

In this thread, LeAnn Hilton is threatening and stalking another former co-worker who she's been crusading against for years. This time threatening a sweet Mormon woman, calling her a thief, saying she's going to jail, LeAnn is filing for a restraining order, etc. See a pattern here? LeAnn is always the victim of this invisible boogeyman always "after her". Everyone is always "stalking/Harassing/Stealing/Going to jail". Never does she ever acknowledge that she might be to blame for any of her life's woes. Classic Narcissism.
