

Jane wolfgang oil cold wax

Have you been wanting to explore this innovative way to use oil paint and cold wax? Join me for an introductory workshop where you will experiment with this expressive and inspiring medium in an encouraging environment.

Create both abstract seascapes and landscapes while you learn about composition, color and of the many ways to use various tools to apply the paint and create unique finishes.

No prior artistic experience needed! You will be able to leave the workshop with at least two completed paintings and a love of cold wax! and perhaps some new friends and ideas!

Feel free to bring a snack and or drink.

- You will see examples of my work and works of others.
- Introduction of supplies used.
- Show working area - how to prep your area
- Teach: mixing of wax and paint 50/50 ratio, palette prep, and color study
- Demonstrate How to apply paint to panel - Addition of wax/paint
- Things to consider: Color, composition, balance, focal point, intuitive painting
- Tools : finger, brush, brayer, transfer on wax or tissue paper, splatter, stencil
- Demonstrate subtraction techniques: Show use of tissue paper, scratch, gamsol resist, roll off, citrasolve reduction ,etc.
- Answer Question

Please contact me directly if you have any questions.

Jane Wolfgang-

janewolfgangart@gmail.com