

Preamble

Suicide Anonymous is a fellowship in which we share our experience, strength and hope with each other that we may solve our common problem and help others recover from suicidal preoccupation. The only qualification for membership is a desire to stop living out a pattern of suicidal ideation and behavior. Membership is open to all who want it. There are no dues or fees for SA membership; we are self-supporting through our own contributions. To counter the destructive consequences of suicidal preoccupation we draw on four major resources.

Our willingness to stop acting out in our own personal bottom line behaviors on a daily basis.

Our capacity to reach out for the supportive fellowship within SA.

Our practice of the Twelve Step program of recovery to achieve sobriety.

Our developing a relationship with a power greater than ourselves which can guide and sustain us in recovery.

We need to protect with special care the anonymity of every SA member. Additionally, we try to avoid drawing undue attention to SA. As a fellowship SA has no opinion on outside issues and seeks no controversy. SA is not affiliated with any other organizations, movements or causes.

Bottom Line – Definition

Bottom line behavior is any self-destructive, suicidal or emotional act which, once engaged in, results in worsening self destructive consequences. Each person defines his/her own bottom-line behavior. Staying away from this behavior defines your sobriety.

Examples:

- I will not attempt suicide – will call group member before acting on suicidal impulse.
- I will not “stockpile” drugs, weapons, ropes or other tools for suicide – will call group member if I feel the need to do so.
- I will not allow myself to fantasize about the relief I believe suicide will give me – will call for support.
- I will call for support if I find myself starting to make a plan.
- I will call for support if I begin to feel trapped, angry or afraid

The Problem

We came from a variety of backgrounds. Most of us had experienced a crippling depression. We felt inadequate, unworthy, alone and afraid. Our insides never matched what we saw on the outsides of others. As our feelings of helplessness and worthlessness grew, dying seemed our only relief. Suicide became our option.

At first fleeting, thoughts of suicide began to grow until, as our mental state deteriorated, they filled our days. Some felt trapped by intensely painful circumstances. We tuned out with suicidal fantasy and preoccupation.

Many of us became true addicts. Others were survivors of suicide. The problem we faced was the same. The pursuit of the perfect suicide, the trance-like effect induced by ruminating about death became the drug we used to cope with our unbearable pain. We lost the sense that suicide was taboo or forbidden and began to view it as an acceptable alternative, a personal privilege. Many times we came to the brink of action, retreating with hearts pounding, exhilarated by the illusion that we were God-like in the power we held over our own lives. Some of us retreated from that decision, hoping it was not our sole choice, only to tire and decide we could no longer endure the pain.

Many of us made an attempt or attempts to end our life, only to awaken sickened by the realization that our best efforts had failed. This increased our guilt, self-hatred, remorse, emptiness, and pain. Morning after promises to stop these fantasies of death were made to our desperate families and friends.

But suicidal fantasies killed any chance for true life. Soon the seduction of suicide again overtook us and before long we were caught up in the fantasy of death, believing this would give us the eternal peace we craved. Instead we were victimized by internal turmoil and overwhelming humiliation. Alone we were powerless and our most sincere promises to stop this deadly preoccupation had become fantasies themselves.

The Solution

For most of us the knowledge that others shared our obsession with suicidal thoughts and actions was surprising and a relief. We had struggled and made promises to stop but could not. As we attended the SA meetings and heard the stories and shared the pain of our fellows we began to understand that we were not alone. We felt safe in sharing our own pain and helplessness in our addiction. We came to believe that there was hope and to trust the guidance we were offered.

Our spiritual bankruptcy was such that we needed desperately to learn how to fill the hole left in our souls. We learned that there were steps we could take to begin to do this and that these steps would teach us how to live our lives with serenity and peace.

We became willing to surrender. We came to believe. We turned our will and our lives over to the care of God as we understood Him.

These steps initiated our emergence from the soul-sickness of the past into the promised freedom of today. One day at a time, sometimes one hour at a time, we learned to lean on the guidance of our Higher Power. Our lives are not ours but His. By working the steps we learned to live and not just endure each day.

One day we realized that the promises not only can come true, but are true for us today. We were not perfect but progressing. As our faith grew, and the bond of fellowship among us grew, we were healing. The promises were there for us.

12 Steps

1. We admitted we were powerless over suicidal preoccupation – that our lives had become unmanageable.
2. Came to believe that a power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.
3. Made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God as we understood him.
4. Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.
5. Admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.
6. Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.
7. Humbly asked him to remove our shortcomings.
8. Made a list of all persons we had harmed and became willing to make amends to them all.
9. Made direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.
10. Continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly admitted it.
11. Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood him, praying only for knowledge of his will for us and the power to carry that out.
12. Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to those who still suffer and to practice these principles in all our affairs.
