

WOW! A SKETCH SHOW? UNTITLED SKETCH SHOW* WHAT AN ORIGINAL & TOTALLY NOT STUPID IDEA!

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jargon Media Farm Announces 8 Episode Digital Series: "Untitled Sketch Show*"

KEENE, N.H. — Jargon Media Farm LLC is excited to announce the production of "Untitled Sketch Show*," a new 8 episode digital series slated for streaming in 2026. Spearheaded by James Michael Farley, this project brings together a collaborative team of rising comedic talent from across New York and New England.

Grounded in Farley's training with the Upright Citizens Brigade (UCB), the series promises a collection of high energy sketches that blend theatrical absurdity with sharp digital storytelling. The 8 episode arc is designed to showcase a diverse range of comedic voices while maintaining a cohesive, character driven narrative.

"We are taking the discipline of improv and applying it to a scripted digital format," says Farley, founder of Jargon Media Farm. "With 8 episodes, we have the space to get weird and really show off what this collaborative team of NY and New England comedians can do. If my math is right, this should make for 3 hours of gripping TV. It is going to be a fun ride."
