

Who are we, we Americans?

The policemen of the new world order?

The feeders of starving innocents?

Or another victim of ancient blood feuds?

Which to follow? Our hearts? Or heads?

