

Jeremy Taylor

Facilitator | Host | Presenter | Speaker

Have you ever attended an in-house workshop or presentation and found that the message and content has passed you by?

If you have ever been to any type of company event then you will know the importance of a good, engaging and confident host and speaker who can command a room and involve the audience.

Having addressed hundreds of events across nearly 30 years, I have the experience and a style to ensure that your colleagues are fully engaged.

I can also make sure that the participants actually do participate by;

- Ensuring they relate to the subject, to each other and to your business
- Breaking down 'silos' to ensure cross-department discussions
- Leading them into open and frank conversations
- Giving everyone the chance to have their say
- Bringing real value to them and to your business
- Helping them enjoy the event
- Delivering to your expectations

Speaking and event experience includes;

- In-house Company Workshops and Seminars
- Public and Stakeholder Consultations
- Business Awards and Dinners
- Regional Conferences and Networking
