

The DNA & The Gene Keys

Most of us have grown up in a world where we were taught that DNA controls all biological life, and this is the theory that's called the Primacy of DNA, that your genetic code comes pre-packaged and decides what proteins are built in your body and how they're built, and this is what determines your actions and your behavior. This is a determinist view of life in which consciousness is seen literally as a by-product of programming. So, you think, you feel and you act the way you do because that's the way you're built, and you can't change it. And in this scenario – a rather lifeless scenario – you're nothing but a victim of your genes.

And here's the breakthrough. A new paradigm, it shows far more interaction with the environment - an open system. Where the way we see and respond to our environment sends a signal back into the cell, and before it gets to the DNA, it's reprogrammed in this cellular membrane, which is a molecular switch; and then that message returns to the DNA, which then determines our behavior and actions. And it doesn't just determine our behavior, it determines our body and our physiology.

So, what we can see here, in a nutshell, is that our attitude to life is what actually programs our DNA and shapes our lives. And this new model is completely different from the old model. It puts consciousness first. So, in other words, it's your consciousness that creates reality. And in this scenario, you get to wear designer jeans because you literally design your own destiny.

Our DNA is packed with this unknown potential, and it's within our power to activate that potential simply through our attitude.

So, let's put this into practice. Let's take a Gene Key, and, let's say, this one is in a key position in your Profile. You can see that the Shadow pattern here is Intolerance, so when you're running this pattern at a low frequency, then everything and everyone just gets in your way, gets on your nerves, and you end up pushing people away from you. It's not a comfortable situation, but when you activate this Gene Key at a high frequency (for instance, through understanding), there is a change in your attitude, you send a different message into your DNA, and it changes things inside you. Your body fills with endorphins. You relax, your heart opens more, and suddenly the Shadow of Intolerance becomes the Gift of Understanding.

You see, every Shadow contains a Gift. And if you live like this over time, then understanding becomes an even more powerful feel. It becomes a kind of deep cosmic sense of Forgiveness, what the ancients called 'a Siddhi'

Your DNA is made up of two strands of nucleotides, one strand being a perfect reflection of the other. This binary pattern is also the foundation of the Yin and Yang of the I-Ching. Your genetic code is also made up of four bases, which are arranged in groupings of three. Each of these chemical groupings relates to an amino acid and forms what is known as a codon. There are 64 of these codons in your genetic code. Similarly, in the I Ching there are only four basic permutations of Yin and Yang, which are also arranged in groups of threes known as trigrams. In the same way that the two strands of your DNA reflect each other, each trigram has a partner. Together these two symbols create the hexagram; The basis of the I Ching.

Just as there are 64 codons in DNA, so there are 64 hexagrams in the I Ching.

Our very DNA is based on this same 64-fold geometry, making us a holographic microcosm of the entire cosmos.

This precise mathematical correlation between the I Ching and the genetic code allows us to create a new holistic language that resonates within the living cells of your body.
