Guidelines for Creating a Personalized Plate Combination

Use any combination of letters, numbers and the special characters dash, space, and ampersand.

1. The number of characters allowed on a license plate varies depending on the plate design. Including the International Symbol of Access reduces the number of characters you can display on your plate.
2. To create a space between characters, leave the applicable box empty.
3. Some plates, such as military and university plates, display a logo. The logo position is stationary and cannot be moved.
4. Personalized character combinations for license plates registered to a vehicle must be unique. Therefore, please provide multiple choices.

Guidelines for Issuing a Personalized License Plate

The Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) will not approve an application if contains any combination of characters that in any way carries a connotation which may reasonably be seen by a person viewing the license plate as:

- Profane, obscene, or vulgar in nature
- Sexually explicit or graphic
- Excretory-related
- Used to describe intimate body parts or genitals
- Used to describe drugs, drug culture, or drug use
- Used to condone or encourage violence
- Used to describe illegal activities or illegal substances

In addition, Virginia Code § 46.2-726 prohibits DMV from issuing to certain applicants any personalized character combination that can be read, interpreted, or understood to be a reference to children.

Please note: DMV reserves the right to recall and cancel any personalized license plate determined not in compliance with these guidelines.

Guidelines for Maximum Characters on a License Plate in Development

A plate can be designed with or without a logo. Here is how to determine the maximum number of characters allowed when requesting personalization or transferring existing plate number.

Logo Position	Maximum Characters	Note: Any plate displaying an International Symbol of Access (ISA) will decrease the number of characters by one.
Right	6 characters
Left	6 characters
No logo, with or without background graphics	7½ characters
Center - No longer authorized	N/A

New Special Interest License Plate Development Information

Direct all application and refund inquiries to the License Plate Sponsor during the preorder process. The entire special license plate process could take up to two years depending on the direction of the sponsor. It generally takes approximately nine months to develop a new plate once the prepaid applications are collected and submitted with payment to DMV.

Processing Preorder Application

When the personalization requested is not available, a standard production number will be issued and the personalization fee will be refunded directly to the customer. All customer refunds issued will be mailed to the address shown on the DMV customer record, not the application. As a courtesy, the vehicle registration will be renewed if it is within two months of expiration and DMV will bill for payment. Also, applicants with a multiyear vehicle registration will receive a bill for the additional year(s). The new license plates, vehicles registration, and decals will be mailed to all preorder applicants prior to the new plate's statewide availability.
