Cannot Marry in the Catholic Due to A Prior Marriage?

Pope Francis streamlined the process to petition for a declaration of nullity to make the process shorter. He also eliminated the mandatory fee. If a person is able to prove in this process that their prior martial bond was invalid for some reason, that he or she can marry in the Catholic Church or validate a current civil marriage. For assistance in petitioning, you can contact Sharen Chaves, Ruth Statler or Jim and Jan Manion at 8089658202. They will assist you as an advocate.

Sacred Heart's Living Stewardship Treasures

“See Victor Bestamente concentrate as he makes our miniature church a reality.”
From Sacred Heart Church Bulletin dated 02/17/1980. He is 42 years old in that photo. Recently featured in the Catholic Herald, just turned 87, a servant of God, a devout child of our Blessed Virgin Mary and our life long groundkeeper. We Love You Victor.

MISSION STATEMENT

We, the people of Sacred Heart Parish in Pahoa, Hawaii, strive to be a community of faith. We believe we are called by God to be disciples of Jesus Christ and to be good stewards within the Church and our local communities.

We are called to praise and reverence God, to support one another on our journey of faith, to work for the salvation of our souls, and to labor for peace and justice. By the grace of God and the power of the Holy Spirit, we do this by communal liturgical worship, faith sharing, ongoing faith formation, stewardship, outreach ministries, and by selflessly giving of our time, talent and treasure.

Sunday Connection

Luke 9:28b-36

Jesus is transfigured in the presence of Peter, John, and James

On the second Sunday, we always hear the story of Jesus' Transfiguration. The Transfiguration occurs on a mountain in the presence of just three of Jesus' disciples—Peter, James and John. These are among the first disciples that Jesus called in Luke's Gospel.

The Transfiguration occurs after Peter's confession that Jesus is the Messiah and Jesus' prediction about his Passion.

Luke's Gospel, describes Jesus at prayer, indicates that Jesus is praying as his appearance changes to bright white. The three disciples were sleeping while Jesus prayed. They will be sleeping again as Jesus prays in the Garden of Gethsemane before his Passion and death. As they awake, Peter and the disciples see Jesus Transfigured and Elijah and Moses present with Jesus. The Transfiguration was a focused moment for the disciples when they heard God speaking to them and experienced Jesus in glory. The voice from heaven speaks to the disciples saying, "Listen to him."

Elijah and Moses, both significant figures in the history of Israel, represent Jesus' continuity with the Law and the Prophets. In his Transfiguration, we see an anticipation of the glory of Jesus' Resurrection. In each of the reports of the Transfiguration, the disciples keep secret what they have seen.

We hear this story of Jesus' Transfiguration early in Lent, but we have the benefit of hindsight. In our hearing of it, we anticipate Jesus' Resurrection even as we prepare to remember Jesus' Passion and death.

During Lent, we are invited to consider our attentiveness to Jesus and to one another. In the pace and noise that often characterizes family life, how well do we listen to one another? What opportunities do we have for quiet prayer?

Second Sunday of Lent

Peter, James and John wanted to build a “booth” for Jesus and just stay on the mountain where His transfiguration took place. But the Son of God, the Chosen One, knew that He must instead keep moving toward His crucifixion, We, too, must rise from worship and do what we can to hasten the coming of the kingdom

Body, soul, and holiness are also the subjects of the Sunday readings. In the Epistle from 1 Thessalonians, St Paul reminds us that God does not call us to uncleanness (immunditia is related to the Collect's mundemur). Rather, He wills our sanctification and that involves knowing how to possess our vessels (bodies) in honor. The Gospel reading for the Second Sunday of Lent, on the other hand, is Matthew's account of the Transfiguration (17, 1-9), when Jesus is transfigured on (presumably) Mount Tabor as Peter, James, and John look on. The traditional interpretation of this event is that our Lord was preparing these three Princes of the Apostles for the brutal and demoralizing spectacle of the crucifixion by giving them a foreshadowing of His glorious resurrection. (They are the same three Apostles who will be called to witness Christ's agony in the garden). And similarly, in order to inspire the faithful during the penitential season of Lent, the Church on this Sunday anticipates the glory of Easter by calling to mind Christ's transfiguration.

But we can also think of the Transfiguration as the goal to which the Collect aspires. Jesus' glorified, transfigured body is free from bodily adversity, and His soul is either free of perverse thoughts or is constantly being cleansed of them. [2] Romano Guardini once defined a beautiful work of art as one in which "its inner essence and significance find perfect expression in its existence." The brilliant clothes and face of Jesus Christ during the Transfiguration are the perfect expression of His inner beauty, a beauty we adore, strive to imitate, and God willing, will some day resemble.

Sacred Heart's Living Stewardship Treasures

As we enter the holy seasons of Lent and Easter, it is time to reflect on how we are living our lives as disciples of Christ. During the past 7 years, answering the call of Bishop Silva and of the U.S. Conference of Catholic bishops, we have worked to develop our awareness of what discipleship truly means through our parish and vicariate Stewardship programs. We are asked to devote some of our time, talent and treasure to the work of the Lord. This involves participating in prayer, service, and support to our church and wider communities.

Therefore during Lent and Easter seasons we will be presenting some of our parish Living Stewardship Treasures as examples of how we might all consider living out our Christian commitment to love and serve one another.

On June 14, Pentecost Sunday, the birthday of the Church, we will once again hold our annual Commitment Sunday, which was postponed for the past two years. Then you will have a chance to step forward to become a more active Christian and live more fully your discipleship to the Lord.

St. Patrick's Day
Belle Plain Herald

Saint Patrick is commemorated each March 17 as a man who championed Christianity over paganism in Ireland. St. Patrick was so influential in Ireland that he was proclaimed a saint by popular appeal (as there was no official process for canonization in place until the 12th century). He would later become the patron saint of Ireland.

St. Patrick demonstrated the meaning of the Holy Trinity - the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit - by showing the public that the shamrock is one leaf with three parts, just as Christians believe God is one entity with three persons.
