WHY ONLY 2,100,000 ATMC?

The decision to release only 2.1 million ATMC tokens is a calculated move to harness the benefits of scarcity, prevent inflation, encourage community participation, and establish a foundation of trust and predictability. These factors together contribute to the potential for ATMC's value appreciation and the overall success and stability of the Aitoma ecosystem.

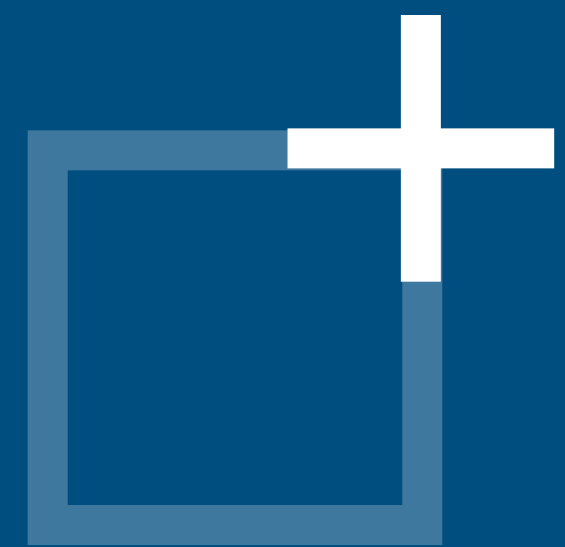

LEASE STAKING

EMPOWER THE NETWORK,
EMPOWER YOURSELF

Aitoma's "Lease Staking" model represents a significant innovation in the blockchain industry, offering a novel approach to engaging with and benefiting from decentralized networks. This model not only enhances the staking process but also introduces several advantages that could have far-reaching implications for the broader blockchain ecosystem.

Innovative Approach to Staking:

Traditional staking mechanisms require token holders to lock up their assets to support network operations, such as transaction validation, in return for rewards. Aitoma's Lease Staking model innovates on this concept by allowing token holders to "lease" their tokens to validators or node operators without transferring ownership. This leasing mechanism ensures that the tokens remain under the control of the original holder while still contributing to the network's security and efficiency.
