As the world strives to get back to normal after a tumultuous Covid impacted, racially charged, financially challenged 2+ years & more... some things just will not return to previous norms

Black church, unlike many businesses, is in a unique position to both Inspire and empower in a way that facilitates growth and acceleration among its congregants, connected businesses, and community collaborations for commerce.

Now more than ever there's a great need for black enriched, enlightened, and educated talent. As behaviors, people, and businesses pivot; in person attendance numbers decrease; hybrid options are more in demand; and the term DEI is a hot topic for big business...

...Black churches represent a new way to shift and build transformative community at the same time by deploying black excellence to every segment of the market by virtue of its organic system for training and developing executives & entrepreneurs

Let EICC Network assist your ministry to transition by mentoring & training your leadership to start a licensed faith driven chamber of commerce & generate revenue and market recognition.
