Celebrating 86 Years!

For three generations, the Maxwell family had grown citrus in south-central Florida. Mr. T Hayes Maxwell, known as Big Daddy, came to Florida in 1926 in pursuit of his dream to own land and become a big farmer.

In 1935, Hayes & Leoma bought property in Avon Park, Florida with a 10 acre grove & a small log house and moved there. Hayes and Leoma had 4 children: Tom, Jane, Claire and Steve. They established their business Maxwell Groves at that time and it continues today on the same site providing fresh citrus & freshly squeezed OJ for locals as well as visitors.

In 1966, Steve Maxwell returned from the Airforce and built the 10,000 sq ft packinghouse. It is the last registered packinghouse in Highlands County and still operating to this day. Maxwell Groves offers a sprawling front porch with orange rockers where customers can come relax and enjoy the Non-Dairy homemade Soft serve Orange Ice Cream and on some days enjoy a refreshing breeze as well. We carry all varieties of fruit along with freshly squeezed OJ (when in season), Florida Citrus Wines, local honey, jams and jellies, as well as souvenirs. Customers are welcome to browse our Country Store as well as ship fresh fruit to loved ones. It is a true Authentic OLD FLORIDA experience.

While the business has made changes over the years, our value to provide courteous customer service and quality citrus/products at a fair and reasonable price still stay the same.

Steve loved Avon Park and was generous with his servant heart to the schools, community, church, Rotary, and Highlands County. His smile, hearty laugh, hard work, love for life and sharing stories of citrus was best done on a rocking chair on the front porch at Maxwell Groves.

On behalf of the Maxwell family, we thank you for your order and continued support and hope you will join us on the front porch real soon to enjoy our Little Slice of Heaven!
Life is better on the porch!

Honeybell Oranges

Available in January ONLY!

Citrus aficionados everywhere anticipate this limited-edition sensation every January! The Honeybell itself is actually a Minneola Tangelo with a bumpy textured skin – a hybrid of a Dancy Tangerine, known for its unique bell shape, and a Duncan White Grapefruit. This unique cross between the two resulted in what is usually a much sweeter, juicier fruit that bursts with an intense flavor also unique only to the Honeybell. Don't wait to order – order early! Once our supply runs out and the season is over, you can't get these gems anywhere . . . don't wait until next year!

Citrus Greening

Citrus Greening is a devastating bacterial disease for citrus trees. It was first recognized in South Florida in 2005. The bacterium is spread by a small insect called a Psyllid. When a Psyllid punctures a leaf, it injects the bacteria into the leaf's system, where it is then spread throughout the entire tree. Citrus greening ultimately results in the death of the tree. Once a tree has been infected, there is no cure. With this in mind, we ask that customers understand the changes in pricing and continue to support our family-owned store.
