OUR MISSION

To help young people discover their calling, develop their gifts, and determine their goals through a mentoring program emphasizing academic training, vocational exploration, and community service.

ON-CAMPUS CLASSES

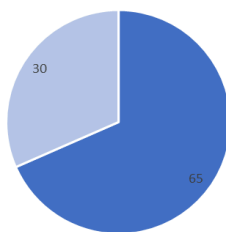

- Classes are organized on a hybrid model: 50-minute classes, twice per week, 6 credits per semester
- No AP courses are offered on campus and limited Honors classes are offered from the 2017-18 school year to the 2023-24 school year.
- Dual enrollment is available but access may be limited by transport, scheduling, & fees.

PARENT-DIRECTED STUDIES

- Under Compass Prep's guidance and within Compass Prep's college preparatory framework, parents select and direct students' high school courses; coursework quality and rigor are assessed and monitored by Compass Prep which provides a transcript which is fully accredited by the Georgia Accrediting Commission.
- Motivated and advanced students are able to access academically rigorous courses, such as AP courses, courses beyond AP courses (e.g., college-level mathematics), and dual-enrolled courses in-person in metro Atlanta through qualified tutors and such organizations as Metro Academic Studies, Kennesaw State University, and Chattahoochee Tech; these courses are also available online through organizations such as Johns Hopkins Center for Talented Youth, Pennsylvania Home Schoolers, GA Virtual Academy. Ability to access these advanced courses may be limited by cost, scheduling, course availability, and transport.
- For AP courses, Compass Prep will accredit AP courses on a high school student's transcript for which the syllabus of the AP teacher is College-Board approved, and for which the student completes all coursework on that syllabus.
- For courses beyond AP (such as those taken through Johns Hopkins Center for Youth, for example) or dual-enrollment courses, Compass Prep requests transcripts from those schools and incorporates the courses and grades into the calculated GPA on the Compass Prep transcript.
