or otherwise accounted for except by disappearing with a burglar Tuesday night. A hole was made in the wire composition roofing in the rear of the general store. The chairs were taken from the wall near the roof where they were hung on hooks, one of the latter being broken probably in the thief's descent. It is supposed he made his exit by climbing over a back door.

Where Next.

To continually chronicle the numerous burglaries going on is becoming monotonous. However, these robbers will run against something some of these nights as a number of merchants are placing watchers in their stores.

Thursday night the office of Mr. E. B. Thomas was entered, also the Hawaiian Bazaar. An entrance was effected in the first mentioned place through a window. Nothing of any value was taken. Nothing was taken from the Bazaar, as the robber was perhaps scared away by a policeman before he found anything. The merchants and other business men would do well to organize and decide upon some plan to capture the thief or thieves.
