FATHER'S CORNER:

The biggest communication problem is that we do not listen in order to understand. We listen to reply.

WHY DO CATHOLICS DO THIS?

The more you understand why Catholics do certain things, the more you can appreciate the beauty of our faith, just as the more you study Scripture, the more you will understand God's merciful plan of Salvation.

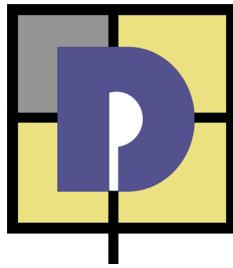

The Sign of the Cross: Catholics' Sign of the Cross signifies two things at once: Our redemption through the death of Jesus on the cross and the Trinity as the central truth of Christianity. When we make the sign, we trace the cross on ourselves, and we recite the holy invocation: In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. We affirm what Christ came down to do for us: To redeem us by His voluntary death; and we affirm His chief revelation to us: That God is simultaneously one and three.

Genuflecting: When they pass the Blessed Sacrament, Catholics go down on one knee to honor the Real Presence. This posture of subservience makes perfect sense, since Christ is really present in the tabernacle.... Once you accept the actual presence of Christ in the tabernacle, genuflection makes perfect sense. Leaving out the genuflection would be a bit of an effrontery, like refusing to curtsey to the Queen.

Standing, Sitting, Kneeling: At Mass, we stand when the Gospel is read, out of respect for the very words of Jesus, and we sit to listen attentively to the other Scriptural readings. At the Consecration, we kneel [because] kneeling [is] the posture of adoration. What we are doing is praying with our bodies, not just with our minds, and praying that way makes perfect sense for a creature composed of both body and soul. The postures of Mass can reflect your state of mind, or it can help put you in the right one. By focusing on the attitude that the various postures reflect, your body becomes a tool to help move your heart, mind, and soul closer in relationship with Jesus.

Incense: Incense symbolizes the pleasant odor of Christian virtue and our prayers rising to God....The ancients, both Jews and Gentiles, used it, and incense accompanied prayers in the Temple. (Luke 1:10) It was also one of the gifts given to The Christ Child by The Magi. (Matt. 2:11) The Book of Revelation [reveals that in heaven]: "the smoke of the incense along with the prayers of the holy ones went up before God from the hands of an angel." (Rev. 8:4) If there's incense in heaven, why not in churches here below?

Bells: Our church towers commonly have bells, often consisting of large sets, known as carillons, that can be rung from a keyboard. Small handbells are rung during Mass. Bells have been used for centuries to call people to Mass and to sanctify certain times of the day—for instance, it once was the custom, in Catholic countries, to ring church bells at Noon, so workers in the fields could pause and recite the Angelus. During Mass, bells are rung at the Consecration, partly to focus our attention, partly to echo the Hosannahs of the heavenly choirs.
