Introduction

Alternative Herbal Products (AHP) is a well-known brand engaged in Nepal as a Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) focused company. Since 1998, it has been involved in the sustainable sourcing, processing and export of herbs and organic food supplement products. Community-based trade is a fundamental principle of AHP's business model. AHP outsources most of its herbs and ingredients from primary producer groups across Nepal.

AHP maintains a strong trading relationship with these primary producer groups by providing fair prices for raw materials, inputs, and wages. Additionally, AHP supports community capacity building, enabling them to invest in their own resources.

Apart from ensuring fair treatment for these communities, AHP is equally responsible for the sustainable management of natural resources. It works to minimize overexploitation by respecting the communities' rights to manage their resources sustainably.

AHP was awarded an ABRAHAM CONSERVATION AWARD by World Wildlife Fund (WWF) in 2011, received the Surya Nepal Asha Social Entrepreneurship Award in 2012.

Alternative Herbal Products is a member of the Sustainable Bio Trade Group of Nepal.

Vision

To emerge as a leading and capable herbal company for the self-sufficiency and development of local entrepreneurs to enhance their livelihood by using locally available natural resources.

Mission:

AHP's mission is to establish linkage and coordination with farmers/group/cooperatives and entrepreneurs of high-quality herbal and organic agro products to the markets through bio-diversity conservation.
