

Jeremy Taylor

Facilitator | Host | Presenter | Speaker

Have you ever attended a workshop or presentation and found that the message and content has passed you by?

If you have ever been to any type of business event then you will know the importance of a good, engaging and confident host and speaker who can command a room.

Having addressed hundreds of events across the years, I have the experience and a style to ensure that your audience is fully engaged.

I can also make sure that your audience relates to the subject, with each other and with your business, leading them into open and frank discussions that will bring real value to them, to your business and to you.

Speaking and event experience includes

- Business Awards
- Business Dinners
- Charity events
- Client presentations
- In-house company workshops & seminars
- Networking events
- Public consultations
- Regional Conferences

Whatever the Event, do not hesitate to call :
