A preacher was contacted by the local funeral director to hold a graveside service for someone with no family or friends.

The preacher started out early for the cemetery but quickly got lost, making several wrong turns.

He arrived half an hour late, and the hearse was nowhere in sight.

Seeing some workmen eating lunch, the preacher went to the open grave nearby and found the casket already in the ground.

Taking out his prayer book he read the service. As he was returning to his car, he overheard one workman asking another, "Should we tell him it's a septic tank?"

Deadly Heat

Went outside today to check the mail. Didn't have my shoes on so I was walking very lightly. That is until my feet started burning. Then I hot-footed it in the house!

Do you know that when asphalt heats up in the sun it can get well over 100 degrees? Do you know that the dog that you are walking every day does not have shoes?

Point is the poor dog, without shoes, is suffering the heat. Anyone who has tried walking outside in the sunshine without shoes knows how hot the sidewalk or gravel feels on your poor unprotected feet.

This being said, it is imperative that you walk your dog either in the morning before it gets hot or in the evening when the sun goes down. Walking them at other times makes you feel good, enjoying the warm sun, but the dog has no shoes on!

There are shoes that you can buy for your dog and I have seen some actually wearing them, but most dogs don't like them and would rather just wait for their walk.

We have a temperature gauge right here on this page that shows you if the temperature is this then the asphalt is this hot. Read through it, It is very interesting.

Just give your dog a break and don't make him walk out there and suffer through the heat, just because you want to take a walk, and the timing is good for you. Better if the timing is good for your dog!

ONCE UPON A TIME IN THE MAIL...

In the early 20th century, it was legal to mail children in the United States. This policy stemmed from the Postal Service's regulations that allowed packages weighing up to 50 pounds to be sent through the mail.

At the time, children who met the weight limit were not exempt from this policy, and many parents took advantage of it to send their children on trips to visit relatives and friends.

However, this practice was considered unsafe and inhumane, and it didn't take long for lawmakers to take action.

In 1914, after the news of the Ohio couple who had sent their baby through the mail made national headlines, the Postmaster General issued a statement prohibiting the mailing of live animals and other hazardous materials, but it did not specifically mention children.

It wasn't until 1920 that Congress passed a law that made it illegal to send people through the mail, including children.

Recently I sat in a restaurant watching two elderly men go at it. It quickly grew heated and one of them declared, "I'M SO MAD, I'M TAKING YOU OFF MY PALLBEARER LIST!"

The Child Labor Law of 1916 prohibited the mailing of anyone considered "nonmailable matter," which included humans, animals, and perishable goods.

The law was amended in 1921 to specifically ban the mailing of children.

LIFE HACKS

- Pringles boxes make a super place to store spaghetti with a lid for freshness.
- To keep your cords neat, place them inside empty toilet paper tubes or paper towel tube. They can be cut down to size. Write which cord is in the tube.
- To make your bathroom smell good, try putting some essential oil on the inside of the toilet paper tube.
- If you have pets, before vacuuming, use a squeegee first to loosen the pet hair from the carpet.
- Putting masking or painter's tape on the wall before hammering in a nail. This keeps the plaster in the walls from cracking and flaking.
- Stick hooks on both side of your garbage can so the bag can be securely hooked in place. No more bags pulling loose and going inside the can in a pile.

• To keep your flowers standing up in a vase, place plastic straws around the stem of the flower so that they don't droop.

• Simple way to clean your floor vents. Dust them off and put in the dishwasher.

THE BEAUTIFUL BENGAL CAT

Bengal cats are descended from domestic cats and Asian leopard cats. Bengals boast loving, affectionate personalities. They are habitual hunters and they will camp out near a window as a favorite pastime looking for prey. They are also climbers, so cannot be trusted around treasured breakables. They were first recognized as a breed in 1983. This colorful cat is skyrocketing in popularity thanks to its spotted coat and sociable nature. Although they are similar in weight to an average house cat, the Bengal appears larger thanks to its generous muscle mass and long legs. Mature Bengals typically weigh Between 8 to 15 pounds. Although Bengal cats may look fierce, they are perfectly friendly. They are no doubt the new “it” cat among celebrities and pet parents because of their boldly patterned coat. If you’re looking for a karaoke partner, Bengals are born “singers”. They are quick to vocalize when hungry, happy, or ready to play. If you have very little time to be home with your cat, Bengals may not be good for you since they do require a lot of attention.

While fishing off the beach in the Caribbean, a lawyer struck up a conversation with an engineer.

The lawyer explained that his house had burnt down and he had lost everything. Happily though, the insurance company had paid out a sizable sum for the damage.

"That's a coincidence," remarked the engineer. "My house and all my belongings were destroyed in a flood, and my insurance company also coughed up for everything."

The lawyer looked confused. "How do you start a flood?" he asked.

By the time the morning service was ready to begin, only one man was in the church.

The minister said to him, "It looks like everyone has slept in. Do you want to go home or should I preach the sermon?"

The man replied, "When I go to feed the chickens and only one comes, I still feed it."

The minister took that as a yes, mounted the pulpit, and delivered an hour long sermon. At the end, he asked the man what he thought.

The man answered, "When I go to feed the chickens and only one comes, I don't give it the whole bucket."

It might seem like an odd idea - going south to cool off. But Bisbee, Arizona is a mile high in the scenic Mule Mountains and it's much cooler down here. We're generally 10-20 degrees cooler than Arizona's urban centers. Just a scenic drive away from Tucson and Phoenix, and only ½ hour from Sierra Vista, Bisbee offers the best year-round climate you'll find anywhere, as well as a surprising variety of food options, parks, tours, and music.

An old cowboy walks into a barbershop for a shave and a haircut.

He tells the barber he can't get all his whiskers off because his cheeks are wrinkled from age. The barber gets a little wooden ball from a cup on the shelf and tells the cowboy to put it inside his cheek to spread out the skin.

When he's finished, the old cowboy tells the barber that it was the cleanest shave he's had in years, but he wanted to know what would have happened if he had accidentally swallowed that little ball.

The barber replied, "Just bring it back in a couple of days like everybody else does."

"You have 4 cavities!" said the naval dentist, looking at my X-rays. He grabbed both sides of my mouth full of novocaine. He then looked at the X-rays and then my mouth. Then back at the X ray, and again at my mouth. Then he sat down.

"I have good news and bad news." He said. "The bad news is these are not your X-rays. The good news is, you're cured!"

I never called you stupid. But when I asked you how you spelled Mississippi, and you asked if I was talking about the river or the state, it just kind of caught me off guard.
