

March 15, 2022

Greetings,

As Mayor of the City of Orlando, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the 2022 National Health IT Collaborative for the Underserved Summit.

We applaud the outstanding work and leadership of Luis Belen in bringing to Orlando this summit that will convene national luminaries and thought leaders from across government, industry, research, education, and not-for-profit sectors, all committed to achieving health equity at this premier annual event.

Orlando is recognized worldwide as a hub for national and international conferences that unite professionals from all industries to enrich their careers with workshops and networking. This Summit brings together health executives to interact with innovators and other professionals.

Our city is home to some of the nation's premier locations for medical care, research institutions, and life science companies. They have transformed Orlando into a global destination for health care, and Lake Nona Medical City is a testament to that.

Located adjacent to the Orlando International Airport, Lake Nona Medical City is anchored by the Orlando Veterans Affairs Medical Center, GuideWell Innovation Center, UCF Lake Nona Medical Center, UCF Health Sciences Campus, Nemours Children's Hospital and more. We are honored that our city has been selected to host this conference and we invite you to discover our Medical City and the rest of our vibrant and diverse community, where businesses and culture thrive.

I hope you enjoy your time in Orlando and that you visit us again soon.

Sincerely,

Buddy Dyer
Mayor
