Train Harder, Longer, & Stronger...

Benefit from the Same Nutrition Olympic & World Class Athletes Use!

 Immunotec®

Whether you're an endurance athlete, weekend warrior in the gym or on the soccer field, legend in your softball league, or an actual Olympian – the secret to championship results is better training. And the best training can only happen when your body is getting the nutrients it needs for peak performance and adequate recovery.

Now you can train with the same scientifically-proven performance formulas that Olympian and other world class athletes use. These competitors trust Immunotec, and the 45 years of research behind the products. Here's a snapshot of just a few elite athletes from around the globe who, as Ambassadors, include Immunotec products in their training and recovery regimen....

"Immunocal and Immunocal Booster have become the central point of my nutrition plan. I have full faith in the quality of the products to keep my immune system strong. Regardless of where in the world I'm competing, I know I can rely on Immunocal products to keep me healthy and let me focus on the competition in hand."

Kate French
Olympic Gold Medalist

"I am coming back from an injury and have experienced a high level of mental, emotional and physical stress as I return to running. Because increased stress can have a profound impact on the immune system, I have recently started taking Immunocal. I need my body to function at its highest level, and I'm thankful to have Immunocal to help with that!"

Chanelle Price
Gold Medalist IAAF Championships, Nike Oregon Track Club

"I believe that Immunocal has been a contributing factor in my success. Using Immunocal helps me to improve my recovery between both sessions and races allowing me to compete at a world class level."

Hanna Green
IAAF Champion, World Championship qualifier, Tokyo Olympic trials, Nike Oregon Track Club

"I implemented Immunocal since returning from injury and I've found that it has helped me recover better from training sessions. Another great thing about Immunocal is that it has helped me avoid sickness. By keeping my immune system strong, Immunocal has allowed me to become more consistent with my training."

Jake Heyward
Olympian

"Early as 2014, if not earlier, I was introduced to Immunocal products as a nutrition tool to enhance and increase recovery during vital training periods and competitions. Immunocal has been part of my daily routine in preparation for championships and as a recovery tool in post competitions."

Hassan Mead
Olympian

"Immunocal is a supplement that I have taken most consistently throughout my career as a professional athlete. It is a great supplement for my immune system as well as an extra boost of protein. Staying healthy has allowed me to optimize my training, without missing any sessions or worrying hard training affecting my immune system."

Olivia Apps
Olympian

"I started using Immunocal in 2018 while suffering from fatigue and the results were amazing. It was an essential ingredient to my road to recovery and back to competition. Now I use Immunocal as a staple part of my nutrition plan around hard blocks of training. I really believe Immunocal has helped keep me fit and healthy over the last few years and has allowed me to train to my full potential."

Joanna Muir
Olympian

"The main reason I began using the product was that I found I was not recovering as well as I would like from high intensity sessions or high mileage weeks. Within a week or two of using Immunocal, I was coming into sessions feeling fully recovered. It was showing in my weekly redox tests as well that my recovery levels were noticeably higher than they had been, which is such an important aspect to my training. This improved recovery process allowed me to complete the training necessary in the lead up to my Australian record 10,000 meters in December of 2020."

Patrick Tiernan
Olympian, NCAA Champion
