World Marriage Day is celebrated this year on Feb. 8 to honor husbands and wives as the foundation of the family and to pay tribute to the faithfulness, sacrifice and joy that comes with the daily life of married couples.

MISSION STATEMENT

We, the people of Sacred Heart Parish in Pahoa, Hawaii, strive to be a community of faith. We believe we are called by God to be disciples of Jesus Christ and to be good stewards within the Church and our local communities.

We are called to praise and reverence God, to support one another on our journey of faith, to work for the salvation of our souls, and to labor for peace and justice. By the grace of God and the power of the Holy Spirit, we do this by, communal liturgical worship, faith sharing, ongoing faith formation, stewardship, outreach ministries, and by selflessly giving of our time, talent, and treasure.

5th Sunday of Ordinary Time – Lectionary A (2-08-25)
Deacon Jerome Bettencourt

God has created each of us to shine like a light in the world, shattering the darkness of sin. As we learned in the scripture last Sunday, we cannot do this on our own. God is the source of the light, and we, as God’s children, reflect that to the world. Our Scriptures this Sunday explain the nature of this and teach us how to recognize it in ourselves and in others.

The passage from the prophet Isaiah explains that the light of God shines forth when we protect and care for the vulnerable in our midst. The prophet proclaims that when we feed the hungry, shelter the homeless, and clothe the naked, the light of God shines forth from us. This light draws us close to God where we will find ourselves healed sustained and protected. When we show love for one another, the light of God surrounds us and scatters the darkness of this wounded world.

In his first letter to the Corinthians, Paul describes how he came to Corinth not in power and strength and power but in fear and trembling. The apostle did not approach them with his own wisdom and power to persuade. He came to them proclaiming Christ. The message of Jesus and the sacrifice which brought the redemption of the world. Paul did not see himself as a light but chose to reflect the light of Christ. Consequently, he found himself able to demonstrate the power of God’s Holy Spirit rather than deliver persuasive word of human wisdom. This reading shows that the light shines forth from us more purely when it is done with faith and humility.

The passage from Matthew’s Gospel this Sunday, we hear the parable of the lamp stand. In this story, Jesus proclaims that we are meant to be a light in the world that should not be hidden. As the first two readings today teach us that our light shines when extend the love of God to one another in a spirit of humility, the Gospel passage proclaims that this radiance should not be hidden. Jesus tells us that our light must shine before others, that they may see our good deeds in order to inspire the world to glorify God.

The readings for our celebration this Sunday urge us to draw close to God through acts of charity and care for one another. We are taught that the power of this is found in humility and trust in God’s care for us. Finally, we are commanded not to hide our bond to God but let it shine forth in the world. We are urged today to have the generosity to love one another the way God loves us. We are encouraged to foster the humility to allow God’s power to shine forth from us rather than rely on our own talents. We are commanded to have the courage to do this openly to demonstrate God’s glory. Only in this way can we be a light to shatter the darkness of our wounded world.

Pope Leo’s February’s Intention
For children with incurable diseases

Let us pray that children suffering from incurable diseases and their families receive the necessary medical care and support, never losing strength and hope.

Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

In the first reading, Isaiah urges us in the name of the Lord to feed the hungry, shelter the homeless and clothe the naked. If we do so, he assures us, the Lord will hear and answer our cries for help in time of need.

Being Mindful

1. Don't wait to be happy. The perfect moment will never come. Make the most of the one you're in.
2. Health is everything. You'll only realize it when it starts to fade. Cherish and protect it now.
3. Time doesn't come back. Spend it with people who make your soul feel light.
4. Call your parents. One day, you'll reach for the phone... and wish you could.
5. Say "I love you" more. Don't let ego hold back what your heart wants to say.
6. Memories > Money. No one remembers the car you drove—just the laughter you shared.
7. Let go of grudges. You're not punishing them... you're only hurting yourself.
8. Stop waiting. Start that dream, take that trip, hug that person. Life doesn't pause.
9. People forget words. But they never forget how you made them feel.
10. You're never too old. To love again. To start over. To change. To grow.
