A MESSAGE FROM OUR TEAM

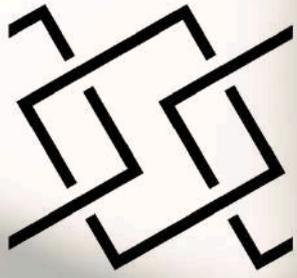

March is a month of renewal, growth and reflection. As organisations prepare for the months ahead, we remain focused on building sustainable workforce capability, strengthening inclusion, and expanding our national footprint.

At Aris Zinc Group and Strategic Executive Solutions, we continue to support our partners through workforce integrity, national panel capability, and inclusive employment pathways that build long term value.

This month we highlight our commitment to future talent, First Nations engagement, veterans transitioning into civilian careers, and the continued expansion of Strategic Executive Solutions across Victoria and Tasmania.

The Future Workforce:

AZG March Edition: Building

Graduates, Interns and Entry Level Talent

The Future Workforce: Graduates, Interns and Entry Level Talent

Our approach includes:

- Structured onboarding and mentoring
- Career pathway planning
- Ongoing performance support
- Employee Assistance Program access
- Workforce readiness development

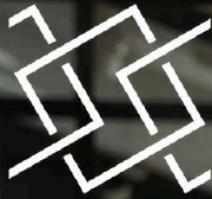

Investing in Tomorrow's Workforce Today

Early career professionals are not a cost. They are an investment in long term capability.

Across Australia, many organisations are facing cost pressures and are hesitant to invest in graduates, interns and entry level talent. However, without structured pathways, the workforce gap will continue to widen.

Through our managed training, graduate and internship programs, AZG supports organisations to build capability without carrying the burden alone.
