

Dear Donors Choose

I appreciate the donation of the black journal books to our art class. This little book opened up a world of experiences and art styles for me. As an art assignment assigned by my teacher, I honestly didn't think I would fill out every page with artwork, but I did. In the process, I learned more about myself, more about the culture I was surrounded with, and the technical skills in art. This little notebook became the daily aspect of my life.

This notebook helped me sharpen my art skills. I'm into the anime art style, and I remember my first drawing of a character was terrible. If you wanted to know, the character was named Tadano from "Komi Can't Communicate." As the months went on, my drawings actually started to get better and better. Apart from the characters, I made random sketches or patterns because it made me realize the quality of the art is up to how I perceive it. In my eyes, these drawings were masterpieces. I hope that after finishing this little notebook, I will continue drawing more and more and make something out of it.

Sincerely,

A.G. (NAHS student)
