

Once, in a small Southern town, two kids met in the weirdest of circumstances in Auburn, Alabama

They picked up guitars and started something loud!

The Chillbumps took flight, played throughout the southeast, released a cd of originals and had a great run.

Heath joined the Marines after 9/11. Jeff raised a family and worked a corporate career 30 years drifted by. Lots of other musicians, but not that spark.

Then, like fate cracking its knuckles...

the two got back in a room in 2023 – leading to a new project: Hecojeni: Two musicians, one voice

The songs poured out — not nostalgia. Something new. Alternative, indie, funky, sometimes folky. Every song is a different page in the journal.

*Releasing songs is the tip of the iceberg. Behind every release — 100 decisions.
Stray guitar parts. Verse 3 rewrites. Vocal takes at 2 a.m.
Here's the real "behind the scenes."*
