Welcome to the 30th Annual Resource Breakfast

Building not just wealth — but security.

We're excited to have you join us for a special morning dedicated to one of the most important topics facing investors today — identity theft and cybersecurity.

At Carver Financial Services, our mission has always been to help you build a secure financial future. In today's digital world, that means going beyond managing wealth — it means understanding how to protect it.

During this exclusive session, you'll gain valuable insights into how criminals target personal and financial data, the evolving tactics used in cyber fraud, and what you can do to stay a step ahead.

You'll also hear how Raymond James and Carver Financial work together to safeguard client information with advanced security systems, continuous monitoring, and dedicated teams focused on your protection.

Together, we'll explore:

- The latest identity theft and cybersecurity threats
- How to recognize and respond to suspicious activity
- Tools and best practices to protect your data
- Real-world steps you can take right now to strengthen your defenses
