SPONSORS REVIEWS:

“WE RECENTLY PAID $2,500 TO BE AT A 2 DAY INDUSTRY EXPO (FRIDAY & SATURDAY) AND RECEIVED 55 POTENTIAL CLIENT INQUIRIES OVER THOSE 2 DAYS. AT THE LAST CCA CARER HIGH TEA WE SPOKE TO 122 POTENTIAL CLIENTS AND DID THIS WITHIN 5 1/2 HOURS ON A WEEK-DAY WITHOUT COMPETITION.”

CCA Carer High Tea

In December 2019 we held the inaugural unpaid Carers social day out in Brisbane. We called it the CCA Carer High Tea. It was a sell-out success with the majority of the tickets being funded or subsidised by various sponsors including the Brisbane City Council. We had 180 unpaid Carers and 20 service providers in the Grand Ballroom at Victoria Park. We had $70,000 in prizes donated with every Carer receiving a prize.

With a panel of speakers, the day gave Carers not only Carer specific knowledge and skills they were also pampered, acknowledged and honoured for all that they do.

Today, the CCA Carer High Tea has turned into Australia's largest event for Carers. Every event sells out and we are now in multiple locations – Brisbane, Gold Coast, Toowoomba, the Sunshine Coast and Ipswich. Here is a video of a recent event. <https://youtu.be/7MrDCgyXCrs>

CCA conducted a survey, with the 180 Carers that attended the CCA Carer High Tea, and the results were staggering.

1. 96% of respondents said that the CCA Carers High Tea made them feel more socially included.
2. 97% said the CCA Carers High Tea made them more valued as a Carer.
3. 81% said that the CCA Carer High Tea made them feel happier about their future.
4. 97% of Carers said that they would attend the CCA Carer High Tea again next year.

The Burning Issue

“Social isolation is now emerging as a greater potential threat to public health than obesity is.” Hugh Mackay 2019

There are 2.7 million Carers in Australia who care for a loved one at home. Carers are people who provide unpaid care and support to family members and friends who have a disability, mental illness, chronic condition, terminal illness, an alcohol or other drug issue or who are frail aged.

For some they are primary carers. A primary carer is the person who takes most of the responsibility for providing care for the person requiring support. This involves being ‘on-call’ 24 hours, 7 days per week, 365 days a year and most primary carers never EVER get a day off. Carers may assist with the tasks of daily living: feeding, bathing, dressing, toileting, or administering medications.

There are 856,000 primary carers in Australia and many of them never get a break.

A national survey of carers health and wellbeing revealed: Carers have the lowest levels of wellbeing of any Australian group. Over half reported some level of depression, with one third found to be severely or extremely depressed. More than one third of carers are experiencing severe or extreme stress. Caring does not get easier with time. Caring compounds the effect of any other factor that leads to reduced wellbeing. Any level of consistent, daily, immediate caring responsibility is sufficient to severely damage wellbeing. Wellbeing decreases as the number of hours spent caring increases. (Australian Unity Wellbeing Index Survey 17.1)

The sad reality is that the need for carers is actually increasing according to Deloitte Access Economics calculations.

In the next ten years, the demand for informal care is set to significantly outstrip its supply. As Chart ii shows, the demand for informal carers (represented by the number of people with a profound or severe disability over 65 who are not living in cared accommodation) is growing at a faster rate than the supply of informal carers, with the 'carer ratio'² falling substantially from 2015 to 2025. Note that this ratio does not capture growth in disability and the number of people with psycho-social conditions who require the support of carers.

In order to look after the health and well-being of primary carers, we want to help solve their social isolation and give them an opportunity to connect with other Carers. Their job never stops. We want to give as many primary Carers in Brisbane, Sunshine Coast, Gold Coast and Toowoomba a day out to acknowledge and honour them. We need your help to make this happen.
