About Us

Specialist Shrink Wrap Protection. Wherever You Need It.

Southwest Shrinkwrap delivers professional shrink wrap solutions across the UK, with worldwide project availability. With over 10 years of experience, we provide high-quality protection for vessels, equipment, transport and construction projects.

Protection Designed Around Your Project

Every project is different. We provide tailored shrink wrap solutions using specialist equipment and premium materials, from large yacht encapsulation over scaffold to commercial and domestic applications.

Director - Danny Phillips

With over 10 years of experience in the shrink wrapping industry, Danny Phillips brings specialist knowledge, practical expertise and a commitment to quality to Southwest Shrinkwrap. As Director, Danny is dedicated to delivering reliable, professional shrink wrap solutions tailored to each client's requirements, from large yacht encapsulation to commercial and domestic projects.

Built Around Your Requirements

Before work begins, we take the time to understand the practical requirements of every project, including access, dimensions, working areas, programme requirements and the level of protection needed.

This detailed approach ensures that each shrink wrap solution works alongside the project, rather than simply covering the asset. By considering the wider working environment and project objectives, we can create protection that supports both safety and efficiency.

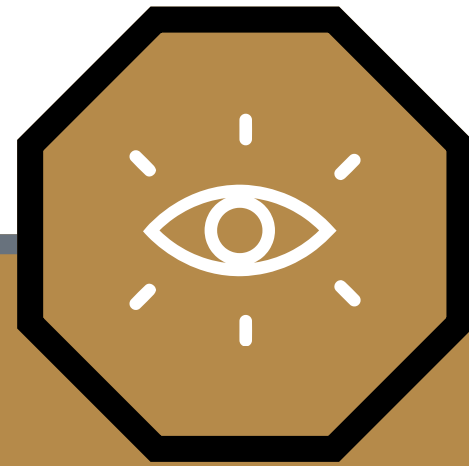

Whether you require short-term protection, a controlled working environment or a large-scale specialist enclosure, every project is individually assessed and carefully planned to deliver a solution tailored to your specific needs.

From local South West projects to international marine and specialist works, Southwest Shrinkwrap provides reliable protection wherever your project takes you. We work closely with clients to plan mobilisation, access and project requirements, ensuring every job is delivered efficiently and tailored to your needs. Get in touch to discuss your next project.

Specialist Yacht Protection

Large yacht projects require a carefully planned approach to protection, access and the working environment. Shrink wrap can be installed over scaffolding to create a fully enclosed, temporary structure around the vessel, providing protection during yard periods, refit and maintenance programmes. The enclosure is designed around the vessel and scaffolding structure, with access points and openings incorporated where required. This creates a more controlled working environment, helping to reduce exposure to changing weather conditions and airborne contaminants while supporting a safer and more efficient working process.

Key Benefits

Shrinkwrap protection provides reliable, cost-effective protection for buildings, transport, and yachts during storage, transportation, maintenance, or yard periods. It shields valuable assets from rain, wind, dust, and dirt, helping to prevent damage, reduce cleaning requirements, and protect ongoing work. For yachts, it offers added protection to interiors, exteriors, and sensitive equipment, helping maintain their condition throughout the yard period.

In addition to its protective benefits, shrinkwrap looks professional, clean, and well-presented. Its durable, secure finish helps create an organised working environment while demonstrating a commitment to quality and asset care. Suitable for a wide range of applications, shrinkwrap is a practical solution that helps save time, reduce maintenance costs, and provide peace of mind.

Refit & Maintenance Programmes

During refit, maintenance and yard periods, protecting the working area is essential to keeping projects moving. Shrink wrap encapsulation provides a temporary enclosure around the scaffolding, helping to separate the work area from changing outdoor conditions. The result is a cleaner, more controlled environment designed to support the specific requirements of each marine project.
