Conscious Sexuality Coach / Sex Speaker & Writer / Spiritual Teacher

About Me

I am a Conscious Sexuality Educator, Coach and a Tantric Practitioner whose main focus is to help people—especially women, apply consciousness and mindfulness into their holistic sexuality.

I am also a professional speaker, commentator and writer on diverse issues of sexuality. As president and founder of Black Shakti (Pty) Ltd t/a Beautiful Vibes, I train entrepreneurs, corporate leaders, and employees in some of the most compelling and enriching personal development processes in relation to money, power and sex. Beautiful Vibes is a sex positive platform through which I encourage and facilitate discussions on conscious sexuality by hosting events, social media groups, general media and one-on-one coaching.

My work has media presence on platforms such as:-

- Kaya FM
- Motsweding FM
- Lesedi FM
- Carte Blanche (MNET)
- Move Magazine
- Massive Metro
- Kasi FM

Throughout the Southern African region (Lesotho, Swaziland, Botswana, Zimbabwe) my talks have reached thousands of listeners; and over 14 thousand enthusiastic individuals follow my Beautiful Vibes women only secret Facebook page.

Distinctions of My Work

My work is influenced tremendously by personal life experiences that were guided by a solid Christian perspective.

As a devoted Conscious Sexual Health Coach, I am blessed with the spiritual calling to inspire and mentor individuals, professionals, and organizations to realize their creative potential for the past 8 years.

Distinctions of my work bear the mark of personal excellence expressed enthusiastically in all my seminars.

On every private and public platform given to me, I always seek to share an authentically explicit awareness of conscious sexuality with my audience in order to change their thoughts, feelings and actions.

By working with the creative aspect of sexual energy to enrich our consciousness, we are able to uncover ways to convert its abundance into emotional and financial freedom.

Women Empowerment

I believe every one of us is responsible for their own happiness—both in the physical and spiritual form—and by our own balance of giving and receiving value unconditionally; we attract abundant happiness while helping others do the same for themselves. It is in seeing this tangible evidence and distinct shift in perception that my consultation work has proven to be a source of inspiration for many of my clients to follow a more vibrant energy of life in their businesses and personal relationships.

"...sexuality is an individual journey of the soul." - Tshidi Tsimile

Through my one-on-one consultation work, I help a diverse network of people uncover abundant resources hidden beneath their sexual experience that can be used as creative energy.

My study of Sexology and different religious practices not limited to but encompassing: Tantra (including Egyptian); Somatic Sex Education; Scientology; Metaphysics have enabled me to be universally relatable to a wide spectrum of ethnicities. I have invested a lot of time researching and teaching African sexuality.

Multi-Media Platforms

I love to inspire people! It is a thrilling experience when I use my talents on-stage; insightful Facebook comments; radio interviews; helpful internet articles; and part-time acting career to encourage both men and women embrace their highest good.

"Your spirituality and sexuality are the foundations of Being ..., Know Thy Self." - Tshidi Tsimile
