Music Policy

Intentions

Music is a unique way of communicating that can inspire and motivate children. It is a vehicle for personal expression, and it can play an important part in the personal development of people. Music reflects the culture and society we live in, and so the teaching and learning of music enables children to better understand the world they live in. Besides being a creative and enjoyable activity, music can also be a highly academic and demanding subject. It also plays an important part in helping children feel part of a community. We provide opportunities for all children to create, play, perform and enjoy music, to develop the skills, to appreciate a wide variety of musical forms, and to begin to make judgements about the quality of music.

The objectives of teaching music in our school are to enable children to:

- know and understand how sounds are made and then organised into musical structures;
- know how music is made through a variety of instruments;
- know how music is composed and written down;
- know how music is influenced by the time, place and purpose for which it was written;
- develop the interrelated skills of performing, composing and appreciating music.

Teaching and Learning Style: Implementation

At Pattishall CE Primary School we make music an enjoyable learning experience. We encourage children to participate in a variety of musical experiences through which we aim to build up the confidence of all children. Singing lies at the heart of good music teaching and consequently, our teaching focuses on developing the children's ability to sing in tune and with other people. Through singing songs, children learn about the structure and organisation of music. (Currently, this can only take place outside, due to covid restrictions). Children are also encouraged to use basic instruments in their lessons, such as keyboards, recorders, glockenspiels and percussion instruments (although covid restrictions mean that some of these are not currently an option). We teach them how to appreciate different forms and genres of music by exposing them to many different styles, and examining them in detail. As children get older, we expect them to maintain their concentration for longer, and to listen to more extended pieces of music. Children develop descriptive and artistic skills in music lessons when learning about how music can represent imagery, feelings and emotions. We teach children to make music together, to understand musical notation, and to compose pieces in various styles.

Additional Music Teaching

Through the use of intensive music training courses in Y4, demonstrations and encouragement from staff - children are provided the opportunity to study a musical instrument with peripatetic teachers. Peripatetic music teaching is provided by NMPAT. Parents who want their children to participate in the scheme must purchase or hire the instrument and pay the additional music lesson fees on a termly basis. These lessons are normally taught to small groups of children who have chosen to learn one of a variety of instruments, such as brass, woodwind, strings or piano. This is in addition to the normal music teaching of the school, but usually takes place during curriculum time.

Music Curriculum Planning

Our school uses the online, interactive NMPAT Charanga Music School scheme as the basis for its curriculum planning up to Y4. There are great opportunities for children of all abilities to develop their skills and knowledge in each teaching unit, and the progression planned into the scheme of work means that the children are increasingly challenged as they move through the school. In Years 5 and 6 the children are further challenged to develop their skills through the use of the BBC Ten Pieces scheme, which targets a particular piece of classical music (related to their topic if possible) and gives them the chance to fully explore and recreate the piece over a series of lessons, using basic school instruments and their own ideas.

Early Years

We teach music in reception class as an integral part of the topic work covered during the year. As the reception class is part of the Early Years Foundation Stage of the National Curriculum, we relate the musical aspects of the children's work to the objectives set out in the Early Learning Goals (ELGs) which underpin the curriculum planning for children aged three to five. This is also supported by the use of the Charanga Musical School scheme. Music contributes to a child's personal and social development. Counting songs foster a child's mathematical ability, and songs from different cultures increase a child's knowledge and understanding of the world.

Assessment for Learning

Children demonstrate their ability in music in a variety of different ways. Teachers will assess children's work in music by making informal judgements as they observe them during lessons. On completion of a piece of work, the teacher assesses the work and gives oral or written feedback as necessary to inform future progress. Older pupils are encouraged to make judgements about how they can improve their own work. Children's attainment will be recorded on OTrack termly.

Resources

Resources for music are kept in a central store. They will be audited annually and replaced as necessary.

Musical Events

We provide opportunities throughout the year for budding musicians to perform for the school community. This includes solo and ensemble performances as part of assemblies and concerts. This recognises their achievements and celebrates their success.

We also have a school choir which has the opportunity to perform at various events – from internal events such as assemblies, to augmenting school plays and performing at local, county and even national events, as part of the Young Voices choir, at the O2 arena.

Roles and Responsibilities

The subject lead role is Mr May, who monitors standards, resources and curriculum provision, ensuring training and resources are up to date.
