BIO

I'm passionate about working with clients to develop practical solutions to their infrastructure planning and design problems. I excel at identifying gaps in processes, and my diverse background makes me adept at facilitating multi-disciplinary teams. My experience ranges from masterplanning for the U.S. Department of Defense to project management for the Ministry of Education's PPP portfolio. I contract to firms in New Zealand and Hawai'i from my home-base in beautiful Whangārei. Kia ora and Aloha.
