Challenges faced during Covid-19

These are unprecedented times and there are few – if any – businesses that won't be affected by the current global pandemic. However, we understand that the key is action and that you are likely to be facing a membership that will need considerable support over the next few months.

We want to be able to provide support to enable you to support each and every member that needs something additional in these times to help them survive.

From our experience of working with SMEs, we are confident that we are well placed to support the challenges that they face.

Common challenges;

- Not knowing how to do certain tasks critical to the business – particularly when those tasks are usually done by staff who are now furloughed
- Simply not having the time to get everything done – many businesses are running on reduced staffing levels right now
- Sometimes just not wanting to do something – these are the tasks that are often performed by staff who are currently not available

Immediate Support

For many businesses, the first hurdle is how to get back on your feet. The new announcement that furloughed employees cannot be brought back part time until August has caused a massive headache for many businesses across the UK. While you may not need full time staff back just yet, you may still need a few hours of support to just keep the business ticking over. We can offer support with no commitment on hours, for as few or as many hours as you might need.

- Some of the tasks we can help with at this time are:
 - Sending out invoices
 - Chasing up on overdue payments
 - Researching for new customers
 - Sending out mailshots or emails to leads or customers
 - Picking up the phone and calling customers and prospects
 - Helping you to set up a list of possible future customers

Long Term Support

Right now, no-one knows what the future will bring for so many businesses. What we do know is that we have to start working smarter, using new technologies and pivoting our businesses in any way we can. We also now know that our workplaces need to be Covid-19 Secure, and following the Government guidelines for keeping staff safe and as socially distanced as possible.

We help our clients with many tasks that enables them to focus on their core strengths. Primarily, these tasks are;

- Administrative Tasks
- Blog Writing
- Building a Pipeline
- Sales Support
- Social Media
