

Message from PAA President, Pat Denney

A wonderful restart for PAA was the annual picnic held Thursday, August 12th at Fawn Lake. We had 20 there (even with temperatures in the 90's) to snack, make plans and share our latest art projects.

Ann Mecham brought Betty Chappell, who also attends the art group at the Senior Center on Monday afternoons, which includes members Belle Brex and Amy Wagner sharing their talents. Glad you could join us, Betty!

Irina Greenvik, visiting from Alaska, brought samples of her watercolor works, some of which have recently been selected to be shown in a special art event in Slovakia where she will be joining artists from all over the world! Congratulations, Irina!

Guest Brian Buntain, brought two pieces of his silver jewelry to show us. He also does works in wood and might be willing to share his methods during a future meeting. This just in! Brian is now a member of PAA! Welcome, Brian!

Another guest at the picnic was Linda Bath, a long time friend of member Kathy Magnusson. They are now working together on oil paintings. But wait—what's this late breaking news? Linda Bath has also joined PAA! Welcome, Linda!

Kathy Jacobson will be working with Renee Olson, our Web Master to continue improving our club's web page, making it easier to access and better to show off pictures of our work, as well as, up-to-date information on what's happening in our club. In addition, Renee will also be our Newsletter Editor. The website and newsletter may have changed some, but both will always require that members send news, art tips and tricks, items for sale and information on shows we might attend to Renee. You can send this information directly to her at malkuri@comcast.net.

We had so much fun catching up with one another, that business was cut short...but we will have our next meeting Thursday, September 9th at 1 PM at the Civic Center. Do come, bring a friend, bring a piece of art to share and join us. Our Secretary (Becky Schuyten) was on a camping trip and will resume doing minutes next month.
