

Paid COVID-19 Impact Research Internship Opening

The Central South Dakota Enhancement District seeks a motivated individual for the position of COVID-19 Impact Research Intern. The incumbent is responsible for performing research and outreach tasks to assist the Central South Dakota Enhancement District complete its COVID-19 Recovery and Resiliency Plan. This project requires working with District staff and a project contractor to help develop a regional scale assessment and recovery plan of COVID-19 impacts on local communities, businesses, and local governments. The successful applicant will assist the District in compiling data and research for inclusion in the Plan, assist in development of recovery recommendations and facilitation of local outreach efforts, and performing related work as required. Applicants shall at minimum be working towards a BA or BS degree in community and regional planning, public administration, political science, or related disciplines or any equivalent combination of education, experience and training that provides requisite knowledge, skills and abilities to satisfactorily accomplish position requirements. This is a full-time, temporary hourly-paid position. Salary DOQ up to $20/hr. Mail cover letter and resume/list references to Central South Dakota Enhancement District, c/o Executive Director David Reiss, PO Box 220, Pierre, SD 57501 or email same to dreiss@csded.org. Application materials due March 15th, 2021. CSDED is an Equal Opportunity Employer.