Personal planets – Sun, Moon, Mercury,

Venus, and Mars: In your chart they represent:

Sun – How a person is, how one experiences life and expresses individuality

Moon – How one reacts based on a subconscious predisposition

Mercury – How one thinks and communicates

Venus – How one expresses affections, feels appreciated and gives of self

Mars – How one asserts self and expresses desires

Social planets – Jupiter and Saturn:

These planets bridge personal and generational planets. They represent our urge to expand and withdraw.

Jupiter – How one seeks to grow, improve oneself and experience trust in life

Saturn – How one seeks to establish and preserve self through effort

Generational Planets – Uranus, Neptune &

Pluto: These planets represent sources of change with "transformative" energies that shape generational attitudes so in an individual chart, their sign placement is less important than their house placement.

Uranus – Is the planet of change, transformation, the unexpected and modern science

Neptune – Is the planet of intuition, illusion, glamour, mystery, deception and the deeper meaning of life

Pluto – Is the planet of regenerative forces, the beginnings and ends of phases in life
