Studying music helps develop essential transferable job skills: critical thinking, collaboration, presentation, responsibility

