

PHOTO: J. MADDEN

John Madden

the face of GREEN HOME BUILDERS

J MADDEN HOMES

J Madden Homes has been building and remodeling homes in Oklahoma for 15 years. What is immediately apparent about a home from J Madden is its curb appeal and luxurious feel. But behind the scenes, homeowners enjoy sustainability and energy efficiency — some pay less than $1,000 in utilities annually.

Owner John Madden is an advocate for better, more efficient building practices in the home building industry. Nationally, Madden is at the leading edge of new technology, products and building methods. He sits on numerous boards and is a member and/or certified by the National Home Builders Association (NHBA), Certified Graduate Builder (CGB), Certified Green Professional (CGP), and Certified Aging in Place (CAPS I). Madden was the first builder in Oklahoma to earn the FORTIFIED-Wise™ certification. Homes with this certification will withstand 120-mile-per-hour winds and qualify for a 30 percent discount on homeowners' insurance.

"What sets our work apart is the high level of design detail combined with seamless usability in every project," says Madden. "We focus on efficiency and innovation, while maximizing luxury. We build today's homes for tomorrow."

918-269-9688 | jmaddenhomes.com

*Estimated annual energy costs are based on average local climate and energy use dependent on the total square footage of a home.