

I am not robot!

Escape plan the extractors parents guide.

Bēgšanas plāns 3 (2019) Add to guide Jump to: Severity? 1 0 5 19 We were unable to submit your evaluation. Please try again later. Breslin shoots a man with a gun and blood spatters on the wall behind him. He then grabs a metal rod and jams it through a man's head.

He then grabs a metal rod and jams it through a man's head. Very graphic. DeRosa and another man get into a very brutal fight that ultimately ends when DeRosa smashes the man's head against a pipe. DeRosa moves down a hallway killing many attackers with a large gun, setting them on fire or blowing them backward.

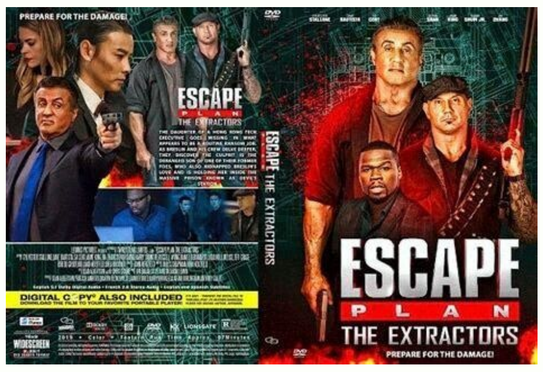

Breslin shoots a man with a gun and blood spatters on the wall behind him. He then grabs a metal rod and jams it through a man's head. Very graphic. DeRosa and another man get into a very brutal fight that ultimately ends when DeRosa smashes the man's head against a pipe. DeRosa moves down a hallway killing many attackers with a large gun, setting them on fire or blowing them backward. Several blood spatters are seen. One man's charred corpse is seen with a gaping, smoldering hole in his chest. Two men get into a brutal fight near the end, punching and kicking each other. One of them bloodies the other's face and mouth, and then breaks his arm and both of his legs, finally kicking his head and smashing against the floor (blood briefly spurts). A man fights and beats several men in a hangar in the beginning, but he's pistol-whipped, and several other people are shot at the same time (bloody hole seen on one man, and blood spatters seen on others). A man is punched in the stomach a few times and thrown into a prison cell. A man is based, and then shot offscreen and blood spatters on the ground, and more blood smears on the ground as his corpse is dragged away. A man attacks another man in a sewer and savagely stabs him with. knife many times, killing him (lots of blood seen), and the gory wound is briefly seen. A man brutally fights several people in an office, beating them. Several are hit in the stomach and face, a few are slammed into objects, and one is kicked through a glass pane. He then runs out, dispatching another man during the process. Two men run through a mine field as many explosions occur around them, and an explosion knocks them both down, throwing one into a tree. A man sweeps the legs of two men in a hallway. A man drops from the ceiling of a prison cell and lands on a man, punching him and knocking him to. He then moves outside and kicks another man, knocking him out as well. The Parents Guide items below may give away important plot points. In a room, a man is shot and killed and blood spatters on a wall, and a woman's throat is slit. Pretty graphic. Two men engage in a shootout near the end, and one of them is grazed by a bullet and some blood is seen. He then attacks the other man and they engage in a brutal fight with one of them viscerally beating the other before slitting his throat with a knife and throwing him over a balcony. His bloody neck wound is seen and blood is seen on the ground when he lands. Two main characters are killed in one scene; one is shot and the other's throat is slit. The throat-slitting is shown to a third main character via a video chat and he is is shown to be very upset. The whole scene may be disturbing/upsetting. Escape Plan: The Extractors was directed and co-written by John Herzfeld (2 Days in the Valley, Casualties of Love: The Long Island Lolita Story) and Miles Chapman (Escape Plan, Escape Plan 2: Hades) and stars Max Zhang (Shaolin vs. Evil Dead: Ultimate Power, The Brink) Harry Shum Jr. (Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon: Sword of Destiny, Broadcast Signal Intrusion) Sylvester Stallone, (Grudge Match, The Expendables), Devon Sawa (Black Friday, Death Rider in the House of Vampires) Malese Jow (The Vampire Diaries, The Shannara Chronicles), We also get Russell Wong (Contract to Kill, Lost in the Pacific), Jaime King (Barely Lethal, Odean’s Eight), 50 Cent (Power, Spy), Lydia Hull (Extraction, Survive the Night), and Dave Bautista (Final Score, Kickboxer: Vengeance). It follows Ray and a partner as they try to break his girlfriend and the daughter of a Chinese tech mogul out of a prison. The Plot: While stronger than the second movie, Escape Plan: The Extractors still lacks the drive of the first, despite having some solid motivations and a couple of surprises. Daya (Jow) and bodyguard Bao (Shum Jr.) are searching for a place to set up in America on behalf of her father, Wu (Wong), a businessman. After acquiring space in Ohio, Daya is kidnapped by Lester Clark Jr. (Sawa) (son of D’Onofrio’s character in the first) who leaves a flash drive for Ray (Stallone) and puts her in a Latvian prison. Shen (Zhang) takes a flash drive (different from the one Bao has?) to Ray and his team: Abigail (King), Hush (50), and Jules (Hull). Bao somehow gets there at the exact same time, showing his drive, which has the prison in the background. Ray gets into contact with Trent (Bautista), who organizes the way there. Abigail is also kidnapped, to add even more motivation I assume; although it feels unnecessary. Ray, Bao, Shen, Jules and Trent go to Latvia and assault the prison, working to kill the ruthless (and I mean RUTHLESS) son. The Characters: Again, the characters in Escape Plan: The Extractors are better than the previous installment but unequal to the ones in the first movie, although there are issues with the utilization of some of the characters. Bao is the new head bodyguard for Wu’s company, making him a chaperone for Daya. Since he was beaten by Clark’s men, he’s motivated to make up for his failure. It’s simple, but it works. Shen fares better, having a personal gripe with Wu and his company; more specifically the lack of ethics as Wu has been putting his tech into the prisons from the previous movies. Ray is the same as last time, lacking his mental processing power from the first movie, becoming more of a straight-up bruiser instead of a mastermind; and gets sidelined at that. Clark Jr. is the most interesting due to his sheer rage directed at everyone even tangentially involved in his father’s death. Again, simple, but his unflinching violence, impulsiveness, and willingness to deny the truth to serve his own angle is thoroughly entertaining and occasionally surprising. Performances are iffy overall, but Stallone and particularly Sawa are magnetic. The Thrills: In Escape Plan: The Extractors thrills become the primary focus again, fortunately following in the footsteps of the first instead of “Hades”. Unfortunately, the thrills are mostly predictable, with the movie lagging for long periods of time to reiterate the motivations that the main characters abide by. A majority of the runtime is spent watching Ray, Shen, and Bao get prepared; with a few fights and expository conversations spliced throughout. Some small questions are raised, mostly surrounding the location of the prison and the specifics of the Zhang corporation’s involvement in the current events, but there’s never anything as inventive as in the first movie, which leads to this outing in an unnecessary trilogy stranded with little intrigue. Scenes with Clark Jr. are much better, though. His unpredictability is in stark contrast to the rest of the movie’s convoluted linearity, and as such he becomes the main attraction. Everything in between Sawa’s scenes is forgettable. The Technics: Technically Escape Plan: The Extractors” is definitely under-funded, with heavy reliance on an empty and drab warehouse as one of the main locations; as well as an empty and dishevelled prison as the main location. Since Chapman and Herzfeld’s script is only related to the first Escape Plan in the loosest of senses, it doesn’t get the feeling right. Violence is used to mask the distant relationship with the first, and it works just enough to maintain investment, but doesn’t come close to resembling what the title says. Pacing is mixed here too, with a dismal first half that slogs its way through the setup of new characters, locations, and motivations in a partial effort to undo (or at least forget) the events of “Hades”. Thankfully, once the first half is over, the flaws are glazed over with some moderately engaging action as a consolation. Escape Plan: The Extractors is the third and (hopefully) final installment in a trilogy that should’ve remained a one-off is far from the thinking man’s blockbuster of the impetus but does satisfy just enough violent urges to justify a one-time walkthrough of an all-new prison. Escape Plan: The Extractors is available from Lionsgate on Digital, Blu-ray and DVD. Signed in Email New Where is the password field?
Trouble logging in? By continuing, you agree to the Privacy Policy and the Terms and Policies, and to receive email from Rotten Tomatoes. First name (Required) Last name (Required) Create my account By creating an account, you agree to the Privacy Policy and the Terms and Policies, and to receive email from Rotten Tomatoes and to receive email from the Fandango Media Brands. First name (Required) Last name (Required) Create my account By creating an account, you agree to the Privacy Policy and the Terms and Policies , and to receive email from Rotten Tomatoes. HELP TRY AGAIN CANCEL > Upcoming Movies and TV shows Trivia & Rotten Tomatoes Podcast Media News + More Sign me up No thanks By clicking "Sign Me Up," you are agreeing to receive occasional emails and communications from Fandango Media (Fandango, Vudu, and Rotten Tomatoes) and consenting to Fandango's Privacy Policy and Terms and Policies. Please allow 10 business days for your account to reflect your preferences. > Upcoming Movies and TV shows Trivia & Rotten Tomatoes Podcast Media News + More Sign me up No thanks OK, got it! Skip to Main Content View All Movies Movies in theaters Movies at home More What to WatchNew Top movies Trailers Certified fresh picks Tv shows New TV Tonight View All Most Popular TV on RT View All More Certified fresh pick Shop New News Columns Guides View All Hubs View All RT News View All Showtimes Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 TRAILER 2:34 Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 2019 12 Reviews 250+ Ratings ALL CRITICS TOP CRITICS VERIFIED AUDIENCE ALL AUDIENCE Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 TRAILER 2:34 There are no featured reviews for Escape Plan: The Extractors because the movie has not released yet (). See Movies in Theaters See Details Film directed by John Herzfeld Escape Plan: The ExtractorsOfficial DVD/Blu-ray coverDirected byJohn HerzfeldScreenplay by Miles Chapman John Herzfeld Produced by Robbie Brenner Mark Canton Randall Emmett George Furla Zack Schiller Starring Sylvester Stallone Max Zhang Dave Bautista Devon Sawa Jaime King Malese Jow Harry Shum, Jr. Russell Wong Lydia Hull Curtis Jackson CinematographyJacques JouffretEdited bySean AlbertsonMusic byVictor ReyesProductioncompanies Summit Entertainment Grindstone Entertainment Group Emmett/Furla/Oasis Films Diamond Films Productions Leomus Pictures The Fyzz INGENI0US MoviePass Films Highland Film Group Distributed byLionsgate Home EntertainmentRelease date July 2, 2019 (2019-07-02) (United States) Running time96 minutesCountryUnited StatesLanguagesEnglish ChineseBudget$3.6 million[1]Box office$1.8 million[2] Escape Plan: The Extractors is a 2019 American direct-to-video prison action thriller film directed and co-written by John Herzfeld, and a sequel to Escape Plan (2013) and Escape Plan 2: Hades (2018). It is the third and final installment in the Escape Plan film series. The film features Sylvester Stallone, 50 Cent, Dave Bautista and Jaime King reprising their roles from the previous films with Max Zhang, Harry Shum, Jr., Malese Jow and Devon Sawa joining the cast. The film was released straight-to-DVD in the United States on July 2, 2019, but received theatrical releases in such countries as Russia, Italy, Australia, Turkey, Egypt and Portugal.[3] Escape Plan: The Extractors received negative reviews, though they were an improvement over the previous film's reception. With a smaller production budget of $3.6 million, it grossed $1.8 million theatrically in some countries and was successful[1] in the home market, having domestically grossed $2.9 million.[2][3] Plot After touring factory locations in Mansfield, Ohio for her father's company, Hong Kong-based Zhang Innovations, Daya Zhang and her entourage are abducted by mercenaries despite her bodyguard and head of security Bao Yung attempting to fight them off. The kidnappers leave Yung unconscious with a USB flash drive addressed to security expert Ray Breslin. In Los Angeles, Breslin crosses paths with Shen Lo, a former Zhang Innovations bodyguard. Both men are after Daya's father Wu Zhang, whose company is responsible for building covert prisons around the world. They meet with Breslin's associates – his girlfriend Abigail, Hush, and Jules – when Yung arrives with the flash drive. It contains a video message from Lester Clark, Jr., Daya's kidnapper and the son of Breslin's former partner; in business with Zhang, Lester, Sr. betrayed Breslin and was sent to his death. Breslin reaches out to Trent DeRosa, an associate, and they trace the video to a prison compound in Latvia known as “Devil's Station”. Abigail is also abducted, and Wu, having arrived in Mansfield to meet with police, receives a video call from Lester. Seeking revenge for his father's downfall, Lester demands a $700 million ransom, and executes a hostage. Breslin, DeRosa, Jules, Shen, and Yung depart for Latvia to rescue Daya and Abigail. When Lester threatens the prisoners and kills a hostage, Wong, Zhang Innovations' technology analyst, agrees to give him access to Zhang's technology. Hush surveils the prison by drone, and its thermal imaging camera reveals Lester has created his own black site. Breslin infiltrates the compound through the sewers while Shen and Yung approach the outer walls. Alerted to their presence, Lester leaves Daya atop the wall as bait. Realizing Lester is leading them to a trap, Shen tries to hold position and wait for Breslin, but Yung charges recklessly ahead, and he and Shen are subdued by land mines and captured. Lester reveals the flash drive was a tracker that led his men to Abigail, and deduces that Shen and Daya are in love. He shoots Yung and taunts Breslin by video call before slashing Abigail's throat.
DeRosa arrives, killing the guards with incendiary rounds. In the ensuing chaos, Shen kills Lester's remaining henchman Silva in a hand-to-hand fight, while rescuing Wong. Trapped in a shootout with Lester in the upper cells, Breslin is wounded and disarmed, but manages to overpower Lester before slitting his throat and throwing him off the walkway, avenging Abigail. Returning to Mansfield, Daya coldly greets her father, now aware of the true nature of his business, before leaving with Shen. DeRosa comforts Breslin over Abigail's death, urging him to forgive himself, while at the same time persuading Breslin to join him in South America; claiming that Breslin owes him one and Breslin decides to retire. During the ending credits, Yung is revealed to have survived but heavily wounded. He is seen crawling and stumbling through the sewers and proceeds to escape by himself. Breslin wearing security overalls, carrying a semi automatic weapon, drops through a central shaft from the ceiling into the tunnel sewers, just moments after Yung had already been seen arriving into that same tunnel from a side shaft, seemingly stalking Yung. Cast Sylvester Stallone as Ray Breslin, founder of Breslin Security Max Zhang as Shen Lo, a former security guard for Zhang Innovations and Daya's lover Dave Bautista as Trent DeRosa, an associate of Breslin's Devon Sawa as Lester Clark Jr., the son of Lester Clark, who betrays Breslin in the first Escape Plan film Jaime King as Abigail Ross, vice president of Breslin Security and Breslin's girlfriend Malese Jow as Daya Zhang, the daughter of Wu Zhang and Shen's lover who is taken captive by Lester Clark Jr. Harry Shum Jr. as Bao Yung, the head of security for Zhang Innovations Russell Wong as Wu Zhang, the head of Zhang Innovations and Daya's father Lydia Hull as Jules, a staff member of Breslin Security Curtis Jackson as Hush, a computer hacker at Breslin Security and Breslin's friend Daniel Bernhardt as Silva, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Jeff Chase as Frankie, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Shea Buckner as FBI Agent Richland Tyler Jon Olson as Boone Rob de Groot as Ralf, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Holland Herzfeld as Sonny, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Boyang Yang as Wong, one of Daya's coworkers who is also taken captive by Lester Clark Jr. Sherri Robertson as Captain Corbin Rich Miller as Detective Davis Tony Demil as Axel Vincent D'Onofrio also appears as Lester Clark in archive footage from Escape Plan. Production Development was first announced in April 2017, when Stallone said while filming Escape Plan 2: Hades that a third installment in this franchise was on its way. In August 2017, casting was underway for extras and speaking roles. The producers aimed for actors with MMA experience, as there would be potential fight scenes with Stallone and Bautista.[4] Filming began on September 18, 2017, and wrapped on October 13, 2017.[5] The film was originally titled Escape Plan 3: Devil's Station, but by October 2018 the title had been changed to Escape Plan: The Extractors.[6] Reception Critical response On Rotten Tomatoes the film has an approval rating of 25% based on 12 reviews, with an average rating of 4.3/10.[7] Noel Murray of the Los Angeles Times said that "while this film is better than its predecessor" it lacks the spark of the original and "is, ultimately, just another VOD actioner."[8] Brian Orndorf of Blu-ray.com gave it B− grade and wrote: "Herzfeld provides pleasingly mean energy, stuffing the effort with violence and anger, even managing to pull off something that's eluded the series up to this point: genuine surprise."[9] References ^ a b "Sylvester Stallone Is 'So Proud' Of Escape Plan 3 Success, Since It Was Made In Just 17 Days". CinemaBlend. July 14, 2019. Retrieved November 17, 2019. ^ a b "Escape Plan: The Extractors". Box Office Mojo. Retrieved April 21, 2023. ^ a b "Escape Plan: The Extractors". The Numbers. Nash Information Services.

Several blood spatters are seen. One man's charred corpse is seen with a gaping, smoldering hole in his chest. Two men get into a brutal fight near the end, punching and kicking each other. One of them bloodies the other's face and mouth, and then breaks his arm and both of his legs, finally kicking his head and smashing against the floor (blood briefly spurts). A man fights and beats several men in a hangar in the beginning, but he's pistol-whipped, and several other people are shot at the same time (bloody hole seen on one man, and blood spatters seen on others). A man is punched in the stomach a few times and thrown into a prison cell. A man is based, and then shot offscreen and blood spatters on the ground, and more blood smears on the ground as his corpse is dragged away. A man attacks another man in a sewer and savagely stabs him with. knife many times, killing him (lots of blood seen), and the gory wound is briefly seen. A man brutally fights several people in an office, beating them. Several are hit in the stomach and face, a few are slammed into objects, and one is kicked through a glass pane. He then runs out, dispatching another man during the process.
Two men run through a mine field as many explosions occur around them, and an explosion knocks them both down, throwing one into a tree.
A man sweeps the legs of two men in a hallway. A man drops from the ceiling of a prison cell and lands on a man, punching him and knocking him to.

DeRosa and another man get into a very brutal fight that ultimately ends when DeRosa smashes the man's head against a pipe. DeRosa moves down a hallway killing many attackers with a large gun, setting them on fire or blowing them backward. Several blood spatters are seen. One man's charred corpse is seen with a gaping, smoldering hole in his chest. Two men get into a brutal fight near the end, punching and kicking each other. One of them bloodies the other's face and mouth, and then breaks his arm and both of his legs, finally kicking his head and smashing against the floor (blood briefly spurts). A man fights and beats several men in a hangar in the beginning, but he's pistol-whipped, and several other people are shot at the same time (bloody hole seen on one man, and blood spatters seen on others). A man is punched in the stomach a few times and thrown into a prison cell. A man is based, and then shot offscreen and blood spatters on the ground, and more blood smears on the ground as his corpse is dragged away. A man attacks another man in a sewer and savagely stabs him with. knife many times, killing him (lots of blood seen), and the gory wound is briefly seen. A man brutally fights several people in an office, beating them.

Several blood spatters are seen. One man's charred corpse is seen with a gaping, smoldering hole in his chest. Two men get into a brutal fight near the end, punching and kicking each other.
One of them bloodies the other's face and mouth, and then breaks his arm and both of his legs, finally kicking his head and smashing against the floor (blood briefly spurts). A man fights and beats several men in a hangar in the beginning, but he's pistol-whipped, and several other people are shot at the same time (bloody hole seen on one man, and blood spatters seen on others). A man is punched in the stomach a few times and thrown into a prison cell. A man is based, and then shot offscreen and blood spatters on the ground, and more blood smears on the ground as his corpse is dragged away. A man attacks another man in a sewer and savagely stabs him with. knife many times, killing him (lots of blood seen), and the gory wound is briefly seen. A man brutally fights several people in an office, beating them. Several are hit in the stomach and face, a few are slammed into objects, and one is kicked through a glass pane. He then runs out, dispatching another man during the process. Two men run through a mine field as many explosions occur around them, and an explosion knocks them both down, throwing one into a tree. A man sweeps the legs of two men in a hallway. A man drops from the ceiling of a prison cell and lands on a man, punching him and knocking him to. He then moves outside and kicks another man, knocking him out as well. The Parents Guide items below may give away important plot points. In a room, a man is shot and killed and blood spatters on a wall, and a woman's throat is slit.
Pretty graphic. Two men engage in a shootout near the end, and one of them is grazed by a bullet and some blood is seen. He then attacks the other man and they engage in a brutal fight with one of them viscerally beating the other before slitting his throat with a knife and throwing him over a balcony. His bloody neck wound is seen and blood is seen on the ground when he lands. Two main characters are killed in one scene; one is shot and the other's throat is slit.
The throat-slitting is shown to a third main character via a video chat and he is is shown to be very upset. The whole scene may be disturbing/upsetting. Escape Plan: The Extractors was directed and co-written by John Herzfeld (2 Days in the Valley, Casualties of Love: The Long Island Lolita Story) and Miles Chapman (Escape Plan, Escape Plan 2: Hades) and stars Max Zhang (Shaolin vs. Evil Dead: Ultimate Power, The Brink) Harry Shum Jr. (Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon: Sword of Destiny, Broadcast Signal Intrusion) Sylvester Stallone, (Grudge Match, The Expendables), Devon Sawa (Black Friday, Death Rider in the House of Vampires) Malese Jow (The Vampire Diaries, The Shannara Chronicles), We also get Russell Wong (Contract to Kill, Lost in the Pacific), Jaime King (Barely Lethal, Odean's Eight), 50 Cent (Power, Spy), Lydia Hull (Extraction, Survive the Night), and Dave Bautista (Final Score, Kickboxer: Vengeance). It follows Ray and a partner as they try to break his girlfriend and the daughter of a Chinese tech mogul out of a prison.
The Plot: While stronger than the second movie, Escape Plan: The Extractors still lacks the drive of the first, despite having some solid motivations and a couple of surprises. Daya (Jow) and bodyguard Bao (Shum Jr.) are searching for a place to set up in America on behalf of her father, Wu (Wong), a businessman. After acquiring space in Ohio, Daya is kidnapped by Lester Clark Jr. (Sawa) (son of D'Onofrio's character in the first) who leaves a flash drive for Ray (Stallone) and puts her in a Latvian prison. Shen (Zhang) takes a flash drive (different from the one Bao has?) to Ray and his team: Abigail (King), Hush (50), and Jules (Hull). Bao somehow gets there at the exact same time, showing his drive, which has the prison in the background.
Ray gets into contact with Trent (Bautista), who organizes the way there. Abigail is also kidnapped, to add even more motivation I assume; although it feels unnecessary. Ray, Bao, Shen, Jules and Trent go to Latvia and assault the prison, working to kill the ruthless (and I mean RUTHLESS) son. The Characters: Again, the characters in Escape Plan: The Extractors are better than the previous installment but unequal to the ones in the first movie, although there are issues with the utilization of some of the characters. Bao is the new head bodyguard for Wu's company, making him a chaperone for Daya. Since he was beaten by Clark's men, he's motivated to make up for his failure. It's simple, but it works. Shen fares better, having a personal gripe with Wu and his company; more specifically the lack of ethics as Wu has been putting his tech into the prisons from the previous movies. Ray is the same as last time, lacking his mental processing power from the first movie, becoming more of a straight-up bruiser instead of a mastermind; and gets sidelined at that.
Clark Jr. is the most interesting due to his sheer rage directed at everyone even tangentially involved in his father's death. Again, simple, but his unflinching violence, impulsiveness, and willingness to deny the truth to serve his own angle is thoroughly entertaining and occasionally surprising. Performances are iffy overall, but Stallone and particularly Sawa are magnetic. The Thrills: In Escape Plan: The Extractors thrills become the primary focus again, fortunately following in the footsteps of the first instead of "Hades". Unfortunately, the thrills are mostly predictable, with the movie lagging for long periods of time to reiterate the motivations that the main characters abide by. A majority of the runtime is spent watching Ray, Shen, and Bao get prepared; with a few fights and expository conversations spliced throughout.
Some small questions are raised, mostly surrounding the location of the prison and the specifics of the Zhang corporation's involvement in the current events, but there's never anything as inventive as in the first movie, which leads to this outing in an unnecessary trilogy stranded with little intrigue.
Scenes with Clark Jr. are much better, though. His unpredictability is in stark contrast to the rest of the movie's convoluted linearity, and as such he becomes the main attraction. Everything in between Sawa's scenes is forgettable. The Technics: Technically Escape Plan: The Extractors" is definitely under-funded, with heavy reliance on an empty and drab warehouse as one of the main locations; as well as an empty and dishevelled prison as the main location.
Since Chapman and Herzfeld's script is only related to the first Escape Plan in the loosest of senses, it doesn't get the feeling right. Violence is used to mask the distant relationship with the first, and it works just enough to maintain investment, but doesn't come close to resembling what the title says. Pacing is mixed here too, with a dismal first half that slogs its way through the setup of new characters, locations, and motivations in a partial effort to undo (or at least forget) the events of "Hades". Thankfully, once the first half is over, the flaws are glazed over with some moderately engaging action as a consolation.
Escape Plan: The Extractors is the third and (hopefully) final installment in a trilogy that should've remained a one-off is far from the thinking man's blockbuster of the impetus but does satisfy just enough violent urges to justify a one-time walkthrough of an all-new prison. Escape Plan: The Extractors is available from Lionsgate on Digital, Blu-ray and DVD. Signed in Email New Where is the password field? Trouble logging in? By continuing, you agree to the Privacy Policy and the Terms and Policies, and to receive email from Rotten Tomatoes.
First name (Required) Last name (Required) Create my account By creating an account, you agree to the Privacy Policy and the Terms and Policies, and to receive email from Rotten Tomatoes and to receive email from the Fandango Media Brands.
First name (Required) Last name (Required) Create my account By creating an account, you agree to the Privacy Policy and the Terms and Policies , and to receive email from Rotten Tomatoes.
HELP TRY AGAIN CANCEL > Upcoming Movies and TV shows Trivia & Rotten Tomatoes Podcast Media News + More Sign me up No thanks By clicking "Sign Me Up," you are agreeing to receive occasional emails and communications from Fandango Media (Fandango, Vudu, and Rotten Tomatoes) and consenting to Fandango's Privacy Policy and Terms and Policies. Please allow 10 business days for your account to reflect your preferences. > Upcoming Movies and TV shows Trivia & Rotten Tomatoes Podcast Media News + More Sign me up No thanks OK, got it! Skip to Main Content View All Movies Movies in theaters Movies at home More What to WatchNew Top movies Trailers Certified fresh picks Tv shows New TV Tonight View All Most Popular TV on RT View All More Certified fresh pick Shop New News Columns Guides View All Hubs View All RT News View All Showtimes Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 TRAILER 2:34 Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 2019 12 Reviews 250+ Ratings ALL CRITICS TOP CRITICS VERIFIED AUDIENCE ALL AUDIENCE Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 Escape Plan: The Extractors: Trailer 1 TRAILER 2:34 There are no featured reviews for Escape Plan: The Extractors because the movie has not released yet (). See Movies in Theaters See Details Film directed by John Herzfeld Escape Plan: The ExtractorsOfficial DVD/Blu-ray coverDirected byJohn HerzfeldScreenplay by Miles Chapman John Herzfeld Produced by Robbie Brenner Mark Canton Randall Emmett George Furla Zack Schiller Starring Sylvester Stallone Max Zhang Dave Bautista Devon Sawa Jaime King Malese Jow Harry Shum, Jr. Russell Wong Lydia Hull Curtis Jackson CinematographyJacques JouffretEdited bySean AlbertsonMusic byVictor ReyesProductioncompanies Summit Entertainment Grindstone Entertainment Group Emmett/Furla/Oasis Films Diamond Films Productions Leomus Pictures The Fyzz INGENI0US MoviePass Films Highland Film Group Distributed byLionsgate Home EntertainmentRelease date July 2, 2019 (2019-07-02) (United States) Running time96 minutesCountryUnited StatesLanguagesEnglish ChineseBudget$3.6 million[1]Box office$1.8 million[2] Escape Plan: The Extractors is a 2019 American direct-to-video prison action thriller film directed and co-written by John Herzfeld, and a sequel to Escape Plan (2013) and Escape Plan 2: Hades (2018). It is the third and final installment in the Escape Plan film series. The film features Sylvester Stallone, 50 Cent, Dave Bautista and Jaime King reprising their roles from the previous films with Max Zhang, Harry Shum, Jr., Malese Jow and Devon Sawa joining the cast. The film was released straight-to-DVD in the United States on July 2, 2019, but received theatrical releases in such countries as Russia, Italy, Australia, Turkey, Egypt and Portugal.[3] Escape Plan: The Extractors received negative reviews, though they were an improvement over the previous film's reception.
With a smaller production budget of $3.6 million, it grossed $1.8 million theatrically in some countries and was successful[1] in the home market, having domestically grossed $2.9 million.[2][3] Plot After touring factory locations in Mansfield, Ohio for her father's company, Hong Kong-based Zhang Innovations, Daya Zhang and her entourage are abducted by mercenaries despite her bodyguard and head of security Bao Yung attempting to fight them off. The kidnappers leave Yung unconscious with a USB flash drive addressed to security expert Ray Breslin. In Los Angeles, Breslin crosses paths with Shen Lo, a former Zhang Innovations bodyguard.
Both men are after Daya's father Wu Zhang, whose company is responsible for building covert prisons around the world.
They meet with Breslin's associates – his girlfriend Abigail, Hush, and Jules – when Yung arrives with the flash drive. It contains a video message from Lester Clark, Jr., Daya's kidnapper and the son of Breslin's former partner; in business with Zhang, Lester, Sr. betrayed Breslin and was sent to his death. Breslin reaches out to Trent DeRosa, an associate, and they trace the video to a prison compound in Latvia known as "Devil's Station".
Abigail is also abducted, and Wu, having arrived in Mansfield to meet with police, receives a video call from Lester. Seeking revenge for his father's downfall, Lester demands a $700 million ransom, and executes a hostage. Breslin, DeRosa, Jules, Shen, and Yung depart for Latvia to rescue Daya and Abigail. When Lester threatens the prisoners and kills a hostage, Wong, Zhang Innovations' technology analyst, agrees to give him access to Zhang's technology. Hush surveils the prison by drone, and its thermal imaging camera reveals Lester has created his own black site. Breslin infiltrates the compound through the sewers while Shen and Yung approach the outer walls.
Alerted to their presence, Lester leaves Daya atop the wall as bait. Realizing Lester is leading them to a trap, Shen tries to hold position and wait for Breslin, but Yung charges recklessly ahead, and he and Shen are subdued by land mines and captured.
Lester reveals the flash drive was a tracker that led his men to Abigail, and deduces that Shen and Daya are in love.
He shoots Yung and taunts Breslin by video call before slashing Abigail's throat. Breslin proceeds through the compound, killing several of Lester's henchmen. Shen steals a guard's stun gun as he is taken to the cells, using it to start a fire; he melts his restraints and subdues the guards in the smoke.
He frees Daya, but they are confronted by more guards. DeRosa arrives, killing the guards with incendiary rounds. In the ensuing chaos, Shen kills Lester's remaining henchman Silva in a hand-to-hand fight, while rescuing Wong. Trapped in a shootout with Lester in the upper cells, Breslin is wounded and disarmed, but manages to overpower Lester before slitting his throat and throwing him off the walkway, avenging Abigail. Returning to Mansfield, Daya coldly greets her father, now aware of the true nature of his business, before leaving with Shen. DeRosa comforts Breslin over Abigail's death, urging him to forgive himself, while at the same time persuading Breslin to join him in South America; claiming that Breslin owes him one and Breslin decides to retire. During the ending credits, Yung is revealed to have survived but heavily wounded. He is seen crawling and stumbling through the sewers and proceeds to escape by himself. Breslin wearing security overalls, carrying a semi automatic weapon, drops through a central shaft from the ceiling into the tunnel sewers, just moments after Yung had already been seen arriving into that same tunnel from a side shaft, seemingly stalking Yung. Cast Sylvester Stallone as Ray Breslin, founder of Breslin Security Max Zhang as Shen Lo, a former security guard for Zhang Innovations and Daya's lover Dave Bautista as Trent DeRosa, an associate of Breslin's Devon Sawa as Lester Clark Jr., the son of Lester Clark, who betrays Breslin in the first Escape Plan film Jaime King as Abigail Ross, vice president of Breslin Security and Breslin's girlfriend Malese Jow as Daya Zhang, the daughter of Wu Zhang and Shen's lover who is taken captive by Lester Clark Jr. Harry Shum Jr. as Bao Yung, the head of security for Zhang Innovations Russell Wong as Wu Zhang, the head of Zhang Innovations and Daya's father Lydia Hull as Jules, a staff member of Breslin Security Curtis Jackson as Hush, a computer hacker at Breslin Security and Breslin's friend Daniel Bernhardt as Silva, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Jeff Chase as Frankie, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Shea Buckner as FBI Agent Richland Tyler Jon Olson as Boone Rob de Groot as Ralf, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Holland Herzfeld as Sonny, one of Lester Jr's henchmen Boyang Yang as Wong, one of Daya's coworkers who is also taken captive by Lester Clark Jr. Sherri Robertson as Captain Corbin Rich Miller as Detective Davis Tony Demil as Axel Vincent D'Onofrio also appears as Lester Clark in archive footage from Escape Plan.
Production Development was first announced in April 2017, when Stallone said while filming Escape Plan 2: Hades that a third installment in this franchise was on its way. In August 2017, casting was underway for extras and speaking roles. The producers aimed for actors with MMA experience, as there would be potential fight scenes with Stallone and Bautista.[4] Filming began on September 18, 2017, and wrapped on October 13, 2017.[5] The film was originally titled Escape Plan 3: Devil's Station, but by October 2018 the title had been changed to Escape Plan: The Extractors.[6] Reception Critical response On Rotten Tomatoes the film has an approval rating of 25% based on 12 reviews, with an average rating of 4.3/10.[7] Noel Murray of the Los Angeles Times said that "while this film is better than its predecessor" it lacks the spark of the original and "is, ultimately, just another VOD actioner."[8] Brian Orndorf of Blu-ray.com gave it B− grade and wrote: "Herzfeld provides pleasingly mean energy, stuffing the effort with violence and anger, even managing to pull off something that's eluded the series up to this point: genuine surprise."[9] References ^ a b "Sylvester Stallone Is 'So Proud' Of Escape Plan 3 Success, Since It Was Made In Just 17 Days". CinemaBlend. July 14, 2019. Retrieved November 17, 2019. ^ a b "Escape Plan: The Extractors". Box Office Mojo. Retrieved April 21, 2023.
^ a b "Escape Plan: The Extractors". The Numbers. Nash Information Services. ^ Emily Mills (August 17, 2017). "Hollywood calling: 'Escape Plan 3' seeks extras". Mansfield News Journal. Gannett. ^ "Sylvester Stallone Shares Videos from the Escape Plan: The Extractors Set". ComingSoon.net. September 19, 2017. ^ "Escape Plan the Extractors". Lionsgate.com. Retrieved June 11, 2023. ^ "Escape Plan: The Extractors (2019)". Rotten Tomatoes. Fandango. Retrieved October 10, 2021. ^ Noel Murray (July 3, 2019). "Reviews: Sylvester Stallone and Dave Bautista in 'Escape Plan: The Extractors'; and more". Los Angeles Times. ^ "Escape Plan: The Extractors (2019)". blu-ray.com. External links Official website Escape Plan: The Extractors Red Band Trailer on YouTube Escape Plan: The Extractors at IMDb Escape Plan: The Extractors at AllMovie Retrieved from "