First off, thank you
everyone for your concern.
I'm ok, just a little shaken
up, but I'll be ok.

For those of you who
don't know what happened,
I was robbed yesterday
morning at the gas station.
I gathered myself together,
my hands were still shaking,
I was dizzy and I honestly think I was in shock. My money was gone.

I called the police, they were fantastic and called for medical assistance as my blood pressure was through the roof. The police asked me if I knew who did it, and I told them "Yes,
it was pump
number 2."

Love 'Em, Don't Leave 'Em!

IT IS AGAINST THE LAW to leave your pets in your vehicle as it begins to get warmer and hotter.

There are many people who you may think are busy bodies, and want them out of your business, I am sure. The thing is, there are a multitude of people more interested in an animal or a child dying of heat exhaustion than there are people that care what you think. This said, even if you are only going in a store for a minute, someone will call 911 on you.

Let's consider 'going in a store for a minute'. It never has and it will never happen that you can go in a store and be out in 60 seconds. If you can, you are one in a million. I know it seems short as you quickly walked to the door, run to the product you need to pick up, get in line to check out, and then walk back to the car. If you actually looked at your watch when you stepped out of the car and checked it again when you got back, you would see that you were gone a few minutes not a few seconds.

Now rolling the windows down will make you feel better, but it does not matter because that car with Arizona sun coming in the window is going to become an oven very quickly. If you do not think this is true, I dare you to go out and set in your car in the sun with no air conditioning with the windows only half down for 10 minutes. You would be soaked with sweat. Keep in mind this animal is wearing a fur coat which is a lot thicker than a T-shirt, which is what most of us are wearing.

This being said, it does not take someone with a PhD to see that leaving the animal or the child in the car is not only uncomfortable, but can be deadly. Every year both animals and children die in cars when they are left for just a couple minutes. So, it is against the law to leave your animal in your vehicle, and you will get a ticket for this infraction.

Even better than that, there is someone who will see you as you walk to the store and they will see your dog in the car, and they will call 911 and the police will respond.

All animal shelters are still in need of food and accessories, coats, collars, leashes & blankets.

Please decide to do something today to help our shelter animals. Open your heart to help a hungry animal today.

I know people like to take their pets with them. I am in the belief that the summer is too hot to carry your animals with you when you go to town. That is unless you're going to be in the car with them the whole time. And also remember to take water with you because that dog, in his fur coat, will get thirsty pretty quick. Just like you

Pet Safety Tips

- Try to avoid prolonged exposure to hot asphalt, sand or similar surfaces which can burn your pet's paws.
- Walk your pet on the grass if possible.
- Avoid strenuous exercise on extremely hot days. Take walks in the early mornings or evenings, when the sun's heat is less intense.

if you do not love your dog enough to let him come inside with the air conditioner, don't make him suffer in the sun which is brutal if you have no shelter.

Let me mention that the metal truck bed is soaking up so much heat from the sun that you could fry an egg on it. So between the extremely hot floor he's standing on, he's also standing in the sun, with his fur coat, suffering and unable to tell you. Yes I know he wanted to go with you when you left today, but dogs don't know how uncomfortable a trip with mom or dad can be on a hot day. Which brings me to walking your dog while the sun is shining hotly. If you cannot take your shoes off and walk on the asphalt, the dogs feet can get burnt, not to mention how uncomfortable it has got to be. That being said, I hope you and your dog enjoy a comfortable summer.

Nine months pregnant

with twins, I bellied up to the supermarket meat bin in search of the perfect roast.

The butcher appeared from the back and asked, "May I help you?"

"No thank you," I said. "I'm just looking."

A minute later he returned, "Can I help you?"

"No, I'm just looking," I repeated.

A few minutes later, he appeared once again, and asked the same annoying question.

"I'm just looking!" I said testily.

"In that case, ma'am," he said politely, "would you please step back a bit? Your stomach is pressing our service bell."

HEARTY CHICKEN NOODLE SOUP (SLOW COOKER)

2 boneless skinless chicken breasts
3 cups peeled sliced carrots, around 1 pound
3 cups of chopped celery
Two medium zucchini, cut into a medium dice
One can low-sodium chicken broth
6 cups of water / 3 bay leaves/
2 teaspoons Italian spice blend
1 teaspoon garlic powder, half a teaspoon black pepper
1 cup chopped fresh dill or 2 tablespoons dried dill
1 - 12 ounce bag wide egg noodles cooked according to directions

Add chicken breast to the bottom of a 6 quart or larger slow cooker pot. Top with carrots, celery, zucchini, chicken broth, bay leaves, Italian spice blend, garlic powder, black pepper and salt.

Cover the slow cooker with a lid and cook until chicken is fully cooked, about eight hours on low heat or 4 hours on high heat. Using a fork, remove and discard bay leaves from the soup. Using tongs transfer chicken to a medium bowl. Stir in the fresh or dried dill. Turn off heat but leave soup covered to keep warm. Let chicken cool and then cut into bite-size pieces. Meanwhile cook egg noodles according to direction on bag.

Ladle soup over noodles and serve.

TIP: to store leftovers, make sure to keep the soup separate from the noodles. Otherwise the noodles will soak up all the chicken soup broth.

FRIDAY THE 13TH

Research done by Emerald Pellot

Ever wonder where the fear of Friday the 13th came from? Triskaidekaphobia is the fear of the number 13. Paraskevidekatriaphobia is the fear of Friday the 13th. 8% of people have this fear.

Friday the 13th does have a long history of being related to bad omens. In Christianity, the crucifixion of Jesus Christ occurred on the 13th (Good Friday). The Last Supper had 13 attendants, the 13th being Judas who betrayed Jesus, Friday the 13th.

It is also believed to be the day Adam and Eve consumed the 'forbidden fruit', Cain murdered Abel, Solomon's Temple fell, and the day Noah's Ark transversed the Great Flood.

During the middle ages, King Philip IV tortured the Knights Templar on counts of heresy and sexual depravity, this being on Friday the 13th in October 1307.

In the UK however, Fridays were linked with capital punishments like public hangings. Subjects had to walk 13 steps to the gallows. Also, according to CNN, in Norse mythology, Loki, the God of mischief, tricked the blind God Hodr into shooting his brother, the God of light, Balder. Loki was able to do this by sneaking into a dinner party at Valhalla where his presence made the number of guests 13.

When Christianity was being formed, it is believed the Norse mythology shaped the story of the Last Supper and Good Friday. Another theory is that Friday the 13th was associated with luck-bearing goddesses in paganism. When Christianity gained momentum, the middle ages paganism stood at odds with the new Patriarchal faith.

According to CNN once more, not only did their leaders take objection to the worship of multiple gods and goddesses, but the celebration of Friday the 13th that invoked love, sex, fertility, magic and pleasure was deemed unholy.

When Hollywood made the movie Friday the 13th, it only enhanced the fear to the general public.

Frankly, there is really no reason to be afraid of the day, but people have been fretting about Friday the 13th for centuries!

IS BLEACH DANGEROUS?

Sodium hypochlorite is the active ingredient in bleach. It is a strong corrosive that can damage skin and eyes and lungs. To protect your eyes and skin, wear wraparound safety goggles, long rubber gloves and old clothing.

With bleach more is not better. A higher concentration of it is ineffective and potentially harmful. Add no more than ½ a cup of bleach per gallon of water and use within 24 hours. Be extra careful when using bleach if you or family members have asthma or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD). Open doors and windows, and turn on the fan to help the fumes dissipate quickly.

Don't mix bleach with other cleaners!

Ammonia - together bleach and ammonia create chloramine, a toxic gas.

Vinegar - when vinegar is combined with bleach, chlorine gas is created which can cause breathing problems, coughing and irritation.

Rubbing alcohol - when mixed with bleach creates chloroform, a colorless liquid that evaporates into toxic gas.

Don't use bleach on metal, or pour down the drain.

Don't use bleach on copper, stainless steel, aluminum, or other metals. It will erode the surfaces. Also don't pour it down the drain unless it has been diluted quite a bit. It can mix with other chemicals such as drain cleaner.

Don't buy bleach in bulk. It has a shelf life of about six months. To get the most from bleach, store it properly: out of direct sunlight 50° to 70°F

Keep these tips in mind as you clean so that you don't accidentally create a toxic gas.

Mom was getting swamped with calls from strangers. The reason? A medical billing service had launched an 800 number that was identical to hers.

When she called to complain they told her to get a new number. "I've had mine for 20 years," she pleaded
"Couldn't you change yours?"

They refused.

So mom said, "Fine. From now on I'm going to tell everyone who calls that their bill is paid in full."

The company got a new number the very next day!

all the publicity, but cloud eight is actually cheaper,
less crowded and has a
better view."*

A priest, a doctor, and a lawyer were stuck behind a particularly slow group of golfers. After three holes, they complained to the greens keeper.

"Sorry guys. That's a group of blind firefighters," the man explained. "They lost their sight saving our clubhouse from burning down last year, so we let them play here any time for free.

"That's so sad," the priest said. "I'll say a special prayer for them tonight."

"Good idea," the doctor agreed.

"I'm going to contact my ophthalmologist buddy and see if there's anything he can do for them."

"I guess," the lawyer said, "but why can't they play at night?"

BBQ RULES

We are about to enter the BBQ season. Therefore it is important to refresh your memory on the etiquette of this sublime outdoor cooking activity. When a man volunteers to do the BBQ, the following chain of events are put into motion:

- (1) The woman buys the food.
- (2) The woman makes the salad, prepares the vegetables, and makes dessert.
- (3) The woman prepares the meat for cooking, places it on a tray along with the necessary cooking utensils and sauces, and takes it to the man who is lounging beside the grill - beer in hand.
- (4) The woman remains outside the compulsory three meter exclusion zone where the exuberance of testosterone and other manly bonding activities can take place without the interference of the woman.

Here comes the important part:

- (5) THE MAN PLACES THE MEAT ON THE GRILL.
- (6) The woman goes inside to organize the plates and cutlery.
- (7) The woman comes out to tell the man that the meat is looking great. He thanks her and asks if she will bring another beer while he flips the meat.

Important again:

- (8) THE MAN TAKES THE MEAT OFF THE GRILL AND HANDS IT TO THE WOMAN.
- (9) The woman prepares the plates, salad, bread, utensils, napkins & sauces, and brings them to the table.
- (10) After eating, the woman clears the table and does the dishes.

And most important of all:

- (11) Everyone PRAISES the MAN and THANKS HIM for his cooking efforts.
- (12) The man asks the woman how she enjoyed 'her night off', and, upon seeing her annoyed reaction, concludes that there's just no pleasing some women.
