I relate to this text in many ways because in day to day life I seem to act as if I'm a completely different person which is exhausting. The text makes a person wonder if they are being themselves or choosing to become someone different. We as humans end up doing this so that we are perceived in a manner that compliments and fulfills our need for flattery.

An installation into your mattress that allows you to select anyone in the entire world to go into their dream, with permission beforehand, and you can experience that dream together while you're asleep through the night, or whenever. Just stick the patch to your head and dream away.

What are you feeling?

The chains on my brain indicate it being blocked not able to use its full potential which is caused by people doubting me. The "NO DREAMS" tape over my mouth means society put it on me restraining me from expressing myself.

Prompt; Imagine if while we slept we had the option of visiting people's dreams. With this multiple people could experience a dream together.

Video; The video expresses the ideas of imagination. He talks about imagination being able to be the future or the past as an escape from the present. Imagination allows us to express creativity which otherwise wouldn't be possible without imagination.

There's this one episode from spongebob that forever will stay in my head. It's about spongebob and his friends performing at the super bowl (bubble bowl). Before they can perform they have to practice so squidward is the one leading the band. And throughout the process of practicing squidward feels hopeless because all the rehearsals have gone horribly awry. But once it comes time to perform at the (bubble bowl) squidward is surprised at the fact that things are going well and squilliam aka squidwards enemy has a heart attack because of how good the band was. This is memorable because not only was it my favorite episode but it has an empowering message. That message is never doubt yourself because you could end up surprise yourself, but a little bit of hope goes a long way.

The power of observation is eminent. When we closely observe in art we notice things that otherwise would go unnoticed. When conducting an observation you must ask questions and observe the answers to result in a thorough outcome of said observation. The act of deficient observation can cause one to deceive a piece that in actuality deserves a substantial amount of appreciation.

I am investigating Vincent van Gogh's the starry night. When I carefully examine the piece I notice the strokes of the brush that display the carefully placed textures. The color schemes aid in the perception of the painting. The color scheme sets a mood for the individual, the mood presented is a moderate one. The colors all compliment each other in order for the main part of the painting is quickly recognized.

STORYTELLING IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE IT IS THE GATEWAY TO UNDERSTANDING SOMEONE OR SOMETHING. WITH STORYTELLING WE ACQUIRE PERSPECTIVE. FOR EXAMPLE IF A STORY IS SHARED IN A FIRST PERSON PERSPECTIVE THE READER IS THEN TO AN EXTENT POSITIONED IN THE SHOES OF THE STORYTELLER. BUT SAY THE STORY IS IN A THIRD PERSON PERSPECTIVE THEN THE READER CAN READ ABOUT ANOTHER'S EXPERIENCES AS THE STORY PROGRESSES. IN CONCLUSION STORYTELLING IS AN EYE OPENER BECAUSE WITHOUT IT REGARDLESS OF HOW MISUNDERSTANDING THE WORLD CAN BE, STORYTELLING SERVES AS A POTENTIAL AID IN ATTAINING AN UNDERSTANDING.

RAP 41

I think this art is important and especially worthy because it implies the progression of history. The sculpture is an experimentation on the artist's perception of a form of life. The Sphinx revokes the social norms by expressing reality and how creativity can alter said reality.

Rap 42

ART AND CRAFT ARE DIFFERENT BUT THE CORRESPONDANCE THEY SHARE WITH ONE ANOTHER IS MUCH MORE SUBSTANTIAL. THE REASON THEY ARE SIMILAR IS THEY ARE BOTH FORMS OF EXPRESSION. IN MOST CASES CRAFT AND ART ARE PERCIEVED IN A SIMILAR MANNER, THIS IS BECAUSE ART IS PERCIEVED AS ART AND CRAFT CAN ALSO FALL UNDER THE SAME CATEGORY. THE REASON THEY MAY BE INDIVIDUALLY CATEGORIZED IS BECAUSE WHILE ART CAN BE CONSIDERED ALMOST ANYTHING, CRAFT IS USUALLY DEFINED AS A MAN MADE ENTITY. BUT AS STATED TO BE SIMILAR, IF BOTH ARE PLACED SIDE BY SIDE EVERYONE CAN AGREE THAT THEY HAVE PERCIEVED BOTH AN ART AND A CRAFT AS "ART."

RAP 43

ART IS NOT A WASTE OF TIME. THIS IS BECAUSE ART EXPLORES DIFFERENT ELEMENTS, SUCH AS CREATIVITY, AND PERCEPTION. WHEN YOU EXPLORE ART FOR YOURSELF YOU REALIZE JUST HOW MUCH IT RELATES TO OTHER FACTORS IN LIFE. WHEN YOU PERCEIVE AN ART PIECE YOU MAY VIEW IT AS REALISTIC, INSPIRING, AND MEANINGFUL. VERSUS SOMEONE ELSE MAY VIEW THE PIECE AS DULL, AND IMPRACTICLE. IT'S ALL ABOUT ONE'S OWN IDEOLOGY AND ALLOWING THE ART OF PERCEPTION TO RESULT IN BREATHTAKING IDEAS.
