

SURPRISE! 'Yahusha, the Hebrew Messiah never called himself a Christian. Yahusha never addressed His followers as Christians. The apostles never addressed themselves as Christians to each other. "If the Hebrew Messiah never used this adjective to describe himself, so how are we to identify ourselves then"? The disciples called themselves "brethren", "the elect", "apostles", "servants" "believers", "followers", "the faithful", and saints", "Israelites". We can also identify ourselves a "bondservant" of Messiah.
